PROGRAM TO AD
FARMERS OF U.S.
IS FORMULATED
AT WHITE HOUSE

President, Secretary Wallace and 12 Republican Senators Hold Conference and Map Out Plans

WILL BE PUT BEFORE
CONGRESS AT ONCE

Utilization of the Federal Farm Loan Board for Extending Relief Is Proposed in Brief

Washington, Nov. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—The new administration program for immediate financial relief to farmers was formulated and practically perfected today at a conference between President Harding, Secretary Wallace and 12 republican senators headed by Senator Watson of Indiana. It will be put before congress at once and pressed with the full force of the administration.

Broadly the plans begin together in one administration the approved portion of various relief measures already pending in congress and contains also provisions to make the federal relief available to the small farmer as well as to the large cattle raisers and small grain growers.

Keeps Dinner Waiting
The conference was arranged by Senator Watson, who has been making an active survey of the question of relief, it was preceded by a series of conferences between Secretary Wallace and department of agriculture experts. Today President Harding kept his Thanksgiving dinner waiting while he heard the perfected program outlined and gave his general approval.

The plan proposes to utilize the federal farm loan board as the agency through which the relief is to be given. The details of the financial plan have been practically worked out. The general purpose is larger and more liberal credits and cheaper interest rates. The opinion of these participants is that the conference was that while the War Finance corporation had been of great value in all excepting the stressed conditions of agriculture, it was not a permanent solution.

Whole Subject Discussed
The whole subject of farm relief work was discussed exhaustively but the marketing problem was touched upon only in general terms. The general opinion at the conference was that to extend the program now to include so complex and much controverted a subject as marketing would be to delay the immediate object of relief. The president was told that the pressing need was to have at once financial aid made available to the thousands of farmers who are unable to dispose of their cattle and crops without losses.

The senators gave their approval to the program and noted their support for its immediate consideration in congress.

Another Payment of Income and Profits
Taxes Due on Dec. 15

Washington, Nov. 30.—The treasury issued a reminder tonight that another payment of income and profits taxes is due December 15. It estimated, a formal statement said, that the payment would bring in about $275,000,000.

Not all of the payment, however, will be in cash as the optional forms of payment permitted, taxpayers may turn in, in addition to cashier checks, either treasury certificates of indebtedness maturing December 15, or 4 per cent Victory notes which are not yet have been called for redemption. Approximately $200,000,000 of the certificates of indebtedness mature on the tax paying date, the statement said. The certificates of indebtedness maturing December 15, the treasury must take care of about $700,000,000 in Victory notes which have been called for redemption on the same date.

The Vatican will also make a direct protest to the Greek government, the news advises.

FURIOUS STORM ENCOUNTERED BY AN OCEAN LEVER

Steamship President Wilson Is Swept by 120-Mile Gale; Score of Passengers and Crew Injured

New York, Nov. 30.—Swept forward by a 120-mile an hour gale, waves which swept over the bridge and threw spray over the funnel, crashed through portholes and doors of the steamship President Wilson Tuesday, and brought in a score of her passengers and crew.

Captain Roberto Superich, commander of the vessel in today from Trieste, said the storm was the most furious in his experience. The storm began last Monday, but did not attain its greatest fury until Tuesday morning. A big wave stove in port lights, wrecked a glass of two-inch thickness in the bridge, injuring Captain Superich, but did not attain its greatest fury until Tuesday morning. REPRESENTATIVE
JAMES R. MANN
DIES SUDDENLY

A Chill, Followed by Pneumonia, Is Fatal to Congressman From Illinois for More Than 25 Years

Washington, Nov. 30.—Representative James R. Mann, of Illinois, died at his home here tonight after a brief illness.

Mr. Mann, who had served for a quarter of a century as a member of the house, was stricken a week ago, first with a chill. Pneumonia developed, his condition became desperate and the end came at 11:15 o'clock.

With him at the end were Mrs. Mann and the physicians. It was said that although he had recently passed two restless nights, his condition did not definitely develop for the worse until 1 o'clock this afternoon. He rallied slightly at 4 o'clock but again suffered a relapse and sank rapidly.

No plans were made for the funeral tonight but it was said that the sergeant-at-arms at the house would be communicated with tomorrow to assist in making the arrangements. It is understood that a funeral service in Chicago is in contemplation and that Mr. Mann will be buried there besides his son, who died four years ago. He is survived only by the widow.

SOVIET OFFICIALS IN RUSSIA TIRE OF
LONG WORKING HOURS

Moscow, Nov. 30.—Night work, which was so popular among the soviet commissars and various government officials when communists came to power, is gradually disappearing as part of the program of the new economic policy. The work of the various officials has been distributed in part to others, and it is no longer necessary for them to labor fifteen and eighteen hours out of every twenty-four.

Nikolai Lunine, the premier, since his return to office after a month's rest in the country made necessary by illness, occasionally works in the evenings, but not all the night as formerly. George Tchichinev, commissar of foreign relations, who until a few days ago worked until 8 or 9 o'clock in the morning, also works in the evenings seven days a week, but he usually finishes about 10 o'clock.

Generally speaking, official office hours nowadays are from 9 or 11 o'clock in the morning to 5 or 6 o'clock at night, with a few hours off in the late afternoon for dinner.

CENTER COLLEGE WINS
FROM SOUTH CAROLINA
UNIVERSITY, 42 TO 0

Danville, Ky., Nov. 30.—Centre College defeated University of South Carolina 42 to 0 in Kentucky's premier Thanksgiving football game here today.

Centre used the aerial game most effectively and completed 14 forward passes for an average gain of 19 yards.

Centre's score represented six touchdowns with goal kicked safely for each. Leamon kicked four goals after touchdowns and Captain Roberts accounted for the remaining two.

U. S. FORCES ON THE
RHINE WILL RETURN HOME, IT IS REMOVED

Coblenz, Nov. 30.—Notwithstanding the fact that no official information to the effect has been received here, a rumor that the American troops on the Rhine are soon going home was again circulated today.

While anxiously awaiting definite news, the soldiers did not allow their anxiety to interfere with their celebration of Thanksgiving. These two football games and the annual holiday dinners, figured in the day's program.

LABOR HEAD CHOSEN SECRETARY
BY GOVERNOR FOR FOURTH TERM

Phoenix, Ariz., Nov. 30.—Extensive travel and experiences gained as United States minister to Siam have given George W. P. Hunt, governor-elect of Arizona, a broader view of life than when he served three years as chief executive of the Sunning State.

This was the answer he gave when asked if he intended to carry on the radical program he adopted when he was previously head of the state.

"While I do not intend to emphasize my liberal policy, I will continue it," said the governor-elect, who gained a national reputation as a radical reformer. "My sympathy is with the underdog," he asserted.

Although the newly elected governor will not go into office until the first of the year he has already announced his appointment of H. S. McCluskey, president of the state federation of labor and editor of the Labor Journal, Hunt made clear that the laboring man and his allies from the east presented by the state on his return from foreign service.

His home on McDowell road, which is one of the show places of Phoenix, abounds with interesting gifts from the east presented by the state on his return from foreign service.

He, however, relies once more to be among his own people, and Mrs. Hunt is frank in saying she takes greater pride and pleasure in being the wife of Arizona's governor than the wife of the minister to Siam.

Is Presented a Poem
She presented him with a poem made from wood from the floor of Lincoln's old home and showed him, among other things, the sofa on which Lincoln courted his wife.

"He," exclaimed the tiger with a smile.

Then she showed him a photograph of the hotel in which Lincoln and his wife lived for a time before their marriage, explaining that they paid only "four dollars a week for room and board for two."

"Have you any like it now?" Clemenceau asked with a smile. Before he left, he wrote his name in the guest book and shook hands with Mrs. Brown, thanking her cordially for acting as his guide. Then the procession drove away to Oakridge cemetery, where the tiger was escorted in the Lincoln relic room and was shown about by Herbert W. Fay, custodian, and one of the greatest authorities on Lincoln.

The tiger signed another visitor's book and was presented with a piece of wood taken from the Lincoln home and an original photograph.

NATIONALIZATION OF
RAILROADS IN IRELAND
BEING CONSIDERED

Dublin, Nov. 30.—The commission appointed by the Irish government to inquire into the working of Irish railways has just reported, with one dissenting vote, in favor of the nationalization of the railways by the state. It is recommended, however, that the management be not in the hands of a state minister, but by a national railway board representing various interests, including labor.

The present value of the entire railway stock in Ireland is estimated as between twenty-five and thirty millions pounds sterling, which is suggested, should be acquired by a tribunal that would issue bonds at reasonable interest and redeemable from a sinking fund in installments every ten years. The project of nationalization, however, has been broadly criticized; it is not popular.

The Irish railways are at present being run under difficulties. During the war fares were raised 100 per cent, although the increase in England was only 75 per cent. This has now been reduced to 50 per cent while the Irish 100 per cent increase remains unaltered.

WREATH Laid BY CLEMENCEAU ON LINCOLN'S TOMB

"Tiger" Is Also Driven to the Former President's Old Home and Is Shown Through the House

Springfield, Ill., Nov. 30.—Georges Clemenceau bared his aged head at the tomb of Abraham Lincoln today and paid tribute to him as "one of the greatest men that ever lived."

"After the very appropriate and moving words I have heard I hardly dare say more," he said. "Don't believe I came here to try to consecrate such a memory."

Quoting from Lincoln's Gettysburg speech, he said he hoped, in the words of Lincoln, rather to be consecrated, that what remained to him of his life might be devoted to the service of mankind.

"Let me say no more. Here before one of the greatest men that ever lived, all my heart goes out to America and the great man she produced," he said.

Entered Marbled Hall
Before he spoke, bareheaded, in the cold mist beneath the linden shade that overhung the Oakridge cemetery, the tiger entered the marbled hall beneath the tall, plain Lincoln shaft, and laid a wreath on the sarcophagus beneath which the martyred Lincoln lay.

He said no word, stood motionless for a moment, laid the wreath and walked silently out. At the end of his speech, Clemenceau was asked by former United States senator Lawrence V. Sherman, master of ceremonies, to dedicate another wreath to his tribute to a dead soldier of the Rainbow division, which went first to France.

"It is my tribute to the American soldier," Clemenceau said, placing his hand on the wreath. Mr. Sherman then announced that it was to be laid on the grave of Otis Scott Humphrey, son of the late Federal judge Otis Humphrey, who died last night of pneumonia.

He was buried tomorrow in Oakridge, in the shadow of the Lincoln shaft.

The tiger's train reached Springfield from Chicago at 3 o'clock. Despite the inclement weather a crowd of several thousand persons greeted him at the station.

He was driven to Lincoln's old home, where he was shown through the house by Mrs. Mary Edwards Brown, whose grandmother was a sister of Lincoln's wife.

LYNCH WINS HANDILY FROM DALY IN THEIR NEW YORK CONTEST

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 30.—Joe Lynch, bantamweight champion of the world, won handily from Frankie Daly of New York in a four-round boxing contest here this afternoon. Lynch outboxed his opponent all the way, having him groggy in the seventh and tenth rounds.

Daly's best round was the fourth, when he caught the champion flush on the jaw and shook him up. Before the round ended, however, Lynch was back in the lead. Daly's best asset was his ability to absorb punishment.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—The Illinois Bankers association has warned Illinois banks to be careful in accepting Bank of England notes, especially the 50 and 100 pound denominations, as the secret service has informed the association that counterfeit Bank of England notes are about to be passed in this part of the country. The association was informed that notes were printed on water-marked paper, thinner than the genuine, and were being passed by unknown persons on the west coast.

Byron E. Thady Maintains Communication While Rising Waters Pour Into Building at Pueblo

New York, Nov. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—Byron E. Thady, 20, switchboard man, today was awarded the Theodore N. Vail gold medal for noteworthy public service and $500 in cash for unusual service during the flood at Pueblo on June 15, 1921.

Mrs. Josephine D. Pryor, chief of the switchboard at Pueblo, was awarded a silver medal and $250 for unusual service during the 1921 flood. Thady maintained communication while the rising river waters poured into the telephone building. When the lights failed, he improvised lamps so that the operators could remain at work.

He also saved records essential to re-establishing the service. A silver medal with $250 also was awarded to Miss Verda May Townley, chief operator, Freeport, Tex., for unusual service during a gulf coast storm June 22, 1921, and Miss Edna Wilson, night operator, Williams, La., for riding to an adjacent town to spread an alarm after bank robbers had cut all wires in her village, June 7, 1921.

DEMOCRATS WILL FIGHT THE DYER
BILL'S ADOPTION

Senate Opponents Prepared to Resume Their Filibuster Against the Anti-Lynching Measure

Washington, Nov. 30.—Senate democrats refreshed by the holiday rest, announced tonight that they were fully prepared to resume tomorrow their filibuster against the anti-lynching bill. Republican leaders indicated that the majority was equally prepared to continue its fight in behalf of the measure. The only question, accordingly, seemed to be whether the filibuster would be broken by the end of the extra session.

Whether the adjournment would be taken tomorrow night by joint resolution, or whether the extra session, as far as the senate is concerned, would lapse into the regular session Monday noon was a matter about which leaders tonight had made no decision. House leaders were understood to be preparing a resolution for the adjournment of both houses tomorrow night and republican leaders in the senate indicated such a proposal would be acceptable to them.

Democratic senators said they had in store a number of moves designed to prevent the senate from taking up the anti-lynching bill. Senator Harrison of Mississippi, one of the democratic leaders in the filibuster, said he and his colleagues had just begun to fight.

"Tuesday, when we started the filibuster, the republicans succeeded, after four hours, in getting the journal of the previous day's session," he added. "Yesterday the republicans were unable to get even this much done and they will be doing well tomorrow to get started on the journal of Wednesday's session."

St. Paul Boxer Recognized as World's Middleweight Champion; Dave Rosenberg Is Disqualified

New York, Nov. 30.—Mike O'Dowd of St. Paul won on a foul in the eighth round of a scheduled 15-round bout here today with Dave Rosenberg of New York. Rosenberg was disqualified for hitting low after two minutes and 28 seconds of fighting in the eighth round. O'Dowd was leading by a wide margin when the bout ended.

"The judges' decision awarding the bout to O'Dowd gives him the recognition of the New York State Athletic Commission as a world's middleweight champion."

Rosenberg twice had been warned by Referee Patay Haley in the eighth round, when suddenly O'Dowd crumpled under a sudden blow. Referee Haley immediately disqualified Rosenberg and the bout was awarded to the St. Paul boxer by the judges.

Immediately after the bout Deputy Boxing Commissioner Harry Burrill ordered that Rosenberg's share of the receipts be withheld, pending an investigation by the athletic commission.

GEORGE HARVEY IS GUEST AT A BANQUET GIVEN IN MANCHESTER

American Ambassador to England Outlines Formula for the National Policy of the United States

His Views Summed Up in Six Points
Avoid Entangling Alliances; Cultivate and Maintain a Concert of Europe; Are Recommended

Manchester, England, Nov. 30.—(By the Associated Press.)—George Harvey, the American ambassador, as the guest of honor at a Thanksgiving dinner of Anglo-American society tonight, outlined in six points what he considered a good formula for the national policy of the United States. The points are given by Mr. Harvey were:

First, to center the strength of the republic by just legislation and economy at home.

Second, to preserve to the nations of the world the blessings of peace.

Third, to strive to cultivate and maintain a concert of Europe, and to avoid needless and entangling engagements.

Fourth, to acknowledge the equal rights of all nations.

Fifth, the foreign policy of the United States should always be inspired by love of freedom.

Responding to the toast, "Cordial Relations," said a very few words would comprise a comprehensively adequate response.

"The relations between Great Britain and the United States, both between governments and peoples, ought to be cordial, and they are," he said.

"They should continue to be cordial, and they shall. What more need he say? The toast has been proposed and the response has been given. Argument is unnecessary. The assertion is accepted and the incident is closed."

After having tersely disposed of the subject of the toast, Mr. Harvey proceeded to comment at some length on the present industrial situation as compared with the period immediately following the Napoleonic wars. He emphasized that although conditions now admittedly were bad, they were vastly better, both in fact and promise, than obtained for fifteen long, dreary years following the Napoleonic wars.

Trade Conditions
Speaking of trade conditions and exchange rates, he showed a list of figures, showing an improvement. He declared that 2,000 pounds would buy more foodstuffs now than 2,000 pounds would have bought a year ago.

The chase of the pound sterling after the war had been a far more exciting one, and although the pace of the pound sterling had somewhat slackened last summer, its stride had been resumed and the goal, parity, although hardly within striking distance, nevertheless was in sight. "The day when it has been reached," the ambassador continued, "will indeed be a happy day and worthy of celebration on both sides of the Atlantic."

He then turned to the people of the world to make money, to make our money, if they can, by work, but not by lying down or by pleading the baby act. Uncle Sam remembers the debt in one respect, at least, he never forgets to help those who will at least try to help themselves.

"The United States has become what has been called a creditor nation. What of it? She was a debtor and a very large working debtor through many generations. It is not a crime to be a creditor, is it? I ask you Englishmen; you ought to know. If it is, beware of the home of the world."

Have Earned Their Wealth
"Great Britain has been, and as Sir George Paish demonstrated the other day, after having provided for all her obligations, still is a creditor nation of the world. That is right; that's as it should be. You sturdy, capable, far-seeing Englishmen have fairly earned your wealth and are justly entitled to keep it at that. I prefer to help those who will at least try to help themselves."

Easter Island Is a
Horrible Place to Live, Says Scientist

London, Nov. 30.—Easter Island, the land of mystery of the South Pacific, virtually devoid of vegetation and without bird life of any kind, is a horrible place to live, according to a New Zealand scientist who is now in London after a five months' tour of the island.

No trees grow on Easter Island because it lacks water and the heavy winds wreck them. No birds live there because there are no worms in the dry soil; there are no moorings, but this lack is more than compensated by vicious local flies.

The island is triangular, 12 miles by nine by seven, and is remote from the track of ships. Two hundred Polynesian inhabitants, and they suffer perpetually from hunger, according to the investigator, who is Professor J. Macmillan Brown.

It is famous for its high carved stone images, the origin of which never has been determined. Professor Brown says the island cannot have been inhabited. He fixes 1600 as the date of the first settlers, and consequently the setting up of the strange stone gods. It was first sighted by white men in 1888, and first explored in 1722, when it had 2,000 inhabitants.

ALBUQUERQUE HIGH FOOTBALL TEAM BEATS EL PASO

Coach Moore's Boys Win, 27 to 14, and Attain the Goal Which They Have Sought for Many Years

Decisively outplaying their opponents throughout the first half, slipping badly in the third quarter, only to come back with a glorious display of fighting spirit in the final period, Albuquerque High school achieved its great aim yesterday afternoon, at Washington Park over El Paso High school.

It was a long wait. Year after year, Coach Coblenz and his Tigers have thwarted the hopes of Albuquerque. Last year they added insult to injury by swamping Albuquerque under a 65 to 6 count.

It was a long wait and an unpleasant one. But how sweet are the fruits of victory! Albuquerque's streets were flooded with High school boys and girls, happier than the day they received their first toy. After the game and through out the evening staid business men clapped each other on the back to laughingly talk over the victory which has finally come.

On the lips of all were the names of Coach Addison Moore, Captain Glom, Roybal, Glassman, Allen, Coen and others of the victorious crew. The incomparable Malcolm Long was talked of as the greatest High school quarterback seen in the southwest since the days of Grant Mann and Billy Tate.

Up till yesterday, the Albuquerque High school was nameless as far as nicknames are concerned. But in the game yesterday they branded themselves as "Bulldogs," the name which shall hereafter be theirs.

The first Bulldog touchdown came in the first quarter, shortly after the game opened. After an exchange of punts, Long ran Carson's boot of 52 yards back 25 yards to the Tiger 48-yard line. Glassman made three at the end, Roybal failed to gain but Long made eight on a beautiful pass from Roybal.

Long slipped around end for six after Allen missed a pass. Glassman added another touchdown at the line. Glom crashed through tackle for seven and then added 34 on a similar play, reaching the Tiger three-yard line. On the next down the doughty little captain slipped through for the needed yardage. Roybal snapped another pretty pass to Long for the additional point and the Bulldog rooters went wild.

After an exchange of punts, "Doc" Dawson hooked a forward pass and scooted 23 yards, to the Bulldog eight-yard line. The Bulldogs held, Carson's attempted drop went low and Roybal recovered it.

coming back 15 yards. That play stopped El Paso for the first half. After play back and forth, Long grabbed another long foot by Carson and dashed back 23 yards to the exact center of the field.

On the first down opening the second quarter Roybal shot a pass to Long and the shifty quarter warded off two tacklers and slipped through for a 27-yard gain. On the next play Long went down the center of the field, yelled for the ball and thus sucked the Tiger secondary defense in. Roybal shot the ball to Glassman who straight armed two tacklers into the earth and dashed the needed 23 yards for the second touchdown.

This time Roybal drop kicked the goal. A little later in the period Roybal made a fair catch of a punt on his own 33-yard line. Long made 31 yards on a forward pass, escaping tacklers with a neat change of pace and a beautiful straight arm. Glassman ripped through tackle to the Tiger 1-yard line, duplicating Long's open field work. Another forward pass to Long added 13 more. And Glom, Glassman and Roybal hit the line successively. Roybal going over. Another forward pass to Long added the other point.

About the middle of the third period big Carlos Carter, who had been shifted from tackle to backfield, intercepted a forward pass and with all the grace but lumbering effectiveness of a bear, ploughed down the field for 42 yards, shaking off tacklers through his sheer strength. He was finally shown on the Bulldog 26-yard line. Digie Scotten slipped through the weak spot in the Bulldog line, at the left, to the three-yard line. He made 22 yards on the play and his dash followed an alighting of the ball to El Paso.

Glassman had knocked Harry down, when the former leaped into the air to break down a pass. On the second play after Scotten reached the three-yard line, Carter smashed the weak spot again and went over.

The other El Paso touchdown came just after the opening of the fourth quarter, after the Tigers had worked the ball close to the Bulldog goal line just before the end of the third period. Scotten ran Roybal's boot back eight yards, after an exchange of kicks, El Paso continued to smother that weak left tackle and rushed the ball to the 44-yard line.

Then came a long forward pass by Soto. Both Glassman and Dawson leaped for the ball. It looked like though Glassman had grabbed it first and that Dawson had hooked on to it with him. Both went to the ground and the umpire awarded the ball to Dawson on the Albuquerque 19-yard line.

Four times the Tigers drove into the Bulldog line. On the fourth the Bulldogs held a foot from the line but as he went down Carter forced the ball to within an inch of the line. Once Carter hit the line and was stopped. The second time he was forced into the air in the jam of players. Before Williams ruled the ball was across the line when the whistle sounded. Soto booted the goal and the Tigers were within striking distance.

With ten minutes to play and the Bulldogs apparently on the run many looked for an El Paso victory. But here the Bulldogs proved themselves. Striking savagely they soon worked the ball into El Paso territory. An attempted kick was blocked but Long dashed back and recovered the ball.

On the next play the same Malcolm Long ripped off a gain of 37 yards on a forward pass. A 15-yard penalty followed. Long added five on a forward pass, Glom hit the line for three and then retired from the game. Long went to the 12-yard line.

V. Moore then intercepted a forward pass on his own 10-yard line. On the next play Glassman intercepted a long forward pass and came back 42 yards to the Tiger 23-yard line. Tomet hit the line twice for three and then four yards. Then Roybal took the ball and dashed back 23 yards and sprinted around the Tiger right end for the final touchdown. Glassman barely missed the try for the goal.

When the game ended the Bulldogs were again pounding down into El Paso territory.

The lineup follows:

Babe Ruth preparing to break Wilhelm's ax-wielding record.

Babe Ruth, realizing at last that perfect physical condition is necessary if he is to win back the laurels he once held as king of swat and the affection of the fans, is said to be working in earnest on his newly acquired farm at Sudbury, Mass., to get down to playing weight. He is counting on general work around the place, long hikes and sane living to turn the trick.

Keeping 150 Trucks in Tune

THE Shaw Motor Company is through experimenting with lubricating oils. The following letter is typical of the experience of thousands of concerns and individual owners in the use of POLARINE, The Perfect Motor Oil:

SHAW MOTOR COMPANY

Mr. J. T. Strong, Division Manager, The Continental Oil Company, Salt Lake City, Utah.

Dear Sir:

There are 150 FWD Trucks operating in this territory, directly under our supervision, and for their lubrication we invariably recommend Polarine Oil; Polarine for winter and Polarine Heavy for summer.

We have found that Polarine can be absolutely depended on for uniformity and quality and we have not experienced a minute's trouble from its use. Practically every oil on the market has been thoroughly tried out in the operation of these trucks, but we have found none equal to Polarine for all-round satisfaction. The same is true of your Polarine Cup Grease and Transmission Oil.

Permit us to say a word commending your service and the accessibility of your products. Wherever we sell trucks, or have them operating, we are always within a short distance of one of your warehouses and find that you have in stock the products we need for immediate use. This is another reason why we strongly recommend the use of Polarine Oils and Greases to users of FWD Trucks.

Yours truly, SHAW MOTOR COMPANY, (Signed) A. W. Shaw, Manager.

You can prove all of this to your own profit and advantage the next time you need oil. Remember, there is a grade of POLARINE exactly suited to your type of car.

HI-Y CLUB GIVES BANQUET-DANCE TO EL PASOANS

Turkey Spread Given at Y. W. C. A. and Dance Later at Woman's Club; Chef Proves Hero

The Albuquerque Hi-Y club gave a banquet at the Y. W. C. A. and followed with a dinner dance at the Woman's club last night in honor of the high school visitors from El Paso. About the festive banquet were "entertained" the Hi-Y, football players of both teams and the "sweethearts" of both. The game was played half a dozen times before the final course was served and the speakers of both teams had their turn to get up and tell the assembly "what might have been." The banquet might not have been had it not been that Charles Degele, chef at the Y. W. C. A., is a football fan and a great admirer of the local high school players. The Hi-Y is supposed to hold its dinners at the Y. M. C. A. but for some reason the Y. M. failed to deliver for this occasion and the Y. W. C. A. volunteered to come to the rescue, providing Chef Degele could be induced to prepare the meal. It was his "day off." But learning of the cause he gladly agreed to prepare the banquet. At the banquet a rising voice of thanks was offered for the "chef who had saved the day." And, probably for the first time in history, a chef was offered a full throated high school "yell."

After the banquet toasts were offered and an octette and a quartette offered musical entertainment. Each group gave its yell for the other group.

Coach Luther Coblenz, of El Paso, complimented Albuquerque, said they have one of the best high school teams in the southwest, are a great crowd of sportsmen and have a team ranking with the Phoenix. He added that since his team had to lose they had rather lose to Albuquerque than any team in the country.

Coach Addison S. Moore came back with the statement that Albuquerque had rather win from El Paso than any other team. This, he said, was not so much because El Paso has so persistent defeated Albuquerque as because El Paso is always rated high in football circles and because of the fact they are such splendid sportsmen. He said there is always more genuine pleasure in defeating such a team as El Paso than one which does not touch down in the game yesterday, as he did. He told how in the game two years ago, with the score tied and only two minutes to play, El Paso made a trick play which netted the lone touchdown of the game. Gioni had been sucked over on the play and left El Paso a clear field.

Shortly after that he enlisted in the United States navy and served a year and a half. His greatest ambition has been to score the first touchdown for Albuquerque against El Paso, to wipe out that other play. Yesterday was his last chance.

When he had finished El Paso and Albuquerque boys and girls joined in a cheer for his success. Captain Stanley Dawson spoke for El Paso. He offered a splendid talk and was cheered almost as loudly as Gioni had been. Malcolm Long and Ivan Scott, quarterbacks for Albuquerque and El Paso, respectively, also offered short toasts. Professor John Burton addressed the meeting. The Maroon Octette offered vocal selections. Another quartette sang and led in community songs.

After the banquet all present went up to the Woman's club for the dance. The dance continued until late last night and all enjoyed a happy night. This was particularly true of the Albuquerque football players, tending for the first time the sweets of victory over El Paso. The El Paso boys, having the names of other years to look back to, were not disturbed and enjoyed themselves thoroughly.

Following were those present at the banquet: Messrs. Luther Coblenz, Addison S. Moore, William Tooley, Stanley Dawson, Binford, Hanley V. Moore, Tatum, Clark, Simon, Cooksey, Woodul, Hargrove, Carson, Carter, Scotten, Phillips Light, Solto, Frank Cole, Frank Hudlock, Graham McNary, Malcolm Long, Harold Blank, Owen Marron, Frank Stortz, Mervin Zilmer, Charles Remick, Freddie Ward, Paul Faw, George Olson, Bob Hughes, Hugo Gioni, Ted Gallier, George

State Association of Young People's Religious Society Will Begin Sessions Tonight

Dr. Daniel A. Poling, associate president of the United Society of Christian Endeavor; Clarence C. Hamilton, field secretary, and W. Roy Breg, southwestern secretary of the same organization, will arrive in the city this morning to attend the state convention of the Christian Endeavor union. They will come from Holbrook, Ariz. where they spent Thanksgiving on Dr. Poling's ranch. Out-of-town delegates and visitors are expected on various trains throughout the day.

The convention will open at the Presbyterian church this evening at 7:45, and sessions will be held throughout Saturday and Sunday. This is the first state C. E. convention that New Mexico has had for some time, and from the outlook, it will be the most important gathering of the young people of this organization to ever held in this state. The state union is to be re-organized. It is unusual to have so many national Christian Endeavor officers in attendance at a single convention, and it is expected that the program will be of a high order.

Dr. Poling will be the speaker at the session this evening. He is one of the foremost leaders in the Christian young people's movement in the country, and has traveled in the interest of Christian Endeavor in all parts of the world. During the war he was an active leader in Y. M. C. A. work overseas, and has since written several books telling of his experiences. At one time he was gassed, and on several occasions narrowly escaped death. He has been at the forefront of many movements looking toward civic righteousness and religious advancement. His message this evening will be the keynote address of the convention, and an unusually large attendance is expected.

Following is the program for tonight:

Friday Evening
Presiding, the Rev. A. M. Knudsen.
7:30. Song service, led by the Rev. Charles R. McKean.
Devotional service.

WISCONSIN IS PROMINENT IN PEA INDUSTRY

Ninety Thousand Acres Devoted to Raising This Crop; Average Annual Crop, 7 Million Cases

Milwaukee, Wis., Nov. 30.—Ninety thousand acres of farm land in Wisconsin are used in the raising of peas, more than 60 percent of the total amount produced in the United States, according to J. A. Hagemann, Fort Atkinson, Wis., secretary of the Wisconsin Pea Packers' association. The average yearly crop in this state amounts to more than 7 million cases, which, during June, July and August, keep 120 canning factories in the state running at full blast.

After the vines have been cut and loaded onto hay racks, they are dumped into a shaft in which better boards revolve rapidly. The vines move through this shaft in a cylinder and the pods given glancing blows from the better boards, the peas falling from the pods into a perforated rubbered surface drum.

The peas must be sorted and the chaff and foreign materials removed. This is done upon a large revolving apron after the peas have been sorted. From the apron, the perfect ones roll into boxes and the split peas and chaff are carried to the back of the apron and later used for silo. The new vines also are used for silo, and according to Mr. Hagemann, make one of the best cattle feeds known.

In the cleaning mill the pea is thoroughly washed and made ready for their introduction to the canning factory.

Slowly moving belts attached to long tables pass the peas before women who remove any foreign material or discolored peas that may be left and then rolled on into blanchers where they receive some more cleaning and are par boiled from two to ten minutes. The first fillers die charge a fixed quantity of brine moisture and peas into cans which seal underneath, and are carried automatically to closing machines which seal the filled cans. Peas should not be overcooked, said Mr. Hagemann, when they have served their time in the cooking retorts, the cans are placed in cold water to stop any further action of the heat.

The Trouble Shooter

TELLS YOU what's wrong

By E. H. Scott

Know your motor and eliminate 50% of your motor troubles. This series of articles tells you how.

There are few automobile drivers who realize how necessary it is to drain all the old oil out of the crankcase every 600 miles in winter and every 800 miles in summer.

Here's why it PAYS to drain your old oil off regularly. No matter HOW good your piston rings are a small amount of raw gasoline finds its way into the crankcase on every compression stroke of the engine, diluting the oil and destroying its lubricating properties; then excessive wear takes place.

In summer the gasoline is vaporized better than it is in winter, and in addition, during the winter weather you run on a richer mixture and use the Choker more than you do in summer, so that in winter more raw gasoline finds its way into the crankcase than it does in summer, hence the reason for draining more frequently in the winter than you do in the summer.

If you DO NOT drain your crankcase REGULARLY you will save perhaps $10 a year on your oil bill, but your REPAIR BILLS will be at least $50 more than they would have been if you had drained off your old oil at regular intervals. At the end of three years your engine will be rapidly nearing the junk pile, whereas if you had attended to the above it would probably still be in good shape.

THOUSANDS JOIN IN CRUSADE TO ENFORCE LAWS

Organization Formed in Illinois Four Years Ago Is Extending Its Activities to Other States

Chicago, Nov. 30.—Twelve thousand Illinois men have been commissioned as special constables in one of the most highly organized anti-crime societies in the United States.

Formed four years ago as the department of constabulary of the State Society for Prevention of Crime and Apprehension of Horse and Automobile Thieves, the organization has extended into every county, and is now branching out in Indiana and Wisconsin, under similar laws. There are already nearly a thousand members in each of those states.

Organized along semi-military lines, the constabulary forms an adjunct to the regular paid police officers, ready to assist in any emergency, or to take charge in the absence of the regular authorities.

While the original purpose of the movement was to prevent cruelty and track horse and automobile thieves, the department now maintains automobile patrols, operates a special intelligence service to ferret out vice, gambling, bootlegging and other offenses, and furnishes men to keep order at fires and in other emergencies. Among the cases brought by the constabulary, and now pending in Chicago courts, is one in which a large teaming contractor is accused of underfeeding 300 horses. As a result of the society's work, according to Walter P. Stuart, general superintendent of constabulary, diseased, overworked and underfed horses have practically been eliminated from Chicago.

The constabulary has a troop in every police precinct in Chicago, several in the outlying townships, and a troop in each downstate county, a total of 150 troops. The maximum strength of each troop is one captain, four first lieutenants and 224 constables. In addition there is an inspector commanding each of the twenty divisions into which the state has been divided, and a county superintendent of the society in each county.

WAR IS PLANNED BY GERMANY, IS LONDON REPORT

Germans Are Actively Engaged in Preparing for a Struggle of Revenge, Chiefly Against France

London, Dec. 1.—That the Germans are actively planning a war of revenge chiefly against France, of which purpose they have concentrated to the Daily Mail, which displays it under big headlines.

The paper claims to have made exhaustive inquiries in Germany, and Paris into the memorandum's accuracy with the result, the Mail says, that it has been very largely supported thereby.

Except for precise details the Mail's story does not differ materially from similar statements printed from time to time in anti-German papers.

The memorandum particularizes with respect to alleged arrangements to enable Germany to utilize Russia's resources, including complete internal reorganization, which will make possible the support of both herself and Germany, so that Germany may ignore any sea blockade.

It says that German armament firms will establish factories in Russia, whose armies will be equipped thereby, and submarines and mine layers will be built in Russian dock yards under German guidance and manned by Russian crews under German officers.

Poland is to be crushed and annexed by Russia, so as to give Russia and Germany a common frontier.

The Mail claims that its inquiries regarding the memorandum have elicited the fact that the 500 German officers are now in Moscow carrying out the conditions of the secret agreement; that many engineers from Krupp have begun the reorganization of Russian munitions works, while German engineers are also reconditioning the Russian railroads to the Ruhr front.

Proof, says the Mail, has been obtained by the allies, that the Germans are delivering large numbers of airplanes to the Russian government, one firm dispatching commercial airplanes to Smolensk, where they are converted into military machines.

Further statements deal with alleged constant and surreptitious military training of German youths similar to war preparation.

TEXAS BOY KILLED
Temple, Texas, Nov. 30.—Pranks of boy hunters caused J. W. Carnes, 77 years old, to fire into their midst with a shotgun last night, killing Preston Jones, 16. Carnes lives in the country with his sister. According to his story, he had no idea the boys were playing pranks on him and fired only after warning them, to which they gave no answer.

"The Kaiser must be brought to trial," said the allies long ago. "Leave him to me," said Judge Hyman.—Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger.

NEBRASKA BEATS NOTRE DAME BY 14 TO 6 SCORE

More Than 16,000 Spectators Watch the Cornhuskers Plow Holes Through Lines of Grid Rivals

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 30.—Nebraska University crowned her string of football achievements on Nebraska field here today by demonstrating a superior quality of football in a sectional contest with Notre Dame university, the game ending with the Cornhuskers on the larger end of a 14 to 6 score. More than 16,000 spectators watched the Nebraska team plow great holes through the line of the South Bend team. Notre Dame was not lacking in making gains. While the much touted aerial game of Notre Dame was not employed to the advantage that was expected, it served at times to make ground and the only touchdown scored by the South Benders. Miller's great run down the side line after a fair catch of Leyden's forward pass in the third period, was one of the outstanding spectacular features of the game. H. Dewitz paralleled the achievement in the fourth period, except for the touchdown, when he plunged through the left side of Notre Dame's line for 40 yards, bringing the ball to the opponent's 15-yard line. A tackle by Stuhldreher saved a touchdown. In the first period, Nebraska lost a touchdown by a costly fumble by Noble when the ball was within a few feet of the goal line. Nebraska's scores were made in the second period. The first came after a series of line plunges by Noble, Russell, Lewellen and Hartley had advanced the ball to within 18 yards of Notre Dame's goal line. Scherer, the Cornhusker right end, ran to his co-end's corner for 16 yards, which brought the ball to the two-yard line. Hartley plowed through the remaining distance for the touchdown and then drop-kicked for the extra point. Later in the period Hartley shot a forward pass to Noble, who broke loose around Notre Dame's left end for the second touchdown. It was a gain of 38 yards. Captain Hartley place-kicked the goal for the extra point.

Preston, Nebraska regular quarterback, out of the game with a broken leg, was carried to the field and watched the game from the side lines. Gen. John J. Pershing occupied a special box and was Nebraska's guest of honor.

COLUMBIA NO MATCH FOR COLGATE'S TEAM

New York, Nov. 30.—Displaying a powerful, bewildering running attack, Colgate's eleven overwhelmed Columbia today, 59 to 6. The Maroons rushed over a touchdown in the first few minutes of play and after a brief offensive by Columbia in the second quarter, the up-staters turned the contest into a rout. It was the final game of the season for both teams and marked the retirement as coach at Columbia of Frank J. (Buck) O'Neill, who has resigned. Columbia was no match for Colgate at the rushing game but uncovered a flashy aerial attack, especially in the second quarter, when, after a series of successful passes, Roderick heaved a 40-yard toss to Gehrig, who dashed five yards more for a touchdown.

CORNELL ELEVEN WINS, 9-0, FROM PENNSYLVANIA U.

Fifty Thousand Persons See the Game; Victors Are Only Eastern Team Unbeaten for Two Years

Philadelphia, Nov. 30 (By the Associated Press).—Gil Dobie's powerful eleven from Cornell defeated the University of Pennsylvania today, 9 to 0, on straight football and remains the only big team in east which has not been beaten for two years.

It was the first time Pennsylvania failed to score this season. The last game Cornell lost was to Pennsylvania on Thanksgiving day, 1920. A placement goal by Hanson in the first period and a touchdown by Cassidy in the third makes up the total of Cornell's efforts that counted today, but give no indication of the offensive and the complete superiority of the Red team. The highly touted defensive of Pennsylvania was hopeless against the rushes of Captain Kaw, Pfann, Ramsey and Cassidy, while its offensive was weak and failed to uncover anything new.

Fifty-five thousand persons saw the game. Pfann is Individual Star. The Cornell backfield plunged through the enemy's line almost at will. Pfann being the individual hero, with Kaw, Ramsey and Cassidy only a shade less prominent in the attack.

The first score came after a sharp series of rushes which brought the Red eleven to within 12 yards of the Quaker goal. Pennsylvania forwards staged a rally and then Cornell made only two yards in three attempts. On the fourth down, Kaw threw a forward pass to Guillock, who forced out of bounds on Pennsylvania's three-yard line before he could make the necessary distance. Pennsylvania took the ball and Hamer punted to Cornell on Pennsylvania's 35-yard line. Cornell's offensive checked again and then Hanson kicked a placement goal from the 33-yard line.

The touchdown in the third period came after a series of line plunges through tackle and end runs by Pfann, Ramsey and Cassidy, the ball being carried all the way down the field to Pennsylvania's 48-yard line. Hanson failed to kick the goal.

T. C. UNIVERSITY IS DEFEATED BY KANSAS AGGIES BY 45-0 SCORE

Manhattan, Kans., Nov. 30.—After holding the Kansas Aggies to a scoreless tie in the first half of their football game here today, the Texas Christian university snowed under a final score of 45 to 0. Kansas used a second string back field in the first half and although often approaching the Texas goal were unable to score. In the last two periods, the Aggies scored almost at will, using forward passes successfully.

LOCAL BUSINESS MEN WILL TAKE UP VOLLEY BALL

Y. M. C. A. Has Arranged for Special Classes; Special Gymnasium Work Is Also Being Planned

Albuquerque business men, deprived of much of their golf through the sharp weather and early nightfall, have turned to the gymnasium for their required exercise. At their request the Y. M. C. A. has arranged for special business men's volley ball classes.

There will be two of these classes each week. Starting next Tuesday night, they will be held Tuesday and Thursday nights at eight o'clock. The hour has been especially arranged on nights when other engagements are infrequent. This arrangement is made as a particular convenience for the business man. Many have already joined the classes and all other business men are invited to do so.

Chas. Williams, Y. M. C. A. physical director, is also arranging a special business men's gymnasium class. This will be held from 5:30 to 6:30 in the evening, to permit the business men to work out the kinks gathered during business hours. The arrangement will enable them to work out these kinks between the closing of business hours and dinner hour. The exercises to be given will not be strenuous.

The indoor athletic test being taken by all boys' classes are now nearly completed. This test is for the purpose of grading the boys according to their ability, the chart which is made being held for future handchecking in indoor meets.

One record has been broken in this test. Joe Whitehouse broke his own former record in the running high jump from springboard. His leap was 6 feet 11 inches, just three inches better than his former record. The springboard jump is one in which success depends primarily on perfection of form.

In the Junior C class Edward Walsh broke the record for boys of 90 pounds, with a running high jump of 4 feet 5 inches.

Interclass basketball is to be instituted in the near future. There will be four teams in the Junior A, Junior B and Older Boys classes. There is only one team of Employed Boys. This team is willing to play games with any teams of 30 pounds.

THE FANNING HIVE

BY NORMAN E. BROWN.

Yale's 1922 Reverses. Will not spell the end of Tad Jones' regime as head coach of the Bulldog eleven.

That is practically a sure bet. For, while to the casual observer Yale has had a poor year—if judged by its defeats at the hands of Princeton, Iowa and Harvard, its three most formidable rivals, those in on the know realize that Tad has done well with the team.

From the material Jones had at the start of the season he molded a good team. The popular Tad risked his popularity and his grid future to carry out a principle he believed to be right. This was his move in barring "from practice every man who was deficient in his studies. In past years men ineligible or on "probation" because of low marks had been allowed to work out with the "scrubs" pending reinstatement. This practice naturally helped the team and the men in question because they could keep in shape and up with the progress of the team. Jones believed that the men should be "cleared" before stepping onto the field.

Yale opened by kicking Bates 45 to 0, then beat Carnegie Tech 15 to 0. Considering Tech's strength this was a more notable victory than the Bates win, but the outsiders don't realize it.

When North Carolina beat Yale to a 14 to 6 victory the knackers got busy. Iowa's arrival the following week was heralded as a coming tragedy for the Eli team. Tad's men, however, forced Brotherton Howard's team to the limit to win by a single touchdown. Williams fell, 38 to 0, and then the Army gave Yale a setback by holding it to a 7 to 7 tie. But that game doesn't look so bad now in the light of the Army's 17 to 14 victory over the Middles recently. Then came the Princeton game. Yale lost—fighting to the last ditch—3 to 0. The critics arose en masse. Their knocking was halted again, however, when Princeton treated Harvard as rudely.

While leading Yale through an interesting if not highly successful season, Jones has accomplished much that does not show on the surface. He has put under way a system which both he and Yale leaders will bear fruit in the future. For him to depart now would be a tragedy.

TEXAS UNIVERSITY DEFEATED BY TEXAS AGGIES; SCORE 14-7

Austin, Tex., Nov. 30.—The Texas Aggies came from behind in the third quarter and pushed over a touchdown which gave them a victory over Texas university, 14 to 7. The Longhorns were outplayed in the last half in every feature. The forward passing of the Aggie team proved the winning method for the Aggies.

TEXAS MINERS WIN

El Paso, Tex., Nov. 30.—Texas College of Mines of El Paso defeated Daniel Baker college of Brownwood, Tex., here this afternoon, 3 to 0. Left Halfback Eugene Bennett kicking a field goal in the final quarter. The Daniel Baker eleven greatly outweighed the Miners, but speed and excellent team work figured in stemming the tide of victory to the locals.

A USEFUL XMAS SUGGESTION.

While most of us can't always afford to give the presents at Xmas time that we'd like for the simple reason that our incomes will not stand for such lavishness, nevertheless if we are thrifty, and if we are not, there is no reason why we shouldn't acquire it, pretty and useful Xmas gifts may be made at home in spare hours. Illustrated is a pretty apron bag which every woman who does hand sewing, such as darning socks, etc., would appreciate. The two sides of the bag are cut exactly alike, and the apron section with a straight belt stitched to it, is sewed to the inside of the bag on one side. The apron may be pushed into the bag when not in use, and the bag is bound with bias seam binding.

The pattern No. 5628 cuts in one size and requires 1 yard 5-inch material with 6 1/2 yards binding. Price 15c, stamps or coin (coin preferred).

Order patterns by number. Send all orders direct to Fashion Department, Albuquerque Morning Journal, 230 South Wells Street, Chicago, Illinois.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

To Keep Bacon Bacon will not become rancid if kept in a wooden tub and covered with sawdust.

Washing Glassware When washing fine glassware put it in the hot water edgewise. If put in bottom first it is apt to crack from sudden expansion.

Stewed Tomatoes Add a slice of onion to tomatoes when first put on to stew. It can be removed before thickening the tomatoes but the flavor will remain.

About Linoleum You have, perhaps, noticed how thick and heavy the linoleum seems in some of the places you visit. A very fine layer of sawdust is laid under the linoleum before it is put down and it not only adds to the life of the floor covering but makes a softer substance to stand on.

When Purchasing Galoshes The heel is an important thing to consider when buying over shoes or galoshes. The most satisfactory solution is to buy those with medium heels, as they can be worn with either high or low heeled shoes. A rubber heel can be ground in the heel of the galoshes if they do not exactly fit the particular pair of shoes you are desirous of wearing.

A STENOGRAPHER'S ROMANCE

BY JANE PHELPS

AN ACCIDENT AND AN AWAKENING

Chapter 65

Nellie and Miss Jones were at their desks. Mr. George Fallon had not yet come in. Suddenly Nellie was aware of an unusual disturbance in the hall—voices, orders, loud voices. The door opened, and men carrying the limp figure of her employer came in.

"What is it?" Miss Jones exclaimed as she sprang from her chair, and helped lay him on the leather couch.

"He was getting out of his machine, stepped in front of another, one of the men said, but Miss Jones scarcely heard. She was telephoning for a doctor. No one had noticed Nellie, who had crept to Mr. Fallon's side, and after one look at his white face, had fainted.

"He's dead," she said, and her face was as white as paper. "He's dead," she said, and her face was as white as paper.

"We can't tell how seriously he is injured until the doctor comes," the woman held her hand over her heart. "He's breathing—there comes the doctor," as a capable looking man came in.

Almost before he had time to examine the injured man, Fallon opened his eyes and a faint smile to Nellie's anxious face, sent the blood back to her cheeks.

"He's bruised some, but it's principally shock. I don't think he is injured otherwise," the doctor said. "He's all right," he said, and he cleared so that he might make a thorough examination and be sure.

"Nellie went into the elder Mr. Fallon's office, and when Miss Jones went there to look for her she found her head on the floor, her folded arms crying as if her heart were broken.

"Why, Nellie!" she said, an arm about the girl. "Don't cry so, dear, Mr. Fallon is all right. It was the shock that made him unconscious for a few moments. The doctor says he isn't hurt, that after a rest he will be all right."

"They might have killed him," Nellie sobbed drying her eyes, and only controlling her sobs with an effort.

"But they didn't, so bathe your eyes and we'll get to work. The doctor is going to take him home."

When Nellie returned to the office they had gone. It was a quiet, very sad-looking girl who looked at Miss Jones that day. Dying, knowing work the best thing for her, she kept Nellie even busier than usual until closing time. Just before they closed their desks she telephoned Mr. Fallon's home and inquired how he was.

"You say he is better?" she asked. "You're sure knowledge to Nellie herself."

"I love him—I love him," she meant as she flung herself on the bed. "I didn't mean to, she sobbed, "but I couldn't help it. I didn't know I was loving him until he was hurt—I didn't know!"

Realizing the hopelessness of her love, she wondered if she would have to leave the office; if she could bear to see him now?

"No one will know. I can't go where I won't see him!" she said. "I'll never let him—anyone know."

I harvest my tomatoes, and sell them at the store; I grow two mashed potatoes where but one grew before. The rake-off's rather sharp, but every time while I save some legal tender, and have a decent pie. The shameful name of piker on me is oft bestowed; I ought to be a hiker on speculation's road. "Oh, come where for-bee!" cries my smiling neighbor; he takes his all and reckons that he will draw a prize. He speeds where hosts are rushing, great riches to behold; he goes where oil is gushing, where riches are yielding gold. I see him come back, plodding, with weary feet and knees; and I am busy soddin', or pruning rhubarb trees. I still am growing carrots, or mowing fragrant hay, or teaching plebeian parrots to lay three eggs a day. My humble labors keep me contented year by year; no get-rich craze can sweep me from this, my proper sphere. "I see," says neighbor, sadly, "you're at the same old tricks I saw you at when madly I went to buy gold bricks. I think your tail was sordid, I jeered as I went by; I'd soon have money corded around me ten feet high. May my luck never reach you, for all my dreams were bunk! And now I would beseech you to stake me with a plunk."

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

By MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

Dear Mrs. Thompson: Please tell me some way to make my eyelashes long and curly. They are short and seem to come out more than they should.

It is bobbed hair going out of style? I would like to have mine bobbed, but I don't want to if it is going out of style. TIAN YOUNG. The following is an eyebrow and last tonic:

Red vaseline five grams; boracic acid, ten centigrams. Make into a smooth paste and massage into the brows at night, also rubbing lightly over the lashes at the roots. Lashes curl naturally if they are long enough.

Bobbed hair is going out of style but not every girl is giving it up by any means. Just as many who have it say they will not let their hair grow as there are women who are letting theirs grow.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have a boy friend whom I have been going with for about a year and he has a boy friend who is also a very good friend of mine. I also have a few girl friends whom I think a lot of and do not care to be enemies with them. I have gone with these same girls about a year and a half. My boy friend is constantly making trouble between me and the girls. I have patched things up dozens of times, but the time has come when patching up is impossible. He doesn't hold anything I tell him sacred but goes and tells everything which I have told him to keep to himself.

I am not in the habit of fighting and do not care to have any enemies, but these girls are angry at me and I don't want them to have any hard feelings. It is in vain that I have tried to please both sides. If I do this there is always trouble.

Please tell me what is best to do in my case. I don't like to make the boys angry either. Do you think if my girl friends thought as much of me as I do of them that they would listen to so much gossip? Or do you think they are worthy of so much consideration? And would it be better for me to drop them? If I am the cause of so much trouble, I sometimes feel like doing something desperate. Please advise me.

BROKEN-HEARTED. Talking too much is probably your difficulty. You must learn to be a diplomat and say only such things as can be repeated with safety. WOMEN SOLONS WILL WORK FOR CHILD WELFARE

First Three Elected to the Minnesota Legislature Have Mapped Out a Program of Legislation

Minneapolis, Minn., Nov. 29.—Efforts in behalf of working girls and child welfare is the one issue upon which the first three women ever to represent Hennepin county (Minneapolis) in the Minnesota legislature are united, and for which they will work when the session begins next January.

Only one woman representative, Miss Myrtle Cain, of the 28th legislative district, has definite policies. Endorsed by the former labor party which this year elected a United States senator in Minnesota, and the working people's nonpartisan political league, Miss Cain will support the platform of the two organizations. This calls for progressive farm legislation; relief to overburdened working girls in industry; opposition to the proposed state constabulary; repeal of the Brooks-Coleman law, which gave traction companies indeterminate franchises, and restoration of the direct primary which was replaced two years ago by the convention method.

Mrs. Maebeth Hurd Paige, wife of Prof. James Paige, of the University of Minnesota law school, declared she would support child welfare and working girl legislation, although her main intention in seeking her seat in the state assembly from the 20th district was to get women in office to help in making the laws which govern both sexes. Admitted to the bar, and head of the Women's Christian association, an organization composed of 750 working girls, Mrs. Paige said she had the background for welfare and philanthropic work, and that she would "go to the legislature and work generally."

The third woman state solon, Mrs. Sue M. Pike Hough, will put her votes to industrial and welfare legislation, especially that which affects employed girls, and support progressive measures, she states. Mrs. Hough is a real estate tenant. Miss Cain has been identified with labor organizations for several years, and her last position was organizer for the Minnesota Federation of Labor.

Good results are reported from the drillers who are putting down the well to secure city water for Vaughn. The drill has reached the 100-foot mark this week. It is expected that the water sand will be encountered at about 170 feet.

Some shallower sands have been passed through but they contain little water, due, no doubt, to the exceptionally dry season. E. M. Harris, in charge of the drilling, says that the log of the well shows that the geological survey of the structure was correct in every detail and he has great faith in the venture.

THE KU KLUX KLAN

The Ku Klux Klan is an organization of misguided individuals. But it is not likely that much will be accomplished against the Klan by starting out with the assumption that that body is essentially a criminal organization, whose members have criminal purposes.

It is true, unfortunately, that there are numerous members sheltered within the organization who seem deliberately to use it as a cloak for evil deeds; and its great weakness is that it lends itself so easily to abuse. But such men are the exception. Most of those who have joined the Klan have evidently done so sincerely believing that they could thereby benefit their community and their country.

Speaking generally, it is the head rather than the heart of the Ku Klux movement that is wrong. Its leaders and members do not understand the spirit, history and traditions of this America whose interests they profess to serve; and so they misrepresent and pervert some of its fundamental principles.

It is on this ground that the Klan can and should be fought. The government of the United States needs no assistance in the exercise of its authority. It should be made plain to all that genuine Americanism knows no such thing as racial and religious intolerance, judgment passed on citizens by secret tribunals, censorship made effective by threats and violence; the setting up of an unofficial and irresponsible super-government, and that the evils resulting from such lawless innovations are worse than those the honest members of the Klan seek to remedy.

CONSCIENCE

Greater than the law of gravity, than all physical laws in fact, is the power of man's conscience. That each one of us, at times, the unwilling and impotent tool of circumstance goes without saving. But that a man should deliberately violate the law of right with any expectation of escaping the inevitable penalty, is not only suicidal, but it is also an infallible symptom of insanity.

Stevenson points this out in his admirable tale of "Markheim." But as it has been often said that most fiction is based on fact, we need only to read the daily newspapers to be convinced that the decalogue may be relied upon as a sufficient moral code for the governance of social conduct.

When a young man who had held the confidence of the officers of the bank in which he had long been employed was offered a promotion for meritorious service and honesty, he confessed that he had stolen thousands of dollars during the past ten years.

"This conscience doth make cowards of us all."

Man must learn that though he may escape the eyes of the law, he cannot, though he circle the globe, elude himself.

WHY CANCEL JUST DEBTS?

The wholly proper and eternally just stand of the Washington administration that war debts owed to the United States by allied powers must be paid, admonishes the allies that they will have to do something on their own account.

So long as the victor nations insist that the vanquished Teutons can pay as demanded they have not a shred of argument for reduction of their indebtedness to America. If Germany can pay, they can pay, and they can pay whether or not they succeed in compelling the Germans to discharge their obligations. It is not improbable that collections in the end will be facilitated by a temporary extension to Germany, the granting of a moratorium covering a few years. That is for creditor nations to decide. If they do not press the Germans they will be treating those people precisely as they are glad that this country is treating them. At bottom our position is that war debts can be paid in time.

No one can blame the French for feeling hard toward the nation which thrust war upon them, but now practical business facts must be taken into account. An inter-allied conference at Brussels may marshal them in such fashion that all concerned will be impelled to act practically.

TODAY'S BEST THOUGHT

THE LITTLE CHILD.

O child! O new-born denizen
Of life's great city! on thy head
The glory of the morn is shed,
Like a celestial benison!
Here at the portal thou dost stand,
And with thy little hand
Thou openest the mysterious gate
Into the future's undiscovered land.
I see its vales expand,
As at the touch of Fate!
Into those realms of love and hate,
Into the darkness black and drear.
By some prophetic feeling taught,
I launch the bold, adventurous thought,
Frighted with hope and fear,
At upon subterranean streams,
In caverns unexplored and dark,
Men sometimes launch a fragile bark,
Laden with flickering fire,
And watch its swift-receding beams,
Until at length they disappear,
And in the distant dark expire.

BUDGET SYSTEM AS IT APPLIES TO THE STATE OF NEW MEXICO

(The following paper on "The Budget System" was read by John Jones, state educational auditor, before the city superintendents' section of the New Mexico Educational association convention here last week.)

Ladies and Gentlemen:

I have been assigned the subject of "The Budget System." Undoubtedly all of you understand the meaning of a budget system, I presume that it is intended in that it should discuss the budget system as it pertains to the state of New Mexico.

Under the law it is the duty of the local board of directors to prepare estimates of their needs on or before the first day of May in each year, and submit same to the county board of education. It is likewise the duty of the municipal boards of education to prepare estimates for the municipal schools. Both the rural school estimates, and those for the municipal schools are in turn to be submitted to the board of county commissioners for their approval. But before any board of county commissioners can give a final approval to such estimates, it is the duty of the educational auditor to revise and amend the estimates and certify the result of his revision to the board of county commissioners.

This office has realized the many difficulties involved in budgeting under the present system of assessing and tax collections, and realizing the opposition to the powers conferred upon the auditor and the Tax commission. In order to overcome such opposition, it was planned in the last year to have public hearings which were open and held in the county auditor's office, and in every such case the officials co-operated, satisfactory conclusions were reached. In addition to the above, the officials of the New Mexico Educational association have been invited to attend the meetings and hear the testimony of the auditor. I do not know of a fairer procedure than the above, and had these plans been followed in every county throughout the state, there would have been less discussion about what the educational auditor did and a better knowledge of the budget laws and what was really done.

A good many of you have advocated the abolition of the office of educational auditor, and believe the abolition of this office would be a serious mistake, and a step backward. If there is no provision in the constitution which confers too much power on this office, or the State Tax commission, such provision should be eliminated and provision should be made for proper representation of all parties interested.

A comparison of the estimates approved for this year with those of last year, indicate a reduction of $1,000,000. This amount is a million dollars. These reductions are not altogether on the salaries of the teachers, but comprise all items in the budget. It was found on comparison that in many counties, the estimate for teachers' wages in last year was more than really needed and in those cases reductions were made. In 1921 the estimate for teachers' wages was reduced. This was because of the economic conditions generally throughout the state, and as a result of the joint meetings heretofore mentioned. There was not at any time any arbitrary action taken by your auditor and whatever was done was after consultation and due consideration.

At the outset your auditor recommended to the various school authorities a graduated schedule of pay for teachers which would permit the better pay for the qualified teacher. This schedule was in accordance with the opinion expressed by some of our most noted educators. It was found that the poor grade of teachers should be gradually eliminated from the schools. You, yourselves, have recognized this principle, and in 1919 caused the legislature to pass an act limiting the rate of pay for third grade certificate teachers to $60 per month for nine months. None of us will contend that $60 is a sufficient wage for anyone.

The main purpose of that law was to penalize teachers holding third grade certificates, so as to bring about the elimination of this class. Economic Conditions

In 1920, the assessed valuation of all property in the state of New Mexico was over 400 million dollars. In 1921 the valuation shrank to approximately 250 million, and in this year to 330 million.

LA PLATA RIVER WATER COMPACT AS AGREED UPON

Equitable Distribution Between Colorado and New Mexico Is Arranged for Under an Agreement

Special to The Journal

Santa Fe, Nov. 30.—The measuring and recording of the flow of the La Plata river will be done by two permanent stream-gauging stations, which will be constructed and maintained at the expense of the state of Colorado, under the terms of the two-state compact, which has just been drafted and signed in Santa Fe. Delph E. Carpenter was Colorado's commissioner, Judge Stephen B. Davis, Jr., representing New Mexico. The compact, which will provide for the equitable division of the waters of the La Plata river between the two states, is as follows:

"The state of Colorado and the state of New Mexico, desiring to provide for the equitable distribution of the waters of the La Plata river and to remove all causes of present and future controversy between them with respect thereto, and being moved by considerations of interstate comity, pursuant to acts of their respective legislatures, have resolved to conclude a compact for these purposes and have named as their commissioners, Delph E. Carpenter, of the state of Colorado, and Stephen B. Davis, Jr., for the state of New Mexico, who have agreed upon the following articles:

"Article 1. The state of Colorado, at its own expense, shall establish and maintain two permanent stream-gauging stations upon the La Plata river for the purpose of measuring and recording its flow, which shall be the Hesperus station and the Interstate station, respectively.

"The Hesperus station shall be located at some convenient place near the town of Hesperus, Colorado, suitable devices for measuring and recording the volume of all diversions from the river above Hesperus station, shall be established and maintained (without expense to the state of New Mexico), and whenever in this compact reference is made to the flow of the river at Hesperus station, it shall be construed to include the flow. Since the first of the year, thousands of head of cattle have been removed from the state, and the shrinkage in the assessments of at least five million dollars. This is a serious condition and prompts the suggestion that we should have no doubt but that the law of a public nature. It is true that schools are first and must be maintained at all costs—that this will be done in the state of New Mexico. I have no doubt but that it is equally true that when taxpayers are unable to meet their tax bills that we economize on every item. It is one thing to levy a large tax, and still another to collect it. It is hard to say what our collections will be from the 1922 rolls. In my opinion, conditions will not be better unless we are favored with better climatic conditions.

"Article 2. The state of New Mexico shall not at any time be entitled to receive nor shall the state of Colorado be required to deliver any water when not necessary for the official use in the state of New Mexico.

"Article 3. A substantial delivery of water under this compact shall be deemed a compliance with its provisions and minor and compensating irregularities in flow or delivery shall be disregarded.

"Article 4. The state engineers of the state of Colorado, from time to time, may formulate rules and regulations for carrying out the provisions of this compact, which, when signed and promulgated by the state of Colorado, until amended by agreement between them or until terminated by written notice from one to the other.

"Article 5. Whenever any official of either state is designated to perform any duty under this compact, such designation shall be interpreted to include the state official or officials upon whom such duties now performed by such official may hereafter devolve.

"Article 6. The physical and other conditions peculiar to the state of Colorado, and the drainage and served thereby constitute the basis for this compact, and neither of the signatory states concedes the establishment of any general rule or precedent by the concluding of this compact.

"Article 7. This compact may be modified or terminated at any time by mutual consent of the signatory states, and such termination shall continue unimpaired.

"Article 8. This compact shall become operative when approved by the legislature of each of the states signatory and by the congress of the United States. Notice of approval by the legislatures shall be given to the governor of each state to the governor of the other state, and the president of the United States is requested to give notice to the governors of the signatory states of approval by the congress of the United States.
