THE CELEBRATION

How the Fourth Was Observed.

The Old Town of Albuquerque Honored Itself.

A Fine Program Was Carried Out in Detail.

DISPLAYS OF FIREWORKS.

Albuquerque celebrated the Fourth in a most patriotic manner and the day was singularly fortunate in the freedom from fires and accidents. The proclamation of Mayor Myers permitted the firing of bombs from 6 o'clock Thursday evening to 6 o'clock this morning, but some of the more impatient ones could not wait until 6 o'clock Thursday and late in the afternoon fire crackers began to pop. All Thursday evening there was an incessant din which did not cease until after midnight and it began again early yesterday morning and continued with vigor until noon. During the afternoon there was a cessation, as many went to Old Town and those who did not, were tired out. Old Town was the attraction in the evening and the cars going over were crowded to their utmost capacity. Fireworks were displayed in all parts of the city, but Albuquerque had fired itself out and by 10:30 the city was quiet.

It was an orderly day and but one arrest was made, an Indian. The only accident was the burning of S. E. Newcomer's hands when his stand of fireworks caught fire and that caused the only fire alarm of the day.

In Old Albuquerque.

It was in Old Town that the most elaborate and the only formal observance of the day was held. At 5 o'clock in the morning a uniformed squad of the Mutual Protection Benevolent society, headed by a drum corps, marched into the plaza and formally raised the American flag. At the same time the national salute of twenty-one guns was fired.

Old Town then awakened up and from that time on until late in the evening crowds came and went. The plaza was well filled all through the day. The First Regiment band played in the morning and the booths and various stands around the plaza were liberally patronized.

The afternoon was full of amusement. At 1 o'clock the dance in Orchestra hall was opened by the grand march and from that time on dancing was continued through the afternoon. For those who preferred base ball there was a good game between the Old Town Reds and the Santa Fe Pacific club, in which the former won by a score of 16 to 6. Over in the plaza there was fun galore. A greased pole furnished no end of hilarity and many a small boy struggled valiantly to get to the top. The fortunate youth was Willie Mann and to him was given the prize. The event looked forward to with greatest anticipation was pulling the chicken and in this M. Martinez was the victor. The course for the foot race was around the plaza and Louis Armijo crossed the tape first. The sack race was won by R. Zamora. During the races the First Regiment band played.

The formal program of the day was held last evening. Before the program opened the band played as the crowd assembled. Hon. Epimeno A. Miera, the orator of the evening, and Major H. R. Whiting were escorted to the stand by a committee and were received with hearty applause. The band played "Star Spangled Banner" and then Nestor Montoya, as master of ceremonies, announced the first number. Mr. Montoya made each announcement in both English and Spanish. Tony Werner, a pupil of the public schools of Old Albuquerque, recited in fine style. "Our Magistrates," naming each president from Washington to Roosevelt and giving the chief feature of the term. It was well done and the young man was given hearty applause. "Our Flag" was recited in concert by boys and girls of the Old Albuquerque schools. The recitation closed with the singing of "Columbia, the Gem of the Ocean" by the children, in which they waved small flags during the chorus. A bright dialogue was next given by Masters Ortiz and Montoya.

The reading of the Declaration of Independence by Major H. R. Whiting followed. In introducing Major Whiting, Mr. Montoya referred to the immortal principles of the document and said it was to be read by one who had fought to uphold those principles. Major Whiting was warmly received and read it in an impressive manner. After the band played "Dixie," Mr. Montoya apologized for the absence of Hon. F. A. Hubbell, who was to have delivered the address in English. He said Mr. Hubbell was called out of the city by important business and on his behalf extended his regrets and good wishes. He then said the orator of the evening was a self-made man of whom all New Mexico was proud, an old friend and neighbor and a typical Spanish-American citizen. He closed by presenting Hon. E. P. Miera as the orator. Mr. Miera began by referring to the original formation of the colonies, to Washington and the other patriots. He vividly pictured the hardships and difficulties which were encountered in the struggle to free the colonies from the English crown. He said the struggle was for civil and religious liberty in the new republic and the early patriots left their families and children in their homes, which had been and were in danger of being attacked by Indians, while every able-bodied man bore arms against tyranny. The American soldiers based all on their faith and the right of their cause while the signers of the Declaration signed their own death warrants had it been that Great Britain succeeded. The present generation, living in happiness and wealth, in the greatest of all countries on earth, should be grateful to the heroes of those days and perpetuate their names in honor for the legacy they have left us. He called attention to the fact and particularly impressed it on his Spanish-American hearers that every American citizen is a sovereign by the right acquired upon the equal principles of human liberty. American citizenship which passes respected through the world, is due to the document just read and to the constitution. As an American citizen himself he knew that all within the hearing of his voice would not change their lot for an imperial crown. He called on all to understand the living fact that the true mark of the American citizen is a liberal, common school education. An American citizen must be educated and must depend on himself. He expected all parents to profit by the public schools and make, in the near future,

SOME NEW LINES.

The Santa Fe Will Make Important Additions in Texas.

THE PECOS ROAD.

A recent dispatch from Austin, Texas, says:

The Atchison system is to build some important additions to its lines in Texas, according to reliable information received here. A survey has been made and the contract let for the immediate building of a direct line of road from Stoneham, a station on the Beaumont branch of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe, to Houston. While it is not apparent on the surface that the Atchison is behind this project, the railroad commission has received advice of an official nature that such is the case.

The distance between Stoneham and Dallas by the proposed route is about fifty miles. The new line will give the Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe a direct entrance into the latter city by way of Somerville, where connection is made with the main line running to Fort Worth and Dallas and points in Oklahoma and Kansas.

It is stated on the same authority that it is proposed to shorten the distance between north Texas points and Houston and Galveston by building the line north from Stoneham to a connection with the existing main line of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe, near Fort Worth.

This proposed line would traverse the territory which the new lines of the Chicago, Rock Island & Gulf and the International & Great Northern intend to occupy, and its building is looked upon as a necessity on the part of the Gulf, Colorado & Santa Fe, in order to meet the prospective competition of the two proposed roads.

An authoritative announcement has been made that the Atchison has determined to meet the competition of the Rock Island's El Paso short line by building a cut off road from its point on its system in Oklahoma southwest to a connection with the Pecos & North Texas railway, probably at Amarillo, Texas.

The Pecos & Northern Texas is a part of the Atchison system, and connects at Amarillo with the Southern Kansas railway, which also belongs to the Atchison system. The Pecos Valley & Northwestern connects with the Pecos & Northern Texas at Texline. It also belongs to the Atchison. It runs through western New Mexico and again enters Texas at State Line and connects with the Texas Pacific at Pecos, that part of the line between State Line and Pecos being operated under the corporate name of the Pecos River railroad.

Fourth at San Marcial.

Special Correspondence.

San Marcial, N. M., July 4.—Although the Fourth was not quite as warm a day with us as the second, when the depot burned, the Nation's birthday was celebrated in a patriotic manner. The base ball teams of San Marcial and Valverde crowded bats on the green below town in the afternoon. The game terminated with a score of 30 to 16 in favor of San Marcial, and Harry Fultz, who umpired the game, being put out with a black record. A general display of fire works lighted up the little village in the evening.

Jewish Chatauqua.

Atlantic City, N. J., July 5.—The sixth annual session of the Jewish Chatauqua assembly opened here tomorrow and many prominent Jewish educators and others have arrived to take part in the proceedings. The assembly this year is to extend over three weeks during which time there will be courses in Jewish history and literature, Hebrew pedagogy, applied philanthropy and kindergarten methods.

THE KING'S DINNER

Half a Million Were Fed.

China Asks for Help From the United States.

May Attempt to Resume Work at the Collieries.

TRACY REPORTED KILLED.

London, July 5.—Half a million of London's slum dwellers were King Edward's guests this afternoon. They were scattered in about 400 halls, schools and parks in varying numbers, the greatest number of beneficiaries being at Stepney, where no less than 45,000 enjoyed a dinner such as they seldom partake of. At every gathering was read a message from the king signed by his private secretary, to the poor, sent through the lord mayor of London, as follows:

"Buckingham Palace, 11:20 a. m.—I am commanded by the king to inform your lordship his majesty and the queen had intended visiting some of his coronation dinners today and he deeply regrets his illness prevents their doing so. The king has deputed members of his family to represent him at as many of these dinners as possible. I am further commanded by the king to express his hope his guests are enjoying themselves and passing a happy day.

KNOLLYS.

The Prince and Princess of Wales traversed the metropolis from end to end in semi-state, the carriages being escorted by a detachment of horse guards, and they appeared at the central gatherings in several districts. The principal dinner was at Futham, where Sir Thomas Lipton, who organized the whole feast, did the honors of the day to 14,000 of the poor, aided by a host of titled and untitled volunteers. The reading of the morning bulletin on the condition of the king was a signal for a tremendous outburst of cheering. All dinners were followed by variety shows by upwards of 15,000 operative, theatrical and music hall artists and 418 pianists.

It was the only feature of the original coronation program not abandoned by reason of the king's illness. Ever mindful of the welfare and happiness of his subjects, even in the face of death, his majesty made a special request that the dinner to the poor be given as planned.

It is doubtful if history records anything like a parallel to today's feast. In the task of feeding the great hungry horde more than 7,000 stewards and an army of waiters were employed.

The dinners comprised roast beef, potatoes boiled in their jackets, coffee and several varieties of vegetables, the whole being topped off with heaping dishes of plum pudding. Each male diner received an ounce of smoking tobacco and free pipes were also presented. As a memento of the occasion there was presented to each of the king's loyal but hungry guests a hand-dressed souvenir cup made by Doulton, the royal potter, and bearing under its glaze photographs of the king and queen and a memorial design selected by the king himself.

The following regarding King Edward's condition was posted at 10 o'clock this morning:

"His majesty had another excellent night and feels much stronger. We are glad to be able to state the king is now out of danger. The evening bulletins, therefore, will be discontinued."

ASKS OUR HELP.

China Wants no Foreign Soldiers at Tien Tsin.

Washington, July 5.—The Chinese government has appealed to the government of the United States to use its good offices to cause the allied powers who still retain soldiers at Tien Tsin to evacuate that place in conformity with the spirit of the agreement of Peking in which was settled the Boxer troubles. An appeal was made today by Minister Wu directly to Secretary Hay in the shape of cablegram from Viceroy Yuan Shih Kai of Chi Li, which the minister supplemented with a long verbal explanation.

MAY HAVE TROUBLE.

Efforts will Probably be Made to Resume Work.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., July 5.—A movement of empty coal cars along the railroads and unusual activity about the several collieries indicate an effort will be made in a few days to start work at some collieries. The operators assert they have sufficient men to man several collieries. Pickets of the union are watching the mines and all moves are reported at headquarters, and if any effort is made to gather men, the strikers will endeavor by large picket committees to see them before they go to work and dissuade them. In the Hazleton region they turned many back this morning.

Tracy Reported Killed.

Seattle, Wash., July 5.—An unconfirmed report from Ballard just received ed says Harry Tracy has been killed at Woodland Park.

TOMORROW'S SPORTS.

Fine Program Arranged for the Haberie Benefit.

By hard work the past week a very fine program has been arranged for tomorrow afternoon at the fair grounds at 2:30 o'clock.

The entertainment is to be given for the benefit of Johnnie Haberie, who, in trying to redeem Albuquerque in the base ball game at Santa Fe, broke down his health and has since been confined to his bed a very sick lad. He is a young gentleman only 18 years of age and was, apparently, in good health prior to the time he over-exerted himself. All Albuquerque is interested in their ball team, and the services this young man has rendered will no doubt be appreciated by a large turnout tomorrow afternoon. The members of the ball team and other friends are working hard for the success of the entertainment. Following is the program:

Base ball game between the Old Town Reds and the Browns.

3:00 Minute Trot—William T. Elmo Wilkes; McGinty, Dr. Gordon.

2:40 Trot—Action, Boone, Lady Margaret.

2:40 Pace—Bonnie Treasure, Bob Collins.

The horses entered are the best in the city and the races will be good. Today the track was put in first class condition and is very fast now.

After the first race Mr. Dodson will go a mile on his motorcycle against time and expects to make it in two minutes flat. The machine is capable of going a mile in 1:30, but owing to the fact that the track is flat at the fair grounds Mr. Dodson will not risk going any faster than two minutes. This event will be the first of the kind ever seen in the southwest and is being looked forward to with interest.

Before the sports begin and between events the Italian band will discourse music. They will play three tunes at the corner of Second street and Railroad avenue before going to the fair grounds. Tomorrow they will make their first appearance in their new uniforms.

The cause is a worthy one and the program well worth the 50 cents admission fee.

JUDGE M'MILLAN.

His Moral Character Impugned and in the East to Answer Charges.

MCMILLAN ALL RIGHT.

The charges preferred against Judge Daniel H. McMillan by Elfigo Baca of Socorro, have reached Washington, and Baca will try and have the judge removed.

The Washington Post, in its comments, says:

Judge Daniel H. McMillan, of the supreme court of New Mexico, formerly one of the best known state senators of New York, and for years a prominent resident of Buffalo, will this week make answer to charges that have been filed against him in the department of justice. He came all the way from New Mexico to disprove the charges. Not even his closest friends in this city, or those who have been associated with him in New York politics, are aware of the fact that his political opponents in New Mexico are endeavoring by every means in their power to impugn his character, so that removal from office will result, and they will be able to get the $2,000 position which Judge McMillan now holds.

Judge McMillan heard several weeks ago that charges were to be preferred against him by certain persons in New Mexico, and he at once arrived here. Since he has been here he has ascertained the nature of the charges. He has as yet made no formal answer, but will probably do so this week.

Judge McMillan went to New Mexico more than three years ago for the benefit of his health. Prior to that time he had served in the New York senate, and had been an attorney for the New York Central Railway company. He had been in New Mexico about a year when he made application for appointment to the supreme bench. There was considerable opposition to him on the grounds that he was a "carpet bagger," but he was appointed by President McKinley. He is a man of pronounced legal ability, and has conducted his court satisfactory to most people in New Mexico.

Charges Will Be Dropped.

The Washington Times says: Judge Daniel H. McMillan, of the supreme court of New Mexico, had a long conference on Saturday with Attorney General Knox in regard to charges which have been filed against him by some of his territorial political opponents. The officials of the department of justice refuse to divulge the nature of the accusations against Judge McMillan. The attorney general did not summon him to appear to answer the charges, whatever they are, and his presence in this city is entirely voluntary. He heard that some of his political opponents were preparing accusations against him, and came to the capital at once. He has not as yet made a formal reply but will do so this week. There is a possibility that the charges are of such a nature that they will be dropped without further investigation.

CARS TURNED OVER

Frightful Accident on Electric Line.

President Roosevelt is Going Home.

Death and Fire List of the Glorious Fourth.

GOLD HEELS WINS.

Amsterdam, N. Y., July 5.—At 11 o'clock Friday night a frightful accident happened on the Mountain Lake railway electric road running five miles north of Gloversville to a summer resort. Two cars were coming down grade, one behind the other. The rear motorman lost control of his car and ran into the first car, telescoping it. The cars ran some distance, then left the track and overturned, falling on the passengers, who were crushed beneath them. Twelve persons are known to have been killed and thirty-three injured. The dead, all of whom are of Gloversville, are: Mrs. Edward J. Baird, Miss Electa Baird, Miss Margaret Main, Mrs. Orman Eastman, Edward Davis, Edward L. Trevitt, Joseph Saloy, Mrs. Joseph Saloy, Edward Saloy, Isadore Rothberg, Fred Cronin, and Mrs. Maria Annabel, of Northville.

PRESIDENT GOING HOME.

Walked on the Platform at Harrisburg and Philadelphia.

Harrisburg, Pa., July 5.—The special train carrying President Roosevelt and party from Pittsburgh reached Harrisburg at 9:35 this morning en route to Oyster Bay. During ten minutes' wait at the union station to change engines and crews the president and Attorney General Knox walked up and down the platform. A large crowd of railroad men and spectators gathered and to these the president smiled and lifted his hat.

Reached Philadelphia.

Philadelphia, Pa., July 5.—President Roosevelt arrived here at noon over the Pennsylvania road from Pittsburgh en route to Oyster Bay. His special car, Olympia, was surrounded by railroad employees with whom the president shook hands. During the few minutes of the interval before starting, the president walked up and down the platform. The train left at 12:46 and is due at Jersey City at 2:40 p. m.

FOURTH CASUALTIES

Four Drowned at Minneapolis and Two Serious Fires.

St. Paul, July 5.—The casualties of the Fourth in the Twin Cities include four drownings and a large number of injuries from toy cannons, mud cans and other explosives.

The drowned are: John Buckley, in St. Croix lake; D. W. Emerson in Lake Couchichewick; Paul F. Thompson in Cedar Lake, and William Reber in Kish lake, all residents of Minneapolis.

Sparks from a Rocket.

Paris, Ill., July 5.—At Oakland, Ill., a town near here, the building occupied by the Tibbs furniture store and several other buildings were destroyed by fire last night, the fire catching from a skyrocket. The loss, which is heavy, is partially covered by insurance.

Whole Town Burned.

Annapolis, Md., July 5.—It was learned definitely today the entire town of Gettelo, a small place on the Rock Island system, in Iowa county, was destroyed by fire yesterday. The loss is about $25,000 and insurance light.

Brighton Handicap.

New York, July 5.—Gold Heels won the Brighton Handicap today, with Blues second and Argregor third.

Princess Victoria 34.

London, July 5.—Persons who take an interest in the doing of royalty are reminded of the fact that the Princess Victoria, the only unmarried daughter of the king and queen, will enter upon her 35th year tomorrow. Her royal highness was born at Marlborough house, July 6, 1868. She is a year and four months older than her sister, Princess Charles of Denmark, who has now been married more than five years. Gossip has had the princess betrothed any number of times, but according to her most intimate friends her royal highness has no intention of changing her lot of single blessedness.

Big Missionary Gathering.

Syracuse, N. Y., July 5.—The state convention of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, which opened today at Assembly park, near Tully, is one of the most notable gatherings of its kind ever held in this part of the state. The Rev. A. W. Simpson is the president officer and among the leading missionaries taking part are the Rev. Henry Wilson, D. D. of New York; W. E. Blackstone, of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. David P. Ekvall, of West China; Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Hamilton, of India; Miss Kate Knight, of Burmah; the Rev. Robert M. Glover, of South China, and the Rev. John Robertson, D. D., one of Scotland's most famous preachers.

WILL LEAVE TONIGHT.

The Remains of E. C. Weidner for Union City, Ind.

The remains of E. C. Weidner, who was crushed to death under a car in the local Santa Fe Pacific yards on Thursday afternoon, will be shipped tonight to their last resting place at Union City, Ind., the home of the daughter, Mrs. H. E. Jackson. Mrs. Weidner, the wife of the departed, will accompany the remains.

A special meeting of the Masons—as been called for 6 o'clock this evening. The deceased was a Knight Templar and a Masonic escort will follow the remains to the depot.

Judge H. H. Ribble, an uncle of Mrs. Weidner, who is visiting on the Pacific coast, has not been located, although every effort was made to locate him.

Masonic Notice.

A special communication of Temple lodge No. 6, A. F. and A. M., will be held this evening at 6 o'clock sharp. All members are requested to be present. Visiting brethren cordially invited. By order of the worshipful master.

ROBERT ABRAMS, Secretary.

C. A. Hudson and wife left last night for Denver. After a stay of a few days there they will go to Chicago and thence to Milwaukee, Wis., where they will attend the convention of the National Bill Posters' association.

HAVING FUN.

Judge Baker Returned This Morning From Silver City.

Judge B. S. Baker, who accompanied the delegation of Albuquerque Elks to Silver City on Thursday night, returned to the city this morning. He called at The Citizen office and stated that the train was two hours late in getting to Silver City, but the fun started immediately thereafter. The morning parade, on account of the delay of the train, had already taken place, but after the local Elks had dined they formed in line in the afternoon and made much merriment by their unique and appropriate make-ups. "Spot" Moore being especially good in his dress and mannerism. The judge says the Silver City Elks and citizens generally did all in their power yesterday to make the visitors enjoy themselves and feel at home, and the Albuquerque delegation took advantage of every opportunity to show their appreciation. The Elks base ball game will occur, says the judge, at Silver City, this afternoon. Those of the local Elks who can pull themselves away, are expected to return tomorrow morning.

Gone to Texas.

Marvin Hunter, formerly of Deming, has leased the Bland Herald to another party, resigned as Bland postmaster, and gone into the printing business with his father in Texas. Mr. Hunter was doing very well in a financial way at Bland, but the very high altitude there was against Mrs. Hunter's health.

In the current number of the Cosmopolitan is one of the best character sketches of Andrew Carnegie ever written, and its author is Charles S. Glead, of Topeka.

The Illinois prohibitionists refused to invite Mrs. Nathan, of Kansas, to attend their convention. The shock of having some one present who believes in doing things would probably have been too much for them.

Anson J. Cahoon and F. Olmstead, of the agricultural bureau at Washington, are at Flagstaff. They are there for the purpose of examining the forest reserve and submitting plans for use of the department for determining what timber shall be cut in the future and the disposal of the waste and the probabilities of reforesting.

They make about 300,000 lamp chimneys in Pittsburgh every day. The factory men say about 400 chimneys are broken every twenty-four hours. Of course there is no means of accurately computing the number of chimneys that are broken, but the sales show how many are used, and to meet the demand for chimneys the factory makes the large number of chimneys just stated.

IF SOUR, MOVE AWAY.

There is no reasonable excuse for a man living in a town if he doesn't like it, says an exchange. If you have no word of commendation to say for your town, its institutions or its people, emigrate. You won't stop the course of events by going away, neither will your carping criticism cut any figure if you remain. The church bells will have the same musical ring, the dogs will play just as brashly, the fish will bite just as well, and the pure air and bright sunshine will have the same health-giving properties. Speak a good word for your neighbors if you can; if you can't, don't everlastingly enlarge on their faults. If you have become thoroughly sour and disgusted and can't see any good in your town, move away; go somewhere where you can be suited.

SANITARIUM AND SANATORIUM.

There is quite a difference of opinion in regard to the proper spelling of the word "sanatorium." Some spell it "sanitarium." In the last issue of an eastern hygienic publication there are two full page advertisements, opposite each other, one relating to the "Sanitarium" and the other to the "Sanatorium."

On the face of it, it looks as if "sanitarium" would be the correct way to spell it, from the Latin "sanitas," health. However, the lexicographers appear to think differently. Webster does not give the word, but the Century dictionary has it "sanatorium" (also erroneously "sanitarium") from sanatorius, giving health." The Century dictionary is doubtless good authority, but it is difficult to see why sanitarium, from sanitas, health, should be more erroneous than sanatorium, from sanatorius, giving health. This is a question where doctors of language disagree. However, The Citizen will follow the spelling of it in the Century dictionary.

KEEP UP YOUR CREDIT.

The most important asset of any business man is his credit. Nothing can injure him so greatly nor so permanently as the impairment of that credit. Nothing can so hamper him in the struggle for success as even the slightest suspicion of the integrity of that credit.

The most powerful safeguard of business credit is a record of agreements unbroken. That a business man may be depended upon to keep his word, under any and all circumstances where it is within the power of man to so keep it, is a firmer foundation for success than any other that can be laid. Adversity may sweep away fortunes, calamity unforeseen may wreck the best laid plans, even poor judgment may defeat ambitions. But the man who has kept his word inviolate and his agreements sacred can never be disarmed in the struggle of life.

What is true in the case of the business man is equally true in the case of the laboring man, and of all others. It is the keystone of character and of success everywhere. It is the one stone essential to a firm and enduring structure of any kind.

THE ARAB MOTHER'S ADVICE.

When an Arab damsel gets married, her mother gives her the following advice for securing her future happiness: "You are leaving your nest to live with a man with whose ways and habits you are unfamiliar. I advise you to become his slave if you wish to become the absolute mistress of your husband. Be satisfied with little, endeavor to feed him well and watch over his sleep, for hunger begets anger, and sleeplessness makes a man crossbrained. Be dumb as to his secrets, do not appear gloomy when he is merry nor merry when he is sad, and Allah shall bless you."

Hives are a terrible torment to the little folks, and to some older ones. Easily cured. Doan's Ointment never fails. Instant relief, permanent cure. At any drug store, 50 cents.

Sons of Benjamin.

Philadelphia, July 5.—Prominent Hebrews from Baltimore, Chicago, Cincinnati, New York, Denver, St. Louis, Louisville and other cities throughout the country are in Philadelphia for the triennial convention of the Sons of Benjamin, one of the pioneer and best known Hebrew charitable organizations in the country. The gathering will begin its sessions in Odd Fellows' temple tomorrow with Ferdinand and Levy, of New York, presiding. One of the features of the convention will be the banquet in Industrial hall Monday night. Covers will be laid for 1,000 guests and among those present will be leading public men of the city and state as well as representative Hebrews from every section of the country.

Gigantic Tunnel Project.

Cripple Creek, Colo., July 5.—Early in the coming week active work will be commenced on the gigantic tunnel project of the Cripple Creek & Pueblo Railway company. The work is the biggest undertaking of the kind ever attempted in the Cripple Creek district. The tunnel will contain a double track railway and the total cost is estimated at $5,000,000. It will require upwards of three years to complete the tunnel and its main branches. There will be scarcely a mine in the Cripple Creek district that will not be able to send out its ores through this tunnel.

Poisoning the System.

It is through the bowels that the body is cleansed of impurities. Constipation keeps these poisons in the system, causing headache, dullness and melancholia at first, then unsightly eruptions and finally serious illness unless a remedy is applied. DeWitt's Little Early Risers prevent this trouble by stimulating the liver and promote easy, healthy action of the bowels. These little pills do not act violently but by strengthening the bowels enable them to perform their own work. Never gripe or distress. J. H. O'Reilly & Co., B. H. Briggs & Co.

Dumas Celebration.

Paris, July 5.—The municipality of the pretty little city of Villers-Cotterets has completed great preparations for celebrating tomorrow the 100th anniversary of the birth of Alexander Dumas the elder. The celebration will take the form of a series of fetes and ceremonies. One of the features will be a grand illumination tomorrow night in the park and forest of M. Henry Menier, the great chocolate manufacturer.

Social Democrats.

Milwaukee, Wis., July 5.—The social democrats assembled in state convention here this afternoon with an attendance of delegates from many parts of the state. The purpose of the gathering is to nominate candidates for state officers and for congress and to perfect plans for the coming campaign.

Summer complaint is unusually prevalent among children this season. A well developed case in the writer's family was cured last week by the timely use of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy—one of the best patent medicines manufactured and which is always kept on hand at the home of ye scribe. This is not intended as a free puff for the company, who do not advertise with us, but to benefit little sufferers who may not be within easy access of a physician. No family should be without a bottle of this remedy in the house, especially in summer time.—Lansing, Iowa, Journal. For sale by all druggists.

Social at Home of B. Schuster—Narrow Escape from Fire—Gang of Desperadoes.

A quiet little social event was enjoyed at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Schuster, by a few intimate friends of the family. Ice cream, such as only an expert can make, and elegant cake, were served as refreshment.

A private letter from Concho tells of the narrow escape of the Schuster Mercantile company's store from destruction by fire. The heroic efforts of a large crowd of men saved the building. Little damage was done. Entirely covered by insurance.

Father Vabre, of Flagstaff, and Father Connelly, of Winslow, conducted the religious exercises of the Catholic church here on St. John's day. They go from here to Springville and back by here and on Concho. While the fathers were in the city one couple embarked on the fitful sea of matrimony and perhaps some others may see their footprints on the sands of time and take heart and hand as well.

WINSLOW.

Going to California—Foresters Pay Death Claim—Farewell Reception.

Mrs. K. Gillett expects to leave for Fort Wayne, Ind., on a visit to her sister.

H. H. Herr expects his family to return soon, and is looking up a suitable residence.

Mrs. George A. Lane and daughter, left for California.

Mrs. H. L. Grimshaw left for California, where she will spend several weeks.

Dr. Sampson received a draft from the Foresters for $500, in payment of the life insurance of the late Thomas H. Fee.

Mrs. R. C. Creswell and Mrs. J. A. Tillett, accompanied by their children, were guests of Mrs. Frank Wallace at the Aztec headquarters.

T. A. Anderson, who has been working at the Creswell stables for some time, has resigned his position at that place and accepted a position with W. A. Parr, the contractor.

The hours for using city water for irrigating purposes is from 8 p. m. to 5 a. m., and water users should act accordingly.

Mrs. F. W. Nelson left for Ashland, Ohio, where she will spend the summer with Mr. Nelson's mother.

A farewell reception was given to E. King and wife. Mr. and Mrs. King have been residents of Winslow for several years, and many friends turned out to bid them God-speed and prosperity in their new home. They expect to make their future home in Douglas, Ariz., and left for there the other day.

HOLBROOK.

Good Fruit Crop—Guhey to Build—A Big Wool Market—Transfer of Troops.

The country districts report a good fruit crop this year.

G. R. Bauerbach, T. J. O'Kelly and Freeman Stewart were up from Winslow.

Mrs. J. L. Fish went up to Concho to see her father, E. Cheney, who is quite sick.

Louie Guhey has commenced the erection of an adobe building on the site where the Argus office stood. The building will be 25x30, one story, with basement.

J. L. Clark, who has been in the employ of F. J. Watron as clerk for some time, resigned his position this week, and has tied himself to the hills on a prospecting tour.

Will Scorse, who has been clerking for his uncle, H. H. for some time, expects to leave next week for Alberta, Can., where he will go into the stock business in company with his brother, James.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Commons, Mrs. Dandridge and Miss Quinlan, of Keams Canyon, left for San Francisco. Mr. Ewing, who drove them down, has returned to the canyon.

Holbrook is sustaining her reputation as a shipping point for wool and stock. There has up to this time been shipped forty-five cars of wool, amounting to about 2,000,000 pounds, besides several train loads of stock.

Tuesday was quite a lively day for Holbrook on account of the transferring of troops. Two troops of the Fifth cavalry, under command of Captain Wheeler, left for the Philippines, and two troops of the Third cavalry, en route from the islands to Ft. Apache, under command of Captain Hedeck.

KINGMAN.

Two New Elks—Water Tank Collapsed—New Telephone Line—Election Suit.

Fruits from the nearby ranches are now being brought to town. Owing to the heavy winds of last month the crop of apricots and peaches will be quite light.

S. H. Black and A. J. Frye, of Searchlight, are in Kingman. Mr. Black comes to enjoy a night of Elkanian hilarity at the expense of Mr. Frye and six more deluded mortals who were passed through the torture chamber of the Elks and learned the mysteries and wisdom of their sages Wednesday night.

C. W. Medler, of Albuquerque, representing the Washington Life Insurance company, was a caller at this office. Mr. Medler is acquainted with a number of our people and the meeting with them was a pleasant surprise to him. He is a pleasant gentleman and we commend him to the people of the county, who may desire insurance in a reputable company.

Last Wednesday afternoon the water tower on which was a 6,000-gallon tank filled with water, at the residence of Delphine Whitney, in the west part of town, collapsed and destroyed both tank and tower. In the lower part of the tower a chicken house was built and all the chickens in the house at the time were killed. The loss is estimated at several hundred dollars.

The telephone line now being built to Needles by way of Gold Road and other mining camps in the San Francisco mining district, reached De Nure's place at Little Meadows Wednesday last. The line will be strung into Gold Road by tonight. A telephone line to the L. G. gold camp of the county will be quite a convenience to people of Kingman and the mining camps.

A suit in ejectment has been filed in the district court by George N. Conard against J. J. Tobin. This suit will settle the title to the Burns' spring, over which there has been a dispute. Last winter Conard obtained a judgment against Tobin and an order of restitution from the place, but he returned and took possession of the place and subsequently shot Conard, when the latter went there to prepare the ground below the spring for a crop.

Charles L. Radcliffe, of San Pedro, N. M., accompanied by Judge J. E. Perry and several of the owners, visited the Russell & Co. mines, near the Sheeptrail, this week. They returned from the mines Thursday evening last. Mr. Radcliffe made a thorough examination of the property and on his report will depend the sale. The mines are big and show values the entire length. Small shafts have been sunk along the vein and everywhere possible crosscuts have been run in exposing immense ore bodies. The river is but seven miles away and a good road runs past the mines.

FLAGSTAFF.

Local Option—Similar Operation to King Edward—Forest Fires—New Probate Judge.

From the Sun.

Alex Burnside and family left for Durango, Cal., where he has a position with a large plumbing house.

M. W. Wray has severed his connection with the Navajo mission of Rev. W. R. Johnston, and will move his family back to Flagstaff.

Forest Supervisor F. S. Green has been granted a thirty days' vacation commencing July 5, which he will spend at his old home in Illinois.

Seventeen precincts in Maricopa county voted on local option on Wednesday of this week. The vote cast was 256 for prohibition and 87 votes against.

J. B. Girard, the civil engineer, formerly of Williams, but now a resident of Prescott, was here. He expects to obtain a contract for the survey of a portion of the forest reserve.

James R. Kathrens is recovering from the operation recently performed on him by Dr. P. G. Cornish in Albuquerque, and he will probably be home next week. The disease from which Mr. Kathrens suffered was similar to that from which King Edward is suffering.

County School Superintendent Layton has been notified that there is in the county school fund, subject to appropriation, the sum of $3,355.15, which he has apportioned to the several districts as follows: Flagstaff, $1,676.05; Williams, $997.31; Tuba, $138.52; Fredonia, $443.27.

Sheriff Johnson received a telegram from Sheriff Munds, of Yavapai county that Dell Jones had been arrested in Naco and would be brought to Prescott. Deputy Walker left for Prescott and will bring Jones back.

Charles Canall, of the long distance telephone line, is in town this week making arrangements to connect a number of business houses with the long distance. It is his intention to extend the line from Williams to Ash Fork, where he will connect with the telephone lines to Prescott, Jerome, Phoenix and other southern Arizona towns.

A number of forest fires have occurred during the week. The fires for the most part have been in the sections from which the timber has been cut, among the waste portions of the trees. The high winds prevalent during the week have caused the fires to spread rapidly and there is no means of stopping them when once under headway.

The Arizona Lumber & Timber company, together with the town council, have decided to connect the Flagstaff and Snowflake springs with the Flagstaff water works system. The springs are located 8,000 feet from the head of the system and when connected will double the supply of water now received in the reservoir. A force of men under the direction of E. T. McGonigle are now at work on the line and it is expected the work will be completed in thirty days.

Probate Judge N. G. Layton tendered his resignation as probate judge and county superintendent of schools. Judge Layton has been appointed territorial superintendent of public schools by Governor Brodie. Judge Layton has been probate judge of this city four terms, and by virtue of that office county superintendent of public schools, and has filled both offices with ability and to the satisfaction of the public, being a careful and painstaking official. There were two applicants who had filed petitions, Frank C. Reid and A. J. McKay. Recorder Hibben and Treasurer Hoxworth cast their votes for Mr. Reid, and he was chosen to fill the unexpired term of probate judge and county school superintendent.

THE CELEBRATION.

ture, New Mexico one of the greatest states in the union. He closed with a tribute to the flag and an exhortation to all to be firm and steadfast in their patriotism.

On the conclusion of Mr. Miera's address, led by the children and the band, the entire audience sang "America" and thus closed the program.

A fine display of fireworks followed and then the people went to the Mutual Protection Benevolent association and Orchestra halls, in each of which dances were given. Dancing was continued until an early hour this morning and thus was the day brought to a close.

The Old Town outdid itself in decorations. Streamers were hung across the streets and flags were everywhere. The stand in the plaza was covered with bunting and on a large easel was a picture of George Washington.

The following private residences in Old Albuquerque were gay with flags and bunting: On the plaza: Mrs. C. G. de Armijo, H. Bluecher, G. Stucke, J. Borradaile and J. Romero. On Main street: J. W. Hall, H. R. Whiting, C. D. Murphy, Juan Anaya, S. Crockett and Pedro Martin; and on Railroad avenue those of Nestor Montoya, Propicio O'Bannon and Mrs. M. C. Brown. The hall of the Mutual Protection association and Orchestra hall and all business having honored the day by profuse display of the national colors—only the court house stood in its massiveness without a sign about it in honor of the country's natal day. The lack of decoration of the building gave on impulse to the petition to the commissioners to have a flag staff put on the building and buy a flag. It was a great day for Old Albuquerque and the celebration was a royal one. The crowd was wonderfully well behaved and enjoyed itself.

The Only Fire.

The only fire of the day was shortly before noon. The words of caution from the city authorities were heeded and notwithstanding the excessive dryness of everything, there was not a serious fire. A spark fell on the table of fireworks standing in front of the store of S. E. Newcomer and one of the greatest displays of fireworks seen immediately followed. Rockets, pin wheels, Roman candles, firecrackers joined in promptly exploding. Mr. Newcomer, with great nerve, seized the table and dragged it away from the building and into the street. In so doing his hands were painfully burned. When the fire department reached the scene the show was over with no damage other than the loss of stock.

Alvarado Fireworks.

The most elaborate display of fireworks on this side was that provided by L. Fred Klooz, manager of the Alvarado, for his guests. The broad verandas were filled with the guests of the house and many from the city while all around the yard were great crowds who witnessed the display. In the middle of the yard Mr. Klooz and his assistants worked like Trojans for over an hour giving a pretty display of all fireworks effects.

Mr. Klooz has the happy faculty of keeping his guests entertained and he has made a host of friends both among the traveling public and in Albuquerque. He is a hotel man of experience and the results of that experience are seen in his admirable management of the Alvarado. He began in 1887 as steward of the Masury hotel at Thomasville, Ga., and the next year went to Old Congress hall at Atlantic City, N. J., in the same capacity. For two years he was connected with the Lafayette hotel, the leading hotel of Philadelphia. From the Lafayette he went to Louisville, Ky., and opened the new union station. In the fall of 1892 he embarked in business for himself and opened a hotel at Pewee Valley, a town seventeen miles from Louisville, where the widow of General Lawton now lives. During this same time he opened the club house of the Kenton club. In the spring of 1894 he took charge of French Lick Springs, Ind., and made a great success. After leaving there the Pendennis club of Louisville secured his services and he remained with that organization for seven years. It was while there that Ford Harvey wrote and asked him how he would like to associate himself with the Harvey system. He accepted and took charge of the Alvarado on March 25 last. Mr. Klooz has worked hard to bring it to its present state of perfection and in reply to a question said: "I am more than satisfied with the Harvey system and I have done as well as I know how to make the hotel a success."

Private Fireworks.

All over the city last evening private fireworks were given and some were quite elaborate. In every direction rockets and Roman candles were seen shooting up in the air and now and then a balloon rose and sailed away. The private displays were more than usually numerous.

Street Car Arrangements.

The management of the street railway company deserves commendation for the manner in which the crowds were handled yesterday. All through the day there was a steady flow of people to Old Town but the company provided ample facilities for all. In the evening and until after 9 o'clock there was a great crowd going over. As the crowd increased the number of cars was increased, so that no one was inconvenienced.

THE DELEGATION.

Of Elks to Silver City—And They Are Having Fun.

The Albuquerque Elks were started safely to Silver City Thursday night. The train was late but the time was joyfully spent, as many who did not go to Silver City went as far as the station. "Spot" Moore, in his suit of yellow, struck terror to the hearts of tourists on the Alvarado veranda. A large stock of fire crackers, fire works and other things was purchased and it was a royal celebration that was indulged in. A number of poems were recited and Sheriff Hubbell delivered a touching lecture to his ball team. Those who left were S. Luna, J. J. Sheridan, Mike Mandell, F. A. Hubbell, J. H. O'Reilly, G. F. Albright, T. S. Hubbell, Thomas Hughes, "Spot" Moore, D. J. Abel, Mel Summers, A. A. Keen, R. W. D. Bryan, Tony Ortiz.

Men Don't Lie When They Are Dying.

How do brave men die?
 What are the thoughts that fill their minds as they pass from this world into the next?

The answer is found in the messages from a tomb printed in The Kentucky Post recently.

The graphic story from Coalbrook, Tenn., where 227 lives went out in a mine disaster, equalled in dramatic intensity and religious fervor the sublime passing of Wm. McKinley.

Down in a corner of a coal mine, deep in the bowels of the earth, penned in, beyond all possibility of rescue, was a little band of miners.

Can you imagine a more awful situation, a more chilling, heart clutching scene, with hours and even minutes numbered?

The one great thought in the minds of these dying men who were gasping for God's pure air was of home and loved ones, of mothers, sisters, children, who were soon to be robbed of their protectors.

And these brave men set them down and in the dim, trembling light of their candles, scrawled their pitiful messages to those bound to them by ties of blood. They were literally messages from the dead, voices from the tomb, and there are tears in every line and sorrow almost glorified in every word.

And the messages were love. The great hearts throbbed with it. The men who spoke of themselves as we speak of the dead poured out tenderness. "Take care of the children," said one; "My little Eddie, good bye," wrote another; "Raise the children the best you can," wrote another, and one was addressed to "My darling mother and sister," and said "Tell friends not to worry over me."

Not a word of complaint, not a syllable of fear from these rough, uncultured heroes of the mines.

Don't you see how approaching death wipes out everything except hope and love. Quarrels are forgotten, jealousies perish and hatred dies, and there is left the supreme desire to kiss the lips of dear ones once more and to express the affection that leaves the heart as it ceases to beat.

But there is more.
 You will not find much religion in a mining camp. It is a rough life. Men don't study the future much.

Toll, bitter, hard toll, that bends backs and hastens old age, makes men work for the body and forget the soul. But at the end something sustained those doomed men. No human being could pen the letters that were found on their bodies without a sustaining power. Dying, they believed in God and in future life. They believed without understanding, and that belief was greater than physical courage.

"God be with you," wrote Scott Chapman. "I'll meet you in heaven," wrote J. L. Vowell. "Meet me in heaven," wrote James Brookes and George Hudson and John Hendon, who signed his letter "Your boy and friend," wrote "Tell all the friends to meet me in heaven."

Men don't lie when they are dying. They don't stop to puzzle over theological questions or Biblical errors when they are gasping for breath.

No sermon that was ever preached told more of the sustaining power of religion than do those letters from the men who in life were patient, average human beings, and in death sublime.

LOVE AND HISTORY.

Roses shed their petals
 Countless Junes ago,
 And those dead Decembers
 Brought their snow.

Weary eyes were covered
 With their patient lids,
 By the yet unbuilt
 Pyramids.

Life and death, like sweethearts,
 Hand in hand,
 Then, as now, stole over
 Sea and land.

Lovers kissed and quarreled,
 Eyes were moist and blue,
 In the Midian meadows
 Moses knew.

Cheeks were wet with weeping,
 Brows were hot with fire,
 Ere the hand of Homer
 Swept the lyre.

And this masque of midnight,
 And the moon's white face,
 Looked on Nile and Jordan,
 Thebes and Trace.

Must the mint be new, dear,
 If the coin is gold?
 Though youth dies, Love never Waxes old.

History means this morning,
 Greece is here and now;
 Let us drain Time's beaker—
 I and Thou!

Press thy lips to mine, dear,
 Thus, and thus, and thus;
 Space and time shall perish,
 Slain by us.

All the lands of wonder—
 Years of pain and bliss,
 We will taste together
 In that kiss!

Notes from Correspondents

ELKS AT SILVER CITY.

They Were Met at Depot and Are Having a Fine Time.

Special Correspondence.
Silver City, N. M., July 4.—The delegation of Albuquerque Elks arrived in a special Pullman on this morning's incoming passenger train. They were met at the depot by the Silver City herd and have been busy since. They were all arrayed in costumes from a big fat Dutchman down and marched from the depot headed by a brass band and were greatly cheered by the crowds. They were joined at Deming by several El Paso Elks and together they made quite a delegation. Editor Hughes says he is too busy having a good time to send anything in as the town is wide open to all Albuquerque Elks. Little Joe Sheridan is still sober at the present writing, as is also the balance of them, but it is hard to say in what condition they will find themselves by night. The local herd served a banquet to the visiting Elks at noon today and an elegant spread was laid out before them.

A little life may be sacrificed to an hour's delay. Cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea come suddenly. Only safe plan is to have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry always on hand.

FOURTH AT VEGAS.

Appropriately Celebrated—No Accidents—Major Llewellyn Intervued.

Special Correspondence.
Las Vegas, July 4.—The day we celebrate was most appropriately observed in Las Vegas. The whole complement of amusements were on tap, and they were enjoyed by a large number of people, though there were hardly as many people in from the country as we looked for. The celebration commenced Thursday night, and the noise continued until late last night. The fun was all in old town, except a fifty yard race on Grand avenue on this side between Jack Strauser and Max Lucero, a native from Mora. The native won the $50 which was up on the race, a large side bet besides. The native beat the American by about a foot, it being a close and fast race.

Two bands of music kept up melody all day at the plaza, and the merry round did a land office business. There were several red lomonade stands erected around the plaza, and all were well patronized. The regular program began at 2:30, when the cavalry troop, unmounted, made an attack on the infantry company, who were using the plaza stone wall as breastworks, and a thrilling sham battle ensued. The infantry had outposts at each of the entering streets and when the attack was made, they fell back inside the wall, the cavalry coming down with a yell and on the run. The attack was repulsed, and after using up their ammunition the companies fled out to the ball field to settle the winner of the battle on the diamond.

The foot, burro, sack, three legged races next were run and furnished considerable amusement for the crowd. The burro race, particularly, in which there was a large entry, was very funny. The reporter started to get the names of the winners, but being unable "la Mexicana to sprechen" gave it up as an impossible job.

Later in the evening the E. Romero Hose company made a practice run and coupled on the hose preparatory to sending water against time. They did good work and are to be congratulated on their efficiency. A fine display of fireworks finished up the day—a day which on the whole was a grand success.

Al Rogers, Jr., returned Thursday evening from his trip to Ann Arbor. He was gone a couple of weeks and had a splendid time, he said.

George Hunker returned from his trip to "Mizouri" Thursday evening, where he renewed old friendships and put up Las Vegas' climate. Be it also noted, he returned alone.

D. D. Black and mother returned from Chicago Thursday evening and will go to housekeeping in one of the new flats on Douglas avenue on their completion. The trip seems to have done the doctor good.

Amelia Ortiz, of Mora, shot his crackers here on the Fourth.

The new machinery for the coal mines at El Porvenir is about all in place and the drill will be started next week. The drill is built for a depth of 700 feet, but it is expected that coal will be reached in a sufficient thickness to mine long before that depth is reached.

Mrs. W. H. Joka returned from her extended visit to Kansas City and other Kansas points on Thursday evening.

The Elks put the brand on three frisky bucks last night, R. A. Valdez and Reyes Romero, of Mora, and A. B. Stanton, of this city. The boys had a fine evening's entertainment out of initiation and put away a good lunch besides.

The Fourth on the whole was practically free from accidents. A runaway of a team which had been unhitched on Douglas avenue made a little excitement, but hurt no one. There were plenty of burned fingers, but so far nothing serious has been reported.

Albert Keen and family spent the evening celebrating by a quiet picnic in the mountains.

The foot race that was to have taken place between Pierce Murphy and James Williams this afternoon was called off last night by Pierce forfeiting the $10 deposit. Pierce said he "done himself up practicing" and could not run today.

J. D. Hughes, of the Santa Fe New Mexican, passed through here Thursday en route home from Washington. He thinks the passage of the statehood measure positive at the next session of congress.

Miss Minnie Detterick left yesterday for a few days visit in the territorial capital and while there will attend the Wheeler-Palmer wedding.

Mrs. Charles Robbins and family will leave the first of the week for a two weeks' stay at Blake's ranch.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Stewart, Mr. and Mrs. Burch and Miss Hope that make up a jolly camping party that will start for an outing above Mora on Monday morning. The campers will be gone several weeks.

Dr. Smith wears the badge of the gun club this week. The score was very poor on account of the high wind, the winner making only fifteen birds out of twenty. Miller, Quinby and Dearth made only thirteen each. Mr. Rosa got fifteen.

Mrs. J. F. Geline, who was formerly Miss Cora Robinson, of this city, arrived here Thursday from Prescott, Arizona, and was met by her brother, Fred, who accompanied her up to her parents' home near Mora.

Miss Estelle Lewinson, of Albuquerque, passed through here on Thursday bound for the east. A number of friends here greeted her at the train. Miss Mamie Greely, who was here a few months ago for her health, died the first of this week at her home in Newton, Kansas. She had many friends in this city.

C. L. Harris still continues on the sick list. He is confined to bed.

The fire department was called out Wednesday evening to extinguish a little blaze in the rear of W. J. Funkhouser's premises on Eighth street. A coal shed caught fire in some unknown way, but the department soon put the blaze out and little damage was done. The west side company was not called out.

W. J. Fleming, of Chicago, father of George Fleming, of this city, arrived here Thursday to visit with his son.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Spitz came in on No. 2 from Albuquerque Thursday, and will spend the summer at the Montezuma.

R. C. Westcott, the former trainmaster at Raton, was Thursday presented with a fine diamond ring by the trainmen as a mark of their esteem. Mr. Westcott was popular with the boys and has accepted a position on the Denver & Rio Grande railroad as trainmaster.

Juan A. Archibeque, of San Ignacio, brought in the head of a large black bear which he killed and got his $10 bounty.

Jacob Gross, wife, daughter and son, Robert, came in last evening from St. Louis, and they will spend the summer at the springs.

F. H. Pierce returned last evening from La Junta, where he went to meet his wife's sister, Mrs. Donald Tyler, and her son, of Owensboro, Ky. Mrs. Tyler will spend the summer here.

Mrs. Tina G. Elston has filed suit through her attorney, T. B. Mills, to quiet title to some property on Main avenue. Hattie M. Reed, et al., are made defendants in the case.

A native of this city who got full and went over to the tenderloin district Wednesday night, proceeded to wipe his feet on the lace curtains. He is sobering in jail today and will get his trial on Saturday.

Governor Otero, Col. A. S. Gregg, assistant manager of the El Paso & Northeastern railroad, and Adjutant General Whiteman were joined here by Judge W. J. Mills and Captain Austin and the crowd went to Raton where the governor and Judge Mills made the addresses on the Fourth.

W. V. Long and wife have returned from Denver, where they attended the International Sunday School convention. They report a good time.

I. Kaiser, the merchant who was stricken last week, is able to be at his store this morning. He is still very feeble, however, and has but little use of his right arm.

Major W. H. H. Llewellyn, district attorney and one of New Mexico's most prominent citizens and attorneys, passed through Las Vegas last evening on No. 7, en route to his home in Las Cruces from a few weeks' sojourn in Washington. Your correspondent found him perusing a copy of a paper in the Pullman and content with the world after a good supper at the Castaneda, and just ripe for a little quizzing as to the statehood outlook in congress.

The major, who is the soul of geniality, replied, "Well, Mr. Rodey and myself appeared before the senate committee last Saturday and made a talk of about one and a half hours. You know the committee has been empowered to sit during the vacation, and it is most probable that Senator Beveridge and other members of the committee will make a tour of inspection in the three territories, probably in September and

SCIENTIFIC FEEDING

And Exercise Solves the Question.

Dr. H. L. Warner, in a recent issue of the New York World says:

"Only a small percentage of the American people have perfect digestion and assimilation of food and the elimination of the waste matters of the body. In the matter of food and exercise the whole problem of health is contained. By making these right, we can create perfect health."

"Digestive disturbances are due either to improper food or too much or too little proper food. With proper food taken in reasonable amounts, the imperfect actions of the various processes are corrected."

"This is not a fact but a fact established by the researches of pathologists and bacteriologists. The action of foods on the digestive and assimilative organs is known exactly. The result to the blood and through it to the whole system is certain and definite."

The most highly nutritive food now manufactured is Grape Nuts. It is made from certain parts of the grain and put through a mechanical process whereby the starches are changed to grape sugar and the phosphates of the cereals retained and thus supply the necessary nourishment and vitality to the body, brain and nerve centers.

In its predigested form Grape Nuts does not overtax the stomach, but renders sufficient assistance to the digestive organs to permit of the easy assimilation of other foods.

Thoroughly cooked at the factory by food experts brings Grape Nuts from the grocer to you ready to serve with the addition of cream, and its crisp taste, with the delicate sweet of the grape sugar, makes it pleasing to the palate of the most critical epicure.

There are scientific facts which can be proven by anyone and a trial of ten days or two weeks will show what you can do on scientific feeding.

The recipe book in the package shows many delightful ways of serving the food.

will visit Las Vegas. There seems to be, as near as I can determine, among various senators who know an opinion that the enabling act will be passed some time during the next session. Many of the strongest senators, who know what they are talking about, say while the enabling act will be passed admitting the three territories, yet they will not allow the territories to come into the union before the next presidential election. There is considerable opposition among the senators, but I believe less in New Mexico than the other two territories. New Mexico is regarded as safely republican, but about Arizona there is some doubt, and they want to be on the safe side when the election votes are counted.

The major's interview throws one or two new lights on the question that have not been noted before, as for instance the putting off of the territories coming into the union until after the presidential election, and the probabilities of the senate committee coming out here to see for themselves and will materially assist the measure.

Saves a Woman's Life.

To have given up would have meant death for Mrs. Lois Cragg, of Dorchester, Mass. For years she had endured untold misery from a severe lung trouble and obstinate cough. "Often," she writes, "I could scarcely breathe and sometimes could not speak. All doctors and remedies failed till I used Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption and was completely cured." Sufferers from coughs, colds, throat and lung trouble need this grand remedy for it never disappoints. Cure is guaranteed by all druggists. Price 50 cents and $1. Trial bottle free.

ITEMS FROM BERNALILLO.

Merry Crowd Visit the Placitas Hills—Personal Paragraphs.

Special Correspondence.
Bernalillo, July 3.—A merry crowd from Bernalillo spent June 29th in the hills above Placitas. The day chosen for the picnic was a pleasant one and all enjoyed greatly the invigorating mountain air and delightful scenery.

How a day thus spent amid the cool murmuring woods, where one can witness the marvels of nature, seems to revive the spirit that oft times is quite weary. How thus in the attitude of prayer one feels drawn closer to the Creator and praises Him for His munificent gifts to man. The homeward ride added much to the enjoyment of the day. Those who constituted the party were Joseph Bibb and family, I. Freudenberg and family, Jerome A. Harris, of San Francisco, Cal.; Leo and Milton Loewenberg, of St. Joseph, Mo.; Mr. A. Zostberg, S. Kahn and May L. Kraft.

Miss Ethel Gregg spent Friday evening, Saturday and Sunday visiting friends at the Indian school near Albuquerque and bidding adieu to those who were to depart for the summer vacation.

Messrs. Simon Bibb, of Laguna, and Solomon Bibb, of San Francisco, Cal., and nephew, Irving, have been spending a few days here with relatives. Irving Bibb is a son of a former pioneer, Nathan Bibb.

Mrs. Lamme departed this morning for Kansas City and will shortly return to her old home in Missouri. Mr. Lamme expects soon to make a visit to the east too. We are rejoiced that both will return and make Bernalillo their home as Mr. Lamme has been chosen night operator here.

Miss Ethel Gregg left with her sister from Arizona for Santa Fe, where they will spend a few days.

Mr. Bibb's men are working very hard at the mines and are much encouraged at the good prospects.

I. Freudenberg spent Wednesday in Albuquerque.

Leo and Milton Loewenberg, of St. Joseph, Mo., are visiting the Freudenberg family.

I. Freudenberg will leave Saturday evening to spend a week on the Ellis place in the mountains.

The Freudenberg and Bibb families and Miss Kraft will spend a month at Placitas during the warm weather. They have already rented pleasant little homes there.

Friday will be kept by the small boys of Bernalillo in the usual Fourth of July style.

Mr. Bibb and wife will spend the Fourth in Albuquerque. Mrs. Weiss, of San Francisco, will accompany them.

Leandro Silvia will be one of the musicians at Placitas tomorrow.

Louis Gross is enlarging his place. Father Couderc went to Santa Fe on Monday returning Wednesday.

Sanchez Lucero went to Sandia last week to bail alfalfa.

Joseph Bibb is building a warehouse 28x150 feet for storing alfalfa and corn.

W. D. Kemp, the well known miner of Sandia mountains, is in town today buying supplies for his camp.

Mr. Theilm, of Albuquerque, is in town today hiring herders for his sheep ranches.

The mail from Bernalillo to Placitas is carried now by Pedro Gurnie, who succeeded Juan A. Perez.

GOLDEN DISTRICT.

Interesting Mining Notes From a Good Camp Just Above This City.

Special Correspondence.
Golden, July 4.—Col. H. S. Farley, of the Interstate Mining company, left this morning for Albuquerque.

L. D. Ingar, general manager of the Argo Mining company, arrived from New York city, where he has been for six weeks.

Messrs. Conner and Bonetto have started doing some assessment work in the Montreal tunnel. Ore lately found is rich enough to mill and several tons will be taken out and milled.

T. L. Hall and Lofnick O'Conors, of the McKinley mine, have been at work in the mine and another mill run will be taken out, and treated at Golden. The vein is showing some very nice free gold ore.

A very rich strike was made in the Las Vegas mine, owned by the Argo Mining company, by Young Silverman, of New York city, about six weeks ago. Mr. Sugar, general manager of the Argo Mining company, went to Milwaukee to attend the meeting of the company. When he left here he put Young Silverman to do some work in the Las Vegas mine, where Mr. Sugar had several times found some free gold ore, and being satisfied that a larger deposit of the mineral would be found by driving the tunnel ahead, Young Silverman followed Mr. Sugar's instructions, and it was not very long after he had started working, when he found a large pocket of ore, from which he took out several hundred dollars' worth of ore, mostly being gold. The pocket found by Young Silverman is the same kind which had been found by Mr. Sugar several years ago, it being in red oxidized iron, the gold being leafy and wiry, making some very pretty specimens. The strike was made in the Tuerto mountains and only a short distance west of the Old Timer mine. The Las Vegas and Devina Pastora mine are joining claims, and several years ago, while the Monte Cristo Mining company was sinking an artesian well for water to place with, at a depth of 400 feet, some white quartz was struck by the drill, and Sam Wright, owner of the Divina Pastora lode with Manzaneros, prospected the drillings and he was surprised to find gold the size of wheat grains, some of the gold showing that it had been broken off a larger piece down the well. They had been battered and broken up while drilling. Immediately after the find was made, Mr. Wright notified Messrs. Manzaneros and Gother of what he had seen, and immediately application for a patent for the Divina Pastora mine was made, an adverse claim was filed by the Las Vegas people, and the two properties have been tied up in the courts since. But now it looks as though both companies would settle up the disputed ground, and we may look for some greater discoveries to be made in both claims. The ore lately found in the Las Vegas lode will undoubtedly show the mining world that the ore exists in the new placer mining district and it only lacks the capital to open them up. The Argo Mining company, which has been spending several thousand dollars in developing the Hazelton mine, where some very rich ore also has been found, will now put more development work on the Las Vegas. Mr. Sugar is now having the conflicting ground surveyed for final settlement with the Divina Pastora company.

The Same Old Story.

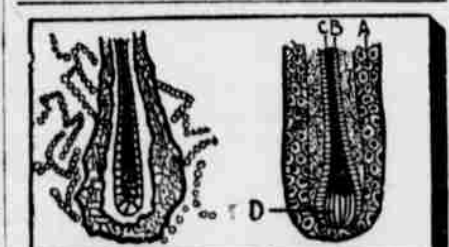

J. A. Kelly relates an experience similar to that which has happened in almost every neighborhood in the United States and has been told and retold by thousands of others. He says: "Last summer I had an attack of dysentery and purchased a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, which I used according to directions and with entire satisfactory results. The trouble was controlled much quicker than former attacks when I used other remedies." Mr. Kelly is a well known citizen of Henderson, N. C. For sale by all druggists.

Moki Indians Still Use the Methods of Centuries Ago.

HOW MEAL IS MADE.

F. A. Dillenbaugh in Kansas City Star.

In his original state the North American Indian was generally more of a farmer than most people are willing to believe. Long before the whites came to this continent he was, in many localities, reaping tolerably good crops. In the eastern portion of the continent they were usually planted and tended by the women, the men occupying themselves in hunting or fighting. Thus the relegation of the farming to women was merely a division of labor made necessary by the condition of tribal society in certain regions at that period.

Their only grain was wheat, and since been called Indian corn, not because it was derived from India, as its name indicates, but because it was found in the possession of aborigines here, who, in their turn, through the mistake of the first Spaniards, had been erroneously termed Indians. The proper name for this corn is maize, of course. Just where it originated can not now be definitely determined, but it is supposed to have been found on the table land of Mexico, and to have spread from there over the entire western hemisphere.

However that may be, the red folk had long been supplied with it when first encountered by the whites, and were sometimes able to furnish it for subsistence to the starving settlers. The methods of cultivation employed were simple, but they produced good crops. Each region had different ways of preparing corn for eating, but the cultivation was in the main similar. The method may be studied today among the Mokis of Arizona who have changed less from their original condition, perhaps, than any other Indian tribe within the borders of the United States. They are still planting and tending maize after the customs of their fathers, who never saw a plow.

Contrary to the habit of the Algonquians and other Indians of the regions east of the Mississippi, the Moki and his immediate kin exacted none of the field work from the women. The men tended the crops, while the women looked after the household affairs very much as our own women do, except that they went a step or two farther and also built the house, which, it may be added, was a very good one.

When the corn was brought to them they ground it, as they still do today, and then they made it into a peculiar, but excellent, nutritious bread. In their arid country there was little game to hunt, so the man's time was free for his farming, leaving the women, who unlike the Indian women of the east, were in no danger from enemies of other tribes in the villages on the mesa tops.

These bleak summits, 700 feet above the plain, have not a blade of grass to show, nor can anything else grow there. One must look below for all the farms, and there you eye perceives them scattered along for miles like fragments of some huge checkerboard. Wherever the soil offers the conditions which the Moki farmer, in his long experience, has found advantageous, there lies a farm.

Owing to the extreme dryness of the climate his method of procedure is different in some respects from that of his eastern brothers, who were favored with timely and abundant rains. All the latter had to do was to stir up the soil and plant the corn when occasional attention kept it in good condition, but the Moki is compelled to devote very close attention to his crop. The ground with a layer of sand upon it, is considered desirable, and the writer has passed fields, in good condition, growing apparently in nothing but sand. Below, however, was a good soil, the sand merely acting as a mulch.

Planting is done with a dibble, which is a stick with a sharpened point and a shoulder at right angles on side for receiving a foot pressure. With this implement a hole several feet deep is made, into which the grain of corn is dropped.

When there are showers and these come rather frequently during the growing season, all the men having fields in the same neighborhood are called out by the proper official, no matter what the time of day or night, and they descend to the valley, there to assist each other in guiding the shower waters in and out amongst the growing crops, wherever such procedure is possible.

With their hoes they rapidly construct little earthen dams across streamlets and "washies" and those cause the flowing waters to be concerted for better manipulation. And, as of course, these operations are considered when the crops are put in, it is generally possible to secure considerable irrigation in the manner from passing showers that would otherwise be of slight service. Some of the Indians of the southwest, particularly those of a bygone day, extended this principle of irrigation to the utilization of living streams and in many places is still to be seen the remnants of irrigating ditches which often stretched across the country for miles.

The corn that was grown centuries ago was often larger and finer than that of today, a fact that is established by the specimens found in ruins. The reader wonders just here, no doubt, how grains of corn could be preserved so long, even in the dry air of the southwest, but when it is explained that this corn was rendered into pure and indurible carbon by the burning of the house or other shelter where it was stored, the matter becomes clear enough. Some of the grains of corn thus made into charcoal by the cruelty of an enemy or the misfortune of a moment are as large and full and well developed as any that can be found even in the Kansas of our day, proving that the old methods of working and irrigation were entirely effective.

The Moki corn comes up bushy and not very high, but it produces a generous number of ears, not large, to be sure, but abundant enough to make up for deficiency in size.

Besides the corn they also grow watermelons, peppers and squashes, and, in favored spots, cotton and peaches.

On the uncultivated stretches which occupy the main portion of the region, flocks of sheep are grazed, and donkeys and "burros," and if one of the latter so far forgets himself as to intrude on a corn field and regale his palate with the juicy plant, one of his ears is cut off as punishment. A second offense causes the loss of the other ear, giving the animal a grotesque look.

At least a year's supply is always kept on hand to guard against a failure of crops and consequent famine, but nevertheless they usually have a good deal to sell. Watermelons are also piled up in storage the same as the corn, in the secluded inner rooms, and so wonderfully dry and aseptic is this wonderful air of Arizona that the watermelons are easily kept over until the following February at least. The writer has seen them and eaten them in that month, but as they were perfectly sound it is likely that they endure a month or six weeks longer.

In preparing corn for eating the Moki has his own method, similar, however, to that of other tribes in his own condition and kind of culture, and learned not from the white man, but from his fathers, his grandfathers and many times great grandfathers. First it is reduced to meal. A mill, or metate, in this region consists of a thin flat slab of sandstone set up at an angle of about thirty-five degrees, surrounded by a curb of flat stones or boards to prevent the meal from scattering. Usually there are three in a row of these grinding slabs back of the higher side of which the operators, the young girls of the household kneel, and with a rubbing stone crush the grain, each carrying the process one step farther unless the requisite degree of fineness is arrived at on the last stone.

This work is usually accompanied by singing of a peculiar sort—a shrill high note, varied and vibratory—that suggests the song of the priestess in the opera of "Aida." This singing goes on and on in a monotonous way, filling the surrounding air with its weirdness, till one is half ready to believe himself a denizen of another world.

Then the meal is taken in hand by the housewife. She mixes it in a large bowl with water, adding a small quantity of wood ashes as a leaven, and seats herself beside the oven where a fire has been previously kindled. This oven is composed of a long, flat smooth stone, and adjusted in a horizontal position with one edge against the wall the other resting on a second stone, thin and on its edge, and the end beneath the chimney, so that a fire may be built beneath.

Dipping her hand into the prepared batter she sweeps it across the surface of the smooth hot stone, spreading a film over the entire top, which is immediately baked. Upon this two more films are usually spread, the whole forming a thin sheet, resembling very coarse wrapping paper of a soft, bluish color, in size about one foot by two or three. This is peeled off and folded up, and stacked on a basket tray. It is palatable and nutritious, and in combination with peaches or watermelon is agreeable and refreshing.

IN SERVICE MANY YEARS.

The Late Andrew Smith Had Spent His Life in Railroad Work.

The late Andrew Smith, assistant superintendent of telegraphs for the Santa Fe, whose death was announced in The Citizen at the time, was attended in his last illness by Dr. Robert Morrison, chief surgeon for the Santa Fe Pacific road. A short sketch of Mr. Smith's railroad career will be of interest to Santa Fe men.

Andrew Smith was born at Waterville, N. Y., and entered railway service about April, 1862. To July, 1862, he was clerk to general baggage agent, C. B. & Q. at Chicago. From July, 1862, to January, 1876, successively train baggage man, telegraph operator, station agent, conductor, assistant train dispatcher and assistant general baggage agent of the H. & St. Joe railroad; January, 1876, to August, 1882, train dispatcher Kansas City division, St. Louis, Kansas City & Northern and its successor, the Wabash, St. Louis & Pacific railway at Kansas City, Mo. From August, 1882, to November, 1884, he was train dispatcher for Mexican Central railroad, and trainmaster of the same road, November 1, 1884, to November 1, 1885, he served as superintendent, second division, same road. From November 1, 1885, to March 1, 1888, he was division superintendent Atlantic & Pacific railway, March 1, 1888, to April 1, 1889, superintendent first division Mexican Central railroad, April 1, 1889, to January 1, 1892, he was superintendent transportation, Atlantic & Pacific railroad, January 1, 1892, to summer of 1897, superintendent telegraph, same road. From the summer of 1897 to March, 1900, he was superintendent telegraph Santa Fe Pacific railroad; September 1, 1897, to March, 1900, also superintendent telegraph Southern California railway; March 1900, to date, assistant superintendent telegraph, same road, and San Francisco & San Joaquin Valley railway.

Pistol Practise

Is becoming more popular among women. The reason given is that a woman should know how to use the pistol for self protection. The theory should be carried farther. Where a woman is in danger from assault once she is in danger from disease every day of her life. Women have not only to run the risk of diseases which threaten husband, brother, and son, but they have also to guard against diseases which are peculiar to womanhood.

From these diseases Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will effectively defend women. The use of this medicine preserves as well as restores the womanly health. It corrects irregularity, dries weakening drains, heals inflammation and ulceration, and cures female weakness.

"I cannot say enough for Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and 'Golden Medical Discovery,'" writes Mrs. Ida M. Tutt of 46 Franklin Street, Cranfordville, Ind. "I could hardly walk alone or do my housework when I heard of your wonderful medicine. I used five bottles of each and several vials of Pleasant Pellets, and can say I am a well woman. I thank Dr. Pierce for his advice for he helped me to live. May many thousands of women take my advice and when in poor health or suffering from any female trouble take Dr. Pierce's wonderful medicines."

Sick women, especially those suffering from diseases of long standing, are invited to consult Dr. Pierce, by letter, free. All correspondence is held as strictly private and is held as confidential. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

menting on his sickness and death says:

Andrew Smith, assistant superintendent of the Santa Fe telegraph department, died at his home in Los Angeles, Cal., of Bright's disease. Mr. Smith has been sick for several weeks. He caught a severe cold while on a trip to Albuquerque, and was taken home to Los Angeles in delirious condition. He was with difficulty prevented from jumping from the train. Mr. Smith was at first believed to be suffering with pneumonia fever but this developed into Bright's disease, and the patient suffered greatly to the end. Mr. Smith has been with the Santa Fe since 1889.

"My mother suffered a long time from distressing pains and general ill health due primarily to indigestion," says L. W. Spalding, Verona, Mo. "Two years ago I got her to try Kodol. She grew better at once and now, at the age of 76, eats anything she wants, remarking that she fears no bad effects as she has her bottle of Kodol handy." Don't waste time doctoring symptoms. Go after the cause. If your stomach is sound your health will be good. Kodol rests the stomach and strengthens the body by digesting your food. It is nature's own tonic. J. H. O'Reilly & Co.; B. H. CUT DOWN THE FORCE.

Strike Order Issued at Union Pacific Boiler Shops.

The Union Pacific has posted the following notice in its Kansas City, Kan., boiler shops:

"The company is compelled to make a 30 per cent reduction in the working force of this department."

The order was signed by Joseph Roberts, the master mechanic, and is said to be the result of the strike of the boilermakers and their helpers. Those who are affected by the order are mostly laborers. There were about 125 men working in the boiler shops before the strike, and the reduction of 30 per cent in the working force means that about twenty-five or thirty men will lose their positions.

The Union Pacific has advertised in the Kansas City papers for boilermakers, promising permanent positions, but no men were put to work yesterday. John McNeil, president of the National Boilermakers' union, says union railroad companies can't get competent men because all the good men are affiliated with the union.

"This strike may last a month or six weeks," said President McNeil. "I don't intend to make a move until the company shows an inclination to settle the strike. I have decided not to go to Omaha until the management of the Union Pacific sends for me. They know my address."

Reports from Union Pacific shops at Omaha are that 225 men have been discharged there, pending the settlement of the strike; 140 men at the shops at Cheyenne, Wyo., are also let out.

A meeting of boilermakers and Union Pacific machinists was held at Omaha. After the meeting President Kennedy of the boilermakers' union, said it had been decided to wait a day or two until the car builders' union has concluded an agreement at a conference with railroad officials. He expressed himself as confident of the ultimate result, and intimated that any attempt on the part of the railroad to force matters by bringing new men would result in a general strike in all departments.

Cut this out and take it to all druggists and get a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets. The best physic. They also correct disorders of the stomach. Price 25 cents.

Pertaining to the Smiths.
"Marooned in the desert by a railroad company," would be a good title for two suits commenced in the superior court today by "Libbie Smith and her husband, J. A. Smith," and by J. A. Smith alone, says the Los Angeles Record. Through Hunsacker & Britt and Robert Erskine Ross, they demand $2,000 damages each from the Santa Fe Pacific railroad company for being put off a train at midnight at a water tank in the Mohave desert at Cameron.

The story as told in the complaint is that Smith and his wife asked the ticket agent at Mohave for tickets for San Francisco and return over the Santa Fe route, but that the agent gave them tickets over the Southern Pacific line, and as it was at night, and dark in the little station, Smith did not discover the mistake until the conductor of the Santa Fe train said the tickets were no good.

Smith refused to pay another fare, and so the conductor stopped the train and dumped them in the wilderness.

The complaint recites that Mrs. Smith was just recovering from a severe illness and that the indignities and hardships she suffered were a great shock to her.

But the story doesn't tell how they were rescued, though they probably flagged a train and traveled by freight.

Vacation Days.

Vacation time is here and the children are fairly living out of doors. There could be no healthier place for them. You need only to guard against the accidents incidental to most open air sports. No remedy equals DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for quickly stopping pain or removing danger of serious consequences. For cuts, scalds and wounds. "I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for sores, cuts and bruises," says L. B. Johnson, of Swift, Texas. "It is the best remedy on the market." Sure cure for piles and skin diseases. Beware of counterfeits. J. H. O'Reilly & Co.; B. H. Briggs & Co.

TRAFFIC CONFERENCE.

A. A. Robinson at Topeka to Meet Rock Island Officials.

A. A. Robinson, president of the Mexican Central railroad, is at his home in Topeka and his private car, Mexican Central No. 19, is at the Rock Island station there. Mr. Robinson spent Monday forenoon in visiting at the Rock Island general offices. He was with Assistant General Passenger Agent E. W. Thompson for a long time and it is announced he will leave for Chicago, where he will remain for several days, before returning to his office at the City of Mexico.

It is said that Mr. Robinson's visits with the Rock Island officials have a significance. It is rumored that the conference which Mr. Robinson had with Mr. Thompson is preliminary to a conference with the Rock Island officials at Chicago toward a closer alliance between the two roads for an interchange of traffic.

James A. Catnach, general foreman of the Santa Fe Central telegraph line construction corps, expects to get into Santa Fe with the line in a few days. He arrived a few days ago from Progresso to finish up the line between Santa Fe and Kennedy.

A young business man of Roswell, who travels considerably, says Roswell is to have a Harvey eating house. He got the information from a man who is connected with the Harvey system and was thus in a position to know what he was talking about.

The stockholders of the El Paso & Southwestern railroad met in Bisbee the other day as a matter of form, to perfect the absorption of the Arizona—Southwestern, which is already a part of the Phelps-Dodge system. The road is fifty-six miles in length and extends from Bisbee to Benson.

The Santa Fe company is going to put in two large water purifying plants in the Pecos valley, one at Roswell and the other at Carlsbad. They are to be used for purifying the water for the boilers of the locomotives and will save the company a great deal of money for repairs on boilers. The two plants will cost about $6,000.

S. Vann, of the firm of S. Vann & Son, Santa Fe watch inspectors and jewelers, returned this morning from San Marcial, where he had been called to regulate the Santa Fe office clocks at that place. He reports that the fire fiend did a good job in the destruction of the depot which was burned Wednesday evening. Mr. Vann says that the trees along the side of the eating house were scorched so badly that they will die and that it must have been desperate fighting that saved the hotel.

The Cocino Arizona, Sun says: Prof. G. Wharton James and W. J. Bass spent several days here during the week. These gentlemen are making arrangements and will soon be ready to accommodate the tourists who wish to visit Mystic Spring trail, Sublime Point and Powell's Plateau. A new station called Bass has been opened four miles from Bright Angel by the Santa Fe and from this point stages will be run daily to Mystic trail. The hotel and stage line will be under the management of Mr. Bass.

The Deming Herald says: Paulin Lamos, aged 17 years, working with the surface gang on the main line of the Bisbee road at the front, had his left ankle crushed, his right leg broken and the flesh on his right arm torn in a very foolish accident there yesterday. The gravel train came along and there was a shovel sticking in the gravel on it. Lamos caught the shovel in an attempt to pull himself up on the car, when it gave away and he fell under the wheels. His folks live in Old Mexico. He was brought to the Deming hospital last evening and Dr. McLeilan, ably assisted by Dr. Rexford, amputated his left foot. He will probably die.

A. E. Sweet Gets It—Considerable speculation had been made in railroad circles since the appointment of D. E. Cain, formerly assistant to General Manager Mudge, the general superintendent of the western grand division, made necessary by the vacancy caused by the promotion of J. E. Hurley, as to who would be the lucky man to fill the vacancy made by the promotion of Mr. Cain. The Citizen today received information from an authentic source that Arthur E. Sweet, recently appointed trainmaster at Las Vegas, had been the man decided on. Mr. Sweet has received orders to come to Topeka. It is also rumored that an Albuquerque man will be appointed to fill the vacancy made by the promotion of Mr. Sweet.

Wells Denies It—General Manager A. G. Wells, of the Santa Fe lines in California said to a press representative at Los Angeles in regard to the reported settlement of the boilermakers' strike at San Bernardino and Needles:

"I know nothing of a settlement. If the report is true it has been made from the other end of the line and not here."

In spite of this denial from General Manager Wells of the coast lines, the rumor of a settlement continues to be very persistent in the Topeka shops, says the Journal.

The local officials will not confirm the report, but they intimate strongly that there may be something in it. The men employed in the boilermaking department are the ones who seem to believe that the strike is about to be settled.

C. O. Young Chosen—C. O. Young, foreman of the pattern department in the shops of the Santa Fe company at Albuquerque, N. M., and chief of the fire department here, has been chosen to go over the entire system, including the "A. T." and Gulf lines, and inspect and report upon the means which the company has for protecting itself against fire. Mr. Young expects to begin his duties the early part of the month.

He will go from place to place and make a thorough examination of the equipment at all the points, both as to apparatus and regarding the working force, the discipline of the men and the way in which they respond to and handle calls. It is believed that in this way the service generally can be improved. Mr. Young, it is stated, has had a wide experience in fire fighting, having been a member of the St. Louis and Chicago departments.

TESTS OF PUMPS.

Letter from Prof. Lester on Results of Experiments.

Major H. R. Whiting, who is investigating the subject of irrigation, wrote to Prof. Francis E. Lester, registrar of the Agricultural college, in regard to tests now being made at that institution. In reply he received the following letter:

"The following pumps are being tested in the pumping irrigating investigation which this institution is conducting: Johnson rotary, made by Davis, Johnson & Co., 41 West Randolph street, Chicago; Van Wie Centrifugal, made by Irwin Van Wie, Syracuse, N. Y.; Byron Jackson Centrifugal, made by the Byron Jackson company, of San Francisco; the Woods pump, made by D. R. Woods & Co., of Philadelphia; the Roots pump, made by the P. F. & H. Roots company, of Connorsville, Ind.; and the Kingsford Centrifugal, made by the Kingsford Foundry & Machine company, of Oswego, N. Y."

"Our experiment is not yet completed as we have only finished testing the Johnson and Johnson pumps. The results of this investigation are evidently going to be of much value, as it has already been sufficiently shown that there are great possibilities in irrigating from wells by these pumps. We have only one six-inch driven well from which the smaller pumps already tested will throw a steady and continuous stream of from 300 to 700 gallons a minute."

"I am using a box of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and find them the best thing for my stomach I ever used," says T. W. Robinson, justice of the peace, Loomis, Mich. These tablets not only correct disorders of the bowels but regulate the liver and bowels. They are easy to take and pleasant in effect. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by all druggists.

LIBRARY BOARD.

Lease to the University Authorities Will be Signed.

The proposition of the University of New Mexico to rent the unoccupied rooms of the Reynolds library for a department of music and arts was practically closed at a meeting of the library commissioners Thursday evening. The lease has been under consideration for some time. The features which could not be agreed upon have been adjusted and the lease will be signed within a week. The report of the librarian showed that during June 1,663 people visited the library, of whom 647 were children. The books issued numbered 1,393, of which 439 were juvenile fiction, 768 were fiction and 186 classified. It was discovered that the partitions which once were in the basement of the building, making three rooms, have been removed and have disappeared. No one knows when they were taken out or where they were taken.

Need More Sleep.

Often the over-taxed organs of digestion cry out for help by dyspepsia, pains, nausea, dizziness, headaches, liver complaints, bowel disorders. Such troubles call for prompt use of Dr. King's New Life Pills. They are gentle, thorough and guaranteed to cure 25 cents at drug stores.

Ruby Seal Club.

The Ruby Seal club met on Thursday at the home of the vice president, Miss Mae Muggley. Miss Lulu Palmer was elected secretary and Miss Bertha Dinwiddie a member of the executive committee. Refreshments were served after the business session and a jolly time was enjoyed. Those present were: Mae Muggley, Cora Myers, Lulu Palmer, Madonna Rankin, Grace Fish, Anita Meade, Juanita Rankin, Ethel Fish and Bertha Dinwiddie.

Every Healthy Boy

likes to get himself into places of danger: crocodiles, bruises, strains and sprains. Mother needs and brings out the bottle of Perry Davis' Painkiller and rubs it on the injured spots with an energy and frequency depending on the seriousness of the case. There is nothing like Painkiller to take out the soreness. There is but one Painkiller, Perry Davis'. Price 25c and 50c.

Car Burned.

A standard box car loaded with freight from the Pacific coast was found to be on fire about midnight Thursday night in the Santa Fe yards. The fire was discovered a few moments after the train pulled in and a switch engine shoved the car on to a vacant siding, where it burned to the trucks. It is not known what was in it, as it was through freight from the coast to Chicago.

GREAT CELEBRATION.

Tammany Hall is Making Arrangements for an Active Campaign.

MERCHANTS' ASSOCIATION.

New York, July 5.—The celebration of Independence Day yesterday was one of the most elaborate ever witnessed in the metropolis. Observances in all circles were specially enthusiastic, but none more so than those of Tammany hall. With yesterday's celebration preparations for the fall campaign began in earnest for democrats. This year they are not merely going to put "home rule" in their state platform, but they intend to give special emphasis to the issue, and to make a definite proposition looking to a constitutional provision for the protection of the cities against partisan legislation by the state legislature.

The Merchants' association has prepared a series of diagrams which show very clearly the cost of government in the city of New York as compared with that of other American cities. The outlay in New York for maintenance and operation during 1900 was $108,673,277, a average of $31.62 per capita. Only one other city costs per capita more than New York, that is Boston, and the diagrams show that Chicago, Philadelphia, St. Louis, Boston, Baltimore, Cleveland, Buffalo, San Francisco, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, New Orleans, Detroit and Milwaukee, all maintain their police, their sewers, their parks, their streets, their lighting and their fire departments at far less cost than New York does.

Although much is said and written about the political situation in New York, as an actual fact the campaign in this state are much shorter than those in many others. Several of the competing candidates for governor in other states are already in the field, while in New York, the nominating conventions will not take place until late in September. The republicans have definitely decided to renominate Governor Odell, while in the search for a democratic candidate a new name appears almost every day. The latest is that of Henry Bacon, of Goshen, who is spoken of highly as a man of strength, who would be apt to unite all factions.

Taking in consideration the fact that they are the representative cities of two great nations, it is doubtful if any more interest has been exhibited in London over King Edward's illness than there has been in New York. Aside from the pleasant relations of the two countries, New Yorkers remember two incidents more closely connected with his majesty, both of which are now recalled. One is the planting of an English oak in Central park during his visit here over forty years ago; the other is the visit itself, strange to relate the oak now is dying and every effort to keep it alive has proven futile. It is a great attraction to visitors to the park just now. There are many now living who remember the visit of King Edward, then Prince of Wales, traveling under the name of Baron Renfrew. He received a magnificent reception here. George Wilson, now secretary of the chamber of commerce, was clerk of the committee in charge of arrangements and had the pleasure last summer of recalling to the king some of the incidents of his visit here.

A plan strongly favored by Mayor Low has been adopted by the board of education, and that is the opening of the public school buildings and yards for the play of children during the summer.

Certainly the automobile craze is at its height in Gotham and some amusing incidents occur as a result. A fact which has caused much fun to be poked at certain members of the "400" who have been taken in hand by police officials is the alarming ignorance of English by their chauffeurs. A "Frenchman" by the name of O'Flaherty was recently arrested for speeding and when asked by the judge why he did not stop when ordered to do so by the policeman said: "Sure, an I don't understand English."

It is reported that the first French minister to the Cuban republic will be Edmund Bruwaert, who is French consul general to this city. M. Bruwaert has been in the diplomatic service for thirty years and has filled many posts of responsibility. It is thought that Henri Merou, consul general at Chicago, will succeed M. Bruwaert here.

Upon very good authority it is stated that ex-President Cleveland has given his promise to take the stump at least three times during the campaign in the interests of the democratic state ticket; once in this city, then in Albany, and lastly in Buffalo, his old home. Meeting the arguments of Mr. Cleveland on the opposite side will be Senator Chauncey M. Depew and other men who are prominent in state politics.

R. M. Haan, proprietor of John Jacob Astor's new hotel, the St. Regis, Fifty-fifth street and Fifth avenue, sailed for Europe this week to view the contents of a famous chateau near Paris, the entire contents of which have been offered to Mr. Astor for a sum in the neighborhood of a quarter of a million dollars. The St. Regis will be the finest hotel in the world, from an architectural standpoint, as well as from the point of furnishing and excellence of service, when completed, and with its palm gardens, state apartments, cafes, various reception rooms and other innovations will cost many millions of dollars.

The state commissioner in lunacy is preparing to establish two reception or psychopathic hospitals in this city—one in Manhattan for 200 patients, and one in Brooklyn accommodating 100 patients. With the exception of a ward in the Albany hospital, there are now no such hospitals in this country, although there are several in Europe. The object is to fight insanity by taking it in hand as soon as it becomes acute and curing it, if possible.

The latest recruit in the rank of women theatrical managers is Mrs. Robert Osborn, who is well known in Gotham society. She has taken the

Why not? A little vanity is a good thing. Perhaps you can't be hair-vain, your hair is so thin, so short, so gray. Then use Ayer's Hair Vigor. It stops falling of the hair, makes the hair grow, and always restores color to gray hair.

Berkeley lyceum in Forty-fourth street and intends to cater to the theatrical tastes and fads of the smart set. "Smart comedies" will be produced by "smart" actors, the curtain going up at the "smart" hour of 9 o'clock to enable Mrs. Osborn's "smart" patrons to eat their "smart" dinners and appear at the theater in "smart" attire. She will very likely secure a full house every night, so eager are most people to be numbered among the "smart" set.

The methods of bookkeeping in the various municipal departments are to be changed and the Merchants' association has engaged Worthington C. Ford and P. B. de Berard, who are famous experts along this line to make an investigation with the view of instituting the change.

READ ALL OF THIS.

You Never Know the Moment When This Information May Prove of Infinite Value.

It is worth considerable to any citizen of Albuquerque to know the value and use of a medicine, for if there is no occasion to employ it, in the meantime, frail humanity is subjected to so many influences and unforeseen contingencies that the wisest are totally unable to gauge the future. Know then, that Doan's ointment will cure any case of hemorrhoids, commonly known as piles, or any disease of the rectum or skin, generally termed eczema.

Mr. C. L. Kline, of 1851 Champa street, says: "In 1883, in Minneapolis, I had my feet frozen or suffered from chilblains or something akin to them, which drove me half crazy with it. I have often taken off my shoes, threatened to tear out my toes, and do what I could I was unable to check the aggravation, let alone cure it. I bought a 50 cent box of Doan's Ointment at my druggist, used it and it cured me. If anyone in Denver wishes to know more about Doan's Ointment send to them to me for a personal interview."

Ask the Alvarado Pharmacy what their customers report about this preparation.

Sustained the Demurrer. The demurrer to the petition of Harry Rankin et al. asking that the Southwestern Brewery & Ice company be enjoined from ratifying the contract for the purchase of an ice plant, was sustained by Judge Baker. In the afternoon a meeting of directors was held and the contract was ratified. It is expected this will close the present contention.

A Good Reputation.

The way to gain a good reputation is to endeavor to be what you desire to appear. That is precisely the way in which Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has gained its reputation as a cure for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough. Every bottle that has ever been put out by the manufacturers has been fully up to the high standard claimed for it. People have found that it can always be depended upon for the relief and cure of these ailments and that it is pleasant and safe to take. For sale by all druggists.

He reports the pastures around the hot springs district looking fine, a good rain having fallen there the fore part of the week. He says that the guests at Jemez springs are steadily increasing and seem to enjoy life. Trout fishing is unusually good this summer.

Report comes from the sick room of Johnnie Haberle, saying that that young man is progressing nicely and is now out of danger, but that he will be a sick boy for some time. His sickness was caused from over exertion in a base ball game at Santa Fe three weeks ago, and it is for him that the big benefit is to be given at the fair grounds tomorrow afternoon.

Capt. Samuel Saltmarsh, the chief car accountant of the Santa Fe coast lines, is in the city, returning from attending the convention of the International Association of Car Accountants and Car Service officers at Milwaukee. The captain formerly resided in this city and is today around renewing old acquaintances. He will return west, en route to Los Angeles, tonight.

The Annual Dance.
The annual dance of the employees of the Wool Scouring mill was held at the works on Thursday night. The floor was cleared and an orchestra furnished the music to which the employees danced until a late hour. Refreshments were served and this year's annual dance was a great success. The expenses are defrayed by the proprietors and Messrs. Bearup, Wilkinson and Edie were present and enjoyed the fun to the utmost.
