LIKE A PRINCE

Dewey Tells How Aguin-aldo Lived.

Strike to Help the Telephone Girls.

Almost a Severe Panic in a Factory Fire.

BICYCLE RECORDS BROKEN.

Washington, June 28.—The third day's testimony given by Admiral Dewey before the senate committee on the Philippines began with a reference to the statement made by the admiral at the first day's proceedings concerning the proffer made by the Spanish governor general to surrender to him. Senator Carmack called attention to the fact the press made it appear he said during the next twenty-four hours after the destruction of the Spanish fleet on May 1 there had been several proffers of surrender on the part of the governor. The admiral replied he had said between May 1 and August 13, the governor general sent word to him more than once that he would be pleased to surrender to the navy. At that time, the admiral admitted, Aguin-aldo had begun operations around Manila and was working toward the city. Mr. Carmack asked the witness if all the trouble in the Philippines had been due to Aguin-aldo. "I won't say that," the admiral replied, "but I will repeat that if we had had 50,000 troops at Manila May 1, the city would have been taken possession of and we would have had at least for the time, no trouble with the natives. They were our friends then."

In reply to other questions by Mr. Carmack concerning Aguin-aldo, the admiral said: "I think you are making too much of Aguin-aldo. He was a mere figurehead, surrounded by stronger men than himself. Mabini was one of these. General Luna, whom he had killed, was another."

In replying to another question the admiral said it was the general report throughout the east that in 1897, Aguin-aldo betrayed his people to the Spaniards for money. Nor did he remember this report to have been denied by any American officers.

"Why do you say Aguin-aldo took the lion's share of property gathered by the insurgents?"

"Because he was living at Malolos like a prince. He had nothing when he landed at Manila and could have procured means for this ostentation no other way. He began immediately after his arrival to take every dollar in sight. It may be ungrateful in me to state the fact that he sent cattle to me—herds of them—for the ships. The stock was taken from the Philippine people."

Mr. Patterson asked: "Do you refer to Aguin-aldo taking property for the support of the army as loot and pillage?"

Admiral Dewey replied: "That is one part of it."

Mr. Carmack—"You did not object at that time."

Admiral Dewey—"No, but he soon got beyond me."

Mr. Carmack—"It is a fact that you took a man to Manila to be a leader of the native people who had but recently betrayed these people for a bribe?"

Admiral Dewey—"I think that would have made no difference as the country was under a reign of terror."

"Then you wanted a man who could organize the natives."

"No, I did not want any one. Aguin-aldo and his people were forced upon me by Constantino and others."

In answer to pressing questions the admiral said he and General Anderson did not agree very well, but he added he was there to tell what he knew and was not responsible for what others said.

"I don't like your questions," he said to Senator Patterson, "and I don't think I ought to be required to answer them."

Sensor Beveridge, who was presiding, said the admiral need not make replies. Both Mr. Beveridge and Mr. Dietrich asked questions to bring out the fact the admiral, upon further acquaintance with the Philippines, felt they were not capable of self-government. The admiral was then excused.

FOR THE GIRLS.

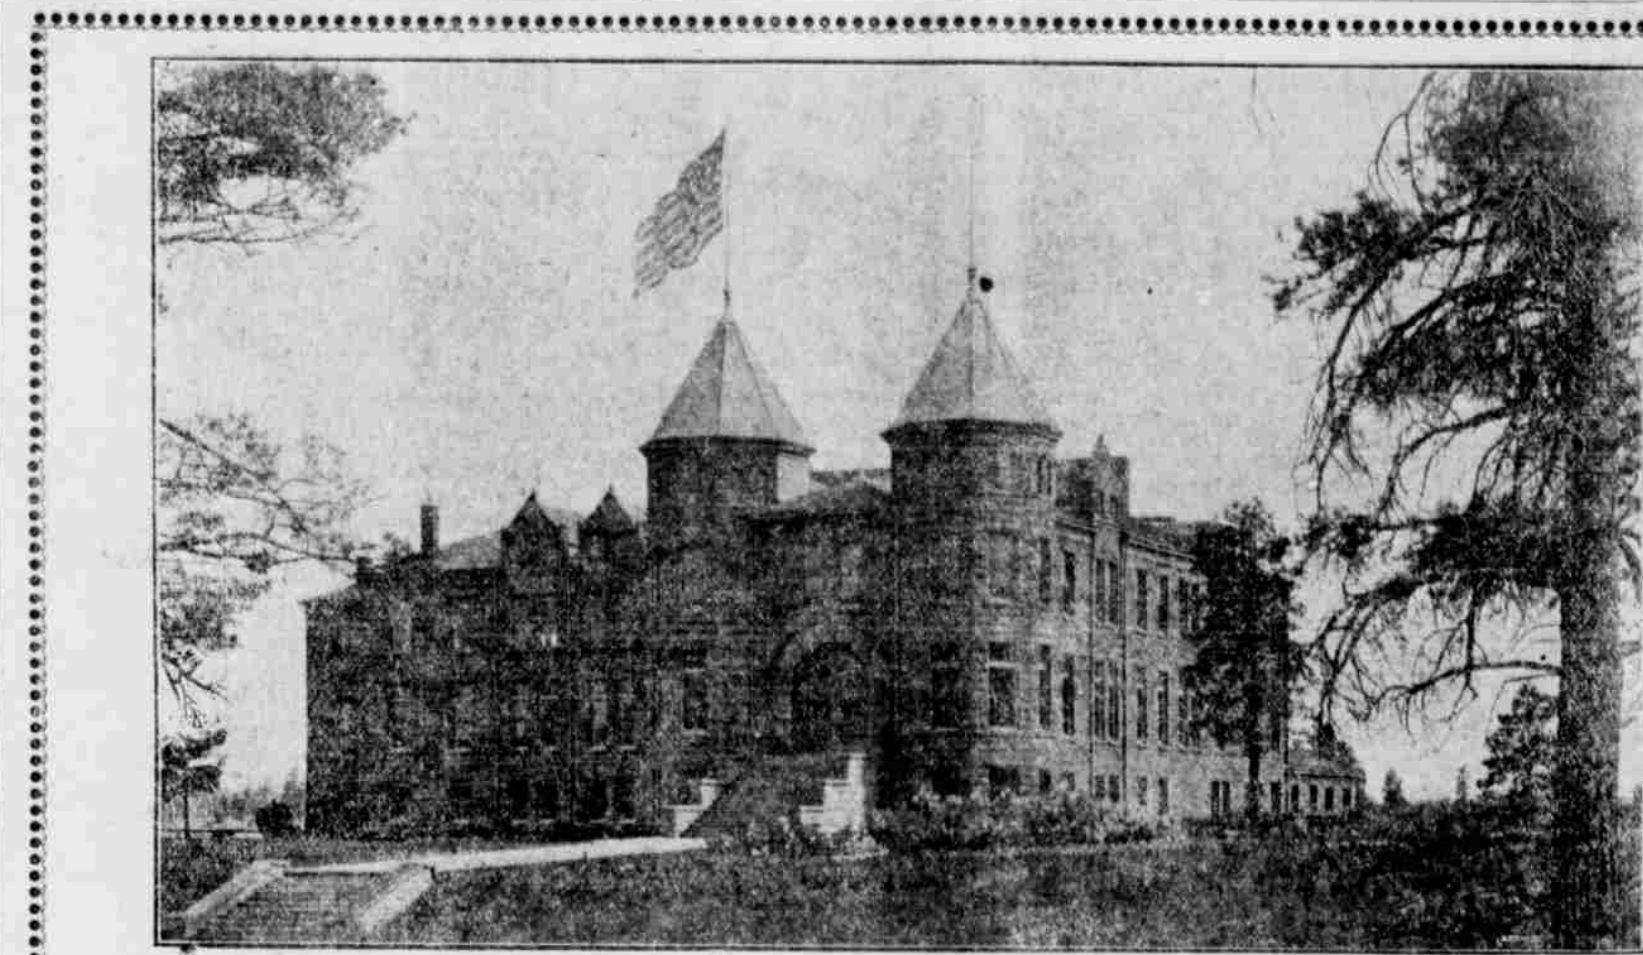

Union Men Help the Telephone Girls at Des Moines.

Des Moines, Iowa, June 28.—Today all electrical workers and linemen in the local telephone exchanges quit work out of sympathy with the 100 striking central girls. Further sympathetic strikes are expected.

FIRE, WATER AND PANIC.

Three Hundred Girl Employees Were Taken Out Safely.

Philadelphia, Pa., June 28.—Fire in the big upholstery mill of Stead & Miller resulted in a $100,000 damage by water. The automatic fire extinguisher apparatus was turned on and before it could be stopped, practically the entire stock was damaged. Three hundred girl employees became panic-stricken, but were gotten out safely.

Records Were Broken.

Salt Lake City, Utah, June 28.—At Salt Lake Palace Saucer track last night the half mile unpaced bicycle record of 55.25 held by Major Taylor, was reduced by W. E. Samuelson to 52.35. J. M. Chapman lowered the half mile competition record of 58, held by M. L. Hurley, to 57.35.

Spiritualists to Camp.

Holland, Mich., June 28.—Arrangements have been completed for the state camp meeting of spiritualists to open tomorrow at Jenson park and continue to August 1. The officers in charge are: H. W. Melenbacher, president; J. E. Walker, vice president and manager, and A. H. Melenbacher, secretary and treasurer.

Presidential Nominations.

Washington, June 28.—The president sent the following nominations to the senate:

Postmasters—Texas: William N. Harvey, Belton; Robert T. Bartley, Ladonia; Anna L. Poole, Carthage; Edward W. Armstrong, Bartlett. Colorado: P. P. Dubbendorff, Alamosa. Arizona: J. K. Corbett, Tucson.

WILL BE DEPORTED.

Wah Tu, With His Many Aliases, Now in Government Hands.

HEARING THIS AFTERNOON.

Last night, W. B. Childers, United States attorney for New Mexico, received a telegram from the attorney general at Washington, authorizing him to approve the complaint against the Chinese leper, Wah Tu, and place a warrant in the hands of the United States marshal.

These facts being attended to, this afternoon United States Commissioner Whiting, Deputy United States Marshal Leatherman and the Chinese interpreter visited the famous furniture car, where the leper was interrogated. He acknowledged to having no certificate, admitting that he was unlawful in the United States. The commissioner thereupon ordered him deported.

United States Marshal Forsaker will furnish a tent, and after it is put in position and placed outside of the city limits, the leper will be removed from the car.

It is quite likely the car will be destroyed by fire, and the cost assessed against the government.

Will Wed at Las Cruces.

Mrs. Beatriz Otero de Armijo, of Las Cruces announces the marriage of her daughter, Dolores, to William R. Ascarate. The wedding will take place at Las Cruces next Monday.

The contracting parties belong to families which stand high in New Mexico, being of the oldest, wealthiest and most influential of the territory.

The Ascarates of Las Cruces are largely interested in the cattle business and own extensive ranch lands in Mexico. The Armijos have long been prominent in New Mexico politics and both families have high standing socially.

After a bridal trip to California the happy couple will be at home in Las Cruces August 15.

Mrs. J. E. Nichols, of San Marcial, arrived in the city on Thursday and will spend the summer here, where her son Clifford may receive osteopathic treatment under Dr. Conner.

Regular meeting of Albuquerque lodge No. 461, B. P. O. E., tonight at 8 o'clock. By order of exalted ruler, J. E. Sheridan, secretary.

APODACA'S DEATH.

He Must Have Died While in Epileptic Fits.

FUNERAL HERE TOMORROW.

The body of S. J. Apodaca, who died in Silver City on Thursday, was brought here this morning. The funeral will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning in the Church of San Felipe de Negi in Old Albuquerque. The cortege will start from the house at 9 o'clock.

Yesterday, The Citizen published a few facts regarding the sudden death of S. J. Apodaca at Silver City. The following particulars are clipped from the Enterprise:

Alone and unattended, Saturnino Apodaca, a young Mexican newspaper man of Albuquerque, died suddenly of heart failure in his room at the Timmer house, some time Wednesday night. At least this was the verdict rendered by the coroner's jury which was summoned upon the discovery of the body yesterday morning and from the testimony produced, the verdict is correct.

About 9 o'clock yesterday morning, the porter at the Timmer, passing along the hallway, noticed the door of Apodaca's room partly open. Looking in to see if the room was vacated, he was horrified to see the body of the young man lying directly behind the door, at full length on the floor. Life was quite extinct and the head rested in a pool of froth which poured from the nose and mouth. Dr. Westlake, the county physician, was summoned and after a careful examination, decided that the unfortunate young man died from heart failure, probably superinduced by an epileptic fit. George Sanders, one of the guests of the house, who occupied a room next to that of Apodaca, says he heard some one stumbling round the room about 3 o'clock Thursday morning, but thinking the occupant was in an irrational condition, paid no attention to the disturbance and soon fell asleep.

Apodaca, who is a bright, well-dressed, intelligent looking Mexican, about 25 years of age, arrived in Silver City Wednesday morning and called at the newspaper office, saying he was the outside representative of La Bandera Americano, a well-known Spanish weekly published in Albuquerque. He was a pleasant appearing fellow, talked Spanish and English fluently and evidently was doing a good business for his paper. He spent Wednesday circulating among the business men of the city, returning about 10 o'clock Wednesday night. Whether he was a victim of epileptic fits is not known, but the supposition is that he was, and that while in the throes of the convulsions, his heart failed, causing death.

The remains will be shipped to Albuquerque this evening.

Sunday School Workers.

Denver, Colo., June 28.—A prolonged discussion of the proposed changes in the international lesson system engaged the attention of the International Sunday School convention today. The report of the lesson committee recommended that beginners and advanced lessons be added and the matter was referred to the resolutions committee. The convention elected W. N. Hartshorne, of Boston, chairman of the executive committee.

Robert Hindman, who has been here the past few days visiting old friends, expects to return to Gold Roads, Mohave county, Arizona, tomorrow night. Mr. Hindman has developed into a thorough practical mine operator, and says that some of the best and finest mines in the world are located in Mohave county.

MEANS STATEHOOD.

Senator Quay Got What He Was Fighting for in Senate.

PAISED BY DELEGATE FLYNN.

A special telegram to the Kansas City Journal, from Washington, under date of June 25, has the following interesting article on Senator Quay and his fight for statehood:

Today's action in the senate practically clinches statehood for Oklahoma and the other territories, unless the voters of these prospective states are foolish enough to turn their backs on the republican party in the November elections for congress.

Through the consummate leadership of Senator Quay in behalf of the statehood bill since he assumed the chairmanship of the measure, an agreement was reached today that the bill will be reported from the committee on territories on the third day of next session, beginning in December, and shall be taken up as the unfinished business on the 10th of December, or the next day thereafter that the senate is in session. On the floor of the senate are enough votes to pass the bill, whether the report of the committee is favorable or not.

This agreement is what Senator Quay has been contending for right along. The chairman of the committee, Mr. Beveridge, was obdurate. Then Mr. Quay gave notice that he would move to discharge the committee and bring the measure before the senate on the strength of its endorsement by the national conventions. Thereupon Mr. Beveridge began to complain more; this meant a direct slap at his committee and, as he is a very young man and exceedingly sensitive, he began to make a personal canvass among the democrats and republicans alike, pleading with them not to bow over his committee.

Sensors Hanna, Aldrich, Spooner and others of the oldest generals on the side of the opposition, took up the fight. Mr. Quay forthwith put on his armor. He called upon his friends in the chamber to stand by him, and when they counted noses they discovered that Quay had outnumbered them, and would pass the bill unless they could talk it to death. As the session is drawing to an end, many senators are anxious to pass measures that would grow stale by delay. They appealed to the Pennsylvania to let them pass their bills. All day yesterday Mr. Quay sat in his seat with an expression such as a benevolent bull dog might wear, watching Aldrich and Spooner flounder on bills that they had no intention of passing just to kill time. One unanimous consent was asked after another, until Quay quietly arose and said that he would not interfere then in their little game, but that after this morning he would be prepared to do business with the statehood bill, and no measure would be passed by unanimous consent until his motion had been disposed of.

Then the opposition suddenly began to realize that something was doing. If Mr. Quay was determined to press consideration of his motion, there would be precious little time to do anything else before adjournment. It therefore became evident that pressure had to be exercised to conciliate him.

As a result, the opposition suddenly went to pieces, and Mr. Beveridge arose in his seat this morning and said that he would agree to let the committee report the bill at the next session under the conditions named, provided the statehood men would accept that in lieu of immediate consideration.

That was all that Quay wanted. He immediately announced that he was satisfied to put the consideration of the bill off till the next session, and everybody was happy. Beveridge because his feelings were thus spared, and the statehood champions because they are confident that they can hold the votes till the next session to pass the bill.

It is needless to add that the only untoward circumstance that could happen would be to have the territories go democratic, in which event even Quay would probably lose confidence in his judgment, and would not have a leg to stand on when it came to rallying the republicans.

"Senator Quay," said Delegate Flynn, "is a marvel. All the credit for this victory is due to his management, and it is a victory. It simply proves that his hand has not lost its cunning and that he is still as able to win battles as he ever was. I can say that the president is with us in this fight, and that he will sign the bill as soon as it passes, notwithstanding the attitude of some of the so-called administration leaders. I see no reason why we should not pass the bill the next session, and be a state by the time the next presidential election rolls around."

BIG STOCK RANGES.

Colfax County Leads Territory in Large Individual Holdings.

FIFTEEN LARGE RANCHES.

The live stock interests of Colfax county, New Mexico, are in a more flourishing condition today than in many years, and all people engaged in the raising of cattle and sheep are prospering in a degree that should cause them to feel satisfied with their lots, says the Raton Range.

This is an ideal stock country, the abundant and nutritious grass, abundant water and favorable climate give this northern New Mexico county advantages as a grazing country superior to any other portion of the territory, and as a result the live stock interests here have become very extensive, and are rapidly growing in magnitude. Close to 70,000 head of cattle and 200,000 head of sheep are feeding upon the ranges in this county.

The following is a list of the leading big cattlemen and companies of Colfax county, together with the size of the "ranches" given in acres:

Adams Cattle company, 225,000 acres.
Chas. Springer, 140,000 acres.
Red River Cattle company, 110,000 acres.
Capt. Wm. French, 125,000 acres.
W. C. Barnes, 65,000 acres.
H. M. Porter, 50,000 acres.
Windham, 60,000 acres.
McCormick, 45,000 acres.
P. Ross, 65,000 acres.
Mamby, 10,000 acres.
R. C. Van Houten, 20,000 acres.
Hugh England, 42,000 acres.
Stanley Chase, 40,000 acres.
Fred Brueggeman, 20,000 acres.

Most of the above own their land, yet a few are leasing from the Maxwell Land Grant company, and in addition to the list given there are large number of ranches containing from 5,000 to 10,000 acres.

Among the sheep growers Troy Bros. control about 40,000 acres; Floersheim and Abbott control about 75,000 acres; Felix Montoya controls 10,000 acres, and other men engaged in the sheep business own and control large tracts.

M. F. Nagle and F. O. Morningstar, of Shamokin, Pa., arrived in the city this morning and drove out to the Sandia mountains, where they are interested with Thos. A. Lister in some good copper mines.

VINDICATION

Rathbone Asks Congress to Investigate.

Mr. Moon is on the War Path.

King Edward Sat Up for a Short Time.

DELEGATES WILL SPEAK.

Washington, June 28.—In the senate Mr. Teller presented a petition from Estes G. Rathbone praying for a full investigation into his performance of duties as director of posts in Cuba. He maintained he was unjustly tried and entitled to an impartial investigation by congress. Mr. Teller said there was a fair presumption of his innocence. The petition was referred to the committee on relations with Cuba. A resolution was offered by Mr. Morgan providing for an investigation by the committee on interoceanic canals to ascertain whether any claims exist in favor of citizens of the United States against the old or new Panama Canal company, and authorizing the committee to ascertain whether unlawful or corrupt methods have been used to obtain any part of the sum that may be applied to the purchase of property of the new Panama Canal company, or to Costa Rica or Nicaragua by the United States, was taken up. Mr. Spooner, of Wisconsin, vigorously opposed its adoption, declaring it entirely mischievous and obstructive to the action of congress. Mr. Morgan interrupted Mr. Spooner to say he wanted to know whether the lobby was to receive any part of the $40,000,000. Mr. Hanna resented the insinuation the lobby was here. The Morgan resolution went to the calendar without action.

ON THE WAR PATH.

Mr. Moon Demands Territorial Government for Indian Territory.

Washington, June 28.—In the house Mr. Bailewick, of Wisconsin, asked for unanimous consent for consideration of a resolution to empower the commissioners of the District of Columbia to make special regulations for the G. A. R. encampment in this city next September.

Mr. Moon, of Tennessee, said the committee on territories made a unanimous report on the bill to give Indian Territory a territorial form of government under the name of the Territory of Jefferson. He said that by order of the committee he was directed to secure action on the bill.

"The rights of 400,000 people were involved," said he, "but the committee on rules and the speaker declined to fix a day or hear a motion to fix a day for consideration of the bill. I give notice now that at the next session, shall object to every request for unanimous consent until there has been a hearing upon this bill."

The resolution was then passed. The house resumed debate on a portion of the Butler contested election case and the house adopted resolutions declaring the seat occupied by Mr. Butler, of Missouri, vacant on the ground that there had been no valid election.

SAT UP TODAY.

The King is Making Rapid Progress to Recovery.

London, Eng., June 28.—At 10:45 o'clock this morning the following official bulletin was issued from Buckingham Palace on the condition of King Edward:

"The king had a good night. His improved condition is maintained. We are happy we can state we consider his majesty now out of immediate danger and his general condition satisfactory. The operation would, however, still needs constant attention and much concern is attached to his majesty's condition in connection with the wound. Under most favorable conditions his majesty's recovery must of necessity be protracted. The 2 p. m. bulletin will be discontinued."

Sitting Up Now.

London, June 28.—4:50 p. m.—The king was removed to the couch this afternoon, earlier than was expected and placed in a sitting posture. He was feeling decidedly better.

London, June 28.—The following following bulletin was posted at 6 p. m.: "The king passed a very comfortable day and his progress continues to be quite satisfactory."

Delegates Will Argue.

Washington, June 28.—The senate committee on territories will hear the delegates from the territories named in the omnibus statehood bill present arguments on the subject of admission.

Yesterday, John A. Carter purchased the residence of H. Jay Stone, No. 313 South Arno street, the sale being made through A. Fleischer, the real estate agent. Mr. Carter is a member of the life insurance firm of Neal & Carter, and he says he will remodel and otherwise improve his purchase.

This city badly needs a big smelter.
King Edward's life is insured for $5,000,000.

It will take about eight months to build the Portales & Albuquerque railroad.

Ex-Governor Prince is being praised by the democratic newspapers of the territory.

One of the national irrigation reservoirs should be constructed on the Jemez river.

It is predicted that Hon. G. A. Richardson, of Roswell, will be the democratic candidate for delegate to congress from New Mexico.

This city should give Delegate Rodey a rousing reception when he returns from Washington. He has proven a faithful public servant.

Twenty-two American soldiers died of cholera in Manila in the last two weeks. Compared with cholera all other foes in the Philippines are trivial.

Senators Quay and Ellins should be invited to attend the big statehood convention which will be held in this city during the territorial fair next October.

"We pull the wagon and you find fault," said Mr. Cannon to the democrats. They not only find fault; they run around and put stones under the wheels.

While it is conceded that Santa Fe shall be the capital of the future state of New Mexico, it should be provided that the ancient city shall build a few decent sidewalks.

Senator Andrews has proven to be a good friend of New Mexico. He was in Washington and had influence enough to secure the Pennsylvania delegation for the statehood bill.

When this city wishes something done with neatness and dispatch Sheriff Thomas S. Hubbard is called upon to perform the duty; and he has never failed upon any occasion.

The Las Vegas papers are the most contrived sheets in the territory. They cannot print a paragraph in praise of their own town without abusing all surrounding localities.

During the month of May the driest place in New Mexico was Mesilla Park. This city was the second driest locality in the territory, with only a trace of rain during the whole month.

The Durango Democrat says that the destruction of timber in Colorado for commercial purposes is fast rendering agriculture a guess instead of a certainty as to water for irrigation.

The new Philippine law allows citizens of that possession all the privileges secured in the "bill of rights" of the constitution excepting the right to bear arms and the right to a trial by jury.

Let's hold a big statehood convention in this city during the territorial fair and invite Arizona and Oklahoma to attend at which time plans can be perfected for pushing the bill through the senate in December.

Governor Otero's excellent administration is endorsed by the people of the territory. There are a few disappointed political place hunters who try to work up opposition, but their misguided efforts attract very little attention.

THE ARID REGION.

The national irrigation act will add an empire to the populated area of the United States as great as was held by the thirteen colonies at the battle of Lexington. Roughly stated, the arid lands of the United States extend westward from the 100th meridian to the Pacific. They include a large part of all the states and the territories, beginning with the western ends of the two Dakotas, Nebraska, Kansas, Oklahoma and Texas, and stretching onward almost to the great ocean. East of that line most of the country is classed as humid. It has twenty or more inches of average annual rainfall. West of that line most of the region has a rainfall of less than twenty inches. That is the region which is covered by the irrigation bill which has just been enacted.

WORK FOR STATEHOOD.

The Denver Republican has made a good fight for statehood for the territories, and says of the present status of the admission bill:

"The indications are favorable for its passage next winter, for it seems that there are thirteen republican senators who are prepared to take the bill up immediately. This indicates considerable strength for the measure, and it is probable that many more republican votes can be secured by the time the bill comes up for action.

"There are so many considerations demanding the admission of the proposed states that there should be no difficulty in securing the passage of an enabling act embracing them all. The opposition of certain republican senators to Senator Quay's resolution does not necessarily indicate that they will oppose admission when the matter comes to a final vote. They may have simply been unwilling to force action at this time by taking the matter out of the hands of the committee to which the bill had been referred.

"Between now and the winter session the friends of statehood should push a campaign of education among the eastern members of the senate. They will find no lack of arguments in favor of admission, and this should be true especially in respect to appeals to republicans, for New Mexico and Oklahoma can be counted on as practically certain for the republican party. It would be bad policy for the republicans to vote against admission, and besides simple justice to the inhabitants of the territories in question demands that they be allowed to erect state governments."

The New Mexican says that in all political and human probability the Fourth of July, 1903, will be the date upon which this territory will enter the sisterhood of states. If this happens, and there is every reason to believe that it will, it will be a glorious Fourth indeed.

DEPOT BURNED.

Santa Fe Building at Laguna Was Entirely Destroyed.

Incoming passengers last night told of the burning of the Santa Fe station at Laguna. The building caught fire from sparks from the engine of west bound freight No. 33. M. H. Jones, the agent, saved the company books, but lost all of his furniture as he lived in the building. The fire spread under the platform and in twenty minutes the entire structure was in flames. Six cars of merchandise that were near the building were saved.

The Misses Gibson and Miss Gaston, of this city, were visiting Mrs. Jones and lost all their baggage, consisting of four trunks.

Postmaster Seventy-Four Years.

North Lansing, N. Y., June 28.—Roswell Beardsley, of this place, claims the distinction of being the oldest postmaster in point of service in the United States. Today he rounded out his seventy-fourth year in the service. He was appointed by John Quincy Adams. The first year his salary was $19.53, and it has never exceeded $200. Fortunately Postmaster Beardsley does not depend upon his office for a living, as he has a fortune of $150,000.

COMMENTS OF STATEHOOD.

What the Leading Papers Say About the Omnibus Bill.

St. Louis Globe-Democrat.

In yoking all the territories together in one bill Oklahoma's admission has been delayed a few months. If Oklahoma's appeal had come before congress separately, it would undoubtedly have been granted immediately, but in linking her fortunes with the other two territories she has been kept out a little longer than was expected. Nevertheless Oklahoma and the other two will be admitted next winter. The pressure of important legislation prevented adequate consideration of the omnibus bill this summer, but there will be less urgent work on hand when the short session begins next December and then the territories will all be let in.

Quay's Fight for Statehood.

Kansas City Star.
The people of the west in general, and of Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma in particular, cannot but feel grateful to Senator Quay, of Pennsylvania, for the determined stand he has taken in favor of the statehood affecting the three named territories. Mr. Quay has exposed the insincerity, the veritable hypocrisy of his party by recalling at this time the platform declarations in favor of statehood for these territories, and by contrasting these professions with the attitude of a large number of senators at this time.

Senator Quay's skill as a fighter, his absolute familiarity with the weak spots in the opposition, and the evidence that he is determined to make his contest on the floor of the senate, are all encouraging. The Pennsylvania is an exceedingly resourceful. He is a masterful politician. His recent triumph over his enemies in Pennsylvania was one of the most remarkable personal victories witnessed in the political arena in a long time. With Quay as the friend of statehood, there is still a chance that the omnibus bill passed by the house will be approved by the senate.

Quay and the Three Territories.

Chicago Record-Herald.
It is said that one of Senator Quay's political lieutenants named Andrews has emigrated from Pennsylvania to New Mexico, that he is ambitious to become senator from New Mexico and that this explains Quay's fight for the omnibus statehood bill which has been repudiated by the republican steering committee and voted an indefinite postponement by the senate committee on territories.

The motive of Mr. Quay is very likely the one ascribed to him, but the bill should be brought before the senate nevertheless and it should be passed. Oklahoma has a population larger than eight of the existing states, New Mexico a larger population than four of them and Arizona a larger population than two of them. Furthermore, Arizona, the smaller of the three, has a larger population than most of the states and when they were admitted, a much larger population than many of them. The precedents are for the admission of the entire group, and it is evident also that there never was a time when so little was to be feared from the evils of admission as now. Only the three territories remain. They will bring the territorial history to an end without leaving others to found claims upon their example.

Of course much has been said that is derogatory to the character of the people of Arizona and New Mexico, but the danger on this score has been grossly exaggerated, and their rejection will be regarded as an unjust move in the game of party politics. Whatever his personal objects may be Senator Quay is playing that game much better than the majority of his republican colleagues.

Republican Error on Statehood.

Denver Times.

Although unable to enforce consideration of the statehood bill at the present session of congress the friends of statehood have gained a great advantage by securing a concession from the senate committee, which has agreed that a report will be made on the bill on the third day of the next session. It is also agreed that the bill will be made unfinished business on and after December 10 until disposed of. This should insure the enactment of a law by this congress admitting the three territories to the union. The democratic senators are solid for the measure and it is supported by a considerable number of republicans. There is danger, however, that the republican opposition to the bill will endeavor to defeat it by amendments admitting only one or two of the territories. The friends of statehood, therefore, must not relax in their efforts to secure the passage of the bill as it stands. Arizona, New Mexico and Oklahoma are all fitted for statehood and are entitled to admission. Republicans are making a mistake in opposing the measure. Politics should not be considered in discussing the question, but since the objecting republicans are actuated by partisan feelings it may be well to show them that their position is bad politics as well as an injustice. Whatever the political complexion of the territories may be today it may be altered by the treatment received from representatives of the two political parties in congress.

BAZARS OF DAMASCUS

The bazars of Damascus are the pride of the Arab world and the delight of strangers. To American and English tourists they are so attractive that the guides leave them to be visited last, because when a woman once goes there she becomes so fascinated that she is eager to go again and cannot be tempted away to mosques, museums, cemeteries or other places of interest. Nowhere in all the east are oriental life and oriental customs displayed so accurately and in such an interesting manner, and the bazars seem almost limitless in extent. They are all situated in the same section of the city, and one is entered from another. In fact, they are practically one and consist of several miles of narrow streets, covered over with arched, domelike roofing, the ancient ones of masonry and the modern ones of corrugated iron, lined on either side by the little shops, ten or twelve feet square, filled with assortments of merchandise from all the ends of the earth.

The merchants squat cross legged on the floors of their booths, which are raised a foot or eighteen inches above the roadway, and you can distinguish between the races by their demeanor. The Mohammedan merchant never solicits trade. He preserves a dignified reticence, and while he is always courteous and willing to show his goods, he does so with a quiet indifference which is often tantalizing and seems to be expressive of a contempt for the infidels who intrude with so much bustle and confusion upon his composure. He strokes his beard, reclines against a cushion and plays with his beads or smokes his narghile while you examine his wares. You will find him quite as sharp as a bargain, but, strange to say, every foreigner who lives in Damascus testifies that he is more honorable in his dealings and more accurate in his statements than either the Jews or the Christians, although his religion teaches him that it is no sin to cheat an unbeliever. The same seems to be true everywhere throughout the Mohammedan world. The testimony is almost unanimous that the representations of a Mohammedan merchant are usually to be relied upon, while those of the Christians and Hebrews are not.

The Jews, Greeks, Armenians and other merchants rush after customers with an eagerness that is very annoying. Americans are supposed to be made of money and the occupants of the bazars cannot be blamed if they try to get as much of it as possible. Our people spend altogether too freely, and pay exorbitant prices, which the dealers would not think of asking of Germans or Frenchmen, or their own people. Hence their anxiety to get an American into their shops and the enticements they offer are often amusing. Dealers in curios, embroideries, old silver and that sort of thing, watch the railway stations and the hotels and know when an American arrives in town. They call upon him at the hotel, and stop him in the street, offering their cards and soliciting his patronage, and endeavoring to induce him to make an appointment. They will bring goods to the hotel or will come with a carriage and conduct a stranger to their shops.

When a party of tourists enter the bazars they are besieged on all sides by dealers clamoring for their attention and entreating them to visit the places they recommend. Many of the merchants can speak English. The number is quite remarkable. Many have lived in the United States and are familiar enough with the country to discuss different places intelligently. If they find out you are from Chicago they will tell you they used to live there, or New York, Philadelphia or Boston, as the case may be. They invariably have lived at the place you have come from, hoping in that way to excite a benevolent interest.

The bazars are well classified. Dealers in the same sort of goods occupy the same sections, so that trading is more convenient than it would be if they were scattered. The buildings are generally owned by the government of the municipality, and have been erected from time to time to meet the requirements of trade. Rents are low, and the tenants are looked after by stewards who have an organization that is complete and effective, and subject more or less to the control of the guilds as well as the government. The bazars are thoroughly cosmopolitan, however, and are crowded with the representatives of every race and nation from Nubia and Abyssinia to Bokhara and Afghanistan. There is a perpetual banquet of color, for costumes vary as much as the faces. The artistic effect is somewhat impaired at times by finding cheap Paris jewelry, Manchester print, Waterbury clocks and German merchandise of every variety, and wise people will tell you that a large part of the goods called "Damascus" are of the most inferior quality, and more mysterious for each dealer has a little safe filled with tin cases in which the rarest of precious stones and surprising examples of art are stored away.

The bazaar of the bookellers is still a place of interest and occasionally one may find a valuable volume or piece of manuscript, but the agents of European museums and rich collectors have been here so often and have offered such great temptations that the town and the country round about has been pretty well searched. The "Street of the Greeks" is the most attractive place for ladies, because they find there the curios which are so popular for decorative purposes at home, and unless you have more than the ordinary degree of moral courage and unusual powers of resistance you are certain to buy many things that you do not want before you leave the place. Here are all sorts of oriental articles, most of them of gaudy colors and cheap materials and poor workmanship, and seldom worth half the price that is paid for them—weapons, table covers, embroideries, carpets, rugs, pipes, clothing, armor, tobacco pouches, silks and everything you can think of. Coins and gems, oriental coffee cups, pipe stems, made of the wood of a cork tree, wound with gold and silver thread, all kinds of antiquities and fabrics of oriental manufacture are offered for about four times their value to begin with, according to the eastern custom, merely as a basis for negotiation. The weapons are generally modern, and most of them are made in Germany; the oriental coffee cups and pipes come from Austria; the glittering jewelry which the shopkeepers will guarantee as the genuine product of the Bedouins is made in Paris, while the fizzes usually come from Marseilles.

The second hand shops occupy a section of the bazaar known as Suk el Kumeich, which literally means "house market," and if fleas are included in the designation it is very properly applied. Brisk dealing is the practice there, and the dealers have a curious custom of running from one shop to another with an article asking for bids. One speculator will bid five piasters, while the auctioneer rushes on to the next until he has encompassed the entire bazaar. In the meantime he keeps the figures in his mind, and after all the proprietors of the shop shops have had an opportunity to examine the goods and make an offer he delivers the prize to the highest bidder.

At the Kahn As'ad Pasha, so called because it was built by a governor of Damascus of that name, is the horse and saddle market. Twice a week in an open court horses collected from the desert in a semi-wild state and with a shaggy and uncouth appearance, although they are represented to be famous Arabian steeds, are offered to the highest bidder. Sometimes 300 or 400 animals will be sold in a morning for nominal prices, the business being conducted very much as at the Tattersalls in London. Adjoining the horse market are the shops for the sale of harnesses, saddles, bridles and other equestrian fittings, and many of them are attractive because of their bright colors, gold embroidery, and silver and brass mountings. Turkish saddles are characteristic and unique, but are not so handsome as those of Mexico.

The coppersmiths' street is a noisy place, where hundreds of skillful artisans, including many children, are working constantly upon those brass and copper trays, bowls and dishes at home. The Damascuses have always been famous for fine brass work, and brass dishes are generally used by the natives throughout the country, in place of porcelain, particularly by the Bedouins and the peasantry.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

United States Department of Agriculture. Climate and Crop Bulletin of the Weather Bureau, New Mexico Section.

Santa Fe, N. M., June 24.—Little or no rain has fallen in the territory during the past week. The weather has been hot and dry, with strong dry winds. Crops under ditch, however, are looking very well, but the streams are getting low and irrigation water is becoming scarce in many localities. On the prairies grass is very short and water holes are drying up very fast. As a rule cattle and sheep are in fair condition as yet, especially on ranges adjacent to the mountains, but unless rain comes within the next week there is likely to be much suffering in the lowland localities, particularly in the south-west. After the rains of the last week of May considerable late planting of corn and beans was done in northeastern sections on temporal lands, but the existing drought seriously threatens these crops, and they are making scarcely any headway.

The weather has been very favorable for harvesting first cut alfalfa in northern counties, and the yield and quality are very good. In southern sections wheat is headed out, corn is in tassel, and the first apricots are in the market. Strawberries are still abundant in northern markets, and a fine quality of cherries is ripening fast.

The following remarks are extracted from reports of correspondents:

Albino, H. M. Hanson: A warm and dry week but grass is growing well, and stock in flourishing condition. Second crop of alfalfa will be ready to cut in about a week. Some sorghum and beans were planted as late as the 15th. Heavy thunderstorm with hail passed two miles south of station but no rain here. Highest temperature, 96; lowest, 55; no rain.

Arabella: A. M. Richardson: Corn growing nicely. So far all of the rains of the month have been accompanied by hail. Highest temperature, 89; lowest 55; rain, 0.23.

East Las Vegas: John Thornhill: Fine weather for harvesting alfalfa. Oats and corn and growing nicely out need rain badly. Water is very scarce and grass is short. Nearly all the irrigation ditches are dry.

Eastview: J. W. Corbett: Warm and dry; rain needed but most crops are still growing. Grass growing very slowly and stock water getting scarce. Highest temperature, 89; lowest, 52; no rain.

El Rito: P. Lopez: No rain either in the mountains nor in the valleys. The drought is very severe. High winds on the 19th.

Folsom: Jackson Tabor: Dry, with hot, dry winds until the morning of the 20th, when a light misty rain promises to relieve conditions. Rain is badly needed although range stock is doing well. First alfalfa is all cut. Fruits very fine so far; cherries getting ripe and a good crop. Highest temperature, 87; lowest, 46.

Frisco: Clement Hightower: Hot, windy days and cold nights; unfavorable weather generally for the growth of vegetation. Light frost at places on the night of the 13th. Water is very low in all the streams. Stock holding their own in the mountains but suffering on the plains.

Gallinas Springs: Jas. E. Whitmore: Very dry, with hot, dry winds. In this vicinity it has been too dry to plant on temporal lands. Corn planted the first of this month is up but needs rain badly. Highest temperature, 97; lowest, 56; rain, trace.

Geronimo: N. M. Nelson: Unusually dry; creeks and springs drying up; crops making little or no progress.

Hobart: W. H. Hough: High, drying winds. Water is getting scarce, but crops as yet are looking well.

Hood (San Juan Co.): R. A. Hood: Very light rains have done little good. Grass on the hills is very short and dry. Haying has begun and seems to be above the average.

Laguna: Gus Weiss: No rain, and hot, drying weather. Wheat is suffering for rain and springs are drying up. However, sheep are still in fair condition. Thermometer up to 96, in the shade.

Los Alamos: Wm. Frank: First alfalfa being harvested; a light crop. Shearing in progress; wool light. The average of the lamb crop was 50 per cent. Range very dry and there is little water; outlook bad.

Lower Pecos: H. W. Creswell, Jr.: Several good showers in the vicinity and grass is some better. Fruit doing well; cherries are ripe. Corn growing nicely; the first plowing is finished. First alfalfa all in. Cattle improving somewhat.

Mesilla Park: R. M. Hart: Continued drought, and there is no irrigation water. Apricots are yielding well. Early corn beginning to tassel and early peaches to color. Highest temperature, 102; lowest, 49; no rain.

Miera: Francisco Miera: Grass and corn, beans, sorghum and alfalfa growing nicely. Shearing well under way; stock of all kinds doing nicely.

Ojo Caliente: Antonio Joseph: The terrible drought remains unbroken and streams are quite low, consequently irrigation water is getting scarce. However, crops are promising. First alfalfa was excellent in quality and yield. Stock is in very fair condition. Highest temperature, 92; lowest, 64; no rain.

Roswell: W. M. Reed: Hot and dry, but as irrigation water is sufficient all crops are doing well. More wind than usual this season. Highest temperature, 109; lowest, 56; no rain.

Santa Fe: U. S. Weather Bureau: Warm and dry, with considerable wind. Irrigation water continues sufficient, however, and crops are growing rapidly, especially corn. First alfalfa is about all cut, and a very good yield. Cherries are ripe; a fair yield. Highest temperature, 85; lowest, 52; no rain.

Weber: E. H. Riemann: Hot and dry until the 20th, when it turned very cold. Prairies are very dry and suffering for rain, and water holes are drying up fast. All irrigated crops are good but seem to grow very slowly. Temporal lands planted with corn after the rains are suffering terribly. Garden and orchards are fine. River is very low, and ditches carry a small amount of water. First alfalfa being harvested.

Woodbury: A. J. Woodbury: Highest temperature, 94; lowest, 50; no rain.

R. M. HARDINGE,
Section Director.

"One Minute Cough Cure" beats all other medicines I ever tried for coughs, colds, croup and throat and lung troubles," says Dr. D. Scott Curran, of Loganton, Pa. "One Minute Cough Cure" is the only absolutely safe cough remedy which acts immediately. Mothers everywhere testify to the good it has done their little ones. Croup is so sudden in its attacks that the doctor often arrives too late. It yields at once to One Minute Cough Cure. Pleasant to take. Children like it. Sure cure for grip, bronchitis, coughs. J. H. IN THE BLACK RANGE.

Miners Scare—Wages $3 per Day—Capitalists and Investors Visit the Range.

Activity in mining matters in the Colorado and the Hermosa mining districts, is increasing and miners are hard to get. Wages are $3 per day and fifty additional men could easily find employment in the three camps. C. T. Brown, the Socorro mining engineer and secretary of the board of regents of the School of Mines, has been in the Fairview camp for a week looking after the work now being done on the valuable properties of the Mines Development association, of which he is general manager. Boston capitalists mostly hold the stock of this association and work on these properties is being pushed vigorously, intelligently and successfully. The returns from carloads of ore heretofore shipped by the company have been quite satisfactory. More eastern capital than ever before is being invested in these three districts and investors and experts have recently been frequent visitors to the camps named. The Black Range is all right and everything is looking up materially.

Happy Time in Old Town.

"We felt very nappy," writes R. N. Bevil, Old Town, Va., "when Bucklen's Arnica Salve wholly cured our daughter of a bad case of scalp head." It deters all who use it for cuts, corns, burns, bruises, boils, ulcers, eruptions. Infallible for piles. Only 25c at all druggists.

Gold in the Black Hills.

The Burlington Route has recently issued a forty-eight page booklet bearing the title, "Mines and Mining in the Black Hills."

The book is one which should be read by every mining man in the southwest. It gives more information about the mines of the Black Hills than has ever before been placed between covers. A copy will be mailed free on application to the undersigned.

The Black Hills need men and money. Several of the shrewdest men in Colorado and elsewhere have already invested heavily in the Hills. The results so far have been more than satisfactory. The completion of the Burlington's new line to the north-west brings the Black Hills within a night's ride of Denver. You can leave Denver tonight and be in Deadwood or Lead City tomorrow afternoon.

Virulent Cancer Cured.

Startling proof of a wonderful advance in medicine is given by druggist G. W. Roberts, of Elizabeth, W. Va. An old man there had long suffered with what good doctors pronounced incurable cancer. They believed his case hopeless till he used Electric Bitters and applied Bucklen's Arnica Salve, which treatment completely cured him. When Electric Bitters are used to expel bilious, kidney and microbe poisons at the same time this salve exerts its matchless healing power, blood diseases, skin eruptions, ulcers and sores vanish. Bitters 50c, Salve 25c at all druggists.

SONG BIRDS.

There is a Law Against Killing These Birds.

Some people seem to be ignorant of the fact that there is a law making it a crime to kill song birds.

The thirty-fourth legislative assembly passed a law, entitled: "An act to prevent the killing of birds in the Territory of New Mexico," which provides as follows:

Section 1.—That it shall be unlawful for any person or persons in this territory to wantonly shoot, snare, or entrap for the purpose of killing, or in any manner to destroy, any song bird or birds, or birds whose principal food consists of insects, comprising all the species and varieties of birds represented by the several families of bluebirds, including the western and mountain bluebirds; also road-runner, woodpeckers, night hawks, humming birds, phoebe birds, fly catchers, pewees, pinon jays, and other varieties of the song family; black birds, meadow larks, orioles, Mexican opolotes, Arizona gold finches, swallows, yellow throats, thrashers, wrens, mocking birds, rocky mountain creepers, nut hatches, robins, chickadees, gnat-catchers, thrushes, Oregon or denny pheasant, and all other species and varieties of birds, reckoned as harmless in their habits, and whose flesh is unfit for food, etc.

The penalty is a fine not exceeding $50 nor less than $10, or by imprisonment in the county jail not exceeding thirty days, and each bird killed or injured is a separate offense.

This law should be rigidly enforced.

Of what does a bad taste in your mouth remind you? It indicates that your stomach is in bad condition and will remind you that there is nothing so good for such a disorder as Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets after having once used them. THE ROSWELL SHOPS.

What Avery Turner, General Manager, Says on Subject.

As soon as the Roswell Register heard the rumor that the shops of the Pecos system were to be removed from Roswell to Amarillo, it sent a letter to Avery Turner, vice president and general manager of the road, at Amarillo, asking him to telegraph whether the rumor was true or not. On Wednesday about 1 p. m., the following answer was received:

Amarillo, June 18.—R. S. Hamilton, Care Agent: Your letter of 17th received. To get in shape for construction and handle the joint repair work of the Pecos system and the Fort Worth & Denver City engines, we may consider some of the shop work and machinery from Roswell at Amarillo as we find we cannot buy enough machinery in time to keep up with the work here. We have plans for work at Roswell later that are unsettled as yet, but must immediately take care of the work here. We will still maintain a division point at Roswell, with nearly the same force.

EVERY TURNER.

A Real Friend.

"I suffered from dyspepsia and indigestion for fifteen years," says W. T. Sturdevant, of Morry Oaks, N. C. "After I had tried many doctors and medicines to no avail one of my friends persuaded me to try Kodol. It gave immediate relief. I can eat almost anything I want now and my digestion is good. I cheerfully recommend Kodol." Don't try to cure stomach trouble by dieting. That only further weakens the system. You need wholesome, strengthening food. Kodol enables you to assimilate what you eat by digesting it without the stomach's aid. J. H. O'Reilly & Co., and B. H. Briggs & Co.

Good Way to Celebrate.

As a part of the Fourth of July celebration, which will be particularly interesting to the citizens of Raton, it is proposed to begin drilling for oil. The Raton Oil & Gas company is rushing the building of the derrick and every thing will soon be in shape to sink the hole which it is sincerely hoped will develop a gusher.—Raton Reporter.

Drying preparations simply destroy (dry) catarrh; they dry up the secretions, which adhere to the membrane and decompose, causing a far more serious trouble than the ordinary form of catarrh. Avoid drying preparations, fumes, smoke and snuffs and use that which cleanses, soothes and heals. Ely's Cream Balm is such a remedy and will cure catarrh or cold in the head easily and pleasantly. A trial size will be mailed for 10 cents. All druggists sell the full size. Ely Brothers, 65 Warren St., N.Y. The Balm cures without pain, does not irritate or cause sneezing. It spreads itself over an irritated and angry surface, relieving immediately the painful inflammation. With Ely's Cream Balm you are armed against Nasal Catarrh and Hay Fever.

GOOD SHORT STORIES

Nothing to Conceal.

Being unused to the ways of business, Mr. Puggins, when he went to the savings bank to deposit his first $500, was surprised at the searching questions asked him by the young man behind the railing as to his ancestry. He answered them all, however, and then volunteered a little further information.

"My mother," he said, with dignity, "had a wart on the end of her nose, and parted her hair a little on one side. My father had a squint in his left eye, and had lost a front tooth. He was fond of horses, took snuff and walked with a slight limp and a large hickory cane—if anybody should ask you."—Chicago Tribune.

A Funeral Joke.

At the funeral of a lawyer of state reputation, who lived and practiced in a town not far from Philadelphia, and who was known among his friends thereabouts as an unbeliever, an eminent gentleman from Philadelphia reached the house after the minister had begun the sermon. Not knowing how far the service had progressed, he accosted a well known Quaker of the town, who was noted for his great sense of humor, and, leaning over his shoulder, asked in a whisper:

"What part of the services have they reached?"

To which the Quaker, without a smile, replied:

"Just opened for the defense."—Philadelphia Times.

Decidedly Not.

The other afternoon, when President Roosevelt reached Dupont circle, a "seeing-Washington" electric car drove in sight, and the guide continued his lecture through a megaphone in this way: "On the left we see the elegant residence of George Westinghouse, the millionaire inventor and electrician, formerly the home of the late James G. Blaine. A little to the left of front we perceive the palatial mansion of L. Z. Leiter, the Chicago millionaire, and father of the famous beauty, Miss Mary Leiter, now Lady Curzon, the wife of the governor general of India. In the park in front we are confronted by the statue of Admiral Dupont, and also in front we see the president of the United States on horseback."

The crowd looked, and one woman said:

"Whose statue is it, McKinley's?"

"It's Roosevelt," the guide responded. "He isn't a statue yet."—Buffalo Commercial.

Carnegie Not to Turn Poet.

Shortly before Mr. Carnegie sailed for Europe, a friend congratulated him on the success of his new book, and asked, jokingly: "I hear, Mr. Carnegie, that you intend writing a small volume of love poems. Is that a fact?"

"What?" answered Mr. Carnegie. "I write a love poem? What nonsense! How ridiculous! I could not write a love poem to save my life."

"But," persisted his friend, "I do not see why you should not. You have been in love, have you not?"

"Yes," dryly answered Mr. Carnegie. "I have, of course, like any other sane man, been in love. I have also been seasick, and will very likely experience the same sensation again before I reach the other side; but that's no reason why I should write a poem about it."—New York Commercial Advertiser.

Roosevelt Wanted to Know.

An admiring visitor at the white house had secured the honor of meeting President Roosevelt through the kind offices of Senator Burrows, of Michigan. Instead of the customary quick clasp of the hand and the formal salutation this visitor insisted upon expressing his opinion of Mr. Roosevelt in the most florid language. The president shifted uneasily from one foot to the other while waiting for a chance to break away from the long-winded caller, but none presented itself. Finally the man showed signs of reaching the end of his praise.

"Why, sir," he said, dropping the president's hand and squaring himself for the final effort, "you and Washington will go down in history together!"

"Which Washington—George or Booker?" asked Mr. Roosevelt. Senator Burrows hustled his oratorical constituent out of the room before the laugh caused by the president's question had subsided.—Chicago News.

Watterson Had to Give In.

Henry Watterson and wife of Louisville were at the Spencer house last night. The presence of the great editor recalls an incident that occurred on the occasion of one of Mr. Watterson's visits here last winter. He walked into one of the hotels to register after the night clerk had gone on duty, and, unfortunately, the young man did not recognize him. Mr. Watterson wrote his name across the register, but the night clerk, after scrutinizing it closely, announced that he could not read it. "What is that name?" he asked the great editor. Mr. Watterson gave him a withering look, and did not choose to interpret his handwriting. "I can't make this out," declared the clerk, "and unless I know what it is you can't get a room here."

"What's the difference what the name is?" wrathfully asked the editor. "I want a room, and that's sufficient."

"I must know what this name is before I can give you a room," persisted the clerk. "Suppose you should burn up in the night, how would I know who you were in order to inform your relatives?"

"Don't you know who I am?" inquired the irate guest, fairly shaking with anger. The night clerk shook his head. "Well, I'm Henry Watterson, of Louisville," snorted the editor.

"Very well, Mr. Watterson," the clerk coolly remarked. "I guess I can give you a room."

The Louisville editor, not feeling in the best of humor, was shown to his room. Next morning when he came down he was in a better humor. The night clerk was still on duty. "Young man," said the editor, walking up to the desk, "you talked to me pretty smart last night, but I guess after all you were right."—Indianapolis Journal.

The Squire Met His Match.

Men, as a rule, are more indifferent and communicative concerning the inroads of age than women are, but the most amiable woman can generally find a pertinent remark to make when approached impudently on this sacred theme. "Old Squire Jones doesn't speak to me now," said a gentle-faced, silver-haired lady. "and I don't blame him; he has excellent reasons for not wanting any conversation with me. Several months ago I was sitting in our carriage, near the city library, waiting for Helen, when I saw the old squire drive up near me. He always has something unpleasant to say about how old we are all getting, and what wrecks we all are, so I pretended not to see him. He came nearer, however, and accosted me.

"Isn't that you, Mrs. Brown? How d'ye do, Mrs. Brown?"

"I turned around and greeted him: 'How do you do, Squire Jones?'

"My goodness, Mrs. Brown," the bluff old fellow went on, "how you have broke. I never would have known ye."

"Why, Squire Jones," said I, "I was just going to say the same thing to you. I never did see a man age as fast as you have. What on earth has made you fall so rapidly? I never would have known you."

"The poor old squire shrank down in his buggy seat and wilted. He looked half his usual size and ten years older, and drove off without saying anything further. I was wicked, really, to deal the poor man such a blow, but if elderly gentlemen want to receive compliments," the silver-haired lady laughingly concluded, "they must go about distributing them."—Indianapolis News.

A Queen's Prerogative.

To the Anglo-Saxon the point of view of the Orient is not well understood. In the east there is a great disregard for human life that the occidental mind cannot comprehend. It has frequently happened in India that those whom the conquerors thought they knew best they discovered they knew not at all. This the English found out at the time of the great mutiny, which assumed the proportions it did through the mistaken trust that was reposed in native troops by their British officers. In the rule of the English in India many of the native kings and queens, the rajahs and maharajahs of the Indian dynasties, have been removed. They have, however, been retired on generous pensions, and live in most cases, in the provinces over which they ruled in former times. These ex-kings and queens, while shorn of power, keep up the outward and visible signs of royalty. They live in state, and exact from their servants and those with whom they come in contact the respect and dignity due to their rank.

An English woman, the wife of the governor of one of the Indian provinces, became, as she supposed, a great friend of her who had formerly reigned over the country. The English woman was fond of visiting the former queen, and thought the dusky potentate reciprocated her kindly feeling.

One day, however, she had a rude awakening. She was in the midst of an anecdote, when her hostess rang a bell, and, when the attendant appeared, clearly enunciated the order:

"Take this woman away and hang her."

The servant not obeying and the English woman regarding her with open-mouthed astonishment, the queen came to herself and offered an explanation, without, however, the slightest trace of embarrassment. "I forgot I was no longer a queen," she said, and then added, "That's what I used to do when I had the power."

The English woman hurriedly departed, and since that time has never evinced the slightest desire to be on intimate terms with natives.—New York Tribune.

Ten Years in Bed.

R. A. Gray, J. P. Oakville, Ind., writes: "For ten years I was confined to my bed with disease of my kidneys. It was so severe that I could not move part of the time. I consulted the very best medical skill available, but could get no relief until Foley's Kidney Cure was recommended to me. It has been a Godsend to me." Alvarado Pharmacy.

BONUS IS READY.

Rock Island Will Get $125,000 for Building to Dallas.

Leroy Trice, general manager of the International & Great Northern railroad, and Judge Alex Steadman, chief counsel, reached Dallas, Texas, and conferred with business men about the bonus as an inducement for the company to build into Dallas by what is known as the Waxahachie and Lancaster route.

The conference was satisfactory and Trice & Steadman departed for Austin. Barnett Gibbs and nine other capitalists guaranteed the bonus agreed upon. Mr. Gibbs stated that the International & Great Northern will be in operation into Dallas by April 1 next.

The officials of the Rock Island system are to be at Dallas on Thursday next to close up the bonus deal for that road. The $125,000 in money for the two roads is announced to be assured by the committee. Barnett Gibbs says the Rock Island will be in operation by November 1 next.

Saved From An Awful Fate.

"Everybody said I had consumption," writes Mrs. A. M. Shields, of Chambersburg, Pa. "I was so low after six months of severe sickness, caused by hay fever and asthma, that few thought I could get well, but I learned of the marvelous merit of Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, used it, and was completely cured." For desperate throat and lung diseases it is the safest cure in the world, and is infallible for coughs, colds and bronchial affections. Guaranteed bottles 50c and $1.00. Trial bottles free at all druggists.

NEWS OF THE CHURCHES

English Presbyterians are taking steps to organize a Presbyterian church at Oxford. The English general synod, meeting last month, took initial steps, and it was reported that a wealthy Presbyterian layman is holding on his own financial account an admirable site for the proposed church. The occasion is the expected influx of students from America and Australia, also from South Africa, because of the Cecil Rhodes scholarship bequests. The Dutch Reformed church in Cape Colony, the Transvaal and the Orange Free State is Presbyterian, and from here will come, under the Rhodes incentive, a great number of students. Westminster college, planted at Oxford largely through the energy of Ian McLaren, is not self-supporting. The argument is that unless Presbyterian young men, coming to Oxford, be provided a place of worship they will be lost, probably into the establishment.

Church Lands in Philippines.

It is not true that the papal deputation or commission, appointed to meet Governor Taft and if possible adjust the land question in the Philippines, designedly has upon it the candidates for the papal succession, in order that the matter does not come into the next conclave. The question and the commission are not of sufficient importance in the eyes of the Roman Catholic church, and the most promising of papal candidates are not on the commission. Cardinal Rampolla, as secretary of state, is out of the running, and Cardinal Vannutelli is too advanced in years. His younger brother, Vincenzo, also in Sacred college, is a more likely candidate than he. Cardinal Sartorio, patriarch of Venice, is said to be specially favored by Leo XIII., and he is not on the commission. Cardinal Gottl stands some chance, but the fact that he is prominent in an order will be against him. Then there is Cardinal Svampa, archbishop of Bologna, thought by many the most likely successor. He is not on the commission. It is not a political commission—and Pope Leo is still hale, according to all accounts.

Hicksite Quakers.

Swarthmore college, the presidency of which Prof. Joseph Swain, of Indiana university, has just accepted, is the institution of Hicksite Quakers, as Haverford college is that of the Orthodox Quakers. Swarthmore had, in President McGill, an executive of force and long standing, but since his retirement changes and some dissatisfaction have been frequent. President Swain first made a condition that $600,000 be added to the endowment, but modified it to $400,000, and complying therewith $113,000 has been raised during the last few weeks. The institution is located just out of Philadelphia, in a section as beautiful as any America or England can offer. President Swain has been nine years at the head of the Indiana institution, is president of the Indiana State Teachers' association, and of the Higher Educational society of the National Teachers' association. For a small college, Swarthmore now ranks financially among the very strongest.

Episcopal Bishops in Mexico.

Private advices from lay Episcopalians in the City of Mexico show profound dissatisfaction there over the prospective consecration of three bishops for what is to become an autonomous Episcopal church of that country. Such advices declare that not so many as one bishop is needed, not to mention three. Rev. Mr. Forester is described as an excellent and estimable gentleman, but too old in years, and too narrow in views to get on with American and English residents, without whom there is little indeed of the Mexican Episcopal church. It is declared by laymen in Mexico that the two bishops elect, aside from Mr. Forester, are quite unknown. The Episcopal church in the United States has long been urged to consecrate bishops or bishops for Mexico, and so start it upon the road to autonomy, and finally yielded last April, electing three, who now await approval of standing committees and consecration.

Quadrennial Conference.

There has thus far been but one serious response to the Methodist book committee to the latter's bid for invitations to the next quadrennial general conference, to meet in the spring of 1904. This response comes from Philadelphia, and seems to be in earnest. Rev. Dr. Russell H. Conwell, although a Baptist, tendered to the Philadelphia committee the use of Grace Baptist church and Temple college hall, as large and available auditoriums, but the tender was refused. The academy does not compare favorably with the Auditorium, Chicago, in which the conference met in 1900. Philadelphia is the logical meeting place next time, and seems almost certain to be chosen. Apart from the celebration of the completion of the $20,000,000 fund, and the election of about two new bishops, the conference will have before it no great questions.

United Brethren Affairs.

United Brethren have made temporary provision for increased help in their board of bishops. Recently Bishop Hott died, leaving the church with but three surviving bishops. These three took a vote of the delegates to the last general conference, it being agreed that the choice should serve until the next meeting of conference. This choice proved Rev. Dr. George Matthews, and he takes the central district, composed of Illinois, Wisconsin, Minnesota, Iowa, Oklahoma, Missouri and parts of Kansas and Nebraska. The Brethren have six missionaries at work in the Philippines, and four in Porto Rico. At Ponce they have a new church costing $10,000, almost ready for dedication. The year 1903 will be the semi-centennial of the missionary society. It has been decided to publish a new history of the society during that year, and to make an effort to clear the society from a debt of $21,000. Several educational institutions under this denomination are paying off debts and increasing endowments. The new Bishop Matthews was formerly associate editor of the denominational newspaper. The other three are Bishop Castle, of Philomath, Ore.; Bishop Kephart, of Westerville,

Ohio; and Bishop Mills, of Annapolis, Pa.

More Students Wanted.

Leaders in several religious bodies are starting an active campaign for an increase of students in theological seminaries. It is found that not enough are graduating to fill vacancies, not to mention any available men for growth. There are always more churches than ministers in all religious bodies, save Methodist and Roman Catholic, where supply and demand are rigidly controlled, but the discrepancy is larger today than ever before in the history of Christian effort in America. Almost the same condition obtains in Protestant England. In the Reformed church for illustration, the total number to graduate from both seminaries was sixteen, and these were needed to fill vacancies in appointments by the two missionary societies. Churches everywhere are calling upon seminaries for men, but in vain. Leaders who want to improve matters are pointing out that never before were salaries higher, larger, or opportunities greater. The number to go into the seminaries this fall is exceedingly small, and in the colleges, who have announced their intention, is even smaller, showing that the dearth of ministers has not yet reached its lowest point. The condition is unprecedented, and unexpected.

Tent Work in Summer.

Tent work is going to be active this summer. As usual, Philadelphia leads in number of tents and in system in holding these services. There the work is for the most part Presbyterian, and supported by John H. Converse, of the Baldwin Locomotive works, and head of the evangelistic committee of the Presbyterian general assembly. A paid secretary is at the head of the work, and he continues in service the year round. In Brooklyn, Chicago and several smaller cities system is being put into the effort, as has long been done in Philadelphia. Presbyterians taking the lead. This system consists, in one important point, of following up persons who show interest, and in placing them in touch with pastors of churches for which they express a preference. Heretofore there has been considerable friction between tent workers and pastors, the former claiming to get many persons interested, and the latter discounting their work, and saying they interfered with the work of the churches. Under the united work of the Presbyterian committee mentioned much of this friction has disappeared. Hence the new outlook for the tent workers this season.

Colored Young Men.

The Young Men's Christian association is developing work for colored young men. Like churches it finds that the color element obtains even in the north, and as much on the part of the blacks as upon that of whites. Indianapolis has 25,000 negro young men, New York and Charleston 20,000 each, Atlanta and Philadelphia 10,000 each, Washington and Baltimore 30,000 each, and New Orleans 20,000. Smaller cities have numbers in proportion. The international committee has two field secretaries for this special development, and there are now twenty-eight associations in cities and sixty-three in colleges, with a total of 6,000 members. Employed secretaries are necessary for the success of these associations. Five such were added last year, and three more are now in training schools. The association management finds it quite as needful to provide organizations for colored people as for railroad men, soldiers and students. It is declared to be one of the association's purposes further and stronger to develop this colored work.

RELIGIOUS THOUGHT.

Gems of Truth Gleaned from Teachings of All Denominations.

Education.—Education is the watchword of the hour.—Rev. E. W. Caswell, Methodist, New York.

The Church.—If the people will not come to the church, the church must go to the people.—Rev. Dr. Carson, Presbyterian, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Salvation.—Salvation does not come out of memory. It is the fair child of faith and hope.—Rev. Dr. Harris, Universalist, Worcester, Mass.

Justice.—Religion and love will get small headway until justice arrives—justice, industry and socially.—Rev. D. N. Beach, Congregationalist, Denver, Colo.

Character.—Character will carve its signature anywhere. A radiant countenance comes from communion with God.—Rev. S. E. Young, Presbyterian, Pittsburg, Pa.

Personal Touch.—If we would win men for God we must place ourselves in personal touch with our fellowmen.—Rev. M. P. Kikes, Baptist, Baltimore, Md.

Purity.—Purity of the heart makes purity of life. We can keep evil thoughts from occupying our hearts.—Rev. Dr. Monk, Methodist, Atlanta, Ga.

Success in Life.—Success in life we all wish to attain—but obtain this success with honor! Let honor, not money, be our motto.—Bishop Burgess, Episcopalian, New York.

Live Great Lives.—There could be no obligation upon us to live great lives if such living were dependent upon things beyond our choice and control.—Rev. C. Woolfkin, Baptist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Fight Our Battles.—We must fight our battles as those who are conscious of the near presence of the hosts of God. Prayer will bring us help to surmount difficulties.—Rev. E. White, Episcopalian, Worcester, Mass.

Moral Disorder.—It appears that there is in the social organism of the human race some sort of moral disorder. The Bible calls this sin. The result of this is decay, disintegration and disaster. The history of the human race is filled with the story of this sin.—Rev. Dr. Beattie, Louisville, Ky.

Doing its Work.—If the church were doing its work it would not be on the hunt for novel doctrines; neither would there be so much room for perplexity and despair.—Rev. J. Henderson, Mission, Chicago, Ill.

Self Denial.—One can not obey the commands of Jesus Christ except by first considering the needs of his fellowmen, and then striving to meet those needs, and this necessitates constant self denial.—Rev. Dr. Moffat, Presbyterian, Washington, Pa.

Hard to be Understood.—In proportion as any subject is great and comprehensive it will have in it things hard to be understood. Christianity, simple and clear as it is, is liable to be beset by plausible objections.—Rev. Dr. Sprecher, Cleveland, Ohio.

Gospel Crusade.—The great American revival needed today is an earnest, enthusiastic, land wide gospel crusade to the toiling millions. These people are getting their eyes open. They think, they read, they reason.—Rev. Dr. Coyle, Presbyterian, Denver, Colo.

A Spiritual Education.—Ignorance is man's only devil and intelligence is his savior. The trouble with man is he knows too much that is not so. What he needs is a spiritual education, for his life is too negative.—Rev. F. E. Mason, Spiritualist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

A Christian State.—I do not believe in a church-governed state or a state-governed church. I do believe in a Christian church and a Christian state. A Christian should be willing to pay his debt of duty to the state by serving it.—Rev. Dr. Bacon, Indianapolis, Ind.

Church United.—If the church were united we could make a tremendous onslaught on the sins of today. Give me any reason why there should be a church and that is the reason why it should be united. No argument, no reasoning, could convince me that anything for which Jesus prayed is not both desirable and expedient.—Rev. J. E. Pounds, Akron, Ohio.

Value of the Soul.—The gain of earth goes no farther than the grave, and the treasures of earth have no purchasing power in heaven. The value of the soul is inestimable. It cost infinite love to redeem us, and the Redeemer says we shall profit most if we follow Him, for our soul is so precious we can give nothing in exchange for it.—Rev. George Adams, Methodist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Gifts of God.—Our physical traits, our mental endowments, are gifts of God, and the same thing is true of the moral virtue we may possess. The excellences of natural disposition are bestowed by the grace of God, and in these, as well as in character itself, we see colors as diverse as the tints of a rainbow.—Rev. Dr. Stevenson, Presbyterian, New York.

Christian Spirituality.—The church must stand, not only for intellectual honesty, but for a Christian spirituality. I say Christian because we have spiritualities and spiritualities. We have the spirituality of principle promulgated by Oriental faiths, and we have the spirituality of the social order.—Rev. G. E. Cunningham, Universalist, Kansas City, Mo.

Redemption and Duty.—Jesus Christ was the one totally complete, fully furnished man. And because this is so, we should recognize the dangerous error that is committed when one or a few of his words are made to regulate his whole mind in the great matter of redemption and duty. Consider his utterance respecting the moral condition of human nature.—Rev. J. L. Withrow, Congregationalist, Boston, Mass.

The Words of Christ.—The words of Christ have a permanent and an abiding interest throughout the world. They are as true and as convincing as they were a thousand years ago, and will be as convincing and vital a thousand years hence as they are today. Discoveries, but the word of the Lord abideth forever.—Cardinal Gibbons, Roman Catholic, Baltimore, Md.

Chief Fact.—The chief fact about any nation is its religion. The measure of the energy of faith is also the measure of the energy of national life. Ignorance is not the mother of devotion, nor of anything else that is worthful. The intelligent conscience is the true power that makes for permanent national life. This intelligent conscience is to a large extent given by our Sunday schools.—Rev. Dr. Hull, Baptist, Brooklyn, N. Y.

Immortality.—Immortality? What is there to die? This physical vesture, that is all. What is there to live? The soul, the man who sleeps for a short time, but who, like his Lord, shall rise the third day. And how shall he live? In his spiritual body, into the full use and freedom of which he shall now come. It shall be no unreal, ghostly life, but more than ever a perfectly embodied life.—Rev. Julian K. Smyth, Swedenborgian, New York City.

Study of the Bible.—The real art of reading once learned, its laws understood and observed, man will no longer have an abnormal craving for the new, but in the old and tested, the standard books of the world, he will find his dearest friends, ministering happiness unto him. And if there is a draught richer from that sacred fountain to which we are led by the reading of the immortal imperishable, eternal book, the Word of God.—Rev. L. A. Lindemuth, Presbyterian, Akron, Ohio.

Interesting to Asthma Sufferers.—Daniel Bante, of Otterville, Iowa, writes: "I have had asthma for three or four years and have tried about all the cough and asthma cures in the market and have received treatment from physicians in New York and other cities, but got very little benefit until I tried Foley's Honey and Tar which gave me immediate relief and I will never be without it in my house. I sincerely recommend it to all." Alvarado Pharmacy.

Gallup, Cerrillos and Bland

News Notes From Exchanges

GALLUP.

From the Republican.

Thomas Moody, a 10 year old boy, fell from a wagon a few days ago and broke his arm.

F. W. Meyers has been appointed government inspector to supervise the construction of the school buildings at Moqui.

There are several young men in Gallup who have a bad case of the South African fever. Some of them say they are going there soon.

While Mrs. McLaren, of this place, was visiting her brother, June Roberts, at Farmington, San Juan county, her infant son was taken ill suddenly and died.

Rev. William Sloan left for Chloride, Ariz., to take charge of a church at that place. Mrs. Sloan will remain here for two or three weeks.

The fire fighters held a meeting and elected the following officers: Chief, E. F. Kenney; assistant chief, W. A. Krammer; secretary, Chas. Sabin, and treasurer, D. C. Russell.

Mrs. J. M. Carman returned from her visit to the old home in Louisville, Ky. She has been gone for the past three and a half months and reports a most enjoyable vacation.

The young boys, from 10 to 14 years of age, have organized a base ball club at Gibson, and already secured their uniforms and paraphernalia. They have put up a $25 prize, and will give it to any other "kid" base ball club in the county who can beat them on the diamond. Here is a chance for the rising generation of Gallup to get out and show the Gibson boys that they are not ball players.

Dr. J. J. Pattee, surgeon for the Colorado Fuel and Iron company left, left for Pueblo, Colo., to attend the Colorado State Medical society, which convenes next week. After the close of the session the doctor will be joined by Mrs. Pattee and they will go on a three months' trip to Minneapolis, New York and Boston. The doctor will take a post graduate course while east. Dr. W. W. Sprague, of Albuquerque, has been appointed to serve the company during Dr. Pattee's trip east.

Warning.

If you have kidney indication or bladder trouble and do not use Foley's Kidney Cure, you will have only yourself to blame for results, as it positively cures all forms of kidney and bladder diseases. Alvarado Pharmacy.

CERRILLOS.

From the Register.

W. G. Ashdown is having a severe spell of rheumatism this week.

Mrs. C. O. Harrison left for a short visit with Albuquerque friends.

Mrs. Nancy Jackson went to Santa Fe with Mrs. H. C. Kinsell for an extended visit.

James Bertone, who broke his leg some time ago, is having a severe time with it as a bone will not unite as it should.

The little child of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Elkins is much better, and Mr. Elkins expects to return to his work at Alamogordo soon.

John Koury returned from the Jemez springs much improved in health. He reports a fine time while out and says the springs are the place for a summer outing.

Messrs. Matias Montoya and S. L. North left for Lajavada, where they have fine copper claims. They expect to be gone twenty days or more, and hope to develop a paying mine before they return.

Ready to Yield.

"I used DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve for piles and found it a certain cure," says S. R. Meredith, Willow Grove, Del. Operations unnecessary to cure piles. They always yield to DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Cures skin diseases, all kinds of wounds. Accept no counterfeits. J. H. O'Reilly & Co., and B. H. Briggs & Co.

BLAND.

From the Herald.

The opal claims in Peralta canyon will yet make Bland famous.

An assaying outfit has arrived and will be used at the Crown Point.

It is said that a force of men will be put to work on the Crown Point mine. Good times ahead!

Miss Jennie Arnett returned the first of the week from a visit to Miss Mary Springer in Cochiti canyon.

The Benham saw mill in Media Dia canyon was sold under the hammer last Saturday. It was knocked down to J. G. Creagher.

The Jemez and Sulphur Springs are beginning to catch the crowds of health seekers and visitors that usually throng to the mountains to avoid the heat of the cities.

The project to establish an electric plant at White Rock canyon is a good one. The river can furnish plenty of power for such a plant and the promoters of the enterprise will realize this fact upon closer inspection of the falls at that point.

Whooping Cough.

My little son had an attack of whooping cough and was threatened with pneumonia; but for Chamberlain's Cough Remedy we would have had a serious time of it. It also saved him from several severe attacks of croup.—H. J. Strickfaden, editor Worra-Herald, Fair Haven, Wash. For sale by all druggists.

A Pension Story.

Commissioner of Pensions Eugene F. Ware received a letter from a man in Illinois a few days ago in which he said:

"I am now getting a pension of $30 a month. Recently the Lord has prospered me and I don't think I should get so much money. I gave my service to my country, and I think I should have some pension, of course, but I think $30 a month is too much. Is there any way I can have my pension reduced or suspended while I enjoy the prosperity that is mine at present?"

This is the only letter that ever came to the pension bureau asking for a reduction of pension, and Commissioner Ware looked at it with much curiosity and some suspicion. After determining that the man is really on the rolls, he wrote to the special pension examiner in the district in which the man lives and asked him to investigate. This is the reply the pension examiner sent:

"I have the honor to inform you that the person who applied for a reduction in his pension is now in the insane asylum at this place and has been there for some time."—New York Times.

President Roosevelt's Letter on the Bible.

About a year ago Mr. Roosevelt, then vice president of the United States, delivered an important address at Oyster Bay, L. I., where he resides. The occasion was the annual meeting of the Long Island Bible society, and the subject of the address was the Bible. On Sunday evening, May 11, at the celebration of the thirteenth anniversary of the Epworth League at Strawbridge church, Baltimore, communications were read from a number of prominent men, who expressed their judgment as to what class of men and women the world most needs at the present time. President Roosevelt was among those who were invited to participate in the symposium, and he sent a letter which contained the following extracts from his Oyster Bay address:

"Every thinking man, when he thinks, realizes what a very large number of people tend to forget that the teachings of the Bible are so interwoven and entwined with our whole civic and social life that it would be literally impossible for us to figure to ourselves what that life would be if these teachings were removed. We would lose almost all the standards by which we now judge both public and private morals; all the standards to which we, with more or less resolution, strive to raise ourselves. Almost every man who has, by his life work, added to the sum of human achievement of which the race is proud, of which our people are proud—almost every such man has based his life work largely upon the teachings of the Bible. Some times it has been done unconsciously, and among the very greatest men a disproportionately large number have been diligent and close students of the Bible at first hand."

"Lincoln—sad, patient, kindly Lincoln, who after bearing upon his weary shoulders for four years a greater burden than that borne by any other man in the nineteenth century, laid down his life for the people whom, living, he had served so well—built up his entire reading upon his study of the Bible. He had mastered it absolutely; mastered it as, later, he had mastered one or two other books, notably Shakespeare; mastered so that he became almost a 'man of one book,' who knew that book and instinctively put it into practice what he had been taught therein; and he left his life as part of the crowning work of the century that has just closed."

"You may look through the Bible, from cover to cover, and no where will you find a line that can be construed into an apology for the man of crimes who sits against the light. On the contrary, in the Bible, taking that as a whole, you will find that because much was known of you, a heavier condemnation than that which is visited upon the able man who goes down upon his weaker brother, who cannot do the harm that the other does, because it is not in him to do it."

"I plead not merely for training of the mind, but for the moral and spiritual training of the home and the church; the moral and spiritual training that have always been found in, and that ever have accompanied the study of this book; this book, which in almost every civilized tongue, can be described as 'The Book,' with the certainty of all understanding you when you so describe it."

"The immense moral influence of the Bible, though, of course, infinitely the most important, is not the only power it has for good. In addition there is the unceasing influence it exerts on the side of good taste, of good literature, of proper sense of proportion, of simple and straightforward writing and thinking."

"This is not a small matter in an age when there is a tendency to read much that, even if not actually harmful on moral grounds, is yet injurious, because it represents slothful, slovenly thought and work; not the kind of serious thought, of serious expression, which we like to see in anything that goes into the fiber of character."

"The Bible does not teach us to shrink difficulties but to overcome them. That is a lesson that each one of us who has children is bound to honor to teach these children, if he or she expects to see them become fitted to play the part of men and women in our world."

"If we read the Bible aright we read a book which teaches us to go forth and do the work of the Lord; to do the work of the Lord in the world as we find it; to try and make things better in this world, even if only a little better, because we have lived in it. This kind of work can be done only by a man who is neither a weakling nor a coward, by a man who, in the fullest sense of the word, is a true Christian—like Great Heart, Bunyon's hero. We plead for a closer and wider and deeper study of the Bible, so that our people may be in fact as well as in theory 'doers of the word and not hearers only.'"

The entire address is published with Mr. Roosevelt's consent just as it was originally delivered to his friends and neighbors, as leaflet No. 13, by the American Bible society and can be procured by addressing that society at the Bible House, New York.

ARIZONA NORMAL.

Commencement Exercises at This Great Institution at Flagstaff.

SEVEN GRADUATES.

From Coconino Sun.

Friday, June 19, was the last day of the third year's work in the Northern Normal. The past week has been devoted to the annual festivities of the school.

Tuesday evening the beautifully decorated Normal hall was filled to overflowing with an appreciative audience, gathered to hear the contest in elocution and essay writing. There were four prizes offered in the contest. Two, of $10 and $5, were offered by Mr. T. E. Pollock for recitation, and two, of $10 and $5, by Dr. D. J. Brannen for essay writing. In addition to these there were two prizes, of $30 and $20, offered for the defining and pronunciation by diacritical markings of twenty-five words. These prizes were offered by Hon. M. J. Riordan and F. W. Slason.

The exercises were opened by an address of welcome by Professor Taylor, followed by a piano duet by Misses Beecher and Burns. The next number on the program was the reading of an essay by Charles Stemmer, subject, "The Resources of Arizona." The paper was well written and showed an excellent knowledge of the present and possible industries of the territory. The second number, "Prince Eric's Christ-Maid," a recitation by Miss Mary Funston, was well rendered and showed careful study. "The New South," an extract from the speech of H. W. Grady, was the declamation given by Burton Grim, and showed marked talent. Miss Kitty Rudd rendered the sleep-walking scene from "Macbeth" in a highly creditable manner. This number was followed by a piano solo by Miss Lotta Beal.

Miss Bertha Beecher then presented "A Sweet Girl Graduate," a monologue requiring considerable acting. Miss Beecher's number was well received and elicited much applause. Miss Virgie Rudd's essay, "We Have Reached the Bay; the Ocean Lies Beyond," betrayed a poetical temperament. The next number on the program was an essay, "Ambition and Contentment," by Miss Marie Merritt. Following was a recitation, "As the Moon Rose," by Miss Mina Jones. Miss Faith Kendrick's essay, "The Point of View," was an excellent paper. The last number on the program, "How Salvator Won," a recitation by George Burns, was a very vivid portrayal of a race and was exceedingly well rendered. The Normal Glee club followed with a song and then came the awarding of prizes. Miss Mina Jones won first prize for recitation, and Miss Bertha Beecher second. Miss Marie Merritt won first prize for essay writing and Miss Faith Kendrick second. The awards for diacritical marking were also made, the first prize going to Miss Mina Jones and the second to Miss Mary Funston.

The program in full was as follows:

Music—"The Night Has a Thousand Eyes" (Emery)
Normal Glee Club.

Thursday evening was commencement, dear to the hearts of the seven seniors. During the day our citizens witnessed the spectacle of seven delightful young ladies bearing a basket in which was supposed to rest the class of '02, that they were proceeding to bury. At night they appeared, no longer doleful but gay and sparkling, in caps and gowns ready to receive the well merited reward of several years of faithful study.

The program of Thursday evening opened with a violin solo by Fred Grim. This was followed by a short address by Professor Taylor, who introduced Hon. Richard E. Sloan, of Prescott. The address of Judge Sloan was the principal feature of the evening, and was impressive and scholarly. His discourse was upon the progress and advancement of education, and was highly appreciated and listened to with marked attention by the audience, which thronged the commodious assembly hall.

A song by the Normal Glee club followed, and then Professor Taylor presented the diplomas, accompanying the presentation with tender, parting words of advice and God-speed. Flowers and congratulations poured in upon the happy seven, who were Misses Grace Grim, Mina Jones, Virgie Rudd, Nina Burns, Creola Black, Mary Funston and Bertha Beecher.

A most important event of the evening was the awarding of medals for the highest average standing for the year in the senior class. The medals were donated for this purpose by some friend of the school who desires his identity to remain unknown. A. A. Dutton presented the medals, the first to Miss Grace Grim and the second to Miss Mina Jones. The average of the two young ladies differed by a slight fraction only.

The festivities of the week closed Friday evening with a grand reception, for which a general and cordial invitation was extended by the board and faculty and students to all the citizens of Flagstaff.

The resident members of the board, the faculty and the graduating class received the guests. A short program of music and recitation added to the enjoyment of the evening. Refreshments were served in the east corridor and adjoining rooms by the class of '03. At a late hour the guests dispersed, carrying with them pleasant memories of the class of '02, and the N. A. N. S. closed its doors until the 24 day of September.

The Normal school board have retained for another year the present efficient faculty. A. N. Taylor, B. L. principal; Miss Frances H. Bury, assistant; Miss Cornelia Hartwell, assistant; Miss Lulu Hunter, supervisor of the training school.

The Normal under the management of Professor Taylor has been successful since its opening. At the opening in September the attendance will be largely increased.

Next year a summer school will be conducted for the benefit of those who desire the course of study, and it is expected that a large number of teachers will avail themselves of the advantages of the summer school.

During the summer vacation a complete chemical and physical laboratory will be added and fully equipped for work, completing a department which has heretofore been conducted under difficulties.

Note.—An illustration of this institution of learning is published on the first page of today's Citizen.

Another Rough Rider in Office.
Fen. S. Hildreth, who a year or so ago was a resident of Kingman, has been appointed register of the land office at Prescott, vice Fred Tittle, whose term of office had expired. Mr. Hildreth is a most capable young man and his many friends here are pleased with the selection. He was a member of the Roosevelt Rough Riders and in this way came under the personal acquaintance of the president. J. M. W. Moore, the old republican warhorse of Yavapai county, has been appointed receiver in place of J. M. Martin. The outgoing officials are excellent men and their friends will regret their retirement.—Mohave County Miner.

STATEHOOD BILL.

May Suffer Further Delay by Amendments in the Senate.

TWO SIDES.

A special dispatch to the Denver Republican, the leading republican paper of Colorado, from Washington, under date of June 25, says:

By an arrangement effected today by the divergent interests in the senate committee on territories, and subsequently ratified by the senate, a territorial statehood bill will be reported to and considered by the senate early in December, when congress reconvenes. In the meeting that resulted in this agreement the fact developed that the principal reason for opposing Senator Quay's motion for the omnibus statehood bill was for the purpose of preventing the bill going on the calendar in unamended form.

Some of the republican members of the committee are inclined to favor the admission of one or two of the territories, but not all three of them, and they desire therefore to amend the measure in committee. This they will have an opportunity to attempt.

Senator Bate said the democrats accepted the program only because it had become apparent that action could not be secured at the present session. He said the democratic side of the senate was solid in its support of the bill for the admission of all three of the territories—Oklahoma, New Mexico and Arizona.

The republican members say it does not follow from today's agreement that the omnibus statehood bill will become the unfinished business December 10 next. They make the point that the agreement provides for a report by the committee on territories to precede the consideration of the bill, and that whatsoever bill may be reported will become the unfinished business.

That may or may not be an omnibus bill, and it is evident that the present desire of the majority of the committee is that it should not be. It should be added that any bill reported from the committee on territories will be open to amendment in the senate.

The Other Side.

A special dispatch to the Rocky Mountain News, the leading paper of democratic faith in Colorado, from Washington, dated June 25, says:

Sensor Quay's fight for the omnibus statehood measure was brought to an unexpected close today by the capitulation of the opposition and their agreement to have the bill reported on the third day of the session next December and brought up for consideration on the tenth day.

It of course cannot be expected that the republicans have laid down their arms and will offer no further opposition to statehood for the three territories, Arizona, Oklahoma and New Mexico. The territorial delegates from these places claim there are at least fifty-four senators who would vote for the omnibus bill at present before the committee, but this bill will not be reported from the committee before a battle has been fought.

Some of the republican members of the committee are inclined to favor the admission of one or two of the territories, but not all three of them, and they desire, therefore, to amend the measure in committee. This they will have an opportunity to attempt.

Senator Bate said the democrats accepted the program only because it had become apparent that action could not be secured at the present session. DR. PRICE'S Cream Baking Powder

The difference of cost between a good and a poor baking powder would not amount for a family's supply to one dollar a year. The poor powder would cause doctors' bills many times this.

Dr. Price's Cream Baking Powder is the most economical in the end, because it goes further in leavening and insures perfect, wholesome food.

Used always in making the biscuit and cake it saves both health and money. Made from pure, grape cream of tartar, most healthful of fruit acids.

NOTE.—You cannot, if you value good health, afford to use cheap, low-grade baking powders. They are mostly, in spite of the pure food laws, made from alum, which endangers the health. All physicians will tell you that such poisons in food are injurious.

OFFICIAL MATTERS.

Territorial Funds—Concluding Proceedings of Board of Health.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

Territorial Treasurer J. H. Vaughn received from C. J. Kelly, collector of Luna county, $7,975.51 of 1901 taxes.

Territorial Board of Health.

The territorial board of health adjourned Thursday evening after granting licenses to practice to Dr. W. M.
Popplewell, Santa Fe; Dr. H. N. Lutton,
Pecos; Dr. Charles McEllan, of Albuquerque, and Dr. David J. Seilin, of Belen, who had passed a successful examination. The last named is a graduate of the medical school of the University of St. Petersburg, Russia, and his brother is the chief surgeon of the Santa Fe Pacific railway.

A resolution was also passed that the board recognizes all medical schools on the list of the New York Board of Regents of the American Association of Medical Colleges, as schools in good standing, whose graduates will be given a certificate to practice in New Mexico upon application without examination.

Mrs. A. M. Leeson acted as stenographer of the board. The board will meet again in December.

SPECIAL MEETING TONIGHT.

Of Commercial Club to Consider a
New Railroad Proposition.

There will be a special meeting of the directors of the Commercial club at 8 o'clock this evening to discuss a new railroad proposition, which is to be presented by George W. Stubbins.
The proposed line of road would be from Albuquerque north along the Rio Grande to a connection with the Denver & Rio Grande railway, and a branch from the main line at a point near the Cochiti pueblo into the Co-chiti mining district. The plans also contemplate the erection and operation of reduction works of 500 tons capacity to treat the Cochiti ores.

A Warning to Stay Away.

The following article, from the Cerrillos Register, is a decided warning to keep away from Cerrillos and the adjacent camps, especially during hot weather:

Roy Stamm, collector for the Albuquerque Journal-Democrat, has been transacting business in the camps south of here this week. While returning from Madrid Tuesday evening he had a narrow escape from being seriously bitten by a dog. He was walking and leading his horse when a passing dog snapped at him tearing his pants and leaving teeth marks in his leg. Fortunately he had on a pair of heavy leggings which saved him from severe injury.

Base Ball at Santa Fe.

Several will go from here to Santa Fe to see the ball game between Santa Fe and the club from Antonita, Colo.
A big excursion will be run over the Denver & Rio Grande. The Antonita club is a member of the San Luis valley league.

Injurious Fly.

A peculiar sort of fly bug is making a serious attack on the pine trees in this section. They seem to bore into the twigs and needles, allowing the sap to escape in such quantities that vegetation beneath bears the appearance of having just experienced a heavy rain. It yet remains to be seen what effect they will have, though old timers say the same thing occurred some years ago, causing the needles to turn color, but not injuring the trees.

Mr. Cole handles exclusively the goods manufactured and handled by F. A. Hardy & Co., which is a guarantee that customers will get the best quality goods made. He has the newest methods of testing and fitting the eye and if he cannot improve the present visual conditions he will frankly tell you so. He can be found at the Hotel Highland all next week and will be glad to meet all who are in need of his services.

CURRY RESIGNS.

As Chief of Police of Manila—Will Go into Mercantile Business.

It will be seen from the following clipping taken from the Manila Daily Freedom that Captain George Curry, formerly a well known politician of the southern section of the territory, has resigned his position as chief of police of Manila, for the purpose of going into mercantile pursuits. Business conditions must be good in the Camarines, as Chief Curry received $5,000 per annum.

"Chief of Police Curry yesterday tendered his resignation and the same will take effect from the first of July. Captain Curry intends to enter into business in the Camarines on relinquishing command of the city police department and will assume the management of the Camarines Mercantile company. He will go in a few days for a short trip to Camarines, having been granted leave of absence by the municipal board, and while there will make arrangements for the erection of buildings for the new company. Capt. Curry was previously governor of the Camarines and is fully impressed with the commercial possibilities afforded in that section of the archipelago."

Mrs. Berry and Professor Devine will furnish the music for the ball at the Orchestra hall tonight.

This evening, at the White Elephant, a fine free lunch will be served, to which everybody cordially invited to partake. The White Elephant is one of the city's nicest resorts.

VON KETTLER.

Memory of the Germany Ambassador is to be Honored.

Berlin, June 28.—There is to be an elaborate memorial service at Kroll's tomorrow in honor of Baron von Kettler, the German ambassador to China at the beginning of the uprising. The date will be the second anniversary of Von Kettler's cruel murder by the boxers. Kroll's, where the service is to be held, is the imperial summer opera house in the Tiergarten. The Kaiser himself has framed the musical program, in which all the great artists of the royal institutes, opera, concerts and academies, will participate. Besides sacred music there will be martial airs, and as a special compliment to Baroness Von Kettler, the Kaiser has ordered all the best compositions of Frederick the Great to be played. The theater will be draped in black and decorated with Chinese trophies, captured guns, the keys of the captured cities and arms.

Professor Begas has just completed a magnificent statue of Baron von Kettler, a replica of which will be presented to the widow, who is the daughter of Henry B. Ledyard, of Detroit.

STOCK YARDS BURNED.

The Railroad Stock Pens South of City Destroyed.

This afternoon, at 3:30 o'clock, a message reached the city that the railroad stock yards a few miles south of the city were on fire, and could not be saved. Another message was received half an hour later giving the information that "all is gone." The fire originated from a passing engine.

Off on a Vacation.

Hon. J. E. Griffith, clerk of the Fifth Judicial district, came in from Socorro this morning and during the wait of the train was a pleasant caller at this office. Mr. Griffith continued on to Santa Fe, accompanying as far as Lamy Junction Miss Mabel Howe, who was on her way to Las Vegas. After a stay of a few days at Santa Fe, Mr. Griffith will leave for Colorado Springs, Colo., where his family are now sojourning, and from there the whole party will go to Sterling, Kansas. Before returning to Socorro, Mr. Griffith will visit his old stamping ground in Ohio.

Notice.

Owing to the necessity of economizing in the city's finances it is impossible to expend the amount of money required in hiring a wagon and employing labor for the purpose of watering trees. We therefore call upon citizens who have the welfare of the city at heart and who have trees in front of their homes to see that the same are properly watered until such time as the city can again take charge of the work. Very respectfully,
 C. F. MYERS, Mayor.

NEW MEXICO TOWNS

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.

Thomas Tucker is critically ill at his home on Bridge street near the capital.

The Santa Fe postoffice will receive a canceling machine to be operated by post in the near future.

The federal officials of this city are doing the preliminary work on their annual reports as the fiscal year ends on June 30.

In the district court for Santa Fe county a suit was filed by the Acquila del Cano et al. vs. The Acquila del Llano et al. praying for an injunction to restrain the defendants from taking more than their just and proportionate share of the water out of the Nambé river.

The directors of the Capital Water and Light company organized yesterday by electing Daniel W. Miller, of Toledo, Ohio, president; John P. Connor, vice president; Herschel E. Gibson of Santa Fe, secretary; and Antonio W. Wadsworth, of Santa Fe, treasurer. The preliminary work for the establishment of the power plant on the Pecos river will be commenced in the course of ten or fifteen days.

RATON.

From the Range.

Mrs. E. W. Taggart, of Cisne, Ill., will arrive here on July 2 for a visit to her son, A. O. Taggart.

Miss Mary Neville has completed her term of school near Jansen, Colo., and is visiting friends in Raton.

Frank Bonner returned home after an eastern visit of two months. He will go to Topeka soon to meet Mrs. Bonner and accompany her home.

W. A. Chapman left for Ponil Park, where he has been engaged to assist in surveying the boundaries of a large tract recently purchased by Mr. Bartlett from the Maxwell Land Grant company.

Rev. Sam Magill returned last week after an absence of many weeks, during which he made two trips entirely across the continent, first going to the Pacific coast and then going to the Atlantic seaboard. He is looking in splendid health and has enjoyed his vacation, but is glad to get back to Raton's dry and invigorating atmosphere.

The Northern New Mexico Crude Oil company, organized wholly by home people, will file its articles of incorporation the first of July. This company controls a large amount of land in the oil belt, and will sell a limited amount of stock for development purposes. Among other tracts of land held by the company is the Bell ranch, which adjoins the land where the first well of the Raton oil development company will be sunk.

C. R. Van Houten arrived in the city recently, and returned to Carrizozo, his 20,000 acre ranch in Ponil Park, Saturday. He says grass and water are abundant, that the cattle are accumulating flesh rapidly, and that his crops of oats, timothy and millet are looking fine. He recently moved 250 to 300 head of cattle to the Moreno valley near Elizabethtown, for summer grazing, in order to give his range a rest. Mr. Van Houten has one of the finest cattle ranches in the county and which he has a commodious home fitted up elegantly and for comfort. He has a good sized library, keeps well supplied with choice cigars, and, being a lover of good literature, as well as of good tobacco, he gets about as much real enjoyment out of living as any man in the country.

From the Gazette.

D. B. Merry has some splendid specimens of oil bearing rock taken from oil fields near town. Oil will drop from these specimens when broken apart.

Harry Roseberry and Mr. Smyre went down to Las Vegas to attend the nuptials of Miss Emma Dunn and A. G. Adams, which took place at Rockada.

Hugh Fletcher returned home from Maxwell City, where he had been the past two months in the employ of the William Van Bruggen Mercantile company.

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. McClure, of Crawfordville, Ind., relatives of Mrs. Geo. J. Pace arrived. They came for Mr. McClure's health and will remain for several months.

Mrs. W. H. Mogg and Miss Mogg, will leave in a few days for the east. They will first go to Chicago for a visit to relatives and friends. From Chicago they join Mr. Mogg in Wisconsin where he has taken up a permanent residence.

B. F. Troy, of Central, Kas., is here visiting the Troy brothers. He is an old soldier, enlisting in the Union army in 1861, and was wounded at Champion hills, on May 16, 1863, losing both of his feet. He is happy and cheerful and enjoys himself with the many friends he meets both here and elsewhere.

Miss Emma Rachman, of Berlin Germany, arrived here this week on a visit to her sister, Mrs. S. I. Andrusky. She will remain here about a week and then leave for Monroeville, Colo., where she will visit with another sister, Miss Rachman is a beautiful and accomplished young lady of 17 summers, and possessed of all the freshness of her native country. She seems disappointed with Raton, as she expected to see a city as lively as Berlin.

INDIAN SCHOOL NOTES.

School Closed—Progress Made—Improvement—Short Recurrence.

Special Correspondence.

As we are privileged to chronicle the closing of this school provided by the government for the training of the Indian youths in the various industries of the American people and thus preparing the government wards for full citizenship.

The work of the year has been carried along on the various branches prescribed by the superintendent of Indian schools and special stress has been placed on the industrial side of their education.

The progress made along the various lines of work is plainly shown by the exhibit which has been prepared and sent to the National Educational association. This exhibit is expected back

NEW YORK GOSSIP.

People of That City Enjoy a Big Celebration.

LOW CHANGES PLAN.

New York, June 28.—It has been often said that the people of no city enjoy a celebration more than those of New York, and this statement is emphasized this year by the preparations that are now being made for Fourth of July. Second to the Independence Day celebration is the local importance of the annual Fourth of July celebration of the Tammany society, for which invitations were sent in red, white and blue have already been sent out. The efforts of Tammany to rehabilitate the machine have been evident for many days, but in no case more notably than in the invitation to Croker's arch enemy, W. Burke Cochrane, to deliver the Independence Day oration before the Wigwam. A large number of prominent politicians of national and local repute will be in attendance and the occasion is designed to be of exceptional significance and extended effect.

Another celebration of peculiar historic interest takes place in this state next month, on the 16th. This will be the dedication of the Stony Point battlefield, famous for "Mad" Anthony Wayne's great exploit. The celebration will no doubt be largely attended by veterans. Judge S. W. Pennypacker, recently nominated as candidate for governor of Pennsylvania, will deliver the oration.

The soft coal nuisance has become a serious one in New York city and the health board is exerting all its energies to suppress it. The operation of the elevated and surface steam railroads and the factories can not be stopped because there is no hard coal to be had, and because the soft coal makes an objectionable smoke. Never has the city looked worse than now, with the streets torn up and the chimneys belching forth black smoke. Ambassador Porter to France, upon his recent arrival in this country, said that when he left New York some years ago, it looked like a considerable village; now it looks like a western mining city. Nothing could have expressed New York's condition more fitly, but the nuisance will have to be borne a while, for as long as the anthracite strike continues it is difficult to see how much can be done in that direction.

July Fourth marks an important change in the affairs of Mayor Low's administration, for he has announced that after that date he would take the public into his confidence through the newspapers. Beginning July 10, he will talk to the reporters once a week to the extent of half a column, taking up the different departments of the city government in turn and telling the public from week to week what they are doing and planning. If this scheme works successfully, Mr. Low promises to talk twice a week, once to the afternoon, and once to the morning papers.

The recent formal opening of the Tilden club's fine new home at which exercises ex-President Cleveland made his much-discussed speech, marks the entry into national politics of a new and important democratic factor. In the new organization are democrats of large influence and of large means who believe that the party should be brought back to its old moorings and who hope to accomplish much in that direction through the forming of the Tilden club.

The gaieties of Saratoga, it now would seem, are likely to be extended beyond the racing season during the month of August this year, for it is pretty well settled that the republican state convention will be held there on or about September 23. Many democratic leaders are also in favor of selecting Saratoga as the place for their convention. The arguments advanced in favor of the famous Spa as a convention town are that it is accessible from all parts of the state; that the hotel accommodations are good; that the delegates and their friends are grouped together and not scattered over a large area, and that it is a mighty pleasant place to visit.

The latest gossip about Tammany is that the present triumvirate will go out of the business before or soon after the September primaries, and that men formerly active in the organization, but long in the background, like Hugh J. Grant and Henry D. Purroy, will come to the front again, and a new leader will develop who will have the confidence of these men.

Next Tuesday the pension system which the Metropolitan Street Railway company has long had in contemplation goes into effect. All men employed by any railway operated by the company whose annual wages do not exceed $1,200 a year, are included in the pension system. Employees who have reached the age of 70 years are eligible for retirement, as are those between 65 and 69 who have been in the service of the company continuously for twenty-five years and who are physically unable to work. Men who have served thirty-five years will get 40 per cent of their wages and 25 per cent will be paid where they have worked for the company for twenty-five years.

The local board of the Bowling Green district has passed resolutions recommending the purchase of Francke's tavern, once the headquarters of General Washington, at Pearl and Broad streets. The price for the tavern and half of the block to make a small park, is estimated by the engineer of the board of estimate at $370,000. The various patriotic societies in the city have been working for this purchase for several years, but received no assurance of success until now.

Among the many curiosities of the city of New York, are several freak buildings. For instance there is the Spite house at Eighty-second street and Lexington avenue, only five feet wide, yet four stories high and done in brick and brown stone; then there is the "midget" book store which is about eight feet high, about ten long and scarcely three feet wide in some

Is often only a symptom of dyspepsia. In dyspepsia there is a loss of nutrition which is felt by brain as well as body; the mind grows morbid as the body loses vigor.

Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and associated organs of digestion and nutrition. It enables the proper nutrition of the body and restores mental cheerfulness as well as physical strength.

"For about two years I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia," writes R. E. Secord, Esq., of 13 Eastern Ave., Toronto, Ontario. "I have tried a great number of remedies without success. I finally lost faith in them all. I was so far gone that I could not bear any solid food on my stomach for a long time; felt melancholy and depressed. Could not sleep and follow my occupation. Some four months ago a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After a week's treatment I had derived so much benefit that I continued the medicine. I have taken three bottles and am convinced it has in my case accomplished a permanent cure. I can conscientiously recommend it to the thousands of dyspeptics throughout the land."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood, and lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets stimulate the liver.

places, being triangular in shape, now plans for another freak building have just been filed. It is to be a "one-story brick stand" on a plot of ground having a frontage on Third avenue of only six inches and extending along One Hundred and Forty-ninth street only 14½ inches. J. Clarence Davies, to whom the plot belongs, proposes to provide vault privileges covering space 20 by 23 feet. His scheme is to erect a brick stand one story high up from the vault space the exact size of the tiny plot, on which will be a sign advertising the purposes for which the basement room will be used.

THE WORK GOES ON.

Albuquerque People Interested—It Has Much to Do With Our Welfare.

Never out of work.

That's the case with the kidneys. Twenty-four hours to the day is the time they put in.

They're equal to it when they're well. But they get sick.

Stooping positions of the body. Straining, a fall or over-exertion. Often makes the kidneys sick.

But the work must go on. They ask for help through the back. The back aches. It's kidney ache.

Doan's Kidney Pills are kidney help-ers.

The daily work goes on.

Mr. Jacob Wolfe, carpenter, of 1339 North Ninth street, Third ward, St. Louis, says: "When I first came to St. Louis there was not a bridge across the river, there was only a ferry. I helped to build the court house over forty years ago and worked on nearly all the old buildings in the city. There was not a railroad in St. Louis, so a word or two from me to my many friends and acquaintances should carry considerably more weight than if I lived, say in the New England states. Mrs. Wolfe and I have had more than one attack of backache. Mine was not remarkably severe but it was annoying. Noticing Doan's Kidney Pills advertised in a paper I got a supply and Mrs. Wolfe and I commenced the treatment. If it had not performed absolutely what I promised, if the action of the pills were not a long way ahead of anything we ever before used, I would be the last resident in St. Louis to publicly recommend them."

How Irrigation Law Operates

The following is the full text of the new irrigation measure as passed by congress last week:

Be it enacted by the senate and house of representatives of the United States of America in congress assembled, That all moneys received from the sale and disposal of public lands in Arizona, California, Colorado, Idaho, Kansas, Montana, Nebraska, Nevada, New Mexico, North Dakota, Oklahoma, Oregon, South Dakota, Utah, Washington, and Wyoming, beginning with the fiscal year ending June 30, 1901, including the surplus of fees and commissions in excess of allowances to registers and receivers, and excepting the 5 per centum of the proceeds of the sales of public lands in the above states set aside by law for educational and other purposes, shall be, and the same are hereby, reserved, set aside, and appropriated as a special fund in the treasury to be known as the "reclamation fund," to be used in the examination and survey for and the construction and maintenance of irrigation works for the storage, diversion, and development of waters for the reclamation of arid and semi-arid lands in the said states and territories, and for the payment of all other expenditures provided for in this act:

Provided, That in case the receipts from the sale and disposal of lands referred to in this section are insufficient to meet the requirements for the support of agricultural colleges in the several states and territories, under the act of August 30, 1890, entitled "An act to apply a portion of the proceeds of the public lands to the more complete endowment and support of the colleges for the benefit of agriculture and the mechanic arts, established under the provisions of an act of congress approved July 2, 1862," the deficiency, if any, in the sum necessary for the support of the said colleges shall be provided for from any moneys in the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

Beginning of Work.

Section 2. That the secretary of the interior is hereby authorized and directed to make examinations and surveys for, and to locate and construct, as herein provided, irrigation works for the storage, diversion, and development of waters, including artesian wells, and to report to congress at the beginning of each regular session as to the results of such examinations and surveys, giving estimates of cost of all contemplated works, which can be irrigated therefrom, and all facts relative to the practicability of each irrigation project; also the cost of works in process of construction as well as of those which have been completed.

Sec. 3. That the secretary of the interior shall, before giving the public notice provided for in section 4 of this act, withdraw from public entry the lands required for any irrigation works contemplated under the provisions of this act, and shall restore to public entry any of the lands so withdrawn when, in his judgment, such lands are not required for the purposes of this act; and the secretary of the interior is hereby authorized, at or immediately prior to the time of beginning the surveys for any contemplated irrigation works, to withdraw from entry, except under the homestead laws, any public lands believed to be susceptible of irrigation from said works. Provided, That all lands entered and entries made under the homestead laws within areas so withdrawn during such withdrawal shall be subject to all the provisions, limitations, charges, terms, and conditions of this act; that said surveys shall be prosecuted diligently to completion, and upon the completion thereof, and of the necessary maps, plans, and estimates of cost, the secretary of the interior shall determine whether or not said project is practicable and advisable, and if determined to be impracticable or unadvisable he shall thereupon restore said lands to entry; that public lands which it is proposed to irrigate by means of any contemplated works shall be subject to entry only under the provisions of the homestead laws in tracts of not less than 40 nor more than 160 acres, and shall be subject to the limitations, charges, terms, and conditions herein provided. Provided, That the commutation provisions of the homestead laws shall not apply to entries made under this act.

Letting of Contracts, Etc.

Sec. 4. That upon the determination by the secretary of the interior that any irrigation project is practicable, he may cause to be let contracts for the construction of the same, in such portions or sections as it may be practicable to construct and complete as parts of the whole project; providing the necessary funds for such portions or sections are available in the reclamation fund, and thereupon he shall give notice of the lands irritable under such project, and limit of area per entry, which limit shall represent the acreage which, in the opinion of the secretary, may be reasonably required for the support of a family upon the lands in question; also of the charges which shall be made per acre upon the said entries, and upon lands in private ownership which may be irrigated by the waters of the said irrigation project, and the number of annual installments, not exceeding 10, in which such charges shall be paid and the time when such payments shall commence. The said charges shall be determined with a view of returning to the reclamation fund the estimated cost of construction of the project, and shall be apportioned equitably. Provided, That in all construction work eight hours shall constitute a day's work, and no Mongolian labor shall be employed thereon.

Duties of the Entryman.

Sec. 5. That the entryman upon lands to be irrigated by such works shall, in addition to compliance with the homestead laws, reclaim at least one-half of the total irrigable area of his entry for agricultural purposes, and before receiving patent for the lands covered by his entry shall pay to the government such tract, as provided in section 4. No right to the use of water for land in private ownership shall be sold for a tract exceeding 160 acres to any one landowner, and no such sale shall be made to any landowner unless he be an actual bona fide resident on such land, or occupant thereof residing in the neighborhood of said land, and no such right shall permanently attach until all payments thereon are made. The annual installments shall be paid to the receiver of the local land office of the district in which the land is situated, and a failure to make any two payments when due shall render the entry subject to cancellation, with the forfeiture of all rights under this act, as well as of any moneys already paid thereon. All moneys received from the above sources shall be paid into the reclamation fund. Registers and receivers shall be allowed the usual commissions on all moneys paid for lands entered under this act.

Sec. 6. That the secretary of the interior is hereby authorized and directed to use the reclamation fund for the operation and maintenance of all reservoirs and irrigation works constructed under the provisions of this act. Provided, That when the payments required by this act are made for the major portion of the lands irrigated from the waters of any of the works herein provided for, then the management and operation of such irrigation works shall pass to the owners of the lands irrigated thereby, to be maintained at their expense under such form of organization and under such rules and regulations as may be acceptable to the secretary of the interior. Provided, That the title to and the management and operation of the reservoirs and the works necessary for their protection and operation shall remain in the government until otherwise provided by congress.

Duties of the Attorney General.

Sec. 7. That where in carrying out the provisions of this act it becomes necessary to acquire any rights or property, the secretary of the interior is hereby authorized to acquire the same for the United States by purchase or by condemnation under judicial process, and to pay from the reclamation fund the sums which may be needed for that purpose, and it shall be the duty of the attorney general of the United States upon every application of the secretary of the interior, under this act, to cause proceedings to be commenced for condemnation within thirty days from the receipt of the application at the department of justice.

Sec. 8. That nothing in this act shall be construed as affecting or intended to affect or to in any way interfere with the laws of any state or territory relating to the control, appropriation, use, or distribution of water used in irrigation, or any vested right acquired thereunder, and the secretary of the interior, in carrying out the provisions of this act, shall proceed in conformity with such laws, and nothing herein shall in any way affect any right of any state or of the federal government or of any land owner, appropriator, or user of water in, to, or from any interstate stream or the waters thereof. Provided, That the right to the use of water acquired under the provisions of this act shall be appurtenant to the land irrigated, and beneficial use shall be the basis, the measure, and the limit of the right.

Apportionment of Funds.

Sec. 9. That it is hereby declared to be the duty of the secretary of the interior in carrying out the provisions of this act, so far as the same may be practicable and subject to the existence of feasible irrigation projects, to expend the major portion of the funds derived from the sale of public lands within each state and territory hereinafter named for the benefit of arid and semi-arid lands within the limits of such state or territory. Provided, That the secretary may temporarily use such portion of said funds for the benefit of arid or semi-arid lands in any particular state or territory hereinafter named as he may deem advisable, but when so used the excess shall be restored to the fund as soon as practicable, to the end that ultimately, and in any event, within each ten-year period after the passage of this act, the expenditures for the benefit of the said states or territories shall be equalized according to the proportions and subject to the conditions as to practicability and feasibility aforesaid.

Sec. 10. That the secretary of the interior is hereby authorized to perform any and all acts and to make such rules and regulations as may be necessary and proper for the purpose of carrying the provisions of this act into full force and effect.

DID NOT CUT LEG OFF.

Heavy Car Ran Over a Man and Only Fractured His Thigh.

Dr. M. M. Crocker, the Southern Pacific physician and surgeon at Lordsburg, is in El Paso, having brought a patient to St. Luke's hospital last night, and he gives the account of a strange incident that came under his jurisdiction a short time ago, says the News.

The peculiar feature of the affair was that a heavy flat car ran over the man's leg and did not mash it off.

Fred. Peel, an old timer, undertook to crawl beneath a car at Lordsburg. The car was in a train a d he wanted to get across the track. When it stopped he made a hurried attempt to crawl across underneath. He started just as the train stopped and he started side the slacking of the train caused the car to roll backwards just far enough to run over his leg above the knee.

Dr. Crocker was called to attend the injured man and he found that the weight of the car had only fractured the thigh bone and bruised the flesh some, but that amputation was not necessary. He had Peel taken to the county hospital at Silver City, where he is rapidly recovering and will not suffer any permanent bad results from his injury.

Dr. Crocker says it is the only case he has ever heard of where a railroad car passed over a man's limb without crushing it off, and does not undertake to explain why it so happened this time.

The patient Dr. Crocker brought last night is Mrs. O. A. Simpson, wife of a Lordsburg business man. Dr. Horsley, of St. Luke's hospital, is in New York, but is expected home next Sunday.

No Substitute Wanted.

No! I did not ask for a bottle any cheaper, or twice as large, or one made by yourselves. I did ask for and will have no substitute for Perry Davis' Painkiller; I have used it, my father used it and I would not be surprised if my grandparents did so too; there is no limitation that can equal it. That I am sure of—for stomach ache.

TRYING TO FIND F. M. FARRAR

Relatives of the Missing Man Telegraph to El Paso Chief of Police.

The finding of the corpse of a murdered man near Santa Rosa, N. M., has led the relatives of F. M. Farrar to make diligent inquiry in an effort to ascertain if the body is not that of the missing drummer, says the El Paso News.

Farrar was traveling representative for a Los Angeles salt company, but had relatives in New Orleans. As has already been related he disappeared from Bisbee May 6, after heavy losses at gambling in that town. Since his disappearance detectives have hunted for him in El Paso and other western cities without avail.

When news of the finding of the decomposed remains of a man at Santa Rosa got abroad the relatives of the missing man naturally supposed that it was he who had been murdered or had committed suicide. They were not slow to investigate.

Last evening the chief of police of El Paso received a telegram from one of the relatives of the missing man as follows:

New Orleans, La., June 24.

Chief of Police, El Paso: What evidence have you that the body found near Santa Rosa was that of Field M. Farrar? Wire fully at my expense.

EDGAR H. FARRAR.

The chief replied that he had no evidence except such as had been published in the newspapers.

MANY TRIMMINGS.

This Summer's Fashionable Girl Gives Them Much Attention.

COATS FOR PROTECTION.

New York, June 28.—To the keen observer who has been watching the fashionable girl in her struggles to appear ever original and chic nothing has been more evident than the attention which she pays to the various little accessories which lend elegance to the ensemble.

Trimnings and furbelows are indispensable to the ultra-stylish summer gown, not only because they impart airiness and substantiality to the diaphanous textiles which are now the rage, but because they are necessary to carry out the idea of bewildering confusion which the well-dressed woman affects.

Among the materials which enjoy exceptional favor is batiste. Certainly no fabric is capable of greater variety of treatment, for besides the deliciously cool gowns which the material is used to develop, it is one of the leading textiles forming the basis of embroidered trimmings.

Batiste gowns with trimmings of taffeta, pale blue, white or yellow, are very attractive this year and while not absolutely new, they are decidedly original. One very dainty model has a wide circular flounce and bias bands on the waist of pale blue taffeta. The skirt is trimmed with straps of lace applique, which are continued down on the silk flounce, and on the waist the silk bands are partly covered with the lace figures.

Entire gowns of embroidered batiste are the very quintessence of fashion, and irreproachable—extravagance. These are suited to almost any purse because they can be obtained in the cotton batiste embroidered by machine in close imitation of handwork, or in silk batiste with genuine hand embroidery.

For more general wear nothing excels in smartness the shirt waist suit. In madras, lawn or pique this costume is very desirable for its absolute comfort as well as daintiness. Both skirt and waist are made plain except for the decoration that tucks or plaits lend, there seldom being any trimming of any description applied to the material. A few exceptional cases is shirt waist dresses of dotted foulard have applied bands of taffeta in contrasting color, but the smartest designs are limited to the dress material for ornamentation.

A volume might be written upon tucks and yet the full story of their glory remained untold, for never were they used so plentifully as this year. They are seen in every width and combined with accordion, side and box plaatings, form the garnitures which dominate on gowns now being made ready for morning, afternoon and evening.

It may be well to mention the fact that undersleeves are constantly taking on larger dimensions. Sleeve designers have taxed their ingenuity to the utmost to produce great variety. It is not alone dress sleeves which are queer and varied, but every other kind of sleeve, in tea gowns, dressing gowns, and even summer wraps.

No matter how warm the day it is nothing unusual to see in the streets of Gotham a long, loose coat of taffeta or lace. Sometimes it is developed in pinks. There is really no warmth to the coat, and nothing protects the gown so well when one runs in town for a day's shopping. The lace coat has given the little tuckered Eton a secondary place in the general estimation of ultra-smart women, but anyone who owns a good taffeta coat, and who wishes to bring it into line with the prevailing style, must freshly face its revers with tea-colored lace and hang a couple of little leaf-shaped tails to its rear waist line on postillion.

The heel-long black glaze skirt is meant for street wear, and it is rather coquettishly finished about the shoulders with highwayman capes, piped on their edges with white or a line of color. These take the place of the cloth Hurlingham and Hempstead coats so popular a season ago, with the difference that the present design has prodigious folded falling cuffs.

A novelty has appeared in shirt waists that promises to be more than a passing fad. It is the towel shirt waist. The finest linen towels with borders of blue, brown and red are used for the waists, the borders being used for the fronts and cuffs, and for the ends of the tie.

Pretty little cape things, something between a fichu and a cape are made of spotted muslin, with a frill of lace edging all around the edges. Fuchsia of point d'esprit, finished with frills of the same material are worn with muslin gowns as a finish for the bodice rather than an additional wrap. With the flower-wreathed Leghorn hats they are charming, the ends being tied at the back in a sash.

Nothing is so smart as pongee lingerie. This is embroidered and trimmed with dead white lace, which form an odd but pleasing contrast to the dust color of the silk.

As for hosiery there is no limit to the variety in the ways of trimming and making these feminine belongings. Imagine a woman's wearing half hose, yet nothing is so smart. They come in silk and exquisite lace, embroidered, hand-painted and applique with lace. Designs for evening carried out in white silk have applications both of lace and pearls, the latter being used to outline the patterns of the former.

Frocks of voile and etamine are termed by many the solution of the problem "wherewith shall we be clothed" for the hot and dusty summer days, and it would seem that this argument is fully justified by the number of frocks in these materials now displayed in fashionable shops and observed upon modish thoroughfares. A blouse costume on voile is very simple, yet boasts a winsomeness partly accounted for by a dainty collar of Irish guipure and other natty materials of stitching and drapery.

All the other sheer materials vie with voile and etamine in favor, as soft filmy effects are necessary to carry out the schemes of fashion.

Mexican drawn work which up to the present has been associated with dollies, pillow hems and handkerchiefs is now seen on quite a number of fine waists, but there is some doubt as to its growing popularity on account of its expensiveness and fragility. It seldom looks well after washing, for the threads cling together and loose, the separate effect, which in spite of the intricacy of design, is one of the distinguished features of this kind of trimming.

Gotham is enjoying two or three fads just now which are attributed to the beautiful daughter of our chief executive. The Alice Roosevelt choux is affected by all smart women; it is simple and unassuming, yet very dressy. It consists simply of many ruchings of tulle formed into a nock and placed at the left side of the neck.

Then there is the Alice Roosevelt came carried by many modish summer women on their daily constitutional.

STORM AT CARLSBAD.

Rain and Hail Storm Does Great Damage to Alfalfa Farms.

Pete Westwater, a mining man from Colorado, who is at present making his home in the Guadalupe mountains, in the eastern part of this county, arrived at El Paso from Carlsbad, N. M., and is a guest at the Hotel Zeiger, says the News.

Mr. Westwater says that just before his departure from Carlsbad that section was visited by a terrible rain and hail storm. He said:

"On my trip down from the Guadalupe, as I neared the town of Carlsbad, the storm came up. It passed over a stretch of country over a mile in width, and brought destruction wherever it fell. The heaviest portion of the storm's violence was felt in what is known as Rocky Arroyo, a creek about seventeen miles from Carlsbad, which is bordered by large alfalfa farms and meadows. These were covered in some places to a depth of two feet with the hail stones, which fell as large as pigeon's eggs.

"There was considerable loss to crops from their being beaten down by the storm, and several head of stock suffered severely from the beating they received. Near the town, at the standpoint, there were several shacks blown over and some houses unroofed. It was probably the most violent storm that has been felt in that locality for years. No persons were hurt, but several had narrow escapes from falling timber."

Spring Fever.

Spring fever is another name for biliousness. It is more serious than most people think. A torpid liver and inactive bowels mean a poisoned system. If neglected, serious illness may follow such symptoms. DeWitt's Little Early Risers remove all danger by stimulating the liver, opening the bowels and cleansing the system of impurities. safe pills. Never gripe. "I have taken DeWitt's Little Early Risers for torpid liver every spring for years," writes R. M. Every, Moundsville, W. Va. "They do me more good than anything I have ever tried." J. H. ARIZONA TOWNS

HOLBROOK.

From the Argus.
Julius Wetzler and Mrs. Fred Wetzler left for Los Angeles.
Dr. E. G. Decker, of Winslow, conducted services here Wednesday evening.

Wm. Scorse is down from Show Low, and says he is contemplating a trip across the Atlantic.

Judge F. J. Watron returned from Los Angeles. He reports his family well except the two little girls, who are having a time with the whooping cough.

J. I. Driscoll, postoffice inspector, was here Wednesday. He informed us that Arizona had been placed in the Denver district, and that he would be transferred to California July 1.

Mrs. J. T. Lescure and sons, Charles and Walter, of St. Johns, left for Denver, on an extended visit to relatives. J. T. Lescure, who drove them down, returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dr. W. M. Rudd and three daughters came down from Flagstaff, where they had been attending the commencement exercises at the normal, and left for their home at Springville. Miss Virgie was a graduate this year and the other two will attend another year.

No need to fear sudden attacks of cholera infantum, dysentery, diarrhoea or summer complaint, if you have Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry in the medicine chest.

WINSLOW.

From the Mail.
Creswell Bros. are busy cutting their crop of alfalfa, and expect to harvest about 100 tons.

Fred French has finished cutting his crop of hay and he expects the yield to reach something like 300 tons.

The La Prade ranch of 320 acres promises to yield an immense crop of hay at the first harvest this season.

Measrs. Noble & Blye have shipped ten cars of sheep, 2,500 in all, to Kansas City markets. Mr. Noble accompanied them to their destination.

Merritt Thomas, who has been doing the mechanical work on the Mail, left for Denver. P. A. Skinner, of Albuquerque, has succeeded him.

E. A. Sawyer and E. J. Wolff, two prominent business men of this place, have returned from their sheep ranch and report that water on the ranges is becoming very scarce, and if rain does not fall shortly grass as well as water will not be as plentiful as it should be, but up to the present time all kinds of stock are doing nicely.

J. H. O'Reilly and C. W. Medler, of Albuquerque, representing the Washington Life Insurance company, were here this week. They did considerable insurance business and used their spare time talking up the territorial fair, to be held October 14 to 18. It is understood that arrangements will be made to have pay day come three or four days earlier to give the people from here a chance to attend.

KINGMAN.

From the Miner.
Wesley Frazer and family passed through Kingman on their way from Chloride to Prescott, near which place Mr. Frazer will have a position with a mining company.

Mrs. Joseph Prisk came over from Chloride to meet her daughter, Mrs. Ellen Gecman, who was about to depart for California. Mrs. Gecman and husband have gone to Los Angeles, where they will reside in future.

Kingman school trustees have engaged the services of Miss Sarah Finley and Mrs. M. B. Eggers for the forthcoming term of school. These teachers gave excellent satisfaction last year and the trustees did the right thing in retaining their services.

Harry Williams, the genial manager of the Postal Telegraph company at this place, who has been ill for the past two months with an attack of rheumatism, returned home from California. He has improved very much and his many friends in Kingman are correspondingly pleased.

The people of Chloride have raised a large amount of money which will be used in the proper celebration of the nation's natal day. A program has been made up and committees appointed to see that every thing is carried out to the letter. Posters are hung in every business house in Kingman and in fact all along the line of the railroad, advertising the events. The main thing of interest is the gun club shoot at which will participate Needles, Manvel, Kingman and Chloride gun clubs. Needles club now holds the trophy, but Chloride hopes to take it at this meet.

From the News.
P. G. Champagne, since the consolidation of the Denno and De Mund Lumber companies, is now located at Main—a change of base from Chandler.

Miss Susie H., daughter of Justice and Mrs. Joseph Johnston, who has been attending school at Albuquerque during the past winter, returned home for the summer vacation.

County Assessor J. H. Lind has paid to County Treasurer George Hoxworth for the present year the sum of $14,414.77 taxes collected on real and personal property; also the sum of $1,892.50 on poll taxes collected.

Mart Little visited in Prescott on business relative to his mining claims south of Peach Springs. The property consists of two groups of five claims each and the parties who took a year's bond will shortly commence work.

Nine young men who claim to be the Williams ball team went down to Winslow and got skinned to the tune of 26 to 7. Better practice a little more, boys, before making another trip from home and before you can be recognized as the Williams base ball team.

Every voter in Williams must be newly registered prior to voting at the next election. The fact that a voter was registered for the last previous election cuts no figure. A new law, now in effect, requires the voter to register every two years.

August Lindstrom and daughter, Leona, arrived from Los Angeles. The young lady has been attending the Southern California University during the winter. Amos, who has also been in Los Angeles for the past five months, receiving eye treatment, will probably not return for a month yet, as his sight is still in a precarious condition.

During the summer kidney irregularities are often caused by excessive drinking or being overheated. Attend to the kidneys at once by using Foley's Kidney Cure. Alvarado Pharmacy.

FLAGSTAFF.

From the Sun.
County Recorder Hibben reports 583 voters have registered to date. Of this number 424 register from Flagstaff and 159 from Williams precinct.

Wm. B. Kent, an expert forester, recently head ranger on the Black Hills forest reserve, has been transferred to Arizona as head ranger under Supervisor P. S. Breen.

E. S. Clark has formed a co-partnership with T. C. Jobs, of Prescott. Mr. Clark will live in Prescott and left Thursday for that place, and his family will join him next week.

Spice Holder, a sheepman of Tonto Basin, was here. He was one of the sheep owners who was indicted at the recent term of the United States district court at Prescott for trespass on the forest reserve. He gave bond for his appearance at the next term of court.

J. H. O'Reilly, general manager of the Washington Life Insurance company for New Mexico and Arizona with headquarters at Albuquerque, was in town. Mr. O'Reilly is also president of the Albuquerque fair, and is incidentally booming the big fair to be held in that city from October 14 to 18.

W. F. Dermont, manager of the Saginaw & Manistee Lumber company, and Wm. Weute, one of the directors of the company, from Saginaw, Mich., were in town. They paid the taxes of the Saginaw-Manistee Lumber company, at a valuation of $2.50 per acre, amounting to $11,800. They made no objection to the rate and believed it to be a fair one as between the county and the company.

Seven years ago Godfrey Sykes sent to the London Graphic a sketch and a short narrative of the Moqui snake dance. The sketch was accepted and paid for at the time of its receipt. The January number of the Graphic contained a half page sketch and the descriptive article, and recently Mr. Sykes received the amount of shillings allowed for the latter. He is of the opinion that English publishers are just a little slow.

From the Gem.
J. E. Jones was appointed administrator of the estate of Lon Hill, deceased.

The registration of voters this year will be as large as usual, if not larger than any previous registration since the organization of the county.

Gus Reimer sold his entire bands of sheep, ranches, etc., to Campbell & Francis. Mr. Reimer has been in the sheep business for quite a number of years.

The reception at the normal school was a complete success in every sense of the word. Nearly every citizen of Flagstaff was present, as well as many from abroad. The program of music and recitations was good and the refreshments were excellent.

The entries in the base ball games at the Albuquerque fair this year are open to the world. That lets the Flagstaff team in and as a purse of $1,500 is given, why not our boys contest for it.

Cocino will be a first class county as soon as the assessment for the present year is equalized. The assessment as it now stands foots up $4,527,438.66. An equalized assessment of $3,900,000 would place it in the list of first class counties.

We sell the greatest of blood purifiers, Acker's Blood Elixer, under a positive guarantee. It will cure chronic and other blood poisons. What to Print.
A writer in the American Press contributes a very able paper on "Yellow Journalism," and winds up with the following paragraph which The Citizen considers a very precise, concise statement of what every newspaper should aim to do:

"What should and should not be printed? Print all the news fit to be printed; print the truth without fear, favor or affection; print pure, clean and wholesome matter; print fresh ideas, progressive thoughts and reliable information; print the opinions of the editor, fearlessly expressed. 'Print nothing false, loud or immodest; print nothing mean, low or slanderous; print nothing vile, malicious or blasphemous; print nothing for which you are not willing to become responsible; print nothing personally offensive, as paid matter or otherwise; print nothing that you would be ashamed to read at your own fireside. 'Print what you believe to be right regardless of consequences; print nothing you know to be wrong under any conditions.

'Lay down your policy, have opinions of your own and the courage to maintain them at any cost. Such a course must commend itself to the public, and he who pursues it will have the sweet consciousness of having been just to himself, his country and his God.'

Cholera Morbus a Dangerous Disease.
In many instances attacks of cholera morbus terminate fatally before medicine can be procured or a physician summoned. The safe way is to keep at hand a reliable medicine for use in such cases. For this purpose there is nothing so sure as Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. W. E. Bosworth, of Lafayette, Ala., says: 'In June, 1900, I had a serious attack of cholera morbus, and one dose of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy gave me relief in fifteen minutes.' Two troops of infantry were once ordered from Fort Wingate, N. M., to scout in the direction of the Arizona line, entering that territory if necessary in search of some Indians who had been reported by ranchers as being off their reservation without leave. The orders were not particularly binding—simply to scout in such direction as the battalion commander saw fit and gather information from the settlers that might prove useful at district headquarters, says the Denver Field and Farm in its 'Frontier Sketches.' Captain Wilson recalls the incidents of the trip as follows: 'After we had been out some days and had left New Mexico, we struck a beautiful camp in the pine woods after a long march of thirty miles through the dust and heat of an Arizona day. The men and horses were completely tired out and there was general exclamation of delight and surprise when we reached this place and the order to unsaddle was given.

'Tents were pitched, horses fed, watered and lariat out to get such grass as they could find and then began that pleasant part of field life—getting supper. Coffee, bacon and hardtack does not sound very tempting, but when one has been in the saddle since sun-up and only a few hardtack and lukewarm water have constituted the entire dinner, the coffee and bacon seem like dainties. When the sun had gone to rest behind the hills and the large, bright moon came smiling through the skies, groups of men sat around the campfires, smoking and telling stories.

'Later on the fires smoldered and died out and the regular, steady tramp of the sentinel and now and then the neigh or whinny of some troop horse, were the only sounds that broke the deep, solemn silence. I was sergeant of the main guard that night and I think it was about half-past one or two that the sentinel suddenly called out: 'Who comes there?' and the next moment a wild-eyed boy of 19 came dashing toward the tent on horseback. The Indians! The Indians! was all he could say. A few moments later he was in the presence of our commanding officer and told him that the Indians had attacked a surveyor's camp to which he belonged, ten miles away. Horses were saddled in an incredibly short time and we were on the road.

'When a faint suspicion of dawn was seen off in the east, it was evident from the actions of our guide that we were approaching the camp. Presently the command halted and the major had an earnest conversation with his adjutant. Then we turned sharply to the left toward a little patch of timber, and after riding about 200 yards in the new direction, the tents of the surveyor's camp were plainly in sight. The horses were tied to the wagon at the rear of one of the tents and there were no signs of disorder or pillage. A few men dismounted and led by one of the lieutenants advanced slowly and cautiously toward the nearest tent. The lieutenant held up his hands and we all advanced expecting to see mangled and mutilated bodies, but instead we beheld four healthy-looking young men asleep. The noise awoke the occupants and after a hearty laugh they confessed that the scare had been gotten up solely to frighten the tenderfoot guide, who had been a regular Fallstaff in boasting.'

Want a County.
The Progress has since its beginning advocated a new county for north-eastern New Mexico, with Portales as the county seat, and now we are being assisted on every hand and there is no doubt now if we go to work in the right way we will have it at the hands of the coming meeting of the legislature. We must petition the legislature to form a new county by taking a strip forty-five miles from north to south and sixty miles from east to west from Chaves county and a strip fifteen miles wide from north to south and sixty miles from east to west out of the southeastern corner of Gadsden county and have Portales as the county seat. It seems at present as though the good people of Roswell realize the inconvenience we are at and are willing to sign a petition aiding us in the important move. We want a new county and need it and must go to work to gain that point.—Portales Progress.

STOCK NOTES

Calvin M. Houston sold his ranch on Long Arroyo last week to a Mr. Robb of Carlsbad for $2,200.

J. F. Havenkamp of Fort Worth, Tex., sold nine Shorthorn cows recently for the nice little sum of $2,700.

Col. W. T. McIntire secretary of the American Angora Goat Breeders' association has established a 100 milk goat dairy at Kansas City.

Over 61,000 head of mutton sheep had been shipped from San Angelo up to May 31. About 100,000 head, it is claimed, will be shipped during the season.

The Live Stock Inspector says: For about a week or ten days before killing, the feed of the poultry should be confined to grain so as to improve the flavor of the meat.

George Slaughter, of the Slaughter ranch at Roswell, recently sold 4,000 2s to J. M. Boardman, the Montana buyer who bought the 5200 HAT steers. They were shipped to Montana pastures.

R. L. Owens, of Hope, was at Roswell. He recently bought 9,000 weathers of Spence brothers, of Lincoln county, and also a ranch, with a well on it. He expects to make his home at White Oaks.

J. W. Stockard, one of the proprietors of the Grand Central hotel, Roswell, bought fifty head of thoroughbred cows and calves from the L F D stock farm, and sent them out to his ranch. Consideration, $45 per head.

Young chickens should not be given any food until they are twenty-four hours old. Never feed them raw corn meal under the age of two weeks. The best food when very young is stale light bread soaked in milk and squeezed dry and crumbled.

J. D. Cooley, manager for the Cass Land & Cattle company was at Roswell the other day. He said a heavy hail storm on the Wylie arroyo last Monday night killed 200 sheep for Walter Long and crippled 100 more, that would probably die.

About 1,800 head of cattle were shipped out of Otero county last week and 2,500 head from the Sacramento ranges altogether. The Nations-Newman Cattle company, of El Paso, were the buyers and the stock was shipped from Roswell to Wyoming.

I. S. Osborne has returned to Carlsbad from Kansas City, where he had been to market some fat steers. He reports striking rather a dull market, getting only $5 for his beef, but at that he has cleared a good profit on his feeding experiment. He will go into the business again next fall.

George Robertson recently delivered 2000 yearlings to the HAT ranch in Eddy county, driving them overland from the company's H ranch in Crosby county, Texas. They stood the trip in good shape and are intended to replace the recent heavy shipment of 2s and 3s from the HAT range.

The directors of the American Angora Cattle Breeders' association decided to participate in the American Royal cattle and swine show to be held in Kansas City October 20 to 27. The sum of $25,000 was appropriated for prizes to be distributed among six individual, four herd and group classes.

The most notable sales made at Carlsbad this spring are: 5,200 head of 2s and 3s by the HAT ranch to J. M. Boardman, of Glendive, Mon.; 3,500 2s and 3s, by S. T. Blitting to B. C. Ash, of Pierre, S. D.; 1,500 steers to Wyoming and Kansas parties. For 2s the price was $21.50 to $22; for 3s, $22.50 to $23.50.

Lampasas, Tex., is boasting of a big wool deal. W. P. Darby sold in one lot 400,000 pounds of wool at 16 cents a pound. Buyers seek that market for wool. They find the finest Merino wool. Wethers are bringing $3 a head and several train loads have recently been shipped from that point north, so says the Texas Stock Journal.

The American Hereford Breeders' association, soon to establish headquarters in Chicago, has a membership of nearly 2,000. Illinois leads with 239 members; Missouri 281; Kansas, 255; Iowa, 227; Texas, 118; Nebraska, 100. The remainder of the states and territories have less than 100. The aggregate wealth of the members of this association is said to be near $50,000,000.

C. C. Fidler, of Cresson, Tex., sold in Chicago, Texas cattle from below the quarantine line at $7. This is the highest price ever paid for straight Texas cattle. There were twenty head and they weighed 1,287 pounds. The cattle were put on feed last November on an allowance of five pounds of oil cake a day, and the feed was increased a little in March. They were well graded Shorthorns and Herefords.

The Roswell Record Says: Thomas J. Pridemore, range manager for the El Capitan Land & Cattle company, of Lincoln county, returned from Kansas City, where he sold to Conners brothers, all the two year old steers he can gather. He left Sunday for the range where he recently turned loose a large herd of steers in charge of line riders. The cattle was delivered June 25, on the Rock Island road. He expects to deliver from 2,500 to 3,000. As soon as he delivers the cattle, he will return to Roswell to buy some fine bulls.

All the cattle thus far shipped from Carlsbad, or passing through, have been 2s and 3s, with a slight sprinkling of aged steers. Scarcely any yearlings have been sold at Carlsbad, nor has there been any demand therefor. There are now, it is estimated, about 20,000 yearlings for sale in that vicinity. Well bred up for the most part and in good order, but there seems to be no market for them this season. Last year and the year preceding the demand was almost confined to yearlings, not only at Carlsbad, but in west Texas also, and the utter absence of calls for young stock, this season, is hard to account for.

A Gander Mother.
A duck, belonging to E. J. Fender, recently hatched out a brood of young ones which she soon tired of and deserted. The orphans, however, did not suffer for lack of care, because they were immediately adopted by a kind and benevolent gander, who attends to the wants of the young ducklings as kindly and considerately as any well regulated mother duck.—Sierra County Advocate.

How to Avoid Trouble.
Now is the time to provide yourself and family with a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. It is almost certain to be needed before the summer is over, and if procured now may save you a trip to town in the night or in your busiest season.

It is everywhere admitted to be the most successful medicine in use for bowel complaints, both for children and adults. No family can afford to be without it. For sale by all druggists.

TICKY CATTLE.

The Cattle Sanitary Board Notify Southern Ranchers.

Many of the cattlemen south of here have received a circular from J. A. LaRue secretary of the cattle sanitary board, containing a copy of the resolutions adopted by the board on the eleventh of this month, says the Lordsburg Liberal. The resolutions recite that the board has been notified by the secretary of agriculture that tick infection has been found on the cattle in southwestern Grant county.

Under the provisions of section 184 of the compiled laws the board establishes a temporary quarantine on all cattle south of the Southern Pacific tract in Grant and Luna counties, and no cattle in that territory shall be moved, driven, or shipped away until they have been inspected and found free from all evidence of infections or contagious diseases, and written permission for their removal issued by a duly authorized representative of the sanitary board. The secretary of the board has also notified the agents of the Southern Pacific and other roads not to receive for shipment any cattle which have not been so inspected.

The final resolution reads: 'Resolved, That Dr. L. J. Allen, of the Bureau of Animal Industry, be requested to, as soon as practicable, continue his investigations of the tick conditions in southwestern Grant county, New Mexico, and to report to this board the extent of the infection, if any, and what steps should be taken to stamp it out, and he is hereby made an authorized agent of this board.' The Liberal has interviewed several cattlemen owning cattle on the ranges south of here, and none of them have heard about any ticky cattle, which indicates the disease has not got much of a start as yet, and probably can be easily handled.

Read It in His Newspaper.
George Schaub, a well known German citizen of New Lebanon, Ohio, is a constant reader of the Dayton Volkszeitung. He knows that his paper aims to advertise only the best in its columns, and when he saw Chamberlain's Pain Balm advertised therein for lame back, he did not hesitate in buying a bottle of it for his wife, who for eight weeks had suffered with the most terrible pains in her back and could get no relief. He says: 'After using the Pain Balm for a few days my wife said to me, 'I feel as though born anew,' and before using the entire contents of the bottle the unbearable pains had entirely vanished and she could again take up her household duties.' He is very thankful and hopes that all suffering likewise will hear of her wonderful recovery. This valuable liniment is for sale by all druggists.'

Honey in a Bath Room.
A good story is told on the better half of a couple who went from the country to spend the honeymoon in a large city. One day the bride, finding that she needed to purchase a few small articles, left the young husband and hotel to go shopping. She returned shortly and made her way upstairs to the door she thought opened into her own room. Knocking gently at the door, she called affectionately: 'Honey, let me in.' No response came and she knocked again and called in insinuating tones, 'Honey please let me in.' 'Madam,' answered a gruff voice from within, 'this is no bee hive. This is the bath room.'

Railroad Topics

There are seventy-five railroads of all kinds operating in Mexico under concessions from the general government.

Thirty-six railroads reporting for the second week of June show aggregate earnings of $6,865,018, a gain of $425,826, or 6.81 per cent.

The round house of the Southern Pacific railroad at Fresno, Cal., and twelve locomotives were destroyed by fire; estimated loss, $200,000.

The Surveyors of the Prescott and Eastern road are now within a few miles of Benson, and expect to be through with the work this month.

Col. R. E. Twitchell, assistant counsel of the Santa Fe, is in the city today consulting with Hon. W. B. Childers on business of the railroad company.

The yard men on the Arizona and New Mexico railroad at Clinton struck the other day for shorter hours. The train crews will probably join them.

Three hundred car cleaners, employees of the Pullman company, are out on a strike, and as a consequence that company's cars do not present the usual neat appearance.

The Santa Fe Central telegraph line is within five miles of Santa Fe and will reach that city next Monday, as the wires are being stretched as rapidly as the poles are erected.

E. Alexander, who has been master mechanic at the Lordsburg Southern Pacific shops, left the first of the week for Tucson. He was succeeded by A. L. Munn, formerly of El Paso.

Vere Boyte, of Santa Fe, has accepted a position with the Santa Fe Central Railway company at Kennedy, and Charles Gutterman will work on the telegraph line of the company.

Judge Sloan has decided that the law passed by the last legislature providing that the Santa Fe railroad lands in northern Arizona be assessed at 75 cents an acre, is unconstitutional.

A new engine crew is to be put to work on the Lamy branch, traffic being too heavy for the one crew. That will mean several more residents for Santa Fe. "Dad" Ames will be the engineer.

The Santa Fe Central telegraph line is being constructed rapidly. Several miles of line are already completed between Kennedy and Santa Fe and the line will reach Santa Fe by next week.

Foreman Chamberlain, of the air brake department of the Santa Fe shops at Albuquerque, N. M., is at Topeka getting "pointers" on that work while the air construction car is in Topeka.

J. E. McLeod, chief clerk in the office of General Storekeeper Hilton, of Topeka, was at his desk after having been absent two or three weeks, checking up invoice lists at division points as far west as Albuquerque, N. M.

Philip J. Barber, employed by the Santa Fe Central railway at Kennedy, is in Santa Fe for treatment for an insect bite on his forehead. The bite was probably by a tarantula and it was necessary to cauterize the wound.

With the railroad improvements still incomplete, and the force not all in yet, there are eighty-four employees on the pay roll at Santa Rosa at the present time, permanently located. This does not include any of the crews that run in and out.

Hon. W. S. Hopewell, vice president of the Santa Fe Central, left for Denver. Upon his return he will be accompanied by Mrs. Hopewell, who has been at a Denver hospital and has recovered sufficiently to be able to return to the territory.

John Player, formerly superintendent of machinery for the Santa Fe, has been granted a patent on a sliding door for railway cars. It is stated that the invention is an excellent one and that Mr. Player will receive a handsome sum for the invention.

T. B. Sweet, trainmaster for the Santa Fe at Marceline, Mo., has been transferred to Las Vegas, N. M., where he will take the position of trainmaster for the New Mexico division. His place at Marceline will be taken by Chief Dispatcher Johnson, of Chillicothe, Ill. Trainmaster Bristol at Las Vegas has sent in his resignation, and will accept a position on a California road.

John R. Weldon is visiting old acquaintances in El Paso. Mr. Weldon is an old railroad conductor and has worked for various roads in the west. For several months in 1899 he was yardmaster for the Southern Pacific at Lordsburg. He is now manager of a sugar plantation for J. D. Spreckels in the Hawaiian islands and is off on a leave of absence. After a few days at El Paso he will leave for his old home in the east for a visit to relatives. Mr. Weldon gives a glowing report of the Hawaiian islands and says that it is the finest country under the sun.

Direct Connection.—Topeka is now in direct connection with Galveston through the new Santa Fe quadruplex wires which went into service day before yesterday. In the language of the telegraphers, Topeka now "works through to Galveston." This is the first time in the history of the Santa Fe road that this has been possible. Before the "quad" system was introduced, the messages from Galveston had to be relayed at Temple, Purcell and Cleburne, making a considerable waste of time in the transmission. General Superintendent Gaunt of the Santa Fe telegraph department, has one of the Galveston instruments connected up on a loop and placed on his desk, so that he can watch the working of the wire and detect any flaws in its transmission.

Mammoth Car Works.—A mammoth car and locomotive works, costing in the neighborhood of $5,000,000, will probably be built in Denver by the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railroad in conjunction with other western lines. It is understood that the matter has progressed as far as securing options on a large tract of land for the plant, the organizing of an independent iron company to supply the material and the securing of the co-operation of other railroads.

Freight Men Meet.—The following members of the Trans-Missouri freight bureau, W. A. Poter, chairman, Kansas City, Mo.; W. B. Knight, Missouri

Pacific railway; C. J. Lane, Union Pacific railway; Fred Montmorency, Burlington & Missouri railway; F. J. Shubert, Rock Island railway; R. G. Ureback, Santa Fe railway; H. F. Lambert, Colorado Southern; W. M. Lambton, Denver & Rio Grande, and Mr. Tuttle, of the Oregon Short Line, met in Denver at the Brown Palace hotel for the purpose of adjusting a number of technical questions as to minimum weight of live stock from the western country.

Conductor Injured.—The Raton Gazette says: Conductor J. M. Clark met with an accident at Wooten Thursday afternoon that cost him his left hand. He was in charge of freight train No. 23, and was in the act of stepping off a car when the hand held broke loose throwing him to the ground, and in an effort to save himself his left hand got on the track, the trucks of one car passing over it and crushing it. Engineer Goodyear coupled his engine onto the way car and brought Mr. Clark to Raton. The company's surgeon amputated the hand at the wrist. The wound is healing nicely.

Presented with a Check.—Recognizing the heroic intentions of Miss Bertha Matter in flagging the St. Joseph passenger train at Rock Creek, Kan., three weeks ago last Saturday evening, the Santa Fe has presented her with $25. The voucher was made out by General Manager Mudge and delivered to the young woman by Roadmaster T. S. Cafferty. It was more money than the young woman had ever possessed, and she was accordingly much pleased at receiving it.

MAGNIFICENT SERVICE.

New Roman Catholic Cathedral Opened at Westminster.

London, June 28.—Arrangements have been completed for the formal opening tomorrow of the new Roman Catholic cathedral at Westminster. The opening ceremony will be carried out on a scale of the greatest magnificence. Cardinal Vaughan will preside and the service will include an elaborate musical program. The Vatican will be especially represented and the principal sees of Europe and America in communion with Rome will also be represented.

The new cathedral is one of the most superb church edifices erected since St. Peter's at Rome or St. Paul's in London. It stands in the heart of Westminster on the site of the old Tothill Fields prison, about half a mile from Hyde Park corner and quite near to Victoria street. The area in which it rises, and which it adorns, embraces the houses of parliament, the royal palaces, the government edifices and other great buildings.

In dimensions it compares favorably with the other great cathedrals of the world. Its entire length is 359 feet, and its greatest width 156 feet. Its height is ninety feet. The nave is an inspiring and spacious work, 240 feet in length, sixty feet wide, with the traditional transepts, aisles and side chapels. On the raised floor of the apse is the monk's choir, and in the sanctuary the canon's stall. Over the high altar a magnificent figure of the crucified Christ strikes the visitor who first enters the great nave, and other inspiring images and architectural decorations lend to the interior the beauty and awesomeness of the great temples of the Roman faith in many lands. In style the sacred edifice is Byzantine. The total cost of this superb pile was nearly $1,000,000.

"BRIDGE OF FATE."

Conductor Whitford Meets Death in the Raton Mountains.

OTHER LOCAL HAPPENINGS:

Special Correspondence.

Las Vegas, June 27.—Charles E. Doll has returned from a couple of weeks' stay in the territorial capital.

Miss Elizabeth Romley leaves tomorrow for her vacation. She goes to Colorado points.

Miss Ve Verka, one of the normal teachers, left today for Colorado and other places to spend her vacation.

Charles Kohn is up from Montoya today seeing his old friends.

Wool is coming in lively these days. The wagons are lined up at all the buyers' warehouses and waiting their turn. Wool makes money in these parts.

Caetano Archuleta, an old man who was badly injured last Monday by falling off his wagon while returning home to Porvenir from this city, finally succumbed to his injuries. He was 55 years of age and leaves a family. Archuleta was badly intoxicated when he left here, and that accounts for the seriousness of the injury that caused his death.

Manuel Salazar, one of the old citizens of old town, died this morning. He has been sick for nearly a year with rheumatism, and the trouble finally caused his death. He was a man of middle age and leaves a family.

A. R. de Costa and A. R. Menott, Jr., have returned from their fishing trip up the river, and they say they had plenty of fish to eat—sardines they took along. As to the fish in the river they only saw them.

A week from today is the glorious Fourth. Have you bought your fire crackers and bandages?

Bert Adams and wife came in yesterday afternoon from Gascon, where they were married, and took last night's train north. They are not saying much about where they are going for their honeymoon.

Santa Rosa is having weather of about 110 in the shade these days, and travelers from there say the citizens have to carry the water four miles and that it costs 50 cents a barrel. These little notes about places having worse troubles make one more content with his lot.

Severio Romero came in from his new place of business at Torreon. He reports things prospering with him but that the heat there is intense.

At the card party given by Mrs. C. C. Gise yesterday afternoon to a number of her lady friends, Mrs. Sloops took first prize, Mrs. J. E. Moore the prize for the ten hands and Mrs. J. Schmidt the consolation. The game played was six handed euchre, the decorations, roses, and delicious refreshments were served. Mr. Gise will take a hand in the entertaining tonight with his wife, and one of the gentlemen will be allowed to partake of Gise's hospitality.

The local base ball team has accepted the challenge of the Raton team for games on the 4th, 5th and 6th of July there, and they will leave on the 4th of July, all primed and loaded to give the boys a hard game. The Raton team last year was a good one, and the boys expect a hard game. They have gathered together the best team possible in the city, and the line up is as follows: Catcher, H. W. Clark; pitchers, Charlie Rhodes and Albert Adkins; first base, J. L. Flint; second base, E. J. McWen; third base, Arthur Nygren; short stop, M. B. Otero; left field, Thomas Tipton; center field, Robert Gross; right field, L. Tipton, and substitute, Jake Levy.

Normal! Normal!
Rue! Rue! Rue!
We're the class of nineteen two.
N. M. N. U.
One-nine-naught-two-o-o!

The commencement of the class of 1902 is now a thing of the past and the eleven graduates are beginning to think about the more serious part of life. The class was a particularly intelligent and able one, and will undoubtedly make their mark in the world. The names of the graduates are: Emerson Atkins, Helen Blake, Clarence S. Brown, Norris L. Cochran, Mary Cooper, Helen M. Ellis, Mary S. Gilchrist, Wynne A. Gansford, Louisa K. Reed, Ada Springer and Eunice J. Tamme.

The commencement address was given by Dr. Robert Coyle, of Denver, and was a particularly fine effort. His delivery, diction and thought were all to the large audience that attended the services at the normal chapel last night.

Prof. E. L. Hewett made a statement of the year's work and Hon. Frank Springer presented the diplomas to the graduates.

Numa Raymond, one of the merchants of Las Cruces and well known here, went through to St. Louis this afternoon.

Rev. Thos. Harwood was a passenger for Wagon Mound this afternoon.

Misses Mary Cooper and Maud Ellis returned to their homes at the Duke city this afternoon after graduating from the normal.

Thomas Hayward is here from Albuquerque.

L. Harkness, of Albuquerque, is in the city.

C. C. Hall is here from Albuquerque.

Ralph Halloran was here today from Albuquerque.

The startling intelligence was received here this morning shortly after 10 o'clock that bridge 186 at Hillsdale, near Raton, had added another victim to its already long list, this time claiming A. T. Whitford, the popular and well known conductor who has been making this city his home the past two years. The exact particulars as to how the accident happened is not known, but it is supposed that he was leaning over the steps looking under the cars after the wheels, and the train rounded the curve by the bridge, which is a common girder one, striking him and knocking him off and killing him. They were bringing down the second section of No. 1. Mrs. Whitford is back in Newton, Kas., visiting her mother, and the terrible news was conveyed to her there.

Mr. Whitford was exceedingly well liked by his comrades here, and it was to accommodate a friend, Richard Hayes, that he turned over his regular run on the springs branch to him and took his run on the main line. The deceased was a member of the O. R. C. back in Kansas, where he came from about two years ago for his health, and was to have resumed his run on the branch in the next few days.

One wonders how the accidents happen, and that more care is not taken to watch out for the bridges by the trainmen. It is a singular coincidence that not long ago Mr. Whitford was saying to a friend that he always was watching for them, and now he lies a victim to the very accident he at that time thought he would take particular caution to guard against.

The "bridge of fate" is not an over-head one, but one with iron girders or sides to it about four feet high. This bridge is either too near the track, or is just ill-fated, for Conductor Whitford is its sixth victim, four of them being in the last few years. It is the bridge on which Fireman Calhoun was killed a few weeks ago, and the one that took the life of Engineer Bender and brakeman Miles sometime back.

Later intelligence regarding the accident explains that Conductor Whitford had just finished taking up the tickets and had stepped out on the platform to look for a hot box. As he looked back the train rounded into the bridge and it struck him on the back of the head, knocking him down on the ties, killing him instantly. The Pullman porter and others saw the accident, and the train was quickly stopped and the remains picked up, put on the rear of the platform and conveyed to Raton, where the inquest was held. The remains were made ready and shipped back east to Newton, Kas., to his old home, on train No. 2. Conductor J. A. Connelly brought the ill-fated train into Las Vegas two hours late.

Mrs. Frank W. Bailey and son are here from Chillicothe, Ill., visiting Miss Willis. She is the wife of the editor of the Chillicothe Bulletin and will make quite a visit in our city.

Miss Jessie McSchooler left this afternoon for Springer, where she will visit a couple of weeks with Mrs. Aldridge before going on to Willis.

O. A. Erickson returned today from Tucuman and Santa Rosa and says it is too hot to live out there on the plains.

JEMEZ MOUNTAINS.

Trip From Algodones to the Sulphur and Jemez Springs.

Special Correspondence.
Jemez Hot Springs, June 26.—Our party left the Rio Grande valley last Monday, came by the way of Bland, stopping at the Benson hotel over night. We were all surprised at the size and prosperous outlook for the town. Leaving Bland we struck the high places on the Jemez mountains. Taking in the view through our field glasses, our eastern companions were astonished and delighted at the view of the surrounding country from the mountain tops. Their scenery is beyond description. We were surprised at the beautiful pine timber, grasses, mills and valleys, flowing streams and large flocks of sheep we saw on the way from the mountain tops to the sulphur and Jemez springs.

Dr. Bizley and his good looking son, Jimmy, who manage the sulphur springs, seem to fill the bill perfectly; set a good table, entertain their guests and see that they get sulphur water externally and internally.

Today we arrived here and find quite a number stopping at the Stone hotel. Mrs. Cochran and Miss Campbell keep the hotel and all the guests seem well satisfied with the management. Good beds, good living at the hotel and fine baths at the bath house are all first class.

W. R. Uttley, a gentleman 74 years old, from New York City, and R. G. Balcomb, from Algodones, are here looking over the country and seem well pleased and delighted with the country, and the fine accommodations at the resorts.

They leave tomorrow for the north and will travel over the country between here and Espanola.

There is a wonderful future for this beautiful country. All it needs is push and capital to develop the natural resources.

DRESS MAKERS

And All Women Who Work, either for their Living or for Society, are Subject to the Same Organic Troubles. How Many Are Cured.

A gorgeous costume flashed beneath the brilliant lights of a ball room. The queen of society is radiant to-night.

The nervous hands of a weak woman have toiled day and night, the weary form and aching head have known no rest, for the dress had to be finished in time.

To that queen of society and her dressmaker we would say a word. One through both house culture, luxury and social excitement, and the other through the toil of necessity, may some day find their ailments a common cause.

Nervous prostration, excitability, fainting spells, dizziness, sleeplessness, loss of appetite and strength, all indicate serious trouble, which has been promoted by an over-taxed system.

For the society queen and the dressmaker alike, there is nothing so reliable as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to restore strength, vigor, and happiness.

Six Years' Suffering Cured.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I suffered for six years, sometimes being unable to get about at all. It seemed to me as though I could not live, and I did not care to. I had womb trouble, kidney trouble, leucorrhoea, backache, was nervous and had no ambition to do anything or go anywhere. Was obliged to give up my trade of sewing. I tried three doctors but they did me no good. Seeing your advertisement I thought I would try your medicine. I felt better after the first bottle, and by the time I had taken six I was able to resume my work again. I shall always praise Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."—MRS. MARY A. RUSSELL, Chincoteague Island, Va. (Dec. 14, 1900.)

If there is anything in your case about which you would like special advice, write freely to Mrs. Pinkham. No man will see your letter. She can surely help you, for no person in America has such a wide experience in treating female ills as she has had. She has helped hundreds of thousands of women back to health. Her address is Lynn, Mass., and her advice is free. You are very foolish if you do not accept her kind invitation.

Mrs. Lizzie Anderson, 40 Union St., Salem, N.J.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I feel it my duty to write and tell you how grateful I am to you for what your medicine has done for me. At one time I suffered everything a woman could. I had inflammation of the ovaries, falling of the womb, and leucorrhoea. At times could not hold a needle to sew. The first dose of your Vegetable Compound helped me so much that I kept on using it. I have now taken six bottles and am well and able to do my work. I also ride a wheel and feel no bad effects from it. I am thankful to the Giver of all good for giving you the wisdom of curing suffering women. I recommend your medicine to every woman troubled with any of these diseases."

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonials letters are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writer's special permission. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

WILL PUSH IT.

Building of the Santa Fe Cut-Off Will Be Rushed.

The official announcement that the Santa Fe will at once build its cut off from Portales to this city has caused great satisfaction in this city. The announcement confirms the statement of this contemplated move which was first given in The Citizen several months ago. The cut off will mean much for Albuquerque as it will give direct communication with a new part of the territory.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

Mrs. J. E. Elder, who was at Kansas City on a visit, returned to the city last night.

Hon. M. A. Otero, governor of New Mexico, passed through the city south bound last night.

The little son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ward is critically ill. Mr. Ward is with the Santa Fe.

At their meeting this evening the Elks will arrange for their excursion to Silver City on July 4.

Wm. Palsano, an educated Indian of the village of Laguna, was in the city today purchasing supplies. Mr. Palsano is in the cattle and sheep raising business.

John Newlander, of the Albuquerque Planing Mill company, and family left this morning for Denver, where they will visit relatives and friends for a few weeks.

C. A. Bruce, the chef at W. L. Trimble & Co.'s eating house, will leave Sunday night for Los Angeles, where he will visit his family and take a needed rest.

T. Y. Maynard, the well known Second street jeweler, who was at Gallup on a watch inspection tour, returned to the city last night. He gives the information of a big fire at Laguna.

Dr. Henry C. Thomas will preach at the Congregational church tomorrow morning and evening at 11 and 8. Miss Cora Gehring and Mr. Duncan Bell will sing solos at the morning service.

The Winslow Mail says: Mrs. L. Buchanan, who has been serving in the capacity as official stenographer in the office of Burbage & Nelson for some time, has gone to Albuquerque to spend the summer.

United States Marshal C. M. Foraker will visit Silver City tomorrow. He is the second baseman of the Elks base ball team of this city, and will accompany the club on its victorious trip to Silver City on July 4.

The marriage of Watson Hall Downs to Miss Elizabeth Kellogg occurred in Pueblo, Colorado, on June 25th. The happy couple will arrive here on next Monday evening and be "at home" at No. 315 South Arno street, after July 1st.

After being without a hall for nearly four months the Salvation army has secured a tent in which to hold their meetings. The first service will be conducted tonight. The tent is located on the corner of Second street and Lead avenue.

John S. Trimble, the well known and popular transfer man at El Paso, is here, arriving this morning. He was pleased on stepping from the train this morning to be informed that his wife, who was seriously ill, was considerably better, and would doubtless return to El Paso with him.

Mrs. Adams, at the local government Indian school, is entertaining Mrs. Louise Pilcher and son, of Laguna. The visitors, on leaving here, will go to Santa Fe and thence to Lawrence, Kansas. The lady had a lot of fine blankets and quilts at the Laguna station, and lost the lot in the fire there yesterday.

Juan C. Armijo, one of Albuquerque's wealthy young gentlemen, says "he is 28 years old today and will have only two more rivers to cross." The Citizen wishes Juan many future birthdays, and think, from his physique, that he will cross more rivers than "two" before concluding to quit this mundane sphere.

Herman Blueher, Mrs. Jacob Korber and son, Mrs. Albers and Miss Amelia Lang left late yesterday afternoon, in wagons, for the Ellis ranch, near Bernalillo. The aged father of Mr. Blueher and the latter's son, Franz, took the train last night, joining them at Bernalillo. The party will be absent from the city for several weeks.

Dr. Bunker, pastor of the Lead avenue Methodist Episcopal church, will begin a series on Christian socialism. The topics discussed will probably be the following: The Ideal World, The Foundations of the Ideal World, Progress toward the realization of an ideal world, The Next Move Toward an ideal world, Conditions in the Ideal World.

The Fort Wingate base ball club will play in this city on Saturday and Sunday, July 12 and 13. Harman Wynkoop this morning received a letter from Sergeant Frank Long saying that the dates mentioned would be acceptable. The Browns will have two or three new faces on the team, and will have to do some hard practicing between now and the dates mentioned, as the soldier boys are reputed to be at fast bunch of ball players. Mr. O'Reilly, president of the fair association, saw them play and speaks very highly of their work.

A deed from the city is necessary to perfect your title under the act of congress. We will make proper deeds and furnish information to mayor showing parties entitled to deeds and attend to all details at reasonable rates. Title Guaranty Company, W. Moore Clayton, manager.
