RECORD OF U. S. RAILROAD LABOR BOARD DEFENDED BY B. W. HOOPER

Tribunal Has Served the Best Interests of Both the Workers and the Public, Chairman Claims.

INCREASE IN WAGES WOULD BE RUINOUS
Award Which Would Create a Deficit Would Crush the Carriers and Bring Disaster to Employees.

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Replying to published criticisms of the United States railroad labor board's recent decision in the maintenance of way case, Ben W. Hooper, chairman of the board, tonight issued a statement asserting that the board has served the best interests of both labor and the public.

The decision in the maintenance of way case was issued late Saturday. It raised the minimum rates of pay from 23 to 25 cents to 25 to 27 cents an hour. Employees sought a 48-cent an hour minimum. After asserting that he spoke only as an individual, Mr. Hooper's statement said in part:

"A wage award which would crush the railroads would ruin the employees."

"A wage award which would create an enormous deficit in every railway treasury would necessitate the imposition of higher freight rates on the farmers, producers and shippers of this country."

"The living wage idea presented to the labor board called for a 75 to 75-cent per hour minimum for common labor all over the United States, and the maintenance of proper differentials for skilled labor. On the basis of the railway income for 1921, this would have created a budget deficit of $2,241,629,518."

What Theorists Want.
"A living wage is not the thing for which the theorists contend. They want the living wage, which according to their dogmatic formula, means, at their lowest estimate, about $1,650 per year for a section man. The budget upon which this wage was predicated was declared by two of the expert representatives of the employees to be a 'guess and a makeshift,' and yet the board is criticised for not adopting it."

"A wage award which would create a deficit in the treasury of the United States by multiplied billions of dollars."

"That there is an impractical as a flat dollar. Both have been tried out in Russia, where the laborer may get millions of rubles for his flat wage and live on it, but he cannot buy anything with it. The swelling tide of prosperity in our country cannot be hastened by methods of this kind."

Hooper also strongly assailed the attitude of Edsel Ford, the automobile manufacturer; Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor; and William Randolph Hearst, all of whom had criticized the report of the labor board in regard to the living wage.

IMPROVED BUSINESS CONDITIONS SEEN IN NUMBER CARS LOADED

Washington, Nov. 1.—Indications of rapidly improving conditions in the country's general business life were given today in reports to the car service section of the American Railway association, which, among other things, showed the greatest weekly loading of freight from which the railroads derived revenue in two years. The reports disclosed that, with the exception of four weeks in September and October, 1920, the loading of 1,007,754 cars of revenue freight the week of October 21 was the greatest on record.

A record of 596,392 cars loaded with merchandise and miscellaneous freight which includes manufactured products also, was established during the week, the association reported. This was an increase of 7,294 cars over the week of September 25, when all previous high marks for that class of freight were broken. As compared with the corresponding week of 1920, the association said, the total showed an increase of 26,554, while it was 20,230 cars more than for the corresponding week last year.

The loading of grain and grain products for the week, a total of 55,680 cars, also showed substantial increases over the corresponding weeks of 1920 and last year. Similar, although some smaller increases, were shown in virtually all other commodities handled in bulk types, according to the statement.

ELECTION ON NOV. 7 WILL BE A TEST OF THE WOMEN VOTERS

Washington, Nov. 1.—Next week's election will stand as a "test" of the women voters, Mrs. Emily Newell Blair, vice chairman of the democratic national committee, declared in a statement in which she said the women have now had time to chart a course and select party alignments. She explained that when they were granted the franchise, it was immediately ahead of an election in which they had had no voice in the picking of candidates.

"This time," she continued, "it is different. They were called upon to vote in the primaries and to elect the fact that if they were to make full use of their franchise and help select the candidates, they must choose a party. Unfortunately, when many of them made their choice in the months immediately following their enfranchisement, the outstanding differences between the policies and pronouncements of the two great parties had not been clearly emphasized by the parties themselves. As this campaign progresses, however, these differences are becoming more and more marked and that fact is not lost upon the women."

EX-GOV. ADAMS IS DEAD AFTER A LONG ILLNESS

Served Two Terms as Chief Executive of Colorado; Was Prominent Pueblo Banker and Mason.

Pueblo, Colo., Nov. 1.—Alva Adams, twice governor of Colorado, the man who built the first building in Colorado Springs, Colo., banked on his reputation as a nationally known as inspector general of the Ancient Order of Scottish Rites in the western jurisdiction, died today at Battle Creek, Mich., where he had gone for medical treatment three weeks ago. Mr. Adams was 72 years old.

Mr. Adams' death was caused by heart trouble, induced by chronic diabetes from which he had suffered a number of years.

Born in Wisconsin.
Alva Adams was born in Iowa county, Wisconsin, May 14, 1850. The family came to Colorado when Alva was 21 years old because of the illness of a brother. The family went to the Greeley region, where Alva obtained employment hauling timber from the forests for the construction of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad. A few weeks later he secured employment with C. W. Sanborn, a lumber and hardware dealer of Colorado City, Colo.

While in Sanborn's employ, Adams was the beginning of his business career. He erected a building on the present site of Colorado Springs and there housed the business. In two or three months Adams purchased the business from Sanborn, giving Adams a net of $10,000. The next year he took a partner and leaving him in charge of the business Adams came to Pueblo and started a hardware store in this city which was the beginning of his business enterprises in Pueblo and which was the nucleus of a modest fortune left by him on his death. He established branches in many other cities.

An Ardent Democrat.
Being an ardent democrat, Adams did not long stay out of politics. At 26 years he was elected to the state legislature from Rio Grande county. In 1884 he was nominated on the democratic ticket for governor but was defeated. He ran again in 1888 and was elected by a huge majority. In 1890 he was again elected governor. In 1904 he was apparently elected a third time but in a contest with Peabody Adams was ousted by the legislature after serving three months.

Mr. Adams was long identified with financial affairs of Pueblo. He had been president of the Pueblo Savings and Trust company for years and identified with Alva Adams, who was the oldest living director in point of service in the International Trust company of Denver.

A few years ago he was made a thirty-third degree Mason and later designated as inspector general of the western jurisdiction of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite of Free Masonry.

Education Himself.
Having been denied the benefits of a high school education Alva Adams educated himself by extensive reading, travel and contact with educators. He was noted man, until long before his death, he was considered one of the best educated men in Colorado and ranked high among the deep thinkers of the state.

Besides his wife, who was at his bedside when he died, Mr. Adams leaves a son, Alva B. Adams, a prominent attorney of Pueblo, and several grandchildren.

TAKES 16 HRS. A WEEK IN COLLEGE AND WORKS 11 HOURS EACH NIGHT

Ann Arbor, Mich., Nov. 1.—Ralph Warner, 18, a freshman engineer, is taking 16 hours a week in college and working in a factory each night to pay his way. He developed today when he was asked to be excused from gymnasium work, required of all students at the University of Michigan. He had no time for work. Warner said he works from 5:30 each evening until 4:30 a. m. Four mornings each week he has a class at 8 o'clock and four afternoons a week he has classes at 4 o'clock, then hurries into his overalls and back to his bench.

LESS THAN HALF OF CANDIDATES LIST EXPENSES

Many Who Aspire to Seats in Senate May Think They Are Not Required to File Expense Statements.

Washington, Nov. 1.—While less than one-half of the candidates for the senate have filed campaign expense statements, according to the count made today by clerks, candidates for the house are still sending their reports at the rate of almost 200 a day. In the midst of the confusion as to provisions of the law, the one fact that stands out clearly is that house candidates must file now and after the election.

This view was expressed by some senate officials that many candidates for that branch might accept the interpretation of its supreme court decision in the Newberry case by Attorney General Daugherty that they were not required to file. In a letter last year to Representative Luce, republican of Massachusetts, the attorney general answering a specific inquiry as to the effect of the Newberry decision, said:

"As United States senators are not now elected by legislatures of the states, as contemplated in the act, it is my opinion that the fact in connection with the holding in the Newberry decision makes it unnecessary for a candidate for United States senate to file any statement whatever in connection with his nomination or election."

Mr. Daugherty contended that the only provision of the election law now in force and effect is the one which requires that statements be filed in connection with the election of candidates for the house.

Most of the reports on file with the senate have not been brought up to date, many relating to primary expenses. Senator Francis, republican of Maryland, reported that in his primary fight, his expenditures were $20,754, with contributions of $31,000. Royal W. France, his brother, headed the list of contributors with $15,000. Senator Townsend, republican of Michigan, reported that his expenses were $700. After the primary, Senator Townsend filed a report showing the expenditure of $20,729 for his nomination, which he had suffered a number of years.

The Townsend for-Senator Club.
Senator Ashurst, democrat, Arizona, received a contribution of $100 from the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen. He spent $17. Senator Ledge of Massachusetts, spent $2,870, all of which went to republican clubs in his state, while William A. Ganson, his democratic opponent, spent $1,216 in the primary and $1,113 in the general election fight.

Some of the other reports show: Lynn J. Fraser, North Dakota, (primary), $249; Senator King, Utah, September 19, congressional, $1,678; expenditures, $1,678; Senator Hitchcock, Nebraska, $5,412; Carl W. Riddick, republican, Montana, $510; Earle B. Mayfield, Texas, $15.50.

Senator Pollock, Wisconsin, got $6,418 and spent $2,074, while Senator Kendrick reported the expenditure of $1,418 in Wyoming.

SITES CHOSEN FOR BARRIERS ON RIO GRANDE

Tentative Locations for Dams to Be Part of Reclamation System Are Under Consideration.

Santa Fe, Nov. 1.—Sites have been tentatively selected for three reservoirs on the upper Rio Grande and Rio Chama, which is partly responsible for the former's destructive floods, in connection with irrigation projects which it is hoped to get the reclamation service to undertake under the Smith-McNary bill.

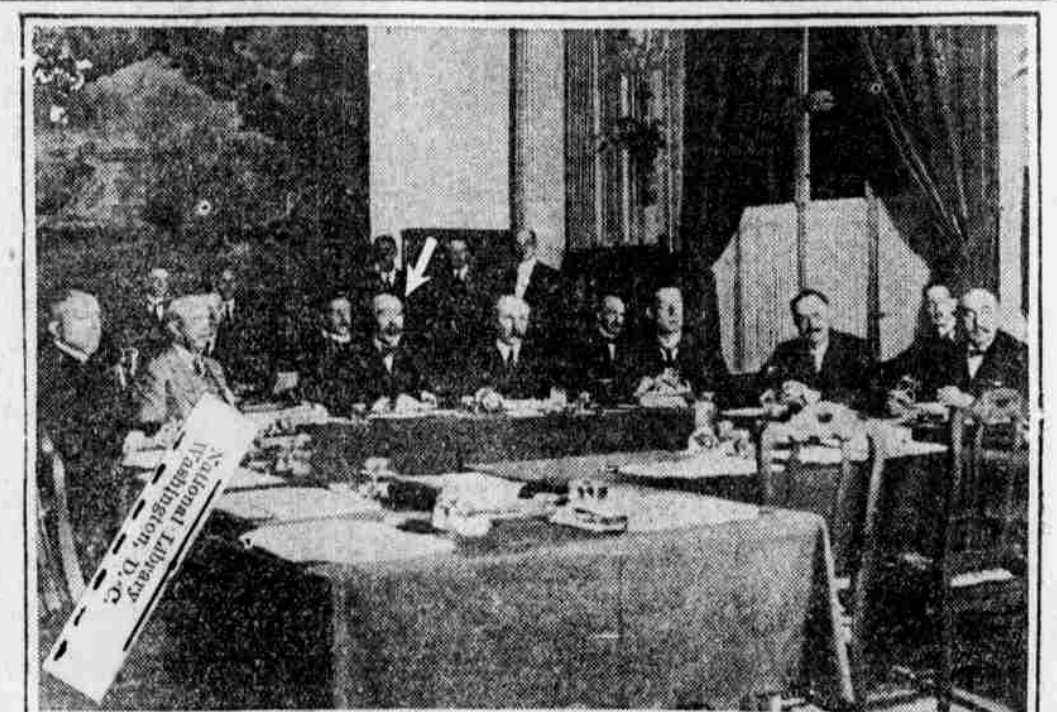

The sites are one, called the Stateline on the Rio Grande, and two smaller ones on the Chama—one near El Vado, Rio Arriba county, and the other on the Burns ranch, according to States Engineer Charles A. May.

It is believed that these places would not only flatten out the floods of the Rio Grande, which in times past has caused heavy property losses to the south, but also permit the drainage of a big acreage of water-logged and now useless lands along the valley and the bringing under irrigation of about 137,000 arable acres between the Colorado line and the Elephant Butte dam.

The sites were selected tentatively as the result of an investigation carried on jointly by State Engineer May and the reclamation service and the Rio Grande drainage commission, headed by Capt. W. C. Reid, Albuquerque. The investigation was provided for by the 1921 legislature. The reclamation service they were asked by the state engineer's office and the commission to participate so that in the event the reclamation service is willing to undertake construction of these projects the investigation, which is now practically completed, can be used as its primary investigation and duplication of this work avoided by the service.

With the tentative choosing of these sites, diamond drilling is to be started at once on the Stateline site. Mr. May said to find out whether it is feasible to construct a big dam at this place, and as soon as the borings are finished there similar tests are to be made on the other two tentative sites on the Chama.

Reparations Commission Meets to Prevent German Collapse

The reparations commission, snapped at its last session. M. Barthou, French representative and president of the commission, is indicated by an arrow.

The allied reparations commission has arranged to meet in Berlin to view first hand conditions there and confer with German officials on financial terms to forestall the threatened collapse of Germany.

The decision to hold the Berlin session default and take measures to handle the situation from that angle. That he, on behalf of England, was ready to declare Germany bankrupt and take measures to handle the situation from that angle.

THOMAS N. PAGE, EX-AMBASSADOR TO ITALY, DIES

Was Best Known for His Literary Productions, Which Won Fame for Him at Home and Abroad.

Richmond, Va., Nov. 1.—Thomas Nelson Page, former ambassador to Italy, and widely known author, died at the home of relatives in Hanover county, Virginia, today, according to a report received by the News Leader.

Although he served as American ambassador to Rome for six years, Mr. Page was best known for his literary productions which made a name for him at home and abroad before President Wilson at the beginning of his administration asked him to enter the diplomatic service. He was appointed ambassador to Italy in June, 1913, and served in that capacity until August, 1919. He was born April 22, 1853, in Hanover county.

As a youth Mr. Page attended Washington and Lee university. In 1874 the degree of bachelor of laws was conferred on him by the University of Virginia. Subsequently the honorary degree of doctor of laws was conferred on him by Washington and Lee, Tufts university and Williams. Mr. Page was married to Miss Anne Seddon Brown, daughter of William Seddon, in 1882 to Mrs. Florence Lathrop Field, widow of Henry Field of Chicago. Her death occurred last year.

Mr. Page was the author of a number of books on southern life. Until recently Mr. Page had been making his home in Washington, but he closed his house there a few weeks ago with the intention of visiting relatives in Virginia and other states.

Mr. Page's service as ambassador to Italy covered a critical period on American European relations and many of the important diplomatic moves, passing between the United States and the allied governments went through his hands.

Morgan Asleep in Bed.
Murguia was asleep in a bed. He betrayed no emotion when informed that he was under arrest. Followed by excited crowds, he was conducted to military headquarters where a court martial was hastily formed under the presidency of General Miguel Laveaga, who was assisted by Generals Anacleto Lopez and Pedro Sosa. Murguia declared in the official reports to have offered little defense.

The former Carranza general received the verdict of the court calmly. Afterwards he requested writing materials and in undertook to have passed the night writing letters to his wife and friends. At 9 o'clock this morning the firing squad was assembled and in the presence of the entire population of Tepehuantes, Murguia met death.

He declined to have his face covered and gave orders to his executioners.

The body is being held in Tepehuantes. It probably will be buried there.

Active Enemy Removed.
In the death of Murguia, the most active of all of President Obregon's enemies is removed. For months he had conducted an organized campaign against the central government from across the international boundary. Only recently following his departure to parts unknown in Mexico, Murguia's bondsmen in the United States were asked to surrender their forfeit money.

MEXICAN REBEL LEADER SHOT BY A FIRING SQUAD

General Francisco Murguia Executed at Tepehuantes, Durango, After a Brief Court Martial.

Mexico City, Nov. 1 (by the Associated Press).—General Francisco Murguia, the rebel leader, was executed by a firing squad at 9 o'clock this morning at Tepehuantes, Durango, after a brief court martial last night. It was announced today from the presidential offices. Murguia, the announcement said, met death calmly.

Surprised by federal forces while asleep in a tiny room behind the high altar of the Catholic church at Tepehuantes last night, Murguia, a former follower of President Carranza and one of the most persistent of President Obregon's enemies, was given a hasty court martial and sentenced to die.

Led Over a Hill.
At 9 o'clock this morning he was led over a hill and in the presence of the native population, was shot by a detail of men who had been chosen to execute the order of the court.

According to reports, Murguia for the last few weeks had virtually been a fugitive. Following the dispersal of his rebel band at Guadalupe, Durango, and with less than a dozen adherents remaining with him, he had been living in a cave in a hilly region. He was discovered yesterday morning at Tepehuantes when an Indian maiden friendly to the federals, slipped into the federal camp and divulged his hiding place to General Abraham Carranza, who immediately surrounded the village.

Carranza was told by the girl that Murguia was being sheltered by the village curate, Father Cazares, and the soldiers silently took possession of the church last night. Father Cazares at first disclaimed all knowledge of Murguia, but later admitted that he was harboring a visitor and unlocked the door leading to a small room immediately back of the high altar.

Murguia was asleep in a bed. He betrayed no emotion when informed that he was under arrest. Followed by excited crowds, he was conducted to military headquarters where a court martial was hastily formed under the presidency of General Miguel Laveaga, who was assisted by Generals Anacleto Lopez and Pedro Sosa. Murguia declared in the official reports to have offered little defense.

GOVERNOR ASKS PUBLIC TO AID RED CROSS WORK

Issues Proclamation Calling Attention to Annual Roll Call, November 11 to November 30.

The following proclamation has been issued by Governor Merritt C. McChesney:

"EXECUTIVE OFFICE
"SANTA FE, NEW MEXICO
"To the People of New Mexico:
"We are all familiar with the activities of the American Red Cross; and its heroic work for suffering and dying humanity in the great World war is still fresh in our minds."

"The American Red Cross typifies the heart of America, and its mission of mercy continues; it is the nurse at the bedside of our disabled soldier boys, and it is the Good Samaritan sent into every corner of the world by Uncle Sam to alleviate the sick and extend a helping hand to the down and out."

"The Sixth Annual Roll Call of the American Red Cross will begin on Armistice Day, November 11 next, and continue to Thanksgiving Day."

"In New Mexico the Red Cross continues its service to our boys at Camp Furlong, and to the disabled ex-service men at Silver City; it maintains trained men and women at various points to assist our thirty-five hundred ex-soldiers in their public health and nursing service, and fosters Junior Red Cross Auxiliaries for training boys and girls in better citizenship; it promotes health education, home hygiene, sanitation, first aid and nutritious work."

"I desire, therefore, to call to your special attention the RED CROSS ROLL CALL, beginning on ARMISTICE DAY, NOVEMBER 11 next, and ending on THANKSGIVING DAY, November 30th, this year, and to urge you to renew your membership, or become members, and to extend any other aid you may feel able to contribute to this great American movement."

"Done at the Executive Office, this 1st day of November, 1922."

"Witness my hand and the Great Seal of the State of New Mexico, this 1st day of November, 1922."
"MERRITT C. MCCHESNEY."
(Seal)
"Attest, Manuel Martinez, Secretary of State."

INJURIES ARE FATAL TO N. Y. MARBLE KING

New York, Nov. 1.—An old man suffering from injuries received when he was hit by a taxicab was brought to the Bellevue hospital last night. He was unable to give his name. No one called to watch by his bedside or to inquire as to his condition.

He died today. A few hours later the body was identified as that of John Russell Taber, a millionaire maker of decorative marble known for many years as the "Marble King."

His daughter, Marion Taber, has charge of the occupational therapy work at the hospital, where her father died.

ENGLAND GOING TO PAY WHAT SHE OWES U. S., SAYS BALDWIN
London, Nov. 1.—The new chancellor of the exchequer, Stanley Baldwin, declared tonight that his first duty will be to settle the debt to the United States. He made this announcement in a speech at Cardiff when he alluded also to the necessity of a prompt settlement of the reparations problem.

Regarding the amount owing to the United States, he said: "It is a heavy debt but we have told America that we are responsible for it to the last penny, and we are going to pay it."

ARREST MAN IN KIDNAPING OF A MICHIGAN MISS

Raymond E. Wilson Is Held for Investigation; Girl Is Located, Suffering From Exposure.

Grand Rapids, Mich., Nov. 1.—Raymond Eugene Wilson was arrested here tonight for investigation in connection with the abduction in Muskegon Sunday of 11-year-old Rosalie Shanty, who was found in the woods of Manistee county last night in a serious condition from exposure. Wilson's description, police said, tallied with that of the man who enticed the child into an automobile and drove out of Muskegon with her against her protests.

Sheriff J. J. O'Connell from Muskegon was en route here tonight to take Wilson to that city, where he was to be confronted by members of the girl's family and several boys who told authorities a man asked them to get out of him "the swimming girl" shortly before the abduction.

Search for Wilson began when it was learned he had spoken to the child last summer during her confinement in a room similar to that in which the girl was spirited away.

GIRL'S BODY CUT AND CRUISED BY BRAMBLES
Muskegon, Mich., Nov. 1.—Suffering from exposure, her clothing hanging in shreds and her body cut and bruised by brambles, 11-year-old Rosalie Shanty, 11-year-old swimming and diving marvel, lies in a serious condition at Dublin, Mich., today, while officers of Manistee county are seeking the Jack Frost swamp country for a man who kidnapped her from her home here Sunday. A physician who is in constant attendance at the bedside of the child at the home of her mother, Mrs. Shanty, is reported by officers as having said that the girl had been attacked and roughly handled. Reports received today are that she has a high fever and that her condition is growing steadily worse.

When found by Joe Preski, a farmer, three and a half miles east of Dublin last night, Rosalie was wet from splashing through a small creek and her body was bleeding from barbed wire and underbrush cuts. The girl wore no hat and no underclothing.

Rosalie was kidnapped Sunday as she returned from church, when a man drove up to her home, declaring he was the father of one of the child's little chums. He asked the child's mother if Rosalie could come and have dinner with his daughter. Mrs. Shanty is said to have given her consent with the proviso that Rosalie must be home before dark.

It was 2:30 o'clock when Timothy N. Preffer, Mrs. Hall's lawyer, escorted her into the quiet library of the big Hall home, where the reporters were waiting in service ranks.

He introduced her and withdrew, leaving her alone with her ordeal of personal publicity—an ordeal from which she had said she had shrunk since youth.

How She Was Attired.
Attired in a gown of black cotton crepe, with a light scarf of black silk about her shoulders, she sat herself in an old fashioned rocker and let her gray eyes rove over the strange scene her familiar library presented.

The background of greenish gold was paneled with a medley of classical prints and portraits of ancestors; the mantle with its blue-abrac and vases, the antique book cases, one topped with a child's tinkler toy—all these were familiar to her. But the rug had been pushed back, chairs cluttered the room, and in each chair sat a reporter. There were a score of men and two women.

She sat at her desk at two o'clock stenographers to make a transcript of the interview.

Plum Woman of 47.
The reporters watching her roving gaze with intent stares, saw a rather plump woman of 47—pale, obviously tired, and slightly nervous.

She braced one hand on each arm of her rocker and the interview began.

"Have you any comment to make, Mrs. Hall," the spokesman began, "on that part of Mrs. Gibson's story, (Mrs. Jane Gibson, the so-called eye witness of the slaying) in which she says you were

RECTOR'S WIDOW DISCUSSES N. J. DOUBLE SLAYING FOR FIRST TIME

Seeks to Extricate Herself From the Circumstantial Net in Which the Mystery Has Enmeshed Her.

IS PUT THROUGH AN HOUR'S QUESTIONING
Falls Into None of the Traps the Cross Examiners Prepared for Her; Sheds No Light on Case.

New Brunswick, N. J., Nov. 1 (by the Associated Press).—"What comment could I make? Of course that was not so, and that is all."

With these words, Mrs. Frances Stevens Hall opened today her first interview—an interview planned by her counsel so that she might seek to extricate herself, in the public eye, from the circumstantial net in which the unfolding of the Hall-Mills murder mystery has enmeshed her.

For the first time since she was made a widow by the slaying of the Rev. Edward Wheeler Hall and his choir leader, Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, Mrs. Hall emerged from the seclusion she has maintained for seven weeks, meeting a small army of newspaper writers in her home, and subjecting herself to an hour's bombardment of questions.

Went, but Composed.
At 10 o'clock she retired as she had entered the room, wan but composed. She shed no light on the mystery. She had fallen into none of the traps the cross examiners prepared for her. Here was a negative story. It amplified but did not materially alter the statements previously made on her behalf by counsel and friends.

Briefly, by counsel and friends, she returned from church, when a man drove up to her home, declaring he was the father of one of the child's little chums. He asked the child's mother if Rosalie could come and have dinner with his daughter. Mrs. Shanty is said to have given her consent with the proviso that Rosalie must be home before dark.

Guilty Verdict Found Against an Ex-Minister
First Degree Murder Is the Jury's Decision in Case of Elliott Padrick; Mercy Is Recommended.

Statesboro, Ga., Nov. 1.—Elliott Padrick, youthful former Methodist preacher, was found guilty of first degree murder in connection with the killing of his mother-in-law, Mrs. Mamie Lou Dixon, last June, the jury returning a verdict early today with a recommendation of mercy. The verdict automatically overrode a sentence of life imprisonment.

The jury's verdict was reached after consideration of the case that lasted since 9 o'clock this morning.

Satisfaction with the verdict and sentence were expressed by Padrick as he was led from the court room by Sheriff Joe Tillman, to begin his term of life imprisonment.

"I will not appeal," he said; "I am well satisfied with the verdict."

Padrick was placed on trial Monday for the confessed slaying of his mother-in-law, who was found dead in an automobile on the road between Clito and Dover, late in the afternoon of last June 19. His wife was also in the machine suffering from wounds from which she died within a short time.

Padrick was arrested a few hours after the crime was discovered. He was taken to the Richmond county jail at Augusta because of a fear of violence. There he stated he had been directed "by the hand of God" in committing the crime.

This morning, Padrick's arrival at the Augusta jail, newspaper men who went there to get a statement from him found the former minister sound asleep and apparently unconscious over the outcome of the predicament in which he found himself.

Appearing before the jury in his own defense at the trial Padrick began his testimony by offering prayer in which he asked that the jury join, and followed with a brief sermon from the text, "Thou shalt not commit adultery." In his speech to the jury he condemned modern tendencies and dress of women which, he claimed, led to sex appeal that caused the downfall of young men and women.

HIGH RUN AT BILLIARDS.
National Three Cushion Billiard league high run record of eleven was established here tonight in the Na-hug Heat, Toledo, in a match by Hugh Heat, Toledo, in a match in which he defeated Robert Caninefax, of New York, by a score of 50 to 44 in 73 innings. Caninefax a run of five.

BACK TAXES ARE PAID INTO THE U. S. TREASURY

Millions of Dollars a Month Are Being Collected by the Government, Secretary Mellon States.

Washington, Nov. 1.—Millions of dollars a month are being collected by the government through the liquidation of pending tax claims and the payment of back taxes, revenue officials declared today.

Secretary Mellon has let it be known that the treasury is counting on these sources of revenue to aid materially in reducing the government's deficit of about $270,000,000 for the current fiscal year.

Outstanding claims, officials said, have been reduced by about 50 per cent during the past year, which means a return to the government of many millions of dollars. About a year

BERLIN FIRM TO MAKE PRINCESS' WEDDING DRESS

Gown Will Be of Mauve Chiffon and Satin, Lavishly Decorated With Rhinestones, Steel Beads.

Potsdam, Germany, Nov. 1.—(By the Associated Press.)—Despite former Emperor William's expressed wish that no presents be sent on the occasion of his marriage to Princess Hermine of Reuss, a big surprise gift is being prepared in former court circles here.

Each day brings details regarding next Sunday's event at Doorn and these are eagerly devoured by the monarchist party in Potsdam. Franklin Goerz, who presided over the imperial kitchen here for decades, has been engaged to prepare the wedding breakfast at Doorn. She also formerly superintended the household of the royal princes when they were enrolled in the cadet school.

The property deed to be signed Sunday morning will bear the first official designation of Princess Hermine's future title. It is understood this document will provide for a strict division of property between the ex-emperor and his bride, since William's children will not be beneficiaries under the appointment connected with his remarriage.

Princess Hermine's wedding dress has been ordered from a leading Berlin establishment, this being the first "imperial" trousseau prepared in Berlin. It is said, since the marriage of the Duchess of Brunswick in 1913.

The princess' gown is described as being of mauve chiffon and satin, lavishly decorated with rhinestones and steel beads. Mauve was chosen by the ex-emperor because this color was always worn by the late Empress Augusta at court functions.

It is recalled here that the wedding text selected by William was also used when he married Augusta. The text is:

"And now abideth faith, hope, charity, but these three; but the greatest of these is charity."

It is remarked that Sunday's rites will be in their severest simplicity, in direct contrast to William's first wedding, which was attended with unparalleled pomp.

MOTHER WHO STOLE TO FEED HER CHILDREN STILL AT LIBERTY

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 1.—A mother who stole to feed her four children and then to have one of them, a 12-year-old, betray her for a $5 reward, was still at liberty today while authorities investigated further her story of misery and poverty.

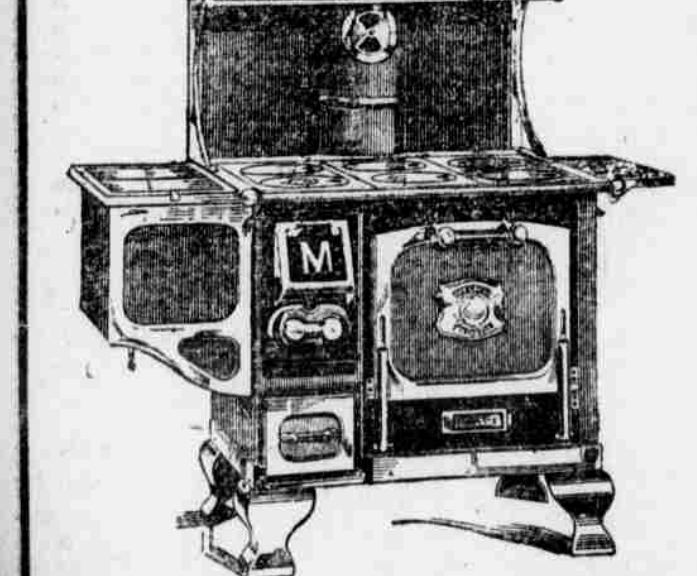

Penniless and stung by the pleas of her children for something to eat, the mother three weeks ago robbed a neighbor's clothing store of silks, linens and apparel, valued at $100.

When police were unable to find the thief, Mrs. L. N. Nelson, the owner, offered a reward of $5 to any neighborhood child who could give a clue that would lead to the arrest of the culprit.

A sobbing, grimy-faced youngster yesterday succumbed to the lure of the $5 and informed Mrs. Nelson that his own mother had taken the garments.

Most of the stolen goods were recovered. Since the police are in doubt as to whether they shall arrest the poverty-stricken mother, it is a question whether the son who betrayed her will profit by his act, as the reward was offered for a clue leading up to the arrest of the thief, and no arrest has been made.

The Majestic Range ---A Beauty

WHEN you first see the new Majestic Range you'll be won by its beauty. When Raabe and Mauger salesman demonstrates it you'll marvel at the ability of the makers to put so many refinements and conveniences into one range. After it's been in your home a week you will enthuse over the way it cooks and the small quantity of fuel it uses. And finally, after it's been in your home long enough to outwear two or three ordinary ranges you'll realize that we do not boast idly when we say that a lifetime of economical service has been built into it.

MIXED CLAIMS COMMISSION IS READY FOR DUTY

Will Begin Today Arranging the Mass of Data Growing Out of the War; Courtesy Exchanged.

Washington, Nov. 1.—The mixed claims commission to adjust American claims against Germany arising out of the war will begin tomorrow the task of arranging the mass of claims for orderly consideration. Today's session, the first at which Dr. Wilhelm Kieselbach, German commissioner, was present, was confined to an exchange of courtesies with Justice Day, umpire of any disputes that may arise, presiding.

In opening the session, Justice Day welcomed the German representatives and Judge Edwin B. Parker, American commissioner followed, while Dr. Kieselbach expressed his appreciation for the reception given himself and colleagues.

Robert C. Morris, in charge of the presentation of the claims to the commission as American agent, outlined the system he proposed to follow and invited the co-operation of Karl Von Lewinsky, the German agent, which was promised.

The nature of the claims is varied, including many cases of loss of American lives at sea prior to American entry into the war. Every part of the country is represented among the claimants, although the bulk of them centralize along the eastern seaboard, particularly in New York city.

TEN-INCH PIPE WILL JOIN THE TWO RESERVOIRS

Will Be Used in Connection With Pump to Fill New Storage Basin From Contents of Old One.

A ten-inch pipe line will be run from the present city reservoir to the new reservoir, which will be constructed a mile and one-half southeast of it. It was stated yesterday that the pipe has been ordered and will arrive in a short time. An electric pump will be established at the old reservoir to boost the water up to the new storage place. Bids on this pump have been asked for.

City Manager Calkins said yesterday that as large a pipe line as possible had been decided upon, as it is more economical to pump through a large pipe than a small one, due to the lessening of friction. In this connection he said that the city is pumping to the present reservoir through the new 14-inch main, and is finding that the pumping is done quicker and with less expense than when the water was forced through the smaller main.

CANDY IS STOLEN FROM FORMHAL'S STORE BY THIEVES

Police are investigating the robbery of Formhal's grocery, 1124 South Edith street, Tuesday night. As nothing but candy was taken, the officers are inclined to believe the job was done by boys on a Halloween prank. The thieves got in through a side door, from which they tried the night latch. About $20 worth of candy was taken.

2 MEETINGS ARE HELD AT RATON BY REPUBLICANS

National, State and County Issues Are Discussed by Davis, Mrs. Warren, Delgado and Linwood.

Raton, N. M., Nov. 1.—National, state and county issues were joined by the republican campaign party in the Gate City last night, held simultaneously through the interchange of speakers.

One meeting was in Shuler auditorium, the other in the east side. Former State Senator E. C. Crampton presided and introduced the speakers.

Judge S. B. Davis, Jr., nominee for United States senator, declared in unmistakable terms his position with respect to the two questions which have become outstanding issues in the New Mexico campaign. One, the so-called bonus bill, is not really an issue between the two great political parties, it was said, but an attempt to bring made by the democrats to make false issue of it.

"We stand squarely upon our party platform which pledges an adjusted compensation law which will do justice to the soldiers of the world war. We will promise nothing more than that, we will do nothing less than that," Judge Davis said.

In arguing for a protective tariff Judge Davis showed that this tariff is designed for the protection of the American worker who cannot compete with the European worker who is receiving one-sixth of the pay of the American worker. "Strange as it may seem, the democratic candidates in New Mexico are not standing on the platform. While they do not openly repudiate their party platform, they do repudiate the great underlying principle of their party for the last 50 years by declaring in favor of the republican principle of protection for New Mexico products. Thus, they are soliciting your votes on the strength of their support of republican principles."

Mrs. Adelina Otero-Warren, nominee for representative in congress, made the opening address. She discussed the problems of the farmers, following description of state conditions as she has found them on this trip. National issues and taxation in New Mexico also were discussed.

W. J. Linwood, mayor of Raton and nominee for sheriff, spoke briefly reviewing the constructive work of the republican party. He spoke also on behalf of the candidates on the county ticket.

H. A. Delgado, nominee for auditor, closed the program. He said the democratic senator, A. A. Jones, reminded him of the new recruit in the awkward squad frequently "bawled out" for being out of step. He suggested the election of Judge Davis and Mrs. Warren would give New Mexico a legislative team in step with another, in step with the administration and in step with the majority in both branches of the congress.

MRS. PHILLIPS ONCE ATTACKED HER OWN SISTER

Woman on Trial in the Mrs. Meadows Slaying Suffered From Periodical Epileptic Convulsions.

Los Angeles, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Clara Phillips once attacked her sister, Mrs. R. S. Jackson, while suffering from a periodical epileptic convulsion. Mrs. Jackson testified today in Mrs. Phillips' trial for the murder of Mrs. Alberta Meadows. This occurred, Mrs. Jackson said, in San Antonio, Texas, in May, 1918. Mrs. Phillips, she said, threw her across a trunk and beat her with a shoe, inflicting a wound on her head of which the scar still remains.

Mrs. Jackson testified that her sister's mental attacks were preceded by a "peculiar look" in her eyes. Clara, she declared, would lose control of herself for from five minutes to two hours when one of the seizures came. Twice during 1917, she said, Mrs. Phillips went into convulsions, hied from the mouth and tore her hair. When the attacks passed, she was left in a weakened condition, according to the witness.

The witness said her mother, Mrs. Hannah J. Weaver, was subject to epileptic convulsions, and is now an invalid at Tampico, Mexico.

RECTOR'S WIDOW DISCUSSES N. J. DOUBLE SLAYING

present on the Phillips farm on the night of September 14th. Moistening her lips, Mrs. Hall replied:

"What comment could I make? Of course that was not so, and that is all."

"You were not there?"

"I certainly was not."

Volleyed Questions at Her.

For an hour, then, one reporter after another volleyed questions at her, taking her over her story of her actions before and after the murder, quizzing her sharply for any possible knowledge she might have had of the rector's affair with Mrs. Mills; seeking some point at which an entering wedge could be driven into her story.

Three or four times she took refuge in the reply, "I cannot remember," and three questions she refused point blank to answer. But throughout the interview she maintained that she always had believed, and still believed, in the faithfulness of her husband to his marriage vows.

Brushing aside the letters and the diary, which her counsel admits are written in a hand remarkably similar to that of the slain minister, she declared:

"I had such faith in my husband. If he were here he could explain. He could explain, if he were here."

She said she had not even read the documents, most of which have been published in the newspapers, asserting: "They did not seem to interest me at all."

When she was pressed to express an opinion as to whether she did not think they might have bearing on the solution of the murder, she said: "I don't even see how that would tell you who was the criminal."

"Don't you think it widens the sphere of motive if a married man and a married woman are conducting an illicit love affair?" she was asked.

"I suppose it would." "Isn't Mr. Pfeiffer tremendously interested to know if these letters and the diary are correct?" "That doesn't interest me very much."

Deeply Affected. Mrs. Hall was apparently deeply affected when questions regarding Mrs. Mills were put, moving restlessly in her chair and folding her arms tightly across her chest.

"Was Mrs. Mills a vamp—do you think she was a woman of good character?" one of the reporters asked near the end of the interview.

"I do not care to say." "You do not think she deliberately set her cap for Mr. Hall?" "I never saw any indication of it."

"Now, what do you think?" "I do not know. I do not know what to think."

The widow maintained throughout the interview that she harbored no malice toward her husband's slayer and that she was not personally interested in seeing the murderer punished, although she said she hoped, for the good of society, to see the guilty person or persons apprehended.

Outwardly, at least, the investigation of the double murder mystery was at a practical standstill today while the interview was being held.

MECHANICAL DEVICE USED TO STEER LINER ON HER LAST VOYAGE

New York, Nov. 1.—A mechanical steering device supplanted the hand of the quartermaster of the Munson liner Munargo on her last voyage from eastern Cuba ports to New York. Capt. Andrew Asburn of the Munargo declared today. The vessel, which docked here yesterday, was the first American passenger ship to make an ocean voyage without a helmsman, company officials said.

The device, Captain Asburn said, was worked on the gyroscope principle and was invented by Elmer A. Sperry, inventor of the gyroscope. It insured a mechanically perfect course and gave warning of any forced deviation by ringing a bell.

It was put into use on the southern trip on October 26, he said, and was used throughout the voyage to Cuba and back to New York, except when approaching harbors. When the ship reached Cuba, Captain Asburn said, the Cuban pilot, seeing no man at the wheel, became frightened and shouted to the ship's officers that the vessel would go aground.

SISTERS REUNITED AFTER FORTY YEARS

Sterling, Ill., Nov. 1.—Twin sisters, separated for forty years, reunited here when Mrs. Otto Erickson of Sterling greeted Mrs. Charles H. Heid, of Indianapolis. Until ten days ago, Mrs. Heid did not know she had a sister. Mrs. Erickson had searched for seventeen years for some trace of her kin.

Now the reunited sisters are making an effort to locate their father, their mother having died when they were babies. As far as can be learned, the girls were born to a Clinton, Ia., couple.

ASK PERMIT TO BUILD RAILWAY IN NEW MEXICO

Proposal Is to Construct a Line From Columbus to Farmington, With Several Branch Lines.

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 1.—Application for a permit to construct a railroad from Columbus, New Mexico, on the Mexican border, northward through western New Mexico to Farmington, New Mexico, with branch lines into Springerville, Arizona, and El Paso, Texas, was made to the Interstate Commerce commission on October 16 by the Colorado, Columbus and Mexican Railroad company. It was learned here today when a copy of the application was received by Governor Thomas E. Campbell.

The road is to be 550 miles in length, the petition states, with the ultimate northern terminus in Salt Lake City, Utah. The company, which is incorporated under the laws of New Mexico, with a capital stock of $5,000,000, asks for permission in its application to issue and sell $20,000,000 in bonds for the purpose of constructing the road and buying equipment.

The application sets forth that the purpose of the road is to open up and develop a large strip of territory in western New Mexico and eastern Arizona, and to furnish this territory rich in natural resources, with an outlet for its products to the southwest, and to furnish relief for the San Juan country in northern New Mexico, which at present is without an adequate outlet to the centers of commerce.

The present plan of the company, according to the petition, is to build the road to Farmington, where it will connect with the Denver and Rio Grande railroad.

DAMAGES OF $50,000 ASKED OF FILM STAR BY DANCER'S MOTHER

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Ethel Clark, mother of Dorothy Clark Elms, stage dancer, today filed in the Los Angeles superior court an action asking damages of $50,000 from Herbert Rawlinson, motion picture actor, for alleged slander.

The action is the outgrowth of one filed some time ago in which Mrs. Clark sought damages of $200,000 from Rawlinson in behalf of her daughter, alleging he had had improper relations with her in New York.

Mrs. Clark declared in her new suit the actor had made statements reflecting on her "for the purpose of disgracing her and preventing her from obtaining justice."

The district attorney's office recently refused to issue a complaint against Rawlinson.

A suit asking for annulment of the marriage of the daughter to Karl Elms of Boston is pending here.

TRIBUTE IS PAID TO MEMORY OF ADAMS BY AUDIENCE AT PUEBLO

Pueblo, Colo., Nov. 1.—Two thousand republicans gathered at a mass meeting here tonight to hear Benjamin Griffith, republican candidate for state governor, speak on the issues of the campaign, signally honoring the memory of Alva Adams, democratic leader of Pueblo and state and national figure.

The audience rose and stood silent for one minute as a tribute to the memory of Mr. Adams, who died today in Battle Creek, Mich.

MRS. HAZEL A. SHAW IS GRANTED DIVORCE

Raleigh, N. C., Nov. 1.—Mrs. Hazel Allen Shaw, of Raleigh, was today granted an absolute divorce from Sheldon Brinsley Shaw, motion picture actor and director of Los Angeles.

The divorce was granted on statutory grounds and the acts complained of were alleged to have been committed in Los Angeles, and Melbourne, Australia. Marie Mosquini, motion picture actress, was named co-respondent.

'WHO OWNED THE REVOLVER?' ASKS MRS. JOSEPH PYLE

Margaret Carleton's Mother Says There Is No Justice in Calling Her Daughter a Murderess.

Helena, Mont., Nov. 1.—"My daughter's memory was blackened and she was called a murderess by a clique of heartless men in Havre to shield others and save the county further expense," declared Mrs. Joseph Pyle, mother of Margaret Carleton, who was found shot to death along with Rev. L. J. Christler, in the latter's home at Havre at an early hour last Friday morning. Mrs. Pyle brought the body of her daughter to Helena today for burial.

"I could not even employ an attorney at Havre who would agree to go through with the case," continued Mrs. Pyle. "Margaret's husband, Frank Carleton, had friends there, as did Margaret. I saw one attorney after the other and they all shook their heads, with one exception, and he agreed to accompany me to the inquest."

Mrs. Pyle repeated the questions she asked the county attorney of Hill county and insists there is no justice in calling her daughter a murderess, until these matters are cleared up.

"Who owned the .38 caliber revolver which killed Rev. Mr. Christler and my daughter?" she asked. "How could my daughter fire a shot into her own body that would take the bullet through the corner of her eye?"

"Where are my daughter's diamond rings?" "What motive could the poor girl have had for shooting this man and herself?"

Mrs. Pyle says she got no satisfaction, no help, not even courteous treatment nor the usual legal formalities in dealing with the Hill county authorities.

"I begged the coroner to wait a day or two—until Mr. Pyle arrived Monday, before holding the inquest. This he promised to do. Then he changed his mind and called the inquest for 1:30 Saturday afternoon. I called him on the telephone and reminded him of his promise. He said he did not want to inconvenience Mrs. Christler, but he did finally consent to hold it at 7:30 that evening."

"Such an inquest—such a farce."

M'CLOSKEY AUTO CO. MOVES TO NEW HOME ON SOUTH FOURTH ST.

The McCloskey Auto company, pioneer garage and automobile battery firm, moved today into the building at 213-215 South Fourth street. The building was completed yesterday. It has a frontage of 60 feet by 125 feet depth and houses a thoroughly equipped plant for automobile battery and general electrical service. The building is arranged for inside service on cars and customers are invited to drive their cars right into the building at the entrance provided for that purpose. The inside drive will be found a convenience for patrons, especially during the winter months.

The McCloskey company is prepared to do all kinds of automobile electrical work. It is the local distributor and service station for Willard batteries. The company was established in April, 1908, and was the first organization to establish garage service here, the business developing later into battery and motor car electrical work. The business was conducted for 14 years at the old location, 410 West Copper avenue, which has just been abandoned for the new building.—Adv.

STUDENTS AT U. RAISE $1,000 FOR FOOTBALL

Pledge to Sell Enough Tickets to Game to Prevent Cancelling Remainder of Schedule.

At a special assembly yesterday morning students of the state university pledged themselves to raise $1,000 to carry on the remainder of the football schedule this season. The money will be raised in an intensive campaign to sell tickets for the Saturday game with the West Texas Normal school.

The football management was 1909 in a 1-10, it was announced, and unless the deficit was made up all further games on the schedule would be cancelled. It was announced. The university went behind $500 on last Saturday's game with the Texas Miners on account of bad weather which kept the crowd away.

The student body arose to the support of the team and in a few minutes time had raised nearly $1,000, much of it cash, to continue the season. The students bought the tickets themselves and will resell, thereby guaranteeing the management the necessary money to complete the schedule. Two of the students, one of them a member of the team, took 100 tickets each and each of the fraternities and morities pledged themselves to dispose of a certain number of tickets.

The meeting was addressed by Bruce Hanger, football manager; Bruno Blackman, graduate treasurer of athletics; and Edward Horan, president of the associated students.

BRIGHT DESCRIBES MINISTER'S JOB IN TALK TO KIWANIANS

The difficulties of reaching a diversified audience with a helpful message given only 30 minutes once a week were described in a vocational talk by the Rev. S. Dr. Bright spoke entertainingly of the minister's work and made a plea that the Kiwanians attend church next Sunday.

A report of the recent convention of the American Legion at New Orleans was given by Pearce C. Rodey, who was a delegate from the local post. Music was furnished by Miss Carol Wilson, vocalists and Miss Helen Wylie, pianist, both of the state university.

A nominating committee was appointed to choose a ticket for the annual election of club officers. The attendance prize, an Acoma Indian jar given by George M. Post, Indian brigadier service, was won by A. L. Martin, president of the club.

A Stubborn Cough Loosens Right Up

This home-made remedy is a wonder for quick results. Easily and cheaply made.

Here is a home-made syrup which millions of people have found to be the most dependable means of breaking up stubborn coughs. It is cheap and simple, but very prompt in action. Under its healing, soothing influence, chest soreness goes, phlegm loosens, breathing becomes easier, tickling in throat stops and you get a good night's restful sleep. The usual throat and chest colds are conquered by it in 24 hours or less. Nothing better for bronchitis, hoarseness, croup, throat tickle, bronchial asthma or winter coughs.

To make this splendid cough syrup, pour 2½ ounces of Pinex into a pint bottle and fill the bottle with plain granulated sugar syrup and shake thoroughly. If you prefer use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, you get a full pint—a family supply—of much better cough syrup than you could buy ready-made from three times the money. Keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste. Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its prompt healing effect upon the membranes.

To avoid disappointment ask your druggist for "2½ ounces of Pinex" with full directions, and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed to give absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Ft. Wayne, Ind.

HAVOC CREATED BY JOKESTERS IN THE SCHOOLS OF COUNTY

Halloween marauders at the Ranchos de Albuquerque school north of the city did considerable damage to the inside of the building on Tuesday evening, according to reports to the county school superintendent yesterday. The sheriff's office is investigating but has found no clue to the culprits' identity.

When the principal, Miss Josefa Quintana, arrived at school yesterday morning, she found the three stories in the building carefully tilted over on the floor, the desks overturned, books scattered everywhere and the globe for geography study bathed in ink. The

GOOD SOAP FOR LESS THAN TWO CENTS A POUND

Make It At Home By This Easy Process—Takes Less Than 30 Minutes.

Nowadays, more and more women are doing as their mothers did and are making their own soap. If you have never tried it, you will be surprised to see how easy it is to make good soap, soft soap, hard soap or floating soap, just by using kitchen scraps and waste grease together with a can of Merry War Lye, the safe and sure soapmaker.

In the old days when soap was made by the boiling process it took nearly all day to make a kettle of soap. Now it is hardly any work at all—requires no boiling—takes less than 30 minutes. Saves you money and gives you all the pure, clean soap you need for kitchen, laundry and all household purposes.

You will find simple directions for soapmaking on the label of every can of Merry War Lye—also many other recipes such as how to make lye hominy, how to soften water, how to make clothes washing easy, how to brighten cooking utensils, etc.

Merry War Powdered Lye is also a wonderful cleaner and purifier for use about the home, barn, chicken house and out-houses. Comes in a convenient can with revolving sliding top that cannot come off, cannot get lost, recloses tightly and preserves contents. It is economical to buy and easy to use.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feed young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action yet always effective. They bring about that natural buoyancy which should enjoy by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are known by their olive color. 15c and 30c.

This column is going to be personally conducted. Contributions (either money or postoffice orders) gratefully accepted.

It is a most pathetic sight to see the Hon. Frank A. Hubbell and the Hon. Jesus Romero conducting the campaign in this county on such a friendly, brotherly basis. Harmony prevails. Two souls with but a single thought.

Here is what Frank thought the other day: "Ah fate, but could you and I conspire; and remould things to our heart's desire; we would appoint two republican judges and one democratic judge."

Indeed a wonderfully worded, frank, outspoken statement, dictated into the records of the county commission the other day by the Hon. Max Gutierrez, following the issuance of a peremptory writ of mandamus commanding him and his colleague, Don Severo, to do thus and so on the commission in the matter of the appointment of election judges. Max, our friend, you are getting so proficient at dictation that you ought to buy a dictaphone.

"Say it with ballots." Say it every where. In Alameda, Duranes, Atrisco, Chilili, up and down the river. In the mountains. In the city precincts. Say it so often that Don Francisco A. Hubbell and his first assistant, the Hon. Jesus Romero, will feel it entirely unnecessary to ever again dictate to the people of this county whom they should elect to look after their business.

Jim Hinkle says that one hill more or less in his life doesn't make any difference to him.

What would the official scorer in the bonehead league give Neis? An assist, a put out or an error?

Jim Gladding went into court to get his name off the G. O. P. ticket for county surveyor. Never heard of such a thing. Most of 'em go into court to get their names to stay on the ticket.

A lady told us the other day that she was for the short ballot and the long skirt. We told her to vote for Lucy Harris for county clerk and forget about it.

Ed Swope, candidate for county treasurer to succeed himself, says he doesn't mind being called Ed Soap but he does object to being advertised as Ed Soap. Vote for him for treasurer and you will get your taxes paid and your tax receipts in order for the next two years.

Frank Hubbell ought to give everybody notice of the time and place. Lots of people would like to see him start in to throw Hank Coors out of the court house window.

An added attraction for the Hoover banquet on Armistice day: A five-round bout between the Hon. Frank A. Hubbell and the Hon. Elfege Baca. Six-ounce gloves, Marquis of Queensbury rules. One Minute rest between rounds. Protect themselves at all times. Somebody ring the bell.

Or there might be a joint debate between Fritz Mueller and Claude Neis. Subject: "Where was Neis when that letter was put out."

Who is that guy Etchevary, any way?

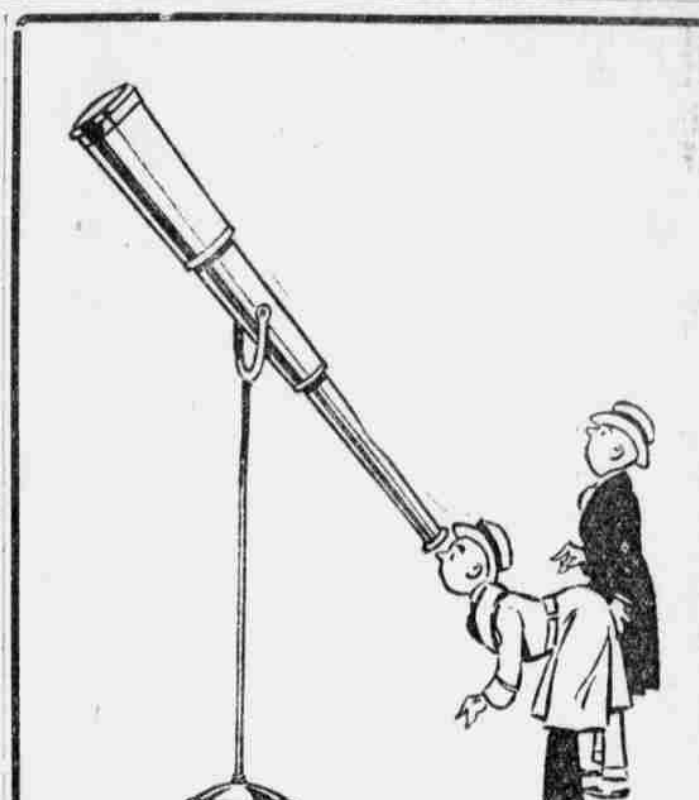

The question now is: What will Placido Jaramillo do after he ultimately bids farewell to his job as warden of the state penitentiary?

What has become of the old-fashioned fellow who used to vote the straight republican ticket?

Folks: Elect Jim Hinkle for governor. He is a good scout. Started as a cow-hand in this state thirty-five years ago. Is a banker and a business man. Pulled himself up by his own boot straps. Served in the legislature. On the tax commission. Old timer. Wants the people to call him Jim. Won't be stuck up in the executive mansion. Go around and call on him at any time after inauguration day. Glad to see you. Shake hands with you. A real guy.

Take his opponent, Charles Lee Hill. Nice fellow. Dentist. Pulled people's teeth for years. Hard job. Gave it up. Lives at Hill, N. M., so close to El Paso that it takes the county surveyor to tell you when you're in Texas or when you ain't. Hill won't promise to reduce taxes. Cant. Hard job. Hinkle says he will reduce taxes; positive about it. Will cut here and there. All along the line. Vote for Hinkle and he will start a dentist's chair up there in the state capital and pull a few teeth from the tax budgets. Vote for Jim Hinkle.

Now take Senator Jones. Vote for him, too. A real, big, upstanding man. Prominent throughout the nation. We are proud to have him in the senate. Let's keep him there. He can match wits and brains with any man in public life today. Don't be fooled by the Steve Davis propaganda. He hasn't been serving the people of New Mexico as a water commissioner for nothing. The last legislature appropriated twenty thousand for men for that job. Let Steve tell the people how much he has drawn from the pie counter account thus far. Vote for Senator Jones. Elect him by a big majority.

BURSUM TALKS TO EX-SERVICE MEN AT BAYARD

Tells Them Bonus Matter Is Non-Partisan and Says Davis Will Do as Much for Soldiers as Jones.

Special to The Journal. Fort Bayard, N. M., Nov. 1.—A direct challenge to the democratic party in New Mexico to make the fight for state offices in next Tuesday's elections on the issue of party non-partisanship, state and national, for the past six years, was flung into the teeth of the minority party by Senator John O. Bursum in a speech here Monday night before several hundred ex-service men.

"This country is governed by political parties. That is the fundamental theory of our political system," declared the junior senator from New Mexico. "A person belongs to a political party because he believes in the things it stands for. In voting to fill a political office, the voter should inquire into the fitness of the candidates, and if they are of about equal ability he should vote for the candidate supported by the party of which the voter is a member."

"In the race for United States senator, the candidates are about equal, I can assure you. Whatever Senator Jones has done for the ex-service man, I can assure you, Judge Davis, if elected senator, would do also."

Party Real Issue. "The real issue is whether the voter is a democrat or a republican. Which party he follows should depend upon which his judgment tells him has done the more for the country."

After making clear the issue of party affiliation, Senator Bursum, clearly and loudly, a business man going over his balance sheet with bankers for whom he wishes to get a loan, pointed out the assets of the republican party and the liabilities the democratic party accrued against the government of the United States "in its eight years of reckless riding in the saddle of government."

He was introduced by Major W. R. Leavenworth, commanding officer at Fort Bayard, as "a true American who stands four-square for the ex-service man, and who has the best interests of the disabled especially at heart."

Senator Bursum quickly went into the discussion of the soldiers' adjusted compensation bill.

Spoken of Bonus.

"This is not a party question," he declared. "When it came to a vote on the compensation bill, party lines were wiped out. More republicans voted for it than did democrats. Yet more republicans voted against it than did democrats, because of the simple reason, that there were more republicans in the senate than democrats."

"Senator Borah, the liberal republican from the northwest, where it is unpopular not to favor adjusted compensation, voted against it. On the other hand, McKellar, democrat of the south, where it is supposed to be unpopular to be for the bill, voted for it. In voting on the bill, the senators seem to have followed their own lines of reasoning. I voted for it, because I thought it just."

"As you all know the bill passed."

Thin? Run-down? Sure Way to Get Right Weight

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells That's the Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood-Cells; This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many men because they are underweight? Simply because to be underweight often proves low fighting power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1859, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women a plus in their strength. Hollow cheeks fill out. You stop being a scrawny-looking fellow. You inspire confidence. Your body fills to the point of power. Your flesh becomes firmer, the age lines that come from thinness disappear. You look younger, firmer, happier, and you feel it, too, all over your body. More red-blood-cells! S. S. S. will build them. Ladies and gentlemen, a peaky, bony face doesn't make you look very important or pretty, does it? Take S. S. S. It contains only pure vegetable medicinal ingredients. S. S. S. is sold at all drug stores in two sizes. The larger size bottle is the more economical.

DAUGHTER OF MELLON, ONE OF WORLD'S RICHEST MEN, TO WED

The engagement of Miss Ailsa Mellon, daughter of Andrew W. Mellon, secretary of the U. S.

treasury, to J. Parker Gilbert, assistant secretary of the treasury, has been announced. Mellon is rated as one of the world's richest men. He has been rated as richer than John D.

the senate, but failed to over-ride the presidential veto by four less than the required two-thirds. Voting to over-ride the veto were more republicans than democrats, yet the democrats in New Mexico wish to tell you that the republican party is against the bonus.

Bursum Has a Bill.

"The only compensation bill now before congress is the one I drew up and introduced just before adjournment. It adjusts three phases of the soldier's pay: first, it returns to him his money taken out of his pay to pay allotments; second, it returns to him his insurance premiums; and, third, it gives to him the same bonus that was given to civilian employees—$20 a month."

"Senator Borah failed to vote for the previous bill because he could not see what it adjusted. My bill answers his question, and he and every other senator can vote for it wholeheartedly. It requires payment of half within a year and the balance at the end of three years, meantime drawing four per cent interest."

The Santa Fe New Mexican was characterized as a republican newspaper in off-election years, and a democratic paper during every campaign. Senator Bursum drew shouts of laughter from his audience with his description of the policies of this newspaper.

Boas's Newspaper. "They fought me a year ago, and it was the best thing they could have done for me. It gave me a majority of 1,000 in Santa Fe, while the normal republican majority is but 500. I am glad they always oppose the republican ticket," he declared.

"In last Friday's issue they devoted half their space to misconstruing my speech in Santa Fe."

"In their headlines they accuse me of calling ex-service men lounge lizards, but down in the body of the account of my speech they do not say this. They quote me accurately as saying that the legion should not allow itself to be led by a lounge lizard."

"My definition of a lounge lizard as applied to ex-service men is one who used his political influence and money—for this class of lounge lizards always had both—in order to secure a commission as a lieutenant, captain, major or colonel, and then used the same means to get a soft desk job around some large city on this side, where he could hang his feet over a desk and wear spurs to keep them from slipping off."

"If the editor of the New Mexican has friends of this class and wishes to defend them, I can see how he takes exception to my remarks. No one else will defend them."

Senator Bursum read the preamble to the constitution of the American legion and stressed the phrase, "to combat the autocracy of both the classes and the masses." He said it would be a violation of this section to band itself together as a political power and try to whip members into a voting machine.

"This constitution is one of the greatest documents ever written, and if followed, means much to the future of America. But, although the legion has voted repeatedly at national conventions to keep out of politics, certain self-seeking politicians in New Mexico are endeavoring to enter politics through the legion."

BRITTON LOSES CHAMP TITLE TO MICKEY WALKER

New Jersey Boxer Wrests the Welterweight Crown From Veteran Holder in Madison Square Garden.

New York, Nov. 1.—Mickey Walker, of Ellenville, N. J., became the new welterweight boxing champion of the world tonight when he defeated Jack Britton, veteran title holder, in a fifteen-round bout in Madison Square garden.

It was one of the most furious contests ever seen in this battle-scattered arena.

The fight by rounds: Round One: Britton tore in and landed a left to the body, following with a light feint to the stomach. Walker backed to the ropes where he staggered the champion with a right to the chin.

Walker recovered, but Britton held him near the ropes, hammering furiously with both hands and then driving the champion to the center of the ring where he continued to hammer away. Coming from a clinch, Britton caught his opponent along the ropes and landed both hands to the jaw. It was a furious session.

Round Two: Britton began the second round carefully, planting his left into the challenger's stomach and cleverly getting away, making Walker miss. Britton tripped near Walker's corner and fell to both knees but was up in a flash. Walker caught the champion with a right to the head and as Britton wobbled, Walker followed with his left, but the champion steadied and they were clinched at the bell.

Round Three: They began the third round cautiously and mixed at close quarters. Walker took the lead, hooking his long left arm in front of him and the champion retreated. Walker, using his left, pushed Britton to the ropes, and the champion again clinched. Walker blocked most of Britton's blows and in addition the champion lacked power.

Round Four: They began with long distance sparring, but soon Walker planted his left in Britton's stomach and the champion's return was short. Britton staggered Walker with rights to the head and evaded the return. Britton caught Walker in a neutral corner and pumped both hands to head and body, continuing after the bell rang, until stopped by the referee.

Round Five: Britton appeared stronger and more sure of himself and took the lead more. He again caught Walker in a corner and landed short uppercuts and an overhand right and knocked Walker to the ropes. Walker missed several swings.

Round Six: Britton blocked Walker's onslaught and then began sharp shooting left hooks and slams. Walker returned hard lefts to the stomach, a short hook to the jaw and a right kidney punch. He rocked the champion with a left to the jaw. Walker then drove Britton across the ring, driving both fists to the jaw. The champion reeled about and fell into a clinch. They were exchanging at the bell.

Round Seven: Walker shot a left to the jaw and Britton clinched. Walker continually landed his left to the jaw and Britton tried only to block. The champion appeared weaker but the challenger gave him no rest, again causing Britton's knees to sag with a left to the jaw. Britton occasionally landed a blow but Walker continued hammering away.

Round Nine: Jack rocked Mickey with a right to the body. Walker took a volley of body blows. Walker continued turning the champion's head with his left and began hooking his right more frequently. In desperation the champion began sending short right uppercuts but they lacked steam. The champion resumed his retreat and then began to hold, the challenger sending crushing blows to the kidneys.

Round Ten: Walker began hooking both hands to the head, and then to lay back for powerful left swings to the stomach. The champion took a left to the jaw and a series in the body without a return. With a series of body blows, Walker pushed Britton to the ropes near the champions corner, where he pummeled away until Britton fell to his knees. He was calmly listening to the count when the gong rang at the count of "six."

Round Eleven: Walker launched into the attack only to find that Britton was coming back with more vigor than he had shown at any time. Britton returned blow for blow and forced Walker across the ring, lambasting the challenger against the ropes. Britton began to turn out and bowed with folded arms before a new assault, but Walker too was tiring from the pace and he did not press the champion.

Round Twelve: Both men fought in a tired but dogged fashion. Walker took the lead and rocked Britton with a right crack to the jaw. The champion began to absorb punishment without much resistance and as Walker landed a series of body blows Britton went to his knees and knelt on the floor until nine was counted. The champion was extremely groggy and only able to hold up his feeble arms. Walker rained both hands to the head, stomach and to the kidneys as the champion leaned over, faltering in his steps, but Walker lacked the finishing blow.

Round Thirteen: Walker hammered at Britton's chest and stomach, frequently shooting his left to the jaw. Walker seemed tired and the champion laid his weight on his opponent's shoulders. Walker stepped away and planted his left to the chin and right to body but still the groggy champion kept standing on his wobbly feet. As the round ended Britton caught Walker with a one-two to the jaw and the series of body blows.

Round Fourteen: Walker caught Britton with a left to the jaw and sent his right to the back of the neck and then hooked several lefts to the jaw. Britton tried to clinch, continually reeled and waded as he backed around the ring. Britton sent both hands to the jaw and Walker replied with both arms full of blows. The reeling champion backed around the ring, lurching awkwardly.

Round Fifteen: Walker played for the body and then shot wild uppercuts to the jaw. He forced Britton to retreat around the ring, but Jack backed with some effect. Walker staggered Britton with a right behind the ear and a left to the body, but the challenger was becoming wild and was too tired to follow his advantage. Britton clinched and backed as though to start off a knockout. He calmly shook hands with the challenger when the bell sounded.

WOMAN COLLAPSES AT MURDER TRIAL: HAS TO BE CARRIED OUT

Philadelphia, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Catherine Rosier, charged with the killing of her husband, Oscar, and his stenographer, Miss Mildred G. Reckitt, collapsed today and was carried out of court unconscious shortly before adjournment. Mrs. Rosier was tried for the murder of the stenographer.

The thirteenth day of the trial was marked by a renewal of the prosecution's attack upon Mrs. Rosier's character before marriage. Another development was the testimony of Dr. Charles W. Burr, and Dr. Horace Phillips, alienists, that Mrs. Rosier was sane at the time of the shooting. The defense plea is based on grounds of emotional insanity.

The case is not expected to reach the jury before Friday. The defense has about a dozen witnesses to call in rebuttal.

DUCHESS IS AT DOORN FOR THE WEDDING SUNDAY

Daughter of Former Emperor of Germany, Accompanied by Her Suite and Pastor Vogel, Arrive.

Doorn, Holland, Nov. 1.—The Duchess of Brunswick, daughter of former Emperor William of Germany, accompanied by her suite and Pastor Vogel of Potsdam, arrived in Doorn this evening. Pastor Vogel is to celebrate the religious ceremony when Princess Hermine of Reuss and William are married.

Count Von Moltke, who fills the office of "Marshal" of William's tiny court, curtly refused today to give any information whatever regarding the arrangements for the wedding. That certain discrimination is to be exercised seems to have been shown by the fact that George Sylvester Viereck, well known as a German-American publicist, arrived here a few days ago and dined with William at the former emperor's special invitation. The Dutch authorities are equally as secretive as the members of William's entourage.

There are a number of rumors afloat which it has been impossible to verify. Included among them is one to the effect that Princess Hermine has never left Doorn Castle since her arrival there and will only leave for the sake of appearances next Saturday, returning on Sunday for the wedding. It has been learned that former Crown Prince Frederick William will arrive here tomorrow at noon.

4 PLEAD GUILTY TO A CHARGE OF EVADING U.S. INCOME TAX LAW

Greenville, S. C., Nov. 1.—Four South Carolina cotton manufacturers pleaded guilty today in United States district court here to a charge of evading the federal income tax law and were sentenced to pay fines or serve jail sentences. H. H. Watkins, Campbell Courtenay and St. John Courtenay of Columbia were ordered to pay fines of $10,000 each or serve eight months in the county jail, while Ashmead Courtenay and Henry Rutledge Buist of Charleston were sentenced to pay fines of $3,000 each or serve three months in jail.

BURGLARS GET $300 WORTH OF GOODS AT A LAS VEGAS STORE

Las Vegas, N. M., Oct. 31.—The Style Shop was burglarized early Sunday morning and goods valued at approximately $300 were stolen. The thieves obtained entrance to the building through a crack in the door. Among the missing articles are several suits of men's clothing, silk shirts and shoes. The thieves had tried on several pairs of shoes endeavoring to secure the right size. It is believed, as shoes were found scattered about the store. A cap and an old sock were found near the shoes.

Senator Jones might truthfully have said that the democratic Underwood Tariff afforded no protection to the farmer, because by the terms of the Underwood Act, farm products were admitted to the United States free of duty.

The present tariff bill was framed for the purpose of safeguarding agricultural interests, and a heavy duty was placed upon the products of farm and ranch.

Compare the protection to the farmer under the republican measure and the democratic Underwood Bill:

Jones Wrong on Tariff Agriculture Protected

Senator Jones in his speech in Albuquerque on October 30th said:

Thin? Run-down? Sure Way to Get Right Weight

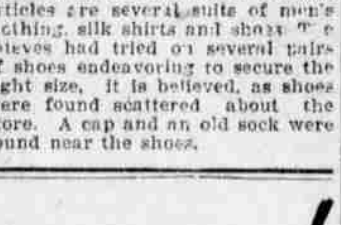

Increase Your Red-Blood-Cells That's the Sure Way! S. S. S. Builds Blood-Cells; This Means Strength!

Do you know why insurance companies refuse to insure a great many men because they are underweight? Simply because to be underweight often proves low fighting power in the body. It often means you are minus nerve-power, minus red-cells in your blood, minus health, minus energy, minus vitality. It is serious to be minus, but the moment you increase the number of your red-blood-cells you begin to become plus. That's why S. S. S., since 1859, has meant to thousands of underweight men and women a plus in their strength. Hollow cheeks fill out. You stop being a scrawny-looking fellow. You inspire confidence. CAMPAIGN TRIP OF A MONTH IS ENDED BY HILL

Republican Candidate for Governor Says Hinkle Has Never Stated How He Would Lower Expense

Special to The Journal.
Hill, N. M., Nov. 1.—After a strenuous campaign trip of more than a month, Charles L. Hill, republican candidate for governor, arrived at his home at Hill this morning. When seen by a representative of this paper and asked in regard to his experiences and as to the political outlook over the state, Mr. Hill laughed and said: "The experience has been a very interesting one. I have never been in politics before and when I started out on my trip I did it with fear and trembling because I didn't know what terrible things my opponents might be able to dig up against me and how busy I might have been answering their charges. But I got through with it all right and I am back here easy in mind and so far as I can see, undamaged in character."

Democrats Attacked Him.
"Of course, the democrats did attack me; they brought against me the most horrible accusations. They said that I lived in Texas and that I would be ruled by the bosses. Everybody in New Mexico knows the answer to the first charge. It is simply untrue and as for the second charge, it was brought merely because the man who originally made it is lacking in imagination and couldn't think of anything else to say."

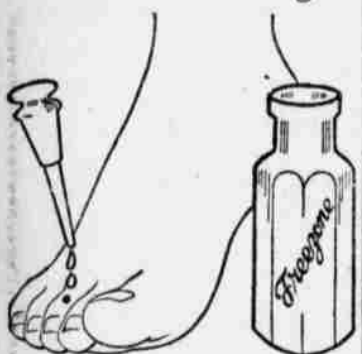

"These are the only two charges against me to which I have had to reply. I have had to deny having made one or two statements which I have been unjustly accused of making, but outside of that I have devoted most of my time to trying to find out from Mr. Hinkle and his supporters just how they intend to go about it when they start in to bring about a governmental millennium in the state of New Mexico."

What Will Hinkle Do?
"Mr. Hinkle, it seems from his statements, is going to constitute himself not only the watchdog of the state treasury but he also claims that he is going to stand as a faithful guardian over the funds, the school funds and all other funds and see not a penny of the people's money is wasted or extravagantly spent. Of course this is all very laudable and when I am governor I intend to do all that I can to reduce taxes and save money but what I have been trying to get Mr. Hinkle to say is how he is going to intrude his authority as governor into the proceedings of a county school board or board of county commissioners and get them to lend him a willing ear when he says that they must quit building good roads and erecting school houses."

Has Never Replied.
"Mr. Hinkle has never replied."

CORNS

Lift Off with Fingers

"Doesn't hurt a bit! Drop a little 'Freezone' on an aching corn, instantly that corn stops hurting, then shortly you lift it right off with fingers. Truly! BLACK-DRAUGHT OVER 30 YEARS

"Saved Me Many a Sick Spell," Says Texas Farmer, Who Has Long Known Usefulness of Black-Draught.

Naples, Texas.—"I have used Thordford's Black-Draught for years—I can safely say for more than 30 years," declares Mr. H. H. Cromer, a substantial, well-known farmer, residing out on Route 3 from here.

"I am 43 years old, and when a small boy I had indigestion and was puny and my folks gave me a liver regulator. Then Black-Draught was advertised and we heard of it."

"I began to take Black-Draught, and have used it, when needed, ever since. I use Black-Draught now in my home, and certainly recommend it for any liver trouble."

"I have given it a thorough trial, and after thirty years can say Black-Draught is my standard. It has saved me many sick spells."

Mr. Cromer writes that he is never out of Black-Draught, and is several of his neighbors prefer it to any other liver medicine, always recommending Black-Draught to my friends," he adds.

This valuable, old, powdered liver medicine is prepared from medicinal roots and herbs and has none of the bad effects so often observed from the use of calomel, or other powerful mineral drugs.

Black-Draught helps to keep the liver in trim, helping prevent or relieve such troubles as constipation, biliousness, indigestion, sick headache.

Be sure to get the genuine.—

to me but the democratic central committee has attempted to do so and here is what it has produced. Endowed with a capacity for forgetting, that it is a national democratic characteristic, the democratic central committee has come forward and said that the governor of the state by making use of three state agencies can do a lot towards controlling county expenditures and reducing taxes. The democratic committee names three agencies: the tax commission, the educational auditor, and the state traveling auditor, and with a most delightful inconsistency, entirely ignores, or else forgets, the fact that the most strenuously worked plank in their platform is the one which they assert that the office of state traveling auditor is a device of corrupt politicians and that it should be abolished. In other words, if they elect Mr. Hinkle as governor they are pledged to take away from him one out of three of the agencies which he is to use to carry out his program of retrenchment.

Favor Present School System.
"This is interesting because it indicates as clearly as anything could that the democrats have been unable to make the people believe either the charges that they have made in regard to waste and extravagance of the charges that they have made of corruption in office of state traveling auditor. It has not been necessary, though, for the democrats to furnish us with this last piece of evidence in regard to the failure of their campaign. We found that out some time before this was brought out, that nowhere in the state has Mr. Hinkle been able to convince the people that what he says about the terrible condition of affairs is true. I have found everywhere that I have been that the mothers are in favor of the present system of schools and that they are anxious to see them maintained and kept up to their present standard. The mothers do not want to go back to the old two-room school house and the four-month term and neither are there any of the people that I have talked to in favor of Mr. Hinkle's plan of building of road buildings. He says not to build surfaced roads, to grade up the natural dirt and that that is good enough for New Mexico."

"I do not think that is good enough for New Mexico and any how, if his idea was carried out, it would cost the people more in loss of time in getting from one place to another and in wrecked automobiles several times over than it will cost them to continue our present system."

Platforms Compared.
"Of course, everything that we do in this state has to be done with two price objects in view. What ever we do we must do for the constructive betterment and advancement of the state and we must do it as economically and efficiently as possible. The democratic platform is a document which is made attractive, criticism and Mr. Hinkle's platform has been varied exactly in accord with his platform. The republican platform is constructive and progressive and I have tried to make the character of my campaign accord with it."

"I promise the people of New Mexico that as their governor I will do all that I can to serve them efficiently and honestly; that I will carry out the pledges that my party has made for me and that if an economical business administration is the kind of an administration that the people want, that's the kind of an administration that I will give them."

Has Never Replied.
"Mr. Hinkle has never replied."

MAN IS ACCUSED OF TAKING WIFE FROM ANOTHER

John Sherman Gets Warrant for E. L. Roberson, Charged With Eloping With Mrs. Sherman.

Alleging that a man named E. L. Roberson has "unlawfully taken his wife to Gallup," John Sherman, who lives on Santa Fe avenue, yesterday had a warrant sworn out for the arrest of Roberson in the court of Justice George J. Roddy. Then he got on the train and started for Gallup.

Sherman told the police that he had been informed yesterday morning that his wife, taking their two children, had left with Roberson. He said he had previously ordered Roberson away from his home, but the man persisted in returning. Sherman said he had relatives in Gallup, where one of his children had been for some time, and he thought his wife would go there to get the child.

The form of the warrant, officers said, is unusual, as it practically accuses Roberson of stealing Mrs. Sherman.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

MONTOYA—Sister Angela Montoya, aged 65 years, died October 30 at Sisters of Loreta convent at Socorro. N. M. Sister Montoya devoted most all of her life to charity purposes. Undertaker Crollott left last night to prepare the body for shipment to Las Cruces. Burial will be at Las Cruces Loreta private cemetery.

TRUJILLO—Mrs. Virginia M. de Trujillo, aged 31 years, died yesterday afternoon at her residence, 1225 North Twelfth street. Pneumonia was the cause of her death. She is survived by two children and her husband. The body was taken to Crollott's funeral parlors pending funeral arrangements.

HANSON—Funeral services for Stanley Hanson will be held today at 2 p. m. at Blakemore's chapel. The Rev. W. B. Allen will officiate. The body will be shipped to Fall River, Mass., for burial accompanied by his widow and father.

CONVENTION IS HELD BY FORMER KLANSMEN

Los Angeles, Nov. 1.—A convention of the former members of the Ku Klux Klan opened here today with the avowed objective, according to G. W. Pflue, former king of the Klan in California, of bringing about the formation of the National Association of the Ku Klux Klan, a rival organization.

"The meeting is in no way connected with the old Klan," declared Mr. Pflue.

Last year's farm crop in Canada was estimated at $1,400,000,000.

GLADDING GETS OFF TICKET BY ORDER OF COURT

Released From Running for County Surveyor by Mandamus; Order Stops the Printing of Ballots.

James N. Gladding will not run for the office of county surveyor on the republican ticket. Repeated efforts to withdraw from the ticket were realized yesterday when a peremptory writ of mandamus was issued from the district court demanding that his name be not printed among the candidates for office.

Mr. Gladding had resigned from the ticket several times before with no success. He requested the county clerk to remove his name from the ballot by letter on October 23. On the same day he notified Frank A. Hubbell, chairman of the republican county central committee, that he would be unable to serve and later sent him another letter repeating the refusal to run on the ticket. All were ignored and his name was included on the ballot.

The ballots were being printed yesterday, the court order which issued about noon calling a halt on the job. The order was directed against Fred Crollott, county clerk, who arranged that the name of Mr. Gladding be left off the ticket.

No arrangements have yet been made for a candidate to fill Mr. Gladding's place on the ballots, said Mr. Hubbell last night. The central committee will meet to discuss the matter today, he said.

NIGHT SCHOOL WILL TEACH MILLINERY
The night school for adults, which will begin Monday night at the Central school, will have a millinery department, as usual. Mrs. Wesley R. Hurt, who is in charge, made the following announcement yesterday:

The school will hold sessions on Monday, Wednesday and Friday nights from 7 to 9 o'clock. It is open to all who wish to enter. Tuition is free, but members of the classes are required to furnish their own material. The course will last six weeks and will consist of shape building, covering of shape, remodeling, trimming, ornaments and flowers.

The millinery department last year had the largest enrollment of any of the departments. A big enrollment is expected this year.

Rev. B. M. Bridges Gives Facts in His Case

It is doubtful if there has ever been a medicine endorsed by so many ministers of the Gospel as has Tanlac. Indeed, there is scarcely a faith, creed or denomination in all the land in which one, or more, of the clergymen has not publicly expressed their indebtedness to the Premier Preparation for the benefits they have derived from its use.

One of the latest to speak out in this connection is Rev. B. M. Bridges, a widely known and beloved Baptist preacher, residing at Moorhead, N. C., whose statement follows:

"Tanlac has given me a good appetite, toned up my system and renewed my strength in such a refreshing way that I am glad to recommend it to anyone who is in a rundown condition. For ten years past I have had such a severe case of indigestion that I could not find anything to eat that agreed with me. Finally I became very nervous and could get but very little sleep or rest."

"It seems that I took nearly everything trying to get myself right, but nothing helped me until I ran across Tanlac. My nerves are so much better now that my sleep is sound and refreshing. I enjoy my meals and have also gained weight. I can say from experience that Tanlac is a splendid medicine and tonic. For it has built me up wonderfully."

Tanlac is sold by all good druggists.—Adv.

17-YEAR-OLD NEGRO GIRL SOLD TO WHITE MAN, OFFICERS TOLD

Cleatfield, Pa., Nov. 1.—Nora Moore, a 17-year-old negro girl, from Philadelphia, who was found tied to the Pennsylvania railroad tracks near Woodland last night recovered consciousness this afternoon and told the authorities that her mother had sold her to a white man who brought her to Cleatfield.

"He gave me something to drink yesterday—and that's all I remember," said the girl. The girl told the sheriff she did not know the man's name.

Frank Gilliland found the unconscious girl on the tracks a few minutes before a Pennsylvania passenger train was due to pass. Gilliland declared that the victim's legs and arms were bound and that the ropes were attached to the rails.

DECREASE SHOWN IN BUSINESS FAILURES

New York, Nov. 1.—Business failures through the country decreased in October, compared to the same month last year, but increased over September. Bradstreet says today. Last month there were 1,600 failures against 1,469 in September. The total of October, 1922, was $35,941,884, an increase of 15.7 per cent over September. The far western states supplied the biggest proportion.

PARTY LEADERS EXPECT 5,000 VOTES IN CITY

Registration Is Less Than in 1920 by About 3,000. Probably Due to More Accurate Lists.

While the check of the registration for the state election has not been completed, indications are that more than 7,000 persons are registered in the city of Albuquerque. This is less than the registration for 1920, when nearly 10,000 were registered. Political authorities of both parties said yesterday that this does not indicate a falling off in voting population or a lack of interest in the election, but probably is due to the fact that this year's registration is the nearest correct in the history of the city.

The registration boards are authorized to retain on the books the names of bona fide voters who have not removed from the precinct during the period since the last election. This and the fact that many of the registrations are not made in person, but by canvassers, frequently causes duplication. It is believed this year's registration will show less duplication than any previous one.

In the 1920 election, the vote for presidential electors in the city precincts totaled 4,707, with a registration of 10,000 and with 500 votes sworn in by affidavits. It is believed that considerably over 5,000 votes will be cast here this year.

Polling Places Named.
The following, with one or two changes that may be necessary, will be the polling places for the city's precincts:

Precinct 26—1-A, Christian church; 1-B, Salter Tire company, Walter street and Central avenue; 1-C, McAdams grocery store, 1116 East Central avenue; 1-D, Bridgeman Electric company, 102 Harvard street; 2-A, Kent building, 317 West Gold avenue; 2-B, Bulk garage, Fifth street and Gold avenue.

Precinct 12—1-A, Grande hotel, Broadway and East Tijeras avenue; 1-B, Wide Awake grocery, 1105 East Central avenue; 2-A, City hall, Second street and Tijeras avenue; 2-B, Albuquerque Motor company, Fourth street and Copper avenue; 2-C, MacDonald garage, Twelfth street and Tijeras avenue.

TURKEYS ARE CHEAPER.
San Francisco, Nov. 1.—Wholesalers opened 1923 quotations on dressed turkeys today at from 9 to 17 cents a pound cheaper than in 1921. The new low quotation is 35 cents per pound compared with 52 cents in 1921.

OCTOBER SHOWS LOWEST LOSSES IN THREE YEARS

Fire Chief Pleased With the Results of Fire Prevention Week; Damage in City Only $250.

The fire loss in the city during October was the lowest reported in any month for over four years. Chief Henderson stated last night that eleven fires had occurred in the city, with a loss of $250. In the county there were six fires with a loss of $2,572.50.

Chief Henderson believes the small loss was due to the lessons of Fire Prevention week, early last month, when a campaign of education in precaution against fire was carried on. He said:

"This small loss in October, which is one of the most dangerous months in the entire year because it marks the setting in and lighting of many stoves, is remarkable. It shows the good results that can be attained by precaution for fire prevention. The credit for the reduction in fire loss belongs to the citizens, and especially to the children, who took an active interest in the lesson of Fire Prevention week. We are still receiving inspection blanks from the children. Dangerous fire menaces are being removed.

The alarms in the city in October were as follows: Burning flue, 1; leaking gas line, 1; false alarm, 2; burning grass, 1; electric cord on nail, 1; smoking stove, 1; spontaneous combustion, 1; reflection from bonfire, 1. No alarms were turned in on account of burning rubbish, hot ashes, sparks from flues, or children with matches.

Alarms in the county were caused by: Children with matches, 1; unknown causes, 2; burning rubbish, 2; spontaneous combustion, 1.

"Comparison of the loss in the city, which had fire prevention instructions, and the county, which had none, shows the benefit of precaution," said the chief, who expressed the hope that care would continue to be taken to prevent fire loss.

LUMP BONUS OF $20,000 GIVEN TO THE BROWNS

President Makes the Distribution as a Reward for the Team's Best Performance in 20 Years.

St. Louis, Nov. 1.—A lump bonus of $20,000 was distributed to the players of the St. Louis Browns shortly before the end of the season by Philip De Catsby Ball, president of the club, as a reward for the team's best performance in 20 years. It was learned tonight.

It was said that the money was divided among the players on the basis of each player's performance during the 1922 season. The stars, including George Sisler, first baseman; Urban Shocker, pitcher, and others were said to have received $1,000, while some of the recruits were given $200.

President Ball is understood to have given his players a bonus of $5,000 during the middle of the season, when they forged into the American league lead, making a total of $25,000 presented in bonuses by the Browns' owners.

1 PERSON KILLED, 75 MADE HOMELESS BY A TORNADO IN MISSOURI

Webb City, Mo., Nov. 1.—Work of rehabilitation in the area leveled by a tornado shortly after midnight this morning had progressed far tonight under the direction of the local Red Cross chapter and welfare organizations. Tonight the death toll stood at one while 75 were made homeless.

Mrs. Nancy Pratt, 53 years old, was carried away from her home bodily by the storm and was picked up dead two hours later, 200 feet from her wrecked dwelling.

Relief workers placed the damage from the storm at between $75,000 and $100,000. In addition to 29 dwellings destroyed and badly damaged, three business houses also are partly wrecked.

MATHIEU APPEALS ALLEY CASE TO DISTRICT COURT

Al Mathieu, tire dealer, was fined $5 yesterday morning by Justice George Luddy on a charge of obstructing the alley between Central and Copper avenues and west of Fourth street.

Mathieu, through his attorney, Francis E. Wood, gave notice of appeal to the district court and furnished appeal bond of $10.

The case came up as the result of an attempt on the part of the city to enforce an ordinance passed some time ago relating to obstruction of alleys. Mathieu was notified a few days ago to remove from the alley some equipment for the inflation of tires. He said at that time that he would test the ordinance in court. The fine imposed by Justice Roddy was nominal, he said, as he understood the matter was to be taken to the district court for final decision.

HEALY DENIES LETTER TO SERVICE MEN WAS WRITTEN BY CUTTING

E. B. Healy, of Fort Bayard, a world war veteran, sent the following telegram to the Journal yesterday:

"I have been informed that a gentleman from Las Vegas and another from Santa Fe have circulated a letter claiming that my communication to the ex-service men and women of New Mexico of October 9 was hijacked and verbatim by B. M. Cutting, who requested of me to place my signature under it. I wish to state through the medium of the press that the report of these two men is absolutely false.

"E. B. HEALY."

UNCLE SAM TO IMPROVE MANY FOREST CAMPS

Estimates Being Made for Manzano Forest Share of Appropriation to Be Considered.

Estimates on desired improvements for fire protection and sanitation for the Manzano national forest public camps are being by K. C. Kartchner, forest supervisor. It is possible that funds will be appropriated for this purpose next year.

An appropriation of $20,000 will probably be included in the agricultural appropriation bill for next year for the purpose of constructing improvements on the camp sites in the national forests of the country, according to Mr. Kartchner. This sum will be divided among the forests, each of which are now submitting estimates of needed improvements on recreation grounds.

About $1,100 will be requested for park improvement on the Manzano forest, said Mr. Kartchner. This forest will probably receive more than its pro rata share of the entire appropriation because of the fact that many of the forests have no spots adapted to recreation purposes.

There are four recreation areas on the Manzano forest which will receive benefits if the appropriation bill passes. One is the Telano canyon district east of the city where fireplaces have been built, and the developed and road signs posted. The Tallique creek, the only live stream in the Manzano, an area used considerably by people of the Estancia valley, will receive some of the improvements as well. Triguero canyon on the west side of the Manzano used by Bolen people. The fourth area is that known as the Milk Ranch on the Fort Wingate Military reserve, where some spring improvements were made several years ago.

COACH JONES BARS THE GATES AS IOWA GRIDSTERS PRACTICE

Iowa City, Ia., Nov. 1.—Coach Howard Jones barred the gates to Iowa Field again tonight in starting active preparations for the Minnesota game here Armistice day.

During the two-hour drill, he devoted his entire attention to the linemen, with the backfield players in charge of Major Hill. The line worked on Gophers' plays, scrimmaging against the third string. The backs continued to play at New Haven again next work on passes.

Up to this evening, Coach Jones had received no invitation from Yale authorities asking Iowa to year, he announced.

"Mother Why Not Try The Newer Form Of Iron"

And Be Strong and Well and Have Nice Rosy Cheeks Instead of Being Nervous and Irritable all the Time and Looking So Haggard and Old?

The doctor gave some to Susie Smith's mother and she was worse off than you are and now she looks just fine. There can be no healthy, beautiful rosy cheeks without iron. Good physicians have strongly emphasized the fact that doctors should prescribe more of the newer form of iron—Nuxated Iron—for their nervous, run-down, weak, haggard-looking patients. When the iron goes from the blood of women the roses go from their cheeks, and strength and vitality from their bodies. This newer form of iron, like the iron in your blood and like the iron in certain green vegetables, is highly recommended to thousands who wish quickly to increase their strength, power and endurance. It is surprising how many people suffer from iron deficiency and do not know it. Iron is absolutely necessary to enable your blood to change food into living tissue. Without it, no matter how much or what you eat, your food merely passes through you without doing you the proper amount of good. You don't get the strength out of it, but as a consequence you become weak, pale, and sickly-looking, just like a plant trying to grow in soil deficient in iron.

You can tell the women with plenty of iron in their blood—beautiful, healthy, rosy-cheeked women, full of life, vim and vitality. You can get Nuxated Iron from any drugist under an absolute guarantee that it will do the same for you or your money back.

For sale in this city by the Alvarado pharmacy, Briggs' pharmacy, Woodworth's pharmacy, and all other druggists.—Adv.

We found 5 ways to better Shaving Cream

Gentlemen:
We are soap experts, and have been for 60 years. The leading toilet soap of the world—Palmolive—is one of our creations.

Years ago we set out to make a new-type Shaving Cream. We aimed to excel all others in five important ways.

We made up and tested 130 different formulas. Thus, step by step, we attained these results in Palmolive Shaving Cream.

These 5 effects

- It multiplies itself in lather 250 times.
- It acts quickly, softening the beard in one minute.
- The lather maintains its creamy fullness for ten minutes on the face.
- The bubbles are strong. They support the hairs for cutting, while weak bubbles let them fall down.
- The blend of palm and olive oils makes the after effects delightful.

We ask you to test this Shaving Cream, as millions of men have done. Accept the free test we offer.

Do this in fairness to yourself and us. Learn what we have done to please you. Cut out the coupon now.

THURSDAY, November 2, 1932

NOW—NOT AFTER ELECTION.

Several days ago a letter purporting to have been written by Frederick Muller, Deputy Commissioner of Public Lands, was published broadcast throughout the state as a political advertisement. As the contents of the letter carried with it the implication of official misconduct and, if proven, would therefore disqualify Capt. Muller for any public office, the Morning Journal withheld the letter from publication pending an investigation of the facts.

Being questioned as to the validity of the letter, Capt. Muller positively denied that he had written it and in support of his denial said that Mr. Neis, to whom the letter was addressed, was in Santa Fe on the day the letter is alleged to have been written. Mr. Neis also denied having seen the letter or having received it and said that he was in Santa Fe on the day the letter was written. Both Muller and Neis subsequently issued a statement confirming their previous denials.

When the reputation of a public official is at stake, one who has long had confidence of the public, he is entitled to the benefit of any doubt. Capt. Muller has had ample opportunity to disprove the charges which have been made against him. At the time of the publication of the letter in question, we said that it devolved equally on Capt. Muller to prove that the letter was a fabrication, and upon those who were responsible for its publication to substantiate its validity. Both sides of the case have now been heard and the public is in a fair position to pass judgment. Capt. Muller renews his charge that the letter is a forgery and swears that he is not its author. Mr. Neis says under oath that he never received the letter. It is significant, however, that neither of the two affiants repeats his former statement that the letter was not written because Mr. Neis was in Santa Fe on the day in question. Such a statement under oath would carry with it the weight of absolute proof. Capt. Muller informed a representative of the Morning Journal that Mr. Neis was in Santa Fe on the day the letter was alleged to have been written and stated positively that he was there "for a week or ten days" and this statement was confirmed by Mr. Neis. It is a fair presumption that Capt. Muller and Mr. Neis were cognizant of the facts, but with the publication of the substance of the affidavits of several representative citizens of Roswell to the effect that Mr. Neis was in Roswell on the day in question and on the days when both he and Capt. Muller said that he was in Santa Fe, the case against Capt. Muller seems to be conclusively established. What conceivable object could they have had in making false statements in self defense in so serious a matter except for the purpose of public exoneration and if their statements were untrue then, it is not equally probable that their statements are untrue now?

We have already said that the public is entitled to more than a mere denial, but that is all that Capt. Muller has thus far offered. Those who published the letter were called upon for further proof and have produced it in the form of contradictory evidence which cannot be questioned. Capt. Muller is now condemned by his own words and not by any secondary evidence. The public interest now demands that he resign from the office which he holds and that in justice to the other candidates on the Republican ticket he withdraw as a candidate for the office of Public Land Commissioner, for which he has proved himself wholly unfitted.

BUSINESS BOOM LOOMS.

Complaints from steel manufacturers that they cannot secure enough labor are one of the most interesting features of a business situation which is improving so rapidly as to suggest the possibility of a boom of no mean proportions in a not distant future.

A gratifying accompaniment of the revival in the mining and manufacturing and transportation industries is the improvement in the farm markets. As long as the farmers were not prospering there were experienced judges who doubted the permanence of the improvement in other directions. But notably higher prices for grains and cotton have been established during the past week. These higher prices for agricultural products are regarded by good judges as being, for the moment at least, even more significant than the market activity in steel and the other industries. Wheat has sold during the last week at the highest price in two years. The recovery in cotton is even more noteworthy.

Soft coal production continues at the rate of 10,000,000 tons a week—a rate removing all fear of coal shortage this winter. As for steel, the mills are now operating at 75 per cent of their full capacity, and prospective buyers predict confidently that such a rate of production will bring an early exhaustion of orders has not prevented the Steel Corporation from raising prices for certain products. Bank clearings continue notably large at Pittsburgh, having been $172,000,000 last week, as against $92,000,000 at Baltimore, $104,000,000 at Detroit, $143,000,000 at Kansas City, and $152,000,000 at San Francisco.

BY THE WAY.

TODAY'S BEST THOUGHT

TOMORROW, wealth may fly away or turn to ashes gray;

But not the wealth of noble deed and duty done today;

Tomorrow, fame's bright flowered crown may wither on the strand;

But not the laurel wreath of love wrought by the helping hand.

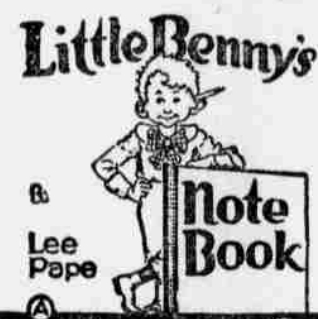

Tomorrow, when the ears are dull that long to hear your voice,

The loving words you spoke today will bid your heart rejoice;

Tomorrow, when from silent lips the smile will disappear,
You will be glad if through today they smiled when you were near.

THE FINANCIAL SOT.

Skool was just starting to begin this afternoon and Miss Kitty sed. Now children, I will begin this afternoon session by making an announcement that I am very sure you will be glad to hear.

Me thinking, O, heray, I bet she's going to leave us out a half a hour earlier today.

And everybody started to make sounds as if they were feeling icy, cold, and Miss Kitty sed. The behavior of this class has bin exceptionally good all this week and I assure you it gives me grate pleasure to make this announcement.

Me thinking, Maybe she's going to leave us out a little hour earlier, O boy, heray.

I may seem a little harsh and strict at times, perhaps, because discipline must be maintained, but I always recognize merit and I always give credit where credit is due, and that's the reason I am about to make this announcement, sed Miss Kitty.

Me thinking, G. I wouldn't be surprised if she left us out all the whole rest of the afternoon, sed Miss Kitty sed. I suppose by this time you are wondering what the announcement is. Which we was, and she sed, Well, the announcement is that my little niece, a very clever and talented little girl, will visit the classroom later this afternoon and recite for you.

Me being disappointed but thinking, O well, it will be better than doing nothing any way. And what goods that, as soon as the last bell has rang the the recitations will begin.

Being a heck of a bum announcement, and the hole class started to make noises murmuring, Aw gosh, what goods that, that's a farsee announcement, we don't want to stay after skool to hear any old recitations, aw heck, gosh, good nite, that's a grate announcement, sed Miss Kitty sed. Quiet, stop that murmuring immediately, order in the classroom, now just for the intro class will remain 10 minutes after skool and there won't be any recitations.

Which there wasn't, properly being a good thing from the looks of Miss Kitty niece when she came in and sat down alongside of her desk, being a long and boring pigtail and a ignorant impression.

Other constructive news features were the passing of the 1,000,000 mark in weekly car loadings and the declaration of a 50 per cent stock dividend by the National Sugar Company.

American Petroleum, only 50,000 shares of which are now reported to be outstanding in the hands of the public, was again subjected to professional pressure, suffering a net loss of two points.

American Can was one of the strong features, gaining 5 1/2 points as a result of a brisk rally in the final hour. May Department Stores, which gained 8 1/2 points yesterday in expectation of an extra dividend disbursement, added twelve more today.

Acute weakness of Pierce Arrow preferred has an unsettling effect on other motor shares in early dealings, but good buying power developed in Studebaker and Chandler. Fisher Body, which recently enjoyed a sensational advance, slumped nearly four points today.

Heavy professional pressure against equipments forced the liquidation of some speculative accounts and carried those stocks down several points, but they recovered most of their losses before the close.

Total sales were 1,125,000 shares. Call money opened at 5 per cent and then turned to 4, where it closed. The time money and commercial paper markets were quiet, with no change in rates.

Wall Street.
New York, Nov. 1.—Prices in today's stock market continued to decline, but there were indications that the current reaction was nearing an end.

Buying on the belief that the liquidation had run its course imparted strength to a number of issues at the opening, but speculation for the decline launched a heavy attack against steel and Mexican oil shares, which again unsettled the list.

The mid against steel was based on the comparatively small earnings of the United States Steel corporation for September, which totaled only $7,727,721 as against $11,244,058 the month before.

United States Steel common crumbled to 10 1/2, a new low on the movement, but later rallied a point.

Resumption of dividends by the National Enameling and Stamping company had a beneficial effect on that stock, which soared more than 3 1/2 points.

Other constructive news features were the passing of the 1,000,000 mark in weekly car loadings and the declaration of a 50 per cent stock dividend by the National Sugar Company.

Chicago Board of Trade.
Chicago, Nov. 1.—Assertions that the winter wheat average of 1932 would show a reduction of 10 per cent compared with last year, and much to do with bringing about more active dealing and decidedly higher prices in the wheat market today. Closing quotations were unsettled at not gains of 1 1/2 to 2 1/2, with December $1.16 1/2 to $1.17 1/2, and May $1.14 to $1.15 1/2.

Loss of 10 per cent in winter wheat territory would mean 4,500,000 acres, and according to the experts responsible for the estimate the outlook for the winter crop is the poorest for some years.

Both as regards acreage and condition. Previous to announcement of this information, the wheat market had been exhibiting a downward price tendency largely as a result of rains which were expected to help wheat already planted, although too late to remedy much loss of acreage.

Provisions were easier in the market and so too did frost reports from Argentina.

Corn and oats developed independent firmness owing to estimates that the total available supplies of corn for the season would be 408,000,000 bushels less than was the case last year.

Shovel May Furnish Officers a Clue in Murder of a Woman.
Cleveland, O., Nov. 1.—A blood stained shovel, which authorities believe was used to dig the shallow grave in which the body of Mrs. Hilda Burns was found near Painesville a week ago, was found today in the woods near the grave.

On the handle were splashes of blood with two well defined finger prints which will be examined by Bertillon experts. It was announced by authorities.

The blade of the shovel was said by authorities to be covered with mud, and that on the grave where Mrs. Burns was found buried.

MRS. POST GETS DIVORCE.
Los Angeles, Nov. 1.—Mrs. Caroline Beatrice Post was granted a divorce from Regis Henri Post, former governor of Porto Rico, in the superior court here yesterday. She charged cruelty.

GRAPES

We want you to come in and see them, then if you like their appearance and flavor they will cost you only 12½¢ a pound.

On the way, may be in this afternoon, large shipment Florida grapefruit and oranges, and prices will be lower.

The new crop bunched California walnuts should have been in yesterday, perhaps they will be on sale this afternoon. Climax butter surely seems to be a winner.

DOG GONE; BUT HE WILL COME BACK

Police here received a telegram from R. L. Neill, chief of police at Flagstaff, Ariz., stating that the two men who stole a dog here Monday belonging to Mrs. A. C. Hill, of Cleveland, O., had been stopped in Flagstaff. The dog was in their possession. The dog, a valuable Boston bull, was taken from the Hill car at Fourth street and Central avenue while the Hills were shopping. A man nearly saved the men take the dog and wrote down the number of their car. Mrs. Hill was informed at Las Vegas that her dog had been recovered. It will be sent to her.
