SCHLEY CASE.

He Asks a Court of Inquiry.

Secretary Long Granted the Request.

Union Pacific Company Give Editors Along Its Lines an Excursion.

SIoux INDIANS KILLING GAME.

Washington, July 24.—Secretary Long received a letter from Admiral Schley asking a court of inquiry. Nothing beyond this announcement was made public. The secretary is now in conference with Judge Advocate General Lemly, Admiral Crownsfield and Captain Cowles, assistant chief of the bureau of navigation, presumably concerning this matter.

Washington, July 24.—Schley's letter was as follows:

"Great Neck, Long Island, N. Y., July 22.—Sir: Within the past few days a series of press comments have been sent me from various parts of the country of the book, entitled 'History of the Navy,' written by one Edgar Stanton Macley. It is the third volume of said history and is intended to include the late war with Spain, which the two first volumes of the book contain, and were in use as text books at the naval academy.

"From the excerpts quoted in some of the reviews, in which page and paragraph are given, there is such a perversion of facts and misstatement of the intention of such intemperate abuse and defamation of myself, which subjects Mr. Macley to action in civil law. While I admit the right of fair criticism of every public officer, I must protest against the intemperate and abusive language of this violent, partisan opponent who has infused into the pages of his book so much of malice and untruthfulness as to make it unworthy the name of history or of use in any reputable institution in the country.

"I have refrained heretofore from all comment upon the innuendoes of enemies, muttered or murmured in secret, and therefore with safety to myself. I believe the time has come now to take such action as may bring this entire matter under discussion clearer and calmer by a review of my brothers in arms, and to this end I ask such action at the hands of the department as it may deem best to accomplish this purpose.

"But I would express a request in this connection that whatever the action may be, that it occur in Washington, where most of my papers and data are stored. Very respectfully,

"W. S. SCHLEY.

To Secretary of Navy, Washington, D. C.

Secretary Long replied to Admiral Schley as follows:

"I am in receipt of yours of the 22nd inst. with reference to criticism upon you in connection with the Spanish-American war, and heartily approve of your action, under the circumstances, in asking at the hands of this department such action as may bring this entire matter under discussion clearer and calmer review of my brothers in arms, and to this end I ask such action at the hands of the department as it may deem best to accomplish this purpose.

AWFUL RECORD.

Morgue Filled With Heat Victims.

Government Officials Arrest Postoffice Box Robber.

For Political Reasons a Bolivar Governor Was Assassinated.

ROCK ISLAND TRAINS COLLIDE.

St. Louis, July 24.—Twenty-two deaths due directly to heat were reported in St. Louis yesterday. Today promises to be even warmer than yesterday, when the maximum record was 106 degrees. At 10 a. m. the weather bureau record was 98 in the shade.

According to the weather bureau the temperature at noon was 102, two degrees higher than yesterday at the same time. Up to noon forty deaths from heat had been reported. Since then the temperature has risen to 106 degrees, and the number of deaths is still rising.

SCORCHING HOT.

Kansas City, July 24.—A scorching heat wave is prevalent over the southwest today with conditions that make it possible for the unprecedented record of the past week to be eclipsed. In Kansas City at noon the weather bureau reported 104. The temperature last night averaged 90 and the atmosphere was extremely heavy. Sleep was almost impossible. The sun shined brightly and the air was stifling. The only rain in the past twenty-four hours in either Missouri or Kansas is reported at Hays, Kansas, near the center of that state, where a light shower fell. The temperature in Kansas City at noon was 104. Many persons reported.

At 1 o'clock the government thermometer registered 105, within one degree of the record, 106, which it is believed will be passed by at least two degrees. Twenty-five heat prostrations have been reported in the two Kansas cities up to this time, four of which have proved fatal.

NEW YORK WEATHER.

New York, July 24.—The thermometer of the weather bureau registered 87 at 2 o'clock this afternoon. The humidity is 66 per cent. Two deaths from heat have been reported.

STILL HOT AT DES MOINES.

Des Moines, Iowa, July 24.—The temperature at 10 o'clock was 96 degrees, ten degrees higher than at the same time yesterday, when 100 was reached in the afternoon.

NO HOPE.

Washington, July 24.—Officials of the weather bureau hold out no hope for relief from the intense heat prevailing throughout the middle west.

RAIN IN ILLINOIS.

Rockford, Ill., July 24.—Rain fell today in half a dozen counties of the stock river region, breaking the drought that has prevailed for six weeks.

GOOD SHOWER.

El Reno, O. T., July 24.—A good shower fell shortly before noon today, greatly relieving thousands of home-seekers here.

POSTOFFICE BOX ROBBERS.

A Notorious Crook Arrested By Officials in Montana.

Helena, Mont., July 24.—Wm. Miller, alias "H. H. H.," supposed to be one of the most notorious postoffice box robbers in the United States, was arrested by Postoffice Inspector Salmon of the United States at Helena, Mont., yesterday and brought here last night. Federal authorities are satisfied they have broken up the gang of crooks who have been operating in the Helena, Mont., district, and believe they have made up one of the boldest gangs that ever preyed on the government mails. They operated in Helena, Toledo, Cleveland and other cities.

A Governor Assassinated.

New York, July 24.—A dispatch to the Herald from Ciudad Bolivar, says: "General Rodri, governor of Yururi district, covering the region of gold mines, was assassinated last week for political reasons by General Zapata, who took possession of the district at Guaranaspital, where the assassination took place, and armed about a hundred men with whom he fled."

Two Trains Collide.

Des Moines, Ia., July 24.—A special from Iowa City states: "Rock Island passenger trains No. 25 and 66 collided at Tiffin and six passengers were seriously injured. No. 6 was attempting to get on a siding when struck. Two sleeping cars were demolished. The engineer of No. 25 is reported missing. One of the sleeping cars was knocked over on the side and several passengers injured, but none serious. Among these was J. E. Dineen of Denver."

New Army Department.

Kansas City, July 24.—A new department of the army, to be designated "Department of Kansas," and include commands at Fort Leavenworth, Fort Riley, Kan., Jefferson barracks, Mo., Fort Reno and Bill, Oklahoma and Fort Logan H. Root, Arkansas, with headquarters at Kansas City, may be created in the near future, according to a man largely identified with military affairs, who is quoted by the Times.

New Party to Organize.

Manila, July 24.—The Libertad is authority for the statement that Senor Paterno will leave the federal party and organize what he calls the nationalists, on a platform resembling that of the conservatives, with Aguinaldo as president and former insurgent military officers and members of the federal party as leaders. The purpose of INSANE MAN'S DEED.

He Used His Pistol, Shooting Four Men Without Cause.

Leavenworth, Kas., July 24.—Mike Kelly, shortly after noon today, while insane, shot four men, two fatally and wounded three. The victims are John R. Garrett, a prominent business man; Police Sergeant Dodge, Detective Mike McNally and Charles McGee. The condition of Garrett, Dodge and McGee is considered critical. Kelly, who is probably recovering, Kelly, harboring a fancied wrong, entered Garrett's office unannounced. Without a word of warning he shot Garrett, who sat at his desk, five times. Garrett fell from his chair when he was wounded. Kelly then turned on Dodge and McNally and shot them. Kelly was taken to the hospital.

He was on route for a final conference with the snake priests of the Moqui tribe before giving out the results of his discovery, when taken ill with pneumonia.

REMOVALS OF GOV. DAVIS.

Bloodshed Expected Among the Shooters on an Arkansas County.

Little Rock, Ark., July 24.—Oceola, county seat of Mississippi county, is under armed insurrection on account of Governor Davis having removed the commissions of Sheriff Bowen and Circuit Clerk C. S. Driver, and appointed J. A. Lovell and J. W. Rhodes, respectively, as their successors. Bowen and Driver took possession of the court house, supported by a crowd of determined followers, principally from Luxora, and refuse to vacate. The court house is barricaded. Practically the entire town is under arms. Rhodes and Lovell have a following of probably 5,000 men, and serious trouble has been avoided since last Saturday only by active efforts of those who would preserve the peace. An appeal is to be made to Governor Davis to put the county under martial law.

The force of excavators who have just finished their work for the stone walls of the west approach to the viaduct on Coal avenue, are now throwing dirt beyond the aqueduct on the same street for the eastern approach.

Are the Only Changes in Strike Situation at Pittsburg.

Pittsburg, Pa., July 24.—The status of the strike remains unchanged except for rumors of intended injunction proceedings, and efforts are being made by disinterested parties to bring the leaders of the two contending forces together with a view to compromise.

RUMORS OF INJUNCTION.

Very L. Preston, former president of the American Steel Hoop company, and John Warner, of the Carnegie Steel company, are in the city, and their visit seems to have given rise to the supposition they have come here to discuss this question with the officials of the Amalgamated association.

President Shaffer and Secretary Williams of the Amalgamated association, denied there had been a conference.

Nothing has been done in the matter of the proposed injunction against the strikers, but it is understood papers are being prepared and an attorney will offer them in federal courts within a day or two.

ICEMEN STRIKE.

They Want Higher Wages and Are Very Threatening.

Columbus, Ohio, July 24.—The ice men, who struck here for higher wages and payment for overtime, announced they would not only stop non-union men from delivering ice, but they would not permit consumers to secure supplies from the storage houses.

An employee of a local drug house went to the Crystal Ice company's warehouse to secure ice and was severely beaten by a crowd of drivers.

The San Francisco Strike.

Strikes of 22,000 additional to the ranks of the striking teamsters are being made constantly. Today many trucks and drays were being driven by school boys and owners of drays, accompanied by policemen. Shipments of fruit are rotting on the wharves and peddlers are securing fruit at nominal prices.

ALBUQUERQUE, — JULY 24, 1901.

A SLANDEROUS HISTORY.

Fair minded men will commend Secretary of the Navy Long for his prompt action in banishing Macley's History of the American Navy from the naval academy at Annapolis on account of the epithets which the historian has applied to Admiral Schley.

The offending book seems to have been wormed into the academy and to have been given official sanction through misapprehension on the part of the naval authorities. Proofs were submitted, but only the proofs which had to do with the acts of those concerned.

Thus Secretary Long saw only the account of his own connection with the war, and knew nothing of the language used toward Admiral Schley. Some of the offending paragraphs in the work are as follows:

"In his report about the coal supply of the vessels under his command Schley exhibited either a timidity amounting to absolute cowardice or a prevarication of facts that were intrinsically falseholds."—(Vol. III, p. 296.)

Schley, on May 28, 1898, "turned in a report about the danger spot towards which duty, honor and the whole American people were most earnestly urged to view with whatever light it may be, the foregoing dispatch cannot be characterized otherwise than as being without exception the most humiliating, cowardly and lamentable report ever penned by an American naval officer."—(Vol. III, p. 296.)

"May 28, Schley retraced his course and arrived about ten miles off the harbor of Santiago, at 8 o'clock in the evening. Schley, and his command, miles out, but the reports of his commanding officers make it about ten or twelve miles."—(Vol. III, p. 299.)

"Schley was 'directly' silent to avoid blanketing the fire of the American warships, even at the risk of a disastrous collision with the Texas, so long as he could escape getting too close to danger.... Schley's contribution to naval strategy, as too plainly shown by his conduct throughout this campaign, was 'Avoid your enemy as long as possible, and if he makes for you run.'—(Vol. III, p. 363.)

"Let the Texas take care of herself, was the heartless reply, and the shameful spectacle of an American warship, supported by a force superior to the enemy's—a warship whose commander had expended such vast quantities of ammunition in target practice in the presence of a fashionable hotel at Hampton Roads in order to meet a worthy foe—deliberately turning tail and running away was presented."—(Vol. III, p. 364.)

These passages aroused a protest from the Army and Navy Journal which is not a partisan of Schley or of Sampson, and the matter was quickly rectified as soon as it was called to the attention of the navy department. Mr. Macley has promised to eradicate the offensive words reflecting on the patriotism and common sense of Admiral Schley. In another portion of his book, however, he manifested the same spirit of partisanship, charging Gen. Shafter with "indiscreetly entangling his army in the rear of Santiago in his efforts at self-aggrandizement."

Such work should never be allowed to masquerade as history, for the reason that it will stand the test of time, says the Denver Republican in its comments on the subject. History must show a calm, dispassionate attitude in dealing with disputed problems, and Mr. Macley's book evidences anything but this essential quality. The historian who forgets his judicial position and descends to partisanship injures nobody so much as himself, as Mr. Macley's case has proved.

PROPOSED DURANGO RAILROAD.

The proposed railroad to run in a southerly direction from Durango to a connection with the Southern Pacific would cross a country which is isolated now because much of it lies a long distance from any railroad track. It is an interesting region, and there is reason to believe that it contains valuable resources.

The Atlantic & Pacific crosses the western half of New Mexico, dividing it into nearly equal parts, one constituting northwestern and the other southwestern "New Mexico." The Denver & Rio Grande runs partly in New Mexico, but chiefly in Colorado along the northern border of this region, while the Southern Pacific traverses it near the Mexican boundary. But there is no north and south line west of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, which runs down the Rio Grande valley to Albuquerque and further south.

There is no way of reaching the center of the country between the Atlantic & Pacific and the Colorado line except by tedious wagon journeys, and the region lying between the Atlantic & Pacific and the Southern Pacific is almost equally as inaccessible, except for a few branch roads that do not penetrate far into the interior. In a general way it is known that the country lying immediately east of the Navajo Indian reservation in the western New Mexico is a grazing region, believed to be of little value for anything else. But it has often been found that an isolated district of that sort has possibilities that remain for years unrecognized. Upon this subject the proposed Durango road would throw some light.

It is especially, however, the region south of the Atlantic & Pacific, beyond the Zuni Indian reservation and extending over into Arizona which is of interest. The existence of mineral in the Mogollon mountains between the headwaters of the Gila and San Francisco rivers has long been known. The Cooney mining district in those mountains became famous twenty years and more ago. There are minor possibilities also north of that district along the continental divide.

Of still greater interest are the agricultural possibilities of that locality. Statistics show that southwest of the Zuni reservation and extending over toward the San Carlos reservation in Arizona the annual rainfall is much greater than it is in most other parts of the southwest and the heavy forests and luxuriant growth of grass suggests that farming without irrigation may be practicable. It is somewhat strange that this matter has not been tested and investigated by the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe railroad, which by virtue of its ownership of the Atlantic & Pacific is interested in the enormous land grant of the latter.

The Durango road would pierce that country and, following its construction it would not be long before the agricultural possibilities would be determined. The area of the region in question is great enough to maintain a population almost as large as half the total population of New Mexico at the present time.

A DEFEAT OF OBLIVION.

The London Times publishes every day brief extracts from its own editorial and news columns of the corresponding date of 1891. These quotations are often quite curious. They carry the reader back to what the world was chiefly talking about three generations ago, and direct attention to changes in customs of everyday life and especially in the administration of the criminal law. Then, as now, international politics furnished most of the topics for editorial discussion; and in that field Napoleon loomed large and, in the English type, sinister. The eye is struck by such an item of news as the following, published June 28, 1891:

"On Monday last, Mr. Danbrook, a respectable shopkeeper at Yorkford, near Halesworth, shot himself at the breakfast table, where his wife and Mr. Rutland, surgeon of that place, were present—Jury's verdict, felo de se. The body of the deceased was of course interred in the highway."

"There must be many striking illustrations such as this of the amelioration of influences that have crept into the criminal law with the advance of civilization. There is a reminiscence of yachting in this suicide, whose intent, as a matter of course, in the highway, was intended to obliterate his name forever. The art preservation has done for him what no tombstone could do."

"I wish to truthfully state to you and the readers of these few lines that our Kodol Dyspepsia Cure is without question the best and only cure for dyspepsia that have ever been in contact with and I have used many other preparations." John Beam, West Middlesex, Pa. No preparation equals Kodol Dyspepsia Cure, as it contains all the natural digestants it will digest all kinds of food and can't help but do you good. ANGUS A. GRANT.

What the Los Angeles Times Has to Say About the Deceased.

HIS MANY RAILROAD CONTRACTS.

The Los Angeles Times of July 21, in its article on the death of Angus A. Grant, which occurred in that city last Saturday morning, with burial in this city yesterday afternoon, has this to say:

Angus A. Grant, of the firm of Grant Bros., prominent contractors of Los Angeles, died yesterday morning at the home of his brother, Louis A. Grant, No. 917 south Hill street, heart disease, succeeded by a complication of ailments, caused his demise.

The deceased, who claimed Albuquerque, N. M., as his home, had long been affiliated with our railroad construction in California, and has divided his residence between the New Mexico city and San Francisco. Although he has in the past, together with a frequent visitor in Los Angeles, he has never made his home here continuously by only a month.

Angus A. Grant was born 57 years ago, near Williamstown, Ontario, Can. At the age of 21 years he migrated to the states, and for two years was active in the lumber business in Michigan. Later he engaged in the railroad business, and in the early seventies went to Lawrence, Kan., where he was employed as foreman of a construction crew on the old Santa Fe system.

Some years later he was engaged in building the lines of the Kansas & Pacific road and the Denver & Rio Grande in Colorado. After completing this work, he was again identified with the Santa Fe system, and from 1878 until the time of his death, he was more or less affiliated with the work of extending that company's lines. He extended the lines of that system to Pueblo in 1878, and then continued the work as far south as Albuquerque, taking up his residence at that place in 1880.

Five years later he was in charge of the construction of the Santa Fe railway to California, and since that time has been prominent in railroad construction in this state.

The last work done by Grant Bros. in the railroad line was the construction of the new east line of the Southern Pacific company, including the Chatsworth cut-off.

Mr. Grant leaves one son, Daniel G. Grant, 20 years old, who will arrive in Los Angeles this morning from Los Angeles, where he has been attending college. Mrs. Grant has been dead for eighteen years.

Mr. Grant was in perfect health until last January, when he was attacked by the grip. He never fully recovered from that trouble, but was not considered ill until about a month before he commenced to complain. For the last two weeks he has been confined to his bed, and Friday he became much worse than the end was looked for. Death occurred at 8:30 o'clock in the morning.

At the time of his death, Mr. Grant was in the employ of the California Nevada road, a short line running out of Oakland. He had large holdings in Albuquerque, and his estate is valued at several hundred thousand dollars. He was the largest individual property owner in the New Mexico city. Among his holdings there are the water, gas and electric light plants.

The remains have been embalmed and are now lying at the home of Louis A. Grant. This evening under the auspices of the Knights Templar, of which the deceased was a member, Louis A. Grant will accompany the remains to Albuquerque.

Angus A. Grant was at the head of the firm of Grant Bros., but that firm will be continued here as before the death. By the terms of the will of the deceased, three trustees, among them Louis A. Grant, are nominated to look after his interests.

SWEEPED AWAY BY FLOOD.

Team Drowned Between Central and Santa Rita.

The first of the flood accidents for the present season was reported from Central Thursday, says the Silver City Independent.

Felix Rosales, a Mexican freighter in the employ of Murray Bros. of Central, lost his entire outfit consisting of three horses, a wagon and a load of provisions and barely escaped with his own life.

Rosales was taking a load of provisions from Central to Santa Rita and had reached the ravine just this side of Central when he saw that a flood was starting to come down.

There was less than a foot of water flowing and he figured that by hurrying across he could make it all right before the big body of water came down the gully and so avoid being delayed for an hour or more until the waters receded. He had just gotten the horses in the middle of the gulch when the leader stumbled and fell, and before he could get him to his feet, the flood was upon him. The force was so great that in an instant all three horses, together with the wagon and its load were swept down the gulch and were lost.

The horses were drowned, their bodies being found several miles down the gulch. The wagon was a total wreck and the provisions were scattered along the bank for a considerable distance. Rosales is a poor man and the loss to him is a serious one.

COPPER DISCOVERY.

It Has Been Made in the Gaudalupe Near Carlsbad.

A couple of Carlsbad men who have been out prospecting in the Gaudalupe for some time past, returned to Carlsbad last week, and with them brought some fine specimens of copper ore. A rough assay at the blacksmith shop turned out an ingot of almost pure copper that weighed two ounces, and it was smelted from a piece of rock not much larger than a man's fist. The ore shows a marvelous richness, the percentage of copper being at least 85 per cent, with a trace of gold.

Messrs. McDonald and Bolles declare that there are at least 100 carloads of the ground, and that the find is less than 50 miles from Carlsbad. Messrs. McDonald and Bolles declare that they traced the vein over a mile, and that there is an almost incalculable amount of the ore on the surface at the "blow-out" discovered and located. Specimens of ore have been sent off for assay, and if the discoverers can show any large bodies of the rock they are easily millionaires.—Carlsbad Argus.

Resolution Passed by the Trans-Mississippi Congress.
At the Trans-Mississippi congress at Cripple Creek, Colo., last week, Governor L. B. Prince made an address on "Statehood for the Territories." He it was that also introduced the statehood resolution, which was unanimously adopted and reads as follows:

Whereas, The principle of self-government is the fundamental idea of American institutions, and no body of American citizens should be deprived of it except under temporary circumstances that render its exercise impossible.

Resolved, That compliance with this great principle as well as every consideration of justice and equity, requires the immediate admission to the Union of the territory of New Mexico, which fully possesses the population, character, resources, and financial ability necessary to qualify it for statehood.

He also introduced a resolution calling for the creation of a department of mines and mining similar to the department of agriculture, not only as a proper recognition of existing conditions, but because of its importance to the future development of this great industry.

STUNNED BY LIGHTNING.

Narrow Escape of Deputy Surveyor in Grant County.

George R. Brown, the United States deputy mineral surveyor and his assistant, Leandro Gonzales, had an experience last Wednesday afternoon, which they will not soon forget.

Mr. Brown was engaged in surveying some mining claims in the Burro mountain district, near the Parker camp, in Grant county. A heavy electrical storm was approaching, and the surveyor wanted to complete his figures on one of the lines before seeking shelter. He was walking up the mountain in his hand one end of a 300-foot steel tape, when there was a blinding flash, and a sensation like being hit on top of the head, and that was the last he remembered.

He recovered consciousness about ten minutes later. He then realized that he had been stunned by lightning and was lying on the ground. He was alone, who was at the other end of the tape when the accident occurred, Gonzales was just recovering consciousness and was in a dazed condition. His experience had been similar to that of Mr. Brown.

Mr. Brown came at once to Silver City and is just now fully recovering from the effects of the shock. He says that every muscle in his body feels as though it had been wrenched out of place. Gonzales was quite ill for a day or so after the accident, but is all right again. Mr. Brown thinks that the lightning struck the chain and ran along it. When Mr. Brown regained his senses he was lying about eight feet from the place where he was standing when stunned, and Gonzales had been knocked down farther.

LIGHTNING'S WILD WORK.

Two Mules Killed While at Work on Bisbee Railroad.

The severest storm of the season struck southeastern Arizona Friday evening and did considerable damage. The labor gangs on the Douglas division of the Bisbee railroad had a hard time, but none were killed. Lightning struck in the camp a number of times, and killed two mules and destroyed five tents, but none of the men were hurt further than receiving severe shocks.

J. Antonetti, contractor on the line in the Antelope Pass section, arrived in El Paso from here and told his colleagues of the storm, which was anything but pleasant. His tent was struck and destroyed by lightning and mules were killed right near him, but he was not injured.

"The thermometer crawled up to about 110 last afternoon," said Mr. Antonetti, "and I expected that something was going to happen. At 7 o'clock the rain began falling in torrents, and the lightning flashes filled the air. I was sitting on my back in my tent when the lightning struck it and took off the top. The wind finished it, and I was left in the rain. The next morning it began to pour, and when it is raining, and thunder keeps up such a roar that you can't hear yourself."

Mr. Antonetti has ten miles of grade in the Antelope Pass country, which he says will take him all the summer to complete. He has plenty of men as a rule, but never knows when they are going to quit, so will take a number out with him this trip.

ACCIDENT NEAR SILVER CITY.

Willie Clark, a Twelve-Year-Old Lad, the Victim.

Willie, the twelve-year-old son of Charles Clark, who freights between Silver City and the Mogollons, met with a very serious accident Monday morning.

In company with his father he left Silver City early in the morning with a load of merchandise. The outfit had proceeded about eight miles out on the Mogollon road, when young Clark, who was riding one of the wheel horses and driving the team, in some manner lost his balance and fell under the horses, and before the animals could be brought to a stop, the wheels of one of the heavy wagons passed over his body. At the time of the accident he was sitting sideways on the saddle, when a sudden movement of the horse caused him to fall off.

He was picked up and brought back to Silver City as fast as the slow going team could come. Upon arriving, he was taken to the Sisters' hospital and Dr. Westlake summoned.

It was found that both the right arm and left leg had been broken, and that he had sustained other injuries of a minor character. He also suffers greatly from the shock. Dr. Westlake set the broken members and unless unforeseen complications ensue, he will recover. It is not thought that he was injured internally. The boy was very brave during the long, tiresome ride back to town, and exhibited unusual courage for one of his age.

Cuts and bruises are healed by Chamberlain's Pain Balm in about one-third the time any other treatment would require because of its antiseptic qualities which cause the parts to heal without maturation. For sale by druggists.

The Art of Advertising

Is a greatly misconstrued expression. There is no art connected with a true advertisement—it is simply a narration of store news. Dashing headlines and beautiful phraseology attract the eye, produce occasional purchases and invariably result in dissatisfaction. Our method of advertising is to relate facts. We have our say and let you judge its veracity. That this manner has merited the entire approval of all classes of shoppers has again been demonstrated to us by the great success achieved by our recent sales. The coming months business will be a record breaker, for we have some great surprises in store for you.

It Was Murder.

Last evening Sheriff W. A. Smith returned to Gallup from Ft. Wingate where they had gone to investigate the death of Al. Morrison and the burning of the store building of John Woodgate on Monday evening. On examination of the body of Morrison they found a bullet hole in his head, and from that they could learn the murderer and relieved his victim of money and a watch. It is supposed that the murder was committed Monday night in the store where Morrison had retired, and the building fired for the purpose of covering up all signs of a foul deed.

The sheriff, who has his suspicions, is now at work unraveling the mystery, and is confident of landing the murderer behind the bars in a short time.
