STATE BANK OF TULAROSA

Filed Incorporation Papers and Has Capitalization of $15,000

GOODROADS DELEGATES NAMED

Case of Fowler vs. Continental Casualty Company Is Affirmed.

Governor W. C. McDonald returned from Albuquerque at noon today. He attended the banquet of the Retailers' Association convention given in Albuquerque last evening in the Masonic temple.

Delegates Appointed.

The following were yesterday appointed delegates to the National Good Roads Association convention to be held May 16, 17, 18, at New Orleans, Louisiana: J. S. Mactavish, Magdalena; R. J. Taupert, Las Vegas; E. N. Burch, Raton; T. D. White, Roswell; R. M. Thome, Carlsbad; J. R. Gilbert, Alamogordo; R. E. Twitchell, Las Vegas; Celso Lopez, Santa Fe; H. V. B. Smith, Santa Rosa.

Tularosa Bank Incorporates.

The First State Bank of Tularosa, Tularosa, Otero county, this morning filed papers of incorporation with the state corporation commission. The names of the incorporators, all of whom reside at Tularosa, and the amount of stock held by each follow: Isaac Otis, president, 20 shares; Eli Knight, vice president, 5 shares; W. F. Land, vice president, 5 shares; J. F. Dale, cashier, 10 shares; G. A. Hyde, 10 shares; F. A. Briscoe, 10 shares; J. J. Dale, cashier, 10 shares; G. A. Hyde, 10 shares. The bank is capitalized at $15,000 divided into 150 shares worth $100 each at par. A general savings bank business will be conducted.

Decision By Supreme Court.

Case 1454. Charles F. Fowler, appellee, vs. The Continental Casualty Company, appellant. Appeal from district court of Bernalillo county. "Finding no error in the record the judgment is affirmed." Opinion by R. H. Hanna, Judges Roberts and Parker concurring. The syllabus for this case reads:

A motion to set a default judgment aside upon grounds other than jurisdictional, enters a general appearance and validates the judgment as to all defects in the service of the summons. When a party moves to set aside a default judgment upon the grounds that the court had no jurisdiction over its person because there has been no valid service of summons, it must occupy that ground exclusively, and keep out of court for all other purposes.

NEW MEXICO IS VITALLY INTERESTED.

Northern Part of State Has Similar Grievance to Colorado—Waters of the Rio Grande.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Denver, Colo., May 10.—A movement to secure the use of water from the Rio Grande for irrigation purposes in southern Colorado was launched today by the Denver Chamber of Commerce. All commercial organizations in the state have been asked to join in a memorial to Congress asking that action be taken to over-rule decisions of the Interior Department denying "applications for rights of way over public lands for ditches and reservoirs, on the pretext that at some future time the water of the Rio Grande will be needed for the government project at Engle, New Mexico."

Resolutions adopted today will be forwarded to Senator Guggenheim and Colorado's representatives in the lower house asking them to bring the matter to the attention of Congress.

MINNESOTA REPUBLICANS WILL SHOW PREFERENCE.

Roosevelt, Taft and LaFollette Will Be Voted on This Evening in Hennepin.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Minneapolis, Minn., May 10.—Indications of the Republican Presidential sentiment in Minneapolis will be given tonight when the primary of Hennepin county, which is identical with the fifth congressional district, will be held. Voting will be begun at 7 o'clock and the polls will close at 9 o'clock. The Republicans of the county will vote on President Taft, Theodore Roosevelt, and Senator LaFollette. Other county and district conventions will be held next Monday, May 13, the state convention at St. Paul coming May 16.

AUTO ROAD TO RITO DE LOS FRIJOLIOS.

The automobile road to the Rito de los Frijoles, in the heart of the Cliff Dwelling region is completed, so announces Frank Owen, to whose energetic work, this great accomplishment for the benefit of Santa Fe, is in great part due. There will be an effort to have a party make a trip over the road next week and all automobilists desiring to participate should notify Mr. Owen or Judge E. C. Abbott, The Selig Moving Picture man with his machine will accompany the party which will go next Wednesday or Thursday.

NEW PRIMARY PROBLEM ARISES

Taft Candidates for Delegates From California Did Not Sign Pledges

POLITICAL GAME IS CHARGED

Roosevelt Supporters Declare it Was to Save Scattering Votes.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) San Francisco, Calif., May 10.—The failure of the Taft delegates in California to sign the preference and delegates' pledges promises an exceedingly complex situation. Roosevelt supporters already have planned to contest the rights of the delegates, should they be elected. Both sides are agreed that the Taft delegates had a legal right to omit signing the pledges inasmuch as both pledges, under the law, are optional but not obligatory. Roosevelt leaders declare the purpose of the action was to save some straggling votes for Taft in the event that Roosevelt carried the majority of the districts. Had they signed the pledges, they would have been obliged to vote for Roosevelt, as the delegates' pledge binds them "to support that candidate who shall have received the highest number of votes cast throughout the state."

From Roosevelt headquarters comes the information that any attempt to seat delegates from scattering districts will be contested on the ground that the Taft men are not delegates from any particular district, but delegates at large.

Knox Leaves California.

Los Angeles, Calif., May 10.—Secretary of State Knox, who practically wound up the preference primary campaign for President Taft here last night, left this morning, after announcing that he intended going into Ohio to assist Mr. Taft in that state. He will go by way of Grand Canyon, Arizona, and expects to arrive in Ohio Tuesday night or Wednesday.

CRUSADE AGAINST SELLING OF BASEBALL POOLS.

Officials of Clubs Join With New York Police to Suppress Practice.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New York, May 10.—Officials of the baseball clubs in New York, Brooklyn and Jersey City have joined today with the police in a crusade to suppress pool selling on baseball games. District Attorney Crosby of Kings county has taken up the legal question of selling baseball pools, which he says, he has been informed was going on at wholesale in Brooklyn and Manhattan. Agents have been assigned by Mr. Crosby to collect evidence to be presented to a grand jury.

NEW LIGHT ON TITANIC WRECK

Firemen Raided the Saloon For Life Preservers, Witness Says

WATER TIGHT DOORS OPEN

Compartments Not Closed For Two-Thirds Ship's Length After Accident

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) London, May 10.—That all the members of the crew of the Titanic on the night of the disaster did not act in the manner expected from men of their calling, is being slowly drawn out from the witnesses at the British Board of Trade inquiry. It came out during yesterday's hearing that the firemen of the Titanic, when the water entered their quarters, raided the third class saloon for life preservers. Certainly, as it pointed out, they were not needed by passengers, as the vessel carried only a small proportion of her complement of third class passengers. That importance is attached to the action of the firemen, however, is shown by the questions put by Lord Mersey as to how the men reached that part of the vessel.

Few Women in Life Boats.

From another witness S. J. Rule, a bathroom steward, it was also learned that there was a rush on life boat No. 15 and that she left the Titanic with only four or five women and three children, while sixty-one men got away in her. Rule said that scouts were sent to look for women and children, but they looked only on one deck and then returned, and said that there were no more there. Then First Officer Murdoch told the men to fill the boat. There was then a rush of men for the boat.

Thought More Women Were Aboard.

"You knew more women and children were on board?" queried Sir Rufus Isaacs. Rule replied, "I imagined so." "Then you did not obey the order that women and children were to go?"

HOUSE HOLDS BRIEF SESSION

Adjourns Out of Respect to Memory of Former Member W. E. Martin

SENATE IN AN AMIABLE MOOD

"You First, My Dear Gaston," Seems a Favorite Stunt For Present.

The Senate was in good humor this forenoon. Even the president, usually sedate and grave, cracked a joke—on Senator Barth, of course. Perhaps, it was because the roll call at first showed "Seventeen" present, that Floor Leader Holt was even more suave than customary, for his eyes had a far-away look whenever that magic number was mentioned, and there were no doubt memories of the salad days when the number "Seventeen" sounded the doom of a governor. There was a good natured canvass of the number of Senators who would be on deck next week to determine whether there would be a quorum present for the transaction of business, for not only had most of the Democratic Senators asked to be excused until Thursday to attend the Democratic state convention at Clovis, but several Republicans also manifested a desire to go home for several days. The first count of noses revealed that only eleven Senators desired to spend the early part of next week in this salubrious Capital. The next count made twelve, then there were thirteen, and finally came that magic number of "Seventeen," and the Senate adjourned to Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock, with a benighted smile illuminating the countenance of Senator Holt.

There wasn't so much business done this forenoon but there was a significant banter over the apparent reluctance of the Committee on Constitutional Amendments to meet to cope with prohibition, initiative, recall, language question, etc. Although the inquisitors purred politely, spoke with dulcet accents, one could nevertheless feel that there was more beneath the surface, perhaps that some day the velvet paws would reveal formidable claws.

Petitions.

Petitions were presented from Taos county, from Hartford, Conn., and from California, against the Tripp prize fight bill.

FLOODED AREA GROWS SLOWLY

Government Will Soon Have Thousands More to Take Care of

WOMEN AND CHILDREN FLEE

Many Warned Near New Roads Prefer to Stay by Their Homes.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New Roads, La., May 10.—Panic reigned in New Roads today. Fear of flood waters that crept upon the town from levee breaks north was heightened by reports that nearby dikes were weakening. A general exodus of women and children began.

Flood waters from breaches in the Mississippi levees that already have carried suffering to thousands of persons of Louisiana, continue to creep southward today and now this town with its rich, outlying country, is threatened. All people living in this territory have been warned to flee. Many, however, declare they will not abandon their homes. City, Government and State Relief officials are preparing for a hard campaign of rescue work. Boats are being gathered here and crews are being drilled.

It seems only a matter of a few hours before this entire territory will be inundated just as the country to the north has been. This means the state and the government will have to care for thousands more homeless, and the people of Louisiana must bear great additional loss before the flood waters have turned back.

Most of the flood water is coming from the great break in the levee at Torras. This breach is 3,000 feet wide. Water pours through it with the speed of a mill race.

A new menace showed up today when it was discovered that carcasses of hundreds of animals are floating in the back water between New Roads and Torras. They can neither be buried nor burned. The health authorities were afraid they will bring disease.

Natchez, Miss., May 10.—The town of Vidalia, Louisiana, was flooded today by water rushing through a new break in the Mississippi river levee. Water four to six feet deep inundated the town. Women and children are being brought to Natchez. The property loss will be heavy.

House Passes Legislative and Judicial Appropriation Bills

PENSION ACT GOES THROUGH

Testimony Throws More Light on Charges Against Judge Archibald.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Senate. Washington, D. C., May 10.—Met at noon. Considered miscellaneous legislation. Interstate commerce committee reported favorably on Senator Clapp's bill of lading measure.

House.

Met at noon. Resumed consideration of legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill. Judiciary committee continued its hearing on charges against Commerce Court Judge Archibald.

House Passes Big Appropriation Bill. Washington, D. C., May 10.—The House today passed the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill carrying $33,782,854 an increase of $263,260 over the totals carried in the measure when it was reported to the House.

The principal item of increase was the appropriation for the San Francisco, New Orleans, and Carson, Nevada, mints and for assay offices at Boise, Idaho; Charlotte, North Carolina; Deadwood, South Dakota; Helena, Montana; Seattle and Salt Lake. The House refused to accept the provision abolishing those offices. The House reversed its previous action by voting not to increase from $1500 to $2000 the salaries of private secretaries to the representatives. The increase would have aggregated $216,000 a year.

Pension Bill Passed.

Washington, D. C., May 10.—The House today agreed 173 to 57 to the conference report of the general pension bill providing pensions up to $1 a day for veterans of the Civil and Mexican wars. It now goes to the President for his signature. Many Democrats voted with the Republicans for the bill. Representative Kent of California cast the only Republican vote against it.

More Light on Judge Archibald.

Washington, D. C., May 10.—More testimony throwing light on the connection of Judge Robert Archibald of the commerce court with negotiations for a culm bank property in Pennsylvania, was produced at today's session of the House Judiciary Committee's investigation of the charges against Judge Archibald.

Judge Archibald Was Interested. Edward J. Williams of Scranton, Pennsylvania, admitted that he secured a letter from Archibald to Captain May of the Erie railroad when the deal was first considered because he thought the pendency of the railroad's case before Judge Archibald's federal court would have influence in setting deal through with the Erie. Williams said that Judge Archibald drew the contract for the sale of the culm bank interests of Laurel Line, that once Judge Archibald called up the Lehigh Valley Railroad offices and that when the Department of Justice began investigating the matter Archibald advised him to let the matter rest.

RAILROAD HEARING LAST NIGHT

Splendid Address Made by Traffic Manager W. J. Black of Santa Fe.

There was an important meeting of the joint railroad committee of the Senate and House last night in the Senate chamber during which the general question of railroad legislation was discussed by some of the best informed railway men in the country among them being W. J. Black, general passenger traffic manager of the Santa Fe, Mr. Tatters holding a similar position with the Southern Pacific, Mr. Allen of the Rock Island, and Eugene Fox of the El Paso and Southwestern.

The principal address was made by Mr. Black in which he declared that it was unjust to adopt a three-cent rate law without a thorough investigation.

PRICE FIXING WAS PRACTICED

Government Attempts to Show That Officials Were Aware of Pools

TRUST RAILS ARE CHEAPEST

At Least Counsel For Defense Declares the Price Has Declined.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New York, May 10.—In the government suit to dissolve the United States Steel corporation, the evidence today tended to show the American Steel and Wire Company's participation in the Jackson pools. That it would include alleged letters indicating that James A. Farrell, president of the United States Steel corporation and formerly president of the United States Steel Products Company, was aware of the wire company was a member of the pools, was declared.

Prices Before and After.

Testimony was first given today to show the course of the prices of wire products, steel rails, steel beams, tin plate, etc., before and after the formation of the United States Steel corporation in April, 1901.

A. I. Findley, editor of an iron and steel trade paper, was called to testify as to the range of prices from 1898 to 1911. Steel rails, for instance he said in November 1898 were $16.50 a ton; in November, 1899 $35; in September 1900, $25; in December, 1901, $18; since which date they have not varied. The price of steel rails, the government contends was permanently fixed at $25, by agreement among manufacturers at the time the steel corporation was formed.

Rails Cheaper Under Combination.

On cross examination, counsel for the defense brought out that during the last few years, steel prices had declined and as a general rule were lower than when the corporation was formed.

Prices Were Fixed Witness Says.

Judge Dickinson then called Frank J. Newbury of John A. Roebblings Company, who represented his company in the rubber covered wire, lead encased rubber covered cable, and weather proof and magnet wire associations. Price fixing allotments of business among the members, guarantee funds, and penalties for violation of rules were all features of the operation of these pools, the witness testified.

ROOSEVELT IS ONLY CANDIDATE

Thus Asserts Colonel in Wire to R. A. Caswell of Minneapolis

SAYS TAFT IS BOSSES' FRIEND

Complete and Very Satisfying List Appended For Reference.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New York, May 10.—The Roosevelt committee today gave out the following copy of a letter from Colonel Theodore Roosevelt to R. A. Caswell, of Minneapolis:

Roosevelt Processes.

"New York, May 10, 1912. "Hon. I. A. Caswell, Chairman of the Roosevelt committee and clerk of the supreme court, St. Paul, Minn.

"I wish it had been possible for me to be again to Minnesota. Unfortunately it is physically impossible.

"Nine states have now held presidential primaries, or their equivalent, North Dakota, Wisconsin, Illinois, Pennsylvania, Nebraska, Oregon, New Hampshire, Massachusetts and Maryland. These states, the only ones in which there has been a free chance for the expression of the popular will, are to be represented by 256 delegates in the Chicago convention.

"Forty of these delegates are instructed for President Taft, and 216 are against him. He has carried but two of the nine states, New Hampshire and Massachusetts, while in Massachusetts the Roosevelt delegates at large were elected by over twice the majority which Mr. Taft obtained on preferential vote.

"In all the nine states together about three out of every four of the Republicans who voted at the primaries were against Mr. Taft. If primaries could be held in all the states there would undoubtedly be no substantial variation from these figures, and Mr. Taft could by no possibility have two hundred votes in the Chicago convention.

Everybody Likes Mr. Taft.

"Mr. Taft's chance of renomination lies solely in securing at Chicago, delegates who will misrepresent the will of the people. He can get these delegates, not in the primary states, but in the convention states, where delegates are chosen under the old system, and even in these states he can only get them where the state is ruled by a boss.

Idle Pennsylvania Miners Make Determined Attempt to Prevent Work.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Scranton, Pa., May 10.—The Cuyamunga breaker of the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western company in North Scranton formed the background of a riotous demonstration today. Foreign workers were leaders among the crowd of 2,000 men and boys that settled near the breaker to keep away men who are going to do the necessary work. They defied the police who an hour before had been harried from every city station on notice from the mine officials that trouble was threatened. The idle work broke through the police lines, rushed the fire rooms and dragged out men, turning them over to others who beat them, and threw them aside.

State police on duty all night at the Leggett's Creek Mine, a mile away, reinforced the police and charged the mob. Bricks, stones and clubs were thrown and officers drew their guns and began to force the crowd back. Some shots were fired by the police as Policeman Petermarker and Louis Davis fell, both with battered heads from cobblestones. The state troopers then rode into the crowd, firing their revolvers. Mike Flacka and another foreigner dropped, the former shot through the abdomen, the latter in the leg. The crowd then broke and ran and the police combined to drive them on toward the houses.

Two Men and a Half Dozen Women were arrested. William Littlejohn, going to fire duty at the Leggett's creek mine, was badly beaten by women.

Miners Fight With Fatal Result.

St. Louis, Mo., May 10.—One man was fatally injured and three others seriously hurt in a revolver fight participated in by 900 miners at Benli, Illinois, today, according to a long-distance telephone message. The trouble occurred at the Superior Coal Company's mine, and was due to a disagreement as to whether the men should go to work or not.

As 450 miners from Gillespie, who worked in mine No. 3 were about to enter the mine, a like number of miners, who live in Benli and work in mine No. 2 threatened them if they entered the mine. The first shots were fired into the air and later into the crowds of miners. The same forces fought yesterday with clubs and one miner suffered a broken arm. All in the fight are foreigners.

TO DECIDE FATE OF AMUSEMENTS

Sub-Committee Will Report Four to Nine to Abolish the Rule

INSURGENT METHODISTS, TOO

"Stand Patters" Are In Favor of Retiring Few Bishops at This Time.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Minneapolis, Minn., May 10.—The sub-committee which will report to the committee on the state of the church late today concerning the "amusement question" it was said at the Methodist conference, will report by a vote of nine to four to abolish that paragraph of the discipline which prohibits card-playing, dancing and kindred amusements.

Amid enthusiasm Charles Fairbanks was introduced by Bishop Luther B. Wilson as the "former president of the Senate, former vice-president of the United States, but whether in the United States or in Italy, a Methodist."

Fate of Amusement Up.

Two leading questions before the quadrennial conference of the Methodist Episcopal church, which is in session here, probably will be decided late today when meetings of the Episcopacy committee and the committee which is deciding the fate of the famous "Paragraph 2600" of the church discipline, will be held. The latter paragraph deals with the amusement question.

Can't Agree on Number of Bishops.

During the last week the Episcopacy committee, which practically decides the high elective positions of the church in that it names the number of bishops to be chosen, has been holding executive sessions. At a meeting Wednesday night which lasted until early Thursday morning, it is said the committee deadlocked on the number of bishops which should be retired at the present session, "stand patters" in the organization, it is said, favoring the retirement of only a few, while the "insurgents" urged the retirement

MEXICAN REBELS MEET DEFEAT

According to Federals, General Orozco's Advance Was Checked

GOMEZ ISSUES PROCLAMATION

Asks That Insurrectos do Not Break Usages of Civilized Warfare.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Escalon, Mex., May 10.—(10:30 a. m.)—The two armies facing each other held their positions today with resumption of the fighting. General Orozco will leave before noon for the front. General Salazar will join him late today from Sierra Mojada.

Fight Was a Draw.

Without a decision the first preliminary encounter between the rebels and the federals between Conojos and Torreon, took place yesterday near Tlahualilo. Both sides retired after some hours of stiff fighting, conducted for the most part at long range. Liberal chiefs report the capture of fifteen federals. The federal loss in dead is believed to be heavy. The rebel loss was twenty-five.

2,000 Federals Engaged.

The rebel leaders estimated the number of the enemy engaged at 2,000. Sixty-three panic stricken soldiers were disarmed because of their flight from Salazar's column and the dissemination of a story that the command of the general had been routed, with enormous loss. Salazar claims he did encounter a heavy force of federals near Carmen, about half way between Cuatro Ciénegas and Monclova, but says he retired without loss.

Rebel Advance Checked.

El Paso, Texas, May 10.—The Mexican federal army has repulsed the rebel advance guard of General Orozco and sharp skirmishes are in progress today preliminary to what is expected to be the most decisive battle of the present revolution. Nearly 15,000 men are engaged on both sides and the objective point of the rebels is Torreon, the railroad gateway of northern Mexico. The federals are protecting the city from all sides. The government claims it drew first blood yesterday, killing ninety insurgents and losing but seven men, aside from several wounded.

Federal General Is Pleased.

From a box car on the desert fifty miles north of Torreon, General Victoriano Huerta, commander of the federal army of northern Mexico today transmitted a telegraphic report of military developments of the last twenty-four hours. General Huerta talked enthusiastically of the future battle.

Rebels Lost 90 Dead.

"Yesterday, Thursday, General Rabago completely routed one thousand rebels at Zaratez, and Tlahualilo, both near Torreon," said General Huerta. "The rebels lost ninety dead and many wounded, while our loss was seven dead and a few wounded. The rebels were driven back in hasty flight and were pursued by cavalry under General Villa."

Federals Lost Seven Dead.

"On Wednesday we heard that a detachment of one thousand rebels were advancing on us, and we organized a column which went by railroad under General Rabago. To cut off retreat we sent overland volunteer and regular cavalry from the forces of Villa. They arrived about 6 o'clock Thursday morning, and immediately attacked the rebels. As the fight became more intense, General Rabago arrived and flanked the rebels. He had with him artillery, and machine guns. The fight lasted six hours. We completely routed the enemy. Our losses were seven killed and two wounded."

Communication Was Interrupted for a Few Minutes.

"A telegram has just been brought to me from General Tracy Aubert at Cuatro Ciénegas which says the rebel chief Salazar was completely routed, and is running away in the direction of Sierra Mojada," said General Huerta.

Couriers from the advance guard, at this juncture, arrived, according to General Huerta, and informed him that the federal outposts were in possession of the Mexican Central railroad up to within twelve miles of Bermejillo.

Eastern Mexico in Turmoil.

Washington, D. C., May 10.—Uprisings are becoming general in southern Tamaulipas, northern Vera Cruz and the eastern part of San Luis Potosi, all in the eastern part of Mexico, according to state department reports today. Fighting is reported at Xicotancatl, Tancanhuitz, Gomez Farias, where a number are reported killed and Ocampo. Other bands are reported operating at San Diegoito. Although the official reports declare that only 2,000 are engaged in the battle at Tlahualilo, Durango, the battle is being hard fought. The rebels have renewed their activities at Tres Marias, Morelos.

Buford Is Welcome.

Considerable excitement prevails at Salina Cruz, and the state department is informed that 100 refugees will board the army transport Buford when it arrives there. A similar number probably will board at Acapulco, and Manzanillo, and about twenty at San Blas.

Proclamation by Rebels.

WHY CHILDREN ARE PUNY

Need More Food—Richer Blood, Better Appetite.

Anxious parents often wonder why their children are so thin, pale and nervous and have so little appetite. Growing children need "lots" of food. They use so much energy in play, and their growing bodies require so much more, that unless they eat heartily they are bound to suffer.

A Bloomfield, N. J., mother, Mrs. E. W. Cooper, says: "My little girl had a bad cold and was run down in health for six weeks. Then I gave her Vinol and it was a wonderful help, breaking up her cold quickly and building up strength besides. I have also found Vinol an excellent tonic for keeping up children's strength during whooping cough."

Our delicious tonic, Vinol, is a wonderful appetizer and you can see children improve day by day under its use. It enriches the blood and builds up the body, making pale, delicate children rugged and rosy.

We guarantee Vinol to do this. If it does not, you get your money back. The Capital Pharmacy, Santa Fe, N. M.

THE KING OF MANKIND.

(By Percy Shaw.)

Have you ever met
On your daily way,
The mightiest king
In the world today?
Who owns to vassals
In every clime,
Who knows each language
And scoffs at time?

To the farmer's boy
In the field he goes,
And he cries: "Make haste,
Swift your life stream flows;
Cast away your scythe,
Through the wide marts fare,
The joys of triumph
Await you there."

With the sage profound
In his worldly lore
He lingers to say:
"Will you study more
When your nature longs
For the fields and trees,
For the hills and streams,
For the days of ease?"

To the monarch proud,
When the courtier sleeps,
He comes like a ghost
From the midair deeps:
"Would you paint inspired,
Would you famous be,
With palette and brush?
Hasten forth, be free."

To the country girl
With rosy lips,
Full of joy of life
To her finger tips,
He whispers of fame:
"You shall reign," he cries,
"Away where the path
Of your glory lies."

Can you guess his name?
Do you think you know
Whose torch lights the world
With its subtle glow?
Whose voice stirs the soul
With a fixed intent?
This king of mankind?
He is Discontent.

AROUND THE STATE

Death of Las Vegas Woman.
Mrs. Toribio Martinez, wife of a prominent resident of Hot Springs, died at Las Vegas.

Slapped Her Husband.
John E. Cyrene was given a divorce from his wife, Mary Martina Cyrene at Las Vegas. He alleged she slapped him and drew a butcherknife on him.

Of Course!
Wichita, Kas., May 10.—"Women are people," read a banner carried at the head of the parade of the Kansas Equal Suffrage convention here.

Otero County.
A number of men and teams are hauling ore from the Sulphur Canon mine in the San Andres to Tularosa and it is being shipped to El Paso. The distance is about 30 miles from Tularosa.

Died of Her Burns.
Mrs. Seterina Montoya y Griego, who was badly burned several days ago when her clothing was ignited, died at Las Vegas. The woman had suffered extreme pain and her death came as a welcome relief.

Sent to the Pen.
One year and eight months in the state penitentiary at Santa Fe was the sentence imposed late yesterday afternoon on Dan Gillan, the self-confessed horse thief, by District Judge Herbert F. Reynolds, at Albuquerque.

A Fortune at Stake.
Judge David J. Leahy has granted the petition of Christopher Goke of Las Vegas asking for certain moneys and properties belonging to the estate of his father, the late Henry Goke, that he might enter into business for himself. Apolonia A. Sena, young Goke's father-in-law, has been named as special guardian to the young man and his bond has been fixed at $10,000.

Lost Fortune and Wife.
Because he fell victim to real estate sharks in San Jose, Cal., an dwas fleeced of $2,500, Frank Johnson, a well-to-do farmer in the Plateau valley, Colorado, has been renounced by his wife and lost what property he had left. During his absence she paid off a $2,500 mortgage which her husband had placed on the property in both their names and she now owns the property in her own name.

There Should Be More Like Her.
Mrs. Mary Lyons walked into a Denver drug store, and announced that while she had no money, she would pay her bill of $6.75 with sweet peas. "I owe the money for medicines for my husband, who died fifteen years ago," said Mrs. Lyons. The account had long been forgotten, but a book-keeper in looking over the old books, discovered that she knew the exact amount. Mrs. Lyons was told the sweet peas would be acceptable for decorating the soda fountain and she was given a receipt in full for the bill. She said that she had to struggle to support herself and children, but that she proposed to pay every debt she owed no matter of how long standing.

Rawlins Accused of Bigamy.
Durango, Colo., May 10.—Charles Rawlins, a former resident of this city, who disappeared seven years ago, deserting a wife and three small children leaving them destitute, has been arrested in Los Angeles. He is charged with bigamy according to information that his Durango wife received today from the Los Angeles authorities. They requested her to come and testify against him. At one time Rawlins was a highly respected resident of Durango, being employed at the smelter and later acting as book-keeper for the Neglected mine. Since his desertion nothing was heard from him until his arrest in Los Angeles. His wife will leave this city at once to assist in the prosecution.

The Vampire.
Allentown, Pa., May 10.—Mrs. Jennie Schwoyer, the 27-year-old woman who is serving a year's sentence after marrying successively ten men, is a psychological and sociological study. She scouts the suggestion that she is a believer in free love, and she cannot see how she has offended against the laws. Mrs. Schwoyer is not handsome, but in conversation she is so original and vivacious that one can easily realize the fascination which she possessed for the men who married her. Her language is neither coarse nor refined; while she is inclined to the use of slang, she is able to use good English on occasion. She appears to be of a frivolous nature with a keen appreciation of the humorous.

MEXICAN REBELS MEET DEFEAT.

chief, today issued a proclamation as secretary of war in the cabinet of Provisional President Emilio Vasquez Gomez urging all rebel chiefs to be "strictest in the observation of the laws of war as recognized by all civilized countries."

Gomez Has Not Yet Heard.
The proclamation is made at the direction of Gomez and though no advice have come from General Pascual Orozco as yet to signify his approval of the executive authority assumed by Gomez recently, it is considered likely that whatever else Orozco may repudiate he will not discountenance any declarations of his father. The elder Orozco recommends humane warfare, not only to answer in this way the summary executions, incendiary acts and destruction of property that frequently are made by the troops of the Madero government, but principally on account of the noble ideals of liberty and justice that the revolution is striving for. Persons and property of non-combatants must be not only respected but protected, extending them all possible guarantees.

The statement further says: "The provisional president recommends that prisoners of war shall be treated according to the laws of war, always bearing in mind that we are fighting our brothers who are forced to go to the field of battle by the iniquitous levy that is being practiced by the Madero government or by the error of incited passion. The provisional president does not deem it necessary to call to the attention of the brave defenders of the revolutionary cause of the necessity to avoid the least friction with any foreign power as they always will take care that foreigners may not suffer any more trouble than is possible in region disturbed by war."

Scant News From Rebel Chiefs.
Advices from General Orozco early today confirmed reports of skirmishing yesterday at Tlahualilo. Orozco declared merely that his advance guard captured fifteen prisoners. He wired that two columns of one thousand men each were advancing parallel to the railroad toward Bermejillo and Mapimi, reinforced by a rear guard of four thousand men and more reserves close behind.

Rebels Dispersed With Loss of 50.
Mexico City, Mex., May 10.—A force of 1,500 Zapatistas attempted on May 7 to march on Cuernavaca, capital of Morelos, according to a special dispatch to El Imparcial from Cuernavaca via Cuautla. The rebels set out under cover of an engagement between a smaller band of Zapatistas and the federal troops in the vicinity of Huixtla in the same state. Five miles from Cuernavaca they were met by a body of federal infantry supported by

CASCARETS WORK WHILE YOU SLEEP

Salts, Calomel and Cathartic Pills Are Violent—They Act on Bowels as Pepper Acts in Nostrils.

Take a Cascaret tonight and thoroughly cleanse your Liver, Stomach and Bowels, and you will surely feel great by morning. You men and women who have headache, coated tongue, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel all worn out.

Are you keeping clean inside with Cascarets—or merely forcing a passage every few days with salts, cathartic pills or castor oil? This is important.

Cascarets immediately cleanse and regulate the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the decomposed waste matter and poison from the intestines and bowels.

Remember, a Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning. A 10-cent box from your druggist means a clear head and cheerfulness for months. Don't forget the children.

rapid fire guns who repulsed them, causing them to retreat in disorder, leaving nearly fifty dead on the field. The federal troops lost seven men.

Earthquakes at Guadalajara.
Guadalajara, Mex., May 10.—A condition of terror exists in this city as the result of earth shocks, which in the twenty-four hours since Wednesday morning, have numbered over thirty-five. Many shocks were felt today but their force was less severe than those of yesterday. The people continue to live in the open spaces. Some churches and stores have been seriously damaged.

The disturbance is unlike anything known here since 1873. The shocks have not been felt outside of a limited zone and scientists are puzzled by the nature of the quakes. Colima volcano is at present dormant.

Dr. E. McQueen Gray, Albuquerque, N. M.
My Dear Mr. Gray—Your letter in regard to the bill introduced in the New Mexico legislature, providing for the foundation for an institution to be entitled the Pan-American Institution, at hand and as soon as the proper time comes I will be glad to take the matter up and assist in every possible way.
You are peculiarly adapted to further the interests of an institution of this kind; your knowledge of languages and your wide connections with the representative Latin American people will enable you to do a great deal to bring about the success of this measure, and you can depend upon my enthusiastic support.
Very truly yours,
GEORGE CURRY.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the New Drug.

An eminent skin specialist recently discovered a new drug, othine—double strength, which is so uniformly successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by any first class druggist under an absolute guarantee to refund the money if it fails.
Don't hide your freckles under a veil; get an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first night's use will show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely. It is absolutely harmless, and cannot injure the most tender skin.

Be sure to ask for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money back guarantee.

SUMNER COUNTY BILL PASSES

Both Measures Forced Through Houses by Narrow Narrow
Margin of 26 to 20.

Yesterday afternoon, when the New Mexican went to press, Clancy had just completed reading his official statistics regarding the financial condition of Guadalupe county and the proposed county of Fort Sumner.

Manzaneros also read a financial statement to prove that Sumner county will be on a substantial financial basis and its creation will not cripple Quay, Guadalupe, Roosevelt, or Chaves counties from which it will be created. He stated that Sumner county will have an assessment greater than either Taos or Sandoval county, the total for 1912 exceeding a million dollars, or to be exact $1,013,017.

He said that it is 111 miles from Fort Sumner to the county seat, going by railroad, and 45 miles overland. The people in Chaves county must go 50 to 60 miles. Similarly from those portions of Quay and Roosevelt counties, which it is proposed to take. He cited the prosperity of Otero and Luna counties as an example of the development and growth that follow the creation of new counties. He said that not one of the 26 counties of the state is without debt.

Burg in explaining his vote said he did not look so much on the assessed valuation and debt of a proposed new county, as upon the progressive spirit of the people of the community desiring the new county. The bonded debt of the new county would be taken care of by the state the same as that of the other counties.

The bill passed by a vote of 26 to 20.

Clovis Gets Normal School.
House Bill No. 100, by Nichols, to establish a normal school at Clovis, was read in full.

Toombs opposed the measure saying that the constitution permits the establishment of a new normal school in one of six eastern counties but did not make it obligatory to establish the institution now. He had hoped to secure the school for Clayton, but on coming to Santa Fe found the air surcharged with opposition to creating any new institutions. He also found that the three existing normal schools are in a bad way financially and need additional funds to maintain them on the high plane of similar institutions in other states. He discovered also, as member of a committee, that one of the state institutions whose maintenance is of paramount importance, had incurred a large deficit. He therefore thought it unwise to create any more state institutions at this time. He said Clovis is merely a mushroom town, only four or five years old, just a railroad settlement that is apt to be removed at any time a few miles further down the line, and like the Arabs and tents "silently still away."

Such things have happened before, even here in New Mexico, and it certainly would be a mistake to locate a state institution in such a place, that even now has 25 per cent less people than it had some time ago. He congratulated Nichols upon having "successfully wormed" his bill through the Ways and Means Committee. The others did not have the ear of that committee but Nichols was always on the ground, and whenever "normal school" was whispered, he would rise and declare it must be located "at my five year old railroad town." He referred caustically to an active lobby that had been busy for Clovis and advocated that the bill be laid on the Speaker's table until the January session, so that there might be fairness and equality of opportunity for the other towns that desire the normal school. He moved to table the bill.

Llewellyn in explaining his vote spoke of the "great" town of Clovis, whose church spires glitter in the new Mexico sunshine, a permanent town, a growing town, a town that will soon have two more railroads. It is anything but a tent town and just the place for a school.

Mullens said civilization comes high but it is worth it. He told an anecdote and voted against tabling the bill.

Nichols said that Toombs was the first one to introduce a bill for the creation of a normal school, and now that he didn't get the school for Clayton, he is hollering the loudest. Being a railroad town is not necessarily an implication that Clovis is inhabited by hoodlums. Clovis is proud of being only five years old. It does not ask for financial assistance. It wants only the location of the school. Opportunity to be heard was given other applicants for the school, the matter has been gone over thoroughly, has been minutely thrashed out and there is no sense in putting the same burden again on the January session.

Vargas also explained his vote in favor of Clovis.

The House by 21 to 20 refused to table the bill.

Burg in defense of the bill pointed to the wisdom of the legislature that located the University at Albuquerque, then a mushroom town, but now the splendid metropolis of the State. He attributed the opposition of Toombs to the jealousy of Clayton over the progress made by Clovis. He defended the Ways and Means Com-

Used by thousands for a generation

Those who have suffered from neuralgic pains need not be told how necessary it is to secure relief. The easiest way out of neuralgia is to use Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills. They have relieved sufferers for so many years that they have become a household necessity.

"I have taken Dr. Miles' Anti-Pain Pills for five years and they are the only thing that does me any good. They have relieved neuralgia in my head in fifteen minutes. I have also taken them for rheumatism, headache, pain in the breast, toothache, earache and pains in the bowels and limbs. I have found nothing to equal them and they are all that is claimed for them."

mittee against the charge of unfairness in the normal school matter. The advocates of the other sites for the school had talked and talked for hours and days. The question involved is paramount to commercialism and that is the question of education. The Constitutional Convention acted wisely in providing for a normal school in a section where there is none now. To postpone action is to deprive the youth of eastern New Mexico of one year of necessary schooling.

The hour is now the time is ripe; the endowment, the building, the equipment are there ready for use. Clovis is centrally located, is the logical point, has the railroad facilities for a normal school.

Cañon said that Burg had evidently not read the bill he had defended, or else he would not have said that education in that part of the state would be retarded for one year unless the normal school is located now.

Llewellyn spoke of the importance of locating the school without loss of time. The sooner that the school begins supplying teachers, the better it will be for the commonwealth and the education of the children. As the session of the legislature next January, time will be taken up with the high duty of electing a United States Senator, and the normal school question should not be injected into it.

Gage said that while he did not charge the ways and means committee with unfairness, yet he felt that the other candidates were not given entirely an equitable opportunity to present their claims fully. They were limited to five minutes in presenting their claims. Artesia offered a $65,000 property to the state and was asked to present its offer under seal, but has Clovis been asked to make a contract under seal?

Carter said that after the gentlemen from Clovis had consumed an hour in presenting their claims, he was given merely five minutes to explain the advantages of Portales and the offer it had made to give a school section, worth $35,000, toward the normal school. He said that the bonds for the purpose of erecting the high school building proffered by Clovis, have not been floated, and it is very questionable if this building, should it be erected and equipped, could be turned over to the state for normal school purposes. Clovis is a boom town with whose history he was acquainted from the start. He related how the Santa Fe railroad had first picked Melrose for the shops, and then decided to kill Melrose and to found Clovis. "I knew Clovis when it was only two and a half years old and it had 5,000 people then, now when it is five years old it has only 3,000 people." He alluded to the poor water supply of Clovis and declared he had seen car after car of water hauled from Portales to Clovis. It is 400 to 500 feet to the scanty water supply in the wells. The moment that the Santa Fe moves its shops, as the Southwestern did from Alamogordo, and the Rock Island from Santa Rosa, Clovis will disappear from the map. The citizens of New Mexico will not send their girls and boys to school in a town that is run wide open. "I have known Clovis from the start, and its moral status has been such as not fit it for the location of a state institution of learning whose success depends on the intellectual and moral atmosphere surrounding it."

He referred to the houses of prostitution and saloons open day and night that have made Clovis notorious. He paid a tribute to the hundreds of sturdy railroaders and their families, many of whom are his personal friends and whom he esteems highly, who have built permanent homes at Clovis and who are not to blame for the existing, unfortunate conditions.

Cañon's effort to amend the bill to compel Clovis to give a bond that it will comply with the terms of its offer, failed, because of the previous question being moved.

The previous question was ordered 23 to 20.

The bill to locate the normal school at Clovis carried 26 to 16.

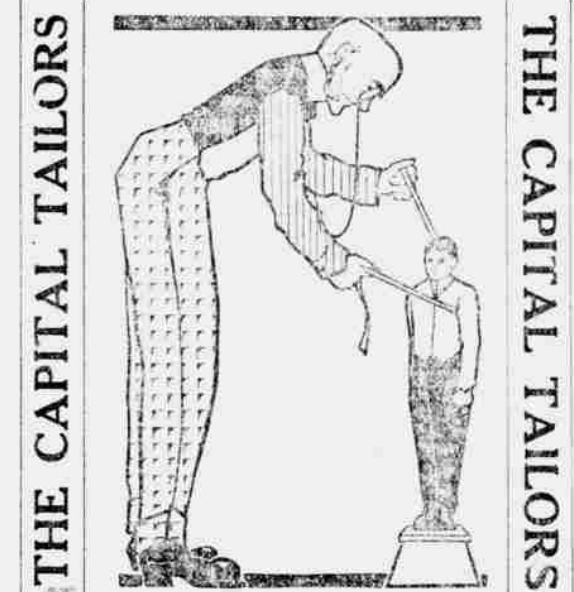

The House adjourned to 2 p. m., Friday.

I AM THE PRINTING PRESS.

I am the printing press, born of the mother earth. My heart is of steel, my limbs are of iron, and my fingers are of brass.

I sing the songs of the world, the craters of history, the symphonies of all time.

I am the voice of today, the herald of tomorrow. I weave into the warp of the past the woof of the future. I tell the stories of peace and war alike. I make the human heart beat with passion or tenderness. I stir the pulse of nations, and make brave men go braver deeds, and soldiers die.

I inspire the midnight toiler, weary at his loom, to lift his head again and gaze, with fearlessness, into the vast beyond, seeking the consolation of a hope eternal.

When I speak, a myriad people listen to my voice. The Saxon, the Latin, the Celt, the Hun, the Slav, the Hindu, all comprehend me.

I am the tireless carrier of the news. I cry your joys and sorrows every hour. I fill the dullard's mind with thoughts uplifting. I am light, knowledge, power. I epitomize the conquests of mind over matter.

I am the record of all things mankind has achieved. My offspring comes to you in the candle's glow, amid the dim lamps of poverty, the splendor of riches; at sunrise, at high noon, and in the waning evening.

I am the laughter and tears of the world, and I shall never die until all things return to the immutable dust.

I am the printing press.

—ROBERT H. DAVIS.

JOHN BARON BURG.

The legislative session has advanced far enough to permit a weighing of certain facts that appear to be obvious. For instance, it has been determined, that the legislature thus far has made the political fortune of only one man. That one man is not Governor McDonald, who has wisely refrained from thrusting his hands into the cogwheels of legislation in an effort to change their motion; it is not Colonel Llewellyn who was a figure of nationwide reputation before the legislature met; it is not Speaker Baca who has been Speaker before and who has manipulated large political propositions are this; but it is not other than John Baron Burg.

"What good can come out of Nazareth?" the incredulous will ask. When John Baron Burg arrived in Santa Fe on March 10 from Washington, D. C., a man practically unknown, a man small in stature and of the English type against which there exists much prejudice in the popular mind, a man who belonged to what the politicians called a "yellow dog faction" or party, that had only five representatives among the seventy-three members of the legislature; a man who had made no reputation that any one had particularly heard of before; a man who with his two inseparable companions, two Scotch colliers, seemed reserved, anything but a mixer or a free spender, a man utterly foreign to the New Mexico atmosphere, many astute politicians thought he was a man who could be ignored without danger.

One of his Albuquerque colleagues was asked: "Is this man, Burg?" "Oh, he is a joke down our way, a pocket edition of Neil B. Field. He was elected by the purest accident and was nominated because no one dreamed for a moment he could be elected," was the answer.

And yet, today, the legislature dances when this man whistles. The Republican organization has met its Waterloo from his hands, he is even planning to reorganize the party and to become its "boss,"—beg pardon, it's "leader," and has announced himself as a candidate for Congress, the greatest gift that the voters can bestow directly upon any man.

John Baron Burg had some advantages when he appeared upon the legislative stage. He had no one to look out for but himself, he had nothing to lose, he knew how to take advantage of an unparalleled political situation at the psychological moment; he had no past that any one knew of, he has habits of consistent and marvelous industry, he had no particular prejudices against any one or anything.

John Baron Burg had evidently studied British or German or French parliamentary history; and dug into the fact that in those countries, very often, not any of the many parties has a clear majority in the legislative bodies, that a single man by skillful combinations can make himself the dominant factor. It was a new game in New Mexico, where either one or the other party had a clear majority from time immemorial, where even in this legislature, the Republicans had two thirds, and were so cocksure of their control that they failed to recognize that both of the great parties were divided into factions with ideas farther apart than usually separate even the great parties. The Republican leaders began to deal with the majority as if it were one coherent mass instead of composed of forty-nine individuals, each with his own ambitions, his own little hopes and desires. When it came to measuring strength over the United States Senators, the majority ship went to pieces for the time being on the rocks by way of which A. B. Fall and Thomas B. Catron made their way to the U. S. Senate.

John Baron Burg took the splinters. He played on the vanity of this one, the cupidity of the other, the ambition of a third, the weakness of a fourth and the good sense of a fifth, and constructed a raft of which he is captain. He permitted others to imagine they were running the raft, permitted others to pose as floor leaders, but it is John Baron Burg who all the time is steering the ship straight into the Progressive Republican harbor. It was in an unguarded moment that he exultingly said: "The Republican bosses now have to come to me if they want anything," and the bosses are doing it.

Only this week, an Albuquerque newspaper printed a significant little personal telling of John Baron Burg taking a spin in the automobile of one Herbert J. Hagerman. Of course, these two gentlemen conversed only about next fall's apple crop, but John Baron Burg announced a candidate for Congress, with an ambition to reorganize the Republican party, with the desire to step into the shoes of Solomon Luna, or Holm Bursam, or even Albert B. Fall, people can not be blamed for jumping to conclusions.

In the meanwhile, John Baron Burg is working industriously. He calls together his Ways and Means Committee early in the morning and late at night; he is making its members believe that they are some pumpkins while he is gently imposing his will and wishes on them. He is growing in political stature and wisdom, he is getting a surer foothold; he is not bothering with extraneous matters nor with the distribution of federal offices, but has one single purpose in view, the building up of the political fortunes of John Baron Burg. It is remarkable, it is almost humorous, it is unprecedented, but if the situation is the same 4 weeks from now as it is today, when John Baron Burg will be the biggest man in New Mexico, will be on the high road to Congress and through that portal may control the great Republican party in the new state of New Mexico. Perhaps, ambition overleaps itself occasionally, perhaps others will awake to the fact that it is upon them that John Baron Burg is building his temple of fame, but it is not likely, for at present, if they want anything they must go to John Baron Burg, and he makes them feel he is doing them a favor when he bestows upon them what was theirs in the first place. Even Speaker Baca lowers his voice perceptibly when he calls John Baron Burg to order.

There is the old story of the man who created Frankenstein, and the House leaders are beginning to have a dim, uncanny, uncertain sense of doubt, and one or two of them, are already asking: "How can we get rid of this boss whom we have created?" But they will find it is much harder to push him aside, than they found it to place him in command when the whim of the moment prompted them to elevate him.

THE DEMING VS. CLOVIS METHOD.

Clovis won a victory in the House yesterday by securing a state normal school, as far as the say-so of the House is concerned.

At the same time, deserved or not, Clovis received a black eye. No town any longer desires to be advertised as a "wide-open" place, a community where vice is permitted to flaunt itself unchecked.

Clovis, no doubt, is neither better nor worse, than other towns similarly situated, but it was correctly stated on the floor of the House that parents, no matter how "liberal" they are about those things, will not send their children to school in communities in which jockeys are ringing all the time; that people who have retired from work or business to expend their accumulated means do not select the wide open town as a place of residence and investment.

Yet, there are hard headed business men, even in Santa Fe, who deceive themselves into believing that noise and gaiety are prosperity, are good for business, make a town rich and great and populous, which is all a ghastly mistake and just as absurd as the efforts of a man to lift himself by his bootstraps. These deluded businessmen forget the first principle of political economy, that passing a dollar from hand to hand, does not create wealth, but that raising a dollar's worth of onions, or taking out a dollar's worth of ore, or putting a dollar's worth of improvement on some raw material, does create value. These same merchants argue that when John Smith instead of taking home his pay on Saturday night, bets it at the horse races, or spends it in the red light or over the bar, he is making business; but if he pays his grocer and butcher, contributes liberally in church, and saves a little each week eventually to buy a farm, that he is a tight wad, and no good to the town. Poor, deluded businessmen, who in their eagerness for the dollar that rolls, forget that wealth must be produced before it can be spent, and that swapping dollars among themselves does not make a big, prosperous city, or wealthy merchants.

It was stated on the floor of the House yesterday and it was not denied or refuted by the friends of Clovis, that three years ago Clovis had 5,000 people, that today it has only 3,000, and that despite the fact that Clovis kept the jockeys ringing day and night, was wide open from end to end, and had really decided itself into believing that this was the first requisite for town building.

Contrast with it the example of Deming. The Windmill City too, for many years prided itself on the fact that it was not hampered with Puritanical ideas; it too was wide open, with the roulette wheels, red lights, numerous saloons and all the concomitants of a so-called lively town. Yet, despite its liveliness, its lurid attractions, the clinking of dollars over the bars day and night, Deming was a dead town. It had three "main" lines of railroad, it had the trade of a vast extent of country, its businessmen were live wires, and still, Deming refused to grow. But three years ago, Deming discovered what was the matter. It found that a town does not grow by its businessmen merely swapping dollars over poker games. Some wiseacre re-discovered the old law that a dollar's worth of farm stuff produced is a dollar gained, and is worth just as much as a hundred cents more to the town than the dollar spent for the lurid joys of life. The farmer cultivating an acre of beans does not make near as much noise as the racetrack tout at a race, but he is worth a whole lot more to the community and to the merchant. The land around Deming is not near as attractive as that around Santa Fe, it is just as far to water and to market, but Deming merchants put up $10,000 a year to advertise that land, and the land hungry came, they drilled and dug wells, they placed over them gasoline pumps, they laid out farms and orchards, land worth 50 cents an acre three years ago now readily sells for $50 an acre, and Deming is growing into a large city. The Windmill City has hold of the key to prosperity; it is laying the foundation for a healthy growth that no removal of railroad shops, no displeasure of railroad officials, no financial or industrial panic can destroy.

Deming shows the way, Clovis and Santa Fe should follow. Let first things be first; have last things if the people desire them, but do not mistake effect for cause.

Colonel J. G. Albright of the New Mexico State Democrat has another bright idea. "If judges are to be recalled, why not juries?" he asks. There is a tip for the platform makers at Clovis next Tuesday. Surely, juries are mistaken often than judges.

HOUSE HOLDS BRIEF SESSION.

ed Senate Bill No. 128, to amend the Compiled Laws of 1897, in regard to issuing saloon licenses in towns and cities, with recommendation that it pass. The committee reported a substitute for House Bill No. 130, an anti-White Slave Act. It was ordered printed.

Bills on Third Reading.

Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 90, prescribing qualifications for appointive officers, was passed 17 to 1, Evans voting no. The act requires residence of at least two years in New Mexico before appointment, excepting however, employees of educational institutions and those at present employed. The bill originally required residence of only one year, but Miera moved to amend, making it "two" years and the amendment was adopted.

Senate Substitute for Senate Bill No. 117, the common drinking cup bill or Pankey, was passed unanimously, 18 voting, Miera making the motion that it be passed. The bill especially provides that pupils in public schools should be provided with separate drinking cups.

Action on Senate Bill No. 128, relative to the issuing of liquor licenses in incorporated municipalities, on the calendar, was deferred until Monday.

Message By the Governor.
A message from Governor McDonald announced that he had signed Senate Bill No. 112, appropriating $12,500 for legislative printing and supplies.

Bills Referred.
Amended House Bill No. 116, the uniform child labor law, was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

House Bill No. 109, locating a state normal school at Clovis, was referred to the Committee on Public Institutions, after Doepf had made an effort to get the bill into the Judiciary Committee, "because of some doubt of the legality of the bill." As the public institutions committee already has two normal school bills, the Clovis bill was referred to it.

House Substitute for House Bill No. 153, to amend chapter 136 of the 35th legislative assembly, relating to liens for water rents, was referred to the Committee on Private Corporations.
House Joint Memorial No. 5, asking Congress to create another federal circuit, was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Senate Bill No. 50, providing for the full self government of municipalities of more than 5,000 people, was referred to the Committee on Judiciary.

Two New Bills.

Two new bills were introduced: Senate Bill No. 135, by Laughren, to amend section 2, chapter 117 of the 35th legislative assembly, relating to the size of incorporated municipalities.
No. 136, an Act creating an artisanal well commission and defining the duties of the commission in respect to the drilling of artesian wells on state lands.

Wanted to Know.

McCoys rose to declare that forty-two days ago he had introduced Senate Joint Resolution No. 15, providing for a popular vote on a prohibition amendment to the Constitution. It was referred to the Committee on Constitutional Amendments and had not been heard from since. He hoped that the resolution would not die in committee without there being some good reason for it. A report is desired, be it favorable or unfavorable. Petitions signed by 25,000 people have been presented asking for a favorable consideration of the resolution and that indicates apparently some public demand for the proposed legislation.
Barth had a grievance too, and incidentally he told of a little dinner last evening at the state penitentiary, at which the members of the committees on public institutions were the guests of honor. Barth has some important matters in the committee aforesaid, but whenever he asks about them he is pleasantly and jokingly brushed aside as if questions like prohibition, initiative, recall, are of no consequence. Committee were appointed to relieve the Senate of some of the detail work but if necessary, the Senate should get down itself to work on these measures if the committee cannot cope with them. He himself is a member of the committee, and although he had urged it daily, no meeting of the committee has yet been called or held. Around the banquet table behind the seclusion of prison walls last evening, he was informed that there was no intention of holding a meeting until the first week of the legislative session next January. While this, perhaps, is intended as a joke, it has been repeated so often and comes from such various directions, that it has become a serious question, Crampton, usually non-committal, unemotional and reserved, had a complaint too. He has a measure, one particular bill upon whose passage he has set his heart, an Act providing for county high schools. It had slumbered in the committee on Education, of which McCoys is chairman, for six weeks and no tidings have yet reached the outside world of the disposition of Crampton's pet.

Holt poured oil on the troubled waters. He suggested pleasantly that a motion in writing at the proper time, to have a committee report, or to whisper a word politely in private to the chairman of a committee, might be more effective than a public scolding in achieving a desired result. The committees and their members have worked industriously on every important measure and because all of them have not been reported out, for good reasons, perhaps, is not a just cause for fault finding.
McCoys resented the imputation that he was impolite in asking for the whereabouts of his resolution, and Holt smilingly replied that he had not intended to accuse McCoys of impoliteness.
Barth rose to a question of personal me as President practically all of the big bosses in the Republican party dislike me so heartily that they opposed Mr. Taft's nomination because I favored it. They were afraid that Mr. Taft would give them the same kind of trouble that I gave them.

"After three years and a half experience of Mr. Taft, since he has been elected, these same men have turned around and heartily favor his re-nomination. They were opposed to me four years ago as they are opposed to me now. They were opposed to Mr. Taft four years ago when they had not tried him as President and they heartily support him now.

"There is just one candidate."
"These men include, for instance, Mr. Gallinger in New Hampshire, Mr. Aldrich in Rhode Island, Mr. Penrose in Pennsylvania, Mr. Keating in Indiana, Mr. Lorimer in Illinois, Messrs. Guggenheim and Evans in Colorado, Mr. Calhoun and the Southern Pacific railway crowd in California, and the Amalgamated Copper crowd in Montana; and in your own state they include Mr. Smith and Mr. Tawney. The fight is a nationwide fight of the plain people against the bosses.

"There is just one candidate whom it is possible to nominate against the bosses and it is myself. Every vote for every other candidate from now on is in reality a vote for Mr. Taft."
The fight is against the bosses in Minnesota, as it is everywhere else. A vote for Mr. Taft is a vote for the bosses; it is a vote for Lorimer, for Penrose, for Guggenheim, for Gallinger and for all the rest of them; and it is a vote for these men whether it is cast in Minnesota or in Massachusetts, or in Ohio, or New Jersey or California.

REPUBLICAN RESULT IN TEXAS IN DOUBT.

Roosevelt Got Clear Majority but Enough Were Uninstructed to Destroy Lead.

(By Special Licensed Wire to New Mexican)
Dallas, Texas May 10.—Under Texas law and political party usage, the state conventions, Democrats at Houston, and Republican at Fort Worth, both took place May 28, may claim the power to reject or ratify district delegates, thirty two of whom are yet to be elected, by each party, in addition to the eight delegates at large chosen by the state conventions.
On the face of the returns from county conventions, the delegates from which to the state convention are as a rule identical with delegates to district conventions. It will be impossible for Woodrow Wilson's opponents to secure strength among district delegates to Baltimore from this state.

The Republican result remains in doubt. Unofficial returns do not show a majority for either Taft or Roosevelt. Returns up to today show: Democrats: Wilson state convention majority, fifty to sixty votes; twelve delegates assured to Wilson, one for Harmon, none for Clark, one uninstructed, and one divided.

FOR THE WOMAN WHO THINKS AND FEELS.

Some women complain that they periodically suffer from dull and heavy feelings, or dizziness in the head, nervousness, pain and bearing-down feelings which should not occur to the normal healthy woman. But most every woman is subject to these pains at some time in her life, due to abnormal conditions in life, such as overtaxed strength, bad air, poor or improper food, wet feet, sluggish liver, etc. A regulator and female tonic made from native medicinal roots with pure glycerin, and without the use of alcohol, called

I have used them for thirty years for female trouble and general weakness with the very best result, and they have saved me hundreds of dollars in doctors' bills. I buy the Favorite Prescription and Golden Medical Discovery and take them together. I never was disappointed in your remedies and take pleasure in recommending them to my suffering neighbors. I am now almost fifty years old; at forty-five I took your medicines, both kinds, and I passed that period very easily and left me fat and healthy. I feel like a young girl. DEATH OF W. E. MARTIN
CAME THROUGH ACCIDENT.

Walked Out of Third Story Window in First National Bank Building Last Night.

William E. Martin, well known throughout the Southwest, died at the Sanitarium late last evening. Death came as a result of a fall from the third story window of the First National Bank Building, San Francisco street, to the roof below of the adjoining Delgado building. The accident happened between the hours of 7 and 8 o'clock last evening. First to reach his side, was Carl A. Bishop, a brother Elk, about an hour after the accident, who had come to take him to the Sanitarium. The local members of the Elks' lodge had taken cognizance of his irresponsible actions for the past few weeks and plans had been all but consummated for placing him where he could be taken care of.

A committee consisting of J. D. Sena, Carl Bishop and T. F. Blandy having completed arrangements for the reception of Mr. Martin at the Sanitarium sent Mr. Bishop to assist in getting his effects together in the rooming house in the Bank building where Martin has been living. Mr. Bishop was accompanied to the room occupied by Martin by Charles Webb. They found no one in the room. Looking out of the window, Mr. Bishop saw what he thought was the body of a man and called the name "Billy."

"I'm here," replied Martin.

Hurrying to the second floor to a window overlooking the roof of the Delgado building, they reached the injured man with a hastily procured ladder. At this time Mr. Sena arrived with the cab that had been ordered to take Martin to the Sanitarium. At no time before the breath left the body was Martin unconscious. At the Sanitarium he was attended by Dr. Standley G. Small who said after an examination that death would come shortly. Several ribs had been broken, the liver ruptured, and other injuries sustained.

"Did you jump out of the window or how did it happen?" Mr. Bishop asked the dying man.

"I just wanted to get out," replied Martin, "and I thought that was as good a way as any."

In explanation of this, it was said that Martin was not permitted to leave the building at night, since he walked from the porch of the Delgado block the night before. Those who were with Martin during his last moments are convinced that he did not commit suicide, but that his mental condition made him irresponsible and that he walked out of the bathroom without thought of the distance that lay between himself and the roof below.

As Martin was fully conscious up to the moment of his death a coroner's inquest was thought unnecessary.

The dead man is survived by his widow and a brother John Martin, both of whom reside in Cerrillos. Funeral arrangements have not been made as yet.

EMPLOYER AND EMPLOYEE AGREE

and that such an investigation could only properly be made through the corporation commission which could take several months and thoroughly probe the cost of transportation and the many other matters entering into the question. He showed tabulated figures indicating the density of population in every state through which the Santa Fe lines pass and these figures placed New Mexico's population at the bottom of the list on a square mile basis. Mr. Black declared that the density of population was the only just way of arriving at a proper charge for passenger traffic. He called attention to what had been done in other states and that Governor Hughes of New York had vetoed a three cent rate bill because he believed it an injustice to adopt such a law without first investigating conditions fully.

Mr. Fox pointed out that the average railroad was handling passenger traffic today, at a loss and that the roads could not operate were it not for the freight traffic. He said that the El Paso and Southwestern lost $7,000 last year on its dining car service alone.

T. D. Skeen, representing the order of railway trainmen, made a strong plea for the full crew bill. He cited several instances of recent date, where fatal and costly wrecks might have been averted had there been but one more man to the train crew in order to carefully perform the many duties now imposed upon the crews by the railroads for the safety of the public.

J. W. Hawks, general superintendent of the El Paso & Southwestern system, of El Paso, opposed the bill and, in a vigorous speech, declared that on his road alone such a law would increase the operating expenses $750,000 yearly, for which expenditure the road would get no tangible results in return. Passenger Traffic Manager Allen of the Rock Island, and E. Horning, of the El Paso & Southwestern system also spoke against this bill.

Several railroad conductors including H. J. Tompkins of Albuquerque, and Snodgrass of Las Vegas, appeared before the committee in opposition to the three cent rate bill. They declared that it was a matter of business with them. That with a three cent rate bill, the railroads could not give the present standard of service, that they would not operate so many passenger trains and that therefore, they would not employ so many trainmen no, give the public so efficient service. Conductor Snodgrass dwelt on the costly nature of railroading in the state, due to the mountains, and said that the railroads in New Mexico could not make the same passenger rates that they did in Massachusetts or other more populous states, because the business which they received did not justify it.

Representative Vargas made a speech in Spanish, in which he said that if the people, through the legislature, could not get fair treatment from the railroads, such as was accorded people of other states, then they would appeal to the corporation commission and, if unsuccessful there, would adopt a constitutional amendment to give them what they demanded.

The committee will meet again this evening. The meetings may extend into the coming week. There are nearly twenty railroad measures pending before these committees, two of the important ones being the hours of service act and the full crew bill.

J. S. Harris, secretary of the chamber of commerce, yesterday took the railroad officials for an auto trip through the city and in this vicinity to urge upon them the advantages of always boosting Santa Fe as one of the greatest tourist attractions in the southwest and to show how the ancient Capital of the new state was combining her attractions of the days past with some of the most modern public buildings and homes in the country.

of a large number.

At a meeting held yesterday, it is reported, that practically it has been decided to retire but one bishop and that four only should be elected, and one of these may be a missionary bishop. There are approximately 200 candidates for bishop. Four bishops have died since the conference at Baltimore and if this plan is followed, the church will have one less bishop than four years ago. If the committee report is completed at the meeting to-night, it probably will be presented to the conference tomorrow, and the balloting on bishops will be begun Monday or Tuesday.

William E. Martin Victim of Accident or Deliberate
 Suicide

HAD AN EVENTFUL CAREER

Member of Legislative Assembly and Held Many Official Positions

"Billy" Martin is no more. His life ended as tragically last night as the greater part of it had been lived. One might preach a temperance sermon with it as a text, but there are thousands of other lives that might serve the same purpose, and "Billy" with all his weaknesses, had a big heart, a consuming ambition, an undeniable talent.

It was a checkered and brilliant career.

WILLIAM EDWARD MARTIN OF SOCORRO.
 Who Died Last Evening in Santa Fe.

reer that he led. He was the gayest among the gay, the liveliest among the lively, the keenest among the keen, the most liberal among the spendthrifts, the most defiant among the brave, and yet weak when came the test of adversity.

William Edward Martin was one of the six children of Captain and Mrs. John Martin. Captain Martin, a New Yorker by birth, was one of New Mexico's pioneers, a drummer boy in the war with Mexico, one of the California column in the Civil War, married at Las Cruces to Esther Catherine Wadsworth, daughter of the famous Martin's well known to the Jornada, was proprietor of the Fonda in Santa Fe from 1875 to 1877 and was master of the Las Cruces Masonic Lodge.

William Edward Martin was born at Fort Selden, February 16, 1867. He received private instruction in the home of Nicolas Galles and graduated from St. Michael's College in 1880. From 1889 to 1891, he was deputy district clerk of the third judicial district. He became chief clerk in the U. S. Land Office and then became court interpreter of the Fifth Judicial District.

under Judge A. A. Freeman. In 1894, he was elected to the lower house of the territorial legislature from Socorro and Sierra counties; in 1896 he was chosen a member of the council of Socorro and two years later was elected mayor of the Gem City. He served five years as assistant superintendent of the New Mexico Penitentiary and then was appointed clerk of the Fifth Judicial district. He was soon afterward appointed clerk of the third district. He was twice interpreter of the legislative council and three times chief clerk. Martin was an Elk, being a member of Santa Fe Lodge of Elks; he was one of the incorporators of the Socorro Light, Heat and Power Company. On June 3, 1891, he was married to Miss Louisa Newcomb, daughter of Jerome Newcomb of Huntington, Indiana, to whom sympathy goes out in her bereavement, from her many friends in Santa Fe.

Several shadows fell across Martin's life. One very early, when acting in self-defense and to defend a woman's honor, he committed a deed that embittered all of his after life because of the taunts that political enemies would harass him with on account of it. He made good, many times over,

Sensible Women Know Foundation of Health

As health talks to women become more general, both in the newspapers and on the platform, the mass of women are beginning to realize what the more cultivated have always known, that good health cannot be found in a powder box. The externals of health may be obtained in that way, but the basis of health lies deeper, and yet is just as easily obtained.

The most important thing that a woman can do for herself, and about which she is often most neglectful, is to watch the condition of her stomach and bowels. The weary eyes, the bad breath, the frequent headaches, the pimples, the general air of lassitude is nine times out of ten the result of constipation or indigestion, or both. Many simple remedies can be obtained, but the best in the estimation of most women is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. It is mild, pleasant to the taste and exactly suited to her needs. It is far superior to salts, cathartic pills, waters, etc., which are entirely too violent. Women should see to it that they have at least one movement of the bowels each day, and when showing any tendency to constipation should take Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin in the small dose prescribed. A brief use of it will so train the stomach and bowels muscles so that all forms of medicine can be dispensed with. These opinions are voiced by thousands of women, after personal experience, among them Alta M. Lilly, Redwine, Calif., and Mary A. Beebe, St. Thomas, Nevada.

Anyone wishing to make a trial of this remedy before buying it in the regular way of a drug, at fifty cents or one dollar a large bottle (family size) can have a sample bottle sent to the home free of charge by simply addressing Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 405 Washington St., Monticello, Ill. Your name and address on a postal card will do.

baseball and children. He chafed under restraint, he had all the hallmarks of genius and lived a life that might be called unique and singular in that it would not conform to the standards of those around him.

GENERAL RAINS EASE OFF PRICE OF WHEAT.

Lack of Demand From Consumers
 Weakened the Provision Market
 Decidedly.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
 Chicago, Ill., May 10.—General rains all through the spring crop and hard winter territory had a tendency today to ease off the price of wheat. Reports of large sales of the cash grain here caused a temporary rally. The opening was 1-1/2¢ lower to a shade up. July started at 114-3/8 to 114-5/8, varying from 1-8¢ to 1-1/2¢ advance, declined to 114-1/8 to 1-1/4, ran up to 114-3/4 to 7-8, and again fell back to 114-3/8 to 1-2.

Prospects of planting being further delayed gave some strength to corn. The bearish tone of wheat however, acted as an offset. July opened 1-8¢ lower to a shade up at 78-1/2 to 78-3/4, touched 78-1/2 to 5-8, and then sagged to 78-1/4.

Closing prices were weak with July 1¢ lower at 113-1/2 to 5-8. Buying on the part of a long house lifted the oats market at first. Prices receded though, on profit taking. July started 1-8¢ down to a like advance at 54-1/2 to 54-3/4 and declined to 54-1/2 to 3-8.

The close was steady at 78-1/2 for July a net loss of 1-4 to 3-8. Provisions showed decided weakness, the result it was said, of recent

RAILWAY MECHANICS' UNION MAY ORDER STRIKE.

Measure is Before Shopmen on Railroads West and South of Chicago.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
 Salt Lake, Utah, May 10.—A strike vote is being taken by the Railway Mechanics' Union affiliated with the Federation of Laborers organized at Kansas City last month was admitted by union members here today. The wording of the question submitted is not divulged but it is said that an affirmative majority means the walkout of shopmen on all roads west and south of Chicago unless the demand of the federation for recognition is granted. The result of the vote is required at Kansas City by June 1.

TWO MINERS CHARGED WITH CATTLE STEALING.

L. Chavez and Jesus Plas, miners in the Florida mountains, were arraigned in Justice Browning's court at Deming charged with stealing cattle. The grounds of the charge are stated to be that beef was found in their camp and no hide. Chavez was bound over to await the action of the grand jury in the sum of $500 and Plas in the sum of $1,000. Accompanied by officers they went to show the hide of the beef alleged to have been stolen.

BRISK TRADING ON STOCK MARKET TODAY.

U. S. Steel Unfilled Tonnage, Though Favorable, Exercised Little Influence.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
 New York, N. Y., May 10.—A large part of an early rise on the stock market today was lost in the second hour when the market became duller. United States Steel, and Union Pacific fell back to opening prices, while Reading and St. Paul went under. American Can common and preferred, went higher than before, but the dealings in the other specialties were perfunctory.

Bonds were irregular. United States Steel's unfilled tonnage report for April was somewhat better than the most sanguine expectations, but failed to exercise more than momentary influence on the stock or the general market. Aside from a brisk rise in Lehigh Valley, which rose to 170 1/2, and further gains in American Beet Sugar, Bethlehem Steel preferred, American Can preferred and Railway Steel Spring, the second hour of the afternoon was dull.

The market closed strong. Prices ascended to the high level of the day in the final hour with especial strength in United States Steel, Union Pacific, Lehigh Valley and some of the highly speculative specialties.

Baking-day has its
 "Sunny side"

Cottolene

The cook is never satisfied unless her baking turns out well. Cooks who have tried it secure better and more uniform results from the use of Cottolene than with butter, lard or any other shortening.

Cakes, pies, cookies and doughnuts are best made with Cottolene. It makes rich food without being greasy. Cottolene food, too, is always digestible, because it contains no hog fat.

Try Cottolene—not a "just as good" imitation—on your next baking day. Costs less because you use less.

This roofing only borrows its purchase price—

It'll pay back every penny. Don't say you've "spent" money when you buy Peerless Prepared Roofing. You haven't. You've just invested the purchase price. Years of wear—freedom from expense and all round satisfaction, will return what Peerless Prepared Roofing costs you—return it many times over.

Peerless Roofing

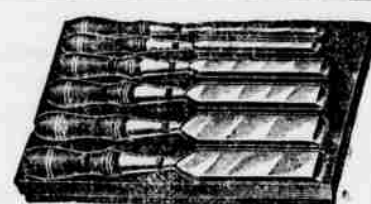

All that's necessary to lay this roof is to unroll
—nail—cement at the laps, and you've covered your building with the most weather and weather-proof material known to science or the trade. Why not? The makers have spent their lives learning how to make Peerless Roofing so it makes good on your building.
And if at any time, by any chance, you are dissatisfied—well, your money is still yours if you'll ask for it.

Come in and find out about Peerless Prepared
Roofing—the twentieth century building protector.
