McDONALD HAD A GOOD TIME

Returned This Noon from His Visit to Las Cruces and El Paso

CURRY BILL IS SIGNED UP

A Handsome Present from Uncle Sam to the State of New Mexico.

President Taft today signed the Curry bill directing the Secretary of the Interior, the Secretary of the Treasury and the Attorney General to turn over to the Governor of New Mexico for the use of the state, as its property, the furniture, furnishings, law books, typewriters and other material of the Federal government used by the territorial officials in New Mexico.

Governor William C. McDonald returned to the capital this noon and expressed himself as having had a good time at Las Cruces and El Paso.

Buchanan Gives Bond.
W. F. Buchanan, the Tucumcari banker, brought back to Tucumcari from Seattle, Washington, was admitted to $5,000 bail before Justice of the Peace E. E. Winter at Tucumcari.

Board of Water Commissioners.
The State Board of Water Commissioners met yesterday afternoon in the offices of State Engineer Charles D. Miller. All members were present, the board consisting of Charles Springer of Cimarron, Venecio Jaramillo of El Rito and Oscar Snow of Las Cruces.

Paroles Recommended.
At the meeting of the board of penitentiary commissioners March 2, the board and Superintendent McManus, acting as a board of parole, recommended the parole of Governor McDonald of the following prisoners: Panceratus Tekka, Tomas Martinez, James A. Hayes, Jose Angel Madrid, Roque Valencia, Gregorio Jaramillo, Candelario Via, Santos Montoya, Madison H. Price, Guy Stapp, Nasario Gutierrez, Valentine Gutierrez, Murdock Kelly, Walter McMurray, James Ryan, John Holston, Jack O'Downe and Manuel Chacon.

District Court.
The district court is disposing of a large number of minor cases each day of the session. The grand jury will have the first batch of indictments ready in a day or two. This morning, the case of J. A. Turley, versus the Citizens' Ditch and Irrigation Company of San Juan county, will come up for argument on the rule to show cause why the irrigation company should not be enjoined from repairing a head gate. Mr. Turley contends that the work of the company is interfering with an irrigation and power project, permit for which is now under consideration by State Engineer Miller. In the case of H. G. Vaughn, sentenced to one year in the penitentiary and to pay a fine of $100, the court suspended sentence on the payment of the costs of the case and Vaughn is at liberty. G. H. Van Stone has not yet appeared, though it is thought that he will soon.

Good Roads for New Mexico.
State Engineer Miller returned yesterday from a good roads inspection trip through the southern portion of the state. A trip was made from Santa Fe to Albuquerque lasting three hours, going over the road preliminary to repair work along this route. The road was built about a year and a half ago and no work has been done on it since that time. It needs regrading and attention to drainage.

Mr. Miller went from Socorro to the Arizona line near Springerville, and outlined work for the grading camp and convict camp west of Magdalena. This road will be pushed as rapidly as possible, inasmuch as Socorro county is putting up the money for the work. Work in Las Cruces is developing very rapidly. A stretch of road south of Mesilla Park in connection with the College Pike is being graded and will make one of the finest highways in the entire state. This work is due to the efforts of W. A. Sutherland as chairman of the Dona Ana County Good Roads Association in co-operation with the state road commission. The work has almost been finished in the Rincon section, to which the citizens of the county, the railroad and state road commission co-operated.

The Deming work has been stopped until some time in the summer when the rains begin so that the money that is expended in grading can be spent to the best advantage.

Supreme Court.
The state supreme court of New Mexico met at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon at the capitol with Chief Justice Roberts, and Associate Justices Hanna and Parker present. The following cases were disposed of:

No. 1443, Eugene F. Hardwick, appellee, vs. James W. Rice, appellant, appeal from the district court of Chaves county, submitted on briefs.

No. 1454, Charles F. Fowler, appellee, vs. Continental Casualty Company, appellant, appeal from the district court of Bernalillo county, reset for this morning when it was argued.

WIFE OUT ON BOND TO-DAY

Wounded Man Recently Insured
Life for $25,000 In Favor of Accused.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Atlanta, Ga., March 7.—Notwithstanding night reports that Eugene H. Grace, the wealthy builder found Tuesday afternoon with a bullet in his side, had no chance to live, his condition was improved this morning, according to his physicians. His wife is out on bond, charged with assault to kill. He has made no statement since his first sensational declaration involving Mrs. Grace. She contends she did not shoot him.

Awoke Wounded.
According to the police, little of the mystery has been cleared. Among puzzling features is the fact that no one, so far as is known, heard a shot fired. Grace says he discovered his wound when he awoke, that he was shot while asleep or under influence of opiates. No indication that he was drugged, has been found, so far as the police will say.

$25,000 Insurance for Wife.
Grace recently insured his life for $25,000 in favor of his wife. Persons advancing any theory connecting this with the shooting are met with reports that Mrs. Grace is possessed of a comfortable fortune in Philadelphia, her former home. Mrs. Grace's conversation with her husband early in the morning of the day he was found adds to complications. A servant declares Mrs. Grace remarked as her husband groaned, "You are not sick; you're sleepy."

Grace's Mother Thinks Wife Innocent.
Mrs. Grace, since being released on bond, has been with Grace's mother at a local hotel. The latter apparently still supports her daughter-in-law in her protestations of innocence.

"I Am Innocent."
Philadelphia, Pa., March 7.—Mrs. Martha Ulrich, mother of Mrs. Eugene H. Grace, today received the following telegram from her daughter: "Accused of shooting Grace. I am innocent. He is improving." After the telegram had been received Mrs. Ulrich got a letter from her daughter, which was written before Grace was shot. Mrs. Grace spoke of the plans that had been made for her husband's visit here and her trip to Newman, and she asked her mother to get a satchel ready for Grace to take back to Atlanta. Mrs. Ulrich pointed to the satchel and said: "There it is, all ready for him. It has cakes that I made for Daisy and other things in it for her." Mrs. Ulrich has letters, she said, in which Grace wrote that if his wife did not give him money, he would do something for which he would not be held responsible.

Wife Fired Shot, Says Grace.
Atlanta, Ga., March 7.—"I am firmly convinced that I was shot by my wife," said Grace when he regained complete consciousness this afternoon for the first time since the shot. He made a similar accusation soon after he was taken to the hospital.

It Is Hoped That Miners Will Modify Their Demands at Coming Conference.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
New York, March 7.—Fear of a strike of the 180,000 anthracite coal miners on April 1 has caused a rush by consumers to get coal to carry them over a strike period. This sudden demand became widespread today when it was reported that the railroads, instead of having a large amount of coal in storage in preparation for a possible strike, really were running short and were making every effort to increase their depleted reserve.

In consequence many dealers have increased prices by $1 to $1.25 a ton. The operators state the coal at the mines now is selling at the regular March price. A flat refusal of the miners' demand which is to be made by the operators at a joint conference with the miners' committee next Tuesday is expected to be followed by certain modified demands on the part of the miners that will lead to a general compromise and prevent a strike on March 31 when the present working agreement expires. Some operators, it is now reported, are willing to grant a five per cent increase in wages.

Washington, D. C., March 7.—With final action on the arbitration treaties with Great Britain and France definitely fixed for late this afternoon, both the advocates and the opponents of the treaties in their unannounced form figured a very close vote on the crucial provision contained in clause three of article three. Opponents claim this clause not only delegates the Senate's treaty making power to the proposed joint high commission of inquiry, but binds the Senate to accept the commission's determinations. The foreign relations committee, which at first favored striking out this clause, has shifted its view to that of preference to have the treaties left intact and the objectionable clause virtually nullified by the lodge ratification resolution, interpreting it so as to preserve the full constitutional treaty powers of the Senate.

Senator Root, speaking in advocacy of ratification, quoted from the speech of Secretary Knox at Cincinnati last November, in which that official explained that such questions as the Monroe doctrine and the exclusion of immigrants were not included in the conventions. Mr. Root said that as Mr. Knox was one of the negotiators of the treaty these expressions were a part of the record and binding on the interpretation of it.

Senator Borah sought to have the views of President Taft printed in the same connection, but Mr. Root declined to permit him to do so.

"Would not the interpretation of the President be as important as that of his secretary of state if it were exactly opposite?" interjected Senator Bacon. Mr. Root replied that it would be competent as evidence but added that Mr. Knox's view was authoritative and that he proposed to stand by it.

Washington, D. C., March 7.—The amendment of the British treaty as first proposed by the foreign relations committee to strike out clause 3, was adopted 42 to 40. This clause was attacked on the ground that it delegated the Senate's constitutional treaty making powers to the joint high commission and thereby bound the Senate. The two treaties are identical.

Washington, D. C., March 7.—Speaker Champ Clark today is celebrating the sixty-second anniversary of his birth by presiding over the deliberations of the House in the sixty-second Congress. When the House convened an unusually large number of members were present and the speaker was greeted with applause. Representative Rainey of Illinois, as the speaker's "nearest congressional neighbor" delivered an eulogy of Mr. Clark, likening him to Lincoln, whose career from a Kentucky farm to the presidency, he declared, was being duplicated by Champ Clark.

Debate on British and French arbitration treaties resumed and vote will be taken at 4:30 p. m. Senator Percy announced he would make statement to Senate Friday in response to Mississippi legislature's demand that he resign.

Democratic members of finance committee decided to stand by House steel tariff revision bill before seeking support of Progressive Republicans.

Met at noon.

Resumed discussion of agricultural appropriation bill.

Rev. Clark Carter, city missionary of Lawrence, told rules committee general impression was that the sending of children from Lawrence, Mass., was to excite sympathy. Elliott dismissed chief draught engineer of department of agriculture, who testified Florida Everglades land circular was suppressed by Secretary Wilson.

The $226,000 garden seed appropriation in agricultural bill was deleted in debate as "graft" by opponents of the item.

FOUR MEN PERISH IN MINE DISASTER.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Venezia, B. C., March 7.—A gas explosion in the Diamond Vale Coal mine at Nicola, 150 miles from Vancouver, has killed four men. Ten others are in the mine and their fate is unknown.

There, it was the general impression that the people who were sending the children away wanted to excite sympathy.

Foreign Mill Hands Terrorized.
The missionary also described a condition of terror prevailing among the foreigners, aroused by the strikers. "All those people, particularly the women," he said, "are terror-stricken. People have been aroused from their beds at night by strike agents who would shout: 'No work. Don't go work. Kill you.' Threats to blow up homes precipitated a terrorized condition among the people."

"Do I understand that people of Lawrence are in a state of terror?" asked Representative Hardwick.

"The strike began in terrorism," Mr. Carter replied. "The people rushed through the streets in calling the strike or not. People in the suburbs were afraid to go into Lawrence for days."

Government Cannot Act.
Washington, D. C., March 7.—A preliminary investigation of the strike situation at Lawrence, Massachusetts, has revealed no ground justifying action by the federal Department of Justice, declared District Attorney French of Boston here today. The government is further investigating the charge that the forcible prevention of children of strikers leaving Lawrence was a restraint of trade and consequently a violation of the Sherman anti-trust law.

Police Are Careful.
Lawrence, Mass., March 7.—The police made no attempt today to prevent the departure from the city to Philadelphia of a delegation of forty children of striking textile operatives, although the officers held up the party long enough to obtain the name and address of each child making the trip. The children left soon after 7 o'clock, accompanied by six delegates from the strike committee of the Industrial Workers of the World.

The departure was the principal event of the early morning hours although disturbances in which the pickets of the strikers figured received some police attention, and twelve arrests had been made previous to 8 o'clock. Observers at the mill gates reported that there was noticeable increase in the number of returning operatives.

A crowd of about 200 persons, in addition to thirty policemen witnessed the departure of the children. When the train reached South Lawrence, all of the children were sent back to Lawrence again, in order that the addresses of the children and the name of each parent might be obtained. This information being furnished, the children finally were allowed to depart.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Chihuahua, Mex., March 7.—General Orozco today gave instructions for a resumption of traffic on the Mexico Northwestern railway between here and Madera. Traffic on the Mexican Central is still subject to the orders of Orozco. There will probably be one train north today to Juarez.

Felipe Gutierrez is now acting as governor while the legislature has formally approved Orozco's action of yesterday in declaring against Madero. A body of rebel troops is out seeking Villa's forces, supposed to be west of Chihuahua.

U. S. Mail in Rebel Hands.
El Paso, Texas, March 7.—The train to Chihuahua today did not carry any mail, but the express company sent out urgent matter and newspapers were carried. The United States Postoffice Department has ordered that mail for towns and communities in the rebel district be given to the rebel officials at Juarez, despite the protest of the Mexican consul in Juarez. The Mexican postal officials in Juarez, of the Madero government, have consented to serve under the new Orozco government. They are dispatching mail, out are out of stamps. All letters mailed in Juarez have to be brought to El Paso and stamped.

Customs brokers in Juarez opened for business today and began importing goods for shipment into the interior where the rebels control. Mexican consul Lorente in El Paso contends that all such importations will be treated by the federal government as smuggled goods when the government goes in control again.

Rebels Run Trains.
El Paso, Texas, March 7.—A passenger train left Juarez over the Mexican Central at noon today, bound for Chihuahua, and operating under orders from General Orozco, at Chihuahua. A train is reported coming north from Chihuahua to Juarez, also. Tickets were sold for both trains and the rebel officials announce that they will keep traffic open.

Reports Exaggerated.
Washington, D. C., March 7.—Secretary of War Stimson had a brief conference with President Taft today and announced, as he left the White House, that he expected to see the President later to discuss the Mexican situation. Mr. Stimson said that, although he had not looked over the latest reports from Mexico, he believed alarming reports were exaggerated. He would not discuss the report that more troops are to be sent to the Texas border.

Reinforcements for Lower California.
Ensenada, Lower California, March 6.—(Via San Diego, Calif., March 7.)—The Mexican gunboat "General Guerrero" arrived in port from Mazatlán last night bringing federal troops and supplies. Stops were made at Lapaz and San Quentin where reinforcements for the garrisons there were landed. The remainder of the troops are intended to strengthen the garrisons in the northern district of Lower California, including the posts along the international line from the Colorado river to Tia Juana. The Mexican authorities here have not stated how many soldiers were taken on board at Mazatlán.

Kansas City, Mo., March 7.—The first congressional district preferential presidential primary of the 1912 campaign is being held today in the fifth Missouri district which comprises Kansas City and Jackson county. Republican voters will express their choice among the President candidates and two delegates to the national convention will be instructed for the man they chose. The primary has attracted wide attention in view of the recent action of Senator Joseph M. Dixon, Theodore Roosevelt's campaign manager, in challenging the President Taft management to a nationwide primary. The names of four candidates, Cummins, Roosevelt, La Follette and Taft are on the ballot.

Roosevelt Strong in Oklahoma.
Oklahoma City, Okla., March 7.—Returns today from fifty-five counties in the state where Republican county conventions were held yesterday showed 233 instructed delegates for Roosevelt and 70 for Taft. There will be contested delegations from six counties.

Taft Wins in Alabama.
Birmingham, Ala., March 7.—President Taft was endorsed and national convention delegates were instructed to vote for him by the state convention of the Alabama Republican organization here today.

Lansing, Mich., March 7.—The House of Representatives today passed a presidential preferential primary bill to be given immediate effect. The bill provides for a primary on the first Monday in April, binding the national convention delegates to support the presidential nominees securing the majority at the primary.

Washington, D. C., March 7.—Timothy L. Woodruff of New York, former state Republican chairman, predicted today that President Taft would get 80 of the 90 New York delegates to the national Republican convention. Mr. Woodruff was a guest at the White House over night.

Minneapolis, Minn., March 7.—"I don't see why anybody should be concerned over such unimportant things," said Colonel Roosevelt when he reached Minneapolis for jury service today and was asked to say something about the visit of George W. Perkins at Sagamore Hill, last night.

"Why," continued the Colonel, with a broad grin, "I'd see Mr. Rockefeller, Mr. Morgan, Mr. Perkins and Jim Hill, altogether if they wanted to see me. I'd see Gompers, Mitchell, Burns, the detective, and McNamara, if he was pardoned out of jail."

"I'll see anybody I want to at any time. If they don't want to know that they have seen me, I won't tell. If they do want to know I will tell."

The clerk announced that jurors engaged in the case on trial were excused for the day and Colonel Roosevelt returned in his automobile to Oyster Bay.

Paris, March 7.—Henri Saley, the French aviator, arrived at Issy-les-Moulineaux, a suburb of Paris, in his monoplane today, having traveled from London without a stop. The distance covered was about 222 miles in two hours and 37 minutes. He said that having urgent business to transact in Paris and seeing that the London-to-Paris train and steamboat service was affected by the coal strike, he had decided to make the voyage through the air in spite of the unfavorable weather.

During his trip from London, Saley navigated his monoplane by the compass. He traveled at an average height of 6,000 feet and generally was above the clouds, only occasionally catching a glimpse of land or sea. His extraordinary speed under the circumstances is explained by the fact that his machine was pushed along by a strong breeze from the North which will be unfavorable to his progress on his return trip to London, on which he started this afternoon.

These opinions are based on reports of German engineers and the emperor now has seized the opportunity of comparing his views with those of Colonel Goethals, who has returned from a flying trip of inspection of the Kiel Canal and other engineering works.

REPUBLICAN

Two Big Conventions Booked
for Santa Fe To-morrow Afternoon

WILL IT BE A REUNION?

The Delegates Are to Be Named for the Chicago Republican Meet.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
All Republican county chairmen, or chairmen of county delegations, are requested to have the names and credentials of the delegates from their counties, in the hands of Secretary Herbert W. Clark, of the Republican State Central Committee by nine o'clock tomorrow forenoon. Prompt compliance with this request will greatly facilitate the business of the convention.

Santa Fe is the host of two state Republican conventions tomorrow. One of them is that of the Republicans, with 311 delegates, representing every county of the state, and the other that of the Progressives who will have delegations here from the larger counties in which the Progressives have been most active. The purpose of the convention is to choose eight delegates and eight alternates to the Republican national convention at Chicago.

The Republicans plan to meet at the Elks' theater, as the desks have been placed in the Hall of Representatives for the legislative session which begins on Monday noon. The state executive committee will probably meet this evening. The state central committee meets tomorrow forenoon at ten o'clock.

The Progressive convention expects to meet at the capitol. Its proceedings will be less formal. The supposition is that the Progressives will rejoin the Republicans upon certain conditions that will be formulated and presented.

Colonel Venecio Jaramillo, chairman of the state Republican committee will call the Republican convention to order and deliver the opening address. Secretary Herbert W. Clark is also on the ground from Las Vegas (with Assistant Secretary Jose D. Sena) to arrange the preliminaries of the convention. National Committee member Solomon Luna, former State Chairman H. O. Bursum, Senator W. H. Andrews and other wheel horses of the party will arrive tonight, while Congressman Curry, Judge A. B. Fall, Charles Springer, Eugenio Romero and others are already on the ground, the noon train bringing quite a quota of leaders and delegates. The convention promises to be an animated one. The agreement is that an instructed Taft delegation be sent to Chicago, yet it is certain, that the majority of the delegates favor Taft and will press an endorsement of his administration and may even make a fight for instructions.

Congressman Curry, a Roosevelt enthusiast expects to be on the delegation to Chicago, while Representative R. L. Buen and W. H. Chrisman, want to go from this section. The probable procedure will be to permit each judicial district to name one delegate and one alternate.

The Progressive convention will be called to order at 2 p. m., by Chairman Jesus Romero of Albuquerque. "What we want is not so much places on the delegation to Chicago, as we want reorganization of the party, new central and executive committees and a more direct way for the voters to express their will," was the answer of one of the Progressive leaders this afternoon, when asked what the Progressive convention will do.

The Citizens' decoration committee was busy this forenoon getting the convention halls in shape. American flags and bunting, together with the state colors and welcome legends, are freely displayed and county standards have been provided. The Chamber of Commerce and Bureau of Information will have their rooms open for visitors and delegates and the Santa Fe Club will also keep open house. All businessmen and property owners are urged to decorate.

Victim of the Cold.

Several More Deaths From Cold. Jose Antonio, an old Indian sheep herder, was frozen to death near Gallegos, Union county, and another sheepherder had his feet so badly frozen that they had to be amputated. Harold Marston, aged 19 years, froze to death near Naravisa, Quay county.

Dismiss Suit for $15,000. A breach of promise suit brought by Mrs. Ella Snyder against A. I. Lindsey, mayor of Aguilar, Colorado, and one of the wealthiest men of Las Animas county, was dismissed in the district court. The plaintiff sought to recover $15,000 from Lindsey.

Judgment in the sum of $2,100 was rendered by Judge Herbert Reynolds in the district court at Albuquerque in the case of Grunsfeld Brothers versus Filomena Mora and Maria C. de Mora. Newell, who held up the barroom of the Hotel Vail at Pueblo, Colorado, is in a critical condition at St. Mary's hospital, suffering from two gunshot wounds. While robbing the buffet and the occupants of the room, Newell was forced into a revolver duel with J. W. Erd.

Fined for Selling Liquor.

Lee and William Edgar, druggists, and Marion Olmstead, proprietor of a bowling alley, at Ordway, Colorado, were arrested upon warrants sworn out by William Henry, a Denver detective, charging them with selling intoxicating liquors in violation of an ordinance of the town. Olmstead and Edwards were found guilty, and Olmstead fined $100 in two cases and Edwards $50 in the one case against him.

Snowed In Ten Days.

The Santa Fe and Eastern succeeded in clearing up the line to Yankee from Raton after a ten days' fight with the deep snow. The worst drift encountered was in the deep cut just this side of Carlsbrook, where several days were consumed by the aid of the engines and about forty laborers with shovels before the solidly packed drift, 12 feet high, could be cleared from the right of way. One engine jumped the track while bucking snow on a sharp curve and ran almost its entire length off the track into the

Had to 'teal to Live.

East Denver high School pupils have been robbed of lunches, books and wearing apparel, and small sums of money. Pupils who were too poor to buy their own lunches have stolen something to eat. Pupils who were ashamed to ask for books have stolen them from other pupils. Articles of clothing have been stolen by those whom it is said could not afford to buy clothing.

Woman Becomes Deranged.

While traveling between Albuquerque and Las Vegas, Mrs. Anne White, a through passenger on train No. 19, showed signs of mental derangement and after medical examination at Las Vegas it was found advisable to have Special Officer E. R. Wells accompany her east. Mrs. White, who is an elderly lady, was en route from San Diego to Boston, Mass., and was traveling in a chair car of the second section of the train.

Only One of Many.

Miss Margaret Cahill, 29 years old and pretty, until Friday a clerk in the office of L. C. Greenlee, city and county treasurer at Denver, has mysteriously disappeared. W. M. Cahill, a policeman, her brother, last night asked the police to assist him in locating his sister. Cahill met his sister Friday night on Sixteenth street, near the postoffice, in company with a mining man, who also is connected with a local packing house.

Receivers Appointed.

Dr. O. A. Young of French and John Morrow of Raton have been named as receivers of the French Land and Irrigation company of French, Colfax county, by Judge T. D. Leib, at Raton. The purpose of the appointment of receivers was to preserve the company, to complete the undertaking and pay off the standing indebtedness and preserve the water rights and irrigation system already operated by the company. John Findley, recently selected consulting engineer for the French Land and Irrigation company projects, left for French to look over the ground preparatory to the immediate resumption of construction work on dam No. 3. Dam No. 2 has already been completed and the work on dam No. 3, about half finished when the construction work was abandoned, will be pushed to an early completion in order to conserve the spring flow from the company's irrigating sources.

Where Santa Fe Excels.

The 29 days of freezing temperatures during February will long be remembered for their annual severity and time of excessive snowfall, says the Raton Range. Rarely ever does the sun fail to break through the clouds for two days in succession. This condition of affairs has been changed twice during the month just past, however, when the sun has remained hid for two days at a time. The following local report sent in by the custodian of the United States weather bureau station will be of interest because of its unusual record of climatic conditions prevailing during February for this locality. With a maximum temperature of but 59 on February 15 and a minimum of one degree below on the 21st, there was not a 24-hour period passed in which the temperature did not drop below freezing. The average daily mean temperature for the 29 days was 26 degrees—six below freezing. Clear days were 13, and cloudy or partly cloudy, 16. The snowfall for this vicinity was 12 inches. At Santa Fe and Albuquerque the lowest temperature was eight degrees above zero, and at Santa Fe there was not a day without sunshine during February.

Politics and Politicians

Rival Democratic Clubs.

Tonight one faction of Democracy at Albuquerque is to organize a Democratic club. Last evening, the W. C. Liller faction organized a club. There is no friendship or good feeling lost between the two clubs.

Sombody Will Go Broke.

Roosevelt or bust, is the slogan of some. All will certainly go broke supporting him. The people do not want a third term President. If they did, they would have kept Washington's descendants in office.—Roswell Daily Record.

Premature.

Congressman Curry is rather premature in declaring that New Mexico is for Roosevelt. Another matter, where did he procure his information? New Mexico is for a third term for no man. That is what will put Theodore out of the running. Roosevelt may be popular with the masses, but they are not ready to turn over the government to one family to start a dynasty. Roswell Daily Record.

That Does Not Look Like Roosevelt.

In view of small representation present the committee on resolutions decided to refrain from presenting any resolutions and the delegation goes unrepresented, but it is safe to predict that a majority of the delegates are "safe and sound and sane" Republicans who will give their support to delegates to the national convention who will not stampede to an aggregation of "wild west" show performers or promoters of socialism.—Carrizozo Outlook.

Gable Has Succeeded.

The Citizen is in receipt of the first report of the Game and Fish Warden for New Mexico, Thomas P. Gable, covering the period of two years and nine months, beginning April 1, 1909, to, and including December 31, 1911. The report is made up into book form of 88 pages, bound in cloth and handsomely illustrated with half tone cuts and colored photo engravings of wild birds, fish and animals, in the scenic National Game Preserves. In all of which our worthy State Game and Fish Warden has succeeded and will no doubt continue to succeed in his endeavors.—Las Cruces Citizen.

Spies and Curry Differ.

Congressman George Curry left Washington for New Mexico, where he will try to bring about an instructed delegation for Colonel Roosevelt. Charles A. Spiess, of Las Vegas, who was president of the constitutional convention of New Mexico, and who is at the Willard hotel, does not think Mr. Curry will succeed. "It is my opinion," Mr. Spiess said, "that the New Mexico delegation will go uninstructed to Chicago. There is no denying that Colonel Roosevelt has a great many friends in New Mexico, but President Taft also has friends. The people of our state cannot forget that it was due largely to him that the territory became a state and many of the leading Republicans are in favor of an uninstructed delegation. The fight for two United States senatorships seems to have narrowed down to four candidates," said Mr. Spiess.—Washington Post.

Diagnosing the Case.

The majority of New Mexico voters indubitably believe in the principles advocated by the Republican party, but with methods that have sometimes been in vogue in some precincts some counties, and some parts of the state, many Republican voters have expressed a loss of patience. Unfortunately they have expressed their sentiments by voting for the other man. Whenever they say, a clique, a coterie, a ring has put through a slate, controlled a primary, a convention without affording an actual opportunity for the expression of the voice of the majority it has injured the party.

I am constrained, however, to reflect on the attitude of many good Republicans who will exhaust themselves in inveigling against the mistakes of the party, when they never by any chance attend a primary, where, alone the voice of the people can have free utterance. In the recent Republican primary in East Las Vegas, for instance, where only the voice of the people could have effect in the selection of president, just 18 out of the hundred Republican voters attended. The man who fails to attend the primary has no legitimate ground for criticism politically or anything or anybody.—District Attorney Ward in the Las Vegas Optic.

Much to Do.

The first legislature of the state of New Mexico will assemble at the Capital City, Santa Fe, Monday, March 11, 1912, to be in session for ninety days. It will be the most important assembly New Mexico has ever had. There is much to do in the way of enacting new laws to meet the conditions and necessities incident to the change from our recent territorial form of government to one of state sovereignty. We believe the honor, integrity and loyalty back of the legislative bodies which are largely Republican (in majorities) will prevail to enact such good and wholesome laws, which will meet with the approval of the Governor, and that in all things for the material interests of New Mexico, for her prosperity and growth as an important factor in the Union that perfect harmony may prevail between the legislature and the Executive.

Arizona Politics.

Phoenix, Ariz., March 7.—Joseph E. Morrison, just appointed by President Taft to the position of district attorney for this federal district, has begun an earnest fight against former Governor Richard E. Sloan, who has been nominated for federal judge for the Arizona district. It is Morrison's purpose to prevent the confirmation of the appointment by the Senate and he is gathering material on which to base his fight. Mr. Morrison is working on a matter which came up in the territorial courts in 1909. It is said that Francis J. Heney, now of San Francisco, was adjudged guilty of contempt for some alleged irregularity in connection with a jury, and that the matter was expunged from the court record with the knowledge of Governor Sloan, then an associate justice of the territorial supreme court. Rumors of Morrison's intended fight on Sloan have been in circulation for months, but this is the first time actual evidence of the character of the fight to be made on him has come to the surface. Governor Hunt has announced himself a candidate for delegate to the national convention at Baltimore June 25. M. G. Cuniff, of Yavapai, is likewise a candidate. There are also some other candidates including P. P. Parker, M. G. Cuniff, Charles Wolf, and two or three other men from the back counties. Eugene Brady O'Neill, Reese M. Ling and Selim Michaelson, of this county, are candidates for national committee-man.

California Women for Mr. Taft.

"The women of California are going to play an important part in the campaign for presidential candidates," said former Representative W. F. Englebright, of Nevada, Cal., at the Willard. "You see this will be the first time the women have had opportunity to exercise their franchise in a political campaign of national importance, and they are getting ready to poll their full voting strength. Down in Los Angeles there were almost as many women voters in the primaries last year as there were men, and it looks as if, there will be more to vote in the primaries this year. I just had a letter from my wife, and she said 'Colonel Roosevelt is trying to beat Mr. Taft and I am for Mr. Taft. I wish you would tell the President I am for him and that I am working and will continue to work for him among the women out here.'"

"With that kind of a spirit shown by the women it looks as though Mr. Taft will have an easy thing of it out in California, because the women certainly are fond of the President. I believe that a large majority of the voters of California favor Mr. Taft's re-nomination. His opposition comes from the new state machine controlled by Governor Johnson, who is ambitious to be a candidate for Vice President. That's the answer. I am going out to work for Mr. Taft, and I think he will get the state and will win the nomination in the convention without a doubt."—Washington Post.

A Parallel Situation.

"Haskell is out for Senator and is after Owen's scalp. A lot of people have an idea that Haskell is a strong candidate. He isn't—but his opponents can't go to sleep on the job. He needs watching. He will get what he wants if it isn't nailed down. He has no standing with the better class of the people. He came as near wrecking the Democratic party as the circumstances would permit. He came as near putting Oklahoma into bankruptcy as it was possible for any man to do. He gave his state more undesirable notoriety than any other dozen men. He is a canny, a scoundrel, a pestilence. His chief boast is that no one ever called him a fool or a coward. Possibly he is neither, but he lacks all the other qualities of statesmanship. He has an unlimited capacity for evil diplomacy; is infamously wise in negotiating other folks into difficulties; is skillful past belief in making a false position seem plausible; is unscrupulous, extravagant, smooth, boastful, unreliable, bright, handsome, reckless, false, dangerous, narrow, prejudiced, unjust, profane, foul, vindictive, arrogant, active, energetic, double-dealing. The very fact that he can be seriously considered for the office of Senator is a misfortune."—Oklahomaian.

Delegates to Republican Convention, McKinley County.

State Senator Gregory Page, John Spears, Gus Mulholland, Arthur Floyd, John Jennings and Nathan E. Goo. The delegation is instructed for Taft.

VICKROY IS HOME FROM HARDWARE CONVENTION.

Thomas G. Vickroy has returned from Denver where he took an active part in the convention of the Colorado Retail Hardware and Implement Association. Through Mr. Vickroy's efforts and those of several other New Mexico delegates, W. S. Cox of Silver City was given a place on the board of directors of the Association. Mr. Vickroy responded to the address of Welcome, on behalf of New Mexico. J. B. Wood of Santa Fe, who had been down on the program for that purpose, being unable to attend. Wyoming and New Mexico are grouped with Colorado. There are 622 hardware dealers in the three states.

JACK DILLON AND WALTER COFFEY TONIGHT.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Oakland, Calif., March 7.—Jack Dillon, of Indianapolis, will meet Walter Coffey of San Francisco here tonight in a ten round middleweight contest. While Frank Klaus of Pittsburg, popularly is accepted as the legitimate successor to the title of the late Stanley Ketchell, he wants to come by it in the regular way. Dillon already is matched to meet Klaus on the 24th of this month, so that much depends on the outcome of tonight's fight. If Coffey should win, he also will be entitled to meet the Pittsburg man. Dillon is the favorite in the betting.

ROOSEVELT AND HIS FAITH

He Declares Through Outlook He Believes in Rule of People

DEFENDS COLUMBUS SPEECH

Abraham Lincoln Is His Great Example, Guide and Prototype.

New York, March 7.—Colonel Theodore Roosevelt has an article entitled "Do You Believe in the Rule of the People?" in the current issue of the Outlook. The article in full is as follows:

There has been much effort made to fog the issue raised in my Columbus speech. In reality, the issue is perfectly simple: Do you believe in the rule of the people? If you do, you are with us. If you do not, you are against us.

Many good and honorable persons do not believe in the rule of the people and openly say so. We disagree with these persons, but we can respect them. There are other persons, however, who do not believe in the rule of the people, but who dare not say so, and who endeavor by trickery, by chicanery, by fraud, to seem to give the people the right to rule and at the same time to deprive them of that right. These persons we do not respect.

Let the men of little faith who fear the people keep steadily in mind that they have no part in the heritage of Abraham Lincoln and of those who worked with him for the preservation of this nation. Abraham Lincoln did not try to trick or defraud the people into freeing the slave and restoring the Union; he appealed to them in the name of duty, in the name of honor and self-sacrifice to risk all, including their lives, for a high ideal; and the people responded, and Abraham Lincoln was justified and the slave was freed and the Union preserved. Those who stand for the cause of social and industrial justice, to be obtained through the genuine rule of the people, are but carrying forward the work which dropped from Abraham Lincoln's hands when the patient, tired, kindly eyes were closed forever. He strove against entrenched wrong, against privilege in the most hateful form of his day. We, in our day, strive against hateful forms of entrenched wrong and privilege. We are not striving in bitterness of spirit, or with anger and hatred; as far as in us lies, we seek to emulate Abraham Lincoln's charity and kindness in dealing with those who, as we believe, think erroneously; but we also endeavor to emulate the unflinching resolution, the unswerving purpose with which he fought for the great cause of righteousness.

Abraham Lincoln believed in the liberty and the power of the people, achieved in lawmaking and orderly fashion. He believed in that liberty of the people which has law and order as its twin handmaids. He respected the judges. But he regarded them as the servants and not the masters of the people; and he believed that the people had the right to decide for themselves the great fundamental questions of public policy, upon the proper solution of which it depends whether they shall or shall not be true social justice in the land.

Therefore we hold that, as regards these questions of public policy, courts like executives and legislatures, must bow to the sober and well-thought-out judgment of the people.

Let me repeat once more what I have so often said—that I am not now speaking of ordinary cases of justice between man and man, such as must be decided by judges here in America as they are decided by judges in all other lands. I shall speak of these cases in some subsequent articles, in which I shall ask the people soberly to consider such facts as those set forth by C. P. Connolly in his recent articles in "Everybody's Magazine." In this article I speak purely of the kind of decision which only American courts are entitled to make—the kind of decision which no judge in our neighbor Canada, in Australia, in England, in Germany, or in France has the right to make, or would for one moment be permitted to make. Nor, at the moment, am I treating of the action of the national courts, because the federal form of our government makes it more difficult to propose a working remedy in the case of the nation than in the cases of the several states. I am speaking of the action of the court of a state when it declares that a law passed in the collective interest of the whole community is unconstitutional; and I have especially in view the laws affecting human rights from a most vital standpoint—the laws affecting the terms and conditions of life and employment among the wage-workers.

I am not primarily concerned with methods; my aim is to secure the right of the people to decide for themselves, according to the principles of common sense and justice, what the public policy shall be in these matters. I am concerned with the end, not the means. If in any state the constitution so clearly defined the power of the legislature to act for the general welfare as to prohibit the courts from nullifying any law that is consonant with morality and public policy as understood by a majority of the people; and if in actual practice the courts respected such constitutional prohibition, then there would be no need for what I propose; because in such case there would be full recognition of the absolute right of the people to decide the policy of their representative, legislative and judicial, in these matters—and this is all for which I contend.

But in actual practice I know no state where such conditions prevail;

A BLOOD MEDICINE WITHOUT ALCOHOL.

Recently it has been definitely proven by experiments on animals that alcohol lowers the germicidal power of the body and that alcohol paralyzes the white corpuscles of the blood and renders them unable to take up and destroy disease germs. Disease germs cause the death of over one-half of the human race.

A blood medicine, made entirely without alcohol, which is a pure glyceric extract of roots, such as Bloodroot, Queen's root, Golden Seal root, Mandrake and Stone root, has been extensively sold by druggists for the past forty years as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. The refreshing influence of this extract is like Nature's influence—the blood is bathed in the tonic which gives life to the blood—the vital fires of the body burn brighter and their increased activity consumes the tissue rubbish which has accumulated during the winter.

Dr. R. V. Pierce, the founder of the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, and a physician of large experience and practice, was the first to make up an ALTERNATIVE EXTRACT of roots, without a particle of alcohol or narcotic.

"It is with the greatest of pleasure, that I write to let you know of the great benefit I received from the use of your medicine any self-treatment at home," writes Mrs. W. E. Hyatt, of Lady Smith, B. C. "I suffered for three years from a venereal sore. Consulted four doctors but they failed to mend or give relief. Finally I was told I was in company of a friend who had been cured by Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. I bought a bottle and used it as directed. The sore was healed, and I am now better than I ever was. I shall always recommend your medicine."

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets regulate liver and bowels.

They certainly do not prevail in the not in the instrument, but is merely state of New York. Therefore I hold explanatory, and in effect reverses the that provision should be made in the decision of the supreme court, rendering constitutions of the several states in which the judicial power of the the legislature and the court as to the United States shall not be construed to extend to any suit in law or equity commenced or prosecuted against one of the United States by citizens or subjects of any foreign country." Judge Triebler also refers to the decision rendered in another case by the supreme court through Mr. Justice Bradley, when, in speaking of this amendment, the court said: "This amendment expressing the will of the ultimate sovereignty of the whole country, superior to all legislatures and all courts, actually reverses the decision of the supreme court."

It thus appears that it has been officially recognized by the supreme court, as is set forth in the words of Justice Bradley, that the people of the United States have actually constructed for themselves the constitution of the United States, reversing and overriding the decision of the supreme court in so doing. All I ask is that what the people of the nation have actually done the people of each state shall actually be allowed to do. Let the power so secured to them be a real and not a nominal power, a power of actual exercise, a power which shall not be exercised save after sober and deliberate thought, but which shall permit such sober and deliberate judgment of the people to become, as it should become, the unquestioned law of the land.

In concluding, then, let me ask those who disagree with me frankly to state whether or not they believe that the people have the right to rule themselves, and to settle for themselves the course they wish to pursue as regards great and vital questions of public policy. If our opponents do not believe in this right of the people, then they must repudiate the principles and the policies of Abraham Lincoln. If they are true to the teachings of Lincoln, if they do believe in the right of the people to rule, then they are bound also to hold that the power of the people, in the language of Mr. Justice Bradley, speaking for the supreme court, "is superior to all legislatures and all courts and expresses the will of the ultimate sovereignty of the whole country."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The new Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the Territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

JOLTING A TRADITION.

Theodore Roosevelt insists that he is not breaking a hallowed tradition by expressing his willingness to become President of the United States for a third term, but granting that he is correct that the traditional ban on a third term is against a "consecutive" third term, the Roosevelt admirers admit that he is giving the tradition a severe jolt. It is rather disappointing to have the former plain-spoken Rough Rider quibble over words and meanings that to the average citizen are perfectly clear. There was a time when Roosevelt would not write a letter that was ambiguous or that he himself would seek to give another meaning than the public gave it.

The reasons against a third term for Roosevelt are as strong as they are against a "consecutive" third term. Everywhere, even here in New Mexico, there is a tendency against giving office-holders a third or even a second term, a tendency that has been embodied in the state constitution. There are always worthy and able men who should be given a chance to serve the public, and there is always the danger of the official eligible to reelection, playing politics rather than serving the public, even though the reelection does not happen until one term has intervened. It would be bad enough to have a man in the presidential chair scheming during his term for reelection, but it would be worse still to have an occupant who was scheming four or eight years ahead and putting up political fences so strong that an intervening Presidential term could not break them down. Such a precedent would indeed bring nearer the shadow of a man on horseback, for the tradition of Washington and Jefferson and Grant once broken, there would be no bar to fourth or fifth or life term.

It is significant that the newspapers of Boston, of New York, of Chicago, irrespective of party, with a few notable exceptions, are waging war on Roosevelt's modified third term idea, which is so repugnant to the people that it would mean inevitable defeat for any candidate, Republican or Democrat, who would advocate it. The Boston Herald, perhaps, has the most just and calmest summing up of the Roosevelt ambitions, when it says: "Ex-President Roosevelt can no longer be charged with maintaining an equivocal attitude toward the presidential nomination. It is not now possible for his enemies to insist—as the New York newspapers have long been doing—that he was secretly scheming to capture the prize while his friends were asserting that all thought of another term in the White House was repugnant to him. These were the contrasting types of opinion six months ago. It has for some weeks been evident to neutral-minded observers that he was getting into readiness to take the step just announced. His 'hat-in-the-ring' utterance, in Cleveland, only deepened the impression that the latest Outlook deliverance on the third term had made. And these but accentuated the reports that have been coming regularly from visitors to Oyster Bay who have found him steadily seeing more and more arguments for consenting to accept the nomination. His Cleveland speech was virtually the platform of a presidential aspirant. And he is not merely receptive; he wants the nomination, and is frank enough to express the hope that the people be given a chance through direct primaries to express their preference.

"The movement for Roosevelt is, in the judgment of The Herald, one of those waves of popular impulse, sure to be checked by the sober second thought of the American people. Sixteen years ago the demand for free silver afflicted the rank and file of both parties. It was much more difficult in corresponding latitudes to find any voter not hostile to the gold standard than it is to find a hundred enthusiastic friends of Mr. Taft today. The greenback idea swept everything before it in an earlier generation. Personal enthusiasms have also run like old-time epidemics. Gen. Grant, whose second term as President was marked by arrogance and ignorance, and by astonishing corruption on the part of his subordinates, evoked so much popular fervor in 1880 that with difficulty a third nomination was withheld from him. Just about half as long ago the country went crazy over George Dewey. Every American city was stormed with his admiring thousands. He had performed an act which, in the cold light of history, seems as brave as that of any householder in shoveling the snow off his sidewalk. Not a life was lost, and the work of demolishing the Spanish tubs was taken so much as a matter of course that Dewey's men suspended operations to eat breakfast without the slightest risk. And yet the country was aflame. Many newspapers led by the New York World, came out for him for the presidency, and he would have proved a large factor had he not in the infatuation of an aged lover transferred the 'gift of the grateful people' to his newly found wife. The Herald has no purpose to criticize Admiral Dewey, now citing his case only as one where a popular craze did not prove sustained or substantial. Neither will the present Roosevelt movement. It will not stand intelligent analysis, such as the American people are sure to give in the next four months. His chances of nomination would have been immeasurably greater if he had emerged from some African land of mystery ten days before the convention met.

"Mr. Roosevelt believes—and no one should question his sincerity—that he could do more for the country as President than could Mr. Taft or Mr. Wilson, or anybody else that might now be chosen. It is only natural that Mr. Roosevelt should think this, and great numbers of his fellow-countrymen will agree with him. But the Herald will not. It holds him in very high regard. It estimates not lightly his tremendous service for legislative progress and for genuine reform. He has won his name large among the benefactors of his country. But his administration was not of unimpaired excellence. Not a few temperamental defects were exhibited in his conduct of the office, and these seemed to increase with the length of his holding it. His Annapolis Club operations were undignified. His attitude toward Congress, notably in reference to the secret service complication, was contemptuous. In short, he does not possess that twenty-four carat fine adaptability for the place of command which would justify as in overriding the traditions of a century to reinstall him. We should not be unkind of the experience of Diaz. If Roosevelt could come back now for four years, he can probably stay there eight years, and he is young enough to return after another interregnum for two terms more. Even a little of this program would be a serious and regrettable departure from the pristine ideals of the republic, and to them the age and its spirit call for our largest measure of loyalty.

"Nor will the theory of Roosevelt's invincibility stand analysis. Two years ago, in dramatic settings at Sagratoga, he overthrew the 'Old Guard,' nominated a young protégé for governor, and thereafter left no stone unturned to carry the state. Republican speakers boldly acknowledged that it would be on election day a vote for or against Roosevelt, and yet Dix carried the state by sixty thousand. Roosevelt would be an exceedingly vulnerable candidate for the presidency. He would have to meet not only the Democratic party in reasonably solid phalanx, but he would encounter those serious-minded Republicans who object to the third term, and perhaps the still larger number who became rather weary of Mr. Roosevelt's temperamental qualities during the closing months of his last term.

"For these reasons The Herald thinks the ex-President has made a great mistake to risk his exalted place in the regard and affection of the American people by an attitude which smacks of doubtful loyalty to an old friend, and lays himself open to the charge of subordinating a once-settled purpose at the behest of personal ambition."

It is significant that at the municipal election at Seattle, this week, the Prohibition forces won with the aid of William Jennings Bryan. Seattle, the point of embarkation for Alaska and the north, had all the characteristics of the wide-open seaports of the Orient, with every vice under the sun openly fostered. In fact, the businessmen of Seattle, to a large extent, made themselves believe that without these conditions, Seattle could not prosper. However, 32,000 of the 62,000 voters thought different on Tuesday and they will demonstrate that even a seaport can prosper with public vices eliminated.

New Mexico Republicans being willing to make their influence felt in electing a Republican to the Presidency, why should they fear to make their influence felt similarly in the nominating convention by instructing their delegates for their favorite candidate, be he either Taft or Roosevelt? Surely, the New Mexico delegates are not on the bargain counter. There is hardly any Republican constituency in this broad land which will not instruct its delegation for some candidate or other and the uninstructed delegates at Chicago will be few and far between.

AN OPPORTUNITY FOR HARMONY.

The moral effect of the so-called Progressive Republicans returning to the party ranks would be great, and an opportunity for this is offered on Friday, when conventions of both Republicans and Progressives are in session here. The door should be open for all those who wish to return to the Republican fold and there make their influence felt.

A difficult question would obtrude itself, however, if it is insisted upon, that those who are plainly in the minority, shall be permitted to control and rule the majority. Without submission to fair majority rule, no organization can exist for any length of time. Minority rule means one man power, autocracy, czarism.

It is well understood that the defection from the Republican party of certain leaders in Bernalillo county, drew enough votes from the party ticket in Bernalillo and Sandoval counties to defeat part of the state ticket. The disaffected leader thus demonstrated his power to harm the Republican party. Just as Thomas D. Burns might demonstrate it in a similar manner in Rio Arriba county; or H. O. Bursum in Socorro county; or Solomon Luna in Valencia county; or Frank Springer in Colfax; or T. B. Catron in Santa Fe; or Malaquias Martinez in Taos; or Frank A. Hubbell in Bernalillo; or E. A. Miera in Sandoval county; or any other acknowledged leader might in his county or section of the state. But what chaos would ensue if each leader, the moment that the majority expresses an opinion, or issues a decree, that does not suit him, would become an insurrecto and start war on the party. The potentiality for harm and damage that any strong man, who possesses a talent for leadership and who gives time and money to politics, may inflict, always exist.

On the one hand, the Republican organization must make it easier for the majority of the rank and file to express their will; on the other side, leaders must bow to that will, whenever it is fairly and unequivocally expressed. In the meanwhile the attitude of the majority should be conciliatory. The Republican organization has nothing to promise or to give and nothing to refuse in the way of emoluments to the Progressives who desire to return to the party fold, but it can assure them free speech and an equal chance to submit their candidates and their desires to the Republican electorate, which alone has the right to decide. Any other kind of an agreement, or barter, would prove very distasteful to those who have stood firm in time of stress and would harm the party eventually, for it is a question not of leaves and fishes, but of principle and majority rule, and these cannot be arbitrated, waived or sold.

WHEN FRIENDS AGREE TO DISAGREE.

The New Mexican has been receiving letters from its readers on the subject of its treatment of Colonel Roosevelt's candidacy.

Some of these letters are commendatory, while others, written in the most respectful and dignified fashion, express the conviction that this paper's criticisms of the former President are based upon political motives, rather than upon honest convictions.

We are not surprised to find that good men are disagreeing on the subject of Colonel Roosevelt's behavior. We are glad, however, that good men can honestly disagree without considering it necessary to denounce each other. So far as the New Mexican is concerned, its attitude cannot be made too plain.

It believes that Colonel Roosevelt has destroyed his own popularity and much of his value as a model to hold before the youth of the land, by a course which could not be approved by any group of men, if the same absence of courtesy were manifested in any of the relationships of life. Men who dig ditches side by side, or who follow the furrows of the field of battle together—all recognize the imperative necessity of "playing fair," one with another.

And all men recognize the merit of courtesy and gentle conduct, though some may not practice it themselves as faithfully as they would like to do.

Colonel Roosevelt's recent record speaks for itself. The New Mexican has pointed out clearly how he has been guilty of bad faith toward the party that elected him and toward the friend who was faithful to him. He has popularized boorishness; and we rejoice that he is now in a fair way of rendering this quality unpopular.

The New Mexican has always held Colonel Roosevelt in high regard; its editor owed him appointment and re-appointment to a very desirable office and it is with him through thick and thin as to the promulgation of many of his ideas, but it cannot follow him in his desire for a third term.

We can respect those who, from a sense of inflexible loyalty, remain friendly toward one whom they have had many reasons for applauding; but we can be intelligently just even toward their friends, when those friends have forgotten themselves to the extent of holding as nothing the rules which all men of right feeling regard as inviolable. Let the Republican State Convention tomorrow endorse President Taft in no uncertain terms.

Mayor Seligman's city building plan as outlined by the standing committee of citizens he appointed at the session of the city council, has the support of every good and thoughtful citizen and tax payer. One committee, however, might be added for the scientific and systematic equalization of assessment valuations in the Capital.

SCOTT REACHES SOUTH POLE.

extremity of the undiscovered portion of the globe.

Captain Robert Falcon Scott started on his expedition from Port Chalmers, New Zealand on November 29, 1910. He was well equipped for this dash for the farthest south, having made a previous expedition under the direction of the Royal Geographical Society. At that time he attained a record of 82 degrees, 32 minutes, which remained the record up to the time of Lieutenant Shackleton's notable exploit. Shackleton pushed further south and in 1907 reached 88 degrees, 22 minutes or about 100 miles from the South Pole. This remained the record and inspired navigators of many nations to attempt the culminating feat of reaching the pole.

Race for Pole.
Captain Scott took the route by way of Australia and New Zealand. He sailed due south into Ross sea, a great stretch of water reaching toward the South Pole. His chief competitor was Captain Roald Amundsen who was commissioned by the king of Norway and the Norwegian government. Amundsen chose the route by way of South America, as against Scott, and three others who went by the Australian route. Amundsen left Buenos Ayres on board the steamer Fram toward the close of 1910. He passed through the straits of Magellan and then steered for Ross sea, the same sheet of water which Scott had gained by way of the New Zealand and Australian route. Captain Scott planned to follow the same land trail that Shackleton had taken. This is along a mountain range, thought to be an extension of the Andes range running southward through South America.

At the further post point of Ross sea, Captain Scott debarked his party from his ship, the Terra Nova. At this point, stands the great volcano, Mount Erebus, from which rises constantly a great volume of steam. It is one of the dread localities of the Antarctic, to which navigators have given the name of Terror Bay, for here Nordenskiöld's ship, the Antarctic, was crushed in the ice. Back of this bay the steam-wrapped volcano stands out like a sentinel against the ice covered mountain range stretching southward.

Plans to Reach Goal.
Captain Scott made his first winter quarters on the slope of the mountains and there remained until November, 1911. It was then that his dash began. His plan was to cover the remaining distance by the end of December and then immediately about face and make the dash back again. He had placed his reliance not only on his equipment of food, but a score of ponies, twenty-nine dogs, and one motor sledge. He designed the use of this sledge in making rapid progress over the comparatively level stretches of the foot hills. Due allowance was made for the death of ponies and dogs, the steady depletion of stores, and the loss of vitality of the party making up the expedition.

Captain Amundsen had no ponies and no motor sleds, as his experience led him to place all his reliance on Siberian dogs. The three other competitors in the race were Lieutenant William Fitchner, of the general staff of the German army; Lieutenant N. Shirase, of the Japanese navy and Dr. Douglas Mawson, representing Australia.

Routes Followed.
Lieutenant Fitchner, followed largely the plans of Dr. Nansen, and sailed on the steamer Deutschland on October 5, last. He is a daring explorer, having been one of the first to reach Lhasa in Tibet, and much confidence was felt in him by the Geographical Society of Berlin. The Japanese explorer followed the Shackleton route into Ross sea, but returned to Sydney, Australia, in 1911 to repair damage done in Terror bay. His second start was not made until November last, so that he is rather behind in the race. Dr. Mawson, the Australian, took his route from the harbor of Hobart, Tasmania, aboard the little ship Aurora, and took the land route to the east of Ross sea.

End of Quest.
These five men and their parties were out of sight of the world for many months, until the first rumor came yesterday, with the confirmatory report that Amundsen had returned and had brought word that his leading opponent had reached the coveted goal.

Perry's Feat Greater.
From a geographical and scientific standpoint, the discovery of the South Pole, while a momentous event, has not the same features of importance and danger as relate to the North Pole. The quest for the latter has been through great fields of open water and floating ice, whereas the South Pole is situated on land.

Scores of navigators have perished in the quest of the North Pole, but relatively few in trying to reach the South Pole. The problem has not been one of reaching the pole over floating ice, but of passing rapidly over the snow covered foothills of the mountain range and terrifying glaciers.

King Haakon Has Not Heard.
Christiania, Norway, March 7.—King Haakon of Norway, who was to have received the news from Captain Roald Amundsen if he had been successful in attaining the South Pole, has not received any communication from the explorer. King Haakon's adjutant said that should private news arrive from Captain Amundsen, it would place the king in a somewhat awkward position as he might think himself unjustified in making it public and thus spoiling Captain Amundsen's chances of selling his story.

Confirmation.
Copenhagen, March 7.—The Social Democrats published a dispatch from Christiania saying that a private individual in that city has received a telegram from the Fram expedition stating that Amundsen reached the South Pole.

Amundsen Didn't Arrive.
London, March 7.—It is said on good authority, according to a special dispatch received here today from Christiania, Norway, that Captain Roald Amundsen, the Norwegian explorer, and leading rival of Captain Scott did not reach the South Pole.

The Rev. Hatfield's Coachman Assaults Rector's Two Young Daughters.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Danbury, Conn., March 7.—George Mead a coachman for the Rev. Frank Hatfield rector of the Episcopal church at Brewsters, N. Y., made a murderous attack on the two daughters of the rector and then blew himself to pieces with dynamite. According to the story received here today Ruby Hatfield, 20 years old, and Amy, her sister, 21, carried some tools yesterday to Mead, who was at work in the carriage house. As they entered, Mead sprang at them, and struck Amy over the head with a pair of pliers, felling her.

Ruby made her escape, and went to summon help. Amy revived and ran from the building, when a terrific explosion occurred, and the end of the building was blown out. Searchers afterwards found Mead's body in pieces among the ruins.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
San Francisco, Calif., March 7.—The national Chinese assembly in session at Nanking yesterday, sanctioned the inauguration of President-elect Yuan Shi Kai at Peking and agreed that he should not be required to go to Nanking, according to a cablegram received here today. The oath it was stated, would be given by telegraph, this plan having been substituted for the earlier proposal of administering it to Vice President Li Yuan Heng, as the president-elect's proxy.

Owing to the seriousness of the situation in Peking, the governor of Canton, says the dispatch, has ordered 10,000 loyal Republican troops to that city to assist in suppressing the riots.

IRREPRESSIBLE ENGLISH SUFFRAGETTES AT IT AGAIN.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
London, March 7.—The Suffragettes resumed their window smashing operations early today. A number of them assembled in the neighborhood of the large dry goods establishments in the west end and soon after dawn, and as soon as the shutters were taken down, attacked the plate glass with hammers which they carried concealed beneath their cloaks. The women selected the largest windows in London for their demonstration. Passers by who witnessed the demonstration did not allow the Suffragettes to escape, but detained them until the police arrived on the scene. Six of them were arrested.

WILL CHICAGO MEAT PACKERS GO FREE?

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Chicago, Ill., March 7.—Counsel for the defense in the trial of the ten Chicago meat packers, charged with criminal violation of the Sherman law began a determined effort today to obtain the liberty of their clients. Attorney John S. Miller presented a verbal motion asking Judge Carpenter to take the case from the jury and discharge the packers, declaring that the government had failed to prove the charges described in the indictment.

PERSONAL MENTION

Solace.
I could not bear to greet the day,
Tears dimmed mine eyes the while,
Till in a sunbeam's eager play
I saw your smile.
I was not brave to face the blind
Lone way my feet must seek—
Till in the whispering of the wind
I heard you speak!

Governor at Las Cruces.

Governor Wm. C. McDonald was enthusiastically received at the College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, by the students who gave him a rousing yell. He expressed much interest and satisfaction in the work of the institution and said that he would do all that he consistently could to secure the additional appropriations which the college badly needs. At 12:30 a luncheon was given at McFie hall for the governor and regents, and the time from 1:30 to 3 was spent in visiting and inspecting the college farm and buildings, after which the governor and board of regents had a meeting in the president's office. The governor expressed himself as being very favorably impressed and pleased with what he saw at the college. His reception at the Armory at Las Cruces was a complete success in every way. The receiving line included Major Van Patten whose long residence in the Mesilla valley has made him familiar with every face, and who introduced the people in turn to the governor, who stood next, after which came Mayor Young and Mrs. Young, Senator Holt and Mrs. Holt and Mr. Stoes. The governor was greeted by hundreds of people, and the reception lasted about two hours, after which the music broke into the strain of the opening waltz, and dancing was indulged in. During the governor's visit in Las Cruces the stores and banks along Main street were decorated with flags and bunting.

Governor in El Paso.

The business men of El Paso entertained the business men of New Mexico at a luncheon Wednesday at the hotel St. Regis in honor of governor W. C. McDonald of New Mexico. Governor McDonald is here with his staff to attend the Panhandle and Southwestern Cattlemen's Association and was one of the speakers on the program Wednesday. Brief talks were made by the governor and by prominent citizens of New Mexico and El Paso during the luncheon. Those at the banquet were: J. G. McNary, Z. T. White, U. S. Stewart, J. M. Wyatt, W. Cooley, Dr. J. B. Brady, W. S. Clayton, Juan Terrazas, Thomas O'Keefe, Carl Leonard, W. A. Keller, W. W. Turner, C. M. Newman, P. P. Edwards, F. J. Hall, A. Krakauer, Z. L. Cobb, J. M. Goggin, Judge J. N. Browning, J. R. Harper, W. H. Austin, Jan Hart, W. J. Fewel, Assistant General A. S. Brooks, A. N. Haddock, A. Jones, R. F. Barges, Geo. Flory, W. W. Cox, C. E. Mitchell, H. D. Slater, H. B. Stevens, A. Courchesne, Judge A. M. Walthall, F. Martinez, H. J. Simmons.

"You people do not seem to realize that because a man is elected governor of a state, it does not give the man any more sense than he had before and sometimes it acts the other way and does not give him as much," said Governor W. C. McDonald of New Mexico, before the cattlemen's meeting. "There is a great benefit in an association such as the Panhandle and Southwestern Cattlemen's association is and at the conventions of the association the members are given a chance to meet and to discuss their business. It is the same as it was in the old days when the cattlemen would meet under the tree to talk things over, and then, as now, for the purpose of protecting their own cattle. There is not a bit of difference in the two meetings. Cattle conditions are continually changing along with the other changes. Organization in the cattle business was primarily to stop tax-eating of your cattle. It still has the same purpose and some of the people, I am glad to say, have stopped while there are others who have not. But the stealing of calves must be stopped."

"In New Mexico we have associations of the cattlemen and they are very good ones, with the purpose of putting an end to thieving and to improve the sanitary methods of cattle."

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Wallace, Idaho, March 7.—Father F. A. Becker, of St. Alphonsus Catholic church has taken legal steps to collect $25 with interest for preaching the funeral sermon over Adam Golzong, one of his parishioners. Mrs. Golzong, the defendant in the suit, declared today that in Father Becker's sermon over her husband, the late Mr. Golzong was berated for his non-attendance at church. She declared that later she offered to pay $10 but this amount was refused. Father Becker declared that the suit was brought as an object lesson to his parishioners who were prone to avoid the payment of such charges.

NOT GOOD ENOUGH FOR US!

Style isn't style when it has no foundation on quality materials, when it is not expertly tailored into the garment. In all lines of endeavor there is always one man or firm that is by all acknowledged supreme, preeminent. Every good dresser recognizes the supremacy of the ROYAL TAILORS. Paste may serve the purpose of good diamonds, but cotton will not take the place of wool in your suit.

"MAN-AFRAID-OF-HIS-CLOTHES,"

That's good Indian for the man who discovers, after it is too late, that his clothes are part cotton. Poor fellow! He knows the rain will spot the fabric—a wetting will put the shape all out. Don't get stuck that way. Buy ROYAL TAILORED CLOTHES. They will not shrink on your back. Form-fitting and shape-retaining. EVERY THREAD GUARANTEED TO BE WOOL OR YOUR MONEY REFUNDED. Prices as cheap as you are paying for half cotton.

A Suit for $18.00 you have been paying $22.50 for

A Suit for $25.00 any man might be proud of

A Suit for $30.00 will make the ladies take notice

A Suit for $35.00 you would pay $75.00 for on Fifth Av.

Rev. Henry Ward Beecher had a stroke of apoplexy.

The fact that the Santa Fe is surveying a line into Denver has broken the agreement with the D. & R. G., and other intermountain lines, and these will now extend into Santa Fe territory. One of the first lines to be built will be that of the D. & R. G. through White Rock Canon to Albuquerque while the Santa Fe will build from Santa Fe to Taos.

The T. S. F. & N. will run a Sunday excursion to Espanola, the round trip to be $1.00.

The Thirteen Club hop, postponed Friday night on account of the U. S. court's occupancy of Catron's hall, will take place there tomorrow despite Lent.

Gallagher, the prizefighter, was placed in irons today at Fort Marcy, as he is a deserter from Fort Selden.

"If County Commissioner Seligman wants to take a progressive step let him assist in appointing and setting aside a certain day to be known as Arbor Day. Had this been done ten years ago what a beautiful city Santa Fe would now be. There's no more time to be lost."

THE FORUM

IN A WORTHY CAUSE.

Albuquerque, N. M., March 5, 1912.

Sir:-- Permit me to express to you my sincere appreciation of the position accorded to my article entitled "An Undeveloped National Resource in New Mexico," and still more, for the support given by you to the purpose set forth in it, by the editorial which appeared in the same issue of your paper.

The support of the leading journals of the state is essential to the realization of the plan outlined in my article; and I am deeply sensible of the value of the approval vouchsafed to it by the New Mexican, the old newspaper in New Mexico.

From the tenor of the communications which are reaching me from all quarters of the state, I feel warranted in believing that my suggestion, if supported in an effective manner, may achieve a practical result. Concerted action alone, directed by men of acknowledged standing and wide influence can bring this about. Let us all, for the first time, unite in a league of mutual co-operation for the good of the community--a league which should count among its members every patriotic citizen; let us take for our ensign "union, liberty, progress," a trinity of sentiment and action through which alone, with the Divine blessing, the wellbeing of the human race can be accomplished; and let us go confidently forward with unbroken ranks towards the fruition of our desires--the prosperity of the whole state and the happiness of all her citizens.

I am, sincerely

Your obedient servant,

E. McQUEEN GRAY.

HUNT WINS OVER DAY

In a Fast Twenty-Round Battle the Soldier Is Given the Decision

FIGHT FANS WERE SATISFIED

Both Men Have Terrible Punches, But the "Kid" Was Slow Last Night.

In a clean twenty round bout last night at the Elks' theater "Soldier" Hunt of Fort Wingate was given the decision on points over "Kid" Day of St. Joseph. While the decision was not a popular one with the fans its justice was conceded by those who knew the game. Both men carry a terrible right punch and the bell alone saved the soldier in the second round from a brace of terrific lefts to body and rights to jaw that Day landed almost at will. The kid is good in a mix-up, but last night failed to mix and the decision went to the soldier on classy scientific sparring that gladdened the hearts of the devotees of the classic game. The kid was never in danger while the light footed soldier had an explosive right swing to body waiting for him that might have landed him in dreamland any time--but it did not land.

Both men were fighting strong when the final round began, and were endeavoring to land "good night" right swings to body. The kid drew the first blood by a clever left to face which put the soldier's eye out of commission, but his terrible right was blocked every time he tried it and Referee Murry Gynn, of Albuquerque who knows the secrets of the squared circle by long experience, decided that "Soldier" Hunt was the master of the real scientific punch.

Both men were in the pink of physical condition when they stepped into the ring and weighed in at 145 pounds. Day proved a trifle deficient in "wind" which caused him to fight much on the defensive while his adversary was on his toes for the whole of the twenty rounds. Day has an impressive crouch while Hunt's fighting attitude is an upright posture that gives him the free use of his long arms. As a physical specimen Hunt is a real modern Adonis.

The theater was crowded with the sports of three cities who were uniformly quiet and respectful to the boxers who gave them as clean an exhibition, under the Marquis of Queensberry rules, as has been seen in this section. While the fight fans grumbled a little at the decision they left the ringside declaring that if the Santa Fe Athletic Club had other events of the kind they would be on hand. As a demonstration of the manly art the contest last evening could hardly have been improved upon and only the thin blooded could have called the fight a "brutalizing exhibition."

The Fight By Rounds.

1. Each felt his adversary out by light sparring.
2. Fast and furious from the start. Day succeeds in landing two rights to jaw and lefts to body that looked like a knock out when the bell rang. Hunt was helped by his corner.
3. Both eager. Hunt lands straight from shoulder. Day undercuts to short ribs. Equal honors.
4. Hunt aggressive but careful. Leads with right to face and misses. Day lands right to jaw. Exchange of rights and lefts in clinch. Day misses good opening for a right body swing. Hunt recovers and round ends with free exchange. Equal honors.
5. Both eager. Hunt misses uppercut to jaw by clever foot work on part of Day. Hunt pecks. Day crosses to jaw. Hunt misses right uppercut to jaw. Day crosses left to jaw followed by a right swing to Hunt's heart. Equal honors. Both fresh.
6. Both spar for opening. Hunt misses right and left swing to jaw and body. Day misses right to face twice through clever covering on part of Hunt. Day lands right to face twice after clinches. Day misses another opening for right body swing. Both breathing heavily.
7. Both spar to recover wind. Day blocked nasty swing to short ribs. Hunt lands right to face. Hunt blocks "good night" uppercut to jaw.

WHEN HER BACK ACHES.

A Woman Finds All Her Energy and Ambition Slipping Away.

Santa Fe women know how the aches and pains that come when the kidneys fail make life a burden. Backache, hip pains, headaches, dizzy spells, distressing urinary troubles, all tell of sick kidneys and warn you of the stealthy approach of dropsy or Bright's disease. Doan's Kidney Pills are for the kidneys only. They attack kidney diseases by striking at the cause. Here's proof of it in a Santa Fe woman's words:

"Mrs. Desideria J. de Quintana, College St., Santa Fe, N. Mex., says: 'Several years ago I used Doan's Kidney Pills and I was cured of a bad attack of kidney complaint. At that time a statement appeared in the local papers, telling of my experience and I now take pleasure in confirming all that was then said in their praise. I had pains in my back that made it difficult for me to stoop and there were other troubles which plainly showed that my kidneys were at fault. Soon after I began taking Doan's Kidney Pills, improvement was noticeable and the contents of two boxes, not only restored my kidneys to their normal condition but also removed the pain from my back. I am glad to say that during the time that has since passed, my cure has been permanent.'

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-McMillan Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name--Doan's--and take no other.

Day misses right body swing. Both close fresh with equal honors.

8. Both spar for opening with classy glove work. Day misses right to jaw. Wild swings in passes. Hunt misses right to head, but lands right uppercut to ribs and right shoulder. Both land left and right to head in passes. Round closes with Day fighting on defensive and hunting hard.

9. Lively mix-up. Hunt's straight right blocked, also right swing to body. Hunt lands straight left to face. Wild swings in exchange of rights to face. Day lands light straight to face. Tame round. Both breathing easily.

10. Hunt leads left for head. Misses in passes. Day tries for right body swing that loses force but causes Hunt to sway. Day crowding Hunt when bell rang. Day's round. Both fresh.

11. Day determined to land right body swing, but fails. Hunt pecks. Day lands light uppercut to heart. Both strong. Equal honors.

12. Both miss in exchange of right swings. Both warm up. Day misses right body swing. Hunt swings wild. Equal honors.

13. Hunt lands left to jaw and misses uppercut to jaw. Day lands right to head and two lefts to face. Fast round to Day.

14. Day forces fight. Both miss in exchange of rights and lefts to head. Day lands right and left swings to jaw. Hunt lands right to jaw and left to body. Day in some distress. Hunt's round.

EDITORIAL FLASHES

A Good Job.
We acknowledge the receipt of the report of Thomas P. Gable, game and fish warden of New Mexico. The report is for the years 1909, 1910 and 1911. It contains many interesting views and photographs. It is a well printed book and does the Santa Fe New Mexican job department credit. —Naravisa New Mexican.

Am I My Brother's Keeper.
Parents do you know what your boys are doing nights? The young Americans of Carriazo need a little more attention than seems to be apportioned to them. This may not be the editor's proper "but in" but even the hardened ones don't like to see the tiny ones out at all hours of the night carousing, smoking and drinking. —Carriazo Outlook.

A Virgin Field.
New Mexico's Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals will find a virgin field in this city and county for the exercise of the good work they have in hand. There is hardly a day passes but some poor, flitted, half-starved horse or team of horses are seen driven through our streets pulling over-loaded wagons. We do not think that the drivers of these over-loaded beasts of burden really mean to be inhuman towards their animals, but the practice has become so fixed a habit and through ignorance or indifference and because they have not been taught to regard animal life as being subject to kind treatment; the practice is continued. A branch of the Society in Belen could be of much human service both to man and beast in inculcating the love of mankind to animal life, which we believe would be gladly received by owners and drivers of horses and others who have the care and keeping of all kinds of animals. —Belen Tribune.

RICE AND SCHEFFELS PLEAD GUILTY TO CHARGES.

Have Been on Trial for Alleged Conspiracy and Misuse of Mails.

(By Special Lensed Wire to New Mexican)
New York, March 7.—George Graham Rice and B. H. Scheffels, who with the other members of the firm of B. H. Scheffels & Company, have been on trial for the last five months in the U. S. district court, for alleged conspiracy and misuse of the mails, pleaded guilty to the indictments charged when court convened this afternoon. Judge Ray sentenced Rice to serve one year in jail, the date of his sentence beginning December 23, last, when he was put in the Tombs after one of the jurors had been approached. Scheffels was released on a suspended sentence. The plea of guilty was the result of a compromise, which was agreed to yesterday by Rice and the United States district attorney.

MRS. BESSIE GENTRY GUILTY OF MURDER.

Killed Husband for Insurance Money and is Sent Up for Life.

(By Special Lensed Wire to New Mexican)
Oklahoma City, March 7.—Mrs. Bessie Gentry was convicted today of murder in the first degree, and her punishment fixed at life imprisonment. She was tried for the murder of her husband, Thomas J. Gentry, which occurred on the night of January 6. When the verdict was returned, Mrs. Gentry, seated in a big arm chair, provided by a court bailiff, betrayed no emotion. Maurice Weightman, brother of the woman, who is alleged to have fired the shot, is yet to be tried. An insurance policy of Gentry's life is said to have figured as a motive for the murder.

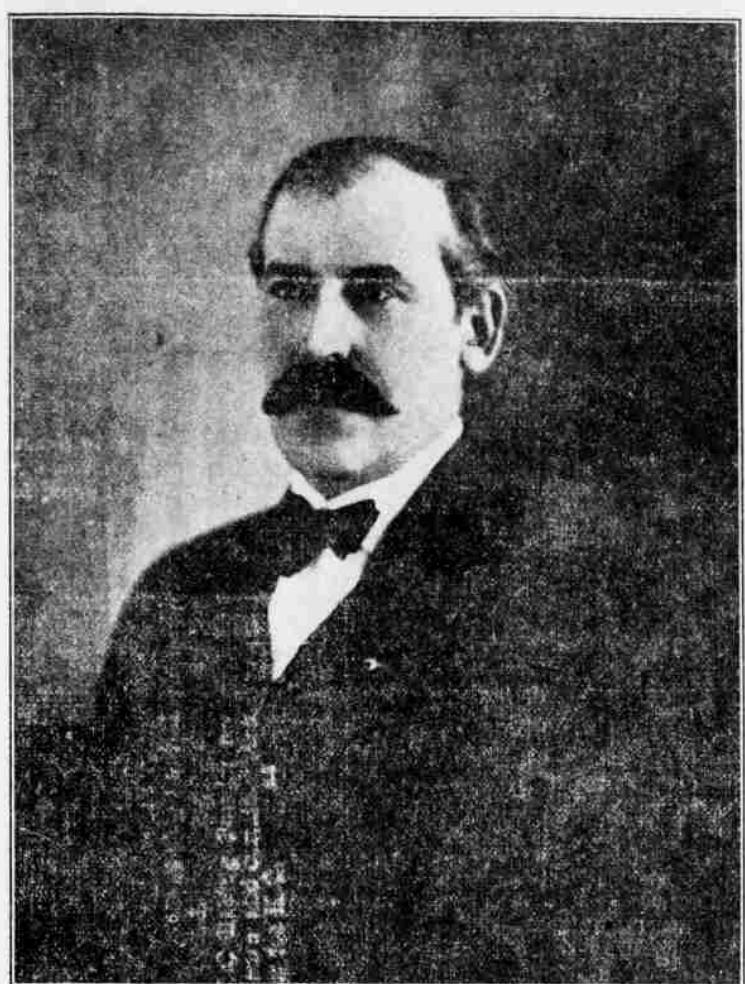

Backache Almost Unbearable
Is an almost certain result of kidney trouble. D. Toomey, 803 E. Olive St., Bloomington, Ill., says: "I suffered with backache and pains in my kidneys which were almost unbearable. I gave Foley Kidney Pills a good trial, and they done wonders for me. Today I can do a hard day's work and not feel the effects." For sale by all druggists.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only curative cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. LOWER PECOS VALLEY LEGISLATORS ON THE WAY.

Eddy County Commissioners Are Sitting as Board of Equalization—Water Users' Association.

Carlsbad, N. M., March 7.—Eddy county will be well represented in Santa Fe this week. Senator F. F. Doepf and Representatives Hugh M. Gage and Florence Love expect to leave the latter part of the week to get settled before the convening of the legislature on next Monday. C. M. Richards one of the delegates to the Republican state convention leaves today. Before returning Mr. Richards will attend the Lumbermen's convention in Albuquerque next week. Mr. Richards has been in the lumber business since he came to the state.

The board of county commissioners are in session as a board of equalization. Many delegates have appeared before the board, objecting to the increase in valuations made by the state board.

The shareholders of Pecos Water Users' Association are signing up new contracts for the repayment of the cost of the irrigation works of the Carlsbad project. These contracts must all be signed up before the 15th and it is crowding the office to get the papers in shape. Several hundred contracts have already been signed and will be ready to go to the U. S. land office in Roswell for approval in a few days. The relief granted the water users under the new contract will promote settlement and development of the project.

"Newspaper advertising is the cheapest advertising known. That is to say it reaches more people in proportion to the money expended than any other kind of advertising. What is really needed is concentration of support on one section of the country at a time. This concentration can only be obtained by use of locality mediums, and of these the daily newspaper is far and away the best."—From Newspapers as Advertising Mediums, by F. J. Gibson.

TRUE STORY WITH A MORAL

Which Is That Even Undertakers Can Advertise to Some Advantage.

One of the hardest businesses to advertise in the world and keep within the "ethics" of the profession, is the undertaker's. Just out of Pittsburgh, an undertaker selected a queer medium, so people thought, namely, a drinking cup, to advertise his business. The name and address painted in bottom so that a man taking a drink of "agua pura" drawn from the pipe at the village watering trough, looking through the typhoid germs, could see the undertaker's ad. at the bottom.

Several of these were placed at a watering trough in front of the country store. A fast train ran into a work train containing a load of Italians, one of whom fortunately could read English. He ran to the watering trough to get a cup of water to revive his dying countrymen and noticed the advertisement in the bottom. The result was he beseeched the storekeeper to telephone to this undertaker, who from the display of one drinking cup with his advertisement, secured five funerals and yet there are some that state that undertakers cannot advertise, and he does occasionally and it does pay.
