FOREIGN POWERS RESUME NAVAL COMPETITION NOT COVERED BY AGREEMENT

United States Cannot Avoid a New Program in Swift Cruisers and Fleet Submarines Unless Treaty Limitations are Extended to Such Craft, House Is Informed

Washington, Dec. 13 (by the Associated Press).—Blunt notice that the United States cannot avoid a new naval program in swift cruisers and fleet submarines unless treaty limitations are extended to such craft, was served by the house appropriations committee today in reporting the $293,806,538 naval appropriation bill. A six-line provision placed in the bill by the committee requested President Harding to negotiate with Great Britain, France, Japan and Italy for such an extension of the treaty, limitation of aircraft.

The committee report said large cruiser and submarine programs were planned abroad, adding:

"In the world, competition is on again in the single direction to which the unratified agreement (the Washington naval treaty), does not extend, and if it is allowed to go on unchecked, the purse strings again must be relaxed and this government, like all others, will be constrained to launch a new program to the extent necessary to keep us at least abreast of any of the other powers."

President Harding was not consulted by the committee with relation to its limitation conference request.

The project for negotiations apparently came as a surprise, even to naval officials. It was originated by Chairman Kelley of the naval appropriations sub-committee.

The chief reason prompting Mr. Kelley to propose a new naval conference was the view that there appeared little likelihood of success for new negotiations to limit, in accordance with the "5-5-5" or some other ratio, the size of cruiser and submarine fleets. The conference, it was pointed out, had found no basis of agreement possible on these points or as to fighting aircraft. The French position at the conference in opposition to limiting submarine fleets, it was added, brought a specific reservation by British delegates of the right to build anti-submarine craft, such as light cruisers and destroyers without restriction, save as to the limitation of guns and displacement, and limitation of the maximum size of guns they could carry to eight inch weapons.

In addition to the new cruiser program, the committee is known to have been informed of the general board's recommendation that a start be made on modernizing the pre-Jutland battleships of the navy, the point being made that the British already had begun to build a large extent to increase gun range and deck protection of her capital ships to be retained under the treaty. The American modernization program, it was pointed out, in the neighborhood of $60,000,000, it has been estimated. Lacking such modernization work, American 14-inch gun ships would remain outgunned by otherwise similar but modernized British ships of the same class, navy officers have declared.

Faced with this double prospect of heavy naval expenditures in the near future, Chairman Kelley turned to President Harding for a ratio in search of a way to avoid such outlay. The request to the president was placed at the very end of the 55 page naval bill. It reads:

"The president is requested to enter into negotiations with the governments of Great Britain, France, Italy and Japan with the view of reaching an understanding relative to limiting the construction of all types and sizes of sub-surface and surface craft of 10,000 tons standard displacement or less, and of aircraft."

The suggestion was made by some members of the house that the suggestion might be subject to a point of order, and hence go out in the house. It was indicated, however, that there was every reason to believe the senate would put it back into the bill, which, in the shape of a conference report, would bring it before the house to be voted up or down.

It was claimed by committee friends of the Kelley proposal that

MORE RATIONAL FISCAL POLICY EUROPE'S NEED, BURTON STATES

Remedy for Situation Abroad Is Not in Cancellation of Indebtedness to U.S., Ohioan Declares

FAVORS A FLEXIBLE INTEREST RATE RULE

Would Require Germany to Pay, But People Should Not Be Reduced to the Condition of Serfs

Washington, Dec. 13.—Hope that the "threat of chaos and decay which hangs over the world may be dispelled" was held out by Representative Theodore E. Burton of Ohio, member of the allied debt funding commission in an address tonight before the Washington Association of Credit Men.

"Europe," he declared, "the remedy is not in cancellation of indebtedness to us but in the adoption of more rational fiscal policies, the abatement of military expenses and in the substitution of relations more sensible and more just for the present attitude of distrust and repulsion."

Mr. Burton, while seeking to "show the mandate of the statute enacted by congress for a debt commission," expressed the opinion that "it would be better if there were no rigid rule as to rates of interest on the loan of the money."

"While no one can forecast the future rate of interest upon national loans," he said, "we should be ready at least to reduce the rate if conditions warrant. The time for payment should not be fixed by any hard and fast rule."

He also suggested that "it is desirable that a reasonable share of the amount which may be paid by the debtor countries should, under proper supervision for security and the objects for which it would be utilized be re-loaned for purposes of expansion and betterment in the countries which pay."

Declaring he would "not for a moment advocate the release of Germany from paying of an indebtedness," Mr. Burton said it was "not desirable to reduce that people to the condition of serfs and impose upon them, as well as upon generations to come, a burden so staggering that they are unable to carry it."

"It is not merely best for them," he asserted, "it is not best for the rest of the world."

Mr. Burton reiterated the "wave of popular opinion" among some of the peoples of Europe, particularly of France, which demands that reparations be imposed upon Germany so heavy as to destroy her economic life. "I am thinking that Germany can only be adequately punished and France be adequately repaid," he declared, "if Germany is practically ruined."

The debt commissioner saw in the fixing of boundaries after the war, a "great danger" to Europe, declaring "natural boundaries and essential outlets to the sea were disregarded," alien peoples mingled, dominant races and classes were imposed upon subjects "without discrimination" to those who had been subordinated to them and long established economic units "radically disrupted."

Mr. Burton expressed the opinion that the United States could aid in the affairs of Europe best by "taking a firm stand for the fundamental principles of our foreign policy."

This is the first time that a broadcasted concert from America has been heard in England. It hints at how radio may soon link nations.

TRIAL OF FIVE MEN BEGINS; CHARGE MURDER

Introduction of Testimony Begun in Slayings Growing Out of the Riots in the Herrin Coal Field

Marion, Ill., Dec. 13.—The completion by both the prosecution and defense of their statements to the jury and the speedy introduction of the testimony of the first three witnesses for the state marked the opening today of the trial of five men charged with murder in connection with the Herrin riot.

Farmers and miners, most of them in their working clothes, crowded the court room to capacity. Before the trial, state attorneys, made the opening address for the prosecution.

Beside Judge D. T. Hartwell sat the jury of 12 rugged workmen in blue and khaki shirts, eleven of them farmers and one a union miner, of the group of farmers on the jury, two are former miners.

Declaring that the only question before the jury was one of murder and that there was no issue in the case between capital and labor, Mr. Duty told of the efforts to operate the mine of the Southern Illinois Coal company with non-union men and declared that these workers had been attacked by a mob of between 800 and 1,000 strike sympathizers.

Mr. Duty said that the state was not during the night preceding the killing, an agreement had been made whereby those men in the mine were to lay down their arms and leave the mine and that also "in return named Hunter, who was presumed to represent Governor Len Small, made arrangements for the men to put up the white flag and leave under promise of safe conduct out of the country."

The killing, he said, of the 20 non-union miners followed. A. W. Kerr, who is chief counsel of the Illinois mine workers, declared in his statement that the defense would show that the killing of non-union men was the result of "an invasion by armed guards" and that Williamson county was in defense of its homes, adding that "by this act of self defense it served notice on those who employ them that this was a safe community to which to send hired murderers."

He declared the prosecuting authorities of Illinois were being influenced "by a private organization composed of great wealth, the Illinois Chamber of Commerce."

State has been "careless" in selecting the jury defendants in this present trial, Mr. Kerr said. "We will show that these men had nothing whatever to do with the killing."

The three witnesses for the state who were heard and dismissed practically without cross-examination by the defense attorney were: Dr. J. B. Black, head of the Herrin hospital; Albert G. Storm, Herrin undertaker; and William McCowan, the coroner of Williamson county.

Dr. Black and Mr. Storm testified regarding the death of Hoffman, one of the victims of the riot. Dr. Black expressed the belief that the death of Hoffman was due to gunshot and knife wounds.

FLYERS LANDED CLOSE TO GOAL IS INDICATION

Report Received at San Antonio Indicates That Marshall and Webber Landed on American Soil

San Antonio, Texas, Dec. 13.—That Colonel Francis C. Marshall and Lieutenant Charles E. Webber, aviators, missing since last Thursday when they took off from San Diego, California, for Fort Huachuca, Arizona, were found near their destination, was indicated in a message received here tonight from Colonel R. B. Winans, who is directing the search at Tucson, Arizona.

It was definitely established, according to the message, that the plane was seen flying toward the Pecos River delta near the Twin Buttes and between the Santa Rita and Huachuca mountains. Troops and planes are concentrating the search there, the report stated.

Confirmation of the report indicated that the flyers were on American soil. From the point they were last seen, the distance to their destination at Fort Huachuca is about sixty miles.

MORE AIRPLANES WILL JOIN IN THE SEARCH
San Francisco, Dec. 13.—Four army airplanes which left Grassy Field early today for Nogales, Arizona, to aid in the search for Colonel Francis C. Marshall and Lieutenant Charles E. Webber, landed at Bakersfield, Calif., late today, joining six other machines on the same errand.

Three more planes will leave Grassy Field tomorrow, flying direct to San Diego.

LAUSANNE MEET
Lausanne, Dec. 13 (by the Associated Press).—Ambassador Child had a long conference with Benet Pasha this afternoon and urged him on humane grounds to make liberal concessions for the protection of the Armenians, Greeks and other minorities remaining in Turkey. Mr. Child emphasized the good feeling Turkey could inspire in the outside world by making ample provision for the protection of foreigners living in Turkey and explained to him the great interest Americans of all classes have in seeing the dislocated populations properly cared for and insuring guarantees that there shall be no further displacements.

He expressed American disapproval of the Turkish plans for the exchange of populations in Turkey and Greece.

At 10 o'clock tomorrow morning, Benet Pasha will appear before the sub-committee on minorities and make a further statement regarding Turkey's counter proposals concerning the allied scheme for protecting the minorities.

Conference badly strained
While the conference was badly strained by Benet Pasha's refusal to consider the allied plan for the administration of the affairs of minorities, there are many private conferences going on between the delegates and the indications are that some compromise plan may be worked out whereby the Turks will be required to accept the minorities' problems that they will regard the co-operation of representatives of the great powers in this work as an infringement of their sovereignty. Experienced conference hands do not predict a break and expect to hear of compromises being made within the next few days on both the straits question and the clause for protection of minorities.

At the afternoon session of the sub-committee, devoted to the study of the exchange of populations, the Turks showed a more conciliatory attitude during discussion of Turkey's sovereignty. Turkey is willing for the Greeks to stay there, but wants definite conditions set up. The question of deporting the Greek patriars, who is the supreme head of the Greek orthodox church, was avoided at the deliberations today. This is the most important condition of all, and before trying to settle this delicate question, the allies are striving to come to an agreement with the Turks on other points.

REDUCTIONS IN FREIGHT RATES ON AGRICULTURAL COMMODITIES ARE SOUGHT FROM FEDERAL AGENCY
Washington, Dec. 13.—Farmers have played a losing game in producing grain and hay in the west during the last two or three years, of the San Francisco investigation, the matter being laid over for conference with the American league at tomorrow's joint session.

The most important proposed changes included alterations in the barsterning rule; vesting in the home club and the baseball commissioner the power to set ground conditions; were suitable for world series play, instead of leaving the decision to series umpires as in the past, and fixed umpires for umpires officiating in the world series, instead of allowing them a percentage of the gate receipts as at present.

Other propositions discussed had to do with the proposal to place the baseball campaign in the interstate schedule committee; increasing the player limit and the number of players permitted under option; and fixing June 25 as the date after which no trades above the water price would be permitted.

Robert D. Ensley who has served as umpire in the National league for the past thirty-one years, was appointed in an advisory capacity to the president of the league.

HARDING LAUDS WORK DONE BY THE RED CROSS

Annual Meeting of the General Board of the Organization Is Held in Washington; Officers Chosen

Washington, Dec. 13.—High praise for the American Red Cross was voiced by President Harding today in opening the annual meeting of the general board of the organization.

"Not only is the government giving of its influence and its power in the protection of human rights and human interests everywhere in the world," he said, "but this fine exponent of American influence and power and capacity to serve is giving the best that is in it for the relief of human beings in distress wherever in the world there is call."

"You have done a fine work and you will be called upon to do more."

Other speakers at the meeting were Vice President Coolidge, Robert W. De Forest of New York, vice president of the society, who presided; John Barton Payne, national chairman, and Miss Mabel T. Boardman, secretary since its incorporation by congress. Officers were unanimously re-elected at a meeting of the central committee, a resolution was adopted approving the organization's present program. The committee's declaration called for priority in carrying out the program for the needs of disabled ex-servicemen and preparedness for disaster relief.

Mrs. Henry P. Davison of Locust Valley, N. Y., widow of the chairman of the F. Cross war council, was elected to succeed him as a member of the board at the annual meeting of the incorporators, and the charter delegates elected her to replace him on the central committee, to which Herbert Hoover was also elected, succeeding Charles D. Norton of New York, who declined re-election. The vacancy on the board of incorporators caused by the death of Thomas Nelson Page was filled by Mrs. Charles Scott, Jr., of Philadelphia, widow of a vice chairman of the society.

ROSWELL WOMAN DROWNS HERSELF WORRY IS CAUSE

Mrs. John Hall's Act Believed to Have Been Caused Through Brooding Over Father's Illness

Special to The Journal.
Roswell, N. M., Dec. 13.—Mrs. John Hall, wife of a prominent young business man of this city, committed suicide between 6 and 7 o'clock last night by drowning herself in the lake at the country club, north of Roswell. The body was found about midnight by a large party of searchers who dragged the lake and searched with the aid of powerful searchlights.

It is believed that temporary mental derangement caused by worry over the condition of her father, Dr. W. G. Cowan, a resident of the city, who suffered a nervous mental breakdown last week and was taken to specialists in Colorado, was the cause of her action. Mrs. Hall had worried much over her father.

Her family was alarmed when she failed to return from shopping. She left home about 5 o'clock, drove to the country club in a car, and walked from the car at the edge of the lake near the bath houses into the lake. After she was in the water she must have thrown off clothing, as articles of clothing were found floating on the water before the body was located.

Mrs. Hall was prominent in society circles and well known here. She is survived by her husband, a nine-month-old son, her father and mother and other relatives here. The coroner's jury brought in a verdict of suicide by drowning.

DETRIMENTS TO NATIONAL GAME TO BE CHECKED

American League Club Owners Want Home Run Zones Established and Pop Bottle Hurling Ended

New York, Dec. 13.—The American league club owners met today to check what they regarded as two detriments to the national game—home run hitting and pop bottle throwing.

The league club owners recommended to the joint rules committee, representing both the American and National leagues, that home run zones be established in ball parks to curb the abnormal growth of circuit hitting, and urged that steps be taken to regulate the sale of "it" drinks so that fans no longer would be tempted to use the bottles as missiles.

The league, which closed its 1932 season late today, also voted to open the season on Wednesday, April 6, and to establish a fund of $50,000 to establish ball players or their families by setting aside $10,000 annually for five years beginning in 1933.

Adjustment of opening dates with the National league was yesterday decided to start the 1933 campaign on Tuesday, April 17, was left to the joint schedule committee, with the understanding, it was said, that the older organization would agree to April 18 at a joint date.

The action designed to curb home run hitting was the result of a decision of the majority of club owners that increased heavy hitting was a detriment to the popularity of the game.

Col. Jacob Ruppert, Yankee owner, was understood to have opposed the zoning scheme, which among others would have a marked effect on the home run achievements of Babe Ruth, who established the individual high mark for all time in 1921 with fifty-nine homers. The peak in league home run records was reached last year when batsmen in the two leagues collected 1,554 circuit batters, more than 100 in excess of the best previous mark, 936, made in 1921.

Discussion of players' deals throughout the day in the American league centered around the reported offer of the New York Yankees to trade Bob Meusel, Aaron Ward and a pitcher to the Chicago White Sox for Eddie Collins and Dick Kerr, but late in the day officials of both clubs said the deal was still in the air.

"We have made the Chicago club a definite proposition," Collins, "Colonel Ruppert said, "but as yet have received no reply."

DIAMOND MERCHANT IN CHICAGO ROBBED

Chicago, Dec. 13.—Fourteen trays of unset diamonds and gold and platinum mountings were stolen late today by two bandits who held up J. E. Harrison, a diamond merchant with offices on the seventh floor of a downtown office building. The bandits entered his shop under the pretense of purchasing a diamond, then held up Harrison and ransacked his safe.

Harrison valued the stolen diamonds and other valuables at $100,000. When the robbers left they bound him to a chair and he was released some time later when another broker in the building heard his screams.

CONFERENCE OF GOVERNORS WILL CONVENE TODAY

Prohibition Enforcement and the Ku Klux Klan Loom as Important Subjects for Discussion

White Sulphur Springs, W. Va., Dec. 13.—Prohibition enforcement and the Ku Klux Klan loomed tonight at important subjects for discussion at the fourteenth annual conference of governors, which will open here tomorrow, as state executives arrived in preparation for the meeting.

Although no discussion of the liquor traffic is on the official program, Governor Parker of Louisiana announced that he intended to inject the question into the conference at the first opportunity.

He referred to President Harding's invitation to summon a meeting of the governors in Washington next month to discuss prohibition enforcement and declared the question should be taken up by the governors here. In January, he said, state legislatures would be meeting and the governors in many cases would be required at their own capitals.

Governor Parker made it plain that he intended to confer with Governor Henry J. Allen of Kansas, who is slated to speak on "Ku Klux Klan, the Problem It Attacks and the Problem It Creates," and with Governor Olcott of Oregon, who is expected to deliver an address on "America Afloat" and indicated he would supplement their discussions with suggestions for curbing what he termed its "un-Americanism."

AMERICAN MERCHANT SHOT, WOUNDED BY CHINESE SOLDIERS

Washington, Dec. 13.—Representations have been made to the Chinese government by the American government in connection with the shooting and wounding by Chinese soldiers, of Charles Coleman, an American merchant, at Kalgan, a town north of Peking, just beyond the great wall, while in an automobile with Samuel Sokobin, the American consul at Kalgan. The state department was advised of the case today by Minister Schramm.

The foreign office at Peking, the department said, had been informed by Minister Schramm that the attacks on the American consul was in violation of the international law and an affront to the United States government, and demand was made for the arrest and trial of the offenders.

Coleman, who is the son of a former missionary and has spent most of his life in China, was said to have a slight chance of surviving. His spinal cord was injured from lack of food, and he is now receiving medical attention at Peking.

STRESSES NEED OF SPEEDING UP HOSPITAL PLANS

Forbes Urges That the Government's Program Be Expedited; Nine Institutions Deteriorating

Washington, Dec. 13.—Necessity for expediting the government's new hospital program was emphasized tonight by Director C. H. Forbes of the veterans' bureau in his annual report to congress covering the activities of the bureau for the year ending June 30, 1932. Nine of the hospitals now in use, comprising 3,700 beds, he said, have about arrived at the point where "deterioration will be so complete that repair will be impossible and they must be abandoned. These hospitals are of the construction type of temporary construction."

More than $50,000 claims for compensation have been filed since government aid for veterans was begun, the report said, and of these all but 45,000 had been examined and acted upon. Applications received for vocational training number 636,000, of which 55,000 were pending at the end of the fiscal year.

Up to the date of the report, 25,875 death compensation claims had been allowed, representing a monthly payment of about $1,302,000, or $24.21 per case.

"After making generous allowance for all data which are not available," the report declared, "it is probable that dependents and beneficiaries of all men who died in service are receiving payment for insurance or compensation."

Sixty-five per cent of the men who applied for vocational training in the first year it was offered (1919) are still on the rolls. Director Forbes said.

He recorded the decision of the bureau to eliminate "placement training" as now applied, as rapidly as a new procedure could be installed.

War time insurance has been kept up by $73,932 policy holders, according to the report, and "the premiums have all been used for payment of insurance benefits."

OIL INDUSTRY PROBE WILL BE RESUMED BY COMMITTEE TODAY

Washington, Dec. 13.—The senate manufactures committee's investigation of the oil industry, suspended last summer during the political campaign, will be resumed tomorrow when Walter C. Teagie, head of the Standard Oil company of New Jersey, is to testify. The hearings, Chairman La Follette said, will be continued indefinitely and probably to the end of congress, March 2. Harry F. Sinclair and others prominent in the oil industry, have been called to follow Mr. Teagie.

Special inquiry is to be made by the senate committee in the so-called "zoning" in the oil trade and alleged price standards.

Inquiry into the Teapot Dome, Wyoming, and other oil operations on government naval reserves, also may be made by the committee.

committee he had made repeated efforts to clear up any points about which there might have been doubt at the department of justice before the pardon was issued. After it was signed by President Taft he said he went to the then Secretary of the Interior Fisher and informed him that the "president had been deceived and that Jones had paid for his pardon."

Fisher went to see Mr. Taft. Burns continued, and was told that the president personally knew nothing about the case except what Attorney General Wickersham had reported and that the matter should be referred to Mr. Wickersham. This was done, the witness went on, but Mr. Fisher had brought back word that the attorney general was "very much absorbed" and had said that "we are going out of office soon anyhow; let him take it up with our successors."

Mr. Burns told the committee that he followed this suggestion, but without result and added: "I have been knocking at the door from that day to this to get a hearing."

Replying to testimony given earlier in the day by Mr. Wickersham that the report to President Taft in the case was held up several days while efforts were made to see Mr. Burns, the investigation bureau director said he called at the department about the matter four different times and not just one time, as had been reported to Mr. Wickersham. He added that he had been unsuccessful in his efforts to see the attorney general and finally sought contact through Assistant Attorney General Cok.

Mr. Burns testified also that he had seen James H. Finch, pardon attorney in the department, who was inquiring into the case, and had offered to answer all questions. He declared he had been "amazed" by the effort to obtain a pardon for Jones, adding that in the seven years intervening since the trial, there had been no suggestion of any improper conduct in connection with the prosecution of the case.

With respect to the McNamara arrests, Mr. Burns charged that Mr. Gompers had sent an agent to Los Angeles to "prevent" the confession of the McNamara brothers, but that the representatives had arrived too late. Also he charged that when the McNamara brothers were arrested in Indianapolis Mr.

Gompers promptly had issued a statement declaring the arrests to be a "frame up."

Mr. Gompers, in reply, denied the statements and declared it was untrue that he had "hounded" Mr. Burns. The labor leader told the committee it had never occurred to him "that this man hunter should regard me as hounding him." He declared that after the Los Angeles explosion Burns went over the country speaking at luncheons and repeatedly stated that he would "get Gompers, the man higher up."

"I have not hounded Mr. Burns and I resent his accusation against me," said the witness.

He to the Nurse: "Will you give me something for my head?" She: "I wouldn't take it as a gift."—Selected.

NOVEMBER WAS COLD AND WET IN NEW MEXICO

Only Four Eleventh Months
in Past 32 Years Have Had Lower Temperatures; Much Precipitation

Special to The Journal.

Santa Fe, N. M., Dec. 13.—(U. S. Weather Bureau).—The month of November averaged considerably below the normal in temperature and much above in precipitation, for the state as a whole. Only four November during the last 32 years were colder—1885 (39.9), 1899 (29.7), 1911 (38.9) and 1918 (38.4); yet in point of actual lowest temperature for the month have been as mild. The lowest recorded temperature was only two degrees below zero, while in former years records of 18, 19 and even 23 degrees below zero have been recorded. On the other hand, the highest temperature noted for the month was much below that usually recorded—in other words the month was a fairly cool one throughout and was not given to great extremes of temperature.

Warm weather prevailed at the beginning of the month and was fairly general till the tenth or eleventh, and a second warm period occurred from the twenty-fifth to the twenty-eighth or twenty-ninth. A few stations had cold nights on the fourth and fifth, but generally the lowest of the month occurred on the thirteenth or fourteenth, while the eighth was generally the warmest day.

The precipitation of the month was large, especially over the north and west portions of the state. The average, however, has been exceeded six times during the last 32 years, and 1905, especially, was much greater. Heavy snow occurred over all of the mountain areas, attaining a maximum of about four feet on the crest of the Sangre de Cristo, and in excess of three feet on the crests of the Jemez and the San Juan ranges. Away from the mountains the snow spread out southward and eastward until about two-thirds of the state had five inches or more. The storms of the month, which were frequent and fairly general, occurred on the third, fourth, fifteenth, sixteenth, twenty-first, twenty-fourth and twenty-eighth-thirtieth.

The moisture of the month and the absence of severe weather were favorable for ranchmen and stockmen, permitting stock to remain out without heavy feeding or serious loss from cold or starvation. The weather also admitted of much late planting of alfalfa, marketing, late cotton picking, ginning and general farm work.

Temperature
The monthly mean for the state, based upon the reports of 102 stations having a mean altitude of about 5,000 feet, was 40.2 degrees, or 2.3 degrees below the normal, as determined from the departures of 68 stations having records for 19 years or more. The month averaged 5.3 degrees colder than November, 1921. The highest monthly mean was 51.3 degrees at Orosi, and the highest recorded temperature 52 degrees at Deming on the eighth, at Richland on the ninth and at Carlsbad on the tenth. The lowest monthly mean was 26.8 degrees at Chama, and the lowest recorded temperature 2 degrees below zero at Hermosa on the seventeenth. The greatest local daily range of temperature was 55 degrees at Rosita on the fifth.

Precipitation
The average precipitation for the state, based upon the reports of 158 stations, was 1.08 inches, or 0.42 inch above the normal, as determined from the departures of 124 stations having records for 19 years or more. The precipitation of the month was 0.95 inch greater than November, 1921. The greatest amount for the month was 5.81 inches at Diener, and the least amount 0.11 inch at Glenrio and Newman. The greatest amount in any 24 consecutive hours was 2.60 inches at Diener on the twenty-first. There was an average snowfall of 6.7 inches, and precipitation occurred on an average of five days, while 18 were clear, six partly cloudy and six cloudy. The prevailing direction of the wind was from the southwest and winds were light.

Listen, World!

WRITTEN AND ILLUSTRATED BY Elsie Robinson

It was my privilege recently to read a very interesting document. It was a compilation of opinions on the Rising Generation by a group of four that included General. They were all college students between the ages of 18 and 21, young people of more than average literary ability and sincerity. And because they were such competent spokesmen for themselves I am going to hand to you one of their comments. You may not agree with it—you may, indeed, smile over it and ponder on the many things which life will do to their young presumption. But, if you have an open mind it will help you to understand the Rising Generation as you may not have understood it before. Here it is: "Don't let anybody do you."

"That's the philosophy of the rising generation—and behind it lies the answer to whatever you can't understand about us. We have enough to get on with—enough to make T. N. T. look sick. And right here's the difference between us and the rising generation of 30 years ago—we give 'em the lift, we get 'em up, we use it. That's the origin of jazz. We play hard. But have you noticed that we work just as hard?"

"No mental easiness for us—this is our slogan. No unexpressed desires and morbid sentimentality stagnate in our minds. As soon as we get 'em—we give 'em the lift, we get 'em up, we use it. That's the origin of jazz. We play hard. But have you noticed that we work just as hard?"

It's not that we lack respect for your judgment—we don't. But

GERMAN DEBT IS DEBATED IN THE HOUSE OF LORDS

Lord Birkenhead Opposes England's Giving Sanction to Use of Force, as Urged by M. Poincare

London, Dec. 13 (by the Associated Press).—An interesting debate took place today in the house of lords on the question of reparations and inter-allied debts, a feature being the general support accorded Premier Bonar Law's statement of yesterday. Lord Birkenhead, in opening the discussion, strongly opposed Great Britain giving the slightest countenance to participation in military sanctions as urged by M. Poincare, as these involved risks. He declared it would be impossible to control the German forests and mines without a force of occupation, the cost of which would be immensely reduced any cash result.

While ridiculing the idea that Germany had any capacity for armed resistance or could secretly become a military menace to her neighbors, Birkenhead pointed out that Germany was still formidable and there were limits to the humiliations which it would be wise to put upon her. He believed it would be extremely difficult to recommend to the British people a policy involving the payment of the American debt and the remission of both German reparations and European debts.

Viscount Grey said that if the proposed Paris conference of January 2 failed to collapse, Europe was a step near to collapse. He also dilated on the sterility of the policy of doing nothing, although he agreed with Lord Birkenhead's caution against a false step.

Pointing out that even if England were able to recover the debts from France and Italy, it would simply mean perpetuation of the present unsatisfactory position and postpone European recovery. He added: "If by remitting the European debts we could substantially promote the security and economic recovery of Europe we should be immense gainers."

Arguing the close connection between the questions of reparations and inter-allied debts and disarmament which ought to be considered as a whole, he at the same time declared that Great Britain could not wait for France to ratify the Washington treaties before considering the question of inter-allied debts. He urged the desirability of summoning some such international commission of bankers and previously discussed the question. Strengthening the league of nations also was necessary, because European recovery depended largely on obtaining political security.

KATY RAILROAD SOLD AT SMALL OKLAHOMA TOWN

Property Is Auctioned Off for $28,000,700 to the Firm of Randolph and Blumenthal, New York

Colbert, Okla., Dec. 13.—The main line of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas railroad and branch lines in Texas were bought in by the firm of Randolph and Blumenthal of New York for $28,000,700 at auction sale here today. The price was just $500 more than the minimum bid for which the lines could be sold.

Ten divisions, comprising all the properties in the Missouri, Kansas and Oklahoma, and certain branch lines in Texas were included in the sale.

The firm of Randolph and Blumenthal was the only one submitted.

Colbert, a town of 300 inhabitants, was little disturbed by the sale, although it was the biggest transaction that probably ever will be made in the village. Railroad men and attorneys left in a special car for Denison, Tex., after the sale. The main line of the road in Texas will be auctioned off in Denison tomorrow. The Wichita Falls and Northwestern railroad will be sold at Altus, Okla., the next day.

Special Master Babbitt stood in the middle of the "Katy" tracks near the depot, and offered the divisions for sale while a few townspeople stood about in a curious circle.

NAT GLASSMAN WILL LEAD THE BULLDOG CREW

Popular and Fleet-Footed Forward Elected Captain of High School Basketball Quintet This Year

Nathaniel Glassman will lead the high school basketball team throughout the present season. The popular little senior was elected to the basketball captaincy in a meeting of the Bulldog squad held yesterday afternoon in the high school gymnasium. Election was by unanimous vote.

Glassman's election was predicted several days ago. In fact it has appeared probable since the close of the football season. Glassman was the logical choice. A strong leader, sound basketball player, letter man for two years past and a senior, he appeared to be the ideal man for the post.

Though nominally a forward, Glassman's forte is in defensive play. He lines up at forward but shortly after the tipoff slides over to defense, while Malcolm Long slips into forward play from his guard position. So successful was Glassman in preventing the opposition from scoring goals last year that he was selected for guard on the All State team.

The new captain is a speedster. In a sprint he can show his heels to most high school track men of the state and on a basketball floor he is even faster than over the cinders. Added to his speed is a natural shift, which gives him the advantage over a player who needs to get in order to get under way. With his speed and agility combined, Glassman makes an ideal running guard.

It is possible that the sterling football player Glassman showed throughout the past season has had some bearing on his selection, though his basketball ability alone would warrant it. In football he was the most consistent ground gainer on the Bulldog eleven. In the pinch it was usually Glassman who was called upon and in that magnificent victory over El Paso Glassman played an important part. In fact had the umpire been a trifle closer to the play when Glassman and Dawson came down with a forward pass it is quite possible the new basketball captain would have headed El Paso off from the second touchdown.

Captain Glassman will lead his Bulldogs in their first offensive one week from tomorrow, Friday, December 22 the Bulldogs will clash with the aggressive Bankers. The game will be played in the high school gymnasium. The following Friday, December 23, the Bulldogs will meet the strong Harvard school five, the team which defeated the Bankers Tuesday night.

It is probable that most of the high school games, and most of the other local games of the season as well, will be played in the high school gymnasium. Rental of the armory is so high that the high school management has decided to play most games at home.

In order to accommodate the crowds which are certain to attend the games, bleachers will be installed in the high school gymnasium. The bleachers which are now at Washington park will be brought in and used for this purpose. With these bleachers there will be seating accommodations for 500 people.

Wilbur Wilson and Malcolm Long will start the opening game at the guard positions. Wilson, a great, powerful boy, possesses an agility which is truly remarkable in a lad of his bulk. With his power and agility he makes a splendid anchor guard, a fit running mate for the speedy Glassman.

Malcolm Long will probably be looked to as principal point guard of the season. This lean, lithe youth appears to possess the same uncanny faculty for tossing the ball through the iron hoop as he has for sailing forward passes on a football field.

Creighton Forsaker will occupy the pivot position. "Acres" as he is known, is what a Hibernian would term "a big fellow." He can take the tip-off from most centers, regardless of team class, and when he comes back down to the floor can slip about the majority. Few he has met have been able to hold him off.

The other forward is still uncertain. Bryce and Renfro are going in great style and will make some of the regular "step out and take notice" in order to hold their berths. Hammond and Jordan, both making good at running guard, while Stortz is showing a strong forward game.

Perhaps the most pleasing feature of the showing of the Bulldog squad to date is the play of Jimmy Roybal. Very few would attempt to deny that on the gridiron Jimmy proved himself one of the greatest tossers of forward passes ever turned out by a high school eleven. And he appears to have carried his ability in handling the ball from the gridiron to the basketball court. If he continues at the pace he is now traveling Jimmy may yet call for that other forward position.

The way things are tending it will soon be easier for a woman to get a seat in any legislative body in the country than in a street car.—Rochester Post-Express.

'TIGER' EMBARKS ON LINER PARIS EN ROUTE HOME

Clemenceau Declares He Will Return Again, "But Only as a Guest"; Arrived Here on November 18

New York, Dec. 13 (By the Associated Press).—His speaking mission ended, Georges Clemenceau, war-time premier of France, sailed for home on the steamship Paris today, declaring he would return again, "but only as a guest."

Just before the Paris cast off, the Tiger kissed Mrs. Charles Dana Gibson on both cheeks, laughingly enjoining her not to "date to tell her husband." Mr. and Mrs. Gibson were Clemenceau's hosts during his stay here last month.

Others at the pier to see him off included Jules J. Jusserand, the French ambassador in America, and Mrs. Jusserand; Gaston Liebert, the French consul here; Colonel E. M. House, who arranged the Tiger's American speaking tour; and the French American speaking tour, which delivered sixteen addresses, long and short, in the United States on November 18 for his extraordinary speaking tour. He delivered sixteen addresses, long and short, in the United States on November 18 for his extraordinary speaking tour.

The Tiger's farewell message to America was given out in the form of two telegrams—one to Woodrow Wilson, and one to Otto Kahn, banker, in answer to farewell messages which it was said were typical of thousands received at the last minute.

The messages exchanged between former President Wilson and Clemenceau follow:

"Allow me to bid you an affectionate farewell and to congratulate you on the admiration you have won from our people. All good fortune attend you."

"WOODROW WILSON."

Clemenceau replied: "I cannot but be most grateful for the kind message you were good enough to send me. Your feelings are mine. All your efforts for the best, you did not spare in my country. Those are the principles of the French people, and may be summed up in these words—Justice and peace to all. These are France's principles as well as those of America."

"My best wishes for your health and welfare are to send me, your regards to Mrs. Wilson. Clemenceau continued, "I cannot but thank you and express all my gratitude for all you have done toward the great work of peace. That is the quest of France as well as of America. I know you have done your best for the cause, so allow me to congratulate you and your friends for all you will continue to do."

FRIENDS DEFEND AND FOES 'RAP' SHIPPING BILL

Is Held Up as a Measure for the Benefit of the Farmer and as a Raid on the U. S. Treasury

Washington, Dec. 13.—The administration shipping bill was held up before the senate today as a measure "for the benefit of the farmer, the business man and the American nation," and on the other hand, as "a direct raid on the treasury to pay some people to do what they ought to do without payment."

The measure was before the senate more than four hours and during that time was praised by Senator Jones of Washington, chairman of the commerce committee, and was attacked by Senator Fletcher of Florida, ranking democratic member of the same committee. While the discussion proceeded on the floor, foes of the measure and advocates of rural credit legislation further cemented their alliance designed to displace the ship bill in favor of the farm measure. Indications became increasingly apparent, however, that this move could not be made in the near future, as no rural credit bill possessing any considerable degree of support appeared in eight in the senate committee work rooms.

Appeals for Support. Senator Jones, in concluding his opening statement on behalf of the shipping bill, appealed for the support of it by the farmers and by labor. He emphasized the national defense possibilities of affirmatively established American merchant marine and declared that German merchant marine won the war for the allies. When senators expressed surprise at the declaration he presented figures to show that German ships which were seized in American ports carried 600,000 American soldiers to France, whereas, American ships transported only 248,000 troops.

"Why, Senators," he exclaimed, "if we had gotten only about 248,000 troops overseas the result of the world war would have been different."

Senator Fletcher quoted Chairman Lasker of the shipping board, as having said that "it is pure bunk" to charge that the cost of operating American ships was of operating materially by the La Follette seamen's act. He asserted that his investigation had convinced him there was no practical difference in the cost of operating vessels under the American flag as compared with those under foreign flags and insisted that higher wage scales could not be used as an argument for aid for American shipping.

Obnoxious Propaganda. The Florida senator declared the shipping board had conducted obnoxious propaganda in behalf of the legislation and said that speakers sent out by the board had resorted to every possible means to create public opinion in support of this bill without dealing with the fundamental facts regarding it.

"The difference between America's capitol and America's capital is that one is in Washington and the other in tax-free securities," St. Thomas (Ont.) Times-Journal.

H. F. ROBINSON KIWANIS SECY. FOR THIRD TIME

Elected at Regular Luncheon Yesterday; Congressman Morrow Asks for Suggestions to Help N.M.

Herbert F. Robinson, supervising engineer of the Indian irrigation service, was elected secretary of the Kiwanis club in the first regular meeting of the new board of directors, held yesterday at the Y. M. C. A. This makes the third successive time Mr. Robinson has been elected secretary of the organization.

The election of Mr. Robinson followed the regular luncheon meeting of the Kiwanians, held in the Y. M. C. A. banquet room. During the meeting Mr. Robinson read a letter which had been received from Congressman-elect John Morrow. In it the newly elected congressman asks for suggestions on legislation which will prove beneficial to New Mexico.

The letter, which is addressed to the secretary of the Albuquerque Kiwanis club, is as follows:

"Dear sir: 'Have you anything in mind that would be beneficial to the state of New Mexico, wherein your community or the state in general would be benefited? It is important that I know the desires of different people who are community builders, in order that I might be able to frame legislation that would assist materially to that end. Kindly give this some thought and if you have any matter that you think the congressman from the state of New Mexico might be able by legislation to assist the people of the state, or of your locality, kindly call it to my attention.'

"JOHN MORROW."

The program committee for January was appointed at the luncheon. Those appointed to the committee are: Richard P. Woodson, Jr., George C. Taylor, Pearce C. Rodey and H. C. Danielson. The announcement was made at the luncheon that $219,000 has been paid over to the contractors on the new hotel, this amount being payment in full to date. The contractors are to complete the work for $40,000. It was announced, but there will be a total of $25,000 due upon completion. $54,000 of this being the amount which has been held back until the work is completed. It was further announced that to secure this amount there is about $135,000 in paper which is considered excellent.

The attendance prize was won by M. L. Fox. This prize was a $5 bill, given by Jack C. Stutz. L. C. Strong distributed a souvenir folder of Albuquerque. E. N. Boule distributed a circular, "A Day's Marketing."

Professor C. E. Carey, of the University of New Mexico, addressed the meeting on the radio.

During the luncheon hour radio messages were received from the broadcasting station at the university. Prof. Carey having installed a receiving set. His talk was not on the radio instrument but on the great value of broadcasting and receiving. He said it is a wonderful advertising medium and is of great value to ranchers who can receive mail only rarely. He also stated that the A. T. & S. F. railroad has promised to install a radio receiving set on the California and Chicago limited trains if a broadcasting station is installed here. He then depicted the benefit to be derived in this manner through giving tourists passing through first hand information on the advantages of New Mexico.

It was voted at the meeting to help make Christmas a merry one for the kiddies. The Kiwanians agreed to donate $50 to the Elks' Christmas tree. A check for this amount was made out and Secretary Robinson turned it over to Frank A. Stortz, secretary of the Elks, yesterday afternoon.

Albert M. Powell, of Devils Lake, N. D., addressed the meeting. He offered a eulogy on the Kiwanis club and on Albuquerque.

SUPPLY MEASURE IS PUT THROUGH IN QUICK TIME

Carries About $19,000,000 for Department of Commerce and $6,000,000 for Labor Department

Washington, Dec. 13.—Racing at top speed, the house tonight passed the annual supply bill for the department of commerce and labor, carrying approximately $19,000,000 for the former and $6,500,000 for the latter.

The only fight that developed during the day's consideration of the measure was over an amendment by Representative Cable, republican, of Ohio, to increase the figures for the immigration service from $3,000,000 to $3,300,000. It was adopted, 135 to 81, over the protest of Chairman Madden of the appropriations committee, who declared the president believed the smaller sum sufficient.

There was not a word of discussion over the item of $12,000,000 for carrying out provisions of the Sheppard-Towner infancy and maternity act.

The state and justice departments bill was received by the senate at noon and reported a few hours later for consideration tomorrow. The senate appropriations committee added $285,000 to the miscellaneous items of the bill, which passed the house carrying $32,185,000. Tomorrow the committee will take up the commerce and labor department bill.

FLOOD PROBLEM ONE FOR NATION. WITNESSES SAY

Broader View of the Mississippi River Situation Is Urged on House Committee at a Hearing

Washington, Dec. 13.—A broader view of the problem of the Mississippi river and its tributaries was urged on the house flood control committee today by the representatives of the lower Mississippi valley, who declared that they were constantly being subjected to the hazards of flood waters, notwithstanding that their districts did not contribute "a drop of water to the swollen stream."

One after another the witnesses before senate committee insisted the problem was one for the nation as a whole.

The witnesses told the committee of a huge acreage of rich top soil being carried away by the river, while at the same time the country was draining marsh land and irrigating arid lands to provide for the fast growing population. At the same time, they said, an enormous wastage of water resources and transportation possibilities was going on.

Great sums were being spent for temporary work which should go into a permanent program, they said, and threats of floods were stifling investment and reducing the purchasing power of many communities.

'HI' JUNIORS TO PRESENT A PLAY HERE 2 NIGHTS

Captain Kidd, Jr., Bids Fair to Be One of the Genuine Good Entertainments of the Season

The season of good things is at hand and with it Albuquerque high school, ever well to the front, is to offer what bids fair to be one of the genuine "good things" of the year in the way of entertainment. Tonight and tomorrow night the high school juniors are to present Captain Kidd, Jr., which promises to be one of those plays which follow the path of long after it has slipped into the past. It promises to be the sort of affair concerning which some say later, "Of course, I had to miss the best one of the whole year."

The Albuquerque high school is an Albuquerque institution and as such merits the hearty support of all Albuquerqueans. But in this instance no appeal need be made on this score, judging from the performance rendered Tuesday night, when dress rehearsal was held. The performance itself will merit support.

Every lad and lassie in the east is better acquainted with the role of each person to have the natural ability to put just the proper personality into the character portrayed. Basing opinion on the rehearsal, that promise of the juniors to surpass even the excellent performances of the past few years was no idle boast. They bid fair to fulfill every promise made.

Captain Kidd, Jr., is built about the adoption of Jim Anderson by old Andrew McTavish, a canny Scot. Jim is adopted as a boy by McTavish. Later the old man puts old books in the way of the young fellow.

One of these books contains information about hidden treasure. Jim Anderson eagerly seeks the treasure and in his search many gripping and many highly humorous incidents arise. Humor and pathos are cleverly interwoven and the performers bring forth the best possible in these incidents. Their characterization is almost startling for amateurs.

Donald Crook, the most effeminate son of wealth, William Carleton, in a manner which is certain to produce mirth on almost every stage appearance he makes. Donald appears to possess a natural aptitude for this sort of character portrayal and many professionals might well study his impersonation.

The same is true of Lee Farr, in the character of Samuel Dickson, the Cape Cod arm of the law. Lee's characterization is so nearly perfect that he almost brings a salty tang to the air of the auditorium and carries a real breath of the "way down east" countryman.

Other characterizations are equally well done. Wilson Keim shows a strong bent for character work in his portrayal of Andrew McTavish and the barr of Scotland rolls from his tongue as though he had been born to the part. William Vaughney and Eunice Herkenhoff, in the leading roles, leave nothing to be desired.

The junior class set a high water mark with "The Lion and the Mouse" last year. Yet those who are connected with the junior play this year feel quite complacent that even the high water mark will be passed. Whatever may have been required to bring about perfection appears to have been accomplished in the stage setting and the addition of new scenery.

The curtain will rise promptly at 8 o'clock both tonight and tomorrow night. Following is the cast of characters in the order of their appearance:

Andrew MacTavish—Wilson Keim.
An Expressman—Robert Fitzgerald.
Mary MacTavish—Eunice Herkenhoff.
Jim Anderson—William Vaughney.

GUEST ACCUSED OF A STATUTORY CRIME BY GIRL

Secretary of Bureau of Charities and Juvenile Court Officer Says He's Victim of Conspiracy

Richard G. Guest, secretary of the bureau of charities and juvenile court officer, was arrested yesterday afternoon by a police officer on a statutory charge preferred by J. P. Patterson, father of Ethel Patterson, aged 15 years. The offense is alleged to have occurred on December 11.

Guest was arraigned before Justice George E. Roddy yesterday afternoon and entered a plea of not guilty. He was placed under $2,000 bond and his preliminary hearing was set for this afternoon at 2 o'clock before Justice Roddy.

Bond was signed by H. O. Strong and A. L. Martin.

The Patterson family resides at 114 West Cleveland avenue. Guest came here over a year ago from Roswell and assumed the captainship of the Salvation Army. About three months ago he resigned to become secretary of the bureau of charities. He has taken an active interest in welfare work and has served as juvenile court officer for several months.

Claims a Conspiracy
When asked for a statement last night concerning the charges filed against him, Guest said:

"The charges brought against me are the outcome of a long standing conspiracy to discredit me by some of those among whom I have been working in my capacity of juvenile officer. I feel perfectly able to disprove the charges when a hearing is given in the case. Then the case will be decided on its own merits."

Guest has retained Francis E. Wood as counsel.

WOOL GROWERS BOARD TO HOLD MEETING TO PLAN CONVENTION

The meeting of the executive committee of the New Mexico Wool Growers association, which was scheduled to be held here on December 29, has been postponed until December 22, because of the inability of the president, Prager Miller of Roswell, to attend in the scheduled date. The meeting will consider important business and will make plans for the annual convention of the association.

73 PREDATORY ANIMALS TOLL OF U. S. CORPS

Biological Survey Reports a Good Kill for November: Border Wolf Drift Is Put Under Control

Seven hunters employed in New Mexico by the United States biological survey, worked a total of 208 days last month and took 73 predatory animals, consisting of one bear, 12 bob cats, 40 coyotes, six mountain lions, 12 foxes and two wolves. Four poison demonstrators employed on coyote control methods accounted for 11 coyotes through their own efforts, and associations organized to date have reported the killing of an additional 84 coyotes.

With the increasing number of active coyote control associations the hunters will be free to devote all of their attention to larger predatory animals, it is hoped that this will greatly reduce the number of lions and wolves in the state.

Hunter L. Inman of the Chloride district trapped a very destructive bear. This makes three stock killing bears taken by Hunter Inman this year.

Hunter Sam Young continued trapping for the month and reports twelve coyotes taken during the month.

Hunter J. A. Young succeeded in getting another wolf in the Animas district.

Hunter L. L. Ritchie took 12 coyotes and five bobcats.

Hunter Albert Pickens continued hunting in the vicinity of Glen Land and Catlin ranges and reports taking five mountain lions.

Hunter W. C. Echols, who is taking the place of Hunter Anderson, proved his ability by turning in four bobcats, four coyotes and five foxes.

Hunter O. E. Royal reports that his traps were frozen down when several wolves passed through his district.

Hunter Ed Steele will resume work during December.

Coyote Association Formed. In the northern counties Leader Section organized the John Otto, Tate, Buyceros, Atencio, Rosebud, and Barney coyote control associations. This makes a total of nine associations organized to date.

In the north central counties Leader Armijo organized the Antonechico, Grant, Nambé, the Gallinas and Canaan. Animas Coyote Control associations.

Leader Evans organized a party of ten members to run a mountain lion in the Bosque Seco district. They were unable to take the lion as they had no dogs. Three associations were organized and a position line was run which accounted for twenty coyotes and four skunks.

Leader Van Gieson in the south-eastern counties organized the following associations: Salt Lake association, John Lusk, manager; Dan Canyon association, McVitt Bearup, manager; Kenna association, George Littlefield, manager; Endee association, W. L. Bateman, manager; Pilon association, John Fleming, manager; Avis association, M. C. Munson, manager; Mayhill association, M. Brantley, manager; San Andreas association, Watson Rich, manager; Ruidoso association, J. V. Tully, manager.

Wolf trapping operations started on Jicarilla Indian reservation and on range of Largo and Otero ranches. Signs of two wolves were found on the reservation and a hunter assigned to the work. Difficulty was experienced in moving about on account of no range grass and little water for horses and camp use. Later, when a car was secured, snow and mud interfered with travel. However, the office of Mr. Faris was reached and co-operation offered by the Indian service in connection with wolf trapping, as damage to stock has been heavy.

The upper Largo Coyote Control association was revived and funds are in the bank at Chama to pay hunters' salaries. Hunter Royal will be assigned to this work as soon as freezing weather stops wolf trapping on the reservation which joins the Upper Largo ranges.

STORY OF GIRL CAUSES STIR IN MURDER HEARING

Eighteen-Year-Old Daughter of John T. Brunen. Slain Showman, on Witness Stand for State

Mount Holly, N. J., Dec. 13.—Taking the witness stand today for the prosecution in the trial of Mrs. Doris Brunen and Harry G. Mohr, her brother, charged with the murder of John T. Brunen, circus owner, Hazel Brunen, 18-year-old daughter of the slain showman, testified that Mrs. Brunen had cautioned her sister, Mattie Mohr, on the day of the murder not to be surprised if she received a telephone message that "John has been killed."

Her testimony caused a stir in court. Mrs. Bessie Mohr, wife of

AN INTERESTING QUESTION

By far one of the most interesting suggestions in the President's message to Congress is contained in the recommendation of a study by Congress of the wide-spread difference between production costs and prices to consumers.

Perhaps the greatest difficulty which will be encountered in such an inquiry will be to determine a starting point. While man has always been subject to fundamental economic laws, particularly the law of supply and demand, yet under our highly specialized system of production even that law is falling under the control of the producing forces so that prices are no longer determined by the available supply, but by the artificial curtailment of that supply as it is made to conform to the prevailing demand. Thus, while in theory and according to all established economic doctrine, increased production should result in lowered costs and a corresponding reduction in price to the consumer, it is a fact that in the face of a production adequate to meet any demand today both costs and prices continue to ascend.

The result is that we are continually going around in a circle; the householder and all who provide him with the necessary commodities of life chasing each other around in a vain effort to catch up with each other.

Just how far Congress will succeed in arresting the upward movement in production costs and the steadily declining value of the dollar is a question which sooner or later must be answered. Certainly Congress cannot answer it finally. Its ramifications are so far reaching as to require the most expert and scientific investigation and for that reason the most that Congress may be able to accomplish will be the appointment of a commission to study the means and methods of production and their relation to prices.

SELLING FARM PRODUCTS

The agricultural colleges are getting around to teaching salesmanship. Certainly if there is anybody who is in need of a sales system it is the farmer. He is forced to buy at the top of the retail market and sell at the lowest wholesale figure. The last two years have been discouraging ones for many farmers, and any movement to make their work more remunerative will be welcomed.

Here of late years we have heard so much about improved farm methods that sometimes we really wonder how Grandpa ever managed to get along. Well, Grandpa was pretty well used up when it came time to turn over the farm to his sons, and in many cases the sons didn't care a whoop about farming, and sold out their interests and went to the city.

The city profited by the fresh energy of these farm lads of a generation ago, but the farm lost. Farmers now are learning that they must organize if they are going to keep abreast of the competition of modern days. Farm bureaus are a splendid indication of how well that question has been learned. You may have been told by some city folks that the farmers are slow, but maybe you've noticed that they've taken hold of all the new ideas that have come along in the last 20 years, developed them and made them successful.

Cotton farmers in several Mississippi counties learned to realize eight to ten cents more a pound on their product by organization. The citrus fruit growers of the west coast have learned the secret of salesmanship. Pass it along, boys. If the agricultural colleges are going to teach the farmer to be a salesman, first of all they'll have to realize that the farmers already know a "leettle" something about that themselves, and second, they'll have to be practical, and not dose the farmers with too much theory.

YOUR GHOST

Make the most of your ghost and let him be your guide before you die. That is the idea of the people who have just opened a laboratory at Leeds, England, for the study of the spirit entity of man. The recent tour of America by Sir

Arthur Conan Doyle set the country buzzing once more over the old question of survival after death, and the return to earth of ghostly visitors. Certainly the question is yet far from solution, but the pursuit of scientific methods in attempting to solve it seems much more reasonable than categorical acceptance or categorical denial.

It is the aura that is to be studied at Leeds. A dim outline of light is to be seen about the human frame under certain lighting conditions. Whether this is an optical illusion remains to be proved. According to those who think it is a spiritual emanation, the aura should be pink for one in good health. Varying colors reflect varying moods and states of spiritual being, and these in turn are said to have their effect upon physical health and mental habits.

If the Leeds experimenters find out anything new about us, body and soul, their addition to our knowledge will be welcome. The world waits with suspended judgment, to learn that ghosts are anything but the "painting of our fear."

BY THE WAY

Marriage is said to make two one, but the bone of contention too frequently is which one.

European aversion to kings, at its height during the war, seems to have subsided in the knowledge that they are always demountable anyway.

TODAY'S BEST THOUGHT

The shadows are deepening around the pond and the stream is singing itself to sleep, but there is yet a little grist in the hopper, and while the water serves I will keep on grinding. And by the time the sun is down, and the flow in the race is not enough to turn the big wheel, the grist will have run out, and I will have the old mill swept and ready for the night. And then for home at a cheery evening, a quiet night, lighted with stars and pillowed with sleep. And after that, the dawning, and another day, fairer than any I have ever seen in this beautiful world of roseate mornings and radiant sunsets.

FINANCIAL

Wall Street

New York, Dec. 13.—Stock prices continued their rise to higher ground in today's market, stimulus for the expanded buying being given by a continuation of low money rates, additional stock and extra dividends and another sharp rise in sterling exchange, most of which, however, was cancelled over. Shares subject to pool operations and possessing extra dividend possibilities again received the most attention.

One of the surprises of the session was the decision of the directors of the New York Central railroad not to increase the regular 5% dividend rate. Speculative interests had anticipated an increase to 6% or 7% basis and their disappointment was reflected in a sharp drop in that stock which touched 92 1/2 as against Tuesday's high of 93 1/2. Today's closing quotation of 92 1/2, representing a net loss of 1 1/2 points, was recovered in response to the fresh buying during the afternoon.

Closing prices were generally higher, with most of the gains limited to fractions. However, Jersey Central advanced seven points on a normal turnover and Northern Pacific rose 2 1/2.

Some excellent gains were made by a number of the speculative favorites, notably by Baldwin, which touched 28 1/2 and closed at 27 1/2, a net gain of three points. Fisher Body, which has established new high records almost daily for the last week, crossed the 200 mark here today, rising to 204 1/2 up 5 1/2 points on the day. General Baking company rose seven points on declaration of a 200 cent stock dividend. Additional short covering in Piggy Widge sent that stock up to a new year's high at 55 1/2.

Some of the other strong spots were American Car, Cluett, Peabody, Cuban, American Sugar preferred, Elkhorn, Mexican Petroleum, Pan-American A and B, Pressed Steel Car, United Retail Stores and Wilco Overseas preferred, the gains ranging from 1 1/2 to seven points.

General Asphalt broke nearly four points on the announcement by President Sewell that a new agreement had been made with the Royal Dutch Shell group whereby, instead of a one-fourth interest in future surplus profits of the Venezuela and Wilco Overseas, the company will realize at once through receipt of a royalty of one-eighth of the crude oil production there from commencing January 1, 1923.

market, demand bills rose to $4.65 1/2 during the morning but fell back to $4.63 1/2 in the late afternoon. Latest unofficial reports described recent buying as being for the account of the British government. Dutch guilders touched par, 40.20 cents each for the first time since May, 1919, and the Yokohama rate established a new high for the year at 49.04. French, Belgian and Italian exchanges improved slightly.

Grain
Chicago Board of Trade
Chicago, Dec. 13.—Buoyancy which developed in the wheat market today appeared to be chiefly related to a notable ascent of sterling exchange. All deliveries of wheat slipped previous high price records of the season. The finish was unsettled at 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 net gain, with May $1.23 1/2 to $1.25 1/2 and July $1.14 1/2 to $1.15 1/2. Corn gained 1/2 to 1 1/2, and oats 1/2 to 1 1/2. In provisions the outcome varied from 5c decline to a rise of 7c.

The jump in sterling exchange was of unusual character that although wheat at Liverpool was in some cases quoted a full penny lower, the actual value of the cereal across the Atlantic, as figured here, was 2c a bushel higher.

Bulls contended that the upward course of sterling was an indication of a return to normalcy. Speculation in wheat was on a broader scale than has been witnessed of late, and was ascribed to some extent to a review by a leading trade authority dwelling on shortage of world production of wheat as compared with last year. Sellers were for the most part holders who were in a position to realize profits. Forecasts of snow and rain for the winter domestic grain belt failed to have any decided bearish effect. Corn and oats, as well as wheat, touched new top prices for the season. Rural offerings, backed volume, oats as well as corn being reported in demand for livestock feeding on farms.

In the provision market, buying on the part of shorts virtually offset the bearish influence of lower hog values here and a break in the price of lard at Liverpool.

Light Plant Runs 24 Hours a Day; Sewer System to Be Installed at Once; Water Works Improved

Special to The Journal
Artesia, N. M., Dec. 13.—The new municipal electric light plant at Artesia is now running on a 24-hour service schedule. This is the first time that the town has been favored with such service for several years. The city is now owner of the plant, which was formerly under the management of the Pecos Valley Gas and Electric company. The old site was purchased by the city and new engines purchased with a total cost of over $50,000. The engines, 8,200 horse power, which have a capacity of 135 K. W. per hour, are of the best type that could be purchased. The management of the municipal light plant has been placed under the department of water and light. George Frisch has been named as the head of this department. Business houses which have been forced to rely on gasoline engines for power during the past few years, are being equipped with electrical appliances. Several thousand dollars have been spent in repairing the electric wire lines and putting in new wires.

Chalk up another white mark to the credit of cinema realism. A shudder shook the hull of the Japanese liner "Ginjo Maru" and beads of perspiration stood out on the fore-ripping of the mizzen top gallant what-you-may-call-it. Captain Yamamatsu is said to have displayed distinct signs of worry.

The perturbation was still rampant when, an hour later, the pilot boarded the "Ginjo Maru" to guide her into Los Angeles harbor. Then the oriental skipper was informed that the sinister, black-hulled galleon which had crossed his bows flying the "Jolly Roger" was merely a cinema prop. Formerly the three-masted South Sea trading schooner, "William G. Irwin," she had been converted into a craft of the old Spanish Main for use in filming "To Have and to Hold," a George Fitzmaurice Paramount picture featuring Betty Compson and Bert Lytell which is being repeated today at the "B" theater.

The mystery of Russian Women

Men who have traveled far say there is about the women of Russia a strange, baffling, indefinable charm.

Nara Alexieff, the heroine of Richard Washburn Child's novel, possesses this mysterious characteristic to a remarkable degree, and the conflict of her spirit with the stark brutality of revolution and pitiless intrigue makes an amazing romance.
