A BIG FIRE AT ALTON, ILLINOIS

An Entire Block of Elevators and a Mill Destroyed by the Flames.

LOSS AMOUNTS TO $500,000

The St. Louis Fire Department Sent Two Fire Companies on a Special Train to Help the Alton Fire Department.

St. Louis, Mo., Oct. 2.—A fire broke out in the plant of the Standard Milling company at Alton, Ill., about 10:30 a. m. It destroyed the structure and 300,000 bushels of wheat, and spread rapidly to adjoining buildings, driven by a high wind. The St. Louis fire department has just sent two fire companies on a special train. The E. O. Standard Milling plant which was entirely destroyed, covers an entire block with its elevators and mill. It is reported that some of the employees failed to escape. The total loss, so far as is estimated, is $500,000, of which probably $200,000 was suffered by the E. O. Standard Milling company.

The firemen finally got the flames under control about 1 o'clock. The heaviest losers are: E. O. Standard Milling company, three buildings, loss $300,000, insured. Roller Milling company, loss $50,000, partially insured. George B. Hayden machine shop, loss $15,000, partially insured. Farmers' Elevator, loss $25,000, insurance partial. The Model hotel, loss $5,000, partially insured.

A LEAD COMBINE.

The Capital Is to Be $150,000,000—An Objecting Firm Brought Around.

Philadelphia, Oct. 2.—The Evening Telegraph today prints a story to the effect that a combination of all the lead interests of the country into one large company, with a capital of about $150,000,000, is a probability in the near future. Such a combination, it is said, has been attempted in the past, but was always blocked by the attitude of the firm of Wetherill & Bro., of this city, who steadfastly refused to put their plant into any combination. Recently, the Evening Telegraph says, business conditions have been such as to produce a change in the attitude of the Wetherills, and a member of the firm is quoted as favoring a combination under certain conditions.

SCHLEY BOARD OF INQUIRY

Nothing of a Sensational Nature Was Developed By the Testimony Given Today.

BECKER AND SHARP TESTIFY

Commander Sharp of the Converted Yacht Vixen Had a Controversy on Board of the Brooklyn With Lieutenant Hodgson.

Washington, D. C., Oct. 2.—The Schley court of inquiry resumed today with Chief Yeoman Becker of the cruiser New York, on the stand. Becker's testimony was in regard to the dispatches sent by Sampson to Schley. Lieutenant Commander Alexander M. Sharp, who commanded the converted yacht Vixen during the Spanish war, told of his service while connected with the flying squadron. Commander Sharp told of the controversy he had in Schley's cabin with Lieutenant Hodgson, navigator of the Brooklyn, in regard to the famous loop. Hodgson claimed that the Brooklyn's helm was starboard. Sharp that it was port.

Captain Sigsbee was recalled. Rayner asked him whether "in view of the state of the weather and the sea on May 26, the ships could have coaled with safety to them." Captain Sigsbee replied: "Possibly, yes, on the evening of the 26th, but at the risk of danger to the ships. The weather had somewhat abated, and we cannot say that it would have been impossible."

Captain Sigsbee also said: "Never have I stated that Admiral Schley was blockading 25 miles out at sea."

The court adjourned at 4 o'clock. Just prior to the adjournment, Admiral Dewey announced that all questions relating to the blockade off Santiago must be confined to the time prior to the arrival of the commander-in-chief.

The quarantine rules are said to have been based on purely geographical and sanitary considerations and not enforced toward the Japanese with greater rigor than toward other people. ## New Mexico Demands Statehood of the 57th Congress.

Of Right and in Justice New Mexico Should Be a State.

Even the Reverend Sam Jones is denouncing yellow journalism.

Ex-Senator David B. Hill will not make campaign speeches in Ohio this year. He is right, what is the use of fooling his time away?

The nation's stability is pretty well established, but it seems that the price paid to test this stability every once in a while is very great.

Serving in the military service in the Philippine Islands according to recent reports, is not as safe and pleasant a pastime as some people seem to imagine.

The bureau of fabrication of the territorial sorcerers is greatly offended because decent and intelligent citizens will not believe its fabrications. But what is, is.

Lieutenant Perry reports that he is still alive and comfortable. There are no reports from the north pole, but it may be presumed that the latter is also comfortable.

After the New Mexican gang of sorcerers has offered its advice concerning New Mexico appointments, President Roosevelt will carry out his own ideas concerning them.

The Iowa Democrats have a new issue upon which they think they can carry the coming state election. They accuse the Republican candidate for governor of that state of being an expert golf player.

The Duke of York is fond of Scotch whiskey. He likes pretty women. He is also to be made Prince of Wales. He is evidently a chip off the old buck and follows closely in his distinguished father's footsteps.

Oom Paul Kruger has abandoned the idea of an appeal on behalf of the Boers to President Roosevelt. Oom Paul seems to understand the president better than some of the guerrilla politicians in New Mexico.

The New Mexico sorcerer gang can be sure of one thing, President Roosevelt will be the last person in this country to remove an official who is doing his duty fearlessly in the face of defamation, slander and abuse.

The medical journals of the country are at loggerheads over the cause of the death of the late president. The people of the country, however, would like them to keep quiet. This is a subject upon which the people feel very strongly.

Considering the recent attack by bolomen on a company of the 9th Infantry in the Island of Samar, and the killing of 50 soldiers by these brigands, it may surely be assumed that too much leniency is not a good thing in the Philippines.

One of the Las Vegas papers, and not the Record, has Andrew Jackson succeeding Abraham Lincoln for a term of almost four years because Lincoln served only fourteen days of his second term. Pretty bad break for a Jacksonian paper to make.

It is well known that a great majority of the people of this territory favor statehood for New Mexico. The thing now is to get a majority of congressmen to favor statehood for New Mexico and to vote accordingly. This is where the work must be done.

Senator John Cabot Lodge of Massachusetts, should promptly put a stop to the report that is spreading over the country that he will have great influence with the Roosevelt administration. If he does not his labors will be increased a thousandfold. The disposition of the average Massachusetts man to hold office is very well established.

An outbreak of Filipino bandits now and then is to be expected for some time to come. It took the United States a hundred years and more to prevent such outbreaks on part of the Indians. The task of subduing the Filipino bandits in the mountain fastnesses and in the swamps of the Philippines is somewhat similar to the work that was necessary to conquer the nomadic Indian tribes of the west.

And now the yellow anarchistic sheet in Las Vegas, the Optic, brings up Captain W. E. Dame as a candidate for governor of New Mexico. Captain Dame was a gallant soldier and was promoted to a commission for gallantry and efficiency during the Spanish-American war. He served with credit and merit two years in the Philippines. Why that anarchistic sheet has endeavored to injure him by fanning up on him is not exactly clear.

A strong pinch of uncertainty and corresponding excitement has been added to the international yacht races by the three races which have thus far been sailed, two of them not being finished within the time limit and the third being won by the Columbia. Yesterday the Shamrock had the better of it but fortunately for the American cup the wind was not strong enough to enable the boats to make the race within the time limit.

The demand for small bills, nickels and copper coins made upon the mints of the country by the west is evidence that the day is fast going when small coins were not used and a copper penny was almost unknown west of the Missouri river.

Denver is very giddy this week, and all on account of the Mountain and Plain festival. The Queen City of the Plains takes off a week annually and devotes it to merry-making which incidentally is also a good advertisement for it because the carnival draws thousands of visitors who are not liable to forget when they reach home that Denver is by far the largest and most enterprising city of the Rocky mountain region.

The Schley court of inquiry is hoodooed. Although it has been in session but a short time, the principal counsel of Admiral Schley has died and Judge Advocate Lemly was called from Washington by the tragic death of his sister at Salem, N. C. The way it looks now, Admiral Schley will also be unfortunate for he may leave the court with his reputation as a hero somewhat impaired in the eyes of the public which thus far has been his most enthusiastic partisan and defender.

It is a noteworthy fact that the fight that is being waged against consumption is having at least some success. According to the census, the number of deaths from consumption in 1900 was less per thousand than it was in 1890. The more general application of the climate cure has undoubtedly something to do with this decrease in mortality for thousands are being cured annually or have their lives prolonged by coming to New Mexico, Colorado or Arizona. Pneumonia is now the most fatal of diseases, the deaths from it exceeding those from consumption. The climate cure would also decrease the fatality in that disease, but the course of pneumonia is so swift that it is impossible to remove a patient after he is once attacked with the disease.

American Shipping Should Be Protected.

Germany believes in possessing a merchant marine of its own. The government helps in a substantial manner to have the nation's commerce carried in German bottoms made by German workmen in German shipyards. In consequence Germany scores one commercial triumph after the other and in the harbors of New York, Baltimore, Rio Janeiro, Buenos Ayres and other American ports the German flag on trans-Atlantic liners is far more prominent than the Stars and Stripes.

German steamship lines have built one record breaker after the other. The latest is the Kronprinz Wilhelm which has just completed its first voyage across the Atlantic. It is the swiftest express steamer afloat. Though a little smaller than the Celtic, the Kronprinz Wilhelm, like the other newer German ships, is considerably faster than the fastest craft of the seagoing merchant navy of Great Britain. It is designed for an actual speed of 23 knots. Somehow or other the Germans alone of the maritime nations seem to find this high rate profitable. The British declare that it is government subsidies and favors that enable the Teutons to outstrip them without passing dividends.

Just what the North German ships receive in imperial mail pay on the route between Bremen and New York nobody knows, and nobody can discover. The United States commissioner of navigation has made repeated efforts to learn the amount of this subvention, but he has been denied the information which he has easily procured from every other European government. This secrecy confirms a suspicion that the Atlantic mail pay of the great German ships is something handsome. If it were a niggardly stipend the figures would not be withheld.

Nor is this all. The New York line is only one of many branches of the immense North German Lloyd corporation. It has a larger number of ships engaged in traffic with the east under a long-term contract with the imperial government. The East India service of the North German Lloyd was established in 1888, with an annual subsidy of 4,400,000 marks ($1,047,500). One stipulation of these mail subsidy contracts was that the ships which received the subsidy should be built in Germany, by German workmen, and, as far as possible, of German materials.

Germany's whole maritime policy has been distinctively protective. At first Germany had no shipyards. It was compelled to allow its people to buy large craft abroad. But legislation and imperial influence have been steadily aimed to discourage the purchase of foreign tonnage and to put a premium upon the construction of German ships in German yards. Emperor William has been especially strenuous in insisting upon this as a point of patriotism. The consequence is that Germany now builds three ships at home for one it buys abroad, and every steamer of the first class which it has added to its merchant fleet for several years has been thoroughly German in design as well as in construction.

Of course, the large subsidy to the Asiatic branch of the North German Lloyd has been of much indirect benefit to the Atlantic service. These subsidized vessels have brought China or India or Australian goods, destined for New York, which have been transferred at Bremen to the New York liners. The German subsidy has, therefore, operated to extinguish the direct East India trade in American ships, and only at long intervals does a Yankee merchantman now come home laden with the products of the Orient.

In a word, Germany has protected her shipping, while the United States has neglected its shipping. It is not at all strange, therefore, that the German merchant tonnage in deep-sea carrying has doubled and trebled, while that of the United States has steadily shrunk. Germany has taken a leaf out of the book of American experience to which the United States government and the people have been singularly and disastrously blind.

THE RESOURCES OF OTERO COUNTY

They Are manifold and Will Continue to Bring Prosperity and Growth to That Part of New Mexico.

THE ADVANTAGES OF ALAMOGORDO

(Rocky Mountain News.)
With the completion of its extension to Rock Island connection at Santa Rosa the El Paso and Northeastern railroad system will have 322 miles of track distributed as follows: Main line, El Paso to Alamogordo, 88 miles; Alamogordo to Carrizozo, 58 miles; Carrizozo to Santa Rosa, 128 miles. Branches: Turquoise to Jarilla, 4 miles; Alamogordo to Cloudcroft, 26 miles, and Carrizozo to El Capitan, 20 miles.

W. H. Kerr of Pennsylvania the financial power of Good & Co., the contractors who are building the El Paso and Northeastern extension to Santa Rosa, lately telegraphed to Mr. Good "that Rock Island connection must be made at Santa Rosa by the first of January next if it took all the money in the state of Pennsylvania to do it."

Mr. Kerr's telegram fully cleared up the construction situation, and the definite date of December 23 is now set for the arrival of the El Paso and Northeastern extension at Santa Rosa—the Rock Island rails from the north reaching there at the same time. Upon meeting the two connecting lines will put in the last days of December in final preparation for the full inauguration on January 1, 1902, of through Rock Island and El Paso and Northeastern traffic and travel from Kansas City to El Paso, via Liberal, Kas., Delhart, Tex., and Alamogordo, N. M.

COUNTY SEAT OF OTERO.

Alamogordo is the seat of Otero county; it is three years old; has 2,300 people; is lighted by electricity; a superb water system; a fine school division and operating headquarters of the Rock Island and El Paso & Northeastern systems; excellent school facilities, a Baptist college; busy railroad shops; two newspapers; fine railroad depot and operating offices, a $10,000 hotel; a woman's club; a park a mile long, and as lovely as it is long; a big box factory; an ice plant; a public library; four of the fraternal organizations, and, all told, is perhaps the most modern town of the southwest.

The town is also soon to have a $25,000 court house and a $300,000 railway hospital, while eastern money has added up the figures for a $300,000 mogordo sanitarium.

The town is the geographical and mercantile center of one of the finest growing sections beneath southern has thousands of tributary fertile acres open to government entry is on the line of the shortest rail route bet Kansas City, Denver and El Paso, within two hours' jaunt of famous City—the arid-land summer and southwestern resort.

Otero county comprises over 4,000 acres of land, 8,000 acres of water under cultivation, there being 1,400,000 agricultural acres subject government entry.

In the mountain foothills and via a natural subsoil irrigation exists from the seepage of other subterranean water sources, while the distance is eligible alike to surface and subsoil, and well water irrigation—scarcely of surface water during summer being supplied by the st reservoirs. At Tularosa, fourteen north of Alamogordo, a Colorado Sp. Colo. county will construct a water canal—with storage reservoir inforcement—which will cover 11 acres, while other similar irrigation enterprises are in contemplation.

Well water is reached at easy d and can be both cheaply and abund brought to the surface by pump, mill or otherwise. The lost river subterranean watercourse that tra a large country area and which is velop into an exhaustless irri source. The waters of this underf flow approach in many places to three feet of the surface, with lift as a maximum, pumping, depth placing this exhaustless subterr stream at the ready service of bot gation, pump and canal storage voir.

KNOWN BY THEIR FRUIT
Both the subsoil areas and the irrigated areas of the country varied and prolific production—the field, garden, orchard and meadow being exhaustively represented.

Apples reach a growth of 18 inches and a weight of over two pounds; peaches pull the scales as low as one and three-quarter pounds and pears one and one-half pounds—with plums, apricots, quinces, etc., in the same weight ratio. Grapes weigh as high as three pounds per cluster, and in some varieties known to the vineyard. Figs make a yearly timber growth of two one-half feet, and mature fully with an excellent flavor.

English walnuts, almonds and pecans flourish, the nut harvest annually increasing in yield and export value. Experiments are now being made with the date palm, with every prospect of complete success. All fruits, mammoth in size as they are, retain to their full their delicate flavors.

Vegetables are enormous, alike in size and yield—the onion, for instance, thinking nothing of a 30-ounce weight, while the bell pepper is as large as the bell itself. Celery commands fancy prices in the Galveston, Denver and Kansas City markets, while cantaloupes are par excellence.

Oats return as high as 100 bushels to the acre, and corn attains a height of 11 feet, other grains displaying kindred growth and yield, while alfalfa and the ordinary hay grasses are of luxuriant harvest.

Range cattle fatten the year round, and the Angora goat surpasses here the record of his native breeding grounds, being better fleeced and fattened and bringing more money to his owner than in his Asiatic home. Otero county mohair is annually adding to its already gilt-edged commercial repute. Small capital is required in Angora goat raising, the common Mexican nannies costing but $2.50 or $2.75 per head, while an Angora male for breeding purposes can be procured for $75.

ALAMOGORDO IMPROVEMENT COMPANY.
When three years ago, the Alamogordo Improvement company was organized the bare acres of the townsite were all that was visible. With a capital of $500,000 in money and an unlimited fund of foresight and energy, the company began work, and lo!—there hath arisen a city.

SORES AND ULCERS.

Sores and Ulcers never become chronic unless the blood is in poor condition—it is sluggish, weak and unable to throw off the poisons that accumulate in it. The system must be relieved of the unhealthy matter through the sore, and great danger to life would follow should it heal before the blood has been made pure and healthy and all impurities eliminated from the system. S.S.S. begins the cure by first cleansing and invigorating the blood, building up the general health and removing from the system A CONSTANT DRAIN, UPON THE SYSTEM.

When this has been accomplished the discharge gradually ceases, and the sore of ulcer heals. It is the tendency of these old indolent sores to grow worse and worse, and eventually to destroy the bones. Local applications, while soothing and to some extent alleviate pain, cannot reach the seat of the trouble. S. S. S. does, and no matter how apparently hopeless your condition, even though your constitution has broken down, it will bring relief when nothing else can. It supplies the rich, pure blood needed to heal the sore and nourish the debilitated, diseased body.

Mr. J. H. Tabert, Lock Box 24, Winona, Minn., says: "Six years ago my leg from the knee to the foot was one solid sore. Several physicians tried and I made two trips to Hot Springs, but found no relief. I was induced to try S. S. S., and it made a complete cure. I have been a perfectly well man ever since."

is the only purely vegetable blood purifier known—contains no poisonous minerals or drugs. It cleanses the blood, adds to, rather than relieve your sufferings. If your flesh does not heal readily when scratched, bruised or cut, your blood is in bad condition, and any ordinary sore is apt to become chronic.

Send for our free book and write our physician about your case. We make no charge for this service.

THE SWIFT SPECIFIC CO., ATLANTA, GA.

000, $95,000 of which was for a city water system; $20,000 for a city and suburb irrigation, and the remaining $100,000 for buildings, street and alley construction and improvements, parking and general miscellaneous city purposes.

The city water supply is brought twelve miles from springs in Alamogordo, the last four miles of the distance being piped. The system has a gravity pressure of 100 pounds to the square inch.

The company platted its land in city lots and one-acre suburban tracts, and has brought the waters of its irrigating system from La Luz canon, seven miles from the city, these one-acre areas being on sale at $150 to $300 per acre on easy terms, with water rights at merely nominal figures, every acre having its separate and distinct ditches.

Thousands of trees, including all of the orchard growths, pecans, silver poplars and cottonwoods have been planted, and the already made Alamogordo a serial and well-kept vista of foliage and freshness.

The company now has about 700 acres in these improved acre fruit, garden and foliage tracts and will expend this fall and $20,000 in expansion of its irrigating supply and the reclaiming of increased improved acreage, to which expenditure will be joined that of $22,000 in broadening the are of the city's present domestic water system.

The company has, also, improvement townsite branches at Jarilla, Cloudcroft, Carrizozo, El Capitan and Tularosa, and will at once open up the new townsites at Santa Rosa and Tucuman—the latter being the point of main Rock Island junction with its soon-to-be-constructed branch road from the Dawson coal fields of northern New Mexico.

The Alamogordo Improvement company has now sold in the Alamogordo vicinity 21 superb natural subsoil irrigation farms of 160 acres each at from $500 to $2,000 per farm on favorable terms. These farms are all more or less improved—some of them fully so—and are adjacent to fine stock ranges and timber growths. These subsoil irrigation areas—requiring no surface irrigation and demanding no rainfall—are the banner fruit, grain, grass, vineyard and garden producers of this great farming region, where all soil and all lands produce prolifically.

In the immediate Alamogordo vicinity are extensive quarries of building marble and onyx, the excellence of which is demonstrated by the shipment of the marbles to Germany and of the onyx to El Paso—while a very desirable lithograph stone is largely shipped to Philadelphia.

At the Other End.
A certain naval officer was very pompous and conceited when on duty. One day, when he was officer of the watch, and he could not, as usual, find anything of consequence to grumble about, he attempted to vent his spite on one of the stokers of the vessel, who was in the engine-room, on duty. Going to the speaking tube, the officer yelled:
"Is there a blithering idiot at the end of this tube?"
The reply came quick and startling:
"Not at this end, sir!"
The feelings of the officer, as he turned away with a black frown, can be better imagined than described.—Leslie's Weekly.

Turkey Pays Our Claim.
The Turkish Government, on being warned that further delay in the payment of our claim would prove disastrous to them, has at last paid it in full. This brings to mind the fact that delays are dangerous, especially in matters relating to the stomach, liver and bowels. When your stomach is weak, your bowels constipated and liver inactive, you should obtain a bottle of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters at once. It is a stomach strengthener and invigorator, and for sickly people who need a tonic it is unequalled, as the most delicate stomach can retain it. It will cure indigestion, dyspepsia, heartburn, flatulency, insomnia, nervousness, and prevent malaria, fever and ague. The genuine must have our Private Dis Stamp over the neck of the bottle.

A TYPICAL SOUTH AMERICAN STORE.
O. R. Larson, of Bay Villa, Sunday River, Cape Colony, conducts a store typical of South Africa, at which can be purchased anything from the proverbial "needle to an anchor." This store is situated in a valley nine miles from the nearest railway station and about 25 miles from the nearest town. Mr. Larson says: "I am favored with the custom of farmers within a radius of 30 miles, to many of whom I have supplied Chamberlain's remedies. All testify to their value in a household where a doctor's advice is almost out of the question. Within one mile of my store the population is perhaps 60. Of these, within the past twelve months, no less than fourteen have been absolutely cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. This must surely be a record." For sale by all druggists.

Tom Cornwiler's A Tumble

By L. G. Bates.

I BELIEVE that boy has climbed every tree in the township, leastwise the worst ones," said Mrs. Cornwiler.

"Deary me! I should be afraid he'd break his neck," said Mrs. Millwaite. "I don't see where he got it," said Mrs. Cornwiler.

"He got it from you, that's plain," said Mr. Cornwiler, boldly.

"From me! Why, just climbing a fence makes me almost dizzy!"

"Your father was a sailor," said Cornwiler, "and his father was topman in the navy under old Commodore Preble. Tom's inherited their climb from you."

While this discussion was going on indoors Tom was going off outdoors. Mrs. Millwaite's visit gave him a chance to go fishing. He put a hook and line in his pocket, intending to cut a fishpole on the way, and trusting to find fat, white bait grubs in old logs. He owned a sharp one-hand hatchet, which he thrust under his backskin belt.

A quarter of a mile from the river he came to a familiar tree-stub. It had been a forest giant, but some storm had broken off its top, leaving its great trunk 30 feet high. Forest fires had consumed the fallen top and deeply charred the huge trunk. Tom struck it with his hatchet head. To his surprise it sounded hollow—a mere shell. He was immediately curious to know if it was hollow all the way up, and the only way to ascertain was to climb it.

A more uninviting stub to climb could not be found. It was very grimy, and too smooth and large to be clasped by either arms or legs; but Tom sought a thicket and cut the largest tough withe he could find. He wrapped this about the stub and fastened its two ends securely to his belt with strings of strong bark, making a hoop somewhat larger than the tree. Leaning well back, he walked his moss-covered toes right up, raising the hoop by quick jerks.

The tree was hollow. Tom sat on the edge, with his feet dangling outside, as steady of nerve as if upon the ground. When his curiosity was satisfied he slipped off the hoop to retie it more to suit him. An incautious movement broke a bit of the edge and disturbed his balance. He made a violent move to recover himself. More edge crumbled inward, and down he went inside, head and heels together, like a shut jackknife. One hand held to the hoop, pulling it after him. Head, back, hips and legs scraped down the long tube, carrying fragments of rotten wood and a dusty cloud.

Tom struck on a deep, soft pile of debris, into which his doubled-up body plunged breast and knee-deep. The concussion shocked him breathless and set his nose bleeding copiously and the dust and blood hindered the recovery of his breath. Although he was not quite unconscious, it was long before he stirred. The back of his head had been severely raked and rotten wood was ground into all his lacerations.

When at last he began to try to move he found himself wedged in. Vainly he wiggled; he could hardly stir, and could neither lift himself nor get his legs down. His hips, back and all the muscles of his legs ached and prickled intolerably from strain and checked circulation.

He could not resist crying; but, being a lad of good courage, endurance and resource, he soon began a systematic effort for release, packing the loose debris down as firmly as he could with his hands, at the same time pressing it away all around with his body. This exertion caused greater ache, but he persisted resolutely. By and by he got his hatchet out of his belt, and struck it, after a dozen efforts, so firmly into the wooden wall that he could hang his weight to it with one hand while he worked the debris under him with the other. He gradually enlarged his space sufficiently to allow the bending of his knees. After that he was not long in getting his body up and feet down, so as to sit cramped on one hip, with both feet nearly level.

Exertion, pain and the pressure of returning circulation made his pulses throb and his head swim, and he lapsed into semiconsciousness. How long this lasted he knew not, but when he began to struggle again he was in black darkness. A few stars shone calmly down his wooden well, but he could work only by feeling about with his hands. He felt exhausted, hungry and weak, but he kept on working until he managed to stand erect. Then, after feebly kicking and pushing debris to fill up the hole where he had been, he curled himself as comfortably as he could and slept a blessed though troubled sleep.

After a long time he stretched out. His sore heels hit one wall, his sore head the other. This time the pain roused him to a renewed sense of his situation. He sat up, stiff, lame all over, weak, gnawed by hunger and thirst, but still undimmed and resourceful. A little thought and a trial convinced him that, weak and sore as he was, it would be a vain waste of strength to try to climb up the difficult inside of his prison.

"There's always more than one way to skin a cat," he reflected. "I've got to get out of this somehow; that's all there is to it." He ran a thumb over the edge of his hatchet. "Pretty sharp yet. Too light to chop easy, and no room to swing it, but it'll cut a hole, give it time."

Scraping away the rotten wood, he selected a place where the wall seemed thin, and began hacking. Progress was slow. At first his stiff muscles and sore body hurt acutely, but this pain wore away as he went on. The wood, charred outside and very dry, was hard and tough. Although it was a sunny day and his eyes had adjusted their vision to the dimness of his pit, he could hardly see where to strike. He dared not pry out large slivers, for if the edge or handle of his hatchet should break he might never get out. His awkward position and the one-hand work tired him rapidly, and he suffered occasional cramps.

During one of his frequent rests he heard Ban barking loudly outside.

"Good dog! I'm coming!" he shouted.

When Tom did not appear for supper, Mrs. Cornwiler began to fret, but not much, for he was often late. After supper, with no Tom to do the chores, Mr. Cornwiler grumbled, but did them himself, saying:

"Come, now, wife, the boy probably has a good excuse. He's pretty regular, considering."

By bedtime Mrs. Cornwiler was anxious.

"I'm sure he's lying hurt somewhere in the woods, fallen from a tree; or maybe he's got lost."

"Pshaw, now, Edith! Tom couldn't lose himself anywhere in this county the darkest night that ever was; and he doesn't know how to fall from a tree. He'll be home all right pretty soon. Likely he's hindered by something he thinks important."

At ten o'clock Mrs. Cornwiler was insistent and Cornwiler less confident. He proposed to take the dog and search.

Ban, being told to "Go find Tom!" set off joyfully, wagging his tail. He led Cornwiler straight to the charred stub and barked, leaping against it. Cornwiler looked the stub all over. There were no signs of Tom. He called, and fired his rifle. There was no reply. He supposed the stub solid, but thumped it. Unfortunately the blow struck where the shell was thick and where Tom had packed the debris hardest inside. It sounded solid. Mr. Cornwiler thought that Ban had foolishly tracked a squirrel up it, or perhaps a coon and been there and gone. He dragged the dog away, ordering him again to "Find Tom!" Ban instantly ran back to the stub and whined and scratched, but Mr. Cornwiler pulled him away.

Mr. Cornwiler searched a long time, but found no trace of Tom, and Ban seemed puzzled and not much interested. After midnight Cornwiler began a terribly anxious inquiry, rousing neighbor after neighbor. No one had any tidings. Mr. Millwaite, dressed, took his rifle and accompanied Cornwiler. Mrs. Millwaite, notwithstanding her depreciation of Tom, went to cheer and comfort his mother all she could.

Millwaite suggested going first to the charred stub. "You know Tom's been there," he said, "and it's the right point to start from." As soon as they arrived Ban began whining and scratching about the stub. Cornwiler sternly ordered him off, and the poor dog, probably supposing it was all right, reluctantly obeyed. Both men believed the stub solid, and that Tom had merely come and gone. The news of the lost boy spread, and by sunrise a dozen men and boys were scouring the woods.

After getting breakfast and doing the household, Clara Millwaite, who had been thinking, concluded that Tom must, after all, be at or near the charred stub. "A dog never mistakes its own master's den," the sensible girl reasoned. She would go and take a look for herself.

"If Tom is there he'll be hungry and thirsty," she thought, so she put a generous breakfast and a bottle of new milk in a bark basket.

Thinking Ban of no service, Cornwiler left him at the house, and the dog immediately returned to the stub and resumed his barking. Clara heard him and hurried to reach the spot and judge for herself of the dog's behavior. She arrived just as Tom drove a long silver through, and put out his fingers for Ban to lick.

In a few moments more he had the aperture sufficiently enlarged for Clara to pass in the bottle and slices of food. Tom drank first—a long, thirsty pull. Then how he did eat with the appetite of a starved wolf and the gratitude of a generous-minded boy. Clara bade him give her the hatchet, and while she ate she picked with the skill and strength of a pioneer girl. As the wall was now pierced they could chop the edges of the shell and make faster progress. In half an hour Tom was able to squeeze through.

What an object he was! Bloody, grimy and covered with rotten wood from head to heel! Even his hair was plastered with gore and dust. Clara gathered leaves and helped him clean it off as well as he could, but it would require several severe scrub baths and a week's healing to make him presentable.

While they walked home she rallied him about his appearance, suggesting that half the township, especially the ladies, would be on hand to meet him. But Tom said he guessed that as long as he had seen him in this condition, he could stand being looked at by the other ladies.

As for Ban, he was so absorbed that evening with the unusually large bone given him that he quite failed to hear Mr. Cornwiler's compliment.

"I allow," said Mr. Cornwiler, "that when it comes to woodcraft, I haven't got half the sense of that dog."—Mouth's Companion.

OLD PEOPLE HAVE THEIR TROUBLES.
Mr. Francis Little of Benton Harbor, Mich., is over 80 years of age. Since 1865 he has been troubled more or less with indigestion and constipation and has tried almost everything in use for those ailments. Last August he began using Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets and was soon feeling much better. In a recent letter he says, "I have used three boxes of the Tablets and now think I am well." These Tablets improve the appetite and invigorate the stomach, liver and bowels. For sale by all druggists.

Motherhood means either happiness or misery. There is scant happiness for the mother, who in pain and weakness brings into the world a weeping babe who she can neither nurse nor nourish. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription fits women for motherhood. It strengthens the maternal organism. It tranquilizes the nerves, encourages the appetite and brings refreshing sleep. It makes the birth hour practically painless and gives the mother the nourishment to give her child.

There is no alcohol in "Favorite Prescription," and it is absolutely free from opium, cocaine, and all other narcotics. "Words cannot express how grateful I am for your kind advice and your 'Favorite Prescription' writes Mrs. D. A. Burdette of Perdue, Campbell Co., Va. 'I feel that I have cured my child in four years. I had been in poor health for four years. Suffering greatly with my right side, also with bearing-down pains, and my nerves were in a dreadful state. After using four bottles of your 'Favorite Prescription' I am now well. I am the mother of two children. With the first child I suffered twenty-four hours, and with the second I used your medicine and was well only three hours. I believe Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription to be the best medicine I ever used for suffering females. I wish you great success, and hope that God will bless you in your noble work.'"

A PRETTY GOOD TOWN.

A Few Farewell Remarks by the Drummer Evangelist, W. H. Williams.

I will close my stay in Santa Fe with tonight's service. I will say that I have never preached through a ten days meeting where I have had better order and a more respectful hearing.

I wish to thank the people for inviting me to their homes to dine and the uniform kindness bestowed upon me by every one, especially the New Mexican, for keeping the meeting before the people.

We trust that we have sown the seed of the kingdom, that will bring a harvest of blessing to many homes and lives. Three have been thus far converted and the church seems to be very greatly blessed. This church must move into a better location and build a new church, modern in all its make up, before it can expect to build up a strong organization and hold the prestige which the Methodist church has over the world. I will hail with delight the time when I shall return to Santa Fe.

In company with Rev. W. A. Cooper, the pastor, we have visited and prayed in over fifty of the homes of the people and to say that we were received kindly and treated with respect is putting it too mild. Yours Sincerely,

W. H. WILLIAMS.

THE POSTOFFICE AT EAST LAS VEGAS

F. O. Blood Strongly Indorsed and Is in the Lead.

The New Mexican is informed that F. O. Blood, a citizen of East Las Vegas of most excellent reputation and now in business in that city, has been strongly recommended for the appointment of postmaster in place of J. A. Carruth, whose term expires in March next.

Mr. Blood is indorsed by many of the leading Republicans of the territory and by the business men of his own city. He is well qualified for the place in every respect and it is believed that he will be successful.

TERRITORIAL SUPREME COURT.

In case No. 861, an appeal from Grant county, John Stortz, appellant, vs. Albert C. Burrage, appellee, a motion for a rehearing was overruled.

The court will probably adjourn this evening after handing down several more opinions.

All the justices except J. W. Crumpacker, were in attendance today.

A Newspaper Change in Rio Arriba County.

W. H. Hildreth, editor and proprietor of the Tribune, a very newsy and good weekly paper published at Chama, in Rio Arriba county, has concluded to make a change of base and will move the plant to Tierra Amarilla, the county seat of Rio Arriba county, and will there commence the publication of a weekly paper in the English and Spanish languages to be called "El Republicano."

The publication of the Tribune at Chama will be discontinued. Mr. Hildreth makes this change of base as he finds that there are many Spanish speaking and reading people in that county who desire a good Spanish county paper, and he believes he will do well under the new arrangement. The fact that the Spanish speaking citizens of New Mexico desire more papers in the Spanish language is a good sign and indication of progress and advancement. Papers of that kind printed partly in English and partly in Spanish will be found great educators if they are properly edited and managed.

A Call to Rev. W. Hayes Moore.

Says the Rocky Mountain News: "At a congregational meeting held at the York street church, Denver, last Friday evening, the official call was made to Rev. W. Hayes Moore, of Santa Fe, to fill a vacant pulpit. Mr. Moore will arrive in about three weeks."

Resolutions of Sympathy.

The members of the Santa Fe Social Club at their last meeting passed the following appropriate resolutions of the nation's loss.

Whereas, God in his infinite wisdom has seen fit to take from us our beloved and respected President, and

Whereas, by his death the world has lost one of its most illustrious statesmen, the United States of America a chief magistrate equal to Washington and Lincoln, and all humanity a member who in his public and private life has been a shining example of propriety and benevolence, and

Whereas, the terrible deed at Buffalo, rudely breaking the ties of family and friendship and horrifying every patriotic citizen, crowns a most extraordinary life with a halo which cannot but exalt its victim place in history and makes inexorably sad the death of McKinley the illustrious citizen. The damnable murder of the President McKinley melts 75 million hearts into one and wraps our beloved country in deepest gloom; therefore be it

Resolved, That we the members of this society herewith tender our loving and heartfelt condolence and sympathy to Mrs. McKinley in this her great sorrow and bereavement. Our hearts accord with all right-thinking mankind, and go out to her in the prayer, that the Lord may strengthen and sustain her in body, mind and spirit until the final reunion shall efface a widow's mourning and a nation's grief.
