LAI TO REST.

Body of McKinley in the Grave.

Impressive Scenes at City of Canton.

Ohio Mourns the Untimely Death of Her Favorite Son.

THOUSANDS ATTEND THE FUNERAL.

Canton, O., Sept. 19.—At 1 o'clock this afternoon the body of McKinley was taken to the cemetery and the tramp of marching feet was heard on the streets of the town. The long blue lines of the state guard came swinging down the street. They reached the little church and a detail took up its station there.

On the soldiers marched. At frequent intervals the low commands of the officers were heard and a squad broke from the column and formed in a thin line at the side of the street forcing the crowds back.

Part of the marching body went to the house and formed a guard. Others took up the march to the cemetery. And all along they left a train of blue behind, as the squads took up their places.

At last there was a continuous line of soldiers stretching along both sides of the streets from the house to the church and from the church to the cemetery.

Shortly after 1 o'clock the procession was formed in front of the house and preparations were complete for the last ceremonies. At 1:20 the procession started. It was unique. Nowhere else in the world could it be seen and America has never presented such a scene.

From President Roosevelt and the cabinet to the humblest official in the county, from General Miles, commanding the United States army, to the West Point cadets; from Admiral Dewey to the humblest sailor who stood guard over the casket of the late commander-in-chief; from the venerable chief justice of the supreme court of the United States to the youngest of the peace of this village; from the highest bishops of the church to the newly ordained curates; from the highest to the lowliest, the richest to the poorest, the eldest to the youngest, the procession was made up of all kinds and conditions of men.

Representing the strength, the intelligence, the religion and the power of this great nation, it was an amazing and a most thrilling scene when that great body of Americans marched from North Market street through the long lines of silent blue and the assembled multitudes, to the Methodist church, there to lay their last tribute to the honored dead.

Among the first to enter the church was Speaker Anderson, with a number of his colleagues of the house of representatives, including most of those who had served with McKinley in congress. Senator Payne, Governor Grover, Senator Tamm, Governor Grover, and General Torres made another notable group.

The president and his cabinet were of course the center of observation, while the representatives of the army, the navy and the law made up groups of the most distinguished in the land.

SERVICES AT THE CHURCH.
The services at the church were extremely simple. Bestiowen's funeral march was played on the organ as the body bearers with the flag shrouded casket were moving slowly up the aisle.

"The Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" was sung by the Canton quartet. There was a simple prayer and the choir sang once more.

The Rev. Dr. Manchester and Rev. Mr. Milligan delivered eloquent addresses.

The choir and congregation rose and sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee." There was another prayer.

Then all joined in singing that wonderful hymn.

"Lead, kindly light, amid the encircling gloom."

That was all. The benediction was said, the body bearers took up their stations. The soldiers outside in the streets came to attention and prepared to take up the march.

During the services in the church, although the building was crowded almost to suffocation, it was deathly still. The family pew was draped heavily and beside the four deep

STEEL STRIKE.
Mills at Work and Only the Tinners Holding Out.
Pittsburg, Pa., Sept. 20.—With a few exceptions work was resumed in the country's steel mills today and if the disgruntled tin workers can be conciliated by next Monday all the plants will be in full operation. Among the tin workers the feeling against the turning to work without the union is recognized is still strong, but influences are at work, which, it is hoped, will induce the strikers to consider their determination. The Amalgamated Journal, commenting upon the New York settlement, said: "Causes that led up to this unsatisfactory settlement were overwhelming to the workers. The men had to battle against the daily press, public opinion, advice of prominent labor leaders and the withdrawal of credit by the merchants."

At 11 o'clock all the members of the cabinet had arrived at the White House and soon were seated around the familiar tables. President Roosevelt occupied the chair long occupied by his predecessor. New Mexico demands Statehood from the Fifty-Seventh Congress.

The New Mexico Territorial Fair will be held in Albuquerque from October 15th to October 19th. Premium List will aggregate $10,000.

ALBUQUERQUE, SEPT. 20, 1901.

All the civilized world yesterday attended the funeral of President McKinley.

Albuquerque is a law and order city. No murder has occurred here for many years.

Every city, village and hamlet in New Mexico held memorial services for President McKinley.

The pastors of Albuquerque are brainy men, and the union memorial services yesterday would be creditable to any city.

It is estimated that the cotton crop this year amounts to 10,000,000 bales, estimated to be worth at 5 cents per pound, $500,000,000.

A table of the leading railroads of the country for August shows a gain in earnings of 13 per cent as compared with the same month in 1900.

The fact that government 2 per cents are quoted at 108 indicates that the business interests of the country have not been badly shaken by recent events.

From the time that Guiteau shot President Garfield until his execution was a whole year, less two days. There is no possibility that Czolgosz will live so long.

Every teacher and student at the territorial university attended the memorial services in this city yesterday and each wore a neat memorial mourning badge provided by Prof. T. H. T.

New York city will probably be the first place in the country to erect a monument to President McKinley, and, as usual, the last one to produce such a memorial.

The Las Vegas Optic says that the first Territorial fair was held in Albuquerque in 1881 and the same annual and vegetable wealth there exhibited astonished even those who believed themselves familiar with the resources of the country.

Imports of copper into the United States for the seven months ending July 31 are reported by the bureau of statistics at 39,019,223 pounds, against 45,928,784 pounds for the corresponding period in 1900, a decrease of 6,915,561 pounds, or 15.1 per cent.

Some time ago President Roosevelt explained his determination to do something energetic to bring about a practical mode of fighting forest fires. He is in a position now to recommend his plans to congress for the preservation of the government forest reserves.

GARFIELD'S MEMORIAL.
 Twenty years ago memorial services were held in Old Albuquerque for President James A. Garfield. The present city of Albuquerque was then a straggling village of shanties and tents. Judge L. S. Trimble delivered an eloquent address on that occasion. He had attended the funeral of Lincoln in Washington in 1865 and felt deeply on the disgrace to the nation.

IMMIGRATION TO CITIES.
 People die faster in cities than in the country, says the Pittsburgh Dispatch, in every part of the world people are flocking to the cities more and more every year. In New York there are, on the general average, fourteen persons in each dwelling house, while the proportion of population to the square mile for the United States is only about twenty-two.

ERA OF UNITY.
 It may be said that the United States of America has now been literally without partisanship. All sense of political rivalry is overshadowed and swallowed up in the common feeling of affection for the dear president who has died. There should be no more sorrow for his tragic fate. This spirit of unity cannot continue in a great country filled with strenuous people like the Americans, but even the briefest interval of such toleration and harmony as now prevail throughout the land shows the real nature of the people, and it is profitable and inspiring.

MAY INTERFERE.
 The policy to be pursued by President Roosevelt in regard to the Boer war is being studied on both sides of the Atlantic with great earnestness. While he has expressed himself as being in sympathy with that struggling people, still he is strongly in favor of the policy laid down by the late president. We see no reason why it should not be initiated to the English that the inhuman butchery of these Christian people should be stopped. The Boers have offered to submit the matter to arbitration and any civilized people should be willing to grant that they may possibly be wrong.

STATION CONVENTION.
 The El Paso News says: "It is to be hoped that factional divisions and party prejudices will not prevent a large attendance of representative people of New Mexico attending the station convention. To be true, politicians with hopes of preferment under statehood will be there, but what of that? There should be no more representing all interests. Politicians could not be more persistent or numerous under a statehood regime than they are in a territory. As it is, men may secure important offices who would stand no chance before the people and do things which they would not dare if they expected to have the people pass judgment at the polls on official acts. The people of New Mexico are ready for statehood, if they bring troubles upon themselves they will have to rectify mistakes. The nation will not suffer. There is no justification for the country continuing guardianship of the 200,000 people of New Mexico who desire by chance to be equal in privileges with other Americans and have counted the costs and benefits to follow."

Twenty years ago yesterday President James A. Garfield died as the result of a bullet wound fired by an assassin. Yesterday William McKinley, late president of the United States, also the victim of an assassin's bullet, was buried at Canton, O. The 19th day of September hereafter will have a sad interest for the American people, it being the anniversary of the death of one president and the burial of another, and both basely murdered.

For five minutes yesterday, when the body of William McKinley was laid in the grave, every engine and train on the great Santa Fe road was silent and still. It was an impressive tribute to the memory of a great president.

The second act taken us to Leighton Hall, England, where a whole year, less two days, was a whole year, less two days. There is no possibility that Czolgosz will live so long.

GEORGE WASHINGTON'S QUEER.
 It hid a Luxuriant Suit of Straight and Very Dark Hair.
 The Father of His Country concealed a luxuriant suit of hair beneath his queue. Many now and the old fashion were in vogue, to conceal thinned hair or baldness. Yet no one need have thin hair nor be bald, he can cure the dandruff that causes both. Dandruff cannot be cured by scouring the scalp, because it is a germ disease, and the germ has to be killed. Newbro's Herpicide kills the dandruff germ—no other hair preparation will. "Destroy the cause, you remove the effect." There's no cure for dandruff but to kill the germ.

MEMORIAL EXERCISES.

Dead President Honored by Albuquerque Mourners Yesterday.

IMPRESSIONS OF THE TERRITORY.

In respect to the memory of the martyred president, appropriate religious services were conducted by the Knights Templar yesterday morning in their hall on North Third street, and at Robinson park in the afternoon. According to previous announcement all business houses were closed for the day, and from morning until night the day was observed by every one as a sacred memorial day. Over the doors and in the windows of nearly every house a loving picture displayed the photographs of the late president, William McKinley, all draped in deep mourning.

In the Masonic temple the regular prescribed form of burial services as adopted by the grand encampment and requested by Hon. E. L. Bartlett, grand commander of the territory, was solemnly carried out by Pilgrim commandery, Knights Templar.

The services were in charge of E. L. Bartlett, grand commander of the territory, and several beautiful hymns were sung by the quartette, composed of Misses Anna Hayes and Nellie Taylor, and Messrs. F. Newton and Samuel Pickett, accompanied by Miss Flora B. Hayes at the organ. The selections rendered were "Lead Kindly Light," "Crossing the Bar," "My Home," "Then With," and "Nearer, My God, to Thee." A biographical sketch of the late president, William McKinley, was delivered by Sir Knight E. W. Medler, which is as follows:

On this solemn occasion we are gathered here to give expression of the sorrow we feel at the loss of a departed knight of the magnanimous order of the Knights Templar. Alas! the United States on this day, ceremonies such as we have here witnessed, are being held in memory of our late brother and companion, William McKinley.

The nation, shocked at the loss it has so suddenly sustained, stands amazed at the atrocity of the deed that has bereft it of its chief executive. Less than two weeks ago in the prime of his life and worldly ambitions, receiving the homage of a loving people, endeared to them all by the ties which bind the body politic of a republic, and while stretching forth his hand to grasp that of whom he supposed a friend, he was struck down by a cowardly assassin. The vocabulary of the English language contains no words sufficient to denounce the dastardly deed. We must pause to marvel at the character of one who could so brutally attack with cold-bloodedness the Divine judgment under such circumstances. And yet, was his beliefs not those of a good man? Did he not learn the teachings of our order?

William McKinley was an entered apprentice, passed to the degree of a knight, and advanced to the rank of a sublimed degree of a Master Mason. He then advanced through several degrees beyond the blue lodge, until he had reached the sublime degree of a Knight Templar. His knightly life made him a knight of our beloved order. While Masonry regards no man for his worldly wealth or honors, yet when a member of our order such as he, who had bestowed upon him the highest honors in the gift of his fellow knights, and who had been a member of our order since his childhood, and in taken away from us under such circumstances as causes bereavement and sorrow in the hearts of every man loving allegiance to his country and its institutions, we gather together on such an occasion to pay tribute to our order and exhibit such tokens of our sorrow as lie within our power.

Masonry honors its illustrious dead, and following the precepts of our ancient traditions, the grand encampment of Knights Templar of the United States has set aside a day for mourning, to be devoted to such memorial services as may be deemed most appropriate by the several commanderies. A page of their record is also inscribed to the memory of the late Sir Knight William McKinley.

It will become me to refer to the virtues of him whom we seek to honor. His public career was too well known by all of you to be here and recited. His private life was one which we should all seek to emulate. To the widow who has lost a kind and endearing husband our heartfelt sympathy is tendered.

To the members of the craft and the order of knight hood there is abundant evidence that he erected a noble building in accordance with the designs laid down upon the treasure board. He went to his death. "Not like the quarry slave at night Scourged to his dungeon, but sustained and soothed By an order of knight hood, teaches Christianity, and in William McKinley he had a faithful follower. His sword was drawn in the cause of humanity and his blade was tempered with justice.

Pilgrim commandery, No. 3, as all other commanderies in the United States, will ever cherish as dear the memory of our deceased Sir knight, William McKinley. He has fulfilled his seven long years of pilgrimage. Let us hope he is now in that eternal building, not made with hands eternal in the heavens."

AT THE CITY PARK.
 Promptly at 2 o'clock in Robinson park the afternoon's program opened with music by the First Regimental band, followed by the singing of "Lead Kindly Light" by the united church choirs, under the direction of S. Houghton. Miss Nellie Pratt presiding at the organ. Rev. W. J. Marsh, pastor of the Congregational church, was master of ceremonies, and announced the speakers and various musical selections, which were as follows:

Prayer—Rev. Bruce Kinney.
 Scripture Reading—Rev. C. A. Barker.
 Address—Rev. T. C. Beattie.
 Address—Mayor O. N. Marron.
 Solo—"Sometime We'll Understand," Miss Maude Sumner, the choir joining in the chorus.
 Address—Rabbi Jacobs.
 Address—Ex-Governor Stover.
 Music—By the choir.
 Address—Rev. R. Renison.
 Prayer—Rev. M. Hodgson.
 Hymn—"Nearer, My God, to Thee," choir and audience.
 Benediction—Rev. W. J. Marsh.
 Music—By brass bands.
 The sounding of taps by Bugler Drury was a feature at the close of the afternoon's program, which was very impressive, everyone bowing in reverence to the solemn tones, after which the crowd dispersed.

The weather was almost perfect for outdoor services and thousands of the listeners paid marked attention to every word that was uttered. Seldom, if ever, did the people turn out en masse in this city as they did yesterday.

MEMORIAL

Prepared by Knights of Pythias Grand Lodge at Las Vegas.

The following memorial was prepared by F. C. Mattison and B. F. Adams and adopted by rising vote in silence by the grand lodge, Knights of Pythias, at Las Vegas, and ordered printed in the Journal.

In memory of our martyred brother, Sir Knight William McKinley, president of the United States, died September 6, 1901, died September 14, 1901.

"His death has been so clear in his office that his virtues will plead like angels, trumpet-tongued, against the deep damnation of his taking off. Standing for years in the fierce light that beats on those who tread the paths of power, he has so borne him self that none have doubted the sincerity of his faith, and many have honored his creed because of him."

The world's pall tribute to his worth:

"Living, we loved and honored him; Dead, we sorrow after him."

"On Fame's eternal camping ground His silent tent is spread; And glory guards with solemn round The bivouac of his dead."

"Rest now where Heaven's angel band Keep watch and ward o'er Grant and Lee; Where Blue and Grey clasp friendly hands Awaiting Gabriel's reveille."

Rev. R. M. Crane returned Wednesday evening from an eastern trip. After a visit to Chicago and thence to the Las Vegas, he returned to Buffalo, Joseph Barnett and wife have returned home. Miss Esale Herron, who accompanied Mrs. Barnett east sometime previous, has also returned to the city.

On Wednesday evening J. W. Harding left for Chihuahua, where he will stay a little and then return to make that place their home for some time past. Mr. Harding has disposed of his tinware establishment on Gold avenue to William Gibbs.

Arrested for Embezzlement.

A deputy sheriff from Silver City, N. M., passed through the city Wednesday night from Kansas City, having in charge Browning, Stewart, recently in the employ of the Armour Packing company. Stewart was indicted by the Grant county grand jury on a charge of having stolen $100 belonging to the Wells-Fargo Express company, while acting as its agent. Stewart for many years was a messenger running out of Denver in reward for his faithful services he was given the Silver City agency. Three weeks later he was found short in his accounts. Being bonded by the National Surety company, the officers of that concern demanded his arrest. Stewart was traced from Silver City to Kansas City, extradition papers applied for and the arrest made.

A Bad Disease

There is a certain disease that has been down to us through many centuries and is older than history itself. It is very few outside of those who have learned from bitter experience know anything of its nature or characteristics. At first a little ulcer or sore appears, then glands of the neck or groin swell; pimples break out on the breast, back or some other part of the body and fill with yellow pustular matter; the mouth and throat become sore and the tongue is at all times badly coated. Headaches are frequent, and muscles and joints throb and hurt, especially during damp, rainy weather. These are some of the symptoms of that most loathsome of all diseases, Contagious Blood Poison.

Contagious Blood Poison

This strange poison does not affect all alike; some are more susceptible than others. It enters into the system in a short time after exposure, but it is not until a long time after exposure, but its tendency is every case to complete destruction of the physical system, sooner or later.

It is a safe and infallible cure for this blood disease—the only antidote for this specific poison. It cures Contagious Blood Poison in every form and stage thoroughly and permanently. S. S. S. contains no Mercury, Potash or other harmful minerals, but is strictly and completely a vegetable remedy, and we offer $1,000.00 reward for proof that it is not.

Our MEDICAL, which was established years ago, is doing noble work in relieving suffering. Give our physicians a short history of your case and get their advice. They will tell you nothing, and what you say will be held in strictest confidence. With their help and the help of S. S. S. you can manage your own case and cure yourself at home.

NEW ARIZONA RAILROAD.

Santa Fe May Absorb the Santa Fe, Prescott & Phoenix.

BUILD 250 MILES MORE.

The Topeka Journal says that the Santa Fe railway is believed to be backing a new road, 250 miles in length to be built from Casa Grande, or Casa Grande, Arizona, in a south-southwest direction, and connecting with the Santa Fe Prescott & Phoenix, which has its southern terminus at Casa Grande.

A party of engineers, one of whom was Chief Engineer James Dun of the Santa Fe, have just completed a tour of the country south from Casa Grande to the Mexican mining region, which was purchased last year by eastern capitalists for $3,000,000.

Following close upon this tour of inspection, General Manager H. H. Mudge left for El Paso, Tex., on a special train last Saturday, where he will attend a meeting of managers of the various roads of southwestern United States. The object of Mr. Mudge's trip, other than that it was to attend such a meeting, could not be ascertained.

Casa Grande is about half way between Tucson and Phoenix, Arizona. The nearest which the Santa Fe approaches to it is the Santa Fe Prescott & Phoenix, which connects with the Santa Fe at Ash Fork, Arizona, thus forming a perfect link between the Santa Fe and the proposed extension south from Casa Grande.

It is possible that the building of the proposed road is only part of a much larger deal, which involves the absorption by the Santa Fe of the Santa Fe Prescott & Phoenix, the Santa Fe Prescott & Phoenix is a road several hundred miles in length.

The country which will be traversed by the proposed road, southward from Casa Grande is almost a virgin forest, besides being immensely rich in minerals. The timber promises to be a most valuable product, and the opening of the country will give to mining a tremendous impetus. In the vicinity of the Topeka mining group are the Santa Maria mines and the Don Cebazas mines.

The members of the party who made the recent expedition through the country were as follows: James Dun, chief engineer of the Santa Fe; William C. Potter, mining engineer of the Santa Fe; W. A. Drake, chief engineer of the Santa Fe Prescott & Phoenix; Frank J. Spear, mining expert, representing the eastern syndicate; J. S. Eldridge, owner of the Don Cebazas mines; McComb & Smith, owners of large tracts of timber land in the Sierra Madre mountains; and L. P. Atwood, the maintenance engineer of the Santa Fe Prescott & Phoenix; and other mining experts.

Mr. Dun was asked why the Santa Fe representatives were going with the expedition party, and replied: "We are going in connection with orders from our superiors. I do not know anything about their plans."

Mr. Potter, the mining engineer of the Santa Fe Prescott & Phoenix, said: "I am not sure, adding that he did not know why the Santa Fe wanted the region inspected."

JOHN HOLMES DEAD.

After Fight of Many Years, Death Triumphs at Last.

John E. Holmes died at the Melrose home last night a little before 12 o'clock, at the age of 34. Deceased was a printer and editor, having acted in a editorial capacity in this city on both the "Herald" and the "Herald-Examiner." He was a native of New Mexico, where he followed his profession, but something like a year and a half ago he left his home and came to Albuquerque, where he took the management of the Enterprise, a weekly American paper published in this city. For years he had been in delicate health, and a tendency to consumption. While in Chihuahua his trouble became complicated with dropsy and he returned to El Paso in July of last year, where he died in a few days.

His sister at Muncie, Ind., has been telegraphed and awaiting her reply to the body of Mr. Holmes, who is being taken to the city of New Mexico.

The deceased was employed at the Enterprise several years ago as solicitor and traveling representative and his friends here will regret to learn of his death.

Samuel Craig.

Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock Bert Sampson and Miss Caroline Craig were united in marriage at the residence of Mr. Sampson on South Third street. Rev. C. B. Barker officiating. The wedding was a very quiet one, there being no invited guests. Mr. Sampson is well and favorably known in this city as a railroad man, having been in charge of the Santa Fe line running between Albuquerque and El Paso. Miss Craig comes from Old Virginia, where she was also Mr. Sampson's former housekeeper. Congratulations are extended to the parties.

Lazy Liver

When the liver goes wrong, everything is wrong. You have dyspepsia, coated tongue, constipation, biliousness, sick headache, nausea, general debility. One of Ayer's Pills each night, just once, gently starts the liver and removes all trouble.

"I have used Ayer's Pills for liver complaint, and have found them to be the best thing I have ever tried."

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy.

The soothing and healing properties of this remedy, its pleasant taste and prompt and permanent cures have made it a great favorite with mothers of small children for colds, coughs and whooping cough, as it always acts quickly, safely and effectively.

The Sheep Traffic.

W. A. Drake of Fort Collins, and J. B. Manly of Trinidad, well known and extensive Colorado sheep and cattle raisers, are in the city, but from their country can learn they are likely to return without purchasing any of our ewes and lambs.

Dr. Drake states that he finds the prices of sheep very low, and that he is preparing to sell his stock for the market, and sell with any profit.

There has been plenty of rain and the country is green, and the past few months, and in consequence the sheep raisers have raised in the spring prices of their ewes and lambs to such an extent that buyers cannot purchase with a loss to themselves.
