In addition to the election of the various state officers at the election in November, the voters will also decide on whether or not the constitution of New Mexico is to be made entirely of amendment. A special bill was introduced for this purpose, bearing on it the proposed amendment to Article II of the constitution, such ballot to be delivered to the several counties by the election officers, whether requested or not. The proposed amendment, as specified in the bill, is to be amended by the senate, as is follows:

"Article XIX—Amendment

Section 1. Any amendment or amendments to this constitution, or to any special printed books of the legislature at any regular session, is to be proposed by a majority of all members elected to each of the two houses, voting separately, shall vote in favor thereof, such proposed amendment or amendments shall be entered on their respective negatives with the yea's and nay's thereon.

The secretary of state shall cause any such amendment or amendments to be published in at least one newspaper in every county of the state, where a newspaper is published once a week. Four consecutive weeks in English and Spanish, when newspapers are published in such counties, the last publication to be at least 24 hours before the election at which time such amendment or amendments shall be submitted to the voters of the state for their approval or rejection, and the said amendment or amendments shall be voted upon at the next regular election held in said state, after the adjournment of the legislature proposing such amendment or amendments, or at such special election to be held not less than 60 days after the adjournment of said legislature, as may be provided by law. Provided, if the same be ratified by a majority of the electors voting in said election, such amendment or amendments shall become part of the constitution. If two or more amendments are proposed, they shall be submitted to the several electors to vote on each of them separately provided, that an amendment shall only lose the preference of Sections 1 and 2 of Article XIX, above-mentioned; and no election shall be held for any of the purposes of voting upon said amendment. Said separate ballots shall be counted and canvassed by the election officers, and the returns of said election upon this amendment shall be made by said election officers direct to the secretaries of the Territory of New Mexico at Santa Fe, who, with the governor and chief justice of said territory shall cause a canvass thereof, and they, or any five members, shall meet at said Santa Fe on the third day after said election, and shall canvass the returns of the majority of the legal votes cast at said election upon said amendment. If this amendment shall be in favor thereof, the said canvassing board shall forthwith record and certify to the governor and the territory, together with the statement of votes cast upon the question of said amendment. Whereupon the governor of said territory shall by proclamation declare the said amendment to be a part of the constitution of the proposed state of New Mexico, and thereupon the same shall become a part of said constitution; but if the same shall fail of such majority, then Article XIX of the constitution of New Mexico as adopted on January twenty-first, nineteen hundred and eleven, shall remain a part of said constitution.

A blank to be used by said election officers in counting the votes on any such amendment, shall contain in all columns in which votes may be cast, "Amended," or "Not Amended." In the case of amendments, such ballot to be delivered to the several counties shall be marked before leaving the polling places, and shall be forward to the secretary of state, by the officers of the several counties, at the first session of the next legislature.

CUT THE WORD “IF” OUT OF YOUR LIFE
The world is full of fellows whose lives are made up of “if.” “If I had only had a chance.” “If I just had gained a good, technical business education in my younger days.”

Don’t let that word “if” make a failure of you. Don’t let it “if” you between you and your purpose. Cut “if” out of your life once and forever, and DO IT NOW!

The sooner you enter a business relationship the sooner you will be able to get out into the business world and lead your career.

If you keep on hesitating—if you do-fer until tomorrow—if you allow the word “if” to come between you and your purpose, you will be forced to work ambitions and thwart a lofty aim.

Remember that any one succeeds in proportion as he dares success. Every man by his own act stamps his value on himself. Remember that in the present, the active, aggressive NOW you lay the foundation for the future.

Delay is dangerous. Resolve today to write us immediately. Send for our catalogue NOW.

OLEST LIVING CREATURES

Ghost Trunks Taken to London From America Probably Encased in That Hour.

What species of animal steps to the ancient city of a question that has never been satisfactorily answered, but it is estimated that a glass jar, once a London municipal gas jar, from Nagasaki about twenty years ago is probably the oldest living creature whose age is positively known. This jar, which weighed a quarter of a ton, has lived at least thirty and sixty years, as historical documents say.

It is said that one hundred years is the dot age of an elephant and half to other animals except certain of the reptiles and the whole class of birds. The oldest living one, as mentioned above, at Peterborough, in England, is said to be one hundred and twenty years. One in London, which is said to be eighty, was in a bottle which was still growing when eight years old.
