ARTESIAN WELLS FLOW AGAIN

Inspection and Supervision Prove Fine For Pecos Valley

NEW BANK FOR TUCUMCARI

Shortage of Teachers Reported from Sierra and Valencia Counties.

According to a report received at the territorial department of education there is a shortage of teachers in Sierra and Valencia counties.

Three new corporations filed papers with Nathan Jaffa, secretary of the territory, Saturday. A real estate firm of Clayton, Union county, known as the Otto-Johnson Mercantile Company, asks authorization to do a general real estate business. The amount of stock was placed at $20,000, divided into 20 shares with a par value of $1,000 each. The incorporators with the amount of stock and their addresses are given below: Christian Otto, 11,000 shares, Clayton; M. C. Johnson, 8,000 shares, Clayton; John S. Otto, 1,000 shares, Clayton.

Tucumcari will have a new bank known as the First State Bank of Tucumcari. A general banking business is the purpose of the incorporation. It will have $30,000 capital stock, divided into 300 shares. The shareholders together with their addresses and the amount of stock held by each follow:

Hugh Swift, Las Cruces, president, 180 shares; T. R. Smith, Las Cruces, vice-president, 100 shares; M. B. Keaton, Tucumcari, cashier, 20 shares. To own and to operate placer mines is the object for which the Guaranteed Placer Mining Co. asks permission to do business and maintain an office at Placitas, Sandoval county. The stock of the concern is given as follows: P. M. Brill, Pataskala, 1,000 shares; C. E. Walrath, Columbus, 1,000 shares; O. M. Walrath, Golden N. M., 1,000 shares.

Artesian Well Inspection. T. A. Gillett, mineral inspector of the general land office, returned yesterday from Roswell where he has been on official business connected with the artesian and oil wells of that section. He reports that many of the artesian wells that had ceased to flow since 1907 had again begun to furnish water. Better organization of the new inspection system, prevention of waste and the wet season have caused a replenishing of many of the underground streams and reservoirs. He adds that owing to the careless use of sub-surface water many of the lower parts of the valleys are becoming saturated with minerals unfavorable to vegetation. The cure he thinks is a complete control of water rights and the laying out of the land into drainage districts.

The canvass. The canvassing board completed Otero county this forenoon. The only change was a gain of one vote for John Y. Hewitt for district judge. The completion of this county, determines that Edward L. Medler, Republican, has been elected district judge for Dona Ana, Torrance, Lincoln and Otero counties by 29 majority. The only possible change that the allowing of exceptions made to the count by the Democrats, would be a gain of three votes for Hewitt in Lincoln county, which still would leave Medler 23 majority on the final count.

The canvass for Quay county is to be finished by tonight. Rio Arriba follows in alphabetical order. The canvass of Luna county showed a net gain for the Democratic candidates of from 12 to 18, Parker losing 23, Roberts 24, and Wright 28 from the official count. And Burkhardt 1, Dunn 10 and Hanna 11. In Otero county, Roberts gained 1 and Hanna lost 39 from the unofficial figures. The canvass for Luna county completed as to the judgeships is as follows:

Parker 324
Roberts 293
Wright 294
Burkhardt 275
Dunn 594
Hanna 587

The count for Otero shows the following:

Parker 583
Roberts 594
Wright 657
Burkhardt 578
Dunn 586
Hanna 547

The work of the board is progressing as rapidly as can be expected, many of the mooted questions being settled by affidavits from election officers, comparison of poll books with ballot boxes or the forwarding of missing returns.

Recruits for the Penitentiary. Abran Molina and Emiliano Gallegos, two prisoners under sentence to the territorial penitentiary, in charge of Sheriff Jesus Romero of Albuquerque, arrived in Santa Fe this noon. Molina will spend from one to two years in the institution for the larceny of a check, and Gallegos from two to three years for stealing a mare.

ROOSEVELT FOR 1912 NOMINATION

The National Committeemen Sounded on Proposition to Stampede Convention

HITCHCOCK AND HILLES MEET

Ohio Scrap Similar to Fight in Bernalillo County Over Delegation.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—All attempts to disguise the fact that a concerted movement is on foot looking to the nomination of Colonel Theodore Roosevelt, as the Republican candidate for president in 1912, were apparently dropped today when it became known that members of the National Committee were being sounded as to their view of the feasibility of "forcing" the nomination on the former president.

Sharp Fight. Another sensation was the report that a sharp fight will come up in the committee over the proposed naming of the all-powerful sub-committee of five to make plans for the convention, to choose the chairman, etc., and that the fight would find the secretary to the president, Mr. Hilles, and Postmaster General Hitchcock arrayed against each other.

Hitchcock at White House. Mr. Hitchcock accompanied by Acting Chairman Hill and Secretary Hayward of the National Committee went to the White House this afternoon and had a lengthy conference with Secretary Hilles. It was said that Mr. Hill had already agreed with Mr. Hitchcock as to the personnel of a sub-committee, and that their list did not include Colonel New. It was said that three names in their slate were those of Mr. Hill himself, Victor Rosewater of Nebraska, and Cecil Lyon of Texas, the latter an intimate friend of Colonel Roosevelt.

Like the Bernalillo County Scrap. Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—Late comers among the members of the Republican National Committee, who arrived here today for the meeting tomorrow, found that the program of procedure had been practically agreed on and apparently the only possibility of friction would be a transposition of the factional differences in Ohio to the National Committee.

Leading Ohio Republicans continued in conference in an effort to bring about a semblance of harmony. The chief difference is over the method of selecting delegates to the Republican National Convention.

WESTERN GOVERNORS TAKE LOOK AT GOTHAM.

Formal Welcome Given Them by Mayor Gaynor, and They See Sights on Hudson.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New York, N. Y., Dec. 11.—New York City gave the western governors a popular welcome when they arrived from Philadelphia; but the formal reception was reserved until today. It will take place in the great Hall of City College uptown. Mayor Gaynor will make the welcoming address.

The program laid out for the governors with the party of ex-governors, one lieutenant governor, and western business men and ranchers and others who accompany them, provides for a visit to Grant's tomb, luncheon, a water trip on one of the municipal department steamers, and an exhibition of work by the fire boats. Tonight they will attend a dinner given by John A. Schleicher.

PEACE PARLEY AT HANKOW

Imperial Government Believes That Rebels Will Accept Limited Monarchy

LACK OF MEANS FORCES ISSUE

Tang Shao Yi Empowered to Compromise on Virtually Any Terms.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Shanghai, China, Dec. 11.—General Li Yuan Heng, the revolutionary commander, has telegraphed from Wu Chang to the representatives of the imperialist party that the Republicans had decided to select Hankow as the place of the meeting of the peace conference. Tang Shao Yi, the representative of Premier Yuan Shi Kai, left Peking yesterday to take part in the negotiations with the revolutionaries.

The imperial government professes confidence that a limited monarchy will be acceptable to the revolutionaries, but Tang Shao Yi is empowered to agree to a compromise on virtually any terms, owing to the difficulty of carrying on the administration with the present lack of means.

DARROW'S NAME IS DRAGGED IN

Sensation Created at Preliminary Hearing of Bert H. Franklin

WHO HANDLED BRIBE MONEY?

Venireman Tells of Attempt of Detective to Influence Him With $4,000.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 11.—The name of Clarence S. Darrow, chief of counsel for the McNamara brothers, was brought into the preliminary hearing of Bert H. Franklin, a defense investigator, charged with bribery, before Justice William P. Young today.

George N. Lockwood, the venireman whom Franklin is accused of bribing, testified that Franklin told him he would see Clarence S. Darrow and arrange how the money was to be paid.

The utterance created a sensation. Lockwood, in his story, declared he rejected Franklin's proposals, told district attorney John D. Fredericks of it, and the following Saturday after his name had been drawn from the jury wheel, allowed Franklin to re-open negotiations on the advice of the district attorney. The offer, Lockwood said, was $2,000. The final one of $4,000. When the matter finally was brought up, Lockwood said, Franklin brought in Darrow's name.

In a subsequent telephone conversation, Lockwood said, Franklin asked if he should "bring the big one out," and was told to do so.

"When he arrived," said Lockwood, "I asked him why he did not bring the 'big one' out."

"He said, 'did you think that was Darrow?' and I said 'yes.'"

"No," he said, "that's Cap White." Lockwood's testimony does not bring Clarence S. Darrow legally into the case," said District Attorney Fredericks at his office.

"It is hearsay and nothing more. We will proceed with prosecution only upon evidence which will stand in court of law."

"Will you say if you have such evidence," he was asked.

"We have not," and then corrected himself. "We have other evidence, but it is not sufficient," he said.

When apprised of the testimony in the Franklin hearing, Attorney Clarence S. Darrow said: "Whatever Franklin and Lockwood said, I know nothing at all about it. I had nothing to do with 'getting to' any jurors in any way. Through negotiations, the case had been practically decided for a week, and I certainly would not have spent money that way at such a time, even had I been so inclined."

NATIONAL COMMISSION AND THE EASTERN LEAGUE.

Three Days of Big Doings in Baseball Circles Opened Today in New York City.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New York, Dec. 11.—Three days of big doings in baseball opened today with meetings of the National Commission and the Eastern League.

The new ranking of the American Association and the Eastern and Pacific Coast Leagues in the AA class, came before the commission for ratification. This re-classification will necessitate several amendments in the existing agreements, many of them formal.

Indications this morning were that no radical action, if any action at all, would be taken by the commission in regard to the rather formless charges made against the management of the New York Giants in connection with the sale of tickets for the world's championship series.

While there has been much gossip, the investigators say that it would be difficult to collect evidence definite enough to support formal charges.

The two big leagues begin their deliberations here tomorrow.

HAD NO THOUGHT OF MARRIAGE

Lillian Graham Admits She Knew Stokes Had Been Divorced

HAD ENOUGH OF MATRIMONY

Had Failed to Make One Woman Happy and Did Not Intend to Try Again.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New York, N. Y., Dec. 11.—Lillian Graham, who with her chorus girl companion, Ethel Conrad, is on trial in the supreme court for shooting W. E. D. Stokes in the legs, last June, admitted she knew when she went to the Ansonia in December 1906, that Stokes had been divorced. She also admitted that she knew Stokes had no intention of marrying again, as he had written to her "that having failed to make one woman happy, he did not intend to try with another."

Miss Graham said, however, that their acquaintance at that time was only friendship, with no thought of marriage.

MOVING THAT WILL TAKE THREE WEEKS.

The New Mexican today began moving into its new home on Palace Ave. It is not ordinary moving, for it will take three days, and while it is in progress, the daily, weekly and monthly publications must be issued as usual, all job work will be turned out promptly, and the operations of a big plant continued without interruption. The newspaper press which will be moved into its new quarters, beginning tonight, will be taken apart by Pressman J. C. McConvery, and then rebuilt, a process which will take a week. It will be the first piece of big machinery to be moved. The business and editorial offices will be the last to go, probably some time in Christmas week. The linotypes will be moved a week after next.

Hope Abandoned of Finding Any Entombed Miners Alive

FALLING ACROSS DEAD BODIES

Black Damp Killed Those Who Had Escaped Flames at Briceville.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Briceville, Tenn., Dec. 11.—With ten bodies recovered and identified, rescue parties today renewed their efforts to force the Big Cross Mountain mine here to give up its dead. On having forced their way three miles into the mountain and beyond most of the Cross Entrances, members of the rescue crew expect to stumble on to corpse-strewn chambers at any hour.

Discovery of the first body this morning came at 10 o'clock when a dead miner was found in a sitting posture in one of the interior chambers. He was Andrew Johnson. Indications were that he had been a victim of black damp. It is believed now that any men who might have escaped the fury of the explosion were suffocated by the gases.

A local Red Cross camp began work for the relief of the suffering this forenoon.

It is estimated the explosion rendered fifty-six women widows and made 184 children orphans.

That there are a hundred or more dead men no doubt. All hope of rescuing any of the scores who went to their toll Saturday morning has been abandoned.

Weeping Wives by the Scores. The discovery late last night of eight more bodies prompted crowds to gather at the death cavern early this morning. Weeping wives waited by Saturday's disaster in the Knoxville Coal Company's mine came to the shaft entrance in scores this morning. In a warehouse but a short step from the mine entrance, are great numbers of coffins waiting for the occupants.

Died at Post of Duty. Of the eight corpses discovered last night, three were sitting bolt upright in a mine car, while the bodies of five others were lying on the ground. Their deaths came by an explosion of dust. Charles Kesterson, whose body was among the first discovered, was found at the telephone back in the mine, by the rescuing crew.

Evidently Kesterson had been trying to telephone news of the blast to the office of the mines when he was struck by falling debris. His skull was badly mashed and his body was cut.

CLEARING WEATHER IN ARGENTINE EFFECTS WHEAT.

Bread in Santa Fe, New Mexico, Cheaper, Because Sun is Smiling at Santa Fe, S. A.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Chicago, Ill., Dec. 11.—Clearing weather in the Argentine proved the dominant influence today in the market for wheat, giving prices a sharp downward slant. The opening was 1-8 to 1-2c lower. May started at 97c to 97-3-8c, the same change on Saturday night as the market taken altogether.

A fall to 96-5-8c followed. The close was firm with May 96-7-8c@97c, a loss of 1-2@5-8c.

Commission house buying brought about an appearance of strength in corn. May opened a shade down to a like amount up at 62-3-8@1-2 to 62-1-2@5-8c and then advanced to 62-3-4@7-8c. The close was firm 3-8c higher for May at 62-7-8c.

Oats took color entirely from the corn market. May started a sixteenth to 1-8@1-4c lower at 48-1-4 to 48-3-8c but later rose to 48-5-8c.

Weakness at the yards had a depressing effect on provisions. Initial sales were a shade to 7-1-2c off with May 15-80 for pork; 9-12-1-2 to 9-13 for ribs and 8-37-1-2 to 8-40 for ribs.

WORST CASE OF NEGLECT ON RECORD.

Fifty-Seven Children Die in Eight Weeks in British Steamer's Stowage.

Washington, D. C., Dec. 11.—Charged with the worst case of neglect of steerage passengers on record under the Passenger Act of 1882, the owners of the British steamer Otricle have been fined $7,900 by Acting Secretary Cable of the Department of Commerce and Labor.

Among her 1,242 passengers there were in the eight weeks of her voyage fifty-eight deaths, fifty-seven being children; the births numbered fourteen; the sexes were not properly segregated during the larger part of the time, the ventilation of the ship was inadequate and greatly increased the mortality rate; the hospital facilities were ill-ventilated and without proper equipment, while the sanitary conditions of the vessel were almost beyond belief. Acting Secretary Cable, after giving ample opportunity for the ship's agent to make a defense, directed today that the full penalties be imposed.

WORKED HARD HUNDRED YEARS

"Cherokee Bill," Declares He Will Retire to Enjoy Life

OLDEST MAN IN THE COUNTRY

He Made His Fortune in Mining Since He Passed the Century Mark.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Grand Junction, Colo., Dec. 11.—After working at the hardest kind of labor since he was 14 years old, "Cherokee Bill" an Indian-Negro, said to be 111 years old, and declared by the United States Census to be the oldest man in America, has announced that he will retire.

"One hundred years of work is enough for any man," said Bill today. I wanted to retire $100,000 to my credit, an average of $1,000 for every year of my life, but I cannot make it." He is reputed to have 300 pounds of gold cached away in hiding places about the little shack which he calls home. His gold, according to estimate, is worth between $75,000 and $80,000. His fortune has been made within the last fifteen years from gold mining in Leadville, Cripple Creek, and along the Grand river.

The only name by which he has even been known in this part of the country is Cherokee Bill.

STOCKS ADVANCE ONE TO THREE POINTS.

Wall Street Has Good News From Various Quarters and Bulls Succeeded in Bidding Up.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New York, Dec. 11.—Stocks made only an indifferent response this morning to several favorable market influences. Bull traders attempted to bid up prices on the favorable showing of the banks for last week and the November report of United States Steel. The rise was held in check, however, by the readiness of traders to realize. The higher range of prices in London and the fall in cotton to new low levels strengthened the list, as did the action of the commerce court in making permanent the injunction against reduction of intermountain freight rates.

Western railroad stocks were bid up sharply, in the second hour and their rise imparted a stronger tone to the speculation.

Union Pacific rose 1-3-8 and Northern Pacific 1. Several other railroads and specialties gained as much.

Trading contracted considerably when prices reached the higher level. Bonds were irregular. Heavy buying of United States Steel greeted the announcement that a subsidiary had raised the price of steel and wire products a dollar a ton. The whole market became animated and strong with striking advances in the Grangers and Pacifics.

America Tobacco bonds also went up at a lively rate on increased dealings. Among the principal advances, were Union Pacific 3 points; St. Paul 2-1-4; Reading and United States Steel 2; Southern Pacific 1-3-4; Amalgamated Copper 1-2 and American Smelting 1-3-8.

Quite a budget of bullish news came to hand in the afternoon. Higher prices for copper, refusal of the supreme court to interfere with the American Tobacco re-organization plan and the tenor of the report of the Hadley commission were influential factors in the advance. Virtually every stock of importance was up from 1 to 3 points. The close was strong.

ONE OF HYDE JURORS ESCAPES

Second Trial of Doctor May Have to Start Over Again

TORE AWAY DOOR TRANSOM

A Force of Deputies Has Started in Pursuit of the Fleeing Man.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 11.—Unding the work of weeks of court procedure and bringing to a standstill the second trial of Dr. B. Clarke Hyde, charged with the murder of Colonel Thomas H. Swope, Harry Waldron, a juror in the case, broke out of his room in a hotel here early today, eluded two deputy marshals set to guard the jurors, and escaped.

The first hint of the juror's escape came when T. Halloway and Frank Jasper, deputy marshals, found the transom torn away from the door of the room Waldron had occupied. The deputies carried the keys to all the rooms occupied by the jury. Waldron was nowhere to be seen. A force of deputies was sent immediately in pursuit.

HENING IS GRATIFIED

Good Work of Bureau of Immigration Is Bringing Results.

NEW MEXICO IN PUBLIC EYE

The Newspapers and Magazines Discuss Its Industrial Possibilities.

H. B. Henning, secretary of the Bureau of Immigration, who is in the city this afternoon, has reason to be pleased with the increased interest in New Mexico industrial opportunities that is manifest on every side. Hundreds of inquiries are being received by the Bureau. Columns upon columns of advertising are given the commonwealth. One syndicate which includes sixty newspapers, will publish five stories, each of two columns length, three of which will be devoted to the industrial aspect of the territory, one to its political outlook and one to its history. The World's Work, Leslie's, Collier's and nine other newspapers and magazines have asked Mr. Henning for photographs around which members of their editorial staff will write stories of New Mexico's development.

Demonstration Train.

The secretary is also very much pleased with the Santa Fe railway sending out a special demonstration train for New Mexico, which will carry specialists and experts in various lines of husbandry, as well as blooded stock and full equipment of an experiment station. Fifteen days will be spent in the territory and stops made at various points. At this time of the year, the farmers will find time to attend the lectures and demonstrations to be given. No farmer should miss the train for there is not a question that may be troubling him but that there will be a specialist on the train to advise with him and help solve the difficulty.

Mr. Henning has just had a letter from Colonel W. S. Hopewell, saying that New Mexico had twenty-six delegates at the Irrigation Congress at Chicago last week. Mr. Henning had supplied the delegation with several thousand copies of Territorial Engineer Charles D. Miller's excellent bulletin on the irrigation resources of New Mexico, and had also sent badges, buttons and emblems which were distributed.

HER SICKLY CHILD

Is Now Strong and Healthy—Vino! Built Her Up.

Every mother wants her little boy or girl to have a fair chance in the world. Make your children strong and healthy and they will grow up able to make their own way.

For ailing children there is nothing so good as Vinol, our delicious tonic for it gives them a fine appetite, makes their blood rich and puts roses in their cheeks again.

"I have been giving Vinol to my little daughter," says Mrs. E. Elscasser of Hackensack, N. J. "She was very delicate and I was worried about her. Vinol has built her up fine. She is strong and healthy now, with a good healthy color in her face which she never had before. It only took one bottle of Vinol to do this for her. She likes the taste of Vinol too."

We could tell you of many others right in this town—but give Vinol to your puny child and see how fast it improves. We give back your money if Vinol does not do all we claim. The Capital Pharmacy, Santa Fe, N. M.

LEGEND OF THE CHRISTMAS WREATHS.

(Minnia Irving in Leslie's.)
In sword and sash the scarlet coat.
Upon a Christmas Day
Through frosty woods and hoary fields
A soldier rode away.

She watched him through the falling snow,
A young and lovely maid,
In milky pearls and flowing robes
Of velvet green arrayed.

With rumors of the distant wars
The months went slowly by,
Till once again the Christmas bells
Were pealing to the sky;
And, walking in the lonely wood,
A bush the maiden found.
With thorns as sharp as little swords,
And scarlet berries crowned.

She leaned against an ancient oak
And wove a wreath to wear
Of scarlet berries, bright and gay,
And set it on her hair.
And lo! the pearls upon her breasts
Were changed to berries, too;
And rooted to the oak, a branch
Of mistletoe she grew.

When sweet and clear the Christmas bells
Ring out o'er vale and hill,
The maiden-mistletoe is seen,
In pearls and velvet still;
And with her in the revels ruled
By music, mirth and folly,
In sword and scarlet still arrayed,
Behold the soldier-holly!

Seven Drunks Arrested at Albuquerque.

Says the Albuquerque Journal: "There was more doing in police circles last night than there has been for more than a month, and in consequence seven arrests were made during the night. A man giving his name as Richard Roe, became fighting drunk last night around the Savoy hotel, and proceeded to beat up the hotel runner. Officer Salazar was called and received a stiff punch in the jaw for his pains. An alarm for help was turned in, Officers Jordan and Galusha responding. They escorted the would-be pugilist to the city jail where he was docketed on a charge of being drunk and resisting an officer. Ramon Garcia became incensed at the glass decorations at the Arcade saloon on First street and thought he would break them up. He was taken in before he did much damage. "Pete" Conahan listened to the Salvation Army captain beating his drum on the corner of Central and Second, and thought he could assist in the meeting. He was scooped by the official drag net soon thereafter. F. Lopez took aboard too great a load of fire water and started to tear up Third street preparatory to laying street car tracks there. Officer Salazar took him into safe keeping. Three other arrests made were of "sleepers," men who have no where to get a bed."

CASCARETS CLEANSE LIVER AND BOWELS

No Biliousness, Headache, Sick, Sour Stomach, Indigestion, Coated Tongue or Constipation.

Furred Tongue, Bad Taste, Indigestion, Sallow Skin and Miserable Headaches come from a torpid liver and clogged bowels, which cause your stomach to become filled with undigested food, which sours and ferments like garbage in a swill barrel. That's the first step to untold misery—indigestion, foul gases, bad breath, yellow skin, mental fears, everything that is horrible and nauseating. A Cascaret tonight will give you a thorough cleaning inside and straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your drugist will keep you feeling good for months. Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then to keep their stomach, liver and bowels regulated, and never know a miserable moment. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleaning, too.

PUBLICITY IS BEST REMEDY

Federal Control of Issues of Federal Securities Is Impracticable

REPORTS HADLEY COMMISSION

And Democrats Raise Opposition on the Ground of States Rights.

The Railroad Securities Commission, headed by President Arthur T. Hadley, of Yale, has reported that it would be practically impossible at this time to place issues of railroad securities under federal control. The commission recommends that enforcement of publicity for all railroad financing is the most effective weapon against stock watering which the government has at its command.

"A distinguished group of investigators was named by President Taft to cooperate with Professor Hadley. They were Frederick N. Judson, of St. Louis; Frederick Strauss of New York; Walter L. Fisher, Secretary of the Interior, and Balthasar Meyer, a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission.

The commission was created in 1910, when the Senate refused to accept a house amendment to the pending railroad bill, providing that all future issues of stocks, railroad securities be placed under the control of the Interstate Commerce Commission. Many of the Senate Democrats opposed it as an invasion of states' rights. President Taft at the time, told republic leaders, the party was committed to such a measure, but when it appeared impossible to pass it, the president agreed to have the clause eliminated, with the understanding that a commission to study the subject would be allowed. This was done and the commission began work in the autumn of 1910. Public hearings were held and Chairmen studied the problem abroad.

The commission's report is distinctly adverse to the legislation proposed in the railroad bill.

President Taft in transmitting the report to Congress today, declared that he heartily concurred in the recommendations.

The commission's principal conclusions are:

That any attempt by Congress to adopt the policy of federal regulation to the exclusion of state regulation, would be premature.

That for the present, state authorities should make a concerted effort to harmonize existing requirements.

That Congress should prepare for the future by giving consideration to a federal incorporation act which would permit interstate railroads to exchange their state charters for national ones.

The Commission takes the ground that constitutional questions involving the scope and extent of federal authority are unsettled and will remain so for some time; and that while such a condition exists, to superimpose federal regulation upon state regulation would add to the conflicts and complexities, which in the public interest, should rather be diminished than increased.

"Unless the constitutional power of Congress to regulate securities of interstate railroads is definitely established as being exclusive of state control; either the federal government and the states will come to a general understanding as to the principles to be adopted in the control of security issues, or the railroad systems will be given the opportunity to exchange their state charters for federal ones," says the report.

"Until such exclusive jurisdiction can be established the creation of a separate administrative body subjecting the railroads to a new system of concurrent supervision, in addition to the many old ones which now exist, does not seem just, expedient or economical."

For the present the Commission recommends that complete publicity be required to surround all issues of securities and that any interstate railroad issuing stocks and bonds be required to furnish to the Interstate Commerce Commission a full statement of the details of the issue, the purposes for which the proceeds are to be used, and an accounting for the expenditures of such proceeds.

"Accurate knowledge of the facts surrounding the issue of securities, and the expenditure of the proceeds is the matter of most importance."

MEMBERS OF THE FIRST STATE LEGISLATURE

W. E. ROGERS.
Member of the House from Chaves County.

Age 52 years.
Born near Sharon, Tennessee.
Educated at Hickory Grove Academy.
Taught school in Texas.
Graduated with B. S. degree from Wesleyan University at Athens, Tennessee.
Principal of Era Academy.
Admitted to Bar in Texas in 1889.
Practiced Law at Gainesville.
County Attorney of Cooke county for two years.
Practiced law at McAllister, Indian Territory.
Ill health compelled his removal to Roswell in 1904.
In real estate and orchard business.
Admitted to Bar in New Mexico.
Married.

A native of Tennessee, a life-long Democrat, and a resident of New Mexico for seven years, W. E. Rogers elected to the legislative House from Chaves county, brings to his new duties, the ripe experience of an attorney who has been engaged in the practice of law for 22 years. Like many other statesmen, he began life teaching school, read law and then made his political mark.

Mr. Rogers is 52 years of age although he would guess this from the above picture. He was born on a farm near Sharon, Tennessee, received an academic education at Hickory Grove Academy and in 1882 moved west to Texas, teaching school for two years in order to secure the funds for a course at East Tennessee Wesleyan University, from which he graduated in the class of 1887, with the degree of B. S. He returned to Texas and became principal of Era Academy for two years, reading law in his spare moments.

He was admitted to the bar in 1889 and hung out his shingle at Gainesville, Texas. He was elected county and district attorney of Cooke county in 1892 and was re-elected in 1894, resigning to move to Indian Territory where he practiced law at McAllister. In 1904, his physicians advised him to go to New Mexico, there to let the climate cure him of throat trouble. Mr. Rogers took the advice and located at Roswell where he engaged in stock raising, fruit and alfalfa growing and the real estate business.

Mr. Rogers was married to Miss Lola Wells in 1891, in Cooke county. He is a member of the New Mexico Bar and will resume the practice of law upon his return to Roswell from the legislative session.

already in existence.

In cases where it is found that the issued securities exceed the physical valuation, the Commission is not in favor of forbidding further issue until the deficiency is made up, because the principle if generally applied might prevent railroads from securing capital necessary for the service of a community.

By empowering the Interstate Commerce Commission to enforce publicity and to make physical valuations, the Commission believes there will be no necessity for a law to require approval in advance for issues of securities. Advance authorization, the Commission holds, would tend to create on the part of the investing public, an impression of a guaranty or official recognition of values which no administrative authority could safely give. The Commissioners do not believe that the cost of reproducing railroad properties, however, carefully computed, is the sole element to be considered in determining the present value of a railroad, or that the outstanding securities should be made to conform to any arbitrary standard.

The Commission believes that the amount and face value of outstanding securities has only an indirect effect upon the actual making of rates and that it should have little if any weight in their regulation.

The Commission does not approve of any unqualified proposition to pro-

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

SHALL THEY SUCCEED?

Recently at Albuquerque an interesting conference was held by half a dozen men who have their mind set upon bringing about a complete disintegration of the Republican party. The men who took part are prominent in New Mexico, they are resourceful, they are bitter and vindictive. They were the men who brought about the defeat of the Republican candidate for governor. Upon taking stock at this conference they convinced themselves that they had won merely a Pyrrhus victory, that to accomplish their desire they must destroy in its entirety the Republican organization and eliminate all of its leaders.

"Having succeeded in defeating the Republican candidate for governor, it should be easy to secure eight of the Republican legislators to do our purpose," they figured, and the following day, the Albuquerque Morning Journal made its first furious onslaught upon Delegate W. H. Andrews and national Committeeman Solomon Luna. "If we can eliminate these two," they rightly argued, "it will be easy to defeat A. B. Fall, W. J. Mills, Charles Springer, C. A. Spiess, W. D. Murray, T. B. Catron, T. D. Burns, or anyone else of Senatorial stature and resolve take possession of party organization. That is the inwardness of the surprising attack of the Albuquerque Journal the last few days, for the Journal does not merely bid the bidding of these men."

W. H. Gillenwater, at first a mere puppet in this combination, has become the motive power. His apparent success in Barnallito and Sandoval counties has fired his ambition to be United States Senator. He has been other senatorial aspirants to the top of the mountain of desire and shown them the promised land. He has declared, "and the thing is true. I have twenty-three Democratic and seven Progressive votes and therefore can give you thirty votes of the eight Republican votes," was his siren song, and on the surface it looked like a good bargain like sound thematics, but W. H. Gillenwater is no Republican who would play Lascaiot toward the party.

Hence this sudden fury and this conference. Gillenwater has discovered that there are three insuperable obstacles to delivering the two United States Senatorships to the aggressive and the Democrats. These are the loyalty and incorruptness of the Republican legislators, National Committeeman Solomon Luna and Delegate W. H. Andrews. Hence this Palatamian onslaught by the Journal on Luna, who is not a candidate for the Senate, and Andrews who is. The Journal has not named who its candidates for United States Senator are, but it is easy to fathom that W. H. Gillenwater is first choice, and Herbert J. German, second with the possibility of trading off the latter for a Democrat, or if necessity compels, for a stalwart Republican who would be.

Naturally, there will be Democratic legislators who will refuse to be catered to by Mr. Gillenwater's ambitions; there may be even progressive Republicans who will enter the Republican caucus. Mr. Gillenwater: has been fighting the proposition of a Republican caucus, for in his overbearing ambition, he imagines he can engineer both Republicans and Democrats. He knows that a caucus means a united, solid Republican party and the election of two stalwarts to the United States Senate. The coherence of action will increase the chances for the minority to profit by dissensions among the Republicans. It is a shrewd game to set the Republican aspirants for the Senatorship against each other and then run off with a Senatorship.

However, there is failure, in store for Mr. Gillenwater's nicolaic plans; when he imagines that there are eight corruptible, purchasable Republicans in the legislature; when he attempts to dominate Democrats, Progressive Republicans and Republicans alike, he will find that victory is not as easy and as cheap as he found it in Barnallito and Sandoval counties on November 7.

THE POSTMASTER GENERAL'S REPORT.

For the first time in twenty-eight years, the Postoffice Department shows a surplus instead of a deficit. Postmaster General Hitchcock has made good his promise to place the department on a business basis and although at the beginning of the Hitchcock administration in 1909, the postal service was in arrears $17,479,770, it was ahead $219,118 on June 30 of this year.

The wiping out of the deficit has been accomplished without curtailment of postal facilities. On the contrary, important extensions have been made in every branch of the service. Since the opening of the present administration there have been established 3,744 new postoffices, delivery by carrier has been provided in 186 additional cities, and 2,516 new rural routes, aggregating 60,679 miles, have been authorized. Meanwhile the force of postal employees has been increased by more than 8,000. In compensating such employees the department follows a liberal policy. Last year the total amount expended for salaries was approximately $14,000,000 greater than two years ago. The average annual salary has been increased from $569 to $967 for rural carriers, from $979 to $1,082 for post office clerks, from $1,021 to $1,084 for city letter carriers and from $1,168 to $1,183 for railway postal clerks. Thus a marked extension of the postal service and higher compensation for its employees have gone hand in hand with a vanishing deficit.

An important event of the year was the successful organization of the postal savings system. On January 3, 1911, depositories were opened experimentally at a single postoffice in each one of the 48 states and territories. After a careful test for four months at these offices the system was rapidly extended and now comprises practically all of the 7,500 presidential postoffices. Preparations are being made to establish the system also in about 40,000 fourth-class offices that do a money order business.

In the depository or depositories only such postoffices are selected as have a record for efficient management. This plan has materially aided the department in its efforts to improve conditions in the postal service. Under the method devised for the conduct of the postal savings system certificates are issued as evidence of deposits and all accounts with depositors are kept by the postoffices instead of by the department. Compared with the universal practice in other countries of entering deposits in pass books and keeping at the central office a ledger account with each depositor, the use of the certificate of deposit in the manner adopted has proved to be a source of great economy.

Postal savings deposits have kept pace with the extension of the system. Amounting at the end of the first month to only $60,352 in the 48 experimental offices, they increased in a half year to $679,310, and now after 11 months of operation, have reached a total of $11,000,000. This sum has been distributed among 2,710 national and state banks where it is protected by bonds deposited with the treasurer of the United States.

Assuming that the postal savings system will be extended to additional offices in accordance with present plans, and that with this extension the deposits will continue to increase at the same rate as now, it is confidently predicted that from forty to fifty million dollars will have been taken in by the close of the current fiscal year. At that time the income of the system should be sufficient to pay all operating expenses, including those incurred at the central administrative office.

Now that the successful operation of the postal savings system is assured, it is hoped that Congress will promptly authorize the establishment of a parcel post. The benefits of this service are widely enjoyed by the people of foreign countries and should be provided in the United States. The department not only renews its recommendation of last year for legislative authority to start a parcel post on rural routes, but asks a similar authorization for the introduction of such a service in cities and towns having delivery by carrier. After the organization of a parcel post on rural routes and in the city delivery service is completed, its extension to include railway and other transportation lines can be more readily accomplished without impeding the handling of the ordinary mail. In establishing a parcel post service great care should be taken not to cause a congestion of the mails and thus embarrass the present operations of the postoffices. An attempt to absorb immediately under one sweeping order the entire parcel business of the country would be a dangerous experiment for our postal service. That the difficulties of such a plan may be avoided the department favors a more gradual introduction of a parcel post in the manner proposed. To bring the issue clearly before Congress, three items of 50,000 each have been inserted in the estimates of the postal service, two of these items to cover the initial expense of introducing a parcel post on rural routes and in the city delivery service, respectively, and the third item to meet the cost of an investigation looking to the final extension of the service to the railways and other transportation lines. If Congress will grant without delay the desired authority and provide the necessary appropriations it is believed that before the end of another year a satisfactory parcel post can be organized on rural routes and in cities with a carrier service, thus paving the way for the final step in the organization of a general parcel post.

THE LIGHT OF PUBLICITY.

The Railroad Securities Commission headed by President Arthur T. Hadley of Yale, reported today that it would be impractical for the present to place the issuing of railroad securities under federal control through the Interstate Commerce Commission. In lieu of such control the commission recommends publicity as the proper remedy for such abuses as exist or may be contemplated in the future. This is a simple remedy, but one that would reach many of the civic and public evils of which the people complain. Let there be legal publicity of all actions of public boards, city councils, school boards, party caucuses, conventions, legislatures as well as of corporate meetings and actions, and there will be much less fault finding, criticism and fewer charges, which are at the bottom of much of present day unrest. The public has a right to know and the law should provide for a complete publication in newspapers of every action of public and corporate bodies, just as the New Mexico law now provides for the publication of the minutes of city councils and boards of county commissioners and the publication of incorporations and legal processes.

Secretary of Agriculture Wilson may be startled by the fact that the farmer receives only fifty cents for products for which the consumer pays $1.00, but he is wrong when he imagines that the fifty cents difference are the middleman's profit. A Santa Fe merchant, for instance, may pay twenty-five cents for a dozen heads of lettuce to the farmer. Before that dozen heads of lettuce is sold for fifty cents to the ultimate consumer, the merchant has to pay taxes, rent, clerks, has to make up bad debts and possibly loses one-half of the lettuce in transportation or while in the store waiting for the ultimate consumer to buy it. There may be therefore, even loss to the middleman in selling for fifty cents a dozen heads of lettuce for which he paid the farmer twenty-five cents. The greatest item of loss, to most merchants, is that of bad debts, the non-payment of bills by people whose credit ordinarily is good, but who live beyond their means and eventually compel the merchant, and through him, honest consumers, to pay for their luxuries.

The probability of the official canvassing board completing its work by Saturday evening of this week, is very remote, and it is likely that it will be December 22 or 23, before the returns will be ready to be sent to the National Capital. Many there were who scoffed when several weeks ago the New Mexican asserted that it would be impossible to do this work in less than three weeks and there were some who asserted that it must be done in one day. However, there need be no delay in the admission of New Mexico beyond New Year, for immediately upon the returns being received officially in Washington, the President can issue his proclamation. This proclamation no doubt, is being formulated at this time for the President by the attorney general, as is customary and with Delegate Andrews and National Committeeman Solomon Luna on the ground, it is certain that there will be no hitch in the program, and that by New Year this commonwealth will be one of the family of sovereign states.

The closing down of another smelter and reduction works at Colorado City on account of the dwindling of production of ore in the Cripple Creek district, emphasizes that it is not well for any town or any district to depend for prosperity or even existence on any one industry, especially if that industry is mining and smelting. Cripple Creek, for a time the richest gold camp in the world, has in ten years lost half of its population and the day is approaching when it will be no more than are Bland, Chloride, San Pedro and a hundred other famous old mining towns in New Mexico today.

hibit ownership of stock of one road by another. To do so, the report says would involve too much disturbance of existing relations whatever may be the evils attendant upon such holdings. It is recommended, however, that wherever a group of men or company has bought a majority of stock in a road they may be properly required to buy the minority at the same price.

The first aid to stomach troubles, is Cel-so. It does not contain any poison and gives immediate relief from stomach troubles, which are the principal cause of headache. POLITICS AND POLITICIANS

Andrews' Antagonists Are Peevish Some temper is displayed by several antagonists of W. H. Andrews, and while he has carefully refrained from attacking any of the others striving for the honor, several of the latter have not been so fair and have attacked him in one or two newspapers. However, Andrews is unconcerned, for his election as one of the senators is assured and the selection of the other man, he knows, will result in the choosing of a conservative strong man, who will work in harmony with him. Thus far, Governor Mills is making the most aggressive fight for the second Senatorship, although Thomas B. Catron, also is quietly but nevertheless energetically and systematically interesting legislators. Our delegate to Congress has a great interest in the coming session of the legislature, for he expects to be elected senator, but he thinks that gives him no excuse for not attending to his job as delegate. He left last week for Washington, and is paying strict attention to business. He probably will be home for the holidays.—Western Liberal.

MCNABB CASE IS REVERSED

Traveling Salesman, Who Had Been Convicted for Murder, Escapes the Noose.

The decision of the Territorial Supreme Court, in session last week, reversing the judgment of the lower court in the case of the New Mexican, was as follows:

Case No. 1333. The defendant, Otto Retsch, Intervenor, appellee, vs. Alois B. Renahan, et al., appellants. Appeal from the district court of Santa Fe county. The decision of the lower court is affirmed. The opinion is by Judge McChesney and is concurred in by Judges Parker, Abbott, Wright and Roberts. Judge McChesney, having tried the case below, did not participate in this decision.

The plaintiff, Tina Haffner Retsch, well known in Santa Fe, is a widow and sole heir of Louis Haffner. She filed her complaint in this action January 20, 1901, against the defendant, Alois B. Renahan and M. R. Fogarty, to set aside certain deeds to real estate and to remove the same as clouds from her title thereto. Judgment for plaintiff; defendants appeal.

The syllabus says: 1. The statute does not authorize a sheriff to charge or collect fees for the custody of real estate under levy of an execution.

2. Where at a sale under execution a sheriff causes to be made out of a judgment debtor's property illegal and improper charges, the sale is fraudulent and voidable.

3. Where real estate is bid at an execution sale by the attorney of the judgment creditor for himself and not for his client, he is charged with notice of the fraudulent acts of the sheriff in the conduct of the sale.

4. One is not a purchaser for a valuable consideration where the consideration is antecedent debts without a surrender or cancellation of any written security by the creditor.

5. There being no evidence that the position of the parties had so changed that equitable relief could not have been afforded without doing injustice, the defense of laches is not available.

(Following Penn. Mutual Life Insurance Co. v. Austin, 168 U. S. 655.)

6. The plaintiff having been in possession of the land laches will not be imputed to her.

Territory v. Walker.

Case No. 1400. The Territory of New Mexico, appellee, vs. Jim Walker, appellant. Appeal from the district court of Chaves county. The judgment of the lower court is affirmed. The opinion is by Judge Abbott and is concurred in by all the judges, except Chief Justice Pope who did not participate as he tried the case. The defendant was tried and convicted in the district court of Chaves county on the first count of an indictment under Section 79, C. L. 1897, which charged that on October 8, 1910 in Chaves county, N. M., he "did take, steal, kill, etc., one neat cattle of the property of El Capitano Live Stock Company, (A Corporation)." The assignment of error discussed in the brief for the appellant relates in part to matters of practice and in part to the alleged insufficiency of the evidence of the territory to sustain the verdict rendered.

The syllabus says:

Under the circumstances disclosed by the record in the case it was clearly within the discretion of the trial court to refuse to grant a continuance to the defendant.

In an indictment of larceny it is not necessary to allege that the owner of the property, the larceny of which is charged, is a corporation and if that allegation is made and it is thereby made necessary to prove the existence of the corporation, evidence of its de facto existence is sufficient.

The giving of an instruction which, although a current statement of law, may be outside of the evidence in the case is not a good ground for a new trial or reversal, or for other relief covered by the instruction there was evidence to warrant a conviction.

Donnelly v. Van Riper.

Case No. 1399. Harry M. Donnelly, et al., appellants, vs. Fanny V. Van Riper, appellee. Appeal from the district court of Bernalillo county. The judgment of the lower court is affirmed. The opinion is by Judge Wright and is concurred in by all the judges, except Chief Justice Pope who did not participate as he tried the case. The defendant was tried and convicted in the district court of Bernalillo county on the first count of an indictment under Section 79, C. L. 1897, which charged that on October 8, 1910 in Bernalillo county, N. M., he "did take, steal, kill, etc., one neat cattle of the property of El Capitano Live Stock Company, (A Corporation)." The assignment of error discussed in the brief for the appellant relates in part to matters of practice and in part to the alleged insufficiency of the evidence of the territory to sustain the verdict rendered.

The syllabus says:

judgment of the lower court is affirmed with costs. The opinion is by Judge McChesney.

This is an attachment suit brought by the plaintiff against the defendant, Fanny V. Van Riper, to recover the sum of $5,000 alleged to be due the plaintiff at and prior to the 21st day of October, 1909, for services rendered James D. Darden in litigation theretofore pending between Darden and the defendant Fanny V. Van Riper. It appears that in this prior litigation between Darden and the defendant, the plaintiffs were attorneys for Darden and that the sum sued for in this case was due the attorneys from Darden. It appears from the record that this former litigation was between James G. Darden and the defendant, who at that time was the wife of Darden, and the controversy involved a divorce and the adjustment of property rights in a very considerable amount of property.

While this litigation was pending negotiations were entered into for the settlement of the controversy between the parties and on October 21, 1909, a settlement was agreed upon and effected whereby Darden agreed to convey certain real estate and personal property to the defendant and the defendant, in consideration thereof, agreed to assume and pay Darden's attorney's fees to the plaintiffs in this case, amounting to the sum of $5,000. It is admitted that Darden conveyed the property to the defendant and the plaintiffs allege that the defendant received and has the benefit of this property since its conveyance to her, but that she has failed and refused to pay them the $5,000 which she assumed and agreed to pay them.

Jury being waived, trial was had by the court and judgment was rendered for the plaintiffs in the sum of $5,300 and interest; to reverse which judgment the defendant has appealed to this court.

There is no syllabus.

In his opinion, Judge McChesney says: "There is but one issue in this case, as disclosed by the record and briefs of counsel, and that is, whether or not there was a complete and unconditional novation created by the settlement of the former litigation between the parties. The court below found that a complete novation had been established by the evidence and thereafter rendered judgment for the full amount due the plaintiffs. Under the civil law there were at least three different kinds of novation and under the common law there can be no doubt of the existence of the kind of novation alleged in this case. 'Novation means simply the substitution of one debtor by mutual agreement for another.'" (Kelso v. Fleming, 104 Ind. 180.)

After discussing the issuance of a draft and the conflicting testimony about certain alleged conditions, Mrs. Van Riper was said to have made, the judge concludes as follows:

"It seems, therefore, that a very essential of contractual novation is found in the present contract as was found by the court below. Based upon the supposition of defendant's counsel that the contract was additional so as to defeat complete novation, counsel argue that recovery in this case is barred by the statute of frauds, but the law is that a contract of novation is NOT obnoxious to the statute of frauds or governed by it. In the case of Hamilton vs. Drummond, 91 Me. 175, it is held that the statute of frauds does not apply in case of a complete novation. A number of other citations might be made to this effect, but it is deemed unnecessary in this case."

Territory v. McNabb.

Case No. 1405. Territory of New Mexico, appellee, vs. Edward McNabb, appellant. Appeal from district court of Guadalupe county. The judgment is reversed and the cause remanded. The opinion is by Judge Abbott and is concurred in by all the judges except Judge Wright, who tried the case below, and Judge McChesney, who did not participate either.

This is the famous "McNabb Murder Case." Edward McNabb was tried for the murder of Herbert Hargis at a special term of the district court of Guadalupe county. He was charged with shooting him with a gun on October 3, 1910. He was found guilty of murder in the first degree. A motion for a new trial was made and overruled. Judgment was rendered on the verdict, and the defendant sentenced to death by hanging; all at said term of court. From that judgment the defendant appealed to this court.

In the opening statement to the jury, the defendant, at the trial, his counsel admitted that he killed Hargis and that the defense would be that the defendant had been insane at the time he committed the crime. Hargis was a traveling salesman in his, the defendant's wife, in his absence, as a traveling salesman, which had become the subject of gossip in the town where they lived, that he remonstrated with her on the subject, sent word to Hargis to leave the town, which he failed to do, finally became "mentally unbalanced" over the matter and, at last, "in an instant of emotional insanity superinduced by the provocation offered by the deceased, he shot him."

The burden of proving beyond a reasonable doubt the guilt of one on trial for crime, including the degree of sanity legally essential to the commission of the crime charged, is on the prosecution throughout the trial, but the presumption of sanity stands as a fact established for the prosecution unless there is sufficient evidence of insanity on one side or the other to create reasonable doubt of sanity.

"The power of a trial court over the order of introduction of evidence is not absolute and does not include the right to reject admissible evidence when offered on the ground that the defendant on trial had not himself testified and laid a foundation for the testimony rejected, it appearing that the same foundation would be laid by the witness when offered."

"While the word 'irrationality' is sometimes used as a synonym for insanity, the admission of evidence of the irrationality of the defendant did not cure the rejection of evidence offered of his 'insanity' under the circumstances stated in the opinion."

"The opinion of a non-expert witness, who has had wide opportunity for observation, is admissible, on the question of the insanity of a defendant on trial for murder, although the witness may be unable to give in detail all the circumstances and appearances which led her to think there had been a change from sanity to insanity. The duty of the trial court to pass beforehand on the qualification of such a witness to testify is to be exercised with due regard to the rights of the defendant, and its decision may be reversed when it is clear that through it the defendant was deprived of what was essential to a fair trial."

Current v. Bank.

Case No. 1411. L. Current et al., appellants vs. The Citizens Bank of Aztec, et al., appellees. Appeal from the district court of San Juan county. Appeal from district court first judicial district. The decision of the lower court is affirmed. The opinion is by Judge Roberts and is concurred in by Judges Parker, Abbott, McChesney and Wright; Chief Justice Pope "concurring in the result." Judge McChesney having tried the case, did not participate.

The statement of facts is a lengthy one. Summed up it is as follows: On January 21, 1905 the appellants purchased from the Hartman Stock Farm an imported Percheron stallion, paying $100 cash and executing their promissory notes on the sum of $766.66, payable respectively one, two, and three years after date. About two weeks prior to the consummation of the purchase, the stallion was taken to Aztec by an agent of the appellee company and was exhibited to the appellants. When the horse arrived at Aztec he had a cut or sore just above the hock on one of his legs. The agent of the stock company informed appellants the cut was made by a "navel slip shoe" a few days before the horse was brought to Aztec. The appellants claim that the horse soon afterward broke out with other sores similar to the "navel slip shoe" sore, although the agent of the company had guaranteed the animal to be healthy. The appellants met the first note and bred the horse during the season of 1905. They refused to meet the succeeding notes and instituted suit to cancel them on the ground that fraudulent representations had been made about the stallion. The Hartman Stock Company answered and alleged said horse at time of sale was free from disease and suitable for breeding purposes.

Territory v. Torres.

No. 1402. Silvestre Torres, appellant vs. The Territory of New Mexico, appellee. Appeal from the district court of Union county. Judgment of the lower court is affirmed. The opinion is by Judge Wright and is concurred in by Judges Parker, Abbott, McChesney and Roberts having tried the case below, did not participate.

At the September 1910 term of the district court of Union county, Silvestre Torres and three others were jointly and severally indicted for the murder of one Reynaldo Encinas. All the defendants were arraigned on all of the indictments and entered pleas of not guilty, all of which proceedings took place before any of the defendants had consulted counsel. At the March, 1911, term the defendants in all cases withdrew their pleas of not guilty and filed pleas in abatement.

To this plea, the district attorney after denying a motion for continuance, called the case for trial. The jury found the defendant guilty of voluntary manslaughter. Defendant filed motions for new trial and in arrest of judgment, all of which were overruled and exception duly taken. Sentence was pronounced and notice of appeal given and appeal duly granted.

O'Reilly v. Colbert.

Case No. 1322. J. H. O'Reilly, appellee, vs. John W. Colbert, Coast Lines Hospital Association, garnishee, appellants. Appeal from district court of Bernalillo county. Judgment of the lower court is reversed. The opinion is by Judge Roberts and is concurred in by Judges Parker, McChesney and Wright. Chief Justice Pope did not participate. Chief Justice Pope files a dissenting opinion.

John W. Colbert, the appellant, was employed by the Coast Lines Hospital Association at Albuquerque as a surgeon, at a monthly salary of $200. On April 24, 1909 J. H. O'Reilly recovered a judgment against him for $578.30. The present suit was brought against Colbert and the Coast Lines Hospital Association as garnishee, and alleged that the judgment defendant Colbert, had no property in his possession within the Territory of New Mexico subject to execution, sufficient to justify the judgment, and alleged, upon information and belief, that the garnishee was indebted to the defendant Colbert for wages; that the garnishee was not a public officer, and that the bailiff sought to garnishee the wages of the defendant over and above the sum of $50 per month and alleged that it did not seek to garnishee property exempt under Section 26, Chapter 63, Laws of 1909.

Interrogatories were filed with the complaint, directed to the Hospital Association, in response to which the association answered that the defendant Colbert was working for it on a salary of $200 per month; that at the time of the service of the garnishment it owed Colbert $164.22 and that there was due the defendant the further sum of $119.63 salary accrued since the service of the garnishment.

Colbert filed answer alleging that the indebtedness for which the judgment of $578.30 was rendered was on account of a contract and was not for manual labor or the necessities of life furnished to the defendant or his family. The defendant further alleged that he was the head of a family consisting of a wife and one child; that they were residing in Albuquerque, N. M.; that he was in the employ of the garnishee defendant, as a surgeon; at a salary of $200 a month, and that said salary was his only income and was necessary for the support of his family, and that the same was exempt from levy, execution or garnishment.

The plaintiff filed a motion for judgment against the garnishee for the amount shown to be due, by its answer, less the amount of $50 per month, which plaintiff admitted was exempt by law to Colbert. The court below sustained the motion and rendered judgment for $212.42, being the amount of salary due at the time of the filing of the garnishee's answer less $50 per month. From this judgment appeal is taken.

In his opinion there is no syllabus. Judge Roberts says: "By his answer the appellant Colbert showed that the debt upon which the judgment was based, was not 'contract for the necessities of life; that he was a resident of New Mexico and the head of a family, and that the money sought to be garnished was current wages. This presented a complete defense to the garnishment proceedings, and the court erred in rendering judgment for the appellee upon the pleadings." In his dissenting opinion Chief Justice Pope says:

"I dissent from the view in the majority opinion, the practical effect of which would be to leave a person receiving a salary running into thousands of dollars immune from garnishment, where the debt shall not have been for necessities. In my view the proper construction of Section 26, of Chapter 63 of the Laws of 1909, is reached by the clause 'unless such debt was incurred for the necessities of life,' at the end of the section. Thus transposed the section means that current wages are not subject to garnishment where (a) the defendant is the head of a family, and (b) a resident of this Territory (c) the wages do not exceed $50 and in case such wages exceed $50 THEN ONLY THE EXCESS MAY BE GARNISHED. Provided, the debt is not incurred for the necessities of life. In other words no exemption exists (Whether the wages exceed $50 a month or not) where the debt is for the necessities of life."

The Disputed Section.

The Section 26 reads as follows: "No public officer shall be summoned as a garnishee in his official capacity nor shall any person be charged as a garnishee on account of current wages due from him to a defendant in his employ unless such a debt was incurred for the necessities of life, provided such defendant is the head of a family and a resident of this territory, and provided further that the wages earned by the defendant do not exceed fifty dollars per month, and in case such wages exceed fifty dollars per month, then the excess only may be garnished."

O'Reilly v. Colbert.

Case No. 1322. J. H. O'Reilly, appellee, vs. John W. Colbert, Coast Lines Hospital Association, garnishee, appellants. Appeal from district court of Bernalillo county. Judgment of the lower court is reversed. The opinion is by Judge Roberts and is concurred in by Judges Parker, McChesney and Wright. Chief Justice Pope did not participate. Colbert filed answer alleging that the indebtedness for which the judgment of $578.30 was rendered was on account of a contract and was not for manual labor or the necessities of life furnished to the defendant or his family. The defendant further alleged that he was the head of a family consisting of a wife and one child; that they were residing in Albuquerque, N. M.; that he was in the employ of the garnishee defendant, as a surgeon; at a salary of $200 a month, and that said salary was his only income and was necessary for the support of his family, and that the same was exempt from levy, execution or garnishment.

The plaintiff filed a motion for judgment against the garnishee for the amount shown to be due, by its answer, less the amount of $50 per month, which plaintiff admitted was exempt by law to Colbert. The court below sustained the motion and rendered judgment for $212.42, being the amount of salary due at the time of the filing of the garnishee's answer less $50 per month. From this judgment appeal is taken.

In his opinion there is no syllabus. Judge Roberts says: "By his answer the appellant Colbert showed that the debt upon which the judgment was based, was not 'contract for the necessities of life; that he was a resident of New Mexico and the head of a family, and that the money sought to be garnished was current wages. For the last four months we have been studying carefully to make our selections the biggest in the city, and succeeded in doing so.

We have bought everything imaginable for childrens' gifts.
