HOOVER FAVORS HOLDING EUROPE TO ACCOUNT FOR DEBTS OWED U.S.

Reputation of the Loans Would Undermine Whole Fabric of International Good Faith, He Says.

ONLY 5 PER CENT MAY NEVER BE COLLECTED

American Sacrifices and Charity Cannot Themselves Cure Evils From Which Europe Suffers.

Toledo, O., Oct. 16.—(By the Associated Press).—The reputation of the loans made by the United States to the allied and associated nations during the war would undermine the whole fabric of international good faith, Secretary of Commerce Hoover, a member of the allied debt commission, declared tonight in an address here. He added that he did not believe any public official, either in the United States or any other country could or should approve their cancellation.

"These loans are in fact, debts owing to our taxpayers," Mr. Hoover said. "They were made at the urgent request of the borrowers and under their solemn assurances of payment. The loans were made to each nation. They have no relation to other nations or to other debts. The American taxpayer did not participate in repatriations and acquisitions of territory under the treaty which gave us the right to no question as to the moral or contractual obligation."

"Debt can be repaid," Mr. Hoover said. "With the exception of some minor accounts, perhaps five per cent, I am convinced that these debts can be repaid in some reasonable period of time without realization of the efforts of the American people to pay them. The threat of a flood of goods from debtor countries in such quantity as would endanger employment of the factories and workmen of the United States."

"The proposals for further postponement of payment of interest for a certain number of years arise from the belief that certain countries cannot physically make these payments at the present time without undue strain, or that postponement of interest would continue to general economic stability and the rapid recovery of these countries in which everyone would benefit. The British do not make claims for such assistance from us and are arranging their payments."

"Debtors on the Continent," Mr. Hoover said. "The proposition, therefore, narrows itself to debtors on the continent. Our annual payments from the whole of our continental debtors would amount to a total of about $250,000,000 per year for interest and amortization. The burden falls with different weight upon each of the 19 different countries. The total of these payments is five per cent of the total of the collection, it will be found that the respective annual payments due to us from different countries varies in the order of magnitude from two to twelve per cent of their governmental income."

"If there should be some of these countries who should be relieved of the annual payments for a few years in order to promote economic stability, then there needs to be a demonstration of the facts in respect to each individual country that would be convincing to the American taxpayer and congress. The taxpayer would naturally consider that there are other things of vastly larger dimensions than the postponement of $250,000,000 a year which must march in advance before economic progress can be secured to Europe. For economic stability requires that there must be such political and economic readjustment between the states of Europe as will bring about an atmosphere of peace and replacement of an atmosphere of war."

"Reduction of Armament," Mr. Hoover said. "There must be a reduction of economic boundaries of Europe that will give the hope of economic survival of states which can be saved by financial cooperation of any kind. There must be a reduction of armament, not only as a guarantee of peace but as a contribution to the balancing of the states and the cessation of inflation."

"America has dealt with Europe during the last few years in terms of idealism. We have always given, we have never received. No one can deny that we are capable of great sacrifice and of great generous charity. We want to take part in asking a better world, but it must be clear that we cannot do this unless we are able to cure for those evils which now gnaw at Europe's economic life."

"The American taxpayer," Mr. Hoover said. "The American taxpayer did not participate in repatriations and acquisitions of territory under the treaty which gave us the right to no question as to the moral or contractual obligation."

WATERBURY AGENTS IS ATTACKED BY CHICAGO EDITOR

Is "Another Form of Government Bureaucracy," J. Whalen Declares in a Speech at Convention.

Cleveland, Ohio, Oct. 16 (By the Associated Press).—The Shepherd-Towner maternity act was condemned as "another form of government bureaucracy" which accomplished little more than the separate acts are now doing and has "provided soft jobs for political appointments," J. Whalen, editor of the Chicago Medical Journal, declared here today at the opening session of the fifty-third annual meeting of the American Medical Association.

Session of the editors association are being held in connection with the first annual convention of the American Public Health Association which formally opened its convention here tonight.

"Medical men should be permitted to use drugs and whisky in the treatment of cases without being hampered by federal regulations," Dr. McMechan declared. "Under the present enforcement laws a bureau of licensed deterrence how he shall use these valuable therapeutic remedies."

Dr. McMechan declared, in describing diphtheria, that whisky is prescribed in certain stages of the disease and that a four-year-old child can be given a quart of whisky in 24 hours and not become drunk.

"What is a physician to do in a case like that?" he asked. "Give whisky from a bootlegger, thus breaking the law and running the risk of killing the patient because of the quality of the liquor?"

The Shepherd-Towner act was characterized by Dr. Whalen, as "one of those federal laws by which selfish reformers are building a medical bureaucracy."

The question of heredity is a medical problem, according to Dr. J. N. Hurty of Indianapolis, in an address before the American Public Health Association.

"Every child has an inalienable right to be born free from disease, free from deformity and with pure blood," he declared. "Parents with a hereditary taint are not fit to be progenitors. This is not a moral problem nor an intellectual one, but an out and out medical problem, on the solution of which the welfare of the race hangs."

WEEKS GOES TO WHITE HOUSE TO PRESS PLEA FOR A LARGER ARMY

War Secretary Is Unshaken in His Opinion That 13,000 Officers and 150,000 Men Are Necessary.

IS ACCOMPANIED BY GENERAL PERSHING

Regular Force Authorized by Congress Cannot Fulfill All the Missions Prescribed by Law.

Washington, Oct. 16 (By the Associated Press).—The unshaken opinion of Secretary Weeks and his military advisers that the nation's military policy cannot be adequately sustained with a regular army of less than 13,000 officers and 150,000 men was again laid before President Harding today by the war secretary, who was accompanied by General Pershing.

The conference had to do with estimates submitted by the war department for the coming year calling for total appropriations of $29,287,580, as compared with current appropriations of $340,884,122. The army budget, however, still must be approved by the director of the budget.

Makes Position Plain. The war secretary made it plain that he had not changed his belief that the present army of 12,000 officers and 125,000 men could not fulfill all of the missions prescribed by the national defense act. The new estimates do not provide for an increase in the regular force above these figures, but Mr. Weeks has officially expressed the judgment of the war department that only the most urgent reasons for national economy would warrant continuing the army at that reduced size.

The principal item in the estimates submitted comes under "support of the regular army" at $21,707,275, as compared with $23,441,812 for the current year. Included in that item, however, is the pay, subsistence and clothing for all branches of the army, including reserve officers' training corps, the overhead expense of all posts, camps, schools, hospitals and other portions of the military plant.

The estimates provide increases for maintenance of the national guard and various training corps at the expense of the regular establishment in order to keep with the present figures. For the guard, a total of $33,910,922 is proposed, against $25,815,000 this year; for the organized reserves $2,618,109, with no exactly comparable figures for the reserve of 1921; for the military training camps, $2,972,150, as compared with $1,890,000.

These figures, with the smaller items, make up a military budget for next year of $259,428,175, as compared to $257,595,681 this year. The non-military items, including river and harbor work, reaches a total of $28,890,375, as compared with $29,736,406 in current appropriations.

The national guard appropriation estimate is based on the computation that the guard will have a strength of 238,000 during the next fiscal year. This would have required expenditures of $47,592,990 and it was thus found necessary to cut the provision that allowed for a guard force of only 215,000 men.

FRANCE AVERTED NEAR EAST WAR, ENVOY DECLARES

British Display of Force Aggravated Rather Than Helped the Situation, Says M. Franklin-Bouillon

Paris, Oct. 16 (By the Associated Press).—It was the pacific policy of France, combining with the sincere desire of Mustafa Kemal Pasha to avoid war, and not the British display of force, which prevented war in the Near East, a war which would soon have assumed the proportions of a world war, M. Franklin-Bouillon, the special French envoy at the recent Mudania conference told nearly a hundred newspaper men of 15 nations at the foreign office tonight.

"It has been said in England that the British fleet and British troops alone halted the victorious Kemalists," said M. Franklin-Bouillon. "The truth is that every British vessel was used and the British troops were reinforced, negotiations with Mustafa Kemal Pasha became increasingly difficult."

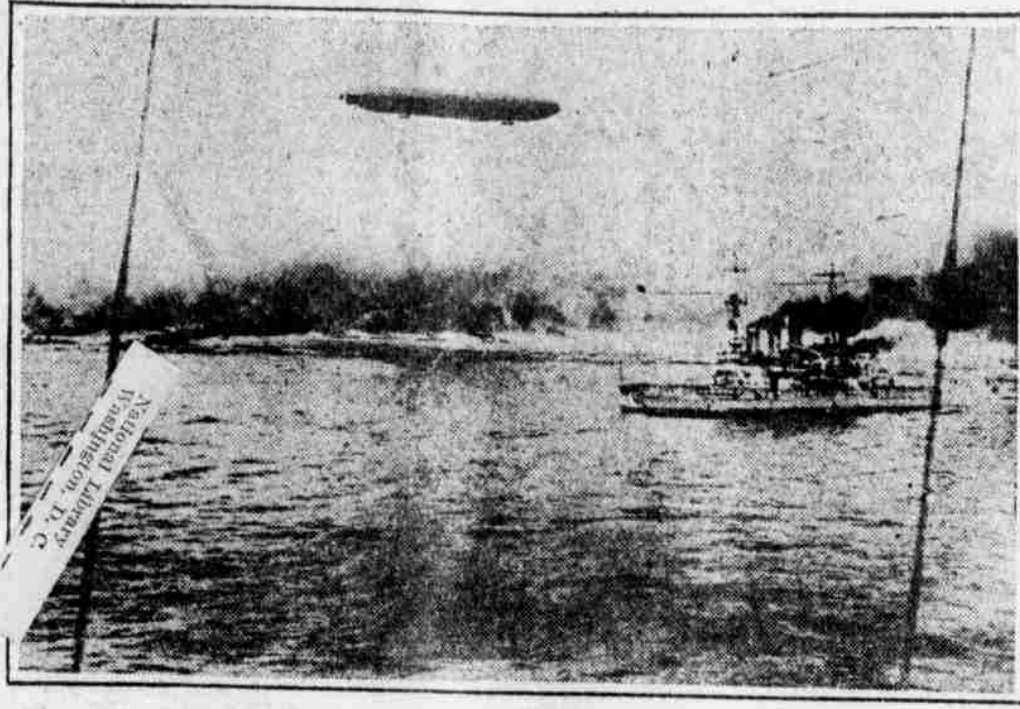

"The peaceful efforts of France always intervened just in time to prevent open warfare, and had it not been for France, peace would not have been realized. In this connection, I wish to pay tribute to the consistent struggle the Turkish commander waged to maintain peaceful relations with the allies. He accomplished this in the face of a victorious army which was within 40 kilometers of their capital, Constantinople."

SOVIET MINISTER OF COMMERCE RESIGNS

Riga, Oct. 16 (By the Associated Press).—It was announced here today that Leonid Krassin had resigned as soviet minister of trade and commerce.

Krassin was the negotiator of the agreement reached recently with the Russian Asiatic consolidated limited, a British corporation under which extensive properties it had held in Russia were to be conditionally returned to it. The soviet authorities in Moscow turned down the agreement.

Ebert Reviews German "Navy"

President Ebert recently reviewed the relics of the once powerful German navy which dared challenge England's title, "The Mistress of the Seas." The present navy is but a skeleton in power and strength of the armada with which Germany began the war.

8-HOUR DAY FOR YARDMASTERS ON CLASS ONE ROADS

Twenty-Six Lines and Six Switching Terminals Are Affected by Decision of the U. S. Labor Board.

Chicago, Oct. 16 (By the Associated Press).—An eight-hour day with overtime, which is said to amount to nearly a 25 per cent increase in pay, was granted approximately 2,000 yardmasters on 26 class one railroads and at six switching terminals by the United States Railroad Labor board today. This is the first time the board has established rules and working conditions for yardmasters who now are classified as subordinate officials and subject to the board's jurisdiction under the transportation act.

By establishing the eight-hour day with overtime wages, the yardmasters affected virtually have been awarded a 25 per cent wage advance, according to J. S. Eldridge, president of the Railroad Yardmasters of America. The organization is international in scope.

The ruling affects all yardmasters on the roads involved except such general yardmasters as were placed as official under a ruling of the interstate commerce commission last November. On at least 12 roads, yardmasters have agreements with the railroads which will govern in those cases. The Delaware and Lackawanna, the Pennsylvania and the Illinois Central railroads were excluded from the decision today. W. L. McMenamin, a labor member of the board, although containing the view that these three roads were properly before the board in the matter, voted to exclude them in order to obtain a decision which otherwise would have failed for lack of one vote.

The rules provide that yardmasters required to work seven days a week shall be given two days off each month. The yardmasters association is said to have a membership of between 4,000 and 5,000.

Among the roads affected by the decision are the New York Central lines, east and west; Baltimore and Ohio; Kansas City Southern; Kansas City, Oklahoma and Gulf Coast Pacific; Santa Antonio and Arkansas Pass; Denver Union Terminal; Fort Worth and Denver City; Gulf Coast Lines; Seaboard Air Line; Texas and Pacific; and Wabash.

SAFE BLOWERS TRY TO STEAL HOME BUT GET ONLY AN ASSIST

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Safe blowers who last night attempted to steal home by cracking the safe in the office of the Chicago White Sox in a baseball park in an attempt to obtain the receipts of yesterday's city series game, were credited tonight with an assist when the police announced that approximately $2,000 was obtained.

Harry Grabner, secretary of the club, denied that the handouts obtained the $2,872 receipts for the Sunday game. This money was taken to a bank after the game, he said.

Stanley Wilson, a negro watchman, is being held for questioning.

BIAN IS PAROLED

COMELY SALVATION ARMY CAPTAIN WINS THE RIGHT TO SING

New York, Oct. 16.—A comely Salvation Army lassie today won the right to sound her battle song in the "Roaring Forties."

Captain Reba Crawford, young and determined, defeated a squad of police in a battle of pleas before Magistrate Oberweiser, when she was arraigned on a charge of disorderly conduct.

Police testified that Captain Crawford and her band had stood last night before the Gaiety theater, voicing her appeal to the jazz crowds that swirl and eddy through Times and Longacre squares. She had created a disturbance and was disorderly, they declared.

Captain Crawford told of a long fight to obtain permission to hold meetings in the white light district and declared that the loss of the permission would be the most calamitous event of her life.

"I have seen and heard and have attended Salvation Army meetings," said the magistrate, "and I never saw one that was disorderly. Indeed, I consider the Salvation Army an excellent service. The case is dismissed."

LIBEL SUITS FILED BY THE U. S. AGAINST TWO BRITISH VESSELS

New York, Oct. 16.—Libel suits were filed in Brooklyn today by the United States district attorney's office against the British schooner Emerald, seized Sunday night 12 miles off, by the United States cutter, Halcyon, and against the motor boat, Elsie, seized at the same time.

On the two boats liquor was seized, it was said, valued at $100,000. Counsel for Captain John A. White of the Emerald and his crew of six negroes, and Captain Albert Shannon of the Elsie, declared the boats were 18 miles off when seized.

The proceedings against the two boats will be brought under the new tariff law, it was said, and will be the first case under the act. Under the ruling of Attorney General Daugherty that no one is to be arrested outside the three-mile limit, Halcyon and against the six negroes were released after being taken to the district attorney's office in Brooklyn. They declined to state the ownership of the boats.

COACH STAGG HAS TWO HARD NUTS TO CRACK

Chicago, Oct. 16.—Alonzo A. Stagg, 61-year-old coach of the University of Chicago, has two football problems on his mind today. One is to defeat Princeton, which plays here October 28, and the other is to crowd about 100,000 persons into Stagg Field, which holds 21,000. The football committee announced today that every seat for the Princeton game was sold, that there would be no more seats for sale and that thousands of requests for reservation were being returned.

BRITISH REJECT THE U. S. LIQUOR PACT PROPOSAL

Will Not Be a Party to a Treaty to Extend Right of Search of Vessels Up to 12 Miles Off Shore.

Washington, Oct. 16.—British rejection of the American proposal for a treaty to extend the right of search of vessels up to 12 miles off shore was contained in a note handed to Secretary Hughes today by Ambassador Geddes. The communication was in reply to Mr. Hughes' note of June 26, setting out difficulties encountered by American prohibition enforcement officers in checking the illicit flow of intoxicants into the United States.

Secretary Hughes made public four months ago the conditions which the British government had agreed to accept in return for the right of search of vessels up to 12 miles off shore. It was a big contract and it is one that will not be completed for many years to come. The fact that the federal government today paying sixty-two per cent of the cost of our road construction is due entirely to the efforts of the republican party. If the people of New Mexico did not want to accept this benefit from the national government, they would have to pay a two million dollar bond issue for that purpose? Most of the voters in this state voted for that bond issue. I voted for it. I think Mr. Hinkle did. The differences between us now are I am willing and glad to pay the bills and get the roads and he is not.

Referring to the charges made against him in which the democrats allege that he is an El Paso candidate, Mr. Hinkle said: "My daughter and my grandchild live in El Paso but if it is a part of the democratic demand that we cannot visit his family simply because they live across the state line, then I don't want any of that doctrine in mine. I have never paid a cent of tax in the state of Texas in my life. I am a heavy taxpayer in this state and I am proud to say that more than 50 per cent of what I pay goes to the education of the children of New Mexico. I make them better men and women, and better citizens."

There was appended an inquiry to whether the British government was disposed to agree to reciprocal right of search up to 12 miles from shore, which it was pointed out, would imply no inconvenience to the legitimate trade between the United States and Mexico at no point within four leagues of American shores.

In reply Ambassador Geddes pointed out that the government of Great Britain had no intention of preventing the practices as to registry issuance and clearance papers to which attention had been drawn. These steps had been supplied since then, he added, and the British government hoped that the measures taken will prove successful in preventing any breaches in the local law. With regard to the proposed treaty, however, he said:

"His Majesty's government has consistently opposed any extension of the limit of territorial waters such as that proposed. They feel that the outbreak of smuggling which has led to the proposal cannot be regarded as a permanent condition, but as one which will no doubt be suppressed by the United States authorities within the not distant future."

"While, therefore, they are desirous of assisting the United States government to the best of their ability in the prevention of the traffic and in the prevention of the abuse of the British flag by those engaged in it, they do not feel that they can properly acquiesce in order to meet a temporary emergency, in the abandonment of a principle to which they attach great importance."

The American note was quite long and pointed out that British territories apparently "are made bases of operations in flagrant violation of constitutionally and statutory provisions of the United States."

HE NEVER PAID TAXES IN TEXAS

Republican Candidate Says He Is Glad That His Money Has Gone For Roads, Education Here.

Carrizozo, N. M., Oct. 16.—Charles L. Hinkle republican candidate for governor, in an address tonight for crowd, he has been quoted as having repeatedly said that 42 per cent of the money derived from taxation is wasted by the state. Mr. Hinkle knows better, his mistake is his own fault. The books in Santa Fe are open to him as they are to me or anyone else, and I have before me at accurate statement showing just what heretic money of every cent of tax money that is paid in by the people of New Mexico.

"The state does not get 42 per cent of the money which you pay for taxes," Mr. Hinkle said. "The state spends on an average in all of our 31 counties is 5.88 per cent, and I would like to ask any of you here tonight if the republicans are wasting your money or robbing you when they only have a chance at less than six cents on a dollar? Mr. Hinkle knows as well as I that your county boards are spending money deeply in the counties. Where the boards are ruled by democrats the same conditions exist as in those ruled by republicans. There is very little difference between Mr. Hinkle's county of Chavez and my county of Dona Ana. In both counties we spend approximately 50 per cent of our taxes for schools and roads."

"The taxes are made by the county board and not by the state, and as far as I am concerned I am glad that Dona Ana is providing schools for her children and roads for her citizens, and I sympathize deeply with the people of Chavez county who are going to follow the lead of Jim Hinkle and go back to the time when he was a boy in Missouri attending school for a month a year and walking eight miles a day to get there."

"In regard to the building of our roads I want to say this: To build an adequate system of highways in this state the state of New Mexico is not child's play. It is a big contract and it is one that will not be completed for many years to come. The fact that the federal government today paying sixty-two per cent of the cost of our road construction is due entirely to the efforts of the republican party. If the people of New Mexico did not want to accept this benefit from the national government, they would have to pay a two million dollar bond issue for that purpose? MAYOR TAKEN TO LONELY SPOT BY 15 MEN; WHIPPED

Theodore Schierman of Liberty, Kans., Beaten; Assaults Said They Belonged to Ku Klux Klan.

Coffeyville, Kans., Oct. 16.—Theodore Schierman, 42, mayor of Liberty, near here, was taken to a lonely spot four miles northeast of Coffeyville Saturday night and whipped with blackened whips by 15 men who said they were members of the Ku Klux Klan, Schierman told officers today. The men traveled in motor cars. Schierman has a wife and three children. He has been mayor of Liberty for 18 months.

Mr. Schierman, his attorney, Harold E. McGugin, said today, will bring suit under the Kansas mob law for $100,000 damages against the city of Liberty. Schierman is a Catholic.

WHIPPING CONDEMNED BY KANSAS GOVERNOR. Topeka, Kans., Oct. 16.—"Kansas has never tolerated the idea that any group may take the law into its own hands and she is not going to tolerate it now," Governor Allen declared today, commenting on the whipping Saturday night of Mayor Theodore Schierman of Liberty by alleged Ku Klux klansmen. "The whipping of Mayor Schierman is a disgrace of which every citizen of Montgomery county should be ashamed," he said, adding that he had been assured that Attorney General Hopkins is making a vigorous investigation.

DISABLED VETS' WELFARE CHIEF AIM OF LEGION SAYS MAGNIDER

Government's Handling of the Former Soldiers Is Described as One of Mistakes and Blunders.

RENEWED PLEDGES COME FROM ABROAD

An Outdoor Fete Is Held in Historic Jackson Square, New Orleans, in Honor of Visiting Throngs.

New Orleans, Oct. 16 (By the Associated Press).—The American Legion, through its national commander, Harold MacNider, affirmed today that the welfare of disabled veterans was its chief interest. "The government's handling of the disabled veterans from the time the armistice was signed down to the present, was described as one of the 'tragic mistakes, politics, alibis and blunders' in the report of the legion's rehabilitation commission and Colonel C. E. Forbes, director of the United States Veterans' bureau, in a counter statement to newspaper men, asserted that the bureau which he heads, was "the most perfect large organization in the world" and that implied criticism of it was not justified by facts.

Bore Renewed Pledges. Charles Bertrand, president of the Inter-Alleied Veterans' federation and an officer of the French Legion of Honor, bore renewed pledges of fraternity and friendship to the legion from the nations associated with the United States in the world war, who have seen in session here two days prior to the opening of the legion convention.

The convention held no session during the afternoon, and veterans spent the rest of the day and much of the night in impromptu reunions on sidewalks in hotel lobbies, and in the old French quarter of New Orleans. The "buddies" were fighting the war over again, verbally, tonight with great gusto.

The strains of "Madeniselle From Armentiers" drifted through the music of a dozen bands, army, navy and civilian. (She, it will be remembered by all the veterans, was the lady who "hadn't" been kissed for 50 years.)

Planes Fly Over City. Over the city this afternoon flew the great war planes from Pennsylvania, here as part of the naval representation. Six destroyers and the scout cruiser "Birmingham" are anchored in the Mississippi within rowing distance of the convention hall itself. Delegates could see the war ships from the convention grounds. Various athletic events, in which legionnaires from the different state departments took part, featured the afternoon's program and a boxing exhibition drew many veterans tonight.

Something of the morning session of the convention, when George L. Berry of Tennessee, a national vice commander of the legion, asserted in a speech that the action of the United States district attorney in closing a number of soft drink parlors "for the duration of the legion convention was a gratuitous affront to the legion." Legionnaires and guardians of law and order, and had shown it by their war service.

An Outdoor Fete. In historic Jackson square, an outdoor fete was held in honor of the veterans. Jackson square is the spot where, in 1815, Andrew Jackson mustered his forces to fight the British and win the battle of New Orleans. The delegates from Belgium, France, Great Britain, Rumania, Italy, Serbia and Czechoslovakia, were also guests at the fete and were seen to enjoy the spirit of the celebration greatly.

DEMOCRATIC SPEAKERS IN EMPIRE

HOSPITALS ARE NEEDED TO CARE FOR SICK VETS

Report of American Legion's Committee for Rehabilitation Criticizes the Federal Government.

New Orleans, Oct. 16.—Request for a ten million dollar appropriation to equip hospitals now being constructed and to build additional hospitals for neuro-psychiatric patients was contained in the report of the American legion's committee for rehabilitation before the fourth national convention of the legion today by Col. A. A. Sprague, head of the rehabilitation commission. The report criticizes the government's achievements to date in caustic language.

"The story of hospital construction by the government up to date," declared the report, "judging by actual results, is a tragedy for the sick, a discredit to the government, and an affront to the American legion. There is not a redeeming feature in its policies, promises, plans, failure to prepare anything but alibis in advance, red tape, excuses and contentions, conspired to defeat the actual providing of needed beds."

Excoriates Solons.
The report, after commending congress for enacting beneficial laws, excoriates individual congressmen and senators for what it terms "their endeavors to locate hospitals where they cannot be used, and to keep hospitals where they are not needed, and to secure employment for their friends."

President Harding, the report asserts, decided after conferring with the United States Veterans bureau, to appoint "co-operative committees on rehabilitation" in various districts, to be made up of representative citizens and ex-service men.

"These co-operative committees," the report declares, "would have helped to make a success of the rehabilitation program. The request for approval of this resolution has been on the desk of the president since June. Up to the date of the writing of this report, no action has been taken."

"At the end of five years," declares the Sprague report, "the government will have spent as much in hospital construction and repairs as was originally estimated and requested in 1918. In the meantime during the period when these beds were most badly needed when they would have helped to pay the debt this country owed the men who had given most, they were lacking."

"What Was the Substitute?"
"What was the substitute?" "Hotels, sanitariums, private homes, private hospitals, private asylums and orphanages were purchased and remodeled and added to public health hospitals, army cantonments and posts to consti-the present government owned hospitals.

"On September 15, 1932, there were 5,232 beds in leased hospitals and 1,814 beds, temporary facilities, on government owned properties. There were 5,774 patients in contract hospitals, 2,692 in tuberculosis hospitals, 4,123 in neuro-psychiatric hospitals, and 1,156 in general and surgical hospitals."

"Unoccupied beds? Yes, a lot of them. Two thousand of them at that date. Most of them were useless because badly placed."

On Armistice day (1918), the report declares, there 334,000 men sick and wounded in army hospitals in this country and with the American expeditionary force in France.

UNIONS LOSE INFLUENCE

BY LOUIS SEIBOLD
(New York Herald Copyright)

Washington, Oct. 16.—One of the most remarkable features of the struggle for the control of congress is the indifference of leaders in both political parties to the organized labor vote.

For the first time in twenty years the influence usually asserted in political campaigns by the bosses and leaders of trade unions is conspicuously by its absence.

The chief reason for the manifest indifference of congress toward the program of the organized trades unions was due to the conviction of party leaders and members of the two houses generally that public sentiment was aggressively hostile rather than sympathetic with the ambitions of the organized labor cause.

Aside from Wisconsin, the trades unions have not exercised any conspicuous amount of influence in determining the results of primary contests. The policy used by candidates for the house and senate in the present campaign is to dodge positive commitments of a specific character by generally asserting whole-hearted friendship with the ambitions of the organized labor groups. Here and there candidates for the lower house, running true to form, have made open bids for the support of labor by pledging themselves to support its program in the coming congress.

In expounding the causes for the apparent loss of public support by the union-labor groups republican and democratic leaders place first of all public opinion. The consensus of the professional political view is that the labor groups have displayed crass stupidity in dealing with the reconstruction economic conditions resulting from the war and have not shown the slightest sympathy toward assisting in the effort of the government and people generally to pave the way for the return of an even and normal balance.

The leaders of both parties have no difficulty in recalling to the public mind the arrogant attitude assumed by labor unions during the world conflict; their assertion of maximum privileges in the line of profiteering at the expense of the government and people; the complete and, in fact, contemptuous indifference of the union-labor groups toward the people generally.

In a recent discussion of organized labor interests between two democratic and three republican leaders of national prominence, the union-labor groups were the unfriendly attitude of the public toward organized labor was advanced by a participant whose declaration was the most sympathetic to the ambitions of industrial leaders generally. It was substantially that organized labor did not hesitate during the war to take the average man and woman citizen of the United States to every form of inconvenience, that a stupid assertion of professional privilege encouraged.

"The fact is," said the political leader-republican, by the way, "that during the war the government took labor by the hand and coddled it and took the rest of the people by the throat and penalized them. Instead of trying to make friends through an intelligent and modern exercise of this power the attitude of the average trades unionist was stupidly unreasonable. The unfortunate part of the history of organized labor during the war was that the vast majority of trades unions were silly enough to seriously assert justification for Mr. Gompers' declaration that 'labor won the war.' Of course, labor did nothing of the kind, as was clearly established in the debate between Gov. Henry Allen of Kansas and Mr. Gompers three years ago."

"I believe the people who are not connected with trades unions, but are inclined to sympathize with their reasonable ambitions, became pretty well fed up with the arrogance displayed by the organized groups during the war. I also believe the people still resent the causes resulting from the exaggerated state of mind of which they were the innocent victims of labor stupidity."

"If the ill-advised coal and railway strikes recently settled or now in progress of adjustment had been supported by public opinion both strikes would have been won. The fact is, public opinion was not only unsympathetic, but aggressively unfriendly. The threat of trades-union leaders to defy the government fell upon incredulous ears."

President Harding is not an enemy of labor. His attitude toward the labor leaders in the recent railway and coal strikes was clearly sympathetic. He threw the weight of his influence against the railway executives and coal operators at every vital turn in the controversy between the disputing groups.

In so doing, however, Mr. Harding made it absolutely clear that he did not propose to permit either group to assert special privileges in demanding the support of the government to the detriment of the country generally. Labor leaders do not accept this statement as correct, but an impartial review of the successive steps taken in the recent disputes does not permit any other conclusion.

For reasons entirely obvious the greater consideration has been naturally given to the agricultural interests or at least preferences in comparison with the treatment of labor. The president, political leaders and members of congress encountered no difficulty in supporting this preference. Labor profited tremendously throughout the war. The agricultural interests not only suffered tremendous losses in that period, but have since been confronted with most depressing economic conditions.

It was the attitude of the farmer as much as that of any other group in the country which prevented the trades unions from recruiting popular support in the recent strikes. The farmer was the chief victim of the interruption of traffic. He was compelled to see his crops rot because the trades unions refused to man the trains to transport them to the markets.

Feeling against the trades unions is reported by political leaders to be generally pronounced. Most of them believe it will pass before any real damage is done. They think labor will "see the point" and adopt a more conciliatory policy than that which has cost it the confidence of the people.

BOY, 16, BARES A PLOT TO ROB ESTANCIA BANK

Elton Brown, Held on Robbery and Holdup Charge. Tells Officers He Had Planned Bigger Escape

Special to The Journal

Mountainair, N. M., Oct. 16.—Elton Brown, who was arrested a few days ago at Lucey, N. M., on a charge of holding up a Santa Fe guard at Nogra and taking his gun, is reported to have told of a plot to burglarize the Estancia bank, to have been done by himself and pals some time early this week.

Brown admitted having broken into Chappell's second hand store here several days ago and taking two pistols, some ammunition, gloves, tobacco and small articles, according to the statement of officers. He was given a preliminary hearing and bound over to the grand jury under $1,000 bond on the hold-up case.

Young Brown, who is about 16 years of age, had a few years since lived with his parents on one of Rufe Walden's farms north of town. A year ago he came through Mountainair with a "friend" and was taken in charge by T. J. Payne, a relative who gave him work and cared for him during the summer. Later the young fellow went east from here.

FASTEST SPEED ON RECORD MADE BY ARMY PILOT

Lieut. Maughan Covers One-Kilometer Course at Mount Clemens at Rate of 248.5 Miles an Hour.

Mount Clemens, Mich., Oct. 16.—Traveling at a greater speed than any human being ever before attained, Lieutenant R. L. Maughan, a United States army pilot, today set a new world's airplane speed record by covering a one-kilometer course at the rate of 248.5 miles an hour.

The record was made during official government tests of speed planes that participated in the national air races at Selfridge field last week, and was electrically timed by officers from McCook field.

Aeronautical engineers and army and navy officers who witnessed the flight were astounded. The demonstration, they declared, proved that there was no limit to the speed that might be attained in the air.

Lieutenant Maughan made the record breaking flight in the same plane with which he won the Pulitzer trophy race on Saturday. The machine is a Curtiss army biplane powered with Curtiss four hundred horse power engines.

After setting the new record, Lieutenant Maughan continued his flight to show that the tremendous pace could be maintained. On four laps he was timed at the rate of 232.2 miles an hour and his average for eight laps was 229 miles an hour.

Examination of the machine after the flight disclosed that it was in perfect condition, and that nothing in the nature of a "tick" flight figured in the record performance.

Lieutenant Maughan added to the astonishment of pilots and officials on the field by flying approximately one mile with the machine on its side. The feat was in reality a flight without the aid of wings.

In other trials during the day the speed record for monoplanes was shattered by one navy and three army machines.

Lieutenant Barkdale covered the one-kilometer course at the rate of 221 miles an hour and Lieutenant Whitehead made 187. They drove Loening-Packard planes. Captain Hunter, in a Thomas Morse, was timed at 179 miles an hour and Lieutenant Calloway in the navy's Bee liner racer made 177 miles an hour.

YOU CAN'T TRUST CALOMEL AT ALL

It's Quicksilver, Salivates, causes Rheumatism and Bone Decay

The next dose of calomel you take may salivate you. It may shock your liver or start bone necrosis. Calomel is dangerous. It is mercury, quicksilver. It crumbles into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful, and it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your work done.

Don't take calomel! It can't be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tonic which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless as a salivator.

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Easily and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save two-thirds of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup. It is simple and cheap but it has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist, pour it into a pint bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make a full pint. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time.

It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, hoarseness or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract known the world over for its healing effect on membranes. Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept any thing else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. ALBUQUERQUE A PART OF GREAT RAIL Y CONTEST

Local Railway Men to Join in Nationwide Movement for More Memberships; City Campaign, too.

Railroad men of all ranks in the membership of the local railroad Y. M. C. A. will participate during the week of October 24 to 27, in a continental membership campaign. They will form one unit of an army of some four thousand railroad executives and employees who, in every state of the union and province of Canada, will re-enlist and expand the one hundred ten thousand memberships of the Railroad Young Men's Christian associations, operating at two hundred and sixty-three divisional and terminal points in North America. Five Y. M. C. A. Street Railroad associations will also participate.

To co-ordinate their efforts in this campaign, deputies from the railroad associations have been meeting at central points in the past few weeks in groups representing twenty-five of the great railroad systems of Canada and the United States.

E. V. Berry, of the local railroad Y. M. C. A., states that although the railroad department of the Y. M. C. A. in America has been a growing concern for fifty years, it was not until four years ago that the railroad associations began to meet simultaneously annual campaigns for memberships. The plan has proven effective and economical of time as well.

"It has brought," he says, "the membership as high as 125,000, and despite the railroad strikes of the present year and business depression it is even now well over 110,000."

The call for service at an increased number of points is insistent, as emphasized by the fact that 63,000 men use the railroad Y establishments daily; that the dormitories are used 3,300,000 times in the course of a year, and 2,000,000 baths are taken.

"Campaigns among the various groups of associations are often marked," Mr. Berry states, "by intense rivalry. Often the associations in one region, or along the lines of one railroad system, challenge another. Each association can formulate its own methods of campaign and devices for stimulating interest."

The campaign here will be under the leadership of one of the local railroad men and will be one of the units also in the Red, White and Blue campaign which is to be conducted next week. The other two units will be composed of business and professional men which will be under the leadership of Guy Landerbaugh for the business men and Dr. F. E. MacCracken for the professional men.

The generals, captains and team members will hold a meeting Thursday at the pack are always outlaws and are wise to the ways of hunters. One famous wolf in the northern part of the state is outwitting hunters by cutting its own trails through the woods. It is trap-shy and poisoned—bait-shy as well.

The coyote extermination work in the state will be resumed on November 1. The men who have been working at rodent control during the summer will be detailed to coyote work.

Wolves from Old Mexico are the most undesirable aliens that ever sneaked across the border. So steady is their drift across the line into this country that a crew of U. S. Biological survey hunters has been concentrated along the border to exterminate the aliens, according to the local headquarters.

Three survey hunters and two association hunters employed by the stockmen's co-operative association, are at work along the southern border of the state. Six wolves have been poisoned on the Ballard ranches, east of El Paso, and six of the predatory animals west of El Paso have been killed by trapping and poisoning since September 1.

The drift of wolves is not so noticeable in the northern part of the state, according to the survey, although the few wolves that are left are more difficult to catch. The last of the pack are always outlaws and are wise to the ways of hunters. One famous wolf in the northern part of the state is outwitting hunters by cutting its own trails through the woods. It is trap-shy and poisoned—bait-shy as well.

LOBOS GETTING READY TO MEET TEXAS MINERS

Game May Be Played Here or El Paso; Opponents Expected to Prove Tough This Year.

Having returned from an invasion of Colorado that resulted in a defeat that was almost a victory, at the hands of the University of Colorado, Coach Johnson is now pointing his Lobo squad for their game with the Texas Miners of El Paso, October 28. The game will be played either in Albuquerque or in El Paso, the place not having been decided.

The Miners this year are pretty much of an unknown quantity. Hitherto they have never boasted a team that could compare favorably with the Varsity, but under the tutelage of Coach Vowell they have been developing steadily, getting a little better each year, and this year, with "Bevo" Evans, former Lobo backfield man, coaching the backfield, the Ore Diggers are quite likely to put a team in the field that will furnish real competition for the Lobos.

Among the members of last year's Miner eleven who are back in the moleskin this year are Binkford, halfback; White, center; and last year's captain, "Porky" Evans, backfield man; and Olson, a powerful lineman. Two valuable additions to the Ore Diggers' squad are Joe Spence, tackle and guard on the New Mexico Military institute team for three years, and All-Southwestern guard in 1919, and Lee Slaughter, three-letter man of the El Paso High school and characterized by "El Paso" sport writers as one of the greatest halfbacks that ever played with the El Paso Tigers.

So, taking it all in all, the Lobos may expect a real game when they meet the Miners. They may find the easy pickings of old, but indications are that they will have to work for what they earn from the Miners. At any rate, Coach Johnson is taking no chances. The Lobos will hit the ball for the next two weeks.

UNIONISTS WILL MEET TO DECIDE FUTURE COURSE

Will Reach a Decision on Whether to Break Up the Coalition or Stand by Premier Lloyd George.

London, Oct. 16 (by the Associated Press).—This has been a day of feverish activity in Downing street, the chief development being a summons to the unionist members of the cabinet and 350 unionist members of the house of commons to a conference at the Carlton club on October 19, to decide whether to break up the coalition or stand by Premier Lloyd George.

The decision to call this meeting was taken at number 11 Downing street, Austen Chamberlain's home, after consultation of Mr. Chamberlain with his unionist colleagues and the chief party organizers, among them Sir George Younger, who, it is recalled, "scooped" the premier's general election plan a few months ago on the ground that the party machinery was not ready.

Chamberlain Will Preside. Mr. Chamberlain as a party leader, will preside at the Carlton club meeting, the result of which the prime minister will await before deciding on his line of action. Mr. Chamberlain will ask for a vote of confidence and on this will depend his remaining in office and the ensuing general election. If, according, it will be left for the premier to indicate his course, which in any case will not be divulged until after he attends the Prince of Wales' public welcome home, October 20.

The participation of Winston Churchill, the colonial secretary, in the campaign, has been suddenly cut short by an attack of gastritis, which has obliged him to cancel all public engagements. Prior to Mr. Chamberlain's consultation, the premier held "a war council" at number 10 Downing street, with the members of his cabinet, including Mr. Chamberlain, after which he departed for Chequers house.

Ominous Rumblings. Ominous rumblings are heard from labor quarters, one party official being reported to have declared that no fewer than 429 labor candidates would appear in the next election, of whom sufficient would be returned to make it most difficult for any government to resist them. J. H. Thomas, speaking at Newport, delivered a scathing indictment of the government which, he said, had lost all prestige and honor. He predicted an election before Christmas and roundly condemned Mr. Chamberlain's suggestion of other parties combining against labor, as depriving labor of the right to vote and forcing the men to dictate action.

Sir Walter Runciman, at a liberal meeting at Portsmouth, made an onslaught against the government which he declared was vacillating in its foreign policy and inefficient in finance.

Skin Ablaze with Eczema

Constant Itching Almost Unbearable!

We know there is one thing that makes eczema and that is more red blood cells! S. S. S. builds them by the million! You can increase your red blood cells to the point where it is practically impossible for eczema to exist.

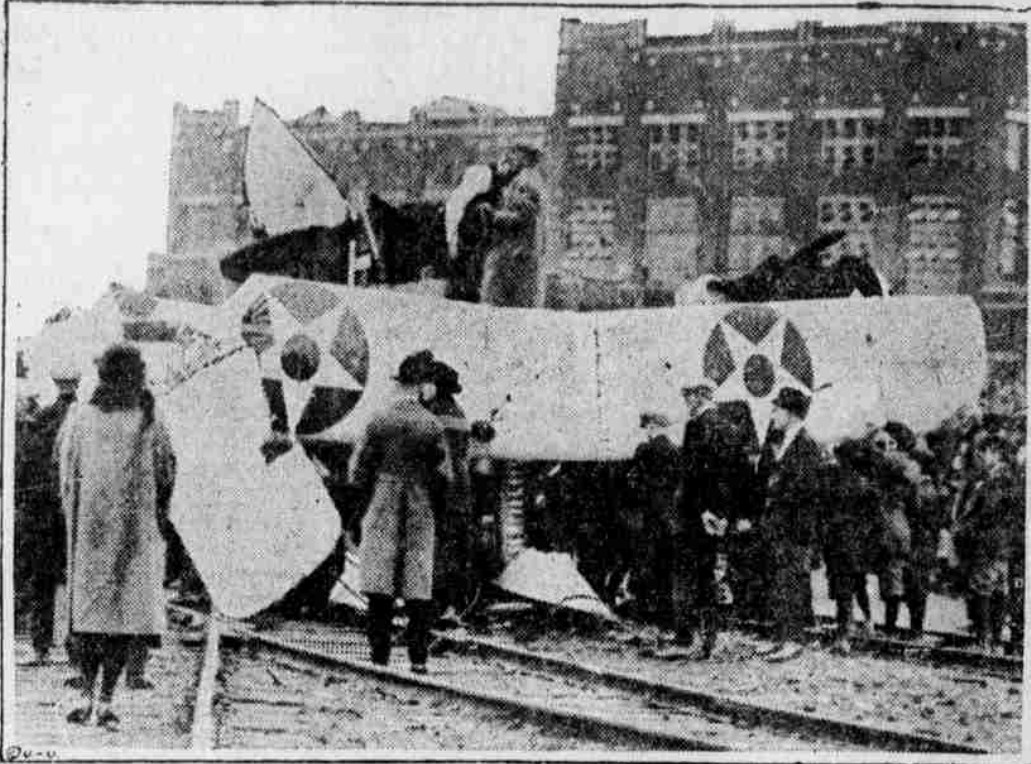

exist. We know that as blood-cells increase in number, blood impurities vanish! We also know that night follows day. Both are facts! But have you, eczema sufferers, ever actually taken advantage of this wonderful fact? Thousands just like you have never thought about it! Skin eruptions, eczema with all its fiery, skin-digging torture and its soul-tearing, unbearable itching, pimples, blackheads and boils, they all pack up and go, when the tide of blood-cells begins to roll in! Blood-cells are the fighting-giants of nature! It has been doing it since 1828! S. S. S. is one of the greatest blood-cell builders, blood-purifiers, blood-body-builders known to us mortals! When you put these facts together, then to continue to have eczema and skin eruptions looks more like a sin than a disease. Mrs. Arthur N. Smith, Pearl St., Newark, Ohio, writes: "My little girl had a very bad case of eczema. She began taking S. S. S. and in a few days it was all over. I tell my friends what a good medicine it is. I cannot tell too much about it, for I know it to be so."

Here is your opportunity. S. S. S. contains only vegetable medicinal ingredients. Because S. S. S. does build red blood-cells, it cures rheumatism, builds firm flesh, fills out hollow cheeks, beautifies the complexion, builds you up when you are run-down. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores, in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

Lyric Theater—The Goldwyn Corporation presents a great picture in "Remembrance," with the principal stars being Ruth Miller, Claude Gillingwater and Cullen Landis; also showing the comedy, "Law and Order."

Pastime Theater—A great picture is at the Pastime this week, namely, "Silver Wings," presented by William Fox and directed from a season's sensational run on Broadway, New York, with Betty Compton as the star. A special orchestra will accompany the night shows, commencing at 7:45 o'clock.

BETTY COMPTON IS AT "B" THEATER, STARRING IN "LITTLE MINISTER"

Nigel Barrie, who plays the heavy role of Captain Halliwell in "The Little Minister," Betty Compton, a new Paramount picture produced by Penryn Stanslaw, which will be the attraction at the "B" Theater for the next few days, commencing today, is no relation to the author of the play, Sir James M. Barrie. But from the beginning, the studio folk started calling him either Sir James or Sid Nigel.

"But I'm not related either to the long dead knight of Conan Doyle's novels, or to the living author," says Mr. Barrie. "When I first came to the United States, they feared I was regarded as a son or some relation of Sir James' and so I was induced to change the spelling to 'Barry.' However, I've gone back to the original now. My grandfather and great grandfather were both in the British military and in this role I made up to resemble the latter as nearly as I could, especially as to the arrangement of my hair."

Betty Compton in the stellar role of Lady Babbie and George Hackathorne as Gavin, are other members of a really excellent cast.

YOU HAVE WAITED FOR "REMEMBRANCE" AND IT IS NOW AT THE LYRIC

In "Remembrance," the big Goldwyn special, opening a run of a few days at the Lyric today, Rupert Hughes has again demonstrated himself a film craftsman of the first order. The new photoplay is a companion-piece to Mr. Hughes' screen masterpiece, "The Old Nest," which was one of the few really big pictures of last year. "Remembrance" does for Father what "The Old Nest" did for Mother; it presents the head of the house in a sympathetic light. He "comes first after everyone else" but in the end he comes out strong. "Pop" Grout is the head of a household which has developed into "beggars"; they look upon "Pop" as a "good thing" to be worked to the limit—and "Pop" works to the limit for his family. When the limit is reached, "Pop" has an illness which nearly carries him off to a better world and his family awake to a belated sense of his importance in their little world of the present. Mrs. Grout becomes again the helpful, sympathetic wife; the worthless son who was on the point of stealing the securities upon which the rehabilitation of the family fortune depended, awakens to his worthlessness and repents; and the daughters find they have a real affection for their father.

Mr. Hughes directed the picture as a film of this sort should be directed—with imagination and insight as well as in a workmanlike way. There are in it hundreds of the deft little touches that go to make a Rupert Hughes picture infinitely closer to real human beings than the average run of photoplays. It reaches the heart of the spectator and is not merely a pleasant means of passing an hour. The cast ranks in ability, intelligence and convincingness with the best that Goldwyn has ever selected for any picture. Claude Gillingwater is "Pop" Grout to the very life. He is an actor of long-established reputation on the stage and a screen acquisition of which Goldwyn should be proud. Kate Lester is "Mom" and the children are acted by Cullen Landis, Patsy Ruth Miller, Richard Tucker, Nell Craig and Dana Todd. Esther Ralston, Arthur Trimble, Lucille Rickson, Max Davidson, William Carroll and Helen Hayward complete the cast.

If you enjoyed "The Old Nest" do not miss "Remembrance."

"MOTHER OF THE SCREEN," MARY CARR, STARRING IN "SILVER WINGS"—PASTIME

"Silver Wings," featuring Mary Carr, the picture William Fox chose to open his Broadway season and which enjoyed a successful six

EXPECT ARREST SOON IN JERSEY DOUBLE MURDER

Latest Clues Brought Into the Case Are Two Handkerchiefs Found on the Phillips Farm Recently.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 16 (by the Associated Press).—Cessation of all activities to turn the investigation of the double murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Rheinhardt Mills over to state authorities, it was learned tonight, has followed promises by the Middlesex and Somerset county authorities that definite action, culminating in an arrest would be taken within the next 24 hours.

Citizens of New Brunswick, who have been caustic in their criticism of the handling of the entire case, have apparently accepted the promises in good faith and speak optimistically tonight of early action which will go far toward clearing the mystery.

A close race, having as its goal an arrest, which will stand the investigation of the grand jury, has developed between the county authorities and the three state troopers who have been working independently on the case on the orders from Governor Edwards.

The county prosecutors of Middlesex and Somerset counties decline to intimate the trend of their latest investigation.

The latest clues brought into the case, the new Brunswick police said tonight, were two handkerchiefs found on the Phillips farm Sunday following the discovery of the two bodies. One of them is said to be a man's large white linen handkerchief. It had no identifying mark. The second was smaller, lace trimmed and bore the initials "E.S."

The ten letters which Charlotte Mills, daughter of the slain woman, announced through her attorney were in her possession and which she said proved that the friendship between her mother and the rector was only "platonic" are dated from Islesford, Me., and bear dates of last August, it became known today.

"The authorities have not seen these letters," said Julius Braun, private detective retained by Charlotte, "and we do not intend to disclose their contents now."

MISS M'BRIDE PLACES NELLIE

CHAPTER 25.
Although it was Saturday Nellie insisted upon going to see Miss McBride about a position.
"I don't want to lose any time," she said, "I did hold up that old crook for my wages and a reference," she told Cora, who wanted her to rest until Monday.
"This was your first position?" Miss McBride asked, already most kindly disposed toward Nellie because of what Gladys Doran had told her—the more so after seeing the girl in person.
"Yes, my first office position," Nellie answered, a roguish twinkle in her eyes.
"What did you do before that?" "Stung bush for Miss Carter at Hudson Corners, and learned to typewrite between times."
"Well, I don't think Miss Carter's reference would help you," Miss McBride replied with a laugh. "But this reference is very satisfactory—very."
Nellie wondered what she would say if she knew she had written it herself, then compelled Mr. Robinson to sign it. She was tempted to tell her, just to see how it would look, but restrained herself.
"It's true, every word of it," she said to herself as Miss McBride bent over her books. "I didn't say a word that wasn't true. The old skinflint didn't pay me enough—not for what I could do. And I did everything he gave me all right."
Miss McBride interrupted her musings.
"I have a position for a girl—I wonder if you could fill it? I have supplied this firm for years. They are very particular. The place isn't particularly easy but they are very kind, very fair. But it isn't just an ordinary stenographer they want. A girl must really serve as more of a secretary to the elder Mr. Fallon, and must have initiative, as well as knowing the regular routine—being able to do that well."
"I'm not looking for an easy job," Nellie thought of her work at Mr. Robinson's. "These easy jobs don't pay. They think if they let you go early and come late you should work for less, when the extra time isn't—can't much good to you."
"Yes, I know!" The agent knifed her brows. Fallon & Son were one of her best customers. They kept several girls busy, were most particular, and she had a great pride in serving them. This pretty young thing looking so wisely at her was not at all the type she had in her mind for the place, but no one had as yet applied that she thought would do at all, and Nellie's reference was certainly all one could ask for. Then Gladys Doran had told her she was quick and clever. "I'll let you try," she finally said, "unless when they see you, they think you are too young."
"Oh, I'll try so hard!" Nellie exclaimed.
"They pay well," Miss McBride went on. "I don't know what they will give you to start, but if you can fill the place it will mean $18 to $20, with a chance for more."
Nellie gasped. As much as Cora was getting. Oh, how she would work.
"You must dress neatly, but in that office the girls do not wear peep-a-boo waists, nor bright colors. What you have on is very suitable—a dark dress with dainty collars and cuffs, shoes cared for, a generally neat appearance. Don't look so conscious. I always advise my girls about their dress. You may not realize it, but it often helps a girl to get on. Take two girls in an office who are equally smart and who do their work well. If there is a chance for advancement I have noticed the more quietly dressed, the daintier girl, who is preferred."
"That's just the way Cora talks."
"Miss Cora is a very unusual girl, has splendid principles. You are very fortunate to be with her and Gladys. How does Cora like her position?"
"Very much. She was saying only the other night how grateful she was to you."
"Well, so you want to try this place I told you of?"
"Indeed, I do!"
"Take this card to them at 9 o'clock Monday morning. Their address is on the other side. If you cannot do their work, or if you find it too hard, come back. I'll find something for you."
"Thank you, but I shan't come back!" Nellie said with decision. She didn't hear Miss McBride say as she hurried out.
"I don't believe she will. But—she's too pretty, altogether too pretty. She'll be safe there—but—"
Miss McBride bent over her desk frowning. Too well she knew the pitfalls in New York ready to swallow young and pretty girls like Nellie Riley.
"Tomorrow—Nellie Reports Her Successes."

FROM PARIS.

For the woman who adores the romantic grace of a cape, Dame Fashion has designed many alluring creations this season. From a marvelous orange and silver affair which I saw at Poiret's, to the more conservative but wholly luxurious black velvet model pictured today, the cape in many different developments takes its place as the smart wrap for evening wear. A simple, gathered effect is the foundation of the cape illustrated, but the feature that distinguishes this model from the usual straight gathered-at-the-neck affair is the long panel which is gathered into the neck behind, and extends from shoulder to shoulder. This panel is cut diagonally at the base, and its straightness is extremely chic when the cape itself is gathered close about the figure. The collar is of gray squirrel.

BEAUTY CHATS

ANSWERED LETTERS.

Dainty.—Freckles are the result of excessive iron in the blood, brought to the skin's surface by the sun's rays. The fact that you never had freckles prior to 28 merely means that you did not have a condition previous to that time that would cause freckles. Our bodies are never the same as they were a year before, possibly not the same one day as the next one. That your hair has grown stronger and has more of a glint is possibly due to this iron which shows on the skin and has brightened and strengthened the hair. You can bleach off the freckles as they show, but you cannot rid yourself of the tendency unless some chemical change takes place in your own system. This is not at all unlikely since many a person has freckled for a few years and then ceased freckling.
Embarrassed.—Olive oil will not darken your hair. If your black hair is turning red at the roots it shows your scalp is in need of attention. Massage it vigorously every day until the scalp is loose from the bones and the blood is circulating healthfully.
Belle.—I am glad to hear of your success in reducing as a result of my diet chart. Your sister's skin will likely be clear of these pimples in a few years. This condition often occurs with either boys or girls of her age. The important thing is not to aggravate the condition by eating too many sweets or very rich foods; also never bruise the skin by picking the pimples; this causes scars that will take years to eradicate. Send a stamped addressed envelope for the bleaching formula.

Josephine.—The fleshy knob on your nose can be somewhat reduced through massage. The application of vanishing cream would not help.
Tilly M. D.—I will be glad to mail you the formula on receipt of a stamped addressed envelope. A girl of 15, height 5 feet 3 inches, will be normal weight at 110 pounds.
T. L. L.—You can purchase any book at the larger book stores. They will always order one for you if it is not included in their regular stock. You can also be advised on the selection of books if you ask such assistance.
Discouraged Lad.—The preparations you mention do not remove hair permanently. Learn to brush your brows so these stray hairs will not disfigure. This may be done by brushing down the hairs that grow above the brow, and then brushing up such hairs as grow below the brow, after which bring all of them into an arched line by shaping them with your fingers. You may have to do this every day, but it will not be long before you have trained the hairs so they will stay in place without much attention.
M. E. M.—There is no way to make the lashes curl artificially. Subscriber.—No amount of hair tonics will completely restore your hair if your general health is poor. The condition of the hair follows that of the system. This is especially true if there is any trouble with the nerves. But it is well to continue to cultivate the hair all the while the general health is being improved.

Board Fills Vacancy Caused by Resignation of Miss Johnson; New Secretary Is Experienced Worker.

Miss Dulce Knox, formerly hospitality secretary of the Young Woman's Christian association, has been selected as executive secretary of the Association. Miss Knox will take the place vacated by Miss Marian Johnson who resigned on October 1.

The appointment was made by the board of directors at a meeting at the headquarters last night. Miss Knox was selected by a special committee composed of Mesdames Roy Graham, A. G. Shortle, D. S. Hill and Miss Winifred Shuler who presented her name for the board's approval.

Miss Knox has been a worker in the association for the past five years. She has been filling the unique position of hospitality secretary, the only one in the United States, a department especially inaugurated for the transient girls in the city. She has just been off on a two months leave of absence. An assistant to take her place will be chosen in the near future.

The board meeting was presided over by Mrs. Roy Allen Stamm, first vice president, acting as president. Reports were read from the hotel, cafeteria, travelers' aid and girls' work secretaries and were approved by the board.

BLOND BABY GIRL IN COURT CUSTODY; MANY OFFER HOMES

A beautiful blond baby girl, aged 13 or 14 months, whose parents are believed to have abandoned her, is in the custody of Richard Guest, juvenile court officer. Captain Guest says that nearly a dozen childless couples have asked to adopt the baby. Under the law, the child must remain under the jurisdiction of the court for six months before being subject to adoption. The parents of the baby, who came here by the name of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hurst, left the city some time ago, leaving the baby in the custody of a woman whom they promised to pay for looking after her, according to Captain Guest. They have been gone for several weeks and nothing has been heard of them.
Mr. Guest says it is surprising to note the number of people who wish to adopt babies. He has been instrumental in placing several in good homes.

The growth of the Western School for Private Secretaries has been rapid and steady since its inauguration.

Addition after addition was added to its building at Eighth and Tijeras Avenues, but the enrollment grew faster than space could be added.

Until now a new building must be erected to accommodate this years student body, which is the largest by far in the history of the school.

The growth of no institution is accidental. It can be attributed to certain well defined causes. The growth of the Western School for Private Secretaries is due, we think, to the fact that we are offering instruction that no other school in the territory offers. Our students are prepared for the better positions—and they are always more positions open than we can fill at any time.

And remember, our system of individual instruction permits of enrollment at any time.

2 LOCAL GIRLS TO BE COUNTY DEMONSTRATORS

State Club Leader Here to Make Final Arrangements for Trip to State College Later in Month.

Two young dark-eyed girls from the Old Albuquerque school are going to show them how to prepare and serve a hot school lunch at the annual state demonstration contest for boys and girls clubs at State College on October 27 and 28. The final plans for their trip and the demonstration were made yesterday by Miss Amelia Alexander, state club leader, who was in the city yesterday from State College.

The girls have prepared their demonstration carefully. They will work for about 40 minutes talking all the time as they go ahead with the demonstration, explaining each process and telling the reason for it. They will talk on the three grades of school lunches and the proper kind of hot soups to be served at the school to augment the lunch. They will prepare a soup and show how it should be served.

The Bernalillo county team is composed of Miss Pauline Maestri and Anita Springer. Both are from the Old Town school where they have had two years' experience in the preparing of hot school lunches. They will be accompanied to State College by Miss Maud Doty, county home demonstration agent.

The team will be sent to the State College to represent Bernalillo county. Other counties will send stock-judging teams, poultry, sewing, cooking, millinery and sewing teams. All of the children will be entertained during their stay at the college. They will be housed in the old barracks and their meals will be furnished from all over the state.

"The object of the demonstration is to show other children that the lunches can be prepared and served by the school girls themselves and to inspire other schools to adopt the system," said Miss Alexander yesterday. "People will read and hear about hot lunches but never attempt them until they see them actually done. These girls will give demonstrations in this county when they return from the state contest."

ALBUQUERQUE POLICE AND WATER SYSTEMS PRAISED BY WATKINS

"I believe that Albuquerque has the best police and water departments of any city in the United States," writes H. B. Watkins to City Commissioner Sidney M. Weil. Mr. Watkins, who formerly was manager of the Albuquerque Chamber of Commerce, now has a similar position with the chamber of commerce of Port Huron, Mich. His letter states that he is anxious to secure from Albuquerque the history of the local police and water departments, with statistics as to personnel, salaries, receipts, disbursements, and manner of conduct. It is presumed that Mr. Watkins is endeavoring to assist Port Huron in municipal matters. City Manager Calkins and Police Chief Galtzira are preparing to send Mr. Watkins all the available information.

ONE COUNTY IN NEW MEXICO TO BE REASSESSED

Tax Commission Orders This Done in Guadalupe Following Complaints Filed by Four Railroads.

Special to The Journal
Santa Fe, Oct. 16.—On account of alleged discrimination in assessments in Guadalupe county, the state tax commission has ordered a complete reassessment of property in that county. The charge of discrimination is made by the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe, the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific, the El Paso and North Western and the El Paso and Rock Island railway companies.

Three of the companies charge that a large percentage of all the property in the county is not assessed at all.

"That the property which is assessed is so inaccurately and carelessly described that the taxes on it could not be collected by suit, and that, therefore, large delinquencies occur."

"That with the exception of the assessments made and certified to the county by the state tax commission, all property is grossly undervalued."

The resolution of the commission declares that the assessment for 1922 is not according to law and is incomplete in many respects. Cost of the new assessment is directed to be paid out of a balance of $2674 available for the purpose. The county commissioners are authorized to make an additional levy to take care of any deficit in the cost.

PARDON WILL BE SOUGHT FOR MAN NOW IN PRISON

Convicted of Wife Murder. He Says He Kept Silent so as Not to Break Up His Daughter's Home.

Pittsburgh, Pa., Oct. 16.—Relative of Jack Edwards, a former policeman of Johnstown, Pa., who is serving a life sentence in the western Pennsylvania penitentiary for wife murder, today said they would appeal to the state pardon board for his release. The appeal will be based on Edwards' story that he killed his wife when he learned she was in love with her son-in-law.

Wood reached the prison late yesterday that Edwards' daughter was dead. When the news was imparted to the prisoner he declared: "I've been silent for 12 years, for I did not want my daughter's home broken up. But now that she is dead I'm going to tell the story." Edwards said that he valued his daughter's happiness more than his own life and that this prompted him to conceal the motive for the killing. He killed his wife, he added, when he discovered that she and the son-in-law had been intimate.

"I desired to preserve my daughter's love and respect for her mother," the prisoner said.

ANGRY STEER GORES PONY RIDDEN BY BOY WHO BARELY ESCAPES

Special to The Journal
Carlsbad, N. M., Oct. 16.—David, the 10-year-old son of J. P. Whittington, who resides on the W. H. Merchant place, southwest of town, was attacked by a steer last Tuesday and but for the timely arrival of a cowboy, would in all probability have lost his life. The little fellow was taking a ride on his Shetland pony, on the road west of the canal bridge, not far from his home, when he rode up to a steer that was lying in the shade of a mesquite. The animal, surprised, jumped to its feet and took after the boy, forcing it in a frightful manner. The lad turned his pony around, but was pursued by the steer, which was now hand-hastened to the child's assistance and detracted the steer's attention, telling David to leave his pony and hide in the bush, which he did. The cowboy then rescued the animal and it developed that the steer is one of the large ones that are being held awaiting the arrival of cars to ship them, and was sick, so that it could not keep up with the herd and had to be left behind.

YOU'LL GET RID OF BLACKHEADS SURE

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calomel powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear, leaving the parts without any mark whatever. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and germs from the body that form in the pores of the skin. Pinching and squeezing only cause irritation, make large pores, and do not get the blackheads out after they become hard. The calomel powder and the water simply dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition. Anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should certainly try this simple method.

INSURANCE MAN IN NEW YORK IS SHOT BY WOMAN

Oscar Martelliere Receives Five Bullet Wounds; Surgeons Say His Condition Is Critical.

New York, Oct. 16.—Oscar Martelliere, insurance broker, was shot five times in his office late today by a woman whose name was given as Pauline Delorme. The woman surrendered at police headquarters. Surgeons said Martelliere's condition was critical. "Tenants of other offices in the building told the police that a moment before the shots rang out they heard a woman ask: 'Are you going to do it?'"

The broker's answer "no," was followed by the shots.

The first three shots penetrated his chest and abdomen. As he fell to the floor, witnesses said, the woman stood over him, fired two more shots into his body and then fled.

CLAYTON HOUSE SOAKED IN OIL AND SET AFIRE?

That dingy film

Most people who brush teeth in old ways have film-coated teeth. A viscous film clings to the teeth, enters crevices and stays. That film becomes discolored, particularly with men who smoke. Then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Germs breed by millions in it. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

No old-type tooth paste can effectively fight film. So all these troubles were constantly increasing, and beautiful teeth were seen less often than today.

New discoveries

Dental science, after long research, has found two ways to fight that film. One acts to curdle it, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Many careful tests proved these methods efficient. Then authorities endorsed them, and dentists everywhere began to advise their use.

A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. The name is Pepsodent. Then these two great film combatants were embodied in it for daily application.

Not film alone

But Pepsodent brings other great results which research proves essential. It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to constantly neutralize the acids which cause decay.

It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits on teeth which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Those are Nature's great tooth-protecting forces in the mouth. Every use of Pepsodent gives them manifold power.

CATTLE THIEVES GET 77 HEAD IN HARDING COUNTY

Joe Swoyer of Cone Loses 50; Arrests Fail to Stop Losses, and Thief Still Believed at Large.

Special to The Journal
Mosquero, N. M., Oct. 16.—Cattle "rustling" appears to be coming back or reviving as a leading industry in these parts. Joe Swoyer, of Cone, reports the loss of 50 head. Walter Jones, also of Cone, 5 head; Mr. Hartley, of Miera, 20 head, and Frank Corey of Mosquero contributed two head to the gang who are unhampered by any moral principle that might forbid enriching themselves at others' expense.

One or two arrests have been made for this sort of crime, but it seems certain from the above losses that the cattle thieves are still at large.

Many of the cattle stolen are unbranded and therefore difficult for the officers to trace. Every farmer is urged to get a brand from the cattle sanitary board and brand all his stock. This, with care to look at and count the bunch every day, will prove discouraging to the thieves.

HARDING LETTER IS ATTACKED BY CHAIRMAN HULL

It is "in Effect a Plea for the Re-Election of a Do-Nothing Congress," Democratic Leader Says.

Washington, Oct. 16.—The letter of President Harding to Representative Mendenhall, praising the work of congress, which was made public yesterday, was declared by Chairman Cordell Hull, of the democratic national committee, in a statement tonight, to be "in effect a plea for the re-election of his do-nothing congress."

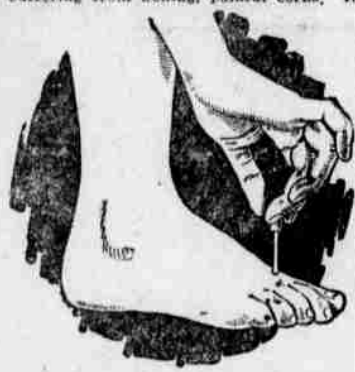

"With the exceptions of the republican members defeated in the primaries," Mr. Hull said, "practically the entire membership of this congress are candidates for re-election and when President Harding asks the American people to approve of this congress he asks its re-election."

"It is belittling to appraise the general results of the congress," says President Harding, which have been so helpful to American welfare that they will not fail to appeal to the approval of the American people."

"It is the Harding round-about way of doing what President Wilson did in 1918 in a direct way when he asked for the election of a democratic congress to aid him in making a just peace, for which he was criticized and abused by republican leaders, republican speakers and the reactionary republican press."

"President Wilson's plea was for the continuance of a congress to sustain an administration which had entered upon and was successfully conducting a great war, and which he deemed necessary to the making of a successful and just peace. It came at a time when republicans in the senate were trying to disgrace him and deprive his administration of the credit for what it had already done and what it planned to do."

"President Harding's plea, on the other hand, in effect, asks the American people to condone the faults of a congress already discredited in the eyes of the American people and repudiated and denounced by republican leaders including a member of his own cabinet and the honest and intelligent element of the republican press."

Nothing is so utterly needless as the suffering from achy, painful corns. It is as easy to peel off a corn as to skin a banana. Touch it with "Gels-It" and the trick is done. For hard corns, soft corns, any corn—no matter how old, painful, inflamed and the corn proceeds to loosen and soon can be lifted right off. Your money cheerfully refunded if it fails. But it never fails. Come but a trifle. E. Lawrence & Co., Mrs. Chicago, Sold in Albuquerque by Alvarado Pharmacy, Druggists, Pharmacy and Highland Pharmacy—Adv.

COMPLAINT OF WOMAN UNCOVERS CULT OF NEW LOVE; POLICE ARREST DIRECTORS

Miss Cleo Jocelyn and the "Rev." Charles Newman, real name said to be Harry Cohen.

Police claim to have uncovered one of the weirdest love cults in recent years with the arrest of the "Rev." Charles Newman, whose real name is said to be Harry Cohen, in Los Angeles. Newman is said to have had 1,500 followers who paid him large sums for seances. Arrest followed Miss Cleo Jocelyn's revelations.

BATTLE AGAINST LIQUOR RULING BEGINS IN N. Y.

Right of Foreign-Owned Ships to Enter American Ports With Intoxicants Aboard Is Being Tested.

New York, Oct. 16.—The legal battle to determine the right of foreign-owned ships to enter ports in the United States with liquor aboard was opened tonight with the issuing by United States District Attorney Hayward of a reply to the bills in equity brought by five foreign steamship companies.

The reply makes, in the main, four contentions: That the district court, before which the cases are to be heard tomorrow morning has no jurisdiction in the matter; that the suits are really against the United States government; that they do not show that the government has consented to be sued; and that they do not disclose any basis for an action in equity.

Upon these grounds the defense of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, Henry C. Stuart, acting collector of customs for the port of New York, and Ralph A. Day, federal prohibition director for the state of New York, will be built in court tomorrow.

MA Hayward, who is acting for Secretary Mellon, in the reply, answers specifically the ground upon which the requests for injunctions are based.

As to the difficulty which the foreign steamship companies state they would suffer by reason of laws compelling them to furnish wages to members of the crew, District Attorney Hayward says that the payment of higher wages would recompense crews for the lack of such simulant.

Regarding the loss of the profit made by the foreign ships in the sale of liquor, District Attorney Hayward claims that this loss is the only one which the companies will suffer under a strict adherence to the new ruling.

To the charge of the complaining steamship companies that the attorney general's ruling is a misinterpretation of the Volstead act, the reply states:

"If the complaints are correct in their construction of the national prohibition act, the implications involved are exceedingly serious and the claim of the complainants, if allowed, would carry with it as a necessary corollary the right of any ship to transport liquor within the territorial waters of the United States."

Answering the plea of the carriers to permit the possession on board ships of liquors, which would be kept under lock and key, during "in port" periods, the defendant claims that such permission would make the enforcement of prohibition against the importation of liquors, "already difficult," practically impossible.

The enforcement of the ruling of the attorney general as to apply to foreign ships is necessary to the protection of American-owned tonnage, the reply said, holding "on information and belief" that the sale of intoxicating liquors on the high seas by vessels carrying the American flag ceased with the issuance of the attorney general's ruling, while sale of liquor on other vessels has continued.

The continuance of such an arrangement will result, there reply charged, in "damage to the merchant marine which will be great and irreparable."

TUCUMCARI REFINERY INCREASES CAPACITY; TO BEGIN WORK SOON

Tucumcari, N. M., Oct. 16.—J. C. Roman, expert boiler setter of El Paso, is setting up stills at the refinery. He states that the material and workmanship of the plant at Tucumcari is all first-class.

He is setting up four stills at the plant and expects to have them furnished in about a month's time.

After the stills are completed the pipe work will be connected up and the plant will be ready to operate in about seven weeks.

Mr. Roman states that the Rio Grande refinery at El Paso is a big money maker and says that when started it did not compare with the plant in Tucumcari. The El Paso plant is about five years old. When it first started it operated at about a two car a day capacity. It now runs in the neighborhood of 50 cars a day.

It should be remembered that the El Paso plant is operating under a greater handicap than the Tucumcari plant due to the location and distance from the crude oil supply. The El Paso plant has a 300-mile longer haul than the one here.

Mr. Roman predicts that the Tucumcari field is sure to come in and that they are now drilling in black lime at 3,200 feet, having passed through a good gas flow.

This will assure a crude oil supply with the advantage of an interstate freight rate for the local refinery.

The Peco Producing and Refining company held its annual stockholders' meeting October 7, and all officers and directors were re-elected unanimously to serve for the ensuing year.

MAIL SACK IS TORN TO PIECES; $20,000 SCATTERED BY WINDS

Springfield, Ill., Oct. 15.—Five thousand dollars was scattered by the winds in the village of Auburn, 18 miles south of Springfield today when a mail sack, containing $20,000 was torn to ribbons by a Chicago and Alton passenger train. Residents of Auburn spent some time in picking up the money, and tonight but $2,000 was reported missing. Fifteen thousand dollars in another package was intact when found by searchers.

The money in $5 bills was placed in a mail sack and suspended from a mail crane. For some unknown reason the crane failed to work as the train passed and the mail sack, together with the package containing the $20,000 were torn to pieces. The money was consigned to the Federal Reserve bank at Chicago and the First National bank at Springfield.

STARTLING JAG IS GOTTEN BY CONVICTS FROM OWN CONCOCTION

Fort Madison, Iowa, Oct. 16.—State prison authorities investigating the apparent ineffectiveness of the eighteenth amendment to function in the penitentiary today discovered that convicts had invented what to all intents and purposes might be termed a human still.

Gathering certain weeds growing in the prison yards, the prisoners placed them in buckets of water, according to the investigators, and after the concoction reached the desired degree of fermentation, the inmates swallowed it, following it up with a chaser consisting of water in which sugar and yeast had been dissolved. The result, the investigations disclosed, was a startling jag that lasted almost indefinitely.

ENTREATS POWERS TO PROLONG EVACUATION

Constantinople, Oct. 16.—The Greek patriarch in a moving appeal telegraphed to all the allied governments tonight, entreats the powers to prolong the evacuation in Thrace. In order to stay the panic, which threatens in all parts of Thrace. He refers to the possibility of massacres by the Turkish gendarmerie. He thinks the massacres likely because the Turks at the present time are consumed with fanaticism and are delirious from military successes. He declares that a disaster of inconceivable proportions will ensue unless the allies take drastic action.

DOCTOR BEGINS TRANSLATION OF MYSTIC WRITING

Fifty Sheets of Papyrus, Dated in the Reign of Ptolemy, Found in Forecourt of Tomb of Thebes.

Philadelphia, Oct. 16.—Translation of fifty sheets of papyrus, dated in the reign of Ptolemy, of Philadelphia, but perhaps written many years earlier, was to be begun today at the University of Pennsylvania museum by Dr. Nathaniel Reich, formerly of the University of Vienna, said to be one of the only three living scholars capable of reading demotic, which was the shorthand of hieroglyphics.

The sheets were found in sealed cylinders or jars in the forecourt of a tomb at Thebes, by Dr. Clarence Stanley Fisher, and Egyptologists have been waiting impatiently for nearly a year to learn the secrets of ancient Egypt hidden in the mystic writing. The announcement that Dr. Reich had accepted the task was made yesterday by Dr. George Byron Gordon.

Demotic, it was explained, was used for official documents and other records in which a shorter and more compact form of writing than the hieroglyphics were used for inscriptions on monuments.

Enough deciphering has been done on the sheets to ascertain that they contain information as to how taxes were levied and collected in Ptolemy's reign. Modern economists are particularly interested in this, as the system was said to have been so evenly distributed that it brought in tremendous revenues with no apparent hardships to any class.

Nervous Wreck For Six Weeks

Kentucky Lady Tells How She Became Strong and Healthy--Recommends Cardui to Weak Women.

Mount Vernon, Ky.—Mrs. Cynthia Vanhook, formerly of Stamford, but now residing here, says that after her third child was born, she undertook to resume her household too soon, "and this caused me a great deal of trouble."

"I began to feel weak and all played out—not myself at all," Mrs. Vanhook describes her condition. "For about six weeks I was just a nervous wreck. I had to have some one do all my householding."

"My doctor told me my imprudence had caused shock to the nervous system, and the thing to do was to use a tonic to build up my strength."

"He recommended Cardui. . . . Very soon I saw an improvement in my condition. I used three bottles of Cardui and . . . my health was restored."

"I am a strong, healthy woman."

This Kentucky lady adds that she "never fails to recommend Cardui to weak and run-down lady friends."

"Thousands of women praise Cardui to their friends."

This mild, harmless, vegetable tonic medicine has been in successful use for over forty years in the treatment of many common ailments suffered by women. Your druggist sells Cardui.

REPUBLICAN ACHIEVEMENT

The Democratic party stands with its back to the wall. The national administration, in less than two years, has to its credit a record of legislative accomplishment, constructive and beneficial, which is unsurpassed by any other legislative body. In the face of such a record, it is little wonder that the Democrats have no other recourse than a destructive campaign of misrepresentation. Let the record speak for itself and by it the Republican party will be judged at the coming election.

The Republican Party was pledged to give the country constructive legislation. No Congress has ever enacted a greater percentage of legislation promised by its party. Consider its record.

First, and of vital importance, it has enacted no destructive, no sectional, no class legislation.

To put more business in Government it enacted the Budget law, under which the economy programme of this Administration was made possible.

It reduced the public taxes $818,000,000 a year, the bulk of which is lifted from the family and individual of average income. That taxes might be still further reduced, it unsparingly cut public appropriations.

It found 5,000,000 idle. To prevent further aggravation of the unemployment situation it enacted the restrictive immigration law.

It found agriculture facing ruin. To relieve the situation it revived the War Finance Corporation and furnished it with a billion dollar revolving fund to loan the farmer in his emergency. It passed the Farmers' Emergency tariff, which stopped the flood of imports that was contributing to agricultural distress. It increased the funds of the Federal Farm Loan Bank in the sum of $25,000,000.

The result was the revival of agriculture, which brought the farmer, who purchases 40 per cent. of the manufactured products of the country, again into the market, thus giving employment to idle men.

It enacted a permanent tariff which insures industry and agriculture alike protection from destructive foreign competition, and the working man steady employment at a good wage.

It enacted the Sweet law, which created the Veterans' Bureau, consolidating all Government agencies dealing with ex-service men, and facilitating the work of relieving disabled war veterans.

It appropriated for use of that bureau more money than was appropriated for any purpose except payment of the public debt and interest thereon.

It found the country officially in a state of war with Germany and Austria-Hungary, and by a joint resolution re-established peace with these two nations.

It enacted the Maternity Act to safeguard the welfare of infancy and maternity.

It created a refunding commission to place our foreign loans on a businesslike basis, and formulate conditions for their payment.

It authorized the formation of co-operative marketing associations, which will be of mutual benefit to the producer of food and to the consumer. It enacted the Packers and Stockyards Act for the live-stock interests, and the Grain Futures Act for the farmer.

To promote our foreign trade, it amended the Edge Act to facilitate the organization of corporations engaging in export business.

It provided for the reorganization of the Philippine financial system, and an extension of Philippine credit in order to save the islands from bankruptcy, which they were facing as a result of eight years of Government under the Democratic regime.

It came to the relief of drought-stricken areas in our own country, extended the time payment due on irrigation and reclamation projects, granted liberal aid for public roads, extended relief to the starving millions of Russia, reorganized the Indian Bureau, strengthened the enforcement of the Federal prohibition amendment, provided for the creation of more Federal courts in order to relieve the congestion of business and expedite justice, and created a commission to investigate the coal industry.

In addition, the United States Senate in less than thirty days ratified seven treaties formulated at the Arms Conference, which moved the world toward peace and committed the nations to a reduction of naval armament and a consequent reduction in taxation.

BY THE WAY.

Well, the world appears to be safe for European debts.

Europe is now said to be anxious to get hold of U. S. dollars. Europe always was.

The kaiser, issuing his memoirs before marriage, decided to have his say while he could.

About the only invention that has come out of Europe in eight years is the circulating war.

After Columbus' jaunt all Europe wanted America, but it will now be satisfied with all America has.

As to the least consequential consideration of the moment, it is conceded to be France's wedding gift to the kaiser.

In ruling that an automobile is not a necessary part of an undergraduate's equipment Yale authorities seem to cling to the old-fashioned idea that a student should devote some time to study.

Albuquerque Twenty Years Ago

The educational council of New Mexico held an informal session here yesterday. Present: Prof. J. A. Wood and Prof. Grant of Santa Fe; Prof. R. R. Larkin of Gallup; Superintendent Stroup, Attorney Hickey and Prof. Decker of Albuquerque, and President Foster of the Agricultural college. Dr. E. L. Hewitt of Albuquerque, the president, failed to arrive on time.

Albuquerque yesterday lost the third straight game to El Paso in the territorial fair tournament. The score was 5 to 1. Batteries: El Paso, Flaherty and Beville; Albuquerque, Callahan and Kling.

William Erickson, formerly of Albuquerque, who has been in charge of the Gross Kelly and Company house at Tucumcari, for the past year, is here to attend the fair.

The special train bearing Las Vegas to the territorial fair was wrecked yesterday 12 miles south of Las Vegas. The five coachloads of people had to return to Las Vegas. The Las Vegas band, however, managed to come down later, arriving last night. The accident cut down the Vegas attendance several hundred. Engineer Wilson was in charge of the special train.

Eight thousand people saw Clay McGonigal win the roping contest for the championship of New Mexico and a fat purse at the fair grounds yesterday. McGonigal roped and tied his steer in just 45.2 seconds, which is considered fast time considering the rough ground on which he worked. Carroll was a close second with 46 seconds, and a Navajo Indian with an unpronounceable name was third. The Indian probably would have been first, but he did not tie his steer correctly.

In the parade welcoming Montezuma to the city yesterday, Sheriff Thomas Hubbell took the part of Montezuma. How many guessed it? Miss Hunt was Queen Tecalo, and appeared a beautiful monarch. Colonel John Borradaile was marshal, with Captain W. E. Elder, Lieutenant Frank Strong, and Lieutenant Stingle as aides. The committee of judges, composed of Charles Sawyer, El Paso; W. E. Martin, Santa Fe, and H. M. Dougherty, Socorro, gave first prize to the flower boat driven by Mrs. B. S. Baker and Mrs. Solomon Luna, and second prize to the tandem driven by Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Washburn. The judges commended highly the Eagles float and the private turnout of Joseph Barnett.

TODAY'S BEST THOUGHT

The world was made to be inhabited by beasts, but studied and contemplated by man. It is the debt of our Reason we owe unto God, and the homage we pay for not being beasts; without this, the world is still as though it had not been, or as it was before the sixth day, when as yet there was not a creature that could conceive or say there was a world. The wisdom of God receives small honor from those vulgar heads that rudely stare about, and with a gross rusticity admire His works. Those highly magnify Him whose judicious inquiry into His acts, and deliberate research into His creatures, return the duty of a devout and learned admiration.

After-Dinner Tricks

No. 13.—Strike Safety Matches With

It is commonly supposed that a safety match can only be struck on the box or a neat little stunt is to strike one on the sole of the shoe, and then challenge any one to duplicate the feat, which he will be unable to do.

The secret is quite simple. The side of a match box was previously rubbed against the sole of the shoe, at the instep. Some of the substance is thus transferred from the box to the shoe and the striking of the match becomes a simple matter. As the instep does not touch the ground the application will not wear off for some time.

FINANCIAL

New York, Oct. 16.—Active bidding up of industrial shares including United States Steel common, which was carried to a new high at 11 1/2, at the opening of today's stock market, induced recent buyers to take profits with the result that marked irregularity took place in later trading. Rail shares came to life today and some material gains were registered.

Traders who have been bidding up stocks, in expectation of stock dividends, received a setback today when Albert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation and E. J. Corish, president of the National Lead company both denied that any distribution was contemplated by their concerns.

More than 100,000 shares of United States Steel common changed hands during the day, the closing price, however, representing a net gain of only 1/4.

Violent fluctuations took place in the high priced oil shares, Mexican Petroleum moved with a radius of nearly 3 points, closing at a net gain of 1/4, while Standard Oil of New Jersey, which had touched 21 1/2, fell back to 21 1/4, or 2 1/4 points below Saturday's final rate.

Total sales were 1,191,000 shares.

GRAIN

Chicago Board of Trade.
Chicago, Oct. 16.—Although wheat, corn and oats reached some new crop record prices for the season, immense profit taking sales led to downturns later. A decided gain in wheat values at Liverpool was chiefly responsible for the strength shown by markets here. Wheat in Chicago closed unsettled, 1/2c net lower to 1/2c advance with December 1 1/2, 1 1/2, 1 1/2 and May 1 1/2, 1 1/2, 1 1/2. Corn finished 1/2c off to 1/2c up, oats down 1/2c to 1/2c and provisions varying from 1/2c decline to a rise of two cents.

General buying sent wheat up quickly at the start here, but the rise coming after recent other gains proved to be a great incentive to realize on holdings. Transportation difficulties, which were purchasing at home, besides, increases in the domestic and Canadian visible supply totals served more or less to temper bullish sentiment.

Corn and oats were governed chiefly by the action of wheat. Leading interests reported that Germany was paying 99 cents a bushel for corn at Rotterdam, equal to 76 in Chicago.

Provisions, excepting only October lard, showed sympathy with the firmness of hog values.

Closing prices:
Wheat—Dec., 1 1/2; May, 1 1/2. Corn—Dec., 66c; May, 67 1/2c. Oats—Dec., 41 1/2c; May, 41 1/2c. Lard—Oct., 11.75; Jan., $9.50. Ribs—Oct., $10.50.

5 DAYS STARTING TODAY

Rupert Hughes brings back the past as vividly and truly as though each of us were young lovers again in Arcady. He has created a beautiful love story that you will remember forever. He has written the eternal drama of a father and mother in whose hearts love blooms again despite the troubles and tempests of life. Here is the story of real American people, of a man who sees wife and family growing away from him but who fights courageously for his home and fireside. If you liked "The Old Nest" you will love Rupert Hughes' greatest motion picture "Remembrance."
