EQUAL DIVISION OF JOBS

But Legislature Is Overwhelmingly Republican In Both Houses.

The "figures" of both the Republican and the Democratic Central Committees have compared notes and have unofficially come to the conclusion that the Democrats have elected:

Governor.
Lieutenant governor.
Secretary of state.
State treasurer.
Superintendent of public instruction.
One congressman.
One supreme court judge.
One corporation commissioner.

Twenty-eight members of the legislature, including three Progressive Republicans.

That the Republicans have elected: State auditor.
Land commissioner.
Attorney general.
One congressman.

Two members of the supreme court.
Two corporation commissioners.
Forty-five members of the legislature.

In other words, that the Republicans and Democrats split even on the state officers, but that the governor having the appointive power, the Democrats have the best of it in the executive administrative department.

That the Republicans have the best of it in the legislative department.

That the Republicans have the best of it in the judicial and legal department.

The vote is closest on the supreme court and if the official canvass makes any difference in the result it will be there. As to the other officers, the official canvass will hardly make any change.

The members of the supreme court according to the unofficial returns will be Clarence J. Roberts, Frank W. Parker and Richard H. Hanna.

The members of the corporation commission will be Hugh H. Williams, M. S. Groves and O. L. Owens.

That is the final word unofficially. The next word will be the official canvass. However, publicly, the Republicans still claim the entire supreme court, and the Democrats also claim the entire bench. Each side alleges there are enough errors in the official returns to justify these claims. The dear reader may take his choice or wait until the week beginning November 27, when the canvassing board consisting of Chief Justice William H. Pope, Governor William J. Mills and Territorial Secretary Nathan Jaffa will issue certificates of election to the successful candidates.

STANLEY TALKS TO PRESIDENT

Supplementary Legislation to Sherman Act Is Planned by the President.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—Chairman Stanley of the House steel trust investigating committee, had a conference today with President Taft, after which he made a statement regarding former President Roosevelt's editorial in the Outlook on the government's prosecution of the United Steel corporation. "I doubt that any one man," said Mr. Stanley, "will make up to the mind of the American people as to the good or evil of the steel corporation. I believe there are a great many facts in the case which Mr. Roosevelt does not know. I doubt that Henry C. Frick and Elbert H. Gary made Mr. Roosevelt their father confessor with perfect candor."

Mr. Stanley said the Sherman anti-trust law was a competent statute, but he believed it could be improved by supplementary legislation. He indicated that his conference with the president related to that subject.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) San Antonio, Texas, Nov. 17.—How to reduce what minor league owners consider the high cost of base ball continued today to be the most important topic of the National Association of Professional Baseball Leagues, in session here.

Second in interest probably are the reported attempts of major league owners to purchase outright southern clubs for use in training good material up to major league form.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Berlin, Nov. 17.—The earthquake last night which was felt in a wide area of central Europe partly damaged the castle of Hohenzollern, on the steel Zollernberg near Hechingen. Statues were disfigured and great cracks appeared in the towers.

The kingdom of Wuerttemberg was shaken hard. In Ebingen five hundred frightened persons spent the night around fire in an open field. Railway communication with that place was interrupted. The damage was widespread.

TWO MORE JURORS
ARE SWORN INSlow Progress Is Being Made In McNamara Trial
at Los Angeles

USE PEREMPTORY CHALLENGES

Some Surprises Were Sprung Both by Defense and Prosecution.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 17.—Two more jurors, making five in all, were sworn in the McNamara murder trial today. They are J. B. Sexton, a retired farmer, and William J. Andre, a non-union carpenter.

The state excused talesman Arthur Gribbling, William Brunner and Clark McLain.

The defense excused Brewster C. Kenyon, A. C. Heath, T. H. Elliott and Jacob Lansing. The defense has now eleven and the state five peremptory challenges left. Counsel for both sides were in consultation long before court opened concerning the men they would excuse. The peremptory challenging process was begun by the state, which refused Arthur Gribbling.

The defense then eliminated Talesman Elliott. Assistant District Attorney Ford called the name of William Brunner. Attorney Darrow checked off Jacob Lansing. There was a pause as the state stopped.

Then the defense excused both Clark McLain and Brewster C. Kenyon, leaving in the box to be sworn J. B. Sexton, W. J. Andre and A. C. Heath, in addition to the three permanent jurors obtained earlier.

The excusing of McLain by the state and of Kenyon by the defense and the failure of the defense to excuse Andre were the surprises of the situation.

McLain, as a banker, is of a class supposed by the defense to be particularly averse to any unsettled conditions in business and to persons who make them so.

Kenyon was thought to have been marked by the state because of his expressed disapproval of General Harrison Gray Otis, publisher of the Times. His varied investments, in the opinion of the defense, might prove an unconscious influence and he was excused for this reason.

Andre, in his examination by the defense, said he was favorable to unions, "if they keep within their rights, as they sometimes do," and expressed the belief the Times was dynamited.

The last few men of the seventh venire were summoned to fill the vacant places in the box.

A. De Reamer was excused for deafness. W. H. Gaynor was excused because of an "unfavorable opposition to capital punishment." William Nicholson, a grocer, was accepted as to cause by the defense after a brief examination.

It was said that Heath was excused because of an idea held by John J. McNamara, brother of the defendant, that any man born in the county of Kent, England, would not be the most favorable sort of a juror to try an Irishman.

Talesman Nicholson was accepted by the state, and F. C. McCandles, a Methodist rancher, was challenged and excused after he said he believed McNamara guilty and could not give him the presumption of innocence.

The list of veniremen ran out at this point and court adjourned until tomorrow.

QUESTION OF SINCERITY
RAISED IN TRUST HEARING.Attorney for Packers Quotes President Taft on the Sherman Act.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Chicago, Ill., Nov. 17.—James Sheehan, special counsel for the government, before Judge Kohlsaat in the United States circuit court today, raised the question of sincerity on the part of sureties in the surrender of the indicted Chicago packers last Monday, when originated the present debated habeas corpus proceeding.

The attorney for the packers, in his argument, quoted President Taft on the Sherman act. He referred to last January, when the president was quoted as saying that the injection of the word "reasonable" into the Sherman act would involve the judiciary of the country in disaster.

CHINA'S FUTURE IS UNCERTAIN.

First Experiment in Constitutional Government a Failure—Newspapers Not Enthusiastic.
(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Peking, Nov. 17.—China's first experiment with a constitutional cabinet dominated by Chinese does not promise much except as a stepping stone to something more permanent. The newspapers are not enthusiastic and express the opinion that the administration of Premier Yuan Shi Kai will be brief. Some of those selected as ministers already have declined to serve.

Sanction exists in some quarters that Yuan deliberately constituted a government, a continuation of which he knew to be impossible.

TEXAS RANGERS ORDERED OUT

They Will Seek to Prevent New Revolution Being Launched.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—Danger of another well organized and formidable revolutionary movement in Mexico has caused the suspension of return to their home stations of the American troops sent into the border country during the Madero revolution.

The attitude of the United States is one of apprehension of further trouble, against which every precaution is to be taken to insure the strictest neutrality.

Texas Rangers Ordered Out.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 17.—Two companies of Texas rangers today were ordered to the border with instructions to prevent any activity in Texas toward starting a revolution in Mexico.

These movements were made after a conference between Governor Colquitt and Ranger Captain Hughes, who claims to have evidence that part of the preparations for a Mexican revolution are under way in Texas.

Serious Situation Developing.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 17.—It is reported here that a serious situation undoubtedly is developing in Mexico. Recent reports of disturbances in various parts of the republic at first were regarded as based on nothing more than the ebullitions of half trained soldiers who found it difficult to return to the ways of peace. Now, however, reports are reaching Washington from various sources, indicating that there is danger of another revolution which may absorb within it the lesser and sporadic disorderly bands in various parts of the republic.

General Reyes Is Plotting.

Austin, Texas, Nov. 17.—Captain Hughes said he believed the outbreak was planned to take place within two weeks. With him at the conference were Range Captain Fox and Sanders and members of the state adjutant general's department. Fox and Sanders were ordered to the border after the conference along with men in the companies who have been on detail here. From a heretofore reliable source, it was learned that General Reyes now at San Antonio, may be placed under surveillance of Texas authorities.

FRESH EGG
FAMINE IS ONNot Worth While to Quote
Any Prices Declare
Chicago Dealers

HENS HAVE GONE ON STRIKE

Butter and Egg Board of Windy City Defendants In Federal Suit.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Chicago, Nov. 17.—Fresh eggs in Chicago today were like jewels beyond price. At least, so the butcher and egg board here would have the public believe.

"There are not enough fresh eggs coming into Chicago to make price quotations worth while," said President G. W. Bull of the Butter and Egg board. "We cannot place a value on fresh eggs if there aren't any and this seems to be the condition. If we named a quotation, it would have to be an ideal one—what would be the price in case fresh eggs were being brought in."

Quotations on the two highest grades of newly gathered eggs, "extras" and "prime firsts" have been suspended and the "butter and egg board" will take action tomorrow on a resolution to discontinue quotations on "firsts and ordinary firsts."

If the vote is affirmative, it will mean that there will be no prices from Chicago on eggs of any sort, as cold storage and refrigerator are not quoted.

The Chicago butter and egg board is just now defendants in the federal court proceedings in which the government alleges conspiracy to unduly put up the price of fresh eggs, fresh and otherwise.

NOTED JESUIT CONDUCTS
RETREAT FOR CONVICTS.Prominent Priests and Governor Mills Attend Concluding Services and Make Addresses.

The Rev. A. M. Mandalari, S. J., of Albuquerque, who has conducted a three days' retreat for the convicts at the territorial penitentiary, left for his home at Albuquerque today. This morning at 9 o'clock, high mass was celebrated by Father Hartman in the penitentiary chapel, Father Pughen, Mgr. Fourcheu, Father Pughen, and Father Kuempers assisting. The ceremonies were impressive and the convicts were deeply touched. Father Fourcheu addressed the convicts with heartfelt words of counsel and was followed by Governor Mills who also made an impressive address.

Immediately after the high mass Mgr. Fourcheu imparted to all the Papal Benediction. The choir of St. Catherine's Indian school rendered the music and the penitentiary choir sang some hymns.

The Benediction was given and ended the season of spiritual refreshment.

Father Mandalari found the penitentiary in perfect order and the spirit prevailing among the convicts excellent. Much credit belongs to Warden Romero and his staff.

NATIONAL GRANGE TAKES UP KEGLEY CASE.Internal Squabbles in Washington and Idaho Are to Be Aired in Convention.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 17.—Insurgents succeeded today in getting the charges against Master C. B. Kegley of the Washington State Grange, by S. J. Hill, son-in-law of J. J. Hill, last August, read into the minutes of the National Grange.

The charges are that Kegley is not a resident of Washington and that he had secured his election by unjustifiable methods.

Kegley and his friends want the charges aired at once, believing that so-called machine methods used in fixing the jurisdiction of the Idaho Grange will be exposed. Kegley lives in Idaho.

The matter involves action taken by National Master N. J. Batchelder, of New Hampshire, in fixing Idaho's jurisdiction.

ALBUQUERQUE TO HAVE CONVENTIONEducators Will Hold Their 27th Annual Meeting
There In 1912

W. A. POORE IS PRESIDENT

Over 450 Teachers Are Attending Sessions This Afternoon.

To the delight of all attending the convention of the New Mexico Educational Association it was ascertained at noon today that four hundred and forty-three members had registered, which is a glowing tribute to the work of the association and an expression of the enthusiasm which is being shown during its twenty-sixth annual session.

For the first time during the convention, the gallery in the Hall of Representatives had to be pressed into service to hold the spectators and teachers and downstairs was one beautiful "field" of ostrich plumes and bird feathers, resting gracefully on the hats of the fair ladies who seemed to form the major portion of the convention.

President Joseph S. Hofer presided this morning at the convention, Rupert F. Asplund served as secretary and V. L. Griffin, "chief of publicity."

The convention began its work about 10 a. m., inspired by the musical strains of the Tucumcari orchestra which daily is growing in popularity.

Prof. Frank Carroon of the Normal University delivered an address on "Vital Factors in an Effective School System—The Teacher," after which J. H. Wagner, superintendent of the school in Las Cruces, talked on the School House as a factor. Both addresses were listened to with the greatest of interest.

Alvin N. White, the newly elected superintendent of schools of the new state, talked on "The Curriculum" and several of his points were vigorously applauded. County Superintendent L. C. Mersfelder of Clovis also talked on the curriculum and made a "Back to the Farm" plea which was well received.

Then there was a discussion if it would not be better to eliminate further musical selections during the forenoon in order to expedite matters but the motion was defeated overwhelmingly and the young Tucumcari musicians smiled graciously as they played a dreamy waltz which set more than one fair head swaying gently with the rhythm.

Hiram Hadley, former superintendent of public instruction, was introduced and delivered a splendid address on "The Peace and Arbitration Cause and the Teachers' Relation to It." Mr. Hadley was introduced as the most loyal friend New Mexico education ever had and there was a tumult of applause as he began to read his speech. He thanked the educators for the kindness WAITING.

(By Ninette M. Lowater.)
Later and later the day comes up,
Sooner and sooner the sun goes down;
There are blurs of gray in the sky's blue cup
And the wind means softly through the town.

The noons are warm and the sunsets
bright,
But the birds are gone, the flowers
are dead,
And the level shafts of morning light
Find a veil of frost on the green grass spread.

The leaves still cling to the parent
trees,
But their ranks are thinning day by day;
They are caught away by the vagrant
breeze,
Like the frolicsome kitten at its play.

There's a tenseness in the mellow
air,
A boding stillness, a sense of doom,
And earth, which late was gay and fair,
Is waiting for winter's snow and gloom.

Four-year-old Norman Bartlett died on the streets of Carlsbad while his mother was taking him to a physician. The boy had swallowed scene on the street was a most agonizing one and the mother was frantic with grief.

Sibole's Store Burned.
The general merchandise store owned and conducted by George W. Si-bole at Mimbres, was totally destroyed by fire. The flames were discovered about 6 o'clock while Mr. Sibole was absent eating supper, and despite everything that could be done the building and its contents were soon a mass of ruins. There was no insurance, and the loss will be between six and seven thousand dollars. The origin of the fire is unknown, but it was probably caused by a lighted match being thrown among waste material.

"MAGIC CITY" 18;

Clovio Girls Seem to Have Basket Ball Hypnotized to Fall Into Basket.

Hundreds of Santa Feans and visitors turned out at the armory last night to witness a basket ball game between the High School girls of Clovis and those of Santa Fe, and even if Clovis, the Magic City, ran up a score of 18 to Santa Fe's 8, the game was an exhilaration, from start to finish.

The small balcony in the armory was crowded long before the game started and Game Keeper Morton Seigman was nearly exhausted from making change at the door, so great was the throng and so many were there who had not purchased tickets in advance. Those who arrived first had no trouble finding good seats and those who came a trifle late, well, they stood up on chairs or anything convenient. Two youngsters perched on top the lockers had a splendid view of the game until the ball came their way and a half dozen hands were outstretched to get it.

Both teams played a fine game, and despite the "high altitude" the girls displayed wonderful breath control and freedom from exhaustion.

A feature of the game was the splendid goal "shooting" by the Magicians who showed a marksmanship that was simply phenomenal. Santa Fe also made a couple of "throws" that were most skillful, Miss Madeline Mills daughter of Governor and Mrs. William J. Mills, winning the thanks of the Santa Feans for performing this feat.

Throughout the game, the cheering and tooting of horns showed that the rooters were not only numerous but long-winded.

The game was slightly marred by the large number of fouls called against the Santa Feans and some of the local high school girls' friends complained in whispers or this action of the umpires. But then, what could the Ancient City do against Magicians?

Governor and Mrs. Mills, many officials and prominent visitors from out of the city witnessed the game and seemed to enjoy it hugely, for the girls of both teams were graceful, pleasant smile and at all times either buoyant winners or "good losers."

POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Political Aftermath.
When the Carlsbad Current asserts that the Advocate or Tullis bolted the whole Democratic ticket in this county, it is a common every day liar, which is not an unusual thing with the Current or Editor Mullane.

He Smiles.

Without recurring to politics more than we have to, it seems to us that with the legislature safely Republican, one W. H. Andrews is in a position to smile broadly at various and divers gentlemen who have been busy whetting their knives for him.—Roswell Register Tribune.

JUST TRY A TEN CENT BOX OF CASCARETS

Insures You for Months Against a Sick
Headache, Biliousness, Constipa-

Put aside—just once—the Salts, Cathartic Pills, Castor Oils or purgative waters which merely force a passageway through the bowels, but do not thoroughly cleanse, freshen and purify these drainage or alimentary organs, and have no effect whatever upon the liver and stomach.

Keep your inside organs pure and fresh with Cascarets, which thoroughly cleanse the stomach, remove the undigested, sour and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the decomposed waste matter and poisons in the intestines and bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will make you

While we are at it, we might as well all take our hats off to Hon. J.
W. Mullins, Democratic member-elect of the first state legislature. That gentleman piled up 1759 votes, in the face of the fact that he had served two terms as a law maker already, and had had plenty of time to make a considerable number of political enemies. That is not all Mr. Mullins did.
He established a new record in economy, his total campaign expenditures outside of the hold-up of the central committee being $3.65. Still more, he never left his desk to campaign a single day, and so far as known never asked a single man for his vote. All of which is going some in this day of political high lights and lavish expenditure.—Roswell Register Tribune.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies today that relieve, but do not cure. Doan's Kidney Pills have cured thousands. Here is Santa Fe evidence to prove it:

Lino Romero, Palace Ave., Santa Fe, N. Mex., says: "I know that Doan's Kidney Pills live up to the claim made for them. If I were not confident of the fact, I could never be induced to give this medicine my endorsement. There was a dull ache in the small of my back that bothered me and often I was obliged to lay off from work for two or three days. Doan's Kidney Pills brought me complete relief and the few slight attacks of backache I have had since then have quickly yielded to the remedy."

Mr. Romero gave the above testimonial in January, 1907, and when interviewed on June 6, 1909, he said: "I can speak as highly of Doan's Kidney Pills today as when I endorsed them two and a half years ago. This remedy has always benefitted me when I have used it."

GIVE THE BOY A SQUARE DEAL

Properly Educated He Will Always Stand on His Feet Says Prof. Searson

LECTURE ON LAND OF MYSTERY

Dr. E. L. Hewett Pleases Large Audience With Views of Central America.

An address by Professor J. W. Searson of the Agricultural College at Manhattan, Kansas; a lecture on Central America with many interesting illustrations by Director Edgar L. Hewett of the School of American Archaeology; musical selections by the Tucumcari High School Orchestra and the Raton High School "Scherzo" or Glee Club; a brief business meeting at which final arrangements for an excursion to the Puye cliffs were made; and finally a delightful social hour with refreshments served by flashing, black-eyed damsels—these were the features of the night session of the New Mexico Educational Association held last night at the Hall of Representatives and attended by a large audience.

It was a session tremendously pleasing and interesting to the last degree. The dome of the capitol, lit up by myriads of electric lights, was but an introduction to the blaze of glory which greeted the eyes of every one entering the hall where memorable conventions, state and constitutional, have recently been held. The bunting, the varicolored pennants, and "Old Glory" looked indeed resplendent under the rays of the electric lights and as the Tucumcari orchestra struck up a lively march, every one felt enthusiastic.

President Joseph S. Hofer presided in the morning and introduced the first speaker, Professor Searson.

The Boy Was His Theme. Professor Searson is professor of English at Manhattan, Kansas, and his scholarly English at once made a favorable impression on his auditors, as did his delivery.

His theme was one of interest to the average American, for it was "The Boy" and the lecturer made a plea to "Give the Boy a Square Deal."

He said of education, that word so much used all over the world: "I believe education and its meaning can best be illustrated by a pet cat which falls, but always on its feet. Real education enables a boy to stand squarely on his feet no matter in what position he is thrown."

Discussing the work of educating boys the lecturer said: "A father ought not expect his boy to do what the teacher tells him as quickly as if the father himself sets the EXAM-PLER."

And there was instant applause, showing the appreciation of the convention of this declaration.

Men as Teachers.

Professor Searson paid a tribute to the woman teacher and her womanly influence in the school room. He emphasized the importance of the kindness and sweetness exemplified by the woman in the role of a teacher but he declared that there is a time in the boy's life when the stern realities of life are best illustrated by the man in the class room, the man to set him the example of the courage, the strength, the firmness that are qualities peculiarly of the "sterner" sex.

Denounces Saloon.

In giving the boy a square deal, Professor Searson, who hails from Kansas, found that the existence of the saloon in a community is NOT a desirable factor and he said proudly: "I can say with all sincerity and truth, that NINETEEN PER CENT of the boys in Kansas have NEVER SEEN A SALOON. (Applause.)"

Professor Searson vigorously refuted the statements made that prohibition is more rigidly observed in Kansas than in the eight hour closing of saloon in Nebraska.

Professor Searson talked 25 minutes and he emphasized the point that a teacher should go slow in handling the "pupil problem" for there is much to be learned about each individual pupil and jumping at conclusions is not a satisfactory or fair method of "giving the boy a square deal."

At the conclusion of his address the applause lasted several seconds and testified the appreciation of an intelligent audience for a lecture of this kind.

Professor Searson will speak again tonight on "The Conservation of the Child's Energy."

Dr. Hewett's Lecture.

Dr. Hewett's lecture and lantern slides seemed to delight the teachers very much. Dr. Hewett took his audience to a land and its people which had an interesting history before the arrival of Columbus in America. He showed Central America where relics have been found telling eloquently of a civilization that is old and now of almost haunting mystery.

His pictures of the wonderful monuments and temples, of the historical treasures of Guatemala, Yucatan and other parts of Central America took the audience by storm and again and again applause greeted the speaker.

Dr. Hewett also showed views of the Puye Cliffs and the Frijoles canyon and gave the teachers a "foretaste" of the delights of a trip to the cliff dwelling country which they will make tomorrow under his personal guidance.

Attended public schools.

Graduated from South Jersey Institute at Bridgeton, N. J.

Territorial chairman of Democratic party.

Member of Constitutional Convention.

William B. Walton is one of the Democrats who signed the Constitution and campaigned for it. He has been in the legislature before and every one liked him, Republicans as well as Democrats. This time, many are glad he is returning, although the Republicans wish he had defeated a less able and agreeable man than W. D. Murray.

Mr. Walton is a native of Altoona, Pennsylvania. He will celebrate his fortieth birthday on January 23, two days after the constitution is ratified by the people, and probably will celebrate both events at the same time.

His father, who died in 1890, was of staunch old Quaker stock. Brigadier General James M. Bell, an uncle of Mr. Walton, was provost marshal at

FINDING NEW AUTO ROUTE TO THE PACIFIC.

Harry Drumm and Colonel Sellers Will Seek to Find Less Difficult Path West of Albuquerque.

Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 17.—

Harry Drumm, the pathfinder, in his Staver car left for the west yesterday afternoon about 2:30, to find a new route to the Pacific coast, that will be easier of negotiation than the present Westward route. Colonel D. K. B. Sellers, president of the New Mexico Automobile Association, accompanied him out and will act as pilot as far as his knowledge, after which the young man will be forced to shift for himself.

Should the road explored by Mr. Drumm prove more able than the present known road in that direction it will undoubtedly be officially recognized and used in the A. A. A. blue book which is to be published next year.

Colonel Sellers expects to be out about four or five days, when he will return to Albuquerque by rail.

The objection to the present route west is the presence of so many mud holes and so much water along the river roads. Of course this is largely caused by the remarkably wet season that has been the lot of this section this fall, but at the same time Colonel Sellers believes that a still better road than the one mapped out so far can be found, which will be much more convenient and less hard-uous than the present road.

Another Auto Party.

Traveling in a Cole racer, forty horse power, Mr. and Mrs. G. S. Roberts, and C. J. Otho arrived yesterday afternoon from Chicago en route to the Pacific coast. While having nothing against Albuquerque, they left Albuquerque about ten minutes after they arrived making their way to Moriarty from which place they will go on down to El Paso and take the southern route.

The party made the trip from the Windy City in about seventeen driving days. The roads however, were bad, and the weather almost as bad.

Still the party looks to be the picture of health. The rear of the racing car is stacked with goods used en tour, making the machine look like anything but a racer.

COMPANY F 20; HIGH SCHOOL 12.

A Speedy Game Was Put Up By Young Men of This City at Armory Last Night.

Following the thrilling Santa Fe Clovis basket ball game played by girls at the Armory last night, Company F, First Regiment New Mexico National Guard put a team in the field to tussle for the pigskin with Santa Fe High School's elite quintette, resulting in victory for the soldiers, 20 to 12.

Neither the soldiers nor the high school boys showed any spectacular ability in shooting goals, the Clovis and Santa Fe girls easily outclassing them as marksmen, but the boys certainly displayed great bursts of speed which strained the eyes of the spectators to keep up with them. Their bright red uniforms, too, gave a dash of color to the scene and hundreds of young lady spectators forgot that tired feeling as they stood on chairs and cheered for the team of their choice.

The Line Up.

SOLDIERS—Center, Wiley. Guards: Small, Stevens. Forwards: Marsh, Pyth.

HIGH SCHOOL—Center, Kaune. Guards: Cartwright, Harvey. Forwards: Friday, Fiske. Umpire: Ellis of Las Vegas. Referee, Koogler.

Fair and Colder Weather—That is the prediction of the weather bureau for tomorrow. Increasing cloudiness yesterday afternoon, with a light snow over the mountains to the east at nightfall. There was a considerable fall in temperature which probably saved the day for tomorrow's excursion to the Puye. The maximum temperature yesterday was 48 degrees and the minimum 27 degrees.

What Ails You?

Do you feel weak, tired, despondent, have frequent headaches, coated tongue, bitter or bad taste in morning, "heart-burn," belching of gas, acid risings in throat after eating, stomach growl or burn, foul breath, dizzy spells, poor or variable appetite, nausea at times and kindred symptoms?

If you have any considerable number of the above symptoms you are suffering from biliousness, torpid liver with indigestion, or dyspepsia. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery is made up of the most valuable medicinal principles known to medical science for the permanent cure of such abnormal conditions. It is a most efficient liver invigorator, stomach tonic, bowel regulator and nerve strengthener.

The "Golden Medical Discovery" is not a patent medicine or secret nostrum, a full list of its ingredients being printed on its bottle-wrapper and attested under oath. A glance at these will show that it contains no alcohol, or harmful habit-forming drugs. It is a fluid extract made with pure, triple-refined glycerine, of proper strength, from the roots of native American medicinal plants. World's Dispensary Medical Association, Freeport, Buffalo, N. OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

A THOUGHT-INSPIRING PAPER.

The University of New Mexico has published in bulletin form, a paper by the University's President, Dr. E. McQueen Gray, on "How the Curriculum of the Secondary School Might be Reconstructed." While Dr. Gray looks at the subject from a different angle than does the ordinary man who views the training in the public schools merely as a preparation of the boy or girl to become a factor in industrial life, yet, he declares:

"I am thoroughly in sympathy with the desire of the secondary school for expansion, legitimately carried out and in due accordance with the increasing need for technical efficiency in every department of employment. The time has gone by, when the preparation of the student for college could be properly regarded as the main object in secondary education; such work can nowadays form but a small part of the business of a fully equipped high school. It is true, the secondary school has a duty to fulfill to the college but it owes a higher duty to the nation at large, and the national claim must be held to preponderate over all others.

"For the high school, with its curriculum carried to its logical conclusion, is in effect the people's university; it is the only place where the ordinary boy or girl—by which I mean those who are precluded by circumstances from receiving the benefits of further or higher formal education—can be prepared for the battle of life; and it is the duty of the high school to equip them adequately. As the demand for technical instruction increases, the odds against the untrained youth grow heavier; and the secondary school that neglects to furnish all the technical training it is capable of imparting will fail to justify its position in view of the steadily advancing standards of the nation.

"The truth is, the need of the hour is not for less vocational training in the high school, but for more. If immediate efficiency is to be—for some time at any rate—the keynote in national education, then the high school, acting within the scope of its legitimate activities, is assuredly the place where such efficiency may properly be developed.

But the training must be of the right sort. If efficiency is the result to be desired, the instruction must be such as to produce it. The foundation must be well and truly laid.

"But it is equally true that the colleges have a right to demand—and in this the nation will support them—that whatever direction the present movement in secondary education may take it shall be one that will not jeopardize in any way that solid and thoroughness which should be the main characteristics of any system of education. That the present curriculum in the secondary schools fails to meet the national need in this respect is sufficiently patent; and I have no doubt that colleges and secondary schools alike are disposed to accord careful consideration to any suggestions that may tend toward the amelioration of present conditions.

"The real defect in our secondary education is the length and the indefiniteness of the general course itself. The student from the grades sees before him a course of study extending over four years which apparently—unless he intends to go to college—leads him nowhere in particular. It does not attempt to complete his education in any respect; it opens the door to no public employment; its certificate of graduation—subject to the exception above noted—is, as such without value as a mark of efficiency. There is no direct incentive to exertion; the average boy entering high school seems, after his first enthusiasm is spent, to get into a sort of educational backwater where he drifts along with hardly any effort on his part with the sluggish current."

As a remedy Dr. Gray suggests that the secondary school curriculum be definitely divided into two divisions of two years each, and a series of public examinations be held that would "elicit evidence of knowledge, not conviction of ignorance." He elaborates on this plan, and the solution to the layman at least, seems very practical. It certainly should command more than passing attention and thought from educators for Dr. Gray writes not only from theory but from experience, not only from observation but from knowledge, and at the same time dresses his thought in clean-cut scholarly sentences that carry conviction that he is in earnest and does not speak or write rashly but only after mature thought and study.

To the shame of the Santa Fe Chamber of Commerce be it said, that it has done nothing toward the entertainment of the Educational Association. The burden and responsibility fell almost altogether upon Mr. and Mrs. Rupert F. Asplund of this city, and those others who rallied around them and saw to it that Santa Fe did not fall down in its proverbial hospitality. But Santa Fe need not expect to receive much consideration as a convention city in any way in the future until it has a live Chamber of Commerce.

ALL TOGETHER!

The asperities of the campaign kept alive by the uncertainty as to the election of some of the state officers, are dying down. After the announcement of the result of the official canvass they will disappear altogether. The schemes of retaliation and the threats of punishment of political opponents, freely indulged in by the more zealous partisans on either side, will seem less practical and commendable in a week or two, than they do today.

In fact, the election seems to have handed out glory enough all around, so that while neither side attained all it desired, yet, each side received something and the next three years at least, will give New Mexico a well-balanced government. As this is the transition period, it should be taken advantage of for the upbuilding of the commonwealth.

In this, H. O. Bursum is setting a good example. He is the man of all the sixty thousand voters in New Mexico who has been dealt with most grievously and most unjustly, and yet, he declares, that he has not a sore spot and that he is ready to go into harness for the upbuilding of prosperity. He has turned aside for the time being from political warfare and writes as follows in urging a step that will redound to the benefit of the material interests of New Mexico:

"Gentlemen—I notice that a movement has been started towards obtaining a permanent exhibit hall to be located near the Alvarado hotel at Albuquerque on the Santa Fe railroad property for the purpose of maintaining a permanent hall for horticulture and agricultural display as a means of advertising the resources of the state of New Mexico, this building to be built by the Santa Fe railroad company. I take it that this proposition would naturally come under the management of the Bureau of Immigration.

The horticultural and agricultural interests of this great state of ours are destined to become one of the chief industries of the future; it is the encouragement of the tilling of the soil that will make places for homeseekers and investors and will do more than any one agency towards building up this great state. This suggestion which is given through the secretary of the Roswell Commercial Club, Mr. J. S. Kirby, and has also the endorsement of Mr. Henning, seems to be one that is well worthy of the greatest possible encouragement from citizens throughout the state. It will benefit every county within the state and will do more towards showing to the world what New Mexico's soil is capable of than millions of pamphlets. It will make possible the display of our products which will be seen by tourists coming from the east, the west, the north and the south and it is only necessary for people who are interested in these matters to personally witness a real, actual demonstration of our products to convince a homeseeker or investor that New Mexico's soil has no superior and few equals in any portion of the Union.

I sincerely hope that you will devote a portion of the valuable space of your columns towards boosting this project along and when you are doing so you will be planting an additional tree in behalf of greater New Mexico. Very truly yours,
H. O. BURSUM.

BELATED ELECTION RETURNS.

The New Mexican regrets that the Roswell Morning News repeats the insinuation that election returns were so hard to obtain because of some sinister motive on part of election officials. The Morning News should know that the returns were held back, not in Republican counties, but in Democratic counties. Even today, it is impossible to obtain the Sierra county returns. The Luna county returns are the most indefinite of all. Two precincts in Roosevelt county did not report at all for the simple reason that no election was held in them.

The New Mexican does not believe that there is a sinister meaning behind all this. In other states with widely scattered and sparsely inhabited precincts far from railroad, telegraph or telephone, it takes weeks to obtain some returns. In an election, in which the result is not close, the absence of a few distant returns does not matter much, but when in a total vote of 60,000, contending candidates are only a few hundred or even less the result is in doubt until every precinct, even the most remote, is heard from.

The following from the Roswell Morning News, no doubt, represents conditions in eastern New Mexico, for there the News is at home, but it certainly is not even half the truth as far as this section is concerned: "It is not exaggeration to say that there has never been an honest election in New Mexico under the present system. Such a thing is impossible when the ballots are peddled around as they are now, opening the door wide to all forms of corruption and coercion. The recent election here was a shining example. The workers, which is merely another name for corruptionists, of both parties, mauled the timid voters at will. There was for this class no protection whatever and bribery is alleged to have occurred at all of the major polls, along with flagrant violations of such laws as we now have in connection with elections. The various election boards undoubtedly did the best that they could to secure fairness but they were simply overwhelmed by the actual conditions. So were the peace officers whose duty is extra hard at such times."

IS IT CAUSE OR EFFECT?

When the Democratic State Committee met in Santa Fe the newsmen sold hundreds of newspapers. When the legislature meets, the increase in the sale of all newspapers is marked. But the presence of some four hundred teachers and educators in Santa Fe the past few days has made hardly any difference in the sales of newspapers. The cause is not difficult to ascertain. The average politician is free and easy with his money; the average teacher has had to skimp on his meager salary to make his trip to Santa Fe and a nickel has to be turned three times before it is spent. Yet, might it not be, that if teachers and educators took a little more interest in current events and in civic life, if they were a little more liberal in their spending, that the returns would be manifold in knowledge, in influence, in power, and would hasten the day when instead of $50 a month, the average salary of teachers would be $250 a month. The New Mexican cannot conceive of any teacher being worth his or her salt unless he or she keeps posted on the great events that are transforming the world daily.

Las Vegas is a hoodoo convention city for the Republicans. Twice that the Republicans held their territorial convention in the Meadow City, the convention was followed by stinging defeat, and the third time, in the case of Delegate W. H. Andrews, defeat was so near that his shadow could be seen and felt by candidates as they campaigned managers. The Republicans began their mistakes in this campaign, when they took away from Santa Fe the convention that the Capital had been promised and which it thought it had secured. The Democrats held their convention here. The result? Well, look at the election returns, which are doubly significant when it is remembered that New Mexico is a rock-ribbed Republican commonwealth.

The New Mexican is heartily in favor of Governor-Elect W. C. McDonald's proposed policy of economy. The new state in the first few years can afford no extravagances, it must take advantage of every indirect source of revenue so as to keep the direct tax rate at the lowest notch possible. Such sinecures as the coal oil inspectorship must be abolished. The revenues of that office, something like $20,000, it is said, should find their way into the public treasury by one clerk under the supervision of the territorial auditor.

Nearly every county in the territory has a favorite Democratic son who is a candidate for superintendent of the penitentiary. The latest to announce himself is Trinidad C. de Baca of Wagon Mound, but report has it that the plum will go to John A. Haley of the Carrizozo News.

COLONEL TWITCHELL SECURES PORTRAITS FOR SOCIETY.

After efforts of many years Locates Priceless Historical Pictures. Through the efforts of Colonel R. E. Twitchell, vice-president of the New Mexican Historical Society, the collection of portraits of all the governors of New Mexico since 1851 in the Society's collection, is now complete. Colonel Twitchell, after efforts covering many years, has secured a copy of the miniature of Governor James S. Calhoun and a good photograph of Governor Marsh Giddings who died at Santa Fe during his term of office. Colonel Twitchell has also secured a copy of a miniature of Antoine Robidoux, who acted as interpreter for General S. W. Kearney at the time of the occupation of Santa Fe by American troops on August 18, 1846.

"Carlsbad High School Review." Is the name of a new school publication that reaches the New Mexican's editorial desk. Roswell was the first city with a high school in New Mexico to issue a monthly publication. In these days of the printed word, it is not amiss for pupils about to graduate from the public schools, to be given practical training in expressing their ideas between newspaper column rules. The Carlsbad High School Review is well printed, of neat form and appearance and demonstrates rather unusual skill in amateur newspaper making.

ARGENTINE WEATHER PROSPECTS AFFECT WHEAT MARKET

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Chicago, Ill., Nov. 17.—Better weather prospects in the Argentine led to selling pressure here today in the wheat market. The opening was the same as last night to 1-4c lower. May started at 100 1-4 to 100 3-8, unchanged to 1-8c off, and descended to 100 1-8.

The close was easy, with May 100 1-8@1-4, a loss of 1-8@1-4 net. Drenched fields made corn firm. May opened 1-8 to 1-4c higher at 65 3-8 to 65 1-2c and receded later to 65 1-4.

The close was steady at 65c for May, 1-4c under last night.

Oats were swayed entirely by corn. May started a shade to 1-8c up at 50 to 50 1-4@3-8c but fell back to 50 1-8@1-4c.

The entire list of provisions turned weak. First transactions were a shade to 1-2c lower, with May delivery 16.90 to 16.95 for pork; 9.57 to 9.60 for lard and 8.72 1-2 to 8.75 for ribs.

CONFIDENT SPIRIT REIGNED ON STOCK MARKET.

Buying Was Heaviest Among Speculative Stocks and Close Was Steady.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

New York, Nov. 17.—The more confident spirit which was shown in the stock market yesterday continued to influence trading today. The demand expanded and during the morning the list advanced steadily. Although the buying was heaviest among the speculative stocks, gains ranging from one to three points were recorded in every quarter. The change from the heavy tone of the earlier part of the week was ascribed in part to cessation of the heavy profit-taking sales. The views expressed by ex-President Roosevelt on the trust question also were referred to as a factor in stimulating the market. Bullish enthusiasm grew with the upward march of prices. Extensive buying by important speculative interest, conveyed the impression that large lines which had been sold higher up were being replaced. United States Steel touched 65 1-8 which brought it to within 1-4 of the highest figures reached since the collapse to 50 last month.

A block of 8,500 shares was purchased at 64 3-4. Improvements were fully as large in various other influential stocks. American Smelting was up 4 1-4, Reading 3, Union Pacific 2 3-4, Amalgamated Copper 2 3-8 and Northern Pacific 2 1-4.

Bonds were strong. Dealings contracted and there was trifling reaction. Subsequently the market rose easily to the highest again with the demand vigorous for Union Pacific and Amalgamated Copper.

London was a considerable factor in the forenoon advance.

Interest in the market died out to a considerable extent in the latter part of the day. Forecasts of tomorrow's bank statement indicate a cash loss of $6,000,000 principally as a result of the Canadian gold shipment. General Chemical jumped five points on the announcement of an extra five per cent stock dividend.

The close was steady.

Side Lights on Convention.

Before the second day out on the convention sea, the teachers and superintendents discovered that the expression "Call on Conway" had a variety of meanings. It appears there are three superintendents of the name of Conway. One is the illustrious Santa Fean, whom every teacher has met at the convention, for John V. is right on the job, morning, noon and night, ushering them to desirable seats. Then there is Superintendent T. W. Conway of Raton, who is a member of the board of education. And there is a third W. T. Conway of Clovis or some magic city. A striking peculiarity is that one Conway is named Thomas William and the other William Thomas. Another peculiarity is one is rather stout, another is short and the third is tall. That solves the problem in designating them when the initials are forgotten.

Many of the men who are attending the convention are accompanied by their wives and the wives are certainly "good lookers" which shows that an educator is, after all, a pretty good judge of beauty.

Some facetious person put up a cartoon of Judge McGill on the Curry county screen on which exhibits are pinned. The cartoon was taken down as it was among the kindergarten exhibits and the educators passing by did not think the joke of great "educational" or "decorative" value.

The High School of Clovis has a weekly paper and it was circulated at the convention this morning. It contains some fine illustrations and it shows what a hustling burg Clovis is.

Take extra wraps! That was the warning of Dr. Edgar L. Hewett this morning in addressing the teachers who will make the trip tomorrow morning to the Puye Cliffs and drive about seven miles from Espanola to reach them. Indian blankets are quite good to wrap up in when one makes such an excursion.

Yes, the D. and R. G. train leaves at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning. That is the time one boards it at Union station to make the trip to the prehistoric cave dwellers apartment houses, where there were no elevators nor modern steam radiators.

Those who use tickets should call on Mr. Hewett or Mr. Asplund at the Old Palace and do so tonight. No tickets will be sold at the depot, as this is an excursion.

Will reach 500 tonight! That's what John V. Conway says of the registration and he has been keeping in touch with the figures. He says there are 600 visitors in town for a hundred or more have failed to register. The Raton Scurzo, or Glee Club is in the city and will make music at the convention. This club has some fine singers it is said and they will be appreciated.

Climate Failed—Medicine Cured

It has been absolutely shown that rest, fresh air, and good food do help many persons suffering from Tuberculosis. But to be really honest, it must be admitted that the disease is seldom more than "arrested." Something more is needed. Eckman's Alternative is a medicine made for the cure of Tuberculosis. It has cured this disease again and again. Often these cures have been effected where the surroundings were not ideal, where no intelligent care was taken of the patient, where money was scarce; good food, good cooking, unusual rest, were denied. Now we argue and urge that Eckman's Alternative, in use in every case of Tuberculosis, in addition to good, nourishing food and fresh air, which we all need.

The facts—the evidence of cures that have been made—are interesting reading. A remarkable cure follows—Weldon, Ill. "Gentlemen—Through Eckman's Alternative I have been saved from a premature grave, and feeling that I might benefit suffering humanity, I take pleasure in writing you a brief history of my sickness, which you are at liberty to use."

"On December 14, 1904, I was taken with Typhoid Pneumonia. My lungs became very much affected. My appetite was examined and Tuberculosis Bacilli were found. On February 28, 1905, was advised to go to the Puye Cliffs, New Mexico. While there an abscess in my right lung broke and discharged. I grew worse, and became very much emaciated. My physician informed me that I must go to Colorado as quickly as possible. I left Texas June 1st, and arrived in Canon City June 3d, very feeble. After being there two weeks, my physician informed me that nothing could be done, as my case was hopeless. Three weeks later I returned home, weighing 135 pounds, the doctor having given me no assurance of reaching there alive."

"On July 14, 1906, I began taking Eckman's wonderful remedy for Consumption. It having been highly recommended, I got a weight 155 pounds. I am stout and well and can do any kind of work about my grain elevator. I have not as yet been in my lungs, eat well, sleep well, and never felt better. I would be glad if every person afflicted with Tuberculosis took Eckman's cure." (Signed) ALFRED ARTHUR WEBB. Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain opium, cocaine or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet of cured cases and write to Eckman Laboratory, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists and by Zook's Pharmacy in Santa Fe.

MOTHER WAS WISE

Built Up Boy's Strength Instead of Giving Cough Syrup.

A lingering cough is a sure sign of weakness in a child, and the sensible thing is to build up the system. Then the cough will disappear.

But if the child has no appetite, then it needs Vinol, which has not a particle of the nasty, greasy smell and taste that makes children hate cod liver oil. Vinol is so pleasant they like to taste it and it builds them up wonderfully.

Mrs. R. Inza of New York city says: "My little boy had a very bad cough for two months. I did not like to give him cough syrups for many of them are not good for children. But I did give him your delicious cod liver and 'ron remedy Vinol and one bottle caused his cough to disappear entirely and restored him to health."

We guarantee that Vinol will build up and strengthen weak, pale children and all run down persons of every age. If it does not do all we claim we give back your money. The Capital Pharmacy, Santa Fe, N. M.

CURRENT WIT and HUMOR

Played a Lone Hand.
An old army officer, according to Mrs. Custer, had a 4-year-old boy who never tired of war stories. Again and again they were related to him till he knew them so well that he would not permit the slightest variation.

"The story is a little rough on me," said the officer, "but if you know a child, you know that he wants a plentiful sprinkling of 'I's, and nothing told in the third person. So I kept on as he demanded, till one day he looked up in my face and said:
"Father, couldn't you get any one to help you put down the rebellion?"

An Average.
A western representative in congress was talking one day of his record while in that body. "I'm not ashamed of it," said he. "I think I've done very well, on the whole. When I reflect upon it, I am reminded of an epitaph that I saw once in an old burying-ground in a country town of my state.

"This epitaph devoted a verse of four lines to the virtues of the good man who lay beneath the stone, and concluded with this line in prose:
"He averaged well for this vicinity."—Lippincott's.

SAME OLD STORY.
She—I'll bet you've said the same things to a dozen girls on this same bench.
He—I ain't, neither. This bench's only been here a week, so there!

Skinny.
I know a certain damsel—I sure would hate to be her. 'Cause, when she's in the water—well, you simply ought to see her!

The Place for 'Em.
"You needn't talk about our brutal sports," said the Spaniard. "I've seen bull fights and bear pits in your own country."
"Where?" ejaculated the horrified American.
"In Wall street."

Marital Amenities.
She—Do you remember the first time we met?
He—Yes. I was a real estate agent, and you came to my office looking for a flat.
She (savagely)—Well, I found one.

Unsafe.
"I wish you would look at my machine and see what ails it."
"What do you think ails it?"
"I don't know; all I know is that every time I hit a man the steering gear wobbles."

A Hint.
He—Did you ever try the absent treatment, Miss Gussie?
She (brightening)—No, but I should love to. Can't you give me a trial of it now?

The Way They All Achieve It.
"I am anxious to become a finished aviator."
"You will achieve your ambition the first time one of your wings crumples in."

Shorn.
"Miss Ella, was your razor a success?"
"Glorious! All the men had to walk home!"—Meggendorfer Blatter. Took it easy.
"What did you do during your three months in Europe?"
"Most of the time I sat around waiting for my wife to get rid of her headaches."

Moral Defect.
My dear, you should not think so much of being beautiful. Modern youth is worth more than millions.
"Yes, but it doesn't go so far in calculating millions."

Smallest and Largest Houses in New York.

The largest house in New York is the residence of Charles M. Schwab, president of the Bethlehem Steel company and former head of the steel trust. It occupies the entire block on Riverside drive between Seventy-Third and Seventy-Fourth streets, and it cost more than $7,000,000 to build and furnish. For its site alone Mr. Schwab paid $865,000 nearly ten years ago.

The smallest house in New York is the northeast corner of Melrose avenue and One Hundred and Sixty-First street. It is owned by Henry Uebelhor, a tailor, who makes his home on the second floor and uses the first floor for his business. It is twenty-nine feet long, but only three feet eight and a quarter inches wide. In fact it is so narrow that two persons cannot pass each other without squeezing. Fortunately for its owner, it has a large basement extending under the sidewalk, and this is used as a workshop.

A Wonderful Clock.
A very interesting electrical clock was exhibited at a recent American exposition. This clock is different from the ordinary in having no hands. Minutes are indicated by means of 60 radial rows of light, each containing 32 electric globes. The hours are indicated by shorter rows of colored lights. In place of the hands, two lines of lights sweep over the face of the dial, one indicating minutes and the other hours. Each second the illumination in an outer circle of lights move forward one lamp, and when an entire circuit has been completed, the row of minute lights is advanced one interval. The hour hand moves at five minute intervals. The dial is formed on the face of a huge pendulum, which swings to and fro over an arc of 15 feet. The pendulum is 3 feet long, and its weight, with the 485 lamps and 11,000 connections required, is 3,000 pounds. Over a mile of wire was used in making the connections of the clock.

Ancient Coffee Found Good.
While tearing down the century-and-a-half-old Fisher mansion which had gone to ruin through neglect, in Jamaica Plain, Boston, the workmen the other day came across a 150-pound canister of coffee stored away in a blind attic, which they discovered on removing the roof. The workmen distributed the coffee among the neighboring residents, who declared that a small spoonful of the coffee was sufficient for a family of ten. The flavor the residents declared was delicious. In an air-tight canister, the coffee had increased in strength and flavor. It has been stored away for probably over 125 years, the early dwellers in the Fisher house probably laying in a supply at the time of the tea tax, which helped to bring on the revolution.

Fought Over Crucifixes.
The consecration of two crucifixes in the cemetery at Mezohibacs, Hungary, was marred by a terrible riot and free fight which broke out amongst the spectators. The Slovak and Rumanian inhabitants of the village decided to erect a crucifix in the cemetery, but as they could not agree regarding some trifling details, the parties resolved to erect two crucifixes. At the consecration the other morning, the Slovaks mocked at the cross of the Rumanians, and vice versa, and after the sermon of the Rumanian Pope a free fight followed, knives and, later, bayonets being freely used. After the excited crowd had been dispersed by soldiers, 13 persons were found on the ground seriously injured, while one man was dead.

Prayer on a Grain of Wheat.
Prayers have been written and engraved on many very small objects, but only one person has been patient and painstaking enough to inscribe a complete prayer on a grain of wheat. One day Sir Moses Montefiore received a small tin box in the mail. On the cover of the box was written: "A prayer for Sir Moses Montefiore, by Bauch Mordecai, son of Zeri Hirsch Scheinmann, of Jerusalem." The box contained a single grain of wheat, on which were inscribed in characters so small that they could only be read with the aid of a powerful microscope, the 388 Hebrew letters of the prayer, and the date of the year (Hebrew reckoning), 5645. Sir Moses kept the prayer in his private desk until he died, and it is now preserved with religious care by one of his friends.

First Church in America.
The first Christian church ever erected in the new world was built on the north coast of Santo Domingo by Christopher Columbus. When he returned from Spain on his second voyage in 1493, finding the fort he had erected at Navidad destroyed and the garrison massacred, he retraced his steps to a small but sheltered harbor near Monte Christi where he disembarked his weary men and munitions and provisions and built a town which he called Isabella. One of its buildings was a church. King Ferdinand sent a bell which hung in the steeple of the church, which was dedicated to St. Michael.

Women Vote in Belize.
Women will vote in Belize, the capital of British Honduras, the city council having granted them that right. Scores of women have applied for registration papers since the council decided that women owning property or being householders should have the right to vote for members of that body.

The Fisherman.
He sat all day.
The sun was hot
And, sad to say,
No fish he got.

A Summer Butterfly.
"That fellow thinks he has a house to sell, but he'll get his."
"Why his sense of security?"
"Oh, he was divorced by some judge with a proviso that he must not marry another."

ON THE FUNNY SIDE

Knew the Story.
A story is told by a French paper of two provincials, a man and his wife, who visited the Louvre, in Paris.
"What struck you most at the Louvre?" asked one of their friends when they returned home and began to tell of the wonders they had seen.
"Oh," replied the husband, "a picture which represented Adam and Eve, with the apple and serpent."
And his excellent wife chimed in: "Yes, we found that very interesting, because, you know, we knew the anecdote."

Thought They Did It.
Two young Americans touring Italy for the first time stopped off one night at Pisa where they fell in with a carnival party at a cafe. Going hilariously home one pushed the other against a building and held him there.
"Great heavens!" cried the man next the wall, suddenly glancing up at the structure above him. "See what we're doing!" Both roysterers fled.
They left town on an early morning train, not thinking it safe to stay over and see the famous leaning tower.—Success.

ONE LESSON ENOUGH.

"So you don't believe in a man marrying his deceased wife's sister?"
"No, sir. Any man who would rush into a thing like that doesn't deserve to lose his wife."

Too Bad.
She will not swim—
I'll tell you why:
She's just so slim
She's 'shamed to try.

An Eye for Business.
"I understand you saw a very large iceberg while crossing the Atlantic last week?"
"Oh, yes. And when I gazed at its huge bare walls it seemed a pity that so much valuable advertising space should be going to waste."

True Saying.
"I suppose you find that a baby brightens up the house," said the bachelor to a friend who was showing off the first baby.
"Yes," was the semi-sad reply, "we burn twice the gas we used to!"

The Voice of the Skeptic.
"What a liar Bankhead is."
"Why do you say that?"
"He has just got out after having been away on a four weeks' trip with his wife and three children, and he claims that he enjoyed himself."

Habit.
The telephone girl was on her vacation and fishing. Someone in another boat called "Hello!" Just then she got a bite. "Line's busy!" she answered.—Browning's Magazine.

Rialto Gossip.
"That actor claims to have inherited the mantle of Edwin Forrest."
"Those stories are safe in the summertime. I know several actors who claim to own fur overcoats."

At a Summer Resort.
"Any old legends connected with this place?"
"Yes, there's a legend that the hotel used to be good once upon a time. That's what brought me here."

Another Kind.
"Willie, your uncle has just given you another pledge of his affection. Why don't you return it?"
"Return it? My dear, I am always giving my uncle pledges."

Moral Conscience.
"Pop, what's the proletariat?"
"The proletariat, my son? The proletariat is—hum—hum—well, it's something that's not fit to explain to anyone as young as you are, my son."

Advertising Talks

WHO PAYS FOR ADVERTISING?

Manufacturer Who Believes in Publicity Able to Turn Out Better and Cheaper Article.

The following exchange of ideas, or the sense of them, occurred on a car running out from a Connecticut city not long ago:
"Say," remarked a passenger to his companion, reverting to a topic they had dropped for an interval, "I don't believe I'll buy that E— piano, after all."
"Why not?"
"Well, the makers are big advertisers, aren't they? They advertise in pretty nearly all the magazines, don't they?"
"Sure they do. But what of it?"
"Well, when I pay $400 for that piano, I figure about $50 is going into their advertising expenses. And I don't see why I can't get as good a piano of a make not advertised so much, and save the difference."

On the first hearing, the argument sounded reasonable. But was it?
The two friends had spent several hours in the city, going the round of the piano dealers, looking for an ordinarily good instrument, to be bought by the first speaker. He himself, while a smart man of business in his own line, was without technical knowledge of piano values, and had therefore taken along his friend, a pianist and musical man, to help him make a selection. Together they had seen and heard many instruments of various makes, and after comparing price, appearance and tone, the final choice was favorable to the much-advertised E—, although the circumstance of its being so widely advertised had not occurred to them, nor influenced their choice.

"Well, now," went on the musical adviser, "which one of the other makes came nearest your idea of a fair price, knocking off what you suppose the people have to put on for advertising?"
"Why, there was that B— make, at $350. It seemed pretty good to me. Didn't it?"
"Yes, it did; just as good as the E—, but it has the name of not standing up so well with use. As a matter of fact, most of the grade we have been looking at sound much the same when new. The test comes with use; and that $50 you think you would be paying the E— people for advertising more likely represents that much more value in ultimate wearing qualities."

"Oh, I don't know about that. Somebody's got to pay for all that advertising, and it seems to me it's the buyer. Before we decide we'll go into B— and see what we can do there."

B— is another city in the neighborhood, and thither, a few days later, the two friends journeyed, to spend more time in piano hunting. The result was practically the same as before. But for slight variations of dealers' discount, within the price limit set by the prospective purchaser the E— piano still held first favorite, and was ultimately bought.

Had the buyer, then, as he imagined, really paid out $50 as a sort of advertising tax, for which he received so actual value? Not at all.

Manufacturers of any largely advertised article, whether piano, crackers, or chewing gum, making and selling hundreds as against units of non-advertised brands, so distribute and absorb their advertising expenses as to make the quota of the individual buyer very small. And such trifling tribute as he does pay is more than returned to him; for the manufacturer, by reason of immense sales and continual revenues, is all the better able to put into his product the very best of material and skill, thus assuring the purchaser not a dealer, but in the end a money-saving article.

It is rather the maker of the non-advertised, or only spasmodically advertised article, who must put on a big profit over and above its intrinsic value, in order to bring paying returns on his limited sales.

So, then, instead of "paying for" big advertising, the man who thinks he is "on to the game" and will not patronize those who play it, is really paying for not advertising. In the one case (would he buy from the advertiser) he would become a purchasing partner and profit sharer in a concern having a turnover of millions. By the "saving" method, whereby he thinks it folly to dodge the advertising tax, he is cheerfully contributing to the profits of the non-advertiser.

To those on the inside, the foregoing may seem to be the veriest commonplaces of advertising economics; but to the sort of man represented by the piano purchaser, it simply has not occurred to analyze the effect of a publicity campaign of which he himself could not help but take note.

The Basis of Present-day Salesmanship is Not "Let the Buyer Beware"—but "Give the Buyer his money's worth." It is no longer one sale and away but one sale and come again.

A Valuable Man.
"Yes, he had some rare trouble with his eyes," said the celebrated oculist. "Every time he went to read he would read double."

"Poor fellow," remarked the sympathetic person. "I suppose that interfered with his holding a good position?"
"Not at all. The gas company gobbled him up and gave him a lucrative job making gas meters."—Lippincott's.

"A CHILD SHALL LEAD THEM."

It was in Boston.
They were having a "difference." "After careful cogitation," said he, "I am firmly convinced that I displayed a deplorable lack of discernment in choosing you as the partner of my joys and sorrows."

"You are correct," said she, "and I am sure that I must have been suffering under a mental aberration to have given an affirmative answer to your impassioned pleading."

"I have realized," said Bartholomew, the 4-year-old progeny, as he stepped from the nursery, "I have realized for several years that my parental affections were uncongenial. I might almost say distasteful. But I have deemed it my duty to continue as 'the tie that binds.' Now I must insist that unless you show to each other the courtesies due my immediate ancestors I shall be forced to repudiate my relationship."
