SCHOOL BOARD TAKES ACTION

On Matter of Bill to Amend Territorial Laws Governing School Bonds.

BILL IS PRINTED VERBATUM

(Friday, March 23.)

At the meeting of the school board held yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the office of Justice of the Peace Craig, the purchase of two lots adjacent to the First ward school, in the Highlands, was consummated, which will be used as playground.

The lots were bought from Emil Mann and will be deeply appreciated by the pupils of this ward school, which heretofore has had no playground attached.

After discussing at some length the proposition to send a bill to congress for the purpose of having a bond issue to raise funds with which to enlarge the Albuquerque public school facilities, the following bill was drawn up and ordered sent to Delegate Andrews, with instructions for him to do all in his power to secure the passage of the bill:

The Bill.

An Act to Amend an Act to Prohibit the Passage of Special or Local Laws in the Territories, to Limit the Territorial Indebtedness and for Other Purposes.

Be it Enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the United States of America in Congress Assembled:

That the act of congress approved July 30, 1886, entitled, "An act to prohibit the passage of local or special laws in the territories of the United States, to limit territorial indebtedness and for other purposes," is hereby amended so as to authorize the issuance of bonds by school districts in the territory of New Mexico having a bona fide population of not less than 5,000 persons for purchasing or building, erecting and equipping necessary school buildings, and purchasing the ground for the same. The limitations of said act of July 30, 1886, shall not apply to such school districts; provided, that before any bonds shall be issued the mayor and common council of the municipal corporation, composing in whole or in part such school district, shall cause an election to be held in such district, and said mayor and common council shall cause to be published in a newspaper of general circulation, published in said district, a notice of the time and place of holding such election. On the question of the issuance of said bonds no person shall be qualified to vote except he be in all respects a qualified elector and owner of real or personal property subject to taxation within the school district. In case two-thirds of the qualified voters, as above described, vote affirmatively for the issuance of said bonds, then the mayor and common council shall cause the result to be sent to the board of education, and said board shall issue the same, and said bonds shall be subject to the approval of said board. Said bonds shall not bear a rate of interest exceeding 6 per centum, and the interest shall be paid semi-annually, on the first day of January and of July of each year, and none of said bonds shall be sold at less than their par value, provided, further, that no school district under this act shall issue bonds in excess of 4 per centum of the valuation according to the last preceding assessment of the school district issuing the same.

SECOTY AND THE 'DEATH VALLEY INCIDENT

"SHORTY" SMITH, ONE OF THE MEN SAID TO BE IN PLOT TO MURDER, CAN PROVE ALIBI.

(Friday, March 23.)

A W. de Lyle St. Clair, the miner who squatted against Scotty and his gang, left the city this morning at 6:15, supposedly for Los Angeles, says the San Bernardino Times-Index.

"Shorty" Smith, who was arrested at Daguerre as one of the three defendants charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was still in the county jail at 5 o'clock this afternoon, but District Attorney Spencer stated that he had received enough information from Daguerre by wire to convince him that "Shorty" Smith could prove an alibi and is likely that he will be released from the county jail either late this evening or tomorrow morning, without the necessity of lawyer Wideman's habeas corpus proceedings.

The whole case now rests on the efforts of Sheriff Hargis to take in William Keyes, who is one of the defendants, and A. Y. Pearl, who is also on the desert. If Keyes can be taken, it will deny his presence in Windy Gap the officers will have a hard time making St. Clair's story stick. Indeed, that gentleman tells very flighty tales, which vary according to the number of times they are told.

Scotty continues to shoot off his mouth in Portland and is making the best of the situation by advertising himself as the cab.

Among last night's Times-Index dispatches was one from Boston in which Mipping Expert Owen was quoted as saying that "Warner Scott was shot at the battle of Windy Gap, he was killed."

For Owen, District Attorney Spencer read this dispatch and forthwith sent a telegram to Owen who is in Boston. This morning he received the following reply: "Telegram received. Warner was slain when shot. That shot was aimed for Owen." Will write. My address is care of Phil Range Mining company No. 69, State street, Boston, D. E. Owen.

"Shorty" Smith made a statement behind closed doors to the district attorney, yesterday. He offered to prove by eight witnesses that he was not in the vicinity of the time Scotty's party left that place for Death Valley until they returned.

Attorney Wideman made the claim last night that if the case fell through for no other reason he could knock out the complaints on two technical points. He appeared confident that the local authorities could not make a case against Scotty.

MILLIONS IN GRAFT TO THE RAILWAYS AGAIN IN THIS YEAR'S POSTAL BILL

SUBSIDY FOR THE RAILROADS BECAUSE THEY SAY THEY MUST HAVE IT—OBVIOUS FOR THE STATESMEN WHO OPPOSE THIS MAMMOTH GRAFT OF PUBLIC MONIES.

Washington, D. C., March 23.—

About $3,000,000 has been added to the sum appropriated for railway mail pay, in the bill which will soon be reported to the house by the committee on postoffice and post roads.

This will make the total $424,000,000 for this one item.

Representative Chas. H. Grosvenor says this $424,000,000 is about 20 per cent graft.

He claims that a comparison with the cost of carrying express packages will prove this. Former Senator Wm. E. Chandler, who served two years as a member of an expert commission to determine the cost of carrying the mails, agrees that this charge is excessive, but thinks the graft is hardly as high as 20 per cent.

Senator Chandler incurred the enmity of the railways in his state by making a report unfavorable to the railways on this subject, and was defeated for re-election to the senate in consequence.

Members of congress are in deadly fear of the railways when it comes to mail compensation, and so far as it is learned every member of the committee on postoffice and post roads voted for this item.

The postoffice appropriation bill also contains the yearly bonus to the Southern and the Atchafalpa roads of $167,175, of which the Atchafalpa road gets $25,000, while J. Pierpont Morgan gets the rest. This appropriation is known as the "special facilities" appropriation. It is not recommended by Postmaster General Cortelyou, nor by Second Assistant Shallenberger, who has charge of the railway mail pay. It never has been recommended by the department.

Chairman James Orestreot, who is pretty nearly the whole thing on the postoffice committee, hasn't much of a defense for putting this special facilities item in the bill. Here it is:

"It has been there for years. The department did not recommend it because it has never recommended special facilities appropriations."

"The railways claim they could not give fast mails without the subsidy."

Overstreet, however, promised to air the item on the floor of the house.

The chairman thinks that the greatest postal abuse is in second class mail. He says that the government is mulcted $7,000,000 a year by this abuse. He doesn't say how much abuse there is in the $42,000,000 railway mail pay. But he declares the committee will go to the bottom of the second class matter.

It is learned that the bill which Mr. Overstreet's committee has framed up will contain a provision for weighing and examining second class mail matter during a period of six months. This, it is understood, is for the purpose of laying the foundation for radical legislation at next winter's session of congress. An increase of the postage on second class matter is contemplated.

CHAIRMAN OF THE POSTOFFICE COMMITTEE WHICH AGAIN ALLOWS THE RAILROADS OVER $42,000,000 FOR CARRYING THE MAIL.

WHAT'S THE ANSWER.

There are 2664 railroad mail routes. Their total length is 200,965 miles.

The annual travel on these routes is 32,645,731 miles.

The total number of postal routes is 294, with a total length of 52,000 miles.

The railway mail clerks handled 18,000,000,000 pieces of mail (estimated) during 1905, exclusive of registered matter.

In 1905 the railway companies were paid $45,576,515 for carrying the mails. They were also paid a $167,175 subsidy.

The weight of actual mail matter carried annually now is estimated at about 1,000,000,000 pounds. The weight of the mail equipment carried is estimated at about as much.

The government employs about 12,500 officers and clerks in the railway mail service, etc., at an annual salary of over $15,000,000. There are about 250,000 people, at a total expense in 1905 of $167,599,169.

In the last fiscal year the total weight carried at 1 cent a pound and free was 663,107,128 pounds. The actual revenue was $6,196,647.

The postmaster general estimates that it cost over $23,000,000 to handle this matter in the mail.

The appropriation for the postoffice department has increased from $25,746,091 in 1875 to $181,022,093 for 1905-6, an increase of more than 500 per cent.

Last year's postal deficit was $14,572,584.

The railways tax the government $2.77 a hundred pounds for the transportation of its mail bags for an average haul of not over 442 miles.

AND YET

The express companies charge only $3 a hundred pounds from New York to Chicago, 1000 miles, calling for the goods at the depot and delivering them at the domicile at the other end of the run, and make a good profit.

The house committee on postoffice and post roads is made up as follows:

Republicans—James Overstreet, chairman, of Indiana; John J. Gardner, of New Jersey; N. D. Sperry, of Connecticut; Thos. Hodge, of Iowa; Joseph C. Bailey, of Pennsylvania; Howard M. Snapp, of Illinois; Herbert P. Goebel, of Ohio; Halvor Steenerson, of Minnesota; Wm. H. Stafford, of Wisconsin; Archibald B. Darragh, of Michigan; Victor Miroloch, of Kansas; John W. Dwight, of New York.

MILLE LA TOUR AND HER DARING ACT IN THIS COUNTRY

New York, March 23.—As a stirring sign of spring comes "Tody" Hamilton, the invincible, incomparable, irresistible, indomitable juggler of circus adjectives.

When the circus begins to peck at daylight and the elephants yawn, two men in the circus business get busy. One is the man who palates the band wagon and the other is "Tody," press agent of, to use his own words, the Greatest Show on Earth.

An invincible fellow in whom time has failed to dry up the peanut taste, entered the office of the king of press agents in this city and with gurgling temerity pronounced this question:

"What'll she be like this season?"

Tody, at work upon a nine-sheet poster, joined a period after the words

"fugacious frolic with fate," and ejaculated:

"What will it be like, did you ask? Sensation will crowd sensation. Every act awe-inspiring. There'll be the tremendous feat of a woman looking the gap in an automobile where wonder itself is lost in wonder, and all speculation ceases as to what further extent mortals may tempt death with

NEW YORK FASHION LETTER

New York, March 24.—What shall I get for a new spring coat? Usually this is the first article bought in replenishing the spring wardrobe, and it becomes an important question to the woman who is compelled to consider a thin purse. A great deal of money goes into a coat, and if limited to but one, that one must be of such material, color and style that it will serve many purposes. It must be rich enough to wear with the silk dress on cool days in summer, it must be serviceable enough for hard usage also; it must be of a color that will go with all odd skirts and light summer dresses, and the style must not only conform to those prevailing but suit the figure—three requisites not always found in the same coat.

The cloths used for these jackets are many but covert, which should be of an excellent quality to be stylish, broadcloth and all the firm smooth-faced cloths, and silk are the favorites, although a number of rough faced cloths would better be chosen but for an "all-service" coat silk or broadcloth is preferable.

Black is the most serviceable color, but after the black and heavy jacket of the winter many women will choose a mode or tan, which next to black are the two most useful shades. As has been already stated in previous letters the Eton will reign supreme but the "Pony" jacket is a close second. Now as many will follow the vogue of having their street costume made with an Eton, the separate jacket would better be made in the short loose box-coat style known as the "Pony" coat. A smart example of the latter mode was made of a covert cloth in gun metal grey, a favorite color this spring, topped with a deep fawn collar, and reversed cuffs finish the short sleeves.

In the matter of sleeves the tailors tell me that all coat sleeves should have a stiffening at the top, with ruffles or capes of silk or ermine laid in between the lining and the top. The sleeves of the covert coat have long sleeves and to be completely satisfactory should be full enough to the blouse sleeve beneath will not be crushed, while instead of straps, the seam are decorated with soutache braid, a few are double stitched.

For the suit with a long skirt, the ruffles in the preferred style, but for the morning suit and the short skirt and hip-length, semi-fitting coat is the more popular mode.

At a recent exhibition a number of black silk Etons were shown. This model has held its own as has no other design, and if an extra ruffled little coat can be afforded, a black silk Eton is a good investment as it may be worn on almost all occasions and with all costumes, giving just that touch of being "dressed up."

A pretty little Eton of this description was made of black silk lining of a heavy quality trimmed with black

THREE HATS

THEY ARE FROM POPULAR MODELS IMPORTED FOR THE PRESENT SEASON.

The first hat is a French sailor shape in mauve straw. The round surrounding the crown are shaded from mauve into pale rose. The satin taffeta ribbon which is looped high in the back of that hat is shaded in the same tints as the roses.

The second hat has a pastel blue Neapolitan straw crown in Tan-o-Shanter shape, which entirely covers a rough blue straw brim. It is held down over the hair with tiny bouquets of pink moss roses surrounded by the pink rose foliage and blue satin ribbons. The shaded plume which rises from the left side of the hat over the crown is shaded from white to deep blue.

The third is a walking hat of two pieces of straw, practically a double hat. The outer straw is of a darker shade of violet than the inner. The crown is dented in Fedora fashion. Two violet quills rise from the side of the front. Violet satin ribbon is looped in the back as the hat is tilted far forward.

soutache braid. It was a close-fitting model laid in three side tucks from shoulder to waist, back and front. The "set-in" vest of embroidered white silk decorated with small, white soutache buttons and black soutache braid outlined the outer edge of the coat. The puff sleeves were drawn in at the elbow by means of tucks under a band of white silk and braid. For wear with the fashionable white and black and grey and black silks in pin stripes and fine checks these coats are very effective.

Another version of the Eton was of black taffeta which was a novelty from having its fulness at the waist shaped by a box-pall and was provided with two sets of collar and cuff pieces, one set in black and the other in white lining.

One of the new features of the spring fashions is the combining of jackets and skirts of different color and texture for street suits, and some stunning effects are accomplished by this method. These suits are by no means picked up here and there, but they come as suit pieces and harmonize to a nicety both in color and pattern. A chic suit of this order had its skirt made of grey plaid with an over plaid of tan in a three piece skirt, front and sides in one piece and a straight faced back, while the close-fitting Eton which had a decided basque-like front was of tan covert cloth.

A second model was developed in grey and blue plaid mohair showing a touch of red by a fifteen gored

Princess model. A smart little Eton of dark blue taffeta had a vest and rolled collar of red cloth, and was decorated on each side of the vest with three applique ornaments of blue silk soutache.

The fulness of the waist was drawn into tiny tucks as was also the bottom of the puff sleeves of the waist under a silk cuff from which extended at the elbow a plumed felt.

Black broadcloth was used for a second Eton jacket made on the plainest lines and trimmed in black soutache. It was worn with a skirt having a rather large grey and black check with a novel check of white made after one of the new circular models.

Later on in the season there will be numbers of pretty little Etons and boleros in linen decorated in eyelet embroidery, lace and the new shadow "shoulders." "Pony" jackets of mohair, pongee and silk "lined" and long driving coats of the same materials.

A very serviceable coat for driving, automobile and indeed for evening wear was of silk rubber in pearl grey. It hung in empire lines from a yoke-bolero, had a fold about the bottom, side pockets, a draped hood and big puffed sleeves with reversed cuffs.

The new cape-jackets, really a new version of the bolero, promises to be very popular this season. These may be of the same material as the skirt but are most effective made of silk and worn with separate skirts. One mode was of grey checked taffeta made with the new pointed style princess skirt. The cape had loose body pieces laid in tucks over the shoulders, a plain silk collar with fancy turn over points forming a Y neck, and revers of fancy material. The tucked sleeves were practically princess style over the arms to the elbows—hence the name. Another mode of development was shown where the bolero fronts and back falls from a round lace yoke with tab front and cape sleeves. The skirt was made from grey novelty suiting, and the cape from black pongee and lace.

Many little boleros will be worn made of cloth, silk, chiffon and lace, hardly little affairs that give just the right amount of warmth for summer evenings.

Women who go in for golf, cricket, tennis and all out-door sports will be charmed with a new model in the shirt-waist line. It is called the flannel blouse shirt, and in that country shirt-waists are worn only with sporting dresses, traveling possibly and with "fatigue" gowns. It is a plain shirt cut on exactly the same lines as a man's negligee shirt, with a straight sleeve and a turned over collar. The shirt is fastened with a chic pocket over the left breast, and hangs straight from the shoulders and without waist gathers. These blouse shirts are just the thing for business women, and with a mohair skirt, made in madras, wash silk, in stripes hair lines or fine checks the best of style. Its trimness, its sensible medium sized sleeves made it just the thing for the tailored suit. One of its attractions is the attached collar, a comfort in summer.

Wraps run to the empire and attractive styles. A long and very full wrap was developed from green cloth. There were five three inch tucks at the foot; the top of green velvet formed a short waisted coat and ruffles of chiffon were set down the front. Another of these long wraps was made from "Prune de Monsieur."

HIGH OFFICIALS OF SANTA FE

Here Today—Tour of Inspection the Purpose of the Gathering.

KENDRICKS AND WELLS GO WEST

(Saturday, March 24.)

Over in front of the Alvarado this morning stood a string of private cars, numbering six, that bore on their sides the legend "Santa Fe," done in letters of gold. They were the private conveyances of a number of officials of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad company, gathered here for the avowed purpose of inspecting local conditions.

In one of the cars was Second Vice President J. W. Kendrick, of the Santa Fe system, private car No. 5, accompanied by General Manager J. E. Hurley, of the main line; General Superintendent R. J. Parker, of the main line, occupied private car No. 3; Superintendent Kern, of the New Mexico division, of the main line, was in another car; General Manager A. G. Wells, of the coast line; General Superintendent L. L. Harnett, of the coast line; J. L. Dean, superintendent of machinery on the coast line, and Trainmaster P. Ripley, of the Rio Grande division, went to make up the rest of the officials who were here today.

Second Vice President Kendrick was met here by General Manager Hurley and staff, of the coast line, and left this morning for a tour of inspection over the western lines.

When seen by a representative of The Evening Citizen, General Manager Hurley stated that the officials were on a general tour of inspection only, and that their gathering here had absolutely no bearing on the famous Caledonian rebate case.

"Anyway," said General Manager Hurley, "that is on the west end of the line, and out of my territory."

When asked if the officials intended making a trip over the Helen cut-off, as stated in a morning paper, Mr. Hurley responded that for was the only official here in whose territory the cut-off was situated, and that inasmuch as he had just completed a tour of inspection of the cut-off about a week ago, he did not intend to make another trip at this time.

How soon will trains be running over the cut-off, Mr. Hurley? "I was asked."

"Regular train service between Tucson and Helen will not be instituted before September or October," replied Mr. Hurley.

Mr. Hurley stated that as yet he had not decided just when he would return east. He added that his tour of inspection of the Helen cut-off a week ago was entirely satisfactory, and that he found everything in good shape and the work progressing as rapidly as could be expected.

Another high official of the Santa Fe who was in the party, when asked what he thought of the Caledonian case, stated that while he had nothing to give out for publication, he "felt sure that a compromise of the case would be effected, and that, in his opinion, the case had already reached a state where the terms of the settlement were known."

He refused to allow himself to be quoted in the matter, saying that higher officials than himself had the matter of a settlement in charge.

When asked if it was true that the stock of the Caledonian Coal company had been purchased by representatives of the Colorado Fuel and iron company and the Santa Fe, he replied, with a prodigious wink, but said not a word.

The remaining officials of the Santa Fe, who are here today, will leave tonight or tomorrow for their respective headquarters.

THE BOHEMIAN COLONY OF SOCORRO.

Max Kirchman, of Socorro, promoter of the Bohemian colony near that city, arrived in Santa Fe Thursday evening from Socorro. He stopped over in that city to see Superintendent H. O. Bureau, of the territorial penitentiary, on business. Mr. Kirchman is very sanguine concerning the prospects of the Bohemian colony, which he is endeavoring to institute in the Socorro valley. He is making arrangements with the Santa Fe railway system to run an excursion train containing several hundred of his countrymen to Socorro on Monday.

These people will look over the valley and examine the project of Mr. Kirchman, and if pleased will settle there.

Mr. Kirchman states that his plans are getting on nicely and that he believes they will be successful. He has been in St. Louis for a few days endeavoring to arrange for the purchase of the Billings smelter, which has been idle at Socorro for a number of years, to a local company, for the purpose of reopening the same and working it. There are some difficulties in the way of successful completion of this project, but there are hopes that these will be straightened out, with the help of Mr. Bureau. He feels very good and says that during his recent eastern visit he found that New Mexico was being talked about by many people and that many intending immigrants are looking to coming to the territory.

Afflicted With Rheumatism.

"I was and am yet afflicted with rheumatism," says Mr. J. C. Hayes, editor of the Herald, Abilene, in Santa Fe territory, but thanks to Chamberlain's Pain Balm am able to move more to business. It is the best of balms. "I troubled with rheumatism give Pain Balm a trial and you are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief it affords. One application relieves the pain. For sale by all druggists."

Don T. B. Catron passed through the city this morning, returning to his home at Santa Fe from an extended sojourn in the east. Mr. Catron was on Saturday nominated on the citizens ticket as candidate for mayor and is now hurrying home to take a hand in the campaign, which will end in an election to be held on April 25.

TERRITORIAL TOPICS

COL. W. C. GREENE AND PARTY RETURNS EAST.

Col. W. C. Greene and party are on their way east from a visit to the mines at Cumanaca. In the party are Col. Greene, his daughter, Miss Greene, Secretary Robbins, of the Greene Consolidated and his wife, and Norton Chase, a prominent attorney of New York, who is legal counsel for the company, and a warm personal friend of Col. Greene. The copper king stated the addition of a new concentrator to the works at Cumanaca will greatly increase the output of the plant and reduce the price of production about one cent a pound.

SOLD MINE NEAR TOMBSTONE FOR $20,000.

Attorneys Ben Goodrich and R. A. D. Upton, of Tombstone, have sold their interest in several mining claims in the Johnson district, to a Philadelphia capitalist for $20,000. Messrs. Goodrich and Upton are old timers and are well known at Tombstone. Mr. Upton recently accepted a position with Colonel W. C. Greene as attorney for the latter. He left Tombstone for Cuthbert, to fill a position, a few days ago.

DEVELOPING THE "TEN SPOT" NEAR PRESCOTT.

Major Pickrell, who has charge of the development work on the Senator group of mines near Prescott, in the city, says the Prescott Courier. He says that he had the shaft on the "Ten Spot" down 360 feet; the work on the shaft could bear the diamond drills working up from the tunnel below, the distance to be made for the connection was less than 100 feet. Then the shaft came, the mine along the "Ten Spot" filled up with water. This water found its way to the shaft and filled it to a depth of 125 feet. He started to take the water out by buckets, but made little impression on it. This mishap will delay matters about a month.

NURSE CONFESSES TO MURDERING PATIENT.

A dispatch from Phoenix, dated March 23d, says: The coroner's jury which investigated the death of Eddie Jones, an inmate of the insane asylum here, returned a verdict yesterday stating that the deceased came to his death as the result of turpentine poisoning, administered by Nellie Jenks, an attendant. The attendant was arrested and was arraigned today. Her arrest was ordered by the district attorney on the strength of a signed statement, which he claims she made, saying that she held the deceased down upon a bunk in the cell and stuffed her mouth full of rags saturated with turpentine. It is also asserted that turpentine was poured in the woman's mouth.

WILL TOUR ALASKA ON EXTENDED TRIP.

Mrs. Mary E. Taylor, of Great Barrington, Mass., left El Paso the other evening for Mesilla Park, N. M., where she will visit Mr. Edwards, whose wife is a sister of H. C. Conger, former ambassador to Mexico.

When she returns to El Paso she will leave for an extended tour of Mexico and California, leaving then for Alaska. She will continue her tour for more than a year.

Mrs. Taylor's second husband, who has been dead for some time, was a prominent banker of Massachusetts. Before marrying him she was the widow of the late Josiah Quincy, mayor of Boston. Her brother, Dr. Lane, is one of the greatest New England authorities on tuberculosis.

Eczema, Tetter, Salt Rheum, Itch, Ring Worm, Herpes, Barbers' Itch.

All of these diseases are attended by intense itching, which is almost instantly relieved by applying Chamberlain's Itch Cure. By its continued use a permanent cure may be effected. It has, in fact, cured many cases that had resisted other treatment. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggists.

PLANTING POTATOES IN SAN JUAN COUNTY.

The indications are that there will be a large acreage of potatoes planted in this county this spring, says the Farmington Times-Herald. It has been demonstrated that potatoes of a fine quality can be raised here at a good profit. Roy Cooper already has five acres planted and will plant five acres more.

Ed Corliss will plant five acres and several other parties will put in from one to five acres. The advent of the railroad is likely to make this a great potato shipping point. Those who have been raising potatoes have realized from $1.30 to $5 per 100 pounds for their products and the heavy yield that has been realized, many potatoes weighing from two to three and one-half pounds each, has made the industry very profitable.

Of course, as long as we have to haul the produce sixty miles to the railroad, the industry was necessarily confined to what could be consumed at home. But the railroad has brought a change for the better in this matter.

MADE A FORTUNE IN THE PECOS VALLEY.

George W. Medley and family took their final departure from Roswell, N. M., the other night, and before leaving Mr. Medley made some interesting statements to the Roswell Record, that go to show that an investment in the Pecos valley is worth while. He said:

"Four years ago, last November 25th, I bought the farm east of town, containing 160 acres, that I have made our home, for $47,000. By the recent sale to Mr. Owens I disposed of it at a price of $101,000, out of which I pay $25,000 commission to the real estate man. Thus, in four years, I have more than doubled my money. I gave my farm and $25,000 cash for a ranch of 18,500 acres in the Pecos valley."

"From here, Mrs. Medley and myself go to Dallas to attend the stock men's convention, and from there will go to our ranch and future home, near Valentine, Tex. My daughters, Alice and Myrtle, go directly to our new home. My other daughter, Pearl, and Miss Lela Wilson, who has been making her home with us, go to the Glendale sanitarium, at Glendale, Cal."

"We regret very much to leave Roswell, for we are in love with the country and its people, but our cattle interests are largely in Texas, and in order to get affairs controlled, we must leave."

STILL CONFINED TO BED FROM GUNSHOT WOUND.

John Duffy, colored, of Las Vegas, who was accidentally shot in the leg about six weeks ago, is still confined to his bed. The leg was broken and badly shattered and has not yet set on account of a large wound which refused to heal. The physician believes that they can save his leg, although he is still confined to his bed yet and will be for at least two months.

Doctors Are Puzzled.

The remarkable recovery of Kenneth Melver of Vancouver, Me., is the subject of much interest to the medical fraternity and a wide circle of friends. He says of his case: "Owing to severe inflammation of the throat and sinuses of the lungs, three doctors gave me up to die, when, as a last resort, I was induced to try Dr. King's New Discovery and I am happy to say, it saved my life." Croup, the tonsils, coughs and colds, bronchitis, neuritis, weak lungs, hoarseness and is gripe. Guaranteed at all drug stores, 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

AUTO PLUNGES OVER A NEW MEXICO PRECIPICE.

As a result of an automobile accident while journeying overland from Colorado City to Santa Fe, N. M., Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Willis, of New York city, are nursing severe injuries in the Palace hotel at Santa Fe.

The accident happened as they were leaving Raton in their auto. The machine plunged over a small precipice and fell about twenty feet into an arroyo. Mr. Willis lost six front teeth and was severely bruised about the face and body. Mrs. Willis was also severely injured, although not seriously. They are en route to California, but will leave the auto at Santa Fe.

GREATEST OSTRICH FARM LOCATED IN ARIZONA.

Governor Kibbey predicts that within five years cattle will have given away entirely to ostriches on the alfalfa ranches of Arizona. The largest ostrich farm in America is located ten miles from Phoenix. It contains more than 100 full grown birds. The ostriches from them yield annually $20,000. It is claimed that the plumage is more beautiful than that of the birds raised in South Africa. Ostrich growers estimate their chicks as being worth $100 at six months old, $150 at one year, $200 at two years, and $300 at three years, while at four years of age, when they begin to breed, they are valued at $500 a pair and upwards. There are pairs of ostriches in the Salt River valley that $250 would not buy.

FORCE AT SAN BERNARDINO MAY BE CUT DOWN.

According to the statement of railroad officials in this city who are in a position to know, the "bonus" system being installed at the Santa Fe shops may be responsible for a butting down of the force of mechanics in the local shops, says the San Bernardino Times-Index.

"The bonus" system has brought about what the officers of the road term better service in the Allagunero shops," said an official, and though it is a very slight improvement over the old piece system, it holds out extra pay for the rapid workman, and still provides that the slow, though first class workman shall receive a regular scale of wages. Thus the approval of the employer is gained and a better service secured for the road.

"It has also played havoc with the employees, some of them, and many are working out of a job. It is said that under this system seven men can do the work of eight under the old system, and it is believed that the local force will be cut down in that ratio when the system is in full swing."

It is reported that the bonus system has worked the same effect in nearly every shop in which it has been installed, and the main official who installs and puts the system on a working basis receives a salary as large as that of a life insurance president.

DOCTOR BRAY MADE PRESIDENT OF VETERINARIANS

TEXAS STATE ASSOCIATION ELECTS EL PASO GOVERNMENT OFFICIAL AT ITS HEAD.

Dr. T. A. Bray, of the United States (veterinarian of animal industry, returned to El Paso from Fort Worth, where he attended the meeting of the Texas cattle raisers and also the annual gathering of the Texas Veterinary association, says the El Paso Herald.

Dr. Bray was honored by being elected at the state veterinary association. The members were given a banquet at the El Paso hotel in Dallas, and attended a clinic at the veterinary sanitarium of Dr. L. E. Warner, who was elected first vice president. The association will meet next year in Fort Worth, when the cattlemen gather there.

The cattlemen elected Dr. T. Pryor of San Antonio and Kansas City, as their president, W. W. Farney, of El Paso, declining to serve any longer, having had three terms in the chair, longer than any other president in the history of the association.

Dr. Bray says the state veterinarians are going to work for a law regulating the practice of veterinary surgery in Texas, in the same manner as the practice of medicine is regulated. At present there are many veterinarians in the state without license.

A number of other El Pasoans attended the meeting of the cattlemen, in addition to Dr. Bray. Among them were J. H. Nattine, G. E. Dailley, E. C. Houghton, H. M. Mundy, John Pullen and Tom Powers. They all stopped at Fort Worth for the last stock show.

Dr. Bray says that a number of buyers and many sellers were present at the livestock meeting, but he did not hear of many sales, there being a considerable difference in the prices asked and those offered.

John W. Clayton, at one time socialist candidate for the governorship of Pennsylvania, and one of the prominent leaders of the socialist party in Pennsylvania, will lecture in this city March

Last year Mr. Goldman had classes of Indians as well as men in physical culture, and the armory became a very pleasant place of amusement, as well as healthful exercise. Sparring was tough to such an extent that several young men of the city became quite proficient with the gloves.

C. T. Brown, of Socorro, passed through the city this morning, en route to Las Vegas, where he is called on mining business. Mr. Brown says that the mining being done there will last for some time. Instead of there being a boom on at Magdalena, the work being done there is of a steady nature, and the indications are that the output of the mines will gradually increase for many years, but not to a degree as to cause excitement.

E. Willert, the assistant president of the Elks, returned to the city from Topeka, Kan., and for a day or two, until a competent assistant president arrives to take his place, the job department of this office is temporarily handicapped in running out work. The Selby Shoe company employs 1,600 men and women in their factory. Mrs. Dillon is in New Mexico for her health.

In a local paragraph, yesterday afternoon, The Citizen stated that J. F. Lundy was in southern California, to rid himself of "lung fever." The item misreading. Mr. Lundy's lungs are in fine condition, but he suffers with "hay fever," and he has gone to the lower altitude of southern California in the hopes of getting relief.

A young gentleman, named Stius, is in the city from Santa Fe, and it is learned that he is getting endorsements for appointment to the office of game warden of the territory. There is a rumor afloat that Governor Hagerman has asked for the resignation of Page B. Otero, the present game warden, and that the executive will appoint his successor in a few days.

Albuquerque has been exceptionally free from the depredations of crooks and sneak thieves. No thieving case has been before Police Judge Crawford for some time, and this morning only two plain drunks were up before the bar of justice. One game snatched five days, the other being a drunk he could not get into the court room. Evidently the war on crooks made by the local police is being felt by that class of marauders and appreciated sufficiently to make them shyer clear of Albuquerque.

Good news came up from Eastport, Long Island, where they have a style of fishing that must delight the hearts of lazy people. The fishing boys don't go out and dig worms, or bend pins for hooks with which to catch the fishy beauties. They simply go out and tie the fish, and a tickled fish is as easily caught as a tickled person. The boy lies on his side on the bank of the stream, and shakes his hand under the surface of the water. The yellow perch, which are now engaged in spawning, are attracted and swim eagerly to the spot to see what is going on, as full of curiosity as old women. The boy closes his hand gently over the fish, tosses it to the bank, and lowers the hand again for another fish to be tickled and hooked, until he has secured a basket full. The fishing is done by moonlight. The boys lie on the bank of the stream, and wait for the fish to come to the surface, and then they are the harvest of this style of fishing. It would create a stir, doubtless, if Grover Cleveland, that renowned fisherman, were to go down to Long Island, and lying flat on the bank of the stream, should bask the fish on the surface, and then the question of insurance rebates to taxpayers of itself. It is surprising that none of the expert fishermen ever discovered this easy way of gathering in the fish of the deep.

Street Car Transfer.
The transfer light is a very interesting sight to stand. The public is bound to have transfers, and the railroads are determined that they will grant as few as possible. So they have instructed their conductors in all the technical ways in which the public can be cheated out of their right to the transfer at anytime. The passenger, in order to receive the transfer, must ask for it at the exact moment he pays his fare, or forever forfeit his right to obtain the desired ticket. The passenger rebel at this for there is no justice in it. The passenger considering himself entitled to the transfer at anytime, asks for it, so long as he has paid his fare. The consequence is that the conductor finds "Jerian an hard road to travel," and fights and word sentences are all the way on the cars. Passengers have been so angry that they have attacked the transfer from the conductor's hand. These have been published by the court. It must be conceded that the transfer business is carried to a limit in New York city, where one can ride fourteen miles for eight cents. But the railroads have been heavily mulcted by the passengers who have used them for not giving transfers. A Connecticut judge came to town just to test the law on the matter, and collected $200 from the companies for their refusal to hand out the necessary tickets. Others are making a similar business of milking the railroad companies, and ride up and down for the sole purpose of being refused transfers, each refusal being worth a nice little sum in cash to them, and are keeping the courts busy with the cases. Meanwhile the conductor's sign for peace. OLD TIMER.

PERIODICAL THIRST FOR HUMAN GORE.
At his preliminary hearing before Judge Burnett, Santiago Lopez was bound over in the sum of $500 to await the action of the April grand jury on charges of assault with a deadly weapon, says the Phoenix Gazette.

Lopez is the man who emptied a six shooter at a number of human targets early last Tuesday morning, but failed to hit his man. He claims that he is not a drinking man, but says he gets an idea every once in a while that someone is trying to harm him. He proceeds promptly to self-protection and once he gets started shooting all persons look alike to him, and he never draws any color or race line. Anything human is good enough for him to shoot at and the more the merrier. It is believed that the man is insane and he will probably be examined in the probate court between now and the convening of the April grand jury.

ANOTHER BRIGHT ANGEL TRAIL SUIT ON.
Sheriff Harry Coddington was a visitor at the Grand Canyon the first of the week, says the Williams News. We understand the object of his visit was for the purpose of serving papers upon L. P. Ferrall, who is now operating the Bright Angel trail as the agent of the county. Quo warranto proceedings are being instituted against Mr. Ferrall by the Santa Fe to oust him from the trail and the collection of toll there, the same as was done by H. H. Cameron before the expiration of his franchise.

It seems that this suit, the summons of which was served on Mr. Ferrall Thursday by Constable C. H. Adams, is the outcome of a suit brought before the supreme court of the territory some time since to compel the district attorney to bring suit against any one usurping a franchise at the Canyon on the trail. The summons in this case is to Mr. Ferrall from the district court, the territory being plaintiff by H. P. Ashurst, district attorney, the complaint "alleging that said Ferrall has unlawfully usurped a certain franchise and still unlawfully collect toll, and exercise a certain franchise to exact and collect tolls." The outcome of this case will be watched with interest.

A FRONTIER WEDDING IT WAS PERFORMED IN THE EARLY DAYS NEAR LAS VEGAS, IN SAN MIGUEL COUNTY.
A justice of the peace in the early days was frequently called upon to go some distance from home to perform a wedding ceremony. In the spring of 1880 Judge Steele of Las Vegas, N. M., was asked to preside at a wedding ten miles out in the country, and his wife received an invitation to accompany him. Upon arriving at their destination which was at a ranch about across the Nine Mile hill, they were ushered down six steps into a dugout where the mother of the bride was preparing the wedding feast. The furniture of the one room consisted of two chairs—one with only two rounds at the back, and bottomless. Then there was a bunk bed made of sawn lumber, a board table, a short bench, a stove and a wooden hanging over the door. "God Bless Our Home."

There was no floor and a sheet had been stretched across one corner of the room. The bride and groom were clad in old women. The boy closed his hand gently over the fish, tosses it to the bank, and lowers the hand again for another fish to be tickled and hooked, until he has secured a basket full. DYNAMITE CAUSE OF FEAR

Snow Storm Only Provoked Scorn From Its Being So Powerless.

FIGHTING FOR TRANSFER SLIPS

New York, March 24.—Dynamite appears to have become a household word in this city, and assassination threats are almost as numerous as though New York were a Russian city. A reputable firm of merchants, purveying the even better of their way, business, refused to agree to the terms of the trustees, whereupon their door is carefully chalked, and as soon as the watchman is withdrawn, a case of dynamite is shoved under the door, and away goes the office front. One firm of builders is kept on the jump all the while, and the door is always ajar, and has had every variety possible of damage done to its building, materials and machinery. Threats of assassination have been frequent, among the Indians, at whom the Mafia has been raining blackmail promiscuously, and it has been a case of Italian merchant who has been able to state at nightfall where he was going to bring up in the morning, if he didn't pay the money demanded in the letters he received in a mysterious manner. But now we find that higher game is sought, and J. Pierpont Morgan is ready to draw any color line, and is keeping the courts busy with the cases. Meanwhile the conductor's sign for peace. ## SITUATION IS FIRST CLASS IN SESSION THREE DAYS

Says Hon. B. S. Rodey, Speaking of the Statehood Question.

RETURN FROM WASHINGTON, D. C.

(Wednesday, March 28.) Hon. B. S. Rodey, who has been in Washington, D. C., the past two and one-half months, returning to the state capital, Albuquerque, last night, said that the situation in the state is "first class" and that the people of New Mexico are "in the first class" in the nation.

"I'll give you an interview," he said, "that is based on knowledge that I have." "What is the situation, Mr. Rodey, in Washington today, concerning the statehood question?" "The situation today," he replied, "is first class. New Mexico and Arizona never had a better opportunity to be admitted to the union as a joint state than now. Separate statehood, however, is not the question, now, or at any time within the next twenty years. If either has any advantage in this respect, however, the advantage is with New Mexico."

"In my opinion, Arizona will not get into the union as a separate state in the next twenty-five years. Easterners consider Arizona a hindrance in every respect for statehood. They think it is the same concerning New Mexico, but not so emphatically. The idea is widespread, however, erroneous. It may be, that if Arizona was admitted separately the Mormons would control the state, and the powerful forces that are now fighting to keep the state out of the hands of the Mormons, will see to it that Arizona is not admitted for the next two generations."

"If New Mexico and Arizona were admitted," he continued, "with the splendid donations of land and the magnificent cash grant, that the present enabling act contains, then a majority of the voters in each territory must favor it. At the polls next November, and adopt a constitution. If they defeat the constitution next fall, neither territory will get statehood at any time within the next generation, and even at that late day they must come in as a joint state and forego the land and cash now offered to them, because public sentiment against giving any state, individual or corporation, an acre of public land, or a dollar of the cash out of the United States treasury, save for value or for services rendered, is rising and moving forward in a manner that will carry all before it."

"I couldn't tell you," continued Mr. Rodey, "all the details of the joint statehood battle that has been fought the past two months in Washington, without bringing myself too much into the story, but I will say that in my opinion the enabling joint statehood bill, practically as it passed the house on January 28 last, will pass during this congress—perhaps next week, or perhaps not until the close of the session, but it will surely pass this session, but with what is known as the 'first Foraker amendment.' If my guess is right, it will pass without the 'first Foraker amendment.' I will be agreeably surprised."

"I left Washington last Friday night, after the bill had gone to the conference committee. I had interviews during the afternoon of that day with the speaker and with members of the committee, and with both houses, and I am satisfied that each house will stick hard for its own bill, and that neither will fully concede, and also that sooner or later the bill will pass, but it may be with the first Foraker amendment added to the New Mexico Arizona end of it."

Explaining the two Foraker amendments fully, Mr. Rodey said: "The first Foraker amendment consists of only five words, that is, that a constitution must be adopted by a majority of the voters in each of said territories, but a tremendous campaign of education will take place before the constitution is submitted to the people, and it is to be submitted with two great state tickets for state and county officers, and with all bills introduced during the campaign paid by the United States government."

"The second Foraker amendment, submits the bald question of jointure alone, to be voted upon within sixty days after the passage of the bill, and without any constitution, or campaign for a state ticket, without any explanation, the enabling act of a constitution, or to pay the bills. The constitution, in my opinion, could not be adopted in the two territories in this way, and I do not think the house will agree to this second amendment."

"All citizens of either territory are entitled, if my guess is right, will have to accept joint statehood with the 'first Foraker amendment,' or make up the 'minds to live in a territory the rest of their lives, unless they move to some state.'"

Speaking of the great fight made by Senator Beveridge, Mr. Rodey remarked: "The people of New Mexico and Arizona, when they are admitted to the union, can never repay Senator Beveridge for the work he has done in their behalf. He stood by them, staunch and true, in the face of tremendous pressure brought to bear upon him, and despite the 'harsh' opposition, he stood by them to the end. His effort was unquestionably the greatest effort made in that august body in modern times."

"I wish to thank the people of New Mexico and Arizona who have patriotically assisted in the fight for statehood with letters and telegrams sent to Washington during the past two months. Each one counted for as much, and helped wonderfully."

In closing, Mr. Rodey, leaving a sign of satisfaction, or merely weariness—it was hard to tell which, said: "Like the cowboy in the fight at the round-up, I have had my level best, and the angels could do no more."

Special convention of Temple Lodge No. 6, A. F. and A. M., will take place tonight in their lodge rooms at 7:30 o'clock.

Relative to Sheep and Personal Property Assessments, According to Opinion of District Attorney Clancy to Assessor Albright.

The following opinion of District Attorney Clancy has been submitted to the assessors of the Second judicial district, regarding the assessment of sheep. The opinion is of general interest, especially to sheep owners and should therefore be carefully read: March 27, 1906. Mr. George F. Albright, Assessor of Bernalillo County, Albuquerque, New Mexico. Dear Sir—I have been asked by persons interested in the assessment and taxation of sheep, to advise you as to the condition of the law with regard to the county in which such property must be assessed, and therefore, write you this letter, so that you may avoid any mistake on this subject. The general rule of law is that personal property is to be assessed where the owner resides, and in New Mexico, this rule is also set out in the statutes. Section 4027 of the Compiled Laws, declares that "all personal property shall be listed and taxed in the county where the owner resides, on the first day of March of the current year." This statute was a part of the revenue law of 1882, and remained unchanged and unmodified until 1899. In that year, by section 32, of chapter 22 of the Laws of 1899, it was provided that all sheep owned by residents of the territory should be listed and assessed in the county where the owners reside. Thus far this had no effect upon the previous statute, but this section went on to provide for the assessment of sheep in the counties where they are grazing, unless the owner should produce a certificate from the assessor of his own county showing that the sheep were actually assessed in that county. The object of this statute was to prevent sheep owners from evading taxation on their sheep by not returning in their home counties the full number which they might own.

By chapter 190, of the Laws of 1905, section 32 of chapter 22 of the Laws of 1899, was repealed and nothing enacted in its place. The effect of this repeal is only to wipe out all provision for the assessment of sheep in the counties where they are grazing, unless the owner should produce a certificate from the assessor of his own county showing that the sheep were actually assessed in that county. The object of this statute was to prevent sheep owners from evading taxation on their sheep by not returning in their home counties the full number which they might own.

Under these circumstances I have to advise you that all sheep should be listed and taxed in the county where the owners reside, and not elsewhere. Yours truly, FRANK W. CLANCY, District Attorney.

Mrs. Louis Hurling of Los Lunas is spending the day in the city visiting and shopping.

UNSOLICITED LETTER FROM HYDRAULIC ENGINEER JONES On the Water Bond Question--It Will Be Suicidal to Interests of Albuquerque to Purchase the Old Plant at Any Price.

From Albuquerque Evening Citizen.

Having followed, with keen interest, the discussion presented in the city papers, concerning the proposed bond issue of the city of Albuquerque, at the approaching election, for the purpose of purchasing and extending the present water system, I would be glad to give my ideas and conclusions, in your valuable paper, on this absorbing subject, which so vitally affects the future of our city.

At the outset, permit me to say that I have not heretofore expressed my views, in the matter, either publicly or privately, and neither have I been called upon to make a statement, in the press, by anyone, but the conclusions drawn have been reached through careful observation and deliberate study. Furthermore, it is hoped that no one may take exception to an honest opinion, reached in a conscientious manner, which all of us owe as a duty toward good citizenship. It is believed by the writer that he has held the confidence and esteem of most of the members of the Water Supply company, and any opinion expressed concerning the present water plant are not founded on grievances of a personal nature. In my mind, any conclusions affecting the solution of economic problems in sanitary, hydraulic and mechanical engineering should not be operative when sought through malice or revenge.

What occurs to me the proper step for the city council to have taken before allowing an opportunity to vote on a bond issue, would have been to select not less than THREE COMPETENT HYDRAULIC ENGINEERS to pass on the question of whether or not it would be wise or judicious for the city to take over the existing water plant as it now stands; the reason for this will be made plain further on. This step should have followed immediately after Mr. Liffie made his report.

Permit me to say, with all due respect to the public in general, that the masses are wholly incompetent to pass on the requirements or efficiency of any water system; this is absolutely a question for the hydraulic engineer, alone, to settle. The people, however, can readily pass on the efficiency of the service after the plant is once installed; but the conditions as to HOW the service was obtained passes from them into the broad field of the science of engineering.

Now, to the point: Throughout the whole of the water discussion, no person has ever been able to definitely show that water could be furnished ANY CHEAPER by the city after purchasing the plant, than what the present company is now doing.

Again, from an engineering and geological standpoint, a gravity flow of water from the mountains is not only possible, but a certainty. A flow of at least 6,000,000 gallons of pure mountain water, every twenty-four hours, can be developed at the base of the Sandia Mountains, east of the city, in fully three or more localities; this, in my mind, is true beyond the peradventure of a doubt. Even the James country is not beyond our reach, since the city of Los Angeles will bring its water by a gravity flow for a distance of one hundred and fifty miles. Should the water come from that source, the problem now occupying the attention of the Commercial Club, in irrigating the valley to the north of the city, could thus be partially solved.

Let me say right here, to the people of Albuquerque, that the present system of pumping water up hill and then letting it run down again is entirely wrong. Why not utilize gravity, this universal force of nature, so generously placed at our disposal, without money and without price? The many advantages of this system are obvious to all.

The chief residence portion of the greater Albuquerque is destined to be on the mesa, about the University Heights. A bill is now pending in congress for a whole section of land on the Highlands, to be set aside for the city's principal park. Be it said that the Highlands are by right and must be supplied with water. Can the present system do it advantageously?

Lastly, let us examine into the potency of the present plant before voting the bonds for its purchase.

In the first place, let me say that the present water plant, insofar as it goes and the quality of water furnished, there can be found but little objection. The kalamint pipes are better than many would have them to be. So far, so good; but the vital point of the whole question that most concerns the city, if the city maintains its present growth, lies in the inability of further efficient extension of the present distributing system.

IN FACT, THE LIMIT OF EFFICIENCY IS NOW REACHED, AND PERHAPS SLIGHTLY SURPASSED. This more especially applies to the first service, rather than to laws and domestic uses.

Doubtless, the question will be asked: How do we know this to be a fact?

The reply is easier given than it would be to correct the evil. The difficulty lies in the SMALLNESS of the chief distributing mains. The only solution of this problem, if we wish to build for the greater Albuquerque, is that the present system of mains be replaced by larger ones. This then would mean, "an inevitable re-construction of the WHOLE DISTRIBUTING SYSTEM, and is doubtless the most serious question now confronting the Water Supply company. IT IS CHIEFLY FOR THIS REASON THAT THE CITY SHOULD NOT BUY THE PRESENT PLANT AT ANY PRICE, HOWEVER SMALL. Were the distributing pipes on an average of six inches in diameter greater, then there would most certainly be one good reason for purchasing the present plant; and, for myself, I am a strong believer in municipal ownership of public utilities.

The extra $250,000, above the $250,000 for the purchase of the present plant, as set forth in the proposed bond issue, would not be sufficient to make these changes for a more effective distributing system, much less to extend into new territory. MUCH OF THE OLD PIPE WOULD UNAVOIDABLY BE SPOILED IN TAKING IT UP AND THE CITY WOULD SUFFER A CORRESPONDING LOSS THEREFROM.

Another feature of the present plant that I, unfortunately, in the location of the pumping station. This, by all means, should be one or two miles up the river from its present site. It is not to be inferred that the water is in any way contaminated; but it is not the place to get the water supply from the heart of the city, as there is a certain degree of risk, regardless of the greatest precautions.

In summing up the whole proposition, it cannot be shown that water could be furnished any cheaper through municipal ownership of the present plant, than what the Water Supply company is now doing.

It is certain that plenty of pure mountain water can be had, by a gravity system; thus, forever eliminating the constant expense of pumping by costly machinery. The storage reservoirs would be located far away from the dust and smoke of the city. The Highlands or mesa would become the great residence section of the city, and would be supplied with water with as much ease under the gravity system, as the low lands in the valley. The hydraulic pressure head could be made any desired unit for fire protection. The new park grounds that congress will doubtless set apart for our use, could be beautified.

I beg to say, in conclusion, that it would be far better to extend the existing franchise to a period of, say, twenty-five years, with the assurance of some reduction in the present water rate, THAN FOR THE CITY TO TAKE OVER THE PLANT AT ANY PRICE. OUR TAXES ARE NOW ALREADY PROHIBITIVE; WHY RUSH THE MATTER, WHEN WE HAVE EVERYTHING TO GAIN AND NOTHING TO LOSE, BY WAITING?

The time is not a great distance in the future until we are ready for municipal ownership of a modern gravity system, furnishing pure mountain water, that will ultimately prove our greatest drawing card for outsiders, and a genuine blessing to the denizens of the municipality. Very respectfully, PAYETTE A. JONES.

MARKET LETTER

Special Correspondence.

Kansas City, Mo., March 26.—Representation from distant points has been small in the cattle yards for the last week, cattle of this description having advanced 15 to 25 cents since a week ago, particularly stockers and feeders. Total receipts last week were 35,000 head, the smallest of any week this year, but also containing the largest share of best steers of any week before this winter. The supply today is 19,200 head, and contains more country grades than usual lately. The market is steady on killing steers, strong on butcher stuff and stockers and feeders. A shipment from Saginaw sold at a sensational price last week, 102,000 feeders at $4.40, 150,000 stockers at $4.60, with pretty large tailenders sorted out at $4. Idaho stockers sold at $4.30 and other range stockers and feeders at $3.90 to $4.40. Stock cattle are going to meet sharp competition for the next few weeks, as the demand will be keen on account of the nearness of spring, while the supply will be small for the same reason.

Sleep and lamb sales downward last week, more in sympathy with lower prices at other points than on account of the heavy run here, as the total supply was 21,600 head, a reduction of 2,000 from the previous week. The run is heavier today, however, at 10,000 head, and the market is from 10 to 15c lower. The bulk of lamb sales today at $5.95 to $6.30, ewes and yearlings, $5.50 to $6.70, wethers, $4.60 to $5.05. Choice steers sell a shade above these figures. A shipment of lambs weighing from 80 to 90 pounds, from Fort Collins, Colo., sold at $4.40 last Thursday. Northern feeding districts are pretty well run out, but considerable numbers remain in northern Kansas and Nebraska, besides the large volume still to move from northern Colorado. Ewes are being held back for breeding and shearing and wethers and yearlings are also scarce, as compared with lambs. High priced wool may cut some figure in receipts till after shearing is over, but the present outlook is discouraging for much improvement in the situation.

Monday, March 19. I. C. Swink, Rocky Ford, Colo., 539 ewes, 73 pounds, $4.75. B. W. Childress, Lamar, Colo., 938 lambs, 82 pounds, $6.40. F. W. Terpening, Las Animas, Colo., 625 lambs, 81 pounds, $6.30; 395 ewes, 90 pounds, $5.

Tuesday, March 20. J. Fullenwider, Alamosa, Colo., 519 lambs, 67 pounds, $5.50. H. G. Fullenwider, Prosser, Colo., 511 lambs, 76 pounds, $6.45. J. O. Sireman, Lamar, Colo., 518 lambs, 76 pounds, $6.35. Lockhart Live Stock Co., Sugar City, 242 ewes, 98 pounds, $5.

Both Jones, Monte Vista, Colo., 841 lambs, 74 pounds, $6.25. J. W. Foster, Monte Vista, Colo., 612 lambs, 66 pounds, $5.

Wednesday, March 21. J. O. Sireman, Lamar, Colo., 473 lambs, 77 pounds, $6.40; 42 goats, $4.40.

C. Buehler, Monte Vista, Colo., 836 lambs, 72 pounds, $6.35. J. W. Foster, Monte Vista, Colo., 624 lambs, 66 pounds, $6.05.

Thursday, March 22. W. A. Drake, Fort Collins, Colo., 230 lambs, 86 pounds, $6.40; 232 lambs, 95 pounds, $6.40. J. W. Miller, Las Animas, Colo., 744 lambs, 74 pounds, $6.35.

J. D. Rhodes, Lamar, Colo., 274 lambs, 72 pounds, $6.20; 615 ewes, $7.10 pounds, $5.10.

Friday, March 23. P. Rousseau, Kansas, 301 lambs, 82 pounds, $6.50. Sullivan & M. Lee, Las Animas, Colo., 244 lambs, 78 pounds, $6.30.

Bratty Bros., Lamar, Colo., 1290 lambs, 78 pounds, $6.20. Miller, Las Animas, Colo., 245 lambs, 74 pounds, $6.20.

Las Animas L. & L. S. Co., Las Animas, Colo., 501 lambs, 82 pounds, $6.30. Woodrum, Kansas, 1602 wethers, 102 pounds, $5.00.

RANCHMAN'S TUGGLE WITH A FURIOUS BULL.

M. E. Green, who is employed on the Harris dairy ranch, a mile and a half north of Las Vegas, was pounced upon by an angry bull Saturday. That he was not killed or sustained permanent injuries is due to the fact that he escaped from the infuriated animal by running around a feeding machine. Another fortunate circumstance was that the bull had been deborned.

Green had been operating the feeding machine, and attempted to get a sack of grain. The bull was standing near by the grain, and Green attempted to drive it away. Mr. Bull refused to budge until a club was put on his back, and then, instead of tearing off, frightened to death, he turned his attention to the club wielder. Green was trampled on and butted by the maddened bull, and was more hurt than alive when released. He is still feeling sore, but no bones were broken, although it was thought for a time that several ribs had been fractured.

Visiting Mining Properties Near Silver City.

W. A. Barber of New York, and president of the Carolina and Northwestern railway, accompanied by Morgan Davis, Jr., of Berkeley, arrived Sunday evening at Silver City in the private car attached to the incoming passenger train. They left for the Mogollon district where they are interested in some mining properties.

PROMOTION FOR A SILVER CITY MINING MAN.

Thos. W. Carter, one of the most prominent mining men of Grant county, who has been general manager for the Barro Mountain Copper company, has been named managing director of this company, with his office in Silver City. J. T. Hill will look after the company's affairs at Leopold and Carter will attend to the general business matters of the company at the Silver City office.

NATIONAL RIFLE MATCH TO BE HELD AT SEA GIRT.

Washington, D. C., March 29.—The national rifle match of 1906 will begin on September 4, at Sea Girt, N. J., when it is expected that fully one thousand marksmen will attend, including teams representing nearly every state in the union, Porto Rico, Hawaii, the army, navy, marine corps and possibly the military and naval academies. Great interest is taken in the match, and special arrangements have been made by those in charge of the ranges at Sea Girt to provide for the accommodation of the competitors and the large body of assistants, marksmen, etc., who will be detailed probably from the regular army.

The ranges at Sea Girt have been increased and the facilities improved so as to avoid the vexatious delays which attended the work of last year at the same place. Other changes have been made by the national board for the promotion of rifle practice so as to shorten as much as possible the time it will be necessary for the marksmen to spend on the range. It is hoped by some of the members of the board and by many of the marksmen, especially those in the west, that the match of 1907 will be held at Fort Riley, Kan., which is more convenient owing to its central location.

Col. R. W. S. Negus, formerly local manager of the Automatic Telephone company in this city, is now connected with the Mutual Life Insurance company at Worcester, Mass., he having written friends in this city to that effect.

MOUNTED POLICE CAPTAIN RESIGNS

John F. Fullerton Has So Informed Governor Herbert J. Hagerman.

CLAIMS A FIRST CLASS RECORD

(Wednesday, March 28.) The following official letter conveying the resignation of Captain John F. Fullerton, of the New Mexico mounted police, of his office and adjutant, and to Governor Hagerman, is here published in full:

Sacramento, N. M., March 28, 1906. To His Excellency, Herbert J. Hagerman, Governor of New Mexico, Santa Fe, N. M. Sir—Replying to your communication dated March 15, 1906, stating in effect that you were not satisfied with the service of the mounted police, of which I have had the honor of being captain during the past twelve months, and that you intended making a change in the captaincy of said company on the first day of April, in this connection permit me to state that this company was organized less than a year ago, that for the first few months the matter of railroad transportation not being obtainable, was a serious handicap to successful administration on account of long distances, points of operation and the extensive area to be covered. This was, however, remedied after a few months and the force equipped and organized for business. It naturally takes some little time for a force of this kind to become thoroughly familiar with conditions and able to render efficient service. The compensation provided by law is extremely low and less than the amount provided for by other commonwealths for similar service, yet in spite of all these obstacles, I candidly believe that the "mounted police have, during the past several months, rendered valuable service to the public and especially have they been of material assistance to the stock interests, namely, sheep, cattle and horses; considerable property has been restored to the rightful owners. Many law-breakers have been apprehended and many important arrests have been effected. Much of the business of the mounted police has not been given publicity for the reason that, in the majority of cases, secrecy is absolutely essential to success.

Work is Commenced. I have received words of commendation from the highest character from the various portions of the territory, representing substantial live stock interests, expressing satisfaction of the efficiency of the mounted police force. No doubt some mistakes may have been made. However, I have at all times used every effort to do my duty to the best of my ability in order to perfect the efficiency of the company to meet the designs intended by the legislature. I recognize that you, perhaps, have the power of removal or substitution in my case, if arbitrarily exercised, yet the law creating the office of the captain of the mounted police failed to fix any definite period of term of office, and I have no objection to the executive to sixty days, after the passage of the act creating the police force in which to appoint a captain, (see Section 2, page 3, Laws of 1905), the evident intention of the legislature being that no change of officers was contemplated, and the provision of law for the removal of men be for one year seems to have referred to enlisted men only.

Will Not Contest Removal. It seems to me that your contemplated action is unfair and will be the means of preventing me from demonstrating the true worth of the force and depriving me of the benefit of credit accruing from my efforts given in good faith toward perfecting the organization to a state of efficiency which, I believe, is an accepted fact by the public most vitally interested, and to which, in all justice, I should be entitled. I shall not contest your right to make the change on April 1st, but I respectfully request that you, hereinafter stated, although I believe your action contrary to the intention of the legislature and not demanded by any public interest, and certainly a unfair to the present incumbent.

You kindly offer your good offices toward securing for me some other employment in the territorial service which are hereby most respectfully declined. I remain, respectfully, JOHN F. FULLERTON, Captain Mounted Police.

ARIZONA SCHOOL TEACHERS AND THEIR BEER.

The unbecoming conduct of at least six teachers in the public schools was the object of discussion at a meeting of the board of school trustees on Thursday, says the Tucson Post.

Six of the teachers went on a picnic to Phoenix Canyon last Sunday. Five of them were seen drinking beer, and one of them was seen drinking whisky. The teachers were taken along, according to report, and at least two of the teachers became intoxicated, while some of the others partook freely of the beer. One of the teachers, who went out on horseback, could not ride home, and was compelled to return in a wagon.

The matter was brought to the attention of the board, and a meeting was held on Thursday, at which Messrs. Drachman, Holladay and Rockridge were all present, as well as Superintendent Wells. Some of the girls confessed while one or two claimed that they were innocent as to the contents of the bottles.

MANY ARE TROUBLED OF A CONSTABLE.

Constable Lee Redwine went home last night and was about to retire, when he heard a number of shots near by and started out to see who was shooting up the town, says the Phoenix Gazette. Following the direction from which the shots came, he fell into four irrigating ditches before he finally got his bearings, and then the shooting had ceased. He searched, but could not find the disturbers, and finally returned home.

He was just about to crawl into the hay, when the cannonading was resumed and he again started out to investigate. This time the clattering of horses' feet told him that the disturbers were making their getaway and he could tell that the men were Mexicans, because they were swearing in Spanish, but he could get no closer than within one shot of them.

BRAZIL DISCOVERS TREASURY CARELESS

Many Thousands of Milrais Disappear and Leave No Token.

IN SEARCH FOR THESE ARE

Found in the Vaults Treasures of Gold, Silver, Jewels and Crowns.

Rio de Janeiro, March 29.—The discovery of the most startling evidence of the careless and defective manner in which the Brazilian treasury keeps its accounts and records, has caused great sensation and the government is severely criticised for allowing such a state of affairs to exist. The facts which led to the discovery are as follows: In 1904 the federal treasury of the state of Parahyba delivered to the principal treasury office in this city a chest containing some hundreds of thousands of milrais notes which had been withdrawn from circulation. The chest was received, but the proper entry in the books was not made, and, as the annual balances are generally several years in arrears, it was only recently that the chest, with its contents and the accompanying books of advice was ascertained to have disappeared without leaving a trace behind.

The minister of finance thereupon ordered a thorough search of the treasury vaults, which was without result so far as the missing chest was concerned, but which caused some unexpected discoveries to be made. These consisted of chests filled with forgotten deposits of gold and silver dating from the empire, gold and silver coins used in the celebration of the mass, altar lamps and chandeliers, the imperial Brazilian crown with the emerald and rubies which had belonged to Pedro II. It is said that twenty of the diamonds with which the crown was set are missing. The imperial insignia are to be deposited in the national museum, as soon as the arrangements have been made for their safekeeping, while the sale of the rest of the "find" is expected to bring in the treasury something like $700,000.

OLDEST AND SMALLEST REPUBLIC IN WORLD.

San Marino, March 29.—The small Appennine republic of San Marino, the oldest and smallest in the world, and scarcely known outside of its narrow frontier, except to stamp collectors, has just re-entered upon a democratic regime. The Arringo, as the original representative body of the republic is called, has once more met and the citizens of San Marino, numbering in all about 1,700 families, have once more been restored to their civic rights. Under the original constitution of San Marino the government of the republic consisted of a general assembly of heads of families, the so-called Arringo, and of a grand council of sixty, composed of twenty nobles, twenty citizens and twenty landowners. Gradually, however, the republic became more and more of an oligarchy and the Arringo ultimately became a mere name, while the council of sixty, elected for life, and itself electing members to fill any vacancies caused by death, was practically absolute. This was the state of things when Addison visited San Marino two centuries ago and this has been the condition until the present day. During the last few years, however, there was so strong a popular agitation against this oligarchic system, that, to prevent a revolution, the Arringo has been revived. It is now in session and there is peace and happiness throughout the re-born republic.

CANADA'S ACTIVE EFFORT TO SUPPRESS CONSUMPTION.

Ottawa, Ont., March 29.—The Canadian Association for the Prevention of Consumption and other forms of tuberculosis will hold its sixth annual meeting in the railway station ballroom of the house of commons this afternoon and evening. Physicians and health officials from all parts of the Dominion of Canada are here to attend the meeting, which promises to be of great interest. In the afternoon session Senator Edwards will preside, while at the evening session the lieutenant governor, Earl Grey, will take the chair. In the evening a public lecture will be delivered in the lecture hall of the Normal school by Dr. Arthur J. Fisher of Montreal, which will be illustrated with stereopticon pictures, showing the ravages of the disease and some of the appliances now in use to check and cure the disease.

The principal questions to be considered at this meeting of the association are: What can be done to give effect to the judgment of the senate and commons that the time has come when active steps should be taken to check the widespread suffering and great mortality among the people of Canada, caused by the various forms of tuberculosis, and what is the place of the sanitarian in the crusade against consumption? According to the census of 1901, 4,300 persons died of consumption in that year.

MINE WORKERS ARE COUNTING THEIR VOTES.

Pittsburg, Pa., March 29.—The adjourned convention of the delegates to the seventeenth annual convention of District No. 5, United Mine Workers of America, met here this noon to receive the report of the tellers at the recent special election and to decide who are to be the new officers of the organization. President Dolan was in the chair and called the meeting to order and delivered a short address in which he once more defined his position. His friends were present in full force, but they did not seem to be as confident of Dolan's final victory as they were a few weeks ago. The receiving of the reports of the tellers and figuring up of the totals will consume some time and the result will probably not be reached until some time in the afternoon. It is confidently expected that President Dolan will retire from his position without more than a protest about the result of the election turn out against him.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Abbott, 1124 North Second street, entertained a number of their friends at cards Tuesday evening, high five being the game played. The hostess had been specially decorated for the occasion and during the course of the evening elegant refreshments were served.

The First Protestant Church America Ever Saw and the First

WHITE-INDIAN MARRIAGE

Royal Gifts to That Church Are Preserved for the Present Day Interest

Norfolk, Va., March 24.—In 1907, the year of the Jamestown Tercentennial, the general convention of the Episcopal church will be held at Richmond, Virginia.

Jamestown was a crown colony, created under a charter granted by the king to a commercial body, called the London company, and the religion of Jamestown was the established creed of England. When the convention met some years ago in Washington, a pilgrimage was made to Jamestown and a marble cross was then erected to commemorate the visit. It was largely because the year 1907 will be the three hundredth anniversary of the Jamestown settlement and that a great exposition is to be held at that time at Hampton Roads for the purpose of commemorating this event, that Richmond, the capital of Virginia, was selected as the site of the gathering.

At Jamestown the first Protestant church in America was erected, and the first regular service conducted in English on the western continent, which time the Rev. Robert Hunt officiated under a sail cloth suspended from trees. The first recorded English wedding in America occurred in December, 1608, when Ann Burras was married to John Laydon in the Jamestown church. The first known baptism of an Indian in the United States was witnessed at the same church where, also, was celebrated the first lawful marriage between a white man and an Indian. It is very probable that the Episcopal church was a prominent factor in the celebration of the Tercentennial aside from the mere convention at Richmond.

The original settlers were undoubtedly a rather rough lot, but they were never without a church, and it is rather singular that the first structure they erected was a place for religious services and the only vestiges of any building to remain after the lapse of centuries is the church tower. The Jamestown parish church as it was known until the closing decade of the 17th century, enjoys the distinction of being the only church in America which has had two acts of communion silver given to it by England's royal family. One of these was presented through Queen Anne and the other was a gift from William and Mary. This silver is now kept in the vestry of the Jamestown parish church in Williamsburg, the town which succeeded Jamestown as capital of the colony. Bruten parish will soon have another gift from England's ruling family, for when Harry St. George Tucker, president of the Jamestown Exposition company, was a student at King's College, he gave him for Bruten parish, a handsome Bible and it is interesting to know that President Roosevelt added a handsome lecture to the gift.

Old Jamestown is a short ride from the site of the Jamestown exposition and it will certainly be a mecca for patriotic visitors to the great celebration. Several plans have been suggested both by historical and religious associations for taking advantage of the exposition, in order to draw attention of the American people more convincingly to the history of the colony.

When the Jamestown parish church made their pilgrimage to Jamestown in 1898, they established an association called "The Order of Jamestown 1607," which has for its aim the restoration of old English churches in America. The church tower now standing in Jamestown is a relic of the third church erected in 1629. It was small but a very strong built brick structure and replaced the wooden building which formerly occupied the spot. This tower was erected for the dual purpose of being a bell tower and a place of refuge for the church members in case of attack. It is certain that look-outs and sentries patrolled its roof and the loop holes show that soldiers used the second story for defenses. All around the church are graves and tomb stones, one of the most curious of the latter being that of a man named Blair. This slab of granite has been lifted several feet from the surface of the ground by a scyomere tree that grew almost entirely around the stone and lifted it bodily from its proper resting place.

ANDREWS DOES NOT WANT ASSASSINATION OF SANTA FE

Edward Andrews announced Saturday afternoon last that he had declined his resignation as assessor of Santa Fe county, to Arthur Seligman, chairman of the board of county commissioners of that county. Mr. Seligman declined to give the form of the resignation on account of not having had an opportunity to communicate with the resigning members of the board of commissioners. They will be notified by Chairman Arthur Seligman of the resignation, and a special meeting may be called to consider the matter, in Chairman Seligman may wish to give the power to act for the board. In the latter event Mr. Seligman says he will accept the resignation.

ARIZONA VALLEY RANCH SELLS FOR $50,000.

One of the biggest real estate deals made in Maricopa county in recent days came to light this morning when the contract was filed in the office of Recorder Leonard conveying to Henry Gilman of Madison, Wis., what is known as the Hansen ranch. At $50,000, the consideration being $50,000, says the Phoenix Gazette.

The ranch is owned at this time by Levi Sease and consists of 1,100 acres with a pumping plant, and storage plant, and is one of the best ranches in Maricopa county. It now has on it nearly 600 acres of sugar beets.

Mr. Gilman has been in Phoenix a couple of times, but it is not here at present, his interests in the deal being looked after by Judge Janssen, the well known Phoenix attorney.

Mr. Gilman is a beet sugar grower at Madison, Wis., and will continue in that business here. He will take charge of the Hansen ranch on May 1st.

Sugar beets tell the story of the sale. The ranch has been for sale but no purchaser was found until the sugar beets were planted there. The price paid for it in the neighborhood of $50,000 is a record for the land on the Hansen ranch if not in cultivation.

BADLY HURT IN RUNAWAY AT GALLUP.

The other morning, Edward Watkins, who is with the Irvine market, was quite badly hurt, says the Gallup Republican. He was driving the delivery team, when in some unknown manner the tongue of the wagon dropped, and the horses broke from the wagon, dragging Mr. Watkins from the seat. He fell forward on his face, on the hard ground, cutting several gashes in his chin and lips; his right hand was also sprained at the wrist. It was necessary to take several stitches in one of the largest of the face wounds. Mr. Watkins is getting along as well as could be expected under the circumstances.

DEMING AND ITS HOMESEEKERS

OVER TWELVE THOUSAND ACRES OF LAND HAVE BEEN ENTERED SINCE JANUARY 1, 1906.

Since January 1, 1906, to this date, there has been 12,320 acres of land entered that are lying adjacent to Deming, mostly south and east of town, says the Headlight.

These lands have been taken under the homestead act in 160-acre tracts, and by means of the desert land claim act. All have been entered in the office of United States land commissioner H. V. McKee, and Mr. McKee informs the Headlight that there are a large number of inquiries now on file with him that will locate homes in the near future.

Very few of these locators have been residents of this vicinity for any great length of time. In fact, most of them have only arrived here from the snowbound regions of the north and east, and seeing an opportunity to make a home in this sunny climate, a fast seizing the offers of Uncle Sam.

There are still thousands upon thousands of acres of just good land as that already taken, and it is not only a question of a few months, or weeks, until we shall see homes all over this valley and orchards and crops growing where now all is waste.

The Campbell system of dry farming is what is now causing this whole valley from Cook's mountains to the Florida and Texas mountains, and as far west as the flag mountains, to soon be dotted with comfortable homes, farms and orchards.

This system of dry farming is simply an intelligent preparation of the soil which holds the moisture in the ground, instead of allowing it to escape by evaporation as it does when the land is but poorly prepared at the commencement of each season.

Parties who have thoroughly investigated this matter and who are the ones who are so rapidly locating the whole domain hereabouts have no fear of their future success.

If you want to see intelligent farming in this arid region now under full sway, take a look at the lands of Ralph C. Ely, just east of town and at the large farm of James Gart, two and one-half miles west of this city.

EXPIRED AT SANTA FE DEPOT AT LAS VEGAS.

Sad indeed was the death of H. N. Hoover, or Huber, a consumptive from Bridgeport, Ala., on route to Reno, N. M., who expired at 5:15 Thursday evening in the waiting room of the railroad depot at Las Vegas. The unfortunate stranger was a passenger on Santa Fe train No. 1, which was about four hours late yesterday in pulling into Las Vegas. His precarious state of health, the tedious trip he was taking, the irregularity of meals, and the rapid change in altitude all combined in bringing about the end. He caught the train at Bridgeport, and he had been sent on the long journey in his critical condition and least of all, without money to take care of him. He was traveling alone and occupied a seat in the chair car.

RANCHMAN DROVE ENEMY AWAY WITH REVOLVER.

Candido Montoya, a ranchman living six miles south of Santa Fe, on the Arroyo Hondo, came to that town last Saturday and reported to the sheriff that on March 22, shortly after dark, two men were seen stealing up to his ranch house from the north. He saw them in the house at the time and in response to a call from his wife, he hastily armed himself with a revolver and started for the men. They fled before he could shoot at them and succeeded in making their escape. Mr. Montoya says that he has no enemies of whom he knows, and is convinced that the men contemplated robbery.

S. E. Peiphrey, contractor and proprietor of the Alamogordo road, window and sash factory, Alamogordo, N. M., has secured the contract to build the large hospital and office buildings for the Phelps Dodge people at Dawson. The work is to commence at once. Mr. Peiphrey has done considerable work at Dawson since the Phelps Dodge people bought the Northeastern and Dawson coal fields. The hospital building, when completed, will be quite an addition to the Dawson layout.

Born, Saturday night, to Mr. and Mrs. Lawler, of 1007 South Arroyo street, a boy. The father is an employee of the local shops.

The THEATER

(Monday, March 26.)

At the Elks' theater Saturday night, we heard some of the best musical organizations it has been the pleasure of Albuquerque theatergoers to have the opportunity of hearing, since last the Elks' band was here, only this time, the same band was superior to itself, as compared to its last appearance in our city. That Albuquerqueans are lovers of good music and that they have the artistic temperament, is not to be denied; their hearty approval of the works of the old masters, as interpreted by the Elks' band Saturday night, lending full substantiation to the fact; but that there were a few in Saturday night's audience, who came not for music so much, as to see the gifted director, Francisco Ferrillo, who, they had heard, was a show in himself, cannot also be denied. They came, they saw, and—

—were conquered, for it takes but one number, such as "Mazurka," to make one realize that, despite the many gyrations of Ferrillo's body, each movement of the arm, finger, the head, in fact, every motion, conveys an such melody from the organization as to defy description. Through the softer passages of this selection, the movements of the great director were as calm and peaceful as the scene the band was portraying through the medium of music that clearly defined, but as the climax was led up to and the grand finale approached, Ferrillo, the great, seemingly inspired beyond himself, would, with the selfsame gyrations, secure from each individual of the band, and as a whole, such a burst of grandiloquent music, ending in a blaze and glare that fairly shook the roof of the Elks' theater, that the listening audience, sitting in raptures with the famous leader, caught the inspiration from his movements, as well as did the individuals of the band, and the storm of their applause was only equalled by the storm of music in the finale.

Ferrillo is a great director, as great as is Channing Ellery, an organizer of musical organizations, and therein lies the secret of the great success of the Elks' band. The careful selecting and bringing together of musicians who know music and can be taught; the even distribution of instruments so as to produce the greatest volume of music, and the greatest variety of melody; this is the difficult part of Channing Ellery, so successfully accomplished. The combination of organizer and director, Ellery and Ferrillo, make a musical combination that is hard to beat, and one that the American people have sent the seal of approval upon, long ago.

HOW THEY CATCH BRIBERS IN LOS ANGELES

THE ATTORNEY OF WALTER SCOTT HIMSELF IN THE COILS OF THE LAW.

(Monday, March 26.)

The Los Angeles papers, especially the Examiner, and also the two dailies of San Bernardino, are filling up their columns, these days, with sensational reports (some true and others not so true), of the attack on the Walter Scott party, recently, on their way to Death Valley, in which Warner Scott, brother of Walter, was shot and badly wounded. The latest version is that the attack was made by some of the Los Angeles police, charged with bribery. On this subject the San Bernardino Sun says:

"We will give you $100 and a ticket, and see that you are cared for when you get there," was the bribe offer made Thursday night by Attorney W. W. Weideman to A. W. De la Cruz, after the two men had parleyed between them, Weideman wanting St. Clair to leave the country and go to Mexico, and remain away from this country as long as there was danger of the San Bernardino authorities prosecuting the Walter Scott case, and the attorney, at Winona, Minn., was arrested, his offer of bribe having been overheard by Deputy Sheriff Carter, detailed by District Attorney Sprague, and Deputy Sheriff Ward to represent this county, and also by Deputy Sheriff Franklin of Los Angeles, and the city editor of the Evening News, all of whom occupied an adjoining room, though Attorney Weideman was totally unconscious of their presence.

Weideman was placed under $3,000 bonds, and spent several hours tampering with witnesses. Some time ago he was elected for contempt having been charged with offering a woman $200 if she would leave the country, and the court fined him $250.

INSANE ITALIAN TOURIST
STILL IN JAIL AT LAS VEGAS.

Appollito Gagliardi, the insane Italian, who had been confined in the Los Angeles jail, and who afterwards tried to commit suicide in the Las Vegas jail, was taken over to Las Vegas, and is located in the Los Angeles jail, says the Optic. City Marshal Ward does not propose to release the demented stranger unless the brother comes here or forwards enough money to cover expense of having an officer take the prisoner to Los Angeles. The marshal is to turn him loose in his present state of mind.

GROUP OF YOUNG MIL- LIONAIRES ENTHUSED WITH SOCIALISM

Arthur Brisbane

Robert Hunter

New York, March 24.—Will the socialist party be made a power in American politics by the vote of millions? Paradoxical as it may seem, many of the young men who are heading the movement for a radical and socialist propaganda in this country are heirs to vast fortunes.

The fact was emphasized by the recent attempt of radicals to get on a common ground at a meeting at the Brick house, the palatial country home of J. D. Phillips Stokes, an wealthy capitalist married son of an American of Chicago that he had embraced the socialist creed.

If socialism were voted into force and its tenets accepted it would strike at the fortunes of some of the wealthiest families in the country and with their radical members themselves leading the attack.

Stokes, for instance, is the son of Anson Phelps Stokes, Wall street capitalist and multimillionaire, now retired. Robert Hunter, another socialist radical, married son of an Anson Phelps Stokes, daughter, wealthy in her own right. He is a settlement worker, and is the author of "Poverty," a book in which he makes the remarkable statement that 10,000,000 Americans are starving today——and that the cause of their poverty is not that they are too poor to buy the necessities of life.

Gaylord Wishtre, although he inherited millions, has long been a socialist and conducted a monthly magazine which essayed to be an authority on the subject.

Win Kent, a Chicago millionaire, who has his fortune invested in a way that the returns will not exceed 3 per cent, made his ideas conspicuous at the recent Stokes congress.

Another wealthy radical is Arthur Brisbane, who inherited a fortune and is now the highest paid newspaper writer in the world, his salary being $12,000 a year. Brisbane attends fashionable society functions one day and loudly attacks the treasures of American wealth the next.

Joe Medill Patterson, son of the owner of the Chicago Tribune, who resigned his office under Mayor Dunne because he believed that even municipal ownership would fall short of effecting political reforms, while socialism would, was asked if he believed that his fortune was in danger. He explained that this would do no good, for the equalization of wealth must be accomplished by an equitable distribution of the sources of wealth, and that the whole body politic must accept the socialist creed.

Everett Colby, the Wall street banker recently elected state senator in New Jersey after a campaign in which he attacked corporation greed and exposed the cause of equal taxation, was asked if he believed that his fortune was in danger. He explained that this would do no good, for the equalization of wealth must be accomplished by an equitable distribution of the sources of wealth, and that the whole body politic must accept the socialist creed.

Will operate marble quarries near Las Vegas. J. A. Baker returned to Las Vegas from Denver where he spent two weeks in the interests of the marble quarries near Las Vegas, twelve miles from that city, owned by himself and Cleofes Romero, says the Optic.

He brought back very flattering reports and states that he has favorable contracts with the Denver marble companies to take all the marble that can be quarried by the local company. The tests of the samples which Mr. Baker took with him were pronounced excellent, and the stone takes a brilliant and lasting polish. The rock is known as fossil marble and there is nothing like it on the market. It varies in color and can be secured in red, black, white, green, gray, yellow and in various tints, and in various colors. Polished specimens are on exhibition at the Bismarck grocery.

The opening of these large quarries means a new and profitable industry for Las Vegas, and the supply is practically unlimited. If the quality of the stone is consistent, the value of the quarries is almost unestimable.

Torture by Savages.

"Speaking of the torture to which some of the savage tribes in the Philippines subject their captives, reminds me of the intense suffering I endured for three months from inflammation of the kidneys," says W. "Nothing helped me until I tried Electric Bitters, three bottles of which completely cured me." cures liver complaint, dyspepsia, blood disorders and malaria, and restores the weak and nervous to robust health. Guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50c.

NEW NATIONAL BANK AT SILVER CITY.

The American National bank of Silver City has opened for business. It has a capital stock of $50,000. Its president is C. C. Shoemaker, vice president A. S. Goodell, and A. F. Kerr is the cashier. A good deal of the stock of the new bank was subscribed by citizens of Silver City. The president of the bank is a well known Silver City merchant, who has resided there for twenty years.

A. S. Goodell, treasurer and executive officer of the bank, is a collector of the laws of the United States. He is one of the leading citizens of the county, and also an old resident.

A. F. Kerr, the cashier, is a recent arrival in Silver City, from San Antonio, Tex., where he has occupied a similar position. Part of the capital for the new bank was furnished by the capitalists who started the State National bank of Albuquerque. There is plenty of room in Silver City for two banks. The Silver City National bank, which has been the only one for some years, has been doing a fine business and had all the business it could possibly attend to.

The grievous offense, it is alleged, was committed Tuesday night, Thursday, when Martinez had a hearing before Justice of the Peace Jose M. In the sum of $500 Martinez was charged with criminal assault upon the person of Maria Jimenez, a girl 15 years of age, who resides with her family on Hillside avenue, in ward No. 4, Santa Fe.
