LUSITANIA NOT ARMED WHEN SUNK BY GERMAN SUB OFF IRISH COAST

Liner Carried Neither Guns, Troops, Nor Explosives, but Did Carry 500 Cases of Ammunition, Official Report of the Vessel's Cargo Made Public, Shows

New York, Dec. 3.—The Cunard liner Lusitania, sunk by a German submarine in 1915 off the Irish coast, carried neither guns, troops, nor explosives, but did carry 500 cases of ammunition, the official report of the vessel's cargo made public by Dudley Field Malone, collector of the port at the time, shows, according to a copyrighted story in the New York World.

The cases of ammunition, the report stated, were carried by specific permission under rulings of the department of commerce in force since 1911.

Report Made to McDoo
The Malone report, the newspaper says, was made to Secretary of the Treasury McDoo. It was dated June 4, 1915, and was called for after the German reply of May 25 to President Wilson's first Lusitania note of May 13, had set off the contention the Lusitania had been armed and that her rapid sinking was due, not to the torpedo, but to the explosion of ammunition. It was this report to which President Wilson, in his second note of June 3, referred, when he said:

"Fortunately, there are matters concerning which the government of the United States is in a position to give the Imperial German government official information."

Mr. Malone said he had determined to give out the text of the report because of still insistent appeals to him for information regarding its contents.

"These appeals," he explained, "are not only from the United States but from abroad; for instance, from such organizations as the Central Committee for Establishing the Causes of the War."

"When senator La Follette's attitude toward the war was under investigation, the treasury department was called on for the original of this report. I replied that it had been turned over to the state department. The state department held that the report had become a state paper and that its disclosure would be to the detriment of the public to know just what the report contained. For this reason and because of the constant appeals to me for information regarding its contents, I have decided to make it public."

No Guns On Deck
The report states that when the Lusitania sailed from New York on May 1, 1915, on her last trip to England, she did not have any guns of any caliber or description on any deck, mounted or unmounted, masked or unmasked. Affidavits by various government inspectors were affixed to the report in substantiation.

It stated further that the Lusitania did not have Canadian troops or troops of any nationality on board. Moreover, the Lusitania carried no group of passengers, no body of organizations of passengers as such, with or without uniforms; and if any individual or individuals of any nationality sailed on the Lusitania on this trip they did so as individuals, paying their own fares and retaining their own individual tickets.

Presence of Explosives
Referring to the question of the presence of explosives on the liner, the report said that the ammunition set forth as part of the cargo did not contain explosives within the interpretation of the statutes and regulations as interpreted by the department of commerce in the rulings previously quoted.

More than 1,000 lives were lost including over 100 Americans when the Lusitania went down off Kinsale Head, Ireland, six days after she had left New York.

SIKI'S SUSPENSION
TO BE THRESHED OUT
BEFORE THE COURTS
Paris, Dec. 3. (By the Associated Press.)—The "affaire Siki" surrounded the big Senegalese prize fighter who won the light heavyweight championship of the world by defeating Georges Carpentier, recently was deprived of the title by the boxing federation and also was denied the right to engage in pugilistic contest for nine months as to be threshed out before the courts.

A complete investigation of the circumstances surrounding the Carpentier-Siki fight, which the Senegalese prize fighter, Carpentier, was charged with having won by a technical knockout in open date as a "frame up," is to be made by the civil tribunal. The boxing federation has called a special meeting for tomorrow afternoon to discuss the accusations made against it by Deputy Diagne.

INCREASE SHOWN IN EARNINGS OF U. S. RAILROADS DURING OCTOBER

Fifty-four Class A Lines Report Income of $1,000,000 Greater Than Previous Month

CAR LOADINGS WERE NEAR HIGH RECORD

Steel Production Maintains a Better Rate Than Had Been Expected; Conditions Satisfactory

New York, Dec. 3. (By the Associated Press.)—Indices of industrial and trade activities continued satisfactory during the past week. If a tendency toward a slight slowing down of production has been apparent this is regarded as a natural development at this season and is compensated for by the improvement in retail trade, which comes with cold weather and the holidays.

As a matter of fact, industrial activities are holding up remarkably well. Car loadings for the week ended November 18, totaled 559,000 cars, which is close to the high record for the year.

Traffic Movement Large
Taking everything into consideration, it would appear that the fall movement of traffic has been the largest and best sustained in the country's history.

Steel production also continues to maintain a better rate than had been expected. Various authorities place output at close to eighty per cent of capacity.

Pig iron prices are still showing a tendency to work lower in company with those of coal, and the prices of iron and steel products, which have been remarkably steady for a number of weeks, are being shaded slightly. No large reductions in steel prices are expected.

One of the developments which caused satisfaction in financial circles was the position of a large proportion of the October railroad earnings. The comparison with September is encouraging. Fifty-four class A roads earned a net of $1,000,000 in October as compared with $45,000,000 in the previous month.

Possibly the better railroad statements had their effect on stock prices. In any event the latter rallied vigorously, during the week, active stock covering being evidenced over the entire list.

Monetary conditions continue comfortable and there is little expectation of any considerable disturbance in the money market during the rest of the year.

Commodity Markets
The commodity markets have lapsed back into a relatively stagnant condition.

Wheat prices rallied after the reaction of a week ago, strength being given by the fact that the shipments had been light. Short demand and the air situation are still considered the dominating factors in this commodity.

PROFESSOR UNDERGOES
HIS 13TH OPERATION
FOR AN X-RAY MALADY
Paris, Dec. 3.—Professor Vallant, director of the X-ray laboratory of the University of Paris, underwent his thirteenth operation for amputation yesterday, made necessary by the withering effects of X-rays during the long experiments that have won him prominence.

His right forearm was amputated in an effort to stop the creeping X-ray malady.

The operation, which has succeeded another one he began on his left side, was performed by Dr. Vallant's wife and ending with the amputation of his arm at the shoulder.

The disease has now attacked his right side.

WINS 250-MILE
SPEED CONTEST

Completes 200 Laps of the 11.4 Mile Oval at Beverly Hills in 2 Hrs., 10 Min., 53.10 Seconds

Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 3.—Jimmy Murphy won the 250-mile championship automobile race held at the Beverly Hills speedway, completing 200 laps at the 11.4-mile oval in 2 hours, 10 minutes and 53.10 seconds. Earl Cooper took second place and Harry Hartz finished third.

Murphy's average time for the distance was 114.6 miles an hour, or 5.4 miles faster than the record he set on a 14-mile oval at San Francisco last year, when he completed 250 miles at an average speed of 111.2 miles an hour.

Murphy was by less than a car length, with three other drivers within twenty feet of him at the finish.

Scores of passengers of the Pennsy flyer, which went into the ditch near Cumberland, Ind., owed their lives to the steel construction of the coaches which prevented them from telescoping and the subsequent death and injury of the occupants. The cause of the wreck has not yet been ascertained. Railroad officials and state authorities are making a two-pronged investigation.

CONFERENCE ON DISARMAMENT IS HELD IN MOSCOW

Will Make an Effort to Bring Permanent Peace to Central and Western Europe; Plan Outlined

Moscow, Dec. 3. (By the Associated Press.)—The disarmament conference called in an endeavor to bring permanent peace to central Europe was formally opened yesterday, with the delegates present from the western border states of Russia, excepting Rumania, which was represented by Russian plenipotentiaries.

Maxim Litvinoff, the assistant commissar of foreign affairs for Soviet Russia, was chosen chairman of the conference. He began the session by explaining the endeavors of the soviet government to bring up at the recent Genoa conference the question of disarmament. Having failed, the soviet government was compelled by discouragement to narrow down the program by bringing up the question of disarmament merely before its western neighbors, feeling a certain isolation of this matter will result in closer ties with Russian neighbors, and have an effect in all Europe.

M. Litvinoff, in outlining the soviet government's declaration, said the actual reduction in standing armies was insufficient in itself to bring about a full solution of the problem of a real limitation in armaments, therefore, it was proposed to hold down military budgets by fixing strictly a maximum figure of military expenditure per soldier. His proposal included simultaneous liquidation of the countries involved of their regular military formations composed of certain groups of the civilian population. It emphasized the importance of mutual neutralization of border zones.

"These proposals," said Litvinoff, "the Russian government holds to be concrete and feasible and cannot be substituted by any talk of so-called moral disarmament, which is so often brought up at international conferences, the participants in which desire under a plausible pretext to avoid the actual reduction of the popular demand for disarmament. Counting Litvinoff said the Russian government greatly regretted to be unable at present to offer proposals for a general limitation of armaments after the rejection of the naval forces in 1917 to one-fourth of the navy as a means of defense against the attacks by more powerful countries."

CLEMENCEAU SPEEDS
EAST TO BALTIMORE

Is Not an Advocate of the League of Nations and Would Not Urge United States to Enter It

Pittsburgh, Pa., Dec. 3. (Enroute with Clemenceau to Baltimore—by the Associated Press.)—George Clemenceau, who today is enroute to Baltimore, is not an advocate of the League of Nations and would not urge the United States to enter it.

He indicated that what he really would prefer above all else was an agreement of the United States and Great Britain to guarantee France against aggression in European affairs.

Concerned because some newspapers saw interpreted his St. Louis address as a plea to America to enter the league of nations, he declared that he did not intend to advocate such a step.

It is well known, at least in France, he told correspondents, that he was not an advocate of the league, and he said he would not urge the United States to enter it.

ARMY STRENGTH IS "INADEQUATE," WEEKS DECLARES

We Should Seize the First Opportunity to Bring the Force Back to the Proportions Required

Washington, Dec. 3.—The present authorized regular army strength of 125,000 officers and 125,000 men is "inadequate" for national safety, and further cuts would be "inexcusable," Secretary Weeks declared in his annual report to congress.

"We should seize the first opportunity to bring the regular army back to the proportions which are required," he wrote. "We cannot ever again make the mistake of expecting good soldiers to rise overnight and good officers to be turned out in quantities in three months' periods."

"We are making progress, and any progress is good progress. This progress is, however, scant, and not really enough. Any further cuts would force us to lose what we have gained, and would accordingly be inexcusable."

"It has taken time and money to build what we have. It has taken blood and money to prove that we have not, even now, what we need. We should when practicable add to what we have and attain to the progress called for in our defense project under the terms of the law."

Declaring the officer corps "is really the backbone of our military system," Mr. Weeks said that security of the future must rest "upon the foundation of our leadership."

"It does not belittle the enlisted man—ours is the best in the world," he continued. "It is because I appreciate him that I emphasize the need for officers to give the soldier his best opportunity to fight for his country and for his life."

Must Have Officers
"We must have officers sufficient to handle the great army of the United States. We have not these officers now."

"Our reserve officers are first to complain that their present lack of training is causing them to lose the knowledge they gained in the war. Where is there any training come from? Only through the regular officers."

In his last annual report I stated that, with 15,000 officers authorized, we would not have enough to do all that might be profitably done. Now I must state that we have absolutely not enough to do what is necessary to our safety as an organized state."

"I appreciate the urgency of our financial condition that prevents us from reaching our maximum requirements. I can not believe, however, that the ignorance of this need is fully recognized by all who do recognize the urgency of the financial problems."

"I earnestly advocate a reconstituting of our officer body to a minimum of 15,000 at the earliest date."

Peace Loving People
Mr. Weeks said he was confronted, like most of his predecessors, with the necessity of appearing "before a peace loving people to urge bluntly and earnestly continued attention to their needs for defensive preparedness."

"My conclusions are not entirely welcome at this time, when people have been hoping that nations had learned to avoid conflicts of force," he continued. "My conclusions are, nevertheless, that we should continue to prepare for such conflicts."

"If it is unwelcome, it is no less true that Americans, like all other peoples, are subject to the law which punishes those nations who fail to prepare for defense, as well as those who fail to strive for peace."

"We are right to feel confident in our strength. But we shall never deserve and fulfill our destiny except through the study of our past faults and the painful eradication of defects. A true American must be not only proud of our unvarying successes, but also humbly aware that many of these successes were barely won."

Persons who fail to make arrangements for the ten-day stop-over privilege while going through here, see Juarez, Mexico, from the train, talk to others on the train and at the station, and decide to get off between schedules and "see Mexico." Lots of them miss their train. Some leave their baggage on the train. Some leave their tickets and suitcases at the station for safekeeping, and when they fail to call for them promptly the police are asked to look for them.

Some are so struck with the sights of Juarez, and other things there, that they decide to stay over a day or so. This also will call for a request to look out for them.

On many occasions persons expecting relatives on a certain day telegraph the police to look them up when they have been known to get as far as El Paso and then have been delayed on reaching their destination.

In the vast majority of cases nothing serious happens. At times, however, persons lose umbrellas, suitcases, overcoats and the like and some lose money. Few who have remained too long or who have not guarded their steps have been robbed, and a very few killed, as would be the case in any city.

Up around Iron River, Mich., the natives are willing to wager anything from a keg of their oldest cider to the family plate that young Andrew White, just turned seventeen, is the champion farmer boy of this man's universe and all contiguous territory. His most recent triumph was the winning of a scholarship in the Michigan Agricultural college. His ambition is to become the owner of the best herd of pure bred Guernseys in the country.

to endeavor throughout the service.

Filling Vacancies
The secretary also recommended early legislation to "provide definitely for filling vacancies to the grade of colonel and lieutenant colonel partly from the accelerated list and partly from the seniority list."

As to the technical preparations of the army since the war he said: "In nearly all directions we have developed our ability to develop equipment that is inferior to none. Particularly in the direction of air development we have shown progress in types."

In spite of this gratifying progress we are behind our program in several respects, due to the financial situation which has reduced our support of some activities. We have not made the experimental progress in motorization of artillery transport that is to be hoped for nor in the development of improved tanks."

"Above all we are short in the development of air power. We have scarcely the present store of effective planes that we would need in an emergency nor the complete facilities for training the personnel that we shall need in war. The national regulation of air activities and the provision of a system of airways are matters which are essential to the development of air."

"Some steps in the direction of at least providing an effective plan for our development of air power should be taken at once, and as our finances are improved, the actual requirements I can not believe, however, that the ignorance of this need is fully recognized by all who do recognize the urgency of the financial problems."

"I earnestly advocate a reconstituting of our officer body to a minimum of 15,000 at the earliest date."

MISSING MEN IN EL PASO CAUSE POLICE TROUBLE
An Average of Three a Week Are Reported Lost; a Desire to See Juarez Is Given as the Reason

El Paso, Texas, Dec. 3.—How to blot out the reputation El Paso is acquiring as "the port of missing men" is troubling El Paso officers and other citizens of El Paso. An average of three men a week are reported missing from trains and from El Paso hotels. Juarez is blamed.

In the vast majority of cases nothing serious happens. At times, however, persons lose umbrellas, suitcases, overcoats and the like and some lose money. Few who have remained too long or who have not guarded their steps have been robbed, and a very few killed, as would be the case in any city.

CONFERENCE AT LAUSANNE IS AT CRITICAL POINT

Question of Capitulations May Make or Break the Parley; Turks May Return to Angora

Lausanne, Dec. 3.—(by the Associated Press).—A review of the second week of the Near Eastern conference shows clearly that the negotiations have reached a point of danger: the question of capitulations, or special privileges enjoyed by foreigners in Turkey, which was taken up yesterday, may make or break the conference, and this is so because an adverse decision on capitulations may so wound Turkish national pride that the Turks may don their fezzes and go back to Angora.

Everybody realizes the extreme delicacy and danger of the negotiations on capitulations. The Turks have rejected all suggestions of the powers, including the United States, that the special privileges enjoyed by foreigners in the past should be retained, more especially any attempt to have foreign consular courts try cases involving foreign residents or for land property.

Both Anatolia and Dr. Riza Nur, plenipotentiaries from Angora, informed the correspondents of the Associated Press that they would resist any attempt to place Turkey on a lower international standing than "smaller and less important states, like Greece and Mexico"; they would insist on complete administrative independence, Dr. Riza said.

"We hear that the powers, including the United States, are thinking of substituting juridical guarantees for the hateful expression 'capitulations.'"

"The Turks argue that complete capitulations do not like to be under the authority of our Turkish courts, then let them stay away from Turkey. If a Turk were arrested in New York he would be tried before an American court, not before a Turkish court. The same situation should exist in Turkey."

The Turkish position is weakened by the fact that complete unity of front by the great powers has been erected against the Turks on this problem. However, Russia is expected to side with her ally, Turkey.

Another capitulation difficulty lies in fixing the customs tariff. The powers will not permit Turkey to increase her tariff from 11 to 15 per cent but the Ottoman state wants complete freedom to make its own tariff schedule. The present schedule is practically prohibitive for the great bulk of British and French goods. It remains to be seen whether the threat of the foreign powers to extend no capital to Turkey will induce the Turks to change their recalcitrant attitude.

SUIT IS BEGUN TO VOID TEAPOT DOME OIL LEASE

Patrick Sullivan of Caser, Wyo., Starts Court Action Against Two Companies in U. S. Court

Casper, Wyo., Dec. 3.—Patrick Sullivan, republican national committeeman, wealthy stockman and oil lease owner, of Caser, has filed suit in the federal court at Cheyenne, through John T. Bottom of Denver, his attorney, against the Mammoth Oil company, and the Pioneer Oil and Refining company to set aside the Teapot dome oil lease of the Mammoth Oil company, it was stated late today.

The disputed locations were made February 6, 1907, and the different located placer claims include all of section two and the south half of section 3-34 N. 73 W., or 240 acres in the heart of Teapot Dome and near the very center of the 9,000 acres included in the lease from the United States to the Mammoth Oil company.

The plaintiff claims that the Pioneer company wrongfully represented that it had possession title to the lands claimed by Mr. Sullivan and that the Pioneer Oil and Refining company entered into a conspiracy with the Mammoth Oil company to obtain a lease to the lands comprising the Teapot dome without bidding to enter into competitive bidding on the theory that they had vested rights in the lands as placer claims.

He charged that the secretary of interior relied on these representations and granted a lease to the Mammoth Oil company covering some 9,000 acres in Teapot.

Mr. Sullivan in his petition claims that these lands have a recoverable oil content in excess of 900,000,000 barrels of high grade crude oil and that the reasonable value of the lease is $500,000,000.

The complaint states that the Mammoth Oil company has taken possession of all of the land included in the lease from the government, taking the 900 acres claimed by Sullivan, and that it is useless for Sullivan to try to recover possession and attempt to drill the lands for the reason that the secretary of the navy would out him by use of United States Marines, as was done in another case where the claimant to an oil placer claim erected a derrick and started to drill for oil.

DANZIG EXPECTS TO REGAIN PRE-WAR SHIPPING

Rapid Strides Are Being Made in Overcoming the Reverses; Home Fleet Is Being Augmented

Danzig, Dec. 3.—Rapid strides in overcoming the shipping reverses suffered during the world war have revived in the heart of Danzig visions of a time when she may resume the position acquired in the fourteenth century, under the Teutonic knights, as a hub of international trade. Her cars are alert now for any project bearing on the recent talk of reopening Russian markets.

Before the war this port laid claim to four important shipping lines whose combined fleets aggregated thirty-eight vessels of 21,000 gross tons. These concerns were Behne & Sleg, the Danzig Shipping company, the F. G. Reinhold interests, and the Hamburg-Danzig line. Their vessels went as far as the Mediterranean on one side and to the White sea on the other. Regular traffic was carried on with Finnish harbors, Hamburg, Rotterdam, Antwerp, London, Bristol and Liverpool.

The war not only robbed Danzig of many former trade connections, but deprived her as well of almost a fifth of her sea-going ships. The close of hostilities, however, was a signal for immediate reconstruction operations, and today the home fleet consists of sixty-eight vessels whose aggregate gross tonnage is $3,500.

Since the war the old lines have extended their facilities here and several new undertakings have been established. Among the latter are the Artus lines, with four large steamers destined for the South American service; a Russo-English firm and the Baltic-American Petroleum company, represented by large motor freight ships. Others under process of organization.

HIRAM HADLEY, EDUCATOR, DIES AT KANSAS CITY

Was For 40 Year's a Resident of New Mexico and the First President of the A. & M. College

Las Cruces, N. M., Dec. 3.—Hiram Hadley, age 90, first president of the agricultural and mechanical college of New Mexico, died in the First Christian hospital last night, at Kansas City, according to information received here by H. L. Kent.

Mr. Hadley has been a resident of Las Cruces for the past forty years, and was among the founders of the Las Cruces college, later being made president of the A. & M. college. Mr. Hadley was also at one time setting president of the University of New Mexico at Albuquerque and was superintendent of institutions when New Mexico was a territory.

He is survived by his widow, his daughter, Miss Anna R. Hadley, a married daughter of Boston, Mass.

Funeral arrangements have not yet been completed, but the body will be brought here for burial.

J. A. WEINMAN SUFFERS STROKE OF PARALYSIS AT LOS ANGELES, CAL.

Mrs. Ernest Spitz, of the Washington apartments, received a letter from Mrs. J. A. Weinman, giving the news that her husband had a few days before, suffered a stroke of paralysis of the right side at their home in Los Angeles, Calif. While the stroke is quite severe, the attending physician does not anticipate any immediate danger. Mr. Weinman is one of the pioneer dry goods merchants of this city; first in the old town in the early 'eighties, then in the new town in business on Gold avenue, followed a few years later in business on Railroad avenue (now Central avenue), in the Grant building and known as the "Golden Rule Store." A few years ago he sold out his business interests here and, retiring with considerable wealth, took up his residence, with Mrs. Weinman, in Los Angeles. Since his removal to Los Angeles, Mr. Weinman visited Albuquerque on several occasions and always reported his health excellent.

LITTLE TALKS ON THRIFT

By S. W. STRAUS, President American Society for Thrift.

IN reviewing the year which is now fast slipping from our grasp we can rest assured that if we have gone through it without practicing thrift, it can be set down as a wasted period in our lives. For thrift is at the foundation of all substantial success in life.

It is a secondary matter whether one's income during this period has been greater or smaller than before. If one has earned more than previously and has nothing to show for it, his success is not equal to that of the person who has not been able to earn so much, but who has been practicing thrift, and therefore has something to show for the year's accomplishments.

Very few persons are purposely or willfully thrifless. Lack of thrift is in most cases the result of procrastination. Many of those who are not thrifty feel that they have not reached a place where circumstances or personal convenience will permit of their saving money.

But do not allow yourself to be deceived by any such false reasoning. Generally speaking, it is just as easy to begin thrift one time as another. It may seem to you that in the future you will be better fixed for saving money, but as you go on, month after month, you will find that even though conditions may apparently improve with you the temptation to waste your financial resources is just as strong.

The coming New Year will be a most auspicious time for the beginning of a thrifty life. Do not procrastinate, no matter what your circumstances in life may be. Make the start.

Resolve that when this period comes around next year you will have something to show for your time and labor. These end-of-the-year days constitute an opportune time for the start in thrift practices.

SUFFERINGS OF THE NEAR EAST ARE DESCRIBED

Generous Response to Guy Talbott's Plea in "Greatest Tragedy of Modern History"

Reverend Guy Talbott, regional director for the Pacific coast for the Near East relief body, offered a vivid description of what he and others describe as the "Greatest tragedy of modern times." In a talk given yesterday morning at the First Methodist church, in the evening he addressed a gathering of Christian Endeavor members, at the First Presbyterian church.

In both instances his description of the misery of the people of the Near East brought a generous response. At the First Methodist church, yesterday morning, $1,000 was contributed to the relief. Earl C. Porterfield, assistant cashier of the Citizens National bank, was the custodian of the fund.

The response at the First Presbyterian church last night was also generous, while other contributions to the fund have been promised.

In his talk at the First Methodist church, yesterday morning, Rev. Talbott said:

"The greatest tragedy of modern history has recently occurred in the Near East at Smyrna where 400,000 people were rendered homeless and destitute, 75,000 more were massacred, 25,000 Christian girls given over to lustful Turkish soldiers, and the most beautiful city of Asia left a smoldering ruin."

"The Near East relief was quick to come to the aid of the hundreds of thousands of helpless Greek and Armenian refugees who have now been removed to zones of safety on the Aegean islands or the Greek mainland."

Fathers and Mothers Slain.
"These Christian refugees and victims of Turkish hate constitute only a part of the enormous life-saving work of the Near East relief. Our most important work is the saving and training of tens of thousands of little children, whose fathers and mothers have been killed by the Turks. American philanthropy is the only hope of these homeless, helpless waifs in the Bible lands. Eighty per cent of these orphan children are outside Turkish territory."

"Last summer I visited this land of tragedy and atrocity. I saw the tens of thousands of happy children, safe under American care. But for every child within the fold of safety there were two hungry and homeless waifs outside. I would not say anything if I could forever blot from my memory the terrible scenes in Russian Armenia."

At the Foot of Mt. Ararat.
"The first sight that greeted me as our train stopped at Alexandropol, at the foot of Mt. Ararat, was a man falling dead of starvation before our eyes on the station platform. At the corner of the station I looked into the face of a little nameless waif that had wandered in from the caves in the hills or from the desert roadways. She had fallen dead from starvation and was lying on the ground with her little pinched face upturned to the torrid August sun, waiting for the dead wagon to come and pick up her little body."

"We saw scores and scores of the dead and dying on the streets of Alexandropol. It was impossible to walk through the streets without stumbling over dead bodies. Death met you at every turn. But death, even by starvation, is not so terrible as to look into the pinched, weakened faces of famished, perishing little children, slowly dying for want of a crust of bread."

"At Alexandropol the Near East Relief is caring for thirty thousand orphans. These children are housed in the old Russian army barracks, which are furnished free by the Armenian government. Alexandropol was formerly the central supply station for the Russian Transcaucasian army and had barracks for ninety thousand soldiers. It was taken by the Turks and later was evacuated at the insistence of the Russian soviet government. They destroyed one hundred and forty villages as they withdrew, leaving a quarter of a million people homeless."

"The brave American workers at Alexandropol and Erivan are true to the spirit of America. They are giving their lives for those who are in dire need and who have no other friends. An instance of the unselfish purpose of these true-hearted Americans is seen in the fact that even several of them at Alexandropol are suffering from the dreaded eye disease, trachoma, so prevalent all over the Near East. Yet these Americans have never deserted their posts."

Outside the Gates.
"It is pitiful outside the gates to see the hundreds of homeless, wandering waifs who are not inside the Near East Relief institutions. This awful situation was brought home to us in a most remarkable way. We had been visiting one of the orphanages in Erivan, where several hundred little tots were eating their meal of bread and soup. They were clothed in clean clothes that came from generous American homes. They were fed by bread from loving American hearts. They were being taught useful trades by patient, trained American teachers. They were happy, contented children."

"Just as we left the homelike scene of this orphanage, at the very door, we saw a mob of a hundred famished, ragged, starved little bodies of men still more hungry looking wistfully from eyes that were aged and dulled by countless days and nights of woe and despair. They were holding out their hands for bread and pleading to be cared for. There was no room."

"American must continue her aid to this stricken nation, for these homeless waifs of the streets and the mountain caves are the hope of the future nation at the foot of Mt. Ararat. These fertile plains and rich valleys only await a stable government and trained leaders. The Near East relief is doing wonderful piece of work in training and salvaging leaders; our government, if it would, might do much to help secure stable government, free from the Turk menace and from European exploitation."

The Star of Hope.
"I wish you could have stood with me in the tower of the old military church at Alexandropol and could have looked down on the parade ground not at an army of soldiers, but into the joyous, upturned faces of 7,000 little boys and girls, as they formed a human star, the insignia of the Near East relief, and the star of hope to them."

"These children now cared for by the Near East relief in Bible lands are the only hope of the future in those lands. America is their only hope! And America will not fail them."

150 INMATES OF TURKISH HAREM WANT HUSBANDS

Women Range in Age From 17 to 35; They All Were Selected for Their Youth, Beauty, Figure

Constantinople, Dec. 3. (By the Associated Press).—Rafet Pasha is trying to find husbands for 150 members of the former Sultan's harem. The women range in age from 17 to 35 years. All of them are penniless.

Rafet also is anxious to solve the fate of the former monarch's numerous property, as well as that of 20 princes and princesses of the royal blood. Since the sultan's flight the nationalist government has been supporting these women in addition to 100 Eunuchs and many servants. The government now has decided that these people must shift for themselves.

"It ought not to be difficult to find husbands or helpmates for these women," said a palace functionary today. "They all were selected for their beauty, youth and figure. Most of them were gifts to the Sultan from governors of the provinces. They have matchless complexions, dark eyes and long chestnut colored hair."

FORTIFICATIONS ALONE WILL NOT PROTECT NATION

General Defense of the Country Must Rest On Men and Steel, Army Officer Says in an Address

Chicago, Dec. 3.—Standing on the historic site of old Fort Dearborn, Brigadier General G. V. H. Mosley, commander of the sixth corps area, drew a dramatic lesson from the massacre by the Indians of 1812 today while speaking at the dedication of the new building of the Lumber, Guarantee and Accident company.

Declaring that the "yellow" race which captured and aimed the little garrison of the fort, was in league with our enemy of that day, but our worthy and noble ally of today, he said that the general defense of the country must not rest on fortifications, but on men and steel.

"Men and steel," he said, "are the backbone of our defense, and which there is still much in the world today," he said, "may again involve us in war, and if this should be with the same enemy of Fort Dearborn days, has that nation still a yellow ally whom it could call to its assistance in the nation?"

"Yes, it has such a yellow ally, the Pacific. It is true that this yellow race is not at this exact moment, recorded before the world as his ally, but it is my firm opinion it is an ally just the same, for the treaty between the two, although not active today, is only dormant. Let us then prepare our man-power best our military training east to meet an enemy who may appear on the Atlantic seaboard, meet a foe from the west."

The cornerstone of the building which will be twenty-one stories in height, was laid by W. R. Wood, of Omaha, Neb., a grandson of Captain John Whistler, who built Fort Dearborn.

CONFIRMATION OF NOMINATIONS IS TASK OF SENATE

More Than 1,000 Will be Taken Up This Forenoon at the Final Sitting of the Extra Session

Washington, Dec. 3.—Confirmation of upwards of a thousand presidential nominations will be the task of the senate meeting tomorrow at 10 o'clock in the final sitting of the extra session. Unlike the house, which has no special business before it, the senate is expected to work until close to 12 o'clock before adjourning sine die. The regular session will begin at noon. Probably the only business transacted in either the house or senate at the initial meeting will be the routine appointment of a joint committee to go to the White House to notify the president that his last session of the senate. It is expected to be reported Tuesday and leaders plan to take it up Wednesday.

Outside of whatever nominations are confirmed tomorrow, the accomplishments of this session at the extra session are few. The only legislation passed was a bill to prohibit illegal sale, manufacture and use of military decorations and a measure to allow Associate Justice Pitney to retire from the supreme court.

RUSSIANS GLAD IN FLEET RAGS, MAYER STATES

Relief Worker Who Has Returned to New York Declares Clothing Is More Precious Than Gems

Special to The Journal
New York, Dec. 3.—The most ragged people in the world shiver in Russia today, declares Raymond C. Mayer, chief of the communications division of the American Relief administration in Russia, who has just arrived in the United States.

"Clothing is more precious than gems, a whole lot," explained Mr. Mayer, who was of the opinion that the clothing remittance plan, which will provide for the sending of textile materials to the clothing needy in Russia, will be one of the most effective life-saving acts ever undertaken by friends and relatives in the United States on behalf of these unfortunate across the seas.

"Naturally it was a wonderful experience to return to the United States after four months in Russia and that delight was increased by the knowledge that a plan had been inaugurated to send clothing materials to the thousands in Russia, who, unless they receive clothing materials soon will perish from the cold and the hardship that a clothing lack will cause in a country where food is far from abundant and living conditions are poor because of little or no heat and all this added to questionable sanitation."

"Never have I seen a people so desperately in need of something to cover their frail bodies, bodies which are even now susceptible to the attacks of diseases which follow upon famine and its aftermath. Anyone who buys a twenty dollar clothing package through the American Relief administration, 42 Broadway, which organization will forward it to the persons they designate in Russia, will be as much a life saver as the person who rescues another from drowning."

"The clothing scarcity has created a pitiful condition in Russia, in every part of that big country. Flour packing is being done early by mothers whose children crouch and shiver because their skin is blue with cold. I have seen children without parents in unheated institutions whose only coverings were thin shirts that hardly reached to the waists. Think of such poor kids going out into the zero of Russia winter weather to get food at an American kitchen."

"Colonel William N. Haskell, director of the A. R. A. in Russia, did not put it too strong when he called Herbert Hoover that unless clothing came all other relief work might have its good nullified. Our own Russian personnel are workers so sparsely clothed that they beg us for blankets that they may make clothing from them."

"I had the pleasure of helping to decide upon the contents of this clothing package which may be bought for twenty dollars. This package contains sufficient clothing material to furnish suitable winter garments for one adult or two children. It makes me feel ashamed to see splendidly clothed people in the streets of Brooklyn with the picture fresh in my mind of men, women and children of Russia in filthy rags which they must needs wear at night."

"Americans have performed a great service to humankind in the work they have done in Russia as members of the A. R. A. One Brooklyn man, George Leon Tunc, recently inherited a fortune but did not stop his work as a relief agent. He is still in Russia among the disease and death."

"Another American inherited a fortune while he was in Russia. He stopped his task of feeding long enough to go out and buy an automobile which would carry him to the points where he knew the need was greatest. The Ford he had before had worn out because of his long trips."

"After carefully observing conditions in Russia I would say that while there has been a general improvement that the real need now, next to food is clothing and that it is up to Russian and Jewish relatives in America in a spirit of thanksgiving to send them clothing packages immediately."

FIRE DEPARTMENT AT LAS VEGAS WILL GIVE ANNUAL BALL TONIGHT

Special to The Journal.
Las Vegas, N. M., Dec. 3.—The Las Vegas fire department will stage its forty-sixth masquerade ball Monday evening in Duncan opera house. Each year the fire fighters give a dance festival to help defray the expenses of operating the department through the year, and they plan to make this the banner event of their history. The department is made up entirely of volunteers who have organized themselves into a strong company for the protection of property against the fire menace. With the exception of one man who gives all his time on watch at the station and who has charge of the trucks, the fire boys give their service without remuneration.

PROFESSOR'S WIFE INSTANTLY KILLED IN AUTO COLLISION

Boulder, Colo., Dec. 3.—Mrs. Margaret Whitely, Helms, 53 years of age, wife of Fred B. Helms, dean of the college of Liberal Arts at the university of Colorado, was instantly killed here today when the automobile in which she was riding with her husband was wrecked in a collision with another automobile at Goodview, near here. Dean Helms was uninjured.

GRANDCHILD HAS CROUP

"My grandchild could get no relief whatever from a very bad croupy cough," writes Peter Landis, Meyerdale, Pa., "until I gave him Foley's Honey and Tar. It is a great help for croup and throat trouble." Coughs, colds, croup, throat, chest and bronchial irritations quickly relieved with Foley's Honey and Tar. Contains no opiates—ingredients printed on the wrapper. Stood the test of time serving three generations. Sold everywhere.—Adv.

LOS ANGELES IS WAGING WAR TO CURB ACCIDENTS

Two Hundred and Eighty-one Persons Found Guilty of Traffic Violations in Past Two Weeks

Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 3.—Two hundred and eighty-one persons found guilty of traffic violations here during the past two weeks have served or are serving jail terms of from one to 100 days as a result of a campaign to curtail accidents inaugurated by Police Judge Joseph E. Chambers and backed by other magistrates.

The drive was started following the publication in newspapers here of figures showing that in proportion to population, Los Angeles led the nation in the number of automobile fatalities. It soon spread to San Francisco, where several heavy sentences have been imposed.

On the fourth day following the opening of the drive here forty-nine drivers were ordered locked up.

Only eight were sent to jail yesterday. The judges assert they will continue to deal severely with offenders until the city is made safe for pedestrians and motorists.

Physicians, a motion picture actress and a high school teacher are among those given enforced vacations from their regular work. Upon the solemn pledge that she will adhere exclusively to horseback riding for the next ninety days and not put her foot on the accelerator of her machine Edythe Sterling, screen actress and circus equestrienne, was released on parole from the city jail yesterday after having served three days of a five-day sentence for speeding thirty-seven miles an hour.

Despite the zeal of squads of motorcycle officers, 291 accidents were recorded last Friday. The slippery condition of the streets, because of rain, was said to have been partly responsible.

It was announced today that the greatest number of accidents since the advent of the automobile had occurred in Los Angeles during November in spite of the campaign. It was said that heavier jail sentences would be imposed hereafter.

Beginning tomorrow San Francisco police judges will penalize all speeders with jail sentences, they have announced.

A report Saturday by a vigilant committee of 200, appointed to check and report traffic law violations, said the violations averaged 1,000 a day for a week.

Belgium's coal fields have an area of more than 500 square miles and of the 5,000,000 tons exported, nearly all is taken by France.

OBREGON AND CALLES DECLINE TO DEPORT ALGUIN TO THE U. S.

El Paso, Texas, Dec. 3.—"Little" Phil Alguin, wanted in Los Angeles, Calif., for trial in connection of the killing of J. J. Fitzgerald, police sergeant, probably will not be deported from Mexico unless Los Angeles authorities prove beyond doubt that he was responsible for the officer's death.

This stand has been taken by President Obregon and General P. E. Calles, secretary of the interior. Juarez authorities said this evening. Also, as Alguin is an American citizen, they declare that it would not be just to deport him so long as there is a question as to whether he actually shot Sergeant Fitzgerald. They point out that American authorities have taken this position in times past.

Alguin is said to be in Chihuahua City, where he was taken for safe keeping following two alleged attempts to "shanghai" him from Juarez to El Paso.

Let The Journal Be Your Christmas Guide

DO YOUR "shopping" at home—your buying at the stores.

BUT—There are so many, many wants to fill this coming Christmas. "How can I do my 'shopping at home'?"

THERE'S Mother—dear, old Mother, her hair shows silver-gray where once 'twas golden—for her it must be the best Christmas ever—

AND Dad, too—poor Dad, who usually gets a smile and "Merry Christmas"—for him, a regular gift this year—

AND Baby Betsy—it's her first real Christmas, she's 'most two years old—let's make her little heart just jump with joy on Christmas morn—

AND Brother Harry—and Sister Sue—and Aunts and Uncles, too—and friends, perhaps a score.

GOOD gracious—there's so many gifts to make and so little time to look around.

I KNOW—Let's select from the "Christmas Gift Suggestions" columns of The Morning Journal. We can "shop" there and save hours and dollars.

1,862 BAKERIES ARE CLOSED BY BREAD LOCKOUT

Regulations Provide That the Army Must Supply Paris Civilians Under Present Conditions

Paris, Dec. 3 (by the Associated Press).—The successful beginning of the bread strike or lockout, as indicated by the official figures that by 3 o'clock this afternoon, three hours after the movement began, only 183 bakeries were open in Paris and 1,562 were closed. Many of the former joined the strikers by night.

Investigating Magistrate Leroy has begun an inquiry. The bakery employees union decided some time ago to assure a supply of bread if there was a strike.

President Millerand signed a decree today authorizing the addition of 10 per cent rise or rise to bread flour, this to become obligatory December 25.

Paris will derive direct benefit from belonging to a nation of compulsory military service, as loaded trucks of corn are arriving at the military bakeries tonight. The army bakers will be obliged to work overtime, as the regulations provide that the army must supply bread to the civilians under present conditions.

It is expected that a sufficient supply will be available after two days.

WOMEN IN BRAZIL ARE FIGHTING FOR THE RIGHT TO VOTE

Rio de Janeiro, Dec. 3.—Mrs. Carrie Chapman Catt, the famous American woman suffrage leader who has been visiting in Brazil, is the first woman to have been elected to the local organizations in the fight for the vote, will find the campaign well under way upon her arrival. At the moment the battle is centered about a bill which is under discussion in the chamber of deputies. If the bill becomes a law, which is said to be more likely this year than at any previous time in Brazil's history, the women of this land will be on the same political footing as the women of the United States.

Publicists and the press have taken up the fight, and all the arguments that preceded the granting of the vote to the women of England, America, Norway and the score of other countries where equal suffrage is now a matter of course, are being put forth here with the same, if not a greater degree of enthusiasm, as in the other countries.

Even the opponents of the idea admit that eventually the women will have their way. They are opposing the bill merely to preserve man's present advantage as long as it may be possible.

PUBLICITY CAMPAIGN IS BEGUN AGAINST ARMENIANS BY TURKS

Constantinople, Dec. 3. (by the Associated Press).—The Armenians here are in a state bordering upon terror as a result of the publicity campaign begun against them by the Turks. Nothing since the Kemalists threatened to take Constantinople by force has caused more widespread despair and fear among the Armenians here than the recent publication by the official government news agency of the discovery of an alleged Armenian plot to foment a revolution and assassinate the Kemalists. It is declared by allied observers and the Armenians themselves that the ground for wholesale arrests and persecutions.

FIRE DESTROYS 700 NEWBERN, N. C. HOMES

Newbern, N. C., Dec. 3.—Efforts are well under way tonight to relieve the suffering of hundreds of homeless victims of yesterday's two million dollar fire here, which swept away 700 homes. In addition to the thousands of dollars contributed to the relief and at a mass meeting today, more than thousands were given tonight and volunteers were working tonight, uncheeked by a steady rain, to care for the needy.

A battalion of field artillery tonight continued to guard the devastated section.

FRENCH LEAVE BRUSA

Constantinople, Dec. 3. (by the Associated Press).—Despite assurances from Ankara that the French of the French colony would be safeguarded from the colony has left Brusa. Twenty members, including merchants, silk growers, priests and two Catholic nuns whose convent recently was attacked, arrived in Constantinople today. The French consulate at Brusa remains closed.

If the carburetor of one popular automobile would be improved, 400,000,000 gallons of gasoline would be saved annually, says an expert.

PINEAPPLE PIE

Have you ever made one? They say it's splendid. First, a crisp, flakey bottom crust, then a filling of delicious crushed or grated Hawaiian Pineapple; then a top crust, either all over or criss-cross. Then bake to a golden brown.

This is just one of the tempting ways to use crushed or grated pineapple. Try it also in salads, cake filling, puddings, fruit cocktails or serve it as it comes from the cans.

In the crushed or grated form the price is now very reasonable; No. 1 size cans, 13c; No. 2 size cans 20c.

Old-times pure buckwheat flour; cakes in this flour taste just like they did in boyhood days.

FERGUSON GETS SCHOLARSHIP IN OXFORD COLLEGE

Albuquerque Young Man
Now at Harvard Selected to be Beneficiary of the Rhodes Endowment

Francis Ferguson of this city has been chosen from among four candidates for the Cecil Rhodes scholarship at Oxford university, England. The state committee for the selection of New Mexico Rhodes scholars met on Thanksgiving day and considered all the applications. The selection was announced yesterday.

Mr. Ferguson, who is now attending Harvard university, was nominated for the scholarship from his native state by President A. Lawrence Lowell of Harvard. Because of the long distance Mr. Ferguson would have been obliged to travel to Albuquerque to meet the New Mexico committee, the American secretary of the Rhodes trust, President Frank Aydelotte of Swarthmore college, Swarthmore Pa., appointed a special committee of Oxford men at Harvard to hold an interview with Mr. Ferguson. Their report to the New Mexico committee was highly favorable, and was given due consideration with other testimonials.

Mr. Ferguson is a son of the late Harvey M. Ferguson, who lived for many years in Albuquerque, who was twice elected member in congress from this state, and who died in 1915. The mother of the appointee, Mrs. C. M. Ferguson, resides in this city. The young man received his preparatory education largely here, after which he took work in the New York City schools and a year at the Ethical Culture school of that city. Then he entered Harvard, where he is in his second year. Mr. Ferguson will go to Oxford in the autumn of 1923, and his cultural interest will be in zoology and paleontology, with special work in English and French literature. He expects to prepare himself to write on lines of popular science. The scholarship pays the appointee for expenses $1,750 for three years.

The committee on selection of Rhodes scholars from New Mexico, as appointed by the American secretary of the Rhodes trust, Professor Charles E. Hodgkin of the state university, chairman and secretary, and four former Oxford men, Professor C. K. Judy of the California Institute of Technology, Pasadena; Hugh M. Bryan, Albuquerque; Donald M. Richardson, Roswell; Frank Light, Silver City.

32 RHODES SCHOLARS APPOINTED EACH YEAR

Swarthmore, Pa., Dec. 3.—The results of the annual election of the American Rhodes scholars to the University of Oxford, held yesterday in 32 states, were announced today by President Frank Aydelotte of Swarthmore college, American secretary to the Rhodes trust.

Thirty-two Rhodes scholars are appointed from the United States each year. A scholarship is available for three years, carries with it a stipend of 350 pounds sterling. The selection is made on the three-fold basis of (1) character and personality, (2) scholarly ability and (3) physical vigor, whether shown by participation in outdoor sports or in other ways.

For the 22 appointments made yesterday there were 344 candidates. Those elected, subject to the ratification of the Rhodes trustees, together with the institution from which they are accredited, include:

Arizona, R. L. Nugent, University of Arizona, 1916 East Speedway, Tucson, Arizona.

New Mexico, F. Ferguson, Harvard university, 95 Prescott street, Cambridge, Mass.

Wyoming, E. Parker, University of Wyoming, Laramie, Wyoming.

WE wish to thank our friends for their floral offerings and help; also the good sisters and fathers of Bernadillo for their untiring efforts during the sickness and death of our beloved daughter and sister, (Signed) Mr. and Mrs. S. S. Gilbert and Family.—Adv.

POLICE PROBING DYNAMITING OF HOME IN DENVER

Members of the Family Are Tossed From Their Beds;
Front Portion of Residence Is Wrecked

Denver, Colo., Dec. 3.—Police tonight are continuing their investigation into the circumstances surrounding the dynamiting of the home of C. Balistreri in north Denver early today, which wrecked the front portion of the residence and broke windows in the vicinity. No arrests have been made.

Members of the Balistreri family were tossed from their beds by the force of the blast, which occurred about 5 o'clock this morning. No one was injured. Telephone wires to the Balistreri home had been cut before the explosion, according to the police.

Belistreri, a laborer, was unable to explain the explosion, declaring he had no enemies.

WILL DEPORT THREE ALIENS TO OLD MEXICO

Captain Harn to Take Men to El Paso for Deportation;
All Released From "Pen"
Tomorrow

Captain John P. Harn, immigration inspector, will take three aliens from Santa Fe to El Paso tomorrow, the three to be deported. All three are inmates of the State penitentiary and will be released to Captain Harn early tomorrow morning.

The three men are Martin Lira, Nieves Jimenez and Thomas Salazar. They are natives of Old Mexico and none of the three has ever become a naturalized citizen. Lira was pardoned November 20 by Governor M. C. McChesem. This pardon was conditional upon his being returned to Mexico. The pardon was effective several days ago and Captain Harn had intended taking the man to El Paso, for deportation, last Wednesday. However, as the other two are also to be deported and not to be released until tomorrow, he decided to have Lira held and take all three on the one trip.

Nieves Jimenez and Thomas Salazar will be released upon expiration of their sentences. They were sentenced to 60 days each for violation of smuggling laws. Sentences were served in the section of the penitentiary at Santa Fe set aside for Federal cases.

Jimenez and Salazar are the two men captured about three months ago at Columbus, New Mexico in the drive the government forced to break up rum running and smuggling of other contraband across the border at that point. They were arrested by Inspector J. H. Pierce and upon trial were found guilty. Conditions in their particular case were 300 and a sentence of only 60 days was imposed. Both were found guilty of bringing liquor across the border from Old Mexico.

NEW 'LIGHTNIN' BILL' SCORES SUCCESS IN DEAD ACTOR'S ROLE

John D. O'Hara as "Lightnin' Bill Jones."

A cub reporter went back stage one night to interview Joe Murphy, playing in "The Kerry Cow." A member of the cast was missing. The cub filled in. Today he is filling the role of "Lightnin' Bill," made vacant by the untimely death of Frank Bacon. He is scoring a big success.
