FIVE THOUSAND EAGLES IN GRAND AERIE PARADE.

After Much Preliminary Excitement Election of Officers Turns Out to Be Tame.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) San Francisco, Calif., Aug. 24.—Eagles to the estimated number of 5,000 marched San Francisco's streets today in the big parade of the Grand Aerie of the Fraternal Order of Eagles. The majority of the marchers were garbed in fantastic costumes and there were many decorated automobiles.

The election of officers of the Grand Aerie did not cause much interest except in the case of two or three contested offices of minor importance. The withdrawal yesterday of J. J. Cusack, the insurgent candidate for Grand President, eliminated the principal interest in the election leaving the field clear for Frank E. Hering, of South Bend, Ind.

ROBBED AND ASSAULTED: BOY THROWN OVER CLIFF.

The body of Mrs. Lee Borg, aged 25 years, wife of a mining man, was thrown over a 700 foot cliff at Telluride, Colorado, after she had been robbed of $150 which she was taking to bank. After being robbed, the woman was assaulted by her two unknown assailants and thrown over the cliff, being crushed to death by the fall. The remains were not found for several days.

ASSEMBLY ELECTS ARRIAGO PRESIDENT. Lisbon, Aug. 24.—The constitutional assembly today elected Senor Arriago, president of the republic for 1912.

SIX ARE DEAD FOUR NOW DYING

Flames Sweep 14,000 Foot Level of Giroux Consolidated Mines, Ely, Nev.

MEN PASSED THROUGH FIRE

But Not One Is Destined to Survive the Terrible Ordeal of Last Night.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Ely, Nev., Aug. 24.—Of ten men who were working at the 1,400 foot level of the new five-compartment shaft of the Giroux Consolidated mines when it caught fire last night, six are dead and four are at the point of death after passing through the fumes to reach the surface.

The Dead. Daniel Drea, secretary of the local Miners Union. T. J. Gilmore, shift boss. John Wilhelm. Thomas Odolovitch. Edward Walsh. John McNulty.

Seriously Injured. Clarence Gates. Michael Foley. Edward Knox. Peter Harrington.

The men on the 1,400 foot level heard a noise which they thought was caused by an explosion. They looked upward and saw the shaft in flames.

Encountered the Flames. They at once boarded the cage and started for the surface. They encountered the flames at the 1,200 foot level and stopped.

Wilhelm and four other men left the cage and started to walk through the 1,200 foot level to the old Alpha shaft, 700 feet away, through which they hoped to climb out of the mine.

Pulled Through the Blaze. The five men remaining in the cage gave the signal to hoist and were pulled through the blazing shaft. One was dead when the top was reached, and the other four were taken to a hospital.

Face Downward. The work of rescuing the five men remaining in the mine was then attempted through the Alpha shaft. At the 400 foot level, Wilhelm was found dead. Gilmore's body was recovered at the 600 foot level, face downward at the bulkhead. Odolovitch lay dead but Walsh and McNulty were not found, and still are in the burning mine.

Accident Four Years Ago. This is the same mine in which three and a half years ago, two men were killed and four others entombed for 46 days on the thousand foot level of the Alpha shaft. The new shaft is one of the largest and deepest in the district and cost over a quarter of a million dollars.

Every effort is being made to extinguish the flames, which are still burning.

WALL STREET EXPERIENCES ANOTHER SELLING SPASM.

Harriman Stocks Fall to the Lowest Point They Have Reached Thus Far.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New York, Aug. 24.—The market fell away again in the second hour under another spasm of selling which concentrated on steel, sending that stock under its low prices of the year. The entire list declined in sympathy and at noon heaviness was most marked on reports of a strike on the Harriman roads. The trading element was clearly at work again with an admixture of further liquidation. Bonds were heavy.

Unmistakable liquidation set in during the noon hour, particularly in the Harriman's which went below lowest prices of the year.

Weakness of these stocks resulted from rumors that a strike has been declared on the Southern Pacific lines while selling of steel which continued in large volume was ascribed to trade developments.

The shutting down of a big independent in New Jersey was cited as proof of the adverse conditions now confronting that industry.

A substantial rally in the low prices of midday was made in the next hour, the recovery being due to denials of a crisis in the labor situation on the Southern Pacific. Union Pacific and Reading rallied a point or more with lesser gains in U. S. steel and the balance of the active group.

The list then resumed its accustomed apathy and uncertainty of movement.

Union Pacific Recovers. New York, Aug. 24.—The market closed steady. Union Pacific was the notable feature of the last hour, recovering 1-2 from the low.

Closing Quotations. New York, Aug. 24.—Prime paper, 4 1-2@1-3; Mexican dollars, 45; call money steady, 2 1-8@1-2 per cent; amalgamated, 59 1-2; sugar, 114 bid; Atchison, 104 3-8; Great Northern, 123; New York Central, 103; Northern Pacific, 117 3-4; Reading, 142 1-2; Southern Pacific, 110 1-2; Union Pacific, 127 5-8; steel, 70 7-8; ptld., 114 7-8.

FATHER, MOTHER, BROTHER KILLED

Atrocious Deed Charged to 21 Year Old William Lee in Indiana

ROBBERY WAS THE MOTIVE

Old People Had Heads Caved in With a Hammer While They Were in Bed.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Booneville, Ind., Aug. 24.—Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lee were killed in their beds today with a hammer and their son Clarence was shot. Their house was set on fire.

William Lee, an elder son, was arrested today, charged with the murder.

The house was found burning early this morning and when the firemen reached it, they discovered that all the doors and windows were locked. Breaking them down, the firemen found the incinerated bodies of Lee, his wife, and younger boy. Examination of the bodies resulted in the discovery that the skulls of the father and mother had been caved in with a hammer while they were lying in bed. The 17 year old boy, it was found had been shot.

Robbery, it is believed, was the motive. It is known that the Lees, consisting of the father and mother, and two children, had sold their small place of property in Newburg and divided up the money. The sum was divided into four portions. The mother and father and younger boy took their money and went back to their home in Booneville.

The older son, William, who is 21 years of age, remained in Newburg, and returned to Booneville after his family had gone to bed.

WEIRD EXHIBIT IN BEATTIE TRIAL

Blood Bespattered Automobile Brought Into Yard of Court House

AN UNCLE OF WIFE TESTIFIED

Husband Accused of the Murder Mumbles Loud Enough to Be Understood

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Chesterfield Court House, Va., Aug. 24.—The bloodstained automobile in which Louise Owen Beattie, met her death was driven into the yard of Chesterfield Court House early today just before the trial of Henry Clay Beattie, Jr., indicted for wife murder, was resumed. The prisoner was on the lawn when the machine arrived and he calmly inspected it. His father raised the cushion of the front seat, revealing a mass of coagulated blood on the wooden work.

The court convened at 10:30 o'clock and the prisoner took his seat promptly. Today was the first anniversary of his marriage to the woman he is accused of murdering.

Uncle of Victim Testified. Thomas Owen, uncle of Mrs. Beattie, to whose home the prisoner brought the body after the tragedy, took the witness stand at 11:20. While the prisoner gazed fixedly at him, Mr. Owen told how Beattie drove up to the house on the night of the murder, took his young wife into the car and returned an hour later with the dead body beside him. He said, Beattie cried: "My God—" as he drove up, and that Beattie shouted: "They have killed Louise!" Briefly and simply, Mr. Owen told how the body was lifted from the car, but said he did not examine the body at the time.

Accused Mumbles: "Half Dollar." When it was prepared for burial, however, he saw the wound in the left cheek, which he described as being as "big as a half dollar." As the witness said this, Beattie mumbled "half dollar" loud enough for those near him to hear.

Beattie's blood-soaked clothes were unrolled before the jury and the witness identified them. The single barrel shot gun with which the commonwealth said the shot was fired, was then exhibited.

Gun at Inquest. Mr. Owen identified the gun as the one showed at the coroner's inquest at which time Paul Beattie swore that he had purchased it for his cousin.

Like a Hawk. Then the witness described the scene of the crime on the night of the murder. Beattie watched his uncle-in-law like a hawk as the testimony proceeded and now and then shook his head as if in contradiction.

ATWOOD HAS A MINOR MISHAP

Was Within 25 Miles of Finish of Record Breaking Flight

HE LANDED AT NYACK, N. Y.

He May Not Be Able to Resume Trip to Metropolis Until Tomorrow.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Nyack, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Harry N. Atwood, the American aviator, suffered a slight accident to his aeroplane shortly before noon, when he was within 25 miles of the finish of his record-breaking flight from St. Louis to New York City.

He landed here to make repairs and said it was doubtful if he could continue to New York until tomorrow.

Connecting Rod Burned Out. Nyack, N. Y., Aug. 24.—The metal in connecting rod of Atwood's aeroplane burned out while he was rounding Hook Mountain, just north of here.

"I felt myself sinking," said Atwood, and looked around for a place to land. The accident has disarranged my plans and I don't think I will be able to leave here for New York until tomorrow.

Repairs to Atwood's machine were begun shortly after his landing. Hundreds of people from Nyack journeyed out to see Atwood and his aeroplane.

NEW MEXICO-TEXAS BOUNDARY MARKER LOST.

Milestones Consisting of Iron Tubes Filled With Cement, Weighing 35 Pounds, Placed.

Anthony, N. M., Aug. 24.—The Texas-New Mexico boundary commission arrived last week, completing its random journey along the 32d parallel to where same was intercepted by the Rio Grande in 1859. They failed, however, to find any trace of the lost monument which marked the spot, the vicinity now being an alfalfa field and the river two miles farther west.

The surveying party, after calculations, returned back over the same route, placing mile posts, consisting of iron tubes filled with cement, weighing 35 pounds. This commission will, without further authority, establish the boundary line from here south to El Paso, as hoped and expected by many.

THREE HULLERS CLEANING ALFALFA SEED AT CARLSBAD.

Eddy County Teachers Close Their Session—Dr. E. McQueen Gray Visits His Fine Farm.

Carlsbad, N. M., Aug. 24.—The first car of alfalfa seed has been shipped from the Carlsbad project. The price paid is about fourteen cents a pound. The seed is of good quality and clean, as the farmers have taken more pains than usual in handling the crop. Much alfalfa for seed remains to be cut. The three hullers are at work and will have a run of several weeks before the entire crop is threshed.

The finest game of base ball ever seen here was played Monday afternoon between the Pecos and Carlsbad teams, the score being 2 to 1 in favor of the home team. There was a big turnout, every business house closing during the game.

Dr. E. McQueen Gray, president of the University spent several days in the project this week. He owns one of the finest farms in the project. Sunday evening he delivered an address at the regular union services on "The First Three Centuries of Christianity," while in the morning he spoke at the Methodist Church on "Education and Religion."

Dr. Roberts, president of the Normal at Las Vegas, spent Sunday here. He visited with the teachers now in attendance at the Institute.

The most successful session of the Eddy County Teachers' Institute, both as to attendance and character of the work, closes this week. Some sixty teachers are in attendance. Professor J. H. Vaughn of the Agricultural College, Professor Poore of the High school and County Superintendent A. A. Kaiser have had charge of the work.

CORNER STONE OF CATHEDRAL LAID

Under Andalusian Skies, Replica of Alhambra Was Begun To-day

GRAND LODGE WAS IN CHARGE

Hon. L. Bradford Prince Delivered Impressive Address on Masonry.

With Andalusian skies overhead and surrounded by buildings whose Mission style recalled the glories of Old Spain, the cornerstone of the Scottish Rite Cathedral which is to be a replica of the Court of Lions of the Alhambra, was laid with imposing ceremonies this morning.

The weather, had it been imported from Old Madrid, could not have been more suitable for such an occasion, the dazzling sunshine, as well as the gentle zephyrs combining to make the cornerstone laying an auspicious event in the annals of masonry.

This new temple, which is to be erected on the corner of Federal street and Lincoln avenue, is to be the nearest approach to the Spanish Alhambra to be seen in this country and it will prove a most suitable addition to this land of Spanish romance.

The ceremonies began shortly after 10 a. m. when, preceded by the First Regiment Band playing a stirring march, members of the Grand Lodge, who had the ceremonies in charge, members of the Blue Lodge and the Scottish Rite Masons, marched in procession past the plaza and out Lincoln avenue to the location of the temple. The Masons wore their symbolic aprons, and several of the grand lodge officers were attired in frock coats, gray trousers and wore high hats.

A platform had been erected near the place of cornerstone laying and it was decorated with national bunting. A large crowd of friends and relatives of the Masons, and visitors occupied seats on the side of the hill overlooking the site of the new temple. There were many ladies and they held parasols over their heads. As the brethren took their places, the grand lodge officers taking seats on the platform and the other Masons standing in rows on either side, the First Regiment Band played. Then the grand master in charge of the ceremonies, E. L. Medler of Albuquerque, made the announcement telling the object of the gathering and the reason for the special convocation of the New Mexico grand lodge.

Prayer was then said by the chaplain, the Rev. W. E. Webbe of Long Island, N. Y., who is visiting here. Rev. Mr. Webbe spoke earnestly and devoutly and as he prayed, everyone bowed the head.

Mrs. Prince Gives Flag. At the conclusion of the prayer, Acting Grand Treasurer Henry F. Stephens placed a number of articles in a tin box which was later inserted in the stone, as is customary at the laying of cornerstones. Among the articles placed were certain precedents of Masonic conventions names of Masons, copies of the Santa Fe New Mexican and of the Santa Fe New Mexican's New Year's edition of 1910, several coins, Colonel R. E. Twichell's recent pamphlet of Santa Fe and other documents. Mr. Stephens read the list of the articles and then the Grand Master asked him if there was any one in the audience who wished to place something in the corner stone. There was deep silence when Mrs. L. Bradford Prince, wife of the former governor, exclaimed that she had a tiny American flag which she would like placed in the stone. The flag was given Mr. Stephens who put it with the other souvenirs, midst applause.

As the mementoes were sealed up, the band played, and the click of the cameras nearby told that several photos had been taken of the interesting ceremony. Then the ceremony of testing the stone was carried out, various officers of the grand lodge advancing and using their instruments to see that it was correct and true.

Consecration of Stone. The ceremony of pouring corn, wine and oil on the stone followed. This was the consecration of the stone and was witnessed with great interest even by many Santa Fe Masons who had never before seen the ceremony.

Invocation of Grand Master. The grand master then delivered the following invocation: "May the all bounteous Author of nature bless the people of this place with an abundance of the necessities, conveniences and comforts of life; assist in the erection and completion of this building; protect the workmen against every accident; long preserve the structure from decay and grant to us all a supply of the corn of nourishment, the wine of refreshment and the oil of joy. Amen."

The other Masons responded: "So mote it be."

The grand master then struck the stone three times with the gavel and the public grand honors were given. The grand master then gave over to the architect the implements of architecture saying:

"Worthy Brother, having thus, as grand master, of Masons, laid the foundation stone of this structure, I now deliver these implements of your

NEW MEXICO.

The following song was written by
Perry E. Brochhaus at Washington
City in 1859, as a tribute of affection to New Mexico, and was respectfully inscribed to Hon. M. A. Otero, father of our ex-governor, and delegate to Congress at that date. It appeared in the Santa Fe New Mexican in 1867, has survived seventeen admissions of the territory into the Union by the lower house of Congress, and we present it again and "pass it on."

I love that land of brilliant clime,
As bright as mortals ever know;
With lovely vales and hills sublime,
The land of bright New Mexico.

I love the valleys deep and green,
Where crystal waters laughing flow
In wild romance the hills between,
The valleys of New Mexico.

I love the prairies broad and free,
Where the elk and deer unfettered go;
With tranquil brook and lonely tree,
The prairies of New Mexico.

I love the peaks beyond the cloud,
That glisten with perennial snow,
The glorious summits of the proud
Sierras of New Mexico.

I love the hues that gild the West,
At evening, with supernal glow,
And crown the hills with dazzling
crest,
The sunset of New Mexico.

I love the soft, mellifluous tongue,
That from the lips doth sweetly flow
Like strains with harp and timbre sung,
The language of New Mexico.

I love the silence deep and grand,
That reigns around, above, below,
From mountain top to river strand,
The silence of New Mexico.

I love the skies so fair and bright,
That o'er the earth their radiance throw;
Serene by dawn, so grand by night,
The skies of fair New Mexico.

Oh, I would haste, would haste away,
More swiftly than the light can go;
And there forever fondly stay
In the hills of fair New Mexico.

Oh, yes, beneath that gentle sky,
Where moon and stars so softly glow,
There I would live, there I would die,
On the wilds of dear New Mexico.

Then bury me on the mountains high
Through whose deep vales the waters flow;
Whose summits pierce the deep blue sky,
The mountains of New Mexico.

SAN JUAN COUNTY WOMAN KILLED AT MANCOS.

Found in a Shack With Bullet in Heart and Brain--Left Several Hundred in Bank.

Durango, Colo., Aug. 24.—The authorities of Mancos are baffled over the finding of the lifeless body of Mrs.
Amelia E. Nicholson of Aztec, N. M., in a room she had engaged in the rear of the Old Bauer store with two bullet holes in her body, one through the head and the other near the heart.
The finding of the pistol beside the body, together with a note explaining what should be done with the money she had in Mancos bank, point to a suicide, and so the coroner's jury found.

The finding of the key to the room hanging on a nail on the outside door casing and the fact that either of the two wounds would have caused almost instant death lead the authorities to believe that there has been foul play. The discovery of the body was made by Marshal Critzfield and Al Kimble. The woman had been dead for about a week. She came from Aztec about ten days ago alone.
Thursday night several persons heard two shots, but paid no attention to them, and it is presumed that these were the two which killed the woman. The note, addressed to Mrs.
Schultz of Dolores, said that Mrs.
Nicholson had $442 in the bank and after paying the funeral expenses the balance should be given to her husband. Mrs. Nicholson was about 30 years of age. She was a photographer and traveled from town to town.
Her husband has not yet been found.

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

A PLAN FOR BETTER ASSESSMENT. THE SCOTISH RITE CATHEDRAL.

It would be pleasing to note the fifty per cent increase in the assessment returns for Santa Fe county for this year if the increase were not merely confined to two items. The assessment for the city of Santa Fe, despite the great improvements that are in progress, remains practically the same as last year. The only increase seems to be in automobiles, the fifty to sixty autos of the county appearing on the tax rolls as a total of $4,870, or about $80 to $90 a piece which is about in the same proportion as most other property is valued, excepting perhaps such institutions as the banks and the New Mexican Printing Company, a number of stores and a few humble homes which are assessed at twenty-five to sixty per cent of their value instead of merely ten per cent as is the case with other tangible property, while a vast amount of intangible property escapes all assessment. The fault lies not with county officials or authorities but with the entire system, for in Chaves, Grant and in other counties, the undervaluation is as shameless and as open as it is in this section. But Santa Fe in order to keep at the head of the procession in improvements, must seek a more adequate assessment, or rather a more equitable assessment. The New Mexican has in mind, for instance, a house and lot in this city worth $2,000 which were assessed at $1,700, and another house, lot and furniture worth $20,000 which are assessed at $1,200. There is evidently need of equalization there.

It has been suggested to Mayor Seligman that he appoint a civic commission, a body of six or ten public spirited men who are property owners, who are vitally interested in the city, who are willing to give their time toward planning a greater, a healthier and a more beautiful Santa Fe. The Chamber of Commerce might suggest some of the members, the Woman's Board of Trade others, and the city council still others.

Among other things, this commission should prepare a large plat of the city and have marked on it each piece of real estate, each tangible improvement, and place upon it its probable market value. This plat should be submitted to the county assessor, who would therefrom make up his assessment roll. If he is disposed to assess every one ten per cent of true values, he would divide each figure by ten; if he was assessing at half value, he would divide by two. In that manner, an equitable assessment could be had on real property. As to personal property, of course, the oath of each taxpayer would have to do as in the past, but with equitable real estate assessment, there would be much less complaint of injustice and a much more satisfactory assessment.

HASTEN THE DAY.

Colorado farmers will this year realize enough from their crops to buy out all of New Mexico's wealth, including railroads, factories, mills, farms, livestock, banks, real estate, mines, homes, with one-half of the proceeds, that is, if the assessment represents the wealth of the new state as it should. The Department of Agriculture estimates the value of the fruit crop in the Centennial state, this year, at almost $7,000,000; of the dairy products at more than $6,000,000; of livestock and products at $71,225,000; of poultry and eggs at almost $3,000,000; of miscellaneous vegetables, melons and truck $12,450,000; of honey $327,000; of beans and peas $555,000; of grain and staple crops at $50,000,000, and other crops in proportion. This raises the old question why New Mexico, settled several hundred years before Colorado, with larger area and more available agricultural lands; with less altitude and more favorable climate, does not raise one-half as much as the Centennial state. Is it the factor of individual efficiency and cannot that efficiency be raised by making instruction in agriculture, and school gardens and school farms, an essential in every community? It is one of the developments of the near future and every one with the welfare of New Mexico's people at heart should help to hasten the day.

Arizona which has a Republican administration too, has reduced its tax rate from 7 mills to 6 mills. New Mexico's tax rate has been lately reduced from 14.5 to 10 mills, also by a Republican administration. Arizona's assessment is almost $100,000,000; that of New Mexico is $80,000,000. Six mills on $100,000,000 will produce a revenue of $6,000,000 and so will ten mills on $60,000,000. In other words, the higher the assessment, the lower the tax rate, but it is a much better advertisement to say that the commonwealth has a tax rate of only six mills instead of a tax rate of ten mills, and the sooner New Mexico property owners take this important truth to heart the better it will be for the state all around. Capital has been pouring into Arizona for that territory's development while in New Mexico there has been a notable lack of development from outside sources. Might not the differential in the tax rate be to blame?

FEEL IT IN THE BONES.

The Democratic Roswell Morning News feels as pessimistic in its bones as President Ripley of the Santa Fe does. It declares editorially: "The Republicans are already taking comfort from the signs of dissension in the Democracy of the country at large, and as a Democratic paper, the News confesses that our friends, the enemy, have some cause for feeling good. There are discordant elements in the national Democratic party." Fortunately, what is one man's grief in this respect is two other men's joy. The Democratic Roswell Record, on the same day, in a long editorial, in which it discusses the probabilities of the Democratic party coming again into power in New Mexico and in the nation, heads the editorial: "It Can't Come Back." "So say we all of us," and what is the use of the Democratic brethren spending money and energy trying to come back when they simply can't?

Not having at hand the text of the new apportionment bill, the New Mexican is not certain whether New Mexico will be entitled to two congressmen as the Enabling Act provides, up to March 4, 1913, or whether it will elect only one congressman under the apportionment bill. In the other states, the apportionment bill does not go into effect until the 1912 election and if this holds good for New Mexico, then the new state will have two congressmen to represent it until March 4, 1913. By that time, these two may be able to persuade congress that an injustice was perpetrated when New Mexico's delegation was cut down to one, and may either secure a second congressman, or an act for a special census, such as was given Oklahoma in 1905 for the same purpose, and to let that special census determine whether New Mexico has sufficient inhabitants to entitle it to two congressmen. Idaho, with less population, is given two and it certainly is palpably unjust that New Mexico must be satisfied with only one.

President Ripley of the Santa Fe seems to have the blues again. His road has been paying dividends pretty regularly, it has been accumulating a nice little surplus, has been making tremendous betterments out of its earnings, and even at this very moment is experiencing a shortage of freight cars and running its passenger trains in double and triple sections in order to meet the demand made on its passenger carrying facilities, and yet, President Ripley declares that unless business picks up he must cut down the wages of the road's 60,000 employees. As a pessimist, President Ripley is the champion of them all. Being at the same time an excellent executive and a good manager, he will be forgiven, if he only does not start a panic with his lugubriousness.

Beef and pork are advancing in price and still the cattle grower persists that never before in the history of cattle raising has he received so shabby a deal while the packing house magnate declares that if profits are not better soon he will have to close up shop. The consumer pays the bill and the difference between selling price of cattle and selling price of the retail butcher, lodges somewhere. It is very likely, that the honest consumer must pay the butcher's bills of the dishonest consumer, and that there is the link that is making beefsteak a first rate luxury for the average workman.

The man who stole the beautiful painting "Mona Lisa" from the Louvre in Paris, even though he cannot sell the picture, is much more sensible than the ordinary thief. When one cannot resist stealing, isn't it much more logical to steal something beautiful, something that money cannot buy, something that cannot be earned with toil or with skill or with talent, than to filch mere filth, dirty lucre, or some tawdry object about which one can earn with but little exertion or display of smartness? If you must steal, steal something worth while.

It is quite a surprise to have the United Spanish War Veterans, in convention assembled, representing 45,000 veterans of the Spanish American War, declare against the canteen. The advocates of booze in the army have hollered loud and long that without a canteen there can be no efficient fighting force, and yet, here come veterans, men who have been through a war as soldiers, who say just as emphatically that the canteen is a harmful institution.

Uncle Sam is building an $84,000 bridge across the Little Colorado in Arizona. New Mexico needs a bridge across the Rio Grande at San Ildefonso, Santa Fe county. It would serve two great Indian pueblos and also the travelers to the Pajarito Cliff Dwellers' Park and the Jemez forest reserve. New Mexico's first congressmen should see to it that a federal appropriation for that purpose is made.

With the calling of the meeting of the Republican state committee by Chairman H. O. Bursum at Santa Fe, on September 4, the battle for political supremacy in the new state has begun. From now on fences will be repaired and the lines drawn among different candidates who will get busy in various counties to corral delegates favorable to their cause. Every member of the committee should make it his business to be in Santa Fe on September 4.

This is a splendid opportunity for the Democrats to show how sincere they are in advocating direct primaries. They are now in position to hold a direct primary in every county, in every precinct, for every candidate and thus demonstrate that their ideas are practical and will bring the best results. If these primaries prove a success, it will be no trouble to have the first state legislature pass a compulsory direct primary law.

When the owners of oil wells get together and form a Standard Oil company that regulates prices, it is a criminal transaction. When the Democratic cotton barons in congress get together and fix the price of cotton at 13 cents a pound that is a public-spirited and patriotic act. No wonder that the common geezer shakes his head and does not even pretend to understand the Democratic free trade arguments.

It is again time to agitate the matter of a greater Santa Fe, of an election to take in the suburbs, so that Santa Fe may again take the lead as the largest city in New Mexico as it is the most progressive.

Phoenix asks for a 12,000-acre park from the federal government and is likely to get it. Santa Fe, too, has a magnificent park in the Santa Fe grant, but is making no use of it.

The New Mexican has not yet met a man who dared to say openly that he is not pleased over the outcome of the statehood battle.

SCRAPS OF HUMOR

A Qualified Acquaintance. The fattest man in Manayunk was weighing himself a few days ago in the big market house in the suburb. A crowd of small boys gathered a short distance away from the scales and gazed at his girth with wondering eyes.

The fat man didn't like to be the center of interest, evidently, for he turned and said, gruffly: "Hope you know me when you see me again."

As the boys took to their heels one of them hurried the parting shot: "We will, mister, if some one doesn't stick a pin in you before we see you."

HE PROVED IT.

Casey—When I was passing your shanty last night that goat of yours nearly knocked the life out of me. Sure, he's not well bred.

Doolan—Maybe not, Casey, but he's a good butter, all right.

Properly Diagnosed. Stranger—Doctor, I ache all over. Doctor—Malaria, probably.

Stranger—And my head is all stuffed up and I have a tearing cough.

Doctor—A little cold along with it, I see. Take—

Stranger—And I just feel as if this world was a fraud and I'd like to throw that old moon at the sun and stuff all the stars down somebody's throat.

Doctor—You've got the grip.

JEANNE OR NOAH.

Going into the book department a store I was received by a young woman who was evidently a new clerk, for she stood all attention, with pencil uplifted, giving her whole mind to the effort of grasping my wishes. She was not surreptitiously or overtly chewing gum, nor fussing with the false curls at the back of her exaggerated coiffure, nor giving me one ear while straining the other to catch some neighboring conversation, nor calling me madame with conventional courtesy while glancing down her nose scornfully at my bulging shopping bag, and my serviceable rainy day boots—in a word, she was new to her business.

"Have you 'The Story of the Ark'?" I inquired.

"Jeanne or Noah, please?" said the young woman politely.—Harper's

Myer—I understand your friend Hawley recently led a charming widow to the matrimonial altar.

Gyer—I don't know about that. I'm inclined to think she pushed him there.

The Duck—Poor old man! Got a gold brick.

The Hen—No; I ain't sorry for him just well of all the china nest eggs he's handed us.

The Comeback. Comedian Boarder—I have named this coffee November, my dear madam.

Stern Landlady—Indeed, sir. And why?

Comedian Boarder—Because it is so cold and cloudy.

Stern Landlady—What a brilliant young man! I thought of naming it after you.

Comedian Boarder—And why?

Stern Landlady—Because it is so long before it settles.

The Next Step.

"I've seen pictures of King George V. when a baby, King George V. when a schoolboy, King George V. when a sailor, King George V. in uniform, King George V. in street attire, King George V. in his coronation robes, and now—"

"Well?"

"I'm just waiting to see what newspaper will be the first to print a picture of King George V. in his royal pajamas."

Not to Be Tied Down.

"Now that you have a baby in your house, Mrs. Gadsby, I suppose you will have to give up travelling so much."

"Oh, no. We have a nurse who has promised to send me a night letter about the little darling at least three times a week."—Judge.

profession into your hands, intrusting you with the superintendence and direction of the work, having full confidence in your skill and capacity to conduct the same.

The grand master then ascended the platform. After music by the band the grand master addressed the assemblage as follows:

Grand Master's Address.
"Men and Brethren here assembled, be it known unto you that we are lawful Masons, true and faithful unto the laws of our country and engaged by solemn obligations to erect magnificent buildings to be serviceable to the Brethren, and to fear God, the great Architect of the Universe."

"We have among us concealed from the eyes of all men, secrets which can not be divulged and which have never been found out; but these secrets are lawful and honorable and not repugnant to the laws of God or man."

"They were instructed, in peace and honor, to the Free Masons of Ancient times; and, having been faithfully transmitted to us, it is our duty to convey them, unimpaired to the latest posterity."

"Unless our craft were good and our calling honorable we should not have lasted for so many centuries, nor should we have been honored with the patronage of so many illustrious men in all ages, who have ever shown themselves ready to promote our interests and defend us from all adversaries."

"We are assembled here today, in face of you all, to build a house, which we pray God may deserve to prosper, by becoming a place of concourse for good men, and promoting harmony and brotherly love throughout the world, till time shall be no more."

The brethren all responded, "So mote it be."

Mr. Prince's Address.
R. W. Bro. L. Bradford Prince was then introduced as the orator of the day. He spoke with much earnestness, at times glancing at notes. He said in part:

"Of all human institutions, Masonry is the most widespread, the most universal. It is found in every continent, country, clime and isles of the sea. Under every flag its tenets are of degrees is the fact that it has one of the most beautiful symbolisms.

Congratulate Them.
"It is with pleasure and pride therefore that I can here on this occasion warmly congratulate the Scottish Rite Masons on the erection of a temple in which this symbolism will be carried out in all its beauty. (Applause.)"

Every Principle Good.
Governor Prince then said that every principle Masons have is good if every Mason would live up to these principles "this world would be a paradise."

The speaker then paid a tribute to Scottish Rite Masonry in New Mexico which he declared "had made marvelous advances" and he said that today Scottish Rite Masons see the realization of their hopes, aspirations and efforts of many men and many days.

He then reviewed the history in brief of Masonry in New Mexico and paid a tribute to several noted Masons, including the late Colonel Max Frost, and Colonel Harper S. Cunningham.

He referred to the book of Albert Pike, that famous pioneer Mason in the southwest and said that it was with great pleasure he found that Mr. Pike himself had passed over the very spot where the new temple is to be erected as Mr. Pike mentions in describing his entry into Santa Fe.

At the conclusion of Mr. Prince's address, there was prolonged applause in appreciation of his splendid effort. The band then played and the ceremonies ended with benediction. The procession reformed and returned to the lodge rooms on the plaza.

The New Stone.
The corner stone is made of native red sandstone and is placed at the southeast corner of the building. This building is to be erected by Contractor A. Windsor and will be the south facade of the Spanish Alhambra. Work on it will be rushed and when it is completed Santa Fe may boast of a new structure which will be in entire harmony with the Mission style of architecture suitable to this ancient city founded by heroes from old Spain.

Banquet Followed.
Following the ceremonies, an elaborate banquet was served at the public library, the Woman's Board of Trade being in charge. Covers were laid for 150. Many toasts were responded to eloquently by Masons

TIGER OUTFIELDERS HAVE STRONG ARMS

Manager Hughey Jennings of Detroit.

Seven ball clubs in the American league respect Detroit's outfield, Cobb, Crawford and Jones compose a combination that has no equal in the league, viewed from any standpoint.

One of the greatest requisites for outfielders is throwing, next to hitting. When a young outfielder is "spotted" the scout, after devouring the batting average, will ascertain if the player can throw. An outfielder, to be ranged with the good ones, must be able to have an arm which can throw accurately and with dispatch.

That Detroit's outfielders are respected when it comes to throwing was emphasized most forcibly in a recent game with Cleveland.

With one out in the fifth, Harkness walked. Grane, next up, hit a long single to right center. Cobb fielded the ball, but when Harkness reached second he hesitated before going to third, then returned to the bag. Manager Jennings would have censured any player on his team for not trying for third on such a long hit. But Harkness feared Cobb's deadly arm. The next man up, Stovall, lifted a high fly to Crawford. Sam played in deep right for it, but Harkness still remained glued to second. This time he feared Sam's arm.

Jackson followed with a single to left field, which sent Harkness to third just when Davey Jones was fielding the ball in deep left, but the Cleveland pitcher hesitated again. Jones has nerved a couple of runners this season who tried to make home. Confronted with this thought and the coach's signal Harkness remained on third. Two clean drives and yet Harkness was coached not to score.

The point to be emphasized is that Cleveland players have been drilled not to take liberties with Detroit's outfielders, for every one of the trio can throw. Harkness received his instructions from the coaching lines and therefore is excused.

JOHNNY EVERS AS MANAGER

Herrmann Declares Next Head of Cincinnati Team Will Be Player—Trojan Mentioned.

"Yes, the next manager of the Reds will be a playing manager," said President Herrmann the other day. Garry is back at his office after a two weeks'

Second Baseman Evers.

absence, during which time he was forced to read the reports of numerous Red reverses.

"We will move heaven and earth to bring to Cincinnati the man best qualified for the position," continued Garry. "We have several in view and will attempt to get one of them either by trade or purchase."

It was rumored in Cincinnati the other day that Second Baseman Johnny Evers of the Chicago club will probably be the next Red manager. Evers, it is said, should be in condition to play his usual good game next season, and his presence in the infield would go a great way toward bracing up the club.

The Chicago club, it is not believed, will stand in Evers' way, if he has a chance to take over the Red management.

"George Stallings, manager of the Buffalo club of the Eastern league, is not under consideration," said President Herrmann.

The Maid—Oh, sir, your wife is out in the garden, attending to her flowers!—Yonkers Statesman.

Suggestion.
"What does that old toper want to learn Italian for?"
"I guess it is because somebody told him it was full of liquid sounds."

Cleveland's alleged "misfits" make the "experts" look foolish. King Cole does not seem able to come back at all this season. The American association is having a real race of it at present. The pendulum is on the return trip. Player-managers are now in demand. Baltimore has sold Catcher Egan to the Philadelphia Athletics for fall delivery.

It is rumored that the officials have gone back to the old baseball in use last season.

No team in the American league has suffered more from injuries this year than the White Sox.

Hargrove, the young catcher reported bought by the Pirates, is only 18 years old. He is hitting 300.

Marty O'Toole, who made the association strike-out record, also held the same honors in the Western league for 1910.

Pat Dougherty really enjoys the role of emergency hitter much better than he does a regular berth in the outfield.

Ira Thomas, Athletic catcher, says that Clark Griffith is one of the best managers in either league. Ira worked under him in New York.

The Cleveland club has announced the purchase of Catcher Stephen O'Neill from the Worcester, Mass., club of the New England league.

Now that the Cardinals are a winning team, all the past, present and future, near and distant relatives of Stanley Robison want their share.

Black, the seventh candidate that Bobby Wallace has tried out at first this season, has been succeeded by Dode Criss, the pinch hitting pitcher.

There might be a lot of bidding for the services of Magee if the Philadelphia club would only indicate in some way that an offer would be considered.

Ludrus might be a lot of help to the Cubs right now if they had him, but President Murphy is certain that Sailer is better than the Phillie youngster.

John L. Taylor would have traded Joe Wood and Bill Carrigan last year for almost anything or anybody. He wouldn't take a big pile of kale or the pair right now.

Ed Reulbach has taken a little wait under his philanthropic wing. He bought him a hair cut and something to eat, then landed him a job as popcorn butcher at the Boston park.

Literary Payments.

"Don't you believe it. Nobody ever pulled Eve's hair out."

"Yes, but she has money to burn."

taught in every tongue. It has its adherents among those of every creed. "It is almost as extensive in time as in space. It is not found always under the same form but is always the same in principle. Masonry has been teaching through centuries the same truths."

"Masonry in the United States alone has a million and a half members and they are men of intelligence. They are God fearing men, such men as challenge the attention of the whole world. (Applause.)"

Rarely Before Public.
"But it is rarely that Masonry comes before the public to explain its principles and to tell of its deeds or even to defend itself against unjust attacks and criticisms. It is satisfied its own votaries appreciate its goodness and admire its beauty. But there are occasions when Masonry does come before the world and this is one of them, that it may be known by all men. And therefore a few words may be appropriately addressed to those without the clan."

What is Masonry? It has been defined as a system of morality illustrated by symbols. But it goes rather beyond that, and asks more of its adherents. Masonry insists on two great fundamental truths: First, a belief in one, omnipotent God; second, a belief in the life beyond the grave, the resurrection of the dead.

"Masonry is open to ALL who hold these two beliefs. It does indeed bring together all who believe in these fundamental truths. Hence, those of these beliefs join its institution. And some may ask, does not this bringing together of so many creeds weaken the belief? I answer, no for the few continues to hold to his Mosaic ritual; the Mohammedan may continue to believe Mahomet being the prophet of God and the Christian continues to acknowledge Jesus Christ as his Savior. Masonry, my friends, is to men in what they agree and it does not interfere in that in which they differ. It teaches the Fatherhood of God and the brotherhood of men. (Applause.)"

Symbolism.
"Now as to symbolism of masonry. You know that symbols are common to all men. The soldier has his symbol in his flag. What is this flag before me, but a piece of cotton with colors stamped on it? But it is more than that through its symbolic value, for it symbolizes the land we love. (Applause.)"

"So also in religion, there are symbols. The evergreen at Christmas, the flowers at Easter, tell a tale and one that is tremendously symbolized. The cross to the Christian is the highest emblem of his faith.

"And thus symbolism is held dear by Masonry. One of the glories of the Scottish Rite with its long line from all over the Territory. This closed the Scottish Rite Masonic reunion, also the special session of the grand lodge. Visitors will leave this evening for their homes.

The Masons from Roswell will go via Vaughn where two special autos await their arrival.

WHEAT TURNED WEAK

BUT CORN WAS FIRM.

Oats Were Steadied and Provisions Were Lifted in Phraseology of Chicago Market.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

Chicago, Ill., Aug. 24.--With buyers cautious because of talk that the Canadian crop and reciprocity would bring about reduced prices, wheat today turned weak. The depression followed an initial show of strength due to bullish cables.

The opening was a shade to quarter @3.8 up. September started at 90 5-8 to 3-4, a gain of a sixteenth to 1-8 @ 1-4 and then declined to 90 1-8 @ 1-4.

The close was weak with September, 1-2 @ 5-8 lower at 90 c.

Need of rain gave a firm tone to corn. Trade, however, was extremely light. December opened unchanged to 1-8 higher at 61 3-8 to 1-2 and secured to incline to hold within that range.

The close was steady with December 1-2 @ 5-8 higher at 61 7-8 @ 62.

Oats were steadied somewhat by corn but appeared to have no independent crop. December started unchanged at 44 1-2 and eased off to 44 3-8.

A firm demand from foreigners tended to lift provisions. Initial sales varied from 15 cents lower to 7 1-2 advance with January delivery 16.27 1-2 for pork, 8.87 1-2 to 8.90 for lard and 8.35 for ribs.

DRESSMAKING

NO MERCHANT ever succeeded by accident. You might have efficient salesmen, a good store location and a pleasing personality, but--IF you don't give your customers a sign of improvement as good as your neighbors you simply can't do THE business. Now, it is easy to be "as good as" any competitor, but in these days of 1911 a man's got to be better or be beaten, and success crowns only that which is best.
