ENGINEERS END TESTIMONY AND OTHER EMPLOYEES BEGIN STORIES

Southern Pacific Does Not Permit Its Men to Run for Office Without First Filing Resignations.

DEMERIT SYSTEM IS BONE OF CONTENTION

Men Dislike Rigid Rules Employed Putting Into Effect "Safety First" Policy of Railroad Company.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—The engineers who have been testifying for a week before the railroad wage board of arbitration, passed from the scene today and the stories of the firemen and hostlers began. Witnesses told of the $2 a day earned by a Chicago hostler, and the $2 a day by a Texas fireman, who said he "got most of it shoveling coal."

Politics, in which it was intimated that the railroads curtail the civic rights of the men, figure in the proceedings.

Wanted No Officeholders.

Warren S. Stone, representing the engineers as counsel, read into the record the case of J. C. Conklin, a railroad employee of Tucson, Ariz. Conklin's friends wanted him to run for sheriff, Stone said, but he was compelled to withdraw when he received a letter from a superior stating that if he desired the office, he must resign from the road. He spoke of another case where a Southern Pacific engineer had been a member of a school board for fifteen years, but was compelled to resign by his employer.

"That," said Stone, "was in the days when the Southern Pacific carried California around in its pocket. When the state wriggled out, the railroad concluded they did not want any of their men in the game either."

Candidacy Against Rules.

Another case was that of R. P. Cole, who applied to the Nevada legislature, Stone said, but was informed by the Southern Pacific management that it was against the rules. H. O. Martin, a fireman of Clovis, N. M., and employed by the Santa Fe, testified that similar pressure prevented one Nichols, a conductor on the Peoria division of the road, from seeking reelection to the Texas legislature.

John Hanly of Chicago was the last of the engineer witnesses. He testified as to conditions on suburban roads. He leaves his bed at 3:30 o'clock in the morning every day in the week, he said, and gets back home around 7 o'clock at night. He earns $144 a month.

While he was on the stand there was quite a debate between Stone and W. L. Park, vice president of the Illinois Central and a member of the board of arbitration. Stone stated that the Southern Pacific was very severe in the infliction of demerit marks against engineers. Park pointed out that this road prides itself on comparative freedom from accidents, that the road last year showed the best record in this respect of any forty-two roads in competition for the Harriman "safety first" prizes, and that the railroads had been criticized on the ground that much loss of life on railroads was due to disregard of rules by employees. Stone replied that the men merely want a "square deal" and that, as a matter of self preservation, "safety first" is the primary article in their creed.

Martin, the New Mexican fireman, told of the experiment of the Santa Fe in putting in an assistant fireman to help one of their big engines up a seventy-one-mile grade in Texas. He said the company saved money by it, as the assisted trains were not delayed and overtime money saved from the whole crew more than offset the wages of the assistant.

GAME WARDEN SHOT BY ALLEGED POACHER

Medford, Ore., Dec. 17.—Game warden A. C. Hubbard, of Ashland, 30 years old, was shot and killed today by Morris Martin, a professional deer hunter, near Grant, when he attempted to search Martin's cabin for evidence of poaching.

It is reported that Martin is being held at Trail awaiting the arrival of officers from Medford.

WEATHER FORECAST.

Washington, Dec. 17.—New Mexico: Local snows Friday and probably Saturday.

The Day in Congress

The Senate.

Met at noon. Resolutions were spoken for the late Senator Bacon of Georgia. Hearings were continued on the water power site land leasing bill and on charges of coal rate discrimination against south Atlantic ports.

The House.

Met at noon. Rear Admiral Piske, aide for operations, testified before the naval committee.

Eliminated appropriation for agricultural census from legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill.

Rivers and harbors committee completed annual rivers and harbors appropriation bill carrying $24,128,550.

Adjourned at 5:40 p. m. to noon Friday.

CENSUS OF AGRICULTURE IS DEFEATED IN HOUSE

Washington, Dec. 17.—An appropriation of $2,250,000 for a five-year census of agriculture in the United States, was stricken from the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill today by the house, acting as a committee of the whole, through an amendment eliminating the appropriation and repealing the law authorizing the census.

The amendment, which was adopted by a vote of 72 to 59, will be voted on again when the bill is formally acted upon by the house.

Chairman Fitzgerald of the appropriations committee and Republican leader Mann led the fight against the appropriation, declaring this was no time to make unnecessary expenditures. They insisted that the statistics now compiled by the department of agriculture were as complete and more useful than any that could be gathered through the census bureau.

PROMINENT MASON DIES IN CALIFORNIA

Los Angeles, Dec. 17.—E. P. Keller, an Arizona pioneer, aged 67, died last night during the progress of a surgical operation, and will be laid to rest in a marble sarcophagus which he erected in the back yard of his home place at Venice, Calif. Mr. Keller was a prominent Mason and in his will bequeathed $1,000 to the Masonic lodge of Globe, Arizona, to defray the expenses of members to come here and conduct his funeral, which has been set for next Monday.

The will was made five years ago, just before he moved to California. Other bequests are said to amount approximately to $1,000,000.

BANDIT IS SHOT DEAD ON STREETS OF CINCINNATI

After Three Hours of Crime Career of Eastern Bad Man Is Cut Short by Officers of Law.

Cincinnati, Dec. 17.—The life of Frank C. Hohl, notorious bandit, ended here today following a three-hour career of crime which included the robbing of two Cincinnati banks, the theft of an automobile, and a duel with police officers that resulted in probably fatal wounds to one officer and the death of the bandit.

Thirteen thousand and one hundred dollars are missing as the result of the bank robberies and the police are confident that Hohl, in his wild automobile drives, managed to pass this money along to some confederate.

Beginning of His End.

The beginning of Hohl's end started shortly after 10 a. m. when he entered the West End branch of the Provident Savings Bank & Trust Co., fired two shots at Cashier Edward Hughes, scooped up $5,000 in currency, backed through the door, jumped into a waiting automobile which had been stolen and disappeared. While the police were searching for the bandit he entered the Liberty Bank & Savings Co. bank, ten blocks away, fired two shots at Cashier George Winters, grabbed what proved to be $5,100 in currency, ran to his automobile and again disappeared.

Battle at Apartment.

The bandit went so close to Winters that he was powder burned, but other than suffering from the shock he was unharmed. Almost two hours later Harry Buckhorn, whose mother conducts an apartment house on West Ninth street, informed the police of the similarity of a man who rented a room there yesterday with a description given of the bandit. Three policemen called at the room, and upon knocking, the door was suddenly thrown open and the bandit opened fire at the same time brushing past the officers, one of whom, Policeman Edward Knoll, was probably fatally injured.

Shot Four Times.

The bandit ran to his automobile, which was standing by, but in rounding a corner, the machine crashed into a telegraph pole and was wrecked. The bandit jumped out and opened fire on the two officers who followed Hohl. He fell with four bullet wounds in his body and died shortly afterward at the hospital.

Had Bad Record.

Hohl was a fugitive from justice. The police claim he shot up an Alcoa bank on March 3, was arrested and while being conveyed to the Pittsburg jail, threw a cup of coffee in his guard's face and escaped. He was again captured but subsequently escaped again. The police also claim that he was wanted in connection with a diamond robbery in Kansas City, Mo., a year ago where he had assumed the name of Howe.

MASKED BANDITS ROB JEWELRY MERCHANT

St. Louis, Dec. 17.—Two masked bandits tonight entered a jewelry store in the heart of the city, seized some $4,000 worth of diamonds and after exchanging a dozen shots with the proprietor of the store, escaped.

The bandits entered the store with leveled revolvers and while one covered George Geyer, the salesman, the other bandit filled his pockets with diamonds and jewelry. Two bullets in the store attacked the bandits, but one bullet put both dogs to flight.

At the sound of the shot Henry H. Gerhardt, owner, started into the store a rear door, but another shot struck him behind a glass door. The bandit then followed, the bandit pistol doing the salesman a shield and using the salesman as a shield and the store owner firing from behind the door.

HITCHCOCK BILL IS BACKED BY WILSON

Washington, Dec. 17.—Assurances have been given the British government by the state department that the bill introduced by Senator Hitchcock to prohibit entirely the export of munitions of war and arms and war supplies was not favored by the administration.

Secretary Bryan declined today to make any comment upon the merits of the measure and no other official of the administration has discussed it.

It was stated that the state department still had under consideration the representations made by the German ambassador, Count Von Bernstorff, accompanied by exhibits to the effect that American-made dum-dum or mushroom bullets were being shipped to the allied powers.

Steel Magnates Meet.

New York, Dec. 17.—The presidents of the leading steel corporations of the United States Steel corporation began a two days' session here today which was attended by Elbert H. Gary and other important officials and directors of the parent company. No details concerning the proceedings were made public, but it was unofficially stated that more encouragement was felt respecting trade prospects.

Room About Theatre.

Five of the animals still were roaming about the theatre when the last of the audience escaped. In their rush to safety spectators left behind all kinds of wearing apparel and personal belongings. Menhite the beasts roamed over the house from gallery to basement. But when an hour after the last spectators left, they were rounded up in the lobby and driven into their shipping box, none of them was injured.

Three arrests were made on charges of criminal negligence. Those in custody are LaBelle, Andrew, the lions' trainer; C. A. Turquist, their keeper and Geo. H. Hamilton, manager of the attraction. The lions were owned by Francis Ferrari, a showman, who had been exhibiting them at carnivals during the summer.

Panic Ensues.

The animal act had been completed and a song and dance quartet had the stage in front of the first drop when the lions escaped as they were about to be transferred from the steel exhibition cage to their shipping box. Andrew screamed, Turquist grabbed a whip, cracked it loudly and shouted at the lions while frightened actors, actresses and theatre attaches began climbing stairways. Suddenly one of the lions walked into the wings and peered at the quartette. The singing ceased.

The singers started to retreat into the wings. Detective Peter Cahill, who was in the audience saw the lion and shouted to the entertainers to go on. One singer returned and began a solo. Suddenly a lion came into full view and all control of the audience was lost.

The Orchestra Played On.

The orchestra, nevertheless continued to play. The first lion ambled on the stage, then the second, and in a minute several more of them were clambering into stage boxes and out into the audience. Still the orchestra kept playing, until several lions went right down into the pit. Then the musicians fled under the stage.

Almost everybody in the audience later had a different version of what the animals did after they got among the crowd, but nearly all accounts agree that they did not live up to the dangerous name of the "king of beasts." One of the beasts caught up with Mark McDermott, while he was hurrying down an aisle, so he lay down. The animal clawed him on the head and his wound appeared to be the most dangerous that any of the beasts inflicted. He was taken to a hospital.

Firemen Rescue Women.

The last of the audience to leave the theatre were several women found crouched up in a second floor dressing room. They signalled firemen from a nearby engine house who carried them down ladders to safety.

A throng had gathered outside the theatre when Alice emerged and trotted slowly across the street. Reaching the corner of Eighty-sixth street and Third avenue, she calmly sat down. A crowd began to shout and two policemen, with revolvers drawn, came rushing across the street from the theatre toward her. She turned and fled into an apartment house. Abraham Glazer, a photographer, was working on the first floor of the building when he heard a peculiar noise in the hall. He opened the door to investigate and stared into the face of the lioness. Slamming the door quickly, he shouted for help. The beast turned to a stairway and bounded up a flight. There two women peered from a doorway, saw the animal, shrieked and slammed the door. Again Alice fled, this time to the third floor. When the police arrived she was at the top of a stairway peering across to the roof.

For more than ten minutes there after there waited in a narrow hallway a fierce battle between man and beast. Shot after shot—thirty in all—were fired into the now raging animal. Up and down the stairway she raced, growling and snarling, clawing and hitting at her assailants. Several times she leaped over the banister that protected the stairway and hurled through the air, only to land with a thud on the next landing.

Spectacular End of Lions.

The end came with one of her spectacular leaps. Bounding over a balustrade, she passed between the limbs of Alfred Winter, a policeman, who stood with one foot on the railing and another against a wall, brins at her. The force of the fall and the head fall that rained into her body ended the battle.

It was while the firing was at its height that Glennan was shot through the back and the bullet was said to have entered his stomach. It was believed tonight that he would die.

Both Edward K. Keaveny and James M. Craik, patrolmen, were clawed by the lion. Keaveny was taken to a hospital.

QUIET PREVAILS IN COAST TOWNS BOMBARDED BY GERMAN FLEET

Recruiting, Which Had Slackened With Approach of Christmas, Is Stimulated to Greater Activity.

DEATH LIST TOTALS NINETY-SEVEN PERSONS

British Warships Are Bombarding Kaiser's Positions on Channel; Turkish Vessels Sunk by Russian Fleet.

GERMAN FLEET LIKELY TO ASTONISH WORLD

London, Dec. 17 (9:55 p. m.).—The people of the English coast towns of Scarborough, the Hartlepool and Whitby, which yesterday were bombarded by German cruisers, resumed their ordinary occupations today. The only difference discerned in the regular routine of this season of the year was the arrival of crowds of camera-bearing tourists which reminded the residents of the summer influx, the return of those who had fled on the first sound of the firing and the mechanics who were early at work repairing the damage done by the shells.

Ordinary Routine Resumed.

The mayor of Scarborough placarded the walls of the city with posters advising the people to keep cool, but this was hardly necessary for beyond grief for the loss of friends and neighbors and the little pride displayed at the attention they attracted, the citizens seemed to be going about their business in quite a natural way. It will not be long before all marks of the damage done by the gunfire will be removed.

The attitude of the people of England is much the same as that of the bombarded towns. There are no signs of excitement and the only effect the bombardment has had is the demand that naturalized Germans and those who have not been naturalized shall be excluded from areas open to an attack such as that delivered yesterday and a little boom in recruiting which has been slackened owing to the approach of Christmas.

Stimulates Recruiting.

The Right Hon. Thomas J. McNamara, parliamentary secretary to the admiralty, in speaking of the effect of the German raid, said it was worth two army corps to Kitchener's army.

It is believed now that the German squadron included at least four battle cruisers of the superdreadnaught class and two armored cruisers. The shelling of the Hartlepool and Scarborough was simultaneous, but Whitby was visited by the warships along the coast of Flanders and the Turks in the gulf of Saros, while the Russian Black sea fleet has sunk a German steamer and an unknown vessel, supposed to be a Turkish liner, along the coast of the Black sea.

An inquest was begun today into the deaths of the seventy-seven persons killed in the Hartlepool and tomorrow a similar inquiry will begin touching the death of the seventeen Scarborough victims.

Naval Activities Elsewhere.

There has been some naval activity on the part of the allies in other parts of the world. British ships have been bombarding the Germans along the coast of Flanders and the Turks in the gulf of Saros, while the Russian Black sea fleet has sunk a German steamer and an unknown vessel, supposed to be a Turkish liner, along the coast of the Black sea.

GERMANY JUSTIFIES SHELLING OF COAST

New York, Dec. 17.—That Hartlepool, Scarborough and Whitby, the three English towns bombarded by German warships yesterday, are defended by the British navy, the German government today said. The German government said that the towns were defended by the British navy, the German government today said.

In reference to yesterday's bombardment of three English coast towns, Hartlepool, Scarborough and Whitby by the German fleet, attention is respectfully called to Article 1 of the Hague convention of October 18, 1907, which says:

"The bombardment by naval forces of undefended ports, towns, villages, dwellings or buildings is forbidden."

In concurrence with the report of the English official press bureau, the fact is established that Hartlepool is fortified, while Scarborough and Whitby are defended, like all other British coast places, either by regular troops, coast guns or volunteers.

"Permit me to state in addition that the bombardment of all Belgian coast places as Ostend, Nieuport, Zeebrugge, will soon menace the rear of the German army."

INQUEST OVER BODIES OF RAID VICTIMS

Hartlepool (via London, Dec. 17, 11:50 p. m.).—An inquest began here today over the bodies of victims of the German bombardment killed in Hartlepool and West Hartlepool.

In opening the court the coroner said that never before in English history had an inquest been held under similar circumstances and that he hoped the occasion would never occur again. The shelling of the Hartlepool, he added, afforded a faint idea of what the German fleet is now up to, which may astonish the world.

some pathetic cases. An old woman was picking up coal dropped from cars on the railway embankment when she was killed by a shell. An old man and his two daughters were just starting breakfast in the kitchen when a shell burst in the room killing all three of them.

A young woman went to the house of her aged mother, intending to conduct her to a place of safety. Entering the passages, she stumbled across her mother's body. A shell had pierced the roof and killed her. An elderly man, who thought the gun firing was that of British ships at practice, sat down unconcernedly to breakfast. A shell carried away the corner of his house killing his two little grandchildren. The verdict rendered by the coroner's jury was that the deaths were due to bombardment of the twin boroughs "by an enemy who, under cover of a dense fog, fired shot and shell into the towns, killing many unarmed civilians."

BRITISH WAR VESSELS
STRUCK BY GERMAN SHELLS
London, Dec. 17 (10:55 p. m.).—The light cruiser Patrol and the destroyer Doon were among the British ships which yesterday raided the northeast coast of England. Both were struck by shells. They lost five men killed and fifteen wounded.

GERMAN FLEET LIKELY TO ASTONISH WORLD

Rome, Dec. 17 (8:55 p. m.).—On his arrival at Rome, Prince Von Buelow, the former imperial German chancellor and now ambassador to Italy, was informed of the bombardment of the English coast by German ships, but showed no surprise. He said this accomplishment had been arranged for prior to his departure from Berlin, and added:

"This is simply the prelude to what the German fleet is soon to undertake, which may astonish the world."

ABSCONDING CASHIER ARRESTED IN EL PASO

El Paso, Texas, Dec. 17.—E. H. Christensen, defaulting cashier of the El Paso State bank, of El Paso, Colo., was arrested here this afternoon and is being held pending the arrival of Colorado officers.

When arrested Christensen was selling fruit from a small street stand which he recently purchased and had assumed the name of Ernest Overton.

Christensen admitted his identity after arrest, but refused to discuss the charges which have been preferred against him in Colorado.

Another Battle Certain.

Should the Austro-German armies, as on previous occasions, follow the Russians in Poland, another big battle will soon be in progress, which may decide whether the Germans are to get to Warsaw or whether the Russians are again to threaten an invasion of Germany.

The delay of the Russians in fulfilling expectations that they would prove a serious menace to Germany, is a disappointment to the peoples of the allied countries, but military men express the view that it is better for Russia to meet her foes in her own

Official Reports From Press Bureaus of Belligerent European Nations

FRANCE.

Paris, Dec. 17.—The following official communication was issued by the war office tonight:

"In Belgium our troops have gained ground to the north of the road from Ypres to Mouscron and also the south and southeast of Dixmoute.

"We have debouched to the northeast of Arras and have reached the first houses of St. Laurent Blancy."

GREAT BRITAIN.

London, Dec. 17 (8:25 p. m.).—The official press bureau tonight issued the following statement concerning the making of Egypt a British protectorate:

"His Britannic majesty's principal secretary of state for foreign affairs gives notice that in view of the state of war arising out of the action of Turkey, Egypt is placed under the protection of his majesty and will constitute a British protectorate."

"The sovereignty of Turkey over Egypt is thus terminated and his majesty's government will adopt measures necessary for the protection of its inhabitants and interests."

"The king has been pleased to approve the appointment of Lieutenant Colonel Sir Arthur Henry McMahon to be his majesty's high commissioner for Egypt."

GERMANY.

Berlin, Dec. 17 (by wireless to Sayville, L. I.).—Among the items given out for publication today by the official press bureau were the following:

"The latest headquarters report from the west appears to point to possibility of renewal of activity on a considerable scale in that theater of war."

"The events in the east, however, continue to absorb chief attention. A report received from north Poland refers to the operations as normal. Similar reports preceded the taking of Lodz and the latest report can only mean that favorable progress is being made."

"The Austrians report that the Russians are retiring at nearly all points in south Poland and west Galicia. If the Austrian advance continues it will soon menace the rear of the Russian forces investing Przemyśl, the defenders of which continue to make successful sallies from the fortress."

"No news of any kind has been received from Serbia."

"The Turko report successes near Lake Urmia, but evidently these operations are unimportant."

"Persian tribes are alleged to be fighting on the side of the Turks."

"The Swedish lieutenant colonel, Ekel, after a long stay on the German west front, says Germany's economic forces are sufficient, that her military reserves are inexhaustible and that her forces are steadily increasing."

"Evidence sworn to before the German law courts shows that Belgium already was mobilizing at the end of July and also that French officers and men in uniform were present at the end of July in Brussels, Antwerp and other Belgian towns."

"Basel reports that the municipal council of Lillo, at the suggestion of the German officer in command has asked help from the president of the Swiss confederation to get victuals, as Lillo is cut off from all foreign communication and the population is in

Retreat of Czar's Forces Along Nearly Entire Battle Front Is Reported From Austrian Sources.

OFFENSIVE MOVEMENT OF ALLIES CONTINUES

Steady Gains Are Made in France, Belgium and Alsace by Armies Under Joffre and French.

THE RUSSIANS ARE RETIRING ALONG THE ENTIRE FRONT

London, Dec. 17 (11:50 p. m.).—"The Russians are retreating along the entire front in Galicia and Poland." This report, officially issued at Vienna, is the outstanding feature of tonight's news from the battle fronts.

While there is no confirmation from other sources, such a move on the part of Russians would be quite in line with the announcements in dispatches from Petrograd that the Russians, threatened on both flanks, had decided to take up new positions where they would be able better to meet the onslaught which are being launched against them by the Austro-Germans from the Carpathians to the East Prussian frontier.

Another Battle Certain.

Should the Austro-German armies, as on previous occasions, follow the Russians in Poland, another big battle will soon be in progress, which may decide whether the Germans are to get to Warsaw or whether the Russians are again to threaten an invasion of Germany.

territory where the means of communication would be more on an equality.

Alles Still on Offensive.
The German and French official communications do not disclose much of what is going on in the west, but it is apparent that the allies are still on the offensive from the coast to La Basse and at various other points along the front. While not very marked advances are reported, the French claim to have made some progress and to have organized the ground which they gained during the preceding days. The Germans, on the other hand, assert that the attacks by the allies have been repulsed.

Fighting Is Severe.
From the number of wounded reaching the hospitals of both the Germans and the allies it is evident that the fighting in Flanders today was of a more severe character than shown in the official statement. Correspondents report that the hospitals are again filling up while along the Dutch border continuous firing can be heard.

England Takes Over Egypt.
The long expected proclamation bringing an end to Turkish suzerainty over Egypt and the establishment of a British protectorate over that country was officially issued tonight. The last straw doubtless was the action of the khedive who was the sultan's representative in Egypt, but with little or no power in taking sides with Turkey against Great Britain.

High Commissioner Named.
Lieutenant Colonel Henry McMahon, who has been recognized as high commissioner, although a soldier by profession, has had long and varied experience as a political officer in India and other parts of the east. He has been foreign secretary to the government of India since 1911.

BERLIN WILD WITH JOY OVER GREAT VICTORY

Berlin, (via London, Dec. 17, 11:19 p. m.)—The people of Berlin were aroused to enthusiasm today by the announcement of a great Austro-German victory over the Russians in Poland. An official bulletin to this effect was issued shortly after noon. Within half an hour extra editions of the papers appeared and the whole city literally flashed into hunting.

American visitors who a few days ago commented upon the non-display of flags, who had recognized the streets, which everywhere were gay with the German black, white and red, and the Austrian orange and black, at many places intertwined. At the celebration where a red cross meeting was in session word was received from the palace that the great victory of the war had been won. The schools will close tomorrow so that the children may assemble to celebrate the event.

The first intimation of the nature and extent of the Russian defeat was received here last evening and circulated in official quarters but nothing was known of it generally until the official bulletin was published. It has been understood that the Russians were in a precarious position but it was not hinted that a decisive result was at hand.

The official bulletin issued yesterday reported that the operations were "proceeding normally" which phrase is the usual termination of the official report. It is known now that thousands of Russians have been taken prisoners.

MOST GIGANTIC BATTLE IN HISTORY OF WORLD

Berlin (via Amsterdam and London, Dec. 18, 12:15 a. m.)—The Lokal Anzeiger, commencing upon the news of a German victory in Poland says:

"Never since this old earth has had a history, has such a gigantic battle been fought. Seldom in centuries has there been an event of such decisive importance. The battle of Poland will be claimed in history among the victories of the first rank. It will be mentioned in the same breath with the battle of Salamis and Lepanto. We have to thank Von Hindenburg and the desperate courage of his troops who fought under the glorious banners of Germany and Austria."

The Taseblatt after eulogizing the bravery and tenacity of the troops, particularly the West Prussians and Hessians, adds:

"This victory, with the defeat of the Russians is particularly significant because the Russians threw all their force into the scale in order to win. From the most distant portions of the empire, Siberia and the Caucasus, the last reinforcements were brought up. Politically, the victory will have widespread importance, especially with the Balkan states. If one of the other of these states counted on the assistance of Russia, it will now recognize its vain hope."

"With this victory in the west, Polish theater the campaign in the eastern theater of war is for the greater part decided."

All the afternoon newspapers had the victory in Poland as the most brilliant achievement in the campaign. One of them, coupling the eastern situation with the bombardment of the past coast of England says that while the naval guns were thundering "it was a salute for the victory in the east and the overthrow of the Russian czar, which was to crush its way to Berlin."

Major Morabit, the military correspondent of the Tageblatt says: "On this Russian advance rested all the hopes of our enemies in the west. These hopes which began to falter with the victory at Lodz and were strongly shaken by our successful offensive in Galicia and South Poland, have now been buried by the new victory south of the Vistula."

"Germany may rejoice over the retirement of the Russian millions," it is considered probable that several days will pass before full details of the battle in Poland are made public.

The Vossische Zeitung assumes that reported victory will have important consequences in the west and that far reaching political effect in the Balkans will follow in those countries, which it says have been influenced by the Russian position.

"Energetic pursuit," the newspaper continues, "will harvest the fruits of this victory which will end with the destruction of the enemy."

The Vossische Zeitung says the campaign in the east has now been mainly decided. Arguing from what it says was previously known of the morale of the Russian armies—great numbers of prisoners, lack of officers, imperfect commissary and military transport facilities—referred to—it declares that pursuit must lead to the annihilation of the Russian army.

The Tages Zeitung says that it draws the conclusion from the modesty of the general staff's language in reporting previous operations that its latest claim will show a victory decisive and permanent.

The Roeters Zeitung, in an editorial assumes that Field Marshal von Hindenburg did not give the Russians the time or the opportunity to recover and that the Russian resources for a further offensive were exhausted.

BIG SEAS SMASH INTO RESORTS ON WEST COAST

Long Beach Suffers Severely From Buffeting Waves; Damage of More Than Hundred Thousand Dollars.

Los Angeles, Dec. 17.—Heavy seas rolled up by a forty-mile wind along the southern coast east one life and wrought damage today amounting to more than $100,000 at Long Beach and at Buena Vista.

John Caspino, a fisherman, who went out to search for a motor boat, blown out to sea with six members of the family of J. H. Blake of Redondo. The blakes were saved by another vessel.

At Long Beach breakers dashed into the strand, tearing out bulkheads and cement walks and wrecking several residences close to the water front.

The greatest damage was sustained in the seaside park and the Alamitos bay districts. Huge waves battered down houses, marooned families in their homes, and flooded streets to a depth of from one to three feet.

At Buena Vista a 1,000-foot section of a long wharf was smashed, causing damage estimated at $50,000.

Goethals Sails for Home.

Colon, Dec. 17.—Col. George W. Goethals, governor of the Panama Canal Zone, accompanied by Mrs. Goethals, left for the United States today on a month's leave of absence. He will spend Christmas with his children.

DETAIL STORY OF DISASTER TO GERMAN SHIPS OFF FALKLANDS

Kaiser's Squadron Caught in Trap When It Was en Route to Capture British Post in South Atlantic.

OUTNUMBERED BEYOND CHANCE OF SUCCESS

English Fleet Concentrates Fire on Admiral Von Spee's Flagship, Which Soon Plunges Beneath Waves.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE
London, Dec. 17.—The German cruisers, sent to the bottom off the Falkland Islands December 8, apparently were taken unaware by the British at a time when neither side was expecting an encounter. The first detailed accounts of the battle, which reached here today from Puerto Gallon, Patagonia, say that the Germans were on their way to seize the Falkland Islands, British possessions, when they came unexpectedly upon a lone British warship. The other members of the British fleet were taking on supplies from neighboring islands at the time. Before the Germans were aware of the strength of their opponents, these ships closed in on them and the fate of Admiral Von Spee's squadron was soon sealed.

Germans Fought Heavily.
The story of the battle was told by passengers on the British steamer Orissa, which arrived at Punta Arenas from Callao, Chile. They say that the Germans fought bravely to the end, even the colliers refusing to surrender. Losses of the British were placed at eight men.

It was a formidable British squadron which faced the Germans. Included in it were the battleship Canopus, the battle cruisers Invincible and Inflexible, and the cruisers Kent, Cornwall, Carnarvon, Bristol and Glasgow. It far outnumbered in strength the German squadron consisting of the five cruisers Scharnhorst, Gneisenau, Leipzig, Nürnberg and Dresden. The British squadron arrived at Port Stanley, Falkland Islands, on December 7, to take on supplies. The next morning the Canopus, which was guarding the entrance to the port, sighted a hostile warship. Four others quickly came into view and were recognized as the squadron of Admiral Von Spee. Only the Canopus was visible at first to the Germans, who steamed straight at her. The Canopus opened fire and the other British warships rushed to her assistance.

The Scharnhorst, Gneisenau and Leipzig formed in battle line. The Nürnberg and Dresden, however, dropped back from the firing line. The British warships concentrated their fire on the Scharnhorst, Admiral Von Spee's flagship. When it became evident that she was doomed her crew assembled on the forward deck. The Scharnhorst refused to surrender and after an hour's fighting plunged beneath the waves. The crew preserved its formation as the ship went down and cheered as the waters closed about them.

The Glasgow engaged the Leipzig and sank her. The Gneisenau went down eight miles from Port Stanley. The Nürnberg attempted to escape, but after a pursuit of two hours was sunk. The Carnarvon pursued the Dresden, but was not swift enough to overhaul her and the German ship escaped.

After the battle the British picked up 194 Germans, including a few officers. Of these survivors, 100 were from the crews of the two German colliers. An opportunity to surrender was offered the colliers but it was refused and they were sunk.

The cruiser Cornwall was damaged slightly below the water line. One of the other British ships was damaged.

On December 11, funeral services were held for the eight British sailors who were killed, in the presence of the commanders and crews of the squadron.

The British admiralty report stated that only seven men of the British squadron lost their lives.

C. F. AND I. COMPANY ADOPTS NEW POLICY

Denver, Dec. 17.—The Colorado Fuel & Iron company, today, appointed David Griffiths, former state coal mine inspector, to act in behalf of its miners in their dealings with the officials of the company. In making this announcement, J. F. Welborn, president of the company, said it was in conformity with his letter of August 20, last, to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in connection with the suggestion of W. L. Mackenzie King that some means be provided by which miners could easily reach the higher officials.

In this letter Mr. Welborn stated that such a plan was under consideration. "In his newly created position," Mr. Griffiths will have the widest authority for action in matters relating to working and social conditions of miners and their families," said Mr. Welborn. "We shall expect him only to take the miners' side in handling their grievances and also to search out and correct conditions affecting the men before they have cause for complaint."

GREAT DISASTER TO AUSTRIANS NEAR BELGRADE

Servians Fall Upon Invaders With Irresistible Fury and Enormous Losses Are Suffered During Retreat.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE
Paris, Dec. 18 (12:35 a. m.)—Telegraphing from Nish, the correspondent of the Havas agency says: "Full details of the fighting around Belgrade have not been received, but it is known to show that there also the Austrians suffered a defeat of a fatal nature. After several days of stubborn fighting the Austrian troops secured a line of positions echeloned from the northeast of Obrenovatz as far as Kovina, to the southeast of Ayala (nine miles from Belgrade). The latter position was carried by the Serbs after several days of charges."

Austrians Badly Beaten.
"On December 13-14, other positions fell, one after another, until the Austrians were completely beaten on the last hills to the north of Ayala, and were beaten on the left flank by Servian columns debouching from Obrenovatz."

"The Austrians retreated precipitately towards the Danube and Save over which bridges had previously been thrown and on which numerous monitors, lighters and other craft waited to ferry the troops to the opposite bank. While the Austrians were crossing in the greatest haste the Servians broke the last resistance. The Austrian columns which were left to protect the retreat, were thrown into wild disorder and abandoned heavy guns, rifles and other equipment, throwing some of it into the Danube."

"Servian artillery which was rapidly brought up to positions commanding both rivers, shelled and destroyed several bridges. The Austrian losses during the latter days were enormous and those of the Servians also were serious."

"The Servians also captured on December 13-14 about 10,000 prisoners, of whom sixty-seven were officers; 20 cannons, including eight mortars; 20 machine guns, 235 ammunition wagons, 20 field kitchens, numerous horses and a great quantity of supplies. Many Austrians were drowned."

"When King Peter and Prince George and Prince Alexander entered Belgrade, the light was still going on in the lower part of the city between the last detachments of the retreating Austrians and the first columns of the Servian infantry."

BRITISH VESSELS PRESENT PROBLEM TO GOVERNMENT

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE
Washington, Dec. 17.—Two British steamships which have been supplying British cruisers in the Caribbean sea with coal and provisions have been sent to Colon, Goethals at Panama that they have ended their service as naval auxiliaries and desire to be considered as merchantmen. As such they would be permitted to load fuel and supplies in the Canal Zone for a voyage to a British port.

Secretary Garrison today called upon Colonel Goethals for evidence as to whether the masters of these vessels are acting in good faith. It was said at the department that upon receipt of this evidence, clearance for merchantmen in all probability would be granted the ships, as neither had been charged with violation of neutrality. Even though the ships had passed through the canal with supplies for belligerent cruisers their course was not taken on at an American port, but under the Hay-Pauncefote treaty vessels of commerce and of war of all nations, in time of peace and of war are granted passage on an equal basis.

Officials here today viewed the request for naval vessels to protect the neutrality of the canal as a closed incident. The colonel in a supplementary report said that except for the proper sending of a wireless message by a British collier, he knew of no violations.

OFFICIAL REPORT PLACES NUMBER OF KILLED AT 82

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE
Hartlepool, Eng., Dec. 18 (via London, 1:35 a. m.)—The latest official estimate of the casualties resulting from the German bombardment of Hartlepool, issued late tonight, says that eighty-two persons were killed and about 250 were wounded. But many of the wounded houses have not been explored and it is believed that the list of dead eventually will reach 100. Eight soldiers, two of them gunners in the coast defense and two sailors are among the killed.

The panic-stricken residents of the sister towns have returned gradually to their homes and discussed the situation. Plans are under consideration for a common funeral for all.

$10,000,000 IN SUPPLIES SENT TO BELGIANS

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE

By January the commission says it hopes to have four ships arriving regularly every week at Rotterdam with relief for the Belgians.

U. S. DEFENSES IN THE LIGHT OF PRESENT WAR

Investigation by Naval Committee Develops Value of Submarines for Defense Against Raids on Coast.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE
Washington, Dec. 17.—An "adequate" number of British submarines might have repelled the German cruisers which raided the English coast yesterday, Rear Admiral Fiske, aide for operations, told the house naval committee at today's hearing on the needs of the sea defense.

"If the British had had a sufficient number of submarines they could have stood off the cruisers," he said. "If the German vessels were going fast, however, it would be very hard for submarines to stand them off. If the British had had a dozen or fifteen submarines at Martello they would have been pretty hard to tackle."

Fairly Well Prepared.
Admiral Fiske thought that, judged by the situation abroad, the United States was as well prepared today for control of the sea as ever before.

Replying to questions which covered a long range, including acamem questions about the Monroe doctrine, Admiral Fiske said that he "did not think the United States would have been any more insistent in its dispute with Great Britain over the Venezuelan boundary if it had possessed a more powerful navy. The navy then was inferior to the present one and the British navy was superior to that of the United States."

Japan Is Tabooed.
The admiral told the committee that "whether we could take our submarines to Japan is doubtful." Immediately, at the instance of several members, the mention of Japan was stricken out.

"Do you consider the raiding of the British coast, as important as it is, like the raid of yesterday, has any bearing on the outcome of the war?" asked Representative Roberts.

Admiral Fiske pondered for a moment and replied: "I should not think that by itself it would have a serious bearing on the outcome, but if it operates to make the British fleet come around into the North sea it would have a serious effect."

First Line of Defense.
"The seriousness of such an attack or defense," suggested Representative Hobson, "is substantially its bearing on the ultimate control of the sea through the operations of the first line of defense."

"Yes," replied the admiral, "but of course the ultimate control of the sea is not the ultimate principle—the ultimate control of the sea itself is only intermediary to the effect on the government of the country you are after. For instance, if we should have war with any nation and our fleet should go out to sea and the enemy should have control of the sea and they would sink all of our ships, the United States would save money on the upkeep of the ships and the pay of the men. So far as the mere destruction of the ships goes, that is not the point. That is only leading up to some other enforcement of your policy."

An Extreme View Suggested.
"Could we keep a hostile fleet further away than 500 or 600 miles from our coast and could they cover that distance with aeroplanes to drop bombs against New York, for instance?" Admiral Fiske was asked.

"That is an extreme view," he replied. "I would say 400 or 500 miles."

"Is it possible for any country to have a navy big enough to keep the navy of any other country more than 500 miles off the coast?"

"That would be very difficult indeed."

"It has been my notion," said Representative Roberts, "that if we had in all our harbors and important points an adequate flotilla of submarines, it would be impossible for an enemy either to sufficiently blockade or come within bombarding distance. The results on the English coast yesterday especially bear out that theory."

The squadron of German cruisers could not have bombarded Hartlepool, had there been an adequate flotilla of submarines stationed there when the German cruisers came in, could it?"

Value of Submarines.
"Not if there had been an adequate number. If there had been an adequate number there they could have stood off the German cruisers."

"Assuming that instead of coast defense submarines with limited speed," he was asked, "England had had all about Hartlepool five or six submarines making twenty knots on the surface. Would that have reduced the possibility of any bombardment very greatly with the German fleet knowing that there were twenty-knot submarines there to keep off the cruisers?"

"I think so."

Admiral Fiske went on to say that in any attempt at offense or defense, the United States navy would attempt to get control of the sea far away, if the enemy's position were there, nearby, if the fight were to be nearby.

FINAL EFFORT MADE TO SAVE LEO M. FRANK

Case of Man Convicted of Mary Phagan's Murder Is Taken on Habeas Corpus Into Federal Court.

BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE
Atlanta, Ga., Dec. 17.—A new effort to save the life of Leo M. Frank, sentenced to be hanged January 22, for the murder of Mary Phagan, was begun in federal district court here today. Attorneys for Frank filed a petition for his release on a habeas corpus writ on the ground that he was convicted without due process of law and is being detained illegally. If the petition is denied, the attorneys said, appeal will be taken direct to the United States supreme court.

Contention of Attorneys.
The petition alleges that the prisoner's constitutional rights were violated by return of a verdict during his absence from the court room, that the jury was influenced by popular demonstration and that the trial court therefore lost jurisdiction in the case before a conviction was reached. Federal Judge Newman announced he would hear argument on the petition Saturday.

A previous effort to bring the case before the federal supreme court failed when both the state courts and the supreme court refused to grant a writ of error for a review. That action also was based on allegations that Frank's constitutional rights had been violated, but it did not involve a habeas corpus proceeding.

Without Prejudice Knowledge.
Today's petition sets forth that Frank knew nothing of the agreement of his attorneys to waive his presence when a verdict was returned and that his attorneys could not legally act for him where such a right was involved.

"Excitement within and without the court room on August 25, 1913," the petition adds, "was so apparent as to cause apprehension in the mind of the court whether the trial could be safely conducted that day, and before deciding upon an adjournment the presiding judge, while upon the bench and in the presence of the jury, conferred with the chief of police of Atlanta and the colonel of the Fifth Georgia regiment."

"On the last day of the trial," the petition continues, "the trial judge conferred with two of Frank's lawyers and referred to the probable danger of violence that the jury and his attorneys would incur if they were present when a verdict was rendered, should it be for acquittal or a disagreement. The judge then requested Frank's counsel to agree that Frank need not be present."

F. T. A. Junkin Resigns.

EL RITO NORMAL BOUNDARY CASE SHOWS GOOD GAIN OVER LAST YEAR

BOUNDRY CASE BRINGS ON TALK REGARDING FEES

FAIR MANAGERS SHOW WHERE THE MONEY HAS GONE

Reports to Governor by Heads of Educational Institutions Indicate Progress All Along the Line.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL) Santa Fe, Dec. 17.—The Spanish-American Normal school at El Rito has reported to Governor McDonald that the enrollment this year is 87 as against 70 last year and that while there were no students in the teachers' training class last year there are six in it this year although 81 pupils are seventh-graders down to first grade.

The building account, started because of the destruction of the school by fire on November 16, 1912, shows receipts from J. H. Sargent, donation, $100; appropriated by legislature, $5,000; receipts from current fund, $10,000; penalty from contractor, $150; a total of $15,250, of which Campbell brothers, the contractors, received $12,231.72; the Sparks Electric company, $122.72; Elliott and Barton, for heating plant, $2,187; E. D. Burke, for plumbing, $1,266.43; storage batteries, $278.77; miscellaneous, $24.07; H. Rapp, architect's fees, $1,713.81; Rapp, expense account, $149.69; advertising for bids, $2; a total of $18,912.44.

The sum of $2,562.44 was transferred from the general maintenance fund to balance the account. The disbursements for the past two years for salaries, etc., were $15,512.76.

Deaf and Dumb School.
The school for the deaf and dumb at Santa Fe reports to Governor McDonald that it has 45 pupils in attendance and that its expenses for last year were $13,729.08, leaving a balance of $1,014.66 in the treasury.

Military Institute.
The biennial report of the New Mexico Military Institute to Governor McDonald received today shows a balance in hand of $265.92, a rather remarkable condition of affairs. The balance on December 1, 1913, was $23,466.62, since when $91,784.17 were received from tuition, $760 from the sale of material and $50,645.33 from the state, making a total of $116,881.12. For salaries and supplies, $123,862.86 were expended; for building, furniture, library, $34,715.58.

EARLY COMPLETION OF FOREST SERVICE PHONE LINE IS NOW ASSURED

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL) Silver City, N. M., Dec. 17.—The early completion of the telephone line which is being built by the forest service from the Mimbre river across the Black range to the Kingston ranger station, is now assured.

The work has been temporarily delayed by stormy weather. Construction of the line has entailed some unusual difficulties, as it was necessary to transport the coils of wire, weighing 160 pounds each, on pack mules over rough mountain trails.

In the main the telephone line is strung on trees, instead of poles, this being possible through the use of a special split porcelain insulator which enables the wires to swing with the motion of the trees without danger of breakage.

The new line will be invaluable in protecting the thickly timbered Black range from forest fires and in addition will provide a means of instant communication between Silver City and Kingston, heretofore the most isolated ranger district headquarters on the Gila National forest.

STRIKE OF FREE GOLD OF INTEREST TO MINERS

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL) Silver City, N. M., Dec. 17.—Miners and prospectors are evincing great interest in a strike of free gold, just made in the White Signal district, large bodies of gold-bearing porphyry and granite have been uncovered near Signal Peak. Assays run from 20 to 30 ounces in gold to the ton.

E. Spencer and Fin Hedrick, who have been operating in the district for some time, have discovered a persistent ore shoot assaying very high in gold values. Several bunches of the high grade ore show a grade of mineral not frequently met with in the district and the entire hill shows finely disseminated free gold in granite. The gold is of a beautiful dark yellow color and is of great purity. Small particles and flakes examined show a peculiar association with mica and feldspar.

The new strike comes as a revival of activity in the White Signal district that has long been productive of very little good work relative to exploration of ore bodies at depth. The work that has been done on most of the properties in that region has been spasmodic and as a general thing of short duration. The entire district is a network of porphyry dikes and their accompanying vein matter. The opening up of ore at depth is expected to have a wholesome effect on the mining activities of this portion of the Burro mountains.

Mrs. MacGregor Laid to Rest.
Santa Rita, N. M., Dec. 17.—After an illness of several weeks, Mrs. Alexander MacGregor, wife of a well-known ranchman and mining man of the Mimbre district, died at the home of her daughter here. The funeral was held yesterday, interment being in the cemetery at Georgetown. Mrs. MacGregor was 67 years old and prominent in the affairs of the Order of the Eastern Star.

To Elect Justice of the Peace.
Silver City, N. M., Dec. 17.—Prospects are for a spirited contest for the peace election on January 11, when a new justice for the precinct comprising Silver City will be elected. Judge William H. Newcomb, who has held the office for many years, is to be opposed by Frank J. Wright, dean of the local bar and federal referee in bankruptcy. Both are republicans.

Dispute Between New Mexico and Texas Takes New Turn; Unexpected Developments in Official Circles.

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL) Santa Fe, Dec. 17.—The New Mexico-Texas boundary dispute has resulted in unexpected developments in official circles at El Paso. At a meeting of the county commissioners, W. S. Jones, auditing the county books produced the canceled warrants, amounting to $12,000 for fees of attorneys defending the Texas rights to land contested by the state of New Mexico. Only one of the two warrants for $6,000 was to have been paid at the time and the other not until six months afterwards. County Treasurer Ponder was examined and pleaded that he had overlooked the notation reading "Payable in six months after date." The amount of the claim until the warrant was given him for examination by the auditor.

The $12,000 fee was to be paid the attorneys for upholding the right of Texas to approximately 14,000 acres of land on the New Mexico border, valued at about $1,500,000 which will be lost to Texas if the suit is decided against Texas by the supreme court of the United States. Attorney General Frank W. Clancy is at El Paso at present at the taking of testimony in this suit. Judge Adrian Pool stated that the land which New Mexico claims is included in one grant in Texas and is claimed by another grant in New Mexico. If Texas loses the suit, many Texas owners of the property in dispute will lose their titles to the land as it will then be transferred to the New Mexico grant. New Mexico in that case would probably sue Texas for back taxes on this land.

It has been brought out that the Texas legislature appropriated $15,000 to defend the Texas claim but the governor vetoed the appropriation. The owners of the land then made up $24,000 and the county appropriated $12,000 to defend the suit.

Treasurer Ponder was ordered to prepare payment on the warrant. County Attorney Croom ruled that if the warrants were made illegal by the premature collection of the second, then Turney & Burges were responsible for the entire $12,000 and if the money can not be recovered from them, then Treasurer Ponder and his bondsmen must make good the sum.

APPROPRIATION ASKED BY PHARMACY BOARD TO ENFORCE EXISTING LAW

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL) Santa Fe, Dec. 17.—The state pharmacy board in its biennial report to Governor William C. McDonald, recommends an annual appropriation of $1,000 to enforce the drug act and food laws and to inspect and check drug stores.

As a second recommendation, it is suggested that the fees for registering under diploma by reciprocity agreement with other states be raised from $10 to $25. Registering under these clauses does not require the personal presence of the applicant before the board and thus saves the applicant traveling expenses that fall upon applicants for an examination.

The report concludes: "Your board is anxious and more than willing to see to it that the law is strictly enforced to the letter but the only way that it can handle complaints at present is through correspondence. Obviously the secretary was able personally to investigate violations and to assist the district attorney's office in procuring evidence to sustain the charges." Secretary B. Ruppe of Albuquerque says: "Our recommendations are up to the standard and our credits are recognized by thirty-two other states with whom we reciprocate."

COOLEY IS ACQUITTED OF MURDER CHARGE BY SAN JUAN COUNTY JURY

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL) Santa Fe, Dec. 17.—Claude Cooley was acquitted of the charge of murder in district court at Aztec, with Judge E. C. Abbott presiding. This ends one of the most sensational murder cases in the annals of New Mexico. Cooley had been found guilty of murder in the first degree at Tierra Amarilla and had been sentenced to hang.

The crime was alleged to have been committed at Chama, Rio Arriba county. Ed Gilliland, an intimate friend of Cooley being the victim. The trial at Tierra Amarilla had several sensational features and there were criminal accusations and recriminations as to attempts to tamper with the jury. Cooley appealed to the state supreme court which remanded the case for a new trial and it was tried on chance of venue at Aztec. J. H. Crist appearing as special prosecutor with Assistant District Attorney A. M. Edwards. A. E. Regehan hurried back from Washington, D. C., where he was on state land matters, to defend Cooley. Judge E. R. Wright being associated with Mr. Regehan.

Old-Timer Drops Dead.
Santa Fe, Dec. 17.—W. E. Carr, an old-timer in New Mexico county and friend of ex-Governor George Curry, dropped dead in a field near his ranch home near Tularosa. He was 62 years old and came to New Mexico more than twenty-five years ago and engaged in the cattle business. His death is ascribed to heart failure.

Few Frenchmen Die FROM THEIR WOUNDS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Paris, Dec. 17 (4:30 P. M.)—No fewer than 54 per cent of the French wounded returned to the firing line before December 12, according to figures supplied today by the surgical department of the ministry of war. Three and a half per cent of the wounded died.

Men in Charge of State Exhibit at San Diego Tell Governor McDonald What They Have Done.

(SPECIAL DISPATCH TO MORNING JOURNAL) Santa Fe, Dec. 17.—The New Mexico board of exposition managers today filed with Governor W. C. McDonald, its completed financial report, showing expenditures of $32,693.22 to date, of which $18,327.44 or more than one-half is for the state building and for architect's fees. The report is itemized voucher for voucher and classified under the following heads: On contract for state building at San Diego, $15,342.66; architect's fees, $1,184.78; commissioners' per diem, $1,427.51; railroad fare, $1,254.59; transportation besides railroad fare, $269.75; salaries, $2,685; woman's auxiliary, $151.20; goods exhibit, $217.10; lantern slides, $1,548.38; film and photographic supplies, $2,515.28; cameras, tripods, etc., $1,007.85; photographic enlargements and framing, $765.86; material for making models, $172.67; express and freight, $262.94; printing, stationery, postage, $1,534.34; general expense, $1,521.44; mineral exhibit, $40.25.

Stauffer Audits Accounts.
John K. Stauffer has just audited the accounts and found them correct in every detail. When it is remembered that the above figures cover the work of the board since its very inception and include the cost of the monumental building, the superb exhibits, the labor and transportation involved in gathering the material, then it is obvious that much has been accomplished on a $30,000 appropriation. In fact, the board has been compelled to seek outside aid and has succeeded for thirteen counties have appropriated sums ranging from $500 to $2,000 each to assure for themselves the fullest representation in the exhibits and it is hoped that the other thirteen counties will follow the public spirit of the example.

The thirteen counties voting an appropriation have added $16,000 to the $30,000 appropriated by the state and of this sum have paid $7,400, the other $8,600 being now due. They will receive many lines in value for the sum expended. Private enterprise has added materially and has made it possible for New Mexico to make a creditable display and yet, Col. R. E. Twitchell, chairman of the board, has found it necessary to advance money from his private account to carry along the work.

WORK ON PASSENGER STATION IN SILVER CITY NOW UNDER WAY

(SPECIAL CORRESPONDENCE TO MORNING JOURNAL) Silver City, N. M., Dec. 17.—Work is now under way on the Santa Fe Railroad company's new $25,000 passenger station in this city. A large force of men this week began to move the ancient depot to a point several hundred feet south of the present site, to make room for the new edifice.

The old depot, which is a landmark, will be rebuilt and converted into a freight depot and warehouse, the new station being used exclusively as a passenger depot, express and baggage office.

The contract calls for the completion of the station by next summer. Its construction marks a new era in the growth and development of Silver City.

Martinez Has Ambitious Scheme.
Santa Fe, Dec. 17.—Felix Martinez, who is again looming up as a senatorial possibility before the people of New Mexico, is seeking to interest New Mexico financiers in the organization of a large company with $250,000 capital to advance money to intending settlers in the Mesilla valley at 6 per cent, thus enabling them to make improvements, buy equipment, etc., from the start and paying back the sum borrowed gradually. It is believed that such a company would contribute mightily toward the success of the Elephant Butte reclamation project and would hasten the time when the Mesilla valley would have a population of 100,000 and more.

Mrs. Rathbun Hewitt's Assistant.
Santa Fe, Dec. 17.—Mrs. Vera Rathbun, who had been a stenographer in the offices of the Museum of New Mexico, has been appointed office assistant by Dr. Edgar L. Hewitt at San Diego, where Dr. Hewitt is director of the exhibits of the exposition, his offices occupying the second floor of the Administration building on the exposition grounds. Mrs. Mary C. Chapman, mother of the public library at East Las Vegas, left this forenoon for San Diego to join her daughter for the winter.

Visitors to Museum.
Santa Fe, Dec. 17.—J. C. Rutenber of Chicago was a visitor at the Museum of New Mexico today. Visitors from opposite portions of the Museum, J. E. McCall coming from Portland and Cyril James Colly from Fruitland, while James L. Briscoe registered from Tucuman and Frank Waller from Kirtland.

FEW FRENCHMEN DIE FROM THEIR WOUNDS

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Paris, Dec. 17 (4:30 P. M.)—No fewer than 54 per cent of the French wounded returned to the firing line before December 12, according to figures supplied today by the surgical department of the ministry of war. Three and a half per cent of the wounded died.

BLISS BELIEVES FIRING ACROSS BORDER ENDED

While No Definite Understanding Is Reached With Mexican Generals, Drastic Action May Be Avoided.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Washington, Dec. 17.—Secretary Garrison conferred with President Wilson tonight, giving him the latest reports from Brigadier General Bliss on the situation at Naco, Ariz., where the Mexican generals have not yet moved their forces so as to avoid firing into American territory.

The reports showed that the conditions had undergone no apparent change, although there was little firing in evidence. While the United States government is determined, if necessary, to open on the two Mexican forces to compel them to stop shooting into the state of Arizona, it was learned tonight that no decisive action was planned pending the efforts of Brigadier General Hugh L. Scott, chief of staff of the United States, now en route to Naco, to influence the two factions to adjust the situation.

The general belief in official quarters tonight was that some satisfactory understanding will be reached to avert serious action.

Agents here of the Gutierrez government to which General Maytorena is loyal, claim that he is preparing to move his force down the railroad south of Naco, so that he can continue to besiege the Carranza force under General Hill with the American border out of the range of the fire.

While the reports from General Bliss to the war department were made public, it is believed they indicate that he thought he had persuaded General Maytorena to stop firing into the United States.

Warning to Hill.
Until there is a definite understanding on the whole situation, it is thought General Bliss has warned General Hill not to take the offensive which would draw the fire of the Maytorena troops.

General Huibride's friends in Mexico are fearful for his safety and Secretary Bryan today directed Consul Silliman, in the Mexican capital, to make urgent representations in his behalf. Huibride was the civil governor to whom the city of Mexico was turned over when General Blanco withdrew the last of the Carranza forces from the capital and his efforts averted threatened anarchy until General Zapata's forces took entire charge. He is said now to have been imprisoned.

Special Agent Carothers, of the state department, who has been ill, today applied for and received two weeks leave of absence which he will spend at Gomez Palacio. His last report was that the country between the City of Mexico and Juarez on the north was peaceful.

CARRANZA CLAIMS TO HAVE DEFEATED VILLA.

El Paso, Texas, Dec. 17.—An official Carranza report today said that the Carranza forces had captured San Pedro de las Colonias, and were moving to attack Torreon, an important railroad junction of central Mexico. It was said that the troops of Colonel Vasquez, who recently engaged the Villa forces east of San Pedro, had been reinforced strongly by the groups commanded by General Arieta, from Durango, and of General Villareal of Coahuila.

From Villa agents here came a denial that any fighting had occurred. It was admitted, however, that Carranza forces numbering 5,000 were located at Madero, considerably east of San Pedro, and that Villa was moving his men to attack them. Arrivals on today's train from the south confirmed that fighting was in progress east of Torreon and that Villa was moving strong reinforcements from his southern garrisons.

GUTIERREZ SENDS SECOND ORDER TO MAYTORENA

Mexico City, Dec. 16, (Delayed).—President Gutierrez today sent a second order to Governor Maytorena of Coahuila, demanding that he retire from the neighborhood of Naco. The president said he would prefer to lose a dozen battles rather than cause complications due to firing across the border.

General Angeles left today with a large detachment of artillery. His destination was said to be Chihuahua state. The family of President Gutierrez have left the capital, destined, it was said, for San Luis Potosi.

TEMPORARY INSANITY PLEA OF MURDERER

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) New York, Dec. 17.—To obtain a jury to try William V. Cleary, town clerk and democratic leader of Haverstraw, on the charge of murdering his son-in-law, Eugene M. Newman, July 23, Justice Morchhausen held a session of the supreme court here tonight. The panel was exhausted after ten hours had been sworn and an additional panel was immediately drawn.

The defense is expected to be temporary insanity. Cleary, contending that while he knew his daughter and young Newman had run away together he did not know they had been married.

RURAL SCHOOLS OF THIS COUNTY BEST IN STATE

H. W. Foght Enthusiastic in Praise of Work Accomplished by Superintendent Atanasio Montoya.

"I have seen larger rural schools, but nowhere in the United States have I seen any that are doing much more effective work than some of those that I saw today."

In these words H. W. Foght, rural school expert of the United States department of education, last night expressed his opinion of the educational system of Bernalillo county, after a day spent in the inspection of eight of the county schools, including twenty-two schoolhouses.

Accompanied by County Superintendent Atanasio Montoya, City Superintendent John Mills, State Superintendent of Public Instruction Alvan N. White and H. R. Larkin, Mr. Foght yesterday made the rounds of the most representative county schools in a touring car which took the party in turn to the North Fourth street school and the schools at Ranchos de Albuquerque, Alameda, Bernal, Los Padillas, Pejarilla, Rancho de Atreco and Old Albuquerque.

Delighted With Work.
The result of the inspection is best given in the words of a statement given out by Mr. Foght last night.

"I am delighted," he said, "with what I saw during my first day in Bernalillo county. Not only the schools in some counties of New Mexico are better than those in other parts of the country, but the people have much to do with the improvement of the schools. The Rio Grande valley affords the people exceptional opportunities, and I am glad to say that the people have taken advantage of their opportunities here more than in any county that I have visited."

"Your schools, under Mr. Montoya, are well organized and are doing the work that is most needed in every farm community. The farm people should be encouraged to take more than a merely passive part in the schools. The rural schools should point the way not only by furnishing the proper leadership, but also by encouraging a love of the soil for its own sake and giving the technical education necessary to development."

Lunch at Los Padillas.
Under the leadership of Superintendent Montoya your consolidated schools are able to provide not only the cultural elements of education but also the social elements that are demanded of the modern school.

This was strikingly exemplified when we reached the school at Los Padillas, where we found that the teachers and children, in anticipation of our coming, had prepared a most appetizing five-course luncheon.

This luncheon had been prepared with a complete cooking outfit including a blue-flame oil stove, a kitchen cabinet and all that goes to make a modern culinary department. Several little girls, in dainty white aprons and caps, served the lunch and showed how well they had been trained by the perfect manner in which they looked after our wants. In this way more than in any other young rural schools will get a firm hold on the people.

The Community School.
"Everywhere that I went I found good, modern schoolhouses, well lighted, well heated, well equipped and in every other respect up to the best standards. Both externally and internally they showed that careful and intelligent attention had been to the physical needs of the student."

"What pleased me most, however, was to learn that the schools are being used for community purposes and that the rural schools are doing a real constructive work."

"I believe that you should emphasize the study of agriculture in your rural schools, and I am glad to learn that Superintendent Montoya is planning to inaugurate such an enterprise as soon as it can possibly be done by establishing experiment plots and gardens in connection with the various schools of the county."

Will Leave Today.

During the morning today Mr. Foght will visit a number of the city schools and will also make a talk to the students of the State University. He will leave this afternoon for his home in Knoxville, Mo., to spend the holidays with his family.

During his stay in New Mexico Mr. Foght visited the rural schools of Bernalillo, Santa Fe and Rio Arriba counties. The result of his observations will be made in a report which he is to make to the national bureau of education, and later a bulletin will be issued by the department which will tell the entire country the conclusions drawn from these observations.

Mr. Foght is a thoughtful and earnest man, of pleasing personality, and made many friends during his stay in Albuquerque.

FRANK H. TAPE IS FINALLY FREE MAN

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEASED WIRE) Seattle, Wash., Dec. 17.—Frank H. Tape, former Chinese interpreter at the United States immigration station here, was acquitted by a jury in the United States district court of this charge of accepting a bribe to admit Chinese into this country.

Tape, with two other defendants, was acquitted last week of a charge of conspiring to intimidate a government witness in the case which ended today.

HOLGUIN GOES TO GOVERNMENT JAIL; ESTES TO PRISON

Men Who Had Smuggled Cattle in Possession Sentenced by Judge Pope; Jury's Recommendation Heeded.

Judge Pope late yesterday afternoon passed sentence on Faustino Holguin and Philip Estes, who were recently convicted in the United States district court of having smuggled cattle in their possession.

Holguin was sentenced to serve ten months in the federal jail at Santa Fe and Estes was given fifteen months in the state penitentiary at Santa Fe. The difference in sentences probably was due to the fact that the jury recommended leniency in the case of the former. Judge Pope had previously overruled motions for a new trial. Estes filed petition for a writ of error. This was granted.

Holguin will have less than two months to serve owing to the fact that the court dated his sentence from the time of his incarceration. March 21, Estes' sentence, however, will begin at the date when the commitment is issued under the circuit court of appeals acts favorably upon his writ.

Donald C. Coverdale filed a petition in bankruptcy, giving his assets as $99.62 and his debts as $475.59. In the latter schedule he lists a bill of $744 for merchandise and pool, owing a cigar company here, and another of $25 for food and cigars. Coverdale's home is in this city.

Judge Pope denied the Victor American Fuel company's motion to dismiss the case of Beryl Edson by Bennett C. Edson, guardian ad litem, against the corporation. The plaintiff received a verdict in the federal court at Santa Fe for $4,000 last June, but it subsequently developed that the plaintiff is a citizen, so the fuel company attempted to have the case dismissed. The Edson youth was a rope-maker in a coal mine at Gallup. He was injured there, and sued the company for damages.

Despite a night session of court the Davis case was not ended yesterday. It will go to the jury today. Davis is charged with "white slavery."

NOTICE.
After this date, the undersigned will not be responsible for the debts of Mrs. O. A. Moore.

PEORIA PILOT IS NEW MANAGER OF WHITE SOX

Clarence H. Rowland, Who Took Three-I Team From Last to Second Place, Is Choice of Comiskey.

THE MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE: Chicago, Dec. 17.—To the complete surprise of players, press and public Clarence Henry Rowland, last year pilot of a team in a class B circuit, today was named manager of the Chicago American league baseball club, conceded to be a pennant contender in 1915. Many Chicago fans had never before heard of Rowland, but in baseball circles generally he was well known for though his career has been limited to the minor leagues he has been very successful and has gained the respect of club owners for his ability to discern and develop latent diamond talent.

The new leader left the ranks of the players for his manager job at Aberdeen, Wash., in 1908. Thence he went to Jacksonville, Ill., and then returned to Dubuque, Iowa, where he remained as part owner and manager of the Three-I league club. Beginning at the start of last season he managed the Peoria team in the Three-I taking it from last place to second.

Position for Callahan. Rowland will assume his new duties soon, expecting to move here from Dubuque. His arrival will be the signal for the retirement of James J. Callahan, who has led the team for three seasons. Callahan will be appointed to some position connected with the business affairs of the club. It was announced with the idea that eventually he will be able to shoulder some of the duties now falling to Owner Comiskey.

The disposition of "Kid" Gleason, coach and adviser to Callahan was not given out, but it was rumored he might be appointed manager of the New York Americans. The shift in management with the appointment of Eddie Collins as captain in place of Weaver, indicates a change in the field policy of the White Sox.

Rowland was born in Plattsville, Wis., and is 32 years old. His contract as manager for the White Sox is for one year and the salary was not made public.

SALE OF YANKS TO BE COMPLETED AT FRENCH LICK

THE MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADERS WIRE: French Lick, Ind., Dec. 17.—A final conference on the sale of the New York Americans between Colonel Jacob Ruppert and my partner probably will be held tomorrow," said Ben Johnson, president of the American league, tonight.

After a conference of Colonel Ruppert and Captain T. L. Huston, who are arranging to purchase the New York club and Charles Comiskey, president of the Chicago Americans and Mr. Johnson, the American league head said:

"We did not discuss the price to be paid for the Yankees, but did talk about the management and some changes in the team which Ruppert must have settled in order to consider the team. I will not name these changes, but I can say that if the deal for the manager, being considered, is closed, it will be a pleasant surprise to the baseball public."

Colonel Ruppert announced several days ago that he had already purchased the club and that the deal

WOULD BE COMPLETED WITH THE FIXING OF A PRICE, WHICH, HE SAID, WOULD BE ABOUT $450,000. COLONEL RUPPERT REFUSED TO DISCUSS TODAY'S MEETING.

President Comiskey of the Chicago club, was forced to leave the conference shortly after it began. He went to his room complaining of a slight faintness. The physician said the attack is not dangerous.

It was reported from unofficial sources here late tonight that Colonel Ruppert and Mr. Huston are delaying the actual purchase of the New York club until they are assured that the American league will arrange to strengthen the team with players and a manager.

The hall will be decorated beautifully in red and white and in the school colors. The high school orchestra will play.

STOLE SO HE COULD GO TO PICTURE SHOWS, BOY TELLS POLICE

That he stole "things" and peddled them to women to get money to go to the "movies," was the statement made by Manuel Sanchez, 10 years old, to Chief McMillin last night.

Sanchez was arrested by Patrolman Guevara. He had a doll, which he said he had taken from The Leader. Guevara found a cap on the ground nearby, which, evidently, had been dropped by one of two other boys who were with Sanchez, but who fled upon his approach. Sanchez said the cap was taken from Julian Dreyfus' store. McMillin released the boy, telling him to return to the station this morning.

Sanchez' home is at 445 West Pacific avenue.

MIDDLEWEIGHTS READY TO START AT BELL TONIGHT

George and Smauling in Great Condition; Rule Against Hitting in Clinches to Be Enforced.

George and Smauling are ready to step into the ring tonight at the New Mexico Athletic club gymnasium. They are in perfect physical condition as far as outward appearances indicate and capable of putting up their best fight.

They finished training yesterday afternoon with light programs. George boxed with Jack Torres again, defeating a large crowd. The California middleweight appeared to have sound wind. The several rounds he went with Torres indicated that he is thoroughly acclimated, just as Manager Winsor declared he would be. Smauling also boxed in the afternoon and satisfied his followers that he is right.

George is Fast. The men will weigh about the same. They are to meet at catchweights. This provision suited Smauling since he has been putting on encephalitis recently. His increased weight is scarcely perceptible at a glance, however, and he looks the same lean muscular statue in ebony that he used to. He doesn't appear to have lost any speed either.

George's shiftness in the gymnasium surprised many who, seeing him in his street togs, believed he was fat. While he is far from giant, he is as nimble on his feet as a lightweight. He uses the aviation lift with the ease and grace of little Johnny Dundee.

Human Will Referee.

The performance will start at 8:30 o'clock. Winsor and C. G. Wilfong, composing the new management of the New Mexico Athletic club announced last night. This fight will be the first to be staged under their direction. Dr. W. M. Sheridan will examine the men before they enter the ring, having been appointed club physician by Wilfong. The examination will be made to avoid the risk of an accident.

Fred Inman of Chicago, will referee and Charley Clay will be official timekeeper. Inman came here recently from Chicago, intending to make his home here. He has had experience as the third man in the ring in the windy burg.

The new management announced last night that the New York rule, prohibiting fighting in the clinches, would be rigidly enforced.

Rule Should Be Popular.

This should prove a crowd pleaser. It means that the men will have to go all the way and that there will be no loafing. It means there will be ten rounds, full measure, of action. Smauling is known to be a willing fighter and Winsor vouches for George. The latter surely seems to be in condition to go the distance without stalling. So the management should have little or no difficulty in making the new rule stick at its first trial.

Manager Winsor announced last night that Wildcat Ferns would come. He and Jack Torres will be matched for December 29 at 144 pounds at 10 o'clock in the afternoon of the fight. Ferns is claimant of the middleweight championship.

Great Chance for Torres.

While Mike Gibbons knocked him out, Gibbons is a middleweight and Bud Logan who was credited with beating him is reported to outweigh the weight limit. If Torres can defeat Ferns or even hold him to a draw, he will establish a reputation that will put money in his pocket.

PORK BARREL IS HEAVILY CUT BY THE COMMITTEE

Appropriations Are Reduced, for Rivers and Harbors, by Nearly Twenty Million Dollars From Estimates.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 17.—The annual rivers and harbors appropriation bill carrying $24,138,580 for waterway improvements throughout the country, was completed tonight by the house rivers and harbors committee. Estimates of the army engineers were reduced by nearly $22,000,000 and the bill appropriates only for work on projects which have already been begun, and making no provision for new undertakings.

Following the defeat of the rivers and harbors bill at the last session of congress and the appropriation of $20,000,000 to maintain work on existing projects, the board of engineers submitted estimates aggregating $53,000,000. These the committee, according to Chairman Sparkman, "pared to the bone."

Heavy Cuts Are Made. All of the big improvement projects were involved in the effort to reduce the appropriations. The bill gives the Mississippi river, $6,327,000 out of $10,500,000 recommended; the Ohio, $5,644,000 out of $9,834,000 recommended; the Hudson, $1,500,000 out of $2,670,000 recommended; the Columbia, $1,985,000 out of $2,500,000 recommended; the Missouri, $1,350,000 out of $2,500,000 recommended. The Delaware river received the full estimate, a cash appropriation of $1,500,000.

Among the appropriations for the larger projects were the following:

- Texas—Galveston harbor, $200,000; Galveston channel, $250,000; Texas city channel, $50,000; Port Bolivar channel, $40,000; Port Aransas Pass, $100,000; Sabine Pass, $500,000; Houston ship channel, $250,000; Anahuac channel, Trinity river, Oyster creek and bayous, $25,000; inland waterway on the west Texas coast, $105,000; Brazos river mouth, $45,000; Old Washington to Waco, $200,000; Velasco to Old Washington, $10,000; channel Aransas Pass to Corpus Christi, $10,000; Trinity river, $15,000.

CONFESSES HE HELD UP STORE

Jose Contreras Tells Police That He, Urbano Sanchez and Frank Alires Robbed Mrs. Casuli.

Frank Alires, now serving a short sentence in the county jail for having stolen harness in his possession, and Urbano Sanchez were implicated in the Casuli hold-up. Jose Contreras, 19 years old, told the police last night. Contreras confessed to taking a hand in it himself.

Contreras was arrested at the Santa Fe railway's tie treating plant at San Jose. He made a statement to the arresting officers there that led to their stopping at Sanchez' house on the way to the station and taking him along. Sanchez was arrested previously on suspicion, but released. Captain Pat O'Grady and Patrolman Pablo Nizan and Tony Guevara made the arrests.

Alires Forced to Go, He Says.

The boy made a detailed statement with seeming candor at the station, which the officers took in writing. They placed credence in the greater part of his story. He said the robbery was planned at the home of Sanchez the afternoon before it was executed. Alires failed to appear at their rendezvous, so he and Sanchez went to the house where they found him in bed, he said.

Alires did not want to go, but Sanchez induced him to trade revolvers, giving Alires his unloaded gun and then pointing Alires' own weapon into the store, that it was Alires who fired. Sanchez commanded him to "get a move on," Contreras said.

Says He Got Nothing.

The boy told the police that Alires and Sanchez entered the Casuli store while he remained outside. He said he did not get any of the $30 they took from the cash drawer, as they told him they got nothing. The police expressed the belief, however, that it was Contreras and Alires who went into the store, that it was Alires who first entered wearing the mask and that it was Contreras who followed him and handled Mrs. Casuli roughly. Contreras has a scar on the back of his left hand and Mrs. Casuli reported that the one who did not wear a mask had a bandage wrapped around his hand.

Nearly Nabbed Boy Before.

Contreras' confession in parts fits with a statement made by Alires at the time he was held as a suspect. Alires offered to lead the police to the two men, who, he said, committed the robbery, at the same time exonerating himself. Sanchez was one of the men he pointed out. He took the patrolman to a house where Contreras was and Patrolman Guevara asked him if Contreras was not one. Alires said he was not. Sanchez denies any knowledge of the hold-up.

Mrs. Casuli identified Alires as the man with the mask when he was weak-kneed, but later weakened, so he was held on the charge of having stolen harness in his possession when the police found several sets at his home.

The boy said all three had guns, but that the one Sanchez gave Alires were not loaded. Contreras came from Chihuahua.

STOLE HORSE FROM BROTHER, IS CHARGE AGAINST MARTINEZ

Under Sheriff Dick Lewis yesterday delivered Daniel Martinez to Deputy Sheriff Lopez of San Miguel county. Martinez is charged with stealing a horse, but later weakened, so he was held on the charge of having stolen harness in his possession when the police found several sets at his home.

BUICKS ARE POPULAR OUT AT GALLUP

C. W. Cain, general traveling salesman in the southwest for the Buick Motor company, and J. H. P. Jones, president of the Albuquerque Automobile company, returned to the city yesterday from Gallup, McKinley county, where they were successful in disposing of several Buick machines. Mr. Jones says the Buick is a very popular car in that town and surrounding country, and is just the car for "speed and durability." Mr. Cain will leave today for Santa Fe, and from there to his headquarters at Amarillo, Texas.

RETURNS TO SEE GIRL; NABBED ON FORGERY CHARGE

Returning to see a girl friend, C. H. Johnson, 19 years old, was arrested yesterday afternoon by Under Sheriff Dick Lewis, charged with forgery. The youth obtained $249 on a bogus draft at the Citizens bank, it was said.

Johnson was supposed to be in Denver, where his father lives, and a detective agency was informed that he was wanted here. He came back Wednesday night and yesterday the under sheriff heard of his return. He arrested Johnson at 309 West Tijeras avenue, where he was said to be in hiding.

SANTA STARTS ON HIS ROUNDS IN ALBUQUERQUE

Pathetic Scenes Are Enacted When Distribution of Supplies to Poor Families Takes Place.

"If the ladies of Albuquerque who have had in charge the work for the municipal Christmas tree and the relief of the needy families of the city could have been with me this afternoon they would have felt a thousand times repaid for the work they have so splendidly done. If those who have contributed to the fund had seen what I saw the only regret they would have felt would have been that they didn't give double what they did."

So spoke former Mayor D. K. B. Sellers last night after he had concluded the first day's work of distributing Christmas supplies, which began yesterday afternoon at 3:30. For, after thinking the matter over and considering the main object to be gained, the Christmas tree committee couldn't see any use in waiting until Christmas when they had a lot of stuff on hand and the need for it is as pressing now as it will be when Christmas comes.

Accordingly, Colonel Sellers was sent out in the role of Santa Claus to gladden the hearts of the poor people of the city whose names had been handed in to committee; and from now until Christmas the colonel will devote all of his time, from 8 o'clock in the morning until night, to the work of distributing Christmas supplies to the poor.

Many Touching Scenes.

In his rounds yesterday afternoon Colonel Sellers witnessed many scenes that were touching in the extreme. His cargo consisted mainly of staple groceries and fruits, and the houses at which he called were those where in many instances the actual need of food to sustain life was pressing—where the pinched, drawn faces of little children told of poorly nourished bodies and where the gaunt specter of hunger was everywhere in evidence. The widow and orphan who faced the prospect of a bleak and barren Christmas showed the light of keener rapture in their faces as the Christmas auto drew up and the certainty of good substantial food became apparent.

At one place Colonel Sellers found a mother and her little girl just sitting down to their evening meal. The meal consisted of a small plate of dry beans and a glass of water. It was all they had to eat. There was no coffee, no sugar, no meat—none of the many things that the average person considers a necessary part of every meal. The pair seemed frightened when the auto drove up to the humble little shack that served as a home to them. When finally they were made to understand the purpose of the visit the mother's eyes filled with tears of joy and the little girl jumped about the room and clapped her hands in an ecstasy of glee. It was almost too good to be true—they had heard of Santa Claus, but they had not been able to conceive of the possibility of his coming to their house.

Such instances were the rule rather than the exception. Pale, haggard men who had been out of work for months and who saw nothing but want and hunger in store for them, literally broke down and wept when the Santa Claus car came around. Little children who had come to think of Santa Claus only as a beautiful myth that existed, if at all, only for the rich, stared in open-eyed wonder as oranges and apples and other Christmas goodies were placed in their tiny hands. It is no wonder that Colonel Sellers declares that the ladies should feel a thousand times repaid for their work.

The Glory of Giving.

The committee has decided that this is not a time to hold meetings and talk over matters, but rather a time to improve each shining hour by doing all the work that is possible. Talk is cheap and there will be plenty of time after Christmas to hold experience meetings. The thing to do now is to exert every nerve and muscle to do what has to be done. Especially gratifying has been the fact that the donations have come from people in all walks of life. The rich have given of their abundance, while people in very modest circumstances have managed to find a way to pinch out something from their small store to contribute to the relief movement. The glory of giving seems to have been impressed profoundly upon all classes of Albuquerque citizens.

A slender, frail woman dressed in black, a day or two ago brought in a small package as her contribution. Her eyes filled with tears and her voice broke as she explained that the package contained her dead baby's clothes. She hoped that they would furnish the warmth and comfort that might be necessary to save to some other mother the life of her baby.

A man in blue overalls recently turned over to a member of the committee a pair of boys' shoes. Later in the day he called again and asked that they be returned to him. His good wife, he explained, had "called" him good and proper, because the shoes needed mending and he had failed to have the work done before making his donation. He took the shoes away, had the necessary repairs made and then brought them back.

Picking Out the Tree.

District Forester Ringland and J. F. Mullen, also of the forest service went out yesterday to select the tree that is to be erected on the vacant lot opposite the Alvarado. With two such experts on the job it is assured that the tree part of the program will be a glittering success. "Glittering" is the right word, for when A. F. Van Deuse, of the electric light company, gets through with his part of the work the tree is sure to glitter. In every school in Albuquerque the

STOCKS CONTINUE TO SHRINK ON THE EXCHANGE

Each Slight Advance Checked by Free Offering of International Shares at Minimum Quotation.

(BY MORNING JOURNAL SPECIAL LEADER WRITER)
New York, Dec. 17.—Stocks continued to drop today on smaller and more contracted volume of operations. Trading seemed to be largely for that fraction of the professional element committed to the short account and when the demand from that quarter had spent its force the list drifted idly toward lower quotations. The significance of the session as a whole may be judged from the fact that a relatively inconspicuous specialty—Central Leather—was the most active feature with a gain of 1½ points.

Irregularity characterized the opening, followed by a general advance which provoked fresh selling of the international list. It took only a few thousand shares to reverse the rising movement and send the average under yesterday's close. Numerous syndicates were made to the group of stocks selling at minimum prices. In keeping with its recent custom, final quotations were at or near the low level of the day.

Little encouragement was derived from routine news, which indicated a recovery in Louisville and Nashville and the Atlantic Coast Line dividends from 7 to 5 per cent and the Southern Pacific statement for November, showing a net loss of almost $800,000.

The government crop report also was far from favorable in its forecast of winter wheat which was 2 per cent under the ten-year average.

The investment market followed the course of the stocks. Preparations for the loaning of money by the $150,000,000 cotton pool were finally completed, local financial institutions contributing their quota of $50,000,000. The call money was offered at 3 per cent, but time loans hardened a fraction for long days.

London's markets reflected in mild degree the alarm occasioned by the recent bombardment of British coast towns.

Bonds were again irregular, with contrary movements in some of the speculative issues. Total sales, par value aggregated $1,302,000.

United States government bonds unchanged on call.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE.

Chicago, Dec. 17.—Immense export sales, said to amount to more than 5,000,000 bushels in the last forty-eight hours, carried the wheat market today sharply up-grade. Closing prices were strong, ½¢ to 1½¢ above last night. Other leading staples, too, all scored a net gain—corn ½¢ to 1½¢; oats ½¢ to 1½¢; and provisions ½¢ to 1½¢.

It was apparent from the start that sentiment in the wheat trade had turned against the bear. Signs were discovered early that business with foreigners was of much larger proportions than had been reported and that contrary to popular belief the European demand instead of being diminished by German naval exploits had suddenly grown extremely urgent. Anxiety to purchase for export, however, showed the greatest increase of force immediately after announcement was made that for the first time this season primary receipts in the United States had fallen below the total at the corresponding time a year ago.

Notwithstanding that the government report on winter wheat acreage and condition was regarded as somewhat bearish, the decrease exceeding what had been looked for, the market at no time suffered any important setback.

Virtually all other influences were lost sight of in view of huge seaboard clearances and because of advices of unusual activity of exporters not only here but at Kansas City, St. Louis and Omaha and in the east as well.

Corn swept higher with wheat. Besides, receipts were smaller and there was an improved call from feeders, the result of cold weather.

Offerings to Europe were all accepted, about 250,000 bushels. The strength of other grain spread to oats, the seaboard aggregated 400,000 bushels.

Liberal receipts of hogs and the fact that western packers were pressing the sale of lard gave the provision market a setback at first. The bulk in cereals, however, reversed the course of prices, and more than offset the early decline.

Closing prices:
Wheat—December, $1.20½; May $1.21½.

Corn—Dec. 64¢; May, 70½¢.

MACHINIST KNOCKED OUT WHEN METAL HITS
HIM IN SOLAR PLEXUS

John Clarke, a machinist, 409 West Iron avenue, was knocked out yesterday afternoon at the Santa Fe railway shops when a piece of metal, hurled by an explosion, struck him in the solar plexus.

The condition of Clarke was described at the Santa Fe coast lines hospital, where he was hurried, as similar to that of a prize fighter who has been dropped by a terrific blow, but the shock to Clarke was much more severe than a human hand could deliver and more sustained. However, no symptoms of internal injury were observed and he will recover, although he will not be able to leave the hospital for several days.

Clarke was operating the press used in removing car wheels from axles in the car shops. A cylinder, containing oil, part of the press, burst. It was part of the cylinder that hit Clarke.

After Justice Thomas Marron had bound them over, he took them to Socorro and placed them in the county jail.

Thirteen hats and seven pairs of shoes were taken from the car. Thomas found six hats thrown in the brush near San Antonio. Three pairs of shoes were recovered.

The judgment in the Melkusch case was formally entered after Judge Reynolds had overruled a motion for a new trial. The plaintiff, Matt Melkusch, takes nothing by his suit and the defendant, the Victor American Fuel Co., recovers costs from him.

W. C. Leonard, plaintiff in a suit against V. H. Grosvenor, was ordered to furnish the defendant within three days a more specific bill of particulars, specifying the particular kind of merchandise alleged to have been sold the defendant.

CAUTION—In buying Jewelry you are absolutely dependent upon the good faith of the jeweler. Solid gold goods that wear a lifetime and goods merely plated with gold that won't wear a month look exactly alike. It is wisdom to buy such things of a merchant who will be here to make good or to exchange any article that may not suit.
