COMMISSION RECOMMENDS REMOVAL OF JARAMILLO FROM STATE PENITENTIARY

Four Members of Prison Board Sign Majority Report, Which States Jaramillo Is Temperamentally Unfit for the Position; J. E. Torres, a Fifth Member, Does Not Concur in This Action, and Prepares a Minority Report.

Four of the members of the state penitentiary commission, in a report submitted to Governor Mechem last week and made public Monday, recommend the removal of Superintendent Placido Jaramillo. The report declares that in taking this action the board is reiterating its report of July 27, in which it recommended the removal of Jaramillo, whom it characterized as temperamentally unfit for the position.

Those who signed the majority report are Levi A. Hughes, Warren Graham, Thomas Hughes, and Robert Ormsbee. The report is the result of investigations held following trouble at the penitentiary on July 19, when one convict was shot and killed and five were injured.

Following is the report of the majority members: His Excellency, M. C. Mechem, Governor of New Mexico, Santa Fe, N. M.: In compliance with your instructions of August 8, the board of penitentiary commissioners met on August 22 to make a further investigation of the circumstances at the prison on July 19, resulting in the death of one and the wounding of five convicts. The state was represented by Assistant Attorney General A. M. Edwards.

The superintendent of the penitentiary was represented by Mr. A. B. Renshaw. The board sought, under your instructions, to confine its investigation to two questions, to-wit: One: Were the prisoners in active rebellion; trying to escape, or destroying property? Two: Did the superintendent notify the prisoners that unless his orders were promptly obeyed the guards would be ordered to fire upon them?

The answer to both these questions in the opinion of the board must be in the negative. Therefore, the board reiterates its recommendation of July 27, made to you on July 27, as a result of its previous investigation and in addition to those recommendations is of the opinion that the superintendent is temperamentally unfit for the position he holds and should be removed. The investigation continued for four days, during which time more than fifty witnesses were examined. A transcript of the testimony has been previously handed you by the chairman of the board for your examination.

Respectfully yours, (Signed) LEVI A. HUGHES, WARREN GRAHAM, THOMAS HUGHES, ROBERT ORMSBEE, J. E. TORRES, Member. Following is the report which followed the second investigation: Santa Fe, New Mexico, August 25, 1922. Hon. M. C. Mechem, governor of New Mexico, Santa Fe, New Mexico, Sir: In pursuance of your request to make a second investigation in connection with the mutiny on the part of the convicts at the state penitentiary on July 19, 1922, the undersigned members of your board of penitentiary commissioners respectfully report as follows:

The board met at the penitentiary on the morning of August 22, 1922, and have been in continuous session for four days, three days of which were occupied in hearing testimony offered by Superintendent Jaramillo, while on the last day a number of witnesses called by the assistant attorney general testified before the board.

The board endeavored to restrict the investigation to the two questions, to-wit: the single question as to whether the superintendent was justified in ordering the prisoners to be fired upon on the day of the mutiny. Counsel for Superintendent Jaramillo, through the testimony of the witnesses produced by him, injected many collateral issues which the board did not intend to investigate, but which have thrown much light upon conditions existing in the penitentiary under its present management.

Mr. Torres, one of the members of the board, was obliged to leave on the afternoon of the second day and did not hear a large portion of the testimony on that account. Both the members of the board and the attorney for Mr. Jaramillo deeply regretted the urgent necessity for the absence of Mr. Torres and the board agreed to be entered in the record, the following resolution:

3-POWER PARLEY AT CHANG CHUNG PROVES FAILURE

Japan's Refusal to Fix a Date for the Evacuation of Northern Sakhalien Is Given as the Reason.

Chang Chung, Manchuria, Sept. 25.—The conference between Japan, the Chita government of the Far Eastern republic of Siberia and representative of the Moscow soviet government ended in failure today with Japan's refusal to fix a date for the evacuation of northern Sakhalien.

The conference adjourned last week for both sides to await instructions from their respective governments on the Russian demand that Japan quit the northern half of the island of Sakhalien, which she is holding until indemnities for the massacre of 600 Japanese at Nikolievsk in 1920.

Today Mr. Matsuda, head of the Tokyo delegation, notified the Russians that his government had decided to fix a date for withdrawal from the debated territory. He declared that Japan firmly adhered to her policy of retaining that territory as a pledge for reparations for the Nikolievsk massacre.

Further, Mr. Matsuda stated, it would be impossible for Japan to meet the Russian demand for a promise of the evacuation of Sakhalien as a preliminary to the negotiation of a trade agreement with the Russian soviet government.

Mr. Matsuda then recommended that the conference adjourn for its failure on Russian shoulders.

This challenge was taken up by Adolph Joffe, representative of the Moscow government, who declared: "The Russian people, who number 150,000,000 and occupy one-sixth of the globe, cannot consent to be treated as barbarians. The whole world disapproves of Japan's occupation of Sakhalien. Even such an enemy as the soviet government as Secretary of State Hughes of the United States at the Moscow conference denounced Japan's military expansion in Siberia."

RECOGNITION DEMAND DEADLOCKED MEETING

Washington, Sept. 25 (By the Associated Press).—Efforts to obtain from the Japanese political recognition of the soviet government of Russia according to reports received here, marked every phase of the negotiations at the Manchurian town of Chang Chung, only to arrive at a complete deadlock.

From the beginning the Japanese insisted on the admission of the Moscow delegates reluctantly, the negotiations, it is stated, having been intended to establish business relations only with the Far Eastern republic, though it was the intention of the Japanese that the Chita government was dominated by Moscow. Mr. Joffe and his colleagues, though really agents of the Moscow government, are said to have refused to accept the position of the Japanese that the Far Eastern republic to the United States, declared that "the situation in the Far East is far from being hopeful."

The Japanese, he said, are refusing to recognize the Far Eastern republic under the pretext that they cannot do so until they receive compensation for the so-called Nikolievsk events during which several hundred Japanese and one thousand Russians lost their lives. The position assumed by the Japanese in regard to the evacuation at Sakhalien seriously endangers the peace in the Far East.

MRS. COLLETT WINS GOLF TOURNAMENT QUALIFYING MEDAL

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Sept. 25.—Mrs. Glenna Collett, for the second successive year won the qualifying medal here today in the annual women's golf championship with the remarkable score of 81. The Providence girl played superb golf, only Miss Marion Holms, the champion, who was paired with Mrs. Collett, being in reach of the long hitting wonder. Thirty-two of the contestants qualified.

The outstanding characteristic of Mrs. Collett's play was a combination of brilliancy from the tee through the fairway and fair steadyness around the greens. She out-drove every other player in the tournament with consistent success and took no more than two putts, with the exception of the tenth and fifteenth greens, where she needed three putts to get the ball down.

Miss Hollins had plenty of power in her game today, but had a bad tendency to slice on most of her long putts that kept her in continual trouble and fighting to get out without destructive scoring results.

BURNS D. CALDWELL DIES ABOARD TRAIN

New York, Sept. 25.—Burns D. Caldwell, president of Wells Fargo & Co. and a veteran railway official, was on his way home from a fishing trip in Canada when he died last night in a Pullman sleeping car shortly before his train reached Burlington, Vt. It was said today at his offices. He resided in Orange, N. J., where a widow survives.

Mr. Caldwell, who was 64 years old, had been head of the Wells Fargo & Co. for eleven years and since July 1, 1918, had been chairman of the board of the American Railway Express company. He was born at Placerville, Calif., in 1858.

Generals Slated for Promotion Have Had Interesting Careers

War Secretary Weeks has recommended the promotion of five brigadier generals to the rank of major general. The six are Brigadier General Andrew Brewster, Brigadier General Robert Lee Howze, Brigadier General Ernest Hinds, Brigadier General George B. Duncan, Brigadier General William Lassiter, and Brigadier General John H. Mearns.

These six have had interesting careers in the military. Brewster served in France and Belgium in both capacities. They had helped write many interesting chapters in American military history of the past thirty or forty years before the great conflict.

WARSHIPS WON'T BE SCRAPPED AT PRESENT--DENBY

Washington, Sept. 25.—Secretary Denby announced today there will be no scrapping of battleships until after the five-power naval treaty has been ratified by the last of the signatories. France and Italy have yet to ratify the pact.

Five obsolete battleships have already been sent to the scrap heap, but it was said, that although scrapping in the treaty they would have been scrapped anyhow. They are the Virginia, Rhode Island, Nebraska, Georgia and the New Jersey.

Officials, it was indicated, have felt that the Near Eastern situation might lead to some of the signatories changing plans regarding the scrapping of vessels beyond the treaty provisions and for this reason it would not be wise for the United States to begin actual scrapping until all the powers have ratified the pact.

PREMIER LENINE SOON TO RETURN TO ACTIVE DUTY

Moscow, Sept. 25 (By the Associated Press).—Premier Lenin is soon to return to active duty, it is announced by the newspaper Pravda, which devotes a special illustrated supplement to the celebration of the anniversary of the Russian revolution.

While still recuperating at his country place, Lenin, according to Acting Premier Kameneff, has interested himself in international questions and home affairs. He is particularly interested in the activities of United States Senator Borah, as bearing on Russia and the work of the American relief administration. Lenin will appear at the principal speaker at the fourth congress of the third international in Petrograd in November, giving his views on "the world revolution."

5 MEN ARE CHARGED WITH THEFT OF SHEEP

San Francisco, Sept. 25.—Five sheep herders are in a Reno, Nev., jail under indictment of a federal grand jury charged with the theft of sheep from the Idaho-Nevada Livestock company, which is under a subsidy of the War Finance corporation. A department of justice operative today said the men are alleged to have stolen sheep valued in excess of $500,000 in the last few years.

MANSON IS BURNED. London, Sept. 25.—The Marquis of Lansdowne informs the Times that his mansion at Derron, county Kerry, Ireland, has been looted and burned and the valuable plantations on his estate destroyed. He says he is unaware whether the outrage was committed by Free States or republicans.

RECTOR PLANNED TO ELOPE WITH SEXTON'S WIFE

Rev. Edward W. Hall and Mrs. Mills Were About to Sail for the Orient When They Were Slain.

New Brunswick, N. J., Sept. 25.—Several clues were found today by detectives investigating the double shooting of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall, rector of the Church of St. John the Evangelist, and Mrs. James Mills, wife of the sexton, to support the new theory that the couple intended to elope to the Orient.

The fate which the rector and the leader of his choir shared, prosecutors pointed out, might have been hastened by rumors which seemed to have been circulated freely among certain members of the congregation that the rector was to leave New Brunswick and reach a stage of action.

All his papers and effects had been placed in such order by the rector, detectives said they learned, that the work of the pastorate could be undertaken by a successor with the least possible difficulty. The first inkling received by the authorities of an intended elopement came when Prosecutor Stricker of Middlesex, was informed that a relative of Mrs. Mills had a letter from her in which she herself told in detail of her plans to elope to Japan with Mr. Hall.

Mr. Mills, who has been frequently questioned by the detectives, said he had been in Japan himself and Mrs. Hall on Friday morning, September 15, on the steps of the church, after the two said they had spent the night looking for their names in the directory. The dialogue follows: "Is any one sick in your family?" asked Mrs. Hall.

"No," replied Mills. "My husband has not been home all night."

"Neither has my wife," replied Mills. "Do you think they could have eloped?" Mills asked.

"No," Mrs. Hall is said to have replied. "I think my husband has met with foul play."

Detectives are seeking a woman, who, when attending the funeral services of Mr. Hall, is reported to have remarked in an audible tone to her neighbor: "Well, they are carrying him out of the church now. They didn't get to Japan after all."

MINER CHARGED WITH MURDER OF A BOY IS CAPTURED BY A POSSE

Sheridan, Wyo., Sept. 25.—Joe Trombello, an Italian coal miner, charged with the slaying last Saturday night of Fred Hoffman, 15 years old, at Kieburn, Wyo., a coal camp near here, was captured by a posse at Decker, Mont., last night after a running fight extending over two miles.

Trombello surrendered after he had been wounded by a shot fired by one of the posse. He was brought to Sheridan for safe keeping.

Trombello is alleged by authorities to have shot Hoffman to death when the youth came to his house to explain that he was not connected with the Dardanelles and the Bosphorus. It was reported that he had been looting Trombello's watermelon patch.

Trombello is said to have lodged a complaint with Hoffman's father, who later informed his son to Trombello to protect his innocence.

FIRST REGULATIONS PROMULGATED UNDER THE NEW TARIFF ACT

Washington, Sept. 25.—The first regulations under the tariff act of 1922, governing the entry and withdrawal of goods were promulgated today by the treasury.

The regulations, which are temporary, set forth the facts importers are required to file with the entry and the estimate of the content upon which the duty is assessed. In the absence of a statement by the importer the duty is to be collected on the full weight as the clean container. One-half of each consignment is to be designated by collectors for examination and the appraisers will follow commercial methods in determining the clean content of wood.

FUNDING COMMISSION TO RESUME MEETINGS Washington, Sept. 25.—Resumption of meetings of the foreign debt funding commission this week was indicated today at the treasury where it was said that immediate consideration would be given to the beginning of interest payments by Great Britain.

MEMORIAL TREES ARE PLANTED BY G. A. R. VETERANS

Are in Memory of Lincoln, Grant, Sherman and Sheridan; Thousands Attend Annual Encampment

Des Moines, Iowa, Sept. 25.—Memorial G. A. R. camp fire meeting, held at the Coliseum tonight, and which was attended by thousands of the warriors of the blue, brought to a close the first day of the Grand Army encampment here.

Commander in Chief Lewis S. Pilcher, Robert McBride, senior vice commander, and Governor N. E. Kendall, were the principal speakers.

The veterans of the civil war took possession of the city early Monday morning when 11 special trains arriving from all parts of the United States deposited their thousands of old soldiers in the city. In their favorite uniform of blue, resplendent with gold, the old soldiers met in knots on the streets and in the hotels reviving memories of old days.

The feature event of the day was the memorial tree planting exercises held on the state capital grounds. Fourteen hundred veterans were present. Commander Pilcher followed her and the task was completed by the aged veterans of the war.

Mr. George T. Harding, 78, of Marion, Ohio, father of President Warren G. Harding was one of the notable Grand Army men present for the encampment. Interviewed by newspaper men he declared his son Warren was a mighty big boy, but he had another son just as good. He Harding refused to make any comment over the president's action in vetoing the bonus bill.

LON McDONALD WINS TWO RACING EVENTS

Columbus, Ohio, Sept. 25 (By the Associated Press).—Lon McDonald won two of the four heats in the 14 heats necessary to decide the four heats, two of them going to four heats each. After Lady Gratton, the favorite had won the first heat of the 2:12 pace, Bingerwood, Jr., a second choice, took the second heat and Julianne, the third. The fourth heat was won by Bingerwood, Jr.

Binger won the first two heats of the 2:19 trot. The third heat was taken by Plain Mac.

Tolus Boy won the first heat of the 2:09 trot, but was not a contender in the next heat. After finishing eleventh in the first mile race, because of a break, Dottie Day stayed on the trot the next two heats and won.

STRIKING SANTA FE SHOPMEN SENTENCED TO 30 DAYS IN JAIL

Los Angeles, Calif., Sept. 25.—Three striking Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad shopmen, Thomas G. Brower, Albert Trautner and Joseph Stackle, of Berkeley, California, were sentenced today in the United States district court to serve thirty days in the San Bernardino county jail for contempt of court.

The men were arrested following an attack upon a Santa Fe foreman at Needles and were convicted September 21 of violating a restraining order issued against striking employees of the road.

FIRE DESTROYS GREAT FIG AND TOBACCO CROPS

Survivors in Smyrna Continue to Live on the Pavements and Quays; Fight Like Wolves for Food.

Smyrna, Sept. 25 (By the Associated Press).—Kemat Pasha has allowed until September 30 for the evacuation of the remaining 50,000 or more refugees here. If vessels are not sent by that time, the refugees will be taken into the interior. The American destroyers, whose crews have borne the brunt of the relief and patrol work since the fire, are striving to take as great a number as possible to safety, but are hampered by lack of space. American relief workers have endeavored to ascertain the fate of the 290,000 Christians already deported, but have met with indifferent or evasive answers by the Turkish officials. Fethi Bey, minister of the interior, has declared that the nationalist government is willing to exchange the Christian minorities in Anatolia for Ottoman subjects in the neighboring countries. The Christians, he added, must never hope to return to western Anatolia.

Some of the banks are trying to resume in ten days with improvised facilities, but Americans doubt the success of any business enough while Smyrna is in ashes and the interior is desolated. The prosperity of the whole Anatolia area depends on the great fig and tobacco crops, which were almost wholly destroyed by the fire. The survivors continued to live on the cobble pavements and the quays without shelter and without food. When Americans go among them distributing bread, they are assailed by clamoring refugees who fight among themselves and snarl like famished wolves in their efforts to get food.

CARETAKER IS KILLED. San Francisco, Sept. 25.—Mina Thompson, caretaker on a Southern Pacific livestock train, was killed and Charles Alden, a fellow caretaker, was seriously injured when their train was run into today by an extra freight train at Wells, Nev.

FOREIGNERS ARE BEING SMUGGLED INTO U. S. FROM CUBA, IS REPORT

Mock Marriages Used to Gain Entry Into This Country of Women Who Are Barred by Law.

LIQUOR SUBMERGED OFF FLORIDA COAST

Smuggling Ramifications Extend to Capitals of Europe and Involve Many Nations, It Is Asserted.

Washington, Sept. 25 (By the Associated Press).—Smuggling of European aliens into the United States from Cuba, surreptitious submerging temporarily in the waters of the Atlantic coast of large quantities of liquors by international bootleggers and mock marriages designed to insure entry into this country of women barred by immigration laws, form the basis of a report submitted to Secretary Davis by the bureau of immigration.

This report, Commissioner General Husbard said today, is a comprehensive review of smuggling conditions ever prepared by immigration officials and is expected to be considered by the treasury, labor and customs departments in connection with the proposed co-ordination of border patrol forces.

Valuable Data Gathered. The report, Commissioner General Husbard, visited Jacksonville, Tampa, Tarpon Springs, Miami, Key West and Havana. They mingled, it is said, with the "knaves" of the smuggling "industry" and talked with aliens of every nationality who sought entry to the United States. The data gathered, it is stated, will prove invaluable to the government in dealing with a situation which has taxed the ingenuity of federal agents to combat.

The smuggling ramifications, it is asserted, extend to the capitals of Europe, and involve Greeks, Spaniards, Poles, Rumanians, Russians and Chinese.

The report states that the favorite service of the alien smugglers in the United States from Cuba for certain alien women has been for them to enter "fake" marriages with naturalized American citizens. In some cases, the government has gone through mock ceremonies and then accompany their "wives" to some Florida point. Frequently it is said, obnoxious "ride-alongs" have been run as fast as $200 for their part in the scheme.

The principal smugglers in Havana, the investigators declare, do not confine their activities to smuggling aliens into the United States, but also handle whiskey and narcotics. The majority of the leaders are said to be naturalized Americans.

Craft of Cuban Registry. A great many of the smuggling craft, it is declared, land and depart from Matanzas, are of Cuban registry, and do not enter or clear at the Cuban ports.

There is no employment in Cuba for thousands of Chinese and European aliens now there, it is reported. Since the present passport laws were amended, hundreds of aliens are said to have arrived in Havana with the ultimate hope of gaining surreptitious entry to the United States. There are at present, it is estimated, approximately 30,000 Chinese alone in Cuba, for whom there is no employment. In fact, the report avers, the Chinese will not accept work under any circumstances except to earn sufficient money with which to pay passage to this country or Mexico. The usual fee charged for smuggling aliens, it is learned, ranges from $500 to $1,000 for each Chinese and about $150 for an European alien.

PLUMBER OVERCOME WITH TEAR GAS AND TAKEN INTO CUSTODY

Reading, Kans., Sept. 25.—After barricading himself in a house near here, and successfully frustrating attempts to capture him for two days, a plumber, Duclou, was overcome with tear gas and arrested last yesterday. Officers said he had two guns and enough ammunition and food supplies in the house to last three weeks. He shot himself just before the capture, inflicting a severe wound in the left lung.

Duclou, who formerly lived in Honolulu, had been staying at the home of Frank Hagan, a relative, in whose house he barricaded himself. He was left alone in the house last week and, when Hagan returned, drove him off at the point of a gun.

All attempts to enter the house were met with shots. Yesterday officers ordered some tear gas bombs from Topeka and when one of these was thrown in the window, Duclou threw it out again. When a bomb was thrown into the house from the rear, Duclou shot himself.

BURGLARS ATTEMPT TO BLOW A SAFE, DOOR OF WHICH WASN'T LOCKED

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 25.—Burglars who made an unsuccessful attempt to blow a safe at the Superior Oil company here last night failed to note a sign above the vault which read "Yeggs, safe crackers, burglars and all otherwise interested, be warned. Safe door is unlocked. Full the knob, and the contents, which are merely papers, will be exposed to view. Don't wreck the safe. Have a heart."

The door was unlocked. KEROSENE PRICE ADVANCED. New York, Sept. 25.—The Standard Oil company of New York today advanced the price of kerosene in New York and New England one cent a gallon. The new price is 14 cents.

MEETINGS HELD BY REPUBLICANS WELL ATTENDED

At Least 2,000 Persons Attend Three Meetings Held in the Mora Valley; Enthusiasm Is Reported.

Special to The Journal.
Santa Fe, Sept. 25.—An attendance of at least 2,000 people at three meetings held in the Mora valley yesterday. The meetings were held at the home of Governor McChesney, who has just returned to the city after accompanying the republican campaign party through parts of Rio Arriba, Taos, Mora and San Miguel counties. The attendance at the Mora meeting last night reached over 1,000, while that at Holman in the afternoon exceeded 600 and at Cleveland between 300 and 400. All of these were unusually large audiences for that part of Mora county.

On Saturday evening the attendance at the meeting at Taos exceeded 500 and at Ranchos de Taos, four miles from Taos, held at the same time, 400. A short stop was made at Penasco, in the southern part of Taos county on Sunday morning. This meeting was not on the itinerary, but nevertheless was largely attended and enthusiastic.

The harmony and enthusiasm for the republican ticket at every one of these points was remarkable, even for this strongly republican section of the state, and exceeded the expectations of members of the party and all republican leaders.

The party consisted of Gov. M. C. McChesney, S. B. Davis, Jr., candidate for U. S. senator; C. L. Hill, candidate for governor; Nestor Montoya, present congressman; Mrs. Adeline Otero-Warren, candidate for congress; Pleasant H. Hill, candidate for corporation commissioner; Hilario Delgado, candidate for state auditor; and several prominent republicans who accompanied them throughout the trip.

The majority of the party left Las Vegas this afternoon for Santa Rosa, Fort Sumner, Fortia, Clovis and other Pecos valley points.

ARTICLE 27 OF THE CONSTITUTION NON-RETROACTIVE, DECREE

El Paso, Texas, Sept. 25.—M. E. Johnson, of El Paso, editor and owner of Mexican local periodicals, says he has been informed that President Obregon has signed a decree and congress has ratified it, declaring article 27 of the Mexican constitution non-retroactive. Article 27 is an amendment to the Mexican constitution in the regime of President Carranza stating that the Mexican government retains ownership of the sub-soil on all property, giving it mineral and oil rights. It has been held non-retroactive by three Mexican supreme court decisions since its passage four years ago and but two more decisions of a like character would be necessary to make it permanently non-retroactive. Contrary to the American custom, a ruling by the Mexican supreme court does not establish a precedent. It requires five such decisions in as many cases.

DEFENSE RESTS IN THE TIERNAN-POULIN CASE

South Bend, Ind., Sept. 25.—The defense in the Tiernan-Poulin case rested its case last afternoon after the state had finished its cross examination of the defendant. Harry Poulin, who was the last witness to take the stand. The prosecution will make a short rebuttal in the morning, after which the attorneys will give their closing arguments, an hour being allowed for each side. The case is expected to be in the hands of the judge by noon.

No one is so empty as the man who is full of himself.

AMAZING FACTS FULLY EXPLAIN TANLAC SUCCESS

How 30,000,000 Bottles Were Sold in Less Than Eight Years; Big Los Angeles Druggists Enthusiastic; Thousands of Users Publicly Endorse It.

The tremendous demand for Tanlac continues unabated, ever increasing. Millions have rallied to its standard unsolicited and thousands have given public endorsement. That the large druggists everywhere are enthusiastic over this sensation of the trade is evidenced by the letters received with orders.

W. A. Hoyer & Co., wholesale druggists of Denver, Colo., writing under date of July 17, state: "We are submitting today our order for the fourth carload of your goods since April 1. Taking into consideration local conditions this demand is not only exceptional, but alone in the record sales for proprietary articles in this section."

Under date of August 11th, The Western Wholesale Drug Co., of Los Angeles, Calif., states: "Our sales of Tanlac this year continue in large volume, and we hope to make 1922 a bigger year than 1921. Our relations with your firm have been very satisfactory and profitable."

Since the first of the year it has been necessary to establish two new branch offices, one in New York and one in Los Angeles, and the large modern laboratories at Dayton, O., Walkersville, Canada, and Mexico City are working overtime, but are still unable to keep up with the deluge of orders. Tanlac has been on the market less than eight years but more than 30,000,000 bottles have been sold to date.

And the foreign field has been entered with the most phenomenal success. Mexico now knows Tanlac as well as the people of the United States and Canada, while Cuba has received the celebrated medicine with enthusiasm.

The reason for this amazing demand is found in one word: merit. No proprietary article could long survive the acid test of time and public trial if it did not possess real value and produce actual and positive results. It cannot depend merely on whirlwind advertising and "first call" appeal. Back of Tanlac's unprecedented record in the drug trade is Tanlac's success in producing results, and when this fact is thoroughly impressed there cannot possibly be any mystery in Tanlac's achievement in such a short time—the achievement of gaining the top of the heap and holding undisputed leadership over all preparations of its type ever produced.

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Adv.

OHIO BANK CASHIER SHOT AND WOUNDED; POSSES HUNT GUNMAN

Steubenville, Ohio, Sept. 25.—Poses of deputies from three Ohio counties and 500 citizens armed with shot guns, and revolvers scoured the hills and highways of three counties tonight to apprehend a gunman who, while three companions waited outside, today walked into the First National Bank of Hopedale, 15 miles west of here, and shot and probably fatally wounded the cashier, George C. Whitaker.

Authorities scout the bank robbery theory and believe that the gunman had been hired to kill Whitaker.

INSTITUTE BOYS LOSE THE FIRST 1922 GRID GAME

Simmons College Proves Too Strong for Cadets; Score of 19 to 0 Is Piled Up.

Special to The Journal.
Roswell, N. M., Sept. 25.—Playing the first game of the season here Saturday, the New Mexico Military Institute football team lost to the Simmons College eleven by the score of 19 to 0. The first quarter was swift but uneventful so far as deciding plays were concerned. Brilliant tackles on the parts of Godfrey and White, N. M. I., were the features of the quarter. In the second quarter, which was hard fought, Simmons scored a touchdown and a goal. Stratton, of the military team, was the star of the quarter because of his two nifty tackles, holding down the score. The second half was played with both teams fighting hard. Simmons scored two touchdowns, bringing the score to 19 to 0. The institute continued its desperate line plunges until the latter part of the half, when several neat trick plays were executed. Simmons displayed a well organized machine. The Institute was in good form considering the short time the team have been working out. The line-ups for both teams were as follows:

Simmons.

METHODISTS HOLD YEARLY CONFERENCE IN THE RATON CHURCH

Raton, N. M., Sept. 25.—The state conference of the M. E. church has been in session several days in Raton. All parts of New Mexico were represented in the ministerial gathering. A large number of dignitaries attended. The churches were greeted by Dr. Samuel Magill for Mayor Lincoln in the name of the city.

This was the eighth annual session of the Methodist Episcopal church. Thursday morning, following the administrative session, the conference was formally organized, and reports from the district superintendents, Drs. S. A. Bright and H. A. Bassett, and from each minister from the field, which included all of New Mexico and El Paso, Texas, and the Spanish-speaking work for Arizona were made.

Reports showed splendid morale on the part of the churches, and fine achievements, though in many parts of the field the financial stress, because of drought and disturbed industrial conditions, has been acute.

Bishop Charles Mead of Denver was the presiding bishop, and delivered several addresses. He preached Sunday morning. Among the visitors were Bishop E. G. Richardson of Atlanta, Ga., Dr. C. D. Hestwood of Kansas, Dr. H. M. Pinckney of Chicago, Dr. Elmer Higley of Philadelphia.

About 50 ministers attending the conference were entertained Friday at luncheon by the Rotary club of Raton.

Dr. Higley, superintendent of Indian mission work, delivered a message given him for such occasions by Chief Two-Gun White. In the sign language, which he interpreted as "Peace, Prosperity, to Indian and White. The Sun Moves in its Circle." This chief has the distinction of having had the counterpart of his head placed upon the coin known as the Buffalo nickel. Dr. Higley is a Rotarian.

Bishop Richardson of Atlanta, Ga., followed Dr. Higley, paying a high tribute to the precepts which Rotary aims to exemplify and amplifying the theme, "The chiefest things in life are manhood and character."

Bishop C. L. Meade of Denver spoke in an optimistic key on present world conditions, declaring that all problems now before the nation would be met in the "American way" and worked out to a happy ending.

Invitation being extended by President Phillips to visiting Rotarians to arise and introduce themselves, the following responded: F. E. McGuire, of Albuquerque, a charter member of the Porto Rico club; Dr. H. R. Mills, an honorary member of the Clayton club, and Hugh B. Woodward of the Clayton club.

COMMISSION URGES REMOVAL OF WARDEN OF PENITENTIARY

possible for me to subscribe to the report made by the majority of said commission. . . . The evidence upon which the report of the majority of said commission is based was largely that of convicts whose evidence under any circumstances would be subject to suspicion, and were a class that no attorney would put upon the witness stand in behalf of his own client." Torres' report, from Socorro, N. M., follows:

As a member of the penitentiary commissioners called upon to investigate the affairs of the state penitentiary in the connection with the trouble which recently occurred at the state penitentiary which one convict was killed, I beg leave to submit the following:

It is impossible for me to subscribe to the report made by the majority of said commission. In my opinion the only evidence that should really be considered by the board justified the action of the warden of the penitentiary on the occasion mentioned. Upon which the report of the majority of said commission is based was largely that of convicts whose evidence under any circumstances would be subject to suspicion, and were a class that no attorney would put upon the witness stand in behalf of his own client; and yet upon that character of testimony the majority of the board has submitted a report against the warden of the penitentiary. Practically all of the evidence of these witnesses who were familiar with the trouble and who were not of the class above mentioned, shows that the action of the warden was justifiable and that any reasonable man in the same position would have acted as the warden did.

Other matters brought up during the investigation which were really not within the scope that was intended as suggested by your letter to the commission when you asked for the investigation.

I beg leave to submit that in my opinion if there has been any mismanagement, or lack of funds to properly operate the penitentiary, that responsibility should not be placed upon the warden of the penitentiary; if there has been a lack of funds, that of course, was occasioned by the action of the state legislature; if there has been anything that could be said to be mismanagement in a general sense, that responsibility is upon the commission, and if any censure or criticism should be made, then I most respectfully submit that. Regular reports have been made and regular meetings of the board have been held and no complaint has been made by anyone to my knowledge either from members of the commission or people from the outside, as to the management of the penitentiary until the unfortunate circumstances happened which has been the subject of this investigation.

Having received from you a telegram in which you indicate that you desire an immediate report from me, it is impossible, of course, for me to submit such a report as would be a full discussion of the testimony submitted. I cannot subscribe to the doctrine that any official should be made the victim of any circumstances, unless the facts derived from the legitimate testimony of credible witnesses justify the action. And I desire to state that the deed on the part of certain persons to have a report censuring the warden submitted to you and ultimately to obtain his removal is actuated by motives that are not justifiable under the circumstances.

I therefore feel compelled to dissent from the majority report and respectfully recommend that the superintendent of the penitentiary be exonerated.

Very respectfully,
J. E. TORRES.

YOU CAN'T TRUST CALOMEL AT ALL

It's Quicksilver, Salivates, causes Rheumatism and Bone Decay

The next dose of calomel you take may salivate you. It may shock your liver or start bone necrosis. Calomel is dangerous. It is mercury, quicksilver. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, into your blood like a bomb, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all kinds of ills, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your mind easy.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tonic which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.

PRINCESS HERMINE OF REUSS BECOMES NURSE TO 3 INJURED PILOTS

Sanbor, Silesia, Sept. 25 (by the Associated Press).—Princess Hermine of Reuss, former Emperor William's fiancée, became a nurse to three airplane pilots and an American correspondent, whose airplane turned upside down while circling over her estate yesterday. Two of the men were seriously injured.

The hunting lodge on the estate was used to house the four men. The princess herself, who was returning from a visit to the grand duchess of Baden, hastened with her children to attend to their needs. Pilot Strunk, who carried Enver Pasha from Kovo to Moscow when the latter succeeded in escaping from his Turkish countrymen, was one of the quartet.

It was her Doctor's idea

MARY Josephine Murray gained only three-quarters of a pound the first three months she lived in this world. Then her doctor recommended Borden's Eagle Brand Milk. "She commenced to gain at once," Mrs. Murray reports, and six months later she had become a normal, healthy child. On her first birthday she weighed 23 lbs., 5 oz.

"Our doctor always speaks of her as a fine, healthy specimen of babyhood," writes Mary's mother. "She is such a good, happy baby and sleeps all night long."

Naturally, her doctor's sensible advice as well as her mother's care have contributed largely to Mary's wonderful health, even though her mother feels that she owes it all to Eagle Brand. But many thousands of other mothers have found Eagle Brand the best food for their babies. And a great many doctors recommend it—just as Mary's doctor did—in difficult feeding cases.

STATE'S CATTLE MAY BE REMOVED TO OLD MEXICO

Livestock and Agricultural Loan Company Working on Plan for Relief of Drought-Stricken Counties.

Removal of 25,000 to 40,000 head of New Mexico cattle to Old Mexico for winter pasturage is being considered by the Livestock and Agricultural Loan company of New Mexico, which held a meeting here yesterday. W. D. Murray of Silver City, a member of the board of directors, will go to Sonora to investigate conditions, and W. R. Morley of Magdalena, also a member of the board, will make investigations in Chihuahua. In the meantime, the board will endeavor to make the necessary official preparations. The move is contemplated for the purpose of giving relief to the cattlemen of Sierra and Luna counties who have loans from the corporation, and whose cattle are in bad shape because of the drought. Cattlemen of other sections, who need the relief, will have the opportunity also of taking advantage of the plan.

Grass is said to be plentiful in Old Mexico, while some sections of this state are almost totally without grass, and it is feared many cattle cannot survive the winter. The investigators will report on range conditions, and on the probable menace from bandits and from wolves. If the cattle are moved, they probably will be handled in a pool, with the expenses prorated.

Three years ago, large herds were brought into New Mexico and Texas by individual owners in Wyoming and Montana, which states were suffering from drought. While not done under federal supervision, as would be the case in the proposed cattle movement from New Mexico, these movements give a precedent for such action.

There is a good market for cattle in Old Mexico, and it is not unlikely that many of the steers could be sold there at the expiration of the pasturing period and at a good price.

That the saving of New Mexico livestock is important to the state is shown by the fact, the board pointed out, that 75 per cent of the wealth of New Mexico is derived from the livestock business. The New Mexico Loan agency has been authorized to make a loan of $500,000 to the state for the purpose of buying livestock for the state, which would be sold at a profit to the state.

Representatives of the loan agency who met yesterday in the office of the secretary, J. D. Herndon, Jr., were J. B. Herndon, A. C. Simms, Albuquerque; D. T. Joskins, Las Vegas; Lee Baldwin, Socorro; and E. A. Cahoon, Roswell.

Directors of the loan company at the meeting were W. D. Murray, Silver City; W. R. Morley, Magdalena; C. S. Markorf, Santa Fe; Victor Culbertson, Silver City; J. W. Fox, Roswell; and C. E. L. Galloway, Albuquerque.

IMPORTANT INDIAN CASE. W. C. Reid has gone to Washington, D. C., where he will represent the Santa Clara Indians of southern Arizona in litigation regarding reservation lands. The case has been under way for several months, and a great deal of testimony has been taken by deposition. Indians claim title to lands that they say are belong to them and that have been given over to settlers.

AROUND THE COURT HOUSE

The district court recently gave a judgment for the Continental Oil company against C. E. Gonzales of Clapham, N. M. Through error the judgment was reported to have been given against C. G. Gonzales.

An application has been filed in the district court by Mary Frances Tooley against the New Mexico Construction company for compensation under the workmen's compensation act for the death of Fred O. Tooley, her son. She asks for a lump sum settlement of $2,000.

The Occidental Life Insurance company has filed suit against J. H. Doyle for the collection of $462.54 alleged to be due on a promissory note.

Suit has been brought by the Continental Oil company against J. S. Phillips for the collection of $38.50 alleged to be due on a merchandise account.

TONIGHT IS VAUDEVILLE NIGHT AT THE CRYSTAL

Tonight is regular vaudeville night at the Crystal. Some exceptionally good acts make up a program that is more than pleasing. Bill and Hattie Carr appear in a Musical Oddity using violin and guitar in something very different from anything this theater has ever played. The number as a whole is a splendid musical offering of tuneful melodies perfectly rendered. DeVore and Worth have a unique little skit staged on the deck of a ship. The act is entitled "All Hands on Deck" and there plenty laughs. They carry their own stage setting, which is strikingly realistic. Besides being good comedians, these artists have singing voices far above the average. Their rendition of the beautiful descriptive duet "The Wreck of the Good Ship Love" being especially worthy of mention. The Romanos Sisters are pretty young ladies, their dancing is artistic and graceful. The girls were very beautiful costumes. This act is conceded by the audience to be one of the best of its kind on the American stage today. Ed Hastings is said to be in a class by himself in a Comedy Juggling Novelty. The management of the Crystal announces a special matinee tomorrow afternoon at 2:30.—Adv.

18,000 PEOPLE SAW BIG CIRCUS SATURDAY

Eleven thousand persons attended the afternoon performance of the Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circus here Saturday, and 7,000 were present at the night performance. These figures were reported by the circus people. The big tent is capable of seating 12,000 people. The circus management, which had expected to play to a comparatively small crowd in Albuquerque, was pleased with the attendance. The circus does not usually stop in cities of less than 50,000 people. At Phoenix, Ariz., which is surrounded by a prosperous farming country, the Sells-Floto and Ringling Brothers and Barnum and Bailey circuses both played on the same day. Each reported two capacity crowds.

NEW MEXICO IS NOW RIDING TO A FALL--HINKLE

Democratic Candidate for Governor Declares Extravagance and Waste in State Must Be Stopped.

Special to The Journal

Santa Fe, Sept. 25.—Dropping occasionally into the slang of the moment, James F. Hinkle, democratic nominee for governor made his remarks so pointed and expressive as to provoke applause from a large audience in the heart of the enemy's country. Coming southward from a ten-day journey through northern New Mexico, Senator A. J. Jones and Hinkle found in Santa Fe Monday night the largest and most appreciative audience they have had in the campaign. A great many republicans, including quite a number prominent in party affairs, helped to swell the audience. And they were among the most attentive listeners.

Within the last seven years the state's expenditures have leaped from six to fifteen million dollars, and Hinkle is now "riding to a fall," Hinkle declared. A little more of this recklessness would soon begin to result in a loss in population and then "good night," he warned. Extravagance and waste must be stopped, he said, and can be done by the application of a little business judgment, such as a successful man would exercise in the direction of his own business enterprises.

How to Reduce Expenses

Merely to favor a reduction in the present high taxation is not sufficient, he said he told the resolutions committee of the state convention to go ahead and pledge the reduction, and then make the reduction. I know this can be done by substituting efficiency for incompetence, and economy for extravagance, and the thing is done.

"My party has nominated at least one man who has no strings on him. I have made no pledges, and will not make any. When I am governor and I speak advisedly—I will appoint to office no man who has not the ability, honesty and efficiency to handle the job acceptably. And I mean this for notice that no man need apply for appointment simply because he can carry a precinct."

"I have had enough experience as a member to know that the New Mexico legislature will appropriate anything that is appropriate. This practice should be discontinued. We ought to get down to business, eliminate the freight overhead and make our appropriations to fit the revenues available."

Road Building Expense

Referring to the useless overhead building, he said that in his county there is a road that has now been surveyed five times and is still being surveyed. He described another road that has been constructed through the middle of a lake bed.

Touching upon the penitentiary episode, which is in the public prints again, he declared that if he were governor he would remove such a warden in 30 minutes.

Senator Jones, introduced by Mrs. George Noel, was lauded for his efforts in behalf of the resolution to submit the nineteenth amendment.

He prefaced his remarks by expressing his gratitude and saying he had no doubt that on November 7 the women will recognize the justice of a great cause and roll up tremendous majorities for the democratic ticket.

His address was devoted to national and international issues but he spoke rather more briefly than heretofore.

The party leaves Tuesday morning to spend four days in Rio Arriba county, which is another of the enemy's strongholds, but which numbers several prominent democratic leaders among its citizens.

UNUSUAL FEATURES IN CASE NOW BEING TRIED AT SANTA FE

Special to The Journal

Santa Fe, Sept. 25.—There are unusual and sensational features in the case now on trial before Judge Colla Nebbett, in the United States district court, in which J. H. Ferguson, Lafayette Bennett, A. Paul Siegel and Fred Simmons are charged with conspiracy to defraud.

The information under which the prosecution is being conducted as introduced, show that J. H. Ferguson, posing as a deputy United States marshal, arrested Samuel A. Spradlin on a charge of manufacturing liquor. Ferguson, the defendant, informed Spradlin that Bennett, a Dallas, Texas, had been arrested on a similar charge, and with a large sum of money had purchased immunity from prosecution. Spradlin, the defendant, is now a resident of Santa Fe, and is alleged to have been present at the time of the offense that is charged. The government is undertaking to prove that he was "in on the play" and helped to finance Spradlin that he had secured his own immunity through use of money.

Officers of the federal court say that since the arrest of the defendant in this case, the prosecuting units in the case, the defendant, have been arrested three or four times on charges against them in the justice of the peace court. The charges are reported to have been obtained by the officers' request that the arrests be attempted to intimidate.

IF YOU DO NOT GET YOUR RECORD TODAY, HERE'S THE REASON

Washington, Sept. 25.—Sam Robinson has been the house leader for the Congressional Record almost since the time it began publication. He is about the only popular reporter on the hill. Six nights a week he has gone to the government's big printing plant with enough copy to choke an elephant. He never fell down—until today.

After tramping through the house office building until he was footsore and weary, Sam produced such a small lot of bright, snappy items that the editor decided not to go to press tonight—and that, too, on the heels of Carpenter's collapse and with the world series almost at the ball fan's door.

Before the house adjourned nearly everybody got permission to print undelivered speeches, and a good reporter Sam went to get them. But in most cases he found nobody at home. "Not your fault, Sam," said the editor. "Run along to the movies and try again tomorrow."

And that's why the Record missed the mails and why it won't be on your breakfast table in the morning, with its hot stuff and its features.

Theaters Today

"B" Theater—"Bought and Paid For."—A William De Mille production, but a Paramount picture, with Agnes Ayres and Jack Holt as the principal stars, is the main attraction at the "B" today; also showing reels of "Pathe Review" and "Current Events" pictures.

Crystal Opera House—A high-class vaudeville company opens an engagement at the Crystal tonight in musical oddity, comedy juggling, novelty dancing, etc. See them; they are good.

Lyric Theater—"The Prodigious Lie."—Based on the world's famous novel by Vaughan Kester, featuring Jean Paige and other well-known stars, is the main attraction today at the Lyric; also showing the comedy, "Building Up."

Pastime Theater—William Farnum is at the Pastime, starting in "The Lone Star Ranger," a romance of the great southwest; also showing Fox News, Cartoons and Jimmy Aubrey in "The Riot."

AN ALL-STAR CAST IN "BOUGHT AND PAID FOR," NOW AT "B" THEATER

Leah Wray, who plays the role of Fanny Blaine in "Bought and Paid For," William De Mille's production for Paramount which comes to the "B" theater today, with Agnes Ayres and Jack Holt in the lead roles, celebrated her first anniversary as a motion picture player during the filming of that picture. During her year before the Kilglights, she played in "Too Much Wife," and "Bobbed Hair," and in the production, "The Affairs of Anatol," and in "Bought and Paid For." Prior to that time Miss Wray had an extensive and varied stage career, playing with Willie Fiske, Maude Kennedy and other screen notables.

"THE PRODIGAL JUDGE," WITH JEAN PAIGE, AS STAR, AT THE LYRIC

Jean Paige, whose face is remembered throughout the country for her splendid portrayal in Vitaphone's masterpiece, "Black Beauty," is the star of "The Prodigal Judge," which will be shown at the Lyric theater today.

The book by Vaughan Kester enjoyed a huge success when it was published a few years ago, and the film version has been made in such a manner that it is one of the outstanding productions of the season.

POPULAR WILLIAM FARNUM IN "THE PASTIME IN 'THE LONE STAR RANGER'"

Beginning today, the noted William Farnum, who has been seen at the Pastime theater for two days in "The Lone Star Ranger," a dramatization of the striking novel of the Texas border by Zane Grey. In this play Mr. Farnum is said to give one of his finest portrayals of western characters.

The story contains a love theme exquisitely developed. Admirers of Mr. Farnum in this city already know his ability to throw his magnetic personality into an emotional role, and there can be little doubt that a treat is in store for them.

SCHOOL MA'AMS NAME COMMITTEEMEN FOR BOOK BENEFIT BALL

Plans were made for the annual school ma'ams ball to be given by the county school teachers for the poor children's books, at a meeting of the school superintendent's office on Saturday. No date was set for the affair but committees were named to take care of all arrangements for the dance benefit.

Committee chairmen were appointed as follows: Mrs. C. E. Eida Kern and Miss Cecilia Murphy; war tax exemption, Miss Ruth Peyton; music, Miss Marie Balling; refreshments, Miss Louise Thompson; hall and license, Miss Irene Burke.

A meeting of all of the teachers of the county has been called for 10 o'clock Saturday morning at the courthouse. Checks will be distributed and a talk will be given by Dr. O. C. West, city and county health officer.

FT. WORTH IS GIVEN SEVERE DRUBBING AT THE HANDS OF MOBILE

Mobile, Ala., Sept. 25.—Mobile gave Fort Worth a severe drubbing this afternoon, knocking Wachtel, spiltball pitcher out of the box in the sixth inning and winning by a score, 8 to 2. The all-Dixie series now stands:

Mobile won 3; Fort Worth, 2.

The teams left tonight for Fort Worth.

Manager Niehoff was the hero of the game. In the sixth inning with the bases full, after Wachtel had sent one run over, Niehoff drove the ball over the center field fence. It was the longest drive ever seen here. The Mobile fans in their appreciation presented the Bear manager with a paper sack (that appeared to be full of money).

Acosta was very effective. He pitched the best game of the series against Fort Worth. His outcours puzzled his Panther opponents. Wachtel used his spitter with little effect.

Score by innings:

Fort Worth.....002 000 000—2

Mobile.....000 215 008—8

Batteries: Wachtel, Goodbrand and Haworth; Acosta and Baker.

TABLET IS PRESENTED TO CHURCH BY WILSON

Staunton, Va., Sept. 25.—Former President Woodrow Wilson presented to the congregation of the First Presbyterian church of this city a bronze tablet in memory of his father, the Rev. Dr. Joseph R. Wilson, who was pastor of the church from 1855 to 1857. It was during the Rev. Dr. Wilson's pastorate here that Woodrow Wilson was born.

DECISION TO SHEVLIN

Boston, Mass., Sept. 25.—Eddie Shevlin, of Roxbury, was given the judge's decision over Alex Transbittas, of California, at the close of their ten-round bout here tonight. They are welterweights.

SHADE IS OUTPOINTED

Philadelphia, Sept. 25.—Tommy Lourenco, Philadelphia outpointed George Shade, Los Angeles, in a fast eight round bout tonight. The men are middleweights.

UNION LEADERS ARE REPORTED INDICTED BY U. S. GRAND JURY

Los Angeles, Sept. 25.—Secret indictments were returned before Federal Judge Blewett here today by the federal grand jury, which under the direction of Hiram C. Todd, special assistant to Attorney General Daugherty, has been investigating conditions growing out of the strike of railroad shopmen in the Southwest.

It was unofficially reported the indictments charged eight persons with "obstructing and preventing interstate commerce and transportation of the mails."

Names were withheld pending arrest of the persons indicted, but Mr. Todd intimated they "were among the union leaders," at Needles, California, where a number of Santa Fe trains were held several days last week, and were reported to have suffered from the desert heat.

It is understood the next inquiry will be into the holding of trains at passengers and mail on the Santa Fe lines at Berkeley, California, and Seligman.

I AM NOT RETIRING FROM THE RING, SAYS GEORGES CARPENTIER

Paris, Sept. 25 (by the Associated Press).—"I am not retiring from the ring. I shall resume boxing as soon as I have recovered, and if I findling Sir, I will he will decide to meet me again, you can be sure the bout will not go six rounds."

Thus the Journal this morning quotes Georges Carpentier, the thrice world heavyweight champion pugilist, as having said yesterday.

"I made a mistake," but I learned my lesson. One is never too old to learn, and you see I have done good. Please deny the statement that I am going on the stage. I am a boxer, and I mean to remain one as long as I have the strength to put up my fists."

FLYING BLUEJACKET SELLS HIS AIRPLANE

Prescott, Ariz., Sept. 25.—G. A. Porter, the "flying bluejacket," who started to fly from San Diego to his home in Louisiana and the sold his airplane to George Thompson, in Bellemont, Arizona, and bought a railroad ticket from Bellemont to Lomont, according to word received here today. Porter ran into bad luck at Bellemont, which culminated when he attempted to resume his flight, but was forced to land.

VERDICT OF SUICIDE

St. Louis, Sept. 25.—The coroner's jury which investigated the death of Jacques Villard, editor and linguist, and who was kidnapped in Chicago in December of 1920, robbed, held for ransom and later released, and who was found in bed today with his throat slashed, today returned a verdict of suicide.

NERVOUS WRECK FOR SIX WEEKS

Kentucky Lady Tells How She Became Strong and Healthy—Recommends Cardui to Weak Women.

Mount Vernon, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Vanhook, formerly of Stanford, but now residing here, says that after her third child was born, she undertook to resume her household too soon, "and this caused me a great deal of trouble."

"I began to feel weak and all played out—not myself at all," as Mrs. Vanhook describes her condition. "For about six weeks I was just a nervous wreck. I had to have some one do all my household work."

"My doctor told me my imprudence had caused shock to the nervous system, and the thing to do was to use a tonic to build up my strength."

"He recommended Cardui... Very soon I saw an improvement in my condition. I used three bottles of Cardui and... my health was restored."

"I am strong, healthy woman." This Kentucky lady adds that she "never fails to recommend Cardui to weak and run-down lady friends."

Thousands of women praise Cardui to their friends.

This mild, harmless, vegetable tonic medicine has been in successful use for over forty years, in the treatment of many common ailments suffered by women.

Your druggist sells Cardui. Let him supply you, today.

YOU'LL GET RID OF BLACKHEADS SURE

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calomel powder from any drug store, sprinkle a little on a hot wet sponge rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get the blackheads out after they become hard. The calomel powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

Hinkle Does Not Equivocate

Santa Fe, Sept. 21. In answer to a telegraphic inquiry from Dr. H. R. Mills, of the Methodist conference now in session in Raton, as to his record and present stand on prohibition, Dr. Charles L. Hinkle has just wired:

"Answering your inquiry, wish to state that I supported the dry amendment to the constitution of the United States and the precinct in which I reside in Dona Ana county went strongly in favor of state prohibition, which I also supported."

SHORTHAND AND BICYCLE RIDING.

Chapter 7

"What a lonesome sort of a place this Big Town is!" Nellie said to Cora. "It's something fierce."

"You won't notice the loneliness when you find the kind of work you want and like," Cora returned. "I was sick with loneliness at first."

"Honest? Well, I guess if you stuck it out I can! Then I have you. What on earth I would do without you now I don't know. Jump off the dock, I guess."

"Oh, no you wouldn't, unless you can swim. You have too much grit to give up," Cora spoke seriously now, "and I am not going to lose faith in you—your pluck."

Nellie's forlorn condition appealed to Cora. Her witty speeches amused her. Although unaware of the fact, she needed Nellie almost as much as Nellie needed her.

Nellie worked hard. At times Cora was afraid she would break down, but tiny as she was she seemed to have a wonderful store of reserve energy. She earned all and more than Mrs. Thompson gave her, so gained her good will. She studied for hours, spelling each word out loud several times until she knew it perfectly. She practiced on the typewriter to increase her speed, and as this was the part of her work she really liked, she improved vastly with a rapidity that astonished the more plodding Cora.

But shorthand—that was her despair. The little lines and pothooks that meant so much, or were supposed to mean so much, stood for nothing to her. Yet she kept on doggedly, declaring she'd not be stumped by those horrid little scratches, not if she knew it. Nevertheless, it was slow work. Even Cora became almost discouraged at times.

"I'll come all of a sudden someday," Gladys Doran, a friend of Cora's, told her. "I was just as bad as you are, Nellie. I couldn't seem to make any sense out of shorthand at all. Then after I was almost discouraged it came to me, and now I am called an expert, because I can read the shorthand others write as well as my own."

"That's the way riding a bicycle came to me," Nellie replied, much impressed. "The grocery boy let me ride his. I tumbled off often, but I got on, gee, you should have seen me! I was that black and blue! Honest you couldn't find a place big enough to put a pin down that wasn't. Then, just as I most give up, it came as easy and I never tumbled off again."

"That will be the way shorthand will come to you," Gladys returned laughing. "Only you won't be black and blue."

"Won't I? I guess if you could look into my head, you'd find my brain black and blue—if I've got any."

"You've brains enough! Too many perhaps. But you see if I'm not right."

"You've encouraged me anyway. I seem to feel it will come now—but I hope it won't be after I'm dead."

Gladys Doran really had encouraged Nellie; that and the remembrance of how bicycle riding had seemed so easy. She applied herself more closely than ever, fretted less about her failures, let her small successes encourage her. Immediately Cora noticed an improvement. "Nellie is the sort that needs encouragement. Some of us are the other way, the harder it is for us the better we do; but she wilts without a little praise. She's always had it hard, been kicked around, and a little appreciation goes a long way with her," Cora told Gladys as they lunched together. "I must come again and talk to her—and don't forget to notice her improvement."

"I'll come soon, the poor kid, and so pretty."

Gladys Doran had left home when she was 15 years old and had struggled for five years to attain her present position. She knew what it was to be both hungry and cold, but she had always kept her independence. She was quick, a good worker and a good girl. But she knew the seamy side of office work far more intimately than did Cora, who with her better education, her refinement, due largely to environment, had never been exposed to the coarser side of life at home, had seen little of it, due in a measure to her letters of reference.

Gladys, like Cora, realized that Nellie's unusual beauty might be more of a hindrance than a help to her ambitions, but neither of them told her so. She would find it out for herself soon enough. Tomorrow—Study and Hard Work.

REPUBLICANS TO NAME DATE FOR CONVENTION IN BERNALILLO COUNTY

The date for the republican county convention for the nomination of county officers will be selected at a meeting of the executive committee of the republican party in Bernalillo county to be held Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock at the chamber of Commerce. Chairman Frank A. Hubbell yesterday issued the call for the meeting. The meeting also will name the dates for the precinct primaries and issue the convention and primary calls.

STRIPED SUIT FOR WINTER HIKING

By ELOISE

Sports suits for winter wear are practically the only suits in demand this season except for a few strictly tailored navy tricot models. It has been unanimously decided a coat season and the few sports suits are the only kind which command attention. Mixtures, dark tweeds, homespuns, trelains and novelty weaves are the favored materials for sports wear. They come in all shades of tan, brown, gray and blue and in many mixtures and a few high colors. Stripes are not usual but now and then a novelty suit uses stripes with telling effect.

It is the material which is the striking feature of this sports suit. It is made of imported striped boucle cloth with border and bandings of solid color. A large convertible collar, wide sleeves and deep pockets are touches which please the wearer. The belt is worn low in the front and is run under the back panel leaving the back to hang straight from the shoulder. The suit is a three piece model with a straight line one piece frock giving additional warmth and comfort.

CHILD KILLS EAGLE
Sault Ste Marie, Mich., Sept. 25.—An eagle with a wing spread of seven feet, killed by the eight-year-old daughter of Mose Petrie, a farmer, was brought to the Soo, for exhibition today. The eagle, nearly as large as the child, had attacked a goose in the Petrie farm yard. The girl attracted by the commotion, struck the bird over the head with a stick.

BEAUTY CHATS

By Edna Kent Forbes

ANSWERED LETTERS

C. S. H.: Soften the warts by rubbing into them either salt, olive oil or lemon juice; and, each time the hands are washed, use a little pumice on them.

X. Y. Z.: With reddish brown hair and deep blue eyes you can wear all colors; but the best choice will be all shades of green, brown or blue. To retain that tint in your hair, shampoo once in three weeks using a fine quality of soap such as castile or similar.

Lila: Extract the coarse hairs by using tweezers. Bleach the finer ones with peroxide. Mrs. M. C.: Heena shampoo is made by mixing one ounce of Egyptian henna with three ounces of powdered castile soap. This makes enough for several shampoos. Take a tablespoonful of this mixture and put it into a pint of hot water; rub this over the head, working it into a lather. Let it remain from 10 to 15 minutes and proceed as in any shampoo. This gives lustre and brilliancy but in no way changes the shade of the hair.

Anxious M. C.: The condition which causes your neuritis could affect your hair, as the hair's health follows that of the whole system.

H. M. D.: An ounce of Epsom salts to a pint of water will form a strong solution to be used in massaging the fleshy part of the ankles for reduction purposes.

Katharine C.: It is not advisable to peel the skin, as it would be left in such a delicate state that it would be affected by every change of temperature or other conditions. The few blemishes that you have now will be nothing compared with those you will have after making the skin sensitive through this unnatural process. You can bleach the liver spots by persistent applications of lemon juice or cucumber lotions.

D. A. M.: If you curl the hair by using heated irons you would not have any need for the curling fluid.

K. K.: Spirits of camphor is drying to the skin. Do not overdo the applications. The best method for clearing the skin was given in the chat of yesterday. Squeezing the flesh not only bruises it but it will cause the large pores to coarsen even more. Reader: When powder does not stay on the skin, it is not so much the fault of the powder as the condition of the skin; if it is inclined to be dry the powder blows off and if the skin is very active it throws the powder off. If the skin is dry rub into it a bit of cream before using powder; if it is also remove all excretion first. There are any number of good powders and among them are those made from rice or lyophilum.

BUSY DAYS

The sexton views the rows of tombs with pride, because he planned them; he says, "These little quiet rooms! All sorts of folks demand them. Few wish to sleep beneath the grass in robes that lead to no riches; and yet they want step on the gas, and I prepare their couches. One sees a railway train approach, the sand and gravel trolleys, and he should halt his choosy coach, and not attempt the crossing; but foolishly he thinks to pass, and save a half a minute, and fiercely steps upon the gas—mark you! yonder grave! he's in it. One would enjoy an evening's jaunt, a harmless sort of revel; he takes his wife and maiden aunt to hold the rear seat level. Another auto would pass by; it honks and seems to say: why not let it do so—why? He's in no earthly hurry. But he's a sport, and naught shall pass, no boat can beat his Lizzie; he steps down hard upon the gas—and so they keep me busy. One journeyer sadly while it rains, and sighs, 'I know I'd ought to, but how I hate to put on chains! "Take chances" is my motto. I hate to kneel in dirty grass, in mud and slime to walk, and so I'll feed the old bus gas—he rests in yonder hollow. The sexton often sighs, "Alas! My lot is hard and heavy, but while the boys step on the gas there's no rest for the weary."

MRS. SIMS WEDS H. P. MALKUS IN N. Y. SATURDAY

Announcement of the marriage of Mrs. Alida E. Sims and Hubert Paul Malkus in New York city on Saturday has been received by relatives here.

The romance of the marriage, both now of McClure's Magazine began two years ago when they were members of the staff of the Morning Journal. The ceremony took place at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at Grace church. The service was attended by Mr. and Mrs. S. S. McClure, William Moss of the New York World and a few other intimate friends and followed by a wedding supper.

Mr. and Mrs. Malkus are living at the Ambassador hotel until their apartment is ready. They will both keep their positions at McClure's magazine. Mrs. Malkus has been in charge of the art department of McClure's since the magazine was revived and Mr. Malkus recently joined the staff as editorial assistant.

Mrs. Malkus lived in Albuquerque for about four years, making her home with her sister, Mrs. George McLandress. She held a position with the U. S. Food administration during the war and latter served as society editor of both daily papers. She left the Journal last year to enter magazine work in New York. She has published numerous magazine and newspaper feature articles.

Mr. Malkus came to Albuquerque from Omaha and served as city editor of the Journal for over a year. He left to join the Associated Press service in Denver and was later transferred to Philadelphia. He has been with the magazine only a short time.

NEW MEXICO APPLES TO BE EXHIBITED AT MISSISSIPPI FAIR

A box of the finest New Mexican apples from the Rio Grande valley will be exhibited at the Mississippi state fair, which will open at Jackson, Miss., on October 16. A crate of blue ribbon winners from the Bernalillo county growers exhibit is being shipped by D. K. McKee, secretary of the chamber of commerce.

"We want to show them how we grew apples here," said Mr. McKee. "They think we don't raise anything but sand storms and horned toads. Mississippi will have to go some to beat these apples. We're sending several varieties of apples and two specimen pears."

NEGROES ARE FINED FOR TAKING CANNED FOOD WITH GARBAGE

Harvey Paige and C. M. Payne, both colored, landed in the county jail yesterday. They were arrested yesterday forenoon on a larceny charge. After a hearing before Justice of the Peace Desiderio Montoya they were fined and sentenced to jail. Paige, who was employed by the Hanlin Supply company, which operates the commissary for the Santa Fe shophen, was charged with giving the company's supplies of canned food to Payne, who hauled it away with the garbage.

CITY OF SANTA FE IS INTERESTED IN CODE OF BUILDING HERE

Santa Fe is considering modeling its building code on that of Albuquerque. City Manager R. H. Calkins yesterday received from Colonel R. E. Twitchell, president of the Santa Fe chamber of commerce, a request for copies of all city ordinances regulating buildings, plumbing, wiring and sewer installations. Colonel Twitchell's letter stated that Santa Fe business men have decided to take the lead in arousing interest in modern regulations governing building. It is presumed that the ordinances of this and other cities will be taken as a basis for new ordinances in Santa Fe.

GOVERNMENT KILLING PRAIRIE DOGS OVER LARGE AREA IN N. M.

Over 121,000 acres of land in New Mexico were treated for prairie dog extermination by the United States biological survey during the month of August, according to figures compiled at the offices here. The crop lands treated totaled 15,225 acres and the range lands, 105,965 acres.

The work was done in practically all of the counties of the state, the largest tract of 24,697 acres of range land and over 2,000 acres of crop land being treated in Colfax county. The extermination required 7,724 quarts of poisoned grain as bait for the destructive rodents.

COLONEL G. H. JOHNSON, A MINE-OIL PROMOTER, DIES IN ALBUQUERQUE

Colonel George H. Johnson, aged about 70 years, died in a hospital here Sunday night following an emergency operation for cancer of the stomach. Colonel Johnson was taken violently ill Sunday afternoon, and the seriousness of his ailment was found only when it was found an operation was necessary.

Colonel Johnson had been interested in New Mexico mining and oil drilling operations for several years. He had been here several months making preparations for drilling for oil on the Harlan ranch near Los Lunas. During the war he developed and operated manganese mines west of Socorro. He also developed land in the southwestern and west central parts of the state. He was in charge of oil explorations on the San Augustin plains.

Colonel Johnson was in New Mexico about six years. He was originally from New York, but spent a large part of his life in the northwest.

The body is being held here pending the arrival of a daughter, Miss Johnson, from New York.

DANCING MASTER IS WANTED IN EL PASO

The police yesterday received a telegram from C. T. Smith, captain of detectives in El Paso, asking them to arrest and hold R. Hoffman, dancing school master, on a charge of jumping a bond. The officers were unable to find Hoffman. It was stated, had returned to El Paso. The nature of the case Hoffman was under bond on was not known. Hoffman came here about two months ago and announced that he would teach the latest in dances, including a new tango.

ADOPTION OF BABY CASE TO BE TAKEN TO SUPREME COURT

Notice of an appeal in the case of the guardianship of Estelita Chavez, a year old baby, has been given by Felipe Ortiz and Virginia Ortiz, who have been ordered by the district court to turn the child over to Francisco Chavez and Carolina Chavez.

The child was adopted by the Chavez family from its mother, Lucy Martinez, with her permission. It is stated by them. They claim that Mr. and Mrs. Ortiz took the child of Gomez, a man, and either the court or the mother, and that they have declared their intention of keeping it until the mother pays them $200 alleged to be due them.

The Green Caps

By W. A. DAVENPORT.

New York, Saturday.

ONCE there was a railroad station porter—a Red Cap—who believed that to achieve success one should do just a little more than he was paid for doing. In that and in other respects he was a unique toy, and it is too bad that his name seems to have been lost in the shuffle out of which this tale has been drawn.

It was on a morning when our immediate hero's resolve to win himself fortune was particularly strong. You can almost hear him thinking thus:

"Just gimme a chance, thass all! Just gimme a chance. First big boy asks me to do him a favor for a time or so I'm going to slip him a dollar's worth. Thass me. All I asks is a standing here and there. For want of a better name and because they have sprung into being due to the above mentioned limitations of the Red Caps we shall refer to them as Green Caps.

These Green Caps fundamentally are messengers who are prepared to execute commissions for persons in too great a hurry to attend to them themselves. They may be summed up by calling them Georges, because upon them has been unloaded all the onerous tasks that we Americans in our priceless slang have been wont to shirk by saying:

"Let George do it."

Suppose rather than tire ourselves by long winded dissertation concerning the uses to which these green capped Georges are daily being put we divide our time between the marble counter of their headquarters and

"Sounds reasonable. What's her number?"
"Didn't tell us. Don't you know?"
"How should I know? Who's the lady?"
"Aren't you Mr. Epps?"
"Sure."
"Weren't you on your way to Boston?"
"Good Lord, no! Hate the place. Wouldn't go to Boston even to spite looking for aid. I can pay my own way."

The Green Caps have been alluded to as messengers. That is a term of convenience. A capable Green Cap is a soothsayer, a magician, a magnificent detective, a nursemaid, a diplomatist, a he goat. In fact, he is what his patrons demand him to be or else he is a berated numbskull.

Consider, for example, the one who was addressed by a hurrying man who relieved his mind as follows:

"Hey, here's your dime, and for the sake of all that is sacred don't fail me. I'm supposed to meet my wife here and take the 6:03 to Pelham with her. I can't make it. If I don't get a message to her she'll be liable to howl. She'll be there at the information desk at 6. Tell her that I can't leave until the 7:15."

Before the Green Cap could protest the man was gone.

Now, had it been you or I we doubtless would have put that dime pick out one about the age of or slightly younger than the man who had wished this commission upon him. That left about 300 to select from.

Then he walked boldly up to the nearest of them and said:

"Pardon me, lady, but are you Mrs. Yelk?"

The lady clutched her pocketbook and opened her mouth for a bit of screaming.

"Because if you are," he hastened on, "I have a message for you from Mr. Yelk—Mr. Henri Yelk of Pelham."

"Well, where is he?" demanded the lady.

And the message was delivered.

Did Mrs. Yelk praise the Green Cap for his perspicacity? Did she marvel that his genius directed him to her first off? Did she express admiration because out of 300 waiting women he had found her with one sweep of his eye? She did not!

scheduled to take the Wolverine for Detroit. The train leaves in seven minutes. For heaven's sake help me find the useless creature."

The maidless lady plowed through the crowd before the young man could explain that he was not supposed to retrieve lost maids. But, aiming to please, he looked about him, and there, standing patiently amid much luggage near the gate through which one should go to board the Wolverine, stood the missing maid. There was no mistaking her.

"Madam," shouted the Green Cap. But Madam did not hear. She was plunging here and there looking for the maid, who was wondering where her boss could be.

"Madam, your maid," said the young man, catching up with the desperate lady.

"Yes, my maid. What do you want to do—hold a conference? Go on and look for her and don't follow me around."

But the frate lady was gone again.

The crowd was huge and the young man was new on the job. He wanted to show his worth. He crashed his way to the Wolverine gate and grabbed the maid.

"Come with me," he commanded, giving her a tug that had no effect upon her other than to infuriate, "your missus is looking for you."

"Let loose of me, man," warned the maid, "before my hand knocks wisdom into you."

He gave another wrench. The maid swung with her right. And as she let fly she screamed:

"Poh-leece! Poh-leece! Robbers! Robbers!"

"This man trying to steal me away from my missus's baggage," she explained to the responding police. "Telling me some crazy story my missus wants me. My missus wants me to stand here with the baggage and no boy in no green pants is going to fool me away with no—"

She swung her right again and tripped over a suit case. Before they restored her to her natural perpendicular the Wolverine had departed and the employer of the faithful guardian of the family luggage struggled to the messenger's side.

Did she explain all? Did she reward the Green Cap for his earnest efforts? She did not. She did everything but shoot him. She called him harsh names. She referred to him as being more or less unsound mentally.

"If it hadn't been for you I would not have missed the train," she wailed.

"Madam," said the Green Cap, just before fleeing, "I'll bet your family is just as sorry as you are that you missed the train providing they live in New York."

claims I staked out. This one was good. I have staked twelve others, but I doubt if I ever go back. I've had enough, and when a bird from Montana offered me $35,000 cash I took it. Some day I may be sorry I didn't stay and make a million."

He reaches into a bag and brings out nuggets of gold, hard for the travelers to distinguish until he picks into the soft rock with his knife. He gives away some of the nuggets. The movie queen displays sudden interest in mining and attempts to draw the youth out on the subject, but he only grins bashfully and tells her about his girl "back home" in Wisconsin.

The train drives on for a night and brings the travelers in the middle of the day following to a watering place in Arizona just too late for them to view one of the best shootings in a fortnight of desert history.

The form of a man lies at the track side. The man is dead, and a posse arrives after a futile search of the mountains for the slayer.

The cattleman makes an investigation. "It was a clean shot," he says. "Drilled in the head by a .45, big as your wrist. Chased him clean to the tracks and shot him."

The train is delayed an hour while the dead man is put aboard to be carried to the nearest undertaker, 200 miles further on. Children on the observation platform have witnessed the whole thing and are told the harrowing details by the professor.

We reach Williams, where a short line runs to Grand Canyon. The guides say there are pumas and catamounts in the fastnesses at this point. A bedtime story is provided for the children by a traveling man from Jersey City, who tells how he bought a bear in a royal preserve in Canada and locked the beast in his hotel room at Banff Springs. The bear broke out in the morning and set the place in an uproar, and the traveling man said it cost him $300 to get the bear restored.

This is the last but one of the stories told on the trip. The other comes from the truck driver, who has been sharing potencies with the Man with the Scotch most of the journey. He comes to life as the train strikes Needles, in California, and then crosses the divide at Summit to drop into the valley leading to the coast.

The travelers for the first time in two days see real trees and become buoyant as if they were entering a promised land. In less than 200 miles the train descends 3,000 feet toward sea level.

Deep valleys rich with foliage of eucalyptus, and pepper and willow trees range by the eye. The train sweeps down long winding curves, always dropping; mountains take on greenery and begin to drop into the background, but there are severe passes. Pasadena is only six hours ahead and beyond that Los Angeles and the coast. Palm trees now and then stand out like a glimpse into Egypt, and the Professor recites from Wordsworth.

"We decided the best thing to do was to go back, and we did. I jumped in the driver's seat, singed by the flames, and kicked off the brakes, and then the helper and I pushed on the tail board, coaxing the truck to the edge of the canyon. I don't know how long it took us, but it was a desperate chance we took. There was a ton of dynamite and the truck weighed two tons, but we moved her and she shot over the edge like a meteor. Down a thousand feet she went, and there came an explosion that sounded like a thousand guns. That was all there was to it. We had to walk ten miles to water at the camp."

The truck driver has been over passes just to the north, by Johannesburg, where there are silver mines. The truck driver was near death there.

"I had a truck of dynamite," he says, "and if I ever get another squeak like that I'm going to quit. It is as hot up there as the desert. Me and my helper drove the truck to the top of the pass, when the gas exploded and the front blew up. The flames shot out. We jumped, but we couldn't think of any place to run that the dynamite wouldn't get us."

The Man with the Scotch refreshes the entire party after the thrilling narrative. His White Horse has vanished long since and he has only a few half dozen bottles of bourbon to ease the ending journey. But he is still known as the Man with the Scotch. He is given an affectionate leave taking a few hours later at Los Angeles. He announces his plan.

"I'm going by boat to 'Frisco, but I'll not stop there. I'll take a train to Seattle (he called it Sea-tele) and I'll start by way of Vancouver a bit till I start for Winnipeg, and I think I'll try Tia Juana before heading back to Montreal."

But it is the professor who offers the parting shot. Summoning the male travelers to the smoking room he breaks the seal of a choice bottle of wine, from which he pours out golden libations. The professor is gifted in the ritual.

"I had saved this for a sick aunt," he says with twinkling eyes.

"But there is one among us who may benefit more than she, one who has made our journey rather famous in days as stringent as these. I drink, we drink to him. May he continue to bring cheer till he reaches the journey's end." We stand and drink deeply. It's wicked, but we do.

chance and there ain't no combination can keep a boy from his chance." Old Chance came hopping along, fetching with her a bright looking young man carrying a brief case.

"Boy," said the bright looking young man, "I'm in a hurry and I want you to do me a favor."

"Yessir and thanks," said the Red Cap.

"I have just one minute to catch the train for Atlantic City. Call up this telephone number and ask for Mr. Biezegel. Be sure to get Mr. Biezegel. Tell him that Mr. Rusk—that's me—will be unable to be there to-day because I am ill. Understand?"

"Sholly, Mr. Rusk. Just leave it to me."

"Don't say any more than that. Tell him that and then hang up."

"Yessir, I won't pass the time of day with Mr. Biezegel. Just tell him you is sick and can't possibly be there. Not another word."

The bright looking young man handed the Red Cap a dollar and sprinted for the Atlantic City train.

"Chance and me meet here every morning," said the Red Cap, taking to a telephone booth. "No telling who the gentleman is. Maybe big millionaire looking for a bright boy for his personal valet or somebody. Hello! Hello! Is Mr. Biezegel there? Yessir! This here Mr. Biezegel talking to me? Yessir. Yessir. Just a moment, because this here's most important."

"Mr. Rusk he ain't gointa be with you to-day. No, sir, not this day, he ain't. Mr. Rusk he is sick, powerful sick. Yessir, powerful. Mr. Rusk he like to die. Yessir, that boy sure low. Thought I'd tell you 'cause I know you and him got important business between you, Yessir."

"What? Say what? Me? Yessir, this am the doctor speaking."

We shall leave that energetic Red Cap to consider another member of his profession. Now this was a tall Ethiopian of a different temperament. He harbored no illusions concerning his future.

One day a man was hustling across the floor of Grand Central Terminal determined to take a train for Chicago or somewhere West. He was met by a friend who reminded him of an unkept appointment.

"Oh, rats!" snapped the prospective traveler. "I hope I never see him. Won't you telephone him and say I'm dead or something?"

"Not me," refused the memory jogger, "not me. Every time I try fixing things there is a revolution and I'm the defeated side. Get a Red Cap to ring him."

"Good idea. Here boy."

"Yessir."

"Please ring up this number and tell Mr. Pottle that it's all off. No, don't say that. Tell him I've been called away hurriedly. No, don't say that either. Just say I've gone to—to—to Brazil. Yes, say Brazil."

"Yessir."

"This Mr. Pottle?" droned the Red Cap through the transmitter. "Mr. Pottle? Mr. Pottle? Tell me to call you up and say that he-all is gone to Brazille. Yessir, Brazille. No, sir, he don't say nothin' but he's gone to Brazille and won't be home all night."

Now, perhaps, having set up a more or less reliable background we may proceed with our story of human nature. If you have been in the Grand Central Terminal since June 1 you may have observed certain spruce young men in green uniforms the floor of the station where they are posted. We are, then, losing at the marble counter overhearing the duty dodgers and the too hurried.

A somewhat harried looking man of fifty-five or so presents himself. "I have here a strange proposition for which I am willing to pay well," says he.

"We are not frightened by strange propositions," replies the young woman behind the marble slab. "We charge ten cents per commission plus the expense of execution."

"If you can get away with this it's worth $10."

"We guarantee to give the maximum of human effort."

"Very well, get set," says the client. There is, perhaps, no man so lazy as my son. To divorce him from his bed in the morning is most difficult. I am going to Canada for three weeks, and it is my desire that my son be aroused every morning at 7 that he may present himself in the office at 10."

"Very good, sir."

"I have had a large gong substituted for the tinkling bell with which the telephone in my son's room was equipped. He has promised me not to stuff paper or other muffling material in the gong. Briefly, I desire you to ring him out of bed every morning at 7."

"The bell shall ring, sir."

The tired father paid and went away hoping.

Next a young man who lives in New Rochelle.

"Will you please call up my wife," he asked. "Please tell her that I am bringing Job Trotter home to dinner to-night."

"The girl on the other side of the counter maintained a calm demeanor. But she is a very human young woman, blessed with all that curiosity that is said to be an especial characteristic of her sex. Incidentally, they're no more curious nor scandal loving than we men are; but it seems a shame to kill all the nice old Victorian legends. But, as I say, she must have wondered why her customer didn't call up his wife himself, and perhaps he received her mental question telepathically."

"She always argues out of it when I want Job to the house," the young man needlessly explained. "If I call her up and tell her it will be all off. If you call her she can't argue. She will have to get set for Job whether she likes it or not."

From the switchboard somewhere back of the girl at the counter comes the telephone operator.

"There is a woman on the wire," she explains. "She is all wrought up over something or other. Call one of the messengers and have him page Mr. Epps. She says that we are to tell Mr. Epps not to go to Boston and that she didn't mean what she said. Sounds like romance to me."

"Mr. Epps! Mr. Epps!" calls the messenger in the vicinity of the train for Boston gate. And presently a mild looking man of middle years acknowledges the proprietorship of that name.

Acts as Interlocutor.

"Lady has called saying please don't go to Boston and that she didn't mean what she said," reported the messenger.

"Fine!" said Mr. Epps. "What would you suggest that I do about it?"

"Search me. Why don't you try calling her up?"

a woman. Besides, young man, if you'd use your eyes you'd see that I'm not the sort of man to get mixed up in this sort of a—"

But the Green Cap had fled, looking for the right Mr. Epps.

And then there were the negotiations between a mother and her son. Something had gone wrong at home and the boy had run away. Now he was no more anxious to stay away than his mother was to lose him. But each in their blindnesses failed to size up the situation.

The boy paid his fee and had the message exchange telephone his mother as follows:

"Am leaving for China to-night."

"If he is still near by," replied the mother to the girl delivering the message by telephone, "tell him not to leave until I can see him off."

"Tell her," he countered, "that she needn't come to see me off, because I'll come home if she'll drop that violin foolishness."

"Tell him to come home and we shall never have a violin in the house."

"Tell her I'll be home for dinner," shouted the youth triumphantly.

Up to the marble counter pattered a blond young woman, who laid a ten dollar bill down and asked:

"I want to buy a ticket for a man who is arriving on the train that gets in at 9 o'clock."

"At what station does the train arrive?"

"Why, this one, doesn't it?"

"Maybe; where is he coming from?"

"I don't know. He was in Denver last week, and I just received this telegram that says he'll be in at 9 o'clock, and I thought it would be nice if I bought him a ticket for him, because he hasn't much money."

"But he must have had his ticket when he got on the train at wherever it was he got on."

"Oh, isn't that too bad? And I thought I'd surprise him so. Where's the other station? Maybe they'll know more about it there."

She toddled off tremendously perplexed. It would have been interesting to have followed her and watched her block traffic, cause motor car accidents and eventually board a subway train going in the wrong direction.

The Green Caps posted on the floor of the waiting room and concourse lead frenzied lives. They are asked to hold babies, post letters, straighten out travelers who have become involved in fearful snarls concerning train connections and the differences between daylight saving time and Eastern standard. None of these things is required of them by their employers, but that makes no difference to the men and women in the station.

"Is there a good hotel near this station?" asks an elderly lady just in on the train that has made every stop between New York and Buffalo.

"Yes ma'am."

"Is it handy to Simpson street?"

"Simpson street in the Bronx?"

"No, right here in New York."

"The Bronx is in New York, lady."

"Well, maybe I'd better stop in this hotel in the Bronx. Is there a good hotel there?"

"Lady, I don't know. I live in Canarsie."

"Is that near Simpson street?"

"No, lady. You better try the Traveler's Aid."

"Don't be impertinent. I ain't in bank along with the rest of our dimes and said nothing more about it. But this Green Cap is a much, much better man than I and probably infinitely superior to most folks. Came 6 o'clock and he surveyed the crowd in the immediate vicinity of the information booth. Look that crowd over any night and see for yourself the job this lad had on his faithful hands.

First of all he tried to single out the women folks who seemed to be waiting for some one. That narrowed him down to about 450 assorted females. Then he tried to

"You are a nuisance," was his comment. "A fearful nuisance. If you had minded your own business and not paid any attention to my husband he would have met me here now as he promised."

On another occasion a large, imposing woman grasped the arm of one of these beleveled young men in green uniforms and informed him that she had lost her maid.

"My personal maid, dressed in black and made more conspicuous by a white cap and white sleeve facings, is missing," she explained. "She's about 5 feet 5. With me she is

Smoking Car Tales

By F. P. KIMBALL.

WE are a night out from Chicago. Watches have been changed, and after breakfast this brave band of seers of America first prepares to get that for which it has dared railroad strikes and coal strikes and for which some have pledged their last sou—a glimpse of the great open spaces, the West. The view from the window, however, is only a prospect of rolling country, and much to the disgust of the children, a country unmarked by the graves of dead Indians.

Pillows have been set out in Pullman seats. The children, the truck driver and the men who can't bear smoking indoors have seized the observation platform. This annoys other passengers, who are assured by the porter that observation is unrestricted.

The former Representative from Rhode Island hails me. "What State is this?" he asks.

"I think it is Kansas."

"Oh, Lord!" he groans. "Then I can't get a smoke here. Can't smoke anything but cigarettes, and they won't sell 'em in Kansas. I learned that in Congress."

It occurs to me that the porter might help us out. But no.

"Can't be done, boss," he says. "The cigarettes are locked up. This is Kansas."

"Thank heaven this train doesn't go through Missouri," says the ex-statesman as we exit into the smoking room in quest of the filthy weed.

We miss this first few hundred miles of Kansas, but we meet a rare traveler, a pouchy, thin-haired person with huge mustaches and loose fitting sack coat. The hugeness of this coat is explained when he draws a quart bottle from his recesses and displays it proudly, although there are twelve men in the smoking room.

He helps himself to a drink, passes the bottle, and the jury finds the evidence good and heaps expressions of gratitude on the host.

"That's White Horse, gentlemen," explains the Man with the Scotch. "Divine beverage of 1906. What is one bottle among friends? I have three bottles left. To-morrow I will have bourbon. From where? That's my business. I get it. That's why I travel. I hate drinking in the same place. A train is my automobile, my caravan, my hostelry. I have traveled 7,000 miles and haven't seen any scenery I can remember. I haven't bought a picture postcard, and if I want to know where I've been I consult my Pullman stubs."

Insight Into Bert Williams. He subsides. The heat continues through the night, and thick desert dust sweeps in and covers the berths, stifling the nose. At midnight most of the men, in pajamas, gather on the observation platform, trying to smoke away discomfort.

The porter comes to the rescue. He has some stories of Bert Williams, the comedian. The Man with the Scotch fills the porter's glass and

I save all of 'em. Scenery is for guide books and for my fellow traveler, who tells me about it if I'm sober enough to listen. But I've had the best time in the world. My ticket cost $300 and I've spent $1,700 on candy and chewing gum."

"The customs! Ho! I recall at Rouses Point a cockney customs man who saw me sitting like a frog with this coat bulged with bottles, and he says: 'Have you anything to declare for his Majesty's duty?' and I said: 'Not a thing. What are you going to do about it?' 'Oh, it's only a matter of form,' says he. 'I get you,' says I. And I gave him a drink. 'Bally good,' said he. 'Matter of form, I said.'"

Colorado sunsets are admired, appearing much redder than the Boston variety. Porters scatter warning that the sun will be redder still in Arizona, the next stop; also that travelers had best be prepared for hot weather. The porters are right. During the night the heat sweeps up, and at dawn, with the train in the Arizona desert, it is around 90. At 4 the same afternoon it is 110.

The scenery is striking—a vista of low mountain ranges, devoid of trees, and marked only, as is the valley through which the train passes, by crinkly sagebrush. A wagon trail can be distinguished. It is not barked like a road, but just wanders over the sand. Two automobiles are stalled there, two hundred miles from water. The train moves slowly, but the motorists raise no signal of distress. They are the only human beings observed in a day's travel, except for the scant populace of the watering stations.

The heat gets the better of the gentleman from Rhode Island.

"What a fool idea making civilized men and women go through a hell like this!" he shouts. "Those crazy autoists ought to be jailed for risking their lives. Swelter and dirt! I haven't a clean shirt left now. Never again. I'm going to run for Congress this fall, and I'll get elected as sure as the devil. And when I do the first thing I'll have done is to rope the desert off the tourist map. It's no good to anybody. A snake can't live in it."

A young man comes out of the heat and boards with a ticket for an upper berth. He has a blue shirt, but is shaven, and therefore more presentable than many of the men tourists. He is promptly taken in by the Man with the Scotch, who scents a story.

The newcomer says he is "through." He means he has "cleaned up." He has thirty-five one thousand dollar bills. He has change amounting to $500, all of which he displays without compunction. He asks about New York, which he says he expects to visit on his honeymoon, and remarks there are gunners in New York and he will have to put his money in a bank when he gets there. He goes on:

"I struck gold ten days after I started my claim. I worked a year, seven days a week in a mine 300 miles south of here. When I saw day I took my pick and worked admits him to the brotherhood. For two hours the Porter tells Williams jokes. He reveals that Williams preached sermons, which have been printed in a book.

"He was the saddest," the porter declares after a series of roaring jokes. "In one of them sermons he said of the hereafter, 'I'm going, but I'll be back.' Do you reckon that's true?"

No one answers. It is too hot to think.

The Porter—That's what Williams said. A jackass just goes off in the field and you get up in the morning to look for him and he's gone. But I recall what Williams said to a man that went to sleep and slept so hard nobody near him could get started, and Williams poked him awake and then said: "Man, slow up. You're sleeping so hard you'll have your nap out before day!" I think that was the sayniest thing I ever heard.

Every one has learned more about Williams than they ever expected by the time day breaks. It develops that the porter had never actually seen the comedian. "I've only been where he's been and near where he's been," he

SANTA FE WILL SEND OFFICIALS HERE TO CONFER

General Manager and Chief Engineer Coming From Amarillo to Discuss Viaduct Construction.

Within ten days, F. A. Lehman, general manager of the southern division of the western lines of the Santa Fe railway, and F. M. Bisbee, chief engineer, will come here from their headquarters in Amarillo to discuss with city officials the reconstruction of the Coal Avenue viaduct. City Manager B. H. Callins was advised to that effect yesterday in a letter from W. C. Reid, New Mexico solicitor for the railway, with headquarters in Albuquerque.

Mr. Reid's letter said: "I have a communication from F. M. Bisbee, our chief engineer at Amarillo, stating that he deems it inadvisable to submit plans that the company officials have discussed among themselves prior to their coming to Albuquerque to confer as to the reconstructing of the viaduct. They have two or three different views of this matter, and a discussion would be more desirable than submitting plans. Mr. Bisbee says he thinks General Manager Lehman and he can come here within a week or ten days and thoroughly discuss the question."

The letter from Mr. Reid was the result of a letter from Mr. Callins a few days ago stating that the city expected some action from the Santa Fe without further delay, and requesting that if the officials of the road could come here that they send in the plans of their engineers. Several weeks ago a large citizens' committee, appointed to handle the viaduct matter, delegated to a committee of engineers of which the city manager was one, the task of coming to an agreement with the Santa Fe engineers on the engineering side of the problem. The city voted bonds many months ago for the viaduct improvement, and took up with the Santa Fe the matter of having the road co-operate in the building of a new structure. The old viaduct has been deemed out of date and inadequate for several years.

Messrs. Lehman and Bisbee likely will meet with the committee of engineers, as well as with the city manager and commission, it was said yesterday at the city hall.

CRUISER PITTSBURGH SAILS FOR EUROPEAN WATERS ON OCTOBER 2

Washington, Sept. 25.—The cruiser Pittsburgh, now being refitted at the Brooklyn navy yard, expects to leave for European waters October 2, going direct to Gibraltar where Vice Admiral Andrew C. Long, in command of American vessels in European waters, will transfer his flag to it from the Utah.

Admiral Long will proceed with the Pittsburgh direct to Constantinople to confer with Rear Admiral Mark Bristol, American high commander there, and familiarize himself with the Near Eastern situation. Admiral Long probably then will visit various foreign ports to inform himself as to the general European situation, he having been only recently given command of American vessels in European waters.

At the navy department it was emphasized that Admiral Long's visit to Constantinople was in the natural course of events and while the state department had been informed of the approaching visit, it is in no sense a diplomatic mission.

The Utah, after being relieved by the Pittsburgh, will proceed to home waters to join the Atlantic fleet.

Jumping at conclusions is about all the mental exercise some people take.

"ALLIES MUST YIELD CONSTANTINOPLE OR FACE A HOLY WAR"

Maj. Gen. Sir Charles Townshend.

The allies must grant Turkey's demands for the return of Constantinople or face a "holy war," in the opinion of Maj. Gen. Sir Charles Townshend, British hero of Kut el Amara. He issued this warning on his recent return to London from Turkish headquarters, where he conferred with Mustafa Kemal Pasha, leader of the conquest-mad Turks.

ROTARY CHIEFS ENJOYING TWO DAY MEET HERE

Officers From Southwestern District Clubs Holding Conference; Many Social Honors Extended.

Informal conferences on club business and social gatherings with the local Rotarians are filling the two day meeting here of officers of all Rotary clubs in New Mexico, Arizona and El Paso. The conference will close tonight with a smoker for the visitors at the Elks club.

The meeting opened yesterday morning at the chamber of commerce parlors with an address of welcome by Mayor William R. Walton. It was responded to by Charles B. Austin of Phoenix, Ariz., governor of the Eighth Rotary district. Mr. Austin gave an account of the recent meeting of the international council at Chicago, where plans were made for the coming year's program. The morning session was devoted to an outline of the year's work for clubs in this district and the afternoon to a discussion of intimate club problems.

A banquet in honor of the visiting Rotarians was given last night at the country club by the local Rotary club. An after dinner program of music and talks, with President Austin as toastmaster, was given. George Geake, William McDonald and Louis Hesseiden, accompanied by Mrs. D. W. Faw and Mrs. William McDonald, gave vocal solos, and Ernest W. Hall gave a juggling act. The board of directors and the chairman of committees of the local club were in attendance. The regular weekly club luncheon has been advanced from Thursday to today in order that the visitors may attend. The luncheon will be held at the Alvarado at 12 o'clock and will be followed by a special program. The guests will be taken for an automobile drive about the city after luncheon.

Those in attendance at the conference are: Charles B. Austin of Phoenix, governor of the Eighth district; Robert Kellahin and C. M. Enhart, president and secretary of the Roswell club; C. E. Rose and Osborne D. Walker, president and secretary of the Tucson club; Arthur A. Taylor and Mel Fickas, president and secretary of the Phoenix club; W. W. Jourdin and H. L. Osborne, president and secretary of the Miami club; Leslie Riffner, vice president of the Prescott club; E. W. White, representing the new club being formed at Kingman; Herman E. Hendrix, president of the Mesa club; Col. A. J. Macnab, president of the Nogales club; I. S. Koch, of Flagstaff; E. L. Goff and William Chapman, president and secretary of the Raton club; William H. Springer and R. C. Jackson, president and secretary of the Las Vegas club; Charles B. Woodul, secretary of the El Paso club; and Dr. L. S. Peters and W. C. Oestreich, president and secretary of the Albuquerque club.

COMPENSATION FIGHT HAS JUST STARTED, MACNIDER DECLARES

Special To The Journal
Chicago, Sept. 25.—The fight for compensation for the men and women who served in the world war has just started, Colonel MacNider declared in a statement upon his arrival here from Terre Haute, tonight. Colonel MacNider is on his way to Rock Island to attend the Illinois legion convention. "Nothing can stand between the wish of the people and what they believe to be a just obligation. If it had not been for the absence, the bill that failed last week would have gone through," he declared.

WOMEN URGED TO VOTE FOR RIGHT, DESPITE PARTY

Mrs. Charles Dietrich and John F. Simms Address Meeting of Independent Women's League.

The Independent League of Women Voters held a meeting last night at the chamber of commerce at which addresses were given by Mrs. Charles Dietrich, of Hastings, Neb., regional director for the Sixth regional district, and John F. Simms, of Albuquerque.

Mrs. Dietrich said that the constitution of the United States grants the right to protection and happiness, but that the men, in their control of political affairs had been content with securing protection, while to the women is now being given the task of bringing about national happiness. She declared that women should not be straight party voters if they wish to receive consideration from the male politicians, but should be independent. In her opinion, women should investigate the moral character and the ability of candidates rather than vote for nominees because of party lines.

Mr. Simms, in a half-humorous, half-serious, address, said that men had always regarded political dishonesty as something apart from moral dishonesty, and that women can change this viewpoint. He urged women not to pay too much attention to pre-election slanders, and not to allow party zeal to keep them from voting for principle. Fitness for office and personal integrity are becoming more important in politics since women have had the vote, he declared.

"The scratcher has been characterized as a brindle dog," he said, "but it is better to be a brindle dog than a yellow dog. If women, who instinctively know and love the right, will vote for the right, they will serve their party best by voting for the right, and will make all parties be right in order to get their vote. Women should go to the polls and they should have long memories. It is all right to change one's party for a moral cause, but not for expediency."

Mrs. W. R. Walton, newly elected president, presided at the meeting. Mrs. Dietrich will go today to Santa Fe.

In Constantinople it is impossible to communicate with any one by mail. It is necessary to send a servant with the message or go oneself to make the communication in person.

A SWEET LITTLE BABY BOY

Makes a Bright Spot in Every Home. A Comfort in Years to Come

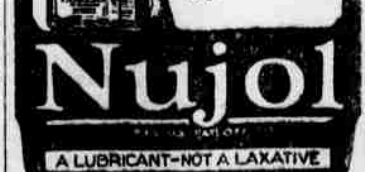

Park Rapids, Minnesota.—"I have taken your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound—and I am a happy girl for pains and before and after my marriage. I now have a sweet little baby boy and will send you his picture if you wish to publish it. My sisters also take your medicine and find it a great help, and I recommend it to those who suffer before their babies are born." Mrs. W. M. JOHNSON, Box 165, Park Rapids, Minn.

To marry and arrive at middle age without children is a great disappointment to many women. Think of the joy and comfort other women have in their children as they grow older.

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped to bring great happiness to many families by restoring women to health. Often the childless home is due to a run down condition of the wife, which may be helped by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. It brought health and happiness into the home of Mrs. Johnson. "Why not to yours?" —Adv.

Not a Laxative

Nujol is a lubricant—not a medicine or laxative—so cannot gripe. When you are constipated, not enough of Nature's lubricating liquid is produced in the bowel to keep the food waste soft and moving. Doctors prescribe Nujol because it acts like this natural lubricant and thus replaces it. Try it today.

ALBUQUERQUE IS MUCH DISCUSSED STATES STRONG

Local Business Man at Denver Convention Is Kept Busy Answering Inquirers From All Points.

"I believe that Albuquerque is the most talked of city in the west," said H. O. Strong yesterday, on his return from the annual meeting of the National Funeral Directors' association in Denver. "I was asked so many questions about Albuquerque that I did not have any time to devote to matters of business that took me to Denver," Mr. Strong continued.

Some of the questions asked Mr. Strong were: "Why is Albuquerque building more rapidly than any other city of its size in the country?" "What have you fellows down there to make such a lively, growing town?"

"Have you struck oil?" "Is it a fact that the city made the second largest gain in postal receipts this summer of all the cities in the United States?"

"They tell me that $2,600,000 worth of business houses are going up in Albuquerque. Is that true?" "Have you room for more people?"

"We have heard that more houses are coming up in Albuquerque than in Denver. Is that a fact?" Mr. Strong said that if he had known he was to be asked so many questions he would have taken a grip of Chamber of Commerce advertising matter with him.

Nearly everybody who made inquiries had been entertained here with the delegations from the Shriners or Rotarians during the summer, or had relatives or friends who had been in those parties. "I believe that was the best advertising Albuquerque ever did," Mr. Strong declared. "I think we should entertain every special train that stops here. The people who were entertained this summer were impressed with the building and general activity, and I heard they had made complimentary remarks and comments all the way from California. It appears to me that the most questions I had to answer were from a man from Maine."

Mr. Strong said he told inquiries what he believes to be the truth, that Albuquerque has the best climate on earth, the best irrigation possibilities; the best sanatorium and the most numerous for a place of this size; that it is the trade center for a growing state; that it is an important railroad center; that it has the best of schools; and that it is putting in municipal improvements as fast as possible.

"I found that I did not know half as much about Albuquerque as I should," he said yesterday, "and this should be a lesson to me and every Albuquerquean to teach him that he must post himself before going out into the question zone. We must follow up this wonderful advertising. It appears to me that Albuquerque advertising has vaccinated the whole country and that the vaccination has begun to take."

Mr. Strong said his observations lead him to believe that Albuquerque is building more rapidly than Denver in proportion to its size.

Many inquiries, including a large one from a company, said they intended investigating Albuquerque as possible business or home location.

HIT ONCE: ASKS WHY GETS ANOTHER "BUST," MAN TELLS THE JUDGE

Curiously to know why he had been "busted" in the law led R. B. Caldwell, a plasterer, to go back to make a peaceful inquiry, and the only explanation he got was another bust like the first, Caldwell told Police Judge George Roddy in city court yesterday evening. After that, he said, he decided to make no more inquiries in that quarter.

Caldwell was describing events that occurred Saturday evening at the restaurant operated at 204 South Second street by Carl Parsons, who he said, was the man that struck him.

"I never knew what happened until he jerked me by the collar and hustled me out of his place and onto the sidewalk, where he 'busted' me in the face and knocked me down," Caldwell said. "I went and washed off the blood and gave my temper a chance to calm down. I said to myself, 'I'm going back and find out why he did that.' I had no more than entered the door than he came rushing up and 'busted' me before I could open my mouth. I saw he was too much for me and wouldn't answer a question, and so I stayed away."

"The man came into my place and his conduct was objectionable," said Parsons, "and I led him to the door. He tried to come back in, and I pushed him in the face with my hand. When he came back I thought he meant trouble, and I put him out again."

Judge Roddy did not go into the technicalities of how hard a "push" must be before it becomes a "bust," but fined both men $15. He said that the next time Parsons wishes to put somebody out of his restaurant he would better summon a policeman.

MAN WILL ENDEAVOR TO PROVE AN ALIBI IN ENGE MURDER CASE

Prescott, Ariz., Sept. 25.—Thomas W. Burge, charged with being an accomplice of William E. Acker in the murder of Iver Enge, near here last June 11, will endeavor to prove an alibi, it was revealed today when his attorneys sought and obtained a continuance of his trial from today until the next jury session of the superior court. Burge's counsel represented to the court that two witnesses could be produced who would testify that Burge was in Prescott all afternoon of June 11, when Enge was attacked and beaten, eight miles south of the city.

William E. Acker was found guilty Saturday on a charge of murder in connection with the death of Enge. The verdict carried with it the death penalty.

Dictionaries also are forbidden entrance to Turkey because the Sultan is usually mentioned in such books, and that is contrary to Turkish law.

Figure It Out Yourself

The Cost of Painting Is Never as Great as the Cost of NOT Painting

The paint question is a simple problem in arithmetic. Certain facts are fundamental. You cannot dodge them. For example: Without paint, property goes to rack and ruin. With paint, property is preserved, in almost its original form, and at almost its original value, for many years.

With a pencil and a piece of paper it will take but a moment to find out in dollars and cents whether it is the part of wisdom to buy a little paint, and keep property values up, or save the little that you would pay for paint, and lose almost the whole value of your property.

No matter how many times or in how many ways you figure it, you'll always get this answer:

The Cost of Painting Is Never as Great as the Cost of NOT Painting.

And when it comes to what paint, you need go no farther than remembering that, for 33 years, people in this region, and their painters, have found that McMurtry Mixed Paint is the most economical paint because of its longer life.

Why Pretty Teeth

Are shown everywhere today

Look about you. Note how many teeth now glisten. Note how people show them as they never did before.

Millions of people are brushing teeth in a new way. If you don't know the good results, make this free test.

Fight dingy film

One object is to fight the film on teeth—that viscous film you feel. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it, then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats film. So, under old methods, beautiful teeth were seen less often than today.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acids. It holds the acids in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

Very few people escaped such troubles under old ways of teeth-cleaning.

Then dental science found two film combatants. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring. Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then dentists everywhere began to advise their use. A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. In that tooth paste are embodied those two great film combatants.

Five effects

But Pepsodent brings five effects. These are very important. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to constantly neutralize the acids which cause decay. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids. Those are Nature's ever-present tooth-protecting agents. Every use of Pepsodent gives them manifold effect. Pepsodent also polishes the teeth so film adheres less readily.

You see them now nearly the world over. These glistening teeth are now seen nearly the world over. Careful people of some fifty nations are now using Pepsodent. And those whiter teeth mean safer teeth. They mean a new dental era.

Send the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. This test will be a revelation, amazing but delightful. Cut out the coupon so you won't forget.

Public Now Prefers Vegetable Laxatives

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin affords prompt relief in a natural way

THE public is constantly becoming more discriminating in its choice of things. Those subject to constipation try to learn what makes them constipated, and then avoid it. If constipation persists in spite of all their efforts they take the mildest, most easily tolerated laxative obtainable, and not a drastic physic that upsets them for days afterwards. As over 10 million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are sold a year, a large proportion of the people of this country must believe that this mild vegetable compound is the proper remedy for them, and so it is. No need to take salt waters and powders that dry up the blood; coal-tar drugs in candy form that produce skin eruptions, or calomel that salivates. These drugs are "heroic measures", over-effective, weakening and gripping.

The best constipation remedy is the one that moves the bowels without shock to your system, and such a one is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, and has been satisfactorily sold for 30 years. Unlike the harsher physics it does not produce a habit, and increased doses are not required; in fact, it so trains the stomach muscles that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with.

Many take a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin once a week as a health safeguard. Others use it only when required, as, for example, Mrs. J. W. Burroughs of Little Rock, Ark., who finds it equally valuable for herself and the children, and Mr. Enas S. Costa of Watsonville, Cal., whose family uses it regularly. Try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in constipation, biliousness, piles, headaches, sallow complexion, and to break up fevers and colds. A generous-size bottle can be had at any drug store, and it costs only about a cent a dose!

Expansion Depends Upon Earnings

THE telephone system must keep ahead of the needs of its community. That costs money. The expenditures for expansion, however, do not come from earnings, but from new money which is constantly being invested in the securities of the company.

A reasonable dividend must be paid on this investment exactly the same as reasonable wages must be paid to employees. If earnings are too low there will be no dividends and therefore no new investments and no extensions and no important betterments.

Remember that a company which is not prosperous cannot render good service nor extend its system to meet the demands of growing communities.

LOCAL ITEMS

Harry E. Russell, formerly of this city but for years residing at El Paso, is here on business. Russell has the planning contract for the new First National bank building.

Mrs. Iva M. Petty, who spent a month's vacation in southern California, has returned to the city.

Jacob Scofield, who was at the Jemez Springs, doing work at the Block store room recently damaged by fire, has returned to the city.

Simon Neustadt, general merchant of Los Lunas, came in yesterday morning and went to St. Joseph's sanatorium, where today he will undergo a minor operation.

David Weinman, senior member of The Economist dry goods firm, has returned from a purchasing trip to New York, accompanied by Mrs. Weinman and son.

Mrs. J. M. Deolittle left on Sunday night for Denver to visit her son, George Deolittle, who is in the military hospital there.

Miss Ethel Hickey will conduct a party composed of Miss Esther Strubelaker, of South Bend, Ind.; Mrs. W. O. Howland and son, Howard Roland, of Philadelphia, on a six-day tour to conclude with the San Geronimo fiesta at Taos. The party will leave here today.

Mrs. R. D. Haynes, 517 West Gold avenue, left last night for Indianapolis, Ind., in response to a message announcing the serious illness of her sister.

W. L. Elser, county agent leader, of Santa College, is in the city for a conference with the local agent.

J. A. Scott, of the district forest office and J. C. Nave, of the Manzano forest, have returned from a ten-day trip on range appraisal at the Chupadera mesa.

C. F. Ellis and Robert Luckenbill, of the biological survey, left yesterday for a general inspection tour of the state. They will be gone for two weeks.

William H. Springer, of Las Vegas, is in the city to attend the Rotary club district conference.

J. G. Hamilton, county agent of Estancia, and John Corbin, of Estancia, were in the city on business yesterday.

K. C. Karchner, supervisor of the Manzano national forest, has gone to Mountainair on road and trail business.

Mr. and Mrs. D. A. Green left last night for California, where they will remain for a while before returning to their home in Guaymas, Mexico. They have been visiting Mrs. Green's parents, Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Butt, of 501 West Tjerna avenue.

Col. Samuel B. Pearson and wife from Fort D. A. Russell, Wyo., accompanied by Maj. W. O. Blanchard and wife of the same post, are visiting Colonel Pearson's cousin, Mrs. George H. Wheeler at Artist's retreat. They are en route to California where they expect to reside, as both the colonel and the major have recently been retired from service.

Wilbur Rhea, who began his career with the Continental Oil company here as a messenger boy, but who has been with the Sinclair Refining company as assistant general manager at Denver for some time, has been assigned to the office of the western district at Kansas City. He will work in an executive capacity, and the move is regarded as a promotion. Mr. Rhea saw service during the war, and at its conclusion became a salesman for the Sinclair company, working up to his present position.
