RIVER FALLING AT ST. LOUIS

Great Damage Being Done on Lower Mississippi.

EAST ST. LOUIS IS UNDER WATER

One Thousand People Morooned in River Valley Villages.

St. Louis, June 9.—At 7 a. m. the official gauge registered 37.4 feet, a decline of .1 since yesterday, when the crest of the flood, 37.5 feet, was reached. The tendency of the river this morning seems to be to rise, but the great volume of water coming from above is spreading out and does not make itself apparent on the gauge by added inches. In the tri-cities, Madison, Venice and Granite City, it is estimated this morning that at least 1,000 men, women and children are in a precarious condition. They are awaiting rescue, many in the second stories and on the tops of houses and other points above the flood, less in danger of drowning than of starvation. Immediate steps are being made to remove these people to places of safety. In East St. Louis, where the railroad yards and that part along the river on both sides of the Eads bridge is flooded, the conditions are the same as yesterday. All of last night, men were at work strengthening the levee, that is keeping the water back from the business and residence sections of the city. The railroad situation shows no improvement.

From police reports it is learned that there are 390 destitute flood sufferers in St. Louis, refugees from East St. Louis, Madison, Venice, Granite City and Kaskaskia. All are destitute. There are over 3,000 refugees in the city, but they are being cared for by relatives and friends in St. Louis and its environs. A number have become ill from exposure. There were 1,200 flood refugees in Edwardsville, Ill., last night, from the tri-cities and Newport. Because of the congestion it was found necessary to distribute the sufferers in the cities and villages along the Wabash as far north as Litchfield. Four-fifths of the 5,000 inhabitants of Granite City remain within the limits of the town. One-half of them are homeless.

Memphis Flood. Memphis, Tenn., June 9.—Some concern is felt here over the flood of the Mississippi river to the north. A stage of thirty-four feet is thought to be probable at Memphis, and large forces of men are engaged in repairing the breaks left in the Arkansas levees north of the city made by late flood. Repair work at two breaks has given way, and water is passing to the country behind the levees, flooding a considerable area. A pile driver and 10,000 sacks have been dispatched to these points. Much trouble is being experienced in securing laborers for the work.

FOURTH OF JULY.

Central Labor Union's Plans Progressing Nicely—Program.

HONORARY COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

The Central Labor Union's plans for the greatest Fourth of July celebration ever held in the southwest are booming. Everything is going along nicely. The different committees are working in harmony, so you see everything has got to go along nicely.

Last night the Central Labor Union met in Carpenters' hall on West Gold avenue and everything went off in ship-like manner. The general executive committee of the Fourth of July celebration reported on various matters, and on motion of the executive committee, President Massey appointed the following honorary reception committee, who will assist in welcoming out of town visitors to the celebration: Mayor Charles F. Myers, Aldermen Grunfeld, Huos, McKee, Harrison, Harsch, Rogers, McMillen and Heaven, Judge Benjamin S. Baker, Sheriff T. S. Hulbell, Thomas Hughes, W. T. McCreight, Nell B. Field, O. N. Marron, P. F. McCanna, D. A. Macpherson, H. B. Henning, W. S. Burke, G. L. Brooks, F. G. Pratt, C. E. Newcomer, J. A. Bearup, John A. Lee, R. W. Hopkins, the presidents of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen, Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and Order of Railway Conductors.

The program as has been outlined up to date follows: On the morning of the Fourth there will be a ball game and band concert. In the afternoon the exercises will open with the reading of the Declaration of Independence and a Fourth of July address, which will be followed by all kinds of sports, including base ball, foot, sack, potato, egg, barrel, shoe, bicycle, three legged, burro and pony races. There will be a burro race and each union will have three men entered, a pusher, a puller and a jockey; a greased pole and greased pig contest will also take place. In the evening there will be a grand display of fireworks.

Three bands will be in attendance

SKINNER SKINNED.

The Mutual Protection Society Adopts Resolutions.

REGULAR MEETING.

At a regular meeting of the Society of Mutual Protection of Old Albuquerque, New Mexico, held Sunday, the following resolution was adopted and ordered signed by the officials of the society for the 250 members composing the same:

Whereas, It has come to our knowledge that a certain minister of the gospel, by name Norman Skinner, has deliberately lied about the native people of New Mexico and our educational facilities, misrepresenting facts and also insulting us in other ways; therefore, be it

Resolved, That this society, as the parent head of similar organizations in this county and territory, on behalf of ourselves and the native people of the territory denounce the said minister in the most emphatic terms for his perversion of the truth, for his uncalled for insults to our integrity as citizens and demand in the name of decency and for the cause of religion that the board of missions recall him from this territory as an offensive individual to the territory's best interests and good name.

Be it resolved, That we recommend that other societies of similar character to ours, founded for benevolence and to protect ourselves from just such attacks as the one made by this misguided Skinner, take action and denounce severely the said individual or any other who without cause or reason tries to besmirch the good name of our people.

We are glad to note that almost the whole press and people of the territory are with us and have spoken out and stood by us to protect the character of 120,000 citizens from unwarranted abuse and insult.

JESUS ROMERO,

President,

JESUS CANDELARIA,

Vice President,

JUAN ANAYA,

Secretary,

TOMAS WERNER,

Treasurer.

C. D. Murphy, Desiderio Montoya, Vivian Perea, members of the council. Nestor Montoya, Gabriel Armijo, Carlos Cervantes, Pablo di Blassi, Jose Ignacio Garcia, David Perea, Cesar Gonzalez, board of directors.

Florencio Garcia, sergeant at arms; S. Croliott, funeral director; Jacobo ayoa, guard.

The resolutions are signed by the above named officers in behalf of 250 members.

Big Fire in Pekin.

Pekin, June 9.—The extensive buildings occupied by the boards of revenue and rites are in flames from end to end. The revenue building contains four million teals. The burning buildings adjoin the legations and the foreign military guards are doing effective service. The Chinese fire department, equipped chiefly with banners and gongs, is helpless.

Monitor Arkansas.

New York, June 9.—The monitor Arkansas, which went to St. Louis to attend the fair dedication, arrived here today.

Boiler Explosion.

Gibraltar, June 9.—A boiler explosion occurred today on the British armored cruiser Good Hope. An officer and six men were injured.

The Kansas Murderers.

St. Francis, Kan., June 9.—Deputies and militia bringing in Chauncey Dewey and two cow boys charged with the killing of the Berry family last week, have not yet arrived, but are expected late this afternoon. Though there are hundreds of armed farmers along the way traversed it is not believed today that there will be any conflict.

Cherry Creek Flood.

Denver, June 9.—Cherry Creek, flowing through Denver, suddenly rose to near the top of the banks this morning, owing to a cloudburst on the divide. The water came with a rush at 10:20 and what a few moments before was a small stream became a raging torrent. No damage was done so far as known, although the stream is full of floating chicken coops, boxes, planks and other debris.

Kentucky Murder Case.

Jackson, Ky., June 9.—It was quiet here last night and court this morning reconvened without special incident. The increased guards still continues at the homes of B. L. Ewen, Mrs. Marcum and Mrs. Patrick. The two prisoners presented quite a different appearance this morning. Curtis Jett was as confident as ever, while Thomas White had wept during the night and was despondent.

Market Gardeners Combine.

New York, June 9.—Market gardeners about New York are beginning to form combinations for the purpose of making a better market for their wares, saving expenses in transportation and distributing the product in a manner as will avert overloading the dealers. The first combine of the kind will be the Long Island Cauliflower Growers' association for the incorporation of which articles have been drawn.

POSTOFFICE INVESTIGATION.

Grand Jury Finds No New Developments in the Crookedness.

Washington, June 9.—There were no developments today as a result of the grand jury's investigation into the affairs of the postoffice, and it is said that no further indictments may be looked for this week. The decision in the case of James N. Tyner, formerly assistant attorney general, before the grand jury was reached only after the most careful consideration. It is understood there is a feature connected with the opening of the safe and the abstraction of papers therewith which has not been disclosed and that it was this which led to the determination to put the case before the grand jury.

RIGHT-OF-WAY SECURED.

Bland Property Owners Anxious for the New Road.

CHIEF DUNLAP IN THE FIELD.

A few days ago, The Citizen announced the departure from this city of Chief Engineer Dunlap, of the New Mexico Northern Railroad company, to the Cochiti district.

This road has been surveyed from a point a few miles above Thornton, on the Santa Fe road, across the mesa to Pena Blanca, and thence through the Cochiti mountains to the town of Bland.

On his return from Chicago, Mr. Dunlap posted up a day or two here to consult with local mine operators in the Cochiti district, and then left for the district.

Word was received today by J. H. Pegue, through a letter from Thos. H. Benson, that the people of Bland has granted to Mr. Dunlap right of way through that town for the railroad, that Mr. Dunlap, feeling so good over the anxiety of the Bland people for a new railroad, has given assurance that the new road is not a thing only on paper but that it will be in reality a railroad in operation in a very short time.

Mr. Dunlap is expected to return to this city in a few days.

COURT DECISION

Judge Eaker Renders Decision in Important Case.

GOO-GOO GANG KNOCKED OUT

Present County Commissioners Were Legally Appointed.

THE DEMOCRAT'S DECISION REVERSED

THIS MORNING JUDGE B. S. BAKER, OF THIS JUDICIAL DISTRICT, HANDED DOWN HIS DECISION IN THE CASE OF THE TERRITORY VS. T. C. GUTIERREZ AND SEVERO SANCHEZ, THE TWO COUNTY COMMISSIONERS OF THIS COUNTY, APPOINTED BY THE TERRITORIAL LEGISLATURE TO FILL OUT THE EXPIRING TERM OF E. A. MIERA AND IGNACIO GUTIERREZ, WHO, ON THE CREATION OF THE NEW COUNTY OF SANDOVAL, WERE FOUND TO BE RESIDENTS OF THE LATTER COUNTY.

THE PROCEEDINGS WERE INSTITUTED BY THE SOLICITOR GENERAL OF THE TERRITORY OF NEW MEXICO, THROUGH DISTRICT ATTORNEY CLANCY, UPON INFORMATION FURNISHED AND AFFIDAVITS FILED BY MEMBERS OF THE "GOO-GOO GANG," ASKING THAT THE TWO NAMED COUNTY COMMISSIONERS BE OUSTED FROM OFFICE AND DECLARING THAT THE LEGISLATURE HAD NO RIGHT TO MAKE SUCH APPOINTMENTS.

THE DECISION OF THE JUDGE, WHICH IS HERE PUBLISHED IN FULL, SUSTAINS THE ACT OF THE LEGISLATURE AND DECLARES THE APPOINTMENT OF THE TWO COMMISSIONERS LEGAL IN EVERY PARTICULAR.

The Decision.

In the District Court, Bernalillo County, Territory of New Mexico.

Territory of New Mexico, ex rel, Thomas J. Curran, et al, vs. Tomas C. Gutierrez and Severo Sanches.

This is an action based upon information by the solicitor general of the Territory of New Mexico against Tomas C. Gutierrez and Severo Sanches, to require the respondents to show by what warrant or authority they hold the offices of members of the board of county commissioners of Bernalillo county.

The respondents for answer to the information say, that they hold said offices by virtue of an act of the legislature, approved March 10, 1903, which said act is in part as follows:

Section 3. That T. C. Gutierrez, to fill the unexpired term of the second district, and Severo Sanches, be and they hereby are appointed and constituted county commissioners for the county of Bernalillo, as the same is constituted after the creation of Sandoval county, and the said T. C. Gutierrez and Severo Sanches shall qualify as said county commissioners on or before the fifth day of April, 1903.

To said answer the solicitor general files a general demurrer. The demurrer raises the question of the validity of said act. If said act is invalid the solicitor general's demurrer must be sustained, and the respondents adjudged to be holding said offices without authority or warrant of law, and must be ousted. If said act is valid, the demurrer must be overruled, and the information dismissed.

Congress, in establishing the territorial government of New Mexico, divided its powers, as is usual in republican forms of government, into the executive, the legislative and the judicial. The executive power is vested in the governor of the territory. Section 3, organic act, approved September 30, 1850. The legislative power of the territory is vested in the governor and the legislative assembly. Section 5, organic act, supra. The judicial power of the territory was vested in a supreme court, district courts, probate courts, and in justices of the peace." Section 19, organic act. Section 8 of said organic act provides that "all township, district and county officers, . . . shall be appointed or elected, as the case may be, in such manner as shall be provided by the governor and legislative assembly of the Territory of New Mexico." This section was amended on September 9, 1850 (Section 1857, R. S., U. S., 1873) and so far as it relates to the subject matter of the quotation from section 8, it was a re-enactment, and reads as follows:

All township, district and county officers shall be appointed or elected in such manner as may be provided by the governor and legislative assembly of each territory. Chapter 818 (Statutes at large, Vol. . . .) provides "that the legislatures of the territories of the United States now or hereafter to be organized shall not pass local or special laws in any of the following enumerated cases: . . . Regulating county and township affairs; . . . granting to any corporation, association, or individuals any special or exclusive privileges, immunity or franchise whatever." This was amended, or, rather, given a construction at the time the act of the New Mexico legislature creating San Juan county was approved, as follows: "That nothing in the act approved July 30, 1886, entitled an act to prohibit the passage of local or special laws in the territories of the United States, to limit territorial indebtedness and for other purposes" shall be construed to prohibit the creation by territorial legislatures of new counties and the location of the county seats thereof." Section 2, chapter 79, approved July 19, 1888.

Section 660 of the compiled laws of New Mexico provides: "Each county shall be divided by the first board of commissioners holding office into three compact districts as equally in proportion to population as possible, numbered respectively by one, two and three, and shall not be subject to alteration oftener than once in two years, and one commissioner shall be elected from each of such districts by the votes of the whole county, as herein provided."

Section 688 of said compiled laws, provides: "Any vacancy that may hereafter occur in the board of county commissioners of any county by reason of death, resignation, removal or otherwise, of one or more county commissioners, shall be filled by appointment to be made by the governor of the territory."

The foregoing comprises the statutes of congress and of the legislature of New Mexico on the subject matter before us, down to the act complained of. It will be observed in section 1857, R. S. of U. S., supra, that congress not only conferred upon the legislative power of the territory the authority to appoint or cause to be elected in such manner as the legislative power may provide, but it makes it the duty of the legislative power of the territory to appoint or elect in such manner as they provide the several county officers of the territory. The language is as follows: "All county officers shall be appointed or elected in such manner as may be provided by the governor and the legislative assembly of each territory." It will be further observed that there is nothing in the constitution of the United States, the organic act establishing the Territory of New Mexico, nor in any of the acts of congress designating what county officers there shall be in the Territory of New Mexico. That is granted by implication to the legislative power or branch of the territorial government.

AFTER CARPENTERS.

Contractor Harlan Wants Carpenters for San Marcial Depot.

TALKS OF THE RIO GRANDE.

J. A. Harlan, who has the contract to build the new depot for the Santa Fe road at San Marcial, came in from the south this morning, and is here today to secure half a dozen or more carpenters to go to work on the new depot. Mr. Harlan stated that the material, supposed to have been caught in the floods and therefore indefinitely delayed, got through all right and reached San Marcial the other day; hence there will be no further delay in the erection of the new depot if he can get a sufficient number of carpenters to work.

"Yes, the river is pretty high," said Mr. Harlan, "at certain low points south of this city, but there don't seem to me to be sufficient force in the rushing waters to stir up the quicksand to any great extent, hence no damage of any consequence has so far resulted from the rise in the Rio Grande. Of course, should the northern sections be visited by heavy rains, causing the melting of the huge banks of snow, the Rio Grande would then be a mighty stream, and, if not looked after, great damage would be the result."

MOROS GET SELF-GOVERNMENT

Gen. Wood to Be Governor of the Island.

FREE TRADERS OF ENGLAND EXCITED

Making Efforts to End the Strike in New York City.

Manila, June 9.—The Philippine commission has enacted a bill providing for the government of the Moros. Governor Taft and Major General Davis jointly drafted it. The measure practically makes the Moro province an autonomous colony of the Philippines which the Philippine government controls, and creates an appointive legislative council to provide local laws, the commission reserving the right to amend or annul them. The council is to be composed of a governor, secretary, treasurer, engineer, attorney and superintendent of schools. Governor Taft will appoint the officials. The bill will extend the jurisdiction of the Philippine courts and constabulary to the province and will recognize Moro laws which do not conflict with American laws. The bill provides for partial military government and it is expected that Gen. Leonard Wood will be the first governor of the military province.

Manila, June 9.—The Philippine commission has enacted a bill providing for the government of the Moros. Governor Taft and Major General Davis jointly drafted it. The measure practically makes the Moro province an autonomous colony of the Philippines which the Philippine government controls, and creates an appointive legislative council to provide local laws, the commission reserving the right to amend or annul them. The council is to be composed of a governor, secretary, treasurer, engineer, attorney and superintendent of schools. Governor Taft will appoint the officials. The bill will extend the jurisdiction of the Philippine courts and constabulary to the province and will recognize Moro laws which do not conflict with American laws. The bill provides for partial military government and it is expected that Gen. Leonard Wood will be the first governor of the military province.

LAW SUSTAINED.

The law creating Sandoval county and naming in the law the commissioners of Sandoval and Bernalillo counties is sustained by the able and carefully prepared decision rendered by Judge Baker. His decision is that the legislature had the right under the organic act of the territory to name the commissioners to fill the vacancies in this county. He thereby reverses the decision of the Democrat, which paper gave its decision in the case several days ago.

This is a knock-out blow to the googoo gang in this city.

curred in 1785.

THE OIL MONOPOLY.

The El Paso, Texas, News says that New Mexico repealed a coal oil inspection law some months ago to remove the excuse of the Standard Oil company for robbing the people of 10 cents per gallon, in order to pay inspection fee of half of one cent. If the company has since reduced the price of oil, or if any competitor has dared to ship oil into the territory, or if merchants have dared to import oil brought from any other company, the territorial press has not mentioned the matter. It is pretty safe to say that the price will not be materially reduced without competition, and that any merchant who ships in oil bought below the octopus price, to give the people the benefit of competition, will find the Standard ready to give away oil, to make him lose money. But whenever such a method shall be adopted of monopolizing traffic, the territory should cancel the charter under which the corporation does business.

The labor union Fourth of July celebration will bring large crowds to the city from New Mexico towns. The celebration will be first class.

TRADE OF ALASKA.

The commerce of Alaska during the fiscal year which ends with this month seems likely to aggregate over $20,- 000,000, exclusive of gold. The treasury bureau of statistics is now collecting and publishing monthly statements of the shipments of merchandise to and from Alaska. This information is now being collected under an act recently passed by congress at the recommendation of the bureau of statistics, giving it authority to collect statistics of the commerce between the United States and its noncontiguous territory. Under its operations the value of the merchandise passing from the United States into Alaska and from Alaska to the various ports of the United States is now for the first time presented.

The figures of shipments from the ports of the United States to Alaska during the ten months ending with April, 1903, aggregate $6,831,070 of merchandise, and $104,359 of gold and silver coin.

During the month of April the total shipments of merchandise to Alaska amounted to $2,581,784, and as the opening months of the season are those of heavy shipments to Alaska. It is quite apparent that the total shipments to Alaska during the first fiscal year in which their value is measured, will aggregate between $10,000,000 and $12,000,000. A similar statement of the shipments from Alaska to the United States, which is also published, shows the total value for ten months to be $10,101,060 of merchandise. In addition to the shipments of gold ore from Alaska, produced in United States territory, amount to $4,369,496. The shipments of "foreign" gold ore from Alaska during the period, by which is meant that from the Klondike (Canadian) territory reaching the United States through Alaska aggregates for the same period, $10,972,454.

Immigration of the United States during the month of April reached the highest point on record for any one month. The arrivals at all points numbered 128,286.

HAD THE BIG HEAD.

Since the investigation in the postoffice department at Washington has been in progress, it has been ascertained that Machen, the person who had charge of the rural delivery, and who is now under arrest for using his position to fill his pocket, was a democrat, appointed during the last Cleveland administration. H. W. Beavers, who was the chief of the salary and allowance division and who resigned because he saw the storm approaching, was a mugwump who, apparently so far as politics was concerned, was of the neutral gender. But the evidence is very conclusive that both of these men were very efficient in the discharge of duty for a time, but finally became impressed with the idea that they were the whole government.
In short, their heads enlarged and they have learned to their sorrow that the government is somewhat larger than they supposed. Their fate will doubtless reduce the swelling in the heads of some other subordinates and will be of an advantage to them personally as well as to the service.

If a merchant wants to increase his trade, let him remember the old saying, "if you don't see what you want ask for it," and he must not forget that the most effective way to ask for it, is through the medium of the local newspapers.

IRRIGATION WORK.

The El Paso News says that the territory of New Mexico ought to do something in co-operation with the federal government to construct reservoirs.

There are no strings upon the Elephant Butte reservoir site, or there will be none after the court takes up the question again, for the English company has forfeited its rights by not building within the prescribed period.

The government's New Mexico attorney has filed notice of this fact with the court, and the result cannot be doubtful.

El Paso and Mexico interests prevented the construction of an Elephant Butte reservoir by an English company.

With that project out of the way, the government should act vigorously in the interest of all people who have irrigation rights in the waters of the river, by building dams. There is plenty of water to do much good if the government will but store it near El Paso, or both here and in New Mexico, according to equity.

Delegate Rodey, of New Mexico, is authority for a statement that there is not a single project under the new law yet started in the sense of having work begun upon it. The irrigation bureau has selected a project in Nevada, another in Colorado and one in Arizona, which it has ordered to be prepared with a view of commencing work upon them; but no contract has yet been let and will not be until the people of those states and that territory fully comply with the requirements.

The department is making extensive irrigation surveys in New Mexico with a view to future work, should conditions be complied with.

The people of Arizona have prepared all their data for the Tonto basin reservoir several years ago, and at once turned that data over to the department. New Mexico has no project where the data is complete. The Arizona people went to a lot of trouble, got options on 110,000 acres of private land, pledged it all in the nature of a mortgage to the government to secure the cost of a reservoir at Tonto basin and are fast getting in shape where the department will

Colonel Albright at Work.

Col. J. G. Albright reports much favorable progress in the organization of a lodge of Red Men for Tombstone.
The colonel is much encouraged with the success that has met his efforts, and states that the Tombstone lodge will start with a healthy membership roll. A meeting of the members will be held tomorrow (Sunday) night, and there will also be another meeting on next Thursday night at Masonic hall.
Francis M. Clute, the deputy inchoonee of the order, will probably be here tomorrow to meet with the new member, and when the institution of the lodge is had here, Bishop's famous sixteen will come over to assist in the degree work. The order of Red Men is becoming numerically strong in Cochise county, the membership exceeding that of many of the older orders—

DANDRUFF WON'T WASH OUT.

The Germ That Causes It Has to Be Destroyed to Cure Dandruff.

Many a woman spends an hour twice a week scouring her scalp, thinking scrubbing off the scurf will cure the dandruff. Two hours a week, at the age of 40 years, she has spent 200 days of twelve hours each, or two-thirds of her life, in that vain hope; vain because you can't cure dandruff without killing the dandruff germ, and the only hair preparation on earth that will do that is Newbro's "Herpicide"—also a delightful hair dressing, and thorough antiseptic against all contagion from use of other's hair brushes.

CATTLE CRUELTY.

Reported From Fort Cummings—The Dumb Animals Maltreated.

From the most reliable source the Deming Headlight is informed that acts of brutality, and what would seem to be beyond the measure of man to perform, has been lately indulged in by some party or parties at Fort Cummings, about twenty-five miles north of Deming.

Cattle are being cut, and horns knocked off, their skulls crushed and they are left to wander off to suffer from the blow flies and screw worms, until death puts an end to their sufferings.

James Phillips, a prominent cattleman of that section, has already found some sixteen or eighteen head of his cattle that has thus been treated.
Thomas Halyt, whose word is as good as gold, told the writer that he had seen one of these—a heifer—that was found confined in a dry corral at Fort Cummings, and was hauled in a wagon to Florida, where an attempt is being made to save its life. Mr. Hall stated that the horn had been cut near the head with some sharp instrument, like a hatchet, and then the horn had been knocked down and left dangling.

LOST FLESH
AND STRENGTH

"I was a total wreck—could not sleep or eat—wrote Mr. J. C. Jones of my troubles. Crawford Co., Mo. I had been years I tried medicine from doctors but received very little benefit. I had fresh and strength was not able to do a good day's work. I commenced taking Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, and when I had taken one bottle I could sleep and my appetite was wonderfully improved. I have taken five bottles and am still improving."

The sole motive for substitution is to prevent the dealer to make the little more profit paid by the sale of less meritorious medicines. He gains; you lose.
Therefore, accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery."

The skull of this animal had also been cut or crushed.

Mr. Phillips has found a large number of cattle that have been similarly abused.

What the object of the inhuman brute, who is thus torturing dumb animals is, no one seems to know, but the grand jury, soon to convene in this county, should inquire into this matter most thoroughly and, if possible, bring the guilty wretch up with a round term.

Parties are quietly investigating this affair and by this time next week there may be some sensational developments in the case.

This is a matter wherein the association could do good work and show what it is here for.

MANAGER OF

JUDGE MORRISON.

He Skins Rev. Skinner in Scientific Skinning Manner.

COMMUNICATION ON THE SUBJECT.

Santa Fe, N. M., June 5, 1903.
Editor Daily Citizen.
Some books are lies from end to end
And some great lies were never penned.
Even ministers have been tanned
In holy rapture
A rattlin' kind at times to vend
And nail 't w/ Scripture

When Bobby Burns wrote the above he must have had in mind some veracious (?) person closely akin to the Rev. Norman Skinner. In a speech of half a dozen sentences there were four wicked lies, known by him to be lies. When he says "No man from New Mexico likes to hear the truth about his country," he says what he must know to be untrue. When he asserts that 10 per cent of the 100,000 Mexican citizens of this territory are literate, he utters another gross falsehood. Then he says: "When you put New Mexico into statehood you are receiving into the rights of citizenship 90,000 human cattle, who are bought and sold like sheep." How there can be 90,000 voters in a population of 200,000, is beyond the comprehension of any one but a Skinner. The fact is that the average vote of New Mexico is about 35,000 and I unhesitatingly assert that there is no more buying and selling of votes among them than among an equal number of citizens in the state of this modern Ananias. But the most deliberate and malicious lie is when he says that "there are no schools except those established by the missionaries." "Oh, shame, where is thy blush?" Does not this ungrateful creature know that the very city which has given him shelter and support boasts of schools which would be considered creditable in any town in the union? The people of Albuquerque are justly proud of their splendid public schools, and although the public schools of Santa Fe are not what they should be, and what they soon will be, the system of education here is fully abreast of any city in the country. Of course, the Rev. N. S. would not condescend to notice the magnificent schools, academies and colleges which the Catholic people have erected all over the territory, conducted in the most efficient manner by the Christian brothers, the Sisters of Loretto and other teaching orders of the Catholic church, in which thousands of boys and girls are taught to be good Christians and loyal American citizens. Probably the Rev. N. S. is ignorant of the fact that several of these schools were established half a century ago and that many of those devoted religious, crossed the plains when all Kansas was infested by wild tribes of hostile Indians who often ambushed and attacked the trains in which these holy servants of God were traveling, several of whom died and were buried on those desolate deserts, thus sacrificing their lives to the cause of God and His people. Where was the Rev. Norman Skinner in those troublous days? If he was alive, he did not take his life in his hands and dare the savages in his zeal in the cause of education. No indeed, he waited for the days of the vestibule trains and the Pullman sleeper, and then he came not to educate like a good Christian, but to vilify, misrepresent and slander the people, all the people, without exception, who have extended their hospitality to him. Go home, Norman, go home, we love truthful men here and you are not one. If you ever had any usefulness here you have outlived it. Adios.

More Books for Library.

A complete set of Bancroft's histories, thirty-five volumes bound in leather, are now on the shelves of the Albuquerque Public Library. These books will prove interesting to all for they deal to a large extent with the history of the southwest and of this territory. There is also an interesting account of the Pueblo Indians. The library commission will hold its regular monthly meeting on Thursday evening.

That Throbbing Headache

would quickly leave you, if you used Dr. King's New Life Pills. Thousands of sufferers have proved their matchless merit for sick and nervous headaches. They make pure blood and build up your health. Only 25 cents, money back if not cured. Sold by all druggists.

Central Labor Union.

The Central Labor Union last night seated delegates from the International Association of Machinists' local union, Plasterers' International local No. 254, and the Porters' Protective union. The meeting held was a lively one and many matters of interest to union men were discussed and disposed of. The officers of the central body are still casting about for a larger hall on account of the large growth of that body.

Driven to Desperation.

Living at an out of the way place, remote from civilization, a family is often driven to desperation in case of accident, resulting in burns, cuts, wounds, ulcers, etc. Lay in a supply of Bucklen's Arnica Salve. It's the best on earth. 25 cents at all drug stores.

FREE HOSPITAL.

To Be Established for Consumptives Between Two Territories.

AT WORK ON PLANS.

Consumption hospitals and sanitariums are being planned for several cities in both New Mexico and Arizona, and the latest, according to the Denver News, will be located on a site already selected near the boundary of the two territories. The article says:

"This hospital will care for those who are unable to pay their own expenses, and no charge will be made for services of any kind. Dr. T. C. Bancroft, formerly of Kansas City, is now at work on the plans for the hospital and it is expected that it will be opened within a year.

"The hospital will accommodate at least 125 persons. According to the present plans it is proposed to purchase a site of 880 acres, 320 acres of which are now under irrigation. On this land is a large modern brick building 100 feet square, containing seventy-eight rooms. There are eleven other buildings on the grounds, each containing three rooms. These buildings it is intended, shall be used by families who seek the advantages of the hospital.

"The buildings were erected some time ago by an eastern man who intended making it a home for orphans. Lack of support and the small number of inmates caused the place to be abandoned, and it is now for sale. It originally cost $250,000, but it has been offered to Dr. Bancroft for hospital purposes for $50,000. The buildings are all modern and are well furnished. Much of the ground is under cultivation and some fine orchards have been set out.

"Dr. Bancroft is now at work perfecting the plans for securing the fund necessary to establish the hospital. Although an active canvasser for money has not yet been begun, he has received several offers of funds.

EARLY DAY STORY.

How "Joe" Stinson Turned the Trick on Bad Man, "Wally" Henderson.

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. M. EPISODE.

"No use to waste time talking about him; he was the only one of his kind. And when I say 'was,' I mean just that, for, though he is alive today in an old soldiers' home in California, he's a has-been, and—was is was."

Thus spoke William H. Baker, cheerful, content and corpulent, dispenser of lithia water at 1430 Stout street.

Lithia water? Harkee, it is true! And it is the same "Little Billy," whom the old-timers at Elizabethtown, N. M., knew back in the '70s, when a man's life at Elizabethtown was worth—well, whatever he could get for it, and it was always on sale.

"Little Billy" was talking to Joseph Stinson, who was born in Maine seventy years ago, but deserted the Atlantic seaboard early and came west to rough it, and rough it hard. Nobody would recognize him by the name Joseph, however. He was always "Jo," "good old Joe," but a mighty bad old Jo when he was aroused.

A Quiet Time.

It would take a big book of a good many chapters to tell all about "Joe" Stinson, but it is well worth while to wait while "Billy" Baker tells of the killing of "Wally" Henderson, a job which "Joe" attended to one morning at the early hour of 4, to avoid unnecessary excitement and the disturbance of the sleepy inhabitants. "Billy" tells it something like this:

"I had blown in from Dodge City, Kan., and had gone in with Joe in the saloon business. Of course that meant a gambling place with a booze attachment. Ordinarily, I attended to the bar and Joe dealt faro while a hired man of ours ran the high ball poker game.

"Joe was a big, good natured fellow when he was sober, but he was a bad man when he got his load on. He didn't pick any trouble, even when he was full, but he was awful ready when he thought it was up to him. Several times he lost all we had between us by an unlucky deal or two and, when he lost heavily, he used to wind up by smashing all the furniture and glassware in the place and inviting everybody in 'till the booze was all drunk up.

"It was along about 1879 when Wally Henderson drifted into camp. He was a mysterious, quiet, drinking sort of a cuss, tall, black mustached and gentle in his manner. But his reputation came along with him and the wildest of the boys went slow with him, for it was known that he would shoot, and it also leaked out that he was a marksman from whence, who had laid out several pretty confident fellows.

New Man Assumes Charge.

"I was tending bar about that time, and one night Henderson came quietly in and took charge of the place.

"Don't you go behind that bar," he said to me, as I returned after being out about five minutes. "You may think you own this place, but I'm running it for the time being."

"Well, you may believe, I didn't go behind. Then Wally asked everybody up and he went behind and set 'em up to everybody. Joe was dealing faro at the time, but he was fairly sober and didn't appear to be taking any notice of him. He went right along with his game and let Wally run things, and smiled grimly when he saw Wally giving away everything we had on the shelves.

"After awhile Henderson took a drunken whim to close up the place, and he drew his revolver and ordered me to close.

"Just do as I tell you and you won't have no trouble," he said, and I looked over to Joe for instructions. Joe nodded to me and I began putting out the lights and Joe put away his faro layout and told the boys everything was off for the night. Henderson seemed satisfied, but he still appeared to have his grudge at Joe.

Joe when the place was about closed and we were all coming out.

"I'll kill you some time," he said to "All right," said Joe, calmly, for he was in a peculiarly amiable mood that night, "but don't let me catch you at it, Wally," and that was their good night.

Turned the Trick.

"I slept badly and was up early, for there was something in the manner of Joe that made me feel that there would be somebody to bury before long. I got up at 4 o'clock and went down and opened up by candle light. There was no need of it, but I felt like I had to be up and about and doing something.

"I hadn't any more than swept out till Joe came in. Usually he was up late and didn't rise before 10 o'clock.

"What's the matter?" I asked.

"Nothing," I was restless, that's all, and I got up and dressed. Want any help?"

"I told him everything was all right and he seemed very content, only he kept glancing toward the door.

"He hasn't sent you any message, has he?" I asked.

"No; but he'll be here early," said Joe, "and he won't expect to find me, but he will. There's going to be no more disturbance about this place."

"He had hardly got through saying it when Wally Henderson walked in. He wasn't half sobered up yet.

"Bill," he said, "I want a—then he stopped. He saw Joe. He seemed to feel that Joe had issued a mental ultimatum—that's the word, isn't it, ultimatum?—and he felt for his gun.

"That's all he did. Before he could get it out Joe had three holes in him and he was flat on the floor, down and out.

"It's a pity," said Joe, as he put up his revolver, sighed and motioned with his head toward his favorite bottle, "but one of us had to live"—Denver Post.

Old-timers who visited Santa Fe years ago will remember "Joe" Stinson, who conducted a saloon and gambling resort on San Francisco street, near the plaza and directly opposite the Claire hotel corner. "Joe" was thrown in company with plenty of real and alleged "bad men," and The Citizen could, if in a reminiscent mood, recite several very interesting early life stories which were related by Stinson himself some fifteen or twenty years ago. Stinson finally had to fear adversity; drink and poor luck at gambling cutting down his funds to few pennies, and at last, being an old soldier, he was sent to the Santa Monica soldiers' home of southern California. Since that time "Joe" Stinson has passed out of existence, and his remains now lie buried in the cemetery of the soldiers' home.

Ladies and Children Invited.

When such offices have been created where is the power to fill these offices, and by what means? Referring to section 1857, supra, we find that "all county officers shall be appointed or elected in such manner as may be provided by the governor and legislative assembly of each territory." By this act of congress the sole and exclusive power to fill county offices is vested in the legislative power, with authority to delegate such power to the voters of the several counties, to be exercised in such manner as may be provided by the legislative power; or the legislative power may appoint such officers. By the casual observer it would be contended that it is a vested right in every community, or at least every county, to elect its own officers, believing in local self-government; but when we look at the last mentioned act of congress, we find that the voter has no such inherent right, and, in fact, the only way in which a county can have county officers and county offices is through the legislative power as given it by congress, and that instead of it being a local self-government, county officers may be appointed by the legislative power, or by delegating such power to some person or persons, entirely ignoring the right of local self-government and the right of the people of each county to elect its own officers. The following case is of much assistance to us in construing section 1857, R. S., supra. In this case, People ex rel Waterman, v. Freeman, 80 Cal., 233 (22 Pac. Rep. 173), a statute of California is construed. The statute provided that the state library is under the control of a board of trustees, consisting of five members elected by the legislature in joint convention assembled, and holding their offices for the term of four years. The action was one on "information in the nature of quo warranto, instituted by the attorney general through special counsel, upon the relation of W. K. Waterman, governor of the State of California, against A. C. Freeman, to test his right to hold the office of trustee of the state library under and by virtue of Pol. Code Cal. section 2292." It was contended upon the part of the relator, that the appointing office was intrinsically, essentially and exclusively an executive function, and therefore that it could not be exercised by the legislature. On the part of respondent it was contended that there is a specific provision in the constitution permitting the legislature to thus appoint, citing section 4 of article 20 of said constitution, which reads as follows: "All officers or commissioners whose election or appointment is not provided for by this constitution, and all officers or commissioners whose offices or duties may hereafter be created by law shall be elected by the people or appointed, as the legislature may direct." The supreme court in passing upon this question said: "On the contrary, it had not only been decided in other states of the union under constitutions containing provisions substantially equivalent to the sections above quoted from our own, that the legislature could fill offices by itself created, but our own supreme court construing identical provisions of our own constitution had come to the same conclusion." From a careful perusal of this California case, it will be seen that the court clearly and distinctly sets out the three departments of government and discusses whether or not section 4 of Art. 20 of the constitution infringed upon the executive department. After holding that it did not it then finds that the legislature may fill offices by itself created. This seems to have a very close resemblance to the case under consideration. Section 1857, supra, has the same relation to New Mexico as section 4, article 20 of the constitution of California has to the State of California, and it will be observed that said section 4 provides, "that all officers or commissioners whose election or appointment is not provided for by this constitution and all officers or commissioners whose offices and duties may hereafter be created by law, shall be elected by the people or appointed as the legislature may direct." You will observe that section 1857, R. S., supra, provides "That all county officers shall be appointed or elected in such manner as may be provided by the governor and legislative assembly of each territory." They are strikingly similar, there being no provision in all the laws establishing the Territory of New Mexico or acts of congress since then, that provides for a single county officer or the filling of a single county office, but leaves it to the legislative power to appoint or elect. In California, under the said section of their constitution, such officers as under the provision may be created, shall be elected by the people, or appointed, as the legislature may direct; and there it is held that officers elected or appointed by the legislature itself under such a provision were not elected or appointed in conflict with the constitution. In all the law hereinbefore cited there is no express provision for filling vacancies in county offices. In the power to create an office, is implied the power to fill the office. It would be mere folly to grant the power to create with no means provided for the filling of such offices. Therefore, I think we may assume that no one will contend but what there is a power somewhere to fill a vacancy in an office that has been created by the legislative power of the territory. It certainly cannot be contended that there is any power except that of the legislative power in the first instance to provide the manner and means of filling all offices of the kind and character in question here. We have cited authority for the creating of new counties in the territory. This, of course, implies the authority to change the old counties. So, when Sandoval county was created the act creating it interfered with Bernalillo county, both as to territory and as to its officers. It created the vacancies of county commissioners in Bernalillo county. The contention and issue in this case is, how, or by whom shall the said vacancies be filled; or, more tersely expressed, had the legislative power of the territory authority to fill these vacancies? If the authority to fill county offices was vested in the legislative power of the territory by congress, as expressed in said section 1857, R. S., supra, it was the duty of the legislative power (comprising the governor and the legislative assembly) to fill said vacancies, or it must delegate that power either to the people to elect, or to the governor, or to some one else, to appoint, or such vacancies must continue. Neither the governor nor the people have inherent power, or any power, to fill vacancies in the office of county commissioners unless such power is granted them by the legislative power. If the legislative power cannot directly fill such vacancies, then had the legislative power authority to delegate such power to any person or persons? In short, is it possible for the legislative power to delegate to others to do that which it had no power to do itself? The learned counsel for the relator general decries considerable space to local self-government, and contends that if the legislature can appoint officers in this manner he apprehends dire and fearful result. We are not called upon to express our views of the virtues of local self-government, nor to protect the effects upon the people in case the law is upheld by the court. It is our whole duty to decide what the law is; not what it ought to be. We are called upon to construe what congress, in its wisdom, meant when it said, "all county officers shall be appointed or elected, in such manner as shall be provided by the governor and the legislative assembly." Would it not be a willful misconstruction to say that the foregoing language meant the people, or the governor, had the inherent or primary legal right to fill vacancies in the offices of county commissioners? Would it not do extreme violence to our mother tongue? It is contended that the appointment of Gutierrez and Sanchez by the legislative enactment complained of, was local and special, regulating the affairs of Bernalillo county. The appointment by the legislative power of Gutierrez and Sanchez as county commissioners of Bernalillo county was certainly special and local legislation. In the very nature of things it had to be; but we cannot concede that it was "regulating county affairs." The duties of county commissioners are specifically prescribed by the statute of the territory. When a county commissioner complies with the law, he acts as a county commissioner; when he does anything else he is not a county commissioner, but acts as an individual. The affairs—business and machinery—of the county is not affected or regulated differently by a change of county commissioners. There is but one way prescribed for all county commissioners to act, and that is in compliance with the law of the territory. When one commissioner drops out and another takes his place, there is no change in the affairs of the county. A county commissioner is no more a part of the affairs of the county than is the engineer a part of the locomotive. Let us concede for the sake of argument, that the act was an interference with or regulation of county affairs: If so, would it have been less so had the legislative power, instead of acting and using the power vested in it by congress directly, delegated it to the governor to appoint, or to the people to elect? Would using that power second handed, free it from the objection urged? Had political parties nominated, and of the nominees two individuals thus elected have been granted special and exclusive privileges, immunity or franchise (if it be a franchise)? For power to fill vacancies do we not and are we not compelled to go back to section 1857, R. S., supra, and either take it direct or filter it through some agency provided by the legislative power? After all it is the legislative power that does it. The solicitor general, through his learned representative, lays great stress upon the case of Morrison v. Bursart, 112 Pa., 325. It is difficult to understand how one could apply the principles of that case to the one at the bar. In a nutshell, the legislature of Pennsylvania provided that in counties of not more than 150,000 nor less than 10,000 inhabitants, the fees of the prothonotary should be changed and that they should have an increase in fees for services from the inhabitants of the county that should be called upon to do business with such officer. The supreme court of the state of Pennsylvania held that that was regulating the affairs of counties. Why, of course it was. They also say: "The prothonotary is a county officer. While his fees when received by him are his private property, they are paid by the people of the county, not, indeed, assessed upon all the tax payers as a salary would be, but upon all citizens who have business with the office or litigation in the courts. Every citizen of the county may be affected by such an act, and most of them surely will be." And when they are affected by such an act they pay more, and in the aggregate the citizens of the county were compelled to pay more for what was done than they had under the former act, and as this was applicable only to certain counties, it became local, and special, and affected the regulation of the affairs of counties. In the case at bar there is no such change of salary: There is not one cent more nor one cent less paid. In other words, the machine moves along just the same, only it has a different engineer.

It is contended that vacancies should be filled by the general law now upon the statute book, being section 688 of the compiled laws of New Mexico as hereinbefore quoted. It will be observed that said last mentioned section provides: "that any vacancies that may hereafter occur in the board of county commissioners of any county by reason of death, resignation, removal or otherwise, shall be filled by appointment by the governor." In the case at bar the governor could not fill by reason of a vacancy occurring by death, resignation or removal. There is not mentioned the filling of vacancies caused by legislative enactment, unless it is implied in the word "otherwise." The duty of defining the word "otherwise" as used by the legislature, is imposed upon us. We might inquire why the legislative power delegated to the governor the authority to fill vacancies at all. Certainly the legislature would not have delegated such power had there been a vacancy occurring while the legislature was in session. The sessions of the legislature being limited by law to sixty days, that leaves the balance of two years in which no vacancy could be filled unless such power to fill had been delegated to some person or persons. If no provision had been made by the legislative power to fill vacancies, could they have been filled? Yes: by the legislative power, and by it only. If the legislature intended that any vacancy that may occur shall be filled by appointment by the governor, who would it specifically point out vacancies caused by death, resignation or removal? It would be a serious charge against the legislative intelligence that it meant any vacancy that might occur shall be filled by appointment by the governor, after employing the language it did. If the word "otherwise" is to be construed to mean "any vacancy," then the words, "caused by reason of death, resignation or removal," all were surplusage and must stand for naught, because they are included in the words "any vacancy." We believe it to be a universal rule of construction that when general words follow particular and specific words, the general words are confined, in meaning, to the things of like kind and nature designated by the specific words.

Sutherland on Stat. Const. sec. 268; Jensen v. State, 19 N. W. Rep. 378 (Wis.).
State v. Dennison, 82 N. W. Rep. 383 (Neb.).

In the Wisconsin case, supra, an indictment was found under a section of the law which provided, "if any tavern keeper or other person shall sell, give away, or barter any intoxicating liquors on the first day of the week, commonly called Sunday, or on the day of the annual town meeting, or the annual election, such tavern keeper or other person so offending, shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor." The words "or other person" following the words "tavern keeper" would seem to have been used in the very broadest sense. The indictment charged the defendant with having sold liquor on Sunday in violation of this statute, without changing his occupation. The lower court held that the words "or other person" included any and all persons. The supreme court of Wisconsin, however, in construing this section of the law said:

"The words 'tavern keeper' indicated very clearly the class of persons against whom the act was aimed, and the general words, 'other persons' must under the familiar rule, noscitur a sociis, be taken to mean a similar class of persons and not to be extended so as to include all persons," and cite a long list of authorities in support of such construction. They further say "the words 'tavern keeper' as used in this statute, clearly means a person a part at least of whose business is to sell intoxicating liquors," and apply the rule above quoted. "The words 'other persons' must be held to mean persons whose business either in whole or in part is to sell such drinks." In the Nebraska case, supra, Dennison was indicted under section 225 of the criminal code, which is as follows: "If any person owner or otherwise, any lottery or game of chance in this state," etc. The indictment charged that Dennison opened and established a lottery or game of chance within the state. After the jury was sworn, defendant's attorney objected to the introduction of any testimony for the reason that the indictment did not state a crime, because it did not allege that Dennison opened and established a lottery as owner, or in some similar capacity. The objection to the introduction of testimony was sustained, and the defendant was discharged. Under a rule of practice in Nebraska, the prosecuting attorney may file exceptions in the supreme court to the rule of the lower court, for the purpose of having the law settled, and it was done in this case. The supreme court said: "It was not error on the part of the lower court to exclude evidence under the information claimed to allege a crime under section 225, and which did not allege the capacity in which the defendant acted in opening and establishing the lottery therein mentioned." In short, a perusal of the Nebraska case, supra, discloses the construction that the word "otherwise," following the word "owner" was restricted

ed to an owner, or some one in similar or like capacity. So, where a statute read, that real estate actually purchased or otherwise acquired by an intestate, it should descend to the father, if he is living, or to the mother of such intestate if the father is dead.
 The words "otherwise acquired" did not include the land descended from the parents.

Roberts v. Jackson, 4 Yerg., Tenn., 322.

and citing several other Tennessee cases.

State v. Wood County, 72 Wis., 637, is a case in which the term "otherwise" is construed, and which it is employed in a statute as follows, referring to a county road tax,
 " * * * which shall be expended under their (county board) direction, in making culverts, grading, gravel-ling, ditching or otherwise improving such highways." The court said:
 "By a familiar rule of construction, the words 'or otherwise improving such highways' must be held to mean the improvements of such highways by the making of culverts, grading, graveling, ditching or other improvements of a similar character, and not the building of a bridge."

Applying this rule of construction to section 688 of the compiled laws, supra, it would seem that the governor may fill vacancies in the office of county commissioner when such vacancy is caused by death, resignation or removal, or vacancies caused in a like or similar manner. It certainly could not extend to a vacancy caused by a legislative enactment. Such a vacancy is not of like kind, character or nature, as one caused by death, resignation or removal. Nor could it extend to such a vacancy, for the further reason that the reason for delegating the power to the governor would not then exist. The legislative power being in a position then to act, the legislature being in session, and a vacancy occurring at such time, would not prompt the legislative power to delegate its power to fill such vacancies. As to whether or not the removal by legislative enactment is like kind and character as death, resignation or removal, was construed by the legislature when it passed the act appointing the respondents. In other words, if conferring upon the governor the power to appoint is in seeming conflict with the act complained of, then the legislature has construed the former act by restricting it not to include vacancies caused by legislative enactment. But were the act appointing respondents in conflict with said section 688, the last act would be in force. The power that authorized the governor to appoint would certainly revoke it. A legislative interpretation of a statute is not binding upon a court, but should have great weight. In Jackson v.
 Board of Supervisors, etc., 34 Neb., 680, the court says: "Legislative construction, although not necessarily conclusive upon the judicial part of the government, it is entitled to great weight when deliberately given." Citing:

Bishop on Written Law.
 Sedgwick on Stat. Const.

Contant v. People, 11 Wend., 511.

We are of the opinion that the legislative power in appointing the respondents, Tomas C. Gutierrez and Se-vero Sanches, county commissioners of Bernalillo county, acted within its authority, scope and duty. We are also of the opinion that the act complained of is not in conflict with the constitution of the United States, the organic act, or any act of congress, and is therefore legal.

For the foregoing reasons, the de-murrer to the answer of the respondents is overruled, and the information dismissed.

By the Court, B. S. BAKER, Judge.

I. N. Wheatley, one of the principal employees of the railroad building firm of B. Lantry Sons, is in the city from Los Angeles.

Engineer Fred Lee, who was injured out at Winslow about two weeks ago, and has since been cared for at the St. Joseph's hospital, was taken to his home on South Walter street Saturday.

THE AMERICAN EAGLE.

It is Now Domiciled at the Harvey Curio Rooms With Manager Switzer.

Manager Switzer has added another attraction to the Harvey curio rooms. This time it is the American eagle, and it's the real article, too.

The king of birds was brought in Sunday from the mountains by some natives. The bird is only two months old, but is a corker for size. It bids fair to become a pet, for it was walking around this morning and seemed tame as a chicken. You ought to see him eat! He would ruin a $15 a week man if he had him in his family. For breakfast this morning he had a great choice chunk of steak and some chicken. Now he's not fussy about bones either, for he gets them down, too. So you see he has started right in to be economical, as much as possible, during his sojourn with Manager Switzer.

He regards the red braves and squaws who are also domiciled at the curio rooms as special friends, for they feed him carpet tacks, broken glass and any old thing which he regards as side dishes.

The American eagle is a great bird and may he thrive under the genial manager's care.

No good health unless the kidneys are sound. Foley's Kidney Cure makes the kidneys right. Alvarado Pharmacy.

Manager Roy McDonald.

A few evenings since The Citizen published a notice to the effect that Roy McDonald, the Albuquerque ball player, had gone to Pittsburgh, Kas., to catch for that team. Yesterday a letter was received in this city telling of Roy joining the team and of the good impression he had made. The team under the old management was not what was desired by the directors, so a meeting of them was held and Roy was unanimously chosen to take the reins. So far he has been very successful, and promises to bring his team out near the top when the race is over.

The Citizen's Interview With T. J. Shinick Credited to New York Press.

When President Roosevelt was here on May 5, The Citizen interviewed T. J. Shinick on the early life of the ANSWER IT HONESTLY.

Are the Statements of Albuquerque Citizens Not More Reliable Than Those of Utter Strangers?

This is a vital question. It is fraught with interest to Albuquerque.

It permits of only one answer. It cannot be evaded or ignored. An Albuquerque citizen speaks here. Speaks for the welfare of Albuquerque.

A citizen's statement is reliable. An utter stranger's doubtful. Home proof is the best proof.

B. H. Thomas, Rooming House, 509 South Second street, says: "I have read somewhere that backache was generally an indication of kidney complaint and when there was added to it trouble with the kidney secretions and signs were unmistakable. When I contracted a cold with these annoyances existed and for eight months if one attack ceased another was sure to follow, so that I can consistently say I was almost bothered continually. I finally went to the Alvarado Pharmacy for Doan's Kidney Pills and took a course of the treatment. It did exactly as promised—stopped the annoyance very promptly and very effectively."

president at Oyster Bay, N. Y., as Mr. Shinick was well acquainted with the chief magistrate when he played base ball and umpired games on the bottoms of that precinct.

That article is now going the rounds credited to the New York Press, and to cap the climax the Press makes it appear that Mr. Shinick was in Peacock alley at the Waldorf, New York, when he recalled some of the president's boyhood days at Oyster Bay.

The Press also tries to make some people believe, in the stolen article, that Mr. Shinick is a resident of Washington, D. C., when Shinick has resided in this city for twenty-two years, and has not been back east for many years; in fact, since he captured the heart and hand of a young lady of New York City, the present Mrs. T. J. Shinick.

Outside of the first paragraph, introducing the stolen article, every line of the interview credited to the New York Press was original with The Citizen, and first appeared in these columns on May 5.

Some Changes.

Professor Angel, of the University of Wisconsin, and Mrs. Brown, of Philadelphia, are to be with the faculty of the University of New Mexico.

Professor Magnusson in the chair of physics and mathematics at the University of New Mexico has resigned, and Professor Angel of the University of New Mexico hasposited. the city of Wisconsin will take the position. The professor comes well recommended and has been several years with the University of Wisconsin. He is an athlete and will probably have charge of the athletics the coming year.

The other new teacher will be Mrs. Brown, a well known English instructor from Philadelphia, who will also be the librarian. She comes well recommended, too.

Disappeared.

James Clindinin's relatives in San Francisco are looking for him. He worked here. On the night of May 30, James Clindinin left the press room of the Democrat where he was employed, and has not been heard of or seen since. He has dropped out of sight entirely and the earth must have swallowed him up.

The young man came here several weeks ago from Cleveland, Ohio, and got work. On the night he disappeared he drew his money and said he would be back later to work. Two telegrams were received here yesterday from his mother in San Francisco, and the police have taken the matter up. The young man so far as is known had no bad habits.

The Thermometer is Seldom Higher Than 80° in Mexico City

This "Paris of Latin America" is situated over six thousand feet above the level of the sea, and the heat of the lower altitudes is never experienced. Although not generally known summer is the very best of seasons to visit the Land of Mahana.

The daily afternoon rain, which lasts about thirty minutes, cools the atmosphere as to make the evenings and nights lovely.

Between the music, the flowers and the pretty customs of our Mexican neighbors; between the beautiful nights, and balmy mornings, and the cooling sea breezes of day, one becomes so entranced with the beauty of this country as to never forget his trip under "The White Umbrella."

THE CORONADO BAND.
Its Music a Treat Last Evening at Robinson Park—A Large Number Out.

The much heralded Coronado Tent City band has come and gone. The members think that Albuquerque is all right and the smartest up-to-date city in the southwest.

Last evening there was an unusual large number out to hear the concert and see the pictures that were shown on the canvas. It was surprising to see so many out, too, for the skies threatened all kinds of rain and wind. The concert was A1, and the members received merited applause.

The band has been all over the southwest and everywhere have received flattering press notices.

They left this morning for Phoenix, Ariz., after which they will play in several California towns and then go to the coast.
