VESSEL BURNS AT SEA; PASSENGERS AND CREW RESCUED BY FREIGHTER

Wireless Calls Bring Ships Hurrying Through Waters of the Pacific to the relief of Steamship City of Honolulu, Former German Friedrich der Grosse, Carrying 217 People.

San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 12 (by the Associated Press).—All the passengers, officers and crew of the burning steamship City of Honolulu, which was abandoned east of Honolulu at 10:10 a. m. today, are safe, according to wireless advices received by the Federal Telegraph company from the freight steamer West Farallon.

The West Farallon reached the scene early this afternoon and had taken most of the people aboard by 3:41 p. m. The City of Honolulu carried 72 passengers and 145 officers and members of the crew, a total of 217. Fire broke out aboard the City of Honolulu shortly after 5 o'clock this morning, and spread so rapidly that all those aboard had to take to small boats. The sea was like glass when the ship was abandoned.

The ship was homeward bound to San Pedro, Calif., from Honolulu, and was 1,465 miles east of Honolulu and 670 miles southwest of San Pedro when the fire broke out.

Captain H. R. Lester of the City of Honolulu reported later in the afternoon that all were aboard the West Farallon. The condition of the City of Honolulu, which was reported as a burning vessel, was that the fire was in the engine room and had spread to the main deck. The ship was abandoned at 10:10 a. m. today, and the West Farallon was a mile away.

Rescuers 50 Miles Away. Although three other vessels, the Marconi liner, the army transport Thomas, and the private yacht Casana of Edward L. Doheny, Los Angeles oil magnate, heard the distress signals from the City of Honolulu before the West Farallon did, the freighter was only 50 miles away when it started to the rescue shortly before noon.

Conditions were favorable both for the small boats of the City of Honolulu to ride safe and for the West Farallon to make fast time, and by 2:45 p. m. the rescuing steamer had reached the scene and was beginning to take the passengers aboard. All had reached the deck by 3:40 p. m., messages stated.

Only brief messages had been received here early tonight, so it was not known under what circumstances the passengers and crew escaped from the burning vessel. Apparently the sea remained smooth throughout the day, for Captain H. M. Walker of the West Farallon reported conditions were favorable.

The West Farallon, a shipping board freighter, has only limited accommodations, it is believed that many of those rescued from the City of Honolulu will have to remain on her deck until larger vessels arrive. The West Farallon's registered tonnage is 7,451. She was bound from San Francisco for Yokohama.

East Easterners Abroad. Less than half a dozen of the passengers were from the eastern part of the United States. A large number were from Honolulu, most of the rest from Los Angeles and other southern California points, while the remainder came from other parts of the Pacific coast. Thirty-four of the saloon passengers were women.

The City of Honolulu was originally the German passenger liner, Friedrich der Grosse, built at Stettin in 1886 and used in trans-Pacific travel until 1914, when she was interned in an American harbor. When the United States entered the war she was renamed the West Farallon, and used as a transport carrying troops to France.

CITY OF HONOLULU EXPECTED TO SINK

San Francisco, Calif., Oct. 12 (by the Associated Press).—The City of Honolulu is expected to sink, according to wireless messages from the West Farallon, received tonight by the Federal Telegraph company. The boat is gutted, according to the message, but it is possible to save the hull if it will be towed to port.

The West Farallon is standing by, expecting to transfer the rescued passengers and crew to the transport Thomas at daylight.

The army transport Thomas will take the passengers and crew of the City of Honolulu aboard and bring them to San Francisco, and the Marconi liner Enterprise will continue its voyage to Honolulu, according to a wireless message from the West Farallon received early tonight by the Federal Telegraph company. The Thomas is expected to reach the West Farallon some time tonight.

Up to 8 o'clock tonight only two brief messages had been received from the West Farallon since the rescue, one that the transport Thomas, instead of the liner Enterprise, would pick up the survivors.

GREECE AGREES TO ALLOW TURKS TO HAVE THRACE

United States Interested in Effort to Abolish Capitulations, at Coming Peace Conference.

BRITISH WANT EARLY CONFERENCE FOR PEACE

Constantinople, Oct. 12 (by the Associated Press).—Lieut. Gen. Sir Charles Harcourt, the British commander in chief here, will press the allied powers for an early convening of the peace conference, which he believes will be the most important council of world powers since Versailles. It is expected that the deliberations will require from two to three months at least, as the questions for decision are of the widest importance, including the vital interests of all of Europe, and will likely involve many matters entirely outside the Near East.

The allied authorities here will oppose the selection of Smyrna or Constantinople for the meeting of the conference, Maj. Gen. Sir Frederick B. Maurice, discussing the subject today, said.

"It is imperative that a neutral city be chosen. Smyrna and Constantinople are impossible. The present atmosphere of hostility, intrigue and racial and religious animosities, which would surround the delegates. Even Italy is inappropriate, because Italy is a party to the negotiations and is technically one of the enemies of Turkey."

Whole World Interested. The allied representative here probably will suggest Bern, Zurich or Geneva, all of them free from these objections and comparatively near at hand. The conference will vitally interest all the great nations of the world.

The present transportation situation will center in the arrangements for continuation of commercial agreements, as well as the so-called capitulations, as well as protection of the Christian minorities and the rights of religious and educational missionaries to carry on their work.

Perhaps the most important question before the conference will be that of capitulations, which are treaties covering the rights of foreigners in Turkey and providing for their government under the laws of their own country, instead of the Turkish laws, and trial by their own consular courts, instead of by Turkish tribunals.

Want Capitulations Ended. "Our delegates will demand abolition of the capitulations," said Hamid Bey, the Komal representative, today. "They are humiliating and opposed to the best interests of our people. Foreigners there occupy a preferential position and their privileges are denied to the Turks. Why continue a system that has hampered the legislation, justice and finances of the country? Is not Turkey now an independent state? Why not let the full rights of the independent nation be restored?"

The American government will oppose this claim. The American consul general, Gabriel B. Rawnsley, explained that the real reason for the capitulations was that the Turks have not yet separated law and religion in their courts and government, and asserted that Christian nations could not permit their citizens to be ruled by the laws based largely on the religious doctrines and rites of Mohammed.

RAIL RATES ON SHEEP FROM WESTERN STATES ARE BEING CONTESTED

Chicago, Oct. 12.—The National Livestock exchange today announced filing of a formal complaint with the interstate commerce commission against the Atchafalaya and Santa Fe railway and all other livestock-carrying roads in western classification territory, charging that the carload minimum on sheep, lambs, goats and kids in double-deck cars, now being insisted by the railroads, are unjust, unreasonable and discriminatory.

The exchange contends that the 20,000-pound carload minimum, on which freight charges are based, should be reduced to 15,000 and should not run beyond 20,000 pounds, the limit to which it says stock of this kind can be loaded with safety in double-deck cars. The minimum for cars more than 40 feet in length on shipments from California, Nevada, Idaho, Utah and Arizona is 27,000 pounds, with a minimum of 23,000 for small cars, the exchange said. In other western territory the minimums range from 22,000 to 26,000.

The interstate commerce commission was requested to hold hearings in Chicago, Denver and Omaha.

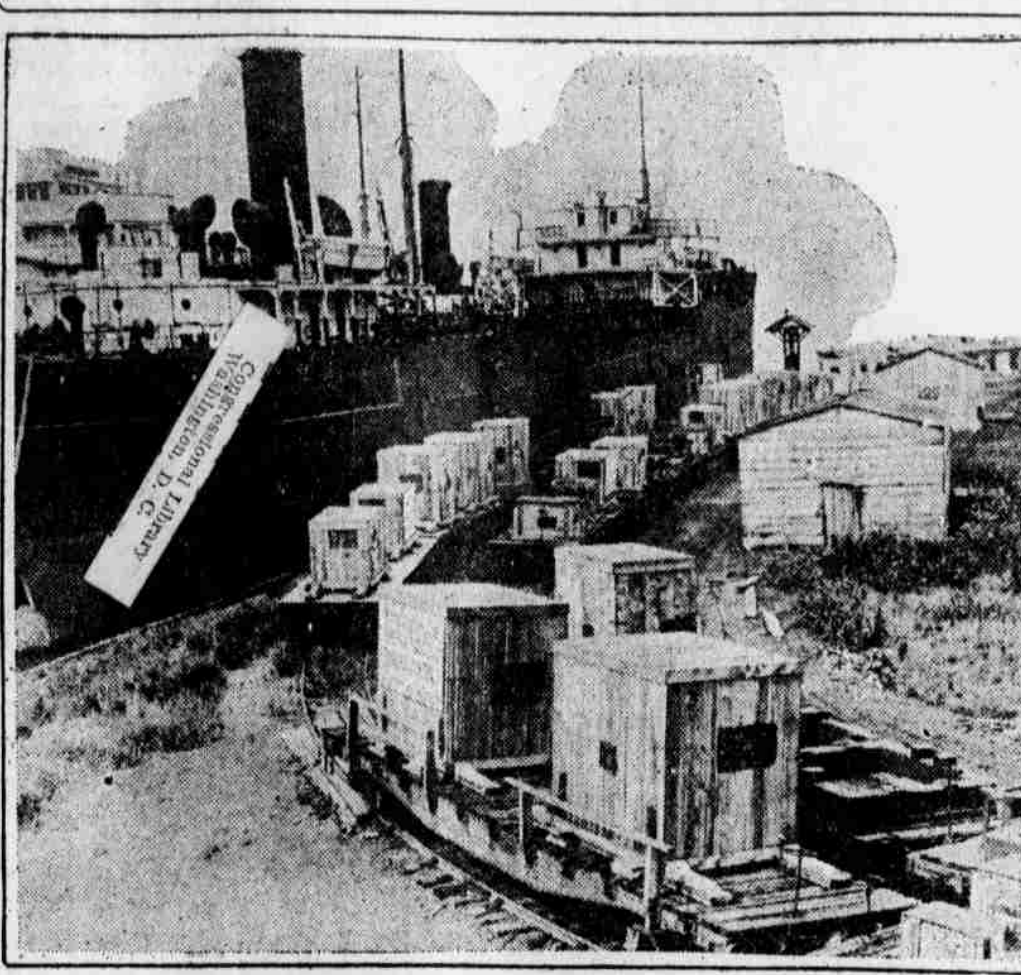

A THOUSAND IOWANS TO GO TO NEW HAVEN FOR GAME WITH YALE

New York, Oct. 12.—One thousand alumni of Iowa and other universities of the western conference will attend the Iowa-Yale football game at New Haven Saturday in a special section that has been reserved in the bowl. They will leave New York on special sections of regular trains Saturday morning.

To enable the Iowa players to catch a 6 o'clock train from New Haven that will return them to Iowa City Monday morning, the Iowa City game has been advanced from 3 o'clock to 2:30, it was announced today. The Iowa team were killed today when the train was struck by a Union Pacific train at a crossing. Mr. Zelvide was killed instantly, parts of his body being picked up along the right of way for a distance of half a mile.

TRANSPORTATION SHORTAGE HOLDS UP PROSPERITY

Editor of Railway Gazette Says Public Is Paying Now for Laws Hampering the Railways.

New York, Oct. 12.—Shortage of railroad transportation is so great and serious "that it is not only limiting but will for a long time continue to limit production and commerce of all kinds," Samuel O. Dunn, editor of the Railway Age, asserted at the annual convention of Associated Business Papers here today.

Almost every other condition is favorable to an increase of production and commerce and a revival of prosperity, he declared, but the transportation situation was aggravated and not created by the coal and railway shortage of the strike. Mr. Dunn said. The condition is due mainly, he added, to the failure of the government to support of the transportation industry and to a long decline in the expansion of railroads.

"Production and commerce are trying to increase as much as they can after the panics of 1921 and 1922 and after the depression of 1914 and 1915," he said. "But the capacity of the railroads has not increased with the increase in production. This is the principal reason why at the very beginning of this period of business revival, the country is confronted with a shortage of transportation."

"The reduction in the expansion of the railroads has been due to the policy of government regulation, which for fifteen years has reduced and restricted the net return earned by them."

"Under a ruling of the Interstate Commerce commission they are now entitled to earn an average of 5 1/2 per cent. This far in 1922 they have earned 4 1/2 per cent. They can never raise enough capital to develop their facilities and handle the country's business until they can earn a larger net return."

"The public has persisted in regarding the railroad problems as chiefly one of rates. It will take a short period by this lack of transportation than it has gained in the last ten years by keeping rates on a basis which has almost stopped railroad development."

CONTRACT IS LET FOR NEW PIECE OF CROSS-STATE ROAD

Santa Fe, Oct. 12.—A contract to grade and surface with crushed stone 4.25 miles of road between Pankey's gate and Canoncito on the Santa Fe-Las Vegas highway was let to Peterson, Shirley & Company of Omaha by the highway department late yesterday.

This project adds 4.25 miles to the constructed road out from Santa Fe to the stretch from the Pankey's gate was completed several years ago. It will eliminate one of the worst pieces of the highway from here to the Meadow City in Santa Fe county.

Another contract to grade and surface with gravel 10.13 miles of road in Torrance county, between Willard and Lucy, was let to McClure & Dobson of Magdalena for $55,556.

STREET CAR MOTORMAN BECOMES A MINISTER

Clarksburg, W. Va., Oct. 12.—Seventeen years a street car conductor and motorman, Carl B. Johnson of Clarksburg became a minister today. The veteran employee of the Monongahela Power company turned in the controller of his car and left for Parsons with his family, to become pastor of the Methodist Protestant church.

A decade ago Johnson was asked to give a little talk at a gathering of employees in the car barns. He told of every day experiences and added a few fragments from the Bible to draw comparisons. The address appealed to the employees and Johnson spoke regularly after that.

Six months ago Johnson was invited to speak from a local pulpit. The consequence of his sermon was a series of invitations from other churches. An opportunity to enter the ministry followed.

TIES ROPE AROUND NECK, ATTACHES IT TO HORSE; KILLED

Larned, Kans., Oct. 12.—J. J. Lumberger, 45, a farmer residing southwest of here, committed suicide at his farm today, neighbors declare, by tying a rope around his neck, and fastening the other end to the collar of a horse which he frightened and forced to run from the barn. The animal dragged the man out into an open field.

LYDD GEORGE LOSES GROUND BUT HOLDS ON

Support of Conservative Group Is Slipping From Premier; Wishes to Return to Party System.

London, Oct. 12 (by the Associated Press).—A liberal cartoonist today depicts Premier Lloyd George making a flight from Manchester in a "new engine glider," the discarded engine being the conservative party. This broadly represents the political situation, for although Austen Chamberlain, Lord Balfour and the Earl of Balfour and other conservative ministers are still supporting the coalition, the bulk of the conservative party is believed to be opposed to the continuance of Mr. Lloyd George's leadership and is anxious to get back to the party system.

An indication of the complete uncertainty of the whole position is seen in the suggestion made today that Mr. Lloyd George will wait for the Chamberlain speech to tomorrow before finally drafting his Manchester speech, because Mr. Chamberlain's speech will prove how far he may count upon the support of the conservative section of the ministry.

The present belief is that both ministers will devote themselves chiefly to a defense of the government's policy, and there are rumors that the premier may reveal some new facts in connection with this, in further justification of the British policy.

Excitement in political quarters continued at fever heat, the only universally admitted fact of the situation being that Lloyd George has no intention of resigning.

St. Louis, Oct. 12.—The St. Louis Nationals have recalled five players, while the local Americans have recalled Dave Danforth and listed recall notices on 11 others, according to announcement made here today.

The recalled players for the Cardinals are: Henry Vek, John D. Stuart, Edwin Dyer, Harry McCurdy and Mike Kiercher. The players on whom the Browns have posted recall notices are: Frank Smith, Henry Belne, Phil Todd, William Tatum, Charles Root, James Elliott, James Riley, John Heving, Frank Henry and Dudley Lee.

Danforth, who was under fire before being sent to Tulsa under option in the middle of the season, was released, it was announced, to perfect a new delivery.

FIXING OF NEW RATES TO COME THROUGH BOARD

Tariff Commission Given Authority by Harding to Apply the Theory of Flexible Schedules.

Cleveland, O., Oct. 12 (by the Associated Press).—Drafting of all labor from banker to laborer in war time, advocated by Colonel L. H. Ruggles, of the United States ordinance department, and announcement by William S. Cullbert, vice chairman of the United States tariff commission, of an order by President Harding that all investigations under the flexible provisions of the tariff law for a change in rates should be filed with the commission, featured tonight's sessions of the American Mining congress.

"When the drafting of labor at home is mentioned, it should not be understood to apply only to manual laborers, frequently referred to as 'workers,'" Colonel Ruggles declared. "It should include every male citizen physically and mentally capable of service in the defense of his country. If we can draft men's lives, we certainly can draft their business during an emergency. Such a plan should be of universal application. Each man would be required to keep at the work assigned to him, as a soldier must stay on his job."

"There would be no striking for higher wages, no absence without leaves, no quitting one job to go around the block and pick up any other agency for higher wages."

A Court Procedure. Mr. Cullbert said that October 7 the president had signed an order that "all requests, applications or petitions for action under flexible provisions of the tariff law, shall be filed with, or referred to the United States tariff commission." He said that consideration of individual tariff rates would undoubtedly be broadly construed, and that the powers conferred on the president by the new tariff will "lead to greater stability."

"The commission will be at liberty to narrow or widen the scope of any case laid before it, and will not be limited in its findings to the relief asked by the applicant," Mr. Cullbert said. "The proceedings will be of a judicial character. The commission's findings will be arrived at under regular procedure, such as would be followed by a court or by a commission."

Resolutions passed by the congress today included providing for a transportation committee to study freight rates in the mining industry to see whether the charges are "fair and equitable," as compared with charges for transportation of other industries, and condemning the Denison blue-sky law, and all legislation "set up by individuals or commissions to pass without appeal on mining investments."

Hard to Get Crews. The Cullbert commission pointed out that the carrying out to effect of the Daugherty opinion would cause the steamship companies great pecuniary loss by reason of difficulty in obtaining crews and by the diversion of passenger business to Canadian ports. It further stated that it would be impossible to comply with foreign laws, notably an Italian law requiring wine of 12 per cent alcohol content be supplied to officials of an ad valorem duty on the wine, and that the cost of carrying third class passengers on ships carrying third class Italian passengers.

The ruling, the complaint continued, would also violate existing treaties between the United States and Great Britain. It further alleges that the interpretation on the national prohibition act represents an unconstitutional and void act, and that the authority conferred upon the secretary of the treasury by the provisions of the act.

FRENCH LINE WILL SHOW ITS DEFANCE

Paris, Oct. 12 (by the Associated Press).—The French line has decided to fight the Washington ruling against carrying liquor by foreign-owned liners within American territorial waters and, in the event of an adverse decision in the United States supreme court, will move to obtain an appeal to the international court of justice at The Hague.

"Liquor is usual" up to the three-per cent limit was the decision of the board of directors of the French line made today after two long sessions, "then seal up the bars and let international law take its course."

The British liners are understood to be in perfect harmony with the French company in this matter. The first test case is likely to arise over the White Star liner Majestic, which is scheduled to sail from Cherbourg, October 15, to New York.

The steamer Homeric, which cleared yesterday from Cherbourg, and the French liner Lafayette, sailing Saturday, are within the limit set by the Washington edict.

France has decided to await developments, leaving the question for the present entirely in the hands of the shipping companies. They will, however, make representations about the vested rights of its nationals, represented by sailors and stokers aboard French-owned ships and flying the French flag, be deprived of their half or even three-fourths of their wages.

Mr. Rio, minister of merchant marine, is preparing the data on the subject for Premier Poincare. The latter may take up the matter with Washington should the French-owned ships be seized. Mr. Rio has asked the opinions of French experts on international law.

French line officials are absolutely appalled at the Washington reports that their ships are liable to seizure as common smugglers. They declare that, outside the financial loss which would be irreparable, there is the question of personal privilege and liberty, on which they would be unwilling to yield.

"Taking away wine from our sailors and stokers is just like taking milk away from babies," said M. Villiers, head quartermaster of the French line, to the Associated Press correspondents. "I am sure that no one would be able to do that."

FRENCH LINES PLAN TO IGNORE RULING

Will Appeal to International Court at The Hague if Decision in America Is Not Favorable.

New York, Oct. 12 (by the Associated Press).—On the eve of the date set for enforcement of the federal prohibition ruling, prohibiting passenger vessels, both American and foreign, from bringing liquor under seal into American ports, enforcement authorities today were faced with two important test cases. One was a temporary restraining order, granted today by Federal Judge Learned Hand, enjoining local enforcement authorities from molesting liquor on board the American steamers Finland and St. Paul. The other was an order directing the government to show cause why an injunction should not be issued restraining them from interfering with ships of the British-owned Cunard and Anchor Lines. This was issued by Judge Hand last night.

The injunction granted today was based on the fact that the federal prohibition ruling, prohibiting passenger vessels, both American and foreign, from bringing liquor under seal into American ports, enforcement authorities today were faced with two important test cases. One was a temporary restraining order, granted today by Federal Judge Learned Hand, enjoining local enforcement authorities from molesting liquor on board the American steamers Finland and St. Paul. The other was an order directing the government to show cause why an injunction should not be issued restraining them from interfering with ships of the British-owned Cunard and Anchor Lines. This was issued by Judge Hand last night.

WATER QUESTION A LIVE SUBJECT FOR VEGAS TALK

Considerable Element of the Population Wants Municipal Ownership; Company Promises Relief

Special to The Journal
Las Vegas, N. M., Oct. 12.—While Las Vegas is still enjoying what seems to be an ample supply of the good old mountain water of which it has so long and proudly boasted, there is considerable agitation among factions here as to the reason for the threatened shortage.

While many of the old timers are frank to acknowledge that this has been an exceptionally dry year, they are not willing to admit that it has been "the worst in the memory of the oldest inhabitant," which is the water supply company, claims, and justly, no doubt, that it is conserving all the water available at present for the city's use, and it is supported in this position by the committee of citizens comprised of Mayor F. O. Blood, Dan Stern, B. F. McGuire, E. A. Condon, and Cecilio Rodriguez of the city council; John H. York, chairman of the board of county commissioners; Donald Stewart of Gross Kelly and company; William H. Springer of the Charles Hild company, and J. B. Wilson, president and manager of the Agua Fria company.

President Wilson pointed out to this committee that he is conserving all the water available. The committee, having gone over the ground carefully with Mr. Wilson, was unanimous in the opinion that he was stating facts. Mr. Wilson explained to the committee many contemplated improvements which would materially obviate any future water shortage for this city. Old Residents Skeptical.

The older residents of Las Vegas, those who were here before the christening of the Agua Fria company, assert that Mr. Wilson's promises are but repetitions of unfulfilled pledges of his company that they have heard each succeeding dry season for many years past. They claim to see in the unusual situation an opportunity which the water company seeks to take advantage of to install meters, rather than to provide the long-promised increased storage capacity to protect the town against unusual droughts.

Like all questions of this sort, the citizens are showing a disposition to take sides; in fact, it is becoming a real local issue. It is contended by some, particularly those in favor of municipal ownership of the city's water supply, that they should no longer be called upon to trust to the future of the Agua Fria company and the element. They believe that the city has too long been taxed, and they contend outrageously, for a service that they have not received. They insist that Las Vegas has been unusually blessed by the foresightedness of its founders in selecting its location. Water from the mountains, several hundred feet above the city, has thus far not failed to furnish an inexhaustible supply. They further contend that the Agua Fria company has sat idly on the pine-clad slopes of the canyon and assessed the willing public.

Company Makes Improvement.
The friends of the Agua Fria company insist that the company has made strenuous efforts, even beyond its present receipts from the sale of water, to keep abreast of the rapid growth of the city. It is pointed out that they have doubled their pipe line capacity from the canyon, and built a new storage dam in Peterson canyon, giving them many millions of gallons additional storage capacity, which in ordinary times, should and would supply the needs of the city. They make the further claim that they believe President Wilson of the Agua Fria company is entirely sincere in his declaration, that before another year additional impoundment will have been supplied, to protect the city from a threatened crisis like the present, until, at least, it has doubled its present population.

So it seems that the alleged water shortage is not really a question of whether the Volsteaders shall be driven from our midst, but whether a municipal or corporation owned water supply shall prevail.

muster crews for New York, should the edict be upheld. Wine is one of the prime necessities of life for these boys.

The financial loss to the French line would be hundreds of thousands of francs monthly. On one trip in August with 1,011 passengers aboard, the steamer Paris sold 1,260 bottles of champagne, 332 bottles of fine burgundy and Bordeaux wines, and 87 bottles of liquor.

The Parisian evening newspapers take a decided attitude against the American ruling. La Liberté says: "Wine is our patrimony, the same as our literature, our art and our customs. It cannot be taken away from us."

DYED COAT OF MRS. HALL MAY BE GOOD CLUE

Detectives Take New Line in Murder Case After Schneider Denies Story of the Double Killing.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 12 (by the Associated Press).—The case against Clifford Hayes, who was held four days as the slayer of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Miller, blew up with a boom today, and the authorities turned back in their investigation to theories that provided a more logical motive for the double crime.

The blowup came when Raymond Schneider, Hayes' accuser, summoned Prosecutor Beekman of Somerset county to the jail at Somerville, where Schneider was held as a material witness, and repudiated his own story of the crime. The authorities immediately renewed their investigation of leads which had been relegated to the discard when Schneider's statement led them to declare they had solved the case. The new turn took them back to the home of Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the slain clergyman, and to that of James Mills, widower of the dead choir singer.

Detectives Seize Coat.
Detectives visited the Hall home and took away a rawn colored coat and scarf which she had dyed in Philadelphia since the murders. They sent it to an analytical chemist for analysis of brown spots which the Philadelphia cleaners reported were beneath the black dye they had applied.

Mrs. Hall is known to have worn a light colored coat in the early morning of September 15—the morning after the murders—when, according to her story, she went to the Church of St. John the Evangelist, looking for her missing husband. She has told the authorities her eccentric brother, Willie Stevens, accompanied her to the church and back. Witnesses who saw her return home declare she returned alone at about 1:30 a. m.

Detective Fitzpatrick, who went for the garments, reported Mrs. Hall acted "peevish" when he demanded them.

Mrs. Hall's attorney, however, issued a statement saying Mrs. Hall was glad to surrender them, though the action came "rather late."

James Mills, church sexton and husband of the slain choir singer, was questioned briefly at Prosecutor Stricker's office again this afternoon, but the nature of the questions asked him could not be learned.

A Party of Four.
State troopers, who have become increasingly active on the case, let it be known that one of the theories now entertained is that the slayings were perpetrated by a party of four—three men and one woman, who traveled in two automobiles.

Unconfirmed reports reached here from Philadelphia today that the gold watch removed from the minister's pocket had been found in a Philadelphia pawn shop.

Detective Collins went to Philadelphia to check up on the watch, and also to seek further information from the dyeing and cleaning firm which did Mrs. Hall's work.

Schneider suffered a nervous collapse this morning. Then he sent word to Prosecutor Beekman of Somerset that he had something more to say. When Beekman entered, with a stenographer and three newspaper men, Schneider blurted out with tears streaming down his face, that his earlier statement was "all a lie."

He had told the story, he said, to get revenge on Hayes, who, he believed, had told stories tending to involve him in the Hall-Mills case.

Beekman immediately went before Justice of the Peace Sutphen, who had held Hayes for the grand jury, and asked that the murder warrant against him be dismissed. The request was granted.

When Hayes reached home, his mother, who had expressed confidence in his innocence from the start, staggered out to meet him, and flung herself into his arms. Hayes helped her tenderly up the porch steps.

Schneider still is in the jail as a material witness. Prosecutor Beekman refused to say why he still was held.

NOTED SPEAKERS AUGMENT G. O. P. CAMPAIGN PARTY

Mrs. McCarter, Kansas Author; Representative Beedy of Maine, and Senator Bursum to Talk Here.

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 12.—Mrs. Margaret Hill McCarter, the famous novelist of Topeka, author of "Vanguard," a Romance of the Santa Fe Trail, will return to New Mexico this year to speak on behalf of the republican ticket. Mrs. McCarter assisted Senator H. O. Bursum in the special election of last September, speaking at Albuquerque and Las Vegas. Her Albuquerque speech was pronounced one of the best of the campaign. She will join the Davis-Warren party in time to make addresses at Santa Fe and Las Vegas.

Carroll L. Beedy, representative in congress from Maine, will join the party about the same time, and make several addresses. Representative Beedy is said to be a fine speaker.

Candidates Seek Oil.
Excitement over the oil strike in San Juan has made it necessary for headquarters to cancel the trip into that county which had been planned for Judge S. B. Davis, Jr., and Mrs. Adeline Otero-Warren. Reports from that district show that tent cities are springing up, and people have no thought of anything except oil. Candidates of both parties for representative in the legislature have quit the campaign work to look after oil leases.

Following the day meeting at Bernalillo and the night meeting at Cuba, in Sandoval county, Thursday, the Davis-Otero party comes into Santa Fe for a conference with the campaign managers. From here the party will go into Rio Arriba county, holding a meeting at Chama on the night of October 17. The party then will return to Santa Fe and go for a tour of Torrance county. The plans between October 19 and October 26, are not yet definitely made, and are subject to revision. Some time between these two dates, a big meeting will be held in Albuquerque.

Senator H. O. Bursum and other party leaders will attend and address the county convention which will be held in Torrance county on October 18, and the Sandoval county convention on October 25.

Beginning with the Santa Fe meeting on the night of October 17, Senator Bursum will remain with the Davis-Otero party for the rest of the campaign trip. This trip has been scheduled as follows: October 27, night meeting at Las Vegas, where Senator Bursum, Representative Beedy and Mrs. McCarter all probably will speak.

October 28, Saturday, night meeting at Springer.

October 29, Sunday, will be spent at Raton, resting.

October 30, Monday, night meeting at Dawson.

October 31, Tuesday, night meeting at Raton.

November 1, Wednesday, night meeting at Des Moines.

November 2, Thursday, night meeting at Clayton.

November 3, Friday, night meeting at Mosquero, county seat of the new county of Harding. A big barbecue has been arranged by the citizens of Mosquero and vicinity for this date.

November 4, Saturday, night meeting at Tucuman.

November 5, Sunday, the party will return to Las Vegas and disband.

PETER EARLY WINS KENTUCKY STAKE IN GRAND CIRCUIT TROT

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 12.—Grand Circuit racing was resumed here today, the features being the Kentucky, for 3-year-old trotters, and the Phoenix, for 2-year pacers.

Peter Earl won the Kentucky stake in rather easy style. The best time for the event was 2:13 1-2.

The finish in the first heat of the Phoenix was close. Edna Early just getting up in time to win from the favorite, John Henry, by a nose. The second was also close. This time Julia M. Direct beat Edna Early by a neck. The favorite, John Henry, went into a break at the end of the stretch and finished fourth. After this heat the race was carried over because of darkness.

Bingenwood, Jr., became the first double winning of the meeting, in leading the 2:12 pace. Homefast, away ahead in the first heat of the grey Canadian sidewheeler, Tony the Hero, Fondabel pressed Bingenwood in the second, and it was again Tony the Hero that made the contention in the final heat.

The 2:16 trot was also a split heat affair. Plain Mac won the first in easy style, with Bingenwood the contender. The consistent Bingenwood won the second heat with Trumpator second and Plain Mac out of the running. In the final Plain Mac was a rather handy winner.

GERMAN CHAMPION HERE.
New York, Oct. 12.—Erich Hagelacher, who claims the professional billiard championship of Germany, today became the fourth entry in the world's championship 18.2 ball line tournament which will open here next month.

About the only real issue in this campaign, so far as we can see, is that the democrats claim they would not have done quite so badly as we republicans have done, and we republicans claim they'd have done even worse.—Ohio State Journal.

Williams, Ariz., Oct. 12.—Monday night the Coleman Lake Development association was organized with George Kimball, president, and A. M. Root, secretary-treasurer. The purpose of the organization is to make of Coleman lake, through increasing its supply of water by drainage of surrounding mountains, a desirable resort center for Williams and vicinity. Plans for erecting summer cottages, dance pavilion, etc., at the resort, were discussed.

I Promise You

That as your Governor I will give you a clean and honest administration. I have made no pre-election pledges to any individual, but the one I now make to all of you, which is, that for every office I have to fill by appointment I will find a man who is honest and who is qualified by training and experience to properly fill the position. I will not discriminate in favor of or against the Spanish-American, nor in favor of or against any action of the state, but will simply be the governor of the whole people for the best interests of all as I see them.

Agriculture and live stock are the chief sources of wealth in New Mexico. I believe that these basic industries must be protected and given a chance to grow, so that all classes in the state may prosper; that drainage and irrigation must be fostered; that mining development must be encouraged; that our natural resources, invigorating climate and scenic and historical attractions must be advertised.

I believe that our highway construction should continue; that our educational facilities should be improved; that the rights of the laborer should be more adequately protected and that the health and general welfare of our people should receive more consideration.

To these problems of construction, development and protection I will devote all my energy and thought.

Mr. Hill came to New Mexico in 1907, purchasing a tract of 1,000 acres of undeveloped land in Dona Ana county about ten miles from Las Cruces. This tract of land, which is under the Elephant Butte Project, he has developed into one of the best and most productive farms in the state. The village named for him, Hill, N. M., has grown up around his home and farming enterprise largely through his personal efforts. Mr. Hill has been a member of the board of regents of the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts for a number of years and is now its Chairman. (Political Adv.)

NEW RAILWAY TO BE CONSTRUCTED INTO NORTHWEST

Bids for Building of Track Will Be Opened by New Mexico and Northwestern Officers Today.

Bids for the construction of the New Mexico and Northwestern railway, which will penetrate the northwestern section of New Mexico and join the Santa Fe lines at Bernalillo, will be opened by officers of the new railway company today. Among a long list of bidders, some of the most important and well known in this vicinity are the Gannon Construction company of Los Angeles, which is personally represented at the bidding by Thomas Gannon; the Peterson, Shirley and Gunther company, of Omaha, Neb.; and the Stryker Construction company of Denver.

Work on the construction of the siding and spur track which is to connect the Santa Fe line with the new railway at Bernalillo, was started yesterday, and it is hoped will be completed within a few days, as little grading is required. The Santa Fe company is constructing the connecting line. The siding and spur line will be used for bringing and unloading materials for the railway construction.

With the starting of the construction of the railway line, the lumber mill which has been under consideration for some time, will be built in order that it will be ready to take care of the first shipment of logs from the Jemez mountain forests.

Officers of the Bernalillo Township company, of which Louis H. Field is president, Sidney M. Weil, vice president, and Louis McKee, secretary and treasurer, announced that the plotting of the new additions to the city of Bernalillo is progressing rapidly and that a number of lots in the business section of the town have already been purchased, mostly by Albuquerque men.

Among other large purchases in the business section are those of Rosenwald Brothers, who have purchased an 80-foot frontage near the court house and are planning the erection of a business building covering a ground space of 80 by 142 feet. Strong Brothers have purchased the adjoining three lots and contemplate erecting a store building. Dr. Walter G. Hope has also purchased an 80-foot frontage near the court house.

Plans are now under way for an electric light plant and for securing better sewer facilities.

With the coming of a coal peace there remains nothing to worry about except the delivery of coal and the arrival of the bill.—Brooklyn Eagle.

FOOCHOW IS TAKEN BY HU TSUNG-CHI; GOVERNOR IN FLIGHT

Amoy, China, Oct. 13 (by the Associated Press).—The city of Foochow, capital of Fukien province, has been captured by the invading forces of General Hu Tsung-Chi, and Governor Li Hou-Chi is reported to have taken refuge in the Japanese bank of Taiwan, according to telegrams received here. The capture of the capital is supposed to have taken place late this afternoon.

General Hu Tsung-Chi, formerly an army commander under Sun Yat Sen, the deposed president of the South China republic, is leading one of the two invading armies in Fukien. General Hu, Shu-Chen, known as "Little Hu," in command of the other invading forces, was reported in dispatches from Peking yesterday to have been repulsed by national troops at Shikow, 50 miles northwest of Yenping, where he had established an independent military government.

FRANCE TO FOLLOW NAVAL PLAN LAID DOWN AT WASHINGTON

Paris, Oct. 12.—France's naval program, which will be presented to the chamber of deputies at an early date, according to the Figaro, will be spread over a period of 20 years, and consequently is of a general character. It will fix the total tonnage for each class of ships without specifying the number of vessels, which is left for the building programs to be arranged every five or six years.

It is understood the proposed figures are as follows: Battleships, 175,000 tons, the figure fixed by the Washington naval agreement; cruisers, destroyers and torpedo boats, 330,000 tons, the existing tonnage; submarines, 65,000 tons, not including the small types suitable only for coast defense.

Execution of the program would necessitate continuance for the entire period of the 200,000,000 franc appropriation accorded by the national construction bill for the year 1923.

New York, Oct. 12.—"Irish Johnny" Curtin of Jersey City, and Terry Martin, Providence, R. I., fought a ten-round draw at the Polo grounds today. Both weighed 130 pounds. The judges also declared a draw the ten-round semifinal between lightweights Joe Tipitz of Philadelphia, and Andy Thomas of Brooklyn.

Billy Miske and Tom Gibbons, St. Paul pugilists, finished training today for their 15-round match tomorrow night at Madison Square Garden.

Should Miske win, he will be matched to meet Harry Willis, champion of the negro heavyweights, according to promoters of the Miske-Gibbons battle.

BASEBALL FAN IS NOT RESPONSIBLE DURING WORLD'S SERIES-JUDGE

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Oct. 12.—A learned judge sided with an ardent baseball fan today, setting aside a conviction and $2.50 fine for refusal to obey a policeman's order to move on. It was shown that the order was given on October 4 at a time when the Giants and Yankees were tied in the first world's series and Babe Ruth had just come to bat. The fan, W. L. Lance, had a point of vantage in front of a score board when arrested.

"The day, place and hour," said the court, are instantly suggestive of extreme palliation. They tended, indeed, to establish temporary suspension of human responsibility for thought, word or deed."

TRIBUTE IS GIVEN TO ENGLISHMEN WHO BEFRIENDED AMERICA

Washington, Oct. 12.—Tribute to the work of the Sulgrave institute in fostering friendship between Great Britain and the United States was paid by Secretary of War Weeks today in accepting on behalf of the United States the statue of Edmund Burke, presented to the people of this country by the institution.

The bonds of friendship which have maintained peace between the countries for more than 100 years were recalled by officials of both England and America when two statues of distinguished Britons, both friends of this country, were unveiled, the gifts of the institution. The statue of Burke, friend of the colonies in the early days of the revolution, was unveiled in a city park and a bust of the late Viscount James Bryce, long British ambassador to Washington, was unveiled in a corridor of the capitol. Both bronzes were presented by Sir Charles Cheers Wakefield, former Lord Mayor of London. Chief Justice Taft accepted for this country the gift of the Bryce memorial.

The America has never had two stronger friends than Burke and Bryce," Secretary Weeks declared. "And certainly they understand America and its ideals and aspirations better than most Englishmen of their respective times."

SOUTHERN PACIFIC WILL NOT SETTLE WITH THE UNIONS

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 12.—"There will be no settlement with the striking shophmen so far as the Atlantic system of the Southern Pacific is concerned," President W. W. Clegg declared here tonight before leaving for San Francisco.

"Statements from union leaders that Mr. Jewell is in New York to see Julius K. Brown, chairman of the board of the Southern Pacific company, are simply tales told in an effort to hold together a nucleus of a union," Mr. Scott continued. "Our shophmen are not to normal and we have signed a contract with the men now at work. Some of our former employees have come back with the status of new men."

Renss, as director of accounts. They are due in Paris October 19, where they will consult with E. J. Swift, European business manager for the Red Cross in reference to purchases of supplies, and then will proceed to Athens, where headquarters will be established for the permanent Red Cross relief commission.

Chairman John Barton Payne today appealed to Red Cross chapters for garments to meet the needs of clothing for the refugees. "If not new," he said, "should be cleaned and mended before sending and the shoes should be in good repair and tied together in pairs. The production committee and the Junior Red Cross in every chapter are urged to rally at once to this work of mercy."

MRS. DE BOUCHELE TO CHARGE CANDLER WITH CHARACTER DEFAMATION

Atlanta, Ga., Oct. 12.—Mrs. Onizima de Bouchele will return to Atlanta within 10 days or two weeks to institute legal proceedings against Asa G. Candler, Sr., Atlanta capitalist, and others for alleged defamation of her character, according to a statement by Harry Gamble, her attorney, just before the two boarded a train tonight for New Orleans.

Mrs. De Bouchele, in statements since her arrival here last Sunday, had said Mr. Candler told her he had decided that his marriage to her, which had been scheduled for September 20, was "impossible" because of reports that had been brought to him reflecting on her, which he declined to reveal the source of his information.

A woman friend of Mrs. De Bouchele from New Orleans accompanied her on the return trip. Before her departure Mrs. De Bouchele said she must rest now. "The ordeal has been tremendous," she said, "but no more than making up my mind to go through with it."

MACNIDER OPPOSED TO A SECOND TERM

New Orleans, La., Oct. 12 (by the Associated Press).—Hanford MacNider, national commander of the American Legion, declared that under no circumstances would he be a candidate to succeed himself as national commander, and that he would "bitterly oppose" any proposal to change the constitution of the legion which would make possible a second term for a national head of the legion. "I would regard such an action by the legion as a tragic mistake," MacNider said in a statement.

The announcement was brought forth by repeated rumors, current among delegates here today, that in the event of an impending deadlock over the national commander, friends of MacNider might bring forward a constitutional amendment which would make it possible for him to succeed himself, with a view to carrying forward the fight for national legislation for adjusted compensation.

Chicago, Oct. 12.—The most efficient teachers of today are the newspaper reporters, E. W. Howe, Atchison, Kans., publisher, declared tonight in an address before the Medill School of Journalism of Northwestern University.

"Many of the best educations of this new age are obtained from newspapers," he declared.

RACING SCHOONER LOST

Halifax, N. S., Oct. 12.—The Canadian destroyer Patriot had not located the schooner Elise Nose late tonight, following the parting of the tow line between the two vessels early today, while the naval boat was towing the Nova Scotia fishing champion to Gloucester to take part in the international schooner races. This report was contained in a wireless message from Commander Jones of the Patriot.

MARSHALL IS ARRESTED

Dublin, Ga., Oct. 12.—Ernest Bush, 28, marshal of Caldwell, 20 miles from here, is in jail tonight charged with murder in connection with the death of Matthew Burch, 27, also of Caldwell, who was shot last night. Witnesses said the shooting started when both men were alone behind the prescription counter in a drug store. Bush, who surrendered, told officers that Burch fired the first shot.

CALOMEL GOOD BUT NEXT DOSE MAY SALIVATE

It is Mercury, Quicksilver, Shocks Liver and Attacks Your Bones

Calomel salivation is horrible. It swells the tongue, loosens the teeth and starts rheumatism. There's no reason why a person should take sickening, salivating calomel when a few cents buys a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone—a perfect substitute for calomel. It is a pleasant vegetable liquid which will start your liver just as surely as calomel, but it doesn't make you sick and can not salivate.

Calomel is a dangerous drug, besides it may make you feel weak, sick and nauseated tomorrow. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of Dodson's Liver Tone instead and you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Your druggist says you don't find Dodson's Liver Tone acts better than treacherous calomel your money is waiting for you.—Adv.

MIDSHIPMEN ARRESTED FOLLOWING HAZING AT U. S. NAVAL ACADEMY

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 12.—Three midshipmen are under arrest at the naval academy here and one in the hospital as the result of alleged hazing at the institution within the last two or three days. Those under arrest are first-class men. The midshipman in the hospital is a fourth-class man.

Authorities at the academy declined to divulge the name of the midshipman in the hospital. Rear Admiral Henry B. Wilson, superintendent, said a board of inquiry would be appointed tomorrow to investigate the reports. He said he was much distressed over the alleged affair, particularly in view of the privileges he had extended to the first-class men since he took charge at the institution this year. The senior midshipmen have been allowed more leave on holidays and more general liberty than has ever been known in the history of the school.

Unless the guilty midshipmen admit what they did, he said, the whole first-class will be dealt with summarily. They will be denied the privilege of attending the University of Pennsylvania football game in Philadelphia, October 28, he said, and will have other liberties curtailed.

WIND AT TUCUMCARI UPSETS AIR JOURNEY

San Diego, Calif., Oct. 12.—Heavy rains and high winds sweeping the Texas Panhandle and the territory between Tucumcari, N. M., and St. Louis, will prevent the start of Lieutenants J. A. MacReady and Oakley Kelly, army aviators, their proposed non-stop flight from San Diego to New York until probably Sunday, they announced late today.

SIKI BREAKS A CONTRACT FOR BOUT IN U. S.

Senegalese Fighter, Who Was to Meet Unknown Opponent in New York, Says He Is Not Coming.

New York, Oct. 12.—Information from Paris that Battling Siki, who recently defeated Georges Carpentier and won the light heavyweight championship of the world, has decided not to come to the United States, caused a surprise in metropolitan sporting circles, as the Senegalese was booked for a bout November 20 at Madison Square Garden with an unnamed opponent.

Tex Rickard, the garden promoter, who announced that he had closed negotiations with M. Heller, Siki's manager, for the bout, could not be reached, but his partner, Frank Flounoy, expressed complete surprise. He said it seemed improbable to him that Siki would attempt to break an engagement made by Heller.

"Whether his contract with his manager expires on November 20, as our cable states," Mr. Flounoy said to The Associated Press, "is of no consequence, because Siki is bound by what arrangements M. Heller makes while that contract is in effect. We shall expect Siki to come here."

It still would be possible for Siki to fight in New York November 20 and return to Paris to meet Jack Dempsey, in a heavyweight championship bout in December, Flounoy said, providing he cared to fight twice.

It was reported here that Dempsey and Jack Kearns, his manager, were expected to arrive in San Francisco today, and efforts to verify the report that efforts to obtain a contract with the Senegalese to appear here, and Rickard had emerged apparently successful. He declined to name the purse offered and said he had not picked an opponent.

In the meantime, Kid Norfolk, negro light heavyweight, posted a $2,500 forfeit with the New York boxing commission and challenged Siki, and it is understood, would be Siki's first opponent if he comes here.

BOXER PEEVISH OVER DIVISION OF SPOILS

Paris, Oct. 12 (by the Associated Press).—Battling Siki is sulking in his tent at Amsterdam, Holland. He refuses to heed calls sent by his manager, M. Heller, and the prospects of his making a voyage to the United States before the new year appear to be remote.

The Senegalese left Paris for the home of his wife in Holland somewhat at odds with his manager over his share in the Carpentier fight purse. He told several friends he would not renew his contract with Heller, which expires on November 20, as there was some discrepancy over the moving picture rights and his percentage of the money forthcoming from his defeat of the French idol.

Siki's commanding officer during the world war, the colonel of his regiment, who is regarded by the Senegalese as a demi-god, requested Robert Eudeline, a well known French manager of several boxers, to look after Siki's affairs after November 20, but Eudeline refused the request.

BY NORMAN E. BROWN.

From curling to baseball is some jump.

But, according to the dope from Minneapolis, Dick Wade, slugging outfielder of the Millers, can give curling credit for leading him into the major leagues. He has been purchased by the Washington club for next season.

Dick hails from West Duluth. While only a kid he became an adept at the "old man's game," curling. Even after he broke into professional baseball with the Michigan-Ontario league he continued to keep in curling form in the winter months.

It was while competing in the annual tourney of the Northwest Curling association, the blue ribbon event of the sport in Canada, that Dick met and became friends with George Belden, president of the Minneapolis Millers. Belden was president of the curling association and was drawn to Dick by the lad's remarkable showing against the steady old vets of the association.

When Belden got a line on Wade's baseball ability he immediately signed him for the Millers. The past season Wade's hitting was one of the bright features of the Millers' play.

WINSLOW FOOTBALL TEAM EXPECTED TO ARRIVE HERE TODAY

The Winslow High School football team, which is to meet the local High at Washington park Saturday afternoon, is expected to arrive here this afternoon at 2:10 o'clock. The squad is composed of 13 men. The game is expected to be one of the hardest on the local High's schedule this season, and Coach Addison Moore stated last night that if his men can come down to earth after several rather successful practice clashes with the Varsity squad, he expects them to give a good account of themselves.

Bleachers have been erected in Washington park sufficient to accommodate at least 1,000 persons. The Winslow game is the first hard contest of the season for the Highs, and marks the opening of the regular schedule with out-of-the-city teams.

SPECIAL CLASS IN APPARATUS AND MAT WORK AT THE Y GYM

A new gymnasium class of young men has recently been organized at the Y. M. C. A. for special apparatus and mat work. It was announced by Physical Director Williams yesterday. The class meets on Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening at 8 o'clock. Other gymnasium classes on the schedule are playing basketball exclusively. Considerable interest has been displayed in the boxing courses offered, according to Mr. Williams. Elementary instruction is given by him in both boxing and wrestling.

EDDIE MACK MAKES A HIT IN SANTA FE: A SECOND BOUT PLANNED

Special to The Journal

Santa Fe, Oct. 12.—Arrangements are under way to stage another bout in Santa Fe for Eddie Mack, the Alamosa bantamweight, who recently knocked out "Demmon" Rivera of Las Vegas in the seventh round of a 12-round bout here. It was the first time Rivera had ever been knocked out. Old residents of the city say it was the best fight that was ever pulled in Santa Fe.

Dan Ortiz, manager of the Santa Fe baseball team, is in charge of the arrangements, and the bout will be under the auspices of the baseball club. An effort is being made to sign up the "Mexican Kid," who is said to be fast and clever.

Several poor bouts had almost killed interest of boxing fans in Santa Fe, but Eddie Mack revived that interest with his fast, clean fighting. When he fights in Santa Fe again, he will be sure of a capacity house, fans say.

AROUND THE COURT HOUSE

As a result of an alleged collision between a street car operated by the City Electric company and a truck owned by Jose Gonzales and driven at the time by Antonio Gonzales, two damage suits were filed in the district court yesterday. The owner of the truck asks $350 for alleged injury to the truck and $200 which he claims is the amount of his expense in procuring other conveyances for his family. The driver asks $1,000 as a result of alleged personal injuries.

Viola Mabel Wolking filed suit for divorce from Harry Silas Wolking in the district court yesterday. She asks for the custody of their minor child and for money for its support.

Victorino Trujillo filed suit for $200 against Esteliano Ortega in the district court yesterday. The suit is based upon an alleged promissory note.

Victorino Trujillo and Ramon Archuleta, trustee, started suit in the district court to collect $600 said to be due on a promissory note from Antonio Padilla.

COLORADO WEAK ON EVE OF THE LOBO INVASION

Six First String Men Out of Game; New Mexico Also Hampered by Loss of Three Good Players.

The Lobo football squad, sixteen strong, with Coach Johnson, left at 8:30 o'clock last night for Boulder, Colo., where the Lobos will play the University of Colorado tomorrow afternoon.

The Lobo eleven is suffering from the loss of Captain John Popejoy, star tackle, who is on crutches with a sprained knee, and also from the loss of Harrington, quarter and half, who was injured in the Denver U. game, and was unable to make the Boulder trip. Hopkins and Dutton, tackle and center, two of the strongest Lobo linemen, are barred from the Colorado game by the same migratory rule which kept them out of last Saturday's game.

Word from Boulder states that the Colorado team is suffering from an epidemic of injuries on the eve of the game, and that six first string men are out of the game temporarily.

Men who left for Boulder last night are: Greuter, center; Pearce and Ferguson, guards; Greenleaf and Thompson, tackles; Bryan and Kelly, ends; Jones, quarter and half; T. Popejoy, quarter and half; W. Hernandez, fullback; Hammond, half; Benjamin, half; Stinnett, guard and tackle; L. Hernandez, center and end; Cartwright, tackle and end; Grenko, half.

Mexico City, Oct. 12.—The cold wave which has persisted in the valley of Mexico for the last two days, has seriously damaged the corn and bean crops, according to the reports received by the department of agriculture. In some places ice is said to have formed, an almost unheard of condition here.

LUNCHES AND FLOWERS FOR NELLIE.

Chapter 22.

Nellie had lunch twice with Mr. Robinson, and once she had brought home a wonderful bouquet of roses he had given her. When she looked at the flowers, she said: "What's the use of refusing a good thing when he tells me he wants company? And he always has flowers on his desk. This is the bunch he had today. They're just like the ones he gave me." "But I wouldn't lunch with him, Nellie," Cora thought. She saw other girls wearing. She said: "Well, I don't see anything wrong in it—but if it worries you I'll eat my little, old cheap lunch and give him the 'go-by.' It's hard enough. He sure knows what to order for a hungry girl."

"I know, dear, but I'm sure it isn't right for you to accept so much from him. If he wasn't so old, it would cause you to be talked about. I think he means it all in kindness, but I shall be happier if you don't accept his invitations." Cora really did not think Mr. Robinson meant anything out of the way; he had seemed just a kind and fatherly. But Nellie was so young, so outspoken, so pretty, and so alone in the world.

"That old bookkeeper makes me wild," Nellie burst out after a time. "He's always watching me out of the corner of his eyes. I make believe I don't notice, but I see it just the same."

"Jealous of the boss' attentions, perhaps," Gladys said, laughing. "Nellie always amused her. Naturally quiet, not knowing how to say quick bright things, the younger girl's lively spirits were a constant source of amusement to her."

"Not him! Milk wouldn't sour where he was—his so much sourer."

Nellie was really progressing wonderfully. She was in earnest in her wish to improve and this added to her natural quickness. Her work was so easy she had time and strength to study, often at the office as well as at home.

"Sometimes I write the letters he doesn't even dictate them," she told the girls. "Of course he always reads them over before he signs them. He says I write a splendid business letter, that I come right to the point without wasting words. I almost never make a mistake."

"Tomorrow—Nellie Demands Her Salary."

"Call a taxi for me, Smith," Nellie stood first on one foot and then on the other. He pleased what would he think? He'd probably feel insulted, think she was one of those fool girls who thought if a man was nice to her, he was in love with her. She'd have to go. But she said: "I must send word to Cora. She'll worry."

"We'll call a messenger from the restaurant and tell her you have gone to the theater," he kindly replied. "I'll be back in half an hour."

She'll worry."

spelling now either—though once in a while I have to look up a word, to be sure.

All three of the girls were doing well, were happy and contented, as far as girls who practice constant self-denial can be. Nellie had no one dependent upon her as had the other two, but as she did not earn as much, what they had to spend for themselves was about equal.

Cora and Gladys, perhaps, would have liked better clothes, but they never talked about it; but as time passed, Nellie longed for the stylish, pretty things she saw other girls wearing. She said:

"It was different at the Corners. Nobody looked very wonderful, but here in New York the girls do look so lovely in their pretty things. I feel like a great ugly weed in a garden full of beautiful flowers."

"Never mind, dear. You'll earn more soon than you can look like a flower too, but make it a quiet sort of flower. Gay colors are not suitable in an office although I know many girls wear them, probably can't resist them if they can afford them." She thought that Nellie properly dressed would be the fairest flower of all.

"It had been several weeks since Nellie had dined with Mr. Robinson, and she had kept her word, refused to lunch with him—although he had invited her several times. But as she was leaving the office one night he said:

"I have two tickets for a good play tonight. Would you like to go?"

"Of course, I would," she answered, her eyes shining. She thought he meant to give them to her. Now she could take Gladys.

"All right, then! We'll have a little dinner, then! We'll have a theater, and then we'll go."

BEAUTY CHATS

By Edna Kent Forbes.

HAIR TONICS.

Every woman should possess the formula for a good cold cream and a good hair tonic. As a matter of fact, by the intelligent use of these two things and a few simple lotions made from ingredients in daily use in every house, she can give herself as elaborate beauty treatments as she wishes.

Another day I will talk about the cold creams and the household formulas. Today I want to give you my hair tonic again because I know of no other that is as good or better. The formula follows:

Pilocarpine Hydrochlorate, 2 grains
Precipitated Sulphur, 30 grains
Creosol (Lily) . . . 30 drops
Castor oil . . . 10 drops
Alcohol (95 per cent) . . . 1 ounce

Tr. Cantharides . . . 4 ounces
Cologne (Farina) . . . 4 drams
Rose Water . . . 8 ounces
This formula you may use as it stands, or you may make the following changes in it according to your needs. The Pilocarpine is the most expensive ingredient in the formula and is to stimulate the color cells of the hair making the hair valuable for those suffering from premature grayness, or those whose hair has lost its richness of shade from ill health. Without it, it is still a splendid general tonic, and the creosol oil may be left out. There is not enough of either to affect the quantity of the formula. Even with these three eliminated you have a formula containing an antiseptic, a strong stimulant in cantharides, an alcohol sufficient to blend, and rose water to make the proper quantity.

This should be used daily or two or three times a week.

Caroline:—Consult a doctor about the condition of your eyes as you are inviting more trouble by putting off this treatment.

Reader:—I think red vinegar would answer quite as well as white in the formula you sent me.

Envious Blonde:—The juice of half a lemon in a basin of water, as the last rinse of the shampoo, will help to keep the hair light.

Gloria:—Never massage coconut butter into the face or neck as it may invite a growth of hair.

Amy:—Consult the doctor concerning your growth on your leg and do not handle it any more as you have been doing.

F. A.:—Bleach off these liver spots and clear the system. Close these enlarged pores by using aspirin or ice after you have cleansed the skin.

ENGLISH LORD AND LADY "DO" THE SOUTHWEST

Perform All Conventional Tourist Rites in Albuquerque; Traveling Through in Private Car.

The sound of a Harvey house going on a windy night appeals as strongly to the royal family of England as to the Kansas City traveling men. Lord Louis Mountbatten, cousin to the Prince of Wales, and his bride, the richest heiress in England, and party, in true tourist form last night sought the hotel dining room first and did their curio hunting later.

All except the young lord himself. He's a noble youth for a fact, who lived up to all the traditions of valor one is taught to expect from the royal folk. When he heard that someone in the party had to be subjected to an interview, he stepped up and volunteered, gallantly insisting that the rest of the party go in and eat dinner while it was still hot.

Holding open the dining room door, with one hand and urging one of the party royal retainers to go in with the other, Lord Mountbatten conducted the following monologue:

"Wonderful county. Please go inside. We knew it was and that's why we came here. Don't wait for me. We spent most of the day on the observation. No, I'd rather talk now. We stop in Humboldt tomorrow. Then we see the Grand Canyon and California. Yes, I'll be right in. I've been in California before, but never this way. The Indians are very interesting. Don't mention it. Goodbye."

And in view of the fact that he probably was really hungry and that his new wife was looking with some anxiety through the door, the young nobleman was allowed to join his dinner party without expressing a single quotable opinion on flippers, prohibition, the Near East situation, or the world's affairs.

His lordship is an exceedingly personable young man with a charming manner. He is unusually tall and slender with high cheek bones, sandy colored hair and a genuine smile. He speaks with the paradoxical choppy drawl characteristic of Englishmen. His bride, whom he pointed out with some pride among the several other young women in the party, is pretty, with fluffy light brown hair, she stepped from the train bareheaded and wrapped in a large dark fur coat.

The royal party was standing up in their private car with wraps already on when the train pulled into the station. They were escorted to the dining room by several waitresses, a railroad official and were followed by a crowd of university girls who had deserted their departing football heroes to catch a glimpse of a real lord and lady.

The party will arrive tomorrow at Humboldt, Ariz., near Phoenix, for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. George M. Colvocoresses. Lord Mountbatten is reported to be interested in Arizona copper mines, and will inspect some property in that district before going to the Grand Canyon. They will spend some time in California and return east by the northern route, visiting all of the large cities.

"We have only three months for a honeymoon," explained Lord Mountbatten. "I'm in the admiralty, you know, and I just must be back when my leave is up."

So they hurried on last night after an hour in Albuquerque.

BURGLARS CAUGHT IN ACT OF ROBBERY AT STORE AT WILLIAMS

Special to The Journal.

Williams, Ariz., Oct. 12.—At 8:30 p. m. Tuesday burglars were detected in the act of robbing the store of the Holmes supply company. L. G. Edgar, the acting manager in the absence of G. J. Allen, who is out of town, was returning to the store for a forgotten parcel, accompanied by Nicolo Gomez, an employee of the firm, upon reaching the front door, Mr. Allen noticed the intruders, so withdrew to the shadows of the entry to act as guard while Gomez was dispatched for an officer. Marshal Burns answered the call, but in the meantime one burglar having become aware of the detection, crawled through a broken transom over the front door and calmly sprang down upon the unsuspecting guard, and quickly made his escape.

Gomez and Marshal Burns made a thorough search of the building but it is supposed the second burglar made his escape while the officer was in the rear of the store. Only a few minor losses have been noted. It is the supposition that the robbery is the work of persons familiar with the store and apprehension of the guilty ones is expected.

HUSBAND OF WOMAN HELD FOR MURDER PUT UNDER ARREST

Los Angeles, Oct. 12.—Armour L. Phillips, whose wife, Clara Phillips, is awaiting trial for the murder of Mrs. Albert Meadows, was taken into custody late today while he was visiting Mrs. Phillips at the Los Angeles county jail. He was detained, the record showing him to be "held for investigation." The district attorney's office earlier announced an investigation was being made regarding stories published in local newspapers relating to testimony it was said Phillips is ready to give at his wife's trial.

Mrs. Phillips is alleged to have killed Mrs. Meadows with a hammer because of jealousy. The trial is set for October 20 next.

In connection with the proposed German moratorium, it is said that if France can devise a method of keeping a mule so weak that it can't kick and yet so strong that it can work, there might be a solution of the difficulty.—Punch.

DAVIS TALKS OF DEVELOPMENT AT GALLUP MEETING

Republican Candidate for Senator, With Mrs. Otero-Warren and Hilario Delgado, Warmly Greeted.

Special to The Journal
Gallup, N. M., Oct. 12.—Stephen B. Davis, republican candidate for United States senator, Mrs. Adelina Otero-Warren, republican candidate for representative in congress, and Hilario Delgado, republican candidate for state auditor, spoke in Gallup last night at public meetings at four different places, at the court house, at the Rex and Strand theaters, and at the Spanish-American hall. All four places were filled with people who were anxious to hear and see the candidates.

None of the candidates spoke at any great length, but all spoke to the point. Mr. Delgado made a brief address.

The candidate for senator made a very good impression with his pleasing manner of speech and his interesting subjects which he covered briefly. He spoke mainly of things pertaining to the development of the resources of the west, which are so large that they cannot be undertaken by individuals, but must be handled under the supervision of the government, through acts of congress.

Mrs. Otero-Warren proved herself to be an interesting talker and held her audience well with the matters which she brought before them forcibly.

The speakers were introduced by Gregory Page, chairman of the McKinley county republican central committee. The program at the court house was opened with a speech by the chairman, in which he touched only on local matters and particularly on the matters which were to be discussed at the hearing of State Traveling Auditor A. G. Whittier, held here Monday morning. He assailed A. T. Hammett, chairman of the democratic county central committee, referring to him as "the most stupendous distorter of the truth in McKinley county." He also took to task some of the county candidates who had been inconsistent in bringing about the public hearing, some matters before which pertained to tax assessments with a banking institution with which Mr. Page is associated.

All of the republican candidates spoke at the fair at Whitewater yesterday afternoon. A number of the republican county candidates also spoke there, as well as a few of the democratic candidates.

VETERANS ASK LANDS FOR THE GAME MONIES

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 12.—A telegram was sent to all owners of baseball teams in the National and American leagues urging them to wire Judge K. M. Landis, to turn over the proceeds of the tie game played in the recent world's series to a fund for the relief of disabled men of the world war, was sent from here today by C. Hamilton Cook, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans.

The judge issued a statement later, saying that the proceeds of the game would be turned over to charity.

WOMEN AND MEDICINE

In Europe, years ago, a woman named Hildegarde wrote a notable book on medicinal plants. In these days the men were too busy bothering about dogmas of religion and medicine, and the study of herbs was thought beneath their notice.

It was the women, however, who mostly conducted the hospitals and cared for the sick, and thus they learned much of great value. They let the men fight out the question of theories.

Lysia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, prepared almost fifty years ago by a woman, Lysia E. Pinkham, did then, and does now, relieve the ailments peculiar to women. It is a Vegetable Compound and of great value for this purpose. This is proven day after day, and in your own neighborhood, by grateful women who have used it.—Adv.

Tigert of Washington, D. C., national commissioner of education. Both are educators of nationwide reputation.

U. S. PRINTERS HAVE OWN REST ROOM AND CAFE

BY FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington, Oct. 12.—Three o'clock in the morning may suggest the end of a festive evening to some people, but it is simply a short order counter where they can quickly buy a cup of coffee or a piece of cake to supplement their printing office east lunch in the big red printing office belongs to the employees. There are rest rooms, shower baths, a well-equipped bowling alley, and a large assembly hall with a stage at one end. The employees bought a $1,000 grand piano for this hall. But their sense of fitness did not allow them to use so dignified an instrument for lunch time dancing. So a sturdy upright piano that could be hammered without fear of injury was added to the furnishings of "Harding hall."

A year ago a much meant a dry or soggy sandwich out of a coat pocket, eaten in the work room. Or else it meant a trip along a dark street to an open-air night restaurant. Lunch at 3 a. m. was a gloomy diversion at best in those days.

But now the big government printing office has gone in for humanized efficiency. The U. S. Government Printing Office association is functioning. When the 3 a. m. lunch bell rings the Congressional Record workers hurry into the elevators that will carry them to the new cafeteria on the top floor of the building. After eating a hot meal served at cost price, they spend the remainder of their free time lounging in a rest room, or in the big assembly hall playing a phonograph and perhaps dancing.

Cafeterias and recreation rooms in offices and plants are no longer a novelty now. But the Government Printing Office claims some unusual features along these lines. This government bureau is the first to organize eating and recreational activities on a strictly co-operative and self-sustaining basis, with employees forming the board of directors and the various committees. It is also the only government bureau to run a cafeteria serving meals on a 24 hour a day schedule.

Up to a year ago the biggest printing plant in the world made sandwiches for its employees. It gave 4,200 people jobs, and provided them with up-to-date equipment, scientific lighting, and a rest room to play or buy a cooked lunch they went outside the building.

Then George H. Carter, public printer of the United States, became particularly interested in the lunch problem. Cafeterias in the neighborhood of the printing office were high priced or dingy. Some 4,000 people, Mr. Carter recalled, were eating around him every day in the most imprudent fashion. He doubted if stale sandwiches and tepid milk could be so efficient and cheering stimulants for the after-lunch period.

Every inch of serviceable space in the huge building was used for machinery and workers. But Mr. Carter studied the pointer, roof and the building itself. He decided that the roof could be raised at the sides to form a complete eighth story. He called his employees together and talked it over. The result was that the bureau decided to go into the cafeteria business on a large and efficient scale. The government would pay for alterations in the building and the employees would undertake to finance and direct the business.

Employees Save Money.
A fund of $4,500 was raised by contributions of one or two dollars from every member of the new association, and with this capital the cafeteria started doing business January 23. Today Mr. Carter estimates that $50,000 meals have been served and the cafeteria is saving the employees of the office $200,000 a year.

Prices of the food served are said to be from 25 to 50 per cent cheaper than those in restaurants in the vicinity of the bureau. The printing office sells soup to itself at 4 cents a bowl. Salad is 10 cents; sandwiches are 5 cents; a pint of milk, 6 cents; pie and cake, 8 cents; and vegetables are 5 and 8 cents. Even with these low prices the association reports that it has replaced the $4,500 which it started and that it has made $1,000 profit in addition.

The 24-hour day on which the cafeteria is obliged to operate, runs smoothly. The employees who come on duty for night shift can get late supper before he starts his shift, lunch in the early morning, and breakfast before he leaves the office; while the day worker can get his three meals at the cafeteria in a more usual order. Several hundred of the employees do take advantage of this opportunity to eat all of their meals at the office, and thus to save considerable money.

Nearly every employee in the printing office eats lunch in the cafeteria. Before it was opened those who brought lunch in ate at the presses and machines where they were working. The Cafeteria association decided, however, that every worker should have a change of environment during the lunch

REPUBLICAN PARTY ADDS THREE WOMEN TO CONGRESSIONAL CANDIDATE LIST

Mrs. Winifred Mason Huck, left; Mrs. Adelina Otero Warren, right, above; and Mrs. Lindsay Patterson.

The Grand Old Party seems to have no qualms as to the capabilities and efficiency of the feminine sex. Miss Alice Robertson of Oklahoma having served one term in congress has paved the way into the Republican fold and now three more women from three different states are running for congress. Mrs. Lindsay Patterson is running in North Carolina. Mrs. Adelina Otero Warren of New Mexico is the first woman who ever defeated an incumbent in office for nomination. The third woman is Winifred Mason Huck, nominee-at-large to fill the vacancy caused by the death of her father, Congressman W. E. Mason.

REPLACE POLICEMEN BY COMMUNITY NURSES, SAYS CHILD SOCIETY

Washington, Oct. 12.—The story of efforts to make a nation of better grownups by perfecting the health of its children and making them happier was told tonight at the annual convention here of the American Child Hygiene association. It is the hope, Mr. Hoover said, that eventually "ten policemen may be replaced by one community nurse."

At the same time Mr. Hoover announced virtually a complete replacement of the two great voluntary child societies engaged in the work—the Child Hygiene association and the Child Health Organization of America. He also informed the convention of a plan by which a complete demonstration in every avenue of child health is to be had through the munificence of the commonwealth foundation, which has guaranteed for a term of years funds aggregating $200,000 per annum for the work.

The convention received from President Harding a letter commending the work of Mr. Hoover and his associates in the attempts to correct physical frailties in children and declaring that "the love for children was the tenderest sentiment of civilization." The president expressed gratitude for the work done and best wishes for the organization's future efforts.

Greater co-operation between Kiwanis and Rotary is promised.

GREATER CO-OPERATION BETWEEN KIWANIS AND ROTARY IS PROMISED

Greater co-operation than in the past will make the future relationship of Kiwanis and Rotary clubs in the southwest district. It was promised the local Rotary club members by William R. Blair of El Paso, district governor of Kiwanis. Mr. Blair, who was a guest of the Rotarians at their luncheon yesterday, spoke of Kiwanis as the "younger brother of Rotary."

Dr. George S. Luckett, head of the state department of health of Santa Fe, outlined the work of his department. He explained that the work is chiefly supervisory, the state department assisting the county health departments in their activities. Cyrus K. Drew, editor of the Insurance Report of Denver, addressed the club on the subject of "The Death Market."

The support of the Rotary club in the coming high school football game between Albuquerque and Winslow, was asked by Clinton P. Anderson. The high school is at considerable expense bringing a team from such a long distance, he explained, and would need all assistance possible from the business and professional men of the city.

NEGRO HOLDS UP PASSENGERS ON SANTA FE TRAIN

Enters Car on Eastbound California Limited, Gets About $200, and Escapes in the Darkness.

Kansas City, Oct. 12.—Police today were searching for a negro, who late last night held up a Pullman car of Santa Fe train, No. 4, the California Limited, soon after it pulled out of the Union station here, and robbed the passengers of about $200 in cash and jewelry.

The negro boarded the rear car just as the train left the station and completed the robbery before the city limits were reached, leaving the train somewhere between Fifteenth street and Sheffield, a suburban station. The train did not stop, and a dispatch from Lexington Junction, Mo., about 50 miles east, early today gave the local police their first information of the robbery. This dispatch was thrown from the train by the conductor.

It, with another received later from Marceline, stated that after boarding the train, the negro forced all passengers of the observation car to place their valuables on a folding chair. When they complied, the negro picked up his loot and ordered the passengers to hold up their hands while he made his way to a vestibule and escaped.

UNIONS WANT JURY TO HEAR APPEAL FOR LASTING INJUNCTION

Chicago, Oct. 12.—A jury will be asked to hear the testimony of the government's appeal for a permanent injunction against the Federated Shopcrafts Union, Donald R. Richberg, counsel for the railroad unions, announced tonight. Mr. Richberg said he expected to appear before Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson next Monday, with his appeal that a jury hear the case.

Mr. Richberg contended that the government's injunction proceeding involving testimony and affidavits concerning alleged acts of violence, bordered on a criminal action and that the case should be treated as such.

He also said he had been notified by Blackburn Estelme, assistant United States solicitor general, that a government motion made today that the hearing on a permanent injunction be referred to a master in chancery not earlier than October 15 or later than November 1, had been granted by Judge Wilkerson and an order entered to that effect.

GOVERNMENT WELCOMES A TEST FOR THE RULING ON LIQUOR ON SHIPS

Washington, Oct. 12 (By the Associated Press).—Issuance by Federal Judge Hand in New York of a temporary injunction restraining prohibition and customs agents from enforcing the liquor ban against vessels of the American Line, was accepted today in government circles as effectively bringing before the courts the question of the authority of the government in this respect.

Failure of counsel for the British-owned Cunard and Anchor Lines to obtain a similar order was expected to lead to a renewal of their petition, either in New York or some other federal judicial district, with a more detailed showing of the damages which they alleged would result from operation of Attorney General Daugherty's interpretation of the liquor law.

Formulation of regulations by Secretary Mellon to carry out the terms of the liquor ruling was expected to be automatically postponed by the effect of Judge Hand's action.

Reports from Paris that French and British shipping interests were preparing to initiate other suits to test the validity of the liquor on ships ruling were welcomed at the department of justice as offering hope of a speedy determination of the issue in case the Cunard line's suit should prove defective in some technical element. Officials here were under the impression that the "real court fight" would be made upon the question of whether the Volstead act infringed upon the rights of friendly nations and if so, whether an act of congress which had such effect was constitutional.

Roswell, N. M., Oct. 12.—Artesia High school and the prep team of the New Mexico Military Institute met on the Institute grounds here Saturday in a fast game, the outcome of which was a score of 20 to 13 in favor of the visitors.

CHARLES LEE HILL.

Although the campaign has been under way for more than a month, neither the Democratic candidates nor their spokesmen have advanced any reason why Charles Lee Hill, Republican candidate for Governor, should not be elected. Even by some of the newspapers strongly opposed to him on purely political grounds, Mr. Hill has been highly praised for his personal integrity and for his capacity as a business man.

Unable to assail his qualifications for office, the specious charge is made that Mr. Hill is not a resident of New Mexico. It is said that he has interests in Texas. It is enough for voters to know that the man who bids fair to become the next Governor of New Mexico has been a resident property owner and taxpayer in the state for the past sixteen years. He has established a model farming community in Dona Ana County and served as President of the Board of Regents of the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts and has been a member of the Board under three Governors.

Mr. Hill's nomination came to him unsought and far from being a compromise candidate, he was the final choice of all the delegates in open convention after repeated balloting. He has pledged himself to a clean and honest administration, in the interest of the whole state. Mr. Hill is familiar with the needs and problems of the state and has avoided extravagant promises which he knows are impossible of fulfillment.

The people of New Mexico will be fortunate in having such a man as Charles Lee Hill at the helm of their government.

CONGRESS AND THE SCHOOLS.

If one fact has been made more evident than any other in the present campaign it is that the Democrats are finding it increasingly difficult to establish an issue. The latest proof of their lack of comprehension of what constitutes an issue is to be found in the campaign that is being made by John Morrow, the Democratic candidate for congress. Such unimportant matters as the tariff or the state lands which are now under the control of the federal government are of no concern to the aspirant for Congress. Mr. Morrow, we are told, is an educational leader and therefore he proposes to carry the fight for education to Congress. The platform on which Mr. Morrow is waging his campaign demands:

"A system of Education that will give to each boy and girl an equal opportunity for an education."

"Education for all our people, including illiterates regardless of age."

"A Department of Education in the President's Cabinet, federal aid and a uniformity of text books, a protection against centralization of power. In other words, a department of education without federal centralization."

"Proper salaries and tenure of service for teachers."

"A proper teachers' pension act for service rendered at the appropriate time and an appropriation of U. S. land to the state of New Mexico for that purpose."

"Sanitary and up-to-date school houses and equipment."

While Mr. Morrow would lead the people to believe that they are incompetent to handle their own educational problems and therefore promises to secure "federal aid" by advocating a "Department of Education in the President's Cabinet," he hastens to assure the people that he is "against centralization of power." Thus, like his colleague, Senator Jones, who is at once for and against a protective tariff, Mr. Morrow is for and against "federal centralization."

Mr. Morrow avoids any reference to an eight-hour day in schools, for teachers and pupils alike, which is being advocated by Mr. Hinkle. It would be interesting to know whether Mr. Morrow would advocate a measure calling upon the Colfax County Teachers' Association to teach eight hours a day if he were elected to Congress.

Mr. Morrow's conception of the duties of a member of Congress are, to say the least, illuminating.

HARDWICK'S GESTURE.

It is to be hoped Georgia voters will rebuke Governor Hardwick for his hypocritical political gesture in appointing a woman of 87 to the United States Senate to succeed the lamented Tom Watson. Georgia law provides that a successor to Watson be elected in November, and Hardwick is an avowed candidate for the seat. Since the Senate is not now in session and will not convene again until the middle of November or later, Hardwick took no chances in making his bid for the woman vote. His appointee will never be sworn in and, in any event, will not be a candidate against Hardwick.

The Georgia governor did not appoint a woman to an empty honor because he has respect for woman in politics, as a tribute of appreciation to the worth of the millions of women citizens but recently enfranchised, but actually to smooth his own path of return to the senate. Governor Hardwick thinks he has cleverly captured the woman vote of Georgia. But it may turn out that Georgia women are not as simple as he fancies. It would serve him right were they to rebuke his unchivalrous act by nominating and electing somebody else.

TODAY'S BEST THOUGHT

SUNSET JOY.

What a sunset! How golden! how beautiful! The sun just disappearing, and the narrow lily clouds, which a few minutes ago lay like soft vapoury streaks along the horizon, lighted up with a golden splendour that the eye can scarcely endure. Another minute and the brilliant orb totally disappears, and the sky above grows every minute more varied and more beautiful as the dazzling golden lines are mixed with glowing red and gorgeous purple, dappled with small black specks and mingled with such a blue as the egg of the hedge-sparrow. To look up at that glorious sky, and then to see that magnificent picture reflected in the clear and lovely Lodon water is a pleasure never to be described and never forgotten. My heart swells and my eyes fill as I write of it and think of the immeasurable majesty of nature and the unspeakable goodness of God who has spread an enjoyment so pure, so peaceful and so intense before the meanest and the lowest of His creatures.

AS THE PEOPLE VIEW IT.

Editor Morning Journal:

"Man is he who thinks," declared the Aryans many centuries ago. It is well for man to remember this distinctive characteristic at all times and especially in campaign times.

The Great Commoner told his audience a few evenings ago, that we do not elect our senators and representatives to think for us, but to carry our thought into action, and we all agree with him. It is equally true that we do not want our political speakers to do our thinking for us.

We should keep a closer watch on the actions of those whom we choose to represent us and have an opinion of our own as to whether or not they are faithful to the trust.

It is easy to be carried away by an eloquent speaker if we listen passively, but it is possible to think while listening and thus be a truthseeker must do, especially if he seeks truth by listening to a campaign orator.

Some of us go to hear a political speech for the purpose of hearing our own beliefs lauded, and those beliefs opposed to ours ridiculed. The officers elected by our party praised and every good thing they have done magnified and the officers elected by any other party censured and all their mistakes pointed out and magnified. If this is what we want to hear, our wish is usually gratified, but there are always some who go to hear the unbiased truth.

The fight for truth is an old, old fight. Because it is so infinitely worth while, it never loses its zest. It is the part of a real learner to sit in judgment upon what he hears and reads and not adopt it until he has carefully thought it over and decided for himself that it is right. This does not mean an antagonistic attitude toward the opinions of others, but a earnest inquiring attitude.

If a man is going to stand for anything, he must have a mind of his own and use it. There are too many satellites.

MRS. J. R. AGUILAR, WIFE OF TAX COMMISSIONER, DIES AT WAGON MOUND

Wagon Mound, N. M., Oct. 12.—

A death which came as a profound shock to the entire community and cast the whole town into mourning was that of Mrs. J. R. Aguilar, member of the state tax commission, who passed away at the family residence early Monday morning from heart failure.

Mrs. Aguilar had been in the best of health, and not until Sunday night did she show any symptoms of feeling ill. Toward midnight she began to grow worse, and at 1:30 o'clock Monday morning she died.

Mrs. Aguilar was a pioneer resident of this state and of this part of the country. She came here in the early days when homes were few and far between, and when all kinds of dangers and hardships were to be confronted and conquered on every side. She was always interested and an active participant in every movement which had the cause of advancement and progress at heart. She was liberal to charity, and her deeds of kindness and philanthropy to those in need, helping hand and with-out number wherever she went, she wielded an influence for good, and she was loved, respected and honored by all who knew her.

Funeral services were held from the Catholic church Wednesday morning, attended by a crowd which filled every seat in the large edifice. A procession almost a mile in length followed the body to the cemetery where interment was made. The most beautiful floral offerings ever seen in Wagon Mound were given by sorrowing friends of the departed, and the body was laid to rest in the earth.

Mrs. Aguilar is survived by her husband, J. R. Aguilar; two sons, Messrs. Frank and Alfonso Aguilar, and her daughters, Misses Corina, Euphy and Amelia Aguilar. Mrs. Pat Pacheco of Koehler, N. Theaters Today

"B" Theater.—Wanda Hawley, always a favorite in Albuquerque, is at the "B" theater, starring in "The Truthful Liar," also showing "Hull Montana in the two-reel comedy, "A Ladies' Man."

Lyric Theater.—Wesley Barry, always a favorite in Albuquerque, is at the Lyric, recently received a letter from a beauty specialist. "Wes" was advised that if he desired to have his freckles removed, it would be an easy matter and no injury would result from the operation. Before deciding on an answer, he took the letter to Bill Nigh, his director, and was told: "Wes, if you have your freckles removed, you'll be out of luck in the movies."

Pastime Theater.—Repeating today "Colleen of the Pines" with Jane Novak as the leading star, also repeating "Pop Tuttle's Movie Star" with Dan Mason as the star.

Wesley Barry avoids "Beauty Doctors" as he wants his freckles.

Wesley Barry, whose latest screen play, "Gus Edwards' School Days," which is being repeated today and tomorrow at the Lyric theater, recently received a letter from a beauty specialist. "Wes" was advised that if he desired to have his freckles removed, it would be an easy matter and no injury would result from the operation. Before deciding on an answer, he took the letter to Bill Nigh, his director, and was told: "Wes, if you have your freckles removed, you'll be out of luck in the movies."

"COLLEEN OF THE PINES" WITH JANE NOVAK AS LEADING STAR, IS REPEATING.

A drama that moves with the refreshing sweep of a strong wind through tall timbers was revealed for the first time at the Pastime theater yesterday when "Colleen of the Pines" starring Jane Novak, was thrown upon the screen. The delicate blonde beauty of the star, her superb handling of the big scenes and the excellent support of the cast, all contributed toward the success of the production.

The nobility of self-sacrifice is the theme. As the elder sister, Miss Novak takes upon her own slender shoulders the burden of a mistake committed by her younger sister. The father is a religious bigot whose family has been brought up under the most rigid regulations. They form an interesting group of characters, however, out of whose lives a strong drama has been woven. It's a Chester Bennett production.

COLUMBUS DAY IS CELEBRATED IN DUKE CITY

Flag Raising Features Program at the San Felipe School; General Meeting Is Held Last Night

Columbus day was observed in Albuquerque yesterday, many business houses observing the day and special programs being held at both the city and parochial schools. The observance was featured by a meeting last night at the high school building at which a formal program was given.

Former Governor Larrazolo chose as his subject "The Life of Columbus," and pointed out that Columbus was one of the few heroes whom the entire world claimed as its own. He declared that the life of the famous explorer should stand as an object lesson to "young America," showing that although one may die in poverty, if his deeds are of worth, he will have the pleasure of his work and the praise of the world.

Father Foulkes also touched upon the life of Columbus and, among other subjects, the Ku Klux Klan, which he claimed seemed to think that personal liberty should not be tolerated and had appropriated such liberty as peculiar to itself.

The meeting was presided over by Francis E. Wood and was opened by the singing of "America," which was led by William McDonaid. Other numbers on the program were a vocal selection by Miss Maude Riondani; vocal selections by Louis Hesselnden and the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner" by the audience. The meeting was held under the auspices of the Knights of Columbus.

Flag Presentation. The celebration at the San Felipe parochial school yesterday morning was featured by the presentation to the school of an American flag by the Fourth Degree Assembly of the local Knights of Columbus. The presentation speech was made by William A. Keleher. Following the presentation the school band played "The Star Spangled Banner" and the children sang the words while the flag was raised on the new flag pole.

G. S. Klock, representing the Sons of the American Revolution, gave a stirring patriotic address and pointed out the significance of Columbus day.

The addresses of both speakers were answered and the flag accepted on behalf of the school by Father Weekx, superior of the Jesuit missions. Father Weekx pointed out that the San Felipe church was erected under the Spanish flag about 1594 and that it had been operated under that flag until the American occupation in 1846 and since that time it has seen its greatest development.

Central School Program. A special Columbus day program was given by the public school children at central school yesterday morning when a section of the seventh grade, under the direction of Miss Mary O'Laughlin, gave a program. The students themselves were the speakers, making short talks on Columbus and his travels. John Milne, city superintendent, who was present, gave a short address, pointing out the perseverance of the navigator as a lesson to the school children. The pupils sang a number of patriotic songs and the Central school boys glee club gave several selections.

GIPSIES CHANT THEIR WAY INTO THE CITY JAIL

A precedent has been set in police court. A woman can smoke in a jail chamber and get away with it. It was done yesterday.

Judge G. E. Roddy had to refuse to take judicial notice of the fact. An elderly Gypsy woman, one of two automobile loads of Gypsies who landed in Albuquerque Wednesday and in court yesterday, was not to be talked out of enjoying a smoke. She smoked three cigarettes while the court proceeding was in progress. Even her husband had no success in his effort to stop her. She wanted to smoke; intended to do it—and did. Charged with vagrancy and fortune telling in the city, the band was rounded up yesterday by police. When arraigned for trial, they trooped into the court room, the women chanting.

Argument started at once. There was no chance to find out what it was all about—but the judge finally got a line on the proceeding and announced:

"Fifty dollar fines all around and 20 days in jail."

There was a sudden silence. The babies started to cry, none of them selecting the same key in which to pitch its tones.

Four women started pounding their foreheads, screaming, chanting, moaning, pleading, and spunking the crying babies.

Four men started arguing at the women to keep quiet, and to keep the children quiet. There was no hope of establishing silence. The babies intended having their way. The men were determined to put their case up to the officers, who were starting to search them.

The men were searched. There was much money. Then it was decided that two men could be put on bond and go to look after their case and to get attorneys. They wanted to appeal the case. The two started on their errand and the rest were marched down stairs to the jail. The chant they sang between puffs from her cigarette. At a late hour last night, the chant could still be heard.
