ALBUQUERQUE, NEW MEXICO, SATURDAY AFTERNOON, JANUARY 22, 1898.

NUMBER 82.

WASHINGTON NEWS!

The Senate Considers Teller's Silver Resolution.

The President Nominates Governor Griggs for Attorney General.

Senator Allen Receives Testimonial for His Defense of Woman's Honor.

HOUSE OF REPRESENTATIVES

Washington, Jan. 22.—On the desk of Allen, of Nebraska, at the opening of today's session of the senate, was a stand of beautiful American Beauty and Bride roses as a testimonial from the ladies' department for their noble and brave defense of woman's honor. Allen championed the cause of Mrs. M. E. Roberts, summarily dismissed from the pension office.

Cannon, of Utah, introduced a bill providing for the publication of the pension roll.

The resolution of Teller providing that bonds of the United States may be paid in silver was laid before the senate. Stewart, of Nevada, addressed the senate. He said the disregard of a resolution which is already the law of the United States brought many calamities upon the land and the results had been disastrous and lamentable. He attributed the panic of 1893 directly to a disregard of the law.

Nelson (Minnesota) offered the following amendment to the Teller resolution: "And it is the duty of the United States government under existing laws to maintain the parity of its value in gold and silver money, so that a dollar of one money shall, for all monetary purposes, always be equal in value to dollars of the other metal."

After Stewart's speech the senate passed a number of bills, to which there were no objections, including one providing that widows, whose marriage to discharged soldiers takes place after the passage of the act, shall not be entitled to a pension.

IN THE HOUSE.

In the house today a resolution requesting the state department to transmit to the house all information in its possession relative to the military execution of Col. Ruiz, the Spanish envoy to insurgent camp at Aranzuez, was adopted without division.

The foreign affairs committee reported, with an unfavorable recommendation, the Lewis resolution calling on the state department for a draft of the Hawaiian annexation treaty and information on what constitutional way the president had to contract for the payment of the Hawaiian debt of $4,000,000 out of the public treasury.

Hitt explained that the resolution had been offered at the last session, and as the treaty had been made public there was no necessity for its passage. Bailey (Tex.) thought the latter part of the resolution breached a question of importance that could be inquired into with propriety.

Hitt cut off the debate with a demand for the previous question. The resolution was laid on the table, 121-106.

Bailey, the democratic leader, created a flurry by rising to a question of personal privilege in connection with the coin treasury with Speaker Reed at the close of the Cuban debate Thursday.

Bailey reviewed the entire controversy and in conclusion reiterated several times the statement that the agreement he had with Hitt had been violated.

Hitt, Henderson and others in reply pointed out that no such agreement, if made (which they insisted was not the case) would be valid because it involved a waiver of the rules of the house. The speaker emphatically supported this view and re-affirmed the statement that no agreement was made.

The house took up the Indian appropriation bill.

M., Jan. 21.—Jim King, the proprietor of the "Short Order" restaurant, which he has owned since 1893, which he told to your correspondent as follows: Jim owed a bill of $5.30 to Donatiano Gallagher, a stockbroker at Fort Worth. Gallagher, with Jose Maria Antonio, came to Jim's place at 9 o'clock on the night of the 20th and upon the money being produced and offered in payment, he (Gallagher) demanded one of Jim's dogs in part payment in place of the entire amount. Not caring to part with the dog he refused to settle the account that way and laid the full amount of the account on the counter for Gallagher to take.

APPEAL NOT GRANTED.

In the Talbot Matter—Judge Dunlap Appointed Administrator.

Probate Judge Hubbell to-day refused to grant the appeal of Nellie B. Field, in the matter of the estate of W. E. Talbot on a motion to strike out the exceptions filed by the creditors of the estate, on the ground that they had slept away their rights and their claims had become outlawed by the statute of limitation.

Although the holiday season is over, there is no reason why people should not enjoy the luxury of good living as long as F. F. Trotter, the second street groceryman, continues to furnish everything that makes dining so delectable and at such low prices.

BRIBERY CHARGES!

Ohio Legislative Committee Investigating Them To-day.

Horace B. Dunbar, Brother of E. H. Dunbar, of This City, Testified.

Forty-five Klondikers Arrived To-day With $250,000 of Gold Dust.

NO CHANGE IN MARYLAND.

Cincinnati, Jan. 22.—Representatives Butler, Spellmeyer and Kline, of the house investigating committee, were present with Senators Burke, Long, Robinson, Finley and Garfield during the bribery examinations to-day. Senator J. J. Sullivan is here with Attorney Dougherty and Huling representing the defense.

Horace B. Dunbar, president and manager of the Gibson house, was recalled. He produced records showing that Henry H. Boyce, of New York; H. Hollenbeck, of Chicago; H. H. Archer, of St. Louis, the Columbus, Ohio, and others connected on both sides with the senatorial contest at Columbus were guests at the Gibson house from January 7 to 10. Mr. Dunbar testified that Mr. Boyce used a private phone and the conversations were taken down at a telephone in the general office down stairs. To-day Mr. Dunbar produced the unpaid telephone bills of Boyce, which gave records when Boyce, Hollenbeck, Bille, Allen O. Meyers, Jr. and others in Cincinnati called up Dick Rathbone, Kuris, Allen O. Meyers, Sr., and others in Columbus, giving the time and charges. Mr. Dunbar testified to conversations that took place between his hotel in Cincinnati and the senatorial manager in Columbus.

SWINDLING TICKET BROKERS.

One Arrested in Chicago with $50,000 Worth of Bogus Passes.

Chicago, Jan. 22.—While looking up evidence against W. H. Blum, the ticket broker, the police found in one office bogus passes, mostly editorial, which apparently represented $50,000 secured from unsuspecting strangers. The discovery led to the belief that a band of swindlers in the guise of ticket brokers is in existence in Chicago, reaping a harvest by the sale of bogus tickets.

General passenger and ticket agents of ten railroads appeared before the grand jury to secure indictments against ticket brokers for alleged illegal transactions in passes and editorial mileage. Sixteen cases were heard. Among the passes said to be found in the Clark Street broker's office are five made out in the name of Mayor Harrison.

KLONDIKERS RETURN.

Bring Back $250,000—Part Yukon Under Martial Law.

Seattle, Wash., Jan. 22.—Forty-five Klondikers arrived this morning on the steamship City of Seattle. The party brought about $250,000 in gold dust and other valuables. The most important news, that Fort Yukon is under martial law. Reasons are dealt out daily.

ARMENIAN TROUBLES.

Thousands Expelled by Police, Who Search for a Revolutionist.

Constantinople, Jan. 22.—There is great uneasiness at Yant, where the police are making a house to house search for Derozan, a revolutionist, from Caucasus. Many Armenians have been arrested and many thousands expelled. The Armenian bishop has resigned, owing to the fruitlessness of his intervention in behalf of his co-religionists.

TRIPLE MURDER, THEN SUICIDE.

More About the John H. Matthews Crimes in New York.

The New York Herald of Tuesday, Jan. 18, reached this city in last night's mail, and it contains a long account of the Matthews murders and suicide, with illustrations of the little grocery store, Matthews and wife, and of their two children. The CITIZEN clips the following extracts:

Letters left by the unhappy couple indicated that they had been plotting their tragic taking off for five long years, and that the triple murder and suicide were committed as the result of a direct understanding between Matthews and his wife.

Although there is no positive proof, it is believed that the wife, at least, was insane as a result of serious illness, but Coroner's Physician O'Hanlon advances the theory that, seeing nothing but misery before her, she prevailed upon her husband to commit the awful crime.

Although the man in one of the letters left behind confessed that his mind was gone, the autopsy revealed the fact that he was in good health and apparently sound mentally. This is one of the several strange phases of a remarkable tragedy.

Here follows a long account of the finding of the dead bodies, which is entirely too horrible to be reproduced in such a great religious paper as THE CITIZEN; also the several pencillings on letter heads from both Matthews and his wife, among which the following is clipped from the Herald:

Ford, the clerk, had been called into the store by Captain Price, who handed him a letter addressed to "Messrs. Ford & Johnson, No. 426 Columbus avenue." Like the other communications it was written in pencil and in a large, scrawling hand. It may be regarded as Matthews' will. It is given here verbatim:

Dear Sirs—You will please give to a burial, then sell the stock & fixtures, paying burial expenses, which should be inexpensive. Then the few accounts. Then to yourselves each $50, the balance to the landlady. You should be able to close it in a week's time. Please deliver the household goods to the persons whom Mrs. Matthews has written the directions & she requests that a special messenger be sent to Mrs. Reid, No. 702 East 170th street, with the letter and package on the desk also a special messenger to John Landphier at Park & Tilford's, Broadway & 81.

Give Schuyler's bicycle to George Reid, is overhauled, back of Sheldon, north side of store.

Yours respectfully,
J. H. MATTHEWS.

Then followed discoveries which lent pathos to the tragedy. On an upright piano in the parlor was a book of musical exercises. The volume was opened at a place entitled "The Midnight Hour." On a table in the same room was Charles Reade's novel, "Foul Play." On the floor was written, in Mrs. Matthews' hand, "To Schuyler, from Mamma. Merry Xmas, Dec. 25, '97."

There was also another book, with the title, "Dream Life." Neatly laid out in the parlor was a pile of clean underclothing, the greater part belonging to the children.

I have been ill and so has Herman. We decided upon this last night. Herman was determined to die. I would not stay behind, so we are going to die together. I am going with him, and we are going to take our darling with us. Please send my girl in a white casket. Use your own judgment about the boy. Please bury us at Highland, N. Y. Herman has been a good husband to me, but we have lost a lot of money.

Further on in the article of the butchery and suicide, the Herald says: Landphier declared that he had never heard Matthews or his wife say anything which would indicate that they might commit suicide. Matthews was not without money, he said, and this was substantiated when Capt. Price found a bank book, which shows $1,000 to the grocer's credit in the Columbus bank.

What property he had, in addition to the stock at the grocery store, is not known at this time. Landphier said that Mrs. Matthews was seriously ill for several weeks last fall and was a patient in St. Mark's hospital.

To Mrs. George Reed, a friend who resides at 702 East 170th street, Mrs. Matthews left the following letter:

My dear Mrs. REED—I can't tell you why we have done this—more than that we are both tired of life, as we can't get well. Mr. M., as well as myself, is not, nor has been well for years, though he looks healthy.

My dear Mrs. REED—I can't tell you why we have done this—more than that we are both tired of life, as we can't get well. Mr. M., as well as myself, is not, nor has been well for years, though he looks healthy.

My dear Mrs. REED—I can't tell you why we have done this—more than that we are both tired of life, as we can't get well. Mr. M., as well as myself, is not, nor has been well for years, though he looks healthy.

I would not ask this, but I haven't a lady friend I know of. Mrs. F. I know, but I don't leave her children, and I must have a lady here.

My dear, I send a little box of H. and S. for you, and I leave things for George and John. I have left for you and you may get all of Hattie's dolls and cradles and so on, and little chairs. A flat pasteboard box is on top kitchen shelf, with doll furniture. Take them for Jennie. S's dict for his dear little friend George. Also ties and S's sled take for Geo. and Hattie's to be sent to Minnie. Also Hattie's. S. has new ones. Geo. can have it if he wants them. Mrs. F. can have S. a coat if she wants it, and now goodby, my dear friend. Sincerely yours,
Please leave our jewelry on us.

Note.—The crimes, as THE CITIZEN stated yesterday afternoon, occurred at No. 426 Columbus avenue, New York, and at other points in the Herald's article substantiate the fact that John H. Matthews, who murdered his family and then committed suicide, was John H. Matthews who is well known to many Albuquerqueans and who, up to four years ago, was a general merchant and flour miller at Cuba, this country.

V. S. Miera, a brother of E. A. Miera, the Cuba merchant, came in from the Nacimientos country, late yesterday afternoon, and was surprised beyond words to learn the fate of his friends, John Herman Matthews and family. After reading THE CITIZEN's account of the career of Matthews at Cuba, he said: "Yes, every word of it is so—sold out to my brother, E. A. Miera, only a few years ago, and I have no doubt that when he left Bernallillo county he took along with him at least $15,000. I know him and wife for at least fourteen years, and I never dreamed that they would end their earthly lives in such a tragic manner."

MERIT doesn't always win, but money invariably does.

EVERY species of property should be taxed at its real worth.

THE prospects of a fine season for cattle are good, as recent snows will make lots of grass. This applies to every county in the territory.

COCONINO county, Arizona, has the largest number of sheep of any county in Arizona. It has nearly one half of the sheep in that territory.

It is estimated that no less than 100,000 head of sheep have been driven from Navajo and Coconino counties, Arizona, into the Salt River valley this winter.

It is "The Flagstaff Gem" now instead of "The Flagstaff Kicker." The Jones brothers, editors and publishers, will strike a name sooner or later that will please them.

Our job presses have been kept busy for several days turning out work. Remember, our stock is complete in letter heads, note heads, envelopes, business cards, visiting cards, etc.

THE Dona Ana County Republican says: It is said by knowing ones who have received reliable information upon the matter that $20,000 was raised in El Paso to pay expenses to defeat by legal technicalities the building of the El Paso and Santa Fe dam.

THE Phoenix Herald says: "The Indian school north of Phoenix in two years more will be second in importance only to that of the school at Carlisle. The number of the pupils now at the school is 400, but provision has been made for an additional 100 next year."

WHEN J. E. White, son of Henry White, secretary of the United States embassy at London, was arrested for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk his father claimed "diplomatic exemption" for the young man, who thus succeeded in escaping a fine. Secretary White would have set a better example by letting his son pay the fine. He ought to be reprimanded for abusing his diplomatic privileges.

THE New Mexican says: "In Las Vegas and San Miguel county there is a clique of speculators, including some county officials, that is dealing in approved accounts of the county and using them in the payment of taxes. An investigation by Gov. Otero and the use of the official hatchet among some of the officials of that county might be productive of great good and purify the atmosphere in official circles in San Miguel county to a considerable extent."

MANY years ago Abram S. Hewitt, of New York, made the prediction that by the end of the century the consumption of iron in this country would be 15,000,000 tons annually, and that ten years later it would reach 25,000,000 tons. Little credence was given to this prophecy at that time, but now at the close of 1897 the consumption of iron ore has already reached the figure which he predicted for 1900. The United States leads the world in the iron and steel trade.

A REPUBLICAN ON THE SITUATION.
Albuquerque, N. M., Jan. 21.—The present discontent shown by thoughtful people and by partisan tricksters to gain votes in the coming fall elections, demands a fair statement of conditions of the country, and the aims of the president and republican leaders.

For several years under democratic conditions, American interests suffered, and the people were out of employment. So, too, was capital unemployed to a great extent. This condition was to be perpetuated by a succession of conspiracies like the Teller conspiracy at St. Louis, the Kirtz-Buchanan conspiracy at Columbus, and the Baltimore conspiracy to divide the republicans and throw the silver-Judas strength to the opposition and defeat the American business aims of the president and the republican party; but Mark Hanna is not like Caesar, and Judas got a couple in the plexus.

The opposition said McKinley would have to sell bonds. He has not sold any, and the Dingley bill bids fair to meet the republican expectation. There are no democratic watch-dogs of the treasury—except that Judas would like very little patriotic sentiment poured on the veterans. The experts are about five hundred millions of dollars per year more than the imports; and at this rate, ten years will bring us nearly all the loose cash in the world, and we are getting it all in gold. If the president is left alone for two terms, other nations will be glad to join us in the international use of silver—at least we will sell them large quantities of silver and they will be compelled to use it for their standard money. Capital is already seeking investment in this territory. Large deals in mines are going on at Cochiti; our home capital is employed in the "flow-line" canal; the Edison company buy the great low-grade mineral land east of us, they take no risk of title to stop work, but buy the land and mean business.

These local investments are of great importance to us. The "flow-line" canal is the beginning of the development of our valley. The Pecos and San Juan rivers have less water than the Rio Grande, but those countries are the better farmed.

The late deals at Cochiti and the Ortiz grant begin the development of mines that means most for our city. Greater enterprises come in the railroad lines from Pan Handle to El Paso, and from Sapulpa to Albuquerque. The money for all these and more business is ready under present national policies. The dawning islands are the half-way station from America and the Isthmus canal to all Asia and Australia for steam ships and cable lines necessary in doing business that employs American capital and labor. We need these islands—we need all the home and foreign business that we can get; but it would tickle Judas to see the president compelled to sell bonds to the amount of half a billion dollars to prepare for a useless war with Spain. It would not free Cuba an hour sooner; but it would stop business, sell bonds, prove the Dingley bill short, and verify popocratic prophecy. This would not stop the investment of capital. It would throw labor out of employment again; the capitalist could buy the bonds and live in the same ease—clipping coupons for exercise. What kind of heads have the popocrats, anyway? Did anybody ever measure their heads? They may not come up to the republican standard.

American securities abroad.
The sales of American securities have been, according to London advices, very large abroad of late. If this state of things holds there will be an increasing influx of British gold into this market. This demonstrates the faith abroad in the stability of our credit. There is another point of faith for which the people are not only this but foreign countries have good grounds, and credit, and that is belief in the efficacy of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters for inorganic maladies, which affect the stomach, liver, bowels, kidneys and nerves. Dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation and rheumatism are conquered by it. It hastens convalescence, and diffuses a generous warmth and sensation of physical comfort through the system.

The Blad Herald says: "Thomas S. Kline, who was a half interest in the famous T. S. K. mining claim on the great Alameda lake, will depart for Albuquerque by today's stage on business. Mr. Kline, who owns a number of Blad lots, contemplates extensive building thereon in the near future." Mr. Kline has reached the metropolis, and his many friends here are well pleased to notice his smiling face on the street.

The Greatest Discovery Yet.
W. M. Reppine, editor Tishkwa, Ill., Chief, says: "We must keep house with Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds. Experimented with many others, but never got good results until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for coughs, colds, whooping cough, etc." It is safe to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not so good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails. Trial bottles free at J. H. O'Reilly & Co.'s drug store.

Articles of incorporation of the Yukon Mining and Trading company, a Los Angeles company, was filed in the office of the county recorder at Phoenix. The capital stock is $150,000. The incorporators are George T. Child, E. Mac Pherson, Charles H. Rose, John Sanders, James Hall, Jeremiah C. Mahoney, Ernest Lawrence, William A. Barry and Arthur L. Cullum.

The Nephel school house, three miles this side of Mesa, was burned, evidently by incendiary, on Monday night. W. S. Varnum, the teacher, arrived in Phoenix before daylight Tuesday morning after the municipal bloodhounds dermal medication of climatic influence will eradicate the bacillus. The relief of a cough, of course, does not constitute a cure.

"The organs of respiration will admit but one element safely, that element is air. The trachea instinctively closes when the introduction of any liquid or powder is attempted. But fresh and pure air can be thoroughly impregnated with germicidal and antiseptic agents, and then introduced into the most delicate recesses of the organs of respiration without effort or inconvenience on the part of the patient.

"One of the most striking features of the system employed at the San Gabriel sanitarium is that the germicidal and antiseptic properties with which the air is impregnated are so thoroughly penetrating that every part of the respiratory organs are reached, even the parts not reached by any ordinary inhalation in the case of the diseased lungs.

"The plan of successfully introducing these germicidal and antiseptic agents into every part is effected in three ways, all three of which are employed in every case.

"Fresh air is drawn from the outer atmosphere by a vacuum pump and forced under moderate pressure through a battery of cylinders containing germicidal and antiseptic preparation and become impregnated with germicidal and antiseptic properties. In passing through drying tanks after the air becomes impregnated, it is made dry and pure, and in the medicated, dry and pure state it is introduced into the apartments of the patients through the ventilation system. In quantities sufficient to maintain the normal properties of oxygen to meet the requirements of the nutritive function.

"In the second place, each room occupied by a patient is fitted with one of the nebulizers, used only in the pneumatic system of treatment, which is arranged to saturate the air of the apartment by evaporation every hour of the day and night with an aromatic germicidal and antiseptic vapor. This only supplemental to the first application.

"Third, a special treatment room is in use in every one of these sanitariums, in which the volatilized germicide is more concentrated than is possible in the ordinary living apartments. The patients are required to sit in this room amidst the dense and penetrating fumes three times daily for a time ranging from ten to twenty minutes.

"All these deductions and this method are based upon the germ theory and its etiological relation to tuberculosis. It is well known that the germicidal agents capable of destroying the germ or rendering it innocuous, are those which are aseptic conditions to which the germ is not antiseptic agents. This theory is so firmly engrained upon the public mind that should a surgeon treat a disease or injury without due regard to sepsis or neglect to render the surroundings of his patient aseptic, he would be held guilty of criminal negligence. That this theory should be employed in the treatment of tuberculosis is not only rational and reasonable but strictly consistent with therapeutic law.

"The San Gabriel sanitarium, after which the Albuquerque sanitarium will be modeled as nearly as possible, is operated upon the plan of an extensive hotel or resort, where the treatment is an additional feature. Although the patients remain the most of the time in their rooms, where they need not be conscious of the treatment that the medicated air is effecting, except through the results, they are given every means of passing pleasant hours in the parlors below.

"It is not expected by this treatment that lungs will be made to rot, but it is claimed that the affected member is freed from the disease, and that the nature is then in time to rebuild the wasted parts. The desired results are attained by keeping the healthy tissues sterilized and thereby securing them from further proliferation of the bacilli. All tissue reached by the circulation of the blood, as well as the respiratory surface, is sterilized. By inhalation the medicated vapor is brought into forced contact with every part of the lungs, where it is diffused and absorbed and the blood impregnated with it. The bacillus thus surrounded, intrudes itself in the future, thus becomes encased, and is beyond the reach of bacilliemia, due to the lack of vascular supply in its habitat. But having encompassed the aggressive capability of the bacillus, its life is short for lack of nutrition and by reason of caecous degeneration. The degeneration of the tubercle which follows exposes the little element to the action of antiseptic germicidal vapor, and those not ejected by expectation are in an atmosphere antagonistic to their causing further infection.

"This treatment is what is in successful operation at San Gabriel, and at other places, and what is proposed for Albuquerque. No form of stanche or hypodermic medication of climatic influence will eradicate the bacillus. The relief of a cough, of course, does not constitute a cure.
