NUMBER 108

IS A CERTAINTY.

Frisco Will Come to Albuquerque.

Seventeen Race Horses Were Burned.

Greatest Storm the South Has Had for Years.

SNOW IN KANSAS.

St. Louis, March 29.—A special to the Globe-Democrat from Fort Worth, Texas, says: Col. Thomas F. West, Texas attorney for the Frisco, who accompanied President Yoakum on his recent trip to California, said today that the extension of the Frisco line from Quannah, Texas, to the Pacific coast was a certainty. The road is to go by way of Albuquerque, but whether it is to be built to Los Angeles is yet a question and one President Yoakum is yet considering. Colonel West said that in ten days a construction force would begin work at Brownwood to extend the Frisco to Brady, fifty-four miles, to which place the line is to be completed by November 1. The Frisco line will be into San Antonio in nine months.

A SERIOUS LOSS.

Valuable Race Horses Burned to Death at Detroit.

Detroit, March 29.—Seventeen racers and promising colts were burned to death early today by a fire which destroyed the training stable of Frank H. Colby, in Highland Park. Among the horses were Red Royal, a 5-year-old trotting stallion, valued at $5,000; Harry P., a trotter valued at $2,500; The King, a trotter valued at $2,500; Maiden Queen, a pacer valued at $2,000; Monoco, a trotting stallion valued at $2,000. The total loss is about $30,000.

STORMS EVERYWHERE.

Southern Points Suffer From Wind and High Water.

Chattanooga, March 29.—The storm last night in this section raged furiously a short while, the rainfall being phenomenal and almost amounting to a cloudburst, and accompanied by lightning. The wires are blown down and for the space of an hour there was the greatest anxiety. Heavy damage to the town of Murfreesboro, Tenn., by a cyclone is reported, but the telephone and telegraph wires are down and no direct details have been obtained here. The bridge on the main line of Nashville & Chattanooga is washed away and no trains are operating on the road today. There are also several washouts on the road.

Harriman's Woe.

Kingston, Tenn., March 29.—J. C. Cooper, a mail carrier between Harriman and Kingston, arrived here this afternoon from Harriman. He states that heavy rains yesterday afternoon and last night caused an unprecedented rise in the Emory river, with a result which was an almost total destruction of the manufacturing plants located along the river in Harriman. From 300 to 400 people who reside in the river section of Harriman are without homes. Thirty to forty houses at Oakdale and Harriman are destroyed, being swept down stream.

The latest reports are the water in the Emory river at Harriman is from fifteen to twenty feet higher than ever before known. No lives are believed to have been lost.

Harriman Destroyed.

Chattanooga, March 29.—A special from Harriman, Tenn., says: "Harriman was destroyed by a flood in the Emory river. The damage is estimated at $250,000. It is reported two lives were lost and many more are supposed to have been drowned. It is estimated from forty to fifty houses at Oakdale and Harriman have been washed away. The tunnel at the junction on the Cincinnati Southern railroad fell in and much other damage was done."

Jellico Under Water.

Jellico, Tenn., March 29.—The heaviest rainfall here in eighteen years occurred last night. Although Clear Fork river is one mile from Jellico, back water from the rear covers half the town today. People were driven from their homes during the night and many houses were partially submerged. It is impossible today to estimate the damage done by the flood, but it aggregates thousands of dollars.

Two Washouts.

Rome, Ga., March 29.—Two washouts are reported this morning on the Atlanta division of the Southern railway near Silver Creek. Great damage was done farms by last night's tremendous rainfall.

Partially Flooded.

Knoxville, March 29.—A special from Coal Creek, in the mining district, says the town was partially flooded last

OFFICIAL MATTERS.

Postoffice Discontinued—Territorial Funds—Land Office Business.

NEW INCORPORATIONS.

The postoffice at Alhambra, Grant county, will be discontinued on March 31.

Annual Report Filed.

The Denver & Rio Grande Railroad company filed with Territorial Secretary J. W. Reynolds its annual report for 1901 as required by law.

Territorial Funds.

Territorial Treasurer J. H. Vaughn received from the Pullman Car company $398.72 for the year ending February 28, 1902. From Jose Y. Arriaga, treasurer and collector of Guadalupe county, he received $204.48 of 1901 taxes.

Land Office Business.

Final Homestead Entry—March 27: Sabino Leyba, Wagon Mound, 159.41 acres, Mora county. Homestead Entries—March 27: Juan y Barreras, Puerto de Luna, 160 acres, Guadalupe county. March 28: Petilde Montanillo de Gonzales, Cabra, 160 acres, San Miguel county.

Townships Surveyed.

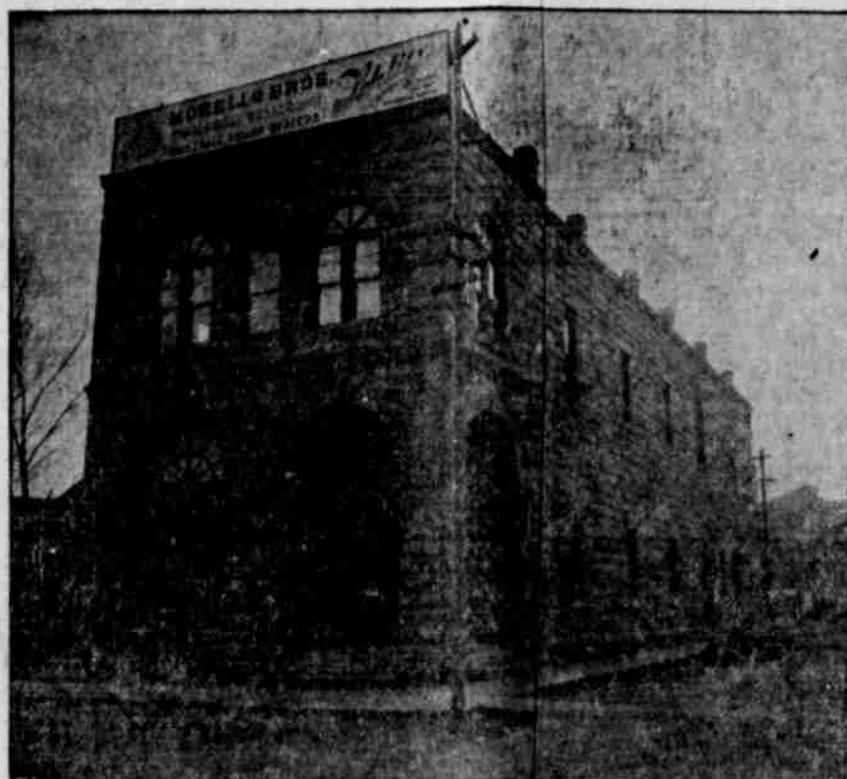

Surveyor General Morgan O. Llewellyn transmitted to the general land office at Washington for approval surveys of township 16, north of ranges 4, 5 and 6 west, and fractional township 13 north of range 1 west, in Bernalillo county. John H. Walker, surveyor.

Incorporations.

The Donahoe Mercantile company was incorporated by Buford D. Oldham, of Portales Joseph N. Donahoe, of Canyon, Randall county, Texas; Walter O. Oldham, Jefferson Highway, and Pugh W. Price, of Portales, who are also directors. Capital, $12,500, divided into 250 shares. Headquarters, Portales, Chaves county.

The Fairview Ditch company was incorporated by Richard Merrill Willis, Joseph Urban Rogers, Joseph Heber Rogers, Herbert T. Conger, Cassius L. Pollard, Samuel Suratt Selius, Jr., and Charles Peterson, all of Rio Arriba county. The capital is $10,000, divided into 10,000 shares. The object of the company is to build a canal fourteen miles long taking water out of the Rio Grande near La Joya, Rio Arriba county, and by laterals, etc., and distributing it upon adjacent lands. The headquarters of the company are at Fairview, Rio Arriba county. The directors are Herbert T. Conger, Cassius L. Pollard, and Charles Peterson.

Mrs. C. H. Young, the wife of the division superintendent of Wells, Fargo Express company, will arrive in the city tonight from Denver, and visit friends for a few days.

MORELLO BROS. BUILDING, GALLUP, N. MEX. One of the finest and most substantial stone structures in the southwest.

SOCIAL EVENTS.

Several Enjoyable Dance Affairs for Next Week.

LENT BROKEN.

The quiet of Lent which has reigned in Albuquerque social life for the past six weeks, will be broken next week by a number of enjoyable affairs.

Monday night at the Grant hall will occur Mrs. Walton's annual Easter ball. The popular lady is making elaborate preparations for the entertainment of her guests and an unusually good time is expected. Punch will be served during the evening. Professor Di Mauro and Miss Hanthorn will furnish the music.

Tuesday night at the same hall the Ladies of the Maccabees will give an April fool ball. The Maccabee dances are always enjoyable affairs and this will be no exception. Mrs. Rose Berry will furnish the music.

Wednesday night the Commercial club will, in a manner befitting, celebrate the breaking up of Lent with its usual enjoyable Easter ball. As the club has not entertained since the MacArthur reception, this will be a very swell affair.

On Thursday and Friday, both afternoon and evening, the St. John's Guild will entertain at the Grant hall. The proceeds of this affair will go as a payment on the new Episcopal rectory and should be well attended.

Friday night at Colombo hall will occur a basket ball game, followed by a dance. The opposing teams will be from the Albuquerque Guards and the University of New Mexico. Mrs. Berry will furnish the music for the dance.

DECLARATION OF SUIT.

Mrs. R. J. Hamilton Has Sued Las Vegas.

Messrs. Jones & Rogers appeared before the city council last night in behalf of their client, Mrs. R. J. Hamilton, to declare that Mrs. Hamilton had instituted suit against the city in the sum of $10,000. Mrs. Hamilton alleges that she sustained damages to that amount by reason of a defective sidewalk causing her to fall, breaking her leg. The accident occurred while she was witnessing a circus parade a year ago and institution of suit has since been pending.

Representatives of the city are of the opinion that she will lose her suit but should she win it a special tax levy would be necessary to meet the emergency.—Las Vegas Optic.

Five O'Clock Dinner.

Tomorrow afternoon a new Metropolitan restaurant will serve its formal opening meal. Music will be discoursed in the dining room during the entire evening. It will be furnished by Prof. J. Levine, violin; A. Moya, cornet, and Mrs. Rose Berry, piano. Mr.

Berry, the proprietor, has, by spending considerable time and money, succeeded in giving the new restaurant a very inviting appearance. Special arrangements have been made for the serving of family dinners.

ALL MADE PUBLIC.

House Receives All Letters in the Miles Controversy.

Washington, March 29.—The president today sent to the house of representatives the correspondence and papers bearing on the request of General Miles to be assigned to duty in the Philippines. It was sent in response to a resolution introduced by Mr. Burleson, of Texas.

General Miles, in his first letter dated February 17, calls attention to the conditions in the Philippines. He says friendly relations with Cuba and Porto Rico were largely promoted by consultations with representatives from those islands. He suggested he be authorized to select ten men from Cuba and Porto Rico to accompany him to the Philippines and explain to the natives the benefits those people derived from their friendly relations. And while there, he might direct the stations to be occupied by troops. On returning he might be allowed to bring such Filipinos as he thinks advisable to show the advantages of civilization.

Secretary Root answers on March 5—the letter was forwarded to the president and disapproved. He believed the conduct of military and civil affairs in the Philippines was successful. Aguinaldo, himself, is now urging his countrymen to accept American sovereignty. No benefit would accrue in taking Cubans and Porto Ricans to the Philippines or in bringing Filipinos here and might be injurious and would be sensational. This decision was approved by the president. On March 25 General Miles calls attention to the fact that while on an official visit to Cuba last winter, members of the constitutional convention told him they wished to communicate directly with the president. He so reported to the president and President McKinley granted the request. The results were gratifying and General Wood was not reflected on. Concerning going to the Philippines, General Miles said such was his purpose nearly a year ago to do so and this had the approval of the secretary of war and President McKinley, but it was postponed on account of the re-organization of the army. He hopes to make the visit in the near future.

The correspondence closes with a paper by Secretary Root, in which he said General Miles applied to be sent to the Philippines and China in his official capacity in July, 1900. He asked that 15,000 troops be withdrawn from the Philippines for China, in the face of a report from General MacArthur that he could not spare a single regiment. General Miles' application was accompanied by the request that supreme command of the allied forces be obtained for him. President McKinley declined both requests. A year after the secretary of war authorized General Miles to extend his inspection tour to the islands, but he has never been authorized to go for any other purpose.

This memorandum of the secretary of war is approved by President Roosevelt.

THE SCHUSTER BUILDING.

Was Bought by Post & Co. for About $8,000.

This morning the deal was completed by which the Schuster building on the north side of Railroad avenue between Second and Third streets, passed into the hands of Post & Co. It is understood the consideration was about $8,000.

Post & Co. will remodel the building to suit the needs of their business and will occupy it.

A Saving Suggested.

There can be a material saving on the insurance premium on the court house, says Judge Baker, if a fire plug would be put in by the court house. The court house is now insured for $30,000 for which 2 per cent or $600 is annually paid. "If they would put in a fire plug by the court house," said the judge, "it would cut the rate to 1 1/2 per cent and save $150 a year. There would be the same reduction on contents." The water mains extend past the building and it would be necessary only to make the connection.

SHOT BY A WOMAN.

Sensational Murder at Las Vegas.

New England Weavers Getting Together.

All Correspondence in the Miles Controversy Made Public.

CHINESE RIOTS.

Special to The Citizen. East Las Vegas, N. M., March 29.—With a face as calm and serene as a child in slumber, J. S. Judd lies in the majesty of death at Dearth's undertaking parlors in this city today. He was shot dead at 4:15 o'clock yesterday afternoon by Mrs. G. B. Walker, a healthseeker from Miles, Iowa, who committed the murder to prevent a criminal assault upon her person.

Judd lived at Topeka. He had been here four months. His son is medical director at Montezuma hotel, Hot Springs. The son has viewed the remains, but the wife has not yet seen her husband in death. The remains will be shipped to Topeka tonight.

Walker is on his way to his wife. The coroner's jury has viewed the remains, but reserves its verdict until after Walker's arrival. Mrs. Walker is in charge of two special officers. Physicians keep her calm by resorting to narcotics. She declares this was Judd's third attempt at assault upon her.

Judd is a gray-haired man and is probably 60 years old.

GETTING TOGETHER.

End of New England Weavers' Troubles in Sight.

Lowell, Mass., March 29.—At the conclusion of an all night conference of committee of citizens and representatives of the Textile Council of this city, it was announced the threatened strike of 16,000 cotton mill operatives in this city is averted for the present. The strike order will be deferred a week to give the citizens a chance to use their good offices to bring about the increase in wages demanded by the operatives.

Advance Granted.

Providence, March 29.—Notices of a 10 per cent advance in the wages of operatives were posted today in the cotton mills of Rhode Island and Massachusetts, operated by the Goddard & Knight interests. It is expected the Lippitts, who, with Knight & Goddard, practically control the cotton industry in this state, also will grant the increase.

A THOUSAND KILLED.

Missionaries are Warned From Certain Parts of China.

Pekin, March 29.—Chinese officials say 1,000 people have been killed in the riots at Ta Ming Fu, the southernmost prefecture in the province of Chi Li. This is perhaps an exaggeration, but the loss of life undoubtedly was great.

The riots were due to attempts by local officials to collect indemnities for Catholics as arranged between the officials and priests. Soldiers have been dispatched to quell disturbances and Taotai has been sent to adjust differences.

Officials warn missionaries to keep out of the disturbed district.

Races Tomorrow.

Tomorrow afternoon, at the fair grounds in Old Albuquerque, the Gentlemen's Driving association will give the first race meeting of the season. Besides three light harness races there will be a ball game between two local teams of the city. The following horses will go:

Free-for-All—Lady Margaret, Action, Bob Collins and Bonnie Treasure.

2:30 Class—Nimble Jim, Boone, St. Elmo and Black Ike.

3:00 Class—Mack, Beau Grey, McGinty and Lady Johnson.

The ball game will occur between the first and second races.

No admission will be charged.

District Court.

Last night Charles Boggio was found guilty of selling liquor to Indians. His trial occupied all the afternoon and the verdict was brought in about 9 o'clock last night. This morning he was given six months in jail.

Dad Benson pleaded guilty to the same charge and was sentenced to three months in the jail.

Rose Roat, the woman charged with selling liquor to Indians, was this morning fined $100.

The territorial criminal docket was set and the first case will be April 7.

If you have not yet paid your poll tax and wish to avoid trouble you had better leave the amount at Walton's drug store. Ralph L. Hunt, clerk school board.

Railroad Topics

The Santa Fe company has struck one of the greatest oil gushers in the history of California's oil development in its well on leased ground in the Fullerton field.

Brakeman Jim Connelly, of Raton, who was injured about four weeks ago, has resigned from the service of the company and is now threatening a law suit for damages it is reported.

It is rumored about that one of the officials of the Choctaw road will be here in a few days to size up the city. He should be given a royal welcome and the people of Albuquerque, should talk business to him.

W. A. Barton, agent of the Santa Fe railway at Silver City, has been promoted to the Deming agency. C. W. Merriam, chief clerk at the local freight depot, has been promoted to the Silver City agency. The change will be made on April 1.

Reports from the construction camps on the El Paso & Southwestern railway, between El Paso and Deming, say that smallpox is raging among the workmen. The disease is very mild, however, and it is said that some of the workmen scarcely quit work, although they are broken out with it.

Work has begun on the new Harvey house at Rincon, which is to replace the one recently burned. It will be much larger and more complete than the old house. It will be furnished with all the conveniences of a modern eating house, furnishing first class accommodations to the traveling public.

Charles Owen, conductor on No. 4, witnessed the lynching of the negro porter at La Junta on Tuesday night. The tragedy occurred within fifty feet of Mr. Owen's window. He says the negro was not hanged. He didn't have a chance to hang. His body was filled with lead before the rope was drawn taut enough for strangulation.

The resignation of General Superintendent W. S. Martin and M. H. Rogers of the engineering department of the Denver & Rio Grande has been followed by the announcement of a third change. Clifton L. Thompson, bridge engineer, and in charge of bridges and buildings of the Denver & Rio Grande, will voluntarily leave the services of the road either April 1 or shortly thereafter.

Brakeman Joe Burke was thrown through a caboose window near Elota, by the drawbar breaking in one of the freight cars three cars from the caboose. The train was going about eighteen miles an hour and Mr. Burke was skinned and bruised pretty badly, although it is thought not seriously. He could not finish his run and was brought to Albuquerque for medical attention.

Definite assurance has been given by those in position to know that the Santa Fe Railway company will build from Thoreau, a station on the Santa Fe Pacific in McKinley county, to Durango, Colo. The road is to be run through Canon Amarillo but is to be a separate project from the proposed Durango-Clifton railroad. It will, however, also tap the fertile San Juan, Animas and La Plata valleys.

The Las Vegas Record says: Seven young fellows were arrested last night at the instance of the Santa Fe watchman for breaking a seal, and slept in jail over night. This morning they were up before Judge Wooster and, after hearing their story he discharged them. They said they did not break a seal, but got in through an open door at Albuquerque and were later locked in. They were fairly well dressed and had some money, but said they hated to pay railroad fare.

GUYER'S BLOODY ACT.

The Murderer Condemned and Closely Guarded in Clayton Jail.

A special dispatch dispatch to the Denver Republican, from Clayton, N. M., under date of March 27, says:

Tonight public sentiment is apparently strong against Postmaster Guyer, who shot and killed W. E. Searies in front of the postoffice yesterday about noon. While Guyer acted in self defense, Searies' friends say he was justified in shooting at Guyer first. The pamphlet which Guyer had distributed among his friends defamed the character of both Searies and his wife, and especially the latter, and almost everyone who read the story condemns the writer.

It looked for awhile tonight as though there would be more trouble. A meeting of citizens was called for 8 p. m., and a committee was appointed which was designated as a "committee of ways and means," but the wiser heads prevailed and no rash action was taken.

Sheriff Garcia and five deputies are guarding the jail and warn everyone to keep away. One man got too close to the line about 9 p. m. and a shot from a Winchester quickly called him to a halt.

All is quiet at midnight and no more trouble is expected tonight. The date for Guyer's preliminary hearing has not been set yet.

EASTER EVE.

The Customs and Ceremonies of the Day Before Easter.

This being Easter eve, called Holy Saturday, there are numerous rites and ceremonies belonging to it, some of them practiced at the present day. On the evening of that day, in the middle districts of Ireland, great preparations are made for the finishing of Lent, and the ushering in of the glad Eastertide. On that night the good cotter's wife puts into the pot many a fat fowl or special piece of bacon, which no one dares so much as to taste by putting a finger in the pot until the cock crows on Easter morning.

At midnight may be heard the wild clapping of hands and the joyous laugh of the light hearted Irish people, and above all rises the shout: "Out with the Lent." Jollity and merry making prevail for an hour or two, when they go to rest and sleep till 4 o'clock, then arise to see the sun dance in honor of the resurrection. Nor is this custom by any means confined to the humbler classes. It is also observed by people of wealth and position, some of them asserting positively that they have seen the sun dance on Easter morning.

DR. YANAGLIA.

Governor Ordered Medical Board to Issue Him License.

Dr. Yanaglia, formerly of Italy, later of Pueblo, Colo., is a recent arrival in the metropolis of New Mexico. The doctor came here for the purpose of practicing his profession, but upon presenting his credentials, consisting of a diploma in medicine from the University of Naples, Italy, together with a license from the board of medical examiners of Colorado, he was informed that these were not sufficient here, as the New Mexico medical board had ruled, among other things, that foreign diplomas could not be recognized by them, and persons holding such degrees must submit to an examination first, before a license to practice in this territory could be granted to them. Somebody suggested to the doctor that perhaps the board was trying to give him the "razzle dazzle," so he, acting upon this hint hid himself forthwith to the sanctuary of one of our young attorneys, who, upon hearing the facts, concurred in the "razzle dazzle" suggestion.

Upon the heels of this the doctor spread his wings and sailed to the north, laid his case before the governor, who straightway ordered the board to issue to Dr. Yanaglia a license and permit him to go about "doing good," like the great physician of old.

GLOBE SIGHTS.

Neglect chances to get even. Many a girl's cooking education begins and ends with making chocolate cake.

You have heard of men whipping their wives all your life. Ever know a man to do such a thing?

When the members of the football eleven have a group picture taken, the "manager" always amuses us.

After a woman gets married and has children, she is lucky if she gets time to read any other than the doctor book.

An Atchison woman is so good that she refuses to let the people who live in part of her house, buy milk on Sunday.

When a child gets sick and keeps its kin up at night, the father has a suspicion that the child got sick on purpose.

If a man's dinner table has as much on it in January as it had in December it is a good sign his wife had no Christmas debts to pay.

Every time a story is circulated that a man has whipped his wife the women say, "O, I'd like to see a man strike me just once!"

In a town less than 5,000 people, it will still be found that the proper thing for dessert for a company tea is Floating Island.

No man has ever attempted, in the craze to gather scientific facts, to tell why one man is "hard" on his socks, while another who walks just as much, is "easy."

Every man hopes to wind up his life with such business like methods that he will die the first time all his kin are called together, instead of keeping them undecided for many weeks.

Talk about Sunday being a day of rest: an Atchison man grew so tired of doing nothing that last Sunday night, at 9 o'clock, he went out in the yard and began carrying in wood.

Probably the worst thing about marrying a widow is the fact that somewhere in her cupboards and boxes she keeps her widow's veil, to be in readiness in case she needs it a second time.

There are lots of people in the world who get a reputation for being well read by keeping a "deep" book open on the parlor table, and sitting out in a back room when they read trashy novels.

What has become of the old fashioned woman who said: "Oh, now you hush!"

"The German woman is the only woman who is taught to mind," we heard an Irishman say today. "If you want to marry, marry a German girl. It is born in them to mind, and to help the men."

CONTRACT HAS BEEN LET.

Crystal Ice Company Plant to Be Constructed.

The contract for the plant of the Crystal Ice and Cold Storage company has been let, says the Las Vegas Optic. J. K. Martin, contractor, is the lucky bidder. The building is to stand completed in sixty days. It will be located at the western terminus of Lincoln avenue. It is to be 41x61 in dimensions, and is to be built of stone, brick and wood. Its freezing capacity will be ten tons per day. The company will sink a well on its premises to get the water for this ice. It will be necessary to go only gravel deep in order to get a sufficient seepage for the company's usage. The promoters of this enterprise are sanguine of a most substantial patronage.

The company by no means intends to permanently limit its capacity to ten tons of ice per day. In deed it is only a question of a very little time until the capacity of the plant will be very materially increased. The plant is so arranged that its capacity can be increased at any time and the company will increase it as the demand increases.

JONATHAN HUNT.

His Death at Cimarron, N. M., a Few Days Ago.

Jonathan Harvey Hunt died in Cimarron, at 7:30 a. m., Thursday, March 19, 1902, aged 86 years. He was born in Fleming county, Kentucky, on April 27, 1816. About 1836 he removed to Randolph county, Indiana, where he married Miss Jane Kelso, who bore him eleven children, seven of whom lived past middle age, three sons only surviving him, to wit: Jas. K., Junius A. and Chas. F. Hunt. Mr. Hunt owned and edited the Cambridge City, Ind., Revelle in the 40s, and in 1860 removed to Kingston, Mo., where he entered mercantile life. In 1861 he removed to Hartford, Kas., and later to Emporia, Kas., where he owned and edited the Emporia News, and later owned the Emporia Ledger. In 1874 he removed to New Mexico with his entire family and has lived at Cimarron since. Mrs. Hunt died in Albuquerque in 1894.

Still a Growing

Our fancy coffee business for 1901 reached the snug amount of 10,000 pounds. We wish to double that in 1902, and in order to do so we are offering the very best grades of coffee on the market at 40 cents per pound. We are sole agents for CHASE & SANBORN'S celebrated Seal Brand and Club House. We also have a full line of blended coffees at prices to suit from 20 cents up. Our 35 cent blend we consider equal to the most of the 40 and 45 cent grades offered by the trades.

As to teas: Everyone knows that we keep the very best to be had in the territory.

THE MEXICAN CENTRAL RAILWAY CO., LIMITED

Calls attention to the fact that:

It is the only Standard Gauge Route from the United States frontier to Mexico City.

It is the only line in Mexico that can offer the traveling public the conveniences and comforts of Standard Gauge Pullman Drawing Room Sleepers, lighted by Pintsch Gas.

It is the only line by which you can travel without change from Kansas City, Mo., to Mexico City.

It is the only line by which you can travel without change from St. Louis, Mo., to Mexico City.

The lines of the Mexican Central Railway pass through 15 of the 27 states of the Republic. Eight million of the thirteen million inhabitants of Mexico are settled contiguous to them.

The principal mining regions receive their supplies and export their products over it. Chihuahua, Sierra Mojada, Mapimi, Fresnillo, Parral, Guanacevi, Durango, Zacatecas, Guadalupe, Sombrerete, Pachuca, etc., etc.

When You Travel for Business, Go Where Business is Done.

There are only five cities of over 35,000 inhabitants in the Republic of Mexico that are not reached by the Mexican Central line.

The following ten cities are reached only by the Mexican Central Railway:

Chihuahua 30,098 inhabitants; Parral 16,382; Zacatecas 34,438; Guadalupe 40,580; Leon 62,263; Guadalupe 101,208; Queretaro 38,016; Zamora 12,533; Aguascalientes 37,816; Irapuato 19,640.

It also reaches the cities of Torreon 12,845; San Luis Potosi 60,358; Tampico (Mexican Gulf port) 16,313; Celaya 25,565; Pachuca 37,487; City of Mexico 368,777.

Rev. J. Stitt Wilson delivered the second address on socialism last night at Colombo hall. The house was packed to the doors. His theme was, "The Competitive System Analyzed and Impeached."

In opening he reviewed the points of the previous evening's address, especially pointing out that in the evolutionary process man, by virtue of his intelligence, has the power to change, modify, reform or revolutionize any social or industrial conditions that are not conducive to the highest human welfare.

"As socialists, then," said the speaker, "we contend that the present competitive system, when analyzed to its foundations, is found to be unjust in its basis, unchristian in its operation and positively inhuman and criminal in its results and its inevitable outcome. Therefore it is our business as intelligent men and women to abolish it, to overthrow it, and to establish in its place a social system based on justice and adapted to an age of mighty machinery and practical brotherhood."

Mr. Wilson then proceeded to show the four essential elements of the competitive system as follows:

1. Under the present system—or struggle for existence as now organized—every man must seek his own individual welfare, push his own business, and seek to extend it, hold his own job against all competitors.

2. And every thing by which all of us live is open to the limitless private ownership of any man or group of men, and trusts, monopolies or combinations, which have the business ability to secure them under the lawful methods of trade or business.

3. In the struggle for existence, the struggling multitudes show vast inequalities in their industrial and financial ability. Psychologists have proved that about 90 per cent of the people have an average capacity for labor, industry and getting a living. Only about 2 per cent are geniuses in any respect. Only about 2 per cent possess unusual ability as financiers.

4. Now the whole struggle may be compared to a huge game, played for bread and for life by man of vastly differing powers, by women also, and even the little children. And since everything is open to the private ownership of the best player, and since only about 2 per cent are expert players, it inevitably follows that the 2 per cent eventually become the owners, organizers, and controllers, of the means by which the rest live. The game of the competitive struggle is now almost played. Already 10 per cent of the people control more than all the rest, while 40,000,000 of the people are propertyless in the census meaning of that term.

Thus the capitalist class are the private owners of the means of livelihood, while the producing classes must work when the capitalist class permit them, and at what they offer them, and then in turn the producing classes must buy back the stuff their own hands made, at trust and combination prices. Thus labor is robbed of its produce both as producer and consumer. Is it any wonder, in such a game, that 4,000 millionaires in the east now control $10,000,000,000 of the organized capital of America? Is it any wonder that the working classes, the producers of America, the vast army of the common people are waking up to ask themselves whether this competitive game is a huge tragedy or not, based on fundamental injustice, and ending up in vast social oppression of the weak by the strong?

Mr. Wilson will complete his argument tonight, and show how socialism will solve the problem.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS.

John T. Woolley, the general agent of the Western Masons' Mutual Life association, is in the city from his headquarters at San Francisco.

Do not forget the very enjoyable affair to come off next Thursday at Friday evenings, under the management of the ladies of St. John's Guild. Supper and sale. Pleasure and happiness will reign supreme. Come one, come all.

The Eighteenth annual meeting of the Congregational association of New Mexico convened in this city, at the Congregational church on South Broadway, and the association sermon was preached by Rev. William Sloan, of Gallup. The devotional service, this morning, was led by Rev. Mary J. Borden. Rev. J. H. Heald, of San Rafael, spoke on "Our Churches," and Mrs. L. A. Collins, of Cubero, on "Our Schools." The sessions will be continued this afternoon and tomorrow morning afternoon and evening.

Ladies of the Maccabees.
The ladies of the Maccabees are preparing to give a dance in Grant hall Tuesday evening, April 1. The affair is for the benefit of the lodge and will undoubtedly be well attended. The ladies have secured the very best of music for the occasion and will provide other amusement besides the dancing. The dance will be one of the events of the week.Notice.

Mrs. Mary Valentine wishes to announce to the public that she will be obliged to postpone her benefit dance from April 1 to Wednesday, April 2. The Maccabees, holding their dance on April 1, and all music being engaged, she kindly asks the public to assist her Wednesday evening, April 2, at Colombo hall.

Fay Ments' Birthday.

Yesterday afternoon at the residence of his parents at No. 420 South Arno street, Fay Ments celebrated his 8th birthday, and the little people, who were invited and attended, hugely enjoyed several hours in playing games.
Delicious refreshments were served, and Fay sends word to The Citizen of-

New Mexico Normal University

PAST AND FUTURE.

Quoting from last year's report of the board of regents to the governor's office for the department of the interior, this institution was created, by act of the thirtieth legislative assembly on February 11, 1893, as one of two normal schools established for the territory of New Mexico. After procuring a suitable site, the construction of the building for the use of the institution was begun; but owing to insufficiency of funds remained unfinished and unfit for occupation, in whole or in part, until 1898, when a movement among the citizens of Las Vegas resulted in the subscription of the fund of $19,335, in the form of an advance to the territory for completing and equipping the building. This was done and the school opened in October, 1898. Provision was made by the legislature of 1899 for refunding the money thus subscribed in three yearly installments, and by the same act the name of the institution was changed to that of the Normal University of New Mexico. Since the opening of the school it has steadily progressed in attendance, and also in facilities for instruction. In connection with the creation of this institution and the promotion of various measures for its welfare, the names of two loyal citizens will ever be linked inseparably. These are Hon. James Duncan and Hon. Frank Springer, both of whom have represented the district in the legislative assembly and have given much time and thought to the institution. Hon. J. D. W. Voeder was a moving spirit in the creation of the school, and Hon. Edward Henry one of its early and influential regents. It has been the good fortune of the writer to observe the development of the school from the summer of 1897, a time when it was as yet impossible to form a fair idea of what would come out of this whose exterior walls were not half finished, and whose interior it was exceedingly difficult, not to say dangerous, to inspect intelligently. But, without floor, door, or roof, there was even then about that massive pile of masonry something of the grandeur that must lead one irresistibly on to build for it in fancy a mighty and a glorious future.

In the early fall of that year the board of regents chose a president, hoping, somehow, to be able to open the school the year following. Viewed in the light of cold facts, there were few things more unlikely to happen than the opening of this school at the time designated—planned for, wished for and eagerly worked for by the gentlemen who then constituted, as they still constitute, this honorable body.

As seen from this report, there was a most distressing scarcity of funds, not only to finish the building, but also to furnish and equip it. No aid could come through legislative appropriation for at least another year, be it for building and equipment or for operating expenses. However, these gentlemen together with the able president they had chosen, had announced the opening for October, 1898, and one needed only to know them to feel convinced that the announcement would not be canceled. Guided by a former experience of President Hewitt, they proposed to appeal to the town pride of the prominent citizens of Las Vegas that should prompt them to raise a sufficient sum of money to start the institution in operation. A careful canvass of the town was made and in an incredibly short time the sum of nearly $20,000 was raised among them. These funds were most wisely disposed of. The building was finished, the rooms were furnished, and the several departments provided with the most necessary supplies and equipment for laboratory and class room work.

The writer knows with what scrupulous care the chief of this yet unborn institution searched among the great schools both east and west for suitable teachers that he might launch his ship most auspiciously on the day set for that great event. In that search for men and women of professional ability, and splendid character, how he was impeded by friends and former colleagues! How he went on unflinchingly, unhesitating, with the sole purpose to obtain the best teaching force that could be had, the most enthusiastic, the most scholarly, the most cultured and withal the most harmonious that one may ever hope to find combined under one head. And in spite of many predictions to the contrary, the school was opened for students on the day announced. On March 4th following the school was formally dedicated with the dedication address of Hon. Frank Springer, president of the board of regents, and the president's inaugural address, in the presence of the most distinguished men and women of the territory. The addresses were of a style lofty and noble, stating the purpose of the school, its place among the territorial institutions, its unlimited possibilities—to the realization of which the speakers pledged all their efforts. Hon. E. L. Bartlett and Hon. Max Luna also pronounced inspiring addresses. There were in all these addresses a prophetic ring that boded well for the future of the school and the commonwealth. How well this prophecy has been fulfilled, every educator of the territory knows, and every citizen of even ordinary intelligence in this part of the territory has long since felt sufficient to attest to its splendid influence on every phase of education with a readiness that ought to be, to say the least, a most satisfactory recognition of the progress which the school has made in the four short years of its existence.

I will but briefly speak of the building; for it is not the building, nor even its furnishings and equipment, that necessarily make the school great. However, what a building can do; what every accessory to make the interior complete can do to make of work a pleasure, and to spur the student to the highest human aspirations, that we find most happily, most artistically combined, as if created and perfected by a master hand.

Perhaps the handsomest public structure of the territory, with the possible exception of its capitol, of a style in which one can ever behold a newer and a fresher beauty, of a size most impressive, towering as it is far above the largest buildings of beautiful Las Vegas, the cynosure of all eyes near and far, on a site at once the most central, and the most conspicuous, this building offers to outward in all directions the grandest views that nature can present, and offers within its walls the loftiest prospects that can be disclosed to the intellect and to the soul of man.

The critic teachers of a model school, from the kindergarten department on through all the common school grades, have amply fulfilled the testimonials, attesting to their scholarship, professional ability, and high character. One can see in their class rooms what this combination of the three grandest natures of the teacher has affected, both upon the classes and upon the normal students who are now actualizing what the study of psychology, the knowledge of the history and philosophy of education and of educational systems, theories, ideals, and forces—in fine, the study of all the phases of pedagogy—has imparted to them.

This model school is in itself a miniature university, where every pupil receives as much individual supervision as will not only tend to give him the broadest foundation for the building up of intellect and character, but will also bring out the individuality, the disposition towards specialization in the student. For all these grades, in addition to the common branches, there are especially prepared teachers in psycho-manner training, physical culture, vocal music, and drawing.

For the use of the grammar school grades the science teacher uses in the winter term the laboratories and the glass cases with which all the halls of the second and third floors are lined—cases containing archaeological, geological, and biological specimens, illustrative of the natural history of New Mexico. In the spring and fall months these classes are taken out on expeditions to study nature, thus going directly to the fountainhead for their information. No better field for study and research in all branches of natural history is found anywhere in the world than in the immediate vicinity of Las Vegas. The field in original work for the naturalist, with in a two or three days' wagon trip, is simply without an equal.

The academic school has a two-fold purpose. It completes the aims of the Normal school in that it develops a model for the guidance of the high schools of New Mexico; and it affords to the young people of the commonwealth an opportunity for a general education, which they are unable to secure elsewhere, either as a preparation for entrance into normal and technical schools, or into a college or university; or as a preparation to those who may be unable to obtain a higher education.

The Normal school proper fulfills a three-fold mission: It prepares the teacher for public school service; it develops a model school system of public school education for the direction of the schools of the territory; it promotes the vital relation that must exist between the home and the school. What is an ideal training for the teacher is the same for the parent whom the former should merely complement in the work of education. The normal course is the most direct and most effective preparation for home making.

The course of this school, the life-giving force and very heart of the public school system, presents a method of training through the study of physical, mathematical, rational and social sciences, of the classical and modern literatures, classical and modern languages, of psychology and pedagogy, and especially through the actual teaching in the practice school under direction of expert training teachers, (where the theoretical work of the pedagogical course is at once reduced to practice, where the great educational theories are subjected to practical tests, and out of which force alone grows that power of personality and love for the profession which is the final test of fitness for the grave responsibilities of the teacher)—this course, I repeat it, presents a method of training nowhere surpassed.

The manual training school is a decided step in education, far in advance of many older states in the union. Courses are designed for pupils from kindergarten grade on through all the successive stages of education, even including the graduate school. Among the subjects taught are whittling, chip-carving, joining, inlaying, modeling and designing, tool and bench work, high and low relief, paper folding, mat and cloth weaving, clay modeling, basket making, bent iron work, card board construction, free hand carving in applique, etc., etc.

The graduate school fills a demand on the part of our most progressive and efficient teachers for training of a higher professional character than can be offered by the regular course, as well as for work of a full collegiate course in the sciences, mathematics, languages, literature, etc. This course meets the needs of critic teachers, high school teachers and principals, of superintendents of schools, and of specialists. The course leads to the degree of master of pedagogy and consists of advanced work in pedagogy, psychology, anthropology, the social, political, biological, and physical sciences, mathematics, languages and literature. This course added to the regular normal course is equivalent to a four years' course of collegiate grade. Special facilities are afforded for research work in the natural sciences, particularly in biology and anthropology, in which, as has been already stated, the museum facilities and opportunities for field work are unsurpassed. Original work in history, sociology and psychology may be done to good advantage, and all the work outlined for these studies is conducted by professors who have had training at the best universities of America and Europe. These are the departments of the normal university, and it is a not uncommon remark of visitors that "to take a day off to go through the school is an education in itself." Its advantages are so manifold and so self-evident that it is needless to enumerate them. It may be added, however, to those wishing to fit themselves for the profession of teaching, that boards of education from every part of the territory apply for the services of our graduates. It is a positive fact that there are from ten to twelve applications for every graduate, and even for students who have only finished their junior normal work there is a strong demand from county superintendents and school boards.

The enrollment which began with an attendance of ninety-two the first year, has grown until we now have regis-

PERIODS OF PAIN.

Miss Gertrude Williams, Chaplain of Woman's Christian Association of Detroit, and Two Other Women, Tell How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Cures Periodic Suffering.

While no woman is entirely free from periodical suffering, it does not seem to have been the plan of nature that woman should suffer so severely. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the most thorough female regulator known to medical science. It relieves the condition which produces so much discomfort and robs menstruation of its terrors.

MISS GERTRUDE WILLIAMS.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—and dear friend, for such your medicine has proved to me; 'a friend in need is a friend indeed.' For several years I suffered from Menorrhagia, or profuse and painful menstruation, until my vitality was well nigh gone, and as a last resort I took six bottles of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was restored to health, to the surprise of my friends, and I now sing its praises. Gratefully yours, Miss GERTRUDE WILLIAMS, 75 Columbia St., West Detroit, Mich."

Two More Sufferers Relieved.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I had been a sufferer of suppression of the menses from girlhood, always appearing after time and causing great pain compelling me to keep my bed. I tried a number of doctors but without relief. Having read so many testimonials about the good Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, I decided to try it. After using only one bottle I felt much better. I continued its use and the health and strength that I have to-day I feel I owe to you."—Mrs. CHAR. B. GILL, 1012 Winter St., Philadelphia, Pa.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I write to let you know how thankful I feel toward you and your remedies. Words cannot express the benefit I have received from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I had been troubled with my periods being very irregular and painful, also suffered with my back and kidneys, but now I feel like a new woman. I cheerfully recommend your remedies to any one suffering as I was."—Mrs. JAMES COX, 528 Washington St., Camden, N.J.

Women who are troubled with painful or irregular menstruation, backache, bloating (or flatulence), leucorrhoea, falling inflammation or ulceration of the uterus, ovarian troubles, that "bearing-down" feeling, dizziness, faintness, indigestion, nervous prostration or the blues, should take immediate action to ward off the serious consequences, and be restored to perfect health and strength by taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and then write to Mrs. Pinkham, Lynn, Mass., for further free advice. Thousands have been cured by so doing.

$5000 REWARD.—We have deposited with the National City Bank of Lynn, $5000, which will be paid to any person who can find that the above testimonial letters are not genuine, or were published before obtaining the writer's special permission. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

tered with us, in all the departments, nearly three hundred fifty, three-sevenths of whom are in the model school. In numbers as in progress there has been a steady and most gratifying growth, evident in every department, evident in the faculty, in the training teachers, in the student body, and most evident in the social influences which the school wields over the community and over the public school education of the northern part of our territory.

The administration consists of a board of regents, all member of which are residents of Las Vegas, and of the president of the school. It enjoys the unique distinction of having remained absolutely unchanged since the doors of the school have opened.

The members of the body are: Hon. Frank Springer, president; Hon. M. W. Browne, secretary-treasurer; Hon. Charles Hild, Rev. George Selby, Hon. A. B. Smith. They represent the highest type of administrative ability. They, together with the president of the school, with singular judgment and insight into the details of the needs and government of the school, handle and dispose of every question that may arise. Their influence on the advancement of the standard and material progress of the school has always been such as to impress all who have watched the growth of the institution with the conviction—since such a body is the absolute arbiter of an establishment for education—that all the splendid foundation that has been laid, that all the progress it has made, that all the far reaching influence of its mission is due to their prudence, their foresight, their marvelous and harmonious co-operation, a co-operation that has always ignored, always effaced self for the common good of all.

With men of such force of character to direct its affairs; with a chief who possesses the unqualified confidence of his board as executive, as teacher, and as a man; who controls the affairs of the entire organization with a spirit of born leadership, and with a dignity, that comes only from the highest type of character; whose personality lends itself to all, feels with all, works to the expansion of every individual nature, and inspires teacher and student alike with an ambition that is never content to rest—I say it again, with such men to direct its affairs, the future of the institution is assured. Its potent influences, in the years to come, upon the social intellect and character of New Mexico can be measured somewhat by what it has already accomplished.

Notes from Correspondents

RATON.

Special Correspondence.
Raton, N. M., March 28.—The pleasant home of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Cohn was the scene of a very pleasant party, given for Mrs. Hamblin and Chief Justice Mills, Thursday night, the 20th inst. Whist was played at four tables, the contestants, besides the guests of honor, being Mr. and Mrs. Van Houten, Mr. and Mrs. Mendelson, Mr. and Mrs. Remsburg, Mr. and Mrs. H. Officer, Dr. and Mrs. Shuler, Mrs. Leahy, and Messrs. Wrigley, Streicher and Gartner. Palatable refreshments were served after the game. When the scores were counted, it was found that Mrs. Hamblin was highest of the ladies and received a pretty cut glass dish as a prize. Mrs. Mendelson being next high was given a dainty china cup and saucer. Mr. Remsburg won a handsome ebony cloth brush, his score was remarkable, being nearly fifty in twenty-four hands. Mr. and Mrs. Cohn excel as entertainers and this time they added to their well established reputation for generous hospitality. The house was gorgeously trimmed in carnations and potted plants.

There is a new social club in Raton. Some of the members are non-residents, so every alternate meeting will be held in Las Vegas. W. E. Gortner is president of the club. The meeting will occur semi-annually, when important questions will be discussed and a Dutch lunch served.

Mrs. Mendelson charmingly entertained a party of ladies at whist-Monday afternoon. The entertainment was given for Mrs. Hamblin, besides whom there were in attendance, Mesdames Quick, Adams, Cohn, Remsburg, Van Houten, Officer, Price, Fugate, Shuler, Dwyer, Chapman, Leahy, M. M. Dawson, Leighton, Gavin, Sandusky, R. H. Ayers, J. H. Walker, Jr., and Miss O'Brien. The floral decorations in the parlors were indicative of the spring season, being hyacinths, tulips and narcissus, while the dining room was done in carnations. There was also a profusion of palms and ferns everywhere. The refreshments were dainty and delicious. At cards Mrs. Cohn was lucky enough to win a beautiful ebony and silver tea-trainer. Mrs. Dwyer a handsome leather purse and Mrs. Quick a pot of sweet-scented hyacinths.

Wednesday evening Mr. and Mrs. Leahy pleasantly entertained for the "court" and courted (Mrs. Hamblin) at whist. Six tables were occupied and the other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Officer, Mr. and Mrs. Price, Mr. and Mrs. M. Dawson, Mr. and Mrs. Sandusky, Mr. and Mrs. Mendelson, Mr. and Mrs. Gavin, Mesdames Hobbs, Cohn, Shuler, Leighton, Van Houten and Remsburg; Messrs. Gortner, Wrigley, D. J. Leahy, and Dr. Streicher. The parlors were effectively decorated in white and green, with Easter lilies, tulips, hyacinths, narcissus and palms, all suggestive of the approach of Easter. In the dining room carnations were used. A dinner fork was awarded Mrs. Mendelson, a dessert fork was given Mrs. Hamblin, for a guest prize. A pot of hyacinths to Mrs. Officer, a copy of "Audrey" to Mr. Officer and a fancy basket of colored Easter eggs to Mrs. Dawson as prizes. Refreshments were served, after which the gentlemen participated in a smoker and the ladies to fortune telling, to pass a pleasant hour or so, when good nights were said.

Last Saturday Mr. and Mrs. Manley Dawson pleasantly entertained their whist club. In the absence of Mr. and Mrs. Nyhus the Leahys took a hand in the game. A unique feature in this club is the scoring of couples, instead of individuals. The prize will be given at the end of the season. Mrs. Dawson served a delicious supper. The table was laid for ten and was dressed in carnations.

The last of the parties for Mrs. Hamblin, who leaves for her home today, was given on Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Remsburg. Easter decorations were in evidence in this pretty home also, and the refreshments were also suggestive of the season. Mesdames Hamblin, Van Houten, Fugate, Quick, J. H. Walker, Jr., J. H. Walker, Sr., Officer, Price, Adams, M. M. Dawson, Mendelson, Chapman, Shuler, Cohn, Leahy, Dwyer, Sandusky, Shaffer and Misses O'Brien and Elynn Shuler. Mrs. Hamblin received a silver teaspoon, Mrs. Chapman another spoon and Mrs. Shuler a box of stationery as souvenirs.

There is every indication that court will last well along into next week, which means that our social world will be gay for awhile longer. There have been a number of informal dinners, suppers and evenings at cards during the past two weeks, as well as the larger affairs mentioned. Judge Mills is always certain of being entertained well, while holding court in Raton, and the presence of Mrs. Hamblin has been the occasion of many pleasant functions also.

The Seven-hand Euchre club met at Mrs. Cohn's last Tuesday afternoon. Mrs. Hamblin was presented with the week's prize—a silver fork.

GOLDEN.

Special Correspondence.
Golden, March 28.—Mr. Osborn, connected with J. B. Mayo in several mining claims in this district, has been in camp several days.

W. S. Rishworth, manager of the Baird Mining company, is expecting word from his company to start operations in the Baird.

Edgar Moore, superintendent of the Industrial Park Mining company, in company with Mr. Mills, are doing considerable work on the company's ground.

Witnesses have been summoned to Santa Fe district court in the case of the Argo Mining company vs. The Divina Pastora company. This case has been pending several years in court, and once settled, heavy development work will be done in the Divina Pastora claim.

Messrs. Trother, Bierman & Co., with several other men, are getting ore out from the Old Timer mine. The mill at Golden, where the ore will be treated, has been put in shape, and everything will be ready by the time the ore is ready to be hauled down, which will be next week.

Some very encouraging news from the Argo company's mines in this district has been given to the superintendent of the company by the men now doing some development work, which has been carried on all winter. About four feet of ore has been found which promises the making of a great producer.

J. L. Lopez went to Las Vegas yesterday, carrying with him a large chunk of retort recently taken out of the San Miguel mining claim. Mr. Lopez is getting some very rich ore out of the San Miguel and his arrastra is saving all the values in the ore. Mr. Lopez is more than pleased with the looks of his mine which promises to be a great mine.

SILVER CITY.

Special Correspondence.

Silver City, N. M., March 27.—At the citizens' convention held at Newcomb hall last evening, candidates were nominated for the city election next week. Mayor J. W. Fleming, who has acted as mayor of Silver City for over sixteen years and has undoubtedly held that office longer than any other mayor in any city in the west, was renominated. Stephen Uhli and Richard Crabe were nominated for members of the city council. John A. Rose was nominated for the school board.

The enterprise which is being pushed by the local business men of Silver City to erect a smelter in this city, is fast forming into a definite shape. With mountains of all kinds of rich ore in every direction from Silver City the project would be a doubt prove a good paying investment. It is the intention of the company, if it is formed, to erect three mills, a smelter, concentrator and leaching plant. These three mills would be enabled to mill all kinds of ores that could be mined in the vast deposits in the mountains surrounding Silver City at such a small charge for milling, that at what has been being charged by the trust smelter located here, it would make low grade mining propositions able to ship and make a fair profit on the ores. One of the principal drawbacks in the enterprise is that a large quantity of water would be required to run the mills, which can be had, but which would necessitate the outlay of considerable work to secure the required amount. It is, however, the opinion of prominent mining men that water could be secured by boring and in all probability artesian water would be struck.

Santa Fe Agent Barton, who has been acting as agent at this point for several months past, will, in a few days be transferred to Deming as agent at that place for the Santa Fe. C. W. Merrilles, of Albuquerque, who held the position of chief clerk at that station for some time past, will be promoted to the agency at Silver City. United States Marshal Forsaker was a passenger on the incoming passenger train the other day and is attending to some official matters in this city.

The Duglass Beer and Ice company, which was composed of Silver City men, sold their interests last week at their own price to the Duglass Improvement company. It is said they reaped a handsome profit on the sale.

SANTA FE.

Special Correspondence.

Santa Fe, N. M., March 28.—The largest attendance of members of Santa Fe lodge, No. 460, of the Benevolent & Protective Order of Elks assembled at its home in Santa Fe on the 26th inst., the occasion being the annual election.

A. B. Renehan was elected exalted ruler to succeed T. J. Halm. F. Gable was elected esteemed leading knight to succeed Mr. Renehan. James L. Seligman was elected esteemed loyal knight to succeed J. L. Zimmerman. Charles V. Safford was elected esteemed lecturing knight to succeed James L. Seligman. J. B. Davis was elected secretary to succeed C. A. Carruth. Charles Haspelmath was elected treasurer to succeed himself for the third time. James M. Crausbay was elected tiller to succeed Mr. Gable. Grant Rivenburg was initiated into the mysteries of the order.

LOST LAKE.

Said to Be Fabulously Rich in Coarse Gold.

Prospecting for gold makes husky men even if they don't always find the gold. Sometimes these men can tell interesting tales.

Joseph Morehead, whose headquarters are in Elgin, Ore., writes: "Last fall I came down here, attracted by the rich strikes in the Baker City fields. On my arrival I heard a 'fairy story' of a 'lost lake' in the Blue mountains which was said to be fabulously rich in coarse gold. The story had all the 'ear marks' of the 'lost mine' and 'lost cabin' stories to be heard in every mining district: prospector driven out by Indians, brought pocket full of nuggets with him, died and left the customary rough sketch of the locality, etc., etc."

"I determined to have a look for it, and as the formation is volcanic it is too rough for pack animals. The problem was how to carry food enough, in addition to my pick, pan and blanket, for a two weeks' sojourn in the mountains."

"I had, a short time before, been prospecting with an old mountaineer in the Bitter Root range in Montana. He was an enthusiast on the subject of Grape-Nuts and Postum Coffee. In fact he lived on them. I used to 'josh' him about his 'grub' but soon grew to like myself and finally got to eating Grape-Nuts three times a day and as much often as I got the chance."

"So with my former experience in mind I got five packages of Grape-Nuts and some packages of Postum Coffee which, with a little sugar and salt were all the supplies I took with me, and for nine days laborious climbing over the roughest country out of doors I had nothing else except an occasional trout caught from the stream. I came back feeling first class and am offering to bet that I can average thirty miles a day over mountain trails with thirty pounds of blankets, etc., nothing but Grape-Nuts."

This food can be digested and will fatten a nursing infant and it also sustains and works wonders with the hardest physical and mental workers, including foot ball and base ball players, athletes of all kinds, editors, doctors, ministers, lawyers, business men and other brain workers."

WINSLOW.

Special Correspondence.

Winslow, March 27.—A party of Masons from Winslow lodge No. 13 go to Holbrook on Saturday evening to assist the Masons of Holbrook to confer the master's degree and to attend a banquet given by the Holbrook brethren. Among the party are W. A. Parr, W. M., and Brothers Lesser, Mahoney, Thomas, Davis, Flinn, Stewart and others.

At a regular meeting of Winslow lodge of Elks Thursday night the election and installation of officers took place and the following officers were elected and installed: Bert I. Rieberg, exalted ruler; J. X. Woods, esteemed lecturing knight; J. W. Burk, esteemed loyal knight; John Kangkasi, esteemed lecturing knight; E. J. Wolff, secretary; Joseph L. Krentz, treasurer; F. F. Fleckenger, tyler; G. A. Wolff, trustee; A. W. Fleckenger, esquire; and Freeman Stewart, chaplain.

The rush continues at the new millinery parlors of Mrs. Simms.

No. 4, east bound passenger, ran into an open switch and collided with a light engine on the side track. The switch had been left open. Luckily none of the crew or passengers was hurt, except Mr. Paxton, the fireman on No. 4, who was scratched slightly and one leg lightly hurt. A tramp was riding over between the tender and baggage car and was killed. He was brought to Winslow and after the coroner's jury inquest, the remains were turned over to Undertaker Parr for burial and interred at Winslow cemetery. The man killed proved to be William Chance, of Lawrence, Kas.

The death of the wife of John Trellio, which occurred at about 4 o'clock this morning in south Winslow, came like a thunder clap to the citizens of Winslow, notwithstanding the lady had been sick a long time. It was understood the lady was out of danger. The funeral will take place from the Catholic church and the remains will be laid at rest in the Winslow cemetery. She leaves a husband and two children to mourn her loss. One son is grown and married and the daughter is about 13 years of age.

Mrs. John Downs is on the sick list, but is reported as improving.

Harry Dicks, who has been bedfast for some weeks, is reported as improving.

Winslow is to have another newspaper, owned and edited by Messrs. H. A. Simms and H. H. Herr, and they promise a live paper. If the people are not enlightened it will not be for the want of live newspapers in the town.

Mr. Monahan and Mr. Butler, from Needles, Cal., are in the city visiting friends and are the guests of our popular gent's furnishing merchant, Freeman Stewart, of Monahan, Murphy & Co.

The Fee family have taken up their residence on Knob hill near the school house in one of the cottages owned by W. A. Parr. The young man, Chester Fee, will soon return to Albuquerque to serve the balance of his time at his trade.

The probate judge has been petitioned to appoint W. A. Parr administrator of the estate of Thomas Henry Fee, deceased.

BERNALILLO.

Special Correspondence.

Bernalillo, N. M., March 28.—C. D. Richards, one of the superintendents of the Sugar Beet company, who is employing Indian labor for the large sugar beet plantations in Colorado, visited Miss Gregg's school here during the past week.

Mr. Freudenberg and J. Bibb visited Albuquerque during the week.

A. Soestberg, of Hamburg, Germany, arrived in Bernalillo on Wednesday morning and will spend some time in visiting his brother, I. Freudenberg.

Mrs. Charles Loewenberg, of Chihuahua, Mexico, returned from her business trip to New York, during the week, spent a day with relatives and then returned home.

Messrs. Siegfried and Julius Seligman will give a ball on Saturday evening, March 29. The invitations are now out and it will be a grand affair.

Mrs. A. Lafayette left her "Frisco" camp for Atlantic City to spend the summer and to interest eastern capital for their placer mining company.

Juan Garcia's child died last week. The child of Abel Samora also was laid away this week.

James Grunfeld was here last Sunday on his way to his mining property in the Sandia mountains. He seems to be well satisfied.

The prospect for good mining very bright. Some very good samples of ore rock have been found in the Sandia mountains.

Mrs. Lena Weiss, of San Francisco, sister of Joseph Bibb, is expected out to New Mexico to visit her relatives during the summer. She is expected soon.

"Albuquerque may not be over winter for some time," said W. B. Childers. "I don't keep track of the weather myself but a man who does told me the other day that three years ago, on May 3, the thermometer was three degrees above zero. The coldest we have had this winter thus far is 18 degrees above."

Dr. L. W. Bliss, of Saginaw, Mich., is making an examination of the Mitchell Brothers tract of timber land for the American Lumber company, of which he is a member.

Dr. Bliss is a brother of Governor Bliss, who is one of the largest stockholders, and his mission is to determine the equipment needed at the start. Dr. Bliss says the company will build its mill here.

The second entertainment of the Guards' Auxiliary, which was given at Grant hall last night, was a great success. Mrs. Rose Berry furnished the music for dancing, but dancing was not all.

Miss Heimbeck sang two solos as did Mrs. Berry; Mrs. J. O. Frost gave an interesting recitation; W. T. Bramlett sang a humorous solo; Lane and Williams sang a duet, and Mr. Grimmer gave a monologue.

The lecture on Sunday at 3 p. m., at Odd Fellows' hall, 319 1/2 Second street, will discuss the special subject of a "psychic," or spiritual body, giving some idea of what it is from scientific sources, and then presenting hard facts in proof of it as well as in demonstration of the life hereafter.

New Mexico Normal University

Las Vegas, New Mexico.

By an act of the territorial legislature of 1893, the New Mexico Normal school at Las Vegas was created. The proceeds of the special tax levied at that time for the erection of the building, with the addition of $10,000 appropriated by the legislature of 1895, and the sum of $19,700 advanced by the citizens of Las Vegas in 1898, were applied to the erection and equipment of the beautiful sandstone building now occupied by the school. The building is of the Romanesque style of architecture. It is situated on an eminence ers from the beginning of their work in the kindergarten to the end of the high school. All the resources of the Normal University in the way of apparatus and appliances are used by the pupils of the model school. The pupils have the full benefit of the museum, physical apparatus, library, laboratories, gymnasium and athletic field.

The rooms are made beautiful and homelike. The school hours are materially shortened in the interests of health and with actual gain of intellectual progress. There is no crowding of the course of study. The aim manual training and business courses.

The New Mexico biological station was founded as an independent institution at Mesilla in 1896. In 1899 it was moved to Las Vegas, and held a successful summer session in the New Mexico Normal University. The students in attendance have been mostly public school teachers. The results of the research work have been published in the Annals and Magazine of Natural History.

The station is now conducted as a part of the work of the biological department of the Normal University.

In the fall of 1900 the Las Vegas Science club was founded. It holds monthly meetings. At each meeting there is an exhibit of interesting specimens by various members, followed by one or more papers on scientific subjects. The meetings are open to all who are interested, and are attended in the center of the city of Las Vegas, easy of access from all directions, and surrounded by perfect sanitary conditions. It is heated by steam, perfectly lighted and ventilated, furnished with electric lights and supplied with mountain water.

On October 4, 1897, the organization of the institution was begun by the election of the president. The next year was devoted to the making up of the faculty, the furnishing of the building, equipment of departments, and general preliminary operations. At 8:30 a. m., October 3, 1898, the institution was opened with ninety-two students enrolled. The first year's enrollment reached 197.

The Thirty-third legislative assembly extended the scope of the institution by creating it the "New Mexico Normal University," and by directing that a manual training school, and kindergarten training school be established in connection with it. An appropriation of $19,300 was made for the purpose of reimbursing the citizens of Las Vegas for the amount advanced by them to complete the building, and an additional millage tax was levied for maintenance. By an act of the Thirty-fourth legislative assembly the maintenance of the school was fixed at one-half mill tax upon all taxable property of the territory. For the purpose of permanent improvement it also has the proceeds arising from the sale and rental of 50,000 acres of public land.

The departments that make up the Normal University are:

(1) The Normal school with its accessory schools which make up the training department; viz, the model schools, comprising all grades from kindergarten to high school inclusive, and the practice school.

(2) The academic school.

(3) The manual training school.

(4) The graduate school.

The mission of the mission school is threefold:

(1) To educate teachers for the public service.

(2) To develop a system of model school education for the guidance of the schools of the state.

(3) To promote the vital relations which should exist between the school and the home.

The general method of training may be stated as follows: By the study of biological and physical sciences, history, literature and mathematics, by the study of art, by the study of psychology and the social sciences, by the study of pedagogy, by observation of study of expert teaching in model schools and by actual teaching in the practice school.

The work of the normal courses is largely professional. Students taking these courses who are found deficient in general education, are required to take the necessary preparatory work in the academic school.

The model school comprises kindergarten, primary and secondary grades. It is a complete public school from kindergarten to the high school, inclusive. It is a very important part of the normal school. The aim is to make the model school an institution which may become the pattern for the public schools of the state. To that end only the best of training teachers are in charge. The pupils of the model school are under the direction of expert teach-has been to make this a model course for the public schools of the state.

The purpose of the academic school is two-fold:

(1) In carrying out one of the purposes of the normal school, i. e., to develop a model system of public schools for the guidance of the schools of the state, it is necessary to develop not only the elementary but the secondary school as well. The secondary school serves as a model high school in the development of the model school system.

(2) The academic school affords the necessary opportunity for general education which very many young people of New Mexico need and are unable to secure elsewhere, as a preparation for entrance upon normal school, technical school, college or university courses, or as a general preparation for life for those who will get no higher education. The requirements for admission are fulfilled by a good elementary school preparation which includes the branches usually taught up to and including the sixth grade in public schools. The academic course will furnish adequate preparation for entrance upon the professional work of the normal school, or for entrance to the A. B., Ph. B. and B. S. courses in all American universities.

By an act of the Thirty-third legislative assembly, the manual training school for the territory of New Mexico was created as a branch of this institution. Pursuant to this act the school was organized.

The opening of the manual training school is a most significant step in the development of the educational system in New Mexico.

In order to extend the benefits of the manual training school as widely as possible, the manual training teachers will willingly assist teachers and boards in introducing the work into the public schools of the territory.

It is the intention of the management to introduce all other lines of industrial work that the income of the school will permit. Cooking, sewing and all phases of home economics will be provided for at an early date.

There is a demand on the part of the most efficient teachers for training of a higher professional character than can be offered by the regular normal course as well as for work of full collegiate grade in the sciences, mathematics, languages, literature, etc.

To meet this demand is the function of the graduate school. It is designed not only to prepare grade teachers for work of a higher order, but also to meet the needs of critic teachers, principals, superintendents and specialists. The course leads to the degree of master of pedagogy, and consists of advanced courses in pedagogy, psychology, anthropology, social, political, biological and physical sciences, mathematics, languages and literature.

This course added to the regular normal course, is equivalent to a four years' course of collegiate grade.

The department work includes education, training work, biological sciences, botany, zoology, physiology, experimental psychology, the physical sciences, geography, physiology, physics, geology, chemistry, social and political sciences, sociology, government, economics, literature, history, English, Latin, Greek, German, French, physical culture, art, mathematics, by some of the more advanced students of the Normal school, who sometimes present papers and exhibits.

The Pedagogical club meets once a month. The organization is composed of members of the faculty, advanced students, and is also open to persons not members of the school who are interested in education. The club is devoted to the intensive, scientific study of educational problems. The scope of its work includes also anthropology, as have direct bearing on the subject of pedagogy.

From time to time scientific parties go out from the Normal university, to investigate the natural history of New Mexico. Such have been President Hewett's archaeological expeditions to the Pajarito region, some of the results of which have been a complete archaeological survey of Pajarito Park, an extensive study of cliff-dwelling architecture and pictography, a large amount of interesting burial mound exploration and the collection of much valuable pre-historic pottery, stone and bone implements, crania, etc., all of which is now available for the further study of the pre-historic archaeology of the southwest.

A large room is devoted to museum purposes, containing chiefly the reference collections for the use of students. In addition, cases are placed in the halls throughout the building, containing archaeological, zoological, geological and botanical specimens, arranged so as to be readily examined by the public as well as those in regular attendance at the Normal university.

The faculty and authorities of the New Mexico Normal university extend their fullest encouragement and assistance to that very important aspect of life—the physical development of the student. The Athletic association of the Normal university is organized on a sound and permanent basis, and has completed the building of the finest athletic grounds in New Mexico. These grounds are called "Raynolds Field," in honor of Messrs. Joshua and Jefferson Raynolds, of Las Vegas, who have generously granted to the association the free use, for several years, of a large tract of ground near the center of the town. The grounds have been fenced, a commodious and well built grand stand constructed, foot ball field, base ball diamond, tennis courts, etc., laid out. The association supports all branches of athletics, and in foot ball, base ball, tennis and other sports, the teams of the Normal university have made enviable records.

Every regular member of the school must be a member of one of the literary societies, and do regular literary work, and a credit toward graduation is given to every student who faithfully performs his society duties. There are three societies: The Freshman society, which is composed of members of the Freshman class; the Sophomore, which is made up principally of the two upper classes, and the Emersonian, which is composed of all students not in the other two societies. The Freshman and Emersonian societies are under faculty supervision.

The dramatic work of the school has come to be a great source of culture. The work begins in the model school with the study and presentation of simple selections from the classics and culminates in the higher classes in the

OTERO COUNTY

BRIEF SKETCH

A large fraction of the area of northern Otero county is taken up by the Mescalero Indian reservation for the opening to general settlement of which a movement has been set on foot. It was not until 1894, when Capt. C. V. Stottler took charge of them, that the Mescalero Apaches began to make strides toward civilization. Up to that time they had lived in tepees and had wandered at large over the reservation, which includes several hundred square miles of land. When this army officer came among them he found them wearing breech cloths, frequently drunk on mescal and as disreputable and troublesome as it is possible for an Indian to be. A few had been educated by the United States government at the Indian boarding schools at a distance, but these seemed to be the worst of the lot. They had gone back to long hair and incited others to disregard the orders of the officials.

Captain Stottler began by deciding that the Indians must be made to clothe themselves and have their hair cut. They objected to this. At last one of them was bribed to allow his locks to be shorn. He promptly got into so much trouble with the squaws that he persuaded other bucks to do as he had done. In this way half the tribe were given a hair cut. The remaining Indians were given their hair cut in a more forcible manner. Then every child over 5 years of age was ordered to school, the parents who objected being sent to jail and put to hard labor. All power was taken away from the old chief and the bucks were told that they had to go to work or starve. Then they went to work. The work begun by Dr. Luttrell, who until last year was in charge of the agency. The result is that every Indian wears civilized attire and has otherwise adopted the ways of civilization, has a piece of land fenced in on which he raises grain and vegetables; has a good wagon, horses and farm implements; a log house, comfortably supplied with necessary furniture and utensils; ten head of sheep for man, woman and child in the family. From a trouble making Apache he has become a self-supporting man and no longer requires government aid. As a result beef rations are issued only to those Indians too old to work. At present there are on the reservations 490 Indians, of whom 365 are adults, divided into 128 families. With the exception of 50 women and 40 men all are married. Among them they cultivate 90 farms, have 9,000 acres of land fenced in and 1,200 acres in grain. They own over 1,000 horses, 20 mules, 60 burros, 5,000 sheep, 600 goats and over 100 head of cattle. There is now practically no reservation for the Indians in the sense of confinement, the present reserve merely protecting water rights and guaranteeing each Indian permanent possession of his lands and an opportunity to make a good living. There is excellent agricultural, extensive grazing and very valuable timber land on the reservation. In the mountains are many indications of large ore deposits.

All of the children of the Mescalero Indian reservation are in school, 118 being in boarding school, on the reservation, and seven at non-reservation schools. Attendance is compulsory. The school plant is in good condition, having electric lights, an excellent water system and ample fire protection. The work of the school has been satisfactory in all departments and pupils passing through the institution are being well fitted to take up some trade or follow the pursuit of farming on the lands of the reservation. The school farm of 200 acres is doing finely and is raising large crops.

The climate of Otero county, like that of the rest of New Mexico, is especially adapted to invalids, including those suffering from lung and throat trouble. The winters are very mild and the summers are delightful, of course, in the plain, being at times very hot during the afternoon hours, but always cool at night. The air is dry and bracing the year round and the percentage of sunshine is higher than anywhere else in the United States. The healthseeker and the tourist are offered every accommodation of a progressive country and yet can get very near to the heart of nature.

Town of Tularosa.

Tularosa was the most important settlement in Otero county before Alamogordo was founded. It is a lovely agricultural settlement in the southern part of Otero county. It is enclosed in fruit orchards and boasts of beautiful and magnificent surroundings. It is situated at the base of the White mountains whose highest peaks about twenty-five miles distant rise to an altitude of 12,000 feet. The town itself has an elevation of 4,500 feet. It is supplied with water by Tularosa creek which is a mountain stream whose sources consist of several mountain springs, containing iron, magnesia and sulphur, on the reservation of the Mescalero Indians. It flows for about twenty miles through the canyon dividing the White mountains from the Sacramento range. These mountains are covered with pine, fir, juniper, pinon and balsam fir, all of which endow the atmosphere with healing balm beneficial to the lungs. The balsam fir furnishes a resin pleasant to the taste and much used among the mountain dwellers for coughs, sore throats and similar complaints. The temperature ranges from the freezing point to 94 degrees Fahrenheit. This is the record for the past nineteen years. The quicksilver in the thermometer reaches its highest point about the middle of August when for about two weeks it climbs to 94 degrees at noon and remains there until 3 o'clock in the afternoon, when it begins to decline. At night the breeze sets in from the mountains which render a blanket necessary before morning. The large number of old cottonwood trees which line the streets of Tularosa furnish a dense shade which makes the warmest days pleasant and agreeable. The real winter lasts from about the end of December until the beginning of February and then the ice can be seen on the irrigating ditches but only from one-eighth to one-quarter of an inch in thickness. Tularosa being completely land locked against the winds on the north and east by mountains and spurs from the main range, never experiences those sudden changes of temperature which are so severe on those with lung trouble.

New Mexico as a fruit region has already been largely advertised and the fruit of all kinds raised proves its high standing for horticulture. Tularosa does not fall behind any other portion of the territory in the cultivation of apples, peaches, pears, apricots, nectarines, figs, grapes and wine making from the "Mission" grape. Apple measuring from four to six inches in diameter are raised in Tularosa. The tourist and hunter will find many attractions in the vicinity of the town. The mountain landscape and the wonderful mirage of the desert to be often seen in the Tularosa valley are things worth going many miles to see. Six hours' ride will take the hunter among the wild turkey, black tail deer and cinnamon bear, and a day's drive in a buggy will carry the disciple of Walton to where the speckled trout are waiting greedy for the angler's bait. A large area of public land is still to be had in the vicinity of the settlement. That this land is rich and fertile is proved fully by the lands under cultivation in that section. But irrigation is necessary. Turn water on the land and it will produce anything grown in the temperate zone and many of the products of the tropics. The mountain streams furnish water only in limited quantity during the dry seasons but enough goes to waste and is lost during the winter months to irrigate a country as large as a New England osa which is destined to be one of the popular towns of southern New Mexico.

Other Settlements.

What is said of Tularosa, can to a greater or lesser extent be said of the other agricultural settlements in Otero county. All of them have picturesque surroundings, green fields and beautiful orchards. These are Three Rivers, La Luz, Fresnal, Pine Spring, Upper Penasco and Weed. Jarilla is a mining camp and has a postoffice. The stations on the El Paso & Northeastern railway in Otero county, beginning in the south and including its branch roads in Otero county, are: Hereford, Hueco, Desert, Soledad, Jarilla, Turquoise, Escondida, Dog Canon, Alamogordo, Tularosa, Temporal, Three Rivers, Fresnal, Cloudercroft.

The Future of Otero County.

It is not difficult to foretell the future of Otero county. It is certain to become one of the richest, most prosperous and populous of New Mexico counties. Its varied resources, its industrial opportunities, its climate, its progressive people, its manifold natural attractions have been brought to the attention of the world only lately and they are certain to attract new settlers and new capital for many years to come. The man who invests and settles in Otero county at this time is certain to reap rich returns in the not very distant future.

Town of Alamogordo.

From Governor Otero's Annual Report. Alamogordo, the county seat of Otero county, has been fifty dubbed "the miracle of New Mexico." Laid out but three years ago, it has a population of 2,000 and enjoys the reputation of being one of the most progressive communities of the territory. The town was planned by the Alamogordo Improvement company, which has followed a uniform, consistent scheme in its development, the result of which is seen in its miles of wide streets, lined on each side by cottonwood trees, whose verdure marks a sharp contrast with the aridity and barrenness of much of the landscape surrounding it. The company has spared no expense or pains in beautifying the town, and some of its efforts in this direction are noted in a park a mile long and two artificial lakes, which add to its charm.

The general offices of the El Paso & Northeastern railway and the Alamogordo & Sacramento Mountain railway are located at Alamogordo, as are those of the Alamogordo Lumber company and the Southwestern Mercantile company. The shops of the railroads and the two mills and box factory of the lumber company employ a large force of men, and the monthly pay rolls of the various corporations, circulated among the local merchants, make Alamogordo an excellent business point.

Along social lines the progress of the town has been as marked as it has been in the direction of industrial and commercial development. It possesses four churches—Methodist Episcopal North, Methodist Episcopal South, Baptist, and Presbyterian—and the Catholics are arranging for the erection of a handsome edifice. The secret orders are represented in the Freemasons, Odd Fellows, Knights of Pythias, and Improved Order of Red Men, and musical and literary societies testify to the culture of its inhabitants. The permanence of the town and the faith of its people in its future is amply evidenced by its substantial business blocks and its numerous handsome two-story residences, which would reflect credit on a city of tenfold the population of Alamogordo. Its educational advantages are emphasized by a $15,000 high school building and a Baptist college which cost $25,000, and which is under the control of the denomination in New Mexico, Arizona, and Colorado. Climate.

The climate of Otero county, like that of the rest of New Mexico, is especially adapted to invalids, including those suffering from lung and throat trouble. The winters are very mild and the summers are delightful, of course, in the plain, being at times very hot during the afternoon hours, but always cool at night. The air is dry and bracing the year round and the percentage of sunshine is higher than anywhere else in the United States. The healthseeker and the tourist state, if it were only stored in reservoirs, where nature has almost provided them, the mountain canyons. Movements are now on foot to effect that object. The mountain ranges near Tularosa contain large deposits of gold, silver, copper, iron and coal yet undeveloped. The town is about 100 miles from El Paso, Texas, on the El Paso & Northeastern railroad, trains running daily. The probable opening to settlement of the Mescalero Indian reservation at some not very distant day will prove a great boom to Tularosa.

house have been authorized by the county commissioners, and the work will begin this fall upon the new building. The town has had a building boom the past year, and many thousands of dollars have been expended in substantial improvements. It boasts of an efficient electric light and telephone system. Plans have been drawn and approved by the directors of the El Paso & Northeastern railroad for a new $20,000 hospital, which in point of equipment and modern improvements will be second to none in the west.

Battle of Buena Vista.

A correspondent at Laredo, Texas, says that Capt. Eli Ramsey, of Centerville, Iowa, a Mexican war veteran, has been spending the winter in that city and has just returned from a visit to the battlefield of Buena Vista, near Saltillo. He was a member of the Second Illinois and marched from Monclova under General Wool to Saltillo, where General Taylor met this army and assumed command during the battle. After the battle and the pursuit of Santa Anna, Captain Ramsey's regiment returned to the battle ground and camped there for fifteen months. He had assisted in burying the American dead and visiting their graves a great number of times before returning to this country.

In his visit the other day he walked over the field and located every rock and point of interest. What was most important of all he located the graves of the American soldiers. He says the mounds are quite plain and that the reason that the United States authorities have heretofore been unable to find them is because of the mistaken idea of the guides at Saltillo as to the location of the battlefield. This the guides place at a point about eight miles west of Saltillo when, in fact, the battle occurred at a point only four miles west and there, on a little elevation lie the bodies of the American soldiers.

The war department has already removed the bodies of those who died in hospitals and were buried in the city of Saltillo, to the United States and it is understood that there is a standing order for the removal of the others so soon as they can be located. Captain Ramsey's knowledge will be invaluable to the department so soon as it learns of his ability to locate these graves.

Captain Ramsey thus describes the great battle in which he bore a part: "We had marched from Monclova under command of General Wool. You will remember that Taylor's army had already covered itself with glory at Palo Alto, Resaca de la Palma, the capture of Matamoros, the storming of the bishop's palace at Monterey and capture of that city. Our portion of Taylor's division, which had crossed the Rio Grande far above where Taylor entered the hostile territory, had missed all the fun at the south and we were exceedingly anxious to have a tilt with the Mexicans. Wool's entire command was composed of raw recruits composing the First and Second Illinois, a regiment from Indiana, a Mississippi regiment under command of Jefferson Davis, a cavalry regiment from Mexico and Bragg's artillery. In all we had 4,446 men as against Santa Anna's 22,000 veteran soldiers.

"On the evening of February 20, 1846, General Taylor arrived from Monterey and assumed command. The flower of his army had been sent to reinforce General Scott, who was advancing on the capital from Vera Cruz. Santa Anna had determined to crush the remainder of Taylor's forces, especially those under Wool, advancing through the mountain passes from the north.

"We had been falling back through the mountains for two or three days before Santa Anna's overwhelming advance when Taylor arrived. We were immediately checked and turned in the direction of the enemy. On the evening of the 21st our regiment moved out toward the Mexicans a long way in line of battle, but with the exception of light skirmishing there was little done on the 21st.

"Just as dusk came down General Taylor rode along the lines of his little army seated upon that white charger which has often been mentioned in history. There were no heroics about Taylor. He made no stirring speech to his soldiers. He simply said to each company: 'Boys, you must fight like h—l tomorrow. If we are captured we will everyone be murdered.'

"It was just at daylight on the morning of the 22d that the Mexicans advanced. Colonel Bowles' regiment, the left wing of the army, gave way at the first onset and several regiments swung round our flank and succeeded in getting in our rear. Our lieutenant colonel, Morrison, seized the flag from the mortally wounded color bearer, waved it aloft and shouted to us to rally round the flag. We rallied and at the same time Jeff Davis' Mississippians rallied and we charged through the living wall toward the rear. We finally cut our way through to the main body and fell in behind a stone building which I found was still standing on the battlefield when I visited it last week. Here we made a stand and the other regiments ably assisting us drove the enemy back.

"This ended the fight until the afternoon. The ball was again opened by the First and Second Illinois about 2 p. m., making a charge. In this charge Colonels Hardin and Bell were killed. We advanced to the Mexican lines and then were ordered to retreat. Falling back, the Mexicans greedily snapped up the bait, the charge had only been made to draw them on and as we fell in behind Bragg's artillery, it opened with a furious fire. The Mexicans scarcely flinched, but advanced to the very mouths of the cannon which were belching forth like a volcano. We poured in a destructive musketry fire at the same time, but the Mexicans manifested the most heroic courage. We finally had to club our muskets and then, what with the losses sustained in the advance and our stubborn resistance, they began wavering.

"A little more grape, Captain Bragg, yelled Taylor, and they got the grape. They broke and fled. The slaughter had been something awful. The moment the rout commenced we leaped forward in pursuit. We followed Santa Anna's army for forty miles, but met with no further resistance. It had been driven from Buena Vista in headlong flight and, I suppose, was not rallied again until it confronted Scott in the march to Mexico City.

"Early in the fight young Clay, son of Henry Clay, of Kentucky, an officer of the general staff, was killed. He was greatly loved by the army and was as brave a man as ever wore a sword."

Captain Ramsey, while on the battlefield last week, picked up a musket ball which he has had attached to his watch chain set in gold as a charm.

Best Advertising Medium.

The reason why the newspapers are the best mediums for reaching the people and securing business is that they come into closer touch with the public than any other kind of publications. They greet the reader's eye every day in the year in the cities and once a week in remote country districts.

THE POULTRY INDUSTRY.

A census report shows that of the 5,739,657 farms in the United States, 5,095,252 reported poultry. The total number of fowls three months old and over reported was as follows:

Chickens, including guinea fowls, 233,599,085; turkeys, 6,599,637; geese, 5,676,863; ducks, 4,878,458.

The numbers of nearly all these classes of poultry are smaller as reported in 1900 than in 1899, owing to the fact that in 1899 they reported all fowls of whatever age, while in 1900 only those three months old and over were reported.

The eggs produced in 1899 were 1,293,819,186 dozens, against $19,722,916 dozens in 1889. An increase in the number of eggs produced, rather than an increase in the number of different kinds of fowls, marks the improvement of this branch of the industry.

The value of poultry on hand June 1, 1900, was $85,794,996; the value of poultry raised in 1899 was $136,891,877; and the value of eggs produced in 1899 was $144,286,158. The total income derived by the farmers from their poultry industry in 1899, representing the total value of the eggs produced, as well as the poultry raised, was $281,178,035. This total makes the poultry industry one of the largest connected with agriculture.

The foregoing figures do not include any statistics of country consumption and eggs raised outside of the farms and ranges.

Iowa leads the states in the number of chickens, including guinea fowls, having 18,907,673. Illinois is second with 16,600,728. Texas leads in the number of turkeys, with 648,671; Missouri is second with 466,665. Kentucky leads in the number of geese, having 541,576; Missouri is second with 428,307. Iowa raises the largest number of ducks, reporting 487,762; Illinois second, with 362,857. Iowa reports the largest value of poultry on hand June 1, 1900, $6,635,464; Illinois is second with $6,415,033. Illinois reports the largest value of poultry raised in 1899, $11,307,559; Iowa second with $9,491,819. Iowa reported the greatest number of eggs produced, 99,621,920 dozens; Illinois reports the second largest number, $6,402,620 dozens.

ALAMOGORDO HELLO.

Telephone Plant Will Be Pushed Rapidly as Possible.

The Alamogordo Improvement company, under date of March 15, received the following information in reference to the telephone system from John Franklin, Esq., of El Paso:

"Referring to the telephone matter, beg to say in reply to your letter of the 10th inst., that our last information with reference to the proposed telephone system at Alamogordo, is by means of a telegram from Mr. Lorion Miller, at Chicago, to the effect that the switchboard and 'phones for the plant at Alamogordo have been purchased, which indicates to us that the work of installation of this plant will be pushed as rapidly as possible."

Pure Blood

We wish you would ask your doctor what makes you so nervous, why you are so easily tired, and what makes your digestion so weak. See if he doesn't say, "Impure blood." He will probably speak about Ayer's Sarsaparilla, too.

"For two years I suffered greatly from dyspepsia and depression of spirits. I then tried Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and in one week I was a new man."

Mines and Minerals

The Clifton Era states that liens amounting to almost $10,000 have been filed against the Clifton Copper company operating in Grant county.

The Aberdeen company has completed its concentrator at Lordsburg and made a trial run. The company has a large amount of ore blocked out in its mines but will have to increase its force to take out the ore.

The Pacific Union company last week at Lordsburg, Grant county, experimented in substituting oil for coke in its smelter but the experiments were a failure as the draft necessary extinguishes the flame from the oil.

The tunnel on the Homestake mine, four miles south of Kingman, Ariz., is now in 130 feet and so far no break has been found in the ore body. While the ore is not of a high grade it will certainly pay to mill, as it is very free.

The new claims which are believed to contain a bonanza have been located two miles east of Pinos Altos, Grant county, by William Eaton, under the name of the Rough Rider mines. As says show a value of $81 to the ton in gold.

I. W. Hawkins and wife, of Kingman, Ariz., organized a mining company in the interest of Los Angeles people. O. D. M. Gaddis, Judge and Lew Blakely, I. M. George and F. W. Morrison are the incorporators of a mining company having for its object the development of mining property in the Boundary Cone country.

A new corporation has been formed by local stockholders with a capital of $100,000 to operate at the outskirts of Silver City and will be known as the Silver City Mining and Development company. Work will be commenced at once and in all probabilities there will be a flourishing copper camp almost at their midst.

The General Concentrates company of New York, has closed a deal for the rich lead property in the Cooks Peak district, Luna county, formerly owned by Jasper Onstot. A $30,000 concentrating plant will be immediately erected and the ore treated by a patent process. The company will spend thousands of dollars locating other mines.

A miner may follow a lode down under the side lines of his claim providing it has its apex on his ground and can be traced through the end lines of his claim, as long as he finds ore to work on or walls to trace, but he may not go further in another man's claim searching for a lead which he has lost or never had. This is the effect of a decision handed down by Judge Gilbert in the United States circuit court of appeals at San Francisco.

A prospectus has been issued of the proposed American Mining company, of which Thos. A. Lister, of Williamsport, Pa., is president and treasurer. The capital stock of the proposed company will be 600,000 shares, with a par value of $2 per share. The company expects to acquire, develop and work the Peg Leg, Gladiator, Sub Rosa, Horn Silver, Billy Boy, and Cobra Negra claims in the Virginia district, of Grant county. These claims all have a fine showing, and undoubtedly will develop into large properties.

The Mahove County (Ariz.) Miner says: I. E. Blake, who promoted the California Eastern railroad from Blake to Manvel, is one of the prime actors in a suit against Capt. De la Mar, the mining magnate, for the recovery of the sum of nearly $4,000,000 said to be due on a deal on the Jim Crow and Monitor mines, in Nevada. Blake, it will be remembered, was at one time wealthy but the crash of 1893 drove him to the wall and he was unable to carry out his undertaking. At that time it was claimed that he had a bond on the Jim Crow and Monitor mines, at what was then known as Monkey Wrench, Nevada, now Delamar, and that this bond was transferred to Captain Delamar, with the understanding that if the property was sold Blake would share in the sale. When the property was sold some few years ago it was stated that the price for which it passed was nearly $10,000,000. This the assignors of Blake seek to share in and also ask for an accounting of the stewardship of Delamar while he held and worked the property.

A Printer Greatly Surprised. "I never was so surprised in my life, as I was with the results of using Chamberlain's Pain Balm," says Henry T. Cook, pressman of the Asheville, N. C., Gazette. "I contracted a severe case of rheumatism early last winter by getting my feet wet. I tried several things for it without benefit. One day while looking over the Gazette, I noticed that Pain Balm was positively guaranteed to cure rheumatism, so I bought a bottle of it and before using two-thirds of it my rheumatism had taken its flight and I have not had a rheumatic pain since." BIG RECORDS.

Enormous Dividends Earned By Certain Big Mines.

People who have not studied the subject have for the most part very imperfect ideas as to what is being done, not only in the United States, but also in various foreign countries, in the way of gold and silver mining. To such may be recommended a careful consideration of the facts and figures set forth below. The record that has been made by some of the individual gold and silver mines is simply amazing.

The Comstock lode of Virginia City, Nevada, has produced in gold and silver the enormous sum of $220,000,000. Most of this ore yielded but $8 per ton in gold.

The Calumet has paid $60,800,000 in dividends alone.

The Anaconda, of Butte, which was sold for $40,000,000 to the Rockefeller, paid that amount in dividends before selling.

The Alaska-Treadwell gold mine, with ore running less than $3 has paid $3,995,000 in dividends.

The Ontario, of Utah, has paid $13,557,000 in dividends.

The Granite Mountain, Montana, $13,000,000; the stock selling from 10 cents per share to $75 inside of two years and paying 50 per cent in dividends each month.

The Homestake, of South Dakota, on $3 ore, has paid $33.33 in dividends every day it has run for the past ten years.

The Whitewaterstrand, of South Africa, produced in the first year (1887) only $405,000, but in 1895 it had increased to $40,000,000, while the output for the last ten years exceeds $250,000,000. For 1898 it was $75,000,000, placing it in the lead among the gold producing countries.

Having a Run on Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

Between the hours of eleven o'clock a. m. and closing time at night on January 25, 1901, A. P. Clark, druggist, Glade Springs, Va., sold twelve bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. He says, "I never handled a medicine that sold better or gave better satisfaction to my customers." This remedy has been in general use in Virginia for many years, and the people there are well acquainted with its excellent qualities. Many of them have testified to the remarkable cures which it has effected. When you need a good, reliable medicine for a cough or cold, or attack of the grip, use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and you are certain to be more than pleased with the quick cure which it affords. FLOWER GARDEN.

Timely Hints Issued in Bulletin by Agricultural College.

TREES AND PLANTS.

So many inquiries on various matters have been received from persons who have read Bulletin 40 of this experiment station, entitled, "A Southern New Mexico Flower Garden," that it is thought advisable to publish in this form additional information suggested by most of these inquiries.

Where to Get Trees and Plants.—Good flower seeds can be procured from almost any reliable florist in the country. With the growing of trees and plants, however, this trade is largely specialized, and some growers give more attention to one particular branch of the trade than others. Excellent two year old roses, in all the better varieties, such as those suggested in Bulletin 40, may be procured from George C. Roeding, Fresno, Cal. These Californian grown roses appear to do unusually well in our climate. Most varieties in these roses, together with a large number of flowers and plants that are adapted to our climate, may be procured from Baker Bros., Fort Worth, Texas, and from T. Y. Munson, of Denison, Texas. Some roses, and a good variety of greenhouse stock, may be procured in our own territory from Byron Ives, of Albuquerque. An excellent firm from which to procure greenhouse stock, and one that sends out uniformly good plants, is Joseph Vestal & Son, of Little Rock, Ark. A firm that makes a specialty of supplying hardy perennials including all those mentioned in Bulletin 40, is Frederick H. Horsford, Charlotte, Vt. Although this is a considerable distance away, the stock sent out is so uniformly good, and the prices so moderate, that it is thought worth while to mention this name. J. C. Vaughan, 84 Randolph street, Chicago, Ill., is also a reliable general florist's house.

The Experiment station at Mesilla Park can provide, at moderate prices, a limited number of plants and varieties of flower seeds. It has for sale young elm, catalpa, and box elder trees; also Artemesia and Caragana plants, and common yellow and pink roses, which are suitable for hedge plants. In other plants it can supply dahlias, cannas, cuttings of Virginia creeper, which can be easily started and grown in any garden, and chrysanthemums. In seeds it has a limited quantity of hollyhock, mammoth castor bean and poppy.

Time to Plant.—In the climate of southern New Mexico, roses of all kinds, excepting greenhouse stock and one year old plants, should be set out at once. The same thing applies to all hardy perennials. Cannas, dahlias, chrysanthemums and all tender flower seeds, should be planted from April 1 to April 15, or at such time as danger from late frost is over. The above dates will vary in different parts of our territory, depending upon the altitude, and lateness of spring frosts.

Help for Rural Schools.—The Experiment station is anxious to do all in its power to aid in the work of beautifying the surroundings of the rural schools of New Mexico. To this end it is willing to lend, free of charge, a small supply of such trees, shrubs, and plants as it has available to the authorities or teachers of rural schools of New Mexico who apply for the same. It has already sent out stock for such purposes, and if more is desired by any schools, application should be made promptly. It is expected, of course, that where such stock is sent out, it will be cared for and watered when necessary.

New Mining Prospects.

Operations for the recovery of gold have been carried on at several times by different companies on the Rio Grande some ten miles this side of Embudo, where the Taos and Rio Arriba line crosses the river, but no complete milling plant has ever been put in for the treatment of the ore.

The mineral bearing rock at this place occurs in large masses, or ledges, along the river and the whole mass, from large mill runs has been found to carry about $6 per ton in gold besides some copper, and occasional pockets have been encountered which carry as much as $20 in gold per ton.

W. M. Woody, a mining man of considerable experience, who was connected with former meagre operations has returned and begun operations. He is backed by two companies which will both erect mills, one in Taos county and the other on the Rio Arriba side of the line.

Each of the mills is to be of 100 tons capacity and as no "mining" is required, it being only necessary to "quarry" the ore in the open air and dump it into the mill ore bins it should be a paying investment from the start.

The capital to these companies has been subscribed by financially solid business men and the machinery will be shipped and the breaking of ground for its placement will be begun simultaneously about the first of April.

Mining operations of this class, i. e., the handling of a large amount of ore at a small profit per ton, is the best for the country surrounding, besides it gives employment to many more men and is a great stimulant to auxiliary and dependent business enterprises.—Taos Cresset.

Could Not Breathe.

Coughs, colds, croup, grip, bronchitis, other throat and lung troubles are quickly cured by One Minute Cough Cure. One Minute Cough Cure is not a mere expectorant, which gives only temporary relief. It softens and liquefies the mucous, draws out the inflammation and removes the cause of the disease. Absolutely safe. Acts at once. "One Minute Cough Cure will do all that is claimed for it," says Justice of the Peace J. Q. Hood, Crosby, Miss. "My wife could not get her breath and was relieved by the first dose. It has been a benefit to all my family." J. H. O'Reilly & Co.; B. H. Briggs & Co.

Stage Line to Be Established.

A stage line is to be established from Farmington, San Juan county, to Thoreau, McKinley county. A stone hotel has been completed along the route at Pueblo Bonito.

NEW MEXICO TOWNS

LAS VEGAS.

From the Record.

Miss Bessie Floyd, who has been in bed suffering from an injured foot, was able to be up today.

There is an important telegram announcing a death at the railway ticket office for Mrs. J. G. Knowlton.

There is going to be some boy killed, or badly injured, down in the south part of town, if the warfare between the American boys and Mexicans does not stop. The boys use slings and big rocks, and have a battle over the railroad tracks almost daily.

Charles and Howard Kohn returned from their southern trip. They corroborate the report that the sheep are dying fast, and that the drought is working considerable hardship in the country. Howard Kohn returned this afternoon to Denver.

The west side fire company held a drill at its hall. The Romero hose boys take an interest in their association and keep up the drill, thereby making their company efficient and of use to the community. Their company is worthy of emulation on this side.

From the Optic.

W. M. Lewis, undertaker, has sufficiently recovered from his recent indisposition to report for duty.

The young men of troop A are arranging for their dance to be given at the Casino, Hot Springs, April 11. Governor and Mrs. Otero are expected to attend.

E. E. Wentworth Layton will give a musicale at the Normal University Monday evening, April 7. He will be assisted by Prof. J. G. McNary, Mrs. R. C. Rankin and Miss Ruth Reynolds.

Mayor George C. Moneys has received a large number of copies of "Arguments on Behalf of New Mexico's Admission into the Union and in Defense of the Territory's Inherent Right to the Waters of its Streams," by Nathan E. Boyd, M. D. He will give out the pamphlet to all who apply.

Hugh Trainer, aged 12 years, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. Trainer, Railroad avenue, was painfully wounded on the head by a stone being hurled through the open door of the Western Union telegraph office. Someone attempted to injure the boy in the same method last Sunday afternoon. He is not able to be on duty today. Hugh is a bright particular star of the Western Union messenger force and it will not be good for his assailant to make himself known.

CARLSBAD.

From the Argus.

Judge Gatewood, Mrs. Gatewood and Miss Lott left for their new home in Roswell. Many friends here wish them much joy and prosperity wherever they are.

The fruit prospects are exceedingly bright, just now, the recent cold nights doing practically no harm, even apricots escaping damage. Unless a late cold snap comes—and which is now unlikely—this summer will see a world of peaches exported from Carlsbad.

Dave Fitzpatrick, who has been spending the winter here with his friend, Jake Linn, left for his home at Connersville, Indiana. The gentleman has fallen in love with Carlsbad and our health giving climate and his many friends look forward to his return next fall.

A movement is on foot to establish an ice manufacturing plant at Carlsbad to be run in connection with the electric light plant. If a favorable lease can be arranged for additional power the plant will be in operation within forty days.

District court opens in Carlsbad a week from next Monday—on March 31. The jury commissioners are J. R. Joyce, John F. Matheson and A. N. Pratt, and they have selected two very good panels. Sheriff Stewart and deputies are busy this week serving summons upon the jurors chosen. The docket is a fairly heavy one, but without some hitch now unforeseen should be pretty well cleaned up before expiration of the term.

LORDSBURG.

From the Liberal.

Jim Lee, often called Irish, the Chinese restaurant man, who ran an eating emporium in Lordsburg for many years, whose place was burned out about a year ago, has been in Stein's Pass for some time, acting as chef for the Mineral Mountain employees. Jim is not kept busy all the time doing his work, and has taken to prospecting.

Eugene Stiekel, the cowboy working for the San Simon company, who fell off the windmill a couple of weeks ago, and fractured his skull, is improving slowly, although not yet in a condition to move. As soon as he is able to travel he will be sent to the county hospital. The San Simon company paid the doctor's bill and for the care of him for a little over a week, and then refused to be responsible for his bills any longer.

The Biebee road runs a daily mixed train between Deming and Douglas. The railroad officers say that as soon as the passenger equipment, which has been ordered, arrives, there will be put on a regular passenger train between these two points. Some time ago the officers promised to put on a passenger train between Douglas and El Paso, running from Deming to El Paso over the Santa Fe road.

FARMINGTON.

From the Times.

The property that will be subject to taxation in the town limits is estimated by the assessor to be about $100,000. The exact figures will not be obtainable for about a month.

The Hyde Exploring Expedition is the largest taxpayer in the county. This year they will be assessed upon a property valuation of $23,145, most of which is new property in the county. Frank D. Hampson and Miss Nellie E. Campbell were married at the residence of the bride's parents, at 2 p. m., Saturday, March 15. Rev. J. C. Lord officiating. Mr. Hampson is a fireman by the Denver & Rio Grande. The couple will return there this week and will make that their future home. Mrs. W. H. Malett, of Alamosa, and Mrs. H. L. Moore, wife of the operator at Chama, both of them sisters of the bride, were present at the wedding. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Campbell, who reside on Blake's addition.

AZTEC.

From the Index.

William L. Hobbs this week made a Homestead filing on a 40-acre tract near Aztec, while Walter Hollimon filed on 160 acres on the San Juan south of Bloomfield.

Thomas Nevill, a recent arrival from Fairfield, Neb., purchased the P. M. Solomon ranch, 120 acres; also 160 acres of William Swire, both near Bloomfield.

Philetus E. Whitney, who with his family and a brother and family have just arrived from Utah, purchased 76 acres of choice farming land on the San Juan from P. D. Gillespie. Consideration, $2,000.

There is a remarkable interest displayed in San Juan county on the part of eastern farmers and investors. The many advantages in the way of climate, soil, water supply, and the abundance of hay, grain and fruit is what appeals to the eastern farmer.

SANTA FE.

From the New Mexican.

Ignacio Sena and Sylvanus Jimenez were arrested on San Francisco street for fighting. Police Judge Francisco Anaya fined them $5 apiece.

R. S. McCaffery, superintendent of the Santa Fe Gold and Copper Mining company at San Pedro, and Professor Charles Derleth of the State University of Colorado at Boulder, are in the city. Professor Derleth has been in southern Santa Fe county for a week and in company with R. S. McCaffery has spent that time in investigating the geological formation of that section. He thinks that the mineral resources of southern Santa Fe county are grand and expects to spend more time in the territory in investigating its mineral richness. Mr. McCaffery and Professor Derleth attended the School of Mines at Columbia college, New York, and are classmates and old friends.

STREAMS TO BE DREDGED.

Beds of Tributaries to the Colorado River to be Worked Scientifically.

CALIFORNIA CAPITAL.

A great mining enterprise has been started which will test the accuracy of reports that have for many years been current in mining circles, says the El Paso Times. It is claimed that no richer placer diggings can be found in the southwest than the beds of the streams that flow into the Colorado river. Many of these streams come from rich mining districts and have for centuries been sweeping down the gold from the mountain sides. It is now proposed to conduct a gold dredging enterprise on a gigantic scale. E. F. Stanford, who is interested with several California capitalists in the enterprise was in the city yesterday on his way east, where he has gone to arrange for the necessary machinery. It is understood that a capital of several hundred thousand dollars will be required to carry out the undertaking.

"The plan," remarked Mr. Stanford, "of turning the course of the streams has proved too expensive and the results have been far from satisfactory. Often after thousands of dollars have been spent no pay gravel has been struck. By the dredging system this loss will not be experienced, for when we can not find the color at one place we simply have to move the machinery to another."

Miners' Association.

Miners owning or knowing of a large body of feldspar should forward full particulars to the secretary of the association at once, accompanied with samples.

Mr. A. S. Greig, the enterprising assistant general manager of the El Paso-Rock Island route, is the first to send in strong words of approval and encouragement to the association for the good work being done, and is a straw showing how the wind blows. The management of this new route out of El Paso are not overlooking any opportunity to show their appreciation of push and enterprise that helps to advertise and develop the country.

Mr. Juan A. Creel, one of Chihuahua's most prominent citizens, writes: "I certainly realize the importance of your association and the building of same to a high standard, and it is my desire to give you my cooperation, and I will do so by giving it a good send off every time the opportunity presents itself, with such men as may be interested in mining."

Arthur Keetch, former secretary, and now with the legal department of the El Paso-Rock Island route, writes: "I shall be glad to be of any assistance possible to the association at any time in the future, and note with much pleasure the progress you are making. I am confident that due to the energy and enthusiasm of its present officers it will become one of the largest institutions of its kind in the country."

The following new members are recorded for the week: W. A. P. Davis, 1005 Loan, Title and Trust Co., Philadelphia, Pa.; Chas. Williams, Jr., Sylmar, Md.; J. T. Pomeroy, Falvy & Davis, Peter Murray, El Paso; Walter J. Chattanooga, 315 Quimby avenue, Cleveland, Ohio; Albert Mathias, El Paso; Brown & Jernigen, Ed Hawley, Lordsburg, N. M.; Pat P. Garrett, H. G. Crowe, C. B. Mitchell, C. J. Schmidt, El Paso; Edw. W. Dawe, M. Siguere, Felipe Seijas, Juarez.

Mrs. Albright, the Artist, is again in her studio, 113 North Third street. Parties who wish fine work in artistic photography, should call and leave their orders for the new carbon photo, the latest in photographic art.

rendition of complete masterpieces of dramatic art. Every student in the school is given the opportunity to enter into and enjoy some advantages of this character. On each annual class day a play is presented by the graduating class.

The library consists of three parts: The library of government publications, the Gould library, and the school library proper. The library of government publications consists of about 500 volumes, and is very valuable for reference work. The Gould library is a collection of about 400 volumes, mainly standard works on philosophy, history, and the sciences of man. This library is a loan of Dr. George T. Gould, of El Paso, Texas. The library proper consists of about 1,000 volumes, carefully selected by the heads of the different departments of the school; and it is a most excellent working library.

THE ORATORIO SOCIETY.

An Organization of Which New Mexico is Proud.

One of the leading societies in the Las Vegas Oratorio society which is now arranging for its third annual musical festival. This year's festival will excel that of any previous year and the chorus now numbers over a hundred voices. The chorus will be supplemented by a piano, organ and an orchestra of eighteen instruments.

This society was organized four years ago by Prof. J. G. McNary and with the exception of a year when he was abroad, it has given some production each year. This year the two oratorios, "Triumph of David," by Dudley Buck, and "The American Flag," by Dvorak, have been selected as the special features of the program which will be given May 29 and 30. It is expected to secure reduced rates for the festival. The soloists are not announced as yet, but there will be a superb quartet of them representing Chicago, St. Louis and Denver.

The credit for maintaining the society and for the delightful entertainments which have been given belongs chiefly to Professor McNary, who has pushed it with indomitable energy. It is an organization which in its work and its festivals would be a great credit to a town ten times as large as East Las Vegas. It is a source of pride to the whole territory that a work of this magnitude and character is done in it.

The present officers are: President, James A. Dick; vice president, E. L. Brown; secretary, George A. Fleuring; treasurer, Edward Reynolds; auxiliary committee, A. A. Jones, H. C. Pouget and R. C. Rankin; director, James Graham McNary; accompanists, Miss Reynolds and Miss Haines.

If you are troubled with impure blood, indicated by sores, pimples, headache, etc., we would recommend Acker's Blood Elixer, which we sell under a positive guarantee. High Grade Bulls for Sale.

The undersigned has for sale on his farms near La Junta, Colorado, about forty 3 year old, 150 2 year old and 150 yearling high grade Hereford bulls; all of them better than 15-16. Also about ninety yearlings out of full blooded non-registered cows, sired by imported registered bulls. Parties wishing stock of this kind will get prices by corresponding either with J. S. Crosley, La Junta, Colo., or myself, 830 Equitable building, Denver. These bulls have been well wintered and are in fine condition for turning on the ranges, not having been overfed, but are in good flesh, strong and active. They will do much better service than any bulls of the same ages brought from the eastern farms.

CITY OF LAS VEGAS.

The city of Las Vegas, among other things, is noted for the culture of its people.

The educational institutions and the excellent public school system have combined to partially cause this, but the naturally beautiful location of the town has done its full share in attracting to it a class of people with money and more leisure to enjoy such advantages as the town affords. Las Vegas, or "the Meadows," is divided by the Gallinas river into two parts. East of the river is the American town, East Las Vegas; and west is Las Vegas, the old Mexican town, better known as Old Town.

East Las Vegas has broad streets, an unusually large number of attractive homes, is remarkable for the number of shade trees and is blessed with a fine system of water works. With one exception all hotels, including the Castaneda, are in East Las Vegas and it is the chief stopping point for tourists. The railroad is through East Las Vegas and it possesses an artistic station.

The town is a central point for a large sheep territory and woolen and flouring mills are among its large businesses. The Santa Fe round house and shops are there located and it is a division headquarters. The city has a large element of railroad men. The retail business section of the city includes many attractive buildings, but the most imposing is the Masonic Temple, a fine three story structure. Two of the finest buildings in the city are just north, the sanitarium and the new school building. The latter is of stone and even to the smallest details, is built on the plan of a castle. It is a unique and a beautiful building.

One source of pride to the city is the two parks, both of which are well kept up and in them band concerts are given during the summer. A recent gift of $10,000 for a public library by Andrew Carnegie, has stimulated interest in the already excellent library which the citizens have maintained. East Las Vegas is incorporated.

Across the river, "Old Town," is not incorporated, but as a typical Mexican town is of great interest to visitors with its adobe houses, its curio shops, its old church, its Jesuit Fathers' and Sisters' institutions, its Presbyterian mission and other points of interest. The handsome county court house is in Old Town.

The chief source of pride is the plaza which is kept up with the greatest care and in which band concerts are given during the summer. The Old Town is a place of historic interest, as it was in this plaza that General Kearney marched his army and formally annexed that part of the country to the United States. A gap in the mesa west of town bears his name but unfortunately for sentiment General Kearney probably never saw the gap.

Up the canyon, north of town, are the famous hot springs and the Montezuma hotel, while between the town and the springs, but on the branch of the Santa Fe which runs there from East Las Vegas, are located the New Mexico hospital for the insane and the Santa Fe railroad hospital.

Recently the development of copper fields has caused great interest in mining matters. It is expected that the building of a large reduction plant will be commenced soon and that Las Vegas will be the center of a large mining district.

OTT-COPELEN.

Popular Young Couple United in Marriage at Silver City.

A wedding which came as a total surprise to the friends of the contracting couple took place Thursday evening at the residence of Col. and Mrs. D. C. Hohart, of this city, the parties being Miss Florence Ott and Robert Richard Copelen, says the Silver City Independent.

The event was not unexpected in one sense, but no intimation had been given as to the date set, and in fact it was agreed upon by those interested a comparatively short time before, on account of the intended departure of Mr. Copelen from the city.

Judge W. H. Newcomb performed the ceremony in the presence of the bride's family and one or two intimate friends. At its conclusion, a light repast was served and the happy couple toasted to success and happiness. Mr. and Mrs. Copelen will shortly go to El Paso, Texas, where Mr. Copelen has just accepted a good position.

The bride is a Silver City girl, born and raised. She is personally known to almost every man, woman and child for her kindness of heart and ever willingness to help those in need of a favor. She received her education in the local schools, and equipped herself for teaching, afterwards spending two years in Hillsboro in charge of the public schools there. Miss Ott has always been a general favorite and deservedly so. Her departure from the home of her childhood will be received with sincere regret by her many friends.

Mr. Copelen has been master mechanic at the Silver City reduction company plant for the past couple of years and is one of those "jolly good fellows" which it is a pleasure to know and meet. He is always ready with a pleasant word or joke and as an entertainer his company is always sought at social gatherings. He is thoroughly experienced in his business and was one of the most trusted employees of the smelter.

Mr. and Mrs. Copelen will carry with them to their new home best wishes and hearty congratulations.

HISTORICAL REMINISCENCE.

Hispano-American War Could at One Time Have Been Avoided.

The visit of W. J. Hildards of Chicago to Mexico, recalls the oft repeated declaration of those in a position to know that but for the assassination of Prime Minister Canovas of Spain, the United States would never have waged war with Spain on account of Cuba.

In 1896 Mr. Hildards was sent by the United States government on a special diplomatic mission to Spain, the purpose of which was to enter into negotiations for the purchase of the island of Cuba. He finally gained the promise of Canovas, which was at that time as good as a royal decree, agreeing to sell the Queen of the Antilles to the United States for $200,000,000. This was early in August. A day was set for the signing of the documents by the prime minister, but twenty-four hours before the time Canovas fell by the hand of an assassin, and his successor refused to renew or continue the negotiations.

Mr. Hildards, who is one of the directors of the Mexican Trust company, left last night in company with Dr. Murphy for the United States.—Mexican Herald.

MARRIAGE NAMES FOR WOMEN.

Why the Bride Drops Her Own Name for That of Her Husband.

The question is often asked why do women, upon their marriage, drop their family names and adopt that of the men they wed? The custom is one of the oldest relics of the barbarous epoch, when a woman was a mere appendage. She was an integral portion of the gens or family, now of her father, now of her brother, now of her husband. She had no independent entity of her own. Hence she took over the surname of her legal protector, giving up that of her father.

Names were a label indicating ownership and changed accordingly. This is so true that wherever woman's rights were acknowledged—as was the case among many wild tribes—the child received the mother's name, or the appellation of her gens, not that of the male parent, and, consequently, in war time, when the two peoples were laying waste each other's territory, fathers and sons were generally fighting in opposite camps. Thus the head of the family has always bestowed his name on the members, and the first outward sign of female emancipation, when it does come, will be the maintenance by young wives of their maiden names, with or without the patronymic of their husbands.

Why should it not be so even now? A wife is said to be her husband's half, very often his better half. Is it not meet that this relation should appear in the family name? There is more in a name than is dreamed of by the masses. In olden times it was believed to be to a large extent identical with the personality of the bearer. It was not to be taken in vain.

To mention the name of Lohengrin, for example, was to deprive him of his life among mortals. A force, a virtue, a spirit went out of him, and he ceased to be what he had been. It is fair that a girl should, on taking to herself a husband, abandon the personality which is embodied in the name for the sake of one who possibly would not cut off his mustachios or give up his smoking for her pleasure? "Join names as you join hands," says a society formed with this object in southern Hungary.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup seems especially adapted to the needs of the children. Pleasant to take; soothing in its influence. It is the remedy of all remedies for every form of throat and lung disease.

STOCK NOTES

El Paso is rejoicing over that city being selected by the Texas Cattle Raisers' association for next place of holding their convention in 1903.

It is estimated that when the two big packing houses at Fort Worth begin operations it will take 5,000 fat hogs every day to keep them running.

The Texas Cattle Raisers' association put itself on record as being perfectly willing to lease land in New Mexico, if the government would take down the bars and turn its members in.

The steers which took the premiums in the fat stock show at Fort Worth in the 3 and 2-year-old class were shipped to Chicago for sale. They were owned by J. B. Wilson, of Dallas, and Marion Samson, of Alvarado, Texas.

L. E. Armer, of Kingston, N. M., the big Angora goat breeder, is at Carlsbad. He made the following purchases: One carload from Aubrey Gist, one carload from J. N. Dunn and about 1,600 head from George Roberts. He paid $2 for wethers and $3.25 for ewes.

W. A. Johnson, manager of the Blackwater Land and Cattle company, of Eddy county, expects to start to Kansas City in a few days with the remainder of the 700 three-year-old steers bought by his company from J. J. Hagerman on February 28. There will be fourteen or fifteen cars of them—400 head.

It is reported that Mayor Allen C. Heard sold his yearling crop, about 800 head, for $16, at the recent convention in Fort Worth. Among other transactions there of local interest, the L. F. D.'s sold 3,000 2's at $24, and the Scharbauer Cattle Co., of Midland, sold 2,500 yearlings to Winfield Scott at $16.75. The L. L. D.'s also sold 700 2-year-old steers at $23.50.—Carlsbad Argus.

The Stockmen's association of Guadalupe county met this month at Puerto de Luna. Resolutions were adopted urging the next legislative session to pass a law authorizing the creation of a company of mounted range riders to act as a police force on the ranges. Also resolutions asking that congress pass the so-called "shoddy bill" providing for the proper stamping of all woolen goods to indicate whether made of wool in proper manner or of shoddy. M. B. Goldenburg was reelected president. It was resolved to meet on July 4 at Santa Rosa.

Practically Starving.

"After using a few bottles of Kodol Dyspepsia Cure my wife received perfect and permanent relief from a severe and chronic case of stomach trouble," says J. R. Eddy, real estate, insurance and loan agent, of Macomb, Ill. "Before using Kodol Dyspepsia Cure she could not eat an ordinary meal without intense suffering. She is now entirely cured. Several physicians and many remedies had failed to give relief." You don't have to diet. Eat any good food you want, but don't overload the stomach. Kodol Dyspepsia Cure will always digest it for you. J. H. O'Reilly & Co.; B. H. Briggs & Co.

FIGHT TUBERCULOSIS.

Unique Movement in Maryland for Building of Mountain Sanatorium.

A new club—an association with the unique name of the Maryland Woman's Quarter Club—has been incorporated with the purpose of collecting a fund which is to be used as the nucleus of the amount necessary for the erection of a state sanatorium for the care of consumptives. And as the name of the organization indicates, the founders aim to make the movement as general as possible and participation in it within the reach of all by asking for 25 cent subscriptions.

With this end in view they have had printed a thousand subscription books, each of which contains twenty coupons, each coupon representing a contribution of a quarter of a dollar. The coupons will serve as receipts of money paid to the subscribers, while the holders of the books will retain the records of the money paid on the stubs to which the coupons are attached. As soon as possible these books are to be widely distributed by the direction of the "Quarter Club."

May 1 has been fixed as the date for the return of the vouchers and the money to the club, and the organizers of the association are confident from the cordial response that has been made already by all who have heard of the movement that the entire $5,000 which the books represent will be turned in. That amount secured, the club will undertake to increase it as rapidly as possible.

Of course the association will not refuse to receive subscriptions of sums of money larger than 25 cents. The directors have already had the promise of $100 for the first $1,000 collected, and several subscriptions of $50 have been promised for the first $500 collected.

The purpose of the society—to collect funds for the erection in the mountains of Maryland of a sanatorium for the treatment of tuberculosis—is set forth in the book, and Dr. Osler's statement that the lack of care of the 10,000 consumptives in the city of Baltimore is a disgrace to the city is given especial prominence. Statistics furnished by Dr. Trudeau, superintendent of the sanatorium in the Adirondacks, are also given. Out of 197 cases treated at the sanatorium in 1900, Dr. Trudeau states, 134 patients were apparently healed or the disease was arrested; out of thirty-five cases of incipient tuberculosis, thirty-two were cured.

Getting Better.

The Lucky Star mining property is improving as development goes on. The mineral is changing as the tunneling progresses. The lead is well defined, with no barren spots. The mineral brought to town from that property in the last few days looks very encouraging. Tests made here this week show about 30 per cent copper to the ton. The owners are in excellent spirits and will put on two shifts in a very short time.

As it stands at present, it is the best prospect in the district and a shipping proposition. The lead at present runs $11 in gold, 50 ounces silver and about 30 per cent copper.

A great many persons have visited the property and a good price has been offered the owners.—Tularosa Democrat.

EL PASO NOTIFIED.

Railroad Official Tells It That It Must Abolish Ticket Scalpers.

S. F. B. Morse, passenger traffic manager of the Southern Pacific, has informed the El Paso Chamber of Commerce that it must take action to protect the company against ticket scalpers. At the meeting of the organization Mr. Morse said:

"When I say that you need not expect any low excursion rates unless you protect us from the scalpers, I do not by any means utter the statement in the nature of a threat, but simply give you timely warning. The Southern Pacific is friendly toward El Paso. It believes in the future greatness of the city. The railroad will do all in its power to promote your welfare. All the company asks is that you should do all you can to protect the company against unjust imposition and fraud. A contract is made to carry a certain person to and from El Paso. When there are hundreds en route it is utterly impossible to identify a returning traveler as the person to whom the excursion ticket was originally sold. Furthermore, and I say it advisedly, there have been and will be counterfeit tickets issued. The scalpers have secured an impression of the company's seals and print almost perfect duplicates of the genuine tickets. The scalpers evade the law by making conditional sales, and if a ticket is not accepted out of one station it is mailed to another point."

When Mr. Morse had concluded his remarks he was advised that the decision he had announced and the views he had expressed would be duly submitted to the transportation committee of the chamber of commerce, when final action regarding the matter would probably be taken.

SHEEP AND GOATS.

Nearly Thirty-Two Million of These Animals in the Country.

SOME HONEY STATISTICS.

The census bureau has issued a report on the sheep and goats on hand June 1, 1900, and their wool and hair clip in the fall of 1899 and spring of 1900.

There were in the United States June 1, 1900, 31,919,298 ewes 1 year old and over, 8,918,275 rams and wethers 1 year old and over and 21,668,238 lambs under 1 year. From the 39,937,573 ewes, rams and wethers 1 year old and over were shorn in the fall of 1899 and spring of 1900, 44,028,928 fleeces of an aggregate weight of 276,991,812 pounds of unwashed wool.

In some sections of the country sheep are shorn both in the fall and spring, and thus two fleeces are reported for the same sheep, and some further apparent discrepancy arises from the fact that many farmers sell sheep for slaughter, shearing them before the slaughter. Over one-half of the sheep, and thus over one-half of the wool, is reported from the western states, of which Montana has the largest and Wyoming the second largest number and greatest quantity.

Of goats the census reports a total of all ages of 1,871,252, of which Texas contains the largest number, an aggregate exceeding one-third of all in the United States. New Mexico contains the next largest number, a total of 224,136. Exclusive of the kids less than 1 year old, only a portion of the goats reported are kept for their mohair or goat hair, hence there is reported only 454,932 fleeces, of an aggregate weight of 961,228 pounds of unwashed fiber.

The total value as reported for the wool was $45,723,739, and of mohair and goat hair, $267,864.

The census bureau also issued a complete report, showing that for the country as a whole June 1, 1900, there were 707,261 farms keeping bees, or substantially one for every eight farms in the nation. These farms reported 4,109,426 swarms or colonies, valued at $10,186,513, averaging a little less than six swarms to each farm reporting. The twelfth census is the first to report the number and value of bees, or the number of farms reporting them.

During the year 1899 there were produced 61,196,160 pounds of honey and 1,765,315 pounds of wax, of an aggregate value of $6,664,904, or $9.42 each for farms reporting. Of this value 55 per cent is from the north Atlantic and 15 per cent from the south Atlantic, 23 per cent from the western states and 1 per cent from Hawaii.

Of the states reporting honey, Texas reports the largest quantity, 4,780,204 pounds. California reports the second largest quantity, 3,667,738 pounds; New York the third largest, 3,342,497. The counties showing the heaviest production are Fresno, San Diego and Tulare, of California, and Tompkins, Cayuga and Seneca of New York.

RUBBER PLANTS.

A Way in Which They May Be Made to Thrive.

"As near as I can estimate there are from 25,000 to 30,000 rubber plants in Washington," said a prominent florist to a Star reporter, "and out of this vast number I do not believe there are 1,000 perfect ones. You will observe in the summer months that there is a rubber plant standing in front of a majority of Washington's residences, but it is very rare to see one that has not lost its lower leaves. When in its full foliage the rubber plant is one of our most beautiful home plants, but when it has lost most of its lower leaves it has lost much of its beauty. Owners of such plants are continually coming to me, asking: 'What shall I do to prevent the leaves falling off?' Some people tell me I give my plant too much water and others tell me I don't give it water enough, but no matter what advice I follow the leaves will decay and fall off."

"The following simple plan will prove a cure-all for such annoyances if it is followed with due regularity. Every spring the plant should be repotted in good soil, each time in a larger pot and during the summer months kept in the shady part of the house, away from the sun, and watered daily. In winter the plant should be kept in a light place in the house, but should not have too much sun. Once each week the entire pot should be thoroughly immersed in a bucket or tub of water and allowed to soak over night, giving the water ample opportunity to soak to its center. Next morning take the pot out of its bath tub and allow to drain awhile and do not give it any more water for two or three days, then let it have a drink each morning until time for its next bath. By carefully following this plan you will be surprised to see the beautiful lustre which the large, glossy leaves will show, and you will not be annoyed with the leaves falling off."

"If there are worms in the earth give the plant a liberal soaking with soap suds and you will see the worms come wriggling out in a great hurry, when they may be easily removed. A little lime water will answer the purpose just as well and not injure the plant. The leaves should be frequently cleaned with a soft damp cloth, and dust not allowed to accumulate on them. Just try this method on your plant and note how promptly its health will improve."—Washington Star.

Would Smash the Club.

If members of the "Hay Fever Association" would use Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, the club would go to pieces, for it always cures this malady—and asthma, the kind that baffles the doctors—it kindly drives from the system. Thousands of once-hopeless sufferers from consumption, pneumonia, bronchitis owe their lives and health to it. It conquers grip, saves little ones from croup and whooping cough and is positively guaranteed for all throat and lung troubles. 50c, $1.00. Trial bottles free at all druggists.

"Socksless Jerry" an Investor.

Jerry Simpson, of Wichita, demonstrated his faith in Roswell and the Pecos valley, last week, by investing in land. He bought 480 acres of land from A. J. Ballard, paying a good figure for it. The tract lies four miles south of town, and is a fine body of land. The Register is informed that Mr. Simpson's son is to move here and go onto the land, and begin improving it at once. Mr. Simpson has a wide acquaintance and influence; and his becoming interested here will result in his inducing many others to come and locate and help develop the valley. One of the first improvements he expects to make is an artesian well.—Roswell Register.

For the Complexion.

The complexion always suffers from biliousness or constipation. Unless the bowels are kept open the impurities from the body appear in the form of unsightly eruptions. DeWitt's Little Early Risers keep the liver and bowels in healthy condition and remove the cause of such troubles. C. E. Piecing.

That's a word which may not be in the dictionary in this sense of its use, but which is in very common use in some sections of the country. "She's always piecing" they say of the woman who runs to the cupboard at irregular hours and eats a piece of pie, cake, or some other dainty. This irregular eating is one of the chief causes of dyspepsia and "weak stomach."

Diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition are completely cured by the use of Doctor Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It increases the supply of rich, pure blood, and gives the body vitality and vigor.

"A year ago I was feeling very badly," writes Mrs. Lizzie Abrams, of 158 Johnson Avenue, Brooklyn, N. Y. "I had a very poor appetite and when I sat down at the table I could not eat, but would have to go away without even tasting the food. Changing to hear from a friend who used 'Golden Medical Discovery' for a disease similar to mine, I thought I would give the medicine a trial, and I can hardly express the benefit received from it. The first dose seemed to do me good. My appetite returned and I was able to eat heartily. I have improved so much since taking the 'Golden Medical Discovery' I do not look like the same person. Am today well and strong—the result of taking six bottles of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

CAPT. JACK CRAWFORD.

While in Denver He Writes the First Spring Poem for that City.

HIS INTERVIEW.

A SPRING POEM.

I left a land of sunshine,
In the "Sunshine State" below,
And reaching Denver city,
I found both rain and snow;
And everyone rejoicing
Because of God-sent showers,
To start the crops and flowers.
—J. W. CRAWFORD.
"Capt. Jack."

Denver, March 20, 1902.

To Capt. Jack Crawford, "the poet scout," is due the thanks of Denver for its first spring poem. It was written in three minutes and the inspiration came to the poet as he stood last evening in the writing room of the American house and saw the rain falling.

"Spring!" said Captain Jack. "It may be spring in Colorado, but it's spring all the time in New Mexico," which was also a poetic sentiment.

Capt. J. W. Crawford is tall, gray haired, his hair falling to his shoulders, and he wears a sweeping gray mustache and imperial. He stood with his hands in his trousers pockets, his long black frock coat, sweeping behind him. On the writing table lay a sombrero.

The famous frontiersman who writes verses is on the road to wealth. He came from San Marcial, N. M., where he is now living, with a car load of saddle horses for the British army, which he turned over to Goulding & Co. He is engaged in ranching, stock raising and is doing considerable mining. One of the reasons bringing him to Denver is to talk with Denver capitalists who have been looking into his copper and lead properties.

"I am also figuring on a big contract with the government," said Captain Crawford, "and have no doubt I will place it, shipping this summer a thousand tons of native New Mexican 'grama' hay to the Philippine Islands. Army officers on the frontier acknowledge that the 'grama' hay, which grows luxuriously, is the most nutritious of all except the highest cultivated hay. And we will have plenty of it as the rains have been plentiful and all prospects are very bright. I have been out in the fields all winter. On December 17, last, in shirt sleeves I was directing the cutting of fifty tons of the hay, which I find a ready market for at $15 a ton."

"I am not doing much writing now, not that, as I grow older, I am losing the fever, but experience is a great teacher, and poetry does not pay as well as 'grama' hay. I have written little since I came back from the Klondike, a year ago, disgusted that my name had been used to fust upon the public a wild-cat mining scheme, engineered by some scoundrel promoters. I starved in the Klondike, when, by keeping silent, I could have made $100,000. But my reputation was worth more than that to me, and I feel good whenever I think of that starving period. Of course, when I returned, my finances were in bad shape, so that is why I have turned farmer for good."

Captain Crawford has much good material on hand, notably a play, "Tat, or the Veteran's Daughter," a drama of frontier life that ran for two weeks last year at the Alta theater, San Francisco, and which he read to Daniel Frawley. This he has reason to believe will be produced in the east very soon.

"I went to the theater tonight for the first time for a year," said the poet, "and it is something of a coincidence that I should see at the Tabor Dan Frawley and his company. I saw him at Los Angeles a year ago, the last time I went to the play. He is thinking of writing two or three books of prose, one of which will be a romance of the Klondike; another, 'Pickles,' the story of a wolf."

Captain Crawford has a fine ranch at San Marcial with a $7,000 residence on it. He is 55 years of age, and gained prominence by writing bits of verse and cowboy songs during the Indian campaign in 1876, when he was chief of scouts for General Crook in the Dakotas. He then served under Generals Hatch and Lawton in the southwest.—Denver Republican.

PRINTING

There are different kinds, to be sure. Moreover the quality of stock on which it is done must be considered if you would create a good impression of yourself amongst your customers. You might think it would not make any difference, but if public opinion on that point was weighed you would find that it is quite a factor in drawing trade. Don't be behind the times. If you want to keep pace with civilization, you must follow customs which is naturally the greed of every man, now-a-days, who has genuine pride. The art of printing is something that few people can acquire. They may print, but the art is not present. Again, the art may be there, but the stock on which the printing is done is of the poorest quality, which entirely obliterates the art that would otherwise be apparent. Then again, the quality of ink and nicety and distinctness of color used are something that counts in bringing out beauty of art into display. The CITIZEN printing department carries nothing but the best quality of stationery, such as letter heads, note heads, bill heads, etc., as well as the finest of ink, and turns out daily evidence of the finest workmanship in the city. If you want cheap, tacky-looking printing, go to the places where you can obtain it; but if you want first-class printing, send it to The CITIZEN printing department, or telephone to us and we will call and get your order.

RULING

requires an exactness that is much admired when accomplished. If your blank books are ruled properly they will always look neat, if in the hands of a first-class book-keeper. If they are not ruled with exactness they will never look neat, even though handled by an artist in book-keeping. To be exact requires skill and patience, which is acquired by long experience and perseverance. When a person possesses it his services are in demand in any first-class bindery. The CITIZEN has a first-class bindery and therefore employs the best skill.

Bill heads, letter heads, note heads, vouchers, invoices and blanks of every description are ruled with the same skill and neatness as the finest blank book that was ever turned out. If you want such work telephone to The CITIZEN.

is everlasting when properly done. Every business man would like to preserve his books, but he cannot do it when they are in a dozen pieces after he uses them up. He does not want them to break, neither does he want them to be tight in the fold, if so, they cause him great inconvenience. There is much in the way a book is sewed. If it is not sewed properly the breaking of a single thread will occasion an entire section of twenty pages to come out, necessitating the rebinding of the book, causing loss of time and inconvenience. If you want a good blank book you should get one with a patent flat-opening back, thereby enabling you to utilize all the space in the fold, that you would otherwise not be able to do. Then the quality of paper used is just as essential in turning out a fine book as is the workmanship. The CITIZEN carries a full stock of the finest ledger paper manufactured. When you want any kind of a fine blank book telephone to The CITIZEN and our representative will call.

Advertising

The word itself is exhilarating to a man that has a high ambition, whether socially, financially or otherwise. It is the same with a business man. He has to obtain advertising in some way before he will be successful. There are different degrees of success. The more advertising you get the greater amount of business you transact, a fact that non-advertisers admit themselves. "All things do not come unto man." He has to go after them. If he wants advertising he pays for it just the same as any commodity. You may say some men obtain advertising for nothing, but the don't. They pay for it in an indirect, if not a direct way. Thus every man pays for his share. The world owes a man a living, but he has to earn it, and if a man wants advertising he must pay for it. It is better to pay in a direct way and obtain more results than to pay in an indirect way and obtain fewer results. The direct way for a business man to advertise is to talk to the people through an advertising medium that has a place by the fireside of every home within his field for business. The CITIZEN has that place and will always have it.

If the ability of its readers to buy articles of luxury as well as articles of necessity is questioned, then forever will The CITIZEN defend them. Regarding the comparative value of morning and evening papers, it is a fact that a morning paper is before its readers but for an hour or so, while an evening paper is before the public from 5 o'clock until bedtime, and is read by men who labor all day and who have not time to read the morning papers. Therefore the superior value of an evening paper over the morning paper as an advertising medium is quite evident.

The CITIZEN is a home paper. Why? Because the residence portion of the city being not more than ten minutes' walk from the business center, the business man has ample time to read the evening paper before going to lodge or to the club, and he does so. When he has finished reading his paper it is left at home and thoroughly read by the other members of his family.

The ladies of Albuquerque read The CITIZEN, and as it contains all the news, both foreign and local, why should it not command the circulation that it does? If you want results advertise in the

The Daily Citizen

THE COCHITI MINES.

The same extensive leads of gold bearing quartz, as there ever were, containing the same profitable values, as they ever did, still remain, and when production begins in dead earnest, will be long exhausting, in the Cochiti mining district. Because some contest suit arises to delay the sale of a property, does not one iota reduce the intrinsic value of that property; and there is no reason, therefore, that owners should become discouraged.

Circumstances change. Instances are known where mines have failed to sell, and by the establishment of milling facilities in the districts in which such mines are situated, the owners of them have made many times the amount they would have sold them for previous to the introduction of such milling facilities. Unless custom mills are afforded, few mining districts prosper, however extensive and valued they may be. It takes mills to treat the lower grade ores of the camp, the ores usually found in greater abundance. And it is a known fact that had it not been for the establishment of custom and exclusive mills in mining camps those camps would have been long years in becoming the heavy producers they are today. Of this more than one great camp in the state of Colorado stands as an obvious example.

The existence of one or more custom mills in a mining district possessing so much irrepressible merit as the Cochiti, will assure a production of ore that will not only supply mills, but develop large bodies of smelting ore that will ship with a profit. Without mills, there is little to hope for, in the immediate future; simply because no little capital is at hand to develop the ore that will pay to ship 500 miles and include smelting charges. On the other hand, if the owner of a mine that contains low grade ore can sell his product to a mill, his income will be sufficient to enable him to prosecute more development and open up the shipping ore his mine may contain somewhere in its fastnesses. The necessary reduction works will more effectually open more mines in this district than anything else. Shipping ore will be discovered from time to time, in larger and richer quantities than have prevailed during the past three years in certain of the mines in this district, but mills for home treatment are required to do it.

Messrs. Horne and Young are to be commending on their untiring efforts in interesting Albuquerque mine owners in the enterprise. All odds seemed against them, as the district has received a black eye at the hands of certain "knockers" who have been out of the district for some time and who are well known to our people. Nothing daunted, however, the committee succeeded in getting a goodly sum from those down there who have interests here and who still have confidence in the district.

It is the company's intention to treat the ores of the camp at as low a rate as possible. It is estimated that the treatment can be made at something over $4 per ton and leave a profit of $1 per ton to the mill on each ton of ore treated. In a year of 300 days (giving the remaining sixty-five days for breakages, shut downs, etc.) the mill will treat, at the lowest estimate, 6,000 tons, giving 60 per cent on the $10,000 invested. Can you find a safer investment?—Bland Herald.

Exalted Leading Knight—T. P. Gable.

Exalted Loyal Knight—James L. Seligman.

Exalted Lecturing Knight—Charles V. Safford.

Secretary—J. B. Davis.
Treasurer—Charles Haspelmath.

Tyler—J. W. Crausby.
Delegate to Supreme Lodge Meeting at Salt Lake—T. J. Helm.

Alternate—Dr. J. A. Massie.

Grant Riverburg was initiated. The Elks will probably have a special train to start from Santa Fe over the Denver & Rio Grande to the meeting of the supreme lodge at Salt Lake this summer.

How to Prevent Pneumonia.

You have good reason to fear an attack of pneumonia, when you have a severe cold, accompanied by pains in the chest or in the back between the shoulders. Get a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and use it as directed and it will prevent the threatened attack. Among the tens of thousands who have used this remedy for colds and la grippe, we have yet to learn of a single case that has resulted in pneumonia, which shows that this remedy is a certain preventative of that dangerous disease. BUGS IN PHOENIX.

Prof. T. D. A. Cockerell Goes to Examine Date Palms for Insects.

Prof. T. D. A. Cockerell, of Las Vegas left on No. 1 last night for Phoenix, Arizona. He goes there to hunt bugs. Prof. Cockerell's life study is bugs. There are more bugs in the world than all other animals put together. In a life time one scientist has time to study only one sort of bug. Some take beetles, grasshoppers, bird lice, or whatever strikes their fancy. Professor Cockerell's specialty is scale insects, and a very useful study it is. It has been discovered that Phoenix, Arizona, and vicinity can raise super-dates. Accordingly some 500 of the finest species of date palms known have been imported from Africa. These trees have been fumigated and Prof. Cockerell now goes to inspect them to see if they are invested with any foreign pest. This country has a horror of importing any foreign insects. The trees have been planted and are thriving. They promise well. A date must have its head in fire and its feet in water. These conditions can certainly be obtained along any irrigating ditch in Arizona. If Phoenix for any reason should not prove hot enough, Yuma and another place not on the map are accessible.

JOURNALISTIC DISASTER.

Bill Jones Has Stopped His Paper, Jim, You'd Better Stop the Press.

A crowd of subscribers stood in long and lean array

And twiddled with their fingers as they passed the time of day—

And overhead a little bird with feathers in its wings

Kept warbling of its joys and griefs and various other things.

Adown the line the veterans stood—the halt, the lame, the blind—

With grievous troubles resting on the grim, collective mind;

And side by side with him who kicked was she who tore her hair

And softly dropped invectives on the circumambient air.

And while the silent army pressed its way, a grizzled one

Stepped out and made his statement in a voice that weighed a ton.

"I've read this publication fer nigh onto thirty year."

He said, as he reached up and grabbed a swiftly falling tear.

"An' in that time I've seed it through a thousand torrid fights,

An' worryin' over this here sheet I've lost my sleep o' nights,

Now, I ain't sayin' it's fer me t' say you shall or sha'n't,

Ner am I stickin' on th' p'int o' why you can or can't;

"But when this feller comes aroun' an' looks me in th' eye

An' tells me I ain't paid my bill an' gadder settle, why,

I can't resist a-comin' down an' droppin' this remindin'.

Thet I'm a constant reader, ef I am a bit behind!"

The circulator sobbed a sob and dropped a briny drop,

And as he viewed the wetness ordered up the office mop;

And loud exclaimed, as he began to weaken at the knees:

"Ah, must I make this journey on a florid bed of ease?"

Awhile the old subscriber stood to let the anguish pass,

And made a toothless mumble, as a penitent at mass;

Then up he rose in anger and he made a vicious sweep

With his right arm and he plunged into a wild rhetoric leap:

He drew attention to the faults he'd noticed from the first,

And painted all the evils of the journal at their worst;

And when he'd spent his frenzied breath, a-tremble to the core,

He yelled: "An' I don't want your durned old paper any more!"

The circulator gasped and stared—"twas such an awful blow!"

And with a face all pale and wan meandered down below.

He staggered and his voice was thickly punctured by distress;

"Bill Jones has stopped his paper, Jim; you'd better stop the press."

THAT ELECTRIC LINE.

Promoters and Construction Company at Grievous Outs.

The cause for the delay of the building of the Las Vegas electric street railway is now apparent. As the Las Vegas Optic has been informed, it seems that the promoters and construction company stand at locked horns. Merryman and Epperson are promoters. They let the contract out to the St. Louis Construction & Maintenance company. This company agreed to build a line for $59,000 in bonds and the balance in money. They were to be paid proportionately as the work was finished. They claim they have done $17,000 worth of work and they refuse positively to take another step in the building of the line until they are paid for the work that has been done. This company has two salaried men here drawing salaries and not working. This proves the company's good faith in the proposition. Both companies have gone too far to recede. Mr. Hutchins says that he could finish the work in six weeks upon receiving order to do so and upon receipt of right material. The promoters have until October 1 in which to have their line built. If they forfeited their franchise they lose their $1,000 paid the Santa Fe for this year's lease of the Hot Springs branch in addition to involving themselves with the construction company. This latter company joined Merryman and Epperson in the bond given to the Santa Fe company. There is no longer a doubt that the line to old town will be built. The Sixth street proposition will, in all probability, be abandoned.

Dr. Woodbridge, owner of the guano caves at Lava, southern Socorro county, is installing machinery for the purpose of preparing the fertilizer taken from the caves for market. Dr. Woodbridge will also experiment in turning the lava of the surrounding country into fertilizer. Volcanic ash is a good fertilizer for wheat fields and there is a good market for it.

THE SHORT LINE.

Santa Fe Will Either Build a Line or Use Choctaw Tracks.

SURVEYORS NOW AT WORK.

General Manager H. U. Mudge has partially confirmed the report printed recently in The Citizen concerning the proposed extension of the Santa Fe from Amarillo to form a short line to the Pacific coast.

Mr. Mudge said to a reporter for the Topeka State Journal:

"The Santa Fe now has surveyors in the field between Amarillo and Albuquerque. We are trying to find out whether there is an easy route across the country. The object is to get a short line to Los Angeles. The Choctaw is also at work in this locality. I understand. It can be stated that if the Choctaw decides to build from Weatherford to Albuquerque that the Santa Fe will not build."

Indications are, therefore, that the Santa Fe has fully determined upon an important reduction in the present mileage from the Missouri river points to the Pacific coast. It is only a question of whether it will build its own extension, or enter into traffic agreements with the Choctaw.

It is said to be part of the plan of the Santa Fe to acquire full ownership of the Choctaw. The contemplated extension of the Choctaw to Albuquerque is likely to have an important bearing on the plan, and will probably hasten the day when the Choctaw will come into the control of the big system. Conferences were held some time ago between the Santa Fe and the Philadelphia owners of the Choctaw looking to such acquisition. But there was a disagreement as to price.

Control of the Choctaw road rests in the hands of eight or ten people, most of them directors of the road. They include E. B. Smith, F. L. Gowen, J. H. Catherwood, E. B. Morris and C. H. Colket, the latter president of the Huntington & Broad Top company.

The common stock of the Choctaw road sold at 79 1/2 last week, its highest price. In 1897 this stock sold at $5 a share, when the company went through a reorganization, acquiring the Little Rock & Memphis road and extending its road through Oklahoma and opening up Oklahoma and the Indian Territory.

Some other rumors have been circulated concerning the possible extensions of the Santa Fe in the southwest. One was that an extension would be built from Roswell, the end of the Pecos Valley line, to El Paso, in order that the Santa Fe might beat the Rock Island's time into that city. This rumor, however, has been denied. Another story was that the Santa Fe was surveying from Roswell to Torrance, N. M., the junction point on the Rock Island, and from there to a point near Puerto, on the Santa Fe Pacific.

The proposed Choctaw extension, however, would be of much more value than either of the proposed Roswell extensions. It would give almost a direct line from Weatherford, Okla., to Los Angeles, and would enable the Santa Fe to send its California business via Amarillo, on the Pecos Valley line, straight to Los Angeles.

The Santa Fe has realized that it must improve its facilities for handling the southern California business, or it will suffer from the keen competition of the Rock Island. Heretofore the Southern Pacific and Santa Fe have practically controlled the southern California traffic. Now that the Rock Island has a short line to El Paso, it has taken away the Santa Fe mail contracts, and is a formidable rival for California trade.

E. W. Martindell, the traveling freight and passenger agent of the Santa Fe's Pecos Valley line, was interviewed recently at El Paso, and he threw a damper on the hope of El Paso for the extension of the Pecos Valley line from Roswell to this city. He says that in his opinion this line will never be built and that no man connected with the Santa Fe or Pecos Valley line ever said that it would be built. He brands the quoting Avery Turner by an El Paso paper to the effect that it wouldn't be built as a pure fake and an act deserving of a good thrashing. Mr. Turner has the authority to make the statements credited to him and understands his position too well to make them.

He says that he believes the Choctaw road will be extended from Amarillo to Tucumcari, where it will connect with the Rock Island for El Paso, but he doubts that the Santa Fe will build from San Angelo to Pecos and states that he believes that if the connection such a line would make is ever obtained it will be done by building direct from San Angelo to Albuquerque, leaving Pecos City out in the cold, as there is not sufficient business in that country to justify building the line that much out of the way.

It is true that the line from San Angelo direct to Albuquerque would be much shorter and cross a country better adapted to cattle-raising than the neighborhood of Pecos City. Such a line would provide the connection between the Pecos Valley line and the Santa Fe line for the Pacific coast that was mentioned in a recent issue of the Citizen.

MIGHTY UMBRELLA.

It Will Be on Exhibition at the Big St. Louis Exposition.

A mighty umbrella, with a staff 250 feet high and twenty feet in diameter with a spread of 440 feet for its thirty-two ribs, and on the end of each rib an observation-car, ten by eighteen feet, filled with passengers and moving in a great circle 220 feet above the earth, may be one of the attractions of the St. Louis exposition. If not the attraction there then it will be the attraction at some kindred exposition in the future, for Alvin U. Schneider, a Chicago barber, has perfected plans for his "urban umbrella," and his application for a patent upon the great machine is now going through the red tape details of the United States patent office.

No other name than "umbrella" could be half as applicable to the affair. Literally it is to be an umbrella without covering. Closed it is to have umbrella shape, with the bottom of the thirty-two cars resting on a platform eighteen feet above the ground. These cars in this position are to be filled to a capacity of at least 1,200 persons. Then the umbrella is to be opened by cable system until the ribs hold the cars 220 feet above the earth. When the umbrella is spread the cars will be forty feet apart. At full spread the umbrella top will then begin to revolve, covering a circle 440 feet in diameter.

Every mechanical detail of construction has been worked out by Mr. Schneider, who has called in expert advice in steel construction. The "umbrella" as designed, embraces a lot 100 feet square as a base. The shaft, rising about 250 feet, will average twenty feet in diameter and is to be of bridge construction, presenting a lattice work effect. In the hollow base of this shaft will be placed the elevator machinery necessary to make the lift and spread the umbrella top.

Twenty feet above the platform will be the platform, circular, 1100 feet in diameter. The twenty-two cars, at rest, will enclose the circle completely. From the four corners of the square below, passengers will enter "rocket" booths, go up flights of stairs, and pass through turnstiles to the cars. Then the umbrella will be put up, and when it is up it will be turned slowly around each car overhanging in turn a part of the exposition grounds.

According to the specifications, so far as they are completed, Mr. Schneider figures the cost of his urban umbrella at not more than $90,000. The merit of it he holds to be in its novelty and its ability to provide an altogether perfect bird's-eye view of the exposition grounds.

"The idea of such a mechanism simply popped into my head one day," explained Mr. Schneider, speaking of his invention. "I had once been with a similar show and had thought that for the St. Louis exposition something entirely novel or the tower order ought to be a good thing. That meant to get away from both the Eiffel and the Ferris ideas, and while I was thinking it over, one rainy day, a man with an umbrella passed, just as one of the men in the shop swung a customer round in the chair. A passenger umbrella was the idea at once, and I set about looking into its practicability. That part of it is assured, and I have figures indicating that it may be put up, complete for operation, for $80,000 to $90,000."

"I have been in correspondence with officials of the exposition and they have invited plans and drawings, which I have sent. Evidently these have been regarded in some seriousness, as I have had notice that the matter will be passed up to the committee which is to deal with tower concessions. I think I have the Ferris wheel skinned to death in novelty, and I can get all sorts of expert opinion to prove the idea both feasible and safe."
