Easy to Fill

You can easily turn a forty-quart canful into the knee-high supply can of the New Sharples Suction-Feed Separator.

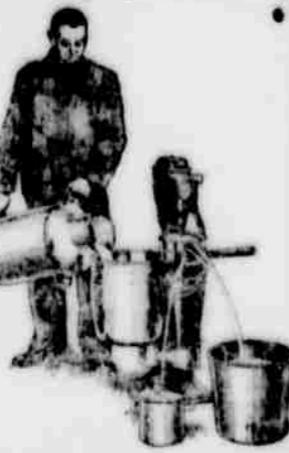

This remarkable machine will skim as clean at 35 turns of the crank a minute as at 55 turns. Any other separator would lose a great deal of cream with such varied speed.

SHARPLES
SUCTION-FEED

Separator will soon pay for itself in cream saved. You can increase the capacity and reduce the time by turning faster. But turned fast or slow, the cream is always of the exact thickness desired.

Come in and let us show you this new machine.

Washington, Aug. 1.—Heavy damage to the growing cotton crop between June 25 and July 25 has caused a reduction of 350,000 bales in the prospective production. The August cotton report of the department of agriculture announced today indicates the production of 12,016,000 equivalent 480-pound bales compared with 14,266,000 forecast from the condition of the crop June 25. The condition during the month dropped 8.8 per cent to 72.5 per cent of a normal.

SAN FRANCISCO IS TAKING BOLD STEP TO INCREASE AREA

Driving of Traffic Tubes Under Twin Peaks to Make Available for Residential Settlement 10,- 000-acre Section.

By Evening Herald Leased Wire
San Francisco, Aug. 1.—San Francisco is driving a 42-mile road connecting traffic time under Twin peaks to open up to settlement 10,000 acres of desirable but unoccupied peninsula residential lands southwest of the city just beyond the Pacific ocean.

High speed motorist says will be shooting through the tunnel by June 1917, it is expected. They will cover the distance in six minutes, thus making it possible to get to the distant beyond the hills from the heart of the city in approximately fifteen minutes. It now takes about an hour to go around.

Several hundred workmen are digging away night and day from both ends and progress is at the rate of twelve to fifteen feet a day. This started early in 1915. One gang has gone 1,000 feet and the other 4,000 feet. The concrete men follow the diggers and erect the sides and top and bottom as fast as the tunneling proceeds.

For a time under tracks were used to carry away the dirt, but it was soon found that the gas fumes drove the men out, so the reliable safety smoke carrie were brought into use. Elevators are used at places to carry the refuse up and out.

Twin peaks, under which the tunnel is going, lie just beyond the head of Market street and always greet the traveler's eye first as he steps from the Ferry building at the foot of that thoroughfare. The tunnel virtually is the continuation of Market street and will make a continuous thoroughfare from the Ferry to the district beyond the hills.

Some day the tunnel may be continued as a rapid transit subway under Market street to the Ferry building. With this idea in view the city end of the tube can be built below the surface of the street, in order that it may be continued. One of the stations near the city outlet also provides for a possible future tunnel from the district near the Golden Gate park.

For years San Francisco has dreamed of piercing the big range of hills that lie to the southwest and east of the rest of the peninsula, but not until M. W. Schenckness, the present city engineer, prepared the plans for the tunnel, were any actual steps taken. The tunnel also will prove a factor, it is expected, in the scheme now being advanced to consolidate several primitive cities with San Francisco.

The contract for the work was set to a local firm for $2,272,000. Other expenses will be the cost of the tunnel $4,000,000. The plots lying in the vicinity are being assessed for the improvement.

Inside the tunnel is seventeen feet high and twenty-five feet wide. Double tracks will be built. They are expected to have been run down from the top of the mountain. At the mouth the sides are 20 feet beneath the surface.

Large flow of water from deep ground springs were met on the dig-ers, and pumps were installed which are now pumping some gallons of water daily out of the hole. Eventually, the water will be carried off in pipes the distance.

At one place the men dug across the top of a living water spring of the Spring Valley Water Company, built in 1903. As it was eight feet across the tunnel, it was necessary to sink a shaft around and under the water tunnel before the water could be taken from below the water line.

As soon as the water line was driven beyond the supply line, the water was turned back into the original route.

Mr. Hughes' prompt action avoided a disaster by sending the head of a series of wells which forced him to obtain a much larger quantity.

He has now 250 feet of the shaft, but still has a distance of 160 feet until a depth of 1,000 feet is reached.

The shaft will have a 15-inch bore at the top decreasing later down to an 18-inch shaft at the bottom.

THE THIRD CONVENTION.

SANTA FE will be a busy city during the last week of the present month. The Republican state nominating convention will be held there beginning August 22, on August 26 the Democratic convention will begin and we are now assured, by an official call from the chairman of the Progressive state committee, that a Progressive state convention will be held on August 28 also in Santa Fe. This latter convention is not termed "Progressive" by those who issue it, but its purpose is set forth in the following paragraph:

All independent voters, regardless of former party affiliation, who are desirous of improvement in politics in New Mexico; who believe in an equitable distribution of the burden of state taxation in fact and not in theory, who believe that the people should be represented by an organization unfeared by obligations to any special interest, and should rule themselves free from the selfish activity of corrupt and unscrupulous who seek to use political organizations as agencies to advance their own selfish ambitions and to bring about their nomination to high offices as a vindication of their past careers; who believe that the nomination and election of good men for state offices are essential to the welfare of the state, present and future; and who believe that the nomination and election of able and honest men to represent the state in congress are essential to properly support the good name of the state and achieve its advancement in national affairs, are cordially invited to participate in this convention.

The above reads so much like a declaration of the main job before the Democratic party of this state that it could not be at all surprising if all members of the Democratic convention should remain over and take part in this final event of the state capitol's long convention week.

If its present program is carried out by the Republican state machine it is even probable that a number of Republican delegates will be willing to wait over as much as a week to take part in such a proceeding.

In all seriousness this third convention, if it will act as broadly and as unselfishly as is proposed in its call, has in it the power to accomplish tremendous good for decent government in this state.

There are many Republicans who are heartily tired of the game, weary of the old, ever present names; sick of the policy of "vindictive" records which are beyond vindication. Doubtless such men will welcome an opportunity to align themselves with a program designed to better state conditions and without committing themselves to a change of party.

As a matter of fact, aside from the broad principles involved in the national campaign there is but one issue before the people of New Mexico in November. This is the issue between bad government, which has been proven bad beyond all possible dispute, through years of legislative and administrative control and the better government which is possibly only through the breaking of the ring. No man need abandon any principle that is worth adhering to in order to live up to his manly game rule for special interests.

It seems to be more generally conceded that Frank A. Hartwell has beaten Senator T. B. Catron for renomination. The main issue now seems to be whether or not Senator Catron and his friends can beat Mr. Hernandez. Their ovarian harmony these days makes a noise like a Ford peacock.

tion of Hughes. It appears to be the only kind of argument they have, just plain rot.

The general Connecticut newspaper grudgingly advances to its intelligent readers the argument that Madero was murdered, that Huerta was excommunicated, that Villa raided Columbus and that Carranza's soldiers trapped and massacred a couple of companies of our cavalry—that a diabolical plot was laid saving its inception before Mr. Wilson even had been discussed seriously as a presidential possibility, and during the term of President William H. Taft, in order that Mr. Wilson, having been elected once and nominated for a second term, might be up the votes of 15,000 young Americans, about 45% per cent of whom are Democrats.

ROADS TO THE SAN JUAN.

PROVISION has been made in the last Indian appropriation bill for $1,000,000 for construction of a road through the Navajo reservation which will form part of a highway from Durango to Gallup. A total of $51,000 was asked for the purpose and granted in the senate, but while there was no record vote in the house several score Republicans voted for the trade commission bill there.

The Republican party in its platform has endorsed the tariff commission method of handling the tariff. Before that plank was adopted by the Republican party the Democratic administration had introduced the Rainey tariff commission bill in congress and it will become a law in a few weeks. And the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, representing the business men of the nation, Republican, Democratic and Progressive, has endorsed the Rainey bill.

This means the completion within a year or so of a first-class highway from the San Juan basin, through San Juan county, New Mexico, to the Santa Fe railroad at Gallup. It will mean the diversion of a considerable amount of freight to the south and west that now goes out to the north and east over a narrow gauge railroad, and it will mean materially closer relations between San Juan county and the western part of the state.

Good will be accomplished by this highway. But the real need is yet to be met. This is for an automobile highway, suitable for freight trucks, from the San Juan market towns to Albuquerque, the south and southeast. San Juan county's natural market is the gulf coast of Texas. Its principal products, fruits and grain, are grown in abundance on the Pacific coast. There will be no market for them there, and even should the county go largely into alfalfa, it cannot find a market in competition with home-grown hay, after a haul of 1200 miles. San Juan county's coal, of course, can only come out after rail transportation has been provided. But even the coal, when moved west, comes into competition with other New Mexico fields.

But Texas wants apples and other fruits and it wants all the alfalfa it can get and is willing to pay fancy prices for it. There is an unlimited market for all the coal the San Juan can produce. Albuquerque should be the gateway for the San Juan. We should establish this city as such a gateway for the San Juan. We should establish this city as such a gateway now. A road suitable for motor travel will do it. The people of San Juan county are eager to co-operate in securing such a road. Funds for its construction are within practical reach. It will be unfortunate if Albuquerque lets another year pass without a definite effort to build the road.

No doubt that two million dollar increase in the deposits of New Mexico state banks is due to the European war munitions business, and has nothing to do with the waning health of the poor sheep, who has been ruthlessly kicked around by a Democratic congress.

Will Mr. Hughes explain, if American prosperity is a war munition product, why bank deposits in North Dakota and South Dakota since 1915 have grown 79 per cent, while Delaware, where the Du Pont powder works are located, in the only state of the Union showing a decrease of bank deposits in the past four years.

The Maxwell Mad says: "Many of the best informed Republicans in the state are discussing the advisability of nominating Congressman H. C. Hernandez for senator to succeed Senator Catron. The idea is meeting with much favor in Colfax county and Mr. Hernandez will undoubtedly have the support of the delegates from here. Mr. Hernandez can hardly be considered a dark horse, but he would make a very fair goat."

MR. HUGHES' PREDICAMENT.

I HE Hartwell contingent asserts that "our boys have been tramped on guard duty at the border to prevent their voting in the November election."

"It is enough," says the intrepid old lady, "to draw away from us and home the last young blood of the state, but to keep it away for fear of its vote in November would be an outrage."

Here you have a shining example of the kind of argument Republicans are advancing in behalf of the case.

There are many Republicans who are heartily tired of the game, weary of the old, ever present names; sick of the policy of "vindictive" records which are beyond vindication. Doubtless such men will welcome an opportunity to align themselves with a program designed to better state conditions and without committing themselves to a change of party.

As a matter of fact, aside from the broad principles involved in the national campaign there is but one issue before the people of New Mexico in November. This is the issue between bad government, which has been proven bad beyond all possible dispute, through years of legislative and administrative control and the better government which is possibly only through the breaking of the ring. No man need abandon any principle that is worth adhering to in order to live up to his manly game rule for special interests.

It seems to be more generally conceded that Frank A. Hartwell has beaten Senator T. B. Catron for renomination. The main issue now seems to be whether or not Senator Catron and his friends can beat Mr. Hernandez. Their ovarian harmony these days makes a noise like a Ford peacock.

Mr. Hernandez, the Republican candidate for president, makes an issue of the federal reinsurance system established by the Democratic administration. Is he going to read out of his party the 32 Republicans who voted for the measure in the house?

Will he repudiate the 16 Progressives, the one independent and the Republicans who voted with the 24 Democrats in establishing the sound banking and currency law which has been approved by the public and the looking world?

Will he also repudiate the seven

Republicans who voted for the measure in the senate?

Mr. Hughes will have a difficult time evolving any issue that will not entail a repudiation of many of the congressional leaders of his own party.

If he thinks it expedient to adopt a strong attitude on the submarine controversy, which President Wilson settled by obtaining a full recognition of American rights under international law and bringing about the cessation of submarine warfare, he will have to repudiate the 101 Republicans who voted against tabling the McLoone resolution and thus registered themselves in favor of a surrender of American rights. Incidentally, he will have to read out of the Republican party the twelve Republican United States senators who voted against tabling the Gandy resolution which involved a similar surrender when President Wilson was forcing the recognition of American rights.

There were 12 Republicans in the senate who voted for the administration's trade commission bill, and while there was no record vote in the house several score Republicans voted for the trade commission bill there. The Republican party in its platform has endorsed the tariff commission method of handling the tariff. Before that plank was adopted by the Republican party the Democratic administration had introduced the Rainey tariff commission bill in congress and it will become a law in a few weeks. And the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, representing the business men of the nation, Republican, Democratic and Progressive, has endorsed the Rainey bill.

San Juan county's coal, of course, can only come out after rail transportation has been provided. But even the coal, when moved west, comes into competition with other New Mexico fields.

One hundred and twelve Republicans and four Progressives voted with the Democratic majority for the good roads bill in the house. One hundred and four Republicans and three Progressives voted for the administration's rural credits bill.

Republican leaders of the house and senate repeatedly have endorsed the president's action in keeping out of war with Mexico. If a vote were taken in the house and senate today I favor the vote for women.

One-fourth of the speech was devoted to Mexico. The seizure of Vera Cruz, the nominee said, was not, or course.

"Later we retired from Vera Cruz," he continued, "giving up this military hardware. Recently the naked truth was admitted by a cabinet officer. We are now informed that we did not go to Vera Cruz to force Huerta to submit the flag. We are told that we went there to show Mexico that we were in earnest in our demand that Huerta give America no policy of aggression toward Mexico, no designs upon any part of her territory, but to give her to have peace, stability and prosperity. We demand from Mexico the protection of the lives and property of our citizens and the safety of our border from depredation."

Guardians of American rights abroad had not been unpersuaded by the administration, he said.

The nominees reiterated his declaration in favor of woman suffrage. Mr. Hughes declared. And he added: "Opposition may delay but in my judgment cannot defeat this movement. I favor the vote for women."

We are told that we went there to show Mexico that we were in earnest in our demand that Huerta give America no policy of aggression toward Mexico, no designs upon any part of her territory, but to give her to have peace, stability and prosperity. We demand from Mexico the protection of the lives and property of our citizens and the safety of our border from depredation."

Guardians of American rights abroad had not been unpersuaded by the administration, he said.

The nominees reiterated his declaration in favor of woman suffrage. Mr. Hughes declared. And he added: "Opposition may delay but in my judgment cannot defeat this movement. I favor the vote for women."

One-fourth of the speech was devoted to Mexico. The seizure of Vera Cruz, the nominee said, was not, or course.

"Later we retired from Vera Cruz," he continued, "giving up this military hardware. Recently the naked truth was admitted by a cabinet officer. We are now informed that we did not go to Vera Cruz to force Huerta to submit the flag. New York Stock Exchange

New York, Aug. 1.—Today's market was more favorable for encouraging conditions, including favorable railroad statements and evident indications on minor stocks. The change was strong.

Setting of Mexican petroleum which justified the points with a limit for Texas companies caused reactions from early afternoon. This was offset in a measure by a two point advance in East Pacific, accompanied by rumors of a forthcoming dividend increase, and in concurrent strength in Southern Pacific. The two shares also improved on cables indicating more stable conditions in foreign metal markets. Bonds were off with lower prices for intermediate rates.

Shipping traffic extended their gains in the afternoon and miners, with the exception of copper, were stronger on the improved report of dividend on second preferred and common shares. Railroads had firm on the final counts.

With Company When Meters
Are Installed Comes as Surprise to Many.

About fifteen hundred firms and individuals in the city have received a little "Christmas present" from the Gas and Electric Light company. Postcard notices have sent out yesterday to tell customers that the interest on their meter deposits was ready. The interest is 6 per cent and runs from April 1, 1915, to June 30, 1916. It is payable in cash or will be applied on bills at the company. If the customer does not apply the credit before August 10 the company will deduct it from the bills for August, and take the amount out of bills mailed on September 1.

Many have been the people who have presented their cards at Miss Johnson's window, to get a few pieces to go to the picture show, or otherwise enjoy the pleasure of their evening's thrift. One firm that has been doing business here for years called the gas company to know what the new wrinkle was about. They learned that they had a deposit up long ago. Many now are reflecting that their hard money on deposit and are finding quite cheered up about it. The
