EX-PREMIER OF ENGLAND BEGINS CAMPAIGN WITH LONDON SPEECH

Says Conservatives' Attack Upon the Late Government Leaves No Course But to 'Spread the War.'

GAUNTLET IS THROWN DOWN TO OPPONENTS

He Counsels Calmness and Courage; Asserts the Interests of the Country Must Come First.

London, Oct. 25.—Former Prime Minister Lloyd George began his campaign in London today with a stirring speech before an enthusiastic meeting of the coalition liberal members of parliament, throwing down the gauntlet to the conservatives, who attack upon the late government, he declared, left no alternative but to "spread the war."

The little Welshman stood by his Manchester speech of last Saturday, reiterating his intention to support any party or government pursuing a policy of peace, economy and steady progress, neither revolutionary nor reactionary.

"We are confronted," said Mr. Lloyd George, "with a very important decision affecting not merely the future of these islands and those who support them in the country, but a decision which affects the interests of the country itself. That is a more important matter for us all."

Now Chapter Opened.
"One chapter in the history of the politics of this country is for the moment closed. A new one is opened. What is printed on that page will depend largely on the attitude we adopt."

He counsels calmness and courage and asserted the interests of the country must come first.

"I have seen parties destroyed by personal resentments," continued the former premier. "I have seen parties rendered impotent by personal resentment. I have seen their judgment deflected, and for this reason they are not making the contribution they ought to the well being of the people, for whose prosperity we are deeply concerned."

"We will not make a mistake, whatever happens. We will consider the land to which we are deeply attached first. Its interests must be deepest in our hearts. Its interests must be highest in our concern. Great Britain first; any party, even our own, second and even last."

"Now that is our policy. We have stood for national unity, that is, unity of all men, all creeds, parties and sections for the purpose, first of all, of winning the war, and afterwards, of making the country from its after-war difficulties."

"Was Not Their Fault."
"It was not their fault," declared Mr. Lloyd George to his hearers. "If a party faction had arisen and unity had been for the moment broken. The war had been won and the country was settling down to its normal life, it is the country that would have been established and successful, grappling with financial difficulties was being accomplished."

"Our credit was built up in a way that amazed the whole world," continued Mr. Lloyd George. "Trade was beginning to turn, unemployment was going down. In fact, success was becoming so manifest that some people thought it time to seize the profits."

"I can understand," he continued, "a revolt of under-privileged people. I can also understand the reasons indicated why the wisest heads of the party did not join in the revolt."

"The present may look prosperous or promising. The future is dark and difficult, and the wisest men hesitated, were reluctant, apart from the fact that, as Lord Balfour said, there are certain things gentlemen don't do."

"But what I cannot understand is why the majority party took that line," said Mr. Lloyd George, laying emphasis upon these words.

"It is vital that we should not allow our view of the eastern transactions to weigh against the country's interests. It is the thing that matters at the beginning, at the end and all the time."

He expressed doubt as to whether the conservatives alone could defend the fabric of the constitution and the principles of the country for which millions had died.

"We are here," he said, "to see how the situation which has been brought about by indirect, impulsive, thoughtless men shall be so handled so that Great Britain shall not come to any harm by their deeds."

The ex-premier credited the coalition with settling the trouble between Turkey and Greece "by strong and firm action, which showed Great Britain meant to have peace on terms honorable to our country and which would be one of security for the world."

BELIEVE ARREST IS IMMINENT IN JERSEY SLAYING

Alleged Eye Witness of the Hall-Mills Killing Names a Woman Member of the Murder Party.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 25. (By the Associated Press).—Mrs. Jane Gibson, alleged eye witness of the Hall-Mills murder, signed a statement today giving the name of a woman who, she declared, was one of the slaying party and has been immediately circulated that the arrest of the woman—always prominent among those under investigation—was imminent.

Walter A. Mott, special prosecutor in charge of the case, was quoted to the effect that there might be an arrest within an hour. But tonight Mr. Mott added to his quoted utterance a phrase which he says he used in the first instance—"Or in two weeks."

He intimated, although he would not say definitely, that no arrest would be made until the case has been laid before the Somers county grand jury and an indictment—or indictments—returned. He declined to say when he would go before that body.

While it was true, Mr. Mott said, that Mrs. Gibson, farmer and pig raiser, had signed a statement today, that document did not contain anything she had not already told the authorities, and he could see no need at present for an immediate arrest. He declared, however, that he was ready to arrest one or several arrests without waiting for grand jury action if circumstances made haste advisable.

Mr. Mott expressed skepticism as to Mrs. Gibson's identification in her statement of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall—victim of the slaying—because that identification was made on the strength of a photograph. Mrs. Gibson never had seen the victim before the night of the shooting, he said.

Declines to Answer.
Asked whether Mrs. Gibson ever before had seen the woman she identified as being present at the shooting and who, she declared, had screamed the name of a man long under suspicion, he declined to answer.

As soon as Mrs. Gibson's statement had been obtained, Detective Mason took it to Mr. Mott at Newark, while Colonel Hawthorne, chief of the state police, started about the same time for the Manhattan police headquarters. What his mission was could not be learned.

However, the theory had been advanced that persons who had reason to be jealous of the relations of the ministers and Mrs. Mills had hired New York gunmen to do the actual slaying.

PIONEER SHOTS HIMSELF.
Anchorage, Alaska, Oct. 25.—W. J. Bishop, 33 years old, a native of Texas, who had served a half century in the United States army, shot himself dead here. He was a member of the pioneers of Alaska.

CELEBRATION BY NATION OF NAVY DAY GIVEN O. K.

President Harding Approves the Plan, in a Letter to Secretary Denby, for Friday, October 27.

Washington, Oct. 25.—President Harding's approval of the celebration by the nation of Navy day, on Friday, October 27, in commemoration of past and present services of the navy, from our earliest national beginning the navy has always been, and deserved to be, an object of special pride to the American people. Its record is indeed one to inspire such sentiments and I am very sure that such a commemoration as is planned will be a timely reminder.

It is well for us to have in mind that under a program of lessening navy armaments, there is greater reason for maintaining the highest efficiency, fitness and morale in this branch of the national defensive service. I know how earnestly the navy personnel is devoted to this ideal and want you to be assured of my hearty concurrence.

Yours sincerely,
(Signed)
"WARREN G. HARDING."

Continued today on the Navy day celebration, Secretary Hughes declared it would be upon a basis of relative naval strength that "we enter in future conferences to make agreements for limitation, and it would be folly to undermine our position."

EASTERN ROADS ASKED TO RUSH CARS TO WEST

Step Is Taken to Relieve the Shortage in Agricultural and Stock Raising Territory in the West.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Railroads in the eastern half of the United States were called upon today by the car service division of the American Railway association, to return at once to roads in the western half of the country all box cars on their lines which belong to the western carriers.

The step has been taken to relieve car shortage which has been occasioning hardships in the western agricultural and stock raising territory.

The order of the service division, which is the organization through which railroads co-operate in the interchange of equipment, was declared to be the most drastic ever put into effect.

In defining the territory affected the car service division ordered all box cars belonging to western roads now on eastern lines at points east of Chicago, Peoria and St. Louis, and west of Grand Rapids, Detroit, Toledo, Cleveland, Youngstown, Wheeling and Pittsburgh sent to their home lines without even being held for reloading. In territory further east than the Grand Rapids-Pittsburgh line, eastern roads are permitted to load the western box cars on their lines provided loads destined for the west are available, but must move them west empty if loads are not immediately available.

The action is expected to relieve congestion markedly.

PERMISSION GRANTED TO STAGE FIGHTS IS REVOKED BY COUNCIL

Buenos Aires, Oct. 25 by the Associated Press.—After a lengthy debate, the city council revoked the special permission granted to the promoters of a boxing exhibition in this city.

The opposition came from socialist members. It was argued that granting a permit to the promoters was a public prize fight. They referred to the recent bout between Firpo and Jim Tracy, the Australian heavyweight.

MRS. PHILLIPS IS UNMOVED AS TRIAL PROCEEDS

Defendant in the 'Hammer Murder' Case Is Calm as Witnesses Tell of Finding Mrs. Meadows's Body.

Los Angeles, Oct. 25.—The finding of the body of Mrs. Meadows and details of its unaltered condition as shown by photographs, were put before the jury today as the first testimony of the prosecution in the trial of Mrs. Clara Phillips, former chorus girl, and defendant in what is known as the "hammer murder" case.

Without emotion, Mrs. Phillips sat beside her attorney, listened to descriptions of the results of a beating administered to Mrs. Meadows that caused death, and even took a calm, though quick glance at pictures of the slain woman's body.

Identifies Pictures.
Fred A. Tremaine, father of Mrs. Meadows, was the first witness. He told the jury that she was 29 years of age, and had been a widow six months prior to her death. He identified pictures of his daughter taken both during her life and as he saw her in the morgue. On cross examination he said she had lived alone since June.

Mrs. Fred Weitz told of finding the body of Mrs. Meadows late in the afternoon of July 12 while driving on a mountain road at the edge of the city. She identified pictures of the body. Over objection of the defense, the pictures were introduced in evidence and shown to the jury.

Police officers, who answered the telephone call of Mrs. Weitz, recited their finding of the body lying on a mountain road at the edge of the city. She identified pictures of the body. Over objection of the defense, the pictures were introduced in evidence and shown to the jury.

Only Known Eye Witness.
The hammer with which Mrs. Phillips is charged with having beaten Mrs. Meadows to death was introduced in evidence today and carried to the scene just as it was wrapped and tied in the case, according to Mrs. Peggie Coffey, another former chorus girl, and a friend of the defendant. She is the only known eye witness to the slaying.

F. L. James, a detective sergeant, who viewed the body at Montecito Drive, was on the witness stand when court adjourned.

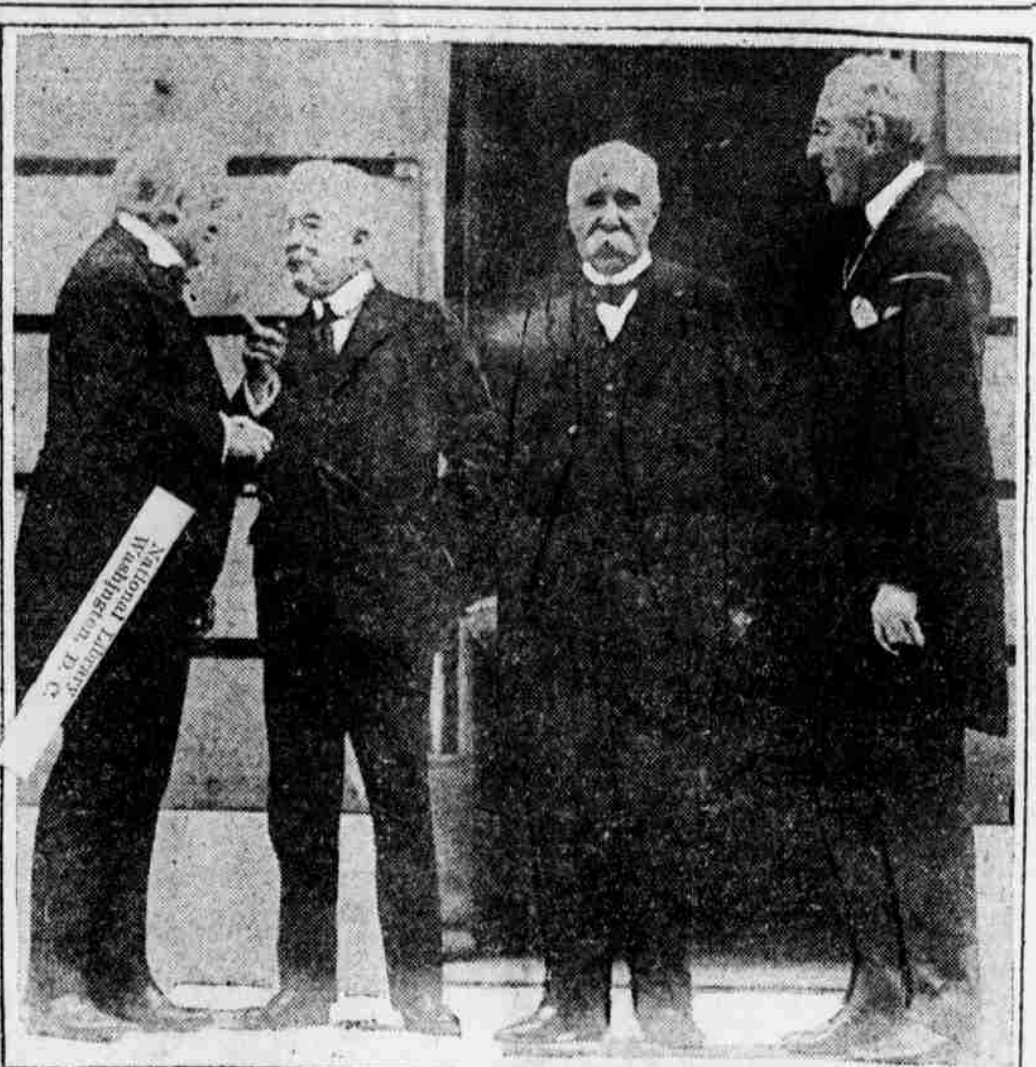

ARMED AND MOUNTED MEN CROSSED INTO U. S. NEAR COLUMBUS

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 25.—Twenty-five armed and mounted men crossed the border into Mexico near Columbus, N. M., Tuesday night, according to a report received by the U. S. army.

The commander of the garrison at Casas Grandes and home guards in that vicinity have been instructed to watch for the band. At a late hour the colonel had not been advised whether the trail had been picked up or in what direction they are supposed to be moving.

Department of justice agents in El Paso said all former revolutionary leaders in this city were purged for early last night, with one exception.

BUSINESS WITH FEW EXCEPTIONS ON THE UPGRADE

Conditions in Most Countries the World Over Are Improving, Klein Tells Export Association.

New York, Oct. 25.—Business in Europe, Latin-America and the Far East is steadily on the upgrade, and with few exceptions, is better than it has been at any time since 1920, Japan is putting herself out of the slough of economic depression and business in China is getting better.

Conditions almost everywhere show decided improvement," Dr. Klein declared. "In the Orient, conditions are better now than they have been at any time since 1920, Japan is putting herself out of the slough of economic depression and business in China is getting better."

China's recovery, he added, would be aided as the foreign demand for that country's products improved and the strain on Chinese production power lessened. Australian and New Zealand wool and wheat accumulations are being liquidated at favorable prices and imports are increasing, he asserted.

"Business is picking up in western Europe at a rate varying in different countries," Klein said. "Deflation has run its course, goods have been reduced and merchants have taken their losses. Labor has taken its cut and has shown a pronounced tendency to co-operate. Production, and hence economic development, is increasing throughout the entire area."

"Since 1921 the balance of trade in the United Kingdom has shown an astonishing recovery towards its normal status; that of France is actually showing an excess of exports over imports, while Italy has shown a remarkable degree of recovery. Germany's financial and monetary upheaval, has of course, continued to retard the stabilization of her trade position."

Eastern Europe, apart from Russia, is in general, recovering gradually from the ravages of war and should offer increasing opportunities for American trade and investments.

"At present the disturbed political condition in a large part of eastern Europe seriously handicaps the American exporters to put forth all possible effort to hold their position in this field as soon as conditions become more stable."

American trade with Latin-America countries for the first eight months of the present year was eight per cent higher than for the same period of the fiscal year 1921-22.

"The sound banking condition of Argentina, which is making most rapid progress back to better times of all the Latin-American countries, has been a strong contributory factor in the condition. An amazing change for the better has been seen in Chile during the last few months, due principally to the movement of nitrates."

Cuba's Sugar Crop.
"Sales of the sugar crop in Cuba at prices which permitted a profit has encouraged a revival of purchasing throughout the island. The large stocks of sugar in Havana have been very materially reduced by re-exportation and local consumption. The first gleam of optimism in the Cuban market was evident during September, due largely to congressional action on the de la Huerta-Lamont agreement."

6,962,034 BALES OF COTTON GINNED PRIOR TO OCT. 18 IN U. S.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Cotton ginned prior to October 18 amounted to 6,962,034 running bales, counting 128,487 running bales and 1,239 bales of sea island. To this date in 1920, ginnings were 5,754,582 running bales, counting 140,939 running bales and 354 bales of sea island.

Ginnings prior to October 18 this year and last year by states were in part as follows:
Alabama, 1,028 and 8,679.
California, 4,722 and 3,923.
Texas, 2,637,335 and 1,738,553.

Revised statistics on ginnings prior to September 25 were announced as 2,363,796 bales. The number of ginnings operated to that date was 12,908.

MADDOO IS ILL AND IS FORCED TO CANCEL HIS SPEAKING DATES

Dodge City, Kan., Oct. 25.—William G. Maddoo, former secretary of the treasury, was unable to deliver his scheduled addresses here today because of illness. Maddoo's address at Syracuse, Kan., this afternoon also was cancelled upon the advice of his physician, who ordered complete rest.

The former secretary of the treasury became suddenly ill last night after leaving Wichita. Mr. Maddoo will not make another address in the interest of the democratic campaign until he reaches Salt Lake City, and then only with the consent of his physician, he said today.

Mr. Maddoo seemed somewhat improved when his train reached here and he continued his journey to Salt Lake via Denver. His illness was caused by a stomach disorder.

SAYS WORLD IS BEING REDUCED TO BANKRUPTCY BY ITS LEADERS

People Should Insist That Statesmen Change Their Political and Economic Policies, Says Briton.

STRONGEST NATIONS ABROAD FACE RUIN

Change of Policy That Will Avert Catastrophe Toward Which the World Is Moving, Is Needed.

New York, Oct. 25.—Instances by the people of all nations that statesmen change their political and economic policies is the only means of averting an approaching world catastrophe, Sir George Paish, English economist and former advisor to the British treasury, said tonight in an address prepared for the thirteenth annual convention of the American Manufacturers' Export association.

"The statesmen of all nations," he declared, "are engaged in a common effort to prevent the nations from meeting their obligation to each other and thus reducing the whole world to bankruptcy. Already the policy of the statesmen of Europe is fast bringing the strongest nations of Europe to ruin and before long the statesmen of the other nations of the world, if permitted to do so, will bring their countries into a similar condition."

Disastrous Consequences.
"It is the greatest danger of our time," he said, "that the business men and peoples of all nations should seek to understand and to realize the disastrous consequences that would ensue if the present policies of those responsible for national and international affairs, and should insist upon such change of policy that will avert the catastrophe toward which the entire world now is moving with ever-increasing rapidity."

Sir George charged that the United States was contributing to the general economic disaster by its policy of refusing to accept payment for any of the obligations due her in any medium of exchange other than gold. Declaring that he was not criticizing the United States, which, he added, had done during the war, "and until recently" everything the civilized nations could expect of her, he said:

"A creditor cannot refuse to take payment of its debts in the goods or services which the debtor nation can supply directly or indirectly. It is the duty of the American government to prevent the import of goods and produce by erecting tariff or other barriers for the purpose of keeping out the goods of other nations is action which I am convinced neither they nor the American people have fully considered."

Placing Gold in the Treasury.
"By placing gold in the treasury instead of in the banks, where it would be available for trade purposes, the American government is preventing the beneficial effect of gold exports."

The gold, he said, "might just as well be consigned back to the reefs from which it was extracted." The American government, he declared, did not differ from the action of the European nations in erecting tariff barriers to the import of goods from the nations indebted to them either for loans or for reparations.

"Bungled Their Tasks."
Sir George said that the men responsible for the settlement of international problems had bungled their tasks and that it was up to the business men of the world to study the problems for themselves.

"Turning to post-war conditions, Sir George showed that the debts then created contributed to destroy productive power, reduce selling and buying power. The borrowing nations, and especially Germany, were not able to sell as much."

The present situation is complicated, he said, by the disappearance of the Russian market, the practical disappearance of Germany as a factor in reconstruction because of the enormous reparations debt fixed on her. Another dangerous factor, he declared, was the fact that nations to whom money is owed refuse to accept payment in the goods of the borrowing nations.

"In the debtor nations," Sir George said, "I do not include Great Britain. Great Britain is still the greatest creditor nation in the world."

The suggestion has been made with regard to Great Britain, which owes to the United States government a debt of about a thousand millions sterling, that payment should be made in the present foreign investments of Great Britain, not inter-allied securities, but in pre-war securities.

"This could be done," Great Britain could give to the United States in payment of her debt, a thousand millions sterling of Canadian, Argentine, Australian, Indian, South African, or other securities, and the debt could be paid off."

Would Not Solve Problem.
"But this would not solve the problem. It would definitely deliver Great Britain from its obligations, but it would not make any essential change in the situation."

"America does not need to purchase the products of the countries in which Great Britain placed so much of her pre-war savings, and more than she needs the products of Great Britain. Indeed she needs less. The same situation is equally true of Argentina."

It is clear that whatever method of Great Britain to America, the difficulties will remain until America is willing to accept payment either in goods or services for the interest and principal due her."

GREAT BRITAIN MUST PAY U. S. ALL HER DEBTS

This Declaration Is Made by Lloyd George, Former Premier, in an Address to Coalition Liberals.

London, Oct. 25.—(By the Associated Press).—"I will support any party and any government that pursues a policy of peace, economy and steady progress, neither revolutionary nor reactionary, and does it efficiently." Former Premier Lloyd George told the coalition liberal members of parliament at a meeting this morning. In another part of his speech, he made the declaration:

"Great Britain must pay America all her debts."

Referring to the coalition government, which he had headed, he said:

"We have stood for national unity—for unity of the men of all creeds, parties and sects. They were the winners of the war and afterwards extracting the country out of its after-war difficulties. It was our policy then and it is our policy now."

Referring to the conservatives who broke away from the coalition and by their defeat of Austen Chamberlain as conservative leader brought about the accession of Andrew Bonar Law to the premiership, he said:

"I can understand the revolt of the under secretaries. They were the subalterns who would like to be captains, and captains who would like to be made colonels or full generals."

At another point, he said:

"The country's interest is the thing that matters at the beginning, at the end and all the time. The peril is not over. Alone the conservative party cannot defend the great interests which are our common concern."

"The conservatives may win the new victory. I doubt that, but, supposing they do, that is not the end of the war between the two great conflicting ideas of the organization of society. Our business is to see that his blunder shall not do harm to our country."

Unity of action between Great Britain and the United States was urged by Mr. Lloyd George in his speech.

Is For the League.

"I am for the league of nations," he said, "but until you get the United States and all the great nations of Europe, as well as the small, the league will be crippled and cannot serve its full purpose. America and Great Britain must work together."

On the question of German reparations, he said:

"We should not attempt to impose upon Germany any payment which is beyond her capacity. What is within her capacity she ought to pay."

He expressed himself with some definiteness as regards the "question of Russia." "I am strongly in favor of the renewal of a pact with Russia," he declared.

Foreign Relations.

Dealing with Great Britain's foreign relations in general, he said:

"It is said Great Britain is not going to extend her responsibilities. But you must not be afraid of your responsibilities. The policy of Great Britain must be peace-loving but unafraid. If I stand alone, I will resist any departure from it."

"I will never let Great Britain down. I will not stand by or for any man who does. Whatever government is in power, we must not offer it any anxious opposition. There must be no nagging criticism; there must be fair play."

"We are told that the new government is a government of tranquility. In what respect does a policy of tranquility differ from ours? If tranquility means any change from the existing conditions of things then it is bad."

"We have made peace in Europe; we have made peace in the Near East. What does the new policy mean? It is no use using words unless they mean something."

"I am all for co-operation with the allies, but Great Britain has her own mission in the world and she must stand by it."

In dealing with home affairs, Mr. Lloyd George declared the first purpose of any government is to do everything to improve trade.

Economy Is Essential.

"Strenuous economy is essential," he added, "and I ask that the new chancellor of the exchequer shall pursue the policy of the old. McKenna says things are worse. I know Mr. McKenna and quote frankly the man most responsible for the liberal division in 1915."

"Mr. McKenna was always denouncing me because from profound conviction I thought it essential there should be no change in the direction of the war."

"You must have industrial co-operation in this country," he said, "continuing to deal with home questions. Capital and labor must work together."

"I also should like to see a policy which would encourage more people to devote their energy to the cultivation of the soil."

"Although I am against artificial stimulants to trade, there is perfectly legitimate help you can give in order to give it a little lift. We have the experiment of the trade facilities act, it being a great success."

Speaking of the break up of the coalition forces by the vote of the conservatives last week, he declared there had been no difference of policy or principle within the government before the break up.

"There has been disappointment that at Leeds I did not ring out a great slogan. I had no slogan. It was hardly worth while breaking up a great national combination in order to substitute Lord Salisbury for Lord Balfour as president of the council."

Mr. Lloyd George later in his speech told the coalition liberals that he was convinced their numbers were by no means small.

Major coalition leaders.

"My short journey I have taken recently in the country," he said, "indicate to me that there are a great many coalition liberals."

The independent liberals, he said, were still contenting themselves still less with principles than with plagues. They are not concerning themselves with what happens to liberalism, but with the defeat of coalition liberalism.

"If 'die hard' candidates are put up to attack coalition liberals then we shall have no alternative but to spread the word," he declared. "If we fall we fall fighting. If the conservatives mean to smash up national unity all around we will stand for it all around."

"In the next parliament," continued Mr. Lloyd George, "we will see that whoever wins there shall be no detriment to the national interest from revolutionary or reactionary measures."

"I don't say that Mr. Bonar Law is a reactionary but there is the same danger with the conservatives as with the labor party. They have a fantastic fall."

"Lord Curzon has great qualities but I have never regarded him as a great bulwark against reaction or against anything else."

England's Ex-Premier
BEGINS HIS CAMPAIGN
WITH LONDON SPEECH

On the question of reparations Mr. Lloyd George said there should be no attempt to impose on Germany any payment beyond her capacity.

"And what is within her capacity," he added, "she should pay."

"I do not stand for a policy that would say Greece, Britain must pay America all her debt, but that she must exact nothing from Germany, from France or from anybody else."

Mr. Lloyd George said he had never changed his mind regarding the league of nations and he favored the enrollment of all the European countries as its members.

Wants United States to Join.

"I am in favor," he declared, "of making every reasonable concession in order to induce the United States to associate itself with this great body if it can be accomplished. For until you get all the nations of Europe in (and I still think you can get the United States there) the league of nations will be crippled. Working with the United States ought to be one of the chief purposes of any government."

England's Ex-Premier
BEGINS HIS CAMPAIGN

On the question of reparations Mr. Lloyd George said there should be no attempt to impose on Germany any payment beyond her capacity.

"And what is within her capacity," he added, "she should pay."

"I do not stand for a policy that would say Greece, Britain must pay America all her debt, but that she must exact nothing from Germany, from France or from anybody else."

Mr. Lloyd George said he had never changed his mind regarding the league of nations and he favored the enrollment of all the European countries as its members.

Wants United States to Join.

"I am in favor," he declared, "of making every reasonable concession in order to induce the United States to associate itself with this great body if it can be accomplished. For until you get all the nations of Europe in (and I still think you can get the United States there) the league of nations will be crippled. Working with the United States ought to be one of the chief purposes of any government."

PAVING, WATER, SEWAGE PLANT PROVIDED FOR

City to Build a Reservoir With Its Own Engineering Force; Contracts for Street Work.

Municipal improvements costing in the neighborhood of $260,000 will be under way in the city of Albuquerque within less than 30 days.

The city, under the direction of City Manager B. H. Calkins and City Engineer Frank Kimball, will begin within a few days the construction of a 2,500,000 gallon reservoir north and east of University Heights. A bond issue of $50,000 was voted for this improvement, but after receiving bids, the city commission came to the conclusion last night that the municipality, with its own men and equipment, can build the reservoir at less than the proposals submitted by construction companies.

French Harvey and Peabody, a Santa Fe company, headed by former State Engineer James A. French, was awarded the contract for the construction of a sewage disposal plant south of the city near the Rio Grande river, for $57,983.57. A bond issue voted last spring provides $115,000 for the construction of the works.

The New Mexico Construction company, an Albuquerque corporation, was awarded the contract for a large paving program, a large part of which is to be finished before cold weather, at a cost of $152,963.70. The New Mexico company's bid was the lowest of five submitted by contractors of New Mexico, Colorado, and Texas. The price submitted was the lowest the city has been offered since pre-war days, and was 29 cents lower per square yard than the last paving contract, made a few months ago. The curb and gutter is 13 cents less per hundred foot than the last contract price.

The type of paving to be used is a one and one-half inch bitulith surface on a four-inch concrete base, at a cost of $2.50 per square yard. In case the city decides to have the certificates issued at six percent instead of seven percent, an additional charge of four percent will be made, and a four percent deduction will be made for cash payments. This will result in a saving on the cost to property owners in the 11-year period the certificates will run.

The streets to be paved are as follows:

- West Coal avenue, from the west line of Fourth street to the east line of Seventh street.
- West Silver avenue, from the west line of Third street to the east line of Tenth street.
- West Lead avenue, from the west line of Second street to the east line of Eighth street.
- South Eighth street, from the south line of Central avenue to the north line of Silver avenue.
- South Tenth street, from the south line of Central avenue to the south line of Gold avenue.
- West Gold avenue, from the east line of Ninth street to the east line of Tenth street.
- Park avenue, from the east line of Ninth street to the east line of Tenth street.
- North Tenth street, from the north line of Marquette avenue to the north line of Tenth street.

QUICK RELIEF FROM CONSTIPATION

Get Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

That is the joyful cry of thousands since Dr. Edwards produced Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel. Dr. Edwards, a practicing physician for 17 years and calomel's old-time enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets while treating patients for chronic constipation and torpid livers.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do not contain calomel, but a healing, soothing vegetable laxative.

No griping is the "keynote" of these little sugar-coated, olive-colored tablets. They cause the bowels and liver to act normally. They never force them to unnatural action.

If you have a "dark brown mouth," bad breath, a dull, tired feeling—sick headache—torpid liver—constipation, you'll find quick, sure and pleasant results from one or two of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets at bedtime.

Thousands take them every night just to keep right. Try them. 15c and 30c.

Home-made, but Has No Equal for Coughs

Makes a family supply of really dependable cough medicine. Easily prepared, and costs about 2¢.

If you have a severe cough or chest cold accompanied with soreness, throat tickle, hoarseness, or difficult breathing, or if your child wakes up during the night with a cough and you want quick help, try this reliable old home-made cough remedy. Any drug store can supply you with 2½ ounces of Pinex. Pour this into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup. Or you can use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup instead of sugar syrup.

This recipe makes a pint of really remarkable cough remedy. It tastes good, and in spite of its low cost, it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

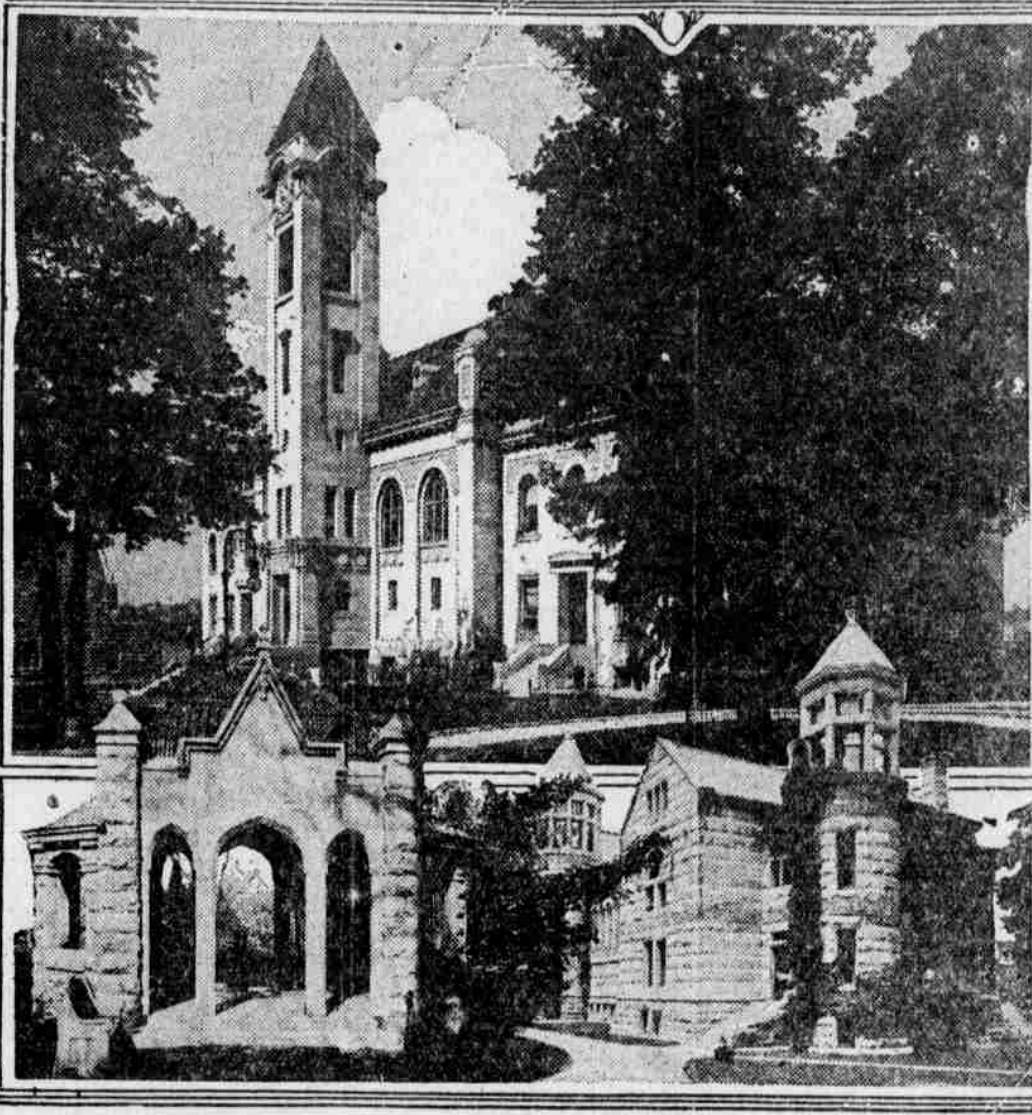

You can feel this take hold of a cough in a way that means business. It loosens and raises the phlegm, stops throat tickle and soothes and heals the irritated membranes that line the throat and bronchial tubes with such promptness, ease and certainty that it is really astonishing.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, and is probably the best known means of overcoming severe coughs, throat and chest colds.

There are many worthless imitations of this mixture. To avoid disappointment, ask for ½ ounce of Pinex with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

OLDEST STATE UNIVERSITY OF WEST RAISES GREAT FUND

Student Building, Well House and Maxwell Hall at Indiana University.

Unique among campaigns by educational institutions for war memorial funds is the average subscription of $167 from students of Indiana, oldest of the great state universities of the west, for three memorial buildings to be erected on the campus at Bloomington, Ind., long famed for classic beauty.

Within thirty hours Indiana students raised $413,000, which has since been increased by subscriptions from alumni and friends to $700,000. The memorial movement was organized by alumni in 1920, with a goal of $1,000,000, for the purpose of erecting an auditorium and men's union building to cost $500,000, a dormitory for women costing $250,000, and a stadium at $250,000. Encouraged by the large contribution of the student body, the alumni have raised the total amount to be subscribed to $1,600,000.

Indiana university contributed 2,800 soldiers in the world war and corresponding numbers in the Spanish, Civil and Mexican wars. The buildings in their memory will be constructed from Bedford limestone in the gothic style of architecture. The first units only of the dormitories and stadium will be constructed from the memorial funds. Other units will follow later.

W. A. Alexander, former dean of Swarthmore college and recently appointed librarian of Indiana university, is in charge of the memorial campaign.

MRS. GOETZ TO GO TO ILLINOIS WITH MAN ALLEGED TWICE WED

Both Mr. and Mrs. Martin Raymond Goetz will be taken back to Blue Island, Ill., according to a message received yesterday by Chief Galusha from the chief of police of that city, George J. Dieder. The woman probably is to be taken back to appear as a witness against her husband, who is charged with bigamy. This solves a problem that has confronted officers here, as they did not know what disposition to make of Mrs. Goetz, who is in a delicate condition and without funds. An officer from Blue Island is on the way here now.

RANGE SECURED IN MEXICO FOR CATTLE HERDS

Transportation of from 25,000 to 100,000 head of New Mexico cattle to ranges in Northern Chihuahua and possibly Northern Sonora, Mexico, seems practically assured at an early date as the result of the joint meeting there yesterday of the New Mexico Loan company and the New Mexico Agricultural and Livestock Loan company.

W. R. Morley of Magdalena and W. D. Murray of Silver City, who were commissioned to investigate conditions in Mexico, following a meeting of the loan company here several weeks ago, reported that leases had been taken under option on ranges in Chihuahua and Sonora, where, they said, grass is plentiful and water abundant. Negotiations now are pending with Mexico officials regarding the fixing of duties and taxes. It was said to be likely that favorable concessions in this regard may be received.

The major portion of the land considered for lease is on the Corralitos ranch, 24 miles from Columbus, N. M., and it is possible that a big shipment of cattle from the southern and western portions of this state, where drought has played havoc with the cattle industry and driven overland to the range, there is to be good water and grass along the route.

Such a cattle drive would resemble the old time drives in the pre-railroad days of the far west.

Bidding for the New Mexico cattle is said to be keen among Mexican land owners. Perhaps two or three million acres will be needed. David S. Rusk is reported to have leased 5,000,000 acres from the Mexican government, a part of a tract confiscated from the wide holdings of General Luis Terrazas. So far, the loan company officials said, none of this land has been leased by that organization. Prices for grazing leases in Mexico are expected to take a jump as soon as the New Mexico company begins signing leases, and a large number of options have been taken to avoid such a contingency.

It was announced at the meeting that Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the War Finance corporation at Washington, had received assurances from Governor Ignacio Enriquez of the state of Chihuahua that full protection will be given to American cattle placed on ranges in his state.

Those attending the meeting were: Loan agency—J. B. Herndon and A. C. Simms, Albuquerque; D. T. Hoskins, Las Vegas; Leo Baldwin, Socorro; Levi A. Hughes, Santa Fe. Loan company—Gregory Page, Gallup; W. D. Murray, Silver City; W. R. Morley, Magdalena; C. G. Mardorf, Santa Fe, and Roy McDonald, Albuquerque.

STATE READY TO GO AHEAD WITH CENTRAL AVENUE PAVING WORK

State Highway Engineer Gillett said last night that the highway department is ready to proceed at any time with the letting of contract for the East Central avenue paving. He said he had been assured by interested property owners that the necessary $15,000 would be provided for their share of the cost, and that a plan is almost perfected by which deferred payments can be made.

BE PREPARED IS GEN. PERSHING'S WARNING TO U.S.

Development of Our Military System Is Urged; Favors Maintaining an Adequate Merchant Marine.

El Paso, Tex., Oct. 25.—"We must be prepared from a military standpoint to meet any emergency which may develop. We must not allow ourselves to be caught again in that state of frightful unpreparedness in which we found ourselves in 1917," declared General John J. Pershing tonight at the Chamber of Commerce banquet given in his honor.

"We think ourselves the greatest nation on earth," General Pershing added in his plea for preparedness. "and yet, we sit idle and fail to give due consideration to those factors upon which that greatness depends." General Pershing urged the development of our military system to the point where it would be easy to collect another army should it be needed and advised that an adequate merchant marine be maintained. "We can never expect to transport troops without such a merchant marine," he declared and pointed to the deplorable condition of our merchant marine at the start of the war, when we were forced to rely upon European transport the greater part of our first million soldiers to Europe.

General Pershing sketched the condition of the United States army at the opening of the war and drew graphic pictures of the general helplessness and confusion due to unpreparedness. "The Almighty must have had hold of us with both hands to have pulled us out of that hole," he exclaimed, "and if we had spent ten cents on a thousand dollars on preparedness before that time, we might now be paying interest on a $13,000,000,000 war debt."

He also pointed out that an unreasonable number of men was not being asked for the army. "We do not want an army to oppress anybody," he explained, "but we do want one large enough to preserve peace and order."

Speaking of the internal trouble, General Pershing said: "To what are we coming when honest men seeking to earn an honest living are prevented from earning it by any organization—I don't give a damn what that organization is!" He declared that the women have the control of the situation and urged them to rise up and put an end to such troubles, intimating that they should help in the purification of politics.

"If we allow professional politicians and office seekers to make their appeal to the unthinking of our people while the ablest men sit and do nothing, we can only hope to degenerate."

BATTING SLUMP OF STATZ SAVED HIS CLUB MONEY

Cubs Will Not Have to Pay $10,000, as Agreed: His Work at St. Louis Felt Short of the .300 Average.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Failure of Arnold Stutz, star outfielder of the Chicago Nationals, to keep up his hitting in the last four games of the 1922 season, saved his club $10,000, it was revealed today. The Chicago club had agreed to pay the Los Angeles club of the Pacific Coast League this amount in addition to the cash and players already given for Stutz if the star should finish the season with a batting average of .300 or better. Stutz, however, knew nothing of this agreement.

Stutz finished the season with an average of .297 according to official figures compiled here. Four days before the season closed the little outfielder was traveling along with a mark of .301. In his last four games, he made only three hits in 16 times at bat. Big Jeff Pfeffer, of the St. Louis Cardinals, was the hoodoo that stood between Stutz and the coveted mark. Pfeffer went to the hill in the first game of the far west series between the St. Louis and Chicago clubs here on September 29, and held Stutz hitless in four times at bat. His batting average immediately fell to .266. The next day the Cardinals and Cubs engaged in a doubleheader. The first game was a slugfest in which four St. Louis pitchers—Sherdel, North, Sell and Dean—were pounded for 15 hits. Stutz, however, was at bat five times and failed to get one safe hit. The second game of the doubleheader was called on account of darkness at the end of the fifth inning. Stutz knocked out one safe hit in three times at bat. Jesse Haines being on the mound for the Cardinals. Stutz got back into his hitting stride in the final game Sunday, with Pfeffer staging a comeback, and cracked out two hits in four times at bat, but this was not enough to reach the goal which would have enriched the Los Angeles club $10,000.

SIKI DISPLAYS NO SPECIAL DESIRE TO COME TO AMERICA

Paris, Oct. 25.—Battling Siki, conqueror of Georges Carpentier, received the latter's challenge for a return match with undisturbed calm. M. Heilers, his manager, coolly informed the fallen French idol that he would have to get in line and take his turn.

Heilers considers that Siki would have nothing to gain by meeting Carpentier. The manager's present plans are for Siki's match against Joe Beckett, the English heavy-weight, on December 1. If successful in his bout with Beckett he will go to America.

"Dollars look particularly good just now," said Siki.

Siki himself displays no special desire to undertake the American trip. He prefers to fight in Europe. Some unpleasant experiences in Paris cafes with Americans led to this decision. The American left the cafe as soon as Siki entered.

Blackheaded Pimples Quit With S. S. S.

Why? Pimple-Poison Goes When Red-Blood-Cells Increase. S. S. S. Builds These Red-Blood-Cells.

You can be sure of this, nature has no substitute for red-blood-cells. Pimple-poison can't live in the red rivers of your blood as long as there are enough rich red-blood-cells in it. More red-blood-cells! That is what you need when you see pimples staring at you in the mirror. Black-headed pimples are worse! Eczema is worse yet! You can try everything under the sun—you'll find only one answer, more cell-power in your blood! The tremendous results produced by an increase in red-blood-cells is one of the A. B. C.'s of medical science. Red-cells clean, clear, rich blood. They mean clear, ruddy, lovable complexions. They mean nerve power, because all your nerves are fed by your blood. They mean freedom forever from pimples, from the blackhead pest, from boils, from eczema and skin eruptions, from rheumatism, from indigestion, from that tired, exhausted, run-down feeling. Red-blood-cells are the most important thing in the world to each of us. S. S. S. will build them for you. S. S. S. has been known since 1920, as one of the greatest blood-builders, blood-cleansers and system strengtheners ever produced. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

VEGAS HUNTERS LEASE SITES ON STORRIE ISLAND

Will Build Cottages; Company, However, Does Not Guarantee That Land Will Not Be Under Water.

Special to The Journal
Las Vegas, N. M., Oct. 25.—Conway and Malone, sales agents for the Las Vegas Land and Water company, have offered for sale building privileges on an island in the Storrie reservoir. The contract also includes the exclusive hunting, fishing, boating and bathing rights in the immediate vicinity of the island.

Storrie reservoir, which is located about four miles north of the city, covers between 1,000 and 1,200 acres of land and feeds a chain of canals that irrigate many thousands of acres of farming land. The island is located about one-quarter of a mile from the north bank of the reservoir and is said to have an area of five acres. This the sales agents have divided into twelve lots, it is said, on which they are offering restricted privileges to local sportsmen.

One proviso of the contract offered to prospective buyers limits the guests of the owner of such privilege to residents outside of this county. This would guarantee exclusiveness to the little colony of sportsmen who seek seclusion for their sports.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE DROPPED TO LOWEST PRICES OF THE YEAR

New York, Oct. 25.—French, Belgian and Italian exchange rates dropped to their lowest prices of the year today. French francs dropped 16 1/2 points to 6.51 cents, Belgian francs yielded 14 points to 4.52 cents and Italian lire sold off 2 1/2 points to 3.39 1/2 cents.

The par value of each of the allied continental currencies is 13.3 cents.

Several reasons were assigned for the further depreciation, speculative selling has been influenced by the huge French government deficit and the latest developments in the German economic crisis which has given rise to reports of a possible default in reparations payments.

Cable dispatches today reported that the British were buying dollars to pay the interest on their debt to the United States with French currency, which also would have a tendency to depress the Paris rate.

German marks hovered slightly above their low record to date, 2 1/2 cents a hundred.

HEARD VICTIMS SAY MRS. ROSIER HAD SHOT THEM

State Will Rest Its Case Today in the Trial of a Woman Charged With Killing Two Persons.

Philadelphia, Oct. 25.—At the close of today's session of the trial of Mrs. Catherine Rosier, the commonwealth announced that it would rest its case tomorrow. Mrs. Rosier, who is under indictment for the murder of her husband, Oscar Rosier, and his stenographer, Miss Mildred Geraldine Reckitt, is on trial at this time only for the latter's murder.

Identification of the blood-stained garments worn by Miss Reckitt and a recital by physicians of the medical details of the case, occupied most of today's session.

James H. Foy, a detective, testified that Mrs. Rosier exclaimed in his presence: "He killed his first wife. She died of a broken heart."

Mrs. Rosier faintly said this statement was made. Foy also said she confessed she had taken several cups of wine before the shooting.

Dr. Frank C. Cruzen, a Jefferson hospital interne, testified that he had heard both victims say Mrs. Rosier had shot them.

'GHOST BALL' USED BY STAGG'S TEAM IN FOOTBALL PRACTICE

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Using a "ghost ball" to aid in practice long after daylight had ended, Coach Stagg's Maroon football team continued practice late today to make ready for the coming of the Princeton Tigers Saturday. A football painted white is being used.

Supporters of the team said that the coach was grooming Campbell Dickson for right end, in an effort to fill both wing positions with capable men to stop circling runs, declared to be one of Princeton's best methods of attack.

Strohmeier, it is believed, will have no difficulty in taking care of the left position. Other positions on the team are likewise being given close scrutiny by Coach Stagg, and fans expect a close game to result.

MURPHY IS ARRESTED IN CONNECTION WITH RECENT LIQUOR RAID

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Timothy D. (Big Tim) Murphy, convicted labor leader, was arrested late today as a suspect in connection with a recent $50,000 whiskey raid on trucks from the Groennes & Elmer warehouse. Murphy is now out on bond pending appeal of sentence following his conviction in the Dearborn street station $500,000 mail robbery.

1922 TOURIST RATES ON RAILWAYS TO BE CONTINUED IN 1923

Chicago, Oct. 25.—The executive committee of the Western Passenger association, meeting here today, adopted a resolution to continue the same railroad tourist rates next year as were in effect this year from Chicago to Colorado, the Rockies, Yellowstone and Glacier national parks and all points through to Spokane, Seattle, Portland and the northwest and Pacific coast regions generally. The Great Northern and Northern Pacific roads participated in the conference by invitation.

U. S. SHIPPING BOARD VESSELS WILL CARRY SUPPLIES TO GREECE

Washington, Oct. 25.—Three shipping board vessels have been placed at the disposal of the American Red Cross to carry relief to Greece, the Couer d'Alene sailing from New York about November 5, the Hog Island out of the same port about December 10 and another vessel to be selected at a later date.

In announcing its plans the shipping board said Red Cross supplies would total about 5,000 tons, of which the Couer d'Alene would carry one-half. The shipment would be made at the expense of the government as its contribution to the relief work.

CORNHUSKERS HAVE GREATEST FOOTBALL ELEVEN IN HISTORY

St. Louis, Oct. 25.—Nebraska university this season has the greatest football team in the history of American football, in the opinion of Steve O'Rourke, coach at St. Louis university, who saw the Cornhuskers romp over Missouri university last Saturday to the tune of 48 to 0.

"Nebraska is so good it could play Harvard Thursday, Yale Friday and Centre Saturday, and win all three games," the local mentor said.

O'Rourke, who is considered a very able coach, played quarter-back for Holy Cross in the days when Tom Shevlin and Ted Coy were starting for Yale, and played against Dartmouth in 1907—the year it swamped Harvard 22 to 0.

Coach O'Rourke said he never saw a team that could compare with Nebraska for overwhelming power and precision of play, and commented on the absence of freak plays in the Cornhuskers' work.

Interest and sinking, all other state bonds	48,335

Total product 5 mill state levy, if all collected.....$1,837,415

In theory the 5-mill levy should bring in $1,840,000 on an assessed valuation of $368,000,000, but in practice it nets only about $1,675,000, so that interest on deposits and other small sources of revenue are required to make up for uncollected taxes.

Of the above appropriations $156,908, has been added since 1916 by the creation of new departments demanded by the women of the state, by additional educational expense required for co-operation with the federal government and a few smaller items. These new appropriations are:

New Mexico Museum	$ 25,000
Bank Examiner	18,800
Educational Auditor	5,600
Historical Society	1,200
Vocational Education	25,058
Industrial Rehabilitation	5,000
Girls' Welfare	10,000
Health and Welfare Department	40,000
Predatory Animal	25,000
Water Commissioners	1,250

Total for New Departments.....$156,908

Included in the $218,888 for salaries and expenses of state departments are the following, which are using less than they did in 1916. These are:

Secretary of State	$ 6,100
Adjutant General and Militia	4,006
State Corporation Commission	4,200
Insurance Department	3,900
Industrial Director	1,500
Miscellaneous Items	6,300

Total Administration decreases.....$26,006

Supreme Court decrease.....$ 2,300

Institutions decrease.....17,800

Total decreases.....46,106

The levy for State purposes, including what the State apportions back to the local communities for roads and schools, has been 5 mills for the past ten years. The additional funds with which the expenses of the New Departments are paid, and the greatly increased amount of money going to local communities for roads and schools, all come from the increase in assessed valuations, and not from any increase in the rate, as the rate has remained stationary from 1912 to the present time.

As shown above, 5 or 6 of the old departments which were in existence in 1916 and prior thereto, have been operated for considerably less money for the past two years than they were in 1915 and 1916, and no state department has had any increase in appropriation, excepting where additional work or duties have been imposed upon it by the state legislature.

Some of the State educational institutions have required more money during more recent years, but the increase in appropriations for these institutions is far less, in proportion, than the increase in attendance.

Mr. Hinkle, and the democratic publicity bureau, have had a great deal to say about waste of money in the handling of State affairs. In considering the division and apportionment of the 5 mills tax, which ostensibly goes to the State, but which in reality is largely paid back to the counties for their roads and schools, and to the communities enjoying the benefit of educational and other institutions, for the benefit of these institutions, the question of any cut at all again becomes a question of cutting the taxes for roads, schools or educational institutions.

Are these the items which Mr. Hinkle has been referring to?—the money which goes back to be spent in the communities of the people who pay it?

Is this what Mr. Hinkle has been talking about? The people of New Mexico demand to know.

WHERE WILL HINKLE CUT?

WHAT IS THE ANSWER?

The machinery of the republican organization in Bernalillo county is now controlled absolutely by Frank A. Hubbell. No honest thinking republican can deny this. Ambitious to regain his lost prestige and again control the affairs of this county from which control he was ousted by the citizens of this community in 1905, Hubbell is making a desperate attempt to "come back" via the republican county ticket. A vote for the republican ticket is a vote to again place the affairs of Bernalillo county, either directly or indirectly in the hands of none other than the same Don Francisco A. Hubbell. Don't be fooled or misled. "The hand is the hand of Esau, but the voice is the voice of Jacob." Republicans—who are republicans when the republicans are right—are you going to stand for it?

THE ANSWER IS UP TO YOU

A STENOGRAPHER'S ROMANCE

BY JANE PHELPS

NELLIE ADVISES HILDA MOORE.

A few days afterward Hilda Moore came in to talk to the girls. She was in a fault-finding mood, and didn't hesitate to express herself.

"I don't get enough to pay for my clothes," she complained. "They don't seem to think a girl's clothes wear out. It's just awful the way we have to work and the little we get. I don't have no luck like Nellie does, and I have been working ever so much longer."

"Do you have to send any of your money home?" Nellie asked. "No, indeed! I'd like to catch myself. Then they don't need it. My father owns his farm, but he didn't want me to leave. Said he wouldn't help me a cent if I did. But I see myself living on a farm all my life. I hate it in the country. New York's the only place."

"Then I must get more pay somehow, I just must!"

"Why don't you cut out the flimsy clothes, Hilda?" Nellie went on, thinking she saw a chance to give her the advice Cora suggested. "I don't believe you'll ever get big pay while you wear them. They make you look sort of young and silly. Those peck-a-boos waists and them pink and lacey things they wear underneath aren't nice. They look as if you wanted everyone to know what kind of underclothes you wore."

"Anything more, Miss Riley?" Hilda sarcastically asked. "Plenty! I ain't no prude, but your skirts are so short I don't see why you bother to wear any at all. Your legs don't strike me like an artist would rave over them. And those cheap glass beads, and long ear rings! I know they're the style, but they aren't office style. I'd like to wear all the fancy things you do to the movies and when I go to the opera. But I guess I wouldn't keep my fine job long if I dangled them things in Mr. Fallo's face; and showed my legs to all the men in the office. They know I've got them, that's enough for them to know. You try to dress like those Fifth Avenue girls that have enough money to change the style every five minutes. The trouble with you is you've got a beer income and you try to drink champagne."

They look as if you wanted everyone to know what kind of underclothes you wore."

"Anything more, Miss Riley?" Hilda sarcastically asked. "Plenty! I ain't no prude, but your skirts are so short I don't see why you bother to wear any at all. Your legs don't strike me like an artist would rave over them. And those cheap glass beads, and long ear rings! I know they're the style, but they aren't office style. I'd like to wear all the fancy things you do to the movies and when I go to the opera. But I guess I wouldn't keep my fine job long if I dangled them things in Mr. Fallo's face; and showed my legs to all the men in the office. They know I've got them, that's enough for them to know. You try to dress like those Fifth Avenue girls that have enough money to change the style every five minutes. The trouble with you is you've got a beer income and you try to drink champagne."

"Is that all?"

"For this time, yes. And, perhaps, if you pay some attention to what little Nellie tells you, you'll find your pay envelope heavier to tote home."

Hilda was not pleased, and showed it. But finally she turned to Cora and said:

"I thought I had to keep up with the other girls, Cora, look stylish."

"But, Hilda," Cora gently replied, "Cheap finery is always in poor taste; and in an office it is worse than anywhere else. A dark dress, simply made, of good material, looks far better and wears longer. Then I agree with Nellie; she smiled as she remembered how she had talked to her on the same subject, 'that in a really good position, it is necessary to dress in a business-like way. Be dainty and neat, but don't wear loud colors or extreme styles.'"

"John, the fellow I go out with likes me to look smart," Hilda returned, blushing.

"Of course he does! But he would think you all the smarter in a well fitting dark dress. Try it and see."

"Does he like your showing your legs like you do?" Nellie broke in. Hilda blushed even more furiously. "I thought he wouldn't, not if he likes you. We all know you are good and smart, but by jingo, you don't look it!"

"Thank you!" Hilda said dryly, and soon left.

"I'm afraid I made her mad, or hurt her," Nellie said after she had gone. "You see when I get started I don't know when to stop; and I knew all the time I'd like fancy waists and earrings, and probably would be spending my own money for all that trash if it wasn't for you, Cora."

"I think it will do her good," Gladys said. "Poor child, she looks like a Christmas tree."

It turned out that it did. Gradually, Hilda put aside most of her unsuitable to-do's, and dressed more quietly, although she couldn't bring herself to be as plain as the three girls she visited. But she confessed the manager of the office where she worked had spoken of her improved looks and told her she looked more like a lady.

and when all the proper names have been guessed the players can change places with the audience.

Place a lighted candle in the middle of the room. Each guest jumps over it. Whoever succeeds in clearing the candle is guaranteed a happy year, free from trouble or anxiety. He who knocks the candle over will have a twelve-month of woe.

Ducking for apples in a tub of water is a part of every Halloween party, of course. Also eating apples and counting the seeds, chanting: One I love, two I love, three I love, I say; four I love with all my heart, five I cast away. Six he loves, seven she loves, eight they both love; nine he comes, ten he marries, eleven he courts, twelve he marries.

One of the oldest and prettiest tests of true love and prophecies of future fate is the placing of two chestnuts side by side on the fire. If one hisses and steams it indicates a fretful temper in the owner; if both chestnuts misbehave it augurs strife. If one or both pop away it means separation; but if both turn to ashes tranquilly side by side a long life of undisturbed happiness will be the lot of the owners.

RIPPLING RHYMES

By WALT MASON.

NO PEACE.

Sweet peace is what we're needing, it's what we're yearning for; all talk of scraps and bleeding people now abhor; but still the captains thunder and tear their shirts asunder, and they would crush us under an avalanche of war.

The world is all exhausted, the debt-worn nations reel; the people, sick of bleeding, would turn to plowing, seeding, to raise the wheat they're needing, and still the captains splot, When Europe's hosts were thronging, and death was on the blast, we said, in bitter longing, "This war will be the last."

the last; the future king who's yearning to see the red fires burning will presently be learning a lesson fierce and vast, Of guns and swords and sabres we'll manufacture, and man, in useful labors, will all his hours dispose; and any skate declaring that nations should be faring to battles grim and wearing, will have a broken nose."

But all hopes were phony, our forecast was a fraud; the captain, on his pony, is evermore abroad; he casts his blood-shot glims on the sword we're singing hymns on, and he would dye with crimson the farmstead's verdant sod.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: What do you think would be nice to give an eighteen year old boy for Christmas? He doesn't care for reading. He intends to get me a mesh bag.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young married woman and love my husband very dearly. We see a great deal of another married couple and the girl is my dearest friend. My husband likes her husband very much, too.

Everything would be all right only my husband drinks and when he is drunk he seems possessed to make love. His wife says that he will make love to any woman no matter who she is or how ugly. She says that she has never had a girl friend he has not insulted and of course this makes her feel very badly.

Very often he comes over to our house when he has had too much to drink and at such times he usually comes without his wife. Until lately he has not paid any attention to me, but the last time he came he made such charming speeches that I was embarrassed. My husband said that he was not himself and as long as he went no further I should ignore what he says. The thing that worries me is that he has started in this way, because at first he was very respectful.

What would you advise me to do in this matter?

Take the flatterer remarks seriously and with dignity. If the man goes too far, reprove him, of course. I think, however, that you will find it enough to keep your dignity and not respond in any way.

How humiliated the poor wife must be to have her husband act in such a cheap way! Doubtless she has suffered more than any of her friends know.

BOY BADLY HURT WHEN AUTO RUNS OVER HIS BODY

Alfonso Armijo Suffers a Broken Thigh and Severe Bruises in Accident on Central Avenue.

Alfonso Armijo, aged 12 years, was run down by an automobile driven by R. A. Bradshaw, a newcomer in the city, late yesterday afternoon on West Central avenue near Fifth street. The boy suffered a fractured thigh, severe bruises and possibly internal injuries. He was taken to St. Joseph's hospital, after the injuries had been treated by Dr. E. E. Royer, whose office is near the scene of the accident.

Bradshaw immediately reported the accident to the police. He said that he was driving east when young Armijo darted into the street from between two cars which were parked at the curb. Before he could stop the car the front and rear wheels passed over the boy, although Bradshaw said he set his brakes immediately upon seeing the lad.

Alfonso Armijo is the son of Alberto Armijo, who lives at 713 South Fourth street. He is a newsboy and was peddling papers when the accident occurred.

Bradshaw came here recently from Colorado. He was almost unperceived by the accident. A charge of reckless driving was preferred against him at police headquarters, and he left his car as bond for his appearance in police court this morning. A large number of witnesses to the accident have been summoned.

LANE ERRED IN LETTERS, CLAIM OF MR. DANIELS

'Wholly Wrong Impression of Important Historical Facts' Has Been Given, Former Navy Chief Says.

Washington, Oct. 25.—Declaring "a wholly wrong impression" of important historical facts had been given in one of the recently published letters of Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior under President Wilson, Josephus Daniels, who sat in the Wilson cabinet as secretary of the navy, telegraphed the Associated Press to-night a story of the events which he said had led to the adoption of the convoy system of protecting American ships early in 1917.

Mr. Daniels' message, sent from High Point, N. C., made particular reference to a statement in one of the Lane letters, saying that at a cabinet meeting on February 25, 1917, "Daniels said we must not convoy—that it would be dangerous." The letter also attributed to President Wilson a suggestion that "this country was not willing that we should take any risks of war."

"Fortunately, I kept a diary in those days," said Mr. Daniels' telegram. "Here is exactly what happened at that cabinet meeting in February, before we entered the war:

"President Wilson turned to me and asked: 'Daniels, why have the British not convoyed their ships?' "In reply, I informed him that the policy of the British admiralty was against the convoy; that after long experience in the war, the merchant captains preferred to take their chances sailing singly than in convoy formation, and that they regarded it more dangerous in U-boat zones to sail in company under convoy than for each merchant ship to go on its own."

"I added that some of our naval officers of high rank held this same view. That was the only use I made of the word 'dangerous.' "Believed British Wrong. "The president replied that he believed that the British admiralty was wrong and those American officers who agreed with them were also wrong, adding that the British ought to have convoyed their ships long ago. A few weeks later, I think, it was the last day of March, 1917, or about that date, when, before the United States entered the war in giving Admiral Sims instructions, I told him that President Wilson had long believed that he lies ought to use the convoy and did not agree with our own naval officers who took the same position that the British and the other allies had practiced. Shortly after his arrival in London, Admiral Sims presented President Wilson's views on the convoy to Admiral Jellicoe and a short time thereafter the convoy system was carried out any policy, no matter how dangerous, that promised protection, and the story of how the navy dared perils and danger proves this statement.

"The American navy furnished the largest part of the convoy that protected the largest amount of shipping that passed Gibraltar, and it convoyed all its own ships across the Atlantic after we entered the war. In fact, but for the service rendered by the American navy, the convoy system could not have accomplished the results which made it successful. It owed its adoption chiefly to President Wilson, who, while observing strict neutrality while that was the national policy, began effective preparedness before we entered the war and prosecuted it vigorously with force to the utmost."

JONES ADDS NEW INJURIES TO HIS LIST OF HURTS

Star Lobo Half May Be Out of Saturday's Game With Ore Diggers, Which Will Weaken Offense.

With two sprained fingers added to his list of injuries, Jones, star Lobo half, stayed out of scrimmage with the Hig School eleven last night, should Jones be unable to play in Saturday's game with the Miners, it will mean that the Lobo offensive, which is built largely around Jones, will be seriously weakened.

The offensive work of the Lobos against the High school lads last night showed a distinct improvement over that of the night before. Tom Popjoy, right half, went through the green and white line repeatedly for substantial gains, carrying the ball through the entire high school field 40 yards for a touchdown. The work of Cante-lou at end also was good, both on the offensive and the defensive, his handing of forward passes showing up especially well.

The High school boys confined their offensive efforts almost entirely to the forward pass, and were successful in completing many passes for substantial yardage.

Varsity's defense lacks much of perfection, as was made strikingly evident by the manner in which the High school backs were able to register gains through the line and around ends, and to complete many forward passes. With only two days of practice left before the Miner game, Coach Johnson is telling the Lobo squad that it must work if it doesn't wish to get shipped by the bloodthirsty Ore Diggers.

Sabina, Ohio.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for weakness and irregularity. I was weak and nervous and could hardly stand on my feet long enough to cook meals. I was this way for about a year and had tried several medicines and had a physician, but to no avail. My sister was taking your medicine and finally induced me to try it. I now feel fine and can do my housework without any trouble at all. You can use this letter for the sake of others if you wish."—Mrs. WELDON G. HATFIELD, R. R. 3, Sabina, Ohio.

Housewives make a great mistake in allowing themselves to become so weak and nervous that it is well-nigh impossible for them to attend to their necessary household duties. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound should be taken when you first notice such symptoms as nervousness, backache, weakness and irregularity. It will help you and prevent more serious trouble.

DON'T SQUEEZE BLACK-HEADS—DISSOLVE THEM

Squeezing and pinching out black-heads make the pores large and cause irritation—then, too, after they have become hard you cannot get all of them out. Blackheads are caused by accumulations of dust and dirt and secretions from the skin and there is only one safe and sure way and one that never fails to get rid of them, the simple way, to use that is to dissolve them. Just get from any drug store about two ounces of calomel powder—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet sponge—rub over the blackheads briskly for a few seconds—wash and the pores will be dissolved, and the skin will be left soft and the pores in their natural condition—anyone troubled with these unsightly blemishes should try this simple method.

DRY SHIP ORDER TO AWAIT COURT INTERPRETATION

Enforcement of the Law
With Respect to Foreign Liners Will Be Held in Abeyance for the Present.

Washington, Oct. 25 (By the Associated Press).—Enforcement of the national prohibition law with respect to foreign shipping within American territorial waters will await a final interpretation of that section of the statute by the supreme court. It was indicated today by administration officials. This interpretation is expected by government officials late next month or in December.

Decision of the executive department to withhold enforcement of the law as construed by Attorney General Daugherty in his opinion of October 6, was formally communicated today to Associate Justice Brandeis, of the supreme court, who subsequently refused to grant various steamship lines a stay against the enforcement of Federal Judge Hand's decision at New York, disallowing their application for a permanent injunction restraining federal agents from applying the Volstead act.

Justice Brandeis, who was sitting in chambers, was understood to have agreed with counsel for the government and the steamship lines that the decision to withhold enforcement was incorporated in a formal order issued by Secretary Mellon to customs officials and prohibition officers, which was drafted after Mr. Mellon had conferred at length with Attorney General Daugherty.

Would Cause Damage. Counsel for the steamship companies in their petition to Justice Brandeis contended that enforcement of the Daugherty ruling would cause irreparable damage to their business and would lead to diplomatic difficulties.

A statement by the department of justice emphasized that the government did not concur in these contentions and acquiesced in the petition for a writ solely on the ground that preparations had been completed to expedite consideration of the case by the supreme court.

"This position was taken," the statement said, "because attorneys for the steamship companies on November 13 entering a motion before the supreme court to advance the hearing on their appeal to November 29."

The government will join in this request for advance hearing, and it is the custom of the court to grant such joint petitions.

One of the elements entering into a decision to defer enforcement is understood to have been a desire to avoid any possible international embarrassments pending the court of last resort. Protests against enforcement of the law are expected from foreign governments and more particularly from those whose laws require the serving of alcoholic beverages to members of the crews of ships flying their flags.

Should the supreme court uphold the Daugherty ruling, some administration officers have said a situation might be brought about which would result in a request for congress to modify the Volstead act.

STAGNATION IF DEMOCRATS WIN, HILL DECLARES

The Gubernatorial Candidate
Claims Hinkle and His Supporters Are Preaching
Inconsistencies.

Special to The Journal
Lake Valley, N. M., Oct. 25.—After having been unable to speak for two days because of an acute inflammation of the throat, Charles Lee Hill, republican candidate for governor, stepped into his stride again tonight and delivered a telling and effective speech. "I am traveling over a trail," said Mr. Hill, "which has just recently been traversed by my opponent and everywhere that I stop I seem to run across some new inconsistency which the democrats are preaching points of their doctrine. In fact the entire appeal that Mr. Hinkle and his supporters are making seems to me to be one great big inconsistency. They ask the people to vote the democratic ticket because they say they are going to be able to render beneficial service and I want to ask every one of you here tonight to be consistent with yourselves and answer me just one question. "Which kind of a governor can serve your interests best; a republican governor with a republican legislature supporting him in his administration or a democratic governor with a republican legislature opposing and hampering him?"

"Think this over, apply it to some things that Mr. Hinkle has told you and decide for yourselves how far he can go in fulfilling some of the promises which he is so fond of making."

For instance, in every one of Mr. Hinkle's speeches that have been reported to me, he has said that he is going to reduce taxes. I have previously asked Mr. Hinkle, time and again, to please explain to the people of the state of New Mexico by what authority he is going to go into the various counties and tell the commissioners and school trustees how to run their business. So far I have had no answer to that question and now I want to add something else to it. I am not unduly curious but I would like to have Mr. Hinkle or some other democrat tell me how the proposed plan of democratic retrenchment is going to be carried out, when the democrats are not in control of the legislature. This is something that every voter in the state ought seriously to consider.

What we want is a progressive, economical business administration for the next two years; we don't want stagnation and deadlock to prevail in Santa Fe and just as surely as I am elected governor you will have the former, but if Mr. Hinkle is elected, which he will not be, you will just as surely have the latter.

"There is one other subject that I would like to touch upon briefly tonight, and that is the subject of the salaries of our school teachers. In a speech delivered at Durango on the 16th, Mr. Hinkle said that he is in favor of high salaries but he didn't say anything about the recent cut which has been made in those salaries and I think that I know why he doesn't like to talk on the subject.

"Mr. Hinkle is a prominent member of the Taxpayers' association and unless I have been misinformed in the matter, the Taxpayers' association had quite a little to do with bringing about the reduction in teachers' salaries. Of course this has happened before Mr. Hinkle was a candidate; at that time he wasn't interested in the results of the November election but he was interested in cutting salaries. But now that he is interested in the outcome of the election he is against the reduction in the pay of the teachers. This has all of the earmarks of real democratic consistency."

After the meeting here tonight, which was well attended, the party left at once for Hot Springs where a meeting will be held in the morning followed by a big night meeting at Socorro, at which Stephen B. Davis, Jr., candidate for the U. S. senate, and Mrs. Otero-Warren, candidate for representative, will be the principal speakers.

DEMOCRAT PLACED ON REGISTRATION BOARD BY ACTION OF COURT

Old Town democrats appealed to the district court in self defense yesterday to enforce the appointment of a democrat on the registration board of Precinct 13. It was alleged that three democrats had been put on the board in an application for a peremptory writ mandamus filed against Justice of the Peace Desiderio Montoya. The suit was brought by Leonardo Hunick, James Bezemek, democratic candidate for county commissioner from the Third district, and Stephen E. Roehl, secretary of the county democratic central committee. Tomas Werner and Daniel Martin, republicans, and Charles Mann, democrat, were appointed on the board. Mann resigned and Justice Montoya whose duty it was, appointed Louis Baca, another republican, to fill Mann's place, according to the complaint. A writ commanding Justice Montoya to revoke the appointment of Baca and appoint a democrat in his place in order that the democrats might have representation on the board was sought. Judge Hickey issued an alternative writ of mandamus commanding Justice Montoya to appoint a democrat or to show cause. Leonardo Hunick, a democrat, was appointed promptly to fill Mann's place on the board.

CARS COLLIDE; GUN IS DISPLAYED; TWO DRIVERS ARE FINED

The cars of Victor B. Sanchez of Albuquerque and Charles Bruner of St. Louis collided last yesterday afternoon at Fourth street and Marquette avenue. An argument arose as to who should pay for the damage to the St. Louis man's car, and Bruner is alleged to have displayed a revolver. Both men were brought to the city hall by Police-man Pablo Lujan. Bruner was fined $50 for carrying a gun, and Sanchez was fined $15 for reckless driving. Bruner admitted taking the gun out of the car with the intention of compelling Sanchez to remain on the scene until a settlement was made. He said he did not point it at Sanchez, but put it in his pocket. Judge Roddy told Bruner it is such things that lead to murders.

Pointing out the principal causes of weakness in the educational system of the country and explaining how the club women of New Mexico might assist in developing better schools Dr. David Spence Hill, president of the state university, gave an able and well received address before the federated women's club convention yesterday afternoon. Dr. Hill's subject was "The Relation of Education to Community Welfare."

Among the contributing causes of the apparent slow effect of education Dr. Hill called attention to the variance of opinions on the aims and ideals of education, whether it is to be desired for earning capacity, culture, mental discipline or knowledge. He recommended that the club women take up this subject for study and discussion. Faulty application of knowledge for livelihood purposes was also blamed.

"The New Mexico constitution and statutes are markedly defective concerning the organization of the public school system," said Dr. Hill in speaking of administrative faults. His recommendations for a state commission of education suggested to straighten up things, lift the schools from politics and raise the educational standards were warmly applauded by the convention which is pledged to the cause of education.

The internal trouble of the schools were pointed out as another problem with which women come into intimate contact and which they might be able to solve rather than leaving all to the teachers. The spoke of the high percentage of elimination, fully half of the New Mexico school children dropping out before the eighth grade and of the reasons. This elimination is due to illness, poverty and slow progress due to physical, moral or mental delinquency.

Dr. Hill strongly urged raising the standard of teachers in the state and defined the desirable requirements of instructors for the various grades. He stated that the public has a right to demand teachers of a specific training and asked the help of the women to carry on this propaganda for better schools. He was warmly applauded.

The convention reconvened yesterday morning for a business session with 117 present, nine officers, 12 chairmen, 49 delegates, 15 alternates and 12 visitors. The session was opened by an invocation by the Rev. E. E. McGuire of the Lead Avenue M. E. church. Official reports consumed the entire morning with the exception of a paper on the hospitality work of the Albuquerque Y. W. C. A. by Miss Dulce Knox, general secretary, and an impromptu talk by Mrs. Margaret Hill McArthur, well known Kansas author, who congratulated the club women on their accomplishments.

The chairman of the standing committees of the club gave their reports to the convention during the morning and afternoon sessions. Mrs. G. H. Van Stone of Santa Fe, of the art and archeology committee, recommended that all boards be taxed and that a building be provided for the art treasures of the state. Miss Evelyn Siskler of Raton reported the success of traveling libraries and the approach of national book week, during which contributions of books will be encouraged.

Mrs. Maude L. Blaney of Carrizozo, of the education committee, gave a report of the Parent Teachers' association work in the state. Mrs. Frances E. Nixon of the Americanization committee on friendly co-operation with ex-service men, gave her report and Dr. Janet O'Malley of Las Vegas of the music committee of the fine art department. She declared jazz to be vulgar and commended the community singing which encourages good music. Mrs. George W. Peirce of Santa Fe reported the organization and law enforcement and Mrs. J. O. Seth of Santa Fe reported on the publicity work at the general convention at Chautauqua.

Dr. James W. Park of Santa Fe, president of the state federation, spoke on legislation regarding women and children and urged that club women insist upon its enforcement.

Mrs. Margaret Medler of Albuquerque was appointed vice president at large of the state federation to take the place of Mrs. J. G. Gould who has moved to California. The appointment made by the executive board was announced at the convention yesterday morning.

The Albuquerque Kiwanis club is playing the gallant to the visiting delegates to the women's club convention. The ladies had luncheon with Kiwanis yesterday and will go for an automobile ride about the city with members at 2 o'clock this afternoon.

Nearly 175 men and women were present for the luncheon at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium yesterday noon. It was regular Kiwanis meeting day turned over to the visitors. President A. L. Martin presided, introducing each of the state federation officers to the club.

Mrs. Frank W. Parker of Santa Fe, state president, expressed the appreciation of the club women for the hospitality of Kiwanis and spoke of the women's organizations working along the line of the Kiwanis motto, "We Build." Mrs. Emily P. LaBelle, president of the local club, spoke on the co-operation of the men's and women's clubs also. Mrs. Grace Thorp Bear, president of the Roswell Women's club made a few witty remarks.

A musical program enlivened the luncheon. The Valc sextet, composed of young violinists, Jane Fleming, Marian Eller, Miss Strumquist and Jennie Katz and Miss Russell as accompanist, played Chaminade's "Serenade" and "O Sole Mio." Miss Ruth Daugherty of the state university gave a whistling solo with a piano accompaniment by Miss Norma Williams. Captain Dick Guest with his concertina led in community singing.

Several attendance prizes were given. An electric iron donated by Charles Twoogood was won by Mrs. Parker, state president. Mrs. James Holloway of Columbus won a thermos bottle donated by Les Briggs. Mrs. L. W. Scott of Carrizozo won a set of bathroom fixtures donated by Fred Fisher and Dr. M. K. Wylder won a silver pencil donated by H. P. Robinson.

New York, Oct. 25.—Something new, something friendly, in the way of holdups was staged in New York today.

Marcus Kipness was standing on Broadway when Sam Heller walked up, seized his right hand and began wringing it.

Heller, however, was arrested and arraigned.

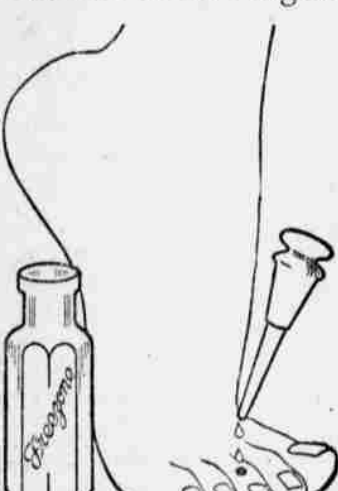

"Shake hands with the workhouse inmates for six months," said the court.

CASEYS READY TO GLAD MITT 'HITTING BABE'

Will Turn Out in Force October 31 to See the Bambino; Padilla Is Worried Over the Guarantee.

Albuquerque Knights of Columbus have planned to give a welcome to Babe Ruth, a member of the order, on the occasion of his appearance here on October 31. The following committee has been named by the Columbians to meet the Bambino and give him such entertainment as the time of the winter's stop in the city will permit: A. Michael, M. C. Wardwell, Jack Cavanaugh, T. P. Reidy and Dr. E. A. Frechet.

Babe Ruth and Bob Meusel will be in Denver on October 29, and Dan Padilla, local baseball promoter, will wire him there to learn the exact hour of their arrival here. Padilla says he is meeting with success in his efforts to have a part holiday declared on the afternoon of the momentous day on which Ruth and Meusel will stick their spikes into the sands of Pecos field. Padilla has warned residents of the district east of the park to put screens on their windows and wear baseball masks, if they do not come inside the grounds. The Santa Fe shops so far have not taken any precautions against the breaking of windows.

SCOUT NOTES

Troop 3 meets at the English Lutheran church at 7:30 o'clock. Last Friday we assembled at the church prepared for an overnight hike to "Dead Man's Isle," about a mile below the bridge. When we arrived at the scheduled spot we were first sent out for wood to build a campfire. We found several logs and plenty of brush and soon had a roaring fire.

At 11:15 o'clock we "turned in" around the camp fire. The topic was stars and airplanes. About 4 o'clock an assistant scoutmaster got up and put new fuel on the fire. At 5:30 o'clock we got up and prepared breakfast which consisted of beans, bacon, buns, cocoa, potatoes and jelly. We had "kangaroo court" at night, several charges being brought up against the different scouts. At 7 o'clock we started for home as some of the boys had to be at work. Those present on the hike were Brand Honing, Harry McWilliams, Carl Wilson, Ted Magee, Tracy B. Carter, Ray Hogan and Bill Collins, our assistant scoutmaster. All the scouts in Troop 3 are requested to bring their flag certificates next Friday. RAY HOGAN, Scribe.

Stop brushing teeth in ineffective ways
 See what new beauty this new way brings

Nearly all the world over, leading dentists are advising people to brush teeth in a new way. Millions of people now do it every day.

You see the glister wherever you look. Teeth now gleam which once were dim. Women have new charm, new beauty. They show teeth when they smile.

This is to urge all other people to try this method now. Your druggist will present you with a ten-day tube. Cease your old methods for a few days and see what this new way does.

Why teeth look dingy

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. You feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays. Food stains, etc., discolor it. So that film, if left, soon forms the basis of thin dingy coats. Tartar is based on film.

No ordinary tooth paste can effectively combat it. So millions of teeth brushed daily were clouded more or less.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. Film forms a breeding place for germs. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea.

All these troubles were constantly increasing. Very few escaped. The tooth brush, used in old ways, left much film intact.

The war on film

Dental science then began a war on film. After long research, two effective film combatants were discovered. Able authorities amply proved their efficiency. Then they were announced, and since then leading dentists everywhere have been urging their adoption.

One acts to curdle film, one to remove it. And this is done in scientific ways, not by harmful scouring.

A new-type tooth paste was created, based on modern research. It brings other new results now considered essential. It avoids several old mistakes. In this tooth paste are embodied these two great film combatants. The name of the tooth paste is Pepsodent.

Two other new effects

Pepsodent brings two other effects which research proves essential. It multiplies the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

It multiplies the alkalinity of the saliva. That is Nature's neutralizer for the acids which cause decay.

It was found that tooth pastes based on soap and chalk brought just opposite effects. That is one reason why they proved so ineffective. They reduced the tooth-protecting agents which Pepsodent increases many fold.

These results mean a new dental era. They mean that your children need not suffer what that film-coats can be combated.

A few-day test will prove this to you. Make that test in fairness to yourself.

STATE CONCERT BY CLUB WOMEN IS APPRECIATED

A Delightful Entertainment
Given Last Night at High School by Talented Club
Women of New Mexico.

The state concert given last night by the New Mexico Federation of Women's clubs was most highly appreciated by a good sized audience. The affair was held in the high school auditorium and was a credit to those taking part. Mrs. B. C. Campbell of the Roswell Women's club gave two piano numbers, which were well received. Mrs. Marie General Strass sang "The Song" by McDowell and "The Birthday" by MacFadyen. Mrs. Strass has a wonderful range and showed perfect breath control and all of her tones were clear. She was accompanied by Mrs. Colbert C. Root. Miss Elsie Ruth Dykes played a piano solo, "Crescendo," by Lassen, although a young girl, showed talent. The Clovis Women's club was represented by Ethel Depew Henderson, who sang "I Hear a Thrush at Eve," by Cadman, and "Dawn," by Curran. Mrs. Henderson possesses a sweet voice of a kind that makes you want more. The "Gum-Sucker," by Grainger, was a piano solo played by Mrs. Marbury H. Burns, who represented the Oscura Women's club. The playing of Mrs. Edna Clark Muir of "Egeria" showed wonderful technique and clear, concise fingering. Mrs. Muir represented the Las Vegas Women's club, while Mrs. Strass was a representative of the Sorosis club of that place. Mrs. Charles O'Malley, also of Las Vegas and state chairman of the music department, substituted a violin solo by Friml in the place of Mrs. Lu Ezyk Corbin. Mrs. R. C. Reid and Mrs. Bethel Vernon Fuller, who were unable to appear on the program. Mrs. O'Malley was accompanied by Mrs. Adolphine Kohn of Las Vegas.

Mrs. Elizabeth Bradford appeared next on the program in a group of three pieces, "Rain" by Curran, "Lullaby" by Thayer, and "April Rainy" by Spaulk. Mrs. Bradford's voice showed a remarkable richness of quality on her lower register and her high tones were delightfully smooth and birdlike. Mrs. D. W. Flay was her accompanist. Mrs. George W. Frenger of Las Cruces appeared in four short lyric pieces on the piano. She also accompanied Mrs. Thomas Branigan, who closed the splendid program with "On an April Bough" by Lauer, "Canoe Song" by Lierance, and "An Open Secret." Mrs. Branigan has a clear sweet voice and it was with regret that the audience realized that the program was over. All of the pieces rendered were by American composers.

3 CHARGED WITH BERGEN'S DEATH ARE ACQUITTED

Jury, Headed by 23-Year-Old Girl, Returns a Verdict After Deliberating 1
Hour, 40 Minutes.

Hackensack, N. J., Oct. 25.—A jury in Bergen county, headed by a 23-year-old girl, Miss Susan Squires, today acquitted George Cline, motion picture location finder, charged with murder, and also freed his brother-in-law, Charles Scullion, and Alice Thornton, a friend, of charges of being implicated with him in the shooting to death of "Dare Devil" Jack Bergen, motion picture actor, following a trial consuming less than 17 court hours. The evidence, which resolved itself largely into a series of moral problems, was passed upon by a jury composed equally of men and women. Today the defense called five witnesses, four of them in rebuttal, before resting its case. The jury retired at 1 o'clock and after one hour and forty minutes of deliberation, the first ballot was taken and the jury sent word to Justice Parker that it had reached a decision. The six men and six women filed into the jury box a moment later. Miss Squires, a slip of a girl, rose in her place at the head of the jury. "Have you agreed upon a verdict?" asked the court. Her answer "we have," was caught only by the clerk, despite absolute silence in the court room. Some of those within a few feet of the jury box believed she had said "guilty." "Did you say 'guilty' or 'not guilty'?" asked the clerk. Miss Squires cleared her throat with effort. "Not guilty," she replied, and the words were audible throughout the room.

STEPHEN B. DAVIS, Jr.
Republican Candidate for United States Senator.

An attack has been made upon me by newspapers supporting my opponent, and also, I am informed, from the platform and in private conversations, charging that I am opposed to just recognition of the rights of those who served our country in the world war.

The purpose of this campaign attack must be clear to all, but it has now been made with a directness and with an utter disregard for the truth which call for a reply from me. In order that no soldier or other citizen may be deceived as to my position.

It has been charged that I inspired and approved an editorial in the Las Vegas Optic questioning the motives of an ex-service man who is said to have written a letter, at the behest of the democratic state committee, addressed to all ex-service men in New Mexico, urging them to vote for my opponent on the ground that I was opposed to an adjusted compensation. While such statement was untrue and merited rebuke, I knew nothing of the editorial in the Las Vegas Optic until it was brought to my attention a week after its publication. I did not approve it then and do not approve it now. The statement published in this connection that I own the Las Vegas Optic and direct its utterances is false. Together with many other Las Vegas business men I purchased a small stock interest in the Optic, amounting to ten shares out of a total of 328 shares of the company's stock, and for a time was a director of the company. That connection ceased some time ago. That is the extent of my interest in the paper. I have never had and do not now have any active connection whatever with its editorial or business management.

The position of the republican party of New Mexico upon the question of adjusted compensation, is my position and I stand squarely upon the declaration in the platform adopted at Albuquerque on September 8, which states:

"We favor enactment of an adjusted compensation measure which will do justice to those who so nobly served their country in time of peril."

This declaration leaves no possibility of honest misunderstanding of where my party stands or where I stand. It does not pledge me to support every adjusted compensation measure which may be introduced in Congress. It DOES pledge me to support and work for an adjusted compensation measure which will do justice to the veterans of the world war, AND THAT I WILL DO.

It would have been easy for me to have posed in this campaign as the special representative and self-styled champion of the ex-service men, as my opponent has done. Such a position would have been in violation of what I regard as the first duty of a senator, which is to stand first and always for the welfare of the nation as a whole, and more important than that of any group or class. Such an appeal would have been false and I do not seek election upon false pretenses. I do desire most earnestly the votes of all ex-service men who seek justice at the hands of the government and will do all in my power to obtain just consideration and action by Congress in their behalf.

Those who misrepresent my position or misquote or misinterpret the pledge in my party platform are seeking to influence ex-servicemen and their families and friends against me by means of deliberate deception. I regard such campaign methods as unworthy and am convinced that they are understood and properly appraised by my fellow citizens.

DEALERS FROM ENTIRE STATE ATTEND CLINIC

Ford, Motor Company Representatives Assemble Its Salesmen and Mechanics to Hear Trade Talks.

A "Lincoln clinic" for auto dealers of the state who handle products of the Ford Motor company was held here yesterday. Twenty-five dealers and mechanics heard lectures by E. Afton, manager of the Denver headquarters of the Ford company; F. T. McKay, assistant manager; P. J. Shirley, superintendent; and J. L. Drobac, road representative. The clinic, it was explained, was for the purpose of familiarizing the dealers and mechanics with the mechanism of the Lincoln. Mr. Afton said that after a trip through Colorado, Wyoming, New Mexico, Nebraska and other western states, he is convinced that the automobile business is due for a big increase. He is especially optimistic about his line, because of good financial conditions and because of a cut in price. All New Mexico dealers are clamoring for cars, he said, and he looks for a 100 per cent increase in business during the six months beginning with October 1. Albuquerque and Gallup report unusual prosperity and growth, he said. Dealers at the clinic, which was held on North Fourth street, were B. M. Werley, Las Vegas; H. W. Brown, Santa Fe; Henry Washburn, Wagon Mound; Cortez Quicke, Albuquerque; B. M. Carlington, Gallup; E. H. Leopold, Helen; S. M. Craig, Natchez; George Lard, Hot Springs; Colonel Weston, Las Cruces; C. C. Bassett, Deming; Harry Bassett, Silver City; L. O. Pierson, Alamogordo; W. W. Wentworth, Santa Rosa; George Eager, Tucuman; Y. E. Yessier, Nara Vista; D. H. Jameson, Estancia; G. Hall, Mountainair; J. E. Lindley, Clovis; Roy Connelley, Pecos; Charles Sheppard, Roswell; Dan Bryant, Artesia; Mayor James Hudgins of Carlsbad. Mechanics here were Carl Ehrlich, Las Vegas; Herbert Parsons, Santa Fe.

ARGUMENTS BEGUN ON M'MILLEN'S MOVE FOR NEW LIBEL TRIAL

Arguments on the motion of A. B. McMillen for a new trial of his damage suit against Carl C. Magee were begun yesterday afternoon before Judge M. E. Hickey in the district court. Attorneys for Mr. McMillen presented some of their argument, and the defense also presented argument. Neither side was able to complete its statement, and because of the absence of Judge Hickey from the city today, completion of the arguments will not be reached until tomorrow.

Chicken à Lorain

Any woman who owns a Lorain-equipped Gas Range can easily prepare this favorite delicacy

COOKERY, until a few years ago, was an inaccurate art. Today it is an exact science because the Lorain Oven Heat Regulator gave housewives an easy way to measure and control heat. No longer need you wonder why the appetizing recipes you try, sometimes fail to meet your expectations.

Two new elements, you'll notice, are now being included in the best recipes—"Time and Temperature." Formerly, recipes gave exact quantities of ingredients only. The exact temperature and length of time for cooking were left for the reader to guess.

Then came the invention of the Lorain Oven Heat Regulator. It's a simple, accurate automatic device attached only to certain makes of Gas Ranges. With Lorain you tell the oven just what heat you want. Automatically that heat will be maintained for any length of time.

Now, when you read a modern recipe, such as that given on this page, you can exactly duplicate the success of the originator, if you own a Lorain-equipped Gas Range. Just prepare the ingredients as explained. Set Lorain at the temperature required. Then go where you will, and do what you please until cooking time is up. Everything in the oven will be deliciously ready to serve when you return.

We are always glad to explain the Lorain Oven Heat Regulator—the Regulator with the Red Wheel. Come in to our store. You can then see for yourself how this magic oven will cook, bake, roast, boil and stew—all at one time—without any attention. Ask us for a copy of the interesting booklet "An Easier Day's Work."

Recipe
Chicken à Lorain
Clean, clean and cut up first. Dip pieces in flour—coating the flour into every part of surface and skin. Add salt and pepper. Place in roaster and cover with butter. Bake in roaster until tender, about 1 hour. Remove from roaster and place in a large serving dish. Pour the cooking liquid into a small cup. Add a dash of lemon juice. Stir well. Pour over the chicken. Serve with rice or potatoes. (Cooking time is required until dinner is served, when you will come from your work and find the dinner ready to serve. The Lorain Oven Heat Regulator will keep the food at the proper temperature until you are ready to serve it.)

A GRAVE DANGER.

Those of us who are interested in numbers and are the more pleased the larger the numbers are, will do well to consider the number 54,421,832, and beside this place the number 26,759,703, which is even more important than the larger number.

Placed side by side these two sets of numbers are even more significant than is indicated by the amount they represent. Both of these numbers are constantly growing, but the smaller one is not growing so fast as it should. To the effort to make the smaller one grow so as to catch up with the larger we should all give a great deal of thought and study. For unless we can bring this about we shall presently have to begin to look to the foundations of our democracy.

The larger number represents the total number of eligible voters in the United States, and the smaller one represents the number of persons who voted in the last national election. The difference between the two, 27,662,124, represents the number of persons in this land of democracy who did not take upon themselves the duty of making our government a democratic one in the widest sense of the word.

Insofar as any candidate, even though successful at the polls, fails to represent the majority of eligible voters in his community or in the country, the blame must fall on those who did not go to the polls. Insofar as undesirable candidates succeed at the polls, the persons who did not take the trouble to cast their ballot can blame no one but themselves. If democratic governments, so perfect in theory, fail in practice, it is this non-voting element within our gates which is responsible.

Certainly there is no lack of inducement to vote. What greater inducement could be offered a citizen solicitous for the welfare of his country than the opportunity to help decide governmental policies and to establish more firmly and effectively the foundations of the most modern and most enlightened of governments? In this country and to an increasing extent in all the countries of the world, practically all progress is based on the working out of democratic principles of government and the individual who fails to participate in the operations of such government by not voting is unworthy to share in the benefits of democratic institutions.

By setting aside the most important of all duties which a democracy imposes upon its citizens, that of their ballot, the individual who does not vote becomes a source of danger to his government. It is the plain duty of all citizens to reduce the number of non-voters and by doing so, they will also increase, through greater vigilance, the benefits which will inevitably accrue to them.

MODERATION THE NEED.

In deciding to use argument and persuasion rather than militant onslaughts and recriminations in continuing its efforts for adjusted compensation for World War veterans, the American Legion adopted a policy of moderation that is based on common sense.

The fight for and against the bonus has developed too much bitterness. The campaign has been characterized by such phrases as "looters of the treasury," from one side, and "profligate" and "ingrates" from the other. Nothing was gained for either side by this bitterness. Indeed, much was lost, for the controversy was shifted from the realm of reason to that of emotions.

The bonus question, like all others affecting the public interest, should be discussed and acted upon according to its merits, without regard to the motives of some of its supporters or opponents. When the issue is beclouded with immaterial charges and countercharges there is little hope of reaching a rational decision.

The Legion in announcing its policy, did not criticize the president for vetoing the bonus measure, nor those who opposed its passage, recognizing, apparently, as most observers have, that their opponents in this matter are for the most part like the majority of the American Legion members, actuated by a sincere desire to serve the best interests of the country.

DUG OUT BY ROOT

Right now, decidedly
Out of the whirl,
Are the bob-tailed horse
And the bobbed-haired girl.

Was the girl who fell into a doze while dressing her hair, asleep at the switch?

Judging from the amount of dressing the hair of many of the ladies receives, it is strange that so much of it is exposed.

Quite often the girl who spends six months trying to match her hair with a new switch, takes less than half that time picking out a husband.

A Chinese mother spanked her daughter for cutting off her hair and shortening her skirt. The girl committed suicide. Where would the American joke columns have gone to if our flappers had been driven to suicide while in the early stages?

TODAY'S BEST THOUGHT

WOMAN'S HEART.

Never unsex yourself for greatness. The worship of one true heart is better than the wonder of the world. Don't trample on the flowers, while longing for the stars. Live up to the full measure of life; give way to your impulses, loves, and enthusiasms; sing, smile, labour, and be happy. Adore poetry for its own sake; yearn for, strive after, excellence; rejoice when others attain it; feel for your contemporaries a loving envy; steal into your country's heart; glory in its greatness; exult in its power; honour its gallant men, and immortalize its matchless women. Then shall that grateful country throw around you a fame which shall be like the embrace of fond arms; a joy to cheer, and a strength to support you.

The Markets

FINANCIAL

Wall Street.

New York, Oct. 25.—Professional short interests launched another successful attack against industrial stocks in today's market, causing losses of one to four points among a number of active issues. Railroad shares offered more stubborn resistance, a number of eastern carriers mounting to higher ground under the influence of a brisk demand for Reading and Pennsylvania, each at new top prices for the year.

Weakness of foreign exchange, temporary abandonment of pool operations, exhaustion of recent buying power entered into the market by the declaration of stock dividends and rumors of the same and the touching off of stop loss orders all contributed to the bearish sentiment.

The constructive market factor of the day was the resumption of the 6 per cent dividend on the common stock of the Pennsylvania railroad, recognized as bare-metal of railroad and trade companies. In response to this action Pennsylvania touched 4 1/2, the highest price in four years.

Reports that the American

Automotive company was planning a partial distribution of the surplus of more than $25,000,000 were held partly responsible for the rapid rise of that stock in the final hour. Professional pressure against the motor shares was concentrated on Studebaker, which sold off 2 1/2 points on unconfirmed rumors that no extra dividend was likely at the next meeting.

Steel shares continued their downward course, despite the optimistic tone of the weekly trade reviews. U. S. Steel common dropping a point to 16 1/2; Republic yielding 1 1/2. Vanadium and Crucible, Mexican Petroleum receded one point on comparatively light dealings. Total sales were 986,000 shares. Call money was at 4 1/2. The feature of the foreign exchange market was the further depreciation of French francs to 7.92 cents each, another new low record for the year.

Chicago Board of Trade.

Chicago, Oct. 25.—Drought seriously affecting a large part of the winter wheat belt had considerable influence as a price lifting factor in the wheat market today. Closing quotations were strong, 4 1/2 to 5 per cent higher with December and May both at $1.13 1/2 to $1.14 1/2. Corn ranged 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 to 5 3/4, oats 4 1/2 to 5 1/2 and provisions finished unchanged to 15c lower.

According to current advises the drought in the winter wheat region west of the Missouri river has exceeded in severity anything of the kind since 1884. It was said that as a result the extent of seeding had been heavily reduced and that in 10,000,000 acres already seeded the amount of wheat was very small. Dearth of moisture was very marked. The far above normal Kansas and Oklahoma than was the case last fall.

Assertions that because of the drought any surplus wheat in the United States might be needed for home use next season were especially emphasized by bull traders, and toward the end of the day offerings disappeared as if by magic, leaving an unexpected advance at Liverpool was also announced. On the other hand, announcement of a substantial increase of the world's available supply total led to a temporary bearish reaction during the middle of the session.

Corn fluctuated in line with wheat. Better domestic shipping demand was noted, and export bids were taken to a working basis. Oats lacked support.

WOMEN VOTERS ARE ANSWERED BY CANDIDATES

Replies to Questionnaires of Local Voters' League Announced; More Questions Sent Out.

The first replies have been received to the questionnaires sent out by the Albuquerque League of Women Voters to the candidates for the major political offices in the state and further questionnaires along the same line have been sent to all candidates for state offices in the coming election.

Stephan B. Day, republican candidate for United States senator, replied to the questionnaire as follows:

Q. Are you in favor of a state-wide direct primary law, without reservation, for the state of New Mexico? A. I do not favor a statewide direct primary law for New Mexico; but in that respect, as in others, my attitude is that of the platform adopted at the republican convention. This is not a matter upon which any action should be taken by the United States senate, but I express my personal opinion since you have asked it.

Q. If elected will you use your influence and vote against repeal or change of the Volstead act? A. I certainly would not support repeal or change of the Volstead act. I am in favor of strict enforcement of the constitutional prohibition against the manufacture, sale or transportation of intoxicating liquors. If the Volstead act proves the best possible for the accomplishment of that purpose, I will vote to continue it; if any changes can be made in it to render it more effective I would be in favor of them. My general attitude toward the enforcement of the constitutional provision has been stated publicly in the newspapers.

Q. Do you realize that child labor reform will not be accomplished in a truly adequate manner within the near future. But will you, in the meantime, administer first aid to the thousands of children who are being tortured and deformed this very day, by supporting whatever constitutional amendment or law shall be advocated by the recently formed "Permanent Conference for the Abolition of Child Labor," so that the children shall suffer as little as possible while this gigantic problem is being solved? A. I will favor any possible legislation looking to reform in the conditions of child labor. I would not agree in advance to support "whatever constitutional amendment or law shall be advocated by the recently formed 'Permanent Conference for the Abolition of Child Labor,'" as I would not surrender my own freedom to that body or any other.

The same questions were asked of the candidates for the lower house of congress. Mrs. Adeline Otero-Warren replied as follows:

No. 1. While in the event of my election to congress I should have no connection with or influence upon any primary law enactment of our legislature, I am committed to my party platform to the abolition of child labor.

The report was made at a luncheon of the workers at the association building at noon. Nine renewals and 24 new memberships were turned in, giving the Reds a score of 111 1-2 points and the Blues 162 points. No report was heard from the railroad team, the Whites.

The campaign continued yesterday afternoon and another report will be made at a luncheon gathering of workers at noon today. The campaign will close with a big dinner on Friday evening.

The following questionnaires were sent by the league to each of the candidates for the offices of attorney general, superintendent of public instruction, treasurer, auditor, land commissioner, justice of the supreme court, secretary of state and corporation commissioner:

No. 1. Are you in favor of a statewide direct primary law without reservation?
No. 2. Are you in favor of a drastic corrupt practices act?
No. 3. If elected will you use all possible influence toward having the Volstead act enforced?
No. 4. If you are elected will you vote for and use every influence at your command to secure, at once, the enactment of a law providing for the election of all elective officers in the state shall be nominated by direct primary?

No. 5. Are you in favor of a drastic corrupt practices act?
No. 6. If elected will you use all possible influence toward having the Volstead act enforced?
No. 7. Will you use your influence and vote to secure the enactment of a law prohibiting the sale of obscene literature in the state?
No. 8. If you are elected will you vote for and use every influence at your command to secure, at once, the enactment of a law providing for the election of all elective officers in the state shall be nominated by direct primary?
