ANOTHER BIG TRAIN WRECK

Twenty-One Were Killed and More Than a Score Injured at Ligonier

AFTERMATH OF CORNING SMASH

Eight of the Bodies Are Still to Be Identified—Pathetic Sidelights.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Ligonier, Pa., July 6.—Twenty-one passengers were killed, according to the official list, when in an accident on the Ligonier Valley railroad, a passenger coach on the little coal road was crushed between two locomotives on a steep grade.

Nearly a score of the injured are in Pittsburgh hospitals where they were taken by a coal train last night. All but two of the missing that were thought to be in the wreckage were found among the list of injured. Mrs. Nettie Grey Wilpen and Roy Grey, a foster-son, were found in the wreckage this morning clasped in each other's arms.

Injured Victims of Corning Wreck. Corning, N. Y., July 6.—Two more of the two score persons killed in the Lackawanna wreck near here, were identified today. They are: John Kennedy, Harrison, N. J.; Jules Sampson, 392 Central avenue, Jersey City, N. J.

This leaves eight bodies to be identified. Careful checking of the list has developed that the number of dead was 29, with one missing. The latter is the five-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Armstrong of Hoboken, both of whom were killed. Coroner Smith said the child was so badly mangled that the body was removed by bits and not identified.

No deaths occurred during the night among the five seriously injured persons are expected to recover. The twelve-year-old boy who was among the unidentified injured at the Corning hospital was identified last night as Leonard Brooks of New York City. The boy still is unconscious and his chances for recovery are slight. There remain twelve injured in the Corning hospital and eight at St. Joseph's hospital at Elmira. Steps are being taken to arrange for the early burial of the unidentified and unclaimed.

HIGH SCHOOLS ARE OBSOLETE IS CHARGE.

Too Much Collegiate Education and Not Enough Practical Work Is Educator's Opinion.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Chicago, July 6.—High school education throughout the United States was branded as generally "bookish, scholastic, abstract and inadequate to meet the practical problems of life" in a report submitted today to the National Council of Education of the Northern Education Association. "The whole trouble with high school education," declared David P. Meier, president of the State Normal School at Normal, Illinois in reading the report, "is that it is regarded too much as merely a preparation for the university. Instead of dealing with the problems of life today, the students are taught to deal with the language, politics and customs of fifteen centuries ago. About all the high school teachers are college graduates who have no adequate knowledge of affairs outside of colleges. Their teaching is, therefore, bookish, scholastic and abstract."

"We need a change of aim in high school teaching, a look in the direction of the farm, shop and home. While we do not recommend an education entirely vocational, we urge a departure from the college idea."

As a means of "modernizing" high schools, the report recommended that in a four-year course two years of vocational study should be provided.

J. Stanley Brown, Joliet, Ill., high school department, a member of the committee dissented from some of the criticisms.

FIRST DEMOCRATIC RALLY OF PRESENT CAMPAIGN.

The following program has been prepared for the Wilson ratification meeting to be held at the court house next Tuesday evening at 8 o'clock:

"Woodrow Wilson, Who He Is and What He Stands For," discussed by Gov. W. C. McDonald.

"Tom R. Marshall, for Vice President," discussed by Secretary of State Antonio Lucero.

"Eight Days in Convention With Woodrow Wilson: The Unanimous Choice of 1088 Delegates; How It Was Done," discussed by Mr. James W. Norment.

Although this meeting is under the auspices of the Santa Fe County Democratic Club, it is a public meeting and every one who wants to know something about the Democratic nominees for President and Vice President, is invited. Ladies especially are asked to attend.

DARROW EXPECTS TO BE CLEARED BY JURY.

He Will Handle Case for Himself if His Attorney is Not Well—Says Testimony is Not Sufficient.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Los Angeles, Calif., July 6.—Charles S. Darrow, on trial for alleged jury bribing will be prepared to take charge of his own case in the event Chief Counsel Earl Rogers has not recovered from his illness when the trial is resumed Monday morning. Mr. Darrow informed Judge Hutton yesterday that no further delay would be sought by the defense on account of Rogers' illness. With but a few witnesses remaining to testify for the prosecution and the nature of the testimony known, Mr. Darrow expressed confidence today in his acquittal. He declared his belief that the prosecution had failed to show that he had been connected in any way with the bribery of jurors in the McNamara case as there was only the uncorroborated testimony of Bert H. Franklin, who was testifying for immunity, to show any knowledge of the alleged crime on the part of Darrow. The defense expects to begin the presentation of its case Tuesday morning.

MRS. DECKER IS STILL FIGHTING FOR LIFE.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) San Francisco, Calif., July 6.—"Holding her own," was the declaration given today as to Mrs. Sarah Platt Decker's condition which continues critical. Mrs. Decker was operated on yesterday for an intestinal obstruction which threatened general septicemia. Her illness dates from last Monday. She was formerly president of the General Federation of Women's Clubs.

PROGRESSIVE PARTY LAUNCHED

Formal Call Will Be Issued On Monday for National Convention, It Is Said

ROOSEVELT MESSAGE INVOLVED

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) New York, July 6.—It was announced at Roosevelt headquarters here today that Senator Dixon would issue a statement which would contain a full declaration of the position of the Progressive party on the political issues of the day and a report of progress made in the party's organization.

The statement will be preliminary, it was indicated to the formal call for the Progressive convention which will be issued on Monday.

The call, according to Charles H. Thompson, of Vermont, one of the Roosevelt leaders will attempt to justify the movement for the "third party" with a review of "the theft" at Chicago. He added that a resume of the contents in Colorado, Washington, Texas, Oregon and one district in Tennessee is being prepared as the basis for a later statement. Today's statement, it was indicated, will contain a list of all the states where Roosevelt supporters have agreed by telegraph to sign the call. These states, Mr. Thompson said, now total 25, and with two exceptions include all the Progressive states. The exceptions are Maine and Nebraska, which "on account of state conditions" will not sign.

Mr. Thompson said Senator Dixon received a long telegram from Governor Osborn of Michigan, explaining his position regarding the third party movement. But he would not make the message public.

"It was somewhat involved," he said.

Charleston, W. Va., July 6.—Former Governor William O. Dawson, announced today that he had signed the call for the national convention of the "Republican" party to be held in Chicago, August 10. Dawson was chairman of the Roosevelt state committee's preliminary campaign in the west and also chairman of the delegation which adjourned May 16 subject to the call of the chair.

POLICEMAN BECOMES A BANKER.

Chicago, Ill., July 6.—Lieutenant John Dawney today resigned from the police force to become a banker. During his twenty-three years of service on the department, he has accumulated a fortune of more than $100,000 by investments in real estate. He is to become head of the Dauphin Park Bank after August 1, when his duties end as a policeman.

Dawney has earned about $29,000 from the city and because of buying lots and building cottages on them he has been unusually successful. He will receive a pension of $75 a month from the city.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS.

Senate. Convened at noon and began debate on Lorimer election case, agreement being to vote on legislative day of July 6 but vote probably will not be reached until next week.

House. Convened at noon and adjourned at 12:17 p. m. out of respect to the memory of the late G. R. Malby.

Rules committee adopted rules to expedite pending legislation.

LACK OF FOOD AND MONEY

Desertions in Orozco's Dwelling Army Are on the Increase

REBELS RETURN TO JUAREZ

General Orozco Is Sending Out Guerilla Parties to Devastate Sonora.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) At General Orozco's Headquarters, Sonora, Mex., July 6.—General Pascual Orozco today ordered the bulk of the rebel army westward from here toward the state of Sonora and Pacific coast towns.

Guaymas will be the first seaport which the rebel columns will attempt to take.

El Paso, Texas, July 6.—Only 3,500 men are estimated as composing the remainder of the rebel Mexican army today. Desertions because of lack of food and money and federal triumphs have greatly reduced the insurrection columns within the last week.

General Pascual Orozco today was expected at the new rebel capital Juarez, to launch further plans for a continuation of the revolution. Though the plan of guerrilla warfare originally called for a division of the rebel forces into detachments of 150 men, General Orozco now has ordered that each column shall contain not less than 500 able men to dominate the region assigned to each column.

Already, the rebel invasion of the State of Sonora has begun. Nearly 1,000 men under General Emilio Campa are marching from Casa Grande or the Mexican Northwestern railroad toward Davis, one of the mountain passes leading into Sonora. En route from Agua Prieta, opposite Douglas, Arizona, to check them is the federal column of 9,000 men, under General Samaniego, who will make his headquarters at Colonia Morelos, near the Sonora state line, and fifty miles south of the international boundary. General Huerta has established headquarters at Horcasitas, 25 miles south of the city of Chihuahua. Railroad and telegraph communication with the city of Chihuahua probably will be restored in five days.

Orozco at Juarez.

Washington, D. C., July 6.—General Pascual Orozco, commanding the Mexican revolutionary forces, arrived in Juarez today, according to reports received at the war department today from Colonel E. Z. Stever, acting commander of the department of Texas. Consul Edwards at Juarez says that, while there are reports of many rebels on their way to Juarez, few have arrived.

MONEY NOT IDEAS NOW RUNS NEWSPAPER.

Conference of Leading Editors and Writers Will Discuss Modern Journalism and Whether It Leads.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Madison, Wis., July 6.—The call for the conference here July 29, to August 1, to "discuss modern journalism, its ideals, its trend and its condition," asserts that three important factors are influencing modern journalism. The capital required to maintain a newspaper is constantly increasing, says the call, with the result that newspapers are frequently owned or controlled by men with money rather than with ideas; the returns from advertising are rapidly increasing, resulting in a greater dependence on the advertising for maintenance and a growing endeavor by the advertisers to influence the policies of the papers, and the newspaper is coming to be an investment, and now infrequently is run merely to serve the business, social or political interests of its owners.

The call was issued by the extension division of the New University of Wisconsin today.

Among those who have signed their purpose to attend the conference are Melville E. Stone, general manager of the Associated Press; W. J. Bryan, William Allen White, Normal Hagood, editor of Collier's Weekly; Charles H. Grasty, of the Baltimore Sun and Fremont Older of the San Francisco Bulletin.

It is planned to have the leading newspaper men speak at each of the six sessions of the conference.

FLYNN WAS EASY SAYS NEGRO.

Chicago, Ill., July 6.—Broad smiles and fat cigars adorned the faces of the hundreds of negro admirers of Jack Johnson who today welcomed the champion heavy weight pugilist home from Las Vegas where on July 4 he smothered the hopes of Jim Flynn. "Flynn was easy," Johnson told the crowd that surged around him. "I had planned to knock him out in the tenth round but the police interfered."

JOHNSON SAID HE WOULD FIGHT AL PALZER ON LABOR DAY AND BET $20,000 THAT HE WOULD WIN.

Federal authorities prepared to press the smuggling charge upon which Johnson recently was indicted. He refused to discuss it.

WILSON'S MAIN CAMPAIGN ISSUE

He Will Appeal to Nation on High Cost of Living Puzzle

BLAMES IT ON HIGH TARIFF

The Burning Issue of the Hour Eclipsing All Others in Importance.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Wilson Notified August 7. Sea Girt, N. J., July 6.—Senator-elect Ollie James arrived here this afternoon to consult with Governor Wilson regarding the official notification ceremonies. Before seeing Governor Wilson, Mr. James said he knew of no better place than Sea Girt. Wednesday, August 7, at Sea Girt, was "fixed as the date and place for the formal notification."

William G. McAdoo, who has been prominently mentioned for the trusteeship of the national committee had a conference with the governor today. Afterward he said he was not a candidate for any position.

Sea Girt, N. J., July 6.—Governor Wilson expressed his opinion today that the high cost of living is the burning issue of the hour and that "at its heart lies the high protective tariff."

It is an issue, he said, that he expects to cover fully in his speech of acceptance and in every campaign speech that he may make.

"Undoubtedly, the tariff is at the center of it, he said, referring to the high cost of living. 'The thing is so interlarded on public questions of all kinds that the conclusion is inevitable. The tariff lies at the heart of it all. A great many of the trust questions of the time have arisen out of the tariff. The minute you get out from the center—the high tariff—you get into the trust question and others.'"

"Do you intend, governor," he was asked, "to take off your coat and go to the mat with Colonel Roosevelt on the question?"

"That sounds decidedly strenuous, doesn't it?" he commented, laughing. "I intend to cover the matter in my speech of acceptance and my campaign speeches. Of course, there are other questions which I shall deal with in my speech of acceptance. But I do not intend just now what I shall say. I want time to organize my thoughts."

"The most interesting feature of my mail today," he continued, "are the contributions. There are perhaps a dozen letters containing checks. These are from $5 to $100. That pleases me greatly because it is my idea of the right kind of campaign fund. I think that the contributions should come in small amounts from unsolicited sources."

James Hamilton Lewis wired from Chicago today: "It does not diminish my sentiment towards Mr. Clark for me to congratulate my country upon your nomination. Rest assured that I am one of the men who will aid in bringing to you the electoral vote of Illinois, Indiana, and Iowa."

DRANK ACID AND DIED

Coroner's Jury Finds Pena Blanca Citizen Killed Himself

BODY FOUND UNDER WAGON

Three Sons Will Take Remains Home This Afternoon For Burial

Marcelino Baca, 58 years old and a resident of Pena Blanca, Sandoval county, was found dead beneath his wagon in a corral on South Water street this morning, having mistaken a bottle of carbolic acid for a bottle of whiskey. An inquest was held this morning and the coroner's jury found that Mr. Baca had accidentally killed himself by drinking the acid while under the impression that he was taking a drink of whiskey.

Mr. Baca is a member of a well known family in Pena Blanca. He came here overland for the De Vargas day celebration with three of his sons. Yesterday, they enjoyed the day's fiesta and the death of the father came as a sad ending to the day's sport. The body was taken in charge by Akers-Wagner undertaking company and will be taken later to Pena Blanca for interment.

LORDSBURG MINER KILLED.

BY FALL OF ROCK. Friday in the Superior mine, near Lordsburg, on the 200 foot level, in some unknown manner, a piece of rock became detached and fell, striking Jesus Dorame, a miner. He leaves a wife and several small children to mourn his loss.

OPENED GAMES WITH PRAYER

Sermon and Hymn Singing Preceded Athletic Events at Stockholm

AMERICANS SCORED TRIUMPHS

United States Had Finest and Largest Body of Men Who Were Cheered.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Stockholm, July 6.—American athletes got well in hand in the opening track events of the Olympic games here today. Thirty thousand spectators, among them the royal family, cheered their respective favorites to victory while United States entries enacted a large share of the firsts in the initial heats of the 100 and 200 meter events. Eight Americans, four Englishmen and two Canadians won places in the finals of the 200 meter race.

Daniel F. Lippincott of the University of Pennsylvania, lowered the Olympic record by 1.5 of a second when he won the sixteenth heat, 16 meters in 1:35. Other Americans who won firsts in these heats were Ira Courtney, of the Seattle Athletic Club, Ralph C. Craig of the Detroit Y. M. C. A., Howard Drew, Springfield, Mass., high school; P. C. Gerhardt, Olympic Club, San Francisco. Clarence S. Edmondson, Seattle, A. A., was among the winners in the 200 meter events.

An early "upset" in the next came in the seventh heat 200 meters, when P. C. Soutter, won from Melvin W. Sheppard, the Irish-American Star who crossed the tape in second place six yards behind the Englishman. Sheppard appeared winded at the end of the first 200.

Another surprise of the day's games was the winning of the javelin throw by E. Lemming, Sweden, who hurled the spear 60 meters, 61 centimeters, breaking the Olympic record by nearly 10 feet.

Crown Prince Waved His Silk Hat. The crown prince made a brief speech and afterward King Gustave V rose and formally declared the Olympic games opened.

A group of trumpeters in medieval costume, sounded a blast, to which other trumpeters stationed at the opposite end of the stadium responded. The crown prince, waving his silk hat, led three cheering crowds and the march of the athletes at once began. Stockholm, Sweden, July 6.—The inauguration of the Olympic games today provided a spectacle which probably never has been equaled since the ancient days of Greece.

The day was perfect. There was a clear, blue sky overhead. The great stadium was filled with 30,000 people of all nationalities.

When the members of the Swedish royal family entered their daily decorated box at 11 o'clock, all present stood with bared heads and gave a loud cheer while a call blown by a corps of trumpeters sounded far and wide and announced the opening of the games.

After the delegations of Sweden, Norway and Denmark, the team representing the United States, showed the largest and finest body of men in the procession and the Stars and Stripes called forth by far the heartiest welcome of all the flags carried by the visitors. The little file of three athletes following the flag of Japan, however, got warm applause.

At the head of each delegation, marched two stalwart athletes, who carried the national flag and standard bearing the names of their respective countries surmounted by a wreath.

The whole body marched around the track and then massed on the green oval facing the royal box with the standard bearers holding the colors of the various nations directly opposite the king.

For the inaugural ceremonial, the international committee which includes representatives of all nations, under the leadership of Crown Prince Gustave Adolph of Sweden, assembled on the field in front of the massed competitors. A big male choir was formed while several bands played. The court pastor, the Rev. Oskar Clements Aehfeldt, then preached a short sermon in Swedish. The Rev. Robert DeCourcy Laffan of London, an old rowing man and a member of the British Olympic committee, then offered prayer, speaking of the gathering as in the interest of peace and friendship. The whole assemblage then sang the Lutheran hymn: "A Mighty Fortress is Our God."

Hawaiian Establishes Record.

Duke Kahanamoku, Kawaii, established a world's record of 1 minute 25 in his trial heat in the 100 meters swim.

ARCHBOLD WILL BE IMPEACHED BY HOUSE

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., July 6.—The final draft of the impeachment indictment against Judge Robert W. Archbald of the commerce court, was approved today by the House committee on judiciary. Chairman Clayton will present it to the House Monday, ask for immediate consideration and submit a list of seven managers on the part of the House to conduct the trial before the Senate. It is customary in the House to follow the action of the committee where there is no division. Members of the judiciary committee predict that the resolution would be adopted after a brief debate.

KING GEORGE GOES TO WATER CARNIVAL.

For the First Time in Many Years Royalty Grooves Boat Races on Thames.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Henley-on-Thames, Eng., July 6.—Henley Regatta, England's famous water carnival today reached the turning point in all big events and for the first time since 1839, received the patronage of the king.

His majesty, accompanied by the Queen and Princess Mary, came from London to Henley by train. On arriving there King George and Queen Mary embarked on the royal barge, which was brilliantly emblazoned with red and gold, and manned by the king's water men in their liveries of centuries ago. Their majesties then proceeded down the course to the royal stand, from which they watched the final heats of the British Aquatic championship. Favorable weather favored the occasion, and the scene on the river was one of brilliance, with gaily decorated house boats, more modest punts, skiffs, and canoes lining the course, all their occupants in lightest of summer attire. During the afternoon, the royal party proceeded the full length of the course and received a most hearty welcome.

The barge used today was built by order of the King, William III, for Queen Mary in 1689 and is one of the oldest vessels in England. It was used for many years to convey the English kings and queens between their royal residences at Greenwich and Westminster.

The Rowing Club de Paris won the Thames challenge cup by defeating St. John's Club of Oxford. Time 7 minutes, 25 seconds.

The Sydney Rowing Club of New South Wales won the grand challenge cup, defeating Leander. Time 7 minutes, 6 seconds.

MOVING PICTURES OF A MASSACRE

Indians, Cowboys, Spanish Knights and Other Characters Perform Feats

KALEM GETS FINE FILMS

Several hundred Indians and a large party of cowboys and other players who yesterday took part in the De Vargas parade, went to the hills north of Santa Fe and to points in the Santa Fe canon this morning where the Kalem company photographed a number of scenarios.

There were Indian uprisings, massacres, hair breadth escapes and feats of daring aplenty. These will form moving picture films enough to please the most exacting small boy who yearns for stories of the west. But not only are the characters good but some of the scenery photographed, will further serve to advertise Santa Fe and vicinity. The moving picture men will remain here for several days and will make films of the cliff dwellings and other interesting and historical spots.

SENATORS DEBATE THE LORIMER CASE.

Senator Meyers of Montana Is Ready to Open Attack and Lorimer Will Defend Himself.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Washington, D. C., July 6.—General debate in the Lorimer senatorial election case, which opens today, marks the beginning of the end of perhaps the most sensational contest in the history of the Senate. With Senator L. Meyers of Montana, ready to open the attack at the outset and Senator Lorimer planning to close for the defense, the Senate was staged for the final action which probably will come the middle of next week. In parliamentary action the vote is to be taken on "the legislative day of July 6."

Senator Dillingham, chairman of the committee that made the second investigation of the Lorimer case made the first speech today, presenting the findings which upheld Lorimer. Mr. Lorimer was not present.

Preceding his analysis of the testimony he discussed political conditions in Illinois in 1900 when Lorimer was elected.

OLD TROUBLE WOMAN FINALLY FINDS PEACE.

Mother of Children All of Whom Met Tragic Deaths Is Dead Following Fall in Which Her Leg Was Broken.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Havesville, Ky., July 6.—Hancock county's "trouble woman" Mrs. Nancy Newman, is dead here at the age of 87 years. She was the last of thirteen brothers and sisters, whose stepfather Captain John Sterrett, was the first sheriff of the county.

Tragedies came fast into Mrs. Newman's life. Her youngest child was scalded to death in a tanning vat; the second was burned to death on the home hearth two weeks later. The third, a Confederate soldier, was murdered in a riot at Mobile, Ala. The fourth was killed two years ago when a house fell on him. The fifth met death in a runaway five years ago.

A son-in-law and a grandson met violent deaths and the aged woman herself two weeks ago, hobbling into the kitchen for a drink, fell and broke her leg, which had not begun to mend when she died.

ELKS GOAT IS GONE FOR GOOD

Effort to Re-Establish His Reign in Lodge Rooms Has Failed

FIGHT FOR NATIONAL HOME

Colorado Springs and Utah Want to Take It Away From Virginia.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican) Portland, Oregon, July 6.—Efforts of the Elks to recover their banished "goat" have failed. Representatives and delegates from the smaller lodges to the Grand Lodge session of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, which will convene here Monday, filled the air with laments, last night and attempted to start a movement to have the "goat" re-established as a functionary in the initiation ceremonies. When the effort failed, it was finally admitted that the "goat" had passed.

The fight has begun among various cities for the new national home, the construction of which will be discussed at the Grand session. Western cities will attempt to have the site of the present home transferred from Bedford, Va., to some western state. Both the Colorado Springs, Colorado, and Salt Lake City, Utah, delegations will wage vigorous campaigns for the new home.

WOMAN SLEEPS FOR TWENTY-FIVE DAYS.

Pennsylvania Resident Can Not Be Aroused and Physicians Do Not Know Nature of Malady.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 6.—Asleep almost continuously for the past 25 days, waking only when aroused to take medicine and immediately falling back into a deep slumber, the case of Mrs. Harry McKinley of Wood street, Tarentum, has defied the efforts of the doctors at the new Homeopathic hospital, East End.

June 7 Mrs. McKinley became dangerously ill a short time after taking some headache medicine. She fell into a deep sleep, which continued thirty-six hours despite the efforts of the members of the family to arouse her. When finally awakened she walked about for some time, but again fell asleep. Her condition seemed to be growing worse and it was thought best to remove her to the hospital.

Six physicians unite in the opinion that the headache medicine she took and which it was thought at first caused the condition she is in, could not have had such a prolonged effect. It is pointed out that had the medicine caused the sleep the drug would have either caused death in a short time or else the effects would have worn away in three or four hours.

The doctors believe that the lapse into sleep after taking the medicine was simply a coincidence. They have not given up hope of making a diagnosis, but are working in an effort to find out what peculiar malady it is, if such it can be termed, that has taken hold of Mrs. McKinley.

BIG METEORITE IS WORTH REAL MONEY.

Thirty-Two Years Ago Mineralized Stone Fell on Texas Ranch and Now It Is Sold to Laboratory.

Lubbock, July 6.—The second and last piece of the large meteorite which fell in Hale county, several years ago was recently shipped by E. O. McWhorter, the owner of the land, to the Foot Mineral Company of Philadelphia. This meteorite weighed 875 pounds. When it struck the earth it split in two.

About seven years ago Mr. McWhorter sold the larger piece of the strangely mineralized stone for $500 and it was shipped to an Eastern concern for laboratory purposes. To what use this second part of the meteorite is to be put is not known here. It is said to contain rare minerals.

In Eastern New Mexico and in portions of Arizona many meteorites have fallen from time to time. Three years ago a meteorite fell in the eastern part of New Mexico one afternoon, making a terrific noise that greatly frightened the people. This meteorite exploded a short distance from the earth's surface and the shock did considerable damage to windows in several small towns.

SHEEP HERDER IS KILLED BY LIGHTNING.

Instant death by lightning was the sad fate meted out to Benigno Anaya, a sheep herder on the Fritz Brink ranch about forty miles northwest of Roswell. The man must have suffered severe torture from the stroke, one report stating that the bolt struck him on the head and, coming out through the foot, tore the sole of his shoe. Anaya's body was discovered late at night by Ricardo Sandoval, who has been working for Brink for many years.

Funds for State Treasury.

The following funds have been received by O. N. Marron, state treasurer: Venecio Jaramillo, state treasurer, Rio Arriba county, $2,491.13, J. G. Kammer, state treasurer of McKinley county, $638.93.

COMFORTING WORDS.

Many a Santa Fe Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad week removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Santa Fe readers.

Pasquale Yanni, College St., Santa Fe, N. Mex., says: "In 1902 I gave a public testimonial in praise of Doan's Kidney Pills to the effect that they had cured me of a pain in my back, caused by disordered kidneys.
My work obliges me to sit down a good deal and this weakened my kidneys, causing backache. While at work I suffered more intensely than at any other time and I was very anxious to find a remedy that would relieve me. Learning of Doan's Kidney Pills, I procured a box and to my delight, they soon fixed me up in good shape. I have since had no need of kidney medicine."

The license of the meadows is blown along the way:
The clouds are high and fleecy, there's promise everywhere,
And who would not be hopeful, with all the world so fair?

The fretful politicians are going to and fro, Arousing foolish passions, predicting future woe;
With selfish hopes they hurry from place to place to plead Or utter foolish warnings the foolish only heed;
Their mouths are full of hatred, their hearts are full of spite,
But who would not be hopeful, with all the world so bright?

The willows bend serenely above the placid stream,
Within the peaceful shadows the herds lie down to dream;
The "mower" blithely rattles, and many a fairy fleet
Is tossed upon the billows that cross
the fields of wheat;
The bees, lured by the clover, seek hidden sweetness there,
And who would not be hopeful with
all the world so fair?

Urged by their own ambitions the politicians roar
Concerning ills that threaten and woes that are in store;
For selfish ends they vainly attempt to terrorize:
With cheap conceit they tell us they only are the wise;
But summer's joys await us, the clouds are high and white,
And who would not be hopeful, with
all the world so bright?

AROUND THE STATE

Released on Bond.
Jose Payan, arrested at El Paso on a charge of carrying a pistol, was released on a $300 bond. The case will come up for trial in the county court at the next term.

Charged With Mutilating Records.
Ben W. Wetmore, aged 21 years, was arrested at Roswell by Deputy Sheriff
Fred Higgins at the instance of County Clerk R. F. Ballard for the mutilation and theft of portions of deed records of Chaves county.

He Merely Bolted.
Francisco Mendoza was taken into custody by the police at El Paso on complaint of the Callisher Dry Goods company. It is charged that Mendoza was attempting to get away with a bolt of goods.

Neill Cross Withdraws Resignation.
Neill Cross of Las Cruces, T. S. Land Office has withdrawn his resignation from his position as clerk and will remain permanently instead of going to Washington to accept a position still open to him in the Bureau of Plant Industry there.

Fell Dead From a Hemorrhage.
Mrs. Antonia Duran, aged 96 years, was found dead at El Paso in the front yard of her house. The aged woman left her bed early in the morning to go out to the hydrant in the yard to get a drink. Here she was overcome by a hemorrhage and fell dead.

Thousand Dollars For Good Roads.
At a meeting of the commercial club at Artesia to consider the building of a road from Artesia to Lovin-ton over the plains, J. T. Patrick, former road supervisor, stated that there were four miles of deep sand between those points that would cost about $1,000 a mile to cover with clay and gravel, and that if $1000 was raised by subscription, the balance could be secured from the state and county.
Secretary Stevenson was appointed to solicit subscriptions.

College Quartet Returns Home.
The Y. M. C. A. Quartet, composed of students of the Agricultural college has returned to Mesilla Park from a trip over New Mexico and Colorado, where they gave several performances to good crowds of people in nearly all the important towns of New Mexico.
The object which the quartet set out to accomplish was the sending of three delegates to the Y. M. C. A. conference at Estes Park, Colorado, and in this the members were successful, as well as in attracting much attention and causing favorable comment in every town and city in which they gave a public performance.

Plumber Has Hands Badly Burned.
—Joe Melendo, an employee of D. B.
Robertson, at Silver City, was terribly burned on the hands and arms in an accident with a plumber's stove. Melendo was pumping up the stove, which works with a forced draft of compressed air, and he got the pressure too high, with the result that a small elbow was blown off and the gasoline flew on his hands and immediately took fire from the torch. In an instant the man's hands were practically cooked with the great heat. Melendo is a married man with a family.

Bernalillo County Taxes.
The assessment rolls for this year for Bernalillo county have not yet been tallied up, but it is estimated by Assessor Fred Heyn that they will reach a figure in the neighborhood of $4,400,000. This is something of an increase over the roll of last year, which tallied only $4,174,000. Of this sum $3,216,000 worth of property was located in the city of Alberque-que, while this year Albuquerque's share is about $3,450,000. It was stated by county officials yesterday that 94 per cent of the taxes for the year 1911 had been collected to date, and this is considered a remarkable showing. The taxes collected for 1911, which became delinquent July 1st, when a penalty of 5 per cent was added for tardiness in settlement, are about $3 per cent of the total amount due. This is also believed to be a record, as no one at the court house can remember a time when so early in the year, so large a proportion of the taxes of the year previous had been paid into the hands of the county treasurer.

OBSERVED THE FOURTH ON FORT MARCY.

Declaration of Independence Read Aloud to a Patriotic Gathering on Brow of Hill.

The Fourth did not pass without some patriotic demonstration, or without the public reading of the Declaration of Independence. But in the stress of the preparations for the De-Vargas pageant, it had been almost forgotten. For years, it had been the custom of Judge A. L. Morrison, on July 4, to read the declaration in the pagoda of the Plaza. This year, the Declaration was read on the heights of Fort Marcy. It was Mrs. Nora Brumbach and Mrs. Logue, who had conducted the Teachers' Institute for Santa Fe county, who conceived the idea. Other visiting teachers joined them. When they reached the top of Fort Marcy, ex-Governor L. Bradford Prince and a party of tourists fell in line, and the noble document was read from beginning to end, with due reverence and eloquence. It was an episode never to be forgotten and it is herewith recorded so that future generations may learn that on the day that New Mexico's star was officially added to the blue field in the starry banner, the Declaration of Independence was read on the brow of Fort Marcy overlooking the capital.

WOLGAST CLEANED UP $40,000 IN LAST FIGHT.

Willing to Face Jose Rivera Again on Labor Day on Such or Similar Terms.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Los Angeles, July 6.—Ad Wolgast broke silence today in a published statement, saying he was willing to meet Jose Rivera again and decide the championship question, which was left open by the freakish ending of the Fourth of July battle at Vernon.
He suggested labor day as the proper date for the battle, and declared he was willing to fight anywhere—provided a fat purse was put up.

Wolgast maintained that he was not helped to his feet by Referee Jack Welch, while Rivera lay on the floor being counted out, and asserted that Rivera was knocked out and was glad to quit.

"He was not game; that lets him out," said the champion. Ad said also that his winnings, counting his $15,000 purse and the bets he gathered, totalled close to $40,000.

FINGERS SO PAINFUL COULD NOT SLEEP

Troubled Three Years. Inflamed and Burned. Nails Would Come Off. Used Cuticura Soap and Ointment. Fingers Perfectly Cured.

R. F. D. No. 2, Box 252, Seattle, Wash.—
"The three middle fingers right at the end of my nails troubled me for three years. They would get so inflamed, burn and be so painful I could not sleep. It seemed every time I had my hands in soapy water they would get worse. They would be so very sore, then the nails would come off, and no more would a new one grow on when they would begin to get sore again. The nail came off my third finger four times. I tried everything with no results until one day I read of a lady who seemed to have had a similar trouble cured by Cuticura Soap and Ointment.
I decided to try them and sent for a sample.
I bought a 50c. box of Cuticura Ointment and some Cuticura Soap and now I am thankful my fingers are perfectly cured and my nails perfectly smooth. Cuticura Soap and Ointment cured me." (Signed) Mrs.
Rieke Hinton, Apr. 24, 1912.

If you wish a skin clear of pimples, blackheads and other annoying eruptions, hands soft and white, hair lustrous and glossy, and scalp free from dandruff and itching, begin today the regular use of Cuticura Soap for the toilet, bath and shampoo, assisted by an occasional light application of Cuticura Ointment. Sold by druggists and dealers everywhere. Liberal sample of each mailed free, with 32-p. Skin Book. Address postcard "Cuticura, Dept. T, Boston."
*Tender-faced men should use Cuticura

RE-ORGANIZATION OF NATIONAL PACKING CO.

Colorado Company to Transfer to Armour and Other Branches to the Swifts.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)
Denver, Colo., July 6.—A rumor that the Colorado Packing Company's plant has passed into the hands of the Armour interests, that the control of the Western Packing Company is to go to Swift & Co., and that the Denver Union Stock Yards are to go to Morris & Co., of Chicago, is current in the stock yards here. Officials of the companies in Denver would not confirm the reports which came originally from Kansas City together with a rumor that the Cudahy Packing Company of Omaha had obtained possession of the Hammond plant at the Union Stock Yards, Chicago, and would enter the market there.

The Fowler plant at Kansas City is reported included in the transfer of the Colorado Packing Company plant to the Armour and it is said the National Packing Company plant at St.
Joseph, Mo., goes with that of the Western Packing Company in the alleged transfer to Swift & Co. The reported changes are said to be in the nature of a reorganization of the National Packing Company.

Wonderful Cures Reported in Germany.

The use of simple herbs as remedies instead of the more concentrated and usually more dangerous inorganic substances, has been revived very widely of late. In Germany a new school of physicians has arisen which throws out almost a whole of the pharmacopoeia and relies on an adaptation of the method of wild animals in curing themselves. . . . N. Y. World.

It was Dr. R. V. Pierce, chief consulting physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute of Buffalo, N. Y., who first advocated the extended use of some of our native roots, such as: Golden seal and Oregon grape root, mandarin and queen's root, black cherrybark. These are the chief ingredients in Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which has been so well and favorably known for nearly half a century. A harmless cleanser and stomach tonic that nature has provided.

D. MATHESON, Esq.

J. DONALD MATHESON of Ossining, N. Y., says: "I suffered for over thirty years with what the doctors told me was a dilated condition of the stomach, associated with a general condition of indigestion, nervous heart. I had tried enough of the best of the medical profession, but to no avail. I was naturally thin, and there was no cure for me, but after reading what eminent doctors said of the curative qualities of the ingredients of 'Golden Medical Discovery' I gave it a fair trial. Took the 'Discovery' and also the 'Pleasant Pellets' and can truthfully say I am feeling better now than I have in years. I cheerfully give permission to print this testimonial, and if any 'doubting Thomases' writes me I will put him wise to the best all-around medicine in the country today."

CATHOLICS TO PLAY POLITICS

Archbishop of Mexico Issues an Edict Addressed to the Faithful

FREE LAND FOR THE PEOPLE

51,000,000 Acres Available for Distribution Among Insurgents.

(By Special Leased Wire to New Mexican)

Mexico City, July 6.—An edict issued by the archbishop of Mexico, Right Rev. Dr. Jose Mora y del Rio, exhorting all Catholics to unite and to take an active part in the political affairs of the nation, is causing much speculation and not a little uneasiness in political circles as to just what part the National Catholic party will play in future elections. Throughout the month of June, in obedience to the mandate of the archbishop, the clergy has "exhorted the faithful to offer their prayers that the electors may walk in paths of righteousness," and has counseled the people to "enter the fight with a true Christian spirit."

The exhortation was called forth by the approaching election of senators and deputies. In addition to the efforts of the priesthood, the edict has been posted on the doors of all churches and in conspicuous places throughout the capital.

The archbishop quoted Cardinal Gotti in urging his people to unite, as follows: "In cases where the worthy people are divided in their choice of candidates, we must confess that it is a serious evil, which is to be lamented and done away with at all costs. Wherefore, we exhort you in the name of the Almighty, that you do not remain divided, but group together. Associate yourselves and unite in order that, as in the first days of the church, you may form one heart, one soul with a uniformity of ideas and a unity of purpose in the fight. Fighting thus, with closed ranks and with due attention to your leader, you will fulfill the mission of Christ and will obtain with greater ease the triumph."

The National Catholic party was a conspicuous factor in the presidential election. In the national convention they supported the candidacy of Madero for the presidency, and named Francisco L. de la Barra for vice-president. Although non-Catholics profess to see in this activity on the part of the head of the church a tendency toward making the church all powerful, as in the days before the enactment of the "Laws of Reform," under President Juarez, they recognize a fortunate circumstance in the well-known liberality of the archbishop. The spirit of liberality found expression in the edict, wherein voters were advised to select upright and honorable men without prejudice against those who were not of their own faith.

National Theater Sinking.
The half completed $5,000,000 national theater is sinking. After nearly a year of quiet about the magnificent marble structure, a small army of men is at work extending the foundations in an effort to check the subsidence. Nearly four hundred tons of cement has been used within the month in reinforcing the foundation at the southwest corner, which appears to be the weakest point and which has sunk nearly a foot.

In the meantime, work on the interior is practically abandoned. With the exception of the curtain, proscenium arch and the auditorium dome, the scheme of decoration is still undecided. Samples of flooring, columns and decorative effects are being tried from time to time.

The curtain, bearing an exquisite view of Popocatepetl and Ixtaccihuatl, is complete and in place. It is done in glass mosaic and is the work of a New York house, in whose studio it was viewed and approved by many famous art critics. The auditorium dome is a costly and beautiful example of art glass work. The proscenium arch, of mosaic, made in Budapest, is being reassembled and will soon be ready to be put in place.

The stage has been equipped with the most improved machinery for moving the curtains and scenery. The theatre has 600 square meters of floor space. The exterior is finished with the exception of the dome and several bronze statues which remain to be placed.

Palace of the Montezumas.
The ancient palace of the Montezumas on the heights of Chapultepec, now the home of the president and his family, is soon to be provided with the very modern wireless telegraph equipment. Another station is to be established in Tuxtepec. Both stations will be equipped with high power appliances, and will be in charge of the department of war. This President Madero will be able to keep in constant touch with the commanders in the field regardless of interruption of the land service. The equipment for the stations has already been ordered.

51,000,000 Acres Public Lands.
The acreage available for partition among the inhabitants of the republic, in accordance with one of the provisions of Madero's "Plan of San Luis Potosi," has been computed by commissioners appointed for the purpose, at 51,875,000 acres (21,000,000 hectares). These lands are distributed throughout the various states and territories, Quintana Roo, Sonora, and Chihuahua offering the largest quotas.

Baby's Voice

Every woman's heart responds to the charm and sweetness of a baby's voice, because nature intended her for motherhood. But even the loving nature of a mother shrinks from the ordeal because such a time is usually a period of suffering and danger.

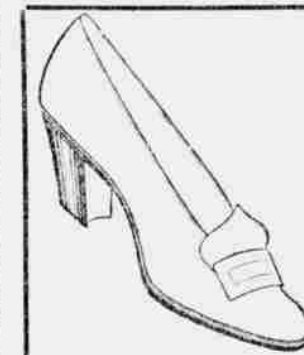

Women who use Mother's Friend are saved much discomfort and suffering, and their systems, being thoroughly prepared by this great remedy, are in a healthy condition to meet the time with the least possible suffering and danger. Mother's Friend is recommended only for the relief and comfort of expectant mothers; it is in no sense a remedy for various ills, but its many years of success, and the thousands of endorsements received from women who have used it are a guarantee of the benefit to be derived from its use. This remedy does not accomplish wonders but simply assists nature to perfect its work. Mother's Friend allays nausea, prevents caking of the breasts, and in every way contributes to strong, healthy motherhood. Mother's Friend is sold at drug stores. Write for our free book for expectant mothers.

Mother's Friend
BRADFIELD REGULATOR CO., Atlanta, Ga.

In Quintana Roo there were found to be available 3,829,000 hectares, in Sonora 3,359,000 hectares, and in Chihuahua 3,163,000 hectares. Campeche follows with 1,600,000, Tlaxcala with 1,344,444 and the Isthmus of Tehuantepec, 1,409,000 hectares. Plans for the partition of these national lands and placing them at the disposal of individuals are being studied by the department of public welfare. While the figures provided by the commission appear formidable, it is to be remembered that great tracts embraced in their calculations are arid and unfit for cultivation.

An Ideal Day—Yesterday was an ideal summer day. The maximum temperature was 74, the minimum 59 degrees. The relative humidity was 28 per cent last evening. Tomorrow is to be fair and warmer.

Summer colds are hard to get rid of, and frequently lead to asthma, bronchitis and hay fever. Do not let your cold get a hold on you, but use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound for quick relief. W. H. Allen, Chelsea, Wis., says: "We prefer Foley's Honey and Tar Compound to other cough medicines because it quickly cures coughs and colds. It will ward off a cold of Cal., formerly of this city, who has taken in time. Contains no opiates. Sold by all druggists."

OFFICIAL PAPER OF SANTA FE COUNTY.

The new Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the State, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the Southwest.

NEW MEXICO'S NEED.

From Las Vegas, from Albuquerque, from one point or another, comes word that trade is at a standstill, that times are dull, that the stream of irrigation has practically ceased and that development is slow.

New Mexico's greatest material need is outside capital that is willing to develop its resources: build more railroads, erect more factories, construct more irrigation enterprises, bring more earnest homeseekers.

The coming of statehood did not bring these desirable things with one fell swoop. There is much disappointment in consequence. Somehow, people who invest, who seek new homes, do not care particularly what the form of government, as long as it guarantees protection to property and personal rights.

That is just what is the matter with the West today. Thousands of people have begun to doubt that vested rights and property interests are safe in the so-called progressive states, trade and industry languish in consequence. New Mexico, fortunately, gave evidence of conservatism and sanity in its constitutional convention, in its first state legislature, but aroused some doubt again by going Democratic in part last fall. It is true, the Democrats elected at that time, are conservatives, but in the eyes of the world, especially now after the Baltimore riot, every Democrat is tainted with wild-eyed, Bryanese theories, and it will take a good majority this fall for Taft and the election of a Republican congressman, to dispel what doubts remain as to New Mexico's good faith in inviting capital to come and help develop its marvelous resources. That is the need of New Mexico today, the certainty that the state will protect investments and will not make them a sacrifice to every whim of passing though popular fancy.

IN RETROSPECTION.

Almost fourteen years ago, the editor of the New Mexican, then a stranger in the Southwest, began his work in New Mexico under the energetic direction of the late Colonel Max Frost. There are a score or more journalists in all parts of the United States, and a number of others, ranking high in public life, who will gratefully testify that as a precursor, Colonel Frost had no equal in the southwest. The writer had been in charge of big and influential newspapers for six years before coming to New Mexico, and had been in the newspaper and printing business since 1888, but he willingly admits that the guidance and example of Colonel Frost have been of incalculable benefit to him.

The first task in Santa Fe was to report the Legislature of 1899 and ever since then, the editor has taken delight in recording in detail the political as well as official actions of each legislature, of the constitutional convention, of the party conventions and all the items of news that bring the newspaper worker in close touch with the political, industrial, personal side of life in his community. In those years, the New Mexican has gradually evolved from a small town daily into a modern newspaper. A decade and a half ago, the New Mexican had but a thousand words of telegraph a day; today it has the full leased wire service of the Associated Press. Since those days two linotypes have supplanted handsetting, new power presses relegated to the junk heap the antiquated machinery, and as a final triumph, the New Mexican at the end of last year, moved into its own building, specially constructed for it, the handsome and most modern newspaper structure and plant in the Southwest.

Surely, all this has been worth while, and the joy of achieving and building has been inspiring to greater efforts. Gratifying too, has been the satisfaction of watching the successful growth of new ideas planted by the editor, often in doubt and discouragement. Plans and propositions that seemed visionary when first advocated have been worked out practically. Counsel and advice unheeded at first were finally adopted; and many a victory has been won in battles in which the editor at first stood practically alone. He has been brought into intimate contact with the men in public life, with all the forces that are weaving the loom of history in this commonwealth; has gauged their motives, their hopes and their desires. With all this came a sense of influence, of power, of elation, such as wed the journalist inseparably to his calling.

In these years, the editor has received much kindness, much praise, some blame and condemnation, but all in all, had he the work to do over again, he would not choose in the main, to do different. It is because of the many friendships formed, the generous support received, the kindly encouragement given, the loyalty of his co-workers, that he indulges in this intimate reminiscence, and records that the New Mexican has been a part of himself. It is only the recognition that the new forces in control will make an even greater newspaper, will give it a still higher standing, will achieve even greater triumphs for righteousness and the material welfare of good old Santa Fe, that reconciles him to parting with the New Mexican and the many associations that crowd about it.

ONLY TWO GREAT PARTIES.

There can be only two great, lasting parties in a republic like ours. The line of cleavage has existed from the very beginning of the nation, in fact, ever since government was attempted in those dim days long ago when the first men faced each other and a gleam of breaking intelligence leaped into their eyes.

For lack of a more illuminating definition these two principles might be termed, the centripetal and centrifugal forces of government. Today, the principle underlying the Republican party is the centripetal force. Uninfluenced by any countervailing force, the logical fruition of that principle is paternalism, socialism, communism. The Democratic party represents the centrifugal force, individualism, and carried to logical conclusion would terminate in philosophic anarchy. In George Washington's day, the centripetal force was represented by the Federalists, who believed in a strong central government; and of whom Alexander Hamilton was the great leader. On the other side, Thomas Jefferson led. The constitution was a compromise between these two forces although in the end it proved a triumph of the Federalists, the outcome of the Civil War, being the event which finally decided that the Hamiltonian idea of a strongly centralized government should prevail over that of a loose confederacy of states.

There have been many parties and many theories of government since the Declaration of Independence, or since the beginning of all governments, but in final analysis all can be resolved into these two antagonistic ideas, both of which can be defended theoretically and philosophically with utterly unsalable arguments and logic. But in history thus far, the centripetal idea, the governmental thought represented by the Republican party and President Taft, alone has proven to be practical, alone has brought peace, progress, prosperity. Whenever the other theory prevailed for any length of time there was strife, bloodshed, disintegration and finally dissolution.

If all men really were equal in physical, mental, moral endowments, if all men were perfect, there is no doubt that the anarchic idea would be the logical one. In fact, as the world grows better, the trend will be inevitably towards that ideal of government, of each man being a law unto himself unhampered by any communal statutes or constitution.

The leaders of the Republican party realize this, and if they did not, the antagonizing force would constantly drive them in that direction. But in the very nature of a nation constituted like ours, it is the Republican forces that must be entrusted with the government, while the Democratic forces act as a check or a spur. There may be a transfer of power for a time being, held in check or spurred by Republican forces, but if this nation is to continue to exist, the centripetal, the strong central government idea, must prevail until the millennium ushers in an altruistic brotherhood that needs no laws, no outside, compelling force to bind them in harmony, peace, equality, liberty and justice.

Therein, after all, lies the test of party allegiance. All those who believe in a strong centralized government, are Republicans and should be counted in the Republican party, no matter what their other leanings or their attitude toward certain candidates may be. All others belong in the Democratic party, whether they like Wilson or not; whether they call themselves progressives or conservatives, radicals or standpatters. If this test were applied with intelligence, much of the present day confusion in millions of minds would be dispelled, for after all it is principles, and not candidates, that count.

VALLEY RANCH ACTIVITIES.

Valley Ranch, N. M., July 4, 1912.—Mr. and Mrs. Harry Lee of Santa Fe arrived here this morning to help celebrate the 4th.

Miss Ruth Miller arrived on No. 1 from Sioux City, Iowa, while Mr. and Mrs. Baird, and Messrs. Trevett and Peckham left for Las Vegas to attend the prizefight.

A motor party will leave here tomorrow morning to attend the De Vargas celebration in Santa Fe, among them Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Miller.

Mr. W. C. Hatley and party motored over today to be present at the celebration.

A QUIET SORT OF MAN.

Woodrow Wilson is not a mixer. He is real goody-goody, and therefore an abomination in the eyes of some sports. He has red blood, but it does not run to prizefights, it runs towards political economy and the philosophy of history. All of which is good for the country should he become President, for the past few days have given evidence that the red blood that runs toward pugilism in quantity, if not in quality, far exceeds the red blood that runs toward a political or economical wrong. A classmate of Wilson's says:

"He was very quiet and modest as an undergraduate and was scarcely known except by his own classmates. Although he knew his lessons perfectly, he did not evince an air of confidence when he got up to recite. He is a fine example of the man who wins success by constant, heavy hammering. You hear young men talking nowadays about having hard luck. Wilson never knew what it was to have luck against him. That man would actually go through a stone wall; he recognized no impediments."

"He certainly began at the very bottom rung. He had neither family wealth, family reputation, personal attractiveness or charms, and he was positively one of the homeliest men at Princeton."

"He had few close friends, said very little to anybody and was perhaps one of the least known men in the class during his college course."

"But there is one thing that I shall always remember about him," he continued enthusiastically, "he never once came to class unprepared. To use the expression in vogue then, he spent his evenings 'boning' and I have an idea he burned more midnight oil than any other man in the class."

No wonder Theodore, the Rough Rider, and the Rough Necks in his own party, do not warm up to his nomination. Why, Wilson is just the kind of a governor who would stop a prizefight even if there was no law for it.

COME IN, THE WATER'S GOOD.

Colonel Roosevelt occasionally has lucid, or shall we say, sober moments? In an interview yesterday, he lambasted the Democrats as fellows and from it one might almost wonder whether the prediction of the New Mexican some months ago, that Roosevelt would yet take the stump for Taft, might not come true.

As for the tariff, he said, the Democratic party had gone on record in favor of free entry of the necessities of life.

"Of course, the first person that such a policy would harm would be the farmer," he continued. "The Democratic party could do only one of two things. It might wink at its tariff plank and admit that it was written for campaign purposes only, or it might attempt to enforce it, which would mean ruin to the country."

Free trade, he said, would be so disastrous that the country would soon come back to the principle of protection. Should free trade be adopted, he said, it would be possible for the moneyed interests of this country to build up, great industries in China and Japan and take advantage of the cheap labor there and import the products into this country to undersell domestic goods.

"I am not sure," he continued, "that the tariff is the chief factor in the high cost of living. So far as I can see the articles which have gone up in price most are butter, eggs and meat. Butter and eggs, of course, are not affected by the tariff."

DE VARGAS PAGEANT.

The Bookman for July tells in word and picture the story of the Mission pageant at San Gabriel, California. A special theater has been built for the presentation each year of this pageant and play which already has become world famous.

Santa Fe yesterday repeated its De Vargas pageant of last year, and although crude compared with the refinement of the San Gabriel event, yet, it was more powerful, was more riotous in color and rooted deeper in history and romance.

If at San Gabriel, with the historical material at hand, a play and pageant has been constructed, so fine that the whole nation marvels, what might not be accomplished by developing the De Vargas pageant idea, adding to it an annual presentation of Los Pastores, or El Comanche, or better still, have some playwright produce an adequate scenario, with stirring lines, interesting plot, finding its climax in the reconquest and re-entry of De Vargas in the City of the Holy Faith on that black December day more than two centuries ago.

Does Santa Fe really have a feeling of its wealth of material that is a little sentiment, a little continuous effort, a little concentration and united effort might fashion into the finest community life in the world?

The Las Vegas Optic draws a parallel between Pontius Pilate and Governor McDonald. And such is gratitude!

THE REPUBLICAN PARTY OF NEW MEXICO.

The Republican party of New Mexico will reorganize and will go into the campaign with a vim that will bring triumph at the polls. The reorganization will be orderly and will proceed from the bottom, from the Republican rank and file, and not from the top by a few self-appointed, self-anointed leaders. The Republican party is one of orderly organization and not a mob, and it will therefore proceed in this as in all other matters according to law, rules and precedents established and accepted as governing the party organization. Do not let the idea get into your head that the Republican organization is not the strongest and most virile political force in New Mexico at this very hour.

Hadley, Cummins, Osborne and a few more of the seven governors and handful of insurgent senators declare that a third party is unnecessary and that the issue between Taft and Wilson is so clean-cut that a third party movement will draw only a few straggling rough rider votes. Not all of the insurgents are fools.

The New Mexican also puts in a claim as an original Wilson boomer. It told the Democrats last fall that he is the strongest man they could nominate for the Presidency.

How brave some people, newspapers and politicians are now in denouncing the Las Vegas prizefight after it is all over.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL.

Miss Irene Gorman, formerly a resident of Raton, passed through on No. 1 yesterday from Chicago to Santa Fe, where she will make a visit with friends before returning for a visit in Raton—Raton Range.

F. G. Bartlett, a prominent citizen of Socorro, arrived in Albuquerque yesterday and left last night for Chicago, at which place he will purchase an automobile and drive to Gardner, Kennebec county, Maine, a distance of approximately 2,000 miles. Mr. Bartlett intends to pick up his family at some point between Chicago and Gardner. He originally intended to drive from Socorro to Maine, but was delayed in getting started. Mr. Bartlett is an enthusiastic motorist and it is likely that after returning to Socorro from Maine he will journey to California in a machine.—Albuquerque Herald.

Four ex-governors in one automobile, caused some comment yesterday on Washington avenue. In the front seats as chauffeur, sat ex-Governor Herbert J. Hagerman, Progressive but not Roosevelt Progressive, by his side, ex-Governor M. A. Otero, Progressive, but not particularly anti-Roosevelt. In the rear seat sat ex-Governor W. T. Thornton, a Democratic leader, and ex-Governor L. Bradford Prince, Republican leader. The machine was ex-Governor Hagerman's and he had driven across from Roswell to Albuquerque. After spending a few days there, he came to Santa Fe to visit Mr. and Mrs. Levi A. Hughes.

One of the most enjoyable and exciting events of the week was the "coming-in" party given by Judge and Mrs. William H. Pope in their new Cadillac car Tuesday afternoon for Miss Ruth and Helen Laughlin who had just returned from Colorado. After an exciting race with a rain storm along the Cerrillos Road Judge Pope had an added treat in store for Mrs. Pope and the girls by breaking into the Bank Saloon. Several men inside and out, hearing the smashing of the glass hurried to see Carrie Pope, but they found it was only Judge Pope making his entrance. As a resident of Roswell, Judge Pope was known as a militant Prohibitionist, but on taking up residence in Santa Fe one finds that he has the largest bar bill of any man about town.

Social and Personal

(By Nan O'Neil.)
They're organizing a sane Fourth here in our town this year; There won't be any noise or din, or nothing else I fear. En cannon crackers can't be had— There's not one in our shop; En if you let a sizzler off, You've got to ask the cop.

I guess there won't be any bombs, or anything like that. You mustn't bust yer ma's ear drums. En scare the dog on out. So I'll just wear my Sunday pants, En wave a little flag. Sit on the porch with sister dear, En bust a paper bag.

—From Judge.

The Las Vegas Fourth is over, and Santa Fe Fifth is over. Jack Johnson and De Vargas have put away their togs for another year.

The Fourth in Santa Fe was extremely safe and sane and quiet. As some has put it, Santa Fe has many independence days during the year, according to the divorce court registers.

But we made up for the quiet and peaceful Fourth by having our gala-day the fifth. The band began the celebration with a concert at ten o'clock in the morning and the festivities continued until the dance in the Armory closed after midnight. The world and his wife came down to see the triumphal procession of De Vargas when he took the ancient city, and everyone stayed to enjoy the Plaza fiesta given under the auspices of the Woman's Board of Trade.

The streets were crowded with visitors and sightseers and Cleveland Grays and moving picture people. Even the Santa Feans and "ladies" who went over to Las Vegas for their Fourth of July celebration hurried back to Santa Fe to be here in time for the big fifth. Since this is not the sporting page it would be out of place to mention the sports who went to Las Vegas, but the many guests who were in town yesterday came strictly within the social column. Don't they?

C. Ivers was down from Raton yesterday. T. B. Devine of Taos was also in the city.

M. W. Thompson came in yesterday from Espanola.

Mrs. Blackman came in yesterday from Espanola.

L. D. Reynolds was a Taos visitor here yesterday.

George R. Williamson was over from Clorida yesterday.

W. D. Shea of the D. & R. G. left yesterday for Denver.

Aldo Leopold of Tres Piedras, spent yesterday in the city.

Arthur F. Jones of Portales, spent yesterday in Santa Fe.

Dr. J. H. Wroth of Albuquerque, was a visitor here yesterday.

Mrs. Tillie Sloan came in yesterday from Chin Lee, Arizona.

Ira Yamall of Tres Piedras was a visitor here yesterday.

James S. Davidson came in yesterday from Albuquerque.

C. R. Carr was in Santa Fe from Roswell yesterday.

D. D. Allison and C. C. Lowe came in yesterday from Taos.

W. Edward Reid of Marion, Ill., was a visitor here yesterday.

E. Y. Park of Stanley was up yesterday for the big celebration.

Wallace F. Miller of Oklahoma City, spent yesterday in Santa Fe.

Frank Springer of Las Vegas was a visitor in Santa Fe yesterday.

Howard Wagner of Las Cruces was a visitor here for De Vargas day.

H. W. Welland and son of Cincinnati, tourists, spent yesterday here.

M. A. Ross, county surveyor of Bernalillo county, was here yesterday. Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Bomb were here yesterday from Vermojo Park, N. M.

O. T. Williams of San Pedro, was a visitor in Santa Fe for De Vargas day.

H. L. Lee and B. C. Terry and sister came over from the Pecos yesterday.

F. W. Drake, and J. C. Chavez, Jr., of Abiquia, were Santa Fe visitors yesterday.

Harry Benjamin, well known merchant of the Duke City, was here yesterday.

S. Prescott was over from Las Vegas for the De Vargas celebration yesterday.

R. L. Carter and Mrs. Carter of Clovis, were Santa Fe visitors for De Vargas day.

Albert Brown of Wynote, Pa., was a visitor here yesterday enroute to the coast.

Mrs. Robert E. Johnson of Lander, Wyoming, was a Santa Fe visitor here yesterday.

W. C. Parkdale and Hugh Trotter of Albuquerque, spent yesterday in Santa Fe.

W. A. Davidson, James Johnson and Earl Hall of Roswell, spent yesterday in Santa Fe.

T. M. DuBois and M. D. Atkinson of Corona, Lincoln county, spent yesterday in Santa Fe.

J. B. Phillips and J. C. Lee and Mrs. Lee were here yesterday from their homes at Roswell.

D. V. O. S. Shipman of Ramsey, Illinois, spent yesterday in Santa Fe enroute to the coast.

George W. Beardsley and Milton Toffer of Antonio, Colorado, were visitors here yesterday.

E. L. Edmundston and S. E. Edmundston of Alamosa, Colorado, spent yesterday in Santa Fe.

G. A. Garcia, Fidel Garcia, Jose R. C. Garcia formed a party from Antonio, Colorado, yesterday.

George N. Priest of Princeton, N. J., stopped off in Santa Fe for the De Vargas celebration yesterday.

Mrs. Perry M. Rathbun of Lincoln, Neb., spent yesterday here, a spectator at the De Vargas celebration.

J. F. Durant who hails from the classic town of Pawhuska, Oklahoma, witnessed the De Vargas pageant.

Miss Brown of Saint Joseph, Mo., will be the guest of her sister Mrs. Rupert Asplund on the summer.

Philo A. Gonzalez and Miguel Lamy drove over from Pecos yesterday to take part in the De Vargas pageant.

B. W. Johnson and G. J. Prescott of Clarendon, Texas, were visitors here yesterday for the De Vargas pageant.

We do not expect Mr. Blaine to carry England, or Canada, or Mexico, or any other foreign state, but his friends are very confident that he will carry New York, Ohio, Indiana, Connecticut and all the Republican states, which will make him president. And then we shall have an administration worthy of this great republic.

Congress finally adjourned at 2 p. m. today.
California decides to cast her vote for Senator Thurman in the Chicago Democratic convention. Grover Cleveland has no show of being nominated. Tammany's sentiment is unanimous against him. Indiana is strong for McDonald. They declare he is the most available man and will heal the factional strife in the Democratic ranks, something Cleveland never could do. Those opposed to Cleveland threaten a bolt if he is nominated. A stampede for Tilden is very likely.

No members of the legislature will be voted for at the next election. The 26th legislative assembly passed a sensible and timely act, providing for the next session to commence on December 31, 1886, the members of that legislature to be elected in November, 1886.

THE FORUM

A Beautiful Life on the Mountains.

Los Angeles, July 1, 1912.—In the New Mexican of Friday, June 28, in the "Around the State" columns is a screed headed "Wedded on Mountain Peak," which seems to me the refinement of cruelty and a thing that must have slipped by your kindly nature. It cannot but hurt the excellent Raes and their friends and kindred. For over twenty years I have known them—before they journeyed from Isleta—where Mr. Raes—not Ray—was "Trader," and I assure you they are not "peculiar," nor was there any mystery connected with their hiegar from the pueblo to El Bosque. "I hold no brief" for them, but I do feel that, for some, or no, reason, a grave injustice, by innuendo, was done when some thoughtless person started that story.

"And the real facts will perhaps never be known." How silly and how cruel! Archibald Raes is an educated, middle class Englishman, with a strong understanding of nature loving and a strong upper current of independence. His story of his coming to the United States, to New Mexico, to Isleta, is his own, and not mine, but there was nothing remarkable, mysterious or reprehensible in it. His meeting, wooing and wedding a "blue-blooded" Yankee girl, Miss Douglas, of New Haven, is also his and her story, and just as regular and decent as the most upright Santa Fean could ask for. There was not a peculiar circumstance in the whole business and the Bosque fitting was quite as virtuous as all their other perfectly sane movements. Mrs. Raes' brother—a civil engineer, who died within the last few years in Nicaragua, had taken up a ranch on the Bosque—just as I did in the foothills toward Manzano—lured there by the fabulous stories of old potatoes could do up there if given a chance. The Raes fared forth to see the Beniah land—and it is beautiful beyond words—and built a summer home and proceeded to raise potatoes. The charm of the Manzanos got in their blood and Mr. Raes sold his store in Isleta and a "fogon" was established "far from the maddening crowd." That was just twenty three years ago. To many worthy creatures the whole thing was "queer"—if one ever does anything that isn't custom you know what happens to them—well, the Raes just went along in the way that suited them, except that they were not rich enough to go down into the valley of the Rio Grande to spend the winter and loaf on the peak in the summer. They were about as poor as the kit and bilin of New Mexico in general, but they were the soul and body of hospitality and more fun than a family of puppies. There were two beautiful young girls, sisters of Mrs. Raes, who enjoyed the mountain life and one, became Mrs. Charles F. Lummis, which was the only "peculiar" mystery I ever saw among them. They were an absolutely normal crowd but the great American hypnotist bamboozled all but sensible Mr. Raes. This is the sole and only reason that the "Old Hall Mark" of eccentricity has been placed on them. There are pages of stories I might tell you about these dear people; of the son who passed away in his early manhood, who was a fine classical scholar, a very encyclopedia of general knowledge, and who hated towns and all that in them was of witty, spirited Mrs. Raes; of Alice, the baby, born on the Peak in a howling Thanksgiving storm, the bride of today; of the fine ranch that has evolved from the first potato patch and of other things. But I have nothing to do with my defense of the plain, common sense of the family, I profess to be a normal, rational, critical and I have no friends who are saner and more sensible than those forest lovers. I wish there was a way that you could take to remove the stigma placed on them by your clipping—were the rank and file of New Mexico settlers as cultivated, self respecting and industrious as they, it would be far better for the gruff ridden state.

Wishing you well, always I am,
Yours sincerely,
OLIVE ENNIS HITE.

It will not pay you to waste your time writing out your legal form when you can get them already printed at the New Mexican Printing Company.

NO BULLETS BUT PAINT

Even Dismantled Battleships Take Their Toll of Lives at Times

DANGER FROM LEAD POISON

Report of New York State Factory Investigating Commission.

(Exclusive Service The Survey Press Bureau.)

A battle ship in dry dock—stripped of her finery, her engines motionless, her decks deserted—seems singularly futile and harmless as she leans against the props placed along her sides. In spite of the seeming harmlessness of the inert monster, the battle ship remains a destroyer of health and life. The danger is an insidious one, deliberately, gradually and slowly preying upon the health and life of its victims. The source of the danger is lead—not as bullets or cannon balls but as lead paint.

On September 1, 1911, there went into effect in New York a law compelling physicians to report occupational diseases such as lead poisoning. Late in the year a Brooklyn physician reported the case of William O'Connell, who was employed in the Brooklyn navy yard. In order to get the facts of the case it was necessary to see O'Connell. He proved to be a man below medium stature, thin and emaciated, his clothes sagging about him as he stood up. His teeth were decayed and falling out.

About four and one half years ago O'Connell got a job in the navy yard as a laborer. He was put to work at "scaling" in the double bottoms of the battleships. In two months he was troubled with nausea, constipation and chronic loss of appetite. Within a year he was taken with a severe attack of lead poisoning and almost lost the use of his arms. He was out of work for four months. He then returned to the navy yard and was given outside work and improved rapidly. A month later, however, he was laid off and was unemployed for four months. Then he was called back and sent to work again in the double bottoms. He protested but took the job and went back to scaling and to an absolute certainty of renewed poisoning. Within two months he was again taken with a severe attack and in September, 1911, he quit his job. He has been idle ever since and will not be able to work in the near future as he has almost completely lost the use of his right arm.

The morning was already far gone when all the formalities demanded by governmental "red tape" had been complied with and I was started on an inspection of the double bottoms where the men were scaling. My guide led me quickly to the dry docks where a big monitor was docked. We entered the turret from which a gun projected. All about us there was a most unearthly din which sounded as if a battery of automatic guns were playing on the steel sides of the ship. I was given a candle and followed the foreman down several flights of stairs and through a number of passageways until we were near the very keel of the ship.

Most battle ships now-a-days are provided with double bottoms a space of two and a half to three and a half feet between the inner and outer shell. This space is divided into small compartments usually not more than four or five feet square. Down into the double bottom we went. We crawled along slowly on hands and knees, working our way through several small manholes until we reached a compartment where a man was scaling. An electric light attached to a movable wire lighted the compartment. The workman, crouched forward on his knees, was operating a compressed air chisel called a "hammer," scraping off the paint. This paint which is sometimes a quarter of an inch thick and is composed of almost pure red oxide of lead, rose from the point of contact till the dangerous dust filled the air. Often times several men work in one small compartment and it is said that the dust sometimes becomes so thick that it is almost impossible to see an electric light two feet away.

When we emerged from the double bottoms it was already the noon hour and the men were sitting about eating their lunches. Only one had taken the trouble to get a bucket of water in which to wash his hands. The others had their hands red with the poisonous oxide, ate with apparent indifference. No conveniences are furnished them, no washing facilities and no instructions concerning the desperately dangerous character of their work. As we talked man after man told of the attacks of lead poisoning they themselves or their fellow workmen had had. Twenty men had suffered from lead poisoning caused by work in the double bottoms. Most of them had been so seriously affected that they were compelled to cease work for periods varying from a few days to as long as eleven months. Almost half of the men on this job had been leaded and many of them are in a critical state of ill health.

It would not be worth while to discuss this subject if lead poisoning were an absolutely necessary accompaniment to the maintenance and operation of battle ships, which, of course, we must have, at least so we are told. The tragedy of the whole situation is that lead poisoning is unnecessary. If the authorities of the Brooklyn navy yard had been on the alert, if the medical officer had been "on the job" not more than one case of lead poisoning, and that the first one, need ever to have occurred. The one sure, safe and sane method of preventing lead poisoning is to en-

SHE SUFFERED TEN MONTHS

Mrs. Blankenship Tells of Her Restoration to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Elliston, Va.—"I feel it my duty to express my thanks for what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has done for me. I was a sufferer from female troubles and had been confined in bed over one third of my time for ten months. I could not do my housework and had fainting spells so that my husband could not leave me alone for five minutes at a time.

"Now I have been restored to health and it has come from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. Whenever I see a suffering woman I want to tell her what this medicine has done for me and I will always speak a good word for it."—Mrs. ROBERT BLANKENSHIP, Elliston, Va., Montgomery Co.

Was Helpless—Now Well.
Trenton, Mo.—"About two years ago I had female trouble and inflammation so bad that I was literally helpless and had to be tended like a baby. I could not move my body or lift my foot for such severe pains that I had to scream. I was very nervous and had a weakness.

"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped me to such an extent that I think there is no medicine like it for female troubles. I am up and able to do my work again and I give you full permission to publish my letter for the sake of other suffering women."—Mrs. W. T. PURNELL, 320-10th St., Trenton, Mo.

tirely do away with the use of lead paints. France has recognized this need and within two years' time will have entirely done away with the use of lead in its paint compositions. There are other methods which if honestly carried out will prevent any serious consequences of lead poisoning either in this particular work or in other work where lead is used:
(1). A monthly physical examination of all the men, and the removal from that work of any man who shows symptoms of poisoning.
(2). An effective and localized system of dust removal.
(3). The provision of respirators and the enforcement of their use.
(4). The provision of washing facilities including hot water, soap, towels and shower baths and the enforcement of their use.
(5). Personal instruction and posted instructions concerning the dangers of the work and how to guard against them.
(6). The shifting of the men from the dangerous job to other work of a less dangerous character.

This is not merely the problem of a small group of men in a single navy yard. The same conditions probably exist in all our navy yards. On board ship, men are constantly employed at this work. With the many industrial occupations in which men come in contact with lead in one or another of its dangerous forms, the United States of America should set an example by eliminating lead poisoning from among the employees of the public.

N. J. Gorham, cashier Bank of Woodville, Woodville, Ga., had a very severe attack of kidney trouble and the pains in his kidneys and back were terrible. "I got a bottle of Foley Kidney Pills from our druggist and they entirely relieved me, I have more benefit from them than any other medicine." Sold by all druggists.

POINTERS FOR THE MOTORIST.

Care is Necessary in Carrying Spares.
Often times motorists seem to think that no care is necessary in carrying spare tires, says a Michelin expert. Uncovered envelopes are tossed on roofs of limousines where sun and rain beat upon them. Unprotected inner tubes are thrown carelessly into tool boxes where they come in contact with sharp tools.

Needless to say, such practices are destructive. Strong light is very injurious to rubber. So likewise is heat. For these reasons, if no other, spares should be kept in cases.
Moisture and oil are also injurious to tires. Waterproof wrappers which keep out light, moisture and oil and at the same time protect spares from injury by contact with sharp substances, can be had of any accessory dealer. Every motorist should use them.

Cardboard boxes are never satisfactory for carrying tubes in a car. Every vibration of the car causes chafing between the box and tube and since cardboard is harder than rubber, the tubes will inevitably be injured. Covers for inner tubes should take the form of bags which will fit snugly around the tube.

Foundations for Engle Dam.
Concrete foundations for the great Engle dam are now being placed on that section of the dam west of the river, in the excavation made under where the flume is to be located. This excavation was nearly 60 feet deep, but the work of filling in the concrete is progressing rapidly. As soon as the channel has completed its work, the second concrete mixer will be put in operation.

CONSIGNMENT SALE

We have a shipment of beds which came in damaged and which we refused to accept from the Railroad Company. These beds are all slightly damaged, but not enough to hurt them as to service. The enamel is scratched off of some of them, and others have a rod bent.
The damage does not affect the service or quality of the beds at all but we could not sell them as first class goods from our floor.

We arranged with the Railroad Company to sell the beds at whatever we could get for them, and make claim for the difference to them, and they have put the beds with us on consignment until they are sold. We are putting the prices below cost in order to move them, and you benefit by the railroad company's loss. Some of the beds are in our window while some are on our display floor. There are eleven beds in all, eight full size, in white, vernis martin, and one in satin brass. There are three 3-4 size, in white and vernis martin finish.

Jesse L. Neisbaum was here yesterday enroute to the coast. She is from Washington, D. C.

Mr. and Mrs. J. van Houten of Baton came in Wednesday evening from their home. Mr. Van Houten returned to the Gate City this afternoon but Mrs. Van Houten remained over for a short visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Chris Wiegand.—Las Vegas Optic.

A. B. McMillen, Miss Eileen McMillen, Barbara Johnson, H. B. Jamison, G. R. Roberts and R. S. Deltz came to Santa Fe from Albuquerque yesterday in automobiles and will return tonight. They saw the De Vargas pageant and today motored to the Tesuque Indian village north of the city.

Mrs. Sarah Astler, who spent two weeks in Taos visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. McCabe, left on Monday morning for her home in Santa Fe. Mrs. Astler made many friends during her short sojourn in Taos, and all hope to see her again in the not very distant future.—Taos Valley Recorder.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Eldott of Chama, Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Bond, Miss Hazel Bond and Miss Army Bond of Espanola, were visitors in Santa Fe over the Fourth and Fifth. Miss Bond and her sister joined a horse back party who rode overland to Espanola this morning.

Dr. Francis Eugene Elmerghr, of the University of Lima, Peru, has added his name to the cosmopolitan guest list Santa Fe has kept this week. Dr. Elmerghr was connected with the University of Mexico under the Diaz regime and has since lived in Peru and Buenos Ayres.

William D. Shea, traveling freight and passenger agent of the Denver & Rio Grande, with headquarters at Santa Fe, was a business visitor in Taos last Friday, looking after the interests of his company. Mr. Shea is a hustler, besides being an intelligent and pleasant gentleman, and is held in high esteem by Taos business men.—Taos Valley Recorder.

Dr. and Mrs. Albert Bushnell Hart of Cambridge, Mass., were interested spectators in the historic pageant yesterday. Dr. Hart is the head of the history department in Harvard University and is an authority on American history. He has been the exchange professor in Colorado College this year and stopped in Santa Fe on his way from Colorado Springs to Boston.

Jesse Nussbaum and Wallace Springer rode over from Las Vegas yesterday on a motorcycle. They have been giving exhibitions of western culture at George Washington University in Washington, D. C. this winter and are planning to stay in Santa Fe this summer to accumulate wild and woolly western stories for their work next winter. Several residents of Santa Fe remember Mr. Nussbaum's Indian motor cycle.

The Plaza Fiesta.

The Plaza Fiesta which is the event of the summer in Santa Fe helped make De Vargas day more of a gala-day than ever and was in itself a great success. The plaza was gay in its artistic decorations of long festoons of red and yellow bunting, the Spanish colors, and the various booths each one attractive with its wares, added to the old idea of a Mexican market. The north side of the plaza, facing the Palace of the Governors, was the real Mexican market where bewitching senoras and senoritas, Indian maidens sold their wares. The first booth was devoted to Mexican drawn-work and lace. Then came the candy booth always the most popular with young and old for the "dulces" were home made and, of course, delicious.

The band stand was devoted to the lunch counter, which consisted of sandwiches and coffee. The Indian maids sold beads and blankets and pottery at the next booth while the flower market vied with them all in its distinctness. Ice cream and cake were served in an enclosure which was a popular retreat for the weary and warm. The amusements were kept to the south side of the plaza and all the children were to be found around those tables. Madame Zilka had her fortune telling tent near there and her happy fortunes were said to bring such luck that she was kept busy all afternoon and evening.

The band played and the pretty Spanish senoritas sold flowers and De Vargas tags and everyone was doing it—What? Why being happy and making the Fiesta the greatest success yet.

Art Exhibit.

Santa Fe is fast becoming known as the art center of the state and the Southwest through the splendid exhibits that have been shown here during the winter and spring, in the rooms of the School of Archaeology. We are particularly fortunate this week to have the exhibit of Bert G. Phillips open to the public in the reception room of the Palace of the Governors.

Mr. Phillips is celebrated as a painter of Indians whose pictures have been exhibited all over America. He has lived in Taos for the past fourteen years and has done more than any other artist in promoting and encouraging the artists' colony there, which has now become famous in the art world.

Mr. Phillips has not ridden through the country on the Limited and afterwards given an exhibit of the "Indians of the Southwest as I have seen them," but has lived among the Taos tribe, nursing them in sickness, joining in their joyous dances, helping bury their dead and baptize the babies, hunting with them, fishing with them until he knows their life and habits and customs as his own. And for this reason as well as his skill as an artist he has made the Indian on his canvas living and natural.

As he hunted with them he has sketched them as they posed unconscious of the artist who was their companion. One example of this is that lovely yellow picture "Watching for the Signal," that shows an Indian standing beside his white pony in a grove of quaking aspens that have just turned a golden yellow. He has raised his hand watching, intent and motionless, for the signal that is to come from the scouting party on the summit of the mountain. The golden sunshine on the yellowing leaves leaves one with the most beautiful impression of a mellow Indian-summer day.

Two other pictures that have caught the Indian so naturally and with such vividness that one fears to disturb him, show two fishermen waiting and ready to spear the trout through the ice in the river. The background of dazzling white snow forms a splendid contrast for the eager, breathing forms of the Indians, the green blanket having fallen off one bare arm and shoulder as he waits intent upon the trout.

The smaller sketches are full of atmosphere and show picturesque scenes about Taos from the cool shadows on the river in the stillness of a midsummer afternoon, to the rosy sunset glow on a snow-tipped mountain peak.

Mr. Phillips has shown unusual skill and understanding in his pictures of Indian girlhood. They wear none of the Pokahontas beads and bracelets and leather-fringed skirts that so often misrepresent the Indian woman. "The Daughter of the Water Clan" is a fine example of true Indian girlhood, as she sits upon the white does-skin robe, quiet and unpretentious but as brave as any of the warriors of the Water Clan if the occasion demand.

"The Girl With the Cherry Blossoms" has dreams as evasive and far-away as any of her white sisters. Through the doorway of the reception room one catches a glimpse of the picture of a girl in a lilac-colored dress carrying a black cat on her head, walking through a field of purple flags. The harmony of color alone is a delight to the eye.

One of the most famous of Mr. Phillips' pictures is known as "The Captain of the Buffalo Dance." In the distance the Indians are going through the Buffalo dance while in the foreground the old captain looks on, majestic in the immense buffalo robe that covers him. He represents the great spirit that protects the herd.

The picture that leaves the deepest and most lasting impression is called "The Relics of His Ancestors." The young Indian has found the broken pots-sheds and implements in the deserted homes of the cave-dwellers, his ancestors. The expression that Mr. Phillips has caught on the Indian's face is the whole history of the Red man's civilization—the memory of the great deeds, the triumph of the tribe, the dances for thanksgiving, the chant for the dead and the ceremonial for the living—and then desertion and desolation.

Mr. Phillips' exhibit will be open Sunday, Monday and Tuesday and everyone should make the most of this opportunity and see the paintings.
