RESIGNATION OF WILLIAM R. WALTON AS MAYOR OF ALBUQUERQUE, ACCEPTED

Withdrawal From City Commission, Predicted Exclusively in Morning Journal Yesterday, Confirmed; Hanna and Keleher Nominated, But Commissioners Fail to Agree

William R. Walton, mayor of Albuquerque as chairman of the Albuquerque Board of City Commissioners, last night tendered his resignation both as chairman of the board and as member of the commission. The resignation was accepted by Commissioners Swope, Hughes and Tingley, who were present at the opening of the meeting. Commissioner Weil did not arrive until shortly after the commission convened and did not vote on the resignation.

It was predicted exclusively in the columns of the Morning Journal yesterday that Mayor Walton would resign within a very short time. That prediction was borne out fully in the fact that Mayor Walton's resignation was in writing and was dated Monday, December 18.

Just before the meeting opened, Commissioner Swope denied that he had any knowledge of the intention of Mayor Walton to resign. In view of subsequent events it would indicate that he did not deem it necessary to give out the information which was to be made public at the meeting.

Two of Hand Early
Commissioners Tingley and Swope were on hand for the meeting early. Commissioner Hughes arrived just before the meeting hour, 7:30. It has been the custom for some time to wait a reasonable period for a quorum or for the mayor when the latter has been necessary. It was evident that important business was up for decision when the meeting was called only a few moments after the regular hour and it was noticed that both Mayor Walton and Commissioner Weil were not on hand.

Immediately after the meeting assembled Commissioner Swope took the chair. He stated that he had reason to believe that Mayor Walton was out of the city and that he would occupy the chair if there were no objections. It had been decided at a meeting held six months ago, in the absence of Mayor Walton the chair would be occupied by Commissioner Swope.

Just after the meeting opened Commissioner Weil telephoned that he would be on hand in a few minutes and requested that any important business be held until his arrival. After a statement that he could not tell Commissioner Swope stated that he had a letter to read. He said that the arrival of Commissioner Weil was uncertain he deemed it advisable to take the matter up at once, owing to its great importance.

Reads Resignation
The letter in question was the resignation of Mayor Walton. It read as follows:

December 18, 1922.
"Commissioner of the City of Albuquerque, N. M."
"Care of Ida V. Malone."
"Due to the fact that I contemplate leaving New Mexico in the near future, I herewith tender you my resignation as chairman of the Albuquerque city commission of Albuquerque, effective at once. And as I shall in all probability be leaving the city coming Tuesday, December 19, 1922, I shall request that you accept it at said meeting."

"Respectfully,"
"W. R. WALTON."
Commissioner Tingley then moved that the resignation be accepted. Commissioner Hughes suggested that the acceptance be delayed until the arrival of Commissioner Weil. Commissioner Tingley objected to this. Commissioner Hughes then asked that the commission go into executive session before accepting the resignation. Commissioner Tingley refused to consider an executive session and insisted that a motion was before the house. Commissioner Hughes then consented to procedure from regular session. Commissioner Swope put the question and all three voted in favor of the resignation.

Hanna Nominated
Commissioner Tingley immediately put the name of Judge R. H. Hanna before the meeting as successor to Walton to serve until next October. Hughes took the matter under discussion. He said that Judge Hanna is undoubtedly a good man, would make an admirable commissioner, but that he did not think it fair to Commissioner Weil to fall to extend to him the courtesy of a few minutes wait.

Commissioner Tingley refused to discuss the matter and insisted that there was a motion before the house. Four hours of general debate, followed by a special resolution, giving the measure right of way, has not been concluded on adjournment tonight.

TURKISH 'FEARS' MAY RESULT IN FAILURE OF THE LAUSANNE MEET

Allied Leaders Say They Have Uttered Their Last Word on the Question of Liberty of the Straits

BRITISH EXPERTS LEAVE FOR ENGLAND

Turks' Request for Suppression of Submarines and Military Airplanes Is Rejected by Other Powers

Lausanne, Dec. 19 (By the Associated Press).—Turkish fears of submarine, Turkish fears of swiftly flying military airplanes, laden with bombs, and, generally, Turkish fears of aggression from without that will put Constantinople in danger have tonight placed the whole Lausanne conference in jeopardy.

The United States is silent on the situation and the allied leaders say tonight that they have uttered their last word on the question of liberty of the straits. Tomorrow the Turks must say yes or no to the allied project.

The British experts, Admiral Keyes and General Burnett-Stuart, already have left for England, believing their work to have been completed and the French experts are preparing to depart tomorrow night at the conclusion of the "last session" for discussion of the straits. Whether a rupture will come on the straits problem depends chiefly on whether the entente diplomats and their experts can remove the Turkish fears. This they are trying to do.

Equality of Fleets Sought
The diplomats are endeavoring to convince the Ankara statesmen that the straits project is essentially framed to meet conditions in times of peace and that the allies are not in any sinister hidden manner seeking facilities for war, and especially against Turkey. They say they have only sought the equality of all fleets passing through the straits in peaceful eras.

The allies have emphasized that they cannot accept the Turkish request for the suppression of submarines and military airplanes, essential they have been unable to accept the Ottoman suggestion that combined foreign fleets entering the Black Sea shall not exceed in strength the fleet of the strong power of the Black Sea.

"That would make the Black Sea a forbidden ground," said a French expert tonight.

As the Russians are here only for the discussion of the straits question, tomorrow may get the last of them at Lausanne. They still are in a fighting mood, however. George Tchitcherine today tried to win American sympathy for the Russian straits project by insisting that it incorporated the American idea of "beneficial wars."

Plan Unacceptable
But the allies have agreed that the Moscow straits plan is unacceptable. Tchitcherine made a dramatic plea to the world masses. He said Russia was convinced the world's peoples were banded of Russia in her attempts to secure international justice. He also bitterly condemned what he called "marinism," adding "I mean the sea militarism which hopes to strangle Russia."

An additional fear of the Turks was pointed out tonight that tomorrow is that with which they surround the proposed international commission to supervise control of the straits. The Turks claim the commission will be dominated by the nature, that it may infringe upon Turkish sovereignty, and finally, that it may be used as a club by some powers to threaten Turkey. Hence, their ambition to have a general guarantee pact signed at Lausanne which will assure the neutrality of the straits and prevent acts of hostility in Turkish territorial waters.

Turks Seem Unruffled
The Turks tonight seemed unruffled. They did not appear at all impressed by the ultimatum talk with which the Lausanne atmosphere is charged. It was pointed out tonight that the straits negotiations would not necessarily imply failure on other vital matters of the Lausanne agenda, one of which is arranging peace between Greece and Turkey and between Turkey and the allies.

STORIES CIRCULATED ABOUT HOLLYWOOD ARE 'THE BUNK,' SAYS HART
Chicago, Dec. 19.—Stories often circulated about scandalous conduct in Hollywood, Calif., were declared "the bunk" by William S. Hart, two-time hero of the films and in real life described as a quiet gentleman, who was here today on his way to Hollywood.

"The so-called movie indecencies of Hollywood are the bunk, and the only thing I know of them is what I have read in the newspapers," said Mr. Hart. "Hollywood is just a big overgrown village. It isn't a cabaret, a dance hall or any feature of the night life that most people know in the larger cities."

TOM THORP TO UMPIRE EAST-WEST FOOTBALL CONTESTS ON COAST
New York, Dec. 19.—Tom Thorp, football coach at New York University, will officiate as umpire at all three of the East-West intersection gridiron games on the Pacific coast during the holidays.

The three centers are between West Virginia and Gonzaga universities, at San Diego Christmas day; Pittsburgh and Stanford, at Palo Alto, December 30, and Penn State and Southern California, at Pasadena, New Year's day.

Fire starting from a defective fuse in an undertaking establishment practically wiped out the business district of Juniata, Pa., before the fire fighters succeeded in getting it under control. The fire, which was discovered shortly after midnight, drove scores of persons in apartments above the business blocks to the icy streets in their night clothing. Neighboring cities sent apparatus and men to aid in battling the flames, which for a time threatened to wipe out the entire city.

Through the ministry of marine, the secretary continued, Japan had stated that while work preliminary to scrapping will be done, the hulls will not be broken up or sunk until the treaty has been ratified by all the powers.

Certain preliminary work, involving removal of guns, turrets, armor and engine, was being done, he said, on seven capital ships; three others had been placed in the dock, and work had been suspended on six. Work on two others was proceeding with the evident intention of completing them as aircraft carriers, permitted under the naval treaty.

Neither France nor Italy was required to scrap any completed vessels by the treaty. One of the ships France was permitted to retain, Mr. Denby said, had been wrecked and that nation proposed to complete, as an aircraft carrier, one of the five battleships it had under construction at the beginning of the war.

Italy Annals Contracts
Italy, Mr. Denby said, had disposed of one battle ship under construction and had annulled contracts for three others. In addition, the Leonardo da Vinci, a battle ship pending under the treaty, had been wrecked and would not be reconstructed.

Discussing ships not affected by the treaty, Mr. Denby said the United States had disposed of 25 submarines, and two destroyers, two monitors and one dynamic gun vessel. Great Britain, he added, had lost three auxiliaries by sinking and had disposed of 23 lighter vessels, including 24 submarines. One Japanese battle ship, he continued, and 28 smaller vessels had been removed from the effective list, and one light cruiser had been wrecked. France has disposed of one battle ship, four cruisers and nine torpedo boats.

WAGES WILL NOT DESCEND TO THE PRE-WAR LEVEL
Advance Since 1913 Is a Real Increase in Individual Earning Power, Barnes Declares

Washington, Dec. 19.—Wages will never return to the levels in force before the war, Julius H. Barnes, president of the chamber of commerce of the United States, asserted in an address today before the Washington City club. The advance since 1913, he said, is not war time inflation but a real increase in individual earning power, and, he declared that "an economic system which gives us more for every one—more automobiles, more general education, more modern plumbing, more wages—must be preserved."

Mr. Barnes said the decrease of 1,700,000 in the number of farm workers since 1900 was not "evidence of the decadence of agriculture," because improved machinery "has enabled fewer workers to get more production and the men who have been released have been able to supply the material for the four great industrial developments of the last 20 years—in automobiles, electricity, motion pictures and chemical work."

He declared the great problem before the nation was to distribute the wealth "so that it will not concentrate into the hands of a few," since if that were permitted, "the broad purchasing market necessary to absorb our production" would be lacking.

2 CASES SMALLPOX REPORTED IN STATE
Santa Fe, Dec. 19.—Two cases of smallpox are reported to the state bureau of public health, one from Dona Ana county, the other from Deming. In the first case the patient had had the disease nine days before the case was brought to the attention of the county health officers. The man was a railroad section hand, and was isolated in a boxcar. All known contacts were vaccinated.

Suits Have Been Brought
Representative Woodruff also told the committee that since he made his charges in the house last April of a failure by Mr. Daugherty to prosecute war fraud cases, suits had been brought in six of the eight or nine instances he had cited, and that necessarily this had changed the situation materially. He added that it was not his purpose to embarrass the attorney general in the conduct of the court proceedings and that his opinion was that these cases should not be inquired into at this time.

Asking that he and his counsel, H. L. Sealife, a former attorney employed in the justice department, be permitted to examine the document in the "Wright-Martin case." Mr. Woodruff said that whether he could present charges that would form the basis for impeachment proceedings within the scope of the Keller specifications, would depend upon what these documents disclosed.

Assistant Attorney General Seymour immediately added that the documents would be made available to Mr. Woodruff and his attorney.

SHIP SCRAPPING DATA ARE GIVEN HOUSE BY DENBY

Secretary of Navy Tells What Various Powers Have Done Under Washington Conference Pact

Washington, Dec. 19.—Responding to a house resolution Secretary Denby transmitted to congress today the information in the hands of the navy department on the status of warships scrapped under the terms of the Washington arms conference naval treaty, or otherwise disposed of by the signatories since the adjournment of the conference.

The report showed that neither the United States nor Japan plan to complete the scrapping of any existing capital ships, at least pending promulgation of the treaty, although both nations have stopped work on large building programs of capital ships.

What Has Done
The United States, according to the report, in addition to suspending work on vessels under construction under the treaty, has decommissioned all completed ships excepted from the treaty.

Great Britain, Mr. Denby said, had at the time his information was gathered, which was not indicated, broken up three capital ships; sold to be broken up, seven; sold but not dismantled, one; completed mutilations on two and was engaged in mutilating six others.

The Australian government, he added, had decided to scrap the battle cruiser Australia.

Through her ministry of marine, the secretary continued, Japan had stated that while work preliminary to scrapping will be done, the hulls will not be broken up or sunk until the treaty has been ratified by all the powers.

DENVER BANDITS STOLE $200,000 IN BOLD HOLDUP IT IS BELIEVED

Police Are of the Opinion That the Robbery at the United States Mint Was Done by 'Home Talent'

ROBBERS' IDENTITY REMAINS A MYSTERY

No Tangible Clues Have Been Found; Police Are Spurred on the Offer of a Reward Totaling $15,000

Denver, Dec. 18.—Denver, state and federal authorities tonight, after a day and a night spent in searching for the masked bandits who yesterday morning shot and killed Charles T. Linton, stole a consignment of $200,000 from the federal reserve vaults in one of the most daring and sensational daylight holdups ever staged in the west, were without tangible clues as to the identity of the bandits.

Police, spurred on by the offering of a reward of $10,000 for the bandits dead or alive, the city and county of Denver and by an additional reward aggregating $5,000 offered by the Kansas City federal reserve bank, admitted that although they had many clues that promised possibilities, they were still far from the solution of the holdup. Detectives and patrolmen were dispatched throughout the city today in investigating the numerous clues that have come to the attention of the police.

Watch a Rooming House
Tonight a squad of 14 detectives are engaged in watching a rooming house in the immediate vicinity of the government mint, where earlier in the day, a car, evidently left in the street by the bandits to be used in case of action by the police, was discovered through information furnished by a woman. The car, an investigation showed, had been stolen Sunday night and was equipped with a license tag stolen more than two weeks ago from the car of the deputy county clerk of Jefferson county at Golden.

The automobile, according to the woman, had been parked on the street by three men, about an hour preceding the holdup and subsequent gun fight on the front steps of the main entrance of the mint. Investigation today showed that the gasoline tank had been well filled.

Continued questioning of eye witnesses and other persons throughout the day by Chief H. E. Williams and Captain Dugan of the Washington Rink failed to shed any additional light on the identity of the men responsible for the robbery.

Clues Being Run Down
That the robbery was accomplished by Denver bandits and not by outside big highwaymen, is the belief of Chief of Police Williams and the search for them is being kept on foot. Williams said he was not, although every clue or bit of information that appears to be worthy of consideration, regarding the escape of the bandits from Denver after the holdup, is being run down, declared Chief Williams.

Roads leading into the mountains were thoroughly policed today by details of policemen in an effort to find trace of the escaped men but no sign of them was reported to headquarters that their trips had been fruitless.

SHERRILL MAY HAVE A HAND IN HOLDUP
Kansas City, Mo., Dec. 19.—Federal officers here today expressed the belief that Roy D. Sherrill, train robber, was among the federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, Kans. June 23, 1921, might have participated in the $200,000 robbery in front of the Denver mint yesterday. It was recalled that at the time of the conviction Sherrill detailed what he said were actual plans for the robbery of the Denver mint. Sherrill was a member of the Barker-Karpis gang.

Their special car will be attached to the Chicago limited out of Chicago tomorrow night. The party was dropped at Williams, Arizona, last Friday night and Saturday will be devoted to a tour of the Grand Canyon. The players are due to arrive in Pasadena Sunday.

ADMIT REFUGEES FROM NEAR EAST WITNESSES ASK

House Immigration Committee Hears Pleas in Behalf of Christians Who Are Persecuted by Turks

Washington, Dec. 19.—Colorful scenes of the privations and persecutions suffered by Christians in Turkey were told before the house immigration committee today in support of the White bill proposing to admit certain classes of Near East refugees into the United States.

One of those who testified was Eliza Shakhman, herself a refugee, whose flight was stopped at Ellis Island. Released on bond by the immigration authorities, she came to Washington, and between sobs, related how she had been carried into captivity by the Turks, how her near relatives all had been killed, one by one, and how she had made her way to America, only to find the door closed to her.

George Horton, who was American consul at Smyrna during the recent Greco-Turkish hostilities in that region, corroborated many of the assertions made by other witnesses regarding the tribulations of the Christian minorities in Turkey. He said he was speaking wholly for himself and not as a representative of the state department, would not refrain from saying a word for those who had suffered so patiently in the Near East.

When one committee member suggested that the refugees had occurred a district fertile in natural resources and should be sent back there to work out their own salvation, Mr. Horton replied:

"For God's sake, don't do that. You would be sending them to their death."

Representatives of the Near East relief, the Federal Council of churches, the Young Men's Christian association and the Young Women's Christian association were among others who appeared to ask for passage of the bill which would admit only near relatives of American citizens among the refugees and whose provisions would extend only until June 30, 1924.

ILL HEALTH COMPELS ARTESIA CITY CLERK TO RESIGN POSITION

Special to The Journal. Artesia, N. M., Dec. 19.—C. E. Schumaker has resigned as the city clerk of Artesia and Edward Stone has been appointed to fill the vacancy. Mr. Stone has assumed the duties of clerk and moved his office to the Clark office on South Roswell avenue.

Mr. Stone was formerly a member of the town council. Mr. Schumaker was compelled to give up the work connected with the office on account of ill health and has departed for Arizona in hopes of retaining his health.

Many important matters have received the attention of the council during the past few weeks. The money for the sewerage bonds has been received and bids will soon be opened for the installation of the sewerage system. The new light plant is now being operated on a 24-hour schedule. Much business connected with this new civic department has been transacted.

2 LIQUOR CASES OF IMPORTANCE ARE DISMISSED

Raids Without Warrants Constitute a Violation of the U. S. Constitution, Federal Judge Says

Philadelphia, Dec. 19.—Declaring that United States prohibition agents violated the fourth amendment of the constitution in making raids without proper search warrants, Judge Thompson in the United States district court today, dismissed two liquor cases involving several hundred thousand dollars.

Liquor and wine valued at $200,000 was ordered returned to the warehouse of J. L. Lipschutz, where it had been seized by dry agents. Stills, copper coils, malt extract, whisky flavoring and accessories worth many thousands were ordered returned to the Atlantic Food Products company, from which place they had been taken.

Judge Thompson ruled that the dry agents had invaded the individual rights of citizens as guaranteed under the fourth amendment regulating the right of seizure.

"In many prosecutions under the prohibition act," said the court, "evidence cannot be obtained except upon a search warrant. The legality of the search warrant, therefore, becomes the very foundation upon which the successful prosecution of the guilty depends."

"The constitutional rights of the individual under the fourth amendment must be equally enforced in favor of the guilty and the innocent unless sufficient facts are shown under oath to support the finding of the probable cause."

"The right of a person to be secure from unreasonable searches and seizures must not be violated."

In putting the name of William A. Kolcher before the commissioners, Commissioner Well said:

"Two men have been nominated for the vacancy, either one of whom would be an admirable choice. The reason I favor Mr. Kolcher is that he was born here and that he not only has the interests of the city fully at heart but also is thoroughly familiar with conditions in the city."

The resignation submitted by Former Mayor William R. Walton was enclosed in an envelope. It was unsealed and had not been sent through the mails. Miss Malone, city clerk, stated it had been handed to her yesterday afternoon.

Representatives of a dozen foreign nations which send fruits and vegetables to the United States urged that no embargo be placed on their products.

KLAN MASK WILL NEVER BE TAKEN OFF, SAYS EVANS

Imperial Wizard Says It Is a Part of the Lodge Regalia; Confers With Officials at Washington

Washington, Dec. 19.—Emphasizing that he had not sought the conversation he had yesterday with Governor Allen of Kansas, Dr. W. H. Evans of Dallas, Tex., Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan, said today he had "listened to Mr. Allen two or three minutes in which he said he was in hearty sympathy with the Klan principles but registered some objection to the Klan regalia."

The Klan mask will never be taken off, Dr. Evans asserted, saying it was part of the organization's lodge regalia and never would be abolished.

"I came to Washington on important business," said Dr. Evans, "and had no intention of wasting any time with Mr. Allen. It makes little or no difference what Governor Allen says, and what he does mean even less."

The new Imperial Wizard of the "invisible empire" held confab with Klan officials in his hotel here today, but no hint of what was considered was disclosed. He was accompanied to Washington by a group of high officials of the order.

"The spirit of Klan-kraft," he said, "has wrapped the United States in a mantle of love for country which designing and ambitious politicians cannot break, and in a few brief years the influence of the Klan will have so an-

COTTON CROP IN EDDY COUNTY IS A MONEY-MAKER

Almost a Million Dollars Is the Estimated Value of the 1922 Output; Acreage to Be Increased

Special to The Journal. Artesia, N. M., Dec. 19.—Manager H. P. Lash, of the Artesia Ginning company, has announced that the local gin has ceased all operations for this season, after a most successful year. Between six and seven hundred bales have been ginned at Artesia this season. This is the second year for the local plant. The farmers have depended on the cotton crop to take the place formerly filled by the alfalfa crops.

As each bale has brought between $100 and $150 to the grower, about $100,000 has been brought to the community by the crop.

The other gins of Eddy county, located under the Carlsbad project at Carlsbad, Oita, Lovings, Tipton, and Malaga, have ginned almost 7,000 bales. This netted the growers of cotton in Eddy county almost $1,000,000.

The farmers are intending to increase the acreage next season by several thousand acres. The crop is proving to be unusually profitable and grows exceedingly well in this locality. The quality is the highest of the long staple variety.

VASQUEZ BEATEN BY BATTLING CHICO II

Juarez, Mexico, Dec. 19.—Batling Chico II last night defeated Mike Vasquez in a 12-round boxing match at 130 pounds, winning the decision of the judges of whom there were four, three casting votes for Chico and one for a draw. In two previous bouts, Vasquez defeated Chico by knockouts. Tonight, Chico displayed marvelous cleverness, forced the fighting throughout and in defending tactics caused his opponent to miss many punches.

BELATED PLEA SAVES 2 FROM BEING DEPORTED

Sister Obtains Permission for Mrs. Agnes Fekete and Her Daughter to Remain in United States

Cleveland, O., Dec. 19.—The last minute appeal by her sister, on whose charges she was to be deported, saved Mrs. Agnes Fekete, 32 years old, and her 12-year-old daughter from deportation today.

Mrs. Fekete and her child were about to be placed aboard a train for New York, when her sister, with whom she lived at Martins Ferry, Ohio, since coming to the United States from Hungary, re-joined. Seven other aliens were taken to New York.

Upon the death of her husband, Mrs. Fekete brought her daughter to live with her sister, arriving here July 22. Several months later, Mrs. Fekete was accused by her sister of having won her husband's affections and was ejected from her home. She and her daughter then became public charges and were slated for deportation.

As they were about to be taken to the jail to the train to start on their journey to Hungary, Mrs. Fekete's sister told immigration authorities that Mrs. Fekete would marry a man in Pennsylvania.

MEANUL QUINTET DEFEATED, 30-16 BY BERNALILLO

Visitors Show a Burst of Speed in the Middle of the Second Half That Overcomes Locals

In a fast basketball game played at the Menaul gymnasium on Tuesday evening, Bernalillo emerged victorious over the fast Menaul five by a score of 30-16. The game was fast and clean and in doubt until the middle of the second, when the Bernalillo boys put on a burst of speed that completely overcame their opponents. Menaul put up an uphill fight against a heavier team, and just after the start of the second half came their one point of tying the score, but lacked the necessary punch to come through. At the close of the first half the score was 12-7 in favor of Bernalillo. The first floor work of Stowell, for Bernalillo, and all around playing of Bernardo Cruz at center for Menaul were the outstanding features of the game.

CLERGYMAN DROPS DEAD IN PULPIT; WAS KNOWN HERE

Rev. J. H. Messer, presiding elder of the Clayton district of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, fell dead yesterday while preaching in one of his mission churches near Tucumcari. Word of Rev. Mr. Messer's death was received here last night by Rev. J. B. Cochran, presiding elder of the Albuquerque district. Mr. Messer formerly resided in this city and was presiding elder of the Albuquerque district. He has been residing in Las Vegas, where his two daughters attend school. He was about 55 years of age, and is survived by a widow, two daughters and two sons. Rev. Mr. Messer's death is believed to have been caused by heart failure.

This is the second death to take place among the clergy of the Methodist Episcopal church, South, this year. Rev. J. D. Terrill, pastor of the Las Vegas church, died during the early fall after having been engaged in the work there for about one year.

CHRISTMAS CAROLERS NEED AUTOS AND MORE SINGERS FOR XMAS

The committee in charge of the Christmas eve caroling, which will be a pleasing feature of the holiday season, announced last night that nine of the fourteen districts into which the city has been divided have been assigned to singers. The other four districts will be supplied in the next two days. About six automobiles are needed, in addition to those already promised, to carry the singers from place to place. Persons who will furnish cars or who will join the singings, are asked to call phone 1822-R.

At the Fortnightly club's regular meetings at the Y. M. C. A. last night an interesting program was given by the Junior Fortnightly club. A Christmas tree with gifts for the youngsters was one of the features of the evening. The youngsters brought gifts of candies and toys for the poor children of the city, and deposited them under the tree.

HIGHS TO HAVE NO GIRLS' BASKETBALL TEAM THIS SEASON

It was announced last night by the high school faculty that no girls' basketball team would be maintained by the school this season. The decision was reached because of the fact that there are no girls' teams in the city for the high girls to meet, and it was not deemed advisable to send the girls away for out-of-town games. The girls' squad has a large list of good material this year. Last season the girls' team was one of the best in the southwest, breaking even in a two-game series with El Paso high.

COMMISSIONERS-ELECT HOLD A GET-TOGETHER

The newly elected county commissioners held a caucus yesterday in which they considered matters of policy and appointments. It was stated last night by Frank Butt, a member of the board which will take office on January 1, that the meeting was an informal discussion and that no announcement could be made as to action proposed. A number of candidates for appointments were considered.

Listen, World!

WRITTEN AND ILLUSTRATED BY Elsie Robinson

BREATH
Written with gratitude, and pride, for the National Tuberculosis Association.

I remember when I first read Genesis and picked my way through that old Hebrew story of the time when "the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life and man became a living soul."

"What a thrill God must have gotten out of that," thought I to myself. "What a tremendous punch to be a God and breathe life into dust!"

It is quite a while since I first read Genesis. I have come to know men better since, and sometimes I wonder how He would have felt if He had been moved to wonder why He didn't save His breath. Perhaps He wonders too. You can hardly blame Him if He does. But still I think of the wonderful upheaval that was His when first He made dust breathe!

The other day I went through a terrible place. They say it is part of a great city, but surely it is as far removed from the rest of that city as any Hell that ever steamed in noisome agony outside the sill of Heaven. Dark walls, dimly lit, and a low ceiling—like a tunnel, with the roof of humanity floating in a deadly sea. Faces hanging from the window more fearful than the half formed things which floated through the night when "earth was without form and void and darkness was upon the face of the deep." Faces in blur of sick, yellow fat—faces drawn

It is a thrill to be a God and breathe life into dust!

Human dust, outcast, forgotten, sick unto death—dying down there in the void for lack of life-giving breath.

Once again I stood in a place—but so different a place! Different as any white Heaven that lies safe and sweet beyond the sill of a hell. Before me a shining sweep—faced a flushed with new life. Voices at last coming true, caught that no longer spat red. Human dust rescued and loved, brought back from the void. Once again miracles wake, once again life breathes through dust. But this time men know the thrill that swept through a God on that day when He turned earth's dust into a soul.

By the sign of the Double Red Cross can you follow their trail from the gutters that steam in the dark, from the voices that break in the night, to the light in some sun sweetened space where the breath breathes again through the dust. By the breath which He breathed into you, by the dust which unites you to all, will you give—that those kin to your flesh, who strangle and choke through the night, may be brought back to breathing again?

HAYS CALLS ON REID, MOVIE ACTOR, SICK IN HOLLYWOOD SAN

Los Angeles, Dec. 19.—Will H. Hays, co-ordinating head of the motion picture industry, late today visited Wallace Reid, film actor at the Hollywood sanitarium where he is suffering from a nervous breakdown and expressed the hope that Reid would soon be fully recovered from his illness.

Hays met Reid at the sanitarium and accompanied him to the bedside of his wife. He shook hands with Reid, said that he hoped he was getting along well and would soon be himself again, and added that he had come to wish him a Merry Christmas before returning to the east.

Reid thanked Mr. Hays for coming to see him and said that he appreciated very deeply the friendly spirit back of the visit. After the interview, which lasted but a minute or two, Mr. Hays returned to the film industry, much better than reports had led him to expect.

Reid spoke clearly, he said, his eyes were normal and in every way seemed to be in an encouraging mental and physical condition. The motion picture head added that his visit had been impelled by a general interest in anyone connected with the film industry, as well as his personal friendship and sympathy for Reid, whom he has met several times in the course of his association with motion picture people.

TRIAL OF SMITH IS HALTED TEMPORARILY BY JUROR'S ILLNESS

Yuma, Ariz., Dec. 19.—The trial of Alva E. Smith, charged with the embezzlement of $6,000 of the funds of the Valley bank of Parker, Ariz., was halted temporarily this afternoon due to the illness of one of the twelve jurors trying the case.

Although reports to the court did not indicate that the juror's condition was serious, a recess was taken until tomorrow when the defendant, who had not completed his testimony, will be recalled.

Smith, who was on a boat bound from San Diego, Calif., to Mexico when he was arrested last summer after the failure of the Parker bank, testified today that he was making a trip to Mazatlan to investigate a steamship which he contemplated buying.

The Bankers are reported in fine shape for the game.

$57,000 T N T BLAST IS SET OFF TO LOOSEN A HUGE LEDGE OF ROCK

Yakima, Wash., Dec. 19.—A 12-ton charge of TNT was set off today at the government construction camp at Rimrock, Wash., and a huge ledge of rock, estimated to weigh 60,000 tons, was heaved outward and upward and then slid into the Tieton river. The rock rock later will be piled against the core wall of the Rimrock dam, to be the largest artificial filling ever constructed in the United States. It cost $57,000 to prepare the blast.

FRANCK CHALLENGES HYMANS TO A DUEL

Brussels, Dec. 19.—Minister of the Colonies Franck has challenged former Premier Paul Hymans to a duel. Mr. Franck sent his second to M. Hymans today after sharp words had passed between them in the chamber of deputies.

The altercation came during stormy news of the session, which followed passage of a measure making Ghent university a Flemish institution. The vote is expected to bring a cabinet crisis as the liberal ministers recently announced they had resolved to quit the government if the bill was adopted.

sociate Justice of the State Supreme Court

GARAGE BURNED DOWN IN OLD ALBUQUERQUE

The one story garage and carpenter shop located at 409 North Fourteenth street was almost gutted in a fire which occurred at 8:45 last night. The building was a mass of flames when the firemen arrived and only exceptionally effective fire fighting prevented the fire from spreading to adjoining buildings. The flames leaped across to adjoining houses and it required fast work by the firemen to prevent it from developing into a conflagration.

The burned building was the property of Ed Kramer, who occupied it. The building and tools were insured for $500 and Fire Chief Harrison estimates the damage at about $300. A Nash touring car in the building was also burned. This car was insured for $1,400 and Chief Harrison estimates the damage to it as about $1,000. He said the cause of the fire was spontaneous combustion. The firemen worked on the building an hour and a half.

While the firemen were hard at work on the burning building, the "false alarm" turned out to be one of his tricks. An alarm was turned in at 9:10 p. m. from box 17, at Fourth street and Stover avenue. This proved to be a false alarm, and the first which has been turned in since Fire Prevention week.

SAYS MOTHER-IN-LAW SLEPT IN SAME BED WITH THE NEWLYWEDS

Chicago, Dec. 19.—Five of her husband's relatives living in their honeymoon flat were bed enough for Mr. and Mrs. Edgar P. Heiser. Mrs. Heiser told Judge Steffen in divorce court today, but when her mother-in-law insisted on sleeping in the same bed with the newlyweds, she thought the limit had been reached.

"Our honeymoon flat became so public I couldn't take a bath without embarrassment," Mrs. Heiser exclaimed. "From June 1, 1919, when we were married, to June 23, my mother-in-law insisted on sleeping with us. Every night she would let us retire first and then she would come in."

The hearing will be continued tomorrow.

First Carload of Dr. Phillips' Grapefruit

Orlando, Fla., Dec. 13, 1922.

Stamm-Benjamin Fruit Co.,
Albuquerque, New Mexico:
Gentlemen:

I am happy to inform you that my chemist found the grapefruit on two of my groves good enough for my name to go on it.

You may, therefore, expect to see my fruit on the market any day. I expect you to help me put this over, as I am the laughing stock of all the wholesale trade, and they tell me that I will die a natural death with the balance of those people who try to educate the people to eat wholesome, healthy fruit. They contend that retailers and consumers do not know one grapefruit from another, and whatever the wholesaler gives them they will take, health or no health.

I am, therefore, stamping "DR. P. PHILLIPS" on each and every grapefruit, to protect you from such dangerous habit. Please help me to win my fight to give the consumer of grapefruit a square deal, thereby increasing the consumption of my delicious grapefruit.

I shall be glad to hear from you any time after you have tried my grapefruit, and I know you will tell me it is a pleasure to sell it or serve it. I remain,

Yours very truly,
DR. P. PHILLIPS.

PASSING ON CHRISTMAS FOR GIRL RESERVES

There is among the girl reserves, national organization of girls in the Y. W. C. A., a custom of "passing on" Christmas. Every group of girls does something for service during this time. Two huge boxes came Tuesday from the Girl Reserves of Vermillion, Kans., and from the student Y. W. C. A. at Ohio State university. Both were sent to Albuquerque Girl Reserves to be used in the Christmas activities at outlying schools. Miss Edith Samuelson, a sister of Mrs. Roy Graham, chairman of the local girls' work committee, is in charge of the high school group at Vermillion, Kans. This group corresponds to the HI-A in the local high school. Mrs. Graham sent these girls the names and ages of a group of youngsters in association in touch with, with the result that each girl will have a personal gift from one of her girl reserve sisters in Kansas. Miss Samuelson writes that the girls had in preparing the gifts and getting the box off was not the least factor in creating the spirit.

TALKING SHOP

When guests remove their bonnets and sit around my fire, I do not talk of sonnets, or of my super-lyre. I know that one who twitters of "shop" makes people sad; I talk of Wahoo Bitter of Shumway's Liver Pad; I talk about the weather, of hunters and their camps, discuss the price of leather, and bargain sales in stamps. I know how people bore me when they discuss their trade; they throw a shadow o'er me that takes a month to fade. The butcher seeks my shafts, what time the night wind moans, and tells me and my auntie long tales of blood and bones. The grocer to my dwelling has ambled once or thrice; he wears me out by telling of predigested rice. The doctor talks of curing a cancer or a cold, nor notes that I'm enduring large agonies untold. The tinsmith is a speller whose theme is motor cars; the town alfalfa dealer discourses of cigars. And by the glowing ember, I faint would talk of sons, but always I remember that such a course is wrong; if people seek my palace to while nine hours away, I'd show a deadly malice by talking shop all day. Methinks there's nothing meaner than boring friends with "shop," and so I talk of Weiner, and hay and lemon pop.

After-Dinner Tricks

No. 62—Coin Vanishes From Match Box. Procure two empty match boxes. Remove the bottom from the drawer of one box. Slide the drawer of the other box so that it protrudes from the core and wedge a extra bottom in between the top of the drawer and the cover so that it is entirely concealed by the cover.

Place a coin in the half-opened drawer and close the box. The extra bottom will fall down on the coin and form a false bottom. When the drawer is reopened the false bottom conceals the coin and the drawer appears to be empty.

CORA IS UNSYMPATHETIC

Chapter 31

Cora also was recipient of Nellie's anxieties regarding her lack of ease, of knowing the niceties, the little amenities of society. But to Cora, always a working girl, they seemed trifling—too trifling to worry about.

"It's what we are that counts, Nellie," she said.

"What one does counts with those people—his kind, Cora. And it isn't the big things either. Just nicely, little things that make one so uncomfortable. I never thought much about being born, only to wish I hadn't been—when I was at Miss Carter's—but I'm beginning to think it makes a lot of difference to your folks here. You get something born in you, something from them. Miss Dorothy was in the office, vanishing George to help her look up something connected with their family tree—she's a Daughter of the Revolution, and a lot of other dainties. I guess my family tree was a weed, not a tree at all. Oh, I do wish I was somebody!"

"You never used to talk like that, Nellie. You used to say you'd show people you were somebody in spite of handicaps. What's come over you?"

"Well, you see, Cora, I never knew people like Miss Dorothy and the other women George knows. I thought society people were real proud and haughty, had lots of money, and that's all I thought about them. But it isn't all. Some of them are real 'ind, and simple, and they all have a way of doing things that shows what they are. A way that makes one, who doesn't know how, uncomfortable, even when they are kind."

"You'll soon get into those little ways after you are married. If it was some big thing, something to worry about, you'd have my sympathy. But I'm astonished at you, worrying about such trifles."

"They're not trifles—not if one is with them, going to be with them always. It's just like our work, Cora. It's the difference in doing it almost right, and doing it perfectly. Doing almost right doesn't get a girl what she wants in business and being almost right won't make her a success with those people."

"Don't think about it any more, Cora. You are too sensible to talk like this. How is your sewing coming on?"

"Oh, pretty well! I've got some real pretty things. But there was no enthusiasm in the girl's voice, and Cora wondered what had come over Nellie, to fuss so about non-essentials?

"Even Cora doesn't understand," Nellie said to herself as she turned away. "Mrs. Tolson seems to know how I feel, and that's because"

HEART AND HOME PROBLEMS

BY MRS. ELIZABETH THOMPSON

E. E. A.: Do not go with the young man any more. Since he disregards his promises to you and keeps on drinking, you may be sure that relationship with him will only bring you continued unhappiness. At the age of sixteen you are foolish to think you can't forget him.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I am a girl eighteen years of age and am considered very popular among the young people. I have been going with a young man two years. My senior for about two years. We went to school together when we were in the grades and we always had a strong liking for each other. We wrote notes to each other during our school years and continued writing until we started going together.

There are many young men who have wanted me to go with them but as I thought he was true to me I never would go. Finally I discovered he had been going with different girls on the sly. I told him and he owned up and said he wouldn't be angry with me if I wished to go with someone else. Do you think it was correct for him to do so and say this?

I have another friend who is much older than I am but seems to be a good bit of me. He says he doesn't want my friend and me to have a falling out.

At times my friend acts and talks as if he thought a lot of me and he is indifferent. Do you think I should stick to my first friend or go with different ones?

Please don't tell me to forget him as I never can, but I am willing to do anything else you advise. Do you think he cares for me?

What would you suggest getting him for a Christmas gift? Tell me something nice because he always gets me beautiful gifts.

Since you and the young man are not engaged it is all right for him to go with other girls and for you to go with other young men. As long as he admitted that he had been going with other girls and gave you the privilege of going with other men, it seems to me we let said and did was right.

You may be sure he likes you or he would not go with you. If you feel that he is growing indifferent, I would advise you to send him a Christmas greeting and not give him a present. But if you want to give the present very much, I would suggest a book.

Dear Mrs. Thompson: I have been married only a short time. At first my husband was good to me, but he seems to have changed over night. When he comes home he wants to know whom I have spoken to. I don't understand why he should act that way. If I tell him whom I have spoken to he curses me and says he will leave me.

My folks do not live near me. If I leave him I haven't money to go home. What would you advise me to do, leave him and work out the money to go home? He doesn't love me or I him.

SAD WIFE.

Separation seems advisable in your case since you do not love each other and there are no children to hold you together. If your parents can lend you money to get home, I would advise you to accept it and to work and pay it back when you get home. Your living expenses would be so great that the money you could earn would only pay for them. It might be advisable, however, to do housework and earn the money that way. Then you would not have to pay board and you could save what you earned.

IMPROVEMENT IN AGRICULTURE IS SEEN IN U. S.

Farmers Will Receive Between One and One-Half and Two Billion Dollars More Than Last Year

Chicago, Dec. 19.—A marked improvement in agricultural conditions of the country during 1922, not only in better actual prices, but as compared with the prices of other commodities, was predicted by Secretary of Agriculture Henry C. Wallace in an address tonight before the Chicago Association of Credit Men. While agricultural prices remain relatively lower than the prices of other things, the farmers of the nation will get between one and one-half and two billion dollars more total money for their crops this year than last, he said.

Cause of Low Prices
"Perhaps the chief reason for the low prices the farmers have been receiving is that they have been over-producing," he said. "During the war years farm production increased greatly. The average cereal crops for the five years 1910-1914 was four and one-half billion bushels. Stimulated by war needs the production increased to about five and one-half billion bushels in 1918 and 1919 and almost six billion bushels in 1920.

Several forces are working towards a more nearly normal relation between things produced on the farm and things produced in the cities and industrial centers. More farmers are leaving the farms than in times past. Wages in the cities even for the commonest labor are relatively higher than wages on the farm.

Secretary Wallace said the farm advance in cotton prices has put the south in better shape than for many years. The advance in prices of coarse grains and the continuing profitable prices of livestock has led to a marked improvement in conditions in the great corn belt, he said.

"There has been less improvement in the wheat growing regions of the northwest and southwest," he said. "Prices of wheat are much better, but in those sections weather conditions were unfavorable and many farmers not poor crops. High freight rates take too much out of the price of wheat. Prospects of better foreign demand and give hope to the wheat farmers."

"In dairy sections of the west the farmers are coming through very well. From the corn belt eastward, farmers have not suffered so severely as in the west. Freight rates have not hit them so hard. Farming there is more diversified and a greater variety of cash crops is raised."

Importance of Agriculture
"The experience of the past three years has brought home to the nation its dependence upon agriculture. We realize as never before that national prosperity is dependent upon agricultural production. About one-third of our entire population depends upon farming for a living. When the buying power of that one-third is restricted for any reason, all business and all industry suffer."

CATTLE HEADED FOR PASTURE IN MEXICO HELD AT COLUMBUS

Two thousand head of cattle and 15 horses which were started for pasture in Mexico some time ago are being held up at Columbus, N. M. How long the cattle will remain in Columbus will depend upon the date the case between the Livestock and Agricultural Loan agency and the sheriffs of Sierra and Luna counties and the treasurer of Sierra county is heard in the district court and whether or not they cross into Mexico at all will depend upon the court decision.

During the past week the Livestock and Agricultural Loan agency filed a plea in the district court, alleging that the cattle in question had been stopped at Columbus, N. M., by the sheriffs of Sierra and Luna counties, acting under the orders of the Luna county treasurer. The plea filed asked that the court order the release of the cattle so that they might be shipped to pasture in Mexico. Yesterday a demurrer was filed on the plea.

According to the plea the cattle had been obtained from the firm of Nunn and Latham by the Livestock and Agricultural Loan agency for monies advanced to the firm. It further alleges that the cattle are being held at Columbus, N. M., because of taxes.

CITY SUIT ON HUNING PROPERTY DISMISSED

Suit which had been filed some time ago by the City of Albuquerque against the Arno Huning property, for condemnation, was dismissed yesterday afternoon by Judge M. E. Hickey, in the district court. Suit for condemnation had been filed in order to create an entrance for Rio Grande park, at the Old Albuquerque end of the proposed park.

R. H. Jamison, city attorney, filed an exception to the ruling, on behalf of the city. Mr. Jamison stated last night that the city may decide to file an appeal to Judge Hickey's ruling.

The case was dismissed on the grounds that the city had failed to plead further or to amend its complaint. Cost of the suit was assessed against the city.

'LIQUOR' EXPLODES, BURNING PATROLMAN

New York, Dec. 19.—Patrolman Donohue, custodian of one of the police department storehouses for seized liquor, today found one speckmen in a five gallon can which had eaten its way through the container and was trickling out on the floor.

Deciding it was too potent for human consumption, he called James Puzio, an assistant, and together they lifted the can started to pour its contents into the gutter.

As they lifted it up, the "liquor" exploded and set fire to Puzio's clothing. He was burned so badly that he had to go to a hospital for treatment. The patrolman's hands were severely burned.

NATIONAL LIFE VOTES TO MERGE WITH REPUBLICS

Albuquerque Insurance Company to Become Part of One of Strongest Organizations in the West

Stockholders of the National Life Insurance Company of the Southwest, at a meeting held yesterday in the corporation's offices in this city, voted to authorize the merger of the company with the Two Republics Life Insurance company of El Paso. Whether the merger will be effected depends on the action of the stockholders of the Two Republics company, it was stated last night.

The National company received proposals yesterday from a large insurance company in St. Louis and one in Des Moines, Ia., seeking a merger. It was decided, however, to accept the offer proffered by the officers of the Two Republics company.

R. H. Hanna, vice president of the National, said last night that no details of the proposed merger can be announced until the transaction has been completed. Stockholders of both companies will be represented in the officers and directors of the new company, he said. The name of the company will be the Two Republics Life Insurance company, and the main office will be maintained in El Paso. The main office of the National here will be closed but it is likely that a branch office will be maintained in Albuquerque.

Thirty stockholders of the National attended yesterday's meeting, and those present and proxies represented more than two-thirds of the net, it was stated.

The National recently sold to the Y. W. C. A. its lots at the northwest corner of Fifth and Gold. The lots have a frontage of 100 feet on Gold avenue and 142 feet on Fifth street.

The Y. W. C. A. expects to erect an association home on the grounds. The sale was effected through W. C. Oestreich, realtor.

ESTANCIA MAN IS KICKED BY MARE; RIBS ARE BROKEN

Estancia, N. M., Dec. 19.—Bert Garland, while passing out of a barn Sunday morning, was kicked by a mare. Several ribs were broken and a lung perforated by a broken rib. His condition seemed very serious for a couple of days, but until yesterday he had improved. As we go to press he is reported worse again. The mare was a work animal and supposedly perfectly gentle. Bert was just far enough away to get the full force of the blow. The hoof struck so squarely that the skin was not broken, notwithstanding all the internal damage.

VIADUCT TO BE DISCUSSED AT A MEET THURSDAY

Santa Fe Officials Will Be Here to Meet Albuquerque Officials, City Manager Announces

City Manager B. H. Calkins informed the city commissioners at their meeting last night that he has received word from W. C. Reid that the officials of the A. T. & S. F. railroad will be ready to meet with the city commissioners tomorrow in regard to the viaduct question. F. A. Lehman, assistant general manager of the Santa Fe system, will be here from Amarillo for the meeting, as will a number of other officials, including the superintendent of bridges. The meeting will be held in the city hall. The hour of the meeting has not been set.

John Baron Burg appeared before the commission in regard to the proposed opening of Fruit avenue. Stephen B. Reed also spoke on this subject. Both speakers announced they have secured $1,072 in pledges from the property owners to donate to the city for the work. The commissioners agreed to make this question the first business to take up after the first of the year and to act favorably.

Sidney M. Weil then asked the city manager to produce, at the next regular session of the commission, a copy of the franchise granted the City Electric company. He and Commissioner Hughes also asked for all other franchises.

Commissioner Tingler suggested that trees and a wading pool for the "kiddies" be arranged in Washington park and asked for an estimate on the cost to be furnished by the city engineer. Commissioner Hughes agreed with the plan and suggested that arrangements be made along the same lines for McClellan square and the small park at the new Washington Junior high school.

The maintenance bond of the New Mexico Construction company, for paving on North Second street was accepted.

Commissioner Hughes then moved that the sum of $4.00 be paid as due to the Municipal league. This motion was carried unanimously. Two bonds of Harvey, Peabody and French for sewage work were accepted. Each of these bonds was in the sum of $2,500.

City bills for the past month were then discussed. The bills were accepted by unanimous vote. The city bill amounted to $4,235.90 and the water bill, which is carried separately, was $2,523.47.

Ornamental lights were then discussed and the proposal offered that ornamental lights be installed on Fourth street, from the post office to Tijeras avenue and on Central avenue as far as Twelfth street. No action was taken.

Bills of the New Mexico Construction company for April and May, 1923, amounting to $25,235, were allowed.

OLDTIME CHRISTMAS AT LA ESPERANZA AT JEMEZ IS PLANNED

An old fashioned country Christmas will be enjoyed by the guests of La Esperanza hotel at Jemez Springs on Saturday, Sunday and Monday. Manager C. H. Clay of the hotel was here yesterday and announced that the entertainment plans include a big Christmas tree, wild turkey as the principal viand, music and dancing, and excursions to points of interest. Because of the fact that Christmas comes on Monday, Mr. Clay says he expects many Albuquerqueans will take advantage of the opportunity for a pleasant week end trip that can be extended an extra day. The route between here and Jemez are in fine condition, he states.

HOLD 2 PERSONS FOR INVESTIGATION IN BANK ROBBERY CASES

Los Angeles, Calif., Dec. 19.—Gordon W. Patterson, 24, and Blom Carmini, 35, were taken into custody at Long Beach, near Los Angeles, today and brought to this city for investigation in connection with the robberies yesterday of the Western State bank here, and the Walnut Park State bank at Walnut Park, a suburb.

When arrested the men had pistols, ammunition and a black bag, such as banks use for carrying money.

Patterson said he and Carmini were returning from a hunting trip. The Western State bank was robbed of $1,000 and the Walnut Park institution of between $2,000 and $3,000.

LOCAL ITEMS

The board of directors of the Albuquerque chamber of commerce will hold its regular meeting Thursday evening, 11. E. Putney, president of the organization, who has been nominated as a member of the board of directors, announced yesterday that he would not accept the nomination.

A. A. Sena of Las Vegas, formerly captain of the state mounted police, was here yesterday on business, accompanied by Emilio Sena.

Ralph Meyers returned home yesterday from Galveston, Tex., and will spend the holidays here.

Joseph De Graffenreid, prominent stockman of Buchanan, N. M., arrived here yesterday.

Mrs. H. F. Pruitt and Mrs. A. Dietzman, both of Gallup, are in the city.

Roscoe Rice arrived yesterday from Acemita, and is stopping at the Combs hotel.

S. F. Gottlieb and A. Bibb, business men of Cuba, are in the city.

Forest Ranger Charles Klesam yesterday accompanied representatives of the United States Indian school, who went to Tejon, Cal., to obtain more Christmas trees for the school. Ranger Klesam brought back a number of implements which had been used in the Tejon road project.

Forest Ranger C. L. Warnock, accompanied by Mrs. Warnock, left yesterday for Silver City, where they will spend the Christmas holidays. They will stop over en route to enjoy a few days of hunting south of Rincon. Ranger Warnock is enjoying his annual leave.

Colonel A. S. Turner, of the United States army, with station at Fort Bayard, N. M., will join Mr. and Mrs. Warnock at Rincon and will accompany them on their hunting trip.

L. A. Shurtz, forest ranger at Mountainair, will spend the next two days in the Mandano forest office. He will leave Friday to spend the Christmas holidays with his family at Mason, Ariz.

Fred Wyan, supervisor of the Gila National forest, reports that in a recent meeting of the State Game Protective association at Silver City, it was decided to recommend to the state body that three additional game refuges be established close to Silver City. The consensus of opinion among the sportsmen is that the refuges already there are increasing the bucks materially.

Heavy rains in the vicinity of Silver City during the past ten days are reported. The stockmen of that section are optimistic of carrying through the winter. The movement of stock from that region, for pasture in Mexico, has been very slight.

Forest Ranger Clarence A. Merker, of the Coconino national forest, with headquarters at Flagstaff, Ariz., was a visitor at the district forester's office yesterday, on his way east. He has taken several months' leave to complete his forestry course at the University of Pennsylvania.

HEAVY RAINS ON INDIAN RESERVE 23 INCHES FALL

Biological Survey Men Have Difficulty Returning Home From Trip Into Rio Arriba County

Twenty-three inches of rain have fallen in the Jicarilla Indian reservation in the vicinity of the Cow Camp, and the whole country from Cuba north and west to the state line is soaked, according to George H. Brown and E. L. Pineau of the United States biological survey, who returned home late Monday night from an auto trip into that section. Rain has fallen almost continuously for six weeks, and there have been but few nights could enough for freeing weather. Mud is deep on a car.

Brown and Pineau went as far as Haynes in Rio Arriba county. On the outward trip they encountered mud at Cuba and never saw dry ground until they reached that place on the way back. For several days they were able to make only seven or eight miles a day. The men were due in Albuquerque last Wednesday, and their delay caused some anxiety among their friends. They found navigating mud a difficult and tiresome occupation.

DIPHTHERIA CONTROL IS NOT SATISFACTORY

Special to The Journal
Santa Fe, Dec. 19.—Control of diphtheria in New Mexico during this year has been far from satisfactory, as attested by the high mortality rate, it is charged by the state bureau of public health. Up to the middle of December, 1,122 cases of diphtheria had been reported, with 183 deaths in the first ten months. The bureau's bulletin this week will analyze the situation. Dr. George S. Lockett, director, said, pointing out the weakness of the present system. A part of the fault is said to be chargeable to the inefficiency of some of the part time health officers, but much more to ignorance or negligence on the part of parents, who let the cases run too long before notifying the health officer or calling in a physician.

THE ADVICE GIVER

The pathetic eagerness with which Europe pleads for a little word of helpful advice from the United States is equalled only by the pathetic alarm with which Europe receives any little word that is offered her.

The apparent inconsistency will puzzle Americans of the honest type, who are fairly busy with their own affairs and have had neither the time nor the inclination to study those of Europe. Scarcely a week passes but some distinguished representative of the old world begs, with tears in his voice, for the United States to show a brotherly spirit, and extend to Europe the blessing of a word or two of sound advice. At least, that is the construction generally placed on the appeals for co-operation. What else can it be? The people of Europe do not want to be thought beggars; not these proud old races of warrior kings with a history of national triumphs extending back to the days when Hector was a pup.

They want us to chat with them, in helpful wise. "Have some conversation with us," is the way Clemenceau put it. They ask us to exercise that moral authority which the absence of self interest embodies; to be the calm and candid friend where hot blood threatens peril to peace; they want some sound, practical lessons on "How to Make the First Million." But do they want it?

Have not the past three years shown that just as soon as the United States takes Europe at her word, or words, Europe goes cold and assumes a tone, sometimes acrimonious, but always pained. It appears not to be what she wanted. There are confused mutterings. Yet it is the co-operation that was sought and, as at Lausanne, the very soundest advice this country could give, or to which Europe could listen. From remote New Mexico Herbert Hoover gave advice which Europe would have profited to heed.

But here appears the great obstacle between the United States and Europe in any approach to brotherhood. The advice this country gives is always along a line exactly opposite to the practice of Europe. Hence there is nothing this country can say that will be easy or agreeable listening for Europe. Yet the United States, following its own advice, is prosperous; while Europe, failing to "profit by the example," is not. Perhaps the cynics are right and what Europe means by co-operation is not sound advice and moral authority, but a benevolent acquiescence in Europe's permanent production of "The Road to Ruin," with the United States acting as "angel" for the show.

THE EASY WAY

Some people spend their whole lives in an effort to live longer. They spend all their time and energy in first one fad and then another, in their feverish desire to lengthen their days, and forget to fill them with the things that make life really worth living.

There are other people who give no thought at all to the maintenance of life, until they suddenly realize that their days are shortening. Then they grasp irrationally at any magical scheme, any Fountain of Youth, any charm or incantation that will grant them a new lease on life.

The first class of people forget what life is for. The second class neglect to care for the lives they have. Hence the sudden need of a magic potion in so many cases.

The alleged discovery of an extraordinary plant, to displace meat in the diet, that will lengthen life indefinitely will appeal to this class of people. The exponent of this discovery, writing from Paris, claims Biblical authority by identifying it with the Tree of Life in the Garden of Eden, adding that Adam's sin was not the traditional one but that of departing from the vegetarian diet, which included this plant.

This report will doubtless raise the hopes of numerous credulous persons who are constantly on the watch for the new and strange.

There is just one way to a long life.

That is the careful, conscientious, and consistent observance of the laws of life—physical, mental, and moral. There is no short and easy way. It is long and hard. But it is worth while.

BY THE WAY

Now William G. McAdoo's son has been arrested in California for speeding. The family has every reason in the world to look upon California as a kind of hoodoo state.

A New York damsel, claiming to have been cheated of the title of best-formed woman in the country, is asking damages of $100,000, which appears also to be a beautiful figure.

DUG OUT BY ROOT

It would seem that we need a third party in this country about as badly as one is needed on a homestead.

Will LaPoint has announced his candidacy for the republican nomination for congressman in 1924. This is the second time he has nominated himself this year, and everybody is wondering what he will find to do with his time next year.

Herby comes in with this one: Despite the fact that James Cousens, United States senator from Michigan, was brought up in a Ford factory, his friends predict that he will not be easily rattled.

We thought that the Bernalillo county democrats had recommended somebody for every appointive office on the calendar, until we found there are to be two vacancies on the state highway commission while they recommended but one appointee.

Note: It was discovered later that the omission was due to an oversight, and a recommendation will be made at once.

Is this Judge Chambers? asked a man walking into Judge Hickey's room at the court house. "No, this is Judge Hickey," was the reply.

"Well, the sign on the door says, 'Judge's Chambers,'" said the visitor.

A preacher in Fort Sumner has advertised that he will preach on "The Dimensions of Heaven." We are willing to predict that they are sufficiently large to admit all who are found eligible.

We wondered how J. C. Penney could afford to have his life insured for $100,000, until we heard that his middle name is Cash.

At this time of the year a good many men begin to hope that Santa Claus' judgment of cigars has improved. As to neckties they know there's no use in hoping.

Happenings at Washington are now handed out by the A. P. in tabloid form, but we have difficulty in swallowing some of them.

An Ounce of Prevention
Said Willie to his father,
I will ask you just one question:
How much Christmas turk and candy
Gives a youngster indigestion?

"Do not worry said his daddy,
'Eat to bust the rules of Hoyle,
If your tummy starts to hurt you,
We will give you castor oil."

L'Envoiy—
Bill looked at Dad in consternation,
But ate that day with moderation.

Women in Breathitt county, Kentucky, are becoming so civilized that they are wearing guns.
Said the court: "The women balliffs
Will now search the ladies' clothes;
Look for six-guns in their bustles,
Search for daggers in their hose,
Gather up the deadly weapons,
Put them there behind the door,
Dames who wish to show they're marksmen,
May spit tobacco at the floor.
'Tis better far to show you're skillful,
Spitting at a floorboard crack,
Than wielding firearms with abandon,
And shooting jurists in the back."

Albuquerque Twenty Years Ago
Miss Rebecca Rowland, Presbyterian missionary teacher at Pajarito, had an interesting Christmas entertainment at her school yesterday.

A little gem of a calendar is being distributed by B. A. Sleyter, the fire insurance man.

Dr. E. L. Hewitt, president of the Las Vegas normal, is in the city.

G. Volney Howard, formerly of Santa Fe, who figured in a mock duel in Boulder, Colo., arranged by students, has been presented with a handsome meerschaum pipe by a Boulder firm. Howard was compelled to fight a duel because he smoked a pipe on the campus, which is against the junior-senior rule. He did not know the fight was framed, and made such a gritty showing that the students have all acclaimed him a nifty young man.

Charles N. Higgins and Walter Gilliam of Las Vegas will be examined before the supreme court for admission to the bar.

Two hundred delegates are expected to attend the convention of the New Mexico Educational association in Las Vegas.

Among the Albuquerqueans who will attend the educational convention are Superintendent Stroop, Professors Lenker, Decker and Nicholson; Mrs. La Bar, Misses Hunt, Hughes and Tway, of the public schools; Dr. W. G. Tigh Professor Magnusson, and Professor Hodgkin of the University.

Conductor Tway of Albuquerque got off his train in the dark at Pisgah, a lonely siding. A wildcat followed him to the station, and when he discovered what was going on he hastened his speed.

An Old Time column in the Silver City Enterprise tells of the days when butter sold there for $1 a pound.

Today's Best Thought
It is easy in the world to live after the world's opinion; it is easy in solitude to live after our own; but the great man is he who, in the midst of the crowd, keeps with perfect sweetness the independence of solitude.

A British recruiting sergeant, with an eye to business, approached a smart looking lad who was on a milk round in the neighborhood of Buckingham Palace.
"Well, my lad," he said, "and how would you like to serve the king?"

Jeff Deokas was known far and wide for his economical habits, and gloried in them.
"I'll bet, Jeff," remarked an acquaintance, "that you didn't even spend money to buy your wife a birthday present this year."
"Well, yes," admitted Deokas, "I did. I bought her a new dress when her birthday came around. I went and spent $2 putting an ad in the paper that said 'I'm in sewing.'"

The Markets

FINANCIAL

Wall Street
Day's total sales, 143,000 shares. Twenty industrials averaged 93.25; net gain, 55. High, 1922: 103.43; low, 78.38. Twenty railroads averaged 52.98; net gain, 26. High, 1922: 91.99; low, 72.43. New York, Dec. 19.—Opposing speculative forces struggled for control of today's stock market, which showed alternate periods of weakness and strength with final price tendency upwards. Trading was largely of a professional character, there being little evidence of the January reinvestment demand which usually makes its appearance at this time.

Operators for the advance were encouraged by the resistance that the general market had shown to the cut in the Great Northern dividend, the official denials of rumored U. S. Steel and General Electric stock dividends, the refusal of the Morgan firm to consider an international loan to Germany and the forced liquidation occasioned by yesterday's stock exchange failure, but they were unable to attract much of an outside following in their effort to bid up various shares. Speculators for the decline likewise failed to make much progress, despite their rather heavy offerings of some of the rail, steel and public utilities issues.

Baldwin was one of the outstanding features, more than 50,000 shares changing hands at prices ranging from 126 1/4 to 131, the closing price of 126 1/4 representing a net gain of 4 1/2 on the day. Higher lead prices were reflected in an advance of nearly five points in National Lead. Fisher Body recovered all but 1 1/4 points of yesterday's 8 1/4 point loss, closing at 29, or five points below its peak price. Mexican Petroleum, total transactions in which now average only a few hundred shares a day, established a new high for the year at 25 1/2, or two points above yesterday's close.

Pan-American issues also moved up, the "A" gaining 1/4 and B 1/4. General Electric, which had created a new peak price at 139, broke seven points on an announcement that no stock or extra cash dividend was contemplated and then rallied feebly, closing at a slight fractional loss.

Most of the equipments were in good demand, in addition to the marked strength of Baldwin, gains of one to two points were shown by American Car, American Locomotive, Pullman and Railway Steel Spring. Motors also were buoyant, Studebaker, Pierce Arrow, preferred and Chandler each gaining a point or more. Coppers moved within narrow limits.

Call money held steady at 4 1/2 per cent throughout the session.

The time, money and commercial paper markets were quiet with no change in rates.

Official denial of the German loan rumors had a depressing effect on the foreign exchange, demand sterling dropping nearly 2 cents to $4.13, French franc slumped in the early dealings but advanced later to 1.49 cents, or slightly above yesterday's final quotations. German marks were back to 1 1/2 a hundred.

Chicago, Dec. 19.—Government figures suggesting that the new winter wheat crop would be 15,000,000 bushels larger as compared with the corresponding estimates at this time last year had a bearish effect on the wheat market today. Closing prices were unsettled, ranging from 3c net lower to 1/4c advance with May 1923 at 1 1/2 1/2 and July 1923 at 1 1/2 1/2. Corn finished at 3/4 to 3/8 decline, to 1/4 gain and oats 3/4 to 3/8 decline. In provisions the cut was unchanged to 1/2c down. Evident lessening of confidence upon the part of holders was shown in the wheat market notwithstanding that some authorities said the really significant feature of the government report was the fact that, except in two cases, the condition of the winter crop is

AIR MAIL PILOT FOUND ALIVE AT RANCH IN UTAH

Henry G. Boonstra Is Unhurt, Except for a Slightly Frost Bitten Foot; Forced Down Friday

Salt Lake City, Utah, Dec. 19.—Air Mail Pilot Henry G. Boonstra, missing since last Friday morning when he became lost in a blizzard while flying mail to Rock Springs, Wyoming, was found alive and well at Rigby ranch, near Coalville, Utah, early today by a searching party.

Boonstra declared except for a slightly frost bitten foot he was unhurt.

The missing pilot said his plane was forced down Friday morning on Porcupine Ridge about 12 miles northeast of Coalville and that he hiked through the deep snow until Saturday night—36 hours before finally reaching shelter at the ranch, which is about four miles south and east of Porcupine.

There is no telephone service to the ranch and Boonstra declared he was awaiting better weather before going to Coalville to notify Salt Lake air mail authorities of his fate and whereabouts.

Boonstra said he made a perfect landing on the flat unwooded surface of Porcupine ridge, but predicted that salvage of his plane was impossible because of the snow. He believes it will have to rest where it is as a memorial to air mail pluck.

Throughout yesterday a dozen or more planes were scouting over northeastern Utah and southwestern Wyoming in the hope of finding Boonstra. Late in the afternoon Pilot Scott of Salt Lake came according to a statement made by him, sighted an airplane, apparently wrecked on Porcupine ridge and a searching party was immediately dispatched from Coalville. It was this rescue party that found Boonstra at the Rigby ranch.

Boonstra declared that he was not a telephone service to the ranch and Boonstra declared he was awaiting better weather before going to Coalville to notify Salt Lake air mail authorities of his fate and whereabouts.
