Apparent Plurality for Bursum	700

As the New Mexican had predicted, the first election returns were decidedly in favor of the Democrats. By midnight, the Democrats claimed the state by five thousand and more majority, and by this afternoon they are content to make it one thousand majority for McDonald with the rest of the ticket in doubt.

On the other hand, the Republicans, frightened by the reports of overwhelming Democratic majorities in the Pecos Valley and in Bernalillo county were disposed to concede McDonald's election by a considerable majority, but as during the day, the favorable reports from Valencia, Rio Arriba and other Spanish-American counties came in, the McDonald majority dwindled. By noon it was only 625, and at four o'clock this afternoon it looked as if Bursum had been elected by a small plurality and the legislature was Republican by two-thirds majority. Most of the Republican candidates for district judges and on the county tickets are also elected.

Clark Concedes Nothing.

"It has been reported that the Republican state central committee has made concessions concerning the outcome of this election. The Republican state committee concedes nothing."

This was the statement made late this afternoon by Herbert Clark, secretary of the committee.

"We have had nothing but estimates and Democratic enthusiasm thus far. The situation in Bernalillo county is a question of counting the ballots, as we are informed there was a great amount of scratching there. The majority in that county will have to be immense to defeat H. O. Bursum. San Miguel county, we are informed here, will alone give over 800 majority for Bursum and the state ticket. The reports that have come in from the big Republican counties are meager, but they give no cause at this time, to believe that the Democrats have made inroads among them. We maintain that Bursum will be elected. His majority in the state will be small."

This is the attitude of the secretary and members of the Republican state committee. Mr. Clark declares that Democratic estimates and talk will not do; they have got to show the votes and it is likely that it will be several days before the result with respect to the head of the Republican state ticket, is absolutely known.

The first reports to come in were merely estimates and they came from Democratic-Progressive strongholds and sources.

Santa Fe county, where Miguel A. Otero made the fight of his life, went for Bursum and the Republican ticket by nearly 300 majority. Other counties where the Progressive faction made a fight, will do as well for Bursum from present indications.

The Republicans are urged to keep an eye on the Democrats, for behind this sudden burst of enthusiasm, there may be a well arranged plot in some of the Democratic strongholds to make up the difference in majority for McDonald.

The Republicans claim the election of their entire state ticket and of their normal majority of the legislature. Their candidates for members of supreme court have run ahead of the ticket.

The New Mexican is not surprised by the slowness with which election returns are coming in. The counting of the ballots was a laborious task on account of the many candidates voted for and the many scratched tickets. But even before the polls closed yesterday, those who read the dispatches carefully, surmised that the returns would spell disaster for the Republicans. There was defection on the head of the ticket in practically every county except Santa Fe, Socorro and Valencia. The fine weather brought out an overwhelming vote in eastern New Mexican and while Holm O. Bursum carried the territory outside of the lower Pecos Valley and Bernalillo county, these rolled up such tremendous majorities that they could not be overcome. While the rest of the Democratic ticket ran somewhat behind McDonald, yet, it does not seem to be to a great extent and if McDonald's majority foots up 1,500 or more, it is very likely that he pulled his ticket with him to success.

At eleven o'clock this forenoon, very few complete returns were at hand, but they were mostly adverse to the Republican ticket and chance for success by a scratch did not seem to improve although it will be tomorrow before this is definitely known. The Republicans seem to have saved the legislature out of the wreck and elected the usual number of county tickets.

Santa Fe County.

This county stood by the Republican party loyally. The City of Santa Fe did better than had been anticipated. Such precincts as Cienega which had been conceded to the Democrats were carried by the Republicans, while San Pedro, Golden and Madrid did not do as well as expected. The following are some of the returns by precincts.

Precinct No. 2, Tesuque.

In precinct Number 18 one vote was cast by the Socialists for the entire Socialist ticket and in precinct No. 4 two votes for entire Socialist ticket.

Two for Cutting.

In precinct No. 4 two votes were cast for Bronson M. Cutting for Congress, although he is not a candidate.

Eddy County.

The Bursum vote in the entire county is about 300 out of 2,000 votes cast. Groves will have 500 votes. In Carlsbad Bursum has 62 out of 407 votes. Balance of Republican ticket receives

FIVE JURORS ARE SWORN

One Talesman in McMamara Trial Was Excused for Ill Health

IRON WORKERS FILE APPEAL

Given Twenty Days in Which to Present Their Briefs to the Court.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 8.—Five final jurors were sworn today in the McMamara trial, but two men were soon excused. The three remaining are Robert Bain, carpenter; Byron Lisk, mill owner; F. D. Green, orange growers.

Talesman William F. Clark, was excused for ill-health, and Sam Mendenhall, whose father died recently, was excused upon showing to the court that his mother, now ill, probably would not survive his service on this jury. Nine more men were drafted into the jury box and their examination was undertaken by attorneys for James B. McMamara, the defendant.

Iron Workers Appeal.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 8.—Twenty days were granted today by the Indiana supreme court for the filing of briefs in the appeal of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers from an order of Judge J. T. Markey, of the criminal court of this county, turning over to the federal grand jury certain books of about 400 votes.

Quay County.

Six out of 33 precincts give Bursum 240, McDonald, 234; Malaquias Martinez 217, E. C. de Baca, 225; Secundino Romero 218, A. Lucero 215; Sylvestre Mirabal 218, O. N. Marron 189; F. W. Clancy 229, W. R. McGill 216; W. G. Sargent 221, F. Delgado 221, A. B. Stroup 226, A. L. Emerson 216; C. J. Roberts 225, E. R. Burkhardt 229; H. Hanna 222, George Curry 237; Eliege Baca 232; H. B. Ferguson 221; Paz Valverde 216; George W. Armijo 221, M. S. Groves 224; Hugh Williams 229, Sol. Owen 229; S. Martinez 227; George H. Van Stone 229.

Ten out of fifteen precincts line up as follows: H. O. Bursum 246, W. C. McDonald 292; Malaquias Martinez 264, E. C. de Baca 232; Secundino Romero 268, A. Lucero 232; Sylvestre Mirabal 273, O. N. Marron 248; Frank W. Clancy 275, W. R. McGill 241; W. G. Sargent 278, Frank Delgado 229; A. B. Stroup 275, A. L. White 221; R. P. Ervies 274, J. L. Emerson 244; C. J. Roberts 273, E. R. Wright 299; F. W. Parker 269, W. A. Dunn 243; S. Burkhardt 217, R. H. Hanna 240; George Curry 287, Eliege Baca 249; H. B. Ferguson 258, Paz Valverde 215; George W. Armijo 267, M. S. Groves 278; Hugh Williams 275, Sol. Owen 248; S. Martinez 237, G. H. Van Stone 248.

Bernalillo County.

District No. 1 of precinct No. 12, city of Albuquerque, cast the following vote: H. O. Bursum 161, W. C. McDonald 563; Malaquias Martinez 178, E. C. de Baca 544; Secundino Romero 181, A. Lucero 547; S. Mirabal 181, O. N. Marron 536; F. W. Clancy 242, W. R. McGill 482; W. G. Sargent 299, F. Delgado 507, A. B. Stroup 298, A. L. White 517; R. P. Ervies 187, J. L. Emerson 537; C. J. Roberts 202, E. R. Wright 195; F. W. Parker 191, W. A. Dunn 525; S. Burkhardt 531, R. H. Hanna 539; George Curry 219, Eliege Baca 171; H. B. Ferguson 555, Paz Valverde 504; George Armijo 176, M. S. Groves 194; Hugh Williams 217, Sol. Owen 538; S. Martinez 503, G. H. Van Stone 536.

Bernalillo County.

Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 8.—Incomplete returns from Bernalillo county indicate a majority for McDonald, Democrat governor, of over a thousand. The Republican county ticket was defeated by about 400.

Democrats Feel "Satisfied."

At Democratic headquarters it was stated at 2:45 o'clock this afternoon that no statements as to the election will be given until Chairman A. A. Jones returns from Las Vegas this evening, except that the Democrats feel "satisfied."

Slow Tabulation of Results.

Not a single county has reported the complete vote by four o'clock this afternoon. Even here in Santa Fe county, only thirteen out of twenty-three precincts have reported. These thirteen precincts give 797 votes for the Blue Ballot and 964 votes against it. For Bursum they gave 1216 votes and 1001 for McDonald. Bursum carried Santa Fe city by 108. For Malaquias Martinez, twelve precincts gave 1155 votes and for E. C. de Baca 956 votes.

For Secundino Romero, the twelve precincts cast 1194 votes; for Lucero 926, giving Romero a lead of 268, which if maintained in the same proportion over Bursum throughout the Territory assures his election by more than 2,000 majority. W. G. Sargent received 1172, Frank Delgado 951, Mirabal 1195; Marron 928, Frank W. Clancy, 1261, McGill 861, a lead which in proportion throughout the state, elects Clancy attorney general by almost 5,000 majority. Ervies received

The Conditions in China Seem to Be Approaching a Crisis

MOB RULE IN PEKIN SUBURB

Proclamation of Government Promises the Abolition of Taxes.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Peking, Nov. 8.—The situation in the capital was practically unaltered movement is yet visible. The emperor, the dowager empress, and others of the court, according to the foreign board, are still at the winter palace and do not intend to depart.

Disorders at Peking.

Tien Tsin, Nov. 8.—It is rumored persistently that grave disorders broke out at Peking last night; that parts of the suburbs were burned and that some massacres occurred.

Life and Death Struggle.

Shanghai, Nov. 8.—Fighting at Nanking began at nine o'clock this morning. The Manchus are strongly entrenched on Purple Hill, which commands the city, and unless they grow disheartened and voluntarily surrender, their position is believed to be impregnable. The military government today issued a proclamation on all to join in the life and death struggle, and exhorting the population of the lower provinces to refrain from disorders and to regard the rights of foreigners. The proclamation further promises the abolition of many taxes hitherto imposed by the five million of the nomadic tribe which 200 years ago was supported by the liver and brain of 400 million descendants of Han.

Che Fu Wants American Warship.

Che Fu has requested the presence of an American warship and Rear Admiral Murdock, commander of the American Atlantic Squadron, who is here, probably will comply.

The situation at Peking, the news of which is being widely circulated, has created a strong impression among the reformers.

A wireless message from the German vessel Hanlow reports that the imperialists there are losing heart.

Tai Chow 75 miles southwest of Ning Po surrendered to the revolutionists today without resistance.

Bad News For Imperialists.

San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 8.—Dispatches received by the Chinese news-papers here today confirm the news of a battle in Nanking. A cablegram to the Chinese Free Press says the imperial troops in the Kian Su province of which Nanking is the capital, are deserting to the revolutionists.

Another dispatch to the same paper reports the mutiny of the eighty-eighth regiment of the Imperial troops stationed at Macao, in the Quang Tung province, and also of the ninety-ninth regiment in the same province.

The Young China, a Chinese daily paper, received information by cable that Chang Ming Chi, viceroy of the Quang Tung province, and General Lung Chee Quong, until recently Imperial Commander in Canton, had allied themselves with the Republican cause and had assumed charge of all the revolutionary military operations in the province. The Chung Sai Yat Po received a cablegram declaring that the people of Nanking had proclaimed their independence, and that a battle was imminent owing to the refusal of the Manchu officials to recognize their proclamation.

MONUMENT TO LINCOLN UNVEILED

The Heroic Bronze Statue Erected at Frankfort, Kentucky.

GOVERNOR WILSON PRESENT

Chasm Was Bridged by Lincoln and the Country is Re-United.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Frankfort, Nov. 8.—While the President of the United States and a large assemblage, including many of those who wore the gray in the conflict between the North and the South, looked on a heroic bronze statue of Abraham Lincoln was unveiled in the capital building.

"Proof of a reunited country," said Governor Wilson of Kentucky in accepting the statue on behalf of the state, "is made evident in the selection of Henry Watterson, a Confederate soldier, to formally present this image of the great President to the people of his native state. The greatness and the goodness, the nobility and the sweetness of Abraham Lincoln are recognized as earnestly by those who wore the gray as by those who wore the blue."

The addresses of President Taft and Governor Wilson singularly agreed in almost every identical declaration that of all figures in National history there is none that is calculated to bridge the chasm of sentiment between sections as is Lincoln.

RAILROADERS IN A BAD FIX

Water Supply at Gila, Arizona, Cut Off by the Southern Pacific.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—An increase in wages approximating six per cent, reduced working hours, and the sharing of a lump sum of $75,000 have been granted to the Baltimore & Ohio and the Baltimore & Ohio Southwestern railway.

An agreement was reached with the men through the mediation under Erdman Act of Judge Knapp of the commerce court and Labor Commissioner Neil.

Water Supply Cut Off.

Tucson, Ariz., Nov. 8.—Striking railroad shopmen at Gila, Ariz., are facing a Southern Pacific order that all water be cut off from their homes and that they are forbidden to get drinking water from water cars, according to telegrams from W. E. Stewart, a union labor officer there, to the Tucson branch of the federation of shopmen.

According to the telegram, the order already has gone into effect, causing a serious problem for the strikers to solve as Gila is situated on the desert and the only two wells there are owned by the railroad and produce water unfit for domestic use.

It is said that the railroad for twenty years has followed the custom of carrying drinking water to Gila and allowing the residents there the free use of it.

BIG DECREASE IN COPPER STOCKS LAST MONTH

Production, However, Increased 2,666,492 Pounds. John D. Ryan on Committee.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New York, Nov. 8.—The statement of the Copper Producers Association for October, shows a decrease in stocks on hand of almost 5,000,000 pounds compared with the previous month. Production increased by 2,666,492 pounds. Domestic deliveries increased from 57,311,584 to 64,068,307 and foreign demand from 50,824,011 to 60,084,349 pounds making a total increase on deliveries for the month of 16,017,061 pounds.

John D. Ryan, President of the Amalgamated Copper Company, succeeds Urban H. Broughton, former President of that company as a member of the executive committee of the Producers' Association.

CENSUS BUREAU REPORT ON COTTON GINNED PUBLISHED.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—Census bureau reports cotton ginned to Nov. 1 as follows: United States 9,968,172 bales; round bales 68,343. Sea Island 56,132, Florida 26,974, Georgia 33,796, South Carolina 1,263. Total ginning by states: Alabama 1,689,376, Arkansas 443,965, Florida 55,973, Georgia 1,906,256, Louisiana 232,017, Mississippi 585,082, North Carolina 587,959, Oklahoma 558,755, South Carolina 1,021,972, Tennessee 212,579.

CIRCUIT COURT APPROVES PLAN

Dissolution of the American Tobacco Company With Modifications

PROPOSITION IS NOT PERFECT

Judges Have No Power to Order Cigar Stores of Company Sold.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New York, Nov. 8.—The United States circuit court handed down a decision here today approving the plan of dissolution of the American Tobacco Company with modifications. The court in its decision says that provision should be made in carrying out the plan for keeping intact the books and records of the American Tobacco Company and its present constituents, so that they shall be available and subject to legislation to the same extent as at present, in suits for accounting and other existing litigation.

Judge Cox, in his opinion says: "I approve the proposed plan not because I think it is perfect but because it is the best plan obtainable."

Judge LaCombe says in his opinion that the twenty-nine individual defendants in this suit shall not increase their control over any of the corporations now in the combination for the three years. He also says the court has no power to grant the request that the United Cigar Stores Company stock be sold and distributed.

ELECTION RETURNS POINT TO
TAFT'S SUCCESS IN 1912

New Jersey and New York Will Again Have Republican Legislatures, and Rhode Island and Maryland Are in the Republican Column.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Election returns from various states today clear up some of the uncertainty apparent in the late reports of last night.

In Massachusetts Governor Eugene N. Foss, will be head of the state for another year but he will, as in the past, be surrounded by Republican state officials.

Returns at Albuquerque, N. M., indicated a triumph for the Democratic party. This was the first election held in New Mexico, which is a new state. The Republicans however, still hope to control the legislature and elect the two United States senators.

Republicans Win in Maryland.

In Maryland, the returns are coming in slowly. At 5 o'clock the election of Phillips Lee Goldsborough, Republican, as governor, was made apparent.

Ohio and Kentucky Democratic.

There were reversals from the Republican to the Democratic party in Kentucky and Ohio. In the former state, majorities were given to practically all the Democratic candidates and James Bennett McCreary was elected governor by over 20,000. The state legislature will have a Democratic majority of probably 85, sufficient to secure the election to the United States senate of Congressman Ollie James.

Democratic Mayors.

Municipal elections in Ohio resulted in the election of George J. Karg, Democrat, as mayor, of Columbus. Democratic mayors in Cincinnati and Cleveland also were elected.

New York and New Jersey Republican.

Two states, New Jersey, replaced Democratic assemblies with Republican, New York electing an assembly that will have a Republican majority greater than the present Democratic majority in the lower branch of the legislature. The Republicans will hold the assembly by upwards of fifty, as against the present Democratic majority of twenty-four.

Tammany Sustains Losses.

In New York city, the Republicans, generally speaking, had the best of it. Tammany retained its grip on Manhattan and the Bronx but it lost Brooklyn, and the control of the board of aldermen. In New Jersey, which has a Democratic assembly, and a Republican senate, the Republicans will have control of both houses.

Rhode Island Republican.

A Democratic governor and state officers were elected in Mississippi, and a Republican executive was chosen in Rhode Island, Governor Pothier defeating Louis A. Waterman, Democrat.

Six Old Harmon.

Said Governor Harmon of Ohio: "I have fought for 25 years to free Ohio from the sway of Republicanism and am delighted to find that the voters have awakened."

"Signs of victory for the Democratic party are evident everywhere. Next year I predict that this party will win the national officers, including the Presidency."

Henry's Opponent Re-elected.

San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 8.—Final returns from the municipal election held here yesterday show that Charles M. Fickert, incumbent, who successfully opposed Francis J. Henry, for the office of 31st attorney two years ago, was elected over Ralph M. Fickert by a vote of 35,972 to 33,467. Fickert was supported by union labor and opposed by the non-partisan municipal conference which endorsed Hathorn.

Republican Prohibitionist Chosen.

Everett, Wash., Nov. 8.—Rev. R. B. Hassel, Republican, was elected mayor yesterday by a plurality of 290. He favored rigid enforcement of the prohibition law and received a majority of the women's vote. Three Socialist councilmen were elected.

Frederick Eggers defeated Thomas Finn for sheriff 35,152 to 32,726. Sixteen out of the eighteen supervisors elected were endorsed by the municipal conference.

Commission Form at Sacramento.

Sacramento, Cal., Nov. 8.—Sacramento stepped into the ranks of cities having the commission form of government as a result of the municipal election yesterday. The new charter was adopted by a majority of 68 out of a total vote of more than 8,000. The charter will be presented to the special session of the legislature next month and undoubtedly will be ratified. It will take effect next July.

Mayor M. R. Beard, Democrat, was re-elected by a plurality of 374 over Allen W. Stewart, Socialist. He will serve until the new charter takes effect.

Socialists Lead in Utah.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Nov. 8.—While yesterday's municipal elections in many Utah cities and towns were fought on purely local issues, the results received today indicate wide gains by both Democrats and Socialists.

The Socialist gains were made largely in the mining camps, Eureka, Murray, Mammoth, and Stockton, electing Socialist officers. They also gained councilmen in several towns, including Brigham. The towns in which the normal Republican majorities were maintained include Ogden, Brigham City, Richfield, Springfield, Lehigh, Ephraim and Spanish Forks. The Democrats elected their ticket in Logan, Kayaville, Price, Beaver, Coalville, Mount Pleasant, Grantsville, Payson, Park City and Heber.

Commission Form Wins.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 8.—The commission form of government won in two cities in the Missouri election, and also at Chanute and Manhattan, Kansas, while a third, Sacramento, Calif., appears to have voted for the change.

To date, this makes 154 cities and towns now under direct commission, some modified style of that system. Of this number 139, have direct commission form without modification. Election Contest at Salt Lake City.

Salt Lake City, Nov. 8.—The election of Samuel C. Parks as mayor and an auditor at yesterday's municipal election will be contested on the ground that the ballots used in the election did not comply with the law. It was announced today.

IRREGULARITY PREVAILED ON STOCK MARKET TODAY.

Heavy Selling of Speculative Leaders Depressed Prices on Those Issues.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New York, N. Y., Nov. 8.—Irregularity prevailed in the stock market this morning. Movements were hesitating and contradictory but in spite of large gains by inactive industrial, the list as a whole, developed pronounced weakness. Heavy selling of the speculative leaders depressed seemed to possess little rallying powers.

The cotton spinning report was without effect, although it established a new record. Market observers regarded the movement of stocks as natural in view of the recent extended advance and the conditions of the short interest.

Selling pressure relaxed during the second hour. Prices, however, showed little inclination to harden, speculation becoming almost stagnant around the new low levels and the professionals stopped selling. A few stocks showed independent strength, but their movement was ignored by the general market. Rock Island stocks advanced 1 to 1 1/2 on rather active dealings. Bonds were steady. The market developed a gradually firmer tone, but grew dull on the rally. The monthly report for copper producers showing a decrease in stocks on hands of nearly 6,000,000 and an increase in foreign and domestic demand, helped the copper group.

Prices sought a lower level and the lowest figures were current at 2 o'clock. United States Steel and Reading were down 1 5/8, Union Pacific 1 1/2 and some other stocks a point or more. American preferred rose over 2 points. The close was weak.

AUX ARMES.

(By Samuel Hartley Lyle, Jr.)
O, tell me not the hope recedes
That held of former years;
Life is not made of idle fears,
What need for idle fears?

We may not always meet the blows
As would, perhaps seem fit;
But brave hearts do not know to lose;
Only the cravens quit.

What boots it if the foe today
Has beat us to the earth?
The morrow brings a newer fray.
A newer strength has birth.

We can not lose, if win we will,
Brave hearts shall never die.
To arms! The foe is with us still!
Who cares what flag he fly?

AROUND THE STATE

Much illness at Las Vegas.
Scarlet fever and measles are reported from Las Vegas. Also pneumonia. Thelma, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Martin, died yesterday at the age of one year and nine months from pneumonia.

TEXAS WILL SEND AN UNINSTRUCTED DELEGATION.

Chairman Lyon Came Near Breaking With President Taft a Year Ago. It is Said.

Dallas, Texas, Nov. 8.—An uninstructed delegation from Texas to the Republican national convention next year is believed by some of the leading Republicans of the state to be the wish of Cecil A. Lyons, the recognized "boss" of the regular Republican organization in the state, and chairman of the state Republican executive committee. Col. Lyons is at present on a hunt on his ranch in Mexico, but when he returns is expected to make his wishes known.

It is said that chairman Lyon came near breaking with President Taft a year ago but a truce was arranged. Announcement from him that he wishes an uninstructed delegation will worry every one of Taft's appointees in Texas, who, unwilling to oppose his desires actively and openly, are just as unwilling to attend a national convention of their own party without standing vociferously for the re-nomination of President Taft.

The activity of the LaFollette campaign bureau and the arguments emanating from that source are causing considerable uneasiness among the Republicans in Texas that wish to see President Taft re-nominated.

ELEVENTH CAVALRY HAS CARRIED OFF HONORS.

Houston, Texas, Nov. 8.—The Eleventh cavalry of the United States army, having won all the athletic honors of the maneuver division, including polo, baseball and football championships, and having made the secretary of war dizzy with an exhibition drill that bewildered even the chief of staff, isn't satisfied. There are some chess players among its officers and they have issued a challenge to play any officer, team of officers or combination of teams that the military establishment at Fort Sam Houston can trot out. Officers of the Eleventh are in the mood to challenge Professor Lasker himself.

GOVERNOR HADLEY WILL HUNT DEER IN TEXAS.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 8.—Announcement is made that Governor Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri will come to San Antonio in a few days on his way to Catarina, in the southwestern part of the state, to hunt deer and other game. T. J. Wornall of Liberty, Mo., a former state senator, is here awaiting the coming of Missouri's executive and party.

DROP OF 20,000 IN WEEK'S CATTLE RECEIPTS.

Kansas City Stock Yards Nov. 8.—A drop of twenty thousand head in the cattle receipts here last week from the week before, together with decreases at other points, put some edge on the market and prices received an uplift of around 25 cents on all kinds. Medium class range beef steers sold 50 cents higher in some cases. Kansas and the quarantine districts have shot their wad for this season, and from now on only straggling shipments from those sections will arrive to compete with the cattle direct from the range country. Colorado beef steers all at range of $4.75 to $6.00 for anything with quality, though some Eastern Slope steers have sold down around $4.40 in the last two weeks. Two trains of the Gord Galloway steers from Placerville sold at $5.25 to $5.40 late last week to killers, average weight running close to 1,000. Feeders and stock steers meet a strong demand, and predictions favor a continued rise in value of same. The run of 19,000 head here today is a small decrease from last Monday, and dwindling supplies will rule from now on. So far this season Chicago shows a shortage of 25 per cent in rangers from the Northwest, and interviews with Western dealers say that the character of the supply indicates a clean up. Pessimism rules in all the talk concerning future cattle supplies and naturally expectation of high prices goes hand in hand with this brand of conversation. Panhandle stock steers bring $4.75 to $5.35, some two from that section late last week netting upwards of $40 per head. Two trains of Old Mexico will be here tomorrow, and 21 cars of double circle cows from Arizona are also on tap for tomorrow. Calves are selling better the best $7.25 heavy calves around $5.50. Panhandle cows $3.50 to $4.30. Hogs declined 10 to 15 cents last week, but there was a noticeable improvement in the average quality and less sick stuff. More heavy hogs were included and the whole appearance of the offering was several notches above that of the preceding weeks. This in spite of more cholera talk than ever, and more cogitation among the newspapers. The run is 9,000 today, market 10 to 15 higher, top $6.35 paid for both heavy weights and mediums and lights selling at $5.75, $6.20, pigs $4.25 to $5.00.

Sheep and lamb offerings last week dropped down to 48,000 head here, market unevenly higher. Nothing prime was offered, though $6.25 was on the cards all week for the perfect article. Runs 17,000 today; market strong; again nothing fancy, top lambs $6.00, feeding lambs, around $4.50, wethers to killers at $3.25 to $3.75, ewes $3.00 to $3.35. Country buying has been up to the limit of the supply, and the outgo only diminishes reluctantly as the offerings decrease. Breeding ewes and stock stuff range from $2.00 to $4.00.

ENGLISH SYNDICATE PUTS $6,000,000 IN IRRIGATION.

San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 8.—Edmond J. Concano of London, England, representing the English syndicate that put $6,000,000 in the Medina river irrigation project, promoted by Dr. Frederick Stark Pearson, and also the interests that took the $5,000,000 bonds of the Mexican Northwestern Railroad, another of Dr. Pearson's undertakings, is in San Antonio. He came to investigate the property in its project is located on the Medina River in the Lone Star State, which the British investors have put their money and said he was pleased with the conditions and prospects. "If these investments turn out as we hope they will," said Mr. Concano.

CASCARETS INSURE INSIDE CLEANLINESS

The Millions of Cascaret Users Never Have Headache, Constipation, Bilioussness or Sick Stomach.

It is more necessary that you keep your bowels, liver and stomach clean, pure and fresh than it is to keep the sewers and drainage of a large city free from obstruction.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system the decomposed waste matter and poison in the intestines and bowels.

No odds how badly and upset you feel, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep. A 10-cent box from your druggist will keep your entire family feeling good for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

"many millions more of British money will come into Texas to aid in the development and upbuilding. The British public has much faith in Dr. Pearson and he has been and is able to command large capital in any of his projects."

Mr. Concano will go from here to Keokuk, Iowa, to inspect the great dam across the river at that place.

SALE OF LIQUOR MADE TROUBLE FOR DRUGGIST.

Colorado Springs, Nov. 8.—A full sentence of thirty days in addition to a fine of $200 and costs was the punishment meted out to E. E. Echman by Magistrate Clyde L. Starrett in police court today. Echman was convicted of selling liquor without a license. Echman's drug store on Huefano street was raided by the new police chief, Stanley D. Burno, and his special officers. Judge S. H. Kinsley, attorney for Echman declares he will fight the case in the higher courts and Echman's sentence today was suspended for one day in order to permit him to file an appeal bond of $400.

WHY DO THEY DO IT?

"Why people should weep over the imaginary sorrows shown on the stage, when there is so much real sorrow in the world, I never could understand," says a well known writer. And it is just as hard for us to see why people will suffer needlessly for months or years. Here is the case of M. Carter of South Akron, O., who says:

"For two years I was in a badly run-down condition, felt weak and miserable and lost considerable flesh. Then I heard that Vinol was a great thing to build up the body and create new strength. Now, after taking Vinol and getting so much good from it I have decided to write and tell you that it has made me strong and well again, and I have gained in weight, too."

If you are sick and weakly need new strength and better blood, take Vinol, our delicious cod liver and iron remedy, for depend upon it, that is what you need and it will build you up. We guarantee it—money back if you are not satisfied. The Capital Pharmacy, Santa Fe, N. M.

Only one way to cure a bad back. Liniment and plaster may relieve it.

They won't cure it. Backache means sick kidneys. Doan's Kidney Pills are for bad kidneys. Santa Fe people back them up. Read a case of it:

Hilaria Baca, Delgado St., Santa Fe, N. Mex., says: "About two and a half years ago I gave a public statement telling of my experience with Doan's Kidney Pills. They completely rid me of pains in my back which had troubled me off and on for months. When I stooped or brought a strain on my loins, I suffered more severely and there were various other difficulties which convinced me that my trouble came from disordered kidneys. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills and they brought prompt relief. I continued taking them and it was not long before every symptom of trouble had disappeared."

ACTUAL WORK ON EXPOSITION

Workmen Began Construction of Buildings on Monday of This Week

RARE CACTI TO BE SHOWN

President Taft Made Friends Everywhere on His Recent Trip.

Washington, Nov. 8.—Actual work has begun on the new building for the Panama-California International Exposition at San Diego in 1915.

According to schedule, say advices from San Diego, workmen began construction Monday morning, Nov. 5th, on the Administration building, plans for which, as submitted by Director of Works F. P. Allen, were formally accepted by the directors. Following this action, the committee on buildings and grounds recommended that the executive board order work to proceed on the building without delay.

Like all the other buildings to be erected for the Exposition, this will be situated on the left side of the axis of the ground plan, and at the east end of the bridge, near the California State Building. There it will form a strong feature of the architectural composition at the entrance to the grounds, in it will be located all of the offices of the Exposition and of the Division of Works, which are now located in a business building in San Diego. The Administration Building will be ready, the Director of Works says, by April 1st.

Exhibit in Washington. When Colonel D. C. Collier, Director-General of the Panama-California Exposition, was last in Washington he made arrangements for the installation of a permanent exhibit advertising the Exposition, San Diego and Southern California, to be installed in the exhibit hall in the new Southern Building, under the auspices of the organization which is giving San Diego valuable assistance in promoting the exposition.

A competent stage carpenter and scenic artist is now engaged in building the booth for San Diego. This will be designed in the Mission style, and will form a picturesque feature in the great exhibit hall. It will embody some of the well known and distinctive features of the old Missions, and the interior will show a bit of Southern California scenery such as has made that region famous in song and story. The booth will be supplied with a characteristic exhibit forwarded from California and also with literature telling about the Exposition; also with photographic views which will give an excellent idea of the country and of the Exposition as it will appear. All of the Southern states will have exhibits in this hall, and the visitors who will be attracted to it annually will number thousands.

Rare Cacti. Indications multiply that the exhibit of flora at the San Diego Exposition in 1915 will be one of the most unique, beautiful and interesting that has ever been seen. Director-General Collier regards this as one of the strong features of the Exposition. Only a few days ago there were landed in San Diego a collection of cacti, palms and other tropical flora from South America such as have never before been seen in this country. A collector had spent several years seeking them for an oil king of Los Angeles, E. L. Doheny. Some of the cacti, it is said, grow as high as the "sky-scrapers" of our modern cities. Exposition officials at once became interested and made inquiries how similar plants could be secured for the Exposition. It is intended to secure the most complete collection for the botanical gardens surrounding the Exposition that have ever been assembled anywhere.

Triumphs of the Air.

At the rate aviators are succeeding in the completion of the conquest of the air, there will be little left to learn by the time of the holding of the Panama-California International Exposition in 1915. San Diego then will offer to the world, if the plans of Director-General Collier are carried out, a complete exemplification of the art of aviation from its inception. Collier is himself an enthusiast on this subject, a member of the San Diego Aero Club, and one of the chief promoters of the sport. He has a firm ally in Glenn H. Curtiss, who has established his winter aviation school at San Diego. Curtiss has been made Commissioner of Aviation for the Exposition. He will not only superintend the gathering of the most complete collection of aeronautical apparatus ever got together, but he will make a special study of meteorological conditions on the Coast, and will do all he can to further the success of the $10,000 flight from Panama to San Diego, scheduled to take place on the opening of the canal.

Postmaster General Denies Rumors. Rumor has been busy again with the name of the Postmaster General. As Mr. Hitchcock is considered a particularly eligible bachelor, and as his work in the department is supposed to have commended him to the notice of the captains of industry, it has been rumored that he was to resign soon from the department, and also that he was to marry and "settle down." The Postmaster General has thought it wise to deny both rumors emphatically.

The President's Tip. Among politicians, the only aspect of the President's trip across the country and back is the one that has to do with its effect on the voters of the country. Did he gain votes? Is what they ask.

Impartial scrutiny of the situation seems to result in the conviction that the President made friends everywhere. Whether the opposition to him in "insurgent" communities has been overcome is a matter of doubt, but unquestionably it is a good thing for the President to show himself to the people he serves and to tell them what are his views on questions of large public policy.

Democratic Timber.

Harmon, Wilson and Clark; Wilson Harmon and Clark; Clark, Harmon and Wilson. The three Democratic leaders are seemingly leading the race in the Presidential sweepstakes, but which is in the lead depends a good deal on the section of country one happens to be in when making the inquiry. Underwood says he is not a candidate. Some of those who think they are candidates are not, in fact, in the running. But the more entries the more interesting, as a rule, the race becomes.

ELEVATION OF CERTAIN POINTS ABOVE SEA LEVEL.

United States Geological Survey Is Making Good Progress in Its Work in State of Ohio.

The United States Geological Survey is engaged in a work of recognized value to engineers, surveyors, and all others who require exact elevations of certain points above mean sea level. The Survey, in the course of its topographic mapping, establishes many bench marks of altitude, determined by precise or primary leveling. All United States Geological Survey elevations refer to mean sea level, which is the level that the sea would assume if the influence of winds and tides were eliminated.

During 1909 and 1910 the Geological Survey, in cooperation with the State, placed a great number of bench marks in position in Ohio, the work being done under the supervision of R. B. Marshall, Chief Geographer of the Survey. A list of more than 1,200 points so marked is contained in a recent publication of the Survey—Bulletin 476, "Results of Spirit Leveling in Ohio, 1909 and 1910."

Shows Altitudes to Thousandth of a Foot.

The numbers stamped on the bench marks represent the elevations to the nearest foot, but the figures given in the bulletin show each elevation to a thousandth of a foot. For instance, the highest point in the State of Ohio noted in the bulletin is described as follows:

"Carrollton, 3.7 miles east of, on farm formerly owned by Mr. Campbell, now owned by George Ray, in marble slab at triangulation station; bronze tablet stamped '1377'....."

Bulletin 476 is supplemental to Bulletin 411, which contains the results of spirit leveling in Ohio, 1898 to 1908, inclusive. In this earlier publication the highest point in the state, at that time determined by the Survey, in St. Clairsville quadrangle, is described as follows:

"Galloway Knob triangulation station, five miles east of Belmont in top of marble monument; bronze tablet '1397.143 feet."

Maps of 121 quadrangles that lie wholly or partly in Ohio have been published by the United States Geological Survey and may be obtained from the Director at Washington, D. C., for five cents each, or $3 a hundred if at least that many are ordered. An index map of this will be furnished free of charge.

A copy of Bulletin 476, or of Bulletin 411, may be obtained free, upon application to the Director of the Survey.

WATTERS ON LINCOLN

Eloquent Panegyric on Martyred President by Brilliant Kentucky Orator

CHARACTER OF THE GREAT MAN

His Personality, Origin and Spiritual Life Are Portrayed Vividly.

(By Special Licensed Wire to New Mexican) Frankfort, Ky., Nov. 8.—Henry Watters, editor of the Louisville Courier Journal, delivered an address here today on Abraham Lincoln on the occasion of the unveiling of the Lincoln Memorial. Mr. Watters' oration was devoted mainly to the "personality, the origin, and spiritual life and character" of Abraham Lincoln. He gave a minute account of the Lincoln and Hanks families derived from documentary evidence; disproved the falsehoods touching Lincoln's birth and traced his noble qualities of head and heart to his mother. In concluding this passage he said:

"Tomorrow there will assemble in a little clearing of the wildwood of Kentucky a goodly company. It will embrace the greatest and the best of our time and land. The President and the Chief Justice and the rest will gather round a lowly cabin whose unwholeness like the serried battlements of Elsinore gave prelude to the swelling act of a theme yet more imperial to consecrate a shrine. Of him that was born there the earthly word was spoken long ago; but Mother of God shall that throng pass down the hillside and away without looking in to the Heaven above in unutterable love and homage with the thought of a spirit there which knew in this world nought of splendor and power and fame; whose sad lot it was to live and die in obscurity, struggle, almost in penury and squalor; whose tragic fate it was after she had laid half a lifetime in her humble, unmarked grave, to be pursued by the deepest, darkest, canyons that can attach itself to the name of woman; the hapless, the fair-haired Nancy Hanks?"

"No fatter fool story ever gained currency than that which impeaches the character of the mother of Abraham Lincoln. It had never any foundation whatsoever. Every known fact flatly contradicts it. Every aspect of circumstantial evidence stamps it a preposterous lie.

It was a period of heroic achievement tempered by religious fervor. It was a pious, God-fearing neighborhood of simple hard-working men and women. Debauchery was unknown. Double-living was impossible. Thomas Lincoln and Nancy Hanks, as I have shown, came of good people. Historically it would not matter who were the parents of Abraham Lincoln any more than it matters that he whom the English monarch is proud to call his progenitor was a bastard; but it offends the soul of a brave and just manhood, it should arouse in the heart of every true woman a sense of wrong that so much shadow should rest upon the memory of the little cabin in which Nancy Lincoln gave to the world an immortal son, born in clean, unchallenged wedlock, not thought of taint or shame anywhere.

Let no one of those that gather there go hence without a heart salute to the gentle spirit of Nancy Hanks Lincoln, that maybe, somewhere beyond the stars, among the angels of the choir invisible, will look upon the scene serene and safe at last in the bosom of her Father and her God!

His story of the love-life of Lincoln and his relations with Joshua Fry Speed, an uncle of the donor of this statue, in the early days at Springfield, Illinois was illustrative and interesting. He said:

It is of record that he stood closer to Joshua Fry Speed than to any other. The ties of early manhood between the two were never broken. To the end Lincoln could turn to Speed certain to get the truth, equally sure of sound counsel and unselfish fidelity.

He was one of these men," says John Hay, "who seem to have to a surpassing degree the genius of friendship, the Pythias, the Pylades, the Horatios of the world. . . . It is hardly too much to say that he was the only, as he certainly was the intimate friend that Lincoln ever had. . . . They knew the inmost thoughts of each other's hearts and each depended upon the honesty and loyalty of the other."

The story of the way their intimacy began and how they came to abide together relates that, entering Speed's store in Springfield saddle bags on arm, the just arrived Lincoln ascertained that the domestic outfit he required would cost the enormous sum of seventeen dollars. "I had no idea it would cost half of that," said he, "and I haven't the money to pay for it; but, if you'll wait upon me until Christmas, and I make anything I'll pay; and if I don't I can't." Then said Speed: "I can do better for you than that. I have all the things you want and I sleep on a bed that's big enough for two. You just come and bunk with me and it shall cost you nothing." He pointed the way around a pile of boxes and barrels and up a flight of stairs. Lincoln went as directed and quickly returned but without the saddle-bags. "Speed," said he, "I've moved."

Conscience and destiny had joined forces to write a drama such as may not be found elsewhere outside the pages of romance; as compact and unified as a Greek tragedy, mystical and weird, but real. Speed was short of stocky build, not given to loquacity, a little abrupt in speech to the end of his days. Lincoln was very tall and angular, conciliatory, patient, never wanting the persuasive word. He might have described himself and his friend as he once described himself and his wife, as "the long and the short of it."

The first and most serious affair of life to them was marriage. The amatory matters which engaged and engrossed them were not many, but they cut deep. Lincoln had already had what he thought was his finishing stroke in the death of Annie Rutledge when he met Mary Todd. Speed's love passage with Fanny Henning was to come later. Each as the sequel showed suffered the common lot of heartache, as each in turn and in the hour of trouble delivered to the other fraternal wisdom and comfort.

"In the year 1840," I quote from the Hay-Nicolay biography, "Abraham Lincoln became engaged to be married to Miss Mary Todd of Lexington, Kentucky. . . . The engagement was not in all respects a happy one, as both parties doubted their compatibility. . . . His affection for his betrothed, which he feared was not strong enough to make happiness with her secure; his doubts which yet were not convincing enough to induce him to break off all relations with her; his sense of honor which was wounded in his own eyes by his own act; his sense of duty which condemned him in one course and did not sustain him in the opposite course, combined to make him profoundly and passionately wretched. To his friends who were unused to such finely wrought and even fantastic sorrows his trouble seemed to exaggerated that they could only account for it on the ground of insanity."

But he was not mad. Speed picked him up bodily, as it were and carried him off to Kentucky and into the bosom of his own happy and pious family circle, where he quickly recovered his equilibrium, returning to Springfield himself again. It was Speed who, on this home visit, met his fate, and in perturbation of spirit, exchanged places with Lincoln. Lincoln who became the physician of his friend, out of his own experience administered the needed medicine of thoughtful and tender sympathy.

The correspondence is yet extant revealing the innermost throes of two natures exquisitely strung and stretched to their tension, neither Hamlet, nor Werther, close upon the edge of the precipice which happily was withheld from them. This period of travail endured for nearly two years, from 1840 to 1842, the close of the latter year finding them safely married. Less than twenty years thereafter—two short decades—Lincoln, elected President of the United States, wrote to Speed: "It is like a dream, isn't it?"

Mr. Watters told a graphic story of the coming of Lincoln to Washington and his first inauguration. His narrative took the form of a personal reminiscence. "I was engaged by Mr. Gobright, the General Manager of the Associated Press in the National Capital," said he, "to assist him and Ma-

Facts About Motherhood

The experience of Motherhood is a trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred understands how to properly care for her self. Of course, every woman needs to be prepared or understands how to properly care for her self. Of course, every woman needs to be prepared or understands how to properly care for her self. Of course, every woman needs to be prepared or understands how to properly care for her self.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and indeed child-birth under right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, women will persist in going blindly to the trial.

It isn't as though the experience came upon them unawares. They have ample time in which to prepare, but they, for the most part, trust to chance and pay the penalty.

In many homes once childless there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy, and strong.

Any woman who would like special advice in regard to this matter is cordially invited to write to Mrs. Pinkham at Lynn, Mass. Her letter will be held in strict confidence.

Corrected and quickly returned but without the saddle-bags. "Speed," said he, "I've moved."

THE PRESIDENT AND BUSINESS.

We are becoming quite certain that there is too little hard-headed thinking in connection with the present political situation as it relates to business and the present business situation as it relates to politics. There is on all sides a disposition to join in an outcry against Mr. Taft and Mr. Wickersham, his attorney general, for being entirely responsible for unsettling business and checking prosperity. One would suppose that Mr. Taft was sitting up nights devising schemes to make money and that Mr. Wickersham was plotting to fill the jails with our masters of industry.

When the facts are looked at it is discovered that the Standard Oil company which was prosecuted under Mr. Taft, has managed to divide up its property into a score and a half of corporations and not a dollar of investment has been lost. The tobacco trust, which was also prosecuted, is now preparing to disintegrate on different plans and vested rights have not been interfered with. The harvest trust has gone into court, complied with certain well-known rules regulating competition and monopoly and has got a clean bill of health. The electrical trust has done the same thing, and if it behaves itself will continue to have "O. K." stamped upon its charter. The steel corporation has canceled its ore lease in the northwest, which according to its directors, never should have been made, and by doing this has perhaps divested itself of illegality under the Sherman law.

All the President said about it is that the laws will be enforced if it ruins him politically. All that Mr. Wickersham has said is that corporations must come within the law.

Why, then, all this loose talk about Mr. Taft's being responsible for the destruction of all business? Business has not been destroyed. What is needed is a little more cheerfulness, more optimism. As was said of Kansas they should raise more corn and less b—!

Do the assailants of Mr. Taft fancy that if Governor Wilson of New Jersey, Governor Harmon of Ohio, Governor Marshall of Indiana, Governor Fess of Massachusetts or Speaker Champ-Clark were elected President under the political overturn they are seeking to promote they would be any better off so far as immunity is concerned? Would they any less need a cyclone cellar?

VITAL STATISTICS OF CITIES.

A preliminary statement of vital statistics relative to nine cities in the Census Bureau's death registration area for the year 1910 was issued today by Census Director Durand. It was prepared under the supervision of Dr. Cressy L. Wilbur, chief statistician for vital statistics in the Census Bureau. The figures are subject to such revision as may be necessary after further examination of the original transcripts, although it is not believed that there will be any material corrections of the amounts and rates stated herein.

The death rate per 1,000 population are based upon the estimated mid-year population for 1910. Still births are excluded from the figures.

In Montgomery, Alabama, in 1910 there were 1,008 deaths and a death rate of 26.4; in Battle Creek, Michigan, 423 deaths and a rate of 16.7; in Lincoln, Nebraska, 485 deaths, 11.9 rate; in Dayton, Ohio, 1,724 deaths, 14.8 rate; Williamsport, Pennsylvania, 490 deaths, 15.3 rate; Galveston, Texas, 600 deaths, 16.2 rate; Danville, Virginia, 388 deaths, 20.4 rate; Lynchburg, Virginia, 473 deaths, 16.0 rate; and La Crosse, Wisconsin, 425 deaths, 14.3 rate.

Of the nine cities, Montgomery shows the highest rate, it being 6 more per 1,000 population than that of Danville, the city exhibiting the next highest rate. Lincoln's rate was the lowest of all, being less than one half that of Montgomery and Danville. La Crosse and Dayton were the next lowest.

There are 1641 meat packing establishments in the United States in which $33,249,000 of capital are invested, and which consume one and a quarter billions worth of material annually. These establishments pay out each year $72,000,000 in wages and salaries. More than 100,000 people are given employment and more than 200,000 horsepower used to drive the machinery. It is a great industry and how vital to the existence of the nation may be gathered from the fact that last year it sold more than four and a third billion pounds of beef, an amount equally as great of pork; half a billion pounds of mutton, a quarter billion pounds of veal, all the products being worth more than one and a third billion dollars.

It is lucky to hold a state convention at Santa Fe. The mistakes of the Republicans began in this campaign when in the eleventh hour they decided to hold their convention away from the capital.

There will be many to dispute that the Journal and Hagerman did it but will the more eloquent tale.

THE DAILY NEWSPAPER.

Andrew Carnegie says that the most important thing in the world is the cheapest—a daily newspaper. It is a marvel to him as it is to many others, how a complete newspaper containing all the news of the world, can be issued for a nickel.

The modern newspaper is a wonderful institution. Thousands of men and women are constantly working for it. They dwell in all lands and are on duty at every hour of the day and night. A million eyes are observing and reporting events in order that the reader, when he tosses a nickel to the newsboy or picks up the paper at the breakfast table, may know the record of the previous day. The telegraph wires are laden with news. Into a tremendous hopper goes the product of human brains—correspondence, local happenings, editorial views, sporting and social intelligence—all gathered with an industry that is tireless. When it comes out of the hopper upon the printed pages it represents the best effort of those who are purveyors of news for the public.

The trouble is, always, that the space of a paper is limited by a certain number of pages and columns, while the amount of matter that offers itself for publication is absolutely endless. Never was anything faster than the notion that a newspaper editor needs "something to fill up." The task of the editor is to find space in which to print the enormous quantity of material which piles upon his desk. More than half the time is occupied in condensation. And then, when the thousands of words have been read and edited and the newspaper is offered to the public, the wonder is that there are so few errors in print. Working constantly under tremendous strain, written sentences being covered into type in the twinkling of an eye, the necessity of haste always hanging overhead like Damocles's sword—amid all the pressure, the proportion of inaccuracy is so small that an error is the exception rather than the rule.

When the result of all this effort is offered for a nickel there is no doubt that Mr. Carnegie is right when he says that the most important thing in the world is the cheapest.

To what proportion manufacturing in the smaller towns has grown, is demonstrated by a series of bulletins issued by the Census Bureau today. In the city of Allentown, Pa., which a few decades ago was not much more than a bucolic village, the payroll of factories and mills last year amounted to $5,936,000. In the city of South Bethlehem, Pa., only one of four boroughs clustered together on the Lehigh river the payroll last year was almost $6,000,000. At Erie, Pa., in the same period, $6,390,000 were paid out in wages; at Youngstown, Ohio, $9,427,000 and at Toledo, Ohio $13,542,000. What it would mean to Santa Fe, if it had an annual payroll of that size, businessmen can easily figure out. Such an annual income is not at all possible, for in every one of those towns mentioned, manufacturing is a modern development, and some of the manufacturing cities today that have marvelous payrolls did not exist a few decades ago.

Next week, Santa Fe will entertain from 500 to 1,000 visitors at the New Mexico Educational Association. Addresses from all parts of the territory indicate an unprecedented attendance. Not only are the teachers coming, but in some instances the pupils too. Many of the teachers expect to bring relatives and Santa Fe's hotel and restaurant facilities will be taxed to even greater extent than during the Democratic state convention. The Chamber of Commerce has thus far done nothing toward the reception of entertainment of the visitors. Yet, it is highly important that the city's guests should take away with them a pleasant impression of the Capital.

North Carolina in the Census year raised $12,000,000 worth of cotton, $28,000,000 worth of cereals, mostly corn; $3,000,000 worth of forage plants; $14,000,000 worth of tobacco; more than $4,000,000 worth of sweet potatoes; almost $2,000,000 worth of other potatoes; more than $5,000,000 worth of peanuts; and more than a million dollars worth of peas. This illustrates the wealth that lies in a diversity of field crops and there is no reason to doubt that before many years, New Mexico, too, will make a better record in the total yield of its field crops than it has done in the past.

The detailed election returns indicate there was an immense amount of trading done of votes for the State ticket in exchange for votes for individuals on county and legislative tickets. The Democratic state ticket gained thereby and the Republican ticket lost. The Democratic candidates for county and legislative office lost through it and those on the Republican ticket gained. Like in all trades it hasn't been all gain nor has it been all loss except for the individuals directly affected.

Other states and nations have their revolutions too.

Mars is having his innings during the close of 1911. Bloodshed in impending warfare in Persia and on China, a clash between Turkey and Italy, impending warfare in Persia and on top of it a boundary conflict between Peru and Colombia and a little rebellion in Honduras are keeping in the record on the Western Continental that was begun in Mexico, and a Republican legislature is about to meet with a Democratic governor in the Executive Mansion.

The men who gambled on the election the wrong way, should be convinced more than ever, that there is nothing in gambling, and that a man cannot expect to reap where he has not sown. As to the other fellow, he will try it again and go broke some other day. It is a ways war on the same in the end, that the bad and his money are soon parted, and that gambling is as about as easy a method with which to do the parting as throwing the money to the birds.

There is not much consolation in the fact that Holm O. Barsum carried the rest of the territory outside of the Lower Pecos Valley and Bernalillo county.

It is a wise party that profits by its defeats and a prudent man who benefits by his mistakes.

HIS LEG WAS MADE OF CORK

Young Commercial Traveler Loses Bet on Question of Endurance of Men of Present Day.

They were sitting in the smoking room of the hotel, and the conversation was about endurance as shown by men of the past and present. During a lull in the conversation a young commercial traveler said: "Any man, if he has the will-power, can endure pain or fatigue; I know I can." There was silence for a moment, and an older man replied: "I'll wager a dinner you can't hold your foot—boot on—in a bucket of hot water as long as I can." The offer was taken, and two buckets of hot water were brought in, as well as a kettle of boiling water to raise the temperature to the point of endurance. In went a foot of each contestant. Soon the young man's face began to pale, but the other called for more boiling water. "What on earth is your leg made of, sir?" said the former, suddenly taking his foot from the bucket. "Cork, sir—cork!" was the cool answer, and the other felt that he had indeed lost.

Nothing Doing. The bill collector had made another call at the humble dwelling of Bernard Palissy.

"Is your husband at home, madam?" he asked.

"He is in his workshop, I think," answered the wife.

"Pottering around as usual, I suppose."

There being no broomstick or other piece of wood in the house, the indignant woman chased him out with a fustian.

KNOW HER RING.

Mrs. Smith—I have rung at Mrs. Jones' door three times this week, and I didn't succeed in arousing anyone. I suppose the family is out of town.

Mrs. Brown—Possibly. But Mrs. Jones was telling me this morning that she could tell your ring among a thousand.

Or Anybody's. "I saw Mrs. Gaddie downtown early this morning and she told me she was on her way to the office. I didn't know she was interested in any business."

"Oh, yes; she has always been interested in any business."—Catholic Standard and Times.

Disturbed, but Not Rattled. Irate Father (coming upon them suddenly)—What do you mean, sir, by embracing my daughter?

The Young Man—Miss Clarice and I are rehearsing the love scene in a little amateur drama our club is to present shortly. Fine evening, isn't it, Mr. Jordle?

A Pleasant Prospect. "It's warm, but think of what's to come. And let us not despair. Ere long will frost our frames benumb and snowflakes fill the air."

Embarrassing Effort. "Good intentions ought to count for something," remarked the generous person.

"But they don't," replied Miss Cayenne. "The most impolite acquaintance I have is one who lets you see what an effort she is making to be polite."

Makes It Embarrassing. "Why were you so anxious to get away from that man?" "He's a Socialist." "I know, but he's a very decent sort. Nothing at all dangerous about him." "Oh, yes, but I always hate to have to argue with a man who seems to know all about everything."

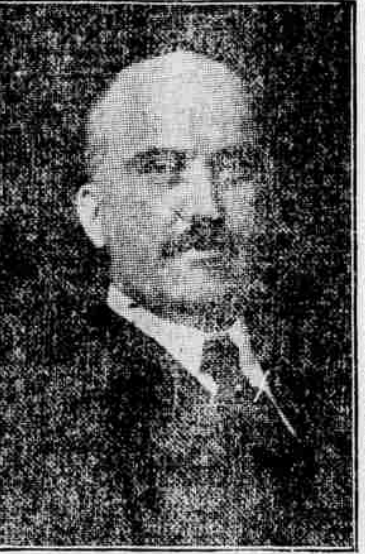

WEST'S EXHIBIT OF GREAT IDEAS

A CONVENTION OF MEN WITH PLANS AT KANSAS CITY NOV. 14 TO 17.

The Trans-Mississippi Congress, with Colonel Fred Fleming at its head, will hear the Aldrich Arguments and the Hadley and Stubbs Side, Too.

The Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress, which meets in Kansas City Nov. 14 to 17, will hear ex-Senator Aldrich argue his currency reform. It is the Monetary Commission's first public declaration to the people of the West, and more than four hundred bankers and financiers from over the nation will gather to hear the author of the plan, which he claims will make the country panic proof, explain the merits of its context. But everyone does not favor the bill, and the opponents will also be present to voice dissenting opinions, and express other ideas of ridding the country of its present financial tightness.

For this is what the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress is for—to discuss the things that are wrong and propose remedies. It is, in fact, the Western clearing house for ideas, and the national legislators pay strict attention to the expressions of this clearing house.

The congress has assumed such importance and magnitude that the foremost statesmen, business men, law makers, farmers and financiers of the country attend in order to catch the drift of public opinion. At this meeting will be at least six of the twenty governors who rule the territory covered by the congress. Governor Herbert Hadley of Missouri, will open the congress with an address of welcome, and in this address he will sound the keynote of the import of the meeting. Governor John Burke of North Dakota, who is president of the Missouri River Improvement Association, will speak on the Upper Missouri River. Governor C. A. Aldrich of Nebraska, will talk on the Regulation of Inter-State Rates and Their Relation to the Producer and Consumer. Governor O. B. Colquhitt of Texas, Governor W. R. Stubbs of Kansas and Governor John F. Shafroth of Colorado, will make addresses. Nearly two hundred government heads, senators and congressmen will attend the meeting. Darwin P. Kingsley, president of the New York Life Insurance Company, will speak on Life Insurance and Justice, and Fred

GOV. HERBERT HADLEY, Of Missouri, will deliver the Address of Welcome and Serve as a Member of the Program Committee.

W. Fleming, president of the Kansas City Life Insurance Company, is president of the congress this year and will preside at all meetings.

Charles H. Hadley, speaker of the House of Representatives, who is talked of for president, will address the congress during the four-days' session, and he will be the main subject. S. M. Spencer, chairman of the House Committee on Rivers and Harbors, will also be one of the speakers on the subject of waterways are: S. M. Spencer, Secretary of Kansas City, and William E. Borah of Idaho and Alva Adams, former governor of Colorado, will be on the reclamation of land by drainage and irrigation. Charles H. Hadley of St. Louis, former governor of Missouri, and John L. Powell, president of the Southwestern States' Association, will be among those who will talk on interstate rates.

From the west of the Mississippi River, and from Alaska, Hawaii and the Philippine Islands scores of delegates will come, ripe with ideas and suggestions to be placed before the congress. From each state of the Trans-Mississippi country, will come twenty delegates, created so by their governor's appointment, and from each commercial club, board of trade, chamber of commerce, clearing house association and any other business or industrial organization so desiring, not more than ten delegates will take part in the deliberations of this congress.

It is a "free forum" of the West, in which all peoples and classes participate. Through its efforts millions of dollars have been appropriated for waterways and irrigation improvements in the West, and scores of laws have been passed by the national congress regulating the commercial conduct of the country.

The Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress was organized in 1891, though its real birth was in Denver in the eighties, when Governor Alva Adams of Colorado, called into session the deep waterways interests. Other organizations whose object was practical waterways were also existent. The West, though it had grown into a country of wealth and prominence, was unable, because of a lack of political prestige, to obtain appropriations from congress for improving its waterways. The East, skilled in using the power of politics, "got the money." Tiring of such treatment, Kansas struck the first blow for recognition by calling a Western States Convention to be held in Kansas City, April 14 to 17, in 1891.

Men of national prominence answered the call, and for an infant step the move was a success. Later in the year in Manitou, Colo., this organization combined with two others of similar object—the Trans-Mississippi Congress and the Deep Water Convention—and formed the existing Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress.

Always first with the congress is river improvements. This year it is especially anxious to father a resolution which will result in congress appropriating twenty million dollars for making the Missouri River navigable between Kansas City and St. Louis. The Kansas City-Missouri River Navigation Company, which is now running boats on the river, and the Missouri River Improvement Association are not going to allow the congress to adjourn without adopting a resolution favoring this appropriation. It is very probable that Governor John Burke of South Dakota, interested in the Upper Missouri as its president, will call a special session of the Missouri Improvement Association to meet here in conjunction with the Trans-Mississippi.

SPEAKER CHAMP CLARK, Who will attend the Trans-Mississippi Congress and deliver an address. He is a strong probability as Democratic Candidate for President.

This is the third time that the congress has met in Kansas City. It got its swaddling clothes in Kansas City, and again in 1906 when it had assumed powerful proportions, it met here. Convention Hall is designated as the meeting place, though special meetings will be held every morning in downtown theaters. The hall will seat 15,000 persons. As a feature of the entertainment Congressman William P. Borland of Kansas City, has obtained governmental permission to have the Panama pictures exhibited at the congress. Lieutenant George Goehals, son of the head of the Panama work, will show the pictures and talk on the canal. This is the first time the pictures have been shown publicly.

As another feature of entertainment the Kansas City Commercial Club will spread a huge banquet in Convention hall on the night of Nov. 14, in its annual celebration of the John Jay Treaty, particularly appropriate in connection with the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress. Fifteen hundred plates will be spread.

Delegates may be appointed by Commercial Clubs, Mayors of cities and towns and boards of county commissioners. Reduced rates have been authorized by the railroads to Kansas City.

ALMOST TEN MILLION BALES OF COTTON GINNED
(By Special Landed Wire to New Mexico)
Washington, D. C., Nov. 8.—With 9,968,172 bales of cotton of the growth of 1911, ginned prior to November 1, as announced today by the Census Bureau, the promised record-breaking cotton crop of this season is fast being made for the manufacturer.
The amount ginned to November 1, exceeds by 1,777,000 bales that ginned in 1908, the previous record. It is also larger than the ginning to May 14 of any year being about 200,000 bales more than that ginned to that date in 1904, the record year. This would indicate that the crop was at least two weeks earlier in maturing and reaching the gins.
Calculations of the years total crop based on the ginning reports, therefore probably would be more accurate if figured on the November 1 reports of other years. In previous records about 70 per cent of the total crop has been ginned to that date and a rough estimate of this year's crop might be placed at a minimum of 14-16,000 bales. Commercial estimates
however range up to more than 15,
000,000 bales.

Moon-Blind-ness

By Martha McCulloch-Williams

(Copyright, 1911, by Associated Literary Press.)

"Marplot! Have I got to tie you?" Mrs. Velvin demanded gleefully, flinging a length of ribbon about Rayner's arm. "No doubt you want to go inside and talk to Patty. Content yourself, sir, with me! Even me! Patty is a luxury. She wouldn't be at all good for you. Not for your career. And I have but just got her and young Athley well settled for the evening. If he stays until 11, I shall know he has stayed."

"How shall you know it?" Rayner interrupted, smiling, yet not quite easily.

Mrs. Velvin laughed softly. "Patty is a wise virgin," she said. "She never sacrifices her beauty sleep for trifles. O, no!" as she caught Rayner's look of annoyance. "She won't accept him—not on three days' acquaintance—she will merely take him under consideration. Trust my child for that! I have brought her up even more beautifully than if she were my very own."

"H'm! Are you six or two years her elder?" Rayner demanded.

Again Mrs. Velvin laughed. "As though it mattered—the least bit," she said. "By Bible count I am four years ahead of my husband's near daughter. Spiritually I'm four centuries—but for me the child would have grown absurdly sentimental."

"Then—I wish she had had another stepmother," Rayner broke out. Still—I refuse to believe even you, much as she loves you, can make her mercenary, cold and calculating. When she marries it will be a man, not his money."

"Why not say a man and his money?" Mrs. Velvin asked archly.

"You can't deny, as you are, that Athley is a good sort."

"But not good enough for Patty—she deserves the very best," Rayner began eagerly.

"Meaning yourself?" Mrs. Velvin interposed with a pretense of a yawn.

Then she got up and half dragged Rayner out into a moonlit garden, rose-scented, vital with the spice-breath of pinks.

"Listen to the words of wisdom," she began. "I'm your friend in this—even more than Patty's. You are frightfully ambitious—you have so much in you it is no wonder. Remember Kipling, 'He travels fastest who travels alone.' With Patty you'd be too happy—you'd let go everything but money-making—care for nothing but to keep her in cotton-wool, and give her jewels and rings and all the fine things. Take my word for it, you'll never be a great man without the spur of unhappiness."

"Stop mocking!" Rayner said, hotly. She went on as if he had not spoken. "As Patty's husband, you'd have five years of bliss absolute. Thea—you'd remember—and regret. You'd see the men you know are your inferiors going ahead, each in his way—and you standing still. You'd be sour and discontented. And that would make my girl miserable. So let her be. I won't have her miserable. She was made to be fed on the roses and laid in the lilacs of life."

"I don't believe it. Anyway I shall ask her," Rayner said more hotly than before. He stepped past Mrs. Velvin and onto the piazza where had quitted it. It gave through long French windows upon the dim-lit parlor, where Athley sat basking in Patty's presence. Rayner peered at them, grinding his teeth. He had sought them full of a mad impulse—it died at sight of them securely conventional—Patty at the piano, striking a minor chord now and then; Athley telling sprightly tales of life in Paris.

He had spent a year there, making believe to study philosophy. He had come away not much wiser than he went—still he had a certain air. Further, his globe-trotting gave him a long advantage conversationally. He had good eyes, and a certain knack of seeing the humorous side of all things.

How could even a desperate lover burst in upon such a pair and demand that the girl take instant choice? Rayner had been courting Patty steadfastly for six months. He had never got around to proposing—by ill luck he had thought—now he began to realize it was by will of Mrs. Velvin. Athley was palpably hit—still he was not a declared suitor. Convention may shackle even burning jealousy—Rayner merely called a gay good night through the window, shot past it, mounted and galloped headlong away.

As the thudding hoofs grew fainter, Patty got up and walked to the window, straining her eyes through the moonlight, yet seeing nothing. Suddenly she shivered. "I wish Billy were not riding Daredevil tonight," she said. "He is gentle as a dog by daylight—but moonshine sets him wild."

"O! I dare say his master can manage him," Athley returned. "They tell me at the club he can manage anything, even women," laughing significantly after the last word. Then with a mock sigh, "You don't wonder I envy him a bit?"

"Why! How can you help it?" Patty cried with artless cruelty. "He is so out of the common every way. He manages horses and women by not being afraid of them. Both know they can trust him—unless they happen to be moon-blind."

"So you believe in moon-blindness. I thought that superstition had been thoroughly discredited," Athley said lightly.

Patty did not answer—she was listening too intently. There was a break in the hoofbeats—with wilder thudding after it. Over her shoulder she cried to Athley, "Daredevil is running now—come help me find Billy."

"You think he has been thrown?" Athley panted, struggling after the flying figure.

"I know it—he would hold Daredevil to the last," she answered, her voice sharp with terror.

They ran silently down the road until it turned sharply in a little glade. The white moon made it almost as light as day—thus Patty saw two figures in the middle of it—Billy Rayner safe and sound, supporting a woman evidently half-fainting. Athley touched her arm, saying significantly:

"I think we had better go back." Patty could grow no whiter, but she turned upon him eyes that blazed. "I am not saying," she said clearly, then in higher key: "Billy—what is the trouble?"

"I don't quite understand—y—et," Rayner answered. "This lady," bowing to the drooping figure, "had lost herself—and came out of the woods to ask the way. That scared Daredevil—I got down from him though—and he ran off home. Perhaps you can reassure the lady—she—she—seems to be upset."

"No—only unhappy," the stranger cried, suddenly uncovering her face. "So unhappy I shall die unless you tell me where to find him. You know—the man I love—Steven Athley."

"I have brought him to you," Patty said, running forward and dragging Athley.

The stranger flung up her hands—white hands, soft and heavily ringed. "O Steven! Steven! Forgive me!" she moaned. "I—I had to come. Remember I have not seen you since Paris. And the minute I knew—"

"Please spare explanations, Mabel," Athley said curtly. "I suppose you are staying with the Cudwins—let me take you to them at once."

"Anywhere—so you take me," the woman sighed, drooping toward him. He looked helplessly from her to Patty and back again, then held out his hands to imprison both of hers. Something in Patty's steadfast gaze had shamed him into manliness.

"I will explain," he said, his head high. "Mabel—Miss Gray I mean—was my good angel in Paris. Indeed I think we should have got married there but for a senseless quarrel. Neither of us saw things quite right."

"I know—you were moon-blind. People get that way the same as horses," Patty interrupted with an eloquent look at Rayner.

He took her hand openly and laid his lips against it, saying joyously, "Happily it is only a temporary affliction; we come to clear vision after a little while."

"Oh, do we?" Patty asked with her most superbly indifferent air.

He shook his head at her, but said emphatically, "We do. In proof take this."

And with that he kissed her full on the mouth.

WAS TOO VALUABLE TO LOSE

Good Reason for Proprietor's Indignation When His Proud Chef Was Insulted.

It was at a seaside hotel, and as three or four of us were walking along the beach at low tide and picking up shells we came across a colored man who was walking with a cane and a strut and had the bearing of a czar. He gave us no notice, but one of our crowd ventured to ask him:

"Sir, do you own the earth?"

The man made no reply.

"Excuse me, sir," continued the questioner, "but have the rest of us your permission to live out the summer?"

The czar never winked an eye in reply, but continued his parade, and we passed on and left him. When we returned to the hotel we were joined by the landlord, and he was asked if he knew the colored man, and how much of North America he really owned.

"Good heavens, but you don't tell me that you have been making fun of that man!" he exclaimed in reply.

He was told what had passed, and he held up his hands and almost shouted:

"You have ruined me! I shall have to shut up the hotel within three days!"

"But why?" we all asked in chorus.

"Because that colored man is my chef. He allows me as a personal favor to run this hotel. He permits me to fill it with guests. He unbends enough to allow me to hire other help. He will feel insulted at your remarks, and give me warning that I must close the place within three days. How could you do such a thing, and you my friends!"

It seemed a hopeless case at first sight, but after we had gone in a body to the chef and made our humble apologies and promised never to do so any more, he melted, and graciously permitted things to continue on.

He paid for it.

Caddy—I got that ball we lost this morning, sir—got it from a small boy. Gopher—Good. Let's see—what did you give him for it?

Caddy—A flip under the lug, sir—Punch.

Reform.

Knicker—What's the matter?

Bocker—My wife is trying to apply the fixed post scheme to me.

The Attraction.

I met a merry married man Who didn't care to roam. He said "A watermelon she is on the ice at home."

Risky.

"Is the lunch room you patronize well lighted?"

"Yes."

"That's good."

"Why do you say, 'That's good'?"

"Because I once heard of a fellow who went into a lunch room who was rather dark and mistook a cockroach for a lima bean."

Change of Opinion.

"It is a woman's especial privilege to change her mind."

"Perhaps," replied Miss Cayenne, "but I haven't heard of any suffragettes who were demanding 'the recall.'"

Sarcastic Rejoinder.

"You have a little garden plot, I see."

"Nothing of the sort. This is a strip of Sahara which I improved for the express purpose of raising camels."

Advertising Talks

CO-OPERATION AS AN AID TO ADVERTISERS

By GEORGE S. SANTA.

The link that makes effective all general advertising, as done by the national advertisers, lies in the hands of the retailers of this country. Advertising has given to the manufacturer a grasp upon his market unprecedented in the times before advertising was known as it is today.

Still, the manufacturers, with the exception of a negligible few who attempt to co-operate on a mail-order basis, have only one way of getting to the consumer, and that is by the shelves and counters of the retailers. Three-fourths of the advertising which the advertiser does is prudently aimed at the cultivation of the retailer's good will, and to get him to stock the advertiser's goods.

So, while the general advertiser establishes his brand, his name, or his trademark in the public mind, he feels that part of his ammunition must be given over to the retailer to carry out and complete the circuit of the sale. It is exceptional now for a manufacturer to adopt any other than a broad and liberal policy of dealing with the retailer and especially is this true in the matter of advertising.

I believe that retailers generally are slow to appreciate this fact. They often complain of mail-order competition when they have in their own hands the instruments with which to completely overpower this competition.

In the first place, your mail-order house is denied entrance to the advertising columns of the local newspapers. Secondly, the mail-order houses cannot sell well-advertised lines and articles which bear a known name and trademark, because the manufacturers, in general, protect the retailer.

Bearing in mind these facts the retailer should plan his own campaign of action. Let him put his name behind the name of the nationally advertised products and jump into his home paper. Some may object and say that they do not propose to advertise as article and establish a trade for it, only to be placed at the mercy of the manufacturer. But this argument is weak. Isolated cases where the manufacturer has taken advantage of the merchant are not to be compared with the uniform practice of the former in assisting. In every way he can, the efforts of the retailer.

The retailer gains prestige for his store by connecting his name with an article possessing national fame. He is furnished by the manufacturer with valuable advertising matter for distribution. He should see that every piece of it is faithfully distributed. He is given electro and advertising suggestions for newspaper use. He should make use of these. Further, let him call upon the manufacturer's advertising department for suggestions and help. He can, in this way, command the time of the best-paid advertising men in the country.

This is what we mean by "Co-operation—the Link in Advertising." It cannot be realized without the retailer's participation and the "wise ones" will catch on.

MAMMOTH CAVE AN EXAMPLE

Famous Kentucky Resort Illustrates Necessity of Keeping Before the Public Constantly.

"The Mammoth cave, Kentucky—how many people today know anything about this wonder of nature?" writes William C. Freeman.

"Yet, 60 years ago it was one of the most popular resorts in the country, and statistics show that it was visited by 30,000 people each year. Today less than one-tenth that number visit the cave."

"What has caused this falling off in interest?"

"Because Mammoth cave no longer has an advertising man."

"In the olden days newspapers and magazines devoted pages of description and illustration to the cave. As a result of this publicity (which was given free, by the way) thousands thronged to the cave."

"When Mammoth cave dropped out of the category of news (which was when publications awakened to the fact that their space had a standard value)—when the free publicity stopped, the cave was forgotten."

"Mammoth cave can be made just as popular today as it ever was, if it tells the people through paid publicity what it has to offer, why they should visit it—how they can get there and what the accommodations are."

"The public today spends practically ten times as much money for traveling as it did in the palmy days of the Mammoth cave, and there is no reason why this resort should not get its share of this money, but the only way it can get it is to advertise for it."

"I am indebted to three or my very good friends in the advertising business for bringing these facts to my attention."

"It is another strong illustration of the absolute necessity of advertising regularly and persistently, week in and week out—year in and year out."

"The successful advertiser is he who advertises all of the time."

Cause of His Popularity.

"I can't see how he manages to keep on persuading pretty women to marry him."

"Oh, he always contrives to have the details of his divorce trials suppressed."

No Swatter.

"He's one of the most kind-hearted men you ever saw. He wouldn't even hurt a fly."

"If that's the case, we'd better or else a mob and run him out of town."

Territory of New Mexico, Office of the Secretary. Certificate of Comparison. I, Nathan Jaffa, Secretary of the Territory of New Mexico, do hereby certify that there was filed for record in this office at 1:15 o'clock p. m. on the eighteenth day of October A. D. 1911: Articles of Incorporation of Minnesota Santa Fe Mining Company, Number 6956, and also that I have compared the following copy of the same, with the original thereof now on file, and declare it to be a correct transcript therefrom and of the whole thereof.

Given under my hand and the Great Seal of the Territory of New Mexico, at the City of Santa Fe, the Capital, on this Eighteenth day of October, A. D. 1911.

NATHAN JAFFA, Secretary of New Mexico.

By EDWIN F. COARD, Assistant Secretary. (TERRITORIAL SEAL)

Articles of Incorporation of the Minnesota Santa Fe Mining Company. We, the undersigned hereby agree upon and adopt the following Articles of Incorporation under the provisions of the Statutes of the Territory of New Mexico, to-wit:

ARTICLE I. The name of this corporation shall be Minnesota Santa Fe Mining Company.

ARTICLE II. The location of its principal office shall be in No. 217 Johnson street, in the City of Santa Fe, Territory of New Mexico, and other offices may be maintained by this corporation by resolution of the Board of Directors, and in which place Directors' meetings may be held.

The name of the agent of said corporation, and who shall have charge of said principal office in Santa Fe, and upon whom process against the corporation may be served, is William W. Ingersoll.

ARTICLE III. Its general purposes shall be those of buying, owning, selling and dealing in, and in leasing, working and operating mines, mining lands and mining properties, including the reduction, concentration and smelting of ores and minerals, and the transaction of all necessary and incidental business connected with said main purposes, and the purchase, acquisition and ownership of all real, mixed and personal property of every name and nature necessary, convenient or incidental thereto; and it is hereby empowered to execute due bills, notes, bonds, and other evidence of indebtedness, and to secure the same by mortgages or trust deed upon its properties, or any part thereof.

ARTICLE IV. The amount of the total authorized capital stock of the corporation shall be One Million Dollars, divided into one million shares of the par value of One Dollar each. The Board of Directors is hereby empowered to sell, issue, or exchange the shares of the capital stock of the company for the purchase price of any property, real, mixed or personal, necessary or proper for its said business, and to issue stock to any amount in payment thereof and the stock so issued shall be issued full paid stock and not liable to any further call, neither shall the holder thereof be liable for any further payment therefor. The judgment of the Board of Directors therein as to the value of the property purchased shall be final and conclusive.

ARTICLE V. The amount of capital stock with which the corporation will commence business shall not be less than two thousand dollars.

The names and post-office addresses of the incorporators of this company, and the number of shares subscribed for by each, are as follows, to-wit: H. M. Farnam, Minneapolis, Minn., 1990 shares.

A. B. Craycraft, Santa Fe, N. M., 5 shares.

J. A. Carruth, Santa Fe, N. M., 5 shares.

ARTICLE VI. The period limited for the duration of this corporation shall be fifty years from the date of filing of the Articles of Incorporation thereof in the office of the Secretary of the Territory of New Mexico.

ARTICLE VII. The government and management of all the affairs of said corporation shall be vested in a Board of three Directors, and the following named persons shall constitute and serve as the first Board of Directors, and for the following terms, to-wit:

H. M. Farnam, for the period of five years from its incorporation; A. B. Craycraft, for the period of four years from its incorporation; and J. A. Carruth for a period of three years from its incorporation, and including the first three months for all of the directors. The provision of statute requiring the election of Directors by ballot, is hereby waived. Vacancies in the Board of Directors and in office may be filled for unexpired terms by the Board of Directors, and the Board of Directors may from time to time fix the compensation to be paid by the corporation to its officials, executive committee and agents.

ARTICLE VIII. The annual meetings of the stockholders and at which Directors may be elected subject to the foregoing article, shall be held on the second Monday of January, beginning with the year 1913, and at the principal office of the company in New Mexico. Notice thereof shall be given as provided in the by-laws of the company. Cumulative voting is hereby prohibited.

ARTICLE IX. The officers of said corporation shall consist of a President, Vice-President, Secretary and Treasurer, to be chosen as the by-laws shall direct, and who shall hold their offices until others are chosen and qualified in their stead. A Director may hold any two of said offices, except those of President and Vice-President together.

ARTICLE X. The highest amount of indebtedness direct or contingent, for which this corporation shall at any time be subject, shall be Two Hundred Thousand Dollars.
