NO. 244

TWO ESCAPED CONVICTS CAUGHT

Permission Given to Destroy Beavers in Rio Arriba County

DEFECTIVE ELECTION RETURNS

Penitentiary Now Has 360 Convicts and Is Greatly Overcrowded.

Territorial Game and Fish Warden Gable has returned from a trip to the Los Pinos and San Antonio streams in northern Rio Arriba county near the Colorado line to investigate complaints that beavers were damming the streams and flooding low lying farms causing much damage. Mr. Gable issued permits to capture the beavers.

Territorial Funds.
Territorial Treasurer Rufus J. Paalen has received from Insurance Commissioner Jacobo Chavez $220; and from Traveling Auditor John Joerns $25 bank examination fees.

Notaries Public Appointed.
The following notaries public have been appointed by Governor Mills: Robert H. Crews, Albuquerque; Sam D. Lowry, Portales; Chester H. Eddy, Chama and Mary S. Cole, Chico, Colfax county.

Penitentiary Crowded.
The problem of what to do with the convicts is one of the problems up to the first state legislature. At present there are 360 in the penitentiary. These men should be employed on permanent road work as far as possible.

Special Anniversary Programs.
For the third consecutive year, the Territorial Department of Education is sending out a well arranged and neatly printed book containing special programs for public school anniversaries and holidays, including songs and memory gems. It is a useful book and much praise is due the compiler for his painstaking work.

Escaped Convict Recaptured.
Captain Fred Fornoff of the Territorial Mounted Police, who returned last evening from Tucuman and Estancia, today received a report that Juan Salcido, a convict who had escaped from the road gang at Chama, Rio Arriba county, is in jail at Carlsbad, with a bullet hole in both hips. He was recaptured near the Texas line.

Desperado Recaptured.
Mounted Policeman J. B. Rusk has re-arrested Tom Foley who broke out of jail at Tierra Amarilla, and Foley will be brought to the penitentiary in this city for safekeeping. Foley is a half breed, and when captured five miles south of El Rito, Rio Arriba county, still had one of the shackles on one wrist, while the other one he had taken off with the aid of an axe. He had just sold a horse and saddle for $25, the saddle alone being worth double that amount. It was of Gallop make and had orange stirrups. It is believed that Foley is wanted in Arkansas. The jailer who was on duty when Foley escaped, has been dismissed.

Trouble With Election Returns.
Territorial Secretary Nathan Jaffa is receiving telegrams daily in regard to faulty election returns. One election board wires that it forgot to sign the official returns and asks for the return of the poll books. Another election board in Otero county wires that it not only forgot to sign the returns but also enclosed them in the sealed ballot box and sent the ballot box to the county seat. The board asks for the return of the ballot box and permission to open it. Of course, this could not be granted and the ballot box has been ordered to be sent to Santa Fe. However, all this will mean delay and confusion in the final canvass of the votes.

Special Indian Surveys.
A series of special surveys of the Indian reservations all over the country are being made now, and will be reported upon to the Indian bureau on December 1, furnishing data for the location of water power plants and reservoirs in times to come. The idea is that the sites may be reserved from entry should any reservations be opened to settlement later on. The data is to be in by December 1 in order that the secretary may present it to Congress, it is believed. The work for this section is completed, and the report is being made by H. F. Robinson, superintendent of the irrigation department of local Indian affairs, today.

Postoffice Appointments.
Jesse A. Molohon has been appointed postmaster at Crystal, San Juan county, and James T. Sparks has been appointed at Baldy in Colfax county. The following five recently appointed postmasters for New Mexico have been commissioned: Edmond A. Davis at Nutt; James H. Knight at Rincon; Wallace W. Lynn at Steeprock; and Clinton B. Weeks at Thoreau and Vinnie Bartram at Taft.

MINING DEAL THAT INVOLVES MILLION DOLLARS.
One of the biggest mining deals in the history of New Mexico is likely to be closed within the next few weeks whereby the Ernestine property at Mogollon, Socorro county, may pass into the hands of prominent eastern interests. An option has been given to A. Chester Beatty and others at a figure between one and two millions of dollars.

THREATENED WITH DEATH

Detective Burns Makes Sensational Statement to Bankers

ATTORNEY DARROW RESENTS IT

McNamara Murder Trial Drags Along in Court at Los Angeles.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 23.—With one juror absent because of critical illness in his family and another back from visiting his sick wife, the McNamara murder trial dragged ahead today in an attempt to get two more men needed to fill the jury box before the exercise for the third time of peremptory challenges.

Counsel for James B. McNamara conferred with their client at length before court opened as to the men who should be peremptorily excused and it was reported that all five talesmen accepted as to cause would be let go by the defense. F. B. Hanawalt, a retired wholesale grocer, was excused today at the suggestion of Judge Walter Bordwell without formality of challenge. Hanawalt had gone through a baker's strike and admitted a prejudice against unions which led him to believe James B. McNamara instigated the Times explosion.

Witnesses Threatened With Death.
New Orleans, La., Nov. 23.—Witnesses for the prosecution in the Los Angeles Times dynamiting case, have been threatened with death after having withstood repeated efforts of agents of the defense to bribe them, declared William J. Burns, the detective, in an address today before the state secretaries section of the American Bankers' Association.

Mr. Burns arraigned Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, Eugene V. Debs and other "would-be leaders" of organized labor, but declared that nine-tenths of organized labor is opposed to violence and not in sympathy with efforts of the small socialist element that seeks to destroy organized society and has no respect for the laws of the country.

Darrow Resents.
Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 23.—"What Burns is reported to have said is in keeping with what he has said previously," said Attorney Clarence S. Darrow, chief counsel for James B. McNamara, referring to the address of Detective William J. Burns today in New Orleans.

"There is not a word of truth in it."

HUNDRED PASSENGERS KILLED IN COLLAPSE OF BRIDGE

Tried to Climb Out of Windows of Cars But Were Swept Away By Floods.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Samaur, France, Nov. 23.—It is reported that 100 passengers were killed and injured today when a bridge collapsed as a passenger train was passing over it.

Passengers Swept Away By Flood.
While it was passing the bridge over the Thoust, the structure, weakened by recent floods, broke, crashing with the cars into the swollen stream.

Many of the passengers who got out of the cars through the window tried to save themselves by clinging to the tops of trees which showed above the water. In most cases however, they were quickly washed away. All the boats in the locality had been carried off by the inundations so that it was impossible for the people of the neighborhood to assist much in the work of rescue.

No exact information is yet available as to the number of victims or as to those rescued.

BRAVE SANTA FE BRAKEMAN SAVES TOURIST TRAIN

Falls From Caboose, but Before Lapsing Into Unconsciousness Sets Torpedo.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) San Bernardino, Calif., Nov. 23.—Although stunned by striking his head when he was thrown off the roof of the caboose of his train, F. H. Kelly, a freight brakeman, retained consciousness long enough to save from collision a crowded transcontinental tourist train on the Santa Fe Mountain division.

Kelly's train was due to stop a short distance beyond where he fell. Remembering that the fast passenger train was but a short distance behind, the brakeman set a torpedo and sign flag. When the passenger train had halted, Kelly was found unconscious beside the tracks.

SUPPORTERS OF REYES HALTED AT BORDER

Customs Officers Charge That They Are Undesirable Immigrants.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Laredo, Texas, Nov. 23.—Alleged political refugees from Mexico are on trial here today before the inspector in charge of the United States immigration service. One deportation has been ordered. It is charged the men are undesirable citizens because they are supporters of the so-called Reyes revolt against the Mexican government.

BEATTIE'S LAST DAY ON EARTH

Report That Beulah Binford Is In Richmond Is Denied

SEQUEL OF AN ILLICIT LOVE

Condemned Man Shows No Signs of Remorse or Break Down.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Richmond, Va., Nov. 23.—A report that Beulah Binford, the seventeen-year-old girl, for love of whom Henry Clay Beattie Jr., is alleged to have killed his wife, had arrived here today, caused a distinct sensation. The police at once denied the story but made a close search for the girl and their vigilance did not relax until word came from New York that the girl was still there and would make no attempt to come to Richmond.

Electric Chair Tomorrow.
Beattie awoke at the usual time this morning on what, by law, was the last day of his life. Tomorrow shortly after daybreak he will in the electric chair, expiate the murder of his young wife. There were no signs of a break-down this morning, the prisoner dressing with the same fastidious care that he has taken ever since he entered the state penitentiary and the death cell.

Has Many Visitors.
Rev. John J. Fix put in an appearance early and probably will remain with Beattie during the day. The elder Beattie, Douglass Beattie, brother of the convicted man, and the attorneys who defended him in the trial joined the minister soon afterward.

Will Not Confess.
Neither Beattie's attorneys or his relatives believe he will confess. His spiritual advisers are of another opinion. They entertain the hope, amounting almost to conviction, that he will do so.

"If he is guilty, I feel reasonably certain he will acknowledge all," said Rev. Dr. Fix. "To go to his death with a lie on his lips would be sacrilege and Beattie is at peace with his Maker."

Seeks to Spare His Father.
The fact remains however, that through all the ordeal attending his trial and conviction, young Beattie has sought in every way to spare his aged father. The elder Beattie is said to believe in the innocence of his son. It is a question whether the condemned man does not consider that he owes it to his father, to whom he has brought so much pain and so much disgrace, to go to his death with sealed lips.

CHIEF JUSTICE REFUSES STAY

Desires That Important Matter Be Referred to Entire Bench

PACKERS WORK FOR DELAY

Judge Carpenter to Be Asked to Grant Further Postponement.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Chief Justice White today refused to grant a stay in the trial of the Chicago beef packers, but referred the attorneys making the application to the entire bench, with the statement that the matter was of too much importance for him to pass on individually. Attorney Miller, announced that such an application to the entire court would be made at the first sitting December 4th.

Attorneys for the packers indicated that efforts will be made to have Judge Carpenter of the United States district court at Chicago, before whom the indicted packers have been summoned for trial on Monday, to grant a further postponement until the supreme court passes on the application for a stay.

SHOPMEN MEET WITH ROCK ISLAND OFFICIALS

Question of Strike to Be Settled at Conference Tomorrow at Chicago.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Chicago, Ill., Nov. 23.—The international officers of the railroad shopmen will meet leading officials of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad tomorrow at which time it is expected the question of a possible strike will be settled finally.

Tomorrow's meeting was arranged at a short conference between representatives of the shopmen and General Manager W. S. Timman and W. A. Nettleton, general superintendent of motive power.

Although railroad officials and the shopmen's representatives refused to discuss the situation, indications pointed to the possibility of an argument tomorrow.

MRS. LAWRENCE IS DEFIANT

Famous Woman Suffragette Struck Policeman Twice in Face

TAKES HER SENTENCE COOLY

Mrs. Kathleen Robwell Makes Speech Over Protest of Magistrate.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) London, Nov. 23.—Mrs. Pethick Lawrence, the head and front of Tuesday's suffragette riots, today was the central figure of the trial of those arrested during the demonstration. Standing unconcernedly in the prisoner's enclosure at Bow Street police court, she listened to the evidence in support of the charge of assaulting the police and obstructing them in the performance of their duty. When the magistrate sentenced her to a month's imprisonment, she did not flinch.

According to the evidence, Mrs. Lawrence, at the head of thirty women, stormed the police time and again. She struck a policeman in the face twice, and struggled for fifteen minutes when she was arrested and taken away. Mrs. Lawrence made a statement in court with reference to the poster produced yesterday, calling on women to assemble and "see fair play and protect women from being brutally victimized by the police in uniform and plain clothes, as they were on Black Friday, 1910 when as the result of ill usage, one woman died, and many were seriously injured."

She said: "I am glad to state that, as far as the police in my vicinity are concerned, there was no repetition on Tuesday of the brutal usage of women. I am inclined to think that what happened on the former occasion was done on the instructions of the government."

The others of the accused almost without exception took their sentences with indifference, choosing jail in preference to the payment of fines. Mrs. Kathleen Robwell managed to deliver a brief speech in spite of the protests of the magistrate. She had broken a big plate glass window on the Strand.

"It is out of my great love for humanity and particularly my devotion to women and children that I did this," she said.

"Sex disqualification is the root of all social evils and I am prepared to do anything the militant branch of the suffragettes dictates in order to gain the vote for women."

Mrs. Robwell was committed for trial at the sessions. She refused the offer of bail in the interval, saying she preferred to remain in jail until the trial.

NO $50,000 APPROPRIATION FOR MCNAMARA DEFENSE

American Federation of Labor, However, Makes Appeal for Contributions.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 23.—The American Federation of Labor will make no direct appropriation for the defense of the McNamaras. The opportunity to do so passed today when the convention adopted the recommendation of a committee that labor organizations throughout the country be appealed to for more funds.

Failed to Amend.
The report made no mention of a direct appropriation, and it was put through before those who favored the proposed $50,000 donation had an opportunity to suggest an amendment.

LABOR LEADERS MUST STAND TRIAL AGAIN

Justice Wright Overrules Motion for Dismissal of Contempt Proceedings.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell and Frank Morrison, the labor leaders must again stand trial in the supreme court of the District of Columbia on charges of contempt arising out of the Buck Stove and Range case. Justice Wright today handed down a decision overruling the motion of the labor leaders for a dismissal of the proceedings under the statute of limitations. The court held that contempt of court is not classed as criminal, and consequently not subject to the bar of the statute of limitations.

LAFOLLETTE BOOM IN CALIFORNIA MAKES PROGRESS

Formal Campaign for His Nomination to Presidency to Be Launched Saturday.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) San Francisco, Calif., Nov. 23.—The California campaign for the nomination of Robert M. LaFollette, will be launched here Saturday afternoon when 250 supporters of the Wisconsin senator will meet for a formal conference. The call sent out by Secretary Detrick of the Republican state central committee has been signed by Governor Johnson, Lieutenant Governor Wallace, Representative Kent and others.

President Frank R. Devlin of the Lincoln-Roosevelt League in California has been asked to preside.

FALCONIO AND FARLEY AT ROME

Prominent American Prelates Receive Most Hearty Welcome

CARRIED STARS AND STRIPES

Clerical Suite Emphasizes Its Patriotism With National Colors.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Rome, Nov. 23.—Cardinals-designate John Farley and Diomedes Falconio arrived here today. Many ecclesiastics had assembled at the station before dawn, but the train containing the two American archbishops was late. Both the prelates looked well, notwithstanding the fatigue of their long journey.

The ecclesiastics present knelt and kissed the rings on the new Cardinals-designate, while many travelers and other persons about the station joined in emphasizing the cordiality of the reception. A characteristic note was given to the occasion by some of the clerical suits carrying rolled American flags bound with white and yellow ribbons, the papal colors.

Distinguished Prelates at Rome.
Among those at Rome are: Manager Thomas Kennedy, Manager Dennis O'Connell, auxiliary bishop of San Francisco; Dr. Bernard J. Mahoney of Albany, spiritual director of the American College; Father Dolan, rector of the English speaking Church of San Silvestre here; Father Hilary Jordan of St. Paul, and other American clergymen.

The superior procurator-general of the Franciscan Monks took Cardinal-designate Falconio to the Monastery of St. Anthony, while Cardinal-designate Farley, accompanied by Manager Thomas P. Kennedy and Manager Dennis O'Connell, with Dr. Bernard Mahoney, drove to the Hotel Bristol, followed by the suite.

Pope Is Pleased.
During the usual papal audience, Cardinal M. Del Val communicated to the pope the arrival of the two cardinals-designate and informed him of the cordial reception that had been accorded to them. The pope was pleased and said he was looking forward to receiving them soon.

The secret consistory will be held next Monday and the public consistory will follow on Thursday.

Imposing Ceremonies.
At the secret consistory only the pope and the cardinals resident in Rome are present. At the public consistory three days later, the ceremony is much more imposing, the new cardinals receiving their red hats from the pope.

REBELS STORM NANKIN FORT

There Were Several Hours of Desperate Fighting Before Victory

MANCHUS GUILTY OF MASSACRE

Proclamation to Be Issued Asking for Foreign Recognition.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) San Francisco, Nov. 23.—The revolutionary troops captured one of the forts on Chun Shan hill near Nanking yesterday after several hours of desperate fighting, according to a cable received today from Shanghai by the Chinese Free Press.

The forts are the outposts situated a few miles from Nanking. Manchus Committed Massacres.
The dispatch says that the revolutionary military committee has announced that the massacres in Shen Si were committed by mobs composed mostly of Manchus and not by the revolutionary soldiers.

Dr. Wu Ting Fang and others are working on a proclamation which will be issued shortly, asking all nations to recognize the republic, according to a Shanghai dispatch received today by the Chinese daily paper.

American Forces for China.
Manila, Nov. 23.—The American army officers stationed in the vicinity of Manila begin today the physical test, which has been ordered by the military authorities. This is to prepare them for a possible call for volunteers for service in China, for which purpose it is intended to raise the 15th infantry, arriving here on December 1, to war strength.

Divisional headquarters are very busy. The hospital corps and the engineer corps are being fitted out with winter equipment. This information is given out officially but it is admitted that the fifteenth regiment is to be reinforced as a precautionary measure and that the troops will be ready to start for China two days after their arrival here.

Claims Against Receiver Heard.
Judge John R. McFie in chambers today heard two claims against the Willard Drug Company of Willard, Torrance county, of which Hale I. Lutz is the receiver.

NEW LIFE FOR ORGANIZATION

Secretary J. S. Harris Takes Hold of Chamber of Commerce

WILL HELP IT TO DO THINGS

Office to Be Opened in Palace of the Governors Next Week.

J. S. Harris, the new secretary of the Board of Trade, was born in Whitehall, Ill., and received his early education in the public schools of St. Louis, Mo., and St. Paul, Minn. He graduated from the school of Agriculture of the University of Minnesota in 1906, and specialized in horticulture and landscape gardening. He worked as reporter on the St. Paul Pioneer Press while attending university. In 1906, Mr. Harris went to southern California and engaged in work for "The National Irrigation Association" under Hon. George H. Maxwell, the "father" of the National Reclamation Act. Coming to Santa Fe in the fall of 1909, on account of poor health, the Santa Fe climate so agreed with him that he rapidly regained his health to such an extent that he was able to assume the duties of business manager of Summit Sanatorium. He resigned as business manager, however, on September 1911, but intends to make Santa Fe his permanent home.

Will Open an Office.
J. S. Harris the new secretary in speaking to the New Mexican, says: "I feel greatly honored in the confidence shown me by the business men of Santa Fe. Owing to the sickness and death of the late secretary, Mr. C. G. Ritchie, the Chamber of Commerce has not been as active as it should have been. As secretary I hope to get the finances of the chamber in more flourishing condition at an early date, and with the aid of the membership committee, also to build up the membership. Within the next week, an office will be opened, if possible, in the Old Palace, and a special effort will be made to welcome the tourists and others to Santa Fe and show them the town's wonderfully historic spots and buildings.

Chamber of Commerce Will Get Busy.
"The Chamber of Commerce realizing that Santa Fe is being better advertised now than ever before, owing to the fact of our recent admission as a state, will do all in its power to take advantage of this advertising and bring home-seekers and tourists to the city. The Chamber of Commerce also realizes that nothing can be done without the enthusiastic support of the citizens of Santa Fe, and asks the citizens to pledge them this support.

Santa Fe Must Grow.
"As usual the capital of the new state, with the great agricultural possibilities of Santa Fe county, the wonderful historic interest of Santa Fe, and the health giving air and sunshine, Santa Fe must grow, and it will if everyone will work and boost for a bigger and better Santa Fe."

PASSENGERS OF WRECKED STEAMER ARE SAFE

William J. Bryan and Fellow Travelers Will Land at Nassau This Afternoon.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New York, Nov. 23.—All the passengers of the steamship Prinz Joachim, ashore on Atwood Key, a remote island of the Bahamas, were taken aboard the Ward line steamer Segura and are now on their way to Nassau. This news reached the Ward line office here today in a wireless message from the Segura which had apparently been reeled by the steamer Vigilant, now at Nassau. The message read: "Segura has all passengers from the Joachim. Bring to Nassau. Will arrive—Will keep you informed."

Apparently the time when the passengers are expected to reach Nassau had been lost from the message but at the Ward line office it was said that the Segura probably would reach Nassau between 2 and 3 o'clock this afternoon.

W. J. Bryan Sighted.
Nassau, Nov. 23.—The Ward liner Segura, bringing the eighty-four passengers and mail of the stranded Prinz Joachim, has been sighted.

PITIFUL STORY OF GIRL THAT WENT WRONG

As Inevitable as Fate That Foolish Women Must Pay Bitterest Penalty.

San Bernardino, Nov. 23.—Miss Jessie McDonald, the school girl alleged to be the victim of Dr. Arthur W. McDevitt, a dentist, took the witness stand late today in the trial of McDevitt, accused of her abduction, and told the jury of her life in her prison, adjoining McDevitt's office for sixteen months.

Miss McDonald spoke almost in whispers. McDevitt, sitting directly in front of her, gazed steadily at the girl, never once removing his eyes.

Miss McDonald's story covered a period of five years, when she first met McDevitt as a patient, and came to a dramatic close as she described the days following the advent of her child.

"I cared for my child and myself," she testified. "I washed clothes, Dr. McDevitt bringing the water necessary for this, from his office."

"O--N YOU, KILL YOURSELF!"

Patterson Cried to His Wife After He Had Knocked Her Down

FIGHT FOR SEATS AT TRIAL

Men and Women of Denver Pound Each Other to Get Into Court.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Denver, Colo., Nov. 23.—A decided reversal of attitude on the part of one witness and the absence of two others seriously hampered the prosecution today in the Patterson murder case.

Witnesses Disappear.
Louis Schramm, a gardener employed at the Hendrie home, before which the shooting occurred, and by whom the state expected to show a conversation between Mrs. Patterson and her husband just before the shots were fired, is in Chicago, out of the jurisdiction of the court, it was announced, and Norah Brown, a maid in the Hendrie home at the time of the shooting, and who, the state expected, would tell of Mrs. Patterson's statements after she had shot Patterson, has not yet been found by the sheriff's deputies.

Prosecution Plans Disarranged.
The absence of these two witnesses, it was apparent, seriously disarranged the plans of Special Prosecutor Benson who asked for a recess when their names were called shortly before the usual time for the noon recess.

Witness Favorable to Mrs. Patterson.
Denver, Colo., Nov. 23.—Dr. W. G. Mudd, called today as a state witness in the trial of Gertrude Gibson, Patterson, for the alleged murder of her husband, Charles A. Patterson, proved to have testimony of value to the defense. Attorney Benson, of the prosecution declared that the physician's testimony came as a surprise to him.

Patterson Struck Wife.
Dr. Mudd rode in the ambulance with Mrs. Patterson when she was taken to the jail after the shooting. He bore out the claim of the defendant that Patterson struck her by stating that there was a bluish looking spot on Mrs. Patterson's cheek which the prisoner indicated to him in the course of their ride to the lockup as the spot where her husband had struck her. Witness testified further as to the conversation between him and Mrs. Patterson that the latter at first told him she did not know who had fired the shot which killed her husband, but later she said that, after her husband had knocked her down, he handed her the pistol, saying: "Now damn you, kill yourself!"

Fight for Seats.
The crowd which flocked to the court house today was the largest of the trial, and the fight for seats resulted in much disorder in the midst of which one woman was injured, but not seriously. Women vied with men in fighting to gain entrance to the court room before the seats were filled, the stampede being attended by much pulling and jostling about, and the striking of so many blows that the bailiffs had to use strenuous measures to prevent a free for all fight.

Newspaper Clipping.
Dr. Stephen D. Parsons was placed on the stand as the next witness. His testimony concerned itself with a newspaper clipping which he said he found near Patterson's body after the shooting, and which he stated he turned over to Police Sergeant McIntyre. The latter who followed Dr. Parsons, in the witness chair, confirmed the doctor's statement, but he was turned over to the defense for cross-examination without the clipping being read to the jury.

Alienation Suit.
The item is said to relate to the alienation suit which it is said Patterson purposed filing against a Chicago millionaire. The police sergeant testified that when he first asked Mrs. Patterson who did the shooting, she declared that Patterson did it himself. Later he asked her how many shots she fired, she replied that she did not know.

Prosecution Rests.
Denver, Colo., Nov. 23.—The state rested this afternoon in the Patterson murder trial and Attorney Hilton, who said he expected to place Mrs. Patterson on the stand when he had concluded his remarks, outlined the contentions of the defense to the jury.

Psychology of Beauty.
The psychology of beauty is the subject now open for study in the West Side court.

The jury is selected, and already that subtle thing feminine charm, is sending its sex waves vibrating across the courtroom.

That irradicable thing, womanly beauty—a beauty that lures and gains its ultimate desire—is on one side of the counsel table and the waves emanate from a pair of woman's eyes that look softly, sweetly, appealingly, significantly, invitingly, understandingly into those of the twelve men in the jury box.

There is no pointed insinuation against Mrs. Gertrude Patterson, on trial for the murder of her husband, Charles Patterson, in telling the truth about her femininity. Yesterday afternoon when the jury getting was drawing to a close, the soft-eyed,

FAIRY TALES.
You never hear good stories now.
The dear, old-fashioned kind;
These modern tales don't seem, somehow,
To satisfy the mind.
I wish some one would tell a few
Like those we loved of old;
The ones we used to think were true—
The stories mother told.

When I was just a little chap,
As soon as it was night
I'd climb up into mother's lap
And she would hold me tight,
And tell of fairies, giants, and
Of warriors brave and bold—
And ne'er have tales seemed half so grand
As those that mother told!

Tale after tale she'd tell—and then,
When she would say she'd done,
I'd always make her start again
And tell another one;
Until at last, all tired out,
My eyes would close their hold
On wakefulness—I'd dream about
The tales that mother told.

Then, by and by, there'd come a knock
And she'd let father in.
And as she pointed at the clock,
He'd grin a sickly grin;
His business kept him late, he swore,
And he'd explain and scold.

warmth. On that memorable day it well and vicinity and several inches

Ortiz case is completed. Nearly a year ago, more than twenty-five saloonkeepers of Albuquerque and Bernalillo county were indicted for an alleged transgression of the statutes covering the closing of retail liquor houses on general election days. This

Mrs. Maria Gurule Murdered.
Following an inquest into the death of Mrs. Maria Gurule, who died under mysterious circumstances Sunday at her home near Trinchera, forty miles southeast of Trinidad, Colo., the husband of the woman, Miguel Gurule and a cousin, Victor Gurule, were placed under arrest. That the woman died of a broken neck, the injury being inflicted by parties unknown, was the text of the jury's verdict. Mrs.
Gurule was found Sunday morning in a dying condition lying on the floor of her home. She expired without making any statement, but the conflicting stories told by her husband and the cousin, who lived in the same house, directed suspicion toward the pair.

Farmington Line Open Again.
The Denver & Rio Grande took another step in reconstructing its roadbed when the branch line to Farmington, San Juan county, was opened for traffic after having been closed for a period of forty-four days since the big flood. The residents of Farmington congregated at the depot in large numbers to witness the arrival of the first train, and much relief was expressed on all sides. The fall shipment of apples will be started immediately and will be continued for about two weeks. A report has reached the city that the Rio Grande Southern would not rebuild its line between Telluride and Rico, but it was stated that as soon as the roadbed between Rico and Dolores was repaired trains would be run from Rico to Denver, by way of Durango.

Are for other kidney ills. They are endorsed by Santa Fe people.

Locario Lopez, Agua Fria St., Santa Fe, N. Mex., Says: "I have had no severe return attack of kidney trouble since using Doan's Kidney Pills several years ago. Now and then I have suffered from backache, but at such times Doan's Kidney Pills have given prompt relief. For a long time I was made miserable by attacks of kidney complaint and my back was often so lame and painful that I could scarcely do anything. I did not sleep well and no matter whether I was lying down or standing up, the trouble was present. The kidney secretion annoyed me both day and night by their irregularity in passage and there was a heavy sediment in them. After several remedies had failed to help me, I used Doan's Kidney Pills and they lived up to all the claims made for them. I never hesitate to say a good word for Doan's Kidney Pills when the opportunity occurs."

POTITICS AND POLITICIANS

Five Long Years.

We have met the Democrats and they—well, they did us up. Walk in, gentlemen, and take possession. Eat, drink and be merry, for five years will soon roll by.—Pecos Valley News.

W. H. Andrews for U. S. Senator.

The people of this new state will be glad to know that W. H. Andrews will be a candidate for the first United States Senator from the new state. And if the people of this commonwealth have any voice in this matter it will be to honor the man who has made it possible for them to have representation among the states; a man who is familiar with the senatorial body and can accomplish more in behalf of his constituents than any other man.—Quay County Times.

The Republicans Mean Business.

With the official organ announcing that the Republican legislature will pass a satisfactory corrupt practices act and an Australian ballot act, the outlook for future betterment in New Mexico seems too rosy to be true. The hope expressed by the aforesaid official organ that Governor McDonald would second the legislature in its good work is well grounded. If the legislature will take the same lofty view of its duties that will be taken by Governor McDonald, there need be no fears for New Mexico.—Roswell Morning News.

The Pot and Kettle.

Our attention has been called to the fact that we erred in last week's statement, in regard to money used by the Democratic and Republican county committees.

It was not our intention to state how much was actually used by each committee. The intent of the article was only to show the intent on the part of each party to spend considerable money, the one no more than the other.

We referred to the Republican committee as having made an assessment against candidates of $300. The Democratic committee having exceeded this amount by some $400.

We understand that at a subsequent meeting of the Democratic committee the assessment was reduced, and that the amount collected and used by the Democratic committee was slightly above $400.

But all this does not effect the spirit that prompted the first assessment of $700, and we say it to both parties alike that the system of carrying elections with money is pernicious and will breed corruption.—San Juan Democrat.

LAST YEAR'S SPELTER PRODUCTION BREAKS RECORD.

United States Geological Survey Issues Report on Zinc and Cadmium for 1910.

Statistics collected by the United States Geological Survey show a gain in the production and value of zinc in 1910 of 32,224 short tons and of $2,403,432 over the figures for 1909, which were 230,255 short tons and $2,484,300.

The production of spelter in 1910 was the greatest in the history of the zinc-smelting industry of the United States, being 289,184 short tons. The output of spelter in this country last year was 30.5 per cent of the total production of the world.

A feature of the year was the beginning of the long-threatened exodus of smelters from Kansas owing to the exhaustion of the natural gas fuel supply. New smelters are under construction in the gas regions of Oklahoma and in the coal fields of Illinois, West Virginia, and Pennsylvania. The retention in Kansas of the newer, better-situated zinc smelters is assured for a number of years by the discovery of sporadic gas wells, by the construction of pipe lines from the gas fields of Oklahoma, and by the successful use of crude oil as fuel in smelting and distillation furnaces. Although oil is more expensive than gas, it is cheaper than coal.

The greatest quantity of spelter produced in any one of the United States in 1910 was in Kansas, with 105,697 short tons. Illinois came next, with 73,038 short tons, and Oklahoma was third, with 34,760 short tons.

The Geological Survey has just published an advance chapter from "Mineral Resources of the United States, 1910," on zinc and cadmium, by C. E. Siebenthal, a copy of which may be obtained on application to the Director of the Geological Survey at Washington, D. C.

J. F. Parker, 2021 No. 10th St., Ft. Smith, Ark., says that he had taken many kinds of kidney medicine, but did not get better until he took Foley's Kidney Pills. No matter how long you have had kidney trouble, you will find quick and permanent benefit by the use of Foley's Kidney Pills. Start taking them now.

New Mexico's Balada.

Professor A. M. Espinosa, formerly of the University of New Mexico, and now professor of romance languages at Leland Stanford, Jr., University, is about to publish a book containing his collections of New Mexico Spanish ballads. Professor Espinosa has been instructor in the romance language department for a little more than a year, and in connection with his teaching does a great deal of original work. His special hobby is the collection of New Mexico Spanish ballads, and among them he is now preparing a publication which will contain 25 versions of eight different ballads.

ECONOMY WILL BE SLOGAN

Not Much in the Legislative Line Is Expected from Congress

THE PAN-AMERICAN UNION

It Occupies a Magnificent Building in Washington, the Capital City.

Washington, D. C., Nov. 23.—That another session of Congress is almost here is brought home to us by the arrival of Senators and Representatives daily, to get settled for the winter, and to attend to various matters of interest to their constituents.

With the president and his cabinet back from their summer wanderings, things have taken on a lively aspect around the White House. The president is reported to be hard at work on his message to Congress, and it is understood that the secretary of the Interior is acting as his chief adviser on this matter. That Mr. Fisher is a conservationist, and that he spent some time in Alaska last summer, seem to be grounds for the belief that he will make some radical recommendations, which the president will adopt, for the disposal of public lands, including "natural resources," in the United States and also in the Territory of Alaska.

Congressman Needham of California, was one of the first of the far western members to put in an appearance. He has been watching the progress of the investigation by the Remsen Referee Board of the use of sulphur in curing fruit, in which his constituents are much interested, as they claim it is possible to cure fruit properly without making use of the sulphur process. He is also prepared to make a hard fight to keep the tariff on agricultural products unimpaired. He claims that without the reasonable tariff now existing on the products of California fields and orchards, the people of his state would suffer irreparable loss. Congressman Needham is also interested in the resolution granting official recognition of the San Diego Exposition. At the special session last summer he helped to secure the passage of this resolution in the House. It is now before the Senate and has excellent prospects of being passed. The bill authorizes and requests the president to invite the nations of Mexico, Central and South America to make exhibits at the Pan-American-California International Exposition at San Diego in 1915. There is believed to be no opposition to the passage of this bill in the Senate.

Expositions Cooperating.

Director-General D. C. Collier, of the San Diego Exposition, will be in Washington again this winter to push the passage of the resolution in the Senate. His industry and tact won him many friends last spring, and they are prepared to give him their aid now. He is not apprehensive, however, of meeting with any serious obstacles, because the San Francisco Exposition directors have pledged their aid in return for the assistance given by Colonel Collier and his allies when they were in need of help. With both expositions united, there should be no trouble about getting the passage of the resolution very early in the session. However, Colonel Collier showed at the last session that no ordinary difficulties can discourage him, and he can be relied on to stay with the fight until he has won. Meantime, he has plans for other and important work here. He can give attention to this while watching the progress of exposition legislation.

With enterprise characteristic of it, San Diego has taken space in the fine exhibit hall of the Southern Commercial Congress in Washington and has had a booth fitted up and decorated in a striking manner. Here visitors can get literature about the Panama-California International Exposition, they can see photographs of the exposition city, its matchless harbor which was filled with warships at the recent naval maneuvers, and of the typically picturesque scenery of Southern California. The exhibit will, it is expected, be visited by thousands of people every year, and the exposition will get much valuable publicity through it. At the same time, it will serve to strengthen the bond between San Diego and the southern states, and promote the campaign for the diversion of California travel through the south, which is anxious to receive and entertain tourists.

It is understood unofficially that the two big 1915 expositions are to be widely advertised through cooperation with the railroads reaching the Pacific coast. These railroads, and perhaps their eastern connections, are planning, according to a gentleman connected with the advertising business, to unite in placing newspaper advertising, calling attention to the unusual attractions offered tourists for visiting the Pacific coast during the progress of the expositions, when they will not only have the advantage of unusually low fares, to visit the most remarkable and beautiful natural scenery on the continent, but they will have the added and almost irresistible inducement of two great international expositions which alone would amply repay them for crossing the continent.

There is nothing, perhaps, which has such a high educational value as a big exposition. At a glance one may learn more at one of these big enterprises than can be learned by many days of travel or reading. The San Diego Exposition is addition to being highly instructive, will be exceedingly novel, strange and one might say, absolutely unique in the history of expositions. Some of its highly interesting features have been told to the public already, but the fertile minds of Director-General Collier and the other gentlemen managing its affairs are daily working on the plans to make it the most interesting exposition ever held anywhere in the world.

What Will Congress Do?

Opinions as to the net results of the coming session of Congress vary not a little. Some of the statesmen already in Washington believe that Congress will pass practically no legislation. Others are just as certain that it will delve deeply into tariff legislation. It is not very probable that Congress will transact very much business, as both parties will probably feel disposed to go ahead with much caution on the eve of a big political campaign, in order to make as few mistakes as possible. The currency will receive a good deal of attention, and an effort will be made to adopt the Aldrich plan for a central bank. The Democrats are disposed to abolish the Commerce Court, which they accuse of being too strongly biased in favor of the transportation interests. They declare unequivocally that they have "got its goat," as the sporting editors say. The advocates of waterway improvement will try to have a definite policy adopted, and the trust busters are due for a lot of anti-corporation talk.

Wherever the industrious legislator turns at the coming session, he is likely to run into the slogan of economy in national expenditures. Army posts and navy yards are to be abolished by consolidation, and the appropriations for new public buildings, for waterways, for the conduct of the public business, and for everything else connected with the government are to be held down as close as possible. This cry for economy has even prevented the consideration in the Army Appropriation Bill of any expenditure for the fortifying of Los Angeles Harbor, for which land has been bought and which is the only important strategic point on the Pacific coast not already provided with defenses. The president is determined to keep up the programme of economy, and the Democrats will have to get pretty busy, the president's advisors think, if they succeed in showing greater solicitude for the public purse than the administration does. But this is all very distressing to the hard-working congressmen who are anxious to help their districts with the aid of public funds.

A Great Institution.

The Pan-American Union, which occupies a magnificent building in this city, built with funds donated by Andrew Carnegie, is a very useful institution and under able management it is accomplishing much in the way of promoting friendship, amity, and intercourse between this country and Spanish America. Former Secretary of State Elihu Root and his successor, Hon. Philander C. Knox, have given wise and active support to this institution, which, under the direction of Hon. John Barrett, as the only international official in Washington, has gained a proud eminence in world affairs. The Pan-American Union is friendly to the San Diego Exposition, and sent its Director-General, at the request of President Taft, to represent the latter at the turning of the first spadeful of earth for the exposition buildings.

Weather Bureau Slipped a Cog.

The Weather Bureau has predicted fair weather for last night and today. Instead it snowed. At Raton, two inches had fallen; at Santa Fe, 1.6 inches by six o'clock this morning. Fair and colder weather is predicted for tomorrow. The maximum temperature yesterday was 49 degrees and the minimum 26 degrees. The day was partly cloudy.

THEY INJURE CHILDREN.

Cathartics and Pills and Harsh Physies May Cause Distressing Complaints.

You cannot be over-careful in the selection of medicine for children. Only the very gentlest bowel medicine should ever be given. Ordinary pills, cathartics, and purgatives are too apt to do more harm than good. They sometimes cause griping, nausea, and distressing after-effects, and may actually injure the health, thus establishing a life-lasting annoyance. We personally recommend and guarantee Rexall Orderlies as a safe and dependable remedy for constipation and associate bowel disorders. We have such faith in the virtues of this remedy that we sell it on our guarantee of money back in every instance where it fails to give entire satisfaction, and we urge all in need of such medicine to try it at our risk.

Rexall Orderlies are eaten just like candy, are particularly prompt and agreeable in action, may be taken at any time, day or night; do not cause diarrhoea, nausea, griping, excessive looseness or other undesirable effects. They have a very mild but positive action upon the organs with which they come in contact, apparently acting as a regulative tonic upon the relaxed muscular coat of the bowels, thus restoring the bowels to more vigorous and healthy activity.

Rexall Orderlies not only relieve constipation, but help to remove the cause of this ailment. They also frequently overcome the necessity of constantly taking laxatives to keep the bowels in normal condition.

There is really, in our opinion, no similar medicine so good as Rexall Orderlies for the purpose to which it is directed, especially for children, aged and delicate persons. They are prepared in tablet form and in three sizes of packages: 12 tablets, 10c, 36 tablets 25c, and 90 tablets, 50c. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in this community only at our store—the Rexall Store. The Fischel or Drug Co., 232 San Francisco St.

Fred Duhren, Mail Carrier, at Atchison, Kan., says: "I have been bothered with kidney and bladder trouble and had a severe pain across my back. Whenever I carried a heavy load of mail my kidney trouble increased. Some time ago, I started taking Foley's Kidney Pills and, since taking them I have gotten entirely rid of all my kidney trouble and am as sound now as ever."

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

MAKING NO HEADWAY.

Despite the fact, that the tide of Democracy at certain intervals seems to gain strength as it sweeps toward the Republican shore, it is apparent to students of political history that it is not gaining strength except from within itself. Every once in a while, Republicans in order to purge or urge their own party, join with Democrats to administer a defeat to the Republican party, but they always return to the fold. Yesterday, the New Mexican quoted facts and figures from the Globe-Democrat to show that the Democratic tide is receding, that the erring Republicans are returning to the fold preparatory to the 1912 election. Today, it quotes from the Salt Lake Republican to the same effect, the latter saying:

"A study of the results of last Tuesday's election in the various states shows that the country is once more returning to the faith that made the nation great and the policies which have contributed so much to national prosperity. While a few votes may be added to the Democratic party here and there by reason of new voters from Democratic homes, Bourbons by inheritance and family tradition, no Republicans seem to be voting the Democratic ticket. Even the most disgruntled insurgent Republicans those who honestly believe that some of the Republican national policies are wrong, are voting the same old ticket because they believe it to be much nearer right than the Democratic party."

"The truth is that the Democratic party has stopped growing, an unerring fact that can give it little hope for the future. It is impossible, for a political party to stand still; it is either growing stronger or weaker. The state of Missouri well illustrates the case in point. That state cast the heaviest Democratic vote in its history fifteen years ago and the second largest eleven years ago. In 1910, it actually gave a popular majority for the Republican party. The voters of Missouri see nothing in Democratic principles to attract them from the Republican party or to retain them for an organization that has never been responsible for a single constructive policy."

"The returns of last Tuesday show that wherever there is a light Republican vote, there is no corresponding increase in the Bourbon vote. Those Republican voters that were not counted with their party at the polls did not vote the Democratic ticket; they remained at home. When the full strength of the country's vote is cast, as it will be at the presidential election of next year, it will be found that the members of the grand old party have returned to the standard and are voting the ticket."

"Wherever there was a state-wide division last Tuesday on anything that approached national issues, the Republican party gained the victory. In New Mexico, where a combination of Democrats and insurgent Republicans endeavored to elect a legislature that would do the combination's will, a regular Republican legislature was elected and it will elect two regular Republican senators. In Massachusetts a Democratic governor was elected by a largely decreased majority, but the other state officers are Republicans."

"In 1910, the Republican lead in Rhode Island sank to almost nothing. This year it was greatly increased. Nebraska has returned to the Republican column and the legislatures of New York and New Jersey are once more Republican. In Maryland, a Republican governor was elected; it is problematical, however, whether that state will cast its electoral vote next year for the Republican candidate for president. All the other states named, including New Mexico, will do so beyond any doubt."

"The only Democrat to whom the returns of last Tuesday brought any comfort was Governor Harmon of Ohio."

The New Jersey results practically eliminate Woodrow Wilson from the race, and New York has shown what it thinks of its governor, Dix. Harmon would seem to have the preponderance of logic with him in his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination. The Democrats carried several important Ohio cities on local issues, mostly because of corrupt city machines. Wherever national questions were to the fore, the Republicans were successful."

"The Republican party will now begin to plan the national campaign, full of the confidence of victory."

PUNISHMENT FOR SMUGGLING.

Something of a sensation has been caused among importers by the declaration of two United States judges in favor of leniency in dealing with persons convicted of smuggling, and imposing the penalty of fines rather than imprisonment where the former would serve the cause of justice. Something has been said about sending poor persons to jail, who sneak in something of no great value without paying duties, and letting off with fines rich traders who understate the value of imported goods and make oath to the statements. This is not altogether to the point, though equal and exact justice should be done in all cases. Much depends upon the circumstances of each case and the purpose of the penalty. There is not much use in imposing a fine upon a person who cannot pay it, and if there is to be any punishment it may have to be imprisonment.

There is more force in the plea that for the fraudulent importer a fine may not be an adequate penalty or not a deterrent one. If it were to be assumed that he habitually evaded the revenue laws, with deliberate intent to defraud the government, and made more thereby in illicit profit than it cost him in fines, the courts would be at fault in dealing leniently with him. It would be a case for severity and a penalty that would be seriously felt. But if the offense is occasional or there is doubt about the fraudulent intent a fine, if heavy enough, may put a stop to the practice. The fact that customs laws are either obscure in their requirements or that their administration is habitually lax accounts for a good deal of delinquency which cannot reasonably be treated as a prison offense.

Still, revenue laws, like other laws, should be strictly and consistently enforced or the effect will be demoralizing. A violation of them, like that of laws prohibiting the sale of liquor, will not be judged by the community quite the same as crimes of robbery or violence, and the sense of justice may sometimes be outraged rather than satisfied by the opprobrium of a prison sentence. The purpose is to put a stop to the offenses and induce a careful observance of the law, rather than to protect the life, property and safety of the community, which are really not imperiled. The punishment should fit the purpose and the court which hears the particular case can judge best what will be effective. It is certain that penalties should be consistently imposed which will have the desired effect, for smuggling is a trade, as well as by travelers, ought to be stopped. It is not only demoralizing to character and to public sentiment, but it introduces an element of competition in the importing trade which is unfair and degrading to the business."

VIRGINIA'S SERMON.

The State of Virginia has preached a sternly terrible sermon to all our other Commonwealths in refusing to spare the life of Henry Clay Beattie, the young man who was convicted of murdering his wife.

The subject of the sermon is "Law and Order," and for unsparring qualities it equals the harsh preachments of the days of Puritanism—and integrity of the courts.

There were various reasons why Beattie might have been spared; there was one reason which made it probable that he would be spared. But the State has not spared him.

He is a young man—and youth is hot-headed. He has an old and highly honored father—and a community shrinks from inflicting punishment upon a good man. (The father of young Beattie is the man who will bear the chief punishment after all.) Moreover, the Beattie family is rich; and say what we will, it must be conceded that wealth is a powerful lever with which to avert the punishments of the courts.

Virginia has ignored all these facts. It has taken the position that so long as it is a capital crime to commit murder, the murderer must be put to death.

While all gentle people shrink from the thought of the gallows and the electric chair, is it not true that if New Mexico would follow the example that has been set by Virginia, the criminal columns would speedily shrink in length until murder would all but cease?

THE HAZARD OF THE DIE.

Startling revelations have resulted from the sensational raids made by Chief of Police McWeeny among the fashionable homes on the north side of Chicago. Gambling it appears, has been carried on by some of the society people of the Windy City on so large a scale that the sums exchanged have reached nearly into the millions.

Nor was this any mere amateur sport or comparatively innocent poker or bridge play between good friends willing and able to risk a few dollars from a sociable delight in toying with the little god, Billiken. It was rather a cold-blooded sacrifice on the altar of the big god, Mammon.

These lawbreakers should be prosecuted, but not under the statute that prohibits the playing of games of chance. For they were playing no such game; they were not taking any chances. They were scooping "easy marks" and "good things" from among the gilded set in Chicago and separating them from their simoleons by means of magnetic dice, stacked cards and sleight-of-hand trickery. "Sport," "game" and "chance" are words of too respectable a pedigree to be applied to such proceedings. It wasn't even gambling in the dictionary meaning of the word; it was fraudulency on the one side and foolishness on the other.

The elf of sport and the cherub of chance are jolly little fellows courted in one form or another by every man blest with a ready jest for the tricks of fortune and a brave smile for the fancies of fate. Without these nimble spirits we should have no intercollegiate football, no Phoenix motor-car races, no aeroplanes, no moon-light courtships; no fun, frolic, contests, fortitudes or self-sacrifices in this kaleidoscope life of ours. We should be as people who pass the best part of their lives in bed and show their greatest energy by the vigor of their snoring.

Sport is the zest of living and every youth when he enlists among the world's fighters is setting his life upon the cast and must stand the hazard of the die. But he has a right to demand that his competitors play the game fairly. Such degradation of sport and such elimination of chance as marked the operations of these society gamblers in Chicago need to be dealt with summarily and with an unsparing hand. This—not only for the regeneration of society as a whole but also for fostering a spirit of honest sport and equal chances for all. For, by the plane on which it conducts its sports and by the spirit with which it faces its chances, you can pretty well average up the moral worth of a group of individuals of a city or a whole nation.

THE BANNER DEMOCRATIC COUNTY.

San Miguel, not Chaves county, is the banner Democratic county of New Mexico. San Miguel cast 2120 votes for McDonald while Chaves gave him only 1944 votes. It is true, Bernalillo gave McDonald 3028 votes, but half of those were Republican votes who will return to the fold at the next election. But for years, San Miguel county has been giving the banner Democratic vote while Chaves county has been bragging that it is the banner Democratic county and that the lower Bernalillo valley gives the Democratic majorities, although the four adjoining counties of San Miguel, Colfax, Mora and Santa Fe cast a heavier Democratic vote than the four counties of Chaves, Eddy, Curry and Roosevelt, whence cometh Democratic salvation. Cut out the Democratic vote of San Miguel and Colfax and McDonald would have been defeated by a thousand, cut out Santa Fe county's Democratic vote, and the Democrats would not have elected a single state candidate outside of McDonald.

There are other comparisons that might be made to show that the Democratic vote comes not from the Democratic but from the Republican counties. Socorro gave as many votes for McDonald as did Eddy, Santa Fe gave 300 more votes for McDonald than did Curry; Rio Arriba county gave 300 more votes for him than did Roosevelt county; and Mora gave him 150 more votes than did Quay. It is the Spanish-American counties and the Spanish-Americans who made Democratic victory possible.

ONE FLAG, ONE NATION.

The Democratic press of New Mexico is seeking to explain why it is that in an election, in which their candidate for governor received 3,000 majority, every Spanish-American candidate on both tickets who were opposed by a candidate who did not have a Spanish-American name, was defeated, and why it was that candidates with Spanish-American names dropped farthest behind their ticket in Democratic counties. The explanations are amusing to one who has studied the election returns, but they do not explain away incontrovertible facts, facts which necessarily sting those who suffered therefrom.

The Republicans have fifteen men in the House with Spanish-American names; the progressive Republicans three; the Democrats three. In the Senate, the Republicans have four members with Spanish-American names, the progressive Republicans 1, Abelino Romero, and the Democrats none.

However, the discussion is hardly pertinent at this day. The lines that separate the two races in New Mexico must vanish. The citizens of this commonwealth are all Americans and when it comes to official positions, it should be as in business life, let merit and energy and virtue win, whether the winners have a German, a Spanish, an Irish or an English name. In the crucible of America, many nations and many races are being amalgamated, but the product is American not Spanish or Irish or German, or any other hyphenated hybrid sort of American—one flag, one country and one nation, it is and always shall be!

A CONSTRUCTIVE DECISION.

A matter of great importance was the decision of the Federal Circuit Court as to the manner of dissolving the American Tobacco Company. The keynote of the important decision is sounded in the opinion of Judge Noyes, as follows:

"The successful reconstruction of this organization should teach that the effect of enforcing this statute (The Sherman law) against industrial combinations is to destroy but to reconstruct, not to demolish but to recreate in accordance with the conditions which Congress has declared shall exist among the people of the United States." The action of the court, which commands general approval because of its common sense and constructive character, has already done much to restore confidence in the business prospects of the United States.

There was a certain humor in the appearance of the attorney-general of some of the Southern States in New York to argue that the American Tobacco Company ought to be disintegrated into very small fragments in order to restore unlimited competition in the purchase of tobacco leaf, while the governors of the same states were meeting in convulse to determine how their cotton planters could combine to jack up the price for cotton at the expense of the consumers of that commodity. It is simply one of those cases where the whole difference lies in who is being squeezed.

More than $40,000,000 is blown up into smoke every year in the United States. This is not a mere figure of speech, for the Census Bureau today, in a bulletin, says that the products of the 86 establishments engaged in the manufacture of explosives produce annually $40,140,000 of powder, dynamite and other explosives. There are more than $50,000,000 invested in that industry and more than $5,000,000 paid out each year in wages. More than 7,000 people are given employment while almost $23,000,000 worth of raw material is consumed.

If such an incident as the disgraceful tarring of a female school teacher attended by circumstances unfit to elaborate in print, had occurred in New Mexico, the detractors of this commonwealth would have found delight in describing this commonwealth as barbarous. It certainly reflects not only a savage state of mind but an immoral atmosphere in the great state of Kansas, that all of its pride in its schools and in its Prohibition law and in other evidences of an advanced civilization cannot entirely explain away.

"—YOU, KILL YOURSELF!"

white-skinned defendant almost smiled with a bond of camaraderie at two of the jurors.

This woman, whose beauty has been her stock in trade since the time when, as a mere child, she learned that brutal lesson of sex attraction, is now fighting for her life. It would be a strange time, indeed, for her to cease to fight with that one weapon she has known since first she became a plaything of and then a decisive factor among men.

An irreverent reporter suggested to Prosecutor Benson yesterday afternoon, after the twelve who are to decide the fate of Gertrude Patterson had been chosen, that if he desired a conviction he would have to put blunders on the jurors. The remark merely shows how thoroughly that element of feminine beauty enters into the trying of a murder case and how irradicable it is regarded.

The jury in the Patterson trial is composed of young men. One there is who is the brother-in-law of a budding newspaper writer whose sympathies have been strongly aroused by the sight of a young and beautiful woman in a tragic role. Prosecutor Benson, however, does not regard this as having undue importance, as he believes an intelligent jury of thinking men has been secured.

During the long questioning of talesmen yesterday, with the alternate responses of "Under no circumstances would I condemn a woman to death," and "I believe the same law should exist for women as well as men," the great factor in life—sex—played its important role.

Mrs. Patterson, her exquisitely modeled profile outlined against the green paneling of the court wall, as pure, as appealing as an Ingres painting, shot side glances into the faces of prosecutor and talesman.

The light that lies in woman's eyes will illuminate the West Side court this week, gloomy as the atmosphere in this murder trial may be.

Gun Women. In the early days of the west when the country was wild and woolly, the "gun man" was a unique and picturesque figure. When angered he pulled his six-gun and spread death and terror about him. This bit of local color has practically passed away.

Comes now to succeed him, the "gun woman." A majority of the women slayers of late in the more celebrated cases have drawn their guns and shot—mostly at husbands. And they have shot to good purpose, if accomplishment of their design may be considered good purpose.

Mrs. Gertrude Gibson Patterson is a gun woman. So was the celebrated Mrs. Helen Schmidlap, who several years ago shot her husband because of cruelty to her, after writing to him that she was coming to Denver with blood in her eye and black murder in her heart. She was acquitted.

Mrs. Assunta Mollcone used a gun upon her husband because he abused her. Mrs. Eleanor C. Valentine followed the same course of action for the same reason. Both have been recently acquitted in the crime stained old West Side court.

Marked by Cold Deliberation. Criminologists call attention to the fact that murders by women are invariably remarkable for cold deliberation and lack of feeling. Since the early days of the Bible when Jael lured Sisera, her friend, to her house to hide him, she said, from his enemies, and then drove a nail through his temple into the floor, murders by women have been particularly cold blooded.

Not within the memory of police officials and criminologists has there

FASHIONABLE WEDDING AT ALVARADO LAST EVENING.

Young Denver Attorney Leads to the Altar Miss Reina Grunfeld of Albuquerque.

Miss Reina Grunfeld, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Grunfeld of Albuquerque, and Ira Rothberger, a prominent attorney of Denver, Colorado, were married last evening at the Alvarado at Albuquerque.

Attending the bride was her sister, Miss Hilda Grunfeld, an exceptionally pretty girl, who looked more than usually pretty in a handsome blue gown of satin and chiffon with gold trimmings.

Mr. Rothberger's best man was Justice of the Supreme Court-Elect Richard H. Hanna of Santa Fe, formerly a schoolmate of the groom. The flower girls, Helen and Marion Grunfeld, looked dainty in sheer white lace gowns and preceding the bride party to the altar scattering roses. The ring bearer, Leonard Rothberger, Jr., of Denver, a nephew of the groom, was also dressed in pure white.

The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Mendel Silber, and was a most impressive one.

Gave Up Hope

"I suffered five years, with awful pains, due to womanly troubles," writes Mrs. M. D. McPherson, from Chadbourne, N. C. "They grew worse, till I would often faint. I could not walk at all, and I had an awful hurting in my side; also a headache and a backache.

I gave up and thought I would die, but my husband urged me to try Cardui, so, I began, and the first bottle helped me. By the time the third bottle was used, I could do all my work. All the people around here said I would die, but Cardui relieved me."

EDITORIAL FLASHES

Newspapers and Glory.
Roy Stump, editor of the Fort Arthur (La.) News, wishes it distinctly understood that he is not running his paper for glory. The printers don't care to be paid off with any second-hand glory, he says; the paper houses don't regard glory as collateral, nor do they give any two per cent. discount for glory in ten days; the press service associations and telegraph companies refuse all proffers of glory in exchange for their services; we cannot find even a local merchant who will accept some slightly faded glory at reduced rates in exchange for merchandise. We had some glory once—but couldn't realize on it, and after putting it carefully away with camphor balls and moth-proof paper, started out for the only recognized medium of exchange. It takes spot cash to run a newspaper; it takes spare small cords of that sort of fuel every week to keep up a steam pressure sufficient to shove out an issue every evening. The man who believes he can run a newspaper on a net revenue of glory and applause is due for a short and perhaps personally satisfactory, but financially disastrous, career—unless he happens to be backed with a roll big enough to choke a hippopotamus. —Publishers' Auxiliary.

The Humble Newspaper Reporter.
Newspaper reporters stroll among our citizens each day. They don't even stop at night, as some who have been called out of bed at midnight to answer questions from the reporters, can testify. In their ramblings, reporters meet all kinds of people. They encounter the citizen who has an innocent-looking interview which he wishes printed. It might not be proper to print it and the reporter is, per se a diplomat. He is loyal to his employees and to the public. And generally he serves them both with fidelity.

Among the many persons whom the reporter interviews, some are unreasonable about the things which the reporter prints. But it is a pleasure to say that most men are not afraid to trust the reporter to put the interview and the thoughts into print in a printable sort of a way. If the reporter printed his interviews just as he receives them, the office of the paper would be stormed immediately after the paper is issued each morning. One day not long ago, a reporter called upon a leading citizen and asked him for an interview about our schools. The citizen was not in a merry mood and this is what he said, as the reporter remembers it: "I don't give a darn about the schools. You can print anything you want to in your paper and you can say that I seen an article in another paper that the schools ain't teachin' grammar proper no more."

The reporter retired from the office with the grace for which newspaper reporters are distinguished and went to his office; this is what he wrote:

"Calling upon our esteemed fellow-citizen, Mr. Blank, yesterday, a staff reporter of this paper found Mr. Blank so actively engaged in directing his large enterprises that he courteously asked the reporter to excuse him from an extended interview about our schools at this time. Mr. Blank expressed the hope, however, that our schools would continue to prosper and that the teaching of grammar be given increased attention at the hands of the instructors."

Don't blame the reporter if he changes the language of the interview. He is earnest, he is honest and he is noted for the fair treatment which he practices.—The Daily Oklahoman.

An Innovation in Oil Heaters

The Perfection Smokeless Oil Heater, with its drums enameled in turquoise, is an ornament to any room, whether in the country or city home.

No home is quite complete without a Perfection Oil Heater. It is a necessity in the fall and spring, when it is too warm to start the regular heating apparatus, and too cool to be without heat. In the midst of winter it is often convenient as an auxiliary heater, as there are always some cold corners in a house.

The enameled heater always presents a nice appearance, as the enamel will not tarnish or burn off. It is not an "enameled paint," but it is the same as the enamel of your cooking utensils.

The Perfection is the most reliable and convenient portable heating device you can find. An automatically locking flame spreader prevents turning the wick high enough to smoke.

WINTER PASTURE FOR HORSES

Department of Agriculture Is Seeking to Reduce Cost in New England

$60,000 PRIZE FOR FARMERS

New Zealand Seeks to Improve Culture of Hemp on Islands.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson today ordered 12 yearling sheep, bred and owned by the Department of Agriculture, to be exhibited at the International Live Stock Exposition to be held at Chicago, December 2-9, and at the National Mid-Winter Sheep Show in connection with the National Wool Growers' Association convention at Omaha, December 13-16. This will be the first opportunity sheepmen have had to observe the progress of the experiment in breeding at Laramie, Wyoming. The foundation stock experimented with was partly Delaine but largely Rambouillet. The aim has been to develop a range sheep of good size—at least 150 pounds at maturity—shearing a heavy fleece of combing wool and with enough constitution to thrive under range conditions.

Wintering Horses on Pasture. The custom of running horses out on pasture during the winter is the common one on the range in most sections of the south and to a certain extent in the corn belt. It is rare, however, in localities such as New England where the winters are cold. The greatest obstacle to profitable animal husbandry in New England is the necessity to feed and shelter live stock during the long winter period. The Department of Agriculture has found this a constantly increasing bill of expense at the Morgan Horse Farm near Middlebury, Vt., and is devising means to reduce it to a minimum. In 1910, cheap barns costing $500 each were built in three pastures, each barn having a door in each end and two having a door in one side, facing either south or east. Hay storage is overhead, and grain storage at one end. A hay manger runs along the inside of the back wall and a grain trough is outside. One or all of the doors are open all the time and plenty of bedding is provided.

The yearling fillies and the brood mares were given these accommodations during the winter of 1910, the brood mares being brought up to the main stables about three weeks before they were due to foal. The first winter's trial was completely satisfactory. The horses had a bed which was roomy, always dry, and free from draughts and were free to come and go as they wished. No colds or coughs were observed. The horses were undoubtedly better for their winter's outing. The cost of stabling was cut from $2 to $1 per head per month, and the cost attending from $3 to $1 per head; it is possible still further to reduce the latter charge by increasing the number of animals on the pastures. The horses ate practically the same amount of grain that they would have consumed in stable and somewhat more hay.

During the coming winter, the foals of 1911 will run out, having an open shed in an especially well sheltered location. The barn for the brood mares has been enlarged and changed into an open L-shaped shed, facing south and east. A 100-ton concrete silo has been built in conjunction with this shed, and silage and timothy hay will make the ration of the brood mares during the winter. The leading stallion at the farm, General Gates, has for a year been given the run of a tightly fenced paddock of about three-fourths acre to which he has access every day in winter and day and night during spring, summer, and fall. In this time he has never worn a blanket and has never been in better health or spirits, or more easily handled.

The Department's experience thus far seems to indicate that horses may run out during the winter provided they have a dry bed, sheltered from storms and are given enough to eat, and that the practice will result in a considerable saving in cost of stabling and attendance.

Secretary Wilson says that for 20 years a herd of horses has wintered outdoors on his Iowa farm. He puts the horses in at one year old coming to two. He built a shed for them when he put them out at first, but found they would not go into it no matter how severe the weather was; they preferred to go into a heavily timbered ravine where they got all the shelter they seemed to want. A colt is never taken out until he is to be sold or broken for work. The hair of the animals grows long and thick and protects them. Unless the snow is too deep horses paw the range for the blue grass, of which there is always abundance in the pasture. It is well known that horses and sheep will paw the snow to reach grasses, while the bovine does not do this.

Rice Culture. Reports to the Department of Agriculture, Secretary Wilson announces, state that the acreage of rice in Louisiana, and Arkansas has increased approximately 700,000 acres in the past two years. Most of the farmers in this area, as well as in other areas which have been planted in rice for the first time in the last few years, know but little regarding the preparation of the land for irrigation, the proper amount of water to apply, and the best method of applying it.

The United States is growing practically the equivalent of all the rice it uses. Some rice of special varieties is being imported for Orientalists in the United States who prefer those varieties. The islands of the Caribbean sea and the Philippine Islands

New Zealand Offers Big Prize.

The Department of Agriculture has received a message from Minister of Agriculture Mackenzie of New Zealand stating his government has announced an offer of a bonus of 12,000 pounds sterling for improved methods to be used in connection with the preparation and utilization of New Zealand hemp. Minister Mackenzie requested Secretary Wilson to give the offer publicity as the circulation of this information will be for the benefit of American inventors and others in the United States. The offer is open to applicants until November 30, 1913. The conditions of the offer are "the extraction and dressing of fiber from the New Zealand hemp plant; the utilization of the by-products obtained during the processes of extraction of the fiber, on condition that the machine or process in regard to which the whole or any part of the bonus is to be paid shall be recommended by the New Zealand Flax-Miller's Association and approved by the government."

Minister Mackenzie has furnished Secretary Wilson with a leaflet giving full particulars on the subject.

WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive from the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as a confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

Dr. Pierce's treatment will cure you right in the privacy of your own home. His "Favorite Prescription" has cured hundreds of thousands, some of them the worst of cases.

"Fry" the small Chinkman who works in one of the Roswell cafes in the capacity of waiter, got too "flip" with a twelve year old American girl and as a result was arrested and fined $25 and costs in the police court. WELCOME WORDS TO WOMEN

Women who suffer with disorders peculiar to their sex should write to Dr. Pierce and receive from the advice of a physician of over 40 years' experience—a skilled and successful specialist in the diseases of women. Every letter of this sort has the most careful consideration and is regarded as a confidential. Many sensitively modest women write fully to Dr. Pierce what they would shrink from telling to their local physician. The local physician is pretty sure to say that he cannot do anything without "an examination." Dr. Pierce holds that these distasteful examinations are generally needless, and that no woman, except in rare cases, should submit to them.

MEMBERS OF THE FIRST STATE LEGISLATUREBENJAMIN FRANKLIN PANKEY,
Senator from Santa Fe County.

Age 48 years.
Born at Harrisburg, Illinois.
Livestock grower in Kansas.
President of Independent Telephone Company.
Owner of San Cristoval Grant.
Rancher in New Mexico since 1906.
Member of Cattle Sanitary Board.
Member of Constitutional Convention.
Married.

One of the leaders in the first State Senate, and pledged to the election of Thomas B. Catron to the United States Senate, will be Benjamin F. Pankey, who has become a well-known figure in the political life of the Territory the past few years. Of course, the entire Santa Fe delegation will insist on Mr. Catron's election to the Senate and will stand like a stone wall in that purpose.

Mr. Pankey is a native of Harrisburg, Illinois, and comes of French ancestry. He attended the public schools and a college in southern Illinois. He married at an early age, his wife being a daughter of H. H. Harris, a prominent attorney of Illinois. Pankey studied law in his father-in-law's office but never engaged in active practice.

In 1885, Pankey moved to a ranch in eastern Kansas and became an extensive stock grower. He organized an independent telephone company to fight the Telephone Trust and made a success of it so that he accumulated a large fortune.

After Mr. Pankey became a resident of New Mexico, Governor Curry appointed him a member of the Cattle Sanitary Board on which he is still serving. He was elected to the Constitutional Convention by the largest majority given any candidate. He stood for progressive measures in the Convention and used his influence within party lines toward drafting the excellent document that was ratified by 18,000 and more majority.

MINES AND MINING

Socorro County.
Following is the review of mining operations in the Mogollons for the week ending last Wednesday:

Ernestine Mining Co.
Even while installing the new batteries, necessitating the hanging up of the old stamps to permit the new mortar block to set, this company made the greatest monthly production in its history. The new ore body opened below the main tunnel is over 20 feet wide and averages 40 feet thick. The last 10-day clean-up in October yielded 10,465 Troy ounces of gold and silver bullion and 5 tons of high grade concentrates; 570 tons of ore were milled during the week, producing 50 sacks of concentrates in addition to the zinc box precipitates. E. Craig, the president of the company, is in camp inspecting the property and the new machinery installations.

Deadwood Mines.
The third level west has been opened to good ore. The mill continues its regular production of bullion and concentrates.

Mogollon Gold & Copper Co.
Both the old Cooney mine and the Little Charlie are producing a good grade ore. Smelter shipments are being made from the former while ten tons per day are being treated in the Deadwood mill from the latter.

The Oaks Company.
The new working shaft on the Pacific has been sunk 18 feet in ore. Work continues on the main tunnel.

Socorro Mines.
The first delivery of crude oil for the De La Vergne engines was made this week. Erection of the new power house is progressing rapidly.

Iron Group.
A good ore body has been opened up in the 80-ft. shaft.

Wife Drank While Husband Killed Himself.

Discouraged because of his inability to secure employment, Clarence French, at Pueblo, Colo., swallowed fifteen bicarbonate of mercury tablets in an effort to end his life. As French was lying unconscious on a bed in a cheap lodging house, his wife, Mrs. Lillian French, was drinking in another room. The man's wife and her two small children were arrested and are being held for investigation. The would-be suicide scribbled the following note just before succumbing: "I will die for you, Clarence French."

BIT HUMOROUS

Hence the Dampness.
"I had a frightful nightmare last night."
"Tell me about it."
"I dreamed that I owned a private yacht and started out to sail around the world."
"That's not so bad."
"But in a twinkling the yacht became a tub."
"Oh!"
"And the tub sprung a leak."
"Horror!"
"Then I woke up and pulled down the window. My bed was rain-soaked."

Independence of Mother-in-Law.
"Well, Binksey," said Jiggers, generally, "did you celebrate the Fourth of July in fitting manner?"
"You bet I did," said Binksey, with a swelling chest.
"What did you do?" asked Jiggers.
"I read the Declaration of Independence to my mother-in-law," said Binksey.
"Phew-ew!" whistled Jiggers. "You are a brave man, aren't you?"
"Oh, not so very," said Binksey. "I did it over the long-distance wire."—Harper's Weekly.

Can't See Out.
"Do you know it's a fact that few women are in the habit of looking ahead?"
"I hadn't thought much about the matter. How do you account for it?"
"Well, at the present time their failure to look ahead may be due to the kind of hats they are wearing."

His Suffragette Wife.
"Does your wife insist on being allowed to vote?"
"Yes," replied Mr. Meekton. "She is not content with having the last word in a political argument. She must go to the polls and put in a postscript."—Red Hen.

HIS PREFERENCE.

Rosalind—You may kiss me on the forehead.
Orlando—And get a bang in the month. Oh! no. But I must say I like your cheek.

Revised.
Pease porridge hot,
Pease porridge cold;
Pease porridge in a can
No one knows how old.

There Yet.
"Brink, you spend about half your time tinkering with that motor boat. What is there about it that's so attractive?"
"The $750 I put into it, old chap."

A Youngster's Logic.
Auntie—Oh, Harry, I'm ashamed of you playing cricket today. Don't you know it's the day of rest?
Harry—Yes, Auntie, but I'm not tired.—Black and White.

Its Kind.
"The flag-making business ought never to be dull."
"Why not?"
"Because the goods it deals in are always going up."

The Prospect.
"I wonder if the Moroccans are worried over the country's possible partition."
"Shouldn't wonder if they were feeling a good deal cut up."

Triumph of Reason.
Damoelas saw the sword suspended by the hair.
"Since it can't cut the hair, I judge your wife has been sharpening her pencil," he remarked to the king.

Absolutely Nothing.
She—No, I know nothing about golf; I don't even know which end of the caddy you use.
Smart Youth.
"Tommy, what did you do with the pennies I gave you for taking your medicine?"
"I bought a bun with one of them, and I gave Jimmy the other to drink the medicine for me.—The Bitter."

The Kind.
"Don't take that fellow on your foot-ball team. He's a chronic green." "What we want is a good kick."

A PRACTICAL SUGGESTION.

It was his first Sunday school, and he sat in the infants' department, eagerly watching the superintendent illustrate the lesson on the board.
The superintendent drew the path to heaven—one straight line—and started the figure of a man on it. Gradually the man became larger and larger; and finally when he arrived at the gate of heaven he could not get in.
The superintendent turned to his small audience and in a tragical and sorrowful tone said:
"You see, he is so puffed up with sin that he cannot enter in."
"Try him sideways, mister—try him sideways," came the small, shrill voice from the infants' department.

Loneliness at the Seaside.
Inquirer, at Summer Resort—Why don't you associate with that lady?
Mrs. Gotham—She lives in Harlem.
"Well, what is the matter with that other lady?"
"Horror! She lives in Brooklyn."
"But you don't associate with the lady behind her, either, and she lives on Fifth avenue."
"She won't associate with me."—New York Weekly.

HARD LUCK.

Raggeden Torne—Say, dat bay mare made a quarter in 23 seconds.
Dusty Rhodes—Gee! an' I ain't made a nickel in tree days!

Plenty.
He kissed his little wife twice a day.
The postman did the same, so they say.

His Confession.
"Tell me, before it is too late," she pleaded, "if you have ever done anything that you regret."
"Yes, there was one thing," he reluctantly admitted. "I once tried to rescue a man who had rocked a boat."

No Objection.
"That's a pretty good idea of the French playwright who is willing to fight everybody who criticizes him. I'd like to see our American playwrights imitate him."
"But some of them might be killed."
"Why, yes, of course."

A Generous Man.
"Here's the electric fan for your private office, Mr. Stinjay. Where do you want it?"
"Place it so that some of the breeze will go through the keyhole into the next room. I like to make my clerks as comfortable as I can."

Reminded.
"My! But it's fearfully hot."
"That's the first time I've heard you complain today."
"Well, I didn't feel so warm until I saw a bald-headed man mopping his cranium."

There's a Reason.
"Why," writes one of those propounders of unanswerable questions, "does a girl always shut her eyes when a man kisses her?"
Send us your photograph, and perhaps we can tell you the reason.

NATURALLY.

First Rooter—That umpire, they say, is a good judge of strikes.
Second Rooter—He used to be a walking delegate.

The Trouble.
Jack and Jill went up the hill To get a pail of water.
Their mother cried as she spied, "Oh, ain't it muddy sorter?"

Not Bad for Punch.
Heavy-goes (at dance at a late hour)—Haven't the least idea what the time is, have you?
Long Suffering Partner (sneaking her opportunity)—Oh, just ordinary wait time.—Punch.

Paradoxical Pleasure.
"This thing of going to see baseball games is a sort of twist, isn't it?"
"In what way?"
"Why, folks take outings in order to see innings."

The Business Manner.
"Was Jimson angry or collected in manner when his creditors insisted on his paying up?"
"He wasn't collected, but the debt was."

THE VALUE OF ADVERTISING

Case of the Trained Athlete and the Poor Foreigner That Illustrates Power of Publicity.

Provided an athlete, trained to the minute, fitted out with the best money can buy in the shape of specially prepared shoes, walking sticks, loose-fitting and comfortable clothing and refreshments, walks across the continent in anything like reasonable time, he is given wide publicity, is winned and dined and is proclaimed a being of great endurance, determination and self-will, a think-nothing-of-suffering, climb-over-a-barrier, set-all-obstacles-aside sort of person.

But a man in need of work and determined to get it, probably not in the best of physical condition, short of clothes and without knowledge as to where he is to get his next meal, can walk 3,000 miles, can undergo all sorts of hardships and self-denials, and he would not even be given credit for having done anything out of the ordinary.

Aside from other features of the comparison, it all goes to show what advertising will do in any branch of human existence or endeavor.
When the athlete starts out on his long tramp he is advertised far and wide and the eyes of the country are directed toward him. If he fails to complete his journey he is soon forgotten, but if he succeeds, he is a hero.

But in the case of the other man, he is not advertised and nothing is heard of him from one end of the journey to the other, so it does not matter whether he fails or succeeds.

And the same condition applies in other walks of life. The man who is wide awake, who directs attention to himself by advertising, by not only blowing his own horn but having others blow loud blasts on it occasionally is more certain than is the man who starts out without a blare of trumpets or without an attempt to attract and keep the attention of the public.

Recently a New York fireman set out from the Atlantic coast city to walk to this coast. He was a trained athlete and made the trip in good time and got a whole lot of notoriety and considerable money out of the trip. He was advertised far and near.

And recently a tailor, whose home was in Poland, received word that employment awaited him at the hands of an old friend in Redwood City, Cal. The tailor left Poland, without knowledge as to the length or breadth of the United States and arrived in New York city four months ago. When told that he had yet to cross the continent, he pluckily set out to walk the distance, being without funds to pay his fare.

He made the trip from New York city to Oakland in three months and two weeks, doing odd jobs en route to pay his expenses.
Upon reaching Redwood City he was at once employed.
The accomplishment of the needy tailor, comments the Oakland, Cal., Enquirer, is more worthy of notice than is that of the athletic fireman.

But the tailor's long tramp was not advertised.
For that reason he has failed to attract much attention and but little applause for his exhibition of endurance and determination.

Newspaper Ads Will Sell Land.
"To get results that are lasting and publicity that warms up the situation in the real estate business in almost any locality, newspapers are the best; a liberal use of the classified pages and sufficient use of the display to keep the firm out of the 'piker class' and give dignity to the smaller ads seems to cover the field and prove the best investment. Other schemes that are offered may seem and look rosy, but they seldom reach the public when it is in a frame of mind to be impressed with importance of investing in homes or in speculative real estate." This is the conclusion advanced by H. B. Van Sickle, publicity expert and advertising manager for a large real estate firm in Toledo.

Because an advertisement is pretty is no reason why it should get business; most fellows first with the pretty girls and then marry good cooks.—"Rusty Mike's Diary."

Frame Ads Carefully.
The advertisement a man puts forth is really his messenger and advance agent, an ambassador, if not a full plenipotentiary from his store. Nothing that it says should vary a fraction of a hair's breadth from the truth; and it should rather understate than attempt to exaggerate in the story it tells.

The manner of it (its tone and temper and style) will be among the things to look after and make attractive. It must not be rudely imperative; it must not seek; it ought not to decay the rival shops that also have their announcements out—not should it be verbose and otherwise careless and ineffectual in its style.

In the Fashion.
"Mrs. Flutter is so sensational in everything. She makes even an affecting show of grief."
"You're right—quite a moving picture."

Told Him Why.
Mr. Niccolle (caustically)—Why are you so cold and distant?
Sweet Girl (quietly)—The sofa is too heavy for me to move up to your chair.—New York Weekly.

Haven't You Some Old Furniture That You Would Like to Refinish?

That old shabby looking chair you have placed to one side or that scratched up dining looking hall clock grandmother gave you can be made beautiful and attractive at small expense. You can do the work yourself, too. How? Just this way. First remove the old finish with

Johnson's Electric Solvo

This preparation will take off all the finish down to the clean wood. Then if you discover that your chair, clock or whatever it may be, is made of some expensive wood like mahogany or rosewood, wipe it perfectly dry and then apply a coat of Johnson's Prepared Wax. Or, if you find that your furniture is made of ordinary wood apply a coat of Johnson's Wood Dye, desired shade, such as mahogany, weathered oak, Flemish oak, etc. This prepares the wood for a finish that is difficult to distinguish from the genuine wood. Then apply

Johnson's Prepared Wax

"A Complete Finish and Polish for All Wood"

It produces a rich, dull finish that is so much desired, but rarely produced. Fine for polishing all furniture and wood-work, no matter how finished. Prevents scratches from showing; marred spots can be touched up without going over the entire surface. Try it.
