MAYTORENA IS DEFEATED WITH HEAVY LOSSES BY HILL'S FORCE

Seven Persons on American Side of Border Wounded,
Two Probably Mortally, by Fire of Yaqui Indians.

TWO TROOPERS ARE SERIOUSLY INJURED

Not Believed Attack Will Be Renewed for Several Days,
if at All, on Naco Stronghold by the Rebels.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)
Naco, Ariz., Oct. 17.—It was learned today that the Maytorena force, partisans of the Villa faction in the Mexican imbroglio, had been defeated
with heavy losses during their attack on Naco, Sonora, last night and early today.

The Sonora governor not only disregarded the armistice fixed by the Aguas Calientes conference, but attacked the town from due south, although he had previously assured American officials that he had given orders to prevent fire against the American town.

Bullets from the rifles of the Indians who hurled themselves against the entrenchment of the Carranza forces under General Hill, passed to this village. Seven persons were wounded, including four negro troopers of the Ninth United States cavalry on duty here to protect the American town.

The American soldiers crouched behind their boiler plate fortifications strung along the American side of the border, as the bullets pattered against the steel. Several horses and mules were wounded in the army camp, located to the north of the American town.

Two of the most seriously wounded
troopers, neither of whom is expected to live, were sent to the army hospital at Fort Huachuca.

Indications tonight were Mayto-rena would not renew the attack for several days if at all. Maytorena had given no expression tonight in regard to his compliance with the armistice order.

BRAND NEW REVOLT IS LAUNCHED IN MEXICO

Los Angeles, Oct. 17.—Adolfo Carrillo, General Carranza's consular agent here, telegraphed to Mexico
City today information that General
Belazquez Ayala and Colonel Tenorio Cantu had declared Lower California free, not only of Carranza's authority, but likewise to that of Villa. They intend to carry on an entirely independent revolt, according to information reaching Carrillo.

Freed From Murder Charge.

Los Angeles, Oct. 17.—Roy L. Glover, of San Antonio, Tex., was freed
today of the charge of having murdered Daniel De Villiers, a former Boer army officer, who was shot and killed in Glover's residence here last December, during a quarrel over Mrs.
Glover, who had been De Villiers' wife.

WAR TO COST UP IN BILLIONS IF IT LASTS LONG

French Economist Estimates Contest Is Taxing Each of Greater Beligerent Nations
$2,000,000,000 Monthly.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)
Paris, Oct. 17 (5:35 p. m.)—Paul Leroy Beaulieu, the French economist,
estimates that each of the greater belligerents is spending an average equivalent to $200,000,000 monthly.

In presenting these figures to the academy of moral and political sciences today, he said that he considered it probable that the war would continue for seven months from August 1. Accordingly the five greater powers engaged were committed to an expenditure of $7,000,000,000. Each of the smaller states, including Japan,

will have expenses of from $600,000, 000 to $800,000,000 to meet.
M. Leroy Beaulieu continued:
"One might say that the war will cost fighting powers, roughly, from $5,000,000,000 to $10,000,000,000.
These figures which do not take into account the losses of revenue during hostilities, will be met first by the issuance of notes against the accumulated gold in the government banks;
secondly, by the issuance of short term
treasury bonds to which all governments are having recourse during the war; and third, by delaying payments for military necessities. The larger part of the savings of the world will be absorbed by the taking up of national loans and economic progress
will be seriously checked."

BREAKS RECORD FOR CONTINUOUS FLIGHT

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)
Des Moines, Ia., Oct. 17.—W. C.
Robinson, Grinnell, Ia., aviator, today flew from Des Moines to Kentland, Ind., approximately 265 miles.

The previous American record for continuous flight was 264 miles, made by C. Murfin Wood, on August 9, 1913.

ESCAPED CONVICT QUICKLY CAPTURED

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)
Folsom, Calif., Oct. 17.—Frank Chick, the convict who escaped from Folsom penitentiary Friday, was captured in a rooming house in Loomis tonight. He was asleep.

Crooks now faces the gallows, he being a capital crime in California to attack a guard in the prison.

given out a dispatch from its Athens correspondent, who says he has learned from a reliable source that a sum of money equal to $5,000,000
in gold, has reached Constantinople
from Germany.

Watkins Pleads Guilty.
Santa Fe, Oct. 17.—Clarence L.
Watkins, aged 16, one of two brothers, indicted for robbing the postofice at Alma, Osceola county, pleaded guilty today in the federal court. His younger brother, aged 13 years, who had been indicted with him, had the indictment against him dismissed because of his youth.

ENGLAND FEARS AN AIR INVASION FROM BELGIUM

British Aviators Promise Warm
Reception for Any Zeppelins
That Attempt to Raid Tight Little Island.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)
London, Oct. 18 (3:40 a. m.)—"Will England be invaded by air?" This is the question now on the lips of the people of this country since the arrival of the German hosts in putting it to the English shores. It would be wrong to say that panic prevails,
but an anti-German outbreak at Depford, the activity of the authorities
regarding Austrian and German residents who hitherto have been regarded as harmless, and the reports of raids on German-owned factories indicate a certain nervousness which may easily develop into more serious outbursts of popular feeling.

There is no doubt that the Germans have planned to reach London by means of airships and aeroplanes.
They have boasted that their seventy-five Zeppelins would suffice to "lay eggs on London," but as the opinion of English aviation experts and airmen who are now patrolling the sky
is that any such enterprise is doomed
to failure.

It is stated by a Sunday paper, the People, that the government is in possession of a new invention, an incendiary bullet, which can be fired
from an ordinary rifle and which immediately it strikes an airship, sets
the gas afire. The invention can be applied to maxims and other guns as easily as it can to a rifle.

Hiram Maxim, the inventor, in a statement today, said he had no fears of the results of a Zeppelin raid, especially in view of the nature of the weather to be expected this winter.

He is convinced, he said, that it would cost the Germans $5,000,000 to destroy property valued at half that amount in London by Zeppelins.

In order to hurl their bombs with anything like accuracy they would have to descend to an altitude at which they would be within range of gunfire, and he said that Zeppelins or aeroplanes might be annoying, said Mr. Maxim, and might result in the killing of a few innocent people, but an air bombardment would be an extremely feeble affair.

Another view is taken by William Joynton-Hicks, a member of parliament, who is well known for his attacks on the government a year or two ago regarding the alleged inadequacy of the British aircraft.

GERMAN STRATEGIC POINT SEIZED IN EDINBURGH

London, Oct. 18 (2:30 a. m.)—"A large factory owned by Germans was raided by the military in Edinburgh
last night," says a dispatch from the Observer correspondent in the Scottish capital. It was built ten years ago. It is of imposing appearance, covers a large area and is in three stories high. Although capable of accommodating 500 hands, never more than six workmen, all Germans were seen about the place.

"According to information supplied by the builders, $10,000 was spent on magnificent foundations, the proprietor explaining that exceedingly heavy machinery would be required for the factory. The machinery never arrived, the factory never started and no workers came, but the situation dominated Edinburgh and the prepared position, jutting on the sea,
would enable big guns to his forth-rightly."

ZAPATA'S WISHES TO

Generals Are Holding Secret Meetings Pending Outcome of Mission to Famous Bandit of Southern Country.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)
Mexico City, Oct. 17.—Ysidro Fabila, the Mexican foreign minister, in an interview today, said that General Venustiano Carranza still is the first chief of the constitutional party.
The foreign minister declared that the Aguas Calientes convention had not discussed General Carranza's resignation, but had considered only general questions affecting the nation.

When asked regarding the assumption of supreme power by the Aguas Calientes convention at a secret session held October 5, he said:
"The business of the government of the republic is being conducted as usual. The supreme chief of the army is General Carranza and he is also the first chief of the nation."

"The Aguas Calientes convention is discussing the general affairs of the country, but particularly an arrangement for an armistice between General Carranza and General Maytorena
who have broken their agreement with the convention in not ceasing hostilities."

"The resignation of General Carranza has been discussed at the convention and it has been decided to be the first chief as before. Antonio
L. Villareal is only the president of the convention and has nothing to do with executive affairs outside that body."

"The Carranza cabinet will continue as before. There has been no intention of changing the composition of the cabinet, as complete harmony reigns
in the official family."

The commission headed by General
Felipe Angeles and General Blanco left here tonight to confer with General Zapata in regard to the latter's participation in the peace conference.
Pending the arrival of a full Zapata delegation at Aguas Calientes, the sessions of the peace convention will be secret.

URGENT INVITATION
TO GENERAL ZAPATA

Aguas Calientes, Mexico, Oct. 17.—
The following is the text of the communication presented to the convention of assembled chiefs and entrusted to a commission to be presented to General Emiliano Zapata, the Morelos
commander:

"To General Emiliano Zapata, Chief
of the Liberation Army:
We are pleased to inform you that on October 14, in this city, there was proclaimed the sovereignty of the revolutionary military convention. As a result of the happy termination of the efforts of the peace board in its sessions at Mexico City, there were presented upon that occasion the chiefs of the army corps of the northeast and the northwest and of the division of the north. In addition, the whole country was present and participating in the convention representatives of the constitutional government of Sonora, Jose Maria Maytorena, and also the divisions of the center, the east and the south, the whole constituting a majority of the generals of the revolutionary elements in arms in the republic.

"Recognizing that the principles of honesty, justice and popular sovereignty, for which you stand, and for which you and your comrades in arms
have been fighting so long and valiantly are similar to those which we are defending and for which the delegates gathered here are laboring, it is the unanimous opinion of this convention that it would be incomplete without the presence of your representatives.

"Therefore, this convention, being well advised of your patriotism and sincerity and hoping that your representatives shall not be the only ones absent from our midst, hasten to invite you to attend, either personally or through your representatives, to this convention now assembled in sovereignty session that the generals of the liberating army under your command
join with us in the study and discussion of the problems that have divided our common country.

"This invitation is tendered in the full confidence that, with the spirit of harmony and co-operation now prevailing in this convention, the problems above referred to may be solved
within a short time and in such manner as to serve the best interests of our fatherland and at the same time maintain the prestige of our beloved Mexico before the world.

"To this end, General Zapata, the committee which will place this invitation in your hands, and which is composed of men of unquestioned honor and patriotism, will confirm by word of mouth the cordiality of our desire that you and your representatives shall be present among us in order that complete peace within the republic shall become an accomplished fact to be sealed with the fraternal embrace of all loyal sons of Mexico.

"We earnestly urge you to acknowledge the receipt of this note at your earliest convenience, having in mind
the fact that the proceedings of this convention have been halted pending
the receipt of your patriotic reply.

ADMINISTRATION EMERGENCY BILL PASSES AFTER BITTER CONTEST

Five Democratic Cotton State
Senators Form Coalition
With Republicans to Defeat Measure.

LEADERS APPEAL FOR PARTY SOLIDARITY

Action of Upper House Presages Adjournment of Congress Early Next Week
With Program Complete.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE.)
Washington, Oct. 17.—The administration emergency bill, levying approximately $100,000,000 additional taxes to meet the emergency caused by the war in Europe, was passed by the senate tonight, 34 to 22, after southern democrats, in coalition with republicans of the senate, desperately fought to indefinitely postpone consideration of the measure because cotton relief legislation had been declined.

Determined Fight Made.
Democratic leaders, by a supreme effort in the climax of the cotton fight, gathered their faltering forces,
and spurring them on with eloquent appeals for party solidarity, defeated
the coalition. In its move to indefinitely postpone action, 32 to 23, Senators Clark of Arkansas, Smith of Georgia, Smith of South Carolina, Vardaman and White, were the democratic senators who fought to the point of exhaustion to postpone action. This would have killed
the bill for the present session of congress.

Pleas for Regularity.
Despite urgent pleas of Senators Williams, Stone, Shively and James,
who demanded united democratic support for the administration, these five southern senators under a storm of oratorical denunciation, persisted
to the last ditch in their determination that the bill should contain some cotton relief provisions.

Presage of Adjournment.
The enlivening contest that marked the passing of the bill foreshadowed
the end of the long drawn out session of congress, which has kept fluggling over the capital almost continuously for the past two years. The tax bill will go to the house on Monday and will be sent to conference.
An agreement on the measure between the two houses probably will
be reached by the middle of next week.

Vote on Party Lines Nearly.
The vote on the revenue bill followed party lines with one exception.
Senator Lane of Oregon, a democrat,
flying over the capital almost continuously for the past two years. The
tax bill will go to the house on Mon-
day and will be sent to conference.
An agreement on the measure be-
be reached by the middle of next
week.

Cotton Amendment Defeated.
The cotton relief amendment proposed by the senators from the cotton states, was defeated by a vote of 21
to 40.

The amendment provided for an issue
of $250,000,000 of three-year, 4
per cent government bonds, in denominations of $10, $20, $50 and $100.
The bonds were to be sold at not more than ten cents a pound. A tax of one-half cent a pound on all cotton grown and sold in 1914, and on cotton sold in 1915, was to be levied
to pay the government the bonds and all expenses incident to the handling of the cotton.

Those who voted for the cotton relief amendment were:
Republicans—Borah, Clapp and Jones.
Democrats—Clark, Ark.; Culbre-
son, Fletcher, La Follette, Lemmon, Martin, O'Gorman, Pomerene, Saulsbury, Shively, Shreve, Stone, Swanson, Thomas, Thompson, Walsh
and West.

Another Amendment Killed.
An amendment proposing a $500, 000,000 bond issue to be used by the secretary of the treasury in the cotton war revenue bill, proposed by Senator
McCumber, was voted down.

The amendment would have authorized the secretary of the treasury to prohibit or allow the importation of grains to ensure the stabilizing process.

The amendment of Senator Overman, appropriating $65,963,598 to pay to the southern states the amount collected as a tax on cotton after the civil war, was defeated 14 to 44. The amendment would have repaid the cotton tax on condition that the states loaned it to cotton producers on their product.

Tense Hours in Senate.
Tense hours in the senate followed the announced determination early in the day of southern democrats to make an effort to hold up action on the war revenue bill should the cotton amendments be defeated. Administration leaders, and even President Wilson, were notified of the situation.
Postmaster General Burleson went to the capitol and was closeted with several of the leading southern senators who were planning to coop. His influence and that of others was said to have prompted some of the senators to change their minds.

After the cotton amendments had been defeated, however, Senator Hoke Smith, of Georgia, declaring that "the senate has defeated a measure vastly more important than the war revenue bill," moved to lay that measure on the table. Senator Bryan, of Florida, made the point of order that the motion was out of order because the senate had agreed yesterday to bring about final disposition of the bill tonight. Vice President Marshall sustained this point of order, and Senator Vardaman, of Mississippi, then moved that the senate indefinitely postpone action on the war revenue bill. This motion was held to be within the spirit of the unanimous consent resolution.

Lecture by Williams.
The roll call was about to be taken when Senator John Sharp Williams, of Mississippi, himself a champion of the cotton bond amendment, arose and arraigned his colleagues.

From a position in front of the democratic seats he faced the southern senators and spoke with feeling, declaring that responsibility for the welfare of the entire country would rest upon them if their effort should succeed.

"If there be democrats here," said
he, "in this threatening hour to the government will now join hands with the opposite party to defeat this necessary revenue legislation, the responsibility will rest upon them. Do you believe the democratic party will permit five or six gentlemen to stifle
the party and starve the treasury? Do you imagine you can win anything for your cause by that? I warn you that you cannot. If you attempt to hold up the best interests of the entire nation in order to get assistance in an effort for aid that already has been denied by an overwhelming majority of the senate, I prophesy that you will be tired of your position after it has been before the country a few weeks.

"It is not a wise thing for a few men to overturn the fiscal policy of their party. It is still less wise for them to hold up the needed revenues of their country. The country will justify proper opposition from the republicans to democratic measures, but it will not justify playing mere politics
with the dollar that cuts off the democratic senators' hair. This union may win but I believe there is patriotism enough on the republican side
to prevent it."

Senator Clarke, of Arkansas, and Vardaman, of Mississippi, strongly defended their position. Senator Vardaman declared he wished to do nothing to starve the treasury, "but if the United States is going to pay the heavy hand of taxation on people groaning with indigence and poverty, it can't lay it upon my people with my consent."

Wants Relief for South.
Senator Clarke said he believed the government should discharge its obligations to one of the poorest of the cotton farmers of the south. The matter of providing revenue, he said,
he did not believe was the paramount
issue of the hour and he wished to remain in Washington until some relief
for the south could be enacted.

Senator Stone, of Missouri, appealed to what he termed the "realistic democrats," whom he asserted had agreed in party conference to vote for the war revenue bill.

These "realistic democrats," said Senator Stone, "are going to repudiate
the action of the democratic conference and undertake to defeat a measure which they were pledged to support, and which would be the only relief for the south which they have not yet agreed to do. We shall stay here until something else is done to relieve the abnormal and unexpected pressure upon the treasury."

Letter From Southern Banker.
Senator Pomerene criticized some of the democratic senators for referring to their effort as one of sectional interest and asked what the legislatures of the cotton states and the banks had done to aid them. He read a letter from a southern banker to the effect that the cotton states were now shut down on any more loans;
now is the time for calling in and not putting out loans."

An amendment proposed by Senator Pomerene which would have substituted an increased income tax for the tax on telegraph and telephone messages and on freight, was laid on the table by a vote of 26 to 16.

The Holland-American line, New-York, which left New York September
8, and was reported to have reached Falmouth October 15, has been destroyed by a mine in the North sea and is believed to be proceeding to Rotterdam. The message conveying this information said that seven persons aboard the Noordam were injured.

The latest British casualty list includes among the killed, Major General Hubert I. W. Hamilton, who was Field Marshal Kitchener's right hand man in South Africa and India.

As a part of a large operation for the relief of the city, other and more powerful considerations prevented this being carried through. The defense of the inner lines of Antwerp could have been maintained for some days and the naval division withdrew only when ordered to do so, in order to meet the general strategic situation
and not on account of an attack or pressure by the enemy.

"The prolongation of the defense

and Germans have been reduced to the defensive. It is quite likely that the state of the roads prevents either side from making any advance and that they will have to wait until the ground has been hardened by frost before striking their real blows.

Poles Attack Germans.
From the allies' standpoint the delay in the eastern theater of war is of importance for it prevents the Germans from sending reinforcements to the west. The inhabitants of Poland apparently are giving the Germans some trouble and are reported to have organized resistance parties which, while they cannot do much damage to an army, can interfere with its communications by destroying roads and bridges.

Mines and the stopping of neutral steamers are causing much annoyance to neutral countries. Following the example of Germany and England, Russia is now sowing mines in the Baltic, while the Germans are said to have placed these dangerous machines in the Scheldt, which is Dutch waters. The Atlantic also has been mined and the Italian fishing industry virtually brought to an end.

Neutral Ships Searched.
The Scandinavian countries and Holland are the chief sufferers from the searching of neutral ships, for these ships now are being stopped by both British and German warships.

Danger from the Turkish fleet has passed for the time being; those warships having returned from the Black sea to the sea of Marmara. It is considered doubtful whether they will go out again unless Turkey definitely throws in her lot with Germany, for the British ambassador at Constantinople has declared that the cruiser Osman and Breslau would be considered enemy ships as long as they are offi-

Turk Army Mobilized.
Turkey is keeping her army mobilized at great cost and in the department of trade and commerce, which are particularly at a standstill, although the crops are good, famine is feared in the Anatolian provinces and the parliament is sending commissions to America and other countries to solicit loans for the benefit of the sufferers.

Germany, it is said, has sent money to Constantinople, but it is considered doubtful that she will be able to

had on more than one occasion declared that this war would be carried on to the limit. Furthermore, it says, the German people, in view of the sacrifices they have made, are only willing to accept a peace which guarantees the future safety of Germany.

MUCH UNREST IN TURKEY OVER GERMAN RULING

Petrograd, Oct. 17.—A semi-official Russian news agency is sending out the following:
"Turkish delusions tend to diminish. Certain liberal Turks are manifesting discontent with German domination in Constantinople there have been hostile manifestations before the German embassy."

AUSTRIAN SOLDIERS TOOK PART IN ANTWERP SIEGE

London, Oct. 18 (1:20 a. m.)—Eight thousand Austrian soldiers who participated in the siege of Antwerp, have arrived at Aix-la-Chapelle, (Rhine Province), says the Amsterdam correspondent of the Reuter Telegram company. According to the Nieuwe Rotterdamse Courant, they are going to Gronow, Dalmia.

FRENCH OFFICIAL REPORT INDICATES SUCCESSES

Paris, Oct. 17 (10:55 p. m.)—The official communication issued tonight by the French war office says:
"On the front there has been only one day of fighting."
"On our left wing progress continues. The British troops have captured Fromelles, to the southwest of Lille. On the Ypres canal to the sea our soldiers and machine guns have repulsed a German attack."

BELLIGERENTS WARNED AGAINST HASTY ACTIONS

Rights of United States as Neutral Nation Must Be Carefully Respected, Declares Senator Stone.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Washington, Oct. 17.—Senator Stone, chairman of the foreign relations committee, today made a speech in the senate warning belligerent nations to respect the rights of the United States as a neutral nation.

"When we are performing our duty," he said, "to maintain neutrality, nations involved in war should be very careful to recognize our rights and to keep faith with us. It is our duty to do so the responsibility of violating the rights of a neutral power will rest upon their heads."

The Missouri senator spoke after Senator Thomas of Colorado had read to the senate a letter he had received from E. W. Patterson, a passenger aboard the United Fruit company's vessel Metapan. The letter set forth that on October 4, after the Metapan had changed from British to American registry, she was halted by the French cruiser Conde while lying between two Colombian ports, boarded by French officers, and five Germans aboard the Metapan were compelled to sign paroles promising not to serve against the allies. The letter added that an American consul, who was on board, had filed a report of the incident to the state department.

If the German-born passengers who signed paroles had refused to do so, and been removed from the ship, undoubtedly an issue would have been presented, which in the opinion of some of the officials now seems to be lacking. Had the Germans been made prisoners by the French it is admitted a delicate question as to whether the French commander was not entirely within his own rights in making the arrests. That he had authority to stop a neutral vessel and search for contraband is generally admitted and the only point that remains in doubt is as to the extension of this authority to the subjects of a belligerent power.

QUICK REVENGE OF BRITISH NAVY ON GERMAN FLEET

Four Torpedo Boat Destroyers Sunk by Gun Fire of Cruiser Undaunted and Four Other English Vessels.

(Associated Press Correspondence)
London, Oct. 17 (5:50 p. m.)—The British navy has accounted for four more German destroyers which were engaged and sunk off the Dutch coast this afternoon by a British cruiser and four torpedo boat destroyers. According to an announcement made by the secretary of the British admiralty the British vessels in action were the light cruiser Undaunted and the torpedo boat destroyers Lance, Lannon, Locust and Loyal. Thus the British sailors have taken speedy revenge for the sinking of the British cruiser Hawke by a German submarine last Thursday.

The sinking of the four warships today makes six torpedo boat destroyers sent to the bottom by British gun fire since the beginning of the war, and seven, counting the torpedo boat destroyer sunk by the submarine E-9.

Without counting converted merchant men such as the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse and the Cap Trafalgar, the allies have sunk six German and one Austrian cruiser and seven German torpedo boat destroyers, while there have been unconfirmed reports of the sinking of several Austrian destroyers in the Adriatic sea.

The Germans have sunk eight British and one Russian cruiser, while Australia has lost a submarine by accident. The Russians claim to have sunk two German submarines, but this the Germans deny.

Up to this afternoon Berlin had not heard officially of the sinking of the British cruiser Hawke, which indicates that the submarine which accomplished it has not yet returned to port.

NOTED GERMAN GENERAL'S FAME OF RECENT DATE

Man Who Has Beaten Russians Decisively and Taken Many Prisoners Almost Unknown When War Began.

(Associated Press Correspondence)
Berlin, Oct. 22.—General von Hindenburg, who distinguished himself by his initial two great victories over the Russians and taking almost 150,000 prisoners within three weeks, was a comparatively unknown man, so far as the general public is concerned, when the war broke out and it seemed wholly probable that his name would go down in history as a blank for he had already been retired from active service three years ago, at the age of 64. His health, moreover, was not such as to warrant the expectation that he would still achieve work of distinction. He walks with great difficulty, being subject to rheumatism and gout.

In view of his health he was not recalled into active service when the war broke out, although he enjoyed a high reputation among military men. It was only after General von Prittwitz and Gaffron, at first in command in East Prussia, had committed serious errors in strategy that the emperor decided to make a change of commanders. The general staff called into consultation told him that von Hindenburg was the only man to whom the situation there, and von Hindenburg, notwithstanding his 67 years, was appointed. He was living at Magdeburg, but came to Berlin at once upon hearing of his appointment. Here a young officer took him in an automobile at high speed to the scene of war. On the way he was met by staff officers from the East Prussian army, who gave Hindenburg a full description of the military situation, and by the time he arrived at the scene of action he had already formed his plans for crushing the Russian army.

Kaiser Sacrifices Pride.
According to one report his appointment meant a sacrifice of personal pride on the part of the Kaiser, because it is said that von Hindenburg's retirement from active service in 1911 was due to an over-rash remark he made to the Kaiser at the maneuvers. Von Hindenburg, so the story goes, after having gained a decisive victory over the Kaiser's forces, said to him after the sham-fighting: "Yes, your majesty, and if this had been real war we would have driven you into the Baltic sea." The Kaiser resented this remark, and von Hindenburg's retirement soon followed.

Since his astonishing victories in East Prussia the military writers have reviewed a story illustrating his bravery at the battle of Sadowna, or Konigsgrat, in which he took part as a second lieutenant in the royal body guard regiment, the Garde du Corps.

"Suddenly the fifteenth of Lieut. von Hindenburg," writes the historian of his regiment, "were fired upon with grape-shot. A battery had hurried forward from Rusebitts and had opened fire upon them at a very short range. After returning the short rapid-fire Lieut. von Hindenburg ordered forward, double-quick!" and dashed for the Austrian guns. Grazed on the head and knocked down by a grape-shot he lay stupefied for a few moments. Then, recovering, he jumped up and saw that three cannon were already in the hands of his men, while the two others, one with two horses and the other one, were being drawn off. These were also captured, but it was impossible to bring them off the field."

Von Hindenburg later saw hard service in the war of 1870-1871, taking part in the battles of Gravelotte, Sedan and Orléans.

Much of his active service was spent with the general staff, to which he was first ordered in 1877, after he had spent three years in the war academy. Seven years later he was assigned to service at the front as company commander, but in the following year returned to the general staff, where he soon advanced to major. In 1889 he was assigned to the war ministry, was made lieutenant colonel two years later, and in 1893 took command, as lieutenant colonel, of the Nineteenth Infantry regiment.

In 1894 he became colonel and two years later he was made chief of the staff of the Seventh army corps. He advanced rapidly to become commander, was successively promoted to be major-general and lieutenant-general, and in 1904 was made commanding general of the Fourth corps.

In the last named capacity von Hindenburg showed his executive ability and knowledge of human nature by the manner in which he was able to secure the cooperation of two of his generals, von Prittwitz and Gaffron, and von Bernhardt. The former was a hard-headed, obstinate old soldier, and the latter an impetuous officer, rash and impatient of restraint. Both, however, were devoted to von Hindenburg and worked efficiently with him. He retired in 1911.

The report of his victories in East Prussia referred to him as "Colonel General von Hindenburg." As the rank which he had not before possessed, it is assumed that it was conferred upon him as a reward for his services in repelling the Russian advance.

COLOMBIAN STATESMAN VICTIM OF ASSASSINS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
Bogota, Colombia, Oct. 17.—General Rafael Uribe Uribe, member of the Colombian senate and chief of the liberal party, was attacked by two assassins Thursday afternoon while on his way to the senate, died yesterday. Wounds which were inflicted upon his head and neck with an axe proved fatal.

The assassins, both of whom are members of the liberal republican workmen's club, were arrested. The motive for their attack is not known, but it is believed to have been due to failure to receive positions said to have been promised them.

General Rafael Uribe Uribe, Colombian soldier, lawyer and diplomat, had for years played a leading part in the affairs of his country.

During the uprising against the Mariscal government, General Uribe was a leader of the insurgents. More recently he figured as one of the advisory committee that signed the treaty between the United States and Colombia designed to settle the Panama controversy.

RAPID ADVANCE BY ALLIED ARMY AGAINST ENEMY

Movements in North of France Go With Rush; British Soldiers Capture Important Positions.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE)
From the Battle Front, (via Paris, Oct. 17, 11:41 p. m.)—The allied armies have prevented the Germans from advancing along the coast and have defeated their object of seizing the French channel ports. Dunkirk is surrounded by a vast territory which is easily inundated and open country where cavalry and infantry can operate with facility while there is no opportunity to bring big guns into effective play.

Military movements are progressing with much more rapidly in the north of France than when the allies were forced to advance foot by foot with the aid of pick and shovel in order to push the Germans back from their strongly entrenched positions along the rivers Scarpe, Somme, Oise and Aisne.

The allies today advanced rapidly and the British troops carried the important position of Fromelles, to the southwest of Lille, after hard fighting.

SAVE YOUR HAIR! IF FALLING OUT OR DANDRUFF--25 CENT DANDERINE

Ladies! Men! Here's the quickest, surest dandruff cure known.

Thin, brittle, colorless and scraggy hair is sure evidence of a neglected scalp, of dandruff—that awful scurf. There is nothing so destructive to the hair as dandruff. It robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life; eventually producing a feverishness and itching of the scalp, which if not remedied causes the hair roots to shrink, loosen and die—then the hair falls out fast. A little Danderine tonight—now—anytime—will surely save your hair.

Get a 25 cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter, and after the first application your hair will take on that life, lustre and luxuriance which is so beautiful. It will become wavy and fluffy and have the appearance of abundance, an incomparable gloss and softness, but what will please you most will be after just a few weeks use, when you will actually see a lot of fine, downy hair—new hair—growing all over the scalp.

Dr. Osler on Tuberculosis

SIR WILLIAM OSLER, one of the foremost of living medical men, formerly of Johns Hopkins, Baltimore, and now Regius Professor of Medicine at Oxford, says, in his "Practice of Medicine" (1902), on page 249:

"The healing of pulmonary tuberculosis is shown clinically by the recovery of patients in whose sputa elastic tissue and bacilli have been found. * * * In the granulation products and associated pneumonia a scar-tissue is formed, while the smaller caseous areas become incorporated with lime salts. To such conditions alone should the term healing be applied."

Many eminent medical authorities have testified to the efficacy of lime salts in the treatment of tuberculosis, and it seems reasonable to assume that the success of Osler's Alternative in this and allied throat and bronchial affections is due partly to the fact that it contains a lime salt so combined with other valuable ingredients as to be easily assimilated by the average person.

Widespread and continued use of this remedy in numerous cases of tuberculosis—many of which appear to have yielded completely to it—justifies our belief that it is worth a trial in such cases, unless some other form of treatment already is succeeding. Osler's Alternative contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs. Therefore, it is safe to take. We make no promises concerning it, any more than reputable physicians give promises with their prescriptions, but we know of many cases in which IT HAS HELPED.

Your druggist has it or can get it or you can order direct.

JAIL SENTENCE FOR PUNCH GIVEN COURT OFFICER

Stiff Penalty Imposed Upon Clovie Citizen for Wreaking
His Vengeance on District Attorney Scott.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Clovie, N. M., Oct. 17.—J. H. Walker, one of the most prominent citizens of Clovie, was today fined $50 and sentenced to three months in jail for contempt of court on account of an altercation which he had Friday afternoon with District Attorney K. K. Scott.

The difficulty between Walker and Scott arose out of the decision of the court in a trial some time ago in which Walker, who is the proprietor of a meat market, pleaded guilty to failure to keep a record of horned cattle purchased and slaughtered. Walker was arrested immediately after the encounter and placed in jail, but was released on $1,000 bond.

The affair has created considerable excitement in Clovie, as Walker has many friends who sympathize with him. The jail sentence begins tomorrow. District Attorney Scott was badly bruised as a result of the run-in between him and Walker.

WHITE TRACES GROWTH OF STATE EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM FROM BEGINNING

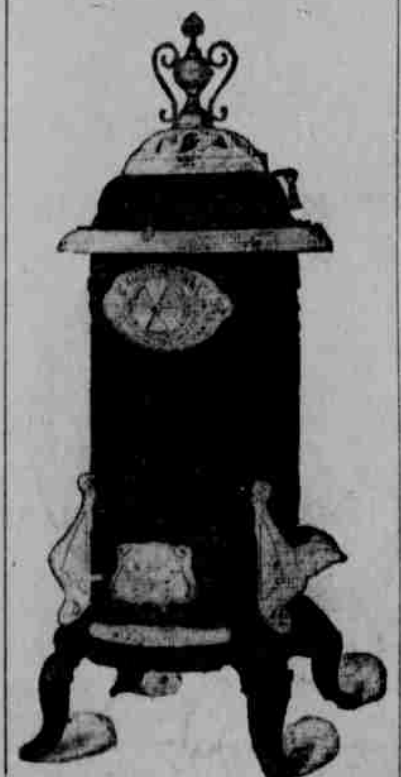

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Santa Fe, Oct. 17.—While New Mexico is developing rapidly its various natural resources, with which she has been blessed beyond her lot, she is not overlooking the proper education of her future citizens and desires to be known far and wide for the educational advantages offered to her citizens and those who contemplate locating within her boundaries. This volume will be the most comprehensive and exact write-up of New Mexico attractions and resources ever published. Mr. White in his article tells a little of the history of education in New Mexico, which began more than three hundred years ago but received its impetus that brought it up to modern standards only a comparatively short time ago.

Since then the progress has been astounding and Mr. White speaks enthusiastically of the growth of the present status. He explains the laws and administrative methods under which this has become possible. His statistics show that $1,243,470 were expended last year for maintaining the public schools; that the average daily attendance was 59,000; the enrollment $4,845; the school census 102,280; the value of public school property not counting the magnificent land grant, $1,300,000; of state institutions, $1,160,000; Indian schools, $250,000; and private schools, $425,000, or more than $2,000,000 in property and more than 19,000,000 acres of land devoted to school purposes.

Big Auto Registration.
Santa Fe, Oct. 17.—The number of automobiles registered in New Mexico today passed the 2,000 mark or 50 per cent more than were registered last year, which speaks well for the prosperity of New Mexico. Secretary of State Loretto has sent out notices to all constables and justices of the peace to assist him in getting every automobile not yet registered on the registry list before the end of the year.

Department After Colony Lands.
Santa Fe, Oct. 17.—The state land department is among those making a rush for the Refugio colony lands in Dona Ana county under the survey of United States Surveyor Charles Devendorf. A little more than 2,700 acres have been allowed the state, the remainder being filed on by El Paso, Las Cruces and other Mesilla valley people.

CALL ISSUED TO EDUCATORS TO ATTEND MEETING

Department Urges Teachers and School Authorities to Strain a Point to Come to Albuquerque Convention.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Santa Fe, Oct. 17.—The department of education today issued a call to all teachers to attend the educational convention at Albuquerque. The call is issued both in Spanish and English. It reads:

"To Boards of Regents, Boards of Education and Boards of School Directors: The New Mexico Educational association will hold its twenty-ninth annual meeting at Albuquerque, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, November 23, 24, 25, 1914. I am again writing to urge that provision be made so as to make it possible for the teachers under your jurisdiction to attend the important gathering. If possible, the board should be represented by some member. It is our effort to secure the attendance of all who are in any way interested in education—teachers in all schools, school officers and parents.

"As an evidence of the importance of this association, it may be well to state that over 1,200 teachers and others attended the twenty-eighth session at Albuquerque last year. The paid membership number 1,250. In view of the benefits of the meeting to teachers, school officers and parents, the state board at its meeting last August instructed the state superintendent of public instruction 'to address circular letters in Spanish and English to boards of county commissioners, boards of education, boards of school directors, boards of regents, and boards of trustees of the New Mexico Educational association. It is in pursuance of this resolution that I am writing to urge that you permit teachers to attend the coming meeting of the association without deducting anything from the salary of teachers for such attendance. Wherever the funds of the district permit, the expenses of the teacher should be paid wholly or in part from such funds. It is a legitimate and proper expenditure—really a thing from the salary of teachers will thus be able to gain inspiration and practical suggestions for their work in your schools. It is largely due to the fact that so many teachers and school officers have met in these annual gatherings that New Mexico is making such rapid strides educationally in every part of the state. Let us 'get together' for a still stronger campaign for better schools. It is an especially opportune time in view of this approaching session of the state legislature when new measures for school improvement should be carefully considered.

Many Prominent Speakers.
There will be several general sessions addressed by educators of national reputation, including President Craighhead of the University of Montana, Dr. Lotus D. Coffman of the University of Illinois, Miss Lullie Stearns of Wisconsin, and Dr. Jeremiah Moore, formerly president of Graceland University, Iowa.

"Monday morning, November 21, will be devoted to school contests in penmanship, spelling, language and arithmetic. Tuesday afternoon will be Higher Institutions day. At least two half days will be devoted to meetings of the various associations of which the association is composed. Educational council, County Superintendents, City Superintendents, High School and College, Elementary Schools, School Boards, School Patterns, Indian Schools, School Boards, League of State Workers, Library, Commercial Teachers, Instructors in Industrial Branches, Mathematics and Science Supervisors. The exhibit of school work will be on a large scale than heretofore and it is hoped that the majority of the schools of the state will have some part in this display. On Wednesday evening, November 25, the annual state oratorical contests will take place. Numerous musical organizations, glee clubs and orchestras will furnish music for the programs, and there will be numbers also by some of the best known singers of the state.

"As the Thanksgiving holidays come in the same week, it may be well to discuss school for the whole week. If your teachers attend the association meeting, it is for this reason that these dates have been selected. Expectance goes to show that less time will be lost if a whole week can be taken at once than if three days should be taken out of another week before or after the Thanksgiving holiday. Any local celebration of Thanksgiving day may be held on the Friday of the week preceding.

"While I shall look for your teachers at the meeting, I shall look forward with pleasure also to meeting any members of school boards, as there are several questions which will be considered in the School Boards section and which will be of interest.

"Very truly yours,
"ALVAN N. WHITE,
"State Superintendent of Public Instruction."

SURVIVORS OF BRITISH CRUISER REACH SCOTLAND

Without Warning Torpedo
From German Submarine Strikes Vessel and All Is Over in Five Minutes.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.)
Aberdeen, Scotland (via London, Oct. 17, 17:25).—The attack on the British cruiser Hawke, which was sunk yesterday by a German submarine, came as a great surprise to those aboard the cruiser, according to the survivors who have arrived here. Nothing was seen to indicate the presence of a submarine until after the explosion when the periscope of the boat was detected moving away at some distance. The Hawke sank in five minutes and hundreds of men, some of them in cork jackets, and others hanging to pieces of wreckage, were scattered in the water.

Story of Survivor.
"I was on the forward deck on watch," said one of the stokers, "and we were enjoying ourselves. Some one was singing and the others had joined in the chorus when the Hawke was struck. The ship vibrated violently and immediately started to list. When I reached the deck the captain was calling. 'It's everybody for himself,' I jumped overboard and managed to keep afloat, although the water was bitterly cold, until picked up by the only boat that there was time to launch. For a time we rowed around picking up men, but the boat was soon overcrowded and beyond throwing life belts to the men in the water, we could do no more. A Norwegian steamer came up and picked up a few men, but for the large number, the sea was too bad. The men evidently were suffering severely and kept repeating: 'All my pals are gone.'"

Torpedo Struck Magazine.
The torpedo must have struck the magazine, for there was a terrific explosion and the ship rose as if she had gone on a rock. Everything was dust and the fittings were flying everywhere. Boats and rafts were scattered all around, even if there had been time to launch them. The submarine hung around for some time, probably expecting that there might be a repetition of the Aboukir, Cressy, Hogue affair, but there was nothing of the kind. A great number of men must have been killed by the explosion.

Two members of the engine room staff of the Hawke said that the torpedo found its mark between the two funnels, close to the magazine. The explosion was terrific. The ship listed immediately. They had never seen a vessel so well equipped with life saving apparatus, but the way the Hawke heeled over made it almost impossible to get the small boats off.

A small cutter was launched but was nearly drawn in by the suction. A small steam pinnace and a raft prepared for such emergency, floated off when the Hawke sank, but then crowded it so the pinnace went down while those on the raft could not possibly survive owing to the severe cold. "We never saw the submarine," said one man, "until after the explosion, when something like a bloodstain appeared above the water."

The crew was composed for the most part of Irishmen, owing to the fact that the Hawke was stationed at Queenstown at the outbreak of the war. Still another survivor said it was impossible to man the guns owing to the heavy list, though the ship was made to drift by the captain, the commander and a midshipman were on the bridge giving orders as calmly as if in fleet maneuvers. They disappeared when the ship made the final plunge.

BELL STARTS ON LAST SWING AROUND CIRCLE

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Santa Fe, Oct. 17.—Chase Bell, motion picture operator for the exposition commission, started today on his last filming expedition for the New Mexico exhibit. His first stop will be at Carrizozo, where he will take moving pictures of cattle ranch operations, expecting to cover Governor McDonald's ranch.

From Carrizozo he goes to Roswell to take feature films of the products exhibition to be held there next week and to finish his work at the New Mexico Military Institute.

Bell has just returned from Silver City, where he has been making a picture of the famous silver mine. He is now on his way to the United States, the production last year exceeding 50,000,000 pounds.

With perhaps the exception of several educational films, the phenomenal picture taking campaign of Col. Ralph E. Twitchell for the exposition ends next week. Waldo Twitchell is at work completing the lettering for the films and slides, this work being done in a most artistic and striking manner, so that the legend makes doubly valuable the pictures.

BEAN TRESHING ENDS IN SERIOUS STABBING

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL.)
Roy, N. M., Oct. 17.—At a bean threshing yesterday, twelve miles northeast of Roy, "Buster" Woodward made an attack on Lester Franklin with a pitchfork and later seriously stabbed Franklin in the left lung with a knife. The difficulty was the result of an old quarrel between Woodward and Franklin.

The wounded man was brought to this place and was given treatment at Bell's hospital, where it was said that the chances are in favor of his recovery. Woodward has not yet been arrested.

Governor Busy Loading Cattle.
Santa Fe, Oct. 17.—Governor McDonald and his son-in-law, Spencer, are loading two-year-old steers from the Block ranch at the Riverside stockyards near Roswell. The steers are being shipped to Henry Harding of Amarillo, Texas. Governor McDonald is expected to return tomorrow to Santa Fe.

SENTIMENT IN SWEDEN CHANGES TO IMPARTIALITY

Strongly Pro-German at Beginning of War, Strict Neutrality Now Marks Feelings of People.

(Associated Press Correspondence.)
Stockholm, Sept. 17.—There is sweeping over Sweden today something more significant than the continuous line of infantry, cavalry and artillery which goes to take its part in the mobilization of troops, already numbering 225,000. This is the marked change in the sentiment of this country toward the warring powers. Sweden, which, since the beginning of the war, has had decided German sympathies notwithstanding the strict neutrality declared by its government, is today becoming so impartial that in watching the street crowds before the bulletin boards it is impossible to tell whether Germany or England is the favorite.

A month ago a Stockholm merchant who openly avowed English inclinations, was commercially and socially ostracized. Portraits of the Kaiser and German insignia were hung in shop windows, but no one saw any English displays.

But today there are indications on every hand that the pendulum has begun to swing toward England. This is most plainly reflected in press reports. A month ago one looked in vain for English accounts of the war, but now the representative Stockholm papers give an almost equal space to Berlin and London dispatches. Some of the liberal newspapers even go further than this and limit their Berlin dispatches to short paragraphs in comparison with the more detailed papers, however, one may read English comment on the destruction of the Rheims cathedral in one column and the German explanation of it in the next. Since this change has occurred without any pressure from the government, it seems fairly indicative of the changes of the sentiment of Sweden.

Reason for Change.
In the opinion of citizens of Stockholm, this change has occurred because the grand display of the peace of Russia. At first it was taken for granted that Russia had designs upon the integrity of Sweden, but as the days brought no substantiation of these fears, the animosity of the Swedish people toward Russia proportionately. In the meantime reports of German methods of warfare and the holding up of Swedish and Russian armistices by the German warships added further impetus to the change in Swedish feeling. The result is that having begun with pronounced pro-German sympathies, Sweden may now be said to have grown into impartiality. Whereas the first results of the war were watched with the anxiety of a participant, present development is observed with the calmness of an observer who seems equally ready to applaud the generalship and strategic successes of both sides.

Another apprehension which flourished under the influence of a strong pro-German sentiment is now deprecated in Stockholm. This was the fear that in the event of repeated German successes England would declare that she must encroach upon neutral territory to offset the advantages derived by Germany from her occupation of Belgium.

Stands by Compact.
During this shift in the popular point of view, the Swedish government has stood firmly by its compact with Norway to remain neutral and to stick together in case of violated neutrality. Official Sweden has been undivided in its opinion and the political cleavage which ordinarily shows so many surfaces has been temporarily leveled by the war. Whether the sympathies of the various parties have been toward the allies of Germany, they have united in expressing a desire for peace. Neither conservative, liberal or socialist, peasant or noble, man has been guilty of stirring up any war spirit in Sweden.

The partial mobilization, it is explained, is purely a precautionary measure to defend her neutrality. "Not to defend it like Belgium," as a Swedish officer said, "but to defend it with success." Following out this purpose, nearly half of Sweden's army of half a million men is in the field, prepared to meet the first move of any of the powers to violate neutrality. The streets of Stockholm are therefore thronged with gray and blue uniforms, and even the reservists without uniform except for their tri-cornered hats are moving about ready to be summoned to join the forces. Among all classes, war is unpopular, but the necessity for mobilization is keenly realized.

Lane Writes Interesting Article.
Santa Fe, Oct. 17.—A splendidly illustrated and most interesting article on the Grand Quivira highway to Albuquerque, has been prepared by Dr. R. Lane for the American Motorist, which stands at the head of automobile journals for circulation and influence. The article goes into the history and romance of the Grand Quivira, also, and touches upon the scenic beauties of this highway. It is a valuable piece of publicity for central New Mexico, and is certain to attract more motorists this way during the exposition year.

Appetite Follows Good Digestion

Nearly everyone indulges their appetite and the digestive organs are abused, resulting in a congestion of poisonous waste that clogs the bowels and causes much misery and distress.

The most effective remedy to correct this condition is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepper known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a natural, pleasant-tasting remedy, gentle yet positive in action, and quickly relieves indigestion, constipation, sick headache, belching, etc. Drug stores sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and in thousands of homes it is the indispensable family remedy. For a free trial bottle write Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 451 Washington St., Monticello, Ill.

YOKAM WITNESS IN ROCK ISLAND ROAD INQUIRY

Believes Government and Railway Companies Should Have Joint Authority and Participate in Profits.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE.)

Washington, Oct. 17.—Discharge of duties of the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific railway, through financial operators, were made to the Interstate Commerce commission today by the witnesses identified with the transactions.

R. P. Yokum, who participated actively in the sale of the Rock Island & Pacific railway, and who subsequently repurchased the stock for himself and associates, described in detail the negotiations which resulted in a loss to the Rock Island of approximately $7,500,000.

Mr. Yokum also gave, incidentally and briefly, his views on such supervision as he believed the government ought to exercise over railroads. His idea is that a co-partnership ought to exist between the government and the railroads, the latter to have a share in the responsibility and in the earnings. He thought one of the great achievements of the present administration was its decision to construct and operate railroads in Alaska.

Through the testimony of J. N. Wallace, president of the Central Trust company, New York, it was shown there is strong probability that the securities of the two Rock Island holding companies would be wiped out absolutely and that every dollar invested in them would be lost.

Tells of Trustee-Ship.
Mr. Wallace, testifying concerning the trustee-ship of the Central Trust company of New York, he said $71,253,200 of the railway's stock was deposited against the securities issued by the holding companies.

According to Mr. Wallace, it became evident early this year that the Rock Island was about to pass the bond interest. A bondholders' protective committee, of which Mr. Wallace is chairman, was formed.

"I was requested," James B. Brown, representing $15,000,000 of the bonds to form this committee," said Mr. Wallace. "As chairman, I am acting in my individual capacity and not as president of the Central Trust company."

Road in Bad Condition.
"When the Rock Island management issued an announcement that it would need about $43,000,000 to put the property into shape, the bondholders committee selected J. B. McKenna, an expert, to go over the system and ascertain its physical condition."

Mr. McKenna's report put in evidence, indicated that, in his opinion, the road was in bad condition.

"If it is your purpose," asked Mr. Yokum, "to insist upon the sale despite trouble?"

"I shall insist upon the sale of it," replied Mr. Wallace, "because I regard it as my duty to do so. The bondholders will take over the stock and the property. It belongs to them."

Magnificent Hair Easy to Obtain Quickly—Some Astonishing Beauty Secrets

Many Months of Precious Time Have Now Been Eliminated in the Acquisition of Beauty. Says Valeska Suratt, America's Famous Self-Made Beauty-Actress.

By Miss Valeska, Suratt
If you could actually see a difference of two or three inches in the growth of your hair in a few weeks' time and detect a superb improvement in its vigor and silky appearance, you would perhaps wonder whether a miracle had not been wrought upon you. The fact is, however, that you have merely performed a feat which is so frequent that most women do not believe them possible, yet the fact remains that if the proper means are used, they are more likely to appear than not. The proper means, of course, are the controlling factor. Mere hair tonics, which are commonly sold in preparation form and ready to use, are so often weak in power and in ingredients that it is remarkable how the utmost rapidly and thoroughly, and it never produces the most sensitive skin of beauty's make.

MISS T. D. N.—Here is a wrinkle-removing formula which has already become famous because of its quick action in rendering the skin smooth and vigorous and thereby eliminating all traces and lines of age. Mix two tablespoonfuls of glycerine and two ounces of water in a half pint of water. The result is a beautiful cream of wonderful absorbent qualities. Big and little wrinkles, crow's feet and bonnet lines disappear in a remarkably short time. The difference in the appearance of age will be quite startling.

REVELINA D.—Development of the hair is very often possible. There is no absolute assurance of this, however. There is danger in the use of vacuum cups, pumps and the like. The following mixture is safe and has been very successful. To half a pint of hot water, add half a cup of sugar and two ounces of essence, with which any detergent soap may be dissolved thoroughly and take ten tablespoonfuls after meals and on retiring.

MISS FORDY.—Do not pinch out blackheads. You can remove them without pain and in a few minutes by applying some of your own hair, under the arms, and rubbing it on the blackheads. Then look in the mirror and see the difference. This is the only article I know that will really remove blackheads, and do it almost instantly.

JANET T. D.—You probably don't realize that dandruff may now be dissolved away completely. This is not done with soap, because the alkali does not permit of it. But if you will dissolve a teaspoonful of egg in half a cup of hot water and use as a hair wash, you will be surprised at the splendid results. You can secure from your druggist at small cost enough egg to make over a dozen of these shampoos.

MISS WATKINS.—Hydrated lime is a remarkable thing. It excessively perspiration, it is liberally and you will find that you will suffer no longer from the extreme heat and perspiration under the arms and you will have no more greenish or yellowish perspiration. Hydrated lime may be obtained from your druggist. It also dissolves perspiration and body odors completely.

PHILIPPA D. T.—Superfluous hair on a woman is a hideous thing. Many women hesitate to use depilatories because the ordinary preparations sold for this purpose irritate the skin and leave a spot which applied simply because the hair is literally burned off. The way to get rid of it is to use a simple sulfate solution, which is the only thing that will simply dissolve away the hair and leave the skin soft, white, and smooth. It is the way no one can deny. Let me use anything for removing hair. Simple sulfate solution can be obtained at any drug store. It does not destroy all hair, black and coarse, with and they ought to have the right to manage it.

"The sale of this stock," suggested Commissioner Clemens, "will wipe out all of the stock and bonds of the holding companies, will it not?"

"Yes, I think so," replied the witness, "but I'm not responsible for that. Everything of the paper securities of these companies will be wiped out."

Nobody Spurring Company.
"Do you think this is a propitious time to sell the stock?"

"Well, in any event," said Mr. Wallace, "the bondholders will get it. They are the real owners of the property. The bonds are held very widely and usually in small lots."

"Who is spurring on the Central Trust company in this sale?" asked Mr. Yokum.

"Nobody. The Central Trust company is acting under the agreement and is simply doing its duty. There is only one way to finance the Rock Island property and that is to issue preferred stock."

"Is it not a fact that some bondholders object to the sale of the stock at this time because of existing financial conditions?" asked Mr. Yokum.

"And object to pressing for a court decree in the heart of this world panic?"

Following Good Business.
"The bondholders merely want what belongs to them," replied Mr. Wallace. "I haven't heard of any bondholders except one who has talked of the effect of the European war in the matter. He is Nathan L. Amster, represented by Samuel Untermyer, who says that Amster represents about three millions of the bonds."

"The duty of a trustee is to reduce the collateral to actual possession, when default is made upon the agreement. That is what I am trying to do."

"Do you not think," Mr. Wallace, "there is grave danger of serious results to the Rock Island property if there should be delay in carrying in effect the trust agreement by selling the stock?"

"I certainly do," responded Mr. Wallace.

FRED MASON TO BE BANQUETED BY RETAILERS HERE

The banquet to be given tomorrow night for Fred Mason, president of the Shredded Wheat company, will be attended not only by the members of the Retail Merchants' association, but also wholesalers and retailers who are not members.

Mr. Mason is a good speaker and a drawing card for any merchants' association. He has been banqueted by several associations in California and his reputation as a speaker preceded him here. This fact and his known activity in behalf of mercantile associations caused the local association to telegraph him an invitation. His acceptance was received by wire yesterday.

Arrangements for Mr. Mason's coming were made through Frank Connolly, president of the National Grocers association, at San Francisco. Mr. Mason is making a tour of the Lincoln highway and is returning over the Ocean-to-Ocean route.

The banquet is to begin at 6:30 o'clock in the Taft room at the Alvarado hotel.

INFLUENCE OF WAR IS SEEN IN LATEST FASHIONS

Military Uniforms Are Copied in Frocks; "Battleship Gray" Coming into Vogue as Popular Color.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL.)

New York, Oct. 17.—Naturally costumes designed under such warlike conditions as those which have existed in Paris, the last few months, cannot fail to reflect the spirit and thought of their creators.

In the gowns which have reached us since the mobilization of the army, military effects are supreme.

A great deal of infantry red is used in these gowns, blue, dust brown and a new gray, which has been created and aptly named "battleship gray."

This gray is the shade that warships are painted when in active service. It is a color which blends with the atmosphere until before the observer it is the ship has faded into the color of the fog and of the sea and can be seen no more.

On many of the gowns designed for Americans the broadsword appears upon the sleeves. It is not applied but is a strip of cloth inserted between the upper and lower part of the sleeve on which a conventionalized sword is embroidered in self color, gold or multi-colors.

Panama velvet is being used for evening dresses, for suits and for trimming purposes. It comes in all known colors. One of the most fashionable shades at the present time being salmon pink. Even the brilliant infantry red is reproduced in this fabric and looks most striking worn by the woman whose complexion will allow such a brilliant and trying color.

Many evening gowns are shown in black relieved usually by a brilliant sash of a vivid flower.

Cloth of gold and cloth of silver are in the heyday of fashion, either made into entire costumes or used in conjunction with yellow, pink, green, black or red. A stunning evening costume which reminded one of the draperies of classic Greece, was made of one entire length of cloth of silver, wound around the figure and up over one shoulder in a most graceful fashion. The only relief from the gray coldness of the silver was a rose, shading from pink into red.

Although skirts are widening the tight underskirt, beneath a tunic of ample width, still continues to be seen. I saw a smart afternoon dress a few days ago, worn by a charming young woman. The basque waist was of black satin, wrinkling over the hips, with a collar high in the back held in place and tied around the neck by a black velvet ribbon. The skirt was of black satin and clung close to the figure. Over this was worn a redingote tunic of crêpe de chine edged with a deep band of satin ribbon. This tunic floated away from the figure

A magnificent wrap of cardinal red velvet had large collar and cuffs of sable, rich in its barbaric luxuriousness, with a cape-like panel, rounded at the bottom, falling from under the collar almost to the bottom of the wrap. This cape was divided into four parts through the center, somewhat like a crusader's shield.

The proper placing of an artificial flower is a charming and ultra touch to the fall and winter frocks. The flower on the hat is oftentimes duplicated in the flower worn at the belt or on the waist. In evening frocks a flower clasp, the point of the waist upon the shoulder, strands of them are used as garlands on waist or placed under tunic of chiffon or tulle, while larger, single roses are often spaced around the bottom of the tunic, or skirt.

the frock which reminds one of an Indian teepee with strips of self ribbon tied together in the center and spreading out, like similarly tied bunches of arrows. This is a unique model which is smart if placed properly upon the head. These days a hat may be chic, but if the wearer has not a proper sense of the correct manner of wearing it, it might as well be a Turkish fez or an old-fashioned tricorn.

New, indeed, is the second illustration. The coat is of velvet, with collar and cuffs of imitation Persian lamb. The lower portion is cut away, square, in the front, giving an especially smart air to the coat. A skirt of striped serge is shown with this coat. These striped serges are soft in color and are serviceable, as well as stylish, for the separate skirt to wear with shirtwaists or blouses. Plaids in the same soft and shadowy colorings are, also, shown and are most attractive. These combine stunningly with a corresponding plain color.

Wonderful evening wraps were designed in Paris just before the mobilization of troops, and in them are reflected the sumptuousness of the Middle Ages. Wonderful satins and velvets are embroidered, or brocaded, in designs which remind one of heraldic devices worn on the garments of the crusaders and the robes of the clergy.

Ask your druggist for a 30-cent bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which contains directions for babies, children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters who sell cheap imitations made by "California Fig Syrup Company."

When your child suffers from a cold don't wait for the little soldier, the liver and bowels a gentle, thorough cleansing at once. When cross, peevish, restless, pale, doesn't sleep, eat or act naturally, if breath is bad, stomach sour, give a teaspoonful of "California Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the choked-up, constipated waste, sour bile and indigestible food will gently move out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

If your child coughs, snuffles and has a cold or if feverish and has a sore throat give a good dose of "California Syrup of Figs," to evacuate the bowels no difference what other treatment is given.

Sick children need to be treated to take this harmless "Fruit-Laxative." Millions of mothers keep it handy because they know its action on the stomach, liver and bowels is prompt and sure. They also know a little given to-day saves a sick child tomorrow.

Falling hair, primarily due to dandruff, conveys the first notice of approaching baldness. This first notice is frequently received with nothing more than a feeling of annoyance. If the warning is unheeded, the second notice brings it to you in no uncertain manner that total baldness is all but there.

When this second warning excites nothing but regrets for past neglect, it isn't long until you reach the stage when you may cease to worry. You need a wig.

No amount of worry, neglect or regrets ever saved a hair. You best pay attention to the first notice and remember this advertisement.

NEWBRO'S HERPICIDE

DESTROYS DANDRUFF - STOPS FALLING HAIR

Herpicide saves the hair and also many vain regrets and unpleasant recollections. It is reliable. Having been before the public for more than ten years, the users of this valuable scalp prophylactic are now counted by the thousands.

If you want first hand information concerning the merits of Newbro's Herpicide ask some of your friends or acquaintances about it. They know, they use it and you may prefer their word to ours.

The greatest force at work boosting Herpicide sales today is the recommendation from one friend to another—the word of mouth testimony.

SELIGMAN MAKES AUTOMOBILE TRIP IN RECORD TIME
Burns Up Road From Silver City to Alamogordo, but Then You Must Remember He Had a Road to Burn.

Santa Fe, Oct. 17.—From Silver City to Alamogordo in ten hours and 19 minutes in an automobile, was the record established yesterday by ex-Mayor Arthur Seligman, with Mrs. Seligman and Mrs. A. P. Henshaw of Santa Fe, the elapsed time being 12 hours and 25 minutes.

The run from Silver City to Deming was made in 2 hours and 10 minutes. Thence the road was taken to Canutillo, where the Rio Grande was crossed. From there to Las Cruces, the road was a model highway, was a delightful run. But the roads were also excellent over to the Organ Mountains and across San Augustine Pass with the exception of the last twenty-five miles into Alamogordo.

After stirring up interest in good roads at Alamogordo, Mr. Seligman and his party motored to Roswell today, leaving there tomorrow morning and expecting to get home tomorrow night.

Magnificent Scenery.
Mr. Seligman in starting on the trip last Sunday, performed the feat of running from Santa Fe to San Marcos in one day, making the trip to Albuquerque in 2 hours, 50 minutes, from Albuquerque to Socorro in 4 hours and 30 minutes and thence to San Marcos in 2 hours and 30 minutes, running on Monday from San Marcos to Silver City via Nogal canyon and Mulligan gulch through which the state has just completed a splendid road.

Mr. Seligman is enthusiastic in his praise of the magnificent scenery and the excellent condition of the roads.

Teachers' Certificates Issued.
Santa Fe, Oct. 17.—Teacher's Certificate No. 3499 was filed out today by Assistant Superintendent of Public Instruction, Edw. J. Baca. The certificates issued today were: First grade, Mae Henderson, Lakewood; Nellie E. Wilson, Carlisle; Selma Christopherson, Las Cruces; Helen Gause, Otto, B. P. Sellards, Lordsburg; Ra. Shoemaker, Albuquerque; Mrs. Rhoda Reeves, Las Cruces; Ruth Elzey, Mynah; Thomas Jar Perry, Des Moines; Phoebe McAdam, Alamogordo; Mrs. S. R. Moss, Arboleda; Mrs. Richard Boddyfield, Deming; Marian Adela Bender, Alamogordo; Third grade, Teofilo Vigil, Canby and Guisela Garcia, Torreon.

Canal to Be Constructed.
Santa Fe, Oct. 17.—The necessary number of signatures, 50 per cent of all the landholders, have been secured for the construction of the Brazito or east side canal in the Mesilla valley under the Elephant Butte project. The canal will be immediately constructed, beginning at the affluents of the Rio Grande, at the Mesilla diversion dam, five miles south of Las Cruces. The water will irrigate the Brazito tract and the Anthony district. A large area will be reclaimed by the canal.

Gallaghers Visiting in Santa Fe.
Santa Fe, Oct. 17.—Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher of El Paso, who were recently married in Los Angeles, are visiting friends in Santa Fe on their way home. Mrs. Gallagher was Miss Josephine Armijo of Las Cruces, daughter of the late Senator Armijo, and said to be one of the wealthiest heiresses in the southwest. The groom is the son of an El Paso physician.

UNPREPAREDNESS FOR WAR.

The United States is utterly unprepared for war. There really was no need for Congressman Gardner to call attention to a fact known by every thinking person in the country. Of course, we did not know just how utterly unprepared we were until we began to read of the equipment of the Germans. Their big guns were a surprise to the nations of Europe as much as to this country.

We have a little national police force. That is all that we can say for our army. Like Great Britain, we have placed our reliance in our navy's ability to guard the two great oceans which separate us from what might otherwise be formidable foes.

Another lesson for our navy is in the deadly work done by the little submarines, an American invention which might have been an American monopoly had it not been for the stupidity of our government when Holland presented the submarine plans and attempted to sell them to our navy. We have now very little in the way of submarines and, according to Congressman Gardner, who probably spoke with full knowledge, very few torpedoes.

Fortunately we have had no war, and now the danger of one is passed for a long time to come. When the European struggle ends, which may be within six months or within six years, every first-class power of Europe will be too weakened financially to attempt hostilities with any country of even fair resources. It will require at least a quarter of a century for reasonable recuperation.

After the war with Japan, Russia got on her feet quickly, but she was enabled to do so by vast loans from France. At the end of this war there will be no European country left capable of financing another or itself, even.

Japan is in the same boat with the countries of Europe. While her war operations cost her comparatively little, she had little to begin with and is burdened with the debt of the war with Russia. Should she undertake a war of even fair size now she would be bankrupt within a month. Had not her bonds found ready sale in the United States and Europe during her war with Russia, she would have been crushed long before the battle of Mukden occurred.

It will be recalled that Bismarck once said there were three things necessary to the successful prosecution of a war: The first was money, the second was money and the third was money. When the war ends, the United States will be the only nation of the world with money for financing anything.

It will be well for this country to go ahead with the construction of naval equipment until through a conference of world powers there shall be agreement to disarm. More than any other nation of the world except Great Britain, we need a powerful navy and must have one. Our regular army and the National Guard constitute a nucleus for an army, but we cannot have a real army unless it has arms and ammunition up to the last moment of efficiency and enough of them to supply five millions of men at least.

In the light of the present, we know that if Germany had decided to go to war with us and had been able to torpedo our fleet out of existence as a force she could have landed an army on our shores that could have marched from the Atlantic to the Pacific without effective opposition. We would have been helpless.

The danger is now a thing of the past. Fortunately for us we have not had to meet it. But let it be said here that we would have been almost as helpless in the hands of Japan, notwithstanding our brave talk of war little more than a year ago. If any nation outside of Germany knew what was being done by the Kaiser it was Japan. It would not be surprising if the warlike brown men of the Asiatic island empire were found to have equipment for war quite equal to that of the Germans.

East, Hatterford, New Jersey, established a file of $25 for dog owners who permit their animals to bark after a p.m. If they bark at a burglar, the fine should be remitted.

HON. A. A. JONES.

Regardless of political affiliation, the people of Albuquerque should make use of the opportunity to hear Hon. A. A. Jones speak on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Jones is one of the really big men of the nation. His part in the direction of government at Washington has been conspicuously successful. His intimacy with the affairs of the administration give him authority on national questions had by no other man in New Mexico.

Mr. Jones is a forceful speaker and a fair one. He deals with big questions, with the principles of things. No one who has the opportunity should fail to hear him. His address will be easily the abdest that will be heard in New Mexico this campaign.

The Japs have seized one of the Marshall Islands. That group was not named for our vice president, hence we can hardly regard it as a violation of our neutrality.

THE NEW KRUPP GUNS.

Modern fortifications cannot withstand guns like those sixteen and a half inch siege mortars of the Germans. The fate of Antwerp is the demonstration.

Could the Germans get to Paris and have opportunity to place the latest Krupps on cement bases, they could bore a hole through the lines of fortifications within two weeks. But the weakness of such guns is their immobility; then cannot be counted upon to decide a battlefield, and they scarcely can be used at all in the Russian theater of war where the roads are poor.

Consequently, although the Krupps make obsolete much of the utility of fortresses, as Liege, Namur, Longwy, Maubeuge and Antwerp demonstrate, they will not decide this war. The war will be decided in the field and on the seas.

But the historians of the future may find that these new Krupps caused the war. If Germany had had these at the time of the Moroccan crisis, she might then have resorted to war. If she had not had them this year, peace might have been composed among the powers. But, having them in August 1914, when her rivals had not even guessed their existence, she was induced to believe the time propitious for the ordeal that sooner or later was deemed inevitable.

A bill to abolish polygamy in the Philippines is now before congress. Who will pass the word to the Sultan of Sulu?

STAND BY THE PRESIDENT.

The voters of New Mexico should make no mistake when they go to the polls two weeks from next Tuesday.

Ours is the one peaceful continent in a bleeding world. The collapse of civilization in Europe has produced a situation pregnant with danger to the United States. We are at peace largely because of the sincerity and the courageous firmness of our president.

In spite of the policies of both the United States senators from this state, and in defiance of threatened party revolt, the president insisted upon preserving this country from a breach of treaty faith in respect to the Panama canal.

In the face of the bitter opposition of Senator Fall, who at times became vindictive in his demands for intervention in the affairs of Mexico, the president has convinced the world that with no want of power we will strike only when we must, that such necessity, should it arise, will not be made the excuse for conquest. Only good judgment and right principles and full appreciation of consequences kept us from being forced into a general intervention in Mexico with all of the evils of what would have been a long drawn out war.

At this moment of European crisis and American opportunity, New Mexico's voice ought to be for the scrupulous good faith of the nation and for honorable peace. When those frenzied nations turn from their dance of death, they naturally will look to America for some sort of guidance in the restoration of order.

In such supreme moment our president will need the hearty co-operation of congress and should speak with the full support of all the people. In this hour of destiny no voter sensitive to this country's good should hesitate to cast his ballot for H. H. Ferguson.

Personal may be relieved, but what about the reading public who have to pronounce the name?

It is evident that General von Kitch proposed to do his fighting now and his talking later.

Yes, Austria is still at war with Serbia, but not so that you could notice it.

Visitors to Museum.

Santa Fe, Oct. 17.—Major Shelby of Philadelphia, who gained distinction in the civil war as an interesting visitor at the Museum of New Mexico today was also Mrs. J. W. Willard, of Los Angeles, a noted platform speaker, who asks to be named as one of the lecturers at the New Mexico building at San Diego. Both went to Bernadine this afternoon. Dr. Lester Lyon of Denver, who has been at the mining camps in Colfax county, however, the past few weeks, and is a grandson of Gen. Nathaniel Lyon, the famous warrior, was a visitor in the capital today, and spent considerable time in the Museum. Other visitors were: Eva Bostick, of Hempstead Heath, England; A. H. Kipp, Salt Lake, C. G. Grant, Denver.

When the British Burned Our Capitol One Hundred Years Ago

(Girard in Philadelphia Ledger.)

The most humiliating event in American history occurred 100 years ago next Monday. It was the capture of Washington almost without a struggle by the British.

While we look on today as armies of a million men are struggling to seize the capitals of their foes, it may surprise you that 1,500 English troops could have overwhelmed the capital of the United States on August 24, 1814, while a nation greater than Belgium of today sat in amazed stupefaction.

The little army of "red coats"—the British are no longer red coats in the field, but are a grayish brown—had landed five days before on the Patuxent river, forty miles from Washington. The advance was leisurely, yet nothing was done to hinder the enemy's approach. Nor was anything done to put the capital city, then a small, unkept, country town with dirt roads, in a state of defense.

James Monroe, secretary of state, did a little scouting, but it was not of a valuable or thrilling character. At Hadenburg, some six miles from the capital, a hastily gathered American force made a brief stand.

This motley band numbered 7,000, almost all of whom were militia or citizens, without uniforms. It was not an army, but a collection of men with muskets. At the last moment Commodore Joshua Barney, who had turned his gunboats on the Potomac to save them from capture, brought up 400 sailors with some artillery.

President Madison had been on horseback all day galloping about in vain attempt to do something, but he very properly rode away before the shooting began. That spurred the wits of the opposition newspapers to hunt for ridicule upon the president, and I find in one paper of that day, this parody on "Marmion," which was then the rage:

"Fly, Armstrong, fly, run, Monroe, run."

Monroe and Armstrong were cabinet officers, who had been with the president. A shy scholar, now 63 years old, with neither taste nor aptitude for war, James Madison was at that moment undergoing the roughest personal experience ever handed to an American president.

There was only the shadow of a battle between these 4,500 red coats and 7,000 undisciplined Americans. A few volleys were exchanged and the whole United States force melted away in general retreat. But not quite all, because Barney and his sailors made a stout resistance.

The commodore was wounded and fell into the hands of the enemy who in recognition of his gallant behavior treated him with the utmost generosity.

The British loss was 250, and the

The Storytellers

An Indelicate Remark.

"One cannot be too careful in his remarks on some occasions," said a young clergyman, speaking of a tour of inspection which he, in company with other divines, made of a penal institution.

"The leader of our little expedition, a truly good man, was so impressed by what he learned from the story of one young man imprisoned for burglary that he felt he should offer him some encouragement, of what kind he hardly knew. So after many hours and having he delivered himself of the following:

"Ah, my friend, we must not lose sight of the fact that we are here today and gone tomorrow."

"You may be," rejoined the burglar, "but I ain't!"—Harper's Magazine.

The Marriage Mart.

Representative Henry was condemning, at a tea in Waco, an international marriage.

"It reminds me in its barefaced quality of materialism," he said, "of a story."

"Who presented the duke to you?" a girl friend enviously asked a multimillionaire duchess from Denver.

"Nobody presented him," the duchess answered, yawning behind her jeweled hand. "I bought him in the open market."—Chicago Herald.

A Modern Fortress.

The commandant of the modern German fortress of the future, looking into his coming tower of nickel steel, it was a small, dim, mysterious room. A table in the center held for a top ground-glass like the ground-glass of a camera, and on this ground-glass table, at the corners, were four tiny figures in every direction lay spread in bright, clear focus.

"This table," said the commandant, "is marked out in tiny squares, you see. Each square has its number—number corresponding with a certain target. Suppose, now, an enemy appears: suppose he appears in Square 19, and sets up his cannon on that wooded hillock above the little river. I press button No. 19 and bang! and this signal tells my men below just what gun is to be trained and what target is to be aimed at. They train the gun accordingly to No. 19 elevation and No. 19 direction—the fuse is timed No. 19 and bang! the shot can't miss; unless, indeed, the cartridge should happen to be defective—no, it can't miss any more than an adding machine can add a column wrong."

"Bang!" goes the gun. And here on our table we see on the little green hillock above the little river a half-dozen stern little cannons smush suddenly to flinders; we see little horses fall suddenly; they try to drag themselves along the grass on their stomachs; we see little martial figures of uniformed men suddenly lose heads, arms, legs, and fall and lie very still and stiff in the bright sunshine and silence.

"Interesting thing, modern scientific war."

In War Time.

Weights and Measures commissioner Hartigan said in New York the other day:

"These short weights, these short measures, all attributed to the war! Bah!"

"I heard a story about a man in a restaurant. This man, as he sat at table in a restaurant with his wife, frowned, and took his napkin, and made as if to wipe off the surface of his plate—but the waiter grabbed his arm."

"Hold on, sir," he said. "Don't. But," said the man, "there's a speck on my plate."

"That ain't no speck, sir," said the waiter. "That's yer steak. War-time portions, sir."

The Man and the Motto.

General Joffre, the one-armed commander-in-chief of the French army, retreated swiftly for two weeks, abandoning everything from the Belgian frontier clean down to Paris—then at the Marne, he suddenly assumed the nothing of the administration of the law. People are not, in matters of personal conduct, questions of honor and just dealing, governed by statutes or police, but by something subtler—that sanction which we call public opinion. If Christianity has failed what is there to take its place?

No thoughtful person really believing in the high moral principles he professes can fail to see that the cause of this terrifying lapse from righteousness is the negation of Christianity. It is the dedication of Force. The German of Carlyle was humble, reverent, industrious, brave but by no means warlike; loving peace and his home and his country, as a man should love those things. But the modern war machine has changed all this. It has substituted for these standards, so voluntary and so strong, the rigid discipline of the drill sergeant; the regulation of the individual down to one common level, the gradual substitution of a standard inferior, in some respects, to that of the Mohammedan invaders of the Middle Ages.

It is these standards that the world is fighting, not a new and different kind of culture, but a negation of culture in its truest and best sense. Progress is not mechanical, but moral. It is idle to suppose that when the war is over the incalculable mischief of these false ideals can be remedied in a short time. They must necessarily survive until a slow-moving new body of progress is restored.

It is for this reason that peace without disarmament is unthinkable. All the Christianity we have, or that we can ever attain, is despised and defied, if the conditions which led up to the present war are allowed to survive. An armed peace will be a victory for the forces of wrong, and will perpetuate those things which have made so deadly an inroad upon the world's resources of justice and righteousness.

A BRITISH HYMN FOR THE WAR.

(The English king and queen, recently written the dedication of a hymn written by Bishop Boyd Carpenter, canon of Westminster and formerly bishop of Ripon, for use during the war. The hymn, which is sung to the tune of "St. Peter" (Reinagle) or to "Bristol" (Ancient and Modern) is as follows:

O God, the strength of those who war,
The hope of those who wait,
Be with our sons gone forth to fight,
And those who keep the gate.

We draw the sword to keep our truth
Free from dishonor's stain,
Make strong our hands to shield the weak
And their just cause maintain.

Give to our hosts in battle's hour
Firm hearts and courage high,
Thy comfort give to those who fall,
Thy peace to those who die.

Breathe on our hand the spirit calm
Which faith in right bestows,
And in the hours of dark suspense
A faith which stronger grows.

In Thee alone we place our hope,
Thou Keeper of the just,
And thou, through fight and fire and tears,
Will justify our trust.

Thy ways are wonderful, O God,
Who maketh wars to cease,
O let this be the final war
That ushers in Thy peace, Amen.

SHELL DIVERS AND MINES.

(Springfield Republican.)

The offer of the Japanese women shell divers of Shima province to clear the mines from Kiau Chow bay, although refused by the navy, was not a wholly fantastic bit of patriotism. It was only the other day that an enlisted man dove into Narragansett bay and at great risk unswerved the "war nose" or detonating charge of a torpedo which had gone to the bottom in much frequented waters and which would have been a constant menace. The Japanese women shell divers, reported to be able to remain under water for long periods, might thus have done valuable though dangerous service in disconnecting automatic mines which float in a depth of fifteen feet or so beneath the surface.

FAILURE OF PRIMARIES.

(Indianapolis News.)

Direct primaries have been held in many states within the last month or six weeks, and in none of these have large numbers of persons voted. There is a lack of personal interest. The primaries that have been held in Massachusetts, New Jersey and New York do not reveal the awakening of public thought which had been predicted by some political students. In New York it is estimated that only 25 per cent of the vote was called out by the primaries. And yet, in that state there were several critical points of dispute. Nominations for governor and United States senator should, in themselves, have inspired more interest among the people. Even minor contests, whose campaigns were enlivened by the split promoted by Sulzer the response in the primary was woefully slight.

The primaries in Massachusetts and New Jersey attracted few voters. The average number in New Jersey, as estimated by one liberal critic, is far under 50 per cent. True, in Massachusetts 20 per cent. True, in Massachusetts there were no such disputes as were to be found in New York. But in examining the results of the primary, it is fair to consider them broadly. The essence of the argument which supporters of more direct forms of government present is that the individual should have opportunity to express his choice unimpeded and unhindered by representatives who, it is asserted, often "do not represent." But the voter does not take advantage of his opportunity.

The direct primary has superseded the old method in all but ten or twelve states. It has not, to speak with absolute fairness, been in operation a sufficient time to enable the public to approve or to condemn it altogether. But it has certainly failed to show the results that were looked for. It has not summoned each voter—each independent—from his home and led him to the polls. It has not put the boss out of business. Certainly, the primary has its defects, and these possibly are more to be shunned than the recognized defects of the convention, the representative system. The whole desire is to arouse a sense of personal political responsibility, and in this the direct primary has failed.

WHAT HAS FAILED.

Nearly 1300 years ago the Spirit of God descended upon the apostles. If those men could have known that in 19 centuries 25 per cent of the population of Europe would be Christians, if not professedly of the various branches of the faith at least in standards and conceptions of conduct, would they not have regarded it as a greater fulfillment than the miracle of Pentecost?

And would they not have said that the Prince of Peace had come to reign, and that the world would take up arms no more? Would they have believed it possible that eight nations, all professedly Christian, would be engaged in a war of such bitterness and acrimony conducted with such ruthlessness not inferior to the historical invasion of the Turks?

What has failed. If our faith is worth anything at all, we cannot suppose that Christianity has failed. The question is one of last importance to commerce, industry and finance, to say

Health and Happiness at Home.

This Man and Wife Restored to Health by Peruna.

Mr. John B. Blackwood, Lockhart, S. C., writes: "My wife and I take Peruna occasionally, and we think it is the best medicine in the world. We keep it in the house. I also have a bottle of it in my tool chest, when I am away from home. I am a stone mason, and travel extensively over the country. I have caused the sale of many bottles of Peruna to my fellow workmen. Years ago I was a great sufferer from nervous indigestion, caused by catarrh. Tried everything in the way of medicine. No relief. I grew despondent. A friend told me to try Peruna. I began. It helped me at once, and finally cured me. I am a well man today."

Cured My Wife.

In a later letter Mr. Blackwood writes: "Over a year ago my wife had a spell of sickness. The doctor said it was kidney trouble and a bad stomach disease. I had two doctors. One of them visited her every day for several weeks. They finally decided that she could not live. In despair, I began to give her Peruna, in small doses. In three days I could see she was getting a little stronger. In three weeks she was walking around the house. In two months she was strong and well. In all, she took five bottles of Peruna. It cured her sound. After quitting the doctor she never took a thing but Peruna. It certainly saved her life."

A Prize Baby.

In other letters from Mr. Blackwood we glean the following: "I am going to send you a picture of my baby that took the prize at the baby show. I told the judges her name was Ruth Manalin Blackwood. She has taken several bottles of your remedy, Manalin, and is the finest baby in this country. I believe your medicine saved the life of my little two-year-old boy. The doctors said he had a bad stomach, but did not help him. We gave him Manalin and it cured him. He also took Peruna at the same time. Is now sound and well. He is the picture of health and as fine a looking boy as there is in this country."

WHEAT PRICES AGAIN GO UP ON CHICAGO BOARD

Sensational Crop Losses Reported From Australia Cause of Sharp Advance; Corn Traders on Buying Side.

Chicago, Oct. 17.—Sensational crop loss reports from Australia were largely responsible today for a continued advance in the price of wheat. The market closed nervous at 3 1/2 to 3 3/4 above last night. Corn finished 1/4 to 1/2 up; oats with a gain of 1/4 to 1/2, and provisions strong out from 10c to 15c to a rise of 20c.

It was apparent that if the estimates reported to date were substantially correct, Australia was eliminated for this season as an exporter of wheat. Aversion was made that the shortage in Australia would amount to 75,000,000 bushels, whereas the entire exportable surplus last year did not aggregate more than 37,000,000 bushels. In this connection, Liverpool dispatches intimated that importers were alarmed over the chance of future dearth in case of war complications becoming more acute.

Corn traders veered strongly to the buying side. Country holders were said to be refusing to sell either old or new corn, although demand was more urgent and there were numerous complaints of damage from wet weather there. Prices for oats were stimulated by rumors of Australia laying cargoes at New York, an occurrence said to be without a precedent. There were also bullish advices regarding the Canadian crop.

Provisions averaged lower, reflecting a decline in the hog market. On the downturn, however, there was a fair general demand and improved some by the strength of grain.

COTTON EXCHANGE MAY BE REOPENED SOON

New York, Oct. 17.—There will be a meeting of New York Cotton exchange members on Monday to consider the proposed amendments to the by-laws which are expected to be generally approved and finally adopted by ballot early in the week. Talk of re-opening the exchange early in November, is still heard.

Reports from spinning circles indicate that the mills are buying raw materials only in small lots on a "make or buy" basis, and local spot dealers said that their orders from Texas were a shade lower again today and back to nearly the low point of the week. Weather conditions were more favorable, generally clear conditions and higher temperatures being reported from the south, but very little crop news of any kind is coming in and factors which usually exert a considerable influence on sentiment are naturally ineffective in the absence of open markets. New Orleans spot, quiet, 6 1/2c; sales, 443 bales.

Sugar Beet Crop Shrinks.

Washington, Oct. 17.—From the condition of sugar beets on October 1, the department of agriculture in a forecast issued today, estimates a harvest of 4,226,000 tons, compared with 5,629,000 tons, compared with 1,438,000,000 pounds of sugar last year. A yield of about 10.3 tons per acre is indicated but the actual output will likely be above or below this amount, according as conditions at harvest are better or worse than usual.

GOING PROGRESS TOWARD NORMAL MONEY MARKET

Sharp Demand for Foreign Exchange Holds Rates at High Figure; Restricted Buying in Cotton and Copper.

New York, Oct. 17.—The war news this week was regarded in many quarters of the financial district as making for a prolongation of the conflict and the consequent disturbance of the world's finances. Measures for coping with the situation, however, made steady progress.

The call on subscribers to the $100,000,000 gold pool, which is a 10 per cent payment increased the foreign exchange resources of the pool committee, but the sustained strength of rates revealed the extent of the requirements to be met. Domestic money conditions improved further, rates for mercantile paper receding to 6 per cent and call loans to 7 per cent and under.

Unstable cash prices for cotton restricted buying, but the census figures for the consumption gave satisfaction and cotton exchange bills against exports were in large supply at this center.

Large food exports continued and while export orders for steel showed moderate expansion, domestic buying showed a decline.

Reduction of output and further shading of copper prices were stimulated by the Amalgamated Copper dividend as a local result of conditions in that industry. Railroad gross earnings and traffic returns showed sharp shrinkage.

The field of permitted dealings in securities was slightly enlarged, but under careful restrictions.

A deficit in the cash reserve of the weekly bank statement, that figure now standing at less than $48,000,000 against a depletion of $48,000,000 recorded the middle of August, this week's cash gain of a little more than $6,000,000 was considerably under most estimates. In its main essentials, however, the statement was the most favorable reported by local clearing house institutions since the issuance of certificates and emergency currency.

POWELL STORE IS CLOSED WHEN BANK BRINGS SUIT

Depreciation of Stock Given as Reason for Attempt to Get Possession of Noted
Corner Drug Store.

The Powell Drug company's store, fourth street and Central avenue, was closed yesterday by Sheriff Dick Lewis following the filing in the district court of a suit by the American Trust & Savings bank. The bank claims to hold a note for $1,500 and a chattel mortgage from the Powells for the company.

Monte L. Powell and his wife, Mrs. Minnie L. Powell, as well as other persons members of the firm whose names the bank did not know were named as defendants.

The Powells gave the note on May 6 of this year, to become due one year from date, according to the bank. They made no payment except the interest on August 5. It alleges. The Powells gave a mortgage on the fixtures and stock to secure the note, agreeing that in case of unreasonable depreciation of the property covered by the mortgage or if the plaintiff should at any time deem itself insecure it should be lawful for the bank to take the goods, according to the complaint.

Asks $1,000 Damages.
At the time of the execution of the note the defendants had $5,000 in stock, but since then they continued selling and failed to keep up the stock so that it depreciated until the plaintiff believes that the value of that remaining does not exceed $1,200, the plaintiff alleges.

According to the bank, before the commencement of the suit the plaintiff demanded of the defendants to deliver possession, but they refused. The bank asks judgment for possession or $5,000 if possession cannot be had and $1,000 damages for withholding possession.

MELQUIADES MARINO ORDERED TO GIVE CHILDREN TO WIFE

Judge Reynolds yesterday signed an order directing Melquiades, who is sued by his wife, Mrs. Gregorita C. de Marino, to deliver to her, Melquiades, 11, and Anita, 2, their children. The court ordered that the woman is to have custody of them and Jose, 13, who is in school here. Marino was ordered to show cause Saturday why he should not furnish his wife with sufficient suit money and a reasonable sum for counsel's fees.

Judge M. C. Mechem, of Socorro, who has been hearing cases in which Judge Reynolds was disqualified, completed the list yesterday. Judge Mechem sat in the judge's chambers while Judge Reynolds was in the court room. The last session was taken up with the hearing of motions.

DONAHUE WILL BE AT POLICE STATION AT NIGHTS PERMANENTLY

Patrolman Ed Donahue will be on duty hereafter at the police headquarters at night. Donahue will keep his horse there ready to answer any telephone calls from any part of the city.

The necessity of having a desk sergeant at the station at night has been long felt by the police department, owing to the fact that persons sometimes had difficulty in finding an officer "four quickly" at night. While the force is small for simply patrolling the city, Chief McMillin and Councilman George C. Scheer, chairman of the police committee, decided yesterday that keeping a man at headquarters would make the department more efficient than leaving the patrolling force at its present standard.

HOW TO STOP THE LIQUOR HABIT SECRETLY

By a Specialist.

That the liquor habit can be treated secretly at home at very little expense is the claim of a well known specialist who has treated thousands of cases. In a recent interview, he made the following statement: "The cost of the drugs used to treat the liquor habit in the high priced sanitariums amounts to very little. Here is a simple, inexpensive prescription that can be given secretly in coffee, tea, milk, water, or in the food, as it has no taste, color or odor. To 2 oz. of water add 20 grains of muriate of ammonia, a small box of Vortex Compound and 10 grains of opium. Put into coffee or food a teaspoonful three times a day. This prescription is perfectly harmless, can be obtained at any drug store, and will be found very effective in the treatment of the liquor habit."

Local and Personal

Walter Raabe, of the hardware firm of Raabe & Mauger, will leave today for Santa Fe, where he will serve as a juror in the United States district court.

County Clerk Walker yesterday issued licenses to marry to Miguel Garcia, Grigorio, and Deborita Garcia, Grigorio, Othello Jaramillo, Cedillo, and Onesima Garcia, San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Johnson, 514 1/2 street avenue, leave today in their auto for the Mojonon mountains, where they will spend the next two weeks hunting big game.

Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Goodrich have returned after three weeks' visit to Illinois. They stopped at Mrs. Goodrich's old home, Galena, and also at Elizabeth and Chicago.

Mrs. Warren Graham, of this city, accompanied by her sister, Mrs. E. L. Kinney, of Dawson, N. M., left yesterday for Dubuque, Iowa, where they will visit another sister, Mrs. J. L. King, for several weeks.

W. J. Black, passenger traffic manager of the Santa Fe railway, passed through this city yesterday morning on the California limited en route from Chicago to Los Angeles to return in charge of the ticket agent's special.

Next Thursday evening there will be a reception in Masonic temple from 8 to 12 o'clock, under the joint auspices of Rio Grande Chapter and Elks' Lodge, complimentary to all master Masons and their ladies. There will be dancing and refreshments, and a large attendance of Masons, both in Albuquerque and from out of town, is expected.

VISITORS TO MOTOR PLANT SEE MILES OF MACHINERY

Local Man Tells of Visit to Works of Dodge Brothers, Detroit Manufacturers of Automobiles.

A local business man has just returned to the city from a visit to Detroit, and in discussing motor car prospects for the coming year said special emphasis on the part to be played by Dodge brothers.

"The Dodge Brothers' car," he said, "is certain to be one of the biggest sellers during the coming season. I went through their plant, and was absolutely astounded at its magnitude and completeness."

"I had heard of Dodge Brothers as the largest makers of motor car parts in the country, but I had no idea of the size of their works until I went through them."

"Out in one building that they call the forge shop are forty big steam hammers. When they're all pounding away at once, you couldn't hope to hear the guide even through a megaphone. These hammers have falling weights as high as 6,000 pounds, and the foundations alone weigh as much as 100,000 pounds. They were moving some of them around while I was there, and I saw the kind of foundations they must have—concrete beds about twenty feet deep."

"In another department I saw nearly 150 automatic gear cutting machines. These machines are almost human. They take a plain blank of steel and turn it into a finished gear. The guide told me that they turned out 500,000 gears last year."

"The whole proposition is on the same scale. It's simply tremendous. When Dodge Brothers' cars come out this fall, it will unquestionably set a new standard of automobile values, and is therefore destined to be a big seller."

N. M. Cudabae, of this city, will represent this new automobile here as distributing agent for New Mexico.

FAILURE TO REGISTER GUESTS IS CHARGE AGAINST MRS. BEARNS

Mrs. E. M. Bearns, charged with failure to register guests at her rooming house, 213 1-1 North Third street, was sentenced to serve ten days by Police Judge Craig yesterday. The sentence was suspended.

Mrs. Bearns has another place on South Second street. Her defense was that the guests registered at that place and that she sent them to the North Third street place while their rooms were being cleaned. Chief McMillin swore out the complaint.

MEETING OF PYTHIANS NOT MEMBERS HERE IS CALLED FOR WEDNESDAY

With a view to securing co-operation of all Knights of Pythias in the effort to secure for Albuquerque the location in this city of a big national tuberculosis sanatorium and also to organize a closer fraternal spirit among all the members of the order living in this city, a meeting of Pythians living in this city who are members of other lodges and have never actively affiliated with Mineral Lodge No. 4, has been called for next Wednesday night at 8 o'clock in the parlors of the Commercial club.

W. W. Bowers, past grand chancellor of the Knights of Pythias of Kansas, and James J. Dohy, formerly of Chicago, a prominent member of the order now living here, have taken the initiative in calling the meeting, and it is expected that there will be a general response to the call from the city or more Pythians in Albuquerque who are not active members of the local lodge.

SILK SPECIALS WITH VALUE OF $1,200,000 PASS THROUGH HERE

A silk special in three sections passed through Albuquerque yesterday. The shipment on the three trains was valued at $1,200,000. The prepaid freight amounted to $6,000, according to report. The trains were routed over the Santa Fe lines from San Francisco to Chicago, on passenger schedules. The destination of the shipment is New York.

PACIFIC MUTUAL POLICIES GIVEN HIGHEST PRAISE

Prominent Arizona Men, Well Known in Albuquerque, Express Satisfaction With Results Obtained.

The high esteem in which policies of the Pacific Mutual Life Insurance company are held by representative business men throughout the southwest is clearly shown in a letter received by F. B. Schwenker, the general agent of the company from T. A. Riordan, of Flagstaff, Ariz.

Mr. Riordan and his brother, N. J. Riordan, are well known in Albuquerque, having lived here at one time and being the owners of large property interests in this city. They are at present president and secretary respectively of the Arizona Lumber & Timber Co., of Flagstaff, one of the largest lumber companies in the southwest.

Mr. Riordan's letter is as follows: ARIZONA LUMBER & TIMBER CO. T. A. Riordan, M. J. Riordan, Secretary.

Flagstaff, Ariz., Oct. 8, 1914. Mr. F. B. Schwenker, General Agent, Pacific Mutual Life Insurance Company, Albuquerque, N. M.

Dear Mr. Schwenker: In reply to your letter of the 2nd will say that both my brother and I have recently had policies in your company mature, and in my own case I can say that the result has been satisfactory. I took paid up insurance with such additions as the accumulated dividends would purchase, and up to the present the result has been good, and I think that your company now gives as good results as any one may expect from any of the leading insurance companies. Yours very truly, (Signed) T. A. RIORDAN.

L. F. LEE APPOINTED ADMINISTRATOR OF W. P. ALLEN ESTATE

Laurence F. Lee was appointed administrator to take charge of the estate of W. P. Allen, who died last week, with the will is probated by Judge John Baran Burke, of the probate court yesterday afternoon. The will was filed yesterday. Judge Burke set January 4 as the day for proving. Allen bequeathed to Mrs. Estelle Post-Matthews his home and the rest of his property, after the payment of his debts, to Mr. Lee.

PAPE'S DIAPEPSIN FOR INDIGESTION OR BAD STOMACH

Relieves sourness, gas, Heartburn, Dyspepsia in five minutes.

Sour, gassy, upset stomach, indigestion, heartburn, dyspepsia; when food you eat ferments into gases and stubborn lumps; your head aches and you feel sick and miserable, that's when you realize the magic in Pape's Diapepsin. It makes all stomach misery vanish in five minutes.

If your stomach is in a continuous revolt—if you can't get it regulated, please, for your sake, try Pape's Diapepsin. It's so needless to have a bad stomach—make your next meal a favorite food meal, then take a little Diapepsin. There will not be any distress—eat without fear. It's because Pape's Diapepsin "really does" regulate weak, out-of-order stomachs that gives it its millions of sales annually. Get a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. It is the quickest, surest stomach relief and cure known. It acts almost like magic—it is a scientific, harmless and pleasant stomach preparation which truly belongs in every home.

A Pertinent Question.

The question has been asked, "In what way are Chamberlain's Tablets superior to pills?" The answer is, "They are more mild and gentle in effect and more reliable. Besides they improve the appetite, cleanse and invigorate the stomach, correct disorders of the liver and leave the bowels in a natural and healthy condition, while the use of pills, owing to their drastic effect, is often followed by constipation." SOCIETY NEWS OF THE WEEK

BY PANDORA.

Action and Reaction

Applying to society the scientific principle that action is equal to reaction and in the opposite direction, the past week should by all rights have been most uneventful. But after all the excitement and fuss of the state fair, culminating with the big splash at the Montezuma ball, if things had gone back as far and as violently as they went forward, we should have not been so much interested in the week. However, it wasn't that way. Things went on just as if there hadn't been any state fair or any Montezuma ball—which would seem to indicate that the agitation over both those events was most successful in that it left in a very unexcitable way, and paying no regard whatever to the law of action and reaction, we had a decidedly pleasant week of it with some awfully nice affairs scattered along and everybody doing very well indeed, thank you.

A woman trusts her husband implicitly—to a certain extent.

COUNTRY CLUB OPENING.

On the night before Thanksgiving—the same being the twenty-fifth day of November in the year of grace 1914—the Albuquerque Country Club, the most youthful and successful of organizations, will be duly, legally and formally opened. Other things besides the club may perchance be opened at the same time, but as the discourse Mr. Kipling was wont to say, "it is another and altogether different story, and like the flowers that bloom in the spring, has nothing to do with the case."

It is to be quite a scrumptious affair, as I gather it. The members of the club, their wives, sweethearts of et cetera, will be hence to the club building out on the mesa which for some time past has been rapidly nearing completion and which I understand is really a model of club construction and architecture. Some sort of program is in contemplation, but the details are yet to be determined—about all that is known in regard to this is that Mrs. Ada Pierce Winn will sing in costume. Of course there will be dancing—how could the thing possibly be opened without a tango accompaniment—and music, and soft lights will shine over fair women and brave men—and—

Well, I understand that it is to be quite a warm little stunt.

A bridegroom's absence from his own wedding attracts more attention than his presence.

DON'T SPEAK ALL AT ONCE.

If you are given to reading such classic literature as the patent medicine advertisements you have doubtless noticed in many of them the testimonial as to the merits of the article advertised in the form of unassigned letters followed by the note: "Name furnished on request."

For obvious reasons I must follow this plan in setting out the address which follows. That it is genuine I do most solemnly assure you, and if you will drop in at the office some time when I am not busy I will let you see the letter for yourself and take down the name and address—only you must be sure to call at a time when I am not busy.

It came to me last week. It bears the sincere ring of sturdy, honest manhood. Many of our society girls who are skilled in washing and ironing will welcome the opportunity thus afforded, and though they may vex me with their importunities I feel it my duty to place the matter before them.

Says my correspondent:

"You certainly have some pretty girls in New Mexico, and if you will kindly publish my letter I am sure that I can win a bride."

I am a young German-American, age 35, pleasing personality, of good family in moderate circumstances, and would like to communicate with a nice young lady. Object matrimony.

"Would like to hear from one that can cook and do housework. Beauty preferred but not essential. Please send photo and particulars in first letter. Triflers will find this of no interest."

Now please don't everybody speak at once.

DANCING PARTY.

The dancing party given by Miss Eleanor Vaughney and Mrs. J. B. Herndon at Odd Fellows hall Thursday night in honor of Miss Katherine Flavin, a cousin of Mrs. Vaughney, and Miss Dinkler, a niece of Mrs. Herndon, takes first rank among the social events of the last week. Additional significance was lent to the affair by reason of the fact that it also celebrated the nineteenth birthday anniversary of Miss Vaughney, one of the hostesses.

Refreshments were served on two tables, one of which was decorated with pink and white chrysanthemums and the other with white chrysanthemums, and one of which was presided over by Mr. E. A. Vaughney, the father of one of the hostesses, and the other by Mr. Herndon, the husband of the other. In all of its appointments the affair was elaborate and in the best of taste, and was one long to be remembered in the social annals of Albuquerque.

The guest list was large, including Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Vaughney, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Herndon, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Dugan, Mrs. Flavin, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Kohn, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Skinner, Mr. and Mrs. Hutchinson, Mrs. Charles White, Mr. and Mrs. G. G. Coors, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Lee, Mr. and Mrs. George C. Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. John Lee Clarke, Miss Katherine Flavin, Miss Alice Dinkler, Miss Katherine Flavin, Miss Julia Kricher, Miss Helen Hesselein, Miss Betty Simms, Miss Elsie Kompanich, Miss Myrl Hope, Miss Jennie Timmer, Miss Virginia Carr, Miss Dorothy McMeur, Miss Anne Childers, Miss Edith Childers, Miss Katherine Chaves, Miss Alma Baldrige, Miss Sophia Yrizarri, Miss Gertrude Walker, Miss Kathryn Bricker, Miss Matthews, Miss Kathleen Long, Miss Irene Beckwith, Miss Sadie Morris, Miss Lora Loveland, Miss Jean Hobbie, Miss Jennie Watkins, Miss Ruby Peel, Miss Margaret Reicher, Miss Eugene Kolbert, Miss Alice Stern, Miss Hazel Mayoy, Miss Madeline Loveland, Miss Dolly McCall, Miss Hazel Knight, Miss Helen Hope, Miss Mitchell, Miss Eleanor Marren, Mrs. Thomas Egan, Mr. W. DR. LOVELACE GOES EAST.

Dr. W. R. Lovelace left yesterday afternoon for a trip through the east which will probably extend over six weeks or more. His immediate destination is Rochester, Minn., where he will attend clinics at the hospital of the famous Mayo brothers, and from there he will go to New York and other eastern points, where he will still further pursue his professional studies.

Even for so short a time Dr. Lovelace will be genuinely missed from Albuquerque. He has a place in the social life of the city that is all his own, and a circle of friends that any man might envy. The folks will be mighty glad to see him back.

THE HARDEST AUTO TO DODGE IS THE ONE YOUR WIFE INSISTS ON HAVING.

PROF. TELLO WITH US.

The addition of Prof. I. L. Tello to the musical colony of the city is welcome news to those who are acquainted with the talents and achievements of this distinguished violinist. Professor Tello, a Brazilian by birth, is an artist in the true sense of the word. He has made his home for several months past in Santa Fe, where he has been recognized by reason of his ability as a musician and his pleasing personality. The fact that he has come to Albuquerque to live attests his appreciation of the greater opportunities afforded by this city. He will be accorded a ready welcome by the members of the musical center of New Mexico.

"Do you think they will be happy together?"

"Is it likely? He's an irregular dog, and she's a regular cat!"

MRS. DAVIDSON'S TEA.

Mrs. James E. Davidson was hostess Wednesday afternoon at her home on North Fourth street at one of the largest and most successful teas ever given in Albuquerque. The affair was in honor of Mrs. Davidson's mother, Mrs. H. H. Peel, and her sister, Miss Emily Peel, and was elaborate in every particular.

Assisting Mrs. Davidson in the living room were Mrs. Fred Pettit and Mrs. Joseph White, while in the dining room Mrs. Fred Cameron presided, assisted by Mrs. Leonard Miller, Mrs. P. J. Johnson, Mrs. Cortez Quicker, Mrs. S. A. Martin and Miss Florence Thoburn.

Among those present were Mrs. J. O. Seth, Mrs. J. P. Farman, Mrs. Frank K. Kruko, Mrs. E. P. Kahnt, Miss Tracy, Miss Clara Ball, Mrs. M. Schach, Miss Schach, Mrs. P. J. Johnson, Mrs. Bert Skinner, Miss Jean Hubbs, Miss Hazel Knight, Miss Lora Loveland, Miss Madeline Loveland, Miss Irene Saint, Miss John Dubson, Mrs. E. A. Mosman, Mrs. P. F. BIRTHDAY PARTY.

Mrs. Ida McCallan Donovan was hostess Monday afternoon at a delightful children's party given in honor of the eighth birthday of her little daughter, Virginia Lee Williamson. The home on West Coal avenue was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, and an especially effective color scheme of pink and white was carried out, a big pink and white birthday cake with eight candles forming a marvelous bit of winter work in the eyes of the youngsters.

Mrs. C. H. Conner and Miss Reba Conner assisted Mrs. Donovan in entertaining the little ones. The eight guests included Virginia Short, Wilma Short, Veronika Van Deuse, Madeline Grimschaw, Stella Copeland, Gale Beckman and Frances Cartwright. Games of the jolliest sort made the hours pass all too quickly. Dancing by Veronika Van Deuse and character

songs by the little hostess added greatly to the enjoyment of an occasion long to be remembered.

"She was completely prostrated and made very ill by his perjury."

"Did she recover?"

"Yes: five thousand dollars."

CHILDREN'S PARTY.

Mrs. Edward Farr entertained Tuesday afternoon at her home on North Second street in honor of her son, Lee, who celebrated his seventh birthday anniversary. A dozen young ladies made merry from 4 until 6 o'clock in the evening, when a bounteous supper was served. Halloween decorations were in evidence, a huge pumpkin filled with yellow chrysanthemums forming a most attractive centerpiece. The favors were fancy caps and horns, and the games were Pass the Ham, Donald Dearth, Roll the Hugs, John Simons, Paul Wilson, Jack McFarland, Howard Heyn, Danny Macpherson, Sammy Hill and Warren Graham.

The wise man takes a tumble before it is too late, the fool afterward.

DINNER PARTY.

Mrs. and Mrs. Theodore S. Woolsey, Jr., were dinner hosts at the Alvarado Wednesday evening to their guests numbering twenty. The decorations were huge bouquets of dahlias in brass jars. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Noa Hild, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Grunfeld, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. McCall, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Pearce, Mr. and Mrs. B. Spitz, Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Brooks, Dr. and Mrs. J. E. Elder, Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Spiles of Las Vegas, Mrs. Sadie Neustadt, Mr. R. B. Pollock, Mr. A. B. McCall, Mr. Alfred Grunfeld and Mr. Ernest Landolf.

Some women, coming back from a long visit away, will exclaim: "Home, sweet home!" But more will sigh: "This dirty house."

MRS. PEARCE ENTERTAINS.

Mrs. Aaron Rosenwald and her daughter, Mrs. E. Weiskopf, and Miss J. E. Rosenwald, were hosts at an elaborate one-o'clock luncheon given by Mrs. John Frazier Pearce at the Alvarado Wednesday. The table was laden with yellow and white chrysanthemums, and an artistic touch was given by the hand-painted place cards, representing marine and rural scenes. Each guest received a corsage bouquet of white roses and maiden-hair fern.

The guests were Mrs. Sidney Rosenwald, Mrs. Aaron Rosenwald, Mrs. E. Weiskopf, Mrs. David Rosenwald, Mrs. Edward Rosenwald, Mrs. R. W. D. Bryan, Mrs. G. L. Brooks, Mrs. Noa Hild, Mrs. T. S. Woolsey, Jr., Mrs. David Weinman, Mrs. F. H. Kent and Mrs. Luckwood.

Bees that go from flower to flower find them all different. Men are less fortunate.

IN HONOR OF MISS HORLICK.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Anderson were hosts Friday evening at a five hundred party in honor of Miss Florence Horlick, of Racine, Wis. The Alvarado was beautifully decorated with autumn decorations, large bouquets of yellow and white chrysanthemums being much in evidence. The prizes for the highest score were roses.

Mrs. Anderson was assisted by Mrs. Raymond Stamm, and had as her guests Miss Florence Horlick, Mr. and Mrs. John Milne, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Stamm, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Rogers, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. James Gladding, Mr. and Mrs. E. A. Vaughney, Mr. and Mrs. Charles White, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Blucher, Mr. and Mrs. George Rodding, Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hayden, Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Kuster, Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Reichelt, Miss Helen Anderson, Mr. Shipley, Mr. Charles Gliden and Mr. Ernest Landolf.

CONCERT FOR MRS. WINN.

The farwell concert to be given in honor of Mrs. Ada Pierce Winn Tuesday night at the Presbyterian church is easily the event of chief interest for the coming week to music lovers and to the great army of Mrs. Winn's friends in Albuquerque. The participation in the concert of such old favorites as Mrs. Ralph Henderson and Thomas A. Christian, formerly of this city but now of El Paso, and of Charles J. Andrews and Stanley Becker should satisfy the most exacting critic that the event will be an artistic treat.

To those who have heard these performers and know them, the simple announcement is enough to excite the greatest enthusiasm; but there may be some who have not heard them and do not know that Mrs. Winn was trained by the best of teachers in this country. Her husband, who is already well known in Europe and all parts of America in concert work, was soloist in St. Bartholomew's of New York City, which, having a membership of the wealthiest in that city, can afford to bring the best singers of the land; has also held positions in the large synagogues of New York City.

Mrs. Ralph Henderson, violinist, was on the concert stage before her marriage and is now playing and singing (her voice is no less wonderful than her playing) in El Paso. Mr. Thomas Christian is now director of the First Presbyterian church in El Paso and is a well known and popular church, and has had positions in the leading churches of the east besides having always been engaged in concert work, receiving the highest praise for his performance.

Mr. Charles J. Andrews, well known to the people of this city, like Mr. Christian, was English cathedral-trained when a young boy, pursuing his studies under the best of teachers, and also had important church positions in New York and has sung in concert always. Last, but not least, our own Professor Seder, director of music of the University of New Mexico, who knows everyone in Albuquerque appreciates as he has grown to young manhood and developed his wonderful talent in this city, and who this summer, when studying under Mark Andrews, the noted composer and organist of New York was admitted to membership in the American Guild of Organists.

So, this will be "some" concert, combining a program containing selections from the world's best secular music with five musicians perfectly capable of rendering them. Besides, it is very probable that Albuquerque may never again hear this particular aggregation of popular and talented musicians all together on a program.

WOMAN'S CLUB.

The rooms of the Woman's club were well filled Friday afternoon, and the attendance, besides being large, was exceptionally attentive and enthusiastic. In the absence of the president, Mrs. Winn, who was in Silver City in attendance upon the convention of the state federation, Mrs. John W. Wilson, the vice president presided.

It was domestic science day, and unusual interest was shown by the members, many replies being contributed. After the rendition of the program specially prepared sandwiches were served. The roll call of current events at the beginning of the meeting brought forth many items of great interest.

The program of the meeting was as follows:

Domestic Science—Subject, "Caning and Preserving."

Roll call—Current events. Leader, Mrs. Rick.

Preserves and Pickles—Mrs. Gould.

Vegetables—Mrs. McClure.

Assistants—Mrs. Mueller, Mrs. Doolittle, Mrs. MacGregor.

Mrs. Deere—How modestly she dresses and how sensibly!

Mrs. Saeers—Yes, that woman will do anything to attract attention!—Topeka Journal.

NOTES OF SOCIETY.

Mrs. Nina Otero Warren, of Santa Fe, spent the past week in Albuquerque as the guest of her sister, Mrs. Adia Leopold, of South Ninth street. Mrs. Warren, who formerly lived here, has made her home in New York City for the past three years.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Canfield and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ackerman are spending a few days deer hunting in Hell canyon.

Mrs. Frank Newhall leaves today for Santa Fe, after a visit with the James T. Newhalls of West Gold avenue.

Mrs. Ralph Hunt, of El Paso, arrived Thursday for a visit with her mother, Mrs. W. Y. Watton, and her sister, Mrs. Will Springer.

Mrs. James Infield, of Hollywood, Calif., will leave today for her home after a two week visit with Mrs. Thomas N. Danahy.

Alamo Hye No. 1, Ladies of the Marches, will entertain Miss Bina M. West, of Port Huron, Mich., supreme commander of the organization, next Thursday afternoon at Odd Fellows hall.

Mrs. Laura B. Hart, state commander, will arrive a day or two in advance of the occasion and will assist in the rally that is being planned.

Miss Minnie Holman, of El Paso, will accompany Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Spiles to Las Vegas today. After a two weeks' visit Miss Holman will return and, with her sister, Mrs. Sadie Neustadt, will go to El Paso, where Mrs. Neustadt will remain indefinitely.

Miss Cecilia Barth left for her home in St. Johns, Ariz., last Wednesday, after a three weeks' visit with Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Barth.

Mrs. G. L. Brooks and Mrs. Frank Wilson entertained at auction bridge yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Brooks. The rooms were beautiful in autumn vines, leaves and bouquets of dahlias. Delicious refreshments followed an interesting afternoon for the thirty-five guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Max Nordhaus entertained three tables of auction bridge Friday evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Spiles, of Las Vegas.

Mr. and Mrs. David Weinman gave a dinner party Thursday evening for Mrs. Aaron Rosenwald and her daughter, Mrs. S. Weiskopf, of San Francisco. Twelve guests were invited, for the most part old friends of Mrs. Rosenwald.

Mrs. Nell B. Field gave a dinner Wednesday for Colonel Henry Jastro, of Bakersfield, Calif., who is visiting his daughter, Mrs. M. O. Chadbourne.

Mrs. W. W. Strong was hostess yesterday afternoon at an informal dinner in honor of Mrs. J. A. Dye, who arrived from the east a few days ago to visit her mother, Mrs. Vann.

Mrs. John F. Pearce entertained at two tables of auction bridge Friday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Charles A. Spiles of Las Vegas. The other guests were Mrs. Ivan Grunfeld, Mrs. Sumner Burkhardt, Mrs. Ross Merritt, Mrs. Ernest Spitz, Mrs. T. S. Woolsey, Mrs. Sadie Neustadt and Miss Minnie Holman, of El Paso.

Miss Anna Trexler returned on Wednesday from a two months' visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cowper, of Hollywood, Cal.

The Thursday Morning Musical club will meet Thursday morning at 10 o'clock at the Woman's club. A paper will be given by Mrs. Pollock, and musical numbers by Mrs. Foreman, Mrs. Read, Miss Pauline Postel and Mrs. Ralph Henderson of El Paso.

The program will be announced later. Mrs. D. A. Bittner and Mrs. R. B. Pollock returned home yesterday from the State Federation of Women's club convention at Silver City. The other three delegates from Albuquerque, Mrs. J. H. Wroth, Mrs. Frederick Winn and Dr. Cartwright will return this morning.

Santa Fe Society Notes

Dawn in the Rito de Los Frijoles

Once the dawn among the trees whispered such words as these:

"There was stillness in the valley, there was darkness on the hill, Till my spirit came among them, borne upon a minion breeze, Woke them into light and music and dispelled them with my will."

"Where my fingers touched the tresses of the cloud with swift carresses, Burned a splendor like the jewels set to bind a princess' hair, Softly from my garment shaken fell the gentle dew that blesses Every sweet and stately blossom meet to make the morning fair."

"Then the birds with liquid singing set the leafy woodland ringing, Till the cattle in the meadow waked the joyous songs to mark; And the great, gold sun leaped upward, all the light of heaven bringing—Heart, hast thou a morning also, waiting just beyond the dark?"

—Charlotte M. Hall in Cactus and Pine.

DEPARTING GLORY.

Santa Fe will lose for the time being part of its glory when Sheldon Parsons, the New York artist, takes away next week his exhibit in the Palace of the Governors, to give New Yorkers and especially the Santa Fe club, a glimpse of New Mexico's glorious sunshine and gorgeous colors. It is the product of his summer work, forty canvases, the result of undaunted industry, as beautiful a collection of landscapes as was ever painted in the southwest. The past few weeks have added to it autumn scenes adown with new yellows, with mountains, clouds and waters that defy description but will awaken longings in the heart of more than one New Yorker to see that land where sun shines so brightly and skies are so blue.

Not only the work of Parsons but also that of Carlos Vierra will leave the palace, but while that of Parsons goes east to the Atlantic, that of Vierra's goes west to the Pacific, where his fine mural paintings of the ancient Maya cities will find permanent place in the California building. His painting of the prehistoric skyscraper Maya city of Tikia is a marvel, showing a town unlike any that exists today, the strong shadows thrown by the setting sun breaking through masses of clouds setting off the tropical colors, the greens, purples, violets, a veritable fairy city with minaret like structures piercing the sky and massive pyramids serving as foundations for temples and palaces. "Supernatural beings must have constructed that city," declared one visitor this week after viewing the picture. The last of the mural paintings, that of Palenque, the most mysterious of all the Maya cities, will be completed at San Diego by Mr. Vierra.

Mr. Herbert Dutton, the cowboy artist, was also bound for home this week, taking his family with him and also a number of notable canvases he finished this summer at Taos. He spends his winters in New Jersey, his summers in Taos and Santa Fe.

Robert Henri passed through on his way east from California without making his promised stopover with Mrs. Henri, but there is still the promise that he will establish a studio in Santa Fe next summer.

So will Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Cassidy. In fact, they have already secured an option on a home in Santa Fe, which is located just right for studio purposes. Mr. Cassidy has won new honors, for he has been selected as one of the few artists who will be given a one-man exhibit this winter at the handsome new art gallery in Exposition park at Los Angeles, one of the largest and best-lighted in America, and serving the same mission in southern California for art that the Palace of the Governors with its museum is fulfilling in New Mexico. These one-man exhibits will be complimentary to the artists, whose names are being selected by a committee of art patrons and connoisseurs. Seven names have been chosen for this honor and Gerald Cassidy is one of them. He is at present executing a series of ten mural paintings of ethnological and historic interest for the San Diego exposition under a commission by Director Edgar L. Hewett, of the School of American Archaeology at Santa Fe.

THE CRISIS IN THE BARBER SHOP

The barber to the right me was hocking for the kalber.

"The barber to the left of me was hocking for the ezar."

A gentleman from Greece was shearing off my fleece.

While very near a smart Italian stromped his scimitar.

And when presently discussion, polygot and fervid,

On political conditions burst about my chair,

I left the place unshaven—I hope I'm not a craven,

But I sort of like to wear a head beneath my hair!

—Don Marquis in the New York Evening Sun.

IN HONOR OF CLAYTON VISTOR.

The week was a round of pleasure in honor of Mrs. Hosseld of Clayton, Union county, who is the house guest of Mrs. Earnest, who started off with a card party in her honor on Monday afternoon. It was an informal but, nevertheless, most delightful affair.

Mrs. Spitz entertained at bridge in Mrs. Hosseld's honor on Wednesday.

REGISTRATION BOARD TO CLOSE BOOKS SATURDAY

Everyone Who Expects to Vote for Congressman Is Urged to See That He Is Properly Registered.

Registration for the election on November 3 will close Saturday night, on the tenth day before the election.
Registration is required of every voter. While many of the names of men who voted at the last city election will be carried forward to the new set of books the democrats urge every one to see personally that he is properly registered, especially if he has changed his residence since the last election.

The republicans are said to have about completed the registration of their voters. The democrats, however,
have not employed clerks to register
their following and for that reason
they are anxious that every voter should attend to the matter personally.

BUSINESS SPANISH CLASS TO BEGIN MONDAY NIGHT

Albuquerque Business College Secures Able Instructor in Spanish Business Course; Applications for Membership Should Be Made Now.

In order to accommodate the very numerous applicants who desire to take a brief course in business Spanish, the management of the Albuquerque Business College has secured the services of Prof. J. R. Rivera to teach this language in the evening classes,
which assemble three times a week.

Professor Rivera is a native of New Mexico, was educated in the best schools of the country, is a college graduate and a linguist of note. He speaks five languages and has had twelve years' experience as an instructor.

Professor Rivera employs the celebrated Tornos method in conducting his classes. He has used this method
in this city with remarkable success.
This will be the only opportunity that will be offered this year to learn Spanish under Professor Rivera, as he has discontinued private instruction,
and Albuquerqueans are now enabled to learn practical business Spanish by the famous Tornos method under a competent experienced man who has made a success of this work.

JULIUS STAAB GOOD PLAYER BUT HARD LOSER IN BRIDGE GAME

Evidence in Will Contest Turns Largely Around Ability and Disposition of Deceased in Playing Cards.

LEGAL POINT DECIDED IN FAVOR OF CONTESTANT

Proponents Required to Prove Affirmatively That Testator Was of Sound Mind When Instrument Was Executed.

Evidence that the late Julius Staab, whose will is being contested in the district court of Bernalillo county, was an excellent bridge player but a hard loser,
and that a high degree of mental ability is necessary to attain proficiency in that game constituted, from a human interest standpoint, the principal feature of the hearing of the contest yesterday before Judge Reynolds.
Incidentally, there were certain humorous bits between counsel and the witnesses as to just how hard a loser
a bridge player must be before being considered insane.

Both of the two witnesses whose evidence was taken testified emphatically to the high legal attainments of Judge Staab and declared that during the entire time of their acquaintance with him, covering a period of several years, his mind was at all times sound, clear and vigorous. It also appeared from the evidence that Judge Staab was of an excitable and nervous temperament and that he suffered frequently from stomach trouble. Other than this there was nothing tending to throw any light on the mental condition of the testator.

Arthur Staab Scores.
The entire morning session and the early part of the afternoon session of court was taken up with an extended and extremely technical argument on points of law, the conclusion of which Arthur Staab, who is contesting
his brother's will, scored a distinct victory by obtaining a ruling of the court to the effect that the proponents of the will would be required to show affirmatively the sanity and testamentary capacity of the testator.

The attorneys for the beneficiaries of the will, who are undertaking to establish its validity, made out on Friday what they considered a prima facie case by introducing the will itself and proving its execution, and contended that the sanity of the testator would be presumed by law until the contrary was proven. Judge Neill B. Field, representing Arthur Staab, took the position that this evidence was not sufficient and that the proponents were required to "unmask
their batteries" by showing the sanity
of the testator at the time the will was executed. Charles A. Spiess, for the proponents, declared that such a ruling would be to require his clients
to "prove the non-existence of a negative," and that the burden of proving insanity was on the contestant of the will.

When it became apparent that an extended argument on this question was in prospect Judge Reynolds excused the jury until 3 o'clock in the afternoon. The legal batteries of the two sides were in action all during the morning and until just before the time
set for the jury to return to court,
when Judge Reynolds, after a brief discussion of the points that had been argued, decided the point in favor of the contention of Mr. Field.

As a Bar Examiner.
The first witness introduced by the proponents of the will was W. J. Lucas, of Las Vegas, president of the state board of bar examiners, of which Judge Staab was a member for several years prior to his death.

Mr. Lucas testified to an extended acquaintance and close personal and professional friendship for Judge Staab. He told of the duties devolving upon a member of the board of bar examiners and of Judge Staab's active participation in those duties during his service on the board. The preparation of questions to be propounded to applicants for admission to the bar, he said, was generally left to the other members to Judge Staab.
He told of the last meeting of the board at which Judge Staab was present, in January, 1913, which was the last time the witness had seen him.
This meeting, he said, lasted three days and covered the examination of some twelve or fourteen applicants for admission to the bar. At that time Judge Staab appeared "sound and vigorous," said the witness, so far as his mental condition was concerned, and there was nothing to suggest any mental defect in him.

Mr. Lucas also told of several cases in which he and Judge Staab had been associated professionally, and paid a high tribute to his ability as a lawyer. A letter from Judge Staab to Mr. Lucas regarding certain phases of one of these cases was introduced in evidence for the purpose of showing that the deceased wrote clearly and logically in regard to the matter
in hand at the time.

A Good Bridge Player.

In reply to questions from Attorney
Spiess, Mr. Lucas testified that Judge
Staab was a first-class bridge player and that a high order of mental ability was necessary to become proficient
in that game. On cross-examination as to this point Mr. Field asked witness if it was not true that Judge Staab, in playing bridge, would "deliver a lecture almost every time a card was played." "He would when he was losing," replied Mr. Lucas.

The witness admitted in reply to questions from Mr. Field, that Judge Staab was erratic, "with some qualifications." He was of a nervous temperament, said Mr. Lucas, and excitable at times, and at such times
acted as all other nervous people do.
Later the witness explained that when he said that Judge Staab was erratic he meant that he acted in a nervous manner.

Mr. Lucas would not admit that Judge Staab was a confirmed hypochondriac, but stated that there were times in his acquaintance with him
that he thought he approached a condition of hypochondria. Judge Staab suffered from stomach trouble, he said, and frequently after eating a hearty meal would show in his face

the visible evidences of suffering.

The Klock-Mann Case.

An echo of the celebrated Klock-Mann case, which was the subject of several years ago was contained in the evidence of United States District Attorney Summers Burkhardt, who was the next witness. Mr. Burkhardt stated that he had known Judge Staab when the latter was a child in Santa Fe,
and later had known him quite well
during the six or seven years that he practiced law in Albuquerque.

Mr. Burkhardt told of his association with Judge Staab as counsel for George S. Klock in the contest with Judge E. A. Mann for the office of district attorney of this district, and like Mr. Lucas, paid a high compliment to Judge Staab's legal attainments. Judge Staab, he said, had done the greater part of the work of running down the authorities in the case, which was a difficult one and involved many novel questions. The case had been carried to the supreme court of the United States by the opposing side, he said, but had been dismissed there on a motion of Judge Staab. During this period, Mr. Burkhardt said, he had an excellent opportunity to observe Judge Staab's mental condition. His mind was exceptionally vigorous, and no question ever arose in the mind of the witness as to his sanity. "I do not claim to be an expert on insanity," said Mr. Burkhardt, "but I would not hesitate to say that he was sane at this time."

Kicked Strenuously.

During the winter prior to the time that Judge Staab left for Europe Mr.
Burkhart testified that they were thrown together a great deal; that they often walked down town together in the morning and played bridge frequently, sometimes beginning the game as early as 8 o'clock in the evening and playing until 2 in the morning.

Mr. Burkhardt, like Mr. Lucas, attested the ability of Judge Staab as a bridge player. "He won my money pretty frequently," said the witness,
"and kicked strenuously when he lost, but I didn't see any sign of insanity in that." In answer to a question from Mr. Spiess, Mr. Burkhardt stated that he had also played bridge
with Mr. Spiess and Mr. Field, attorneys for the other side, and that they too kicked strenuously when they lost
—every bit as strenuously as did Judge Staab when he was behind the game.

"Sometimes when you lose at bridge," asked Mr. Field, "do you cross-examine 'don't you believe in a manner to raise a doubt in the minds of your friends as to your sanity?"

"Perhaps I do," was Mr. Burkhardt's reply, "but I have always insisted that there are others who behave worse than I do under those circumstances."

Mr. Burkhardt testified that Judge Staab was nervous and excitable, but that he did not consider him a hypochondriac. Only on two occasions, said the witness, had he ever heard Judge Staab speak of his health—once
when he told him of being greatly improved after taking a trip and again when he spoke of having been ill. The witness admitted that he had heard of a hint of insanity in Judge Staab's family, but had never considered it in connection with the question of Judge Staab himself.

Attempts to draw from Mr. Burkhardt evidence relative to the marking of a volume of the compiled laws by Judge Staab developed little, and it was not clear from the testimony what the questions took just what the plan of Mr. Field in this respect is.

At the conclusion of Mr. Burkhardt's evidence Judge Reynolds adjourned court until 3:30 o'clock Monday morning. The other side and witnesses to be examined by both sides, and it is very likely that it will require all of this week and part of next to conclude the case.

Taxation the One Big Issue

Voters of Bernalillo county should not lose sight of the fact that there is one big, overshadowing issue in the campaign which closes on November 3 next. That issue is Taxation. The patriotic citizen does not complain of paying out his money for taxes when he knows that the money is being judiciously and honestly expended. When it goes to fatten the purses of dishonest and venal politicians he feels that he has a legitimate kick coming and that the whole purpose of representative government has failed.

A striking object-lesson is furnished in the county tax-levy made yesterday. The total amount of that levy was 20.75 mills. Of that levy 5.15 mills, or practically one-fourth of the whole amount, goes to the item of "interest and sinking fund."

Do you know what that item of "interest and sinking fund" means?

It means that one-fourth of all the county taxes you will pay this year will go to discharge in part a huge debt of $33,153 which was saddled upon the county by the republican machine that is now asking you to put it back in power.

This twenty-five per cent of your county taxes does not pay a single teacher to instruct your children, does not build a foot of good roads, does not contribute one particle toward developing and improving the county in which you live. It all goes to pay a rotten debt created by a rotten gang.

What have you got to show for that debt?

The democratic party and its candidates stand for honesty and economy in the administration of public affairs—
for moderate taxation and the judicious expenditure of the money of the people.
