Good Order Prevails in the Places
Where the Amalgamated Strike is On.

THE STRIKERS' STRONGHOLD

McKeesport is the Center of the Strike
Movement—Trouble is Anticipated
When Non-Union Men Will Take Place of Strikers.

Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 12.—The Lindsay and McCutcheon plant started up the latter with a small force. The mills of the American Sheet Steel company at Vandergrift, Apollo, Leechburg, Hyde Park and Saltsburg are all running full. None of the old men failed to report. Employees of the Scottsdale and Old Meadow plants of the American Sheet Steel company at Scottsdale went to work as usual this morning. The Mingo plant at Mingo Junction was closed, the men having struck Saturday. There was no change in the situation at Sharon. Not a mill has been shut down as a result of President Shaffer's order. The departments of the National Tube works at McKeesport that are closed are: National Rolling mill, 2,000; Boston Iron and Steel mill, 500; Monongahela Steel Mill, 400. McKeesport strikers severely criticize the action of Chicago and other western men in refusing to come out. Twelve mills were started at Wellsville today, making a gain of one. An additional crew was made up by the Amalgamated association members.

The Amalgamated association issued a general appeal to organized labor for financial assistance.

Reports from all strike centers indicate that perfect order prevails, but it is believed clashes are inevitable at the more turbulent places when attempts are made to put non-union men on where strikers quit work. President Shaffer said at noon: "We have no official information about the situation in the west. I do not believe that Vice President Davis of Chicago has accepted the superintendency from the trust as reported. My only regret is that the men working in the trusts' slave pens had not spirit enough to come out and join the strikers. I will not take any part in calling out the American Federation of Labor. Its action must be voluntary. The Amalgamated has not lost anything but has made gains."

Secretary Williams said: "I think the greatest surprise in the strike will come to the steel officials when they find we have invaded the Carnegie plant. We have reliable reports to the effect that the lower city mill is tied up and but one mill of the upper plant is on. We have not made known our plans and still have some surprises for the manufacturers."

THE STRIKE AT CAMBRIDGE.
Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 12.—The men of the sheet mill and tin plate plant at Cambridge, Ohio, 800 strong, have gone out.

GOMPERS IS NON-COMMITTAL.
Washington, Aug. 12.—President Gompers of the Federation of Labor, returned home today from New York, but declined absolutely to discuss the situation. He said he had not seen Mr. Morgan.

MILLS SHUT DOWN.
Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 12.—The Republic, Painter's, Lindsay and McCutcheon, and Frankstown pudding and rolling mills of the Continental department of the National Tube company, were closed this morning. The Amalgamated association failed to make good its threat to stop the upper and lower union mills this morning.

A LOSS TO THE STRIKERS.
Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 12.—The National Tin Plate mill at Monessen, Pa., started up this morning on first turn with a full quota of non-union men. The strike leaders, after an all night session, decided to abandon all opposition for the present.

THE TIE-UP AT RIVERSIDE.
Wheeling, W. Va., Aug. 12.—The Riverside plant of the National Tube company was prepared for operation this morning, but at 5 a. m. none of the men had appeared. The steel department men will be organized into an Amalgamated lodge tonight when it is hoped by the strike leaders to make the tie-up at Riverside complete.

THE MCKEESPORT SITUATION.
Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 12.—The Boston rolling mill at McKeesport is closed down and the men are out. The tube department with about 1,900 men is running full. It is learned however, that the tube works will be out of material in 48 hours and then the tie up at McKeesport will be complete.

THE MACHINISTS' STRIKE IS OFF.
Kansas City, Mo., Aug. 12.—The machinists' strike inaugurated thirteen weeks ago was declared off today by the strikers.

GOOD NATURED GUYING.
Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 12.—At noon about 2,000 strikers gathered about the plant of the National Tube company at McKeesport, and when the workmen came out for lunch, they good naturedly guyed them for working, but the workmen took no offense, so there was no disturbance.

GAINS BY THE STRIKERS.
Pittsburg, Pa., Aug. 12.—The strikers made gains today at McKeesport and Belleaire and regard the situation more favorable than yesterday. At the former plant they won the National rolling mill of the National Tube company.

The tube works at McKeesport were started as usual, but it is not clear how long they can be kept going. McKeesport has been developed into a stronghold of the Amalgamated association and the strike leaders assert that they are completely in control of the situation. At Belleaire more men of the National Steel company cast their fortunes with the strikers and it is believed that

on Lake Michigan After An Exciting Race.

SHAMROCK II A FLEET BOAT

She Arrives from Her Trip Across the Atlantic and is Getting Ready for the Races for the America's Cup.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Today's international yacht race between the Detroit boat club's Cadillac and the Royal Canadian yacht club's Invader is to be sailed nine miles to windward and return. The judge's astonishing announcement yesterday evening that the Cadillac might increase its jib by nearly a hundred square feet and lengthen its spinnaker boom nearly four and a half feet, caused quite a commotion. It is argued that the advantages thus gained make it almost certain that the Cadillac will win the three races.

THE CADILLAC DEFEATED.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—The Invader defeated the Cadillac by five minutes and fifty seconds.

A RACE IN BAD WEATHER.

Bateman's Point, R. I., Aug. 12.—The second race of the series of three for the Constitution and Columbia started today in bad weather. Rain was falling, but the principal drawback was the lightness of the breeze, it being only about five knots an hour.

THE COLUMBIA WON.

Bateman's Point, Aug. 12.—4:26 p. m. The Constitution crossed the finish line at 4:25:40. The Columbia crossed at 4:26:38, and won the race on time allowances.

A POLITICAL DISPUTE.

Appraiser Wakeman Must Dismiss Five Examiners He Appointed.

Washington, Aug. 12.—The secretary of the treasury a few days ago received a response from the committee of the board of trade and transportation of New York to a reply of Appraiser Wakeman of New York, to charges filed by them against him in connection with certain changes and appointments made in his office. The matter was referred to the civil service commission which has taken action by disapproving of the temporary appointments of Examiners Grove, McDonald, Bretzfelder, Jerome and Michaels. The commission held that the appointments of these five men were illegal because they were not qualified under section 2960 of the Revised Statutes. Secretary Gage approved the action of the civil service commission and tomorrow will direct Appraiser Wakeman to dismiss these men and probably direct him to return the men recently transferred from his office to the docks for the examination of baggage to original ports.

THE GRAIN MARKET.

Pessimistic Crop Reports Cause a Rise in Prices.

Chicago, Aug. 12.—Under the pressure of the extremely pessimistic government crop report the grain markets and the board of trade today experienced an exciting opening, prices of all three leading cereals soaring upward. Wheat for September delivery took a jump of two cents, touching 73 1/2. Corn showed a gain of three cents for September delivery, touching 61. Oats advanced 1 1/2 and 1 1/4. The commotion continued until a medium between the extreme prices of the opening had been established and then the trade became extremely dull.

The Chinese free list will include rice, foreign cereals, flour, gold and silver bullion and coin. The inclusion of flour on the free list is of much importance particularly to the Pacific coast shippers.

THE SCHOOL OF MINES.

Captain A. B. Fitch Tells of the Improvements That Are Being Made.

Captain A. B. Fitch and daughters left last evening for their home at Magdalena, Socorro county, after spending Saturday and Sunday in the capital city. Captain Fitch is a member of the board of regents of the New Mexico School of Mines at Socorro, and he is greatly interested in its work. The board of regents is striving to make the school, the best mining college in the west, and have succeeded so far that no better school of mines is to be found in the Rocky mountain region. The main building has been thoroughly renovated during the past few months. Its classrooms are larger, additional room for storage and engines has been added by taking out the unsatisfactory heating system. One wing of a new building is being completed and will be ready for occupancy when the school opens on September 9. When completed the structure is to be the metallurgical building and will be finely equipped with modern machinery and apparatus. The school is up-to-date in every respect. It possesses modern machinery for testing ores and treating them, modern apparatus for assaying, ore furnaces, etc. It strives to attract especially the promising young men of the territory in order to make good chemists, assayers, mine superintendents and geologists out of them. There is no more promising field than New Mexico for the trained expert in mining. With its increased facilities, its modern equipment, its fine buildings and a satisfactory heating and ventilating system, its opportunities for practical work, the School of Mines easily holds pre-eminence among western schools of its class.

A PECULIAR EPIDEMIC.

It Visits the Cochiti Pueblo Almost Every Summer.

Cochiti Pueblo is suffering from its annual summer epidemic, but it has assumed a different and more fatal form this year. Superintendent J. C. Crandall of the government Indian school, who has also supervision of the Indian pueblos of northern New Mexico, returned this afternoon with Dr. W. S. Harroun from the pueblo where they investigated conditions. They found 44 Indians down with the disease. Thus far six have died of the trouble which takes the form of an intermittent fever and it is feared that many more will die. A nurse and medicine were left at the pueblo. A chemical and microscopic analysis of the water that the Indians drink will be made for it is thought that this may be at the bottom of the annual epidemic which occurs during the summer rains.

The New Mexican is the oldest newspaper in New Mexico. It is sent to every postoffice in the territory, and has a large and growing circulation among the intelligent and progressive people of the southwest.

MONDAY, AUGUST 13.

New Mexico Demands Statehood of the 57th Congress.

Of Right and in Justice New Mexico Should Be a State.

Several naval officers are making the public tired by talking too much.

The only fighter who it seems is keeping his own in South Africa is the American mule.

The man who says that New Mexico does not want statehood does not read the territorial newspapers which reflect public opinion accurately.

A few politicians who drew blanks in the lottery for offices in this territory during the past four years are of course to be found in the anti-administration columns. That is very natural.

The New Mexico School of Mines has marked out for itself a narrow field, but within that field it aims to be pre-eminent and is of more service to the territory than by scattering its means over a large area of effort.

Fighting Bob Evans made the same mistake that so many of America's naval and military heroes are guilty of. They either talked too much or wrote unwisely and thus gave evidence of a weakness for notoriety which the public does not expect to find in a hero.

It was Bismarck who said that as long as the workmen of Germany are prosperous enough to venture a strike so long he was not afraid of anarchy or socialism, but when the capitalist, the manufacturer and the merchant commence to strike then "may God pity us."

Among the charges the gang opposed to the present territorial administration fulminates against the same is the fearful and horrible one that Senator Hanna is friendly to it. The territorial administration will endeavor to get along under this charge as well as possible.

The New Mexican infers from the bitter and venomous attacks made upon the territorial administration by a few opponents, that Messrs. T. B. Carron and E. A. Fiske are still hot under the collar, because Hon. W. B. Childers was appointed Attorney General of the United States for the district of New Mexico.

An Ohio mayor got drunk the other day and tendered his resignation which the city council promptly accepted before he sobered up. When he again came to his senses he was out of office. There are two morals in this occurrence: One is a politician should never get drunk, and the other is he should never resign voluntarily.

The oil output of Colorado last year was 20 per cent less than during the year previous which does speak well for the permanency or the productiveness of Colorado oil wells. The Wyoming oil output has also decreased some and the state last year only produced 5,450 barrels. Nevertheless, in Colorado during the year, thirteen new oil wells were completed and added to the producers and several new oil fields are being developed.

The Roswell Register last week issued a special mid-summer edition illustrated by many half-tone cuts that give an impression of the city as being a thoroughly up-to-date place and just the town for a healthseeker or a homesick soldier to settle in. The finest thing in Roswell however, is its new $25,000 school building and its picture will do more to convince people that Roswell is a good city to live in than all the other pictures taken together. Would that Santa Fe will soon be able to print similar pictures of new school houses that seem to invite families with children to make their homes here.

The $20,000,000 corporation of French and American capitalists which intends to build a 4,000-mile railroad from Circle City to Vladivostok must not be aware that there are much more promising areas on God's earth which need developing and which would return ten fold the dividends that such a railroad line through an uninhabited region within the Arctic circle would bring. Four thousand more miles of railroad constructed in New Mexico would develop the territory into a state of ten to twenty times its present population and would be a far better investment than 4,000 miles of railway from Alaska to Siberia across Bering sea.

It is certainly but the wild fancy of a war correspondent that speaks of DeWet attacking Capetown and Botha capturing Durban. Before such feats can be accomplished the Boers will have to sweep an army of 250,000 British into the sea. There was a time, right at the beginning of the war, when such events might have been possible although highly improbable, but that opportune period for the Boers passed when they won the victory of Spion Kop, for that first victory though at the time it was a cause for great rejoicing to the Burgers really settled their doom. Great Britain was compelled, on account of the European situation, to avenge the victory and not to rest until the last sign of Boer resistance has broken down.

What irrigation can do for the southwest is shown by the report that the next land boom is likely to be in the Mojave desert, owing to the fact that men boring for oil have struck water. Water will do more for the southwest than all the oil wells of Beaumont removed to New Mexico could.

The members of the Amalgamated association have obeyed the strike order of President Shaffer with astonishing impression of Roosevelt as being a thorn in the side of the financial losses the result of the strike is a foregone conclusion. But it will not be as disastrous to the workmen as it would have been under the Cleveland administration. Then most of the men would have been reduced to penury and the tramp's estate, but in these days of prosperity all of them can find work, if not at home, then away from home, but none of them need starve.

Senator George G. Vest of Missouri has outlined a new platform for the Democratic party, which is new only in so far that it leaves out the demand for the free coinage of silver. His most important plank would be a demand for a graduated income tax, opposition to trusts and opposition to imperialism, whatever the latter may mean. Vest's idea does not agree with Bryan's idea nor with Hill's idea nor with Gorman's idea nor with Tillman's idea nor with the thousand and one other ideas that leading Democrats have about the next national Democratic platform. There is no division of that kind in the Republican ranks, a fact which must be quite disconcerting to the Democratic leaders.

They are still burning negroes at the stake in Georgia for crimes which in other states are punished by a few years in the penitentiary. It does seem necessary for the federal government to extend its powerful arm in order to give the colored man in the south a fair trial when he is accused of a crime. It will not do to protect American citizens only in Panama or in Armenia and not in Georgia or in Louisiana. The south has had almost forty years to redeem itself and overcome the spirit of race hatred, but the latter seems as virulent as ever and the flat should go forth that every human being in the United States, be he black or white, be he in the north or in the south, must have a fair trial when accused of crime. The United States has outgrown mob rule, and if state authorities will not punish lynchers, the federal authorities should bring them to justice.

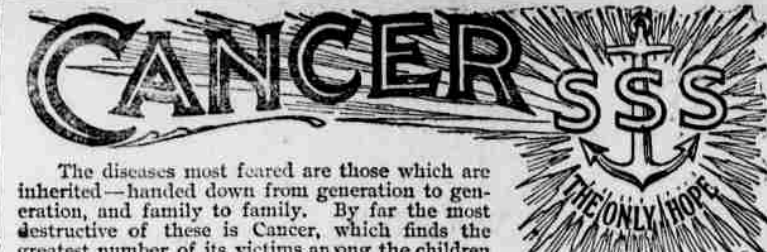

Two Shocks for Colonel Bryan.

It is said that the shock which came to Colonel W. J. Bryan when he heard that the Ohio Democracy had completely ignored him at their state convention was terrible, but this has been augmented by the Democrats of Maryland who too repudiated the "Peerless Commoner" and threw him overboard. At least twelve more Democratic state organizations are ready to follow the example of Maryland and Ohio and it is probable that New Mexico Democrats will not be the last to leave the Bryan camp for they generally have a sharp ear that tells them which way the wind is blowing.

Three weeks ago at Columbus the Ohio Democrats challenged Colonel Bryan's pretensions to continued party leadership by excluding from their platform any mention of the "peerless Commoner's" name or any reference to the party policy which his presidential candidacies in 1896 and 1900 had made "paramount." At Columbus a minority of six delegates out of 500 had the courage to protest against this brutal snub to a leader whose power a year ago within the party was absolute and undisputed. At Baltimore not a single dissenting voice was raised when resolutions were reported which ignored completely not only the Nebraska statesman's past services and present counsel, but contemptuously dismissed as worth not a single syllable the issues written under his direction into the Chicago and Kansas City platforms. The Ohio Democrats, though discarding as hopeless and profitless the party's former demand for free silver coinage, still thought it expedient to echo some of last year's empty thunders about "imperialism" and "trusts." The party in Maryland is either more candid or more reckless about admitting the failure of the Democratic campaign cries; for it throws Bryanism and all the follies of Bryanism overboard together by declaring that it "is not necessary to do more in regard to national issues than to reaffirm our steadfast allegiance to the cardinal doctrines of the Democratic party as expounded by its illustrious founder, Thomas Jefferson."

No one, however—not even the present wearer of Jefferson's mantle—could have been greatly surprised at the alacrity with which the Maryland Democrats imitated their Ohio brethren in cutting loose from the Populist program followed on them by Colonel Bryan's successive candidacies for the presidency. To its credit, the Democratic party in Maryland never fully yielded its opposition to free silver coinage, nor did the local party machinery pass at any time, as it did in nearly every other eastern and middle state, into the hands of managers in sympathy with Colonel Bryan's policies or personal ambitions. It was to be expected, therefore, that at the first favorable moment the Maryland Democracy would express its unvarnished hostility to a national Democratic leadership under which defeat has come in four campaigns out of the last five in what has hitherto been held to be a stalwart Democratic state.

The Maryland platform is, of course, Mr. Gorman's bid for re-election to the United States senate, as the Ohio platform was the bid—in Colonel Bryan's view, at least—of John R. McLean for a seat in the same body. The short shrift given to the Nebraska leader in Ohio startled even the most cynical believers in the Democratic party's innate capacity for sacrificing principles to expediency. The action of the Maryland convention, because more generally anticipated, may prove a less decisive blow to Colonel Bryan's prestige as a political leader. It marks, however, the second step in an "absent treatment" process which needs only to spread to a dozen other states to upset all the Nebraska orator's present plans for retaining any conspicuous or commanding role in Democratic national politics.

The diseases most feared are those which are inherited—handed down from generation to generation, and family to family. By far the most destructive of these is Cancer, which finds the greatest number of its victims rapidly, destroying the life of the victim, and leaving behind it a trail of grand-children of those whose blood was tainted with this dreadful malady. You may carry this poison in the blood for years, but as the vital powers begin to wane a slight bruise or cut, wart or mole, sore or pimple may develop into Cancer. From middle life to old age is the time when the slumbering poison is most apt to break out, a sore or ulcer often degenerating into Cancer, and Tumors become more progressive and ulcerate through the skin, the sharp, shooting pains causing the most intense suffering.

The Cancer patient naturally grows despondent as one after another the usual remedies fail, and the sore shows no sign of healing. The impurities that have been accumulating in the system, perhaps for generations, cannot be eliminated nor the poisoned blood made pure by salves, washes and plasters. The proper treatment is to purify and build up the blood, remove the cause, when the sore or ulcer heals, the sharp, shooting pains causing the most intense suffering.

Mr. J. B. Arnold, of Greenwood, S. C., writes: "A tiny ulcer came, just under the left eye. It began spreading, and grew rapidly, destroying the flesh as it went. As Cancer is hereditary in my family I became thoroughly alarmed, consulting the best physicians and taking many blood medicines, none of which did me any good. One of our leading druggists advised me to try S. S. S., and by the time I had taken the second bottle the Cancer began to show signs of healing, the discharge grew gradually less and finally ceased altogether, the sore dried up and nothing remains but a slight scar. I feel that I owe my life to S. S. S."

wait until the blood is so polluted and the system so thoroughly saturated with the poison that no medicine, however efficacious, can check the progress of the disease. If there is a taint in your blood get it out at once, don't wait for some external evidence of it, the appearance of a tumor or ulcer. DIVISION OF HYDROGRAPHY.

What the Government is Doing for the Rivers.

It is not generally known that the government, through the United States geological survey, has been making a careful study of the rivers and the underground water supply of the country. So important has this work become, and so helpful to many widely diversified interests, that a special branch, known as the division of hydrography, has been organized to conduct this work. This division has been in existence since 1888, and is pushing its investigations as rapidly as the appropriations will admit. Broadly speaking its work consists of a careful inspection of the habits and behavior of rivers, i. e., the variation of the amount of their flow throughout the year and from year to year. This entails a study of their drainage basins and an accurate measurement of their discharge. The knowledge thus obtained is the necessary foundation on which all enterprises contemplating the use of rivers must depend. In the east many rivers valuable as a source of water supply are under examination. In the west for these purposes also and for irrigation they are being measured. The very important matter of river pollution is one which demands the same initial investigations, and the government is rendering its assistance to check and avert this growing evil. Out on the great plains, where the rivers are few and the rainfall is light, the underground well waters, so necessary to the inhabitants, are mapped and thus made available.

A number of states in different parts of the country have seen the value of this work and have made appropriations to have it continued within their own borders more rapidly and fully than the government alone could afford to conduct it. The country's water resources, which are among the greatest it possesses are practically inexhaustible and have but just begun to be developed.

SAN ANDREAS MINING DISTRICT.

Construction of the E. P. & N. E. Facilities Development of the Section. (Alamogordo News.) This district is located at the north end of the San Andreas range of mountains, in the southeastern part of Socorro county, the range being one of the strongest of the many spurs of the Rocky mountain system that in New Mexico break into segregated ranges, covering a great part of the whole territory, and all carrying mineral in a greater or less degree.

The San Andreas extend from north to south a distance of more than one hundred miles, reaching almost entirely across the eastern part of Socorro county, and are intermediate between the Oscura mountains on the north, and the Sacramento mountains on the south. All three ranges are practically one range, being divided on the north and south trend by low hills or passes, cutting through from east to west. Entire reach of the range is about 300 miles, with a width of an average of 30 miles. The altitude of the range at the highest points is about 5,000 feet. The country is approached by a gradual rise of the country from the west or Rio Grande side, and also from the east side, thus showing a pitch either way, both toward the Rio Grande side and the Pecos river or eastern side. Owing to this excellent topographical condition, the mineral lands are easily accessible by good wagon roads from either direction toward the east on the El Paso & Northeastern railroad, a distance of 20 miles, or toward the Santa Fe road, a distance of 40 miles westward.

The geology is of such a nature as to at once impress one with the great promise of the region as a mineral country. The base or bedding structure of the range is Achean or granite, upon which rest the limestone of the Silurian epoch, this again covered by the newer limes, until the lower carboniferous is reached in a thin strata, this formation covered or capped by the later Tertiary or Quaternary formation, comprised in the trap, basaltic and porphyritic rocks. The limestone covers the country to varying depths, the strata, however, having a nearly uniform thickness of about 500 feet, as shown at Capital Peak, one of the largest and highest peaks in the range.

The mineralogical conditions of the range are great metalliferous veins, which traverse this formation, extending from north to south in unbroken strike nearly the whole length of the system, and crop above the surface for many miles, and are only apparent when capped by the flow of igneous matter, and then only for a short distance at the time. These veins are strong fissures, extending not only

Our records show the marvelous transformation of thousands of drunkards into sober, industrious and upright men.

I was a slave, chained with putrid sore throat and Asthma for ten years. I despaired of ever being cured. I saw your advertisement for the cure of this dreadful and tormenting disease, Asthma, and thought you had overspoken yourselves, but resolved to give it a trial. An Automobile Race.

A feature of the Buffalo Exposition will be a race between automobiles representing all nations. Although it is claimed that France is ahead of us in the construction of these vehicles, it is hoped that American manufacturers will come in first. America generally keeps at the head of the procession in all lines of industry, science and medicine. No country in the world has ever produced so good a medicine for the cure of stomach, liver, kidney and bowel disorders as Hostetter's Stomach Bitters. For over fifty years it has been the standard medicine. It promotes sound sleep, restores the appetite and cures dyspepsia, indigestion, constipation and biliousness, also prevents malaria, fever and ague. Do not fail to try the Bitters, as it will surely do you good.

Miss Sadye Scruggs of Pine Valley contributes this rhythmic oozing from a soul that is flush with love:

When Jason frowns my soul seems glad.
In wrappings of the tomb!
I grow hysterical and sad.
And seem to drown in gloom!
But when the frown is yim has spent
And smiles enrobe his phiz,
I think he is the sweetest gent
On all the earth that is.
For when glad smiles his features wreath,
And round his mouth are twined,
He shows the loveliest set of teeth
That heaven e'er designed.

THE SUPERB CLIMATE

Santa Fe Has Fine Summers and Moderate Winters with Equable Temperature.

NEARLY ALWAYS PLEASANT

The Salubrious Atmosphere of the Territory and Reasons Why the Climate Is Healthful and the Country Chosen for Sanitariums.

A knowledge of the contour of New Mexico in relation to the surrounding country is necessary to clearly understand the cause of its climatic advantages, that are not possessed by any other part of the United States. A study of the Rocky mountain region reveals the fact that the great chain from the far north is broken in its continuity as it leaves Colorado. In New Mexico there are smaller ranges with here and there lofty peaks with timbered slopes and barren moorlands to relieve the clouds of moisture. From them incline fertile valleys and grassy upland plains to the Gulf region until there are no mountains between New Mexico and the southern water. Three fourths of this territory has an altitude of 5,000 feet. At the southern border the valleys have dropped to from 3,000 to 4,000 feet, while the Santa Fe valley, at the capital city, has an altitude of 6,907 feet at the plaza.

A country of such varied altitudes must have some variety in climate, but the variation is in degrees of temperature mainly, for in general the climate of New Mexico is dry and salubrious. The rainfall is principally confined to showers in the summer, with little rain or snow in the winter, except in the northern part of the territory.

Near the extreme southern line, in the Sacramento mountains, a lofty peak is the first considerable elevation met with, as the moisture-laden gulf clouds drift to the northwest, and these precipitates rain to greater extent than any other mountain, the rainfall there having in exceptional seasons been estimated at 48 inches. But over the territory the normal precipitation ranges from 8 to 35 inches, according to elevation.

COMPARATIVE TEMPERATURE.
The southern valleys are, of course, the warmest portions of New Mexico in the summer, but the hottest are pleasant in midsummer than the east, because the air is dry, rapidly absorbs the dampness of the skin and has a cooling effect. The weather is never oppressive, the nights are always cool enough to sleep under cover and generally under a blanket.

Santa Fe, being up out of the great valley of the territory, is especially blessed as to summer temperature. The highest record by the thermometer in this city in twenty-six years was 96 degrees in 1878, an extreme rarely approached. In the last ten years 81 was the highest absolute temperature. It should be borne in mind that in a dry climate the record of the metallic thermometer does not indicate the real temperature felt by a human body, which is cooled by the drying effect of the air. It has been demonstrated that a temperature of 90 at Santa Fe is not more oppressive and heating than 72 at St. Louis, or at any place with a humid climate.

The following table was made up from reports of the climate and crop service of the weather bureau, and gives a general idea of the relative intensity of heat as indicated by the metallic thermometer:

SANTA FE SUMMER.
Where Santa Fe is located in sight of St. Louis or Chicago, with its present elevation, residents of such place would behold a city more than a mile and a quarter skyward, above the hot, malarial, moisture-soaked earth, in a purer atmosphere, which all would seek. Should they behold the city where they would find a still cooler and purer atmosphere, where there is little moisture, a porous soil to drain away the rain that comes, and a precipitous descent for escape of the snow-fed streams and gorges in sight of the city. The records show that no other city in the same latitude possesses so cool a summer temperature as Santa Fe, where the average is 67 degrees and the change between night and day temperature too slight to be detrimental to health. Thanks to elevation, to wooded mountains far southward, and shelter from the hot winds of Arizona that are warded off by the rising series of mountain ranges between Santa Fe and the sandy, lower levels of desert, this city is the coolest south of the upper lake region. It is far cooler than Denver, has thermometer readings about as low as San Diego, and is free from the humid heat of the coast.

THE WINTER SEASON.
One who has not seen the lay of the land might think that an elevated place would have a severe winter. Yet this is not true. The winter temperature is not so low as in the lower Ohio valley, and is free from moisture, there being less of cloudy weather in winter than in summer. To the north, the great mountain ranges of Colorado receive the greatest snowfall, and break the force of northern winds; other mountains closer guard to shelter the Santa Fe valley, which lies at their feet. To the east a range keeps out the cold northerly winds that rush southward to Texas. Westward also, nature has interposed barriers to shield New Mexico from gales.

In Danger.

Every one is in danger who neglects the warnings of declining health. The warnings are not as startling as the sudden shriek of a locomotive, but they are just as ominous. When the body begins to lose in flesh, when the cheek is hollow and the skin sallow it is Nature's warning that the body is failing of proper nourishment. It is a condition of "weak" stomach, and "weak" stomach soon involves other organs. Dr. Pierce's Golden Cough Cure cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition, and cures through the stomach diseases seemingly remote, but which have their origin in the disease of the stomach and its allied organs.

There is no alcohol in the "Discovery" and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics. "Before I commenced to use your medicine I was in a bad condition (for eight years), and four doctors treated me," writes Mrs. Bettie Adcock, of Garysburg, Northampton Co., N. C. "They of course, gave me at the time some relief, but it did not last long. I was some days in my bed and some days I dragged about my house. I have used five bottles of the Golden Cough Cure, and five of the 'Purifier' and 'Prescription' and four vials of the 'Purifier' and now I feel like a new woman, and I want the world to know it."

and when a wind finds its way up the winding Rio Grande, Santa Fe receives but the feather edge of the blow.

NEW MEXICO SANITARIUMS.
Sunny, bright days mark the winter season, which, until Christmas, is quite as delightful as the glorious summer, though crisp and cool. Even the spring months in Santa Fe cannot be equaled for mildness in any eastern state. While hundreds of tourists visit the city in summer and make a more or less protracted stay, the number who come to remain permanently for the curative effect upon tuberculous diseases is all the while increasing. The proportion of the latter will be undoubtedly enlarged in consequence of the indorsement given New Mexico's climate by the United States marine hospital service, which has in 1899 established two permanent sanitariums in the territory, and will maintain them as homes for soldiers and sailors afflicted or threatened with tubercular troubles. Many years of life at New Mexico army posts and a careful examination by experts led the authorities to take this action in the interest of military invalids, and it is also intended to remove to New Mexico consumptive inmates of soldiers' homes in California and eastern states.

Favorable conditions exist all over New Mexico for restoration to health or for improving the condition of such sufferers; a dry, aseptic air, light atmospheric pressure, well drained soil, a minimum of cold and heat, the absence of great changes in temperature and a maximum of sunshine.

SUNSHINE RECORDS.
As to the latter point, the latest figures available from the government records are those of 1897, the year book of 1898 having not yet been published. The summer of 1897, as it happened, was unusually cloudy and rainy at Santa Fe, yet the superiority of this city in the matter of days that were sunny throughout, can be seen by a few comparisons with places in various parts of the country.

Note—The minus sign (-) used before figures above indicates below zero.

This table shows that in the year 1897 only El Paso had more sunshine than Santa Fe, but that Texas city has much hotter summers and almost as great an extreme of cold, with an excessive amount of wind in the winter.

The government records do not show that any place in the United States equals Santa Fe in sunshine, year in and year out, the average number of hours of sunshine daily in a period of five years being seven hours and forty-five minutes, which is just about right for variety, comfort and health.

A favorable point in comparison with the east is that the most sunshine here is in the fall and winter, November leading, while in the east the sun is more in evidence in the summer months, when it is sometimes neither wanted nor needed.

Diaz was called but could do nothing but state that death had ensued almost immediately after the boy was struck with the bullet. A coroner's inquest was held today over the remains. THE SANTA FE CUT-OFF.

The City Council Will Take Suitable Action.

An important special meeting of the city council will be held this evening to act on a suggestion that the Santa Fe railway company be offered a right-of-way over the Santa Fe grant and ample terminal facilities in case it decides to construct a cut-off from Las Vegas of Glorieta to Thornton or Albuquerque to avoid the Glorieta grade and the Galisteo quicksands. The free mail delivery proposition may also be acted upon. It is an erroneous idea that the preparation for the delivery system need cost a large sum of money for numbering the houses and surveying the city. Any house owner can paint a conspicuous number on his front door or for a few cents purchase a neat metallic or china number, while the city clerk can easily take a plat of the city and approximately divide the blocks so as to give each house a number and to leave numbers for new houses.

The Santa Fe Board of Trade at its last meeting last evening directed its president, Major R. J. Pallen, to take up with the Santa Fe railway company the matter of building its main line by way of Santa Fe to avoid the expense and the annoyance caused by the frequent washouts between Glorieta and Thornton and the frequent wrecks and delays to trains which are caused by the heavy grade and lack of water on that stretch of the main line.

Difficult Digestion

That is dyspepsia. It makes life miserable. Its sufferers eat not because they want to—but simply because they must.

They complain of a bad taste in the mouth, a tenderness at the pit of the stomach, a feeling of puffy fullness, headache, heartburn and what not.

Hood's Sarsaparilla cured Joseph F. Laine, Flanagan, Ky., who writes: "I was troubled with dyspepsia for a number of years and took medicine that did me no good. I was advised by friends to try Hood's Sarsaparilla which I did and it put my bowels in perfect condition, gave me strength and energy and made me feel like a new person."

Hood's Sarsaparilla Promises to cure, d keeps the promise. Beware of substitutes. Buy Hood's and only Hood's.

REVELUTO.

It Will be the First Town on the Rock Island in New Mexico.

A townsite for a new town will be located on the Chicago, Rock Island & Pacific after entering New Mexico in Union county, on the north side of the Canadian river at Reveluto station where the road will cross the Canadian river on an iron and steel bridge 130 feet high and of great length. The distance from the New Mexico line to Reveluto is 30 miles. The location of the new town is very good and there can be but little question but that in two or three years it will be a prosperous and thriving little city. A very fine stock country surrounds it and on account of the near by crossing of the Canadian river by the Rock Island tracks it is bound to be an important railway point. M. Bishop is the leading spirit in the new town enterprise.

Nearly a Fight.

A member of the Campbell Brothers' show was walking down San Francisco street this morning with a jointed fish pole under his arm which he used very much in the same manner as a tight rope walker would use his balance pole. Suddenly he stopped, and a person walking behind him came into violent contact with it.

"Why don't you leave your fishing rod at home if you don't want to carry it right?" asked the injured person. The circus man turned around and muttered a hundred apologies, saying finally: "My good friend, I could not very well have left this offending fish pole at home, for I just bought it from W. H. Goebel. It's a beauty; ain't it, and only cost 75 cents. Go there at once and get one, and you will be glad you ran against it."

The man carefully examined the fish rod and other tackle and started on a jog trot for the Catron block, which is the address of W. H. Goebel's hardware and sporting goods store.
