BRITAIN MAKES DEMAND ON THE TURKS TO QUIT CHANAK REGION

The British are confident that this formidable line of fighting ships will easily prove a stone wall barrier to the Kemalists should the latter attempt to cross the straits. It is also thought that they will be a sufficient protection for the troops entrenched at Chanak and other points.

TEX RICKARD TO IMPORT SIKI TO BATTLE IN U. S.

Bout Will Be Staged on Thanksgiving Day But the Name of the American Boxer Is Not Given Out.

New York, Sept. 29.—With an announcement today by Tex Rickard, promoter, that he definitely had arranged to import Battling Siki, Senegalese, conqueror of Georges Carpentier, for a bout Thanksgiving day, followers of fights began speculating who will be the first American to meet the negro.

Rickard declined to say what American boxer he has in prospect, but he did assert that Siki's first opponent will not be a "setup."

"There are three or four high class men in the light heavyweight class and I will select one of these after the foreigner arrives here," the promoter declared.

The reigning king of the American light heavies is Harry Greb, Pittsburgh. He has been reported as anxious to meet Jack Dempsey, world's heavyweight champion, but that is as far as his ambition has carried him.

Greb took the American title from Gene Tunney, idol of Greenwich village in a 15-round bout at Madison Square Garden.

Tunney has been trying since to get back in the ring with the Pitts-burgher and is billed for a return bout some time this winter.

After Battling Levinsky had lost the world's light heavyweight championship to Georges Carpentier, the fighter turned around and lost the American title to Tunney.

Additional Possibility.
An additional possibility is that the winner of the Tom Gibbons-Billy Miske contest at Madison Square Garden October 13 may be matched with Siki.

Either of these four men comes under Rickard's specifications. Siki has agreed to all conditions for a battle, Rickard said, and if he wins in his first attempt, or makes a good showing, he will be matched to meet Dempsey next June. The Senegalese is expected to sail from France late in October, reaching here early in November in ample time to be in good shape for a Thanksgiving day bout at Madison Square Garden.

Judging from the condition of Carpentier after his bout with Siki, the black fellow must have something and is surely entitled to show over here," said Rickard.

"Even Dempsey failed to mark up Carpentier as Siki did, so I figure that some of his bad contests must be thrown out."

STILLMAN LOSES DIVORCE ACTION; SON LEGITIMATE

Millionaire New York Banker Himself Is Declared to Have Been Unfaithful to Marriage.

Carmel, N. Y., Sept. 29 (By the Associated Press).—James A. Stillman, multimillionaire banker of New York, today lost his fight to divorce Mrs. Anne U. Stillman and disown Baby Guy Stillman, and was himself found guilty of the charge he made against his wife—the parentage of an illegitimate child.

Mr. Stillman, it was indicated tonight, has not given up the fight. His lawyers would not say whether they would appeal from the findings of the referee should these be upheld by a supreme court justice, but they were reported to have made a move, which seemingly makes clear that they have not conceded defeat.

It was announced by John E. Mack, guardian ad litem for Guy Stillman, that at Poughkeepsie a week from tomorrow he would ask Justice Morschauser to confirm Referee Gleason's findings. As soon as this announcement was given out, it was learned that the plaintiff will seek to have the matter placed before Supreme Justice Tompkins instead of Justice Morschauser, on the same date.

Most of the open court hearings in the case have been before Justice Morschauser. It was he who granted Mrs. Stillman record allimony of $50,000 a year, and it was Justice Morschauser who granted over protest, the shifting of the trial to Montreal last spring. There Mrs. Stillman presented some of her most damaging evidence.

Woman's Victory Complete.
The report of the case, filed here this morning by Daniel J. Gleason, the referee, gave to Mrs. Stillman a complete victory in her defense of her own honor and the good name of Guy, her three-year-old son. She was also victorious in the counter attack she waged against Mr. Stillman. The referee upheld her accusation that the banker had lived with a former Broadway show girl, Florence H. Leeds, in the manner of husband and wife, and that he had acknowledged himself the father of two children born to Mrs. Leeds.

Mr. Gleason ruled that Mr. Stillman had not proved his allegation that Mrs. Stillman had violated her marriage vows in her conduct with Fred Beauvais, half-breed Indian guide, formerly employed by the Stillmans at their summer camp in Canada. He also found Guy Stillman to be the legitimate son of Mr. and Mrs. Stillman. The banker, in upholding the legitimacy of little Guy, born in November, 1918, had charged that Beauvais was the baby's father.

As a result of today's victory, Guy Stillman retains his right to share with his two older brothers and his sister in the $5,000,000 trust fund established for them by their grandfather, the late James Stillman, and in a $25,000,000 fund to be distributed when James A. Stillman dies.

No Adultery Found.
The referee not only found Guy Stillman not to be the son of Beauvais, but said he did not discover either sufficient or substantial proof on which to base any finding of adultery on the part of Mrs. Stillman.

Mr. Stillman failed to overcome the presumption of legitimacy, one of the strongest known to the law, the report said.

Mr. Stillman's own misconduct was in itself sufficient to preclude his obtaining a divorce, the report indicated. Mrs. Stillman did not ask for a divorce.

It clearly appeared, Mr. Gleason found, that since at least as early as 1918, and since then, even while the divorce trial was in progress, the plaintiff "has been intimate with a woman not his wife, known as Florence H. Leeds."

It clearly appeared, the report said, "that Mr. Stillman has supported and maintained her as his wife; that during the period she has given birth to two children, who have been recognized by him as his children; that he has supplied her with motor cars and jewelry, supervised her bank account and has borne the same relations with her as a man ordinarily does to his own wife."

According to testimony, offered during the trial, one of the children born to Mrs. Leeds, died in infancy, the other, Jay Ward Leeds, born two months before Guy Stillman came into the world, is still living.

FIFTY FREE BUILDING PLANS

Successful building depends largely upon the plan you choose.

The quality of the material and labor must be considered that a house may have an attractive exterior and pleasant interior, but unless the plans are correct in every detail, success in this line is not possible.

This bureau has for free distribution a booklet showing the types of houses which are architecturally correct, and which, with minor alterations, can be adapted to any section of the country.

The houses shown in this booklet are all originals, not copies.

Any reader can secure a copy by filling out and mailing the coupon below, enclosing two cents in stamps for return postage. Write your name and address clearly.

BUREAU PLACES ADVERTISEMENT FOR FACTORIES

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington, Sept. 29.—That it pays to advertise is now one of the leading articles in the American Credo. Yet, like most generally accepted facts, it is not strictly true. It does not pay to advertise unless you do so efficiently—that is to say, unless you plan your copy skillfully and place it wisely where it will produce the best results.

It would be a mere waste of money, for instance, to advertise such articles as concrete mixers in a women's fashion journal, or to attempt to create a demand for electric fans in Nova Scotia in winter. The important thing is to reach the right markets for a product through the proper advertising medium. For the majority of products the daily newspaper is unquestionably the best advertising medium, as it reaches the largest number of people, but even newspaper advertising yields maximum returns only when it is judiciously distributed.

Realizing the tremendous importance of this factor, the American Newspaper Publishers' association has created a bureau of advertising, with headquarters in New York, Chicago and San Francisco for the purpose of helping advertisers to distribute their advertising medium to the best advantage. To do this, a man must be in possession of certain facts concerning market conditions as they affect his product, and these facts the bureau of advertising undertakes to secure for him.

Through its affiliation with newspapers all over the United States and in Canada, it is able to trail and catch the most elusive facts in any fair-sized town on this continent. If a prospective advertiser were to walk into its offices tomorrow and demand to know how many kinds of phonographs are sold in the city of Portland, Oregon, or Portland, Maine, and why, the bureau could doubtless have the information for him by telegraph within forty-eight hours. But while it is able to obtain facts with amazing speed, its investigations usually are of nationwide scope, requiring weeks of exhaustive research.

Not long ago, for example, the bureau conducted an inquiry into the state of the soft drink market, for the benefit of soft drink manufacturers, with a view to determining whether or not there had been a marked increase in the sales of soft drinks since the coming national prohibition. Here are some of the facts that were discovered:

Money in Soft Drinks.
That the soft drink market is a remarkably fertile field for the manufacturer, for the government's tax receipts of $51,000,000 would indicate that more than $500,000,000 worth of soft drinks were sold at retail during a period of eleven months.

That the soft drink market, and particularly the ginger ale market, is a sectional, if not a local one. Brands that are best sellers in one section of the country are not at all popular in others. Only one brand of ginger ale enjoys a nationwide popularity, and only one soda drink may be said to have a well-nigh universal sale.

That the demand for soft drinks on the whole had greatly increased since prohibition, but that in some localities the sale of ginger ale had fallen off owing to the fact that it was no longer used so extensively as a basic ingredient in alcoholic beverages.

The detailed results of this inquiry, contained in one of the special trade reports on file in the bureau's offices, were of great value to soft drink manufacturers, who were at once able to see where and how to place their advertising. In other words, with the aid of this information, they were able to direct their advertising to meet local market conditions, which were shown to vary widely throughout the country.

In another instance the bureau was asked by a tire manufacturer to help him gather quickly some data showing the size and condition of the tire stock on hand in dealers' shops in this country and Canada. It promptly communicated with its newspaper representatives throughout the continent and in a short time had a long list of detailed reports from which it was able to compile a valuable report on general conditions.

The significant discovery in this case was that tire stocks everywhere were exceptionally low. Dealers were found to be buying slowly and in small quantities, yet most of them were of the opinion that business would soon pick up. The public also, it was disclosed, was exhibiting great reluctance in buying new tires, apparently believing that if it only waited long enough prices would come down. In this connection it was pointed out that cars had been used more extensively that year than ever before, owing to the mild winter; that tires were being patched up to their last extremity by car owners, and that even with no effort on the part of the manufacturers to revive business, natural wear and tear would soon make pressing demands on the dealers.

BANDITS STEAL CITY PAY ROLL FROM OFFICIALS

Bold Daylight Holdup Nets $75,000 in Currency for Three Unmasked Men in Vancouver.

Vancouver, B. C., Sept. 29.—Three unmasked bandits today held up the city paymaster, F. P. Schooley, and Robert Armstrong, a city hall employee, and robbed them of $75,000 in currency intended for a city payroll. The three escaped in an automobile after a spectacular race through downtown streets.

Armstrong and Schooley were returning from a bank to the city hall with the payroll, and had reached a point within twenty-five feet of the city hall entrance when the men sprang at them, ordering Armstrong, who was carrying a satchel containing the money "to drop it quick."

"I did not drop the bag," Armstrong said, "and all three men fired into the ground. I made a desperate attempt to reach the city hall door with the three men surrounding Schooley and myself. I was within three feet of the door when one of the men hit me on the jaw falling me. I suppose I must have dropped the bag, as when I recovered consciousness, it had disappeared."

Police announced they had a definite clue to the identity of the bandits. Employees of the city hall reported they observed three strange men in front of the building this morning before the robbery.

FIREMEN TAKE UP GRIEVANCES WITH RAIL LABOR BOARD

Chicago, Sept. 29.—(By the Associated Press.)—Arguments on the status of chief train dispatchers—whether they are officials or subordinate officials—to determine their right to inclusion in the wage and rule agreements between the firemen and the American Train Dispatchers' association, occupied the attention of the United States railroad labor board today.

While the board was hearing arguments by the road's executives, John Higgins, of the western roads; John G. Walker, of the eastern roads; and Dr. C. P. Neal, of the southeastern group, Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the board, was closeted with D. B. Robertson, head of the railroad firemen's organization.

President Robertson asked for the conference with Chairman Hooper to discuss pending disputes with all the 92 chief dispatchers of the United States. They have been before the board for several months. The two main issues in dispute are the union's request for two firemen or automatic firemen on each locomotive and $500,000 in pounds in weight and experience while away from home.

Coincidentally with Mr. Robertson's arrival John Scott, secretary of the Federal Railway Administration, announced that President B. M. Jewell, now in New York, had signed agreements with additional roads on the Baltimore peace plan, bringing the grand total to 74.

ASSOCIATED STUDENTS AT UNIVERSITY HAVE CHARGE OF ASSEMBLY

Strictly student affairs were introduced at the regular weekly assembly at the state university yesterday morning. Edward Horgan, president of the associated students, was in charge of the assembly. Music was furnished by the freshmen girls in exotic attire, and yells were led by Pat Miller.

Two student elections took place. Miss Esther Morgan was made secretary and treasurer of the associated students, and John Popejoy, football captain, was made student representative to the athletic council. Roy Hickman, manager of the annual publication, the Mirage, made a few remarks in his behalf.

A student dance in honor of the Denver university football team, which will play here October 7, will be given in Rodey hall on the evening after the game, it was announced.

MEMBERSHIP GROWTH REPORTED BY SYNOD OF PRESBYTERIANS

An increase in the number of communicant members from 3,897 last year to 4,305 this year in the Presbyterian synod of New Mexico, was reported at the recent synod meeting at Roswell, according to Rev. Hugh A. Cooper and Rev. Charles McKean of the local church, who have just returned from the meeting. The synod consists of three presbyteries, Pecos Valley, Rio Grande and Santa Fe.

The amount of money raised in the synod last year was $38,751 as compared with $35,533 raised the previous year. The quota assigned the state synod by the committee of apportionment of the denomination was $12,914. The synod reported raising 76 per cent of the money for the denomination for world-wide work.

INCENDIARIES PUT SANTA FE FOLK IN FEAR

Three Fires Started Last Night Simultaneously; A Fourth Attempt Is Frustrated.

Special to The Journal. Santa Fe, Sept. 29.—During operations of fire bugs hold Santa Fe in a grip of terror tonight. A residence, a garage and a barn in different parts of the city were set on fire about 10:30 o'clock, while the firebrands were frightened away from another residence, on which they had poured oil, before the fire could be started.

All of the fires were extinguished without much difficulty, with the exception of Thomas P. Gable's garage, which was destroyed with the loss of a touring car.

To add to the danger, the city's water supply is low. Citizens will organize a volunteer police force to patrol the city. Numerous fires of incendiary origin have occurred in the city in the past two weeks.

BILL BROWN IS CITED TO MEET GAMING CHARGE

Police Raid Alleged Gambling Game at Switzer Barber Shop; Arrest Man Charged With Running It

Charged with conducting a gambling game at the Switzer barber shop, Bill Brown was arrested last night by Police Captain Patrick O'Grady and cited to appear in police court this morning at 9 o'clock. Brown operated a soft drink machine in Old Town until a short time ago when he stopped the business. A court injunction was issued against his operating it for unlawful purposes.

Police are watching the card games at the barber shop for several days. Large numbers of men have been playing cards in the barber shop in the evenings but police say that until last night they were unable to get sufficient evidence to make an arrest. It is charged that the game being played was pitch at 50 cents a player. Five men were playing in the game when the arrest was made, but they made their escape. It is said that the players are known and that their arrests will probably be made today.

MONOPLANE TO TRY NON-STOP JOURNEY ACROSS THE NATION

Washington, Sept. 29.—Plans for the non-stop flight from San Diego, Calif., to New York, to be attempted by Lieutenants Oakley G. Kelly of Grove City, Pa., and John A. MacReady of Los Angeles, as announced today by the air service, indicate that the start probably will be made October 5.

Air service engineers have about completed the remodeling of the monoplane T-2, in which the transcontinental trip is to be attempted. The ship was originally designed to carry a pilot and eight passengers and to have a normal gasoline capacity of 130 gallons with a flight endurance of about six hours.

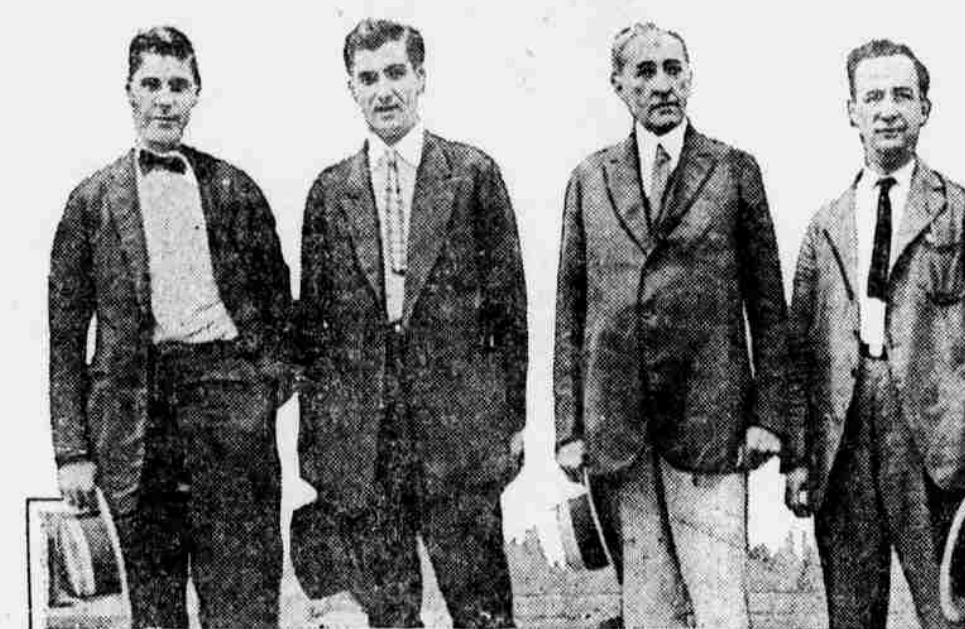

In preparation for the long distance dash the machine has been changed to increase the fuel capacity about six-fold, so that an adequate fuel supply for more than 5,000 miles will be available.

As remodelled the T-2 will carry 750 gallons of gasoline, distributed in three tanks.

Many New Mexicans in List of Injured in Accident Near Antonito, Colorado, Yesterday.

Denver, Sept. 29.—Two engineers were killed and 23 persons injured when Denver and Rio Grande Western train No. 115 crashed into a locomotive this afternoon, 20 miles southwest of Antonito, Colo., on a narrow gauge line, according to a dispatch to the News here.

The dead are David M. Wright of Alamosa and L. J. Kneel, engineer and fireman, respectively, on train No. 115.

U. S. CHAMBER OF COMMERCE OPPOSES SOLDIERS' BONUS

Omaha, Sept. 29.—The United States Chamber of Commerce opposes certain features of the "an-til-trust" law because they are too stringent and will try to have them remedied, according to a statement of D. A. Skinner, secretary of the chamber, which closed a two-day session in Omaha tonight. Thirty-five directors of the national chamber were in attendance upon the meeting presided over by Julius H. Barnes, president.

A committee from the Douglas county post of the American Legion waited upon Mr. Barnes today following his statement of Thursday to the effect that the chamber could never support a bonus bill that carried with it a cash payment to soldiers who had received no disability as a result of the war.

Mr. Barnes informed J. W. Hanbery, a member of the visiting delegation, that the chamber was selecting a committee to investigate the conditions of the disabled veterans and would make strong representations to alleviate suffering and render additional assistance wherever a case warranted it, but reiterated his previous position that the chamber was opposed to a bonus or adjusted compensation act from both an economic standpoint and as a matter of principle.

St. Louis, 3; Chicago, 2. St. Louis, Sept. 29.—Two home runs by Johnny Tobin and masterful pitching in the pinches by Van Gilder gave St. Louis a 3-to-2 victory over Chicago today in the first game of the final series of the season. Tobin, the locals' lead-off man, clouted the first ball Faber pitched, and it went into the right field stands for a circuit drive. His second home run came in the third inning on his second trip to the plate, and the ball fell virtually in the same place the first one did.

Tobin was the first man up in this inning also.

The victory continues the mathematical possibility of the Browns taking the pennant, in view of New York's defeat by Boston today. Should the locals win their two remaining games and the Yankees lose theirs, the teams would be tied for first place and a play-off series would be necessary. Score:

PLAYER CALLED OUT; GOES BACK ON FREAK PLAY

Chicago Nationals Defeat St. Louis, 3 to 0, in a Game Where Umpire Has Knotty Problem.

Chicago, Sept. 29.—Osborne held St. Louis to two hits, while Chicago bunched five of its hits off Pfeffer and defeated the St. Louis Cardinals 3 to 0, in the first game of the final series of the year. The entire visiting club surrounded Umpire Richter in a peculiar play in the eighth inning. Fournier batted for Lavan, and walked. When he reached the base, Mann took his place to run for him without notifying the umpire. Fournier went to the bench, O'Farrell then threw the ball to Grimes, who touched Mann and he was declared out. The St. Louis players ran from the bench while they were arguing. Fournier returned to first. The umpire then ruled that Mann was not in the game and Fournier had not been tagged out. Then Mann was announced as the runner and the game resumed. Score:

A STENOGRAPHER'S ROMANCE

BY JANE PHELPS

AN HILARIOUS EVENING.

CHAPTER 11.

It was early when the girls left the house. They would see the first show, then go to a restaurant near by and have ice cream.

"Oh, Cora, said when Gladys objected. She had seen the delight in Nellie's eyes at her suggestion. It was a cheap little place, the ice cream only 15 cents a dish.

"I could just die eating ice cream. Some day when I am earning $20 a week I'm going to have all I want. All at one time, too."

"Then you will die," Gladys said.

"Never mind, can you think of a happier death? Nice, cool ice cream running down your throat till you fill up and die."

"Oh, Nellie! Was there ever another girl like you?"

"I'll ask Ma sometime! I ain't never heard I was twins."

It was a Charlie Chaplin film, and being in the mood, his fun seemed more ridiculous than ever. The girls laughed continuously, and when they left were in a very jolly frame of mind, ready for their ice cream party.

"Let's eat slow, girls, so it'll last longer!" Nellie said, an ecstatic expression on her face. But the dishes were small and soon finished.

"I'm not a bit sleepy," Gladys said as they left the restaurant. "I guess I've laughed too much, and been too excited over Nellie's luck, to say nothing of the wild dance I had."

"Let's take a walk!" Nellie proposed. "A nice long walk down Broadway and see all the electric signs. It's most as good as going to a show."

It was a lovely night and the others agreed. So arm in arm, chatting happily, the three paraded down Broadway as far as Fourteenth street, then back up to their rooming house.

"You get one kind of sign going down, and another coming back. They look different anyway," Nellie declared.

The theaters were just emptying forth their crowds as the girls passed, and they stopped often to admire and comment on the beautiful women in evening dress with lovely cloaks thrown over their bare shoulders, to speak of the men in their "waiters' suits" as Nellie called the dress clothes they wore.

"Some day I'm going to the theater dressed like that girl we saw, and I'm going with a man in waiters' firm's. You see if I don't!" Nellie declared.

"You don't have any pipe dreams do you, dear Gladys?" Nellie asked with a little sigh. These women and girls they had seen lived in another world, a world of ease and comfort. They didn't work day after day just to keep body and soul together. The sight of them had stimulated Nellie, had passed over Cora, and had made Gladys bitter, almost spoiled her evening for her. She was glad when they left the theater district behind.

"Now to bed, both of you!" Cora said when at last they reached home.

"We've had a dandy evening, Cora, thank you very much," Nellie said as she kissed her good-night. "When Grandpa sees how competent I am I expect he'll give me tickets to take you and Gladys to the opera. I'll ask him anyway."

"Oh, Nellie!" Cora gasped. "Grandpa and such things aren't for poor girls like us, Nellie. Gladys still felt depressed, and it showed in her voice.

"They are if we can get them! And watch little Nellie when she gets to earning money. We're going places we are, 'all work and no play' they said at Miss Carter's, 'makes Jack a dull boy.' Well, it ain't going to make Cora, and Gladys and little Nellie dull girls if I can help it. We have as much right to a little fun as anybody."

"Having the right and having the fun are two different things," Gladys returned.

"Will you two stop talking," Cora called out, "I'm going to go to sleep and I can't with all that chattering."

"Forgive us, Cora," Nellie was sorry at once, and as usual did not hesitate to say so. She almost worshipped Cora, and that she should annoy her, even though thoughtless, hurt.

"Of course, dear, good night!" Tomorrow—Nellie Takes Her Position.

EVEN SMALL GIRLS MUST HAVE FROCKS OF CREPE VELVET

BY ELOISE.

More and more are little girls copying the styles of their elders and really no one can blame them for doing their elders first copy their half socks, bobbed hair and sandals shoes? The little girl of the family likes nothing so much as a dress like mama's or a hat or shoes and so one may be sure that crepe velvet frocks will be very popular with youngsters since it is one of the newer fabrics in women's gowns.

Here is a youthful little dress made of crepe velvet in a tan shade. It is a straight line slip-over model with a double belt of self material. Embroidery, piping and a row of buttons down the front trim the dress. The simple style like this when made of such beautiful material may be worn upon any occasion demanding a dressy frock.

RAY LOYD CAPTURED AFTER ESCAPE FROM THE STATE PRISON

Ray Loyd, prisoner who escaped from the state prison at Santa Fe a few days ago while assisting to the state bloodhounds, was captured by sheriff's officials at Cabazon yesterday. State Penitentiary Warden P. Jaramillo, charged of the prisoner at Cabazon and took him back to the state prison yesterday, stopping for several hours in Albuquerque.

Loyd escaped Tuesday evening from a point about five miles away from the state penitentiary. He was a trusty and had been assisting for some time in training the pack of blood hounds maintained by the institution. That afternoon he had started ahead of the dogs which followed his trail and caught up with him about five miles from the penitentiary.

The deputy warden who had been following the dogs on horseback, dismounted and Loyd got on the horse, as the men were going to ride double back to the prison. Loyd suddenly set off at a gallop and efforts to follow him with the hounds were not successful.

He was serving a three to five year sentence from Luna county on a charge of perjury and larceny.

DUCK SEASON OPENS ON SUNDAY MORNING

Duck season opens in New Mexico on October 1, which is fifteen days earlier than usual according to the new ruling of the federal department of agriculture. The season will close January 15.

Shooting in many sections of the state is expected to be poor during the early season at least, local sportsmen believe, due to the scarcity of water in the Rio Grande and the swamp lands. Many of the favorite gathering spots for ducks are completely dry, and there is little water in the river. It is expected that the ducks will make few steps in this section of New Mexico.

HOME MANICURE.

From time to time I receive requests for complete manicure directions. Manicuring is a very simple art with which every woman who pretends to take care of herself should be familiar. It requires neither a great deal of time nor an expensive equipment, and only a moderate amount of skill.

You will need a long flexible steel file with a pointed end, a bowl to hold water, an orangewood stick, some emery papers, a buffer, polishing paste, a tiny jar of cream or vasoline, perhaps a small bottle of special bleach.

First of all, file the nails to a becoming shape, not too long and pointed, not too short and round. Then soak them for several minutes in the bowl of warm soapy water to which a little lemon juice has been added. Dry them and clean under the nail with the point of the file, bringing up all the rough loose pieces of skin. File these off with a bit of emery board. You now begin the important part of the manicure, which is the treatment of the cuticle. We all agree that it should be cut, yet there are times when it can't be helped. The manicure is not successful if the cuticle is not left smooth and even.

With the point of the file scrape from the nail all the bits of dead skin loosened by the soaking, clip the ragged bits from round the edges of the nail and pressing the skin back as far as possible clip off the little pieces that collect in the corners, otherwise these will form hang-nails. You will always have to use the scissors on the very edge of the nail where it joins the flesh at these corners, since it is never possible to get the file in there.

Beverly: If you understand how to choose foods, when dieting for reduction, you would not feel weakened. From the list you sent me I notice there is very little strength-building food, most of it being made up of starch. This is the reason why you cannot reduce your weight, while all the time you lose strength. I shall be glad to mail you complete instructions about this, if you send me a stamp of the mail where it joins the flesh at these corners, since it is never possible to get the file in there.

Gloria: The only sensible way to treat this tramp hair growth between the brows, is to pull the hairs out with the tweezers as fast as they show above the surface.

A Blond: The reply to "Beverly" answers your request.

RIPPLING RHYMES

TIE PACKAGE.

I know not when my leg may break, entailing anguish sharp; I know not when my back may ache, so I can't play my fard. Today I walk with buoyant tread, I dance around the floor, I cannot see an hour ahead, I know not what's in store. This world is full of ills, and snare, and snare, and joy to mar; I may fall down a flight of stairs, or fail to dodge a car. A sandbag from an airship high may land upon my dome, while weeping peepers hear me cry: "Froud world, I'm going home." Tomorrow, if I'm still alive, I may be racked by pain, while skillful taxidermists strive to give relief in vain. I know not what a day may bring to this poor life of mine; so fondly to this thought I cling—have a care, my friend, if I must cease to pay my lyre and whang out helpful tunes. I will not face a famine dire, I still can buy my prunes, and if perchance the sexton plagues my form beneath a tree, you will see my walling antics beseechingly, and so it is with proper pride I tell myself, at times, "Whatever trouble may befall, I have some pickled dimes. No soul I anticipate, but if the luck should turn, I have about a hundred weight of pennies in the churn."

HI-Y BOYS TO SELL SEASON TICKETS TO MERCHANTS OF CITY

Having completed a successful sale of season tickets to high school athletic contests among the student body, members of the Hi-Y will undertake a sale among the business men of the city next week. The campaign will begin on Monday, it was decided at the club luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday.

A membership campaign has also been launched by the Hi-Y, a number of names of high school students being presented yesterday. The campaign will continue until October 29, when an initiation of new members will be held. There are twenty members at present. George Olson is president, Paul Hammond is secretary, and J. M. Moss, boys' work secretary of the Y. M. C. A. is club advisor.

J. V. Berry, secretary of the association, spoke before the Hi-Y at its yesterday meeting on the subject, "The Hi-Y's Opportunity for Service in the Community." It was voted to have one devotional meeting, one business meeting and two programs each month. The cabinet arranges the programs.

Most Human Ills Originate In The Stomach

SCIENTISTS agree that the stomach is responsible for at least 80% of all human ills.

Indigestion is a direct result of a disordered stomach.

A torpid liver, palpitation of the heart, shortness of breath, dizzy spells, backache, nervousness, headache, constipation, rheumatism and that tired-out, run-down, worn-out feeling are also in most cases caused by stomach troubles.

Tanlac, the world's greatest medicine, is designed to tone up the stomach so you will eat better, sleep better, feel better and work better.

That Tanlac does this is proven beyond question by the statement of hundreds of thousands who have taken it. Go to your nearest druggist.

PROTESTS ARE MADE AGAINST THE PAVING OF S. SECOND STREET

Paving protest hearings were held last night by the city commission in connection with the proposed paving of South Fourth street from Coal avenue south to the city limits; South Second street from Coal avenue south to the city limits and South Seventh street from Central avenue to Coal avenue.

Few property owners attended the hearings. But little protest was made against any of the three proposed improvements save a South Fourth street project. A number of protests have been received against this paving, but city officials were not able last night to state exactly what percentage of the street frontage was objecting to the work. No action was taken regarding the projects, which will be taken up for final decision at the meeting of the commission Tuesday evening.

ARIZONA STOCK SHIPMENT ORDER NOT IMPORTANT

Refusal of Arizona to Operate With State Cattlemen Will Be But Little Felt in New Mexico.

The reported decision of the Arizona cattle sanitary board to refuse range to New Mexico cattle and to refuse to allow shipment through Arizona to old Mexico except in cases where the cattle are shipped through without stopping or are dipped, will have but little effect upon the New Mexico cattle situation, according to M. G. Keenan, secretary of the New Mexico cattle sanitary board.

The main reason that the order will have no appreciable effect is that but few cattle have been shipped into Arizona, which, it is said, is barely able to take care of its own range problem. As for shipping cattle to old Mexico ranges, Mr. Keenan pointed out that the El Paso port is the nearest and most popular with local cattlemen.

Reports that New Mexico cattle are suffering from scabies were denied by Mr. Keenan, who claimed that the state is practically free from cattle scabies, which were to be found only in a few sections. Taken as a whole, Mr. Keenan stated that the New Mexico cattlemen are working out the dry range problem successfully and that shipments to good range are being made daily and that the cattle are in fair condition and not generally emaciated, as was reported from Arizona.
