THE FOURTH DAY

Another Large Crowd of Interested Spectators at the Big Fair.

MONTEZUMA BALL LAST NIGHT

The Great Callahan Could Not Prevent Defeat for Albuquerque at Base Ball.

PROGRAM FOR THIS EVENING AND TOMORROW

Albuquerque may at future fairs have larger crowds than were present in the city yesterday, but the city will never entertain a happier lot of people. The exercises of the big exhibition began early and lasted until midnight. There was a surfeit of sports and amusements, and everybody voted the whole day a big success in funmaking. The parade was the largest and best ever witnessed in the territory, and only one accident, that to Mr. Joy, occurred to mar the pleasures of the day. The weather is perfect. This was arranged by the clerk of the weather when the morning stars first sang together.

Today there is a large crowd at the fair grounds enjoying the races and ball game.

Tonight the Elks will hold high carnival and fun and frolic will rule the streets.

GREAT YEIBECHE DANCE.

Will Be Given by Navajo Indians on Railroad Avenue Tonight.

The Navajo Indians will, tonight, on Railroad avenue, give a part of their great Yeibechi dance, led by one of the Kanuse brothers, celebrated tribe warriors.

It requires nine nights to give the dance, and only under certain circumstances of evil, or by direction of the four white chiefs, Richard, Winslow, John and Clayton Wetherell, for whom the Navajos will do anything, can they be induced to dance in public. Tradition, as interpreted by Winslow Wetherell, tells us that Yeibechi was an immense giant devil, who indulged in everything mean, and controlled the evil acts of the Indians, and as this particular dance was of his liking, and in order to please him and hasten his departure, the Indians always give the dance just prior to his coming, which occurs at certain regular periods, regulated by the sun.

As he never appears within sight, it is supposed his coming is at night, and so as to enable him to see, large fires are prepared to throw light upon the dancers.

This dance was begun at Pueblo Bonito on the night of the 13th and will be kept up until the 21st. The chant is also supposed to please his devilship and is entered into very earnestly.

THREE STRAIGHT.

The Crack Albuquerque Team Downed Again Yesterday Afternoon.

El Paso, 5; Albuquerque, 1. Everybody's hopes were raised when they heard that the great Callahan was to pitch for Albuquerque. Callahan, who shut the Detroit Tigers out without hit or run, would have easy picking with a bunch of minor leaguers.

Some thought so to the extent of several dollars, and once more, as on the two previous days, El Paso's backers got a little more easy money. There is no game so uncertain as base ball, nor so fascinating, which is the reason that it is the great American favorite pastime. The unexpected always happens and yesterday's game was no exception.

In reality Callahan pitched the better game of the two men, but the hits made off him by El Paso were made when hits meant runs. On the other hand, Albuquerque outbatted their opponents, but with the exception of one time, when Vorhes made a three bagger and afterwards scored the only run, their hits went for naught. The game was very exciting and was no sure thing for El Paso until the eighth inning, when, with two men on bases, Gear laced a stinger past center for the circuit of bases, and piled up three tallies on top of the two they scored in the fifth inning on two errors and a two and three base hit. In this inning three men were left on bases, through good head work of Callahan.

Vorhes, the only amateur who took part in yesterday's game, and a great favorite in New Mexico, again demonstrated his ability to hold his own with the best of them. He pulled down several short field flies, some of which were difficult, and handled ground balls perfectly. His head work is at all times good and he stings the leather as often as the best. His three base hit yesterday was a beauty and was loudly cheered.

Dale Gear is a star pitcher, but if there are any fielders who are any better than he the fans out this way would like to see them. Anything in the air in his territory and sometimes in the territory of others, is surely a "dead rabbit." He is modest, quiet and gentlemanly, as well as being a star player and an excellent judge of ball players.

It can truly be said that all the players participating in this tournament have behaved perfectly, which demonstrates that base ball is being elevated. It is the cleanest, healthiest sport known, and it is pleasant to know that the better element is coming to the fore as its star players.

There are two games to be played yet, and there is still hopes of our team landing a winner. There are some people willing to place their money so.

Who wouldn't be a base ball fan? The following is the tabulated score of the game:

Mrs. Nora Pearson, of Socorro, is in the city. She has friends here who are making her visit pleasant. F. H. Donahue, of Flagstaff, where he is well known and popular, is in the city today.

YESTERDAY'S RACES.

Ed. Winship Won the Trot—George Landers and Missile the Running Events.

The first event on the program was the free for all pace, the entries being Ed. Winship, Nancy King and Dudie Egan. The result was as follows: Ed. Winship 1 1 1 Nancy King 2 2 2 Dudie Egan 3 3 3 Time—2:24 3/4, 2:25 3/8, 2:23 3/8.

Five-eighths Mile Dash—Entries Joe D. Crozier, George Landers and Billy Hawk. In the draw for positions, George Landers got the pole and won the dash with comparative ease. Billy Hawk was second; Joe D. the favorite, third, and Crozier fourth. Time, 1:05. Five and One-eighths Furlongs—Entries Stella, Missile and Gillespie. The first horse was badly distanced, and the race between Missile and Gillespie was very close and exciting, the latter winning by about a length. Time, 1:07.

CLAY MCGONNIGAL WON.

He Captured the Roping Contest—J. C. Carroll Second.

The roping contest in the large arena at the fair yesterday afternoon was won by Clay McGonnigal, of Roswell. The broad shouldered muscular cow-the steer. After released he stood and pawed the earth. This was undoubtedly the most vicious one in the whole lot.

Clay McGonnigal, the winner of the first prize, went after a big roan. The steer was fast and a couple of small circles was made before McGonnigal had a chance to throw his rope. A cleaner throw could not have been made. Leaping from his horse which was well trained and kept a tight rope, he made a speedy tie in 45 seconds.

The quickest throw was made by an Indian, Platero. His steer was a spotted one and he rode a large black horse. This scene, on account of the contrasting colors, was picturesque. A short distance from the corral the Indian threw his rope. It caught the steer square and with a quick turn of the rope he was down. It was no doubt the quickest throw, but he lost time in tying.

J. W. Bullard, another Indian, a man named Wagner and Wetherell all were given an opportunity but either failed to get a hold or were away out of the limit.

The roping was no acting, or performance from rehearsals, but was an actual contest between man and beast. The crowd was cheering continually. There were many amusing incidents, as well as the interesting and fascinating life of the plainmen.

ON RAILROAD AVENUE.

Military Drill—Indian Dances and Midway Attractions.

As early as 6:30 o'clock last evening people began gathering on Railroad avenue to witness the feats of the program arranged. At 8 o'clock it was estimated that 10,000 people were on the streets.

The first number on the program was an excellent exhibition of Butta's manual drill by a dismounted squad of troop F, of the Fourteenth cavalry, under command of Lieutenant Reed.

The watch fire was lighted and a big black mob of dusky warriors appeared on West Railroad avenue. Electric search lights played on them as they advanced toward the crowds near Third and Second streets. The glaring lights shining on the swarthy complexions of the advancing Indians, decked in gorgeous paints, shining silver ornaments and feathers, made a very interesting and thrilling scene. The dance was the Yeibechi. It is the Navajos' fall festival dance and has been in progress several weeks. About 8:30 the watch fires burned low and the Navajos departed to their smoking tepees west of the city.

The crowds were then attracted to the different amusements in progress. Some went to the midway, some went to the circus, a few to the smoker at Colombo hall and others went to the Montezuma ball.

The people were thickest on the midway. The band discoursed music and the show criers harangued their features in their fascinating and attractive gib.

The sight seers had plenty of money and the midway attractions did a good business.

MONTEZUMA BALL.

Held at the Alvarado Last night and Was a Grand Affair.

That magnificent hostelry, "Alvarado," the pride of the people of Albuquerque, was formally opened last night by the Montezuma ball and reception.

An electric fountain sprayed rainbows on the front lawn under the rays of a powerful searchlight placed in position over the front entrance archway.

The broad verandas were thronged with eager sightseers and admirers. The spacious dining room had been cleared for the occasion and many minutes before the arrival of the queen, was lined with hundreds of elegantly dressed ladies and handsome gentlemen in conventional dress. Evergreen, palms and ferns were artistically arranged around the ball room and lobby. The mellow opalescent electrolights cast a rich glow over the polished floor and elegant surroundings.

The king, Sheriff T. S. Hubbell, as Montezuma, due to arrive at 10 o'clock, was some minutes late. The guests were all present and in position. At 10:15 Professor Di Mauro's orchestra announced the coming. The king's courtiers entered the ball room from the hotel lobby. His majesty entered immediately afterward and proceeded to the throne in the south end of the hall, after hesitating in front of the throne a few moments as if making sure that it was in readiness to receive her majesty, Miss Mabel Hunt, as Queen Tezico. King Montezuma then returned to the lobby entrance, where he met the queen and escorted her to the throne, paid homage and took a seat proffered him at her right. The queen was followed by her court of ladies and pages. The queen's costume was in the style of olden times. It was modest in color and fine of texture. Yellow and light blue silk predominating. She wore a gilded crown. The king's robes were modern and more gorgeous. They were of fine, rich material and purple, green and gold in color. He also wore a crown of gold.

The throne was rather modest. It was raised from the floor only slightly. Rich oriental rugs and tapestry of golden color, cushioned and canopied the royal station. The royal court engaged in a pretty drill before the throne to slow measured music.

The grand march, led by Samuel Picard and Miss McFie, of Las Cruces, followed. After a few circles of the hall, the guests joined in and the dancing was on.

The maids were those who attended the queen in the morning—the Misses Wiley, Miss Stevens, Miss Fitch, Miss McFie and Miss Tascher. The winsome Catherine was again the flower girl and the Grimmer children the pages.

The gentlemen in waiting on the king were Messrs. Spencer, McPherson, Bell, Shaw, Matson and Lester; the dancers, Messrs. Picard, Brooks, Hunt, Alger, Hertzog and Frost.

The dancing programs were pretty unique cardboard gilt-edged folders, set off with cord and pencil of royal color. It consisted of sixteen regular dances and four extras, and bore the inscription, "First Annual Ball, Alva-

The Midway attractions will be open during the morning and a band will make music on the grounds.

At 1:30 p. m.—Horse racing will begin at the fair grounds.

2 p. m.—Base ball game. Same teams that played today with a change of pitchers.

3:45 p. m.—Mounted cavalry drill and sham battle at fair grounds by troop F, Fourteenth United States cavalry.

4 p. m.—Indian pony five-mile relay race. Twenty-five Indians and 125 ponies will participate in this event, and it will be one of the notable features of the fair. Twenty-five gorgeously painted Indian braves mounted on twenty-five sturdy long-winded ponies, will start in a bunch and each horse will be ridden around the half mile course twice. At the end of each mile the horses will be changed. The transfer of saddles and trappings will be made directly in front of the grand stand, so that the spectators will get a good view of the excited bucks in making the changes. It will be great fun.

4:30 p. m.—Bronco roping by Indians. This feature of amusement created lots of fun last year.

7:30 p. m.—Grand final Indian races and Indian dances on Railroad avenue.

The Midway attractions will be in progress during the entire evening.

9:00 p. m.—Banquet and initiations at the Shriners' hall.

BASE BALL CARNIVAL.

A Boost for Base Ball and the El Paso Carnival.

There is little doubt now that a $2,000 championship base ball series will be a feature of El Paso's coming mid-winter carnival in January, and, of course, it will be practically for Albuquerque's special benefit. The El Paso people attached an importance to the 1902 Albuquerque fair that has never been manifest before, and not only did they send a ball team that plays championship ball, but they sent along carnival rosters and advertising matter that has stirred the town.

"Now that we stand to win your prize," said one of the gentlemen yesterday, "we propose to show we are good fellows by offering you a chance to win a bigger one at our carnival." The idea is generally liked here and will probably receive support.

The El Paso people are a hustling lot, and their clever idea of presenting bunches of keys on which was stamped "Return to El Paso carnival, January 13-17, 1903," "To the big midway" and "To sunshine in January," took like wild fire. Every other passer by wore one, and the demand was far greater than could be supplied. "We could have placed 10,000 instead of 5,000 if we but had them," said Secretary Massey, of the El Paso Carnival association. Their other methods of advertising included the distribution of thousands of dodgers at the fair grounds, prodigal use of the carnival colors and carnival talk, and the display of their big banner at Railroad avenue and Second street.

The El Paso show this year will be a big affair, probably the largest of its kind in the west, and will include an elaborate reproduction of the electrical night pageants of eastern cities, Mexican bull fights, wild west features, drills by United States infantry, cavalry and artillery, a $2,500 rock drilling contest, an immense enclosed midway, a score of free attractions, etc.

LION COFFEE.

It is Not Glazed, and Yet the Best in the Market.

One of the most striking booths at floral hall is that of the Lion coffee. M. O'Brien is in charge and Mrs. K. Stevenson is doing the demonstrating. If you will stop and let the lady serve you a cup of the delicious coffee she will demonstrate that Lion coffee is on a par with the highest priced blended coffees, and she will also say to you that L. B. Putney, the wholesale grocer, has the exclusive agency for the goods in New Mexico.

Mr. Putney was represented in the parade yesterday with a handsome float decorated with Lion coffee and Gold Coin flour. Thousands of samples of the coffee were distributed among the people yesterday from Mr. Putney's wagon.

Lion fancy roasted coffee is imported and roasted by the Woolson Spice co., Toledo, Ohio, and is guaranteed to please the most fastidious tastes. Other coffees are glazed, the Lion coffee is not. If glazing helps coffee, why is not the famous Mocha-Java glazed.

House Breakers in Evidence.

A house on North Fifth street was broken into last night and a lot of ladies clothing stolen. Entrance was effected through a rear window, while the people were out seeing the many attractions. plunderers were has been discovered, the window, but no clue as to who the plunderers were has been discovered. The loss was not very large, but the matter will be thoroughly investigated.

FOR ARBITRATION

President Roosevelt's Proposition Meets Approval.

MINERS VOTING FOR ARBITRATION

Lord Kitchener Goes to India to Assume Command.

BIG SUMMER HOTEL BURNED.

Wilkesbarre, Oct. 17.—All the locals throughout the anthracite coal fields are engaged today in electing delegates to the mine workers' convention to be held here next Monday for the purpose of considering the acceptance of the plan of arbitration submitted by President Roosevelt. These meetings are being held in accordance with the call sent out yesterday by the three executive boards. There is nothing on the surface at this time to indicate that the arbitration scheme will not be accepted.

Favor Arbitration.

Mt. Carmel, Pa., Oct. 17.—Twenty meetings of locals of the United Mine Workers held in this region today and delegates to the Wilkesbarre convention were chosen. In nearly every instance the delegates were instructed to follow the advice of President Mitchell and the district officers.

Kitchener Goes to India.

London, Oct. 17.—Lord Kitchener started today for India to assume command of the British forces there. He goes by way of Paris and will visit Khartoum. Absolute secrecy is maintained regarding all the arrangements for his departure, so he got away unnoticed.

Hotel Burned.

Jamestown, N. Y., Oct. 17.—The Grand hotel at Point Chautauque, one of the largest and finest hotels around Chautauque Lake, was burned early today. Loss, $200,000.

Bond Purchase.

Washington, Oct. 17.—Secretary Shaw has directed the treasury department to give notice that it will purchase today and tomorrow 4 per cent bonds of 1920 at 137 1/2.

RUN OVER BY HACK.

Leonard Dunning the Victim of Reckless Driving. Leonard Dunning, the 10 year old son of H. L. Dunning, of The Citizen job department, was fatally injured by being run down by a cab yesterday afternoon near the fair grounds.

The little fellow was crossing the street, when about the middle the cab struck him. He fell under the wheels both wheels passing over his shoulders and breast. The cab driver drove on as though nothing had happened.

Little Leonard Dead.

The cruel wheels of the hack, driven by a reckless, heartless driver, did their work, and little Leonard, the bright son of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Dunning, now lies cold in death, his sufferings coming to an end at noon today. Funeral arrangements will be announced in The Citizen tomorrow afternoon.

Lawn Tennis.

Hollister defeated Newman yesterday easily in straight sets. Brooks, of this city, and S. T. Reynolds, of Socorro, play singles today. The winner will play Stamm, having gained his position without competition by default of Davis, of Las Vegas.

Knapp and Reynolds, of Socorro, were to meet Hollis and Avery, of Watrous, in doubles today.

Postponed.

The meeting of the Territorial Press association, which was to have been held at the Alvarado yesterday, has been postponed until next January, and will meet at Santa Fe during the convening of the next legislature. By order of the president, Nestor Montoya.

Lunar Eclipses.

There can be but three lunar eclipses in a year. Four eclipses of the sun can take place, in which case there are never more than two lunar eclipses. Should the sun suffer an eclipse such as occurred last night it would be followed by a sudden change in the weather and very likely by a severe storm. The eclipse of the moon will have no such effect.

The Citizen learns that C. E. French, who for the past year or two has been in the employ of John Becker at Belen, intends to leave shortly.

The Elks carnival tonight will be a rousing funmaker.

This is Elks day and tomorrow the Shriners will have charge of the city.

The Las Vegas Optic wails over the republican harmony in Santa Fe, and shows signs of revising its good opinion of Mr. Catron.

The strike, has cost the miners $29-
350,000, and the operators $68,800,000.
Add both together and you will get what the strike will cost the people.

The tariff is the paramount issue in New Mexico. We can exist under a territorial form of government, but cannot live under the democratic free trade system.

"The man in the moon" certainly saw something naughty in this city last night, and about 11 o'clock hid his face in deep obscurity. The eclipse was a grand success.

El Paso has a ball team that is hard to beat. They have played three games in this city without an error, and have outclassed the Albuquerque National league team in each game. It is no disgrace to be beaten by such excellent players.

It was impossible to get the newspaper men to attend the annual meeting of the Territorial Press association. President Montoya tried twice to get a meeting, but failed in each instance. He has adjourned the meeting until next January.

The Las Vegas Record says: "The Albuquerque Citizen of Monday was a fine, illustrated edition, very attractive, and full of interesting information about that city and New Mexico.
Albuquerque's newspapers appreciate the generous support they are receiving from the business men of that town."

The manner in which the great Alvarado hotel has been conducted during the fair certainly reflects credit upon the executive ability of the manager, Mr. Klooz. The Harvey system made no mistake in their selection for this arduous position. The Citizen has heard many complimentary statements from visiting guests relative to the up-to-dateness of everything about this magnificent hostelry.

Mr. Ferguson made a big political mistake in accepting the democratic nomination. Antonio Joseph was the first choice of the convention, but sec-ing sure defeat he declined to make the race. At Las Cruces a few years ago, Mr. Joseph was not so modest.

He crowded Ferguson out of the race
by threatening to bolt if he was not nominated. Mr. Ferguson was crowded into accepting the nomination this year by men in his party who wish to see him defeated.

Manuel Pino has declined to accept the republican nomination for representative from Socorro county, and the county central committee has substituted D. A. Ortega for the position. Mr.
Ortega is one of the brightest young men in that county, and if elected will do good work for his constituents.

NEW MEXICO FAIR.

The Denver Republican always says kind words about New Mexico, and has the following concerning the territorial fair:

"The New Mexico fair, now in progress in Albuquerque, is the leading annual exposition in that part of the southwest. It attracts attention all over both New Mexico and Arizona, and it is an excellent means of advertising the resources of those territories.

"The people of Albuquerque are liberal and generous in preparing for the annual visit of many strangers as well as residents of the adjacent country.
They appreciate the advantage to their city as well as to New Mexico and Arizona of this exhibition of the products of the country, and no one can visit Albuquerque during the progress of the fair without being impressed by the enterprise of the people and the abundant provision nature has made for great and prosperous states to be erected within the limits of New Mexico and its neighbor.

"Denver people as a rule seem to have overlooked the New Mexico fair, although it is talked about every year and the papers have had much to say concerning its attractions and advantages. It is unfortunate that this is true, for a good way for Denver people to put themselves in touch with New Mexico and Arizona is to attend this fair and become acquainted with the people of the southwest whom they would in that way encounter. Visitors from this city would find much both to interest and to instruct them concerning the resources of the country by examining the mineral and agricultural exhibits they would see. We are sure that many of them would be surprised to find the territories of New Mexico and Arizona so rich and so well equipped for future growth and development."

IT'S A CORKER.

A Telegram Received Complimenting
the Illustrated Citizen.

W. T. McCreight, of the Citizen, today received a telegram from a friend in Pueblo, Colo., complimenting the illustrated fair memorial edition of The Citizen. The telegram is as follows:

"Pueblo, Colo., Oct. 16.—The Citizen of October 13 just received in delayed mail. Had the paper been published in New York or Chicago it would need no comment. Coming, as it does, from a town of 12,000 people, all I can say is, 'It's a corker.' Allow me to congratulate you, Mac. Fifty thousand copies if this issue scattered throughout the east would mean big things for Albuquerque and I hope the people there realize the fact and act on it."

the youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs.

Mr. Bell's parents. They will make

SOUTHWESTERN Brewery and Ice Company

INCORPORATED 1885

The first brewery in Albuquerque was built by Ferdinand Selva, in 1885, and two years later the Southwestern Brewery & Ice company was organized and incorporated to succeed to the business. In 1889 and 1890, respectively, Jacob and Henry Loeb, formerly of the great breweries of St. Louis, came to Albuquerque and purchased the local brewery.

The plant was originally small, but its capacity was adequate to every demand, and it was not until after the Loeb became interested in the business that it grew to proportions demanding an expansion of facilities. In 1898, less than ten years after they purchased the original plant, the Loeb laid the foundations for their present imposing buildings, and the old brewery and ice plant were abandoned immediately upon completing and equipping the buildings.

As it stands today, the brewery is the finest in the southwest. It has a capacity of 40,000 barrels of beer per annum, and the ice plant has a capacity of thirty tons a day, besides refrigerating the company's cellars, etc. The buildings are handsome brick structures, resembling the great breweries of the east, and the equipment is modern throughout. A bottling plant is maintained in connection, and has a capacity of a thousand bottles per hour. A feature of this plant is the new automatic bottle washer, by means of which 30,000 bottles a day may be thoroughly cleansed. This machine washes sixteen bottles at a time, and was installed at a cost of $500.

The brewery and ice plant, with the grounds, cover more than half a block, and, being immediately on the railroad track, are advantageously situated for forwarding. The company receives patronage from all over New Mexico and Arizona, and the item of transfer salvage is an important consideration. Beer and ice are shipped as far as Kingman, Ariz., on the west, south to El Paso, Deming, Silver City and Tucson, and north into Colorado.

In view of the fact that many brewers, owing to the high price of malt, substitute inferior ingredients, it is well to state that the Southwestern Brewery & Ice company does use malt and rarely has less than 1,500 bushels on hand. No adulterants are used, and the result is apparent in the brew, which is of clear amber color, of superior flavor and of the highest grade of excellence.

The process of brewing is no less interesting than instructive, and, as the general public is not informed on the subject, it may be well to present an explanation herewith. The process begins in the brew house, which, in the instance of the Southwestern Brewery & Ice company, is a three-story structure. On the top floor is a mill for grinding the malt; immediately under this is the malt hopper, beside which is a hot water tank, and below these is the mash tub, which has a capacity of 126 barrels. The mash tub is on the ground floor, where are also the engine and a large kettle.

After the malt has been ground, the water in the hot water tank is heated and a certain portion turned into the mash tub. The mash machine is then started and the proper amount of ground malt is let in through the hopper, which communicates with the mash tub. After about a half an hour of stirring with the great steam rake, which is the feature of the mash machine, the mash is allowed to settle. After an hour more water, of a higher temperature than that first admitted, is let into the mash tub, and the mash machine is started again. This time it runs only a quarter of an hour, after which the mash is heated by steam to its final temperature. The mash machine is then put in motion for another twenty minutes, after which the mash has a rest of an hour. The malt "wort," or extract, is then pumped into the brew kettle, in which there is a steam coil, and after being boiled for two hours and a half, hops are added in three different portions. After the boiling is finished the mash tub is cleaned out, and the hop wort is drawn off into that receptacle, from which it is pumped up to the surface cooler, in an adjoining structure, and thence to what is known as a baidelot cooler.

From the coolers the liquid passes to the settling vat, which is on the fourth floor of the main structure. When it has thoroughly settled it is drawn off to the fermentation vats on the floor below, where the temperature is a few degrees lower than on the fourth floor, which is kept at about 44 degrees F. There are a great many vats in the fermentation room, filled with beer in the various stages of fermentation, and as rapidly as the liquid is thoroughly fermented it is drawn off to the Ruh vats on the second floor, where the temperature is still lower, for maturing. From this room the beer passes to immense vats in the cold storage room, on the ground floor, where the temperature is only a few degrees above freezing. These vats contain about 75,000 gallons of beer, and are the source from which the supply is drawn for the daily shipments and deliveries.

The entire process, from the brew-house to the cold storage cellars, requires about six months, practically all of which time is spent in the maturing vats. The quality of the brew is determined not only by the ingredients, and the proportions in which they are mixed, but, as well, by the temperatures maintained during the various stages of the process.

The company brews three or four times a week and fully two-thirds of the output is shipped to points outside of Albuquerque. The leading commercial brand is "Pilsener," and it has a wide sale in Albuquerque, being handled by the Alvarado and other fine bars of the city, besides being sold extensively to the family trade; but the Bavarian and Bohemian beers brewed by the company are quite as popular among connoisseurs, and "Culmacher," a very dark beer, is extensively used as a tonic.

The new ice plant was built the present year. A fine "Vilter" compressor has been installed. Double distilled water is used for making the ice, and the blocks are frozen in deep cans of 400 pounds capacity. The cans are submerged in brine through which ammonia pipes are run, and a traveling crane is run over the cans to lift them when the blocks are solid. As above stated, the capacity is thirty tons a day besides the refrigeration of the company's cellars.

Jacob and Henry Loeb are natives of Bavaria, but have been in the United States since boyhood. They are experienced brewers and do their own brewing. In a few years, by industry and honorable dealing, they have built up a business that covers the entire southwest with its trade, and, beginning with a primitive plant, have erected a modern brewery and ice factory valued at upwards of $100,000.

WILLIAM FARR.

Wholesale and Retail Dealer in Fresh and Salt Meats.

William Farr conducts the largest wholesale and retail meat business of any butcher in the southwest. He established his business in 1889, and since that time has built up a trade that demands the best of facilities. Accordingly, he has spared no expense in the equipment of his place, and there is not another establishment of the kind in the territory that compares to the shop and factory he conducts at 217 South Second street.

Some idea of the magnitude of Mr. Farr's business may be had from the fact that, to supply his trade requires the slaughter of eighty fat hogs, 150 sheep, 150 hogs and as many veal calves as he can buy every month. At the present season New Mexico range stock supplies the demand for cattle, but during the greater part of the year hogs are shipped in from other states. The sheep are all grown in this and adjoining counties. Hogs and calves are bought both locally and are shipped in from other places, in instances remote from Albuquerque.

Mr. Farr does his own slaughtering, and has an abattoir situated on the outskirts of the city. It is provided with every appliance for handling the hogs, sheep, hogs, etc., and the utmost regard for cleanliness is observed from the time the animals are slaughtered until the emats hang in the refrigerators at the shop. After ten days in cold storage, meats are ready for the block, and the tenderest viands of prime beef, mutton, pork and veal are sold right in Mr. Farr's shop.

Besides the fresh meats above noted, Mr. Farr has venison, other game, poultry, fish and oysters in season, and carries all kinds of smoked and cured meats, sausage, etc. All smoked and cured meats sold are the product of his own smoke house and curing room, and he has a steam sausage factory of large capacity. He also makes his own lard, which is put up in tin buckets, bearing his name. He makes a specialty of this product, in which his business is so large that he maintains a box factory, where cans and buckets are boxed for shipment. His finer grades of lard are equal to the best brands of commerce. He will make a specialty of mince meat during the present fall and winter.

Mr. Farr's shop is exceptional in many respects. The average butcher shop has the odor of the meat, whether tainted or fresh, and if it is not offensive it is nevertheless pronounced. There is no odor to be detected in his shop. Everything is kept immaculately clean, and the effect is to remove all factory evidence of the meat shop. The refrigerator is both the finest and the largest in the territory. The forward section has a capacity for half a car of meat, the middle room accommodates twice that quantity, and the rear compartment will hold a half car of pork. All meats are brought in through the back and are placed in position in the refrigerator by being suspended on hooks attached to rollers on overhead rails and being pushed along until the desired spot is reached, where they are left.

William Farr is a native of Missouri, but lived nearly all his life until he came to Albuquerque, in California. He has been here for twenty years, and during that time has built up a trade that covers the entire territory and a portion of Arizona. He is a man of praiseworthy public spirit, and takes the initiative in all enterprises designed for the public weal.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE.

Fine Display From a Fine Institution at the Fair Grounds.

The exhibit brought up to the fair by the Agricultural college, at Mesilla Park, is one of the most impressive displays of practical educational work that has ever been shown in this city. A reporter for The Citizen made a careful inspection of the exhibit today and came away strongly impressed with its many instructive and interesting features. No one can look over the big college exhibit in Exhibition hall without realizing the powerful work for good which that institution is doing for the young people of the territory as well as the work being done by the experiment station for the public generally.

The agricultural interests of the college and the Mesilla valley adjacent thereto have sent up a display of apples that will run the San Juan county exhibit very close for the quality of its fruit. It is late in the season for most of the fruits grown in the Mesilla valley and the heavy crop of peaches, pears, and grapes that has been gathered down in the garden spot are not represented in the fair exhibit to any extent. The display of preserved fruits, however, from the college, shown in exhibition hall, is worth the admission to the fair grounds alone to see. The fruits look even more attractive than if fresh and the method employed by the college preserves these beautiful effects indefinitely. There is a large number of tall glass jars, each containing a different variety of fruit or vegetable and in each case the jar is ticketed with the complete data of the growing and cultivation of the fruit. As an educational display of interest to the fruit growers of the territory this feature is of immense value.

The college down at Mesilla Park believes in practical work; it gives no classical courses, teaches no Greek and but little Latin. It goes on the idea of "learning by doing." This policy of the institution is well illustrated in the exhibit which it makes of students from the engineering department actually at work. Two students are to be seen at carpenter's benches doing the actual class work which the department assigns to all students enrolled therein. Every student in the department has the use of a carpenter's bench with complete equipment exactly as shown at Exhibition hall. The engineering department has also a display of each kind of work done by the students, including forge work, machine work, wood turning, and bench work, as well as a beautiful display of mechanical drawings. The reporter was impressed with the good work done by at least one student, whose home is in this city.

The important work done by the college in pumping from wells for irrigation, about which so much has been recently said in the press, is represented graphically in the exhibit. A pump typical of the style used most successfully in the experimental test is on display and a large chart graphically sets forth results secured. It was found that the work and cost of irrigating from wells was much less than had been supposed possible. The college has successfully thrown a continuous stream of over 1,000 gallons a minute from a six-inch well not fifty feet deep. With one pump throwing a smaller stream, 800 gallons a minute were thrown for a continuous run of thirty hours. The cost of irrigating was found to be not more than 58 cents per acre for an irrigation of three inches. This particular display is accompanied by photographs showing the pump in action and anyone who inspects these and notices the immense body of water gushing forth from six and seven-inch pipes will forget for the moment that he is in the arid region.

The department of stenography and typewriting is again to the front, as it usually is with an effective display of students' work. It shows typewriters of different styles which are used in its work at the college and displays on the wall some wonderfully neat ornamental work done by its students. Attention is called to the work of the department in training stenographers in both English and Spanish, in which work it has been the pioneer in the United States and has attracted many students who have come from nearly every state in the union. These students, after becoming competent in both English and Spanish, have gone to various places in Mexico, the Philippines, and Porto Rico, as well as the United States, to fill responsible and high salaried positions.

An interesting feature of the experiment station work as shown in the college display is the exhibit of a complete field outfit for the analysis of soils in the field. This comes from the department of soil physics. It includes electrical apparatus for the determination of moisture and alkali in soils; a variety of soil augers for taking soil samples at various depths; and a complete set of glass tubes, flasks and other similar apparatus for use in the work. There is also a filter pump for filtering samples of water examined in the field.

Seven head of fine cattle are shown out at the fair grounds from the college herd of cattle. These include direct strain of cattle from the well known Ancient Briton, as well as other famous strains. The types of cattle represented include Hereford, Jersey and Durham. The cattle are in excellent condition and are worth careful inspection by all lovers of well bred stock.

The college exhibit occupied a whole car in coming up. It is much the largest exhibit ever sent to this city by any educational institution. It is intensely practical, extremely interesting, and strikingly illustrative of the magnificent work the college and experiment station at Mesilla Park are doing for the good—not of any one locality—but for the good of the territory at large.

ART DEPARTMENT.

A List of Those Who Made This Department a Success.

The art exhibit at the fair grounds is exceptionally good this year.

Mr. J. Collombin has some fine oil paintings on exhibition. The one of ex-Governor Stover is excellent and the three New Mexico landscapes done in impressionist style could hardly be better. The reddish purple tinge of the impressionist school is especially adapted to represent the glow which is thrown over the landscape of our atmosphere at sunset. The two pictures loaned by Mr. Collombin, relics of the old world, one 200 and the other 300 years old, have attracted a great deal of attention.

There are two photographic displays, one from Silver City, by Mrs. Bryant, which is very nice, and the other by our local artist, Mr. Butman, which shows his artistic skill. The latter contains some very finely finished pictures of our territory's fair daughters and many of Albuquerque's most prominent men.

Mrs. W. S. Burke has a silk quilt on exhibition which is very pretty. It was made by her mother when 87 years old.

Mrs. Jennie Albertson has some exceedingly nice embroidery. One can hardly realize she is but 16 years old, and has a crippled hand. She also has a crazy quilt done when she was but 15 years old and is very good.

Mrs. Rutherford has a display of her hair work which is very good.

The oil paintings of Minnie Ward Patterson are very good.

There are three quite unique rugs by Mrs. J. Q. de Garcia.

The show case contains some exceptionally beautiful embroidery. There is one piece by Mrs. Saint, a lunch cloth with a deep lace border and appliqued roses. Also a large center piece with embroidered La France roses by Mrs. Kearns.

Two lunch cloths, one with roses and one with sweet peas and several smaller pieces, by Mrs. T. E. Gargan. A lace collar, lace child's cap and three or four other pieces of fine lace work by Mrs. R. Appleton.

EDUCATIONAL COUNCIL.

The Professors Met at the Alvarado Last Night.

Last night, the Educational council of New Mexico met in informal session at the handsome Alvarado hotel, Manager Kloox and assistants making it pleasant for the educators.

At the meeting last night there were present Prof. Luther Foster, president of the Agricultural college, Mesilla Park; Prof. Wood and Prof. Grant, of Santa Fe; Prof. Larkin, of Gallup; Professors Stroop and Decker of this city, and M. E. Hickey, ex-superintendent of the city public schools.

The president of the council, Prof. Hewitt, of Las Vegas, failed to put in an appearance on account of the delay of the train, and in consequence adjournment was taken until this morning.

Accident to Joy.

Careless driving was the cause of a dangerous accident at the corner of Gold avenue and First street yesterday morning. It occurred as the parade was passing. The Santa Fe float rubbed against a pole on the Grunfeld Bros' corner, cutting the wire used in raising and lowering a large arc light which hangs above the street. The lamp descended rapidly, striking Wm. J. Joy, a switchman employed in the local yards and two other gentlemen standing near. Joy's face was badly cut with flying glass. He was taken to the Alvarado Pharmacy near by, where his wounds were dressed. His lip was badly cut. The other gentlemen were knocked down, but not seriously injured. These facts were elicited after The Citizen had gone to press yesterday afternoon and are in addition to what was published in yesterday's Citizen.

SILVER AVENUE STABLE.

L. E. Carey, Proprietor.

The Silver Avenue Stable was established by L. E. Carey September 1st of the present year, and, though not the largest establishment of the kind in the city, is equal in quality of equipment, having some of the finest roadsters and saddle horses used for livery purposes in Albuquerque. There are at present about a dozen horses in the livery department, together with all the vehicles and paraphernalia necessary for their use, including road wagons, single buggies, phaetons, two-seaters, etc. Boarders are also kept by the day, week or month, at reasonable rates, and receive careful attention. Feed is sold and horses traded. Mr. Carey came originally from Independence, Kan., where he was engaged in farming, and before opening the Silver Avenue stable, ran a livery establishment on Gold avenue. He is a thorough horseman, and keeps only good stock. He expects to enlarge his stable in the near future and add a number of horses and new rigs. Call up Bell phone A22, when you want prompt livery service.

THE BAND HERE.

The Las Vegas Musicians Finally Reached the Metropolis.

The Las Vegas Military band called at and serenaded The Citizen office shortly before noon today. It is needless to say that the music was fine and duly appreciated.

It is to be regretted that the band boys had to undergo such hardships as they did in coming. The band boys are in the best of spirits. They left Las Vegas yesterday morning at 6 o'clock. At 6:20, three and a half miles south, Ojita station, the train ran into a broken rail and the engine, tender and one car were derailed. Fortunately no one was injured beyond a few scratches received by the engineer and fireman. The band was taken back to Las Vegas disappointed. The citizens of the Meadow City decided that the band should come to the fair and Superintendent Fox, of the Santa Fe, came to the rescue by furnishing a private car attached to second No. 1, which arrived here last night. They gave a nice musical program at the Alvarado last night and are around today seeing the sights. The personnel of the band is as follows:

H. Ehlers, director and piccolo; Edis Springer, piccolo; B. Anzi, clarinet; G. A. Lagado, clarinet; R. Kasper, cornet; J. Moran, cornet; L. Alvarez, cornet; F. Kimball, cornet; Edward Lewis, cornet; J. Cook, baritone; W. J. Davis, tenor; B. L. Corey, tenor; P. Cook, trombone; E. McElroy, alto; B. Owen, alto; J. Ortega, alto; H. Brown, tenor; H. C. Smith, bass; F. Hicks, bass; J. Gallagos, bass drum; G. Davis, snare drum; Jas. Duncan, Jr., drum major; A. Felch, property man.

MURDER AND SUICIDE.

Two Men Shot Dead and Murderer Then Commits Suicide.

New York, Oct. 17.—William C. Turner today shot and killed Albert Hamilton, of Pittsburg, and W. J. Mallard, in the office of the law firm of Cantor & McIntyre, in Broad street, and then committed suicide. Turner was at one time treasurer of the Climax Bottling company, in which the other two men were interested and the three met today to effect a settlement growing out of an alleged defalcation on the part of Turner. During the conference a heated discussion arose and Turner drawing a revolver, killed Hamilton and Mallard, and then turning the weapon upon himself, committed suicide. Turner came from Mt. Vernon, N. Y.

He Hurt the Pole.

An unknown man was either pushed or fell off a car returning from the fair last night. In falling he struck a telegraph pole and was rendered unconscious for a short time. Some of his friends came back and took care of him. Dr. Phillips happened along at the time and examined him, but found that the shock from falling was the only injury. He was taken away by his friends.

Norris & Rowe's tent was filled with a large crowd who were delighted with the performance of the dogs, horses and other trained animals. Military drilling of the ponies under commands showed that the animals possessed an exceptional degree of intelligence. Every feature of the show was interesting and greatly enjoyed by the crowd.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

The infant son of Mr. and Mrs. Thorn died of pneumonia yesterday at their home on North Fourth street. The funeral was held this afternoon at 3 p. m., the Rev. Bunker officiating. Interment at Fairview. O. W. Strong & Sons prepared the remains for burial.

The sad news of the death of Frank Ewing, of Gallup, has reached this city. The young man was 32 years of age and was well liked by all who knew him. He had only been sick a couple of weeks with typhoid fever.

Justice of Peace De Shon, of Gallup was in the city today giving the fair his assistance. He will go to Santa Fe to attend the Sarner's big event.

Dr. T. A. Warring and wife, of Gallup are in attendance to the fair.

Mrs. John Greene and son, Leslie, of Washington, D. C., who spent last winter in Albuquerque, returned to the city yesterday to escape the chilling blasts of an eastern winter.

Harvey Powell, in the employ of the Santa Fe at Ash Fork, is in the city for the festivities and to visit his parents.

William R. Ulley, of New York, interested in the Algodons smelter scheme, is in the city, and called at The Citizen in company with A. J. Frank.

F. A. Grimes, of La Junta, a brother of Charles E. Grimes, who worked in The Citizen office a few years ago, is in the city.

H. F. Cox, general agent of the El Paso-Rock Island route, and R. W. Curtin, southeastern freight and passenger agent of the Texas & Pacific, both having their headquarters at El Paso, are in the city, and were introduced at The Citizen office this morning by W. H. Greer, of Deming.

MOVING MANY CATTLE.

The Las Animas Land & Cattle Company Doing So—Will Stock Its Ranges With Sheep.

The Las Animas Land & Cattle company of Sierra, of which W. S. Hopewell, the energetic and hustling general manager of the Santa Fe Central Railway company, was for many years the manager, has concluded to go out of cattle raising and stock its extensive ranges with sheep. These are situated in Sierra county between the Black Range and the Rio Grande and are from forty to fifty miles from east to west and about forty miles from north to south. The company owns about all the living and developed water within this area. It is estimated that there are about 25,000 head of cattle on the company's ranges and these will be shipped this winter and spring to California, where they will be disposed of at remunerative prices. Next spring a large number of sheep will be purchased and will be placed upon the range and thereafter it will be used for sheep raising. It is peculiarly well adapted for this purpose and in a few years the company will have one of the finest, most profitable and extensive sheep ranches in New Mexico.

Oil Near Albuquerque—Letter from Algodones.

Editors Daily Citizen.

Algodones, N. M., Oct. 17.—Your excellent fair edition is worthy of all praise and meets favor everywhere. We have not seen anything in the Albuquerque papers in regard to certain developments about to be made for oil in Bernalillo county. It may be of some interest to your readers to know that A. J. Frank, of Albuquerque, and C. H. Briggs, of the Hotel Highland, Albuquerque, have without any blare of trumpets secured a tract of oil bearing land within thirty miles of Albuquerque and have purchased a complete drilling outfit which is now on the road from Algodones to the oil lands, six miles distant.

Your correspondent has been over this field and was surprised at the favorable indications and oil bearing shale in a big outcrop that shows so plainly on their locations, and the wonder is that systematic work has not been done at this point long ago to discover oil. This particular region is thought by experts to combine what they please to call both the cretaceous or modern Jura Trias and older Devonian formation. Somebody has slept over this enterprise or the Albuquerque people would have tested this field long ago. It is well for Albuquerque to keep an eye on these gentlemen who do not want "kicks," but words of cheer if they prove Bernalillo county to be an oil field of no small magnitude.

EXHIBITION HALL.

Bernalillo County Exhibit—Hall &
Learnard's Display—Jerome
Mining Camp.

While the Floral hall with its exhibits that are pleasing to the eye, the music that delights the soul is complete in its attractiveness in a way, yet it is the fruits and vegetables of Bernalillo county which adds completeness and harmony to the surroundings.

A. P. Stamm has devoted considerable time in collecting fruits and vegetables from all parts of the county,
and he feels certain that the products from Bernalillo county cannot be beaten. Gold pippin, winzaps, genetians, ben davis, and different varieties of apples arranged so as to make the exhibit alluring to all who pass the stand. Whitecomb Springs have as fine a variety of bellflower apples as are to be seen. Grapes of every variety are exhibited from the vineyards at Las Corrales. Peaches, pears and quinces and other fruits all took a prominent place in making the fruit exhibit complete in every detail.

The vegetables from all parts of the county showed the attention agriculture is receiving.

Large heads of cabbage, cauliflower,
egg plant and lettuce, also large varieties of beets, potatoes, and sweet potatoes were displayed in such a manner
as to convince the people of Bernalillo county's position in the vegetable line.
Pumpkins and melons—that large and appetizing kind that make the mouth water are the products which attract special attention.

No efforts have been spared to convince the fair visitors that this county occupies a high position in fruit and vegetable growing.

Hall & Learnard.

In the center and most conspicuous position, on a raised platform in Floral hall, is to be found the noteworthy exhibit of Hall & Learnard, the square music dealers. The firm mentioned have spared neither pains nor expense
in preparing and arranging, decorating and placing their booth in a manner
equal to the circumstances and occasion. Pretty Navajo blankets and costly rugs have been strewn in a lavish manner around over the floor.
Loyal colors in great profusion form
the exterior decorations and above, drooping from the ceiling, is a large evergreen fern. Six large instruments and a number of small string instruments have been placed around the booth in a tasteful position. A fine musical program is given at this elegant booth daily during the week.

ALVARADO.

The City's Greatest Ornament—Museum and Indian Collection
Rooms

Albuquerque has every reason to feel proud of the Alvarado, with its antique Spanish architecture, constituting the most unique and thoroughly equipped hotel in the southwest. All credit is due the Santa Fe, who so generously made Albuquerque the possessor of an institution of this kind,
and under the excellent management of Fred Harvey it is complete in all its appointments. But their ambition was higher than the building of a beautiful hotel, and in consequence a building containing an unrivalled Indian collection and museum, which any of our great cities would be proud of,
were installed.

Fred Harvey is to be complimented in collecting with judicious care, articles of such great rarity and variety, most of which some of our national museums would consider splendid acquisitions.

The collection rooms are unique on account of the artistic arrangement of a great variety of rare and valuable articles. This beautiful and artistic effect undoubtedly could only be obtained through selection from a large and valuable stock.

The arrangement of the general display room appeals to the artistic sense of every visitor. Large blankets of the characteristic designs of the Indians are arranged in a striking manner on the floor; large tables are covered with pottery made by the different tribes; the walls are adorned with rare old blankets, baskets, beaded wearing apparel, etc., so arranged as to make this room a most beautiful sight.

The next room which is of particular interest in this locality is the Spanish room, which contains articles of great value from old Spanish missions,
old tapestry, swords, Maximilian china and many other articles used by the Spanish in bygone days.

A room containing relics from Samoa, Maori, British New Guinea and other of the South Sea Islands is a great attraction for those who are more familiar with our own Indian production.

Large cupboards filled with a great variety of Navajo blankets intersected by cozy corners decorated with Indian war bonnets, beaded leggings, wampum bags and other articles which at some time adorned the great warriors and their squaws constitute the artistic arrangement of the modern blanket room.

The beautiful decorations of the room containing old blankets, pottery, etc., is about to be despoiled to make a place for the Indian blanket weavers, basket and pottery makers, silversmiths and other skilled Indian workmen, who are to become an important feature of this department.

In addition to this there is the ethnological and archeological museum, which contains specimens relating to the life and customs of Western American Indians, past and present, and also the prehistoric pottery and other articles excavated from the ruins of the Cliff dwellers.

The collection in the museum cannot be purchased. All these articles were carefully selected by Dr. Dorsey, the noted collector of the Columbian museum. The work of classification is now under way and when this is completed a printed catalogue will be issued describing everything in detail.
New features will be added constantly.
The name Albuquerque is becoming identified with Indian collections and curios. The tourists who make trips of sight seeing through the southwest, leave the city carrying with them the memory of having seen the greatest collection of this kind in the world.

Abraham Kempenich, a merchant of Peralta, N. M., was touched by a light fingered gentry yesterday for $50. He reported the matter to Marshal McMillin as soon as he discovered his loss.

A roll was lost by another visitor while returning on a car.

A lady's pocketbook containing 20 cents and a street car ticket was found on the grounds during the afternoon. It contained three cards bearing the name, 'Mrs. W. H. Decker.' The pocketbook is held at the secretary's office.

J. M. Dennis a Victim.

J. M. Dennis, the well known lumber merchant of Rhoades, Ariz., and son, Ivon Dennis, have been in the city for the past few days. Last night, about 8 o'clock, while in the reading room at the Alvarado hotel, he took his pocketbook out and gave his son, Ivon, about $30 in money. A slick looking man, a rubberneck pickpocket, was also in the room and took notice. A few minutes later Mr. Dennis decided to leave the hotel, to inquire about the train, as his son was to return west. Just as he was leaving a side door he found himself suddenly in a jam, in fact in a circle surrounded by half a dozen crooks. He asked one to step aside, and as he did so, Mr. Dennis noticed some of his papers partially out of his inside coat pocket. He then investigated and discovered that his pocketbook, containing $100 and some valuable papers, had disappeared. The thief had also decamped. Mr. Dennis called at The Citizen office and says he will give the crook $25 for the return of the pocketbook and contents, or $5 for the return only of the papers.

POLICE COURT.

Two drunken natives, one Morales and Federico Garcia, came to blows yesterday afternoon on Railroad avenue. Morales was struck in the face which dropped him to mother earth. A large gash was cut in his head, and the blood flowed freely for awhile. Both were locked up, charged with being drunk and five days was their reward for quarrelling.

P. J. Howard and John Fay, miners, were locked up because they could not give a good account of themselves. They were released this morning with a notice to leave town immediately.

A couple of natives took on more than they could carry last night and gave vent to their feelings in loud talk and making a nuisance of themselves. They were fined $5 each.

Out Campaigning.

Hon. H. B. Fergusson, democratic candidate for congress, arrived from Albuquerque at 1:45 today. He was met by a large number of personal and political friends. He will speak tomorrow afternoon at Sapello, tomorrow night at Mora, Friday afternoon at Los Alamos, and Friday night in Las Vegas.—Optic.
