400 Men Underground.
At the company's office it was stated that of 475 men who checked in for work today 400 were underground when the explosion occurred.

According to mine officials a broken electric circuit caused by the runaway of a train of trip cars was responsible for ignition of the dust.

Assistant Superintendent T. W. Trew and four men were injured when they were trapped in the "top house" following the explosion while endeavoring to sound the alarm in the pit when their discovery of the gas was made.

The United States bureau of mines has ordered a rescue car from the Kentucky mine field, it was announced at the local station. Daniel Harrington of Denver

His First Warning

According to one of the first miners to be taken out alive, the explosion came with little warning to the men working deep in the entries. This miner stated that the concussion of the big blast had turned his body about. Realizing that an explosion had occurred he started to make his way toward the mouth of the mine. He was joined by other miners.

This survivor who escaped un-

Men Block Passageway

About thirty men saved the lives by blocking a passageway in the mine "trip" and thereby shutting off effectually the poisonous gases and after-damp until the fans were started again and cleared the way for them to reach the outside alive.

As the night wore on, fresh crews replaced tired workers. Mangled forms were borne tenderly but with great speed from the pit. Caravans of ambulances wended their way along the narrow crooked road that led from mine to hospital. At 9 o'clock it was

STOP THE EVIL OF CHILD LABOR IS DAVIS' PLEA

Secretary Says There Are 1,500,000 Youthful Slaves in Country; Defends Subsidy Measure

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 22.—Secretary of Labor James J. Davis left Phoenix at 6 o'clock tonight for Pueblo, Colorado, after spending the day here as the guest of the Local Order of Moose. Secretary Davis will pass through Albuquerque, New Mexico, tomorrow afternoon and stated that he expected to make a short speech from the train there.

Mr. Davis will visit the steel mills in Pueblo and will then go to Denver, it was announced by his secretary.

In two addresses here today Mr. Davis defended the proposed ship subsidy bill and appealed to the nation to combat the child labor evil through a program of education and propaganda.

There are 1,500,000 child slaves in the country today, Secretary Davis declared in his afternoon address.

"They are working in the mills and factories from early to late," he said. "They are slaves. They do not, they could not seek emancipation simply at will. And I want to tell you that all my efforts, the best that I have in me, and all my official influence if I have any, I shall devote to setting them free."

Mr. Davis said he had no quarrel with the United States supreme court because of its decision against the legality of the child labor law, but declared that it was the duty of the country, through a process of education and propaganda to reach the hearts of the employers and put a stop to the evil.

Adm. Okla., Nov. 22.—Governor J. B. A. Robertson of Oklahoma secured another court victory today in his defense against a charge lodged in Oklahoma county that he accepted a bribe, and the way was opened for an attempt next Monday by the executive committee to have the case dismissed.

The case was definitely rested in the Pontotoc county district court here, before Special Judge Thomas A. Edwards, for further action, when Governor Robertson's attorneys today defeated efforts of Prosecutor James Heppburn of Oklahoma county, to have the case sent back to Oklahoma county.

The hearing which is set here for Monday morning, on the governor's motion to quash the indictment against him, will determine whether the executive is cleared of the bribery charge or whether he must go to trial before a jury.

Judge Edwards late today sustained a demurrer entered by Governor Robertson to the motion of County Attorney Heppburn seeking to have vacated a change of venue granted in Oklahoma county a week ago by District Judge Lucien B. Wright of Creek county. Heppburn's motion was thus disposed of and the case remains in Ada.

RICH 'RADICAL' BEGINS SERVING TERM IN PRISON

William Bross Lloyd Voluntarily Surrenders to Penitentiary Authorities at Joliet, Ill.

William Bross Lloyd.

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 22 (By the Associated Press).—William Bross Lloyd, wealthy radical, today discarded his civilian clothes, donning instead a suit of prison blue denim, and became simply a convict, with a number. Late last night Lloyd, convicted and sentenced with 20 others for radical utterances, voluntarily surrendered to prison authorities to begin serving his sentence of one to five years.

For six days a search had been made for him by officials. Lloyd spent his first night of confinement in a detention cell on a prison cot. Today he is to be assigned to another in one of the large cell tiers. It will be his home during his stay in prison.

The wealthy radical's arrival at the prison last night was shrouded in secrecy. But he found a small army of newspaper men waiting at the gate for him.

Shortly after 11 o'clock a closed automobile drove up to the entrance of the state prison grounds. A young man, who stood on the running board, made a dash for the prison entrance. With a brief good-bye to his wife, who accompanied him, Lloyd hurried after the young man and was met at the portal of the main entrance by a deputy sheriff with commitment papers.

The heavy doors opened and Lloyd, the deputy sheriff and the young man were ushered into the guard's hallway, unmindful of the shouted questions of newspaper men.

With bowed head, Lloyd stood silent and taciturn while the receiving clerk duly recorded his arrival and commitment. And with this formality completed, Lloyd became a convict. During the whole proceeding he remained silent, apparently gloomy and dejected.

Six of Lloyd's co-defendants, who also surrendered voluntarily, started their third day of sentence while he began his first. They arrived at the prison at 10 o'clock. Seven others are confined in the Cook county jail.

For years, Lloyd has been known as a radical. Both he and his wife, formerly Madge Bird, were active in the movements of the left wing of the socialist party.

Among Lloyd's radical associates were "Big Boy" Haywood, now said to be in Russia and the late John Reed, first bolshevik envoy to the United States.

WILLIAM B. LLOYD NOW IS CONVICT NO. 8385

Joliet, Ill., Nov. 22 (By the Associated Press).—William Bross Lloyd, millionaire communist leader, who surrendered at the penitentiary shortly before midnight to serve his sentence of from one to five years for violation of the Illinois anti-syndicalism act, now is convict No. 8385.

He was measured for a new prison suit and other equipment today. He is having his hair cut in prison style, his berrillon measurements and finger prints taken.

He probably will be assigned to his work tomorrow. Penitentiary authorities denied reports that he would be a teacher in the convicts' school.

TREASURER-ELECT OF GUADALUPE COUNTY DIES OF PNEUMONIA

Special to The Journal
Vaughan, N. M., Nov. 22.—Elterio Lucero, prominent citizen of this place and recently elected county treasurer of Guadalupe county, died here yesterday morning of pneumonia. He had been sick only a few days and was thought to be getting along nicely, when he suffered a sudden relapse.

Mr. Lucero was a young man and had conducted two moving picture theaters in Vaughan and East Vaughan until recently. In the last election he was elected county treasurer of Guadalupe county on the democratic ticket, getting a big majority in this normally republican county.

Though he is only 12 years of age, Ruth Elberfeld, daughter of the once famous "Kid" Elberfeld, has just received a certificate in the Red Cross life saving course ordinarily issued only to adults.

U. S. WILL SEND ATHLETIC TEAM TO PARIS MEET

Plans Are Completed for the Participation of America's Representatives in Olympic Games

Washington, Nov. 22 (By the Associated Press).—Initial steps for participation of America's team in the Olympic games of 1924, to be held in Paris, were completed here today at the quadrennial meeting of the American Olympic association. During the session of the sixth odd delegates of the American Olympic committee, which will hereafter carry the burden of preparation, was appointed, five new sport-governing bodies accepted into membership, funds amounting to $7,500 donated and the delegates received by President Harding at the White House. The convention completed its meeting tonight with a dinner at which Robert M. Thompson, the leading spirit in the reorganization, presided and prominent government officials spoke.

The latest additions to the American Olympic association include the National Amateur Athletic Federation, the United States Lawn Tennis association, the National Collegiate Athletic association, the National Remount association and the Navy league. The inclusion of these bodies in the Olympic association gives the committee a membership of close to fifty sport governing bodies and forms the most complete and impressive association of its kind in existence.

So great was the enthusiasm of the delegates toward the close of the meeting that with the appointment of a treasurer for the American Olympic committee, there was a rush to see which individual or association would be first to contribute to funds which early in 1924 will be first to transport and house in France the strongest and most representative combination of athletes ever to wear the American shield upon their breasts.

Individual contributions were first to be received. The various athletic bodies then began to contribute. The Amateur Athletic union gave $2,500 and was followed by the Intercollegiate Association, which donated $1,000 equally divided between the association and the committee. The navy league followed suit and then one of the allied bodies whose name was withheld temporarily, guaranteed a sum of not less than $2,500 and possibly $5,000.

Lawn Tennis Matches
The first of the participation was the U. S. Lawn Tennis association, which promised to enter a team composed of the best players of both sexes available in 1924. This will be the first time the United States has been represented in Olympic lawn tennis and with Tilden, Johnston, Richards and players of similar caliber, the United States will have a strong team.

In selecting the American Olympic committee of 43, which body will eventually be expanded to fully 500 members, a majority of the leading officials of the American Olympic association were included. Robert M. Thompson was elected chairman and Frederick W. Rubien secretary.

CONFERENCE AT LAUSANNE HAS A HEATED SESSION

Turkey Finds the Great Powers of Europe Arrayed Against Her on the Question of West Thrace

Lausanne, Nov. 22 (By the Associated Press).—Turkey found the great powers of Europe arrayed against her today on the question of western Thrace, when she demanded a plebiscite by the armistice of the Ottoman state, left a rather heated afternoon session of the Near Eastern conference with the feeling that she is not so abandoned as she feared.

The Turkish plenipotentiaries returned to their hotel looking dejected. One of them said: "They were all against us on the Thrace issue today, but it is not yet decided; we probably shall have something more to say tomorrow."

The Bulgarian premier, Alexander Stamboulsky, explained Bulgaria's necessity to have an outlet to the Aegean sea at Dedeagatch, already promised by treaty. Greece has admitted her obligation to grant Bulgaria port rights at Dedeagatch, but has explained that her war with Turkey prevented realization until now. Stamboulsky was inclined to support the idea of making western Thrace autonomous but the trend of the allied leaders' speeches was opposed to this.

While hostile to a plebiscite, the anti-plebiscite spokesmen favored demilitarization of a considerable zone on the right bank of the Maritza river, which divides western from eastern Thrace, so that danger of an armed conflict between the Greeks and the Turks in the future would be lessened.

The former Greek premier, Epiphanius Venizelos, was at his best in defending the interests of his country. He frankly admitted that Greece had made mistakes and added that she had suffered severely as a consequence of these mistakes.

The burden of the "Turks" arguments was that possession of both eastern and western Thrace was necessary to make Constantinople safe for Turkey and prevent incursions into Turkish territory.

OLDER BOYS HOLD A CONFERENCE: FORM A PERMANENT SOCIETY

Special to The Journal
Raton, N. M., Nov. 22.—The Older Boys' conference of Northern New Mexico was held in Raton, Friday and Saturday, November 17 and 18. This was a big event for the boys of Raton and for those of the county who were in attendance. A conference will be held each year. This is expected to be a wonderful thing for the boys.

Registration was held Friday afternoon. There was a good enrollment from Cimarron, Dawson, Springer, a few from other places, including two from Las Vegas. The boys were full of pep and ready to get the most out of the conference. The big banquet was served at 6:15 o'clock Friday night. One hundred plates were set and all were sold. The attendees were mostly high school boys. They had the co-operation of the business men of Raton and representatives from the various schools as leaders. Addresses of welcome were made by representatives of Raton and responses were made by out-of-town people. The main address was given by H. L. Crute, former state boys' secretary for Mississippi. His subject was "The Heritage of a Boy." Officers were elected as follows: president, Harry McBride; Raton; vice-president, Hugh Bass, Cimarron; secretary, Mr. Raskley, Las Vegas.

Saturday was devoted to the problems of the boy in lectures and discussions. This was the beneficial part of the program for the boys. Much interest was aroused and the work started is expected to be a great uplifting move in behalf of the boys of this part of the state.

Saturday evening closed the conference. The principal address was "A Life Investment," by H. L. Crute. The general public was invited and enjoyed the theme. In the way of recreation, the Raton high school gymnasium was open to the delegates. Also they witnessed the football game between Dawson and Raton on the local gridiron.

A larger and even more enthusiastic conference is expected next year.

U. S. BLAMED FOR UNREST ABROAD BY CLEMENCEAU

great deal of good, I dare not say."

Throughout his address he sandwiched caustic comment on America and her world attitude with expressions of friendship and admiration for the country and her people. He told his auditors, for example, that they, with the rest of America, were not as well informed as they ought to be. When they came to France, he said, "they continued to talk shop, or to chatter about Fifth Avenue and Broadway."

Easy to Learn French
Then he robbed the remark of its sting by advising them to ask any American soldier who had met a French girl how easy and pleasant it was to learn French and the ways of France. The suggestion brought a burst of laughter and applause.

Immediately after he had charged America with leaving France "in the lurch" he set the hall reverberating with applause when, with a great flashing of eyes, he declared "we have to defend our frontier and we will defend it."

Closing his speech, he declared he already felt his self-imposed mission to America was a success.

I were to go home tomorrow," he said, "I would tell my friends: 'Be quiet. I don't know how they will do it, but be sure the Yankee will do it once more.'"

Inspiring Occasion
When Clemenceau went home, shortly before 6, to take a long rest before starting for Boston, he told members of the party that the trip to Brooklyn would live in his mind as "the most inspiring occasion I have ever attended."

Colonel E. M. House, who arranged his tour, asked him how he felt after his strenuous day. "I never felt better in my life," he replied. "I would like to go to a dance with you."

Colonel House declared he had never seen the tiger happier, or more pleased, over any achievement of his life than he was over the results, so far, of his American visit.

Paderewski Calls
The tiger was ready to retire at 8 o'clock tonight when Ignace Jan Paderewski, pianist and first premier of Poland, arrived at the Gibson home and begged to see the Frenchman.

"Just for a minute," he whispered to Clemenceau's secretary. The tiger was delighted. "Of course, once why, would I not see this great man in bed?" His eyes glowed as Paderewski entered his chamber, and he trembled with excitement. They met in the center of the room, embraced and put lips to cheeks, after the continental custom.

"You are the greatest man in the world," exclaimed the pianist-statesman, who had occupied a box when Clemenceau spoke at the Metropolitan last night.

"No, Paderewski, you are the greatest," the tiger corrected him. "I was moved to tears when you told at the peace conference of the sufferings of Poland."

Their chat ended, the Frenchman said, "Before I go home I want to hear you play. When shall I have that pleasure?"

In a flash they held hands again. "Master," said the pianist, "I will play for you now."

Clemenceau was delighted. Leading the Poles by the hand, he almost danced downstairs to the music room, shouting like a boy and summoning the household to "come and hear, come and hear!"

Pianist Plays
Paderewski seated himself, looked at the tiger a moment as though for inspiration, then leaned back, closed his eyes and played. Four times he played. And through it all, from the first to last, Clemenceau sat erect in his chair, staring intently at his friend, his features a kaleidoscope of the passion and pathos of the music.

As Paderewski finished and prepared to take leave, Clemenceau caressed him again.

"Oh, my friend, my heart is full of happiness. What a man you are! You are more than a musician. You are a poet and there is poetry in your fingers."

Then the tiger trotted off to bed, meanwhile chatting volubly with his valet, Albert, about "my great comrade, the great Paderewski."

RATON BEATS DAWSON

IMPROVEMENT OF C. P. IS PROMISED BY S. P. CHAIRMAN

Program of Expansion and Betterment Will Be Undertaken if the Merger Stands, Says Kruttschnitt

Washington, Nov. 22.—The Southern Pacific railroad, if allowed to retain control of the Central Pacific lines in the west, will embark immediately upon an extensive program of expansion and betterment, Chairman of the Southern Pacific board, testified today before the interstate commerce commission.

On the other hand, the witness declared, if the merger of the two is dissolved, as the supreme court has ordered, the growth of railroad facilities along the Pacific coast will be at least temporarily checked.

Both arguments were advanced to support the application before the commission by which the Southern Pacific hopes to retain the Central Pacific under a lease, notwithstanding the court's dissolution order until such time as the general program of consolidation of all the major railroads in the country are worked out. The appearance of Mr. Kruttschnitt, the direct testimony for the closed the direct testimony for the merger corporations but left the way clear for argument from the west of interveners representing western states, communities, traffic associations and stockholders.

H. A. Scandrett, counsel for the Union Pacific, which is opposing the Southern Pacific's application, attacked Mr. Kruttschnitt's testimony in cross examination and also recalled questioning L. J. Spence, director of traffic for the merged systems.

Mr. Kruttschnitt said the "cloud on the title" held by his company to the Central Pacific had held up terminal enlargements, depot construction, double tracking and road bed construction for several years, but that the Southern was now prepared to finance all these operations. Likewise he dealt with exhibits which formulated the two sections that separation of the two companies would increase transportation expense by more than $6,000,000 annually, and require capital investments of more than $20,000,000 to duplicate existing facilities which the companies now share.

One Line Under Two Names

Arrangements for common use of the present joint facilities, Mr. Scandrett indicated, would eliminate some of these objections to the separation but Mr. Kruttschnitt insisted such divisions would "abolish the corporate existence of the Central Pacific" but unification had gone so far now, he conceded, that the system constituted "one railroad under two names."

In questioning Mr. Spence, Mr. Scandrett argued that the alleged financial difficulty of the separation was being exaggerated. Both the Central and Southern Pacific's former agreed, had, during recent years, earned all amounts necessary to meet fixed charges, such as bond interest, and to pay dividends in addition. As to whether they could so in the future, if separated, he said, was a question.

SCORE CHARGED WITH SPEEDING FLEE FROM JUSTICE'S PRESENCE

Los Angeles, Calif., Nov. 22.—A score of men and women charged with speeding fled from the police court room of Justice Joseph Chambers today after he had sentenced offenders to jail. Twenty-six in all were jailed for traffic offenses, and bench warrants were issued for those who fled, with orders to fail them until trial as rapidly as they were apprehended.

Twenty-six persons were sentenced during the session, making a total of fifty sent to jail by Judge Chambers for traffic offenses in the last three days. The sentences ranged from three days to forty days. Miss Margaret Henry, who yesterday got a day's time to prepare for jail, was sent there for one day.

S. S. S. is the Great Builder of Red Blood-Cells and Rheumatism Must Go Just Try It!

"Rheumatism? Me? No, indeed, it's all gone, every bit of it. It's sunshine and joy for me now for the first time in years. I feel a wonderful glow again in the free motion I used to have when my days were younger. I look at my hands and think of the twists and swellings they used to have. I bend my arms and think of the aches and pains that used to be there. I can thank S. S. S. for it all. To me it was a real sun of joy and liberty. Brothers and sisters in misery, do not close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. It is here and now for all of you. S. S. S. is waiting to help you. There is a reason why S. S. S. will help you. When you increase the number of your red blood cells, the entire system undergoes a tremendous change. HIGH GRIDSTERS PREP FOR GAME ON TURKEY DAY

Albuquerque Chances Bright With Full Lineup, But Both Quarterback Long and Glioni May Be Out

With prospects for a football victory over their ancient—and always successful—rivals of El Paso High school brighter than they have been for some time past, brighter perhaps than they have been since the two started their annual Thanksgiving day gridiron battles, Coach Moore is putting his charges through a stiff period of preparation this week. And the preparation will continue, in one day or another, until the two teams answer the referee's whistle a week from today. At last, after a week of that victory and nothing will be left undone which may aid in its accomplishment.

Two years ago the Duke City boys came closer to holding off Luther Coblenz' football warriors than they ever have. It was a scoreless tie until late in the game and then El Paso slipped, one touchdown across. Last year the Tigers swamped the Duke City contingent. But the game of last year may be thrown out of the record, as far as the prospects for this year are concerned.

There is just one chance for Coach Moore's boys to take the field without a genuine fighting chance for victory. That lies in the possibility of two or three of their best players out of the game. Neither Long nor Glioni were ready for practice yesterday, and both quarterback and captain may be unable to get into the fray. Glioni has been ill for some time past and Long suffered a wrenched shoulder in the game with the Indians last Saturday which may keep him out. At least he will have to be handled with kid gloves to give his injury a chance to heal.

The loss of Long to High school might prove a calamity. While there are other quarterbacks available, none of them possess Long's combination of cool thinking, accurate passing, good judgment, ability to pluck passes out of the air, clever open field running, powerful interference and deadly tackling. The only event more unfortunate for High school would be for Long to become afflicted with enlargement of the cranium through his successes. And he appears to be far too level headed for sound of mind, to fall into such evil ways.

The absence of Captain Glioni would also prove a severe loss. Glioni is one of the most dependable backfield men Coach Moore can show when it comes to running with the ball and is probably the most dependable at line plunging. Glioni has been the most dependable backfield man since the old game of mass play, ripped up powerful Princeton and Harvard lines thought he weighed but 145. And Albuquerque will probably be forced to depend upon a running game to a large extent.

McAlester, Okla., Nov. 22.—Fifty-nine sleeping passengers were catapulted from their berths shortly after 4 o'clock this morning when six Pullman cars of the fast Missouri, Kansas & Texas train No. 1, St. Louis to Galveston, left the rails and overturned in a ditch nine miles north of here.

All but six sustained nothing more than serious bruising and abrasions, but for a while terror gripped the occupants of the coaches when water which filled the ditch began trickling into the cars at the bottom of the stream.

The scene, however, was quieted with a bit of humor when a negro porter, trembling as with the ague, warned the passengers not to lie down to sleep, "because you will have to swim out." By that time all the water had seeped out of the ditch and it was seen there was no danger from that source.

Of the six persons who received bruises and slight fractures, two are believed to have been seriously injured. Railroad men said it was remarkable that there was no loss of life because of the fast rate of speed the train was traveling when the accident occurred.

The engine and six other coaches remained on the track and this fact brought the opinion from some officials that a defective wheel on one of the Pullmans caused the derailment. Others said they believed that a broken rail was responsible.

WILL "LAST RESORT" QUARTERBACK PROVE SEASON'S STAR ON YALE TEAM?

Newell Neidlinger.

When Yale's football season started Charley O'Hearn, backfield star of last year's team, was slated to play quarter again. Beckett, another good general and runner, was held in reserve as a sub in case of injury to O'Hearn. Charley suffered injuries at the opening of the schedule that have kept him on the bench ever since. Beckett later sustained injuries. In desperation Tad Jones moved Newell Neidlinger from a half to quarter. His work has been phenomenal. Neidlinger lacks the incisive tone needed by a quarter to direct his team, but in other respects he ranks with O'Hearn as a player. And now he has the advantage of having welded himself into the team play. Will he prove the star of the Yale team against Harvard?

GRAND JURY IN DOUBLE SLAYING TAKES A RECESS

First Two Important Phases of the Hall-Mills Murder Case in Jersey Are Practically Finished

Somerville, N. J., Nov. 22.—The first two important phases of the Hall-Mills murder case were practically finished tonight when the grand jury which has been hearing evidence since Monday adjourned after deciding not to re-convene until next Monday.

Special Prosecutor Wilbur A. Mott had shown how the bodies were found. He had established to the best of his ability—barring the testimony of two additional witnesses—what he considers the motive. There remained tonight only the testimony of the two motive witnesses and the story of the crime, the eye witness story to be told by Mrs. Jane Gibson, who said she saw the shooting.

Only 13 witnesses were called to day but all of them were of the first importance. Nellie Russell, nee Russell, was among the first called. She told reporters after her 20 minutes inside the room that she had "told the same story I told you."

If that is true Mrs. Russell told the grand jury that Mrs. Gibson could not have seen the shooting because Mrs. Gibson was talking to Mrs. Russell on the latter's stoop at the time the crime was committed.

George Sipel was another of the day's witnesses. Sipel has been credited with telling conflicting stories about his action on Thursday night, September 14. But the one he told today concerned Mrs. Russell. According to detectives, Sipel told that he called at Mrs. Russell's shack that night to see her about a large and had conversation to the extent that Theodore Knothe, a New Brunswick man, saw him do it. Knothe went into the jury room immediately after Sipel and, according to authoritative stories both said that they called a little before 10. According to Mrs. Russell, she was home from 8:45 until 11—and with Mrs. Gibson all that time.

Charlotte Mills was called and was in the jury room a half hour. She was more reticent than usual when she came out but it was learned from official sources that most of the 30 minutes were devoted to an explanation of the manner in which her mother's private letters came to be sold to a newspaper.

As soon as Charlotte left, James Mills was asked to go in. He spent more than an hour inside—and was the thirteenth witness of the day. Mills left the jury room pale and apparently weak.

Rheumatism! try Sloan's

It kills pain! by breaking up congestion

Most aches of rheumatism arise from congestion. Apply Sloan's. Don't rub. It penetrates to the sore spot, starting the blood circulating. This reduces painful congestion—the inflammation vanishes.

Try Sloan's on sprained, bruised muscles, on aching backs and neuralgia. Try it on that "cold in the chest."

Let Lorain be your Chef Thanksgiving Day

THANKSGIVING, the day of the world's greatest "at home" party, distinctively American — anchored deep in national sentiment.

This year let's go to the morning football game, or to the matinee. But how can we all go? Must not someone remain behind in the hot kitchen to prepare the great spread for the family—Roast Turkey, Giblet Gravy, Cranberry Sauce, Baked Squash, Mashed Potatoes, Mince and Pumpkin Pies?

NO! This year we all can go, for "Lorain" will be our chef Thanksgiving Day. The Lorain Oven Heat Regulator—wonderful device—will cook and bake all the principal elements of your dinner as perfectly as any master chef—and will do the work while you're miles away!

If your dinner is to be served at six, you can place all the good things in the magic oven, turn the little Red Wheel to 250 degrees and go "where you will" for four or five hours. When you return, everything will be deliciously done and ready to serve.

Come in and see how easy all this is done in a gas range equipped with the "Lorain". Ask us to explain its many remarkable advantages.

FIRST DEER KILLED

Las Vegas, N. M., Nov. 22.—With the snowfall in northern New Mexico today, the local sportsmen who have been awaiting the deer season are jubilant. The season which opened Monday attracted many local hunters to stalk the canyons in the vicinity of Las Vegas for deer and today the first "kill" was reported by William Belknap in Canyon Largo.

The first strike of women workers in the history of India took place in Calcutta recently, when several thousand women employed in a jute mill walked out in support of their demand for a higher wage.

Let Lorain be your Chef Thanksgiving Day

THANKSGIVING, the day of the world's greatest "at home" party, distinctively American — anchored deep in national sentiment.

This year let's go to the morning football game, or to the matinee. But how can we all go? Must not someone remain behind in the hot kitchen to prepare the great spread for the family—Roast Turkey, Giblet Gravy, Cranberry Sauce, Baked Squash, Mashed Potatoes, Mince and Pumpkin Pies?

NO! This year we all can go, for "Lorain" will be our chef Thanksgiving Day. The Lorain Oven Heat Regulator—wonderful device—will cook and bake all the principal elements of your dinner as perfectly as any master chef—and will do the work while you're miles away!

If your dinner is to be served at six, you can place all the good things in the magic oven, turn the little Red Wheel to 250 degrees and go "where you will" for four or five hours. When you return, everything will be deliciously done and ready to serve.

Come in and see how easy all this is done in a gas range equipped with the "Lorain". Ask us to explain its many remarkable advantages.

POLITICS AND WOMEN.

Notwithstanding Emerson saying that "a foolish consistency is the hobgoblin of little minds," it does seem apposite to say that there is something inconsistent in Miss Alice Robertson's attitude when she heard of her defeat. She is reported to have said that she had learned in office that women should stay out of politics. It is a curious statement for a woman to make, in the face of the nineteenth amendment, and considering the courtesy which was extended to Miss Robertson during her term of office.

For men, as well as women, there is much that is disagreeable or worse in practical politics and it would show a greater strength of mind not to run away from it, but to stay and fight it out. Miss Robertson's experience should prove to be of great value to women who contemplate a political career and she owes it to her sex, not to retreat from the fight for equality, but to stand by her guns and "fight it out like a man." It is, we think, a pertinent question to ask whether, in the event that Miss Robertson had won the election, she would have declined to serve?

We suspect that Miss Robertson wanted to stay in politics a little longer at least, and that she must have had something of the sort in mind when she permitted her name to be used as a candidate.

THE SOUTH SEES THE LIGHT.

It is an unhappy truism that the South, cradle of so much that is gracious and revered in American history and social life, also contains a population which has been permitted to sink into a grave apathy in the matter of education.

Poverty has played its part, but the impulse for educational facilities, it must be admitted, has not manifested itself in keeping with the commercial growth of the Southern states in more recent years. With one or two exceptions,—one thinks especially of the classic University of Virginia,—the universities and colleges below the Mason and Dixon line are far below the standard of educational facilities which prevail throughout the country.

The South in the past has neglected this work; Southern states are to be found at the bottom of the table for appropriations for educational purposes. The result is seen in the depressing stories brought forth by investigators in the mountain communities, in the coal fields, wherever cheap living is to be found, revealing a condition of social ignorance almost incredible. It is gratifying that the South itself is now coming to a realization of its need for the betterment of its educational institutions. Many of the states are setting about the task with commendable energy; Kentucky is seeking to float a bond issue of $3,000,000 for the benefit of the state university. Alabama is calling on its population to help rebuild its state university and has sounded a slogan which New Mexico would do well to adopt: "Education for all; for education."

While the South is profiting by the example of the more progressive states in this matter of education, which is of the most vital concern to everyone, other states may also find it profitable to avoid some of the mistakes of the South. The future of any community reposes in the opportunity for a liberal education which it places before its people.

ON TRAIL OF MAIL SWINDLERS.

The nation-wide drive against swindling use of the mails, announced by the department of justice, will receive the enthusiastic endorsement of the public in general and of the duped elements in particular. It is stated that approximately 500 cases representing a loss through postal swindles aggregating more than $140,000,000, are already in the hands of United States attorneys and that a larger number are in course of preparation.

Unquestionably the privilege of the mails has been abused by the swindlers who have availed themselves of this means of communication for mulcting unsuspecting investors. The fact that many schemes so pushed bore evidence of fraud on their face does not lessen the need for restrictions against the use of the mails for such purpose and for punishment of those who abuse them.

The public is entitled to the greatest protection that the government can furnish against fraudulent approach through the letter box. Even though many victims have fallen into traps that their own greed for easy and quick money has sprung, they are none the less entitled to protection against postal fraud.

The Markets

By the Associated Press.
FINANCIAL

Wall Street

New York, Nov. 22.—Speculators for the decline again rode on the top of today's stock market, bringing about more extensive liquidation of long stock and hammering prices down close to five points. Trading was slow to five points. Railroad shares, which heretofore had not been liquidated freely as the industrial, proved more vulnerable today, non-dividend paying stocks being especially weak in the afternoon reaction. St. Louis-San Francisco preferred broke below 26 for a net loss of more than five points but rallied to 26 at the close. Baltimore & Ohio dropped more than 4 1/2 points. Expectation of an early resumption of dividends at St. Louis-San Francisco preferred sent that stock soaring to 38 for a net gain of nearly four points, the common improving fractionally.

Investment issues fell under the weight of the selling movement. Union Pacific preferred yielding nearly 1 1/2%.
Outside news developments were largely favorable. The steel industry is operating at 80 per cent of capacity, announcement of additional stock or increased dividends, preliminary figures on October foreign trade showing exports of $372,000,000, the largest to date, as compared with $217,000,000 in the preceding month and $202,000,000 in August.

Steel shares offered a little better resistance, although United States Steel common broke below 102 and then rallied to 103 1/2. Some of the other outstanding weak spots were American Ice, American Express, Barnett Leather, Famous Players, Kresge, Mexican Petroleum, Otis Elevator, Lord & Taylor, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Woolworth. The losses ranging from three to six points.

There were a few exceptions to the downward trend. Continental Can being pushed up nearly two points to 103 1/2, a new high record for the year, and Sterling Products establishing a new peak price at 61 1/2 in response to an extra dividend of 75 cents. American Bank Note, also at a new high; Elkhorn Coal, Consolidated Gas and South Portland Rian Sugar were other outstanding strong spots.

Call money held steady at 5 per cent.
Foreign exchange opened easier and then rallied to $1.49 1/2 and French francs to 7.25.

Grain
Chicago, Nov. 22.—Wheat underwent a decided setback in price today owing largely to an unexpected decline in Liverpool quotations, as well as New York stock market weakness and disquieting reports about British unemployment conditions. The close was unsettled, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 lower with May $1.16 1/2 to $1.16 1/4 and July $1.08 to $1.08 1/2. Corn lost 1/2 to 1 1/4 and oats 1/2 to 3/4. In provisions the close varied from 5c decline to a rise of 1/4c.

Weakness developed at the outset in wheat because Liverpool advances showed that the market there was antagonistic to an advancing tendency which values displayed yesterday on this side of the Atlantic. Bearish reports about the domestic winter crop outlook counted further as a weight on the market. Nevertheless, rallies gained considerable impetus in the middle of the session as a result of predictions which were circulated that comprehensive plans United States government assistance in disposing of surplus food products abroad.

Heavy selling in the last half hour, though, carried the wheat market rapidly downward again, and the close was at almost the bottom figures of the day. It was during the final dealings that New York stock market weakness had most effect here as a depressing factor and that uneasiness regarding labor troubles in England led to increased selling.

Corn and oats followed the lead of wheat. Reports from Omaha suggested that western demand for corn had become less urgent. Provisions were inclined to sag in line with hog values.

This 400 average makes Cobb's third season above that figure, bettering the major league record of J. Burket of Cleveland, in the old National league in the late 90's. LUMBER MILL TO BE ERECTED AT BERNALILLO

Company Incorporated at $6,000,000 to Exploit Canyon de San Diego Grant of Jemez Forest

All about regarding the erection of a huge lumber mill at Bernalillo, 19 miles north of Albuquerque, has been disseminated with the organization of a corporation at Charleston, West Virginia. The corporation was formed solely for the purpose of exploiting the Canyon de San Diego grant, in the Jemez national forest.

This grant is a large body of timber composed almost entirely of western yellow pine. Tributary to the same operation there is another large tract, which contains between 500,000 and 600,000,000 feet of timber.

In order to exploit this vast quantity of timber the company was incorporated at $6,000,000, under the name of the White Pine Lumber company.

The company was organized by Guy A. Porter, who is president and chief figure in the corporation which is composed of business men of Charleston, West Virginia. The following men compose the board of directors:

W. McCorkle, former governor of West Virginia; George E. Breese, former mayor of Charleston, W. Va., and prominent in the lumber business in the southwest; M. W. Harrison, Isaac Lowenstein and Angus McDonald.

It has been decided that $1,000,000 in cash shall be paid into the company at once for the construction of a railway from Bernalillo to penetrate to the timber which is to be tapped. The tract is about 40 miles northwest of Bernalillo. The connecting railroad to be known as the Santa Fe Northwest-ern.

The mill and manufacturing plants at Bernalillo are estimated to cost $500,000. The mill will be located on a tract of 100 acres of land donated to the company by the citizens of Bernalillo. There will be an eight foot double hand saw with resaw. This will cut 150,000 over 16 hours and eventually is to be operated continuously.

It is estimated that it will take 75 years to cut the timber. All timber to be cut will be covered by a license. The cutting of timber is a business which is customary in most localities. The plant will be under the direction of Frank Porter.

PRICES OF COAL LOWER IN MOST MINING CENTERS

Wide Publicity, Combined With an Unusually Warm Autumn, Discouraged Buying by Consumers

Chicago, Nov. 22 (by the Associated Press).—Expectation that some coal operators would recoup strike through increased price, a belief given wide publicity at the end of the strike, when one or two operators were quoted as stating they had failed to materialize according to a survey of fuel conditions in middle western states.

The wide publicity, combined with an unusually warm autumn, discouraged buying by domestic consumers to such an extent that there had been a noticeable drop in prices in many states. Particularly in Illinois, where coal producing areas where freight rates for short hauls are not a major factor in setting their retail prices.

Typical of the general trend, according to Robert Medill, state fuel administrator of Illinois, are prices at the central Illinois mines. In the strike through increased price, a belief given wide publicity at the end of the strike, when one or two operators were quoted as stating they had failed to materialize according to a survey of fuel conditions in middle western states.

The wide publicity, combined with an unusually warm autumn, discouraged buying by domestic consumers to such an extent that there had been a noticeable drop in prices in many states. Particularly in Illinois, where coal producing areas where freight rates for short hauls are not a major factor in setting their retail prices.

Similar price reductions are quoted from several states. In Kansas dealers are selling coal at one to two dollars under last year's prices. In Missouri, and other states report lower prices.

A summary of the middle western fuel situation shows:
Illinois: Considerable coal on track. Miners working less than half the week; some car shortage in southern fields; prices dropping in central Illinois district.
Michigan: Utilities and manufacturing before sufficient supplies for present.
Iowa: Coal operators say there is no shortage in state; demand slow because of weather; at mine prices, only two or three days' stock on hand; no car shortage.
Wisconsin: Twelve million tons of soft coal on hand with $2,000,000 more expected; no investigation more extensive to meet all demands; anthracite shortage serious, with only 500,000 tons on hand and not more than 14,000 tons expected weekly, until navigation closes.

Kansas: Situation practically normal, with retailers able to supply all customers; prices at mines and retail a year ago, with with retailers selling one to two dollars under last year's market.
Nebraska: Situation described by state officials as "easy" car distribution somewhat; no danger of suffering unless rail transportation breaks down.

Missouri: Consumers have sixty day supply on hand and are buying in small quantities in anticipation of still lower prices.
Minnesota and northwest: Situation most promising since the resumption of mining in the east.
Oklahoma: Supply on hand is as large as usual at this season; some mines are idle because of lack of orders, or, at least, no possible officials say all consumers can be supplied.

Texas: Warm weather and the widespread use of natural gas, oil and light for heating purposes has decreased demand; plenty of coal now is reported on hand to fill orders, but the state commission and other possible shortage later in the winter.
