KING OF GREECE HAS ABDICATED: PRINCE GEORGE ASCENDS THRONE

Constantine Has Signed a Decree Without Reservation, Says Central News Dispatch From Athens.

CAUSES NO SURPRISE IN CONSTANTINOPLE

Has Been Rumored for Several Days He Has Been Trying to Get Permission to Live in Denmark.

London, Sept. 27 (By the Associated Press).—A Central News dispatch from Athens, dated 8:30 o'clock this morning, says King Constantine signed an abdication decree without reservation.

CROWN PRINCE GEORGE WILL BE NEW RULER

Athens, Sept. 27 (12:12 p. m., by the Associated Press).—Crown Prince George will take the oath

Former King Constantine, of Greece as king this afternoon at the palace before the members of the retiring cabinet.

Constantine twice occupied the throne of Greece. His first reign began March 18, 1913, with assassination of his father, George I, and continued until June, 1917, when he was forced by the demands of Great Britain, France and Russia to abdicate because of his pro-German sympathies.

He was succeeded by his son, Alexander, who was nominated by the deposed monarch and who had promised to carry out Constantine's policies, despite allied demands to the contrary. For three stormy years Alexander reigned in name only. Then his tragic death in 1920, due to the bite of a pet monkey again turned the spotlight on Constantine, who had spent the intervening three years in exile with his family.

A plebiscite had shown that the Greek nation was insistent upon the return of Constantine to the throne and while the allied governments continued to exert every pressure at their command to prevent his reascension, the former king marched triumphantly into Athens and was crowned in December, 1920, amid scenes of the wildest enthusiasm.

Constantine was born August 3, 1868, and obtained his education under German tutors and army officers. Once, in 1902, he was dismissed as commander of the Greek army because of popular clamor against him; but he became a national hero in the Balkan war of 1912, when he led a Greek army in the capture of Salonika from the Turks. In consequence of this achievement, he was accorded the popular title of "the liberator."

NEW TARIFF LAW IS ASSAILED BY REED IN SPEECH

Is the "Most Monstrous Scheme of Plunder Ever Conceived by Selfishness and Greed," He States.

Mexico, Mo., Sept. 27 (By the Associated Press).—Declaring for a "reasonable" modification of the prohibition law, United States Senator James A. Reed tonight, in an address here opened his campaign for re-election on the democratic ticket.

He assailed the new tariff as the "most monstrous scheme of plunder ever conceived by selfishness and greed," and attacked the Harding administration. Senator Reed had been challenged by his republican opponent, R. R. Brewster, to declare himself on the prohibition question in tonight's speech. Brewster, in the primary campaign, declared himself as being "as dry as the eighteen amendment."

50,000 WATSON FOLLOWERS ARE WITHOUT LEADER

Some Man Who Can Win Their Faith and Admiration Can Become a Dominating Power in the State

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 27 (By the Associated Press).—Fifty thousand Georgia followers of United States Senator Thomas E. Watson, today are leaderless—offering to some man who can win their faith and admiration an opportunity to become a dominating power in state politics.

Tomorrow afternoon, in the little village of Thomson, the last rites will be said. Throughout the state there is sadness over the senator's death, with both political friends and enemies expressing regret and sympathy to the bereaved family at "Hickory Hill."

May Name a Successor. Under the Georgia law, Governor Thomas W. Hardwick may appoint a temporary successor to the senator to serve until the general election, November 7. The governor, who now is in Canada, has telegraphed the executive department that he will return to Atlanta to take the matter under consideration.

W. J. Vereen, chairman of the state democratic executive committee, has the authority to call a primary to nominate a candidate for the vacant seat in the general election. He has stated he soon will issue a statement announcing his decision on a suggestion that such a primary be ordered.

In the event the chairman does not call a primary, the state democratic convention, which convenes in Macon early next month is expected to endorse a candidate for election, it was said in political circles.

REVOLUTIONISTS ARE DETERMINED NOT TO SURRENDER THRACE

London, Sept. 27.—The essential feature of the Greek revolution, according to the Athens correspondent of the Times, is patriotic determination not to surrender eastern Thrace. The revolutionists, he said, seem less hostile to Constantine than patriots opposed to former premier Gounaris. Many of them are Venizelists, but a considerable proportion are royalists who are determined to obtain the support of the allies even at the sacrifice of the king.

CUSTOMS RECEIPTS ARE INCREASED BY NEW IMPORT DUTIES

Washington, Sept. 27.—Customs receipts last Saturday reflected the new import duties with an advance of $2,500,000, according to reports compiled today by the treasury. On Saturday customs receipts aggregated $5,452,000 as compared with $1,993,000 on Friday, when the tariff act of 1922 went into effect, and with $1,992,000 on September 23, 1921. Incoming cargoes, racing to reach this country before the law became effective, but failing in the attempt, officials asserted, caused the heavy increase in receipts on Saturday.

Eureka Springs, Ark., Sept. 27.—Three of five bandits who attempted to rob the First National bank here at noon today were killed and the other two wounded and captured in a running battle with citizens which followed the sounding of the burglar alarm.

E. G. Smith, cashier of the bank, sounded the alarm by stepping on a section of the bank floor which was connected with the burglar alarm.

Alarmed citizens met the bandits with gunfire as they emerged from the bank with their loot, carrying before them the bank teller as a shield.

The bandits returned the fire. Ernest Jordan, jeweler, whose store adjoins the bank, received shrapnel burns from the bandits' pistol.

ROOT PREVENTS PROHIBITION OF STRIKES BY LAW

Harding Administration Has Accomplished the Five Things Most Needed, He Declares in Address.

Albany, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Early adoption by the republican congress of laws at once prohibiting strikes which "cut off the supply of food or service necessary to the life of the community," and at the same time protect the workman's liberty, was predicted by Elihu Root, temporary chairman, when he addressed before the republican state convention today.

Touching on the recent rail and coal strikes, Mr. Root said: "We are all employers and laborers and the general public is apt to be impatient about strikes. So long as strikes were a contest between jobbers and employers to secure for labor its fair share of the new wealth which has come to the life of the community, and when the public became at attempt to coerce the public into taking action by cutting off the supply of food and service necessary to the life of the community, I am sure that public feeling would be aroused."

"I think that in this country we are gradually approaching the point where the law of the land will provide for distinguishing between the two kinds of strikes, and protecting the public against compulsion by threat of peril to life or of destruction to the machinery of civilization, and at the same time protect the workman's liberty to refuse to work and the workman's liberty to work."

Full Investigation. "I am inclined to think that nothing could be better at this stage of the perennial process of industrial adjustment than the condition which has now been reached through the patience and sympathetic influence of the president. The coming inflexibly of impartial investigation into the rights and wrongs upon which the recent strikes have rested, accompanied by a clear and uncompromising declaration by the president of the rule of law and liberty, which is to be applied to the results of the investigation."

Declaring that the five things most needed when President Harding took office were an ending of "the automatic method of government consented to for the purpose of carrying on the war, abolition of the immensely extravagant scale of expenditures established during the war, restoration of normal industrial production, establishment of international peace and convalescence from the condition of feverish excitement in the country," Mr. Root asserted the Harding administration had accomplished all these.

Autocracy Ended. "The president has declared, 'I am not an autocrat by refusing to take their advice and let them run their own departments at the same time deciding incidentally after taking counsel, on matters upon which the chief executive was called to decide.'"

Mr. Root pointed to the president's handling of the rail and coal strikes as evidence of his work in bringing the nation back to normal industrial conditions, and cited the five-power conference at Washington as evidence of his skill as a statesman in international affairs.

REVOLUTION IN GREECE IS NEW PROBLEM FACED BY THE ALLIES

Impromptu Cabinet Meeting in London Finds the Ministers in a Very Pessimistic Mood.

SITUATION CONTAINS ELEMENTS OF DANGER

Proposed Peace Conference Is Described as "Not on the Horizon at Present"; Forces Concentrated.

London, Sept. 27 (By the Associated Press).—A Greek revolution has been added to the ever-deepening Near Eastern difficulty and the allies are now faced with a more complex situation than even an impromptu cabinet meeting tonight found the ministers in a very pessimistic mood, a comforting aspect of the crisis, being that no collision has as yet occurred between the British and Turks in the Chanak zone.

In other respects the situation contains every element of danger. The Kemalists, who are flanking of the British line at Chanak apparently refuse to budge and even decline to recognize the existence of a neutral zone.

After the cabinet council tonight the proposed peace conference was described as "not on the horizon at present." Yet until the conference materializes every one here realizes that the danger is extremely grave. Both British and Turkish are hastening the concentration of their forces and the British public is apprehensive that any moment might bring about an unfortunate incident, setting the opposing forces in action.

The people are anxiously asking how the disappearance of King Constantine and the new situation in Greece will affect the question of the Greek evacuation of Eastern Thrace required by the allies and insisted upon by Kemal Pasha as a preliminary to any peace conference. From the confused and conflicting reports reaching here from Athens, this is a matter of extreme uncertainty.

The revolution seems to have taken two different lines, one demanding the defense of Thrace, the other asking for the formation of a pro-entente government. It is also reported that General Papagos, the new military governor of Thrace, has gone to the revolution. The British government is adhering to its policy of returning eastern Thrace to the Turks as demonstrated by the fact that Greek transports have been forbidden to use the straits from today. It was supposed that the Greek army would have withdrawn the cruiser Averoff in response to the allied request, but a late despatch reports that the crew of the Averoff mutinied and sailed for Constantinople.

80,000 TROOPS IN THRACE

It is stated that Greece has 80,000 troops in Thrace ready to fight the Turks, and in the event of a revolutionary government coming into power, a determination to defend the provinces, the question arises who will undertake to enforce Greek evacuation to satisfy Kemal's demands.

The British government is adhering to its policy of returning eastern Thrace to the Turks as demonstrated by the fact that Greek transports have been forbidden to use the straits from today. It was supposed that the Greek army would have withdrawn the cruiser Averoff in response to the allied request, but a late despatch reports that the crew of the Averoff mutinied and sailed for Constantinople.

Position Is Much Eased?

The Associated Press correspondent at Constantinople reports that the Kemalists are willing to accept the principle of neutrality of the straits, pending a conference, which General Harington proposed should be held at Mudania or Ismid. Apparently, therefore, Kemal Pasha is ready to participate in such a conference, and this implies that the situation is much eased.

General Harington continues to act with the utmost prudence and moderation. He prevented an imminent collision of the Greek and Turkish forces in the Chanak area by a wireless order to General Shuttleworth to suspend an attack, and, according to information available here, the government has given him complete freedom of action regarding a time limit and clearly does not desire to press matters.

M. Franklin-Bouillon, the French envoy, is expected to reach Smyrna in Greece very soon. It is believed that until he has seen Kemal Pasha there will be no military move of importance. Unofficial reports assert that Kemal will declare the allied conditions for a peace conference unacceptable and insist upon the use of the straits for the transport of his troops to Thrace before consenting to enter such a conference.

Concentrating Forces. Both British and Turkish are concentrating large forces on the Ismid and Chanak lines. The British fleet on the spot now consists of six dreadnaughts, seven battle cruisers and four destroyers, while the land forces, which are continually being increased, already amount to 30,000 men.

The revolutionary army is marching on Athens and will reach the capital tonight. Three hundred army officers visited the king and urged the formation of a military cabinet. They were ready they said, to put themselves at the head of the people to combat the revolutionaries, maintain order and defend the king.

A street demonstration by prominent citizens acclaimed Venizelos and a republic. There was some rioting and former Minister of Agriculture Sideris was wounded.

FRANCE RAISES OBJECTIONS TO U. S. TARIFF LAW

Many Business Men Demand Adoption of Retaliatory Measures; Manufacturers to Lose Heavily

Paris, Sept. 27 (By the Associated Press).—The French government probably will make representations through the embassy at Washington in an endeavor to have the American government admit under the old tariff between ten million and twelve million francs worth of goods which were on their way to the United States when the new duties went into effect.

Scores of French business men during the last few days have visited members of the ministry and protested warmly against the new American tariff. Not a few of them demanded that France adopt retaliatory measures. Manufacturers have reported that they stand to lose heavily on their merchandise now tied up at the docks in New York in consequence of failure to arrive in time to come within the provisions of the old tariff.

The ministry of commerce today asked the American embassy officials if they thought representations would have any chance of success in Washington. The Americans, officials replied that they would be glad to forward the representations to Washington, where the decision would have to be taken. It is probable, however, that the ministry will use the French embassy as its medium.

It is said that business interests here will await the result of the presentations before filing suits against American customers who have canceled orders for goods in consequence of the new tariff. American business men here have advised the ministry of commerce that there is only slight possibility of their representations at Washington proving efficacious.

OPPOSITE VIEWS BROUGHT OUT BY MINIC WARFARE

Squadron of Torpedo Planes Searches Out Three Ships of Atlantic Fleet; Theoretically Sinks One.

Norfolk, Va., Sept. 27.—Dramatically opposite opinions developed among observing officers as the result of the maneuvers of the Virginia Capes today when a squadron of torpedo planes searched out three ships of the Atlantic fleet and theoretically destroyed one of them.

Seven hits were registered out of 17 torpedoes discharged, all finding their mark on the "Arkansas." In the opinion of Rear Admiral W. A. Moffett, chief of the naval air service and Commander C. E. Danforth, army air service, the test was satisfactory in all respects, demonstrating in their view that planes equipped with torpedoes can successfully attack battleships from the surface, especially if protected by a smoke screen or fog.

Naval officers of the staff and line attached to the battle fleet, on the other hand, generally contended that today's experiments proved that the planes are effective within a limited radius from their base and that the two squadrons could have been annihilated before coming within striking distance of the dreadnaughts. The battleships were protected by the usual smoke screen. They also contended that the secondary batteries of the warships under battle conditions could have been able to atomize every plane before it had an opportunity to discharge its destructive cargo.

The test was staged under ideal weather conditions.

Q. Does the outside of a wheel travel faster than its axis? Please answer the question yes or no before explaining. S. N. R.

A. All questions in relation to the speed of different portions of wheels are relative matters; that is, one must be particular to state that the speed in relation to some definite point is desired. The speed of a point on the outside of the wheel is sometimes greater in relation to the ground than the speed of the axis and sometimes less. The resulting speed in a given direction is necessarily the same as that of the axis, as it is obvious that the wheel would have to fly to pieces if one part reached a destination before the other.

Q. How is green moss made into the black moss of commerce? J. M. T.

A. After moss is picked from the trees it is rotted or cured after the manner of flax. It is the outer powdery husk of the moss which the rotting removes. The real body of the moss, the fibro-vascular skeleton, is a long, slender, horsehairlike thread extending the whole length of the plant. The moss is piled in heaps on damp ground, or in water, and is covered with thin earth. Its slow combustion generates sufficient heat to burn off the outer husk, and a mass resembling black horsehair is left. The time allowed for a heap to complete its rotting process varies—depending on the owner's hurry.

A. One hundred years ago 59 degrees to 55 degrees was considered a good house temperature. Fireplaces provided the heat in those days. When stoves came into use about seventy years ago, the temperature rose to about 62 degrees. With the increasing use of furnaces, some thirty years ago, a heat of 72 degrees was quite usual. Today a temperature of 70 degrees is considered standard.

Q. What causes paint to peel off? M. C.

A. The Paint Manufacturers' association says that the common causes are dampness in the wood; dampness back of the wood; ochre priming coats; old paint loosely attached to the wood and not thoroughly scraped away; fatty, resinous wood not properly seasoned or prepared for painting; and boiled oil.

Q. From what is the cross-line or sight-line of a surveyor's instrument made? C. A. G.

A. A spiderweb.

Q. How does a lamprey eel differ from other eels? W. H.

A. Lampreys are characterized by the possession of a circular mouth formed for sucking instead of true jaws. They attach themselves to stones and other objects by their sucker mouths, and also to fishes, from which they scrape the flesh with their rasping teeth.

Do You Take Proper Care of Your Floors and Floor Coverings?

Proper care of a finished floor is economy. Many times finishes applied at considerable outlay have been spoiled by neglect or because wrong cleaning materials were used on them.

Floor coverings when well chosen and properly laid are one of the most attractive and useful features of the furnishings of a home.

Rugs and carpets should be cleaned frequently and thoroughly. Dirt that is allowed to remain wears the fibers and becomes increasingly hard to remove.

This bureau has for distribution a free government publication giving information regarding the character and qualities of different sorts of floors and floor coverings with reference to their durability, economy, and care.

It will secure a copy for any reader who fills out and mails the coupon below, enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

FREDERIC J. HASKIN,
Director.

The Albuquerque Journal Information Bureau, Washington, D. C.

I enclose herewith two cents in stamps for return postage on a free copy of the booklet, Floors and Floor Coverings.

SIKI RECEIVES MANY OFFERS TO BATTLE IN U. S.

American Prize Fight Promoters Are Still Endeavoring to Get Senegales Into the Ring Here.

Paris, Sept. 27 (By the Associated Press).—American prize fight promoters are still endeavoring to get Battling Siki, the victor over Georges Carpentier, in the American ring. The manager of the Senegales fighter has been the recipient during the last twenty-four hours of cable offers from Tex Rickard and Tom O'Rourke, and another American promoter now in Europe, also is bidding for the battler's services. Siki, in addition, has received an offer from Joan Wilkes of England, to meet the winner of the coming fight between Joe Beckett and Frank Moran, which is to be held in London.

M. Heilers, manager for Siki, said this evening to the Associated Press that his last and final conditions were 1,100,000 francs net, exclusive of income tax, to meet either Harry Wills or Harry Greb in the United States, or 1,400,000 francs for a fight with Jack Dempsey October 26, or any date thereafter. Heilers added that if he could not obtain his demands he would not go to the United States this winter, but would remain in Europe and fight England's best gloved men.

Siki hereafter will be unable to make the light-heavyweight limit. Heilers said he expected to place his man in the ring for his next battle weighing 184 pounds, as against 174, the poundage at which he fought Carpentier last Sunday. According to Heilers, Siki had to remain for two nights in Turkish baths prior to his fight with Carpentier. He was overweight nearly a pound Saturday morning and Sunday, just prior to weighing in for the bout with the Frenchman. Siki was sixty grams below the light-heavyweight limit. Siki ate seventy grams of apple jelly just before he entered the ring with Carpentier. His manager described him as having been in a weakened condition in consequence of his efforts to come within the light-heavyweight limit.

NATIONS LEAGUE WORKS OUT PLAN TO AID AUSTRIA

Details May Be Announced Saturday; Delegates Are Divided Over the Question of Disarmament.

Geneva, Sept. 27. (By the Associated Press.)—The assembly of the league of nations adopted the recommendations of the council on the restriction of armaments at the end of the debate today which showed that the delegates were far from unanimous in approving the measure proposed. The speeches brought out sharply the fact that the assembly is divided today, as it was at the opening of the first session, between the extremists, who want to abolish armaments immediately, and the conservatives, who hold that a sure and slow policy is the only one that can succeed.

The extremists accepted M. De Jouvenel's plan for mutual guarantee of security in committee, but either neglected it or gave it faint support, or frankly opposed it on the assembly platform.

Luis Vucina, of Chile, said: "We South Americans hope to bring the next assembly news that the conference has adopted a scheme of disarmament."

The council on Saturday probably will announce the success of the plan to save Austria to the assembly. The Austrian chancellor, conferred with the commission of five today, when terms for the guarantee of the political stability of Austria were agreed on. The powers also agreed to guarantee Austria's territorial integrity, independence and sovereignty.

The committee has practically agreed on the methods of supervision, which will carry out under the direction of the league. The total loan will amount to $50,000,000 gold crowns, including the sum necessary to repay what has already been loaned to Austria. Italy's reply on the guaranty of 20 per cent is expected tomorrow.

EX-SERVICE MEN ARE TO BE REMOVED FROM CONTRACT HOSPITALS

Washington, Sept. 27.—Approval of a program, outlined to President Harding by representatives of the American legion, which contemplates the removal of former service men suffering from mental diseases from contract hospitals to government-owned and operated institutions at the earliest possible moment, was expressed tonight by Brigadier General C. E. Sawyer, chief co-ordinator of the federal hospitalization board, in a statement issued through the American legion.

Dr. Sawyer said the president had expressed his desire that any difference of opinion which might interfere with the best possible care of disabled ex-service men should be removed.

The views of the American legion in regard to the care of neuropsychiatric patients were outlined to Mr. Harding and Director Forbes of the veterans bureau by H. A. Sprague, chairman of the legion's rehabilitation committee, and Doctors W. T. Salmon, New York City and W. F. Lorenz, Madison, Wis., at a conference this morning.

The legionists accepted M. De Jouvenel's plan for mutual guarantee of security in committee, but either neglected it or gave it faint support, or frankly opposed it on the assembly platform.

Luis Vucina, of Chile, said: "We South Americans hope to bring the next assembly news that the conference has adopted a scheme of disarmament."

DOES LAUNDRY WORK AND HOUSEWORK TOO

Surprised to Find Herself Feeling So Well

Taunton, Mass.—"I used to have pains in my back and legs so badly, that I could not walk with other troubles that women sometimes have, that my doctor ordered me to stay in bed a week in every month. It didn't do much good, so one day after talking with a friend who took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for about the same troubles I had, I thought I would try it also. I find that I can work in the laundry all through the time and do my housework, too. Last month I was so surprised at myself to be up and around and feeling so good while before I used to feel completely lifeless. I have told some of the girls who work with me and have some troubles to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I tell them how it has helped me. You can use my testimonial for the good of others."—Mrs. BLANCHE SILVIA, 69 Grant St., Taunton, Mass.

It's the same story—one friend telling another of the value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

SIMPLE APPLICATION THAT DISSOLVES BLACKHEADS

No more squeezing and pinching to get rid of those unsightly blemishes, blackheads. There is one simple, safe and sure way to get them out and that is to dissolve them. To do this just get about two ounces of calomel powder from your druggist—sprinkle a little on a hot wet sponge—rub briskly over the blackheads for a few seconds—wash the parts and every blackhead will be gone.

Pinching and squeezing out blackheads make large pores and you cannot get all of the blackheads out this way—while this simple application of calomel powder and water dissolves even the deepest and leaves the skin and pores in their natural condition. Any druggist will sell you the calomel powder and about two ounces will be all you will ever need.

REPUBLICANS GO "GLAD HANDING" ALL OVER STATE

Hill, Des Georges, Muller and Matson Go on Long Jaunt; Davis to Make Part of Trip.

Special to The Journal
Santa Fe, Sept. 27.—A "glad handing" group of republican nominees for state office has been scheduled to leave Santa Fe on Sunday to spend twenty-three days in visiting twenty-three of the principal towns of New Mexico. In addition to these larger towns, where 12 meetings will be held and speeches made, stops will be made at many of the smaller, "remote" towns for the purpose of getting acquainted with the voters.

In the party for the entire trip will be Charles I. Hill, for governor; J. A. Des Georges, for secretary of state; G. A. Matson, for treasurer; Fred Muller, for land commissioner. Accompanying the party for the greater part of the trip will be Benjamin F. Pankey, former lieutenant governor, and Hugh H. Williams, state senator.

Among the other candidates and speakers who will take the party for a part of the time are: Judge S. B. Davis, Jr., nominee for United States senator; A. A. Sedillo, for attorney general; Nestor Montoya of Albuquerque, present representative in congress; Col. George W. Prichard of Santa Fe, Herbert B. Holt of Las Cruces.

Leaving here Sunday, the party will be in Wagon Mound Monday night, Springfield Tuesday night, Raton Wednesday night. This is as far as the itinerary has been announced definitely. From Raton the swing will be across through the desert, monthly visiting the same territory where the "glad handing" party made six speeches in one day last week. Thence the line of march will be down the eastern side of the state, across the southern end and up the Rio Grande valley to Albuquerque or Santa Fe, Morrow at Gallup.

John Morrow, the democratic nominee for representative in congress, is scheduled to address a meeting of the Kiwanis club at Gallup Thursday night, the speaker's bureau has announced. The itinerary for Morrow has been about completed by the bureau, but has not been made public.

One of the republican papers printed in the Spanish language has designated John Morrow as Juan Manana—which is Spanish for John Tomorrow.

RESERVE SYSTEM SHOULD BE KEPT NON-POLITICAL

Has Saved the Country Serious Losses in Times of Business Disturbance, Credit Men State.

Atlantic City, N. J., Sept. 27.—A demand that the federal reserve system be kept "clean" of political influence and a statement that the system had saved the country serious losses in times of business disturbance, were contained in a resolution passed today by the board of directors of the National Association of Credit Men, in session here.

"We are coming out of a serious crisis with a cost and a wastage far less than the causes promised, merely because the revolution, the system possessed sufficient powers to support the tottering credit structure and allow orderly liquidations," said the resolution.

"Whether business is prosperous or merely fair depends largely upon the country's foreign trade," another resolution said. "The maximum of our productive powers cannot be absorbed in internal trade; some of our production must find its way into other countries."

"It is therefore desirable for our government to devote more attention and more of its resources to the cultivation of foreign trade. Congress in its appropriations should be reasonably generous to this end."

REMONSTRANCES BY BRITISH UNHEEDED; KEMALISTS ADVANCE

Constantinople, Sept. 27. (By the Associated Press.)—Kemalist forces have occupied without opposition positions in the regions of Dumbrek, Lampsaki, Yaghjilar and Sangakeli, all in the neutral zone of the Dardanelles. This is the fifth violation of the zone.

Remonstrances by the British officers failed to stay the advance of the Turks. British flags were posted throughout the invaded territory.

REVOLT IS SPREADING THROUGHOUT GREECE

Athens, Sept. 27. (By the Associated Press.)—The Venizelist newspapers assert that the revolution, which up to the present has been bloodless, has spread throughout the entire country. Prince Paul, the king's youngest son, was aboard the training ship Helle in Aegean, when part of the navy revolted. The battleship Lemnos sent a radio to the Helle asking the prince if he wished to join the new movement for national defense.

The radio operator of the Helle replied: "I salute you, brothers." Then communication was cut.

NO SERIOUS PROBLEMS ARE CONFRONTING OIL INDUSTRY IN THE U. S.

St. Louis, Mo., Sept. 27. (By the Associated Press.)—The oil industry in America is not confronted with any serious problems, but there are minor matters which require correction in order that the industry may develop more rapidly, according to W. R. Boyd, Jr., of New York, counsel for the American Petroleum Institute, who presided at a general conference of the transportation section of the institute, which opened here today.

"We do not propose at this conference," Boyd said, "to formulate any definite proposals regarding transportation or handling of oil equipment to be submitted to the American Railway association. We simply are discussing various minor matters, which members consider need adjustment. The general result aimed at is improvement in all lines of the industry."

In these lines, he made, it was said, to lower transportation rates on petroleum or petroleum products.

FRIENDS OF HEARST CLAIM HE WILL HEAD TICKET IN NEW YORK

Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 27.—Democratic leaders and delegates after a day of conferences and political maneuvering today were tonight on the eve of the convention, for awarding a choice for the governorship nomination.

Advocates of the nomination of former Governor Alfred E. Smith delighted in the Smith outlook and they predicted his nomination. Adherents of William R. Hearst countered with the claim that the publisher was gaining in delegate strength and that he would be named to head the state ticket.

Among the Smith men the impression prevailed that George R. Lunn would be the choice of the convention for United States senator. In other quarters Lunn was regarded as an acceptable compromise for the governorship in the event the Smith-Hearst deadlock failed to yield to negotiation.

Fort Worth, Tex., Sept. 27.—The Mobile Bears, who gained the Dixie championship title by virtue of their defeat of the Fort Worth Panthers in the series which ended today, will meet the Tulsa Oilers, champions of the Western league, in a series to decide the championship of the all-southern and western class A leagues, beginning Friday in the Oklahoma city.

Final arrangements for the series were made at a meeting here today of representatives of the Tulsa and Mobile clubs. Three games will be played at Tulsa, continuing through Sunday. ## MEMBERS OF A DARING BAND OF ROBBERS KILLED

Gang Which Once Included Henry Starr, Notorious Oklahoma Outlaw, Shot at Eureka Springs, Ark.

Muskogee, Okla., Sept. 27.—Members of the most daring band of bank robbers in the southwest, which once numbered Henry Starr, notorious Oklahoma outlaw, fell today before the guns of citizens of Eureka Springs, Ark., who repulsed an attempted holdup of the First National bank there. Charles Price, who was shot and probably fatally wounded today, when his brother George was killed, is wanted in Sequoyah county, Oklahoma, on a charge of participating in a daylight raid on the First National bank of Muldrow, four months ago.

Another brother, Reece Price, and Reed Cook, a young farmer living near Sallisaw, Okla., were apprehended by a posse after the robbery and are now serving sentences in the Oklahoma penitentiary. Approximately $15,000 in Liberty bonds and $500 in cash was recovered.

Charles Price made a sensational escape when the posse closed in on him. He forced his horse to hurdle a high fence and outran his pursuers when capture seemed almost certain. Two days later he was located in a country school house but again escaped after exchanging shots with officers.

Charles Price was arrested last January in Cherokee county in connection with the robbery of the First National bank of Hulbert, but was released. Subsequent events, Cherokee officers said, indicated that the white order had been involved in the robbery. A search was instituted for him but he escaped capture.

Many members of the gang are in prison for various robberies in Oklahoma, Arkansas and Missouri, and some are dead. Henry Starr, one of the most daring bandits of the southwest in recent years, was shot to death more than a year ago in a raid on a bank at Harrison, Arkansas.

The gang specialized in daylight bank robberies and had its rendezvous in the hills of Cherokee county, Oklahoma, near Cookston.

ATTEMPT BY SHRINE TO ENJOIN A NEGRO LODGE IS FRUITLESS

Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 27.—Chancellor Martineau in the chancery court today refused to grant a petition for an injunction, seeking to prohibit the local negro lodge of the Ancient and Mystical Order of Nobles of the Mystic Shrine from using a name similar to that used by the Ancient Arabic Order Nobles of the Mystic Shrine and emblems and badges similar to those used by the white order.

The case, which was filed several months ago, is styled "Frank Neimyer et al. vs. W. H. Smith et al." In his opinion the chancellor stated that the Negro lodge had been established in 1872 and the negro order had incorporated in 1901 and that a United States supreme court decision stated that after that order had been established a reasonable length of time it was unequitable to take such action against it.

None of the other eastern railroads contemplated embargoes for the present it was said at the various offices. The Lackawanna's embargo on westbound freight out of New York, established last Friday, would be continued for some little time, it was said, but without additional restrictions.

Two years ago the Democratic party told the American people that a League of Nations would solve international dissension and bring peace to the world.

The League is in existence today, but instead of world peace we see the flames of battle and massacre consuming Asia Minor, and Europe likely to be swept by the spreading conflagration.

Now we are told that the League does not function efficiently because the United States is not a member of it, which in plain language means that our men and our money should be sacrificed in the cause of foreign jealousies, hatreds, hopes for revenge and longings for aggrandisement.

Present world conditions have fully justified the farsighted stand of the Republican party which resulted in the overwhelming decision of this nation to keep itself free from foreign entanglement.

A STENOGRAPHER'S ROMANCE

BY JANE PHELPS

NELLIE REBUKES A SUBWAY FLIRT.

CHAPTER 9.

Nellie was curiously naive in some ways, uncommonly sophisticated in others. Cora felt sure she would soon become invaluable if she got a position; her quick grasp of things, her willingness to do anything, her determination to be in an office, all encouraged both Cora and Gladys into believing she would surely make good if she got a chance.

Gladys had spoken to Miss McBride, the woman who kept the agency, but had received little encouragement.

"Nowadays men don't want girls without experience," she told Gladys. "I could get around the references—from what you tell me of this girl, but not the lack of experience. Of course I will try to place her, but if I should succeed her wages will be very small at first."

"Get her anything you can," Gladys returned. "Miss Baker and I will help her out until she can earn enough to live on."

"You seem very fond of her," Cora said.

"We are, both of us. She's the brightest little thing, and so pretty—too pretty, Cora thinks. She's rather impudent, too, sometimes. If anyone says anything she doesn't like she gets back at them like lightning. But she's good, and won't stand any nonsense. She's had a hard life in a cheap boarding house where traveling men stopped, and has learned a lot of things about life by listening to their coarse talk. But a girl who had to work as hard as she did, then teaches herself to use a typewriter all alone in a stuffy office, is bound to get on, we think."

"I'm getting interested in this protégée of yours. You say Miss Baker has been teaching her for three months?"

"Yes, shorthand and spelling. The poor child couldn't spell at all. But she can now. I never saw anyone so in earnest as she is."

"Well, I will do my best, but don't be too sanguine. Rather, don't let her be."

Gladys Doran had taken a small room in Mrs. Thompson's boarding house. Cora had been urging it for a long time, yet she had said: "It's Nellie got you here at last, because you wanted to be with me."

"No indeed, Gladys. But I am glad to be where she is. She's a sure cure for the blues, and I do get awfully depressed at times. Sometimes I wonder if I am going to work like this all my life, and have so little to show for it."

"Your brother and sisters are growing up, they'll soon be able to help," Cora encouraged. It was discouraging to work as hard as Gladys did and send all she earned home, save enough to feed and clothe herself—the last as cheaply as possible. Gladys was a good looking girl, with a strong capable face but a serious girl, too serious for her age.

When Cora told her so she answered:

"I've never had anything to make me anything else."

"Hip—hip—hurrah!" Nellie came into the room where the two girls sat talking like a whirlwind. She grabbed Cora and kissed her, then pulled Gladys from her chair and waltzed her furiously about the room.

"What's the matter? Do stop and let me get my breath," Gladys pleaded.

"Matter! I've got a job, that's all," she whirled her more furiously than before. "Little Nellie has a job and can earn her way! Gee, but aren't I happy!" she sang in a high, shrill voice, dragging Gladys, now quite breathless, down with her.

"Quiet down, Nellie, and tell us all about it," Cora said as soon as she could stop laughing. "What kind of a place, and who with?"

"Wait a minute, Cora! I can't tell you. I came near selling for joy in the subway. I guess I must have looked awful tickled, because everybody I looked at grinned at me. One fellow thought he could flirt, but he got his. I just asked him if he was making them moon faces at me? You should have heard the people laugh. He sneaked out at the next stop."

"I should think he would!" Both girls laughed gayly. "Now tell us about the job. Everything?"

"We are so anxious to hear all about it."

"Well, here goes!"

OPOSSUM MAKES CLEVER COLLAR

By ELOISE.

The matter of a fur neckpiece for the school girl is a problem for it must be something durable and something smart and something according to fashion which do not wear well have no place in a school girl's wardrobe. These are for women of fashion who can afford many furs and have some one to care for them.

Here, then, is a neckpiece which should please both mothers and daughters. It is smart and it is certainly different with its satin streamers finished with huge balls of fur. It is youthful, much more so than a cape, stole or animal scarf and it is durable for it is made of Australian opossum which is well known for its lasting qualities. It is the type of collar which may be worn with coat, frock or suit and as such will be unusually practical for the school girl. When not worn fastened snugly about the throat it forms a wide shawl-like collar.

There are several outstanding and unusually attractive features about this picture, which will be the feature at the "B" theater today for the last time.

In the cast are two Paramount stars, Agnes Ayres and Jack Holt, both of whom are highly popular. Then there is Walter Hiers, the humorous heavyweight comedian who relieves the tenseness of this emotional drama by a laugh now and then. Others in the cast are Leah Wyant, George Kuwa, Bernice Frank and Ethel Wales.

The guns which Mr. Jose unearched once belonged to President Andrew Jackson and were used by the founder of the opium system in his terrible duel with Dickinson. On that occasion both the weapons drew blood. Jackson, who was a slow shot, determined to let his opponent fire first and then mark him down. It was a terrible risk, because Dickinson was considered one of the finest shots in Tennessee. But when the signal was given, Dickinson fired and Jackson stood apparently unharmed.

"Great God! have I missed him?" cried the unfortunate man unable to believe that he had not hit his mark.

Director Edward Jose, who had charge of "The Prodigal Judge," which will be shown at Lyric theater today for the last time, discovered a historical pair of pistols which were borrowed for the dueling scenes. This forms the great climax of Vaughan Kester's famous novel—a pistol fight between the Judge and Colonel Pentecost.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

By LAURA A. KIRKMAN.

A NOURISHING GUEST SUPPER.

Although few housewives, nowadays, can afford to bake a cake that calls for six eggs, still it is nice to have such a recipe on hand for a "very special" occasion.

The cake in the following guest supper menu is of this variety and will, of course, be found most delicious—as will also the spaghetti main dish, cooked in the real Italian way.

Spaghetti a l'italienne
Quick Biscuit
Waldorf Salad

Coffee
Sunshine Cake
Spaghetti a l'italienne: Boil one pound of spaghetti until tender, in boiling, salted water, then drain. In the meantime fry three cloves of garlic till yellowed in one-half cup of olive oil; add to this one cup of tomato paste mixed with one cup of water, and let simmer till thick. Season to suit individual taste with salt and pepper.

Over the hot drained spaghetti and serve with plenty of grated Parmesan cheese (sprinkled on top). There are many people who do not like the garlic taste, and this may be left out if desired—although, of course, the dish will not have the true Italian flavor if this is done.

On August 18 I published a recipe for the tomato paste mentioned above; if you missed this recipe, buy a back copy of this newspaper for that date, at our circulation department—or call at the circulation department to look over the files of back papers and copy out the recipe. Here is another way in which you can make the sauce for the spaghetti:

Italian Meat Sauce for Spaghetti: Fry three meat chops with the oil and garlic mentioned above, adding a little salt. Then shred the meat, discard bones and fat, and return it to the saucepan; now continue to make the sauce by the above given recipe—adding tomato paste and seasonings.

Sunshine Cake: "Beat six eggs yolks to a stiff froth. Beat the six egg-whites until very stiff, then add to them one and one-fourth cups of granulated sugar, the beat on egg yolks, one-half teaspoon of vanilla, and the following dry ingredients sifted together: One cup of flour, one-third teaspoon of cream of tartar and a pinch of salt. Turn the batter into a loaf-pan and bake in a moderate oven for thirty to forty minutes."

(This cake recipe was contributed by a column reader.)

Answer to Mrs. J.: I am sorry that my personal reply to your letter did not arrive before your party. All inquiries are answered as quickly as possible, but it is always safe for my readers to allow three weeks for my reply to reach them, when there is some special occasion in view such as a party, wedding, etc.

RIPPLING RHYMES

EXTERNALS.

He said, "Jemima is a prize, a gem among the girls; in vain the gifted artist tries to paint her golden curls, and when I contemplate her eyes, my heart within me whirles." She said, "He is a fine young man, all wool and a bay, with his whiskers are a hazy tan, with kopecks he's supplied, and in his handsome tin sedan I'll travel."

his pistol slowly to the level of his shoulder, and pulled the trigger. The weapon missed fire, and Jackson had to reprimed it. The second try was more successful, for his enemy died mortally wounded. Jackson turned and walked from the field. Not until he was out of sight of Dickinson did he let his friends know that he himself had been terribly wounded in the breast by his opponent's bullet.

"I didn't want to give that scoundrel the satisfaction of lying, knowing that he had hit me," was Jackson's explanation for concealing his wound.

This pair of dueling pistols is used in "The Prodigal Judge" is only a minor point, but it is typical of the painstaking care which is being expended by Vitaphone to make this special a screen masterpiece. Jean Paige is featured in the all-star cast.

BURK'S STORY FOUND UNTRUE, SAYS GUEST

An investigation has been made of the story told by William Burk, aged 15, who was arrested in Las Vegas recently on a charge of having stolen an automobile here. The boy told Captain Richard Galt and others that he and his friend had run away from their home in Des Moines, Ia., four years ago, and had left behind a widowed mother. He said his home was on Central avenue in Des Moines, but a letter from the chief of detectives of that city stated that there is no such street or avenue there.

NEWER FORM OF IRON A BLESSING TO FOLKS WHO ARE WEAK, SICKLY, NERVOUS OR RUN-DOWN

Thousands of People Have Suffered From all Sorts of Alarming Symptoms And After Ailing, Complaining and Doctoring for Years Found That the Real Trouble Was Lack of Iron in Their Blood—Astonishing Results Often Shown in Two Short Weeks

"Six weeks ago I saw a special offer in the paper telling about the terrible debilitating weakness caused by lack of iron in the blood, and how examinations by physicians had shown that I was three people out of every four you meet in the street. I had been iron deficient for years. I had been all tired out with my work and never felt well a single day. For long periods I would have pains in my back and then I was getting kidney trouble. Then I had dizzy spells, pains and palpitations around my heart, and began to fear I was getting heart disease. I suffered from gas and my meals always upset me. Nothing I ate agreed with me or seemed to do me any good, and I could not get any strength out of my food."

I have been taking Nuxated Iron for two weeks. The results are simply astounding. I can work twice as long without tiring and I feel myself getting stronger every day. All my alarming symptoms have disappeared and I can conscientiously say that more iron in my blood has tremendously increased my strength, energy and endurance."

The above is a typical hypothetical case showing the results that have been achieved by thousands of people since we started this "Satisfaction or Money Back" offer on Nuxated Iron. We will make you the same guarantee. If after taking two weeks treatment of Nuxated Iron you cannot walk twice as far or work twice as long without tiring, and you are not absolutely delighted with the results, we will promptly refund your money.

NOTE.—The above company is known to be thoroughly reliable. Over 4,000,000 packages of Nuxated Iron are sold annually, and it has been used and highly recommended by former U. S. Senators, Members of Congress, Judges of the courts and many physicians. We are able to guarantee that if you do not obtain all and even greater benefits than you expect from Nuxated Iron, the manufacturers will promptly refund your money.

WORK OF CIVIC CLUBS EXTENDS TO WORLD, MEAD

Methodist Bishop Addresses Kiwanis Club on Relations of City Groups to World Affairs.

That the city building program of such organizations as Kiwanis and Rotary extends to the state, the nation and the world, helping to bring about a spirit of brotherly co-operation, was emphasized by Bishop Charles L. Mead of Denver, speaking before the Kiwanis club at its luncheon yesterday noon.

Bishop Mead spoke enthusiastically of the new spirit which he sees motivating the world. The scramble for the dollar and the personal gain is giving away to an ambition to elevate humanity in general, he said.

The world was drawn closer together by the war, and the United States cannot maintain a policy of splendid isolation in it, he said. This country already has entangling alliances of church, education and finance abroad and can not ignore them. The United States, for this reason, cannot remain out of the present Turkish disturbances, because it must protect its interests there, he said.

A report of the club campaign on city extension made by Henry G. Coors, stated that the club campaign to extend the city limits will be postponed until after the fall elections. The committee had received assurance of support in the project from the city commission, he said.

Dr. M. K. Wylder, president of the hotel directors, made a report on the subscription collections. Judge Sam G. Bratton of Clovis and Kiwanian Smith of El Paso were introduced for short talks. Two attendance prizes were given, a box of candy by E. R. Smith of the Sturges cigar store and won by I. J. Mize, and $5 worth of merchandise by the Eubank Brothers store, donated by C. L. Eubank.

Judge Bratton has been in the southern part of the state. He and his republican opponent, Judge R. P. Barnes of Albuquerque, are not making a platform campaign for the election.

Why It Pays To Be Well Dressed

Most men do not pay enough attention to clothes—they don't get enough style and enough quality.

Men need the best of both.

Good style makes them look better, feel better, take greater pride in themselves.

Fine quality gives them long wear—keeps the style looking right—saves their money.

BEAUTY CHATS

By Edna Kent Forbes.

A BLEACHING CREAM.

The city streets are once more filling up with returned vacationists. One sees dozens of girls with bright eyes and sunburned skin who look refreshed and rested and thoroughly ready for the work or play of the winter. Their sun-kissed cheeks show a red glow in front, their thin white blouses the glow of sunburned shoulders beneath. They look so attractive and yet every one of them is working as to how remove this gorgeous healthy tan.

Personally, I hate to see the sunburn disappear from these fresh young faces, but as it will fade out of itself into the most unhealthy looking yellow, I suppose the best thing is to hasten the process and bleach the skin to its normal white. There are thousands of ways to remove sunburn with the most optimistic claim set forward by the maker of this or that special preparation. Personally, I favor a few simple creams and lotions.

As the skin is already dry the most logical sort of bleach would be a cream. Lettecure creams and peroxide creams are both very good, though it is difficult to purchase a really satisfactory peroxide cream and almost impossible to make one. If you have my formula for a fine cold cream you can substitute cucumber juice for the rose water and produce a splendid home-made bleaching emollient. If you haven't it here is a similar formula easily made:

Cucumber Cream.
Almond oil ..... 4 ounces.
Spermaceti ..... 1 ounce.
White Wax ..... 1 ounce.
Cucumber juice .... 2 ounces.
Cucumbers boiled, mashed and strained make the juice.

D. L.—A curling fluid made from quince seed could not hurt the hair. The cost of the permanent wave varies according to locality. Necessarily such work would be more expensive in the large cities where rents are high. Thirty dollars to $35 is the average price.

M. C.—It does not seem possible that the mouth could enlarge after a person has grown to adult age. It may appear to have done so if you have lost much weight; or you may be so conscious of this feature that you are using it in a nervous way and stiffening the muscles. A large mouth or one with full lips will always be a pretty mouth if there is mobility. The lip exercises given in a recent chat will accomplish this for anyone who practices them even for a short time.

Anxious.—An excessive amount of oil, dandruff and falling hair all show that the scalp is in need of treatment. If you cannot have this done by an expert, try massaging the scalp vigorously every day and include with this the best hair tonic several times each week.

COUNTY DEED BOOK ALMOST UP TO DATE. CROLOTT REPORTS

Although it has been reported that city realtors have stated that the county clerk's real estate deed records are not in good shape, Fred Crollott, county clerk, declared yesterday that the records are well kept and that the reported "tangle" is only the result of a delay of two weeks in posting warranty deeds due to the office having received the wrong record book from the binders.

Anticipating the filling of the old warranty deed record book, Mr. Crollott stated yesterday that he had ordered a new record book and supposed that it was in the style that had been ordered. When the recorders started to use the book, it was found that it was not properly printed and a new one was ordered at once. It was made up in less than two weeks and the untidy deeds are now being recorded in the book. The work is practically caught up, Mr. Crollott declared.
