DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE CHIEF DEFENDS RECORD AT WASHINGTON

Attorney General Daugherty Gives an Accounting of His Stewardship in a Speech at Canton, O.

INJUNCTION USED AS LEAST DRASTIC MEANS

Bureau Will Proceed to Perform Its Duties as It Sees Them, Under the Constitution, He Says.

Canton, O., Oct. 21 (By the Associated Press).—Making his only campaign speech to the voters of his home state, Attorney General Daugherty tonight gave an accounting of his stewardship at Washington, defended his course in the Chicago injunction proceedings and in the prosecution of war frauds and declared that despite "accusation and calumny" the department of justice would proceed to perform its duties as it sees them under the constitution.

In the strike emergency, the attorney general said, the federal government used the injunction as the least drastic means at hand for rescuing the country from the grip of civil war. He ascribed some of the blame to the "hard-boiled" railway executives, and asserted that any attorney general who would not have acted under the circumstances "should be impeached."

Real Purpose of Attacks. Declaring the real purpose of attacks on the department's record in war frauds investigation was to force the hand of the government and prematurely disclose important evidence, Mr. Daugherty said such assaults had been inspired not by the department's inactivity, but because the spotlight had been touched by the suits already under way.

"We would have heard little criticism of the department of justice," he said, "had it not been for the case like the Chemical Foundation, for instance, in which valuable patents were assigned by public officials to companies which they themselves had organized." He said the department was not being scrutinized by government agents.

"And let me here, without giving an intimation as to who the men were, let me suggest that I have had the unique experience of sitting in the department of justice and listening to the story of a man formerly connected with the government and hearing patiently his pleas for certain fairly legal concessions, when at the same time, in the city of New York, another former official, one of his associates was busy conducting a racket, and making connections in order that the attacks upon the department of justice and the government might be increased, reinforced and successfully carried out."

Can Give Names. "I can give the names of these parties if ever they lift their voices to dispute this statement, but, unless I am authorized to do so, I should like to go through this investigation without prematurely mentioning names except in the orderly process of court proceedings. Their names, however, will be found in connection with certain litigation where in some of the most important questions and some of the most questionable transactions and some of the most valuable properties of the world are in dispute, and the right and wrong of the transactions connected with the transfer of certain property must be determined in a court of justice."

Difficulties Encountered. The attorney general recounted the difficulties encountered in war fraud prosecutions in the face of scattered evidence which he said the previous administration had neglected. He said his own administration had gone to work as soon as it was installed.

"As soon as it became known how effectively the work was going on," he continued, "the storm broke. The opposition of the crooks was conducted behind a smoke screen of calumny, created for their own escape, and in every instance, with the aid of every resource of the attack, and in every instance, withheld. The very men against whom both civil and criminal proceedings have been brought were using the ignorant and the glib to make charges in the open that nothing was being done by the department of justice. The real reason for their activity was the fact that things were being done. What did any man's reputation, his character, his life even, amount to if it stood in the way of their corrupt defense? But we have gone through it all and

G.O.P. ASSISTED STATE STOCKMEN HILL DECLARES

Republican Candidate for Governor Attacks Senator Jones and Praises Work of Senator Bursum.

Special to The Journal. —At a meeting held here last night, Charles L. Hill, republican candidate for governor, touched upon a subject which he has heretofore not made any mention of.

"The democrats," said Mr. Hill, "are putting in their entire time in making charges against the republicans. They allege this thing and assert that one, but never even attempt to prove either one, and it had never occurred to me until today why they are doing this. They are doing it, my friends, because they have the mistaken idea that by bringing one misrepresentation after another before the voters of New Mexico they can divert your attention and make you forget that the republican party has done things which are of incalculable benefit to the people of this state. I am here in a stock raising county tonight and I want to remind you of just one thing that the republican party has done for you, and in passing, I will remark that it is a thing which the democrats carefully avoid making any mention of.

Stockmen Aided. "I firmly believe that if it had not been for the activity of the republican party, 75 per cent of the stockmen of New Mexico would have been bankrupted today and the state of New Mexico would have been a chartered corporation of the activities of the War Finance Corporation were revived and it was through the efforts of our republican senator, Mr. O. Bursum, that the benefits of the billion dollar fund administered by the corporation were extended to New Mexico.

"Prior to the sending of Mr. Bursum to the senate, Mr. Jones, with his four years of boasted seniority, was the broken reed upon which the stock raisers of New Mexico leaned for support and aid, and who protected your interests with a most remarkable degree of intelligence, didn't he?

Jones Sat Idle By. "Without a murmur of protest Mr. Jones sat idle by in his swivel chair in the senate building and saw the bureau of Senator Bursum established at Dallas, Tex. At Dallas it remained and not a penny of the millions which were New Mexico's for the asking was ever brought into this state. Mr. O. Bursum went to Washington, within sixty days after Mr. Bursum arrived in the capitol the state of affairs had changed. A commission was appointed for this state, headquarters were opened at Albuquerque and since that time between seven and eight million dollars have been loaned to our stockmen. In addition to this, through the efforts of Senator Bursum and Mr. Mayor of the war finance agency, an arrangement for transporting cattle into old Mexico where pasturage is abundant and cheap, has been made and the cattle industry of your state is saved.

"This is one of the accomplishments of the republican party in which you are vitally interested and it is one of the things that the democrats would have you forget. But it is one of the things that you

M'ADDO VOICES CRITICISMS OF TARIFF MEASURE

Cost of Living Will Be Increased; Framers of Bill Purpose to Destroy American Foreign Trade.

Peoria, Ill., Oct. 21.—International co-operation to prevent war and a sound basis for agriculture are among the biggest problems confronting the country, Wm. G. McAdoo, former secretary of the treasury, declared here tonight in a democratic campaign address. He charged that the republican administration had by a policy of deflation destroyed prosperity. He also attacked the Fordney-McCumber tariff bill.

"It is estimated that the cost of living to the American people will be increased by the Fordney-McCumber bill, $4,000,000,000 per annum, of which only $100,000,000 will go into the federal treasury," he said.

The speaker charged that the framers of the bill purposed to destroy American foreign trade and keep the American markets for monopolists, declaring that destruction of foreign trade "does direct and irreparable injury to the American farmer and working man." With his foreign market cut off, the farmer must dump his surplus on the home market at ruinous prices.

Similarly, with foreign markets restricted, manufacturers do not work to capacity and the working man is affected, he said.

U.S. LIQUOR LAW PROVISIONS ARE NOW IN EFFECT

Transportation and Sale of Alcoholic Beverages Forbidden on Ships, Under Daugherty's Ruling.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Provisions of the liquor statutes, held by Attorney General Daugherty to prohibit transportation and sale of alcoholic beverages on American vessels anywhere and on foreign vessels within three miles of the United States coast, became effective tonight at midnight.

The extension of time ordered by President Harding to permit of lines to arrange their affairs conform to the ruling expired at midnight and enforcement officials declared suggestions for a further extension had not been approved. Enforcement officials are hopeful of a decision coming from the federal district court in New York, where the new interpretation of the law is under fire by both foreign and American lines—before the arrival of a vessel in violation of the ban necessitates punitive action against the ship, the agents and her master, as required by law.

It is pointed out that only vessels which arrive from foreign ports after midnight tonight come within the restrictions, thus giving a further "automatic stay" of from five to seven days in the case of most ships of the regular Atlantic routes and of an even longer period with respect to ships crossing the Pacific.

Reply by the state department to the protest of Great Britain against seizure of the Canadian steamer Emerald tonight still was awaiting a detailed report from the eight prohibition inspectors, giving details of the case against the ship. The latest report received yesterday, declaring the Emerald had illegally communicated with the shore by means of small boats was not considered sufficiently informative for the purposes of the liquor and customs laws at sea, would be restricted to the three-mile zone except in cases of ships which had established communication with the American coast.

Under the policy announced by President Harding, enforcement of the liquor and customs laws at sea, would be restricted to the three-mile zone except in cases of ships which had established communication with the American coast.

SWEDEN LEADS U. S. IN THE CONSUMPTION OF DAIRY PRODUCTS

Washington, Oct. 21.—The United States is among the leading nations in production but not in consumption or exportation of milk, butter and cheese, the department of agriculture announced today. Sweden, Great Britain and Germany, figures, use sixty-nine gallons of whole milk per capita each year, compared with forty-three gallons in this country, although its population is one-fourteenth as large as those in the United States.

Sweden and Denmark which use sixty-eight gallons of milk per capita annually, top the list of dairy products consuming countries in the department's new hand book of dairy statistics. The United States holds sixth place in a list of eleven nations. Great Britain and Germany use the lowest with twenty-two gallons and four gallons per capita, respectively.

This country comes tenth among thirteen in the use of butter. The latter is headed by Canada, where each person is credited with consuming twenty-seven pounds of butter a year, compared with fifteen pounds in the United States. Switzerland leads in cheese eating, the average for each person being twenty-eight pounds a year, against four pounds in the United States.

CORPORAL SHOT AND KILLED DURING FIGHT

Denver, Oct. 21.—Corporal Benjamin Meshev, 26 years old, of Company B, Thirty-eighth infantry, stationed at Fort Logan, was shot and killed during a fight last night in which several soldiers and William Patton, proprietor of a drug store in Logan town, adjoining the fort, participated. Patton was arrested by Sheriff Robert McNamara and put in jail at Littleton.

The trouble is alleged to have started when Meshev and other soldiers entered Patton's drug store and made remarks in the presence of Patton's wife that caused the druggist to order them out of the building. Patton, it is said, followed the soldiers out of the store and a fight followed. Sticks, stones and bricks were used in the fight, according to witnesses, and finally Patton is said to have drawn a pistol and fired. The shot striking Meshev between the eyes and killing him instantly. Corporal Meshev is said to have come to Fort Logan from Fort Leavenworth, Kans., only a short time ago.

1815---History Repeats Itself---1922

One hundred and seven years ago Napoleon, following his defeat at Waterloo, was sent into exile on the lonely South Atlantic island of St. Helena. A British warship took him there after his dream of world domination had been blasted. Now ex-King Constantine of Greece is taking a similar trip—to exile in Palermo, Sicily. Desire for conquest and subsequent defeat as in Napoleon's case, cost him his throne. Napoleon was twice exiled. Once on the Isle of Elba and lastly on St. Helena. "Tino" also is in his second exile. His first was in Switzerland after he had been forced to abandon his throne for pro-German activities during the war.

SALARIES IN 15 N.M. COUNTIES HAVE BEEN CUT

State Tax Commission Orders Adjustments, on Account of Shrinkage of the Assessed Valuation.

JEWELL CONFERS WITH CHAIRMAN OF LABOR BOARD

Notifies Hooper He Will Present a Petition to Tribunal for Reopening New York Central Case.

Chicago, Oct. 21 (By the Associated Press).—For the first time, since he entered the call for the federated shop crafts to walk out on July 1, R. M. Jewell, president of the organization, today called on the United States railroad labor board, holding a lengthy conference with Chairman Ben W. Hooper. President Jewell notified Chairman Hooper that the shop crafts within a few days would present a petition to the board for reopening of its case against the New York Central, involving the vestal right of the piecework system in shops at Elkhart, Ind.

The meeting between President Jewell and Chairman Hooper was marked by manifest cordiality. Chairman Jewell's visit with Chairman Hooper is regarded as an indication that his union again will take its place before the board to argue disputes with railroad managements, raising prior to the signing of the Baltimore agreement. It also was stated that the union will call upon the board to hear controversies with roads not parties to the Baltimore agreement.

It was unofficially announced that the labor board will grant President Jewell's petition.

KATONKA SAID HE WAS GUILTY, GUARD DECLARES

Sheriff Wynn Says He Has Man's Confession to Two Other Murders; Kelly's Father Sees Hanging.

Astec, N. M., Oct. 21.—Sheriff J. C. Wynn, who executed Steve E. Katonka yesterday for the murder of two taxicab drivers, today said he had the confession of Katonka to two other murders, one in El Paso, Tex., and one in Uniontown, Pa. He declined to make the confessions public. The confessions, it was said, implicated Mrs. Katonka, who is under sentence of five to thirty years in the same murders for which Katonka was hanged. Despite the fact that Katonka went to his death with the words "an injustice is being done," it was learned today that he told the guard at the jail on the night before his execution that he was guilty.

Charles Kelly, father of William Kelly, one of the men murdered in this county, witnessed the hanging and wept for joy.

AGGIE FOOTBALL SQUAD TO MAKE TRIP TO COAST

State College Team Will Leave for San Francisco October 25 to Play St. Mary's of Oakland.

Special to The Journal. —State College, N. M., Oct. 21.—Wednesday night, October 25, New Mexico Aggie football squad, made up of some 20 odd men, will embark on probably the longest athletic trip ever made by any college team in this section. They are to leave for San Francisco to play St. Mary's College of Oakland. The game is to be an inter-sectional struggle and is rated by sport writers as one of the most interesting football games of the season.

St. Mary's has already played two games this season, and lost both of them. However, the coaches who have won over them gives no indication of their strength. Two weeks ago Nevada defeated St. Mary's by a score of 21 to 12. Last Saturday the "Golden Bears" of the University of California, took them into camp by a score of 43 to 9. However, holding California down to 43 points is somewhat of an achievement, which is considered a victory of sorts.

Somewhat of a coincidence in the meeting of the Aggies and St. Mary's is the fact that both teams have been coached for three years by Notre Dame coaches. Both Coach Bergman of the Aggies and Coach Manigan of St. Mary's left the great Indiana university two years ago to enter the coaching game. Now their teams will meet with players from widely different sections of the country participating.

The Aggie gridsters will be aboard a private car for the trip. The team, going out over the northern route, expects to arrive in San Francisco Friday morning, the day before the game. After playing the game Saturday, they will depart the next morning for Los Angeles for a three-day lay over. While in Los Angeles they will scrimmage with the University of Southern California team in training. The following Saturday they will play the University of Arizona in Tucson, in what is really the most important game of the whole Aggie season. The fact that the team goes over over one route and returns by another will give the players a wonderful chance to see the country between here and the west coast metropolises.

SPECULATORS CAUGHT WITH OVERSUPPLY OF EGGS AND LOW PRICES

Chicago, Oct. 21.—Egg speculators in Chicago and other produce centers are being caught today between surplus supplies of millions of dozens of eggs and lower prices, largely due, egg men said today, to the greatly increased activity of the hens. It was estimated that each of Chicago's approximately 3,000,000 inhabitants would have to eat an egg a day until next January 1 to wipe out the surplus that is being increased by arrivals of 200,000 dozen weekly.

Speculators were said to have been holding eggs at a loss of three cents a dozen, when 19,000,000 dozen more eggs in storage than at this time last year.

Storage eggs, which last year brought 30 cents a dozen by the case in the commission district, today were selling for 26 cents and fresh eggs at 55 cents last year were quoted today at 37 cents.

DOUBLE MURDER INTEREST SHIFTS TO GRAND JURY

Indictments Against at Least Two Persons Will Be Asked by Prosecutor in Mills-Hall Slaying.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 21.—Developments in the investigation of the murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Richmond Mills tonight centered about sitting of the Somerset county grand jury at Somerville, Monday, when, it is learned, indictments against at least two persons, probably a man and a woman, will be asked by County Prosecutor Beckman.

Confident that he has built up a stronger case than is generally believed, Prosecutor Beckman today questioned several of the new figures in the mystery. He disclosed nothing of the results nor the identity of the two persons, said to be eye witnesses of the double slaying, upon whose testimony he is relying to help him in obtaining the indictments.

Two persons were questioned today, one a maid in the Hall home, and the other a vestryman in the rectory's church. The latter, Ralph V. W. Gordon, who was examined in his home by Prosecutor Beckman, was reported to have accompanied a young woman home from the Y. M. C. A. on the night of the murder. Whether or so department is charged upon knowledge of the crime, either in passing the scene of the murder or elsewhere, was not learned.

Timothy N. Pfeffer, counsel for Mrs. Hall, made known the nature of the examination of Barbara Touch, a maid in the Hall home, who was grilled for two hours today. The maid denied, he said, that Mrs. Hall told her of the minister's death before the finding of the bodies was announced. It had been reported that Mrs. Hall asked her maid to wash some white socks an hour before the murders became known, saying: "My dear, dead and he will need them."

Whether it is upon these witnesses that Prosecutor Beckman intends to build the case he will present to the grand jury Monday, or upon discoveries not yet made public, is not known. He expressed confidence in obtaining an indictment, however, saying he has something to justify his action in putting the case before that body.

CARLOAD OF POULTRY SHIPPED FROM CLOVIS

Clovis, N. M., Oct. 21.—O. M. Reese, proprietor of the Clovis Green and White Produce company, shipped a car load of chickens to California this week. Mr. Reese himself going with the shipment. The shipment was made up at McPherson and Fresno, Cal. The carload consisted of 5,500 chickens with a value of between $2,000 and $3,500.

While California is a great poultry country, the raisers here are in no danger of overproduction and do not raise many fowls for the market.

Poultry raising is growing in importance as an industry in Curry county. A few years ago, the shipping of fowls was a local industry, but now it is a source of income to the county.

DOORN CITIZENS DISAPPROVE OF SUNDAY WEDDING

Approaching Marriage of the Former Emperor of Germany Does Not Greatly Afflict Their Curiosity.

Doorn, Holland, Oct. 21 (By the Associated Press).—The wedding of the ex-emperor since he took up his residence in Holland becomes more impalpable than ever before as curious seekers abroad due to his forthcoming marriage with the princess of the Netherlands. This curiosity does not greatly afflict the villagers of Doorn. They view the approaching nuptials with an air of indifference, even of boredom. Nineteen of them are Austere-Calvinists and they took upon pomp and panoply as sinful vanities. Being strict Sabbatharians, they disapprove of William's choice of Sunday as the day for the wedding feast.

But they do not say an out loud, at least the tradesmen who cater to William's estate and the workmen who occasionally are given jobs on the estate are extremely tolerant about it all.

Even more silent are those in the ex-emperor's entourage. The few Dutch aristocrats from time to time who are received as visitors to the former emperor's retreat, have received him in many quarters. I have never in the whole of my experience witnessed such a spectacle as the crowds at the stations, which met me on my way to Leeds. I do not believe the people of this country will order their army, such a bidding (referring to the resolution of the unionists) and whatever happens in the next few weeks, I cheerfully stake my opinion on the people of this country."

Predicts a Special Session of Congress About November 20
Washington, Oct. 21.—Prediction that congress will be called in special session about November 20 was made by Representative Campbell, republican of Kansas, today after a conference with President Harding.

Mr. Campbell said if congress should convene about November 20 that undoubtedly all the necessary appropriation bills and other legislation could be disposed of before the sixty-seventh congress ends next March 4. He indicated, however, that no call would be issued until after the elections.

FORMER PREMIER OF ENGLAND IN SPEECH DEFENDS OFFICIAL ACTS

Lloyd George Addresses a Sympathetic Audience at Leeds, But Fails to Reveal His Program.

ACHIEVEMENTS OF HIS REGIME ARE REVIEWED

Holds Up His Success in Restoring Country's Commercial Prestige; Promises to Do Nothing Mean.

Leeds, Oct. 21 (By the Associated Press).—In a characteristic speech before a sympathetic audience today David Lloyd George defended his administration, but refrained from revealing his program. He spoke strongly of the past, but vaguely of the future. Apparently his plans are not yet formed, or he feels that the time is not ripe for disclosing them.

He promised the people that whatever the future might bring he would do nothing mean or paltry, declaring: "I will play no part that is unworthy of the people of this country at the greatest moment in the empire's history."

Reviews Achievements. Mr. Lloyd George did not say specifically that it was his purpose to lead the liberal party. He did refrain, as at Manchester, from endorsing Austen Chamberlain's pronouncement that the labor party was a menace to the constitution. After reviewing the achievements of his government in war and peace, and particularly holding up its success in restoring Great Britain's commercial prestige he declared:

"And they have smashed the combination that has pulled through our trade, our commerce and our credit throughout the world. It is a crime against the nation."

He voiced a warm tribute to his chancellor of the exchequer, Mr. Chamberlain and Sir Robert Stevenson, Home and paid the compliments to the anti-trade unionists, declaring that his leaders gave no help when it came to enforcing specific economies. He passed over lightly the so-called "second" election, which is the great point of Mr. Chamberlain's attack on labor and asserting that the government had dealt successfully with industrial unrest after crisis and has now got peace throughout the industrial world.

One of his keenest phrases was: "We are just beginning to look the dollar in the face once on equal terms." He said the approach of sterling exchange toward normal as one of the most important works of the government.

Endorses League. Enthusiasts recently accused the retiring premier of coldness toward the league of nations but he emphasized that as another of the government's great works, he had gone to Rome and signed the Versailles agreement and for the unionists who co-operated in the Irish settlement.

A typical passage was: "Education for the people; housing difficulties; disarmament; peace with Ireland; more liberty in India; these are not things that sound well in Mayfair and they have no special appeal in Brixton. It is really cheerful to know that when you have been spending your strength as I have for years in trying to serve your country you aren't forgotten the first time a resolution is passed against you at a west end club."

The crowds were immense and there was no mistaking the hearty approval of the people for their greeting. Characteristic as the speech was as far as it went, it lacked personalities which usually give a spice to Mr. Lloyd George's platform appearances.

It had no hard words for his enemies. Mr. Bonar Law had been a friend and was still his friend. A much greater assembly was outside the hall than the 3,000 fortunate ones who managed to get tickets.

The proceedings began with the customary British ritual for such occasions, the singing of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." In acknowledgment the vote of thanks from the meeting Mr. Lloyd George said:

"I have been very much encouraged by the kindness which I have received from many quarters. I have never in the whole of my experience witnessed such a spectacle as the crowds at the stations, which met me on my way to Leeds. I do not believe the people of this country will order their army, such a bidding (referring to the resolution of the unionists) and whatever happens in the next few weeks, I cheerfully stake my opinion on the people of this country."

OHIO STATE IS BEATEN 19-0 BY MICHIGAN SQUAD

Greatest Football Crowd
the Middle West Has Ever Known Sees Yost's Team Defeat Buckeye Squad.

Columbus, Ohio, Oct. 21 (By the Associated Press).—The Michigan Wolverines tonight stood triumphant over the Ohio state Buckeyes. While the greatest football crowd the middle west has ever known looked on this afternoon, Coach Yost's team defeated Ohio at all stages and won, 19 to 0.

The game marked the dedication of Ohio State's new stadium and the crowd, including 16,000 rabid Michigan supporters and their 75-piece band, overflowed the confines of the giant horseshoe's 65,000 seats and spread out into temporary bleachers along the sidelines and into every nook and corner of the big structure from which a view could be obtained. More than 65,000 persons saw the contest, it was estimated, and a thousand or more surged against the gates in futile efforts to gain admission.

Michigan, by winning today, avenged three successive defeats at the hands of the Buckeyes. But the retribution came at a heavy cost. Roby, star Wolverine half-back, and Vandervoort, regular tackle, probably will be out of the game for the remainder of the season as a result of injuries. Roby, it was announced, had the ligaments in his knee torn and Vandervoort a broken arm. Captain Goebel also limped off the field with a sprained ankle.

The unsuccessful fight of a good team against a better one tells the story of the game.

Michigan's scoring consisted of two touchdowns, both made by the elusive Kipke, who proved the offensive star of the game, and two goals from the field.

M'CORMICK REJOINS
ST. PETER'S ISLAND

Lausanne, Switzerland, Oct. 21 (By the Associated Press).—Harold F. McCormick of Chicago has rejoined his daughter, Mathilde, and her fiancé, Max Oser, the Swiss riding master, on St. Peter's island, in Lake Bielle.

Mr. McCormick, the natives understand, intends to purchase a country estate in this part of Switzerland. The Oser-McCormick party will remain on the island until winter sets in and then they will go to Italy.

The marriage will take place as soon as Mathilde attains the Swiss legal age.

Mathilde has engaged Fraulein Settler, daughter of the manager of the island, as her companion. She and her fiancé often take long horseback excursions to neighboring towns and castles.

VENDETTA IS WINNER OF ENDURANCE TEST

Burlington, Vt., Oct. 21.—Vendetta, a bay horse, owned by Major J. Watson Webb of Shelburne, was adjudged today the winner of the five days army endurance test which ended here last night. The horse was ridden by Major Louis Bond, commander of the army remount post at Fort Royal, Va.

Lieutenant Governor Abram A. Foote presented Major Bond with the United States mounted service cup and the winner's blue ribbon. The winner also will receive $600 in cash.

Gladstone, a Morgan, owned by the United States Morgan Horse farm at Middlebury, and ridden by Charles Gordon, took second place and was awarded $100.

THE FANNING HIVE BEE HIVE

BY NORMAN E. BROWN.

The Brooklyn Dodgers may have a new second baseman. Direct from Japan next spring, according to word from Brooklyn, he won't be a son of old Nippon, but a sort of "made in Japan" product.

To be more explicit, the man will be Bert Griffith.

Here's how: It is generally believed that Ivan Olson has played his last season with the Dodgers. If not in the big show, this means that Manager Robinson must find a new man to play second. Robbie believes that Griffith can fill the bill with a little seasoning.

Griffith joined the Dodgers from the New Orleans Southern association club last spring. He went up as an outfielder and was so used—going to Tom Griffith's place in right when a southpaw was pitching for the opposition. Bert had had infield experience, however, before joining the Dodgers and told Boss Robinson several times he would like to play in the infield. So when Griffith got a chance to go to Japan with the American league team of the two all-star clubs to the Orient as a second baseman he jumped at the chance and Uncle Robbie was only too glad to have him go.

Now if he delivers at the key-stone such while in the exhibition games to be staged in Japan he'll have the inside track on the second basing job for the Dodgers when he returns next February.

It may be that the Japs will see a new major league second base star in the making.

NAMED MINISTER TO U. S.

The Hague, Oct. 21.—Jonkheer Dr. C. A. D. Van De Graeff, Netherlands minister to Tokio, has been appointed Dutch minister to the United States. It was learned here today. He will succeed Dr. J. C. A. Everwijn, whose resignation as minister to Washington was announced last July.

DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE CHIEF DEFENDS RECORD

still, we are not afraid, and we will go on.

"A congressional investigation was demanded. Why? Because they could then, as they thought, disorganize us and compel us to produce the evidence prematurely and thus dissipate the government's efforts to bring and try the cases in a dignified way."

Summing up the record of the department under his administration the attorney general said more than 400 cases are undergoing liquidation; that 130 are dealing with war time frauds were in the hands of United States attorneys throughout the country and that thirteen fraud indictments already had been returned. In the past year, he said, the department had begun 8,448 civil and 50,000 criminal prosecutions, while adjudications and penalties collected since he came into office totaled nearly $3,000,000.

No Enemy of Labor. Mr. Daugherty prefaced his discussion of the rail strike with an assurance that he was no enemy of honestly organized labor.

"I am your sincere friend and will not deceive you," he said, addressing the laborers directly, "but you make a mistake when you set up rules in conflict with the rules, laws and constitution of our common country."

"Your principal trouble lies and your greatest danger is in the radicalism and character of some of your most prominent leaders. Your security lies in the constitution of the United States and in the laws of the United States and in the good opinion, by you deserved of all the American people. There is no quarrel between labor and the government."

Railroad Executives.

"A few irreconcilable railroad executives who insist upon calling themselves 'hard boiled,' might also, with considerable benefit to the country, be dispensed with. The fault is not all on one side, but at a time when strife that was almost civil was raging in this country, the government, having the right to do so, insisted upon the railroads performing their necessary functions to serve the people. Those in conflict with the railroads interfered with the performance of this service, and it was to protect the rights of all the people, strikers and employers, and every man, woman and child in the country that the government in its rightful capacity, took a hand."

The attorney general characterized the strike call as "a complete renunciation of the Esch-Cummins law," and continued: "With one bold challenge to constitutional government the strike leaders, to all apparent purposes, renounced the protection of governmental authority when they mutinied against a decision which they declared was construed to be unfavorable to their cause."

"The nation was in the grip of civil war. We had reached a point where loyal, intelligent Americans wondered if organized government actually existed."

cannot forget. It means the bread and butter for your children, the shoes on their feet and the clothes on their backs and it was done for you by a republican senator of sixty days standing after it had been left undone by a democratic senator of four years of so-called seniority."

Pankey Speaks. Mr. Hill was followed by former Lieutenant Governor B. F. Pankey, who, after being introduced as the largest taxpayer in the state, said: "I am interested in taxation. I ought to be because I pay enough taxes. But I am not interested in the kind of taxation that Jim Hinkle talks about. I pay taxes gladly for the building of highways but I wouldn't pay them gladly for the grading up of dirt roads. I am willing to pay taxes for good schools and transportation for children but I am not willing to pay taxes for log cabins and four months terms. The difference between me and Jim Hinkle is that I want to go forward and he wants to go backward. He complains because we are spending more money today than we spent four years ago. I'd complain if we didn't spend more, provided we had something to show for it. Even the democratic countries through which we have just come have something to show for it. They have good roads and good schools and Jim Hinkle is the only man I have met in the entire state who objects to having them."

"And, ladies and gentlemen," concluded Mr. Pankey, "I want to tell you something. Jim Hinkle doesn't really object to good roads and good schools; he just says he does because he wants to be governor and he thinks that maybe if he can keep the coming generation from being educated and can get such bad roads that nobody can go to the polls to vote that some day he'll have a chance of being elected. He hasn't any time and November 7 he is going to find it out."

If You Made Your Own Gasoline

WOULDN'T you strive to make it satisfactory from every standpoint rather than a little out of the ordinary in one respect or another? You'd naturally try to get a gasoline that would do the whole job under all conditions—one that was thoroughly dependable in starting, pick-up, power and mileage. You'd hardly be satisfied with wonderful-pulling power on the hills if you got it at the expense of low mileage or balky starts, would you?

The uniform dependability that most motorists demand is the chief reason for the year-in-and-year-out popularity of CONOCO, the balanced gasoline. Long experience and constant care together with the most modern refining methods are responsible for its correct range of boiling-points and each group of these in exactly the right proportion to give it the balance that is needed in the ideal gasoline.

During the many years that CONOCO has been available, many "phenomenal" motor facts have from time to time been offered the motoring public. Probably you have tried one or more of these in your search for gasoline satisfaction. But the fact that CONOCO is still the popular gasoline is striking evidence that the majority of gasoline users prefer all-around excellence to one-sided superiority.

Try CONOCO for a month—a fair test—and watch its performance from every standpoint. You'll find all the good qualities you've been looking for in a gasoline and you'll be done experimenting with other brands.

The life and power of your motor depend on its proper lubrication under all conditions. Get POLARINE, The Perfect Motor Oil, and be sure!

MERITS OF THE ECONOMY BASE BURNER
(Radiation Heat)

In most base burners the fire travel is merely down the back, into the base and then up the back again. In the Economy the fire is drawn both sides into the base, forward to the front, then up the back, thereby getting a larger amount of radiation from each side of the stove.

(Circulating Air)

Circulating hot air is the result of drawing cooler air from the room through the circulating flues and discharging it, heated, into the rooms.

D. AND R. G. MAY REDUCE STOCK SHIPMENT RATE

Company Officials Considering Granting the Emergency Cattle Freight Rate Cut of 35 Per Cent.

Pointing out that a reduced rate on cattle range to range shipment would be especially beneficial to the livestock interests if granted by the Denver and Rio Grande Western Railway company, due to the section of the state into which the railway line extends, officials of the New Mexico Cattle and Horse Growers' association have again petitioned the railway to grant reductions similar to those granted by other companies operating in the state.

Officials of the Denver and Rio Grande Western company have not refused to grant the reduction in freight rates which have been asked of all roads in the state, but have suggested that such a matter would not be of particular interest to growers. The matter has been more fully explained to the railway officials and it has been pointed out that connecting, as its line does, with the New Mexico Central, it penetrates into one of the very driest of the drought-stricken sections of the state.

Stockmen stated their belief yesterday that when the matter is again brought to the attention of the railway officers, they will join with other companies in extending this relief to the livestock interests. Other railway companies operating in the state have granted emergency reductions of 35 per cent on shipment of livestock from range to range.

SAYS PRO AMENDMENT IS THE WRONG WAY TO OBTAIN TEMPERANCE

Chicago, Oct. 21.—The prohibition amendment is the wrong way to obtain temperance, in the opinion of Dr. James S. Stone, who is retiring after 45 years in the ministry. It was announced today, and the present method of prohibition must fail.

"It won't work out at all," said the veteran clergyman, now 70 years old. He came to St. James Episcopal church from Philadelphia in 1895. Eventually, he believes, the prohibition amendment will become a dead letter because of lack of enforcement by the authorities.

WILL MAKE ATTEMPT TO COMPLETE FILM OF SAHARA DESERT

London, Oct. 21.—Within the next few weeks an Englishman, N. A. Greville, will make his fourth attempt to complete a film of the Sahara desert. Nine white men already have lost their lives in previous attempts to reach Lagos, British West Africa, from Algiers. Greville and his brother are famous for their film explorations, and they have already taken many African travel pictures. More than two years ago the brothers began a comprehensive film of the Sahara. They have already spent about $50,000 and have taken about 30,000 feet of film, but they still have 400 miles of the desert to cover.

It is planned this time to start from Lagos and make for Zinder, 600 miles away. After they have left Zinder they will be entirely cut off from civilization, and it is then that the work of filming will be started.

ALLEGED 'REDS' ROUNDED UP IN PORTLAND RAID

Sixty Are Locked Up on Charges of Vagrancy; Threatened I. W. W. Invasion a Complete Failure

Portland, Ore., Oct. 21.—With the threatened I. W. W. invasion of Portland a complete failure, according to officials, police again turned their attention to local members of the organization today and in a wholesale raid on the I. W. W. hall arrested sixty alleged radicals.

The 60, all of whom had been before the municipal court and who had been released earlier in the day by Municipal Judge Ekwall, were locked up on charges of vagrancy. Orders issued by Police Chief Jenkins definitely closed the I. W. W. headquarters and it was said, further attempts to hold meetings would result in more wholesale raids.

The day was quiet so far as the longshoremen's strike was concerned. Picket lines were reduced to police guard posts. No violence was attempted. Non-union men went to and from work without molestation.

Sixteen men who admitted membership in the I. W. W. were among those released in municipal court today by Judge Ekwall. They had been charged by the police with vagrancy. The judge stated, in ordering the men's release, that his association with radicals and a few days had made him "a bit of a radical himself."

The statement of Judge Ekwall came following the examination of a foreigner who had been arrested by the police. The court said the prisoner if he was an I. W. W. "No, I wasn't until I was put in jail last night. Now I am one," the defendant answered.

Well, I was made something of a radical myself yesterday," the jurist answered.

Despite the apparent change of attitude of the municipal court, the police continued their campaign against the "undesirables." Between midnight and 6 o'clock tonight 95 persons, 60 of whom were avowed I. W. W., were arrested. Twenty-five were picked up in the I. W. W. hall and about the streets. Eighteen were released after examination by the police.

Senator Borah Says the Re- publican Party in Idaho Must Furnish a Solution of Situation or Die.

Boise, Idaho, Oct. 21.—Senator W. E. Borah, republican of Idaho, in an address at Cardwell last night, declared that he realized that he not in accord with all the members of his party regarding the direct primary and added that "if the republican party does not clean house some other party will clean house for it."

Senator Borah's address followed action by the state republican central committee several days ago declaring that despite Senator Borah's expressed disapproval of the state platform, it would continue to wage its campaign on the platform.

"The republican party is confronting a situation where it must furnish a solution or die and it must be furnished outside of the republican party in this state, if it is to be furnished at all," Senator Borah said. "If this be treason, make the most of it."

He confined his address last night principally to taxes and the direct primary, which he termed the two live issues of the campaign. The party platform adopted at the state convention declares against the direct primary.

At a meeting of special representatives of the various Christian Endeavor societies of the city, held at the Y. W. C. A. recreation center, arrangements were made for the State Christian Endeavor convention to be held in Albuquerque, December 1 to 3. The meeting was called by the Rev. A. M. Knudsen, vice president of the State Christian Endeavor union.

The general committee organized by electing Miss Grace Peterson, chairman; Miss Evelyn Brosey, secretary; and William Ireland, treasurer. Sub-committees were appointed as follows: Entertainment, William Ireland; Miss Zenda Cook; Miss Margaret Blank; registration and publicity, Miss Cook; Miss Blank; Miss Brosey; decorations, Miss Eva Seth; Horace Moore; C. F. Clowers; music, C. F. Clowers; Mr. Moore; Mr. Ireland; Miss Brosey; program, Rev. A. M. Knudsen and Miss Peterson.

The meetings will be held at the Presbyterian church. It is expected that W. Roy Beg of Dallas, Tex., and C. C. Hamilton, of Boston, field manager of the Christian Endeavor World, the official organ of this young people's movement, will be present to deliver addresses. Out of town delegates will be entertained on the Harvard plan.

FRANCE'S TAXES HIGHER THAN IN GERMANY, AVERS

Deputy Bokanowski Draws Up a Report on Pending Budget Which Will Be Laid Before the Chamber.

Paris, Oct. 21 (by the Associated Press).—In comparing the burden of taxation in Germany and France, Deputy Maurice Bokanowski in a report on the pending budget he has drawn up for presentation to the chamber, says every able bodied man in France paid 1,903 francs as compared with 628 francs for each able bodied German. German taxes, he pointed out, represent fourteen days' labor, while a Frenchman had to supply twenty-eight.

The Bokanowski report begins with a few expressions on the absolute necessity of the country understanding its financial situation so that the will may be created on the part of the public to re-establish the national credit on a solid basis. It showed, he pointed out, which may be recovered under the peace treaty form—a special budget—but that the general budget lists expense of 24,000,000,000 and receipts of 19,000,000,000 francs, approximately leaving a deficit of 5,000,000,000 francs.

The question arose, the report sets forth, whether this 5,000,000,000 deficit ought to be included in the general budget or in the special budget for recovering expenses, but that the government considered it ought to be put in the general budget although it represented interest on loans borrowed to take the place of reparations payments, because the French taxpayer was responsible if such payments were eventually not received.

The report puts the sum still necessary for the restoration of the devastated region at 55,000,000,000 francs, and the value of the pensions still to be paid at 35,000,000,000 francs, making a total of 90,000,000,000 francs for the recoverable budget, whereas France's credit against Germany is valued at 73,000,000,000 francs, leaving a deficit of 17,000,000,000 francs which France must find.

The public debt increase, the report sets forth, amounts to 21,000,000,000 francs while in 1923, 20,000,000 francs additional must be borrowed, so that if the borrowing conditions continue the report forecasts that by the end of 1925 the French taxpayers will be paying 30,000,000,000 francs yearly as interest, while the normal receipts of the 1923 budget will not exceed 18,000,000,000 francs.

MAN HELD UP, BOUND, GAGGED, HANGED BY HEELS FROM A LIMB

Salinas, Calif., Oct. 21.—Zolla Murrila, who said he is a business man of Casper, Wyo., today was held up, bound, gagged, hanged by his heels from the limb of a tree over a creek bed near the highway between Salinas and San Juan, and robbed. A passing motorist heard Murrila's groans, released him and notified the police. Two men who gave their names as Joseph Somers and Walter Walton, were arrested and confessed, officers said, that they had robbed Murrila.

What Kind of a Range will be Standing in Your Kitchen 15 Years From Now?

A hard question to answer perhaps.

But the woman who owns a Monarch Range can tell you. She expects to be using the same Monarch. She has good reason to expect it to last a lifetime. And she is perfectly satisfied to use it as long as it lasts because it bakes as well with the same small fuel requirements as it did when new.

If YOU want to be sure of having the same range fifteen years from now—and to be so pleased with it that you never want to change, buy a Monarch Range now.

If you expect your new range to give this kind of service, be sure that it is built the Monarch way—unbreakable malleable iron and heavy steel plates riveted securely together.

You would be proud to have a Monarch in your kitchen. It is the most handsome range you ever saw, and so easy to keep looking like new.

Don't forget that we carry a complete line of Heaters and Base Burners.

HIGHS DEFEAT MENAUL SCHOOL BY 15-0 SCORE

First Time in Three Years That Presbyterians Have Failed to Score on the A.
H. S. Team.

Albuquerque High defeated Menaul school yesterday afternoon at Washington park by a score of 15 to 0. It was a good, clean exhibition of football. Yesterday's game marks the first game in three years that Menaul has been unable to score on the Highs.

The game was called at 2:35 p. m. by Referee Williams, physical director of the Y. M. C. A. High School kicked off, and it was Menaul's ball on their 30-yard line. Menaul made downs once, but was forced to kick. High school got the ball on their 40-yard line and started a march down the field that ended in the first touchdown. Royal kicked goal.

The High boys kicked off again, and Menaul started with the ball on their 30-yard line. After the ball had changed hands twice, Menaul was forced to punt from their 15-yard line, and their center passed the ball over the punter's head which resulted in a safety for the High School, making the score 9-0.

In the second quarter, the ball was worked back and forth, neither side seeming to have the punch to score. Menaul gained consistently through the High School line, and at one time had the ball on the High boys' 20-yard line. The half ended with the ball near the center of the field.

The third quarter was a repetition of the second, both sides gaining consistently in the center of the field, but lacking the punch near the goal. The quarter ended on Menaul School's 20-yard line.

In the first few minutes of the fourth quarter, the High school went over for their second and last touchdown. The ball was missed. Again the ball reversed back and forth in the center of the field. High School completed several forward passes, and Menaul gained through the line till the end of the game.

Neither team played as they might have played, perhaps because it was near the beginning of the season, and perhaps because the game meant so much to the schools involved. It was a good game to watch as the score was in doubt till the end, and both sides did some excellent playing all through.

Next week the High School will have no game as Santa Fe has canceled and no other team has been scheduled. The team will be put through heavy practice, however, in preparation for the game with Roswell on the fourth of November. This game will be played in Roswell.

The Highs will play the Normal University team at Las Vegas on November 11.

INDIAN SECOND TEAM GETS BEST OF SANTA FE TO TUNE OF 50-0

The second team of the Albuquerque Indian school defeated the first team of the Santa Fe Indian school by a score of 50 to 0 in a football game played here yesterday. The visitors were unable to make any gains on their rivals. The game was clean and fast throughout.

The Albuquerque boys made their first touchdown in the first quarter, failing to kick goal. In the second quarter they made two touchdowns and kicked goal. In the third they made three touchdowns and one goal kick and in the fourth two touchdowns.

A return game will be played between the two teams in Santa Fe later in the season. The first team of the Albuquerque school is heavier than the Santa Fe first team and does not compete with it in football.

"Red" Wears His Ears Taped to Save 'Em as He Leads Centre

Captain "Red" Roberts of Centre college, Kentucky, all-American choice as end, is a colorful football star, in action as well as hair.

"Red" is hardly what one would call a puny individual, in fact he's altogether the opposite. He sports a headgear as a chorus lollipop would put the nix on a deck walloper's proposal of marriage. A band of tape around the noddle and over the ears serves to keep his shell-like ears from getting too familiar with the terra firma during the skidding.

Roberts can hit a line like a herd maddened. He possesses endurance that would cause a truck-horse to blush, and he's fast.

In the defeat that this little Kentucky college administered to Harvard last year, "Red" Roberts and "Doc" McMillan stood out with awe inspiring prominence. Roberts covered ground after the manner of an April shower and solidly withstood the brunt of the crimson attack. Innumerable sport-critics acclaim him the greatest all-around star in the game.

Centre has lost such men this year as McMillan, Armstrong and James, but despite the loss of such a formidable array, Captain Roberts is expected to lead a team that practically equals the aggregation of '21 in efficiency.

But, best we forget, while singing praises to the inimitable Roberts, a large portion of the glory should go to "Uncle Charley" Moran, who coaches Centre and has guided the squad into enviable heights in the football world.

ATHLETIC FIELD TO BE CHOSEN BY THOSE WHO SUBSCRIBE FUND

Subscribers themselves will decide where the proposed athletic field will be located, Jack Cameron, promoter of the project, explained last night. He suggested several sites which might be obtained through negotiations. Among them were a part of Washington park, which might be secured from the board of education; the location at First street and Mountain road and the field at Fifth street and West Atlantic avenue. As the field will be used by the two major baseball clubs, the Grays and the new club soon to be organized, as well as on Sundays, this use will but seldom conflict with other athletic events which might be scheduled on the field by schools and other athletic organizations.

"My part of the movement is to see if enough pledges can be secured to insure the success of the new field," Mr. Cameron stated last night. "And when the project is completed in this respect, it will be up to the subscribers to manage the details." Mr. Cameron stated that the subscriptions to date were encouraging.

CENTRE COLLEGE IS DEFEATED BY HARVARD, 24-10

'Praying Colonels' Stage a Courageous Battle But Are Unable to Beat the Strong Cambridge Team.

Cambridge, Mass., Oct. 21 (By the Associated Press).—Overwhelmed by a first period collection of twenty-one points, Centre College was defeated by Harvard here this afternoon by a final score of 24 to 10, but the cold figures do not tell the courageous battle staged by the southerners in the later periods of play—a battle which limited the damage from a drab defeat into a thrilling struggle that clamped fifty thousand spectators to their seats until the closing second of play.

For more than two hours, lapped time considered, the two eleven battled in a furious mixture of bad and brilliant football, and it was in part because of handling of the ball in crucial situations that brought about the downfall of the Danville, Ky. combination. It was the valiant effort of the southerners in the Harvard stadium for some seasons to come, yet in their passing all thoughts of looseness in play which paved the way for a Crimson victory will be forgotten in the bright, recreation of the fighting spirit and sensational charges which Centre flung forth in the face of almost certain defeat.

Three times in the first period of 15 minutes actual play Harvard crossed Centre's goal line, due in part to the Colonels' inability to hold the ball and to the Crimson's almost uncanny sense of ball-following, plus super-judgment as to when and how to strike for scores. The team, which a year ago defeated Harvard, 6 to 0, saw the Crimson score within two minutes after the opening kick-off almost a gift touchdown at the very beginning of play.

Yet, in the face of this gridiron disaster, Centre came back and not only outplayed the Cambridge machine in the final periods, but scored a touchdown in addition to an earlier field goal. It was the wonderful spirit of courage and battle to the end that thrilled and aroused the thousands of spectators and caused them time and again to omit the rebel yell, or at least the best imitation of the real southern article that an enthusiastic northerner could produce in rooting for a lost cause.

Had the fates which doomed football destiny been a little more generous it might have been that victory would have winged its way southward tonight with the Centre team. Instead of camping in the Cambridge quarters of the Crimson eleven. It cannot be truthfully said that Centre was a better football team today than Harvard but there was not the difference in playing ability that the occasional but costly lapses of form and luck were eliminated.

CHICAGO BEAT PURDUE—Sung Field, Chicago, Oct. 21.—Starting with a team of substitutes with two exceptions, Chicago defeated Purdue, 12 to 0, before 20,000 people on Stagg field today in the last game before the important interscholastic contest with Princeton next Saturday. Chicago did all of its scoring in the first half.

ILLINOIS LOSES DESPERATE GRID BATTLE TO IOWA

Tide Changes to Hawkeyes When Clark Is Removed in the Third Period on Account of Injuries.

Urbana, Ill., Oct. 21 (By the Associated Press).—Illinois, fighting a desperate battle and playing their heavier Iowa opponents to a standstill, lost one of the hardest fought football games ever staged on Illinois field, 8 to 7.

A touchdown on an end run by Capt. Gordon Locke scored for the Hawkeyes and when Shuttlesworth was hurried in the place kick he failed to kick goal. Engeldinger, Iowa tackle, broke through the Illinois line and blocked Auger's kick, the ball rolling across the goal line Auger falling on it to save a touchdown.

Then Illinois started a series of passes to their touchdown, Dawson, substituting for Couthie, who had replaced Clark as pilot, generating the successful air attack which paved the way to the score. But for the blocked kick Illinois would have beaten the conquerors of Yale. Illinois outplayed, out-fought and outguessed Iowa in the first, second and last quarters but when Clark was removed with an injury in the third period the tide changed toward Iowa.

Lester Parker, the quarterback who beat Yale with his speed around the ends, was stopped in his tracks on several attempted end runs, but in the last period he got away with three successive runs for a total of twenty-eight yards.

Breaks of the game were equal. Illinois getting the first one when Iowa fumbled in the first three minutes of play, but lack of strategy on the part of Illinois, which did not throw a pass, put the ball in Iowa's hands. Minnick getting a long kick past the middle of the field.

YALE FOOTBALL TEAM DEFEATS WILLIAMS

New Haven, Conn., Oct. 21.—Yale avenged Williams here this afternoon, 38 to 0. Led by their returned captain, Jordan, who scored two touchdowns before he was replaced by Cochran in the second period, Yale showed improvement today.

GEORGIA TECH'S DEFENSE BROKEN BY MIDSHIPMEN

Annapolis Triumphs Over Southern Football Team, 12 to 0, Before a Crowd of 20,000 Persons.

Annapolis, Md., Oct. 21.—Smashing down Georgia Tech's much vaunted "jump shift" and otherwise smashing offensive and at the same time unleashing a more consistent attack themselves with remarkable success with the forward pass, the Annapolis midshipmen triumphed over the southerners before a crowd of 20,000 on Patuxent field today by a score of 12 to 0.

It was Tech's first defeat of the season. It was a splendid game from start to finish and in which modern football was a his outstanding feature. Tech was not only outplayed, but out-generated and the great Barron, all-American half, failed to shine in the manner that had been expected of him. True, he got off in some brilliant plays and showed his ability at broken field running but the Middles were able to solve the "jump shift" formation and prevent any consistent gains.

In Great Britain a woman to be eligible to vote must be at least 20 years of age.

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells. That's the S. S. S. Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood-Cells. This Means Strength.

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many people because they are under weight? Simply because to be under weight often proves low fighting-power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them. Ladies and gentlemen, a peppy, bony face doesn't make you look very important or pretty, does it? Take S. S. S. ## A Really Fine Laundry

It is a great satisfaction to find a really high-grade laundry to which you can entrust even the finest things and know that they will be cleansed carefully and satisfactorily and at a moderate cost. Women are being spared a great deal of arduous, back breaking work by the IMPERIAL LAUNDRY, and husbands are finding their expenses no higher.

The IMPERIAL LAUNDRY has finally acquired the machinery that permits it now to make the following announcement of three distinct kinds of laundry service to the people of Albuquerque. It does with pride.

Service No. 1

WET WASH

Everything washed, extracted and sent home damp. 5c per pound. Minimum charge, 75c.

Service No. 2

ROUGH DRY

All wearing apparel starched and ready to iron, and all flat work ironed. 8c per pound plus 1c additional for each piece. Minimum charge 50c.

Service No. 3

FAMILY FINISH

Everything in the family wash finished and ready to wear, except collars and lace curtains,—15c per pound. Minimum charge $1.50. We require you to send 50% flat work, otherwise any wearing apparel in excess of 50% will be charged for at the rate of 30c per pound.

No washing worries, no messed up house, no ill temper, no weariness, and all done as well and cheaper than it can be at home.

A STENOGRAPHER'S ROMANCE

BY JANE PHELPS

NELLIE ENVIRES MR. FALLON'S NIECE

Chapter 30

"I guess we are apt to take one person as an example, especially if we are disappointed in them, and misjudge others because of them," Gladys said apropos of Mary Norton's story.

"Women aren't very kind to their own sex," Mary said reflectively. "I have a friend, in fact there were three girls, nice girls too, who tried to rent a little cheap flat of a woman agent. She almost insulted them, said she didn't like to rent to women—single women. She was particular to keep the property she handled respectable. When my friend told her they were all straight and honest, she said all single women and girls said that. So the girls went to a man agent—they had nice references from their landlady where they had lived and one of the girls had one from her employer. He gave them a nice little two-room flat with a kitchenette, and was awfully nice about fixing it up. I guess that telephone girl was right. Women haven't been in business long enough to be tactful, not many of them."

"Your friend was simply unfortunate the same as you were. I believe most women would be kind, thoughtful. Of course they want their work done the same as a man does. I should hate to think the two girls have spoken of were typical employers," Gladys said, then: "You must go to Miss McBride. She will find work for you, and you will change your mind about women bosses. She runs a big agency, and she's as kind to the girls, takes as much interest in each one as if they were her own sisters. She just got a fine position for Nellie. I'll give you a note to her. I've known her a long time, and it may get you in a bit sooner if she has a vacancy you are fitted for."

"Tears rolled down Mary Norton's cheeks. She was terribly discouraged, and kindness was more than she could bear. She took the note to Miss McBride. In crossing the street she was hit by a motor car, and died in a hospital before morning. Had it not been for the note in her bag, no one could have identified her as she was the only clue to her identity."

"It saddened the three girls for days; that she should have left them so encouraged, even happy, and then so soon been killed. They were sure she had queer some-times," Nellie said, "but perhaps he has his reasons." Her faith in a God was supreme, yet she pressed no religion, never went to church, as Gladys and Cora did.

Nellie had been with "Fallon and Son" a week. Her pay envelope held $18. Her hands trembled when she took it from the cashier, and she went into a dark corner of the hall on her way out to count it. She could scarcely wait to get home to tell the good news; now she could do her full share, and have something for clothes as well.

"You know, Miss McBride, said they'd give it to me if they thought I was worth it," she said gleefully to Cora and Gladys. "They think I am doing well! Horrah! It's great to be rich!" She flourished the bills in her hand.

"You've never said a word about the father," Cora said. "Is the son young?"

"Not very! About 25. I guess. He's got gray hair, a little patch over each ear. I never see him only when he comes in to speak to his father. But oh, girls! I was so disgusted with myself today!"

"What about?" Cora asked.

"Why there's a girl, I'm sort of envious of—she calls the old man 'uncle'—she's been there twice. She isn't a bit older than I am, but you should hear her talk, so easy and natural too. She spoke to me, pleasant, and you should have heard her laughing and talking with her uncle. Even when she joked she was so sweet, and used such lovely language. She stayed quite a while. Mr. George, that's the son, was going to take her to some yacht race. She was all dressed in white flannel, a cute cap on her yellow curls—her hair's gold color, instead of a rusty brown. Do you know, Cora, I'd be almost willing to die if I could talk like she does, sling the words so easy."

"What good would it do you if you were dead? And you never will talk as she does until you stop using so much slang."

"I know—but, Cora, slang expresses what I mean. I haven't words like she uses to tell what I want to. She made funny speeches, awfully funny ones. Her uncle was laughing most of the time she was there. Oh, dear! Will I ever know anything?"

After-Dinner Tricks

No. 18—Rapid Addition to Make 100

The performer offers to race any one counting to 100, the conditions being that first one will name a number not over ten; then the other will add a similar number, etc., thus: 3, 11, 17, 28, and so on. The one who manages to name 100 wins the race. The performer was every time.

The secret lies in certain "key" numbers. They are 1, 12, 23, 34, 45, 56, 67, 78, 89. After several numbers have been given, the performer strikes out one of these numbers, and from then on he cannot be beaten. Thus the man who starts the race can always win—if he knows the secret—for he has merely to begin by naming 1.

A variation is for the performer to make his opponent win. The "key" numbers for this are 11, 22, 33, 44, 55, 66, 77, 88, 99.

Styles

BY LENORE

FROM PARIS.

Cape de chine and cape marocain are among the more popular materials used for the smart costume blouse, especially when intended for the three-piece suit. One of the more unusual blouses shown this season is illustrated at the left of the sketch, the coatee style making it very desirable as a costume blouse when the coat of the suit is removed. This blouse is shown in cocoa brown, with a narrow edge of gold embroidery.

A splendid blouse for the three-piece suit, especially the type where the blouse is part of the dress beneath, is worn by the other lady in the sketch. This is made of crepe marocain and duvetyn, gray and green being the colors in which it was designed. The little floral decoration at the side, which may be embroidered or painted, is a pleasing touch.

DOMESTIC SCIENCE FEATURED FRIDAY'S WOMAN'S CLUB MEET

The domestic science program at the Woman's club on Friday was featured by a demonstration of an ideal lunch. Mrs. C. H. Comer was leader of the afternoon. The luncheon served had the following menu of tomatoes stuffed with salmon, bread and butter, plum pudding, sauce and coffee. The roll call was responded to by luncheon guests which can be prepared for four persons at a cost of one dollar. Those who assisted in the demonstration were Mesdames H. O. Strong, D. P. Nolting, William Holm, Vere Lane, C. A. Clarke and Edward Miller. Miss Florence Samuels, music supervisor of the public schools, gave a number of vocal solos, accompanied on the piano by Miss Norma Williams. Final plans for the entertainment of the state federation of women's clubs were made.

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

By LAURA A. KIRKMAN.

SOME GOOD CAKE ICINGS.

The following cake frostings and fillings should be in every housekeeper's possession:

Gelatin Frosting: 1 teaspoon granulated gelatin dissolved in one-third cup of boiling water (after being softened in a very little cold water); beat in powdered sugar till it becomes white and stiff. Flavor with vanilla or lemon.

Orange Frosting: Mix together the grated rind of 1 orange, 1-2 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon orange juice, yolk of 1 egg and enough confectioners' sugar to make it of a consistency to spread.

Chocolate Icing: Melt 1 ounce of chocolate, dilute it with 2 tablespoons of milk, add 2 tablespoons of sugar and 1-4 teaspoon of butter; stir till smooth and spread.

Another Chocolate Icing: Heat 2 tablespoons of milk, add powdered sugar, then melt 1/4 square of chocolate and add.

Chocolate Cream Frosting: Boil slowly for 15 minutes 1/2 cup of sweet milk, 1 cup of granulated sugar and a pinch of salt. Beat the milk, remove from fire, flavor with 1/2 teaspoon of vanilla and heat till thick enough to spread. (The cake may be either warm or cold.) After spreading this on the cake, melt 2 squares of chocolate and spread this melted chocolate on top of the cake frosting. Put the cake in a cool place for chocolate layer to harden.

Nut Filling: Mix together 1 heaping cup of granulated sugar, one-third cup of sweet milk and 1 teaspoon cocoa. Boil 4 minutes, then remove from fire, stir in 1/2 pound of walnut meats chopped, and spread on cake.

Rich Cake Filling: Boil together 1 cup powdered sugar and 1-4 cup of water until a little of it, when dropped in a cup of cold water, is firm. Then remove from range, beat in the stiffly beaten white of one egg, 1/2 cup of chopped walnut meats, and 1 tablespoon of shredded coconut. Flavor with 1 teaspoon of vanilla and spread at once.

Filling for Washington Pie: Boil 1 cup of sugar and 1/2 cup of water to a syrup, then remove from range and add to it 1 cup of chopped seeded raisins and beat until quite stiff. Add the stiffly whipped white of 1 egg and spread on top of cake and between two layers.

Plain Frosting: Stir confectioners' sugar into the unbeaten white of 1 egg until of the right consistency to spread. Flavor with 1-4 teaspoon of vanilla. If you wish to make golden frosting, use the yolk of the egg instead of the white.

BEAUTY CHATS

By Edna Kent Forbes.

BOUDOIRS AND BATHROOMS.

We talk so much about beauty baths and face powders and lotions that I sometimes think we neglect another essential of the daily beauty treatment, that is the rooms in which such treatments take place. A certain amount of equipment is necessary, it need not be expensive or elaborate, but it does facilitate these little tasks and make them pleasant.

A bath in a tin tub with a cake of soap and a wash cloth may be equally cleansing, but it's not nearly as much fun as a bath in a good-looking tub with perfumed salts from a hand painted jar and sweet smelling powder from a lustreware bowl and all in an attractive bathroom with an alluring negligee ready to slip into when the bath is finished.

No matter how dingy or old fashioned your bathroom may be, you can smarten it up with glossy bathroom paper and a liberal use of enamel. You need not be clever to do this work yourself. You can purchase cheap glass jars and bottles and paint them with flowers or a simple design in colors even if you are not an artist. A few of these bottles on a glass shelf above the hand basin will make any bathroom attractive.

A little ingenuity will do wonders for your boudoir or bedroom. If you can't afford good furniture, cheap furniture, enameled French grey or canary yellow or some other good shade, will serve quite as well. Only remember that plain color wall papers are always best; lighter. Design and contrasting color can be introduced in your cretonnes and cushions. A dressing table requires less space than a bureau and can be made from an inexpensive table with a mirror hung above it. Many little changes may suggest themselves to you.

Verried.—In a good hair tonic, if alcohol is used, there is also enough oil in the mixture to keep the hair from drying out. If your tonic does not contain this, wash some olive oil into the scalp whenever the hair requires it. Send a stamped addressed envelope requesting a hair tonic formula and I will be glad to mail one to you.

Perfuming Hands.—As this condition usually comes from nervousness it will only be cured by overcoming the cause. Temporary relief, however, can be obtained by using astringents on the hands, especially the palms where the pores are most active. A good powder for this is made by adding two drachms of boracic acid to an ounce and a half of any powder, such as talcum, oris root or just plain rice starch. A little toilet vinegar or spirits of camphor added to the water when bathing such hands will be beneficial.

Nonette.—Dandruff in the eyebrows is generally due to lack of oil in the skin. Massage some olive oil or vaseline into roots of the brows, or send a stamped addressed envelope to me requesting the formula for the eyelash and brow tonic.

MISS ECKLES IS BUSY IN SCHOOL; CAN'T CAMPAIGN

Democratic Candidate for State Superintendent Acting Normal President; Here on Business.

Miss Isabel L. Eckles, of Silver City, who is a candidate for the office of the state superintendent of public instruction, on the democratic ticket, is a novel kind of candidate. She is not campaigning. Not that she has any objections to making an active race for the office, she is just too deep in school work.

A trained educator of long experience, Miss Eckles has climbed to the executive position of acting head of the state normal school at Silver City, N. M., which she is turning to her characteristicly efficient manner. She has been registrar of the institution since 1919 and is acting as temporary president until A. O. Bowden, newly elected president, takes up his work on December 1.

Miss Eckles' heart is right with the schools of the state and she knows just what they need. And she is more than eager to get into a position to better things.

"I stand absolutely for improvement of the school system," said Miss Eckles yesterday while in Albuquerque. "If I am elected to the state superintendency I will do everything in my power for better schools. And I believe strongly in a careful and economic expenditure of public money. One thing I should certainly bring about is a higher standard of qualifications for school teachers in order to improve the type of instruction offered the children of the state."

Miss Eckles is a veteran school teacher herself. She taught for sixteen years in the public schools of Silver City and served for seven years as school superintendent of Grant county. She served in that office on a five-year term until 1917, and after another two-year term was ineligible for re-election. She has since been registrar of the normal school at Silver City. She was elected president of the New Mexico Educational association and served in that capacity for two years.

ALBUQUERQUE IS DESCRIBED IN A RECENT BOOKLET

President of Baldwin Locomotive Works Features Duke City in Describing His Trip Into the West.

Albuquerque as a city is featured in the recent booklet printed by Samuel M. Vauclain, president of the Baldwin Locomotive works, and which tells the story of his trip through the west following the "prosperity special," train of 29 locomotives which was shipped west from the Baldwin Locomotive Works.

The booklet which is entitled, "The Log of the Manhattan" is being given wide distribution throughout the world and especially in America. The Manhattan, Mr. Vauclain's special car, arrived in Albuquerque July 10. City, railway and county and state officials made it their business to entertain the Vauclain party while it remained in the city and to acquaint its members with Albuquerque and this section of New Mexico. The chamber of commerce was especially active in showing the visitors through the city.

It was mainly through the information received while here, that Mr. Vauclain decided to join with several capitalists in the east in working out a plan for assisting in the financing of the erection of 1,000 new homes, which will be needed in Albuquerque when the Santa Fe railway shops are turning to capacity.

Those in touch with Mr. Vauclain's plans report that the eastern capitalists, headed by Mr. Vauclain, have practically completed the details of the arrangement which will be carried out to assist in the construction of these additional houses in the city.

Amazing in Beauty and Outstanding in Value are Our Hats This Season

Wonder Hats.....$4.50
Excel Hats.....$6.50
Supreme Hats.....$9.50

In purchasing the hats on display in our second floor Millinery Department this season we deliberately set out to have not only the largest assortments in the state at all prices, but to have the most beautiful hats—and the most notable values.

The expressions of pleasure we hear every day from our customers indicate that we have succeeded in all three aims. Take our three leading lines, for instance, the Wonder hats at $4.50; the Excel hats at $6.50, and the Supreme hats at $9.50. Where else can you approach these hats in style and value? Where else are assortments so large? Save your time and energy by seeing the Rosenwald hats first. It's very safe to assume that you can make a delightful selection without further effort.

We Have Real Catalina Sport Hats at $3

Of course you've heard of the Catalina sport hats which originated, as their name indicates, in sunny California, and whose fame have spread to the four corners of the nation.

We direct your attention to the Catalinas we have on display at $3. We ask you to note the splendid styles, the careful workmanship, the beautiful colors—and to remember the price is only $3 on this particular lot.

France Sends Us Perfumes

The finest of the world's perfumes, toilet waters and like articles have always come from the land of the tri-color. The finest is none too good for Rosenwald customers, so we have stocked a wonderful selection of these things in our main floor drug department. And do not lose sight of the fact that here they are sold at department store prices.

CITIZENSHIP FOR WOMEN.

After equal suffrage was granted to women under the nineteenth amendment to the Constitution, it was not uncommon to hear men refer to them as "once our superiors, but now our equals." Now that President Harding has signed the Cable bill, under which a woman may retain her citizenship independently of her husband's status,

"The proudest now is but her peer,
The highest not more high!"

The effect of the new bill is that a woman will no longer be deprived of her American citizenship because she marries a foreign prince, nor can an alien be clothed with American citizenship by reason of her husband's naturalization. In either case a woman does not relinquish her birthright. The enactment of this measure corrects a condition which has worked an injustice on those women who were entitled to the rights of citizenship, while denying them to aliens who had no other claim to the rights and privileges of American citizenship than marriage.

The Cable bill removes the last barrier to that equality for which women in America have contended for one hundred years and it now remains to be seen to what extent they will avail themselves of its benefits. Mrs. Felton, whose many years of service on behalf of women's rights were recently crowned by her appointment as the first woman Senator, may have spoken prophetically when she said:

"I see a better citizenry coming to America only through efforts to improve our living standards. There must be every encouragement. A strong nation is dependent upon its women, and the manner in which the women of this country grasp their opportunities will decide most of the great issues of the future."

WORDS WITHOUT WORKS.

The campaign is now rapidly nearing its end and it is fair to assume that the voters have been accorded the sum total of political wisdom which will determine the result.

At the inception of the campaign the Democrats took the offensive; it was a campaign of destruction, an attack on everything supposed to be of Republican origin. The Republican campaign was more in the nature of a defensive movement from the start. It was necessarily so in the nature of the case. The Republican administration has done so many things of a constructive character during the less than two years of its incumbency that the Democrats have been kept busy trying to find a vulnerable spot. They have not only failed to advance, but have lost their foothold and are now beating a rapid retreat. In their retreat, which has become a rout, they are hurling a fusillade of "duds" at the advancing Republicans. It is, and has been, a hard fight—for the Democrats. They are being defeated by facts and these facts are the undeniably great achievements of the Republican administration. Throughout the whole country, late elections are being subordinated to national issues. In the Western states the farmer has had it instilled upon him that the inevitable post-war deflation was due to Republican maladministration. The Eastern states are being led to believe that the tariff law was enacted for the benefit of a limited plutocracy; in New Jersey the campaign has resolved itself into a battle between the "drys" and the "wets." Even the battle-cries of the bonus have been lost amid the din and confusion of the voices crying "excessive taxation." Not once has any reference been made to the failure of the Democratic administration to enact a compensation law, although a Democratic president was in power for more than two years after the signing of the Armistice. It will be, in many respects, one of the most important elections that have been held in many years. Upon the result will depend the economic development and prosperity of the country which has been revived and which has been making rapid strides under Republican administration.

Hon. J. W. Reynolds, secretary of the territory, came down from Santa Fe last night to meet Albuquerque friends.

D. M. Johnson, a New Mexico university boy at Columbia university now at Columbia university, is to appear with Dr. Kemp, an expert geologist, in an important case before the New York supreme court.

D. G. Grant, who has been visiting friends in the city, left last night for Los Angeles.

TODAY'S BEST THOUGHT

Six little words do claim me every day,
Shall, must and can, with will and ought and may.
SHALL is the law within inscribed by heaven,
The goal to which I by myself am driven.
MUST is the bound not to be overpast,
Where by the world and nature I'm held fast.
CAN is the measure of my personal power,
Of deed and art, science and practised power.
WILL is my noblest crown, my brightest, best,
Freedom's my own seal upon my soul impress;
OUGHT the inscription on the seal set fair
On Freedom's open door, a bolt 'tis there.
And lastly, MAY, among courses mixed,
The vaguely possible by the moment fixed,
SHALL, MUST and CAN, with WILL and OUGHT And MAY.

These are the six that claim me every day.
Only when God doth teach, do I know what each day,
I shall, I must, I can, I will, I ought, I may.

Still he lingered. Another clerk asked him what he wanted and with the same result. After the third clerk had attempted to follow suit the baby began to

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

By S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift

DO YOU know exactly how you stand in your personal affairs?
This is a question that each individual should be able to answer in the affirmative.

Lack of such knowledge often leads to failure. Personal management should be as systematic and accurate as successful business administration.

Progress in life is not a matter of what one does today or tomorrow, but it is a matter of what one does habitually.
Perhaps you have what you need is a very substantial income.
Perhaps your entire environment is one suggestive of prosperity.
Perhaps every outward sign seems to point to your abundant success.
But unless you are organized systematically you cannot say that you are administering your private affairs along successful lines.

How long are you sure of your present income? What would happen if you lost your place today?
What would you do if you met with a serious accident or became ill for a protracted period? Are you saving any money at all, and, if so, is it enough to provide for your old age?

If you want to do yourself a good turn get your pencil and do a little honest figuring. See just where you stand and what lies ahead for you. If that figure fails to tell you a story that fills you with pride and confidence in the future, then it is time you put yourself on a budget system and began the processes of systematic progress through thrift.

ENROLLMENT IN UNIVERSITIES BREAKS RECORDS

All the Large Institutions, Except One, Find Attendance Increased; Some Lack Facilities.

New York, Oct. 21.—Despite arguments as to whether there should be established an "aristocracy of brains," and admission to colleges and universities thus be limited, the proletariat still appears determined to get either an education, a first pin or a football letter.

At all events, reports from leading colleges throughout the country show a record breaking attendance everywhere this fall. Freshman classes are larger, and total enrollment at practically all colleges shows an increase.

At Columbia university, in the heart of New York city, 31,000 students are enrolled. The University of Pennsylvania reports 19,000.
Harvard opened its two hundred eighty-seventh year with the largest number in its history, a total of 2,710 students being enrolled in the liberal art department and more than six thousand in the institution as a whole.

Decrease at Dartmouth.
Dartmouth, whose president advocates the "aristocracy of brains," showed a slight decrease in its total enrollment, the "mental aristocracy" there totalling 2,626. The freshman class has a membership of 548, picked from a total of 3,500 applicants.

Princeton, Yale and others of the larger colleges report increases.
In the middle west increases in enrollment are reported from practically all colleges. Chicago university reports a total of more than six thousand. All records have been broken at the University of Illinois with a total enrollment of 8,352, an increase of about three hundred over last year. At Northwestern university an increase of five hundred students, bringing the total to nine thousand, has made necessary the limiting of the preparatory liberal arts department to two thousand men and women.
University of Iowa reports a boost of 750, making the total seven thousand and necessitating emergency adjustments to accommodate them.

A 10 per cent increase at the University of Nebraska has caused demands on the state legislature for an adequate program of expansion for the future. Marquette university received such an avalanche of students that difficulty was experienced in making out a schedule of classes. DePaul university has three thousand students, or four hundred more than last year. The universities of Michigan, Wisconsin and Minnesota all report "moderate and normal growth" with some shifting of program needed for the incoming hordes of freshmen.

Many Classes Too Large.
In the far west it has already become necessary to limit the size of classes in the larger universities.
The University of California enrolled 15,000 in curricula leading to degrees, compared to 14,400 last year. This increase was wholly in the graduate and professional schools.

"Many classes are still too large," said James Sutton, recorder of the university, "but the period of abnormal increase apparently is over, and there are signs that the institution is approaching wholesome equilibrium. There are now twenty-five junior colleges in California supported wholly or in part by state funds, and this has appreciably relieved pressure on the state university."

A strong, virile Christianity, capable of being lived seven days in each week is the only Christianity worth while.—William B. Allen, St. John's Cathedral Church.

The church needs her Pauls; but she cannot do without her Marks, the men and women who do their bit in a quiet, humble way to build the Kingdom of God.—A. M. Knudsen, St. Paul's Lutheran Church.

Of all the interesting places in the big city, none attracted the boy Jesus so much as the Temple. He was found in his Father's house. One of the tests of a person's religious life is the rapidity with which he makes his way to the house of God when changing location from one day to another. Where are you found on the Lord's day?—W. A. Guy, Broadway Christian Church.

Christ says: "Let the dead bury their dead."
Why should the Christian church, through the presence of the Christian pastor who represents it, accord Christian honors to a man who not only was not a member of the church, but despised the church and her ministry?—Carl Schmid, Immanuel Evangelical Lutheran Church.

Three Red Cross nurses died during the public nursing services in as many communities, making a total of 1,240 communities in the United States, Alaska, the Philippines, Porto Rico, Hawaii and the Virgin Islands, instructing and demonstrating in public health education, as well as nursing.

Disease Prevention
In the home visiting and nursing service more than 1,500,000 visits were made by nurses, visits to schools totaled 149,000, and in six months 1,250,000 school children were inspected by these nurses, who, in all cases of physical defects advised physicians' care to parents.

32,418 first aid certificates were issued in rural communities with thousands of converts won to approved methods of disease prevention throughout the country.

In home hygiene and care of the sick instruction, which equips the student in proper methods of insuring care where illness is not so serious as to require professional service, the Red Cross conducted 3,884 classes, enrolled 2,356 instructors, 32,418 students and issued 42,656 certificates to those completing courses.

The nutrition service, which is a recognized factor in public health programs, also made marked progress. This Red Cross service promotes individual and community health by making available authentic information concerning food and the food requirements of different ages in the varying conditions of life.

Health Activities
In general health activities the report shows that chapters maintained 377 health centers which provided 38,751 lectures. Clinics that specialized in such matters as baby care, nursing, first aid and life saving activities, is reaching many thousands of persons. The Red Cross life saving corps has a personnel of nearly 10,000 qualified in water-first-aid, and throughout the year the society carried on a wide campaign in teaching people to handle themselves in the water and in life saving.

One of the most interesting phases of American Red Cross work is the activity of the Junior Red Cross. Although the society in July withdrew its relief organization from Europe, the Junior society has been busy in carrying on its own activities indefinitely.

Activities of Organization Are Disclosed in the Annual Report Which Has Just Been Made Public.

Washington, Oct. 21.—Great increase in the amount of work done by the American Red Cross in the field of public health, through its nursing service, home hygiene and care of the sick courses, nutrition activities, first aid and life saving classes, health centers and other numerous methods, is disclosed in the annual report of the organization for the past fiscal year, which has just been made public.

LIQUOR RULING HITS AMERICAN SHIPPING BOARD

Daugherty's Order is the Greatest Blow That Could Have Happened to the U. S. Merchant Marine.

Chicago, Oct. 15.—Across a banquet hall last night, J. D. Lasker, chairman of the United States Shipping board, told Attorney General Daugherty and the other members of the attorney general's recent ruling that all ships entering American waters must be "dry," was the greatest blow that could have happened to the American merchant marine.

"I can prove," said Mr. Lasker, who spoke before the Audit Bureau of Circulation and its guests, "that Mr. Daugherty is the greatest law maker of all time. Moses only made the 'Red sea dry.' Mr. Lasker said that while he personally was anti-liquor, he spoke neither as a wet nor as a dry, but from the standpoint of the shipping board.

"I have seen in the press," said Mr. Lasker, "statements that he made his decision to conform to political expediency to aid the merchant marine bill. I never knew what the decision was until the president announced it.

"As to the attorney general, who is such a good politician, if he felt he was helping American ships, he did it without advising me. I want foreign ships to come in, as is their right. Forty per cent of the passengers are foreigners and will not subscribe to our views."

"When we are in international business we only deceive ourselves to think that America rules the world," he continued.

The principal profit of ships coming to American shores is the emigrant traffic, he said. The emigrant regards wine and beer as much as food as they do bread and water, he asserted. Liquor bearing ships can obtain this traffic and upon approaching American waters can throw overboard such liquor as may be left, although, he said, they could figure to a barrel just how much liquor would be required by their passengers.

He called attention to one result of the Daugherty ruling. The American ship "Resolute" was to make a Mediterranean cruise, he said, and 200 reservations had been made. Within 72 hours after the decision, 54 cancellations were received, including one from a head of a great New York bank who was to pay $25,000 for his accommodations.

"We cannot compete," he said, "with foreign ships that can leave our shores dry and take on liquor at Halifax."

The shipping board chairman said he entered the government service hoping to show that government ownership was possible, but added:

"Government ownership is the poison ivy in the garden of industry. Policy dictated by expediency at votes, with losses paid by the government, is a blight on the faith of the people. It is hypocrisy in government. I plead with you to help get America out of this morass. America owns 1,500 steel ships that cost billions. They are operated by the government and private ownership is withering under it. Under the ship subsidy bill we can end a loss of $50,000,000 a year in 30 months."

Mr. Daugherty in his address largely devoted to a declaration that the law must be upheld against all groups and individuals, and the power of the press as the basic influences in national life, touched only briefly on his "dry" decision.

A CAPRICE OF CURIOSITY

A CAPRICE OF CURIOSITY

By J. A. WALDRON

The Dawson Finishing School was an exclusive institution. The young women accepted by it to be trained that they might reflect credit upon their parents when they entered society had responsibilities as to conduct. And the school was so well patronized by the financially and socially elect that a girl of merely ordinary prospects could hope to enter it.

The Misses Dawson, spinsters, directors of the school, sat together in their executive office one morning, shawing their heads and wistling. Their faces pictured dismay and their manner determination. They awaited the coming of four of their students who had been summoned to their austere presence.

Something which seemed quite scandalous had been discovered by underlings and reported to the spinsters.

The four girls in question were inmates who had been placed in a dormitory by themselves. And they were to be examined in secret, for it would not do to let the matter involved become known to other young women in the institution.

All at once the room, ordinarily as unattractive as the spinsters themselves, was made brilliant by youth and its trappings. The Misses Hackley, Lessel, Jay and Nestell, the culprits, tripped in. It can almost be said they danced in, for they were buoyant. Their faces were fresh and joyous, their attire fetching, and their types of beauty contrasted to make a veritable bouquet of loveliness. They were the Three Graces, with a fourth added, and they typed modern femininity in its most attractive stage.

"Be seated, young ladies, please," said Marilla Dawson, the eldest spinster, who was usually mistress of ceremonies. If such a thing were possible, acid might have been distilled from her tone.

The girls fluttered charmingly into chairs. At any rate, the graces would have charmed any but the spinsters.

"I have a serious matter to broach," continued Marilla. Sophronia, the younger spinster, nodded affirmation.

"As all of you are in one room," Marilla went on, "there can be no great secrets between you. In other words, what is known to one must be known to all."

The girls looked at one another, smiling. Miss Nestell, who had the most mischievous air, giggled.

"S-s-h-h-h-h-h!" The sibilant was Marilla Dawson's. "This is no trifling matter, young ladies! Looking at them sternly for a moment, she took from an enfolding paper a silken garment. 'Have you seen this before? I ask you all.' Rising, she held it to view.

There was no answer, but it was plain that if the four girls had released what they were suppressing with difficulty the result would have been a chorus of mirth.

Marilla Dawson still held up the garment—a pajama coat—and then brought from the paper its complement, shuddering. "This is a man's garment!" Her intonation was spinsterish. "And a man's name is here, embroidered. She pointed at the collar with an accusing finger. 'This was found in the dormitory occupied by you in common. And that is not all! From another folded paper she took several little boxes. These are cigarettes. I know nothing of such things, but they seem to have been specially made, for they bear the monogram of the person whose name is embroidered on this garment!'"

The girls could no longer suppress giggles.

"I am amazed at your levity, young ladies!" Marilla's voice was lifted above its usual monotone. "One of you—perhaps all of you—can explain, as explain you must. It is a scandalous thing! I shall dismiss you now, cutting your usual amusements for the day. Go to the dormitory and make up your minds to confess. Then we shall see what must be done. The usefulness of this school—against which no breath of scandal has been breathed—has been put in jeopardy for you all. When you have confessed I shall advise with your parents."

And Marilla majestically waved the girls away.

The girls departed, but they giggled on the other side of the door.

The spinster sisters sat looking at each other, horrified by the problem, when a visitor was announced. They managed to rise and greet her. She was an imposing woman.

"The Misses Dawson?" she asked. "We are the Misses Dawson," Marilla replied.

"My errand is unusual. I know your school by reputation, and thus am the more surprised!"

"Surprised? And at what, pray? And your name, madam? You sent in no card." Marilla's dignity was appalling. But it did not disturb her visitor.

"Although we haven't met," she said, "I am a neighbor. I am Mrs. Christopher Barroughs. I reside on the Avenue, opposite your school. Our grounds adjoin in the rear."

"Interesting detail, madam, but what has it to do with us?"

"It has something to do, I assure you. I am amazed at the character of some of the young women in your institution!"

"Ah!" Marilla had taken up the pajama coat and was scanning its collar. "Have you a son, madam, named Hugh Barroughs?"

"Yes."

"Then perhaps you would be amazed at his character. This garment, which seems to belong to him, was found in one of our dormitories, with these." She held up a box of cigarettes.

"I recognize the articles. They are my son's. Two of your students—they must be held creatures—were seen descending from the window of my son's room by a wistaria vine near midnight. These things explain their interesting excursion."

"But your son might explain the matter."

"His room is unoccupied. He has been abroad for a year."

OIL LIGHT BEATS
ELECTRIC OR GAS

BURNS 94% AIR

A new oil lamp that gives an amazingly brilliant, soft, white light, even better than gas or electricity, has been tested by the U. S. Government and 35 leading universities and found to be superior to 10 ordinary oil lamps. It burns without odor, smoke or noise—no pumping up, is simple, clean, safe. Burns 94 per cent air and 6 per cent common kerosene (coal-oil).

The inventor, H. M. Johnson, 509 W. Lake St., Chicago, Ill., is offering to send a lamp on 10 days' FREE trial, or even to give one FREE to the first user in each locality who will help him introduce it. Write him today for full particulars. Also ask him to explain how you can get the agency, and without experience or money make $250 to $500 per month.—Adv.

15,000 CATTLE MAY BE MOVED FROM OTERO CO.

A Good Many Raisers. However, Will Take Their Chances on Wintering the Animals in the State.

Portales, N. M., Oct. 15.—In accordance with the radical steps being taken for the relief of the stockmen of the southwest about 15,000 thousand head of cattle may be moved from Otero county.

All cattle that it is possible to take will be taken just as soon as cars are available. The Southwestern railroad has been making frantic endeavors to get all stock cars possible to move the cattle along its lines from Carrizozo to Hatch.

A number of the local stockmen will sell their cattle at about twenty dollars a head rather than take chances of shipping to Mexico, believing that in the end they may be better off to make a sacrifice now.

A. A. McNatt just returned from a two weeks' trip to Mexico where he went to investigate the range and other conditions in Mexico. The McNatt brothers will probably sell all their cattle rather than ship to Mexico.

There are any number of buyers who are offering to buy if they can get cattle in sufficient numbers.

The First State bank has several cattle deals pending whereby buyers will take the cattle of local stockmen and ship them to other pastures.

Women factory and laundry workers in Kansas won a signal victory when the court upheld the industrial court's minimum wage law for women workers.

MAN IS HELD AFTER TELLING POLICE OF PLOT TO KILL WIRTH

Berlin, Oct. 15.—This was the day set for the assassination of Chancellor Wirth, but he was still living and happy tonight, and a young man, said by the police to have informed them of the plot, remained imprisoned at Hagen, in the province of Westphalia.

According to the information which the police said he gave them voluntarily, the murder was to have been carried out in the same manner as the assassination of the late Foreign Minister Rathenau.

The youth was publicly reported to have said that an organization sworn to bring about the assassination of the chancellor hired him to do it and that he accepted the engagement, but from the beginning never intended to keep his word.

FALL TERM OF COURT AT DEMING IS OVER

Deming, N. M., Oct. 15.—The fall term of the district court for Luna county lasted two days, Monday and Tuesday.

Judge Ryan came down from Silver City Monday and opened the term. Few cases appeared on the docket and no jury was drawn.

George Martin, who a couple of weeks ago had an altercation with a Mexican at the McCann farm and used a breast yoke in settling it, was arraigned on the charge of assault with a deadly weapon. He pleaded guilty to simple assault and was sentenced to thirty days in jail and costs of suit.

Ramon Padilla, who was accused of assault with a deadly weapon during a difference of opinion between himself and a friend when he was accused of wielding a pocket knife more or less effectively, waived indictment before the grand jury, pleaded "not guilty" and his trial will be set for a later date.

Several civil cases were disposed of and one new citizen, Hendrickson, received his naturalization papers.

Because of her work among Norwegians in this country, Dr. Ingerborg Rasmussen, a physician in Chicago, Ill., has been awarded King Haakon's gold medal of merit.

Woman Surprises Her Friends

"After a spell of typhoid fever 7 years ago I began to suffer from indigestion and gas in my stomach and colic attacks. This gradually became so bad that my doctor advised an operation for gall stones. A friend advised me to try May's Wonderful Remedy which I did with splendid results. My friends were astonished at my rapid improvement. I have no more bloating and can eat anything I wish. It removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract, and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded at Briggs pharmacy and druggists everywhere.—Adv.

BODY SHOULD BE KEPT CLEAN, IS WEST'S ADVICE

Proper Attention to Personal Hygiene Is Advocated; Other Hints for "Keeping Fit" Are Given.

By Dr. O. C. WEST

In these days everybody believes in sanitation of the community. Pure food, pure water, efficient sewage, and clean streets are required by all intelligent persons. The real menace to the individual, however, comes from unsanitary conditions in the community is far less than the menace from unsanitary conditions in his own body. A clean skin does not necessarily mean a clean body. The limits of the food canal and of the intestines is nothing more than a continuation of the skin. Under the artificial conditions of living today which civilization demands, the internal skin is not always as clean as it should be. The sewage wastes of the body are not always efficiently released. This condition of stagnation or sluggish movement in the self-cleaning function of the body, which is called constipation, is so common that it is often accepted as an inseparable feature of our so-called civilized existence. It can be prevented to a great extent by proper attention to personal hygiene.

Causes of Constipation. Constipation is not only an important factor in reducing the general level of health, but it is in itself, often an index of lowered bodily condition. The causes of constipation are many and may be grouped under the general cause of improper habits of living, lack of exercise, faulty diet, and neglect of bowel function. Another important cause is the constant use of laxatives and purgatives. Many purgatives, even those commonly considered harmless, such as laxative salts and mineral waters are often injurious, causing a chronic inflammatory condition of the bowels or aggravate the already existing inflammation. Practically all laxatives and purgatives owe their action to the fact that they irritate the intestines themselves. The chief error in diet that induces constipation is the use of concentrated food. Such food leaves little residue or waste to stimulate the bowel movement. The intestinal contents become dangerous by being long retained and the absorption of putrifying poisons that are harmful to the body. Abnormal conditions of the bowels are largely responsible for the common headache. Constipation is extremely prevalent, partly because most people fail to eliminate regularly, thoroughly and frequently.

Best Regulators of Bowels. The best regulators of the bowels are foods. Food should possess sufficient bulk to promote the action of the intestines, and should contain a due amount of laxative elements. Foods which are especially laxative are prunes, figs, fruits, especially green apples, and cereals, wheat bran and the whole grain cereals. Foods which when eaten exclusively or in large quantities will tend to cause constipation, are rice, cornstarch, fine white flour in bread, eggs and pasta. Free water drinking when the stomach is empty, especially before breakfast, is beneficial in constipation, but free water drinking at meals may work to the opposite and prove to induce constipation. Posture plays an important role as one of the simplest and most effective methods of personal hygiene. In maintaining an erect posture, the abdominal muscles tend to remain taut and to afford proper support to the abdomen. In a habitual crouching position, the blood of the abdomen tends to stagnate in the liver, causing headache, coldness of the hands and feet, chronic fatigue, etc. Many persons who suffer with these symptoms have been relieved after a few weeks practicing correct posture. Try it when walking or sitting.

Plan One Man Follows. A prominent business man in Albuquerque who spends most of his time indoors at desk work, has adopted a system of keeping fit, which is both interesting and extremely simple. He says "that his business has always required his close attention and that he could rarely ever take time to interest himself in golf or outdoor exercise. A few years ago he realized that his health was beginning to fail. In other words, he felt himself slipping towards the scrap heap, a nervous and mental wreck." This is the plan he worked out and follows today: At least six hours sleep, eight if possible; one pint of cold water drank immediately after rising, three minutes of brisk setting up exercises or until the skin glows; a tepid bath and fifteen minutes rest before breakfast. He is a great advocate of the practice of moderation in every habit of his life, he never hurries at meals and always manages to leave the table a little short of being completely gorged with food. This gentleman today is in perfect health and maintains a splendid physique. At his age he is in a position to take advantage of and enjoy many of life's pleasures that he otherwise would consider impossible.

Try and figure out a scheme for yourself; see if you cannot give a few minutes each morning to bettering your health, go to bed a little earlier, if necessary, but make your exercise regular and effective.

WHAT JONES HAS DONE

Record of Hard Work and Brilliant Achievement by New Mexico's Senior Senator at Washington.

Achievements for Nation and State Earns Gratitude of Both.

SENATOR A. A. JONES.

ABILITY. Industry, loyalty, success, have made United States Senator Andrieus A. Jones of New Mexico an asset of tremendous value to his home state. Devotion to the public welfare and unremitting study of his national problems have given A. A. Jones a position of unique influence in the U. S. Senate.

By supplanting Senator Jones with a new, untried, inexperienced man, a novice who would have to spend years learning what Senator Jones already knows as to New Mexico's and the nation's needs, and the means of meeting them. New Mexico would sacrifice a position of priceless advantage in the U. S. Senate and be left with two inexperienced beginners representing her there. Re-election of Senator Jones means recognition for distinguished public service, a refusal to throw away a big advantage won for this state.

Here, in a nutshell, is the record of Senator Jones' notable achievements at Washington. It is a record of faithful stewardship, ably performed. On Important Committees. Committee appointments spell senatorial influence—or the lack of it. Committee appointments are the index to the standing of a senator with his colleagues. It has been as a member of some of the most important committees of the Senate that Senator Jones has been able to give New Mexico and the nation the invaluable service he has rendered to both.

When he entered the Senate, Mr. Jones needed no introduction. His work as Assistant Secretary of the Interior, of great benefit to New Mexico and the whole West, made him nationally known. He has an inside knowledge of great economic problems, brought him into intimate contact with Congress and the cabinet, and recognition in the Senate was instant. Almost at once he became a member of the Finance Committee, the Committee on Public Lands, the Committee on Education and Labor, the Committee on Expenditures in the Interior Department, the Committee on Indian Affairs, the Committee on Mines and Mining, the Committee on Manufactures, the Committee on the Audit and Control of Contingent Expenses of the Senate, and the Committee on the Geological Survey. He later became a member of the Appropriations Committee and served with notable distinction as Chairman of the Committee on Woman Suffrage.

Membership on both the Finance and Appropriations Committees is an unusual distinction. These two are the most powerful Senate committees. The Finance Committee frames, remodels, recommends legislation for raising revenues. The Appropriations Committee originates or approves bills to determine, authorize and meet the expenses of the national government. It is the Finance Committee which devises fiscal measures like those relating to taxation and tariffs, vital Federal legislation. The Appropriations Committee deals not only with the regular budget of the government, but also with appropriations for special purposes in which the individual states are concerned. To the Committee on Public Lands are referred bills of the greatest moment to New Mexico and the Southwest.

Senator Jones' immediate assignment to these big committees was a recognition of his ability and painstaking industry.

Senator Jones was also chosen as Chairman or member of various important special committees; one, the Committee on Woman Suffrage, of which he was Chairman, was perhaps the chief factor in bringing about votes for women. In 1919 he was appointed Chairman of the Joint Committee on Reclassification of Salaries, whose work became the foundation for the legislation proposed in the Sterling-Leibach bill.

Senator Jones in 1919 was appointed a member of the Special Committee on the Budget system, which perfected the Budget Bill since enacted into law.

Such were Senator Jones' remarkable opportunities for service. How Jones Used Opportunity. The record shows how Senator Jones made use of his opportunities. Following is a list of a few outstanding measures for which Senator Jones exerted his influence or cast his vote—high lights of his six years' faithful and important service to country and commonwealth:

Peace Treaties. Senator Jones voted against all reservations to the Versailles Treaty until convinced the Senate deadlock would hopelessly delay or prevent peace.

Four-Power Treaty. Voted to ratify Colombian Treaty; always used good offices for amicable and just settlement with Mexico.

Canal Tolls. Voted against repeal of Panama Canal tolls on American shipping, as matter of national good faith and to prevent increased intrastate toll rates for benefit of coastwise shipping monopoly.

Railroad Legislation. Senator Jones supported U. S. railroad control as war measure, voted to return to private ownership after the war, and fought vigorously to make so-called long and short haul clause absolute, voted against Esch-Cummins Bill as neither fair nor permanent arrangement.

Tariff. Senator Jones was an ardent supporter of the Emergency Tariff Bill. In the Fordney-McCumber Bill debate he tried to force Republicans to give to agricultural products and unremitted study of his national problems have given A. A. Jones a position of unique influence in the U. S. Senate.

Proposed scientific non-political tariff, based on research, amendment received the support of Senators Burren, Capper, Chairman of Farm Bloc, Nicholson, Linghuyzen, Borah, Reed of Pennsylvania, and other Republicans with solid Democratic vote. Lost by two votes. Republican and Democratic Senators agree this solution of the tariff problem will be finally adopted. The Jones plan called for a scientific investigation of the cost of production here and abroad, by the tariff commission.

Miscellaneous. Senator Jones supported the bill to make Corrupt Practices Act apply to Primary as well as to Regular Elections. Spoke and voted against seating of Senator Newberry. Supported law increasing pay of fourth-class postmasters.

Supported law to restrict immigration. Development—Reclamation. Senator Jones has consistently given his vote to all measures contemplating internal improvements, such as reclamation projects, development of the country's natural resources, encouragement of education, and the promotion of agricultural and industrial progress and prosperity. Many important bills looking to the betterment of conditions in the Southwest have been pigeonholed or defeated by the present Republican Congress in spite of the efforts of Senator Jones and other Democrats to put them into operation.

The latest and most notable of the proposed measures which the Republicans have throttled is the Smith-McNary Bill, appropriating $25,000,000 for reclamation work in the West and Southwest. They rejected this bill as a part of the Soldiers' Bonus Bill and are about to kill it outright.

For Jones and other Democrats fought hard for this measure, but the Republican majority under directions from President Harding, had their way. What Jones Has Done for New Mexico. New Mexico as a state of the union has profited by all the constructive, statesmanlike work of Senator Jones in national matters. New Mexico has profited in a special way by Senator Jones' loyalty to his home state.

Before he was sworn in as a senator, he made a special trip to Washington to urge Mesilla Valley drainage; through his efforts this vital work was started at once and a critical situation remedied. He secured the establishment of Camp Cody in New Mexico, one of the largest war camps in the face of keenest competition by other states.

Secured splendid new Federal Building in Santa Fe. Secured passage in Senate of bill for new postoffice at Las Vegas.

Saved, by diligence and persistence, to New Mexico, Fort Bayard, one of the finest soldiers' hospitals in the country. Prevented abandonment, induced government to transfer it to Public Health Service for care and treatment of disabled soldiers' men. Obtained appropriation of $500,000 for enlargement and improvement; later increased to nearly a million.

Secured removal of Internal Revenue Collector's office from Phoenix to Albuquerque. Has attended to hundreds of matters connected with New Mexico interests, given courteous and effective attention to every request received from constituents; has always been alert to safeguard New Mexico interests in every government department.

Ready for Bigger Things. With this splendid record of service and recognition; with the respect, confidence and admiration of his associates in the Senate; with this prolonged experience in matters closely related to New Mexico interests; with unmatched opportunity for further and greater service by reason of his commanding position on committees; Senator Jones stands ready to make New Mexico, through her representative, one of the most influential states in the Union.

Now Mexico would be ungrateful and unappreciative indeed did she fail to say, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant." Her own vital interests, her duty to the country, her regard for her prestige in the United States make it imperative for her to return Andrieus A. Jones by an overwhelming majority to the position which he has filled with so much honor to himself and his constituents.—(Political advertisement.)

ENDANGERED PLEASURE PARTY IS RESCUED BY THE KING OF ITALY

Rome, Oct. 21 (by the Associated Press).—King Victor Emmanuel is pictured in advice from San Rocco today in the role of rescuer of an endangered pleasure party.

While the king was out on a fishing expedition with the royal princesses at the mouth of the Arno, in Tuscany, he saw a sail boat being carried into danger by a strong current. The royal party hurried to the rescue and the king, with the aid of the princesses, threw a rope to the men on board the sailing craft and saved the boat with its occupants.

BURSUM AGREES TO AID SCENIC HIGHWAY PLANS

Senator Will Endeavor to Get Co-Operation of Government for Las Vegas-Santa Fe Road.

Santa Fe, N. M., Oct. 21.—The scenic highway between Las Vegas and Santa Fe, which was begun 20 years ago and never completed, may be brought to completion as the result of a meeting of citizens of both towns here Thursday night. Senator H. O. Bursum, who was present, promised his aid in securing the operation of the United States forest service.

A large section of the road, about 18 miles in length, was built from Las Vegas westward in 1902. At the same time, a section about 12 miles in length was built from Santa Fe. On reaching the boundaries of the national forest, work was stopped, as the state felt that the remainder of the road should be built by the government. No work has been done since. The Las Vegas end of the road, running into a popular outing country, and a farming section, has been kept up. The Santa Fe end has been allowed to deteriorate. The highway will reduce the mileage from Las Vegas to Santa Fe, which is 75 miles at present, to about 45 miles. It will run through some of the finest scenery in the state, and will attain an altitude of nearly 11,000 feet at some points.

A delegation of a dozen prominent Las Vegas came over, after following a conference between them and the officers and directors of the chamber of commerce. A dinner was held in honor of the visitors at the library hall Thursday night, at which President Twitwell of the chamber presided and at which talks were made by the Las Vegas, Senator Bursum and Governor L. Bradford Prince of Santa Fe.

Col. Twitwell presided over the speaking with the announcement that a committee of eleven from the city had been appointed, the intercity body to secure data and plans to be laid before the United States bureau of public roads. He pointed out that as the project is largely a national forest one, the burden on the cities is not going to be heavy. "The project is entirely within our means," he said. The talk by Mr. Bursum was most important in that it included his pledge to use his influence to get the proper co-operation from the federal authorities, co-operation which he said he was confident would be forthcoming. He reviewed the history of the project since its inception, by convict labor, when he was superintendent of the state penitentiary, described the work done at both ends of the route, and urged the importance of such highways to bring in outside people and outside capital, such as have made southern California what it is, a land of rich immigrants from other parts of the country who have brought their money with them. He strongly urged exploitation of New Mexico's wonderful climate and scenery.

NEW METHOD FOUND TO DECREASE WOOL DECLARE EXPERTS

Washington, Oct. 21.—In order to compare the grease and dirt contents of various wools and to improve wools in these respects, the U. S. department of agriculture has devised a new method of degreasing and washing the dirt from samples. In the course of this work it was found that samples from the south of the fleece are best for the purpose as the contents of dirt and grease in this part are closely related to the average for the entire fleece.

In the method of determining grease, as now used by the department, the samples are washed three times with gasoline, which is drained off through a filter paper that resists all foreign matter. It has been found that this treatment leaves only 0.17 per cent of grease in Rambouillet wool, and only 0.28 per cent in wool of the crossbred sheep used.

Dirt is taken out of the samples by washing with soap and water. The wool is cleaned well if the water is at a temperature between 40 and 45 degrees Centigrade, which is not hot enough to felt the wool. Results obtained by testing various samples of wool for grease and dirt will be used in planning the mating of sheep in an attempt to improve the fleece in these respects.

A Tacoma manufacturer says that in the United States drunkenness has decreased 100 per cent under prohibition. Maybe after it has decreased 1,000 per cent it will be practically disappeared. —Toronto Mail and Empire.

BUSINESS NOW ABOVE NORMAL SAY MERCHANTS

Not a Boom But Natural Growth, Say Bankers and Others Reporting Unusually Good Conditions.

Albuquerque is not having a boom.

All boom theories that have been proffered in explanation of the unusual building activity and apparent prosperity have been exploded. Prominent business men of the city who are in touch with the activities affirm that it is no boom but a healthy, husky growth that should continue. There will be no anti-climax such as usually follows a boom.

That business is generally good, that people are spending money freely and that building is exceeding all previous records, is conceded by the majority of the business and professional men of the city. Some retail merchants report that business is better than any time in the past ten or fifteen years and a few real estate men report an increase of 50 per cent in business. It is generally acknowledged that the city is evidencing prosperity in spite of business depression all about, both in the state suffering from livestock losses and other parts of the country where the agricultural situation has caused hard times. It is also admitted that the railroad strike has held Albuquerque back from the advance to be expected with the enlargement of the Santa Fe shops here.

Strangers On the Streets Many strangers are noted on the streets and in the shops and stores. The old timer who used to speak to everybody he passed on Central avenue now searches dozens of faces in the crowds before he sees a familiar one. New accounts are being opened at the stores and no shop keeper pretends any longer to know who his customers are. New people are continually moving into the neighborhood.

In spite of the fact that there are many new people in the city the annual influx of winter tourists has not yet begun, according to the real estate men. This is to be expected in November and December. The tourist season is later than ever this year because of a mild autumn in the east and lack of ready money which will keep many people at home until they are driven out by the cold.

Building Activity The building activities probably wouldn't be any better if oil had been struck on the mesa above the city. The construction of three such large enterprises as the community hotel, the Alvarado hotel addition and the First National bank building have encouraged the smaller builder to go ahead with his projects. In anticipation of increased population because of the intensive advertising of the city and of the Santa Fe railroad enlargements here, numerous apartments and bungalows are under construction.

"The eyes of the whole country are on Albuquerque," said Harry Strong of Strong Brothers when interviewed on the business conditions. "Our advertising has had results and our persistent prosperity helps to keep us before the public. People have heard of Albuquerque and are coming here to locate."

"They all seem to bring money into the city, too," he said. "People are buying furniture and paying cash for it. The installment business has dropped correspondingly. They are also buying a better grade of stuff than they were a year or two ago. Most of the purchasers are furnishing houses which they have bought here. Our business is the best that it has been for years. August, usually the dulllest month in the furniture trade, was the best that it has been for 15 years."

People Dressing Better The people in Albuquerque are dressing better than they were a year ago, according to information received at the Economist Dry Goods store which reports business good. Women are purchasing a better class of clothing to replace the cheaper things they purchased last season. More money seems to be in circulation and people are spending more freely, feeling that the financial pinch is over. Those who had money were prone to hang on to it during the crisis just passed. Women's clothing is reported to be considerably cheaper than last season.

Business is considerably better than last year, it is noted at the Rosenwald Brothers department store. People have a greater business confidence and, seeing good times around the corner, are feeling freer to buy things they might do without otherwise, according to a member of the firm.

Albuquerque Is Lucky "Albuquerque is just lucky," said D. S. Rosenwald. "The building boom here and the Santa Fe improvements have established a business confidence not to be found elsewhere in the country. While the agricultural and livestock depression around us has a certain effect it is not everything and Albuquerque has enough to go ahead on."

While building is rushing ahead there is not a corresponding activity in the sales and rentals of houses, according to the real estate men. A. E. Martin, veteran realtor, explains that the usual migration of tourists from the east has not yet begun. Those who would normally come here to spend the winter are kept back by financial distress and they have not yet been forced from their homes by a severe weather, he said.

No Business Boom "I don't believe there is any sort of a business boom on here," said Mr. Martin yesterday. "It is a natural growth which will be sustained if the business men of the city will get behind the activities and stay behind them. We have been hindered in development this season by the railroad strike and have not yet received any benefit from the Santa Fe's improvements here."

The majority of people who are buying houses in Albuquerque are present are old residents of the city who are making further investments here, according to H. Griffith, a real estate dealer who reports his business fifty per cent better than last year. He reports largely sales rather than rentals.

Money Is Part to Get "Money is hard to get, however," said Mr. Griffith. "It is difficult to negotiate loans to put through a transfer of real estate. Money is either all out or unavailable. What we need most here is a lot of eastern capitalists who would invest their money here at from eight to twelve per cent rather than the four and five they are able to get back there."

R. McHughan, real estate dealer, reports a lull in trade which is customary between September 1, when families with school children come to locate here and November 1, when the eastern tourists arrive for the winter. He stated that money is still tight, due to the fact that the unusual building activities have taken up considerable loose funds. Albuquerque has never boomed, he said, but is enjoying at the present a steady, strong growth.

Business in Albuquerque is better right now than I have seen it in all the time I have been here," said J. B. Herndon, president of the State National bank. "The city is more prosperous than at any time since the bank was started 15 years ago. People have plenty of money in the bank and are paying off their debts. Merchant making good deposits and building is booming."

"I confess I don't understand why Albuquerque is the only city in the United States that is booming," said Mr. Herndon. "Around the state conditions are not so good because of the drought but the banks are endeavoring to help the stockmen. The pushing of the building program here has made people optimistic and that makes for better business."

The tourist business of the city is increasing rapidly as Albuquerque is being advertised as a center of tourist attraction according to the Koshare tours. The new hotel facilities and the ease with which interesting points may be reached are making the city the tourist center of the southern states. The business of the Koshare tours has doubled in the past year, they report, and that whereas their patrons were chiefly local last year, the main business this season is with tourists from all parts of the east and south.

The railroad strike has had a serious effect upon business in Albuquerque, according to J. D. Wakefield, life insurance agent. "Worse than in the rest of the state, but are depressed by the railroad situation which normally would mean much to the city's growing business," he said. "Albuquerque's apparent boom he credited to the newcomers from other parts of the country."

The grocers of the city are feeling the effects of an increased population, said W. L. Hawkins. All are having new customers and new stores are being established all the time. People are paying the best of provisions for their tables, he said.

FREIGHT DERAILMENT IN ARIZONA DELAYS SANTA FE'S TRAINS

Derailment of a freight car at Fairview, near Ash, Ariz., yesterday, delayed traffic east and west on the Santa Fe railway. The car turned sideways, effectually blocking both tracks. Trains Nos. 4, 2, and 8, due here in the afternoon, were delayed several hours. No. 4 arrived at 12:55 a. m., No. 2 at 1:10, and No. 8 at 1:25. According to reports received here, no one was injured in the derailment.

OWSLEY PRAISED BY LEGION MEN OF NEW MEXICO

Texan Named Head of National Organization Expected to Give a Vigorous Administration.

Albuquerque members of the American Legion said yesterday they are greatly pleased with the selection of Alvin M. Owsley of Denton, Texas, commander-in-chief of the American Legion. M. A. Otero, Jr., of the United States Veterans bureau, said yesterday that he had met Owsley at last year's national convention, and made the best possible choice for a man to step into the shoes of Hanford MacNider. Other ex-service men familiar with the national affairs of the legion expressed the same opinion. They said they looked for a vigorous administration, with gains in membership and prestige for the legion.

MOTHER!

Clean Child's Bowels with "California Fig Syrup"

Even a sick child loves the "fruity" taste of "California Fig Syrup." If the little tongue is coated, or if your child is listless, cross, feverish, full of cold, or has colic, give a teaspoonful to cleanse the liver and bowels. In a few hours you can see for yourself how thoroughly it works all the constipation poison, sour bile and waste out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy. They know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for genuine "California Fig Syrup" which has directions for babies and children of all ages printed on bottle. Mother! You must say "California" or you may get an imitation fig syrup.—Adv.

at a gathering of legion officers. Owsley, he said, is regarded as a man of good judgment, and has the cause of the former service men foremost in his thoughts. Owsley has been chairman of the legion's committee on Americanization, and has done good work. Mr. Otero believes the legion made the best possible choice for a man to step into the shoes of Hanford MacNider. Other ex-service men familiar with the national affairs of the legion expressed the same opinion. They said they looked for a vigorous administration, with gains in membership and prestige for the legion.

NOT A FEW—But a Real Choice of Good Coats at $24.75

Not just a few coats at $24.75—but a most satisfying assortment of them at the National Garment Company. $24.75 has always been a popular coat price in Albuquerque. It will be more popular than ever this season on account of the great values we're offering at this price.

It is not our policy to quote comparative prices on our merchandise, but customers have told us that coats the quality of these cost a surprisingly larger amount in other stores.

Here are coats of Velours, Bolivia, Plush and the new materials so popular this season—fancy and severely tailored styles—and all at a decided saving. Come in and see them, then compare our merchandise and prices with others in the state. The result is an amazing revelation.

"CASCARETS" FOR BOWELS

When Sick, Bilious, Headachy, Constipated, for Sour Stomach, Gases, Bad Breath, Colds

Your bowels may seem regular—move every day—yet thirty feet of bowels may be lined with poisonous waste which is being sucked into your blood, keeping you half sick, nervous, despondent and upset. Whether you have headache, colds, sour stomach, indigestion, or heart palpitation, it is usually from bowel poison.

Hurry! One or two Cascarets tonight will clean your bowels right. By morning all the constipation poison and sour bile will move out—thoroughly! Cascarets will not sicken you—they physic fully, but never gripe or inconvenience.

Children love Cascarets, too. 10 cent boxes, also 25 and 50 cent sizes. Any drug store.—Adv.

DEMOCRATIC PARTY TO HAVE TAG DAY OCTOBER 28

is set aside as the day when the rank and file of the party will attempt to finance campaign. Effort to be made to make the party obligation to the people instead of to a few large campaign contributors.

The Democratic State Central Committee has decided upon a novel plan in an attempt to so finance the election day expense that its obligation will be to the rank and file of the people instead of to a few special interests. Somebody finances campaigns. If it is done by big business, the party thereby incurs obligations, to grant special favors to these large contributors. If it is done by the people at large who desire no special favors, but only a square deal for everybody, the party obligation will be to the people.

Next Saturday, October 28, from 8:30 a. m. to 10 p. m., has been set aside as Democratic tag day throughout the state. On that day the Democratic women of the various towns and cities of the state will be on the street with sealed boxes receiving contributions and putting a tag upon the donors. Each locality is expected to organize itself under the general supervision of Mrs. J. W. Melaven, of the State Committee, with headquarters at Albuquerque.

The Democratic state and federal candidates have financed a modest pre-election campaign. A comparatively small expense has been incurred in getting the issues before the people.

This movement should create great enthusiasm among democratic women. Here is a place for all to work and work effectually. Large numbers of small contributions will aggregate a considerable sum. Every donor will feel a financial interest in the outcome of the campaign. Democracy can be greatly popularized. The Democrats have this election won if a full vote is registered, and Democrats should plan to take a hand next Saturday. Quarters and half dollars will be acceptable when no more can be given. Children should be encouraged to give a dime at least. But there must be many five and ten-dollar contributions to make this movement a success.

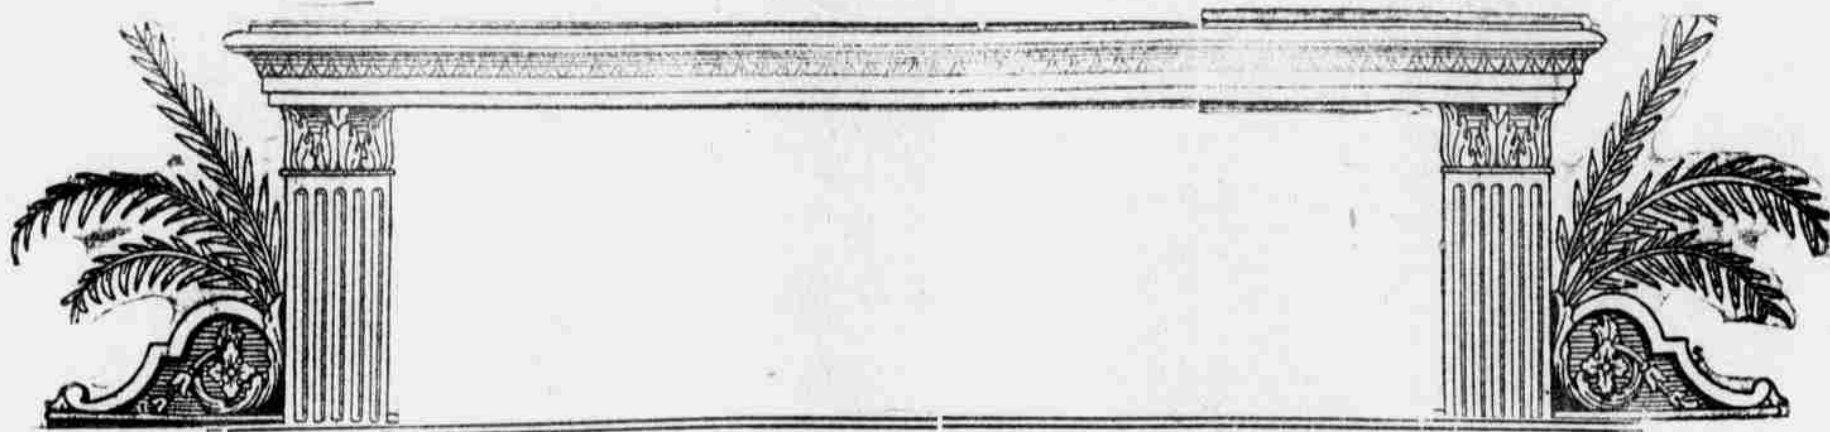

This is your government and your party. You should get some of your money into action to help the cause. Make the Democratic party the party of the people in fact.

If Democratic women really believe in the principles of popular government, they will get behind this movement with a rush and work incessantly, from now until Saturday night. Write or wire all communications to Mrs. J. W. Melaven, Democratic Headquarters, Albuquerque.

STATE TEACHERS CONVENTION TO BE HELD NOV. 27

Executive Board of N. M. Educational Association Decides Upon Tentative Program for Conference.

Members of the executive committee of the New Mexico Educational Association discussed the recent reduction of the county school teachers' salaries at their meeting here yesterday and expressed regret at the unfortunate position in which the rural teachers find themselves due to the recent decision of the supreme court under which the reduction was put into effect. The committee decided to take up immediately the question of the revision of the school laws of the state.

A BUSINESS PARTNER

Select your bank as you would a business partner, for in reality, that is just what the modern bank is. For a partner you'd select a good level-headed man, conservative, efficient, up-to-date in his methods. Look for these same qualities in the bank you select, and remember that the Citizens is the Bank of Personal Service, a bank that really is a partner in your business.

BUSINESS COLLEGE ITEMS

Miss Manuella Gonzales, who took a special course in our summer school, now has a nice position as stenographer and Bookkeeping-Machine-Operator in the First National bank of Taos.

Mrs. Virginia Nesbit, student of the shorthand department, has an excellent position with the Albuquerque & Cerrillos Coal company.

We recently had a call from Armour & Company for a stenographic secretary and clerk. Mr. Edgar E. Zinn, a veteran student, was selected for the place and is making good. Mr. Zinn left school several months before the allotted time for completing his course.

Miss Katherine Winders has a stenographic position with the Gallup Mercantile company.

During the past three months the college has had a number of good positions that it was unable to fill.

Miss May Heflin has returned to school after serving as substitute stenographer with the Agency company, where she made good.

Mrs. W. T. Suddersberg has recently been employed in the office of K. P. Woodson, Jr., as stenographer during the absence of the regular stenographer.

Miss May Lynch has a stenographic position in the office of County Treasurer Swope.

Mrs. Edith B. Dyar has placed in the office of Attorney John Venable the latter part of September.

The present and former students are looking forward to the dance and party to be given in the K. of P. hall on Saturday evening, October 28. Lunch and refreshments will be served and a general reunion and a good time is anticipated.

We recently had call for a stenographer and financial secretary from the Apache Indian agency in Arizona, which we were unable to fill on account of being short of help. This is only one of a number of good positions we have been unable to take care of the past few months.

Miss Dorothy Sutherland has a splendid position in the office of the prohibition supervisor.

Lawrence Paulbrick, a veteran student of our business department, was recently placed in a good position in the office of the Springer Transfer Company. This student was also placed before the allotted time for completing his course was up.

Will R. Martin, who we placed as bookkeeper with the Becker Mercantile company, Springfield, Ark., six months ago, has resigned and accepted a commercial teaching position in Elgin, Ill.

The college has recently had three calls for office help, paying upward of $140 to start with, which it has been unable to fill.

The telephone department is having a splendid enrollment in our night school. This work is in charge of a practical operator, who until recently has had a position with the Postal company in San Francisco.

Mr. A. L. Stapleton was recently placed with the Whitney Hardware Company, where he is keeping the books and handling the general office work during the absence of the regular bookkeeper.

Miss Estelle Broadell has recently been out on substitute work and has made good in each case.

Claude A. Dewey, member of our recent graduating Pace & Pace accounting class, recently paid us a visit and was looking fine. Mr. Dewey has a position as auditor of income tax and was recently transferred from Colorado to New Mexico territory. He is glad to get back in a university and states he is making a splendid success of his work.

Mr. Thomas E. Boyd is another ABC income tax auditor, having completed the course with Mr. Dewey. Mr. Boyd is in the Kewell district. Both these young men were veteran students.

It takes a little longer to take a first-class course, but it pays to do so. This is evidenced by the number of calls we have had for high-salaried men and women, some of which run as high as $200 a month.

Mrs. J. H. Howard was recently placed as stenographer for the Whitney Hardware company.

Students of the office Training class have been quite busy of late getting out some special campaign mailing work.

The new class recently started in musical and rhythmic typing drill is every enthusiastic and is making splendid progress. The students seem to enjoy turning out their drill exercises to the music of the new Sonora recently installed.

There is a good demand for first class, thoroughly trained office help. The demand is greater than the supply. It might be likened to the marketing of an apple crop. The nice, choice stock moves quickly and at a high price; no trouble in selling it, but the undeveloped scrawny stock is a drug on the market. So it is with office help and the fellow who tries to pass for what he is not will surely get caught before he gets far. He gets the "pink" envelope with pay-check and is on the market again trying to do something he is not prepared to do, while a little special training with expert teachers would qualify him for a good position.

A special course on the Commercial Dictaphone is now being arranged in the college office. Beginning students will be started in rhythmic work on a new "Rhythmic Ring" record for drill preparation, while advanced students will have special work on the dictaphone. This work will develop speed and accuracy and at the same time train dictaphone operators.

We have an enthusiastic class in night school and our students are making splendid progress. Each student receives private and individual instruction which insures rapid advancement.

Josephine Schenck has a stenographic position in the office of the Occidental Life.

Miss Pearl Sylvester has been substituting in the Herald office for the past two weeks.

COW IS STOLEN FROM CORRAL IN MARQUETTE
Ben Gooch, who lives at 613 West Marquette avenue, reported to the police yesterday that a Jersey cow had been stolen from his corral. Gooch said he saw horse tracks at the rate, which makes him certain the animal was driven away.

ADROOF OF GIRL FOR ADVENTURE NOT DAMPENED

Chicago Miss of 14 Gets a Job on a Dairy Farm When Auto She Is Driving Runs Out of Gasoline.

Special to The Journal
Chicago, Oct. 21.—If "Bob" Davis' adventures as a farm hand at $10 a month and board have dampened her ardor for boyish adventure, Margaret Davis' conversation doesn't reflect it.

Margaret back at her parents' home is recounting her experiences and rubbing soothing salve on blisters in her hands.

The fourteen-year-old John Marshall high school girl drove away in her father's auto Sunday night, deserted it when it ran out of gas, walked several miles and got a job on the dairy farm of Fred Backhaus at Roselle, 23 miles from here.

She was found there just before Backhaus was ready to turn her over to the sheriff.

She was rigged out in khaki trousers, army shoes, a cap and an army shirt. Her hair had been cut short, but the farmer had penetrated her disguise.

"I wish I was back on the farm," she said.

Germany hasn't got any money and won't pay any of it to the allies till she has to.—New York Tribune.

all I had, out of the bank—but I had no idea just where to go. My parents had been scolding because I didn't want to go to school.

"When I got to Maywood the car stopped and I couldn't figure out what was wrong, so I curled up in the back and went to sleep. I woke up when I heard a man say, 'This is the Davis girl's car.' They were policemen, and when they went to call up their station I jumped out and ran.

"I walked all the way to Addison, bought some army clothes at a store and then walked to Roselle. That night I slept in a haymow and in the morning there was a man near when I woke up. He took me home and gave me some breakfast and I liked over to a barber shop and asked for a hair-cut.

"The barber said something about my hair looking like it hadn't been cut in years and asked if I wanted a shave. Then I went over to a flour mill and asked for a job. Some men saw I was a girl, and one said, 'Look at the chicken.'

"Then Mr. Backhaus came along in his car and offered me a job at $10 a month and I took it. I went to work right away, fed the cows and horses until noon and worked around all day.

"Next day Mr. Backhaus asked me if I could drive horses and I said I could. So I climbed up and drove 'em. That night they found me."

Margaret had one more regret to voice.

"Well," she said, "there's just this much about it. If I'd known all that was the matter with dad's car was an empty gas tank I'd be driving yet."

Mrs. Myrtle Davis, the mother, was so overjoyed at the return of her daughter that she fainted and her condition was such that Margaret's standing at home could not be learned.

WHERE WILL HINKLE CUT?

In the city of Albuquerque each $100 paid in taxes is divided as follows:

State City County Highway Education
$4.86 $22.64 $11.94 $10.60 $49.96

In the county of Bernalillo outside of the city, the division is as follows:

State County Highway Education
$6.90 $16.94 $15.04 $61.12

Mr. Hinkle has traveled all over the state telling the people that if elected governor he will cut down taxes.

What the people of Albuquerque now demand to know is—

WHERE WILL HINKLE CUT ?

Nine-tenths of the state's $4.86 is spent for purposes required to be done by the constitution. Mr. Hinkle knows that as governor he can not reduce this.

The $22.64 for the city of Albuquerque is entirely under the control of the people of this city and its commission. Mr. Hinkle knows that as governor he can not reduce this. No one but the city authorities can cut this tax.

The $11.94 for the county of Bernalillo is entirely under the control of the people of this county and its commissioners. Mr. Hinkle knows that as governor he can not reduce this. No one but the county authorities can cut this tax.

The $10.60 for highways, with twice that amount furnished by the government, is spent by the highway commission with federal approval, and by the county commissioners. Mr. Hinkle knows that as governor he cannot reduce this without repudiating the state's obligation and forfeiting the federal allotments for New Mexico.

The $49.96 is for education, including the University of New Mexico. Most of it is under the control of the local boards. Mr. Hinkle knows that as governor he can not reduce this. No one but the local boards and commissioners can cut this tax.

A small part, about 60 cents out of each $100 in taxes, goes to the University of New Mexico. Mr. Hinkle as governor could veto this 60 cents. That is about the extent of a governor's power to cut taxes. Is this what he is talking about? The people of Albuquerque wish to know—

WHERE WILL HINKLE CUT ?

"LET'S SEE THE BOOKS"

We understand some of our democratic newspaper friends want to "look at the books from the inside." Here is a little look into the books of a democratic state treasurer.

After Lindsey came into office as governor, three bonds were presented to him for his signature. He turned the matter over to his legal advisor, Captain W. C. Reid. An investigation disclosed the fact that the bonds were spurious.

More investigation disclosed the fact that in some way the democratic deputy state treasurer had paid the same coupons twice, the coupons evidently having been paid and passed back to be brought through the regular channels again.

W. G. Kelly, a comparative stranger in the state, a former bond buyer of Kansas City, is now serving a term in the New Mexico Penitentiary as a result of this fraud. The democratic assistant state treasurer also indicted for his connection with that matter, is a fugitive from justice and has not been heard of for four years.

The auditor of the State Taxpayers Association was never able to run down all the "leads" found, but he estimated that at the very least the state had been taken down the line for one hundred thousand dollars or more.

This is the only loss, through official misconduct or fraud, the state of New Mexico has ever had.

This is in the books, but it was found a page or two further back than those democratic ticket supporters wanted to look.

JONES, A FINANCIER

The democrats claim Senator Jones is a financier. We agree. The salary of a United States Senator, including perquisites, is about $10,000 per year. Six years ago when Jones went to the Senate, he was reported to be worth $200,000. He is now reported to be worth $800,000. Sure, it takes a financier to save $100,000 a year out of a $10,000 salary, and live in Washington.

The democratic publicity bureau and speakers have had a great deal to say about the suspension of the Santa Fe Bank, through which neither the State of New Mexico nor any depositor lost a dollar. No doubt they got their information from "the books," but they didn't go back far enough to find the record of the loss of $100,000 or $200,000 of state money through the payment of fraudulent bonds and coupons by a former democratic state treasurer—the only loss the State of New Mexico has ever had by reason of the acts of a state official. By all means "let's see the books"—all the books.

The Markets

FINANCIAL

By the Associated Press.
New York, Oct. 21.—Stock prices opened today with a show of strength, but speculative selling and profit taking in some instances gave the market a decidedly irregular appearance.

The price movement reflected the play of opposing speculative forces. The weekly mercantile and trade reviews painted an optimistic picture of business conditions, but they had little effect on market prices.

High priced stocks continued to set the pace on the upward swing. Central of New Jersey being the individual feature with a gain of fifteen points. Mexican Petroleum crossed 234, the highest price since 1919, but fell back later to 233 1/2, a net gain of 10 on the day. Maryland and Pacific Oils were under pressure most of the time, although they closed at a net loss of less than a point.

Reading dropped back slightly below last night's closing figure after establishing a new high for the year at 84 1/2. Mixed changes took place among other standard rails, trading in which was less active. Equipments moved up in response to a fairly good demand for Baldwin and Pullman, each of which advanced 1 1/2 points.

A drop of nearly four points in Great Northern ore certificate accompanied unconfirmed reports that the regular semi-annual dividend might not be maintained, recent payments having been out of surplus funds. Atlas Powder, Du Pont and the shipping shares also were heavy. National Biscuit, National Lead, Bethlehem Steel, A. and A. All-Chemicals preferred were strong, but Corn Products, after an early display of strength, slipped back for a net loss of more than two points.

Total sales were 496,000 shares. Interest in the foreign exchange situation centered on the further decline of the dollar market to 23 cents a hundred. French, Belgian and Italian remittances also receded while sterling and Scandinavian exchanges were quietly firm. The electric power market, however, showed an increase of 125,765,000 in loans, discounts and investments and increases of $23,377,000 in the reserve of member banks in the federal reserve bank of New York, in net demand deposits and $13,781,000 in time deposits. The exchange reserve totalled $23,553,720, as compared with last week's deficit of $2,323,240.

WORK STARTS ON BOILER ROOM AT SANTA FE SHOPS

New Building Will Add at Least 400 Workmen to Railway Force Here Within a Short Time.

Construction work has been started on the new boiler shop for the Santa Fe railway in Albuquerque. Several hundred workmen are employed in erecting the new building which will be completed within a short time. When put into operation, the new shop will add at least 400 employees to the shop payroll in Albuquerque, railway officials stated last night.

With the boiler shop completed and other departments of the shops operating to the extent which is expected next year, at least 1,300 more workmen will be employed in 1923 than have ever been employed by the Santa Fe shops in Albuquerque. It was pointed out by railway officials yesterday that the greater number of these new men will be moved into the city from other points on the Santa Fe system and that large numbers of them will move their families here and become permanent residents of Albuquerque.

At the present time, more men are being employed by the railway at the local shops than at the time when the strike was started several months ago. However, approximately 450 of these men live and eat at the shops.

When conditions are so that these men can move into the city and live like other residents here, railway officials stated yesterday that the available housing space in the city will probably be taxed to capacity, even before the 1,300 additional men arrive. It is planned to employ approximately 2,300 men at the shops by the end of 1923. Chamber of commerce officials pointed out yesterday that this would mean approximately $4,000 more a day spent by the Santa Fe on employees here than is spent at present.

YOUNG TRAVELERS ARE JAILED FOR VAGRANCY

Harold Wiborg and Roy Widner, two youthful travelers, were given thirty days in jail yesterday on a vagrancy charge by Justice Apocena. The boys were arrested by Santa Fe Officer Louis Beach. They arrived yesterday morning from the west. Santa Fe Officer Sinclair, who said they had been bumming their way, made the boys buy a ticket to Lamy. They later returned and asked for refunds on their tickets, saying they wished to go to Bernalillo and get a job on a farm. According to Beach, they got "hard boiled" and he took them before the justice.

A good many young men are bumming about the country, the Santa Fe officers said last night. All of them claim to be riding across the country in automobiles but most of them are beating their way on trains. The officers along the Santa Fe have a habit of turning them in for vagrancy, or showing them the highway and telling them that walking is good.

AMBROSE' CONDITION IS NOT IMPROVED

OFFICERS WILL BRING MITCHELL TO CITY TODAY

Deputy Sheriffs Will Take Charge of Bank Clerk Charged With Stealing $12,500 From Bank.

Undersheriff Fred Fornoff and Deputy Sheriff Charles Banghart left yesterday morning by motor car for Hot Springs, where they will take charge of O. H. Mitchell, former employee of the First National bank here who is charged with the theft of $12,500 from the bank Thursday night and who, in company with F. J. Wineburg, was arrested at Hot Springs Friday afternoon.

The officers will also take charge of the new automobile which Mitchell purchased here Thursday night and in which he attempted to make his escape. Employed at the First National bank as a clerk and messenger for the past three months, Mitchell's actions at the bank during the past few days had caused comment at that institution and it had been decided to discharge him Friday morning. On Thursday night, Mitchell is said to have picked up two packages intended to be sent by registered mail. A check of the registered mail Friday morning revealed the fact that two packages containing $12,500 were missing and it was soon learned that Mitchell had purchased a new automobile Thursday night and had left the city. Officials throughout the state were notified of the theft and asked to be on a lookout for Mitchell and the automobile. Deputy Sheriff Joe Tafoya arrested Mitchell and Wineburg, his companion, Thursday afternoon near Hot Springs. It is said that approximately $11,000 was in Mitchell's possession at the time of the arrest.

City to Entertain State Club Women During the Week

This is the week when everybody will have guests with all the attendant festivities. A hundred or so women will be entertained by Albuquerque for the three days of the federated clubs convention with all of the hospitality at the city's command. Not only have the women's clubs offered entertainment to the visitors but the men's club are doing the gallant thing by the fair delegates from all over the state. The three days of the convention will be preceded by a special meeting of the league of women voters with the state president and will be followed by the state convention of the daughters of the American Revolution.

When the club women who will visit us have passed into the social history another great group of women in a construction of the city will meet here for their annual convention, the school nurses, Albuquerque is becoming the convention city for women as well as for men. In connection with the teachers' convention there will be a concert of note by an opera singer.

For the present, however, the club women, and the local brides. Two weddings of prominence will take place this week, that of Miss Hesselnden and Mr. Foley on Tuesday morning and that of Miss Weiler and Mr. Block on Thursday evening. Both couples have been honored by numerous pre-nuptial social events during the past few weeks.

MR. PRAGER GIVES BIG WEDDING DINNER

Arthur Prager was host at a wedding dinner at the country club last night in compliment to three young couples who will be married in the near future. The table was decorated with pink flowers and ferns and cards were enjoyed after the dinner. The guests of honor were Miss Bernice Hesselnden and J. J. Foley, Miss Grace Stortz and Ray McCanna and Miss Florence Weiler and Walter Block of Grants. Others present were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. McCanna, Miss Ruth Tompkins, Miss Mildred Harris, Miss Margaret McCanna, Miss Katherine Pohoho, Ernest E. Landolf, M. A. Sipple, Charles Lemble and Mr. Prager.

MISS WEILER TO BE MARRIED THURSDAY

The marriage of Miss Florence Weiler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sol Weiler, to Walter Block of Grants, N. M., will take place Thursday evening at the home of the bride at 1101 Tikes avenue. The couple will leave at once for a honeymoon trip to Honolulu. The wedding date having been advanced in order that the bride might catch their steamer on November 1. Mrs. David E. Weiler, the bride's sister-in-law, will be her matron of honor. Miss Mildred Harris will be the bride's maid. George Block of Bernalillo will be the best man.

A dinner party in honor of the couple was given on Tuesday evening at Tamarisk inn south of the city by Paul Dreyfus, Albert Kain and Leo Elcho. Louis Benjamin gave a novel supper party at his apartment on Wednesday evening, preparing the meal himself and calling it a "chow party." The party adjourned to the Merrill home to spend the evening after dinner.

A formal dance was given for Miss Weiler and Mr. Block on Thursday evening at the Masonic temple at which a crowd of about 75 was entertained. The hosts were three sisters and a brother of Mr. Block, Mrs. Julius Seligman of Bernalillo, Mrs. Siegfried Seligman of Grants and George Block of Bernalillo. A number of guests from Bernalillo and Grants were in attendance. Tables were set with variegated flowers and candles in several colors in the cabaret end of the ball room where a three-course supper was served about 11:30 o'clock. An orchestra furnished music for dancing until 1:30 o'clock.

Mr. and Mrs. Sol Weiler will entertain the bridal party and members of the family at a formal dinner in Taft hall at the Alvarado hotel on Wednesday evening.

BRIDGE-TEA YESTERDAY FOR BRIDE ELECT

A pretty autumn bridge tea was given yesterday by Mrs. J. J. Tierney at the home of Mrs. Tierney on South Eighth street in honor of Miss Grace Stortz, who will be married in November. Tea, a buffet of cards were played and other guests came in later for tea.

A color scheme of yellow and green was carried out in the rooms. The hostesses were assisted by Mrs. H. H. Hager, Mrs. Pegue and Mrs. Martin Tierney and by Miss Grace Winfrey.

Those present were Mesdames Frank A. Stortz, Fred Canfield, Clinton P. Anderson, Walter Hatch, J. E. McCanna, Lyman B. Putney, Harry Benjamin, Jerry Haggard, C. H. MR. MOORE BRINGS BRIDE FROM ROCHESTER

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel C. Moore who were married in Rochester, N. Y., on October 12, have arrived in Albuquerque and are moving into their new home at 1806 East Silver avenue. The following account of their wedding appeared in a Rochester paper:

"In Brick Church Thursday evening, Miss Marian Elizabeth Fox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marsden B. Fox of Seneca Park-way, and Mr. Daniel Chadwick Moore, son of Mrs. Henry J. Moore of the minister of the church, Rev. Dr. William Rivers Taylor, Mr. Fox gave his daughter in marriage.

"The bride was attended by Miss Esther E. Kingston, as maid of honor, and her other attendants were her sister-in-law, Mrs. F. Marsden Fox and Miss Catherine M. Robinson. The bride's gown was of white satin, trimmed with white orchids and lilies of the valley. She carried a bouquet of white orchids and lilies of the valley. Miss Kingston wore apricot silver llama trimmed with blue velvet and carried a bouquet of bronze cactus dahlias and blue larkspur showered with ribbons of the two colors. Mrs. Fox and Miss

All items for the Sunday society section must be in the Journal office by Saturday noon at the latest. Reports are desired to call the Journal as early in the week as possible after the event occurs. The society editor may be reached at telephone No. 69.

Robinson also were in apricot llama cloth and carried bouquets of bronze cactus dahlias showered with ribbons of the same color.

"The church was attractively decorated for the service. At intervals along the center aisle through which the bridal party passed, were tall single-branched candlesticks, and on either side of the white prie dieu were five-branched candlesticks. There were candles also at the ends of the choir stalls. Effective in the candle light were the chrysanthemums and cactus dahlias in autumn shades which were used in the decorations. Most of the bridesmaids wore California ferns. A reception at the Century Club followed the ceremony."

MISS HESSELDEN TO BE MARRIED TUESDAY

The annual convention of the New Mexico Daughters of the American Revolution will be held here on Friday following the convention of the federated women's clubs of the state. Representatives of the four chapters at Silver City, Roswell and Santa Fe and Albuquerque will attend the convention.

The all-day session will be held at the Country club beginning at 10 o'clock in the morning. Luncheon will be served to the convention at the club at 12:30 and the afternoon session will follow.

The officers of the state chapter are Mrs. R. P. Barnes of Albuquerque, regent; Mrs. Frances Williams, vice regent; Mrs. Theodore Sutherland of Roswell, recording secretary; Mrs. E. H. Porter of Albuquerque, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. C. Weaver of Roswell, treasurer; Mrs. Reed Holloman of Santa Fe, registrar; Mrs. Lettie D. Morrill of Silver City, historian; and Mrs. Alvan N. White of Santa Fe, librarian.

TAOS ART EXHIBIT IN CITY WEDNESDAY

An exhibit of the paintings of the foremost artists of the Taos society will be held in the city on Wednesday under the auspices of the Albuquerque Woman's club. The exhibit is being brought here for the convention of the federated women's clubs of the state which will open on Tuesday and will be open to the delegates during an art tea at 4 o'clock on Wednesday afternoon.

The exhibit includes 20 pictures of large and small canvases of great value. The exhibit is one of the most representative ever sent out from the colony and has been hung all over the east. After the showing here the pictures will be forwarded to New York, Detroit and Taos. All of the paintings are offered for sale.

The artists whose works will be represented are B. J. O. Nordfelt, E. Irving Couse, Julius Rolshoven, Robert Henri, Bert Phillips, Joseph H. Sharp, John Sloan, Randall Davey, Walter Ufer, E. L. Blumenschein and C. E. Boringhaus, Phillips, Sharp and Blumenschein are the pioneers of the Taos society. Sloan and Henri are New York members, both being teachers in the art league there. Boringhaus is from St. Louis but is living at Taos. He did the famous murals in the Missouri state capitol. Rolshoven is from Detroit, Blumenschein, Italy and in Santa Fe.

The exhibit will be a feature of the art tea to be given by the Woman's club for the delegates. Mrs. J. E. The club women who preside at the tea table and whose wives will be dressed similarly in flowing gowns of purple tulle. Tea will be served in hand-painted cups passed on art trays.

Those who will assist are Mrs. S. B. Miller, art director of the club, Mesdames L. B. Hester, Harry Aspinwall, A. C. Stares, Harry Slack, H. L. Snell, and Miss Lillian Shank.

Arrangements will probably be made for the exhibit to be thrown open to the public some time during the week.

NEWCOMERS WELCOMED BY FORESTRY STAFF

An informal dance and card party was given last night by the Forest service officials and their wives to introduce two new members of the staff who have come to Albuquerque to make their homes. The honored guests were Mr. and Mrs. Archibald McNaught of Washington, D. C. and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Scott of Williams, Ariz. Mr. McNaught is the new assistant to the forester who takes the place of Charles Broome and Mr. Scott has recently been transferred from an Arizona forest. The affair was a halcyon party and was given in the Odd Fellows hall. About 60 were present.

Coats Grow Longer to Suit Gowns; These Models Reflect Newest Ideas

Coats, following the lead of all the newer frocks, are growing longer with each new day. At the opening of the season makers of coats said with all the assurance in the world that coats would only be inches longer, possibly three but no more. Today they are showing coats which touch the ground, and which have certain features which reflect the modes of the hour and the first and foremost is the longer skirt. Then there is the fur trimming, which is ever present, the one-sided effects, the low belt and the lovely materials. All of these features combine to make the new coat season one of the most interesting in several years.

All three wraps pictured here are dress models, designed for more or less formal wear, although the wrap in the center is simple enough to be used as a practical all round coat. It is made of navy cornmeal cloth with slanting collar and cuffs. A handsome clasp catches the side draping in a graceful manner. The embroidery is placed so as to give an Empire effect.

At the left is a lovely wrap of black panneveline. It is simply made on long slender lines featuring cape sleeves and a deep collar of black crepe. A belt of self material is worn low over the hips. The wrap is made of tan broadcloth and uses the uneven hem line with very smart effect. The novel sleeves have an unusual cuff and the high collar and huge revers are of moleskin. A wide corded girdle fastens on the side with novel buttons.

CONCERT, ART TEA, LUNCHEONS AND RECEPTION, HIGHLIGHTS OF CLUB FEDERATION MEETING

Social affairs of pleasing variety will punctuate the more serious formal sessions of the convention of the New Mexico Federated Women's clubs which will be held here on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday. Nearly two hundred women from all over the state will be the guests of the city during the convention.

Delegates to the convention will register at the Elks club, where the sessions will be held, on Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. A buffet luncheon will be served by the club by the convention entertainment committee from 12 to 1 o'clock. Supper will be served on Tuesday evening at the Methodist church parlors, the delegates to be the guests of the Woman's club.

On Tuesday evening the first formal social gathering of the convention will be held, the president's reception at the Elks club. Dean William B. Allen will ask in invitation and Mayor William R. Walton will give an address of welcome. Mrs. Grace Thorp Bear, president of the Federated Women's club, will respond. There will be brief talks by Dr. David S. Hill, president of the state university; M. L. Fox, manager of the chamber of commerce; A. L. Martin, president of the Kiwanis club; Leo Roy S. Peters, president of the Rotary club; Arthur Prager, president of the Elks club; Mrs. R. W. D. Bryan, president of the Tuesday club; Mrs. Elin M. Lofar of the Business and Professional Women's club, and Mrs. Emily F. Labelle, president of the Woman's club.

Mrs. F. W. Parker of Santa Fe, president of the state federation, will give an address during the evening. Mrs. Charles O'Malley of Roswell will give a vocal solo. Mrs. S. B. Miller, chairman of the music department of the Albuquerque Woman's club, will lead in community singing and the Valkyrie orchestra will play. Mrs. Edgar Knight and a group of ballet dancers from Santa Fe will present several numbers during the evening. Refreshments will be served during the reception.

Following the Wednesday morning session the Kiwanis club will entertain the federation delegates at the Y. M. C. A. President Hill of the university will give a talk on the subject of the university. An art tea with an exhibit by the Taos colony will be held at the Woman's club at 4 o'clock. The Rotary club will entertain the delegates at dinner on Wednesday evening.

The annual convention concert will be held at the High school auditorium at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening. Mrs. Charles O'Malley of Roswell, state chairman of music, will be in charge of the program. The numbers will be presented by members of every club in the federation. The concert, which will bring together the best feminine vocal talent of the state, will be open to the public. A small literary club and Mrs. Max Nordhaus will be joint hostesses at a buffet supper at the Nordhaus home from 5 to 8 o'clock in the evening. On Thursday evening following the supper a lecture on radio will be given at the Elks club.

by Prof. Charles Carey of the state university.

Accommodations for all of the visiting delegates have been provided by the club women of the city who have opened their homes. Breakfast will be furnished each delegate at the home in which she spends the night. All other meals will be provided by the woman's club and other clubs of the city.

The entertainment committee for the convention is composed of Mrs. H. F. Robinson, chairman, Mesdames M. E. Hickey, R. W. D. Bryan, David Miller, and S. T. Vann. The federation officials are Mrs. Emily F. Labelle, chairman, Mrs. P. K. Shock, treasurer; Mrs. William McClorken, credentials, and Mrs. R. P. Barnes, information.

Y. W. HOSPITALITY TEA AT MIRAMONTES

Miramontes is always a charming place for a party but it seems especially adapted for Halloween parties. At least the large living room with its open fire and cozy seats, and the dining room with its room decked in brilliant orange when the Y. W. C. A. hospitality tea was held there. Strips of orange bromide appeared in great profusion draped the windows and the entrance arch, and pumpkins and black cats were very much in evidence. Each guest found her party by matching fortunes. The hostesses were Mrs. J. J. Shurtz, Mrs. Winifred Slater, Mrs. Martha Valliant, Miss Erna Ferguson, Mrs. C. C. Nager, Mrs. Nohi, Mrs. J. W. Wallgren, Mrs. R. A. Allen, Miss Anna Trevelyan, Mrs. Ernest Kaseaman and Mrs. T. Wilkerson. The guests were Misses Sarah Fly, Florence Knorr, Olive Thomas, Jean Stahl, Grace Clough, Laura Becker, Blanche Clark, Brenda Overberg, Josephine Pugh, Lucille Burke, Lela Tills Mabel Titus, Mrs. Lema Todd, Helen Flaker and R. S. Atkinson.

Active pledges and alumnae gathered at the house for supper at 5:30 o'clock, sang songs and held a talkfest during the evening about the first place.

Alpha Delta Pi sorority gave an informal Halloween dancing party at the Morgan home on University Heights last night. The rooms were decorated in black and orange and the hand-made programs carried out the spooky decoration scheme. Mrs. H. B. Morgan chaperoned the party which was for the active and pledges only. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. John Popejoy, Misses Maude Riordan, Margaret Wood, Ruth Morgan, Isbell, Porter, Esther Morgan, Freda Mitchell, Margaret Carterday, Sally Bowman, Marian Harold and Nina Wingfield. Messrs. David Burton, Dale Snyder, Ellsworth Duke, Merito, Lewis, Frank Reeves, William Morgan, Vance Scoopmire, Fred Fenech, Walter Bowman, Harold Wood, Monroe McKinley, John Luskon, George Martin, George Bryan, Florus Coan and Byron Boan.

ORGANIZATIONS.

Mrs. Gerald Cassidy of Santa Fe, president of the state organization of the national league of women voters, will address a special meeting of the local league at the chamber of commerce parlors on Monday evening at 8 o'clock. Mrs. Cassidy will discuss the work of the national league and assist the local group in organizing its winter program of activities. Mrs. Cassidy is coming to Albuquerque to attend the state convention of the federated woman's clubs here.

The local D. A. R. chapter met on Friday afternoon at the home of Mrs. C. H. Spitzmeier. The paper of the afternoon was read by Mrs. Arno Hunning on the subject, "The China of Our Grandmothers." Plans were made for the entertainment of the state D. A. R. convention next week.

An informal Halloween party will be given on Wednesday evening in the Odd Fellows hall by the Royal Northern Star of America, who will entertain their families and friends and the Modern Woodmen of America and their families and friends. The affair will begin at 8:30 o'clock.

The Woman's Home Missionary society of the First Methodist church met on Thursday at the home of Mrs. H. H. Chalmers with Mrs. Dunsforth presiding. Mrs. R. W. Heilin led the devotional and prayer and Mrs. Morris had charge of the entertainment. After the program refreshments were served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Dinkie and Mrs. Colson.

A well attended sewing meeting of the Ladies Aid society of St. Paul's Lutheran church was held at the home of Mrs. T. O. Cecil at 714 West Coal avenue on Thursday afternoon. Refreshments were served by the hostesses.

The Busy Ten club met on Wednesday with R. F. Thomas. Those present were Mesdames J. K. Hazy, F. K. Thompson, W. A. Munster, Ferd Lerch, J. J. Stonelake, A. M. Wigglesworth and Roll Ginter. The club will meet again on next Wednesday with Mrs. J. R. Hazy at 1023 Forester avenue.

Mrs. Augustin Terrazas, Sr., was hostess to the Esperanza club which held its regular meeting Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Manuel C. Garcia. Sewing was brought by the members and after the regular order of business delicious refreshments were served by the hostess.

The Tuesday literary club held its regular meeting last week at the home of Mrs. L. E. MacArthur. Dr. L. B. Hessler, of the department of English at the state university, gave an instructive talk on the American essay which is being studied by the club this winter. Mrs. C. M. Bots presented a discussion of the essay, "Every Man's Desire to be Somebody Else" by Carruthers.

Mrs. Harry Aspinwall entertained the three tables of the Ideal Bridge club at her home at 508 North Thirtieth street on Tuesday afternoon. Mesdames Carl Mulky, Frank Graham, Kenneth Baldrige and Daenitz of Denver were substitutes.

The club will meet the next time at the home of Mrs. F. M. Lyon.

Speeches on both sides of the political question will be heard by the members of the Business and Professional Women's club at their dinner at the Alvarado hotel on Monday evening. Henry G. Coors will present the republican side of the question and Henry G. Coors will speak for the democrats. Reports of interest to the club will be made. The meeting is an open one to which guests will be invited. On Thursday noon the Business and Professional Women's club will be hostesses at the Y. M. C. A. to the visiting delegates to the convention of the state federation of women's clubs.

is open to children of kindergarten age and through the fifth grade. As soon as the number warrants the class will be divided into sections—both meeting at the same hour.

The Adelante club met for the usual dinner hour Wednesday evening and had a short business meeting before Miss Ethel Hickey's talk on the "Early History of New Mexico."

Mrs. Frank Wagner has as her guest, her mother, Mrs. York of Las Vegas. Mrs. York is a delegate to the club federation meeting here.

Mrs. Carl D. Breinin and son Junior returned on Tuesday to their home in Tampa, Fla., after four months spent with relatives in Albuquerque.

Mrs. J. D. J. Donald Wilson have purchased a home at 1602 East Central avenue. Mrs. Wilson has recently returned from a visit with her parents in Colorado Springs.

Mrs. D. A. Bittner has returned after ten months spent in Hollywood, Cal.

Mrs. Elizabeth McAllister returned yesterday to San Diego, Cal., after spending ten days here with her son and daughter. Miss Corbell who came back from California which, with her mother will remain here.

Mrs. H. A. Whittington of La Cueva, N. M., is the guest of her cousin, Mrs. W. Y. Walton, for a few days. Mrs. Whittington has been speaking for the republican party in San Miguel and Mora counties.

She addressed the Republican women's meeting here last night.

Already the festivities at the Y. W. C. A. are taking on the atmosphere of Halloween affairs. Monday evening at the camp reunion as the girls sat around an open fire and told stories of adventure, the effect was most hallowe'enish. Miss Esther Cook of 504 Luna Boulevard was hostess at this very pretty party which was the third gathering of the group of girls since they were in camp this summer.

The girls of the Sister club are planning a picnic supper instead of their usual meeting Monday afternoon. Their advisor, Mrs. C. L. Snyder, and Miss Florence Adams will be members of the party which will hike to the river.

Miss Ellen Hornung, newly elected president of the C. U. P. club, presided at the meeting Tuesday evening and appointed the various committees who are to serve during the year. The membership committee headed by Miss Ruth Wyatt, has taken on new duties. During this year that committee will act as a Conference Fund committee. These girls will plan ways and means of raising money to send one or two of their members to Estes Park for a ten days' conference next summer. Already numerous plans have been suggested and discussed.

Saturday morning at the story hour Dr. G. S. Hubbell of the University of New Mexico told stories to a delighted dozen and a half youngsters. This class which begins at nine o'clock every Saturday enjoyed a weiner roast Saturday night north of town. This is the second social meeting of the year. The purpose of the club is to work for better recreation, and the boys feel that it is fulfilling its purpose.

Womens' Frocks, Suits and Coats

Now that we are on the threshold of a new season, now that Paris and America have spoken their final word on the subject of correct dress, for the autumn and winter season, we launch special groups of them tomorrow. Women's frocks, suits and coats, that give salient new features of the mode. Each group is representative of values that are unequalled.

Tailored Suits
$33.75

Daytime Frocks
$24.95

Coats and Wraps
$49.75

Suits of marlene or twill cloth, hand finished and varying their style interest by strictly tailored or fur colored models. The coats are crepe de chine silk lined. Sizes 36 to 48. Colors are Malay brown, kit fox grey, navy blue or black. Other new model suits including handsome three-piece costumes at $64.50 to $195.

Charming new moles of crepe de chine, satin, crepe black satin or of fashionable wool twill weaves. The pictures reveal their style graces, but included are other dresses with graceful full or fitted sleeves, and smart long waisted effects. Navy blue, black or brown. Other distinctive styles at $29.95 to $99.50.

In every detail the superiority of these models, relative to $49.75, is very pronounced. They are fashioned of alonzo, mandalay, lustrous and Normandy cloths, autumn's fabrics of excellence. Of style interest are tasseled throw collars of wolf fur, new sleeve effects and new colorings. Other new models at $24.75 to $199.50.

Quilted House Robes

Of SATIN or CREPE de CHINE. Priced with Notable Moderation at $18.50 to $21.50. Cozy, yet soft and light in weight, these house coats are lined with China silk and waisted. For early mornings when a chill is in the air, they are comfortable and easy to slip into, besides being daintily attractive, for they are made in lovely flower-like colorings. Pockets, a girdle, and an effective neck-line are smart features. All are full, wrappy effects.

"Beason Blankets and Robes MAKE WARM FRIENDS"

You've seen the slogan in beautifully colored Indian scenes in your magazines and on billboards. Perhaps you wondered just why Beason Blankets make warm friends. The reason for the slogan lies in government tests made for the army, whereby the U. S. government declared that weight for weight Beason Blankets are warmer than wool. Being thicker they form a better insulating air cushion. Thus "Beason Blankets Make Warm Friends."

Beacon Bathrobs Blankets

Suitable for men's and women's bath and lounging robes. Come with coats and frogs to match. Blanket is size 72x90.....$6.00 to $7.50

Beacon Indian Blankets

NATIONAL CONFERENCE CALLED TO STUDY THREE BILLION DOLLAR FEDERAL ROAD BUILDING PROGRAM

An overnight demand for trained men far in excess of properly qualified applicants has resulted from the rapid growth of the newest of the engineering arts, highway construction, according to the highway education board. The board's findings of conditions in the new industry, together with a statement showing the needs of the future, are to be placed before the forthcoming national conference, to which the board has invited government and state highway officials, engineers, educators, executives of automotive industries and other interested persons. The conference will be held at Washington, D. C., October 25 to 28, inclusive.

Highway engineering is taught, a survey by the board disclosed, in approximately 130 educational institutions in the United States. In many of these institutions, however, the course is admittedly inadequate. It is the purpose of the board to bring these educational institutions into touch with the latest developments of the art, and, through methods to be devised at the forthcoming conference, to keep highway engineering courses abreast of approved and modern practices.

Demand for highway engineers comes from state and federal organizations and bureaus, from municipalities—latest figures show that there are approximately 50,000 town and city engineers and officials whose duties are similar to those of state engineers—from highway contractors and from making road building materials. The board hopes, through cooperation with colleges, to bring about an adequate supply of men for the several branches of the work.

More highway engineers will be wanted to meet the demands of the roadbuilding program within the next fifteen or twenty years than the colleges at present are turning out, according to indications of the situation as gathered by the board. There will be a much heavier demand for trained highway engineers than there will be for engineers trained in railroad work, a branch of the profession to which institutions attach great importance. The entire structure of the American highway system, with the exception of the roads built or commenced during the past six years, is yet to be built. Opportunities for men of right training, in the board's opinion, will continue for many years as numerous as they are today.

The board is advised by the bureau of public roads, United States Department of Agriculture, that the federal aid program of highways—improved highways built with the aid of federal funds—will extend over a period of fifteen to twenty years and contemplate the construction of about 180,000 miles of highways at a cost of $2,000,000,000. It is estimated that the state and smaller units of government, such as counties and cities, will at least equal this great outlay. As the board sees the future, therefore, a $6,000,000,000 industry, the newest major industry of the country, needs and will continue to need for a long time to come men of practical, technical training to direct its work. It is this class of men whom the board is seeking to make available.

A high percentage of educators from colleges conducting highway engineering courses will be present at the forthcoming conference and will then meet and exchange ideas with government and other officials directly in charge of roadbuilding.

Stanley Newcomb, 14 years old, San Diego, Calif., won a gold watch and a trip to Washington, D. C., for the best essay on "How I Can Make the Highways More Safe." More than 400,000 other elementary school pupils sought the same prize in a national safety contest conducted by the highway education board, Willard building, Washington, D. C. Five thousand dollars in other prizes were given by the national automobile chamber of commerce. A similar contest is announced for this year. Stanley is a boy scout and says he means to be an editor when he grows up.

THE CROSS COUNTRY MOTORING IS NOW A POPULAR PASTIME

A recent dispatch from Los Angeles, Calif., says: Motorists touring to southern California this winter will find a new service to aid them in exploring the varied recreation grounds. Co-operating with the chambers of commerce which have dotted southern California with convenient automobile camps, the Automobile club of southern California, with branches in every sizable town, has added a special department exclusively for the use of motorists who wish to find the choicest locations on the trout streams, lakes and hunting grounds.

The new department is under the direction of an experienced and expert forester who has been for seven years with the government, making investigations of fish, game and forests, along the Pacific coast. With the signposting of the highways leading to Los Angeles from the middle west, auto travel has been increasing almost 100 per cent a year since the war. The trans-continental journey, once a feat for the expert, is now an ordinary vacation procedure for the average auto driver. The southern route to California is open the year round, enabling motor tourists to the land of oranges to indulge in the popular winter pastime of cross country motoring.

PUBLIC SEES CARS AS BASIC NECESSITY

"The astonishing maintenance, and increase of the car market through recent months proves one thing conclusively—that the car is everywhere regarded as a basic utility," said a prominent automobile distributor.

"To more than half the American people the car is an essential factor to be reckoned with the same as other necessities of business or living. As such it has become far less seasonal in its character. It is an year round necessity."

"In the light of this, the big demand for cars in any month is not so remarkable. The general adoption of the closed car with its superior comfort and serviceability in every month of the year, has had much to do with this. With the promise of still greater prosperity on every hand the normal automobile market will probably not have to reckon with seasons as heretofore. A good car for every family, summarizes the normal market."

ONE SOUTHERN STATE AHEAD IN ITS GOOD ROADS BUILDING

By awarding contracts for 23 road projects recently, the North Carolina State Highway commission brought its lettings this year to 1,114 miles, or 114 miles more than the goal of 1,000 miles, set for 1922. The total cost of the new road construction authorized in North Carolina during the first eight months of this year will exceed $22,000,000, or nearly one-half of the $50,000,000 provided by the state for new roads during the first five-year period.

With these last awards, North Carolina has set up a record for road building for one year that has never been equaled. Since January 1, contracts have been let for 568 miles of hard surfaced roads—principally asphalt—and 546 miles of gravel roads. The state road program inaugurated in 1919 is about half completed, since 2,700 miles of new roads are now completed or under contract. In addition to this mileage the North Carolina system includes many miles of good roads built by the counties.

SHORT SIDELIGHTS

Don't confide your troubles to your customers. They have troubles of their own and are likely to stay away from others in trouble. Inspect wheels carefully? Do they run true? Are the flange bolts tight?

Make a man feel he is welcome and that you appreciate his business.

With the wheel camber approximately correct, the wheel points straight ahead.

Good will is something you cannot buy; you have got to build it. The distance between the felloe bands of the front wheels in front of the axle should be one-eighth to one-quarter of an inch less distance than between the wheels back of front axle.

Remember also—that there is no greater handicap than ill will.

Front wheels must be drawn in below to provide ease in steering, and must toe in—in front to allow for spreading under traction.

Some men are radical cranks and are known as such, and frequently the loss of their good will can be afforded.

Correct wheel alignment saves tire wear and should not be neglected.

TIRES LABOR ENOUGH IN LIFE TIME TO LIFT WASHINGTON MONUMENT; INTERESTING BOOK ON RUBBER INDUSTRY

"Of the total power of the motor in an automobile, part is absorbed in the mechanism of the car," says Dr. W. C. Geer, in his unusual book "The Reign of Rubber." The remainder, estimated to be more than 80 per cent, is transmitted to the car tires to be expended in pushing the machine against the wind, up hill, and against other resistances.

"Driving over bricks, and bumps, dodging around automobiles at the side of the road, our tires are subjected to power as well as dead load and to sudden changes in strain. These jerks, bumps, and cuts by rough stones on the road's edge that let water into the fabric, are the killing forces that destroy tires. If tires were treated as most of our property is, we should carefully guard them month by month.

"The older ones should be sifted from the position of greatest work, namely, the rear, to the front, for we should think of them as old faithful horses to be gradually retired to easier jobs, while the younger ones are called upon to carry the heavier burdens."

"If you much work does a tire do? If one-third-two by four inch tire on the rear wheel of a car carrying a load of fifteen hundred pounds runs ten thousand miles up a 4.4 per cent grade, the work it has to do, engineers tell us, is 2925 horse-power hours.

"This is equivalent to lifting more than four billion pounds of stone up one foot. The computation, however, to be sure, assumes the tire to be on the up-grade all the way; but if it goes up-grade only one quarter of the time, the work done would lift the Washington Monument about twelve feet.

"When your tire goes one hundred miles, it does as much work as you would do if you shoveled 250 tons of coal into your second story window. During such a job you perspire freely; the tire heats, too.

"We have learned by experiment that when this four-inch tire was run for an hour at twenty miles an hour, the temperature of the tire just under the tread had increased 75-1-2 degrees; at forty miles an hour, this increase was 75 degrees.

"In the hot days with the thermometer ninety-five degrees in the shade, and 116 degrees on the road surface, imagine the tire heated to 180 degrees, or nearly enough to boil water.

"Is it any wonder that the rubber wears rapidly then? These figures of temperature show that the motorist has considerable to fear if he rides at excessive speed in hot weather, or if he permits his air inflation to be reduced to the point where there is a maximum flexing and consequently increased rise in temperature. Regardless of that, rubber tires resist just as much wear to a greater degree than any other known substance.

"Motoring is not wholly a matter of engines and chassis. 'Bone-shaker' vehicles are gone forever. To the pneumatic tire may be given credit for the astounding growth of the automobile, for it has permitted both speed and comfort."

The wealth of its experience and manufacturing resources enables Packard to endow the Single-Six with striking superiority.

More than that, it establishes a basis of production that now places the Single-Six within reach of the greater group which aspires to Packard ownership.

It remained for Packard—with its mastery of costs and production—thus to demonstrate the revolutionary value that can be built into a car of the finest quality.

ALARMING NUMBER OF MOTOR TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS SUGGESTS PUBLIC SAFETY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE FOR LOCALITIES

Aroused by the large number of accidents and fatalities attributed to motor mishaps, scores of cities and localities throughout the United States began the week of October 8 to 14 with the observance of "seven days for safety," part of the "safety season" suggested by the highway education board.

According to the most reliable statistics, the board says, at least 12,500 persons were killed in motor accidents during 1921, while 350,000 persons received minor or major injuries during the same period. This death and accident toll, says the board, can be laid directly at the door of carelessness and ignorance. It is in an effort to correct this situation that the "safety season," with its component parts, is suggested.

One of the unfortunate features is the fact that accurate statistics of the number of accidents and deaths cannot be had from all communities. The board's estimate is based on the best figures obtainable from the bureau of census.

In the observance of the "safety season" in New York city, one of the outstanding activities is "safety week" under the direction of the Safety Institute of America, with Judge Albert H. Gary at the head of its public safety committee. In New York the week was divided into special days and virtually the same procedure was followed in other cities.

One of the chief suggestions for the observance of the "safety season" and "safety week" is that in each city a public safety executive committee be appointed by the mayor, or other competent authority, which should be charged with the duty of carrying on the other activities of the "season." In this manner the safety campaign in each locality is thus entrusted to those who feel the greatest concern

DEMAND IN MEXICO FOR AMERICAN FLOUR IS ON THE INCREASE

Mexico City, Oct. 21.—During the year ended September 30 Mexico imported from the United States $1,702,489 worth of flour, and the demand for the American products is said to be on the increase. The reason ascribed is that no matter how much flour is produced in Mexico, the hard American flour is needed to make a bread palatable to wheat bread consumers. It might also be mentioned that during the same fiscal year just ended more than $1,000,000 worth of eggs were brought into Mexico from the United States.

A new American fruit named peachmond, combining the juicy, luscious qualities of a peach and the edible kernel of the almond, has been perfected by the federal agricultural department, under the direction of Professor Juan Bahue. Grapes were made of freestone peaches with the paper-shell almond, common to California, and the result is said to be a fruit whose meat is peach and whose kernel is almond.

FACTS ON TIRES WE SHOULD KNOW

To make a carcass of 30x3 1/2 cord tire it requires seventeen hundred and twenty-three miles (1,723) of cotton fibre, more than nine million feet. There are 400 fibres to the inch.

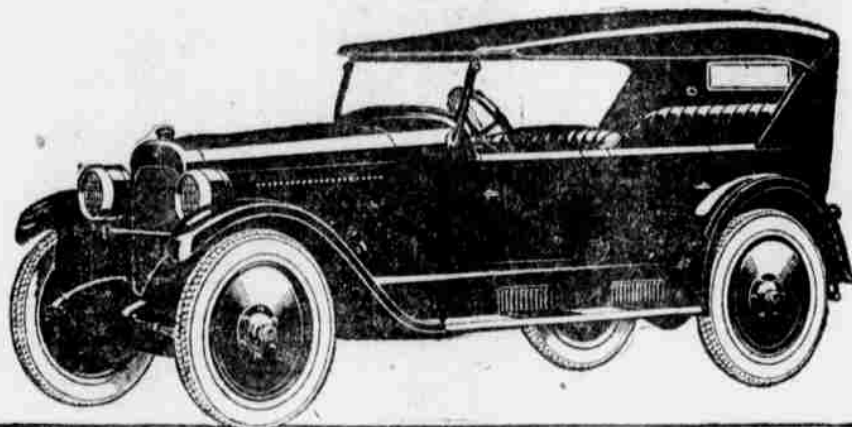

In a 35x5 cord tire there are 30,333,000 feet of cotton fibre. This is more than 5,744 miles of 1 1/2 Standard. In the cords which make the carcass of a cord tire there are 15 twisted strands. Each cord is divided into three cables of five strands each. There are 640 inches of 18 yards of fibre in every inch of this yarn.

A five-inch cord tire has 23 cords per inch. Eight plies of cord make up the carcass. The breaking strength of a cord is approximately 15 pounds. The cord is similar to a medium-weight fishing line. Each is insulated with rubber, and each ply is separated from the rest by a layer of rubber insulation.

"Have you noticed that the car owners' reports on car performance have almost entirely taken the place of events and contests staged by factories and dealers in other years?" are queries asked these days.

This is largely due to the fact that owners generally keep close records of mileage and gasoline and oil. To this many add itemized statements of cost of upkeep. The motorist flashes his little memorandum book on you in proof of his claims.

Chalmers Six Meets Insistent Demand

The insistent demand of the public for high class motoring at reasonable cost is squarely met by the Chalmers Six.

Its first cost is much more moderate than the rule in its class; and its maintenance is remarkably low, due to the excellence of its design and the fine materials of which it is made.

Its grace and beauty make marked appeal to those who appreciate the better things.

We are more than glad to demonstrate at any time just how good a car the Chalmers Six is.

GATES TIRES

The Tire with the Wider and Thicker Tread

ISN'T THIS WHAT COUNTS?—

It isn't the mileage that's in a tire, but the miles you get out of it, that counts.

Take a cord tire for example—fully 50% more miles in the cord carcass, but you'll be throwing these extra miles away unless the rubber tread wears longer, too. That's why a wider and thicker tread is especially important on cord tires.

Gates Super-Tread Cords have the wider and thicker rubber tread and that's why you're getting two or three thousand extra miles out of them.

DODGE BROTHERS BUSINESS SEDAN

Exceptional interest has been aroused by the practical arrangement of the interior.

The entire rear compartment furnishings—seat, seat cushions, back cushions, seat frame, foot rest, carpet and all—can be removed from the car in a few moments.

The front seat is then tilted forward, giving a gross clearance of twenty-two inches through the rear doors.

In this way, a space of sixty-four cubic feet in the rear compartment is made available for loading.

When the rear seat fixtures are back in place, the interior is complete and attractive in appearance. Its convertibility is not apparent to the eye.

Business men, farmers, salesmen, campers, tourists and everyone who has occasion, at times, to carry bulky articles or luggage, will readily appreciate the great utility of this construction.

The price is $1,375 delivered, Albuquerque.

Studebaker

Comparison Will Emphasize Its Value

The Studebaker Big-Six Sedan delivers everything you can ask of a motor car.

If you pay more than the Big-Six price, you may buy more weight, but it is impossible to get finer materials or better craftsmanship than are used by Studebaker.

Compare this Big-Six Sedan with the most expensive cars. Check the body with any body built, compare the chassis construction, look into the endurance records of the Big-Six as compared with any other car.

Get behind the wheel yourself. Test its performance, its comfort. Check its appearance with any car at any price. And don't overlook this point: Studebaker has more than 3,000 branches and dealers throughout the country who are always ready to render efficient service.

And finally, compare the equipment and appointments.

Consider the Big-Six Sedan as an investment. There is no reason to pay more. The name Studebaker stands for satisfaction.
