IN THE LAND OF FLOWERS

The Presidential Train is Pelted With Roses and Other Blossoms in California.

RECEPTION AT REDLANDS

Governor Gage and California Senators and Representatives Met the President and His Party—A Multitude of Thousands Cheers McKinley.

Redlands, Calif., May 8.—The train bearing the presidential party entered the land of fruit and flowers shortly after midnight when the Colorado river was passed at Yuma. The train was mounting San George's pass between the snow-capped mountain peaks when the president first looked from the car window. Soon after the train entered San Bernardino county, famed for its wonderful fruits, and hurried along through orange groves, orchards of citrus fruits and gardens of beautiful flowers. At every little station were groups of smiling, happy people. Women and children pelted the president's car with roses, as the train rushed by. Redlands, the first stop in the state, was reached at 9 o'clock. Here great preparations had been made to welcome the president and party.

Governor Gage and senators and representatives of congress had gathered here to welcome the chief executive to California. The city was beautifully decorated. Broad streets were literally carpeted with roses, purple lupins and red poppies. A company of militia and high school cadets escorted the party to the hotel through lines of cheering people. The exercises took place on the flower-decked balcony of the hotel in plain view of thousands. Governor Gage in eloquent language welcomed the president and extended him the freedom of the state. The president's reply, delivered in graceful style, drew repeated cheers from the vast throng below him. The exercises were followed by a drive of about an hour and a half through the orange growing section. Mrs. McKinley and ladies of the party were taken for a drive through the beautiful valley of the San Bernardino.

THE STOCK MARKET DEMORALIZED

A Conflict Between the Harriman-Gould-Standard Oil and the Vanderbilt-Morgan-Hill Combine.

A VIRTUAL CORNER IN STOCKS

New York, May 8.—The stock market was utterly demoralized at the opening today by the developments in Northern Pacific. The rumors of yesterday became assertions of fact today that the Harriman interests, in retaliation for the recent attempt to secure control of the Union Pacific, turned upon the Morgan-Hill interests and wrested from them the control of the Northern Pacific. The competitive buying which resulted, caused a virtual corner in stocks to the discomfort and panic of the large short interests. The Harriman syndicate supposedly backed by the Goulds and the Standard Oil interests in the bitter warfare with the Vanderbilt-Morgan-Hill combine, offered alarming suggestions to the heated imagination of the speculators. While the shorts were bidding any price for Northern Pacific therefore, the speculators were unloading other stocks all through the list.

The disorder on the exchange was extreme during the first hour, but strong rallies in the general market and the release of Northern Pacific reassured holders and the market became quieter.

The brief rally on the market met with heavy selling again and prices slumped at such a rate during the last hour that panic conditions developed. Declines of 1-2 to 3 points between the ailes were the rule in active stocks. The drop in St. Paul reached 19-3-4; Union Pacific 16-1-2; Rock Island 11; Brooklyn Transit 10-1-2; New York Central 8-3-8; Missouri Pacific 9; Pennsylvania 7; Texas and Pacific 8-1-2; Southern Pacific 8; Canadian Pacific 10; and general run of active stocks 1-3-4. United States steel stocks collapsed, common falling 6-3-4, and preferred 11 by rapid stages. As the declines reached greater proportions and wiped out the more strongly margined accounts the weight of offerings increased and confusion and nervousness seemed to deprive the operators of their power of judgment.

It is estimated that the Union Cotton company's loss is $100,000 on buildings and $320,000 on cotton. Phinizy & Co. lose $50,000 on building, and $80,000 on cotton. Whitney & Co. lose $5,000 on building and $120,000 on cotton.

A SHEEP GRAZING DECISION

An Important Decision by Judge Olin Welborn of a United States District Court.

QUESTION OF JURISDICTION

The Rights Enjoyed by Grazers on the Public Domain is Derived From the Suffrage of the Executive Power of the National Government.

Fresno, Calif., May 8.—Judge Olin Welborn, sitting in the northern division of the United States district court for southern California, in overruling a demurrer made by sheep owners to a complaint against them for trespassing on forest reserves, gave an important opinion regarding the jurisdiction of the United States executive authority over forest reserves. He held that it could not be questioned that the United States had entire authority over its public lands; that the right enjoyed by grazers of running their stock on public domain is derived from the suffrage of the executive powers of the national government and not from any authorization of congress.

WIRELESS TELEGRAPHY.

It Has Been Found Entirely Practical by Naval Officers.

Washington, May 8.—A board of naval officers headed by Captain Chidwick, appointed to make an investigation and report on wireless telegraphy, submitted a report to Admiral Bradford, chief of the naval bureau equipment. THE END NOT IN SIGHT.

Hostilities May Last Much Longer in the Transvaal.

New York, May 8.—Lord Kitchener's long dispatch describing in detail the futile endeavors to catch Dewet, appointments neither blame nor praise to any commanding officer of the British troops, says the Tribune's London correspondent. A careful perusal of the dispatch does not impress one with the idea that the hostilities in South Africa are nearing conclusion.

Returning early in the evening, they will attend the performance at Armory hall in aid of the poor and of Father Midgton's church. Friday the visitors will enjoy a drive around town, and will leave on the noon train for home. The session of the society will prove interesting and be well worth attendance.

STEEL TRUST CONCENTRATION

A Policy That Will Give Pittsburgh 50,000 More Mill Men at the Expense of Smaller Towns.

A CENTRALIZATION OF OPERATIONS

Pittsburg, Pa., May 8.—The Commercial Gazette this morning says: "The United States Steel corporation has adopted the policy of centralizing its operations and abandoning its smaller plants, those disadvantageously located and those that cannot be run economically." Above is the statement of Joshua Rhodes, the retired chairman of the board of directors of the National Tube company, now constituent of the United States Steel corporation. The adoption of this policy of centralizing its operations will bring to the Pittsburgh district without delay, about 50,000 mill men from plants that will be abandoned. The massing of much more of the operations of the company in Pittsburgh will not only add to the number of mill men employed here, but the plants from which the most important supplies of raw material are drawn in this district will also take on more men.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE MEETING.

Some Changes in the Force of Teachers of the Preparatory School.

The regents of the College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts at Mesilla Park held an adjourned annual meeting on Monday and Tuesday of this week, the session occupying both days and evenings. There were present Hon. L. B. Prince, president; P. H. Curran, Esq., secretary; Hon. G. A. Richardson, Hon. A. A. Jones, and H. B. Holt, Esq., every member being present. Every part of the college buildings and the experiment station grounds was visited and carefully examined. The president of the college, Dr. F. W. Sanders, having declined a re-election except on terms to which the regents could not accede, measures were taken to make a very careful selection of a president at a succeeding meeting, the board being impressed with the great importance of obtaining a man of such character that no further change in that office will be necessary for many years. All the members of the college faculty were re-elected. In the preparatory department, Professor Richards, the superintendent of the college schools, was elected in place of Professor Larkin, and Miss Blakesley in place of Miss Thornton. A few changes in salaries were made, resulting in a reduction of expenses. Professor Tinsley was made vice director of the experiment station of which he will thus have active management. A. M. Holt having received an advantageous offer elsewhere was relieved from duty as assistant station chemist. The board adjourned to meet on June 4. The commencement exercises will be on June 5.

The Denver Times of the same date ended a notice of the lecture with these words: "Miss Ring gave the lecture for the first time at the Woman's club, and all those who heard it know it is worth hearing many times."

New York, May 8.—A dispatch to the Herald from Pekin says: General Chaffee gave a smoking concert in the Temple Heaven in honor of General Chaffee and his officers. Chaffee made a political speech which caused comment outside of the British camp. "Let kings, ministers and politicians say what they may," said Chaffee, "but I can tell you this, never will you see Americans and Britishers facing each other in the field. Our national policy may be to stay clear of international complications, but should circumstances arise, in which we must make a choice, our inclination will be with the Britishers."

Excitement over the oil prospects just west of Carlsbad still continues, location parties leaving town every day for the purpose of getting claims in the neighborhood of where the California people intend sinking their well. Several thousand acres have been located in all. The usual mode of procedure is for eight people to associate themselves as a company, locate a quarter section, 160 acres, the maximum allowed by law, and post up a notice at each corner giving names of locators and name of claim. All the vacant land for a radius of four miles about the California claims has been located on by local parties. In addition to these, several companies have located claims at the head of the Rocky arroyo, west of Seven Rivers, where the oil indications are quite as good as at the original location.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 5.

For Governor of New Mexico from June 7, 1901, to June 7, 1905, or until stichhood is attained, Miguel A. Otero.

New Mexico Demands Statehood of the 57th Congress.

Of Right and in Justice New Mexico Should Be a State.

To some men of small caliber it is a great honor to ride on the baggage car of a presidential train for they feel like the fly on the axle of the chariot which when it creaks: "See, what a dust I do raise."

Honorable Edward W. Fox, register of the United States land office at Clayton, Union county, will be a candidate for reappointment to that position. His record is first class in every respect and he is very popular in the district for which Clayton is the land office. He has conducted the affairs of his office carefully and he is a courteous, hard-working and energetic man; there is every reason why he should be re-appointed.

It is expected that the law recently enacted by the 34th legislative assembly providing for quarterly inspections of saloons, gaming places and the like by sheriffs, and the collection of licenses of such places by these same sheriffs, will prove of benefit and bring in goodly sums of money to the school funds of the several counties. This law is already working well and with time and experience will work still better. Another point in favor of the 34th legislative assembly.

The Rio Grande is sending into southern New Mexico immense volumes of water which if it could be stored by a dam and reservoir at Eliphant Butte would reclaim thousands of acres of land. This would be of great benefit to El Paso as to New Mexico, yet the El Paso people have been and are still fighting the Eliphant Butte dam project with their visionary and unjust international dam scheme. There is such a thing as cutting off your nose to spite your face and that is what El Paso has been and is doing.

The tax dodger is always found to be the greatest kicker against the payment of taxes levied. This is notably the case in Santa Fe. There are a few men who are great howlers about burdensome and oppressive taxation, but who have for the past ten or twelve years paid no taxes, but they have large mouths and glib tongues and but little else to do but stir up strife in the community. They are a detriment to Santa Fe, but it may be presumed they are necessary evils as there is no institution on earth that can get along without some weaknesses.

Wyoming claims to be the first sheep raising commonwealth in the United States, with 5,000,000 head of sheep and wool clip of about 25,000,000 pounds this year. The New Mexican's information is to the effect that New Mexico, however, will retain its first rank in that line and that at the end of this year New Mexico will contain over 5,000,000 head of sheep which will shear on the average six pounds per annum, making a total wool clip in the territory of 30,000,000 pounds. A few more months will in the opinion of this paper verify this assertion.

The bureau of immigration is receiving many requests concerning San Juan county, as to its resources, water supply, irrigation, etc. These inquiries are being promptly answered and printed information giving particulars is sent to all applicants. San Juan county seems to have acquired a reputation in the middle western states as most of these inquiries come from Iowa, Illinois, Ohio, Indiana and Wisconsin. The indications are that this county within the next three years will receive a great deal of immigration and that of the proper kind.

This board of education of the city of Santa Fe did a good thing in dispensing with the paid services of a secretary. The superintendent of schools, Prof. J. A. Wood was designated to do the secretary's work without additional compensation. He was re-elected as superintendent of public schools for the ensuing year. This action meets with the approval of the citizens of Santa Fe, as Professor Wood during the past two years has performed the duties of superintendent of the city schools ably, efficiently and carefully. The public schools for the coming year will be in good hands.

Minnesota has enacted a just law covering the crime of wife desertion, a crime which has become only too common. The crime is made a felony, punishable with one to three years in the penitentiary. The man who leaves a wife and children penniless and runs away is committing a crime not only against them but against society and Minnesota will see to it that if any of her residents are guilty of such an outrage that they will be followed to any part of the United States and will be brought back to Minnesota to be punished. Other states and territories should follow the example set by Minnesota.

The New Mexican editorial association exists only in the mind of one man who styles himself its president and banks on that imaginary honor. He cannot deceive any but himself by this little piece of self-deception.

Stock speculation is still very active in Wall street. Western stocks are going higher and higher. If this means an era of railroad building in the west and southwest it will prove a great thing for the people of the country. If it simply means gobbling up railroad systems by one vast gigantic combination there will be trouble ahead for it is but a question of time that the people by legislation will control the trusts and combinations of capital that now seem to be the order of the day. Some remedy and a little remedy at that will be found to protect the people at large against the unwholesome and detrimental combinations of men and capital.

When President McKinley at Domingue spoke of the great nation "over which by your suffrage I am permitted for a short time to preside," he did not refer to the people of New Mexico, for they have no voice when it comes to choosing a president. But that little slip of the president's tongue is a powerful argument for statehood for it is natural to think of an American citizen as one who possesses the right of franchise equally with every other citizen of the United States. That the immigration line which divides New Mexico from Texas and Colorado should also be a dividing line as to political rights and privileges will seem inconceivable to a future generation.

As soon as the widening of the gauge of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad from Alamosa to Antonito will be completed, Alamosa will be the headquarters of the 5th division of the Denver & Rio Grande railroad. Antonito is a better point than Alamosa as the branch from the Denver & Rio Grande to Durango commences. As at that point the railroad branches over to Durango and also goes south to this city. Information of this journal is that from Alamosa to Santa Fe the track of the gauge will also be pushed rapidly to completion. This will be a great benefit to the territory, as the railroad will be run from Denver to Santa Fe.

Phoenix, the capital of Arizona, is to get a sugar factory. The people of the Salt river valley have pledged 2,000 acres of sugar beets and the work of erecting a 1,000 ton sugar plant is to commence at once. As the deal for the factory must be brought from New Mexico and labor is dearer and scarcer at Phoenix than at Santa Fe, it seems strange that the Oxnards should erect a factory at Phoenix when they have a chance to build refineries in New Mexico where coal is cheap, labor plentiful and the sugar beets that can be raised the best in the world. The day will come however and that before long when best sugar factories will be located at Santa Fe, the Rio Grande, the San Juan valleys and in other parts of the territory.

New Mexico is All Right.

President McKinley is right when he said that New Mexico needs more people and perhaps more rain. Statehood will bring more people to the territory, for no American citizen, proud of his birthright, cares to live in a territory where he is deprived of it, unless the material and other advantages are so great as to balance the loss of his political rights. But then New Mexico does contain quite a few people, for instance over twice as many as Wyoming which is a state; over four times as many as Nevada which is a state; more than Idaho which is a state; more than Delaware which has been a state these 125 years, more than nine-tenths of the other states when they were elevated to statehood. As to rain, it is the absence of frequent rainfall that helps to make New Mexico the sanitarium of the world, that gives back health and life to those who would die otherwise in the states where there is plenty of rain. New Mexico has an ample rainfall for all its necessities if only the United States government would lend its hand to build irrigation systems and reservoirs so that the surplus rainfall in one season could be stored for use in the seasons when the rainfall is lacking. New Mexico is all right and President McKinley knows it. Three cheers for President McKinley and a tiger for the state of New Mexico which he predicts will be a reality some day.

The Grazing of Sheep.

A good deal has been said and written about grazing of sheep upon the range. It is generally contended that sheep destroy utterly all forage plants wherever they graze and the place of the forage plants is later taken by weeds. This is emphatically denied by Earley Vernon Wilcox in an article in The Forum for this month. He has learned by actual observation that the grazing of sheep brings about the gradual extermination of all weeds except a few which are not regularly eaten by the animals. Dangerous weeds such as chickweed have been entirely destroyed in large sections by the grazing of sheep. Mr. Wilcox says: "From conversations with a number of sheep raisers the writer has concluded that the majority of these men would be glad to co-operate with the government in maintaining the forest reservations in their present condition. In preventing fires, in protecting timber in other ways, and in preventing any evil effects of overgrazing. As is already indicated, fires in the mountains where sheep are being grazed are of more menace to sheep men than to any other private individuals. The sheep may be caught in the fire and burned, or they may be left without forage by the burning of the dry grasses and weeds. The prevention of fires is, therefore, of immediate interest to the sheep owners. These men desire to graze their sheep in the mountains from year to year, and are, therefore, anxious to preserve the forage plants in as good a condition as possible. So far as observations were made by the writer, no deterioration could be seen in any mountain range where sheep were grazed."

BOILS AND CARBUNCLES

Baneful Boils

Mr. R. M. Pratt, Care, S. C., writes: "For twenty years I was a sufferer from boils and carbuncles caused by impure blood. It was impossible to describe my suffering; part of the time being unable to work or sleep. Several doctors treated me, but all the so-called blood remedies, but nothing seemed to do me any good. During the summer of 1901 I was persuaded to try S. S. S., and after taking several bottles was entirely cured, and have had no return of these painful pests up to the present time."

A FAITHFUL SERVANT

A Word of Appreciation for the Work of the Bureau of Immigration.
(Carlsbad Argus.)
The territorial bureau of immigration is doing good work for New Mexico these days, and the results are constantly in evidence. Very recently several thousand new settlers were sent out through the north and east, and the effect is sure to be most beneficial. Every day it is more and more evidenced as a fact that the community or section making a liberal use of printer's ink and reciting his advantages at all times and in all places is the one that secures the tourists and home-seekers. The bureau of immigration is doing its duty for New Mexico, and it is worthily performing the obligation.

WHOOPIING COUGH.

A woman who has had experience with this disease, tells how to prevent any dangerous consequences from it. She says: Our three children took whooping cough last summer, our baby being only three months old, and owing to our giving them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, they lost their cough promptly, and came out in much better health than other children whose parents did not use this remedy. Our oldest little girl would call lustily for cough syrup between whoops—Jesse Pinkney Hall, Springfield, Ala. This remedy is for sale by Ireland.

Wiggins—No; I never got over my first experience in a swallow-tail. For an hour I admired myself in the looking glass. That's the last and only time I ever wore evening dress.—Boston Transcript.

WINE OF CARDUI

HEALTHY OLD AGE.
LARGES, BOSTON CO. ASS. Aug. 4.
I am 46 years old and have been suffering with Change of Life. I had flooding spells so bad that I could not leave my bed. My husband got me Wine of Cardui and it cured my life. I am like another person since taking it.
MRS. E. B. TOWNSEND.

Wine of Cardui

It is the devout wish of nearly all people to live to a ripe old age. None of us want to die young. This universal desire can be realized if we are taken of the health in early and middle life. A little precaution then will add many years to our existence. Death can be kept away a long time. Happy, healthy old age will be the lot of the woman who promptly corrects the ailments which afflict her sex. In youth, Wine of Cardui will take the female mind safely over the dividing line between girlhood and womanhood. As a wife she needs it to help her through the trials of pregnancy and childbirth with as little discomfort as possible. As the Change of Life it will help her over the dangerous place that appears in her pathway between 40 and 50. Then will come many years of truly blissful existence. She will grow old slowly and gracefully. To the last she will preserve that charm and beauty which are always characteristic of perfectly healthy grandmothers. It is for women alone to decide whether they will be healthy or sick. The remedy for their sickness is close at hand.
