G. O. P. WILL BE IN CONTROL OF CONGRESS BY A NARROW MARGIN

Majority of 165 in House Is Slashed to 15; Senate Majority Cut in Two, Latest Figures Show.

STATEMENT ISSUED BY CHAIRMAN ADAMS

Retention of the Lead Is "Very Gratifying," Is Declaration of National Committee Chief.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—A continuation of republican control in congress but with a majority of 165 in the house slashed to 15 and a senate majority cut in two, was the main feature of the latest figures from the national committee. While the republicans retained only seven above a house majority of 218 and five above a senate majority of 57, the figures show a plurality of 18 over the democrats in the house and of 11 over the democrats in the senate.

Light races and belated returns were the exact majority in doubt for two days, but return from the third Kansas, the last district to report in the congressional race, apparently assuring the election of W. H. Sproul, increased the republican majority in the lower house from six to seven.

While the republicans retained an actual majority of only seven each in the house and in the senate, they will have in the next congress a plurality of 18 in the house and 11 in the senate over the democrats.

PERSONNEL OF HOUSE

With the Kansas district in the republican fold, the sixty-eighth house of representatives will be composed of 225 republicans, 207 democrats, one socialist, one farmer-labor, and one independent.

In the senatorial contests, late returns, which indicated the election of Lynn J. Frazier, recalled non-partisan league senators, 27, 27, and the victory of Clarence C. Hill, democrat, in Washington, did not change the general complexion of the upper house.

These returns forecast that the next senate would have 53 republicans, a loss of seven, 42 democrats, and one farmer-labor senator from Minnesota.

The closeness of the battle in the Kansas district was shown by the count in 301 out of 302 precincts in the district, which gave Sproul 27,600 and his democratic opponent, Charles E. Smith, 27,600.

Returns from the one missing Kansas precinct were not expected to be available until the official county canvass tomorrow, but as this precinct has been a long time republican, it was not expected to change the result.

In the Washington senatorial race, returns from 2,304 precincts out of 2,446 in the state gave Hill 111,000 and his democratic opponent, Miller, 108,000, republican incumbent, 123,217.

VICTORY OF FRAZIER

The victory of Frazier in North Dakota was conceded late today by the republican party, which is the Independent Voters' association, which supported J. P. O'Connor, Frazier's opponent. Frazier ran on the republican ticket.

Retention of republican majorities in both the senate and house was declared to be "very gratifying" in a statement issued by John T. Adams, chairman of the republican national committee. Mr. Adams attributed the outcome of the election to unrest following the war, an unusual prominence of local issues over national issues, the use of "fake issues to bog the general situation and a tendency of a large class of people to vote for a change in office years."

"Discontent resulting for a sacrifice," was the way Governor H. J. Allen of Kansas has described the election results. He added that Kansas showed a stronger republican vote than most of the republican states.

SOCIALISTS 'ALSO RAN' IN CALIFORNIA

San Francisco, Nov. 9.—Epton Sinclair, nationally known writer, who was the anti-trust nominee for United States senator in California, had polled 27,476 votes when the returns of 5,089 precincts out of 8,631 in the state had been counted. Sinclair ran well ahead of other socialist candidates on the ticket.

Mrs. Isabel King, socialist candidate for lieutenant governor, polled 27,923, and Alexander Horr, her democratic opponent, had 25,711 votes.

H. C. Needham, prohibition candidate for United States senator, had 41,515 votes. Senator Hiram W. Johnson received 437,516 votes and his democratic opponent, William J. Pearson, 158,460.

COLORADO RIVER MEETING OPENS AT THE CAPITAL

Commission Holds Its First Informal Session at Santa Fe; Only Two Governors in Attendance.

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 9.—The Colorado river commission held its first informal session here today preliminary to a general conference of members of the commission from seven western states, called to draw up a final agreement for all location and distribution of waters of the Colorado river and its tributaries, covering an area of 242,000 square miles.

Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, chairman of the commission, presided at the initial meeting this morning, which was attended by official representatives of only four of the states, and groups of unofficial delegates. California was represented by a large delegation to watch the handling of the interests of that state.

State Representatives. Colorado is represented at the conference, which was formally opened Saturday, according to Secretary Hoover, by Delbert E. Carpenter, Utah by R. E. Caldwell, Arizona by Engineer W. S. Norvell and New Mexico by Senator B. Davis, Jr., defeated candidate for United States senator in last Tuesday's election.

Colonel J. C. Scruggs of Nevada, governor-elect, will be here to represent his state. W. F. McClellan of Sacramento, California, member of the commission, and Frank C. Emerson, state engineer, will represent Wyoming, will also attend.

All sessions of the commission will be executive, it has been announced. Convening of the commission will mark the first occasion, it is said, where more than two states have met to enter into a compact which is to be submitted to congress and the state legislatures for ratification.

Governor Campbell of Arizona and Governor Mechem of New Mexico are the only governors in attendance.

MONTH'S CATTLE SHIPMENTS SHOW GREAT INCREASE

About 116,499 Head Sent Out of New Mexico in October; Nearly 150 Per Cent More Than in 1921.

Shipments of cattle from the various districts of New Mexico during the month of October totaled 116,499 head, according to figures furnished by the Cattle Sanitary board yesterday. These shipments were made to various markets throughout the country.

The figures show an increase of nearly 150 per cent over the shipments of October, 1921. Against the total of 116,499 this year, October of last year can show only 8,325. Moreover, reports state that the cattle shipped during the past month were in better condition on the whole than that shipped a year ago.

The Clayton district heads the list with shipments which total 16,236. The Rincon district is second on the list, with 12,488 head. Alamogordo is third, with 11,119. But Alamogordo gives the place by only three head, Springer being practically on even terms, with 11,067.

The Albuquerque district is in eighth place. There were 9,322 head of cattle shipped from the Albuquerque district. The same number shipped in October a year ago would have given Albuquerque first place—an indication of the great increase this year.

Following is the list of shipments for October:

Springer district	11,067
Clayton	16,236
Tucuman	15,231
Alamogordo	11,119
Roy	800
Roswell	10,057
Aztec	424
Deming	9,036
Albuquerque	9,322
Santa Fe	2,747
Rincon	12,488
Carlsbad	1,555
Logansport	9,055
Chamilton	4,842
Vaughn	6,227
Columbus	247
Silver City	8,233
Total	116,499

MAY RETAIN CITY TAX LEVY AT THE RATE LAST YEAR

City Commissioners Will Make Every Effort to Avoid Any Increase This Year; May Be Successful

The city tax levy for next year will be retained at the present level if it is at all possible to keep it there. This was the decision reached at the meeting of the city commissioners, held last night at the city hall. The meeting was a special one, called to dispose of unfinished business and business which had accumulated since the last regular meeting two weeks ago.

City Manager Calkins announced yesterday, upon his return from Santa Fe, that there will probably be a slight increase for next year over the present levy. These figures call for a city levy of $0.114, to be divided as follows: .0031 for sinking fund for payment of previous bond issues, .005 for paying programs, .0025 for interest funds and .005 for general expenses.

These figures are in accordance with the budget submitted. But the figures have not been verified by the commissioners. They will not be certified until after the county commission certifies the county levy. And it is quite possible that it will not be certified then.

Commissioner Hughes suggested last night that the levy be retained at the old level if possible. And it was agreed that if it is found that the year will be finished with a suitable balance, through the accumulation of interest funds and other resources, the levy will be retained at the old level.

MINISTER IS VICTOR OVER VOLSTEAD FOR SEAT IN THE HOUSE

St. Paul, Nov. 9.—O. J. Kvale, elected congressman over Congressman Volstead in the seventh district, is pastor of a Norwegian Lutheran church in Benson, Minn.

Volstead, who was elected in 1920, is pastor of a Lutheran church in Decorah, Iowa. After attending district schools, he went to Luther college at Decorah, graduating in 1909, and then attending Luther seminary, graduating in 1912. He has been a Lutheran minister for the past 25 years.

Rev. Kvale received the endorsement of the farmer-labor and democratic district conventions. Prohibition was not an issue in the seventh district when Kvale filed, and he insisted he is as dry as Volstead, with possibly a little to spare.

Mr. Kvale is a member of the board of education and finance of the Norwegian Lutheran church of America.

WASHINGTON U. AND TENNESSEE FOOTBALL GAME IS CANCELLED

St. Louis, Nov. 9.—Washington University's football team will be idle Saturday owing to the cancellation of the game scheduled with the University of Tennessee, as announced here this afternoon by George L. Ridd, director of athletics of Washington University.

The game was called off. It was explained, because the Tennessee team did not conform to the terms of the agreement which was based on the rules of the Missouri Valley conference that bar all freshmen from varsity games, said Ridd.

MANZANAREZ MANSION NEAR VEGAS BURNED

Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 9.—The old Manzanarez mansion, three miles north of this city on the Hot Springs road, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The building was erected many years ago. It was an imposing structure of adobe and was a landmark. The late Francisco A. Manzanarez, Sr., who was prominent in New Mexico affairs, often entertained lavishly in the old mansion, which was located on a valuable piece of irrigated ground. Apples from the Manzanarez place have been famous for two decades.

PROPOSE TO PUSH CONSTRUCTION OF THE NEW VIADUCT

City Commissioners Feel That Matter Has Been Permitted to Hang Fire Too Long; Propose Action

Vigorous action is to be taken on the viaduct question by the city commissioners in the near future. At the meeting of the commissioners last night the question was discussed and four separate plans which have been submitted to City Engineer Kimball were reviewed. In discussing the viaduct question, Mayor William B. Walton said, in part:

"The people of Albuquerque are looking to the city commissioners to take some definite action in regard to the viaduct. And I believe it is up to us to institute vigorous action at as early a date as it is possible."

"Frankly, it is beginning to look as though the Santa Fe railroad is stalling. We have held meetings and made definite appointments with them for a conference. And in each case they have failed to keep the appointments."

"The first time the reason offered was the strike situation. We accepted that as a reasonable excuse and accepted postponement. The second time they also accepted the excuse offered as a reasonable one. But this has occurred time after time. We have made appointments and the Santa Fe people have not kept them."

"I believe the time has come to make the Santa Fe railroad understand that something must be done in the way of definite action. The citizens of Albuquerque expect the city commission to get definite action and we must do it. Their failure to keep appointments is beginning to look very much like stalling."

"If Captain Reid has no authority on the viaduct question I believe we should go over his head. And if Mr. Lehman, after making a definite appointment with us, comes to the city and then has not even the courtesy to notify the city manager that he is in the city, I believe we should go over his head also, if necessary."

It was decided that before any other action is taken a meeting will be held with Captain Reid, with the commissioners attending in a body. This is to be a final meeting and if it does not prove satisfactory, the commissioners are prepared to go to whatever ends may be necessary to obtain definite action.

Engineer Kimball, who was present at the meeting, informed the commissioners that the estimated cost of a 40-foot viaduct, all concrete, is $215,000. For a 60-foot viaduct with a 40-foot sidewalk and two 10-foot sidewalks, the estimated cost is $250,000.

EVEN CAREFUL CALOMEL USERS ARE SALIVATED

Next Dose of Treacherous Drug may Start Misery for You

Calomel is dangerous. It may salivate you and make you suffer fearfully from soreness of gums, tenderness of jaws and teeth, swollen tongue and excessive saliva dribbling from the mouth. Don't trust calomel. It is mercury; quicksilver.

If you feel bilious, headachy, constipated and all knotted up, just go to your druggist and get a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tonic for a few cents which is a harmless vegetable substitute for dangerous calomel. Take a spoonful and if it doesn't start your liver and straighten you up better and quicker than nasty calomel and without making you sick, you just go back and get your money.

If you take calomel today you'll be sick and nauseated tomorrow. Besides, it may salivate you while if you take Dodson's Liver Tonic you will wake up feeling great. No salts necessary. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and can not salivate.—Adv.

INDEPENDENTS BEAT WALLER FOR SHERIFF AFTER HOT CAMPAIGN

Special to The Journal.

Carlsbad, N. M., Nov. 9.—Final election returns in Eddy county, just received, show all democratic candidates elected by a substantial majority, except Roy Waller, candidate for sheriff. Jones, Hinkle and Beaton each have more than 1,000 plurality. Baca's plurality is 425. The county democratic and independent tickets were hotly contested. Not in years has there been such excitement in county politics. The independents, who organized after the spring primary, centered their efforts on the defeat of Waller for sheriff. They won by a majority of 410 votes. Ned Shattuck being elected. Waller defeated the late sheriff, George Patton, in the primary by a very small majority, five or six votes. A recount was demanded and the central committee refused. Dissatisfied voters organized with the independents and this gathered momentum near election day. The fight was taken up by the W. C. T. U. and dozens of women spent the entire day at the polls. Excitement was keen.

County Commissioners Rickman and Howard won against the independent candidates, Smith and Bolton. Other county candidates: Hollis Watson as third commissioner, Shepherd for county clerk, Joe Johns, tax assessor, and Aud Lusk, treasurer.

Wilson, superintendent of the naval academy, will be called as a witness before the naval court martial which is trying several first class midshipmen on charges of hazing, he learned as certain, according to information gained tonight. This situation has been precipitated by the fact that two seniors testifying in behalf of their classmates, John H. Gilmer, Jr., of San Diego, California, who has been on trial since Monday, testified that Admiral Wilson had intimated to them that the admiral believed in hazing.

URGES BUILDING OF AIRPLANE CARRIERS

Washington, Nov. 9.—Rear Admiral Moffat, chief of the navy bureau of aeronautics, declared today after an inspection of the new airplane carrier Langley in Chesapeake bay that "the air fleet of an enemy will never get within striking distance of our shores as long as our aircraft carriers are able to carry the preponderance of air power to sea."

He urged that the full tonnage of airplane carriers allowed this country under the arms conference treaty be built.

VALLEY MAY BE ABLE TO SUPPLY ITS EGG DEMAND

Poultry Association Has as Its Object Greater Production; Big Show Here December 4, 5, and 6.

"Feeding for Winter Eggs" was the subject of a timely paper read last night by J. R. Wilson at the meeting of the Bernalillo Poultry Association in the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The association announced that Frank Buck of Oklahoma City, Okla., an authority on poultry, will act as judge of the poultry and pet stock show to be held here December 4, 5 and 6. Expectations are that 400 fowls will be on exhibition. The largest had during any of the seven preceding annual shows was 300. Eight silver cups will be awarded the winning pens, and a large number of pieces of merchandise given by Albuquerque merchants also will be given as prizes. Exhibitors of the American Poultry association, such as are given for the best fowls at poultry shows in New York and all the big poultry shows, will be awarded.

Local Egg Production. Officials of the poultry association say that this section of the Middle Rio Grande valley, with its mild winter climate and abundant crops and vegetation should become a great poultry raising center. At present the eggs and poultry produced here do not supply a great portion of the demand, but the poultry association believes that it will be possible to create sufficient interest in the raising of high class poultry to make this section produce all the eggs that are used in Albuquerque and the entire county.

It is not the number of fowls that makes plentiful eggs, an official of the association said, but the quality of the chickens and the way they are fed and handled. The association has as its object the dissemination of information that will help the chicken raisers to make their flocks produce eggs in the greatest possible number. Committees in charge of the poultry show are:

1,500 POUNDS OF PEANUTS RAISED ON ACRE OF LAND

Have you been in the National Garment Company within the last few days? If you have you are already telling your neighbors about the wonderful new arrivals you saw. If you haven't there's a real treat in store for you.

The National purchasing is done on a different plan than the purchasing of most stores. Instead of buying everything we are likely to need at the beginning of the season, only enough is purchased at that time to start with.

Then our eastern representative is on the job sending us coats, suits, dresses and hats in small lots every day. In this way there is always something new to see—always interesting.

And in this way we are enabled to take advantage of all the bargains AS THEY OCCUR—that's ON saving.

Another is that we sell for cash only. You KNOW the savings you can effect by trading at a cash grocery store. It has been demonstrated in every city and town of the country.

We make those savings possible for you in your dress needs—for the same reasons the cash-and-carry groceries can. Compare the prices. They'll tell you the whole story.

NEW PATROLMAN IS APPOINTED TO THE CITY POLICE

Ordinance Which Prohibits Parking on Central Avenue More Than One Hour Will Be Rigidly Enforced.

Albuquerque is to have one additional policeman at once. The city commissioners last night voted unanimously to authorize Chief of Police Galusha to appoint one additional patrolman this morning. Charles Kerns, who has been working as extra officer, will probably receive the appointment.

In bringing the matter before the commissioners last night, Mayor Walton said that it is a decided tribute to the present chief and his entire force that they have so victoriously maintained law and order. He added that to continue with so small a force would be to virtually fly into the face of Providence.

Commissioner Hughes declared that the present force is the same numerically as it was when Albuquerque was only half as large as it is at present.

The suggestion was offered that several new patrolmen be added immediately. However, the condition of the city budget being uncertain it was deemed advisable to add only one now. If the condition of the budget permits, others will be added at an early date. If it does not there will be several new appointments immediately after the new year.

One point which led up to the appointment was the discussion of double parking on Central avenue. This is prohibited by city ordinance, but parking conditions are such that the ordinance has not been enforced. This is due to the fact that express and other delivery trucks have to deliver at points along Central avenue and cars parked there prevent their getting in to the curbing.

However, there is a second ordinance and this second ordinance is to be rigidly enforced. With its enforcement the present congested condition along Central avenue, with automobiles parked at certain points for several hours at a time, will be greatly relieved.

The second ordinance is in regard to time of parking on Central avenue. This ordinance prohibits any parking on Central avenue, in the business district, for more than one hour. With the appointment of the new patrolman today this parking law will be enforced. Thus, there may be a number of drivers made painfully aware of the enforcement. A tag on the car, requiring appearance at the police court, will constitute the notification.

ARMISTICE DAY IS PROCLAIMED LOCAL HOLIDAY

Mayor Issues Holiday Proclamation; Parade and Field Meet to Precede Hoover Dinner.

A proclamation asking all people to cease their labors on Armistice day in order that the day may be fittingly observed has been issued by William R. Walton, chairman of the city commission. A parade was added yesterday to the day's special observances.

The mayor's proclamation follows: "When the news telling of the cessation of hostilities in the great world war circled the globe four years ago, millions of hearts were made glad. Now, in memory of those who paid the supreme sacrifice on land and sea, and in honor of all those who served their country during those trying years, I, as your representative in the city of Albuquerque, do hereby ask all people to cease from their labors, and I proclaim Saturday, November 11, 1922, a holiday in order that the anniversary of Armistice day be fittingly observed."

The banes, wholesale houses, lumber and coal yards and offices of the city hall have agreed to close all day on Saturday. Members of the Business Men's Co-operative association who agreed to close at 5 o'clock in the afternoon, are being urged by the American legion not to open their places of business all day.

A parade of the various military organizations in the city will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock. It was announced yesterday afternoon, Capt. John F. Harn of the headquarters troop will be in charge. The cavalry troop in full equipment will parade, as will members of the Grand Army of the Republic, the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American legion. All former service men are urged to participate in the parade.

The inn school band, the Old Town and possibly the Elks band will render martial airs for the parade. All those participating are requested to assemble at the cavalry stables at Hunting meadows on West Central avenue at 10 o'clock. The cavalry exhibition and field meet will begin at 2:30 o'clock at Washington park.

K. C. CONFERENCE TO BE ATTENDED BY CITY MANAGER

Police Get Auto Through Fine Forfeit; Surety and Paving Bonds Accepted; Special Session Soon.

For the first time in the history of Albuquerque, the city manager will attend the National Conference of City Managers which is held annually. The city commissioners last night voted, by a count of three to one, to authorize City Manager Calkins to attend the coming conference.

The next conference of the National City Managers association is to be held in Kansas City, November 14, 15 and 16. The commissioners voted Manager Calkins $100 to cover expenses of the trip and duly authorized him to attend. It was the opinion expressed that he may obtain valuable data on administration under the city manager plan.

The city discussed paying of T. J. Terasa as far as Broadway. Agreement was also reached with the paving company to repair holes in the paving in various sections of the city. This repair is to be started as soon as possible.

Another question discussed was in regard to a touring car which had been left by Charles Brannan in the parking lot. According to Chief of Police Galusha, this man was later arrested in Los Angeles and is still being held there. He said all efforts to trace the car and engine number have proved fruitless.

The commissioners decided to permit the police department to use the car for the present. If the law permits, it will be returned to the department permanently. City Attorney Jamison will be asked to decide upon the legal angle.

The second reading of the meat delivery ordinance was postponed until the next special meeting. This action was taken because City Manager Calkins had notified parties interested in the ordinance that the reading would not be held until the next special session.

The surety bond on pending improvement, which had been approved by the city attorney, was accepted by unanimous vote.

It was decided to hold a special session next week, either Tuesday or Wednesday evening at the city hall. Interest bonds and other financial matters will be dealt with and a full financial statement presented.

LITTLE CHANGE IN TOTALS AS RETURNS ARRIVE

Democratic Majorities Reduced But Little in Bernalillo County; Mrs. Warren Leads Republicans.

With practically all the voting districts reporting, the democratic majority in Bernalillo county yesterday showed little change from the total based on incomplete returns and estimates of the day. Majorities of Jones and Hinkle remain in the neighborhood of 2,000, while that of Morrow is a little less.

No complete tabulation of the vote has been possible, as some of the precincts sent their books to the county clerk and failed to keep a record of the results. It is believed the official tabulation will make little change.

Montoya for school superintendent led the county ticket with a majority of 2,357. Swope for county treasurer was low with a majority of 1,536.

Mrs. Otto Warren polled the highest vote on the republican ticket in Bernalillo county, getting a total of 4,113.

The county commissioners will meet soon as a canvassing board to tabulate the returns from the various precincts and will announce the official results. The Journal expects to publish the official tabulation for the information of its readers.

RIVER COMMISSION MEETING POSTPONED

Santa Fe, N. M., Nov. 9.—Secretary Herbert Hoover announced today that there would be no formal meeting of the Colorado river commission until Saturday morning, owing to the delay in arrival of a considerable number of delegates and informal sessions are expected to begin this afternoon.

Governor Campbell of Arizona who arrived last night and Governor Mechem of New Mexico are the only state executives on the ground today. A large Arizona delegation arrived last night including T. A. Panter, H. B. Gardett, O. W. Colner, T. Yarger, W. J. Carr, Arnold Krunkman, Ralph Griswell, W. D. Matthews and Burnett Moody. W. S. Norvel, Arizona, and John A. Widtsoe of Salt Lake city, are also arrivals.

BAYARD VETERANS TO SEE FOOTBALL

Fort Bayard, N. M., Nov. 9.—The New Mexico Normal school eleven will play Deming high school at the Fort Bayard baseball park Saturday, Armistice day. The American Legion post is planning to celebrate Armistice on a small scale this year, and the football game will be the biggest event of the day. These teams played at Deming several weeks ago and Deming won, 25 to 7.

Chicago, Nov. 9.—Additional returns from Tuesday's election in Illinois piled up the total for the soldiers' bonus and the amendment favoring light wines and beer, compilation tonight showed.

On the soldiers' bonus, 4,273 precincts gave 934,677 in favor and 351,799 against.

The wine and beer vote from 4,286 precincts was: Yes, 711,034; No, 542,110.

JONES' MARGIN RUNNING CLOSE TO 12,000 MARK

Democratic Headquarters Says Majority for Its Candidates Increases With Latest Returns.

Returns so far received at democratic headquarters in Santa Fe give Jones a majority in the state of approximately 12,000, with Hinkle running about 1,500 behind him, according to W. V. Bahner, democratic publicity manager, who was in the city last night. Every report from republican counties, according to Bahner, indicates that those counties will give majorities of a figure less than had been estimated, with a consequent increase in the total majorities for the democratic candidates.

The republicans have carried but six counties, San Miguel, Santa Fe, Taos, Rio Arriba, Valencia, and Sandoval. Torrance and Socorro counties have gone democratic for the first time in their history. Returns from San Miguel county, according to Bahner, indicate that the republican majority there will not exceed 1,200, though first estimates had given the total at about 2,500 to 3,000. But four precincts have been reported from Rio Arriba county, and these have given democratic majorities. Rio Arriba's republican majority will not be over 500, Bahner says.

Mora county, usually republican, gave a majority of 600 democratic, and Santa Fe county's republican majority will not be 1,000.

The democratic officers-elect will carry out to the letter their pre-election promises, Bahner says. No promises were made to any one in the matter of appointive jobs, and appointments will be made solely on the ability of the appointees.

41 PERSONS COMING FROM OUT OF TOWN FOR HOOVER DINNER

Reservations have been made by mail, wire and telephone for 41 out-of-town visitors for the chamber of commerce dinner with Secretary Hoover and the western governors tomorrow evening at the Armory, according to M. L. Fox, manager of the chamber of commerce.

All persons who have made reservations without purchasing their tickets are asked to obtain them at the chamber of commerce today. Those who made reservations but who find themselves unable to attend the affair are urged to notify the chamber of commerce in order that their reservations may be given to someone else. All tickets have been sold, the only possibility of getting into the banquet now being on returned reservations.

M. W. Thayer, assistant district forester of district No. 2, with headquarters at Denver, will leave for Colorado today. He has been spending several days in the Albuquerque district forester's office, discussing similar district problems.

1922 ROLL CALL OF RED CROSS WILL BE HELD HERE SATURDAY

Plans for making the annual Red Cross Roll Call in Albuquerque on Armistice Day have been completed by Mrs. Roy Graham, chairman of the women's division. The Roll Call will be conducted simultaneously with the Red Cross tag day sale under the direction of Miss Emma Ferguson.

The Roll Call committee will work from a dozen booths to be set up on the business streets on Saturday. There will be no house-to-house canvass as has been the custom previously. All of the team captains will meet for their final instructions on Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock at the Y. W. C. A.

The captains of the Roll Call teams are Mesdames Robert Lokenbill, Claude Schumaker, Martin Biersmith, J. E. Swilum, William McDonald, William Hols, F. S. Barker, Frank Shuffelbarger, Elie Brown, E. C. Wardwell, Clyde Oden and Miss Ruby Peel.

About 20 teams have enlisted in the tag day activities to plaster a Red Cross sticker on the windshield of every automobile in the city. Misses Ruth Payton, Emma Auferoth, Nellie Falkenberg and Stella Garcia have entered new teams in the tag day forces.

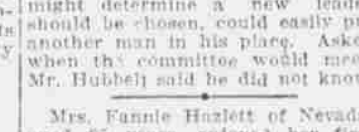

The loss of Bernalillo county to the state and county republican tickets was due to the peculiar condition arising from labor unrest and to the democratic promise of a bonus for the soldiers, said Frank A. Hubbell, chairman of the republican county central committee. "It was not due to a split in the party in the county, as the various factions were never better united. By avoiding criticisms and contentions, the party will be strongly cemented and ready for a victory two years from this month."

Asked if he intended to resign, Mr. Hubbell said he did not, but that the committee, at any time it might determine a new leader should be chosen, could easily put another man in his place. Asked when the committee would meet, Mr. Hubbell said he did not know.

Mrs. Fannie Hazlett of Nevada, aged 85 years, enjoyed her first airplane trip so much that now she plans to take an air trip from Reno to San Francisco.

BOX MAIL ORDER IS EXTENDED BY ORDER OF WORK

to be effective two weeks from today, November 24, Postmaster Spitz has issued notice that it will not be applied in Albuquerque until December 31. This will enable all who are affected by the order to install letter boxes without being unduly inconvenienced.

According to the new law, at each place where mail is to be delivered a box must be placed to receive the mail. This affects all dwellings where more than one dwelling and all families in dwellings where more than one family reside. Thus, in an apartment or tenement where there are half a dozen or more families, there must be a mail box placed for each family in the building.

In this connection a warning has been issued by the postoffice department that it is to be discontinued, if necessary, the delivery of mail to places which fail to provide mail drops or other receptacles for the convenience of letter carriers.

Cost of such mail boxes as the law requires is trivial, being less than one dollar for a substantial box. Postmaster Spitz reports that investigations and estimates show that approximately 40 per cent of the dwellings in Albuquerque have no such receptacles for mail as the law requires.

One important reason for the issuance of the order in for the protection of the persons sending mail and those to whom it is to be delivered. It has been found that mail delivered merely at the doorsteps sometimes is carried away by the wind, by dishonest people passing by or, perhaps, by mischievous children or children too young to realize the importance and value of mail.

When asked what would be done with mail which would not be delivered because of failure of householders to comply with the law, Postmaster Spitz said that no definite plan had been adopted. However, the plan under consideration for Albuquerque is that in such cases the mail destined for the addressee shall be brought back to the postoffice by the carrier. It is then to go to general delivery, according to the plan, so that the addressee may call there for it.

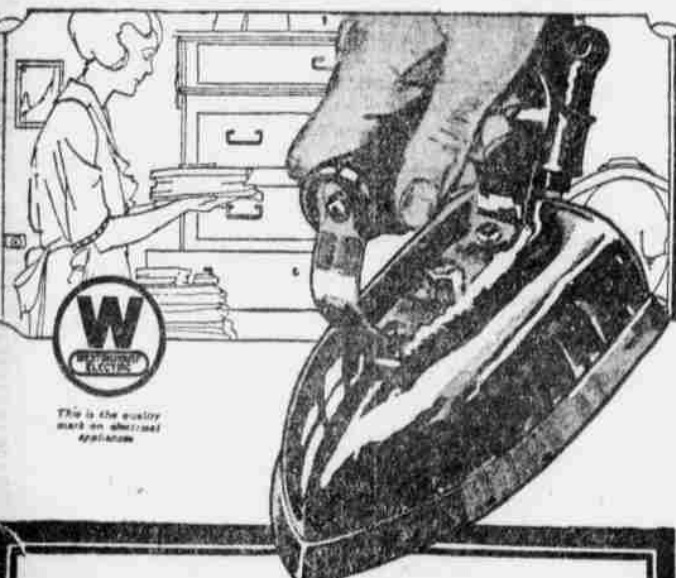

In the event the addressee should fail to call at the general delivery window for such mail, it is planned to hold it the customary period. Then it would be either returned to the writer or sent to the Dead Letter Office, at Washington.

After December 31 the law is to be rigidly enforced and Postmaster Spitz wishes to call attention to this new regulation of Postmaster General Work, with the request that all take prompt steps to comply with the order. The new regulation reads as follows:

"On account of the delays caused to carriers at dwelling houses where no door slot or mail receptacle is provided and the fact that a large majority of the dwellings are thus equipped already, it seems timely, within a reasonable period, to require all who are to receive mail by street carriers at their dwellings to provide such accommodations, the expense of the same being small. Postmasters are therefore thus instructed. The length of notice should not exceed four months, although there may be exceptional cases where postmasters should use reasonable discretion or ask for instructions.

"It is not the department's desire, of course, that any shall be deprived of delivery by this requirement, but rather it is earnestly hoped that all will see the reasonableness of it and its advantage to themselves as well as the carriers. But if it finally becomes necessary, mail delivery will be discontinued where no door slot (preferably) or mail receptacles are provided."

Mrs. Charlotte Despard, sister of Lord French, the famous British soldier, is a candidate for a seat in the British parliament.

Yale's New England Captain One of Gridiron's Real Stars

Ralph Jordan, captain of the Yale eleven, is an athlete who is unique in his activity and student leadership and is starting as Yale's fullback, as he did last season. He hails from the state of Maine, where he was born. He has been in three branches of sport—football, track athletics and baseball. During his freshman year he won the shot-put in a dual meet with Princeton. He saw two years of war service with the navy in foreign waters. He was out of the lineup at the time of the defeat by Iowa, but returned shortly afterward to assist the Bulldogs in living down the Hawkeye victory.

The Yale line, under the eagle eye of Myron Fuller, has advanced steadily and is beginning to show results that should warrant a bloody struggle with Harvard when November draws to a close.

MINNESOTA FOOTBALL TEAM GOES TO IOWA

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 9.—A bruised and injured University of Minnesota football team wound up training and left here tonight for Iowa City to play Iowa's big ten champions on Saturday. Injuries sustained in last week's game with Wisconsin probably will keep four Gophers on the side lines. Iowa has defeated Minnesota in their last four games.

The Bullard Title

Of "Young" Jake Schaefer, 18.2 ballline champion, will be hung on a peg for the cue-stars of the world to scramble for within a few days in New York. And looming up as the dark horse in the tournament for the world's championship is Welker Cochran.

Cochran was heralded as a "boy wonder" about the time Schaefer was rising to the dizzy heights from which he now looks down on the billiard world. He even gave Willie Hoppe concern and the veteran champ remarked once that Cochran was the man who some day might question his right to the title.

Then Cochran listened to the lure of red ball and other variations of the game and as a result fell off in his ballline game. Two years ago he awoke and forsook all except the 18.1 and 18.2 sport. The change was noticeable in a few weeks.

Last year he served notice that he was about "ready" by finishing third in the international tourney time of the defeat by Iowa, but returned shortly afterward to assist the Bulldogs in living down the Hawkeye victory.

DELLA BLACK A SUICIDE.

Chapter 47.

All the rest of the afternoon and evening the girls talked of the suicide. Della couldn't help feeling that it might be Della. She wished now she had asked the name of the man who had made her love him, the man who wanted her as a plaything. But she no longer knew as to who he might be, she had felt delicate about asking, and Della had volunteered no information.

As soon as breakfast was over, however, she said:

"Girls, I am going to the morgue. I couldn't sleep last night thinking it might be Della. Her note might mean that as she could not be happy without him, had determined not to be with him, and had decided to take her life. It's terrible—but I can't get it out of my mind."

"We'll all go!" Nellie declared. As soon as breakfast was over, without waiting to clear away, the three girls started for the morgue, finding where it was from a nearby telephone station. The two older girls looked serious, all were very quiet. But on Nellie's face was a look of horror, a look in her wide-open eyes that showed how terribly touched she was by the thought that perhaps this tragedy had come to one they knew.

They told the keeper of the morgue why they had come.

The suicide was Della.

The girls gasped in horror, yet Nellie looked so peaceful, that as Della afterward said: "One couldn't be sorry she is gone." She and Gladys wept freely, but Nellie, shocked, gazed dry-eyed upon the face of the girl they had known. "What shall we do now that we know it is Della?" Gladys whispered to Della, to whose hand Nellie clung pathetically.

"I don't know," Nellie answered. "It will be terrible to have her put in the Potter's Field."

"She mustn't be!" For the first time Nellie spoke, with a convulsive shiver at the idea.

"But we can't do the practical Gladys commenced.

"I'll find a way! I'll tell Mr. Fallon," Nellie dragged at Della's hand.

"If he—if no one comes to claim her, we will bury her decently," Della said to the man in charge, as they slowly found their way out.

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl 18 years old and there is a girl of 14 living next door. She seems to be boy crazy, but no boys are crazy about her. When I have callers she comes over to our house and stays a whole evening. The boys who come to see me don't like her and they object very much to having her here. What do you think I ought to do to get rid of her?

BORED.

Tell the girl in a nice way that when you have callers they come to see you and you would rather not have her come over when they are there. Say that when she is older and has callers of her own she will understand how you feel and that she too will want to be alone when she entertains.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a young married lady and have been married three years. My husband seems to love me very much and I have always thought that he was the "one woman" sort of man who would never be married in any one else.

Before I was married I had a girl friend who was very pretty. I liked her very well and she was one of my other friends, but still we enjoyed being together. Both of us were married about the same time, but she was divorced a year later. After we married we did not see much of each other, and when I did see her I didn't enjoy her very much because she was always complaining about something. But every time my husband seemed glad to go and he liked her ever so much. Lately she has taken a notion to come to our house. At first I kind of said I was to see me, but my eyes are not blind any longer and I can see that it is because she likes my husband. He thinks she is great and is always delighted when she comes into the house and finds him too. He still loves me, but I am afraid she will get him away from me because she is so pretty. I don't know what to do and so please advise me. ANNA T.

$125 IS GIVEN TOWARD BURIAL OF POOR WOMAN

In answer to an appeal made in yesterday's Morning Journal by Captain Richard Guest of the bureau of charities for money to provide a decent burial for a poor woman who died here, $125 was donated yesterday by big hearted people of the city. The bureau phone rang constantly yesterday with offers of contributions.

The family of the woman who died, her husband, two small sons and an aged mother, were in a destitute condition yesterday morning. Early last evening they held hopes of being sent back to their old home in Kentucky, where the woman's body may be buried.

Since the husband came here on a railroad pass an effort is being made to obtain return passes for himself, the children and the body. If this is possible the old mother will be sent back to her home on the surplus money donated for her daughter's burial. A special charity rate may be obtained under the circumstances, said Capt. Guest. If the passes cannot be obtained the bureau will arrange to take care of the family until they can get funds from home.

Thanks to the generosity of many Albuquerqueans, however, the family is assured of a respectable burial for the young mother. Burial appointments costing $150 will be provided by Strong Brothers for half price. The Woman's club has offered a grave for the body in the club's burial plot east of the city.

Among the early contributors yesterday morning was a young man who left a check for $10 and a promise to underwrite the whole expense of the burial in case it was not met by other donations. One woman, who has little for her own needs, offered 50 cents with the wish that it could be $50. Her son added his contribution to make an even dollar. Among the largest donations was that of $40.30 made by the waitresses of the American cafe.

BUYING JUNK.

We spend too much for foolish things, for things we do not need; for Alredale pups and piston rings, for idle tales to read. Tired Father draws his weekly wage, and says to wife and kin, "Since my pocket coin is all the rage, come, let us blow it in. I may be broke when I am gray, like other shiftless skates, but while I live no man can say that I have shied from traits, so, now, Miranda, don't you bid and children, come with me; along the village street we'll skid, and buy all things we see." Tired Father labors long and hard to earn the helpful cents; through weary days he renders hard, or fashions liver pads; through long hours he greases pigs for use at county fairs, or manufactures oakum wigs like that which grandpa wears. And when he draws his weekly pay, all stained with honest sweat, he should to wife and kindred say, "The bank's the one best bet. Just now you handed me some hints that you would shop-ping, but I must see your plans and prints before a cent you blow. I give you, wife, a silver dime; the children each a cent; there'll be no carnival of crime, no coin for doodsies spent. In yonder bank I'll place my roll, and when we're old, effrons, we will not freeze for lack of coin, or starve through dearth of prunes."

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Danger of Combustion.

The oily rags used in cleaning floors are a serious fire hazard and when not in use should be kept in a metal container. Safety first.

Cold Weather Cleaning.

When cleaning windows in cold weather add a dessert spoonful of salt to the water. This will prevent the glass from freezing and cracking.

An Unexpected Luncheon.

A nice luncheon that can be prepared from what is in the house consists of tuna fish, egg, gratin, baked potatoes, hot rolls, home made preserves and tea or chocolate.

Various Hints.

Ventilate the rooms in which you sleep and work.

The drier the cheese the better it is for use in cooking.

Manicuring scissors are excellent for cutting out scallops.

Plenty of orange and lemon juice is a great help when bilious.

Stockings will wear better if the darn is on the cross and not up and down.

Refrigerators should never be kept in the cellar as the damp air is ruinous to them.

THE FLORIDA GRAPEFRUIT AND ORANGES

Did come to yesterday, but not until late afternoon. To people not acquainted with Florida oranges, they do not look especially attractive, but people that know them do not buy for looks, they buy for the flavor, and the amount of juice. Even those that look green are full of sweet juice. The prices are very much lower, it is a pleasure to state.

ISLETA HIGHWAY COMPLETED FOR 7 MILES SOUTH

Federal Aid Project Half Done; Three Extra Miles to Be Laid South of Indian Pueblo.

Tourists, farmers south of the city and local motorists rejoiced yesterday. The paved federal aid road west of the river which has been under construction for the past six months was opened to traffic.

Seven miles of concrete highway wind like a white satin ribbon through some of the prettiest farming country the valley boasts, bringing communities as far south as Pajarito within 15 minutes of the city. The road is 16 feet wide with five-foot earth shoulders on either side.

The contract price for the project was $125,000, provided by the government and the state with no special cost to the adjoining land owners. Equipment valued at $12,000 and 200 head of stock were used in the construction. The concrete work was completed by an elaborate finisher which smoothed the concrete to proper contour and tamped it down.

The road follows the old road to Isleta running parallel to the river. It is completed as far as the Hubbell ranch at Pajarito. The remaining seven miles of the project on to the village of Isleta will be started early next year. The bids will probably be advertised for in February, according to W. T. Collins, project engineer of the state highway commission, who has been in charge of the work.

The present road will be lengthened to the extent of three miles through the pueblo of Isleta and beyond, under the recent appropriation for roads on Indian lands, said Mr. Collins, who sent in plans yesterday for the new road.

The Indian lands road north of Albuquerque will amount to 2 1/2 miles adjoining the south end of the Alameda pike. This, when completed, will place Albuquerque in the center of a continuous stretch of about 45 miles of paved highway, according to Mr. Collins.
