THEODORE ROOSEVELT SENDS GREETINGS TO ALL! "MAY ALL GOOD FORTUNE BE YOURS."

TAFT'S NEW U. S. MARSHAL IS NOTED PUGILIST FROM CLASSIC SAN MIGUEL COUNTY

SECUNDINO ROMERO, WHO IS THE NEW WHITE HOPE OF THE OLD GANG REPUBLICANS, SLUGGED MAN SEVENTY-FIVE YEARS OLD DURING THE ELECTION LAST FALL AND ESTABLISHED RECORD WHICH IS NOW HIS CHIEF ASSET

JUDGE LONG IN AFFIDAVIT TELLS STORY OF ASSAULT AT COUNTY JAIL

East Las Vegas, N. M., July 22.—Considerable indignation not unmixed with amusement was caused here by the announcement last week that President Taft had actually nominated Secundino Romero for the office of U. S. Marshal at the demand of the old republican ring in New Mexico despite Mr. Romero's record.

It was Mr. Romero who on the day when the new state was casting its first ballot for self government, struck Judge E. V. Long, a veteran attorney of this city, and a former chief justice of New Mexico, who is 75 years old and who is of slight build. This was done at the county jail where Judge Long had been called as an attorney, to try and secure bail for men incarcerated there and who could not get out to vote.

Judge Long was knocked down by Secundino Romero, a young, active man and who was sheriff of San Miguel county and supposed to be on duty to see that the election and other laws were strictly enforced.

It is well known here, that Romero's record was known to Mr. Taft and that Mr. Taft had refused to name him for the office until compelled to do so by the insistent demands of the old guard who controlled all but one of the New Mexico delegation to the Chicago convention.

It is a matter of common knowledge here, that during the first republican state convention held in this city, Mr. Romero was the only avowed candidate for governor against Holm O. Bursaw and that he was defeated for that nomination in the convention by the old guard. He was then given assurance that he would be named U. S. Marshal or some other lucrative job, if he would get out and support the ticket. It was a clear case of political trade without regard to the rights of the people and Mr. Taft was the party of the third party to the deal. In all of Secundino's career, no more utter disregard for law and order can be found, than his attack upon his father's life long friend, the aged and disabled Judge Long on election day. Judge Long, in the following affidavit, describes the entire affair. It is something that every voter in New Mexico ought to read, if he cares to rid this state of a set of political bosses who place such men as Secundino in the highest offices in the state. The affidavit says:

State of New Mexico,
County of San Miguel.—ss.

E. V. Long, being first duly sworn, on his oath deposes and says: On the morning of November 7th, 1911, I was at my house not far from eight o'clock, and A. A. Jones rang me up by telephone and said to me that there were a lot of men in the jail that were entitled to vote, and that they were being kept there, as he was informed and believed, in order to keep them from voting, at the election on said date; that a great many of them were our party friends who wanted to get out and vote for us, but who were liable to be detained there, without bail, until the election was over. He said that he had been requested by Mr. Veeder to either attend to getting bail for them, or to have some one to do that for him, and asked me if I would go and see to it; he said that he was very busy about other important matters pertaining to the election and I told him that I would go and see about the matter.

About eight o'clock, I went down to the polls in East Las Vegas, where I had expected to remain. There I met several of my political friends, Mr. Ogle among them, and George H. Hunker; I found that the polls had already opened, or were about to open, and I explained to them the request of Jones and I told them that I would go over to the jail. I then proceeded to the county jail and went into the main office of the jail, where the jailer usually discharges most of the duties of his office, and asked the jailer what these men in jail were charged with, and said to him that I understood that there were several of the fellows in there who wanted to give bail and get out so that they could vote, and I asked him to show me the papers and he said he had no papers; I asked him if he knew before what justice of the peace they had been charged; he said he didn't know and didn't think that any charges had been made against them but that he understood that they had been arrested for being drunk and disorderly.

I saw a young fellow sitting on a bench in the office of the sheriff, whose name I afterwards learned to be Lorenzo Lopez, and asked him if he understood Spanish and English and he said that he did. I asked him if he would interpret for me and he said that he would. I then asked him what he was in jail for and he said that he did not know; I asked him if he wanted to get out and he said that he did; I asked him what his politics were and he said that he was a democrat; I asked him if there had been any warrant served on him and he said no, they just arrested me and threw me in. Then I asked him if he was drunk at the time and he said no. I asked him if he would interpret for me and he said he would.

There were quite a number of persons in the office at the time. In the office as distinct from the jail proper, and I remarked that I was over to look after the persons that had recently been thrown in jail, so that they might have an opportunity to get bail and get out and vote, without any reference as to their politics or how they wanted to vote, and remarked that those who wanted to vote the democratic ticket should have a chance to do so and those who wanted to vote the republican ticket could do so.

Pedro Quintana asked the interpreter to tell him what I wanted and what we were talking about; while he was talking to him, somebody called to me from the jail proper, where the prisoners were; I went up to the iron door where the man was who had called to me and he said that he wanted to see me about getting out of jail; then I said, what are you fellows in here for; eight or nine of them crowded up to the door and two or three of them said they didn't know what they were in there for; I asked for an interpreter from among them and some fellow, I don't know who he was, came up and said that he could interpret for me. I said then that I had been sent up there for the purpose of providing bail for them if they wanted bail, to enable them to get out and vote if they cared to vote at this election; I said to them: "I want you all to absolutely understand that you are not required to vote the democratic ticket or the republican ticket, but you are to vote just as you please, if you want to vote the democratic ticket you can and if you want to vote the republican ticket, you are free to do so." I asked the interpreter to say that to them in Spanish; he said something to them, and which I suppose was what I told him to tell them. I then took out a piece of paper, with which I had provided myself and said that I would like to have their names and find out what they were charged with, and by whom they were charged, if you know, with a view to furnishing bail if you want it and want to get out. I took down the names as I progressed; the first man who responded was Emeterio Candelario, who said he was in Precinct No. 6, that he was a democrat and worked for O'Byrne, that no papers had been served on him and that he didn't know what he was arrested for. I then called for the next fellow and he said that his name was Lazaro Flores, that he was a democrat, but that he was a little bit drunk when arrested, but that he was now sober, that he voted in Precinct No. 5, that there were no papers served on him, and that he would like to get out and vote. I then repeated to the fellows that I wanted them to tell the truth about their politics and what they were

DAY LETTER

The Western Union Telegraph Company

Oyster Bay, N. Y., July 20, 1912

Bronson M. Cutting, Esq.,

President, New Mexican Printing Co.,
Santa Fe, N. M.

Let me, through the columns of the New Mexican, extend my heartiest greetings to all the Progressives of New Mexico. This is a fight for the fundamentals of honest American citizenship and I hope and believe, that the state which contributed more than half the members of my old regiment will stand with me in this contest for the rights of all our people. We desire to make the rule of the people, a fact and not a phrase and we desire through genuine popular rule, to secure political and industrial justice for every man and woman within our land. May all good fortune be yours, my fellow Progressives—men and women of the southwest.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

DENEEN GIVEN ULTIMATUM BY DIXON IN ILLINOIS

Chicago, Ill., July 22.—"There must be a full third party state ticket in Illinois with candidates for governor and other offices favorable to Colonel Roosevelt."

That was the ultimatum of Senator Joseph M. Dixon, Colonel Roosevelt's campaign manager, delivered today to the Illinois leaders of the third party movement. It was in answer to doubt expressed at Roosevelt headquarters here whether a third ticket would be put out in this state, pending Governor Deneen's answer to a question whether he would support Taft or Roosevelt.

When shown Governor Deneen's announcement that he would support President Taft, Senator Dixon said: "It simply means that Governor Deneen is not in the progressive party and that a third party candidate against him will be put out."

Following the interviews with the state officers, the progressive republican committee held a conference at the end of which Chairman McCormick announced that the progressive republicans would put a third party ticket in the field but there would probably be no county tickets.

The committee of five progressive republicans who were appointed by Medill McCormick, to wait on Governor Deneen and ascertain whether he would support Taft or Roosevelt for president, were informed by the governor today that he considered Taft the regular nominee of the Republican party for president and that as such he felt obliged to support his candidacy.

Secretary of State Doyle, auditor of public accounts, McCollough and Attorney General Stead were waited on by the committee and gave the same answer as did Governor Deneen. Andrew Russell, candidate for state treasurer, made no reply, but told Chairman McCormick he would send him an answer by mail.

Lieutenant Governor Oglesby who is at Elkhart, was asked by letter by Chairman McCormick and has made no answer as yet.

ALBERT BACON FALL BERATES GOVERNMENT.

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Senator Bacon, of New Mexico, today condemned in a speech the neglect of the government to secure redress for Americans injured in Mexican hostilities along the border.

Senator Bacon declared the United States gave more attention to reports of mistreatment of rubber gatherers in Peru and of missionaries in Korea than it did to interest of its citizens who had suffered in the Mexican hostilities.

TRUSTS DID NOT AID ROOSEVELT CAMPAIGN

FORMER SENATOR SCOTT TELLS THE SUGAR PROBE COMMITTEE THAT SUGAR KING DID NOT PUT UP A DOLLAR TO AID ROUGH RIDER IN 1904

HARVESTER PEOPLE DID NOT CONTRIBUTE

Washington, D. C., July 22.—Former Senator Nathan B. Scott, of West Virginia, today told the senate committee investigating campaign funds of 1904 and 1908, that no contributions were made to Colonel Roosevelt's campaign by corporations, by Henry Havermeier, the sugar king, or by any representatives of the International Harvester company, so far as he could recall.

Mr. Scott testified that the largest contribution of which he had knowledge, made to the national committee in that campaign was his own, amounting to $30,000 and $40,000. George W. Perkins, he said, had given $15,000 but not to the National committee. Both contributions were used in the West Virginia state campaign.

"In October, 1904," Mr. Scott said, "Mr. Perkins asked me the situation in West Virginia and I told him we had a very hard fight on for governor and that it was doubtful whether we could elect William O. Dawson. Mr. Perkins said, as a friend of President Roosevelt, he would be sorry to see the state so democratic and made the contribution."

Mr. Scott said none of the "Harvester people" had contributed to the 1904 campaign.

"How about the Perkins contribution?" asked Senator Chapp. "Well, I understood that Mr. Perkins' contribution was a personal matter," said Mr. Scott, "because of the personal relations that existed between him and President Roosevelt."

"Was Mr. Perkins at that time a member of J. P. Morgan & Co.?" asked Senator Jones.

"Do you know whether Mr. Perkins interceded with the President as to the taking over of the Tennessee Coal and Iron company?" asked Senator Paynter.

"I don't know anything about the matter," said the witness. Mr. Scott said he knew of no one connected with the Steel, Oil or Beef trusts who had given anything to the campaign. It had been the settled policy of George B. Cortelyou and Cornelius N. Bliss, as the heads of the committee, to make known that no such contributions would be received, he said.

"My own corporation never gave a dollar to the campaign," he added.

NEW YORK MURDER SQUAD HELD A REHEARSAL OF THE ROSENTHAL MURDER IS LATEST

MOST EXPERT GUN MEN IN TENDERLOIN DISTRICT OF GREAT CITY WERE EMPLOYED BY POLICE SYSTEM TO PUT GAMBLER WHO SQUEALED OUT OF THE WAY—THAT JACK SEELIG WILL SURRENDER TO-DAY IS THE BELIEF

BLACK JACK MEN STOOD ON GUARD ABOUT METROPOLE TO AID THE KILLERS

New York, July 22.—A picked band of gun men was selected to shoot down Herman Rosenthal and had had a rehearsal of the killing. It was said by officials of the prosecutor's office today.

Investigation shows that there was not a slip in the plans and that the principals behind the plot were most careful to establish alibis.

William Shapiro, held in connection with the killing, in a supplementary statement revealed how gang men kept the street in front of the hotel Metropole practically clear of taxicabs for thirty minutes before the murder, in order, apparently that the "murder car" might have a "clear get-away."

Shapiro said at least sixteen men must have known of the "crack" to be pulled off, as they were in front of the Metropole, ready to black jack or kill, if necessary, any one who interfered with the job, or tried to block the get-away of the gun fighters.

The coroner's inquest will be held this afternoon, when several of the principals, now under detention by the police, probably will be called as witnesses. There were reports that "Black Jack" Rose, "had squealed" and that Commissioner Dougherty was in possession of all the names of those men who were in the "murder car." Dougherty has promised important arrests but further than that will not discuss the case.

"Big Jack" Selig, gun man and gang leader, will surrender today it was reported.

Because of the illness of Mrs. Rosenthal, widow of the gambler, District Attorney Whitman announced there would be no proceedings of the grand jury.

The prosecutor wishes to call Mrs. Rosenthal as the first witness. A country-wide search for the Rosenthal slayers is on. The names of the gun men who shot and killed the gambler have been known to the police through a third degree given several prisoners and the gun men are believed to have fled, having become convinced that the police "system" will not be able to protect them.

Some of the east side "characters" whom detectives are searching for are "Lefty" Leads, a gun man, "Whitey" Lewis, Harry Vallon, gambler; Sam Schepps, a gangster and "Topsy" another gangster.

It was learned that Rosenthal had scarcely fallen to the sidewalk under a fusillade of bullets when some one telephoned District Attorney Whitman: "You had better get down to the Metropole ahead of the police or a pistol will be found on Rosenthal's body."

The prosecutor hurried to the scene and satisfied himself that there was no weapon on the body. He then went to the police station and found out that no mention had been made of a weapon in the entry on the police blotter.

Later the story developed from several sources that the murder plot included a statement to be given out by the police that Rosenthal had been killed in a gambler's duel, that two other gamblers had been wounded and the police were looking for the injured men.

District Attorney Whitman's prompt arrival on the scene is said to have thwarted that part of the plan. The district attorney received a communication signed "a woman who knows" giving the name of the gun man who fired the first shot at Rosenthal. This man, the writer said, came originally from Cincinnati, and may have returned there.

William Shapiro, Louis Libbey, chauffeurs and owners of the "murder car," Louis "Bridge" Webber, "Jack" Rose, and Sam Paul, all charged with homicide in being implicated in the murder of Herman Rosenthal, were arraigned before Coroner Feinberg this afternoon for examination.

When Coroner Feinberg called the Rosenthal hearing to order, District Attorney Whitman asked adjournments in the cases involving Shapiro and Libbey. Mr. Whitman declared that public interest and the interest of justice demanded adjournment. Adjournments in these cases were then ordered until Thursday.

Counsel for "Jack" Rose objected to postponement in his clients case. Mr. Whitman thereupon asked that Deputy Police Commissioner Dougherty be called as the first witness.

HANFORD RESIGNS BY WIRE TODAY

JUDGE ACCUSED OF MANY THINGS SENDS HIS REGRETS TO TAFT ON GROUNDS OF FAILING HEALTH

Seattle, Wash., July 22.—U. S. District Judge Cornelius H. Hanford, whose conduct on the bench has been under investigation for nearly a month by a sub-committee of the house judiciary committee, telegraphed his resignation today to President Taft. Judge Hanford gives ill health as the reason for his resignation.

The members of the house committee assembled at an unusually early hour prepared to continue the hearing but the committee was not called to order. In a short time the committee and Judge Hanford's counsel adjourned to an anteroom, and the nervous air about the six men and the alternate departure and return of the attorneys gave a hint to the people in the court room that important conferences were in progress. Meanwhile Judge Hanford was seated on the bench in an adjoining room, listening to a motion calendar.

He seemed to be under no greater strain than for weeks. About 10:15 o'clock Chairman Graham of the committee left the building and then told the reporters that when the committee re-assembled it would immediately take a recess. By this time, a rumor had gone into the anteroom that Judge Hanford had resigned.

At Judge Hanford's chambers the Judge's son, Ned, told newspaper men that his father had resigned and was preparing a statement of his reasons. The Judge sat calmly at his desk, writing in his painstaking long hand, an explanation of the motives that had impelled his action.

At 10:40 Chairman Graham returned to the building called the committee to order and said: "Gentlemen, some conditions have arisen which make it necessary to take a short recess. The committee will be in recess until 2 o'clock. Witnesses who have been subpoenaed will be here at that time."

Chairman Graham said to newspaper men: "The committee has not a word to say. It has no official information concerning anything which may have taken place."

To a "hypothetical" question put by a reporter as to whether the resignation of a judge who was under investigation would relieve the committee from further duty, Chairman Graham declined to answer.

Judge Hanford's statement to the public follows:

The almost constant strain under which I have worked for more than 22 years has taxed but not exhausted my power of endurance. I am not likely to have a vacation or rest, but a change of occupation will be a welcome relief. I intend to practice law in Seattle.

"In the investigation which has been conducted by a sub-committee of the house of representatives much testimony has been given by witnesses who know me and by others who do not. I am grateful for the commendation of those who have spoken and written in my favor and as for those who have maligned me, I only wish to say that I would be ashamed of myself if I had not incurred the enmity of such people as they are. A judge is never so sure of being right as when his work has been criticized."

ELECTION RETURNS MUST BE SENT TO STATE SECRETARY

The following letter written by Secretary of State Lucero to Attorney General Clancy, requesting a decision regarding election procedure is explanatory of itself. The Attorney general's decision follows:
Hon. F. W. Clancy.

Attorney General of New Mexico,
Santa Fe, New Mexico.

Dear Sir:
The time is approaching when it will be my duty under the law "to furnish printed forms of poll books to the County Commissioners" for the coming general election. At that election, in addition to a vote to be had for a member of Congress and for presidential electors, an amendment to the constitution is to be submitted to the electors of the state for their approval or rejection, and also an act of the legislature entitled "An act for the issuance of bonds for the State of New Mexico for the purpose of constructing and maintaining a system of state highways."

By reason of the fact that the law is silent as to the conditions and manner of voting on constitutional amendments and making returns of the vote thereon, and is to my mind rather indefinite as to the manner of making returns of the election for presidential electors, I am perplexed as to my duty in providing "printed forms of poll books," and I therefore respectfully seek advice from the law department of the State to guide me in the discharge of my duty.

It seems clear to me that under Sec-7 Art. XX of the Constitution, the returns of the election for Member of Congress are to be made to and canvassed by the Canvassing Boards of the counties and by them certified to the State Canvassing Board.

Under Sec. 8 of the Act providing for the issuance of bonds, it seems also clear that the returns of the vote on said issuance are to be made to and canvassed by the county canvassing boards and by them certified to the state canvassing board.

Under Sec. 8 of Art. XX of the Constitution, construed in connection with Sec. 15 of Art. XXII, it appears to me, the returns of the vote on presidential electors are to be made to, and canvassed and certified by the state canvassing board, but upon this question I am not clear. My doubt arises thus: said Sec. 8 provides "such election shall be held as herein provided for the election upon the ratification of this Constitution, and the returns thereof made to," etc.

Referring to Sec. 15 Art. XXII, I find that returns of the election upon the ratification of the constitution were to be made "direct" to the Secretary of the Territory. Do the words "made to" of Sec. 8 import a different method of making the returns from that provided by the words "made direct to" of Sec. 15; or are the two sections to be construed together to require that the returns of the vote on presidential electors are to be made direct to the state canvassing board. If the latter, then two sets of poll books will be required, and it is upon this question that I desire your advice.

A further question as to the necessity for two sets of poll books arises in connection with the returns of the vote on the constitutional amendment. I find no constitutional or statutory provision as to conditions and manner of voting on said amendment and making returns thereon.

If I look at the Joint Resolution of Congress, approved Aug. 21, 1911, commonly called the Flood Resolution, I find a precedent, and it is therein provided that the returns of the election on the amendment to our constitution therein submitted were to be made "direct" to the Secretary of the Territory. In the absence of any constitutional or statutory provision as to elections on constitutional amendments, this precedent seems to me a good one to follow. If it is to be followed, then it is an additional necessity for two sets of poll books, one constituting the returns of the election for Member of Congress and of the vote on the proposed bond issue, to be made to the county canvassing boards and by them certified to the state board, and the other set constituting the returns of the election for presidential electors and for the vote on the Constitutional Amendment.

Furthermore, in the absence of any provision of law to guide me, I feel constrained to ask you to advise me as to the form and contents of the ballot on constitutional amendment. If it be unlawful for me to follow the provision of the Flood Resolution, then I have a precedent and you need not expend the time necessary to advise me as to form and contents of constitutional amendment ballot.

The time is rapidly approaching when it is my duty, under the law, to furnish printed forms of poll books to the county commissioners. I trust I may have the favor of as nearly a reply as is possible.

Yours very respectfully,
ANTONIO LUCERO,
Secretary of State.
July 19, 1912.

Hon. Antonio Lucero,
Secretary of State,
Santa Fe, N. M.

Dear Sir:
I have to acknowledge the receipt of your letter of yesterday on the subject of printed forms of poll books for the approaching general election, and as to how the returns of that election are to be made and canvassed.

First, as to the returns of election,
there are, as you state, four subjects to be voted upon at this election, and I am clearly of opinion that all of the returns must be sent to you and canvassed by the State Canvassing Board.

Section 2 of article V of the constitution provides that the returns of every election for state officers shall be sealed up and transmitted to the secretary of state who, with the governor and chief justice, shall canvass and declare the result of the election. The presidential electors and the member of congress, constituting two of the subjects of the next election, must be considered as state officers, and therefore the returns should be made to you. Moreover, as to the presidential electors, there is a specific provision in section 8 of article XX of the constitution that the returns shall be made to and canvassed and certified by the State Canvassing Board, as provided in case of the election of state officers.

The third matter submitted to the people at the next election is as to the issuance of five hundred thousand dollars of bonds for the construction and maintenance of a system of state highways, and section 8 of the senate bill No. 161, which provides for the submission of this question, declares that the votes on the bond issue shall be counted, returned, canvassed and declared in the same manner and subject to the same rules as votes cast for state officers, thus putting the returns of the election on the bond issue on the same footing as those referred to in section 2 of article V.

The fourth subject of the election is the submission of a constitutional amendment, and you say, there are no constitutional or statutory provisions as to the manner of voting on the amendment or making any returns thereof. In the absence of any specific direction in the written law on this subject, I feel certain that the returns must be made to you as a member of the State Canvassing Board. An amendment to the constitution is a state matter affecting the people of the whole state and should be dealt with by the state authorities. Any different holding would make it impossible to hold any election whatever on the amendment, which would be violative of the intention of the constitution and of the legislation which has directed the submission of the amendment.

You ask as to whether it would be necessary to have two sets of poll books, but as all the returns are to be made to the State Canvassing Board I can see no necessity for more than one set of poll books, and it would be very difficult, if not impracticable, for two clerks of election in large precincts to make four poll books repeating the names of all persons voting in all of them.

You also ask as to the form and contents of the ballot on the constitutional amendment. We have absolutely no guide, either in the statutes or in the constitution as to the form and contents of such ballot, or as to whether it should be a separate ballot from the one cast for the election of officers. Inasmuch as we have no provision, as may be found in many states for an official ballot upon which shall appear the candidates of all parties and all questions to be voted upon, and as each party will have its own ballot, I recommend that the ballot for the vote on the constitutional amendment be separate from the other ballots, and that it contain a concise statement of the proposed amendment, with blank spaces for making the intention of adoption of the amendment, substantially like the provision for such marking as was prescribed by the resolution of congress, commonly known as the Flood Resolution. There should be also printed on this ballot, I think at both the top and bottom, brief and clear instructions to the voter as to how the ballot should be marked.

The act providing for the submission of the bond issue to the people requires that the question shall be voted for upon the ordinary ballots at the election, as it says that all ballots at said election shall have printed thereon the necessary words to show the intention of the voter for or against the bond issue, with squares opposite the lines, in which the voters may make or stamp a cross to indicate how they vote.

Although the matter is not mentioned in your letter, I desire to make a practical suggestion, and that is that you should delay the printing of poll books until the several political parties have made their nominations, so that you can print the names of the candidates in the poll books.
This would tend to diminish the chances of error by election officers in making returns, and if you get the poll books out in time to be distributed to all the voting precincts, that is all that is incumbent upon you.
If you have the poll books in the hands of the various county clerks by the middle of October there would then be ample time for the books to reach every precinct.

Yours very truly,
FRANK W. CLANCY,
Attorney General.

ANNOUNCEMENT OF INTERSTATE CASUALTY COMPANY

SANTA FE, NEW MEXICO

Capital and Surplus $400,000.00

TO THE PUBLIC:

The undersigned, incorporators of The Interstate Casualty Company, have for some time past been considering the possibility of, and the demand for, a home insurance company large and strong enough to handle the multiple lines named below. Our investigations have resulted in the filing of articles of incorporation which have been approved by the Attorney General and the Insurance Department.

We have hesitated to put this stock on the market at a premium because of the many unworthy promotion schemes with which the country has been flooded, but careful inquiry, and close investigation, has convinced us that in no other way can an organization such as we desired be created. Therefore we have contracted with Messrs. B. F. McNulty & Co., to act as Fiscal Agents for the sale of this stock at an average promotion cost lower than has ever been paid by any like organization on a similar plan, believing that it will be money well spent and that each stockholder will get value received in their work. The firm of B. F. McNulty & Co., is well known as composed of capable men of high character and standing who will not misrepresent or misstate facts or permit their representatives to do so. They are experienced organizers having promoted The Two Republics Life of El Paso and The Louisiana State Life of Shreveport both strong, successful companies. Their organization work is clean and thorough and so conducted that the interest of every individual subscriber is subserved. The incorporators have also secured the services of one of the most able and best known insurance men in the entire West to manage the affairs of this company after organization if elected to do so by the Directors. Economy of administration and careful management will make the company a tremendous success and its stock your best asset. It will besides be a potent factor in the upbuilding of our State, now just coming into its own. The company should be in active operation by the close of the year. We invite your support and co-operation pledging each stockholder, big or little, a square deal.

Yours truly,

J. H. VAUGHN,
Vice Pres. Capital City Bank

INCORPORATORS

This Company Will Handle

Personal Accident Insurance, Fidelity and Surety Bonds, Judicial and Fiduciary Bonds, Boiler & Plate Glass Liability, Burglary Insurance, Automobile Insurance and more than twenty other lines; in short everything but life and fire.

THE SUBSCRIPTION BOOKS ARE NOW OPEN. The first five thousand shares will be sold at $22.50 per share. The price will then positively be advanced to $25.00. Half of this first 5000 shares have already been subscribed.

Our policy will be to secure a large number of small subscribers rather than a few large ones. Each stockholder will be a factor in securing business. A large number means a one man influence many times multiplied.—A vital, resistless, producing force.

We would like to see a few shares of this stock in the possession of every good and true citizen of this State. It will be a safe and remunerative investment; a source of pride as well as profit to you when the Interstate Casualty Company becomes a controlling power in New Mexico's financial affairs as it will inevitably do.

The location of this great company at Santa Fe, the capital of the State, and its natural financial center will direct the attention of the moneyed men of the West to our City and will be a material aid to its upbuilding and development.

Every citizen should subscribe for a block of this stock if but a few shares, and should take an active and personal interest in its success. The time to do so is NOW.

Write to us and we will send a responsible man to present the proposition to you in its entirety and acquaint you with the terms of sale. If you are in the city we invite you to call at our offices, third floor Capital City Bank Building or phone us for an interview. FROM THE BEGINNING TO THE END OF THIS SALE OUR BOOKS WILL BE PUBLIC PROPERTY ALWAYS OPEN TO YOUR INSPECTION IF YOU ARE SUFFICIENTLY INTERESTED.

CONSERVATION CONGRESS TO INDIANAPOLIS

Indianapolis, Ind., July 22.—Announcement has been made here by Thomas R. Shipp, executive secretary that Indianapolis has been selected as the meeting place for the next National Conservation congress, beginning October 1 and continuing four days. Several cities were contenders for the honor of entertaining the congress, but Indianapolis was chosen chiefly because of its central location and admirable convention facilities.

The congress this year will be divided into sections to give opportunities to visitors to hear the discussion of subjects in which they are individually interested. With this plan it is hoped to culminate some of the efforts that have been directed in various branches of the conservation movement at reform but which have failed to materialize fully because of the loose organization made necessary by the enormous throngs that have attended each congress.

Perhaps one of the most striking questions that is scheduled to be discussed by the coming congress is that of the conservation of human life. It is expected that several advance theories will be promulgated as to how the span of life can be increased and that something tangible will result. One of the most active workers in the conservation movement in the United States recently declared that the absence of the element of personal touch between the employer and the employee was the greatest contributing factor to the strife between labor and capital. He also declared that this seeming lack of indifference was largely instrumental in decreasing the span of life of both the employer and the employee.

The congress also will lay special stress on the questions involved in conserving natural resources. Eminent scholars both from the United States and Europe have been invited and it is expected that more notable will attend than ever before.

Because of its natural advantages Indianapolis is expected to prove an ideal meeting place. It is expected that a board of local managers will be appointed within the next few days and that the work of beginning active arrangements for the big meeting will be started immediately. All Indiana is vitally interested in the questions that will come before the congress and the local attendance is expected to be even greater than at the previous congresses.

The executive secretary will establish permanent headquarters within the next few days. Replies he has received from all parts of the United States and Europe indicate that great interest will be manifest in the congress. It is expected that both the leading candidates for the presidency will grace the meeting with their presence. The fact that Indiana is a pivotal state politically and that it is the home of Governor Thomas R. Marshall, democratic candidate for the vice-presidency, is expected to remove all doubt from the minds of the presidential campaign managers as to the advisability of the two candidates attending the congress.

The official call for the meeting will be issued soon by Mr. Shipp, which will be the signal to begin active work in arranging the details for the congress locally.

WANT THAT DINNER.

Reservations for plates at that dinner of home grown products on Resources Day, July 29, are already coming in and all indications now point to a record breaking attendance in addition to the general program which Mr. Henning will put on, will be the Torrancia county meeting in the forenoon and everybody in Torrancia county should be there. This is business and it means dollars to every Torrancia county citizen to attend and lend his help and influence in the inauguration of this movement. It depends on who gets behind it, how important the development of this movement will prove. —Estancia News Herald.

ARCTIC EXPLORER MUST PAY DUTY ON HIS PICTURES

New York, July 22, 1912. The New York customs officials have directed Harry Whitney, the Arctic explorer, to pay duty on pictures of seals taken several months ago on a trip to the far north. When the customs officials looked over the films one of them said:

"You'll have to pay duty."

"But it is an American film," pleaded Mr. Whitney.

"But you took pictures on it, didn't you?" said the customs man.

"Certainly," said Mr. Whitney.

"Then the film was improved abroad," said the customs man. A houseboat owned by William Frederick of Brooklyn was struck by lightning at its anchorage in Jamaica Bay before daybreak this morning and burned. Frederick, his wife and five children were asleep when the bolt came and awoke to find themselves almost hemmed in by the flames. The father and a 17-year-old boy helped the other children, only one of whom, a lad of 12, could swim. Mrs. Frederick, almost as good a swimmer as her husband, needed help. The family had a hard time in the water, which was kicked into a choppy sea by the high wind, but all reached shore.

Negro babies, according to the child hygiene bureau of the New York City Health Department, are much better humored than white babies. A report by the head of the milk bureau comments on their conduct as follows: "The little negro babies seldom are fretted. They are the most philosophical baby patients we have. You rarely hear one cry, but the white babies cry a great deal, especially when they are being weighed."

The New York Fire Department has approved plans for a "super dreadnought" fire fighting vessel for service on the downtown waterfront. It is to be the fastest and most powerful fireboat ever built. The new boat will be three knots an hour faster than its predecessors, will pump one thousand gallons more water per minute and will play streams from an armament of twenty-four nozzles instead of only twelve. The cost will be about $125,000.

The tallest sycamore in Manhattan, one that is associated with the memory of Alexander Hamilton, will be cut down and go the way of all firewood to make room for a big public school on Washington Heights. The tree is a reminder of Hamilton's duel with Aaron Burr in 1804, for tradition says that the great Federalist made an appointment to meet his second under the sycamore at the top of the knoll at dawn of the day the duel was to be fought at Weehawken. The tree is said by experts to be 150 years old.

It was announced here today that Jean De Reszke, the famous tenor, who retired from the operatic stage twelve years ago, has been engaged by the Metropolitan Opera Company to sing at twenty performances in New York, Chicago and Philadelphia next winter.

Dr. Hans Blum, professor of political economy in the Berlin University, and a personal friend of the kaiser, is in Bellevue Hospital here today with a fractured skull, suffered shortly before midnight as he was running to catch a street car. His recovery is doubtful. Doctor Blum was to have sailed today for Germany. He was on his way to the pier when the accident happened.

The blowing of the all-ashore whistle on the steamer Metapan, which sailed today to Jamaica, caused a nervous woman to open her mouth and drop her false teeth, postponing her voyage.

PICTURES IN THE DATILS.

New Mexico will receive some magnificent advertising as a result of ten thousand feet of film taken in the Datils in the past few days by H. J. Cohen and Edward Linden, of the Selig Polyscope company, who returned last night from a long trip into the wilds of Socorro county, west of Magdalena. Mr. Cohen, business manager of the company, was more than enthusiastic over the pictures, he had been able to secure and declared that they would be of great value to the state in the way of publicity.

"We started from here Tuesday," he said, "and Wednesday night we got to Reserve, after a drive of 130 miles out from Magdalena. We stopped at Reserve that night and then we drove another twenty miles west the next day. There we reached the roundup we had come to photograph. We got pictures of the roundup in every phase, herding, counting, branding and handling in all sorts of ways. We got films of all there was to see anywhere. —Magdalena News.

BULLY SPUDS.

We have had the privilege of seeing some of the finest potatoes ever raised anywhere. Smooth, sound, and with few eyes and thin skins, they made our mouth water in remembrance of some mealy ones eaten "across the pond." They came from the Ruebush farm east of town. —Deming Headlight.

FISTIC ARENA.

Mitchell and Herrick Sign.
It is all arranged for Jack Herrick, of Chicago, and Jack (Kid) Mitchell, of El Paso, to disturb the placid atmosphere of New Mexico on August 1. The men were signed Thursday night.

All is set to hold the battle in New Mexico, a short distance up above the smelter, and a big circus tent will be employed to stage the program. Herrick and Mitchell will go 20 rounds, and the promoters will arrange to have some preliminaries of soldiers of the Second cavalry, which is said to contain some good boxing talent. A ban is to be put on the "kids," who so often in previous recent local fights have shown the white feather and amused rather than pleased the fans.

Since Herrick and Mitchell met for the first time in the first fight held in Juarez, the decision of a draw rendered as a result of the bout has been a stone in the crop of both boys. The return match has been much talked of by the fans, and the "come back," it is believed, will for all time settle the superiority of Mitchell's crouch or the Herrick straight up style of doing things. Billy Smith, former El Paso detective and ex-professional boxer of Australian fame, has been selected to be the third man in the square.

The tent in which the fight will be held is said to seat 2500 persons. It is planned to employ the street cars to bring out the crowd. Staging of the fight in the strip of New Mexico just over the river will require the building of a foot bridge over the stream. Promoters say they have secured a lease on the land and that all arrangements are made.

Joe Jeannette's pronouncement that he would make Jack Johnson fight him or seek the seclusion afforded as a result of the bout has been a weight champion of the world to New York to defend his title. Jeannette's sincerity in his deal has impressed Bill Gibson, manager of the Garden A. C., and the popular fight impresario has opened negotiations with the dusky title holder to appear at the Garden.

In a New York interview Al Palmer says: "I will fight any man in the world."

world if I can get my price. I prefer Jack Johnson, of course, and I am ready to box him ten rounds in the Madison Square Garden or to a finish fight in Juarez, Mexico, on Labor day." Make it Juarez, by all means, Al, make it Juarez.

An X-ray examination has shown that Al Wolgast's left hand was broken in three places as a result of his Fourth of July battle with Joe Rivers.

Joe Rivers has come out with a flat and final statement that he will claim the championship unless Al Wolgast signs up for another fight may pronto. He says that he will put the fight weight crown on his head and that he is willing to defend it against all comers.

Yes, things are pretty quiet just at present in the local boxing game, but it will even up before long. And when it starts up again it will be in far better shape than formerly.

Jesse Willard, a new white hope from Oklahoma, is to make his debut in New York next month. He stands 6 feet, 6 inches, weighs something over 220 pounds and can do a hundred yards in eleven seconds. This latter may prove to be his strongest asset.

European governments are considering putting a heavy tariff on American fighters, so as to protect the home industry. No sooner does the infant fight industry get started abroad than the fight trust in this country lands on it. The latest is Uncle Trusty Billy Papke, who journeyed to Paris and knocked out Marcel Moreau in sixteen rounds.

Jack Johnson is still dodging the motions of the law. His latest arrest is for striking a government officer.

Joe Jeannette, the colored heavy-weighter, is having his own troubles trying to induce some of the big heavyweights to meet him in a 10-round bout at a New York club. Dan McKittrick, manager of Jeannette, asked Billy Gibson to try and sign Joe up with the winner of either the Stewart-Storbeck or Wells-Kennedy fight, but when Gibson asked these four big fellows if they would meet Jeannette in the event of them winning their bouts they all had an excuse ready.

FOUND AT CIMARRON.

To the man who delights in the mountains and woods, or takes pleasure in spending an occasional week in pursuit of the elusive game fish, but whose time is limited and whose purse has not yet reached proportions which make it burdensome, a permanent camp, at some favorable spot in the mountains surrounding

OVER THE CLIFF.

H. D. Pickett and family, Jack Wood and family, went to Red River last Sunday on picnic. Mr. Wood had the misfortune to lose a very valuable horse. The party had packed their horses, intended to go down a steep embankment, when the horse became frightened at some object and dashed away, falling over the bluff a distance of over 200 feet and was killed. The horse was valued at $150.00.—Wagon Mound Pantagraph.

EMPEROR OF JAPAN IS TRIFLE IMPROVED.

Court Physicians Still Hold Out Some Hope for His Ultimate Recovery and Effect is Magical on People and Stock Market—School Children Gather Outside Palace and Wait for News.

Tokio, July 22.—The bulletins issued from the palace by the court physicians reporting the improved condition of health of Mutsu Hito, the emperor of Japan, have been received with satisfaction throughout the capital today. The stock market improved generally as a result.

A note of warning, however, is sounded by one specialist, who is quoted as saying this is only the first stage in the emperor's malady and advising against over-optimism because the second and third stages must be passed through before full confidence in his majesty's recovery can be restored.

It is reported the emperor was at one time sufficiently conscious to be able to speak intelligently with the chief court physicians.

This afternoon, representatives of Christian sects visited the palace to express their condolence with the imperial family and their hopes for the recovery of his majesty.

Crowds of school children gathered outside the palace grounds where they prayed for the recovery of the emperor. The crown prince is reported to almost have entirely recovered.

The improvement in the condition of Mutsu Hito, the emperor, which set in this morning, continued throughout the day. A bulletin issued by the court physicians in attendance at 5 o'clock this evening said: "Temperature 100.4 Fahrenheit; pulse 88; respiration 26; digestion good; improved conditions sustained."

A bulletin issued by the court physicians at half past eight this evening says: "Temperature 98.6; pulse 72; strong; respiration 24. Other symptoms improving."

Applications will be received by the Santa Fe Merchant's Association for position as collector. Salary and commission. Apply in writing to secretary.

The order of the Moose will hold a dance at the Palace hotel on Thursday night. The signatures for the charter will not be received after Friday night. The order starts out with a fine showing, one hundred names having been enrolled.

Mrs. W. G. Kelly, Miss May Kelly and Little Master Kelly and Miss Helen Hall of Kansas City, are in Santa Fe to spend the balance of the summer. They are the most enthusiastic climate boosters in the southwest, and declare there is no spot on the North American continent that can equal this city for climate.

Absolute cleanliness about the fountain and then clear, sparkling glasses lend an added zest to Zook's delicious soda.

On Saturday the thermometer registered 83 at 4:20 p. m., and 56 at 5:30 a. m. It was a partially cloudy day with fine rain after the tea hour, and cool and showery at night. Yesterday 77 degrees was the high point at 3 p. m., and 59 the lowest at 4 a. m. Heavy thunder showers occurred in the mountains and foothills, and with light showers in the city and during late evening, and showery conditions into the night.

WANTED—100,000 people to drink the mineral, cool, clear water of the Aztec Spring. It can be procured by applying to Mr. Henry Krick, who furnishes same to all the leading saloons and drug stores in the city. cized unfairly and without boasting, in view of all that has been and may be said of, and concerning myself and my work, I am glad that my record is what it is."

IT CAUSED SURPRISE.
Washington, D. C., July 22.—Word of the resignation of Judge Hanford was received here with surprise. Members of the house judiciary committee declined to say whether his voluntary retirement would result in the dropping of the case.

Representative Berger, the socialist member of Wisconsin, who introduced the resolution that began the "impeachment" of Judge Hanford's conduct announced that he would drop the matter.

Frequent conferences between the President, Senator Jones and Representative Humphrey of Washington, in the last few weeks, caused a report today that Mr. Humphrey might be considered for Judge Hanford's place. Mr. Humphrey urged his appointment to the federal bench several months ago but another man was appointed.

DISTINGUISHED JAPS VISIT UNITED STATES.

San Francisco, Calif., July 22.—With army and navy officials, directors of the Panama Pacific exposition and troops of cavalry and mounted police in waiting, two of the Japanese commissioners sent to select a site for Japan's building at the 1915 exposition arrived today on the liner Shinyo Maru.

The distinguished Japanese, the first envoys of a foreign country to select a site at the exposition are Haruki Yamawaki and Yoshikatsu Katamaya. Goshito Takoda of the higher industrial school of Kito, a third commissioner, will arrive July 29.

WE SHOULD BE THERE.
Santa Fe county and Santa Fe especially should have representation at the meeting of New Mexico developers at Mountainair on New Mexico Resources Day, July 29th. The expense of attendance is small. All of the progressive communities will be represented and a bigger meeting is expected even than the successful one last year. Last year's meeting resulted in extensive development and publicity campaigns in a number of our communities and brought forth vast benefit to this state. The meeting this year should prove even more effective and every community in the state should be represented.

Mr. Scott was then a glass manufacturer.

Asked about any activity of the American protective tariff league in the campaign he said the league had furnished some campaign material but it had been paid in cash for its work and had never contributed directly or indirectly to the campaign.

George R. Sheldon, treasurer of the national committee in 1908, is to testify Thursday. It is expected the books of the republican committee for that campaign will be submitted to the committee this week.

GENERAL SMITH TO COMMAND NEW YORK.

Laramie, Wyo., July 22.—General Fred A. Smith, who is in charge of the army maneuvers at Pole mountain, near this city, has been ordered to have charge of the maneuvers in New York, leaving here August 3. He was first ordered to Iowa, but that order was annulled for the new one.

NOT A PARTY OF BOSSES.

A newspaper which stands by the fraud of the republican national committee in Chicago said of the progressive party mass meeting in Kansas City last week that "there were few men present who were ever heard of, either in political or business movements."

In that one little declaration that was intended to be crushing, is the gist of this whole great movement. One element in the contending political battle today believes in government by the bosses; the other believes in a government of the people. In which lies the greater safety?

Naturally the Kansas City gathering was strange to the bosses. They are not accustomed to seeing the people at any assemblage where politics are discussed or political methods taken up. Those things have been, for many years, only for the leaders to determine. A government of the people by Crane, Penrose, Aldrich, et al., is the kind of government that the standpat newspapers believe in.

The whole reactionary idea rests on the union of business and politics "representing" the plain people by controlling the people.

But the statement of fact of the hostile newspaper was correct. In all the splendid crowd of enthusiastic citizens who organized the progressive party in Kansas City there were only a few men who "were ever heard of" either in political or business movements. It was an assembly of the plain people. It was a gathering completely typical of the progressive movement and of the men and the things that Theodore Roosevelt is working for.

This movement and this leadership stand for human rights. They represent the life of the every day people—the right of the great, inconspicuous masses to life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

The men who earn their living on the farms, in the workshops and in the other useful vocations are those who give the numerical strength and indomitable purpose to the progressive party.

NO RACE PREJUDICE.

Our distinguished contemporary, El Independiente, after extending its courtesies to persons now in charge of the New Mexican, goes on to say that we are "obsessed with race prejudice and wish to reduce the sons of the soil to the condition of slaves and peons of the newcomers. It is for this reason," continues El Independiente, "that the New Mexican denounces in acrimonious and insolent terms, the nomination of Don Secundino Romero as U. S. marshal for New Mexico."

Let us make our position clear once and for all. In considering the qualifications of Mr. Romero for the post of U. S. marshal, we paid no attention to his racial connections. We are not fighting Mr. Taft because his ancestors happened to live in the British Isles; nor are we opposing Don Secundino Romero because he may be descended from the conquistadores.

Of all the pitiful stuff used to bolster up an indefensible cause, this talk of "race prejudice" is about the worst. There are thousands of Spanish-Americans who are thought fitted for positions of trust. The founders of the whole progressive movement in this state were Spanish-Americans, and the ex-president of our progressive league is a Spanish-American, and one of the finest type. To say that a progressive newspaper can cherish resentment against the native sons of New Mexico is therefore utterly ridiculous.

Our opposition to Secundino Romero is due solely to his record as sheriff of San Miguel county. In another column we print the affidavit of a former chief justice of New Mexico, a feeble and infirm old man, who, in the discharge of his legal duties, was struck down and maimed by Mr. Taft's candidate for U. S. marshal. The same affidavit shows how men are kept in the San Miguel county jail over election day for no offense except that they would not vote for Secundino Romero, then a candidate for secretary of state. This is only one incident in a career, the whole of which proves the man wholly unfit for any office whatever.

The people of New Mexico last fall repudiated Secundino Romero and elected his opponent, a Spanish-American of a very different type. We challenge El Independiente, or anyone else to show cause why the verdict of the people should be set aside, or why Mr. Romero is better fitted for the office of U. S. marshal than he was for secretary of state. Incidentally it is interesting to observe that the president of El Independiente—the only paper in New Mexico which dares uphold this appointment of Mr. Taft's—is none other than Don Secundino Romero.

NOT DEMOGOGIC.

"1. Every person is entitled to a certain remedy in the law for all injuries or wrongs which he may receive in his person, property or character; he ought to obtain justice freely and without being obliged to purchase it; completely and without delay, promptly and without delay, conformably to the laws.

2. The courts of justice shall be open to every person, and certain remedy afforded for every injury to person, property or character, and that right and justice should be administered without sale, denial or delay."

That reads good, and is intensely applicable to the present time and present conditions. It is not a quotation from a party platform; nor an enunciation of any candidate; nor does it have a ring of demagoguery, insincerity nor flattery; but it is what the people are demanding today and what they have not been getting from those in control of our national affairs.

The above quotation is from the fundamental law of two of our American states, and it is the doctrine of progressivism. The provisions in the constitutions above quoted from are similar to those in all our states, and are the texts from which the progressives draw their inspiration and principles upon which they are going to build. The necessity of the application of these provisions was never more forcibly brought to public attention, when one of the judges of a high court is facing an impeachment trial, and another is under charges which so far it seems difficult for him to disprove.

When one stops to think how long this government has existed without this sort of disgrace coming to it, then one realizes how necessary it is to guard the judiciary and its purity by the appointment only of the best equipped and the most upright men. There is a suspicion, well grounded, that President Taft has not been entirely guided in his judicial appointments, by these qualifications in all the judges he has named, but has been swayed, not to say controlled by other influences. The influences controlling in the present day are what have brought about the startling demand for a change of leaders, methods and policies.

Up to the present time the political kaleidoscope has been worked to the greatest limit in Kansas and the daily changes are full of interest. The gang has come to the conclusion that Taft is gone in that state. They evidently know, too that Roosevelt will carry Kansas unless the courts can be steam rolled in action and the methods used at Chicago invoked throughout the states. It is the only method the bosses know, and in their bewilderment in the present crisis they are working on the line of "anything to beat Roosevelt," even preferring that the state go for Wilson than that the doughty Colonel should win out. The principle of the thing is lost sight of entirely, but the determination to defeat the progressive movement is the sole and controlling interest.

The little bosses in the state took a lesson at Chicago in criminal politics and do not hesitate to carry out their teachings in their own balliwick. It will be mighty interesting to see how far the courts will go in upholding this nefarious business of political theft. Of course, Taft and his followers expect the courts "to do their duty," which means to follow orders, but it may be that the courts have their ear to the ground and will heed the murmur that presages the coming storm.

Ex-Senator Pettigrew of South Dakota, is out for Roosevelt. Well, it is not the first time that Pettigrew has shown his political independence, and he is strong in his own state. When he says that Roosevelt will carry the state and will get a large following from the Democrats who are tired of the old party lines, he probably knows what he is talking about. The shift in political line up is remarkable. There has been nothing like it in our history. The nearest approach was the bolt of '50's when the republican party was formed.

There will be no free beer on the special train that is to carry the Missouri delegates to Chicago. This is contrary to the custom that has been in vogue for years on big convention trains. The chairman of the committee in charge of the Missouri campaign explains it this way: "Our local campaign is to be free from mud-slinging, and we certainly don't intend to encourage booze-fighting."

VALLEY RANCH ACTIVITIES.

Valley Ranch, N. M., July 22.—A motor party consisting of Mr. Paul A. P. Walter, the former editor of the New Mexican, Mr. John K. Stauffer and his father, Mr. P. F. Stauffer, the latter from South Bethlehem, Pa., who is visiting his children in Santa Fe. Mrs. Lamy and Mrs. Wheelon from Santa Fe visited Valley Ranch yesterday morning, as did Misses Werdell and Juan from Chicago.

Judge and Mrs. R. H. Hanna, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. John N. Van deVries of Lawrence, Kansas, and Donald E. Rust of Kansas City, stopped at Valley Ranch for dinner on their return to Santa Fe. Judge Hanna reports having caught one fish, therefore we have reason to believe that the Judge is honest or at least within one of it.

Mrs. George Rosengton of Albuquerque and the Misses Thomas of Kansas City arrived on No. 10 today. Messrs. Owen and Griffin of the Light and Power Company, came in their motor for a few days' fishing.

REMARKS FROM THE SIDE LINE

Outside of that however, we feel safe in saying that Judge Hanford is all right.

New York has ten thousand music teachers according to a news dispatch but you would never suspect it after seeing the average musical comedy that originates in New York.

The Taft supporters in Kansas are relying on a court injunction to keep Roosevelt electors off the ticket. That judicial temperament again, we presume.

Representative Levy of New York has a bill in Congress for an international note system. When the Colonel was president he didn't need any international note system, as long as the battalions were not otherwise occupied.

We admit that we are inclined to doubt that story about a California man sending sixty dollars to the laundry in his soiled clothing. But the part that to us, seems, the most doubtful, is the statement that the laundry sent the bills back nice and clean. It should have read, with nice rough edges.

COUNTY PROGRESSIVE CONVENTION.

Pursuant to a call by order of the committee of the Progressive Republican League of this state on the 12th day of July, 1912, for a Progressive convention to be held in the city of Albuquerque on the 29th day of July, 1912, to elect four delegates and four alternates to the National Progressive convention to be held in the city of Chicago on the 5th day of August, 1912, for the purpose of nominating candidates for the offices of president and vice-president of the United States, notice is hereby given that a mass convention of the Progressive Republicans of the county of Santa Fe will be held at the court house in the city of Santa Fe, on the 25th day of July, 1912, at the hour of 2 p. m., to choose eight delegates, to represent said county in said state convention.

All persons regardless of past party affiliations who believe in the principles embodied in the call for a state Progressive convention above referred to, are cordially invited to attend said county mass convention and take a part therein.

ANTONIO VALDEZ,
Committee of the Progressive Republican League for Santa Fe County.

A NATIVE SON.

Robert H. Crews, a native son of Hillsboro, was honored the other day by the appointment as Secretary to the Sheep Sanitary Board. Mr. Crews had the endorsement not only of the Bernalillo County Democracy but also of prominent Democrats of Sierra County an dibe state at large. He is a young lawyer of prominence who has been associated with Hon. H. B. Ferguson, M. C. For some time he has been secretary of the Bernalillo County Democratic organization. His appointment reflects honor on the place of his birth and his townsmen rejoice in seeing his worth recognized.—Sierra Free Press.

AS THE BYSTANDER SEES IT

SONGS OF YESTERDAY.

Uncle Joe Cannon, who has been called pretty nearly everything that is unholly, obstreperous and depraved, showed down at Cape May a Sunday or two ago, that music appeals to him, and when a fellow has a soul that is touched by music, he's not all bad. Edgar Page, a lad of 77 years sang, "Beulah Land" to Uncle Joe the day mentioned above and the company of summer resorters all joined in the chorus. Above them all the voice of the old politician, and ex-speaker of the house of representatives, rang out for those familiar words:

"I look away across the sea
Where mansions are prepared for me;
And view the shining glory shore,
My heaven, my home, forevermore."

Afterward Uncle Joe said it was the finest song ever written.

There is no use in talking, those old time songs and hymns have a melody about them that goes way down into that mysterious somewhere in the human soul where the tenderest chords are touched. The music does not have. Else, why are our great singers in concert besought to give us the dear old songs like "Home Sweet Home," "The Swanee River," "My Old Kentucky Home," and the old musical strains that seem to get right down where the tender ducts are. There is no more popular form of entertainment than the jubilee singers give—songs that have about them that sweet minor chord which we don't get now-a-days.

We laugh at the ragtime and hum and sing it. It's catchy, all right, but when we want to get into real melody, the kind that sort of melts you and makes you feel softened and to want to be decent and good, you have to get back to "Beulah Land." "Shall We Gather" and the mellow tones of the southland, which were the outgrowth of days of deep sorrow with the mingling of happiness and content. There is no mistake about it, the old songs are still the moving ones.

GOOD START.

It is astonishing how we got the kickers started on the weed proposition in the city, and the kickers are a necessary element to keep things going. Sometimes we have thought that the starting of a "Kickers Kolonn" might be a good thing, but for the present, the Bystander will kick with the kickers for anything that will add to the beauty or advancement of the city. The statement made by Mayor Lopez showing his desire to give Santa Fe a progressive administration reads good and he should have in his efforts, all the support and encouragement that it is possible to give.

Now that the festive water wagon is going on parade, the next thing in the way of advancement should be the cleaning out of that disgusting eyecore between the postoffice and the Catron block. If it is the city's business, let the city do it. If it is up to the owners of the property to do it, then make them come through. It is really a fright, and a blot on the city. Then being so near to our beautiful postoffice building, with its broad entrance, marble floors and expensive mail boxes makes it worse, you know. But, because Uncle Sam has left us with a postoffice building that would beat Podunk or Squash-town, that does not excuse us from making it worse by giving it foul surroundings.

Then those weeds. It might be a good thing to have a weed bee, like the husking bees of the old days and clean 'em up. There's a lot of summer left here yet and a lot of people to come. Let's show 'em what a pretty old city Santa Fe can be.

GIVE US ENGLISH.
Mrs. Newlyrich, the wife of a multimillionaire, was dining in a fashionable hotel recently and being unable to pronounce the names of dishes, she pointed to a line of the menu and said to the waiter:

"Please bring me some of that."
"I'm sorry, madam," replied the waiter, "but the orchestra is just playing that."—Judge.

It is encouraging that the undecipherable menu is not as popular as it once was and that the tendency to let people know whether they are ordering soup or band music is growing all the time. Up at the Palace hotel, where they are serving bully, special Sunday dinners, every word on the menu was in English and everyone knew whether he was putting in his order for roast turkey or fish and all the vegetables were spelled by their good old English names. Then they had pineapple pie, spelled just like that, when under that fancy method nobody would have known whether he was going to draw a pudding, a shortcake or an ice.

It is a fearfully annoying thing to go into a restaurant and look over the bill of fare, pick out some things in which there seemed a glimmer of a familiar sound and then when the order came you had some commonplace concoction that you never dreamed you had ordered, while your neighbor at the table had brought to him just the stuff you like best and wanted all the time.

The Bystander could never understand just wherein French or Italian is any better language than our own, nor just where the custom originated of putting the food proposition up in a language that is utterly useless to the average man or woman who is really interested in what he is going to eat.

Some of the fads we take up in life tough the heights of folly in an effort to do something that sounds big and swell. We're glad Santa Fe hotel men are sensible in this matter.

SUMMER CAMPS FOR CHILDREN WONDERFUL AID TO EDUCATION

New York, July 22.—For the last two decades the number of camps for school children has been increasing rapidly all over the country. There are farm camps and mountain camps, nature study camps and athletic camps, study camps and scout camps.

In response to the demand for physical trainers to take charge of camps during the summer many schools of physical education now require all students to take a course in camping. In Germany and Denmark many thousands of children are sent to the country every year at public expense. We have a few municipal camps in this country and a few camps belonging to private schools but we may well ask if the camp, bringing as it does a contact with nature and the possibility of intimate social relations, does not belong to education in general.

Civilization has grown away from the life of nature but we all seek to get back to it to rest. During the long summer vacation there is little for the girls and nothing for the boys to do in the city. Conditions have improved with the establishment of playgrounds but no city playground can satisfy the nature hunger of the child. None of us choose to stay in the city during the summer but for the child who has nothing to do it is ten fold worse.

For the average parent it is often not possible to make any suitable provision for his children during the summer. Even if the family has a country home it would be better for the parents and the children, for a part of the summer at least, to be separated in order that the parents may rest and the children gain the self-reliance which comes from a more independent life.

We have three common types of camps: the institutional camp of the church, Y. M. C. A., settlement or boys' club; the fresh-air or charity camp; and the private or pay camp. Each of these suffers from adverse conditions which are not inherent in the idea of camping.

In the institutional camp the children usually know each other and are under the direction of people whom they know. But the camp is usually for two or three weeks only and the children are still in the city for most of the summer. The fresh-air charity camps are doing good work but the children cannot be well selected. The timid child is often not reached and the more aggressive one is sometimes sent out by several public institutions. The children do not usually know each other or the people in charge of them. The private camp keeps the children for a longer time but often they do not know each other or those in charge and the expense is prohibitive for the average parent.

If the summer camps has come in response to a general and not a special need—if in other words it is a requirement of most children—there should be some public provision for it.

As every one knows the English idea of a school is a boarding school in the country. From the time he is nine years old until he finishes in the university, the son of an English gentleman lives at the school and sees his parents only during the vacations. The English educator claims that this life is necessary in order to secure the social and moral training which comes from a many-sided contact of the pupil with his masters and fellows. We in America do not accept this ideal. We believe that such an extended separation of parent and child is bad, both for the home and the younger children, but it certainly does produce gentlemen and manly, self-reliant young fellows. But we regret the absence of social life in the public schools, the slender opportunities for friendship between pupils, the absence of school traditions and most of all, the lack of intimate contact between the pupil and teacher.

Does not the summer camp offer an opportunity for the union of these two kinds of training? May it not well take up the social, moral and athletic work which is so important in English schools? The school seems to me to be the best attachment for the camp idea.

I should like to see each of our large city schools possess a farm in the country as a part of its regular equipment. On this farm should be dormitories or cottages sufficient to provide for all the older pupils of the school. Soon after the schools have closed children should be sent out to these camps for the summer either at their own or public expense, as the circumstances demand. Everything should be plain and simple. Nature would provide them with pure air and water and they should have fresh vegetables every day from the farm.

They should do most of the work themselves. I would have half of each day devoted to working in the garden or the fields or the carpenter shop, according to the interest of the children and the other half given to play and the making of various collections of all the common flowers, leaves and rocks. They should become familiar with and learn how to feed chickens, pigs, sheep and cows. They should become familiar with all the common grains and vegetables and learn how to raise them. All of the older boys should be organized as scouts. Occasionally there should be a long walk across the country to another camp where games might be played.

Moreover every camp should be provided with a good library, the children's books being sent out from the city to these camps the beginning of the vacation. Rainy and hot days and the evenings furnish opportunity for far more general reading than is now done by the average child.

This camp should be in charge of the regular teachers of the schools so far as possible, thus providing a continuity of influence and the intimacy of acquaintance which would otherwise be impossible. These teachers should be extensively assisted by college and normal school graduates. By a camp of this kind we should be able to protect the children from the manifest danger and temptations of the city streets. To secure social and moral training through intimate contact with the teachers and the children would mean a necessary acquaintance with nature.

This would not necessarily involve a very great increase of expense as it would take the place of the vacation, schools and playgrounds, of the fresh air and to some extent the institutional and private camps. For the child who is now sent to the country for the summer it would be a positive saving and for the child who ordinarily has to remain in the city it would be a saving of life's energy and a great awakening of its interests. It would not necessarily be much more expensive than boarding a child at home.

THE CANNERS CANNED.

After deciding to build the Artesia Cannery and run just long enough to dispose of the small crop of tomatoes this year, the board of directors of that institution finally decided again that it was no bueno and they would wait until next year. This will work more or less of a hardship upon the farmers who have acted in good faith and planted and worked their fields, but the members of the board decided to wait. A market for all of those who will gather their tomatoes this year will be provided at the Lakewood cannery.—Pecos Valley News.

IT'S A GOOD DRINK.

It is a common saying, "Once you get a taste of Minnabres valley water you can never forget it," which saying is only a paraphrase of an old adage of similar commendation. It is a remarkable fact that people who once get the western fever are seldom ever again satisfied with the east. Once in a while they yield to a fancied longing to return to the old home spot, but it doesn't seem natural when they get there. It's charm has departed.—Columbus Courier.

THEY MAKE IT NOW.

The ice company commenced making ice and delivering it this week. The first batch was made with water from the hydrants, as there was not delivering clear ice. There was quite a supply of distilled water on hand, a cut in the price. It is sold in small and the ice was pretty white, at quantities at a cent and a quarter though it was plenty cold. The latter a pound, and in larger quantities at part of the week the company will be a cent a pound.—Lordsburg Lateral.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE DOES EXCELLENT WORK FOR GREATER CITY

REPORT OF SECRETARY HARRIS IS MADE PUBLIC TODAY SHOWING WONDERFUL RESULTS THAT HAVE BEEN ACCOMPLISHED DURING LAST QUARTER--SANTA FE RAILWAY IS GREAT AID HE DECLARES

FREE ADVERTISING GIVES SANTA FE BOOST AND IS BEST IN WORLD

The report of Secretary Harris of the Santa Fe chamber of commerce contains a wealth of interesting data covering work of last three months. The report is as follows:

The first quarter of the fiscal year ended June 30th, 1912. From the results obtained in this quarter, it is not claiming too much to say that the Chamber has accomplished more during this time than in any previous quarter.

Starting in the quarter free from debt and with sufficient money to carry the work along, it has been possible to do things heretofore impossible on account of lack of funds. With few exceptions almost every one has been very prompt in paying their dues and subscriptions and this has been a great factor in what success we have had. I wish to thank the members for their promptness in this matter.

At this time it is well to call attention to the work the Santa Fe Railroad has been doing to help boost Santa Fe. At one time, not so very far distant, there appeared to be a good deal of friction between the Santa Fe Road and the City of Santa Fe, but of late this has, I am glad to say, almost entirely disappeared. The railroad has apparently decided to let "by-gones be by-gones," and are now advertising Santa Fe more extensively ly, with the exception of the Grand Canon, than any other point on their road. Every advertisement of Colorado carries about an inch on the Old City of Santa Fe. They have inserted in their Grand Canon advertisement an invitation to the tourists to make the free side trip to Santa Fe, they also have inserted a Santa Fe advertisement in their general time table. Besides this, there are now running in two hundred eastern newspapers, with circulations averaging from fifty to one hundred and fifty thousand copies daily, a series of three, six inch advertisements on our city. They have also issued illustrated placards on Santa Fe which they have placed in all their stations and hotels.

Copies of an advertisement running in the Denver Post, News, Republican and Times are herewith enclosed.

Mr. W. H. Simson, general advertising agent of the Santa Fe, has recently visited our city in company with Mr. Dwight L. Elmendorf, the noted lecturer. Mr. Elmendorf took a great many snap shots as well as several hundred feet of motion pictures, while here, which he proposes to use in an illustrated lecture on Santa Fe and the immediate vicinity. The Chamber of Commerce entertained both Mr. Simson and Mr. Elmendorf while here, sending them to the Frijoles under the guidance of Mr. S. G. Morley of the School of American Archaeology and Mr. J. Ashby Davis.

Our fund is so small that should the Chamber attempt any direct advertising little good would result. Free advertising, when it can be obtained, is the best after all, and there is little doubt that Santa Fe can get more free advertising than any other city in the United States. Free advertising, of course, is not exactly free, for in order to get it newspaper stories and cuts must be prepared, inducements must be held forth to those whom we wish to interest. In the case of the Santa Fe Road may be found an example. They are willing to advertise us but unless we show a disposition to "boost" they will not.

The Kalem company, which has just taken the De Vargas Pageant together with educational and other views of Santa Fe, are only one of a number of motion picture companies who have or will visit our city within a short while. The Selig-Polyscope company, the Biograph company, the Essanay company and the Nestor company have all asked to be kept informed of all current events in this city, and the Biograph, Selig and Kalem companies have all expressed the desire to take pictures of the cliff dwellings near Santa Fe. The secretary has been informed that the pictures recently taken by the Kalem company in our city will carry "Taken in Santa Fe, New Mexico" so that the advertising derived from the above will, or should be, an item in bringing tourists to our door.

Five thousand copies of the new Santa Fe folder, of which twenty thousand were issued, have been obtained by the Chamber of Commerce and they are being distributed to all inquiries received by the Chamber of Commerce and the New Mexico Bureau of Immigration.

Besides this work we are trying to keep in touch with the various meetings and conventions held on the Pacific coast, so that we may invite all of the delegates to these gatherings to visit Santa Fe. The railroads are co-operating with us in this matter.

I wish to thank all the members and subscribers to the support of the Bureau of Information and Chamber of Commerce for their loyal co-operation. The attendance at meetings has been somewhat of a disappointment to the officers of the Chamber, but the reluctance with which members attended has, in a large part, been made up by the promptness with which they have paid their dues.

The Chamber of Commerce has just commenced to do the work it should do. May we not have the loyal support, both morally and financially, of every citizen of Santa Fe? What can be done by united effort has been shown by our De Vargas pageant, on this the Spanish-American Alliance, the citizens, and the Chamber of Commerce worked shoulder to shoulder and accomplished more than could have been accomplished single handed.

Since issuing the last report, Summer Tourist Rates have been granted to Santa Fe through the Chamber's activity.

Our Manufacturing Committee has practically secured the location of a candy factory which will employ from sixteen to thirty hands the year around.

The Streets, Roads and Bridges Committee have put the road to the Rito de los Frijoles in excellent condition for teams, and automobiles with good clearance can make the trip.

The city planning committee is making an extensive study of the work along this line accomplished elsewhere, and will present a plan unique and especially adapted for Santa Fe.

The quarters occupied by the Chamber have proven admirable but with the increased work, and the accumulation of data, booklets, etc., it is almost impossible to make the one room now occupied do, so that the Secretary is now negotiating with the School of American Archaeology for the use of the small room adjoining the Secretary's office.

Hoping that the work for the past quarter will meet with your approval, I am,

Obediently yours,
JOHN S. HARRIS,
Secretary.

MORE MEN FOR ROOSEVELT THAN HE EXPECTED THERE

(From Colliers Weekly.)

This robbery, which many respectable persons look upon with approval, was done to protect the American people from Caesar, Napoleon, Cromwell, Rienzi, and Diaz. Well, we on Collier's are well acquainted with Colonel Roosevelt. When he was in office we were accustomed to differ with him, and doubtless shall have the privilege of differing with him again. Support which goes beyond general support into the domain of blind subservience is no part of journalism as we see it. We look at Roosevelt as a person in public life for thirty years, fully tested, extraordinarily able, steadily useful, and a master workman in helping along that spirit-of-the-times which makes for paying a little more attention to the ordinary moral law, under which a man is supposed to be a man even if his bank moral law, under which almost boyish emergence in the New York Legislature to his campaign of the last few months he has done more to stir our young men to hope for plain moral progress than any other American of the day. There is no use telling us that he came back into the arena because he wished to beat Luzzatti by a term of two. We are too closely concerned in his coming back to digest such bunk. We know intimately his hesitation and his distrust. He came back, as he has done other things, because the forces which his genius trusts were moving strongly in that direction. He was called back by the voice of the masses, and especially by the voice of the spokesmen of moderate insurgency. Without these behind him he could never survive one fight in a country where all men read, where voters are jealous, where the only Caesar--concentrated wealth--is determined against him. Take your ghost stories to some other party, friends. We have other tales to hear.

DEMING FEELS CHESTY.

Just to show the "tone" that the Deming patronage demands it affords us pleasure and satisfaction to say that Manager Taylor of the Harvey House has just secured the services of S. Nearing, a noted chef of Hartford, Conn.

Mr. Nearing is accompanied by his wife and they have taken fine apartments with Mr. and Mrs. Shinn in the Hudson residence on Iron avenue. --Deming Graphic.

A MILLION LOST TO SAN JUAN

FARMINGTON ASKS HELP FROM CORPORATION COMMISSION TO GET FRUIT OUT

Farmington, July 22.—The following letter written to the corporation commission is explanatory of itself, showing the necessity of action for furthering Farmington interests:

At a meeting of the directors of the Farmington Fruit Growers Association I was requested and authorized to write you concerning the existing condition and emergency which confronts the fruit growers of this county at this time on account of the negligence of the Denver & Rio Grande Railroad Company.

We are located at the terminus of the D. & R. G. railroad. That road, from here to Durango, fifty miles, is a standard gauge, from Durango to Alamosa, 200 miles, it is a narrow gauge, from Alamosa, to eastern slope points, it is a standard gauge. It is apparent that all freight over such a road must be transferred from cars of one gauge to another at both Alamosa and Durango.

We have a marketable crop of fruit this year which will amount on a conservative estimate to 1,000 cars. (I understand that the D. & R. G. railroad estimated in excess of this amount after sending a representative to visit practically all the orchards in this county.)

Up to this time this season only cherries and small fruits have been shipped, but in about two weeks the heavy shipments of peaches will be ready. In order to market those at all it will be necessary that the railroad furnish feed cars. They are not operating a single refrigerator car between here and Durango at this time, and so far as we can understand they are not preparing to do so. They have been asked to equip this branch with such cars, but have failed to do so. As an alternative they have been asked to equip a sufficient number of refrigerator narrow gauge cars in such manner that they can substitute standard gauge trucks at Durango, running them when loaded from here to Durango on the standard trucks and jacking them up, substituting narrow gauge trucks at Durango, sending them on to Alamosa and making no transfer of the fruit from narrow gauge refrigerator cars to standard gauge refrigerator cars there. The railroad officials agree that they can transfer the cars from one size truck to the other more cheaply and quickly than they can unload and reload, but in spite of this admission they have declined to do so. As another alternative, they have been asked to lay a third rail from Durango to Farmington, thus enabling them to run all their narrow gauge cars to and from this place with one transfer of contents at Alamosa instead of two as now, which would enable them to furnish us with narrow gauge refrigerator cars from here to Alamosa, one transfer and standard gauge refrigerator cars from there on; but they have also failed to do this, or to make any other adequate preparations to handle the crop. Although these several propositions have been under discussion for more than two years between railroad officials and representatives of this district.

Some of our people have come to believe and there seems to be a great deal to indicate, that the railroad company is trying to force the growers to make their shipments entirely by express. The freight rate from here to Denver being 55c and the express rate being $1.15, or five cents more than double. The express company which operates in connection with the D. & R. G. railroad being the Globe, which is an auxiliary company.

If something cannot be done to relieve the situation and put our fruit on the market in proper time and condition at least half the value of a crop worth approximately one million dollars will be lost. The express proposition does not offer a solution, because the rate by that means is so high that it completely robs the grower of his profit, and it is apparent that it is only a subterfuge of the company, because it can run its express trains on passenger time and make its transfers without missing connections, which it offers to do on express shipments, it can do the same with its fruit freight trains.

This season we have a very large crop, of superior quality in every respect. This applies to all our fruits—peaches, pears, apples, plums, and those of minor importance. There is an extraordinary demand for our fruits this year, particularly peaches, in eastern Kansas, Missouri, Illinois, Iowa and states north of them, two, three St. Louis and Kansas City firms alone being willing to contract for our entire crop. It is therefore very evident that the D. & R. G. railroad alone stands in the way of, and if it does not immediately change its policy, will prevent, the marketing of a large part of a large and valuable asset, the proceeds of which the people of this transportation-isolated section sorely need and to which they are justly entitled.

We desire to request your commission to investigate this situation fully and immediately and to render us any assistance you can in any form, or by any means you may be able to use, be it by request, demand or legal procedure.

Very respectfully yours,
(Signed) FRANK STAPLIN.

CARLSBAD MOVING MANY LAND SALES NEW CREAMERY

Carlsbad, N. M., July 22.—Many important sales have been made the last ten days in the Carlsbad project. This is the quiet season in the home-owners' business, but so many prospectors have come in that it hardly looks like the busy farming season. Dr. R. J. Hood of Los Angeles, Calif., has purchased eighty acres just north of Lovington and will move to the farm and further improve it. William Keene of San Diego, Calif., has bought forty acres near Malaga and is on his way with his family to take possession. W. D. Scott has bought 120 acres at Orta, including a part of the town site. This is one of the best tracts in the entire Carlsbad project. Mr. Scott bought the place for a home and will make extensive improvements. He has already made plans for plowing under the old alfalfa and reseed. The buildings will be remodelled. Part of the residence is brick. Mr. Scott has made a careful study of many localities before coming here, but found what he wanted and invested. A number of other sales are pending that will be closed in a short time. The outlook for the Carlsbad project was never brighter and the class of farmers coming in now insures a rapid and solid development.

The Commercial club held a very important meeting yesterday. The matter of completing the road across the Fous's sands was gone over carefully. The funds originally provided were not adequate to complete the work. It will require at least $1,000 to $1,200 to complete the road. The club succeeded in raising the larger amount, the business men subscribing several hundred dollars. The county and state will contribute part of the money. The club also heard reports of committees. The publicity matter was also given further consideration. The club rooms have been overhauled, the furniture has been brushed up, and the pool tables replaced with new ones. The club is in prosperous condition and doing much for Carlsbad and the country.

Over an inch of rain fell in the Carlsbad project last night. It has rained in the mountains to the west and on the plains the past few days. It was getting dry in many places and the rain was welcomed by all except the farmer with a lot of hay down. The water will be turned out of the canals for a few days to kill moss and make slight repairs. In the mean time the farmers will have a chance to catch up with their work. With haying, cultivating field crops, and irrigating the farmers in the project have had their hands full the past six weeks.

The farmers creamery is getting to be a reality. Enough stock has been subscribed and the machinery is being contracted for. It is expected that everything will be in readiness to start the creamery by the middle of September at the latest.

MAXWELL IS REJOICING.

Maxwell, N. M., July 22.—E. L. Beal, a miller of Las Vegas, is negotiating for one of the large warehouses of the Maxwell Supply Co., which he will convert into a flour mill. The chances are that the deal will be closed early next week.

About 1,200 acres of wheat were planted in this neighborhood last fall, and the harvest is now in full swing. From tests made in the field cuts, the average yield for the Maxwell district will be 35 bushels per acre. Mr. Beal has tested the wheat from here and says it is of superior quality. He hopes to have the mill ready to grind this year's crop.

Farmers here are rejoicing over the prospects of a successful farm year. Alfalfa went a ton and a half at the first cutting, oats never looked better, and sugar beets, almost a thousand acres of which were planted this spring, are doing fine. A celebration to be known as Pumpkin Pie Day will be held this fall, at which time local farm products will be exhibited.

NO BEER ON "BULL MOOSE" TRAIN.

St. Louis, Mo., July 22.—Free beer, alone being willing to contract for our entire crop. It is therefore very evident that the D. & R. G. railroad alone stands in the way of, and if it

HOW TO PRESERVE YOUTH AND BEAUTY.

One great secret of youth and beauty for the young woman or the mother is the proper understanding of her womanly system and well-being. Every woman, young or old, should know herself and her physical make up. A good way to arrive at this knowledge is to get a good doctor book, such for instance, as "The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser," by Dr. W. Pierce, M. D., which can readily be procured by sending thirty-one cents for cloth-bound copy, addressing Dr. Pierce, at Buffalo, N. Y.

The womanly system is a delicate machine which can only be compared to the intricate mechanism of a beautiful watch which will keep in good running order only with good care and the proper oiling at the right time, so that the delicate mechanism may not be worn out. Very many times young women get old or run down before their time through ignorance and the improper handling of this human mechanism. Mental depression, a confused head, backache, headache, or hot flashes and many symptoms of derangement of the womanly system can be avoided by a proper understanding of what to do, in those trying times that come to all women.

Mrs. G. H. Williams, of Lynchburg, Va., wrote: "It is six years since my health gave way. I had female trouble and all the doctors (I employed three) said I would die. I was not able to do my work, had to hire someone all the time. Finally I read in the papers about Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and decided to try it. I had not taken but one bottle until I found it had done me good. I took, in all, five bottles of Favorite Prescription and two of 'Golden Medical Discovery,' and now I am able to do all my housework, and have gained fourteen pounds. I advise all women who suffer from female trouble to try your Favorite Prescription. It is the only medicine on earth."

progressive party convention at Kansas City July 30. An offer by a local brewery to supply the special train with fifty cases of beer has been declined and the Chicago & Alton has been informed that no baggage car will be required as a temporary bar.

Other convention specials out of St. Louis invariably have been featured by improvised bars over which have been dispensed brews of manufacturers, anxious to obtain that kind of advertising.

"We are not prudish," said Paul V. Janis, provisional state committee man, in charge of the local progressive movement. "Our local campaign is to be free from mudslinging, and we certainly don't intend to encourage booze fighting."

MARKETS.

CHICAGO GRAIN.
Chicago, Ill., July 22.—Wheat prices today took a bearish turn as a result of weak cables. Opening figures were 1-4 to 7-8c down. September started at 92-5-8 to 93, touched 92-1-2, recovered to 93-1-8 and then fell back to 92-3-8@1-2.

Corn eased off on account of the fine weather for the growing crop. September opened 1-4 to 5-8 lower at 61 to 61-3-8, swung around to 61-5-8 and later descended to 61-3-8.

Harvest delays tended to steady oats, until speculators began selling, owing to the depression in other grain. September started 1-8 off to a like amount up at 33-1-4 to 33-1-2 but fell to 33-1-8@1-4.

A decline in the hog market carried down provisions. First transactions ranged from Saturday night's level to 15c below, with September delivery at 17-1-2 to 17-5 for pork; 10-60 to 10-62 1-2 for lard and 10-50 for ribs.

PROGRESS.

That is what all our pupils do the world over. Read what Mr. R. L. Garner wrote last week. "Sully County, South Dakota, office of clerk of courts. Regarding my own progress will say that I have done all the reporting for this court for the past two months to the entire satisfaction of all concerned." Mr. Garner was a pupil for a few weeks, and finds the new A. B. C. shorthand fills the bill. Professor Phelps at the Michigan University, Ann Arbor, writes: "Hope your system, (A. B. C. shorthand) is meeting with the success it deserves. I shall praise it forever."

Come in for a thousand testimonials, printed and free. Local Santa Fe pupils can show their results for five weeks teaching. Facts are facts. It is sheer madness to go to another town for shorthand while the A. B. C. is in Santa Fe. We pledge our word that we will finish all pupils we enroll. We do not demand your money in advance. We pay weekly and just as you can afford it. We will do all we can, fairly and squarely. Not a pupil that we have finished is out of employment. References by the thousand. Five new pupils last week. Don't delay. Procrastination is a dangerous disease.

GOVERNOR PLEASED; MOVIES FOR DENING

Deming, N. M., July 22.—Following the banquet tendered the Governor and Mrs. McDonald on Friday evening, the visitors were taken on an extended automobile trip over the valley Saturday morning. A half dozen automobiles conveyed the Governor's party and a number of local people to various irrigated farms, and over the new road south of town which was constructed partly with state funds. J. A. French, the new state engineer, inspected this road, and will make recommendations later concerning the spending of one thousand dollars more upon it that is now available. Governor McDonald expressed himself as pleased and surprised at the marvelous agricultural developments of the valley. He was shown over a dozen wells, none of which were pumping less than 300 gallons per minute. The party also drove over a portion of the section irrigated by the flood ditches of the Mimbres Valley Irrigation company. It was found that this company has twenty-eight quarter sections under this ditch, and that each year since 1907 there has been good feed crops grown with flood waters of the Mimbres. The visitors were also shown the new plant of the Deming Ice and Electric company, which is furnishing power for pumping water. This company is building 40 miles of transmission wire this season and is constantly enlarging its plant. The party had intended leaving on the 2:45 east-bound train for El Paso, but decided to lengthen their visit at Deming by staying until the Santa Fe left at 7 o'clock.

Hon. J. A. French, who has had large experience in irrigation work said: "I can see that your development here has only fairly begun. You have tremendous possibilities in the way of agriculture and fruit growing."

W. O. Grace of Chillicothe, Mo., purchased today one quarter section two and a half miles west of town, a quarter section three and a half miles west, a half section four miles west from Lee O. Lester and Fred Sherman, paying for the same $20,000.

There has been water in the flood ditches of the Mimbres Valley Irrigation company for the past week, and most of the land under the project is thoroughly irrigated. There have been good rains in the mountains, although little has fallen in the valley proper, except local showers.

J. L. Greenwood of Ramona, Okla., purchased through Smith & Wells, 160 acres of land near Hondale yesterday.

Dr. M. J. Moran was host at a dinner at the Harvey House Thursday evening, entertaining the following: Mr. and Mrs. John C. Watson; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Ely; Miss Edna Watson; Miss Bess Watson; Miss Ina Lapham; Louis Dornbush; and Jno. W. Dymond.

M. K. Wight and son, F. L. Wight, of Mehis, Texas, are prospecting in the valley.

Messrs. W. H. Wright, Stanley Thompson and H. G. Wells have leased the Baker building on Silver avenue and are having the same fitted up for a moving picture theater. A raised floor is being put in, four big fans, an exhaust fan in the ceiling, for perfect ventilation and a new simplex moving-picture machine. The name of the company is the Comet Amusement company, and the show will be open for business in a very few days.

J. A. Ehrman has returned from San Francisco, where he went to attend the funeral of his mother a few weeks ago.

An Eventful Elopement, a great comedy at the Elks tonight.

THE NEW CASUALTY COMPANY IS A BIG THING

IT HAS AS ITS OBJECT TO LOAN NEW MEXICO MONEY IN NEW MEXICO, AND IN THAT WAY AID LOCAL PEOPLE TO BUILD UP THEIR STATE WITHOUT PAYING HIGH RATES TO FOREIGN CAPITAL.

In another place in these columns will be found the announcement of the Interstate Casualty Company of Santa Fe, a corporation, that means much to our city and to the entire state.

For many years New Mexico in common with its sister states has been sending annually large sums of money to far eastern states for insurance, a very small proportion of which have been returned to us in losses paid and investments. The policy of the Interstate Casualty Company will be to loan money at home, to its own people, preferably on real estate security. The company will commence business with $400,000 of assets. In a few years this should be swelled to more than a million dollars. This means quick and cheap money to our farmers and land owners—to our business men for the erection of office buildings—to our clubs and lodges for homes. A notable instance is our Elks' home here and the one in Las Vegas, both of which were erected on money furnished by the Two Republics Life Insurance Company of El Paso, which company we might mention here, was organized by Messrs. B. F. McNulty & Co., who are in charge of organization work of the Interstate Casualty Company.

Mr. E. E. Perrenot, one of the members of the firm was until recently vice president and general manager of the Two Republics and was largely instrumental in securing the Elks' loan.

The Interstate Casualty Company is not a promotion scheme. It was conceived and brought into being by the following well known men who are the incorporators: A. B. Renahan, J. H. Vaughn, Carl A. Bishop, J. A. Massie, Robert P. Ervin.

The fiscal agents, B. F. McNulty & Co., are well known and experienced men and have an excellent record of successful promotions. The Interstate Casualty Company

A Cure From The Forest

Nature in her wisdom and beneficence has provided, in her great vegetable laboratory, the forest, a cure for most of the ills and ailments of humanity. Work and study have perfected the compounding of these botanical medicines and placed them at our disposal. We rely upon them first because of their ability in curing disease, and next because we can use them with the confidence that such remedies do not injure the system.

Among the best of these remedies from the forest is S. S. S., a medicine made entirely of roots, herbs and barks in such combination as to make it the greatest of all blood purifiers and the safest of all tonics. It does not contain the least particle of harmful mineral. S. S. S. cures Rheumatism, Catarrh, Sores and Ulcers, Scrofula, Malaria, Skin Diseases, Contagious Blood Poison and all other diseases dependent on impure blood. As a tonic S. S. S. builds up the system by supplying a sufficient amount of vigor and nourishment to the body. It is perfectly safe for young or old. Book on the blood and any medical advice free.

THE DAY IN CONGRESS

SENATE.

Convened at 11 a. m.

Resumed consideration of Sundry civil appropriation bill.

Former Senator Scott before campaign funds investigating committee, testified no contributions from corporations were made to Roosevelt fund of 1904.

Senate and house conferees on Naval appropriation bill failed to reach agreement on battleship program, though senate yielded to house and dropped appropriation for navy yards.

Judiciary committee ordered favorable report bill to prevent shipment of liquor from "wet"

into "dry" states.

Passage of excise tax bill

Friday was predicted after canvass by senate leaders.
