WIDOW OF DEAD RECTOR AND HER BROTHER NAMED IN MURDER CASE

They Were on the Phillips Farm the Night of the Double Slaying, According to Sworn Statement.

MRS. HALL'S LAWYER MAKES ANNOUNCEMENT

T. N. Pfeiffer Declares Statements of the Alleged Eye Witness Are Contrary to the Facts.

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 26 (By the Associated Press).—Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall, widow of the slain rector of the Protestant Episcopal church of St. John the Evangelist, and her brother, Henry Stevens, are the man and woman named in the sworn statement of the alleged eye witness of the double slaying of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills on the night of September 14, last. This announcement was not made by the authorities, but became known tonight through the issuance of a statement by Mrs. Hall's attorney, Timothy N. Pfeiffer, denying the facts of Mrs. Gibson's account and declaring that neither the rector's wife nor her brother were on the Phillips farm on the night of the double slaying.

"Mrs. Gibson's statements are contrary to the facts," Mr. Pfeiffer said. "Mrs. Hall was in her home all evening, Barbara Tough, one of the maids, was out that night and Louise Geist, the other maid, was on the back stoop. There was no one else but a few seven-year-old nieces in the house with Mrs. Hall. But there may have been one visitor.

"Henry Stevens' identification as one of the quartet seen on the farm is also contrary to facts. Henry was in La Jolla, N. J., all that night."

Mrs. Gibson in her statement, it is known, declared that she had seen four persons on the Phillips farm, murders were committed there two days later the bodies of the rector and the choir singer were found.

Mrs. Gibson also said in her statement that she saw the man who shot at the rector and the choir singer addressed by his companion.

"The statement of Mrs. Mills, which Mrs. Gibson declared 'still rings in my ears at night' had hardly echoed, the woman farmer said, when the second woman in a terrified tone, 'Oh, Henry!'

DRAMATIC STORY IS TOLD BY WITNESS

New Brunswick, N. J., Oct. 27.—The dramatic story of a woman farmer, Mrs. Jane Gibson, that she had witnessed the Mills-Hall murder and had identified the slayer and a woman who accompanied him—today electrified New Brunswick.

About six weeks ago the bodies of the Rev. Edward Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Mills, a singer in a church choir, were found under a crab apple tree on the Phillips farm. Since then one of the most intricate murder mysteries that has engaged the interest of the country in years has grown out of the case.

No hint of when the climax, culminating in arrest, might be expected, was given by Special Deputy General William A. Mott.

Other Information.

Admitting the importance of the story told by Mrs. Gibson, the police tried to have other information on which he could act, independent of her affidavits.

He admitted that Mrs. Gibson's identification, generally speaking, would afford sufficient ground for arrest.

Sergeant Lang, of the state police, State Detective Mason and a county detective visited the Phillips farm again today, going carefully over the ground mentioned in Mrs. Gibson's story.

Mrs. Gibson, who retired from the thrills of a circus ring to raise pigs, introduced herself unobtrusively into the case when Clifford Hayes, a youth, was arrested. Keeping silence, it is set forth, because of the financial influence of persons whom her story would implicate, she nevertheless went to the attorney with her story when she found Hayes falsely accused.

LAST OF RUSSIAN SOLDIERS LEAVE SIBERIAN SOIL

Closing Scenes of the Evacuation Are Accomplished Without Undue Disorders, Tokio Informed.

Tokio, Oct. 26 (By the Associated Press).—As the fleet of ten Japanese transports steamed from Vladivostok harbor today bearing away the last of the Mikado's soldiers and leaving the Primoria in the hands of the Reds, Japan closed her books on her adventure on the Siberian mainland, with a total on the debit side of upwards of 1,500,000,000 yen.

A year ago there were 10,000 Japanese civilians on the Siberian mainland. Today there are less than 2,000, of whom 1,500 still live in Vladivostok and a few hundred in the interior. Three empty transports ride at anchor in the harbor to carry these away if it becomes necessary or desirable.

The closing scenes of the evacuation were accomplished without undue disorders, according to official advices received here. Representatives of the soviet government of Moscow and of the far eastern republic of the Japanese the keys of the warehouses containing arms.

The Mikado's troops filed up the gangplanks of the transports and sailed away, while ashore a lonely Japanese officer, wearing the last of his Japanese uniform, left the city, officially presided at the transfer of the much discussed stores of munitions.

The foreign office denies charges made in a note sent yesterday to Tokyo by the Moscow and China governments that white guards had looted Vladivostok with Japanese connivance. Officials here say that this statement must have been based on misinformation or robbery.

side from incidental robberies in a situation in which Russians were fighting Russians, together with trade depression caused by the uncertain political situation, nothing untoward had occurred.

Paris, Oct. 26 (By the Associated Press).—France, Italy and Great Britain have agreed to invite the United States to participate officially in the Near East peace conference at Lausanne, Switzerland, November 12.

The suggestion that the United States be invited came from Lord Curzon, the British secretary for foreign affairs. The invitation will be handed to the state department in Washington probably tomorrow by the French, British and Italian embassies.

Washington, Oct. 26.—Requests of postmasters for postage stamps this month, the postoffice department announced today, have broken all records, 2,214,656,350 stamps having been ordered since October 1.

LANE'S LETTERS PUT WILSON IN IMPROPER LIGHT

Redfield Says They Contain Instances of Half Truths; Don't Represent Writer's Mature Judgment.

New York, Oct. 26.—William C. Redfield, former secretary of commerce, today expressed the opinion that the letters of the late Franklin K. Lane, secretary of the interior in President Wilson's cabinet, which have just been published in book form, contain instances of half truths which Mr. Lane himself would not have wanted to become public had he himself had the opportunity of editing them.

Mr. Redfield was a close friend of Mr. Lane and sat next to him at the cabinet table in war days. Mr. Redfield said "The Lane letters throw an incorrect light on President Wilson and do not represent the mature judgment of Mr. Lane."

HINKLE FAILS TO BE SPECIFIC ABOUT ABUSES AND REFORMS, DECLARES REPUBLICAN CANDIDATE

Hinkle Fails to Be Specific About Abuses and Reforms, Declares Republican Candidate.

Special to The Journal. Socorro, N. M., Oct. 26.—Charles Lee Hill, republican candidate for governor, who is returning to Santa Fe this morning after a four weeks' campaign tour, said in reply to a question as to what he thought of the political situation throughout the state since leaving Santa Fe a month ago:

"I have been in 25 out of 31 counties in the state and the thing that has impressed me most is the lack of progress the democrats have made. I realize now why they but at the beginning of my campaign I was greatly astonished to find that I did not have to put in nearly as much of my time in denying democratic charges as I had thought I would have to do."

"This pleasant state of affairs, however, is not due to the fact that the democrats don't make the charges. They do make them; they repeat and reiterate them and spread their gospel with a money like to have paid to his remarks. Mr. Hinkle may not know better, but he makes, but most of the taxpayers do know better and I am confident that on November 6 they are not going to elect a man who has demanded their support by attempting to make them believe that a condition exists which they know does not exist."

courses there are certain statements which Mr. Hinkle makes which are true beyond the shadow of a doubt. For instance, it is not news to anybody in New Mexico to tell them that our taxes are high. But why make the tax payers feel worse than it is and raise the per capita tax from $21.15, which is the correct figure, to $45, which is Mr. Hinkle's figure?"

Why make the people of the commonwealth miserable and unhappy by telling them of the great and terrible burden that they are bearing when it would be just as easy and make everybody more cheerful to point out that there are 32 states in our union which are paying a larger per capita tax than we are?

Gets Nothing Definite.

"In regard to the reforming which Mr. Hinkle is going to put into effect, as he is, I believe he is going to reform and how he is going to reform it I do not know, because up to the present time he has not taken anybody into his confidence and told them about it. I have asked him to please say something definite; something that will be a comfort to the people. He will not do it. About all that he says is that a terrible condition exists and that unless he is put in as the skipper of the ship and allowed to hire a new crew and get a new compass, we are all going on the rocks of disaster."

"He paints a gloomy picture indeed, but fortunately the people of New Mexico know that it is only a picture and although they may sympathize with Mr. Hinkle for his sufferings, they are not going to vote for him for governor."

Will Make Reforms.

"Naturally when I am governor," concluded Mr. Hill, "whatever reforms it is necessary to effect, I am going to endeavor to effect to the best of my ability and my ability ought to be a little better than Mr. Hinkle's because I will be working with my legislature supporting and not opposing me. I have previously mentioned, but it will do no harm for me to repeat here, some of the concrete things that I promise the people of New Mexico to do for them. Insofar as it can be done without impairing the efficiency of the department or obstructing the development of the state, I promise to do what I can, within my authority as governor to reduce the burden of taxation."

Plans Direct Primary.

"I promise to work for the direct primary as called for in the republican platform. I promise to work to secure the passage of legislation in regard to our penal institutions as pledged in our platform. I promise to carry on the work of highway construction with federal aid, as efficiently and as economically as possible, and I promise also to spend as little of the people's money as possible on the Hinkle plan of grading up the natural earth."

Russia Returning to Normalcy

Is Russia returning to normalcy? These photos seem to indicate that conditions are improving. The crowd in the lower photo appears rather prosperous in comparison with earlier pictures coming out of Russia. Judging by the appearance of the railroad station and the waiting crowd the road is doing considerable business, an omen of good times.

1 DEAD; 2 HURT; 1 MISSING IN FREIGHT WRECK

Train Runs Away on Steep Hill on E. P. and S. W. Northwest of Tucuman; Faulty Air Blamed.

Special to The Journal. Tucuman, N. M., Oct. 26.—One of the worst wrecks that has occurred on the El Paso and Southern railway in many years occurred when a freight train drawn by two engines was derailed while running down a steep grade.

The train, which was loaded with freight, derailed on the Dawson line today. Thirty-six of the 43 cars left the track and it is said that more than 300 feet of track was torn up in the deep cut. Air failure has been given as the cause of the wreck.

F. S. Hinds, engineer on the second engine, was fatally injured, and died while en route to the hospital in El Paso. M. R. Carroll, engineer on the first engine, was released from the wreckage after five hours work, and is in the hospital at this place. The extent of his injuries is not known.

Joe Morgan, fireman on the first engine, who jumped and was found unconscious some hours after the wreck, is in the hospital here.

J. R. Cantrell, head brakeman, who was on the second engine is missing and it is believed he is buried beneath the wreckage. H. E. Beckman, conductor; W. J. Vance, rear brakeman, and Claude Winigrove, fireman on the second engine, are uninjured.

Realizing that the train was beyond control, Wingrove and Beckman uncoupled the caboose from the train at the 45-mile post, and with the aid of hand brakes were able to bring the caboose to a stop before the wreckage was reached.

As the train started down the steep grade the speed is said to have increased from 25 to 70 miles an hour. The engine pulling the train broke down 1 1/2 miles beyond the wreck early in the evening and an engine was dispatched from this place to bring in the train. Several days will be required to clear the wreckage.

F. S. Hinds has been in regular service on the Southwestern for 25 years and is well known in El Paso and elsewhere. He leaves a wife and two children.

WOMAN DIED ALIVE IN AUTO; DRIVER'S ASSERT

Cleveland, O., Oct. 26 (By the Associated Press).—Mrs. Hazel Burns, 29, whose mutilated body was found buried in a shallow grave near Painesville, Wednesday, died from suffocation and strangulation, Lake county authorities announced tonight following a post mortem examination of the body.

Mrs. Burns was not shot. But a was beaten with the butt of a small calibre revolver, then buried alive in a shallow grave in a marsh, the authorities declared. Grilling of Harry Burns, the slain woman's husband, which was begun after his arrest Wednesday, was continuing tonight. He denies he had anything to do with the murder.

No motive for the crime has been put forward by authorities except jealousy "over another woman."

Mrs. Burns was the third wife of Burns.

FOLLOWERS OF GAME CLAIM GRID RECORD FOR HOOSIER PLAYER

Bloomington, Ind., Oct. 26.—Followers of football in these parts are claiming a gridiron record for Frank Hannay, captain of the Indiana university eleven.

Called upon nine successive times in this game with Wisconsin last Saturday, Hannay carried the ball for three first downs for a total distance of 35 yards. Hannay also figured in the spectacular play of tackling the receiver of his punt for the seventh time this year.

SANTA FE TRAIN NO. 10 CRASHES INTO AN EXTRA

Eastbound Passenger Collides With a String of Three Light Locomotives Near Kingman, Ariz.

Kingman, Ariz., Oct. 26.—Eastbound Santa Fe passenger train No. 10 collided with a string of three light locomotives, westbound without a load, on a curve a half mile east of Kingman this afternoon. None of the passengers were seriously hurt. The passenger engine and the first of the three westbound engines were demolished in the crash.

Number 10 was making slow time upgrade and members of the crew declare only this fact prevented a more serious wreck.

The water tank of the westbound engine was torn from the trucks and smashed into the cab of the engine. The fireman and engineer escaped being crushed to death by only a few feet.

The front of the passenger engine was smashed by the force of the collision.

Some of the passengers suffered bruises.

Responsibility for the accident has not been fixed.

The wreck occurred at the same curve where several people were killed in a similar wreck a few years ago.

MAYFIELD LOSES FIRST ROUND IN FIGHT IN COURT

Temporary Injunction Keeping His Name Off Texas Ballot Will Remain in Force for the Present.

Corsicana, Tex., Oct. 26.—The jury which heard the injunction suit to keep the name of Earle R. Mayfield, democratic nominee for United States senator, off the ballot in next month's election, tonight returned a verdict against Mr. Mayfield on 12 of the 21 questions propounded by Judge Scarborough.

The temporary injunction restraining Secretary of State Staples from placing Mr. Mayfield's name on the November general ballot will remain in force until the case is finally disposed of by the state supreme court, where it is now on appeal, according to a statement made today by Judge Scarborough.

Press what effect a verdict unfavorable to Mr. Mayfield would have.

'FAKERS' CAN'T ALLENATE LABOR VOTE, DECLARES

Chairman Adams Reviews Record of Republican Congress as It Relates to Wage Earners' Welfare.

Washington, Oct. 26.—A prediction that "demagogues and political fakery" will not be able to alienate the labor vote from the republican party, was made in a statement issued tonight by Republican National Chairman Adams, reviewing the record of the republican congress as it related to the welfare of the wage earners.

Without mentioning any names the party chairman declared in his statement that the republican laboring men to vote against republicans came from those interested "in exploiting" labor, rather than in promoting its welfare. The republican administration, he said, has not only had passed seventeen laws classified by the American Federation of Labor as favorable to the workers of the country, but had "unimpeachably" improved the condition of wage earners in every way.

"In every campaign," said the politician, "a few demagogues and political fakery issue alleged 'non-partisan' appeals to the labor vote to vote against the republican party. These appeals are issued by those who are interested in exploiting labor rather than promoting its best interest. This historical attempt to 'deliver' labor has always failed. It will fail this year."

"One may search the record in vain to find anywhere the charge sustained that this republican congress has been inimical to the interests of the wage earners. The report of the proceedings of the forty-second annual convention of the American Federation of Labor, held at Cincinnati in June of this year, contains a statement of the legislative committee of that federation. That statement shows that this congress enacted seventeen laws which the committee classified as favorable to labor. Nowhere in the report is there any charge that this congress enacted a single law which was detrimental to the interests of the wage earners."

This administration in twenty months has turned an army of five million idle wage earners into an army of wage earners profitably employed. By an immigration act it has restricted the in-pouring of cheap foreign labor. By a protective tariff it has restricted the in-pouring of products of cheap foreign labor. It has reduced taxes which weighed heavily upon the wage earners. It has drastically cut the expenses of the government which in the last analysis are paid by wage earners."

Decision of allied governments to invite American participation as a party to the peace negotiations, it can be said on authority, finds the attitude of the Washington government unchanged. The American policy of standing aloof from European political tangles and of confining itself strictly to questions in which it has a direct interest, commercial or otherwise, such as the Turkish straits, has undergone no change.

Mr. Adams' dispatches indicate that the invitation to be presented to Secretary Hughes, through the British, French and Italian embassies in Washington. That it will be met with every courtesy is to be expected.

American interests are too deeply involved in the final solution of the problem of the Turkish straits, however, and also in the immunities of innocent persons, who have been in Turkish territory, both in commercial and religious matters, to permit the Washington government to stand wholly aside from the peace parley.

COURT OF INQUIRY IS SUMMONED TO PROBE CHICAGO SHOOTING

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Brigadier General Van Horn Mosley, commandant at Fort Sheridan, today summoned a court of inquiry to investigate whether or not a second lieutenant by accident or intent, directed the barrage from a one-pounder that missed its target.

Lake Michigan and shelled estates owned by Mrs. Edith Rockefeller McCormick, Cyrus H. McCormick and Francis W. Farwell yesterday.

"I have suppressed the name of the second lieutenant who directed the 'bombardment,' as I don't want anybody to know that such a blunder was committed on the roster of the army," General Mosley said.

"Four of the shells hit the Farwell mansion. Others wrecked flower beds and scarred the lawns on the estates of Mrs. McCormick and Cyrus H. McCormick."

KENNETH CLARK WINS GOLF CLUB TOURNEY OF NEWSPAPER MEN

Washington, Oct. 26.—The annual fall tournament of the Washington Newspaper Golf club today was won by Kenneth Clark of the United Press, who carried away the George M. Cook trophy with a net score of 77 for the 18 holes of medal play. James L. Wright of the Cleveland Plain Dealer won the trophy prize, a series of lessons from a local golf professional. The tournament was played over the Columbia Country club course—difficult links, which, with the strong wind that prevailed all day, supplied plenty of alibis.

TROOPS OF RED ARMY OCCUPY VLADIVOSTOK

Tokio, Oct. 26 (By the Associated Press).—Troops of the red army, representing the Far Eastern republic of Siberia, were in complete possession of Vladivostok today. The last of the Japanese soldiers evacuated the city yesterday after handing over to the invading reds an inventory of the arms left behind and the keys to the warehouse containing them. Only a Japanese staff captain remained to complete the transfer of military stores.

FURTHER CUT IN STANDING ARMY IS OPPOSED BY THE PRESIDENT

Is as Small as Should Be Contemplated Unless There Is a Change in Military Conditions.

LETTER MADE PUBLIC BY SECRETARY OF WAR

"There Are Limits in Reduction, Beyond Which We Cannot Go," Even in the Cause of Economy.

Washington, Oct. 26.—President Harding's belief that the regular army at its present strength—12,000 officers and 125,000 men—is as small as should be contemplated unless there should be a decided change in military conditions throughout the world, is stated in a letter to Secretary Weeks made public today by the war department in order to correct any misapprehensions as to the size of the army, asked for budget estimates for 1923.

Opinion Unchanged.

The letter was written in reply to a communication from Secretary Weeks, September 21, explaining to the president that while estimates for 12,000 officers and 125,000 men were being submitted, the opinion of military leaders, regular, national guard, or reserve, was unchanged that the minimum force to carry out the national defense act of 1920 was 13,000 officers and 150,000 men.

In reply, the president said that while he did not believe the government would be justified in exceeding its resources for the coming year, "there are limits in reduction, beyond which we cannot go, even in the praiseworthy cause of economy, without destroying the excellent foundation now laid for our national defense and forfeiting the accrued benefits of world war experiences."

Secretary Weeks' letter of September 21 and the president's reply, dated October 21, follow:

"Dear Mr. President:

"I have this day transmitted to the director of the bureau of the budget the requirements of the war department for the fiscal year, 1924, and feel that I should say to you certain salient facts in connection therewith.

"The estimate is submitted for the 125,000 enlisted men and 12,000 officers now authorized by law, and that there shall be no change in the military requirements in order to carry out the spirit and object of the national defense act. In my opinion, and the opinion of military leaders of the regular army, national guard and organized reserves, the minimum number required to carry out the provisions of the act are 150,000 enlisted men and 13,000 officers."

"Within the limiting figure allowed the war department by the budget of the budget, namely, $312,932,309, it is not possible to meet the absolute requirements of the military organizations, which are the basis of our national defense. However, advantage has been taken of the authority of the bureau of the budget to submit as supplemental estimates those needs of the war department which were omitted from the regular estimates and which could not be included within the limiting figure of $312,932,309. The total of the regular estimates and the supplemental estimate has, however, remained below the current appropriations.

Expense in the Future.

"The resulting figures have been submitted solely on the basis of allowing the material plant of the army to be worn down to the level of the interests of immediate economy, with a full knowledge that this means a greater expense in future years to recover from accelerated deterioration. Such a policy can only be supported on the conviction of the absolute necessity for immediate economy. The budget is submitted with this idea in mind and should be considered now and in the future in the light of these remarks.

"Respectfully yours, (Signed) 'JOHN W. WEEKS.' "My Dear Secretary:

"I have had much advice from you. Very truly yours, (Signed) 'JOHN W. WEEKS.' "I have had much advice from you. Very truly yours, (Signed) 'JOHN W. WEEKS.' "I have had much advice from you. Very truly yours, (Signed) 'JOHN W. WEEKS.' "

"Although there has been some increase in the limiting sum since the date of your letter, I understand that there still must be a very appreciable curtailment in the military program for next year. Disappointing as such a course must be, I do not believe that we are justified in exceeding the national defense act of 1920. Nevertheless, there are limits in reduction beyond which we cannot go, even in the praiseworthy cause of economy, without destroying the excellent foundation now laid for our national defense and forfeiting the accrued benefits of world war experiences."

"It is intended to adhere to the purposes and provisions of the national defense act of 1920. Recommendations of our war-tired military advisers as to the essential requirements for the effective and satisfactory operation of that act cannot be ignored. I believe that the army is now as small as should be contemplated, unless there should be a decided change in military conditions throughout the world.

"Very truly yours, (Signed) 'WARREN G. HARDING.' "

PARLIAMENT HAS BEEN DISSOLVED BY KING GEORGE

Premier of England Issues His First Manifesto, But It Contains No Remarkable Surprises.

London, Oct. 26 (by the Associated Press).—The king at Sandringham today signed a proclamation dissolving parliament, which had lived four of its constitutional five years and summoning the new parliament, but has plenty of candidates for the next one.

The only notable event of the day was the issuance of Premier Bonar Law's manifesto. This contained no remarkable surprises, and the greater part of it was devoted to enlargement of his policies, outlined at the unionist meeting which elected him leader. He proposes to abolish the cabinet secretariat, which has been criticized as expensive and unconstituted by the opponents of the late government, and to transfer British representation at the league of nations to the foreign office.

He intends to ratify the Irish treaty and call the British dominions to a conference to develop empire affairs. There was no statement of policy in the management of British affairs in the Near East and that is likely to be demanded by Mr. Bonar Law's campaign oracles.

The premier made his first campaign speech today at Glasgow, where, being of Scotch extraction, he had an enthusiastic welcome. He reaffirmed the points of his manifesto.

The former premier, Mr. Lloyd George, spoke before a large audience of non-conformists in Whitefield tabernacle in London, where there was plenty of cheering.

Earlier in the day he and Lord Birkenhead were guests at the annual oyster feast given by the Colchester municipality. Although it was supposed to be a non-partisan social affair, Lord Birkenhead made a defense of the

EASTERN STAR HAS STATES' BANQUET

Las Cruces, N. M., Oct. 26.—Five hundred men and women, some of them from West Texas and northern New Mexico, attended the states' banquet, arranged by Las Cruces chapter of the Order of Eastern Star, headed by Mrs. George H. Spence, at the armory the evening of October 24.

The guests were welcomed to the tables by hostesses of the states represented. The decorations and favors were symbolic of the various states.

This banquet, at which baked turkey and all the "fixins" were featured, was served by 50 young women. Afterward there was a program of songs and toasts participated in by Rev. H. J. Roemer, pastor of the Presbyterian church; Dr. O. H. Brown, Mrs. Homer Rivers, Francis E. Lester, former grand master of Masons in New Mexico; Mrs. Clarence J. Smith, Rev. M. O. Williams, pastor of St. Paul's Methodist church; and Mrs. Henry Stoe, regent of the New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts, and Miss Colla Mae Freeman.

The community songs were "Dixie Land," "Blest Be the Tie That Binds," and "America."

PARTY WORKERS MAKE CANVASS TO SECURE NAMES OF VOTERS

Saturday is the last day for registration for the coming election. Workers for both parties have been engaged for several days in a canvass of the city, asking all the voters and endeavoring to learn their political affiliations. Indications are that few voters will not be called upon to go to the polls on election day, as the party organizations are preparing to keep a strict tab on the registration lists.

To vote in New Mexico a man or woman must have lived a year in the state, 90 days in the county and 30 days in the precinct. Registrations are being received for Precinct 25 at the Briggs drug store and for Precinct 12 at the Ruppe drug store.

BURSUM'S FIRST SPEECH MADE TO FOLKS AT HOME

Senator Defends the Policies of the Harding Administration and the Acts of G. O. P. Congress.

Special to The Journal

Socorro, N. M., Oct. 26.—Making his first campaign speech in his home city of Socorro last night in behalf of the republican ticket in New Mexico and in support of the policies of the Harding administration and the acts of the republican congress, Senator Holm O. Bursum launched a terrific drive against the democratic lines.

For the first time in the campaign the two main parties of the republican party were united. Judge S. B. Davis, Jr., nominee for senator, Mrs. Adelina Otero-Warren, representative in congress, and Hilario Delgado for auditor, coming from the north, and C. L. Hill, for governor, and Capt. Fred Muller for land commissioner, coming from the south. A meeting having been scheduled for Magdalena also, it was necessary to divide the party here. Mrs. Otero-Warren and Hilario Delgado filled the Magdalena engagement, the others remaining here.

Senator Bursum presided at the meeting which filled the courthouse to overflowing. He introduced the other speakers and made the main address. Judge Davis spoke briefly, confining his remarks to the adjusted compensation measure and the tariff. One delegate illustrated by a Baron Kuchan story, which set the audience in an uproar.

Hill Spoke Briefly.

Mr. Hill spoke even more briefly. His outstanding declaration was that, if elected, he would be the governor of all the people.

Pleas of support for Senator A. Jones on the strength of his vote on the tariff measure were drowned by Senator Bursum as utterly inconsistent and therefore not deserving of recognition. Senator Jones was listed as among those who sought protection for products of their own state but opposed to protection for any other state. "If protection is correct in principle and a proper policy, it ought to be extended to all American industries. There is no justice in singling out any particular state, or group of states, and affording protection," Senator Bursum said.

"The democratic nominee supported certain items affording protection for his home industries, but opposed protection for other states, and finally voted against the bill, which was a move against protection for New Mexico."

Turning to the question of validity of the seniority claim, Senator Bursum said: "My friends, the thing that counts nowadays is performance—ability to accomplish things, action—not seniority. The democrats had as much to do with the grafting of the present tariff law as the republicans had to do with the framing and passage of the Underwood free trade bill. Seniority of minority members is of no more importance and such such a member has no more standing than a captain of insurance in Mexico has after he surrenders to the federal forces. There seem to be some who believe that seniority improves with age, like limburger cheese."

Any effort to obtain votes by the federal forces. There seem to be some who believe that seniority improves with age, like limburger cheese."

Any effort to obtain votes by the federal forces. There seem to be some who believe that seniority improves with age, like limburger cheese."

In beginning to discuss the adjusted compensation measure, Senator Bursum said he desired to sound a warning to the service men: "Don't you ever let politics creep into your organization. It is noble, patriotic organization and it tries to give you the best of service in time of war, but it ought always to be kept on a different plane and entirely free from political bias or prejudice."

Shed Crocodile Tears.

Any effort to secure political support by reason of voting for an adjusted compensation measure also was denounced as cheap and unworthy. "During the heat of the debate in the senate preliminary to the final vote the democratic nominee was in New Mexico shedding crocodile tears of sympathy for the service men, but when this statesman, with his great abilities and his valuable seniority, out on the firing line, helping to pass the measure."

"Service men who believe in democratic principles ought to vote their convictions, but those who believe in the republican principle of protection certainly ought to stand by their party. It has been my privilege to vote for the so-called bonus bill, on its passage and also for its passage over the presidential veto, but I never will come before you and ask for preferential support against your party principles, by reason of having voted for the bonus bill. I supported an adjusted compensation measure and will continue my support, but solely because it is an act of justice."

Senator Bursum outlined the main provisions of his new bill for adjusted compensation and said he

SOLDIER BONUS AND TARIFF ARE ISSUES--DAVIS

Republican Candidate for the United States Senate Addresses a Large Audience at Capital City.

Santa Fe, Oct. 26.—Declarations of principle, straight from the shoulder and unequivocal, were made by Judge S. B. Davis, Jr., republican nominee for United States senator, in an address delivered here tonight to a large and enthusiastic audience in the Rialto theater.

Two subjects apparently have been selected as the outstanding issues of the campaign in New Mexico, the speaker said, describing these as the adjusted compensation measure and the tariff. He said, however, that he did not regard the compensation measure as an issue between the two major parties.

"The real question before the voters is not the success of any particular individual at the polls. Ours is a government of and by parties, not of men. Therefore the question is as to which party is to be entrusted with the reins of government. We must judge parties by their records, not by their promises, as earnest of what their future courses will be."

"It is to the platforms of the parties that we must look, rather than to the preferences or beliefs of individuals. The republican party in New Mexico upon whose platform I accepted this nomination, is pledged to an adjusted compensation measure which will do justice to the men who served in the world war."

"We expect to work and vote for a measure of that kind. For my part, I will promise more, if there is another candidate, or more than one, who will promise more than is just and fair. I will not compete with such candidate or party in making promises. If there is a former service man who asks more than is just and fair, I don't believe there is—he will have to look elsewhere than to me for pledges of support."

"During the last few weeks I have been asked to pledge my support, if elected, to a number of scientific measures. I will not pledge myself to support any particular bill on any particular subject. In principle, yes; in detail, no. If I am elected, it is to be used by me as best judgment in supporting and protecting the best interests of my constituents. I do not intend to surrender to any log of using my money to any individual or group of individuals."

Three of these declarations were heartily applauded. Difference between republican and democratic principles was explained, the former party being committed to a tariff for protection, while the other stands for free trade, or, at most, a tariff for revenue only. Judge Davis said that whereas the republicans stand upon their principle of protection, the democratic candidates here in New Mexico, in so far as they depend upon votes, disregard the party pledges and stand for protection for New Mexico products, but oppose protection for products of other states.

"The republican party is not the party of any section or class, but a national party, which takes into consideration the best interests of the whole country. If protection is good for New Mexico, it is good for other states," the republican nominee said.

"When a candidate forsakes general policies and principles and expresses to his individual beliefs, frequently running contrary, he sometimes gets into trouble. When the democratic candidate for representative in congress spoke here in Santa Fe he subscribed to the democratic principles of the tariff. Later, he said that of course everybody wanted a high tariff on wool. However, he denounced as an outrage a tariff on sugar which, he said, would not benefit sugar producers in the least, but would serve only to put millions of dollars into the treasury of the sugar trusts. Yet the democratic nominee for senator, now serving in the senate, voted for that same tariff on sugar."

"There is something both sad and ludicrous in the spectacle of a democratic candidate forced to seek votes on the plea that he has supported republican measures and republican principles."

Mrs. Adeline Otero-Warren, nominee for representative, was the first speaker on the program and received a glad hand from the citizens of her home city. She discussed briefly national issues, including the tariff, taxes, the budget law, the laws to protect women in industry, the need of safeguarding health and development of children now in labor and the disposition of that gigantic area of public domain that is not subject to taxation.

C. H. Hill, nominee for governor, was introduced, but made no extended address on account of hoarseness. He received a big ovation, as did Senator H. O. Rogers, whose remarks closed the program.

AWAKENS AND FINDS AN ICE PICK BETWEEN HER SHOULDER BLADES

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Mrs. C. E. Miller, who was awakened this morning to find an ice pick between her shoulder blades, told police tonight she believed a dentist, formerly of France and said to be a rejected suitor of Mrs. Miller, might have been responsible for her experience. In addition to the slight wound inflicted, Mrs. Miller told police jewelry valued at $1,200 was missing.

Mrs. Miller said she met the dentist in Denver, Colo., three years ago. She said he possessed a power that enabled him to learn her most intimate plans and thoughts.

C. E. Miller, her husband of a year, said he was the son of a wealthy California stockman. The expectation in Rome tonight was that King Victor Emmanuel would return to the capital tomorrow for conferences with the political leaders prior to the formation of the new government. The situation was regarded hopefully in Rome. The belief prevailed in some quarters that either Vittorio Orlando or Giovanni Giolitti, both former premiers, would be requested to organize a new cabinet.

SECURITIES OF RAILROADS ARE TOPIC AT MEET

I. C. C. Throws Its Methods of Supervising Their Issue Open for Discussion Before Experts.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The Interstate Commerce Commission today threw its methods of supervising issue of railroad securities open for discussion before representative railroad officials and investment bankers, who it summoned to Washington, seeking advice particularly whether it should hereafter require of such issues the highest bidder after open competitive bidding. The latter proposal was met with emphatic objections by both railroad men and bankers, who told of her actions on the day chairman of a special committee of railroad executives appointed to formulate views challenged the legal power of the commission to institute such practice.

Otto Kahn of Kahn, Loel & Co., expressed the opinion that such a system might prove ruinous to railroads, while Jackson E. Reynolds, president of the First National bank of New York, said the commission in the matter "could do its worst and not hurt us (the bankers), but hurt the railroads."

Private Underwriting. Mr. Kahn said that the relationship of great banking houses to the railroad corporations had brought into existence the practice of private underwriting of railroad securities. He had assisted the carriers, he contended, in getting successfully floated, making up securities of a form and type to fit markets and, above all, had maintained a stable bond investment market on which railroad securities could always be bought and sold.

"For many years to come railroads will annually need large amounts of new capital," Mr. Kahn declared, "and it will be a primary consideration with the Interstate Commerce Commission to maintain the stable broad securities market, from which this capital can be drawn."

Judge Lovett spoke of the "genius which bankers have for protecting the securities market," as an important necessity in the issue of railroad securities. These issues, he said, sometimes constitute an invitation for speculators to try "bear raids" that would make it impossible to maintain prices.

Mr. Morrow supplemented Mr. Kahn's argument as to the necessity of keeping the banking machinery up to the task of distributing railroad securities. "Does the banking house which makes loans regularly to a particular railroad seek in any way to influence the management of the railroad in its transportation policy?" Commissioner Egan asked.

Outside the Banking Field. "I have never known bankers to do so," Mr. Morrow replied, "since in the matter of operations and policy a banker's advice would not be of value. The fall quite outside the banking field, perhaps, is the matter of paying dividends and correct financial matters such advice might be offered."

"When you feel that you can better size up money market conditions than the railroad officials and the bankers, assuming they are acting in good faith," John E. Oldham, Boston, told the commission in concluding the session, "then you had better take over the financial management of the railroads within your ward."

REPUBLICANS SHOW ENTHUSIASM IN THE MORA COUNTY MEETING

Special to The Journal. Wagon Mound, N. M., Oct. 26.—The Mora county republican convention, which was at the court house in Mora, N. M., Monday morning at 10 o'clock, adjourned Tuesday evening after a two days' session. Two hundred and seven delegates were in attendance at one of the most enthusiastic meetings ever held in this county. The meetings were presided over by Chairman Salsodval, with Levi Madrid as secretary. At the session Monday evening, the opening speech was made by J. Frank Curran of this place, followed by an address along educational lines by Prof. W. F. Osborne, superintendent of the local schools.

The following ticket was nominated: Commissioner, First district—Esquivala (Gallagher); commissioner, Second district—Ben Montoya; commissioner, Third district—J. B. Lamb; sheriff—Patricio Sanchez; county clerk, Levi Madrid; treasurer, Sim Calley; state representative—J. M. McNamara; representative—Pedro Sanchez; assessor—Tranquillo Roybal; county school superintendent—Louis D. Ortega; surveyor—R. K. Odell; probate judge—C. L. Fraker, Jr.

CURED BY A NATIVE HERB

On board a vessel bound for India recently a man was bitten by a poisonous reptile; both the ship doctor and a famous surgeon failed to control the poison fast spreading through his system. In a day the vessel reached port. An Indian medicine man was sent for, who produced a native herb which quickly allayed the poison and the man's life was saved.

Roots and herbs are nature's assistants in combating disease. That well-known medicine for ailments peculiar to women, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, is prepared from roots and herbs, possessing medicinal properties of great value in the treatment of such ailments. This is proved by the letters of recommendation we are continually publishing in this paper for it.—Adv.

4 WOMEN FAINT IN COURT CRUSH AT LOS ANGELES

Clara Phillips, Charged With Beating Mrs. Meadows to Death, Shows Interest in Her Trial.

Los Angeles, Oct. 26.—Clara Phillips late today for the first time showed interest in the attempt of the prosecution in making to convict her of beating Mrs. Al-herta A. Meadows, a young widow, to death with a hammer.

For nearly two days Mrs. Phillips has stared steadily at the judge's bench in the court room where she is on trial. Today she watched intently two witnesses who told of her actions on the day of the slaying and consulted frequently with her attorney.

O. L. Callahan, a guard, and Mrs. Molly Swain, a clerk at the bank where Mrs. Meadows was employed, told of visits to the bank by Mrs. Phillips on the day of the slaying and inquiries she made for Mrs. Meadows. Mrs. Swain said Mrs. Phillips requested that Mrs. Meadows be not informed of her visit, as she was a friend and had come from Arizona "to surprise her."

Mrs. Harry Warren told of seeing Mrs. Meadows and Mrs. Peggy Caffee, only known witness of the slaying, in a coupe driven by Mrs. Phillips headed in the direction of Montecito drive, where Mrs. Meadows' body was found later.

Oscar Heckman testified that when herding stock near the drive the afternoon of the slaying he had seen a woman whom he could not identify walk along that road. The wounds found upon the body of Mrs. Meadows were described to the jury in technical terms by Dr. A. F. Wagner, county autopsy surgeon. He testified that from his examination it appeared that Mrs. Meadows had put up a fight for her life.

Julius Lucas, called to identify photographs of the dead woman.

BLUE NOSE WINS SCHOONER RACE AT GLOUCESTER

Canadian Boat Is Again
Champion of the International Fishing Fleets; Defeats the Henry Ford.

Gloicester, Mass., Oct. 26 (by the Associated Press).—The schooner Blue Nose of Canada is again champion of the international fishing fleets. Captain Angus Walters and his fellow Lunenburgers today scored a second success against the Henry Ford, American challenger, and Captain Clayton Morley and his crew of Gloucestermen. The margin was one of seven minutes, 51 seconds, about the same as the Blue Nose lead of yesterday. While the Gloucester boat, in fact, won two races, the first was declared unofficial.

Captain Morley himself took little part in today's activities because of a recurring illness. In his place Captain Al Malloch, one of Gloucester's hardest drivers, had the wheel much of the time.

Today's was another smashing contest. A northwester that ran from a moderate speed, started up to 23 knots, blew the boats about the forty-mile course in the fastest time attained to date, four hours, 48 minutes, 28 seconds for the Blue Nose; four hours, 55 minutes, 29 seconds for the Henry Ford. This was an average speed for the winning schooner of 7.2 minutes to the mile.

The CANNING BEEHIVE

This season may prove to be a lean year for Jack Wilce and his Ohio State grid team. Judging by Ohio's showing against the Michigan eleven Wilce has a task ahead to develop a line and interference that can hold the opposition and give his good backfield a chance to move down the field. But such a year will only call to mind the success Wilce has had at State.

Wilce began his activities with the Buckeyes when State joined the conference. For three years Wilce labored hard with his material and in instilling his system into the school candidates. Then in 1919 he won the Big Ten title. The following year he repeated, going through a season without a defeat. After losing the championship in 1921 by a matter of seconds, he regained the crown in 1922. Last year State lost the title by going down to defeat in the final game with Illinois after maintaining a clean slate up to that game.

In conference games alone, up to the opening of the present season, Wilce had directed the team to twenty-five victories out of thirty-six contests. Of the sixty-five games played against conference and outside opponents Wilce's men had won fifty, lost twelve and tied three. Since 1913 the Scarlet and Gray has scored 1,487 points while holding the opposition to 271 points.

Which is a record of which Wilce and O. S. U. may well be proud.

PRINCETON AND CHICAGO TEAMS CLASH SATURDAY

Invading Tiger Eleven Is Causing Anxiety Among Followers of Football in the Windy City.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Chicago will enter the big inter-sectional football game with Princeton on Stagg field here Saturday afternoon as the "mystery" team of the western conference, a team of hidden power, which is just as A. Alois Stagg, the 41-year-old coach of the Maroons, has planned.

Not one of the 32,000 persons lucky enough to hold a ticket for the game could figure out tonight whether the Maroons have a high level of polished open attack up their sleeve, or whether Stagg plans to win by straight football tactics, with a few simple plays which he has shown in the three games this season.

Chicago triumphed over Georgia, Northwestern and Purdue while in second speed and football observers are of the opinion that Stagg has developed one of the best teams that has trod the Chicago field in years.

Followers of the Maroons tonight admitted that few teams have appeared on Stagg field in years that have caused as much anxiety as the invading Tiger eleven. A team a thousand miles away from home for the first time in history, with the sting of 9 to 0 defeat a year ago still ranking in their hearts, is counted on to play superb football.

Situation Reversed.
The situation will be exactly reversed over last year when the Maroons take the field. In the 1921 game the Maroons, with everything to win and nothing to lose—started like a proverbial house afire, sweeping the confident Tigers off their feet, this year Princeton is out for revenge.

Chicago's line, which made a creditable showing against Princeton last year, appears to be a trifle stronger this season. Kins, weighing 236 pounds, is tower of strength at center. His passing has been accurate and reliable at all times. He is well supported on either side by Captain Lewis, Gowdy, Rhorke, Fletcher and Pondell.

The Maroons are heavily stocked with backfield material, the quarterback position being the only spot causing Stagg any worry. Johnny Thomas and Zorn may alternate at fullback, while Harry Thomas, Caruso, Leggett, Pryor and Byler, all are likely to get into the game as backs.

Zorn and Thomas are regarded as the battering rams of the team. It was Thomas who scored the touchdown against Princeton a year ago.

McMasters or Helle are favored to start at quarter, with Burgess in reserve. Helle has displayed most speed in running the team, although there is little to choose between him and McMasters.

May Spring Surprises.
Stagg is known to be ready to spring surprises if necessary. Last year Princeton prepared against aerial play and was beaten by straight football. This year the easterners may have changed their style of defensive play and strengthened their ramparts to resist the plunges of Thomas and Zorn.

With a record in past seasons of brilliant forward passing, Stagg has kept this department of the Maroons' play completely under cover this season.

If the game develops into a battle of passes, Strohmeler and Dickson who are scheduled to start as ends will figure prominently. Strohmeler is rated as one of the fastest ends in the conference and will prove of value on the receiving end of Prott's passes.

EVERY SEAT TO GRIDIRON GAME HAS BEEN SOLD

Thousands of Additional Fans Are Trying to Find a Way to See Chicago and Tigers Play Saturday

Chicago, Oct. 26.—With every seat to the University of Chicago-Princeton game sold and thousands of disappointed fans trying to find a way to witness the game, government agents today renewed their drive against ticket scalpers, preying on football enthusiasts.

Twelve John Doe warrants were issued by United States Commissioner Mason in connection with the sale of unstamped tickets to the game by speculators. The laws require that excess prices for tickets be stamped on the back, the government collecting half the excess. University of Chicago officials last Saturday refused to admit holders of such stamped tickets and three purchasers of tickets from speculators yesterday filed suits aggregating $59,000 against the university.

F. J. Busbey and Frank Schaeffer were arrested by deputy United States marshals today, charged with having sold tickets to the Princeton game at $15 each and failing to stamp name and price on the backs of the pasteboards.

COTTON EXPORTS.
Washington, Oct. 26.—Cotton exports in September totaled 268,897 bales, valued at $42,799,743, compared with 251,831 bales valued at $43,252,554 in September, 1921. For the nine months ended with September exports amounted to 2,849,366 bales, valued at $300,375,748, as against 4,311,075 bales of a value of $317,184,580 in the corresponding period of 1921.

BIG DEMOCRATIC DAY Saturday, October 28th TAG DAY

On Saturday (tomorrow) the fair misses and Mrs. of the Democratic Party will do their bit toward the election of the State and County Ticket by offering you a tag—and a smile. The smile will be worth the money. The tag will show you that your sympathies are with the cause. Your money will do the practical work of guarding the polls in the weak precincts. Quarters will help if you have no dollars. There should be many fives and tens—we mean dollars, not cents—if the party is to function properly on election day.

Do you believe this should be a government of the people? Then the people should finance the elections and obligate the parties to the people. If a few finance a campaign, the party obligation is to them. Help popularize our government by lending financial and moral support to this movement.

REPUBLICAN LEGISLATION

By Frank Staplin, Republican Publicity Manager.

The republican party "points with pride" to its record of 100 per cent fulfillment of the pledges made in its 1920 platform by the last session of the state legislature. The laws proposed in the platform and enacted by that legislature include the following:

A law preventing forfeiture and cancellation of state land contracts and providing a just method of assessing owners equities in such contracts.

An improved highway law, limiting the overhead costs to the minimum.

The abolition of mounted police.

The blue sky law to protect the people of the state against worthless securities.

An act providing equal powers, rights and duties in the parents of minor children.

A stringent law against vice and gambling.

A game commission law making provision for a fish hatchery with which to stock the streams of our state.

A department of public welfare.

An act abolishing the legal adviser to the governor, an office created at the solicitation and request of a democratic executive.

An act limiting the hours of employment of women engaged in manual labor.

A child labor law.

An act appointing a commissioner to represent New Mexico in the settlement of rights to the use of the waters of the Colorado and San Juan rivers.

The enactment of these laws involve the abolishing of 53 appointive offices, with salaries ranging from $1500 to $2500 per year.

This record of fulfillment is a guarantee to the people of New Mexico that the republican candidates of the present year, if elected, will carry out the pledges made for them in the party platform, as well as the declarations and pledges by the individual candidates relative to their conduct of the offices to which they aspire.

The platform of the present year pledges the party to the strictest possible economy in the administration of state affairs, and the economical conduct of all of the state offices for the past 5 years is a guarantee that this pledge will be executed, and the present economical conduct of these offices continued.

98 Out of Every 100 Women Benefited

An Absolutely Reliable Statement Important to Every Woman

Remarkable Results Shown by a Nation Wide Canvass of Women Purchasers of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. 50,000 Women Answered

For some time a circular has been enclosed with each bottle of our medicine bearing this question: "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

Replies, to date, have been received from over 50,000 women answering that question.

98 per cent of which say YES. That means that 98 out of every 100 women who take the medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This is a most remarkable record of efficiency. We doubt if any other medicine in the world equals it.

Think of it—only two women out of 100 received no benefit—98 successes out of a possible 100.

Did you ever hear of anything like it? We must admit that we, ourselves, are astonished.

Such evidence should induce every woman suffering from any ailment peculiar to her sex to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and see if she can't be one of the 98 THE LYDIA E. PINKHAM MEDICINE CO., Lynn, Mass.

Of course we know that our medicine does benefit the large majority of women who take it. But that only two out of 100 received no benefit is most astonishing.

It only goes to prove, however, that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments—not a cure all—one that is made by the most scientific process; not from drugs, but from a combination of nature's roots and herbs, can and does do more good than hastily prepared prescriptions.

You see, we have been making, improving and refining this medicine for over 50 years until it is so perfect and so well adapted to women's needs that it actually has the virtue to benefit 98 out of every 100 women who take it.

Its reliability and recognized efficiency has gained for it a sale in almost every country in the world—leading all others.

Public Now Prefers Vegetable Laxatives

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin affords prompt relief in a natural way.

THE public is constantly becoming more discriminating in its choice of things. Those subject to constipation try to learn what makes them constipated, and then avoid it. If constipation persists in spite of all their efforts they take the mildest, most easily tolerated laxative obtainable, and not a drastic physic that upsets them for days afterwards. As over 10 million bottles of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin are sold a year, a large proportion of the people of this country must believe that this mild vegetable compound is the proper remedy for them, and so it is. No need to take salt water and powders that dry up the blood; coal-tar drugs in candy form that produce skin eruptions, or calomel that salivates. These drugs are "heroic measures", over-effective, weakening and griping.

THE BEST constipation remedy is the one that moves the bowels without shock to your system, and such a one is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is a vegetable

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

"Thousands of parents are asking themselves, 'Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?' I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!"

compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics, and has been satisfactorily sold for 30 years. Unlike the harsher physics it does not produce a habit, and increased doses are not required; in fact, it so trains the stomach muscles that in time medicines of all kinds can be dispensed with.

Many take a teaspoonful of Syrup Pepsin once a week as a health safeguard. Others use it only when required, as, for example, Mrs. J. W. Burroughs of Little Rock, Ark., who finds it equally valuable for herself and the children, and Mr. Enas S. Costa of Watsonville, Cal., whose family uses it regularly. Try Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in constipation, biliousness, piles, headaches, sallow complexion, and to break up fevers and colds. A generous-size bottle can be had at any drug store, and it costs only about a cent a dose!

Dear Neils.

In reply to your letter would state that the land selected for Etchevary is now ready for lease, I found the application and gave it filled out just what was selected, these are 1120.21 acres, and the amount of rental at 3 cents per acre will amount to $33.61 which please send in and we will make you the lease, as to the new selection, fill out the inclosed non-mineral and return them, and also send in the reling. I wish you could have waited until after the election, then I can do as I want to, but I will try and get this for you anyway, I put it in some one elses name, so the old fool will not know who it is for, I will work it out someway.

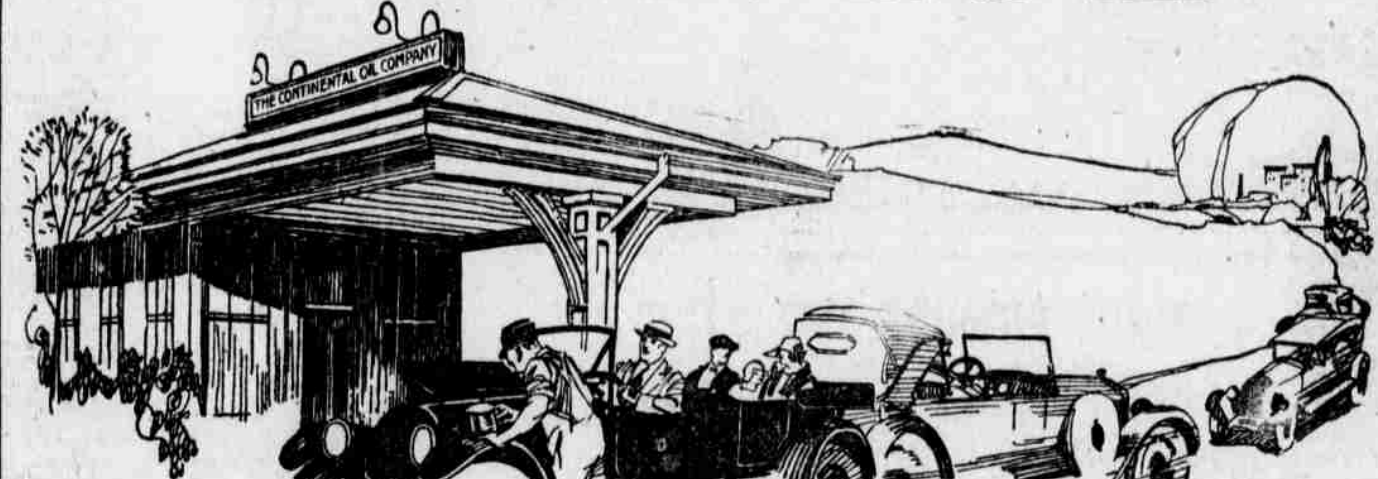

Truly yours,

J. Muller

It will be noted that the writer felt there was something objectionable in this transaction involving public lands and that he tells of resorting to a ruse to prevent "the old fool" from knowing the nature of the deal.—(Political Advertisement)

CALOMEL IS A DANGEROUS DRUG

Next Dose may Salivate You, Loosen Teeth or Start Rheumatism

Calomel is mercury; quicksilver. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your drugstore and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a cure. It is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day; it loses you a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—Adv.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT

That which we call American is the essence of many characters. The legend of a Washington or of a Lincoln is the memorial of a past which, given life through interpretation, is our Today.

Theodore Roosevelt, whose birth occurred sixty-three years ago, contributed his character to the national expression. Far greater than the mere political success of his career is the legend of that Roosevelt, faulty as all may be, wrong sometimes and right often, who was so vigorous a prophet of virile manhood and constructive citizenship. Mistakes he made, but they were not mistakes of purpose.

Time softens the memory of animosities; Roosevelt, not yet far distant from us, has those who still deary him. But time has a way of etching its permanent pictures out of a blur of contradictions. Today the Roosevelt of national memory is already taking on sharper lines, the figure becomes more rugged, the tense expression more compelling, the whole embodiment something of greater and enduring youthfulness than that day when his quick passing shocked the world.

From the best of these, the Roosevelts and the others, comes our best heritage. Each age expresses itself through its leaders and, frequently, so little does the crowd know itself, is surprised at the echo. They bridge time for us, identifying the whole people with those larger works their leadership enables them to achieve. He who leads most truly and is remembered most gratefully is he who was, even for an hour, the people and spoke their voice.

Such on more than one occasion was Theodore Roosevelt. The nation which accorded him the sublimity of that privilege recalls his devoted memory with abiding respect and affection. "The evil that men do lives after them; the good is often interred with their bones"; is a false word in this land. Here we forgive honest ill and take that which is good to bulwark the foundations of our faith.

THE NAVY FOREVER

This is Navy Day, observed as such throughout the land. It is well and fitting that one day each year should be devoted to honoring America's naval heroes, past and present. Their deeds have become imperishable history.

The navy rendered vital service to the nation and to humanity during the World war. No great fleet action was fought to give spectacular emphasis to its vital contribution to the victory. But the navy, the anti-submarine patrol, the mine barrage were essential factors in the winning of the war and the saving of civilization. So it has been in every crisis of our history—the navy has not failed. In the Revolution, the War of 1812, the Civil war, the Spanish-American war, victory without the navy would have been virtually impossible. Today our peace and prosperity are safeguarded by the navy. It is an agent of stability in a troubled world. It carries no threat, but it lends authority to America's voice, speaking for altruism, justice and law.

On this Navy Day let us celebrate the consecration to duty of the personnel of the present navy, the glorious services rendered to the nation by the navy of the past. Let us emphasize its unity with every interest and activity of the national life. The navy has played no small part in the progress of America to its present state and influence.

While believing in and supporting the policy of reduction of armaments by agreement, let us reject as absurd the fatuity of disarmament by example. Living in a world of reality, let us foster the instrument of our security while looking forward to the realization of the ideal not yet attained when the only security needed by mankind shall rest in the hearts and minds of men and nations.

UNHEEDED WARNINGS.

"Vesuvius will be in a state of active eruption within two or three years," says Professor Henry S. Washington of the Carnegie Institute, who has just returned from Italy. "When I left Naples, the crater of the volcano had filled up from a depth of 1,200 feet to within 300 feet of the rim."

Will this warning of impending disaster bring consternation to the inhabitants of the villages on the sides of Mt. Vesuvius, causing them to flee to a place of safety while there is yet time? It will not. In spite of the fact that Vesuvius is the best advertised volcano in the world, and one of the most destructive, there are numerous towns and villages clustered around the base and on the sides of the mountain. Excavations at Pompeii have shown that not one city but a series have been buried beneath volcanic ashes at that spot.

Through ignorance or sheer inertia, thousands of people will continue to court disaster by living on the edge of the volcano. It is a habit which appears to be an instinct in the human race. Again and again in the world's history, the great volcano has poured forth destruction upon the human race, yet it continues to dwell on the dangerous ground of hatred and suspicion and mutual antagonism.

Either some means must be found to extinguish the volcano, or the race must move forward a great deal.

DUG OUT BY ROOT

Chicagoans who attended Conan Doyle's scenes are unable to determine whether it was spirits or Sir Arthur's purple socks and tie that made the mysterious noises.

"Get out of here," the spook exclaimed. "with that pink cravat. It upsets my ghostly aura. I'll tell you where I'm at."

"There's other spirits in this room," declared a spooky kicker. "I am a prohibitionist, and I cannot stand for liquor."

"Shut up," bawled out another ghost, poised on a dead man's locker. "I may believe in rapping, but I can't stand for a knocker."

The Conventional Cows.

A news dispatch from Oklahoma says: "The cows saw the bride and groom alight from the back of a freight train, and being unused to such sights, at once took them to the county jail."

"Boys will be boys" is an old saying, but a good many of the girls from 18 to 30, seem to want to be boys too, judging by their clothes.

There's a colored baseball club in Kansas City that has cleaned up every club it has met. The Kansas City Star thinks it could win the world's championship. The team is beating the white man at his own game.

Albuquerque Twenty Years Ago

The largest herd of cattle which has ever left Mexico in a single herd, is soon to be driven from the Hearst ranch in Chihuahua, known as the Babicora ranch, to Deming, New Mexico. The herd consists of 20,000 head of cattle and a bunch of fine horses.

Mrs. M. Armer, of Kingston, New Mexico, took the first two prizes for Angora goats in the National Livestock Show in Kansas City last week, while D. C. Taylor of Lake Valley, N. M., took one first prize and made the record sale of the show. Taylor sold a 2-year-old buck for $1,400.

Mrs. Edward Grunfeld returned last night from Las Vegas, where she made a brief visit to friends.

Paul Kempenich of Peralta was calling on friends in Albuquerque yesterday.

F. C. Reid, a well known citizen of Flagstaff, was in the city over Sunday.

Professor John Douglas Walker, who has undertaken to coach the university football team through the season, expects to get his men out this afternoon and get a first line on the material he will have to work with. Games in view are with Santa Fe Indian School and the Agricultural College.

Bert Vorhes is now an Elk, horns, hoof and all. It happened at the regular meeting Saturday night and Mr. Vorhes was the only candidate.

TODAY'S BEST THOUGHT

"Persons who are to transform the world must be themselves transformed. Life must be full of inspiration. If education is valuable, the age must double it; if art is sweet and high, we must double its richness and might; if philanthropy is divine, we must double its quantity and tenderness; if religion is valuable, double its truths and hasten with it unto more firesides; if man's life is great, let him count more precious all its summers and winters. The one duty of life is, lessen every vice and enlarge every virtue."

Fred Feenot Among the Plotters

Scene, a dark night.

Fred Feenot. Wat are those 2 men whispering about behind your tree? I wouldn't be a bit surprised if some mischief was afoot. Well, I'll take a chance and listen.

Fred Feenot. All right then, Bill at the stroke of midnight will put the bomb under the Queens bed and the next thing she knows will be nothing.

2nd plotter. Don't forget, Mike.

Fred Feenot. (muttering) Chew! First plotter. Grab him, Mike.

2nd plotter. I got him, Mike. He is nothing only a meek boy.

Fred Feenot. I don't care how meek he is, if he don't swear not to breathe a word of what he heard tonight we'll clear him with this chloroform and then drop him into that nearby river. Swear, young fellow.

2nd plotter. Swear.

Fred Feenot. All right, seeing you have me at your mercy I'll swear not to breathe a word.

Fred Feenot. It's the luckiest swear for you that you ever swore. Now be gone.

Fred Feenot. I will, thanks. And now that I'm about a block away I'll tell you what I want to breathe a word but I'll tell the police all the words I want to the police in about 5 minutes.

Fred Feenot. 2nd plotter. Felled, baffled, tricked.

Wall Street.
New York, Oct. 26.—Speculators succeeded in forcing another matter in the stock market, being aided in their operations by higher money rates, further liquidation on the part of disappointed traders and smart investors, another drop in United States government bond prices and the lack of effective public support. It was the tenth consecutive day of reaction.

Industrial stocks, in which there had been heavy speculation during the last month, again suffered the most. Railroad shares, which have been holding up well in the face of heavy selling pressure in other parts of the list, also participated in today's reaction. Participating, Lackawanna and Rock Island all dropping more than three points.

Mexican Petroleum was one of the outstanding weak spots, dropping more than eight points on a comparatively small turnover. Standard Oil of New Jersey dropped four points, partly in response to a cut of 1½ cents a gallon for gasoline.

American Locomotive, in which a brief rally was staged yesterday afternoon, lost more than three points today.

Reports of improved conditions in the steel industry were disregarded by the steel stocks, which continued their downward course. Speculative disappointment over the failure of the directors of the Consolidated Gas company to make an extra distribution at this time found expression in the heavy offering of that stock, which dropped 5½ points after having enjoyed several days of strength in the "bear" movement. Total sales were 1,116,000 shares.

Call money opened at 4½ per cent and advanced successively to 5½, 5¾ and 6, where it closed. Withdrawal of $11,000,000 in government deposits and the calling of loans by local and interior banks was responsible for the higher rate.

French, Belgian and Italian exchanges fell to new low records for the year, but rallied later on short covering of contracts.

AUTO TRAMPS STEAL EVERYTHING THEY CAN REACH—POLICE

The Home Oil and Supply company of 1709 North Fourth street has reported that thieves a few nights ago went to its plant and stole about 83 gallons of gasoline by forcing the lock on a pump.

There was evidence that the thieves had tried to syphon the gas out with a hose. Stealing of gasoline from trucks and large cars is being reported frequently, according to the police. The number of automobile tramps—travelers who are broke and who make their way by petty thievery—is growing greater every day, and with winter approaching, the police look for more of them to come this way. People of this type have a habit of picking up all the spare tires, parts and tools they can, and either use them or trade them for gas at other points along the way.

RIFLE CLUB TO HOLD CONTESTS ON SUNDAY

A contest match for the Matson cup will be held by the Duke City Rifle club at the range, beginning at 9:30 Sunday forenoon. The cup was first won by C. A. Hall in 1918. F. E. Anderson won it in 1919 and L. B. Acison in 1920. In 1921 it went to R. G. Sutherland. The shooting will be over 500, 500 and 600-yard ranges.

There will also be a contest for the bronze medal offered by the National Rifle association over 500-yard rapid fire and 300 and 500-yard slow fire courses. This medal was won by C. H. Grossman last season.

The Matson cup is on exhibition in the show window of Matson's store.

REORGANIZATION OF HOPE'S BANK NOW UNDER WAY

Meeting of Citizens and Officials Shows That Institution Is Short $104,000 on the Books

Special to The Journal

Hope, N. M., Oct. 26.—A meeting of the citizens of Hope and First National bank officials regarding the shortage of the wrecked bank and the reorganization of a new bank, disclosed the fact that after all collateral and bonds had been accounted for, the shortage was $104,000. Two weeks ago the United States marshal placed Assistant Cashier Leon Fletcher under arrest and his bond was made $15,000. The bond was given by two Hope men. This afternoon one of the bondsmen gave him up and he was again placed under arrest and is now in the hands of the United States commissioner, S. G. Watson. Up to the present, nothing has been heard of the cashier, Hugh M. Gage.

TYPHOID CARRIERS WARNED TO PROTECT HEALTH OF PUBLIC

The public health department, for the safety of the public, is instructing typhoid convalescents on how to avoid the spread of the disease. Dr. O. C. West, director of the department, is handing the following printed instructions to those now recovering from typhoid:

"Typhoid convalescents and carriers are potential carriers until the presence of the disease in the body has disappeared. This can only be shown by repeated laboratory tests.

"1. You must not have anything to do with food or drink to be used by others, either in your business or at home. Don't go to the ice box or refrigerator. If you leave any food or drink, it must be thrown out and not used by others.

"2. Every movement from your house must be made in a toilet flushed with water and connected with a sewer must be disinfected. Keep a supply of good disinfectant such as chlorox, of lime, cresol, etc., on hand for this purpose. When a toilet with running water is used, thoroughly clean the bowl daily.

"3. After using the toilet, wash the hands with plenty of soap and water. Do this every time. Dry your hands well. Do not let other people use your towel.

"4. Do not have a movement of your bowels except at a rearer toilet. Try not to use the toilet away from home during the day. If you have only an outdoor privy, keep it disinfected all the time and screened from flies.

"5. Keep yourself and everything about you very clean. Disinfect your underclothing before sending it to the laundry.

"6. Every person with whom you live should be immunized against typhoid fever.

"7. Keep the health department informed of your whereabouts. Call for a personal talk and advice. This department will see that your stools are examined from time to time."

DRIVER OF CAR THAT HURT BOY IS DISMISSED

Charge of Reckless Driving, Against R. A. Bradshaw, Following Mishap to Armijo Lad, Dropped.

After a hearing yesterday afternoon, Police Judge George Roddy dismissed the charge of reckless driving that had been preferred against R. A. Bradshaw after the accident on the previous day in which Bradshaw's car struck Alfonso Armijo, a 12-year-old boy. Bradshaw, Mrs. Fred Winsor, who was with him in the car, and H. L. Hahn, a witness to the accident from a car standing in the street, testified that Bradshaw was not driving faster than ten or fifteen miles an hour, that his car was under control, that he stopped it within a car's length, and that the boy ran suddenly into the street immediately in front of the approaching auto. Hahn said the boy was looking in the opposite direction, and, in fact, ran into the radiator. Mrs. Catherine Delaney said she saw the accident from the street and believed the car could have been stopped in time to avoid hitting the boy. She said Bradshaw was not driving fast.

Donald Toulouse said he saw the boy just as the car passed over him. He thought there was a double line of parked cars. Other witnesses denied there was double parking. All the testimony showed the accident occurred in the middle of the 400 block on West Central avenue, and that the boy had darted out from behind an automobile.

Alberto Armijo, father of the injured boy, questioned some of the witnesses to learn if Bradshaw had sounded his horn. All who were asked this question replied that he had not, and all but one declared that he would not have had time to do so.

The boy was reported last night as getting along nicely.

A vote for the republican ticket is a vote for the ascendancy of Frank A. Hubbell.—Adv.
