S. FRANCISCO, Cal., Oct. 21, 1946

Hon. G. A. Richardson,

My Dear Judge—I am honored to make the point I am here for: The first question I have taken up is the question of the state's and the country's interest in the commercialisation of certain fruits, notably apples. We, of course, want the apples for our own consumption, as well as for export, and the demand for them is very large. It is estimated that about 150,000 bushels of apples are consumed in the state each year, and that the demand for them is very large.

I am here to make an appeal to the state's and the country's interest in the commercialisation of certain fruits, notably apples.
