WHITE GUARDS BEATEN BY THE RED FORCES

Defenders of the Chita Government Are Forced to Retreat Across the Border Into Manchuria.

Vladivostok, Oct. 22.—(By the Associated Press).—The curtain has been rung down on the last scene of the Russian revolution. Those who defended this last outpost of opposition to the soviets are replying. A few hundred persons have been killed, and the people are sitting back waiting for their new rulers, the soviet leaders of the Far Eastern republic, or Chita government, as it is called.

The white guards of the Vladivostok government fought desperately from October 8, the day they came in contact with the soviet forces at Spassk, until nearly two weeks later when the Reds utterly defeated them and forced

The men who bore the brunt of the fighting were soldiers who had retreated from the Volga river to this last stronghold of the white guards.

Vladivostok sent General Diodorichs only 178 men in reply to his call for reinforcements, which led the dictator to declare:

"Where are the sacrifices which were to be made for brethren who for two years have borne the cross which was laid on Russia for the

Tokio, Oct. 22 (by the Associated Press).—The danger to residents of Vladivostok after the approaching evacuation of the Japanese forces takes place arises from the presence around the city of bandits who are ready to plunder Vladivostok in the interim between the departure of the Japanese and the occupation by the Red army of the Chita government, according to persons who arrived here today from Vladivostok.

It is feared that the Chita government has not sufficient troops present to cope with the large

The danger is believed so great that all steamers leaving Vladivostok are crowded with people. Vessels leaving for Japan are so crowded with Japanese that few other foreigners can obtain passage.

SAFETY GUARANTEES ASKED FOR AMERICANS

Moscow, Oct. 22.—(by the Associated Press).—General Ushakov, chief of the Far Eastern republic, revolutionary army has begun negotiations with the Japanese commander and the Vladivostok consular representatives for the surrender of Vladivostok, according to advice received by the soviet government from Chita.

The dispatches say the American consul handed General Uborevitch a note requesting him to guarantee the personal safety of American citizens. Similar requests were made on behalf of the British and Japanese consulates, and the safety of foreigners and of property.

Additional advices to the government say the Red army encountered at Okeanskaisk, Japanese detachments which were covering the city. Representatives of the Japanese command reached Okeansk's Friday and warned the Far Eastern troops to retreat four miles to the north of that place. The dispatches assert that disorders broke out in various parts of Vladivostok in connection with the Japanese retreat and that the American consulate sent word later to General Uborevitch that the Americans were impatiently awaiting the Far Eastern troops to restore order.

A government announcement says great danger threatens communists, workmen and Far Eastern sympathizers who are in prisons at the hands of the remaining white guard bands. The government declares responsibility for any excesses will rest entirely upon the Japanese command, which is retarding the entry into Vladivostok of Russian Red troops.

PROHIBITION IS BENEFICIAL TO STATE, ASSERTS

Kansas Has Had a Dry Law for Forty Years; Attorney General Points Out the Benefits Accrued

Topeka, Kans., Oct. 21.—Forty years, or a "generation" of prohibition in Kansas reveals its full advantages. This state, dry forty years, suffers comparatively little from lawlessness incident to industrial upheavals. These are the statements made by Attorney General Richard J. Hopkins in a lengthy article on the many benefits accrued to this state by prohibition, made public here today.

Absence of Violence. The attorney general went to great length in pointing out the "notable absence" of violence in the recent coal and rail strikes in Kansas. He attributes this lack of lawlessness to prohibition. "It might seem," he said, "that the Kansas industrial court law was the controlling factor in the recent rail strike. But would the industrial court law have been attainable or practicable as an experiment except in a commonwealth fully sober and fully accustomed to sober regard for law?"

"No claim is made that the liquor laws are cordially observed by 100 per cent of our population, our transients and our tourists," Mr. Hopkins said. "Not all these have had the advantage of forty years in Kansas. Numbers make short sojourns in the state, as do auto thieves, highway robbers and bank bandits. Their migrating season is frequently hastened by unfavorable social atmosphere and alertness of the law."

"A generation whose parents have practiced prohibition—a race of Rechabites—provides human material for educational and civic experiments impossible immediately upon the adoption of prohibition. The Kansas exhibit was often and early cited to refute the logic of the prophets of dire disaster in case of national prohibition. These predictions ranged from industrial idleness and business stagnation to destruction of local state government and widespread revolution. None of these things have happened to Kansas in two score years nor to the country in two years, because of prohibition."

"On the contrary, those who are in position to know, with experience and training to judge, and generally agreed that matters of the nature predicted would have been decidedly less favorable during the past two years except for federal and state liquor laws. From the nature of the case the extent of this preventive benefit can never be even approximately estimated. Indeed, some of these afflictions—light in comparison with those of Europe—are charged by the anti-prohibitionists to the working of these prohibition laws. The advocates of more liquor, however, fail to account for the more serious conditions in European states."

"Exhaustive statistical analysis would probably show that states and communities that have longest and best enforced prohibition have least the pinch of these conditions. Kansas again provides an exhibit."

Economic Benefits. Economic benefits and financial preserves from years of prohibition, the attorney general continued, have sufficed to obviate general business failures. "This, notwithstanding that farmers and cattle men were among the heaviest losers in all the country from price slumps in readjustment, and Kansas is primarily a farming and stock producing state."

"Probably no equal area, 80,000 square miles, and equal population, 1,750,000 people, experienced less far than Kansas, with the shifting into high gear of federal liquor control. Hopkins points out that because of "smooth and harmonious" compliance with the prohibitory act, "Washington has seen fit and necessary to supply only a small staff of federal men to our state—from four to eight—men who cover Kansas' 105 counties."

"Kansas, with federal co-operation," the statement concludes, "will doubtless advance with more definite and more rapid stride toward the goal of perfect prohibition in years coming than in years past. She will naturally hold her lead in the enjoyment of the slower maturing fruits of temperance and continue to be something of an experiment station and an exhibit to other states and nations. To this accomplishment loyal Kansans are united with a degree of unanimity perhaps exceeding that attained on other matters of discussion or action."

GRAND JURY MAY TAKE UP MURDER MYSTERY TODAY

Two Indictments May Be Asked in the Case of the Murder of Jersey Minister and His Choir Singer

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 22.—A few hours before the carefully guarded evidence gathered in the five weeks since the murder of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and the choir singer, Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, was scheduled to be presented to the grand jury sitting tomorrow at Somerville, official confirmation that the case would come before that body was lacking.

None of the officials would confirm the reported existence of an eye witness upon whose testimony the case for the grand jury was believed to be based. Despite information that two indictments would be asked, presumably for a man and a woman, no preparations for the presentation of the case were apparent today.

Two telegrams which have been sent by the authorities have widened the locale of the investigation to New York City. It was learned today that the messages had to have been filed in New York on August 14, by the minister, were to Henry Stevens and to a woman in New York whose name has not been made public. The message to the woman advised her, it was said, that the Rev. Hall would be at her apartment on the night the telegram was sent. The other, to Mr. Stevens, a brother of Mrs. Hall, was said to have notified him that the minister would not return home the next day.

Officials today refused to make public the result of the examination of Mrs. Addison Clarke, who has been identified as the "Minnie" mentioned in Mrs. Mills' letters. Nor would they reveal whether the pistol and the knife used in the murder were in the possession of the investigators, as had been reported.

WOULD PROHIBIT THE ISSUING OF TAX-FREE BONDS

Congress Will Be Asked to Adopt the Pending Resolution Proposing a Constitutional Amendment

Washington, Oct. 22.—Adoption of the pending resolution proposing a constitutional amendment putting an end to the issuing of tax-exempt securities will be urged upon congress at its short session. It was stated today by high fiscal officers of the administration. They declared the question of tax-free bonds was the most important, not alone of the national tax problems but of some of the industrial ones as well.

It was indicated that the proposed legislation will have the full support of the administration. President Harding was expected to renew in his annual message to congress in December his recommendation for such a change in the organic law.

With capital in ever increasing quantities seeking investments in tax free securities, fiscal officers said the situation had reached the point where a remedy not only was desirable but necessary. Aside from the direct loss in taxation to both the federal and state governments, it was stated that normal development of industry was retarded through inability to attract wealth at anything like reasonable interest charges.

Aside from the proposal to end the issuing of non-taxable securities, recommendations with respect to taxation to be made to congress by Secretary Mellon in his forthcoming annual report were expected to be few and to deal largely with such changes in the existing laws as have found to be desirable through practical administration.

It was indicated that no general revision of the law such as was made a year ago was contemplated at least for some time to come.

PAT WALSH HAS BEEN BAGGAGE AGENT FOR EVEN HALF CENTURY

Topeka, Kans., Oct. 22.—General baggage agent of the Atchison, Topeka and Santa Fe railroad for an even half century, is the record of Patrick Walsh of Topeka. Walsh was appointed to the office of general baggage agent of the road in 1872, when that office was created, and it is believed by officials of the road here that no other railroad employee in the country can show a similar record. The veteran is the only general baggage agent that the road has ever had.

A dinner was given in honor of the completion of his fifty years of service in the one position, Friday night. W. B. Story, president of the Santa Fe; E. J. Enloe, vice president; W. J. Black, passenger traffic manager; Gardiner Lathrop, general solicitor for the system, all of Chicago, attended the dinner, and were speakers on its program. All general officers of the road here attended the function.

Walsh was born in Ireland in 1842, and is 79 years of age. He served in the United States marine corps for four years during the civil war. He is not contemplating retiring.

TOWN BOYS WALLOP THE ARTESIA HIGHS

Artesia, N. M., Oct. 22.—The husky town football eleven met the high school lads for the second time this season, resulting in a 19 to 0 score for the town team. The school boys were outwitted and surpassed in every phase of the game. The town team averages around 177 pounds and the school lads average under 140 pounds per man. Not only did this prove an asset to the husky gridsters, but the aerial attack baffled the high school. Time after time the town back field would receive long passes from E. Cole for gains of twenty or more yards. A pass for twenty yards netted the second touchdown of the game. A long pass for a 50-yard gain from Cole to Evans netted the third touchdown. The town team was able to complete eight passes in ten attempts in one quarter.

Coach Adams' "Bulldogs" were not in shape for the contest, which accounts to a great extent for the defeat. Captain Yenger and Jackson, fast ends, were out of the game. Olinus, stellar tackle, was unable to be in his position on account of illness. Welsh and Long, husky guards, were out of account of injuries. Davis, the star halfback of the Artesia valley, was injured in the third quarter and forced to leave the game. Many fans believe that the high school could have been victorious with these mainstays of the eleven.

New men were forced to oppose the husky city athletes. The all-star back field, composed of E. Cole, Planders, Evans and L. Feather, ex-cole and army players, were able to handle the ball in the air or circle the ends at will. Punks, jammer at center-man ex-collegiate star. This proved a great advantage to the town team.

DeAhromond, Bullock, House and Davis were the high school back field. Davis being the individual star. His knee was injured in the third quarter. Meadows at tackle was the stellar performer in the line for the school lads. Knowles, who has been out with an injured back, substituted in the third quarter at guard.

The high school is eager for the game with the Roswell high school eleven next week. The entire team is expected to be in shape for this contest, thus strengthening the team and increasing the weight.

MORE THAN HALF MILLION PEOPLE NEED U. S. HELP

Harding Appoints a Committee of Sponsors to Aid in Extending Relief to Near East Refugees

Washington, Oct. 22.—Appointment by President Harding of a committee of sponsors, representing every state, territory and insular possession of the union, to aid in the extension of Near East relief was announced tonight at the White House. The president in appointing these sponsors, the White House announcement said, informed them that he desired them "to co-operate with the American Red Cross and the Near East relief and with the co-ordinating committee made up of the heads of the organizations interested in relief work in the Near East, of which Will H. Hays is chairman, in making known to all of our countrymen the great call which has come out of the Near East to the heart of the American people."

"More than a half million suffering human beings, the majority women and children, are dependent on the benevolence of America," the president's message further said. "The Red Cross and Near East relief committees, working in harmony and supported by all benevolent organizations, are responding to the call. The co-ordinating committee is helping develop the money raising campaign and bringing into concerted action all the friends possible. You will not be burdened with details but the association of your name will be a great influence in their work in your community."

Governors of the various states, territories and insular possessions have been elected as ex-officio members of the committee on which more than 150 private citizens have been named.

MANY TEACHERS IN ENGLAND ARE REPORTED IDLE

Teaching Profession, Unlike That in America, Is Becoming Overcrowded, According to Estimates

London, Oct. 22 (by the Associated Press).—Plans are under way to bring under one roof all the branches of the American diplomatic and consular offices in London, now scattered over miles of territory.

The plans are tentative, pending the passage of the bill now before congress which provides for a sort of consolidation of all the diplomatic and consular services under one heading, to be known as the foreign service of the United States.

Even if the bill is not passed, however, it is hoped to coordinate the London offices, although this may require special legislation. The main idea of the scheme is to reduce overhead expenses.

It is pointed out, for instance, that the ambassador's home is in Prince's Gate, the embassy at Grosvenor Gardens, the consulate in Cavendish square, and the treasury in the Haymarket, each of which is more than two miles from any of the others.

This requires an endless amount of work for messengers, besides extra expenses for the upkeep of the separate establishments.

Hundreds of domestic servants of both sexes have gone to America in the last six months as the result of a scarcity of ready cash among the first families of England. Many of the families are unable to keep their former large household staffs and are moving into flats or smaller houses to reduce their expenses.

Many servants have been with certain families for generations, and they have been turned out and are looking for places. Some are willing to go any place in the world, preferably America, at small wages even as compared with the wages here, which average one pound sterling weekly for women and two pounds for men.

Americans visiting London are besieged by domestics desirous of returning with them.

Liverpool business men are excited over the drink problem in West Africa following charges that liquor is being shipped from their city to the natives.

At a meeting held this week a motion was unanimously adopted calling for abolition of the traffic. The chairman, Alexander Guthrie, said he must protest strongly if it was proved, as alleged, that Liverpool merchants were involved.

Statistics quoted at the meeting showed that from 1901 to 1913, this country sent 42,853,716 gallons of spirits to the west African colonies, and the general trade of the colonies was valued at 147,000,000 pounds, while during the next seven years, from 1914 to 1920, only 16,000,000 gallons of spirits were sent and the general trade rose to 274,000,000 pounds. This indicated, it is argued, the consumption of spirits curtailed the purchasing power of the natives.

The teaching profession in England, unlike that in America, is becoming drastically overcrowded, according to estimates just published showing several thousand teachers to be without employment.

Commenting on the situation, Sir James Yoxall, general secretary of the National Union of Teachers, declared: "This is the inevitable result of the social and economic recommendations of the Geddes committee. These included larger classes and fewer teachers. The result is that the profession is badly overcrowded and several thousand are unemployed."

"This development reveals a big waste of public money. Many teachers were induced by bursaries—paid for out of the public funds—to leave the secondary for the primary schools. Now all that money is wasted, for the teachers are out of work."

U. S. AID TO LIBERIA FEARED BY SPAIN

Certain political thinkers in Spain believe they see a menace to Spain in the United States' latest loan of $4,000,000 to Liberia. Liberia is a negro republic, founded by this country for former slaves and for as many American colored people as cared to return to Africa.

The United States has always kept a watchful eye over Liberia. Spain sees in this only an American attempt to gain a foothold in Africa.

The Spaniards are particularly disturbed over the effect of an Americanized Liberia on their island of Fernando Poo, 1,200 miles away. Liberia will soon be so well off, they say, that all her labor will stay at home, and the Spanish investments on Fernando Poo will fail for lack of workmen.

THROGS ATTEND ST. JOSEPH, MO., GIRL'S FUNERAL

Was Killed Friday Night by a Shot, Supposedly Fired by Police; 500 Klansmen in the Cortege

St. Joseph, Mo., Oct. 22.—What old-time residents have declared was the largest funeral within their recollection, took place today when the body of Nellie Hale, a 14-year-old girl killed Friday night by a shot supposedly fired by police, was borne to the cemetery through streets lined by thousands of spectators.

A crowd estimated at 5,000 waited in the cemetery for the cortege. In which marched 500 members of the Ku Klux Klan, robed and with their hoods raised.

The funeral was under the auspices of the Klan. No uniformed police were to be seen. Klansmen handled traffic in the streets with rapidity. Two klansmen and six Klanswomen, however, were mallbearers. At the grave hundreds of klansmen stood at attention as the body was lowered.

The crowds began forming on the streets long before the hour set for the funeral and grew rapidly despite a drenching rain. The funeral was the only development today in the police situation, which reached a climax last night when 12,000 persons attended an open mass meeting of the Ku Klux Klan, held in a downtown park and demanded the retirement of the police board on the ground that the police department has failed to take proper precautions for the preservation of life.

Nellie Hale is the second person accidentally killed here since last summer while police were attempting to make arrests. She was riding on a country road with her two brothers when a police car raced down the road in pursuit of another car. The officers firing as they came. Their distance from the car was such that they were unable to stop it and it was struck by a stray bullet. The three patrolmen, who with Clay C. McDonald, chief of police, have been discharged, say the girl was killed by a shot from the car they were pursuing.

LEASES GRAZING RIGHTS TO VAST TERRAZAS RANCH

Chihuahua City Financier Realizes Necessity for Pasture for Cattle and Sheep Now in the U. S.

Special to The Journal.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 22.—Realizing the necessity for range for thousands of cattle and sheep now in drought-stricken districts in southwestern United States, David S. Russek, prominent Chihuahua City financier, has leased for two years the grazing rights of the vast Terrazas properties in Chihuahua, he announced here last night.

The Terrazas holdings, with Santa Clara ranch, Mr. Russek's personal property, are in excess of 5,000,000 acres.

Save in Prime Condition.

Prior to the revolution the Terrazas land and Santa Clara accommodated more than 500,000 head of cattle and about 300,000 head of sheep. These ranches are now in prime condition, due to the fact that they have laid idle for seven years, he said.

"I contracted for the Terrazas property Thursday of last week and have been notified that the proposition has been approved by the authorities at Mexico City," Mr. Russek said. "The property has been leased by me from the Caja de Prestamos, the government institution which purchased the Terrazas estate. Title to the estate has not been passed because of surveys and papers yet to be completed. Upon investigation I found that title will be passed within ten days. For that reason the matter was taken up with the Terrazas interests, who endorsed and approved my contract."

"In addition to Santa Clara, my personal property, I now have the grazing rights on the Terrazas ranches known as San Luis, San Diego, San Miguel, El Carmen, San Lorenzo, Acia Nueva and Encarnacion. All lie in northern Chihuahua, between the United States border and Chihuahua City, with the southernmost property not over 175 miles from the boundary. Served by Two Railroads.

"These ranches are served by the National Railway and Mexico Northwestern railway and many of the ranges are close enough to the states for cattle in condition to be trailed."

"I am now in communication with officials of the National Railway of Mexico with a view to obtaining a freight rate reduction on cattle."

"I have talked to some of the American cattlemen and they have brought up the question of the heavy duty imposed by the Mexican government on exportation of beef calves born in Mexico. I have already appealed to the Mexican government for the repeal of that tax, and in the event that I fail to obtain waiver of the tax, I have decided to enter into a contract to buy the offspring of American cattle moved to the property I control, as I desire to restock my Santa Clara ranch."

"All cowboys to be used on these properties will be Mexicans, with American overseers."

"I have consulted Gov. Ignacio Enriquez in regard to protection of cattle. He told me he would give all cowboys used by me appointments in his state troops with full authority to police the ranches."

Mr. Russek will remain in El Paso until Tuesday to go over details of the ranch proposition with his local representative, H. M. Maple.

ALLEGED JEWEL THIEF ESCAPES FROM OFFICERS

San Francisco, Oct. 22.—Richard A. Palmer, hotel robber, jewel thief and one of the slipperiest rascals ever committed to state hospitality at San Quentin prison, escaped from custody of California officers again today at Rawlins, Wyo., according to meager advice received by police officials here. He still has some days left to serve of the six months minimum sentence first imposed on him, although he began serving it more than three years ago.

Palmer was sent to San Quentin in 1919 for a $15,000 jewel robbery and was in the prison in which he was trapped by the quick wit of a 13-year-old girl. He escaped in September of that year and was recaptured some time later in New York. Enroute west, in the custody of a prison guard, Palmer stole the key to his handcuffs from the sleeping guard, stole a suit of clothes from a Pullman berth, his own having been removed to render his escape more difficult and leaped from the moving train near Cedar Rapids, Iowa.

He was picked up by the officers and again incarcerated in San Quentin. Last February he escaped with three other prisoners, and nothing was heard of him until the New York police arrested him recently. He was started westward in custody of a penitentiary guard a few days ago.

Palmer is about 24 years old and asserted when here that he was the son of a wealthy Buenos Aires resident but this story has been discounted by the police. He told officers here he had run through a fortune of $75,000, was in need of funds, and turned to robbery as a means of providing them.

PRINCETON AND CHICAGO TEAMS MEET SATURDAY

Football Contest Is Expected to Draw the Attention of Enthusiasts from Coast to Coast

Chicago, Oct. 21 (By the Associated Press).—With five teams still in the 1,000 per cent column, Chicago to play Princeton on the Midway, and three conference games for next Saturday, followers of Big Ten football have settled down to watch the reeling dope bucket which all but emptied itself on two occasions yesterday. That it was not entirely upset was due to the one all important safety by which Iowa was able to nose out Minnesota while the 7 to 7 tie between Northwestern and Wisconsin proved the other spill of the day.

Michigan's 19 to 0 triumph over Ohio was not altogether unexpected as the Buckeyes have a green team while the Wolverines boast a veteran organization. Other games followed expectations rather closely, Chicago winning from Purdue, 12 to 0, and Wisconsin beating Indiana, 20 to 0. Notre Dame won handsily from the strong DePaul eleven and Rockne's men are ready apparently to meet the best in the country on equal terms.

The Illinois game was the greatest surprise of the day, as Illinois was considered one of the weak teams of the conference. The Illini have apparently developed the same spirit that beat Ohio against overwhelming odds last year, and coaches on the Illinois schedule are preparing a more dangerous foe. On the other hand, the conquerors of the Yale bulldogs have shown themselves only mortal and teams that have yet to meet Iowa have gained confidence from yesterday's close game.

The Chicago-Princeton game, probably the most important in the country, will be played Saturday, drawing the attention of enthusiasts from coast to coast. Neither team has had any opportunity to show its real strength and neither has extended itself for the benefit of hostile scouts. Chicago's showing since the Georgia game has not been considered as satisfactory as could be wished but no one doubts that the veteran Coach Stagg has kept his sleeve well filled with surprises for this game and will put a real contender on the field. Indications to date are that he will again try to beat the Tigers, as he did a year ago with the east's own game, the pile driving and slashing type of straight football that in time weakens the best of lines.

Two of the present conference leaders will risk their ranking in conference games next Saturday. Minnesota and Michigan. Of these two games the Minnesota-Ohio game should be the most interesting. Michigan in her game with Illinois will probably endeavor to check the spirit which the Illinois showed yesterday. The Wolverines will be topheavy favorites, however.

Iowa, in the third conference game of the day, will meet Purdue. The bulldozers will just fair against Chicago's second and third string men yesterday and the Hawkeyes, after their Illinois experience will probably endeavor to pile up a considerable score and take no chances. Indiana and the Michigan Aggies mix in the only other game of the day in which a conference team is involved.

In the other conference game yesterday Ames defeated Grinnell at Grinnell, 7 to 0. Kansas U. defeated Washburn college, 22 to 0, in a non-conference game.

Next Saturday, Nebraska will play Oklahoma at Norman, Kansas university will play the Kansas Aggies on the Aggies' gridiron at Manhattan and Washington will play Ames at Ames, Missouri. Grinnell will play non-conference games—Missouri vs. St. Louis university at St. Louis and Grinnell vs. Coe at Cedar Rapids.

DRAKE AND NEBRASKA ARE LEADING TEAMS IN MISSOURI VALLEY

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 22.—Drake and Nebraska university stood out above the seven other schools in the Missouri Valley conference football race today.

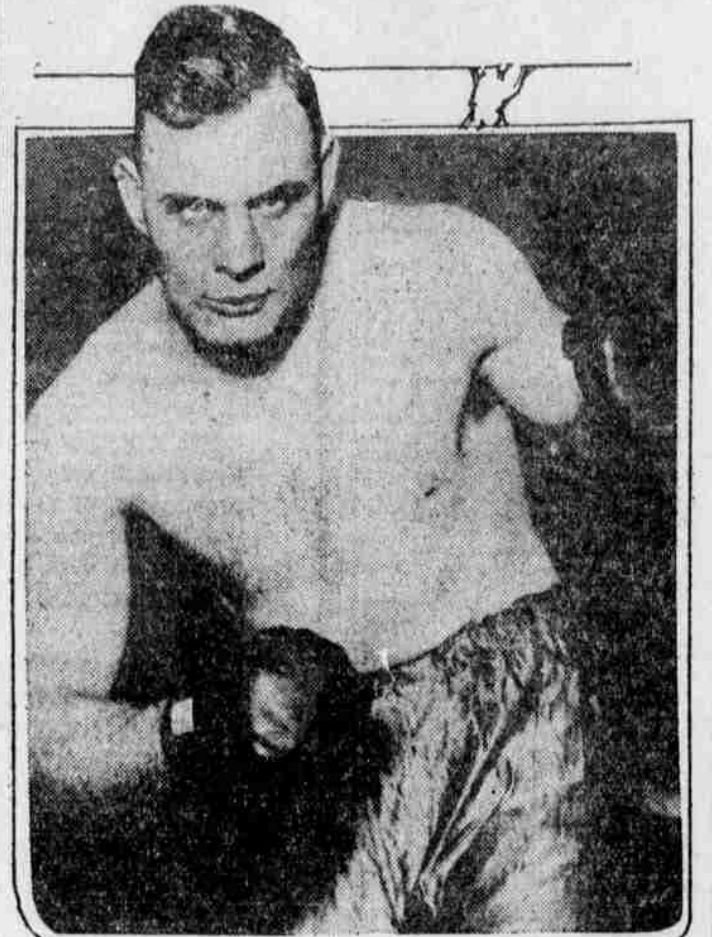

Nebraska played her first conference game yesterday, swamping Missouri, who had two victories and no defeats to her credit, 48 to 0 and Drake, who has won two games and lost none, yesterday defeated Washington university at St. Louis, 31 to 7.

Oklahoma university like Nebraska, made her debut in the conference yesterday, playing the Kansas Aggies, a 7 to 0 game. Oklahoma staged a desperate rally and made a touchdown in the last few minutes of play, after the Aggies had held a 7 to 0 lead since the first quarter.

ARTESIA HIGH SCHOOL GROWS IN ATTENDANCE

One Hundred Eight Pupils Enrolled; All Branches of the Educational System Are Larger Than Usual

Special to The Journal.

Artesia, N. M., Oct. 22.—The public schools of Artesia have finished the first six weeks' term. New pupils have entered each week and more are expected. Twelve new pupils were enrolled last week, with the greatest gain in the Central school, which has the lower grades, up to the sixth. The grammar school has the sixth, seventh and eighth grades. The high school department has 130 pupils.

The course of study in the high school is one of the best in the state. Excellent facilities for manual training and domestic art are features. The commercial department will have to be enlarged to accommodate all the pupils desiring this course.

The music department is doing much extra work with the boys and girls and choral clubs in all the schools. An orchestra is being formed, to be composed of 25 or 30 instruments. Musicians from all grades will join this organization.

The heads of the domestic art and manual training departments devote much time to the seventh and eighth grades, as does the music department, which has organized choral clubs among the lower grades.

A noticeable fact is the co-operation of the school authorities with the county health department. The county nurse or the county physician visits the schools each week to prevent the spread of contagious diseases. During the absence of these health officers, a high standard is maintained by the school authorities.

Miss Alma Givens, superintendent of city schools, is assisted by an efficient corps of 26 teachers. Attention is devoted to the athletic work of the schools. One half of the eligible members of the high school are trying for berths on the high school football eleven.

The other schools have their athletic games and derive much pleasure from their inter-scholastic contests.

WASHINGTON VARSITY FOOTBALL SQUAD IS IN FIRST POSITION

San Francisco, Oct. 22.—By winning yesterday's contest with the Oregon Aggies, 14 to 5, the University of Washington football machine jumped into first place in the early season Pacific Coast conference races with two games won and none lost.

The manner in which the University of California trounced the crack Olympic club team, 23 to 0, led experts to assert that the Bears had a worthy successor to their two preceding championship machines. The California line, which it was thought might yield to the Olympic attack, proved impervious, and the team developed good ground gaining ability. Reddish, former Nevada star, played well for Olympic, but never got clear for runs.

Stanford's defeat of St. Mary College was not impressive. The only scoring was done by Cuddihy, Stanford fullback, who kicked three field goals.

The University of Southern California defeated Nevada U. 6 to 0, but the score was not made until the last three minutes of play.

Theaters Today

"B" Theater—Repeating today for the last time, "The Sea Lion," with Hobart Bosworth as the leading star; also repeating "The Fox" episode, and the "Current Events" pictures.

Lyric Theater—The picture, "Gypsy Passion," with an all-star cast, is being repeated today for the last time, also repeating "The Skipper's Flirtation," the Tooner-ville comedy of two reels.

Pastime Theater—Repeating today Conway Tearle as the leading star in "The Referee," a Seiznick production; also repeating the comedy and the "Fox News" pictures.

"THE SEA LION" IS A VIVID SEA PICTURE, NOW AT "B" THEATER

Another masterful sea role fall to the lot of Hobart Bosworth in "The Sea Lion," distributed by Associated First National Pictures, Inc., the state's latest screen offering which is being repeated today at the "B" theater for the last time.

In physical domination and the exhibition of sheer force and daring, the role of Nels Nelson, captain of the whaling schooner "The Lark," equals anything the star has yet undertaken. It is said that three life boats were smashed, a schooner wrecked and several principals and extras were almost drowned in the taking of the scenes off the Cuban island. Such a statement sounds plausible after a review of the plot which involves two daring rescues at sea, a fight with a mutinous crew and an unusual storm scene.

The star plays the role of the Scandinavian "Sea Lion" with force and sincerity. It is a new portrayal of a role that has always had a popular appeal.

The story is one that gives Bosworth the fullest opportunity to display his ability, mingling a plot of strenuous sea life with a love appeal that finds double response both in the story of his father nursing a twenty-year-old grievance and the daughter with her suitor.

SARAH BERNHARDT PRESENTS THE FILM, "THE GYPSY PASSION"

One of the principal characters in "Gypsy Passion," which will be shown at the Lyric theater today for the last time is played by the late Mme. Rejane, who interprets the role of an old gypsy fortune teller.

Mme. Rejane was a close friend of Sarah Bernhardt and the latter when the film was projected was so overcome at the sight of her long friend, whose death occurred ten days after the completion of the film, that she wept bitterly.

The film made such an impression on her that she told Mr. Mercanton she intended sending out personal invitations to all British actors and actresses to see "Gypsy Passion." And when the picture arrived in London it made a big hit.

It was screened at the Marlborough house at the request of her majesty, Queen Alexandra, for the queen of Norway, the princess royal and members of the royal household.

A RIGHT TO THE JAW AND CHAMPION WENT TO SLEEP—PASTIME

All ye lovers of good fight and a good right form in line in front of the Pastime theater and grab an eye-full of Conway Tearle in "The Referee."

Referee," his newest Seiznick production, which is being repeated at the Pastime theater. After viewing this exceptionally exciting picture it is obvious that Tearle is king of the film fighters. Pugs and roughnecks hold few terrors for Tearle. But there is one little gent who carries around a bow and arrow who finally sends Tearle to the mat for the count of ten. Boys, step up and meet Cupid!

"The Referee" is perhaps the best story Mr. Tearle has ever had in his distinguished career. The star is singularly suited to the role he portrays, for it is rumored that he is quite a fighter in the ranks of amateur pugilists. Judging by "The Referee," the life of a motion picture star is a strenuous one, but Conway Tearle stripped to the skin God gave him looks as if he is no stranger to punching bags and skipping ropes.

You probably remember reading Gerald Beaumont's story, "John McArdie, Referee," in The Red Book. In his line—sports stories—Beaumont is practically unmatchable. However, the Seiznick company has gone Beaumont one better and the resulting film is a regular bang-up affair that never lets up until the final half inch is reached. It will keep you so glued to the edge of your chair that you will probably be reprimanded for breathing down the neck of the person sitting in front of you.

The picture is crammed full of action from start to conclusion. It's a certain knock-out!

BRINGING UP FATHER.

TRUTH ABOUT THE QUAY COUNTY SCHOOL BUDGET

By Frank Staplin, Republican Publicity Manager.

The Tucumcari News has published a number of articles with reference to the School Budget for Quay County. The articles attempt to discredit the office of Educational Auditor.

In one of them, the News Says:

"Tucumcari had a cut of $8,000 and the Auditor insisted on a larger reduction."

The statement that the "Auditor insisted on a larger reduction" is a false statement. The News knew that it was a false statement when it was published, because the News knew that all of the reductions for school purposes were made by the County Commissioner, the county Board of Education, and the city Board of Education, at a meeting in Tucumcari on June 2, 1922, at which State Senator A. L. Zinn, and other business men appeared and plead for economy and school tax reduction.

The News knows now and has known since June 2, 1922, that the salary fixed by the county board for first grade teachers in Quay County was $270 less per year than the figures proposed by Mr. Joerns, the Educational Auditor, and that the reductions in the city school budgets were made at the request of the County Commissioners and the county Board of Education.

The action of all of these local boards is commendable in keeping down taxes by eliminating unnecessary items which we believe was done without injury to the schools of Quay County.

The attitude of the News and the politicians, whom that paper permits to use it as a catspaw, is reprehensible, because they are trying to make it appear that the cuts, justly made by their own officials, were made by the State Educational Auditor, and they are doing this not because they did not want the cuts, but because they are trying to double cross the teachers by placing the responsibility elsewhere than where it belongs.

We have asked Mr. Joerns, the State Educational Auditor, for a statement as to what took place in regard to the school budget for Quay County, and his statement is as follows:

"On June 2, 1922, a meeting was held in the court room and there were present all members of the Board of County Commissioners, County Board of Education, and a great many school district directors. After stating the purpose of the meeting, the Educational Auditor asked the members of the County Board of Education if they had taken any action with reference to the teachers' salaries for the ensuing school year, and particularly as to the classification of the teachers' pay submitted by him, which permitted a qualified first grade teacher to be paid $1,170.

"The County Board of Education stated that the schedule, as submitted by the Auditor, was too high and that they had already adopted their own schedule, allowing teachers who were inexperienced $75 per month, and those who had more than three years' experience, $100 per month for nine months. This would make the maximum salary $900, which is $200 less than the salary paid last year. The County Board of Education decided that the two months of summer pay should be eliminated because of economic conditions.

"During the course of the meeting, Senator A. L. Zinn made an address in which he strongly urged and advocated a reduction in the school expenses. The transportation costs were considerably reduced from last year because it developed that in a number of instances the pay for transporting pupils appeared unreasonable.

"One instance in point, a case where an owner of a car was transporting four of his children and a neighbor child and being paid $125 per month. It was decided that a uniform allowance of $90 per month be made for the transportation trucks and $50 per month for cars.

"There was a general discussion regarding estimates and local directors and school patrons were heard; representative taxpayers were present, also.

"The meeting on the whole was harmonious and ended satisfactorily so far as the rural schools were concerned.

"After the estimates had been made for the rural schools, a motion was made by Mr. Curtis, a member of the County Board, that the city schools of Tucumcari be requested to make a proportionate reduction in their estimates. This motion was carried and acquiesced in by the Board of County Commissioners and the Educational Auditor.

"Subsequently a meeting was had with the City Board of Education and after explaining to the members the action taken by the County Board of Education and County Commissioners with reference to the rural schools and the motion made by them, and in view of the fact that economic conditions in Quay County were bad, there was a general demand upon the part of the tax paying public for a reduced estimate. The city school estimates were reduced some but not in the same proportion as the rural schools; it having been found that a similar reduction could not be applied without seriously affecting the city schools.

"Several members of the City Board of Education stated to the Auditor that there was no reason why the estimates as finally made by the city schools should not suffice.

"Subsequently Mrs. Nellie Hauser, the County Superintendent of Schools, came to Santa Fe and obtained some adjustments of matters that were overlooked at the time of the meeting.

"Later on, Mr. Bowen, the Secretary of the County Board of Education, came to Santa Fe and further adjustments were made. At a still later date, Mrs. Nellie Hauser appeared before the State Tax Commission and in discussing the estimates made the statement that the members of the County Board of Education and that they had agreed on a maximum salary of $900 per teacher, prior to the visit of the Educational Auditor.

"At the meeting with the Tax Commission, Mrs. Hauser obtained some further adjustments.

"It appeared that a number of districts, to wit: 20, 64, 14, 16, 47, 69 and 105 were dissatisfied with the arrangements transportation to some of the other schools and on October 3, Messrs. Schollenbarger and Curtis, Members of the County Board of Education, called at the office of the Educational Auditor and explained the difficulties involved through certain accommodations in the above numbered districts; whereupon a meeting was had with the State Tax Commission and the Auditor recommended that allowance be made for the districts mentioned. After a full discussion the Tax Commission granted the allowances.

"Neither the Educational Auditor nor the State Tax Commission have acted arbitrarily in the matter of approving estimates for the schools.

"As an evidence of the co-operation existing, the following is quoted from Mrs. Hauser's letter of October 11:

"I think the work of the Tax Commission is the best thing for the county; as I know the main purpose is to cut down expenses without crippling the school system."

"The office of Educational Auditor does not possess automatic power. The approval of the estimates, by this official, is subject to revision by the State Tax Commission. If any Board of Education is dissatisfied with the estimates approved by the Auditor, they have the right to appear before the Tax Commission and be heard.

"Prior to the meeting of the State Tax Commission, for the purpose of passing on school estimates, every County Board of Education and all municipal Boards of Education were notified of the meeting. It would seem that when your Board of County Commissioners, County Board of Education, and the members of the City Board, meet, discuss, modify, change and finally agree on estimates, that everything has been done that could be desired.

Respectfully,
"JOHN JOERNS,
"State Educational Auditor."

EFFICIENT HOUSEKEEPING

By LAURA A. KIRKMAN.

HAVE YOU TRIED "TIE DYING"?

A Reader of this Column has asked me to publish an article on "tie dying." This is a most interesting art. It consists in placing a marble in the piece of cloth to be dyed, and tying the marble up in the cloth by winding string around it (as you would tie a ball of blueing up in a piece of muslin, to blue clothes in laundering, then placing the cloth in the ordinary way. After removing it from the dye, according to the directions, the string is untied to release the marble, then the cloth is hung on the clothesline to dry. The result is a piece of dyed cloth with a white ring design in it. For the part of the cloth which was under the thick binding of string, was not reached by the dye—and this leaves a white ring.

Of course the above directions are for the simplest form of tie-dyeing. There are many ways of varying the pattern. One way is to have the string which binds the cloth (beneath the marble) wound rather loosely so that the dye will reach some parts of the cloth beneath, resulting in a mottled or streaked appearance of the white circle. Another way is to tie it in two distinct places beneath the marble—the two ties quite far apart; this makes two white circles instead of one.

To make a design on a square cloth with five white circles on it in different places (one in the middle and one in each of the four corners of the square) the two ties quite far apart; this makes two white circles instead of one.

To make squares instead of circles, on the cloth follow these directions: measure a perfect square on the cloth with a ruler, marking the stitches around the square. Then take needle and thread and gather the cloth, running the stitches around the square. Do not put a marble—or anything else—inside the cloth, this time, before tying. Simply begin tying the cloth, as you did for the circle design, but making sure that you tie it exactly on the gathering thread. In this way you have a little empty bunch of the material sticking up when you have finished winding the string heavily about the cloth, beneath it. Now dye the entire cloth in the usual way, rinse, untie the string and hang the cloth on the line. The result is a dyed cloth with a white square in it. You can have as many of these squares as you wish—by gathering other parts of it into squares and tying beneath the gathering threads.

But perhaps the prettiest decoration of all, in tie-dyeing, is the "wavy design" which is made at either end of a table runner. It is made as follows: Take one end of the runner and crease it into pleats, each pleat being one-half inch wide—just as a child would fold a piece of paper to make a fan. When you get the entire end creased, lengthwise of the material, and not quite at the end of the runner, the string over and over this bunch of pleats so as to hold all the pleats together. Now tie the same thing at the other end. When you finish tying both ends, your table runner will be wide and flat in the center, but dyed small at each end. It is then rinsed, the strings untied, and the cloth dried.

Styles BY LENORE

FROM PARIS

Novel effects are obtained by the use of gold and bronze embroidery this season. One of these charming dresses that are so desirable for allround wear for smart occasions uses dark brown velvet with dull gold bead embroidery around the edges of the skirt, which is divided in the front over a satin slip in the manner illustrated in the sketch. This is a model from Georgetown, whose clothes are so well known for being simple and decorative at the same time.

Georgette keeps her models to the simple, straight silhouette, with novel details to make them original and interesting. A dress of crepe, for example, also in brown, has two necklines—the bateau and another created by a high collar attached to the dress only by a narrow piece in front.

NEWEST of the new in electrical furniture is a wired tea wagon which not only offers two receptacles for the plugging in of dining room appliances but contains a cleverly concealed stool upon which the longer cord connecting the baseboard outlet with the wagon may be wound. This stool is on a hinged shelf which swings up under the wagon out of sight.

The waffle lover, who seldom gets enough, will be satisfied with the larger electric waffle iron which is appearing on the market now and which bakes six waffles at once. The device is of cast aluminum with a polished aluminum cover. Its heating element covers every inch of its surface, resulting in the most even cooking, and the top and bottom plates are connected by separate plugs, giving separate heat control for each.

are cheaper, and still our buses roll. We'd dodge a lot of sorrow and woe that makes up yell, if we could live in the future, in which we dwell, old friends and custom-sever, old form of dull endeavor, and in our cars forever abide till life's farewell. Why should we live in the past, and pay for heat and light, and burn out our unties, and everything we bite? The long white road is lying outdoors where wheels are flying, and motor horns are crying, and chilly, the roads are rough and hilly; along them weary little hunters for a winter stall. We face increased expenses, though we are in the hole; we'll have to burn the gas, so costly, the roads are rough, the price of grub is steeper; and yet why be a weeper? For rubber tires

Membership in the Girl Scouts has increased over 30 per cent since September 1, 1920. WOMEN OF PAST TO BE HONORED

Names of 25 Greatest New Mexican Women to Be Preserved in Proposed Memorial at Washington.

"Who were the 25 greatest women of New Mexico?" is the question asked by the Women's Universal Alliance in Washington. This question will help solve the problem of selecting the names of New Mexico's 25 greatest women—not now living—to place on a tablet in the Temple of Womanhood of the Alliance plans to build in Washington. All citizens of the state will have a chance to send in nominations of the women to be named for this honor. As a preliminary step a contest has been announced of $50 in gold for the best list of 25 great women not now living from this state accompanied by brief descriptive matter of their careers. Any body over the age of 12 years is eligible to compete. Full details of the contest can be had by addressing Great Women Contest, Women's Universal Alliance, 1519 Northwest Washington, D. C.

The final selection of the names will be in the hands of a special historical research committee of one hundred prominent citizens of this state who are now being selected. This committee will include newspaper editors, leading educators, historians, heads of patriotic organizations, etc. Among those who have been asked to serve on this committee from New Mexico are J. H. Warner, Santa Fe; Miss Alice C. Haines, Nogales; Hiram Hadley, Mesilla Park; P. H. H. Roberts, El Paso; David S. Hill, Albuquerque; D. R. Boyd, Worth; Albuquerque; Mrs. Ruth C. Miller, Santa Fe; Mrs. J. F. Hinkle, Roswell; Mrs. Francis Cushman Wilson, Santa Fe; Mrs. R. P. Barnes, Albuquerque.

Speaking of this feature of the work of the Women's Universal Alliance, its president, Mrs. Clarence Crittenden Calhoun, said: "The history of every country and of every state in the United States is illuminated by the names of great women, patriotic and constructive who have achieved either in poetry, art, drama, philanthropy, national or civil service."

"The Women's Universal Alliance intends to honor these great women as a duty to the past and an incentive to the present and the future. These women were the torch bearers of the world and passed on the light of civilization and progress to succeeding generations. In our Women's Hall of Fame in Washington we will place their names in imperishable stone so pilgrims from afar may see the famous names of history."

"We want the selection of these names to represent the ultimate choice of each state and county honored. Each representation will be limited to not more than twenty-five names."

General membership in the Women's Universal Alliance is open to individual women of all nations who are in good standing in their communities. The slogan is "Harmonious service for humanity" and its objects are as follows: To create an acronym of womanhood in Washington as a tribute to the great women of the world; to establish an atheneum of civil activities and give to each member an opportunity to study the civic problems of her own country and her duties thereto; and to learn from the women of other countries what they are doing along the same lines, thus forming a clearing house of information for educational, club, economic and welfare work for women throughout the world and to provide an open forum for the interchange of ideas and to gather by a general referendum the consensus of opinion on subjects relating to world welfare and make this opinion known through all the news mediums of civilization.

ELECTRIC FIRE PLACE GIVES APPEARANCE OF BLAZING BED OF COAL

An open fireplace denotes the atmosphere of the home—its charm, its coziness, its charm. Here family and friends gather at the twilight hour for a cozy chat or a cup of tea. Here romance is born, memories cherished and confidences exchanged.

Everybody appreciates the beauty of a log fire—everybody but the housewife, whose task it is to remove the ashes next morning when friends have departed and romance has fled. She finds no sentiment in digging ashes and soot out of a fireplace; and yet this is the price she must pay unless modern methods are adopted.

The home that is operated on an efficiency basis and still retains its charm is the home that is equipped with electric fireplaces. By merely pressing a button it is possible to usher in the warmth and glowing radiance of the log fire with none of its discomforts or annoyances.

No fire is needed for an electric fireplace. Specially prepared glass combined with electric wires give the appearance of coal in the grate. It requires no more care than an electric lamp and there are no coals or ashes to bother with.

An open fireplace is desirable in nearly every room in the house but in the bathroom, because it is usually a small room, and because splashing water on electric wires is more or less hazardous, a concealed wall heater has been found desirable. This resembles a hot air register and may be installed in cement or the wall and gilded or painted to harmonize with the general decorative scheme.

PLEASING LIGHT AFFECTS VALUE OF TABLE FOOD

Proper Illumination of Dining Rooms Makes for Good Digestion and Good Humor

Long ago physiology, as it was called when first it became popular as a school study, taught that digestion waited on comfort, and that mealtime peace of mind brought a happy physical balance. Nourishing tongues were blighted to adopt a curb and testy tempers to yield in abeyance while at the table. Beauty in its influence on the mind and soul was pointed out as a large element in making food acceptable to the system; and the day of the garnished dish, the decorated tablecloth and the softened and shaded table light was born.

Today that somewhat mysterious science called psychology goes further and explains the physical conditions of which comfort and peace of mind are composed. Looming large among those conditions is the quality of light that illuminates rooms wherein the process of eating is carried on.

To thousands of city dwellers whose lives flow around circuits leading from furnished room through restaurants to offices or shops and back again, the happiness possible to family gatherings around a cozy home table is denied. Lacking the tonic of congenial company while breaking bread, there is a very vital need that these lonely ones should have at least the physical comfort made possible by clean, attractive, skillfully lighted surroundings.

Light which is poured in raw floods of dazzling brilliance over faces of people seated at table is to be seen in thousands of restaurants ranging in quality from mediocre to high class. Even in scenes of luxury this badly managed light is quite common. As a result one finds there a hard, repellent, cold environment, where admittedly food and dishes and linens may be seen and analyzed by light and cleanliness, but where the waste light glares and reflects into eyes already wearied by a strain of work and now further tortured and insulted until the entire co-ordinated functioning of sight and nervous system and brain power is jarred and jangled out of tune—and the victim is on edge, close to the breaking point, without being in any way conscious of the underlying cause.

Here the delicate relationship between nerves and eyes and other physical functions is explained by the new psychology of the day, and it is shown that food eaten in such surroundings, even though it be good food, well cooked and served, loses a great deal of its value because of the repellent influences surrounding those who buy it.

The other common fault is insufficient light. Illumination which is full of spots of glare and bewildering shadows, this condition due not to an inadequate amount of electricity being used, but merely to the unskilled placing and directing of that electricity.

BANDS OF BANDITS ARE OPERATING IN THRACE

Constantinople, Oct. 22 (by the Associated Press).—Bands of organized comitadjis and armed irregulars are operating throughout eastern Thrace, according to British information. They have entered largely through the neighborhood of Tirnova and Midia and are terrorizing the local population everywhere.

A Turkish band of 200 attacked Greek refugees on the road near Haidroli last night and killed 20 of them and robbed their wagons and scattered the refugee column. The British are endeavoring to keep patrols in the vicinity of all large bodies of moving refugees, but this is a most difficult task.

NO BOX, NO MAIL WILL BE RULE AT NEW YEAR. SAYS THE POSTMASTER

The postoffice order regarding mail receptacles or slots in front doors for receiving letters will go into effect on the night of December 31. Postmaster H. Spitz reminded the householders of Albuquerque yesterday.

"I dislike to inconvenience the people of Albuquerque in this matter," said Mr. Spitz, "but we have orders from Washington and there is no recourse. I notified the people in August when the order was issued and I want to remind them again to install their boxes or slots before the time expires."

The postoffice order states that all dwellings must be provided with slots or receptacles and that those not so equipped must procure boxes before December 31. Mail addressed to houses not equipped by that date will not be delivered and will be turned back into the general delivery. An ample supply of regulation mail boxes has been provided by the local hardware stores.

"The postoffice does not desire to deprive any patrons of mail delivery," said Mr. Spitz. "We hope that everybody will see the reasonableness and advantage to themselves and to the carriers. If necessary, however, we shall be obliged to discontinue mail delivery."

ALBUQUERQUE YOUR TOWN.

Would you like to see this a better town, with more life, enterprise and business? Would you like to see more work going on here? And would you like it better if you could walk into Albuquerque stores and find in them bigger and fresher and more varied stocks of everything?

All this could be if the bulk of the money that now goes to the mail-order houses stayed in Albuquerque. If you have any doubt about it, look into it and see how many dollars leave Albuquerque in one month for the so-called bargains that the mail-order people picture in magazines and catalogues. And then imagine what that much money spent here at home would add to the town's business! Of course, nobody can question anyone's right to buy where they please. You don't have to buy in Albuquerque, but the town is dependent upon you, just as you are dependent upon the town. But it does not require much mental effort to see that it is not for the best interest of Albuquerque to patronize concerns whose only interest in our town is what they can get out of it.

When the Red Cross or any other patriotic or civic organization needs funds, does any one ever hear of Sawbuck and company making a contribution? It is the same with our churches and schools. Who maintains them? And who is building the Albuquerque Hotel? Not the Philmore Bargain House! When you have something to sell, do any of these gentlemen ever buy it of you?

Adherence to the "buy it at home" doctrine means profit in the long run, not only to the man you buy from, but to you as well. It will be much better for us individually and for the town as a whole if we stand together and pull together and we are bound to lose if we do not.

Why not get the home town idea into our heads and as long as we live in Albuquerque let us be of, by and for Albuquerque!

THIS CHANGING WORLD.

Nine great powers arranged at conferences held in 1909 and 1913 to make a new map of the world based on a simple system proposed by representatives of the United States in 1908—a map with a uniform scale of distances; approximately sixteen miles to the inch for all parts, and with uniform lettering and symbols. Word comes from Washington that the geological survey is working on the American share of the map but because of lack of adequate appropriations and for other reasons the job hardly will be finished in less than ten or twelve years. That will be time enough. The world, according to present indications, may take that long to settle down. So far as political subdivisions of the map are concerned the boundary lines drawn today are admittedly unstable in many parts of Europe and Asia. It may be necessary in the interest of accuracy to change them tomorrow.

Right now the maps of Turkey and Greece are being re-drawn, but still without assurance of permanency. The Greeks speak of Thrace as "the lost province" and talk of another war. With final disposition of the Saar region a few years hence the maps of Germany and France will have to be made over. And then there is Russia. Suppose that the Russian people return to power and refuse to assent to the secession of the states which have broken away from the Moscow empire during the bolshevik regime. The next Russian government may attempt to reannex some of the lost territory by force, or some of the new states may return to the fold with a change in the government. There is a strong likelihood, in any event, that the map of Russia as drawn now will not be the map of a decade hence in every particular.

Even in the New World there is a strong possibility that boundary lines may have to be changed before ten years have elapsed. There is the dispute between Peru and Chile, for instance, as to which shall obtain sovereignty over the provinces of Tacna and Arica.

Of the great powers the United States is the only one of which it can be said with any great degree of confidence that there is no probability that its boundary lines will be any different when the world map is completed from what they are now.

Much can be done during this period of flux towards the completion of the world map. The unchanging natural features—the oceans, the lakes, the rivers, the mountains—can be drawn in; cities, roads and railroad lines can be indicated; but international frontiers must be left until uncertainty is cleared away.

TODAY'S BEST THOUGHT

THE FOUNDATION OF NATIONAL HAPPINESS.

Let us, with courage and confidence, pursue our own Federal and Republican principles—our attachment to Union and representative government. Kindly separated by nature and a wide ocean from the exterminating havoc of one quarter of the globe—to the high-minded to endure the degradations of the others—possessing a chosen country, with room enough for our descendants to the thousandth generation—entering a due sense of our equal right to the use of our own faculties, to the acquisitions of our own industry, to honor and confidence from our fellow citizens, resulting not from birth, but from our actions and their sense of them—enlightened by a benign religion, professed, indeed, and practiced in various forms, yet all of them inculcating honesty, truth, temperance, gratitude, and the love of man—acknowledging and adoring an overruling Providence, which, by all of its dispensations, proves that it delights in the happiness of man here, and his greater happiness hereafter; with all these blessings, what more is necessary, to make us a happy and prosperous people?

INDEPENDENTS AND DEMOCRATS FUSE IN SAN MIGUEL COUNTY

Special to The Journal.

Las Vegas, N. M.—Oct. 22.—Democratic and Independent conventions were held here Friday and Saturday at which a joint county ticket was named. The independents succeeded in securing five candidates, the balance of the ticket representing the democratic faction.

One controversy arose to mar the harmony of the meeting when A. A. Sena, who was nominated for sheriff by the independent faction, declared that he would support Judge Stephen B. Davis, Jr. for the United States senate against Senator A. A. Jones, incumbent. Upon the insistence of the democrats that all candidates support the entire ticket, Mr. Sena declined the nomination and his name was withdrawn from the ticket. Patrick D. McElroy, who was nominated for county treasurer by the democratic faction, also declined the honor.

The official ticket finally agreed upon carries the following candidates: For representatives from San Miguel county, Mrs. Alice D. Groth and Juan de D. Maseo; for representative from San Miguel and Guadalupe counties, Florencio C. de Baca; for sheriff, Rafael G. Lucero; independent, for treasurer and collector, Benito R. Enchinas; for county clerk, Jose Ignacio Garcia; probate judge, Anselmo Gonzalez; assessor, Pedro Sanchez; independent, county superintendent, Nemesio Rivera; for county commissioner, first district, second tier, J. J. Shoemaker; third district, Basilio Griego; independent, county surveyor, Vincent K. Jones.

The sale of the encyclopedia always has been based on advance subscriptions and the publishers have found the present demand so far below expectations that an immediate investment of 300,000,000 marks would be required if the complete work was published. This encyclopedia, always has been widely used in Germany, gracing the shelves of many humble homes and even of small restaurants, where it often serves to settle arguments over beer.

German publishers believe the rising generation of authors will be hardest hit by the present day cost of printing, since it requires a million marks to put ten or twelve thousand copies of a single novel into circulation. Such a book would sell for 400 or 500 marks on a bookstore. Many young writers are sending their manuscripts to foreign countries. It is known that one large Dutch publishing concern receives as many as fifty such manuscripts daily.

Publications coming from Germany consist mainly of de luxe volumes or technical treatises. A leading Berlin publisher predicts the output next year will be 50 per cent less than this year.

NO WELCOME SIGN IS FOUND BY CARNIVALS AT HUTCHINSON, KANS.

Hutchinson, Kans., Oct. 22.—Carnivals had no welcome sign awaiting their arrival at Hutchinson—if they arrive there at all. The last one didn't even stop in the city.

It came about when a carnival company showing in Dodge City applied to Mayor George Gano for permission to exhibit in Hutchinson. The mayor didn't believe Hutchinson wanted a carnival and refused. The carnival company announced that they intended to come regardless of the mayor's opinion.

"They'd better not land here," the mayor replied and added that he didn't think very much of these carnivals anyway, for they didn't add very much to any city.

66 STUDENTS SIGN UP FOR HIKING CLASSES

Austin, Tex., Oct. 22.—Sixty-six university co-eds signed up for hiking classes. The chief work of the classes will be hiking a required number of miles each month. Hikes will include four, five and ten mile hikes in the near future. In December a 20-mile hike will be staged, in February a 25-mile hike, and in March, a 50-mile hike. The work will be closely supervised by athletic directors.

GERMANS EXPECT BOOKS WILL WIN FRIENDS ABROAD

Home Market Is Absorbing Only a Very Limited Number of Volumes on Account of High Prices

Berlin, Oct. 22 (by the Associated Press).—"Books have a mission, and the German book is going abroad as a sturdy pioneer which will win us the friends we so bitterly need today." Such is the solace native philosophers find in the statements of leading German publishers that the bulk of their present output is going into the export trade.

Publishers report that the home market is absorbing only a very limited number of volumes on account of the prohibitive retail prices necessitated by reason of the increased cost of publication. Expenses for printing in Germany already are 100 fold more than they were prior to the war and it is expected that the end of the year will see this increase more than doubled.

One victim of the high prices is a long established firm which publishes a popular encyclopedia. The firm announces that after three years of preparation three volumes of the work thus far have been issued, but that it will be financially impossible for them to print the other nine volumes belonging to the full set. The putting on the market of a single volume amounts to between fifty and sixty million marks.

The sale of the encyclopedia always has been based on advance subscriptions and the publishers have found the present demand so far below expectations that an immediate investment of 300,000,000 marks would be required if the complete work was published. This encyclopedia, always has been widely used in Germany, gracing the shelves of many humble homes and even of small restaurants, where it often serves to settle arguments over beer.

LEPROSY TREATMENT REDUCES DEATH RATE

Tokio, Oct. 22.—The future of the leper is now bright and the disease being much less contagious than is generally supposed, a judicious system of segregation, with the present methods of treatment, is sending the menace, according to Mr. Mackenzie, head of the Fusan asylum. The mission to lepers has three asylums in Korea. One of these, nine patients have been discharged with no trace of the disease left," said Mr. Mackenzie. "Before the special treatment was begun in the Fusan asylum, the yearly death rate always ran above 25 per cent. For the last year it stands at 2 1/2 per cent, but as half the death resulted from typhoid it may be said—that the death rate from normal causes was but 1 1/4 per cent at the present time."

The government contemplates the erection of a large national asylum outside of Tokio for the accommodation of lepers, of whom there are about 16,000 in Japan.

SURPRISES FEATURED GRIDIRON CONTESTS OF MOUNTAIN TEAMS

Denver, Oct. 22.—Surprises featured the three gridiron clashes in the Rocky Mountain conference Saturday. While the title aspirations of the Colorado Aggies, the Colorado Miners gained considerably in the estimation of conference dopsters by their 19 to 0 defeat of the Utah Aggies eleven. Utah University's invasion of Colorado, in which she nosed out Colorado University 2 to 0 in a game which was finished in a rain, was the closest approach to the outcome of the day's contests. With New Mexico, Brigham Young, Wyoming, Colorado University and the Utah Aggies virtually eliminated from the race for the championship by virtue of defeats already this season, Denver University, Mines, Utah U., Colorado College are still in the running. The Miners play Brigham Young University Wednesday before completing their invasion of the territory. If they are successful in defeating Brigham Young they will return to Denver strong favorite in the conference.

SANTA FE FEEDING BUT 200 MEN AT THE SHOPS HERE

Several divisions points on the Santa Fe report that conditions in the railway shops have so nearly approached a normal that the railway has ceased to furnish meals to the workers. This is the case in Emporia, Kansas, where, reports state, the men have secured boarding places in the city, or have secured houses and brought their families to live with them. In Albuquerque, where the Santa Fe formerly fed over 600 men three times a day, only about 200 are now being fed at the company's dining hall, at was stated yesterday by Santa Fe officials. At La Junta, where a large dining hall was erected, the number being fed has been cut down also.

COORS AND WOOD TO GIVE ADDRESSES FOR THE BUSINESS WOMEN

At the dinner of the Business and Professional Women's club at the Alvarado hotel tonight, Henry G. Coors will speak for the democrats, and Francis E. Wood for the republicans. The club has invited these men to speak, as it wishes to get the viewpoint of both of the political parties.

Two girls, believed to be Frances McCrory and Edna Coffin, who disappeared from Santa Fe several days ago, are being held at C. W. Matthews, probate officer of Riverside county, California, according to a report reaching here yesterday. Messages were received in Santa Fe Saturday from Mr. Matthews.

The messages were sent to "Frank Meyer, 227 San Francisco street," and "William Meyer, Lopez apartments, Santa Fe." The message to Frank Meyer said: "Your daughter Marian is in custody here, hiking across country with Ruth, her cousin. Will hold for advice from you."

The message to William Meyer stated that his daughter Ruth and cousin Marian were seen hiking and taken into custody. Efforts of the telegraph officials to find either a Frank or a William Meyer were unavailing, and it was decided to try William McCrory, who formerly resided in the Lopez apartments on Johnson street, Santa Fe. "I think these are the girls," said Mr. McCrory when he accepted the telegrams. "They have probably changed their names and are calling each other 'cousins'."

Mr. McCrory sent the following telegram to Probation Officer Matthews:

"Replying your wire think girls are my daughter, Frances McCrory, aged 13 years, 5 feet tall, brown hair and eyes, full face, and her friend, Edna Coffin, aged 12 years, bobbed hair, also about 5 feet tall, each weighing about 100 pounds."

"Girls left Santa Fe mysteriously Friday night, October 6. Please hold both girls and wire whether description tallies. Am mailing photo of Frances."

Hiked and Motored. The girls are thought to have hiked and motored into California, following the plan popular with adventurous youths after the war of seeing America by begging rides from motorists and truck drivers.

The only information concerning the girls' whereabouts obtained until today, was the report that a girl resembling Frances had been seen walking across the Barajas bridge here on October 7, and it was stated she had told some Albuquerque school friends: "I am going to walk until my shoes give out."

CATTLE SHIPPED BY TRAINLOADS FROM
SIERRA COUNTY RANGE

Range conditions were never worse in Sierra county, according to Deputy Sheriff Charles Banghart, who returned last night from an overland trip to Hot Springs. Many cattle are being shipped out. Ten trainloads will go out this week, the officer was informed. The cattle are being shipped to Bakersfield, Calif., and the owners are taking advantage of the reduced railway rates recently given. The cattle are in fair shape for shipment, but in ten days or two weeks would be so weakened after the long drought, that it would be impossible to ship them. The country is as dry as powder and big clouds of dust obscure the road for auto travelers.

STATE TO PRESS NEW INVESTIGATION OF MYSTERY OF HALL-MILLS MURDER

Left to right, Charlotte Mills and her attorney, Florence North, whose pleas for state aid in solving the mysterious murder of her mother Eleanor Mills, has been answered by Governor Edwards.

After repeated requests for state assistance by Charlotte Mills, daughter of the murdered Mrs. Eleanor Mills, and her attorney, Florence North, Attorney General Thomas McCran has assumed charge of the investigation of the Hall-Mills murder near New Brunswick, N. J. The case has baffled prosecutors of two counties.

BANK CLERK AND COMPANION KEEP STOLID SILENCE

Mitchell and Weinberg, Brought Back on Robbery Charge, Refuse to Discuss Case; Trial Today

Bringing with them O. H. Mitchell, charged with the theft of a large sum from the First National bank of Albuquerque, by which he was employed as a clerk until his disappearance last Thursday night, and F. J. Weinberg, against whom a warrant has been issued charging him with being accessory to the theft, Deputy Sheriff Charles Banghart and Fred Fornoff returned last night from an overland trip to Hot Springs, N. M.

Mitchell and Weinberg were placed in the county jail. They probably will have a preliminary hearing today in the court of Justice George Roddy.

Mitchell, when questioned by the officers, refused to discuss the charges against him, and Weinberg said he would say nothing about the case until he had employed an attorney.

Banghart said last night that "Raymond" found in the possession of Mitchell, amounting to about $10,000, had been taken from the former bank clerk by Deputy Sheriff Tafors of Sierra county, who captured the two men Friday near Hot Springs and had been deposited in a Hot Springs bank. The amount Mitchell is alleged to have taken is $12,500.

The Nash roadster purchased by Mitchell Thursday from the Hoover Motor company, and in which he and Weinberg were riding when they were arrested, was brought back by the officers. The French car company, which said Friday that Mitchell had paid $1,410 in cash for the car.

FRENCH ARMED BY EXODUS OF REFUGEES

Adrianople, Oct. 22.—The exodus of refugees throughout the territory occupied by French detachments has shown increased disorder in the past twenty-four hours. The moving columns are repeatedly blocked by the frantic efforts of the refugees to accelerate the pace as well as by new columns arriving from side roads or across the fields.

The situation has seriously alarmed the French high command, which has only 2,500 troops left in the area. The French charge the Greeks with being the primary cause of the panic among the refugees, alleging that the Greek command issued orders to ten days, a period which is now drawing to a close.

SHOP WORKER IS SHOT; A STRIKER HELD TO BLAME

Police Looking for Gregorio Garcia; Celso Carter Recovering from a Wound in Abdomen

Police last night were looking for Gregorio Garcia, who is said to have shot Celso Carter in the abdomen yesterday morning in front of Carter's home in the 1300 block on South Broadway. Carter is employed by the Santa Fe shops. Garcia is a former shop employee, who went on strike on July 1.

Carter was not badly hurt. His wound, which consists of a shallow furrow across his abdomen that did not penetrate the abdominal wall, was treated at the Santa Fe hospital, after which he went to his home.

Garcia ran, after the shooting, and has not been caught. His home is at 1601 John street.

Carter's story is as follows: Carter was in front of his home when Garcia came up and called him a scab. A fight occurred, in which Garcia got the worst of it, and drew a .32 caliber, in which he shot Carter in the abdomen.

Carter then seized the weapon and hit Garcia over the head with it several times. Garcia broke loose and ran away.

TEXAS MINERS A FORMIDABLE NUT FOR THE LOBOS

Defeat the Lower Valley Farmers Eleven by Score of 40 to 0; Play Here Saturday

By trimming the much-touted Aggies football eleven to the tune of 40 to 0 in a game that was cut short twenty minutes on account of darkness, the Texas Miners demonstrated Saturday that their gridiron prowess is not to be sneezed at, and that they are quite likely to prove worthy opponents, both for the Lobos in next Saturday's game here, and for the New Mexico Aggies, who take the Miners on in El Paso on Armistice day.

The Miners scored at will against the heavier lower valley aggregation, and kept the ball in their own possession more than three-fourths of the time, stopping the Farmers for a loss on nearly every run attempted. The Ore Diggers' backfield made an especially brilliant showing, with Ragsdale, Binford, and Bennett starring, and only one gathering disk prevented this trio from going through the Farmers for many more touchdowns.

Gene Fromme, writing in the El Paso Times, says that the defensive and offensive play displayed in Saturday's game was the best ever shown by the Miners in their whole football history. Coach Johnson is preparing his Lobos for a real test of their strength when they meet the Ore Diggers on varsity field Saturday.
