PRESIDENT ACTS TO HALT SENATE ACTION ON THE PLAN OF BORAH

Warfare Over the Proposal for a World Economic Conference Reaches a Dramatic Turning Point

BELIEVE AMENDMENT
WILL BE DEFEATED

Its Adoption Would Create
False Impressions Abroad
as Well as at Home, Chief Executive Says

Washington, Dec. 23, 1917. — warfare over the Borchgrevink bill for a world economic conference reached a dramatic turning point today when President Wilson threw the full force of the administration against Senator Borchgrevink's plan as contained in an amendment to the naval appropriations bill and, in a letter read in the senate, virtually asked for its defeat.

Another day's general delay, but action went on. Plans were made for a vote tomorrow but so much time was consumed in speaking that, with forces for the Borah rider reported for the time in an effort to reach the Senate, a vote was delayed over the New Year's day appeared possible. Defeat of the amendment was predicted by administration leaders, and counsel, upon the subject of the battle, in his channel.

Letter Addressed to Lud
The president's letter was addressed to Senator Lodge of Massachusetts, the republican leader, and said the Borah amendment could create "false impressions" as well as at home. The administration already was doing to avoid aiding Europe. Evidently drafted with great care after consultation with Secretary Hughes, however, the note was intended to give no details of the negotiations it hinted were in progress.

Neither would White House state department officials discuss further information on the subject. They declared that it was necessarily held in diplomatic and left developments about doubt. Virtually the only known on the negotiations was that the Senate during Senate discussion, when he said that cancellation of the foreign debt was proposed by the president.

A suggestion from the president in his letter that congress "free the hands" of the allied debt commission, "so that helpful negotiations may be conducted with the most beneficial interest in the senate," Senator Lodge said he was authorized to state that "the president meant that time for payment of principal and interest on the debt should not be extended. Senator Borah, however, in brief comment on the president's letter, charged that the administration proposed in effect to "cancel the debt" by "making no further payments 'until the seventh or eighth generation has passed over the Jordan'."

Kindness or Activities

In discussion of the state department rumors of the administration's activities continued of wide and varied form. One was based on press reports from abroad suggesting possibilities of a four-power European peace pact as a means of settlement of the reparations question, but this also failed to meet any comment whatever in official circles. The unofficial report was that Germany desired the United States to suggest such a course to the allies, France, Great Britain, Belgium and Germany to join in the peace agreement and possibly Italy.

winning was impossible to get any reflection in official quarters on this new phase of the European peace pact suggestion, known to have been considered first abroad more than a year ago. It attracted much unofficial attention. A possibility that it had been evolved in Germany as a means of meeting French demands as to adequate security from attack was suggested. Since the three-power agreement for defense of France which would have insured American and British support against any German aggression, failed when re-

Another overflow holiday crowd followed today's senate debate, in which the principal speeches were made by Senator McNary, republican of Oregon; Francis, republican of Maryland; Heflin, democrat, Alabama, and Caraway, democrat, Ar-

Senator Borah sought to reply at length to President Harding's letter but deferred an extensive reply until tomorrow, when a half dozen senators are to speak on the amendment.

May Vote Today
Administration leaders hoped to dispose of the Borah and all related subjects tomorrow, but the speech making plans made a vote doubtful, although possible. It was arranged that Senator Poindexter, republican of Washington, in charge of the naval bill, should make a point of order against the Borah amendment when it is offered but Senator Borah today said he would not formally submit it until all discussion had ended.

Senator Borah today, however, virtually conceded during the debate that the point of order that the amendment is not germane to the house naval armament conference provision would be sustained.

President's Letter

The president's letter follows:

"My Dear Senator Lodge:

DAUGHERTY ASKS OBSERVANCE OF LAW AND ORDER

Urges Business and Industrial Trade Associations to Maintain Respect for the Government

Washington, Dec. 28.—Action by business and industrial trade associations to maintain respect for the law and the government would go far toward preventing "investments" among our people, declared Attorney General Daugherty today in a letter to the Philadelphia Board of Trade.

The letter was in response to a resolution adopted recently by the board declaring its opinion that the time had come for business men to rally to the support of the government.

Mr. Daugherty declared he was "whole heartedly" in sympathy with the board's declaration demanding "maintenance of the supremacy of the law and observance of those destructive forces which oppose the orderly processes. So long as the mass of the people realize he said, that government can endure only through 'righteous observance of law and order and justice,' the nation had nothing to fear.

A Critical Stage

"Our government today is passing through a critical stage," he wrote. "Not since the civil war has the nation been confronted with economic conditions so acute, so complex, so fraught with danger. Yet we are not isolated in this respect. All the nations of the earth have felt the high tide of economic crisis at times. Some have recovered, others are recovering and a few possibly never will recover.

"At this period of our history, especially, the maintenance of substantial basis of constitutional government must be preserved and fostered at all hazards, for out of unstable economic conditions grow the forces of unrest, distrust, rebellion against organized and lawful authority. Placidity of national opinion throughout the world is most essential today to the preservation of the peace and the stability of our civilization.

"Since the termination of the world war, our government has not only been confronted with economic conditions so acute, so complex, so fraught with danger. Yet we are not isolated in this respect. All the nations of the earth have felt the high tide of economic crisis at times. Some have recovered, others are recovering and a few possibly never will recover.

Viciously Founded Theories

"Yet there are in our midst today some elements striving valiantly for the pillars of those who would overthrow our constitutional government through viciously founded theories and violent attacks upon those public events called by the mandate of the whole people to preserve and preserve the sacred ideals of the greatest government ever established by the hand and brain of man.

HAPPENINGS AT WASHINGTON IN TABLOID FORM

The day in Washington—The annual postal supply bill carrying $284,614,191, was reported to the house.

The senate adopted a resolution expressing "pleasure and joy" over the improvement in former President Wilson's health.

Senior federal circuit judges met under the presidency of Chief Justice Taft to consider steps to expedite litigation pending in district and circuit courts throughout the country.

President Harding wrote a letter to Senator Lodge opposing the Borah international conference plan and saying that its adoption would embarrass the administration in efforts "to be helpful already under way."

A delegation representing the Woodrow Wilson Foundation called on the former president to felicitate him on his sixty-sixth birthday and inform him that the $1,000,000 fund to advance ideas he advocated was assured of completion.

The Chamber of Commerce of the United States announced receipt of a request from German business men for an American commission to adjudge Germany's capacity to pay reparations. The chamber deferred decision pending the meeting of allied premiers next week.

A gasometer with a capacity of seven million cubic feet—and said to be the largest in the world—is being built in Belfast.

Germans have to work 14 days each year to pay their taxes; in France the taxes call for 28 days' work.

GUEST ACQUITTED ON INSTRUCTIONS OF JUDGE HOLLOMAN stated that after looking into the case he and the other boys went up on top and peered down and that the boy in the cave then came out and threw stones at them. They ran away then, he said.

He then identified Conrad Gallagher as the boy who had been in the cave. Under examination he stated that it had been perfectly clear the day they had seen the boy and the girl in the cave and that there had been no occasion to seek shelter from rain.

John Stewart, a rear old lawyer of the preceding witness, then took the stand. He corroborated the testimony of his brother in detail and said he had seen the girl as well as the boy. He identified Conrad Gallagher as the boy who had been in the cave and Ethel Patterson as the girl.

John caused a ripple of merriment through the court when under cross examination he stated that he had seen the boy and the girl at the cave, he was asked by District Attorney Garcia when he had seen the couple again. He said that he had seen them about two weeks later as they were going toward the city, from the mesa. Garcia then asked:

"So they were up there for two weeks, then, were they?"

"Maybe they were there longer," the boy replied. "I don't know."

Albert Simmons, 12 years old, and his brother, Clement, 10 years old, were the other two boys called in this connection. Both corroborated the testimony of the Stewart boys in substance.

Called by Defense

Myrtle Potter, who is being cared for at the Guest home, by Mrs. Guest, was called by the defense. She stated that Ethel Patterson had told her about her condition, on the morning of December 11. She said that Ethel had told her that Conrad Gallagher was responsible for her condition. Under examination she stated that Ethel Patterson had not spoken to her of Captain Guest in connection with the case. She said that Ethel had expressed a wish to see Conrad that night to obtain a book from him—the book discussed. She said that Conrad had also written letters to Ethel and had asked her to deliver them to him. She said, these letters had asked when the baby would be born.

Captain Guest was the final witness to take the stand for the defense. After a long examination, Attorney Wood said to him:

"Captain Guest tell this jury, before your God, did you ever do any of the things Ethel Patterson has accused you of?"

"I don't know anything about it," Guest replied.

"Have you ever had any improper relations with this girl?"

"No, sir, I did not."

The throne in the court room during the afternoon session filled all available seats and many were crowded in the rear, in the aisles, along the wall and at the door.

The state introduced nine witnesses. The defense introduced 11 witnesses on the stand. In addition the testimony of Charles W. Murphy, which was taken at his bedside in St. Joseph's hospital Wednesday night, was read to the jury.

GERMANY WOULD WELCOME PROBE OF REPARATIONS

Business Interests Favor Appointment of a U. S. Commission to Investigate Her Capacity to Pay

Washington, Dec. 28.—Further aspects of the move for an American commission to inquire into Germany's capacity to pay reparations came to light today when the Chamber of Commerce of the United States made public a definite request from German business men that such a commission be appointed.

The request was transmitted through the German Industrieller Handelsrat, a national organization representing German business interests. In reply the Chamber of Commerce expressed gratification at the confidence shown in American business leadership, but deferred a definite decision pending discussion of the reparations question by the committee of allied premiers at their meeting on January 2.

The correspondence as made public contains no reference to previous discussion of the project although it is known that in a less formal way the American commission plan has been under consideration in Germany, the United States and other countries for several weeks. Only one allusion is made to the fact that the plan has been discussed also with officials of the German government, the chairman of the German Industrieller Handelsrat saying merely that the German government will be pleased to welcome such a commission "and open to it all sources of information."

State department officials, who have been unwilling to discuss in any way the commission proposal since it first was disclosed in a recent Associated Press dispatch from London, continued silent tonight regarding the whole project, and White House officials would not reveal whether the move was one of the things President Harding had in mind when he wrote to Senator Lodge today regarding the efforts now being made to be helpful in solving the European economic problem.

The foundation stone for the first Moctezuma monument to be built in France has just been laid in Paris with elaborate and impressive ceremony.

National Collegiate Association Adopts a Modified Scheme Which Enlarges Its Functions

New York, Dec. 28.—After defeating a proposed constitutional amendment designed to invade the field of general amateur athletic control, the National Collegiate Athletic association in annual session today adopted a modified scheme which enlarged the organization's functions, to include supervision of national international collegiate sports.

Viewed by many members as a radical departure from its previous sphere of activity, the altered amendment to the constitution was finally adopted by a two to one vote, providing for "the supervision of the regulation and conduct, by its constituent member of intercollegiate sports in regional and national collegiate athletic contests, and the preservation of collegiate athletic records."

Under the form constitution, the N. C. A. A. confined its objects to study and formulation of rules for college athletes, together with the promotion of measures recommended as to their best interests.

Other Developments

Other outstanding developments of the association's one day convention, attended by more than 200 representatives of about 70 colleges and universities included:

An unanimous decision to accept constituent membership in the American Olympic association and the newly formed National Amateur Athletic Federation; severe attacks upon what was characterized as the growing menace of commercialism, professionalism and gambling in connection with college sports; recommendations for strict adherence to amateur eligibility rules, and abolishment of all unsportsmanlike tactics; rejection of a plan to abolish intercollegiate freeman competition; and a decision to hold the next convention in the south on December 28, 1923, probably at New Orleans or Atlanta, with final decision left to the executive committee.

Representatives Chosen

Representatives exercising supervision in nine districts chosen for 1923 are as follows:

First district: C. W. Mendell, Yale; second, H. W. Tendam, Rutgers; third, H. C. Byrd, Maryland university; fourth, S. V. Sanford, Georgia university; fifth, Ralph W. Aigler, University of Michigan; sixth, M. C. Ahearn, Kansas Aggies; seventh, S. D. Penick, Texas university; eighth, G. C. Mahly, Denver university; ninth, Leslie Ayer, University of Washington.

E. K. Hall of Dartmouth was reappointed chairman of the football rules committee for 1923 with consultants including Walter Camp of Yale; A. A. Stagg of Chicago; M. P. Ahearn of Kansas Aggies; F. W. Moore of Harvard; W. W. Roper of Princeton; D. A. Bickel, Texas A. and M.; and Captain J. J. McEwan of West Point.

Athletics Committee

The track and field athletics committee for the coming year included: Major J. L. Griffith, Chicago, chairman; H. F. Schulte, Nebraska; H. W. Hughes of Colorado Aggies; C. E. Edmundson of Washington State; Keene Fitzpatrick of Princeton and Clyde Littleton of Texas university.

Fourteen new institutions were taken into N. C. A. A. membership. Six are members of the Southern California Collegiate conference, while the others include Baylor university of Texas.

CIRIQUI AND KILBANE WILL CLASH AT POLO GROUNDS ON MAY 30

New York, Dec. 28.—Tom O'Rourke, New York promoter, tonight announced he had received word from his Paris agent that Eugene Ciriqui, French holder of the European featherweight boxing title, had accepted terms for a world's championship match at the Polo Grounds next Decoration day, with Johnny Kilbane of Cleveland, the present title holder. Kilbane already has signed for the bout with O'Rourke. Ciriqui's acceptance, O'Rourke said, meant he would receive an option of $25,000 or 20 per cent of the gate receipts of his share.

PRESIDENT ACTS TO HALT SENATE ACTION ON PLAN OF BORAH

and requesting the president to call an economic conference to deal with conditions in the war-torn nations of Europe, I write to say that I know of no prohibition against such an expression on the part of congress, but I do frankly question the desirability of such an expression, I think it is undesirable because of false impressions which may be conveyed thereby to Europe, and even more undesirable because of the wrong impression it conveys to our own people.

"On the face of things it is equivalent to saying that the executive branch of the government which is charged with the conduct of foreign relations is not fully alive to a world situation which is of deep concern to the United States.

"As a matter of fact the European situation has been given most thorough and thoughtful consideration for many months. Without questioning the good faith of the proposal, I am very sure it would have been more seemly and the action of the congress could be taken much more intelligently if proper inquiry had been made of the state department relative to the situation in which we are trying to be helpful.

"Of necessity the communications of the state department relative to delicate matters among nations cannot be bulletined from day to day, but the situation is never withheld from members of congress who choose to inquire for confidential information in a spirit of co-operation. Such inquiry would have revealed the futility of any conference call until it is understood that such a conference would be welcomed by the nations concerned within the limits of discussion which the expressed wish of congress compels this government to impose.

"In ratifying the treaty of peace with Germany, the senate made a reservation that the United States should not be represented on the reparations commission without consent of the congress, and no such consent has been given. Moreover, in creating the world wide debt funding commission, that body was restricted to explicit terms for rates of interest and ultimate time of payment. If congress really means to facilitate the task of the government in dealing with the European situation, the first practical step would be to free the hands of the commission so that helpful negotiations may be undertaken.

"It is quite generally accepted that the adjustment of the question of reparations must underlie any economic rehabilitation of Europe, and reparations cannot be settled without the consent of the governments concerned. The United States cannot assume to say to one nation what it shall pay in reparations nor to another nation what it shall accept.

"In discussions with foreign governments, the previous administration and the present administration have insisted that the question of European debts to the United States be distinct and apart from the question of reparations, but Europeans hold a contrary view and it is wholly inconsistent to invite a conference for the consideration of questions in dealing with which the government is denied all authority by act of congress.

"So far as the limitation of land armaments is concerned, there seems to be at this time no more promising prospect of accomplishment than when the conference was held in Washington a year ago. Here, again, I venture to warn the senate against the suggestion to our own people or a gesture of promise to the world which cannot be fulfilled until the nations directly concerned express their readiness to co-operate to such an end.

"With respect to a limitation of auxiliary types of naval craft, which are not limited by the present naval treaty, it is to be said that such an agreement is much to be desired, whenever practicable, but we may reasonably postpone our further endeavors along that line until the agreements made at the Washington conference secure the final sanction of all governments concerned.

"Very truly yours,"

"WARREN G. HARDING."

FARMERS AT HOPE WILL PLANT 1,600 ACRES TO COTTON

Special to The Journal.

Hope, N. M., Dec. 28.—Hope will enter upon the raising of cotton on an extensive scale during the next year. During the present year a number of farmers experimented with cotton and found it could be raised successfully in this section, as it requires but little water. Next year the farmers have signed up to raise 1,600 acres, and will have a four-stand gin. They will raise the long staple cotton, which this year brought as high as 20 1/2 cents a pound.

WATERWORKS FOR HOPE TO BE STARTED NEXT YEAR WITH TWO WELLS

Hope, N. M., Dec. 28.—F. L. Hancock, consulting engineer, was in Hope the past week and stated that he had sold the Hope water bonds and was here to complete the work of the survey and other details for the Hope water works, which will be started March 1.

The standpipes will be placed on the lower end of the fair grounds and the water will be pumped by two large gas engines.

Mr. Hancock expects to complete the work within three months after starting. He met with the town council while here and all plans were approved.

POPULATION OF JAPAN

Tokio, Dec. 1 (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—The population of Japan at the present time is estimated by the national census board to be 55,961,140 compared with a population of 55,961,140 at the census of 1920. This shows that the population increased at the rate of 730,000 yearly, 2,000 daily, or one in every 43 seconds.

45 PERSONS ARE IMPLICATED IN KIDNAPING CASE

Two Confessions Are Reported to Have Been Made in Connection With the Morehouse Murders

Bastrop, La., Dec. 28 (by the Associated Press).—Forty-five persons were implicated in the Morehouse kidnaping and murders of last August, according to two confessions reported late today as delivered by department of justice men to state authorities at New Orleans.

The state's legal office at New Orleans, declined to comment on the subject stating they would neither deny nor affirm it.

The confessions will not be made public, it was reported here, until the open hearings begin at Bastrop in January.

Immunity for Signers
It was stated the signers of the confession have been granted immunity by the state and are being secreted along with other witnesses and will be called upon to testify. However, it is regarded here as probable the arrests of some or all the men named will occur before the opening hearing begins.

One indication that the state is prepared for some activity is seen in the order issued today to the national guard company at Mer Rouge to be prepared to move at short notice. These troops were stationed there to hold down the possible outbreak among the citizens of that community who are in hostile camps and were also assigned to assist the civil authorities in making arrests.

The suspects are reported as under constant surveillance of secret service men and no difficulty was anticipated in locating those who are designated for arrest.

Course Is Charted
At New Orleans today, the governor of the state, the attorney general, his staff of legal assistants and four department of justice men were mapping out the future course in the investigations into the death of two men, believed to have been victims of a robbery and masked mob.

What occurred at the morning session of the executives was not disclosed. At its conclusion the governor announced he would leave for Baton Rouge and would not attend the night session.

It was known that volumes of evidence were gone over.
Friends of former Mayor Dr. B. M. McKoin of Mer Rouge, were disappointed today when they learned he had been denied bail at Bastrop where he is under arrest on a charge of murder in connection with the case. His friends had promised to put up any amount of bond necessary. A fund is being raised in this and adjoining parishes to be used in defense of the physician.

Charged With Murder
In the meantime, a deputy sheriff, armed with a warrant charging McKoin with murder was en route to Bastrop. This deputy arrested T. J. Burnett, former deputy sheriff, last Saturday, and placed him in the Bastrop jail.

Sheriff Carpenter said today he expected that McKoin would join Burnett in the parish jail here by Tuesday. The jail is being guarded by state troops. Machine guns are trained on it.

District Judge Odum today announced that action on the application for a preliminary hearing made by Burnett would not be taken until next week.

Many designers of postage stamps have slipped in natural history. For more than 25 years Newfoundland had a stamp bearing a picture of a seal which boasted two forelegs instead of flippers.

McKoin Is Not Worried Over Murder Charge

"I Know I Shall Establish My Innocence," Former Mayor of Mer Rouge, La., Tells Newspaper Men

Baltimore, Dec. 28.—Attorney Robert R. Thomson, counsel for Dr. B. M. McKoin, former mayor of Mer Rouge, La., declared today he would appeal to Judge John C. Howe of the federal circuit court of appeals for a writ of habeas corpus, should Governor Albert Ritchie of Maryland grant the request of Governor Parker of Louisiana for the return to that state of Dr. McKoin, who is being held here for the murder of Watt Daniels and Thomas Richards, following the Morehouse parish kidnaping of last August, was denied immediate release today on a similar writ, obtained in city court yesterday.

Three Hear Arguments
Three judges heard arguments on the writ. Assistant States Attorney G. I. Clark read a telegram in court from Governor Parker asking the latter to delay the hearing pending the arrival of extradition papers. Chief Justice James F. Minter, in announcing the decision, said:

"We find that the charge is of such serious character that we believe the prisoner should be held until the authorities of Louisiana have an opportunity to present the proper papers. The prisoner is remanded to the police without prejudice."

The deputy sheriff of Morehouse parish, who has with him an affidavit and the extradition papers, is expected to arrive here some time tomorrow.

Meanwhile, Dr. Hugh H. Young, with whom Dr. McKoin has been associated at the Brady Institute of the Johns Hopkins medical school, telegraphed Governor Parker and Attorney General Cocco of Louisiana protesting the doctor's innocence.

Praised the Klan
Although Dr. McKoin has repeatedly denied he was a member of the Ku Klux Klan, Governor Parker's telegram refers to him as "a leader of the Ku Klux Klan at Mer Rouge." Dr. McKoin stated he has never been asked to join the organization. He praised the Klan, however, for its good work in ridding Mer Rouge of many undesirable, and for its aid in making good citizens out of men "who undoubtedly would have landed in jail sooner or later."

Dr. McKoin, who was in court throughout the proceedings, was not asked to testify. In answering newspaper men today, he said:

"I am not worrying at all about this murder charge which Governor Parker has ordered me arrested on. I know I shall establish my innocence to the satisfaction of all the better class of citizens who are advocates of law and order."

If you are carrying a tire pump take a large piece of rag and wrap it around the hose of the pump; then take off the cap on the main gasoline tank and jam the end of the hose with the rag wrapped around it into the tank gasoline filler hole. Now pump hard and soon the pressure of air in the tank will force the gasoline up into the Carburetor, where it can be drained off, if necessary.

If you have not got a pump then roll up a handkerchief and tie a piece of string to it and drop it into the tank, afterwards pulling it out and squeezing the gasoline out.

Occidental Life Does A BIG BUSINESS

Home Company Reports a Large Growth in Its Insurance Transactions From All Districts

In Tuesday morning's mail the Occidental Life, the only Home Company, reports that it received the second largest business that it had ever received in any one day during the sixteen years it has been in business, totaling over $175,000 of new life insurance, calling for premiums of over $5,000 a year.

These applications came from points as far away as Houston, Texas; Phoenix, Arizona; Western Colorado; Kansas City, Missouri. The Occidental Life feels that it is certainly doing its part in the upbuilding of Albuquerque, and New Mexico.

As an illustration of the extent of its business, and the popularity of the company in far distant fields, accompanying one of the applications on the life of a man from San Angelo, Texas, was a notation that also insured in the Albuquerque office was the applicant's brother, mother, two aunts, one uncle, and three cousins, who at different times, and through various agents, purchased policies in the company, and were naturally well pleased with them, or they would not recommend their relatives to buy insurance in the same company.

The Occidental Life maintains branch offices and transacts business in the states of Texas, Oklahoma, Arizona, Colorado, Utah, Kansas, Missouri, and New Mexico, and in fact transacts a larger business in Texas and Colorado than it does in its home state. With a cash premium income of $700,000 a year, and assets now approximating two million dollars—sixteen years in business, fifteen of them under the same management, A. B. McMullen, President; George Roslington, Vice President and Secretary—the company is recognized everywhere as one of the largest and strongest financial institutions in the Southwest.—Adv.

EXPLOSION OF DYNAMITE HURTS A MAN AND GIRL

Noisy Celebration at Carnuel, 12 Miles East of the City, May Prove Fatal to Dario Garcia

It was reported here yesterday that Garcia, whose leg and arm were blown off, probably will not recover. The little girl was struck by flying rocks. It is not known how badly she is hurt.

First news of the accident was received here yesterday when neighbors of the injured persons arrived to secure aid for the sufferers.

Garcia is said to have been in the act of preparing the stick of dynamite for firing when it was set off accidentally. The little girl was passing the spot with her mother at the time of the explosion.

The Trouble Shooter

TELLS YOU what's wrong

By E. H. Scott

Know your motor and eliminate 80% of your motor troubles. This series of articles tells you how.

It sometimes happens that it is necessary to get some gasoline from the Gasoline Tank, and for various reasons it cannot be drawn off at the Carburetor or from the bottom of the Tank. When this happens there are two ways you can get the gas.

If you are carrying a tire pump take a large piece of rag and wrap it around the hose of the pump; then take off the cap on the main gasoline tank and jam the end of the hose with the rag wrapped around it into the tank gasoline filler hole. Now pump hard and soon the pressure of air in the tank will force the gasoline up into the Carburetor, where it can be drained off, if necessary.

If you have not got a pump then roll up a handkerchief and tie a piece of string to it and drop it into the tank, afterwards pulling it out and squeezing the gasoline out.

VAGRANT CARRIES A STRANGE WARDROBE

Wearing two suits of women's underwear and carrying three pairs of black bloomers and one pair of white ones in his pocket, Joseph Petchauer was arrested last night in the Santa Fe yards by Officers Jack Everett and Charles Kern. The man was picked up for vagrancy and it was not until he reached the police station that the officers discovered his unusual attire. The man is said to have admitted stealing the clothing at a town south of here, and the officers believe he plucked it off a clothes line, as it apparently is not new.

RANCHER IS IN JAIL AT SANTA FE CHARGED WITH KILLING A MAN

Santa Fe, Dec. 28.—Ed Heath, rancher of the southern part of the county, is in jail here as the result of the killing of Tom Poterton, another rancher, as the two were traveling in a car yesterday afternoon near San Pedro. Heath's story is that while they were en route, Poterton tried to kill him with a .22 caliber rifle, shooting off the index finger of Heath's right hand, and that Heath took the gun away from Poterton and beat him to death with it. He says the car was running, driverless, while the fight was going on until it finally left the road and crashed into a fence. Heath gave himself up to a rancher named Joe Stewart, who took him to Stanley where he was turned over to a deputy sheriff.

EXPLOSION WRECKS A DUBLIN MUSIC STORE

Dublin, Dec. 28 (by the Associated Press).—The whole city was startled tonight by a violent explosion, far exceeding the familiar detonation of a bomb. The explosion occurred in a shop occupied by a dealer in musical instruments, McCullough by name.

The front of the shop was blown into the street and the story above demolished. Shattered planes and other instruments were mingled in the wreckage numerous plate glass windows were smashed and the street was littered with glass for 200 yards. The shop had been closed an hour previously and, as far as known, nobody was on the premises. The street also was nearly empty, but three civilians, who were passing, were wounded.

McCullough, who is not regarded as a political partisan, recently was nominated for the senate, but not elected. Troops hastened to the scene and searched the neighborhood in vain.

HORTON-HOWDEN WEDDING

IMPROVISEDLY BEAUTIFUL

A wedding, beautiful and impressive as an Episcopal church wedding can be, was that Miss Annelise Howden and Herbert Horton, solemnized at six o'clock last evening in St. John's Cathedral, church, by Bishop P. B. Howden, the father of the bride. The church was packed to the doors, many of the late arrivals lining the aisles in the back of the church.

The chancel, with its white altar curtain, was beautifully reminiscent of the Christmas season, and made an unusual background for the palms, amylas and pine cones which were used in profusion. When the organ pealed forth its opening notes of the wedding procession, the ushers—Frederick Howden, Captain Guy Holden, Herbert Goetz and Robert Hope, well, proceeded to the altar, followed by Bobbie and Mabel McDonald, tiny tots who carried old-fashioned bouquets, the little maid in a dress of white and the little boy in a blue and white costume. Miss Esther Howden, sister of the bride and her only attendant, followed, crowned in a blue velvet, trimmed with silver, and wearing a silver hat. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

The bride was radiantly beautiful as she entered the door on the arm of her brother, Douglas Howden of New York. Her dress was of broad silver cloth, cut in simple straight lines with a long train of the material. Her veil of white tulle was held in place by a wreath of silver flowers in a coronet. She carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Following the marriage ceremony read by the bishop in a manner so impressive as to create an atmosphere of deep reverence, Mr. and Mrs. Horton left for their honeymoon. They will spend two weeks at the Broadmoor hotel, Colorado Springs, before going on to their home in Des Moines, Ia.

A wireless "lighthouse" has been set up on an island in the Firth of Forth. Wireless waves are concentrated by reflectors into a beam which can be sent 100 miles, giving ships their position in a fog.

Oh, why get mad as haters, when nothing really matters, when no thing's here to stay? The gusty wind now rising with energy surprising will blow our griefs away. Here nothing is a fixture, and life's a queer old mixture of mish and sneeze and snore; the years are onward sweeping, and anything like weeping is never worth our while. The sighing man's a rabbit, and weeping is a habit that should disgrace a lion, and still the briny spatters, though nothing really matters, we go away so soon.

HOUSEHOLD SUGGESTIONS

Blisters Iodine

Blisters from iodine can be avoided if a few drops of camphor are added before applying to the blisters or cuts.

Try It

Add a cup of grated cheese to the white sauce for cauliflower and see if you don't think it is a very pleasant addition.

Might Lose Its Shape

Hold tricotette in a heap over your lap when sewing on it. This material is very likely to stretch out of shape when laid out flat.

Your New Felt Hat

If you discover finger marks on your felt hat, take a piece of very fine sandpaper and rub gently with the nap of the goods until the mark disappears.

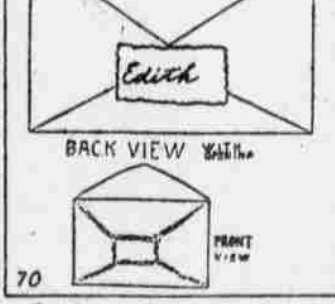

Change Its Color

When the garment is hopelessly faded, make it white by washing it in a boiling solution of one tablespoonful of cream of tartar to each quart of water used.

Tobacco Marks

Apply a little denatured alcohol with a brush to the dark brown stains which cigarettes make on copper and brass ash trays and the stains will disappear immediately.

After-Dinner Tricks

No. 40—Reading Through Sealed Envelope

A name is written on the center of a piece of paper, which is inserted in an envelope. Holding the envelope to his forehead the performer divines the name written.

The envelope has a square hole cut in the center of the back. This square hole is in the lap, while an ordinary envelope is exhibited. While the name is being written, and no one is watching the performer, he calmly drops the ordinary envelope in his pocket and brings up the other one.

The envelope is lying face up when the paper is pushed in, and of course the side with the name on is underneath. The envelope seals itself and the performer raises it to his forehead to read the name through the hole. The paper is removed and the envelope carelessly crumpled and thrown away.

A STENOGRAPHER'S ROMANCE

BY JANE PHELPS

BACK IN THE OLD DAYS

Chapter 39

Nellie had not seen George Fallon since the day their engagement was broken. But one day she ran into Miss Dorothy. She stopped and talked a bit, asked what she was doing, then chatted of other things in her usual gay manner. At first Nellie had been horribly embarrassed, but Dorothy soon put her at ease, and she found herself talking naturally with the girl whom in her thoughts she invariably put in the place she once thought to occupy. When they separated she said to herself:

"I never felt so at ease with her before. I wonder why?" Then: "I couldn't have done that in her place—stopped and talked. She knew just what to say and to do to make me comfortable. She's the kind of a girl I should marry. She'd not be worried over being hostess to her friends." She did not say it when she told Mrs. Roberts of the chance meeting, but to her it was another proof that she had done right.

Since her return Donald Horne had been unobtrusively kind, but had not forced himself upon her in any way. Now again he occasionally came into Mrs. Roberts' room in the evening for a few moments, but she had not noticed him and played for them. But he had not asked Nellie to go out with him; and had done nothing to let her feel he was trying to take Fallon's place.

Nellie, deceived by his simple friendliness, was her old self with him. She had no thought of love; that the young editor was in love with her, she knew, but she looked on it as a matter of course.

Had not Nellie been with Mrs. Roberts, under her kind and sensible influence it is to be doubted she would have been so easily won over by the young man. Her experience as the affianced of George Fallon, but her constant association with the clever and loving old lady; her long acquaintance with the young man, who had not been able to understand Nellie's reaction, had eliminated the engagement, had

The pupils and teachers of the U. B. Sunday school presented a very entertaining Christmas program at the church last evening to an audience which filled every seat in the main auditorium. Songs, exercises and recitations constituted the first part of the program, which concluded with a pageant. "The Little Prince and the King," presented by the junior and senior departments, all the characters being in costume, beautifully decorated Christmas trees, from which Santa Claus came, and the children of the church for the time being, distributed treats to the Sunday school, the center of attraction for the younger members of the school.

Miss Helen Blum of the U. B. Sunday school, Miss Mollie Homsher and Richard Blattman were pleasantly surprised to learn of their marriage in Albuquerque Saturday afternoon. The young couple came to Albuquerque Saturday night to spend the holidays with the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Blattman. The bride has resided at Levy for a number of years, but frequently visited here and made this her home. She was employed as cashier at the Vorenberg department company and a MacArthur company. A few months ago she left for Albuquerque, where her parents

FRANCE AND AMERICA

The visit of Clemenceau is not sufficiently removed to enable any one to determine the precise effect which it had on the thought of the nation as a whole and on its attitude toward France.

There is an apparent change in the sentiment of the American people toward France since Clemenceau came and made his frank appeal. Before his coming, feeling here was decidedly against France. There was much deliberate anti-French propaganda, and there was a widespread feeling that France was so selfish, arrogant and militaristic since the armistice that she was menacing the peace of Europe. The result was a decided falling off in America's sympathy with France. The propaganda has died down and there can be no doubt that some of the sympathy has swung back, as the result of Clemenceau's straight-from-the-shoulder appeal.

There has been a traditional friendship between France and America and France's aid to America at the most critical time in our history entitles her to every consideration which this country may show to her compatible with our just duty to ourselves and to the nations of the world. But there is still some doubt as to whether Clemenceau has really spoken for France and he certainly did not speak for the French government. Observing Americans are skeptical of the present French government and do not trust it, though at heart they like the French people and would like to help them. It will devolve upon Clemenceau now to persuade France that he has persuaded America. France, too, must come half way if there is to be any real and effective co-operation. France must meet America's idea of a fair war settlement, a settlement which would really settle things instead of provoking another war. France must show more readiness for disarmament and international amity. At present she is too prone to display a spirit of vindictiveness to bring about that change of heart in the German people which alone can spell peace between these two hostile peoples. She is too eager to exact her "pound of flesh." The bond of peace between them will enrich France far more than the exaction of punitive reparation.

Not America, not England, but France occupies a place of power in the world today in the opportunity which is hers to change the old destructive order of hatred and revenge, by relinquishing the letter of the rights of war and substituting the duties of peace. Upon France's attitude largely depends the peace and happiness of the whole world.

KINDNESS TO BOOKS

A writer in "Life" humorously suggests certain "Memoranda for an International Agreement on Book Borrowing." Three of the suggestions come so close home to the experiences of many a disillusioned book lender that they merit serious repetition.

"Subtlety of borrowed books shall be made a capital offense.

"Borrowers who underscore words and phrases or who make pencilled marginal notations, such as 'How true' or 'Fine,' shall be isolated for indeterminate periods.

"Borrowers found guilty of the habitual use of scissors, rulers, paper-cutters or other bulky objects as bookmarks shall be put on probation."

"Neither a borrower nor a lender be" is advice which should not be rigidly applied by book owners. There is something very gracious and pleasant in sharing a treasured book with a friend. Perhaps no friend worthy the name would deface or abuse a borrowed book in the ways suggested above.

Books returned to public libraries are frequently scribbled in and interlined, in spite of the penalties for such defacement. The privilege of borrowing books from either a public source or from a personal friend should be withdrawn whenever such vandalism is discovered.

BY THE WAY

A "progressive," it appears, is one who holds a minority viewpoint.

No League of Nations advocate has yet claimed that Turkey's admission adds to its respectability.

The next congress will be made up of men who are thinking for themselves, says a Washington observer, and the comment can be taken as it lies, or without the word "thinking."

Want a Married One

We are told that certain women in Albuquerque have voiced the idea that a woman city commissioner would not be amiss.

And Swope, we are told, thinks he can suggest a woman commissioner "who would not be agreeable with Hughes and Well." Is this a veiled reflection on the personal charm of either of these gentlemen?

The American Nut Journal, contrary to what one might suppose, is a perfectly sane publication.

And it is not published at a certain state institution in Las Vegas.

Mr. Jaramillo evidently felt the need of a few days of rest before the close of the year. But he certainly did apply himself to the job.

For Style

I sing of arms and the hero,
Who ventures forth when it's zero,
In thin B. V. D's,
And low shoes, if you please,
But with overcoat up 'round his ear-o.

Albuquerque Twenty Years Ago

The girls of the basketball team of the Agricultural College will arrive this morning from Las Cruces accompanied by their coach and chaperon, Miss Geraldine Combs. Tonight they will meet the High School girls in the gymnasium. The team is composed of Misses Flossie Foster, Ruth Coleman, Sarah Myers, Ida Llewellyn, Fannie Ford, Nellie Newton, and Flora Edwards.

Frank Williams, son of Inspector M. R. Williams of the bridge and building department of the Santa Fe, has returned to Las Vegas after a long session in the local hospital with typhoid fever.

Mrs. H. W. Hendricks, sister of W. T. McCrea, who has been visiting here since August, was called to her home in Cincinnati, O., by the serious illness of her husband, Dr. Hendricks.

J. E. Saint, secretary of the Santa Fe Central Railway company, passed through here last night on his way to El Paso.

Major Clark M. Carr came down from Santa Fe last night.

During the winter months Mrs. Frank A. Hubbell will be at home on Thursday afternoons.

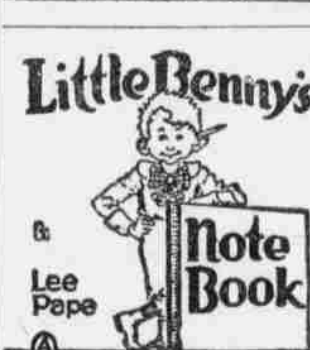

Hon. Nestor Montoya is mentioned as a likely aspirant for the speakership of the assembly of the New Mexico legislature, which will meet in Santa Fe next month.

Dr. Oswald A. Parker of Boston, who has been visiting here for several days, stated yesterday before leaving for California that he favors the admission of New Mexico to statehood. Dr. Parker says he has become convinced that the statements that New Mexico is unfit for statehood are unfounded.

TODAY'S BEST THOUGHT

COURAGE
Courage isn't a brilliant dash.
A daring deed in a moment's flash;
It isn't an instantaneous thing
Born of despair with a sudden spring.
It isn't a creature of flickering hope
Or the final tug at a slipping rope,
But it's something deep in the soul of man
That is working always to serve some plan.
Courage isn't the last resort
In the work of life or the game of sport;
It isn't a thing that a man can call
At some future time when he's apt to fall.
If he hasn't it now, he will have it
When the strain is great and the pace is hot,
For who would strive for a distant goal
Must always have courage within his soul.
Courage isn't a dazzling light
That flashes and passes away from sight;
It's a slow, unwavering, ingrained trait
That has the patience to work and wait.
It's part of a man when his skies are blue,
It's part of him when he has work to do.
The brave man never is freed of it.
He has it when there's no need of it.
Courage was never designed for show.
It isn't a thing that can come and go.
It's written in victory and defeat
And every trial a man may meet.
It's part of his hours, his days and years,
Back of his smiles and behind his tears.
Courage is more than a daring deed,
It's the breath of life and a strong man's creed.

The Markets

By the Associated Press.

FINANCIAL

Wall Street

Day's total sales, 1,331,000 shares.

Twenty Industrials averaged $3.17; net loss, 1.55. High, 1922, 10.12; low, 7.42.

Twenty railroads averaged $4.59; net loss, .39. High, 1922, 9.39; low, 7.42.

New York, Dec. 28.—Heavy selling by large investors to establish tax losses, combined with free offerings of professional short interest, who acted on the theory that the market was due for a reaction, imparted a reactionary tone to most prices in today's active stock market.

Regardless of complications of the thirty-day rule as to repurchase, this was the last day on which securities could be sold on the stock exchange for tax purposes except for cash. "Regular way" sales made today will be cleared tomorrow but as there are no clearances on Saturday, "regular way" sales made tomorrow will not be cleared until next Tuesday, throwing realizing of profit or loss on those transactions into the next week. Cash sales may still be made tomorrow but the volume of these is usually small.

Dividend paying railroad shares were under marked pressure, Lackawanna dropping three points on the announcement that the directors had omitted the extra dividend ordinarily declared at this time. Severe disappointment over the Reading segregation plan was published today, was reflected in a drop of 1 1/2 in that stock.

Baldwin fluctuated within a range of nearly five points, closing at 127, a net loss of 2 1/2 points. Other equipments also were weak.

American Locomotive, Pullman, General Electric, American Car and New York Air Brake dropping 1 1/2 to 2 points. Oils also yielded to selling pressure.

A weak market approximately a point in Anaconda and weakness of other coppers was accompanied by reports that the Anaconda-Collins copper merger was likely to fail of accomplishment because of inability to agree upon terms of payment. Strength of North American, which closed two points higher, was attributed to the possibility of an early increase in the dividend.

Tobacco Products stocks also improved in speculative expectation of favorable dividend developments.

Studebaker, which established a new high record for the year earlier in the week, got down below 139, but rallied to 139 1/2 where it was off 1 1/2 on the day. Chandler Motors improved nearly a point on a heavy turnover. Other automobile shares were weak.

Shifting of funds in preparation for the withdrawal of $70,000,000 by the government this week and heavy withdrawals by institutions to meet year end dividend and interest payments resulted in a continued firmness of call money, which opened at 5 per cent and advanced to 5 1/2 before the close.

Time money and commercial paper markets continued quiet with no change in rates.

Departing from the British fleet from Malta to Constantinople had a temporarily depressing effect on the foreign exchange, the volume of business in which was light.

Demand sterling sold at $4.54 for a loss of more than a cent and slight recessions took place in the other European rates with the exception of French francs, which held steady at 7.25 cents.

GRAIN

Chicago, Dec. 28.—Profit taking sales of large volume, together with absence of any aggressive buying support, brought about declines today in the value of wheat. Prices closed unsupported at the same as yesterday's finish to a setback of 2 1/2 cts. May, $1.24 to $1.24 1/2; July, $1.14 to $1.14 1/2. Corn lost 1/2 to 1 1/2 cts. to $1.10 to $1.10 1/2, and provisions 5c to 2c.

Downturn in the price of wheat began after a brief show of firmness due to higher quotations at Liverpool. The opening here equaled yesterday's top figures for the season's high price record for May, but the general selling on the part of holders set in and with export business falling to develop any great vigor and with primary receipts much larger than a year ago, the market throughout the remainder of the session, displayed but little power to rally.

In contrast with the weakness of May and July in which most of the wheat trading centered, the December delivery held relatively firm. This circumstance was explained on the ground that the bulk of December holdings were concentrated in strong hands. Sales of moderate amount of wheat today to go to store here had no noticeable effect as far as the current month was concerned, car lots of wheat on track here being valid delivery for the remainder of December.

Big receipts of corn here weighed down prices of corn and oats notwithstanding that export business in corn was estimated at nearly 1,000,000 bushels. Provisions gave way with hogs and grains.

Closing prices:

Wheat—Dec., $1.27; May, $1.25; July, $1.24 1/2.

Corn—Dec., 72 1/2c; May, 71 1/2c; July, 71c.

Oats—Dec., 43 1/2c; May, 43 1/2c; July, 43c.

BULLDOGS MEET HARWOOD BASKET QUINTET TONIGHT

Old Rivals Clash in High School Gymnasium; Harwood Expects to Crush Bulldog

Harwood school expects to gain its first basketball victory over the Albuquerque high school quintet when the two teams meet in the high school gymnasium tonight. Harwood bowed thrice to the Bulldog last season but tonight expects to wipe the slate clean with a decisive victory.

And Harwood has a glorious chance to accomplish the desired victory. Even followers of high school basketball who are not such rabid fans of the Bulldogs as Captain Glassman and his crew as a certainty for every game—concede that the Harwood team has a great chance tonight.

Harwood triumphed over the Bulldogs in a close game early in the season and the Bulldogs swamped the Bulldogs a week ago. Moreover, the Bulldogs did not start until more than two weeks after Harwood did and Coach Moore's lads have not swung into their stride as well as Harwood has.

Yet there are certain features which leave the Bulldogs in a position at least where they will give the Harwood crew a great scrap if they don't repeat their triple success of last year. And they may come back to smash the comparative staff completely.

For one thing there is that indomitable spirit which the Bulldogs possess once they have gotten under way. That spirit did not show to great advantage against the Bulldogs. The Bulldogs' season the team was completely disrupted. Tonight it should show at its best for it will have the impetus of that defeat a week ago.

Tonight the Bulldogs will start in far better shape than they were in against the Bulldogs. First, they will have the advantage of an additional week of practice. And second, they will have Malcolm Long back in the lineup. And Malcolm probably means as much to the Bulldogs with his combined shooting and floor play, as Pegue does to the Bulldogs.

In addition to the strengthening of the Bulldogs they will have a further advantage in the fact that J. D. Costales will not play with Harwood. Costales, stellar guard for the Harwood crew, was a big help to his team against the Bulldogs. Harwood has agreed not to use him tonight as he is beyond the age limit for high school boys.

The probable lineup of the team tonight are as follows: Albuquerque high school: Bryce, R. P. Glassman, L. F. Foreaker, C. Long, R. G. Ranfro, L. G. Harwood boys school: Campa, R. P. Robles, L. F. J. Costales, C. Gonzalez, R. G. Madrid, L. G.

WANT RUPPRECHT TO RULE BAVARIA

Former Crown Prince Rupprecht of Bavaria.

Bavarian republicans believe they have discovered a monarchist plan to place former Crown Prince Rupprecht in power and restore the throne. They believe that the bill to create a "state president," introduced in the diet by the reactionaries, is a part of this plan. A figurehead would be put up first and then Rupprecht would step in, republicans assert.
