PROHIBITION TO BE VOTED ON BY HOUSE; WOMEN ALSO GAIN POINT

Hobson Resolution to Be Presented Dec. 22 and Fate Is to Be Known at Early Date Afterward.

SUFFRAGE CAUSE IS LIKELY TO LOSE OUT

Statesmen's Hopes of Getting Home for Holiday Season Shattered by Announced Program of Majority.

Washington, Dec. 12.—The issue of national prohibition and women suffrage will be placed squarely before the house of representatives as a result of action taken today by the house rules committee, when it decided to report special rules for the consideration of constitutional amendments on both subjects. Incidentally the committee put an end to all hope of an extended holiday recess.

Representative Henry, chairman of the rules committee, asserted the rule on the Hobson prohibition resolution would be presented December 22, and that the resolution after eight hours of debate would be pressed to a vote on that date. The suffrage resolution, he said, will follow immediately.

Limited Holiday Period.
Members of the house who were anxious to get away for a Christmas recess construed the committee's action as evidence of a determination by democratic leaders to limit the Christmas holiday to two or three days.

Prohibition and suffrage supporters immediately began to line up their forces for the coming encounter. Members who had determined to go home for Christmas, whether congress adjourned or not, revised their program.

Representative Henry issued a statement asserting he would vote against both of the proposed constitutional amendments. It was generally believed in the house that the special rules would be adopted, as a majority vote only is required. It was also predicted, however, that the suffrage amendment would be unable to secure the necessary two-thirds vote in the house and opponents of prohibition expressed confidence that it would be defeated.

As framed by Representative Hobson, the prohibition bill would prohibit the sale, manufacture or importation and exportation for sale of "intoxicating liquors for beverage purposes in the United States and all territory subject to the jurisdiction thereof, forever."

The suffrage amendment would declare that the right of citizens of the

ARGENTINE AMBASSADOR HONORED IN NEW YORK
New York, Dec. 12.—Presentation of a gold medal to Dr. Romulo S. Naon, ambassador of the Argentine republic to the United States, was the feature of the sixteenth annual dinner of the Pennsylvania Society tonight.

Former Governor Edwin S. Stuart of Pennsylvania, in presenting the medal, alluded to Dr. Naon as the diplomat "who, within the past week, on behalf of his government, has sought to define the rights of neutral nations on principles of right and justice," the former governor expressing the hope that these may have been the "first steps in the restoration of peace."

Dr. Naon, in accepting the medal, spoke at length on conditions in Argentina, alluding in particular to the problems arising from the European war and the opening made for the introduction of American products on a large scale into his country. Three things, he said, were needed to obtain a market under the prevailing conditions, competent men, vessels and banking facilities.

LEITER TELLS FACTS OF FAMOUS
WHEAT CORNER

Deal in Which Speculator Lost Ten to Twelve Millions, Failed Because Minneapolis Partners Flunked.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—The plans of Joseph Leiter's monumental effort to corner the wheat market in 1898, when he ran the price up to $1.85 a bushel and finally lost between ten and twelve million dollars, were related in detail by himself as a witness today in Federal Judge Humphrey's court.

Mr. Leiter asserted if the late F. H. Peavey and the late C. A. Pillsbury of Minneapolis, who he declared, virtually his partners, had kept their agreements and had not released grain on the Chicago market during his operation, he would have been successful.

Would Not Go on Record.
The Minneapolis grain men would not put the agreement in writing, he said, because they asserted it was a "criminal conspiracy" under the laws of Minnesota, and did not wish to sign anything which might be brought up against them later.

Mr. Leiter, who now lives in Washington, is the son of the late Levi Z. Leiter, who sold millions of dollars' worth of downtown Chicago property to make good his son's losses.

Mr. Leiter took the witness stand to defend himself in a suit to recover $380,935, the principal and interest on two notes which the Interior Elevator company and the Interior Elevator company, the latter represented by Chester W. Lane, of Minneapolis, say is owing for wheat bought in 1898.

Running Wheat Deal.
Asked what his occupation was in that year, Mr. Leiter said he was "more busy running a wheat deal than anything else." He told of a visit to Minneapolis, where he said he conferred with Mr. Pillsbury, and Mr. Peavey, who was president of the two elevator companies bringing suit. James Peavey, brother of the latter, was also in the conference, Mr. Leiter said.

"I told them I wanted it understood that no wheat be shipped to Chicago, as I had my May corner on," he testified. "This was agreed to. I said I didn't want the 'shorts' to get the wheat we had so they could deliver it to me in Chicago. I told them I wanted to squeeze the 'shorts' and get all I could."

Mr. Leiter asserted he paid Peavey & Co. "a couple of million dollars" in margins on these purchases.

Later, when the wheat began to pour into the Chicago market, Mr. Leiter said, he told Mr. Peavey he thought he was the man who was shipping it.

"He got very mad," said Mr. Leiter, "and threatened all sorts of dire things. He said he would burst the pool wide open and he did."

TAFT INSISTS UPON
EFFICIENT SYSTEM

New York, Dec. 12.—Former President William H. Taft, guest of honor at a luncheon today at the Lawyers' club, spoke at length on efficiency and economy in the national government and advocated the establishment of a budget system.

"All the countries in the world that have respectable governments except our own, have budgets," he said. "We have acted like children. We have had so much money available through taxation that we have not been obliged to consult the revenue side of the ledger."

"Now we are coming to the point where we must, and in view of that necessity, we must pursue the policy that all other governments have found absolutely necessary in order to keep out of bankruptcy."

Summary of War News of Yesterday

While fighting is going on both in the east and the west along the extended front, there is little in the official statements issued by the various war departments to indicate any definite result of the battle in favor of either side.

Berlin announces the occupation by the German forces of the city of Przemyśl, Poland, and adds that "while this in itself is not important, it shows that the Germans have begun active offensive operations north of the Vistula." This means a further advance from the north toward Warsaw.

Berlin also declares that the Russian losses in the engagements prior to the taking of Lodz, aggregated 150,000. These included 80,000 prisoners.

The Austrians have been repulsed by the Serbians to the south of Belgrade, according to a Nish unofficial report, and along the remainder of the front in Serbia the Austrians are in retreat.

Buenos Aires reports that the cruiser Dresden, one of the five attacked by the British warships in the south Atlantic and the last of the German squadron, is ashore off the port of Gallatze. An earlier report from Valparaiso said that the Dresden had taken refuge in one of the harbors along the coast of Patagonia.

Six British warships have coaled from four British colliers, fifty miles south of Panama and a Japanese squadron is said to be off the Chilean coast. It is believed that these two forces will form a junction.

Colonel Goethals, governor of the Canal Zone, has requested Washington to dispatch destroyers to Panama immediately and although he gives no explanation of the reason for this request, it is thought at Washington that Colonel Goethals has found himself unable to check the use of the wireless plants of ships belonging to the belligerent nations within the three-mile limit.

Emperor William of Germany, whose illness has been the subject of much anxiety on the one side and conjecture on the other, is said to have improved so much of late that his complete recovery at an early date is expected.

King Albert of Belgium, in thanking the American commission for a name day message of good wishes, congratulated the commission on its generous and enlightened initiative.

NEGRO BURNED BY WHITE MOB IN LOUISIANA

Eight Victim of Lynch Law in Same Parish During Past Year; Victim Dies Protest- ing Innocence.

Shreveport, La., Dec. 12.—Charred remains of Watkins Lewis, the third negro to die at the hands of mobs, as a result of the murder of Charles Hicks, postmaster at Sylvestor, La., last week, were found today near Sylvestor, bound to a tree with coils of wire.

The burning of Lewis makes a total of eight lynchings in this parish in the last year, five negroes having been put to death in the last ten days. Toke Lewis and Monroe Lewis were lynched last week for their alleged part in the Hicks murder.

Stories brought here tell of a mob of 200 white men, formed in the outskirts of Sylvestor last night, Lewis, emerging with fear, was taken from the jail here, placed in a motor car and whirled to the mob. Not a word was spoken as the little cavalcade formed and with the negro in the center, marched to a giant tree near the Texas line. Lewis was bound to the trunk. Fallen trees and branches were heaped about him.

Before the fire was lighted Lewis repeatedly was asked to confess his part in the crime or to divulge the hiding place of a large sum of money said to have been stolen from the postoffice.

"I didn't do it," he screamed as the flames leaped about him. When the fire enveloped him the mob dispersed.

Today the town of Sylvestor was quiet. However, District Judge T. F. Bell ordered a grand jury to convene next Wednesday to attempt to identify the members of the mob.

Cruiser Dresden Is Stranded Off Coast of Argentine Republic

Buenos Ayres, Dec. 12.—The German cruiser Dresden, one of the squadron engaged by the British warships off Falkland islands and which took to flight, has stranded on the Argentine coast, near the port of Gallatze.

Port at Archangel Glimed.
London, Dec. 13 (1 a. m.).—A Telegram dispatch to Reuters' Telegram company, says enormous quantities of all sorts of goods from England and elsewhere are awaiting re-shipment at Archangel. These include a half million tons of coal, thousands of tons of herring, machinery, cotton and chemicals. The winter has been exceptionally mild and it is expected that navigation can be kept open until the middle of January, with the help of ice breakers.

CARRANZISTA TROOPS PURSUE VILLA FORCE

Douglas, Ariz., Dec. 12.—Two hundred and fifty Carranzista troops left Agua Prieta today in pursuit of the Villa force which captured Fronteras last night. After the capture of Fronteras, thirty miles south of the border, the Maytorena troops are reported to have left today for Chichuata, a Sonora town in the region of Fronteras.

CHRISTMAS TRUCE ASKED BY POPE IS REFUSED BY WARRING POWERS

Vatican Organ Says All Nations Addressed Treated Suggestion With Most Courteous Consideration.

SEVERAL WILLING TO SUSPEND HOSTILITIES

Others Decline, and as Temporary Peace During Holidays Would Have to Be General, Plan Fails.

Rome, Dec. 12 (2:15 p. m.).—The Observatore Romano, the Vatican organ, referring to the efforts of Pope Benedict to bring about a truce during the Christmas season among the warring powers, says:

"The august pontiff in homage, faith and devotion to Christ, the Redeemer, who is the Prince of Peace, and also by reason of sentiments of humanity and pity, especially towards the families of the combatants, addressed confidentially the belligerent governments to ascertain how they would receive the proposal of a truce during such a solemn festivity as Christmas."

"All the powers declared that they highly appreciated the loftiness of the pontifical initiative. A majority gave their sympathetic adherence to the proposal, but some did not feel able to agree to it. Thus, lacking the necessary unanimity, the pontiff has been unable to reach the benevolent result which the paternal heart of his holiness promised himself."

DR. ELIOT EULOGIZES JOHN D. ROCKEFELLER

Boston, Dec. 12.—Charles W. Eliot, president emeritus of Harvard university, speaking today before the Twentieth Century club, characterized the organization of the Standard Oil company by John D. Rockefeller as "one of the most beneficent works ever done."

Dr. Eliot's subject was the work of the Rockefeller foundation. He declared that "lack of information by the public and a great deal of misinformation" were reasons why the community had "wronged Mr. Rockefeller."

The speaker asserted that corporations were "the greatest and most efficient means of carrying on business in great variety," explaining that he referred to the corporation of limited liability, invented about sixty years ago.

GOVERNOR SAVES SIX CONVICTS FROM GALLOWS

Declares Hanging Bee Would Be Violation of Spirit of Christmas, and Uses Executive Clemency.

Phoenix, Ariz., Dec. 12.—Taking advantage of his last opportunity to prevent the execution of death sentences in Arizona, Gov. G. W. P. Hunt came to the rescue today of six condemned men who were to be hanged in the Florence penitentiary December 19. The sentences of two Americans were commuted to life imprisonment. The case of one Mexican was referred to the supreme court and three others were reprieved until March 19, 1915, with a recommendation to the attorney general of the state to do what he could for them because they were maddened by drink when they committed their crimes.

The governor's action was taken preliminary to the issue of his proclamation which will put into effect the laws adopted at the November election. Among these laws is a measure which deprives the governor of power to pardon, reprieve or commute sentences, and invests it in a special board.

In a statement announcing his decision to call off the proposed "hanging bee," December 19, Governor Hunt declared that to permit the executions would violate the spirit of Christmas.

Want Troops Removed.

Denver, Dec. 12.—A protest against the retention of federal troops in Colorado, was expressed tonight in a long telegram addressed to President Woodrow Wilson, signed by John McLennan, president of District 15, United Mine Workers of America.

SWEDES DISSATISFIED WITH GERMAN ANSWER

Stockholm (via London, Dec. 12, 11:26 a. m.).—Germany's answer to Sweden's request for an explanation of the laying of mines by Germany by which three Swedish vessels were blown up, is considered far from satisfactory by the Swedish press, according to the Aftonbladet.

The answer denies that German ships laid mines on Saturday or Sunday, last, but says nothing concerning previous days. It admits that, owing to the intention of Russia to establish a winter naval base, German mines were laid in the Aland archipelago "later than Sunday," of which Sweden was notified Monday. That was after the Swedish ships were sunk.

SIMPLE CEREMONIES FOR PATRIARCH'S FUNERAL

Independence, Mo., Dec. 12.—Simplicity surrounded the preparations for the funeral of Josephus Smith, president of the reorganized Church of Latter Day Saints, to be held here tomorrow. President Smith died Thursday after a lingering illness. Services will be held in accordance with the directions of the dead patriarch, who, in the days when he lay between life and death, calmly arranged for his burial.

INVASION SCARE AGAIN HAS ALL ENGLAND IN GRIP

General Baden-Powell Shares Opinion That Germany Intends to Make Effort to Get Into British Isles.

(Associated Press Correspondence.)
London, Dec. 1.—General Baden-Powell shares the opinion of many other English military experts who believe that Germany fully expects to invade England if possible and will direct its activities toward the commercial cities in the north of England, rather than toward London and the resort cities of the south. In the opinion of General Baden-Powell, the German emperor will endeavor to land at least 90,000 troops in England.

Would Seize Factories.
"I know that the general idea is," said General Baden-Powell in a recent interview, "that the attempt to invade England will be made on the coast of Norfolk or Suffolk. Personally, I think that the Yorkshire coast is more likely, for the Germans will first desire to invade the industrial center of the north. They appreciate what effect that would have if they succeeded. Once let them get hold of some of the big manufacturing towns, factories would be smashed up and ruined and I estimate that they could then throw 14,000,000 persons out of employment, rendering them destitute and starving. It is certain that even by a short, sharp raid, they could do a tremendous amount of damage."

Hero of Mafeking's Views.
General Baden-Powell is far less optimistic about the war than many of England's public men. The hero of Mafeking, in discussing the present crisis, said:

"There are still many persons in country districts and even in some of our large towns, who do not realize what this great war means—that Britain's fight is one for her very existence. We receive encouraging reports that we are doing well, but we must remember that one side or the other must go under and go under forever. At present it looks as if the wind is blowing in our favor, but there is always the unexpected to consider. You never can tell. The right thing to do is to try to smash the Germans now, which means that every man must put his shoulder to the wheel."

Nine Points to Embark.
The Germans, it is pointed out by the general, have nine places from which they could embark troops in an effort to make a landing in England. He estimates that a greater force than 10,000 probably would not be sent from each of these points, making a total of less than 100,000.

Lowestoft and other towns along the east coast of England, which are regarded as likely landing places for an invading army, have made preparations to receive the Germans. The mayor of Lowestoft has issued a statement to the citizens of that town advising them how to act in case the Germans land. A special force of one hundred and fifty constables has been named and civilians have been advised to follow the directions of these officers explicitly should the Germans enter the town.

To Protect Foodstuffs.
Walter Long, a member of parliament, has advised that all foodstuffs as stored in large quantities in east coast towns, should be moved inland, where they can be guarded against seizure.

General Baden-Powell says the 15,000 older boy scouts of England are doing everything in their power to assist in the present struggle. These scouts are 16 years of age or more and would be available as a second guard in case the military authorities lower the age standard. All these boys are fairly well drilled and would be effective in almost any sort of military duty.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WAR PRESENT NO STARTLING CHARACTERISTICS

While Fighting Is Progressing in Both Fields, Each Side Claims Some Advantages Have Been Scored by It.

SERBIANS CONTINUE TO DEFEAT AUSTRIANS

General Offensive by Allies in France and Belgium Is Predicted, but Movement Is Expected to Be Cautious.

London, Dec. 12 (3:30 p. m.).—There have been no very marked developments in the last twenty-four hours, either in the eastern or western battles, as far as available official reports disclose, although fighting of a more or less violent character is proceeding along the two fronts. In this, the opposing headquarters claim the advantage fell to the respective armies.

As an offset to the Russian claim of having checked the advance of three of five German columns invading their territory, the Germans state today that their cavalry has repulsed the Russian horsemen on the east Prussian frontier; that in north Poland the German's operations are developing and that in south Poland the Russian attacks have been unsuccessful.

Resistance Not Broken.
It is admitted in Berlin, however, that the Russian resistance is by no means broken, although, according to the German estimate in the battles preceding the evacuation of Lodz, the Russians lost 150,000 men, including the 80,000 previously reported captured, while the German losses, it is stated, were light. The town of Lodz suffered little damage.

There is the same disparity between French and German accounts of the battles in Flanders and France. It is apparent from both, however, that the allies have assumed at least a partial offensive. The French announce that this movement is meeting with success, while the Germans assert that the attacks of the allies have been repulsed with heavy losses in killed, wounded and prisoners.

Offensive by Allies.
The general impression here is that the allies, with artillery and occasional infantry attacks are preparing the way for a general offensive and in doing so, are meeting with the usual stubborn resistance from the Germans, who are firmly established in entrenched positions. The advance, if it is possible, must therefore be slow, as General Joffre, the commander-in-chief, is not likely to sacrifice the lives of his men in an attempt to storm fortified works.

The Serbians continue to announce successes by their troops, who are said to have been led by King Peter and his two sons. The Austrians tried to stem defeat by sending a force from Belgrade southward against the Serbian right wing, but this army, like that which is retreating westward, suffered heavy losses after repeated fierce attacks.

Pope's Plea Has Failed.
The Pope's plea for a Christmas truce has failed, for while a majority of the European powers received it sympathetically, the others did not feel able to support it. From Berlin it is said that Russia would not consent to the truce as the Russian Christmas does not fall on the same day as that of the other states.

Rumors persist that the German cruiser Dresden, one of the German squadron which was defeated in the south Atlantic by the British squadron under Sir Frederick Sturdee, either has been sunk or has sought refuge in a neutral port. There is no confirmation of this report and confidence that she will be caught in the end, is being bet on. Lloyd's, which was 25 to 3 that the Dresden would be rounded up by January 2.

DECIDED GAIN CLAIMED BY GERMAN REPORTS

Berlin, Dec. 12 (by wireless to Sayville, L. I.).—Occupation of the city of Przemyśl by the German forces which have been advancing on Warsaw from the north, recently reported unofficially, was said definitely by the official press bureau today to have been accomplished.

"This is the most important factor in the latest developments from the eastern theater of war," the press bureau statement continues, "and while in itself it is not important, it shows that the Germans have begun active offensive operations north of the Vistula. Przemyśl lies on the direct line of communication between Willenberg, East Prussia, and Warsaw. This shows that the advance is directed against the fortified line along the Naraw river. If this line were broken, the Germans would be in the rear of Warsaw, which would exercise a deciding influence on the Polish campaign."

"News from south Poland, Galicia, makes it clear that notwithstanding certain successes achieved by the Germans and Austrians, severe resistance is being encountered everywhere."

MAYTORENA BENT ON CONTINUING ATTACK AT NACO

Unless Ordered by Acting President Gutierrez to Desist, Firing Will Not Be Stopped.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Naco, Ariz., Dec. 12.—Jose Maytorena, insurgent governor of Sonora, who has been besieging the Carranza garrison of Naco, Sonora, since September, declared today that he had received no order from Provisional President Gutierrez to stop firing in order to prevent bullets striking in American territory. Until he does receive such order, he will continue his attack. Meantime he is preparing for a final assault on Naco Tuesday night. "I have received no orders from President Gutierrez to stop my attack on Naco," read a statement Maytorena issued today. "Unless I do receive such orders from Mexico City I will continue fighting. I regret very much that bullets have fallen in American territory and especially that Americans have been injured. My men take every precaution to prevent complications with the United States. Strict orders have been issued regarding shooting into American territory and I am sure that the greater danger to Americans has resulted from the tactics and practices of the enemy. "My forces are now digging zig-zag trenches toward the enemy's line. These will be completed by Tuesday night, when I will order a final attack on Naco. The enemy's troops are firing at my men at work on these trenches. This is the reason for the continual firing."

CARRANZA MAKES USUAL BLUNDERING COMMENT

Vera Cruz, Dec. 12.—"If the United States employs force to stop the firing by Mexicans across the international boundary line at Naco, it will be considered an unfriendly act, notwithstanding the friendly motives cloaking the act."

In this manner General Carranza made answer, in a statement to the Associated Press to the formal notice served by the United States on both Provisional President Gutierrez and General Carranza that unless such firing ceased, force would be employed to protect American territory.

Carranza's reply to the American note, which is expected to reach Washington tomorrow, will be in general repudiation of responsibility for any shots that have crossed the line and clearly sets forth that he and his government will regard intervention at Naco as a hostile and unfriendly act.

At no time since the receipt of Secretary Bryan's note, in which attention was called to the repeated wounding and killing of residents of the town on the northern side of the line, has General Carranza appeared perturbed, but he has long conversed with those close to him, and in framing his reply, it is said, he has been careful not to let himself remain in any uncertain light.

"General Hill, who is commanding the constitutionalist force at Naco, is on the defensive," continued Carranza, "and since his back was to the line, it is difficult to see how he could be responsible for the firing in question. The fact is that Maytorena's men have been the attacking party and therefore it appears reasonably clear that they, and only they, could have been to blame."

"As a matter of fact I do not know that the rights of the American citizens have been violated. It seems to me that it would be well for the state department to investigate this question in order to fix the responsibility. "I remember similar instances at El Paso, where the Madristas forces were attacking there. In that case those shot were for the most part the imprudent and curious individuals who flocked to witness the fighting as if it had been a spectacular show staged for their benefit."

"As to the use of force, of which Mr. Bryan talks, that is something the gravity of which I fear he does not fully appreciate. He says it would not mean an invasion of our territory nor a violation of our national sovereignty. It would. And moreover, it would certainly be an act directly against the constitutionalists, who now hold the town and in favor of the Villistas, who would be left free to continue their operations. It would be simply lying General Hill's hands and leaving Maytorena free."

"I sincerely hope that the good friendship of the American people towards the Mexican people will prevent the consummation of Secretary Bryan's threat."

WASHINGTON BELIEVES ORDER WILL BE OBEYED

Washington, Dec. 12.—State department officials were satisfied tonight that orders from Provisional President Gutierrez to desist from his attack on Naco would reach Governor Maytorena in ample time to prevent his carrying out his intention of resuming operations Tuesday night.

A copy of the message to the governor conveying instructions, already has been received from Mexico City and officials believe Governor Maytorena's statement today was issued before he learned the wishes of Gutierrez.

SPECIAL SALE OF NAVAJO RUGS AT BENNETT'S, FOURTH AND GOLD.

HEARING GOES ON IN COLORADO LABOR STRUGGLE

Edward L. Doyle, of United Mine Workers of America, Tells of Treatment of Miners in and Out of Court.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Denver, Dec. 12.—Edward L. Doyle, secretary-treasurer of District 15, United Mine Workers, testified before the federal commission on industrial relations today regarding the bulletins issued by Walter H. Fink, publicity agent for the miners in the recent coal strike.

He declared that the bulletins had been prepared by Fink, who was directly responsible for the accuracy of the statements contained in them. Questioned regarding the truth of these statements, however, Doyle asserted that they were correct so far as he knew. The witness was asked if he had evidence to prove the charge that the Colorado Fuel & Iron Co. controlled politics in Huerfano county. He replied:

"It is like asking a man, 'What is air?' Everyone knows what it is, but when you want to demonstrate it, you have to go into chemical formulas."

Miners Defrauded in Weight. "I took to his testimony concerning the responsibility for union publicity, Doyle told of entering the mines of Illinois as a "trapper boy," becoming a miner at 17; his employment in the northern Colorado coal fields, first as a mule driver and later of his selection as a checkweighman.

As checkweighman at one mine, Doyle testified that the miners were defrauded out of from seven to fourteen tons a day; but after he had balanced the scales the mine superintendent complained that the men were getting paid for more than they mined. The weigh boss then, he said, "shortweighed" the freight shipments, whereupon the consumers protested and the loss was then blamed on the railroads.

Trials for Contempt of Court.

Doyle narrated the story of his two trials for contempt of court on charge of violating the injunction against the northern field miners which, he said, "prevented them from doing anything but eating and sleeping." The trials, he declared, were "farceful." There was no jury and during the proceedings, he said, the prisoners were identified by witnesses according to the chairs in which they sat in court. Most of the men convicted, he added, had not been in a street fight with strikebreakers, as charged. In the first case the union men were sentenced to a year in jail and a fine. Before an appeal could be heard in the supreme court, Doyle testified, the convicting judge released them.

How He Was Sentenced.

Following his second conviction, Doyle said, his jailer told him that the judge would release him if he apologized for articles which he had written and which appeared in the official organ of the United Mine Workers of America. The witness declared that he had been arrested for participation in a meeting forbidden by the injunction. In court the articles were read at the insistence of the judge, who asked him whether he was the author. Denial, he said, would have been perjury; admission in the presence of the court would mean another charge of contempt of court. He admitted the authorship, he said, and the judge "told the coal operators' attorneys, 'for the district attorney—to get out a warrant.' On this charge he was sentenced to a year in jail and fined $500."

Appeal Never Argued.

"After four months in jail, within three days of the hearing of the appeal in the supreme court, the jailers had presented the request for a second apology to the judge and the witness declared he declined. The following day he was released on the order of the judge. The appeal was never argued, he said. He did not know whether the sentence was remitted. The fine was never paid in either conviction."

This was the last attempt of the operators, he said, to secure injunctions in the state courts. "I don't know whether the commission is superstitious," he added, "but the moment sentence was pronounced on our second convictions, the scales held by the figure of justice on the dome of the court house fell clattering to the roof of the courthouse."

No Regular Supervision.

There was no regular supervision of publicity, Doyle said. The bulletins were entitled "The Struggle in Colorado for Industrial Freedom," and were issued after the operators had published "Facts About the Struggle in Colorado for Industrial Freedom." For "the Ludlow massacre," the union assumed no responsibility, he said, but it was the personal opinion of the witness that it was based on facts.

J. F. Welborn, president of the Colorado Fuel & Iron company, had asked the commissioners to ascertain the authority upon which the sentence in this booklet was based which read: "John D. Rockefeller, Jr., had just preached the word of God to his Sunday school in New York."

"I suppose it was written on a Monday," said the witness.

Statements Unverified. Statements of the cost of the strike in the booklet, the witness said, he believed had been secured from clippings from newspapers and the state auditor.

Statements in other bulletins declaring thirty-four persons had been killed on the strikers' side did not refer alone to the Ludlow casualties, he said.

He could not confirm the statement that a thousand gunmen had been imported into the state. "They looked plentiful," he said.

Doyle affirmed that at Forbes in February, 1912, deputies had shot into the tent colony, killing one man and wounding a boy, with a machine gun.

WANT PROVISION FOR IMMIGRANTS AFTER THE WAR

Commercial Congress Asks That Stringent Laws Be Enacted to Meet Conditions After Hostilities Cease.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Washington, Dec. 12.—Resolutions calling on the federal government and the southern states to enact stringent laws to care for immigrants who seek refuge in this country after the European war were adopted at tonight's session of the Immigration conference, called by the Southern Commercial congress to consider the feasibility of distributing immigrants on farms in the south. An advisory committee was appointed to remain here for several days to work out some practical plan of action.

Secretary Wilson of the labor department, told the conference large numbers of European immigrants, many practically destitute, would come to the United States at the close of the European war and would have to be cared for. He also pointed out that there are thousands of immigrant families in American industrial communities that had been saving to return to Europe and purchase agricultural homes and who now were prevented from leaving this country. Many of these, he said, no longer desired to return abroad. He also explained the efforts of his department and the postoffice and agricultural departments in bringing together the "jobless man and the manless land, the landless man and the manless land."

Sick Two Years With Indigestion. "Two years ago I was greatly benefited through using two or three bottles of Chamberlain's Tablets," writes Mrs. S. A. Keller, Elida, Ohio. "Before taking them I was sick for two years with indigestion." Sold by all dealers.

the Carpathians are too small to clear Hungarian territory of the enemy at once, and must attack and repulse some column after another.

"The Austrians report that 10,000 Russians have been captured, but they fail to say within what period, making the report meaningless. "Operations in Serbia are also meeting with dogged resistance at some points, but are proceeding to the south of Belgrade."

"The loss of the cruiser squadron off the Falkland islands is the occasion of general regret, but it is hardly a surprise, since the most optimistic had not dared to expect that the ships could escape from their pursuers."

SERBIANS REPORT SEVERE DEFEAT OF AUSTRIANS

Paris, Dec. 12 (5:50 p. m.)—Telegraphing from Nish, Serbia, the correspondent of the Havas agency reports that the Serbians have repulsed an Austrian force with heavy losses at Kozmal, thirty miles south of Belgrade. The message says: "Heavy fighting continues with large Austrian forces at Kozmal, to the south of Belgrade and to the north of Milanovatz. "Attacks made by the Austrians on Kozmal, December 9, were repulsed with heavy losses. The Austrians retreated, leaving 2,500 bodies on the battlefield. "Along the remainder of the front in Serbia the Austrians are retreating in the directions of Mokra, Gornja, Bachi, Rogozita, Kozalovitz and Oub. "Thirty-five Austrian officers, 4,500 soldiers and a military band were made prisoners by the Serbians."

CARRANZISTAS EXECUTE BOY 14 YEARS OLD

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) San Antonio, Tex., Dec. 12.—Three brothers, whose names are said to have been Zapata, were executed last night by the soldiers of the Matamoros garrison, according to reports reaching here. The youngest of the brothers was said to be but fourteen years old. Their reported execution was under the general order issued recently to shoot every man bearing arms against the Carranza government. The Zapatas were captured with others a few days ago in a fight with Carranza soldiers and a body of alleged Villistas that had crossed the Rio Grande from Texas.

GOETHALS CALLS FOR DESTROYERS IN CANAL ZONE

Officials at Washington Believe Request Is Prompted by Difficulty in Enforcing Strict Neutrality.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Washington, Dec. 12.—Colonel Goethals has requested that destroyers be sent to the canal zone, it was learned tonight, but no specific explanation of the need for naval vessels there was included in the message. A reply asking for this explanation was sent at once but no answer had been received from Colonel Goethals at a late hour.

Officials believe the canal governor has experienced some difficulty in preserving the complete neutrality of the zone and its territorial waters. Many ships belonging to belligerent nations are in the vicinity and it is thought possible Colonel Goethals has found himself unable to check use of their wireless plants within the three mile limit to convey information to warships at sea. With swift vessels to aid, it would be an easier matter to regulate use of wireless and it was thought probable tonight that the necessary destroyers would be dispatched as soon as Colonel Goethals' explanation is received.

Recent activity by British and Japanese warships in the vicinity of the canal zone, which followed the recent disaster to the British fleet under Admiral Craddock, has given rise to some concern here, although no specific reports of violations of neutrality have been previously received, so far as known. Reports of wireless interception from Panama have led to the belief that collars and exchange were exchanging messages, which, if they have not otherwise been open to objection, have hindered commercial use of wireless to a considerable extent, it is said.

In view of Colonel Goethals' message it is believed code messages have been picked up which have disclosed that to some extent the waters of the zone have been made a base of operations by one or both of the allied fleets and that the governor wishes to establish a patrol which will prevent further violations of neutrality.

An unofficial report was in circulation tonight that the collier Lena of the British auxiliary fleet had made improper use of her wireless equipment by sending British navy code messages while within the three-mile limit. What steps Colonel Goethals may have already taken or contemplates beyond his request for destroyers is not known, however.

TRIES TO ESCAPE PACKED IN CASE MARKED MATCHES

German Officer, Trying to Get Out of England, Is Detected in Semi-conscious Condition.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) London, Dec. 12 (3:10 a. m.)—The German army officer, whom a customs official at Gravesend, Saturday, found concealed in a huge box which was about to be shipped to Rotterdam, told an alien immigration officer that his name was Otto Koehn and that he was a lieutenant in the German navy, according to a dispatch from Gravesend to Lloyd's News.

The lieutenant said he had been in America recently, continues the message, and returned aboard the steamer Potsdam shortly before the outbreak of the war.

Subsequently he was arrested in Southampton and interned in the camp of aliens at Dorchester. "Packed as Case of Matches." The box in which the officer was found was among the luggage of a number of elderly aliens who were being sent from the camp at Dorchester to Germany. On arriving at Tilbury, from Dorchester, they were transferred to a ferry boat for Gravesend where they boarded the steamer Batavier, bound for Rotterdam. Porters handling the baggage, found beneath the pile of packages a huge case on which were marked the words, Non-poisonous safety matches. The case was so heavy that the porters had to roll it over and over on the deck tender to the rails separating it from the Batavier. The bumping of the box apparently stunned the occupant and forced the lid of the case partly open, causing an arm to protrude.

This was noticed by a Dutch seaman, who called the attention of the ferryboat skipper to it. An armed guard in charge of those being deported, was called and found the man in the box in a semi-conscious state. It is believed, concludes the dispatch, that the alien in the Dorchester camp when they learned that a number of men above military age were to be sent to Germany, plotted to hide Koehn in a packing case which had contained Swedish matches. Although Koehn, who was taken to a police station, declared that nobody assisted him, elaborate preparations had been made for his comfort. Arm pads, an air cushion, a bottle of cognac and bananas were among the things provided for him.

No Knowledge of Prisoner. The Dorchester correspondent of Lloyd's News sends the following dispatch concerning the affair:

"The railway authorities here disclaim all knowledge of a box answering the description of that found at Gravesend nor are the police and military authorities cognizant of the escape of a prisoner from the Dorchester camp, where the roll call is called thrice daily. There have been considerable movements of the prisoners during the last few days, however, and it is possible that the man captured at Gravesend contrived to escape during these operations."

LIFE 15 YEARS LONGER THAN 35 YEARS AGO

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) St. Louis, Dec. 12.—The average length of life in the United States is fifteen years greater now than it was thirty-five years ago, according to a statement made by Dr. Victor C. Vaughan of the University of Michigan, president of the American Medical association, in an address before the City club here today. Crime he characterized as a disease due to heredity and environment and the way to eradicate crime was to treat it as a disease and to disinfect its breeding places. Dr. Vaughan said the death rate from tuberculosis had decreased 54 per cent since 1884.

FLAMES DESTROY GALLUP SCHOOL; LOSS COMPLETE

Fire of Unknown Origin Causes $20,000 Damages; Children Will Not Be Deprived of Educational Advantages.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL
Gallup, N. M., Dec. 12.—A fire which originated either from a defective fuse or from crossed electric wires completely destroyed the Gallup public school building this morning. The flames were first discovered in the attic of the building, and had gained such headway that it was impossible to save the building or its contents.

The fire department responded promptly when the alarm was given and did splendid work, but a frozen hydrant caused a delay which was fatal. Aside from some of the furniture and a few books on the first floor nothing was saved.

The school building was a brick structure and was erected twenty-one years ago. It was one of the most substantial buildings in this section of the state. It was valued at $20,000, about half of which was covered by insurance. The school was attended by all the children of Gallup.

The new county high school building, on the same lot with the burned building, was slightly injured by the heat from the flames, but was not seriously damaged. The school books of the children, which were in the building at the time of the fire, were destroyed with the exception of a few that were saved from the first floor. Arrangements have been made by the school authorities to rent vacant buildings in which the school sessions will be continued after New Year's, and only slight interruption will be caused in the school course by reason of the fire. As soon as possible the work of reconstructing the burned building will be begun.

This is the biggest fire in the history of Gallup, and is the fourth large blaze within two weeks.

ANOTHER HOARY MYTH VICTIM OF EXPLOSION

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Dec. 12.—That the Quicha drama, "Ollanta," which has been hailed as an American drama, composed before the coming of the Spaniards, is merely a Spanish play of the eighteenth century rendered into the Quicha language, is the conclusion of Elsie Clarence Ellis, of Colorado College, in a pamphlet received today by the School of American Archaeology, thus destroying with its evidence another hoary myth. "The Ollanta" drama, for whether the subject matter be ancient or not, the play is modern. To call Ollanta an ancient Inca drama is as absurd as to call Shakespeare's Julius Caesar and Corneille's Horace ancient Roman dramas.

There is much interest in the drama, which has three acts, and in the love story of Ollanta, a chief of lowly birth, with Joy-star, daughter of the Inca. The mountain people rebel and proclaim Ollanta their king and Ollanta defeats the Inca's forces but there is final reconciliation and Ollanta marries Joy-star. It is proposed to give it in Santa Fe during the week of pageants that is planned during the exposition year.

ALAMOGORDO LADIES TO GIVE CHRISTMAS DANCE FOR LITTLE SICK GIRL

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL
Alamogordo, N. M., Dec. 12.—The Christmas dance which will be given by the ladies of the Civic league will be really a benefit dance for Lillian Isaacson, the little girl who was sent to an El Paso hospital more than a year ago, to undergo a very difficult operation to have a leg straightened. The patient is improving gradually but surely. The proceeds of this dance will be used to pay a balance which is due on the hospital bill.

Treat Tuberculosis with Lime

THE MEDICAL RECORD (New York) of December 18, 1909, contains an exhaustive discussion of "The Treatment of Pulmonary Tuberculosis Based on the Assumption That the Dietetic Cause of the Disease is Lime Starvation," written by Dr. John F. Russell.

In the course of this article Dr. Russell says: "The condition which is recognized as preceding the active development of tuberculosis in the adult may be considered as due to lime starvation. . . . Among inorganic substances, lime salts appear to be of special physiological importance . . . but if the salts are not in organic combination, it is difficult to suppose that the cells can appropriate them for food."

Years of widespread use have confirmed us in the belief that the marked success of Eckman's Alternative in cases of pulmonary tuberculosis (consumption) and chronic throat and chest troubles is due in large measure to its content of lime, which is so combined with other remedial ingredients as to be easily appropriated by the cells.

Doubtless this method of compounding a vital element with other valuable agents has had much to do with the results obtained in many cases of these afflictions, which appear to have yielded to Eckman's Alternative. In any event, its administration has seemed to secure the desired result—without causing digestive disturbance or discomfort.

As it contains no opiates, narcotics or habit-forming drugs, it is safe to try. Your druggist will order it for you if he is out of it, or you can send direct to the sole manufacturers.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Dec. 12.—Pellagra has invaded New Mexico, Dr. R. E. McBride reporting three cases among Spanish-Americans in Dona Ana county to the Southwest Medical and Surgical association. IMPROVEMENT COMPANY GOES IN FOR CATTLE

SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL
Alamogordo, N. M., Dec. 12.—The prevailing low prices of alfalfa have compelled the Alamogordo Improvement company to embark in the cattle business for a while at least. The company's crop of alfalfa this season is the heaviest that has ever been harvested, and rather than sell at the prevailing prices, the management decided to feed the hay to cattle during the winter and early spring.

A consignment of 113 steers, 4-year-olds and upward, has just been brought into Alamogordo from the Arizona ranges. A tract of land north-east of the old ball grounds is being fenced and fitted up with feeding racks and watering troughs, to take care of the herd. It is the plan to put the steers on the market in March or April. This is the first experiment of the kind that has been tried in Alamogordo, and ranchmen generally are watching it with the keenest interest.

Rate on Beans Reduced.
Santa Fe, Dec. 12.—Of some importance to the New Mexican bean raisers is the reduction announced today in the freight rates via the Panama canal from Pacific coast points to $6 a ton on beans. The railroad rates from Los Angeles to New York have been $18 a ton on beans, the water rate via the canal, between those two points is only $6 now.

Congress Elects Twitchell Governor.
Santa Fe, Dec. 12.—W. B. Twitchell, of Phoenix, Ariz., brother of Col. Ralph E. Twitchell, was yesterday elected governor of the Arizona chapter of the American Mining Congress. J. Lorenzo Hubbell, also well known in New Mexico, was chosen one of the directors.

CHINO COPPER FILMS FINISHED AFTER HARD WORK

Remarkable Pictures Taken of Gigantic Mining Operations in Southwestern New Mexico Are Success.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Dec. 12.—"Hurrah!" shouted the overworked forces developing and printing the New Mexico exposition motion picture films in the laboratory and studio of the Santa Fe Motion Picture company, last night, as the last inch of the 1,200 feet of the Chino Copper company picture showed up clearly. It's a reel that can be shown in twenty minutes but that it took four days of the hardest kind of labor to take and another day and night's hard labor to develop and print. But the trouble was worth while for finer picture of gigantic mining operations was never taken and several of the biggest picture houses in America who had attempted to take it had failed.

First on the film come the general officers and superintendents of the operations of the company at Santa Rita, which are the biggest mining activity in New Mexico. Then comes the drilling testing the mineral bearing zone. An explosion of 50,000 pounds of dynamite follows and it is an awe-inspiring scene as an entire mountain is seen toppling over. The next scene shows the hungry scoop shovels at work like an endless chain, five scoops filling a car, the cars being continuously on the move, empties replacing the loaded ones quicker than it takes to tell it. In conclusion, the operation of the concentrator is shown from the point where the ore enters the bins until it is carried to the cars. The picture would make a fortune for any private movie enterprise.

Some Films These.

The film tackled today was that of the coal mining operations at Koehier and is equally as wonderful. The third film is that of the Normal university play, in three reels, and is nearly completed, then comes the Roosevelt Military Institute, then the Indian dances and fiestas and finally the lumber industry, the film starting with the thrilling scenes in the Santa Barbara Tie & Pole Co.'s camp, the log boom in the Rio Grande, the finish of the log run at Santo Domingo and the complete operations of the mill of the American Lumber company at Albuquerque.

There are something like 35,000 feet of these films, and Chase Bell, the operator, leaves on Monday for Dawson to take the last of them, that which will portray operations of the Stag Canyon Fuel company at Dawson, one of the most modern and best equipped coal mining camps in the world. It will take day and night work until December 25, without a day off for Christmas, to finish the films in every detail so that they may be shown the first day of the San Diego exposition, that is, on New Year.

To facilitate operations, an electric motor and another drum were installed today. Maurice Brache, the expert operator recently employed, is printing films at the rate of 3,000 feet a night and is making a fine job of it. It may be of interest to know that the films which will be shown at the regular performance at the Kays theater on Tuesday evening were registered while in the employ of one of the big motion picture firms of the country.

Shipping Big Exhibits.
The models of the New Mexico landmarks were crated today as were also the paintings by Karl Fleischner of the New Mexico mission churches and other material for the New Mexico building. A big freight car is being loaded with the exhibits and will leave here on Monday, stopping at Albuquerque on Tuesday to take on board the mineral exhibit. It will take a week at San Diego to install the exhibits for which everything has been gotten ready on the ground by Dr. Edgar L. Hewett.

One of the most unique trademarks ever devised and which will be legally registered, has been furnished the Santa Fe Motion Picture company by Waldo Twitchell. The center is the Anasazi symbol of the cliff dwellers, more striking than the swastika, and it will revolve slowly whenever thrown on the screen. Around it is the legend "Santa Fe Motion Picture Company," and surrounding it is "The Sunshine State," while beneath it in bold letters, stands out "Made in New Mexico." Around the entire trademark is a "T" with, artistically drawn. The trademark will appear at the end of every reel, and the "Made in New Mexico" will mean an especially effective boost for the state.

Thus far, none of the New Mexico exposition pictures has been shown outside of the studio, excepting one test at the Kays theater here.

Twenty-third Hunting Accident.
Santa Fe, Dec. 12.—The twenty-third serious gunning accident in New Mexico this fall, resulted in the death of Willy Zornwald in the Capitan mountains, the fatal bullet being fired accidentally by Harry Little. The two young men while out gunning separately and coming around a little knoll Little saw what he supposed to be game moving among the pinyon brush. He discharged his gun and Zornwald fell dead.

Must Return Stub Books.
Santa Fe, Dec. 12.—Game and Fish Warden Trinidad C. de Baca today sent out notices to all deputies to return stub books by December 25, all license and stub books for 1914 and will issue in lieu thereof the license books for 1915.

INSURANCE COMPANIES SETTLE ON POLICIES

Alamogordo, N. M., Dec. 12.—A settlement has been effected in the suit of the owners and mortgagees of the Fraternal city sanatorium against the several insurance companies which carried policies on the property. The main building was completely destroyed by fire in February, 1912. There were five policies on the building, totaling $9,250.

All the companies refused to pay the policies, and suit was filed. After a partial hearing in the district court in Alamogordo, the plaintiffs asked for non-suit, without prejudice. Suit later was filed in Fort Worth, and has been compromised. The insurance companies paying $5,000, the plaintiffs paying the court costs.

FIGHT IN SANTA FE GOING OVER SCHOOL FIGURES

Educational Expert of National Bureau Spends Busy Day as Part of Survey of State of New Mexico.

SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL
Santa Fe, Dec. 12.—H. W. Knight of Washington, D. C., educational expert, spent today going over the statistics and blank forms of the department of education, having arrived from Las Vegas with Superintendent of Public Instruction Alva N. White. On Monday evening he will lecture in the Palace of the Governors on "European Agriculture Reorganized Through the Schools," deeming it a subject of special importance to New Mexico. He will illustrate his points by the example of Denmark, of which he made a thorough study. His lecture will be illustrated and a reception will be tendered him after his address.

Mr. Knight has visited the schools of Colfax and San Miguel counties and was pleased with much that he saw while in a few particulars, of course, he has criticisms to make. However, he likes the spirit with which those criticisms were received and how readily teachers and authorities are to adopt suggestions. He was particularly impressed by the interest which the people manifest in the schools.

On Monday forenoon he will visit the Santa Fe city schools and during the afternoon and all day Tuesday will accompany County Superintendent John V. Conway on a tour of the rural schools, leaving Tuesday evening for Albuquerque. He today wired C. J. Superintendent John V. Conway, of Albuquerque, according to his request to make a public address on Wednesday or Thursday evening at the Albuquerque high school.

The material gathered by Mr. Knight will be included in a bulletin to be issued by the United States bureau of education on the New Mexico schools. His expert survey is devoted mainly to the rural schools. After next week he will go to Missouri and after that to Louisiana on school survey trips. Superintendent White will accompany him to Albuquerque on Tuesday evening.

Mr. Knight is a Norwegian by birth.

SAVED BY PERUNA Two Strong Men Who Were Down and Out.

Catarrh of Stomach, Low Spirits, Loss of Flesh, Lost all Faith in Medicine.

Head-aches, Loss of Smell and Taste, Fever, Nose Bleed, A Perfect Wreck.

Mr. George W. Chase, No. 124 Nevada Bldg., Denver, Colo., writes: "I have all the faith in the world in your medicine, as it cured me of catarrh of the stomach."

"I was in a most distressing condition. I looked dark indeed. I could not eat. My food did not do me any good. I gradually lost flesh and was thin and emaciated."

"I was glad indeed to find that the first bottle of Peruna was doing me good, and so I kept on using it, with a gradual increase of appetite and strength."

"Three months after I first began using it I was a well man, and all the credit is due to Peruna. I recommend it to all who are in need of a medicine for catarrh."

If you have any reason to doubt the statements of either one of these gentlemen whose names accompany this article, just drop them a line enclosing a stamp and see if you do not get a prompt reply verifying and reiterating the words that we have quoted from them. Remarkable statements they are, too. There are five million people in the United States more or less affected with catarrh, who ought to read these words and act upon them.

Mr. Edward M. Burd, 2221 Laclede Ave., St. Louis, Mo., writes: "I have used your medicine for several years and it has given entire satisfaction, not only in my own family, but also that of others of my friends, and would cheerfully recommend the use of Peruna. I certainly do endorse your medicine."

Peruna speaks for itself. Just give it a chance. Try a bottle of it. You will then know for yourself.

There are people who object to taking fluid medicines. To such people the Peruna Tablets are especially valuable. They are convenient to carry in the pocket.

Appropriation bills will have the right of way in the senate as rapidly as they come from the house, Senator Kern, chairman of the caucus, said. The legislative program will not be extensive otherwise.

"The conservation measures, the Philippines bill and the ship purchase bill will be taken up as soon as they come from committees, but appropriations will be taken up whenever they are ready."

"The immigration bill was not discussed in the caucus, as it is expected that it will be voted on before many days."

"We certainly will" complete the program by March 4," said Senator Kern.

DEMOCRATS PLAN FAST WORK IN SHORT SESSION

Purpose Is to Finish Program and Have Clean Slate When Clock Strikes Noon on March 4.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WRITER
Washington, Dec. 12.—Senate democrats in caucus today decided to speed up the legislative program to avoid the necessity of an extra session at the end of the sixty-third congress, March 4, next.

It has decided to abandon a long holiday recess, the senators agreeing to confer with house leaders on a plan to recess over Christmas, from December 22 to 28, and to remain in session New Year's week except for a half day. It also was decided to hold night sessions of the senate once a week unless it is in the opinion of the steering committee it

The New REO The Fifth

The Incomparable Four

$1050.

The New Reo The Fifth—"The Four"

WHAT NEED WE ADD to what you already know of this great car? For of course you do know. If you have not owned one, you have many friends who do. And they have doubtless told you in more extravagant terms than we would care to use.

MORE THAN 40,000 of them are today in hands of users; 12,000 were sold last season.

AND AS PROVING the popularity of this model we need only say that on November 10th the last Touring Car left the Reo factory. And that for thirty days at least there has not been, so far as we know, a Reo the Fifth on any Dealer's sales-floor anywhere.

THE PROOF OF QUALITY in any product is "will it sell in the off-season?" Autumn is supposed to be the off-season for motor cars. Not for Reo cars though—we have never known a time when, even with our splendid factory facilities, we were able to make enough Reos to supply the demand.

WE HAVE JUST INCREASED our plants nearly 50 per cent—necessary to produce the new "Six." And we hope to be able to more nearly supply our dealers this year than formerly.

AS WE HAVE NO AMBITION, however, to be maker of the most automobiles, but of the best, we do not expect, ever, to supply all the demand for Reo cars. That would be our idea of—well—the reverse of success.

TO MAKE THEM EVER BETTER—so much better that, always, the demand will beckon the supply—that is our desire.

FOUR YEARS AGO we announced that, after more than 23 years of experimenting—testing—proving—we had produced a chassis that we believed was finality in all essentials of design. And we said so.

SOME FRIENDLY RIVALS laughed at that statement—said that changes would continue to come with the seasons—as they always had.

NEVERTHELESS WE WERE CERTAIN in our own minds that, in the three-unit power plant and in other features that have become known as peculiarly Reo, we had established principles that would not change—so long at least as the principles of gas engines remained as they were.

IMPROVEMENTS? REFINEMENTS? of course—but only in minor details. The world moves and of course we expect to move with it. Reo has from the first been in the van—we mean to stay there.

BUT IN THE FUNDAMENTALS of a self-propelled pleasure car, we were convinced we were right. Events have only served to confirm us in that belief. Reo the Fifth is today, in all essentials, the same as then—and it is still the leader in its price class.

FROM SEASON TO SEASON we have made such improvements as the progress of the science has made possible. And as our facilities have increased and our purchasing ability become greater, we have from time to time reduced the price of Reo cars at the same time that we have increased the quality and the size.

IN THE CASE OF THIS FOUR we have been able to do two things we had considered impossible—we have made a bigger, at the same time we have made a still better car.

READ THAT AGAIN—MULL IT OVER—sense the significance of the statement—a larger, more luxurious car—refined and improved at every point where refinement or improvement was possible—and at a lesser price!

HOW WAS THAT POSSIBLE? you ask. Tell you—

THE MOTOR PROVED to have more power than was necessary—more than was really desirable for the weight of the car. Refinements, recently made, increased that power still more.

SO WE FOUND we could add three and one-half very desirable inches to the length of the car, give the buyer a more luxurious equipage, and yet have a car of ample power.

THAT DIFFERENCE IN LENGTH—and we made it wider at the same time—makes all the difference in the world in the capacity and the comfort of the car. It gives a full door—without having to cut the corners to let the wheel-house in.

OTHER NOTICEABLE IMPROVEMENTS—in a car which formerly seemed almost perfection—are:

IMPROVED UPHOLSTERING—higher backs to seats. Extremely low-back fad is waning. Now back to comfort.

IMPROVED WINDSHIELD support—with braces running from cowl to body sill—secret of success of "One-Man Top."

POCKETS in all doors.

INSTRUMENTS mounted flush on instrument board.

HOOD FASTENERS—new and improved type. Stay put—and unfasten readily when you want them to.

ENTIRELY NEW TOP—a real one-man top. Can actually be put up or down by one man—after long use as well as when new. Secret is in the secure attachment mentioned above.

WINDSHIELD—Oval moulding and pressed steel construction throughout. New method of fastening—and top attaches direct to and is immovably supported by windshield.

RADIATOR—New method of securing to frame—more flexible—prevents strains on roughest roads. More cooling capacity. Cover, one-piece pressed steel—same distinctive and "clayey" Reo design.

WHEEL BASE—increased three inches.

NOBBY TREAD TIRES on rear wheels and extra wide, oversized, demountable rims with new locking device.

SPRINGS—Improved method of lubrication for spring shackles.

STREAMLINE HUB CAPS—an exclusive Reo feature. Covers all bolt heads, dust and oil proof. Removed by small screw driver—no need for large special wrench.

ANTI-RATTLE on brakes, and anti-rattling support.

IMPROVED STARTING mechanism—same system but doing away with shifting gears; also with sliding clutches and resistance. Silent; no over-running or roller ratchets nor any part to wear when car is in operation. We think it is perfection.

NEW HEADLIGHTS with hingeless, anti-rattling doors and outside focus attachment.

NEW DESIGN FENDERS—crown type, closer fitting under pan. Not the cheap-looking rolled type, but the kind you see on high priced cars.

NEW METHOD of supporting ignition coil. New design universal joint for generator—impossible for backlash or rattle to develop by wear.

NEW CYLINDER DESIGN—Independent exhaust ports. Injector type exhaust manifold. New low-pressure muffler.

NEW THREE-PIECE piston rings giving greater power and acceleration. Ball bearing fan—one piece hub and larger bearings.

IMPROVED VALVE operation mechanism—larger surfaces, ball joints, self-lubricating.

NEW ONE-PIECE cam shaft—larger bearings—and hardened and ground.

ADDED FRICTION SURFACE to clutch. New operating mechanism calling for less foot pressure. Improved thrust bearings.

EQUIPMENT—One-man top. Flush instruments; highest priced d'Arsonval type ammeter and usual tools and accessories.

DELIVERIES BEGIN December 15th. Your local dealer will be able to show you and to take your order for this matchless car on or about that date.

Reo Purchasing Power Made

A Condition That Was To Others, Proved To

WE PROMPTLY TOOK, and are giving you—full advantage of it.

READ CAREFULLY—It's the Silver Lining to the War-Cloud.

YOU ARE OF COURSE AWARE that the Reo Motor Car Company is financially the second strongest Automobile concern in the world.

OR WEREN'T YOU?—We had supposed that knowledge was common property. Anyway, you can easily ascertain the truth of the assertion.

WE WOULDN'T MENTION IT HERE—never have before—but it is necessary to state the fact in order to explain something that is otherwise unexplainable—the wonderful values we are able to give in the two Reo models shown and priced above.

FOR "WONDERFUL VALUES" is the only term that expresses it. Think of it!—The New Reo the Fifth—that incomparable four, improved at many points and a larger car than its immediate predecessor—and at $125.00 less than last season.

AND THE SENSATIONAL REO SIX—A six designed and made the Reo way with the Reo guarantee at the amazing price of—$1385!

THAT CALLS FOR EXPLANATION, for you nor anybody else dreamed it would ever be possible to produce such cars at such prices.

SO SURE WERE WE OURSELVES of that, we went so far as to state in an advertisement a year ago "no maker ever can—not even Reo ever can—give greater value than this"—speaking then of Reo the Fifth at $1175.

YOU RECALL THE STATEMENT doubtless—so when you saw the price, $1050, quoted above—and realized also that this latest Reo the Fifth is a larger and an improved car, you wondered.

WELL HERE'S THE ANSWER—and it's mightily interesting.

THE GREAT EUROPEAN WAR has created two sets of conditions—contradictory in some aspects.

FOR EXAMPLE, while we know that Six hundred Millions of dollars go into American every thirty days—a guarantee of production and of a market for automobiles in the months—at the same time you know the banks are most conservative about loaning out. And that is as it should be. Safety out. AND SO YOU KNOW, if you stop to think about it—that many manufacturers, of automobiles and of other commodities, who are financially sound but who lacked a large plus of cash, found it impossible to borrow during the past few months. These are necessarily limited in their capacity to own funds.

AND THAT WAS WHERE REO, with its enviable financial position—having the cash and in cash, and controlled, not by absentee shareholders but by men who daily direct Reo destinies—was able to avail itself of a condition that then existed.

TO BUY WHEN OTHERS WERE EAGER TO SELL—and when there was practically no competition in the buying market—

TO MAKE MORE CARS at a time when makers must perforce curtail—and to them ready for our dealers and customers—the demand will be heaviest.

NO ONE COULD HAVE FORESEEN a condition that had arisen. The best authority on world affairs did not anticipate the war. At the time when we said "this is the value it will ever be possible for us to give," we had in mind of course the normal conditions that then existed. Those conditions changed over night.

WHY A FEW MONTHS AGO, if a manufacturer wanted a few thousand tons of steel of a special kind, he had to go to the mills and wait his turn.

THEN THE WAR—The doubt; the uncertainty—stagnation for a time.

THEN IF IT BECAME KNOWN that there was an order for steel in sight we found, figuratively speaking, representatives of twenty steel mills camping on the steps of a morning, waiting to say please to the purchasing agent.

Reo Motor Car Company

The REO SIX

The Six of Sixty Superiorities

$1385.

These Wonderful Values Possible Insurmountable Obstacle Reo's Golden Opportunity

THAT CONDITION was of the moment only—but it existed. And only because we were alert and able to take instant advantage of it are we now able to give you the unprecedented—the unexpected—the un hoped-for values we announce in this ad.

WE HAD THE CASH—our own, to use on the instant without let or hindrance from anyone. We could declare another dividend—or invest to vastly greater advantage in the future of Reo. We chose the latter course.

WE BOUGHT, and, paying the cash when cash was at a premium, bought right. Bought better than we had ever hoped—secured quality at prices theretofore impossible. From tires to electric starters—steel to leather—and hair—and paint.

SPACE PERMIT we would like to enumerate many points where we have been able to incorporate value heretofore impossible.

NE MUST SUFFICE. Among the "Sixty Superiorities" you'll notice—and you'll be surprised to find—"worm bevel driving gears" in this $1385 Six.

OW THINK BACK and you'll recall that a year ago "worm bevel gears" were loudly emphasized as a feature of $5000 cars.

CERTAIN CONCERN owns the patents on the only practical machines for generating this type of gears. Their capacity had been spoken for by European automobile makers. Our engineers wanted them. We tried to buy—impossible.

WHEN THE WAR BROKE OUT. European factories practically closed. Our opportunity again—cabled for options. Got them—and the machines.

AND NOW YOU WHO BUY THIS REO SIX obtain this desirable feature—one you have coveted to buy but considered unattainable at any price you could afford to pay.

THE WAR IS BENEFICIAL to those American manufacturers who, like Reo, are alert to take advantage of it.

AND SO WE HAVE NO APOLOGIES to make even to those friends to whom we sold 12,000 Reos last season. Nor for a statement that we made in the best of faith—and must now contradict in the same good faith.

FOR IN GIVING OUR CUSTOMERS the full benefit of the Reo purchasing power—instead of retaining the former price and taking the additional profit ourselves—we are only carrying out that policy which, adhered to from the first, has placed the Reo Motor Car Company in the splendid position it occupies today.

SPEAKING OF POLICY—let us correct an impression that we know is abroad.

OUR FRIENDS CRITICIZE US at times for what they call our "ultra-conservatism."

ABOUT THE ONLY COMPLAINT we ever hear from Reo dealers is that we are too modest in setting forth the merits of the Reo product.

WELL, PERHAPS THAT IS TRUE—if adherence to the strict truth in our ads; if a determination not to be carried away by the mania for mere quantities; if we prefer to be second in numbers of cars produced that we may be first in quality—if these be indications of "ultra-conservatism"—why then we plead guilty.

BUT OUR FRIENDLY CRITICS must concede that that Conservative Reo policy has produced tremendous results. Note the statement in the third paragraph of this ad.

WE DON'T CALL IT that, however. We call it conservatism militant. Aggressive conservatism. Alert conservatism. Being sure—absolutely sure—we are right, then going ahead unflinchingly—irresistibly.

DOESN'T THE VERY FACT that we were financially able to and did take advantage of a condition that we knew was transitory; and the further fact that, having bought better, we instantly offered the better values to Reo buyers—doesn't that look like "militant" rather than "ultra"-conservatism?

WE THINK SO—and so we leave the case in your hands.

any, Lansing, Mich.

The Six of "Sixty Superiorities"

THIS SIX IS SENSATIONAL not because it is a six but because it is a Reo Six.

FOR REO WAS NOT one of the first to embrace the "Six" idea. Reo was one of the last. REO WILL NEVER BE one of the first to adopt any innovation—any new—any unproven idea. For our policy has ever been, not to sell ideas—inventions—but automobiles. Dependable automobiles.

AND YOU WILL ALWAYS find Reo "trailing" to just that extent. We will never be one of those to "take a chance"—with our customers' money.

NOT UNTIL EVERY uncertain or unknown quantity has become a certainty will any new type of car or motor or axle or part be offered with the Reo name-plate.

SO YOU CAN ALWAYS BE SURE—as you have in the past—that in buying a Reo you are investing in no experiment.

THIS SIX IS THE RIPEST result of Reo engineering experience. The very fact that we make and offer it to you is evidence that the "Six" idea has now passed the realm of uncertainty.

AND FURTHER, let us assure you that, every one of the sixty points of superiority enumerated below have been tried—proven—in fact, helped make the fame of Reo the Fifth—the Four that has set the pace for several years and is today setting it faster than ever.

THE "SIXTY SUPERIORITIES":

- (1) FLAT TUBE RADIATOR—won't leak through freezing. Flat tubes expand—don't fracture under pressure of frost.
- (2) RADIATOR DESIGN—an asset because the sloping, curved visor and graceful contour give class to the entire car. Costs more—worth it.
- (3) STREAMLINE HUB CAPS—protect bearing from dust, keep oil in. Removed with small screw-driver—original with Reo. Will be widely copied.
- (4) EXTRA HEAVY, one-piece, forged front axle—50 per cent over-size.
- (5) TIMKEN BEARINGS (4) in front hubs. Here, before indicative of high price.
- (6) REO CYLINDER DESIGN—guarantees straight cylinders, uniformity of water jackets. No distorted cylinders—no scored pistons.
- (7) SAFETY—FIRST—and sure—oil system.
- (8) THREE-PIECE piston rings—more power—quicker acceleration.
- (9) FIFTY PER CENT over-size crank shaft. Ever hear of a Reo crank shaft breaking? Never.
- (10) EXTRA HEAVY cam shaft—extra large cams. One reason for silence and uniformity of power in this Reo.
- (11) ECCENTRIC FAN BELT adjustment—best appreciated after you've owned the car a while.
- (12) SPIRAL HALF-TIME gears. Silent—and 50 per cent stronger.
- (13) VALVE ACTION—roller lifters. Some high priced cars still have mushroom lifters. But they also have a chauffeur to adjust them every little while!
- (14) OVERHEAD INTAKE VALVE—not exhaust. Another reason for greater power and silence.
- (15) FIBRE ROLLER tappets on intake—another "silence" feature.
- (16) VALVE ENCLOSURE—silences, and keeps them silent—see next paragraph—
- (17) BREATHER TUBE exhausts in valve enclosure—keeps parts bathed in oil spray, and—
- (18) NO OIL SPRAYED on outside of motor by breather-tube, eliminates most fruitful cause of dirt accumulating.
- (19) TWO FLEXIBLE JOINTS between motor drive and generator. Most use one only.
- (20) ADJUSTABLE main crank shaft bearings. Only motor made in America in which main as well as connecting rod bearings can be adjusted without taking motor out of car. No shims. See the book.
- (21) DUAL injector type—exhaust manifold. Perfect scavenging of cylinders—no back-fire from one to another—more power, better cooling.
- (22) WATER-HEATED intake manifold—idea borrowed from high priced foreign cars.
- (23) REO STEERING gear—different and better. Not a "talking point"—because it's so simple you can see it—but a driving convenience much prized by Reo owners. No backlash—adjustable for wear.
- (24) DRY DISC CLUTCH—You know the superiority of this type—no tendency to drag. Saves gears, axles, tires—and the driver's temper.
- (25) THREE-UNIT power plant. Always was, always will be a Reo feature. Only excuse for Two-unit idea is cheaper and easier for maker—less accessible, more expensive to owner.
- (26) FOUR UNIVERSAL JOINTS—most makers get along with one or two—also at the buyer's expense!
- (27) BRAKE AND CLUTCH control system—only one hand-lever. Both brakes lock—both double acting—both "service brakes."
- (28) REO ONE LEVER CONTROL—simplest ever devised. Broadly covered by patents. They all covet—but they copy at a distance.
- (29) REO Gear-shift—direct connected lever—you feel the gears as if your fingers touched them. "It's a pleasure to shift gears."
- (30) REO patented locking device—impossible for two gears to mesh at once.
- (31) HYATT bearings in transmission.
- (32) "INDEX" PLATE surrounding control rod—"a novice could drive without a lesson."
- (33) FULL FLOATING rear axle—50 per cent over-size shafts.
- (34) TIMKEN bearings in rear axle—everywhere.
- (35) NEW TYPE torque-arm takes stresses that would otherwise be transmitted to delicate mechanisms. See the book.
- (36) WORM BEVEL driving gears—how we were able to incorporate this feature is told in the "story." Read it again.
- (37) CANTILEVER rear springs—most luxurious riding springs ever invented. See the book.
- (38) RIGID attachment of cantilever springs to axle—act as radius rods—keep axle in perfect alignment at all times.
- (39) REMY electric starter and lighting. Made like the car—to stay good. Always starts. Some don't, you know.
- (40) STARTER hook-up—exclusively Reo. Worm-drive—connected all the time but no wear when car is running. No shifting gears—no over-running ratchets. A lot of better features—see the book for the rest.
- (41) STARTER LEVER—handy, but unobtrusive—you touch it only when you want to.
- (42) TIRE PUMP attached to starter shaft—connected at all times. Always ready—no lifting of the hood—hose carried in special compartment.
- (43) DIMMING attachments to headlights.
- (44) INSTRUMENT light and tail light connected in series—if tail light goes out pilot light warns driver.
- (45) SPECIAL tail-light switch—a little thing but most important when touring. Conforms to regulations of all states.
- (46) PRACTICALLY one-piece pressed steel cowl. Pressed steel body on wood frame—so made it can't spring "a creak."
- (47) 6 1/2-INCH WIDER tonneau. Measure the others—measure them!
- (48) 50 PER CENT OVER-SIZE in all vital parts—the Reo factor of safety.
- (49) REO accuracy—Reo care—Reo inspection everywhere. Parts ground to absolute exactness.
- (50) 190-odd steel forgings—in many places where others think castings good enough.
- (51) REAL LEATHER upholstery—we've never found any substitute that was "just as good."
- (52) REAL HAIR—retains its spring as nothing else does.
- (53) REAL RUBBER and Sea Island cotton in tires—not cheesecloth and Jersey clay.
- (54) VENTILATING, rain-vision, clear-vision windshield—and attached to stay put.
- (55) CLEVER—and strong—windshield and top support—have to study in detail to fully appreciate.
- (56) GENUINE one-man top. 5-bow type—only other car using same kind sells for several hundred dollars more.
- (57) LIGHTER weight in proportion to power—result of using better materials.
- (58) EVERY PART—radiator-cap to tail-light—Reo made and Reo guaranteed.
- (59) MOST ACCESSIBLE car in the world. Adjustment can be made to any unit without disturbing any other. Value in dollars to the owner is inestimable.
- (60) FINALLY—and most important to you, the Reo name-plate. This signifies that the Reo guarantee, with all it stands for in integrity and financial stability, goes with the car.

IN THE WORLD OF SPORT

IMPORTANT BOUTS TO BE STAGED AT THE GARDEN SOON

Gunboat Smith Will Make First Appearance Since His Knockout by Langford Against Jim Coffey.

(By James J. Corbett, Former Heavyweight Champion of the World.)
New York, Dec. 12.—The prospects for a season of high-class sport in this vicinity are very promising. While the Freddy Welsh-Shugrue match did not develop into the contest local fans confidently expected, the Jersey boy's victory made up for whatever might be lacking in the way of a boxing treat. However, there are a number of important bouts on the Madison Square Garden schedule for early settlement, and among the combinations that may be staged for the entertainment of local boxing fans are Freddy Welsh and Packey McFarland, Mike Gibbons and Jimmy Clabby, Jack Britton and Gibbons at 147 pounds several hours before ring time, Young Shugrue and Charley White, and last but not least, a match between the winner of the Welsh-McFarland bout and Willie Ritchie, American lightweight champion.

Next Tuesday night two of the best of the local contingent of white heavyweights are down for a ten-round bout, and judging from past performances of the men the chances are that one or the other will have proved his superiority as a puncher in less than the time limit. Coffey has not been seen in action in a local ring in several months, and Smith has been losing since Sam Langford stopped him over in Boston.

The battle will decide which is to be pitted against Joe Willard at the Garden early next month, so it can be safely assumed that the boys will try their "dander" as a slice of the "gate" in a match with Willard which will be well worth going after.

If the plans of the matchmaker of the big club develop it is likely that Gibbons and Clabby will be seen here early in the new year. It is up to the fighters themselves. If they really are ready to have it out the Garden folk will be glad to stage the match—and the inducements offered are exceedingly attractive. The man who refuses the offer will do so only for the very good reason that he does not want any of the other's game.

AMERICAN LIGHTWEIGHT CHAMP STILL TO BE RECKONED WITH

The match between Young Shugrue and Charley White ought to prove a most interesting affair—one of the best of those scheduled among the lightweights. It will be in the nature of an elimination contest between two of the younger and most promising of the division. The winner will place himself in line for a battle with Ritchie for the American title.

Many scribbles in boxing the claims of their favorites for a match with Freddy Welsh for the world's title appear to have lost sight of the fact that there is an American champion to be reckoned with first. Willie Ritchie is still in the game—very still at present, maybe, and due some consideration for matches in which titular aspirations are at stake.

I understand Willie will head this way shortly after the holidays and his appearance on the scene will be cordially welcomed. Ritchie can have all the matches he wants around here and there are a number of boys who promise to make it interesting for the American title holder. A bout between either White or Shugrue and Ritchie would prove popular with the fans, and the result would give us a line on possible early changes in the possession of the world's championship. Then, too, there is the possibility that Packey McFarland, Chicago's ward, may come back for light-weight honors and upset the plans of the ambitious youngsters.

On the whole, the prospects are exceedingly bright for an interesting winter ahead for local patrons of the sport.

DUBLIN GIANT IS FIGHTER IN MAKING, CORBETT THINKS

Gunboat Smith says he is not at all discouraged because of the boating Langford administered to him. The Gunner says there never was a fighter yet who couldn't dig up an alibi—that he wasn't in the best of shape to box the negro, that his hands were in miserable shape and that he hopes at some later date to reverse the verdict. From whom those who saw the bout have to say it will be considerably later, if ever. The plain truth of the matter is that Smith does not clash with Langford.

Coffey and Smith should put up an interesting battle. If Coffey has a capable instructor he might develop into a first-class fighting man. Jim has one of the sweetest left hands in the business, but like many another husky youngster forgets that that member is a very useful asset, and relies almost entirely on his right. I recall the night Coffey met Battling Levinsky. I was seated near the ring-side, watching the men closely and discovered the secret of the latter's success against the big men of the ring. In this instance it rested in his ability to time and avoid the clumsy right-hand punches his opponent was swinging at him throughout the contest. Seeing this I spoke to Billy Gibbons, Coffey's manager, and urged him to advise Coffey to use a left jab. Jim acted upon this advice and for a few minutes in the next round had Levinsky bewildered. But encouraged by his success, he waded in trying to put his man around, swinging wildly, which gave Levinsky the opportunity he was waiting for to sting his man with lefts to the face—for Coffey's swings were always telegraphed in advance and it was an easy matter to avoid them. Had Coffey kept up his jabbing with the left I believe he would have weakened the Battler until his superior size and weight would have made it a comparatively easy matter to win with a knockout.

If Coffey does not trade rights with Smith he should win the fight. But I am afraid that he is one of those hat-headed fellows who forgets what little he knows of the game every time he happens to be stung a little, and there is small chance of one of that type ever making much headway in the game. On the other hand Smith only knows one system, and that is to depend on round arm punches. He is a mark for a man with a good left, and Coffey with his natural advantages ought to beat him to the punch every time. It is safe to mixing it with the hard-hitting Gunner the bout is likely to end early.

ANXIOUS TO SEE WILLARD TAKE ON MEVEY OR LANGFORD

Jack Curley is authority for the statement that Jack Johnson will not meet McVeey, Langford or any other fighter before he boxes Willard some time next March. Billy Gibbons, the local fight manager, claims that Johnson and McVeey will have it out in Havana first. From the documents Curley has shown to the newspaper men he appears to have Johnson tied up so far as that individual's signature binds him to do anything. But Jack has run out on signed agreements several times in the past, and is just as likely to do it again. However, it seems to me that he would much prefer to tackle the comparatively inexperienced Willard than the dangerous McVeey, especially when the inducements are every bit as good in a financial way.

Tom Jones has promised to show Willard to local fans before long. If the big fellow doesn't show to better advantage than he did the last time the referee had a time separating aspirant is due for a good panning by the newspapers. Jones last appeared here in a ten-round bout with Carl Morris and it was the unanimous opinion of everyone who saw the giants stumble about the ring that it was about the poorest match ever staged in New York. Morris tried to fight, but didn't seem to know how. Willard on the other hand was content to stand still and let Morris try his abortive swings, which would always be followed by a clinch from which the referee had a time separating them. Only once did Willard show any life and that was along about the seventh round when he met Morris coming in and with a right uppercut raised a huge swelling on the Oklahoma man's face. But few let it go at that instead of trying to follow up the advantage.

Jones talks of matching Willard with any of the white heavies who would make "suitable" opponents for the big fellow. Judging by Jones' fight with Morris it shouldn't be a difficult matter to locate a "suitable" man. If Willard's backers cared anything for public opinion they would not hesitate to match the big fellow with Langford or McVeey. If Jones is all they claim him to be they are the only ones who know it. Certainly, Willard has never shown enough to warrant a match with Johnson for the championship, and if that pair ever do come together the battle will be viewed with suspicion in the event of the white man's success. Everyone interested in the sport realizes that Johnson's defeat would mean a fortune for everybody interested, including the champion who would profit immensely from the sale of picture rights, and the opinion has already been advanced by sporting men that inducements have been offered to the negro to "take the count." Of course, it is not fair to make such statements at this stage as the fight may be strictly on the level, but with Willard constantly refusing to undergo a test of his alleged skill before meeting Johnson the proposed match will be viewed with more or less suspicion.

REFeree WOULD HAVE GIVEN DECISION TO YOUNG SHUGRUE

The Welsh-Shugrue bout at the Garden last week furnished more evidence of the futility of the no-decision rule in championship matches. Hag Referee Roche was permitted to name the winner there would have been no alternative than to give the battle to Young Shugrue. While Welsh was not knocked out or even hurt badly he was outboxed and out-fought in nearly every round. Only in the tenth session did Welsh show to any advantage at all and even then his spirit was short-lived. Shugrue, meeting him at his own game and quickly putting the champion on the defensive again.

If Governor-elect Whitman had been present there would not now be much doubt what his decision will be when the matter of appointing a new boxing commission is brought before him next month.

5 TEAMS DROPPED FROM HARVARD 1915 SCHEDULE

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Cambridge, Mass., Dec. 12.—The schedule-makers for the Harvard football team of next year have decided upon a radical change from the list of last season, according to a statement from an authentic source tonight. Five of the teams which the Crimson faced this fall have been dropped. These are the University of Michigan, Washington and Jefferson, Springfield, V. M. C. college, Tufts and Bates.

Cully will open the season at the stadium. It is now proposed, Trinity, a newcomer, has been allotted the second game and negotiations have been closed with Pennsylvania State for the return of that team. The Princeton, Brown and Yale contests again will close the season in that order.

For the three mid-season dates thus left open, five teams are under consideration. These are Virginia, which has not previously appeared on a Harvard schedule; West Point, Carleton, Cornell and Williams, each of which has been absent from the stadium for one or more seasons.

One Coach for Princeton.

Princeton, N. J., Dec. 12.—The Princeton Athletic board also control yesterday took definite action which points toward the selection of a one-man coaching system for football. The consensus of opinion expressed by the members of the board was that the coaching of next year's team should be directed by one man who should be the adviser of the captain.

Wilson Hand-grinding Mills will grind dry bones, charcoal, rocks, gravel, crockery, glass, corn or any grain. The ideal mill for poultryman. You can't wear it out. Price $3.50. It's a wonder.

FIGHT SCHEDULED FOR FRIDAY NIGHT EXCITES INTEREST

Demand for Winner Comes From Socorro and George Is Wanted to Meet Thomas in Magdalena.

The George-Smauling bout, scheduled for December 18 at the New Mexico A. C. gymnasium, is attracting interest beyond Albuquerque's city limits. The Socorro followers of Magdalena want to see the winner and the Magdalena people want to witness Kid George in action.

Manager Winsor yesterday closed negotiations with the Magdalena promoters for George's appearance there December 25. He will meet Jack Thomas. They will weigh in at 160 at 3 o'clock in the afternoon before the fight. George can make the weight easily, having trained down to the 155-mark twice in recent time, according to Winsor. Thomas won a fight by a knockout at Magdalena a short time ago, hammering his way into the high esteem of the Magdalena fans at the same time, so he has been given another engagement.

Smauling Starts Training.

The Socorro promoters wanted Smauling, but if George wins over him they, of course, will sign him. The date for this scrap has not yet been decided upon. Arrangements will be completed with Winsor, if his man wins, immediately after the fight here. If he wins, Smauling will attend to the arrangements himself. Smauling began training yesterday, quitting his regular job to give all his time to putting himself in good physical condition. George jogged over the roads yesterday morning. He and Smauling will start gymnasium work this week.

TO PREVENT FEDERAL TEAMS FROM TAKING ON TOO MANY STARS

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
New York, Dec. 12.—Vice President Robert Ward, of the Federal League, who is also chief owner of the Brooklyn Dodgers, announced today a meeting of the executive committee of the league will be held in Chicago next Wednesday, December 16. The executive committee consists of President Gilmore, Vice President Ward, and President Robertson, of the Buffalo club.

The purpose of the meeting is to decide on a system of distribution of players when they are "captured" from the National and American leagues and to formulate plans which will make it impossible for any Federal league club owner in his eagerness for a winner, to overload his teams with stars.

In a statement Ward denied that any action was taken at the recent Federal league meeting to cut down the rosters of players and says every player who "showed enough faith in the Federal league to desert so-called organized baseball will be protected to the end of his agreement, even though it necessitates the carrying of high salaries men in bench and coaching roles."

SOX AND GIANTS TO TOUR CANAL ZONE AND CUBA AFTER SEASON

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Chicago, Dec. 12.—A tour to South America, the Canal Zone and Cuba will be made by the New York Yankees and the Chicago Americans at the close of the baseball season next fall, Charles Comiskey, president of the White Sox announced today. The two teams, which played around the world last winter, will make their next tour in a chartered vessel.

"We will leave immediately after the season closes next fall," said Mr. Comiskey. "It has not been decided whether we will play several games to the Pacific coast, then visit the Canal Zone and go on to South America or whether we will leave from New York."

"Emergency" Fund for League.

New York, Dec. 12.—In order to guarantee the followers of International league baseball that the league will go through the 1915 season regardless of what happens, each club in the league will be compelled to deposit $10,000 with President Barrow at a special meeting to be held January 10, it was announced tonight. The $80,000 collected in this way will be used as an "emergency fund," which will be used to bolster up any weak spots which may develop.

Kohlman Lowers Record.

New York, Dec. 12.—In winning the national senior cross-country run of the Amateur Athletic union over the six-mile course at Van Cortlandt park today in 33:36, Hannes Kohlman, the "Flying Finn," wearing the colors of the Irish-American Athletic club, established a new record for the course. Kohlman led all the way, winning by about sixty yards from Arthur J. Fogel of the Irish-American Athletic club, who finished second, about thirty yards ahead of his clubmate, Thomas Harden.

Will Be Married Anyhow.

Santa Fe, Dec. 12.—Louis Chavez and Crescencia Sandoval of Coy Springs do not know whether they will be married next week or not but they came to town nevertheless and took out a marriage license and then went to see Archbishop J. B. Plaval to plead a dispensation to be married at this time. However, if that is denied, they will postpone the wedding until January 8. But, they love each other so much that they are anxious to have the ceremony before Christmas. Deputy County Clerk Vicente Alarid issued the license and sent the couple away with his blessing and best wishes for a speedy ceremony.

HIGHWAY BUILDERS MEET IN WASHINGTON

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Washington, Dec. 12.—State highway commissioners and engineers from twenty-seven states were represented here today when the organization of the American Association of State Highway Officials was perfected. It was expected that all states would be represented in the organization ultimately. These officers were elected:

President, Henry G. Shirely, of Maryland; vice president, Austin R. Fletcher, of California; treasurer, F. P. Rodgers, of Michigan.

At today's meeting, seventeen states were represented by either their highway commissioners or engineers, while ten states were represented by proxy. None but state highway commissioners or engineers will constitute the voting power of the association.

The purpose of the organization is to centralize the work of good roads organizations as far as possible and to secure the holding of one good roads convention annually. It also was decided to co-operate with federal organizations in the consideration of road problems.

During the day the delegates called on President Wilson.

ITALY PLANS TO AID UNDER DOG WHEN WAR ENDS

(By Morning Journal Special Leased Wire.)
Chicago, Dec. 12.—Italy probably will ally herself with the defeated powers in the European war when peace is made to prevent them from being beaten down forever, according to Count Giulio Bolognesi, Italian consul in Chicago, in explaining today the Italian purchases of army supplies being made in the United States by his government.

"Italy is preparing to defend herself in case any nation infringes on her interests," Count Bolognesi said. "She is also preparing to be in a position to speak when the terms of peace are being made."

According to the count, the Italian army will number 2,200,000 men fully armed and equipped for active campaigning within a few months. The war, he said, probably would last until next October or November.

Five million bushels of wheat were bought in Chicago yesterday by the Italian government, he said. A commission now in New York will purchase 25,000 horses for the Italian army. Another set of buyers are in the south and west buying large lots of saddles and other supplies.

FAMINE GRIPS RICH AND POOR AMONG BELGIANS

King Albert Congratulates American Commission; U. S. Consul at Antwerp Appeals for Food for Family.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) London, Dec. 12 (8:40 p. m.)—Your work should save Belgium from famine.

In these words King Albert of the Belgians replied to a message of good wishes sent to him by the American commission for relief in Belgium. "His majesty," the king's reply continues, "earnestly congratulates your commission on its generous and enlightened initiative. He desires that you should know he is grateful."

That the famine in Belgium is no respecter of persons was vividly brought home by a letter received today by the American commission from Henry W. Diederich, the United States consul general at Antwerp, who appeals for food for his family, for his consular staff and for himself.

Mr. Diederich writes: "About ten days ago Jarvis Bell, of New York, while on his way to Brussels, kindly informed me that if my family and myself needed anything to let him or the relief committee know and that they would provide as best they could."

"At the time the offer was made I did not think it would be necessary to make use of it but we have been suddenly made to realize that Antwerp is not virtualized as common report has it, as a few days ago all the bakers in the city declared they were no longer able to supply bread for lack of flour."

"For the time being they again have started their work, but the outlook for a steady supply of bread is very gloomy. In view of this condition I would request the American relief committee to let me have at the earliest opportunity some flour for myself and the families of the consular staff."

Further relief went to the Belgian people today with the sailing of the steamer Neches, carrying 6,000 tons of food supplies. The entire cargo with the exception of a few small donations was purchased by the Rockefeller foundation and is valued at about $400,000. The bulk of the shipment consists of flour. Consignments of beans, peas, coffee and salted meats also were on board.

It was announced today by the commission for relief in Belgium that an arrangement had been completed through the postoffice department whereby it would soon be possible for any person in the United States who desires to help the Belgians by contributions of packages of food, to go to the nearest postoffice and send his donation in at the expense of the commission.

Postmaster General Burleson, the commission stated, had written that there was no objection to the commission's sending to each postmaster in the United States for exhibition in the lobby of his office a copy of the notice telling of the new arrangement.

WOMEN'S CLOTHES LIKE GRANDMOTHER WORE

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Chicago, Dec. 12.—New materials for women's early spring clothes are decidedly like those of grandmother's day, according to the bulletin of the Fashion Art League of America, issued here today. Fashions and furbelows of 1850 are to be worn more and more.

"Materials consist of narrow striped silk with a tulle finish. Silks in pompadour, small plaids and checks are the best of these, many crapes and veilings already are being shown with a small Dresden flower pattern which was revived a year ago. Cashmeres and satin clothes will be among the materials for street wear."

Colors will be subdued, with a prevalence of black and white, white predominating. Effects in stripes will be better for than checks or plaids, being smarter and more suitable to the new silhouette.

While the trend of styles is, and for some has been, toward the 1850 period, our 1915 mode of living demands a distinctly modern adaptation."

"UNCLE JOE" CALLS ON SPEAKER CHAMP CLARK

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Washington, Dec. 12.—Republicans returning to the next congress had a gathering today at the capitol. Former Speaker Cannon with spirits as high as in earlier days of his congressional career, called on Speaker Clark. Senator-elect Curtis of Kansas; Representative-elect Nicholas of New York and several others visited the house and met their one-time colleagues.

Mr. Cannon said he had made it a rule since he retired from the last congress not to go into the house chamber until he had a "fight" to do so, but that he was "going to break the rule to attend the Payne memorial tomorrow."

ESTIMATES MADE ON STRENGTH OF AERIAL CRAFT

Reports Submitted to House Naval Committee Show the Number of Aeroplanes and Dirigibles of Nations.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Washington, Dec. 12.—The present strength in air warfare of the European countries is indicated in official estimates submitted by the navy department to the house naval committee, made public today. It shows that Austria-Hungary this month has 600 aeroplanes and eight dirigibles; Belgium sixty aeroplanes, no dirigibles; Great Britain 900 aeroplanes, twelve dirigibles; France 1,400 aeroplanes, thirty dirigibles; Germany, 1,400 aeroplanes, sixty dirigibles; Italy 300 aeroplanes, four dirigibles; Japan twenty aeroplanes, two dirigibles; Russia, 1,000 aeroplanes, twenty dirigibles.

In a supplementary written statement to the committee, Rear Admiral Victor Blue, chief of the navigation bureau, said the navy was suffering more from a shortage of officers than from shortage of men. "There are altogether 4,565 men and 202 line officers short of the number necessary to man the vessels of 22 military value which could be added in time of war," the statement adds. "While there is little doubt that this demand would be met by the ex-service men now in civil life, confusion and delay would result unless an organization was perfected prior to the outbreak of war."

Shortage of Officers. "Shortage of officers in the total required is more serious than that of men. It will necessarily be several years before the requirements can be met, as the supply of officers is regulated by the naval academy yearly output. From captain to admiral, officers are being promoted at an average rate of very little service in the latter grade before retirement. A board which has been considering these conditions is now preparing its report."

Of the expense of campaigns carried on across the water at any great distance, Admiral Blue said: "I worked out the figures some time ago and found that in order to keep our fleet supplied with fuel and provisions while operating 5,000 to 6,000 miles from its base in the United States, about 200 merchant vessels would be required. Naturally we would hope to get these vessels from the merchant marine."

TURKS PROMISE FAIR TREATMENT TO INSTITUTIONS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Washington, Dec. 12.—Informal assurances have been given Ambassador Morgenthau at Constantinople by members of the Ottoman cabinet that American institutions in Turkey will receive similar treatment to that accorded foreign institutions in this country. Secretary Bryan made public tonight without comment, the following paraphrase of Mr. Morgenthau's message:

"The American ambassador at Constantinople has had an interview with the minister of public instruction and the minister of the interior. They propose that American institutions shall be treated the same as foreign institutions are treated in the United States and will delay for thirty days the enforcement of the most of the instructions that are objectionable. They stated that their chief desire is to secure supervisory control and direct relations with foreign institutions without guardianship of the embassy."

"The minister of the interior, now acting minister of finance, has assumed temporarily, posts of minister of war and minister of marine. Wholesale deportation of French and English from Beirut to Damascus occurred on the 9th and 10th, by order of the Damascus commandant. The minister of the interior has promised to stop these deportations as contrary to his orders."

"Definite assurances were secured that French and others (words not deciphered), employed in American institutions of a charitable and educational character and many employed by American firms, are to remain unmolested as a matter of favor to the United States."

"The Standard Oil declines to assume the risk of transporting money from Smyrna to Scala Nova. The Tennessee is to be sent to Alexandria for funds for Jaffa. Money will also be sent to Jerusalem."

GOVERNMENT EXTENDS LIVESTOCK QUARANTINE

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Washington, Dec. 12.—The federal quarantine for foot and mouth disease was extended today to the counties of Richmond, Fallon and Wilcox, Mont. In Pennsylvania the existing quarantine was modified so that the following counties may receive cattle from non-quarantine areas and ship for immediate slaughter to establishments under federal inspection: dressed carcasses of sheep and swine also may be shipped: Armstrong, Blair, Butler, Cambria, Clarion, Clearfield, Fayette, Green, Indiana, Lawrence, Mercer, Somerset, Venango, Washington. The modifications extend also to Jersey county, Illinois.

CONFIDENCE IS IN EVIDENCE ON STOCK EXCHANGE

Nearly All Issues Permitted on Floor Show Decided Advance Over Closing Quotations of July 30, Last.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) New York, Dec. 12.—The stock exchange today resumed its regular functions as one of the trading financial markets of the world. The resumption was accomplished by a display of much confidence and enthusiasm on the part of the members, many of whom were in attendance. The galleries were crowded with interested onlookers.

Prices of almost all the stocks in which trading was permitted opened well in advance of July 30 closing quotations and gathered greater momentum as the two-hour session progressed. Many substantial advances were registered while declines were few and unimportant.

Strictly for Cash. Trading was on the restricted basis fixed by the officials of the exchange. It was confined to a little more than one quarter of the total number of listed and approved stocks and was strictly for cash. This inconvertible rule, applied to all transactions, except in issues selling at or under $15 per share. The business was further circumscribed by the absence from the regular trading list of a number of international favorites, such as Union Pacific, Southern Pacific, Canadian Pacific, Great Northern, Baltimore & Ohio, New York Central and United States Steel.

The purpose of the exchange authorities in keeping these speculative favorites out of the open market had its origin in the knowledge that they were largely held abroad and their unrestricted offering, it was feared, might invite an avalanche of selling orders.

No Selling Pressure. As a matter of fact, today's brief session was surprisingly conspicuous for its lack of selling pressure. The movement was mostly the other way and no small part of the rise might be attributed to covering of short contracts dating back to the latter part of July. In addition, there were many signs of investment demand, particularly in the railway group and in some of the industrials whose products have been in greater demand by reason of the foreign situation.

At the outset, trading was mainly in small amounts, the average transaction involving from 100 to 300 shares, with more than the usual sprinkling of odd lots. The first notable exception to this tendency was Reading, which came in one block of 1,400 shares and was speedily followed by 800 and 600 share lots.

Genuine Demand. Prices were inclined to ease off after the first bullish outburst, and for a time the movement suggested a waiting attitude on the part of the buyer and seller. When it became evident, however, that stocks were in genuine demand, another buying movement set in, prices mounting steadily to the close, at which time the highest levels were attained.

Total transactions in stocks amounted to about $114,000, shares with bond sales (par value), at around $1,000,000. The most active stock was Reading, that issue retaining its leadership for the full trading hours, with an exchange of more than 23,000 shares. Amalgamated Copper, Erie, American Can, Lehigh Valley, some of the lesser coppers and the local transactions helped swell the total.

Conspicuous Gains Shown. Conspicuous gains were as follows: Reading, 10 points; Lehigh, 14 1/2; Atchafalaya, 5 7/8; Brooklyn Transit, 8 1/4; St. Paul, 8 1/4; Erie (common and first preferred), 2 and 4; New Haven, 2 5/4; Northern Pacific, 4 1/4; and Toledo, St. Louis & Western (preferred), 3 1/4.

Among the industrials in the active group, Amalgamated Copper, American Can (common and preferred), American Cotton Oil, Smelting, Bethlehem Steel (common and preferred), Central National Biscuit and Tennessee Copper rolled up gains of 3 to 8 points, while People's Gas and Western Union were prominent among the utilities, their gains being 12 1/2 to 6 points, respectively.

Phenomenal Movements. The most phenomenal movements were in such specialties as Texas Oil, which rose 21 5/8 and General Motors, whose advance was 27 1/8.

Declines were few and relatively negligible in their extent. They were mainly in the shares of the southern telephone companies whose incomes have been materially affected by the cotton situation. Southern Railway (common and preferred), yielded 1 1/4 and 1 1/2, respectively.

Quotations returned by the stock exchange clearing house showed a gain of 4 3/4 in Union Pacific, with fractional losses in New York Central and Canadian Pacific.

Prices in bonds in the open market generally followed the course of stocks, but the movements for these securities were less expansive.

INTERFERED WITH RECEIVER, CHARGE AGAINST WHITNEY

Ordered by Judge Reynolds to Show Cause Friday Why He Should Not Be Punished for Contempt.

Charged by J. M. Pickel, receiver, with preventing his taking possession of property, as he had been ordered by the court, W. C. Whitney, yesterday was ordered by Judge Reynolds to show cause in the district court Friday why he should not be punished for contempt.

Pickel was appointed receiver in the case of C. H. Harrison against C. D. Ottosen and Whitney. He alleges that the latter is in possession of a safe and supplies, including account books, and refuses to give him the keys.

The court disposed of several tax matters yesterday. Horace Mann's petition for the reduction of the assessment of four lots in the Atlantic & Pacific addition was denied. He said that the assessment was excessive. Charles Mann, Jr., also protested that the valuation of his four lots in the same addition was excessive and petitioned for a reduction. His petition also was denied.

The county treasurer was ordered to refund $5.45 to Wells Fargo & Co. The treasurer was ordered to endorse the sale of 160 acres to Pitt Road on tax sale certificate.

Mrs. Maple Samuels was granted a decree divorcing her from Robert A. Samuels on the ground of abandonment.

CATTLEMEN SUED FOR $5,980 IN FEDERAL COURT

The trial of the case of J. M. Cress and E. E. Harding against R. M. Mattox, as an individual, and Mattox, J. H. Clark and T. F. Smelling, a partnership, was begun yesterday before Judge Pope of the United States district court. Cress and Harding charge the defendants with failure to complete a cattle deal.

The defendants agreed to deliver 350 cows and 125 calves October 29, 1913, but they failed and Cress and Harding were forced to discontinue a buyer, according to their complaint. They allege they paid $1,000 as earnest money. They declare their business reputation was damaged to the extent of $1,000. In addition to this amount, they ask $2,800 as damages for non-delivery of the cattle, the $1,000 they say they put up as earnest money and $100 spent in Gallup where they were compelled to remain ten days.

Karl Iken, court reporter, was taken ill yesterday with a gripe and Miss Sadie Olsen took his place.

THE BEAUTIFUL MAKES ITS FIRST APPEARANCE

If there were any lingering doubts that winter is here they were dispelled last night when a soft, downy mantle snow began to descend over Albuquerque. It was the first snow of the season, and late shoppers and pedestrians revealed in it and pulled each other last night when a soft, downy mantle of snow began to descend over Albuquerque.

The snow was welcomed by the farmers and stockmen, for the unusually dry autumn has caused anxiety lest the range and the ranch might suffer next spring and summer.

BIG HIT IS MADE BY MAJESTIC COMPANY

The record of the Majestic stock company at the Pastime theater last week was one of a succession of hits. At every performance when the company appeared there was enthusiastic applause, and the ever increasing audiences are sufficient proof that the efforts of the actors are appreciated.

"A Soldier's Sweetheart," an Irish comedy, was the vehicle used by the company last night, and the uproarious laughter that it created was the best evidence of the merits of the skit. Every member of the cast came in for hearty applause, and the universal verdict of the audience was that the play was one of the best ever seen in Albuquerque.

RUSSIANS CAPTURE TURK CARGO OF WHEAT

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WIRE) Petrograd, Dec. 13 (via London, 2:20 a. m.)—A Turkish steamer loaded with wheat bound for Constantinople has been captured near the mouth of the Danube by Russian Black sea cruisers which have brought the vessel to Odessa, says a dispatch from that port.

Russian torpedo boat destroyers, it is also reported, have sunk several Turkish sailboats loaded with ammunition near the coast of Asia Minor.

According to information reaching here a large Turkish division has attempted in vain to enter Russia through Persian territory.

JEWISH FEAST OF DEDICATION IS NOW AT HAND

Eight-day Festival Season Commemorates Interesting Period in History of Judaism; Legend Is Beautiful.

One of the most interesting half-holidays in the Jewish calendar began yesterday evening, and will last for eight days. It is known as Chanukkah, the Feast of Dedication, and though not observed by special services in the synagogue, it is eagerly looked forward to by the children of the Jewish household, for it has in large measure come to be a children's festival.

The historical background of the celebration is found in the fact that in the year 165 B. C. Judas Maccabeus, one of the few martial heroes in Jewish history, re-dedicated to the service of the one God, the temple at Jerusalem after its pollution by Antiochus Epiphanes, who had set up in place of God's altar, a shrine to his heathen god. Just three years after this pollution, on the twenty-fifth day of the month of Kislev, the temple was reclaimed and re-dedicated to the service of God.

Many Beautiful Legends. Around the festival cluster many beautiful legends, which have helped to shape the character of the celebration. One such legend is to the effect that when the temple was re-dedicated only a single cruse of oil was found unspoiled, but through the miraculous intervention of God, this oil proved to be sufficient for burning for eight successive nights, and until other oil fit for the service might be prepared. For this reason, to this day, Jews light candles in their houses in celebration of Chanukkah for eight successive nights, one on the first night, two on the second, and so on.

There is a theory that even before the historical event which Chanukkah celebrates, the feast had been observed by Jews as the beginning of the winter solstice, and that its origin is common with that of the Christian Christmas and the Roman Saturnalia which occur at about the same season, and which are likewise celebrated by the lighting of lights and the interchange of gifts.

Among the Jews, Chanukkah is a time for rejoicing not only on the part of the children, but as well on the part of the poor, who are always liberally remembered.

LADIES SHOULD BE INTERESTED WITH ELECTRIC DEVICES

Mrs. Frank Sousa is the demonstrator at the Central avenue offices of the Albuquerque Gas, Electric Light & Power company, showing electrical devices, which make most suitable Christmas presents, as they are both beautiful and useful, lending the air of distinction to any house and creating an interest in the articles prepared obtained in no other way. In Chicago, New York, London, Paris and many other large cities, restaurants have been established which carry out the idea of having certain articles of food prepared on the table with electric cooking devices. When a person sees the articles of food prepared it is eaten with a greater relish, and the grill rooms in many hotels now have the kitchen at one end of the grill without a partition intervening. The cost of operating these appliances is low, for they are used for a comparatively short time and the convenience and ease gained by their use far outweighs the expense. Some residences in Albuquerque are wired so that the

CAN KEEP SALOON

OPEN, BUT CAN'T

SELL ON SUNDAY

Judge Reynolds Decides in Del Frate Case That Dispensing Liquor Is a Violation of Sunday Labor Law.

It is all right to keep a saloon open on Sunday, but it is not all right to sell liquor. To sell liquor is labor and labor on Sunday is an offense under the Sunday law.

This was Judge Reynolds' decision in the Del Frate case. Under it Joe Del Frate was discharged, as there was no evidence to show that he had been amassing able-bodied thrills at the Gold Star at a stipulated price per setting; it only showed that the door was open when Under Sheriff Dick Lewis walked in a week ago today and placed the proprietor under arrest.

The arrest was made with the intention of testing the validity of the Sunday law in its application to the business of supplying dry throats. To expedite matters Under Sheriff Lewis went to District Attorney Vigil for an information instead of lodging a complaint before a justice. Mr. Vigil filed the information in the district court and Judge Reynolds heard the case upon this yesterday.

Court's Decision.

Here is the court's decision. This case was brought under an information filed by the district attorney against the defendant for performing work or labor on Sunday. The defendant is a saloonkeeper and the evidence showed that between ten and eleven o'clock Sunday morning his saloon was open and that he was in it and that his bartender was behind the bar and there were two other persons in the bar room. There was no evidence of any sale of liquor, nor of any action which could be construed as work or labor under the Sunday law. As far as this case is concerned the defendant will be found not guilty and discharged, as the proof utterly fails to show that any offense was committed. The mere fact that he had his saloon open is not an offense under the Sunday law.

It has been held by the supreme court, in the case of Territory vs. Cortez, 6 N. M. 682, and which decision was again affirmed on rehearing in 7 N. M. page 89, that the sale of liquor on Sunday is labor and is prohibited by our Sunday law. These decisions are binding upon this court until reversed by the supreme court or altered by legislation.

The under sheriff was the only witness against Del Frate. He told the court that he found admittance to the Gold Star last Sunday without going through the formality of knocking. He saw a bartender on duty but did not witness the consumption of any alcoholic beverages. The proprietor admitted his place was open.

Judge W. C. Heacock, attorney for Del Frate, contended that the mere fact that the doors were not locked did not constitute any violation of law. Judge Heacock conceded that the Sunday law prohibited labor on the Sabbath—that is manual labor. The bartender was not called upon to perform manual labor in the sale of liquor, he said. He stated that when the under sheriff entered the bartender and two other men were sitting about the stove and that they were not drinking.

CABS DRAWN BY HORSES SUPPLANT TAXIS IN PARIS

Chauffeurs Nearly All at Front and Are Doing Good Work; Itinerant Musicians Sing National Anthems.

(Associated Press Correspondence.) Paris, Nov. 27.—Horse-drawn cabs have returned to the streets with the resumption of the war, but the outfits and their drivers are not as picturesque as they were in their heyday before the motor car came. The drivers are quiet, now, they no longer crack their whips loudly, and they accept five-cent gratuities with humble thanks.

All the younger taxicab drivers have disappeared, having been called to take their places in the army. Many of them have been put into the supply columns, which perform much excellent and sometimes dangerous service in bringing up munitions and food to the men in the trenches. Those taxicabs still in the city are driven by the older men and by amateur chauffeurs, who through the dislocation of business in some professions, have been thrown out of employment. One may learn from his chauffeur that in normal times he is a baritone of some renown at a leading opera house, or maybe a teacher of languages, or perhaps a professor of fencing.

The Russian, British, Belgian and French national anthems form almost the sole items in the repertoire of the itinerant singers who wander from courtyard to courtyard of the Parisian apartment houses. Every window opens when the group, generally composed of a quartet, sometimes of quite passable voices, starts its music, and sometimes the occupants of the apartments, especially in the singing, other parties of musicians take their stand on the corners of streets where they sing topical songs of the heroism of the allied soldiers. The interest of the populace in these ballads is enormous, for nearly every one of the bystanders has a brother, son, father or other relative at the front, and all buy at the price of two cents, copies of the words and often join in the refrain.

The flower girls, with their "sweet violets" direct from the Riviera, which have never looked fresher nor more dainty, appear to have increased in number, because they are more noticeable owing to the smaller crowds of pedestrians on the streets.

A "chiffon" always difficult to obtain in France, is next to impossible at this period. The ancient bootblacks, sometimes women, leisurely wipe off some of the mud and then lay on a covering of the poorest kind of blacking, after which the polishing brush and cloth are applied without energy, leaving the footwear in a state of miserable dullness, at a charge in excess of that paid in any city of the United States.

"Relinquish" are sought for at the central markets by ever-increasing numbers of the outcasts of Paris every morning at an early hour. The "harlequins" are composed of what is left from the meals in the leading restaurants, and the most discarded of the varied assortment of small pieces of meat, poultry and delicacies set out on plates and sold at prices ranging from two to five cents.

The adoption by the French of the fashion of pipe-smoking and the resultant of most of the male population in the army have dealt a hard blow at the gathering of cigarette ends and cigar stumps, who for years was such a well-known figure about the terraces of the boulevard cafes. The amount of discarded ends of tobacco, which has generally decreased, and the newspaper boys who look to him to sell them for two cents a package of the dried and rolled-up refuse, of which they were the chief purchasers, now obtain a smaller quantity for their money.

ENEMIES HAVE NO HARD FEELINGS BETWEEN FIGHTS

French and German Soldiers Engage in Good-natured Sports and Chase Hares in the Cabbage Fields.

(Associated Press Correspondence.) The Hague, Nov. 22.—When a battle is not in progress the best of feelings appears to exist between the French and German soldiers who, for two months, have faced one another on the long line between Neuport and Belfort.

So close are the camps to each other that it is possible for the two forces to exchange words. They indulge in good natured contests such as shooting at spade targets with no intention of hitting anyone, and compete for hares which run between the lines. A French soldier writes of these amusements:

"A target is painted on a spade and moved through our trench in such a way that it shows about two feet above the ground. The Germans shoot at it. With a stick we indicate the results of their fire and when one hits the hare's eye he is rewarded with the waving of a French flag."

There is another sort of target practice which is very popular. The region around us is full of cabbage fields and the cabbage fields are full of hares and rabbits. These hares sometimes cross our own private meadow. Immediately both trenches are alive. Long sounding volleys follow the poor little beast. He makes a graceful somersault, throws his ears up in the air and falls a martyr to Europe's militarism.

Division of Spoils. "Then comes the time to divide our spoils. If Brer Rabbit expires on the German half the custom of the country prescribes that a German may leave the trenches and get the prize. That day the German cave dwellers eat 'hasenbraten.' If the animal dies on our side we delegate a man to fetch him and we eat 'Lievre fars.' But if he should die most inconsiderately right on the line there is trouble. We both rush for our meal while a terrific fire is opened and we run the risk of being killed by friend as well as by enemy."

The other day we did not know on which side of the line a hare had died. We looked out of our trenches and the Germans fired. The Germans peeped around the corner and we fired. Finally a court of arbitration took the matter in hand. A loud German voice called out 'tobacco.' We thought that the proposal was fair. One of our men showed the Germans three packages of cigarettes. Then he climbed out of the trench and walked to the dead hare. He deposited his cigarettes and took the hare. Then he returned. A German came and took the tobacco. Five minutes later the Germans were smoking and we were preparing our stew."

The camps frequently entertain each other with singing. And perhaps a few moments later the efforts of both sides will turn to whistling—bullets about one another's heads.

FRANCIS JOSEPH HAS EXCELLENT HEALTH

(Associated Press Correspondence.) Vienna, Austria, Nov. 18.—Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria, is described in a semi-official communication sent to the Vienna newspapers, as enjoying particularly good health. His appetite is stated to be excellent and so far he has escaped the catastrophic attack which so often comes at this season of the year.

One of the most frequent visitors these days is General Krobathin, the minister of war, who comes with a staff officer laden with plans showing the latest developments in the various theaters of war.

These plans are complete, even to the smallest detail and are designed to give the monarch almost as much information as though he actually were with the headquarters staff. The study of these plans frequently consumes two or more hours.

Guests of Southern Society. Washington, Dec. 12.—Secretary of State and Mrs. Bryan were guests of honor tonight at the international reception and ball given under the auspices of the Southern Society of Washington. Diplomatic, official and resident members of the society attended. A distinctive southern setting composed of tropical plants, cotton bolls and foliage had been arranged for the occasion.

HORRORS OF WAR ARE BROUGHT OUT IN HOSPITALS

Conditions in Eastern Theater of War Much Worse Than in France and Belgium; Suffering Is Intense.

(Associated Press Correspondence.) Gleiwitz, Germany, Nov. 20 (by courier to Holland).—The hospitals of Gleiwitz and Cosel, filled mainly with wounded from the battles before Ivangorod and Warsaw, present striking contrasts to those farther from the front, which are not so unattractive.

Here are gathered men who were worn, haggard and suffering long before they were wounded. Many of them had not removed their clothes for four or five weeks, and had slept in mud and filth. Water was scarce and food scarce. A large number lay on the floor for a day or two after being injured before receiving medical attention. Followed then, journeys of a day or more in jolting peasants' carts and three or four days nerve-racking riding on railway trains until the base hospitals finally were reached.

These delays caused at least 99 per cent of the wounds to become infected, making the problems of the surgeons more difficult. Every effort is made in the German hospitals to have as many limbs as possible regardless of the length of time the patients must be kept. To the correspondent of the Associated Press were pointed out several men who, the surgeon said, could have been discharged days before if amputation had been resorted to. But bone and skin grafting is thought to be more humane, even though it takes longer. It is no reflection upon the German surgeons' arrangements that the wounded suffer as they do. On the western front conditions are better. The wounded in France and Belgium come back rapidly to comfortable beds in field and base hospitals and receive speedy treatment which heads off infection. The wounded who are expected today or tomorrow from the battlefields just across the Russian frontier will be in far better shape than their predecessors because they have been from good German roads and a few hours from clean hospital beds and adequate medical care.

Only a few of the wounded will die. Nearly all will recover eventually, although recovery can not proceed so rapidly as it can until amputation ceases. Many of them will spend Christmas in the hospitals. Some can write postcards, read the daily war bulletins, play checkers or even shuffle about the corridors. Almost all can eat and the dietary prescribed for these seriously wounded soldiers would make many an American physician gasp.

Dinner today comprised for each patient, two large slices of meat, several large spoonfuls of cooked sauerkraut, several potatoes and a spoonful of gravy, all served in a large bowl. Each man gets a large loaf of rye bread daily, which he keeps beside his bed. Food is served in one form or another five times a day. Not all the wounded, but most of them, get this dietary, which was laid down for the American surgeons by German experts familiar with the needs of the German soldier.

The American have been most welcome guests in Gleiwitz and Cosel and their presence is appreciated not only by the medical and army authorities, but by the civilian population. At Gleiwitz the president of the district court, on service with the troops, turned over his villa and servants to the American surgeons for a residence. The nurses are quartered at the hospital.

BRITISH DEPOTS BUSY PROVIDING ARMY MOUNTS

(Associated Press Correspondence.) London, Nov. 23.—Providing mounts for the British army so constantly exposed to German fire on the continent keeps five remount depots in England and Ireland busy. Each depot is under direction of an army officer, who is assisted by veterinarians, rough-riders, groomers and blacksmiths. Many Canadians from the western provinces have been drafted into the remount service because of their skill as horsemen and experience in managing wild animals.

Both artillery and cavalry have suffered a very heavy loss of animals in Belgium and France and there is constant demand for many different kinds of animals. Hunters, cart horses and heavy animals for vans used by the commissary are bought by the remount officers and shaped up for the field.

Two Negroes Lynched. Shreveport, La., Dec. 12.—Hand-cuffed together, Charles Washington and Breard Henderson, negroes charged with killing and robbing Cyrus Hotchkiss, white, near Mooringsport, La., last night, were taken from officers and lynched near here today. They had been brought here on the way to Mansfield, La., for safekeeping when a mob appeared and overpowered the officers.

Furnished Coal to Cruiser. Boston, Dec. 12.—Rev. Albert H. Hicks of Albany, Ore., who was on a German steamer in the Indian ocean when the war broke out, returned today on the steamship Canopus. He said his steamer, the Zeilen, furnished the German warship Roon with a supply of fuel in the gulf of Aden and then turned back to Mozambique, where she was interned.

Mrs. McClain's Experience With Croup. "When my boy, Ray, was small he was subject to croup, and I was always alarmed at such times. Chamberlain's Cough Remedy proved far better than any other for this trouble. It always relieved him quickly. I am never without it in the house, for I know it is a positive cure for croup," writes Mrs. W. R. McClain, Blairsville, Pa. For sale by all dealers.

GOVERNOR MADE MEMBER OF NEW MEXICO SOCIETY

San Diego Organization Passes Resolutions and Prepares to See That Folks Have Good Time at Fair.

(Special Correspondence to Morning Journal.) San Diego, Calif., Dec. 12.—That former citizens of New Mexico now resident in this city are proud of their state and the showing that it will make at the fair here which is soon to open, is shown by a set of resolutions recently adopted by the Society of New Mexico which was organized here several months ago. Incidentally, Governor W. C. McDonald was made an honorary member of the society at the meeting at which the resolutions were passed.

The resolutions are as follows: "Whereas, the state of New Mexico, although the baby state of the union, has constructed upon the slightest spot in our Panama-California exposition grounds, a magnificent structure, a reproduction of the old San Miguel church, erected at Santa Fe, N. M., in the year 1543, and is installing therein one of the most unique exhibits that will be placed on exhibition at our fair, and

"Whereas, Credit is due all of the people of the state of New Mexico, and especially the governor thereof, the Hon. W. C. McDonald, now therefore, he it resolved:

"First: That the Hon. W. C. McDonald is hereby elected an honorary member of the society, and granted all the privileges thereof.

"Second: That the said governor of the state of New Mexico, the Hon. W. C. McDonald, his staff, the fair commissioners, state and county officers and all citizens of New Mexico are hereby extended a cordial and hearty invitation to be present at the opening ceremonies of the Panama-California exposition in the city of San Diego, Calif., commencing on December 31st, 1914, to attend and enjoy the said Panama-California exposition at all times during the whole year, 1915, and to make themselves at home in the City of Sunshine and Flowers.

"Resolved: That the original hope of the people of New Mexico, W. C. McDonald at Santa Fe, N. M., and that copies be published in New Mexico papers.

"Passed and approved on this, the 24th day of December, 1914, at San Diego, Calif. JOHN I. HINKLE, President Society of New Mexico. Attest: JOHN A. WILLIAMS, Secretary.

"I hereby endorse the above resolution and join in the invitation.

FAMOUS NAMES ARE DAILY SEEN IN DISPATCHES

Descendants of Four Former Presidents of France Are in Thick of Fighting in European War.

(Associated Press Correspondence.) Paris, Nov. 29.—Names which have become famous in recent French history appear daily in dispatches from the front. Descendants of four former presidents of the French republic are fighting in the armies. They are: Lazare Hippolyte Sadi-Carnot, who is a major in an infantry regiment; Charles Gustave Fovier, who is a lieutenant in an infantry regiment and recently was wounded; the Duke of Magenta, a son of Marshal McMahon, a brigadier general; and Paul Doumer, who was a candidate for the presidency, has suffered severely, both his sons having been wounded and one of them having since died from the effects of his injuries. Sons of Theodore Delcasse and Gabriel Hanotaux have been wounded.

Many former ministers, senators and deputies have taken up active service in the army. More than 200 members of the senate and chamber are engaged in the service either because they were called to the colors or enlisted voluntarily for the duration of the war. One member of the upper house, Senator Raymond, and three deputies, Goulon, Nortier and Prost, have been killed. Many others have been wounded, including Andre Maginot former under secretary of state for war, who was struck down while acting as a sergeant of infantry. Other deputies wounded are: Henry Franklin-Bouillon, Maurice Lemaire, who holds the rank of captain of infantry; Albert Passy, a grandson of Fredericq Passy, the celebrated pacifist who was wounded and taken prisoner during a charge of a regiment of cuirassiers in which he was serving as a corporal; Henri Labrousse, a second lieutenant of infantry, who was promoted to a higher rank on the field of battle after he had been wounded while leading his men into action; and Andre Buffet, a grandson of a former president of the national assembly, who was wounded while serving in the trenches.

Other deputies now in uniform are:

Emile Bender, who is a sergeant of infantry, Paul Pugliese-Conti, who is a volunteer on the staff, Henri Tournade, who commands a battalion of infantry, Deputy Villot, who is a sergeant in the army service corps, L. Le Ritz, an ex-minister, who is a lieutenant-colonel on the staff, Claude Cochon, an infantry lieutenant, Marcel Foulhoux-Lafont, an artillery sergeant, Louis Deschamps, an infantry adjutant, Deputy Prat, a private in an infantry battalion, Dr. Navarre, a military surgeon, and Joseph Caillaux, ex-premier, who holds the rank of lieutenant-colonel and has been sent on a mission to South America.

Most of the senators were too old for active service, but twenty-one of them put on uniforms again and all but one, Senator Ferdinand de Lanzenberg, who is an artillery major, are serving in the auxiliary branches.

Some of the municipal councilors of Paris also are doing duty as soldiers. Duval Arnaud, for instance, is serving in the ranks of the artillery with four of his sons, while Count d'Andrieux, who is a staff captain and his fellow councillor, E. Evain, have both been wounded.

BUTTONS PLAY IMPORTANT PART IN DRESS SCHEME

Smartly Gowned Woman Must Give Attention to Many Small Details; Daguerreo-type Styles Are Here.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL)

New York, Dec. 12.—A gown may be charming, but if the trimming is not of the proper kind or is not properly applied, it is spoiled. This season buttons play a most important part in the ornamentation of dresses and suits. They may be cloth-covered, crocheted, hand-covered or of bone. The bone buttons are, perhaps, the newest and smartest. They are generally plain and round with visible holes. Buttons are used on the under-side of a sleeve, quite close together from wrist to elbow and down the front of a waist giving a very military effect.

A great deal of braiding is being used on coats and suits. Not fancy braiding especially, but edges are being finished with braid, or bound with a new sort of satin braid which comes in all widths. Frocks, a trimming also an offering of the rage for things military, are made from braid. Even in the new waists we see the edging bound with braid, chiffon or silk. Waists of net are braided with fine soutache and a very effective trimming it is.

Suit coats this season are, as a rule, in the vicinity of 16 inches in length.

A Trim Short Basque With Skirt
Flaring smartly at the Sides.

The skirts are plain at the top and flaring out to an eight-yard hem, six inches from the floor. In many of these skirts there is an underskirt of not such huge measure.

This naturally shows the crinoline tendency in our clothes. In the early part of the last century, when these wide skirts were worn, there were hoops beneath to keep them standing out and to show their entire width. Imagine a woman getting into a Twentieth century street car or a Fifth avenue bus with a hoop skirt today!

Still, with skirts widening rapidly there is no telling quite what to expect, for when Dame Fashion gets to moving she does not always stop at mere consistency.

The latest skirts are faced up with hair cloth for the depth of from twelve to fourteen inches to give the proper stiffness. And one charming gown, which I saw worn not long ago at a hotel where the faithful followers of the fickle Dame assemble for tea and to dine, was not only faced up very high but was also corded with a thick cord which made it swing attractively.

Worn with these skirts are bodices which cut off straight around the waist line, in the old-time basque style. Sometimes they are corded on the edge. The sleeves were some of them very long and others short and puffy. The lines of the low necks of these bodices are long over the shoulders exposing the line of them in the fashion one sees in daguerreotypes. Others, where they are not wanted as low are finished with a fichu of the same material which is draped around the shoulders giving the long line of the shoulders but showing only the V of the neck.

Another crinoline type is the dress with a many flounced or ruffled skirt. This last with wreaths of tiny roses woven among the ruffles and possibly carefully catching one up is a most fascinating style for an evening frock, especially for the girl of 18 and slender lines.

The trim short basque, buttoning straight up the front and ending at the waistline, except for two short points below, is very smart when worn with the full skirt. The illustration is a model which shows an idea of an American designer. The yoke and front panel of the skirt are in one, while the fulness is placed at the side in wide side pleats, thus giving the smart outline of the winter, flaring front and back and a flaring at the sides.

Fur is used extensively as trimming on the winter frocks. It is put around the bottoms of coats and skirts, at the lower edge of cuffs and around the necks of suits, dresses and separate coats. Fur is soft, but scarcely becoming to the average face and requires something to give a bit of color, so the artificial flower was placed, usually at the neck, and let it make the fur vastly becoming.

The flower, whether artificial or natural, is a most important accessory of a woman's toilette this season. The corsage bouquets of violets are always good, but the very smartest and newest thing in the way of natural flowers is to have them made into a tiny stiff bouquet, like those pictured in the days of our grandmothers, tightly packed together, rising in the center and surrounded by a stiff felt or paper lace.

In the artificial flowers this same thing is carried out, only the leaves are made to simulate the frill of lace. One charming bouquet and three pressed pink leaves placed together in such a way as to form a triangle. In the center of this triangle was a stiff little bunch of berries of a deeper pink than the leaves. A half-blown rose is among the newest of the flowers, in pink and deep red. Another flower which is having a great popularity is the water lily in white or pink with a large yellow center. These are shown with long stems which are often looped up gracefully underneath the frocks.

A combination of small fruits and their blossoms is very attractive against the dark coat or frock.

A one-piece frock which serves for an illustration has a surprise closing, waist with the new close-fitting sleeves and the fashionable puffed top. The lower section of the tunic is side-pleated and falls over the lower fitting lower skirt section. A new wide hat which is a late example of some of the later winter styles is worn with this dress. A wide velvet sailor, it flares up at one side and is trimmed with a single large red rose.

The hats of the winter are exquisite in their simplicity and blending of colors. A tiny high-trimmed turban with a crown of plum-colored velvet is wreathed in berries and soft-toned velvet roses. It is a model which is charming when worn with either tailored suit or frock of silk. One cunning toque made of mulberry-colored velvet has a high crown and velvet ribbon falls in two streamers down the back. The whole effect is distinctly of the 1840 period. Some of the hats have streamers, not only on the small sides but even upon the larger sailor models. A tan sailor hat is trimmed with five blue velvet ribbon streamers which fall off the brim and are continuations of ribbon that makes the crown, running around it from brim to top.

THE ROLLING STONE.

In his admirable address before the New Mexico Educational association convention, Dr. Jeremiah Moore of Clovis, in urging teachers to seek permanency of position, instead of changing from one school to another from year to year, used this striking sentence:

"A rolling stone gathers no moss."
But that is not the worst thing about such a stone. While rolling it never can take its place in a building as a part of the permanent assets of a community.

In that sentence there is a whole sermon. It is applicable to the teacher, who goes from school to school, remaining nowhere long enough to become an asset of any community.
It applies equally to the preacher who is constantly seeking a new pastoral charge, to the lawyer who fails to remain in one place long enough to build up a clientele.

In short, the sermon is for all of those who believe the end of the rainbow, with its pot of gold, can be found in a distant city or a distant state. They do not remain in one place long enough to find the pot of gold, always where they are, for those who seek it diligently.

Something of the same spirit of discontent, so prevalent in America, today, we find expressed in the "Saturnus" of Horace:

"How does it happen, Maecenas, that no one is content with that lot in life which he has chosen, or which chance has thrown in his way, but praises those who follow a different course?"

In Conington's translation of those same "Saturns," we find the same thought expressed thus:
"At home you hanker for your country home;

Once in the country, there's no place like Rome."

It is the other person who is fortunate; the other city or the other climate where happiness is to be found; the other environment where success is to be achieved. We fail to remember that happiness is within us, if we have it—not a thousand miles away, nor ten thousand, and success comes with doing well one's work, whatever that work may be.

Edison starts it all over again, notwithstanding his advanced age. He is mistaken, he started when he began to cultivate that resolution that knows no defeat.

DO YOUR SHOPPING NOW.

In the Journal of today, the leading merchants of Albuquerque are advertising their goods for the holiday trade. From tomorrow morning the stores will be filled with people buying things in harmony with the Christmas spirit.

Those who wish to make purchases should begin with the opening of the stores tomorrow morning. They will have far less difficulty in getting the things they want during this week than they will if they postpone till next week, after the choice of many things has been picked over. You cannot do your Christmas shopping early, because that opportunity has passed. But you can do better this week than you can during the crush next week, besides you owe some consideration to the salespeople, and others who must supply the demands of customers.

You cannot do your shopping early,
but you can do it earlier this week
than you can next week, and better.

As we understand the reports, General Rembertus was relieved of his command because he did not hurry to get on the firing line.

THE FIGHT ON DRUGS.

The government has a law, just passed by congress, intended to restrict the use of habit-forming drugs.
It compels registry with the internal revenue bureau of all physicians, manufacturers and dealers who handle opium or its derivatives and similar drugs and prescribes forms for written orders for some of them.

The Merriam crime investigation committee finds that over eighty per cent of the crime in Chicago owes its initiation to drugs. Criminals are users of cocaine, morphine and other like concoctions of deadly poisons by which their tissues are degenerated and their evil passions influenced and their moral responsibility deadened.

The abuse of drugs is a more terrible, insidious and "respectable" debauchation than that wrought by alcohol. It is much less apparent, much less social, and more awful in its ravages. The perfection of practical chemistry, which is characteristic of this age, brings its peculiar dangers, or rather its special vices. These vices are with us; they are already settling in their deadly work. Unseen, unrecognized, they are active, and must be exposed, fought, defeated. If alcohol brings woe and want, drugs bring violent crime and swift destruction.

Just as poisons, in the fifteenth and the sixteenth centuries were known, but were undetectable, and therefore unaccounted for many murders, today drugs, whose secret vending is everywhere carried on, but whose prevention now becomes one of the duties of the federal government, are disseminating throughout society their destructive power.

A vodka drugged Russia might fight, but a drugged America would rot, just as drugged China is rotting.

UNION OF THE AMERICAS.

One of the compensations of the war is the closer union in knowledge and feeling of the American continents—we call them continents, the two Americas, since the Panama canal divorced the land and joined the oceans. The Mexican troubles had already started the movement, and Europe is pressing it closer.

North and South America joined heartily to restore order, government in the disturbed zone between them. Now the pressure of Europe at war upon all America at peace is consolidating the states for common defense of industry and commerce, neutral navigation of waters far from strife, and mutual exchange of moral support as well as of material supplies.

The tour of South America by Secretary of State Root, with his keen perception and genius for popular expression, did much to teach the United States to see South America as it is. The visit of Felix Martinez, at a critical moment, did much toward having the people of South America see the United States as it is.

Until within the past two years, the body of prosperous republics, with orderly society, stable government, energetic development of natural wealth and swift creation of populous and beautiful cities, had made less impression upon the public mind of this country than the chronic tumult of a smaller and backward group.
Now the contrast of the American peace of civilization with the reversion of Europe to barbarism brings the truth home. North America is seeing South America as never before.
And South America, in the treatment we have accorded Mexico, is seeing the United States as never before. The era of ill feeling and distrust has passed, or is rapidly passing.

JUSTICE TO MR. CUTTING.

A letter from Mr. Bronson M. Cutting, president of the New Mexican Printing company, states that he has been in New York state for several weeks, and from that fact we assume that he was not personally responsible for, and would not have permitted, had he been in Santa Fe at the time, the publication of an editorial in his paper in which it was stated that the soliciting of funds in Santa Fe, by people of Albuquerque, for the Y. M.
C. A. was regarded by the New Mexican as "nothing more nor less than a plausible hold-up."

The Journal, commenting on the editorial, mentioned the fact that Mr.
Cutting had contributed $50 to the Y. M. C. A. in Albuquerque and suggested that if that was his view of it, the directors doubtless would release him from his obligation.

The New Mexican placed Mr. Cutting in an embarrassing light, in view of the fact that he probably never thought of the Y. M. C. A. solicitors from Albuquerque as either raiders or hold-up men. The Journal is glad to take this opportunity of correcting any impression that the New Mexican was speaking Mr. Cutting's sentiments at that time.

THE STATE.

Writers on political science differ widely as to the origin of the state, but for practical purposes their theories may be reduced to four. 1. The theory of social compact. It was assumed that a community or any number of communities could unite under a common form of government, and when one or more of these communities should tire of this union it could withdraw from it without hindrance.
2. That the state is a necessary evil.
The preamble of our national constitution says that governments are formed "to establish justice, to insure domestic tranquility, provide for the common defense, promote the general welfare and secure the blessings of liberty to ourselves and our posterity."
To an American that would be a sufficient refutation of this theory. 3.
That it is the product of history. According to one form of this theory the origin of the nation is found in the family. The Jewish nation is cited as an illustrious example. 4. That it is of divine origin; that the state is God's creature; that its government is its ordinance, and that he is the author of national life.

HISTORY REPEATS ITSELF.

(Springfield (Mass.) Republican.)
History never quite repeats itself, but it is full of suggestive recurrences.
Compare, for instance, the recent treatment of Serbia with Austria's treatment of the republic of Cracow in 1846. In the fall of that year there was a rising of the Poles in Galicia, and Austria claimed that it had been stimulated from Cracow, which was the last morsel left of the kingdom of Poland. Its independence had been pledged, only a third of a century before by the treaty of Vienna, but the insurrection in Galicia was taken as an excuse for breaking the treaty.
With the help of Prussia and Russia the rising was suppressed with much cruelty, and the republic of Cracow was annexed to Austria. In western Europe there was indignation, and a joint protest from England was proposed by France, and it is barely possible that it might have had some effect. But Palmerston had quarreled with Cautela over the Spanish marriages, and England and France could not act together even in a cause as to which both were agreed. So Palmerston was content with a protest to Metternich against the violation of the treaty, in which he laid down the doctrine, which in these days has come to have more than an academic importance, that the rights of small and large states were equally sacred.
The matter was dropped there, but it had serious consequences, because the czar, Nicholas, was believed, perhaps, unjustly to have investigated the crime against Cracow, and the Russian bogie began to agitate England, leading to the Crimean war, and to the long antipathy between England and Russia. It will be noted that in the present instance England views the case as taking its stand with the weak, while the Kaiser and the Austrian ministers are put in the role of Metternich and the Prussian king in 1846. Meanwhile the Cossacks approach Cracow—do they come as angels of deliverance? People are still living there who can remember when Cracow was a republic.

A GOOD RISK.

(Hartford Courant.)
We in this country are unable to understand the sentiment with which the English, for instance, regard their royal family. It is just as well, no doubt, that we cannot. Some years ago a leading English journal, referring to the Prince of Wales at school as a minor, of course, not using the "ornery" word for so distinguished a personage, said the other boys treated him as one of them except that, as was to be expected, they remained standing at the dinner table until he came in and was seated. Imagine American boys treating a president's son like that, and still more imagine calling that a sign of equality and democracy. It appears now that the

STOCK EXCHANGE
REOPENS WITH HIGHER PRICES

Trade Is on Moderate Scale, but Course of Market Is Sustained and Seems to Justify Policy.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WRITER)
New York, Dec. 12.—Limited dealings in stocks on the floor of the exchange were renewed today after an enforced suspension of over four months, due to the European war. The course of the market, which was strong throughout, seemed to justify the action of the authorities in ordering a resumption at this time.

Trading was on a moderate scale, most of the transactions being in lots of 100 to 300 shares with numerous odd lots of twenty-five to fifty shares. Inasmuch as all dealings were strictly for cash, except in those cases selling at or under $15, today's business represented a larger turnover in actual money than is indicated by the amount of stock bought and sold.

Official figures of the session were not obtainable, but stock sales aggregated about 114,000 shares, with bond sales (par value) approximately $1,000,000. Gains in active stocks over July 30 prices ranged from three points in Amalgamated Copper to 19 and 14 1/2 in Reading and Lehigh Valley, respectively, while some of the high priced specialties rose sensationally. General Motors was the feature of this group, with an advance of 27 1/2 points, and Texas Company was next, gaining almost 22.

Advances of 1 to 13 points were made by Alaska Gold, American Beet Sugar, American Can, common and preferred; Smelter, American Telephone, Atchafalpa, Bethlehem Steel, Brooklyn Transit, Central Leather, St. Paul, Goodrich, International Harvester, National Biscuit, Pacific Telephone, People's Gas, Tennessee Copper, United States Rubber and Western Union.

There were no notable declines, except in Southern Railway, the common and preferred losing 1 1/2 and 3 1/2, with minor recessions in a few other stocks of less importance. In a list of stocks furnished by the clearing house, Canadian Pacific and New York Central were fractionally under yesterday, Union Pacific was up 1 1/2, and United States Steel was not quoted.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.

Chicago, Dec. 12.—Record-breaking sales here for export gave a decided upward swing today to the prices of wheat. The market, after being on the upgrade from the outset, closed strong, 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 above last night. Other leading staples, too, all made a net gain—corn, 1/4 to 1/2 to 1 1/2; oats, 1/4, and provisions, 2 1/2 to 1 1/2.

Most of the European purchasing here was credited to the government of Greece, which was said to have taken 1,650,000 bushels. Other export sales in Chicago made the total more than 2,000,000 bushels, and there were additional transactions with foreigners at Omaha and elsewhere. Speculative trade broadened out gradually in consequence to that the feeling at the end of the session might almost be classed as buoyant.

Corn ranged higher in sympathy with wheat and because of the lightness of country offerings. A good shipping demand was reported both from the seaboard and the west. Oats were mainly influenced by the action of other cereals. Trade was small, chiefly local.

Belief that a break in hog values would check receipts tended to bring about higher prices for provisions. The advance was rendered more emphatic by the bulge in grain.

Closing prices:

Wheat—Dec., $1.18 1/2; May, $1.22 1/2.

Corn—Dec., 63 1/2; May, 69 1/2.

Oats—Dec., 47 1/2; May, 51 1/2.

Pork—Jan., $18.02; May, $18.50.

Lard—Jan., $9.75; May, $10.02.

Ribs—Jan., $2.77; May, $3.12.

Electrical Gifts are Popular

Are YOU asking "What shall the Christmas gift be?"

This year the needle of fashion points to "gifts electrical" as being just "the" thing—so why not give something electrical—the best gift of all for "dad, mother, brother, sister, sweetheart and the baby." You can't go wrong when you choose something practical—something electrical.

As a suggestion, an Electric Flatiron for the wife—it will be a most useful gift; a Tea Kettle for grandma, a Chafing Dish for sister's evening party, an Electric Grill for the bachelor maid, a Disc Stove for the bachelor—and just imagine how pleased most men would be with an Electric Shaving Mug, an Electric Mirror or an Electric Cigar Lighter, in place of the neckties, socks and handkerchiefs, "as usual."

An electrical gift is something at once beautiful, durable and useful. There is comfort and joy in any of these and "safety" in an electric Christmas tree lighting outfit. Electrical gifts will meet your fancy and fit your pocketbook.

Yes, you must come in and let us demonstrate their utility and giftiness, for you will surely be pleased.
