GOVERNOR LAUDS PRESIDENT TAFT

Expresses Delight at News of Statehood Finally for New Mexico

FLAG WITH 48 STARS TO WAVE

Former Governor Otero Presents
It to Governor Mills for Capitol.

Governor William J. Mills received many callers this morning who congratulated him on behalf of New Mexico that the compromise statehood bill had passed the Senate and would undoubtedly pass the House today and be ready for the President's signature Monday.

To a representative of the New Mexican, Governor Mills said:

"I am delighted at this news from Washington about statehood for New Mexico. At last, after so many years of waiting this territory is to take its place with other states. I have worked hard for statehood, as everybody knows, and I rejoice not only because this boon is to be ours but because President Taft has been backed up in the stand he took on the admission of the two territories.

Taft is stronger. President Taft is daily growing stronger and his unflinching attitude on the judiciary recall of judges is one demonstration of his strength. He has the respect of thinking men in doing what he considered his duty.

The governor said that the granting of statehood to New Mexico will undoubtedly serve as a great impetus to the new state's development as has been the case with so many territories admitted to the Union.

Other Officials.

Many of the other officials who were in the capitol today expressed views similar to that of the governor, all looking forward to an era of great prosperity for the new state.

Former Governor Miguel A. Otero, for nine years governor of the territory, and an optimistic statehood boomer through thick and thin, was seen this morning carrying a flag with 48 stars on it to the governor's office. It is said the minute the news is flashed here that President Taft has signed the statehood bill he will ask Governor Mills to have the flag unfurled from the capitol mast. The flag was made several years ago when statehood seemed imminent and was presented to Mr. Otero by an Albuquerque friend. This flag is said to be the first that was adorned with the two stars which soon are to twinkle in the statehood firmament.

Attorney General's Opinion.

Attorney General Frank W. Clancy at his office this morning expressed confidence that the statehood bill will pass the House today and will be signed by the president. "There is no possible reason any Democrat would vote against it," he said.

He added: "We must spend all our energies to organize a Republican state and have safe majority in the legislature. As regards the general effect of statehood it will be of great benefit in the development of the resources of New Mexico for capital will seek investment in a state when it will not in a territory. There may be no reason for this but it is nevertheless a condition which we know exists. I am satisfied that almost every citizen of New Mexico who takes any interest in the result, is rejoiced over the passage of the compromise statehood bill."

Colonel Sena on Blue Ballot.

Colonel Jose D. Sena, clerk of the supreme court and former mayor of Santa Fe, a leader among the Spanish speaking citizens of the territory and a fine speaker in both the Spanish and English languages was emphatic in his denunciation of the blue ballot which he declared will be voted down by a substantial majority "as this insult to the people should be." Of statehood he said: "It will prove a great boon for New Mexico in general but for the city of Santa Fe and Santa Fe county, relieved of its bonded indebtedness, in particular. Well may the citizens of the capital feel happy over this news of statehood. The native people have always been loyal to the flag, as everyone who knows the history of New Mexico admits, and they may rejoice that they are to be given the rights and privileges enjoyed by the people in the other states of the Union for the preservation of which they fought."

Notary Appointed.

Governor Mills has appointed Ricardo Romero of Holman, Mora county, a notary public.

For the Treasury.

Territorial Treasurer M. A. Otero has received the sum of $1,121.03 from Solomon Luna, treasurer of Valencia county and $737.90 from Ciofles Romero, warden of the penitentiary, from convicts' earnings.

Home Sunday Night.

Territorial Secretary Nathan Jaffe, who has been spending the week at Roswell with his family and with the Eriens, is expected home Sunday night.

ADJOURNMENT ON TUESDAY

Leaders of Both Houses Have Virtually Agreed on This Date

COTTON BILL ON MONDAY

Will Be Promptly Vetted By President and Go to Democratic Waste Basket

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—Formal announcement that Congress would adjourn either Tuesday or Wednesday was made in the House today by Majority Leader Underwood.

Later, the Senate and House leaders virtually agreed upon adjournment of Congress on Tuesday afternoon.

Will Veto Cotton Bill.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—The House ways and means committee today decided by strict party vote to report favorably the cotton tariff revision bill as amended and passed in the Senate, and to call it up for passage Monday. Members of the committee predicted adjournment of Congress by Tuesday night.

The committee's action insures passage of the bill by the Democratic House but it will fall to become a law for the same reasons that its two predecessors, the wool and free list bills, failed—the veto of the President and inability of Congress to override the veto. All the tariff revision legislation however, will be renewed at the regular session of Congress beginning in December.

The cotton bill, which was designed to become a law on January 1 next, would cut the ad valorem duties of the present tariff law by what the Democrats estimate at 21 per cent on the average and the House committee that framed it contended that it would reduce the revenues by about $3,000,000 annually as against a substantial economy in the cost of living.

Adjournment Tuesday Afternoon.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—The Senate today passed the Penrose resolution providing for adjournment of Congress at 3 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, August 22.

PUBLICITY BILL IS SIGNED

It Covers Expenses of Candidates in Primaries and at Elections

EXPENDITURES ARE LIMITED

Measure, of Course, Applies Only to Congressmen and U. S.
Senators.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican.)

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—President Taft today signed the campaign publicity bill. The bill requires publicity of all campaign funds before election and extends the publicity features to primary campaigns and nominating conventions. It limits the amount candidates may spend to $5,000 for congressional candidates and $10,000 for senatorial aspirants. Candidates are also required to make public all pledges of political appointments.

The bill of course applies only to Congressional elections.

PRINTERS' UNION ADOPTS NEW ARBITRATION AGREEMENT.

It Will Be Submitted to American Publishers' Association for Signing on New Year.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican.)

San Francisco, Calif., Aug. 19.—The International Typographical Union at its convention here today endorsed the proposed arbitration agreement reported by the executive council and to be submitted to the American Publishers' Association for signing on January 1, 1912. The proposed agreement, which is for five years, is intended to replace the present agreement, which will expire May, 1912.

Abolishment of Piece Work.

San Francisco, Aug. 19.—The question of the abolishment of piece work, left in doubt by the referendum vote of May 17, will be re-submitted to the Union by another referendum. This decision was reached at the convention today by the adoption of a resolution introduced by President Lynch providing that the International officers of the Union shall underwrite all piece scales now in existence until the final abolishment of piece work by referendum vote.

WILL CELEBRATE WITH MUSIC AND FIRE.

Probate Clerk George W. Armitage announced the program of statehood celebration today as follows:

Band concert in plaza, 7 p. m.

Anvil chorus, by George Dietzel at 6 p. m.

Bon fire at Fort Marcy consisting of three cords of pitch and as many boxes and barrels as can be gathered, 7 p. m.

HOUSE PASSES STATEHOOD BILL; NOW READY FOR TAFT'S SIGNATURE

Sixty Years' Struggle Finally Crowned With Success, and New Mexico Soon Will Twinkle As Star In Flag....
Arizona to Decide Her Own Fate at Polls

Special to the New Mexican.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—The New Mexico Arizona Statehood resolution as re-introduced eliminating the Arizona judiciary recall feature and making easier the amendment of the New Mexico Constitution, passed the House today by a viva voce vote. It already passed the Senate. It now goes to President Taft who has indicated his entire approval.

The above dispatch was received at 4:02 o'clock this afternoon.

In Committee of the Whole.

Special to the New Mexican.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—Representative Flood moved to take up the substitute Senate joint resolution on statehood, for the House resolution both being identical, the condition precedent being that Arizona eliminate the recall of the judiciary, if not, that do not become a state. He said that he believes that this meets the views of the veto of the president and will secure the signature of the president. If passed over the veto by the House, it could not pass the Senate. As a result the two states would not be in the Union. There was thirty minutes debate in the committee of the whole on each side. Beall of Texas, was in the chair. Several Democrats want to abuse President Taft, or it would have passed unanimously in five minutes without debate.

Still Talking.

After numerous speeches on the Democratic side in abuse of the President, Howard, Republican, of Cleveland, had to request the floor for ten minutes to defend the President's veto message. Thirty minutes more time was given to the Republican side and twenty minutes to Norris of Nebraska. This will permit abuse of both parties for home consumption. The statehood resolution will pass soon after that time, when two new stars will be added to the flag.

Senate Adjourns for Today.

Special to the New Mexican.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—The debate in the committee closed the final reading of the Senate resolution. The Senate passed the resolution for adjournment on Tuesday at 3 o'clock. The Senate adjourned for today.

Raker's Motion Lost.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—Raker, Democrat of California, moved to strike out the words: "Except recall of judiciary," thus restoring bill to form vetoed by President Taft. The motion was lost.

Resolution Passed Senate.

Washington, Aug. 19.—Statehood for New Mexico and Arizona on a basis acceptable to President Taft, was approved by the Senate last evening through the passage of the Flood-Smith resolution presented by Senator William Alden Smith, chairman of the committee on territories.

The resolution was adopted 53 to 8 after a debate in which the House was charged with evading a vote on the President's statehood veto, and in which the President was charged with trying to coerce the people of Arizona on the proposed recall of judges. The Senate measure will be considered in the House today and this body will be able to pass it if it chooses to do so, without having to vote.

Big Celebration at Albuquerque.

Albuquerque, N. M., Aug. 19.—Not since the days when the Spanish flag was destroyed during the Spanish-American war, has there been such interest in any public matter in New Mexico as is apparent today over the Flood-Smith statehood resolution's fate in the House. Newspapers are besieged for information while men congregate in groups on the street discussing statehood. Long distance telephone messages are being received in this city from isolated parts of the territory asking for statehood news. If the resolution is passed, this city will engage in one of the biggest celebrations in history.

RIOTING IN ENGLAND TO-DAY

Troops Fire Into Mob at Llanelly, Killing Two and Wounding Others

SERVICE MAINTAINED ON ROADS

Workingmen Suffering More Than Are the Owners of Railroads.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican.)

London, Aug. 19.—The strike declared by the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants, and their allied societies was attended with comparatively little rioting today though the afternoon brought reports of bloodshed at Llanelly, Wales, where troops fired a bomb on a mob, killing two men and wounding two others. Shortly before this news was received here the home office issued an optimistic bulletin on the strike situation. In some cases passing trains have been stoned and some obstructions put in their way, but all of these obstructions were discovered in time to avert accidents.

Clerks Fill Places of Strikers.

Six hundred clerks today agreed to fill the places of strikers and were assigned to duty, at the signal boxes. An official of the railroad men's union stated today that if the strike was protracted, the Amalgamated Society of Engine Drivers and Firemen intended to feel the pulse of the American Locomotive Engineers organization and ask the latter for assistance.

Stranded Americans Get Away.

More stranded Americans are getting away this week than had been expected. Special trains to connect with the Celtic at Liverpool and the Minneapolis at Southampton left Euston Station promptly on time. David Lloyd-George, chancellor of the exchequer, has now taken charge of the situation for the government and through the good offices of James Ramsay MacDonald and M. P. Farnham, of the Labor Party, succeeded in inducing the officials of the unions to meet him at noon today.

Prospects for an early settlement seemed brighter today.

Spasmodic riots on a small scale continued at scattered points throughout the country, but London remained calm. The railway centers were closely picketed by representatives of the unions but these were presented by the soldiers and police from having any intercourse with the men at work.

Stations Deserted.

The railway stations presented a rather deserted appearance during the forenoon, most of the porters being out. Few persons attempted to travel.

Freight was moved in small quantities from the stations under armed escorts and more important still, London's supply of milk was not appreciably reduced. The Great Central Railway Lines, which were completely paralyzed yesterday, resumed operations today. The Great Western railroad, on which most of the men remained loyal, maintained a good service and the company in a manifesto thanking their employees announced that all who refused to strike would be given double pay during the strike period. The Midland railway abandoned its excursion trains but sent its trains to Scotland on modified schedules.

The Great Northern also kept a fairly good service, but like the other lines running north, was unable to accept goods.

Fishing Operations Stopped.

This compelled a cessation of fishing operations and the fishing fleets in the Firth of Forth and on the east coast were tied up.

These features of the strike, affecting as they do, the working classes, helped to make the strike unpopular with those not directly concerned. The workers are suffering much more than others, as all the roads have been compelled to discontinue the usual cheap fares to workmen.

The curtailment of the suburban service did not affect the city as seriously as it would have a few years ago. The splendid street railway supply transportation for the districts all around the metropolis and these lines are reaping a benefit from the strike. Their cars were crowded throughout the day.

Although a number of men in the underground tubes systems joined the strikers today the companies with the assistance of their office and shop staffs, maintained a service except on the North London railway, and old and very small concerns, which suspended operation.

The other lines received many applications for work and promised to have their normal schedules in operation this afternoon.

The strikers are meeting with more success outside London. At Birmingham, freight was moved today only with the assistance of strong forces of police.

The strike is general in Dublin, where the unions claim that 80 per cent of the employees are out.

In west Wales there was an almost complete stoppage, while in Edinburgh and at other Scottish points the companies experienced the greatest difficulty in keeping their trains moving.

Dock Strike Settled.

The final settlement of the London dock strike further eased the situation, as it insured a continuance of

BRINDLEY BREAKS WORLD'S RECORD

Rose 11,726 Feet In the Air

AN INTERNATIONAL SURPRISE

Daring Young Aviator Suddenly Leaps Into Fame from Utter Obscurity.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican.)

Chicago, Aug. 19.—The smashing of the world's altitude record by Oscar A. Brindley, who yesterday rose to 11,726 feet, was an international surprise that today caused a set-back among the experts who hitherto have considered their knowledge the last word both as to aeroplanes and aviators. The former record was 10,761 feet made by M. Lorrain at Mourmelon, France.

Brindley's license was obtained at Dayton, Ohio, only a few weeks ago, and while he was considered a fair flyer, he was not thought by the Wrights to have sufficient experience to fly here. His name was suggested to Chairman McGann of the entries committee, however, and again was turned down.

Borrowed Mitchell's Machine.

Brindley, however, obtained the sympathetic ear of Louis Mitchell, of Memphis, who lately had bought a Wright machine, one of the passenger type, bearing the same resemblance to the fast, high flying machines of the meet as a family carriage horse might to a fast trotter.

"Take my machine and fly," said Mitchell, "it will get you in all right." So Brindley came to the meet.

Brindley started yesterday for the first time with a barograph attached. "I did not know how to read the barograph," said Brindley today. "But Captain Culver showed me how it would look after it had passed the 10,000 mark. I just stayed up till it passed 10,000 and I saw Parmelee and Welch below me and then I came down."

Neither Parmelee or Welch came within 1,000 feet of Brindley's height. Indications were good for flying today as the hour for the opening gun drew near. C. P. Rodgers kept his head for duration, his total being 29 hours and 16 seconds.

HAS HAD A THRILLING HISTORY

Taken from the Federals at Val-verde and Was Buried at Albuquerque

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican.)

El Paso, Texas, Aug. 19.—"Blue Whistle," the McGinty cannon, was brought across the river from Mexico yesterday by Brigadier General Pascual Orozco and his staff and formally returned to the custody of the Pioneers' Association of El Paso. Officially received by Mayor Kelly and the Pioneers' Association the old brass cannon of Civil War fame was escorted to the City Hall and wheeled into position on the spot where it stood the night of March 16 when it was kidnapped and carried across the river for the revolutionary army of Mexico.

The gun belonged to the United States army originally. At the battle of Val Verde, N. M., in the Civil War it was captured by Major Teel and his Confederates and buried at Albuquerque. It was dug up 22 years ago and presented to the McGinty Club of El Paso. The gun was used in firing salutes in honor of Presidents Harrison and McKinley when they were visitors in El Paso.

END OF THE TRAIL MARKER

Its Dedication First Great Public Event Since Passage of Statehood

THREE HISTORIC ADDRESSES

Exercises Monday Afternoon
Will Be Under Auspices of D. A. R.

The dedication of the End of the Santa Fe Trail Marker in the Plaza on Monday afternoon will be an event that will draw distinguished visitors from far and near and will mark the beginning of the new epoch in the history of New Mexico, coming as it does as the first public celebration after the granting of statehood. Owing to the generosity of the proprietors of the Santa Fe Planing mill, a substantial platform will be erected in the plaza for use of those taking part in the dedication exercises of the end of the trail marker. Mrs. L. Bradford Prince, regent for New Mexico of the Daughters of the American Revolution, has been working indefatigably to make the event a most interesting one, and the following program has been prepared:

America.

Prayer Rev. Jules Deraches

Introduction and Transference of the Monument to the Governor..... Mrs. L. Bradford Prince, State Regent D. A. R. for New Mexico

Public Invited.

The exercises at the dedication of the end of the Santa Fe trail marker in the Plaza on Monday afternoon, at 3 o'clock, promise to be intensely interesting. A platform will be erected under the beautiful trees so there will be no glaring sun to interfere with the comfort of those in attendance. Seats will be placed in a semi-circle in front of the platform which will be occupied by the Daughters of the American Revolution and the Grand Army of the Republic.

There will be ample accommodations in the matter of seats for all. It is hoped that there will be a large attendance on this historic occasion as much interest is taken in different parts of the country in this special dedication.

Mrs. L. Bradford Prince, state regent of the D. A. R., and the governor of the territory, were designated by the last legislature, as those to have charge of the entire matter. Governor Curry signed the bill giving $600 to the D. A. R. to aid in this work and requested Mrs. Prince, as did Governor Mills, on his assuming office to select the markers and the inscriptions thereon, also to attend to the setting of the stones, which she has done in a most satisfactory manner.

The stones are of Salida granite, in color a handsome grey, and the polish is beautiful, which they will always retain. The monuments were obtained from Bills Brothers of Denver.

A Unique Marker.

The one at the end of the trail is unique in its conception, having a well outlined map of New Mexico on its face with the two trails engraved thereon, one of which came from Morton County, Kansas, and down the Cimarron, the other which led via Bent's Fort. A more detailed account of this will be given after Mrs. Prince makes her report on Monday.

Voluntary Gifts.

It is pleasant to record the patriotic impulses of some people. When Mrs. Prince was at the corner of the Plaza, attending to the erection of the historic petrification which was being permanently placed there, a man named F. Cunningham, who said he is employed in the New Mexico Central railroad yards approached her and insisted on giving one dollar toward the expenses of the dedication exercises. Mrs. M. H. Patterson also contributed $1; George M. Kinsell gave 50 cents, and Mayor Seligman gave his contribution; then Governor Mills and Judge Prince and Miss S. C. Hart also contributed. These sums were unsolicited and are therefore more highly appreciated.

A Landmark.

It is with satisfaction that attention is called to the permanent erection at the corner of San Francisco and Shelby streets, near the old Fonda of the section of petrified wood which has become historic from having served as a hitching post at the end of the Santa Fe Trail. The petrification has been presented to the city of Santa Fe by Mrs. T. Z. Winter. A brass plate bearing the following inscription will be placed upon it:

"On this spot, for over fifty years, this stone marked the entrance to the Fonda, the last station on the stage

WHY ARE YOU WEeping, SISTER?

(By Herbert Kaufman in the Woman's World.)

Why are you weeping, Sister?
Why are you sitting alone?
I'm bent and gray
And I've lost the way!
All my tomorrows were yesterday!
I traded them off for a wanton's pay.
I bartered my graces for silks and laces,
My heart I sold for a pot of gold—
Now I'm old.

Why did you do it, Sister?
Why did you sell your soul?
I was foolish and fair and my form was rare!
I longed for life's baubles and did not care!
When we know not the price to be paid, we dare.
I listened when vanity lied to me
And I ate the fruit of the Bitter Tree—
Now I'm old.

Why are you lonely, Sister?
Where have your friends all gone?
Friends I have none, for I went the road
Where women must harvest what men have sowed
And they never come back when the field is mowed.
They gave the lee of the cup to me
But I was blinded and would not see—
Now I'm old.

Where are your lovers, Sister?
Where are your lovers now?
My lovers were many, but all have run
I betrayed and deceived them, every one.
A poisoned draft from my lips they quaffed,
And I, who knew it was poisoned,
laughed—
Now I'm old.

Will they not help you, Sister?
In the name of your common sin?
There is no debt, for my lovers bought,
They paid my price for the things I brought.
I made the terms, so they owe me naught.
I have no hold, for 'twas I who sold.
One offered his heart, but mine was cold—
Now I'm old.

Where is that lover, Sister?
He will come when he knows your need.
I broke his hope and I strained his pride
I dragged him down in the undertide.
Alone and forsaken by me he died.
The blood that he shed is on my head,
For all the while I knew that he bled—
Now I'm old.

Is there no mercy, Sister?
For the wanton whose course is spent?
When a woman is lovely the world will fawn.
But when her beauty and grace are gone,
When her face is seamed and her limbs are drawn.
I've had my day, and I've had my play.
In the winter of loneliness I must pay—
Now I'm old.

BABY PITIFUL SIGHT WITH ECZEMA

Completely Covered, Bandaged from Head to Foot. Dared Not Wash Him. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment 4 Weeks and He Was Cured.

"A few days after birth we noticed an inflamed spot on our baby's hip which soon began spreading until baby was completely covered even in his eyes, ears and scalp. For eight weeks he was bandaged from head to foot. He could not have a stitch of clothing on. Our regular physician pronounced it chronic eczema. He is a very able physician and ranks with the best in this locality, nevertheless, the disease began spreading until baby was completely covered. He was losing flesh so rapidly that we became alarmed and decided to try Cuticura Soap and Ointment.

"Not until I commenced using Cuticura Soap and Ointment could we tell what he looked like, as we dared not wash him, and I had been putting one application after another on him. On removing the scale from his head the hair came off, and left him entirely bald, but since we have been using Cuticura Soap and Ointment he has as much hair as ever. Four weeks after we began to use the Cuticura Soap and Ointment he was entirely cured. I don't believe anyone could have eczema worse than our baby.

"Before we used the Cuticura Remedies we could hardly look at him, he was such a pitiful sight. He would fuss until I would treat him, they seemed to relieve him so much. Cuticura Soap and Ointment stand by themselves and the result they quickly and surely bring is their own recommendation." (Signed) Mrs. T. B. Rosser, Mill Hill, Pa., Feb. 20, 11. Cuticura Soap and Ointment sold throughout the world. Send to Potter Drug & Chem. Corp., Dept. 29A, Boston, for a liberal sample of each, post-free, with 32-p. book on the skin.

Mrs. Louisa Swain met a persistent burglar face to face twice in her home at St. Joseph, Mo., once when she was awakened by a noise at her bedroom window and the second time when she went to see who was in her dining room. She screamed both times. The first time the burglar fled and the second time Mrs. Swain did the running. The burglar made a second trip to her bedroom, while she was arousing roomers in the house, and stole her purse containing $200. The police arrested W. H. Elders, a grocery clerk, who confessed to the robbery and told where the stolen money might be found.

Want to Know About Blankets.
The Indian office is seeking information on the blanket industry of the Navajo Indians of Arizona and New Mexico, with a view to stimulating trade. Letters have been addressed to traders in those territories as well as the Indian superintendent, asking data on the number of blankets sold, the number of Indians engaged in the work, whether the weaving is done chiefly by the men or women and whether home or bought wool and dyes are used. The Indian office is contemplating changing the breed of sheep raised by these Indians and wants a strain which will produce wool suitable for the blankets. The data sought may guide in the selection of the breed.

SANTA FEANS WILD WITH JOY

Statehood Tidings Reached Here Five Minutes After Senate's Action

WHISTLES BLEW; BELLS RANG

New Mexican's Bulletin Board Was the Mecca of a Happy, Shouting Throng.

Five minutes after the United States Senate passed the Flood Statehood resolution with the Arizona recall of judges eliminated, the Santa Fe New Mexican had a bulletin out announcing the news yesterday afternoon. The bulletin was posted at 4:19 p. m. and within five minutes the New Mexican's whistle spread the good news.

The Santa Fe Water and Light company's whistle followed suit and soon the fire bells were ringing and there was a general sign of jubilee throughout the city.

The bulletin board in front of the New Mexican's office was besieged by Santa Feans who had often scanned it for statehood news and this time it looked indeed good to them. Shouts of the throng were heard for blocks and every new visitor was greeted with the greatest warmth.

Inside the office of the New Mexican were gathered some of the most prominent men of the territory. There was Governor William J. Mills and four ex-governors, Hon. W. T. Thornton, L. Bradford Prince, Miguel A. Otero and George Curry. Several ladies were also in the office and discussed statehood.

The word was spread from this office to the chairman of the Republican Central Committee, Hon. H. O. Bursum who was in Socorro and who expressed his joy at hearing that the senate had passed the bill with such a vast majority. Mr. Bursum in turn called up Hon. Solomon Luna, Republican National Committeeman, who was in Magdalena.

From neighboring States. The little telegram "Compromise passed senate," when dropped into the ocean of public interest sent ripples far and wide. One of them reached the neighboring state of Colorado in rapid time, and Alexander Reed, district attorney of the First District with residence at Farmington, asked for a confirmation of the report. He got it over the telephone while he was at Antonio.

Fear of Fire.

The tooting of whistles and ringing of firebells kept up so long that many people, who had not given statehood a serious thought for several days, and who thought only of the meaning common to fire bells, grew alarmed that there might be a great conflagration down town. Windows of residences were opened and faces peered out scanning the heavens to see how much smoke and flame were ascending and whence.

But they saw neither fire nor smoke but had they gone to the plaza they would have felt the warmth of rejoicing of a long patient people, as former Governor Otero had called them in his lengthy telegram to Senator Bristow.

"What's wrong down town? Where's the fire? What's burning?" were queries passed and but one answer was given and that in a loud voice "STATEHOOD."

"That man is probably crazy," said one lady, referring to the gentleman who had uttered that word, statehood, which has been the great cryptogram of New Mexico for three scores of years with no Ignatius Donnelly to solve it.

But gradually the news spread. The telephone did a lot to send it around and people who read the bulletins and went home did the rest.

Patriotism Aroused.

Right then and there, patriotic citizens who had declared that for years they were "from Missouri" on the statehood problem were seen showing their belief. They were doubting Thomases no longer. "If a statehood bill can go through the senate by a vote of 53 to 8 it can go through the house swimmingly tomorrow" was their belief and expression.

So they went into their houses and found the stars and stripes and displayed them from the windows, tacked them on the doors or planted them in that front lawn. And those who had flags with the 47th star felt rather chummy and thoroughly up-to-date.

Special Edition.

The New Mexican got out a special edition telling of the passage of the compromise bill and the vote on it. This edition, like the regular edition, was sold out in a jiffy and the business office was besieged by people who asked for papers which they could not buy on the street. Not a copy was left by 6 p. m.

Others Are Ecstatic.

Several citizens were positively ecstatic with delight. One who has been a strong booster for early and immediate with the not yet nor soon features cut out, blew into the New Mexican office, jumped over several chairs and hugged the newspapermen working at their desks. It was somewhat disconcerting. Later it was explained that the happy one had made a two to one bet early in the day and was several hundred dollars ahead by the courtesy of the U. S. Senate.

And those who had read Samuel G. Blythe's scathing article on that dignified body of lawmakers thought a little more of the U. S. Senate than they had in the morning when the dark and doleful news was sent out by the Associated Press that statehood's chances at THIS (like so many other sessions) were slim.

But the chances now appear, it seems, delightfully gleeful and graceful, thoroughly agreeable to a long waiting, patient territory, whose "denzens" will soon become "citizens" with a right to elect their rulers, from President to constables.

Forgot $5 Bill.

That the statehood boosters were really overjoyed by the news of the compromise bill passing the Senate was demonstrated in one instance where a man went into a saloon shortly after 4 o'clock to get a drink and laid a $5 bill on the bar. Some one told him that the bill had passed and he ran out of the saloon forgetting both the drink and the $5 bill.

MEETING OF CATTLE GROWERS OF TEXAS.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 19.—The meeting of the cattle growers of Texas and representatives of various cities and other organizations at Fort Worth, September 12 and 13, for the purpose of investigating the high cost of meats and the great discrepancy that now exists between the price paid for live stock on foot and the meat on the block, is attracting nationwide attention. That there will be something unusual doing at this meeting is indicated by the interest manifested. Discussing the meeting and what it hopes to accomplish, Captain Charles Schreiner, of Kerrville, a prominent sheep and cattle raiser, said:

"We shall attempt to find out why there is a variance of 300 per cent between what the producer receives and what the consumer pays, and will endeavor to take action to remedy this condition; at least we will start a crusade that will not stop until this question is equitably settled. There must be a solution of the problem, and for the salvation of both consumer and producer it must be arrived at shortly. When the producer is selling his cattle at a loss and the consumer is paying an exorbitant price for his meat, the situation evidences an economic discrepancy that can not long continue. The trouble lies with the packer and retailer, and I am inclined to believe that the latter is even more to blame than the former. However, it is hard to fix the blame at the present time, but it stands to reason that there is something radically wrong. This year the producer is receiving $2 per hundred less than he received last year, yet the price of meat has steadily advanced. So it appears there is illegitimate profit somewhere between the producer and the consumer. If profit was made last year when higher prices were paid for cattle and sheep, surely the profit is now excessive."

Just what course will be pursued at the Fort Worth meeting is not known, but that something will be done to get at the facts in the case is evidenced by the widespread interest in the coming meeting.

RICH PLACER GROUND HAS BEEN DISCOVERED.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 19.—Placer ground, rich in gold, has been discovered in the Blackfoot district in northern Idaho, 93 miles southeast of Spokane, by Ah Yen, a Chinese trader at 61 Riverside avenue, according to his statements to officials of the United States customs house in Spokane on returning from an exploration trip along the Washington-Idaho border. The deposits, which are four miles from a flowing stream and require not less than 15 miles of flumes to convey water to the gravel, were found more than 30 years ago by two Chinese prospectors, who were killed and robbed by white men. To destroy evidences of the crime the rustler cremated the bodies of his victims and fled from the country. Yen says that a woman, who sewed the poke to hold the miners' gold, told the rustler of the find by the Chinese and urged him to locate claims nearby. Instead he murdered the miners and carried off their nuggets. James Daniels, deputy customs collector, to whom Yen told the story of the find, says the trader will not locate the claims.

DRY FARMING CONGRESS TO HOLD SESSION.

San Antonio, Texas, Aug. 19.—The Texas dry farming congress which will meet in annual session at Uvalde, August 23, 24, and 25 promises to be the most interesting meeting of this organization in the history of the effort. At this meeting a number of farmers who have made a most satisfactory success of dry farming will be heard. It is maintained by quite a number of men that they can make lands produce quite as well with very little rainfall as with a maximum downpour. Some of these have demonstrated this, and it is this fact that adds so much interest to the coming meeting. Uvalde being located in the famous "Honey Belt" of Texas will show at this meeting what the bees are doing for Texas by serving, free of cost, a big luncheon at which warm rolls, sweet milk and honey will be the principal things served. The congress this year has attracted so much interest that a number of railroads have made a rate of one fare for the round trip.

SANTA FEANS WERE STUNNED BY LIGHTNING.

A dispatch from Las Vegas says that yesterday afternoon during the electrical storm, a bolt of lightning struck dangerously close to the range house and tents occupied by the New Mexican rifle team at Camp Mills. So near did the lightning strike that Captain C. R. Echols, who was standing outside his tent, was knocked flat and stunned. Others severely stunned were Captain Carlos Vierra, Lieutenant J. H. McHughes, Lieutenant J. F. Newkirk, Sergeant Fred West, Corporal A. C. Williams, Color Sergeant P. J. Feemster, Private A. Coll, Sergeant Ralph Enos and Private Duke.

Captain Vierra and Sergeant Enos are of Santa Fe and Lieutenant McHughes is of Cerrillos and was formerly city marshal of Santa Fe.

TERRITORIALS' FAREWELL GAME

Great Event Is Planned As Climax to Struggle For Statehood

FORNOFF REDUCING WEIGHT

An "All Star" Professional Cast Will Be Seen Here on August 26th.

Word has just reached this office through channels that bear the stamp of truth (or near truth) that the baseball world of the country is to receive the severest shock of its history when on the 26th day of August, the brightest of the bright, twinkling stars of baseball's starry firmament are to perform at the college grounds for the benefit of the Charity and of the Baseball fund.

Seldom if ever has such a brilliant array of bright lights been assembled on one field before and only the worthiness of the cause made it possible to round them up for the twenty-sixth. The committee of arrangements has been working hard for past week and the chairman of said committee (modest to the extreme) would not even allow his name to be published states that the willingness of the stars has only been exceeded by the cause. Fair sacrifices will be on hand to extend a warm welcome to the poor, perspiring fan who will want a cooling beverage to refresh his throat. Lozenges will also be on sale at the park for those who have rooted beyond the refreshing effect of mild drinks and a physician or two will be on hand with the necessary implements ala Watson, for those whose voices will not stand the strain with out a prescription (Johnny Conway take notice).

The players who are to represent the Capital are all picked from the American League and those representing the Federal League are from the National League. Only stars of the first magnitude were allowed to volunteer. To avoid feeling of professional jealousy the management has decided to replace the different players with utility men as the game is well advanced or some dastardly injury is perpetrated upon this galaxy of stars by the envious Federalists. The disputed question of supremacy between the American leaguers and those of the National will be settled and barring accidents that may happen the Capital forces are confident of returning their players to the big show with the smile of victory spread in a mastery fashion from lobe to lobe.

Can the reader not imagine the graceful form of Fred Farnsworth hurling the elusive pellet amidst many grunts and loud exhausts to the terrorized representatives of the Federal Building; or Al Morrison Thomas pegging to Eddie Collins Otero to nip some napping National leaguer. But old Ty Cobb Chavez and Sam Crawford Ervien and Joe Jackson Sargent, our all-star outfield ought to be there with the hair-raising catches and the big stick. Was ever an outfielder of such brilliancy in fielding and such consistency in hitting ever assembled before? It is useless to proclaim and herald the base stealing ability of this trio at this time, and the only authentic statement that can be made is that the Committee on Arrangements is seriously contemplating the elimination of the usual baseball spikes. It was rumored that the intense rivalry would cause some unnecessary spiking.

Hal Chase Fairfield. You have heard of the wonderful Hal Chase Fairfield! Well Hal Chase Fairfield will be on the job and pull off a few of his sensational stops and do a little hitting while we are at the bat. (Confidentially we do not expect to go to the bat more than once—our one inning will net so many runs that it will take the starch out of the other gang).

World's Series Eddie Collins Otero and Bobby Wallace Clancy will be there too. Harry Lord Koch will perform the usual stunts of a third sacker at third and there will be many world renowned stars on the bench in case one of the regulars is injured. Neat new uniforms of baby blue with pink trimmings have been purchased and will be worn for the first time on August 26th.

A word for the umpires: Justices Mechem and Wright of the Supreme Court of Baseball have decided to settle all questions of balls and strikes and will pronounce sentence upon all who attempt to steal, unlawfully take away, or feloniously purloin an extra base. The evidence will be purely circumstantial and no one will be heard in argument. The umpires have full power to exile from the contest any participant thereof who shows any signs of frothing at the mouth, being pugilistically inclined, tempted to do murder or assault, or of an argumentative disposition. They are further empowered to fine such unruly person or persons (including those incumbents or inmates of the grand stand) and placing any such monies so received into the hands of the treasurer of the fund. The amount of said fine shall be optional and entirely within the judgment of the umpires.

Before the big game another war report from our correspondent at the front will be published in these columns to feed the hungry fan with little pearls of wisdom and observation as only OUR correspondent can write. Watch this column for further "War" news.

Women's Secrets

There is one man in the United States who has perhaps heard more women's secrets than any other man or woman in the country. These secrets are not secrets of guilt or shame, but the secrets of suffering, and they have been confided to Dr. R. V. Pierce in the hope and expectation of advice and help. That few of these women have been disappointed in their expectations is proved by the fact that ninety-eight per cent. of all women treated by Dr. Pierce have been absolutely and altogether cured. Such a record would be remarkable if the cases treated were numbered by hundreds only. But when that record applies to the treatment of more than half-a-million women, in a practice of over 40 years, it is phenomenal, and entitles Dr. Pierce to the gratitude accorded him by women, as the first of specialists in the treatment of women's diseases.

Every sick woman may consult Dr. Pierce by letter, absolutely without charge. All replies are mailed, sealed in perfectly plain envelopes, without any printing or advertising whatever, upon them. Write without fear as to what fee, to World's Dispensary Medical Association, Dr. R. V. Pierce, Pres., Buffalo, N. Y.

DR. PIERCE'S FAVORITE PRESCRIPTION

has called upon the different committees representing the "Territorialists" and the "Federalists" for a statement as to the condition and lineup of their respective teams and reports everything working lovely. Captain Fornoff of the "Territorialists" is undergoing a heavy strain to get down to weight, but says that he will have his famous "Split Ball" working in good shape, and if Captain Fritz Muller puts anything over on his team mates to use his famous "scissors" ball. Leave it to Fred to look out for his end.

Manager Burke has also called on Mr. Stuart C. McCrimmon, the representative of the "Famous Dutch Band" for a report and there will be interesting news in a few days covering this branch of the "Big Day."

Tickets will be sent to all business men and officials and it will probably bring out the largest crowd which ever attended a base ball game in the history of New Mexico. This will be the last appearance of the celebrated "Territorialists" as Congress has opened that gate after 60 years and finally made it possible for the grand finale, after straining every nerve since 1848.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

STATEHOOD ATTAINED.
There is the sound of rejoicing to day from Farmington to Carlsbad, from Folsom to Lordsburg.

The pent-up feelings of years burst forth and prove to the world that there was no hypocrisy about New Mexico's heart cry for statehood.

All the world admires a self-reliant man and the world has respect only for a self-reliant state.

Statehood has been attained and with it self-reliance, independence, manhood.

Many are the blessings that are expected and many are the material benefits that will result. There will be an influx of new capital, greater and more systematic development of material resources. There will be many miles of new railroads, great irrigation works, extensive mining activities and thousands upon thousands of new people. New cities will grow up over night and the older towns will add materially to wealth and population.

There will be a reaching out for new conquests in every direction. True, there will come some disappointments, some defeats. There will be vehement contests for leadership, there will be made mistakes and grievous ones, but in the aggregate, New Mexico is greater, more prosperous, better, than it was yesterday, if for no other reason than that the territory has come into its birthright.

Santa Fe, more than any other county, has reason to rejoice over statehood. From every thousand dollars worth of assessed property, an indebtedness of five hundred dollars is being lifted and the bands that have fettered the county and the city have been cut. If Santa Fe during the next ten years does not become the largest and wealthiest city of the Southwest it will be because the people do not deserve it, because they have not made the proper united, intelligent effort.

NEW MEXICO WAS FIRST.

The English and eastern physicians who have been camping on Pikes Peak to determine the effect of altitude on Pikes Peak, have packed their grips and gone home, having come to the conclusion that altitude in itself is beneficial to the human system, especially the system that has the tubercular diathesis or is infected with tuberculosis. This is nothing new, however, for quite a number of years ago, Professor Weizsaeck of the Hadley Climatological Laboratory of the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque made the same announcement and it seemed to have startled no one. But it is well that his conclusions, reached after a long series of careful laboratory experiments, have been confirmed by eminent scientists, if the newspaper reports are true and one must be cautious about accepting newspaper conclusions on medical subjects. Says one dispatch:

"The scientists declare that their discoveries have been fully set forth in the public press, as fully as the layman is capable of writing on such intricate and scientific subjects. But in the same breath they say that the importance of their findings cannot be appreciated by the general public; that it will be up to medical men the world over, after reading that they see in the Royal Society publications, to explain to their patients the terms of the secrets surrendered by Pikes Peak. In a nutshell, the findings of the scientists are as follows:

"That the percentage of red and white corpuscles in the human blood is largely increased at high altitudes is the most important conclusion. It does not mean much to the layman to know that the percentage of red and white corpuscles in the blood is increased in high altitudes, but, as a matter of fact, this is an important discovery, one of the most important of the age, and will go a long way toward enabling the scientists to contest diseases such as tuberculosis, etc. It is said that the red corpuscles are a disease-resisting element and, therefore, when they exist in the human blood in unusual abundance the system is more capable of combating attacks by disease germs. As to the white corpuscles, they have a particular avidity for tuberculosis germs. This being the case, where they exist in the human blood to an unusual degree consumption is less likely to take hold.

"On Pikes Peak the human lungs are capable of absorbing from 40 to 50 per cent more oxygen than at sea level and the red corpuscles are increased from 5,000,000 to 7,500,000 to the cubic millimeter, according to Dr. Haldane.

"Speaking of their work, Dr. Haldane said 'We have found the lungs at high altitudes actively absorb oxygen, whereas at sea level the process is more or less automatic or passive. At high altitudes the lungs seem to show an avidity which they do not show at sea level. This is one of the most interesting and important of our discoveries.

"We have succeeded in definitely proving the increase in red corpuscles and this was one of the chief objects of our visit. We have also definitely proven that the amount of red blood in the human body is not increased in high altitudes. The total amount of the blood apparently remains the same as at sea level but because of containing more red and white corpuscles is much richer."

A VALUABLE CITIZEN.

Theodore Roosevelt said sometime ago that Jacob Rills is the most valuable citizen of New Mexico. If the New Mexican were to point out the most valuable citizen to Santa Fe today, it would designate Dr. Edgar L. Hewett. He has the true booster spirit and if Santa Fe's Chamber of Commerce were composed of men with his ideals, his imagination, his energy, why Denver would have to look out for its pre-eminence in the Rocky Mountains. Says the Albuquerque Journal:

"Having awakened to the importance of that particular attraction of Santa Fe which has the greatest advertising possibilities, the boosters of the old-new city have taken the greatest advantage of these possibilities. As a result the city has been receiving in leading newspapers far and near advertising of incalculable value, and the capital is becoming more widely known than ever before. The following from the Denver Republican is a sample:

"The School of American Archaeology at Santa Fe has issued a bulletin giving a sketch of its plans for the summer session, which began August 1, and which is of general interest throughout the West.

"The school, which is a branch of the Archaeological Institute of America, was established in 1907, and has headquarters in the governor's palace at Santa Fe. Dr. Edgar L. Hewett, who is in charge of the school, is one of America's foremost archaeologists, and recently has made valuable contributions to the literature concerning the Mayas through researches in Guatemala. He has made important discoveries in the southwest in recent years, and assisted in the restoration of the cliff houses of the Mesa Verde in Colorado.

"The summer session is an interesting feature of the work, as the students camp in the Pajarito park region, west of Santa Fe, where there are thousands of ruins and monuments and where Dr. Hewett and his assistants have excavated and restored two wonderful houses of the community type. The community house excavated by Dr. Hewett in the Frijoles canon is circular in form, and is regarded as one of the archaeological wonders of the world.

"This season the students at the summer school will work on specimens recently discovered. Amid such surroundings, where new and important discoveries are constantly being made, the school should make valuable contributions to pre-American history, besides doing much to arouse popular interest in the wonderful archaeological treasures of the Southwest."

A NEGLECTED OPPORTUNITY.

Not only hundreds, but thousands of young men from the Latin American republics, come to the United States annually to pursue courses of study in educational institutions. All the large universities and many of the smaller ones, have upon their roster the sons of men who stand high in Mexico, Central America and South America. New Mexico receives a few of them but not near the number that would come if the peculiar advantages of New Mexico educational institutions were more widely understood and proclaimed, but for some reason or other, New Mexico institutions of higher learning, both public and private, seem to be afraid of using printer's ink. They should be liberal in their advertising, should spread widecast over the world the knowledge that here especially, the Spanish speaking world will be welcomed with open hands, that the climate is similar to that to which so many millions living in the plateau regions of the southern republics are accustomed, that the educational facilities offered are modern in every respect and that the cost of living is lower than it is in the "fashionable" university centers. But thus far, alas, many of the educational institutions neglect the large field open to them and do not even advertise in the home papers.

Ex-President Theodore Roosevelt declares that the people have short memories. Every man in political life has discovered this. More than one man has been declared politically dead because of some outrageous act he has committed or some stand he has taken against the people's interests, only to bob up serenely with a healthy majority at the next election. Then there have been other men who have spent fortune and effort for some particular community only to be turned down at the polls when the first opportunity came. Neither gratitude nor memory cut much of a figure when it comes to the people and politics.

The Democratic fiasco on the wool bill will help the Republican party in New Mexico immensely. Ordinarily, New Mexico is Republican by 8,000 majority, but on the tariff question, it goes by 15,000 majority for Republican principles.

IT WILL NOT BE FORGOTTEN.
Lest we forget, let it be remembered:

It was a Republican national convention in 1908 that declared for immediate statehood.

It was a Republican President who recommended to Congress that an Enabling Act be passed.

It was a Republican House and Senate that passed such an Enabling Act and a Republican President who signed it.

It was a Republican Constitutional Convention that drafted the Constitution and it was a Republican President who declared it was good and ratified it.

It was a Republican Senate that passed the final resolution yesterday and a Republican statesman that put it through a Democratic House after the Democratic House had made a grievous blunder that drew the Presidential veto. It is a Republican President who will sign the act tonight and who will issue the statehood proclamation.

And let it be remembered too, that the Democrats tried in every which way, to place obstacles in the way of statehood and that they placed the only taint upon the whole statehood legislation, "the little blue ballot."

President Taft has demonstrated the past few days that he is the greatest political strategist of the Nation. He has virtually snatched a great victory from what even his party followers had feared would be inglorious defeat. He has put all the Democratic leaders, demagogues and peanut politicians into an abyss that hides their chagrin and their shame. They started out to get his belt, but now their hide is nailed to his barn door.

The Democratic praise of President Taft's veto message is as emphatic as that of the Republicans. The Democratic Rocky Mountain News, which is an advocate of the recall, declares for instance: "President Taft's veto message contains the ablest and strongest argument ever made against the recall of public officials, especially judges." The Democratic St. Louis Times adds to this: "President Taft believes—very properly, we admit—that the result of the recall, when extended to the judiciary, particularly, would be a condition of intimidation and chaos."

The Rucker Campaign Publicity Bill is not such a bad thing to be in force during the first election for Congressmen that in New Mexico will hold, and let it be remembered, that New Mexico under the Enabling Act will elect two members of the lower House as well as two members of the Senate. As the bill passed the House it provided for the publication of all campaign expenses connected with congressional elections and the Republican Senate improved it by making it apply to primary elections and limiting the amount of money that may legally be spent upon candidates at the primaries. This measure is a reform of a genuine character; it gets down to first causes; and it will need thorough administration to effect a quiet revolution in Federal politics.

It is no longer throwing money to the birds, or a bird and a bottle for two, but watching the "really" birds in the trees and thus grow beautiful.

"If women want to be beautiful, let them study the birds," says the latest apostle of beauty, Mrs. Kate Tyrone.

"If women," she says, "want to know when to sleep to the best advantage, let them study the birds."

"If women want to know what to eat so that it will do them the most good, let them study the birds."

"If women want to know the secrets of beauty in dress, let them study the birds."

"Finally," says Mrs. Tyrone, "if women want to know how to order their daily lives to the best advantage let them study the birds."

Thomas A. Edison, the Great, has returned from France, and to an interviewer declared: "My general impressions of France," he said, "are so far restricted to the unbounded pleasure of motoring at ease over its fine roads, which I consider superior to those of any country I have yet visited. American road engineers can get some valuable pointers from France." And that is a lesson for New Mexico to build roads well and to maintain them after they are built; to make them state roads, in fact, to take supervision of all road building as so wisely recommended by Governor Mills in a published article not so long ago.

While President Taft will not approach the record in the number of vetoes handed down by one of his distinguished predecessors, Grover Cleveland, yet, he is establishing a fairly healthy record this week. What is more, all of his vetoes are based on sound reasoning and will make good campaign material, not for the other side, but for himself. His idea of visiting the west this fall to explain those vetoes and his determination not to disturb the business of the nation with unwise, inconsiderate and ill considered tariff legislation, is one that strikes panic in the Democratic breast.

Even the New Mexican feared on April 4, that the special session would prove a mistake, but the statesmanship of President Taft has made it a vital prelude to the glorious Republican victory that will be won in New Mexico this fall and in the Nation at large next November. President Taft put through Canadian reciprocity and statehood; he signed the apportionment and campaign publicity bills and he has placed the Democrats on record in the tariff in such a way that they have alienated the West as well as the conservative element in the South and East.

If that asphalt discovery in Valencia and McKinley counties proves to be as extensive as at first reported, it should make asphalt streets in New Mexico towns not only popular but cheap.

The Las Vegas Optic tells of a man coming into the city from Elk Mountain with several bushels of wild strawberries. Of people passing through New Mexico on a train, not one would imagine for a moment that wild strawberries grow in the Territory. Only those who penetrate the mountains and the forests over the Scenic Highway, discover that the heart of New Mexico is wonderfully grand and beautiful.

Colorado has made wife desertion and failure to support the family a felony and men who spend their earnings in riotous living and shirk the responsibility of supporting wife and children are being arrested and punished under this law. It is a law that should be placed on New Mexico statute books by the first state legislature.

GRAIN AND PROVISION MARKET WAS STRONG

Initial Prices Were Higher Despite Word From Canada Indicating a Bumper Crop.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Chicago, Ill., Aug. 19.—The shorts were inclined to even up over Sunday at the opening today. Initial prices were higher despite word from Canada that hot weather is forcing the crop to maturity, which lends color to bumper crop prognostications. September opened 1-8 to 1-4 up at 90 to 1-8 and sold to 90-8-8.

The close was firm with September 5-8c up at 90-1-2. Shorts cramped to cover on buying of December by leading elevator interests.

The close was easy. September 1-4 @ 3-8 lower at 64-5-8 @ 3-4.

Business in corn was very light but prices early were steady at last night's level. September opened unchanged at 65, while December and May were within a shade of the previous close.

Oats were stagnant and prices a shade under yesterday. September opened 1-8 lower at 41-3-8 and December a shade lower to a shade higher at 41-4 to 3-8.

Provisions were strong with commission houses buying. There was no evidence of packers being in the market. January pork opened 5c up at 16-50; Sept. lard 21-2c higher at 9-10, and September ribs a shade advanced at 9-12-1-2.

INVESTIGATION OF BIG FOUR WRECK IN OHIO

Fifty Were Injured Yesterday But Less Than Dozen Remain in Hospitals.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Columbus, Ohio, Aug. 19.—An investigation of the wreck of Big Four passenger train No. 46, west of Columbus yesterday, in which about fifty persons were injured, will be started by the Public Service Commission of Ohio next week.

Of the injured, less than a dozen remain in the hospitals, and none of these will die.

EXPOSITION TO BE AT PRESIDIO AND FORT MASON.

War Department Has Given Consent and Will Be Introduced on Monday.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., Aug. 19.—The war department has given its consent conditional on the approval of congress, for the use of portions of the Presidio and Fort Mason, at San Francisco, California, for the Panama-Pacific exposition in 1915. A bill seeking the authority of Congress will be introduced on Monday.

ASTOR AND BRIDE HAVE THRILLING EXPERIENCE.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Newport, R. I., Aug. 19.—A fishing trip which Col. Jacob Astor planned for his coming bride, Miss Madeline Force, and her father, William H. Force, was interrupted for a few hours today, when the steam yacht Noma dropped into the harbor to leave five rescued yachtsmen and enable the party to spend a short time ashore.

The rescue of the Zingara crew occurred shortly before midnight. 12 miles off Horton's Point. Col. John J. Astor was on deck during the rescue and gave assistance when launching and taking in life boats. Miss Force was on deck during the thrilling operation.

PRIEST DEFENDS DANCE; TELLS WHEN 'TIS EVIL.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 19.—Invitations to a dance under church auspices on church property have been extended to every family in St. Francis Xavier parish, Spokane, by Rev. Father J. Rebmann, pastor, the affair taking place in the parochial school the evening of August 16. The priest, who announced the dance from the pulpit at the Sunday services, urged the parishioners to attend, promising all a good time. Officers and members of the ladies' altar society will be the hosts. Father Rebmann thinks the dance is harmless with proper association and supervision, but he is opposed to public dances, saying that the evil is not in the dance itself but in the abuse of it. Father Rebmann is among the veteran priests in Spokane and was for years an officer of Gonzaga college. He is liberal in his views and believes the right kind of a dance is a good form of wholesome amusement. It is given out that another dance will follow if the coming entertainment is as successful as promised. Some of the pastors in Spokane denounce dancing, saying it leads to perdition.

1600 WOMEN'S NAMES DRAWN FOR COURT SERVICE.

Spokane, Wash., Aug. 19.—Sixteen hundred names of women taxpayers in Spokane county have been drawn by the county clerk for the service in the superior court during the coming year and from this list among others the jurors will be selected to decide cases covering nearly every offense in the state code. The list includes clerks, housewives and professed suffragists in Spokane, also women or chardists and poultry-growers making their homes in the urban districts. The name of Mrs. May Arkwright Hutton, founder of the Political Equality league of Washington, who is rated to be the richest married woman in Spokane, was not drawn for the reason she is not registered as a taxpayer. Mrs. Hutton, who is the wife of a millionaire mine operator, announces she will have a piece of property in Spokane registered in her name, so that she will be eligible for jury duty when the next list is drawn. So far less than a dozen women have said they will serve in the event their names are drawn for the September term of court in Spokane.

Freeborn.

Ye shall heather my bed on the clear hill
And bury me light and dry,
Not to be cloaked from the free wind
When valley floods are high.

Blood to the stream and flesh to the clay,
But neither hold me now;
I will lie here and far above
The wheeling of the plow.

Windy sky and a peewit call
Over my head shall run,
And I shall hear the heather folk
Stamp, and play in the sun.

The pupils and teachers of the U. S. Indian Industrial School will give a dance at the school tonight and a number of young people from the city have been invited to it. They will go out to the school in trolleybuses and buses, it is said, and they expect to have a fine time.

The social event of next week will be the reception to be given in honor of the visiting scientists and archaeologists and staff of the School of Archaeology. It will be held in the Palace of the Governors and will be in charge of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the New Mexico Museum.

A postal card has been received from Dr. Frederick M. Bishop stamped Cardiff, August 8, where he arrived on the Steamship Mauretania. The doctor says they had a pleasant voyage. He will return to Santa Fe in the fall and his many friends in the city will be glad to see him.

Miss Mary McFie gave a delightful party Thursday night in honor of Miss Ecklund a charming young lady from Clayton who is visiting her. Several scores of young people attended the affair which was rendered all the more enjoyable by vocal selections by Miss McFie and Miss Ecklund.

W. Goodrich Jones of Temple, Texas, who spent last year on the upper Pecos, brought his charming family with him this year and spent six weeks at Winsor's, where he has bought himself a forty-acre tract and is now erecting a summer cottage. Mr. Jones, who has traveled the world over, declares it the finest summer resort country in the world, and say that as soon as the Scenic Highway is completed, the thousands of Texans who annually go to Colorado to cool off, will come to the upper Pecos.

Miss Virginia Bean, Santa Fe's talented violinist, has consented to give a musical recital before leaving Santa Fe. The date set for this musical treat will be next Saturday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the assembly room of the Women's Library building. The entertainment will be under the auspices of the Guild of the Church of the Holy Faith, which will share equally in the proceeds. The tickets will be 50 cents each and will be for sale at the drug stores or can be had from the members of the Guild.

Masonic Convention. Next week will be a brilliant one for Masonry as the New Mexico Grand Lodge Free and Accepted Masons will be in convention here, will confer degrees and will lay the cornerstone of the new Scottish Rite Cathedral.

The following is a brief outline of the program: Conferring of degrees, Monday to Wednesday; laying of corner stone of cathedral, 10 a. m. Thursday; banquet, Thursday noon.

Had Fine Outing. A very enjoyable automobile picnic party was that participated in by Col. and Mrs. E. C. Abbott, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel G. Cartwright and Mrs. Bartlett in Col. Abbott's car, and Dr. J. A. Rolls and family in their car. They went over last Wednesday afternoon and camped on the beautiful banks of the Pecos river, right above the Valley Ranch, fishing and hunting, until yesterday, when they returned home. Mr. Cartwright said that the roads were in good condition and that they had a very enjoyable trip.

GOVERNOR LAUDS PRESIDENT TAFT.

The food supply of the metropolis. Work went on at all the docks today and the best of feeling prevails and it is felt that the adjustment will prove a permanent one.

TEN THOUSAND ELKS

TO BE SCATTERED.

Will Be Taken Out of Jackson's Hole to Be Distributed Over State of Wyoming.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican,
Cheyenne, Wyo., Aug. 19.—Ten thousand elk from the Jackson Hole country are to be shipped to Colorado and distributed over that state, the railroads having agreed to transport the animals free of charge. "Buffalo Jones" of Colorado is in Cheyenne today making arrangements for the transfer of the animals. The serious difficulty of providing for the animals in Jackson's Hole during the winter months makes it urgent that they be distributed over a wider range. Thousands of elk died of starvation in that country last winter.

Special to the New Mexican.
Wagon Mound, N. M., Aug. 19.—
Irving Rowell, the 13 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rowell, was ac-day morning. In company with his father and brother, the boy was re-wood. Each of the boys had a small rifle and the father had his shot gun.

The guns were on the top of the load of wood and in some manner the shot gun slid off, the hammer struck the wheel and the entire load was discharged into the boy's stomach. Death was instantaneous.

The accident happened about three miles from the Rowell home and the wife and mother knew nothing of it until she helped bear the dead body of her son to the house. The funeral
