OWEN-VAN STONE CONTEST

Corporation Commission Gets Valuable Pointers from Oklahoma.

A state convention of Progressives has been called at Santa Fe on March 8, the same date as the Republican convention, and it is believed that at that time, any differences that have existed in the Republican party, will be compromised.

Hugh H. Williams, chairman of the state corporation commission, and George W. Armijo, clerk, were at their accustomed places in the office of the commission this morning. Both Mr. Williams and Mr. Armijo are enthusiastic in regard to the methods of public utilities commissions which they investigated in Topeka and Oklahoma City. The corporation commission of Oklahoma more nearly fits the conditions in New Mexico, Mr. Williams thinks.

"The commission of Oklahoma," is especially popular with the people of that state," he said. "So successful has it been in investigating public utilities of the state that they are able to render decisions which are acceptable to both the people and the corporations they control. In the rate department an expert rate man handles the cases in which the shipper and the railroad is interested and by exact figures determines whether a particular tariff is equitable or not."

"J. E. Love, chairman of the Oklahoma commission, told us that the powers given to the commission in New Mexico would enable it to perform satisfactory work, but that it would take some time to become efficient."

The names of the members of the Oklahoma corporation commission are: J. E. Love, chairman; A. P. Watson, and George A. Henshaw, members; J. H. Hyde, secretary.

While the Kansas public utilities commission does not so nearly fit the conditions in New Mexico, Mr. Williams says, yet it is more logical and its business is handled with great facility. The power of the Kansas commission is on so great as that of the Oklahoma department, however.

The members of the Kansas public utilities commission are: George Plumb, chairman; Frank J. Ryan and John White, members; E. H. Hogan, secretary.

In both states, the New Mexico representatives were treated with the greatest courtesy. In Oklahoma City, they were told that the members of the commission of that state would be glad to come to New Mexico and assist in organizing the work of the commission here.

Paying for the Election.
A letter from Congressman George Curry to Governor McDonald this morning told of a measure by the Congressman to make the unused funds of the $100,000 appropriated for the constitutional convention available to the state. The balance is something like $13,000. Governor McDonald has recommended that this money, if made available, be expended in paying the cost of the state election many of the registration and election officers being still unpaid.

ROOSEVELT HAS MANY CALLERS

He Seems the Most Popular and Busiest Man in the United States

ARE PLOTTING IN SECRECY

But It Appears Now That Platform Is Being Formulated Already.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
New York, Feb. 14.—Two of the men who have been active in supporting the political aspirations of Senator Robert M. La Follette today called on Colonel Theodore Roosevelt. They were Gifford Pinchot and Governor Johnson of California.

Oscar Straus, who was in Roosevelt's cabinet; Colonel D. C. Collier, of San Diego, California, and Seth Bullock, United States marshal of South Dakota, later joined in the conference.

Colonel Roosevelt's office was besieged with visitors. Among others was Colonel Wm. R. Nelson of the Kansas City Star. Several delegations brought Colonel Roosevelt invitations to a banquet, all of which have been or will be declined.

When the conference adjourned, more than an hour later, none who attended would discuss it. "I merely called to see the colonel," Mr. Pinchot said. "I cannot discuss politics. I have seen the colonel frequently in the past and hope to see him many times in the future. My visit to him this morning had no special significance. I cannot say more than this."

Governor Johnson left the conference a few minutes before it broke up. He had nothing to say.

After the conference, some of the callers said they had discussed the outline of a platform on which Colonel Roosevelt might stand provided circumstances so shaped themselves that he would become the progressive nominee for the presidency.

According to a statement made by D. C. Collier, Governor Johnson of California, who has supported Senator La Follette for the presidency, will go back to California and work for the nomination of Colonel Roosevelt. "Governor Johnson and myself never had worked together before," said Mr. Collier, "but we will be found working shoulder to shoulder for Roosevelt."

Roosevelt Convention in Nebraska.
Omaha, Neb., Feb. 14.—Declaring that the delegates to the Progressive Republican meeting at Lincoln last Monday night, which chose candidates for electors to go on the primary ballot, had not dealt fairly with the Roosevelt faction of that wing of the Republican party, John O. Weiser, of this city who headed the petition to place Colonel Roosevelt's name on the primary ballot, and who has been regarded as the leader of the movement in Nebraska, today issued a call for a state convention of Roosevelt supporters to be held in Omaha on February 22. It is proposed to select a complete ticket of Presidential electors and alternates to the Chicago convention to be voted for at the Republican primary.

COTTON SUDDENLY BREAKS.
A DOLLAR A BALE.
(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
New Orleans, La., Feb. 14.—The price of cotton broke suddenly a dollar a bale late in the session of the cotton exchange today. This apparently was due to "bar raiding," realizing of profits and heavy offering of contracts from the interior of the South.

FORTY-EIGHTH
STAR OF FLAG

Proclamation That Makes Arizona a State Issued by President

HUNT'S BOMBASTIC SPEECH

Charlatan or Demagogue, He Prates Sonorous Nothings to the People.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—As the White House clocks were striking 10, President Taft today signed the proclamation admitting Arizona to the Union. He used a gold pen which is to be given to Postmaster General Hitchcock.

"There you are," said the President as he signed the last document. In signing the proclamation, President Taft added the forty-eighth star to the flag, and brought within the sisterhood of states, the last bit of territory, except the District of Columbia, within the confines of continental United States.

Moving Picture Machines.
To perpetuate the scene, there were three moving picture machines in the President's office for the first time in history, and half dozen photographers lined up with them on either side of his desk. As he signed the proclamation and its duplicate and the other necessary papers, the click of shutters and the whirr of the picture machines marked time with the scratching of the pen.

The crowd in the office was unusually large even for such an event and included, besides officers of the new state and government officials, a score or more Arizona men who had traveled all the way to Washington.

Sloan to Be Federal Judge.
After the signing it was announced that the President would send the nomination of Richard E. Sloan, former governor of Arizona, to be United States District Judge for the new state, to the Senate.

Wild Outburst of Enthusiasm.
Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 14.—A flash by telegraph from Washington that President Taft had signed the proclamation of admission was the signal for a wild outburst of enthusiasm from thousands of citizens of the new state, who gathered at the capital for the inaugural. The plea of Governor Hunt for a quick, quiet ceremony was forgotten. The air was rent by wild shouts and yells, the shrieking of whistles, and the heavy report of bombs.

Governor of Indiana at Inauguration.
Governor Thomas F. Marshall of Indiana arrived today to attend the inaugural. He was on the stand with Governor Hunt when Chief Justice Keam administered the oath of office.

Bryan Also There.
William Jennings Bryan, who came to the Capital with Governor Hunt yesterday, remained in seclusion until after the parade insisted on by the citizens, when he delivered an address to 5,000 or more persons in the city hall plaza.

Taft Sends Congratulations.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—President Taft today sent the following telegram to Territorial Governor Sloan: "I have this morning signed the proclamation declaring Arizona to be a state of the Union. I congratulate the people of this, our newest commonwealth, upon the realization of their long cherished ambition. Best wishes to the retiring and the incoming officials."

Sloan Like Pope Will Be Fought.
Confirmation of Governor Sloan's nomination as judge will be fought by Democratic senators, it is said on complaint of Arizona Democrats, who claim that the governor was not in sympathy with the Arizona constitution, and especially opposed the recall of judges.

Jeffersonian Simplicity.
Phoenix, Arizona, February 14.—With western simplicity, known elsewhere in matters official as "Jeffersonian," George W. P. Hunt was inaugurated as the first state governor of Arizona today. A few hours earlier in the day, word had come by telegram from Washington that President Taft had signed the proclamation admitting Arizona, the last of the territories on the contiguous soil and the forty-eighth state.

No Military Display.
In the ceremonies attendant upon the birth of the state and the induction into office of its first executive, the military was conspicuous by its absence, for the new governor is averse to ostentation. There was but a meager display of even silk hats and frock coats, which invaded Arizona only a few years ago.

Began Life as a Waiter.
Accompanied by a number of the newly elected state officers and a few close friends, Governor Hunt, who began life as a waiter in a small mining camp restaurant at Globe, walked to the Capitol, which stands just about a mile from the center of the city, out broad Washington street between unbroken lines of palms. When the governor and his escort arrived, the lawn and flower-lined walks of the Capitol grounds were crowded with cheering Arizonians, the majority of whom will cast their Borah Will Fight Herrick's Confirmation.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—The Senate committee on foreign relations today decided to report favorably the nomination of Myron T. Herrick of Ohio, to be American ambassador to France. A progressive senator who has taken exception to remarks attributed to Mr. Herrick, which he regards as a slur on Senator La Follette, probably will fight confirmation on the Senate floor. Senator Borah of Idaho today formally reserved the right to do so.

Employees Wanted to Work Twelve Hours.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—Percival Roberts, a director in the United States steel corporation, today told the House "steel trust" investigating committee today that the employees of the corporation labored twelve hours a day in the mills because they wanted to do so.

Mr. Roberts declared that the corporation "had done more to better the conditions of steel workers than the combined efforts of the employees themselves, in the entire nineteenth century."

DEPARTMENT OFFICIALS HELPED ELECT DEMOCRATS.
Pernicious Political Activity Revealed in Department of Agriculture.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—The House inquiry into the Florida Everglades was enlivened today by testimony that the Department of Agriculture in times past had sent some of its experts on campaign tours, with Congressmen seeking reelection.

J. O. Wright, formerly in the department but now chief drainage engineer of Florida, said that in 1908 he was detailed to accompany Representative John H. Small of North Carolina, Democrat, to Washington, North Carolina, during a campaign.

Four other agricultural department employees, he said, went along. Mr. Wright said, Other candidates he had helped, he said, were Representative Goodwin and Representative Thomas of North Carolina, and Representative Ransdell of Louisiana.

Yuan Shi Kai is expected to reach Nanjing within four days. President Sun's determination to resign is the result of popular clamor for Yuan Shi Kai, whose election to the presidency, Dr. Sun is said to favor.

Nanking, Feb. 14.—The National Assembly caucus has decided to elect Yuan Shi Kai, president of the Chinese republic on February 15.

REBELS INVADE
NEW MEXICO

The Insurrectos Are Pillaging Bailey's Ranch South of Columbus

CONSUL EDWARDS PROTESTS

The Mormons In Casas Grandes District Will Not Surrender Their Arms.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—Troops have been asked for by the proprietor of Bailey's ranch, which crosses the Mexican border near Columbus, Luna county, New Mexico. Mexican rebels are reported pillaging the ranch just south of the line. Troops have been sent but their journey involves three days' travel over 90 miles of sand.

Mormons Will Not Surrender Arms.
El Paso, Texas, Feb. 14.—American Consul Edwards in Juarez protested today to Enrique Portillo, commanding the rebels in the Casas Grandes district, against recent demands made upon Mormon colonists for their arms. Consul Edwards informed the rebel commander that their arms were the only protection the Mormons now have and they would not surrender them.

So far as authorities in Juarez know, Casas Grandes and vicinity are still in rebel hands, regardless of telegrams from Mexico City that Orozco has effected a compromise with them. No attempt is being made to reopen the Mexico Northwestern railroad by re-building bridges.

Serious Situation.
Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—Fifteen armed Mexicans are camped on Bailey's Ranch, but have made no attempt to cross the line. One hundred revolutionists are reported coming northward from Palomas.

While reports received from northern Mexico indicate an improvement in conditions there, the situation in other parts apparently is becoming more serious.

Foreigners are reported leaving Torreon and Matamoros. The Taner mine at Valeriana has been sacked.

The federal troops in Durango state are not believed to be able to hold the upper hand in dealing with the rebel movement there which is assuming serious proportions.

Mining Company Robbed.
Torreon, Mex., Feb. 14.—The robbery of the Penoles Mining Company at Mapimi, Durango, reported yesterday, is confirmed today. A large force of Vasquistas attacked the town and robbed the offices of the Penoles Mining Company, where they secured 1,000 pesos.

Valerdi, forty-five miles southeast of Torreon, was occupied today by the rebels without resistance. The rebels refuse to permit the railroad company to repair the damaged bridges. Many rebels surround Torreon, which is guarded by 600 federal troops. Many refugee American women and children have reached here from Valeriana but can get no further. An attack on the city by the rebels at any moment would cause no surprise.

Two Bloody Battles.
Cuernavaca, Mex., Feb. 14.—Federal troops defeated a force of Zapatistas near Santa Maria, six miles north of here last night. The federals lost five killed and six wounded. A report has been received that the federals have been defeated with considerable loss near Jolita.

No German Cruiser Sent.
Berlin, Feb. 14.—The German foreign office denied today that the German cruiser Bremen has been ordered to Mexico. According to official dispatches from Mexico, the killing of E. Hans Anglemann, a German ranch owner at El Porvenir in Mexico, was an ordinary crime committed by one of his servants and was not connected with politics.

Devils' Lake, N. Dak., Feb. 14.—Two persons were fatally injured, 14 were seriously injured, a score received minor injuries in the wreck of train No. 2, the Great Northern's Oriental Limited, two miles east of Doyon, N. Dak., last night. The fatally injured are Engineer W. E. Prindle and As the flyer struck a curve at 50 miles an hour, spreading rails, it is said, threw the engine and tender from the rails. The ten cars followed and all but the observation car and two rear sleepers plunged, rolling down the steep embankment.

GATHERED IN FEDERAL NET
Most Sweeping Action in Arrests Ever Made by U. S. Government

THE DYNAMITE CONSPIRACY
Accused of Carrying Explosives in Hand Bags on Passenger Trains.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 14.—By what was said to be the most sweeping federal action of its kind ever undertaken, the United States government within a few hours arrested a majority of the 54 men indicted for alleged complicity in a nation wide dynamite conspiracy in operation for six years.

At their head was Frank M. Ryan, president of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers. Many other officers, including Herbert S. Hockin, second vice president, and successor, as the union's secretary-treasurer, to J. J. McNamara, the convicted dynamiter, were arrested in Indianapolis. Reports from all over the country also showed that five of the seven iron workers executive board members and a half dozen or more members were taken into custody.

Carried Dynamite on Passenger Trains.
These officials and their co-defendants, are charged with violation of the federal statutes regulating interstate shipment of explosives, which resulted from the activities of the McNamara and McManis "dynamiting crew" who carried dynamite and nitroglycerine about the country on passenger trains. All the defendants are charged with conspiracy to further the series of one hundred explosions which were directed by labor union officials against iron and steel contractors and employers of non-union labor. The explosions caused the destruction of bridges, viaducts, and buildings, and the wrecking of the Los Angeles Times building was an incident of the series.

Many Arrests Made.
By noon 30 arrests had been made. The most important move by the defendants on their arrest was to procure bond for their appearance on March 12. In some instances, the bond was fixed at $10,000 and in the aggregate the bonds required, it was said, would exceed $300,000. Ryan and Hockin each gave $10,000 bond, and were released. John T. Butler, of Buffalo, N. Y., first vice president of the Iron Workers, arrested here also was released on bond.

Crisis of Ryan's Life.
On advice of counsel, Ryan, Hockin and Butler declined to make a statement until they had an opportunity to confer.

"Mr. Ryan, who is 52 years old, is under a severe nervous strain, and in no condition to talk of his arrest," said Newton M. Harding, attorney for the iron workers. "This is the crisis of his life. When he becomes calmer, I may permit him to issue a formal statement."

List of Arrests.
Of the arrests, the following were made public:
Chicago—R. H. Houdlin, financial secretary local iron workers union; James Cooney and William Schoupe, business agents; James Coughlin.
Syracuse, N. Y.—E. E. Phillips, ex-secretary iron workers international union, and John Carroll, his successor.

THRONE SPEECH IS COLORLESS

King George Does Not Even Make Veiled Reference to Germany

EQUAL SUFFRAGE IS IGNORED

House of Commons Got Down to Business at Four O'clock This Afternoon.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
London, Feb. 14.—The second session of the second parliament of King George's reign was opened today by the king in person, with all the time-honored picturesque ceremony. The speech from the throne, which had been anticipated with interest, was a disappointment because of the colorless tone of references to epoch making legislation mapped out by the government.

No mention was made of relations with Germany, nor was there any allusion to Viscount Haldane's recent trip to Berlin. He also briefly referred to the widespread labor unrest.

No intimation was given as to the magnitude of the coming naval estimates and the suffragettes were not even mentioned.

The House of Commons began business at 4 o'clock this afternoon with the debate on the address in reply to the speech from the throne. It is expected the discussion will last until the end of next week.

It is still doubtful if it will be possible to introduce either the home rule or the Welsh disestablishment bill before Easter.

SNEED TELLS SORDID STORY ON STAND.
Appearance of His Little Daughter Kept Him From Killing Wife and Himself.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Fort Worth, Texas, Feb. 14.—"I first discovered something was wrong in my family on Friday, October 13," began John B. Sneed today, after he had taken the stand to defend himself against the charge of murdering Captain A. G. Boyce.

Sneed began his story with the development of his wife and Captain Boyce's son. He told of pursuit for the couple, then of the killing of Captain Boyce, in a local hotel. He was the concluding witness in his own behalf.

An effort will be made by the prosecution to introduce the testimony of G. C. Throckmorton at the Sneed habeas corpus proceeding. Throckmorton died soon after the trial began. At the habeas corpus hearing he testified that Sneed, after shooting Boyce, said, "Now you're done for; you're out of it."

Sneed told of the infatuation of his wife for Al Boyce, with whom she eloped to Canada. He said Mrs. Sneed spent much time at the Boyce home at one time, when there was illness in the family and that Al Boyce he said, occasionally visited at the Sneed home.

The witness told of going home one day at noon and finding Boyce standing by the side of the bed where Mrs. Sneed lay ill. Sneed told of his wife's admitting her love for Boyce.

"She said she had decided to go to South America with him and to take the children," Sneed said. "She said he wanted her to go without saying anything to me but she decided to tell me, saying, 'I know you would let me go.' She said she wanted to take one of the children."

Sneed declared on one occasion the sudden appearance of his little daughter had kept him from carrying out an impulse to kill his wife and himself. Mrs. Sneed, he said had told him about wanting to go away with Boyce. Sneed said his wife convinced him there had been no illicit intimacy.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Phoenix, Ariz., Feb. 14.—The Salt River Valley Water Users' Association decided today to ask the government to extend for ten or twenty years the time payment of the nine million dollars due on the Roosevelt Dam.

As the law creating the big irrigation project now stands, payment on this huge sum must begin this year. John Orme, president of the Water Users' Association, and Dan Jones, president of the Executive Council of the same organization, will leave here tomorrow night for Washington, where they will endeavor to have the law amended giving the additional time.

THE OUTLAW

By Charles Badger Clark, Jr.
When my loop takes hold on a two-year-old,
By the feet or the neck or the horn,
He can plunge and fight till his eyes
go white,
But I'll throw him as sure as you're born.
Tho' the taut rope sing like a banjo string
And the latigoes creak and strain,
Yet I've got no fear of an outlaw steer
And I'll tumble on the plain.

For a man is a man and a steer is a beast,
And the man is the boss of the herd;
And each of the bunch, from the biggest to least,
Must come down when he says the word.

When my legs swing cross on an outlaw hawse
And my spurs cinch into his hide,
He can r'ar and pitch over hill and ditch,
But wherever he goes I'll ride.
Let him spin and flop like a crazy top,
Or flit like a wind-whipped smoke,
But he'll know the feel of my rowelled heel
Till he's happy to own he's broke.

For a man is a man and a hawse is a brute,
And the hawse may be prince of his clan,
But he'll bow to the bit and the steel-shod boot
And own that his boss is the man.

When the devil at rest underneath my vest
Gets up and begins to paw,
And my hot tongue strains at its bridle-reins,
Then I tackle the real outlaw:
When I get plumb riled and my sense goes wild,
And my temper has fractious growed,
If he'll bump his neck just a triffin'
speck,
Then it's dollars to dimes I'm thrown.

For a man is a man, but he's partly a beast—
He can brag till he makes you deaf.
But the one lone brute, from the West to the East,
That he can't quite break is himself.

arm broken and his side bruised. He was taken to the company hospital where he is expected to recover.

Railroad Damage Case Settled.
The suit of Frank McKee, administrator, against the Santa Fe railroad for $5,000 damages for the killing of James Englehart, was settled at Albuquerque by the company paying $2,500. Englehart had been killed at Laguna.

Child Burned to Death.
Three year old Maria Apolonia Gutierrez was fatally burned at Albuquerque yesterday while playing with matches. Only a week ago, a sister of the child, died of pneumonia. Both children were daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Santiago Gutierrez.

Las Vegas Residence in Flames.
Ignited by the flame of a fumigating candle, the property of C. W. Sum-merlin on eighth street at Las Vegas, including a house and barn, was completely destroyed by fire yesterday.
The loss is $18,000 and the insurance $130.

Alimony Ordered Paid.
During the pendency of the suit of Adelaida M. de Arias versus Jose P. y Arias, the court at Albuquerque ordered the defendant to pay the plaintiff twenty dollars per month and attorney's fees to the amount of $100.
The plaintiff asks for a divorce.

Will Fly on Sunday.
After working for a full year, six days each week, on the construction of a monoplane of the Blériot type, A.
F. Beaudette, of Albuquerque, has finally finished the machine and will attempt a trial flight on the mesa near the University either Sunday or one day next week.

Deadly Quarrel Over Strange Woman.
The body of James McQuillan, 25, a farm hand, who had lived in Vineland, twelve miles east of Pueblo, Colorado, for many years, was found in an alley back of the Victoria hotel at Pueblo.
The tragedy is thought to have been the result of a quarrel between Mc-Quillan and another man over a woman.

Three Deaths at Las Vegas.
Gilbert McWhirter, after an illness of three weeks, died in the Las Vegas hospital. McWhirter came to Las Vegas about five years ago for his health. He was a native of Canada, and was born about 50 years ago.
From Canada McWhirter went to North Dakota and from there to Chicago where he entered the McCormick Seminary to study for the Presbyterian ministry. Dorothy Fern, the infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs.
Marion Stewart, died at Las Vegas after an illness of four weeks. The child was one year, eight months and 12 days old. J. Roy Eagle died at Las Vegas at the home of his father-in-law, Perry McDonald, after an illness of about two months. Eagle was 27 years old and was a native of Chicago.

He came to New Mexico about three years ago, settling on a homestead near Wagon Mound. He was taken ill two months ago and was brought from his ranch to Las Vegas.

Want to Increase Speed Limit.
A number of enthusiastic motorists in Albuquerque will appear before the city council in a body on next Monday night and respectfully ask the aldermen to increase the speed limit for automobiles within the city limits.
The present maximum speed which automobiles are permitted to use in traveling about town is eight miles an hour.

Same in Santa Fe.
One of the two great problems that Denver has to face, according to the Rev. L. A. Humbert of the People's tabernacle, who addressed the United Charities is that of infant mortality.
The other one is the tuberculosis problem. Dr. Humbert says that during the first year of his pastorate here he carefully investigated conditions, and found that in one year 347 babies between the ages of 1 day and 1 year died.

Finds Refuge in Convent.
"Every woman should have some vocation to which she is willing to consecrate her life. Matrimony, as it exists today, offers no strong induc-ments to a woman who wishes to accomplish definite good in the world.
If a girl does not regard matrimony, the rearing of children, the making of a home, as her future, she can find her true vocation behind convent walls. Too many single women working at different professions, struggling along in the economic battle, are losing the real purpose of life." These are the sentiments of Miss Marie Synder, the talented and attractive young Denver school teacher, who left for the Sisters of Loretto convent in Kentucky. Miss Snyder who, for six years has been a teacher in the Alcott school, and who is possessed of a brilliant education, is a young woman of personal charm and accomplishment.
She is a splendid musician and linguist, a traveler into foreign lands, where she has acquired culture in the homes of art and history. She has gazed upon life with wide open, intelligent eyes, and yet she left all behind her yesterday when she boarded the train and departed for the Loretto convent to enter upon her novitiate.

Lawlessness in El Paso.
The Juarez races, with their following of race track touts, have brought a wave of crime to El Paso.
The El Paso Herald publishes the following crimes reported on Sunday:
Burglaries, holdups and assaults were numerous in El Paso from Saturday night until Monday. Among the burglaries reported was a home robbed, a store entered, and a hotel guest relieved of $340. A saloon man was held up and robbed, a man was stabbed in the back and a soldier arrested following a shooting affair.
The Liberty store, at 600 South El Paso street, was broken into Sunday night, but the burglars were evidently scared away before they could secure any plunder. Jose Chavez reported to the police Sunday, that he had been robbed of $340 which he had in his pillow in his room in the California hotel on Fourth and El Paso streets. Burglars entered the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Dean, at 1205 North El Paso street, Saturday evening between 7 and 9 o'clock and secured $15 in money and jewelry valued at about $700. Nicholas Beck, proprietor of a saloon at 919 South El Paso street, was assaulted and robbed of his watch at the rear of his saloon shortly after midnight Saturday. Pablo Alvarez was stabbed in the back while standing at the corner of Santa Fe and 10th streets Sunday evening at 5:30. He was taken to the police station and then removed to the county hospital, where his chances for recovery are reported slim.
Private Wyatt of the fourth cavalry is being held by the authorities at Fort Bliss, pending the investigation of a shooting affair which occurred Saturday night at 11:35 at the corner of Second and El Paso streets. Policeman Kinman heard a shot and saw a soldier fire into the air. He and Policeman Duchene went to arrest the man and the latter fired at Duchene and escaped by running south on El Paso street. Wyatt was taken into custody because his face was bloody.
Santa Barrios is held at the police station on request of Las Cruces officers who say that the man is wanted there in connection with the theft

ANNUAL MEETING OF MOUNTAIN STATES COMPANY.

Seven Per Cent Dividend Earned
And a New Directorate is Elected. Brief Annual Report.

Denver, Colo., Feb. 14.—The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Mountain States Telephone and Telegraph Company was held at the offices of the company, in this city, yesterday afternoon, and the annual report of President E. B. Field was made public after the meeting. The report is unusual in its brevity. Mr.
Field however called attention to the report made at the time of the formation of the Mountain States Company by the merging of three Bell companies at which time he entered very fully into the conditions of the companies involved. Sometime later he issued another special address to the shareholders, advising them of the progress made by the new company, and of its financial condition.
An extended report at this time, therefore, he said would simply mean a repetition of what had previously been announced. The report, however, seems to show that the company is in a healthy condition financially and that it is progressive in the matter of developing its territory which covers the Mountain States from Canada to the Rio Grande. The company has earned the seven per cent dividend promised to the shareholders, and the balance sheet would indicate that the earnings are not disproportionate to the operating expenses. There were some changes made in the directorate which is now made up as follows: E. B. Field, E. B.
Field, Jr., Philip Hamlin, Crawford
Hill, A. V. Hunter, E. S. Kassler, and
Lawrence C. Phillips, Jr., of Denver; Theo. N. Vail and U. N. Bethel of New York; W. L. Graham of Pueblo, and W. S. McCormick, of Salt Lake City.

No Change in Weather.—The ideal sunny, mild spring days that have prevailed since beginning of the year, are unbroken and the weather bureau predicts they will remain unbroken as far as they can prognosticate. Yesterday the maximum shade temperature was forty-two degrees, sun temperature seventy-one degrees.
The minimum last night was twenty-one degrees.

There is more Catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and until the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable.
Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment.
Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by F. J. Cheney & Co., Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful.
It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They of-

HOW TO MEASURE

A RIVER'S FLOW.

Simple Method Described for Determining the Volume of Any Stream.

The United States Geological Survey frequently receives letters inquiring for some simple method of determining the approximate flow of streams or small rivers. It is believed that the following instructions may be of some value to those who for any reason wish to determine the velocity or volume of a stream.

To ascertain the velocity of the stream choose a place where the channel is straight for 100 to 200 feet and has a nearly constant width and depth; lay off on the bank a line 50 or 100 feet in length, marking each end; then allow small chips to float down the stream, by one of the methods described below, noting the time required for these to traverse the distance laid off on the bank. The surface velocity in feet per second is obtained by dividing the distance in feet passed over by the float by the time in seconds it takes the float to travel this distance. The average of several such determinations will give the mean surface velocity of the stream. This result multiplied by the coefficient 0.80 gives very nearly the mean velocity of the stream.

To obtain the area of the cross section of the stream, stretch a tape from shore to shore and take the depth of the stream at intervals of 2 to 5 feet. The average of these depths may be assumed as the mean depth of the stream. This average multiplied by the total width will give the area of the cross section of the stream in square feet.

The discharge is found by multiplying this cross-section area by the mean velocity, as obtained by the float measurements, the result giving the discharge in second-feet, or, in other words, the number of cubic feet flowing past the point of measurement each second.

In determining the velocity for small streams and when only approximate results are desired the float is placed in the center of the stream only. For larger streams and when greater accuracy is desired a tape is stretched across the stream and the distance between the banks is divided into a number of equal spaces or sections. Floats are then allowed to drift down the stream as near as possible in the center of each of these spaces, the same number of floats being used for each section. The mean surface velocity is then assumed to be the mean of the surface velocities obtained for the several sections. For each float the distance of its starting point from the right bank is recorded as indicated.

PRINCE NAMED SUNSHINE STATE

It Was He Who First Suggested Popular Cognomen for New Mexico

CAPT. JACK CRAWFORD'S POEM

It Advertised the Name Widely During Chicago World's Fair.

Now that New Mexico is really a State, and its pet name of "The Sunshine State" has been universally adopted, without any suggestion of interest to know something of the origin of that designation. In order to ascertain with accuracy regarding this, a representative of the New Mexican called on Hon. L. Bradford Prince, who is always credited with being the originator of the pet name.

An inquiry on the subject brought the governor to a reminiscent mood.

"Oh, yes," he said, "I remember very well when the name was first suggested. It was while I was governor, in the fall of 1891. At that time there was a volume annually published in Boston called 'King's Handbook of the United States' which was a kind of gazetteer containing a good deal of historical as well as geographical information with regard to each of the States of the Union, and was to be found in almost every library. It was edited with great care, and about that time I received a request for a number of items of information regarding the progress of New Mexico, in order to make it entirely up to date. After these had been sent, there came a second communication saying that in all cases they mentioned the pet name by which the States were called and that they had them all with the exception of that of New Mexico, and would be glad to know what name had been adopted or generally used for it. They mentioned a long list of such names beginning with the 'Pine-tree state' for Maine, the 'Granite state' for New Hampshire, the 'Green Mountain state' for Vermont, the 'Bay state' for Massachusetts, the 'Nutmeg state' for Connecticut, the 'Empire state' for New York, and so forth, and wished for the similar appellation for New Mexico. The letter came from Mr. N. F. Sweetzer, who was the editor of the book, and seemed to take particular interest in this subject. I answered that New Mexico being a Territory, had not yet received any particular pet name, but I suggested that the most appropriate one that could be adopted and which I thought would be generally satisfactory was 'The Sunshine State.'

"This was accepted by Mr. Sweetzer, and the handbook when it appeared gave this as the pet name for New Mexico. The substance of the correspondence was soon published in the papers of the Territory and the name was fortunate enough to be received with universal acceptance and approbation.

It was not a great while afterwards when at the Columbian Exposition at Chicago we celebrated New Mexico Day, by fitting ceremonies and a general distribution of the splendid fruit of the Territory. Addresses were made by distinguished citizens and one of the special features of the occasion was a poem composed and recited by Captain Jack Crawford, entitled, 'The Sunshine State.' I have a copy filed away, and I am quite sure that there is one among the pamphlets belonging to the Historical Society."

Following this suggestion, the Historical Library was visited and the printed poem found and headed,

"THE SUNSHINE STATE."

(By Captain Jack Crawford, "The Poet Scout.")

Dedicated to Hon. L. Bradford Prince, Godfather of New Mexico, as "The Sunshine State," and first read on New Mexico Day at the World's Fair, Sept. 16th, 1893.

I often think when God created earth, He closed His labors in the far Southwest,

And there His mind omnipotent gave birth

To beauties which of all His works were best.

His wondrous handiwork He else where tried,

Each new achievement was a glad surprise,

But left His masterpiece, His greatest pride,

To build beneath His brightest, sunniest skies.

Great mountain chains whose summits pierce the clouds,

Bristling with pines and carpeted with flowers,

Their bold peaks ever wrapped in snowy shrouds,

On which the sunshine falls in mellow showers,

Bright streams of crystal purity, which flow,

With rippling melody through canyons deep,

And with their tinkling music, soft and low,

At eventide lull Nature into sleep.

Broad plains of grassy loveliness, o'er which,

Stock-coated cattle roam and feed at will,

While Nature's brightest floral gems enrich,

The ever verdant breast of plain and hill.

Broad streams whose smiling faces catch the bright

And silvery sunshine as it down-draws drifts,

And laughs it back unto the God of light

In gleaming thankfulness of all His gifts.

Deep in the mountains' rock-enclosed sides,

Placed there by hand divine when earth was young,

An untold wealth of precious metal hides,

Waiting the gleaming pick by miner swung,

Lies in its virgin purity and waits

The dawning of the not far distant day

When man's great energy shall open the gates

And thrill the universe with its display.

Slowly but surely, with unceasing tread,

The march of progress seeks that sunny land—

By pioneers of countless spirit led,

The gathering hosts sweep in on every hand,

From out the sleep of centuries ago,

The wide-spread West is roused to active life,

And stands proud and resplendent in the dawn

Of peace which crowns the close of savage strife.

Her sunny skies ne'er wore a brighter face

Than that which smiles a welcome unto those

Who 'neath them seek for an abiding place,

Where icy breath of winter never blows,

Her breezes never kissed with balmy touch

The cheeks of pilgrims from the sultry East,

Who from the stern, impoverishing clutch

Of overcrowded states have been released.

New Mexico, the brightest, fairest gem

That ever cast a radiance from the crest

Of Nature's proudest, loveliest diadem,

Which rests upon the bold brow of the West,

Shines in that crown as radiant guiding star,

As beacon light from Nature's mountain domes,

And lends the cream of earth from lands afar,

To sweet prosperity in peaceful homes.

O fair land, bathed in ever-changing tints

Which naught but hand of heaven can create,

Well wert thou christened by our honored Prince

With that bright name of names, "The Sunshine State."

Beyond the reach of Winter's outstretched arm,

A land of cloudless days and starlit nights,

Where breezes soft the sleeping senses charm.

Thy children love thee with a love as deep

As ever welled from happy, grateful breasts—

They love the broad and grassy vales which sleep

In emerald beauty 'neath thy towering crests,

They love thy bright-winged song-birds, whose sweet notes

Arise in songs of thankfulness at morn,

And speed in liquid music from their throats

O'er billowy plains and hills by canyons torn.

They love the breath of health thy soft winds bear

To bring the flush of life to faded cheeks,

Which drives disease back to its gruesome lair,

And word of hope to every sufferer speaks.

They love thy old traditions, handed down

Through lapse of years from ancient Aztec days,

When swarthy chieftains struggled for the crown

Which now 'neath freedom's feet in fragments lays.

Thy future, mind of man can never trace,

His rising sun is dazzling to the eye,

On flashing wings thou'rt soaring to a place

Upon the citadel of honor high.

Soon will thy plains and lofty mountains teen

With men whose tireless hands will shape thy fate,

And on the roster of the earth supreme

Engrave thy honored name, O' Sunshine State.

Deputy District Clerk.

Upon today gaining his majority Wily Parsons was appointed deputy district clerk of the fifth judicial district, by County Clerk R. F. Ballard. —Roswell Record.

Eddy County Republicans.

The Republican party of Eddy county will hold a convention in Carlsbad, Saturday February 17, for the purpose of electing five delegates to the State Republican convention to be held in Santa Fe, March 8.

Luna and Fall.

A number of other papers are commenting favorably upon the candidacy of these two gentlemen and no paper, Democratic or Republican, has opposed them.

The facts are that no two stronger men could be elected to the Senate from New Mexico than Judge Fall and Mr. Luna, and if the legislature listens to the demand of the public and has the best interests of the new state at heart they will be the choice on the first ballot.

There are a number of men who are in the field for these high positions and there is no disposition to belittle their claims, but both Mr. Luna and Judge Fall are so popularly advocated in all parts of the state and among all of the citizens, that it is likely there will be no serious opposition to them.—Albuquerque Herald.

Peripatetic Federal Court.

Congressman George Curry's proposed legislation, by which the United States court will be held at several different places in the district which covers the whole state, has nothing of a novel character. It may be said that in nearly all the judicial districts of the country, provision is made by congress for holding court in several different places. For instance, in Iowa, there are two districts, the northern and the southern, each of which is divided in three divisions, with court to be held at three different named places. The state which is nearest to New Mexico in population, although somewhat less in area, is Idaho. It has only 84,500 square miles. Its population by the census of 1910, was 325,594, while New Mexico had a population of 327,296. In 1900 Idaho had much less than 200,000 of population. Idaho was admitted to the union in 1890, with a population of 88,548, and the whole state, by the enabling act, was made one judicial district, just as New Mexico now is. In 1892, the state was divided into three divisions, to be known as the northern, central and southern divisions, with five, seven and six counties in the respective divisions, from which it appears that at that time the state had only eighteen counties. In 1898 congress passed another act to the same effect, showing that there were twenty-one counties then in the state, the court to be held at Moscow, Boise City and Pocatello. In the several divisions, New Mexico has twenty-six counties. Even in the state of Wyoming, with only thirteen counties, a population of 145,965, and an area of 97,800 square miles, terms of United States court are held at Cheyenne, Evans, Lander and Albuquerque Journal.

Floyd C. Field Has a Lot of Favorites.

Who will be New Mexico's United States senators, is a question which is agitating the minds of many citizens of the state. With the large majority in the state legislature, they undoubtedly hold the key to the situation.

A few among the Democrats would have us believe that a coalition with the Republicans might in some way elect a Democrat as one of the United States senators. But that is probably among the impossibilities, and we feel certain that two Republicans will be sent to the United States senate.

The state of New Mexico has able men who have the ability to represent our great state at Washington D. C. The old war horse of Republicanism T. B. Catron, is recognized as being one of the intellectual giants of our state. His initiative versatility, his boldness in expressing his opinion where the occasion demands (even though the idea may be unpopular) command the respect even among those who cannot always accept the tenability of his arguments. No man at the constitutional convention demonstrated greater mind activity, or brain power in discussing the many problems which were presented for consideration. If sent to Washington, he would be a power in the United States senate, and New Mexico would be well represented.

Sol Luna is one of New Mexico's favorite sons and if he would accept the honorable position, he would not doubt be elected and well represent New Mexico in the United States senate.

Andrews' name is worthy of consideration. He has labored faithfully for New Mexico and statehood, and many think he has earned the honored position.

O. A. Larrazolo is one of the strong men of New Mexico, and no doubt is one of the ablest of the Spanish American citizens. He is a man of large intellectual capacity possessing great argumentative skill and is admitted by all as being one of the most eloquent speakers of the great southwest. No one doubts that if elected U. S. senator from New Mexico, but that he would creditably fill the position. His recent coming into the Republican party, may well be used against him, but it is conceded by all that if he had remained in the Democratic party, he would have been nominated and elected governor and that fact demonstrates that his reason for uniting with the Republican party was from an unselfish motive, viz. that the Republican party of New Mexico was the party most interested in the welfare of his people, by giving them equal rights. With Sol Luna refusing to be a candidate, Larrazolo will be a formidable candidate for the high honor.

Governor Mills is well known over the state, and as judge and governor he has made good. He has also labored hard for the best interests of New Mexico and no governor ever made a better record than William J. Mills and many would rejoice to see him elected one of the U. S. senators of the State of New Mexico.

A. B. Fall the silver-tongued orator of the great southwest has a strong hold upon the people of New Mexico. The Spanish Americans as a whole are rallying to his support. He is a born leader, a diplomat possessing that magnetic power

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

THREE YEARS OF TAFT.

Arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France aimed at war have been negotiated and are now before the Senate. Similar negotiations with other powers are pending.

Great trusts have been made to feel that the statutes carry penalties for them as well as for the small trusts, and for the individual violator of the law. An era of calm enforcement of existing law has been inaugurated. The sugar corporation was convicted, proceedings brought against the Steel corporation, and the coal, whiskey, lumber and beef corporations brought to court. More than two score prosecutions are pending. The Standard Oil and Tobacco cases have been completed and an interpretation of the Sherman law, many years in doubt, obtained.

When a Democratic House threatened to involve the United States with Russia in a too hasty annulment of the passport treaty, President Taft assumed the weight of responsibility, and declared, in diplomatic form, that the treaty would be abrogated upon the notice of one year, which it required.

Scientific tariff revision has been put in place of political giving and taking in such legislation. A tariff board has been created and its investigations have brought a recommendation from the President for a revision and reduction of the woolen schedule. Other schedules are under scrutiny preparatory to further recommendations, if they be found to conflict with Republican platform principle, and his policy looking to future revision on a scientific schedule by schedule revision, has become effective. The tariff bill, regarded by President Taft as a step in the right direction, even though not a perfect measure, has turned a $55,000,000 deficit into a $30,000,000 surplus. Wool, cotton and so-called farmer's free list bills, originating in a Democratic House, have been vetoed because they violated the principle of the Republican platform, that revision of the tariff should be based upon the difference in the cost of production at home and abroad—a difference upon which information at that time was lacking.

The Panama canal has been brought to a stage approaching completion, and the date of opening advanced by several months through systematic work.

The Arizona statehood bill was vetoed because it provided for the recall of judges. New Mexico has now been admitted as a state and Arizona follows today.

The postoffice department has been placed upon a self-sustaining basis. A difficult situation resulting from the revolution in Mexico, arousing deep feeling in the southern portions of the United States, was handled with diplomacy and tact, and the United States, aided in the establishment of law and order in the neighboring republic through preserving it in our own.

The treasury agents and customs employees have been reorganized, fraud has been weeded out of the customs service, and many thousands of dollars lost under fraudulent importations have been recovered.

A bureau of mines has been created. Steps have been taken toward a new employers' liability and workmen's compensation act and the adoption of additional safety appliances on railroads.

A new policy as to river and harbor appropriations has been begun, the old "pork barrel" appropriation system abandoned, and the business policy of continuing contracts adopted.

Reciprocity with Canada was offered, brought to a successful conclusion in the United States, and failed because Canada evidently thought the agreement gave us the advantage.

A treaty with Japan has been negotiated bringing about genuine friendship between her and the United States.

New treaties with Honduras and Nicaragua, that will make for permanent peace in those countries, have been negotiated and await action by the Senate.

Postal banks have been established. Rigid economy has been instituted in the government departments. A court of customs appeals has been created.

A stock and bond commission has been appointed and has made a valuable and exhaustive report.

Parcels post has been recommended.

Judicial appointments have been taken out of politics.

The 13th census was made non-political.

President Taft has declared for the extension of the civil service, accomplishing much in this direction by executive order.

The passage of a corporation tax law, yielding thirty millions annually, has been obtained with the resultant surveillance of corporate activities.

The question of an income tax amendment to the constitution has been submitted to the states.

The President has provided for the accomplishment of conservation policies, and obtained a bond issue for irrigation projects; obtained legislation further extending the power of the Interstate Commerce Commission, and creating a Court of Commerce to review the commission's findings; championed the matter of civil pensions for superannuated clerks; recommended a federal incorporation act; and induced China to open to American finance on equal terms with the rest of the world.

Peace in Cuba has been maintained by a word of friendly warning.

The railroads of the country were prevented, by an appeal to the writ of injunction, from putting rate increases into effect.

THE SPORTSMAN'S PARADISE.

Opening with a paean that describes the zest of life out of doors in New Mexico in alluring terms, the report of Game and Fish Warden Thomas P. Gable just made to Governor McDonald and covering three years of work of the department, is an example of what an official report ought to be. It clothes the dry bones of facts and statistics in a garb that attracts and interests, that makes them breathe and live, and that will make the report read and understood when other official reports are flung aside with a mere glance.

But it must be remembered, that Game and Fish Warden Thomas P. Gable has been heart and soul in his work; his office has not been a mere bread and butter proposition, not a mere doing his duty, but an agreeable vocation in which he sought to do all in his power to preserve the game and fish of the commonwealth, to make the forests and streams the Mecca of sportsmen and tourists, of lovers of nature where those who hear the call of the wild may find their heart's desire and content. And he has succeeded beyond measure!

Accompanying his word picture of the beauties of New Mexico's almost limitless extent of forests, of game preserves, of mountains, mesas, valleys and streams as viewed by the sportsman and by others who delight to commune with nature, there are the half-tones and colored plates to prove that the word painting is true, is not overdrawn, yea, even though skillfully and enthusiastically done, does not rival the reality, because no words can adequately picture the magnificence scattered with such profusion by the Creator over this commonwealth. The scenes from the upper Pecos, especially, as well as the artistic and admirably drawn colored plates of fish and game birds as they are native in New Mexico, give glimpses of outdoor life, that will persuade more than one person this year to seek the haunts away from men, and yet, in New Mexico, located near and conveniently to the marts of trade.

The New Mexican would like to quote at length from these word pictures, and may do so later, but will at present revert only to a few facts set forth in the report, the most important of which is that the preservation of game in New Mexico costs the taxpayers nothing; "that the revenue now derived from licenses issued by the office renders it self sustaining and no further appropriation will be needed from the legislature for the game and fish department." That means pretty good management, does it not?

Some of the big things done by the department lately are set forth and, for the least, is the impetus given toward the establishment of a national game preserve on the Pecos forest which has been practically decided upon by the United States government and which will give New Mexico an attraction that will add to its world fame as a tourist resort and a sportsman's paradise. Seventeen townships are to be included especially convenient to Santa Fe, Las Vegas and Albuquerque, reached by the Scenic Highway which the state has partially constructed. This preserve will furnish another strong reason why the state should push that road through to the Pecos. In this connection, Game Warden Gable recommends a closer study of game and fish as affected by environment such as is peculiar to New Mexico. He advocates private preserves on which game and fish are propagated for the market, and why not? If a sport can at the same time be made a profitable industry without depriving others of opportunities for hunting and fishing, it is about as big an achievement as can be accomplished.

Game Warden Gable has for the first time in the history of New Mexico, put an effective stop to game depredations by Indians and has taught the offending culprits a salutary lesson. It took energy and tact to do this for the Indian leans on Uncle Sam on one side and hides behind ancient prerogatives and sentimentalism on the other. Game Warden Gable himself took the field and brought the poachers to time much to their astonishment, chagrin and eventual repentance.

The report describes accurately the various game animals, birds and fish of New Mexico and throws out many suggestions that ought to make the book a standard in every school, western school library, in fact, in every school room. Beavers, deer, quail, trout, and other specimens of New Mexico animal life are given separate chapters. Game Warden Gable has been very successful, in introducing elk in New Mexico, in transplanting quail from regions where they were too plentiful to sections which had none, in stocking streams, in every activity that betokens an anxiety to preserve the wild life for the benefit of sportsmen as well as the general public.

There are pages of useful statistics and lists of deputy game wardens, such as find necessary place in a report of this kind. Altogether, the neat, cloth-bound volume is a model, that sets a new standard and reflects credit on the department of the game and fish warden in a manner that all can read and understand, and that incidentally will give New Mexico splendid and extensive advertisement. In other words, Game and Fish Warden Gable has made good and he is one of the officials of whom it can be said distinctly that the state is better off for his having held a responsible office. And that is a higher and better test than is usually applied to officialdom!

IS IT A HIGH CRIME TO SERVE THE PEOPLE AND HELP THE PARTY?

The Las Cruces Citizen advances two reasons. It calls them excuses, why Republicans should vote for William H. Andrews for the United States Senate. It says "that Andrews has made a good delegate in Congress," and the other, that William H. Andrews was very generous to help the party during the election of last November.

It detracts nothing from these statements, that the Citizen sneers at these "excuses," and seeks to argue from them that Andrews should not be elected. The Senators are not to be regarded as a reward of merit for past work done or for campaign contributions, but it certainly is not a disqualification to have done effective work at Washington for seven years as a voteless representative of this commonwealth, nor is it a high crime to have contributed to the party exchequer in an election in which Andrews himself was not a candidate for anything. In fact, many who are seeking favors from Republican hands forget that it costs money to maintain an organization and conduct a campaign. It is certainly not against Governor W. C. McDonald, for instance, that he contributed $2,000 to the Democratic campaign fund that elected him governor.

One of the things that hurt the Republican party at the last election and that hurts it now, is that the very men who have been hearing the heat and burden of political campaigns, who have contributed liberally in time, effort and money to Republican success without seeking office for themselves, were made the objects of venomous, unjust attack from within their party ranks.

No, the Citizen will have to think up other excuses for opposing any senatorial candidate, than the fact that he has made good in official position and that he has been liberal in contributing to the legitimate party and campaign expenses.

NEW MEXICO STANDS FOR DECENCY.

The fact that Governor McDonald has let it be known unofficially that he is opposed to the staging of the Johnson-Flynn fight in New Mexico will not only save him much annoyance in the future, but has also created a good impression throughout the country, where it was thought that New Mexico being wild and woolly, would extend a clamorous welcome to the pug-uglies, if for no other reason than that it needs the money and would like to have the crowds.

But there are things more to be desired than the visit of gangs of sports and the spending of a hundred thousand dollars in saloons, dives and in betting. New Mexico has a reputation for decency to maintain, a reputation that has been enhanced by the firm declaration of Governor McDonald that he is against the prize fight and would recommend a law to prohibit it and any other exhibitions of like character. In fact, if the district attorney and the district judge are with him, they will not need to stretch existing laws until they creak, to find a statute that will enable them to prevent the nasty exhibition of brutality, which if duplicated between an editor and a politician at a street corner would probably result in an indictment for assault with intent to kill.

Reno has not yet recovered from the setback that it received from the Johnson-Jeffries fight staged there. It was proven that the crowds who saw the fight did not consist of prospective settlers and investors in Nevada, thus flouting the argument that such a fight would bring people to New Mexico who would be induced to take up homesteads or invest money in mines, railroads and real estate. Reno and Nevada received more detrimental knocks from that crowd which visited the fight, than it has from its unsavory reputation as a divorce refuge.

But aside from all arguments pro or con, there is such a thing as public decency, and it is well that the first state governor of New Mexico has arraigned himself on the side of decency.

CONGRESSMAN CURRY AND THE NEW MEXICAN.

There are a few things that politicians in New Mexico are overlooking. The standpoint that a friend or a newspaper must go with the party candidates or the party officials through thick and thin, right or wrong, is one of these. The New Mexican may be a Republican paper and still criticize Republican officials, or disagree with Republican leaders. It may even give Democrats their due, and praise Democratic officials if they do what is right and proper. Because the New Mexican has disagreed with Congressman Curry on the matter of a peripatetic federal court, the Las Cruces Citizen says why it is that the New Mexican gave Curry its unqualified support three months ago for Congress and now dares to disagree with him publicly. The question in itself indicates a wrong perspective. The New Mexican is not sorry it supported Congressman Curry. It is proud of the record he is making in Washington and hopes to support him again this fall for Congress. In the meanwhile, it will disagree with him on the federal court question, and it will also oppose him if he makes an attempt to deliver the New Mexico delegation against President Taft at the Chicago convention. These are matters of individual opinion and not of party policy. Congressman Curry would be foolish to expect any virile newspaper to agree with him in every proposition; just as foolish as would be the New Mexican to expect Congressman Curry to say "yea" and "amen" to every one of its utterances.

The suggestion made in Congress that the United States Army be used in fighting forest fires is one that is in line with the recent German conception of peace as well as of war, and that the works of peace, such as building the Panama Canal, good roads and engineering works of every kind, could be most effectively prosecuted under army supervision. This policy also furnishes an additional and strong reason why a great army post should be located at Santa Fe, central to so many million acres of forests, convenient to great irrigation projects, also near enough to the Mexican border and at the same time offering unsurpassed climatic advantages as well as the purest kind of drinking water, admirable topography for maneuvers and target ranges, sanitation and all the other factors including ample railroad facilities, that are deemed essential to an ideal location for army post and camp purposes.

NEW RECIPROCITY TREATY WITH CUBA PLANNED.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—The necessity of the proposed new reciprocity treaty between the United States and Cuba was explained today at the state department on the ground that the threatened revision of the sugar tariff by Congress might affect a provision contained in article VIII of the present treaty which has continued in operation in the absence of a desire of either party to terminate it. Recently, the Cuban government proposed that the treaty be extended five years. The state department declined this proposition because of the inclusion in the treaty of the foreign sugar provision which it desired to eliminate.

CHINAMAN SHIPPED BY AN EXPRESS COMPANY.

Gee was released by the immigration authorities and lost no time in starting for the Chinese quarter accompanied by relatives who met him at the pier. The express company was under bond to the United States government to prevent Gee's escape while passing through United States territory.

THIRTY JOBS FOR PATRIOTS.

on information and belief, that in the counties of Socorro, Valencia, Bernalillo, Santa Fe, San Miguel and Rio Arriba, gross frauds were practiced and perpetrated by judges and clerks of election, and great numbers of votes were returned as having been cast for H. H. Williams, M. S. Groves and George W. Armijo, by persons who did not actually vote at the said election and who were not present or participating therein; and other great numbers of votes were returned as having been cast for H. H. Williams, M. S. Groves and George W. Armijo by persons who were not qualified electors and who were not lawfully entitled to vote at said election; and other great numbers of votes were actually cast by qualified electors in the said counties for this respondent and for O. L. Owen and S. Martinez, the Democratic candidates, which were returned and canvassed as having been cast for H. H. Williams and M. S. Groves and George W. Armijo, giving the numbers of the precincts and the number of votes. It is understood that Judge Terrell will move to strike out the larger part of the answer as unduly, irrelevant and contemptuous. The case promises to be very interesting, as Van Stone raises again, as he did on former motion, the entire question of fraud and irregularities at the last election as it affects practically every other candidate from governor down.

Judge E. C. Abbott gave the relator until tomorrow forenoon to file a motion or make reply.

 Jaques Mfg. Co., Chicago

Quarter of a Century Ago.

(From New Mexican of February 14, 1887.)

Major S. K. Hooper and a number of Denver & Rio Grande officials are in Santa Fe today, giving rise to the report that the D. & R. G. would standard gauge all of its lines this summer and especially the line from Antonito to Santa Fe so that transfers could easily be made to the Santa Fe tracks here.

Jay Gould concluded negotiations consolidating the Denver & Fort Worth and the Denver & New Orleans lines from Denver to Pueblo.

Hon. A. Gustorf and family returned from Trinidad, Colo., today.

Colonel Richard Hudson came in from Grant county today.

Sheriff Eugenio Romero is over from Las Vegas.

Leandro Sanchez introduced a bill in the House to prohibit duels and prize fights. It was reported that the territorial secretary refused to pay Member Pedro Sanchez who was given the seat of A. Gustorf. A committee was appointed to "reason" with the secretary. Another large body of $8000 was struck in the Cash Entry mine.

J. Curran Keegan of Denver, a prominent attorney and financier, declared that now that the legislature has passed laws amply protecting capital, the wondrous resources of the territory will be developed at once. There will be no difficulty in securing outside capital and the Santa Fe valley, especially, will in a year or two receive thousands of immigrants, and will be dotted all over with happy homes of farmers and fruit growers. Lands within ten miles of Santa Fe in any direction will then be worth $100 an acre.

Gustav Billing, the founder of the Socorro smelter, has been in consultation with President L. Spiegelberg of the Second National Bank of Santa Fe.

The legislature should provide for an arbor day for New Mexico.

Editorial.

"The council should confirm the nomination of Mr. H. B. Ferguson to be attorney of the second district. This nomination was sent in on Saturday last. The Republicans cannot go better than confirm it."

"Do not forget to pass a good jury law. There is no harm in having the judges appoint the jury commissioners. The principal point is to see to it that the U. S. marshal and the U. S. attorney have nothing to do with the selection of jurors."

DISCOVERY OF NEW MINERALS IN AMERICA.

Bulletin of Mineralogical Notes Issued by the United States Geological Survey.

New minerals are constantly being discovered. Their determination is usually made by the geochemist--the chemist who works along geologic lines--or the mineralogist. The properties of minerals already known are likewise being redetermined, with the result that some of the published descriptions which have remained unchallenged for many years are undergoing constant change. Most of these minerals as discovered or determined are of only scientific interest and no relation is seen between their occurrence in nature and their probable value to the industries of the world. However, no one can say when the mineralogical curiosity may not prove to be a revolutionary factor in some industry. As an example, the mineral tungsten was well known for two years, but only recently was it found that this mineral could be made into an electric-lamp filament yielding a light which is stated to be the nearest approach to sunlight.

Another instance is the metal vanadium. As late as 1905 the United States Geological Survey published in Bulletin 262--"Contributions to Mineralogy"--an extended description of some vanadium minerals and it was not then thought that this metal would command much attention from the industrial world. But today it is asserted that small quantities of vanadium added to steel result in remarkable toughness, giving great resistance to shock and to "fatigue" caused through constant bending; and that steels containing a small percentage of vanadium made much better springs and saws and other tools.

It is the province of the mineralogist, therefore, to go in blindly, as it were, to work out his scientific problems irrespective of what the industrialist or the technologist may evolve from his conclusions.

which has just been published by the United States Geological Survey as Bulletin 490, is a completion of the research work of this character conducted by Waldemar T. Schaller in the chemical laboratory of the Survey since 1905. As indicated by the title, this bulletin is the first of a proposed series which will be published by the Survey, from time to time. GATHERED IN FEDERAL NET.

ment that Hockin went to Detroit in June, 1907, and induced McManigal to take up dynamiting.

Big Bond Demanded.

Ryan and his associates conferred immediately with District Attorney Miller regarding bond. It is said the bonds required for all fifty or more defendants will aggregate $300,000. The bonds are for their arraignment here March 12.

McNamara and McManigal Mere Agents.

Eugene A. Clancy, San Francisco; J. E. Munsey, Salt Lake City; Olaf A. Tveitmo, San Francisco, and Orie E. McManigal, already indicted on the Pacific coast, and J. J. McNamara and James B. McNamara, already convicted, again are indicted here.

In the indictments it is held that the McNamara Brothers and McManigal were merely the agents of a vast conspiracy and that their work in blowing up structures, including the Los Angeles Times, in October, 1910, had been carried on for years at the behest of their superior officers and at the solicitation of officers of local unions.

All the defendants are charged with conspiracy to transport dynamite and nitro-glycerine, in violation of the federal statutes. Some of those indicted were members of the executive board when John J. McNamara was directing his dynamiting operations from Indianapolis, and when he was receiving $1,000 a month from the iron workers union for which he was not required to make any accounting and which the government charges was used to purchase and pay for the transportation of explosives.

Two Groups of Indictments.

The charges in the indictments are divided into two groups. The first charges violation of federal statutes regulating the interstate shipment of explosives, aiding and abetting to violate the law, and aiding and abetting to conceal the violation. The defendants in this class are termed accessories before and after the fact.

Cumulative Punishment.

While the possible penalties for violations range from eighteen months to two years imprisonment, it is said the punishments may be cumulative, so that one defendant charged with more than one offense may face a punishment equal to the accumulated penalties for all his offenses.

Frank M. Ryan, formerly was a structural iron worker in Chicago. He was elected president of the International Iron Workers Union in 1905, succeeding Frank Buchanan of Chicago, now a member of Congress.

As head of the iron workers, Ryan held positions on important committees of the American Federation of Labor.

Iron Workers Have 13,000 Members.

The iron workers' union, whose headquarters are here, has about 13,000 members with 107 local unions in the United States and Canada. Soon after it became known that the officials were to be indicted, Mr. Ryan asked the members of the union to establish a special fund of $7,000 a month. It is believed this fund now will be utilized for defense at the trials.

A Damnable Conspiracy.

Correspondence between the iron workers international headquarters, and the offices of many local unions are said to have shown that business agents had knowledge of the system of dynamiting against structures under construction by employers who maintained the "open shop" and it is charged that "jobs" often were arranged by letter.

Enemies of Open Shop.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 14.—In information supplied the government, Hockin is made to appear the chief lieutenant of John J. McNamara, "the boss of the dynamiting crew." He is charged with having planned explosions desired by the enemies of "open shop" contractors. He is named by McManigal as one of the men who originated the alarm clock scheme by which explosions were arranged to occur several hours after the bombs were set, thus enabling the dynamiters to get away and establish alibis. He is also charged with being the manager of the secret stores of explosives kept at Rochester, Pa., Muncie, Ind., Tiffin, Ohio, and Indianapolis.

McManigal's confession was that Hockin started him in the dynamiting business in Detroit in June 1907; that Hockin gave him $75 for blowing up a Detroit building, with a note saying "compliments of the Executive board; more to come;" that he and Hockin went with him to Buffalo and sent him to many other places; that he, Hockin, and J. J. McNamara established the explosive storehouse at Muncie; that Hockin visited him in Chicago and there first showed him the alarm clock scheme; that on Hockin's instructions he went to Boston and New York and did "jobs;" that his fees and expenses for explosions were arranged by Hockin and McNamara, and that on occasions Hockin himself carried a suit case filled with explosives.

McManigal's Guide.

Edward Smythe, of Peoria, is charged with meeting McManigal and showing what places were to be blown up near Peoria.

Frank C. Webb of New York, former member of the iron workers executive board, is charged with having been McManigal's guide in causing explosions around New York City. McManigal's first meeting with Webb was in September 1909, according to the dynamiter.

"We went to Jersey City where a big bridge job was on and Webb wanted that blown up," said McManigal. "I told him Hockin was the man that was paying me and he wanted a viaduct at Hoboken blown up. Webb insisted, and said if I didn't do the Jersey City job this trip I would have to come back and do it some other time. He said there was lots of work to be done, and the boys had the money for it."

"We met the next day at the Labor Temple on 34th Street. On the way over to Hoboken, Webb gave me $50. The explosion under the viaduct took place on the night of September 5, 1909. Webb is the only man I met in New York."

"On my way to do a job at Greenville, N. J., in July, 1910, I met Webb in Jersey City and he took me out and showed me where the Phoenix Bridge Company was erecting a job, and I placed explosives under the job, and afterward J. B. McNamara gave me $200 for the work."

"Later in the year, I saw a letter from Frank Webb to J. J. McNamara in which he said: 'You had better send a man to Boston to see what can be done for the local people.'"

"I went down east and did various jobs, getting $200 for one at Worcester, Massachusetts."

Blum Arrested at Minneapolis. Minneapolis, Minn., Feb. 14.—Chas. A. Blum, business agent and secretary of the Minneapolis building trades council, was arrested here late today by federal officials in connection with the alleged dynamite conspiracy. He was taken to St. Paul, being held on $10,000 bail.

Munsey Not Arrested.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Feb. 14.—James E. Munsey, local business agent of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, indicted at Indianapolis, for alleged complicity in the dynamiting conspiracy, has not been arrested here. United States Marshal James H. Anderson said today that no indictments had been received at his office.

Gompers Has Nothing to Say.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—The contempt of court proceedings against Samuel Gompers, John Mitchell, and Frank Morrison of the American Federation of Labor, were resumed before Justice Wright here today, with Mr. Morrison on the stand in defense of himself and his colleagues. There was no intimation that Mr. Gompers would make a statement regarding the dynamite arrests. He already had declared that he knew absolutely nothing of any dynamiting. No evidence, it was said, here today, had been procured against officials of the American Federation of Labor.

U. S. Marshal Not Notified.

San Francisco, Calif., Feb. 14.—Eugene A. Clancy and Olaf A. Tveitmo, labor leaders indicted at Indianapolis for supposed complicity in a national dynamiting conspiracy have not yet been arrested here. U. S. Marshal Charles T. Elliott said today he had received no notification of the indictments.

Ryan and Hockin Plead Innocence.

Indianapolis, Ind., Feb. 14.—Ryan and Hockin in statements declared themselves innocent of having violated any law.

Summoned to New Orleans.

Savannah, Ga., Feb. 14.—Phl. A. Cooley, of New Orleans, members of the Executive Committee of the Bridge & Structural Iron Workers Union, received a telegram from Federal Authorities in New Orleans asking him to report there immediately. He said he would start tonight.

TOMBSTONE WAKES LONG ENOUGH TO CELEBRATE.

Cowboys Shoot Up Somnolent Town and Air is Punctured With Revolver Fusillade.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Tombstone, Ariz., Feb. 14.—The signing of the statehood proclamation by President Taft was the signal today for a popular demonstration of rejoicing. The occasion was enlivened by the presence of a number of cowboys, from the ranges who punctured the air with a fusillade of pistol shots. The six shooter salute proved contagious, and the rattle of revolver fire began in all parts of the town.

Darwinism in San Juan County.

A little boy of Farmington said to his mother the other day: "Ma, am I a descendant from a monkey?" "I don't know," replied the mother, "I never knew any of your father's folks." The father who was listening went out in the coal shed and kicked the cat through the roof.—San Juan County Index.

Padgett Wants the Prize Fight.

The Optic favors the staging of the Johnson-Flynn boxing bout for the heavyweight boxing championship of the world in this city. It favors it not because it is a fistie exhibition but because, on general principles, this paper favors anything that looks like a good thing for Las Vegas. It favors doing everything possible to induce the promoters of the event to decide upon Las Vegas as the battle ground of the giant wielders of the padded mitts just as it would favor doing everything possible to persuade the directors of a big irrigation congress to select this city as the meeting place of their organization.

To advertise a community in the most advantageous way, as any booster will assert, it is necessary to induce people to pay it a visit. Whether the inducement is a state or nation, a Sunday school convention, which will attract good people possessing means, or a fistie encounter, which will also attract good people with plenty of money makes little difference, according to The Optic's way of thinking.—Las Vegas Optic.

Tip to Mrs. Belmont.

If Mrs. Belmont is hunting a place in which to bury her money she will doubtless find it in the daily newspaper devoted entirely to the interests of women, which it is said to be her purpose to establish. She is not well

TWENTY YEARS—

Makes a great difference in most women. They are troubled with "nerves"—they suffer from headache, dizziness, a sensation of irritability or twitching, hot flashes, dizzy spells, or many other symptoms of female weakness. The local disorder and inflammation should be treated with Dr. Pierce's Lotion Tablets and the irregularity and weakness of the female system corrected and strengthened with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. The strain upon the young woman or the women of middle age—upon the nerve and blood forming structures—may be too great for her strength. This is the time to take this restorative tonic and strength-giving nerve and regulator. For over forty years sold by druggists and women's peculiar weaknesses and distressing ailments. The one remedy so perfect in composition and so good in curative effects as to warrant its makers in printing its every ingredient on its outside wrapper. The one remedy which absolutely contains neither alcohol nor injurious or habit-forming drugs.

Following letter selected at random from a large number of similar ones and cited merely to illustrate these remarks: "In the winter of 1908, I became greatly run down and irregular," writes Mrs. Henry Scott, of Swan Creek, Mich. Route 1, Box 43. "I simply lay about my room, and at last, resolved to apply to the doctors for help. The doctor said I had inflammation, enlargement and leucorrhea. I was in bed several weeks and got up but better. The doctor said I would have to have an operation, but to that I would not listen. My husband purchased two bottles of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. When I started to take this remedy, I could not walk across the floor, but after I had taken three bottles I could feel myself gaining, and I dropped the doctor and took Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. Only for it I think I would have been dead—I really believe it saved my life. I feel better now than in twenty years."

advised in undertaking such an enterprise. In the first place, all the real news that concerns either women or men gets into the ordinary daily papers. Also in these papers there is no lack of matter that concerns women especially. Even the suffrage cause, which Mrs. Belmont represents finds abundant space in their columns. Half the leading papers in New York City openly favor woman suffrage, and no paper is especially unfriendly to it. Few women, comments the Indianapolis Star, will read Mrs. Belmont's paper except those already converted to the cause, and they are not the ones she wishes to reach, nor the ones who are reached by the regular press. The lady will know more after she has had experience and others have the money—American Press.

Downey, deputy paymaster general. The correspondence included a letter from Major Ray's clerk to Paymaster General Whipple, written from Atlanta, June 25, 1910, in which the clerk, whose name has been suppressed, declared that Ray had corrupted his wife, and in which he unburdened to the general a story characterized by him as "sickening" and applying for a transfer from Major Ray's office.

Other letters showing that the charges had been called to Ray's attention and that he had denied them also were read. The committee has taken no action in the case.
