PRESIDENT MCKINLEY IS STILL ALIVE.

His Condition up to Press Hour and Chances Favorable for Surviving the Ghastly Wounds.

FACTS ABOUT THE COWARDLY ASSASSIN.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 7.—The president's physicians issued the following bulletin at 6 a. m.: "President passed a good night. Temperature, 102; pulse, 111; respiration, 24."

F. M. RIXEY, ROSWELL PARK, GEORGE B. CORTELYOU, Secretary to the President.

NO SERIOUS SYMPTOMS. The president's physicians issued the following bulletin at 8 a. m.: "President passed fairly comfortable night. No serious symptoms developed. Pulse, 146; temperature, 102; respiration, 24."

MAY USE X-RAY. At 10:30 the physicians were still in consultation. There is some talk of using X-ray to locate the bullet in the abdomen, but nothing is yet decided. If the bullet can be located another attempt will be made to extract it.

PRESIDENT'S PULSE. 10:15 a. m.: The rapidity of the president's pulse does not unduly alarm the physicians. Dr. Rixey says the president always had a somewhat erratic pulse and its sudden rise this morning was not unexpected. The president is conscious, calm and collected, although still somewhat drowsy from the effects of ether.

FEAR SEPTIC POISONING. 11:20 a. m.: The fear of the president's physicians is that septic poisoning will set in. For the first symptom of this they are watching. The bullet lodged in the muscles of the back. Physicians have decided that for the present this is of secondary importance. If inflammation should appear in the neighborhood of the place where the bullet is believed to have lodged, the Roentgen ray will be used to locate the bullet and the doctors do not think there will be any difficulty in extracting it.

EXAMINATION OF PRISONER. 11:30 a. m.: The prisoner, Czolgosz, has been taken to the office of Superintendent of Police Bull for examination in private.

PHOTOGRAPHS OF ASSASSIN. This morning the prisoner was photographed. Copies of the picture are being scattered in the city.

GETTING GOOD CARE. 11:30 a. m.: Two physicians and two trained nurses are with the president constantly. All others are excluded from the sick room, as it was found the patient could not be restrained from speaking to those who entered. Quiet and absolute freedom from excitement are considered essential. Mrs. McKinley has not seen him today. She displays wonderful pluck and is bearing up bravely.

NO CHANGE. The following bulletin was issued by the president's physicians at noon: "There is no decided change in the president's condition since the last bulletin. Pulse, 126; temperature, 102; respiration, 28."

F. M. RIXEY, M. D., GEORGE B. CORTELYOU, "Secretary to President."

HOPEFUL FOR RECOVERY. Postmaster General Smith, who left the president at noon, appeared much encouraged at the outlook for the president's recovery. He said the great danger was blood poisoning or peritonitis. The bullet was now a minor factor.

RESTING QUIETLY. 2:10 p. m.: The president continues to rest quietly. No change for the worse. Pulse, 140; temperature, 102; respiration, 24.

INDICATIONS GOOD. The following bulletin was issued at 3:30 p. m.: "President McKinley continues to rest quietly; no change for the worse. Pulse, 140; temperature, 102; respiration, 24."

DOZING PEACEFULLY. At 3 o'clock the president was dozing peacefully.

Leon Czolgosz is a German Pole and says his home is in the vicinity of Cleveland, O. He is 28 years old, unmarried and has seven brothers and two sisters living there. He worked for some time in the wire works at Newark, O. He exhibits no signs of remorse and aside from his nervousness acts as if he had done what he considered a praiseworthy instead of a dastardly act.

Hundreds of telegrams of regret continue to pour in from all over the world.

CABINET AT BUFFALO. Secretary Wilson called at the home of Mr. Milburn to see the president at 4:30. Half an hour later Secretary Root arrived and was at once taken up to the president's room.

Attorney General Knox arrived at 9:30. A few minutes later Senator Hanna joined those inside. Postmaster General Smith and Comptroller Dawes arrived here early and went immediately to the Milburn residence.

Root arrived and was at once taken up to the president's room. Vice President Roosevelt was on his way to Buffalo.

THE DEADLY WEAPON. The revolver with which President McKinley was shot was turned over to Superintendent of Police Bull today by Captain Wiser, to whom it had been handed by the soldier who recovered it.

ROOSEVELT ARRIVES. Vice President Roosevelt arrived here at 12:40 and went at once to the Milburn home. None of the members of the cabinet were permitted to see the president. As soon as all arrive who are coming a cabinet meeting will be held.

General Brooke, commander of the department of the east, arrived from Cleveland, O., Sept. 7.—4:30 p. m.—Dan R. Hanna, son of Senator Hanna, has just received a telegram from his father at Buffalo that President McKinley is worse and cannot live.

DAY AFTER TRAGEDY. Condition of President—Mrs. McKinley Bears up Bravely—Confession of Assassin.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 7.—President McKinley maintains a good measure of strength. Those who watch at his bedside hold higher hope for his ultimate recovery. The shock from the wounds inflicted upon him by Leon P. Czolgosz seem to have been less than was anticipated. It is admitted that the crisis has not yet come and there is the gravest danger until it has been safely passed.

Bulletins from the chamber of the wounded president during the night and early this morning indicated a spirit of hopefulness. Mrs. McKinley bears up bravely. At the request of the president she was told he was not seriously wounded. Early this morning a detachment of the Fourteenth Infantry was ordered to the Milburn house from Fort Porter. Ropes were stretched across Delaware avenue in order to keep the teams off.

Leon P. Czolgosz, who shot the president, slept in a comfortable manner last night. A watch of two men was placed over him. The police machinery of the entire country has been set in motion to expose the plot against the life of the president. If a plot there was, Czolgosz insists that he alone planned the crime which may rob the United States of its chief executive, but the statement is not accepted as true. The police are of the opinion that one other was a party to it. He walked directly in front of Czolgosz and shielded him from the sight of the secret service men. The police have a good description and his arrest may occur at any moment.

Czolgosz does not appear insane. He is not above average height. His face is that of the typical German. He arose early this morning and ate a hearty breakfast. He appears very nervous and starts suddenly when anyone speaks to him. He is very elusive in answering questions. The police worked with him until late last night, and admitted that very little progress had been made in bringing out the facts from his past history.

CONFESION OF ASSASSIN. A reporter of the Associated Press called upon District Attorney Penny, who gave the substance of Czolgosz's confession as follows: "This man admitted shooting the president. He says he intended to kill; that he had been planning to do it the last three days since he came here. He went to the Temple of Music with murder in his heart, intending to shoot to kill. He fixed up his hand by tying a handkerchief around the president. When he got directly in front of the president he fired. He says that he had no confederate; was entirely alone in planning and executing this diabolical act."

WHO HE IS. The president of France to President McKinley: "Rambouillet, Sept. 7.—With keen affliction I learn the news of the attempt on the life of your excellency has just been the victim. I take it to heart to join the people of the United States in wishing early recovery of your excellency and I earnestly desire in this sorrowful juncture to renew to you assurance of my sentiments of constant and cordial friendship."

From the Italian ambassador to the secretary of state: "Rome, Sept. 7.—Deeply grieved at the terrible crime. Trust the president will be spared to his country and friends."

"BARON PAVA." From the German ambassador to the secretary of state: "Berlin, Sept. 7.—Please accept expression of my most sincere and hearty regret on account of the dreadful accident the president has met with. Please convey this message if possible to Mr. and Mrs. McKinley."

From the Mexican ambassador to the United States: "Buffalo, Sept. 6.—The Mexican ambassador expresses to the government of the United States his deep regrets for the atrocious attempt against the life of his excellency, President McKinley."

The diplomatic representatives of Ecuador, Costa Rica, Spain, Japan, Peru, Colombia, Korea, Turkey, Russia, Venezuela, Brazil and China at present in this city, requested the ambassador to express in their names the same sentiment.

From Ecumenical Methodist conference to the secretary of state: "London, Sept. 7.—In accordance with the action taken at noon, this seventh day of September, this Ecumenical Methodist conference has assembled in the Wesley chapel, London, expresses through you to the American people its intense indignation at the dastardly attempt on the life of the president of the United States of America and its profound sympathy with the nation in its deep anxiety."

JOHN BOND, JAMES M. KING, "Secretaries."

J. D. W. Veeder, a well known attorney of Las Vegas, honored The Citizen office with a call yesterday afternoon. He was here on legal matters, and returned to Las Vegas this morning.

The Assassin Could Only be Imprisoned for Ten Years.

Anarchists Arrested Charged With Plot to Assassinate.

ASSASSIN A SALOON KEEPER.

New York, Sept. 7.—President McKinley's recovery would mean that his would-be assassin could be confined in prison for only ten years, the maximum penalty under the penal code of New York state. tion would take place last night. Those present made no secret of the fact that they anticipated something of which they might talk. The name of McKinley when mentioned brought forth cries of condemnation. For the president's assassin there were cheers. All the speeches were in the German language.

Justice Prindiville, upon application of City Prosecutor Taylor, issued bench warrants for six men and three women, arrested here last night, charging them with conspiracy to assassinate President McKinley. The complaining witness was Officer John Ryan.

DAY OF PRAYER. Baltimore, Sept. 7.—Governor Walter Smith issued this afternoon a proclamation naming Tuesday of next week as a day for general prayers for the recovery of the president.

WILL NOT BE A PANIC. New York, Sept. 7.—Wall street was not early today with preparations to meet the exigency precipitated upon the financial world by the shooting of the president yesterday. As London was closed all efforts were concentrated to meet the effects which would converge upon the New York stock exchange.

News of the president's condition was considerably favorable. The authorities before the market opened that the associated banks had the situation well in hand was the next reassuring factor. When the market opened the leading railroad stocks were the severest sufferers. Grangers, Pacifics and Southwesterns showed declines of over 5 points. United States steel common opened at 41 1/2, compared with 45 1/2 last night; preferred 92 1/2, compared with 95 1/2 last night. Amalgamated copper fell 5 points. Influence supporting orders made itself quickly felt and there were immediate rallies of 1 to 2 points. Very heavy blocks kept coming out, however, and the market maintained a feverish tone.

THE ASSASSIN'S FAMILY. Cleveland, O., Sept. 7.—Leon Czolgosz, the would-be assassin, is the son of Paul Czolgosz, who lives in this city. Other members of the family are John, who lives at home with his father and stepmother; Mike, a soldier, now serving in the Philippines; V. Ladolan, who is on his father's farm, located at Chagrin Falls, on the suburban line, and Jacob, of Marion avenue. The father, having left home on Saturday morning looking for employment, the stepmother gave the police an interview through an interpreter.

"Leon left home about sixty days ago. We heard from him a few weeks ago. He was then in Indiana and he wrote us his story, stating away that probably we would not see him again. He was a timid boy, so afraid of everything."

She emphatically disclaims that the boy ever displayed any anarchistic tendencies whatever.

RESOLUTION OF SYMPATHY. Syracuse, N. Y., Sept. 7.—The Trades union council of war session today. Resolutions of sympathy with the United States were adopted.

ENGLISH SYMPATHY. London, Sept. 7.—In the absence of Lord Salisbury and the marquis of Londonderry from London, Schomberg McDermott, principal secretary of the prime minister, said: "If President McKinley dies, which we sincerely hope he will not, the whole world will lose a man greater in integrity and statesmanship than it even at present realizes. This last attempt may bring international arrangement by which anarchists may be dealt with according to their desires and this cancer of civilization be suppressed. Certainly England would favor such a plan, and America are blamed on the continent for harboring anarchists. If the worst comes to the worst, which I dislike to contemplate, it is some slight satisfaction to know Vice President Roosevelt is such an upright, level-headed man."

FEARS FOR THE CZAR. Paris, Sept. 7.—The French officials were much affected by the attempt to assassinate President McKinley. In view of the czar's coming to France there is anxiety lest similar attempt will be made on the life of the Russian emperor while he is a guest of France. Great precautions have been already taken upon, but stringent measures will now undoubtedly be increased.

NO FEDERAL LAW. Washington, Sept. 7.—When questioned what punishment the federal statutes provided for attempt on a president's life, Acting Attorney General James M. Beck said today: "While I have not given any special examination to the federal statutes bearing on the subject, yet I know of no statute which makes it a criminal offense to attempt the life of the president. That there ought to be such legislation is perfectly clear."

New Mexico demands Statehood from the Fifty-Seventh Congress.

The New Mexico Territorial Fair will be held in Albuquerque from October 15th to October 19th. Premium List will aggregate $10,000.

ALBUQUERQUE, SEPT. 7, 1901.

NATION SHOCKED.

The cowardly attempt of an anarchist to assassinate President McKinley has shocked the people of the whole country. Not since the assassination of President Garfield have the people been so deeply stirred. The sympathy for the president is almost universal. The miserable being who perpetrated the crime unfortunately was not killed on the spot. No punishment can be meted out to him adequate to his cowardly deed.

The dispatches give hope that the president will recover. The wishes and prayers of a great nation are centered about the bed of the stricken executive and all that skill can do will be brought to bear to preserve his life.

Self-government is receiving a severe test in the United States.

The enterprising business men of Silver City are securing a fine exhibit for the Territorial fair.

The anarchist newspapers of the Appeal to Reason stripe should be suppressed. They appeal to assassination.

Without the bamboo China would be well nigh helpless. The bamboo provides them with many varieties of food, is manufactured into great goods, paper, furniture, ships and houses.

The New Zealand government has during the last six years, bought back from the original settlers 324,000 acres of land. This land was used originally for sheep runs, but is now farmed by 1,630 families.

HIS FIRST MILLION.

Mr. F. A. Stuart of Marshall, Mich., made his first $1,000,000 in six years by the sale of a remedy which he discovered. When asked the chief cause of his success, he replied: "Advertising in the daily newspapers." In his first year he spent all he had ($10,000) for advertising, and this year he will pay $100,000 to the newspapers. He uses only the leading daily newspapers, and never posters, circulars or any other method.

POLITICAL LEADERS.

A letter from Senator Vest is published in which, after speaking kindly of Mr. Bryan whom he regards as a good speaker but a poor leader, he says: "Leadership is a peculiar and rare talent. A man may be an orator, lawyer and statesman, but not necessarily a good leader. Jefferson, Van Buren, Lincoln and McKinley have been the greatest political leaders and managers in this country, and Mr. McKinley has never had a superior in this regard."

WHAT ADVERTISING DOES.

It is the opinion of the Grocery World that advertising is news, since it tells the people of the existence of some desirable article and from whom and what price said article may be obtained. As news the proper place for advertising is in the newspaper; and it is to the newspaper that people look for it. While advertising does not create needs, it does often make people aware of their needs. The news which calls attention to an article also makes the reader realize that he wants it.

HOMESTEAD ENTRIES.

Commissioner General Hermann's annual report, which has just been issued, shows that the amount of lands disposed of as homesteads exceeds all figures for many years preceding. The land disposals amounted to 13,379,887 acres for 1901, as against 9,128,418 the previous year. The increase being over 4,000,000 acres. There were nearly 19,000 more homestead entries recorded last year than during the previous year, and the homestead average amounts to over 1,600,000 more acres than for any one year since the passage of the homestead act in 1862.

IMPROVEMENTS IN TELEGRAPHY.

Some eighteen months since a new system of telegraphy was introduced in Hungary, by means of which, it is said, messages can be transmitted and delivered in a printed form at the astonishing rate of 40,000 words an hour, which is certainly faster than they could be spoken or read by a single person. The process is said to be an ingenious combination of the telegraph, telephone and a photographic apparatus. The system is now said to be in operation from Budapest to Plume, a distance of 375 miles, and give entire satisfaction. Germany is

ASSASSIN'S SHOTS

Planned to Kill the President.

In a Dense Crowd, the Anarchist Fired to Kill.

After Greeting the President, He Fired Two Shots.

THE VICTIM GETTING WELL.

The Associated Press account of the dastardly deed to assassinate President McKinley is as follows:

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 6.—It was a few moments after 4 o'clock this afternoon, while President McKinley was holding a public reception in the great Temple of Music at the Pan-American grounds, that the cowardly attack upon him was made, with such success that time alone can tell.

The president was standing in the midst of a crowd numbering thousands and surrounded by every evidence of good will, pressed by a motley throng of people, showered with the expressions of love and loyalty, beset by multitudes, all eager to clasp his hands. In the midst of these surroundings and with the ever-recurring plaudits of the army of sightseers ringing in his ears, the blow of the assassin came and in an instant gave way to pain, admiration, agony, folly gave way to fury and pandemonium followed.

Tonight a surging, swaying, eager multitude thronged the city's main thoroughfares, choking the streets in front of the principal newspapers, scanning the bulletins with anxious eyes and groaning or cheering in such succeeding announcements, as the nature of the message sinks or bores their hopes.

At police headquarters, surrounded by stern-faced inquirers of the law, is a medium sized man of commonplace appearance, with a fixed gaze directed on the floor, who presses his lips firmly together and listens with an assumed indifference to the constant stream of questions, arguments, obligations and admonitions with which his captors seek to induce or compel him to talk.

It was just after the daily program in the splendid Temple of Music that the dastardly attempt was made. Planned with all the diabolical ingenuity and finesse of which anarchy or nihilism is capable, the would-be assassin carried out his work without a hitch, and should his designs fail and the president survive only to divine Providence can be attributed the benefit of the result.

The president, though well guarded by United States secret service detectives, was fully exposed to such an attack as occurred. He stood at a table, and his hand was raised as he stood the great pipe organ at the right side of the magnificent structure. Thronged of people crowded in at the various entrances to gaze upon their chief executive and perchance to clasp his hand, and then fire their way out in a good-natured mob through every unguarded and multiplied at the points of ingress and egress to the building.

The president was in a cheerful mood and was enjoying to the full the hearty evidence of good will which everywhere met his gaze. Upon his right stood John Milburn of Buffalo, president of the Pan-American exposition, chatting with the president and introducing him to special persons of note who approached. Upon the president's left stood Mr. Cortelyou, his private secretary.

It was shortly after 4 p. m. when from among the throng which surrounded the presidential party a medium sized man of ordinary appearance and dressed in black, approached to greet the president. Both Secretary Cortelyou and President Milburn noticed that the man's hand was swathed in a bandage or a handkerchief, reports of the bystanders differ as to which hand. He worked his way through the stream of people up to the edge of the dais until he was within two feet of the president.

President McKinley smiled, bowed, and extended his hand in a spirit of geniality which the American people so well know, when suddenly the sharp crack of a revolver rang out and a cloud above the head of the president, the shuffling of a myriad of feet and the vibrated waves of applause that ever and anon swept here and there over the assembly.

There was instantly almost a complete silence. President McKinley stood stock still, with a look of hesitancy, almost bewilderment, on his face. Then he retreated a step, while a pallor began to steal over his features. The multitude, only partially aware that something serious had happened, paused in surprise, while new cries were craned and all eyes were turned as one to the rostrum where the great tragedy was being enacted. Then came confusion. Three men were thrust themselves forward as with one impulse and sprang toward the would-be assassin. Two of them were United States secret service men, who were on the lookout and whose duty it was to guard against just such a calamity as had here befallen.

Men shouted and fought; women screamed and children cried. Some of the nearest doors fled from the edifice in fear of a stampede, while hundreds of others from the front of the building, struggling blindly forward in the effort to penetrate the crowded building and solve the mystery of the excitement and confusion which surrounded the scene, were swayed within the congested interior of the edifice. Inside on a slightly raised dais was enacted with in those few feverish moments a scene so dramatic in character and in its intensity that few who looked on it will ever be able to give a succinct account of what really did transpire. The charge of a gun went, the face came out of it with blanched faces, trembling limbs and beating hearts, while their brains reeled with a tumult of conflicting emotions which could not be clarified into a lucid narrative of the events as they really transpired.

Out of the multitude which witnessed or bore part in this scene of turmoil and turbulence, there was but one mind which seemed to retain its equilibrium, one man who remained steady, one eye which gazed with unflinching calmness and one voice which retained its even tenor and faltered not at the most critical juncture. They were the mind and hand and voice of President McKinley.

When the president was shot he fell into the arms of Detective Geary, whom he coolly asked: "Am I shot?"

Geary unbuttoned the president's waistcoat and feeling blood, replied: "I fear you are, Mr. President."

The would-be assassin fired through a handkerchief which concealed the weapon. Detective Ireland was only two feet away when the shots were fired. He immediately jumped upon the assassin and forced him to the ground.

After the first shock of the assassin's shot he retreated a step. Then, as the detectives leaped upon his assailant, he turned, walked steadily to a chair and seated himself, at the same time removing his hat and bowing his head in his hands. In an instant Secretary Cortelyou and President Milburn were at his side. His waistcoat, despite the fact that the president meanwhile admonishing those about him to remain calm and telling them not to be alarmed. "But you are wounded," cried his secretary. "Let me examine."

"No, I think not," answered the president. "I am not badly hurt, I assure you."

Nevertheless, his garments were hastily loosened and then a trickling stream of crimson was seen to wind its way down his breast, spreading its telltale stain over the white surface of the linen and their worst fears were confirmed.

A force of exposition guards were soon on the scene and an effort was made to clear the building. By this time the crush was terrific. The spectators crowded down the stairways from the galleries, the crowd on the floor surged forward toward the rostrum, and the situation was a chaotic one. The efforts of the police and the guards, the throng without struggled madly to obtain admission.

The president's assailant in the meantime had been hustled by the exposition guards to the rear of the building, where he was held while the shooting was being cleared, and he was turned over to Superintendent Hall of the Buffalo police department, who took the prisoner to No. 13 police station and afterwards to police headquarters.

As soon as the crowd in the Temple of Music had been dispersed sufficiently, the president was removed in an automobile ambulance and taken to the exposition hospital, where an examination was made. The best medical skill was summoned, and within a brief period several of Buffalo's best known practitioners were at the patient's side.

The president retained the full exercise of his faculties until placed on the operating table and subjected to an examination. Upon the first examination it was ascertained that one bullet had taken effect in the right breast just below the nipple, causing a comparatively harmless wound. The second bullet was found in the abdomen, about four inches below the left nipple, four inches to the left of the navel and about on a level with the umbilicus. The third bullet, which penetrated the second bullet wound was probed. The walls of the abdomen were opened, but the ball was not to be found. The incision was hastily closed, and after a hasty consultation it was decided to remove the patient to Mr. Milburn's home. This was done, an automobile ambulance being used for the purpose.

At 3 a. m. the following bulletin was issued: "President continues to rest well; temperature, 101.4; pulse, 110; respiration, 24."

THE ASSASSIN KNOWN.

He Belongs to the Emma Goldman Tribe of Dangerous Anarchists.

Buffalo, N. Y., Sept. 6.—The police have learned that the real name of the would-be assassin is Leon Czolgosz. He was born in Detroit and came here from Cleveland. He has signed a confession covering six pages of foolscap and which states that he is an anarchist and that he became an anarchist under the influence of Emma Goldman, whose writings he had read and whose lectures he had listened to. He denies having any confederates and says he decided on the act three days ago and bought the revolver with which the deed was committed in Buffalo. He has seven brothers and sisters in Cleveland, and the Cleveland directory has the names of about that number living on Hosmer street and Ackland avenue which adjoin. Some of them are butchers and others are employed in different trades. He is now detained at police headquarters pending the result of the president's injuries.

Czolgosz does not appear in the least degree uneasy or penitent for his action. He says he has indicated his attention to Emma Goldman's lectures and writings to decide that the present form of government in this country is all wrong and he thought the best way to end it was by killing the president. He shows no signs of insanity, but is very reticent about his secret service men, who are edging himself an anarchist, he does not state what branch or organization he belongs to.

While on a camping trip in Webster county, Mr. S. L. Stinson, a mantown, W. Va., had a severe attack of bloody flux. He says, "I firmly believe that I owe my life to the force and tonic which every bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy." Moral—Procure a bottle of this remedy before leaving home. It can not be obtained when on a hunting, fishing or prospecting trip. Neither can it be obtained while on board the cars or steamship, and at such times and places it is most likely to be needed. The safe way is to have it with you. Thousands of travelers never leave home on a journey without it. For sale by all druggists.

A Night of Terror.

"Awful anxiety was felt for the widow of the brave General Burnham of Machias, Maine, when the doctors said she would die from pneumonia before morning," writes Mrs. S. H. Lincoln, who lived with her husband for nearly half a century. "After taking a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, she was cured. Further use entirely cured her." This marvelous medicine is guaranteed to cure all throat, chest and lung troubles. Only 50 cents and $1. Trial bottles free at J. H. O'Reilly & Co.'s drug store.

Whatever you drink outside, let your home beer be Schlitz. That is pure beer. No bacilli in it—nothing to make you bilious.

Beer is a saccharine product, and the germs multiply rapidly in it. The slightest taint of impurity quickly ruins its healthfulness.

We go to the utmost extremes to prevent that. Cleanliness is a science where Schlitz beer is brewed.

We even cool the beer in plate glass rooms in nothing but filtered air.

Then we filter the beer. Then we sterilize every bottle.

And Schlitz beer is aged. The beer that makes you bilious is green beer.

FAIR PARAGRAPHS.

The Approaching Fair Being Well Advertised by Santa Fe and Fair Officials.

BRIEF NOTES ABOUT ATTRACTIONS.

It is now a foregone conclusion, which was reached in conference yesterday afternoon, that there will be some interesting midway attractions and the secretary is using the wires to capture some of the very best attractions.

The Citizens has not been informed officially when the privileges of the fair will be put on sale, but plenty of time will be given prospective purchasers to get into the swing. There will be some first-class privileges and concessions to be offered.

The newspapers of the territory, especially at Las Vegas and Santa Fe, are to be commended for publishing the announcement of Secretary McCanna of the Territorial Fair association, regarding the advertising campaign. What advertising Albuquerque, and the whole territory, and this kind of a motto is being well observed this year by the territorial exchanges.

At a recent meeting of the executive committee it was voted to give $50 for the best decorated float in the parade. For the past few years these parades have been interesting features of fair week and some have been brilliant and up-to-date, but it is the intention of the fair management to make the parade of the approaching fair outshine all previous efforts, and of course it will be done.

W. H. Simpson, who has charge of the department of the Santa Fe Railroad company, has instructions from General Passenger Agent Black to see that every station agent along the Santa Fe route from Denver to Las Junta, through Santa Fe, El Paso, and Albuquerque to Needles, Cal., is fully provided with posters advertising the fair and railroad rates to and from the stations. Mr. Simpson will also send to the fair management a big bundle of fair posters.

The Santa Fe railway, through General Passenger Agent Black, has issued its rates for fair visitors, and they are cheap, much better than staying at home. Here are the rates for some of the cities named in the circular: Thornton, $1.15; Cortez, $1.50; Santa Fe, $2.45; Las Vegas, $1.40; El Paso, $2.45; Las Cruces, $2.45; Las Alamos, $2.45; Lordsburg, $2.45; Deming, $2.45; Silver City, $2.45; Lordsburg, $2.45; Trinidad, $2.45; Pueblo, $2.45; Denver, $11.55. These are round trip rates.

The advertising campaign with its load of fair posters and smaller literature, will be put out for the northern towns Tuesday. An article published elsewhere in today's Citizen, written by the committee on the fair, and which had qualities of the genial manager of the advertising campaign, says: "Mr. Knight is a whole encyclopedia of information on fair matters, and is moreover blessed with the kind of disposition which makes it pleasant to him to talk to the public." The executive committee made no mistake in its selection of Scott Knight for this important duty.

The present season, with its abundant rains, good crops, fat stock and a better than last year's market, has surely put the farmers, ranchmen and people generally in a better humor than for several years past, and these facts, taken in conjunction with the information that the fair association will again give horse racing and exhibition of resources another trial, ought to bring together at the fair next month a tremendous crowd from all over the southwest country. Let everybody come to the horse racing, the cowboy tournament, the dances, the base ball games and the displays of resources and Navajo blankets will prove interesting and instructive in every particular.

As has already been officially announced, the base ball games will be played by professional teams and if they don't put up a first-class game it will be no fault of the players, but of the management of the league. The Citizens is in receipt of a letter from Fred Raymer, acknowledging the publication of an article published in The Citizen on the return of the junior member from a business trip to Chicago, and stating positively that he, with Wardell Green, Hartwell and Chance, of the Chicago, and Powell, Kruger and McGinn of the St. Louis team, will be on hand to represent the Albuquerque Browns. McGinn graduated from the Shelbyville Ky. club, and that is the reason he is called "Old Kentucky." As a first baseman he has won many honors. The Browns are now in the National league, and they have agreed to come. MOUNTED INFANTRY.

Silver City to Organize-Interesting Cattle Case to be Tried.

GRANT COUNTY DOCTORS ORGANIZE.

Special Correspondence.

Silver City, N. M., Sept. 6.—Silver City is going to have a mounted infantry company, which will be a part of the New Mexico National Guard. The matter has been taken up by the city for some time past and last week when Adjutant General Whitman was in town he managed to get a number of the young men interested in the forming of a company. A meeting was called to meet in Newcomb's hall on next Wednesday evening, when steps will be taken to perfect a permanent organization. The meeting will in all probability be addressed by Major Llewellyn, who has been invited to be present. A paper has been circulated among the young men of the city and quite a number have signed their names as willing to become members. The organization will be known as Company D, mounted infantry, first regiment, N. M. N. G. The company will be under the command of Major Van Patton.

One of the interesting cases to be tried at the present term of the district court will be the case of the Lyons & Campbell cattle company against a number of the smaller cattlemen on the Gila river. The case arose over the dispute of the cattle company, who range back from the river so that they were compelled to ditch through the land owned by the Lyons & Campbell people. The company has also brought suit for damages, as it claims it has lost quite a number of cattle in the ditching, and in charge of the mud. A hearing was recently had by plaintiffs and defendants in the case before Judge Frank W. Parker, who issued an injunction against the defendants from using the ditch until the case had been tried at the present term of court. The matter has caused considerable interest among the cattlemen involved besides doing considerable damage to them in not getting any water through their ditches.

The doctors of Silver City have organized a Grant County Medical society, composed of the physicians of this county. They will hold a meeting twice a month, in which they will discuss professional matters for the benefit of the members.

Dr. J. W. Williams & A. K. Allen, a very low condition at the Sisters' hospital, being knocked out with a hemorrhage the other day, but is improving at the present time.

A BIG SHOW COMING.

Ringling Bros. World Famous Circus to Exhibit Here.

Ringling Bros., famous combined circus, menagerie and hippodrome will exhibit in Albuquerque Friday, September 27. This will be a pleasing news to the public, for Ringling Bros. circus is not only the largest arctic institution in the entire world, but it is run upon such a high moral plane as to win the approbation of every community in which it exhibits. A visit of Ringling Bros. circus is always a gala day, without any of the unpleasant features which the public justly associates with many other traveling exhibitions. The pictures of the five Ringling brothers, who are the trademark of the big show, when seen in the press or upon the walls, is an absolute guarantee that every promise made in the course of the exhibition will be faithfully kept and that the performance will be the absolute perfection of arctic entertainment. Ringling Bros. are never content to rest their fame upon the achievement of the past, and this season's exhibition is bigger and grander than ever before. There are more magnificent acrobatic stunts, more and more clever specialties of every description than ever before, and the three rings, double stages, aerial stunts, and a fourth ring, racing track are fairly alive with diverting performances of a character never before seen with an arctic exhibition. The world has never seen anything to compare with Ringling Bros.' wonderful twenty-elephant act, the Lockhart elephant comedians, or O'Brien's sixty horse act. Any of these great acts would make a circus would be sufficient to confer distinction upon a show. The most daring mid-air performers, the most graceful of ladies and gentlemen riding including Amelia Froese, the greatest equestrienne the world has ever produced, and Mme. Noble, the most finished of all message riders; and the most astonishing expert acrobats and gymnasts, gathered from the principal circuses of Europe and especially imported for Ringling Bros. circus, unite in a program of arctic excellence such as no other circus management has ever offered the American public. An innovation introduced by this great show this year is an entirely new system of providing for the comfort of patrons. The number of ticket offices have been increased, several new entrances have been added, in order to handle the crowds more expeditiously and dressing and toilet rooms, with polite attendants, and lavatories, have been provided. This is a department greatly appreciated by the public. A superb menagerie, including lions, tigers, bears, and a variety of reproduction of the exhilarating sports and racing contests of Imperial Rome are important incidents in the great show, while the all new free street parade, which is a magnificent display of the most gorgeous and splendid gratuitous display ever given in any land or age.

Albuquerque editors—W. S. Burke and Thomas Hughes, having met both these gentlemen at their respective homes in Chicago, and having known the former at Leavenworth and the latter at Marysville, Kansas. Tell them that John Russell, who drove the circus for five years, and who is now in Chicago, is getting along pretty well in the collection business in Chicago.

A. M. E. Church.

The musical concert given last night at the A. M. E. church was one of the best that has been given there for a long time. The singing, by Mrs. G. Watson, was loudly applauded. Recitations by H. B. Davis and J. H. Williams were well received. The quartet by Mr. and Mrs. A. Williams brought forth continuous applause. The entertainment concluded with the laughable farce, "Lady Doctor." Much credit is due Mrs. W. H. Williams for the able manner in which she managed the concert.

ROSENWALD BROS

Letter to Messrs. Hall & Leard

from their old employer Lew H. Clement, present manager of Whitney & Courtes, Toledo, Ohio, the largest music house between New York and Chicago, says:

TOLEDO, OHIO, MAY 1, 1900.

HALL & LEARNARD, Albuquerque, N. M.

Dear Friends—Your recent date received and we are very glad to hear from you. I was also glad you were going to do some piano business and had succeeded in securing the agency of Clifford Chickering's pianos. I hope you will do well, and one thing sure you are starting out right in pushing high grade pianos. It is sometimes harder to sell a GOOD piano because of course it must bring more money, but it MAKES FRIENDS and not enemies, and its good words of those who have bought pianos from you more than anything else which makes it easy to sell others. The Chickering Bros. will prove all you can claim for it. My brother-in-law in Detroit, C. H. Green, has had one over five years and ALL SWEAR BY IT AND NOT AT IT. With our best wishes,

Sincerely yours,
LEW H. CLEMENT.

NOTE—We believe our success during the past year proves the above letter to be true.

LOCAL PARAGRAPHS

Fred B. McKeehan, deputy United States marshal, has returned after an official trip to Gallup.

Just received our first lot of school and street hats for misses and ladies at Mrs. Wilson's, 218 South Second street.

Catholic Church of the Immaculate Conception—September 8. Low mass at 7 and 9:15 a. m.; high mass at 10:30 a. m. Evening service at 7:30 p. m.

A grand free concert, followed by dancing, will take place at the Orchestral hall tonight. There will be a free concert, no dancing, at the same hall tomorrow afternoon.

The university opens Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock, when all students should be present if possible to receive instructions regarding registration and the general work of the schools.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Whitten are expecting a visit from their son Frank Whitten, a cadet in the United States navy. Frank was in Chicago the other day, and will undoubtedly reach here next week.

The game of base ball tomorrow afternoon at the fair grounds between the Browns and Indians promises to be more closely contested than any previous match played between these clubs. Both teams have been strengthened at certain positions, especially the Barbas team, and the latter say positively that they will not be easily defeated this time.

Thursday night at the home of one of the members, the Illinois club was delightfully entertained. After a few short hours of games and music, refreshments were served. Those present were: Misses Stowell, Morton, Conely, Harkness, Clyde and May, Hatcher, Clara and Edna Feikert, and Harsch; Messrs. Hovey, Needham, Shoop, Cannon, Moore, Terry, Milford, McClosky, Bowditch, Englebert and Pratt.

Change in Business.

After being associated in business for the past eleven years, George Schneider and Ernest Lix have dissolved their partnership. Mr. Schneider, withdrawing and disposing of his interest in the business to John Motzenbacher. The business will be continued at the old stand and report as heretofore and will be known as the Atlantic Beer Hall, Lix & Motzenbacher, proprietors. During the many years he has been handling the business, Mr. Lix has made many friends who will continue the liberal patronage the old firm received. Mr. Motzenbacher is well and favorably known and there is no doubt his connection with the resort will bring additional patronage. Mr. Schneider, in retiring, does so on an account of his health and before engaging in some line that will be better suited to his physical condition will take a much needed rest and travel the Pacific coast a few weeks.

PLEASANT ANNIVERSARY.

The Twenty-fifth Wedding Day of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Pratt was celebrated last night in a very agreeable manner. A number of their friends gathered at the home on East Iron avenue and wished the worthy couple many happy returns of the day. On September 6, 1876, F. G. Pratt and Elizabeth A. Woodard were united in marriage at Easton, N. Y., and their voyage on the sea of matrimony has been a life of pleasure and usefulness. Since 1882 the family has been residents of Albuquerque and number their friends by thousands. They have been blessed with an interesting
