BUSINESS IS ON THE MEND, SAYS MEYER AFTER A 3-WEEKS' TOUR

Conditions Are Better Except Where Interfered With by Car Shortages and Other Handicaps.

WILL MOVE CATTLE INTO OLD MEXICO

Drought in West Texas and New Mexico Makes This Action Necessary; Farmers Are Paying Off Debts

Washington, Oct. 30.—General business conditions throughout the west are "enormously improved" over a year ago, Eugene Meyer, Jr., managing director of the War Finance corporation, declared today after a three weeks' tour of six western states.

General business in the west, he said, is on the mend, except where it is interfered with by car shortages and where local conditions have taken their toll.

In New Mexico and western Texas, he said, the drought had been severe, but arrangements have been made for what will probably be the largest cattle movement in the history of the country to move the cattle from the drought-stricken areas into Old Mexico and neighboring states where there is feed and water.

In the inter-mountain district the surplus potato crop has been severely affected, Mr. Meyer noted, while in the northwest the lack of cars has hampered the wheat movement.

Otherwise, he asserted, conditions are improved and the sheep and wool industries are in satisfactory condition and the feeding of cattle in the corn belt is satisfactory.

Mr. Meyer reported a growth in the support given co-operative marketing associations by private banking interests, which, he maintained, lessened the call on war finance corporation funds and reflected the spread of the co-operative idea.

Also, he declared, the farmers throughout the west were evidencing a tendency to pay off their debts which has been reflected in the corporations' statements.

At $12,000,000 to $15,000,000 monthly.

TEXAS SENATORIAL MIXUP SHOWS LITTLE SIGN OF CLEARING UP

Austin, Texas, Oct. 30.—The senatorial mixup showed little sign of clearing up here today. Although it is understood the attorney general's department is planning action opposing the temporary injunction granted in the seventeenth district court at Fairchild proceedings had been filed in the supreme court tonight.

Both Attorney General Keeling and Secretary of State Staples have received notice of the motion filed in the Dallas court of civil appeals today seeking to cite them for contempt of court. The motion is based on the notice to election officials Saturday advising them to place the name of Earl R. Mayfield as the democratic candidate for senator on the November ballot.

Until the Dallas court passes upon the motion, no action will be taken by the state, Keeling said.

Incidents from county officials continue to come to both state officials, asking what should be done in printing election ballots. The county officers were advised to hold up printing if possible. Some counties are proceeding with printing the ballots, it was said.

U. S. REPUBLICS TO ALLIES' BID TO PEACE MEETING

America Is Desirous Only of Sending Observers to the Lausanne Conference, France Is Told.

Paris, Oct. 30 (by the Associated Press).—The attitude of the American government as regards the peace conference at Lausanne for the settlement of Near Eastern questions was communicated to Premier Poincaré this evening by the American ambassador, Myron T. Herrick. The substance of this communication, which was made public at the evening session of the United States is desirous only of sending observers to the proposed conference for the purpose of safeguarding certain rights such as protection of philanthropic, educational and religious institutions, freedom of opportunity, protection of minorities, freedom of the straits and archaeological research and study.

After pointing out that the principal purpose of this proposed conference will be the drawing up of a treaty of peace with Turkey and dealing with problems resulting from the state of belligerence between the allied powers, Turkey and Greece, the communication says: "The United States does not desire to participate in the final peace negotiations nor assume responsibility for the political and territorial adjustments which may be effected, for the reason that it is neither at war with Turkey nor party to the armistice of 1918. The United States government, however, does not desire to leave the impression that United States interests are being omitted to consideration than those of any other power; neither is it desirous of relinquishing rights enjoyed in common with other powers nor is it unacquainted with the humanitarian interests involved."

"Among the points to be taken into consideration are:
"First, the protection under proper guarantees of philanthropic, educational and religious institutions.

"Second, appropriate undertakings as regards freedom of opportunity, without discrimination, of special privileges for commercial purposes.

"Third, suitable provisions for the protection of minorities.

"Fourth, assurances touching the freedom of the straits.

"Fifth, reasonable opportunity for archaeological research and study.

"The above summary, though not exhaustive, may serve to indicate the general nature of American interests. The United States government is prepared to send observers to the proposed conference, if this action is agreeable to the powers concerned, for the purpose of safeguarding interests such as the above and to facilitate the exchange of views.

"The United States, while it desires to protect its rights and assure a policy of open door, has no intention of seeking for itself or its nationals a position of special privilege. It further desires to assure the protection of Americans who wish to continue relief, educational or other humanitarian work which has been carried on in the Near East for years and which room under present conditions would appear to be more essential than ever."

BURCH WATCHED KENNEDY FROM ROOM IN HOTEL

Prosecution Witnesses Describe Actions of Accused Man for Several Days Prior to the Slaying.

Los Angeles, Calif., Oct. 30.—The watch that Arthur G. Burch, on trial for the third time for the murder of J. Edgar Kennedy, is alleged to have maintained over Kennedy for several days prior to the slaying August 5th, was described by the jury by prosecution witnesses today.

J. P. McLaren, who had offices in the same building with Kennedy, testified that on several occasions he saw Burch sitting in his room in the "L" across the street and looking in the direction of the Kennedy offices.

Burch rented an automobile under an assumed name the night of the slaying, Lynn C. Keith, a garage employee testified. Other employees of the garage told of renting cars to Burch on previous occasions.

Burch offered a bonus for the room that was rented to him and spent considerable time sitting near the window, according to the testimony of Thomas L. Hoyle, proprietor of the hotel. He also testified that Burch asked permission for his "cousin" to visit him in his room and during his stay received several telephone calls from the "cousin." The state contends that the "cousin" was Mrs. Madalynne Oberbach, codefendant, and Kennedy's sweetheart.

LINCOLN LAUDED BY CONFEDERATE VETS

Kansas City, Mo., Oct. 30.—Abraham Lincoln was endorsed as "one of the greatest and noblest Americans who ever lived" in resolutions proposed here today at the annual reunion of the United Confederate Veterans of Missouri. The veterans convened today for a two-day session.

"We want the world to know," said A. A. Pearson, brigadier general of the Missouri organization, "that the majority of the Confederate veterans believe that Lincoln was one of the greatest and noblest Americans who ever lived. We think that the recent criticism of Lincoln is unfounded and foolish."

GRAIN FUTURES LAW ATTACKED IN U. S. COURT

Chicago Board of Trade Asks for an Injunction to Prevent the Government From Enforcing the Act.

Chicago, Oct. 30.—The Chicago Board of Trade today made its first move to test the constitutionality of the grain futures act when it filed in the federal district court here a petition for injunction restraining the government from enforcing the provisions of the act.

District Judge Carpenter issued a stay order preventing enforcement of the act until November 15, when he will hear the petition for a temporary injunction against enforcement of the regulating act. The law, enacted to take the place of the former Capper-Tamm act declared unconstitutional by the supreme court, was passed to become effective November 1.

The bill of complaint, filed by Henry S. Robbins, counsel for the board, charges that the law seeks to regulate interstate commerce, trade that is wholly state; that it interferes with state rights to govern exchange; and that it seeks to deprive board members of their property by admitting representatives of co-operative bodies and permitting the into rebate commissions in violation of rules observed by other members.

Further charges of unconstitutionality are made on the ground that the law makes violation of its provisions a crime "and constitutes a deprivation of property without compensation or just compensation, in violation of the fifth amendment to the constitution."

Other sections granting wide powers of control to the secretary of agriculture, who is given authority to designate what exchanges shall or shall not be contract markets, are attacked as unconstitutional.

Fear of what might result from the drastic provisions of the act, the board says, is causing a "serious disturbance of the grain markets of the country."

"Many owners of grain," it states, "will be deprived of the privilege of securing themselves against fluctuations through hedging contracts and irreparable loss to members and others would result."

Alleged Marketing Evils. Statements contained in the act, it says, are "grossly misleading and are calculated to induce the public to believe that the exchange is 'inaccurate.' These assertions of supposed evils, the board says, were discovered at the numerous hearings on the bill.

"Statements before committees did not show that the transactions and prices of grain in future trading are susceptible to manipulation or control, to the detriment of producers and consumers," the complaint says. The statement did show, it continues, "that such fluctuations as do occur are not and never have been caused by the exchange, but are the result of the numerous interstate commerce in grain."

The suit which resulted in the former law being declared unconstitutional was brought by Judge Hays, who presided over the exchange, but Chief Justice Taft declared in the decision that the board itself should have contested the law. Such a policy is being followed by the board in the present fight.

The approval of the other grain exchanges.

INVESTIGATION OF FATAL SHOOTING OF 2 MAY BE REOPENED

Have, Mont., Oct. 30 (by the Associated Press).—Investigation of the fatal shooting of the Rev. Leonard J. Chelton, pastor of the Holy Trinity Catholic church, and of Mrs. Margaret Carleton, wife of a former district judge and a member of the Holy Trinity congregation, in the Christ the King home in Havre, Mont., on Friday morning, will be reopened if new evidence to contradict that already produced can be found by interested parties, says County Attorney Max Kuhre, announcing today that the jury sitting Saturday night found that Mrs. Carleton had done the shooting, but that Joseph Pyle of Butte, Mrs. Carleton's mother, does not accept the verdict as final, and is endeavoring to find new evidence.

Mr. Pyle, Butte mining man, who was in New York at the time, reached Havre this afternoon and began a study of the situation with Mrs. Pyle. He stated that he was not yet in a position to state what course he will advise Mrs. Pyle to pursue.

LOCHENFELD CABINET IN BAVARIA RESIGNS

Berlin, Oct. 30.—The Bavarian cabinet, headed by Count Hugo Lochenfeld, and minister of the interior, resigned today. The diet will be convened immediately to elect a new prime minister.

A dispatch from Berlin last week said the resignation of Count Lochenfeld was declared to be imminent, owing to difficulties with the agrarian party arising from the premier's recent economic proposals. These proposals, according to the Neueste Nachrichten of Munich, would mean state socialism and have a vital effect on the production and distribution of goods.

INDICTMENT DISMISSED

St. Louis, Oct. 30.—(By the Associated Press).—The indictment against Harry Turner, editor of a semi-monthly publication, and George V. Halliday, bankrupt broker, charging them with passing counterfeit gold bond certificate imitations of those put forth by the French government, was dismissed in federal court today, when Judge Farris sustained a demurrer filed by the defense.

King Wants Pretty U. S. Bride, But Wealth Is No Objection

(By Central Press).
London, Oct. 30.—King Boris III of Bulgaria wants an American wife, a girl from the U. S. A., to be his queen and grace his throne.

But, of course, is somewhat particular about the qualifications of the candidates for a half interest in the Bulgarian throne. Most any king is liable to be.

First, all candidates must be pretty. That's reasonable. And, again, they must be well educated. That shows good sense even for a king.

Of course, if the candidate possessed both these and the same time was afflicted with a large and untidy fortune the latter would not be so objectionable as to eliminate her from consideration. In fact, though Boris doesn't say so, it might even count a wee bit in her favor.

Some time back Boris made a visit to England. He met Princess Mary. This was before her marriage, but somehow or other the natives here couldn't get excited about seeing an English princess on the Bulgarian throne.

However, now that Boris has announced his desire for an American wife, the newspapers here, with much ado and more eclat, are engaged in the pleasant pastime of picking candidates for his Bulgarian highness.

The consensus of opinion seems to be that Miss Grace Vanderbilt could act the role of "Queen of Bulgaria" with creditable fitness. Or perhaps Mariel Astor or Millicent Rogers. The latter is a recent Washington, D. C., debutante. Says one paper:

"They are charming, well educated and not overdone in the ways of pomp and ceremony, having been recently presented at the court."

That should make it simple for Boris. But he's inclined to be a rather different sort of king, a regular fellow and a real man, and if he goes through with his announced intention of visiting America it is just possible that he might pick a native actress or perhaps the comely daughter of an American mechanic or tradesman.

RAILROADS NOT OVERVALUED BY I. C. C., CLAIMS

Transportation Act Neither Validated Watered Stock Nor Caused an Increase in Freight Rates.

Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 30.—It is a moral and economic crime to say that the Interstate Commerce commission overvalued the nation's railroads seven or eight billion dollars, Senator A. R. Cummins declared in a banquet address here tonight.

The transportation act, otherwise known as the Esch-Cummins act, neither validated watered stock for the roads, nor caused increased freight rates, the senator said in discussing the law of which he was one of the authors. Legislation was required when the railroads were turned back to the government after government war time operation when wages of employees were more than doubled and rates increased 25 per cent with a net loss of about $45,000,000 a month, which would have increased to about $100,000,000 monthly after the first of September, 1920, the senator asserted.

"If additional revenues had not been provided every railroad in the United States would have been in the hands of a receiver before the first of January, 1921, and our system of transportation would have been practically destroyed," the senator declared. "In order that there may be no obscurity about my position with respect to this matter, I assert that the high freight rates which have oppressed all the people and the farmers particularly, are not the result of transportation act, but to other causes over which the government neither has nor has the least control," he continued. "I go further and repeat that the probable freight rates would have been higher without the transportation act."

"It is a moral and economic crime to say that the railroad property was overvalued seven or eight billion dollars by the Interstate Commerce commission when it set the aggregate value of the roads at $18,900,000,000 for rate-making purposes."

Peking, Oct. 30 (by the Associated Press).—Bandits estimated to number 3,000 have interrupted traffic along the Peking-Hankow railway between Yenchen and Heping in the province of Honan. The marauders are said to be former soldiers of Chao Chi, a brother of the late governor of Honan. They fought a skirmish with government troops sent to dislodge them. One force or the other took a portion of the railway tracks.

FASCIST CHIEF ENTERS ROME IN AUTO OF RULER

King Sends a Royal Car for Mussolini; Eternal City Is Beggared; New Premier Is Acclaimed.

Rome, Oct. 30.—The entire city was astir awaiting the arrival of Mussolini. Rome was beggared and the walls plastered with manifestos, one of them signed by the fascist commander, declaring: "Victory is ours."

Useless, indeed, harmful, to the fascist. Therefore, the most categorical orders have been issued to all the Black Shirts imposing absolute calm, order and discipline. Mussolini having been entrusted with the formation of a cabinet from this moment is responsible for the safety of the state, the ministries and parliament, and any action against the government, in fact, is rebellion against Mussolini. Attacks against shops and the selling of arms are absolutely prohibited.

The fascist leader entered Rome in a royal automobile sent for him by the king, as Mussolini's train could not continue in consequence of the tracks having been torn up by the troops. When he reached the fascist headquarters, he was acclaimed on all sides. The entire press praised King Victor Emmanuel for his firm attitude, both in refusing to sign a decree for a state of siege submitted to him by the former fascist cabinet and in choosing Benito Mussolini as head of the government.

During the night and in the early morning hours fascist in little groups in country wagons, in lorries and borrowed motor buses, came filtering into the city, the vanguard of the many thousands who gathered later to welcome their leader and follow him in vast procession through the streets of the Eternal City.

LADY ASTOR IS NOT TRYING TO FORCE PRO LAW ON THE PEOPLE

Plymouth, Oct. 30 (by the Associated Press).—"I am not trying to take away anyone's beer; I want to give the voters freedom to control the drink trade."

Thus spoke Lady Astor in an election address issued today in which she denies that she desires to impose prohibition on the people by some act or bill.

GERARD APPEALS FOR U. S. TO AID ARMENIA AT THE PEACE MEETING

America Cannot Shirk Its Plain Responsibility Without Stultifying Itself, He Declares.

Los Angeles, Oct. 30.—The story of the flight of Mrs. Clara Phillips Meadows was begun today in the trial of Mrs. Phillips for murder and the prosecution brought out that Mrs. Meadows at the time of her death had $55, unaccounted for as yet.

The cross examination of Mrs. Meadows, who testified that she saw Mrs. Meadows just after the slaying, was brought to an abrupt close today. She stuck closely to her direct examination story of the tragedy. Deputy District Attorney Elicke said the cutting short of the cross-examination would enable him to close his case some time tomorrow.

Miss Geneva Tremaine, sister of Mrs. Meadows, testified she met the latter at noon on July 12, the day of the slaying at the bank where Mrs. Meadows was employed. Miss Tremaine said her sister grew $100 from the bank and gave her $15. Jules Lucas, who called himself a steward of Mrs. Meadows, previously had testified that he passed the rest of the noon hour with Mrs. Meadows and that she spent nothing. Mrs. Caffee testified that she and Mrs. Phillips met Mrs. Meadows just after the slaying, and Mrs. Phillips carried away Mrs. Meadows' purse.

Guy Millman, clerk at a downtown hotel, testified that Mrs. Phillips registered there, using the name Mrs. R. S. Jackson. The hotel register was admitted in evidence, also the county jail register bearing Mrs. Phillips' signature, for purposes of comparison.

James Camacho, city detective of Tucson, Ariz., testified he arrested Mrs. Phillips there the night of July 13 on a Southern Pacific railway train bound from Los Angeles to El Paso, Texas. Mrs. Phillips, he said, was traveling as "Mrs. R. Jackson," but when summoned from her berth said she was Mrs. Clara McGuire of Los Angeles. Camacho said he found a postcard box among her effects, in which was the name "Clara Phillips" had been written and that an attempt had been made to erase it. He also found some jewelry and $49 in cash.

Finger Black and Blue. The little finger of Mrs. Phillips' right hand was wrapped in a handkerchief, Camacho said, and he later learned that it was black and blue.

Attempts of the prosecution to prove that Mrs. Phillips was arrested after Armistice Day, 1918, by Sheriff William I. Tracer, had notified the sheriff of the slaying were prevented by objections of the defense, which the court sustained. Sheriff Tracer told of bringing Mrs. Phillips from Tucson to Los Angeles. She at first refused to admit her identity, he said, but when he told her he had a letter for her from her husband, she said she was Mrs. Phillips.

The finding of Mrs. Meadows' corpse at Pomona, near Los Angeles, on July 13 was described by Arthur T. Otto and Jack Munson of Pomona.

BLOOD STAINS

Arthur I. Naxa, a chemist, testified that there were blood stains on a hammer found near the body and on gloves and shoes worn by the defendant on the day of the slaying, and a drop of the dead woman's blood.

Dr. A. H. Zeiler, a bacteriologist, testified these stains were human blood.

Owing to the death of the mother of W. D. Dunham, one of the jurors, court adjourned today until tomorrow afternoon to enable him to attend the funeral.

With the exception of one witness, the prosecution is ready to rest its case.

PROSECUTION IN PHILLIPS CASE TO CLOSE TODAY

BISBEE QUIT; BLANCHARD IS PLACED ON JOB

Chief Engineer of Santa Fe Western Lines at Amarillo Resigns; Man From Illinois Succeeds.

Amarillo, Tex., Oct. 30.—Effective November 1, M. C. Blanchard becomes chief engineer of western lines of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railway system, with headquarters at Amarillo, and succeeds J. A. Lehman, general manager. He succeeds F. M. Bisbee, who retired at his own request after nearly 30 years of active railway service.

Western lines is an operating district of over 4,000 miles of main lines and branches and includes a great variety of operating conditions from the great plains to important river valleys and mountain districts with heavy grades and much curvature.

Mr. Blanchard is a Kansan and was educated at the Kansas academy and the State university. On completing the course in civil engineering at the University of Kansas, Mr. Blanchard entered the service of the Santa Fe railway at Newton in June, 1902. Beginning as a rodman, he advanced steadily. In May, 1905, he became assistant engineer in charge of construction and served at various points until promoted to division engineer in June, 1907. He served on the Kansas City and the middle division until he was made roadmaster of the middle division at Newton in January, 1909. In June, 1910, he became assistant engineer in the office of the chief engineer at Topeka. From January, 1911, to May, 1912, he was division engineer of the eastern and Kansas City divisions. He returned to the office of the chief engineer at Topeka as office engineer and in July, 1912, was advanced to district engineer of the eastern district of eastern lines. In March, 1913, he was appointed superintendent of the Missouri division and in February, 1919, superintendent of the Illinois division with headquarters at Chillicothe, Ill.

Bisbee's Long Record.
After a long and active life in railway service F. M. Bisbee retires as chief engineer of western lines of the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railway system on November 1. Born and educated in Maine, he came west early where there was elbow room and opportunity for brains and energy to make their mark.

Mr. Bisbee quickly connected up with the Atchafalaya, Topeka and Santa Fe railway system and was assigned to the Pacific coast. In 1878, shortly after his arrival, Mr. Bisbee was at work under R. R. Coleman, superintendent of track, building the Santa Fe railway from La Junta to Trinidad and then on to Deming, N. M. There was speed over in building a railway through the wilderness in those days, 250 miles being the record for a year. Deming was reached in 1881.

At this time Mr. Bisbee changed over to the Mexican Central for a while as superintendent of track, laying and later as resident engineer in charge of maintenance. But in 1884 Mr. Bisbee was back to the Santa Fe railway, laying track in Kansas under Chief Engineer A. A. Robinson. In 1887 the Santa Fe railway started to build from Kansas City into Chicago. Here Mr. Bisbee made a record of building 177 miles of main line with sidings complete in eight months. Later Mr. Bisbee became general roadmaster at Chicago, Tex., and some time afterwards superintendent of track, buildings and bridges. He also was with the Frisco for some years.

In June, 1904, Mr. Bisbee was back on the Santa Fe railway to stay. He became engineer of western lines with headquarters at La Junta, serving first under F. C. Fox and later R. J. Parker. In May, 1913, Mr. Bisbee was ap-

DENBY AND LORD AGREE UPON THE NAVY'S BUDGET

Washington, Oct. 30.—Secretary Denby and Budget Director Lord reached an agreement today on controversial phases of the navy's budget and it is now in the hands of President Harding for approval. It was announced at the navy department.

The naval secretary would not discuss the basis of the settlement, nor the points which had been in dispute, but officials understood that the agreement reached was entirely satisfactory to Mr. Denby. President Harding, on Saturday, General Lord and Secretary Denby and the two latter officials were in conference today. It was believed that the items at issue involved 20,000 men for next year compared with $6,000 the current year, inclusion of an increased appropriation for the naval reserve, and provision for six submarines instead of three. The navy has insisted it needed six submarines, three of the mine laying type and three sea-going. Navy officials believed a compromise had been reached on some of the items.

FOREIGN POLICY OF HELPFULNESS PLAN OF HUGHES

U. S. Willing to Help Europe But Cannot Intervene in Age-Old National Rivalries, Says Secretary.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 30.—A foreign policy of helpfulness and good understanding without entanglements which would fetter American independence was outlined by Secretary Hughes of the state department in an address at Symphony Hall tonight, reviewing the record of the Harding administration in the field of international relations.

By the lead it took in the arms conference, the secretary said, and by its efforts toward harmony among the nations of the western hemisphere, the American government during the past twenty months has set a record of accomplishment far beyond what was expected of it when the new administration came into power.

So far as Europe is concerned, Mr. Hughes declared, President Harding and his advisers always have been ready to lend a helping hand where it would do the most good, but are not willing to fritter away the influence of the United States by intervention in controversies that are rooted in age-old national rivalries.

Chief Trouble in Europe
"The chief trouble at this time in Europe," he continued, "is that the great powers have not been able to agree as to questions which, being distinctly European questions, directly concern them, and their want of agreement is due to the recently organized international court of justice, a project which from the first had the sympathy of this government. He declared that already in a humanitarian way and through the channels of trade the United States was really aiding. He praised the arms conference agreements as meaning "the rescue of the world from war."

Administration Policies.
In his discussion of the policies of the administration, Mr. Hughes said: "Of course, there have been differences of view, freely expressed. That is a wholesome sign; there have been no attempts to establish a one-man rule. The executive has fully appreciated the great powers conferred upon him by the constitution; he is exercising them. "The American government is being conducted without usurpation and with the proper influence and power of effective and constitutional leadership. This is the reason wasteful expenditures have been cut, necessary economies enforced, efficiency vastly increased and our great national concerns safeguarded.

"This method and result are due to the spirit and purpose which have dominated the administration. They are due to the sagacity, the steadiness, the inexhaustible energy, the constant labors, the intimate knowledge of human nature as well as of governmental affairs, the immediate and just appraisal of difficult situations, the courteous consideration and kindly disposition, and especially the untiring zeal for the public interest which characterizes our chief, Warren G. Harding, the president of the United States.

YOUNG MOTHER
NOW STRONG

Her Mother's Faithin Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound led Her to Try it

Kenosha, Wisconsin.—"I cannot say enough in praise of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. My mother had great faith in it as she had taken so much of it and when I had trouble after my baby was born she gave it to me. It helped me so much more than anything else had done that I advise all women with female trouble to give it a fair trial and I am sure they will feel as I do about it.—Mrs. FRED P. HANSEN, 562 Symmons St., Kenosha, Wisconsin.

A medicine that has been in use nearly fifty years and that receives the praise and commendation of mothers and grandmothers is worth your consideration.

If you are suffering from troubles that sometimes follow child-birth bear in mind that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's medicine. It is especially adapted to correct such troubles.

The letters we publish ought to convince you; ask some of your women friends or neighbors—they know their truth. You will, too, if you give it a fair trial.

NEW CABINET IN GREAT BRITAIN MADE LIGHT OF

Lloyd George and Lord Birkenhead Make Great Play With the Mediocre Type of the Statesmen.

London, Oct. 30.—There has been a slight lull in "big gun" election oratory today. The new prime minister, Mr. Bonar Law, moved into his official residence in Downing street and will hold his first cabinet meeting tomorrow. He is still experiencing difficulty in completing his ministry.

Mr. Lloyd George and Lord Birkenhead, in their recent speeches at Glasgow, made great play with the mediocre political capacity and attainments of the statesmen the prime minister had gathered around him as compared with those who remained loyal to Lloyd George, and these personal attacks on the new administration have caused considerable angry feeling on the part of the prime minister's lieutenants, the more especially as in their election campaign they are feeling their inferiority in oratory in comparison with their opponents.

Moreover, Stanley Baldwin, who is Mr. Bonar Law's chief lieutenant, is generally thought to have been somewhat tactless from an electioneering standpoint, when he declared that there would be no immediate reduction in taxation. Altogether, in the general estimation of the press, Mr. Bonar Law's election stock seems to be in a falling market, while the Lloyd George stock, the newspapers assert, is rising.

Lord Carson, in a letter to friends in Belfast, makes his first political pronouncement in this campaign, expressing the fervent hope that a government will come into power in England which will be thoroughly loyal to the Irish settlement as contained in the act of 1920 as far as the six Ulster counties are concerned, and declaring that he wishes to bring home to the minds of the British electorate that the single aim of the northern Ireland government is to promote even still closer relations between Ulster and England.

John Robert Clynes, in a speech at Huddersfield, Nottinghamshire, tonight said that the labor party would readily give up its capital levy plan if there was a better method, but if the other parties had no plan, they had no right to say that labor's scheme could not succeed before it had been tried.

The 22 precincts showed a total of 199 votes in favor of the proposal to amend the city charter and 1,044 against, according to unofficial returns.

As the People View It

Editor Morning Journal.
The democratic central committee is distributing a "Comparison of School Book Prices" which appears to be something more than a campaign document and worthy of your attention in the interest of school book purchasers among your readers. Is it a fact as stated that the Alamogordo, N. M., school board sent outside of the state to purchase school books used there so that it cost school children in Alamogordo approximately one-half as much for books as elsewhere in the state; if true what's the reason? The specific statement is made that sixth grade books cost in New Mexico $10.89, they were purchased outside the state for $4.86, saved by going out of state, $6.04—identical books of course and the retailers do not make an excessive profit. Who is responsible? Why don't the retail book stores in New Mexico get together if they can and what explanation does the state department of education make? The New Mexico primer costs 50 cents here; in Texas and Arkansas, 28 cents; Kansas, 22 cents; Georgia, $1.16 in Texas and 93 cents in Arkansas. As the illustrations are typical we need not mention others. Can you advise who is responsible for this condition if it exists as claimed? Does it exist? Who is the public official charged with its correction?

Respectfully,
GEORGE C. TAYLOR.

This Laxative Works Fine on Old People

Thousands have kept themselves healthy with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

ADVANCING age with its subdued ambitions and strivings could be made very happy if only good health accompanied it, and the basis of good health, as everyone learns upon reaching the age of 60, is the regular daily movement of the bowels. If it can be effected through the food you eat, the water you drink and the exercise you take, so much the better. But if nature will not operate it must be assisted or sickness will follow. Neglected constipation causes the blood pressure to go up 23 per cent, and that is the forerunner of hardening of the arteries. It makes rheumatism and gout worse, too.

The ideal constipation remedy for people of advancing years is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is gentle and mild, and does not cramp or gripe. It is a mistake to think you need a violent salt or powder or pill, calomel, coal-tar drugs and such things. They purge and weaken you, and their reaction tends to make you more constipated than before.

Now try the milder method. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin does not lose its good effect with repeated use, and increased doses are unnecessary. Mrs. E. M. Burgess of Enfield, N. C., who is 73, keeps herself in good health with it, and Mr. Charles Chorman of Stapleton, Staten Island, N. Y., wasted fifteen years and considerable money on other remedies before finding steady relief with Syrup Pepsin.

Use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself the next time you suffer from constipation, biliousness, headache, sleeplessness, indigestion, piles or night cramps. Many thousands of elderly people use nothing else, and it costs them less than a cent a dose. Druggists have sold it successfully for 30 years, and it is the most widely bought family laxative in the world.

Don't delay fighting constipation with BRAN that is ALL BRAN!

When constipation flashes its signals of sickness into your eyes and cheeks; into your breath, your brain and your appetite, it is absolutely necessary that you head it off! Toxic poisoning stands close by; Bright's disease and other dangerous diseases await their turn!

The remedy that nature offers is the simplest and most effective—Kellogg's Bran, cooked and crumbled, which is ALL BRAN! And it is ALL BRAN! It is ALL BRAN you need when you start to fight constipation. You can't afford to delay a minute and you can't afford to use half-way measures with foods that contain a percentage of bran! Your physician will recommend Kellogg's Bran because it is not only effective, but because it is delicious. Why? You will like its nut-like flavor, which adds so much to any food with which it is served.

Be certain to eat Kellogg's Bran regularly—at least two tablespoons daily; in chronic cases with each meal. Results will prove astounding. Remember that Kellogg's Bran is nature's own regulator, which operates in nature's way—which is the best way!

Eat Kellogg's Bran as a cereal, sprinkled on other hot or cold cereals; or make it up into the best of muffins, pancakes, raisin bread, cookies, macaroons. Kellogg recipes are printed on each package. Let the children eat Kellogg's Bran. It is wonderfully beneficial. It will improve their health just as it will really and truly make over men and women. The value of Kellogg's Bran cannot be overestimated. Sold universally by grocers.

MOTHER TO PUT FOUR QUESTIONS TO PROSECUTOR

Mrs. Joseph Pyle Will Continue to Investigate the Deaths of Her Daughter and Rev. Christler.

Havre, Mont., Oct. 30.—(By the Associated Press).—Mrs. Joseph Pyle of Butte, mother of Mrs. Margaret Christler, who with the Rev. Leonard J. Christler was shot to death in the Christler home early Friday, tomorrow will go to Max Kuhn, prosecuting attorney, with four questions, she announced tonight.

The questions are: "What motive have you established for the double killing if it was done, as was decided by the verdict of the coroner's jury, by my daughter?"

"What effort has been made and with what result to establish ownership of the weapon with which the shooting was done?"

"What effort has been made to recover two diamond rings observed at 9 p. m. the evening of the tragedy, on Mrs. Christler's hands?"

"If the rings were removed from her fingers is it not also possible that this revolver, which was not her own, for her own was in her bag at her room, was placed in her open palm at the time the rings were removed?"

"Your determination of the facts in these respects will materially aid my own and public understanding of the tragedy not yet explained."

Mr. Pyle arrived in Havre today and spent six hours with Mrs. Pyle and Mrs. Joseph Davis of Helena, a life long friend, going over evidence taken at the inquest and all information on the matter they have gathered.

Careful examination was made today of all of Mrs. Christler's effects, including contents of a trunk which was in the home and a former Judge Frank E. Carleton occupied when he was on the district court bench in Havre. Mrs. Carleton appeared to have been methodical in conduct of her affairs. Papers relating to her Chattanooga work in Illinois, Iowa and Nebraska last summer, were neatly filed and other papers were in perfect order. No communications from Mr. Christler to Mrs. Carleton were found beyond the one message which had already been found in her bag.

PLAYED FOOTBALL IN A SEMI-CONSCIOUS STATE ON SATURDAY

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 30.—Hubert Walling, S. M. U. halfback who ran 99 yards for a touchdown after interrupting a pass in the S. M. U.-Oklahoma Aggie's game Saturday, was in a semi-conscious state when he made the run and for the remainder of the game, according to developments at the university next day.

Although he played stellar football all the time he remained in the game, he knew nothing about it afterward. After the first period Walling asked Jordan Owenby, student photographer on the side line, what the score was at least nine times and what period it was nearly as many times, so Owenby says.

It developed that Walling was kicked in the back of the head in the first few minutes of play and it is supposed his semi-conscious state resulted.

He did not completely regain his normal state of mind until the next day when he asked fellow students in the dormitory where he lives, what the score and where the game was played.

3 NEGROES CHARGED WITH LIQUOR THEFTS HELD TO GRAND JURY

Morris Porter, H. M. Wilson and John Weddington, three negroes who were arrested here on Friday charged with stealing confected liquor from the government vaults in the postoffice, have been bound over to the federal grand jury for $2,500 bond each. The men were given a hearing yesterday before U. S. Commissioner Laurence M. Ellis.

Porter was engineer at the federal building and Wilson was janitor. Weddington had been acting as their agent in disposing of the liquor, it was alleged. The men had been removing bottles of liquor from the vaults for some time and selling them at their own profit, it was found. All three made their bonds.

RAIL MAIL CLERKS

NATIONAL PRESIDENT

William M. Collins, of Washington, D. C., national president of the organization of railway mail clerks, was entertained at dinner at the Alvarado hotel last night by the local members of the association. Officers of the Kiwanis club, the Rotary club, the chamber of commerce, and members of the press were present. The visit of Mr. Collins was for the purpose of discussing working conditions among the railway mail clerks.

SOLDIER RELIEF IS PROMISED BY THE DEMOCRATS

Jones and Hinkle Addressed a Mass Meeting at the High School Auditorium on Monday Night.

ex-service men and reduced taxation for New Mexico were solemnly promised last night by United States Senator A. A. Jones, candidate for re-election, and James T. Hinkle, candidate for governor, at a mass meeting held by the democrats of Bernalillo county at the high school auditorium.

Mr. Hinkle declared he would bring about a reduction of taxation by "small cuts all along the line" and the abolishment of useless offices, and by getting value received for money expended. He stated that he had been accused of being an advocate of low salaries for state employees, but declared the accusation was incorrect. "I am," he said, "in favor of high salaries for efficient men in necessary offices, but I believe there are too many useless offices. I would not cut the salaries, but I would reduce the number of fellows drawing them."

Forced a Reduction. Mr. Hinkle said the republicans at the beginning of the campaign had announced that it was impossible to cut taxes, but that the publicly given taxation matters had forced the republicans to bring about a cut of nearly one-half a million dollars. "Even if I am not elected," he said, "I will have brought about a reduction of taxation expenses for the state."

Declaring that he favored the advancement of education, Mr. Hinkle said there is a waste of money in the state school system that should be stopped. The overhead expense of administration, he declared, is too high, by reason of duplication. He made the charge that the state educational institutions are being made political institutions, to the detriment of their work.

The highway department, Mr. Hinkle charged, is inefficient. He said in many places it has built new roads at heavy expense, paralleling present roads that could be improved at less expenditure. As a result, he said, the state has no comprehensive system of roads; in some places there are good roads, but they invariably lead to a "jumping off place." He said he favored expending the road funds for the improvement of highways as a common sense plan, with a connected system of roads joining the important sections of the state. The present plan, he said, has led to a heavy debt, and few roads.

One Speaks for Bonus. Senator Jones painted a word picture of the events at Washington during the war, when, he said, the president and congress worked for the winning of the war as speedily as possible. He declared that action taken then was of a non-partisan nature, and received almost unanimous support. He said republicans were placed at the head of many of the most important bureaus. He declared that experts from all countries had agreed that preparations should be made for a war of five years' duration, and if they had been waste and extravagance, it had some about because of a sincere effort to bring the conflict to a conclusion as rapidly as possible.

"It seems to me," he asserted, "that anyone who would criticize or belittle the policies of the government in that trying time for political purposes is unworthy of the support of the people of New Mexico." Realizing, he said, that the men who fought for $20 a month should be given some measure of remuneration in proportion to that received by those who stayed at home in times of high wages and big profits, congress began work soon after the war on an adjusted compensation bill. The measure passed the house and went to the senate, where it was reported without a minority report. Just as it seemed ready to pass, President Harding died the unprecedented thing by going into congress and asking that the bill be reconsidered by the senate finance committee. This, he said, was done, and the bill never came back. On that day, Senator Jones said, he made a statement in the senate showing how the compensation measure could be financed, and showing that it would affect the finances of the nation was not well founded.

History of New Measure. He traced the history of a new measure, passing both houses and meeting a presidential veto; passing the house over the executive veto and lacking of passage in the senate by only a few votes. He said he had been assured by H. Ford MacNider, commander-in-chief of the American Legion, and J. D. Atwood, commander of the Legion in New Mexico, that his presence in Washington was needed, as the fact that he was paired with a republican senator opposed to the measure in effect recorded his vote for it. "I wanted to go to Washington if my presence would aid the measure," he said.

The mountain cabin of Parton was reached by the officers about noon when they were cold and hungry. They were welcomed by Parton and given an excellent meal before returning with him to Santa Fe where he was to be given a hearing. He had been operating a 60-gallon still and was making high grade whisky, officers said.

Indianapolis, Ind., Oct. 30.—Jack Reynolds of Cedar Rapids, welterweight wrestling champion claimant, was awarded the referee's decision over Louis Nelson of Brooklyn at the end of two hours wrestling tonight. Reynolds won the only fall of the match after one hour and 45 minutes, with a leg split hold.

passage of the measure, which I had favored from the first," he said.

Senator Jones said his opponent for the senate seat says he stands on the republican state platform, which is for a just compensation for the ex-service men. "Why does not he or his party declare now what a just compensation means, and not wait until after the election?" he asked.

Opposes a Sales Tax. The senator said he does not favor any measure placing a sales tax for the creation of the necessary revenue. "It is a just debt," he declared, "and why should we not pay it from the general treasury, raising the money in the ordinary way, just as we pay our other just debts?"

Senator Jones explained his position on a tariff. He asserted that following the war, the prices of agricultural products, including wool and meats, had fallen to an alarmingly low point, below the cost of production, while many agricultural products were still selling at a high point. For this reason, he said, the farm bloc was formed by republican and democratic senators and representatives, and brought about the passage of the emergency tariff, which gave protection to the farmer, the wool grower, and the livestock producer. This bill, he said, included all the products of New Mexico.

New G. O. P. Tariff. The new republican tariff, he said, made no effort to equalize the difference that still existed between the low prices the farmers received for their products and the high prices they were compelled to pay for what they had to buy.

He declared that the emergency tariff on wool afforded a better protection for wool than the new tariff. As proof of this statement, he said that Senator Lodge, in arguing for the new tariff, stated in the senate that the bonded warehouses already were filled with wool which would be released on the market as soon as the measure became a law. Senator Lodge, he said, declared that the new tariff reduced the duty on wool, and the importers were awaiting its passage to get the benefit.

The present tariff, Senator Jones contended, was dictated by the manufacturers, who are enabled by it to sell their products abroad at less prices than at home, and who receive from it in many instances protection higher than the entire cost of the labor required in manufacturing their goods. In addition, he said, it fast a duty in many instances equal to the entire cost of production either at home or abroad. He asked his republican opponent to define now what he means by adequate protection tariff, rather than wait until after the election.

Investigation of Prices. "There should have been an investigation of prices before granting further protection abroad," he said. "They did not need it," said Senator Jones. "The present tariff affords no protection to the farmer and livestock grower, the prices of whose products shows that he needs protection."

Taking these things into consideration, the senator said, he voted against the tariff measure, knowing that the then existing emergency tariff did afford protection to the interests that stood most in need of it.

John Morrow, democratic candidate for congress, stated that development of natural resources, which he declared will be the sole cause of New Mexico's growth, had been hampered by political conditions brought about by the republican administration.

State of Arizona admitted to the union with New Mexico, had made rapid strides forward because of capable administration, largely democratic, while New Mexico had been held back by unfavorable conditions brought about by the republicans.

Jose A. Baca, candidate for lieutenant governor, spoke along the same lines.

A crowd of about 100 persons filled the lower floor of the auditorium, heard the addresses.

Proceeding the meeting at the high school, Senator Jones addressed a meeting of former soldiers at the High School. A number of the ex-service men accompanied him to the High School.

BIG STILL BACK IN GLORIETA MOUNTAINS

George Parton was arrested and his whisky still in a secluded spot on the Glorieta mountains seized by prohibition officers after a long tireless hunt on Sunday. The still was said to be the most inaccessible in the state, the liquor being brought to Glorieta by burroback and distributed from that point by automobile.

The mountain cabin of Parton was reached by the officers about noon when they were cold and hungry. They were welcomed by Parton and given an excellent meal before returning with him to Santa Fe where he was to be given a hearing. 1 PERSON DEAD. 15 MISSING IN BROOKLYN FIRE

Flames Sweep Through a Shellac Factory; Several Employees, Trapped, Jump From the Windows.

New York, Oct. 30.—One person is reported dead, 15 missing and 18 seriously injured in a fire which tonight swept through a Brooklyn factory. Several persons, trapped by the flames, which were fanned by high winds, jumped from the windows.

The missing persons, who are employees of a shellac factory in a Thirteenth street, Brooklyn plant, are believed to have been cut off from the exits because of the rapid spread of the fire.

A series of fire alarms called engines from all parts of the Great City to fight the blaze. Nearby hospitals immediately recruited emergency forces and the injured were rushed there by police and firemen.

The burned building is occupied by many under-Charities company, shellac manufacturers in the heart of a manufacturing district of South Brooklyn. The structure is hemmed in by several large shirt factories, employing scores of women workers.

A sewing shop of the Friedman Shirt company is on the fourth floor of the building; H. P. Nicholson, an employee of this firm, reported to the police that fifty girls were in the shop. Several of them said to have leaped from a rear window of the shop, have not been found.

Three firemen were injured when the fire escapes on the fourth floor of the building collapsed. They went up to the roof of the building on scaling ladders and were making an attempt to reach the girls reported to be trapped when the fire escaped fell.

All three of the men were left dangling in the air, holding on to the coping of the building with smoke and flames pouring out around them. They were finally rescued by their comrades.

Lillian Girskey, a stenographer, was descending the stairs in the building when she was driven back to the fourth floor by flames. She finally made her way to the front of the building and leaped from a window before the arrival of firemen. She was picked up unconscious.

Yost, Grand Old Man of Grid, Has Team Headed for Top Again

In all the history of football, written and unwritten, there is no man who loves the game more than Fielding H. Yost.

Starting at Michigan in 1901, he has coached the Wolverine eleven down through the ages to the present time, and once again, has watched his youngsters triumph over Ohio State with all due ceremony and Yostian pomp.

Yost had his first experience on the gridiron in West Virginia, back in the days when bull-fighting ranked with lawn socials alongside football. The jolly old days when all the underdogs in the country brought the entire fanfare to the game to prove that business was picking up and staged a free-for-all over the bodies at the last quarter.

In 1906 Yost was hailed as one of the greatest forwards of the east, playing with Lafayette where he had gone to study engineering, but figures at that time of life were too much like doing a hurdle race with rheumatism, so he did a flash-back to the University of West Virginia, which he had previously attended, and went on with the study of law, graduating in 1907.

He did not enter law, however, as the germ of the great outdoors got in his blood and he started football coaching.

His first job was at Ohio Wesleyan in 1897, and his team, for

GOLDTRAP WINS AUTO ROAD RACE IN RECORD TIME

Covers 270-Mile Course
From Douglas to Phoenix at an Average Speed of About 50 Miles an Hour.

Phoenix, Ariz., Oct. 30.—Charles Goldtrap of Phoenix today won the all-Arizona automobile road race, covering the 270-mile course from Douglas to Phoenix at an average speed of only a fraction less than 50 miles an hour and shattered all previous road race records for this state.

Goldtrap's official time was five hours, 22 minutes and 50 seconds, 15 minutes and 44 seconds faster than his nearest competitor, Hugh Miller of Phoenix was second, time 5:38:34; Dick Locke of Tucson, third, time 5:39:16; L. Michener of Phoenix, fourth, 5:40:55, and Jim Thomas of Phoenix, fifth, 5:52:55.

Goldtrap was the twelfth driver to leave Douglas. He was the fifth to reach Tucson. Between Tucson and Florence he passed the four other high school of San Francisco and the San Jose Normal school.

In 1901 he went to Michigan, and Michener was one minute and 46 seconds behind Locke.

Goldtrap's average speed establishes a new record for the state, Cal. Messner, who was in charge of arrangements for the race, announced tonight. The best previous average for a road race was 41.3 miles per hour, Mr. Messner said.

Several cars went into the ditch or were forced out by minor breaks but no serious accidents were reported, according to Mr. Messner.

The racers finished at the state fair grounds here where several thousand spectators were gathered for the opening day of the fair.

A purse of $6,000 will be split among the first seven drivers.

DENVER TAILOR TALKS HIMSELF INTO JAIL

Denver, Oct. 30.—Lloyd E. Little, 45 years old, a tailor, talked himself into jail at police headquarters today.

Little, said by the police to show the effect of having imbibed a little freely, appeared at the station at 7 a. m. and insisted upon talking to every one he encountered, so the police declare. Threatened with confinement, Little still persisted in making conversation, the police say. When he got familiar with Detective George Sanders he let fall a confidential remark about being a parole breaker from the state penitentiary at Michigan City, Ind., according to Sanders. Little said he had been sentenced to from one to fourteen years and broke parole in 1919 by coming to Colorado. Sanders asserted. Indiana authorities were notified of his arrest.

"Gets-It" For Corns Costs Little

Republicans Keep Platform Pledges

By Frank Staplin, Republican Publicity Manager.

The republican party "points with pride" to its record of 100 per cent fulfillment of the pledges made in its 1920 platform by the last session of the state legislature. The laws proposed in the platform and enacted by that legislature include the following:

A law preventing forfeiture and cancellation of state land contracts and providing a just method of assessing owners equities in such contracts.

An improved highway law, limiting the overhead costs to the minimum.

The abolition of mounted police.

The blue sky law to protect the people of the state against worthless securities.

An act providing equal powers, rights and duties in the parents of minor children.

A stringent law against vice and gambling.

A game commission law making provision for a fish hatchery with which to stock the streams of our state.

A department of public welfare.
An act abolishing the legal adviser to the governor, an office created at the solicitation and request of a democratic executive.

An act limiting the hours of employment of women engaged in manual labor.

A child labor law.

An act appointing a commissioner to represent New Mexico in the settlement of rights to the use of the waters of the Colorado and San Juan rivers.

The enactment of these laws involve the abolishing of 53 appointive offices, with salaries ranging from $1500 to $2500 per year.

This record of fulfillment is a guarantee to the people of New Mexico that the republican candidates of the present year, if elected, will carry out the pledges made for them in the party platform, as well as the declarations and pledges by the individual candidates relative to their conduct of the offices to which they aspire.

The platform of the present year pledges the party to the strictest possible economy in the administration of state affairs, and the economical conduct of all of the state offices for the past 5 years is a guarantee that this pledge will be executed, and the present economical conduct of these offices continued.

Raton High School won the game from Normal University Saturday at Raton 42 to 6. The first half was evenly and closely fought, ending in a score of 6 to 6. In the last half Raton walked off with 36 points and won the game, 42 to 6.

A black and gold sweater was given, by Kilmurray Clothing store, to Higgins, Raton's left halfback, for making the first touchdown for the home team.

The day was windy with a cloud of dust storming across the field the entire game. Kicking against the wind was impossible and passing was impractical. Line plunging and end runs had to be resorted to. Near the end of the first quarter the Vegas quarterback and captain retired from the game. This handicapped the Vegas team during the remainder of the game.

It is hard to pick stars for either team. The Vegas boys lacked the punch, at least without their captain, to deliver the goods; while the Raton boys had a good offense and a good defense after the first few minutes of play. The line men for Raton deserve mention for opening the holes for the backfield, and the backfield had the push. The opening few minutes looked well for Vegas as they carried the ball up the field against the wind in rapid succession to within 20 yards of the goal line, but there they were stopped. The most of the game was clearly played. The officials had a hard time keeping up with the ball in the dust storm. Referee, Kronig, Waltrous, Umpire, Neustadt, Rocky Mountain, Raton.

THE GIRLS RENT A FLAT

Chapter 37

The three girls round the agent of the house waiting for them, talking to Dugan's telling him how nice I am!" Nellie whispered.

"Nellie Riley, if you don't keep still I shall go to Mr. Robinson as you did have made me absolutely unable to think," Gladys said, neither she nor Cora, had recovered from the dazed condition into which Nellie's action had thrown them.

"This is Mister Hurd, the agent," Dugan said.

Mr. Hurd smiled on them, then with an air of embarrassment said: "Glad to meet you, young ladies."

"He perhaps had expected to see girls quite different from the three quietly dressed, and rather handsome ones standing before him. But he, like Dugan, kept his eyes on Nellie.

"It is a glad to see you, Mr. Hurd," she said before the other two could speak, "because we want you to be very nice to us, and to be after fixing up this flat for us."

"I'll do what I can—all I am allowed to do—if," he stammered a bit. Cora understood and said quietly:

"Here are our references, Mr. Hurd. I think you will find them satisfactory." She dared not look at Gladys as she handed him Mr. Robinson's.

"Very good! I see you have understood what we need," he said, his embarrassment not quite gone. "We have to be extra careful in renting nowadays. Business isn't so good, and when you rent by the month you have to look out, especially with ladies." He stopped, flushing a deep red. "I don't mean your kind, Miss," now he turned to Cora, "but you would be surprised the stories some tell to get in; then the house they put up when we have to make them get out." He was a very common man, yet he had evidently intended what he said as a compliment to the girls.

He read the references carefully. "Very good," he said again. "You can have the flat. People like them, in business, don't put their names to paper unless it is all right. The man what owns the place is in Europe, and if I let undesirable people in, or people who don't pay, why I'd lose my job mighty quick." Nellie could scarcely contain herself, and the other two looked very happy. But Cora, the expense in her mind, bargained for the remainder of the month, and with her list in her hand, a pencil to jot down whatever was promised, she conferred with Hurd as to the repairs.

"Mr. Dugan says you will paper this room," she said. They had been talking in the living room. "Will you paint it also, and will you paint the floor? We cannot afford to carpet it."

"Well, I don't know as I can promise all that. I'll paper and if this is the only room that you want fixed I'll paint it—but the floor—I hardly think I can promise, that—but what else is there besides this room? I can't do more than I am allowed, but of course for good tenants that stay—that have good references—I'll try to do all I can."

"Shure, don't we know that!" Nellie interrupted. "And we'll stay! You can depend on us. And if you'll make it nice for us we will take awful good care of it." As she finished, he looked smilingly at her and replied:

"I'd be a pretty hard man if I didn't do all I could for you. I'd do it for my own sake. Gladys said, so low no one but Cora heard.

"Now we'll look at the kitchen, but before we do, Mr. Hurd, will you let us select the paper for this room? We'll keep to the price you fix."

"Yes, and Dugan here will bring you our book of samples."

"The kitchen must be painted, walls and woodwork. It is very dirty, and we couldn't enjoy our food cooked in it," Cora told him as they stood in the tiny kitchen scarcely big enough to hold them all.

"If I do this, I can't quite see my way to do all you want in the other room. Paint isn't as cheap as it used to be, neither is labor. Now that floor in the living room—that will have to have two coats to make it look decent, really should have three. It's poor lumber."

"I'll pay for the paint if you'll put it on," Nellie broke in.

"That's a bargain. But that is all I can do. Paint the woodwork of the front room, paper it, and put the paint on the floor if you pay for it, and paint the kitchen one coat."

"Will you do it at once?" Cora asked. "We want to come right in." "I've got a man can get right at it," Miss Dugan said, addressing Cora, but looking at Nellie.

Styles BY LENORE

FROM PARIS
An unrelieved black frock is no longer in favor with fashion, so Lanvin has attained this very smart effect by combining black velvet with white fur and a parallel band of white silk braid with velvet buttons. The soft, long-waisted bodice is finished with a slender belt of velvet, and the skirt is straight, without any gathers. Several American women who ordered this design for late autumn and winter wear, had the neck altered to the bateau line, edged with fur, and one woman had nautica fur substituted for the white.

Herbert Hoover is a national figure of interest to all women. He is especially intriguing to those of Albuquerque who are finding him a big drawing card to the Chamber of Commerce dinner to be held at the armory on November 11.

"Women are telephoning the Chamber of Commerce constantly to inquire if they will be admitted at the dinner," said Manager M. L. Fox yesterday. "They are stopping me on the street and sending their husbands to see me about it. Of course they are welcome."

"This dinner is primarily a Chamber of Commerce affair but it's going to be a case of first come, first served, women included. All women who apply for reservations shall be accommodated. It is probable that the attendance at the dinner will be about 50 per cent women."

Hoover's work as a relief worker in the starving countries of Europe and his activities as food administrator for the United States have brought him in touch with thousands of women who he taught to "Hooverize" during the war.

5 STATE PRIZES WON BY COUNTY GIRLS AT MEET

Four Sewing Prizes Won by Local Club Girls Besides Demonstration Team

Bernalillo county girls walked off with five state prizes at the New Mexico boys' and girls' club contest at State College. In addition to the honor of having the local hot lunch demonstration team represent the state at the coming Denver livestock show, four other state prizes were won by Bernalillo county girls.

First state prizes were won in the first year sewing class and the second year sewing class and one third state prize in first year sewing was won. The garments which were judged at the state contest were made in the county club work here under the direction of Mrs. Maud C. Doty, county home demonstration agent, and sent to State College for the exhibit.

Georgia Farrell won the first prize among all the sewing clubs of the state on a gingham dress which she cut out and made for herself. The dress was shown at the recent county exhibit at the chamber of commerce. For a prize she was awarded a silver thimble and a pair of scissors.

The first prize on the first year sewing was won by Carmelita Griego and the third prize in that class by Ava Roberts. Both girls entered hand made undergarments in the contest and received material for gingham dresses as awards. Bessie Lawrence won a prize of a stamped luncheon set for making the best utility bag.

The best work of eight girls in the county clubs was selected from the county exhibit by Miss Richardson, state leader, for the state exhibit. The club work is done under the direction of the county home demonstration agent in the rural communities of the county where the schools do not provide such instruction. It is planned to expand the work greatly in Bernalillo county during the coming season and to enlist the interest of women who will act as voluntary leaders of club groups all under the supervision of the county agent who will direct the work.

HALLOWE'EN STUNT PARTY FOR Y BOYS GIVEN LAST NIGHT

A Halloween stunt party and costume parade was given at the Y. M. C. A. last night for the boys' department under the supervision of J. V. Moss, boys' secretary. The boys' lobby was brightly decorated in black and orange for the occasion.

About 25 youngsters participated in the parade which marched through the men's lobby and the gymnasium to piano music by Miss Marian Berry, daughter of the secretary. In the gymnasium the parade passed before a reviewing stand where three judges, Secretary J. V. Berry, O. M. Love and A. E. Johnson, sat.

Prizes for the best costumes were awarded to James Hitt, house, and to L. G. Williams, Jr., and Lucien Rice for second and third place. After the parade stunts followed first and second prizes for those being given to Clifford Howell and Herman Marous. The first prizes were gymnasium suits and the second prizes, skull caps.

The Klean Kid Klub recently organized among the junior gymnasium class members will hold a get-together social around the fireplace at the Y. M. C. A. for a popcorn popping this evening.

"Due to the coal shortage," observes the Maryville Tribune, "one popular winter resort will be two suits of underwear."

EDUCATORS MAY DO AWAY WITH N. M. E. A. MEET

Plan to Be Proposed at Convention to Hold Sectional Meetings Instead of Annual Gathering.

A plan to discontinue the annual convention of the New Mexico Educational association, holding in its place sectional meetings under the control of the state council will be proposed by James M. Bickley of Clovis at the coming convention of educators here. The executive committee of the association as agreed with the proposed change and the association will undoubtedly accept such an amendment to the constitution.

Mr. Bickley's plan follows: We propose that the state be divided into three or four sections, holding their meetings on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of Thanksgiving week. That these sectional meetings be under the direction and control of the state council.

Reasons for the proposed change—First, the cost will be reduced about four-fifths in the reduction of traveling expenses, in the cost of speakers very little increase, in that the same speakers may be used on the circuit.

Second, it will make it possible for the entire teaching force to attend one of the meetings, whereas now many of the teachers never have the opportunity to attend.

Third, the size of the association is too large to be easily and profitably handled.

Fourth, the various sections would be helped by having their meetings in their part of the state.

Fifth, the unity of purpose of the present organization will be maintained in that the various sectional meetings will be directed and controlled by the same body, the State council.

The Educational council to meet once each year in Albuquerque, and in a general way the council to have the same powers as at present.

CHARGES OF THE DEMOCRATS ARE CRUMBLING-HILL

State Central Committee Attempts to Answer the Questions Propounded to Hinkle, He Declares.

Special to The Journal
Gallup, N. M., Oct. 30.—Speaking here tonight Charles L. Hinkle, republican candidate for governor, said: "Before a volley of direct charges the wall of democratic charges has crumbled away. I have repeatedly asked Mr. Hinkle, my opponent, to tell the people how he would reduce their taxes and he has vainly looked for his answer. No reply has come from him and the democratic committee has substituted into the record the plank in their platform in regard to that office. I guess they forgot to do that. Here is what the democratic platform says about that useful office, the office of state traveling auditor:

"We heartily condemn the law creating the office of state traveling auditor and defining its duties. We denounce it as a device of politicians to escape impartial investigation by substituting an apparent audit by one of their own number."

"Now, isn't that fine, isn't that going to add greatly to the democratic majority on November 7? The democratic central committee comes out in print and says that their governor is going to make use of a device of politicians to escape impartial and non-partisan investigation."

"Of course, I do not agree with the democrats in their estimate of the office of state traveling auditor. Personally, I think that it is a very useful office and I am merely calling your attention to this to show you to what lengths they are willing to go in order to obtain your vote. They have deliberately deserted their platform in order to try to answer a question which has been propounded to them for weeks."

"This statement which I have quoted is the statement which the democratic committee has furnished for the powers vested in it and it is actually reckoning with the same inconsistency which has characterized all democratic propaganda in this campaign. In this statement the democrats name three agencies which they allege can be made use of for the purpose of reducing taxation in the counties. By implication they attribute to these three departments a power which they do not possess. They have no actual coercive powers. They can recommend and advise and in certain cases refuse to approve but that is all they can do. They have to act strictly in accordance with legal limitations and your county boards have much more leeway than have these three agencies which the democrats are now trying to inject into the situation."

"The inconsistency of the democratic statement, though, is not so much in what they say as in what they fail to say. They tell you of three agencies which can be used to reduce your taxes, but they don't tell you that one of these

CALOMEL GOOD BUT TREACHEROUS

Next Dose may Salivate, Shock Liver or Attack Your Bones

You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into your bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knocked out, just go to your drugstore and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

Don't take calomel! It makes you sick the next day. It takes a day's work. Dodson's Liver Tonic straightens you right up and you feel great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—Adv.

agencies, one of these extremely useful agencies which is going to be of such material assistance to Mr. Hinkle when he comes into power is an agency which they have condemned in their platform and which they say they are going to abolish because it is pernicious and wicked and bad. They tell you that Mr. Hinkle is going to make use of the office of the state traveling auditor to help reduce your taxes but they didn't print into the record the plank in their platform in regard to that office. I guess they forgot to do that. Here is what the democratic platform says about that useful office, the office of state traveling auditor:

Theaters Today

Lyric Theater—Louis B. Mayer presents the John M. Stahl production, "One Clear Call," with Milton Sills, the cast including Henry B. Walthall, Irene Rich and Shannon Day; also presenting the Goldwyn-Graphic comedy, "Help Wanted."

Pastime Theater—For the last time today, the management is repeating the comedy, "Up and at 'Em," with Doris May as the leading star, also repeating the "Fox News" pictures and the two-reel comedy.

TOM MEIGHAN, STAR OF "IF YOU BELIEVE IT'S SO," "JIMTOWN" AND "JUMPERS"

According to Thomas Meighan who went with the Paramount company to northern California to shoot some cheapies, "If You Believe It, It's So," his new Paramount picture directed by Tom Forman, Bret Harie, the celebrated novelist, must have lived in nearly every house in every small town in the early mining regions of California.

"We had heard," said the star, "that Harie lived and wrote in 'Jimtown,' so I made some inquiries. Just as in New York you learn that every old building from Montauk Point to Poughkeepsie was once the headquarters of George Washington, so in these old mining villages of California you discover that Bret Harie, Mark Twain or somebody of like literary fame slept and wrote his greatest novels in every house dating from '49."

"They must have believed in the adage, 'It's cheaper to make the pay rent,' for they evidently kept on the jump all the time to cover the ground."

"If You Believe It, It's So" is an adaptation by Waldemar Young of the book by Perley Poore Sheehan. It will be seen at the "B" theater for three days, commencing today, and affords Mr. Meighan one of the best roles of his screen career.

MOST REALISTIC AND ABSORBING FILM SEEN: NOW AT LYRIC THEATER

Following is what the Chicago Examiner thinks of "One Clear Call," the absorbing picture drama which opens at the Lyric theater today for a three-day run:

"One Clear Call" has a plot! We hope this statement sounds significant—weighty, because that's the way we mean it. A plot alone puts it in a class by itself, but they didn't stop there—they cast it perfectly. Henry Walthall, excellent. We think he is the Charlie Chaplin of the drama. He knows what he is doing. He never overacts—flattens out. His craftsmanship is wonderful. Claire Wineland is good, too—good to look at—capable, and Irene Rich as the sister does some of the finest playing we have seen this year. There are several complicating threads—we'll not tell you about them—we want you to see "One Clear Call." You'll say it is the most realistic, absorbing film you've seen."—Chicago Examiner.

COMEDIAN HAROLD LLOYD PRESCRIBES A LAUGH CURE IN HIS "GRANDMA'S BOY"

This is a copy of a letter from the New Orleans Conventual Home, which was received at the Hal Roach studios one day last February, when the production of "Grandma's Boy" was in progress:

"Thank you so much for the splendid selection of films. Three patients recovering from appendicitis operations laughed so much over the Harold Lloyd feature that I had grave fears for them. I thought surely their stitches could not last through it. I cannot thank you over-sufficiently for your goodness in helping us to entertain our people."

"I will start a run of several days at the Pastime theater, beginning Wednesday."

SEVERAL KILLED IN CLASHES IN ITALIAN TOWNS

Fascisti and Communists Engage in Battles; Crowd Pursues and Kills an Alleged Murderer.

Rome, Oct. 30.—Clashes between fascisti and communists are reported from various towns throughout Italy.

At Genazzano, during the funeral of a fascisti killed yesterday by communists, the victims' comrades recognized the murderer and pursued and killed him.

At Palestrina, a fight occurred between fascisti and communists in which four were killed, one of whom was a fascisti.

Fascisti invaded a railroad men's club at Genoa and later forced their way into the office of the prefecture. In collision with the police four of the fascisti were wounded, one dangerously.

During a fight with carabinieri at Bologna, two fascisti were killed and one wounded. Later a sergeant of the royal guard was killed and another wounded.

From almost all the other cities throughout the country, stories of enthusiastic demonstrations upon the occupation of the government offices by the "black shirt."

At Parma forty fascisti occupied the prefecture and took over the postal, telegraph and all other governmental offices. The same thing occurred at Verona, where the re-occupation of the offices by the military, one fascisti was killed.

FIREMAN STRUCK BY FENCE WHEN READY TO JUMP

Ephraim Welsh Suffers Slight Injuries When Engine on Train No. 2 Breaks Tire Near Ribera.

When a fire on the locomotive pulling Santa Fe eastbound train No. 2 broke near Ribera, 25 miles southeast of Las Vegas last night, Ephraim Welsh of Las Vegas, the fireman, anticipating a wreck, stood on the cab step, prepared to jump. Welsh was struck by a cattle guard, and knocked to the ground, suffering bruises on his leg. He was not badly hurt.

Reports from Las Vegas last night were to the effect that the broken tire crumbled a steam pipe, and the escaping steam so obscured the view that Welsh did not see the cattle guard. The train was delayed about an hour awaiting the arrival of another engine from Las Vegas. It was sidetracked, and the main line was not cleared. Engineer Arthur Langston of Las Vegas stayed with the throttle.

LOBOS ARE WORKING UP NEW PLAYS FOR GAME ON SATURDAY

The Lobo eleven which faces the Canyon Buffaloes on Saturday field Saturday will be a better one than the one which had to extend itself to win from the Texas Miners last Saturday if a number of new plays which are being rehearsed especially for the Buffaloes will compensate for the loss of Pearce and Greenleaf, who will be absent from the lineup next Saturday because of injuries received in the Miner game.

The Buffalo attack last year was built chiefly around the forward pass, and they are reported to have improved their passing game over that of last year. In the game between the Buffaloes and the New Mexico Military Institute cadets the Buffaloes completed many passes for long gains and were kept from scoring on three different occasions by fumbling the ball when under the shadow of the Institute goal. On the other hand, the Buffalo defense against the aerial attack of the Cadets was weak, and twice, Boyer, playing end for the Cadets, got away with forward passes for a 40-yard run to a touchdown.

Coach Johnson is coaching the Lobos this week to cope with an aerial attack, and the Buffaloes should not get away with more than an ordinary number of passes next Saturday, although they will always be dangerous as long as a single man is open to receive the ball.

'PLAY THE GAME SQUARE,' ADVISE OF MRS. WARREN

Republican Nominee for Congress Speaks at Dawson; Davis and Delgado Also on the Program.

Special to The Journal
Dawson, N. M., Oct. 30.—"Play the game square," was the keynote of the first of three speeches made today by Mrs. Adeline Otero-Warren, republican nominee for representative in congress. Judge S. B. Davis, Jr., nominee for United States senator, and Hilario Delgado, nominee for auditor, also spoke at the three meetings. The party began the last week of the campaign with the three meetings here. The meeting at Albuquerque Saturday night will close the campaign for the republican party. From Albuquerque the several members will go to their homes for the election.

Speaks to Pupils.
Mrs. Warren's first address was to the pupils of the Douglas High school in the afternoon. It was there that she said:

"I am a great believer in play. You learn nearly as much in play as in study, for it is on the playground that you learn to be square. If you violate the rules on the playground and cheat in your games, remember that you really cheat nobody but yourself. Play the game square."

In addressing a large audience in the opera house tonight, she highly commended Dawson's excellent school system, under which there are four schools employing 38 teachers and training 1,100 pupils, with an additional night school in which 120 students are enrolled.

In the night meeting she discussed school conditions in New Mexico and made a strong recommendation, both federal and state, on the subject of preparing ballots on election day, together with the study that ought to be given in advance, she said: "Your communities are just as good or just as bad as you wish them to be. You should select as your officers and representatives such men and women as will best serve and represent you. Make a study of the Florida Lady Was in a Miserable Condition, But Says She Found Cardui Helpful, and Got Well.

Altha, Fla.—In explaining how she found Cardui so helpful during change of life, Mrs. Ella M. Bailey, of R. R. D. 2, this place, said:

"I became so weakened it was an effort for me to get around. I knew what was the matter, but I felt like I couldn't give up. I just dragged, and I certainly was nervous. I was so restless I could not sit down long—yet so weak I couldn't get about. It is most miserable and such a helpless feeling."

"I would get depressed and out of heart. I began to feel, after a while, there was no use to try to get well. This is all wrong, for it makes a person worse."

"I had heard of Cardui, and thought it might strengthen me. A neighbor had used it with good results. I took one bottle (of Cardui), then I saw I wasn't so nervous, so kept it up."

"Gradually the nervousness left me. I began to eat and sleep better. Was soon well, and all right."

"Cardui did wonders for me, and I certainly do recommend it."

Thousands of other women have written, to tell of the beneficial results obtained by taking Cardui, and to recommend it to others.

Cardui has stood the test of extensive use, for more than forty years, in the treatment of troubles common in women.

records of the candidates and choose those who are qualified to serve you. If you do not choose those best qualified, then it is your own fault that you do not have better regulated communities or better government."

Judge Davis Introduced.
When Judge Davis was introduced, he said: "When I follow Mrs. Warren, after she has made a speech as she made this evening, I feel like merely saying, 'me too' and sitting down." Notwithstanding this declaration, he proceeded to make one of the best addresses that he has delivered in the campaign. The stupendous task of the present administration, in assuming control, was effectively illustrated by showing that at that time the national debt was nearly twice as great as the total of all the gold and silver money in the world. In spite of this great handicap, some progress toward a return to normalcy has been made, he asserted.

On the subject of differences in belief of the two major parties on the question of the tariff, he said that no policy advocated or enacted by the republican party has closed down an industry or thrown a man out of employment.

Assaults Platform.
Assailing the platform of the democrats in New Mexico, supporting protection for New Mexico products, but denying the claim that industrial centers in other sections are reflected in general business conditions here in New Mexico. When there is a depression in industrial centers, there is a resultant closing down of copper mines and a reduction of working forces in the coal mines. The point was that if protection is denied to the manufacturers, depression will follow, so that finally, a large part of the burden will be shifted to New Mexico.

Delgado spoke at the night meetings at the opera house and at the Lash hall, dividing time about equally with Mrs. Warren at the meeting that was held at Cimarron on Sunday night. Since the audience was composed almost entirely of Spanish-speaking citizens, both spoke in Spanish only. It was the first time that Delgado had touched upon any of the national issues except the adjusted

ITALY WORKING HARD TO BUILD UP AFTER WAR

O. Bachechi Returning From Visit to Old Home Says Fascisti Are Working for Country's Good.

That Italy is making a vigorous effort at post-war rehabilitation, and that the fascisti are endeavoring to put the country back on a sound business basis after the labor trouble, is the report brought back by O. Bachechi, pioneer Albuquerquean. Mr. Bachechi and his wife have recently returned from a five months' visit to their former home in Italy.

The greatest activity is being shown in agriculture in Italy, said Mr. Bachechi. The farmers are all developing their land to capacity and are working hard. They are being encouraged by the fact that they are getting more money for their produce but their expenses are correspondingly higher, he said. Electricity is being used universally since coal soared so high in price, each little farm having its own plant.

Everybody seems to have enough money and no one is suffering, he reported. The northern provinces of Fiume and Trieste taken over since the war are being greatly assisted in their rehabilitation by the government, said Mr. Bachechi.

Whole-sale construction of homes and roads is going on with government help and the people are content under their new rule. The fascisti element have taken compensation measure. In that meeting he made an able presentation of the tariff question, maintaining the republican principles quite clear.

over the control of the government, from the socialists and laboring classes who had gained control, explained Mr. Bachechi. They have put down bolshevism and the Reds and are forming the new Italy.

The word fascisti means "the people." They have taken charge of official affairs and have made the laboring people go back to work, he explained. The socialists strike embarrassed the whole of Italy, and the new party has the idea of putting the government back on a sound basis, cutting down the army and cancelling the national debt as quickly as possible.

Italy, as well as all Europe, is thronged with tourists, chiefly from America, said Mr. Bachechi. The travelers are enjoying the country and are putting much money into circulation there. Tourist travel is so heavy that Mr. and Mrs. Bachechi were obliged to wait

30 days to obtain passage back to America.

The trip this summer was the third which Mr. Bachechi has made back to his native country during 40 years residence in the United States. He and his wife visited Paris, Reno, Rome where they saw the pope, and all of the provinces of Italy including Mr. Bachechi's old home near Lucca, in Tuscany.

NIGHT CLASSES TO BE HELD AT CENTRAL SCHOOL

Enrollment Monday and Class Work Wednesday; Staff of Teachers Announced for the Term.

The public night school, which opens November 6, will be held in the Central school building, at the corner of Third street and Lead avenue. Members of the faculty are: Principal, J. F. Bentley; elementary work, Mrs. E. Bentley; Miss Ethel L. Smith; Miss Mary O'Loughlin; Spanish, Mrs. Lydia Bentley; millinery, Amy Hurl; industrial classes, Francis McLaughlin.

The textbooks for citizenship classes are issued from the bureau of naturalization and are uniform throughout the United States. The district has usually accepted a certificate showing the completion of the work in the night school as evidence that the candidate was prepared for citizenship, if his personal record is satisfactory.

There has been a constantly growing interest in night school work and a large enrollment is in sight. All who expect to enter should register Monday night because class work will begin Wednesday and those who enter late will be handicapped. Classes will be organized where ten or more people desire certain kind of work. One department of the night school this year will be for the benefit of those engaged in the manufacturing and building industries. Many times a tradesman has found that there was some part of his trade or something related to his trade that he did not clearly understand. An opportunity to discuss such matters with a tradesman who understands these difficulties would often make his work easier. To give this opportunity classes are to be organized for carpenters, bricklayers, plasterers, plumbers, electricians, janitors, auto mechanics, machinists, and others. If the demand makes it necessary.

These classes will be conducted by men from the various trades. These men will instruct their own tradesmen in trade arithmetic, trade science, trade drawing, reading of blue prints, trade skill, kinks and knowledge of the trade itself. Instructor will also lead discussion in other matters that are instructive to tradesmen.

"Hell may be paved with good intentions," declares L. H. A. in the Joplin Globe, "but they are not concrete."

Be Better Looking—Take Olive Tablets

If your skin is yellow—complexion pallid—tongue coated—appetite poor—you have a bad taste in your mouth—a lazy, no-god feeling—you should take Olive Tablets.

You will know them by their olive color. To have clear, pink skin, bright eyes, no pimples, a feeling of buoyancy like childhood days you must get at the cause. Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets act on the liver and bowels like cod liver—yet have no dangerous after effects.

AMERICAN POINT OF VIEW TOWARD TURKS REVEALED

Government Has Taken Such Action as Has Been Appropriate or Feasible, Says Secretary Hughes.

Lowell, Mass., Oct. 30.—Secretary of State Hughes in a letter to Congressman John J. Rogers of this city, made public tonight, amplified recent statements by his department as to the government's attitude toward the situation of the Christian minorities in Turkey. The letter, dated October 27, was in reply to one from Representative Rogers on this subject.

"This government," the secretary wrote, "has taken such action as in the rapidly shifting circumstances has been appropriate or feasible, both in aid of the Christian minorities and to make clear to the Turkish authorities the strong feeling of the people of this country in regard to acts of cruelty and oppression."

After referring to an announcement by his department on July 27, that the government had agreed to a proposal for an investigation by a neutral commission of conditions in Anatolia, he continued: "I may go further and tell you what has not hitherto been announced, namely, that this government agreed to place at the disposal of the international Red Cross its quota of the sum which had been indicated as necessary to meet the expenses of the proposed commission. But circumstances for which the United States is in no way responsible have postponed the constitution of the commission until the situation has so changed that the immediate carrying out of the proposed investigation is rendered difficult. Nevertheless, I consider myself not unjustified in adding that our action had the useful effect of once more making known the American point of view with respect to events in Turkey."

MAYOR DEMANDS $10,000 DAMAGES FOR HORSEWHIPPING

Theodore Schiermann, mayor of Liberty, Kan., has sued the township of Liberty for $10,000 damages for an attack made on him. He was taken from his place of business by masked men and horsewhipped. He says his assailants told him he was being punished for voting opinions against the Ku Klux Klan.

COUNTRY TURNS TO GOOD MUSIC, SAYS GEO. GEAKE

Albuquerque Singer Notes, However, That Jazz Is Creeping Into Classical Productions.

"There is an increased demand for the better class of music, despite the fact that the country still is jazz crazy," said George Geake, of the Apollo Music company, who has just returned from New York, where he made six master records for the Brunswick company.

"Retail dealers say that the demand for higher grade music makes it almost impossible to supply the demand for records of that class. The country is not going in strong for grand opera, but it is showing a strong preference for the better ballads and songs that are real music. "I can notice a disposition on the part of European composers, particularly the French, to work into their classical compositions some of the weird interpolations of the American jazz," Mr. Geake continued. "This pleased me, I made the prediction some two

MRS. ROSIER ON WITNESS STAND IN OWN DEFENSE

Philadelphia Woman Charged With Murder Says Mind Was a Blank When Shooting Occurred.

Philadelphia, Oct. 30.—Mrs. Catherine Rosier, charged with the killing of her husband, Oscar, and his stenographer, Mildred Germaine Reckitt, testified today that her mind was blank when the shooting occurred. She is being tried for the shooting of the stenographer.

Mrs. Rosier, awaying in her chair, haltingly told how she went to her husband's office with a newly bought pistol prepared to end her life. A last appeal to her husband for his love failed. She testified that she opened the door and found her husband and his stenographer there. Then she screamed, she said, and thereafter remembered nothing until she saw John R. K. Scott, her counsel, in the police station.

Severe cross-examination by District Attorney Arthur J. Speiser failed to alter materially this testimony.

Dr. Charles K. Mills, an alienist, called to the stand shortly before the close of the session, declared he believed Mrs. Rosier was insane at the moment of the crime.

During the cross examination Mrs. Rosier said she did not mean to kill her husband.

"I loved my husband too much to kill him," she said. "I wanted to go to his office and kill myself in his presence."

New York, Oct. 30.—The New York Giants have purchased Jack Bentley, left handed pitcher and first baseman, from the Baltimore team of the International league, for a substantial sum of money and some players, according to announcement made today at the club offices.

The Giants will use Bentley as a pitcher, James Tierney, secretary of the club said.

NUDE PICTURES IN MAJORITY AT PARIS EXHIBIT

Paris, Oct. 30 (By the Associated Press).—"Geometric art," a new movement in painting which seeks to express life and soul in geometrical lines instead of in the soft strokes of the conventional school of painting, strikes a startling note in the fifteenth autumn salon.

There are between fifty and sixty Americans out of the 1,300 artists exhibiting. With but few exceptions, the Americans do much to contribute to the salon, the dominant impression of which is not beauty but frankness.

The nude, which this year far outnumber all other kinds of pictures are in some cases startling and in some cases surprising is expressed that the jury of the salon, even in the face of its traditional liberality approved of some of them.

Buy "Diamond Dyes" and follow the simple directions in every package. Don't wonder whether you can dye or tint successfully, because perfect home dyeing is guaranteed with Diamond Dyes even if you have never dyed before. Worn, faded dresses, skirts, waists, coats, sweaters, stockings, draperies, hangings, everything, become like new again. Just tell your druggist whether the material you wish to dye is wool or silk, or whether it is linen, cotton or mixed goods. Diamond Dyes never streak, spot, fade, or run.

which holds its "varnishing day" tomorrow.

Artists of ten nationalities, including American, have hung in the exhibition more than 30 "line pictures" which make the following of cubism seem hopelessly conventional. The contributors to the new idea are enthusiastic over its possibilities, believing their movement will eventually contribute a new school of art.

Geometricists treat of conventional subjects, such as nudes, landscapes and interiors, but employ carefully worked out lines according to the rules of geometry. The pictures are said to have a keen appeal for mathematicians.

Francis Picabill, the Spanish artist, who invented "dadaism," is the leader of the new method of expression.

ZIVIC IS AWARDED JUDGE'S DECISION

Columbus, O., Oct. 30.—Pete Zivic, New York, won the judges' decision over Phil O'Dowd of Columbus in a 12-round bout here tonight. Each weighed 117½ pounds.

The fight was held after an injunction obtained by Robert Cline, who represented himself as O'Dowd's manager, had claimed breach of contract, had been modified to allow O'Dowd to participate.

A lot of women say they are not going to wear short skirts any longer.

BARBER SAYS MAN
KNOCKED HIS JAW
OUT; WHO DID IT?

Apolonio Gallo, proprietor of a barber shop on South Second street, testified yesterday afternoon that Felipe Martinez had struck him in the jaw Friday night and knocked his jaw out of joint. "I had to have a policeman help me put my jaw back in place before I could talk much," Gallo said. He declared that Martinez had accosted him in alley near his shop and asked, "How much money are you carrying?" Gallo interpreted this to mean, "Give me some money." He said Martinez had a knife in his hand.

Martinez testified that previous to the alleged encounter, he had asked Gallo for a loan until he got his pay check, but the barber had refused. He said he had not struck Gallo. Police Judge Roddy dismissed the charge of assault that had been made against Martinez for lack of corroborative evidence.

The Chihuahue News sums it up like this: "After a girl has paid $3 bucks for a pair of hose you can't blame her for wanting to show about $7.50 worth hot them."

TWO DEMOCRATS
PLACED ON EACH
ELECTION BOARD

County Commissioners Obey
Peremptory Writ of Court and Revise List of Election
Judges.

Acting on a peremptory writ of mandamus issued by the district court yesterday morning the county commissioners at a special meeting yesterday afternoon revised their list of election judges appointed to allow a democratic majority on each board.

The board of commissioners, through its attorney, F. E. Wood, attempted to answer the alternative writ previously issued by the court before Judge M. E. Hickey yesterday morning. Holding that the commissioners had failed to show sufficient cause for not carrying out the previous order, a peremptory writ was signed by Judge Hickey.

The court hearing lasted almost the entire morning. An attempt was made by the commissioners to delay the time of the hearing by the court and to obtain a supersedeas in the supreme court to stay the district court's order. These failed, however, and the commissioners were ordered to meet and revise their list at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon in order that the court might still take action if they refused to obey the order.

The fight between the republicans and the democrats began on Saturday morning when the commission voted to place a republican majority on each election board. An alternative writ of mandamus was obtained from the district court by the democrats ordering the board to revise the list or show cause on Monday morning. At a special meeting on Saturday evening the board ordered to go to court on the matter. They claimed a republican majority on the grounds that two members of the board are republican although they were elected to the office on the democratic ticket as fusionists. In a similar case before the election two years ago the election judge majority should be of the same party and the ticket on which the majority of the commissioners were elected.

COUNTY BROKE;
BILLS MUST GO
TILL JANUARY 1
Bernillo county is "busted," or at least financially embarrassed. A statement that the last dollar in the general fund had been spent and that no more would be available until the new year was made at the meeting of the board of county commissioners yesterday afternoon.

Bills were approved and paid as far as the money went yesterday but no bills on file can be met now until January 1 when the taxes will replenish the treasury, according to Albert C. Simms, delinquent taxes coming in now may help the situation, but not to any great extent, Mr. Simms said.

TOURIST WHO STRUCK BOY BROUGHT BACK TO FACE COURT CHARGES

J. W. Burke, arrested yesterday afternoon at Belen for having struck and injured 5-year-old Chester Baker here yesterday morning, has been brought back to answer charges of reckless driving. He will have a hearing in police court at 9 o'clock this morning.

Burke is a chauffeur engaged by a tourist named Hoffman, whom he is driving from La Junta to Hot Springs. Burke, Mr. Hoffman and Mrs. Henry who was also in the car were brought into Albuquerque last night by Officer Charles H. Kern. The car was left at Belen where Burke was arrested by Special Officer Galtger.

Burke told officers that he thought he had struck the little boy on the street but that someone had called to him that the boy was hurt and he had driven on. He is not an experienced driver, he admitted. The child, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Baker of 707 South 20th street, received two deep scalp wounds.

AN INTOXICATED MAN TRIES TO SEIZE THE POSTOFFICE PATRONS

A young man with red hair and booked at the police station as John Doe because he was unable to talk, created a disturbance at the postoffice last night by attempting to seize persons entering the building. He was intoxicated and in a fighting humor. He was taken to jail in an automobile and put up a fight with Officer Pablo Lujan when he was removed from the car.
