American Sympathy.

The New York Sun calls down Mr. George W. Smalley sharply and severely. Mr. Smalley is the New York correspondent of the London Times and has been telling his paper that American sentiment was almost unanimous in favor of the British agent the British-Bloer war.

The Scouring Plant.

The work of the pining of the machinery for the scouring plant is complete and all is now in readiness for the work of scouring the spring wool clip. Mr. Potsgrove the manager in charge of the scouring plant explained the mysteries to a current reporter and courteously showed the whole arrangement in such a manner that it was easily understood. The wool comes in from the prairies in large sacks weighing from 400 to 500 pounds each and stored in that portion of the building used as a ware house, the entire structure being 40x150 feet. The scouring machine is about 100 feet long and six feet wide. The wool is assorted by eight men who work at a large table. It is then conveyed by a large truck to the front end of the machine where it is fed in. A system of rakes, screens, pans and tubs, carry the wool through water which has been treated to a preparation which softens it and makes it suds easily; the dirt and grease are thus expelled, and the wool comes out on screens at the lower end. It is then placed upon trays in a drying room through which hot air is forced by a rotary fan running at a high speed. About 150,000 pounds of wool are scoured each week and it is estimated the plant will run for six months of the year. The owners are J. F. Matheson and Leon Hallin who moved the plant from Colorado City Texas on account of the lease law destroying the sheep industry in Texas. The plant cost $200,000 and is one of the best in the west. This industry cannot fail to be of great value to the town of Carlsbad, employing as it does some fifteen men for at least six to ten months each year.

Politics are getting warm, hot in fact. Attend the democratic meeting at court house to night.

Went to be Shod.

A remarkable instance of horse sense was exhibited at the Russell stables Tuesday, says the Pittsburg Journal. They have at that stable a horse which was purchased from ex-Senator Dawes and known as the Dawes mare, she is used on the baggage wagon running from the hotel to the depot.

Tuesday morning the old horse was taken out of the stable and on the way to the depot she slipped on the ice and fell. Again during the morning hours about town the horse slipped on the ice. As noon the horse was unblethed and sent into her stall for her midday meal.

She is never hitched, and when the men looked for her to make the one o'clock trip to the station she was nowhere to be found. They searched the stable and the streets and finally went to ex-Senator Dawes' house but the old mare was not to be found.

Toward three o'clock, however, she appeared at the stable trotting in briskly and, looking around, walked into her stall.

It was discovered that she had been newly shod and the employee made inquiries at the blacksmith shop and learned that the horse had arrived there a little after noon and awaited her turn for the shoe. The men at the shop knew her and thought she had been left there by some one of the hostlers.

The old Dawes mare is making her regular trips to-day with new sharp corbs, and she has won the heart of every stableman by her knowledge of the right thing to do at the right time.

Letter From J. M. Hawkins.

SANTA FE, N. M., Mon, 13, 1900, EDITOR CURRENT.

In the last number of your paper I noticed statements made by Bruce Jones with regard to the treatment of convicts by Captain James, first assistant superintendent at the penitentiary, in which the late inmate of the prison credits Supt. Borsum with being O. K., but says Captain James is all kinds of a cruel scoundrel. I presume that Mr. Jones is not a bad man, if he did get a sentence on account of a cow case, for the term was short and was commuted to five months. I have no wish to get into a controversy, nor would the prison officials take the trouble to run down and deny gossip of disaffected prisoners. There is no occasion to defend the hospitality of the prison, nor to make it appear as a cheerful home where the latch string hangs out. Every admission involves a case of forcible entry and detention—one has to break in where he is not invited and is detained, certainly. As to Mr. James having control, he is an assistant who simply carries out the orders and rules of the superintendent and the prison directors. As to his having started sick men and caused several to die by cruel treatment, the story is absurd. Capt. James is a mild, gentle old man, who stood well in Albuquerque, where he formerly kept a hotel, he was once chief of the coal operating department of the Santa Fe railway company and was selected for the prison position solely because of fitness. He looks after the hotel features of the place. I went to the prison to-day and looked over the death record. There have been but two deaths since Captain James has been employed, among 200 men, since early in June last. The hospital is clean, comfortable and the sick are well treated. The office punishment records show that but five entries have been made, and the last occurrence was in June. The name of Bruce Jones does not appear among those punished. The last entry was made before the arrival of June at the prison, since June the prison rules have prevented anybody from being put on bread and water diet. In one case a man was deprived of tobacco for three months. In June a man was on bread and water diet one day. Another was deprived of one meal. Another was forbidden to communicate with other prisoners for brief time. That is the sum and substance of it all. The cell house keeper also has a punishment record. This shows slight punishment for minor infractions of the rules, but in very few instances—solitary confinement, on regular diet. Three men have been paddled moderately in a way that shames even a boy, in the presence of a physician, after a hearing before all the officials of the prison and not on the mere accusation of the guards. The men are well fed not driven in their work and make little trouble. The guards and employees are given to understand that prisoners are not there to be persecuted, and no insubordination is ever noticeable. The men are kept at work but it does not appear that they are laboring, except of their own volition. I have never seen a city or county jail as clean and healthful, nor prisoners so comfortable in their surroundings as at the territorial pen. The cow boy who made such incredible statements to you, probably heard some "bloody bones" stories, which some convicts are in the habit of telling. It may be just as well for those inclined to break the laws to fear the worst of a prison, but it is unjust to employees to be paraded in print as tyrants and murderers of prisoners, and it is not creditable to New Mexico to have it published that she has a prison where horrible cruelties are practiced. I do not know what outrages have been practiced under other management, but I do know that the present treatment of prisoners is mild, humane and just. It is marvelous to me that so little punishment is needed, and as for Captain James, I think if a reign of terror were instituted, the first assistant would lose his job, and a mean man get the place. This is not written with the knowledge or at the suggestion of any of the prison people. Knowing your disposition to sympathize with the unfortunate had led you into quoting an idle story about alleged wrongs. I thought I would tell you the truth for your own information, since the only wrong is done to Captain James.

I trust that you will give credence to my declaration when I say that from repeated visits, general knowledge, general reputation of the prison and the special investigation of the records, I know that there is no ground for any unfavorable comment as to the treatment of convicts, unless some men may hold that the prison is too easy a place and not enough of a hell. Respectfully,

J. M. HAWKINS.

The assessor is at present making the rounds of the county. When his labors are completed the full list of tax payers and amount assessed to each will be published in this paper. Then, all will have an opportunity to show to the board of equalization, who the dodgers are. Then it will be the duty of the board to assess all who are missed by the assessor and raise to the full, all stock owners who have not given in their full number of stock. The crime of perjury is one of the easiest proven in this matter and if a number of the honest people combine, to prosecute dodgers for perjury there will be very little tax dodging. It is the large owners generally who are the most given to dodging. The small owners as a rule give in their stock very well. Then those of our citizens who have stock in Texas should render same here, because people who live in Chaves county and have stock running all over this county render their stock for taxation in Chaves. People who have government land fenced and pay no lease, or tax on the land, should be the last to try to dodge taxes on stock. Should all stock in the county be rendered this season, the rate will be reduced more than half and taxes will be lower in Eddy county than either in El Paso county on the south, or Chaves county on the north.

While many are at a loss as yet to know the real cause of war between the British and the Boers, there never was but one cause alleged by England, which demanded of the republicans the right of suffrage for the people of England, while they still retained their allegiance to the queen. Now, any and every American knows that such an outrageous demand if made on any other country would be held to be unreasonable. Even McKinley would not allow an Englishman to vote in this country unless the Englishman renounced allegiance to the queen. The English made all preparations to enforce their demands and the Boers simply attacked first in order not to be overwhelmed, with out an opportunity to at least strike a blow at England. The Boers are right and were it not for having an English body in the president's chair of the United States, the Boers would now be free and would not be compelled to allow an English subject to vote, unless he would do as he must in this country—renounce the queen of England.

The Midland badger puller, now that the lease law is out of the way, has some more to say to the CURRENT about our remarks on the name of the town to the Roswell Record. The CURRENT is able to attend to its own affairs without any assistance. Regarding what is said concerning the town of Carlsbad being one of the "finest little towns in the west" and requesting this paper to "represent" it, we will say; there have been several others tried to "represent" it since the advent of the CURRENT, but they are all gone—to the bone yard—and this paper still remains under the same management it started, which is the oldest of any paper in the Pecos valley or surrounding country, all others having changed hands a dozen times, more or less, since the CURRENT first hung its banner in the breeze, nearly eight years ago. If the badger puller from Midland wants a hand in "representing" Carlsbad we will welcome him with open arms, take him in, and do him up.

The most unfortunate feature of all of this tax dodging, is the fact that the man who does not render his property is damaged, by the reputation he makes for himself and the county. Should he wish to dispose of his property such as cattle on the range, a purchaser will always discredit his statements, since he has actually made affidavit that he has a less number than he claims. Then the tax rate being high, purchasers are suspicious and generally think twice before investing in a county so apparently overtaxed.

The Alamogordo News a subsidized sheet printed in the interests of the republican clique now endeavoring to vote the citizens of Otero county, will learn later on that the people of that county are not to be led around by the nose to any greater extent than elsewhere.

When an outfit sells 2,000 head of steers May 1, and renders only 1,500 head all told claimed to be owned "May 1, for taxation, the county is coming to a pretty hard pass.

If cattlemen would give in for taxation, all or even a few more cattle than they have, no one would grudge them the free range.

Tracy & McEwan.

Mr. Sheldon a Kansas minister has been giving us samples of a newspaper the past week written in a style, or in his conception, of how the savior would conduct a paper. Much of the Topeka Capital was taken up with tirades against the liquor evil and other things. Mr. Sheldon does not agree with, very similar to the ordinary sectarian newspaper. The social evil is passed over without even a much reference, as the story of the woman brought to the Master by the scribes and Pharisees. Sheldon does not even say: "Ye judge after the flesh, I judge no man." It would seem that if Sheldon really wished to publish a paper such as Jesus would, he would have given his readers a few verses from the "Imitation" by Thomas A' Kempis, such as the following:

BOOK 2, CHAPTER 4—OF A PURE MIND AND A SIMPLE INTENTION.

By two wings is man lifted above earthly things, viz: by simplicity and purity. Simplicity must be in the intention, purity in the affection.

Simplicity aimeth at God, purely apprehendeth Him and tasteth Him.

No good work will be a hindrance to thee, provided thou be free interiorly from all inordinate affection.

If thou aim at and seek after nothing else but the will of God and thy neighbor's benefit, then shalt thou enjoy interior liberty.

If only thy heart were right then every created thing would be to thee a mirror of life and a book of holy teaching.

There is no creature so little and so vile, that it showeth not forth the goodness of God.

If thou wert inwardly good and pure then wouldst thou discern all things without impediment, and comprehend them well. A pure heart penetrates heaven and hell. According as every one is interiorly, so doth he judge exteriorly.

If there be joy in the world, truly the man of pure heart possesseth it.

And if there be anywhere tribulation and distress an evil conscience doth the more readily experience it.

As iron cast into the fire loses its rust, and becomes all bright with burning, so the man that turneth himself wholly to God is divested of all sooth, and changed into a new man.

CHAPTER V—OF SELF CONSIDERATION.

We may not trust too much for our selves, for grace and understanding are often wanting to us. There is in us but little light, and this we soon lose by negligence.

Oftentimes we are quite unconscious how entirely blind we are.

Sometimes we are moved by passion and overlook great things in ourselves.

We are quick enough in perceiving and weighing what we hear from others, but we think little of what others have to bear from us. He that should well and justly weigh his own doings would find little cause to judge harshly of another.

If thou attendest wholly to thyself and to God, what thou seest abroad will affect thee but little.

Let there be nothing great, nothing high, nothing pleasant, nothing acceptable to thee but only God Himself, or what comes from God.

Think it all vanity, whatever consolation thou mayest meet with from any creature. The soul that loveth God despiseth all things that are less than God.

God only, the eternal and infinite, who filleth all things, is the source of the soul and the true joy of the heart.

While it would be absolutely impossible to even approach the object of conducting a paper as Jesus would a person might use material from the most pious people who have lived the past 1800 years and thereby give the public some very religious reading. In our opinion the relegating to one's self, ability to conduct a paper as Jesus would, is the greatest, grandest and most sublime position of self conceit ever exhibited and nothing, if not sacrilege. It is, however, a great satisfaction to know that there are few men in newspaper life who make the pretensions of a Sheldon. Sensation seems to be the order of the day, and until the public becomes educated to the fact that there is nothing in it, sensation makers will abound.

An organization of tax payers is an absolute necessity in Eddy county. There are enough honest tax payers in each section of the county to watch the dodgers. Let those who give in organize.

The Irish and the Boers.

For many years it has been a favorite phrase, if not among the good people, among the good fellows, that it was better to be Irish than to be right.

At nearly all the meetings held in this country to sympathize with the Boers in their war with the Britons, Irishmen have been conspicuous. In fact it has been more than once asserted in prominent quarters that American sympathy for the Boers was almost entirely Irish. This is not just a proper or an intelligent statement.

The Boers are of the same blood and the same class as the Schuylers, Van Rensselaers, Van Wycks of our revolutionary era, and of the Astors and Vanderbilts and Roosevelts of our modern era. They are honest, God-fearing, family loving men. They are today among the best of our people.

What we call the Kliekerbocker is to all intents and purposes the Boer.

But, as illustrative of the broadness and depth and generosity of the views of the man of Irish blood the attitude of the Irish in the present war is well deserving of consideration.

The imperialistic and stingy craft of Europe have for years been accusing the Irish of anarchy. The accusation is to a certain extent correct. The Irish form the out post of American sentiment and ideas in Europe. The Irish, in fact, are the Americans of Europe. They have taught Europe the ideas of American liberty and have practiced it themselves. They have compelled the English aristocracy to grant to England, Ireland and Scotland local self-government.

But while the Irish as a whole sympathize with the Boers, it is noticeable that the men of mark in control of the British forces in South Africa are Irish. Roberts is Irish to the core. So is Kitchener and French and Clery and Kelly-Kenny and Baden-Powell and White, Methuen and Gatacre are English and so is Buller. The gallant and lamented Wauchope was a Scotchman. The list reveals that the men of bravery, action and genius are almost exclusively Irish. French the only man who has turned a Boer column is from Rosecommon. Roberts is from Waterford, Kitchener is from Kerry, Clery from Wicklow and Kelly-Kenny from Clare. All of the old blood and of the fighting race.

The one great failure and disappointment of the war is Buller. He was sent out as commander-in-chief with a field marshal's sash and an earldom in sight. Buller was the "special commissioner" to the south of Ireland in 1885. He it was who, surrounded by 5,000 soldiers and constabulary, struck Charles Stewart Parnell on the head with a blackthorn stick. Now, this "unspeakable ruffian" has been found wanting in every way. The Boers have licked him wherever they met him. But Parnell's countrymen Roberts, Kitchener, French, Clery, White, Kelly-Kenny and Baden-Powell have carried off the honor of the war.

Even in a wrong cause justice sometimes asserts itself.—El Paso News.

Mr. Hawkins, who for several years resided here and with his estimable wife and daughter were pleasant neighbors writes entertainingly regarding the New Mexico penitentiary. We hear so seldom from the erstwhile editor of the Argus that the pen will be referred to quite often in the future, so as to elicit a reply from our neighbor. Bruce says despite the fact that Mr. Hawkins writes unexceedingly well that if a person is from Missouri, that the facts may be learned by doing something and going to the pen. He says his story will stand truthful to the convicts all right.

Miss Parnell Speaks.

Dublin, March 12.—Miss Anna Parnell, sister of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, publishes the following letter: "Since the Queen, whose Irish soldiers have hitherto been punished if they ventured to sport the shamrock, has how ordered them to wear it as a token of their degradation, it seems to me those Irish who do not wish to be identified with the robber Lords of South Africa should take some notice of this insult to their little plaid, whose very humbleness might have protected it from the Queen's Emprress. I suggest that those who cannot refrain from wearing the shamrock should dip it into the ink until the dishonor is wiped out by the final triumph of the Boers, or in some other way."

TO THE TRADE:
My brand was selected for use at U. S. Marine Hospital at Washington, D. C., after being analyzed by the eminent chemist, W. M. New, over eighty seven samples of the leading brands of Kentucky, Maryland and Pennsylvania. It should be borne in mind that in this department of the government service the sample appear in plain bottles, without marks of any kind, and the selection of the Searcy Whisky two years, '92 and '94, on its merits, over such a large number of prominent brands is a record that few distillers can show. The water used for the manufacture of this whisky is from the noted Rolling Spring in Anderson county, Ky., which stands at a temperature of 54 degrees the year round, with a supply inexhaustible. This water is at all times clear. I will further state that I have never had a single barrel returned.

THE MORMONS DID IT.

WHAT WE OWE TO BRIGHAM YOUNG'S FOLLOWERS.

They Were the First to Put Into Operation the Idea of Irrigating Arid Regions—Has Given Us a Vast Property.

(Boise, Idaho, Letter.)

Criticism of the Mormons as you will, they must be credited with the wonderful system of irrigation by which the wastes of the western states have been redeemed. On July 24, 1847, Brigham Young and his little band of pioneers began the construction of the first irrigation canal ever built in the United States.

Irrigation made of Utah's desert wilderness the garden spot of America. It is doing as much for Idaho, where the mountains are so located that ample valleys, and plains of millions of acres, may be easily and economically watered. On the Nile, in Italy, Spain and elsewhere in Europe, irrigation has prevailed for centuries. Indeed, 60 per cent of the world's breadstuffs and cereals are grown by irrigation.

Where "the vine-clad hills and citron groves" around Vesuvius in sunny Italy are found, a great population has been sustained for many thousand years—and the land has never worn out—its wonderful vitality being due to underlying strata of lava which by some curious chemistry renders the soil immortal.

Idaho's wonderfully productive soil covers lava strata deposited by volcanoes long ago extinct. The rejuvenation of the land results not alone from this lava, but from rich fertilizers annually brought to it by the irrigation waters. It is almost an aphorism that land is good where sage brush grows. Marvelous must therefore be the fertility of Idaho, for everywhere the green of the sage is seen. Wheat, corn, oats, barley, alfalfa, timothy, rye, flax, tobacco, broom corn, sorghum, sweet and Irish potatoes, beets, cabbages, hops, and fruits, such as prunes, apples, pears, plums, peaches, cherries, apricots, nectarines, grapes and all of the small bush products, grow profusely. Particularly do the apple, pear and prune attain to perfection in size and flavor.

Alex. McPherson of Boise City realized $600 per acre from apples. Geo. L. Hall of Mountain Home sold $800 worth of peaches from one acre. T. J. Phifer of Boise City realized $900 from two acres of Italian prunes. Instances like these can be multiplied ad infinitum.

But Idaho does not depend entirely upon agriculture. Its mountains are filled with mining camps which furnish a home market for far more agricultural products than the state is now able to produce.

Snake River Valley contains about 2,000,000 acres and some of the finest pastoral scenes there presented are in the midst of gold placer mining operations. Many farmers there realize handsomely for work during spare hours—washing shining powdered gold from the river's bed.

In a state having so many productive portions to select from it is hard to suggest particular locations, but settlers will find room for any number of new homes.

Different state and private agencies are sending out printed information about Idaho. Perhaps the most conservative prepared matter is that now emanating from the general passenger agent of the Oregon Short Line at Salt Lake City, Utah. This railroad permeates almost every agricultural region in the state and stands ready to furnish to homeseekers every courtesy in the power of its officers.

At the present rate Idaho will soon be as thickly populated as Utah. It is in the same latitude as France, Switzerland, Portugal, Spain and Italy, and its climate is incomparable.

Vast timber areas furnish lumber of excellent quality. Cyclones and destructive storms never occur. The winters are short and people work out doors all the year. The annual death rate is the lowest of any state in the Union.

Verily Idaho is a wonderful state and destined to become the home place of many times its present population.

Paul Revere Station

One of the statues which will be placed in Copple square in Boston is to be of Paul Revere on his famous midnight ride at the outbreak of the Revolution. He is shown just as he has reined his horse to call to a farmer that the British are coming. Those who have seen the model say that the work is most lifelike; the horse preserves some of the momentum of his dash and is full of fire, while the figure of Revere shows the intense excitement of his wild journey.

As soon as the winter days get longer some women begin to worry about flies and mosquitoes.

LITTLE BLACK IMPS.

Back in Berlin the name of Max Hertzler had been of some account. He was, to begin with, a Hertzler, which meant much. As a matter of course, he was an officer in the army—his sisters had starved themselves for his commission and maintenance—and he was handsome, even for a German officer. Unfortunately for him, he sang the love songs of his country, and they are quite the most moving songs in the world. They move the singers as "as" as the listeners. They moved Hertzler, and on one night in particular when he was bidden to the house of a certain titled lady he was so lifted out of himself by the charms of his music that he proposed to an American girl who was present, and to his startled dismay, he was accepted.

It was a misfortune, for he was not in sympathy with the American point of view, he did not like the insistence and intellectual arrogance of American women, and he had quite made up his mind to marry a senseless and well-born fraulein who did neat work and went to kaffee klaisches. He almost loved her, she was so nondescript, and would be well content to make a harmless background of herself for his benefit. Moreover, in spite of all his vanity, he was rather soft-hearted, and it hurt him to think how many tears would bedew those soft blue eyes when she heard of his engagement to the American girl.

The American girl had, moreover, been known to do things which were shocking. She had gone shopping about the streets of Berlin unaccompanied, she had once used slang before a Weimar professor of philosophy, and she had been heard to say that she did not like the shape of the emperor's nose. Which is the only excuse that an American girl has for living, and it was said she made some serious mistakes in her interpretation of the Fifth Symphony.

Yet he married her. And they went to America.

"It is just as well," said his friends, sadly. "Really, you know, it is all over with poor Max."

They felt that he was as good as dead.

It was dull in America. Well, New York wasn't so bad, perhaps, but the other towns—bah! There wasn't a true city among them. It didn't count for a man to be anybody. No one paid any attention to Max because he was a Hertzler. It made him bitter. He had a little summer house built in the yard back of his house where they lived, and smoked his pipe there and dreamed of Berlin. Also he planted some flowers and some little trees. He liked these and paid much attention to them. He studied a good deal—military tactics and botany. But he neglected to provide the daily bread. No one could blame him for it. It was an oversight on his part. His wife taught music lessons—she gave private lessons and class lessons, and she sometimes performed at concerts. Her peculiar treatment of the Fifth Symphony did not militate against her in America.

In the course of the long and busy years four children were born to the Hertzlers, but still the burden of the breadwinning developed upon Max. He never complained. It was the greatest pleasure in the world for her to return home and find the baron sitting there. She never saw a man so handsome. And he was always kind. Sometimes he found odd jobs to do—bookkeeping, or work in a railroad office, or book editing. He was willing—but not eager—to work. Time was apt to hang heavily upon his hands. And so it became his habit to amuse himself in a peculiar way—namely, by the making of little black devils. He made them on anything that came to hand—an envelope, a scrap of paper, a playing card, or a book margin. He represented them in every imaginable style. He gave them a thousand subtle individualities. His mind appeared to be beset by them. Many of his acquaintances had wondered in the course of their intercourse with him what it was that filled that large, handsome head. Now they seemed to be finding out. The little imps tramped out of his cranium in such numbers that they threatened to leave it quite void and empty.

The children were growing up, and children cannot do that, no matter how unobtrusive they endeavor to be, without costing some one something. These children developed talents, and in a utilitarian age talents cannot be allowed to go to waste. Madam Hertzler considered it incumbent on her to see that one studied dramatic expression, and another the violin, and another wood carving, and another modeling in clay, besides all of the regulation studies. She brought a great circle of friends about her, who adored her Bohemian evenings, and who considered the baron one of the most interesting gentlemen they had ever met.

The baron did not consider himself interesting. He was bored with himself. He wondered if time would never pass in America—and drew little black devils while he was waiting to find out. Among his many pleasing and heterodox friends who visited the Hertzlers was a newspaper man of a whimsical turn of mind. He had been the recipient on a certain occasion of a pack of playing cards in which each club, spade, heart or diamond was represented by a scarlet or black devil, and the design upon the backs of the cards was a writhing, twisting inferno of the same grotesque little creatures. He looked at these long and appreciatively, did the newspaper man, and he was seized with an idea. This idea was the outcome of his observations. He had noticed that there was a look of extreme weariness in the eyes of the amiable Madam Hertzler, and that she walked more slowly than she used, and her selections at the piano, which had once been noted for their length, were now brief and lacking in spirit. In short, the brave spirit of Madam Hertzler drooped under many burdens. So the newspaper man entered upon the making of a collection, assisted by the energetic and talented children of the baron. Little black devils were gathered from every part of the house, heads were torn from letters, that the fascinating imps might be preserved. Leaves were rent from books, and even a pocket handkerchief done in a procession of dancing imps, in indelible ink, was taken in charge.

The practical friend sent these to a certain much-illustrated comic weekly and anxiously awaited results. The family was of the opinion that there would be no results. The baron was in a state of peaceful ignorance.

But the results were almost dramatic. The comic weekly was amused. It wanted a series, indefinitely continued, of little black devils illustrating current events.

The officious friend carried the good news to Baron von Hertzler.

"Sir!" stormed the baron. "You have exceeded your privileges. I am no clown to flip and kick while the people laugh! Will you have the great goodness to recall these personal possessions of mine from the stranger to whom you have confided them?"

But the newspaper man was obdurate.

"You will be distinguished in a few minutes," he said. "I'm going to set my alarm clock so I can wake up at the proper moment and see the fun. No, I'll not write for the imps. I've already sold part of them. The check will reach you in a few days. And you must be about those current illustrations of current happenings. When they want a thing on a paper they want it. They don't care to wait."

"Am I to be at the beck and call of these men whom I have never seen?" "It is not necessary to see them in order to be at their beck and call." The baron considered all Americans stupid, but he regarded this one as particularly so. Especially when he found that his family was leagued with the perverse man to insist upon the making of the little devils. Under protest, and with frequent lamentations that he would be made ridiculous, the baron worked on. The first few days were dreary, but the second week saw him tolerant, the third week found him interested, and at the end of a month he was enthusiastic. The joy of work—individual, creative work—was an emotion he had only just discovered. And when the monetary results became appreciable he grew almost proud. He began to gather ideas about the propriety of women working, and finally he commanded his wife to cease her money-earning. With a great show of wisely submission Madam Hertzler obeyed. She rested at last, after the day's heat and burden, and a smiling German gentleman, lord of his house and dictator over his dominions, made adorable little black devils in the solitude of his study.—Chicago Tribune.

Reading Aloud.

An accomplishment that receives too little attention among trained nurses is the art of reading aloud. Only those who have had to lie on a sick bed through long weeks and months can appreciate the comfort of being enabled to listen to intelligent reading.

A gentle, pleasantly inflected voice, a clear and distinct articulation, and an intelligent comprehension of the matter read have a soothing effect upon the most irritable nerves, and for that reason should be considered desirable qualifications in a sick nurse. There are many people who cannot afford the expense of having both a companion and a nurse, but a nurse who can be a companion as well must be considered an acquisition indeed.

Lamartine's Barber Still Ate.

Lamartine's barber, a certain M. Imphy, is (says a Paris correspondent) still alive. He is just ninety-two, and his greatest delight is to talk of his hero. He treasures up a faded daguerotype of the sentimental politician, who, having been the dominant figure in France, died in obscurity. M. Imphy's show was the favorite gathering place of the celebrities of '48. It is probable that M. de Lamartine, who used to summon his hairdresser to Macon, employed him as an emissary in those turbulent days. It was pleasing to know from such an authority that Lamartine was the inventor of "genuine bear's grease from Russia," and that this unguent was the cause of the poet's silky locks.

Fame Men Are Born Lucky.

RECALLS OLD CRIME.

DEATH IN NEW YORK OF A HEARTLESS BETRAVER.

He Came to the Keenest Murderer a Wanderer and Was Tied For—Finally Convinced to Try for the Hangman's Reward.

There died in a New York liquor house the other day a man who had drunk himself to death. His very body had begun to decay as a result of continual saturation with narcotics. He was known about the saloons as "Jim, the Bum," but his real name was James Leppance. His remains were carried away to the potter's field, while his soul flitted to the judgment, there to stand trial for a crime for which the laws of human government prescribe no punishment. Fifteen years ago Leppance betrayed into the hands of the law one Luke Phipps, who on the night of August 15, 1883, shot his young wife on a Detroit river ferry boat. Mrs. Phipps was in company with a man, a stranger to the murderer. No effort was made to shoot her companion. The shooting was done on the Canadian side and Phipps was at once arrested and held in the Sandwich, Ont., jail, for murder in the first degree. While awaiting trial he escaped with some other prisoners but was recaptured in Pullman, Ill.

At the time of Phipps' capture it was given out that while under the influence of liquor he told of the murder, and revealed his identity; that William McEwen, son of the then sheriff of Essex county, who was employed in the Pullman office, heard of Phipps' unsolicited confession, and wired his father, who sent on deputies.

In a recent conversation with Detective Andy Rohan of Chicago, who arrested Phipps, that officer revealed to a Detroit detective a story of baseness and ingratitude on the part of the informer against Phipps, that places the first version at naught. It seems that the wife-slayer broke jail on November 29, of the year of his arrest, with another murderer named Greenwood and a thief named Seers. They saved themselves through the bars of their window and lost little time in getting out of the queen's dominions. Phipps wandered to the Illinois town, where, in fancied security, he started a poolroom. One

Eugenie De Montijo, the widow of Emperor Napoleon III., has been no less unhappy than her two friends, Mme. Bazaine and the Empress Carlotta. She lives a sad and lonely woman in Chislehurst, England. The overthrow of the French empire and the expatriation and death of her husband crushed her ambitious spirit, and her bereavement was completed in 1879, when her only son was killed while fighting against the Zulus in South Africa.

FLOCK OF BUZZARDS.

The Scavengers of Charleston, and Work Every Day Except Sunday.

Washington correspondence Chicago Record: One of the curious sights in Charleston is a flock of buzzards, which, six days in the week, hover around the streets and alleys, and particularly the market places of that city. They are the public scavengers and are protected by law. They clean the streets of garbage and other filth, and work from dawn to sunset in a most energetic and faithful manner on familiar terms with the population. They have learned not to fear any one, but swoop down wherever they like and carry off all the decaying animal and vegetable matter they find. When the sun goes down they fly across the bay and roost in the dark groves that line the banks of the river. They never work on Sunday. Charleston is a very religious city. The observance of the Sabbath is more strict there perhaps than in any other place of its size in the country. The people, mostly Presbyterians and Huguenots, retain the old-fashioned ideas about the fourth commandment. Even the vultures respect this sentiment, and "Remember the Sabbath day to keep it holy." When they disappear Saturday night they are never seen again until Monday morning, and this has been their habit as long as the oldest inhabitant can remember.

The American Duel.

Two German students having quarreled, decided the earth was not large enough for both of them to live on and resorted to the diabolical practice called an "American duel." In a darkened room the two young men drew lots, having sworn that he who drew the black ball would commit suicide. The unhappy loser went to his room and discharged a bullet into his breast, but missed his heart, and lingered for several days on his deathbed; his parents were summoned by telegraph and brought him on their knees to disclose the name of his antagonist, but he steadfastly refused, and died with the secret in his breast. The students not only excused his conduct, but praised his courage, and when his remains were taken to the railway station to be transported to a distant city, they accompanied the funeral cortege with torches and music. The students claimed he was not a suicide, for he was killed in an honorable duel, and they maintained that his opponent was not necessary to his death, because he shot himself.

Thunder and Lightning.

Thunder and lightning, though natural operations, are a cause of great alarm to many. It is seldom any person is injured who keeps away from considerable metallic substances and avoids immediate contact with the walls of the house. The middle of the room is in general perfectly safe, and the lower rooms are safer than the upper. A bed removed at a slight distance from the walls of the room is in perfect security, even if the house were struck. When lead is used on the roofs of buildings particular care should be taken that it communicates with the ground, and by these means with the ground. To determine the distance of the lightning, count the seconds between the flash and the thunder, and reckon less than a quarter of a mile for every second.

The Hot Winds of the Rockies.

Scientists are of the opinion that hot, dry winds that blow over the eastern slope of the Rocky mountains depend upon the presence of slow-moving, low-pressure areas in that region, and thence eastward, accompanied by relatively high pressure over the Pacific ocean off the coast of Oregon. It is believed that air is heated in its sudden passing from the summit of the Rockies to the plains below.

UNHAPPY BY AMBITION.

Widow of Noted Man Who Was New Miserable.

The recent death of Madame Bazaine, in a hospital in Mexico, removes the first of three famous and unhappy women whose histories are closely intertwined and whose ambitious schemes have helped to shape the destiny of France. The other two are Carlotta, the widow of the ill-starred Emperor Maximilian of Mexico, and Eugenie, the widow of Napoleon III., Emperor of the French. Mme. Bazaine was a Mexican lady and the friend of Empress Carlotta. When she became the wife of Gen. Bazaine, the marshal of France, Emperor Maximilian gave her a princely dowry. She encouraged her husband's ambitious projects and remained loyal to him through all his misfortunes. When he was sentenced to be degraded and shot for having capitulated to the Germans at Metz without having exhausted all his means of defense, his wife succeeded in getting his sentence commuted to twenty years' imprisonment without military degradation. Shortly afterward she effected his escape from prison and was his comfort and stay until his death in 1888. Mme. Bazaine's friend and patroness, the Empress Carlotta, is still living in an insane asylum in Brussels. She is the daughter of King Leopold of Belgium. When her husband, Maximilian, was compelled to abandon all hope of succeeding to the crown of Austria she encouraged him to accept the offer of Napoleon III. to make him Emperor of Mexico. When Maximilian was hard pressed by the republican troops in Mexico she went to France and appealed for assistance to Napoleon and Eugenie. Her appeal was refused and she became insane. It is said that she does not to this day know that her husband was shot in Mexico thirty-three years ago.

Last of the Sergeants.

Mr. Sergeant Spinks, whose name is worthy of Dickens, died recently, London, the last of the sergeants. The sergeants-at-law formerly monopolized the practice of the court of common pleas, but their privilege was done away with thirty years before the reform of the law courts in 1875 put an end to their office. Two judges are left who became sergeants, as was customary, on being appointed to the bench, but Sergeant Spinks was the last man to bear the title made famous by Mr. Sergeant Buzius.

In Rhyme.

In illustration of the working powers of George H. Sims, the dramatist and poet, it is said that one night a new piece was produced at a leading theater in London. Sims sat it out, and then returned to his office, where he wrote a column and a half of criticism in rhyme. It was near the time for the paper to go to press when he began, and the boy took the piece verse by verse from him to the composing room, the boy walking continuously from one to the other for an hour.

WAS REMEMBERED.

The will of Charles L. Davis (Alvin Jostin), proprietor of the Alvin theater, Pittsburgh Pa., leaves $100,000 in real estate and $50,000 in personal property. After bequeathing sums ranging from $200 to $1000 to employees of the Alvin theater and providing for the payment of his debts, he directs that $500 be paid to Charles L. Strain of Albany, N. Y., $1000 to Charles M. Johnson of Pittsburgh and $1000 to Harry C. Stanley, a former member of his company. The residue of his estate is left to Margaret Schriver, an actress who formerly played in his company.

The New Leader.

There is much speculation among the truly aristocratic circles in New York over a rumor that Mrs. Astor has decided to abdicate her society leadership in favor of Mrs. Edmund Baylies. Mrs. Astor is understood to have been instructing the heiress apparent in the duties and privileges of a social queen and has found an apt pupil. Mrs. Baylies is of old Knickerbocker stock and therefore, at least so far as "blood" is concerned, fully qualified to wield the scepter.

Gatacre as a Gallant.

Of Gen. Gatacre it is said that he does not know what it is to be tired. He held an appointment at one time in one of the big military departments at Simla, and was a hard-worked man. There was some little act of courtesy he had been asked to perform for a lady leaving Ambala by a midnight train. The distance is well over 100 miles, and the road was mostly over Himalayan paths. He was not willing to shirk his day's work in his department, so had telegraphed to have relays of horses waiting along the road. Five minutes after he had disposed of his last "file" for the day he was in the saddle, galloping at breakneck pace down the hill road. He was at Ambala before midnight, did whatever he had been asked to do, and before the train was out of the station made the dust curl up as he galloped over the flat road that leads back from Ambala to Kalka—there was no branch railway then. The clerks in the office wondered next day why Col. Gatacre was late, but when he took his place at his desk at midday he showed no signs of having done a record-breaking ride.

PLEA TO PRESIDENT

A Memorial Will be Forwarded to Mr. McKinley

BY GOV. TAYLOR OF KENTUCKY.

The Parties Charged With Complicity in the Assassination of Gov. Goebel Have Engaged Attorneys.

Frankfort, Ky., March 17.—Gov. Taylor spent Friday at the executive mansion in conference with a Republican leaders, principal among whom were John W. Yerkes of Danville and D. W. Lindsay of this city. It is understood that a memorial to President McKinley, asking him to intervene and take a hand in the political contests, was the subject of this conference, but as several of those called into the conference did not arrive, a decision was not reached as to the exact terms of the measure that would be sent to the president. Gov. Taylor refused to state the contents of the memorial, but it is said that Gov. Taylor has expressed a desire for the assistance of a small body of troops, and also for support in the way of recognition of him as governor.

As a result of meetings held by a number of prominent citizens of Louisville it is announced that ex-Gov. John Young Brown has accepted the employment of chief counsel for the men arrested for the murder of the late Wm. Goebel. This action, its promoters say, is taken in order that no innocent man may be convicted through the agency of the $100,000 reward appropriated by the last legislature.

Ex-Gov. Brown will be chief counsel and with him will be associated Hon. George Denny of Lexington, W. C. P. Breckinridge of Lexington, Hon. J. C. Sims of Bowling Green, Hon. A. E. Wilson of Louisville and several others. These lawyers have been instructed to push the cases to an early trial and failing in that to institute habeas corpus proceedings in the state and federal courts.

Out on Bond.

Frankfort, March 17.—Secretary of State Powers, Capt. John Davis, W. H. Coulton and W. L. Hazelipp, were arraigned before Judge Moore Friday and after some argument between the attorneys Hazelipp was released on $10,000 bond. Judge Moore set the examining trial for Monday. County Attorney Polsgrove said he did not think the state could get ready for trial by that time, and in case they did not would ask for a continuance of two days.

Has a Perfect Right.

Berlin, March 17.—Referring to the attack on American missionaries in China and to the orders issued by the United States to Admiral Watson to send a warship to Taku to look after the interests of the missionaries, a high official of the German foreign office said:

"Germany does not claim authority over the entire Shan Tung peninsula and the United States government has a perfect right to send a ship there for the protection of American citizens."

Sent to Jail.

Outhrie, Ok., March 17.—Chief Justice Burford in chambers has denied the application of W. H. Redwine of Pawnee for release upon a writ of habeas corpus. Redwine declined to testify in the probate court at Pawnee in a case involving title to lots, and was ordered to jail for contempt. Justice Burford holds that he must stay in jail until he is willing to testify.

Flores, Aguinaldo's secretary of war, has surrendered to Gen. MacArthur.

FOR PRETORIA.

Lord Roberts Will Soon Start in the Direction of that City.

London, March 17.—With railway communication to the Cape intact, Lord Roberts will, in a very few days, be in a position to begin the advance on Pretoria. His deep political intuition, combined with his bold strategy, is having the result desired in the southern sections of the Orange Free State, which are rapidly coming down. Making is now the only point for anxiety, and as it is known that a force left Kimberley, its relief may be announced before many days pass. The efficiency of the relieving column is heightened by the fact that it is partly composed of regulars.

In the lobbies of parliament Friday evening it was rumored that Lord Roberts is about to issue a proclamation announcing that the former system of government in the Orange Free State is abolished and promising Free States who immediately surrender due consideration.

It is understood that all the continental powers, with one exception, uncompromisingly refused to intervene. The exception was Russia, whose reply was couched in less firm language, although, like the others, she declined to interfere. It is said that the pope was appealed to, but he declined to do anything beyond writing a letter to the queen appealing to her to stop the further effusion of blood. Dr. Leyds' efforts with King Leopold were quite as futile.

The latest advices respecting the surrender of Bloemfontein show that the approach of the British caused a stampede. Thirteen trains, each composed of forty cars and all crammed with Boers hurried northward just before the line was cut. Mr. Steyn, who had been compelled to surrender, but he pretended that he was going to visit one of the outposts and at midnight took a carriage which was waiting for him outside the town and thus escaped. The Boers got the bulk of their wagons and military stores away.

Great Enthusiasm.

Jamestown, Cape Colony, March 17.—There was much enthusiasm at All-well North when Gen. Brabant's troops occupied that place.

Commandant Oliver, the Boer commander, apologized for the action of the Boers during the last days of the occupation, saying he could not control his men.

The British are now entrenched on the Free State side of the Orange river, with the Boers holding an advantageous hill in front of them.

Passed Senate.

Washington, March 17.—After a debate, at times spirited, extending over parts of two days, the senate Friday passed the Puerto Rican relief bill. As passed the measure carries $2,695,000, the president being authorized to use that sum "for public education, public works and other governmental and public purposes" in Puerto Rico.

Mr. Chilton compared the bill to the Little was done in the house.

The Quay case is to be taken up April 2.

Venezuelan Bill.

London, March 17.—In the house of commons the parliamentary secretary for the foreign office, Mr. St. John Brodrick, answering a question, said the British expense in the case of the Venezuelan arbitration from 1895 to date was $65,625. He added that there was no suggestion that British Guiana should defray any part of the expense.

Webster Davis, assistant secretary of the interior, has arrived at Pretoria en route home.

CATTLE CHIEFS.

Rules of the Range Territorial Considerable Business.

Fort Worth, Tex., March 15.—In spite of the fact that a greater portion of the members of the Texas Cattle Raisers' association attended the magnificent ball given in their honor Tuesday night at Ellis hall by the Mystic Knights of Bovina, there was a large attendance at the operahouse Wednesday morning when President Kleberg rapped for order for the closing session.

L. F. Wilson presented the report of the special committee to consider the question of rates and the advisability of appointing a traffic manager, recommending the following resolution:

Resolved, That it is the duty of the executive committee to employ a suitable traffic manager to look after the interests of the cattle association.

The report was signed by all the members of the committee, viz.: Sidney Webb, L. F. Wilson and Winfield Scott.

This resolution, Mr. Wilson explained, had been adopted by unanimous vote of the committee, though there had been some difference among the committeemen as to the provision of funds for the payment of the salary of the traffic manager.

Considerable discussion followed, some favoring immediate action, others wishing it deferred until next year. The following resolution, offered by Ed Lassiter, prevailed:

Be it resolved, that the executive committee be authorized to gather data and inform themselves upon the ability of this association to protect its members from excessive or extortionate freight rates; and they are hereby authorized to expend such funds of the association as they may deem necessary to attain that end, and are requested to report to this association at its next meeting.

Greetings were sent the National Livestock association.

A resolution offered by Ike Pryor endorsing the bill now pending in congress in reference to the feed-in-transit question and recommending its passage was adopted.

President Kleberg announced that delegations from Kansas City and from Chicago were present for the purpose of extending invitations to this association and the Kansas City people would first be heard.

Col. J. M. Simpson spoke for Kansas City, inviting the members to visit there Oct. 23-24, when the Shorthorn and Hereford breeders' associations meet.

E. W. Hall invited the association to be at Chicago Dec. 115 to see the International Livestock exposition.

Both invitations were accepted. San Antonio was then formally selected for next year's meeting place and the association adjourned.

Parker, Papoose and Squaw.

Fort Worth, Tex., March 15.—One of the attractions of the cattlemen's convention as a side light was the appearance on the streets Wednesday of Chief Quannah Parker, the head of the Comanche Indians, accompanied by three of his six squaws and a papoose in the shape of a boy clad as a sailor lad. Wherever the quintette went curious crowds followed and observed every movement made by the sons and daughters of nature.

Sanitary Boards.

Fort Worth, Tex., March 15.—The Western Quarantine association, which is composed of the sanitary boards of Missouri, Kansas, Oklahoma, Texas, New Mexico and Arizona, met here and discussed the tuberculin test for cattle and glanders in horses and scab in sheep, and compared proclamations issued from Colorado, Kansas and Texas regarding the admission of Mexican cattle by government inspection. Missouri, Kansas, Texas, Oklahoma and Colorado were represented.

Fine Lot.

Fort Worth, Tex., March 15.—The cattle show this year has not only been successful beyond all previous efforts in this line, but has excited the wonder of visitors who have been accustomed to attending exhibitions of fine stock all their lives. It is conceded by not a few to be the finest thing of the kind ever seen in the southwest. A man so experienced in such matters as Jacob C. Doid, the well-known packer of Kansas City, says this is the finest lot of cattle he has ever seen.

The Holland submarine torpedo boat made a successful test.

Fatal Run Over.

Jacksonville, Tex., March 15.—Dave Lloyd, the 9-year-old son of Senator L. Lloyd of the thirteenth senatorial district, was run over by a northbound freight train on the International and Great Northern road at 1 o'clock Wednesday afternoon. One leg was ground off by a car wheel and other injuries to the body sustained which caused death a short time afterward. It is not definitely known how it occurred.

The charter for the Corsicana cotton factory capital $100,000, has been forwarded to Austin.

MEETS AT TEMPLE.

Young Men's Christian Association Convened in that City.

Temple, Tex., March 15.—The seventeenth annual convention of the Y. M. C. A. of Texas is in session here. The attendance is the largest in the history of the association, and many notables from over the state and from abroad are taking part in the proceedings. What strikes the visitors with wonder and admiration is the fine building and apparatus of the Railroad Y. M. C. A. of this city. Aside from the fine building here and the complete furnishing, the Temple Y. M. C. A. enjoys a grand distinction. It ranks fourth in the United States among railroad Y. M. C. A.'s in point of membership. It has 721 active members and employs six regular attendants at the building. Only Philadelphia, New York and Buffalo, in the order named, exceed Temple in membership.

The ladies of the city are earnest workers in the plans of entertainment and all the delegates ate dinner at the Y. M. C. A. building.

The convention was called to order Thursday night at 8:15 by State Secretary Lewis. Temporary organization was effected by the election of W. M. Lewis as president pro tem, and S. J. Brient of Palestine as secretary pro tem.

The address of welcome was delivered by Rev. G. S. Wyatt of Temple, and was responded to by R. Hayne King of Waco. Edward Watkins of Houston delivered an address on the opportunities of the twentieth century young men. W. A. Wynne of Dallas delivered a lecture on "My Duty as a Delegate."

Flurry Flakes Fall.

Waco, Tex., March 15.—During Wednesday night snow fell, making the ground white, reaching a level of half an inch. There was no ice to be seen, and on the whole it is probable that the light snowfall did more good than harm. The snow was preceded by a cold rain and a piercing norther, but the temperature remained to the last above the freezing point, therefore no material damage occurred in consequence of this rear guard action of retreating winter. Snow fell at many places.

Delegates Designated.

Austin, Tex., March 15.—Delegates were appointed by the governor to the Trans-Mississippi Commercial congress, to be held at Houston, on April 17-21, 1900, inclusive as follows: Geo. Sealy of Galveston, T. W. House of Houston, Walter Tips of Austin, L. R. Bryan of Angleton, T. B. Wheeler of Arkansas Pass, M. H. Aubrey of San Antonio, E. A. Fletcher of Beaumont, A. P. Duncan of Waco, P. B. Perkins of Dallas, D. C. Giddings, Jr., of Brenham.

For a Cotton Mill.

Cuero, Tex., March 15.—The citizens' meeting held here in the interest of a cotton factory was one of large attendance. After the usual amount of speechmaking the chairman, Judge S. F. Grimes, appointed a soliciting committee, who went to work at once, and before they finished for the evening had secured $45,000 in cash subscriptions. The work will be pushed along to the completion of the mill. Col. C. M. Terrell of San Antonio attended yesterday's meeting and took much stock in the plant.

Split His Head.

Big Springs, Tex., March 15.—C. D. Smith and S. H. Reed became involved in an altercation over settlement at their home, eighteen miles northeast of here. Smith attacked Reed with a knife and Reed's brother, Will, interfered. Smith attempted to draw a sixshooter. Will and his brother being unarmed, Will struck Smith with an ax, splitting his head and killing him instantly.

The men are stockmen, and brothers-in-law.

In a Sack.

Houston, Tex., March 15.—W. R. Hues, while working at the packing-house stockpens, which are on the north bank of the bayou, near the Cleveland compress, saw an object floating down the bayou which attracted his attention. He pulled it up near the bank and found that it was a child sewed up in a sack with two bricks tied to it. He did not open it, however, but later his assistant came to the place and cut the sack open and found the body of a male infant.

W. T. Wells, a leading retail grocer of Dallas, has made an assignment. Liabilities approximate $16,000, and assets $14,000. There are seventy-two creditors.

Nine-Cent Cotton.

Terrell, Tex., March 15.—J. B. Porter of this place, sold 295 bales of cotton here at 9c a pound.

Sherman, Tex., March 15.—A big cotton sale took place at the Cotton Exchange at auction, Scott & McKoon of this city have held 534 bales of cotton since September last. Berge, Forbes & Co. purchased 469 bales at 9 1/2-10c and the Denison cotton mills bought the remaining thirty-nine bales at 9 1/2c. The aggregate amount involved approximated $25,000.

They Turned to Death.

Waco, Tex., March 15.—Joe, the little 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Beaver, living seven miles south, was burned in a barn of corn, cotton seed and hay, so badly that he died in two hours after being rescued from the flames by his father. All the family were at home, and Mr. Beaver was in the house reading, when he heard his little son making a strange noise in the direction of the barn. Nothing was thought of it, and in a few moments an older brother, playing in the yard, shouted, "Papa, the barn is on fire, and Joe is in there!" The father rushed to the barn, which was now in flames, and after diligent search saw the little fellow through the cracks of the barn lying still and lifeless in the smoke and flames, but could not get to him, as the fire was raging between the entrance and the boy, but by the aid of an ax the father effected an entrance through the wall and rescued the child from the flames, now burned almost to a crisp and beyond recognition. A bucket of water dashed over the body revived the little fellow in a manner, so that he breathed slightly for two hours, and then died.

The boy was in the habit of striking matches about the place, and the theory is that he took matches into the barn with him on this occasion.

Conferred.

Austin, Tex., March 15.—County Judge Will F. Robertson and the county commissioners of Williamson county, with delegations from Taylor and Georgetown, headed by the respective mayors of the two cities, were here Saturday in consultation with the governor and state health officer in regard to the smallpox situation in Williamson county.

The smallpox patients are without physicians or supplies, the city and county authorities refusing to defray the expenses. The counties throughout the state are taking care of smallpox patients, but the commissioners' court of Williamson county, or at least three of them, refuse to agree to pay the expenses of the detention camp. Unless the city of Taylor pays one-half, this city refuses to do, and will not agree to pay one cent toward the maintenance of the camp, and at present neither city nor county has appropriated anything.

The county judge and two of the commissioners favor taking care of the patients, and the other three are against defraying the entire expense. The county may be quarantined as a result of the present status.

After the war he moved to Austin, and for the past thirty years has been an illustrator for magazines, periodicals and books. He was shot with a shotgun in the region of the heart and also stabbed in the breast with a knife, and must have died instantly. Justice C. Bertsch was notified and held the inquest over the dead Mexican. A Mexican by the name of Othemia de Leon is under arrest.

STATE SUCCESSFUL

Supreme Court Upholds Validity of Anti-Trust Law

IN THE CELEBRATED OIL CASE.

Justice McKenna Delivers the Opinion in Which the Matter is Flabberately Set Forth.

Washington, March 20.—In the United States supreme court an opinion was handed down Monday in the case of the Waters-Pierce Oil company, involving its right to do business in the state of Texas contrary to the provisions of the state anti-trust laws of 1889 and 1895.

It was charged, among other things, that the Waters-Pierce company was a member of the Standard Oil trust, as organized in 1882, and various other allegations were made, but the court did not enter upon a general discussion of trusts, contenting itself with a discussion of the Texas laws as applicable to this case. The opinion sustained the decisions of the state courts to the extent of affirming them, and was thus opposed to the contentions of the Oil company, but it did this upon the grounds that the state laws imposed a condition which the Oil company had accepted, and hence was without ground of complaint.

The opinion was handed down by Justice McKenna, who, reviewing the case, said that the Waters-Pierce company was a private corporation, incorporated in Missouri, which had begun business in the state of Texas in 1889. The suit grew out of the charge that the Oil company violated the statutes of the state of 1889 and 1895 against illegal combinations in restraint of trade, thereby incurring a forfeiture of its permit to do business in the state. The trial was first held in the district court of Travis county, in which the verdict was against the company. In the appeal to the court of civil appeals of the state this decision was affirmed, and it was brought to this court on a writ of error. The basis of the action was that the Standard Oil trust was organized in 1882, and it was owned that its intention was to control and monopolize the petroleum industry in the United States in restriction of trade, dividing the markets of the United States into various subdivisions, awarding Texas to the Waters-Pierce company. The decision of Monday was based upon the propositions which were submitted to the jury in the original trial. Justice McKenna said:

"The transactions of local commerce, which were held by the state courts to be violations of the statutes, consisted in contracts with certain merchants by which the plaintiff in error required them to buy of it, exclusively from it and from no other source, or buy exclusively from plaintiff in error and not sell to any person handling competing oils, or to buy exclusively from plaintiff in error and to sell at a price fixed by it.

"The statutes," he continued, "must be considered in reference to those contracts. In any other aspect they are not subject to our review on this record except the power of the state court to restrict their regulation to local commerce upon which a contention is raised."

He said the propositions raised by the state courts had been broadly discussed.

Alleged Confession.
Barboursville, Ky., March 20.—The report that F. Wharton Golden had turned state's evidence in the Goebel murder case was a great surprise here. Green Golden, cousin of Wharton, says it was utterly false that he was sent by Secretary of State Powers to keep Wharton from going to Frankfort, Ky. W. Golden was a close friend of C. W. Powers, doing a great deal of work for him during the recent campaign. It is understood he left here on receipt of a telegram of the attorneys for the prosecution to come to Lexington.

No Confirmation.

London, March 20.—The war office has had no news up to this hour confirming the report of the relief of Mafeking, but George Wyndham, parliamentary under secretary for war, replying to a private inquiry in the lobby of the house of commons about midnight, smilingly said:

"I think it is all right."

The Free Staters seemingly have quite collapsed. They are in considerable force around Smithfield, though dispirited.

Trials Postponed.

Frankfort, Ky., March 20.—Caleb Powers, John Davis and W. H. Coulton, charged with being accessories to the murder of Wm. Goebel, were arraigned for trial before Judge Moore Monday. The commonwealth announced not ready and by agreement the trials were set for next Friday, at which time County Attorney Colgrove said thought he could get his witnesses and not ask for further continuance.

ceased and many considerations transcending them had been presented, relating to grievances which do not enter into the case as affecting the Oil company. The court felt constrained to confine itself to this particular grievance. Stating this grievance, he said it was that the statutes of Texas limit its right to make contracts and take away the liberty assured by the fourteenth amendment to the constitution of the United States. Besides, it was asserted that the statutes made many discriminations between persons and classes of persons. On this latter point the court did not feel called upon to pass. The Oil company is a foreign corporation, and its right to contracting in the state of Texas was the only subject of inquiry. On this point the opinion held that "the state prescribes the purposes of a corporation and the means of executing these purposes."

In this case the Oil company could not claim an exemption from the principle "on the ground that the permit of the company was a contract inviolable against subsequent legislation by the state. The statute of 1889 was a condition upon the tariff in error within the power of the state to impose, and whatever its limitations were, they became conditions of the permit and were accepted with it. The statute was not repealed by the act of 1895. The only substantial addition made by the latter act was to exclude from its provisions organizations of laborers for the purpose of maintaining a standard of wages."

Further, as to the act of 1895, he said: "It is either constitutional or unconstitutional. If it is unconstitutional the plaintiff in error has not legal cause to complain of it. If unconstitutional it does not affect the act of 1889, and that, as we have seen, imposes valid conditions upon the plaintiff in error and their violation subjected its permit to do business in the state to forfeiture."

Justice Harlan dissented from the opinion.

HE LIKES WESTERN CANADA.

Dubamel, Jan. 24, 1900.

Dear Sir and Friend—We had a lucky trip, made good connections and got to Wetaskiwin Monday afternoon; stayed there all night, bought a pony and saddle for the boy and hired a three-seated rig for the balance of us, and got home to dinner next day; caught the boys cleaning up and getting ready to come after us. Wednesday the snow was all gone and we had bare ground and bright sunshine for a month, and it has been pleasant weather ever since. The ground is frozen about two feet and about six inches of snow—just enough for good sleighing. We had one cold spell in December. The thermometer went down to 22 below zero, but we did not suffer with the cold at all. We have worked every day all winter, are all well and feeling well; have built a log house 18x18, two log stables 16x18, and are now busy on a well. We have 10 cows, three other cattle and six head of horses. The boys send their best respects to Mr. Mchison, and say they will talk to him enough to pay for not writing when he "yells up here; will write you again next spring and tell you all about the winter. We all unite in sending you and family our best wishes and respects and hope this will find you all well.

Yours very respectfully,
(Signed) THOMAS TATE,
Dubamel, Alberta, Canada.

P. S.—It has not been down to zero this month. It is 22 above now.

Senator Beveridge has introduced a bill in the senate providing for free trade with Puerto Rico.

Startling Statement.

Cincinnati, O., March 20.—T. C. Campbell, who had been employed by the brothers of the late William Goebel to assist in the prosecution of the assassin of Mr. Goebel, is here from a conference with his associates held at Lexington, Ky. In conversation Mr. Campbell was unwilling to disclose the state of their case, but he said that, so far as now known, the assassin was not yet arrested. He added that the assassin would be arrested whenever a force of 2000 armed men could be had to go to a certain county in eastern Kentucky.

Fired on the Mob.

Meridian, Miss., March 20.—Saturday night a mob of white men visited the home of a negro named Raleigh Howell near Toomsaba, twelve miles from this city, for the purpose of giving him a thrashing. The negro met the mob at the door and fired the contents of a double-barrel shotgun into the brain of the alleged leader, Howard Culpepper. The whites fled and the body of Culpepper was not discovered until Sunday.

Love Overcomes Obstacles.

Pringfield, O., March 20.—Thomas W. Jones, a private in company H, second infantry, stationed at Fort Thomas, Ky., and Cecelia Pilata were married by Squire McGreevey. The young lady was only 17 years of age and the clerk of the probate court refused to grant a license. Squire McGreevey made the hearts of the young couple happy by having himself made the guardian of the girl and then giving his written consent to their marriage. He then performed the ceremony. The young lady is from Galveston, Tex.

IN DIRE DISTRESS.

Puerto Rican Women Call Upon the Governor General To SAVE THEM FROM STARVATION.

The Poor Creatures Presented a Condition that Was Truly Pitiable in the Superlative Degree.

San Juan, Puerto Rico, March 19.—At a special meeting of the chamber of commerce, it was decided to close all business houses to enable the merchants to attend an open air meeting on the plaza with the object of drawing up a petition to Gov. Gen. Davis, demanding immediate congressional decision on the tariff one way or the other. Telegrams were sent to all towns throughout Puerto Rico, requesting like meetings. The feeling of uncertainty regarding the tariff holds business practically at a standstill, the merchants being afraid to order goods or to advance funds on the planters' accounts. The meeting was conducted in a calm and business-like manner. The merchants here will be satisfied to accept any decision of congress, either free trade, the 25 or 15 per cent tariff, but they ask for a settlement of the question so that business activity may be resumed. They decided to take this unparalleled step only after mature deliberation.

Sixty country women marched from Naranjito, and petitioned Gov. Gen. Davis to save them from starvation and to provide work and food. The women presented a most pitiable sight. They were barefooted and ragged, half naked, dusty and weary from their journey. Some of them were lame and are discouraged. The petition which they presented to the governor general tells the story of the depressing times, no work and the price of rice, beans and bread beyond reach, fruits destroyed and the relief supplies discontinued, bringing them and others where they came from almost to starvation.

Gov. Davis promised relief to the party, and requested the mayor to provide transportation. His reply was that there was not a peso in the treasury, and that the police were yet unpaid for their last two months' work.

The party of women dispersed quietly, some retracing their steps afoot, others begging easier conveyances home, which is twenty miles from San Juan, a portion of the road being almost impassable.

Similar parties are expected from other towns.

Celebrated in London.

London, March 19.—Shamrock day promises to vie with Primrose day in the hearts of the people, judging from the enthusiasm with which for the first time in the history of the nation's loyalty all over the United Kingdom celebrated and everywhere the green was conspicuous. From Windsor castle, where the queen observed the day by wearing a sprig of genuine four-leaved shamrock, to the east end of the slums of London, where the ragged orphans gloried in his morsel of green weed, nearly every one sported something in the shape of a green favor. A word from her majesty has turned the emblem of semi-loyalty into a badge of honor, and she has made the shamrock the most prized of all the plants in the British isles.

Series of Disorders.

Dublin, March 19.—The lord mayor's procession Saturday was interrupted by many scenes of disorder, caused by those who objected to his attitude toward the queen. His carriage was aloof at various places along the route, windows were smashed and the enormous crowds were excited. The police were powerless to deal with the outbreaks. Several arrests were made. The mayors of Rango and Drogheda, who at first accepted invitations, refused to participate.

Boer Flags.

New York, March 19.—The green flag of Ireland divided honors with the national state and municipal colors on public buildings in New York Saturday, while many business buildings and private houses also flew the ensign of the bairn. The flag of the South African republic was conspicuous in the parade, and many of the paraders wore Boer buttons.

White and Wessels, the Boer representatives, rode in a carriage.

Cannot Support Bryan.

New York, March 19.—Eugene V. Brewster of Brooklyn, who was toastmaster and chairman of the Bryan dinner, and has been probably the most conspicuous member of the so-called Chicago platform Democracy, has written a letter to Wm. J. Bryan, in which he says that he cannot support Mr. Bryan for the presidency and that he now abandons all effort to "effect a union of reform forces" under Bryan's leadership.

Satisfactory.

London, March 19.—The news from South Africa to-day is entirely satisfactory to the British public. The relief of Mafeking is not yet announced, but it is extremely probable that this is already accomplished by Col. Plumer's advance, Lady Charles Bontineck at Cape Town has received a telegram from her husband in Mafeking dated March 12, saying that he expected to join her shortly.

The actual movements have not been publicly developed in detail, but it seems that Lord Methuen only started very recently and is rather engaged in dispersing the Boers of the district than aiming at actual relief.

Col. Peckman has dispersed 500 Boers at Fourteen Streams.

Lord Roberts probably ascertained from Mr. Fraser, the new mayor of Bloemfontein, before dispatching Gen. Pole-Carew southward, that in all likelihood, the railway was clear. The next move will be to collect at Bloemfontein by railway sufficient stores for the immense army Lord Roberts will have when the Orange river forces have joined him. This will probably occupy from two to three weeks. Therefore the next important operations may be expected in Natal.

The cavalry brigade which Lord Roberts has sent to Thaba Nchu, thirty-five miles east of Bloemfontein, is desired to cut off some 2000 Boers who are escaping from the southward.

The Boers are reported to have destroyed the railway in the neighborhood of Kromstadt.

Lord Kitchener is quietly organizing in the northeast of Cape Colony. Predictions and betting are beginning here that the war will be ended by the middle of May.

Dispatches from Durban, Pietermaritzburg and other South African towns declare most enthusiastic celebrations on St. Patrick's day.

A dispatch to the Daily Mail from Bloemfontein says:

"We are getting rifles surrendered faster than a factory could turn them out. It is quite certain that if a British official can reach the national lancers with Roberts' proclamation the whole Boer population will declare for peace."

For Mafeking.

Lobatol, Saturday, March 17.—It is reported that Commandant Eloff, with a commando, has left Zerst for Mafeking.

Commandant Schwartz, with 150 men, is threatening the railway near Anavogel Kop, north of Lobatol.

A British patrol, who reconnoitered within fourteen miles of Mafeking, found the railway uninjured and telegraph wires untouched north of Pitman.

Gone South.

Washington, March 19.—Admiral and Mrs. Dewey left here Sunday night for a trip south. They expect to visit Savannah, Macon, St. Augustine, Jacksonville and Palm Beach, taking in the larger Tennessee cities on their return trip. The admiral and Mrs. Dewey probably will not return to the city until the latter part of next month, at which time it is said they will sail for Europe, visiting the Paris exposition some time during the summer.

Both at Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., March 19.—The two governors of Kentucky were entertained in this city Sunday. Messrs. Taylor and Beckham both insisted that they had come to Louisville on purely personal business and that their visits had no political significance. They spent the day quietly, though both received numerous calls from their political and personal friends.

Peace Rumors.

London, March 19.—A dispatch to the Daily News from Bloemfontein says:

Events have occurred which induce some to predict that the war will last only so long as it takes to march to Pretoria. The educated Boers, even the Transvaalers, are ready to accept the inevitable.

I am told that a corps of 2000 women has been formed at Pretoria. It is called the Amazon corps. All the members are uninformed in kills and are armed.

Pe postponed.

Frankfort, Ky., March 19.—The examining trials of Republican Secretary of State John Powers, W. H. Coulton and John Davis, set for hearing before Judge Moore to-day, will probably not be held until later in the week.

County Attorney Holgrove said Saturday night that, owing to the fact that the commonwealth's witnesses are scattered over the state, it would be impossible to get them here sooner than Wednesday.

Gleaners Dies.

Kokomo, Ind., March 19.—Mrs. Lida Greycraft, the largest woman in Indiana, died suddenly at her home in Rushville, this county, Sunday, aged 32 years. She was sitting at a table with her husband, Joseph Greycraft, playing dominoes, when she fell from her chair dead. Her weight was about 550 pounds. A coffin will be constructed especially for her, the largest casket obtainable being too small for the body. She was a daughter of Geo. Vager of Middle Fork.

"Oh! How Happy I Am"

"HOW HAPPY I AM to be able to say that I am free from pain after five years of severe suffering from neuralgia," writes Mrs. Archie Young, 1817 Oaks avenue, West Superior, Wis. "I am so thankful to be able to say that your '5 Drops' is the best medicine I ever got in my life. When I received it from you last November, I used some of it right away. The first dose helped me. It is impossible to explain how I was suffering from neuralgia. I thought no one could get worse and that death would soon come. I was very weak, and I hardly thought I could live to see my husband come back from his daily labor. Now I can say that I am free from pain, my cheeks are red, my appetite is good and I sleep well all night. Many of my friends are surprised, and say they will send for some '5 Drops.' Sample bottles of this wonderful remedy 25c, large bottles, containing 300 doses, $1.00. For information write Swanson Rheumatic Cure Co., 164 E. Lake street, Chicago.
