DIRECTIONS FOR THE "HAPPINESS HAPPENING"

This is written to incorporate the traditional elements of the traditional hymn: audience participation, music, subject content referring to concepts relevant to Unitarian Universalist religious services, and the psychic positivism hoped for when combining these three elements.

Three or four leaders should be chosen from the audience for each service to begin the improvised, free choice elements, to be said, done, read or whispered by the congregation during the music.

The composer urges the congregation to change, re-write, add, subtract, and rearrange to please local preferences, the script. Music to stay intact. Please send all changes to the composer:

Any directions or group response planned should be given during the first four bars of music, not before.

The middle section of the music may be repeated as many times as necessary.

Some of the script is taken from LOVE VIEW by Bernard Gunther. Collier Books, New York.

If the script or hubbub continues beyond the music, so much the better. Spontaneity is the element reached for.
